A smart man is one who knows what the latest Cuban street fighting is about. Our report is that everyone who has gotten close enough to learn the real issues hasn't lived to tell the tale.

It is always a little impertinent, however, to ask two Irishmen or a hundred Latins what they are scrapping about.

The world series is too long. Cuba can change presidents six times while the Giants and Senators are matching hits and runs.

From a distance, it has always seemed to us that a coal miner had rather strike than work any day.

The flying Molloons again illustrate the fact that those who never soar very high cannot fall very far.

BEVOLUTION.

Texas needs a new deal in politics. Bitter, personal battling must be ousted so that the real issues before Texans can be studied. Later, we hear it predicted that a Ferguson will be a candidate for reelection and another "vindication" platform. Jim has been indirectly accused of getting his hands into the federal relief funds. Senators Small and Woodward are making high whoppers out of the investigation and presumably will predicate their candidacies for governor and attorney general upon it. But neither these accusations nor the defense against them is a legitimate issue in a gubernatorial race. The Ferguson have had their day. They need no vindication. Since the minds of the people of Texas would be little changed by the hottest campaign. Texans can struggle along without the Ferguson, and if another Ferguson-Small-Woodward battle is inevitable if either seeks to be governor, we can exist somehow without any of them in the campaign. Issues rightly belonging to the criminal courts have no place in Texas politics. Accusations and "vindication" have produced vicious cycles of irrelevant campaigns, of which seemingly there is no end.

Not infrequently some reader takes the trouble to tell us that he disagrees with opinions expressed in this column. Usually his information differs from our information, and it is natural that the conclusions should differ. And not infrequently our readers give us warm praise because they think with us and approve our deductions. We appreciate both expressions because they show us that this column is being read.

Some readers think that, while they understand our writings, we shoot "over the heads" of many of our readers. Our evidence is to the contrary. The reader of today has been spurred to think by adversity and a multitude of perplexing things about him and in the news stories of national affairs. Give him the key to your thinking—the facts you have in mind—and he can think with you in most instances. Frequently someone says, "Put that in your column so every will see it." That's a compliment to our readers, for the fare we feed in the course of a year is not baby food. The editor's mail and reading must necessarily be broad and give a "behind the scenes" aspect to the news of the day.

Hayes Elected Legion Commander

ILLINOIS VET IS NAMED BY ACCLAMATION

PILES UP COMMANDING VOTES OVER SIX OTHERS

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—Edward A. Hayes of Decatur, Ill., today was elected national commander of the American Legion. Hayes was elected by acclamation from the floor of the legion's 15th annual convention after he had piled up a commanding vote over six other candidates for the position.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—A strengthening of the country's defense was recommended for adoption by the American Legion today.

The recommendation was made in a committee report which suggested not only that the army be brought up to its full strength of 14,000 officers and 150,000 men, but that America's navy be built up to the limits provided for by the London naval treaty.

Definite action on this and other questions of national affairs, and the election of a new national commander, were all that remained for the legion's defenders in the world of the people of Texas would be little changed by the hottest campaign.

As the time for selecting a successor to National Commander Louis Johnson drew near, all seven of the candidates seeking his place declared they were still in the race.

The Legion's committee on foreign relations declared against the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations or the World Court, with or without reservations.

The cancellation of war debts was also opposed.

The black and red drum and bugle corps of Marlboro, Mass., was victorious over 11 other finalists, including the 1932 champions of Salem, Oregon, eliminated with the Miami, Florida, and Seattle corps on a technicality.

The championship brought to the 15-piece Marlboro unit a cash prize of $1,250. Second and third prize money of $750 and $350 went to Uniontown, Pa., and La Porte, Ind., respectively.

In band contests the musicians representing the Blatz post of Milwaukee were adjudged first. First place in drill team contests went to East Lyme, Massachusetts.

Byrd Flagship Towed To Port

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 5. (AP)—Rear Admiral Rich E. Byrd's polar expedition flagship, the Bear of Oakland, reported today it was in distress off Frying Pan shoals on the North Carolina coast and later was taken into tow by a tug.

Meager reports received by the coast guard did not disclose the nature of the vessel's difficulties, but coast guardsmen here believed the craft had developed engine trouble.

Admiral Byrd is not aboard the vessel.

Visitors today were E. H. Grimes, White Deer, and Rotarian T. H. Hudspeth of El Paso.

Herbert Willis of White Deer was here last night.

DEFENDANT TELLS JURY HOW HE AND FORMER DEPUTY CONSPIRED TO BRING ABOUT BAILEY ESCAPE

GRAY'S VALUES HOLD UP WELL FOR THIS YEAR

Board of Equalization Finds Total $436,894 Under That of Last Year.

Gray county assessed valuation totaled $23,494,206 when the county board of equalization completed its work yesterday.

For several weeks, the county court had been sitting as a board of equalization at frequent intervals, assisted by Assessor F. E. Leech and the oil value assessing firm, the Thos. Y. Pickett company of Dallas.

The valuations are $436,894 less than last year. They had been expected, early this year, to be more, and there was general satisfaction that the values in the county had shrunk no more than was found to be the case.

The tax rolls will be taken to Austin by Mr. Pickett for approval of the state comptroller, then will be placed in the hands of the tax collector, T. W. Barnes. Ten days or more will likely be required for approval.

Negro Goes To Trial on Double Slaying Charge

FORT WORTH, Oct. 5. (AP)—A verbal picture of a murder scene, where a man and girl were found slain beside a lonely stretch of Samuels avenue last summer was drawn by several witnesses as the trial of Frederick Simmons, 23-year-old crippled negro, got under way in criminal district court today.

