BLOODY FIGHT IS REPORTED NEAR CITY

NUMBER OF DEAD IN GREAT SLAUGHTER SAID UNKNOWN

(By The Associated Press)

Annihilation of an entire battalion of Madrid militiamen, insurgent officers declared today, wiped out a government offensive on the western border of the capital, near the Segovia bridge.

The number of soldiers caught in the wholesale slaughter was not estimated but insurgent officers said the battalions usually number between 600 and 1,000.

Mowed To Ground

The government battalion was reported to have attacked an insurgent concentration near the Segoia bridge over the Manzanares river on the western edge of the city in a desperate attempt, the insurgents said, to break up siege lines.

But, as they thrust against the insurgent barricades, repeated blasts of machine gun fire and hand grenades mowed them to the ground.

The hand-to-hand struggle for Oviedo, "the Alcazar of the Asturias," spread into the ancient sewers of the devastated city, advices from Bayonne, on the Franco-Spanish frontier, reported.

Entrenched In Sewers

The besieged insurgent garrison, blasted out of its fortifications above ground, was said to have entrenched itself in the sewers after a gruelling back-to-the-wall battle of nearly a week.

The British steamer Llandovery Castle, her bow dangerously stove-in by a floating mine she struck yesterday off Capo Decreus, docked at Port Vemdres, France, with 300 passengers.

General Gonzalo Queipo De Llano broadcast from Seville, Spain, that an insurgent gunboat damaged the Dutch steamer Ramboy with shell fire before capturing it and seizing 120 tons of war materials destined for Madrid government troops.

RUSSIA READY FOR ACTION

MIGHTY ARMY ORDERED TO MEET ANY ENEMY ON OWN GROUND

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Feb. 26.—Revised general orders command the Soviet army to meet the enemy on his own territory in case of war, it was disclosed authoritatively today.

The revised rules, already in effect, state:

"Any attack on the territory of workers and peasants will be repulsed with all the strength of the armed forces of the Soviet union through the transfer of military operations into territory attacking the enemy."

Have Mighty Army

Soldiers — there are 1,300,000 of them in the great red army, which is second to none—were advised they should fight the enemy immediately in case of invasion "without waiting for special orders," and that they should "immediately and courageously" attack the foe "wherever he is revealed."

The revised instructions for the army, which the Soviet union always has insisted is purely defensive, followed upon speeches by War Commissar K. E. Voroshiloff and others in which antagonists of the Soviet union were warned that it is ready to "meet the enemy on the territory whence he comes."

RULES PASSED FOR DRIVERS OF AUTOS

EXAMINATIONS TO BE REQUIRED; BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 26 — The house of representatives passed a bill today to put teeth in the drivers' license law.

The vote was sufficient to make the bill effective immediately if approved by two-thirds of the senate membership.

Chief Point In Program

Strengthening of the driver's license law was one of the chief points in Governor Allred's second term program.

The bill would require examinations of all applicants except that licenses would be issued without examination for three months after the effective date of the act to persons able to prove they had driven satisfactorily for at least a year. Examinations are not required under the present law.

The examinations would include "a test of the applicant's eyesight, his ability to read and understand highway signs regulating, warning and directing traffic, his knowledge of the traffic laws and an actual demonstration of ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in the operation of a motor vehicle."

Rep. Clarence E. Farmer objected that the proposal would give the state highway patrol dictatorial powers.

The vote on final passage was 106 to 12.

Cattle Barons Of West Are To Unite To Drive Rustlers From Rangelands

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Feb. 26. — The west's cattle domain, victimized by "rubber-tired" thefts, hopes united action may drive the rustler from the rangelands.

Western state executives rallied today to a proposal by Colorado's ranch-born governor, Teller Ammons, for a 10-state compact to stamp out rustling.

Officials—from Montana to Texas — reported cattle stealing, almost wiped out years ago, is reviving "alarmingly" in its rubber-tired form.

Ammons wrote other western governors:

"The Colorado board of stock inspection commissioners informed me the thefts of cattle by rustlers using motor trucks to carry off stock are increasing despite all their efforts.

"Interstate cooperation and federal action appear to be the only feasible answer."

Interstate crime compacts are an accomplished fact in the west, but never has one been suggested on such a scope as the proposal of Governor Ammons, who wants it to include at least Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Utah, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Oklahoma, Texas and Arizona.

He suggested also a federal law similar to the Dyer automobile theft, which makes transportation of a stolen automobile across a border a federal offense.

Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma said "cattle rustling is becoming an industry again. It is harder to cope with than in the old days because rustlers steal at night and transport cattle in trucks, often across state lines."

Texans, saying thefts are "expanding alarmingly," introduced a bill for registration of livestock sold at pubic auction and a check of sales rings.

STRANGE CULT AWAITS MIRACLE AFTER BODY HAS DISAPPEARED

(By The Associated Press)

MONTICELLO, Utah, Feb. 26.—Mrs. Edith Peshak died two years ago this month and Mrs. Marie M. Ogden, leader of a strange, little known religious colony, predicted today she "presently will be restored to life."

For months after Mrs. Peshak died at the "Home of Truth" the colony Mrs. Ogden, former Newark, N. J., clubwoman, established in the wild, barren country north of Monticello, the curious flocked to the scene.

Curious Drawn To Scene

They were drawn by stories of daily gatherings around the body, and of mystic rites at dawn.

Eventually the authorities came, but they went away without interfering.

A doctor said the body was in a "perfect state of preservation."

Old timers said it was the climate. "Many mummies have been found in the southwest," they recalled.

Then, one day, word got around the body had disappeared. Scoffers said the cultists had buried their dead. The colonists, who now number twelve, remained silent until Mrs. Ogden spoke today.

Men Are Caught By Surprise In Illinois Plants

SOME OF DEFENDERS EMERGE BLEEDING FROM EFFECTS OF GAS; ACID, TOOLS AND OTHER MISSILES ARE TOSSED AT THE INVADERS

(By The Associated Press)

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Feb. 26—An early morning gas attack by deputies forced 61 strikers out of the Fansteel Metallurgical plant today.

The strikers, on a sit-down in two of the factory buildings since Feb. 17, fled from the plant after withstanding the tear and "knockout" gas for an hour.

Some of them were bleeding from the effects of the gas, shot into the plant through windows.

Deputies Mobilized

Sheriff Lawrence A. Doolittle of Lake county mobilized about 50 deputies for the attack soon after President Robert J. Aitchison of the corporation announced rejection of Governor Henry Horner's proposals for settling the strike.

The suddenness of the assault apparently caught the entrenched strikers by surprise. When the first tear gas shells fell in the buildings the strikers turned on air blowers but they proved ineffectual.

A week ago a force of 125 deputies was repulsed in an effort to evict the sit downers, who went on strike for recognition of their union, the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of North America, a unit of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The strikers tossed acid, tools and other missiles at the deputies as they did in the rioting last week. Several deputies were burned by acid, but their injuries were believed not serious.

The attack was made under authority of a writ of attachment issued by Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady of Waukegan and calling for the arrest of the sit-downers. They had defied a court injunction ordering them to evacuate.

SIT-DOWN TECHNIQUE IS BEING ABANDONED

FOOD ISN'T AS MUCH FUN AS IT USED TO BE SINCE THE DEBS WENT STREAM-LINED

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—Nobody loves the potato today, lamented Charles, head waiter of the Ritz, with a desolate look in his deep, dark eyes.

Only "old ladies who no longer care," eat potatoes with gay abandon, as they should be eaten, he said.

Food isn't as much fun as it used to be, he sighed, when the potato was regarded without suspicion, and debutantes pushed back their sleeves and plunged into big plates of "floating heart."

"Floating heart," to those who don't remember, was a vanilla mousse, very rich, laden with amber vanilla sauce and chocolate chips. It was in its heyday about ten years ago, before girls started getting slim.

Charles said there wasn't even as much creamed chicken at society girls' luncheon as there used to be.

In the good old days, you couldn't look at a debutante without thinking of creamed chicken.

Now they take a little tomato bouillon, a bit of austere broiled chicken, a green salad with lemon sauce (non-fattening) and maybe a cracker, and call it quits.

What puzzles Charles is that the girls are so strong. He hasn't seen a girl faint all season.

Suicide Strike Is Ended Today

MEN STAGGER OUT OF MINE HALF DAZED FROM HUNGER

By The Associated Press)

PECS, Hungary, Feb. 26— Suicide" strike of 250 miners collapsed today and the men, half dazed from hunger and many bleeding from wounds suffered in an underground fight, staggered out of the shaft.

Sobbing wives and relatives greeted them. Some of the grimy-faced workers, too weak to walk, were carried on the shoulders of their comrades.

Eat Last Of Oats

One miner said they had eaten the last sack of oats intended for ponies used for underground hauling during the two days they remained defiantly in their stronghold.

Each striker, he said, received a handful of the grain twice a day.

The 16 ponies which were with them when they declared the hunger strike were believed to have drowned or to have died of poisonous gas seeping into the 656-foot shaft.

Fighting Had Raged

Fighting had raged through the night over growing dissatisfaction in the hunger strikers' ranks.

Threatened by rising water, stagnant air and deadly gasses, groups of the workers were said to have revolted against strike leaders and battled worker-guards who barred their escape.

Picks, axes and hatchets were turned into deadly weapons. Screams echoed through the damp shaft.

Seventeen miners who escaped last night were hacked and bludgeoned.

The strikers had demanded an increase in daily pay from $1 to $1.20.

ARGENTINE BANDIT IN GUN BATTLE TODAY IN KIDNAP HUNT

(By The Associated Press)

LA PLATA, Argentina, Feb. 26.—Antonio Caprioli, Argentina's "public enemy No. 1," and a companion, "Little Boy" Martinez, escaped today after a gun battle with police seeking the kidnapers of Eugenio Peyrera Iraola, two-year old son of a wealthy family.

Caprioli, known as a lieutenant of the dead gangster chieftain "Baby Face" Gordillo, and Martinez were believed implicated in the disappearance of the child from his father's estancia "La Sorpresa," near fashionable Mar Del Plata, Wednesday.

Peon Is Questioned

As squads of officers searched the extensive grounds of the Peyrera Iraola estate, detectives questioned a peon, Jose Gancedo, who was implicated in the kidnaping by the victim's five-year-old brother.

Police said Gancedo was unable to explain his movements and subsequent absence after the child dis-

"We, Who Are About To Die, Salute You!"

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 26.—Nearly 400 men, preparing to die, were in a picnic mood.

They knew, during the morning yesterday, that their "sit-down" strike in the Douglas aircraft factory was finished. Kaput! For a few hours yet, they could stay in the big plant. But indictments had been signed in Los Angeles. Police were massing for the assault. The police would come carrying "billies" and pistols and two kinds of gas—the kind that makes you cry, and the kind that makes you throw up.

They knew all that.

"This ain't a union town," a scraggle-toothed giant murmered half to himself. "But maybe what happens to us today will help make it union."

"How'll you have your grave? Steam-heated?"

"Oh, bury me not on the lone prair-ee-ee."

They cheerfully set about stacking pipe, ordinary gas pipe, 18 inches or so in length. Then they opened tins of gasoline and set the fuel conveniently near airplane framework. The order came to dismount fire-extinguishers.

"What's the idea starting a fire if we're going to put it out?"

