Rusk Pushes For Action On Cuban Aggression

HEADED FOR A NEW HOME—The large columns of the Chuck Wolfe home on Thirty-second Street have been the home for two swarms of bees, but Roland Bell, pictured, is removing the bees and transferring them to a new hive. Bell, who operates a flower shop, decided that bees and flowers went together, and became an amateur bee-keeper. Most of his bees, he said, have come from similar situations, where people wanted to get rid of bees. A funnel is placed over the normal outlet, and a new queen bee is installed in the new hive near the outlet. The bees, unable to return to their old hive, take up quarters in the new hive. A few of the bees which have moved to their new home are shown on the "trays" held by Bell.

Principals Are Assigned

The board of trustees of the Snyder schools met at noon today in a special meeting and gave their approval to a number of personnel changes within the school system.

Joel Griffin, who had been serving as principal of West Elementary School, was transferred to Stanfield School as principal there replacing Pat Falls, recently appointed by the board to be assistant superintendent of the system here.

Replacing Griffin at West next year will be Bob Womack who has been principal at North Elementary School.

Frank Miller, who has been the head of the industrial arts program of Snyder High School, was appointed as principal of North, replacing Womack there.

Miller, 37, has been a teacher for 14 years with 12 of those years spent in the Snyder school system. He holds a BS degree from Sul Ross College and a Master of Education degree from Texas A&M University.

Miller is presently serving as president of the Texas Industrial Arts Association.

The appointment of Ronald L. Foy, 30, of Ballinger to replace Miller was approved by the school board. Foy, who has been with the Ballinger school system for the past eight years, was highly recommended to take over the industrial arts program here. He has received state recognition as having one of the outstanding industrial arts programs, and his students have received several awards in past years.

Foy received his BS degree from North Texas State University in 1959, and his Master of Education degree there in 1963. He is an active member of the Christian Church; a Boy Scout and Explorer leader; and is active in other civic and youth work.

Other changes in the schools' faculty included the acceptance of the resignations of Mrs. Doris Harris, sixth grade teacher at Lincoln, and Jack Freeman, Distributive Education instructor at nigh school.

New personnel, other than Foy, include Mrs. Margaret Watkins, language arts at Lamar Junior High; Mrs. Janet Wesson, girls physical education at high school; and Wesley Hopp, music instructor at Stanfield Elementary. Mrs. Hazel Hanback, who had been a language arts teacher at Lamar, was re-assigned to the English department at high school.

In other business at the board meeting, a discussion was held on the orientation program, and plans for the coming year. An administrative staff meeting is set for tomorrow night.

Exiles Join In Demands

By ARY MOLEON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Urged on by a march of Cuban exiles, some of whom rioted briefly Tuesday, foreign ministers of Western Hemisphere nations considered today what steps to take against Cuban aggression.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, pushing the United States request for action, was among the day's scheduled speakers.

A clash of several hundred Cubans with hastily summoned police marred what had started out as a peaceful demonstration by more than 5,000 Cuban exiles who came here to urge action against the Castro regime.

More than 400 metropolitan and park policemen, some on horseback and motorcycles, helped quell the disturbance which broke out when some of the marchers insisted on leaving the parade route to head to the Pan American Union building where the foreign ministers are meeting.

Two Cubans and a park policeman received hospital treatment and about 45 other Cubans were treated for cuts, bruises, exhaustion and heat prostration.

Three men and one woman, arrested on disorderly conduct charges, were released after posting collateral.

In Miami, organizers of the march charged that "Castro people" infiltrated their ranks and were responsible for the trouble.

The parade had been organized to march from the Washington Monument to the Lincoln Memorial and back to support the cause of sanctions against Cuba. Some insisted on going on toward the meeting site.

Mounted policemen rode slowly into the crowd, forcing those in front back against other following. Many fell to the ground in the crush.

Aided by leaders of the march, police soon restored order and the crowds melted away.

Most of the demonstrators had appeared in a happy mood as they carried signs "Cuba si, Russia no," and "We save Cuba or we lose America." They had gathered here from Miami, New York, Baltimore and other East Coast cities as well as from Chicago.

New Spacecraft Test Successful

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A delta-winged spacecraft successfully rocketed over a scorching 12,000-mile-an-hour ballistic course today on a flight intended to test materials for maneuverable manned space vehicles.

The sleek black payload was propelled skyward by a two-stage Thor-Delta rocket which blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 10:39 a.m. (EST).

The craft darted to an altitude of about 40 miles and then screamed back through the atmosphere to a landing in the Atlantic Ocean after a 25-minute flight.

The Air Force reported an aircraft had spotted the vehicle in the water just 15 miles short of its intended target. Recovery forces moved toward the area.

The Air Force reported search aircraft spotted the vehicle floating in the water 62 miles short of its intended target — which was southeast of Antigua island 1,700 miles southeast of the launching pad.

Two Air Rescue Service divers parachuted into the four-foot waves to secure the craft for a recovery ship, which was expected to reach the scene about 5 p.m.

The launching was the third of six planned in the Air Force's Project Asset, which stands for aerothermodynamic elastic structural systems environmental tests.

So far the program has had only partial success. The first Asset vehicle survived a ballastic flight and radioed good data, but sank in the Atlantic when flotation gear failed. The second shot failed because of trouble with the second stage of the Thor-Delta booster.

Goal of the Asset series is to verify structural soundness of the spacecraft and to determine how well various protective mabuffeting and re-entry heat up to 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Asset craft are miniature versions of what future astronaut vehicles might look like. They weigh 1,100 pounds, are six feet tall and have a wing-span of five feet.

Three-Judge Panel Studies Rights Test

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A three-judge federal panel ponders a decision today in the first court tests of the recently enacted Civil Rights Act.

The tests involve a restaurant owner who contends the law is illegal and does not apply to him, and a motel owner who wants to bar the government from enforcing it.

Two separate suits are involved. They were heard by the same three-judge panel.

The suit against restaurant owner Lester Maddox was filed by three Negroes who were turned away from the restaurant.

Before Maddox turned the Negroes away July 3, he notified newspapers and television stations that something was about to happen.

Thus, the government was able to introduce film and sound tapes at the hearing. The film showed Maddox brandishing a pistol as other white persons stood by with ax handles.

Interstate commerce is the crux of the issue in the suit against Maddox.

The civil rights law applies to businesses serving or offering to serve interstate travelers and having received a substantial portion of their goods through interstate commerce.

Thirteen wholesale grocery and meat dealers testified at the Maddox hearing completed Monday. They said that between 50 and 92 per cent of their goods came from other states.

Maddox, who did not testify, said earlier that it is his policy not to serve Negroes and that his policy will continue, since he considers this to be his constitutional right.

Attorneys for Maddox contend the public accommodations section of the law is illegal and that the restaurant is, in any event, excluded. The court has been asked to enjoin Maddox against refusing service to Negroes.

The three-judge panel also has under consideration an $11-million suit against the U.S. government brought by the Heart of Atlanta Motel Corp., seeking an injunction against enforcement of the law.

Houston's Tax Department Probed

HOUSTON (AP)— An investigation is being conducted into some dealings in the city of Houston tax department.

So far it has turned up evidence of unexplained reductions in some tax assessments and the receiving of "gifts" by department employes, Mayor Louie Welch said Tuesday.

The Houston Post reported today that two employes, one an appraiser and the other a draftsman in the map division, resigned abruptly Tuesday.

FBI Probes For Red Ties In Race Riots

By RICHARD F. WHALEN

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI is probing possible Communist influence in the city's racial violence, which continued throughout the night in Brooklyn's Negro section and resulted in the critical wounding of two Negroes by police.

Acting Mayor Paul R. Screvane said the Harlem disorders had been incited in part by "fringe groups, including the Communist party."

He suggested that the FBI agents might investigate the source of money for some street rallies and for some of the "very inflammatory...anti-American...and seditious statements."

The FBI investigation began on orders from President Johnson.

The Daily News said well-financed professional agitators, representing the extreme right as well as the extreme left, were calling the tune in the violence. The News said:

"In an unholy alliance, one high source disclosed, both the Commies and extreme Southern right-wingers have been supporting the Black Muslims because they are the most violent muscle unit."

The newspaper said the Muslims "have bragged of receiving money from a Texas millionaire," but did not identify him.

Meanwhile, Harlem, where rioting started Saturday night following protest rallies over the fatal shooting of a Negro boy by an off-duty police officer, was relatively quiet Tuesday night.

In Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section, police fired at looters. Dozen of store windows were broken.

About two dozen persons were arrested.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner cut short an European vacation because of the violence.

Wagner said he would look into the report of Communist influence. He said he did not believe federal troops or the National Guard would be needed to preserve order.

Police reported a number of the burglaries in Harlem, the big Negro neighborhood in Manhattan. A few shots were fired by police to disperse unruly gatherings. But there were no large crowds, demonstrations or anything like the weekend rioting in which one man was killed and more than 100 injured.

In Brooklyn, the trouble started after a Black Nationalist street rally that drew about 500 Negroes. Firecrackers exploded in the crowd and many people scattered in panic.

