NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Ethel earned more money than any other horse in turf history, can D. Jacobs' Stymie, which has a finish his winter vacation down in Virginia with the record safe for the time being.

The big seven-year-old Chestnut's all-time earnings record of $516,060 is beyond the reach of any thoroughbred now in training. For a time it looked as if Calumet Farm's Armed, second high in the money-winning race, might pass Stymie during the winter campaign in Florida.

But with Armed sidelined temporarily and King Ranch's Assault permanently following their poor showings in the Widener at Hialeah Saturday, Stymie has no immediate worries.

Armed's total in the money chase is $773,700 followed by Assault with $626,620.

Assault, the 1946 triple crown winner, came to the end of his racing days Saturday. Twice the leading money winner in his battle last season, with Stymie and Armed, Assault injured an ankle in the Widener and has been retired to stud at the age of five.

take a rest after finishing fourth. The seven-year-old Armed will in the Widener, just ahead of Assault. Trainer Jimmy Jones says the great gelding can go on carrying 130 pounds his and Assault's weight for the Widener.

The other seven in the top 10 all-time cash collectors in order are Whirlaway, Seabiscuit, First Fiddle, Sun Beau, Pavot, Gallorette, and Alsab. Only W. L. Brann's Gallorette, with earnings of $351,365, is still racing.

Wagner Preparing For 37th Year in National League

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Honus Wagner, the man who couldn't quit baseball, celebrated his 74th birthday today by carving a 10-pound turkey and preparing for his 37th year in the National League.

Close friends of one of the game's greatest shortstops joined him in feasting on the big fowl presented by a Wagner admirer of 50 years standing at millionaire Mike Bendis.

Then the "Flying Dutchman" who batted an average of .329 over 21 big league years, finished packing his luggage for a trip to the Hollywood, Calif., training grounds of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Sam Baroudi went into the ring against Ezzard Charles in Chicago with a remarkable record. The 29-year-old Akron, Ohio, light heavyweight had never been knocked off his feet. But Charles, a middleweight veteran, outclassed the youngster, pounded him severely, and knocked him out in the 10th round. Baroudi never regained consciousness and died of a brain hemorrhage.

Willie Pep, one of the busiest boxing champions on the list, apparently isn't going to run out of opposition soon. Only yesterday Manager Lou Viscusi received a wire from Father Collier of the Los Angeles Catholic youth organization making a date to discuss a possible title bout against Carlos Chavez with the CIO benefitting. Viscusi previously had a $35,000 offer for a Los Angeles fight. Elmer (Violent) Ray, who has been on the receiving end often enough that he ought to know a good fighter when he sees one, just shook his Oil Tanderberg work out yesterday and mumbled something about an amateur. Sun worshipper Joe Duane, who spent most of his weekend here moaning because he didn't have this good hot weather when he took a Florida vacation last month, tried his throwing arm Sunday for the first time since he had some home chips removed last November. Joe reported it felt fine, but he didn't have to throw hard.

School Kids Probably Won't Worry too Much
FORT WORTH (AP)—The Texas State Teachers Association wants the $2,000,000 federal rural aid funds met, some way or another, B. B. Cobb, secretary-treasurer of the state organization, declared here yesterday.

If the deficit is not met, it means shorter terms for many Texas schools, or teachers working without pay for some time, Cobb pointed out.

County Superintendent Bob Stowe expressed the fear that unless the deficit were met, shorter terms for nearly all of Tarrant County's rural schools would result.

Three Texas Boxers Bow Out of Meel

CHICAGO (AP)—Three Texas fighters bowed out of the National Championship Golden Gloves tournament last night, but Fred Morales of Temple came through with a victory.

Leon Palacio, 118 pounds, defeated Joe Olmo, Memphis, in his first fight, but lost to Sam Fuseteri, Chicago, in a second bout.

Morales defeated Ephraim Granlerson, St. Louis, in the 112-pound class.

Leroy Vann, Memphis, defeated Bernard Smith, 126, and Napoleon Hodges, Denver, ousted George Easterling, 125.

Thirty-five knockouts were produced last night as the four lighter weight divisions—flyweight, bantamweight, featherweight and light weights—were trimmed to quarterfinal size for Wednesday night's wadup of the current three-night completion.

Another four and a half hours of slugging is scheduled in three rings tonight as approximately 120 bouts reduce the field of heavyweights, light heavies, middleweights, and welterweights to eight survivors in each class.

Finals of the tourney which pulled an original field of 304 fighters from 500 cities and towns in 31 states will be held at the Stadium March 5.

