Nine Killed At Grade Crossing

This is the remains of a pickup truck in which nine persons were killed Saturday, after it was struck by a freight train near Maxton, N.C. All the victims, members of a Lumbee Indian baseball team, were believed from the Maxton area. Mangled bodies were strewn over the track. Angush Blue, 31, of Maxton, was taken to a nearby Lurinburg hospital in critical condition with head and chest injuries. He was the sole survivor and believed to be driving the truck. (AP WIREPHOTO)

U. S. Jets Score Deepest Strike

Two More MIG Fighters Downed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force Phantom jets, supporting a bombing strike deep in North Viet Nam, knocked down a pair of attacking Communist MIG fighters with air-to-air missiles Saturday, a U.S. spokesman reported. Other Air Force planes made their deepest strike yet into the North.

CANNON BURSTS

The U.S. spokesman said the MIGs — identified by the U.S. pilots as Korean War vintage MIG17s — pounced on the flight of four F4C Phantoms and fired cannon bursts at two of them. The MIG fire was off the target and the Phantom pilots countered with two missiles that hit home.

The MIGs were presumed to have been North Vietnamese.

The bag brought to five the number of MIGs claimed by U.S. pilots in the Vietnamese war. U.S. Navy Phantom pilots downed two MIGs June 17 about 80 miles south of Hanoi and pilots of propeller-driven Navy Skyraiders downed one of two MIGs three days later.

PROBABLE KILL

U.S. Navy pilots have a "probable" MIG kill to their credit. This resulted from an air clash near Red China's Hainan Island April 9. Four Navy Phantoms encountered four MIGs in that fight and pilots said one of the MIGs was afire when it vanished in heavy clouds.

The Air Force Phantoms — among the fastest planes in the U.S. arsenal — were flying cover for six U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs attacking the Sen Yen ammunition dump late in the afternoon.

The spokesmen said all the American planes returned safely. They said the raid on Sen Yen resulted in five buildings destroyed and two damaged.

OTHER ACTION

In other air action, four F105 jets destroyed two bridges and five buildings in an ammunition dump 85 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Planes from the U.S. Carrier Coral Sea carried out two other strikes.

In one of these, two Skyraiders hit seven targets on runs that ranged from 85 to 210 miles south of Hanoi, the Communist capital. U.S. military spokesmen said the planes damaged bridges, bridge approaches, buildings and lighters.

Ten jet Skyhawks carried out the other Navy attack — on a military barracks 85 miles south of Hanoi, spokesmen said. The pilots reported two buildings destroyed.

Ground action apparently was light. A U.S. spokesman said Vietnamese forces killed 13 guerrillas and captured a score more in an operation 35 miles south of Saigon in Go Cong Province. A U.S. helicopter gunner was killed in the assault.

U.S. officials issued a final report on the D-Zone operation that ended Friday. It said U.S., Australian and Vietnamese troops found 51 Viet Cong bodies and estimated that in all 150 guerrillas had been killed and 200 wounded. The Viet Cong frequently carry away their dead and wounded. American losses were listed as 10 men killed and 42 wounded.

CORE Leader To Issue Call For Marchers

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said Saturday he would issue a call for more CORE workers in other states to come here to help in the civil rights struggle.

"This does not mean they will come in thousands," Farmer said, "maybe nearer in hundreds."

POLICE BRUTALITY

Farmer's announcement came a few hours after a federal district judge halted city officials from interfering with civil rights forces spearheading demonstrations here. Farmer said a march would be held Sunday to protest "police brutality."

Meanwhile, Negroes and whites clashed twice briefly in the tense downtown area where civil rights workers stepped up picketing activity.

One scuffle came when two whites emerged from a truck and began arguing with a Negro who was not a picket.

BLOWS

They exchanged blows before state troopers rushed in and arrested all three on charges of disturbing the peace.

Police declined to identify them.

In another brief clash, Delton Graves, 29, a white man, was booked with disturbing the peace by fighting with a 14-year-old Negro. The Negro boy was taken away from the area and then released without charges.

Legal action involving the Bogalusa situation took place in New Orleans.

INJUNCTION

Judge Herbert W. Christenberry of U.S. District Court issued a preliminary injunction which blocked city and parish officials from interfering with the constitutional rights of Negroes while staging civil rights activities.

Earlier the same court had denied Bogalusa officials an injunction against civil rights forces. But Christenberry added that under previous court rulings, the city has the power to delay, postpone or halt marches if the safety of the marchers or others is involved.

LATEST ORDER

The latest order said the officials were restricted from committing any acts of violence or threatening any acts of violence or assisting or encouraging others to commit any act of violence or to threaten to commit any act of violence which prevents or discourages the exercise of the right to picket, assemble peaceably, and advocate civil rights for Negroes.

Bogalusa, population about 22,000, is 65 miles north of New Orleans. A nearby white resident, Alton D. Crowe Jr., 26, was shot and seriously wounded at Thursday's protest march. Two Negroes arrested after the shooting were held at an undisclosed jail for investigation of aggravated battery.

Grand Jury Indicts Pair For Kidnaping

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— A federal grand jury swiftly indicted two ex-convicts Saturday for kidnaping California's finance director and his family, and a prosecutor filed a charge that carries the death penalty.

Judge Sherrill Halbert of U.S. District Court charge to Wilford Marion Gray, 30, and Carl Cletus Bowles, 24, after the grand jury issued the indictments after 35 minutes of deliberation.

The judge appointed attorneys and set July 21 to hear the prisoners pleas. The two are accused of a four-day crime spree that included murder, rape and robbery.

Sacramento County Dist. Atty. John M. Price filed a complaint under California's Little Lind-Bergh Law, charging kidnaping of finance Director Hale Champion, his wife and daughter for the purpose of robbery and causing bodily harm. A conviction could mean death in the San Quentin gas chamber.

There was a robbery and rape in Tigard, Ore., followed by the robbery of a Portland bank, the slaying of the law officer, and kidnaping of six persons who were abducted into California as hostages before they were released unharmed.

Gray and Bowles were being held in Sacramento County Jail under $100,000 bond each. Bail has been set in Oregon on the federal kidnaping charges at $150,000 each.

Heat Wave Sears Texas

By The Associated Press

An early summer heat wave seared Texas again Saturday, with temperatures going over the 100-degree mark at several points.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said no immediate relief from the heat is in sight.

Scattered light showers fell near the Red River but rainfall was not enough to measure. A cooling shower at Amarillo dropped .58 inches of rain. Presidio got .22.

High temperatures ranged from 87 degrees at Galveston to 107 at Presidio. Galveston's low of 81 gave the coastal city the lowest maximum and the highest minimum in the state Saturday.

The mercury reached 100 degrees at El Paso and Fort Worth, 101 at Laredo and San Angelo, and 102 at Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells and Childress.

Summer nights in parts of West Texas are remaining relatively cool, with minimums in the 60s at Amarillo, Lubbock, Alpine, and Junction.

Accused Rapist Released On Bond

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Larry Wyatt Smith, 17, one of six Oklahoma City area youths accused of raping a 15-year-old San Antonio, Tex., girl Wednesday night, was released from jail Saturday on $10,000 bond.

The girl, visiting an aunt, told officers she was taken from an Oklahoma City drive-in restaurant Wednesday night, driven north to a secluded wooded area and assaulted repeatedly.

Brown Named To Follow Zuckert As AF Secretary

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson waded through a batch of resignations and appointments Saturday and in the process lost his U.S. Information Agency director and named a new secretary of the Air Force.

And on a day of mingled work and relaxation around the LBJ Ranch, Johnson predicted that July 9 — the date of Senate passage of a health and hospital care bill and House passage of a voting rights measure — "will be the Everest of this session."

VICTORY

The President described House action on a measure designed to reinforce the right of the Negro to the ballot as "a victory for every American who believes the strength of our democracy rests on the right of every citizen to share in its direction."

But the top-ranking Negro in the executive branch of the government, Carl T. Rowan, is stepping out as director of the U.S. Information Agency to resume a career in journalism.

Rowan was one of Johnson's first major appointees and, presidential aides said, the first to leave. He was sworn in as head of the USIA, which spreads information on America through foreign lands, on Feb. 28, 1964. No successor has been chosen.

ZUCKERT

The President announced the resignation of Eugene M. Zuckert, who has been secretary of the Air Force for 4½ years.

The announcement gave no reason for Zuckert's resignation.

The White House said Johnson told Zuckert in a letter: "You have served in our present office longer than any previous secretary of the Air Force. Both the Air Force and the nation are permanently indebted to you for the singular achievements of your years in this critical and demanding position." There was no word on Zuckert's plans for the future.

The new secretary will be Dr. Harold Brown, the Defense Department's director of defense research and engineering.

REED QUIT

In the Treasury Department, James A. Reed has resigned as assistant secretary and the job will go to William True Davis Jr., now U.S. ambassador to Switzerland.

Then, in a change closer to the White House family, Johnson agreed to release Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clifton as his military aide so he can retire and become vice president of a New York management advisory firm. The President picked the commander of his small, official Jetstar plane, James U. Cross, to take over as military aide. Cross is an Air Force major who will become a lieutenant colonel next Thursday.

In the office of the stone and white frame LBJ Ranch house in the Texas hill country, Johnson was busy much of a hot summer morning with pen and papers and the telephone.

CARL ROWAN

VA Chief Due At Observance

Program for the Veterans Administration Hospital 15th anniversary observance — one week from today — was announced Saturday by Donald Van Meter, director.

The occasion brings to Big Spring the man at the head of the largest single governmental agency, William J. Driver, administrator of veterans affairs. His appearance will mark only the second time that Big Spring has entertained the administrator, the first being when Gen. Carl Gray came here in 1950 for the hospital opening.

Another ranking official in VA, the area medical director, will come here and will present the honor guest. He is Dr. Albert H. Fechner of St. Louis.

In addition to making a brief address, Driver also will present awards to veteran employes of the hospital here.

The band from Sheppard Air Force Base will come here from Wichita Falls to furnish music for the occasion. Webb AFB will furnish the color guard for the short program beginning at 1:30 p.m. next Sunday; Mrs. Carl Bradley will sing the "Star Spangled Banner" and Dr. G. Edward Williams will lead the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The welcome will be extended by Van Meter. Prayers will be worded by Chaplain C. O. Hitt and by the Rev. Melvin Montgomery, Mt. Bethel Baptist Church minister.

WILLIAM J. DRIVER

The public is being urged to attend the ceremony, to hear Driver, and to demonstrate interest in the VA facility so important to the community. Special canopies are being arranged, said Van Meter, to give the crowd protection from the sun.

During the morning and immediately following the program and continuing through the afternoon there will be conducted tours of the 250-bed medical and surgical facility. There also will be refreshments.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

One evidence that things are looking up was in the bank call figures last week. At the end of the first half of the year, Howard County banks had $40,689,000 on deposit, or $4,583,000 more than at the same time a year ago. This was a 12.7 per cent gain, which is pretty healthy in anybody's league. Now if the Lord blesses us with a rain or two at the right time, things will really be humming in the fall.

Last week it didn't look like rain, although Friday morning actually brought a sprinkle that dumbfounded most people. That

PASO

Convention Urges Increased Activity

SAN ANTONIO (AP) —The Political Association of Spanish-Speaking Organizations (PASO) annual convention opened Saturday with a promise for increased activity in 1966 elections.

The promise came from PASO chairman Albert Pena of San Antonio, who also heard a labor official's endorsement of his proposal that U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., run for governor.

GROWING

Pena declared that "despite the fact that state and local power structures insist PASO is slipping, we are growing every day."

"And from what started off as a series of political prairie fires, I predict that 1965-66 will become a forest fire of political action," he told the 300 delegates.

Pena said Gov. John Connally took "upon himself to declare a war on the War On Poverty and urge all communities, school boards and public officials to be against paying $1.25 per hour to youths in the Neighborhood Youth Corps."

WRECK ECONOMY

Connally's reason, Pena said, was "because these youngsters would be making more money than their parents, who are full time employes and this wage structure would wreck the Texas economy."

"Only two governors have vetoed anti-poverty programs. One was Governor Wallace of Mississippi because it would help Negroes. And the other was Governor Connally because it would help you."

Pena also charged that the redistricting law passed by the Texas Legislature was filled with inequities.

"So bad was Congressional gerrymandering that Bexar County was butchered to carve out a district to provide a political job for still another Floresville farmer," he said. Connally and two brothers live near Floresville, south of San Antonio.

URGED SUPPORT

H. S. Brown, President of the Texas AFL-CIO, urged support of Yarborough for governor in 1966.

Brown called for labor, Negroes, Latin Americans and independent liberals to "put aside the little things that irritate each other and ban together to break the power structure running the state."

Conservative Party Launched

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Virginia Conservative Party formally came into being Saturday, naming a full slate of statewide candidates and adopting a strongly worded platform scornful of both Republicans and Democrats.

Some 300 delegates showed up for the "constitutional Conservative Convention" sponsored by the Virginia Conservative Council.

Nominated for governor was William Story, 56, assistant superintendent of Chesapeake city schools, who has spent 29 years as an educator and football coach.

In its platform deliberations, the convention called for the compulsory sterilization of unwed mothers after the second illegitimate child as a prerequisite for continued welfare payments.

RESCUE SYSTEM

What Can Be Done For Marooned Astronauts?

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS
AP Aerospace Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — To be marooned in space is a thought that strikes terror in an astronaut's heart.

It hasn't happened yet, as far as is known, to either United States spacemen or to Soviet cosmonauts. But with manned space flights steadily increasing, the possibility increases.

What is being done?

STUDYING

Martin Co., makers of the powerful Titan rocket boosters which are now hurling Gemini astronauts into orbit, the Air Force and the Manned Spacecraft Center have been studying the matter for some time.

One plan is to train a special crew to man a Titan 3C rescue rocket. It would be cocked and ready to fly at a minute's notice, poised for any emergency, on a launching pad at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

This plan has been advanced by Martin Co. It is being mulled over by U.S. officials in Washington. If it is accepted, it isn't likely to be operational for some time because the Titan 3C only completed its maiden flight last month.

CRITICAL

The Manned Spacecraft Center assistant director for engineering and development, Max Faget says a Titan rocket ready for rescue work would be like putting lifeguards on a beach where practically nobody goes swimming.

A Gemini two-man space capsule fits perfectly on the Titan rockets. In fact, they were developed for each other.

Times when a spaceman might need to be rescued include a collision with a meteor, a puncture of the tough, metal skin of a spacecraft, internal power failures, or loss of petro-rockets — which slow the spaceship down as it passes through the dense atmosphere to land.

Or an astronaut could become sick, and a rescue ship could remove the ill spaceman and allow the mission to continue.

"SOMEDAY"

Faget, who says he is not against space rescue — "We will need it someday" — maintains that money spent on a rescue system could be better used to perfect the spacecraft and its systems so that rescue wouldn't be needed.

"We have included so many backup safety systems in the spacecraft," he says, "that an astronaut in space flight is safer than when he is driving his own car."

Martin officials point out the value to U.S. prestige if a Soviet cosmonaut were marooned in space and this country's rescue system could save him.

As one space official said, "It is like that old saying, 'You don't need to fix the hole in the roof when it isn't raining.' But when it does rain — watch out."

Going To Brazil

Mack Frazier (left) and Ray Tollett, sons of the Bruce Fraziers and the R. L. Tolletts, will be the Buffalo Trail Council's only two Scouts to attend the first Pan American Jamboree, July 15-26, on the island of Ilha do Fundaowhich. The pair will depart Tuesday for Rio de Janeiro, Brazil to participate in this unique scouting event.

More County Cases Due Court Action This Week

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said Saturday that the current docket in Howard County court has led to the disposition of 19 of the cases called.

In twelve of these, guilty pleas were entered and accepted. No jury trials were held last week although a jury panel was on hand daily for the court.

He said Judge Lee Porter has set down 38 cases for disposition this week. The docket, when it was called July 1, listed 58 cases.

Twenty cases were set for trial or other action last week.

Seven cases were dismissed last week. These were cases, the county attorney explained, where the complainant declined to prosecute. This left no alternative than to drop the charges.

In the 12 pleas of guilty, fines totalling $1,275 were assessed plus court costs of $345.20. In addition, Judge Porter sent defendants to the county jail for a combined total time of 144 days.

There were two fines of $200 each assessed, six fines of $100 each, two $50 fines; and one $25 fine levied in the cases.

Cases see for this week:

Tuesday: Frank Earl Brown, DWI; Alfred Emmanuel Taylor, DWI; Clyde Lonzo Edmondson, DWI; Betty Jones Brown, DWI; Perry Mervin Thurman, DWI; Clarence P. Yanez Jr., DWI; William Coy Ford, DWI; Charles Coleman Briggs, DWI; Gaylon Dabbs, aggravated assault; John D. Smith, aggravated assault; J. C. Jackson, aggravated assault; Luz Delos Santos, aggravated assault; Arthur Lockett, selling liquor without license.

Wednesday: Lonnie Banks, aggravated assault; J. P. McCormick aggravated assault, Robert M. Langston, aggravated assault; Ferrol Lewis Dodd, nonsupport; Rodney Johnston, worthless check; Guy Trocana, worthless check; Clifford W. Fountain, worthless check; Terrell V. Thompson, worthless check.

Thursday: Guy Trocana, worthless check; Willie James Ross, carrying arms; Robert Villareal, contributing to delinquency of a minor; Dorothy Ann Sherman, shoplifting; Ruth Akins, shoplifting; Frankie Green Evans, shoplifting;

Friday: Valentin Molina, possession of prohibited weapon; Joyce Mae Simmons, selling beer to a minor; Della Jackson, carrying arms; Dorothy Hannabass, selling beer to a minor; Charles Peace Meacham, carrying arms; Jane Couns, malicious mischief; Jesse Alemon, violation hair dressing law; Santoz Martinez, seriously threatening a human life.

Davis said that 28 pending appeals from the city and justices of the peace courts which are before the county court have been docketed for trial July 21 and 22. A jury panel will be on hand for these cases.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Ground School Slated For Interested Pilots

By M. A. WEBB

A new ground school is scheduled to get started at Howard County Airport shortly. Any one interested may get information by calling the Airport and talking to Howard Loyd or R. E. McClure.

• • •

Warren Petroleum Corporation's big Lockheed from Tulsa, Okla. flew into the airport Thursday with executives aboard.

• • •

Flying club members were using available airplanes during the week, but cross country flights kept them away from the airport for many hours. One of the Webb Aero Club's Cessnas has just returned from a long flight of several days, was inspected, and then left on another cross country from July 9-30.

• • •

Big Spring Flying Club members in the air during the week were: Colt—Johnson (3), Hopkins (cross country), Merrick (3), Stanley; Skyhawk—Stewart (cross country), Cootes, Brock (cross country), Johnson (cross country), Warren (cross country).

The Howard County Flying Club's two airplanes flying during the week were: Colt—Dr. Rainwater (3), Byrd (2), Hatch (2-day cross country), Green (4), White (2), Fort (2); Cherokee 180—Vieregge (cross country), Brumley (cross country), Dotson, White (2).

Webb Aero Club members up were: Cessa 150—Ericson, McComas, O'Day, Kathy, Davison, Sammye (5), Cardiff (2), Sullivan, Sparks (3), Green (3 and cross country), Morrell (2); Cessna 172—Warren (3-day cross country), Pagan (cross country July 9-30).

• • •

Outside of vacation cross country flights, only one long flight was made by local planes when some members of the Howard County Flying Club flew the Cherokee to Houston Thursday on a pleasure trip. These included pilot R. E. McClure.

• • •

The Las Vegas, Nev. International Air Races are scheduled for Boulder City Airport Sept. 21-26. Several thousand dollars in prizes will be offered.

Some of the N. A. A. approved features will include midgets, bi-planes, unlimited, sky-divers, and aerobatics.

• • •

If any conventions are scheduled for Big Spring in the future, to which delegates may come by air, a new Trans-Texas Airways manager of conventions and tours may possibly have a hand in handling groups. Don Hankins, the new manager, has been with TTA since 1963 as sales representative.

• • •

Time is drawing near for the start of the new T-41A transition flight training program for the Air Force in which new pilots are first given preliminary training in light, propeller-driven aircraft. Central American Airways, holding the contract for Webb Air Force Base, will be in charge of the local program and will have 21 of the new Cessna airplanes at Howard County Airport. The new hangar-office building is nearing completion, and some of the training personnel are being given orientation courses for standardized training under the direction of Webb officers assigned for that purpose. Ray Dunlap, contractor, has the new building well along toward completion and it will be ready when the new program is scheduled to start, July 29.

WT Chamber To Begin Long Planning Project

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will officially begin a new long range planning project July 15-16 when its board of directors and executive committee meet in Amarillo.

President Beeman Fisher of Fort Worth will name a special committee at the Amarillo board meeting, its purpose being to take a close look at the WTCC, where it stands, where it is headed, and what its objectives for the future should be. The committee will include some of West Texas' top business leaders. Fisher has said that the committee's recommendations will play a major role in shaping the future of the regional chamber and insuring that it represents the business and economic interests of the 132-county West Texas area to the best possible advantage.

Fisher will also name the chairman of the West Texas Chamber's Infocade '66 program. The Infocade program was begun this spring when three identical information and orientation meetings were held in Midland, Plainview, and Fort Worth, designed to acquaint the business leadership of West Texas with the big picture in all phases of the area's economic, business and industrial life. No sites have been selected yet for Infocade '66.

The Amarillo meeting will be held at Holiday Inn West and will begin at noon on July 15 with a gathering of the special committee planning the 48th annual West Texas Chamber convention, scheduled in Fort Worth April 21-23, 1966.

The executive committee will meet at 1:30 p.m. with Fisher presiding. The board of directors will meet at 9 a.m. on July 16, and a luncheon will close the two-day meeting.

During the executive committee and board sessions the current membership and program participation campaign of the WTCC will be reviewed. An intensified effort is being made this year by officers and directors of the organization throughout the area. During the past two weeks a series of nine orientation meetings have been held in the TCC territory. President Fisher and other officers of the chamber have met with district vice presidents and directors in nine different cities.

Directors have been oriented on this year's projects and accomplishments; Fisher has spoken at each meeting on, "What the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Means to You"; and two WTCC vice presidents, John Ben Shepperd of Odessa and Henry Sears of Hereford, have gone into detail on the organization's program of work and its finance and membership goals. Membership campaigns are being conducted throughout the WTCC area under the supervision of directors.

Tim Frayser Gets Package Reply From White House

By SAM BLACKBURN

These are the United States. Anyone, according to the American tradition, can become president.

By the same token, anyone who has a question to ask the man who is president has the inherent privilege of writing him a letter.

Even very young Americans like Tim Frayser.

Tim is eight years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Frayser, 1404 Scurry. Tim wanted to know if the president has any hobbies and if so, what they are.

So he sat down and wrote President Johnson a letter.

"I didn't get an answer from Mr. Johnson, himself," Tim explains, "but I got a big package from the White House."

He added significantly:

"They didn't even put the Zip Code number for the White House on the letter, either."

Apparently the president gets a lot of letters from young Americans like Tim. So he has prepared an assortment of material already to send in reply. This includes an attractive booklet printed in full color, telling about the president, his family, the White House, the history of the building.

Also included are several typewritten pages of questions and answers — including the answer to Tim's question.

The president's hobbies, the letter said, are swimming, hunting, horseback riding and reading.

Tim's hobbies match those of the president in two fields. He likes to swim and he likes to read.

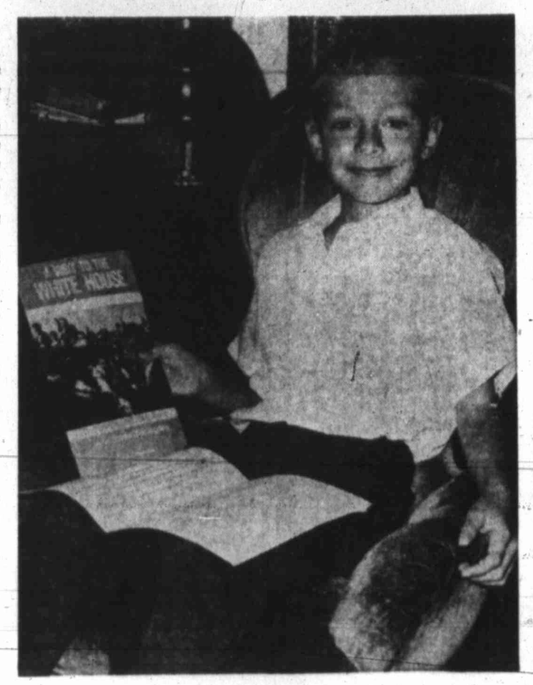
He has just finished the second grade at Immaculate Heart of Mary School, and has all "A" grades so far in his scholastic career. He learned to read on his own, according to Mrs. Frayser, before he was six and enrolled in school.

"We found out he could read," she said, "when we were reading to him and happened to miss a word or mispronounce one. He would correct us."

"I was the only one in the first grade," Tim says proudly "who could read when school began — I had to teach all the others."

Tim has waded through all of the material the president's office sent. He is particularly pleased with the official pictures of the nation's presidents found in the pamphlet.

"I read a book this thick"—indicating an inch and a half on his fingers — "about President Lincoln," Tim says. "I liked it real good."



SO YOU WRITE TO THE PRESIDENT
Tiny Tim Frayser and answer from White House

Minor Crashes Are Reported

Two Friday afternoon accidents were reported by city police.

A two-ton truck belonging to Pollard Chevrolet Co. rolled out of the company parking lot, across East Third and hit a house-trailer parked on private property, officers said. The 3:40 p.m. accident resulted in heavy damages to the left front corner of the trailer and a broken taillight on the truck.

A car driven by Bobby Wayne Baker, 604 Steakley, was in collision with a truck driven by Jerry Joe Maxwell, Sterling City Road, at 3:25 p.m., officers said. The right front fender of the car was damaged, but the truck was unharmed. No charges were filed, and no one was injured.

GIRL SCOUTS ROUNDUP

Lot Of Fuss In Preparations

FARRAGUT, Idaho (AP) — From a Lewis and Clark campsite to a stage as roomy as New York's largest, this lakeside park — where a million men learned to be sailors — is ready for 11,000 women.

And more fuss has gone into preparing for the 1965 International Girl Scout Senior Roundup, opening Thursday, than was needed to turn the grassy shoreline of Lake Pend Oreille into a naval training station in World War II.

The state and federal governments, industry and even the military have had a hand in laying out the Girl Scout camp and making the quiet park in the north Idaho panhandle what roundup leaders like to call the state's 11th largest city. It will be just that through July 28 when the big show ends.

