Air Raids On Nips Continue

Resistance Still Bitter On Road To Manila

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press War Editor

THE fourth consecutive day of American carrier plane raids against vital Chinese ports and new Superfortress attacks on Formosa and Japan's main Honshu island were reported by the Nippon radio Wednesday.

Meanwhile on Luzon island in the Philippines American forces pressed forward on all fronts while Yank airmen blasted Japanese supply lines and airfields.

Official American sources confirmed the Formosa attack by upwards of 100 China-based B-29s but there was no confirmation of the Japanese-reported new strikes along the China coast from Shanghai to Hainan island and against Honshu's war industries.

Advance Fans Out

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today said the Japanese continued their stiff resistance on the left flank where American troops drove to within a half mile of Rosario and cut the main Manila-Baguio highway at Bobonan while patrols entered Pozorrubio.

Southbound American spearheads, pointed toward Manila some 80 miles away, probed deeper into Tarlac province and east of the Cabaruan hills in Pangasinan province.

On the extreme right flank the Yanks fanned out. One force advanced 17 miles to reach Bolinao, on the extreme western edge of the Lingayen gulf shoreline while another headed southward for Dasol bay.

61 Jap Planes Destroyed

Sixty-one grounded Japanese planes were destroyed by American fliers at Clark Field and airports in the Cagayan valley, northeast Luzon. Railroad rolling stock, fifty trucks and three tanks were destroyed by the airmen on the central Luzon plains and the Bicol peninsula. A lone Japanese interceptor at Clark Field was shot down.

The shooting down in the Philippines of America's leading active flying ace was reported to the widow by the Allied Pacific airforce command. Maj. Thomas B. McGuire, jr., of San Antonio, and Ridgewood, N. J., was killed Jan. 7. He had 38 Japanese planes to his credit.

Tokyo, in a broadcast monitored by NBC, claimed Japanese airmen sank an American cruiser in attacks on a convoy west of Luzon.

A joint Army-Navy disclosure in Washington reported for the first time, in connection with the

Jap Shipping Is Whittled Down

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The high command, in a burst of jubilance, revealed tonight that U. S. ships and planes have sunk 250,000 tons of Japanese shipping in two weeks and the returns are still coming in.

A pattern of future destruction of Japanese bases and supply lines also was disclosed, probably with the thought that the Japanese expect it anyhow and the surprise will have to be in the execution.

The revelations came from the Navy and the Army Air force.

Warning Infused

A sobering thought came, however, from General of the Army George C. Marshall and Admiral of the Fleet Ernest J. King in their letter to the President about the manpower situation. They gave the frankest description yet of what happend during the Philippine liberation, conceding that the Japanese defenders caused "extensive damage to naval vessels, many of which will require major repairs."

Rear Admiral M. F. Schoeffle, assistant chief of staff for naval operations, announced at Navy Secretary Forrestal's press conference the tonnage exacted by the far-ranging task forces in the current two weeks sea and air offensive. It started with a strike at Formosa to keep Japanese air power immobilize, MacArthur plunged on to Luzon and to frustrate any relief attempts.

Action In Senate Is Retarded

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—Construction of a long list of recess appointments struck a sub-surface snag in the Senate today.

Failure of the Senate either to confirm or reject the more than 100 names of supposedly non-controversial appointees actually had only the effect of sending the matter back to committee. Further, it set up violent undercurrents and cross currents of speculation as to what effect it might have on Gov. Coke R. Stevenson's appointees to the board of regents of the University of Texas and the board of directors of Texas A. and M. college.

Hitch Not Explained

For more than an hour the Senate was in executive session, considering these names which had received a favorable committee report, and also considering salaries of certain employes. Senators were reluctant to discuss what the hitch was, and most would not say even off-the-record that there was any hitch at all in regard to appointments.

The action, or failure to take action, could be construed as laying the predicate for political bargaining over submission of appointees not included in the list approved yesterday by the committee on governor's appointments. This list included the names of no regents or members of the A. and M. board.

Plans Not Clear

With the so-called list of "non-controversial" interim appointees of the governor back in its lap, the committee headed by Sen. H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton made no announcement of plans for an immediate meeting.

Two of the governor's appointees to the board of regents, Dudley K. Woodward jr., of Dallas and David M. Warren of Panhandle, were interim appointees and as such they could participate in a board meeting even though the Senate had not acted. The four appointed since the legislature convened, however, would not qualify without confirmation, under court decisions.

