Kennedy Labor Bill Up For Senate Vote

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Voting starts today on the politically disputed Kennedy labor regulation bill, with its critics conceding they would lose the first test.

The initial roll call comes on a proposal by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) to strike from the bill all of its sections dealing with the Taft-Hartley labor relations law.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), author of the measure, told newsmen he was confident of a safe margin to defeat his proposal. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), supporting Ervin, forecast it would be voted down by 20 or more votes.

One factor apparently insuring this result was a republican split. Ervin was expected to get only about half the GOP votes, plus the backing of most of his fellow Southern Democrats.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) explained he was opposing Ervin's amendment because it did not square with the Eisenhower administration's position.

The administration, he said, wants to handle labor legislation in a one-package bill, and favors inclusion of several Taft-Hartley amendments besides those already in the Kennedy bill.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, apparently was ready to lead the fight to write in new Taft-Hartley provisions.

The Arkansan said he would support the Ervin amendment, but that if it failed, he would then press for four Taft-Hartley amendments he has drafted. He said these are necessary to deal effectively with union abuses.

The two key ones would ban organizational picketing and secondary boycotts. These also are among the administration's recommendations.

Both Ervin and Goldwater said that if Taft-Hartley provisions were retained in the bill, no senator could estimate when the debate would end.

Already 125 amendments have been printed. Many of these are not likely to be called up, however. Ninety-one have been offered by Goldwater.

McClellan offered Monday amendments to ban political contributions by unions in state and local contests, and to force all unions to write what he calls a bill of rights into their constitutions for the benefit of members.

Cold Wave Brings Weather Variety

The overlapping of winter and spring brought chilling temperatures to the Snyder area again last night, while turbulent weather developed over South Texas.

The thermometer dropped to a low of 37 degrees in Snyder overnight, and cool weather is expected to prevail for the remainder of the day and tonight.

By The Associated Press

Texas' turbulent weather received blame for five deaths during the night, while hail swept into Gillespie County, riddling peach trees and breaking windows.

Four persons died in a traffic accident blamed on the weather near Hillsboro. Another man died at Grand Prairie, near Fort Worth and Dallas, when lightning struck him.

The storms passed through the state and peppered the Gulf Coast and Lower Rio Grande Valley Tuesday.

The president of the Gillespie County Fruit Growers Assn., Simon Berg, estimated loss of fruit around Fredericksburg at $50,000 to $75,000 from hail. He said peach trees throughout the county suffered damage.

The hail knocked out some windows and smashed house siding in Fredericksburg, Gillespie County seat. One section of U.S. 87 received between four and five inches of hail. High winds interrupted electric power.

Warning flags remained up over all North Central Texas lakes as wet, windy weather blanketed the state for the fourth straight day.

Light snow was forecast for the Panhandle, where a few flakes fell until after midnight Monday.

The 5 a.m. temperature reports from the Weather Bureau ranged from 33 degrees at Dalhart to 73 at Brownsville.

El Paso was the only point reporting clear skies.

Rain was forecast for all sections Tuesday and Wednesday.

The wet weather followed a dreary, damp Monday that saw hail batter peach orchards in the hill country of Southwest Texas, causing heavy damage around Fredericksburg.

Storms figured in at least five deaths. An auto wreck near Hillsboro in Central Texas left four dead and an engineer died in Grand Prairie, between Dallas and Fort Worth, when he was struck by lightning while securing equipment at an aircraft plant.

The Southeast Texas coast was blanketed by heavy fog Monday that kept ships anchored offshore. Small craft warnings went up again at daybreak Tuesday from Brownsville to Lake Charles, La.

A tornado was sighted between Del Rio and Eagle Pass along the Rio Grande, but there were no reports that the funnel touched ground.

A quarter inch of hail covered the ground north of Beaumont early in the day. Showers extended inland from the Gulf as far north as Lufkin.

Red Chinese Tell Plans To Hike Spending

TOKYO (AP)—Red China announced today it is increasing its military spending and foreign aid program this year. It also indicated the new peasant communes are not carrying the load expected of them.

The arms budget rises 16 per cent to 5,800,000,000 yuan, which the Chinese regard as the equivalent of 2 billion dollars. That doesn't put China in the Big Four class, but manpower is cheap and money buys more among the Red Chinese.

Six hundred million yuan, 218 per cent more than last year, is earmarked for aid to other countries. That's rated at about 260 million dollars.

These developments, perhaps both tied to the Tibetan rebellion, were disclosed by Finance Minister Li Hsein-nein before the National People's Congress in Peiping, Red China's Parliament.

The Tibet rebellion has forced Red China to send more supplies and reinforcements to Chinese garrisons on the Tibetan roof of the world. Peiping may hope through increased foreign aid to buy back prestige it lost through repressive measures against the Tibetan Dalai Lama's people.

Oklahoman Admits Bilking Tyler Bank

DALLAS (AP) — A Kingfisher, Okla., man strolled into Sheriff Bill Decker's office yesterday calmly admitting bilking $250 from a Tyler bank.

The man, 20, signed a statement in which he admitted the theft by false pretext. He was held for Tyler authorities.

While hitch - hiking through Tyler, last week, the man said he stopped at the People's National Bank and said he wanted to transfer $1,000 from his account in Kingfisher. He deposited a $1,000 draft and withdrew $150 cash.

After he arrived in Dallas, he wired Tyler for $100 more. Decker said he gave no reason for giving himself up.

M. K. Adams Dies; Autopsy Is Requested

M. K. (Peck) Adams, 29, field junior engineer for Schlumberger Well Surveying Corp., died suddenly at about 7:30 p. m. yesterday at his home at 2237 Sunset.

He died of natural causes, but immediate cause of his death was not known. The family had requested an autopsy. He had had mumps recently.

An employe of Schlumberger 11 years, he came to Snyder about eight months ago. He had been with Schlumberger at Houston, transferring for about a year to Johnson Testers, a subsidiary, for about a year and working in Abilene and Odessa just before coming to Snyder.

Born Dec. 21, 1928 at Pelican, La., he was a member of the First Baptist Church here, where he was a deacon, a Sunday school teacher, and a nursery worker.

Two funeral services are scheduled, the first at 5:30 p. m. today at the First Baptist Church here, with the Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor, officiating and Bell Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

The second service will be at 3 p. m. tomorrow at the First Baptist Church at Galena Park, with the Rev. Ed Stewart, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Memorial Gardens, five miles north of Baytown on the Garth Road, under direction of the Paul U. Lee Funeral Home of Baytown.

Pallbearers at the Snyder service will be Derald Lambert, Lawton Taylor, Bill Eiland, R. C. Patton, Donald Helm, and O. L. Ferrell. Honorary pallbearers will be Schlumberger employes and First Baptist deacons.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lee Adams, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius M. Adams of Pelican, La.; one daughter, Terry Nanette Adams, 8; one son, Rickey Peck Adams, 5; two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Roberston of Pelican, La., and Mrs. Frank Lusi of Providence, R. I.; and three brothers, L. M. Adams of Holiston, J. S. Adams of Mansfield, La., and W. A. Adams of Galena Park.

Washburn's Appeal Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has turned down an appeal of a 99-year prison sentence received by Harry L. Washburn upon conviction for the 1955 car - bomb slaying of Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver in San Angelo.

The court refused to upset a 2-1 Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ruling made last June 25 upholding the conviction in a Dallas County District Court.

The Washington appeal had been on grounds that Judge K. K. Woodley, a member of the Court of Criminal Appeals, was related to Mrs. Weaver. Washburn's attorneys contended Woodley's wife is a first cousin to the wife of a brother of the late Mrs. Weaver.

Disagree On Fiscal Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — A legislative fight between Gov. Price Daniel and Speaker Waggoner Carr erupted again yesterday.

The governor accused the speaker of maneuvering to bring defeat of the abandoned accounts bill. It was a key measure in Daniel's deficit-retiring program.

Carr also had critical words for Daniel. In a speech to the House he said he had sought to get the governor's aid in urging members to support whatever is the final product of the House on a tax bill. That, he said, was to expedite a tax bill to the Senate.

"The governor has remained silent to this time," Carr said, "I hereby renew my request."

Daniel told newsmen who asked for comment that he could not follow the speaker's suggestion without seeing what the tax bill finally turns out to be.

After the defeat of the dormant fund bill, 80 to 67, Daniel issued a sharply-worded statement which is being interpreted by some as a threat to make the dormant fund defeat a third-term issue. There has been considerable talk that Daniel is thinking seriously about running again for governor, especially if some of his favorite revenue measures are not enacted by the Legislature. The bill that was defeated yesterday, said Daniel, will cost the taxpayers an additional 20 million dollars.

His friends on the floor said the same thing during debate yesterday, defending the governor against accusations that he knew very little about banking but plenty about politics. Opponents of the bill said the measure was confiscatory, violated contracts, and would shake the public's confidence in banks.

The bill was written to give the state power to seize funds left unclaimed for seven years in banks and other business institutions. That is in the law now, but machinery for claiming the abandoned money has never worked. Daniel has sharply criticized the use of such funds by private business when, he says, the law provides that the state shall use it until a legal owner is found.

An opponent to the measure, Rep. John Crosthwait of Dallas, said "It's nothing more than a big steal."

Rep. Byron Tunnell of Tyler told the House: "This bill is confiscatory. It takes property without due process of law."

"It's a big steal all right," said Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman, "but it will be made by the pipelines and the big banks if we don't pass this bill."

Daniel's statement said:

"House defeat today of the abandoned property bill simply means three things which should be of great interest to all of the people of Texas.

"1. The people will have to be taxed an additional $20,000,000 in order that banks, pipeline companies and others can continue to have free use of this money which belongs to the state under present laws.

"2. That a majority of the House has failed to follow the recommendations of the American Bar Assn. and the Council of State Governments in favor of this uniform state law.

"3. That this legislation is not dead forever. It will be before every Legislature until it is passed just like 36 other states have done.

"As far as I am concerned, the fight has just begun.

"I shall not stand idly by and see the people of Texas taxed 20 million dollars in order for the banks, pipeline and other companies to keep and use this money which they do not own and on which there has been no known owner for over seven years. The present escheat law of Texas says such money belongs to the state and I am going to fight to get it for the state."

Herter Goes Before Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christian A. Herter appears before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today with advance assurance of its overwhelming approval of his nomination as secretary of state.

So strong was his backing as the successor to cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles that Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) suggested waiving the committee's rules to permit a vote today, and Senate confirmation Thursday.

Herter is leaving within a few days for a meeting in Paris with Western Foreign Ministers April 29 to prepare for a May 11 meeting with the Soviets on the Berlin crisis.

The committee's rules require that it take no action until six days after the Senate receives a nomination. Herter's was sent to the Senate by President Eisenhower Monday.

Meanwhile, a Republican proposal to award a congressional gold medal to the ailing Dulles appeared to have been dropped for the time being after Democrats proposed giving a similar honor to Dean Acheson.

Accidents Tabulated

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The government statistical office said yesterday 366 persons were killed and 5,220 others were injured in 6,448 traffic accidents here last year.

Ballerina Is Under Arrest In Panama

By LUIS NOLI

PANAMA (AP)—The Panamanian government held British ballerina Margot Fonteyn under arrest today in connection with charges that her husband was plotting to overthrow President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr.

The 39-year-old ballet dancer, one of the world's greatest, was reported being held in the private office of the commandant of Panama city's main jail.

National Guard headquarters claimed that Miss Fonteyn's panamanian husband, Roberto Arias, had landed Sunday night on Panama's Pacific Coast with about 10 armed men.

The National Guard, which is Panama's army and police, said Arias and his band were fleeing. Other reports said he had transferred from the motor launch in which he and his wife had been cruising and had landed near his family's large cattle ranch 75 miles west of the capital.

There was no immediate officials recation from the British Embassy, which had been busy until late Monday with the visit of Prince Philip. Miss Fonteyn for more than a decade has been the top star of Britain's Royal Ballet and is a Dame of the British Empire, the female equivalent of knighthood.

In London, the Foreign Office said it had not received a report from the British ambassador in Panama. The British government is expected to intervene on Miss Fonteyn's behalf, however, for her British citizenship was not affected by her marriage to a Panamanian.

Dame Margot had been in Panama for several months with her husband, Panama's former ambassador to Britain. The couple had been cruising aboard the fishing launch Nola in the gulf of Panama since last Tuesday.