At that time, Chicago's Golden Glove squad will be selected to face New York's best in the inter-city tourney at Madison Square Garden March 22. The Chicago team also will meet Europe's champions here on April 13.

The heavyweight skirmishing tonight will test several standouts amateurs, topped by Willie Clements of Indianapolis, national A.A.U. champion, and James Motley of Omaha, Neb., AAU runner-up last year.

Willie Pep To Battle Sierra Tonite

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—The rather common belief that Willie Pep will be defending his featherweight title tonight against a whittled-down lightweight appears to be slightly incorrect.

Pep takes on Humberto Sierra of Cuba in a 15-round title bout at the Orange Bowl and Humberto will be defending his featherweight title tonight against a whittled-down lightweight appears to be slightly incorrect.

Sierra scaled only 125 1/2 pounds and the local boxing commission physician reported the rangy Cuban appeared to be in the finest condition he ever has attained.

What's more, Sierra's manager Tommy Detarra, argues that Humberto is a natural featherweight.

He weighed 129 1/2 when he fought Pep in a non-title bout at Hartford last summer. Tommy posted, "I don't know why some folks keep calling him big. He was strong for Pep at the weight and was coming on in the last two rounds. If that had been a 15 rounder I believe Sierra might have won."

At ten rounds, Sierra made a reasonably good showing. That, combined with a decision over Sandy Saddler, a leading contender, earned him a shot. He's the first Cuban to fight for a championship since the days of Kid Chocolate, about 20 years ago.

On the other hand, there's nothing in Sierra's record to stamp him as a formidable title contender or even as an interesting opponent for Pep. Winner of seven of his nine fights in this country, including the slightly disputed triumph over Saddler, the Cuban lost in his overweight match with Pep and to Nick Stato as the result of a cut eye.

Most of the support for Sierra—and odds favor Pep at 1 to 5—is based on his local performance. The fact that Willie never has been quite as good since he was seriously injured in a plane crash 14 months ago.

NYU Edges St. John's 59 to 54

By the Associated Press
New York University's unbroken victory string took a terrific bending at the hands of St. John's of Brooklyn last night—but it held.

NYU beat its inter-borough rival, 59 to 54, to remain the only unbeaten team in college basketball. The victory was no 18.

Elsewhere, leading Michigan and pursuing Wisconsin maintained their fast pace with victories in the Big Nine conference. In a couple of upsets, Yale topped Purdue, 63 to 53, and Colorado downed Missouri, 56 to 48, to sidetrack those teams' title bids in their respective conferences.

Michigan, leading the Big Nine, hurled a tough obstacle in beating Purdue, 48 to 35. It was the eighth victory in the league in ten starts.

But Wisconsin, no. 3 in the standings, won its seventh game in 11 starts, repelling Northwestern, 59 to 54.

Conquerors of leading Columbia last week, Princeton dropped from second to third place behind Cornell with a record of five wins and two defeats. Columbia has 6-1 and Cornell, 6-2.

Last place Colorado eliminated Missouri from a title chance in the Big Seven. The loss dropped Missouri to a 5-5 mark. Kansas state is leading with 6-2 while Oklahoma follows at 5-3.

Benefit Match for Family of Baroudi

CHICAGO (AP)—Promoter Jack Begun began making plans today to stage a benefit boxing match to bring financial security for the parents and sister of Sam Baroudi.

Baroudi, whose real name is Crandall, died early Saturday after being knocked out in the tenth and last round of his Chicago Stadium fight with Ezzard Charles.

Begun, co-promoter of the bout, said he and his firm would match Charles against "the best possible opponent" and donate "every penny of our profits" to the family of the dead 20-year-old Negro boxer.

American Women Underrate Style Says Frenchman

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

How does the middle-aged woman in America look to a Parisian dressmaker? Such a viewpoint may give an interesting insight into our habits of dress and suggest possible improvements.

During an interview I had with Pierre Balmain, famous Parisian couturier, whose extensive travels in this country have given him ample opportunity to observe us, he was induced to make these suggestions which ranged from eye-glasses to clothes.

Many American women, he observed, tend to value the quality of fabric over the importance of style in selecting clothes. We should remember, he suggests, that the impression of smartness a dress gives depends upon line as well as fabric.

The woman over 50 can command her share of attention by wearing clothes that emphasize gray hair and her quiet dignity, says Balmain. Asked what he considered a good choice of dress for her, Balmain said, "She is the best type of woman to wear the so-called afternoon dress. For her, I like black crepe softened with drapery. Black, however, should be relieved by 'sweet' colors. A hat, perhaps, in a soft pastel shade and a not too fussy style is charming with black. Rosy shades, candy colors and pale tints are especially flattering to gray-haired women, says Balmain.