Each of the 50 states, and 40 foreign countries, will be represented among the 9,000 senior scouts and 2,000 staff counselors and officials. New York leads the parade of states with 848 scout-delegates, followed by Pennsylvania with 792 and California with 696. Nevada, Hawaii and Alaska will have the smallest contingents — eight each.

The roundup will encompass a kaleidoscope of events officially described as "color, music, pageantry and the simple pleasures of living in the out of doors."

The rendezvous area in the camp's central clearing will feature demonstrations of scouting and exhibits depicting the heritage of the Pacific Northwest. Among the latter will be a Nez Perce Indian village, a copy of a Lewis and Clark campsite — the famed explorers passed a few miles from Farragut on their 1807 Western expedition — a fur trader's cabin and a sheepherder's camp.

The 5,000-acre area had been a wildlife refuge since the Navy closed up shop after World War II. When the Girl Scouts decided on Farragut, Idaho traded the land away from the U.S. government, converted it into a state park and began the massive restoration program. Gov. Robert E. Smylie estimates it cost the state upward of $2 million.

Volunteers To Meet Thursday

The Big Spring State Hospital Volunteer Council will meet in a special summer session at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Allred Building, according to Mrs. Mary Cochran, volunteer coordinator. It will be the first summer meeting in several years, she said.

Special certificates for volunteer service will be presented to five local organizations and committee chairmen will report on their projects and announce fall plans, Mrs. Cochran said.

Mrs. Edie Nelson, co-chairman of the State Volunteer Council, will report on an executive session held at Padre Island last month, and Mrs. Cochran will speak on statewide hospitals.

Main speaker will be Dr. Frankie Williams, who will discuss new projects within the state hospital, and overall trends in the mental health field.

Four persons were killed when this car and truck collided on Highway 97 four miles south of Union Gap, Wash., at 12:05 a.m. Saturday. Dead are William Phillips, Wapato; Elmore Jones, Wapato; Mrs. Gladys James, Wapato, and James' daughter, Mary, 15. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Heat, Wind Taking Toll

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Heat and winds are taking their toll of soil moisture in practically every section of Texas. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said a good soaking general rain would be welcomed by farmers and ranchers in almost all of Texas.

The over-all situation ranges from fair to good, he added, but rain would help row crops as well as ranges, which are beginning to brown.

District farm agents reported at midweek to Hutchison:

HARVEST DELAYED

Heavy rains of the last two weeks in June delayed the wheat harvest, which will be over within 10 days if the weather is good. Hail damage was general over the Panhandle; cotton is making excellent growth; and ranges are making a rapid recovery. Onions are being harvested. The potato harvest will begin shortly.

South Plains cotton and grain sorghums are making good progress. Some late cotton and that damaged by diseases, sand and hail was slower in growing off but the over-all situation is good. The onion harvest is moving.

The wheat harvest is over. Soy beans and castorbeans look good. Some parts of the plains have adequate to surplus soil moisture. A good general rain within a week to 10 days would be welcomed, especially by ranchers.

MOISTURE NEEDED

Moisture is needed in 15 of the 22 counties in the Rolling Plains District. Boll weevils showed up in several counties. Fleahoppers, thrips and grasshoppers damaged cotton in several counties.

Farmers in North Central Texas had a full week in their fields, completed the grain harvest, bailed a lot of hay, and got cultivating done. Cotton, corn and sorghums look good. Several counties report fleahopper damage to cotton. Peanuts look good. Ranges and livestock are in good condition.

Dry, hot weather in far West Texas is burning vegetation. Range and livestock conditions are fair to poor. Some lambs are moving to market and some contracting of calves is reported. Cotton was fair to good. Alfalfa is making good yields. Labor is short.

New Crop Record Is In Prospect

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of a new record production of crops this year brightened farm income prospects but darkened government hopes of reducing some troublesome surpluses.

The Agriculture Department's first major crop report of the year Friday showed farmers had planted almost as much land as in 1963 when production set a record that still holds. With technology pushing acre yields upward and given good weather, the crop volume this year could set a new record.

The Texas wheat crop was estimated at 73,091,000 bushels, compared to 61,848,000 harvested last year.

Grain sorghum acreage for Texas was set at 6,074,000, down from 6,409,000 last year. Rice production was estimated at 19,886,000 hundredweight, compared to 19,635,000 last year.

Texas peanut acreage was set at 292,000. Last year it was 257,000. Texas had 20,000 acres in sugar beets with a prospective crop of 560,000 tons.

The oats yield was estimated at 23,270,000 bushels and flaxseed at 940,000 bushels. The corn crop was set at 19,371,000 bushels compared to 23,488,000 last year.

Thee Texas grapefruit yield was estimated at 2,100,000 boxes and the orange crop at 900,000.

Generally, the larger the crop the larger is the farm income.

Forecasts indicated corn and wheat crops will equal or exceed demand—a development which would thwart administration efforts to reduce surpluses of these grains. Both are being grown under programs offering government payments to growers who reduce plantings so that room might be found in the market for some of the extra supplies.

The corn crop was forecast at 3.9 billion bushels, 10 per cent above last year and two per cent larger than average.

The wheat crop was indicated at 1,354,000 bushels, 5 per cent more than last year and 14 per cent more than average.

The report indicated that larger production is in store for soybeans, oats, hay, late potatoes and sweet potatoes. Smaller volumes were indicated for barley, rye, sugar beets and sugar cane.

The report said crop prospects on July 1 were rated as good to excellent over more of the nation than a year earlier.

Wagner To Re-Marry

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner, whose first wife died of cancer 16 months ago, will be married July 26 to Barbara Joan Cavanagh, a blue-eyed New York socialite.

She is the sister of Deputy Mayor Edward F. Cavanagh Jr.

The 55-year-old three - term mayor said Friday night he planned to have his elder son, Robert Jr., 21, serve as best man. Wagner said he wanted his younger son, Duncan, 18, as second best man "if I can have the both of them."

The marriage ceremony will be performed by Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, in the private chapel of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Wagner and Miss Cavanagh, 36, are Roman Catholics. It will be her first marriage.

Finnish Exchange Student Spends Holiday Seeing Sights

By M. A. WEBB

A 17-year-old exchange student from Helsinki, Finland, Paavo Puranen, spent July 4 in Big Spring looking over the city and area. The young man was on a tour of the United States after spending nine months in the Brockport, N. Y. high school.

Young Puranen arrived in Big Spring by bus from El Paso early Monday morning, and spent the day here before going on to Corpus Christi by bus that night.

FINNISH YOUTH SEES BIG SPRING
Paavo Puranen is shown Big Spring by Police Patrolman Ted Lancaster

"I had heard something about Big Spring before coming to Texas," Paavo said, "so I had an opportunity to stop over for several hours to look the city over. The stop was also convenient because of the bus change here. The Big Spring police department was helpful in showing me around, and I will always remember the courtesy the officers have shown me, and appreciate it."

Paavo came to the United States through the International Student Placement Services, and was a junior in the Brockport High School.

"I am not sure yet just what I want to do when I have completed my schooling," he said. "My father is a civil engineer in Finland, but I don't believe I want to follow that line."

In commenting on schools in Finland, Paavo said they are different to those in the United States. Students are required to take 12 or 13 subjects during the year, with 45-minute periods. In addition to the Swedish and Finnish languages, students are required to study English and German.

Youngsters attend four years of public elementary schools in Finland, and then go to private high schools for eight years. They must attend school until they are 16 years of age, just as they do in the United States.

"During the time we are in high school our grades determine whether we are qualified for college work," he said. "If we are not recommended for college then we can attend vocational schools to learn to work with our hands."

He was asked to give his opinion comparing youngsters of Finland and the United States.

"I don't think there is much difference," he said. "They have about the same problems as youngsters here. A boy is a boy about anywhere you go."

Paavo will return to New York July 28 where he will board a ship for Copenhagen, Denmark.

"The year has given me some wonderful experiences," he said. "I doubt that I ever would have seen the United States if it had not been for this educational opportunity through the International Student Placement Services."

'Head Start' Has 210 Now Enrolled

The first week of the Operation "Head Start" program in the five Big Spring schools, found 210 enrolled, Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, director of educational services, said Friday. The enrollment was close to the 212 originally anticipated.

The kindergarten - type program, for children of low-income families, will run through Aug. 27. It is a part of the nationwide program for experience-broadening situations for children who will start to public schools in September.

The program is financed by a grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity, and is aimed at improving health and nutritional aspects as well as cultural and academic backgrounds.

All children will be given free eye, dental, and physical checks between July 13 and Aug. 12. Local optometrists, dentists, and physicians will give the examinations in their offices, and children will be transported by bus from their schools to the offices. Results of these examinations will be reported on forms furnished by the OEO headquarters, and include 98 questions.

Field trips are scheduled for students of the five local schools, beginning Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. These trips will include the Howard County Library, Westview Pet Shop, Birdwell Lane Fire Station, Coca-Cola plant, Settles Hotel, Webb Air Force Base, and a farm trip.

"These trips are designed to give the youngsters an opportunity to see and learn new situations and learn how to conduct themselves in new social environments and under supervision," Ainsworth said.

They will also be taught group participation, and given some instruction and supervision in social graces. Meals will be served at each school. The type A cafeteria meals will be prepared at a central kitchen and transported in disposable trays.

Enrollment in the five schools, as of Friday, was: Airport 30, Bauer 80, Boydstun 29, Cedar Crest 31, and Lakeview 40.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Says Train Service Is Back To 60 Years Ago

To the Editor:

If you want to turn back the clock 60 years, take a trip on the Texas & Pacific Railroad from El Paso to Fort Worth—no Pullman, no diner, no porter.

The train arrives in Big Spring about 6:30 a.m. There they change crews and when the train leaves Big Spring, the brakeman comes through and announces "next stop Colorado City and 30 minutes for breakfast." Upon arrival in Colorado City they take the passengers across the street to a hotel, in a separate dining room with the other customers with a different menu for railroad passengers, which included bacon and eggs for $2. As I seldom eat breakfast, I went around to the coffee shop and got a cup of coffee.

This is just another way the railroad has got to try to discourage people from riding the train. The conductor and brakeman on both divisions, however, did all they could to make the trip pleasant, including taking the baggage to the vestibule where it could be taken off in Fort Worth by the red cap.

On the return trip the train leaves Fort Worth at 10:05 p.m. Now there's one for the book. There were three coaches on the train, all full. The thing that got me began when the brakeman announced going into Odessa that they would stop 30 minutes for breakfast. Upon our arrival, there was a truck standing out in front of the station selling hot dogs, hamburgers and sandwiches, with a long table where the customers could put their coffee while helping themselves to sugar and cream. You should have seen around 200 people trying to get waited on!

I still say if they would put on a first-class train, there would be plenty of people who would ride it. I know there are hundreds of people like myself who do not fly. I have always felt that if the Good Lord had wanted me to fly, he would have given me wings.

If the Santa Fe, the Union Pacific and several other railroads have first-class trains and provide first-class service for the public, why can't all the railroads do it? They could, if they wanted to.

Would Honor School Pioneers

To the Editor:

In view of the fact that the Latins, Mexicans, and other Spanish - speaking people are finally awakening from the sleep that we should always remember the persons, who although descendants of the Anglo-Saxon race, sacrificed. I address this letter to you, not because I think they need help, but on behalf of all our ancestors and the community. I like to emphasize that the community has never stood all for one and one for all, and now is the time to stand side by side as the football players that kick the ball and carry it to the goal and never again fumble, so those who labor to this end await the greatest applause from the spectators and never let the quarterbacks carry the ball and be tackled halfway to the goal.

Let us now form a solid wall of interference. For I know that the school board of trustees and the city commissioners are acquainted from where and why the material and grounds came into being.

More than a piece of ground and the remnant of an old central ward has been given to Martin Luther King and his followers. So I side in with all those concerned and believe that the privilege and honor to hold the property and grounds should be granted.

I emphatically advise the community to make a sublime sacrifice and erect two sculptures in memory of the two beings who struggled for the well being of the community. These two specially known persons to whom I refer are the late Mrs. Kate Morrison and Mr. John R. Hutto. I would like a place at the foot of the petition.

I wish I had time to address this letter in both languages, but if it is in the interest of anybody to have it in Spanish, I will relate it to them.

Very Truly Yours,
P.R. YANEZ
510 NW 6th

Doctors Want Fee

SWANSEA, Wales (AP)—Delegates to the annual conference of the British Medical Association voted Saturday to quit serving the National Free Health Service unless they are permitted to charge patients a consultation fee.

Supporters of the move said a disproportionate amount of the time of general practitioners in the health service is now taken up by hypochondriacs and chronic malingerers.

Nearly 18,000 association members already have threatened to resign from the service in a long-standing dispute with the National Health Ministry over payments and working conditions.

Action of the conference requires negotiators for the doctors to insist on the consultation fee as a condition for any settlement of the dispute.

Town Ups Budget Without A Levy

EL MIRAGE, Ariz. (AP) — El Mirage town fathers have again raised the tiny community's budget — this time by $54,188 — and without a tax levy.

Town Clerk Richard Gomez said the town makes enough on sales, gas and auto taxes and garbage and water fees to foot the bill.

Bean Pickin' Time Is Marked

The traditional bean-pickin' for the Old Settlers Reunion has been set for 10 a.m. on July 19 at the City Park pavilion. Jess Slaughter, reunion president, urged everyone who can lend a hand to be present for preparing the beans for the big barbecue and feed on July 23.

Consultant Begins Study On Airport

FORT WORTH (AP)—Spurred by Civil Aeronautics Board directives, Fort Worth and Dallas have launched one phase of a master plan designed to resolve the regional airport controversy.

A nationally recognized consultant arrived this week to begin a crucial study that is to determine the site, size and configuration of the proposed facility.

The two cities selected the consultant and agreed to share in the costs of such a survey, expected to be about $30,000.

It is the first step in a "memorandum of understanding" reached May 28 by the frequently embattled cities with the assistance and prodding of CAB examiner Ross I. Newmann.

Conducting the study is Walther Prokosch, a partner in the New York firm of Tippitts-Abbetts - McCarthy - Stratton. Plans call for Prokosch to give a verbal or preliminary report within 60 days.

A final written analysis is due 30 to 60 days later.

As set forth in the May 28 memorandum, the two cities are to work together to build an airport between Fort Worth and Dallas that would be operative by the early 1970s, at the latest.

The CAB directed earlier that the area be served by a single, joint airport and told the cities to reach a voluntary solution within six months.

Fewer Deaths Reported In First Half Of '65

There were 11 fewer deaths from all causes in Howard County in the first six months of 1965 than in the comparable period in 1964, records of Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County Court clerk, show.

However, there have been 18 violent deaths so far this year compared with only 14 for the same half-year in 1964.

Total deaths as listed in the records of vital statistics, kept by the county clerk's office, for the first half of 1965 stand at 247. For the same months in 1965, the total was 258.

For the entire year of 1964, there were 544 deaths. This was two greater than for 1963 when 542 deaths were recorded.

In 1964, the total deaths charged to violent causes (which is to say to factors other than diseases) was 25. In 1941, this category listed 41 deaths and in 1962, the figure was 22.

Causes this year show car accidents, as usual, leading the list. So far in 1965, there have been seven fatalities due to traffic mishaps; for the same period in 1964, there had been six car deaths.

The box score of violent deaths for the first half of the present year:

Exposure 1; cars 7; gunshots 3; knifings 3; falls 2; drownings 2; Total 18.

For the same months a year ago:

Cars 6; hanging 1; burns 1; falls 2; guns 3; poison 1; strangulation 1; Total 15.

A calendar of deaths by violence for the first half of the year with the victims, their age, and the cause of their demise:

Jan. 1—Ruby Faye Toney, 19, gunshot.

Feb. 2—(found on this date) Enrique Pascale, 37, exposure. Real death date uncertain.

Feb. 2—Lois Joan Enloe, 26, gunshot.

Feb. 9 — Rosalindo Sandoval, 4, car accident.

Feb. 27—Don Welton Johnston, 15, fall.

March 3—Albert Donald Grantham, 58, car accident.

March 11—George Frank Reynolds, 76, gunshot.

March 21 — Myrtle Francis Wright, 71 and Willie Winkle Waggoner, 70, car accident.

March 28—Mary Elizabeth Wise, 10, car accident.

April 18—Sussand Leos Padilla, 7, and Eraul Leos Padilla, 9, drowning.

May 11—Marvin Russell Hayes, 66, fall from oil rig.

May 29—Carl H. Albert, 48, stabbing.

June 1—Fannie Rene Lawson, 43, throat cut.

June 2—Milton Burt Caulley, 58, car accident.

June 25—Elijah Brown, 68, stabbing.

Commissioners To Sell Road Bond Issue Monday

Howard County will sell $400,000 in road bonds at a special meeting of the Howard County Commissioners Court Monday at 2 p.m.

The money will be used to acquire badly needed right of way for the furtherance of road building projects in the county.

Carter Johnston, with Rauscher, Pierce and Co., fiscal agent employed by the county to handle details of the bond sale, has informed Lee Porter, county judge, all details are worked out for the sale.

The $400,000 is three-fourths of the total issue of $600,000 authorized by the electors of the county in a recent bond election. The remaining $200,000 will be sold when the money is needed. This procedure will save the county paying interest on the bonds unsold until the money is needed.

Sale of the bonds is an open session of the commissioners.

The first money available will be used to pay for right of way for the proposed extension of FM 700 north from IS 20 to connect with SH 350. The state highway department is ready to award contract on this job as soon as the right of way is bought.

The balance of the money beyond that spent on this project will be used in acquiring right of way for extending FM 700 westward from Goliad Street to reconnect with US 80 near the Sands Motel.

Porter said that Johnston had told him there is no reason the money for the first $400,000 sold should not be available before the end of the present month.

He also informed the judge that the county will not be required, as used to be the custom, to offer the securities to the Texas Education Agency at the best bid submitted.

The sale this time, Porter said, will be completed at the Monday session — provided, of course, that the bids are acceptable.

Farm Commodity Stocks In Storage Show Downtrend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Of the major farm commodities supported by government price programs, only cotton and tobacco are held by the government in larger quantities than a year earlier.

On June 1, the government investment in price support commodities totaled $6,819,172,000 compared with $7,435,059,000 a year earlier.

The government holds smaller stocks of wheat, corn, sorghum grain, rice, peanuts and dairy products than a year ago.

Reduced production in 1964 and larger markets for many products contributed to a decline in government stocks.

Explosives Found In Bag

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A bag of high explosives was found Saturday aboard a coach on a train from Munich. Police speculated the charge might have been destined for the Mont Blanc meeting next week of Presidents Charles de Gaulle of France and Giuseppe Saragat of Italy.

It was the third time in the last eight months explosives had been found on Italian trains moving through northeast Italy, an area often troubled by terrorists in an Italian-Austrian border dispute.

A policeman found the latest batch — more than 11 pounds of plastic and regular explosive, plus 46 feet of fuse — in a woman's traveling bag, while the train was standing in Milan station.

Investigators said they believed the bag was abandoned because of increasingly strict police security precautions being taken along transport lines in all of north Italy in view of the De Gaulle-Saragat meeting at Courmayeur next Friday to open the Mont Blanc auto tunnel.

HOSPITAL GROUP THERAPY

'They Begin To Talk'

By TOM BARRY

"At first, groups don't talk much, and I have to carry the conversation, but later on, they do it all. They begin to make criticisms of each other, and then become constructive in their criticism. That's when they're on their way to a better mental attitude."

Those are the words of Dr. Lake Littlejohn Jr., new resident psychiatrist at the Big Spring State Hospital, referring to group therapy among some of his patients in Ward 8.

DR. LAKE LITTLEJOHN JR.

SIXTH RESIDENT

The 39-year-old physician is the sixth psychiatric resident in a year-old program of residencies for training psychiatrists at the hospital. He is here from Baylor Medical College in Houston, where he is in his second year of a psychiatric residency course of four years. He will be at the hospital three months, practicing what he has learned.

Born in Marshall, Dr. Littlejohn took a degree in economics from the University of Chicago in 1950, then decided to go into medicine. In 1953 he went to Stephen F. Austin College to pick up science credits required for pre-medical training, and received a bachelor of science degree in a year. He then went to the Baylor medical school where he became a doctor.

Dr. Littlejohn practiced medicine privately in Marshall four years, but felt he would be more at ease in psychiatry. When a federal grant became available, he and his wife Joan moved to Houston where he began his psychiatric studies in 1963.

NOT HOPELESS

Ward 8 patients are not of the hopeless or severely-deranged kind, but are those who can be helped to take on the responsibility of jobs on the outside. Dr. Littlejohn said about half of them are schizophrenics, the rest suffer from various kinds of mental illness.

Schizophrenics live in a lonely world of their own imagination, he said. The illness, in its varying degrees, is characterized by four symptoms: autism, ambivalence, affect-split, and loose association. Autism means withdrawal from the real world —excessive introvertedness. Ambivalence, in psychiatric terms, is a sort of jerky mind-shifting. For instance, a patient told Dr. Littlejohn "I love my mother." One moment later, the same man said "I hate my mother." Affect-split is, like the rest of the disease, caused in the early formative years of a child. People who have it act and speak in ways that are not proper for the situation—people who laugh when they see someone they love hurt.

"Sometimes a patient will suddenly burst into gales of laughter. When I ask them what's so funny, they tell me they've seen a vision of their parents with their heads chopped off," Dr. Littlejohn explained. "People with affect-split may appear quite normal, except, for instance, that they hear a voice telling them that the communists are going to assasinate the president and only they can stop it. They can't differenetiate between actuality and a fantasy world."

LOOSE ASSOCIATION

Loose association, Dr. Littlejohn said, is best described as lack of ability to make up one's mind. In the Rohrscac Test, or ink blot test, the first ink-blot shown a patient is called "The Bat," because most people see the outline of a bat when they look at it. But a person who has loose association will not be able to make up his mind whether the outline in fact resembles a bat or a windmill or a steak.

All of these symptoms, Dr. Littlejohn believes, are caused from the early personal associations of a child, most often the mother, because she is the closest to the child in his early, mind-forming years. A mother who can't make up her mind on anything is often the example a child has, and he thinks that that is the way to act. This causes conflict, and the child may develop loose association.

"Or a mother who says 'I love you, Johnny,' while at the same time punishing him, may cause affect-split later on in the child," Dr. Littlejohn added. "He may start acting in ways totally inappropriate to the situation he is in."

"We try here to form groups of patients, and let them talk. Once they start accepting each other, start criticising each other, or begin to accept the psychiatrist or any other authority-figure, they gain self-confidence, which is what they need," he said.

FOR THERAPY

Some of the patients come to the doctor individually for therapy, where much the same thing goes on as in the group method.

Of the 44 patients on his service, Dr. Littlejohn sees about eight or 10 a day. "Of course, not every patient is a success story," he said. "Some of them slip back despite everyone's efforts."

There are no shock-treatments on Ward 8. Shock is reserved for more severely-ill patients, who are in other sections of the hospital.

When a patient is considered sufficiently cured to hold down a job, his case is taken over by a state agency which obtains jobs for patients through cooperative firms.

The job of Dr. Littlejohn, and the residents who came before him and will come after him, is to help the patients reach that stage.

King Exhausted After Baby Born

CORFU, Greece (AP) — Queen Anne-Marie and her newborn daughter were reported doing very well Saturday, but King Constantine had to take to his bed, exhausted.

Early Saturday the queen, 18, the world's youngest, gave birth to a 9-pound, 11-ounce girl, who becomes heiress to the throne of Greece.

A medical bulletin said it was a normal birth "and Her Majesty and the newborn child are doing very well."

But a palace official said the king, 25, exhausted from an all-night vigil and excitement, had retired for a rest.

Constantine, wearing a surgical mask, was in the delivery room for the birth — a specially prepared room in the summer palace on this Ionian island.

Immediately afterward, Constantine telephoned Premier George Papandreou in Athens, touching off a 21-gun salute and the pealing of church bells.

Dressed in an open-neck shirt and slacks, the grinning monarch hastened to the gates of the palace, where a crowd was waited and shouted: "It's a girl!"

Two municipal bands marched and played in the Corfu streets as Constantine left the palace and went to a radio station where he broadcast the birth announcement message to Greece.

As church bells echoed across Corfu's green hills and valleys, people ran into the street in celebration. Congratulations flowed in from around the world.

Anne-Marie's mother, Queen Ingrid of Denmark, Constantine's mother, Queen Mother Frederika, and Crown Princess Irene, Constantine's sister, also were present at the birth.

The queen's father, King Frederik IX of Denmark, will fly to Corfu next week to see his first grandchild.

Orders Release Of Chapman

HOUSTON (AP) — Federal Judge Joe Ingraham has ordered the release of Charles Robert Chapman, 29, from prison because state officials have not provided him requested legal assistance for an appeal.

Chapman was sentenced to five years in Jefferson County in 1961 after pleading guilty to a check forgery charge.

Chapman claimed the sentence was too severe and asked the state to arrange for a lawyer to appeal the case.

Last May, the judge ruled that state authorities violated Chapman's civil rights in denying his request for counsel and directed that he be freed unless such assistance was provided within a reasonable time.

The state has failed to do this, Ingraham said Friday.

Moisture Crisis Is Nearing For Area Cotton Farmers

The honeymoon is over for the cotton farmers.

The lush growth and fine prospects which have developed on the heels of the recent ideal rains is still in evidence, but a crisis is nearing.

In other words, the day is at hand when the farmers are beginning to eye the skies again with speculative glances and ponder if there is any more rain in store for the countryside.

The searing daytime heat, with 100 degree days becoming increasingly common, is drying out the land. The winds, which blew with such steadiness for some weeks after the rains, absorbed much more of the precious water.

Today, the cotton fields are spectacularly green and prosperous appearing. They look better than in any season in a long time.

Their future is in the balance in the opinion of most farmers.

"We must have some more rain soon," say these growers.

Most set July 5 as a sort of deadline and say that a deteriorating effect will develop soon if no rain falls. The feedstuff is looking exceptionally good. There are fields which are "made" in the opinion of the growers. Later feed needs rain just as the cotton does, however.

Pastures are in good shape, but the grass, with its short root system, will soon begin to wither if additional rains are not forthcoming very soon.

Farmers report a few fleahoppers in some fields and a rare case occasionally of bollworms. Generally speaking, however, the insect problem is not a matter of concern as yet.

Some fields adjacent to pasture lands were recently infested to a restricted degree with jumbo grasshoppers. However, this problem seems to be diminishing.

In Dawson County, LeRoy Colgan, the county agent, said that while cotton looks good over all of the county, general rain is needed by the end of this week.