More than 200 police moved in to quell the disturbance. They fired more than 150 shots in the air. Bottles were thrown. Store windows were broken. Subways were ordered to skip the Franklin and Nostrand street stops for a time.

The crowd broke up after an hour or two and police began getting reports of looting throughout the section.

About 24 Negroes were taken into custody.

A police sergeant said Sumner Avenue was 'all tornup," with many store widows broken.

Small crowds gathered at stores where burglar alarms rang in the night. They cursed police whenever patrolmen appeared.

At police headquarters in Manhattan about 250 white teenagers hurled rotten eggs at 16 members of the Congress of Racial Equality, who were picketing Tuesday night against what they called police brutality.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm, who was talking to reporters when the barrage started, ran to escape it, but was hit on the leg.

The teen-agers, who live near the headquarters, shouted "Go back to Harlem" and "Communists" at the pickets.

Ruby Says Shot Fired On Impulse

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby told FBI polygraph operators that he had no intention of killing accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald until moments before he fired, the Dallas Times Herald reported today in a copyright story.

The story was from the Times Herald's Washington bureau and did not state how the paper obtained a transcript of the questions and answers.

The test were made last Saturday in the Dallas County jail, where Ruby has been held since shortly after the slaying of the man accused of assassintiang President John F. Kennedy.

Ruby is under death sentence for killing Oswald Nov. 24, two days after Kennedy was shot.

Ruby told the polygraph (lie detector) operators that he did not help Oswald kill the President, that he was not a member of any organization advocating overthrow of the government.

He also said he killed Oswald to spare Mrs. Kennedy the ordeal of testifying at the Oswald murder trial.

The polygraph tests were given at Ruby's request. Also present was a member of the presidentially appointed Warren Commission which is investigating the assassination.

Former Ambassador Sentenced To Prison

NEW YORK (AP)—Salvador Pardo-Bolland, 61-year-old former ambassador to Bolivia, was sentenced to 18 years in prison today for conspiracy to smuggle $13.5 million worth of pure heroin into this country.

During his federal court trial the government had termed him "completely amoral . . . an archcriminal."

Pardo-Bolland also was fined $40,000 on the charge.

Two others also were given stiff sentences by Judge John M. Cannella.

Rene Bruchon, 48 - year - old Frenchman who is in this country illegally, received a 15-year prison term and a $40,000 fine. He had been deported from the United States in 1949.

Juan Carlo Arizti, 61, formerly of the Uruguayan State Department, was given a 10-year sentence and a $40,000 fine.

South Vietnamese Drop Saboteurs

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese Air Force planes are dropping sabotage teams over Communist North Viet Nam and are training to extend their combat operations, the air force commander said today.

Air Commodore Nguyen Cao Ky told reporters at Bien Hoa airfield that Russian-made jets were attempting interception of the flights. He reported the North Vietnamese "have radar and very good antiaircraft."

Ky said he has persnally piloted a plane over North Viet Nam and that the raids continue.

"We keep very low and they can't hit us," he said.

The remarks were the first official statment that military operations are being conducted by the Saigon government directly against North Viet Nam.

The Communist Radio Hanoi repeatedly has broadcast announcements of trials of "spy commandos" captured in North Viet Nam. The latest trial reported was in April.

A U.S. advisor at the airport said: "Remember, to a lot of these young guys, North Viet Nam isn't another country. The border doesn't mean anything to them. It's more like northern Viet Nam."

A dapper, mustachioed officer in his mid-30s, Ky advocated immediate bombing of North Viet Nam.

Coincidentally with Ky's remarks, the flagship of the U.S. 7th Fleet, the cruiser, Oklahoma City, was on a goodwill visit to Saigon.

Ky told his airfield news conference he felt that Red China probably would move into the fight if North Viet Nam was bombed, but that South Viet Nam should go ahead anyway to combat Hanoi's work in support of the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Anti-Poverty Bill Rushed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said today he hopes to push President Johnson's $962.5-million anti-poverty bill through the Senate in the next two days.

Despite announced opposition of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., the GOP presidential nominee, and some Southern Democrats, Mansfield said he was confident of Senate approval.

"We'll probably meet until 7 or 8 o'clock tonight and come in early tomorrow," the Senate leader said. "We also must meet Saturdays from now on to keep up with legislation."

A companion bill is before the House Rules Committee.

'Critter' Is Timely Topic

CADDO, Tex. (AP) — Some folks in this tiny West Texas town say the critter is seven feet tall, four feet across and growls. They claim it shuffles along in the night, or rattles in the brush, or keeps out of sight just over the rise.

It looks, they say, like a hulking gorilla.

Stephens County sheriff Chase Booth says it doesn't exist.

"We've been getting phone calls from excited people the last few days," Booth says. "But you pin them down and find out they didn't exactly see this thing. I'm convinced it doesn't exist, and never has."

Nevertheless, the sheriff said, a few folks have taken rifles in hand and driven through brush country around Caddo looking for the critter.

The latest flurry of supposed sightings of the whats-it began last weekend.

Charley Gant, a rancher in the area, said he saw it Saturday and Sunday night, and unloaded a pistol at it without luck.

"If Charlie Gant says he saw it, you can count on it," a neighbor declared.

Another supposed incident with the critter involved a woman and her young son walking near a pond. The boy, and then the mother, saw the critter. It turned around, growled and began throwing rocks before fleeing.

"My boy turned white as a sheet," the mother said.

The president of the Abilene Zoological Society volunteered Tuesday to send an expedition into the area, but nothing has been firmed up.

The tale, true or not, gives folks something to talk about these long hot summer days. Like the Democrats and Republicans, you find two camps of thought, one observer said: "Them that believe and them that don't."

You can get arguments from either side on the critter's existence.

The story brings to mind another tale which drew comments from folks at Haskell, some 70 miles distant. They've got their own varmint—the Haskell rascal.

According to some believers at Haskell, the rascal is known to make 60 mile cycles in its meanderings.

Haskell folks say that puts it within the territory of the Caddo critter.

How do the two apparitions, animals or whatever compare?

"If the critter was an even four foot taller," says Haskell County Sheriff Garrett, "it just could be our varmint walking on his hind legs."

RAMPAGING SAIGON STUDENTS INVADE FRENCH EMBASSY — Shouting Saigon students clamber over iron fence as they invaded the grounds of the French Embassy, in Viet Nam. The students smashed windows and furniture in the embassy, ripped pictures from the walls and set fire to a car. The students invaded the embassy after a torchlight parade through downtown Saigon marking "The National Day of Shame" — the 10th anniversary of the Geneva agreements which resulted in the partition of Viet Nam. Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband's "baby" sister (some baby, she is 44!) is getting married again for the fourth time. She lost one husband at Pearl Harbor and two in the divorce court. She is planning a big church wedding. Her excuse is that Calvin (her fiance) has never been married before and HE deserves a lovely wedding. The truth of the matter is that all of hers were hurry-up affairs and SHE wants a lovely wedding. Besides, Calvin's people resent his marrying a divorcee and I hear they aren't even coming to the wedding. And you can just imagine how all our relatives feel about having to buy a FOURTH wedding present for the same person! How can I stop her. She doesn't listen to anybody.

SISTER-IN-LAW

DEAR SIS: If she doesn't listen to anybody, she is not about to listen to me. Stop wasting your energy. She is three times seven (doubled!) and doesn't want your advice or mine.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I'm crazy, but you are the only person I can ask. Is overweight hereditary? I a going with a girl who is a little on the heavy side. Her mother is so fat she has to go through the door sideways. And her grandmother is so enormous she has to be helped up out of chairs. I like this girl very much, Abby, and the thought of marriage has crossed my mind, but if she is going to turn out like her mother and grandmother, I don't know how happy I would be with her later on. What do you think?

SECOND THOUGHTS

DEAR SECOND: "Overweight" is not hereditary. But the tendency toward obesity is. Perhaps a thyroid deficiency or disorder runs in your girl's family. If you are considering marriage, you have a right to ask.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a single woman keeping company with a man who is separated from his wife, but not divorced. He has three children to support so he never has any money. He seldom takes me out, but he goes into a rage if I accept an invitation to go out with someone else. Don't you think he is a selfish person to take that attitude? I enjoy going places, but never make plans that will interfere with out date nights. I see no marriage in our future and therefore, don't see why I should give up all my friends. Am I wrong?

DEAR CONFUSED: You are not wrong. The man is selfish, but you are foolish to continue seeing him, feeling the way you do. Lose him.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO LAURA AND TEX: Your boy friend should use the rocks in his head to fill in the holes in yours! Phony names and phony ages would only make for a phony marriage.

Sheppard's Freedom At Stake Today

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Sam Sheppard's freedom was at stake today at a hearing by the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The three-judge panel will hear arguments on a stay order that followed the convicted wife slayer's release from prison last Thursday on a writ of habeas corpus.

Since his release, the 40-year-old former Bay Village osteopath has married German divorcee Ariane Tebbenjohanns in Chicago and visited New York City.

