City and County Seeking Fulton Beach Road Paving

Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., said Monday that if time permits at the June 7 special City Council meeting in the Court-house, the Council will discuss the possibility of paving a portion of Fulton Beach Road with the aid of funds from the Texas State Highway Commission.

Falk said that the state already has announced that it has $110,000 earmarked for a paving project that would extend seven-tenths of a mile on Fulton Beach Road, from the intersection of Highway 35 North and Fulton Beach Road and extending northward.

The mayor said the City of Rockport and Aransas County Commissioners Court have agreed to allocate $40,000 each toward such a project to help obtain the necessary right-of-way property.

Falk said that if the project materializes, the paving will be four lanes wide.

man of the Board David Maguglin was in Washington at the hearing, but missed the photo. The Navigation Commissioners went to Washington seeking funds to deepen Rockport and Fulton harbors and channels.

Progress Seen for Federal Funds for Channel Deepening

Progress toward getting Congress to appropriate money for restoring designated depths for Rockport and Fulton harbors and their channels to Aransas Bay was reported by David Maguglin, chairman of Commissioners of Aransas County Navigation District, at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club May 26 at Sandollar Restaurant.

Following a hearing before the Subcommittee on Public Works of the House Appropriations Committee, the Subcommittee voted to recommend an appropriation of $170,000 to restore the harbors and channels to their designated depths.

Members of the local Navigation District board of commission appeared before both House and Senate committees April 6, presenting a statement outlining seriousness of the situation and explaining its adverse effect on the economy of this area. The Senate subcommittee is expected to act on the matter in the next week or two.

The local group asked for a $190,000 appropriation for the project, but the House subcommittee reduced this to $170,000 when it gave its approval. It is believed the reduction in total resulted from recommendations from the U.S. Corps of Engineers which has the responsibility for maintaining the harbors and channels.

In a recent conversation Hal B. McKnight, vice chairman of the Navigation district commissioners, explained that next step is for the Senate committee to approve the request and for both the House and the Senate to act on the matter. He said the local project was not included in the President's budget request for fiscal 1977, and special action by both the House and Senate is necessary to obtain funds for it.

He said he was greatly

City Sets June 7 for Meeting On 'Police Personnel' Matter

The City Council will hold its third open meeting on "police personnel" matters at 7 p.m. Monday, June 7 in the District Courtroom at Aransas County Courthouse.

The District Courtroom was selected to accommodate a larger crowd of spectators than the Council Chambers at the City Hall.

Mayor Walter S. Falk, Jr., this week announced tentative plans for the procedure that will be followed at the June 7 meeting.

"First," Falk said, "we expect to receive a report from City Attorney Dave Connery as to whether or not it would be legally possible for the city to offer Chief of Police James Craigmile a written contract for any period of time."

At the May 24 City Council meeting, Falk announced that he had received a petition with 1,201 signatures, praising Craigmile and his staff and requesting that the chief be given a two-year contract.

At that time both Falk and Connery stated that they doubted if a city the size of Rockport, operating under general law, had the legal authority to offer the chief of police or any other city employee a written contract. Connery was instructed to find out positively what the law was regarding this matter.

Regarding the June 7 meeting, Falk also said that Chief of Police Craigmile, Lt. Joe Hinojosa and Patrolman Ronnie Pina, the officers under investigation, will be present at the session, along with their attorney.

Falk also said that the city has received six communications regarding the officers, two complimentary and four of a derogatory nature.

In connection with the procedure to be followed at the meeting, Falk said the start of the session will be in the form of an open meeting.

"Then," he added, "members of the City Council, City Attorney Connery, the three police officers and their attorney will go into a closed executive session."

"At this session the six communications will be opened and reviewed. Following the review, the officers will be given the opportunity to state whether they want to have the rest of the procedure in the form of a closed session or an open meeting."

"The Council then will decide whether to proceed with the police personnel matter or drop the matter completely," Falk said.

Falk said there are three possible courses of action to be taken following the closed executive session. He said they are:

1. Drop the matter completely.
2. Turn the investigation over to a grand jury.
3. Set up a blue ribbon panel to consider all the facts and make a recommendation.

B&PW Installs New Officers

The Rockport Business and Professional Women's Club held its annual installation of officers dinner in the Colony Room at the Sandollar, May 24.

The new officers for the 1976-77 year are Mrs. Flo Griffith, president; Mrs. Tony Harden, first vice president; Mrs. Betty Abt, second vice president; Mrs. Joy Wheelless, recording secretary; Mrs. Grace Stanick, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Lena Jones, treasurer. The new officers were installed by Mrs. Bootsie Katzly, district director of George West.

The first award offered by the club to "The Woman of the Year" honored Mrs. Ruby Hart for her outstanding community service and her dedicated service to the club. The award was made by Mrs. Ola Dietz, chairman of the personal development committee.

encouraged by favorable action of the House committee and he was very hopeful that the Senate committee would follow its lead. The local group has had assurances from Congressman John Young, Senator Lloyd Bentsen and Senator John Tower that they will push the program.

The Rockport harbor and channel were dug under direction of U.S. Corps of Engineers to a depth of nine feet in 1941. The Fulton Harbor and channel with a depth of eight feet were completed in 1950. Since then a total of only $29,566 in federal funds has been spent maintaining the two harbors and their channels, according to Maguglin.

The statement presented to committees of the House and Senate reviewed the history of the local waterways and stressed the adverse economic impact on the Rockport-Fulton area of the poor condition of the harbors and channels.

In recent months it often has been virtually impossible for larger commercial and pleasure boats to navigate the channels and harbors because of shallow water. In a number of instances Gulf shrimp boats have been towed by shallow draft boats in order to enter or leave the harbors.