Over the weekend De la Guardia's government had ordered the arrest of her husband.

Arias, son of former President Harmodio Arias, was charged with trying to organize an attack on the National Guard garrison in Chorrera, about 20 miles outside the capital.

His wife sailed into Balboa undetected before dawn Monday aboard the Nola. Newsmen were unable to locate her, but it was known she spent some time at her father-in-law's home.

House Delays Debate On Tax Bill To Mark San Jacinto Day

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—The House temporarily delayed debate on the largest tax bill in Texas' history today to observe San Jacinto Day.

After an address by Rep. W. A. Stroman of San Angelo detailing the story of the Battle of San Jacinto, the House took up proposed changes in the coin machine tax. They are designed to raise $1,500,000 a year in new revenue.

Prospects were that it would take the House all today and perhaps tomorrow to finish work on the revenue measure (HB 727). The 300 million dollar money bill is actually being written from the floor.

The Senate sent two major college bills to Gov. Daniel yesterday.

Tax bill debate in the House and Senate action on six other important measures, including passage of a loan shark regulation plan, followed pleas from Daniel and House Speaker Waggoner Carr for speed to sidestep a special session.

Daniel suffered a sharp setback in the House which defeated his dormant fund deficit - erasing plan 80-67.

Daniel blamed Carr for maneuvering the dormant fund bill defeat. He said he had just started to fight for it.

"I shall not stand idly by and see the people of Texas taxed 20 million dollars in order for the banks, pipelines and other companies to keep and use this money which they do not own and on which there has been no known owner for over seven years," Daniel said. He did not reveal his plans for reviving the bill.

The Senate's most greatful day of the session, with just 19 working days to go before may 12 final adjournment, brought this major action.

Passed 17-12 and returned to the House a bill to make Arlington State College a four year instead of a two year school. The House must now act on Senate Amendments.

Approved 23-7 a proposed constitutional amendment to regulate loan sharks now fixes interest at 10 per cent. This loan shark regulation plan first passed by the House was amended. It went back to the House for consideration of Senate changes.

Passed and sent to the House a bill designed to give the public access for records and meetings of official boards.

Sent to the governor a bill making Tarleton State College at Stephenville a senior college in stead of a junior school.

Passed and sent to the House a measure making Midwestern University at Wichita Falls a state - supported four - year institution. It now has state support for the first two years.

Patient Confesses He Strangled Boy

DETROIT (AP)—Police said a man who escaped from a mental hospital admitted today he strangled Marvin Zdanowski, 5, whose body was found in a garage Monday night.

Lieut. Hiram Phipps of the Detroit homicide squad said the confession was obtained from George Ritola, 47, who resided intermittently with a sister residing in the same house with the boy's deaf mute parents.

Ritola was held for investigation of murder. Police said they picked him up for questioning because circumstances of the slaying indicated it was committed by some one who had a close knowledge of the house.

Police said Ritola, a former patient at a Galesburg, Ill., mental hospital, broke under a barrage of questions. Phipps said Ritola told them the boy was a government spy—"Spies have been chasing me all over town. There are thousands of them. I intend to get them all."

The officer said Ritola gave this account of the slaying:

He found the boy in a bathroom which was shared by the Zdanowski family with other persons living in the house. He grabbed the boy, put his hand over his mouth and decided to kill him.

He dragged the boy to the garage and choked him for five or 10 minutes. Then he put the limp body on a rafter. He planned to return later and find a better hiding place for the body.

In Galesburg, Ill., Dr. Thomas T. Tourlentes, superintendent of the Galesburg State Hospital, said Ritola escaped from the institution Sept. 29, 1958, and every possible effort had been made to apprehend him.

He said Ritola's mental state was dangerous and that the hospital had notified all relatives and police of communities where he might have taken refuge after his escape.

Ritola had been transferred from the Kankakee State Hospital Aug. 5, 1958.

Ritola had lived in Illinois only a month before he was committed for mental treatment on May 16, 1958.

Ike Puts Pressure On Krush

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower has put directly up to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a proposal to ban nuclear weapons tests which dangerously pollute the atmosphere.

British Prime Minister Macmillan made a similar suggestion in a separate letter to Khrushchev. London sources said today Macmillan told Khrushchev that Britain would favor a broader prohibition but in the alternative would support an agreement to ban low altitude tests.

A first-stage agreement to outlaw tests below 30 miles in the atmosphere, Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev, could ease the deadlock among negotiators now seeking a way to halt all weapons testing.

Details of the President's appeal to the Kremlin leader were made public as Eisenhower arranged to end a two-week vacation at the Augusta National Golf Club and fly back to Washington. He scheduled his departure aboard the plane Columbine III for mid afternoon.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Khrushchev had not replied to the Eisenhower letter. It was made public Monday night only after a Soviet official had talked about it, apparently by accident, in Geneva where East-West talks have been blocked since October.

The letter was sent to Khrushchev on April 13—the same day U.S. negotiators outlined the new U.S. proposal in Geneva. Eisenhower said in effect that a partial agreement would be better than none, and "these negotiations must not be permitted completely to fail."

He said a simplified control system to detect any test explosions in the atmosphere could easily be developed from expert recommendations already at hand.

Test explosions in the atmosphere cause more radioactive fallout than those conducted underground or in outer space—two types which would not be banned now under the newest U.S. proposal.

But with agreement on the one phase he called it the most important phase — Eisenhower said negotiators could continue working toward a general ban.

In Washington, Sens. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) and Frank Church (D-Idaho) praised Eisenhower's action.

It means, Church told the Senate, that the newest proposal "is not a tactical maneuver calculated to give us some transient advantage at the conference table, but a serious proposition, earnestly made."

Gore said he hopes that if the U.S.S.R. should refuse, Eisenhower would nevertheless stop all U.S. testing in the atmosphere for perhaps three years and invite the Soviet Union to do likewise.

Eisenhower's letter disclosed that he had discussed the proposal with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Two Major School Bills Go To Daniel

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP) —Gov. Daniel received two major school bills today.

The Senate approved House-passed bills yesterday elevating Tarleton State College at Stephenville to four-year status and creating the third medical branch of the University of Texas system.

Favorable action also came on bills to make Arlington State College a four-year school and to refer to the state to take over Midwestern University at Wichita Falls as a state-supported four-year institution. Both were sent to the House. The Arlington bill was amended and the Midwestern University measure is a Senate proposal.

Another amendment giving the ... est rates, set up the Texas Trust Investment Board to handle the people's one billion dollars in the permanent school and teacher annuity ... retirement systems.

... a Texas Commission for state health, ... and welfare services.

Sen. Preston Smith had no opposition in passing a bill recommended by four statewide newspaper organizations and designed to provide for open meetings of official boards and open records.

However, the bill as rewritten by a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center, also states that "any such board may have closed meetings for the discussion of appointments or matters which if made public might adversely affect the public security or the financial interests of the state or its political subdivisions."

This language was not in the original Smith bill to guarantee ... and records. It was understood an amendment revising this language will be offered on the House ...

Fund Is Started For Jilted Woman

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Local law enforcement officials have started a fund to get Mrs. Alma Black, 52, back to the Gainesville, Tex., home which she left to marry a service club employe here.

The widow told Peoples Court Judge Fanny Murphy yesterday the Maryland man, 47, paid her way here, then refused to marry her when he found she weighs 270 pounds.

Mrs. Black, who said she was a saleswoman in a paint and wallpaper store in Gainesville, said she met the man through a Chicago-based lonely hearts club. She arrived here April 3 and has been in the care of the Salvation Army.

Wool Import Quotas Are Fixed By Ike

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower fixed 1959 import quotas for woolen and worsted fabrics today. They are more liberal for certain luxury fabrics, but tighter generally.

Eisenhower announced the "breakpoint" of the tariff quota this year is 13½ million pounds of imports — the point at which the tariff increases.

In 1958 the breakpoint was 14,200,000 pounds and in 1957 an even 14 million pounds.

Until the 1959 imports reach the breakpoint, the duty rates remain at 30 cents or 37½ cents a pound—depending on the kind of fabric — plus 20 per cent or 25 per cent of the value, again depending on the kind of fabric.

Imports in excess of the breakpoint — with certain exceptions — will be subject to the full tariff allowed by the Geneva wool fabric agreement — 45 per cent of the value.

Apart from the lowering on tightening of the breakpoint level, the president provided for a more liberal duty on certain high priced, high quality fabrics.

He established an over-quota rate of 30 per cent on the value for a maximum of 350,000 pounds of those fabrics.

The principal export countries are the United Kingdom, France, Italy and Japan.

The new and more liberal provision for luxury fabrics is similar to the President's 1958 provision of an over-quota rate of 30 per cent for certain handwoven and "religious" fabrics used for garments for nuns and others.

Churchill Announces As Candidate Again

WOODFORD, England (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill Monday night put himself forward as a candidate for the House of Commons where he first won a seat 59 years ago.

The 84-year-old statesman told cheering Conservatives in his Woodford constituency that "as your member of Parliament I shall do my best to serve you as long as my breath holds out."

The wartime leader voiced hope Germany will be reunified and that it will not fall under Soviet domination. The West, he said, cannot abandon West Germany, its ally in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Alaska Governor Takes Over Duties

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — William A. Egan, rushed to a hospital hours after being sworn in as Alaska's first elected governor, Jan. 3, took over the full duties of his office Monday.

The 44-year-old Democrat, far below his normal weight but optimistic, returned to Juneau a week ago. He had been given only a 50-50 chance for survival after being flown to Seattle for an emergency abdominal operation.

Egan expects to return to Seattle soon for a relatively minor gallstone operation.

31 Ships Join In Salute To Texas

SAN JACINTO MONUMENT, Tex. (AP)—Ships from 11 nations saluted Texas today as the state began its observance of the 123rd anniversary of the battle in which Texas won its freedom from Mexico.

Gov. Price Daniel and his party were saluted by 31 ships flying flags of the United States, the Netherlands, Liberia, Italy, France, Greece, Honduras, Sweden, Britain, Japan and Norway.

The governor received the salutes as he left Port Houston for a 25-mile boat trip down the Houston Ship Channel to the San Jacinto Battleground State Park site of the April 21, 1836, battle.

In honor of San Jacinto Day, the domestic and foreign merchant ships were dressed in gay bunting, with their national ensigns fluttering in a strong breeze that accompanied threatening weather.

Several hours later some 200 power boats, yachts and utility craft had begun gathering in the San Jacinto River that empties into the ship channel just above the battleground. Armed morong the vessels forming the reactivated Texas Navy passed in review as Daniel stood on the deck of the battleship Texas, now a permanent shrine at the battleground.

After the review, S. M. Robinson, a retired admiral who aided in bringing the Texas to the battleground, was presented a gold medal by the Texas Heritage Foundation. Paul Wakefield, president of the Foundation, made the presentation.

A Navy Mother's memorial service preceded a luncheon by the Sons and Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

Daniel was to speak this afternoon at formal ceremonies dedicating a new memorial entrance to the battleground.

Missing Family Arrives At Home

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—"I don't see why anyone got excited," says one of four members of a western Pennsylvania family which had been the subject of a 13-state police search.

The family arrived home Monday evening. They said they had been in the Des Moines area.

Will Perkins were his son, Chester, 54; Chester's wife Elizabeth, 48, and their son, Harry, 26.

The four left the home of Mrs. Anna Mae Armitage of Beloit, Ohio, Thursday. Mrs. Armitage is a daughter of Chester Perkins. They were believed on their way home.

When they did not appear Friday, relatives asked state police help in locating them.

Restricted Flying Areas Are Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency said today it will set up five restricted flying areas in Northwest Texas and southeast New Mexico for Air Force jet training.

The areas, effective May 7, will serve the Air Force bases of Reese at Lubbock and Webb at Big Spring, Tex.

They will extend from a ceiling altitude of 24,000 feet to a floor of 12,000 feet except for the southernmost area extending generally between Fort Stockton and San Angelo which will have a floor of 10,000 feet.

Civil planes and other air traffic en route from one airport to another may fly under or above these five reserved air spaces at any time without any restrictions whatever.

Civil planes may operate in the restricted areas whenever they are not in use by the military services. However, permission must be obtained beforehand from the FAA air route traffic control center at El Paso.

FAA said civil airways affected by the new restricted zones will be realigned.