Simmons is charged with the slaying of A. S. (Pete) Michael, 33, and Geneva Cantrell, 19, and with attack on Miss Cantrell although the present trial is for the slaying of Miss Cantrell.

Simmons pleaded "not guilty" when arraigned, indicating that the defense would attempt to repudiate the negro's confession made soon after his arrest.

The double slaying is believed to have taken place some time between midnight and 6 a. m. of July 23. J. M. Huckabee, testified he saw the couple alone shortly before midnight and saw their bodies as he passed the same spot about 6 hours later.

Pastor Shot at; Reward Posted

PALESTINE, Oct. 5. (AP)—The board of deacons of the First Baptist church last night passed a resolution upholding the stand of their pastor, the Rev. Calvin Nelson, whose home was the object of pistol bullets early Tuesday, and posted a $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of the man who fired the shots.

Officers working on the case were without clues. The bullets were fired into the rooms where the minister, his wife and children slept. Rev. Nelson revealed he had received a telephone call about 30 minutes before the attack but the man claimed "wrong number" and hung up the receiver.

The minister had been a militant prohibition leader.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5. (AP)—Cotton opened easier today in very moderate trading. Liverpool was somewhat lower than due and sterling declined. First trades here showed losses of 6 to 9 points. The March position gained two points right after the start but the general market soon turned easy again, December trading at 9.76 and March at 10.06, or 8 to 9 points below yesterday's drive him mad—then came

Promised Friend He "Would Be A Rich Man"

DALLAS, Oct. 5. (AP)—Grover C. Bevil became a principal witness for the government today when he testified in the trial of himself and Tom L. Manion how he and the former deputy jailer conspired together to bring about the escape of Harvey Bailey from the Dallas county jail on Labor day.

Bevil said Manion had told him that if Bailey managed to escape, he, Manion, "would be a rich man."

No figures were named to indicate a certain amount of money.

William H. Atwell, federal judge, overruled an objection of Manion's attorneys, that Bevil was an incompetent witness, called to testify against his co-defendant with whom he was jointly indicted. Bevil had pleaded guilty at the opening of the trial. Manion pleaded not guilty.

Under questioning by Joe Jones, an assistant district attorney, Bevil said he had a telephone conversation with Manion August 27 and together they drove south of Dallas.

Cars Needed For Taking Band On Skellytown Trip

Pampa business and professional men are urged to take their cars to the high school at 5:30 o'clock today to furnish transportation for the school band to Skellytown, where it will play a concert.

The entire trip will not require more than 2 hours, possibly less. The concert will be one of a series of the band will play in this territory. Invitations are being received from many communities.

The projects are managed by the good will committees of Board of City Development and Junior chamber of commerce.

'Machine Gun' And Wife Enter Not Guilty Plea

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 5. (AP)—George "Machine Gun" Kelly and his wife Kathryn pleaded not guilty today to federal kidnapping charges based on the abduction and ransom of Charles F. Urschel, oil millionaire.

Under heavy guard the Kellys were moved by automobile from the county jail to the federal building for the arraignment. They were returned to the well-fortified jail immediately afterward.

Judge Edgar S. Vaughn refused pleas of their attorneys for a 24 hour delay in the arraignment and denied Mrs. Kelly a change of venue.

Trial of the Kellys is set for next Monday.

Kathryn Kelly, attractively dressed, smiled occasionally during the proceedings. Her husband, accused as one of the actual kidnapers of Urschel, appeared nervous.

Kelly was represented by James H. Mathers, attorney who defended Harvey Bailey in the kidnapping case, and Mrs. Kelly's attorney was John Roberts, whom she contracted while she was still a fugitive to defend her mother, Mrs. R. G. Shannon.

Malcolm Carr enrolled as a freshman in West Texas State Teachers college yesterday. Mrs. Carr, his mother, and Margaret, sister, accompanied him to Canyon.

ILLINOIS MINE TERROR BRINGS STATE TROOPS

VIOLENCE BREAKS OUT ANEW IN THREE OTHER STATES

HARRISBURG, Ill., Oct. 5. (AP)—A day and night of terror in the coal mining region brought troops to Southern Illinois today after ten men had been shot, a hotel bombed, and a railroad bridge blown up.

The outbreak was due to the militant acts of pickets friendly to the progressive miners who tried to stop work in a mine manned by United Mine workers.

After bombing several homes of miners and firing on citizens, the pickets formed a 15-mile line around the No. 43 mine of the Peabody Coal company and shot at everyone going toward the mine.

State Files Suit To Enforce Gas Rate Reduction

AUSTIN, Oct. 5. (AP)—The attorney general's department filed suit today in Travis county district court against the Lone Star Gas company to enforce an order of the Texas railroad commission reducing rates to consumers of natural gas served by the company.

Eibert Hooper, first assistant attorney general, said the action was taken "not only to enforce the order of the commission but also to protect the jurisdiction granted the district courts of Travis county to pass upon the reasonableness of orders of the railroad commission."

Stoves Needed For Destitute

A number of the city destitute, particularly children, were cold this early part of this week because they had no stoves. Anytime now, a cold wave is expected, and those living in heatless houses will really suffer.

In order to be prepared for cold weather, Mrs. W. H. Davis of the welfare board, sent out a call today for gas stoves. Persons having gas stoves in their basements, attics or sheds, not in use, are asked to help keep the needy warm this winter.

Jones' Reply On Laying of Corner Stone Is Awaited

A telegram from Congressman Marvin Jones, confirming his engagement to be here for the laying of the corner stone in the post-office building, was being awaited today. Mr. Jones was believed en route to the Panhandle from Washington.