The statement for the committees explained that some two million dollars worth of shrimp was processed in Fulton harbor and more than three million dollars worth in Rockport harbor during 1975. Also cited was the handicaps imposed on operations of Rockport Yacht and Supply Co. by shallow water in channels and harbors. In addition, the unfavorable impact of these conditions on the local tourist business was emphasized.

Maguglin urged local civic organizations and interested individuals to write congressmen and senators urging favorable action on appropriation of money to restore the two harbors and their channels to navigable condition.

The Bicentennial celebration also offers a historical tour at 2 p.m. each day, a barbecue supper on Saturday evening, and varieties of food and drink sold by local organizations at Lions' Club Park.

The festival will feature work by well-known nature painter and sculptor Armando Hinojosa of Laredo; watercolorist Jon Birdsong of Amarillo; potter R.J. Delwaide of Arlington; and sculptors Dennis Silver-tooth and Ellsworth Handy of Corpus Christi. Gwen Branstetter of Refugio will show paintings on western themes. Other artists of wide interest include Buster Manley, Jim Benkendorfer, and Evelyn Bion of Corpus Christi, David Whitenton of Victoria, and Dolores Price of Kingsville.

Oils, acrylics, and watercolors; batik, macrame, needlework, and fiber hangings; and ceramic, silver, and bronze jewelry will be displayed. Pottery, rock-cutting, mounted and unmounted shells, and miscellaneous craftwork will fill other booths.

Fiesta Faela honors Refugio County's history of Spanish land grants and Irish impresarios by combining the Spanish word "fiesta" with the Irish "faela". Both words mean the same—a gala celebration. The event is sponsored by Refugio County Historical Society and the Fiesta Faela Association.

Shrimp Tagging Program Starts

A shrimp tagging program dubbed "Shrimp Migration '76" was initiated in the Corpus Christi Bay System on June 1. The shrimp study will be conducted jointly by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the Commerce Department's National Marine Fisheries Service, Central Power and Light Company, and Texas A&M University Marine Advisory Program.

The study which will deal primarily with brown shrimp will involve the tagging and releasing of as many shrimp as possible in the two week duration of the tagging operation. The tags being used consist of a pair of small green plastic discs fastened to the shrimp's body with a stainless steel pin. The primary release point for the tagged shrimp will be Cayo del Oso or the upper Laguna Madre. In either case shrimp migration through Corpus Christi Bay and into the Gulf will be monitored.

According to Dr. Charles Caillouet, Chief Division of Fisheries Resource Assessment, National Marine Fisheries Service, Gulf Coastal Fisheries Center, Galveston, Texas, data gathered from returned tagged shrimp will be used to determine shrimp migration through Corpus Christi Bay, into the Gulf of Mexico and along the Texas Gulf Coast.

Roy Johnson, biologist at the Seabrook Lab, is coordinating Texas Parks and Wildlife's role in the project. His plans are to tag and release brown shrimp in the vicinity of CP&L Barney Davis power generating station. Johnson feels the study will provide valuable information on brown shrimp migration within the Corpus Christi Bay

WINNERS OF THE BOOKMARK CONTEST held by the Aransas County Public Library pictured above are: Back row, Aaron Commander and David Edwards; front row, Jennifer Crawford, Rene Vega and Leopoldo Cruz. The winning bookmarks will be duplicated and used during the Summer Reading Program, "Movin' On . . . Then and Now," which begins June 4 and will last 10 weeks, ending on August 13th. Emphasis will be placed on reading 10 good books, one for each week of the program. The library will be open additional hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays for members of the reading club. Mrs. Mark Stalker will be in charge of a number of projects at this time to help the students become better acquainted with the library and learn to enjoy the uses of the library. The library hours for Tuesday and Thursday will be 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Prizes were awarded to each child participating in the contest. The library wished to thank the following for donating prizes: Johnson's Drug Store, United Savings, Panjo's, The Book Store and Dairy Queen.

System and their subsequent movement into the Gulf.

Ultimately the amount of information which is generated by this tagging project is based to a large degree on the cooperation provided by the shrimp industry. Anyone engaged in harvesting the shrimp resource is asked to be on the lookout for tagged shrimp. When a tagged shrimp is discovered, make note of the tag number, time of capture and place of capture. It is requested that the shrimp as well as the tag be given to contact personnel listed below.

Sportsman could also be helpful in this study by examining their catch to see if there is any evidence in the stomach contents of the fish to indicate it had been eating tagged shrimp.

Persons to be contacted to report capture of a tagged shrimp include:

Corpus Christi Area
--Dr. Russ Miget-Extension Marine Fisheries Specialist-265-9201
--Texas Parks and Wildlife Department-937-2931/882-6741 Aransas Pass - Rockport Area
--Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept.-729-2328
--National Marine Fisheries Service-758-3787
--Ralph Rayburn-County Extension Marine Agent-729-1211 Port Aransas Area
--National Marine Fisheries Service Laboratory-749-6251

Due to funding constraints no reward can be offered for returned shrimp; however, the knowledge obtained may prove to be "money in the bank".

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I have been trying to find a summer program for school age children in the way of swimming lessons, arts and crafts, macrame, or any other activity. So far it has been no luck. I am surprised that a town the size of Rockport has no summer programs to offer these young people. Seems as though everything is geared to the tourists and retired.

How about some programs in arts and crafts for this summer? Someone out there help the children that want this.

The summer track program is great but not all children are interested in sports. Rockport needs a variety of programs.

HONORED — James H. Sorenson, president of First National Bank, presents a government savings bond to Mrs. Ruby Mundine who retired last week as a member of the staff of the local bank.

Mrs. Mundine Is Retiring

After almost 25 years as a member of the staff of First National Bank, Mrs. Ruby Mundine has retired as of the end of May. A long-time teller at the local bank, she is known to hundreds, perhaps thousands of customers.

"The nicest people in the world come to my window, and I shall miss them a great deal", she said recently in discussing her impending retirement, adding that she has learned a lot about other parts of the country from her customers.