Dawson County, he said, has a 200,000 acre cotton allotment of which 13,000 acres were sold back to the government. He said that the 187,000 acres of cotton planted is up and growing.

Late irrigated cotton, which had to be replanted after the hail beat it out, is looking exceptionally good. Few insects have been reported in the county, Colgan said.

Grass is normal on ranchlands. Feed stands are already needing rain, he added.

Cotton Insect Control Meets Planned Monday

Three important meetings on cotton insect control are scheduled in Howard County Monday, Herb Helbig, county farm agent, has announced.

Two of the meetings will be field sessions—actually held in cotton fields. The third will be an evening meeting in Room 8 of the science department at Howard County Junior College.

Don Runnell, extension entomologist with the Lubbock Extension Service office, will be the speaker.

At 2 p.m., all farmers are invited to be in the field at the Earl Hull farm, four miles north and one mile west of Coahoma.

At 3:30 p.m. the meeting is slated in a cotton field two miles west of the Fairview Gin. This is on the farm west of the Bigony farm.

At the 8 p.m. meeting in the Howard County Junior College, a general summation of the program for insect control will be made.

Helbig said that while Runnell will speak on control of cotton insects in general, he will stress fleahoppers in particular. Fleahoppers are about the only cotton pests which have appeared in the fields here as yet.

Helbig said he hoped all of the meetings will be well attended as Runnell will be able to give farmers the latest approved methods of coping with cotton pests.

Patrons Protest Closing Of Kate Morrison School

The controversy between some Northside residents and Big Sprng Independent School District trustees over the closing of the Kate Morrison School became more heated Friday night at a meeting of 200 Northside residents, according to some of the participants.

Also present at the 7:30 p.m. meeting in Sacred Heart Church were School Superintendent S. M. Anderson and Dr. C. L. Ainsworth, curriculum director.

According to Mrs. A. L. Rodriguez, one of four committee members who organized the meeting, the group was called to find out the reasons for closing the school. More than 20 persons have already signed a petition protesting the closing and more are expected, she said.

TO MEET LAW

Saturday morning, Anderson said he and Ainsworth tried to explain the reason for the closing of the school to the group.

"We told them that we had to close Kate Morrison in order to comply with Title Six of the Civil Rights Law," Anderson said. The board had applied for a certificate of compliance with the law, but the government indicated that the presence of two elementary schools in the same district, one predominatly with Negro students and the other with few, did not meet the requirements of the law, so the school was ordered closed.

The residents protested the closing on several grounds, according to Mrs. Rodriguez.

"They told us what the government said," she pointed out, "but the people don't agree. In the first place, Kate Morrison is centrally located, and was built before Lakeview and Bauer schools. It also has more students than Lakeview."

BETTER FACILITIES

Anderson told the group that Lakeview was chosen as the school for residents of the district because it has better facilities. He also said the school is not a mile distant for any child in the district.

But Rev. J. P. Delaney, pastor of Sacred Heart, who was present at the meeting, said Saturday, "I measured the distance by car this morning, and it's more than a mile away for a number of children." He pointed out that only one street goes to Lakeview School, Northwest Fourth, and that if children were not driven on that street, they would have to cross the railroad tracks to get there, going through what he termed "a very bad section of town."

"MOVING BACKWARD"

"One lady told the school representatives that she had been listening to them talk about progress, but it seemed to her that going from three schools to two in the district is moving backward," Rev. Delaney said.

"We explained to them that it (the closing) was not something we wanted to do," Anderson said, "but we had no choice under the law." He said he told the group that Kate Morrison School probably would not be abandoned, but may be used in a pre-school government - sponsored program for youngsters.

BUSY STREET

Members of the protesting audience questioned the closing because they said Northwest Fourth is heavily - travelled, that the cafeteria at Lakeview would be too expensive for the people, who are mostly laboring - class, and consequently, children would have to go a considerable distance home for lunch.

Several pointed out that last year people voted for a bond issue to improve all schools in Big Spring, including the Kate Morrison School.

"With the money they said was going to be used on Kate Morrison and the money for the cafeteria at Lakeview, they could make Kate Morrison big enough for children from both schools," Mrs. Rodriquez said.

"One of the women present Friday said Lakeview was a mistake, built to support segregation," Rev. Delaney said. "But this isn't a problem of segregation," he added. "The people are quite willing to go to school with Negroes, but they believe Lakeview is the wrong location."

FAMILIES MOVING

"I told the school board representatives that this is a problem that will follow them where ever they go," he continued. "Many families have already moved toward the Bauer School, to get out of the district, and their children are going to overcrowd Bauer, and the school board still won't save any money because Bauer will have to be enlarged. These just don't want their children to have to walk a mile or more to school."

Rev. Delaney said the Northside residents feel they are being cheated out of a school they think of as their own.

"These people have a very deep feeling about the school," he said.

San Antonio Street was to have been the district dividing line, Rev. Delaney said, "but the school board representatives told us at the meeting that it would now be the Lamesa highway."

Committee members said there will be another meeting at Sacred Heart Monday, and that Tuesday night there would be representatives at the school board meeting. Mrs. Rodriguez said she hoped all school board members would be present at the Sacred Heart meeting.

Car Flips, None Injured In Crash

One car was turned over when struck from the rear by another about 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon as it pulled onto the pavement a mile east of Coahoma on IS 20.

Alton Zlata, 73, of Omaha, Neb., driver of the overturned car, and his wife Mary, were traveling toward Big Spring on the east-bound lane of IS 20, according to Donald Shea of Eastland, who witnessed the accident.

"I was driving on the westbound lane when I saw all these cars dodging him, blinking their lights at him," Shea said. "So I pulled over close to the median and waved him down. After I told him he was in the wrong lane, he just pulled right out into the west-bound lane in front of the other car, which hit him in the rear, flipping him over."

Neither of the Zlatas, nor the driver of the other car, Mrs. Drusilla Bearden, 54, of Midland, were injured in the accident. The Zlata car was practically demolished, a car-top carrier was ripped off and the contents scattered when the car overturned, and the car itself was turned around on the road. Several witnesses stopped, righted the Zlata vehicle, and notified highway patrolmen of the incident.

West-bound traffic was disrupted for 30 minutes before the two cars were pushed aside.

McNamara Going For Close Look

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will take a close look this week at U.S. strategy and tactics in Viet Nam, seeking to gauge what reinforcements will be needed to blunt the Communist offensive.

This, in sum, is the purpose of McNamara's first on-the-spot size up of the South Viet Nam war situation in 14 months.

He is to leave Wednesday night with a small party of top officials, including Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The mission will take about a week.

Thant Thinks They're Listening

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant said Saturday the United States, Britain and France were "very much interested" in his proposals for a cease-fire in Viet Nam and a new Geneva conference.

Lower Costs Indicated For Making Fresh Water

WASHINGTON (AP)—A preliminary report indicated Saturday that fresh water could be produced from the sea at a cost of 22 to 30 cents per thousand gallons in a southern California plant.

The cost was described as comparing favorably with current costs in the Los Angeles area.

In the proposed plant, nuclear fuel would produce energy for the generation of electricity. Surplus energy would be used to distill water in the desalting plant.

The suggested plant would cost $300 million and produce 150 million gallons of fresh water a day along with 1,800 megawatts of electricity.

The report was presented to a task force representing the Interior Department, the Atomic Energy Commission and the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California (MWD).

When the office of Saline Water was set up 13 years ago to experiment with desalting methods, costs for such processes ran around $4 to $5 per thousand gallons. They now are down to $1 to $1.25 in some test plants but this still is far above the 35 cents per thousand gallons which the office estimates the average U. S. consumer pay.

Higher Pay For Retirees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security bill passed by the Senate Friday night will bring substantial future increases in monthly retirement payments under Social Security.

Both the Senate and House versions would increase the wage tax base on which the benefits are figured.

The base, now $4,800 a year, would rise to $5,600 next year and to $6,600 in 1971 under the House measure. The Senate bill would make it $6,600 starting next year.

The present maximum payment for an individual is $127 a month.

The following table shows the monthly retirement payments under the two versions for a person with maximum creditable earnings for all years up to the time he becomes 65:

	House	Senate
1966	$132.70	$132.70
1967	$133.80	$135.90
1968	$134.90	$138.00
1969	$135.90	$141.00
1970	$137.90	$143.00
1971	$137.90	$144.00
1981	$149.90	$154.00
1991	$154.90	$158.00
2004	$165.90	$168.00
2009	$167.90	$168.00

For a married couple, the payment would be one and one-half times the rate for the individual.

Mrs. Read Dies, Rites Set Sunday

Mrs. Alta Pearl Read, 58, Vincent, died at 9:15 a.m. Saturday in a Big Spring hospital.

Born June 13, 1907, in Rising Star, she moved to Mitchell County from Rising Star in 1914. She graduated from Loraine public schools, attended Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and John Tarleton College, Stephenville. She subsequently taught school in Loraine and Vincent.

She married George U. Read Dec. 24, 1927, in Colorado City. They then moved to Vincent. Her husband has lived in Vincent since 1906.

Mrs. Read, a long-time Baptist, was an active member of the Vincent Baptist Church, and taught adult Sunday school classes there for a number of years.

Survivors include the husband; a daughter, Mrs. Jack (Pearl) Barr, Brownfield; two sons, Richard and Bobby Read, both of Big Spring; three sisters, Miss Mabel Lee, Miss Georgia Lee, and Mrs. Frank (Lena) Dearen, all of Colorado City; and six grandchildren.

Services will be 4 p.m. Sunday in the Vincent Baptist Church, with Rev. Roy Shoemake, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Virgil Drury, Malzamar, N. M.

Pallbearers will be Frank Whittaker, Jim Hodnett, R. T. Shaffer, B. O. Brown, James C. Barr, Jack Dunn, Elmo Dunn and Hap Wilson.

Scouts Leave For Camp

Four troops of Boy Scouts leave today for a week of summer camp near Fort Davis and Balmorhea, according to Bill McRee, district scout executive.

The boys will be home Saturday, he said. About 40 scouts are due to make the trip. They are members of Troop 1, sponsored by the Big Spring Rotary Club; Troop 111, sponsored by the Big Spring Optimists Club; Troop 81, sponsored by the American Legion; and Troop 17, sponsored by the BPOE Elks.

Three leaders are to accompany the boys; John Willoughby, with Troops 1 and 111; Sgt. Joe Maenner, Trocp 81; and Ivory Harper, Troop 17.

McRee also announced the Explorer Scout Wing-Ding will be July 16-18 at Webb AFB. The WAFB-sponsored bivouac is expected to draw between 100 and 150 Explorers, he said, at a cost of $3 each. The boys will eat in a Webb mess hall, but camp outdoors. There will be a party for explorers and their dates (from local girls organizations) at Lee's Service Club at Webb July 17 at 8 p.m. McRee urged all district Explorer Scouts to attend the Wing-Ding.

Roy Acuff Hurt In Car Accident

SPARTA, Tenn. (AP) — Country music star Roy Acuff and two companions were injured Saturday in a two-car collision on rain-slick U.S. 70, west of Sparta.

The attending physician, Dr. Donald Bradley, said Acuff is in serious condition with broken ribs, pelvis and collarbone.

Guitar player Harold B. (Shot) Jackson was listed by Bradley as in critical condition with fractures of the skull, ribs and pelvis.

The third victim in the Acuff party was Mrs. Agnes June Burdette, 26, who sings under the name of June Stearns. Her injuries were not believed as serious as the others.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mrs. Bessie E. King wish to express our most sincere appreciation for every act of kindness and sympathy received during our reecnt bereavement.

THE WEEK

evening there was a hopeful buildup of clouds in the north. Meanwhile, the thermometer crawled above 100 by midweek and seem to make a habit of repeating. So far cotton is growing rapidly and no doubt is sending down its tap roots. However, these exceptionally hot days with some wind sap moisture rather rapidly.

On Tuesday thirsty cities in this area soaked water like a sponge. The Colorado River Municipal Water District pumped 52,000,000 gallons, of which about 44,000,000 went to Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder. With water being consumed at this rate, no wonder anxious eyes are turned to the Texas Water Commission in Austin for a ruling on the application for a lake at Robert Lee.

Howard County Junior College filled two vacancies—one a new position — last week. The new spot is administrative dean, and Dr. Dawson DeViney, Brownsville, is the man. Larry Nutter will be added to the English faculty. It is possible the remaining vacancy of instrumental instructor in the music department will be filled within the week.

By making some adjustments, Stanton Independent School District whittled off about $16,000 and was able to let a contract to J. D. Jones of Big Spring for an eight classroom structure. What makes this a particularly interesting adventure is that the plant will be entirely underground, will be electrically headed and have refrigerative air conditioning. Olen Puckett, Big Spring, is the designer of the facility that doubtless will be observed closely in the region.

Materials are being ordered for the three and a half million dollar senior high school project here. Construction is due to start soon. Coahoma is taking bids July 19 on the remodeling of an elementary school as the first phase of its $395,000 expansion program. Another public job still in the picture is that of the U.S. post office. In all probability General Services Administration will make its first land purchases of the Main street tract this week.

Telephone directories went into the mail last week, and by now some 30,000 should have found their way to proper hands. The number of phones is slightly more than half this figure—on the order of 17,000. Take care of the books and don't thumb at the corners. And remember that those numbers formerly starting 4-4 are no longer around. Instead, dial 3-7. For instance, the Herald's new number is 3-7331.

Response to the Head Start program for youngsters entering school for the first time has been good, although the actual enrollment was a little slow shaping. More than 200 are due. Another program also gradually but steadily getting interest is that for adults who want to master basic education—learn to read and write, develop reading and figuring skills to sixth grade level, or from the sixth through the eighth. Maybe someday we can have a high school course for adults who missed out.

The Air Training Command had its 22nd birthday last week, and Col. A. F. Taute went down to the airmen's mess hall to cut a big cake baked for the occasion. It will be happy birthday, too, for the Veterans Administration hospital here, exactly one week from today. Make your plans to attend the brief ceremonies at 1:30 p.m. and then tour this fine facility.

The Howard County Rehabilitation Center is getting traction on its equipment appeal. The effort passed the halfway of $10,000 goal last week, and it is continuing to grow. Before scheduled occupancy, sometime in August, perhaps things will be in pretty good shape. By the way, we made an error on the Carpenter's Local which took up a collection from its members attending the last meeting. It should be No. 1634; the amount of $32.50 was right. The March of Dimes gave the effort a boost with $660.

The week was a quiet one on the oil front. HMH No. 3 Ross Foster became a small Queen discovery on the west side of the Parochial Bade field in western County. It was shooting for the Clear Fork and missed, but backed up and made an 18-barrel well at 1,030 feet.

W. A. Burdine Dies Saturday

LAMESA (SC) — W. A. Burdine, 60, Lamesa, died in Methodist Hospital here Saturday.

Born Oct. 1, 1895, in Haskell County, he had lived in Dawson County since 1923. He moved to Lamesa from Ackerly in 1949. He had real estate and farming interests in the county. A founder and member of Faith Temple, he was a member of Masonic Lodge 909.

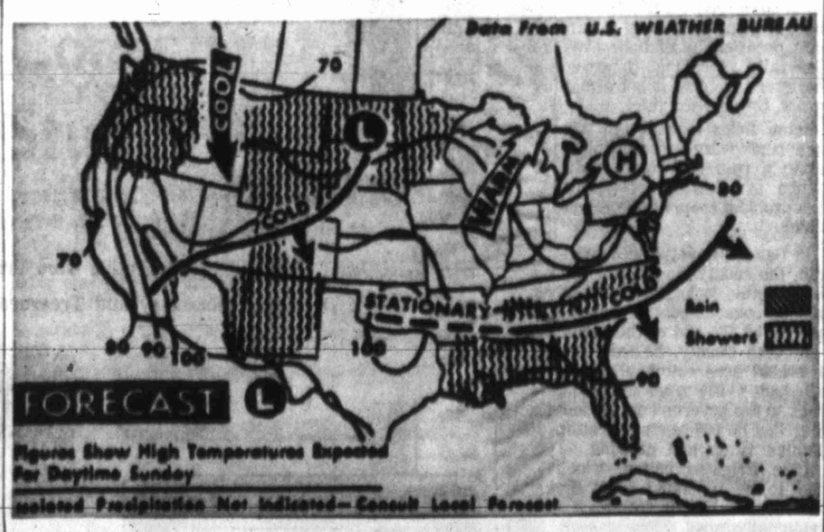
Services will be at 3:30 p.m. today in the First Baptist Church, the Rev. (Mrs.) Carl Benson and Rev. Dorman Kincaid officiating. The body will lie in state from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. in Faith Temple. Burial will be in the Lamesa Memorial Park under direction of Branon-Philips Funeral Home.

Mr. Burdine is survived by his widow; four daughters, Mrs. Donald Walker, Harrison, Ark., Mrs. James B. Mott, Mrs. Donald Hudgions, and Mrs. Garland Crockett, all of Lubbock; two step-daughters, Mrs. Walter K. Kennedy, Colorado City, and Mrs. Lawrence Ray, Lubbock; two sons, the Rev. A. Wilber Burdine, Pittsburg, Calif., and Charles Burdine, Ainsworth, Neb.; a step-son, Charles Gallimore, Lubbock; and 18 grandchildren.

Man Wanted For Threatening LBJ

AMARILLO (AP) — A former convict arrested here on auto theft charges has been identified as a former New Yorker indicted for allegedly writing a threatening letter to President Johnson.

Walter Daniel Hendrickson, 36, captured in an Amarillo motel Friday night, was indicted by a federal grand jury last month in Albuquerque, in connection with a threatening letter mailed to the President in April.



Weather Forecast

Scattered showers and thundershowers are forecast Sunday for the Rocky Mountain region, the east Gulf coast states, the south Atlantic coast states and some areas from the Pacific northwest to the upper Mississippi valley. ((AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Fan Dancer Booked

Sally Rand, 61, longtime fan dancer, was booked by police for investigation after Patrolman Vern Prescher said her act went beyond the "bounds of propriety." (AP WIREPHOTO)

Sally Rand At 61 Still Waves Fans

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Fan dancer Sally Rand, who first attracted wide attention at the Chicago Century of Progress in 1933, was arrested following her first performance in an Omaha night club Friday night.

She was booked for investigation under her real name, Helen Gould Beck, and released on $300 bond. The night club owner, George F. Earl, also was booked and freed on $300 bond.

The Omaha vice squad report said Miss Rand admitted that she was nude during her dance.

Vice squad patrolman Vern Presher said Miss Rand appeared first in a white gown and carried two large feather fans. She started a slow tempo dance to recorded organ music.

The officer said that after about one minute she exposed her body to the audience and danced nude for about six minutes.

After being booked she returned to the club and was back on stage at 1 a.m. but there was no arrest this time.

The 61-year-old dancer said she had been doing the same act since the 1933 Chicago Century of Progress fair. She said she was charged in Chicago in 1933 and in Los Angeles and San Francisco in 1946 but was never convicted.

On his arrival in Omaha, the dancer parried a question about what she wore behind her fans with the comment: "That's like asking the magician where he gets the rabbit."

Following her arrest she met a similar question with the quip: "The Rand is quicker than the eye."

Cubs Brave Searing Sun For Olympics Contest

Boys from 12 Howard County Cub Scout Packs participated in the annual Cub Olympics Saturday afternoon at the old football field here, according to Bill McRee, district scout executive.

The 84 boys competed in five events in three age groups — 8, 9, and 10-year olds. The events were 30-yard dash, broad jump, ball throw, javelin, and 80-yard relay.

Chuck Condray was in charge of the events, helped by Charles Spurgin, Roosevelt Dean, Capt. Miles Carter, Joe Horton, Jerry Allen, and Boyd Bryant.

Individual ribbons were awarded for first, second and third places, including the team relay. All participating boys received competition ribbons whether or not they placed in any events.

McRee said the events were well-attended by parents and other spectators, despite high temperatures.

The winners were:

MIXTURE OF PITILESS CRIME, GENTLE CONSIDERATION

Jailbirds Throw Away Brief Freedom

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The sheriff's radio crackled out: "Oh, my God, I'm shot!" That was the end for a rookie deputy.

But for two habitual jailbirds it was the start of a wild four-day trail in which they are accused of rape, robbery, murder and mass kidnaping across three Western states — in which they mixed pitiless crime with gentle consideration for their chance victims.

It ended quietly when they threw down their arms and surrendered.

THREE STATES

Wilford Gray and Carl Bowles, just out of prison in Oregon, cut their mounting swath of terror through Oregon, California and into Nevada's high desert country.

Their high-speed criminal adventure began on a low key early Monday and roared to its almost anticlimactic finish before dawn Friday.

Police painted a picture of two men inexorably throwing away their few brief days of freedom by: robbing a motel of $28 with Gray raping the owner; holding up a bank and escaping with about $12,000; mercilessly pumping six bullets and a volley of shotgun pellets into Deputy Sheriff Carlton E. Smith.

RANDOM HOSTAGES

Desperately fleeing from Oregon into California and Nevada, Gray and Bowles sought safe passage by seizing hostages at random — telling police they'd kill the victims if officers came near.

They kidnaped a wide variety of Westerners. First it was a housewife and her 12-year-old son from Oregon. Then it was four others — natives of Latvia from the state of Washington — who were in a camper truck.

And then, by pure chance, they snatched from their Sacramento home California's top appointive official, Finance Director Hale Champion, his wife and 19-month-old daughter.

All were freed unharmed, and when Mrs. Champion and the infant were dumped out — the husband had been released earlier — the two men gave her $900 and quipped, "You don't need to tell the old man you got it."

BRUTAL, COURTEOUS

The police said the fugitives were brutal. The hostages talked of their courtesy. Mrs. Champion recalled Gray and Bowles were kind to the baby, saying, "They wanted to make sure she had enough milk and enough food."

How did it all begin, the long, violent. Odyssey that began in Oregon, coursed through California and ended in Nevada brush country?

It might have started on July 1 when Wilford Marion Gray, 30, left Oregon State Prison. Three days before, his friend, Carl Cletus Bowles, 24, had been freed.

Four days passed. Like all ex-cons, Bowles and Gray faced the decision of how to shape their futures.

At 2 a.m. Monday, police said, there was the motel robbery, in Tigard, Ore., just outside Portland. The next day the bank was robbed. By the police account, Bowles and Gray bought a sports car with part of the bank loot, but encountered Deputy Smith.

Then, without warning, the sheriff's radio soke: "Oh my God, I'm shot."

It wasn't long after that Mrs. David Corbin, making a midnight snack, met Gray and Bowles. They appeared at her Springfield home, and grabbed as hostages the woman and her 12-year-old son David.

CHARGES GROW

The possible charges against them — once simple motel robbery — were growing.

After only 125 miles, in the rugged, towering Cascade mountains of Oregon, the Corbin car broke down. Later she said she was frightened. "They had killed that policeman," she said.

Another vehicle was nearby, a camper truck occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ulis Riekstins, their son Janis, 14; and a family friend, Zanis Bauze.

Last week the Riekstins sang at a Latvian song festival. But now, they were terrified prisoners in their own camper truck, along with the Corbins.

"We were just scared to death," the slight, attractive Mrs. Corbin said.

With guns held on them, the hostages traveled over the mountains of southern Oregon and Northern California, into the broad Central Valley — heading southeast toward Sacramento, near the center of the 700-mile-long state.

About three miles away from the downtown spot where the hostages were left, there's a pleasant residential suburb called South Land Park.

There's a ranch-style house at 1514 Sherwood Ave., the home of Finance Director Champion, 42, his wife, Marie, 39; and their children, Tommy, 10, and Katherine Marine, 19 months.

"They were sprinting and jumping over back fences and came panting into our house," Champion said later. "There was a gate open and they just stumbled in."

Everyone was asleep. Baby Katherine was peaceful. She was lucky to be there. Her parents had RH factor blood problems and her life had been saved by a rare blood transfusion.

GUN POINT

They turned on the lights and wakened the Champions at gunpoint. The baby woke up and Mrs. Champion was told to take her along.

The fleeing car was spotted in the high desert country and at Tonopah, police and sheriff's deputies cornered it.

"Give us the car or we'll shoot," one of the gunmen yelled to a deputy.

"We didn't dare fire. We were afraid to hit the hostages," said Taskar Eason, 54, chief of the Tonopah police. Eason and sheriff's deputies in his car got out and gave up the auto. Gray and Bowles ordered their hostages in.

GUNFIRE

Down the broad main street of the little town they drove, stopping in front of a gambling casino. One of the gunmen ordered the patrons out, but nobody obeyed. He opened fire and so did a card dealer, who hit Champion in the hip, a minor wound.

The drama moved to its climax.

Champion was in Tonopah, under doctor's care.

Speeding along the desert road were the two gunmen, the mother and her baby. The child, fed during stops when the jailbirds bought food, rifles and whisky, sometimes slept, sucking her thumb.

SET FREE

Finally, mother and daughter were set free, a mile and a half from an agricultural inspection station and five miles inside California.

The net grew tighter as the Sierra — still snow clad in July above 10,000 feet — glistened under a cloudless sky.

They abandoned the sheriff's car and set out on foot.

But they tossed away their guns and when California high patrolmen Paul Otis and Gentry Pace saw them trudging along, the two gave up meekly.

QUIET CONCLUSION

It was a quiet conclusion to one of the wildest modern-day crime escapades in Western history.

Nobody knows why it ended so quietly.

Maybe it was baby Katherine, their tiny hostage.

"I think it was very important," said Champion. "At the end we were getting along very well with them. A baby quite often breaks the ice."

Kidnaped Girl Still Missing

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — It was just a week ago Saturday that the Clinton family of neighboring Independence, Mo., returned from a happy vacation in California.

Russell, his wife, Betty, and their two daughters, Denise, 9, and Diana, 6, told friends and relatives about the many things they had seen. For Russell it was a restful break in his job as the service manager for an automobile company.

MISSING

Now Denise — blue-eyed, red-haired, with freckles across her nose — is missing.

She was kidnaped last Thursday morning by a man who held up her grandparents at a motel they operate.

An intensive search of the wooded area around the motel and a checkout of many tips have failed to uncover any clues. There has been no response to pleas on television by Betty Clinton for the safe return of her daughter.

As hope dims, the FBI is searching for Robert Lee Hays, 32, a former mental patient, whose picture was described by the grandparents as resembling the kidnaper.

Denise was spending last Wednesday night with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chelcie Reynolds. They manage the Great Plains Motel in the extreme northwest section of Kansas City.