As a parting observation, Balmain added that he noticed too many middle-aged women wearing glasses that pinch the nose. "Bolder, simpler frames such as the tortoise shell type which my mother wears look so much more youthful, I think, than the pince-nez," he said.

Even the simplest things—and telephoning is one of them—are easier and more satisfactory for the person who knows the best way to do them and then DOES them that way.

If you know the right answers to these four questions about using the telephone, you'll have a key to better telephone service.

Question: What is the best way to answer the telephone?

Answer: It's usually best to identify yourself at once. "Mr. Hopkins speaking" helps start things off right—especially if the caller may not recognize your voice. It's much better than "Hello."

Question: Can the person I'm calling hear me better if I talk loudly?

Answer: It's better to speak in a normal voice—clearly and distinctly—with your lips about a half inch from the transmitter.

Question: Can I get the operator's attention faster by "jiggling" the receiver hook up and down rapidly?

Answer: No! When you move the hook too fast, it often brings in no signal at all. Move it slowly for better results.

Question: When I'm talking on a party line, how do I know if another party wants to call?

Answer: You may hear him lift the receiver. If so, the neighborly thing to do is finish your conversation as soon as convenient so he can make his call.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

In a recent women's magazine, a man urges American women to take more of an interest in their husbands' careers, both for the sake of helping their husbands get ahead and of making the marriage itself more successful.

There's nothing wrong with the advice. Except it should have appeared in a man's magazine and been directed toward men.

For it is the man who decides whether or not he is going to take his wife into his confidence. It's a rare woman who doesn't want to know about a man's job. Most women at the beginning of their marriages are vitally interested in their husbands' jobs. They want to know what they do all day long. They would like to share their worries and triumphs.

TWO DAYTIME WORLDS

But, after being rebuffed a few times for showing their interest, they resign themselves to living in one daytime world and letting their men live in another.

Too many men, even today when women are generally as well educated as their husbands, think that a woman who stays at home all day long can't possibly understand what goes on in the world of business.

So they shut their wives out of their business lives. There is nothing the wives can do about it, except complain that "George never tells me anything."

No wife can identify herself with her husband's career, unless he wants her to. So it's really up to the men.

A government, under the right of eminent domain, can take private property after making compensation to the owner.

Mrs. Homer Bowers Is Brunch Honoree

Mrs. Homer Bowers was honored with a miscellaneous shower and a brunch in the home of Mrs. Roy Chisum Saturday morning.

Misses Virgie Denton, Jamie and Babs Eaton, Mesdames Roy Chisum and Joe Stephens were co-hostesses.

The tables were attractively arranged on maderia's cutwork table linens with crystal place settings. The color scheme was carried out in the dainty pink and blue fruit cups and tiny blue cradles filled with candy mints. The center pieces were miniature blue pottery musical cradles and played "Rock-a-bye Baby" throughout the brunch. Pink and blue sweet pastries completed the decorative arrangement. The honoree was presented with a corsage.

The guests were served chilled fruit cups, scrambled eggs and bacon strips, orange bran muffins, butter, jelly and coffee.

Names of guests were registered in an unusually original hand-painted guest book. Those participating in the shower were Mesdames Jarvis Johnson, F. E. Converse, W. A. Bennink, R. G. West, J. E. Hood, Kenneth Walters, Homer Craig, Inez Carter, Roy C. W. Bowers, Ray Salmon, Bruce Walters, Homer Anderson, Alta Stanard, Paul Bowers, Perry Galt, W. L. Epps and Misses Inez Clubb, Roy Riley, Florence Jones, Exa Faye Hutton, Ha Pool, Jamie Eaton, Babs Eaton, Eloise Lane, Virgie Denton, Permelia Scruggs and Thelma Davidson.

Carrie Nation, anti-saloon and anti-cigarette crusader, was known as "The lady with the hatchet."

Mrs. A. French Is Club Hostess

The Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. A. French Thursday for a demonstration on party cake decorating. The club collected was given in unison and Mrs. D. E. Bump led a guessing game on nicknames of famous persons.

Roll call was answered with suggestions for cake decorations.

Mrs. G. H. Anderson presided for the business in which reports of plans of standing committee chairmen were heard and adopted. Mrs. O. G. Smith gave the report of the committee appointed to revise the by-laws. Mrs. D. L. Lunsford was appointed to represent the club at the breakfast on Mar. 1, for the volunteers for the Red Cross drive. Mrs. Ora Wagner was elected as club representative to council as delegate to the District meeting of THDA. She also was elected secretary to fill the place of Mrs. E. B. Stueberg who resigned.