The stone will be laid by Mr. Jones, Mayor W. A. Bratton, and Postmaster D. E. Cecil. The date has tentatively been set for October 12 at 10:30 a. m.

The high school band will play for the ceremony and civic clubs will merge their next week's luncheons to honor the congressman. The place of the luncheon has not been announced.

House Approves Truck Bill

Falls, who sponsored the bill in the upper house, said that the fee on small trucks would be reduced from $33 to $16.50 annually.

Senator W. R. Foster of Waco had the bill amended to make certain that farmer's trucks would not escape taxation entirely. He said he believed that under a recent interpretation of the present law by the San Antonio court of civil appeals, farmers were exempt from buying

NEW YORK BLANKED TODAY BY WHITEHILL WHILE MATES GET 4 RUNS OFF HIS RIVAL

FRED FITZSIMMONS IS HIT HARD EARLY IN GAME

GRIFFITH STADIUM, WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—Lefty Earl Whitehill put Washington back into the world series today as he shut out the Giants 4 to 0 in the third game with the Senators' big bat rining loudly for the first time. President Roosevelt was among the crowd of about 30,000 that saw the Senators win for the first time in three games.

GRIFFITH STADIUM, WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—Cloudy skies and intermittent drizzle marked the resumption of world series play today in the third game between the Giants and Senators. The weather improved simultaneously with the arrival of President Roosevelt at 1:30 p. m. and the field was cleared.

The players of both teams lined up in front of the presidential box while the army band played the Star Spangled Banner. President Clark Griffith of the home club and Baseball Commissioner Landis were among the first to shake hands with the president. There was a wild grab for the ball which Mr. Roosevelt threw out. It finally fell into the possession of Heinie Manush, left fielder of the Senators.

The opposing pitchers, Fred Fitzsimmons of the Giants, and Earl Whitehill of the Senators took some extra time to warm up because of the delay caused by the rain and the opening ceremonies.

The huge bleacher stands in the outfield were barely half filled and the crowd was well short of a sell-out.

A MODEL FOR REAL LIQUOR CONTROL

Repeal of the 18th amendment is likely to give our capacity for providing ourselves with decent government one of the most revealing tests it has ever had.

When you look over the various liquor control schemes that have been suggested, you find that they all share one factor; each one depends for its success on an honest, efficient, alert and intelligent set of officials to enforce.

Here's a sample:

The liquor control law of one of the Canadian provinces, which provides for retail stores where liquor is sold in packages, has one extremely sensible provision. No storekeeper is supposed to sell liquor to confirmed drunkards, to men who are prone to spend an undue proportion of their earnings on booze or to characters who are apt to make public nuisances of themselves when in their cups.

The liquor control commission checks up on its storekeepers very easily. It simply scans the police records for their districts. If any district shows a rise in drunkenness, a spread of poverty, an increase in crimes or any similar symptom indicating that too much liquor is being sold there, the license of the storekeeper in that district is revoked forthwith.

Every storekeeper knows that he will be out of a job if he fails to use good judgment in making his sales. Every storekeeper, consequently, has the best of incentives for running his place as it ought to be run.

Now this is almost a fool-proof scheme, well worth copying in the United States. As much as any such plan can, it makes social considerations paramount in its handling of the liquor traffic.

But no one needs to think about it very long to realize that it would be no good whatever if its supervision and enforcement were in the hands of political hacks whose first loyalty was to the machine which gave them their jobs.

Let a Tammany, a Vane machine or any similar outfit pick your commission, and your fool-proof plan is as full of holes as a screen door.

And the same thing is true of any liquor control scheme that can possibly be devised. All of them will rest, ultimately, on the local governmental unit. They will give our ability to govern ourselves an acid test.

Prosperity is a dangerous thing. It kills the thinking instinct of the people. Readers do not wish provocative editorials when things are humming. Liberalism in the Press at such times is almost treasonable. "Don't rock the boat" was the attitude of readers in 1929. It has been rightly said that interest in editorial opinion goes up when carloadings go down. The last two years have been happy ones from an editorial standpoint. Readers have been eager for interpretations. They have not been afraid to junk timeworn fallacies. They have kept newspaper circulations high when even bread was scarce.

The editorial pages and columns of America have been safety valves during a depression which, in many another country, has developed radical oppression. The theme in America is to ease the burdens of the underprivileged. We have thought and worked together. More recently we have had a great editorial writer in the White House—an articulate president who may make mistakes, but we will know his thought processes as he makes them.

—STRIKERS

Persons traveling the highways without knowledge of any trouble were shot at by pickets. There were some 1,500 pickets and they would not allow doctors or ambulances to enter the line where wounded miners lay for hours.

Infantry Arrives

The first company of the 130th infantry, national guard, arrived at 10:30 a. m. (CST) and marched to the Peabody mine where 1,500 Progressive pickets had besieged a score or more mine guards and United Mine workers all night.

At least ten casualties were reported, five of them among the men imprisoned at the mine, three tourists and two United member who tried to go to work at the mine today.

Five more companies of guardsmen were en route.

The fighting was concentrated along state highway 13 from Harrisburg to Marion. The mine, which is half a mile outside Harrisburg, was being worked by United Mine workers from Williamson county.

The trouble has been brewing for several weeks. It came to a head yesterday, when six bombs were exploded in Harrisburg. Two more tremendous blasts last night destroyed a Big Four railroad bridge, cutting off the only railroad communication with the mine, and the Grand hotel in Eldorado.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5. (AP)—Violence broke out anew today in the Tri-State industrial area as strikers spread and mine pickets tightened their lines, grimly determined to strangle production.