Mrs. Mundine joined the bank in 1951 when she became bookkeeper and note teller before taking over as a regular teller. She left the bank in 1971, but returned a little more than a year later.

Mrs. Mundine was born in Lee County where she completed public schools. Later she enrolled in professional courses sponsored by the American Institute of Banking. She also completed a college-level course in typing.

Her husband, Milton Mundine, is a water well contractor but he also plans to retire from active business soon. They have two daughters, Mrs. Jerome D. Wallace and Mrs. Will D. Authur, as well as two granddaughters and four grandsons.

Mrs. Mundine is a member of the First Baptist Church, and for many years was active in the church's Bible school. Also, she reports she was kept busy

JON NEWTON
Texas Railroad Commission

The Railroad Commission is one of the most powerful regulatory and conservation agencies in America. Two candidates are in the June 5th Democratic runoff election:

JERRY SADLER, 68, who entered politics in the 1930's, was defeated as Land Commissioner in 1970 after an official reprimand from the Texas House for refusal to cooperate in an investigation... bad absentee record in public office... investigated by a grand jury for using a state employee to run his private motel... sued for civil tax fraud by the IRS... in 1969 the Dallas Times Herald declared "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision," and in 1976 the San Angelo Standard echoed, "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

JON NEWTON, 34, three-term House member with solid record of public service... authored the law regulating strip mining... fought for a Public Utility Commission... serves on Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Mining Council of Texas, Governor's Energy Advisory Council, House Energy Resources Committee (vice chairman)... endorsed by major newspapers throughout Texas... described by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal as "the resident expert on energy matters in the State Legislature"... in the first Democratic primary his Bee County neighbors gave him an 85% majority over his seven opponents.

Texas' energy and utility rate problems can be solved only by vigorous, responsible leadership and fresh approaches.

A salute to Aransas County Public Library, to Mrs. Hamon, the librarian, to her dedicated volunteers, to County Commissioners Court which generously supports the library, to numerous individuals who give money, books and periodicals, and a "thank you" to those persons who present programs at the library of great interest to children.

A suggestion: avail yourself of some of the fine reading material that can be obtained at the library. Turn off your TV and let the reruns rerun without you in the audience.

Go to the library and pick out a good book. If you are undecided on what to select, check the "Best Seller" list published each week in the Pilot.

Don't be surprised if a particular favorite is "on loan" for the time being. Put your name on the waiting list and you'll soon get a call. While waiting, there are hundreds of other books from which to select a good one.

Mrs. K and I recently decided to stop watching TV, at least for a while. Being fans of mystery writer Agatha Christie, who died a short time ago, we put our names in for her last book, the best selling "Cur-tain."

Within a few days we received a call that the book was available so we got it. I can recommend it highly. As usual, the suspense is terrific and I guarantee that you definitely will not figure out "Who done it" until you finish the book.

G.I. BILL BENEFITS

GI Bill benefits were more popular among armed forces veterans of the peacetime period between 1955 and 1964 than they were among Korean Conflict veterans, according to Veterans Administration statistics.

This is despite the fact that some trainees had been out of service as much as 11 years when the current GI Bill became available in 1966.

About 44 per cent of the 3.1 million peacetime veterans of the Post-Korean Conflict period will have received some form of educational training under the GI Bill when their eligibility terminates May 31, Paul F. Barnett, Acting Director, Houston VA Regional Office, reported. About 347,000 of the group are in training today, some 20 years after their eligibility period started.

The current GI Bill, designed primarily as a wartime benefit for veterans of the Vietnam Era, extended benefits also to those who had served after January 31, 1955.

Enacted June, 1966, the Bill and its later amendments set a 10-year period after June 1966 during which those discharged earlier could use the benefits.

Ten years after the date of discharge was made the limit for those discharged after June 1966, Barnett explained. The retroactive eligibility for some 600,000 who left military services during the first 22 months of the Vietnam Era also expires May 31.

Barnett also reported that only 43.4 per cent of the Korean Conflict eligibles took advantage of the program during its 13-year life.

That rate of participation was lower than the World War II rate when 50.5 per cent of the veterans took some form of GI Bill training during the program's 12-year life.

Vietnam Era veterans have set an all-time high of 62 per cent participation. During fiscal year 1975, the training peaked with 2.7 million participants to bring to 4.9 million the number of Vietnam Era veterans who have enrolled in some form of training under the current GI Bill.

The monthly allowance for full time GI Bill students is $270. Those with one dependent receive $321 monthly, $366 with two dependents, and the amount increases $22 with each additional dependent.

The Lusitania

On May 7th, 1915, the Cunard ocean liner "Lusitania" was torpedoed by a German submarine off the coast of Ireland, bound for Liverpool from New York. The reaction in America had much to do with this country's entry into the war, against Germany, two years later.

Though the German Government took out a newspaper advertisement in many U.S. papers warning Americans not to travel on ships bound for England, these were widely disregarded. Eleven hundred and fifty people perished in the sinking.

Such sinkings were commonplace by American and other submarines in World War II, but at that stage in history such a sinking shocked public opinion.

Parker Supports Dean Neugent

(From a news release by Dr. James Parker)

LA MARQUE- Dr. James Parker said this week he will support Dean Neugent in the race against incumbent A. R. Schwartz for state senator of the 17th district in the June 5 runoff election.

"I am asking all those who worked so hard for me to give their support and votes to Mr. Neugent," Dr. Parker said.

Dr. Parker ran third in the first Democratic Primary May 1, but polled enough votes to make a second primary necessary.

"I have spent considerable time and money researching the background of both candidates in the primary," Dr. Parker said, "and I am firmly convinced that Dean Neugent is the man for the job.

"The things Mr. Neugent is for are the same things I was for in my campaign and the same things I still feel are important to our state," the doctor said.