As finance chairman, Mrs. J. A. Grundy, became treasurer.

The program was led by Mrs. Ray Robertson. A basic 7-minute icing, thickened with powdered sugar, and tinted with yellow, pink and green was used. Each member present decorated an individual cake by pressing the colored icings through cones made of heavy paper into desired shapes of petals, leaves, etc.

It was said that a novel decoration to please the small children is to make different colored cake layers, cover with green icing, place green cocoon on top for grass, and add various colored candy eggs with a marshmallow rabbit or chicken.

Group pictures were made and refreshments of cherry pie and coffee were served to those mentioned above and to Mesdames J. C. Payne, H. H. Heiskell, N. B. Cude, and W. E. Hinton.

Mrs. Cheewing Is Hostess to Club

The Good Neighbor Club met with Mrs. O. L. Cheewing on Feb. 16. Mrs. Hubert Stone was in charge of the business. Two new members were welcomed into the club. The club voted to change the meeting day from Thursday to Monday.

Names were drawn for secret pairs. The afternoon was spent in sewing and fancy work.

Mrs. Stone was announced as the hostess for the next meeting. Refreshments of cake, crackers and cheese and potato salad and coffee were served.

Great News for every motorist who breathes!

Come in—see the real thing in automatic all-season heating and ventilation!

HERE'S an amazing new system that combines fresh air... automatic warmth... and sheer magic!

In winter—it keeps car air automatically at the desired temperature... with a gentle blanket of warmth instead of the old-style blast of heat. It circulates warmth fore and aft, side to side. Does away with window-fogging problems. Gives you a complete change of air once a minute!

On rainy days—it picks dry, fresh air right out of the mist... keeps interiors crisp and windows clear.

During heat waves—it circulates a quiet flow of fresh air throughout the car... even when windows are closed and the car is standing still!

See it and you'll agree—it's the successor to all the car heating and ventilating systems you've ever known!

FOR 'BLOOD'

Arriving at the home of our friends the Booths, one fine Saturday afternoon, we were surprised to see six of the neighbors working about the grounds. A woman was sweeping the sidewalk, a man was raking leaves which two women were carrying off and burning, two men were putting up storm windows—while on the porch Mr. and Mrs. Booth lounged on the hammock.

"Who do you think you are, Tom Sawyer?" I asked.

Booth laughed. "This is our bridge club. We play every Friday night—not for money but for man-hours. The losers have to put in an hour each at any household task assigned by the winning couple."

Fair Enough by Westbrook Pegler

Philip Murray, the C.I.O. and the lawyers for the Hollywood Wall Street moving picture trust may rest serene amid the sound effects, discoursed with wind machine, thunder-sheet and such mechanical gear by the Department of Justice whooping along in election year. Each show will be a mint of money for the party.

In the long run, on ceremonial appeal to the Supreme Court, Murray and the C.I.O. will be acquitted of violating the Taft-Hartley law in using the columns of the C.I.O. News, a private publication of the union mobsters, to boost their candidate in an election. The purpose is to make a gala for these proteges of the party which the Hon. Tumble Tom Clark has the honor to represent and, though the plot is cut and dried, does anybody suppose that any other theatrical play is impromptu?

On decision day, Red Murphy will give his opinion, concurring with the majority, but in the double-talk of the Commemorative Tinklers, will interrupt the proceedings to vow what the dirty Redcoats did to his ancestors. The night before, he will meet a like of Mr. Justice Brandeis, and tell them to get a load of his rhetoric tomorrow. But there will be no action on a sure thing, so this time the boys will not be able to put up a dollar at the book or cigar stand in the lobby.

On court-day, Mr. Justice Jackson will gnaw off a corner of hosiery and, leaning out, will draw a bead on the right eye of Mr. Justice Brandeis, the so-called satanic night-riiser from the Lizard Ridge Kievern, and let him have it past old weenie, Study-Boy Douglas and a couple of other grifters doing the best they can drawing doodles and saying down law according to the Democratic Party line. The black-sold barn-burner has taken so much punishment from Brother Jackson that, if the law racket had a boxing commission, any humane board would retire Brother Black to some little roadside speedtrap to split fees with the constable and eke it out doing wedding, shotgun and reglar, to save him from fighter's dance.