The forest zone will extend from the Fort Stockton area to make decisions for Christ. Dr. Hinsley ... a region west of San Angelo, and ... northward toward Midland.

A large and almost square area will extend northward from the Big Spring region almost to Lubbock and eastward toward Abilene.

Just west of it will be an airlane zone extending from the Lubbock area toward Roswell, N.M. Its southern border will be just north of Hobbs, N.M.

Directly west of Big Spring will be the smallest of the five zones. Northernmost restricted ... will be a triangular type southeast of Clovis, N.M., and northwest of Lubbock.

The delegates were entertained by the Wayland College International Choir.

LADY SACHEM—Mrs. Virginia Klinekole has been elected president of the Mescalero Tribal Council.

Ireland Is Acacia Topic

"Ireland" was the subject of Mr. and Mrs. Mark McLaughlin on the program of the Acacia Study Club in its meeting last Wednesday afternoon at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

The subject of Ireland was chosen as one of a series of "Fine Arts of the World" studies by the club for this year.

McLaughlin began by giving a map study of Ireland, during which he gave highlights of the history of Ireland, as well as a brief discussion of the political situation there.

Following the map study McLaughlin showed many beautiful slides of the Emerald Isle, and he and Mrs. McLaughlin pointed out the most interesting facts about the pictures. As a background for the whole program, there were played records of traditional Irish ballads.

At the close of the program Mrs. Val Dennis presided over a business session. The club voted to present a check for $150 to the Scurry County Boy's Club, main project of the Acacia Club for the past four years. This year's contribution will go toward the building of a new shop program for the Boy's Club. Sixteen members answered roll call at the meeting, for which Mrs. Jewell Dawson was hostess and gave the "danger signals" of Mental Health as the current event.

Mrs. Gwen McLaughlin was admitted as a new member of the club.

Sometimes It Pays To Be Talked About

By VIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"People can make you popular by talking about you," says blonde, 16-year-old Tuesday Weld who says "the only time a Hollywood starlet should worry is when they say nothing. I'd rather have them say something."

She says she has been called:

"A child woman."

"The next Marilyn Monroe"!

"A fiery Brigette Bardot."

"Jayne Mansfield, rear view."

"Sixteen, going on 30."

"But these references do not distress me," insists the voluptuous starlet, who could give any glamor girl a run for her money.

Tuesday has been in three movies, her latest with Danny Kaye in "The Five Pennies." She was born on Thrusday, two days late, which accounts for her name, she says. Her hobby is "philosophy."

"I love to write philosophy stories — my thoughts, emotions, conceptions, sort of Freudian type excerpts. But I don't share my philosophy. Each must find his own. Our ideas change as we grow. They must, otherwise we would get static, and it's no fun to be static."

There is no danger of Tuesday becoming static, she assures with her infectious smile and merry laugh.

She has many beaus, but "I like the gentlemanly type," she says, "though they should be rugged. I don't like yes men. And I prefer a man with a wide scope of interests — horseback riding, electronics, history. I like to learn things from men."

That's how Tuesday became fond of pool, a game she loves.

"I don't see why more women do not play pool," she says. "They bowl, ski, fish and skin dive. Why do they frown at pool?"

Many young girls ask Tuesday's advice about Hollywood. Is it worth it? Should they try for it?

"I tell them to stay home," Tuesday says.

Why? Because it's not all glamor, fun, gay life, she says.

"It's a great strain, even giving an interview to the press," she laughs.

If you still insist on trying your luck in movieland, she says, remember there is enormous competition, and that you'll need a good drama coach; and no matter what you've heard to the contrary: the wolves are still there.

"As a matter of fact, they're hanging from the trees," laughs Tuesday who says that though "some are fun, you must know how to handle them."

"Oh, yes," she adds. "And don't forget to take your mother with you."

be magnified by scientific and technological achievements. Dr Strange stated.

We should remember that man was created just a little below the angels, he declared.

He admonished teachers to emphasize the importance of man, who has been crowded into the background during the space age. Each individual should be challenged to remember who you are, he declared.

Service pins were presented by T. E. McCollum, superintendent of Snyder Schools.

Topping the awards were the 25-year pin to Mrs. Eva Nelson, high school librarian, and 20-year pins to M. E. Stanfield, assistant superintendent; Mrs. M. E. Stanfield, second grade teacher at West Elementary; Katherine Northcutt, sponsor of the high school annual; Mrs. Hattie Gathright, second grade teacher at West Elementary, and E. H. Craig, school maintenance department.

Receiving 10-year pins were W. H. Scarborough, school tax assessor-collector; Mrs. Margie Callaway, secretary to the superintendent; James M. Speedy, McMillett baseball coach; Mrs. Louise O'Rear, high school English teacher; Mrs. Eula Williams, school nurse; Earl Horton, mathematics teacher in the junior high school; Mrs. Louise Kincaid, sixth grade teacher at West Elementary; Mrs. Johnnye Bishop, first grade teacher at East Elementary; Mrs. Margret Clark, first grade teacher at East Elementary; Mrs. Frank Weaver, principal at East Elementary; Mrs. Hazel Buswell, fifth grade teacher at Snyder Elementary; Mrs. Faye Deffebach, fifth grade teacher at Central Elementary; Mrs. Loree Dotson, secretary at Central Elementary; Mrs. Irma McPherson, fifth grade teacher at Central Elementary; Alice Bardwell, fifth grade teacher at North Elementary; Mrs. Margaret Pilcher, third grade teacher at North Elementary.

Also, Silas Davenport, principal at Northeast Elementary; J. H. Huey, maintenance department; Mrs. Bennie Caldwell, West Elementary; Mrs. Ouida Nail, cafeteria manager at North Elementary; Mrs. Ruby Sellars, East Elementary cafeteria; Mrs. Pat Bowen, manager at West Elementary cafeteria, and Mrs. Annie Rhodes, Central Elementary cafeteria.

New officers of the Snyder Classroom Teachers Assn. were installed by J. C. Jackson. The new officers include Roger Gee, president; Ollie Peek, first vice president; Dora Stokes, second vice president; Charles Anderson, third vice president; Mrs. Barbara Bigham, secretary; Willie Bigham, treasurer.

Jiggs Falls, retiring president, presided at the banquet and Dr. Strain was introduced by the Rev. John Reaves, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Other retiring officers of the Snyder CTA are Mrs. Lillian Jones, first vice president; Mrs. Ruby Anderson, second vice president; Frank Miller, third vice president; Nancy McClellan, secretary; Jim Traugott, treasurer.

Entertainment was presented by the Melody Maids, a group of high school girls, under direction of Mrs. Landis Lee. Danny Redwine played organ selections during the banquet.

3 New Members Elected By AP

NEW YORK (AP) — Associated Press members elected three new members and re-elected three others to its 18-man board of directors Monday.

Tabulation of the balloting was completed early today.

The new directors are Millard Cope of the Marshall, Tex., News-Messenger; Franklin D. Schurz of the South Bend, Ind., Tribune and Sunday Tribune, and Hugh N. Boyd of the Daily Home News, the Sunday Times of New Brunswick, N.J.

Re-elected were Robert McLean of the Philadelphia, Pa., Evening and Sunday Bulletin; Kenneth MacDonald of the Des Moines, Iowa, Tribune and John W. Runyon of the Dallas, Tex., Times Herald.

Boyd, a director for cities of less than 50,000 population, received 5,053 votes to 4,292 votes for Robert B. Atwood of the Anchorage (Alaska) Times.

The other votes for directors were:

McLean, 8,479; MacDonald, 6,966; Cope, 6,619; Schurz, 5,976; Runyon, 4,940; Buell W. Hudson of the Woonsocket, R.I., Call and Evening Reporter, 494; Aliah H. Chapman, Jr., of the Savannah, Ga., Morning News and Evening Press, 4,461; Joseph Pulitzer, Jr., of the St. Louis, Mo., Post-Dispatch, 3,476; Frank S. Hoag, Jr., of the Pueblo, Colo., Chieftain, 3,418, and Robert Bunnelle, of the Asheville, N.C., Citizen and Asheville Citizen-Times, 2,182.

The members of the board are chosen for three-year terms. The terms of six expire each year.

Three directors whose terms had expired were ineligible for renomination under AP by-laws having served three terms: Paul Miller, of the Rochester, N.Y., Times-Union; Robert B. Choate, of the Boston, Mass., Herald and Boston Sunday Herald, and Harry F. Byrd, Jr., of the Winchester, Va., Evening Star. Byrd was a director for cities under 50,000 population.

The applications of 18 associate newspaper members were accepted at the meeting, making the papers regular members. They are:

The Paragould, Ark., Big Picture; the Oceanside, Calif., Blade-Tribune; the Cortez, Colo., Sentinel; the Winsted, Conn., Evening Citizen; the Augusta, Kan., Daily Gazette; the Mount Pleasant, Mich., Times-News; the St. Charles, Mo., Cosmos-Monitor; the Warrensburg, Mo., Star-Journal; the Beacon, N.Y., News; the Newburgh, N.Y., News; the Staten Island, N.Y., Advance; the Thomasville, N.C., Times; the Lima, Ohio, Citizen; the Lorain, Ohio, Journal; the Mansfield, Ohio, News-Journal; the Willoughby, Ohio, West Lake County News-Herald; the Texas City, Tex., Sun, and the Ennis, Tex., Daily News.

McCarthy's Case Checked

HOUSTON (AP)—Oilman Glenn McCarthy and Mayor Lewis Cutrer paid a visit to Police Chief Carl Shuptrine yesterday to talk over McCarthy's traffic record.

Everyone shook hands at the end.

Cutrer said the chat concerned charges filed against the oilman April 13 for running a red light, driving 50 miles an hour in a 30 m.p.h. zone and use of abusive language.

McCarthy had no comment.

Shuptrine and the mayor both said McCarthy had admitted he was exceeding the speed limit, ran the red light and "might" have become loud.

But the oilman was upset, the mayor said, because he was handcuffed and was not allowed to take his wife home before taken to the station to post bond.

"He wanted to inquire into the circumstances of his arrest," Cutrer said.

Forrest To Head Lumbermen's Assn.

FORT WORTH (AP)—Directors of the Lumbermen's Assn. of Texas called yesterday for a general state retail sales tax.

The association earlier elected S. S. Forrest Jr. of Lubbock president.

The convention ends tonight.

State Department Draws Criticism

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Senate criticized yesterday the U.S. State Department for not taking more positive action to determine the facts of the Soviet Union's warlike act last September when it shot down a U.S. Air Force transport plane.

Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo introduced the resolution. Lt. Ricardo Villarreal of Laredo and Lt. John Simpson of Austin were among the 17 Americans on the transport.

The resolution admonished the State Department for "failing to take a firmer stand."

Combat Secrecy, Publishers Told

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. today urged newspapers to persistently combat "an increasing tendency to gamble secrecy at all levels of government."

ANPA President D. Tennant Bryan of the Richmond, Va., Times-Dispatch and News Leader addressed the opening of the association's 72nd annual convention.

The convention opened with three days of closed sessions of general discussion of newspaper problems. The sessions were for members with newspaper circulations under 10,000, from 10,000 to 50,000 and over 50,000.

Bryan spoke to the group representing newspapers with circulations between 10,000 and 50,000, of which Byron C. Vedder, Champaign-Urbana, Ill., Courier, is chairman. He reminded them that newspapers in this group, according to a recent ANPA survey, represent 55 per cent of the association's 848 members. Obviously, he told his listeners, "you are indeed the backbone of the ANPA."

Besides society and government restrictions on advertising, he also cited spiraling production costs as one of the major problems facing newspapers today.

Philip S. Weld, of the Gloucester, Mass., Times, addressed the under-10,000 session, which makes up 17 per cent of the association membership. He is chairman of the committee in charge of that session.

He noted in his prepared talk that 1891, when the ANPA was holding its fifth annual meeting, was the year that Ottmar Mergenthaler really got the sales rolling on his new linotype machine.

"Who will say," he asked, "that the newspaper business may not be on the edge of new developments equal to the linotype? Maybe it's photo-composing."

Young Mother Asks Death As Own Try Fails

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A young mother charged with murdering her two daughters begged doctors Monday to let her die. Her own effort to put a bullet through her heart had failed.

Recovering from the suicide attempt at a Cincinnati hospital, Esther Detisch, 23, of Covington kept pleading with physicians: "Why don't you let me die with my children."