"These ain't for the fire, hammer-head, these are to squirt in the cops' faces."

The morning wore along. Word came down from the second floor that strikers had forced their way into "the loft" and were in possession of a federal short-wave radio station. One by one, the company guards ascended to the engineering department, adjoining the "loft."

At noon, the draughtsmen, who had not joined the strike, were evacuated from the building, passing between lines of policemen. "Lousy pencil-pushers," the strikers yelled from the windows. "Can't make an airplane from their drawings, anyway."

"The C.I.O. is the only thing. We're just a small part of a big movement. If it comes down to action, stick your chin out. What's the use of living, anyway, if you have to live like a

Teal of the First Christian Woman's council; Mrs. Charles Galbraith of the First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary; Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson of the First Baptist W.M.S.; Mrs. M. B. Cranford of the Cumberland Presbyterian W.M.S., and Mrs. O. W. English of the First Baptist W.M.S., secretary for the current year.

Mesdames Lowell Fulton, O. H. Pope and Jim Fulton spent Thursday in Tulia as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Massey. Mrs. J. F. Newberry of Hollis, Okla., also was a guest.

Women Aviators In Country Total 444

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Take a look at America's 444 licensed women aviators.

Some are just past sweet 16 and others are nearing 60, bureau of air commerce records showed today.

They are heiresses, movie stars, mothers and just plain working girls.

Some—295—fly for fun with private licenses. Seventy-one in the transport class roll up air records that make male pilots gasp. Fourteen have recorded more than 1,000 hours flying time.

A few learn their landings on grandpa's east eighty; others practice on a city airport's smooth runways.

Only good bet on a woman pilot, apparently, is that she lives in California. More than one fourth—122—of those holding licenses reside there.

In that state lives the oldest woman pilot now licensed by the bureau, Edith B. Clark of Santa Monica, who's 59.

Regulations don't permit girls to fly until they are 16, but five 17-year-olds share the "youngest" honors on the records here. They are: Lucy Sagarino of Corpus Christi, Tex.; Nora J. King, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Evelyn G. Sharp, of Ord, Neb., with private licenses requiring at least 50 hours solo flight, and Barbara Huckins of Dallas, Tex., and Norma Christmas of Allentown, Pa., with 25-hour amateur licenses.

Hostesses were Miss Ruth Rutledge of Floydada and Misses Maxine Fry, Eva Mae O'Neall and Mary Anne Kimble, former classmates of the honoree at Texas Technological college.

Guests were Misses Charlotte Ratliff, Frances Campbell, Lillian and Margaret Heard, Mary Florence Van Horn, Frances Elaine Price, Vondelle Prideaux, Joreta Rogers, Roberta Lee Hanson, Mesdames Temple Lewis, Sim O'Neall, Aubrey Edwards, Tommie McWilliams, Sim O'Neall, jr., George Langford and Frank Hudgins of Shreveport, La.

Household Helps

Imperfect electric wires are often the cause of serious damages. Inspect the wiring in your home to see that it is not worn through. Dogs running about are apt to loosen or bite it.

Family meals taste better if they are served at an attractive table. Use china which harmonizes if it does not match. And see that your centerpiece is low enough for the family to see over it with ease.

When you're buying pans for the kitchen choose those with round corners whenever possible. Round-cornered pans are much easier to keep clean than those with square corners.

Chintz draperies should be shaken out every few weeks and then brushed off with a stiff brush. It is best to shake them out-of-doors if possible.

BREAKUP OF MANY HOMES DEPLORED

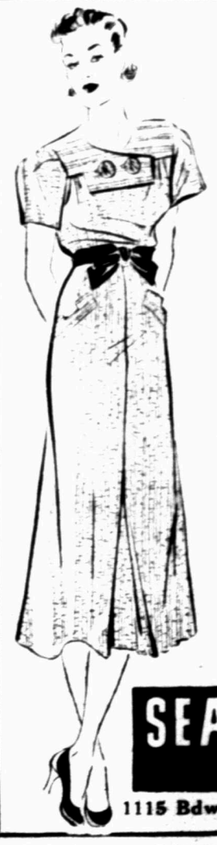

OGDEN, Utah, Feb. 26 (AP)—A stewardess "step-mother" to the traveling children of divorce deplored today the breakup of homes.

How can parents let their homes go to pieces the way they do? asked pretty Emma Smatlin of Omaha, Neb., her bright eyes troubled as she ushered a flock of "divorce orphans" from one train to another here today.

Gentle and capable, but too youthful to merit the adjective "motherly", Miss Smatlin is one of several trained nurses employed by a railroad line to cope with transportation's newest problem — care of lonely children on their periodical trips to visit their divorced parents.

Most of her young charges, Miss Smatlin explained, spend months with their mothers in the mild climate of the Pacific coast, then make extended visits with their fathers, in most cases in the business centers of the east and midwest.

"Once I had 17 children traveling alone on my train," she said, "talk about the old woman in the shoe..."

CONTRACT FOR WELLS MADE

LONG - TIME PROJECT FOR CITY WATER BEING URGED

City commission, meeting Thursday afternoon, tentatively awarded contract to drill two wells. The City's growth and development of sufficient water supply to meet it held attention of the commission.

The wells must be completed before summer to assure Lubbock residents ample reserve source of water.

Contract Is Let

Contract was let to Baron Drilling company, Lubbock, for $2,377.50. The commission instructed City Manager W. H. Rodgers and City Engineer Marlin R. Smith, jr., to discuss a reduction in the bid in the event wells of smaller diameter are drilled.

"We must have additional water in four months," Smith told the commission.

The City last summer ran dangerously near a water shortage, it was pointed out.

One In Southeast Lubbock

One well will be drilled in southeast Lubbock, the other on City property northwest of the town.

A long-time water supply project, northwest of the City, was discussed and found expression of approval from officials. No action was taken, however.

Baron, in his bid, said he could begin drilling within 15 days and could complete the wells 30 days later.

Smith advocated a thorough water survey, looking toward needs of the City many years hence.

Another water situation was called to the attention of the commission shortly before adjournment, by Commissioner A. J. Richardson.

He declared application to appropriate 640-acre feet of water from the unappropriated waters of Yellowhouse canyon for a lake at Buffalo Springs might hamper Lubbock in obtaining a possible source in the canyon.

City Manager Rodgers, an owner of Buffalo Springs, declared appropriation of 640-acre feet would in no way encroach on the City's rights to any water supply.

To Oppose Application

Richardson said he personally planned to oppose the application at a hearing in Austin March 8.

"If the City wanted to build a dam in the canyon, Rodgers could sue the City if he didn't get his 640-acre feet," the commissioner declared.

Rodgers said he would waive right to sue the City.

The commission decided to present the question to City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley to determine whether the City's rights were jeopardized by the application.

D. A. Forbess, fire marshal and building inspector, was dismissed.

Undercharging for building permits was basis of the dismissal. Records discussed by the city commission included a $2 fee paid by Galbraith Steel Supply company and a $2 fee paid by A. M. Leftwich. Commissioners said Galbraith company should have paid $12 and Leftwich about $15, on a fee requirement of three mils per square foot of floor space for new construction.

Forbess was not called before the commission. Mayor Ross Edwards and City Manager Rodgers conferred with him in the building inspector's office. Returning to the commission room, Manager Rodgers said:

"I think that's sufficient cause for removal."

The commission concurred.

To Start Proceedings

The city attorney was instructed to start condemnation proceedings to open an alley through an unplotted block between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets and between Texas avenue and Avenue J. When the alley is opened, plans will proceed to extend a sewer line.

Opening of Twentieth street from Avenue H to Avenue J and from Avenue K to Avenue L was discussed. No action was taken. Twentieth street now is open from Avenue J to Avenue K and from Avenue L to Avenue M.

Oil Lease Declined

A proposal by W. P. Soash for an oil lease on 170 acres of City land was declined. Soash had proposed payment of 65 cents per acre and annual rental of 50 cents per acre.

Ordinance closing 30 feet of Avenue K, near Fourth street, was passed on second and final reading. Lubbock Poultry and Egg company will purchase the land for $600, the commission was told.

Frank A. White, jr., was appointed journeyman member of a City electric board, succeeding Tom Ansley, who, the commission was informed, has become an electrical contractor.

The commission adjourned shortly after 6 o'clock.

An all-time record for shipments of bituminous coal was made on the Great Lakes in 1936.

Funeral Services Are Held Thursday

Burial was in Englewood cemetery by Williams Funeral home.

Mrs. Wilson died at her home about 10:40 o'clock Wednesday afternoon after an illness of about five months.

She was survived by her husband and two sons, Paul and Silas, both of Slaton.

Wilson is a stock buyer, farmer and land owner of this section.

TECH LEADERS ARE CHOSEN

DIXON IS TOREADOR EDITOR; STIFF IS NAMED TO POST

Texas Technological college students yesterday chose Burgess Dixon of Big Spring and Lawson (Buddy) Stiff of Beaumont to the positions of editor of the Toreador, student semi-weekly newspaper, and business manager of La Ventana, college yearbook, respectively.

A total of 1,161 students voted, ending the spirited campaign

Two Others Unopposed

Two other publications officers were named without opposition, Morris Laine of Spur for business manager of the Toreador and Miss Marie George of Lubbock for editor of La Ventana.

Points polled by six candidates in the two contested races, results being counted by the Hare system much used where the preferential ballot is employed.

Dixon 2,701; Paul White of Hamlin, 2,386. Raymond Lee Johns of Slaton, 1,857.

Stiff 2,819. Jerome George of Lubbock 2,089. Bobby Watson of Brownwood 1,938.

Candidates Given Rating

Under the system of points allowed, candidates were rated according to first second and third choice 3 2 and 1 point respectively being counted.

Dixon is president of the college Press club. All newly elected officers will serve in the 1937-38 scholastic year.

Counting and supervision of balloting was by the student council and by faculty representatives.

There were four polling places in the classrooms, home economics, administration and agricultural building.

Prehistoric man had to depend on his own muscular mechanism for food, being forced to keep constantly on the alert because of the savage beasts that roamed about him. Like the lower animals he could cock his ears to catch the faintest sounds.

General Motors To Stage Huge Parade

In an effort to focus attention on General Motors' Parade of Progress, million dollar motorcade of 46 great trucks fitted out with scientific and educational equipment and compartments, motion pictures were shown Thursday night in the ballroom of Lubbock hotel.

The parade will show the night of March 2 and all day March 3 at Big Spring, in its tent that seats more than 1,000 persons. An attempt to bring it to Lubbock after it tours the west coast has been projected.

Here from Big Spring was "Tanlac" Strange, manager of the chamber of commerce there, who accompanied Lawrence W. Corcoran, public relations man with General Motors.

Strange, who invited school children within a radius of 150 miles from Big Spring to see the parade, said the buses are the greatest ever built, being 35 feet long, 8 1-2 feet wide and 12 1-2 feet high. Some weigh more than 20 tons. Special dispensations from each state are necessary before the immense trucks are allowed to operate in those states.

The parade program has no advertising, but depicts the march of science. One may see a "cold" stove whereon eggs are cooked on ice; may bend a steel rail with the pressure of a single finger, and may see the old and the new in various achievements.

"SUFFERED SIX YEARS WITH CONSTIPATION"

"For six years I suffered with constipation, and I decided to try ALL-BRAN. I have been eating it once a day for about four years, and it has certainly done the work." — Mrs. Herman Futrell, 905 W. Oak Ave., Jonesboro, Ark.