Sheppard, his wife and Attorney F. Lee Bailey flew to Cleveland this morning from New York. They went to the home rented by Mrs. Sheppard in suburban Rocky River for a brief rest and then planned to drive to Akron for the hearing.

The latest in a maze of legal moves was a motion filed in Cincinnati Tuesday asking that the order that freed Sheppard be set aside.

The order to cut short his freedom was signed by U.S. Appeals Court Judge Lester L. Cecil of Dayton. Paul C. Weick of Akron and Clifford O'Sullivan of Port Hurton, Mich., will join Judge Cecil for today's hearing.

The stay order would cancel Sheppard's $10,000 bond set by U.S. District Court Judge Carl A. Weinman of Dayton. In setting aside Sheppard's conviction, Judge Weinman said Sheppard's rights to a fair trial had been violated because of adverse publicity.

Sheppard spent nearly nine years in prison for the July 4, 1954 bludgeon slaying of his pregnant wife, Marilyn.

More Cameras To Make Moon Trip

By RALPH DIGHTON

PASADENA (Calif. (AP) — Ranger 7 will carry more than cameras when it is launched at the moon next week. On it will be riding the hopes and perhaps the future of the men who made it.

After Ranger 6 hit the moon last February but failed for the fourth straight time to return close-up pictures of the lunar surface, scientists at its Jet Propulsion Laboratory birthplace came under severe criticism from the parent U.S. space agency and in Congress.

JPL operations since then have been overhauled and Ranger 7 has been subjected to minutely detailed tests.

Result: JPL chief William Pickering gives it a 50-50 chance, compared with the 1-in-4 chance given Ranger 6.

"We are more confident about Ranger 7—we give it one chance in two because we have one more shot behind us and some changes have been made to improve the reliability of the craft," Pickering said in an exclusive interview.

Tshombe Snubbed By Other Leaders

By LYNN HEINZERLING

CAIRO (AP) — Africa's kings, presidents and premiers probably did nothing more significant in their five days of oratory here than their snub of Premier Moise Tshombe of the Congo.

By that single act, the African leaders who finished their second summit meeting Tuesday threw their program for overthrowing the Portuguese rulers of Angola into jeopardy.

It is difficult to assess the accomplishments of the second summit meeting of the Organization of African Unity. The final communique was so vague that it is difficult to pinpoint anything.

The government heads were so shielded from newsmen and conference sources were so meager with real information that it was impossible to determine how deep the discussions went.

But the rejection of Tshombe was unmistakeable. Prodded by President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana and President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria, the preparatory session of foreign ministers declared the Congolese premier's presence was undesirable. Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu boycotted the conference in retaliation.

The Congo is the seat of the revolutionary Angolan government-in-exile headed by Holden Roberto. It is a staging ground for guerrillas who have infiltrated northern Angola, the Congo's southern neighbor.

Whatever Tshombe did as leader of the Katanga secession, he has become one of the Congo's authentic leaders, and will have to be reckoned with.

The Congo is the most strategically placed nation in Africa for any move against Angola, and the Congo does not win much by alienating its neighbor.

Only about half of Katanga's rich copper exports can be shipped abroad over the Congo's own transportation system. The rest must move through Angola and Mozambique.

Tshombe and Kasavubu cannot be enchanted by the idea of cutting out these export channels for a group of African leaders who humiliated them.

If the Congo ever succeeds in quieting its spear-throwing tribes and bringing a degree of sophistication to its belligerent politicians, it will become one of the two or three richest states in Africa. It will not have to submit to the intervention in its political life to which it has been subjected in the past.

The fact that Roberto is turning to Moscow, Prague and Peking in search of money and weapons may also have a sobering effect on the Congolese and other Africans.

Suffers Broken Leg

Joe York, 1511 Avenue T, received a broken leg early this morning when thrown from a horse at his home.

York reportedly was breaking the horse when the mishap occurred. He was taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bell-Seale Ambulance Service.

Nubia, which stretches from Egypt into Sudan, was once defined as "that part of the Nile Valley where the inhabitants speak Nubian."

A. KELLY PRUITT . . . noted portrayer of life on the range country and Indian reservations of the Southwest, with a collection of his works. His paintings will be exhibited in Snyder, Friday, July 24, from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. at the Snyder Savings and Loan community room. The showing is under the sponsorship of Snyder's Palette Club.

Palette Club To Sponsor Art Exhibit Here Friday

Western artist A. Kelly Pruitt of Dallas is acclaimed from Texas to California primarily for his colorful oil paintings depicting life on the range country and in the Indian reservations of the Southwestern United States. Secondarily Pruitt has created a virtually new medium of artistic expression with his sandstone miniatures.

Pruitt's canvases run the entire size gamut and feature with equal facility both brush and pallet - knife techniques. His subjects range from bust-portraits of Indians Pruitt has known personally, through rugged landscapes typical of New Mexico and Arizona, on to herds of wild horses, and cowboys at annual roundup as still practiced in the Arizona ranch country. Unique spirit characterizes all of Pruitt's paintings — the expression of personal experience plus rare discernment and a soul penetrating philosophy.

The Artist's unusual stone paintings utilize half - inch - thick slabs of tawny sandstone, irregular in shape, seldom larger than a sheet of typewriter paper. colorful casein paints generally are used rather than oil. Pruitt personally picks out these flagstones for their interesting shapes, tonal gradations, and structural characteristics that often become the sky or other background atmosphere for the paintings-to-be. The painting subject - matter again may be a lone Indian maiden supplicating the Great Spirit, a field of Texas bluebonnets, or a friendly horse enjoying an over-the-fence feeding.

While Western subject - matter dominates the artist's repertoire, he displays surprising facility with whatever theme he selects - whether it be an impressionistic metropolitan skyline, a study of Negro life in the deep-South, or a secluded Tibetan monk in his native habitat.

Kelly Pruitt, a lean 175-pound 6-foot-two-er exuding a smiling friendliness typical of the Great Southwest was born February 9, 1924 at Waxahachie, Texas some thirty miles south of Dallas. Later his family moved to Presidio, Texas where at the age of 12 years Kelly started working cattle along the Mexican border. During this time he also trailed herds up from Old Mexico where he gained much of his skill with horses and cattle from the Mexican cowboys he learned to respect and admire. A few years later he left the Rio Grande country for Fort Stockton where he herded cattle and sheep for the famous Robbins Ranch. After a time punching cattle in the Davis Mountains around Pecos, he hung up saddle and gear in early 1942 to join the United States Cavalry at Fort Bliss, Texas. With the Dismounting of the cavalry, Kelly transferred to the Remount unit and shipped overseas for 3½-years of military service in the Islands of the Pacific, New Guinea, India, Burma, and Indo-China. Following World War II, Kelly Pruitt stayed on in India where he studied art and philosophy under the Buddhist monk Singh Yea. Kelly had been drawing and painting as a boy since as far back as he could remember, but it was during his training under Singh Yea that his work was to acquire the "spirit" which adds such warmth and emotion to the oils he does today.

For a time following his return to the United States Kelly resumed working as a cowboy in Arizona before enrolling in the University of Utah under the GI bill of rights where he studied art for 2½ years under Professors Thorpe and Fletcher. Married during this period, Kelly intermingled many work and study experiences to support his family and keep body and soul together while still developing his art talents. His pursuit of education took him also to El Paso Tech and Hubbard College in Wichita, Kansas. His pursuit of a livelihood included periods of ranching, cattle inspection in Old Mexico, selling, firefighting, dance instruction, newspaper cartooning, plus the design and development of the Emerald Hills Memorial Park in South Fort Worth and the Bluebonnet Hills Memorial Park in North Fort Worth. The works of sculpture that adorn the entranceways to these parks are the creation of A. Kelly Pruitt.

Not until 1958 did Pruitt turn with dead seriousness to painting as a fulltime occupation. This followed his final year in the saddle for the well-known Randel Ranch in Arizona. Since 1958 three years of Kelley's time painting has been spent with the Navajo Indians in Arizona where he learned the customs of the Navajo, Hopi and Apache Indians as well as the language of the Navajos. While living with the Navajos he was given the Indian name Yamo Hoto (The Lonely One).

Now a resident of Dallas, Kelly returns each Spring to Arizona to take part in roundup and maintain his contacts with his Navajo friends and to add to the vast storehouse of experience that make his paintings alive with the rugged and indomitable spirit of the Great Southwest. Today, Kelly's paintings are adding beauty to the homes of art lovers from Texas west to California. Word about Kelly Pruitt has spread to the East and North and already plans are underway to share with art followers in the rest of the country the unique emotional experiences that accompany a meeting with this fine artist and his rare, God - given talent for creating life on canvas and sandstone.

Fascinating Report Of A Fight

LIKE A HOMESICK ANGEL By John Bainbridge.

Told in almost minute - by-minute sequence, this is the story of a commercial jet flight from New York to Paris and Rome.

It is keyed to the pilot, Harold F. Blackburn, who at 59 is approaching compulsory retirement after a career that dates back to memories of the early barnstorming days.

