American Beauty Meets New Decade

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

For the scientists who worry about things out of this world, the 1960 girl is going to be down to earth. She will not be the moxy, tough type that characterized last year's beauty, says Mrs. Helen Rubinstein, who has been a professional hairdresser for more than 20 years. She'll be wholesome and natural, with a sweet, feminine, ladylike appearance. Her hair will be neat, coiffed to emphasize her delicate features and heart-shaped lips. Her hair may have a slightly Oriental flip, up on the back but smooth, puffed at the sides but sleek. Mrs. Rubinstein had hair stylist Michel interpret the hair in that manner, and he tied a bow-knot of hair at the crown.

American beauties have gone through many glamor phases. The newly-emancipated woman of the 20's showed defiance in her attitude as well as her looks with her "I'm so surprised by it all" expression. Her deeply pooling mouth and spiky curls were trademarks of her generation. The girl of the 30's wore her hair long, almost straight to the shoulders and her over-lined eyes had a heavy-lidded look that men liked. But in the 40's she evolved as an oomph girl in a sweater and made a good pin-up in Army barracks and war plant locker rooms. The 50's were characterized by the girl who enjoyed looking emaciated, gaunt, and sulky-mouthed. She liked her eyes to look sunken in a fashion that proclaimed, "The chic to look neurotic, and she tried to set this style for women over the country. Her carefully mussed hair with every straggly wisp deliberately set into place caught on like wildfire in a tide that ever stands. The hairstyle hairdressers couldn't stem.

The 1960 girl will learn to use foundation, rouge and powder to make them look like no makeup at all, predicts Mrs. Rubinstein. She'll learn to mix and blend eye shadow, match or contrast mascara and eye liner, and shade her natural brow lines subtly to emphasize her eyes all the while maintaining the lady like look, she says.

Resolve To Be Smarter This Year

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's never too early to make the same old New Year's resolutions. Even if you feel that you can't keep them, making the rules could help remind you that a few broken should be put on for the New Year.

This would be a good year to see romance in its true light, just because all your friends are becoming engaged, don't go orange blossoming around casual dates. In many girls begin to read pertinent meanings into the most insignificant remarks made by a young man, then become crushed when he dates another girl. It's a good idea not to get so involved in romantic situations that you think your exams and sleep. Wait until the boy proposes before you choose the wedding guests.

Food Fads.

If you're one of those girls who goes all out for the food fad of the year, try to decide whether you can take it. There's much profit in munching more pizza than you must work to exhaustion trying to whittle excess pounds off. The cheese pie is food eating. Ditch the hot fudge sundae, but they're loaded with calories. Count to 44 before you take the first bite.

Following the leader can be fun, but costly exercise, especially when the leader is a bit whacky. If you admire a crowd who seems a bit berserk, better make sure they aren't before you become one of the sheep. Characters often look glamorous in a s.e.a.g. types, who would do well to avoid them if they can. The path they follow isn't always strewn with roses and laughter. Sometimes it's a pebble covered-ditching road.

Bad Company.

If you've been a time waster with the wrong companions, keeping late hours, how is the time to get a grip on yourself? Age the friends worth it? Are the late hours leaving an indelible stamp on your good looks, personality, school work? Many a pretty girl has passed up her big chance with the right boy because she was too sleepy to see him when he passed by.

It's Fun To Make Your Ski Jacket

AP Newsfeatures

One of the dividends that come to the girl who knows how to sew is the ability to make her own ski jacket.

Any ski fan knows what a dent in the budget a smart ski jacket can make. And she also knows that styles have changed in the last few years, with new high colors the current vogue.

Now if new ski parks have been designed expressly for the home seamstress, in wool felt with knitted yoke and sleeves. It is equal to the ones on the slopes.

The bulky knitting is easy to do, since heavy yarn works up quickly. Local sewing center experts suggest that the knit sleeves, yoke and collar sections be top-stitched around armholes and neck by machine about a quarter inch from edge of the felt. Feelings on the wrong side of front and back of the bodice should be cut out.

Three rows of machine stitching around edges. The inner edges of the facing should be slip-stitched to the garment by hand.

An interesting high-style feature of the coat is the buttoned side closure.

Never crowd a refrigerator. Air should circulate.

CHURCH NOTES

First Presbyterian

"Just For Today" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. R. Charles Spivey at the First Presbyterian Church for the 11 a.m. service Sunday. At the 6:30 p.m. meditation service, Rev. Spivey will have as his topic, "The Verdict Is Yours."

The annual congregational dinner and meeting is set for Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. The meal will be served free of charge, after which the annual congregational budget will be discussed and voted upon. New elders and deacons will be elected, and a report of progress will be made. All members of the congregation are urged to turn in suggestions for the dinner before noon Tuesday, either to the church office or to Mrs. W. W. Greif at HI 3-4402.

On Tuesday a delegation from the church will attend a historic meeting at the First Presbyterian Church in Amarillo. The meeting has been called to organize a new Presbytery. To be known as the Plains Presbytery, it will consist of Presbyterian Churches from Snyder to Dalhart in the Panhandle.

Those from Snyder planning to attend the Amarillo meeting are the Rev. and Mrs. Spivey, Bill Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Covey, Sr. Mrs. Edith Robertson, Mrs. William Byers, Mrs. W. R. Everett, Mrs. Frank Butler and Mrs. William E. Greig.