Tests prove that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is safe and effective for correcting common constipation.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, and gently exercises and cleanses the intestines. It also furnishes vitamin B to tone the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. Three times daily in severe cases. You'll find this food far better than habit-forming pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FATHER PUTS JUSTICE ABOVE LOVE FOR SONS; TWO GIVEN JAIL TERMS

ACCRA, Gold Coast Colony, Feb. 26 (AP)—Sir Ofori Atta, the blue-black ruler of one of Britain's African Gold Coast states, put justice above fatherly affection today—he had two of his sons jailed for stealing one of his golden crowns.

Sir Ofori is very fond of his scintillating headpieces. When he was in London in 1928 to be knighted by King George, he wore one of them on the streets and even to the theater—but there he followed British custom of tucking it under his seat, as the Britons did with their bowlers.

So when his sons — named R. J. Birikorang and J. W. Bosumprah—were tried by the district magistrate of Suhum for stealing a crown and pleaded guilty, he did not step in to help them.

One got a sentence of a year and the other of nine months at hard labor.

The diadem said to be worth $1,150 was taken from Sir Ofori's treasury house at Kibi, capital of the state of Akim Abuakwa, which he rules. It is region of some 1,000 square miles with a populace of about 250,000.

CONVICT DEAD AFTER RAID

ANOTHER IS WOUNDED AND OFFICER SHOT IN GUN BATTLE

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26 (AP)—A detective's "hunch" led today to the slaying of one escaped Michigan convict, the critical wounding of another and the serious wounding of a police officer.

Police, through fingerprint records, identified the slain man as Ray Rusch, 19, and his wounded companion as Alvin Mott, 19. The two, with Joe Scoffic, escaped from the Michigan state prison at Jackson last Friday.

Detective-Sergeant Tom Sullivan was shot in the abdomen, arm and chest.

Cornered In Hotel

Rusch was slain in a hotel room where Sullivan and Detective Raymond Roessler cornered the men. Mott escaped and was wounded several blocks away as he fled in a car commandeered from Warren Scott, a salesman.

A bullet grazed one of Roessler's hands and another pierced the shoulder of his overcoat.

The "hunch" was one to investigate several small hotels. When the officers started to question the pair and were met by pistol shots.

Rusch was mortally wounded. Sullivan fell and Mott leaped from a window. Roessler gave chase.

Detective Louis Shoulders joined the chase and felled Mott with a bullet in the head. He said Mott had three revolvers.

CANINE PETS ARE SAID IN DANGER

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 26 (AP)—Canine pets led a dangerous life here today what with "dognapers looking for victims and poisoner receiving support from a sleepless housewife.

Mrs. Warden White, Oklahoma City humane officer, asked police said, said a "dognaper" ring was abducting pedigreed pets and peddling them in other cities.

The contenders over pet poisoning broke with the death of "Bum," a silver collie descendant of author Albert Payson Terhune's "Sunnybank Phame." A veterinarian said the collie, owned by the Rev. E. F. Bohnfalk was poisoned.

An Oklahoma City newspaper captioned an account of the dog death thus: "The question is—who did they."

Come out to this neighborhood some night and listen and you'll know why," said a housewife who would not give her name because, she said, she was a friend of some of the families whose dogs had died.

Crows Are Victors Over Coyote Enemy

OPAL, Wyo., Feb. 26 (AP)—Who will win when three black crows and a coyote meet in combat?

E. Drollet and Herschler Boudurant, ranchers, said they saw a coyote running in circles, three crows flying mostly about him. Then swooped in turn, clawing and pecking viciously.

Finally, after 30 minutes, the coyote fell exhausted and the birds tore him to shreds, the ranchers said.

Budge 'n' Grant Pals Off Court

RIVALS Waiting For Court . . .

BY BILL BORING

ATLANTA, Feb 26 (AP)—Don Budge and Bryan (Bitsy) Grant give no quarter across the net but are bouquet-tossing pals off the court.

Here for the fifth duel of their 1937 tennis rivalry, they double-dated, lunched and generally pal'd around before and after the match.

Says Budge of Grant: "He's certainly a marvel. You can't beat him."

And Grant of Budge: "Don is tops, no doubt about it."

Neither has demonstrated his ability to consistently wallop the other so they're considering pairing up for doubles.

Budge says: "Bitsy is one of the greatest doubles players in the world if he has a partner who hits the ball as hard as he does. One knows when playing doubles with Grant that he will get the ball back."

Grant remarks he would like nothing better than to be the redhead's doubles mate.

The Californian rates Grant a "better player on grass than Frankie Parker," the second-ranked American amateur star. Grant was given the No. 3 position in the 1936 rankings. Budge, of course, was No. 1.

The Atlanta mite says he was considering retirement from active tennis competition until he beat Budge.

"I didn't think I could beat him," he remarks.

Both Grant and Budge believe the United States has an excellent chance of capturing the Davis cup this year.

"With Fred Perry playing as a pro," Budge asserts "we have a very good chance of finishing on top in Davis cup play."

Grant predicts the U. S. team will win.

The saver... stimulated by his "even-Stephen" competition with Budge this year is more enthusiastic about tennis than ever.

He has given much time to the development of a new forehand stroke. He is taking the ball on the rise instead of letting it reach the climax of its bounce. He says the stroke enables him to force his opponent to a faster pace.

Before leaving Atlanta Budge said he would return to California to "work and play golf." He says he plans no serious tennis play for another two months.

THE SPORTING NEWS of current issue carries under a Carlsbad, N. M., dateline and a three-column head a story about the "West Texas Baseball league meeting" to be held in one of the huge chambers of Carlsbad Caverns.

"The most novel league meeting in this history of the game," the story says, "will be held seven miles underground in one of the huge chambers of the Carlsbad Caverns near here, on Feb. 28 when representatives of towns expected to become members of the West Texas League will gather to perfect their organization.

"Baseball men from other sections of the country, including President W. G. Bramham of the National Association, officials from every club in the Texas League and many from the East Texas and Cotton States Leagues, also will be in attendance, and plans are being made for a chain hook-up over NBC to describe the unique setting. All planning to attend are advised to be on hand at 10 a. m. when the party will start the downward journey."

We have heard about the famous caverns for a long time, have visited them twice, but that's the first time we knew they actually extended seven miles below the surface, although before the elevator was installed it did seem twice that far. But what's a little exaggeration between baseball men?

The Sporting News story quotes J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas League, commenting on the arrangements: "If a setting like that won't start the old ball to rolling, we're just up against a hopeless task. . . I'm sure the representatives of West Texas towns will begin thinking of their indebtedness to the welfare of their communities and be moved to help provide the entertainment and publicity that only baseball men can give these towns."

Mr. Gardner is familiar with the stubborn attitude of certain West Texas towns regarding professional baseball. He spent considerable time and funds making two previous trips this way, and he presided at the last "organization meeting" conducted in Lubbock. But he's still entertaining hopes of getting baseball started in this section. We wish him luck.

WHO ARE THE best bowlers, billiard and "pool" artists in town?

Lubbock may pride itself for harboring one of the best organized, cleanest and most respectable "recreation halls" for a town this size anywhere in the country.

The Lubbock Club, capably and honestly managed and supervised by M. L. "Sudan" Davis, needs no ballyhoo or publicity to get along. It boasts a "closed" membership of well over 300, and the "waiting list" is nearly that long. Most of our Very Best People belong to the club. Membership is granted by a board of directors who study carefully, and demand references for each application. High school and college students are barred, which is a wise thing but which does not mean that morals of the young would be corrupted inside the hall, which is located in the spacious basement of the Myrick building.

Women are welcome at all times at the Club, and recently the fair sex has organized a bowling club. Two complete teams meet each Monday night at present, and the membership is growing. Few of the ladies have taken to the table games so far.

Conducted strictly as a club for "ladies and gentlemen," it's just that. Gambling is not tolerated, and harsh language is taboo. You'll be invited to move elsewhere if you persist in saying what you think when you roll a "split" or get "sewed."

Proprietor Davis, who does a good business as president and manager of the Western Billiard association, manufacturing and selling tables and all billiard equipment, himself is one of the top-notch billiard players. The popular game with the better ball-and-cue artists is "snooker," and the three fine tables for this game are generally occupied. The game is one of the newest in the billiard league, and replaces ordinary billiards here. In fact, there is not a regulation billiard table in the place. One "call shot" table also is full as a rule, and the five "pool" tables do a good business, particularly on days like yesterday.

Since it keeps its skirts clean, tolerates no illegal or immoral conduct, The Lubbock Club prospers. It is no "hang-out" for loafers, because if you don't have business there you don't hang around very long.

A recent addition to the staff is Bill Earthman, a bowler of ability who supervises the alleys and offers pointers on the game. Business in that side of the house has picked up considerably since Earthman took the job.

Quite naturally, some very high class artistry has been developed by the more consistent players, and the arguments go on continuously over who is best at snooker, call, "Alabama," and ordinary "scratch." So a tournament, or a series of tournaments, is hereby suggested. Let the "snookers" determine their championship, the call shot artists, etc. And in that connection, how's about a bowling tournament to select the city's best kegler?

MARKS LIKELY WILL FALL

STARS OF TRACK ARE TO MEET SATURDAY FOR BIG AFFAIR

BY SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—To hear the A. A. U. tell it, there won't be much left of the record books after the track and field army gets to work in the national indoor championships at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Looking over as classy a field as the championships ever have had, the A. A. U. came up today with this official announcement:

Records In Danger

"Five world's records and eleven championship records will be in direct peril from the ever-improving group of American and foreign athletes."

Heading the list in color as well as competition is the so-called indoor "metric mile of the century"—the 1,500 meters—bringing together the world's top middle-distance runners with the lone exception of Jack Lovelock. Gene Venzke dashed in with a world record 3:29.9 last year and will defend the crown.

But the A. A. U. explained that if the boys really get serious, the world's records for the 600 and 1,000 meter runs and the 1,000 and 2,900 meter relays, as well as the 1,500 will be smashed.

Others Are Threatened

In addition, the fields in various other events making the championships the climax games of the season, also threaten meet marks at 5,000 meters, 3,000 meters steeplechase, 1,600 meter relay, 65 meter hurdles, pole vault and shot put.

With Glenn Cunningham, Indiana's Don Lash, Italy's Luigi Beccali and Archie San Romani lining up beside Venzke in the 1,500-meter field, in what amounts to an "Olympic games re-run," Venzke's year-old record may be chased right out of existence.

Syracuse Eddie O'Brien, another member of America's Olympic brigade, is back in form, and that spells trouble for the 600 meter mark of 1:21 O'Brien set last year.

Will Go After Mark

Norman Bright of San Francisco and the Texas Rideout twins, Wayne and Blaine, will go after Bright's meet mark of 15 minutes flat for 5,000 meters.

Olympic Champion Earle Meadows of Southern California and Japan's Suego Ohe should have little trouble getting over Sabin Carr's A. A. U. record of 14 feet, 1 inch in the pole vault, with a world record as an added possibility.

Sam Allen of Bristow, Okla., and Allan Tolmich of Wayne university, Detroit, both world record breakers at separate distances this season, head the field which may shatter the 65-meter hurdles mark.