Teachers' Bill Passed

While the Senate was hung up, the House quickly and without argument passed and sent to the Senate a bill appropriating $1,875,000 to increase the pay of rural school teachers and otherwise boost state financial aid to rural schools. The House also passed a $124,825 emergency appropriation for the state liquor control board.

Both of these measures were emergency legislation recommended by the governor.

The House also finally enacted and sent to the governor a Senate bill removing time limitations on the storage of wild game after the close of legal seasons.

In the Senate, a bill designed to make the secret ballot more secret was introduced by Sen. James A. Stanford of Austin. It was sent to the committee on civil jurisprudence. Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith named Sen. Jesse Martin of Fort Worth as chairman of the newly-created committee on veterans affairs.

The rural aid bill, providing for the remainder of the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, calls for a $75 a month increase in pay for 15,000 teachers, increases transportation aid $1 per month per pupil, extends from five to six months the period in which the state may give tuition aid to eligible schools, adds $60 per teacher to the amount allowed per year for payment of miscellaneous expenses.

President Renews Legislation Plea

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—President Roosevelt told Congress today that the Allied "total offense" requires swift action on legislation putting every man 18 to 45 into the war effort, at home or abroad.

The President sent his views to Chairman May (D-Ky) of the House Military committee who promised action by tomorrow night.

Mr. Roosevelt backed up his appeal with a letter from the Army and Navy high commands, pleading for "young and vigorous" replacements and picturing an "acute need" in the field and in the war factories.

Enactment Urged

He urged Congress to enact May's limited national service bill without quibbling over details.

This bill applies to 18,806,000 men from 18 to 45. It would make all liable to assignment somewhere in the war effort. There are 7,000,000 of that total over 38; 6,725,000 with occupational deferments; 1,363,000 from 18 to 26 deferred for physical effects and another 710,000 of these 4-Fs from 26 to 30; 1,508,000 4-Fs from 30 to 38 and 1,500,000 discharged veterans.

Selective Service estimates 60 percent of the occuptationally-deferred could meet Army-Navy physical standards.

President's Third Plea

This was Mr. Roosevelt's third plea for national service, in some form. He said it is more important now than ever.

"It is true," the President wrote to May, "that there has been a trend toward increased placement of manpower in the last two weeks."

But that trend, he said, unquestionably was due to the belief that Congress contemplated "prompt action" and the President said it will be reversed by reports "now current in the press that congressional action is likely to be delayed."

Although the May bill is not a complete national service law, the President said, it "will go far to secure the effective employment in the war effort of all registrants under the Selective Service law between the ages of 18 and 45."

Details Secondary

"While there may be some differences of opinion on the details of the bill, prompt action now is much more important in the war effort than the perfecting of detail.

"As the United Nations enter upon a truly offensive against their enemies, it is vital that total offense should not slacken because of any less than total utilization of our manpower on the home front."

He accompanied it with a letter signed by General of the Army George C. Marshall and Admiral of the Fleet Ernest J. King.

Marshall and King said the European fighting has taxed the Army's replacement system "to the breaking point."

Heavy Equipment Toll

The Germans and the winter weather have exacted a heavy toll of equipment. Eight French divisions must be outfitted. They reiterated that Army-Navy inductions should total 900,000 by June 30; 700,000 industrial workers must be added to the war plant force.

Philippine operations, the letters said "resulted in extensive damage to naval vessels, many of which will require major repairs." This increased load on strained ship worker conditions already is being reflected "in a slowdown in the construction of new ships."

Chairman May promptly announced an executive meeting of his committee tomorrow and forecast approval of the bill "by tomorrow night."

Bad Weather Slows West Front Drive

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Paris, Jan. 17.—The new British Sceond army offensive north of Aachen ran into stiffening resistance, including German tanks, and was slowed today after the white-clad Tommies had advanced 1,000 yards through snow and fog and captured the village of Dieteren.

To the south, however, American forces smashing at the Nazis' vanishing Ardennes salient occupied Vielsalm and closed within four miles of the strategic communication center of St. Vith.

The fighting was cloaked in almost indescribably bad weather with icing conditions so severe that not a single American tactical air unit was able to leave the ground. The only continental-based fighter-bombers able to see any action whatever were 150 British planes which struck at transport targets in northern Holland.

Progress Is Minor

The British attack against the southern flank of the triangular German wedge between the Maas and Roer rivers continued to make some progress, but the total advance since the start yesterday morning probably has been no more than a mile.