It starts with Blackburn's departure from his Pennsylvania farm, goes behind the scenes at Kennedy International Airport, and describes in meticulous detail all the operational details of take off, navigation, communications, flight planning and other aspects of fast international flight.

There are personal glimpses of the crew, anecdotes about other flights and notes on Blackburn's layover in Rome.

Because of Blackburn's long experience, he is an appropriate narrator on two main themes — the beginnings of commerical aviation and the contrast between the trans-Atlantic operations of recent piston-engine planes and the new jets.

This small book, illustrated by Rudolph Janu's photographs, is first - class reporting, and makes engrossing reading for everyone — whether or not they are accustomed to international airline travel.

New Tax Law Affects Art Gifts

CHICAGO (AP) — Museums across the nation soon may be receiving more art gifts with fewer strings attached in the form of life interests in the gifts.

Before a new tax law, a taxpayer could make a donation of personal property to charity, retain the possession of the property for either his or a relative's life, or for any other period, and take a charitable deduction at the time of making the gift.

Now a taxpayer making a gift of personal property to a charity will get no charitable deduction while he or one of his relatives has the right of possession and enjoyment of the property, says Commerce Clearing House.

Pace Too Much For You?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A great many young people complain that they can't take it. The pressures of the day, that is. And that goes for summer jobs, too.

Are pressures greater than ever?

It's true that schools have stepped - up curriculum. But should that throw a conscientious student?

The answer may be that some young people aren't prepared for anything but a life of ease, and school reversals are the first obstacles they face. The grind of summer jobs is the second obstacle.

Even students who stick it out on a summer job are mainly working for their own interests — a car, a sailboat or something else. The old-fashioned way was to earn money that was turned over to the family or assist parents with home chores.

"I worked in the wheatfields of Kansas from sunup to sundown on weekends, and there were enough chores around our farm to keep me busy until after dark every night of the week," recalls a successful business man. "What did I get for it? Board and room, that's all. I was darn happy to get to college. But my son has other ideas. He had a chance to take a construction job this summer, but the work was too hard, the big lug said. So he'd rather sit around and complain how unfair the world is to young people."

Girls are becoming softies too, volunteers a mother.

"I'd like to know if there is a girl getting married today who knows anything about running a home. And I can testify it isn't the mother's fault. I try to teach my daughter, but she's not interested enough to do anything right. I invite her to cook and she gets half - way through something and her lack of interest is so exasperating I finally ask her to leave the kitchen. That's what she wanted all the time, anyway."

Dishwashing and washing machines have cut home chores down, this mother recognizes, but there is no reason why a girl can't make a bed properly, prepare an omelet or even cook a meal for the family once in a while, she says.

A restaurant man who hires young people in summer says they willingly look for jobs. But when they get the job it is a different matter.

"Our turnover is ridiculous. It is unbelievable the attitude young people have toward work. If they don't feel like reporting for work, they don't. Some never bother returning for a day or two's pay you might owe them. They have no sense of responsibility. One day four girls out of nine reported for work, and you can't run a business that way."

He'd rather hire older women who have developed a feeling of loyalty to their employer, he says. Young people may be ruining a good thing with their present attitude toward jobs.

But one employer comes to their defense:

"If we continue to burden young people with problems of the world when they aren't mature enough to solve small problems in their own backyards, we're in for trouble. We neglect giving them a sense of responsibility when they are young, then expect them to fall into some adult pattern all of a sudden when they are teenagers."

Meat Servings

When buying beef you can figure about ¼ pound per serving if the meat is boneless. When the cut has a medium amount of bone, such as a blade chuck roast, you'll need about a half a pound per serving. About 1-3 pound per person is adequate in cuts such as rump or rib roasts.

TOUGH, WHEN YOU USED TO LEAD THE BAND

Few Other Possible GOP Candidates In Sight Now

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. Barry Goldwater loses the 1964 election the Republican party will have to search for a whole new batch of likely presidential prospects.

With the possible exception of Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, the familiar figures of this year, and past years, seem washed out: Nixon, Rockefeller, Lodge.

Scranton at the end was Goldwater's only active rival for the Republican presidential nomination. He didn't make a glittering race of it.

Even allowing for his late start, much of his effort seemed wishy-washy and his campaign badly organized. But he is only 47. The presidential bug could bite him again although it took some biting this time to get him started.

Besides Goldwater and Scranton only Nixon, Rockefeller and Lodge seemed to have even a remote chance for the nomination. All were figures from the past.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is only 51, which would seem to give him time for another try or two, except for what happened to him.

Although he lost the presidency to Sen. John F. Kennedy in 1960, it was so close he might have been in a favorite spot for the No. 1 role again if he hadn't failed in a try for the governorship of California in 1962. His balloon went down.

A close loss of the presidency is one thing. But to lose the gubernatorial contest could be, and in his case seemed to be, a fatal blow.

He probably didn't endear himself to Scranton or Goldwater. He called the former a puppet and tried to stir up opposition to Goldwater. The senator said he sounded "more and more like Harold Stassen."

New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, 56, will be 60 when the 1968 election comes. But after what happened to him this year 1968 will probably be just a date on the calendar.

He was the one sturdy Republican who fought Goldwater through the primaries, campaigning hard. He beat the senator in Oregon, lost to him in California, and then dropped out when Goldwater's strength seemed too much.

This was his second frustration and second withdrawal. He made sounds like a candidate in 1960 but Nixon had such an inside track for the nomination that Rockefeller pulled out without even trying.

If nothing else, age alone would knock Henry Cabot Lodge out of the picture next time. He is 62 now, will be 66 then. He was very unimpressive this year, except for a short time after he won the New Hampshire primary over Goldwater and Rockefeller.

Lodge won there without declaring himself a candidate and while he was still U.S. ambassador in far-off South Viet Nam. When Rockefeller beat him in the Oregon primary, that finished him.

He quit as ambassador to come home, he said, to help Scranton beat Goldwater. But he wasn't very dynamic after he got here. If he thought the lightning might strike him, he was probably the only one who did.

Yet, at the moment, there is no one in sight who could reasonably be said to be the man to replace these familiar figures from the past.

A 30 - story travel terminal is due to be built at Hamamatsu -cho, near the heart of downtown Tokyo, in 1967. The $85.5 million structure, tallest office building in Japan, will be a hub for helicopters, buses, monorail, and will be connected with three highways the subway system and nearby Takeshiba Pier.

Retirement Should Be Chief Goal

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Life keeps a fellow so busy doing about half the things he ought to that he doesn't have time to do a third of the things he'd like to.

So he has to postpone his pleasures most of his life. He is too busy doing his duty to really enjoy himself.

I have no sympathy with people who retire unwillingly at 65 and then proceed immediately to die of boredom. To me they are stubborn and unimaginative.

When the world removes them from the harness of the daily plodding, they take revenge by dying.

They live by the puritanical idea that work is given to man to keep him out of mischief. Without work they feel they have no mission in life.

I have just the opposite theory. I think the only purpose of work is to save enough money to spend the rest of your life in mischief and riotous self-indulgence. I believe that any kind of employment is a form of slavery and any man who submits to it an hour longer than he has to is an unenlightened fool.

I know exactly what I'm going to do with myself when I'm 65. Planned retirement has been my constant daydream ever since I started sweeping out a grocery store at the age of 10 and gained an early and lifelong distaste for honest labor.

As soon as the office gives me the farewell $27.50 imitation leather traveling bag and the $1.95 goodby lunch, I'm going to open the window by my desk and drop this typewriter six floors to the street below.

Then I'm going home to a little place in the country and sit motionless in the rocking chair on the front porch for a solid month.

Then I'm going to rock until I feel rested.

Then I'm going to buy a barrel of bourbon and drink it while I read a thousand books in my library whose pages I have yet to turn.

Then I am going down to the Bowery and get an artist to tattoo on my chest a giant eagle, an American flag and the motto, "Liberty or Death."

Then I am going to start smoking cigarettes and learn to inhale.

Then I will run away from home.

"So long, kids," I will tell my weeping wife and awestruck grandchildren. "It sure has been fun knowing you, but there is no reason for making the arrangement permanent."

Then I am going to the beautiful island of Bali, a place I saw in my youth and have always had a hankering to return to.

And if, thereafter, you never hear from me, please don't worry. If a fellow can't find something to keep himself occupied with on Bali, he really doesn't deserve retirement.

Scotland Yard was a plot of land and a palace where Scottish king stayed when they went to London each year to pay required homage to the English king. The last Scottish sovereign to use the palace was Margaret, widow of James IV of Scotland and sister of Henry VIII of England.

Junior Editors Quiz on AGRICULTURE

QUESTION: Where and how did irrigation originate?