ENTRIES WILL BE SELECTED BY TODAY

FIFTEEN EXPECTED TO GO TO POST WHEN CALL IS HEARD

BY ROBERT MYERS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26. (AP)—Entries for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap will be named today, giving the first definite line on what to expect in tomorrow's classic for the richest turf prize in the world.

The entries, jockeys and post positions, together with the weights assigned last December, are to be announced by Racing Secretary Webb Everett.

15 Expected To Start

Latest estimates were that 17 or 18 names would go through the entry box and around 15 horses would start on the mile and one-quarter journey that brings fame to the winner and a fortune to the owner.

General Manager Charles J. Strub looks for sunshine and a good track. Even as he spoke, the rain dwindled to a mere downpour. Last night the sky cleared.

Chances of a fast track are remote, however.

Consternation and joy ruled the various stables over the weather possibilities.

Chances Are Improved

Bud Stotler, trainer for A. G. Vanderbilt's recent purchase, Chanceview, was particularly happy. Chanceview's chances were vastly improved by the rain.

Trainer Dick Handlen of the Foxcatcher farms wanted it fast for Rosemont, and will start the winter book favorite regardless, but admitted he was "worried."

A wave of support for Charles S. Howard's Seabiscuit rolled in with the arrival of San Francisco fans.

Red Rain, which won around $45,000 for the C. V. Whitney stable in 1935 as a 2-year-old, gained support on his last workout.

A. A. Baroni's mudder, Star Shadow, likewise turned in a good workout.

Marquette To Play Mustangs Of Texas

DALLAS, Feb. 26. (AP)—Marquette university's Golden Avalanche and Southern Methodist's Mustangs will meet in football games in 1938 and 1939, James H. Stewart, S. M. U. director of athletics, said the teams next year would play on Soldiers field, Chicago, on Oct. 8 and at Ownby stadium, the Ponies' home grounds, Oct. 28, 1939.

Officers Are Cheap But Hurlers Scarce

BROWNS HAVE ONLY 4 HOPES TO BOLSTER A WEAK STAFF

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26 (AP)—The ambitious St. Louis Browns consider it a dull day when they don't add a vice president, a director or a scout but, as for moundsmen, Manager Roger Hornsby himself says, "pitchers of any kind are scarce."

The team has but four hopes of bolstering its weak 1936 staff—Les Tietje, Howard Mills, Lou Koupal and Oral Hildebrand. In the new deal, two of last year's hurlers, Leroy Mahaffey and Ivy Paul Andrews, are gone.

He Will Help

Mahaffey and a bundle of cash went to Seattle for Koupal, 33-year-old veteran who had one of the best earned-run averages in the Pacific coast league. He won 23 games and lost 11 in 1936, giving Hornsby some reason for saying, "I think an experienced man like Koupal will help us."

Andrews and Hildebrand were exchanged in the Browns' 3-for-3 deal with Cleveland. Hildebrand, with an earned run average of 4.89 per nine innings, won 10 and lost 11 last year, while Andrews, yielding 4.85 earned runs per game, won 7 and lost 12. Their records make the trade pretty much of a stand-off.

Tietje, obtained last year from the Chicago White Sox in a deal for Merritt (Sugar) Cain, developed arthritis and was virtually useless. A long curse of treatments returned him to physical fitness, and the Browns have signed him for 1937.

A Mystery Man

Mills, whom the Browns have been jockeying along since they took him from the Navy several years ago, has been called a mystery man by Scout Ray Cahill. A lefthander, he won 12 and lost 6 with San Antonio last season, finishing second in the Texas league in strikeouts with 157. In 186 innings he had an earned run average of 2.52 per game.

"He may make the grade this year and he may not," said Cahill. "If he can move to the Browns and forget it's not the Texas league, he'll be a winner. But he's a mystery man. I don't know about him."

LOUIS KOUPAL
Hornsby: "I think he'll help."

ON THE RECORD!

FOR SHEER SPEED, ice-boating is near the tops in sport. The craft will travel two and one-half times as fast as the wind that makes them go! In a 10-mile breeze, the boats will go 30 to 40 m.p.h.! In a 40-mile wind on good ice, at least 100 m.p.h. should be obtained. The unofficial speed record for the motorless craft is 163 miles per hour!

W. H. Williams, 80, the "weather sage" of Fairland, Ill., believes the corn husks and lazy squirrels augur an "open" winter with little zero weather.

Tarleton Is After Undefeated Record

STEPHENVILLE, Feb. 26. (AP)—John Tarleton college's Plowboy cagers, with 77 straight victories to their credit, set their jaws to defeat North Texas Aggies tonight and thus end four years without defeat.

In their astounding four-season record the Plowboys have had no closer call than they had last night: They needed an overtime period to squeeze by Texas Wesleyan 24 to 23.

The sharpshooting Tarleton team trailed the senior college Wesleyans 13 to 9 at the half and neither team was more than three points in the lead during the last half. At the close of the regular game period the score was 21-21. Tarleton quickly ran it to 24-21. The game ended shortly after Wesleyan made it 24-23.

To establish a four-year-undefeated record the Tarleton cagers tonight must defeat a team that once this season forced them into overtime play and lost only by a 45-43 score.

SECOND ROUND PLAY IS SET FOR TODAY

BIG NAMES REMAINING IN RACE; MEDALIST GOING STRONG

BY LEWIS T. NORDYKE

HOUSTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Shotmakers who survived the tough competition of the 23rd annual Houston country club invitation golf tourney for today's round of match play considered themselves lucky.

The championship bracket was still cluttered with big names, including medalist Harry Todd of Dallas, 1935 Texas amateur titlist; Johnny Dawson of Chicago, twice winner of the tournament; Reynolds Smith, Dallas Walker cup player; O'Hara Watts of Dallas, and many others. But some brilliant stars were missing.

Stars Are Ousted

Don Schumacher, Texas amateur champion from Dallas, and Jack Malloy, Tulsa, were in consolation matches, the victims of Jack Cameron and T. J. Ahearn, respectively, of Houston. They fell by the wayside in yesterday's first round, which failed to produce a strong favorite.

Ahearn's victory put him in second round play with David L. Davis, University of Texas star from Tyler, and Cameron's win matched him with Ed Herron, jr., of Houston.

Todd, whose fine putting stood out in his first round win over Bobby Riegel of Beaumont, had no easy ticket in Edwin McClure, the Shreveport ace, and Johnny Dawson met similar opposition from Robert Glover of Houston.

Rufus King Beaten

Another star of many golf matches to end in the consolation was Rufus King of Wichita Falls. Hack Williford of San Antonio ousted him and drew as a second round opponent O'Hara Watts, who eliminated young Jimmy Walkup of Fort Worth.

Quarter and semi-finals will be played tomorrow and the finals Sunday.

Second round pairings in the second round of the championship flight set to start at 11:15 a. m. were:

Harry Todd, Dallas, vs. Edwin McClure, Shreveport.

Gus Novotny, Chicago, vs. Reuben Albaugh, Dallas.

Johnny Dawson, Chicago, vs. Robert Glover, Rice institute student from Lafayette, La.

Ed Anderson, Houston, vs. Pat Leslie, Louisiana State university.

T. J. Ahearn, Houston, vs. David L. Davis, Tyler.

O'Hara Watts, Dallas, vs. Hack Williford, San Antonio.

Jack Cameron, Houston, vs. Ed Herron, jr., Houston.

P. J. Clifford, Mexico City, vs. Reynolds Smith, Dallas.

COME UP FAST

AUSTIN, Feb. 26 (AP)—St. Edward's university Tigers came up fast in the closing minutes but lost to Daniel Baker's Hillbilly cagers, 35 to 33, last night.

Arizona Is Victor Over New Mexicans

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 26. (AP)—A 12-point scoring rush in the last three minutes of play broke a tie and gave the University of Arizona a 37 to 26 victory over the University of New Mexico here last night in a border conference basketball game.

The Wildcat closing rally blasted wide open what had been a tight contest. The game had been tied five times before the invaders broke loose with a barrage which sent them to victory.

In those last three minutes, Captain Warford and Larry Digrazia swept under the basket and through the Lobo defense with amazing swiftness to put the game on ice. Each scored 10 points, to share high honors.

The two teams meet again today.

Tom Beaupre Wins In Dallas Battle

DALLAS, Feb. 26. (AP)—Tom Beaupre, Dallas butcher boy, won an easy 10 round fight with Jack Kranz, Gary, Ind., steelworker, here last night. Kranz weighed 187, Beaupre 195.

Beaupre earned seven rounds, Kranz two and one was even. The Indianan, one of the few men to go the scheduled distance with Joe Louis, started aggressively and took the first round. Beaupre took the second and knocked his opponent down in the third. From then on, except in the drawn seventh round, and in the ninth, Kranz took a beating.

Maxie Long, Dallas, decisioned Mickey Breen, Louisville, Ky., in six rounds. Breen weighed 165, Long 167.

Was Amazed By Gly-Cas' Action

"Gly-Cas Without An Equal," Says Mrs. Siegell, Stomach, Kidneys Now Fine, Dizzy Spells, Nervousness Gone

"Gly-Cas gave me the best health I have had in years," said Mrs. Fannie Siegell, 128 Fifth St., Baton Rouge, La. "Practically everything I ate for years had caused me dreadful suffering afterwards. Indigestion was awful and it was so painful with the burning in my stomach. Gas would form and I bloated dreadfully, heartburned and I would become nervous and dizzy. My kidneys were disordered and I was up at all hours of the night. My back pained almost continually. I was worn-out and lacked the pep to do anything and really had little interest in life itself at times I felt so badly. I was terribly discouraged and did not know where to turn next when I began to hear so much praise for this new Gly-Cas—so I decided to put it to a real test on my own case—and found it wonderful.

"Gly-Cas went right to the source of my health troubles," she continued. "My bowels were regulated, stomach is now in good condition and I eat and enjoy the foods I wish with no fear of those awful after effects. Even my kidneys have been restored to normal functioning until I sleep the entire night through, my former pep and energy has been restored and those awful backaches have left me entirely. It is wonderful to feel so good and enjoy good health. After so many years of suffering I can appreciate what it means to be able to get a medicine like Gly-Cas."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

LUBBOCK MEN WILL STICK TO BLACK AND BLUES IN THEIR FORMAL DRESS

"I think it's sissy, what do you think"? says Dr. J. W. Rollo, one of Lubbock's well dressed men, when asked what he thought about robin's egg blue dinner jackets and bright colored tuxedos.

Frank C. Nagal, New York stylist spokesman states that black tuxedos are definitely out. Blues, fawn, and greens with military capes a la Vienna with red silk linings are on their way up, he says.

"At least you could tell the guests from the head waiters" said Mervyn (Doc) Hummicutt, local shoe salesman. Jimmie Ong, clerk, believes that it will be a long time before anyone in Lubbock will go in for anything other than the fashionable black or midnight blue. "There are fads and fashions; some people will go in for fads a little, but fashions are lasting. Burmas will come in to stay after a little because they are not too far away from public opinion, and they are practical," he said.

They'll Wear Them

Wm. S. (Bill) Bayouth says "Wait, you'll see, within two years, people will be wearing just such colors in Lubbock."