The blow obviously is designed to reduce the enemy salient and not on as large a scale as correspondents here were led to believe originally.

Besides Clearing Dieteren, three miles southeast of Maeseyck in the Dutch Panhandle, the Tommies have crossed the Roode in two places and fought into another village whose name has not been disclosed.

Air Support Missed

Without the help of their air power, both the British and American forces were finding the going rough. The Germans were putting up savage and at times suicidal opposition.

Even in the Ardennes area, where the U. S. First and Third armies were steadily beating the Germans back, the fighting grew more grim.

Nazi tanks, which had been pulled back hastily from the collapsing western end of the salient, made a reappearance and a number of counterattacks were launched from within the bulge. All of these were suppressed, it was announced, but an indication of the fury of the battle was the fact that 24 German tanks were knocked out during the day.

Fighting also flared to new intensity on the U. S. Seventh Army's front in the 15-mile arc from the bitterly contested Hatten area to the German's Gambsheim bridgehead above Strasbourg.

Russian Drive Is Unchecked

Warsaw's Dead Number 770,000

Polish officials estimated that 770,000 of Warsaw's population had been killed by the Germans and that fully four-fifths of the city was in ruins.

An estimated tenth of the city was destroyed by German shells and bombs before it capitulated in September, 1939. In 1942 when the Jewish ghetto was liquidated, another 15 per cent of the city was estimated to have been destroyed along with tens of thousands of Jews.

More than half was ruined during the Russian siege and the uprising of Gen. Tadeuse Komorowski (General Bor) before he surrendered late in September, 1944.

Skyscraper Still Stands

Gutted buildings were reported everywhere in the city, dominated by the 17-story Prudential Life Insurance building which topped the skyline. One report said the top three floors had been knocked off by artillery but that the skyscraper still stood.

Most of Warsaw lies on a hill 100 feet above the Vistula, which flows wide and swift between Warsaw and Praga. Beyond Warsaw, the Polish plain slopes gently westward to Berlin, 310 miles away.

The old town had many narrow, tortuous streets which maintained their medieval appearance. The 13th century St. Johns cathedral, a Gothic structure, stood near the center.

Warsaw Topples; Reds Streaming To Westward

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Jan. 17—The Russians captured ruined, long-embattled Warsaw today in a breath-taking encirclement maneuver as a third great Red Army group plunged into the winter offensive pushing the Germans westward across Poland in cataclysmic retreat.

In southern Poland the Russians drove to within 15 miles of the German border, capturing Czestochova, 125 miles southwest of Warsaw, and Poland's second city of Krakov also was reported captured in the fast rolling Soviet drive.

On a front at least 250 miles long, 2,000,000 or more Russian soldiers sped westward beyond shattered Nazi defenses, reaching points from 260 to 290 miles from Berlin.

Krakow Falls

As the Polish capital fell after five years and four months of Nazi occupation, the Soviet-sponsored Polish provisional government at Lubin announced that Krakow, seat of the German regime for Poland, had fallen. The German radio at Krakow suddenly went dead.

Premier Stalin himself announced the capture of Warsaw by Marshal Gregory Zhukov's First White Russian Army group in combined blows from the north, west and south after a crossing of the broad Vistula river north of the city.

Zhukov's men cut the roads to Berlin some 25 miles due west of Warsaw, captured the railway town of Zyradow, 25 miles southwest, and hastened on towards the German reich.

Second Army Involved

The Germans belatedly announced that they had evacuated Warsaw without Russian interference. That they had pulled out hurriedly was obvious, and Stalin quickly disclosed another probable reason for their action.

In a second order of the day he announced that the Second White Russian Army group under Marshal Kontantin K. Rokossovsky had joined the offensive, bursting through German defenses on a 62-mile front northwest of Warsaw to a depth of more than 25 miles.

Since pushing out Sunday from two small bridgeheads on the west bank of the Narew river above Warsaw, Rokossovsky's men have captured more than 500 communities, including the big strong

Gunner 'Bumped' For Dog, Claims

ANTIOCH, Calif., Jan. 17. (AP)—A young Navy gunner related today that he and two other servicemen were "bumped off" and Army transport plane because a dog had a higher travel priority than they did.

The dog, said S/1C Leon LeRoy, was being shipped across country by Col. Elliott Roosevelt to his wife, actress Faye Emerson, in Hollywood.