He mentioned specifically Neugent's stand against increased government controls, his desire for legislative reform and his strong endorsement of a program to control crime.

"Mr. Neugent is also against gun control and against land use legislation. He is for economy in government," Dr. Parker said.

"Most important," he added, "I believe Mr. Neugent to be a man of integrity and the type of man we need in government."

"Even Schwartz, in his advertising, has said he respects Mr. Neugent as an individual," the doctor pointed out.

"Dean Neugent owes no allegiance to any special interest groups. His entire campaign has been financed with his own money and contributions from individual citizens," Dr. Parker said.

"On the other hand Schwartz has the backing of a wide range of special interest groups.

"After 16 years," Dr. Parker concluded, "I think it's time for a change in the office of state senator for the 17th district. I believe Dean Neugent is the man who can help return government to the people."

New Product Approved for Gulf Coast Ear Tick Control

A new weapon has just been approved to help livestock owners battle the costly Gulf coast ear tick, which along with screwworms are developing into a major seasonal threat for South Texas cattlemen.

County Extension Agent D.P. Pawlik says that the Y-Tex Corporation of Cody, Wyoming, has received a Texas permit to market a PVC-pesticide impregnated ear band which has been designated as the Tick Tamer.

"This band was developed by research entomologists at Oklahoma State University and is the first example of the PVC-pesticide impregnated tick control technique," Pawlik says. The manufacturer has indicated that the product will soon be available to ranchers on a retail basis.

The county Extension agent said that due to the need to establish new tick control techniques, researchers with the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, in cooperation with scientists of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and entomologists with the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station, have been evaluating the potential of pesticide impregnated PVC plastic devices for the control of the costly Gulf coast tick.

The agent explained that Dr. Michael McWhorter and Jimmy Deer, entomologists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, M.A. Price of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Dr. Bill Gladney, USDA-ARS reported research results last season that indicated PVC ear tags or bands impregnated with various insecticides provided seasonal Gulf Coast tick control.

"The development of this technique appears to be a major breakthrough for parasite control," Pawlik says.

The next step is to determine how many producers are interested in obtaining the ear bands. Persons interested in obtaining more information about the bands should contact the local Extension office.

The county Extension agent points out that the Gulf Coast ear tick has become a major predisposing factor for screwworm cases in South Texas cattle. The 1975 statistics indicate that at least 87 Texas counties have reported ear tick infestations, and these counties contain about 5.75 million cattle valued at $747.5 million. Several individual counties indicate approximately 80 per cent of all screwworm cases occur in ear wounds caused by the Gulf Coast tick on cattle. "Labor, pesticides, equipment, and losses in animal weight and animal value due to deformed or 'Gotched' ears have resulted in millions of dollars being drained away from the cattle industry in Texas. While conventional insecticide applications are effective in controlling the Gulf Coast tick-screwworm complex, little residual protection is provided and subsequent retreatment—often at two-week intervals—is necessary.

"Failure to treat animals during times of intense Gulf Coast tick-screwworm activity results in numerous screwworm reservoirs that produce fertile screwworm flies capable of extending the screwworm infestation hundreds of miles beyond the known Gulf Coast tick infestation area," McWhorter and Deer emphasize.

Successful screwworm control, notes Pawlik, requires the continued release of sterile screwworm flies, effective control of such predisposing factors as the Gulf Coast tick and animal breeding programs, surveillance, and wise use of pesticides when needed.

Heart Ass'n. Meets June 8

The Aransas County Division of the American Heart Association will meet on Tuesday, June 8, at the Live Oak State Bank, at 1:30 p.m.

The County Division is a part of the Texas Affiliate, American Heart Association, Council VI, Region Eleven. All of these divisions and sub-divisions suggest a complex organization, but they are the result of careful planning toward a solution of a grave problem - cardiovascular disease, the leading cause of death in Texas and elsewhere in our country.

The Aransas County Division is working to do its share. All interested citizens are urged to attend the meetings and to bring their questions and suggestions.

Our regional headquarters is in Corpus Christi and a regional dinner meeting was held in late May at the Hilton Inn on Corn Products Road. Representatives from all divisions were invited and Kingsville, Beeville and Portland members were there, as well as eight from our area. Valuable information was made available and group discussions proved stimulating.

The president, Mrs. Gene Garcia from Aransas County Division, led the local group which included Col. and Mrs. George Dawley, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Elder, Mrs. Corinne Homberg, Mrs. Esther Decker, and Mrs. Maurice Cochran.

NEMATODES DAMAGE GARDEN PLANTS

About 25 per cent of all home gardens are infested with plant parasitic nematodes, and the tiny microscopic pests can do a lot of damage, points out D.P. Pawlik, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The root knot nematode is the most important. It feeds on plant roots and causes plants to be stunted, chlorotic and poor producers. In severe cases they can even kill plants.

Since, nematodes require soil moisture to survive and move around, it is possible to dry the soil down in late summer to reduce nematode infestations. However, this will not completely eliminate the problem but will give a short term reduction.

Gardens infested with root knot nematodes, even though they are fumigated, should be supplied with additional potassium and calcium. This will help overcome some of that which would be tied up in the gall tissue on roots caused by nematode feeding.

Where nematodes are a problem, soil fumigation will be required if a garden is to be grown successfully. To determine if nematodes are present, Pawlik suggests sending a soil sample to the Plant Nematode Detection Laboratory at Texas A&M University. There is a $2.00 charge for this service but it is well worth the investment. Information sheets and bags for submitting the soil samples are available at the county Extension office.