* * *

ANSWER: About 6000 B.C., according to students of history, man made a revolutionary discovery. Up to that time he had been a wandering hunter, never certain of being able to provide enough food for his family. But certain tribes in the highlands of Mesopotamia, in the Middle East, discovered that it was possible to plant the seeds of wild grain and raise enough food to last the year around. These first farmers built villages of mud huts and started to domesticate animals. Later—exactly why we do not know—they moved down to the banks of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. There, conditions were harsh; the rivers either flooded the land, or the land baked hard in the fierce sun. But these energetic peoples made a great discovery: irrigation. They banked up the river edges in flood time and dug ditches to carry the water when it was dry. Plows were invented for their newly domesticated animals to draw. Our picture shows these conditions about 4000 B.C. The villa[illegible]grew into cities and by 3000 B.C. the brilliant Sumerian civili[illegible] was underway. Meanwhile, on the Nile River, the early Egyptians were making similar discoveries. Writing and the arts, machinery, law and government, all got started after the farmer had learned to plant and irrigate.

Cubs Latest Entry In National Chase

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy Williams hit a two-strike pitch for a two-run homer that provided the Chicago Cubs with the runs they needed to whip San Frncisco 2-1 Tuesday night.

Williams' homer, his 23rd, made the Cubs the latest entry in the National League pennant sweepstakes as they climbed over the .500 level with their fourth straight victory and eighth in 10 games, moving into contending position 7½ games off the pace.

The Giants, meanwhile, continued their skid, losing their seventh in the last nine games and falling a full-game behind front-running Philadelphia. The Phillies, also struggling, defeated Milwaukee 6-3 for only their fifth victory in the last 14 games.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets dropped third-place Cincinnati 3½ games by beating the Reds 4-2, Pittsburgh rode Jerry Lynch's grand slam homer to an 8-4 victory over St. Louis and Houston edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 on Al Spangler's homer.

The New York Yankees took over the American League lead by walloping Washington 7-1 while Cleveland swept Baltimore 4-2 and 8-5 and the Los Angeles Angels took two from the Chicago White Sox, 2-0 and 3-2. Kansas City edged Minnesota 5-4 and Boston belted Detroit 7-5.

The Cubs struck in the fourth against Gaylord Perry, now 7-7, when former Giant Joe Amalfitano doubled and Williams followed with his homer. That gave Bob Buhl his 12th victory against five losses although he needed relief help from Bobby Shantz and Don Elston.

The Giants scored in the sixth when Hal Lanier tripled and came home on a wild pitch by Buhl, but Elston cut off their last threat, getting Jim Davenport and Chuck Hiller on soft flies with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Bobby Wine drove in two runs with a homer and single, Tony Taylor also homered and rookie Richie Allen stroked three hits as the Phillies slowed the Braves, who had won eight of 10 and 16 of their last 22.

Art Mahaffey, 9-4, started for Philadelphia but needed Jack Baldschun's relief help when the Braves loaded the bases with one out in eighth and the Phillies leading only 4-2. Baldschun got Hank Aaron to hit into a force play, then retired Joe Torre on a tap in front of the plate.

The Mets made it four straight victories over the Reds as Larry Elliot hit a bases-empty homer off Joey Jay, 4-8, in the second and walked before Jesse Gonder homered in the fourth.

The victory went to Bill Wakefield, who pitched 5 1-3 innings of two-hit relief after the Reds chased Tracy Stallard with two fourth inning runs on a pair of walks and singles by Deron Johnson and Gordy Coleman.

Lynch smashed his grand slam off Ron Taylor in a five-run fifth inning that gave the Pirates more than enough to beat the Cardinals. Taylor took over for starter and loser Ray Sadecki, 10-8, after rain delayed the game 81 minutes.

Joe Gibbon, 7-3, needed relief help to win it after Mike Shannon hit a three-run homer for the Cardinals in the eighth.

Spangler's leadoff homer in the eighth broke up a pitchers' duel between the Colts' Bob Bruce and Don Drysdale of the Dodgers.

Bruce kept nine hits well spaced and stranded four Dodgers on third base as he brought his record to 11-4 with his fourth straight victory. Drysdale, 12-9, allowed only five hits.

Pony Leaguers Wallop C-City

Snyder's Pony League All-Stars sent runners across the plate in four different innings to wallop the Colorado City Pony Leaguers, 11-2, last night in the first game of their play-off series.

The Snyder aggregation pounded out 10 hits off the offerings of Randy Parker. Meanwhile, Tony Suttle of Snyder was holding the C-City lads to five hits and he shut them out until the sixth when they scored both of their runs.

Robert Hobbs and Frankie Grimmett were the offensive leaders for Snyder. Hobbs rapped out three singles in four trips to the plate, while Grimmett contributed a pair of two-baggers.

Snyder wrapped up the game in the first inning. Tommy Bullard led off with a walk, and then after Parker fanned a couple, Hobbs reached base on an error. Bullard, who had stolen his way around to third, scored on the miscue, and then Terry Holt and Mickey Almond followed with singles to account for a three - run first inning. Max Moreland's single and doubles by Jerry Hardwick and Grimmett brought in two more in the second.

Grimmett got his other double in the fifth when Snyder scored three more runs, and the locals capped off their scoring with three in the sixth.

A double by Nathan Hoyle and singles by Allen Smith and Kerry Campbell accounted for both of Colorado City's runs in the sixth.

Suttle struck out nine and walked two, while Parker yielded two bases on balls and fanned eight.

The two teams will meet again Monday night in Colorado City. Game time is set for 8 p.m.

Next playoff activity in Snyder is set for Thursday night at the Little League field. Snyder's American League All-Stars will meet the Colorado City Little League All - Stars in a game beginning at 7:30 p.m. The winner of that game will then meet Snyder's National League All-Stars here Friday night.

Odessa Has Two Champs In Tourney

ODESSA (AP) — The PGA champion, the national lefthanded champion and eight members of the PGA tour will play in the $15,000 Odessa Pro-Amateur next week.

When Bobby Nichols, the former Texas A&M player, won the national PGA Sunday it really "made" the Odessa tournament. Nichols already was an entry.

Nichols, Billy Maxwell, Don January, Dutch Harrison, Don Massengale, Doug Sanders, Bo Wininger and Jimmy Demaret are tour regulars who will compete here.

A recent entry also is Dick Metz, once a star of the tour and who finished second in the National Open in 1938. Metz now lives at Commerce, Okla.

The national lefthanded champion is Thorne Woods of Asheboro, N.C. He will team with the national amateur lefthanded titlist, Stuart Chanellor of Midland.

Seventy teams have been invited and accepted. Thirty more will be determined in qualifying next Monday. The 72-hole tournament starts July 30.

Cowboys In Heavy Drills

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, prepping for a National Football game against the Los Angeles Rams Aug. 8, held two heavy drills Tuesday.

Coach Tom Landry concentrated on blocking and pass protection in the afternoon session. Commenting on pass protection, he said:

"I feel we are in a much better position at this early stage than at any time in the past four years. A great deal of this is due to the fact that we have a nucleus of veterans who are familiar with the system and have been with us for a couple of years."

Landry scheduled two more heavy workouts Wednesday, including a full speed scrimmage in the afternoon.

Offensive linemen Jim Ray Smith and Tony Liscio and fullback Don Perkins drew praise for blocking. Observers likened their performances to mid-season form.

NO PLACE FOR PART-TIME FOOTBALLER — Don Chandler, kicking specialist of the New York Giants may not play this year because Coach Allie Sherman doesn't want him to be a part-time player. Chandler, who has business interests in Tulsa, Okla., would like to show up just a couple of days before each game. Sherman says the game has grown to where no one can do their best with a part-time effort. Chandler led the National Football League in scoring last year with 106 points. (AP Wirephoto)

Two Blonde Dolls Talk Of Tourney

CHICAGO AP)—Two blonde dolls are the talk of the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament, which enters the second round today.

They are Barbara Fay White, 23, daughter of a Shreveport, La., golf pro, and Lida Matthews of Portsmouth, Ohio, whose best previous tournament effort was reaching the semifinals this year in her state's amateur.

Miss White, 1962 runner-up in the Western, won the South Atlantic, Palm Beach and Florida East Coast tournaments this season.

Miss White registered one of the most lopsided victories of the tourney's 64-year history on Tuesday by blasting 19-year-old Fela Chavez of Mexico City 9 and 8. Miss Chavez shot a steady three-over-par 40 on the first nine of the par 37-36—73 Oak Park Country Club course, only to be eight-down as Miss White fired a 32.

The 24-year-old Miss Matthews ousted defending champion Barbara McIntire of Colorado Springs, former British and U.S. Amateur titlist and two-time winner of this meet.

Miss Matthews blew a 3-up lead at the turn, but hung on to settle for 1-up on the 18th hole.

Abilene Girl Is Defeated In Meet

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —Top-seeded Linda Tuero of New Orleans needed only 13 games to win Tuesday and advance to the quarterfinals of the National Boys and Girls Tennis Tournament.

The 14-under player defeated Barbara Wroten of Abilene, Tex., 6-0, 6-1.

Marjorie Gengler of Long Island, N.Y., seeded fourth in the same division, fell to tall Kirsty Pigeon of Danville, Calif., 6-3, 6-3.