Two men were clubbed by pickets outside the Spang-Chaffin Seamless Tube company's plant in Ambridge.

Several hundred pickets prevented 600 men from going to work at the Latrobe Electric Steel company's mill in Latrobe.

In Greensburg, two men and two women were arrested for creating a disturbance at the gates of the Walworth company's plant. State troopers, armed with riot sticks and tear gas guns, opened a lane through 1,000 pickets and about 150 company's normal force of 1,100 entered. There was no widespread back-to-the-mines movement today, but about 500 men resumed work in three pits in the Burgettstown district.

An elderly man tried to get thru the picket line at Ambridge and was felled by a club. He apparently was not seriously hurt. Another worker was clubbed while trying to leave the plant.

Pickets stormed a box car taking about 50 men into the mill but were repulsed by a tear gas barrage. Several hours later pickets defeated efforts to unload three more box cars of men by jamming railroad switch blocks with railroad ties.

Mrs. Sallie McAllister of McLean has been admitted to Pampa hospital for medical treatment.

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today freed on conditional pardon two state convicts who were doing time for violation of the liquor laws.

They were Elmer Whitlock, Lamar county, two years, convicted in March, 1933, and V. S. Cardwell, Taylor county, four years, convicted in October 1930.

Byrd Shannon of Paducah, sent up from Baylor and Tarrant counties, in the former for murder, also received a conditional pardon. The governor's proclamation did not describe the offense he was convicted of in Tarrant county, nor did it mention the term of years he was sentenced for. Shannon was charged in connection with the murder of Troy Taylor of Paducah.

A general parole was given Virgil Matson, Washington county, murder, five years, convicted in October, 1931.

The White Sox blasted Guy Bush for four hits and three runs in the second inning yesterday and it proved enough to give them the game. Manager Grimm's Clubs hit Sad Sam Jones for six hits, getting a run in the fourth and ninth innings. Bush and Nelson allowed nine hits.

Insane Man Who Wrote Book Dies

VINITA, Okla., Oct. 5 (AP)—Marle Woodson, the "man who won and lost," died early today at the state hospital for the insane here after long days of intense suffering.

The case of this former newspaperman, who came to the hospital more than two years ago from Tulsa for mental disorder occasioned by dipsomania, attracted wide attention when he wrote a brilliant book from the viewpoint of an inmate. Woodson later recovered and was released. Some weeks ago, however, he suffered an arm injury and disease shattered his health. He returned to

FIRST SESSION IS UNDER WAY AT CITY HALL

MISS YATES BEGINS HER TALKS IN THE HAPPY KITCHEN

Miss Beulah Mackey Yates, cookery expert, the Pampa Daily News, and cooperating merchants are welcoming Gray county women this afternoon to the first session of the 1933 cooking school.

Miss Yates arrived yesterday for her first visit to Pampa, and as she prepared to open her classes and meet Pampa women, expressed her liking for the city and arrangements that have been made for the school.

The stage of the city auditorium has been transformed into a model kitchen, where for three afternoons women of this section will hear the latest in tested recipes, kitchen short-cuts, and meal planning helps.

Gifts for Visitors

Miss Yates' pleasing personality dominates the "Happy Kitchen," and women who attend the daily sessions will hear a woman who not only moves competently about her household tasks, but likes it. The chief aim of the school is to transfer this sense of kitchen romance to her hearers.

Gifts from Pampa merchants and national manufacturers who are bringing the school here will be presented each day to the women who register.

A new feature of the News school this year will be provision for the attendance of colored women. A place will be reserved for them, and all who wish to attend are invited.

CHILDREN IN NEED OF CLOTHING MAY BE FURNISHED

THE THRIFT room clothing exchange for school children is open, reports Mrs. J. H. Hulme, general chairman appointed from the city Parent-Teacher council, and will be available Friday to care for students who need clothes.

This room, in the junior high building, is sponsored by the council this year. School children in need of clothing will be outfitted from it instead of from the welfare board clothing room as formerly.

Children who have not started to school for lack of clothing, and those who need warmer garments for cool days may come to the room and receive suitable clothes.

Committees in Charge

Welfare committees from the various Parent-Teacher associations have prepared the room and arranged the clothing and will continue through the year to be in charge.

Mrs. Hulme, representing Junior High association, is assisted by the following welfare chairmen from other associations: Mrs. Hugh Isbell, high school; Mrs. W. R. Martin, Sam Houston; Miss Josephine Thomas, Horace Mann; Mrs. J. M. Miller, Baker; Mrs. J. F. Curtis, Woodrow Wilson; Mrs. W. R. Taylor, Merten; Mrs. J. M. Daugherty, Hoover.

Mrs. C. P. Buckler and Mrs. J. B. Lawson were in charge of furnishing the room. Clothing racks were made by boys of vocational classes directed by J. L. Lester. Lumber for the racks was donated by the White House lumber company, Foxworth-Galbraith lumber yard, and Merrick-Boyd lumber company.

Workers Take Turns. Clothing in the welfare room was carried to the school building by Eldridge truck company, which donated the service.

Miss Mary Ford is in charge of the room. She is being assisted in repacking and arranging the clothing by committees from city associations. Members of Baker P-T. A. are working this week; a group from Horace Mann association will be on duty next week, and the other groups will help in turn.

Mrs. J. P. Maddux was in charge of clothing drives made in each school. More garments will be needed, and any donations of usable school clothing for children of any age will be appreciated, chairmen say.

J. M. Hooper of Dallas is here on business for a few days.

Jangled nerves bring words that hurt

Suppose a hidden phonograph were taking down your words all during the day. How often would you be embarrassed and shocked at the things you may have said under the stress of jangled nerves? A sharp word, a fit of temper, an unfair accusation—these hurt your friends and your loved ones—and they hurt you, too.