SALTWATER SPORT FISHING SEMINAR

A saltwater sport fishing seminar will be held on Thursday evening, June 3, at 7:30 P.M. in the Port Aransas Community Center. The program is jointly sponsored by the Aransas /San Patricio Marine Advisory Committee, the Port Aransas Boatman, Inc., and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The program will begin with brief presentations by representatives from local, state and federal agencies regarding their sport fishing research activities. A panel of experts from the Port Aransas Boatman, Inc. will then give an overview of fishing techniques, gear, bait, related to fishing anywhere from the bays to the bluewater. Following a question and answer period the seminar will conclude with an excellent film on artificial reef ecology. The three hour program is free and open to the public.

For further information contact Russell Miget, area marine fisheries specialist, Texas A&M Research and Extension Center, Corpus Christi, 265-9201, or Ralph Rayburn, County Extension Marine Agent, Aransas County Courthouse, 729-1211.

IS IT TIME FOR A CHANGE??

Negotiations are now underway between City of Rockport, Aransas County and State Hwy. Dept. for an improvement to a heavily traveled City road. Change??

Drainage improvement on Hwy. 35 North resulted from past negotiations by the same units of government. Change??

What has become of the idea that everyone should be temperate in everything.

Nursing Home News May 24-30

The activities at the Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center were as usual very busy and entertaining.

Monday afternoon, the ladies from the First United Methodist Church of Rockport came over and presented a taped "Sermon" of Rev. Tom McClung.

They sang hymns with our residents and had a nice program. This program was sponsored by the Council of Ministries of their church. We had our exercise classes each morning.

Tuesday evening was movie night, with our own Belinda serving hot popcorn to those attending. The movie was "Great Radio Comedians".

Wednesday morning preceding our class of exercises, Bonnie was out to conduct our paint class which so many enjoy.

Wednesday afternoon was the WMU ladies of the First Baptist Church of Aransas Pass day to come out to celebrate the May birthday people. They served refreshments and presented each honoree with a gift. After the party was over, they had their game day.

Then, Wednesday evening, the Aransas Pass Chapter of LUAC's #630 were out for their monthly game nite which all of those who enjoy games look forward to their coming.

Thursday afternoon the ladies along with their pastor Rev. Gall from Aransas Pass First Assembly of God Church came to celebrate the birthdays of our May honorees. They sang hymns with our people and then special numbers were sung and our own Kathy Bartoo gave some scripture she had worked on. We are always very proud when one of our own residents take part in the programs. After the program, they presented each honoree with a present.

Thursday evening, it was time for Dora Rodriguez and Penny Gonzalez to come out to have their Bible Study.

Friday afternoon Mass was celebrated for our Catholic residents by Father James Hamilton and his helpers.

Saturday afternoon Pat and Al, "The Musical Pals" played for our residents.

Saturday evening I had the pleasure of taking Mrs. Irma Owens, Josephine Barber, Estelle Howe, Mr. Pat Baker and his guests Elwood and Mabel Reddopp from Juneau, Alaska over to Portland to see "Ann's School of Dance" of which my granddaughter, Ann Morrison was one of the performers.

Mrs. Palte had reserved seats for us and after the recital Mrs. Pat came down and met each one of my people. Everyone really enjoyed themselves and I hope to be able to take more next year.

Sunday morning Church Services were held by Rev. Al Bankert whom we do love very much. He comes each Friday and visits and then is here each Sunday morning to lead non-denominational services.

For our residents I want to thank Mrs. Vernelle Porter the daughter of Mrs. Flosie Schaper, for requesting that anyone wanting to give floral remembrances for her mother that they be given in the form of a living memorial to my social activities fund of the nursing center. Thank you so much, Vernelle and to all of you who sent memorials.

Also, may I say thanks to Virginia Bufkins for the beautiful corsages she brought out to the Center. Thanks go to our own Mary Thornton for the very pretty decorations she gave us.

Now as I finally come to the end of another wonderful month at our home, may I say thanks to any one who participated in making our Home a wonderful place in which to live and to us who work here as well. We do truly love and appreciate all you do.

SENIOR CITIZEN DANCE

The next monthly regular dance for the senior citizens will be on Thursday, June 10th, starting at 7 P.M. It will be in the same place, Recreational Building on Airport Road, and Gene Rickles will again be present with his music. Refreshments will be served and a good time is planned, so mark you calendar. 50 cents per person.

MESSAGE TO THE CITIZENS OF ARANSAS COUNTY

It should be regarded as a serious error in judgment when people are willing to cast sympathy votes for an incumbent "public official" on the sole basis of his continuing in the County's retirement program. Certainly, no one begrudges any person his earned retirement but this should not be weighed in our ballot decisions. The right choices must be made for healthy and efficient government to operate. The question is: Do we want a man in the public position of County Commissioner managing our County dollars when he has failed to manage his own personal finances? I refer to his statement that he cannot live on the $94.00 the retirement plan would pay—has he really let this happen to himself!

This article alludes to the present County Commissioner of Precinct 3, who I believe has lost sight of the best interests of his constituents. I draw your attention to the fact that needed road work which has gone undone has recently been worked crash-program style. No doubt, this scheme was designed to get votes at a high cost to the citizens. County equipment was sighted during over-time hours operating full speed ahead. Haphazard work of this obvious nature, no doubt, will last only a short time and will probably have to be redone—more wasted dollars!

Finally, while making a grand showing of equipment and men in action, the Commissioner neglected the County Dump which went beyond the overflowing point—garbage had to be burned and an outside private company was called in to remove the refuse—Again, more waste of OUR dollars!

If it is against the law to use County equipment on private property, why has the County Commissioner personally operated county equipment on private property?

All this has transpired in one short week; the Commissioner has held office for eleven years.

I, for one, am quite skeptical of this catch-up game being played at our expense and do not consider myself foolish enough to ever cast a sympathy vote.

G.I. Insurance

The Veterans Administration and major veterans organizations have launched a joint effort to stamp out a hoax that has disappointed millions of veterans since it began in 1948.