Following their vindication, Mr. Murray and the C.I.O. will be acquitted of their own publications and by the Democratic Party and there is no telling but that Mr. Murray might twitch hisse into one gosh-awfully hizz and go flapping up to heaven in a pillar of smoke, fire and ash. Don't put your little road-side speedtrap to split fees with the constable and eke it out doing wedding, shotgun and reglar, to save him from fighter's dance.

Throughout the study, emphasis is placed on the importance of saving, instead of discouraging, savings and risk capital. The rapid improvement in American living standards is attributed to the fact that both individuals and business concerns have saved and invested wisely a substantial part of their income. Savings put to work, says the committee, "provide the key to our steady march to higher planes of living."

MacARTHUR WOULD RUN? by Upton Close

MacArthur will accept the Republican nomination for the presidency if it is offered him. He will not turn a hand to get it.

If nominated, he will put all he has into the campaign. This information I have from a reliable source which I am not privileged to identify.

With this information at hand it is possible to do a little more, perhaps, than mere guessing about the Republican presidential free-for-all.

Dewey and Taft stand a good chance of battling to a draw. Some of the popular polls continue to show Dewey well out ahead of Taft, but more astute observers and many a Republican insider repudiate the findings of such polls.

As matters stand today, Taft may be expected to square off with Dewey on almost an equal footing in the first ballot.

Successive ballots might find the convention unable to give either a majority. The current conservative trend, however, should work in Taft's favor.

Tom Dewey has compromised so much he could accuse Truman of little in the way of radicalism without involving himself at least in international relations.

Tom Dewey owes his entire political career to minority support and coaching. It was he who forced through the New York state legislature a so-called Fair Employment Practices Commission, a law denying an employer of more than six persons the right to choose and promote whomever he pleases, forcing him to hire so many of various racial minorities.

MACARTHUR AND BRICKER. You would think the Republicans would not even consider such men. But there is that handful of minority votes in the half dozen big electoral states which under Roosevelt proved the deciding margin between conservative Republicans and conservative Democrats. This handful of radical votes has inspired Truman's so-called civil rights program (purely communist origin), and has caused the Republicans themselves to go on record against their wishes-favoring a nationwide FEPC!

Thus, the worst can happen again, as it has happened for a dozen years, in which the conservative American has been insulted and ignored in the handful of racial minorities in the key states.

But the trend is toward conservatism. The Old South likely will vote Truman down and have to take him as the Democratic nominee.

Betting on this, and eying the strong conservative trend, the Republicans may well decide to bid this year for that enormous majority, the conservatives.

In such an event, Taft would qualify. But if he could not get a majority at the convention, and here is the pay-off. I think Taft might be expected to throw his support to MacArthur or Bricker.

There is even the possibility that Truman might champion a MacArthur-Bricker team in case Bricker would accept the second place again.

The people are sick of New Deal radicalism. It is time for a strong conservative to take the fight for conservative Americanism to the American people. A MacArthur-Bricker combination would sweep the country.

And the vicious Morgenthau plan, would sweep the country.

Answering Defender of Tax Supported Education

I have a letter from Norman W. Enfield Colorado Springs, Colorado taking me to task for opposing tax-supported education. I will publish his letter in installments and answer each paragraph in which he raises any question. I have numbered the paragraphs and marked them in quotations so the reader can distinguish between the letter and my comments. I quote:

1. "Being of non-literary talents and inclination, it is seldom anything moves me to the point of attempting writing.

2. "However, the proposition contained in your column yesterday and at other times concerning the weight of authority, that I cannot, in good conscience, allow it to pass unchallenged, it is almost unbelievable that a newspaper columnist, in this day and age, would try to pass out superior perfidious prating as logic and reason.

3. "I am a property owner in this city and own and do not have children to educate, so I cannot be accused of having an ulterior motive in defending tax-supported schools, as you apparently have in denouncing them. All of the weight of authority, all of the best minds through all the ages gives the lie to what you say.

"Educate the people" was the motto of Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson, and yes even Napoleon said. Education of the people is the first duty of the state of the Republic especially loathed governmental interference in private affairs, but he had the good sense to see the necessity of public education and the plans that would result from lack of it: he devoted the last years of his life to the establishment of a public school system in Virginia.

The first two paragraphs need no comments. It seems rather irrational for Mr. Enfield to accuse me of ulterior motives in opposing the weight of authority, when no doubt that Mr. Enfield is sincere and believes that tax-supported schools would educate the people and be good for everybody. A publisher indeed would be very shortsighted if he took the unpopular side of an issue, such as tax-supported education just to save a little tax.

Especially would a publisher, whose principal asset is good will and non-taxable, have a deranged mind and certainly not be much of a businessman if he opposed the weight of authority, as you have in denouncing schools to save a little tax.