"It's a fad. Soon blow over, there's nothing to it," says Newton Walton. It will be a long time before anyone in Lubbock will buy anything very different than what has always been worn. We may be fooled though, he added. There is such a definite trend toward loud colors in sport and afternoon wear. It may be that formal dress will also become brighter. When asked what his brother, George Walton, thought about the new tuxedos he said that George also thought they were a fad that would not be taken up in Lubbock or surrounding territory. They will be worn in such places as Palm Beach and other resorts though, he said.

"Public opinion is the best index to style," said Charles (Scrappy) Alford. "People will always conform more or less to what everyone else wears. Even women will do so in regard to very formal wear. Some of the college boys may wear the new colors in a moderate degree just to be different, but as for it becoming fashionable in Lubbock, it won't—not for a long time. It is just like the American habit of eating three meals per day."

Lindsey All For It

"I'm for it," Jim Lindsey, college publications head declared. "It would not do for everyone perhaps, but for college people, the more color, the better. It's all right."

Jack Diamond, also says "it will soon play out. It usually takes things two years to get out here after they come out in New York and by that time the fad will be over." The burma shades will be accepted here fairly soon though, he thinks.

Chape Chapin turned thumbs down on them too. White will be better this year, he said, and may be some will wear light colored tuxedos, "but these cape-things, no man is going to wear them in New York or anywhere else."

College boys are generally in favor of the midnight blues, with maybe maroon ties and boutonnieres.

Man's Feet Tingle But He Wins Cash

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 26 (AP) — Money has burned pockets, but in this case M. W. Jones' feet tingled.

With the thermometer snuggling at 15 below zero, he wagered a friend he could walk across Main street, barefooted and unassisted, with all popular aids of locomotion, including bicycles, roller skates, crutches and stilts barred.

Before a good-sized audience Jones made the trip from sidewalk to sidewalk across the ice and said his feet "felt better than they ever did since I left Missouri." He won $5.

Rather Be Star In Film Sky

Princess Usha Devi Holkar of Indore is one of the richest children in the world, but after spending several months near California's film colony, the 4-year-old royal heiress decided she would really prefer to be a movie star. The picture above was taken as she said farewell to smiling Gail Patrick of the films. The princess and her parents, the maharaja and the maharani of Indore, then sailed on their return to Indore.

STRIP-TEASE ACT IS DEFENDED AS HIGH ART BEFORE CONGRESS GROUP

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The brothers Minsky, who put the strip-tease dance into the congressional record, defended the shed-your-shirt today as high American art.

"It's not altogether what you take off," said bespectacled brother Herbert, "but as high American art."

"And," added mustached brother Morton, "who takes it off."

As burlesque impresarios, the brothers were willing witnesses yesterday before the house immigration committee in behalf of a bill to restrict entry into America of foreign performers.

Girls of the United States, they vociferously agreed, have it all over their sisters across the seas when it comes to the fine points of the strip-tease.

"For one thing," said Herbert, "they've got rhythm."

"And," added Morton, "they got more looks."

Brother Herbert said hundreds of young American girls are knocking at the doors of burlesque.

"Look," he said, "here's a letter from a little girl out west some place. She wants to be a stripper. We get piles of them."

CHICAGO—Judge Joseph B. Hermes asked Mary Griffen, who had boasted of her linquistic accomplishments in wpmen's court, what she meant when she said: "Omnes homo mendax est."

"That's what you are, judge," the defendant retorted.

"What!" exclaimed the jurist. "A mendax is a liar."

"Oh, I misunderstand," Miss Griffen said apologetically. "I meant you were a homo sapiens. A homo sapiens is a wise man."

CHICAGO—The late Policeman Mike Ryan did a neat business for himself during the years he directed traffic in the financial district. His estate was inventoried in probate court at $57,806.98.

NEW LONDON, Wis.—Bernard Knapp, Clintonville barber, won't be able to indulge in shop talk for some time and he resents it.

He fell and broke his jaw while ice skating.

"It's tough to be laid up," Knapp scribbled in a note after his jaw was wired together, "but to think I can't talk for six weeks is too much."

KANSAS CITY—A federal court jury took 30 minutes but only one ballot to convict Edson Mr. Walker, election judge, of attempt to suborn perjury in a note fraud case.

"What took you so long?" a juror was asked.

"Well," he explained, "we got into an argument over who should be foreman. Everyone wanted to be foreman, you see."

DALLAS—Police suspect a superstitious negro stole a properties box from the motor car of J. J. Clifford, vaudeville actor.

In a dark alley 30 feet from the car, police found the box, lid pried off but content intact. The contents—a luminous skeleton Clifford uses in his act.

Black-Draught High In Quality Without Being High In Price

Black-Draught is "easy to pay for" because it is so economically packaged and so reliable.

But as to quality, there's nothing "cheap" about it. For instance, its principal active ingredient is the leaves of a certain species of plant that are brought 10,000 miles from where they grow to the factory where the medicine is made. These leaves from far, far away, help to give Black-Draught its well-known "laxative reliability." They could not be left out, or substituted, without real loss of good medicinal quality.

For a good, purely vegetable laxative, insist on Black-Draught. About 25 doses in each 25-cent package. Adv.

A note received from M. L. H. Baze, the hustling school superintendent at Brownfield who has just been presented with a re-election contract, reads:

"My NYA helper in the office states that she has been unable to find 'timeliness' in the dictionary and she is right. I often wonder just how many words we would use if we limited them to the ones we actually need."

(Brother Baze, you need a new dictionary in your office. My new one, a Christmas gift from the Little Woman—do you suppose as a subtle hint?—gives 'timeliness' just as you have used it and spell it. I think I read somewhere that the average person's vocabulary is 900 words—but we teachers and editors—not to mention lawyers and doctors—could never get along on that few. Those we talk to and write for would too easily know what we mean and that might prove costly! Best regards. The Plainsman.

FIGURES announced from the Texas State penitentiary at Huntsville and published in yesterday's Journal show that more men are caught and convicted as a result of burglaries than for any other crime in Texas. There are 994 burglars in the "big house", as compared with 723 common, ordinary thieves, 238 murderers and 268 forgers and passers of bouncing checks.

The statistics from the Texas pen seem to run hand-in-hand with the figures compiled recently by Warden Lewis Lawes of Sing Sing. So in case you're considering a little burgling be informed that you've got a shade more than two strikes on you before you start.

H. H. Slawson, writing recently in Nation's Business, gives the art of burgling, once made famous by Arsene Lupin and Jimmie Valentine, considerable of a black eye.

Just to show you what a burglar busy burgling may run up against, here's an excerpt from Mr. Slawson's article, which appears in the current issue of The Reader's Digest:

"AMAZING protective devices have been developed—some of them savoring of sheer magic—to hamper the burglar.

"There is, for instance, a device which, as an intruder gropes through a darkened room and before he has even touched the apparatus, will detect his presence and then automatically set off a siren, send a warning signal to police, turn on the lights, take a photograph of the burglar and give him a dose of tear gas.

"Another device widely used in Europe acts not only for burglars but also for fires. Automatically, it dials the police or fire department, as the emergency requires; dials the home of the proprietor of the property; dials the supervisor of the telephone exchange as an added check. Then in a clear, unexcited human voice the robot tells what is wrong."

The Plainsman has never heard of any such devices being used in Lubbock, or anywhere else in Texas, and he is certain that none of the burglars at Huntsville were caught by any such contraptions—which proves that burgling, even under conditions best for the burglar, is no safe occupation.

Warden Lawes says burgling is "one of the poorest paid of the learned professions" and the statistics from Huntsville bear him out.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie is to marry her employer, Mark Albery, because Albery has threatened otherwise to ruin the career of Rex Moore, whom Laurie loves. Rex misunderstands, and in a huff has asked Wanda Steele to marry him. Now Laurie learns that her younger sister Gladys, a dancer, is running around with Jimmy Dallas, and that old Lord Dagenbury, Jimmy's father, is about to make a fuss about it.

Chapter 41
DECEIT

When she got back to her little flat, Laurie's anxious mind was suddenly illuminated by memory, which put the finishing touch to her misery.

That odious anonymous letter had said that Gladys was going about with a "swell young man," and going to his rooms at night. That would fit young Dallas.

And another flash of memory—the first time Laurie had spoken to her about the gold cigaret case Glad had said the young man's name was Jimmy Smith. And later on she had said that the young man of the anonymous letter was the same one.

Then it must be Jimmy Dallas! It had been all the time. And now people were saying that he was carrying on with a chorus girl. His father had heard it. He would make enquiries, and Glad's name would be dragged in the mud.

It was intolerable.

Gladys was still away. The troupe had gone further afield than Guildford. Next week they were going to rest, but the following week they were booked up again, and there was no chance of seeing Glad.

And then came the climax.

Unable to put her mind to anything, wanting nothing to eat, Laurie walked about the little flat like a caged animal.

She tried to divert her thoughts. That arm-chair cover was getting very shabby. She must make a new one. She examined the cover and then began to pull it off. It was faded and beginning to tear at the arms, not worth mending.

A little handkerchief, rolled up in a ball, was between the seat and the back of the chair. Gladys', no doubt. She was terribly untidy and forgetful.

It crackled as Laurie shook it out and a piece of paper fell out. A crumpled up envelope.

Laurie read an address with staring eyes:

J. Dallas, Esq.,
[illegible] Belmont Place,
St. James,
S. W. 1.

Glad's handwriting.

Laurie's fears were now a certainty. It was true. Great tears fell down her cheeks. Glad was meeting young Dallas secretly, writing to him. This envelope had been posted. She had probably been disturbed while writing and had hidden it away in her handkerchief and then forgotten all about it or thought she had lost it.

Perhaps Glad was unhappy under her careless brightness. If she was deeply in love with Jimmy Dallas she must be unhappy. Perhaps she wept when she was alone and suffered cruelly. Laurie felt that Dallas was the kind of man who would inevitably make women suffer if they loved him.

Glad didn't know. Glad was so very young.

Laurie acted on one of her impulses. They had always been inexplicable at the moment, but they had shaped her life and no power on earth could have prevented them. She knew that subconsciously.

She looked at the clock. It was seven. A young man about town might be in his rooms at that hour before he went out to spend the evening.

She put her hat on and hurried out of the house and hailed the first taxi she saw, giving the driver Jimmy Dallas's address.

It was a big old-fashioned building, facing a narrow passage that led into the Green Park. A set of apartments with service much used by wealthy visitors to London. Mostly foreigners.

In the marble-floored vestibule she found nobody. But there was a board with the names of the tenants inscribed on it. Jimmy Dallas lived on the fourth floor.

Laurie ignored the lift and walked up. She rang the bell of a handsome mahogany door, and a moment later the young man himself opened it.

"Cherrio, Dick!" he exclaimed, and then, seeing Laurie, looked none too pleased. He wore a many-colored silk dressing gown over his evening trousers and shirt. There was no recognition on his face.

"Mr. Dallas, I want to speak to you a few minutes," Laurie said breathlessly. "I am Mrs. Rex Moore. I met you at Fen Gretton a little while ago."

"Please come in!" he invited with his provoking faun-like smile. "This is rather puzzling. I can't quite remember—"

"I am also Mr. Albery's secretary," she added, as he rather unwillingly showed her into his ultra-modern living room, which was perfectly hideous in her eyes. "My sister and I were spending the week-end."

"Oh, yes!" His light voice was vague. "Is there anything I can do for you, Mrs. Moore?"