TAKE TURNS

The couple has 15 grandchildren, who take turns visiting with them. Last Wednesday night, Denise was taking her turn — just an overnight stay. She was sleeping in a room just off the lobby. The Reynolds were in an adjoining room.

About 2 a.m., Mrs. Reynolds heard the lobby buzzer and got up to admit a tall, dark-haired man about 30 years old, who asked for a single room, then drew a revolver and announced: "This is a holdup."

As he left, the bandit shoved the gun next to Reynolds' face and warned: "Don't make any funny moves or I'll kill you."

A few minutes after they heard the front door click shut, the couple freed themselves and called police.

Then came the shock. Mrs. Reynolds looked into the adjoining room and saw Denise was gone.

The distraught grandparents have looked at many pictures of suspects.

LOOKS LIKE HIM

After being shown one of Hays, Mrs. Reynolds said: "I have looked at a lot of photographs but this one looks more like the man than any of the others."

Hays was identified several years ago as the man who broke into nine Kansas City apartments. But charges against him were dismissed later so he could be sent to a hospital for psychiatric care. He was released from a state hospital in February 1964.

Hays also has been sought recently on a federal warrant charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution on a robbery charge in Topeka, Kan.

Two Killed In Truck-Car Crash

OROGRANDE, N. M. (AP)— Two Texans died Friday night when their small car hit a parked, unlighted truck on a lonely stretch of U. S. 54 seven miles north of here in southern New Mexico.

They were Thomas Shirley, 23, of Houston, and Gary Vaughan, 21, of Idalou.

State police said the car, driven by Shirley, knocked the two-ton truck 42 feet. Police said the truck is owned by Sunco Produce Co. of El Paso. No one was in it.

DEAR ABBY

Accept The New Policy

DEAR ABBY: Our family has lived in this town for three generations, and no one of our religion has ever been invited to join a certain club here. Suddenly, a man of our faith was invited to become a member. Perhaps I should add that he is an outstanding civic leader, has done much for the community and is very wealthy besides. Much to the disappointment of his many friends, he considered this an "honor" and has accepted. We feel that since the club has pointedly excluded members of his faith in the past, he should have declined membership in their club to show his contempt for their policy of discrimination. What is your opinion?

LEAVE NAME OF CITY OUT

DEAR LEAVE: I disagree with you. Why snub a club that once "discriminated," but has now changed its policy? He deserves congratulations, not criticism for breaking the bigotry barrier.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband stayed out of work for a week as he was ill. On the third day, he received a note from one of the girls at the office. It read:

"Marty, Dear,

Please get well soon as we all miss you. Take good care of yourself, Honey - boy, 'cuz things are not the same around here without you. If there's anything I can do for you, please let me know.

Love,

Judy"

I became very upset over this because if it was really from ALL the girls at the office, why didn't they all sign it? Only Judy's name appeared on the note, and she had her home address on the envelope. And what kind of crack was that, "take good care of yourself"? She knows he does not have to take care of himself as he is a married man and has a wife to take care of him. And what is this "Honey-boy" business? He is almost 60 years old. Also what does she think SHE can do for him that I can't? I cried all day. My husband says I am being silly. Am I? MARTY'S MISSUS

DEAR MISSUS: Yes. You are being slightly silly and hypersensitive. She was probably only trying to cheer your husband up. Forget it. I'd say her message was in poor taste, but her motives were pure.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am an ordinary 17-year-old girl except for one thing. I hate my father. He is not an alcoholic and he does not beat me, so I have no real reason for hating him. He gives me money and lets me go out as often as I wish. He gripes when I go out too much, but he never makes me stay home. One big thing I hate about him is the way he acts around my mother. He is always kissing her, or hugging her, or swatting her on the rear.

I hate to look at him. I hate to watch him eat and I hate to do anything for him. I have been thinking seriously about asking my mother to let me see a psychiatrist. Do you think it would help me to quit hating my father like this?

DEAR HATER: Yes. It might not help you to quit hating your father, but it could possibly reveal to you the reason why you "hate" him (if indeed you do). And even more important, it could alleviate your guilt feelings for being so full of hate, which you obviously are.

Reeder Gives Club History

Roy Reeder, charter member of the Big Spring ABC Club, gave a brief history of the local organization chartered in 1935, and reminded all that the 30th anniversary of the club had arrived.

Eugene Thomas, in charge of the Friday noon program, asked each member to re-introduce himself and give a brief resume of his business and personal interests, and why he liked Big Spring, along with what ABC had meant to him.

Dr. Robert Johnson, president, opened the meeting and announced that the Big Spring High School Student Council was in need of help on the foreign exchange program. He asked the executive committee to research the need, and to report back to the club on its findings.

Dr. Johnson also announced a board meeting at 7:30 p.m. July 13 at the First National Bank building. He also announced the district board meeting in Lamesa July 25. Members going to Lamesa are Dr. Johnson, Richard Hughes and V. A. Whittington.

Visitors present were Red Williams as guest of Hank Godbey; Mike Faulkner, guest of Ben Faulkner; and John Galloway of Dallas, guest of Byron Neel.

Phone Books Arrive Daily

The Big Spring Post Office is receiving about 1½ tons of the new Southwestern Bell Telephone Company directories daily. E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said that the office has handled about 9,000 pounds of the books through Saturday.

Boatler said that he expects the shipments to continue at about this pace until the full order has been received. He had been told the total load would be about 27,000 pounds.

Route carriers are handling the books as they are received, and the office is keeping abreast of the shipments as they arrive.

Approximately 30,000 copies of the book will be distributed, it was said.

World Mission Position Retained

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Dr. Watson Street has agreed here to remain as executive secretary of the Presbyterian U. S. Board of World Missions at the request of board members.

He said earlier he would resign to become faculty dean at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Austin, Tex.

Sanity Trial May Be First Docketed

Antonio DeLeon, under indictments for theft and for rape, will probably be the first defendant to be called to trial in 118th District Court when Judge Ralph Caton opens a criminal jury docket Tuesday.

However, the trial for DeLeon will not be for either of the two complaints pending against him.

He has been granted a sanity hearing and the issue to be laid before the jury is whether or not the defendant is insane at this time or was insane at the time he allegedly attempted to rape a young girl when he stole the police chief's automobile.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said Saturday that it was likely that DeLeon would be the first defendant to be called before the bar. Norman Spencer Jr. is DeLeon's attorney.

Judge Caton has set down 14 felony cases for disposition this week. He will sound the docket at 10 a.m. Monday. All cases announced ready will be set at that time and the first case to go to trial will be called at 10 a.m. Tuesday. The court will be in operation through Friday of this week.

Four defendants, all accused of rape, are listed at the top of the tentative docket. They are Ramon Torres, Joe Flores Martinez, and Ismael Patino and Nicholas Paradez. All are accused of a criminal assault on a young Latin American girl April 19, 1964.

Other cases in addition to these and the DeLeon matter are:

T. V. Thompson, theft by bailee; Elmo Henry, assault with intent to murder; Benjamin DeLeon, burglary; David Keith Collett, DWI second; Daniel A. Rios, murder with a motor vehicle; Earnest Henry Jr., burglary; Willie Roy English, burglary; and Shelton Lain, two charges of DWI second offense.

Burns said that he would like to call the case of Rios, charged with murder by an automobile, to follow the sanity hearing for DeLeon. Rios is accused of being the driver of a car which ran down another vehicle causing the death of Albert Donald Grantham on March 3.

Judge For New Court Appointed

Willie Mays Decked; Giants Win, 7 To 0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — San Francisco's Juan Marichal became the majors' second 14-game winner Saturday night, checking Philadelphia 7-0 on two hits for his seventh shutout of the season.

Willie Mays, the Giants' $105,000-a-year center fielder, and Philadeladelphia catcher Pat Corales were injured in a first-inning collision at home plate. Both were taken to a hospital, but X rays were negative.

Marichal, bringing his record to 14-7, was tagged by Tony Gonzalez for a triple off the scoreboard in right center field with one out in the second. Gonzalez remained on third base as Marichal struck out Dick Stuart and Bobby Wine was out on a grounder.

Braves Wrap Up Little League's City Crown

Dave Duncan pitched the National league Braves to a 5-0 victory over the International's Comets in the championship finals of the Little League City playoffs in the National park here Saturday night.

WINNING HURLER
Dave Duncan

Duncan, in command all the way, limited the Comets to four hits and got all the runs he needed when the Braves counted three times in the third.

The Braves had knocked off the American champions, the Colts, Friday night while the Comets were accepting what turned out to be forfeit from the Texas league's Lions. The Lions started the game but failed to finish.

Skippy Eggleston smashed a double and two singles, Larry Vasquez had a two-baser and Scott McLaughlin accounted for two singles for the Braves.

Duncan fanned an even dozen in the six inning bout and never yielded more than one hit an inning, although the Comets never struck their colors.

Larry and Gary Ringener, Oscar Del Bosque and Perry Knight hit safely for the Comets. Duncan's control was good, too — he walked only three batters.

McLaughlin, Duncan and Vasquez crossed the plate for the Braves in the third and McLaughlin and Duncan repeated the scoring act in the fifth.

The Comets got their first two runners aboard in the second but Duncan settled to strike out three batters in a row.

Gary Ringener, on the hill for the Comets, whiffed seven of the opposition.

ABC Winner By 8-7 Tab

ABC's Gary Ham's bunt in the 10th inning was thrown into center field by Optimist pitcher Danny Johnson, and Mike Murphey, on via a free pass, scored, putting ABC over the Optimists, 8-7, in a Hi-Junior League baseball game Saturday.

The game had been tied since the seventh inning as Johnson and ABC hurler Ronnie Steen were targets for sluggers throughout the contest. Steen gave up 12 hits, Johnson 17. Both hurlers went all the way.

Twins, Yanks Split Couple

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Clete Boyer halted Minnesota's winning streak at nine games, clouting a grand slam home run in the eighth inning that gave the New York Yankees an 8-6 victory over the American League-leading Twins Saturday night.

Minnesota won the opener of the day-night doubleheader 4-1 behind Zoilo Versalles' two-run homer.

Chicago Sox Grab Opener, Baltimore Takes Second

BALTIMORE (AP) — Miscues by opposing rookie left fielders, Baltimore's Curt Blefary and Joe Hicks of Chicago, contributed to important runs Saturday as the White Sox and Orioles split a twi-night doubleheader.

The White Sox won the opener 6-4, snapping a five-game Baltimore winning streak, but the Orioles rebounded for a 5-3 victory in the nightcap with all of their runs unearned.

Ron Hansen and Floyd Robinson socked two-run homers to keep Chicago even in the first game, with the tie-breaking run scoring in the seventh after Blefary lost Tom McCraw's lazy fly in the background and it fell for a double.

Hansen then singled off reliever Dick Hall, scoring McCraw and breaking the 4-4 deadlock.

An error by Chicago first baseman Danny Cater paved the way for three unearned Orioles runs in the fourth inning of the second game. Two scored when Hicks, recently recalled from Indianapolis, lost Jerry Adair's fly in the background and it fell for a double.

Baltimore added two more unearned runs in the sixth without a hit after Hicks dropped a liner by Jackie Brandt in left center.

Hiskey And Fleckman Retains Odessa Lead

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Babe Hiskey of Pocatello, Idaho, and Marty Fleckman of Beaumont held onto their two-stroke lead in the $20,000 Odessa pro-amateur golf tournament Saturday despite high winds and tough pin placements that sent scores soaring.

Despite two deadly bogeys on the back nine, they had a seven-under-par 65 for 189 at the 54-hole mark. It was only one stroke off the tournament record.

Don Massengale of Jacksboro and John Farquhar of Amarillo also had a 65 and went into undisputed second place with 191. They are the defending champions.

Bo Wininger of Las Vegas, Nev., and Bobby French of Midland had the best round of the day—a 10-under-par 62—and it slipped them into a tie for third place at 193 with Ray Floyd of Fayetteville, N.C., and Rik Massengale of Jacksboro.

Also in position to challenge Sunday in the final round were teams of Gay Brewer of Dallas and John Paul Cain of Houston and Homero Blancas and Mark Hopkins of Houston, who had 64 and 68 respectively to compile totals of 194.

Cowboys To Greet Rookie Gridders

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys open training for their sixth season Tuesday when 50 rookies and four veterans report to California Lutheran College in Thousand Oaks, Calif.

Another small group of veterans will report July 17 and the remainder of the squad July 23.

Five rookies, who will be playing in the Chicago All-Star game, will not join the Cowboys camp until Aug. 8. They are Craig Morton of California, Malcolm Walker and Russ Wayt of Rice, Ralph Neely of Oklahoma and Bob Hayes of Florida A&M.

The first contingent at Thousand Oaks will undergo physical and indoctrination Tuesday and begin work the following day.

In addition to the two-a-day workout schedule during early stages of the training camp, the Cowboy rookies will engage in two scrimmage sessions with rookies of the Los Angeles Rams. The first will be July 17 at the Rams camp with the Cowboy rookies on defense and the Rams on offense. The second scrimmage will be July 22 and the teams will reverse offense and defense.

The Cowboys open pre-season action Aug. 14 against the Rams in the Los Angeles Times charity game.

The Cowboys got some good news over the weekend when it was found that ace tackle Tony Liscio had a fine chance of playing the entire season.

Liscio tore ligaments and cartilage in his knee last season and was operated on in December. But an infection developed. Friday a "superficial" operation was performed and doctors said the source of the infection had been removed. The 255-pound lineman will remain in the hospital for several days as a precaution against further infection.

Coach Tom Landry has said that Liscio is one of his key men in building an offensive line.

Surge In Fifth Saves Braves

The National League Braves scored five runs in the bottom of the fith inning to surprise the American League Colts, 5-3, in a come-from-behind Little League semifinal game at Cosden Park Friday night.

Danny Eggleton singled, Danny Wood walked, then Eggleton scored the tieing run on an error which put Jay Bob Dement on base. Scott McLaughlin drove in Wood and Dement with a long single; then Dave Duncan singled in McLaughlin. Skippy Eggleston doubled, sending Duncan across the plate for the final run of the game.

The Colts' David Malarchik scored the first run of the game in the second inning on Pink Dickens' double. After the Braves' five-run fifth, the Colts made a catch-up try in the sixth, Dickie Stanley singling and scoring on Wayne York's double, J. Bartlett scoring on Jeff Bartlett's double for the other run.

Larry Vasquez went five innings for the Braves, taking the win. Malarchik pitched the entire game for the Colts in a losing effort.

Hard-Hit Track Reduces Season

DENVER (AP) — Centennial track, recovering from one of the worst catastrophes to hit a horse racing plant, plans to get its delayed 16th season under way next Saturday.

Flood waters from the South Platte River just east of the track spread heavy destruction June 16 and left 28 thoroughbreds dead or missing.

The track had scheduled a July 2 opening for a 54-day season. Now it will be limited to 43 days ending Sept. 13.

General Manager Ivan Thomas said smashed barns have been partially rebuilt and 850 horses should be in the stable area when the bugle sounds the call to post.

Spoils For The Winners

L. R. Saunders (second from left) of the Daily Herald extends the championship trophy to David Talbot following the miniature golf tournament for the paper's newsmen held at the Star-Lite Acres course Saturday morning. Young Talbot fired a 178 over 72 holes to win. Second was Rick Olsen (left), with a 182 while Leon Hobbs (right) was third, with a 185. All three boys also earned cash awards.

Thomson Wins Fifth British Open Crown

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Peter Thomson, the quiet Australian who never seems to sparkle but never seems to lose, set his sights today on one of golf's highest pinnacles.

The 36-year-old Thomson, who never chuckles and seldom even grins, won the British Open golf championship Friday for the fifth time.

Without emotion, he said, "I want the sixth.

The reason: Only the immortal Harry Vardon won it that many times in its 105-year history and Thomson has dedicated himself to matching it and perhaps even exceeding the target.

It's a pretty large assignment but Thomson had behind him such champions as Tony Lema, last year's winner, Arnold Palmer, two - time British champion, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Kel Nagle when he racked up his 74-68-72-71 — 285 Friday.

Palmer, the struggling master from Latrobe, Pa., limped in with a 295 Friday after a final round 79.

Lots of others succumbed to rain and wind, sudden sun and greens that were treacherous. They included Ireland's Christy O'Connor and Welshman Brian Hugget, tied for second at 287, Argentina's Robert de Vicenzo at 288, Lema, Nagle and England's Bernard Hunt at 289.

Nicklaus, the overwhelming far back in the field with a 295 while U. S. Open winner Player pulled out after 18 holes of the 36-hole windup with a sore neck.

Thomson's triumph was worth $4,900 but it qualified him for a lot more. He now will play in the U. S. World Series of Golf limited to winners of the British Open, American Open, Masters and PGA. The World Series has a value of $100,000, with half that as first prize.

Final leaders:

Peter Thomason, $4,900 Australia	74-68-72-71—285
Brian Huggett, $2,150 Wales	73-68-76-70—287
Christy O'Connor, $2,150 Ireland	69-73-74-71—287

Ballou Hurls Hardware Win

Big Spring Hardware survived a last-minute rush by the McMahon Indians to eke out a 11-10 win in a Hi-Junior League baseball game Friday night.

The Indians scored four runs on two hits in the bottom of the final stanza to pull within one run, but ran out of gas before they could catch up.

Many runs for both teams were scored on fielding errors, as together the two teams had only 10 hits — six for the Hardware bunch, and four for the Indians.

Hardware took an 8-3 lead before the Indians woke up — too late. Wesley Ballou was the winning pitcher, Scott the loser.

Deadlines Near For Playoffs

Managers of women's softball teams planning to enter their teams in the July 23-24-25 State ASA tournament at Lake Jackson should contact the ASA district commissioner, D. A. Miller, no later than July 19.

Any team in the area is eligible to compete at Lake Jackson, Miller said.

Managers of men's teams planning to compete for district and state championships should have their rosters in Miller's hands no later than July 14. Those not on file will not be approved by the State commissioner, Miller stated.

Ellsworth Is Again Winner

CHICAGO (AP) — Dick Ellsworth, supported by Don Kessinger's two-run triple and Ed Bailey's bases-empty homer, recorded his 10th victory Saturday as the Chicago Cubs defeated St. Louis 5-3.

Ellsworth, 10-4, held the world champions to a pair of singles until the sixth when they spoiled his shutout. He wound up with a seven-hitter.

Deep Sea Roundup Begins Tuesday

PORT ARANSAS, Tex. (AP)—The 30th annual Deep Sea Roundup starts Tuesday with more than 300 contestants due to test their fishing skills in the Gulf of Mexico for three days.

They will drop hooks for the first time in the forenoon after the blessing of the fleet and the Parade of the Jetty.

Forty-two trophies will be awarded Thursday night. Points are gained for some species and weight counts for others. Among the game fish that count are blue marlin, sailfish, white marlin, dolphin, tuna, mackerel, tarpon and kingfish.

The roundup has attracted entries from the United States, Mexico and England.

Ernie Davis New Mentor In Track

ODESSA — Ernie Davis, track coach at Littlefield the past three years, has been hired as head track coach and varsity football assistant at Odessa High School.

Head coach Hank Watkins said he felt fortunate in securing the services of a man of Davis' ability.

A graduate of McMurry College, where he was an outstanding halfback, Davis also has coached at Port Neches and Cisco.

Sacred Heart Cards Play Midland Today

The Sacred Heart Cardinals will try to improve upon a 9-6 won-lost baseball record in a 2-30 p.m. game at Steer Park this afternoon, at which time they entertain the Midland Colts.

The Colts have posted one of the top records among West Texas sandlot teams. The Colts recently defeated the San Angelo Angeles, who turned back the Cardinals last Sunday, 2-1. Midland also holds victories over Odessa and Ojinaga. Before losing to San Angelo last weekend, the Cards trounced Andrews, 7-4, in the first part of the twin bill.

The Sacred Heart team dropped a 5-3 decision to the Snyder Redlegs in Snyder Friday night. The bout was limited to seven innings by agreement.

The Red Birds had tied the count at 3-3 in the top half of the seventh when Pat Martinez Jr., connected with his second hit, a double, and tallied on Billy Pineda's one-baser.

S. Gonzalez, the Snyder catcher, broke up the contest with a home run that found T. Hinojos on base. Gonzalez had earlier smashed a double for the Redlegs.

Jimmy Fierro absorbed the mound loss for Big Spring, although he fanned 12. The first three runs the Redlegs scored were unearned.

Joe Cadenhead or Tony Fierro will go to the mound for the Cardinals today. Other starters are due to be Pat Martinez Jr., short; Pano Rodriquez, second base; Billy Pineda, third base; Pat Martinez Sr., first base; Benny Marquez, left field; Mingo Rubio, right field; Avel Ramirez, center field; and Sonny Dutchover, catcher.

Pioneer Bounced In League Test

City of Big Spring's softballers put a crimp in the Pioneer Natural Gas company's playoff hopes by winning an American Softball league game at the City Park here Friday night, 11-8.

In other action, Thelbert Camp hurled Coahoma past Forsan, 5-2, limiting the losers to five hits.

Preston Daniels had a big hand in the City's victory over Pioneer, driving out two home runs and a single. He powered home a total of six runs.

Billy Roger, the winning hurler, clubbed a three-run round tripper in the first inning to get City off on the right foot. Tom Arista Jr., also hit a solo four-master for the winners in the "hello" round.

Roy New had a big night for Pioneer, smashing three singles, driving in two runs and scoring once. Frank Long, the losing flinger, didn't hit safely but he wound up with two runs batted in, one with a sacrifice in the fifth and the other with a base on balls in the sixth.

Jack Blizzard had two of Forsan's five safeties in the opening tilt, including a double.

Mathis and Bell accounted for an even half of Coahoma's blows by getting two hits each.

Coahoma went ahead to stay by plating three runs in the second inning, all of them unearned.

Fox Is Planning Coaching Clinic

Over 1,100 coaches all over the area have received invitations to attend the Clarence Fox Coaching School, which will be held in Abilene July 22-23-24.

Instructors will include Grant Teaff, McMurry; Les Wheeler, ACC; Pat Patterson, Amarillo Tascosa; Merrill Green, Abilene Cooper; and J. T. King, Texas Tech.

A golf tournament will be held for the registrants starting at 1:30 Saturday at the Maxwell Municipal course. The Calloway System will be used in the meet. Four trophies will be awarded, two for low gross and two or low total.

Burl Huffman, Texas Tech, will be chief speaker at a Saturday night banquet, which starts at 8 p.m. An honor guest at the banquet will be Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

Years ago, Fox staged a similar clinic in Big Spring.

Finger Circulation Is Being Felt By Venturi

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) —Former U. S. Open golf champion Ken Venturi, who underwent surgery on his ailing hands June 24, said today "I feel the finger circulation coming back, but gradually."

"The bandages are off but I'm under strict orders not to swing a golf club of any kind until I'm completely ready," he added.

Surgeons at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., operated to relieve pressure in what is known medically as a carpal tunnel syndrome.

In the fall of 1964 after he had won the national title Venturi suffered a circulatory ailment in his hands and could not grip the club properly. In cool weather his hands would turn white.

He underwent treatment but determined to try to defend his championship last month at St. Louis. He didn't qualify for the final 36 holes and returned to Rochester.

Although doctors had tentatively diagnosed the trouble, Venturi said "I tried to play a cut shot on the fourth hole during the Open and my hand went white. It was a clue to my true trouble. When I told the doctors at Mayo Clinic about it, they decided I had the carpal tunnel syndrome. It was decided an operation should be performed immediately."

Venturi described the carpal tunnel syndrome as tendons in the hands and wrists pinching off nerves.

He said that he now feels warmth in his right hand and this is encouraging to his future in golf.

"They tell me that I'll be able to take a full swing without flinching," he said. "But they also told me not to go out on the tee until I am 100 per cent ready. They told me it might take as long as six months before I'm back to my old, healthy self."

Continues Racing Domination

Scotland's Jimmy Clark poses with trophy at Silverstone, England, Saturday after winning the British Grand Prix in a sleak green Lotus. It was the fourth straight time he'd won the event. Clark, winner of the Indianapolis 500 last May, thus continues his domination in auto racing. This was his fourth Grand Prix victory this year. (AP WIREPHOTO Via Cable From London)

National Are Favored In All-Star Game Again

By JACK HAND

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Home run power and an array of hard-throwing pitchers make the National League a favorite to beat the American League in Tuesday's All-Star game and take the lead in the midsummer baseball classic for the first time.

A sellout crowd of about 47,000 will jam newly enlarged Metropolitan Stadium for the first All-Star game ever played in the home park of the Twins.

Game time is 12 p.m. CST with network coverage (NBC) on both radio and television. In case of a postponement, Commissioner Ford Frick will announce the time and date of the rescheduled game.

The National League, which once trailed 12-4 in this series, pulled up even at 17-17-1 last year by beating the American League 7-4 at New York Shea's Stadium on a three-run homer by Johnny Callison in the ninth inning. The dimensions of the Twins' park, 344 feet to left and 330 to right tend to accent the home run.

12TH STRAIGHT

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, named to the center field job for the 12th straight time, is the big glamor name of the power-packed NL team.

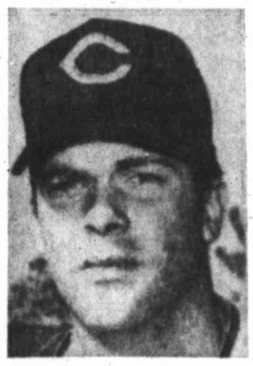
The starting line-up, selected by the votes of players, coaches and managers, bristles with sluggers like Mays, leftfielder Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh, rightfielder Hank Aaron and catcher Joe Torre of Milwaukee, first baseman Ernie Banks of Chicago and third baseman Richie Allen of Philadelphia.

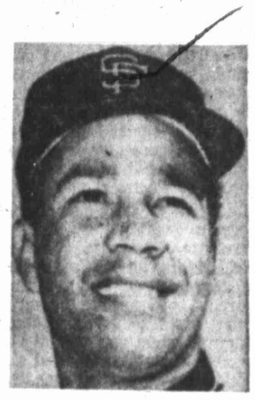
If the big guns are silenced, the Nationals have fleet shortstop Maury Wills of Los Angeles, who is trying to break his own stolen base record, and Pete Rose, Cincinnati's fine second baseman, for finesse.

Right fielder Rocky Colavito of Cleveland is the big gunner on the American League team that does not include a single New York Yankee in the starting line-up for the first time since 1943. Left fielder Willie Horton and Shortstop Dick McAuliffe of Detroit, first baseman Moose Skowron of Chicago and second baseman Felix Mantilla of Boston, a Met reject, are other American League long ball threats. Third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, most Valuable Player in the league in 1964, high-average center fielder Vic Davalillo of Cleveland and catcher Earl Battey of Minnesota round out the starting line-up.