Mr. Enfield says that "all of the weight of authority, all of the best minds through all the ages give the lie to what you (I) say." That is an untrue statement. Jesus Christ never gave the lie to opposing the initiating of force to make people help educate each other. Jesus never used force to make people follow him. Jesus had a good mind. Other good minds that opposed tax-supported education were those of such men as John Locke, Herbert Spencer, Frederic Bastiat and Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Such modern thinkers as Leonard Read, President of the Foundation for Economic Education; Henry C. Link, author of "Return to the Founding Fathers"; and other various notable books: "The God of the Machine" which Ayn Rand says is the greatest book published in the last 400 years; "The Wilder Land" which has been printed in 40 different editions and other various notable books: "The God of the Machine" which Ayn Rand says is the greatest book published in the last 400 years; "The Wilder Land" which has been printed in 40 different editions and other various notable books.

Principal beneficiary during the Roosevelt regime was Harold L. Jakes, then Secretary of the Interior. Although a near-millionaire, he had a habit of using these institutions. His political enemies frequently commented that he never selected the one which, in their opinion, he should have entered permanently.

Former Secretary Hull is entitled to hospitalization as a veteran of the Spanish-American War. It is understood, however, that the White House authorized his admission before he quit government service. If the presidential privilege should be withdrawn because of the frankness and anti-Roosevelt tone of his current memoirs, he may stay on because of his 1898 service.

BID - "It has come to my attention," writes Mrs. P. E. I. of Cos Cob, Conn., "that ERP proposes to include Ireland. That is a very curious proposal. In view of Ireland's non-participation in the war. Have you any data

"There were some schools, so-called - there was absolutely nothing to excite ambition for education."

So, Mr. Enfield doesn't stick to facts when he says that all the ages give the lie to opposition of compulsory education.

I have repeatedly offered any preacher holding a pulpit in Orange County $100 if he would attempt to harmonize tax-supported education with quotations from Jesus Christ. No preacher ever under took it and for the simple reason it cannot be done.

Mr. Enfield's letter will be continued along with answers and comments to it in tomorrow's issue.

FUNNY BUSINESS BY HERSHBERGER

"These are the judge's hat and glasses—do you mind if I ask him where he was on the night of December first?"

They Still Fall For His Old Trap

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news

WASHINGTON - "I am very much interested," writes P. W. E. of North Wilkesboro, N. C., "in just how government hospitals around Washington, such as Walter Reed and the Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., are operated."

"We frequently note where Congressmen or government officials go to these hospitals for checkups and treatment, and sometimes they are confined to these institutions for long periods. I am thinking, of course, of Secretary Hull. Do they pay any fees or is all this given them by the government?"

Answer: Under legislation enacted in 1928 and broadened in 1932, Capitol Physician George W. Calver, with the permission of the Secretary of War or Secretary of Navy (now combined) has authority to admit members of Congress to these hospitals for checkups and treatment, and sometimes they are confined to these institutions for long periods. I am thinking, of course, of Secretary Hull. Do they pay any fees or is all this given them by the government?"

DEFENSE - J. T. F. of Haverhill, Mass., asks: "What is the Russians' defense to the many accusations presented by Stanislaw Mikolajewsky?"

Answer: There is no defense, and Moscow has offered nothing except the usual claptrap. In fact, the recent book by Arthur Bliss Lane, our former Ambassador at Warsaw, fully substantiates the former Premier's indictment. Both publications are attracting a great deal of attention at the Capital, although they are extremely disapproved by the Administration for the unbecoming libel they throw on D. R.'s foreign policy toward the first nation that dared to resist Hitler.

INEXPENSIVE - "Why can we not get yellowed margarine at an inexpensive cost?" chorus so many readers that it is impossible to name them all.

Answer: Because of the high federal and state taxes which the butter lobby has pressured the politicians into imposing on this palatable, nutritious and should-be cheap product.

However, the movement for repeal or reduction of these duties seems to be getting somewhere. The House Ways and Means Committee will hold hearings on them in a few weeks, and there may be action at this Congress because of new politico-economic factors involving the manufacture of margarine.

FULSOME - T. J. of Sacramento twits the writer on his use of English. He writes:

"In your column in the Sacramento Bee, February 9, 1947, you close your item on Mr. Archibald L. M. Wiggins' address: 'Republicans paid Wiggins unusually fulsome compliments.'"

"Now, according to my dictionary, 'fulsome' means 'offensive from excess of praise; hence coarse; indelicate.' Maybe you meant it, but won't somebody take exception?"