At Washington, a War department spokesman agreed that a sailor a soldier and a Navy Seabee put off a plane at Memphis, Jan. 11, to lighten the load, while a dog, about which the department had no information, continued its journey by air.

LeRoy, 18, told his story first to the Red Cross as he sought help in arranging fast transportation back to his station, elaborated in talks with reporters, and then, as comment began to come from various quarters of the nation, he avoided callers.

Mother Confirms Story

His mother, Mrs. Al LeRoy, explained "Yes, it's all true enough. But this sort of frightens us. Do you think it will affect his standing with the Navy? He wasn't griping."

An official in Washington said Col. Roosevelt had returned recently to overseas duty with the Air forces. The White House had no comment. One spokesman said it was purely Elliott's affair.

Army regulations state an air priority is granted only when an emergency is so great that a delay in transportation would seriously delay and impair the war effort. Priorities for Air Transport command planes are set by the

Travel By Train Is Threatened

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—A policy of discontinuing railroad passenger service wherever necessary to keep war freight rolling was laid down today by the Office of Defense Transportation.

Director J. Monroe Johnson said railroads suffering from severe weather conditions should discontinue passenger service and use their "full energies and equipment" to haul desperately needed freight.

The action particularly affects railroads traversing New York state, Ohio, upper Pennsylvania and Indiana, but an ODT spokesman said it could be regarded as a "practical policy" of giving war freight precedence over passengers.

Johnson's action was not an order to the railroads. Each carrier will act within its own discretion.

Three Children Die In Fire At Amarillo

AMARILLO, Jan. 17. (AP)—Three children of a soldier overseas burned to death in their home today while their mother was two doors down the street at a store.

The children were: Senaida Torres, 4; Jose Torres, 2, and Regina Torres, 4 months.

They were the children of Pvt. and Mrs. Regino Torres.

Rainfall Slows Harvesting Here

Following two weeks of "ideal" crop-gathering weather, Lubbock county and the South Plains received showers Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Rainfall, as recorded at the Texas experiment substation east of Lubbock, amounted to .45 inch up to 7 p. m. Wednesday, .34 inch falling after 8 a. m.

The Santa Fe dispatcher at Slaton reported precipitation ranging from light mist to one-half inch along that company's lines. Slaton receiving approximately one-half inch.

Ginners who continued receiving cotton in a steady stream were closely watching the skies Tuesday and were hoping the clouds would break and clear weather would prevail for a few more days at least.

Cotton Still In Fields

Another week or 10 days urgently was needed to complete, or virtually complete, getting cotton out of South Plains fields, agricultural authorities indicated.

Much Of State Gets Moisture; Some Snow

What Will Be The Gain If 4-F Draft Is Authorized

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Let's suppose Congress does actually get around to drafting 4-Fs for essential war work as proposed by "Assistant President" James F. Byrnes, concurred in by the President, himself, and others. What will be the net gain to the home front's war effort?

Right off the bat Army could start rehabilitating about 702,600 of the 4,217,000 and whip them into fighting shape. At least that's the claim of a report just released from the Senate Subcommittee on Wartime Health and Education.

Well, that's a good start. But assurance of results ends there. Joker of the whole idea is that nobody knows, or is even willing to guess, how many 4-Fs are not now in essential work. War Manpower commission says it's too tough to get these statistics. Selective Service says it's a problem for WMC. That's what Byrnes says too.

The subcommittee report which has gone into the 4-F situation pretty thoroughly offers statistics; but no clues as to how many 4-Fs might already be up to their necks in war production.

Million Mental Cases

Write off the books immediately 443,800 called "manifestly disqualified." These unfortunates are totally blind, have one or more members missing, etc. Even some of these are already in war work.

More than 1,000,000 4-Fs suffer "mental disease," and "mental deficiency." Get the black pencil out again and cross out a large batch—the report doesn't say exactly how many—of incurably insane, idiots, imbeciles, and morons from these two groups. This leaves spastics, epileptics, the "psycho-neurotics" who can't stand the mental disciplines of service, and the illiterates. The committee reports that most of the latter are doing manual labor in essential work. But they're in already, so any draft order won't affect them.

Now, here's the bonanaza—the report claims, and Mr. Byrnes hopes. Almost two and one half million 4-Fs are that way for reasons ranging from syphilis, avoirdupois, and that old favorite, flat feet, to trouble cardiovascular, more familiarly known as heart trouble. Approximately one third of them got that way through "residual effect of injury," according to the report. Result is they now have paralyzed muscles, malformed bones, missing fingers and other obvious defects.