Police said Mrs. Detisch shot Cynthia, 6, and Kathy, 5, through the heart Sunday night as they slept.

Then she shot herself, officers said, but bungled. The bullet missed the heart and damaged her liver. Aides at St. Elizabeth Hospital said she was in fair condition.

Investigators said Mrs. Detisch apparently was despondent after losing her job as a clerk in the city assessor's office here.

The case, police said, stemmed from a dispute with officers over parking her car in a city employe lot.

Mrs. Detisch had been separated from her husband, George, of Brent, Ky., since 1956.

Police said they found Mrs. Detisch's body and burial instructions for her and the children.

They also found on the two girls' bed a book on anatomy opened to a picture with the heart area circled.

When the city of Dallas, Tex., did flood control on the Trinity River in 1932, about 7,200 acres of previously invaluable land was freed for development.

One Person Killed In Bus Accident

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A cross-country bus rolled out of control on a rain-slick stretch of highway Monday, killing one person and injuring 17, including the driver.

The victim was identified as Pauline Zarena, 72, Youngstown, Ohio.

Christine Russell, 36, of Phoenix, Ariz., underwent surgery to relieve a brain injury.

Mrs. Zarena's daughter, Mary Forister, 46, of Hubbard, Ohio, said, "I must have blacked out. When I woke up the bus was over on its side. Mother was under me, and two or three other people were on top of me."

Methodist Men Organize

A subdistrict Methodist Men's organization was formed last night in a meeting held at the Trinity Methodist Church here.

The new organization, which named itself the Canyon Area Methodist Men, elected Roy Meador, president of the Trinity group, as president of the newly-formed men's group.

Other officers are R. F. Ware of the Union Methodist Church, vice president; Wayland Mathis, Union Methodist, secretary-treasurer, and Jack Craig, First Methodist here, reporter.

A constitution and bylaws were adopted by the 27 men attending.

The new Canyon Area Methodist Men organization will be composed of men of the First Methodist and Trinity Methodist here and of Methodist Churches of Union, Ira, Dunn, Hermleigh, Camp Springs, Dermott and Fluvanna.

Meetings will be held quarterly. The next meeting will be at 7:30 at the First Methodist Church here.

Pie and coffee were served by the host church following last night's meeting.

Negotiators Working To End Strikes In Rubber Plants

CLEVELAND (AP) — While negotiators worked today to reach a new contract with Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., the City Firestone with 24,500 employes and Goodrich with 20,500 workers on strike, were meeting in Akron, Ohio.

Together, the workers add up to the biggest strike in CRW history and are spread over 21 cities in nine states.

In addition to the presence of the union and the rubber industry's Big Four, there was no progress reported in the bargaining sessions. Only one thing was clear. It may take the rest of the week to reach an agreement.

The Goodyear contract covering 24,500 employes in 13 plants was signed here Monday. Goodyear was the only one of the Big Four not to be struck.

Mrs. Zarena's daughter, Mary Forister, 46, of Hubbard, Ohio, said, "I must have blacked out. When I woke up the bus was over on its side. Mother was under me, and two or three other people were on top of me."

The Goodyear settlement now is subject to ratification, provides for a five-year agreement to April 30, 1964, on insurance and pensions, and a two-year master contract expiring April 15, 1961, and including the Supplemental Unemployment Benefits plan.

The new pension formula for employes still working provides for $4.40 a month for each year of service prior to Jan. 1, 1959, and $2.30 a month for service thereafter. Previously, payments were $1.80 a month with a 30-year limit on service. The 30-year limit has been lifted and the pension formula fixed at $2.25 month for each year of service for employes retired since 1949.

Why Electric Cooking is ACCURATE

An electric range cooks with accurately controlled and measured heat. Whether you're cooking on surface units or in the oven, you just set the controls for the heat you want and you get exactly the same even heat every time. There's no guesswork . . . no need for constant oven peeking and pot-watching.

Only an electric oven can be insulated all around, including the bottom, for economical operation and accurate heat control. Since electric heat needs no flow of air into and out of the oven while it is in operation; heat is retained inside the oven and the temperature remains constant throughout the cooking operation. This assures uniformly excellent results.

Electric cooking also is clean, fast, cool and economical. Select your new electric range now and enjoy all these benefits . . . at an average cost of only about 3c a meal for electricity.

Sam Houston Had No Use For Navy

SAN JACINTO MONUMENT, Tex. (AP) — Old Sam Houston probably would take a dim view of Gov. Daniel, tyro in today of the Texas Navy here where Texas won her independence from Mexico 123 years ago.

The hero of San Jacinto had a profound dislike for all navies, including the Republic of Texas Navy, writes Frank X Tolbert of the Dallas Morning News.

Old Sam didn't even believe in navy officers having commissions, says Tolbert.

He add that the decorative Mrs. Daniel as a descendent of Sam Houston and probably could have told her husband about Houston's dislike of the Navy.

Tolbert dug up the following account while writing a forthcoming book on the Battle of San Jacinto.

Houston believed that the 370-ton Texas Navy could best be employed by manning merchantmen. And one company of Rangers did prove the Republic of Texas as President's crew by capturing an enemy vessel.

They ambushed a landing party and dressed up in the sailors' uniforms. Using Texas colors and flag, they lowered the Mexican flag, boarded and took over.

Old Sam wouldn't issue Navy officers commissions.

Commodore Edwin W. Moore complained in 1842 that he'd been running the Texas navy for three years yet neither he nor any other officer had a commission. He called this a "condition unprecedented in the annals of history."

Commodore Moore often hesitated to bring the fleet into a Texas port for fear that President Houston would sell the warships.

Once Moore sailed the fleet against Houston's wishes. And the President proclaimed that all Texas Navy men were pirates.

Unlike Mrs. Daniel's illustrious and sailor-hating husband, the governor and ships with Texas Navy commissions. When the commissioned Texas ships are helped him review the fleet.

Latin Group Organized For Cotton Meet

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Representatives of seven Latin American cotton producing nations are trying to work out a common front of action for the meeting of the International Consultative Committee on Cotton opening in Washington May 14.

One point of a united program, the Mexican Agriculture Ministry announced last night, will be an invitation to other cotton producing countries to sign a world agreement to stabilize the cotton market.

The representatives meeting here are from Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, El Salvador, Peru, Nicaragua and Mexico. They are attending a meeting of the board of directors of the Inter-American Cotton Federation, recently created in a meeting in El Salvador.

Sessions began yesterday behind closed doors. The Mexican Agriculture Ministry issued a statement later on proceedings. Besides the common front at Washington, the statement said other things being discussed include an examination of the cotton policy of the United States as well as the world situation.

Diplomats said privately the U.S. cotton export policy came in for severe criticism, especially by El Salvador and Peru. They said that beginning Aug. 1, the U.S. will pay an export subsidy of 8 cents per pound.

The average age of United States federal officials is 52 years.

Godfrey Going To Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've had a helluva lot of luck in my time, probably more than any one person has a right to deserve, and maybe I'll be lucky again."

That was television star Arthur Godfrey's comment as he announced he will enter a New York hospital later this week for examination of a chest tumor.

It's probably just a benign tumor," Godfrey added. "I have at least three good omens. I feel good, my weight hasn't gone down, and my appetite's fine." He is 55.

Godfrey said he had X-rays taken last Thursday, after suffering from chest pains. He said the X-rays showed up the tumor.

He will complete his daytime radio and TV shows through Friday. No replacement for him was announced.

TB Association To Pick Officers

Twenty-five persons nominated to serve on the board of directors of the Scurry County Tuberculosis Association, which is now reorganizing here, will meet Thursday evening to elect officers.

The TB Associating which so far has no members, will actually have its first formal election at its next membership meeting following a Christmas seal drive.

The 25 being chosen for the board will draw for terms, with about a third of them to rotate off the board at the first annual meeting, a third to serve two years, and a third to serve three years.

Bill Newsom, temporary chairman of the association called the meeting after completion of the selection of nominees by a committee headed by Mrs. Verba Logan.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Scurry County Health Unit building.

A president and several other officers will be elected from the board, and the president will appoint a number of committees, including committees to draw up proposed constitution and by-laws for the organization.

Reorganization of the association began here last week in a public meeting when a group representing civic groups, various sections of the county, and other interested citizens gathered and decided to proceed with the organization.

The Chamber of Commerce health and sanitation committee had been studying the need for the association and had called last week's organizational meeting, as well as an earlier public meeting at which the need for an association was discussed.

The board nominees are M. L. Bromah, M. L. Andress, L. M. Dawson, Burl Belew, Roy Sallee, Frank Henry Cullum, Mrs. Mary Killam, Ethel Roberts, Mrs. David McIntosh, Mrs. H. A. Johnson, Jr., Newsom.

Ernest Sears, Mrs. Marionette Baze, J. Ray Martin, Bennie Pinnell, the Rev. Fred Perraez, Carlos Mijares, Mrs. Zelva Harris, Mrs. Raymond Williams, Mrs. Leon Sterling, Mrs. Buddy Trevey, Richard Cummings, Bill Lee, Ronald Neighbors, and Jack Martin.

Linda Christian Asks $200,000 In Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Linda Christian seeks $200,000 for her two children from the estate of her ex-husband, the late Actor Tyrone Power.

In addition to provisions for the children in his will, Power promised to set up a fund to support them under terms of the couple's 1955 divorce, Miss Christian claimed.

Power died of a heart attack last November at the age of 45. His will also provided for a third child, Tyrone William, born to his third wife, Deborah Anne Power.

Nixon Will Pile Up More Travel Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — If travel will do it, Vice President Richard M. Nixon is going to be one of the best-informed men available for a presidential nomination in 1960.

Nixon's forthcoming trip to Moscow in July will add about 10,000 miles to the 279,647 he already has logged since January 1953, when the 1960 race began.

Although Nixon's penchant for getting around in the world falls short of former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' 560,000 miles of total travel, Nixon has visited more countries — 54 to Dulles' 46. Nixon also has been in five U.S. possessions.

Nixon's first and longest overseas official tour came in his first year as vice president. That 70-day trip in 1953 took him through large areas of the Middle East and Asia.

The July trip to Moscow is open an American fair there will be Nixon's first venture behind the Iron Curtain. He has hit the edges during visits to Austria and Germany, and in various countries in Asia.

There is no doubt in administration circles that Nixon will get the red carpet treatment in Moscow. He can be expected to confer with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and lesser officials.

Based on the present highway toll, life insurance companies expect to pay out 120 million dollars this year as a result of motor vehicle fatalities.

Old Courthouse In Nacogdoches Tumbles

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) — A towering old courthouse collapsed Monday onto the modern structure replacing it, but a coffee break saved the lives of six persons. Damage was estimated at $150,000.

A wall of the old Nacogdoches County Courthouse, being razed, toppled onto the roof of the new courthouse. Tons of debris buried the office of the tax assessor-collector. C. D. Thomas. Thrifty after he and five employes left for coffee.

ARTHUR DYSON

Patrolman Transferred

Arthur Dyson, highway patrolman here for the Texas Department of Public Safety, is being transferred to the Houston Region of the department effective May 1.

Dyson, of 202 Thirty-fifth Street, came to Snyder 27 months ago from Stamford. He had previously served in Sweetwater. He has been a highway patrolman a number of years.

Succeeding Dyson here will be Will Cleveland, now a patrolman at Sweetwater.

Gordon Johnson, another highway patrolman here for several months, will remain in Snyder.

Pair Victims Of Homicide

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — A coroner has issued verdicts of homicide in the deaths of a mother and her 3-year-old son, whose bodies were found five miles apart in a creek and in a canal.

Dr. George H. Muscato said Monday night that Claudia Kosko, 33, died of a neck injury and her son, Gary, of a brain hemorrhage on April 11.

The woman's husband, Nick, a 35-year-old factory worker, said his wife and son left their home in nearby North Tonawanda in the family car Jan. 1 after a quarrel.

Kosko did not report their disappearance until March 23. He said he delayed notifying police because his wife had left home four times before, but each time had returned.

The coroner said examination of the bodies had shown no water in their lungs.

Sheriff James K. Murphy previously had said everything indicated the two were killed and hurled into the creek.

Argument Over TV Leads To Sentence

WEST PLAINS, Mo. (AP) — An argument over how loud a television set should play led to a 25-year prison term for Malcolm Holland, 50.