Watch your nerves. Get your full amount of sleep every night. Eat regularly and sensibly. Find time for recreation. And smoke Camels—for Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on your nerves.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Until the city health department took action, the tenant in apartment No. 2 was left strictly undisturbed. Attempt To Ride Nigger Boy To Be Sunday at Sayre

An attempt will be made to ride Nigger Boy, claimed to be the only living horse today in the same class as Midnight, at the rodeo attraction in Sayre, Okla., Sunday afternoon. The big rodeo and special riding event will be staged by Lon L. Blanscet of Pampa.

Frankie Martz of Chicago will be in Sayre to make the ride. A special chute is being built for the occasion. Nigger Boy, owned by Butler Brothers of Elk City, and Ginger, owned by Mr. Blanscet, were the only two horses at the big rodeo in Sayre last month that were never ridden the full distance. The wonder horse is a huge black about the size of Midnight, the horse that has never been ridden. Ginger is a smaller horse but one of the most dangerous in the game. Mr. Blanscet secured Ginger two years ago at Siloam Springs.

A full rodeo program will be staged besides the special events. It is probable that some rider will attempt to "board" Ginger the same afternoon. Admission to the big attraction will be 25 cents and 40 cents.

Outrageous Fortune

—By PATRICIA WENTWORTH

Synopsis: The question whether "Jimmy Riddell" is really Jimmy Riddell or Jim Randal has not been settled to Caroline Leigh's satisfaction. Caroline is Jim's cousin. Nesta Riddell says the man is her husband. She has told him he has both stolen the Van Berg emeralds and shot their owner; he has lost his memory and does not know. Caroline has tracked Nesta and "Jimmy" to Ledington, and is talking with Nesta on the doorstep.

Chapter 14 CAROLINE'S PLEA

Caroline felt as if there were strong invisible bars between them. She lifted her chin and took a step forward. All the bolts and bars in the world weren't going to keep her from Jim.

"May I come in?"

Nesta stood where she was, the door half closed.

"I'm Mrs. Riddell—but I don't know who you are."

"I'm Caroline Leigh. I've got a message from the Elston cottage hospital. May I come in?"

Nesta Riddell had no intention of talking about the Elston cottage hospital at Min's front door. She stepped back, let Caroline pass her and, shutting the door, showed the way into the parlor. Caroline turned to face her, flushed with success. There beside the hearth, was the coalscuttle, as bright as a new penny. She held out the bill.

"I think you dropped this bill. The nurse asked me to give it to you."

Nesta glanced at it, frowned, and crushed it in her hand.

"Thank you—you needn't have troubled; it didn't matter."

"Oh, but I was coming to see you anyhow."

"You were coming to see me? What for?"

Caroline stayed silent. Her feeling of success drained away. She felt as if she were on the edge of saying something very important. Once she had said it, she would not be able to take it back. Yet she must say it. Only what it was that she must say she did not really know.

Then she said it.

"Where's Jim?"

Nesta's hand closed hard upon the crumpled bill. Jim wasn't here, thank goodness. It was no more than ten minutes since he had barged out of the house. Jim! She'd teach other women to come after her husband. She repeated the name in a most offensive voice.

"Jim?"

Caroline colored brightly.

"Mrs. Riddell—please—I must see him—because I think he is my cousin, Jim Randal. The nurse said—"

"What does she know about it? He's my husband."

"Are you sure?"

Nesta laughed angrily.

"What do you suppose?"

"The nurse said—"

"And I say, what does she know about it?"

"Please let me speak. The nurse said there was a piece of letter in his pocket with the signature Caroline. I'm Caroline, and I sent him a letter signed just like that, so you see—"

Nesta's manner changed. She smoothed away her frown and said in her best company manner:

"It's a pity you've had so much trouble for nothing. The letter was from a Miss Caroline Bussell, who is a cousin of mine."

Dejection flowed in upon Caroline like a fog. It all came out so pat—Miss Caroline Bussell—a cousin of mine. . . . She couldn't have invented a name like Caroline Bussell all in one flashing instant.

She lifted her head as if to get above the fog and asked:

"Have you got the letter here?"

"No, I haven't. I don't keep old torn bits of paper."

"If I could have seen it—"

Caroline very earnestly. She was pressing her hands together, palm to palm, and finger to finger. Her eyes under her little brown tweed cap, the bright clear brown of peaty water, gazed pleadingly at Nesta. Her hair was the same bright color. Nesta did not answer in words. She smiled a little.

"If you would lend me a pencil—if I could write my name—you'd know if it was the same."

"Do you think I don't know my own husband?" said Nesta.

What did one say to that—what could one say? Of course she must know her own husband. Caroline's hope was a prickled bubble. She had made a fool of herself to a woman with a rasping voice and eyes like bits of tin.

She began to go slowly towards the door. She was wearing a loose brown tweed coat. She hugged it round her as if she were cold.

Nesta stood aside to let her pass, but just on the threshold Caroline turned, her color changing brightly.

"Have you got a photograph of your husband?"

"No, I haven't."

"Not even a snapshot?"

"I've said no, haven't I?"

Caroline rested her hand upon the jamb of the door. Something in her would not take Nesta's no; she couldn't tell why. Eager words came hurrying to her lips.

"Mrs. Riddell—I don't feel as if I could go away without seeing him. Won't you try and understand how I feel about it? It's such a strong feeling—I can't shake it off. If I go away like this, I shall keep on thinking about him, and about my letter—the one I wrote and signed Caroline. And I shall keep on thinking, 'Suppose it was Jim.' But if I were to see him, I should know."