Byrnes says, "Make these guys get into essential work." But what everyone wants to know is how many of these guys are already in essential work as a result of past threats and the lure of fancy inflated salaries?

Largest single cause of rejections for physical defects, as indicated by this chart, has been headed muscle skeletal. Persons who suffer muscular atrophy as a result of auto and industrial accidents, infantile paralysis, etc., are thus classified.

Civilians Of SPAAF To Discuss Problem

Future operations of South Plains Army Air field were still indefinite Wednesday night, but Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer, said it was his opinion that "a drastic reduction of military personnel, and a corresponding cut in the number of civilian employes," would be made when the field is placed under the supervision of the Air Technical Training Command in mid-February.

Col. DeMarco said a mass meeting of civilian employes would be held today at the field. Discussion of future disposition of workers is expected.

SPAAF officials conferred Wednesday with officers from other Army Air Force installations concerning plans for the base and its employes, but no other information was available.

Earlier this week it was announced by Col. DeMarco and the Army Air Force's Central Flying Training Command at Fort Worth that glider pilot training at SPAAF was terminated with the graduation of a class last Monday, and that in the future glider pilot training would be given at the troop carrier command school at the Laurinburg-Maxton Air base, Maxton, N. C.

House Approves Bill For Advanced Bases

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP) — Legislation authorizing $1,500,000,000 for Navy construction, two-thirds of which will go to build and operate advance bases in combat zones, was passed today by the House.

The bill was sent to the Senate on a voice vote.

No details of the advance base building program were made public on the floor because of military security, but an accompanying report from the Navy indicated much of the money will be spent in the Pacific.

Conference To Show Resources Benefits

AMARILLO, Jan. 17 (AP)—One of the exhibits at the first Panhandle industrial conference here Jan. 24-25 will be a portable electric spinning wheel—another will be tapioca four made from sorghums.

The Amarillo Globe-News, sponsoring the conference for the Panhandle region of Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma, says the exhibits are designed to tell a complete story of the region's resources.

It describes the purpose of the conference as "to acquaint people of the area with industrial possibilities for the future, based upon natural resources and facilities of today."

Wallace To Get Commerce Post, Fresh Rumors Say

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Fresh reports that retiring Vice President Henry A. Wallace is to become secretary of commerce circulated on Capitol Hill tonight.

However, two influential Senators were understood to have visited the White House to request that the present secretary, Jesse Jones, be retained in charge of the Reconstruction Finance corporation and other important lending and financial agencies if he leaves the Commerce post.

The congressional request was said to have been made to President Roosevelt by Senator Connally (D-Texas) and Chairman Bailey (D-NC) of the Senate Commerce committee.

While both Senators flatly refused to confirm this as their mission, the report was substantiated in other authentic quarters.

Connally, like Jones a Texan, was understood to have suggested that the commerce post be stripped of its jurisdiction over the RFC and subsidiary corporations.

An executive order brought the RFC and the other organiations under the jurisdiction of the Commerce department. Connally reportedly suggested another executive order taking them out from under it and reestablishing them under Jones under his old title of federal loan administrator.

There was no comment at the Commerce department tonight on the White House conference.

Close associates of Wallace have let it be known that the commerce post is the only one in the cabinet to which he now aspires.

Connally and Bailey, chairman of the Senate Commerce committee, apparently were convinced that the President has virtually decided to appoint Wallace.

Search Continued For Five Missing Fliers

GULFPORT, Miss., Jan. 17. (AP) —Five members of an Army bomber crew who parachuted from the plane in the vicinity of Lake Sabine, Texas, Monday night are still the object of search. Three members of the crew remained with the plane and landed at Ellington Field, Tex.

Lt. Robert L. Richardson, Athens, Texas, is one of the missing men, Gulfport Army Air field officials said.

Citrus Juices Require Points

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP) — The OPA tonight ordered canned grapefruit juice and blended orange and grapefruit juice back on the ration list at 12:01 a. m. Thursday.

The War Food administration simultaneously directed canners to withhold their entire output of these juices for the armed forces "until military requirements have been met."

Canned orange juice continues ration-free.

These point values were set for grapefruit juice and blended juices:

No. 2 cans, 10 points; 46 ounce cans, 20 points; No. 10 cans, 40 points.

Has Dual Purpose

Both kinds of juice had been point free since last June.

The return to rationing was ordered, Price Administrator Chester Bowles explained, "to help our armed forces get the canned citrus juices they need, and at the same time avoid too rapid depletion of supply of these juices available for civilians."