Holland, of Pomona, Mo., was sentenced Monday after pleading guilty in Circuit Court to second degree murder.

Officers said an argument over the TV sound volume developed at the home of Floyd T. Brownfield, 47, at Pomona Feb. 18 while Holland was visiting there.

Holland started to leave the house. At the door he picked up his rifle, turned and shot Brownfield in the head eight times.

Everything Rattles In Pickup Truck

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Fireman John W. Makemason was listening for a rattle as he drove Monday. Now everything rattles in his pickup truck.

While Makemason had his ear cocked for the rattle, the truck jumped a curb, knocked down a sign and smashed into a tree. Makemason had to get 20 stitches in his forehead.

Girl Bitten By Horse

OLATHE, Kan. (AP) — A 6-year-old girl is the first casualty of the Oregon Centennial wagon train.

Jo Ann Marshall, a spectator, was bitten on the right shoulder and thrown to the ground by one of the horses Monday. She was treated for a bruise, given a tetanus shot and taken home.

Jo Ann was among 1,000 persons who watched the seven wagons pass through Olathe.

The train camped near here Monday night and will make a short 10-mile move to Gardner today. At Gardner the Oregon Trail split off from the Santa Fe Trail and angled northwest.

Ahead lies most of the 2,000-mile journey to Independence, Mo., dramatizing the history of the old Oregon Trail. The train left Independence, Mo., Sunday.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THIS FINAL REMINDER to all boys in Scurry County between the ages of 9-12 years who would like to play Little League baseball this summer.

You must register for Little League tonight at one of two places, Central Elementary or the High School Gym. The American League registration headquarters is at Central, the National League at the HS gym.

The registration, of course, is only for the boys not already a member of a Little League team.

Only those registering will be permitted to attend tryout sessions scheduled within the next week.

And another thing the boys must keep in mind, too, is that to be eligible for Farm League a boy must take part in the tryouts. The Farm League will take in the boys who attend the tryouts but who are not chosen on a Little League team.

Mutt Herod, coordinator of Little Leagues here, said today that the boys who, for some reason or other, didn't get a Little League contract to be signed by their parents, come on out anyway tonight, as there are plenty of contracts available at the two registration places. The contracts were passed out at all grammar schools but some may have not gotten one while others may have lost theirs.

Herod said, however, that each boy must bring his birth certificate when he registers.

Girl Netters Face Predicament

The Snyder High School girls doubles team in tennis faces quite a predicament Saturday at Odessa.

Both girls, Helen Ivison and Joyce Skains, who teamed up to win the District 3-AAA doubles title, are also members of the Tigerette volleyball team, who too are 3-AAA champions.

Regional tournaments in both volleyball and tennis will be held in Odessa Saturday. Part of the predicament was solved when Misses Ivison and Skains drew a bye into the tennis finals.

The volleyball team will play Pecos at 9 a.m. Saturday in the first round of the regional tourney with the winner to take on Phillips in the finals Saturday at 2 p.m. Phillips drew a bye into the finals.

The girls doubles finals are slated for 2:30 p.m. so if the Tigerettes win over Pecos in volleyball Saturday morning, there'll definitely be a conflict.

If this happens, the girls probably will forfeit their tennis finals unless other arrangements can be made for playing the tennis match.

New Setup

To help clarify the changes in the schoolboy spring sports (track, tennis, golf and girls volleyball) here is a brief explanation:

Whereas in the past few years, Classes 4A and 3A have competed in the same class from the regional level on up in the spring sports, the two classes will compete only in their own classes this year in regional and state competition.

This, of course, is what we and many others have been harping on for a long spell and the TIL officials finally wised up and made the changes. It just wasn't fair for 3A schools to have to compete against 4A schools in the regional and state meets.

The change won't help the Tigers too much this year though since Adrews, the state champion last year when the two classes were combined, returns with almost the same team. And the Tigers will run into Andrews before the state meet. Andrews is in Region 1, the same as the Tigers. Both will be running in the Region meet at Odessa Saturday.

Competing in the Region 1 meet Saturday will be Districts 1-2 and 3 in both 3A and 4A. The 3A lineup consists of the following schools:

District 1 — Dumas, Hereford, Levelland, Littlefield, Phillips.

District 2 — Andrews, Brownfield, Ector, Odessa, Kermit, Monahans, Reeds.

District 3 — Snyder, Colorado City, Lamesa, Lake View and Sweetwater.

District champions in Region 1 were Phillips in District 1, Andrews in District 2 and Snyder in District 3.

Entries Pouring In

GALVESTON (AP) — Forty-five entries, some of them from New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana, have been received for the first annual Beachcomber Golf Tournament scheduled at Galveston May 1-2. The event is for men 40 years and over.

IN REGIONAL FINALS—Pictured is the Snyder girls doubles team who have already advanced to the finals in the Region I tennis tournament on top Saturday in Odessa. Helen Ivison, left, and Joyce Skains teamed up to win the District 3-AAA girls doubles crown and then drew a bye into the regional finals. Misses Ivison and Skains brought Snyder High School its first district championship in tennis in several years. (Lee Watson photograph)

Tigers Battle Wolves Today

The Tigers opened defense of their district baseball championship today when they were scheduled to go against the Colorado City Wolves at Colorado City.

Coach Speedy Moffett's Tigers have either won or shared the district title the past three years. The Bengals won the title outright the past two years and shared the crown with Abilene three years ago.

Tim Roberts was Moffett's mound choice for today's game. Roberts, senior southpaw, carried a 3-3 record into the game.

The Tigers are even with the board for the season with eight victories and eight defeats. Colorado City is 2-4 for the season.

The teams have played only one common foe, Big Spring. The Wolves dropped a pair of decisions to the Big Springers while the Tigers have split four games with the Steers, winning two and losing two.

In other games, Colorado City has split two-game series with Merkel and Robert Lee.

Ronnie Feaster was expected to take the mound for the Wolves today. Feaster stands 1-2 for the year with his victory coming at the expense of Merkel.

The Tigers were expected to take the field today with the usual line up consisting of Ronnie Wylie at catcher, Mike Moffett at first base, Kenny Drake at second base, Keith Moffett at third base, Jerry Fleming at shortstop, Spencer Dyer in left field, Johnny Drake in center field, Terry Lee in right field and Roberts on the mound.

After today's game, the Tigers will journey to Odessa tomorrow for a non-district tilt against the Odessa Broncs.

Winding up the week's activity the Tigers will host Lamesa Saturday.

Dodgers Climb To 2nd In National

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the first time since they blew out of Brooklyn, the Dodgers are sitting second in the National League.

They got there the way they used to do business, winning with the big pitcher and the big home run. Monday night as Charlie Neal's leadoff shot in the ninth made Don Drysdale's three-hit, 11 strikeout job good for a 2-1 victory at the Coliseum over the San Francisco Giants and Sad Sam Jones.

Drysdale, 22, called it his best game ever after collecting a 2-1 record and running up a string of 18 innings in which he has allowed but one run.

The Dodgers, who finished seventh last year, never were higher than third in their inaugural season at Los Angeles. Fact is, they haven't been as high as second since Aug. 31, 1957 — when they beat the Giants 7-5.

At the moment, the Dodgers are just percentage points (.133) behind Milwaukee's front-running Braves, who were idle. The Giants slipped to third, a half-game back.

Only two other games were scheduled in the majors Monday, and both were rained out. In the National, Pittsburgh had a 1-0 first inning lead over Philadelphia, before calling it quits. In the American League, New York's game at Boston didn't even get started.

Drysdale, who now leads the majors with 25 strikeouts and has won four straight from the Giants since Aug. 8, was touched for Willie Mays' first homer of the season with two out in the first. Then he put down 21 in order before Andre Rodgers singled with two out in the eighth.

The young and lanky right-hander's lone moment of worry came in the ninth. With two out, Jackie Brandt beat out a roller, and Mays, just missing another homer with a foul ball sliced to right, drew Drysdale's only base on balls. The Dodgers then put it away after Orlando Cepeda banged into a force out for his first hitless game of the season.

Sad Sam (1-2) lost his second in a row, giving up six hits, walking five and striking out two. The Dodgers got the tying run home in the second on a walk, sacrifice and singles by Norm Larker and Don Zimmer. Jones then blanked the Dodgers on three hits until Neal rapped his first 1959 home run, into the left-center field seats.

Braves' Haney 'Overloaded' With Pitchers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Where the pitchers are concerned, Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves is like the old woman who lived in a shoe with one exception. He's got a lot of them but he does know what to do.

So far, Haney has been able to conduct a successful campaign against his National League rivals without calling on two of the most able hurlers on his staff to go all the way.

"If I were with any other club, I'd probably be yowling my head off to get out there and pitch," said Joey Jay, the 24-year-old right-hander from Middletown, Conn. "But not on this club. We're champions and I'm perfectly content to stick around for a while and just wait for my chance. I know I'll get it, too."

Haney called Jay from the bullpen just long enough to do away with two hitters in last Saturday's surprise defeat at the hands of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Carleton Willey, a 28-year-old right hander from Cherryfield, Maine, hasn't seen any action at all during the regular season.

Haney says, however, that he has his reasons for letting them wait it out.

"With all the lousy weather we've been running into," Haney said, "makeup games and a rash of doubleheaders are apparently going to pile up on us. That's when they'll get their chance, maybe sooner."

Haney has called on his veterans — Bob Rush, Lew Burdette, Warren Spahn and Bob Buhl — to fill in as the four regular starters on his club.

Jack Burke's Sizzling 64 Wins Playoff

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Jack Burke Jr. moved over to his new Champions Golf Course today after scoring an amazing 64 to beat Julius Boros in the playoff for the $30,000 Houston golf classic title.

Burke's 30-34-64; one stroke short of the tournament record, gave him $4,300 and jumped him from 30th to 10th place among the year's leading money winners.

The 64 left Burke five strokes ahead of the 35-34-69 Boros found was good for only $3,000 in second money over the 7,133-yard par 72 Memorial Park course.

"It was one of the best rounds of my career," said Burke, the former Masters champion who received much of his early training at Memorial, a municipal course near a country club where his father was head pro.

Boros said Burke's round was one of the finest he ever had seen.

The two had finished the 72-hole tournament Sunday in a tie at 277.

Burke today joined Jimmy Demaret in formally dedicating and opening their new 18-hole Champions Course northwest of Houston. Burke, who does not approve of Las Vegas gambling, is passing up this week's tournament there but will compete next week in the Colonial National at Fort Worth.

While winning his second championship in his home town, Burke missed only one green and used 28 putts. He banged six birdies in the first eight holes.

Kaline Off To Best Start In Career

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Al Kaline is off to his best batting start in four seasons and he thinks he can keep up the good work.

It has been suggested by the Detroit Tiger front office that a good start by Kaline would assure a fast start by the club. The 24-year-old right fielder, who won the American League batting crown in 1955 before he reached his 20th birthday, has disproved that theory.

The Tigers have lost six of their first seven games but Kaline is hitting .467 on 14 hits in 30 trips. A notoriously slow starter, Kaline has hit well in the spring only once before, when he captured the crown with a .340 average in his second full year in the league.

The outfielder hit the ball hard in spring training but failed to hit a home run in the exhibition season. The first time he came to bat in the regular season, Kaline sent into the left field seats the first pitch thrown him by Chicago's Billy Pierce.

"That's what did it," Kaline said Monday during an off-day hitting drill. "The minute I hit that ball I felt I could get off to that good start everyone has been talking about."

Kaline's average droped to .314 the year after he won the title, then to .295 the following season. Last year he batted .313 but his home run and RBI mark were down again.

"Now I'm trying not to swing so hard," he said. "If I just hit the ball where it's pitched instead of trying to kill it, I'll get my shares of homers and drive in my share of runs.

"People try to be nice when a guy is in a slump, and you get all sorts of advice and suggestions. But I think I've been trying to take everyone's advice and consequently I've been a pretty mixed up guy at that plate sometimes."

TONIGHT FINAL NIGHT FOR LL REGISTRATION

Tonight is the final night of registration for the Snyder Little Leaguers.

Boys living west of the Lubbock and Big Spring Highways will register at the High School Gym while the boys living east of the two highways will register at Central Elementary. Registration time will be from 7 to 9 p.m.

The boys must bring their birth certificates when they register and the player contracts if they have them. Mutt Herod, coordinator of Little Leagues here, said the latter wasn't extremely necessary in that there will be some contracts available at the two registration headquarters tonight.