St. John's Episcopal

Harland Birdwell, lay reader, will be in charge of the morning prayer service at 10:30 a.m. Sunday at St. John's Episcopal Church. The title of the sermon will be "Is Time The Master?" by the Rev. George W. R. MacCray, Executive Secretary of the Speakers Division of the National Council of Protestant Episcopal Churches.

Sunday School will follow the 10:30 a.m. service.

Colonial Hill Baptist

The Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor, will have as his subject, "Our Place In God's Purpose," at the 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. services of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church. His subject at the 7:30 p.m. service will be "This One Thing I Do." The Colonial Hill church will begin its January Bible Study series Monday night at 7 o'clock. Rev. Nelson will teach the book, "Studies In Timothy." The course will be conducted Monday through Friday night.

Following contributions of last Sunday, the Colonial Hill Lottie Moon Christmas Offering totalled $1,432.82. The goal is $1,625.

First Baptist

The Rev. Walter Mitchell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Clovis, N.M., will supply the pulpit Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church here, according to A. C. Alexander, chairman of the pulpit committee. The service will be broadcast over KSNV. Rev. Mitchell and his older son, Johnny, recently returned from the Southern Baptist Training Union Convention in Atlanta, Ga., where the son entered the Southern Baptist Secretariat contest. Results of the event will be released next week.

All members of the First Baptist Church are urged to be present Sunday to hear Rev. Mitchell. The entire Mitchell family including Mrs. Mitchell, Johnny, 15; Mary Lou, 12; and Timothy, 9, will be here for the service. Sunday evening, Dr. Andrew Baker will be moderator at a special service.

called church conference, as the church takes action on a recommendation from the pulpit committee to extend a call to Rev. Mitchell to become pastor of the church. Following the business conference, Dr. Baker will deliver the evening sermon.

The evening service begins with Training Union at 6:15 p.m., with the evening worship hour set for 7:30 p.m.

Morningside Baptist

The Rev. James R. Green will have as his subject, "Teachable Resolutions," at the morning services Sunday at the Morningside Baptist Church.

At the evening service, Rev. Green will speak on "The Power of Faith."

Union Baptist

The Union Baptist Church will observe "Soul-Winning Commitment Sunday" with the Rev. N. Tucker, pastor, speaking on "Cooperative Soul-Winning" at the 10:30 a.m. worship hour Sunday. Rev. Tucker's subject for the 7:30 p.m. service will be "The Christian's Watchword." Both ordinances of the church will be observed in the evening service. Baptismal service preceding the evening sermon will be at 6:30 p.m. Sunday school will start at 9:30 a.m. and Training Union at 6:30 p.m.

If it kills her, I shall become a gourmet cook, and serve up dicy meals in true Ecociffer style, even though my family prefers hamburgers. They should be exposed to the finer things of life.

I shall endeavor to make my hair look like the color pictures in the most shelter magazines, although boy keep the family from hearing the scene with scotch glasses, raincoats, snow suits, old newspapers and home work. I haven't quite figured out how to do this.

I shall attempt never to turn my back on the telephone. I shall spend most of my time on the telephone and Junior brings a live frog to the table. Even though both brought home reports—cards marked "university" and given through their father said, if they couldn't do any better than this, why pay all this private school tuition. Why not put them to work?

I shall do my best to remain calm, capable, sweet and agreeable at all times, even when the electricity goes off right at dinner time and I have to finish the beef stew on the back-yard barbecue grill. Even when the water pipes freeze and the washing machine goes on the blink, and I can't bring repair men to come within two weeks.

I shall never indulge in female histrionics, even though I do a full-time job at the office and then have to come home and get dinner, and do the dishes. Even though the children forget to make their own beds or hang up their clothes. Even though my husband converses volubly on the charm and talents of Sally Jones next door, who has no children and inherited income and nothing to do except keep herself beautiful.

I shall try to live up to that ideal of the modern woman always extolled in the women's magazines—the wonder girl who runs a brilliant career with one hand, a home

Texas In Underdog Role In Cotton Bowl

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
If you believe the odds-makers, the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla., Saturday will be the biggest game of the season. It is a seven-point favorite over the West in the Shrine Game, the Cotton Bowl and the Orange Bowl. The Orange Bowl is a blow-off game today.

Six of the nine postseason games can be seen on national television. A million people are expected to watch them in person. The crowds range from 100,000 at the Rose Bowl to 120,000 for the Tangerine Bowl. The Orange Bowl is the only one in which the Big Ten and Big Seven clash with Middle Tennessee State. The game is a 10:30 a.m. kickoff. The Orange Bowl is the only one in which the Big Ten and Big Seven clash with Middle Tennessee State. The game is a 10:30 a.m. kickoff.

New Mexico State Takes Upset Win

By JIM IRWIN

HAPPY NEW YEAR

... it is midnight, and the toll of the bells announce a brand New Year. It is time to begin again. God hands us 365 clean, new days and as we accept his proffer we must make valid resolutions to discharge all the responsibilities that automatically come with them. Our world is confused.
Seeds of destruction are planted everywhere. It is not a time for indecision. May we resolve, right now, to get a clearer view of destiny ... to understand more of the meaning and purpose of life. May we have more time for God, and somehow, may He make us realize, He is in front of all our tomorrows.
Happy New Year!