The hard color rose in Nesta's cheeks.

"Are you calling me a liar?" she said. "Because if you are, I've had enough. Jim Riddell's my husband, and I've got my marriage lines to prove it. I don't know who you are, and I don't care. Calling yourself a chap's cousin's as good a way of getting off as any other—and you may be one of Jim's girls, or you may be touched in the head."

"But this is my brothers' house and I can do with your room instead of your company—coming here after another woman's husband and giving me the lie about him to my face! Let me tell you that you'll not see him, not if you were to stay here all day. He's got something better to do than sit about at home waiting for his lady friends to drop in. He's got our keep to earn and a job to go to. And I'll thank you to be off out of this."

Caroline's hand dropped from the door. She looked taller. She was pale.

She said, "Good morning, Mrs. Riddell," and walked out of the house and down the gravel path to the car.

Nesta Riddell had time to wonder what had happened to Jim during the hours that followed. When at last an uncertain step sounded on the gravel path, she ran to the door, anxiety flaring into anger.

"Where have you been?" she began, and then stopped as he lurched past her into the parlor.

She thought at first that he was drunk, but it was fatigue that sent him reeling to the nearest chair.

"Where have you been?" she repeated. "You look all in. What d'you want to go walking about till you're fit to drop? Six hours you've been gone, and you couldn't have had a bite or a drop, because you hadn't a copper on you. Hold on and I'll get you something—Min's got a kettle on."

She brought him cold meat and vegetables and a cup of strong tea, and followed up the mess with bread and cheese. When he had eaten and she had taken the things away, she came back and looked at him sharply.

"Been a bit of a fool, haven't you? What d'you want to go flinging off like that? You've been ill, you know—and you get up out of bed and go walking about for the best part of seven hours on an empty stomach! Batty, I call it!"

He was lying back in one of the red and blue chairs, his face sharpened, his eyes fixed and heavy. He had the look of an exhaustion which was something more than physical. His body had moved mechanically while thoughts which he could not out-distance pursued and threatened him.

They drove him, and he was driven without hope of escape. He did not know where he had been; only as he lifted the latch and felt his feet upon the new gravel Tom Williams had laid down, fatigue came upon him like an insupportable weight. The food had done him good. Now there was a dullness on him. It was like the fog. He frowned at the recollection of the fog. "You'd better get to bed," said Nesta briskly. And presently he was in bed and sinking, sinking down, into the depths of sleep. (Copyright, 1933, J. B. Lippincott Company)

NRA PROGRAM WILL CONTINUE WITH EMPHASIS UPON HELPING BUSINESS MEN OBTAIN TRADE

America is ready to swing into another great movement to combat the former unemployment, and for the next twelve weeks a nation-wide program will be under way to speed up the momentum of the business machine. Just how these far-flung plans will be carried out was described today by C. H. Walker, chairman of the NRA committee in Pampa.

"This project quite naturally follows the blue eagle campaign," he said, "which has captured the imagination and the enthusiasm of the entire nation as nothing has done since the stirring war days of 1917 and 1918. The blue eagle drive, including the codification activities of the NRA, has resulted in placing more than 90 per cent of the business of the country under the president's agreement. More than 2,000,000 workers have been reemployed and millions of dollars have been added to the weekly pay envelope of those who toil. All this has spelled tremendous happiness for millions of homes and has completely changed the economic outlook."

"But it is to be remembered that this addition to the buying power of the public has also placed burdens on business because of the increased payrolls. Business must be speeded up in order to make it possible for these loyal employers who are operating under the blue eagle to continue to maintain their added labor costs. Then there are still many millions of men still out of work and jobs must be found for them. Something like 3,500,000 families are now receiving public relief, and, with winter coming on, this number will be greatly increased unless business in general is stepped up to a much faster clip than is the case at present."

Mr. Walker then explained the methods by which it is hoped these objects will be attained.

"The activities will be based on the logic of our slogan 'NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.' You will note. We are not making use of the word 'campaign.' Our plan calls for a logical systematic program to be carried on between now and the holidays with the sole object of stimulating a well-ordered business acceleration. There is to be no emotional appeal, but rather an appeal will be made to the calm, sober judgment of the country. Of course, the element of self-interest will enter into it. For it is just about as sure as tomorrow's sunrise that price levels are going to rise. Every possible effort is now being made to put up commodity prices and every index shows the upward trend has arrived. Hence, it is simply a matter of self-interest for people to buy what they can at this time rather than wait till prices go higher."

"There is scarcely a family in Pampa or a corporation either, for that matter, that has not been putting off purchases. In the homes furniture and carpets and rugs have been used that should have been discarded long ago. Repapering, remodeling and refurnishing have been put off from month to month. Members of the household have allowed their wardrobes to become depleted. In the case of factories and business houses, equipment has been allowed to run down and a general program of replenishment and rehabilitation is long overdue. Hence, we feel that we are well within the bounds of good business judgment when we say 'NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.'"

"As to our plans here in Pampa, we are keeping our old blue eagle organization intact. There will be a lot of work for all of us to do as the program advances. In the first place, every member of our committee is to be a salesman for this great movement. During this twelve weeks of increased effort they will spread the gospel of 'NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.' We realize that an organization of loyal men and women such as we have here in Pampa, thoroughly imbued with the idea of doing everything possible to help stimulate business and end the depression, can make themselves a tremendously powerful force."

"We want the business men of the city who have signed up under the blue eagle and who have been so fine in their cooperation with Uncle Sam in this great effort, to know that we intend to do everything we can to stimulate trade for them. We believe that with an effort of this kind going on in every community of the United States, business can really be lifted out of the rut and the happy days of prosperity brought back to our land.