Herod reminds that to compete in either Little League or Farm League this year the boys must register by tonight. Only those boys ages 9-12 years of age in Scurry County who are not already a member of a Little League team are required to register.

Tryouts will begin next Saturday with the 12-year olds and April 27-May 2 for all others.

Graves Radiator City Keg Champs

Graves Radiator Shop won top team honors in the 3rd annual City Bowling Tournament concluded last weekend.

The Graves team won by five pins over second place Snyder Heating, 2,930 to 2,925. Gladson and Odstricil won third place money with 2,896.

W. R. Lehman won the singles event with 659 pins to 636 for second place Earl Chapman. John Anderson was third with 628. C. Tefertiller fourth with 623 and Travis Neff and Burl Loving tied for fifth with 616 each.

Ken Baker and Mitchel Jackson won the doubles even with 1,254, one pin more than second place Jim and John Anderson who totaled 1,253. Fulton and Tefertiller placed third in the doubles with 1,217 and Zetzman and Lehman trailed in fourth place with 1,197.

Tefertiller won the all events prize with 1,798 pins. John Pickering was second with 1,788. Earl Chapman third with 1,783. Bob Zetzman fourth with 1,781, and B. J. Brown fifth with 1,778.

Space Flight Forecasts Order Of Day

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Space flight forecasts are popping out all over Washington — everything from sending mice into orbit within a month to sending a man to the moon and back within eight years.

Project Nova, Project Score, Project Courier, Project Transit, Project Tiros, Project Midas — take your pick. They've all got some exciting idea to raise the imagination.

The interim space forecast came Monday from Roy W. Johnson, director of the Advanced Research Projects Agency in a speech to a Republican women's group. He also outlined hopefully most of the other projects due for later development.

Johnson said the Discoverer II satellite, launched April 13 and nearing the end of its orbit, has had a "truly fantastic success." He added: We now plan to launch Discoverer III with a biomedical space traveler."

Johnson didn't specify mice as the space travelers, but informed sources said one or more were slated for the orbital trip. Johnson said this Discoverer III shot would come within a month, but other sources weren't quite so explicit.

The mice would be America's first try to putting living animals into orbit. The Army on Dec. 13 last year sent a monkey up about 300 miles in the nose cone of a Jupiter missile. An orbit was not attempted. The cone, and the monkey, were lost in the Atlantic Ocean after the 1,500-mile flight.

The Soviets launched their dog, Laika, into an orbit on Nov. 3, 1957.

Johnson claimed two important firsts for Discoverer II. It was the first time a satellite had been positioned in flight by means of jets of compressed air, so that it faced a certain way, he said, and it was the first time a capsule was ejected from a satellite and sent back to earth.

The capsule is said to have come down near Spitzbergen, north of Norway. A search is under way for it.

Of Discoverer II, Johnson said biomedical data we will acquire will be very useful to the man-in-space program, Project Mercury." Seven men already have been selected to train to be sent into orbit and come back safely.

The man-to-the-moon prediction came from an official of another agency, Abraham Hyatt, told the House Space Committee Monday the United States will have this capability in six to eight years.

He said a new rocket engine — capable of 1½ million pounds of thrust — is being developed. This tremendous engine could send a 150,000-pound satellite into orbit at an altitude of 300 miles, a 43,000-pound payload in orbit around the moon, or a 4,300-pound payload to a landing on Mars, he said.

Hyatt said this new engine would be the basic power for Project Nova, which is to enable a man to "travel to the moon, make a soft landing and return safely to earth." Such a trip would involve a 20,000-pound payload.

Johnson also outlined these coming satellite ventures:

Project Courier — a program which will eventually lead to the stationing of a network of instantaneously communicating satellites in 24-hour orbits 22,300 miles above the earth, complemented by communications satellites in lower polar orbits to provide a global system. It may be completed by 1963. It is an outgrowth of Project Score which radioed back President Eisenhower's Christmas message from a satellite last December.

Project Transit — A navigation system in which aircraft can use satellites to determine their position with great accuracy. Target date, 1961.

Project Tiros — Television cameras, far more refined than present ones, will be used to radio weather data back from satellites. "Three cameras, strategically positioned in the satellites, will feed pictures into separate magnetic tape recorders for playback when the satellite is interrogated. A thousand pictures will be produced every 24 hours, each picture carrying its detail in 500 television lines per millimeter." No time estimate for this project.

Project Midas—An early warning missile detection system using satellites. "Through this project we will develop greater insurance against surprise attack in ways impossible under our present early warning arrangement." No estimated date given.

DALAI LAMA REACHES SHILIGURI — The Dalai Lama, fugitive Tibetan God-king, waves a bouquet presented him on his arrival in Shiliguri, India. He is enroute to Mussoorie, his home-in-exile in northern India, where he is expected to meet his Indian host, Prime Minister Nuhru in the near future. Others in the photo are not identified. Vacation Ordered After 26 Years

SEAL BEACH, Calif. (AP)—It took an order from the City Council to make him do it, but after 26 years Lee Howard finally is going to take a vacation.

And what a vacation—16 months with pay.

How is he going to spend it—seeing the world, hunting, fishing? Not a chance. He'll be right here.

Howard has been police chief in this seaside resort a few miles down the coast from Los Angeles since 1932. He has been on the job or on call 24 hours of every day, without even time off for sickness.

At first it was a small force and Howard figured his men had priority on any off-time available. Then the town began to grow, and so did his duties.

Because of a lack of city funds, the police chief found himself issuing business licenses, running the life guards and overseeing the parking lots that accommodate the summer swell of tourists.

But, busy as he was, that was not what kept Chief Howard chained to his town.

It came out last week when the City Council voted the 64-year-old chief a vacation with pay beginning May 1 and running until his retirement in the fall of 1960.

"I don't think I'll be leaving town," said Chief Howard. "I've still got my boy to take care of."

Howard's son Edward has been paralyzed and bedridden since he was injured in a high school football game a quarter of a century ago.

That's the big reason Lee and his wife Montie are staying on in seal beach. But there's another.

"Peace of mind and comfort are hard to come by," says Howard. "This town has given me both."

Animals Flee Truck Wreck

ROVIGO, Italy (AP) — Several seals loped up a stairway of an apartment here and dived happily into a tank where a woman was washing clothes.

The woman fainted.

A giraffe was lassoed near a church in the nearby village of Borsea. Another giraffe and two zebras were cornered at neighboring Orignano.

The animals all broke for freedom when a circus truck overturned. All were recaptured except the guan bird and an Indian goat. They were killed by motorists who didn't see them in time.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair!

HOUSTON, Texas — For years, they said it couldn't be done. But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try this new treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

Actually, there are 18 scalp disorders that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald, and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. If you still have hair or fuzz at least a quarter inch long on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the hair you lose in one morning's combing, together with information to help them analyze your problem. This information should include how long your hair has been thinning, do you have dandruff, is it dry or oily? whether your scalp erupts in pimples or other irritations, does your forehead become oily or greasy? does your scalp itch and how often? and any other information you feel might be helpful. All letters will be answered promply. Send the hair sample, the above information, and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Box 6001, Houston 6, Texas.

Airman Faces Dope Charge

TOKYO (AP) — An American airman was accused today of trying to smuggle a million dollars worth of heroin and opium from Hong Kong to Japan for a Chinese dope ring.

The U.S. Air Force said Airman 1.C. Marshall Ray Wilmot, 25, of Laverne, Okla., had admitted acting for the ring. It said he had nearly five pounds of heroin and eight bars of opium alkaloids when arrested March 28 as he completed a flight from Hong Kong.

A Japanese official said one Chinese in Tokyo and two in Hong Kong had been arrested as members of the ring.

Wilmot is being held in a military jail. No charges have been filed against him.

Chilly Air Spreads Over Eastern U. S.

By The Associated Press

Chilly air spread across broad areas in the eastern half of the country today as wintry weather continued in parts of the Rockies.

Stormy weather erupted in southern and central sections during the night as cold air moving southward from Canada clashed with warm breezes.

Texas reported a variety of weather, mostly stormy, Monday night. Hail and heavy rain pelted central and southern areas. Snow fell in the upper Panhandle. Heavy fog kept 12 cargo ships off Galveston Bay. A tornado was sighted between Del Rio and Eagle Pass but was not believed to have touched ground.

The weather in Texas also showed contrasting temperatures. Monday's high was 99 at Laredo, deep in the south. Dalhart, in the upper Panhandle, was hit by snow for the second straight night. The mercury there registered 44.

Showers and thunderstorms hit wide areas along the Gulf Coast and in Florida during the evening but the wet weather this morning was confined mostly to Texas and the lower Mississippi Valley. Light showers sprinkled areas from Missouri eastward across the length of the Ohio Valley.

More light snow fell along the eastern slopes of the Rockies in Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico and in parts of the high plains region.

Boy Found Strangled

DETROIT (AP) — Five-year-old Marvin Zdanowski, who disappeared after attending kindergarten, was found strangled in a garage loft behind his home Monday night.

Marvin, only child of deaf mute parents, vanished in mid-day. Police and volunteers combed a West Side district for hours looking for him.

Marvin, son of Daniel Zdanowski, 38, factory worker, and his wife Marjorie, 27, disappeared after his kindergarten class.

His body, wedged in a corner behind a stack of lumber on planks under the garage ceiling, was found by two officers when they examined the garage as a place "where a boy might hide." A medical examiner said he had been dead for perhaps six hours.

Showgirl Of 20s Leaves Half Million

NEW YORK (AP)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, blonde showgirl of the 20s, left an estate with a gross value of $525,096. She died June 12, 1957.

Most of the estate was willed to her sixth husband, Andrew C. Meyer, of Woodbury, Conn., a retired New York broker. The inventory was released by a Surrogate's Court.

Automation Chief Topic For Oil Lifting Short Course

LUBBOCK. — Automation — one of the oil industry's "hottest" topics — will be one of the program highlights of the sixth annual West Texas Oil Lifting Short Course which opens at Texas Tech at 8 a. m. Thursday.

The two day course, a major event on many Western Oil men's calendars, will draw an estimated 300 persons from nine states representing over 150 companies from all elements of the industry.

The assembled specialists and experts will have a choice of 48 papers touching on ten specialized fields chiefly in the production engineering phases of the industry.

The conference is sponsored by the West Texas petroleum industry in cooperation with the petroleum engineering department at Tech.

The opening session kicks off at 9 a. m. and the principal address will be delivered by Dr. Dysart E. Holcomb, Research director of El Paso Natural Gas Co. He will speak at approximately 10:30 a. m. on "Knowledge Absorption — A Continuous Or Batch Process."

Two papers on automation, and a panel discussion on the same subject are expected to generate considerable general interest.

The papers, given by two widely known men on the subject, will be "Lease and Battery Automation, Fullerton Unit" by W. R. LaRue, Hobbs N.M. petroleum engineer with Monterey Oil Co., and "Lease Automation Custom Transfer Will Work For you" by Ralph A. Morgen, Oklahoma City, Okla. engineering supervisor of the oilfield division of Black Sivalls and Bryson, Inc.

Closing the course Friday afternoon will be panel discussion on automation centered around "The Selection of Meters for LACT Systems" by J. C. Spalding, moderator, of Sun Oil Co., A. B. Hall, Shell Pipe Line Co., S. S. Brown of Humble Oil and Refining Co., H. L. Johnson, Jr. of Black Sivalls and Bryson, Inc., and James H. Conine Jr., Basin Engineering Corp.

Each member will give a ten minute discussion on different types of available meters for lease automation installation. The talks will be followed by a question and answer period.

LaRue's paper will cover the two major automation projects in operation this in Andrews County. The first project installed provides complete automation, less LACT, for 57 wells. The second installation completed in 1958, provides automation and LACT for 51 wells. The projects and types of equipment will be covered in the paper.

Morgen's talk will review the basic requirements for LACT and the features of the three basic systems, large postice volume dump meters, positive displacement meters, and small self-contained positive volume dump meters. Examples of utilization of each system will be given along with illustrations of external details and operational functions.

OUR VIEW

An Economic Liability

All along there have been those who held to the theory that legalized gambling may be an economic liability to a community, aside from any dispute which might arise over ethics and morals.

Evidence supporting the theory now comes in a dispatch from Las Vegas, Nev., a city whose gambling casinos represent its chief claim to fame.