A.A. Hunter, Houston VA Regional Director, said that VA is receiving thousands of telephone calls and letters weekly from World War II veterans who have been deceived into expecting dividends on GI insurance they allowed to lapse years ago.

He added that the hoax has been recurring irregularly since 1948, and with each wave of letters it stimulates, VA explains to each applicant that dividends are payable only on policies that are kept in force. But the hoax is fueled anew every few years by the mysterious distribution of official-looking application forms complete with an address where dividends are said to be available for the asking. The bogus application alleges that dividends are payable even though premiums haven't been paid since 1945.

Hunter theorizes that the rumor may have its roots in a special dividend paid in 1950 and 1951. All payments on that program were ended in 1970 by a Congressional act stipulating "No claim by an insured for payment in case of a special dividend declared prior to Jan. 1, 1952, shall be processed by the VA, unless such claim was recorded within six years after such dividend was declared."

FATHERS VITAL IN CHILDREARING

Father's Day celebrates the role fathers play in parenting—but often some fathers are reluctant to take an active part in childrearing.

education specialist, offered some "rules of thumb" to guide fathers in their vital role.

--Show sympathetic understanding of a child's inner feelings and thought—put yourself in the child's position in viewing the world.

--Learn to expect and live with a child's irrationality—it's his way of experiencing and learning.

--Alter a behavioral act that does not please you unless it is normal behavior for children at that age and stage of life.

--Love your children and be free to express your love. Children (and parents) thrive on it.

--Learn about children, their needs, their behavioral patterns and personalities. You will raise a mature, independent, loving child.

This specialist is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Roles of parents are changing, but parenting is one of the few life skills that must be totally learned. Parents—regardless of their sex—are not born with an inner knowledge of how to raise a child.

"Parenting education offered by school and community education will become more necessary than ever before as father's role in active childrearing becomes more valued," she noted.

ing becomes more valued," she noted.

Father's Day is an American holiday held the third Sunday in June. Married fathers, divorced fathers, step-fathers and father-substitutes will be honored on June 20 this year. And it's an important person who bears the title of father, making Father's Day a fitting tribute to him, the specialist said.

Exercise & Eat

To enjoy fine food is an acquired taste which brings much appreciation and pleasure in a lifetime. The problem is, of course, that too much fine food is fattening for most.

The long sought answer, then, for those who appreciate excellent cuisine has been to find a way to enjoy the best and not gain weight.

The best solution for most people is still what it has been for hundreds of years—regular, vigorous exercise. That is not to say that one should not watch calories and lower fat intake. To do so is to take advantage wisely of modern medical knowledge. Doing this, and exercising regularly, most people can dine royally at least once a day.

"Ode To Billy Joe," a motion picture of young love on the Mississippi Delta in which the long-held secrets of the Tallahatchie Bridge are finally laid bare, will open on Thursday at the Rialto Theatre.

The story of Billy Joe McAllister, the boy who jumped off the Tallahatchie Bridge, was first told in the song hit by Bobbie Gentry nine years ago.

The continuing mystery of the muddy waters that brought an end to Billy Joe's romance with Bobbie Lee Hartley is now illuminated in a touching and astonishing motion picture.

Permission to film the narrative behind her haunting ballad was granted by Miss Gentry to Max Baer, the young film-maker who took a Hollywood crew to the heart of the Delta to bring life to a legend on the spot where it happened. The film is a Warner Bros. release.

The young stars of the picture are Robby Benson and Glynnis

O'Connor who play the teenagers whose turbulent love affair is a source of tenderness and humor until the disaster at the Tallahatchie. Featured performers include Sandy McPeak and Joan Hotchkins. The script is by Herman Raucher, author of the successful film, "Summer of '42."

Miss Gentry, who has won fame as a nightclub and TV entertainer as well as a recording artist, has re-recorded "Ode To Billy Joe" for the sound track of the film. It is also available in a new Warner Records single.

A special paperback book edition of "Ode To Billy Joe," as novelized by Herman Raucher, has just been published.

Max Baer and Roger Camras produced the film with Baer also directing.

by

The much maligned javelina, "brush pig", or collared peccory of South and West Texas is really not a pig at all. You might say that he is the New World version of the hog. He occurs only in North and Central America and does not belong to the same family as the swine of Europe and Asia.

All the domestic hogs are descendants of the wild hogs such as the European boars which have been imported into this country and released as game animals. Because of this there are very few of the pure strain of wild boars left in Texas. They cross very readily with feral domestic hogs and, in a few generations, the offspring revert to the appearance of the wild boars. Individuals that show traces of their domestic ancestry are not uncommon, however.

Javelinas have very small, almost dainty, feet. The front feet have four toes but the hind feet have only three (outer dew claw absent). Their canine tusks are relatively short, very sharp and almost straight. They have a rather large musk gland on the rump.

True hogs have four toes on all four of their rather large feet. They have four tusks, two in each jaw, and the bottom ones grow upward and outward. By coming into contact with the upper tusks when the mouth is closed these lower tusks remain sharp at the tip. They never quit growing, so older boars may have very long, dangerous tusks.

These wild boars, or domestic crosses, may grow to weigh well over 400 pounds as compared to the maximum weight of the javelina of 50 pounds.

Parks and Wildlife biologists find that the primary food of the javelina is prickly pear and other cacti. They also eat mesquite beans, sotol, lechuguilla and other succulent vegetation. When they have plenty of prickly pear to feed on they seem to get all the water they need from the cactus and don't need to frequent water holes.

The wild hogs are omnivorous feeders. They will eat fungi, leaves, fruit, roots, bulbs, tubers, snails, earthworms, reptiles, young birds, rats, mice, eggs and carrion. They can do a great deal of damage to domestic crops. These wild hogs are particularly destructive in sheep and goat country. During lambing and kidding time they kill and eat the young sheep and goats. They do most of their prowling at night and they are often solitary animals. Because of this many hunters never see them and rarely kill them. More should be killed because they are very destructive to both livestock, crops and wildlife. Javelina, too, will destroy domestic crop, but they are nothing like as destructive as feral hogs.