"There is." She faced him, looking straight into his eyes, so alluring to most women. "Mr. Dallas, you have been meeting my sister secretly. I want to ask you not to do it any more."

"Your sister, Mrs. Moore? There must be some mistake." Jimmy was evidently prepared.

"No, Mr. Dallas. I saw you with Gladys in a taxi in Piccadilly Circus—on Sunday night a week ago. My sister denied it, but I saw you, and I know that she writes to you. And that you met her first in Manchester and Liverpool, and have given her expensive presents. My sister will deny everything, I know. I suppose you have told her to. But I want to ask you—are you going to ask her to marry you? And, if not, will you leave her alone?"

"I am sorry," said Jimmy Dallas in his cool, derisive voice, "but really I don't quite understand."

Laurie's passionate earnestness would have moved a heart of stone, as she pleaded:

"Don't play with me! Don't lie to me! You must understand. Do you mean to tell me that you have never met my sister since we were at Fen Gretton weeks ago?"

Jimmy Dallas had to make a nimble decision. He was decidedly uneasy. This young woman was a nuisance. He had known she was a puritanical school marm from the beginning. And after all the trouble they had taken, she had evidently found out something.

But Gladys hadn't given him away. That was clear. Mrs. Moore didn't really know anything. But she had seen them in that taxicab.

What confounded luck! He was sure she was not a fool.

"As a matter of fact, I have seen your sister once or twice, Mrs. Moore," he said in his most winning way. "She told me she was on the stage, and I have been to see her dance. And we met with a party of friends on the river."

"Do you mean to marry her?" she asked.

"I haven't thought of marrying anybody, Mrs. Moore," he lied, but his voice was frankness itself. "I am making my way in my father's business. I have a whole lot to learn. I like your sister very much, and

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

GOOD LITTLE BOYS—AND PIE!

As bearing upon the forthcoming action of Congress respecting the President's proposal to make over the Supreme court with "new blood", as he puts it, the attitude of Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, is, to The Journal, particularly enlightening.

Not only his position as chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee, but also his previous preoccupation with the administration's constitutional difficulties and methods for their solution make his views especially pertinent. He is the author of a proposed constitutional amendment, giving Congress outright power to regulate "agriculture, commerce, industry and labor." On several occasions he has stated frankly and explicitly his opinion as to the proper course when Congress finds its legislative power no longer adequate to deal with current problems.

As recently as January 29, he said in the Senate:

"Let me say that I have no sympathy with attempts to whittle or to chisel, by indirection, circumlocution and periphrasis, and 'house-that-Jack-built' methods in order to acquire power. Let us manfully stand up and say, 'Mr. President, we ought to have more power. We need more power.' The way to obtain it is by consulting the states (through a constitutional amendment)."

It is especially significant, therefore, that dispatches from Washington now quote the Arizona Senator as promising his support of the proposed enlargement of the court. Unless he is persuaded this present proposal does not intend in fact to "pack" the court, it would appear the President's prestige and popularity are likely to overbalance any congressional scruples hitherto entertained.

Sad to say, Senator Ashurst's position is similar to that of many another representative or senator who is prone to blindly follow the White House—especially when he remembers the President's cloaked warning that "only good little boys will get their share of pie".

From Hollywood MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 26. — From his height of 6 feet, 7 inches, and his eminence as a writer of distinguished plays, Robert Emmet Sherwood is not inclined to look down on the business of scenario scribbling.

He thinks it's a good craft and he wishes to cross his heart and hope to write a flop if he goes back to New York bearing sneering tales about the way the flicker companies treat their writers.

Mr. Sherwood, who is slender and faultlessly groomed and about 40, is in town to do a job of writing for Douglas Fairbanks and Samuel Goldwyn on their forthcoming "Adventures of Marco Polo."

During a previous visit about two years ago he worked on the story of Marie Antoinette for M-G-M and Norma Shearer. He hopes that Metro still will film that story; says it would be swell.

Concerning one of his own plays, though, "Idiot's Delight," he wasn't so sure. Adapting this pungent, anti-war piece so that the European market wouldn't ban it would be quite a task. The job will be attempted, though, and may come out all right.

The comedy, "Tovarich," another Sherwood stage hit of this season, also has been bought for the screen. "Reunion in Vienna" and "The Petrified Forest" were other Sherwood successes which made good movies.

Fired Often

The author works furiously on jobs at hand—even Hollywood jobs. Indeed, he believes that most of the writers who have been pushed around and neglected and insulted have been those who didn't take the movies seriously and were trying to get by with a minimum of effort. They need firing, he thinks.

Sherwood himself has not always been so conscientious, and has been fired from nearly every job he ever had except the two assignments in Hollywood.

To begin with, he was kicked out of Harvard three times. The American army decided it didn't want him because he wasn't tall. The Canadian army took him, though, and kept him until 1919.

Odd Fashions

On the staff of Vanity Fair, Sherwood writhed in the drudgery of getting out a fashion article for men. He didn't believe anybody read the articles anyway, so he proceeded to find out by writing that button shoes and peg-top trousers were coming back, that stocking caps were replacing opera hats and that crimson-embroidered frogs would hold dinner jackets together.

Before he could be discharged for that prank, Sherwood resigned, along with Robert Benchley, in protest against the firing of Dorothy Parker, who had been Vanity Fair's drama critic.

Next he tried being a newspaper reporter in Boston, but was let out after three days. Then he worked for Life and became its editor before he was fired in 1926.

Since then, he has mostly worked for himself, writing plays. But he is so critical of his own work that he several times has thought of discharging himself.

Cellar "Squirrels"

You'll be glad to know that W. C. Fields is almost well again, that he has gained 15 pounds, and that he is at work on the script for his next picture, "Bag of Tricks."

He will leave the sanitarium in Pasadena in a couple of weeks, and friends are wondering where he'll live in Hollywood this time. Fields liked his house on Toluca Lake until he was driven from it by an ill-tempered swan.

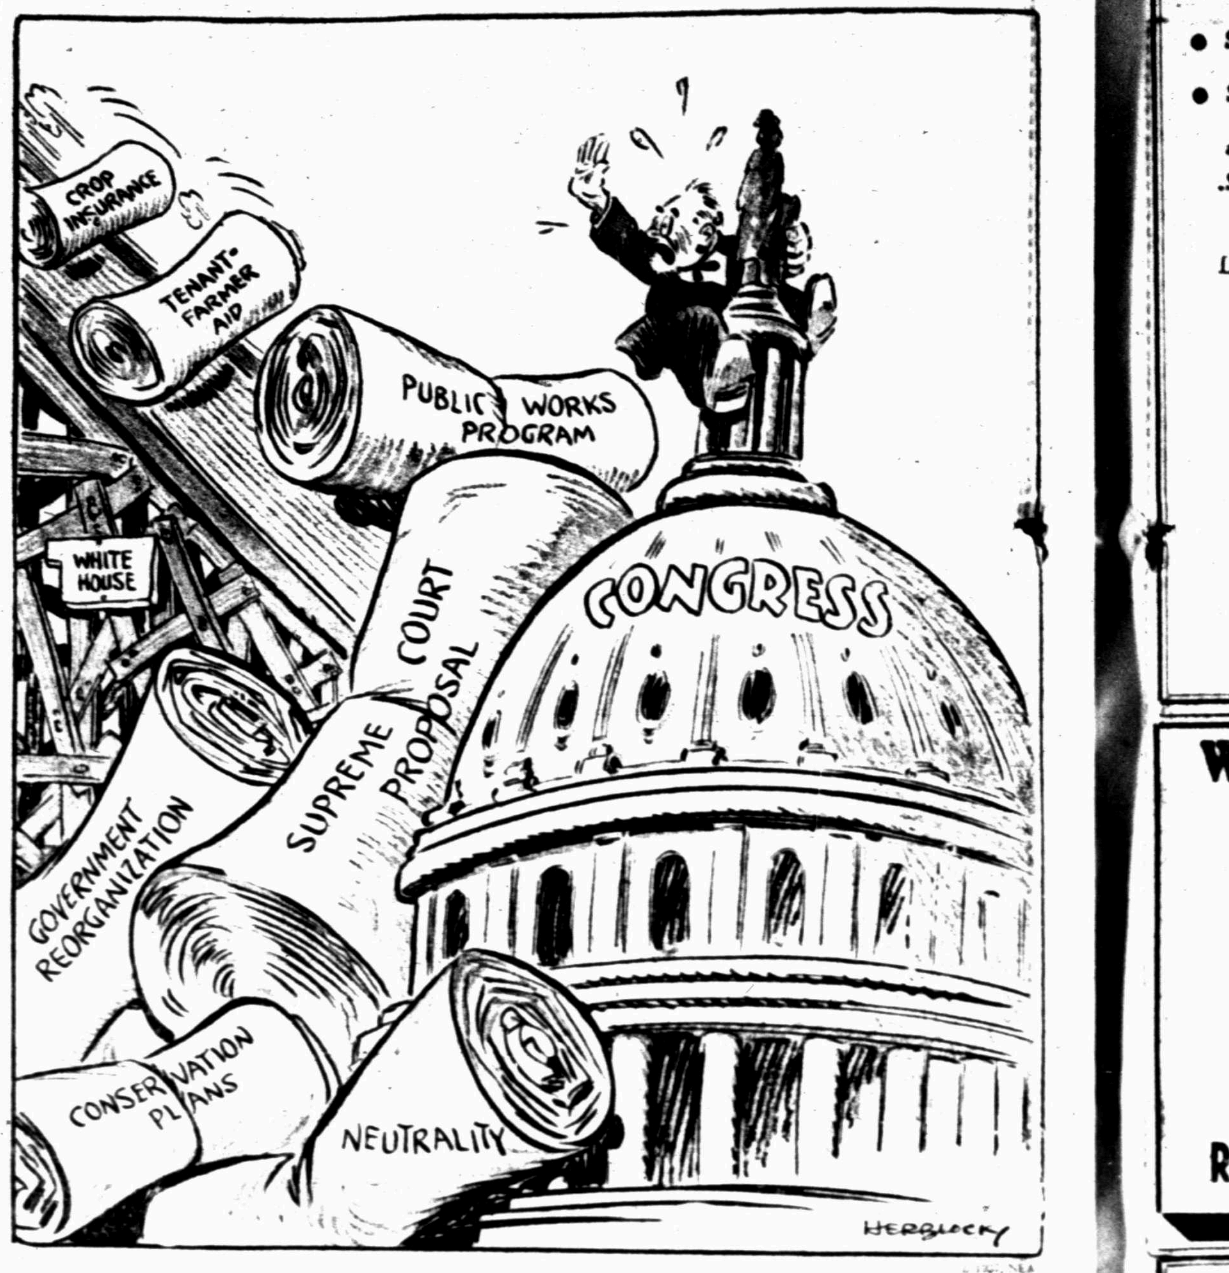

That swan probably was the only living thing that hated Mr. Fields, but it hated him with a deep and implacable enmity. It would lie in ambush along the lake shore and then chase him nipping at his rear and swearing terribly. This so preyed on the nerves of the actor that he upped and moved.

The feud was doubly embarrassing to Fields because he has a wistful longing to get close to nature, never having been off city pavements in his life.

Last season a caller at his house noticed a truck arriving with a sack of grain. The actor confided that the grain was for his pet squirrels, which lived in the basement.