An organization known as "Gamblers Anonymous" has been formed there, with the avowed purpose of aiding the "compulsive gambler."

Some of the quotations attributed to admitted "compulsive gamblers" were interesting, such as:

"Most of us sense a deep feeling of rejection, of insecurity. I wanted to be a big shot; I couldn't find out how to do it, so I turned to gambling."

Such "compulsive gamblers" are likely to be economic liabilities to their respective communities, because gambling apparently comes first from their pocketbooks, taking top priority over the installments on furniture for the home, the grocer's bill, payments on the family automobile, etc.

According to the dispatch, one "compulsive gambler" confessed that he lost his car gambling, and that he stole to get money for the games.

Casino operators reportedly endorse "Gamblers Anonymous," which is no mystery.

"We don't want anyone to gamble any more than he can afford," said one. "We want our patrons to treat gambling as entertainment."

Like other businessmen, the operators want their money when it is due, and regardless of a "priority" of compulsive gambler can't pay up when his funds are exhausted—unless, of course, he steals or makes other unethical arrangements.

China's Congress Bears Watching

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The activities of Red China's rubber-stamp parliament, the National People's Congress, will bear careful watching. The current session may provide important clues to the immediate future of Red Chinese policy.

The parliament is the likely platform from which the Peiping regime will announce changes at its top level. The personalities involved in the changes — which the parliament will endorse unanimously — can be a guide to the outside world in plumbing the mysteries of Peiping policy and politics.

Will Red China now begin to throw her weight around in Africa and the Middle East as well as Asia? Will she apply brakes to the more unrealistic aspects of her economic program? Will she pursue a more fire-eating policy than ever with respect to the United States?

Such questions arise in the light of Mao Tze-tung's decision to give up his government post as chairman — equivalent to the presidency — of Communist China. At 65, Mao will retain his job as Communist party chairman, but it is likely his health has been failing and that he will retire more and more to the background.

A few days ago Peiping radio announced that in the latest full meeting of the Chinese Communist Central Committee, the candidacies for the leading state posts were confirmed. The implication was that a number of changes are to be announced — perhaps a fairly large-scale shifting of top personnel.

There is much talk that old Marshal Chu Teh will succeed to Mao's government post. There is also a possibility that the job will go to the present premier, suave Chou En-lai. If this should come about, it would indicate Red China is increasingly anxious to join the big power club and make her weight felt at top levels in world councils. Chou's wide diplomatic experience would fit in with such a goal.

There are other candidates for the government chairmanship, including veteran Communist theoretician Liu Shao-chi. Others whose careers should be watched include such men as Marshal Ho Lung, economist Chen Yun and Foreign Minister Chen Yi, all vice premiers now.

If Ho Lung should rise to new prominence in the government, one might well look for increased Chinese interest in such Middle East areas as Iraq and even in African areas. Such interest, indeed, might even clash with Moscow's.

Should Chen Yi become premier in place of Chou En-lai, it might indicate a tougher and more reckless approach to the conflict with the United States over Nationalist China and the offshore islands. Chen Yi is a notorious fire-eater with regard to "liberation" of Formosa.

But a step upward for Chen Yun could indicate a milder policy and even a backing away from the super-ambitious goals of the economic program. It might hint at a tendency to avoid too risky adventuring in the international arena. This is a course the Soviets might welcome, since Peiping belligerence at the wrong time can have grave repercussions for the Kremlin. Chen Yun is regarded as strongly pro-Moscow.

If matters little who becomes chairman of government in Peiping. The Communist party will still run everything. But the choice of personalities to fill top government positions can be important as a fairly reliable barometer for judging how the political wind blows in Peiping.

American Business Invests In Italy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

ROME (AP) — American business is investing more money in Italy with an eye toward getting inside the Common Market and into the growing trade with the Middle East.

But even Italian officials will admit the investment volume is much less than first hoped.

The American businessman is increasingly cautious. Some American firms already here can offer some possible reason, based on their own problems.

Some Italian officials think that international tensions have been the chief but temporary roadblocks. They cite an apparent revival of confidence this year as a sign that investment by Americans is picking up and say that much talk of building plants here is under way.

There is even some hush-hush talk between American, Italian and French auto firms on joint production of a small car.

Still the Italian government is disappointed. It counted on getting the major share of American investment by firms moving into the Common Market area. This is the economic union of Italy, France, West Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, which in time will remove all trade barriers between themselves and present a united tariff wall—of as yet unspecified height—to the rest of the world.

American plants within the six-nation area presumably would enjoy all the benefits, while those outside would find increasing competition in trading in the area.

Italy cites as advantages cheaper labor costs, growing consumer markets here, and cheaper transportation costs to the increasingly important markets of the Middle East.

Belgium stresses lower taxes and other special inducements and the high skills of its workers.

Italian central banking officers think Americans were scared off for a time by France's troubles in Algeria and later by the Berlin crisis, both potential upsetters of Common Market high hopes.

But private bankers cite special Italian problems. One is the large amount of government-owned industry, dating back to Mussolini's days, often in competition with private industry. They also point to government interest in protecting local firms from competition with giant American companies.

The pharmaceutical industry is an example. The government doesn't want any but firms with new products not yet made here to come in, Italy, for instance, already makes all the penicillin it needs and Italy has about 1,200 small drug companies to protect.

Squibb, one of the American drug firms here, has been making its old and new products for several years, and is increasing its plant's size to make more—largely with an eye on the Middle East.

Pfizer International recently opened a plant at nearby Latina. An executive says Italian investment laws have been most helpful in getting started. But when it comes to importing bulk commodities for processing and packaging here, government officials are likely to listen first to complaints from the 1,200 Italian firms, and delay or bar the imports.

Pfizer, too, has its eye on the entire Mediterranean market. It has just set up headquarters here to tackle it. With its wholly owned Italian plant, a plant in Turkey in conjunction with local partners and an arrangement with a Spanish local company for packaging Pfizer products, it is battling hard against competitors, including German firms, for adjacent and Middle East markets.

Idea Is No Good Without Action

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "It isn't enough to have a good idea—you have to do something about it," said the man who changed the smell of shoe polish.

At 43, Irving J. Bottner is America's shoe polish king—and a one-man idea factory.

Bottner decided that the 70-million-dollar annual industry was static and addicted to old ways.

But how do you glamorize a thing like shoe polish?

"The way to make money in this country is to capitalize on people's natural laziness," said Bottner. "You look for a way to make tasks easier and pleasanter."

He made a survey and found that 75 per cent of American men—and nearly all women—polish their own shoes, but regard the chore as arduous, dirty and unpleasant.

Bottner came up with a "stand-up shine bar" for the home, and pushbutton cleaners that could be sprayed on shoes without staining socks or hose. But most women objected to the odor of shoe polish.

"Why should shoe polish have to smell like shoe polish?" Bottner asked himself. He decided it didn't have to. He put his chemists to work. Their answer: A revolutionary new kit that contains shoe cleaners in five different fragrances.

"Until now the average family has spent less than $2 a year for shoe cleaning preparations," said Bottner. "If we can raise that figure to $3 or $4, the industry will have its biggest boom in history."

As a child, Bottner's playpen was a wicker basket in the small Bronx hand laundry run by his parents. Life was hard. When he was 8, he went into the streets without a shoeshining outfit and earned $2 to $3 a week to help out his home.

He also went around the neighborhood knocking on doors, trying to drum up new business for the laundry.

"I learned early you can't sit and wait for opportunity to knock," he said. "If you're ever to find real opportunity, you have to go out and start knocking yourself."

He worked his way through college, took an $18 a week job as a warehouse clerk with a frozen food firm. It was a new field, crying for new ideas.

Bottner's ideas soon won him advancement. His genius for finance as well as promotion led to a better job with a paper bag manufacturer.

"I helped pioneer vacuum cleaners on wheels and thin-wall air conditioning units," he recalled.

Junior Editors Quiz on MYTHOLOGY

QUESTION: Who was Atlas?

ANSWER: Ancient people, unable to understand many of the wonders of the world, made up stories, or myths, to explain them. This is called mythology.

Atlas was the chief character in a story the ancient Greeks made up to explain why the sky didn't fall. The story they told was this: Atlas, a giant, rebelled against Zeus, the king of the gods. Zeus conquered him and for punishment made him hold the heavens on his shoulders. For many centuries, Atlas held up the heavens. Then one day, tired and weak, he saw the god Perseus fly by with the head of Medusa, which turned anyone who saw it into stone. In desperation, Atlas begged for a look at the head. When he saw it, he was turned into the Atlas mountains. The Greeks believed that these mountains, running along the north coast of Africa, held up the sky.

(FOR YOU TO DO: Atlas is usually portrayed holding the world on his shoulders. Ask your mother for a bar of soap and see if you can carve the figure in our picture.

Prosperity Missing From Mining Town

By CHARLES STAFFORD

GRAFTON, W.Va. (AP) — In 1959, the year of a reviving national prosperity, this is a depression town in a recession state.

West Virginia, heavily dependent on the depressed coal industry, is in trouble. An estimated 15 per cent of its 500,000 workers are unemployed.

Grafton, hardly dependent at all on the coal industry, teeters at the brink of ruin. Almost one of every four workers in the town and surrounding county is out of work.

Almost all of the town's economic props have slipped or snapped during the last 10 years. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has cut its local work force one-third. Three other industries — a glass plant, a pottery and a brick factory—have closed.

Oddly, the 7,365 townspeople found inspiration in the latest blow, closing of the glass plant. They have begun a cooperative fight to save the town.

The U.S. Senate is considering legislation that could help them and other depressed areas. Sponsored by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), it would make 385 million dollars available as loans to finance industrial plants.

Grafton people are scraping together every available dollar to finance their own search for industry.

Grafton argues it has much to offer'— plentiful water, excellent railroad facilities, a willingness to build industrial plants and good recreation opportunities.

The town straddles a bend of the Tygart Valley River in the Western foothills of the Alleghenies. In the 1840s the railroad, pushing westward, chose the river bend for a division headquarters, shops and marshaling yards.

In the years after the Civil War, Carr China Co. was founded and prospered. A brick factory opened at nearby Hammond Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. built a plant.

The government built a flood control dam that created a huge lake three miles south of town.

Cinders from the stacks of countless steam engines settled on Grafton, grinding into the soil and homes and filling the gutters. In the 1940's the B. & O. began replacing steam engines with diesel locomoatives. The cinders stopped falling, but that meant trouble for Grafton.

The diesels required only a fraction of the maintenance required by the old iron horses. By 1958, the railroad's local work force had shrunk from 1,158 to 747.

Some 250 persons lost their jobs when the pottery closed in 1952 because of the owner's illness. Hammond Brick, a small employer, closed in similar fashion.

Last Sept. 29, Continental Can Corp.—which had taken over Hazel-Atlas — closed the Grafton plant as an economy measure. This left 480 persons, one-third of the town's industrial workers at that time, without jobs.

For several years some Grafton businessmen had been trying to get new industry. By purchasing land and erecting a building, they attracted a shirt manufacturer who employs about 150. They also talked the state Legislature into establishing a state park on Tygart Lake, behind the dam. Last year the park, with its boating, swimming and fishing facilities, attracted 176,000 visitors.

The glass company's shutdown aroused the rest of the townspeople.

Last Dec. 13 three thousand women, representing every phase of community life, marched through the town to dramatize Grafton's determination to help itself.

Tygart Valley Development Assn. Inc., capitalized at $100,000, is selling stock at $100 a share. The money will be used solely for investments that will attract industry.

The Grafton Area Development Council, which will provide operating capital and planning and management services for the development association, has sold more than 1,300 annual memberships at $24 each. The council is looking now for a qualified director.

Council officers are looking for a tenant for the plant vacated by Continental Can, which turned the building over to the Tygart Valley Charitable Fund for only $1.

Air Medics Assn. Elects

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Dr. W. W. Sumner is the 1959-60 president of the Texas Air Medics Assn., an affiliate of the Texas Medical Assn.

Sumner was elected yesterday during the annual convention of the Texas Medical Assn. here.

Other officers included Dr. C. D. Henry, San Antonio, vice president; Dr. C. S. Miller, Waco, secretary.

The medical association was scheduled to elect officers today.

At yesterday's session, the 2,500 doctors, wives and guests heard Dr. Walter C. Alvarez of Chicago say physicians spend too little time with the patients.