In the boys 14-under, top-seeded George Taylor of Houston had to fight to get past Charles Owens of Tuscaloosa, Ala., in the first set, which went to 9-7. Taylor came back strong to win the second set, 6-1.

Texas Loop Tightens Up

By The Associated Press

Austin broke loose with the long ball on leading pitcher Chris Zachary to beat San Antonio 5-3 and Tulsa picked on cellar-dwelling Fort Worth for a double triumph Tuesday night as the Texas League race tightened up appreciably.

San Antonio saw its lead trimmed to two games over Tulsa while third place Albuquerque pulled within 3½ games with an 8-1 victory over El Paso.

Austin hammered a triple and two homers in the first three innings to topple Zachary for his second straight loss after winning 14. Meanwhile, Clay Carroll, making his first start since joining Austin from Denver, limited the Bullets to six hits in six innings to earn his first decision.

Tulsa beat Fort Worth 4-3 in the opener, then took the nightcap 5-2. Trailing by a run for four innings, the Oilers got three tallies on a double by Bill LeFebvre, three singles and a sacrifice fly. Fort Worth tied it up but the Oilers got the winning run in the sixth with three straight singles.

In the second game Harry Watts hit a three-run homer in the first inning and Fort Worth never could catch up.

Charley Spell limited El Paso to five hits while Albuquerque pounded 14. One of the Sun King hits was a homer by Mel Corbo in the first inning that drove in three runs. El Paso never had a chance after that. It's only run was unearned.

Albuquerque again is at El Paso, Austin at San Antonio and Fort Worth at Tulsa tonight.

Stu Miller Slump Hurts Baltimore

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—Stu Miller is in a slump, and so are the Baltimore Orioles.

Going into July, with Miller at his best, the Orioles enjoyed a three-game lead in the American League pennant race.

On July 1, the 36-year-old relief specialist saved his 14th game for an Oriole teammate, and in addition he had a 4-1 won-lost record. Starting on April 28, he had allowed only five runs and 27 hits in 37 2-3 innings spanning 24 appearances.

But Miller served up a bases-loaded homer to Willie Smith of the Los Angeles to lose 10-6 on July 2. He has lost three more since, and the Orioles have tumbled into second place, five percentage points behind the New York Yankees.

In his 41st game of the season Tuesday, Miller allowed two singles, a homer, and a walk while retiring only one batter as the Cleveland Indians rallied for eight runs and an 8-5 second game victory to complete a twi-night doubleheader sweep.

John Romano, who hit two homers in the 4-2 first game victory, launched the rally with his third homer of the night. After Woodie Held's three-run homer off Miller put Cleveland ahead 6-5. The final two runs scored on Romano's single and an error.

'Let's see, since the All-Star game, we're 8 and 8," Oriole Manager Hank Bauer said after Baltimore dropped its first doubleheader of the season. "And Miller has lost three of them."

Bauer said he was at a loss to explain Miller's sudden ineffectiveness. Nor did he offer any solution, except to "sweat it out."

Matson Off For Meet

PAMPA (AP)—Randy Matson, the Texas A&M freshman who ranks with the world's top shot putters, was leaving by plane today for Los Angeles and the U.S.-Russian meet.

He qualified for this affair when he threw the shot 64 feet 11 inches in the national AAU where he beat Dallas Long, the world record holder.

But Matson said he wasn't particularly enthusiastic about the U.S.-Russian meet although he expects to perhaps hit the 65-foot mark.

What Randy wants to do is qualify for the Olympics in the final trials Sept. 12-13. He must be second or third to make it. Long already has clinched the No. 1 spot by beating Matson in the first Olympic trials.

Matson now is up to 250, having gained six pounds in the last several weeks. He did it with systematic work with weights since the Olympic trials in New York July 3.

He revealed that he had been doing 64 feet in practice and figured that meant he would hit 65 in the U.S.-Russian meet.

"I usually throw about a foot better in competition," he said.

Yankees Ease Into First As Birds, Sox Fall Twice

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees trimmed Washington 7-1 Tuesday night.

Then they wound up on top of the American League when John Romano powered Cleveland to a 4-2, 8-5 doubleheader sweep over Baltimore and Vic Power came through with the big hit in the Los Angeles Angels' 2-0, 3-2 sweep over the Chicago White Sox.

Romano, a catcher the first game, was in the outfield when his third homer of the evening triggered an eight-run Indian uprising in the eighth inning of the Cleveland-Baltimore nightcap.

The big inning sent the Orioles reeling into second place, five percentage points behind New York.

Power was back at first base in the White Sox-Angels second game after an enforced 10-day layoff—the result of a run-in with umpire Jim Honochick in Los Angeles.

He came up in the seventh inning with two outs and cracked a bases-loaded single off Gary Peters that brought the Angels from behind and pushed the Sox into third place, one half game off the pace.

Boston defeated Detroit 7-5 on Dick Stuart's three-run homer and Kansas City nipped Minnesota 5-4 on Rocky Colavito's two-run double in other AL games.

In the National League, Chicago edged San Francisco 2-1; Philadelphia beat Milwaukee 6-3; Houston shaded Los Angeles 1-0; Pittsburgh downed St. Louis 8-4 and New York stunned Cincinnati 4-2.

Tom Tresh homered twice and doubled for the Yankees and Jim Bouton won his ninth game in 17 decisions with a four-hitter.

Tresh hit a solo homer, his 11th, in the second inning and connected again in the fourth with a man on. John Blanchard singled in two runs in the sixth and two more scored when Bouton's eighth inning fly ball fell for a double.

Chuck Hinton's sixth inning homer spoiled Bouton's shutout bid.

Romano caught the first game and drove in three runs with a pair of homers—his first in 14 games—and a double. He went to the outfield in the nightcap and Joe Azcue took over behind the plate as the Indians stacked their batting order with right-hand hitters against Baltimore southpaw Steve Barber.

John Powell had three hits in each game for the Orioles, including a first-game homer, his 26th.

The Angels' Bo Belinsky and reliever Bob Lee combined for a seven-hit shutout in the opener against Chicago. Felix Torres homered in the fourth inning and singled in the sixth, driving in both Los Angeles runs.

Jim Fregosi's first inning homer in the nightcap gave the Angels a 1-0 lead but the White Sox came up with two runs on five hits in the bottom of the first.

Relievers Aubrey Gatewood and Bob Duliba blanked the Sox the rest of the way and Power's hit, following a pair of walks and a single by pinch hitter Bob Rodgers, provided the victory margin.

Stuart's 24th homer snapped a 4-4 tie and upped his league-leading RBI total to 84. Bill Monbouquette weathered two home runs each by Norm Cash and George Thomas for his third straight victory.

Colavito's seventh inning double brought Kansas City from a 4-3 deficit and helped hand the Twins their sixth straight setback. He also singled in a run as the Athletics pounded Camilo Pascual, who has lost six of his last seven decisions.

Phillies Riding Out Storm

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE AP)—Despite their worst slump of the season, the Philadelphia Phillies are riding out the storm in first place in the National League pennant chase.

"We just haven't played as clean baseball as we did in the first two months, but we're still leading the league and what can you do with a team like that," Manager Gene Mauch said Tuesday night after the Phils defeated the Milwaukee Braves 6-3.

"We played terrific baseball for the first two months, making a few mistakes, and some thing had to give," Mauch added. "I don't know of any team that ever went through a season without playing some giveaway. Now we just have to start playing the way we were—cleanly.

"The pennant rce is not different now than when we teed off. The team that gets the pitching and makes the fewest mistakes will be in business in October."

The Phils cooled off the surging Braves with a 14-hit attack, including home runs by Bobby Wine and Tony Taylor, in capturing the opener of a three game series. It was only the league leaders' fifth victory in the last 14 games.

The loss was just the fourth for the Braves in their last 44 outings, but it dropped them 6½ games off the pace.

Seven of Philadelphia's last nine defeats have been at the hands of lefthanded pitching. Apparently stung, the Phils belted Milwaukee southpaws Wade Blassingame and Billy Hoeft before picking up to unearned runs off righthanders Bob Tiefenauer and Chi Chi Olivo in the ninth inning.

"We knew from the outset we were vulnerable to lefthanded pitching," Mauch said. "However, we started out by beating something like seven lefthanders in a row. That was due mainly to our pitchers turning in better games than opposing southpaws."

At one point the Phillies had an 11-3 edge against lefthanders. However, they now are all even with a 16-16 mark.

Cattle Rustling Maintains Shaky Toehold In Southeast

By TOM ROBINSON

ATLANTA (AP)—Cattle rustling, banished from the West by modernization, is dying a hard death from the same cause in the new livestock empire of the Southeast.

Rustling was an on-the-spot hanging offense in the old West of the pony-riding cowboy. Even with this harsh punishment, it lingered until motor vehicles and better methods brought new efficiency both to herd management and law enforcement.

Rustling was quick to gain toeholds in the Southeast with the emergence of the beef industry. It is still entrenched in some but, unless time turns backward, its days are numbered.