STARTERS MONDAY

The starting pitchers will not be named until Monday but the National has an awesome array of flame-throwers—Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles, Jim Maloney and Sammy Ellis of Cincinnati, Bob Veale of Pittsburgh, Bob Gibson of St. Louis, Juan Marichal of San Francisco and Dick Farrell of Houston. Koufax and Veale are the only left-handers.





AMONG HURLERS IN STAR-SPANGLED GAME

PETE REICHERT — SAM McDOWELL — JUAN MARICHAL

With Koufax, Ellis and Gibson due to work Sunday, the burden would seem to fall on the others, possibly Drysdale, who has started four All-Star games.

Gene Mauch of Philadelphia, managing the team, did not name any Phil pitchers.

Al Lopez of Chicago, manager of the American League squad, took only relief pitcher Eddie Fisher from his White Sox staff.

Mel Stottlemyre of the Yankees or Milt Pappas of Baltimore probably will start although Lopez may select lefty Sam McDowell, Cleveland's strikeout ace, or Jim Grant of the hometown Twins.

Pete Richert of Washington and John O'Donoghue of Kansas City, two of the three southpaws on the staff, also are available along with relief man Bob Lee of Los Angeles.

The players vote for the starters, with the exception of pitchers, who are selected by the two All-Star managers. The managers also fill out the rest of the 25-man squads. All starters must play at least the first three innings, except pitchers, who can not work more than three innings unless the game goes into overtime.

Both managers, incidentally, are subs for last year's pennant-winning pilots. Mauch is replacing Johnny Keane, who switched from the Cards to the Yanks, and Lopez is taking over for Yogi Berra, who took the pennant with the Yankees but was fired for his trouble.

SIX TWINS

Minnesota has six men on the American League squad, which has only four left-handed batters, excluding pitchers. Cincinnati's contingent of six tops the National roster, which also is heavy on right-handed hitters. However, the NL does have left - swinging Willie Stargell and switchers Rose and Wills as starters and lefties Ed Kranepool of New York, Billy Williams of Chicago, John Edwards of Cincinnati and Callison, the 1964 hero, in reserve.

Mickey Mantle of the Yanks was picked as a sub but was excused because of his leg injury. Carl Yastrzemski of Boston also was removed from the list because of an injury. Lopez replaced them with catcher Bill Freehan of Detroit and outfielder Tony Oliva of the Twins.

Gibson is the only member of the world champion Cardinals on the National squad. The American League champion Yanks have no starters and only Elston Howard, Bobby Richardson and Stottlemyre on the roster.

In 1939 Joe McCarthy started six Yanks and used only 12 men altogether in beating the Nationals 3-1. Stung by criticism, Marse Joe used no Yanks in 1943, although six were on the squad, and still won 5-3.

In recent years the National has dominated the series, winning six of the last eight, those eight including a 1-1 tie in 1961.

Astros Rout Spahn, Defeat Mets, 10-1

NEW YORK (AP) — The Houston Astros kayoed aged Warren Spahn in 10 games with the National League tailenders this season. Saturday and belted the New York Mets 10-1 with a 19-hit attack, giving them nine victories left-hander Spahn early with his eighth straight loss and 11th of the year, routing him in the second inning of what might well be his last start as a Met.

The veteran southpaw, also the Mets' pitching coach, is expected to become a reliever after his repeated failures in the starting rotation.

Joe Morgan was the only long-range hitter in the Astro offense with a pair of homers off New York relievers. Lee Maye, Jim Wynn and Bob Lillis each had three of Houston's 17 singles.

Don Drysdale Picks Up 13th Mound Success

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ron Fairly drove in four runs, including three in a six-run fifth-inning explosion, as the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Pittsburgh 8-4 Saturday.

The victory moved the Dodgers within three percentage points of the National League-leading Cincinnati Reds, who played Milwaukee in a night game.

Don Drysdale brought his record to 13-8 although he left the game in the sixth inning after the Pirates scored a run with two out on Jim Pagliaroni's single, a wild pitch, a walk and a double by Bob Bailey.

The Dodgers scored two runs in the first inning on Maury Wills' single, a double by Jim Gilliam, a sacrifice bunt and Fairly's sacrifice fly.

They put the game away in the fifth.

Jim Lefebvre started the uprising with a home run, and the Dodgers loaded the bases on Drysdale's double, Wills' single and a walk to Willie Davis. Fairly followed with a bases-clearing double and later scored on Lou Johnson's single.

Foldberg Resigns Post At A&M

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M sought an athletic director Saturday to fill the vacancy created by resignation of Henry (Hank) Foldberg, who was relinquishing his second position in less than a year.

Foldberg was head football coach as well as athletic director for three years, during which his teams won only six games while losing 23 and tying one. In December Gene Stallings came from Alabama to replace Foldberg as coach but the latter remained as athletic director.

New Jersey Man Is Race Winner

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Walt Hansegen of Westfield, N.J., piloted a John Mecom Chevrolet powered Lola T-70 to a record lap time of 115 miles per hour and coasted to an easy victory in the feature race of the Galveston championship sport car races Saturday.

Favorite Is Derby Winner

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Terry's Secret, the favorite who bided his time in the early running, took charge when he pleased and won the $125,200 Hollywood Derby Saturday.

In a one-two-three finish of the top three favorites, Arksroni was second and Easy Lime third in the 25th running of this fixture for 3-year-olds.

Carpenter's Rule, the second betting choice, was withdrawn from the derby one minute before post time.

Jockey Bill Shoemaker after his fifth derby crown, reported Carpenter's Rule developed a gimpy leg during the parade to the post.

The time for the 1¼ mile feature was 2:00 4-5, which hardly threatened the track record of 1:58 3-5 set by the mighty Swaps in the derby in 1956 under 130 pounds.

District 3 Tournament To Start Here July 24

Six teams, four of them wearing local colors, are entered in the July 24-26-27-29-30 District 3 Little League tournament, which will be unreeled here in the American League park.

Jimmy Montgomery of the Pirates will manage the American Little League All-Star team appearing in the District 3 playoffs.

Members of his team will include:

David Malarchik, Dick Stanley, Roddy Caffey and Ray Ward, all of the Colts; Grady Ray, David Englert and Pete Shaffera, of the Stars; Mark Slate, Mike Murphy and Mike Pipes, all of the Cabots; Zane Anderson and Rick Aslin, both of the Jets; and Rickey Steen, Pirates.

Alternates will be Jeff Murdock, Stars; and Lewis Dunnam, Jets.

Senators Rip Boston, 5-3

WASHINGTON (AP) — Willie Kirkland scored the go-ahead run following a double and hit his eighth home run, leading the Washington Senators to a 5-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox Saturday.

Phil Ortega won his ninth game, two more than he won for the Los Angeles Dodgers all last year, but he needed relief help from Marshall Bridges and Ron Kline.

Police Officer Is Golf Leader

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana amateur champion Shirley Picard, a detective captain on the Lafayette police force, tamed the Webb Memorial Park course with a seven-under-par 65 Saturday and pulled into a three-way tie after 36 holes of the Louisiana Open Golf Tourney.

Amazing Ron Clarke Sets World Record In 3-Mile

LONDON (AP) — Ron Clarke of Australia set the most fantastic of all his world records Saturday — 12:52.4 for the three miles — in a history-making run at London's White City Stadium.

CLARKE

Another mighty track and field barrier was broken down. No man had ever cracked 13 minutes before.

The amazing 28-year-old Australian knocked eight seconds off his old record of 13:00.4. That was set at Compton, Calif., last month and is still awaiting ratification.

Clarke made his new mark on a track made heavy by rain. He ran the last three-quarters of a mile on his own, with no other runner within yards of him.

The 16,000 fans, crazy with excitement, rose from their seats and surged towards the barrier as the bell went for the last of the 12 laps.

Clarke came down the final straight lapping stragglers in the race.

The Australian also holds the world records or pending records for 10 miles, 10,000 meters (about 6¼ miles) and 5,000 meters (3 miles, 188 yards).

Clarke set the pace from the start, helped by Gerry Lindgren of Spokane, Wash. They ran so fast that experts thought they could never keep up the pace. Lindgren took second in 13:04.2 — the fastest ever by an American.

Clarke's victory proved a blazing climax to the British Amateur Athletic Association Championships.

The mile, loudly heralded, fizzled out on a damp track. Britain's Alan Simpson won in 4:01.9. Bob Day of Pasadena, Calif. — a sub-four-minute man who was regarded as Simpson's chief rival — was fifth in 4:04.1.

Mike Larrabee, 30-year-old Olympic gold medalist from Los Angeles, had to struggle over the last few yards to win the quarter-mile from John Adey, a 20-year-old Englishman. Both were clocked in 47.6, and photographs decided the results.

Rex Cawley of Los Angeles, Olympic gold medalist, again beat Britain's John Cooper in the 440 yards hurdles. Cawley clocked 50.9 seconds. Cooper was the silver medalist at Tokyo.

Tommy Farrell, an Olympian from St. John's University of New York, sprinted in the stretch to win the half mile in 1:49.5. Britain's Chris Carter was second in 1:49.9.

Atomic Generator Powers Nav-Aids

The first atomic generator to provide power for navigation aids on an offshore oil and gas platform went into unattended operation in late June in the Gulf of Mexico. The operation of the generator represents the first commercial use of such a device.

Electrical power for the navigation aids was previously supplied by diesel generators. The 5-year design life of the nuclear generator far exceeds that currently available with diesel generators and battery systems generally used on such platforms, both of which require frequent servicing. Since oil and gas platforms are being constructed farther and farther into the Gulf, there is increasing need for long-lived unattended sources of electrical power.

Under a 2-year cooperative program with the Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville, Okla. The AEC installed the generator on the platform, where it is powering the navigation aids. The government-industry program was set up under a no-cost research and development contract between the AEC and Phillips. The company's participation is in behalf of the Offshore Operators Committee, a trade association representing all offshore oil and gas producers operating in the Gulf of Mexico.

The program is expected to demonstrate the routeine use of SNAP nuclear generators on oil and gas platforms. Such generators, capable of continuous operation in excess of five years and in many instances of economic competitiveness with existing power sources, are now under development.

Other units have been designed and are being operated in such diverse applications as powering automatic weather stations in the frozen wastelands of the Antarctic and supplying electrical energy for acoustic beacons located at the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean. The first nuclear powered deep-sea floating weather station has completed 16 months of operation in the Gulf of Mexico, and still is fully functioning despite an encounter with Hurricane Hilda in September 1964. Last month the first nuclear powered lighthouse completed its first year of unattended operation in Chesapeake Bay, Md.

Oil Hunt Said Vital

HOUSTON (AP)— The petroleum industry is going to have to look for new oil reserves more intensively than it is now, the director of the Interior Department's Office of Oil and Gas said.

Rear Adm. Onnie Lattu said oil and gas still are going to supply about three-fourths of the nation's energy needs between now and 1980.

"This means that between now and then the industry is going to have to go out and find 60 billion barrels of oil that are not now counted in proved reserves," he said.

He was here to address the Association of Oilwell Servicing Contractors.

He said the Geological Survey estimates at least 300 billion barrels of oil are in sedimentary basins in the United States which are recoverable by methods presently known.

Gulf's Safe Drivers Honored

Oil Industry Participates In Growth Of Energy Industry

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — An oil executive believes his industry is underwriting its dominant position in the energy market by spending $300 million a year on petroleum research.

Dr. Charles F. Jones, a chemical engineer, says each energy source will participate in the overall growth of the energy industry the next 20 years but oil and gas will continue to account for a major share of that total growth.

Jones, who is president of Humble Oil & Refining Co., believes his optimism is backed by a wide variety of research studies aimed at developing new and improved uses for petroleum.

HIGHLY TECHNICAL

"The oil industry is a highly technical one and depends to an unusual degree on innovation or research and development," he told a Houston audience last week

Jones said, however, that the petroleum industry can expect vigorous competition from other energy sources the next two decades.

He expressed these views on the growth prospects for some of petroleum's competitors and potential competitors:

Coal — "A competitor which lost ground to us in earlier years, but now is busily going about the job gaining it back. Coal has become a tough competitor again, made so by mine mechanization and lower transportation costs. In the years ahead, coal is expected to make itself felt in the utility business, which it will be hard to contend with."

SPIRITED BID

Electricity — "The big question for future home heating may come from a competitor just beginning to make a sprited bid for markets — electricity. Right now, only 1.3 million heated homes by 1985 — a ten-fold increase. Before that can happen, electricity costs must be cut. The electrical industry is busy strengthening its competitive position."

Nuclear energy — "Nuclear energy is making some progress and is expected to share perhaps five per cent of the market by 1985. This is quite a large amount of energy on an absolute basis, amounting to the equivalent of about 2.5 million barrels a day of oil. There are some uses, however, such as transportation, in which nuclear energy may never be a serious competitor of oil."

Shale oil — "Sooner or later oil from shale will participate in the energy marketplace. But before that can occur, we have to devise a means of extracting it so shale oil can compete on a price basis with oil from conventional deposits. It will take considerable time and a great deal of money, but eventually we will come up with the answer."

Humble, several other companies and the Colorado School of Mines Research Foundation are conducting a shale research project near Rifle, Colo. Northwest Colorado alone is believed to have oil shale containing more than one trillion barrels of oil.

Jones said Humble currently is spending $30 million a year on research covering all phases of its operations.

National Drivers Test Rebroadcast Due Aug. 30

The highly successful "National Drivers Test" will be rebroadcast on the CBS television network, Monday, Aug. 30, from 11-12 p.m. (Big Spring time), and a completely new version of the test will be broadcast in May of 1966.

Both the rebroadcast and the 1966 edition will be sponsored by Shell Oil Company. Shell was the sponsor of the first edition of "The National Drivers Test," which in its broadcast of May 24 was seen in more than 18 million homes.

The National Safety Council, which cooperated in the production and promotion of the first show, will repeat its role in the rebroadcast and the 1966 edition. "The National Drivers Test" is a cornerstone of the Safety Council's Driver Improvement Program, other facets of which are the NSC's advertising council campaign for driver improvement and its driver improvement courses across the country.

The rebroadcast of "The National Drivers Test" is timed for four days before the start of the Labor Day weekend. The new 1966 version will be broadcast before Memorial Day weekend next Spring.

Abel Urges No Decision

AUSTIN (AP)— A Texas oil leader has urged the Office of Emergency Planning not to reach a decision on residual fuel decontrol until the effects of such a step on overall oil imports can be evaluated fully.

M. D. Abel, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association wrote to the office's director, Buford Ellington, saying "Removal from the imports program of any major derivative of crude oil would have disastrous consequences."

Abel said complaints by East Coast consumers "stem from price gouging incidents which have been made possible by the way in which residual fuel oil quotas are distributed, rather than because controls exist."

"The legitimate interests of all parties involved can be reconciled without a decontrol finding for any major derivative of crude petroleum. If total oil imports, in whatever form, are permitted to increase to the point of destroying relative sufficiency at home, then the national security and economy will unavoidably be impaired," Abel said.

Oilmen Report 165 Completions

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission reported Saturday that 165 oil and 10 gas wells were completed this week, for totals of 3,662 oil and 1,600 gas wells this year.

A year ago there were 4,453 oil and 1,473 gas well completions.

The commission said 13 wildcat oil wells were drilled. No gas discoveries were made.

A total of 161 wells were plugged, including 77 dry holes.

Biggest Offshore Rig Christened

VICKSBURG, Miss. (AP) —A $7 million offshore oil drilling rig, believed the world's largest of its type, was christened here Friday.

The R. Jack will cost $8,250 a day to operate when it sits off Louisiana.

Built for Reading and Bates Offshore Drilling Co. of Tulsa, and Houston, the rig is to operate in the gulf at depths of up to 300 feet.

Mr. Jack was built by R. G. Tourneau at a plant here.

It is to be taken down the Mississippi River to the Gulf.

It is a three-legged self-elevating drilling barge which is self-sustaining.

Second Charged In Airman's Death

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP)—Harrison County Sheriff Earl Franklin said Saturday a second man has been charged with murder in the slaying of Airman William Travis Martin Jr., 27, near Marshall last week.

Dennis Richard White, 20, of Rockford, Ill., was charged earlier. Another Rockford man, Ronnie Kay, has been taken into custods by authorities in the Illinois town.

Franklin said he will go to Rockford Sunday to return Kay to Texas.

COSDEN
Cosden proudly salutes another of its
'SENIORS'
MRS. CALVIN J. DAVIS

On Feburary 27, 1950, Mrs. Calvin J. Davis reported to work at Cosden. She was a bride of three weeks, having married a coworker at an oil field supply company in Midland prior to his transfer to Big Spring.

Mrs. Davis worked out of the steno pool for a year and a half, then fulfilled brief assignments in sales accounting and asphalt billing. In November 1951 she moved into the company's new 4-machine IBM department as an operator. Taking training for the specialized field, she became IBM supervisor seven years later. The 7-machine operation now finds application in crude oil, sales and general ledger accounting.

This Cosden senior was born Florine Wood in Shamrock. Reared in Camp Springs, she was educated at Hobbs consolidated school near Rotan. Upon graduation from high school she attended Draughon's Business College at Abilene for a year.

Mrs. Davis and her husband, who is associated with Howco Tractor & Supply, enjoy neighborhood cookouts at their home at 1517 Stadium, and follow the football games. One pampered member of the household is Susie, the 5-year-old dachsund.

Mrs. Davis is a Methodist; her husband is Baptist.

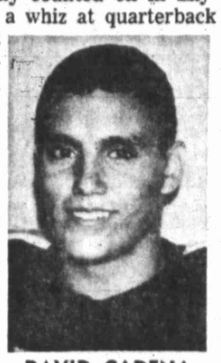
Snyder Picks Up Strength

By TOMMY HART

David Cadena, heavily counted on in Snyder's football plans, was a whiz at quarterback in junior high school but as a sophomore last season wasn't able to clock much playing time with the varsity troops . . . Snyder is picking up surprising strength in the pre-season polls, even though coach Horrace Bostick lost 26 seniors . . . San Angelo Lake View, which may field the biggest team in 3-AAA, is one of the few AAA schools in the state with two open dates on its schedule . . . Such a thing is possible because the Chiefs open as early as Sept. 3 while other conference clubs wait until Sept. 10 to make their debuts . . . Kenneth Chrane, the local grid product who will embark upon his varsity career at Kansas State this fall after a fine freshman season, is up to 230 now and appears to be in splendid shape . . . The stocky guard is working in the oil patch near here . . . Truman Nix, the Colorado City mentor, has been busy farming 160 acres of cotton on the family farm near Loraine . . . Ruidoso Downs enjoyed a million dollar plus parimutuel handle over the July 4 weekend . . . Ray (Shorty) Snyder, the retired merchant here, worked at the Northfield, N. J., golf course as a young man, where the Women's National Open tournament was held recently . . . . Film studies reveal that George Blanda's receivers dropped eight touchdown passes in 1964 . . . Big Tony Butler, of whom great things are expected at Coahoma this fall, is faithfully following a rigid training schedule, although he's holding down a summer job . . . He's setting a conditioning pattern that other Coahoma boys would be wise to follow . . . Lefty Steve Hillhouse, the Texas A&M mound ace from Colorado City, has been pitching for a Sweetwater team this summer and could conceivably face the Big Spring Gage Oilers in the NBC District tournament later this month . . . . Jim Baum, the Gage manager, had hoped to sign Hillhouse for his team.



DAVID CADENA

* * *

Coach Roy Baird of Big Spring was in charge of a group of 50 Big Spring and Coahoma athletes that went to Rising Star recently to pick cucumbers . . . The vegetables are being raised on an experimental basis there and most of the crop was lost because of a lack of field help before the area boys ever arrived on the scene . . . Among the local talent on the scene were ten Negro boys, first of their race to sleep in the tiny Eastland county town in 77 years . . . It goes without saying they were treated cordially . . . Most of that group was to have gone to California on melon-picking missions planned by the U. S. Department of Agriculture but arrangements fell through . . . The Hight boys, Carl and Ray, courted by HCJC's track mentor, Red Lewis, signed to attend Louisiana State . . . Carl Hight was beaten only twice all last spring in the 220 while his brother was shaded but once in the 100 . . . The two boys ran for Liberty High School, the Class AAA State champion this year . . . Buddy Parker, the Texan who coaches the Pittsburgh Steelers, says Norm Van Brocklin's championship fling with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1960 was the greatest season he's seen a quarterback have . . . Parker has been observing NFL football since 1935 . . . The St. Louis Cardinals have acquired Terry Nofsinger to back up Big Spring's Charley Johnson and the Baylor ex, Buddy Humphrey, at quarterback . . . The Cards are again looking for a lot of scoring punch out of Jim Bakken, a place kicker, who scored 115 points last season on 40 extra points without a miss and hit on 25 of 38 field goals . . . The Cards were the only Eastern division team which the champion Browns failed to beat last season . . . Abe Woodson, the kickoff return specialist acquired in the trade for John David Crow, should be a big help to the Cardinals, too.

Southern Golf Meet Begins Wednesday

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — A field of 210, headed by defending champion Dale Morey of High Point, N.C., is entered in the 59th amateur championship of the Southern Golf Association opening Wednesday.

Morey, named recently to the U.S. Golf Association American Cup team, won at Shreveport, La., last year with a 275 score as the tournament switched from match play to 72-hole stroke competition.

Play will be over the 7,000-yard, par 72 No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club. Eighteen holes will be played daily, Wednesday through Saturday.

After 36 holes the field will be cut and divided into four flights. The low 30 and ties will go into the championship flight. The first, second and third flights will each be made up of the next low 20 and ties.

Players with handicaps of six or under and who belong to member clubs of the 14-state association are eligibile for the tournament.

Low handicappers entered include Jerry Greenbaum, Atlanta; Al Johns, Punta Gorda, Fla.; Dave and Charles Smith, Gastonia, N.C.; Pat Foy Brady, Reidsville, N.C.; Jack Lewis Jr., Florence, S.C.; David Boyd, Atlanta; Bill Harvey, Greensboro, N.C.; Bobby Foster, Columbia, S.C.; Dr. John McKey, Orlando, Fla.; Sonny Grant, Greensboro, N.C.; Turman Connel, North Palm Beach, Fla.; Howard Everett, Boynton Beach, Fla.; Jim Gabrielson, Atlanta; Ward Wettlaufer, Atlanta; Dillard Traynham, Greenville, S.C.; Billy Joe Patton, Morganton, N.C.; Curtis Person, Memphis, Tenn.; and Lew Oehmig, Chattanooga.

Cliff Richey Upsets Ace

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Stocky Cliff Richey of Dallas, ranked No. 11 in U.S. tennis, pulled off a major upset Saturday when he defeated Dennis Ralston, the nation's top amateur, in the semifinals of the Western Open Tournament 5-7, 6-4, 8-6, 6-2.

Richey will meet Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., in Sunday's finals. Riessen, 10th ranked, defeated unseeded John Pickens of Tuscaloosa, Ala., 6-2, 6-3, 6-1.

In women's singles semifinals Nancy Richey, older sister of Cliff and the nation's No. 1 woman player, defeated 16-year-old Rosemary Casals of San Francisco 6-1, 6-3.

Miss Richey will face Carole Caldwell Graebner, third ranked player from Beechwood, Ohio, in the finals. Mrs. Graebner stopped Julie Helman, defending champion from New York City, 6-2, 6-4.

Richey was sent running constantly in defense of Ralston's placements, but came back with many difficult returns.

Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., won the first game of the final set in convincing fashion but Richey won four straight points to take the second game. Richey won the third. Ralston scrambled to take the fourth, but Richey smashed out four straight winning games to sweep the match.

In women's semifinal doubles, Mrs. Grabner and Miss Richey defeated Roberta Allison of Alexander City, Ala., and Stephanie de Fina of Hollywood, Fla., 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Heldman and Miss Casals defeated Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., and Alice Tym of Peoria, Ill., 6-1, 6-2.

Semifinal action in men's doubles was not expected to be completed until Sunday.

Pro Grid Elevens Gather For Work

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pro football seasons comes rushing into the midst of the baseball pennant races this week when the Cleveland Browns, defending champions in the National Football League, and a host of other teams in the NFL and the American Football League go to camp.

Coach Blanton Collier of the Browns will have his first look at the champ's new crop Monday at Hiram, Ohio. The veteran Browns, who upset the Baltimore Colts last December, will report Thursday.

Actually, the Los Angeles Rams will be the first to start training. The rookie Rams will check in with Coach Swede Svare Sunday. The veterans are not due at the Orange, Calif. camp until July 26.

As many of the clubs will lose prize rookies to the All-Star game in Chicago, many coaches have issued an early call to get a quick look at the draftees before they move on to the All-Star camp. The Browns have to get cracking early because they play the College All-Stars Friday, Aug. 6.

The Dallas Cowboys, who have two prize rookie quarterbacks, Craig Morton of California and Jerry Rhome of Tulsa, will have the new men check in Tuesday. The bulk of the Cowboys do not have to show up at Thousand Oaks, Calif., until July 23.

Joe Namath, the New York Jets' $400,000 rookie from Alabama, has been testing his questionable right knee at Shea Stadium for a week, Namath and Johnny Huarte, Notre Dame's Heisman Trophy winner, reported to have been paid $200,000, will be at the Jets' camp in Peekskill, N.Y. Wednesday night ready for picture day Thursday. All the Jets will be in camp by the end of the week.

In addition to the Jets, other AFL teams to open rookie camps during the week are Oakland at Santa Rosa, Calif., San Diego at Escondido, Calif. Denver at its new camp in Golden, Colo., Houston at Houston and Kansas City at Liberty, Mo. Boston and the defending champion Buffalo Bills will report the following week.

One of the most interesting early camps will be the New York Giants' gathering July 18 at Fairfield, Conn., because Allie Sherman hopes to resurrect a strong running game around such rookie backs as Tucker Frederickson, Ernie Koy, Bob Timberlake and Chuck Mercein.

Ohioan Triumphs At 5,000 Meters

PRAGUE (AP) — Olympic champion Bob Schul of Dayton, Ohio, opened up in the stretch with his big kick and won the 5,000-meter run in the Rosicky Memorial International Track and Field Meet Saturday.

The 27-year-old American overhauled West Germany's Werner Girke' in the straightaway and won in 13:54.6 in the huge Prague sports stadium. Girke was clocked in 13:55.6, with New Zealand's Bill Baillie third in 13:56.6.