"We want the cooperation of everybody—the press, the pulpit, the schools, the radio, the motion picture houses, and the various clubs and civic organizations and, of course, the general public. We are not going to ask anyone to make any great sacrifices. We are going to conduct this effort along sound, practical lines and we are not going to urge anyone to spend money that they really can't afford to spend."

"The government has organized this program in order to give the people of the country a chance to pull themselves out of the depression. Washington will cooperate with us in many ways but it is up to us to do our part. If we do our part and every other community in the United States does its part, the depression that has hung on now like a plague for the last four years will soon be a thing of the past."

The program, it was stated, will begin officially Monday, October 9.

POLICE PROBE PLOT TO SCAR ACTOR'S FACE

ALICE WHITE DENIES
SHE WAS SLAPPED
BY WARBURTON

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5. (P)—A reported plot to disfigure John Warburton, film actor, so that he could no longer appear in motion pictures, was to be considered by the Los Angeles grand jury today. Witnesses subpoenaed included Alice White, featured film actress; Sidney Bartlett, her fiancé; Dave Miller, former Chicago boxing referee; and Martin Block and Russell B. Brown, film extras held on robbery charges.

Detective Lieutenants S. S. Stone, Earl Kynette and W. M. Robinson said Block and Brown signed a statement asserting Bartlett told them he wished to have Warburton's face disfigured because the English actor had slapped Miss White and purportedly made complimentary remarks about her.

"It's a lot of rot," said Bartlett. "It's absurd and ridiculous," said Miss White.

The reputed confession said Block and Brown were responsible for the recent attack upon Warburton during which he was robbed of $25. It added the robbery was only incidental to the beating and asserted they were paid $50 for battering the actor. The pair said they understood part of the money came from Miss White, a former friend of Warburton.

"Every person in my profession is always open to humiliating and distressing charges," said Miss White, "but this is the most dastardly attack of the kind I have ever heard."

Bartlett said, "I am man enough to fight my own battles."

Detectives reported Warburton suspected some sinister motive behind the attack upon him and identified Brown and Block as his assailants.

Miller was named by the arrested men as having introduced Block and Bartlett.

Roosevelt Will Toss Ball Today In World Series

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (P)—President Roosevelt's promise to unlimber his throwing arm in a ball-tossing curtain raiser for the shift of world series battle scenes to the green of Griffith stadium today touched a spur to the flagging enthusiasm of Washington's baseball fandom.

Despite early clouds that held at least a threat of possibly dampening such a spirit as has survived two straight defeats by the New York Giants, there were lines at the box office during the morning.

The president gave word after his arrival here from New York today that he would occupy the bunting-draped box set aside for him and members of his personal and official family. Among those expected in the presidential party were Postmaster General Farley and Henry Bruere, president of the

WILLIAM VEECK, PRESIDENT OF CHICAGO CUBS, DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

DEATH CAUSED BY AN ATTACK OF LEUCEMIA

AN EXCESS OF WHITE CORPUSCLES IN BLOOD FATAL

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—William Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs, died at 7:45 a. m. (Central Standard time) today at St. Luke's hospital where he had been suffering from leucemia, an excess of white corpuscles in the blood.

The death of the veteran baseball official occurred shortly after his physician, Dr. Leo C. Clowes, said his condition had taken a definite turn for the worse.

Veeck entered the hospital several days ago and his condition was considered critical from the start. Oxygen was administered yesterday when his difficulty in breathing caused his heart to be taxed and his temperature to rise.

During his illness Mrs. Veeck, William L. Veeck, Jr., and Miss Margaret Veeck took turns watching at the bedside.

RADCLIFF IS ELECTED HEAD OF GRAY HILLS

GOLF CLUB AT LEFORS SELECTS FIRST OFFICERS

Raymond Radcliff has been elected president of the Gray Hills Golf club which was built this last summer and which is in wonderful condition at present. Guy Barritt was elected vice-president and Ben H. Williams, secretary-treasurer.

Gray county's new golf course is located three miles west of Lefors and a quarter mile south of the Phillips Big Gray gasoline plant. It was built through the efforts of oil companies in that section of the field. The Combs-Worley interests and Silor Faulkner assisted in the project by supplying the location and sand and gravel.

WITH THE HARVESTERS

By HARRY E. HOARE

We just have to forget football with this wild and woolly world scene going on. The Giants are sitting on top of the world with two wins and a good chance to end the series in another two or three games. The NEWS is giving a call by ball account on its electric score board, and to make the game more clear and realistic, Sam Fenberg is explaining the plays over a loud speaker built and connected by H. E. Kreiger Jr., and Herman Patrick. Hundreds of fans heard and "saw" yesterday's exciting game.

But coming back to football. We find the Harvesters working like Trojans in preparation for their game Saturday afternoon in Big Spring. The boys went through a stiff scrimmage yesterday afternoon and were scheduled to top off things with a light workout this afternoon. They will leave by car and bus tomorrow morning for Big Spring.

It looks like another "Big Three" race this year. Plainview is definitely out of the race following a 60 to 0 loss to Amarillo. Borger doesn't look so powerful in early season games. True, Borger defeated White Deer 38 to 0 and came back to beat Spearman 38 to 6. They have yet to step up against stiff opposition. Amarillo has the best prospects in many years, and Lubbock is well on the way to give any team stiff competition. Pampa has the material if it can be developed in time.

A water hazard with a carry of 115 yards and another hole with two draws, one in front of the tee box and the other in front of the green, are two stiff holes. Two short holes also are mean to even the best golfers. The fairways are in excellent condition and the greens are fast and even.