Young javelina, especially females, are fine eating, but when they get old their meat seems to be contaminated by the musk gland on their rump. The meat then is very "strong." Most people agree that the meat of the young feral hogs is just about the finest table fare there is. Not greasy like most pork it is excellent, especially when barbecued.

The javelina is getting more popular as a game animal all the time and the feral hog, although not legally classed as a game species, does make good hunting and can be hunted the year round.

Tennis Ass'n Holds Session

As an indication of its interest in youthful tennis players, Rockport Tennis Association has expanded its upcoming third annual Summer Fun Mixed Doubles tennis tournament to include junior players, it was decided at a meeting of the association's board of directors May 24.

It was pointed out that the tournament is a Fred Whittle memorial event and the late Colonel Whittle devoted much of his time during the last years of his life to promoting tennis among junior players.

Present plans are for the tournament to be expanded to four days, July 29 to Aug. 1, with the first two days devoted to junior competition. Adults will play Saturday and Sunday, July 31 and Aug. 1, with finals matches for both juniors and adults being played the final day at Key Allegro Tennis Club courts. It is expected that most of the local courts will be required for the tournament which traditionally attracts a large entry list.

It was reported that the $800 deficit incurred during the Spring Men's Senior Classic tennis tournament in April has been liquidated by gifts from individual and business firms. It was explained that the deficit resulted from unusually heavy expenses incurred when the association sponsored its first sanctioned tournament. This tournament attracted players from many Texas communities and from neighboring states.

Contributors included Dewey Lingo, Jim White, Dr. Jim

Widemen, First National Bank, Rockport Yacht and Supply, Live Oak State Bank, Rockport Racquet Club, Ted R. Little and Sons, Bracht Lumber Co., Sea Gun Resort, Everett Lawley, Hugenberg Insurance and Dave Crooks.

Betsy Larrey was elected a director of the association replacing Roy Hicks who had resigned.

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN MEET

United Methodist Women met May 25th. Mrs. Lawrence Odell greeted nine guests and 28 members. Members signed the membership book and received new membership cards.

Mrs. John Leslie, vice president presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. John Hancock. The minutes were read and corrected. Correspondence included five thank you cards, a letter from Southwest Texas Conference announcing the School of Christian Mission and a letter from Wesley Community Center in Robstown.

Cluster reports showed visits to shut-ins, Bible study, sewing for nursing home residents, acts of joy for local residents and furnishing some needs for the juvenile shelter.

Mrs. Roy Burke requested that items for the Castaways be brought to her home until other storage arrangements can be made.

It was announced that a meeting for organization of Church Women United will be held July 14th. Mrs. George McCague and Mrs. J. Milton Sorem were elected as delegates to represent the First United Methodist Church.

Recommendations were made and accepted for a gift of $25.00 to be sent to Mr. B.B. Cofield, Monrovia, Liberia for christian work in appreciation of Mrs. Doty and Mrs. Potter's program and money for ten blankets to be sent to CROP.

Mrs. Lee Roy Young requested that all women become involved in Church Bible School to make this a real celebration.

Mrs. W.M. Mueche, chairperson for the Harvest Festival announced that November 3rd is the date and the festival will include a Sidewalk Cafe, Kitchen Boutique, Herb Garden and Yum Yum Tree.

Mrs. Tom McClung was presented a corsage and gift as an expression of love.

Mrs. Jack Heffel, in behalf of the membership, presented to Mrs. Roy Burke a Special Membership pin and certificate in recognition of her outstanding service to the church and community. She was also given a long-stemmed red rose.

Mrs. Jerry Brueggeman began the program with a devotional and hymn. Mrs. John Leslie introduced Lee Wideman from Chamber of Commerce, Dorthea Montgomery from Castaways, Bessie Glass from A.A.R.P. and Clyda Milks from Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Ind. This panel presented the history, growth and present activities of their organizations. Each of us became aware of the services to our community residents and tourists and areas where we could help them serve better.

Members of the Gleaners Cluster were responsible for tables decorated with lovely spring flower arrangements and serving the covered dish luncheon.

Mrs. Roy Burke prayed the blessing. Food and fellowship were enjoyed by all.

Members of U.M.W. have scheduled a field trip to Wesley Community Center in Robstown for June 22.

VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Roy, Eagle Pass, Texas, and formerly of Rockport, were in Rockport visiting relatives last week.

Near

Election year is when the nearest thing to the jawbone of an ass may be a microphone.

TOP GRADES

Kingsville -- Five hundred Eighty-four students have made either the Dean's List or the Honor Roll for the spring semester at Texas A&I University in Kingsville.

Dr. Mario A. Benitez, vice president for academic affairs, announced that 201 made the Dean's List, 383 the Honor Roll.

To attain the Dean's List, a student must compile a grade point average of 3.65 (4.0 scale) for all work for a semester, with a minimum of 15 semester hours completed. Honor Roll requirements include a 3.5 average, with a minimum of 12 semester hours completed.

Only undergraduate students are eligible.

Represented are 106 Texas towns, 11 other states and 12 foreign nations. Included are Alabama, California, Illinois, Missouri, Montana, New Mexico, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Utah as well as Burma, Canada, El Salvador, England, Hong Kong, India, Iran, Macau, Mexico, Thailand, Venezuela and Vietnam.

Those from Rockport were: Dean's List, Mary Ann Hutchins and Robert Lee Little; Honor Roll, Stephen B. Harry and Mary Louisa McDavid.

At the end of this happy life, the man with the most money will find it means very little.

Mamas Win First Half

The Rockport Mamas have won the first half in the Corpus Christi's Women's Softball league with a very impressive seven wins and one tie. This means the Mamas are number one in their division and will have that distinction in the playoffs at the end of league play.