Other American winners included Ron Whitney of Los Angeles in the 400-meter hurdles, 51.0; John McGrath of Pasadena, Calif., shot put, 60 feet; Theron Lewis of Philadelphia, 200-meter dash, 21.0; Baline Lindgren of Salt Lake City, 110-meter hurdles, 13.9, and Otis Burrell of Los Angeles, high jump, 6-9¼.

Bob Seagren of Los Angeles, West Germany's Wolfgang Nordwig and Finland's Aulis Kairento cleared 16-1 in the pole vault. The German won on fewest misses, with the other two tying for second.

Orioles Trounce Yanks, 9 To 7

Tom Wood's two-run homer in the fifth inning broke up a 4-4 tie game, and the Orioles went on to hold off the Yanks, 9-7, in a Sophomore League slugfest Friday night.

The Yanks, down 4-9 in the seventh, made a three-run try at a comeback on Ford Farris' triple and Clayton McKinnon's double, but fell two runs short.

Mike Hull was the winning pitcher, allowing seven hits. McKinnon was the loser. Mike Bolte tripled for the Orioles. Wood was the big story for the winners however, as he went three-for-four at the plate, scored himself three times, and broke up the tie.

Young Richey Is Already Teacher

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Cliff Richey hasn't even completed high school but the 18-year-old Dallas youth is giving lessons to some of the nation's top-ranked amateur tennis players.

Jack Kramer, professional tennis promoter, ranked Richey with NCAA champion Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., as the orightest prospects in U. S. tennis today.

With the blessing of school officials and his father and coach, George, the youngster interrupted his schooling for a year to gain experience. He has one year of high school left and intends to complete it.

His father hestiates to compare Cliff with the nation's best. "If I did it would just sound like father talk," he said. "He's beaten six of the top 10 players thus far. That speaks for itself."

The tennis year starts in October. Since then the sturdy Texan has won two tournaments and reached the finals of three more.

Thomas Acquired By Astro Club

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Thomas, fired by the Philadelphia Phillies after an on-the-field fight with teammate and batting star Richie Allen, was picked up Saturday by the Houston Astros.

The 36-year-old first baseman-outfielder was claimed by the Astros, who will pay the regular waiver price of $20,000.

"Fitness Is Fun!"

In The

Summer Recreation Program

'Fitness, Fun' In Full Swing

The city-wide summer recreation program is in full swing with approximately 1,500 youngsters having participated so far in activities at the central YMCA, the Lakeview branch and the Bauer school playground and pool.

The City of Big Spring, Big Spring Schools, the United Fund and the local YMCA have combined resources to offer the young people of the city the best summer skill and recreation program possible.

Ten staff members are working with approximately 20 high school and college students in supervising activities for the youngsters who range in age from six years through the teen years.

The Fun Club project offers courses for boys and girls from six to 10 years of age. During the gym periods, there is work on the trampoline, rope climbing, tumbling and horizontal bar routines which contributes to physical development. The arts and crafts classes offer the opportunity for creative work with the hands and allows the child to develop originality of design. More exercise and water safety instruction is available during hours spent in the pools at the central YMCA and the Bauer playground.

Expert instruction in basketball is available from top local coaches, and boys may test their skills in softball games, track and field events, relays, and even horseshoe pitching.

Transportation to the point of activity is provided the children by buses which pick them up at various schools, returning them to the same school when courses end at noon.

Jim Gilbert is director of the summer recreation and has provided a fitness report and swimming classification report which will be presented to the parents of each child when the program is completed.

Tells Plans

The Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Pettus, 1609 Main, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jo Beth, to Jack Power Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Power, Fort Worth, former residents. Dr. Power will officiate for the wedding which will be Aug. 14 in the Rolling Hills Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

Wrinkles Return

Mrs. Winston Wrinkle and her children returned Wednesday from Utica, Minn., where they visited her parents.

Area Residents Take Ruidoso Vacations

COAHOMA (SC) — Leitha Nell Roberts ad Mrs. Irene McKinley are vacationing at Ruidoso, N. M.

J. W. Graham is a patient at the Howard County Hospital Foundation.

Marilyn Holladee, Midland, is visiting here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burch, and with her aunt and uncle, the Randall Reids.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Looney of Loraine visited here Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kinder, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kinder.

Different Flavor In Tomato Juice

Want a "different" way to serve tomato juice? Here it is!

TOMATO FRAPPE

2 cans (each 18 fluid ozs.) tomato juice
¼ tsp. tabasco sauce
1½ tsps. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. lemon juice
¼ tsp. celery salt
1 egg white

Pour 1 can of the tomato juice into a freezer tray; freeze until partially frozen. Chill the second can. When ready to serve, pour chilled juice into a shaker. Add remaining ingredients and shake until frothy. Spoon partially frozen juice into each glass; pour in seasoned juice. Makes 6 servings.

Store Chocolate

To prevent chocolate from turning white, store it in a fairly cool place (under 75 degrees). If chocolate does turn white, it need not be discarded; the white color does not affect the chocolate flavor.

Engagement Told

The wedding of Miss Judith Ann Sanders and Doyle Gene Warren is scheduled for Sept. 25 in the First Baptist Church at Hart. Miss Sanders is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sanders of Hart, and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Warren of Coahoma.

Wet Look Keeps Dry

Even if you don't go near the water this summer, it will be easy enough to look wet while you keep dry.

Some of the season's smartest beach and boating fashions come with a slick and shiny wet look.

Modern versions of the heavy oilskin slicker, the new sportswear separates are made of lightweight cotton fabrics covered with shiny plastic or vinyl coatings. Available in styles for both men and women, outfits include parkas, shirts, long pants, jamaica shorts, and trench coats. The coats can serve as both sailing togs and rainwear.

Both waterproof and washable, new vinyl-coated cottons are easy to keep clean because their well as moisture.

BRENDA ELAINE STANDEFER

Fine Art Honor Goes To Brenda Standefer

A young Stanton artist, 17-year-old Brenda Elaine Standefer, is the recipient of the first Fine Arts Apprenticeship Award made by the Harry J. Russell Fine Arts Foundation, Mrs. Harry J. Russell, president-treasurer of the foundation, has announced.

Miss Standefer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement R. Standefer of Stanton. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Grady Standefer of Stanton, Mrs. Nathan L. Heidelberg of Midland and M. Henson of Stanton.

A senior student at Stanton High School, Miss Standefer has studied art with Mrs. Myrtle Lee of Big Spring and Arnold Leondar of Midland. Interested in art several years, she plans to major in fine arts at the University of Texas.

At SHS, Miss Standefer is a member of the Future Homemakers of America, Drama Club, Pep Squad, A Cappella Choir and National Honor Society.

Mrs. Russell said, " 'The Old Chair' is the title we (directors of the Fine Arts Foundation) have selected for the oil painting executed by Miss Standefer as her final examination to receive the award. In our opinion, the painting was very skillfully done and the problems encountered were well met by an artist as young as Miss Standefer."

The painting will be displayed one week in The First National Bank of Midland, beginning Thursday, and then will be displayed in Stanton, at The First National Bank.

Preliminary procedure for applicants for the award include submitting three original oil paintings, three original sculptures, three original watercolors or six original drawings. These were judged and tentative acceptance applicants were notified to appear for final examination.

Leondar, director of the Midland Institute of Fine Arts, which administers the apprenticeship award for the Russell Foundation, and a jury selected the winning painting.

The foundation is a nonprofit educational institution dedicated to the fostering of substantial interest in the visual arts. The foundation's areas of interest include the Art Apprenticeship Award (for deserving artists more than 16 years of age), the Art Honor Award (for artists under 16) sponsorship of fine arts lectures and purchases of works of art from the artist to be donated to a public institution.

Serving with Mrs. Russell on the board of directors are Dr. R. L. Penn Jr., vice president; Addison Young, secretary, and Leondar, advisory committee chairman.

Bridge Club Sets Contests

The Fort Worth Duplicate Bridge Club is to sponsor its 11th Annual Republic of Texas tournament in the grand ballroom of the Texas Hotel from July 15-18. About 750 are expected for the four days, according to Dr. Charles Robinson, president of the Fort Worth club.

Sanctioned by the American Contract Bridge League of New York and designated as a sectional tournament, master points are to be awarded proportionate to the number of tables in each event. In addition, the Star-Telegram trophy is to be in competition and is to be awarded to the player acquiring the most points. Individual trophies are to be awarded to winners in each event.

On the program is an open team of four, mixed team of four, men's and mixed pairs and two session masters and open pairs; also a side game at 9:30 a.m., July 17 and a novice game for those with 10 or less master points at 11 a.m., July 18.

Social hours, buffets, entertainment and dancing have been arranged for the contestants when they are not occupied at the bridge tables.

So that those residing within a 150 mile radius of Fort Worth can arrive home by midnight, the open pairs event is to begin at 11 a.m., July 18.

Tournament directors are to be Phil Murray, Oklahoma City, Ken Stone, Dallas and Joe Mathews, Fort Worth. Rules committee is Dr. Henry Gardiner and Mrs. David B. Hawes, Fort Worth, Oswald Jacoby and Dr. John Fisher, Dallas and Paul Hodge, Abilene. Officers of the sponsoring unit in addition to Dr. Robinson are Mrs. Sayman Rubinson, secretary and Mrs. T. S. Edmondson, treasurer.

A Statement From.....

Good Housekeeping Shop

T. L. C. (Tender, Loving Care) that makes your Furniture

This ad is to increase your knowledge of fine furniture . . . thus adding to your enjoyment of it through an understanding of the many painstaking steps in its making . . . singular qualities in styling and construction which assure you of years of pride and pleasure.

You get what you pay for

Few purchases you make will be as permanent and as costly as the furnishings for your home. And few will so clearly reflect your own sense of taste and value . . . the brand of furniture you choose is so important. Remember that beautiful style can last only as long as the materials and workmanship that created it. Thats why cheap copies of better furniture are never a money saving buy in the long run. Inferior furniture may be made of improperly seasoned wood and have joint with insufficient glue. Check drawers for a free and easy motion. Look for dovetailed joints at front and sides. Turn a chest or dresser around to check the back. The back panel should be recessed into the upright posts, not simply nailed flush to the back. Well made chairs and tables have blocks which are screwed and glued into corners.

First . . . the Wood

Quality furniture begins with sound wood . . . and nobody knows this better than a reliable brand furniture maker. But wood, as a product of nature, is the most unpredictable material in use today. Even wood from the same tree differs in density, color, and grain characteristics. But one thing is constant: Name brand furniture makers try to select the most stable and uniform wood available. That's why furniture specialists travel thousands of miles for the sole purpose of inspecting and selecting the most desirable walnuts, mahoganys, cherries, pecans, oaks, maples and birches they can find. Since wood is as changeable as the weather tremendous care is taken to select and cure the lumber to match as closely as possible the conditions furniture will encounter in your home.

The Beauty Of Veneer

Over 90% of today's finest and most beautiful furniture is made of veneered construction. Carefully chosen veneers for surfaces of cabinets, chest and table tops are a design in themselves, for each is different, distinctly individual. Is veneered furniture better than solid? Definitely yes! In fact, it is superior to solid wood in many respects. Properly laminated veneers make woods even stronger than they are naturally. This is the result of the veneer construction technique developed and used today by America's better furniture manafacturers.

Why the finish is not the end

Finishing is a process which enhances the natural wood grains of your furniture and gives it depth and character. The finish can deepen or lighten the wood tone to achieve a wide range of color effects. It also bonds in the color and protects the wood surfaces for better wear. Having made certain of the natural wood beauty and close matching of veneer patterns, series of separate hand operations begins to transform the clear wood into a warm, rich sheen that will beautify your home. Custom finishing is a technique which alters the wood appearance of any surface by the application of opaque materials. Fabrics are tested for durability and construction is given special attention for comfort.

WEBB WINDSOCK

The Buccaneer Room of the Spanish Main restaurant was the scene recently for a cocktail hour and farewell appreciation dinner given by Mustang Flight of Class 66-D for their T-37 instructor pilots and wives. After dinner, "appropriate awards" were given to both students and instructors for feats accomplished during the T-37 phase of training.

Capt. and Mrs. G. H. Vorres and family recently enjoyed a week of camping out and surfing by Corpus Christi. They returned to Webb and then went to Six Flags Over Texas for the July 4th weekend.

Mrs. H. G. Paddon was honored at a surprise baby shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. B. J. Lotzbire. Cohostesses were Mr J. H. Kiehle and Mrs. G. W. Green.

ITALIAN DINNER

Lt. Jim Fiorelli proved his excellance in making spaghetti last weekend. The students in Jaguar Flight gave a spaghetti dinner for their IPs and wives at the pavilion with Lt. Fiorelli as chief cook. The wives provided the salad and garlic bread.

Col. and Mrs. E. G. Kiehle were recent visitors at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. J. H. Kiehle. While they were here, David Kiehle celebrated his first birthday with a party. About 20 neighborhood children and parents attended.

Lt. and Mrs. T. E. Harrelson are enjoying a visit with her cousin, Miss Susan Weaver of Mt. Pleasant, S. C.

Mrs. R. W. Hunter and children recently returned from a 30 day vacation where they visited Mrs. Hunter's parents in northern California, Capt. Hunter's parents in Nevada, and relatives in Washington.

Wives of the 3560 PTS enjoyed a coffee at Cosden Country Club Tuesday afternoon. Hatchet Flight wives were hostesses for the event where strawberry shortcake was served to 27 wives. Mrs. Lawrence Erickson was welcomed to the group and farewells were extended to Mrs. T. J. Uyeyama. The centerpiece was won by Mrs. R. L. Hurst, and the door prize went to Mrs. J. E. Cvik. Bridge followed the short business meeting.

Mrs. R. H. Baxter and daughter, Chris, left Tuesday to visit her parents and friends in St. Louis, Mo. Later in the month she will travel to Jacksonville, Fla., to be in her sister-in-law's wedding. Hopefully, Lt. Baxter will join them there if all goes well.

HAVE COOK-OUT

Lt. and Mrs. A. E. Greiner hosted a cook-out Saturday evening. Attending were Lt. and Mrs. Dick Speros, Capt. and Mrs. J. R. Goeble and Capt. and Mrs. S. G. Flowers.

A recent bride in Class 66-B, Mrs. John Murray, was honored at a Coke party Friday in the home of Mrs. J. T. Daley. Mrs. J. L. Golden was cohostess for the affair.

A recent visitor in the home of Maj. and Mrs. D. F. Hathaway was Maj. Hathaway's aunt, Mrs. Mary Campbell of Denton. They have as their houseguest now, Maj. Hathaway's sister, Miss Mary Hathaway of Island Falls, Maine.

Current visitors in the home of Lt. and Mrs. Michael Ricciuto are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Riccuito Sr., and Mrs. Riccuito's brother, James McDonald. They are from Jersey City, N. J., and plan to be in Big Spring two weeks.

Capt. and Mrs. R. L. Sandner hosted a punch party Saturday evening. Close friends and members of Scorpin Flight enjoyed Capt. Sandner's punch and tried to get his recipe.

Lt. and Mrs. Richard Johnson entertained members of Class 66-C with a swimming party and pitch-in barbecue supper at their home Sunday afternoon.

Current visitors in the home of Lt. and Mrs. J. E. Freilino are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Crawford of Leechberg, Pa.

Members of Class 66-H enjoyed a steak barbecue at the home of Capt. and Mrs. D. L. Pierce last week.

Sets Wedding

The wedding of Miss Dolores Shipp and Gary Lynn Lamb will be solemnized Sept. 18 in the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Shipp of Andrews. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus. F. Lamb Jr., Midland.

Fifteen close friends of Mrs. R. H. Hartzog said their goodbyes to her recently at a coffee in the home of Mrs. R. E. Loose.

TAKE TOURS

Another three-day weekend means more people from Webb touring. Lt. and Mrs. E. A. Olson and Lt. and Mrs. T. J. Roels, Class 66-C, visited Carlsbad Caverns as did Lt. and Mrs. F. C. Fields and their guests. The Fieldses also went to El Paso and Juarez, Mexico. Lt. and Mrs. J. R. Spurger and Lt. and Mrs. S. C. Surloss, Class 66-C, enjoyed a trip to San Antonio where they visited his brother at Lackland AFB. Lt. and Mrs. F. P. Clements visited Laughlin AFB and then went on the Cuidad and Acuna, Mexico.

From Class 66-G, Lt. and Mrs. James Croft motored to East Texas and visited their parents, while Lt. and Mrs. D. E. King enjoyed a tour of Carlsbad Caverns. Lt. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. King, are here from Clarksville, Tenn., for a visit.

Guests of Lt. and Mrs. R. R. James are Lt. and Mrs. D. H. Mattei from James Connally AFB in Waco. Lt. and Mrs. James recently visited Carlsbad Caverns.

Lt. and Mrs. G. H. French and Lt. and Mrs. G. A. Smith toured the Carlsbad Caverns and then traveled to El Paso for a short visit.

Lt. and Mrs. Roger A. Carr, Lt. Mike Adams and Lt. Keith Luchtel, Class 66-B, flew to their homes in Iowa over the weekend. They enjoyed a visit with their parents.

Close friends and members of Axe Flight gathered at the home of Capt. and Mrs. R. W. Hunter to celebrate July 4th. Mrs. Hunter prepared different kinds of salads, rolls, and french fries to go with the steaks.

Many members of Class 66-H took advantage of the long weekend and warm weather to entertain. Guests of Lt. and Mrs. P. W. Bishop were Capt. and Mrs. D. L. Pierce. Lt. and Mrs. R. A. Burns celebrated Mrs. Burns birthday with Lt. and Mrs. J. E. Freilino. Lt. and Mrs. W. A. Henley hosted a barbecue for Lt. and Mrs. B. M. Kramer.

Monthly bridge for members of the OWC will be held Thursday at 1 p.m.

TRAVEL TALK

Beauty Regained By Athens

By HULIN FOWLER

What Athens long ago lost in power, culture and learning it has more than regained in beauty.

Flying over this majestic city, which covers 155 square miles we could see beauty everywhere — towering mountains which came down to touch the edge of the city, the port with the bluest water we had seen in the Middle East, and the clean white outline of modern buildings.

Athens, which shelters nearly 2,000,000 people, or a fourth of the population of Greece, did not give us a feeling of uneasiness that we had experienced in some of the Arabic cities. The people are friendly, orderly, curious and helpful.

Athenians are still eager to "tell, or to hear some new thing," as the apostle Paul observed in the First Century. They look prosperous. However, a West Texas missionary there told us this is not necessarily so. Athenians, despite their heritage of culture, are not apt to judge people by their social standing, so the well-to-do and less affluent mingle freely.

We had been anxious to see the Acropolis and it came as a pleasant surprise to learn that this magnificent example of ancient architecture can be seen from almost any point in the city.

Standing on a hill 500 feet high, the Acropolis was begun over 2,400 years ago as a citadel for the Greek city. In the early days the Athenian kings lived there, safe from attack. In the days of Paul the hill was devoted solely to the gods. The apostle noted this high interest in religion when he stood on Mars Hill, a short distance northwest of the Acropolis, and told the Athenians, in effect, "I see that in all things you are very religious."

The oldest structure of the Acropolis is the Parthenon, dedicated in 438 B.C. and long considered the most perfect example of ancient art. Most of the fine sculptures of the Acropolis, including a 42-foot-high gold and ivory statue of the goodess Athena, were removed in 1801 and now repose in the British Museum in London.

Across the city from the Acropolis is the Stadium, built in 330 B.C., where the Greeks held their Olympic games. Spectators had to stand, contestants performed in the nude and no women were allowed. A new stadium was put up nearby in 1896 for the first modern Olympic Games and designed according to a plan of the old stadium which had been found in excavations.

Ancient Corinth was luxurious, sinful and pleasure-loving, its people so pleasure-bent that they gave history the phrase: "Living like a Corinthian." Paul found the place a promising mission field and spent 2½ years there. Today the city is a sleepy little coastal town of about 10,000 people. The walls of old Corinth have been excavated and the town has a museum containing artifacts over 2,000 years old.

Back in Athens we could not resist a last trip to the Acropolis, mostly for the pleasure of looking down on the beautiful city, for we were to leave for the States on the following morning.

Gazing down on this wonderful city it was impossible not to recall the tragedy that is the history of Athens. Rising to the heights of cultural accomplishments in a few hundred years before Christ, the city unwisely joined a war against Rome in 86 B.C. and centuries of decay and stagnation were to follow.

However even as we stood in the ruins of a great civilization, it was obvious as we looked down on the city that the Athenians have risen to new heights though not in the tradition of their forefathers.

Miss Mott Weds In Stanton Ceremony

STANTON (SC) — Miss Nettie Jean Mott and Richard Daniel Scudder, both of Spur, were married at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church of Stanton. The Rev. John Jenkins of Spur officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mott, Stanton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Scudder of Duncanville.

The altar was banked with fern and graced with large basket arrangements of yellow gladioli and centered with branched candelabra.

Miss Ellen McReynolds, organist, accompanied Miss Nora Mock and Miss Kathey Williams as they sang "Because." Miss McReynolds also presented a program of traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal gown of delustered satin with a sculptured batteau neckline complemented with long tapered petal point sleeves. The fitted bodice featured appliques of lace, pearls and iridescent crystals. The back of the skirt had double pleats, forming a flowing chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and crystals.

Carried atop an heirloom handkerchief, made by her great - grandmother, and a white Bible, the bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses showered with satin ribbons.

ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Marshall D. Huffman of Fort Stockton. Maid of honor was Miss Julie Scudder, Duncanville, sister of the bridegroom. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Charles Blocker, sister of the bride.

The attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of yellow peau de soie. The dresses had capucine orange velvet bows accenting the empire waistlines. The attendants carried capucine orange carnation bouquets and their headpieces were circlets with shoulder-length veils.

Serving as best man was Ben Mott, Odessa, brother of the bride. Ushers were Robert Pike and David Green of Duncanville. Groomsmen were Marshall Huffman, Fort Stockton, and Charles Blocker, Stanton, both brothers-in-law of the bride. Gary Harvey and Jarrell Jenkins were altar taper lighters.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride's traveling costume was an avocado green suit. She wore green and black accessories and a corsage taken from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside at 223 E. Harris, Spur.

The bride is a graduate of Texas Tech and is a teacher at Spur High School. The bridegroom attended Arlington State College.

Following the exchange of wedding vows, guests gathered at the Fellowship Hall of the church where they were received by the honored couple, parents and attendants.

RECEPTION

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth backed with a yellow underskirt. The centerpiece was a three - tiered wedding cake adorned with a miniature bride and broom. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Mrs. Crosby McDowell, Lubbock, was in charge of the register. Members of the house party were Mrs. James Posey and Miss Jaye Skaggs, both of Odessa; Mrs. Hughlyn Todd, Slaton; Mrs. Wayne Grant, Brownfield; Mrs. Kenneth Baker, Pampa; and Miss Nancy Robnett, Miss Sammye Goodson, and Miss Helen Glaspie, all of Lubbock.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. S. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thompson and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Nutter, Miss Griffie Atkins, Mrs. Ben Nutter and Miss Lynn Smith, all of Odessa; Mrs. Richard Bannon and Mrs. Beth Daughtery, both of Roswell, N. M.; Miss Martha Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Scudder, all of Spur; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wolverton, Duncanville; and Joe Earhart, Big Spring.

MRS. STANLEY KEITH RUDESEAL — Barr Photo

Stanley K. Rudeseals Plan Huntsville Home

The wedding of Miss Shelby Elaine Lewis and Stanley Keith Rudeseal was solemnized at 7 o'clock Friday evening in a candlelight ceremony performed in the First Christian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lewis, 701 W. 18th, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rudeseal of Ackerly.

The Rev. John C. Black Jr. officiated for the rites which were read before an altar centered with a sunburst arrangement of white chrysanthemums and gladioli interspersed with emerald fern. White standards connected with satin roping marked the bridal aisle in the church parlor.

Mrs. John Birdwell presented a program of traditional nuptial selections preceeding the ceremony.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street-length wedding dress of ice blue brocade. The costume was styled with a Sabrina neckline, cap sleeves and sheath skirt. The bridal headpiece was a cabbage rose with petals formed of seed pearls and accented with bouffant veiling, and the wedding bouquet was a cascade of white glamelias and feathered chrysanthemums.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Sherrie Buford, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor. Her dress was of pale pink embroidered organza over satin, and she carried a bouquet of pink glamelias. Gene Horton was best man.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride was attired in a pastel yellow dress with which she wore white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple plans to reside in Huntsville where the bridegroom is a student at Sam Houston State College. He is a graduate of Sands High School and Howard County Junior College. The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College.

RECEPTION

The reception honoring the couple was held in the home of the bride's parents who joined them in welcoming guests.

The refreshment table was covered with white linen and lace and featured the maid of honor's bouquet flanked by branched crystal candelabra. The tiered wedding cake was topped with white confection roses.

Miss Jena Clinkscales registered guests, and members of the house party were Mrs. Doyce Lankford and Miss Virginia Morris.

Guests from out of town were Mrs. T. W. Myles and son, Stan, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. John Rudeseal Jr. and sons of Carrollton, Texas.

Date Set

Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Kelly, Vincent Rt. Coahoma, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Judy, to Jimmie Bristow, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bristow, Vincent Rt., Coahoma. The couple plans an August 28 wedding at the Vincent Baptist Church.

Girl Scouts Hold Major Roundup

Girl Scouts—11,000 of them—will gather at Farragut, Idaho, July 15-28, for the fourth Girl Scout Senior Roundup.

More than 9,000 girls and 2,000 adults from every state in the United States and from 45 other countries will make up this "teen-city." They will join in a wide variety of activities centering around the Roundup slogan, "On the Trail to Tomorrow," a reminder of the colorful history of the Northwest.

The Girl Scouts will be reminded at every moment of the historical significance of this part of the country. The Roundup site, a 5,000 acre area on the shores of Lake Pend Oreille at the foot of the Bitterroot Mountains, provides a majestic setting for the Girl Scouts to be pioneers themselves and to blaze their own "Trail to Tomorrow."

The Roundup campers will represent many faiths and every race. They will have varying attitudes as a result of their different backgrounds — regional, cultural, social and economic. But 11,000 strong, they all believe in Girl Scouting. During the encampment, they will be learning, living and working together toward the enrichment of the common goal of mutual understanding.

Knott Residents Take Vacations

KNOTT (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burrow spent the holidays with relatives in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davidson, and Gloria and Billy Honeycutt, Olney, visited Mr. and Mrs. Mike Davidson Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fryar Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Allred are in Houston where Mrs. Fryar will enter the Methodist Hospital Medical Center for a series of tests.