The guest was astonished, on going downstairs at feeding time, to find Fields scattering corn for about 20 well-nourished and happy rats.

Hey! Whoa! Wait A Minute!

Both Sides In Court Reform Count On Time For Help, But Roosevelt Has Pressure And Patronage, Dutcher Declares

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—"Time is on our side," say the grim, determined opponents of Roosevelt's proposal to liberalize the Supreme court.

"Time is on our side," echo the supporters of the plan.

Anyway, time will tell. Neither side is rushing the issue.

The opposition hopes to pile up enough pressure to block the measure despite claims of administrationists they already have a small edge in the Senate. Attacks by some state legislatures, bar associations and other conservative groups as well as an overwhelming hostile press will be supplemented by further organized effort. This includes the work of Publisher Frank E. Gannett's National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government.

Dutcher

Telegrams and letters reaching Capitol Hill are preponderantly against the Roosevelt bill.

While picked men from both sides broadcast their sentiments by day, the president dins his arguments into members of Congress at night.

Roosevelt's chief arguments are: the demonstration of popular approval he received in the election—which he considers a mandate; the New Deal measures—which he insists can only be had under a changed Supreme court; his recognized effectiveness over the radio—which he hopes to utilize as never before when he feels the time is ripe for a supreme appeal to the people; and finally, patronage—which can be likened to a stick with which a farmer could either beat a horse or use to hold a bunch of hay before the animal's nose to keep it going.

Some of the antagonistic Democrats and liberals Roosevelt has been able to at least partly realign are working for a compromise. But Roosevelt, while he may not hold out ultimately for his proposal in toto, will not compromise on any basis which does not enable him to establish a liberal majority on the supreme court.

Would Be Delighted

The administration is interested in the bill permitting justices to retire on full pay ($20,000 a year) for three reasons:

1. It wants to let the public know the aged justices it wants off the bench would be "taken care of."

2. It will be delighted if two or three of the justices take advantage of the retirement privilege when the bill passes. (Heretofore Congress has passed a special pension act when a justice retired.)

3. Members of Senate and House see in vacancies caused by retirement their only chance of getting on the supreme court, since law forbids any member to occupy an office created during the current congressional session.

Even Senator Borah favors a constitutional amendment for compulsory retirement at 75. Others would put the compulsory age at 70. Senator Wheeler wants an amendment permitting Congress to veto supreme court decisions. Some members say it might be all right to let Roosevelt appoint only two or three justices. Others have alternative schemes. This division among a considerable segment of the opposition, which professes willingness to do something about the court, is an advantage to Roosevelt, as long as he can hold his forces solidly behind his own measure.

Will Get Farm Support

There is reason to believe that Roosevelt will get the support of most of the organized farm owner strength, following Secretary Wallace's statement that the New Deal farm program could hardly be considered safe under recent Supreme court rulings. The program—including an annual $500,000,000 subsidy, crop insurance, production control, and loans—is being dangled before farmers. President Ed O'Neal of the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation, has been allowed to be kingfish in agricultural matters here for four years. His support is considered in the bag.

Labor's Non-Partisan League (John Lewis), and the American Federation of Labor (Bill Green), are in the Roosevelt camp. The LNL is capable of great pressure in industrial states, and it will make no bones about threatening senators with defeat if they vote nay.

And it isn't exactly an unsafe bet there won't be a reasonably hard effort to line up, behind this bill, Roosevelt's election support among the negroes.

SUPPORTS CHURCHILL

Dear Plainsman: Since I have been on the case that Captain Churchill was talking about, and of which you wrote on Wednesday, I am in a position to know that what he said was true beyond any doubt. I have been on the Salvation Army board for some time, and continually working on just such cases with Captain or Mrs. Churchill. If you do not believe that these conditions exist I challenge you to come with me in my car at my expense and see this and other cases for yourself. I sincerely hope that I am now reporting these conditions to the "proper authorities" and that you will do something about it. I have called ministers' wives, and a number of others, and I am sure that Captain Churchill called a large number as well, and they seemed very un-interested. The trouble is that you nor others who can help will believe that we of the Salvation Army know what we are talking about, or you do not believe that we speak the truth. Again I say if you will come with me I'll show you for yourself. It is true that this is an indictment against Lubbock citizens and we have every reason to hang our heads in shame. This is not the only case, Mr. Plainsman. There are number of others, and it is high time that Lubbock wakes up and manifests some of the milk of human kindness for our own home town people.

Yours truly,
Mrs. W. H. McDonald,
1905 25th., St.

(Dear Mrs. McDonald: Thanks for your letter. See, please, the note attached to Captain Churchill's letter. I don't know what the Salvation Army is able to do in emergencies, but I still contend that this town is full of people who would make any sacrifice to keep someone from starving. It may be, you know, that the Salvation army doesn't have the support it should have, or that it hasn't sold the public on itself in Lubbock. I am not the "proper authorities" to report charity cases to, since I am not a social worker, amateur or professional. By "proper authorities" I meant, of course, the city-county and governmental welfare agencies whose business it is to look after such matters. Perhaps the Salvation army can't get people to help in emergencies. I couldn't say about that. But I reiterate that on any occasion where there is danger of someone starving, thirty minutes of phoning by any number of people I could mention would bring immediate relief. Respectfully, The Plainsman.

MORE ABOUT STARVATION

DEAR PLAINSMAN: Naturally, I was vitally interested in reading your remarks in connection with the case which I asserted had starved to death.

This is not only my opinion, but the opinion of other people, some who definitely know what they are talking about, as well. As I stated in the news room, starvation itself was not the thing that snapped the life cord, but had she had food, much less the proper kind of food, she would have had the strength and constitution to overcome. Truly this is an indictment against every citizen in Lubbock, but absolutely not the fault of any one particular individual or organization. We had been assured that another group was caring for the case. They had been told the case didn't need help. This is an odd thing to say, nevertheless, starvation is the basic cause of the trouble.

This is not the only case that I could sight you. I know three juvenile cases who have recently been in court because they stole something to eat. Yesterday afternoon a

REFUGEES ARE GOING HOME

HOMEWARD TREK BEING STAGED; THOUSANDS LEAVING CAMPS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 26. (AP) — Almost unnoticed in the humdrum of post-flood activity, the 1937 Mississippi river flood refugees are trekking homeward in increasing numbers.

Within two weeks the exodus of approximately 30,000 flood refugees from concentration camps in Tennessee and Alabama will be completed, officials of the Red Cross estimated.

By train, bus and automobile they are streaming homeward at the rate of between 500 and 600 a day.

Memphis, safe on high bluffs, was evacuation center for most of the Arkansas and Tennessee lowlands.

Thousands Cared For

In the lower Mississippi valley about 17,000 persons are being cared for: 8,000 from Mississippi and 9,000 from Louisiana.

With water still threatening levees downstream and tributaries choked by overflow, few refugees have returned home in this region thus far.

In all the camps the family unit was maintained. Individual shacks were built for families in the Mississippi and Louisiana centers.

Red Cross officials report that refugees in "some instances" have become so adapted to new surroundings that they are "reluctant to return home."

Highway Patrolman Has Bought Plane

W. C. Alder, state highway patrolman, has purchased a Monocoupe airplane from Roy Norton of Roswell, N. M.

Although he has been flying for several years, Alder does not hold a license. He expects to take examination for a license soon, however.

The ship will be housed at Municipal airport.

Fear World's End During Hail Storm

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 26. (AP)—Natives of La Carlota thought the end of the world had come when hailstones fell on the town today for the first time in history.

The populace of the town on Negros island was panic stricken. Cattle stampeded. Chickens squawked. Dogs fled under houses.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

I admire her dancing tremendously. I hope I may say we are friends."

No good. Laurie turned towards the door.

"I want you to leave my sister alone, or to meet her openly. Why won't she tell me of your meetings? Why does she deny that she was in the taxi with you when I saw you myself? I feel she is unhappy. In some way you are doing her a wrong, Mr. Dallas."

"Oh, no, Mrs. Moore. I assure you, you are exaggerating a slight and very pleasant friendship. Your sister must have some reason for not telling you that we have met once or twice. And you have found it out and made too much of it. I think that must be the way of it, Mrs. Moore."

She looked at him wearily. He was too much for her.

"I hope you will not worry your sister about it," he added. "I should feel so badly, if you did."

"I shall not mention to her that I have been here."

Jimmy Dallas opened the hall door for Laurie and stepped out on to the landing, smiling, and saying in his caressing voice—"I am so awfully glad you came. I am quite happy because now we understand each other."

Just then, the door of one of the other flats on the landing opened, and a manservant showed a lady out.

Laurie did not stop to look. So she did not see that it was Wanda Steele who had come out of the other flat and heard Jimmy Dallas's words.

Monday, Laurie allows herself to be trapped.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Recent speculative favorites lost their popularity in today's stock market and quiet selling put the brakes on an early rally.

While gains of fractions to a point or more were held by selected merchandising, aircraftt and specialty issues, losses of as much were widely distributed in other groups.

A fast opening was succeeded by a dragging pace later. The proceedings slowed further near the fourth hour.

Little encouragement was found by Wall Street in the numerous labor controversies and some brokers thought much of the recent good news had been discountted to some extent.

U. S. Government bonds pushed upward, but corporation loans were spotty. Commodities were mixed.

Shares attracting buying attention included Macy, Marshall Field, Allied Stores, Assorted Dry Goods, Great Northern Iron Ore, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Ward Baking, Seaboard Oil, Kennecott, Goodyear, Chrysler and Celanese.

Leaning backward most of the session were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Yellow Truck, J. I. Case, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda, American Smelting, Inspiration Copper, Callahan Zinc, American Zinc, Allied Chemical, Standard Oil of N. J., and Texas Corp.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 3 to 5 points higher on Liverpool cables, trade and commission house buying. March 12.86; May 12.65; July 12.47; Oct. 11.92; Dec. 11.89; Jan. 11.87.

A broader demand developed overnight. There was substantial foreign buying from Liverpool, the continent and the far east.

The trade continued to take contracts in old crop positions actively and outside speculative interest was more noticeable. Recent reports of a better demand for spot cotton and strength of metals and rubber seemed to be influencing sentiment. Hedge selling and scattered liquidation was readily absorbed.

May sold up from 12.64 to 12.66 at the end of the first half hour when prices were ruling 3 to 6 points net higher. There were four additional March notices issued today.

The weekly weather forecast pointed to rain or snow in dry western belt area. Cotton goods markets remained quiet with no decided price trend.

Advances at Liverpool reflected additional buying against sales of egyptian uppers and scattered speculative purchases.

Foreign demand tapered off after the first hour as increased hedge selling occurred with reactions of about 3 to 5 points from the highs early in the morning. Trading became much quieter but there was sufficient demand to impart a steady undertone by mid-day.

May, which reacted from 12.56 to 12.52 was selling at 12.54 when prices generally were 3 to 4 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 26 (AP) — Cotton moved up nearly 25 cents a bale in early trading here today.

Better foreign markets was the main early factor behind the price trend, and getting in line with Liverpool prices occupied the opening minutes.

March was not traded in at the opening but May was 4 points higher at 12.59. July was up 6 at 12.43. Oct. gained 4 points to 11.87 and Dec. was up 4 points at 11.92.