There will be a playoff at that time among the division champions to determine the Class B champions.

The Rockport Mamas pledge to their sponsors and the City of Rockport they will do their very best to bring the championship home.

The manager and assistant manager are very proud of this team and in recognition of their accomplishments would like to introduce again the 1976 Rockport Mamas:

Wanda James, Margie Bush, Shirley Rice, Mary Echols, Naomi Cole, Fay Lewis, Frieda Herron, Susan Hartzell, Judy Phelps, Jerry Larimore, Anita Dingenary, Cathy Forrest, Tamie Bush, Jo Pry, Squeaky Luce, Betty Brooks and Shirley Hubbell.

Our sincere appreciation is extended to the following sponsors: the primary sponsor, Casterline Fish Co. and S&R Electrical Service, Kline's Cafe and a generous donation by Gene and Marsha Carter.

The Mamas took fourth place in the recent Sea Gun Tournament and started the second half by remaing undefeated by virtue of a 13 to 4 win over the Aransas Pass Whippersnappers.

SURPRISE LUNCHEON

An impromptu, surprise luncheon was held by the Rockport Home and Garden Club May 27 in the Sandollar's Waterfall Room honoring Mrs. Tom O. McClung who is moving to Port Lavaca where Rev. McClung has been appointed to serve the United Methodist Church.

Mrs. McClung, a charter member of the Club organized in 1972, an enthusiastic, dependable worker who held many offices and won many honors in club work, will be greatly missed by the club.

Beautiful yard-grown white, red and lavender gladioli were placed on the tables by Mrs. Clifford Zeisler.

Mrs. B.F. Street, a past president of the club, officiated at the table recognizing guest and charter members.

Among the quickly notified and gathered group of 14 were 10 charter members and one former member, Mrs. W.W. Stubbs, Corpus Christi, who founded, organized and was the first president of the Rockport Home and Garden Club.

On behalf of all members of the Club warm wishes and best regards, mingled with "We will miss you," were extended to Mrs. McClung and her family.

LAMAR WOMAN' CLUB

The Lamar Woman's Club enjoyed the annual family night party aboard the Whooping Crane on May 25.

While on the ride a most delicious fried chicken dinner plus all the trimmings was enjoyed by 48 adults and 6 children.

Special thanks to Mrs. G.B. Williams, chairman, and her committee.

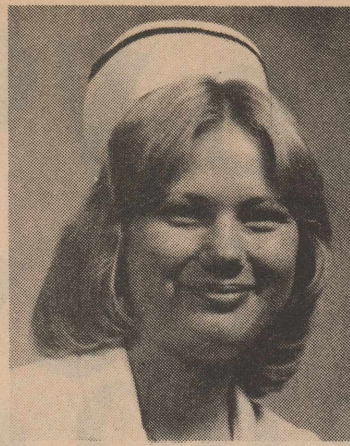

RECEIVE DEGREES

A total of 224 students received degrees or certificates from Bee County College during the spring Commencement Exercises held in the gymnasium May 14.

Dr. Richard C. Potts, Associate Dean of Instruction for the College of Agriculture at Texas A&M University, spoke to the graduation candidates, parents and friends.

Associate of Arts degrees (A.A.) and Associate of Science degrees (A.S.) were awarded to Academic students. Occupational students received Associate of Applied Science degrees (A.A.S.) and certificates of Achievement (Cert.) in their respective fields of study.

Among 1976 graduates from Rockport were Donald M. Gage, A.A.S. in Mid-Management and Deborah Hawes, A.A.S. in Secretarial Science.

elect CARL DALLY Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals

"Carl Dally has been a commissioner-in-aid to the court of criminal appeals for half a decade. He has argued before the U.S. Supreme Court and has had extensive experience in both the criminal and civil branches of the law. His opponent is a man with no judicial or appellate experience in criminal cases. We urge Texas Democrats eligible to vote in the June 5 runoff to inform themselves of the qualifications of the candidates in this and all races. We urge them not to vote for a vaguely familiar name, but to vote for the best man. In the case of the runoff for the criminal appeals court, the best candidate is clearly Carl Dally."

AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls Carl Dally "eminently qualified" and the Houston Chronicle says he is "uniquely suited" to serve on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Dally is also endorsed by newspapers in Dallas, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, San Angelo, Tyler, Bryan, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Victoria and Wichita Falls.

Ask your lawyer, your district attorney, any judge, or informed friend about the candidates in this important race. Then vote for the best man.

WE AGREE that our State Senator A. R. "Babe" Schwartz is one of the best!

In 1973, Texas Monthly magazine chose SCHWARTZ as one of the "Ten Best Legislators", and said:

".... One of the most consistently influential members...."

".... has almost singlehandedly saved the Gulf Coast beaches from commercial exploitation...."

".... he is expert in floor debate, repartee and filibusters.... even stronger in committee, especially conference committees...."

In 1975, Texas Monthly magazine AGAIN chose SCHWARTZ as one of the "Ten Best Legislators", and said:

".... the best technician in either House, an expert on everything from the rules to appropriations. Has no equal at passing bills...."

".... a dominant force, as usual, on the Senate Finance Committee and the Appropriations Conference Committee...."

Senator Schwartz kept his promise to provide an Insurance Pool at standard rates for our area. He is now working to solve the mobile-home insurance problem.

As Chairman of the Texas Coastal and Marine Council and the National Coastal States Organization, he works for the economic growth and progress of the Gulf Coast in marine affairs and its recreational potential. A liberty ship artificial fishing reef is now located off Aransas Pass by action of the Council. He is a strong advocate of offshore oil and gas development on State and Federal leases.

WE ARE PROUD of his work as a State Senator for our District and our State. We invite you to join us in our support for his re-election.