Answer: I meant it precisely as I used it—and correctly. As my column explained, Under Secretary Wiggins was addressing a group of Union League Republicans on plans for selling government securities to their employees. He advertised to charge that the Roosevelt Administration had indulged in state socialism, which he deplored. The G. O. P.-ers were thrilled to hear such an admission from a Truman official and applauded.

But, inasmuch as they were his guests, not to mention the fact that they should have made allowances for his ineptitude and inexperience, their praise was fulsome, coarse and indelicate.

Nevertheless, thanks for the checkup, Professor!

Texas Today

Gainesville, Texas, famed for its homegrown circus, is throwing its community weight into another project - - - a humanitarian enterprise.

Gainesville hopes to be the diabetic center of the South. It has formed a non-profit association to establish and maintain laboratories and clinics for the study and treatment of diabetes and an outdoor camp for diabetic children. Fund raising will begin shortly.

"After the war, some cities turned their efforts to securing industrial plants," Joe M. Leonard, Sr., Gainesville newspaperman said. "Gainesville followed this trend briefly, with only modest success. What the city needed was a shot in the arm."

So the idea of the diabetic center was born.

Citizens chose as the man to run it Dr. J. Shirley Sweeney, a recognized expert in the field and a former citizen. He moved back to Gainesville from Dallas to become the medical director.

Gainesville held the last public meeting on the project last November. Enthusiasm has grown. The Chamber of Commerce contributed $1.00 and individuals gave $2,500 to set the wheels in motion. Thousands of announcements are ready to be mailed to physicians over the South.

Gainesville hopes to profit from money spent by patients and their relatives who come to the center, but needy diabetics, adults and children, will be taken care of.

Dr. Sweeney, fellow of the American College of Physicians and former president of the Dallas Southern Clinical Society, washed dishes to work his way through Texas Christian University 35 years ago. He received his medical education at Vanderbilt University, studied two and one-half years on a fellowship at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore and in the early twenties joined the staff of Baylor Hospital, Dallas. TCU gave him an honorary degree of doctor of law in 1939.

As a colonel during the last war he was chief of medical service at Bushnell General Hospital, Brigham City, Utah. After the war he spent a year in helping to organize and in managing the Veterans Administration Hospital at Fort Logan, Colo.

"This is Gainesville's chance to do something worthwhile for the community and for mankind," Leonard says.

As to the first point, the only satisfactory solution is to stop tearing down German plants. With the exception of arsenals, that should have been regarded as material to enemies, meaning Russia and its puppets, does Lovett think that the state department is providing good will by such other activities as releasing German documents on the Hitler-Stalin accord of 1939-41? A glance at the daily outpouring of the soviet propaganda machine would quickly convince him that hostility cannot be increased further short of actual war.

Among others of Mr. Truman's stable who persist in cutting off Germany's nose to spite America's face is Secretary of Defense Forrestal, another Wall Streeter. He recently released German documents on the Hitler-Stalin accord of 1939-41? A glance at the daily outpouring of the soviet propaganda machine would quickly convince him that hostility cannot be increased further short of actual war.

That any substantial progress can be made under such restrictions is a matter of opinion. In 1947 total exports of goods and services from the combined American and British zones of occupied Germany amounted to only 222 million dollars, about a fifth of the amount secured by occupying forces. The small amount of progress is reflected in the fact that, of this total, only 36 million represented manufactured goods. Coal and timber from the British zone represented the overwhelming proportion of all exports.

On this basis we will have to tax ourselves into the distant future in order to keep the defeated enemy subsisting on such a marginal diet that a sparrow would have a hard time keeping up the fight for existence. And all because a Roosevelt at Yalta and a Truman at Potsdam fell for the veneful notions of Morgenthau, the dumbest and most uncharitable member of an administration distinguished for incompetents.

"That's what you might call a 'sixth sense,'" Mardon said, "or the ability to perceive the future without the use of the regular senses. It's no hokum. We know beyond any doubt who will be Oscar-toting on the 20th of March."

(Mardon doesn't have to worry. He'll be in Columbus, Ohio, on March 20, in case I start looking for him on March 2.)

"Do people you know?" I wondered, "tell you for whom they'll vote? Is that how you figure it out?"

"Of course not," Mardon said. "That's not ethical. We examine their subconscious minds through extra sensory perception methods. Just like a dentist finds cavities. He has mirrors. We have."

Mardon wouldn't tell what he had. SUBCONSCIOUS WINNERS The winners? I figuratively raise their arms victoriously. The best film of 1947 is "Mourning Becomes Electra." So saith the Biltmore Bowl seer.