Most of the buying came from spot houses, who have been active purchasers in old crop months the past few days. In the avid demand by merchants for futures many saw a determination on their part to obtain cotton in this way to fill mill commitments. Reports have been prevalent that many of the larger spot firms have been short of cotton to fill orders already obtained.

A sharp drop in the temperature as forecast yesterday by the weather bureau made its appearance in the central southern belt today. There was little rain.

More notices amounting to 500 bales were issued against the March position but as in previous sessions they were readily absorbed by the trade.

New Crops, a weak spot in yesterday's trading reversed their trend and by noon were up with Oct. 7 points higher at 11.90.

Buying did not reach important proportions during the morning, but the scarcity of offerings helped options to register good advances for such a thin amount of dealings.

Worth St. advices told of limited trading in print cloths with only a scattered demand for standard constructions. There were considerable bids a few fractions under the market but these offerings were rejected.

said to have fled to the hills.

Soviet Russia, meanwhile, withdrew from the projected six-power neutrality patrol of Spain.

The Russians, who had objected strenuously to a neutrality committee ruling which assigned their warships to the rough waters of the Bay of Biscay, decided they no longer desired to participate with Britain, France, Italy, Germany and Portugal.

Ivan Maisky, the Soviet ambassador, indicated to the subcommittee of the neutrality group that Russia had achieved her main aim —recognition of her right to join the patrol, first opposed by fascist powers.

Informed sources said the Soviet withdrawal will not interfere with the carrying out of the patrol scheme, which is designed to keep foreign men and arms out of Spain.

NEW AUDITORIUM GETS DEDICATION

SPRING LAKE, Lamb County, Feb. 26 (Special)—A new brick and tile combination auditorium and gymnasium was dedicated last night with Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the government department of Texas Technological college, and L. A. Rodenhiser, district Works Progress administration field superintendent, delivering the dedication addresses.

The new structure, a WPA project, is situated near the Spring Lake consolidated school about 16 miles west of Olton. Total cost of the gymnasium was estimated at about $21,100. The WPA furnished about $5,400 and the sponsor, the school district, about $15,700.

It is a modern building with electric lights and steam heat, and conforms to standards of the state department of education. It will seat about 400 persons.

About 34 government laborers were employed five months in constructing the building.

W. C. Edlmon is superintendent of the school. H. W. Richards was supervisor of the construction for the federal agency.

In connection with the speeches a musical program was presented.

A basketball tournament will start at the Spring Lake gymnasium tonight.

Airtemp Equipment Being Shown Here

Airtemp air condition equipment, a Chrysler product, for both summer and winter, handled exclusively on the South Plains by Sherrod Bros. Hardware company, is on demonstration today at the Sherrod store.

In charge of the showing and preview of the 1937 equipment are air conditioning specialists, executives and engineers of Fort Worth and Dallas. Arriving this morning for the demonstration were: R. C. Watson, Dallas executive, Marvin C. Nichols, executive of Texas Air Conditioning corporation at Fort Worth, Gilbert Shaw, engineer of Fort Worth, and A. L. Gossett of the Fort Worth corporation. Homer A. Hunter, also of the corporation at Fort Worth, was to arrive at noon today.

Air conditioning equipment already has been installed in the offices on the second floor and appliance sales and display room of the Sherrod firm.

STRIKERS

collie?"

They cheered mechanically. Their eyes kept shifting up the street, the direction the police cars would come from.

Suddenly, in the distance, the low whine of a police siren.

Like a line of soldiers hearing "eyes right," every head in the factory windows turned toward the approaching car. It stopped. Only four policemen got out. Beneath their leather jackets, the dreaded gas-cylinders bulged.

More police came, 200 or more. Everyone hunched closer in the street.

The police made no move. They exchanged jokes with the strikers. Occasionally, they cleared the street.

But miraculously the situation was saved.

Still singing, still joking, still yelling, frantic greeting to friends and families across the street, the strikers left the plant. Under arrest, they were taken to Los Angeles.

FDR TO SPEAK

—already approved by the house—is not a part of Mr. Roosevelt's broad program, but it has been endorsed by him.

Predicts Quick Action

Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, predicted the measure would be approved by nightfall.

Barring amendments, this would send it to the White House for the presidential signature that some congressmen have forecast would result in one or two retirements from the high bench.

Mr. Roosevelt has indorsed the Sumners bill, although it is not a part of his reorganization program. Judges in lower federal courts already have legal permission to retire on full pay, but Supreme court justices wishing to leave the bench have had to take a chance on congress granting them pensions.

Would Increase Age

The senate judiciary committee approved the measure after Senator Borah (R-Idaho) unsuccessfully sought to increase the retirement age to 75 years.

Senate debate on the bill temporarily overshadowed the more turbulent controversy over the president's proposal to enlarge the Supreme court by as many as six new members, provided older justices do not retire.

The proposal of Senator Borah to amend the constitution to permit state social and economic legislation drew a cold response from administration leaders.

Will Refund Fine If He Gets Money

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 26. (AP) —William Paul Richey, convicted in city court under an ordinance against fortune-telling, will have his $25 fine refunded by the detective who arrested him if his prediction comes true.

Detective Charles Crabtree said Richey told him he would have $1,000,000 in a year.

Crabtree announced he would refund the seer's fine when he gets the million.

little sleet northeast tonight and Saturday, with slightly lower temperatures. The more temperate weather also was predicted for the Panhandle, with a freezing rain in the southeast part of West Texas tonight and Saturday.

LOW READINGS ARE REPORTED IN AREA

Low temperatures, cloudy weather and mist, were reported from over the South Plains this morning as the mercury dropped to 17 degrees above zero. No snow had fallen up to noon, according to reports.

In Lubbock the state experiment sub-station reported a low of 19 degrees while the municipal airport reported a low of 17.5 during the night and 19 degrees at 6 a. m.

Santa Fe dispatchers said Canyon, Happy and Texico had temperatures of 16 above at 5 a. m., with light mist. Sweetwater had cloudy weather and a temperature of 28 degrees.

Fort Worth and Denver dispatchers said they had no reports of snow at Texline this morning.

Moisture is needed in many sections to complete listing of farm land. Wheat also is needing surface moisture to meet the sub-soil moisture.

Plainview Leader Will Resign Post

PLAINVIEW, Feb. 26.—(Special)—To obtain what he said was a needed rest, Charles E. Davis, superintendent of Plainview schools for the past six years, is resigning, said W. B. Davenport, chairman of the board of trustees.

Davis notified the board this week that he would not apply for re-election.

Davenport expressed the board's appreciation of the work of Davis during his service here and of the co-operation between his office and the school board.

Davis is a member of the First Christian church and of the Rotary club. He was chairman of Hale County chapter of the American Red Cross several years. He also is chairman of the district 1 football committee.

front, some state and local officials indicated they were prepared to deal sternly with strikers who refuse to evacuate plants.

Many Are Evicted

Police armed with machine guns, tear gas bombs and pistols evicted 341 strikers from the Douglas Aircraft plant at Santa Monica, Calif., largest of its kind in the world. The sit-downers were jailed on charges of illegal seizure of the plant. Union organizers recruited pickets to carry on the strike involving 5,600 employes.

Some 75 men went on a sit-down strike at the Northrop Corp., Douglas subsidiary employing 1,150 workers, and 40 men walked out of the Rocky Mountain Steel products plant in sympathy.

Strikers March Out

Sixty sit-down strikers at the H. Daroff & Sons clothing plant in Philadelphia marched out under police pressure.

Gov. Wilbur Cross of Connecticut declared he would not tolerate sit-down strikes in Connecticut. Gov. Harold Hoffman of New Jersey had made a similar statement previously.

Minneapolis residents protested interruption of electric service during a picket strike of electrical workers at the Northern States Power company plants.

Prospects Are Dim

Prospects for settling another Illinois strike, at the Illinois Watch Case company and its subsidiary the American Manufacturing company, both in Elgin, appeared dim.

New strikes broke out in Detroit plants of Swift & Co., the Detroit delivery service, the Bon Dee Golf Ball Co., and Mitchell & Smith, Inc., makers of auto parts.

Strikes at the Perry-Morse Seed Co., the Arvey Corp., and the Palace Model laundry, all in Detroit, were settled.

Another Lindbergh Case

Argentine newspapers referred to the kidnaping as "Argentina's Lindbergh case." One paper began a campaign for a "Lindbergh" law prescribing the death penalty for convicted abductors.

Five-year old Miguel, Eugenio's brother, gave the first clew to Chief of Detectives Fernandez Bazan. "An unknown man," the boy said, held Eugenio in his arms shortly before he disappeared from the 6,600-acre estate at dusk Wednesday.

Twenty-Five Cent Robbery Is Costly

QUITMAN, Texas, Feb. 26 (AP)—For 25 cents, L. B. Powell must spend five years in prison.

That was the sentence a district court jury assessed him today after his trial on a charge of robbing Milton Russell of Edgewood of that amount.

Many of the old departmental philatelic issues of the United States command high prices. Stamps of this country, as a whole, are considered to be most valuable by U. S. collectors.

The Plainsman Jets Some Mail

widow with four children was reported to me and it was found that the children had been eating from garbage cans in our alleys.

As to the case under discussion I took a competent, reputable local physician to review the case to confirm my contention. You spoke of telephoning a few men and women and the case would be handled. Wednesday afternoon I phoned no less than 30 Lubbock people or asked for help purposely for this case, and was patiently informed that due to other appeals, and other clubs and organization connections, they were unable to help. Absolutely, my dear Plainsman, I am just as firmly convinced as you are that there is possibly too much helpfulness in Lubbock. The indictment that is created by this case is not against the helpfulness of the people who can help. But it is an indictment against our willingness to unite and combine our efforts and adequately support a trained social worker, whether that name be Salvation Army or what.

This is our service, we have an organization that is already set up. We know the local conditions. In addition to three years of training, my social worker, as well as myself, has had ten years' experience in the field. We offer this service together with the background of seventy years' experience of the Salvation Army in more than 90 countries, in solving social problems.

It is high time that we of Lubbock get a united front. If you don't like the Salvation Army system of social service, get one you do like, and take whatever steps are necessary to prevent such suffering as exists in Lubbock. Surely this presents without a doubt the crying need of co-operative support for either the Salvation Army or some social service institution to do a social service program in Lubbock. But our hands are tied by the limit of the support we get. I can't buy groceries for families when I haven't the money to pay for them.

I still insist if this woman had been properly fed, she would have not died at least now. If you or anyone else doubt my contention in this case, I invite you to "come and see." This atrocity must continue to stand as a glaring indictment against the lack of organization of efforts in Lubbock. Surely with our mutual friendship and understanding of each other which I have long loved and appreciated, we can work together to bring a close spirit of co-operation.

To those interested in helping such cases, I urgently invite them to call me at any time. I am anxious and willing to help to the extent of my means.

Yours truly,
JOHN G. CHURCHILL,
Corps Commander Captain.

(DEAR JOHN: Thanks for your letter. Dr. A. T. Stewart, who made a number of calls upon the woman in question when she was sick informs me that she did not starve to death; that she was an asthmatic before pneumonia set in; that death came after she was thought to be in an improved condition, as it frequently does. I agree with you thoroughly—we do need a united front in our charity work in Lubbock, whether it be the Salvation Army, or not, being up to the wish of the citizenship.

Yours truly,
THE PLAINSMAN.)