Better methods of identifying cows hurt the rustler's trade. Brands and tattoos on animals readily identify their owners and complicate their illegal disposal. These time - honored devices are proving superior to the newer use of metal tags in the ear since the latter may be removed easily.

Just as in the West, however, better herd supervision and tighter law enforcement are the ruling measures in rustler control.

Rustling still is big business in Florida and Alabama, but it likely will remain so only until the law gets around to matching and countering the modern techniques of the rustlers.

Cattle thievery is almost nonexistent in most of the rest of the Southeast.

More than $500,000 worth of beef has been stolen each year in Florida since the late 1950s. In 1963, 624 reports of stolen livestock were investigated in Alabama.

"More cows are stolen in Alabama today than in Texas," said Claude Hammac, livestock investigator for Alabama.

Hammac blames part of the rustling on inadequate state laws, failure to follow rules on the books and laxness by cattlemen in keeping tabs on their livestock.

Louisiana reports a sharp drop in rustling. Cattle is the state's fourth largest agricultural industry. The state has effective laws covering the rustling and inspectors with police authority investigate the theft of all cattle, both branded and unbranded. They are present at all cattle auctions and have the authority to award "strays" to the finder if the owner cannot be found.

The Louisiana brand commission director, Nash Ward, says that "deep freeze" rustling is the hardest to detect. He said the rustlers "kill a calf, stick it into the turtleback of their trucks and take it home to skin and cut up for their deep freezers."

Art Higble, executive vice president of the Florida Cattleman's Association, says modern rustlers use van trucks to make fast getaways on superhighways.

There is relatively little rustling in areas where the only access is unpaved, back roads, he said. Most cattlemen and farmers know who lives in their neighborhoods and they question the actions of strangers, making it more difficult for rustlers, he added.

Higbie said rustlers often back a van truck to a fence bordering a highway. They cut the fence and trained dogs round up the cattle, he added.

Higbie said rustling has grown with the increased production of cattle in the state. In 1960, 1,289,000 head of cattle were raised at 5,800 Florida cattle ranches.

Dr. O. D. Dye of the Georgia Agriculture Department said rustling is almost non-existent in Georgia with only two cases reported in two years. In one case, he said, four head of cattle were taken through a cut fence. In the other, one cow was missing and the owner was not sure whether it was stolen.

Arkansas has a cattle population of 1,485,000

The Louisiana cattle population has grown from 1,000,000 to 1,800,000 head in 10 years and sales have increased from $40 million to $85 million.

Georgia's cattle population numbers almost 1,250,000. They graze on 1,904,849 acres of improved pasture and 909,103 acres of unimproved pasture.

Mossler's Documents Are Filed

HOUSTON AP)—The will and three codicils signed by slain Houston millionaire Jacques Mossler have been filed for probate.

The documents were filed Tuesday in County Clerk R. E. Turrentine's office.

Mossler's wife, nine children, and an aged brother and sister were named as beneficiaries of his estate, estimated variously as high as $15 million.

Mossler, 69, was found bludgeoned and stabbed 39 times in his plush Miami apartment early June 30.

The documents probated were signed at various times from Nov. 11, 1961, to June 12, 1963.

The second codicil, signed in Miami June 23, 1963, nominated Mrs. Candace Mossler, 45, the widow, as sole executrix and trustee of the estate, and cut off a trust bequest to Rita Johnson, 20, a daughter of Mrs. Mossler by a former marriage.

The codicil directed that the portion of Mossler's estate formerly for the Rita Johnson trust be given to Mrs. Mossler instead.

In a final codicil, handwritten by Mossler under the signatures of witnesses to the second codicil, the Houston financier removed Walter J. Fountain, president of the Mossler Acceptance Corp., as a co-trustee and co-executor.

The will disposing of Mossler's half of the community estate gave personal possessions and one-half of his separate estate to Mrs. Mossler.

The rest of the estate was ordered divided into trusts for each of his four children by his first marriage, for Mrs. Mossler's two children by an earlier marriage and for four children Mr. and Mrs. Mossler adopted in Chicago in 1957.

2 Veterans Challenged

BOSTON (AP)—House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., who is 72, and former Speaker Joseph W. Martin, R-Mass., who will be 80 in November, face re-election challenges.

Noel A. Day, a Negro civil rights leader, filed Tuesday as an independent candidate for McCormack's seat, and said he was challenging "the entrenched political power in Congress for its failure to deal creatively with the problems of poverty."

Former State Rep. William F. Nourse of Medfield, seeking to wrest the Republican nomination from Martin, said the "time requires a more energetic course than a 79-year-old political veteran can follow."

McCormack, next in line for the presidency, is completing his 19th consecutive term. Martin has represented his district for 20 consecutive terms since 1925.

New Crackdown On Cuban Trade Will Be Sought

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Organization of American States is expected to ask all non-Communist nations this week to join in a new crackdown on trade with Cuba.

Should the bid be even partially successful, Prime Minister Fidel Castro's creaky economy undoubtedly would suffer serious new damage through the denial of badly needed imports.

Cuba's railway system is reported to be in a crippling state of disrepair. Trucks and buses are urgently required to replace worn-out highway transport. People stand in long, slow-moving lines to buy food at the stores.

The price of gasoline, which Cuba reportedly gets only from Soviet sources, is up to 60 cents a gallon as against 34 cents a year ago. Production of sugar, Cuba's big export crop, is off more than 25 per cent.

In the judgment of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and some of the other Western Hemisphere foreign meeting here this week, the Castro regime is vunerable on its economic front. To them it makes sense to seek to apply new pressures among the punitive measures proposed for adoption because of Castro's support of terrorist activities in Venezuela last year.

But the trend in Cuban trade with non-Communist countries is now upward, after declining for four years. Britain and France have broken with Washington's policy of economic boycott in order to sell transportation equipment. Other European allies may follow this lead.

The first question faced by the United States and other Western Hemisphere nations, therefore, is whether they can arrest this upward trend in Cuba's Non-Communist trade and start it declining again.

The proposed new move to tighten the economic noose around the Castro regime would not mean any change in U.S. policy. This country has had a total embargo on trade with Cuba since February 1962 except for food and medicine.

The new proposal, however, would put an inter-American sanction behind what has been primarily a United States drive so far, and Washington officials believe this could have one practical result. It could cause Latin-American buyers to boycott the products of European countries trading with Cuba.

And since they need to buy many of the same things that the Cubans require, those companies interested in Cuban trade might be faced with the loss of markets more important than those they could gain by opening up commerce with Cuba.

Youth-Led Revival To Begin Here

"I Have Decided to Follow Jesus" is the theme of a youth-led revival which will begin tonight and continue through Sunday evening at Avenue D Baptist Church.

Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. each night except Sunday evening when they will begin at 7.

The Rev. Alex Campbell, pastor of Dunn Baptist Church, will preach for the revival. Rev. Campbell is youth director for the Mitchell - Scurry Baptist Association. He attended Hardin-Simmons University.

Music will be under direction of Jerry Roe of Snyder. He is a graduate of Texas Tech and has a degree in music. Mike Sterling will preside over the services. Billy Streety and Cary Don Hardin will be head ushers. Organist will be Triesta Angel, and pianist will be Marjorie McDowell.

On Sunday, members of the church will bring covered dishes for the noon meal which will be served in the fellowship hall of the church.

POLICE GRAPPLE WITH MAN DRESSED FOR HOT SPELL — Three battle-helmeted New York policemen have their clubs out as they tussle with a Negro wearing shorts and sandals as disturbances continued in Harlem for third straight day. Two dozen persons, including three policemen, were injured as chanting demonstrators marched through the streets and roving gangs harassed the hundreds of police who patrolled the area. Scouts Put On Demonstrations

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—"We didn't mean to do a rain dance," Hidesaburo Kurushima, a Boy Scout from Tokyo, Japan, said as thundershowers soaked some 52,000 boys watching a world talent-show at the sixth National Boy Scout Jamboree.

Kurushima and 17 other Japanese scouts dressed in shoe-length kimonas danced and bowed on the 350-foot grass stage at historic Valley Forge as the rains came down.

"Don't worry," Karl-Sunnar Fridman, of Stockholm, Sweden, interjected, "we like it."

The nine scouts he brought put on a life-saving demonstrations.

A Canadian troop attending the show, put on by 758 scouts from 42 foreign countries, sat almost unmoving in the big open air arena and let the rain soak their clothes late Tuesday.

"Why should we move and run for cover?" asked Tom Thompson of Cobourg, Ontario. "We were waiting for this for six days."

It was a real international gathering—a "jolly good show," said one of England's 19 scouts.

Boys of all nations, of all races, of all religions, of all shapes mixed—and swapped, particularly, handshakes. They spoke of friendships, not politics.

Two scouts from Jordan sang a song, and two boys from Israel listened and applauded. Aly Silber, 17, Jerusalem, then sang, too.

There was a babble of strange sounds as scouts across the world sought to find the words each could understand.

The talent wasn't professional, but the thousands who sat and cheered and yelled liked it swell. They asked questions about the different native costumes.