The Nation's Press

(Chicago Daily Tribune)

On numerous occasions the American government has formally announced the abandonment of the Morgenthau plan to turn Germany into a potato patch. The reformation, however, never occurs, with the result that the recovery of Germany and of the European economy is indefinitely deferred.

The United States is thus burdened with an annual cost of about one billion dollars to prop up Germans who are not permitted to stand on their own feet.

The latest proof that the Morgenthau policy still prevails is offered by Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett, who was asked by Rep. Case of South Dakota for an accounting of the program of dismantling German plants for reparations. Lovett defended the policy, offering the tricky explanation that many German plants are now back in production elsewhere than in Germany, "contributing to European recovery."

Gen. Marshall's man neglected to say, however, that most of these plants are contributing to the recovery of Russia, whose infinite Marshall aid is needed to combat his 17 billion dollar program of handouts to Europe, some hundreds of millions of which are to go to Germany. None of these plants is contributing to the task of making Germany self-sustaining.

That the Marshall "plan" consists in taking German wealth out at one end and putting a small proportion of it back at the other.

Mr. Lovett reached further heights of illogicality in stating that the dismantling program is "perhaps satisfactory to no one" but is "less unsatisfactory to every one than any other solution which could be developed," and that suspension of the program "would be an accounting of the program to the critics of the United States."

As to the first point, the only satisfactory solution is to stop tearing down German plants. With the exception of arsenals, that should have been regarded as material to enemies, meaning Russia and its puppets, does Lovett think that the state department is providing good will by such other activities as releasing German documents on the Hitler-Stalin accord of 1939-41? A glance at the daily outpouring of the soviet propaganda machine would quickly convince him that hostility cannot be increased further short of actual war.

City Advertises For Bids on New Streetsweeper

The City Commission this morning authorized the readvertisement of bids for a streetsweeper with an added specification—delivery within 30 to 45 days.

The action came after the group was advised that some streetsweeper companies, who did not answer the last call for bids, could deliver within that time. Present sweepers on order from the Fred Berryhill Equipment Company, Lubbock, and the Austin-Weston Company will not be delivered for at least 12 months.

The sweeper now in service has proven inadequate to keep the streets clean and is in the garage more than in service. The Commission was told.

In addition a new parking ordinance will be passed in the near future prohibiting the parking of automobiles, trucks or other vehicles on the main streets between 1 a. m. and 6 a. m. Signs will be posted on mid-city light posts in the areas where all night parking will be prohibited. The ordinance is being passed mainly for the expediting of street cleaning and will read similar to like ordinances in other cities the size of Pampa.

City Manager Steve Matthews reported to the City Commission on his conference with the state highway engineer. A report on this meeting, together with County Judge Sherman White, appeared in yesterday's Pampa News.

The Commission postponed discussions of Clean-Up Week and naming the Board of Equalization. Appointment of the Corporation Court clerk was also shelved for this week.

Bids for the streetsweeper will be opened on Tuesday, March 2, during the City Commission meeting. The Commission adjourned at noon for the day.

PRAGUE

(Continued from page 1) The two conferred Saturday. That was after Gottwald called at a Communist rally for expulsion of ministers from the three parties as "agents of foreign reaction."

At Saturday's meeting Gottwald repeated his demands. Benes repeated his demands. The premier and the Communist Party Central Committee sent a letter to Benes Saturday night reiterating the demands as "the will of the people."

Since then the Trades Union Congress has added its demands to those of the Communists. It called a one-hour solidarity strike at noon today.

Benes also is to confer with Slovak Democrat leaders today. Telephone connections were broken between Bratislava and Prague last night. Correspondents of Prague newspapers went north to Moravia to phone their stories. They said military guards were in charge of all post offices and communications offices.

A printers' strike that prevented publication of one Slovak (Democratic) newspaper for 48 hours spread today to three other SD papers in Slovakia. Printers refused to set type on any story critical of the Communists.

POLITICS

The fighting four minced few words in setting out their views after the session. Without mentioning Mr. Truman or McGrath by name, they said:

"We feel we are expressing the firm conviction of our people when we say that the present leadership of the Democratic Party has deserted the principles of government upon which the Democratic Party was founded."

They promised a program under which each state "will work out the most effective means of resisting the proposals of the present leadership of the party."

They gave no details. But the developing pattern is to try, by state legislative action or otherwise, to free Dixie electors from voting for Mr. Truman.

All this pleases the Republicans mightily. Senator Morse of Oregon put their viewpoint into words in describing the Southern revolt and the effect of Henry A. Wallace's third party bid.