BETTE B.

The Truth About WIGS by Bette B.

Our, below wholesale, special sale on quality wigs ended Friday, July 9th. From now on we are going to sell good quality wigs with a small, fair and reasonable mark up to residents of Big Spring and surrounding areas.

I'm kind of disappointed with some of you nice people here in Big Spring. You woudn't think of buying cheap dresses, shoes or make up, but when it comes to wigs, you shop for price.

Very few can tell the difference between a poor quality wig and a good one. This includes beauticians and hair stylists. To the inexperienced, they look the same. A poor quality wig can be styled out to look beautiful; but for how long?

Although the wefts (foundation) look the same on a poor quality wig, they will shrink and stretch and wear out in a short time. Once the foundation is gone; what have you? On many cheap wigs, the weft can be blocked, like a sweater, to the patrons head size by shrinking it. After putting it on and taking it off a number of times it will stretch out of shape and must be blocked again. This is a nuisance.

The hair on a poor quality wig is not graded and usually comes from oriental girls who have poor diets for growing good hair. It will lack resilience and elasticity. The lighter shades must be bleached, sometimes several times and I'm sure I don't have to tell you what that does to hair. It will have a tendency to break easily when brushed or combed, and doesn't hold the set like it should.

Sooner or later, most of you will find out the truth, however I don't want to have to wait from 6 months to a year to say, "I told you so."

A good quality wig, when properly taken care of will always look good and will last many years. It will prove to be the the most economical in the long run. Quality wigs are definitely not coming down in price, if anything, they will go up. Because of the demand in all parts of the world, good quality hair is becoming harder to get. The market, however, is being flooded with poor quality wigs at low prices and too many outsiders, dept. stores, mail order houses, traveling salesmen etc. are getting into the act, trying for a fast buck.

You can purchase any wig on a loan or contract basis for around $10.00 per month. On a quality wig, you will of course pay a few more payments, but the wig will last several years longer and always look right.

You ladies who want a cheap wig, out of the box, can order one from us for from 20% to 40% less than you can get the same poor quality at a retail store or shop. Since we do not stock these, it will take a few days for delivery.

Wigs are our sole business. We can get you a wig for from $29.00 to $300.00 and more. Hair pieces start at around $19.50. Decide what you need and want and come in to see us. We're at 1704 Gregg. Ph. AM 3-6411 BETTE B. (adv).

Miss Sara Homan Becomes Bride Of Jerry K. Reid

Miss Sara Beth Homan became the bride of Lt. Jerry K. Reid at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in a ceremony performed at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Robert F. Polk officiated at the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Homan, 801 Gregg, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Reid, 213 Skyland, Waynesboro, Va.

The bridal altar was centered with a large sunburst arrangement of white chrysanthemums, stock and gladioli and flanked with tall candelabra holding cathedral tapers. Emerald ferns formed the background, and white satin marked the family pews.

Mrs. Forrest C. Gambill, organist, presented a medley of wedding selections. She accompanied Miss Karen Kee, vocalist, in "Whither Thou Goest" and, while the couple knelt on a white prie dieu, in "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in an antique ivory satin peau de soie gown with a Chantilly bodice. The tulle veil of illusion was attached to seed pearls cascading to form petals.

The bride's bouquet was an arrangement of white orchids, showered in stephanotis and tied in satin picot ribbon, carried atop a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Anne Homan, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Katherine Hepner and Mrs. Howard Kelley, both cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Benny Wadsworth, Monahans.

The attendants wore identical formal gowns of yellow peau de soie. Their headpieces were large bows of matching material, and they wore white gloves and carried nosegays of white chrysanthemums backed by white tulle and showered in white satin.

The bridegroom's father served as best man, and groomsmen were Lt. Paul Slagle, Lt. Bob Brentnall and Lt. Wirt Darnell. Ushers were Harry Jack Hepner, cousin of the bride; Lt. Joe Lamport and Lt. Hal Rigby.

Miss Lori Gail Logsdon, Tulia, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a full-length yellow satin peau de soie empire styled dress. Jackie Hepner, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

For a wedding trip, touring the state of Virginia, the bride's traveling costume was a pale blue and beige three-piece suit. She wore white accessories. The couple will reside at 1519-A Sycamore.

The bride graduated from Big Spring Senior High School and attended Texas Tech where she studied elementary education. The bridegroom is a graduate of Georgia Southern College with a BA degree. He is a charter member of Delta Sigma Pi and is stationed at Webb AFB.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building where the honored couple, parents and attendants greeted guests.

MRS. JERRY K. REID

Bradshaw Studio

The refreshment table was covered with a yellow and white satin cloth overlaid with net and decorated with wedding bells. The three-tiered white frosted wedding cake was topped with miniature wedding bells and silver and crystal appointments were used. Mrs. Ronnie Clanton was in charge of the register.

Members of the house party were Miss Katherine Homan, Mrs. Harry Hepner, Mrs. V. H. Lich, Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. H. C. Doss, Colorado City; Mrs. J. J. Hall, Snyder; and Mrs. Garland Land, Miss Judy Hall, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Steward, Mrs. Houston Cowden, Mrs. Della K. Agnell, Mrs. S. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. Charlene Kee, Mrs. E. E. Brindley, Mrs. J. C. Pickle and Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Harrison.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. C. A. Land, grandmother of the bride, Loraine; Mrs. John Logsdon, Tulia; J. J. Hall, Snyder; H. C. Doss, Colorado City; and Benny Wadsworth, Monahans.

Thursday Garden Party Honors Shelby Lewis

Mrs. Stanley Keith Rudeseal the former Shelby Elaine Lewis, was honored with a Thursday evening garden party at the home of Mrs. H. J. Agee, 704 W. 18th.

The 40 guests attending were registered at an umbrella table illuminated with hurricane lamps by Miss Sherry Buford and Miss Jenneabeth Clinkscales.

The yard decorations followed the bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and white. The serving table was covered with white ruffled organdy over a pale yellow background. The centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow carnations, white pompon chrysanthemums and green fern. This was flanked by white china bowls and crystal lamps accented with lilly of the valley and white net. Crystal appointments were used.

The receiving line included Mrs. Agee, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. O. C. Lewis. Gifts were displayed by Mrs. Kenneth Manuel, Mrs. W. P. Hughes and Mrs. Grady Harland.

Other cohostesses were Mrs. J. O. Chapman, Mrs. Jack Alexander, Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, Mrs. Melvin McFall, Mrs. Preach Martin, Miss Robbie Chapman, Mrs. Jimmy Ray and Mrs. Doice Langford.

The couple was married Friday evening at the First Christian Church.

Pre-Nuptial Party Fetes Miss Wilson

Miss Barbara Wilson, bride-elect of Dennis Harter, was honored Tuesday evening with a punch and cake party at the home of Mrs. Joy Harmon, 405 Edwards.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Dick Davis, Miss Terry Cauble, Mrs. Johnnie Billings, Mrs. R. G. Adkins, Mrs. C. W. Jones, Mrs. L. R. Helms, Mrs. Lena Macomber, Mrs. Charles Porch, Mrs. Ben Hitt, Mrs. Harold Cain, Mrs. Arnold Tonn, Mrs. B. B. Rice, Mrs. H. D. Stewart and Mrs. W. L. Clayton.

The room decorations featured the bride-elect's chosen colors of pink and white. The refreshment table was covered with a white cutwork cloth. The centerpiece was a ceramic cupid figurine candelabrum holding three white tapers and entwined with pink net, ribbon and lilies of the valley. The cake was frosted with colors of pink and white and silver and crystal appointments were used.

Miss Wilson, wearing a pink linen sheath, was presented a pink pompon chrysanthemum corsage and an electric skillet as hostesses' gifts.

White corsages were given to the honored guests, Mrs. R. E. Wilson, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. R. H. Harter, her fiance's mother.

The couple plans a July 24 wedding at the East Fourth Baptist Church.

Give Home Hose Bath

Although a house takes a beating during the winter, much of the apparent wear is superficial and can be remedied with little, if any, expense — but, of course, some time and work are involved. Here are three suggestions:

1. After the unavoidable chore of cleaning out gutters, put a garden hose up the ladder to the gutter level and force a stream of water down the leaders, or downspouts. You probably can flush out clogged leaves.

2. Wash the sidewalls. Use a hose and a long - handled brush. If you have a modern factory-finished siding such as mineral fiber, coated with an impervious acrylic plastic, a washing-down every three or four years will restore the color. Some exterior paints can be washed, too.

3. Hose storm sash or storm window panels before you put them away. Heavy, encrusted dirt will be removed, and it will be easier to wash the storm windows in the fall.

City HD Club Has Patio Breakfast

The City Home Demonstration Club's "Come As You Are" breakfast, held in the home of Mrs. Louis Helms, was attended by nineteen women including three guests, Mrs. W. C. Wagy, Mrs. Walker Reid and Mrs. Fran Bordowsky.

Those attended were driven to the informal patio party by Mrs. Alton Underwood and Mrs. D. D. Johnston.

Bouquets of fresh garden flowers accented the buffet and quartet tables where guests were served.

MRS. JAMES AVERY FALKNER JR. Paul Wingo Photo

Couple Says Vows In New York Ceremony

Miss Sherry Lee Elswick became the bride of James Avery Falkner Jr. during a ceremony performed July 4 in the Manhattan Church of Christ in New York City, N. Y. The double ring rites were read by James R. Petty, minister, before an altar graced with a hanging arrangement of white snapdragons and crysanthemums accented with emerald ferns. The candlelit scene was completed with slender gold candlesticks holding white altar candles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Elswick of Webb City, Mo., and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James Avery Falkner, 708 W. 17th.

A baritone solo, "O Lord Most High," was sung by Clark Ferry, and during the ceremony, background music was selections presented by an a cappella choir.

FRENCH LACE

The bride wore a formal wedding gown of white French Chantilly lace over peau de soie, fashioned with fitted bodice, high neckline and long straight sleeves. The bodice of the lace overdress was accented at the front with scalloped ruffles and pearl buttons, and the scalloped lace overskirt opened at the front to reveal a slim controlled sheath. A high-crowned caplet anchored her waist-length veil of matching lace.

The wedding bouquet, carried by the bride, was a single orchid nestled in feathered carnations.

Miss Betty Morris of New York City, the bride's only attendant, was attired in a dress of green peau de soie and carried a yellow bouquet of a single orchid and Frenched carnations.

Jerry Petty of New York City served as best man. The ushers were Jerry Norvell and Will Callender, both of New York City.

TO MAINE

For traveling, the bride chose a three-piece ensemble of yellow silk with bone accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Following a wedding trip to Maine, the couple will be at home in New York City and plan to visit the bridegroom's parents here during August.

The bride was graduated from Harding College in Searcy, Ark., and is a dietician in a New York City hospital. The bridegroom, a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School, received his BA degree from Abilene Christian College in Abilene and spent a year studying at the Brooklyn Art Museum. He is employed with The Associated Press in New York City.

Home Ceremony Held For Couple Friday

Miss Shirley June Underwood became the bride of Airman 3.C. Richard Allen Deal in a Friday evening ceremony performed at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Granville Hahn, 1805 Thorp.

The Rev. Darrell Robinson, pastor of the Berea Baptist Church, officiated for the double ring rites. The ceremony was performed before basket arrangements of white gladioli and large chrysanthemums backed by ferns and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Underwood, 205 Young, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dave Deal and the late Mr. Deal of Manila, Ark.

WEDDING DRESS

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin street - length wedding dress with appliqued Chantilly lace and long satin petal point sleeves. The fitted bodice was styled with a scalloped neckline, and the skirt was highlighted with pleats and a satin rose in center back.

Following tradition, the bride's wedding dress was a new item; something old was her grandmother's wedding ring, and she borrowed a pearl necklace from Miss Elaine Langley, and wore a blue garter.

The bridal bouquet was of white Frenched carnations, showered with white satin picot, and a center orchid carried atop a white Bible. Her veil of silk illusion fell in two layers from a lace-covered pill box hat.

Best man was Airman 2.C. Wayne Turner of Manila, Ark.

For a wedding trip to Oklahoma and Arkansas, the bride chose a pink lace sheath with white accessories and wore an orchid corsage made from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside in Big Spring while awaiting a transfer to Japan in September.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and attended Howard County Junior College. The bridegroom graduated from Manila High School, Manila, Ark., and is now stationed at Webb AFB.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the Hahn home where the honored couple, parents and attendants greeted guests.

The centerpiece was a three-tiered white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and flanked with crystal candle holders with orange tapers. Refreshments were served by Miss Langley and Miss Rose Sturm.

Miss Marie Hahn, sister of the bride, was in charge of the register. Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Brunson and Nancy, Mrs. A. F. Hill, Mrs. B. A. Brunson and Karen, Mrs. Vernon Langley, Russ Cummings and Richard Jennings.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Thames, Donnie and Terry, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Underwood, Linda, Geary and Debbie, Colorado City; and Marc Kilgore, Bonham.

Will Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Peters, 1000 E. 15th, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Suzanne, to Clayton Richard Carlton. The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Carlton, 1701 Harvard. The Rev. Al Seddon will officiate for the Sept. 3 wedding in the First Presbyterian Church.

4-H Girls Given Sewing Courses

Sewing Group 2 of the Gay Hill 4-H Club met with the junior leader, Jane Murphy, Thursday afternoon at 1 p.m. Mrs. Frances Zant assisted.

Darla Buchanan and Sherry Jackson demonstrated facing and trimming necklines and armholes, and Annette Couch showed how to sew in giant zippers.

The next meeting will be July 12 at the G. W. Murphy home.

COSDEN CHATTER

Cosden Office Party Honors Jeff Brown

Associates of Jeff L. Brown brought homemade cakes Friday and served them with coffee to coworkers who called to extend their good wishes to Brown on his last day with Cosden. After a vacation in Ruidoso, N. M., Brown will become agent and manager for the new Permian Insurance Agency. He has been with Cosden the past 10 years. Ray Mize will succeed him as pipeline accountant.

Cindy Ann Farris, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Farris, fell from a horse and broke her leg while vacationing at Ruidoso, N. M. She accompanied the George Bair family.

Mrs. Harold Coleman underwent surgery Friday morning at Cowper Hospital.

Mrs. Jackie Tucker and Cynthia Ann have visited here last week with Mrs. Tucker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cain. The Cains took them home to Lubbock Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Broughton are weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. J. E. Smith. The Broughtons live in Duncanville.

Ken Perry, marketing manager for the company, returned to his New York office Friday after having spent the week in Big Spring.

E. H. Boullioun Jr. has been on vacation the past week as have been Bill Logsdon and Ed Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Yates will be on vacation next week and plan to spend most of the time at home.

Bud Bridges will have a hitch at Marine summer camp at San Diego, Calif., and Eston Hollis at Army summer camp at Fort Hood.

Arlene Hartin returns to work Monday after a two week vacation, spent largely in house painting and entertaining her brother, Kenneth Hartin, and his family from Irving.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Have Trouble With Starch?

Dear Heloise:

I like to use spray starch on some of my ironing, but never seem to get to the bottom of the can. There's always at least one-fourth can left that won't come out.

Have any of your readers solved this problem? I hate to throw away the can when I know it isn't empty . . Gram

HELOISE

Dear Gram:

We have written to, and talked with manufacturers of several spray products, and here is what they say is most likely to be the reason the cans fail to expell all the contents:

The most usual cause is failure to shake the can THOROUGHLY before each use. This must be done to aerate the contents so it will come out in a very fine spray—the lighter airy fluid uses up less of the gas in the can.

If the can is not shaken well, it takes more of the gas to expel the contents, and the gas is used up before the contents of the can is utilized.

So, gals, when you think you have shaken those spray cans enough . . . give 'em a few more shakes!

Another fault is not pushing the valve down ALL the way—we want to give something just a tiny "squirt," so we just push the valve part way. This is not good, as we are just wasting the compressed air and not getting at the fluid.

Also, if the container is partly emptied, and you tip it on its side, the dip tube in the can may not reach the starch, and you will run out of pressure (gass-fizz) before the contents of the can are used.

There is always the possibility of a faulty valve, since they are quite delicate. If one part (they are made up of several parts) of the valve should have been jarred just a tiny bit by a hard bump or fall (either in the home, store, or in shipping), it may not work properly.

ONCE IN A WHILE you may purchase a faulty can. If this happens, take it back to the store where you bought it. Usually, they will replace it. If not, then I suggest you write the manufacturer.

Love those handy spray products—starches, fresheners, etc., don't you? . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Hello-Ease:

I read a hint recently about putting crepe paper around your hair to keep it in place at night. I have a way that holds nicely, and is free—no paper to buy.

Simply take a clean, old nylon stocking and cut it all the way down the center back, including the foot part.

At night, wrap this around your hair, and just crisscross the nylon on the top front of your hair (no need to tie or pin it in place), then put a hair net over it.

I keep my hair style in place all week with this method . . . Beverly Clark.

Dear Heloise:

I have read your suggestions for using carpet samples, and have one to add:

Recently I saw a rug in a summer cottage made from these samples.

They were joined together with iron-on tape.

It was so colorful, and gave quite a casual atmosphere . . . Faithful Reader.

South Side Needs Patio

Changing family living habits have transformed the occasionally used patio into one of the home's most lived-in "rooms." With its new importance in family life, the outdoor living room should be planned and built with care comparable to the rest of the house.

One questions is? Where to put it? West is worst. The afternoon and evening western sun will bake the area. A south or southwest exposure is excellent for an outdoor room if protected from the western sun.

Most families prefer their outdoor living area adjacent to the interior living room, with a large window area uniting the two spaces. To assure heating economy and winter comfort, insulating glass in wood frames is standard. Stock windows of ponderosa pine are available with double glazing and factory built-in weatherstripping.

Protection from prevailing winds is another consideration in locating a patio.

EVEN ON A WINDMILL

'O, Give Me A Home...

By SAM BLACKBURN

A certain Scissortail family, currently nesting on the old Conway farm (now owned by Horace Garrett) is certainly having its ups and downs. The farm is 10 miles north on the Vealmoor road.

According to Dub Rogers, who is farming the place and who first located the Scissortail family, the four little birdlings which are now hatched out in the nest will undoubtedly comprise one of the most widely travelled family groups of birds in the county by the time they are able to fly.

Yet, despite the impressive accumulated distance these little fellows will have moved, they have never been more than nine inches from their starting point.

You see, Mama and Pappa Scissortail, for some utterly inexplainable reason, selected a very busy windmill sucker rod, as the site for their home.

The sucker rod is in a waterwell on the farm and the windmill runs constantly. A chunk of iron has been attached to the rod, about a foot and half above the top of the well pipe. This, the birds picked as the foundation for their nest.

They built their new home, not in the least disturbed by the steady up-and-down motion of the rod. With the nest built, the mother laid four eggs. Then, about two weeks ago last Tuesday, she began the task of incubating her eggs. Tuesday, two of the birds had hatched out and the other two eggs were "pipped."

Rogers did a little math on the situation.

The windmill, he says, has a stroke of nine inches. Thus the nest is lifted nine inches and lowered nine inches each stroke. The windmill pumps 32 times a minute in a constant wind. Hence, it moves the nest up and down a total of 48 feet every minute of the day.

This adds up to 2,880 feet each hour. Or, Rogers figures, about 72,000 feet each day.

Seventy-two thousand feet equals 13.6 statute miles.

Rogers figures that the nest was built at least two weeks ago. (It takes from 12 to 14 days for a Scissortail egg to hatch, according to the books.) The little birds will undoubtedly stay in the nest at least two more weeks—say until the nest has chugged up and down on the sucker rod for a full 30 days.

By that time, Rogers points out, the Scissortail menage will have travelled nearly 400 miles.

Apparently the Scissortails find the up-an-down motion undisturbing. They probably insist it is better than the side-to-side swing of a nest one of their kinsmen has built on a pair of telephone lines a quarter of a mile away.

"I go by and check on the birds every day," said Rogers. "Mama is getting little used to me now. She'll let me climb half way up the ladder on the windmill tower now without flying.

"I guess she knows I do not intend to harm her or her family."

Comanche Camp Site To Get State Marker

Howard County has been selected to receive an official Texas Historical Marker from the Moody Foundation, Ed Fisher, a leader in the Howard County Historical Society, has been advised. There are only 100 Moody markers in all of Texas.

The marker will be placed to signify the route of the old Comanche war trail. Fisher said that it is likely the monument would be erected just off US 87, somewhere about Cosden Lake.

MANY REQUESTS

The Texas Historical Foundation, in a letter advising Fisher that the county has been selected for the marker, said that the foundation receives a great many more requests for markers than it has the money to provide.

It was suggested that Fisher confirm immediately acceptance of the marker. He said he had replied at once.

Prior to the settlement of West Texas, Comanche war and hunting parties left the tribal homelands to the north and drifted southward. Each autumn the Comanches travelled to Old Mexico, where they raided Mexican villages and farms, stealing livestock and butchering the residents.

Their route was the same each year. One of their traditional camp sites was at the Big Spring — a reliable water source and the spot for which the town is named.

Fisher said that when the inquiry was made by the Moody Foundation as to whether Howard County wanted one of the historical markers, he was instructed to list at least 20 possible historic features. The association made the selection from this list.

The local society, Fisher said, suggested a marker for Volney Howard, pioneer for whom the county was named and proposed it be placed on the courthouse lawn.

SPRING

It was proposed the Big Spring be honored, suggesting the marker be erected about where the Comanche war trail memento will be placed. He mentioned Signal Peak with a proposal that the marker be on IS 20, due north of the mountain.

Other suggestions include the old headquarters of the Lazy S ranch, 16 miles north on US 87; and the encampment of Geronimo in 1886 after he had escaped from Fort Sill. This spot is 17 miles north on US 87.

Fisher also proposed the Caprock with the marker to be placed on SH 350 near Wild Horse Creek crossing; the Edwards Plateau, with the marker at a roadside park six miles south on US 87; Rattlesnake Gap, 18 miles east on IS 20, where railroad workers in 1881 had to kill many thousand snakes before their teams were able to commence building the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. grade.

He also proposed a marker at the depot to commemorate the Texas & Pacific Railway which came here in 1881.

Another site suggested was that of the U.S. Experiment Station. It was pointed out that when this station was established in 1912, little Howard County land had been broken to the plow. Two markers would be needed for this—one on IS 20 and one on US 87.

SCHOOL DECISION

Other suggestions offered were the desegregation decision with a marker on the site where the late Judge Charlie Sullivan desegregated the first Texas school; the village of Big Spring—one of the few towns which existed in the time of the old west; Coahoma, a shipping point for thousands of Longhorn cattle; the first Boy Scout Troop in Texas (Troop 1, Buffalo Trail Council), organized in 1911; Texas first mechanized fire fighting unit not pulled by horses; home of W. C. Caylor, pioneer western artist of growing fame; and Moss Spring, water source for pioneers.

Fisher said he did not know when the new Moody marker would be available, but assumed it would be in the relatively near future. He suggested a suitable program be planned when the monument is placed, and said that he and his fellow historical society members will be working on ideas for the event.

A Devotional For The Day

Israel said unto Joseph, Do not thy brethren feed the flock in Shechem? come, and I will send thee unto them. And he said to him, Here am I. (Genesis 37:13)

PRAYER: Dear Father, help me to learn the importance of complete obedience to Thee. Help me to carry on Thy purposes even when life is not easy. In Jesus' name I ask it. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Time To Look Up

Big Spring and Howard County have just completed the first half of a year that has been characterized for steadiness. After a good start, dry weather dulled the outlook and cast a psychological pall. But then came rains and things seemed to look up.

During the first half construction approached $2,000,000. Business was fair but spotted. Oil activity looked up to some degree. Industrial output was satisfactory or better. All in all, there was little grounds for real complaining.

However, there is good prospect that the second half of this year will be the healthier of the two. Actually, it doesn't all hang on agriculture, although the roots of this country are such that this carries a psychological impact out of proportion to its dollar volume. With a rain or so at even approximately the right time, there could be a good to excellent harvest.

Construction, with the high school project dominating the scene, will substantially exceed the first half volume. The year seems a cinch to top the $5,000,000 mark and it could approach $6,000,000. Coahoma will have some school building, too.

Highway work, dormant for half a year, is due to get going again now that the roadway bonds have passed. Long before the year is out, the north leg from IS 20 east to the Snyder Gail Road intersection, will be put under contract. The divided highway in southern Dawson County is due to be completed and Big Spring and Lamesa will be linked by modern, safe road all the way.

Industrial activity seems to be holding steady. Cosden is doing its usual fine job, Grace is selling more ammonia than it can make right at the moment, and the booming car market has the carbon black plants producing at capacity.

Oil exploration should maintain at least a steady rate or even could step up. A couple of strikes, including the Strawn discovery northeast of Big Spring and the Canyon discovery in northwestern Howard County, will call possibly for adjacent drilling.

The Chamber of Commerce industrial committee has a couple of irons in the fire, either of which could easily hit. But these things are no cinches and are fraught with long periods of anxious waiting. The committee, incidentally, is making a new approach to development and this could pay dividends.

The retail business outlook remains something of an enigma, but with some key stores opening new and huge outlets, the merchandising parade may step up. This will create some downtown vacancies which will need to be plugged, but perhaps the downtown development program may help influence this. Residential building is something of a soft spot, but then the present respite may be a blessing to all except the builders who have to go slower. Webb AFB is due to have at least $832,000 of construction funds and maybe more. Teacher and college payrolls will be substantially larger, and the military payroll could swell, too.

Thus, the last half of 1965 looks like a good time to look up and speed up.

Too Many Sick; Not Enough Doctors

WASHINGTON — Most people are unaware of what the legislation providing medical care for the aged — about to be passed by Congress — will really mean to the nation as a whole. While furnishing needed help to the elderly population, it may bring severe hardships to millions of other persons of all ages who happen to get sick and require medical attention.

FOR THERE will not be enough doctors or hospitals to take care of those who must be treated. Even today these facilities are not siffucient, and there is as yet no comprehensive plan to handle the increased number of patients to be expected when medical bills are going to be paid in large part by the government.

With the growth of health insurance and hospitalization plans in recent years, physicians have not been able to pay visits to the homes as they did in the past. Also, some plans provide for payment only if the patient is hospitalized, and this doubtless has increased the number of persons who go to hospitals rather than being treated at home or in the doctor's office.

THE LATEST figures show that, during the last 30 years, doctors' visits to the home have dropped from 40 per cent of the physicians' practice in America to only 8 per cent. It is estimated by medical statisticians that, since World War II, there has been a 500 per cent increase in admissions to emergency wards, and these units in some neighborhoods have supplied the services which family doctors used to provide.