Alvarez, 75, emeritus professor of medicine at the Mayo Foundation and author of a medical column for 84 newspapers, spoke of the art of helping a nervous person.

"In helping nervous persons, much depends on the physician's ability to make friends, and thereby to get all the story of strain, unhappiness and mental suffering," Alvarez said.

Daily Crude Flow Drops

TULSA (AP) — Daily average crude production dipped 12,795 barrels to 7,129,955 the week ended April 18, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma accounted for most of the net decline with a drop of 9,800 barrels.

The Journal estimated 1959 production at 777,127,065 barrels compared to 711,049,692 a year ago.

Other declines were in Colorado, down 1,000 barrels to 128,000.

Advances were reported for Louisiana, up 150 barrels to 965,850, and Arkansas, 75 to 80,525.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,772,100 barrels, and New Mexico, 294,600.

Famed Tenor, Ed Johnson, Dead At 80

GUELPH, Ont. (AP) — Edward Johnson, who overrode parental objections to a musical career and won world fame as a tenor and as general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, died Monday night.

The 80-year-old star of stage and management collapsed while walking to his seat for the opening performance of the Canadian National Ballet here in his home city. He died a half hour later of coronary thrombosis.

Johnson will be buried in this southern Ontario city where he started as a choir boy. Funeral arrangements awaited the arrival from London of his only daughter, Mrs. George Drew, wife of Canada's high commissioner to Britain.

A lyric tenor, Johnson won recognition from such greats as Caruso and John McCormack as one of the world's finest. His career as an opera singer ran for 23 years and on three continents.

He became general manager of the Metropolitan two months after his retirement from the stage in 1935, holding the post until his retirement in 1950. He kept the venerable house going through depression and war. His championship of American artists and of the weekly broadcast performances, and his revival of the company's tours of the United States and Canada helped make the Met a national institution.

From 1946 until last year he was chairman of the board of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto.

Ike Described As 'Tired' By Demo Hopeful

KENNEWICK, Wash. (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota's Democratic presidential hopeful, described President Eisenhower Monday night as a "tired old man who admonishes us about the powers of inflation."

Americans are "tired of standing at dead center," he said in a speech before some 600 enthusiastic Democrats here as part of his whirlwind swing through the West to "let the people get a good look at me."

The people want a sense of direction, the 47-year-old senator said, because they feel they are "spinning their wheels."

Humphrey was introduced by Washington's Gov. Albert D. Rosellini. He was the first Democratic aspirant to visit Washington. Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri is due in Seattle May 1 and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts June 20.

Humphrey praised Symington and Kennedy as two outstanding, sincere and competent senators and Democrats worthy of carrying their party's standard.

After a breakfast meeting with the Washington State Dollars for Democrats Committee today, Humphrey was scheduled to fly to Portland for a two-day tour of Oregon. He will visit California and Utah later in the week.

Starkweather Set To Plead For Life

LINCOLN (AP)—Charles Starkweather, 20, confessed slayer of 11 persons by gun, knife and club, was to ask two state officials today to spare his life.

Starkweather is under sentence to die in the electric chair for the slaying of a Bennet, Neb., school boy. His appeal to the State Pardon Board apparently is his last move to escape electrocution.

State Attorney General C. S. Beck and Secretary of State Frank Marsh were to hear his plea. Ordinarily, the governor would be present as the third board member but Gov. Ralph Brooks is in a hospital for a checkup.

New Violence In Mill Town

By NOEL YANCEY

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — State highway patrolmen were ordered into this cotton mill town again today after violence broke out anew at the Henderson Harriet plants.

Some 350 workers bedded down overnight inside the company's two plants when several hundred strikers gathered outside.

City officials had appealed to Gov. Luther Hodges for state police or National Guardsmen to help maintain order.

City policy armed with riot guns machine guns and tear gas patrolled the area during the night. They said occasional rifle shots were fired into windows of the two plants and at floodlights illuminating mill property.

The company said workers due off at 11 p.m. decided to remain inside because pickets had abused, threatened and cursed nonunion employes when they reported for work.

The strike had appeared ended Sunday when the Textile Workers Union voted to ratify a contract settlement. But union complaints on the status of returning strikes reversed the situation Monday.

Shortly before midnight officers reported a flaming object was thrown against a storage building at the South Henderson plant.

The two local committees of the Textile Workers Union voted to delay signing the contract "until the status of returning strikers is clarified." Union officials reported only 30 strikers were taken back as the night shift began operations and said they had expected many more than that to be rehired.

The strike is off but it is not settled," said Boyd Payton of Charlotte, regional director for the union.

Sheriff E. A. Cotreel said the pickets "were all mighty mad because they didn't get their jobs back."

For the several weeks some 150 highway patrolmen were assigned to the strike scene 22 were withdrawn over the weekend when a settlement was reached.

The strike began five months ago when the mills refused to continue an arbitration clause in the contract. This issue, job seniority rights for strikers and others, and union check off provisions deadlocked negotiations until last Friday, when Hodges mediated the dispute.

First Liquor Raid In 25 Years Staged

BARRINGTON, R. I. (AP)—Police staged Monday their first liquor raid since the town went dry 25 years ago.

They seized 410 gallons of wine and arrested Albert Piccerilli, 75, on a charge he was selling it at $1.50 a gallon.

Police Chief George W. Robbins said several high school teen-agers told him they gained admittance to Piccerilli's cellar by using the passwords "Elsie sent me," or just "Booze."

Barrington is the only dry community in Rhode Island.

Suspect Is Cleared In Robbery Try

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Young Daniel W. Dough Jr. no longer faced the prospect of a jail term for attempted bank robbery today because the real would-be robber turned out to have a heart.

James Edward Anderson, 20, an ex-Navy man who is almost a double for Dough, came to the FBI Monday and admitted it was he, not Dough, who tried to rob the Bank of Virginia here last Friday.

Anderson said his conscience had pestered him ever since Dough, 19, a newspaper copy boy, was arrested and charged with attempted robbery.

Police promptly exonerated Dough and held Anderson in jail in default of $2,000 bond.

"I'm glad the guy had a conscience," said Dough.

Dist. Atty. John M. Hollis said Dough and Anderson "looked amazingly similar" — almost like twins.

By rare coincidence, both had been to the Bank of Virginia the morning of the robbery attempt.

The would-be robber had handed Mrs. Eileen Thomas, a teller, a note demanding money. Mrs. Thomas, thinking it was a joke, laughed and the would-be robber fled.

Dough was picked up shortly afterward and identified by Mrs. Thomas.

Monday the teller said she was mistaken. She and two other bank employes identified Anderson.

Dough had been to Mrs. Thomas' window at the bank to cash his paycheck only 20 minutes before the attempted robbery.

The FBI said Anderson was discharged from the Navy six weeks ago. His home is in Niagara Falls, N.Y.

School's Influence Cited By Educator

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — School has more influence on children than the home or church in the opinion of Dr. Francis H. Horn, president of the University of Rhode Island.

"The influence of the family, beyond purely hereditary factors is decreasing and I see no prospect of reversing the trend," he told an educational group.

Dr. Horn said he considered a good nursery school more effective as an agent of education than a home.

Castro Wins New Friends

By BEN F. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was not long ago that a lot of people around Washington regarded Fidel Castro as "just another of those Latin American revolutionaries." They thought he ought to go out and get himself a shave, and stop those executions in Cuba.

Today the bearded young man has a lot of new friends here, some in surprising places, who think he is sincere and is trying his best to do a good job for Cuba. They hope he'll carry out his promise of good government in the little republic long ridden by graft and dirty politics.

There are still some skeptics here, too, but they seem in the minority now. It may be because, as Castro puts it, "I did not came (sic) for money, but for friends, and to clear things about our revolution."

As he left Washington for the remainder of his two-week tour, he could look a back on a good start.

He seemed to make friends all right. Boys and girls screamed with delight whenever they saw him.

Grown-ups, in high places and elsewhere, said they got a much more hopeful viewpoint of what has happened in Cuba, and higher hopes for its future under Castro.

Even at the State Department, where there was a great deal of reserve about the bearded man who came to Washington without an official invitation, one observer said, "The guy makes a good showing. He handled himself well."

Castro did nearly all of his talking here to newsmen. He addressed two gatherings of newsmen, gave innumerable interviews between speeches, and made one appearance on a television news panel show—Meet the Press.

Sometimes, he concedes, he does not say things as well as he would like. One of those times was when he said on the TV show that it might possibly be four years before elections could be held in Cuba.

It was the first time he had talked of elections so far in the future.

Talking with newsmen later, Castro himself introduced the topic of elections, and said he was "not happy—because I did not explain well." He bore down to explain that "I know it is hard to believe, but the people of Cuba do not want elections now." Cuban newsmen nodded their heads in vigorous support.

Fidel Castro appears to have established among a lot of people here the confidence that he is trying to do a good job.

But the confidence is not unconditional.

As one editor put it: "OK. Let's say we believe he's sincere. Now it's up to him, as his program moves along, to see if he carries out what he says he believes in."

Candidate's Mother Dies

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Mrs. Sol Mayer, San Angelo philanthropist and mother of a former Republican candidate for governor, died late last night at her home.

She was the mother of Edwin S. Mayer, Sonora rancher who ran for governor in 1958.

Funeral arrangements were pending today.

Mrs. Mayer was noted for her charities, particularly to Boys Ranch, which was founded with the aid of her late husband.

She also was a contributor to the Christian Science Church, and always was among the first to aid victims of floods and tornadoes.

The family wealth came from ranching.

Mrs. Mayer was born in Portland, Ore. Her husband died in 1957.

Deportation Asked Again For Heikkila

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Immigration Service again is ordering the deportation of William Heikkila, a one-armed draftsman it hustled off to Finland and then had to return.

Monroe Kroll, an Immigration Service hearing officer, ordered the deportation Monday, ruling that Heikkila is exportable as an alien who is a former member of the Communist party, who obtained a visa by fraud and is not in possession of a visa.

Heikkila, who has lived in this nation all but 2½ months of his 53 years, said he would appeal the ruling. He has been resisting deportation for 11 years.

The service picked up Heikkila as he left his San Francisco office a year ago and whisked him to his native Finland. The manner of his deportation raised a furore and a federal court judge ordered him returned. At that time he had lost all his court objections to deportation except a final formal appearance before a judge.

Lloyd McMurray, Heikkila's attorney, said the latest decision is a "hatchet job."

Heikkila admits he was a member of the Communist party in Minnesota from 1929 to 1939 but contends he never advocated the violent overthrow of the government and was merely a sympathizer Communist.

Cupid Shares Maid Of Mist

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Niagara Falls' Maid of the Mist, pretty Charlene Bohnet, gave up her title Sunday night for an early marriage.

Her move opened the way for her runner-up to succeed her. The city is happy for Charlene and delighted with the new Maid-to-be, Judith Lynne Hitchcock, 18, a sparkling little blonde.

Miss Bohnet had until October to reign, but the rules are strict: no married women for Maids.

Earlier she had indicated she would delay her marriage to Donald Learman, but over the weekend she announced her change of heart.

'Don't Care' Girl Cares For Someone

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A red-haired burlesque dancer billed as the "I Don't Care Girl" wrote a farewell note to the man she cares for—and then tried to kill herself aboard an airliner Monday.

The note indicated the man plans to marry somebody else.

Mitzi Dore, 32, also known professionally as the "Happy Go Lucky Girl," was found unconscious from an overdose of tranquilizer pills in an American Airliner restroom. She was reported in critical condition today in a hospital.

Policeman L. W. Lane said the note, written on back of a flight ticket, was addressed to Fred Raulin, Washington, D.C., a real estate consultant.

Raulin could not be reached in Washington for comment but his father, Fred Sr., said "He doesn't want anything to do with her. The less I hear about that girl the better—I know she doesn't belong in this family."

The father confirmed that his son is engaged to another woman but declined to identify her.

Lane said Miss Dore boarded the airliner Sunday night in Washington.

Miss Dore has appeared professionally in New York and Los Angeles. Her real name is Beatrice Themis Doerr, of Alexandria, Va.

Law Suit Settled For Only Six Cents

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (AP) — Bartender Charles Naimo sued a former employer because he didn't receive a promised Christmas bonus. Legal papers he filed in small claims court cost him $2.14.

The employer settled out of court Monday — for 6 cents.