Six Pakistanis danced. So did eight from the republic of China and six from South Korea.

An eight-boy patrol from Trinidad did a hot calypso and nine Iranians sang two native songs, followed by African folk music by six Nigerians.

Reserve Unit Using New Equipment

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—The First Army reserve group using data processing equipment in Army intelligence was inaugurated today at Texas A&M University.

An agreement activating the unit was signed by Chancellor M. T. Harrington, Brig. Gen. Robert Ashworth, director of Army security, mapping and combat intelligence, and Lt. Col. B. W. Carroll of the 4th Army.

The new unit, the 837th Military Intelligence Detachment, will be commanded at A&M by Lt. Col. W. C. Freeman, vice chancellor for fiscal affairs for the A&M system.

The agreement is, in effect, a contract between the A&M system and the Army whereby the unit at A&M will undertake to train personnel in computer operations involving military intelligence.

Gen. Ashworth said: "The activation will significantly contribute to the geographical distribution of reserve detachments participating in the Army intelligence affiliation program."

Enrollment Hike Bigger In Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas devotes a larger share of its resources to support of public education than most states to accommodate recent enrollment increases tax analysts believe.

The committee for state and local tax policy, said in a report on public school finance and tax policy in Texas that postwar increases in school enrollment has been substantially greater for Texas than for the nation as a whole.

Despite the bigger enrollment, per pupil expenditures for current operating expenses increased the same as per pupil expenditures in other states, the committee said.

On actual dollar basis, the per pupil expenditure in Texas is less than the average state's, due in part to more efficient school districts in Texas.

The increasing enrollments also affects the state's position in national ranking by teaching salaries because of the greater number of new teachers employed to accommodate new students. Texas is 3.3 per cent below the national average teaching salary.

More than half of the teachers have not yet received the full benefit of the 1961 salary increase. Most districts had by last year increased the salary paid to a beginning teacher by $810 or more over the amount paid prior to the Hale - Aikin program, but these districts employed only 44 per cent of all Texas teachers.

Teachers' salaries increased on the average only about $700 as a result of the 1961 Hale-Aikin legislation. School districts which were already paying above the state minimum were not required by the law to raise salaries by the $810 by which the basic salary was increased.

3 Believed Drowned In Ohio Flood

AKON, Ohio (AP)—A young girl and a policeman and college boy who tried to rescue her sank and were presumed drowned Tuesday in a 40-foot-deep mud hole gouged in a four-lane highway when a sewer line collapsed during a heavy thunderstorm.

More than 100 policemen, firemen and volunteer workers toiled through the night trying to recover bodies of the three and the car in which the girl had been riding. Their job was complicated when soil on the sides of the crater kept crumbling. A sheet-metal casing was constructed at the scene to be lowered into the hole by a crane.

Missing were Claudia Shidler, 10; Ronald D. Rotruck, 28, an Akron policeman for five years; and Hugh M. O'Neil, 19, a Georgetown University sophomore and summer employe at General Tire and Rubber Co. which was founded by his grandfather, William O'Neil.

Rescued from the hole before it enlarged and deepened to its present size were Claudia's mother, Mrs. Velma Shidler, and a neighbor girl, Janet Lewis, 13. They were hospitalized with injuries.

Mrs. Shidler told police she had taken the girls swimming and driving down the steep hill during the rain. She said she saw the hole in the pavement, tried to swerve her compact car, but more pavement caved in under her.

O'Neil apparently was on his way to work and stopped to help. His wallet was found near the cave-in and his car was parked nearby with keys in the ignition.

Rotruck, first policeman on the scene, had climbed into the hole on a ladder but along with O'Neil was sucked under when more water surged into the cavity and caused additional cave-ins.

Many Colleges Are 'Slamming Doors'

CHICAGO (AP)—Many colleges and universities are slamming their doors on thousands of applicants because of a lack of space.

But a survey by The Associated Press showed today there still is room in many other institutions of higher education, especially in less - populated states.

The survey indicated the school rush isn't as heavy as it seems. In some instances prospective students are playing sort of an academic parlay—applying, say, to three different colleges in the hope of getting into one of them.

A high school graduate seeking admission to the University of Massachusetts or to one of the 10 state colleges in the Bay State came up against odds of almost 5-1.

The university received 12,000 applications for 2,600 openings in the freshman class entering in September. The state colleges, primarily for teacher training, admitted 3,700 of 18,000 applicants.

Georgia Tech has closed its registration books. The University of Georgia did likewise May 4, the earliest cutoff date in its history. Emory University took similar action March 10.

Villanova University, for the first time, had to put a lid on applications for the freshman class.

The University of Rhode Island and Rhode Island College had to cease consideration of new applications in the spring.

Providence (R.I.) College rejected more than 1,000 requests for admission.

"In all divisions of Rutgers (New Brunswick, Newark, Camden) by Feb. 12 we had received 14,000 applications from fully qualified students,' a spokesman said, "and yet have room for only 3,555 in the next freshman class. The men's colleges in New Brunswick cut off applications Feb. 15."

The University of Illinois has announced it may have to turn away 2,600 would-be students at its Urbana and Chicago campuses.

Darmouth is rejecting applicants by the platoon.

In some schools, such as the University of Missouri, enrollment will be limited by a shortage of housing. In others, lack of adequate classroom facilities is a big factor.

But the biggest factor is that children born early in the post-war baby boom now are knocking on college gates.

The State University of New York, comprising 58 units scattered across the state has had to turn away students in recent years. It pointed out that it receives applications from young folks who apply simultaneously to several schools.

Convicted Developer Hunting Secretary

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Daniel Gevinson, dentist-developer convicted of submitting false bids to the Federal Housing Administration, says he is looking for a secretary whose initials "J.W." appear on the cover letter to the FHA.

Dr. Gevinson said the secretary could prove that he was not present when the letter was typed and, therefore, did not know the contents or send it to the FHA. He also said he does not know the identity of J.W."

Charles Tessmer, chief defense attorney, filed a motion Tuesday for judgment of acquittal notwithstanding the verdict, and a motion for a new trial.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes, who presided in the four-day trial, indicated she would hear the motions Friday.

MRS. M. M. O'REAR

Mrs. O'Rear Is Judge For Awards

Mrs. M. M. O'Rear of Snyder has been appointed a regional judge for the National Council of Teachers of English Achievement Awards Program.

Mrs. O'Rear served as a Texas judge for three years (1957-60) when the awards program was first begun by the National Council of Teachers of English, but had to reject an appointment in 1961 because of heavy duties in the National Amateur Press Association.

Judging committees composed of English teachers from both colleges and high schools will evaluate writing skills and literary awareness of nearly 7,000 high school participants. The program attempts to grant recognition to outstanding high school seniors for excellence in English. Finalists are announced in late November and are recommended for scholarship aid to all colleges and universities in the United States.

Texas has 17 judging teams. They select as many winners as they are allowed state representatives. Each team selects a winner and a runner-up. From the decisions of the 17 teams, 23 winners and 23 runners-up are named for Texas.

Each entry consists of a short autobiography of the nominee, one impromptu piece of writing on a subject to be designated by the NCTE, written under the supervision and submitted in longhand; and a sample of the nominee's best composition, regardless of length, type or amount of revision.

The NCTE is a professional non-profit organization of English teachers whose membership now includes more than 90,000 teachers from primary grades through graduate school.

For the winner, the big prize is the right to represent Texas in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City. She also will claim a $1,000 scholarship, a $1,750 wardrobe, a trip to Mexico City and a Casa Manana musicals contract.

Somervell's Sheriff Is Convicted

MERIDIAN, Tex. (AP) — A jury that deliberated less than an hour convicted Somervell County sheriff Paul Bone of embezzlement Tuesday and imposed the maximum sentence of 10 years in prison.

Bone's brunette wife testified at his defense earlier in the day. The sheriff broke down and cried as she spoke of his long hours' work in the dual job of sheriff and tax collector.

Bone was charged with misappropriating $6,184. He was suspended April 7 after county commissioners reported a shortage of $22,790 in his accounts.

Both Bone and his wife appeared shocked at the quick verdict and the severe sentence. Mrs. Bone said the couple's four children, aged 6 to 14, were "prepared for the worst . . . but how can you tell a child and make him understand his daddy is going to prison's" she sobbed.

The conviction was the second in 24 hours for a Texas sheriff.

Wichita County Sheriff Hammett Vance drew a probated seven - year sentence Monday after pleading guilty to forging an expense voucher. He was also ordered to repay county money he admitted taking.

It was the second trial for Bone. The first ended in a mistrial at Glen Rose.

Christmas Turkey Is No Obligation

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Christmas turkey bonus for employes is just a custom, not an obligation, a U.S. District judge has ruled.

Gobblers were given to employes of the Vertol Division of the Boeing Co. every Christmas from 1954 through 1962.

Last year the company gave up the practice and a labor union took the case to court, demanding that the company arbitrate the issue.

Judge Allen K. Grim ruled that the turkeys were not subject to arbitration.