One reason is that if hospital care for older people is to a large extent free, there will be a temptation to go to such places for aches and pains that used to be taken care of by family doctors calling at the home. This will produce a scarcity of beds for young and old who really need to be in a hospital.

SOME RECOGNITION of these phases of the medical - care problem is given in the provisions of the proposed law which require an initial payment for hospitalization before the government's benefits will apply. Also it is argued that persons will not be admitted who do not need such care. But the time and attention of doctors will be required anyhow, and the biggest hardship may emerge from the failure to train additional physicians.

There were 149 doctors for every 100,000 population in 1950 and the percentage hasn't increased since then.

Efforts certainly will be made to move the chronically ill patients from beds in hospitals to some of the nursing homes or units where this kind of care can be given. For virtually the entire nation of 190 million people is dependent on about 5,684 hospitals, the total expense of which is approximately $7.5 billion a year. There are 1,454 state and governmental hospitals, which cost an additional $3.4 billion annually.

THE NUMBER of nursing and convalescent homes is bound to be increased and their services augmented both by local governments and by private organizations, but the extent of the impact which the new "medicare" legislation will make on the country as a whole can hardly be judged at this time. The experience of other countries with what has been called "socialized medicine" reveals that people demand hospital and medical attention for many things they could take care of by themselves. When they realize the government is footing the bill, they crowd the doctors' offices and the hospitals.

ALL OF THIS means a risk for the patient with a serious illness or injury who really needs prompt and perhaps prolonged medical attention. Even if it be conceded that financing of medical care for the elderly by the federal government is necessary and couldn't have been provided entirely through private - insurance plans — which is at least debatable — the big problem now is how the health of the population of the United States as a whole is going to fare if hospitals are overcrowded and doctors are scarce.

Billy Graham

My family says that I worry about non-essentials, and they have branded me "the worrier." But, I don't believe that I worry. Rather, it is concern. I am of a rather serious turn of mind, and I am tremendously concerned over my family's health and welfare. H.B.

A bassoon player came to the great conductor, Toscanini, with furrowed brow, and complained that his instrument would not sound the high E-flat. Toscanini smiled and said: "Don't worry. There is no E-flat in your music tonight." The musician was "concerned," but needlessly. Many of our worries are like that—they are unfounded and unnecessary.

Two suggestions for you. First, learn to trust God. One who trusts never worries, and one who worries never trusts. The Bible says the "very hairs of our heads are numbered" by the Lord. Someone took the trouble to count the hairs on a man's head, and came up with the figure 135,168. So important are you to God that He has tabulated every hair of your head. If He has done that, how much more is He concerned about our sorrow, our anxiety, and our burdens.

Second, develop a little sense of humor. You say "you are serious." But don't take yourself or your troubles too seriously. A joyful person adds to the music of life, but a kill-joy brings discord. Other people have had more trouble than you and didn't make such a big fuss over it.

States, Cities Look For More Tax Monies

President Johnson's Great Society is a composite of little societies — states, cities, counties, boroughs, villages.

Each of these little societies, in its own way, has to cope with the rising expectations of American citizens: More and better education; wider police protection; improved hospitalization; highway development; massive and recurrent street repairs; extended sewage systems.

Budgets keep climbing an unending staircase. The headlines scream the story: Mayor Wagner Proposes Deficit Spending for New York City; Gov. Hughes Recommends All - Time High Budget for New Jersey; Pennsylvania Highway Commission Suggests $295 Million Road-Building Program for Philadelphia—Money to Come from Gasoline Taxes and License Fees. And so it goes for local governments—big and little, urban and rural.

WHEREAS President Johnson is able to reduce taxes, governors, mayors and heads of local governments scrounge for income to keep up with social technology. School buildings which were once the finest are obsolete. Roads, once adequately wide, are today's bottlenecks. Bridges can't bear tractor-trailer loads. Courthouses must be air-conditioned.

Ten years ago, state and local government revenues constituted 26 per cent of total tax revenues in the United States. Today they amount to 35 per cent.

PURCHASES of goods and services by state and local governments now exceed those of the federal government (see chart), thanks in part to federal aid for highways, education, health, urban development and so on. The "local establishments" spend more than they "earn." In the 1964 fiscal year, federal aid amounted to ten billion, and will exceed 13 billion in the current (1966) fiscal year.

Walter W. Heller, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, foresaw the problem. He proposed sharing federal revenues with state and local governments.

States, cities and towns have tried to supplement property taxes with gasoline taxes, cigarette taxes, sales taxes, even lotteries. Wanted: A national genius to find a tax taxpayers will applaud.

DOES THE municipal bond market reflect this problem? It has declined most of this year. Are investors looking months and years ahead—to potential financing and refinancing difficulties?

The evidence is far from absolute. The entire bond market has been sloppy in recent months. Underwriters have been swamped. The supply of new bond and stock issues of all types has been beyond the absorptive capacity of institutional and other investors. None the less, it's significant that tax-exempts have declined more than corporation bonds.

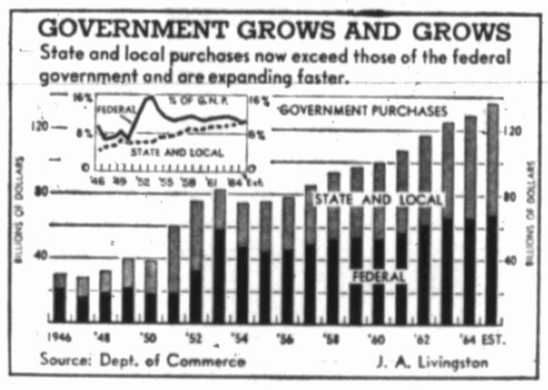
THE RETURN on municipal bonds has increased by 8 per cent since January. The Standard & Poor's municipal yield index has gone up from 3.06 per cent to 3.31 per cent (25 basis points). The corporate yield index has risen less than 3 per cent—from 4.34 per cent to 4.44 per cent (10 basis points).

The state-and-municipal problem is twofold. First, citizens—voters — expect and demand more and more facilities and services but want governors, mayors and town councils to deliver them without charge, forgetting that the free lunch went out with rising costs and Prohibition after World War I.

SECOND, state and local governments are too dependent on property taxes and sales taxes which do not respond elastically to economic expansion, as does an income tax.

As a result, municipal debt mounts year by year. Some costs, which ought to be paid out of current receipts, are willed to posterity. This raises the cost of debt service.

AS A RESULT, a continuous contest is inevitable between taxpayers and tax-devisers. Finance officers can't escape a thankless responsibility. They must constantly seek new revenues to satisfy the necessities their constituents won't forego but don't want to pay for.



Tractors Fit

VERONA, Italy (AP)—The variety of Italian crops and topography demands many kinds of tractors for modern farming.

Heat Collapse Comes From Loss Of Sodium, Water

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Regarding summer heat and reducing:

We are advised to take salt tablets, and also told that salt retains moisture in the tissues.

How do you reconcile these?

I must spend the summer in the desert. My ebb runs low. Salt tablets seem to help. I belong to TOPS, a reducing organization. Members are interested in your answer, as will others who perspire freely while weight-watching.—I.L.

We all need salt. A completely salt-free diet would be disastrous, and would be disastrous very much sooner if the person happened to be in a desert or other hot climate causing rapid loss of fluid from the body (through sweat, etc.) Perfectly healthy people will collapse, and in extreme cases, even die when too much water is lost from the body. We call it heat collapse, but it is loss of sodium and water.

Now in actual fact, much of the food we eat contains a little natural salt. That is why, in certain conditions, mainly heart and kidney ailments, in which too much salt causes TOO MUCH fluid to accumulate in the body, the patient is better off to use no salt at the table or for cooking. He still gets enough "natural salt" for his needs. A no-salt diet is almost impossible and most unpalitable. A low-salt diet is helpful in the right cases.

Now let's discuss reducing. (TOPS means "Take Off Pounds Sensibly," and it's a splendid group.) Keeping your weight down doesn't depend, really, on the amount of salt you eat or the amount of fluid in the tissues. That's just water, not what we might call real weight, or excess fat.

An average person (and anyone overweight) can "sweat off" several pounds in a few hours. Athletes in hard practice (such as in early football scrimmage under a broiling sun) can lose four or five pounds in a short time, and the really big fellows lose twice that much or more. Then their systems hang onto the water they drink, or the water in their food. By next morning, or sooner, they've gained back all the weight they "lost."

So don't be too impressed by the water weight you lose. It will come right back to a normal amount. It's the solid weight that really counts. Losing a pound of fat is a real accomplishment.

If you have to be in the desert, and occasional salt tablets make you feel better, take them. You'll soon lose the salt, as well as water, through perspiration. The permanent effect on your weight is zero.

In fact, that low-salt gimmick has been used frequently in "quickie" diets. That's why they seem, on the first starving, to be so effective. But they really aren't. Most of the results are from loss of water.

Troubled with varicose veins? To make sure you are doing all you can to relieve the problem, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting the booklet, "How to Deal with Varicose Veins," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Improving The Breed

You have seen the statement over and over that those who follow horse racing do so because they are interested strictly in the improvement of the breed. If this is valid, there is an uncommon number of West Texans who trek into New Mexico concerned with better horse flesh.

While they're there, of course, there are sporting propositions that are open.

THE LAST HORSE I really knew much about was Dan Patch, but when I looked those fine animals up at Ruidoso, I felt that some study should be made of their breeding.

Now I am not a betting man, but at the race track there seem to be so many fail-proof systems that one is tempted to have a try at one, several, or all of them.

THERE IS ONE type of lover of horse flesh who sits up nights studying the forms; that is, finding out who the runner's Daddy and Mama were; how many contests he has entered and how he fared in each; what he can do at various lengths, and whether or not he is a good mudder. I would say that these are the students, but I couldn't find one who professed to have made a killing on any race.

Another system is to go with the jockey. In this case, you do not have to know who his Daddy and Mama were, but you need to know what his record is, and whether—first of all—he can stay on the horse's back.

STILL ANOTHER interesting method is to lay a small wager on a noble steed whose color is appealing. Only the foolish will bet on a gray horse, but blacks and bays and roans are something else again, and one makes one's choice.

A few habitues of the Downs would rather take a chance on the color of the silks the rider wears. A jock with pink and white just might come nearer winning than one who wears blue and gold.

THE HORSE'S NAME has great appeal to a certain group. No matter if he is crippled, and fell down the last time out of the gate, if he has a handle like "Bully Boy" and you like bullies, then this is your pick. Or, if you are a strident Texan, and the name "Blue Bonnet Belle" is before you on the program, you go for that one.

There was the story of one fellow who fell down the grandstand stairs as he attempted to make his way to the windows, so when he made it, he bet on "Go Boom," and made a killing.

THERE ARE other folk so interested in the improvement of the breed that they will open a race program, blindfold themselves, and thrust a pin through the sheet. If the pin hits on No. 5, by gollies, that's the winner in that race.

You see, there are quirks of all kinds for enjoying yourself while the breed is improving itself.

Well, I thought a bob or two wouldn't hurt under my own system, which was to put horses, jockeys and names all together. A rider named Aaron Aronson mounted on Able Airfly would appear to be a monumental opportunity, although the odds were at 90 to 1. The catch was that the alphabet got turned around, and first under the wire was Zeno's Zanzibar, ridden by Zeke Zabrowsky.

NEVER MIND, there MUST be a system. Meanwhile, the breed is improving all the time.

—BOB WHIPKEY

Help For A Fellow Man

NEW YORK — There has been a great deal of criticism about the apathy in New York City that one citizen shows towards another, but I'm happy to report that the campaign to make New Yorkers more conscious of their responsibilities is paying off.

I have a friend named George who has a trick shoulder that every once in a while pops out of its socket. When it happens George has a way of getting in back in, either by hitting the shoulder against a wall or lying on the floor and working it back in. While painful, it is not serious and George has been doing it for years.

LAST WEEK he happened to be in one of those chain snack bars and after having a sandwich and glass of milk he got up from his stool, reached for his hat, and suddenly his shoulder popped.

He tried to work it in against the glass window, but when this failed he fell to the floor and proceeded to try to get it back in its socket.

Instead of the other people in the snack bar ignoring him, they all jumped off their stolls at once. One shoved a spoon in his mouth which made it diffficult for George to explain what he was trying to do.

ANOTHER MAN shouted, "Hold his arms and legs so he doesn't hurt himself."

A woman cried, "He's getting red in the face."

A third man said, "Look in his pockets. He's probably got instructions on what to do in case of a fit."

A man started searching George and took out his wallet. He spilled all the contents on the floor but could not find anything in it regarding George's illness.

"Loosen his tie," a lady said.

Someone tore George's shirt trying to loosen his tie.

THE MORE HE struggled the more they held him down, and the man who was holding the spoon in George's mouth wouldn't let up.

The person holding his arms wasn't helping George's shoulder much, either. It occurred to George if he relaxed perhaps they'd let him go.

But it didn't work like that.

"He's passing out," a lady said. "Does anyone have any smelling salts?"

"We have ammonia in the kitchen," a waitress said.

SHE HANDED A bottle to someone who shoved it under George's nose, which made him gag somewhat.

"He's gagging," a man said. "Loosen his belt and take off his shoes."

By this time even George had forgotten about his shoulder and all he was hoping to do was get out of the snack bar alive.

But the worst was yet to come.

"Does anyone know how to give artificial respiration?"

"I know how to give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation," a large, fat man said. And with that he leaned over and started breathing into George's mouth.

FORTUNATELY, by this time an ambulance had arrived and when the doctor took the spoon out of George's mouth George explained the problem. The doctor helped him get his shoulder back in the socket.

George didn't have the heart to tell all the good Samaritans what was really wrong so he made a small speech thanking them for seeing him through the attack. "If it hadn't been for all of you," he said, "I might not be standing here right now." Everyone in the snack bar seemed pleased.

Venezuela And The U.S.

CARACAS, Venezuela—Those of us who search for clues to what is happening or about to happen in the world customarily follow the East-West axis, with Europe and Asia a part of the beat. This reporter is starting out on the North-South axis to try, in the aftermath of the political earthquake in the Dominican Republic, to learn something of the state of what is conveniently lumped as Latin-America.

IT IS ONE of those deceptive terms encouraging the illusion of a continent with a common viewpoint and common customs and traditions. Nothing could be further from the truth. The range of difference in outlook and way of life is as great as, say, that between Massachusetts and New Mexico.

Venezuela is a good place to start. Great progress has been made here in land reform, education, housing in the countryside and in the cities, and in other areas. In less than three years 80,000 land titles have been transferred to landless peasants.

FOR FIVE YEARS—the longest period in the nation's history—Venezuela has had a stable, democratic government. The author of this triumph was Romulo Betancourt, who successfully held off a Castroite-Communist-terrorist attack intended to bring him down and prevent last year's free election. His successor, President Raul Leoni, is quieter and more cautious. But he seems to have a firm grip on his job and on the country.

UNLIKE ANY other Latin-American country, Venezuela has the great advantage of a fabulously rich flow of oil. It is the third largest oil producer in the world, coming after the United States and the Soviet Union. Oil exports are 95 per cent of the country's foreign exchange earnings and 40 per cent of the oil is sold to the United States. This income pays for virtually all the government's spending for a broad program of social advance.

But the fact that the United States is the largest single purchaser and American companies, headed by Standard-Creole, are the biggest operators does not mean Venezuela is an American satellite. On the contrary, this helps to underscore the determined independence of a people who, after decades of dictatorship, want to keep their freedom.

BUT IT IS NOT so much these outward manifestations, the visitor is told, as a deeply rooted fear of American domination of the OAS and the subordination of all other Latin countries to American aims. This goes down to the right of individual nations to bring about social change in their own way without the fear of intervention by the Colossus of the North.

The fear of communism is very real here and with good reason. The terrorist attack that has gone on for more than four years has been stepped up since the Dominican crisis. Despite increasing efforts by military and paramilitary forces it continues. Yet any overt help from the outside is about the last thing the government wants.

IT IS THE precedent of Santo Domingo that is so unsettling. If it can happen there, the visitor from the North is asked, why cannot the same thing happen elsewhere? And who is to determine the circumstances under which it can or should happen?

One of the problems for the American observer traveling the North-South axis is with the terms of reference as between a great power that too often takes for granted the "good neighbors" in the hemisphere and small struggling nations that barely keep above the lapping tides of political disarray and economic chaos. Pride and sensitivity go hand-in-hand in this relationship.

Enrollment Is Slated Monday For HCJC Session

Howard County Junior College will open enrollment for the second six-weeks period of summer school Monday.

Classes will start Tuesday morning.

Officials are anticipating a fair volume of registration, although it likely will be less than for the first six weeks, which showed a slight gain over the first period of last summer.

Although registration continues during the week for both day and night classes, Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, urged registrants to sign as soon as possible in order not to get behind on class work. A broad field of course offerings is available.

Soviet Manhunt Starts In Fraud

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has asked the public to help track down three men linked to a $3-million swindle in black market knit wear.

All three have Jewish names, as does another suspect Pravda said was captured after hiding for more than a year.

Mañana is yesterday since two years are one!

The bonds of partnership are strong between Mexico and the USA. Close cooperation between the governments of our two countries and that of Canada means that no job is too big to be tackled. Even nature can be hustled along!

Take the field of agricultural research: Plant a crop in Mexico, harvest it and ship the seeds north in time for spring planting in the States. Harvest the second crop and send the seeds north again. In this way two years' research work can be done in one. The result: higher crop yield in a hurry.

Get to know our growing neighbor to the south where progress is the rule and will remain so. Send for the free booklet "Know Mexico", Box 1900, New York, 10019.

Presented in the interest of international goodwill by The Advertising Council, USA, the Consejo Nacional de la Publicidad, Mexico and the Newspaper Advertising Executives Association.

"A BOY TEN FEET TALL'
Fergus McClelland and Edward G. Robinson

Edward G. Robinson Stars In State Film

On the banks of the Blue Nile, at the little riverside port of Namasagali, director Sandy Mackendrick was toiling beneath a sweltering equatorial sun. Five thousand miles he had come for this. After months of planning, the cameras were about to turn for the first time on his latest, adventure story, "A Boy Ten Feet Tall," which opens Friday at the State Theatre. Based on the novel "Sammy Going South," by W. H. Canaway, this release stars Edward G. Robinson and co-stars Fergus McClelland, Constance Cummings, Harry H. Corbett and Paul Stassino.

The story is about ten-year-old Sammy Hartland (Fergus McClelland), a boy who makes an incredible journey from Suez in Egypt to Durban in South Africa — a trip of 5,000 miles. Sammy, alone in Suez after his parents are killed in a surprise air raid, remembers what his mother once told him.

"If you are ever left alone Sammy, go south to your aunt Jane in Durban." Now, with Sammy in this unenviable position, he heeds his mother's advice, heads south, and his journey begins.

In the desert, tired and hungry, Sammy meets a peddler and agrees to trek with him to Luxor. On the way, an accident in the camp blinds the peddler, and in anger, he shackles himself to Sammy. The next day, the peddler is dead. Sammy frees himself and heads on.

Traveling on the back roads to avoid meeting other traveling companions, Sammy meets Cocky Wainwright (Edward G. Robinson). First with astonishment and then with admiration, this battered old diamond smuggler and hunter of big game hears Sammy's story. After traveling to Cocky's camp Sammy listens in awe as the old man recounts his remarkable past.

Young Artists Setting Trend

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — For the third time in eight years the Whitney Museum of American Art is showing the works of the younger artists, and there is no mistaking the trend —

(1) "Sculpture" now is the hottest part of the art field, but it is far from the traditional types of sculpture.

(2) Pop and Op Art are the most conspicuous items in what is left of two-dimensional art, and abstract expressionism has disappeared completely in the younger generation.

(3) Some of the newcomers are working in the borderline between two-dimensional and three-dimensional creations, and are pioneering some hybrids that are hard to classify.

This "Young America 1965" exhibition, running through Aug. 29, contains more than 100 examples of the work of 30 artists, all 35 years of age or younger. Many have not been represented in museum shows before.

The same rules were used for the shows of 1957 and 1960, but in those days most of the young artists were flailing away at abstract expressionism; only a handful were interested in 3-D works.

'SCULPTORS' PREDOMINATE

This time more than half of the 30 are "sculptors"—but that term has to be stretched to cover people who do constructions, the welders, the gadgeteers and others who assemble odd materials.

And in the midst of the 3-D crowd there are a few who make composites of painting and construction.

Jim Dine, for example—who in the last few years usually has been classified with the Pop Art gang—has one work in this show consisting of a hatchet embedded in a wooden post, one each side of which there is a panel splashed with large blobs of color. The whole affair is hung on the wall. Is it a construction or a painting?

Another item is a rather crude landscape, but out of the blue (sky, of course) a stovepipe protrudes. It seems primarily a painting, but it also is a construction.

Or how do you classify Charles Hinman, who paints wide bands of color across a shaped canvas and hangs it on a wall? It may look like a surfboard hanging in the boathouse, and do you call it a painting?

Another comparative newcomer, Robert Hudson, builds large 3-D devices of utterly incoherent shapes. Then he uses paint to decorate them wildly and wittily — without any connection at all between the shapes and the painted images. One of these devices resembles a jabberwocky built for installation aboard a highly irrational carousel.

SO MANY MATERIALS

The use of a great range of materials marks the trend. In this respect the current exhibition is like last winter's Whitney Annual of sculpture, in which 31 materials were counted.

Here are some examples of the present show's variety:

Mary Bauermeister assembles glass lenses of all sizes, rock, shells and other objects on a vertical panel, and draws tiny images among the objects.

Fred Troller bolts together graceful, but unidentifiable, shapes out of painted wood. Anthony Padovano puts together pieces of sewer pipe and other metal shapes, painting them dull black.

Ralph Ortiz smashes and slashes old sofas, sprays them with plastic, and strews them around the floor and walls. Joseph Kurhajec fabricates large, squirming objects from furnace pipes and covers with dark cloth and rope nets.

William Reimann uses curved slices of white or black plastic and builds them into curved or spiralling objects. And Lucas Samaras combines beads, glass baubles and small mirrors in odd assemblages.

Larry Poons is the best known of the few Op Artists in the show, and Tom Wesselman is there with some Pop items.

There are even a few painters whose works are representational, including Sidney Goodman and Jack Beal.

'THE ART OF LOVE'
James Garner and Angie Dickinson

Blend Of Talent In 'Art Of Love'

Producer Ross Hunter has blended the talents of some of filmdom's most colorful personalities for the comedy spoof on the modern world of art, "The Art of Love." It opens today at the Ritz.

Hunter employed Carl Reiner to pen the screenplay, and placed his script in the hands of Norman Jewison, one of Hollywood's new crop of directors.

In front of the color cameras went an array of famous personalities, led by James Garner, Dick Van Dyke, Elke Sommer, Angie Dickinson, Ethel Merman and Fifi D'Orsay, cavorting through Paris life among the young artists and models.

Garner, who ended a long regime in television's cowboy corral as a comedian in "The Thrill of It All," plays for laughs in the role of a young American writer who lives by his wits much more successfully than he writes by them.

Van Dyke is the "man of the hour." In television, "The Dick Van Dyke Show," created and produced by Carl Reiner, recently swept five Emmy Awards. On the screen, he has already made an enviable mark in "Bye Bye Birdie," "What A Way To Go!," and "Mary Poppins." In "The Art of Love," he is seen as a young artist whose life goes into hiding after an erroneous report of his death sends the price of his paintings skyrocketing.

On the feminine roster, Europe's piquant Elke Sommer of Germany, matches curves and allure with Angie Dickinson, the American doll with the million-dollar legs.

Also in a key role is Broadway's first lady of song, Ethel Merman, seen as the "operator" of a girlie night club that features an all-nations beauty pageant involving Mike Takai, Astrid DeBrea, Lisa d'Anjou, Dawn Villere, Victoria Carroll, Nancy Martin and Sharon Shore.

Also in key roles are Fifi D'Orsay, the French bombshell turned character actress, as the wife of Paris barge captain Emile Genest, well - known French - Canadian TV star; Pierre Olaf, as a comic Paris police inspector; Irving Jacobson and Naomi Stevens, as proprietors of a kooky Parisian-kosher delicatessen; Louis Mercier, as a judge; Renzo Cesana, the "Continental" of early TV immortality, as an aged French playboy; Jay Novello, as a frightened janitor; and—as he does so often — scenarist Carl Reiner in a comedy cameo as a French lawyer.

The film concentration is on paintings, with many fine works of art on display. To create a "style" for Dick Van Dyke's role as a painter, Hunter investigated the works of more than two dozen young artists to choose the one who would paint under Van Dyke's screen name, "Paul Sloan." The young artist whose brushwork will be featured is Cincone. Sixty-five of his paintings will be seen on the screen — including a dozen duplicates of several of his canvases which Cincone painted in order. The duplicate canvases are kicked, torn, broken and split by Van Dyke in a wild early scene for the comedy.

Director Norman Jewison filmed for two weeks in Paris before start of major production on the studio lot, doing scenes on authentic sites with Van Dyke, who was making his first visit to Europe.

'Ski Party' Set For Ritz Screen

America's rhythm and blues singer, James Brown, together with his Flames, make their feature film musical comedy debut in "Ski Party" which opens Friday at the Ritz Theatre.

Rated high in the national disc jockey poll, Brown's personal appearances across the nation have broken attendance records.

Solomon Islands Issue New Set Of Difinitives

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

The Solomon Islands, remote though they may be in the South Pacific, are not strange to American soldiers, sailors and marines who fought there in World War II. The most famous is Guadalcanal.

The British Crown Agents have announced that the Solomon Islands have issued a new definitive set of 15 stamps. All stamps bear the Dorothy Wilding portrait of Queen Elizabeth plus local scenes, flora and fauna.

The islands were first discovered in 1568 by the Spanish navigator Alvaro de Mendano who started out from Peru. The GI and the Marine made their indelible imprint on the Solomons in 1942.

• • •

Austria has issued a new 3 schilling dark brown-red stamp to honor Ferdinand Raimund, one of that country's greatest poets. The stamp bears a portrait of Raimund and commemorates the 175th anniversary of his birth. Also issued by Austria is a 1.80 schilling stamp honoring the "Art of the Danube School." It depicts a wooden statue of St. George in front of an Altdorf engraving.

• • •

Iceland has issued a new set of stamps depicting the eruption in Surtsey which started on the morning of Nov. 14, 1963, and lasted until Sept. 1964. The 1.50 kr shows the eruption when it began. The 2 kr pictures the volcanic turmoil in April 1964. The 3.50 kr illustrates it at the end in September.