The public will be welcomed to play the course at all times. Mondays and Thursdays will be set aside as ladies' days. A ladies' tournament is being planned and the winner will receive a cup. The men's team is open to challenge.

The president has named the following committees:

Greens—W. R. Barritt, chairman. Scott Hall, Guy Barritt, and Bill Walters.

Rules and Regulations—Bill Walters, chairman, Frank Ferguson, W. Gilbert and M. L. H. Baze.

Tournament—B. H. Williams, chairman, "Pockets" Flynn, and E. J. Sanders.

Membership—L. S. Bridge, chairman, John House, John H. Rickard, Glenn Pool, and W. K. Ringgold.

Ladies' Tournament—Mrs. John House, chairman, Mrs. John Shannon, Mrs. Bill Walters, and Mrs. R. A. Tindall.

LEFORS WILL BATTLE IRISH FRIDAY NIGHT

GAME WILL BE PLAYED AT SHAMROCK UNDER LIGHTS

LEFORS, Oct. 5.—The Lefors Pirates will meet their first real test of the 1933 football season when they play the strong Shamrock Irishmen at Shamrock Friday night.

The Pirates have run rough shod over their weaker opponents this season and the real strength of their team is not known. In Shamrock, the Pirates will meet a foe that is proven, a team that has displayed a strong offense and a great defense. Shamrock has played three games to date, having defeated the Wheeler Mustangs 52 to 0, tied Elk City, Okla., 0 to 0 and lost to the strong Sayre, Okla., team, 6 to 0.

The Pirates have put in a week of strenuous work in preparation for this game and will go into the fray with their full strength. Coaches Duncan and Hill have been devoting the larger part of their time to offensive work, mostly blocking. They realize that the Irish have a team capable of scoring on most class B teams and that the game Friday night will be a battle in which any kind of a trick must be used in order to score.

Lefors will use a back field that is fast, and has shown some great blocking ability thus far this season. In Bagwell, the Pirates have a full back that is big and fast and who has the ability to block. He is the Pirate of greatest offensive power.

Williams, Wilson, Combs, and Hall are the halves. Williams and Wilson are big, while Combs and Hall are somewhat smaller, but possess speed. Combs is a natural open field runner. At quarter still, Walter and Robertson are midgets. On these eight backs will the ball carrying depend.

The Pirates boast a strong class

Gray Allotment For Wheat Will Be Investigated

Gray county is seeking a wheat allotment of 142 bushels per acre, based on the average for the last three years, it was stated today by Ralph Thomas, county agent.

The federally assigned allotment, based on the census reports, is 117 bushels. The local contention is that the census was inaccurate. An investigator will be sent here.

Mr. Thomas and his family returned last night from Pottsboro, where they attended the funeral of an uncle of Mr. Thomas.

FREE GATE AT GORILLA GAME IS ANNOUNCED

WHITE DEER TEAM TO PLAY KELLEY'S CHARGES

The only football game in this section tomorrow afternoon will be at Harvester park when White Deer will come to Pampa to play Coach Harry Kelley's Gorillas at 4 o'clock. There will be no admission and every football fan in the city is urged to be on hand to give the future Harvesters a boost.

Coach Kelley is being assisted in his work by E. N. Dennard, Trinity, new teacher here. The two coaches have 35 boys in uniform and "their hands full" as they express it. They have divided the squad into three teams, and competition is stiff.

Gaston Harbough is still confined to his home with injuries received last Saturday when the Gorillas opened the season with a 12 to 6 win from Miami. A big Miami tackle crashed on Harbough's knee and the injury is so bad that he will probably be out of the game for several weeks. Skeet Wise is replacing Harbough at center.

The boys have showed marked progress this week and coaches announced themselves well pleased after a hard scrimmage yesterday afternoon. White Deer has a husky team that should prove stiff competition. Coach C. B. Witt has several veterans back this year and his newcomers are learning fast, he writes.

C. B. Swanner of Dallas is a Pampa visitor for a few days.

TWENTY BOYS LEAVE FRIDAY

Marbaugh, Mackie, Dunaway Not Able To Scrimmage; Big Spring Is Next

Coach Odus Mitchell will take only 20 Harvesters to Big Spring tomorrow morning. The team will leave early by bus. It will be the first game away from home this season and against a team the Harvesters have never met. The team will also be away from home next Friday, when they go to Shawnee, Okla. The game will be played Saturday.

The team went through a two-hour scrimmage yesterday afternoon. The coaches caught the boys loafing and it was just too bad for them. It was just dark when the tired, but wise Harvesters limped off Harvester park to take a shower and get home to supper and bed. Miles Marbaugh was in bed with a cold and Harold Gregory was out with an injured neck. Leslie Sartin is still unable to play because of his injured knee. Hazel Mackie was hobbling with a bad knee, and Bill Dunaway's ankle was still swollen from the Oklahoma City game. It is expected that all but Sartin will be able to play Saturday.

The team worked hard all week on blocking and an added offensive. Coaches are not exactly satisfied with the progress made, but realize that the team made great progress last week and had a hard game Friday.

The same team that started the game against the Oklahoma City Indians will probably be called to take the field in Big Spring. The boys have been clicking well and are getting plays down better.

Power in the backfield is still needed but the material is available and a well rounded team should be ready for the conference season. Members of the squad who will make the trip tomorrow have not been selected. The team will be accompanied to Big Spring by Olin E. Hinkle, managing editor of The NEWS.

Bob Stout of Amarillo spent the day in Pampa.

W. F. Stevenson of St. Louis arrived here yesterday on business.