The WFA "freeze" order, Bowles added, "means that producers can't sell these juices to civilian outlets. We'll have to get along for a while on what distributors and retailers now have in their stores and warehouses."

Orange Juice Exempt

Bowles said he could not predict "just how long this situation will last, but at present it looks like the supply of canned citrus juices we can use on the home front this year will be a third less than it was a year ago."

The need for protecting the civilian supply on hand is underlined, Bowles said, "by the fact that canned citrus juices have increased in importance during the war to a point where more are being used than any other item in the entire canned fruit and fruit juice group."

Orange juice can be continued point-free, OPA explained, because the pack year for it still has some months to run, with prospective supply better than in the case of the other juices.

Maj. McGuire, Famous Ace, Is Killed In Philippines

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 17.—A letter today told of the death in the Philippines of Maj. Thomas B. McGuire, jr., of San Antonio and Ridgewood, N. J., the nation's leading active ace with 38 Japanese planes to his credit.

The letter, written by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commanding Allied airforces in the Pacific, was received by Maj. McGuire's wife here.

Maj. McGuire was shot down and killed Jan. 7, the letter, dated Jan. 8, said.

The flier became the leading ace when Maj. Richard I. Bong of Poplar, Wis., returned to the states on leave. Bong was credited with downing 40 Jap planes.

Gen. Kenney, in his letter to Mrs. McGuire, said that McGuire was shot down brought him the worst of a number of bad me-ments he has had to face since the war began.

"I felt that he would make a name for command as well as for leadership and for great personal courage," the letter stated.

"The accident, which left him vulnerable on Jan. 7 and in which he met his death, was sheer chance as Maj. McGuire was one of the most capable fighter pilots I have ever known."

"Your husband was one of the men the airforces can never forget. We will find it more difficult to carry on without him," Kenney concluded.

Kenney's letter indicated McGuire's plane was in some way disabled in the air, making him easy prey to defending Jap fighters.

Mrs. McGuire said she has received no official notification of her husband's death from the War department.

O'Daniel Says Texas Voters Are Sorry They Voted Ticket Straight

By PAT HOWELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 17—Texas voters are beginning to be sorry they "voted the ticket straight" in the November general elections, according to U. S. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, Texas Democrat.

In an exclusive report to the United Press on his two-week post-election tour of Texas, the junior Senator of the Lone Star state said he found his constituents "disillusioned and discouraged."

He attributed this to such events as the recent cancellation of ration coupons by the OPA, and evidences "that the country is being turned over to the communists."

Concerned Over Government

O'Daniel said two of the most respected United States Senators recently told him that they personally were much concerned about the ability of the United States to preserve its traditional form of government.

In his tour of Texas, speaking for the Texas Regulars—the anti-Roosevelt part in the last presidential campaign—O'Daniel said he was "astonished" to find that many of the young people of his state had not even been taught that presidents of the United States were elected by electors rather than by popular vote. O'Daniel had advocated the election of Texas Regular electors pledged to vote for "any other Democrat than President Roosevelt."

Referring to the recent meeting of the executive committee of the Texas Democratic party during which plans were laid to keep such Democratic bolters as O'Daniel permanently out of the party, the junior Texas Senator said he had not talked to either "the politicians or the press." He said he felt post-election events had insured his old support among farmers and ranchers and had gained him many adherents in the business world.

Replies To Baldwin

Replying to a recent assertion on the "Town Meeting" radio program by Roger Baldwin, director of the Civil Liberties league, that the American people deserved to lose their traditional form of government if they were weak enough to succumb to Communist propaganda, O'Daniel said he found United States citizens war-weary and definitely susceptible to what he called "Communist lies." A University of Texas faculty committee had recently cancelled an invitation to Roper Baldwin to speak in Austin after an Austin American Legion post had objected to Baldwin's political beliefs.

This is what the junior Senator from Texas said concerning the continuation of the Dies committee in permanent form: "I am shocked that a congressional committee to investigate un-American activities should be saved by such a narrow margin. Protecting the American people from un-American propaganda is, I believe one of the most important tasks of Congress."

However, O'Daniel said, his information was that the former Dies committee would become, under administration leadership, a "whitewash committee."

Glider School Band Transfers To LAAF

Transfer of the 629th Army Air Forces band, which has been stationed at South Plains Army Air field, to Lubbock Army Air field was announced Wednesday morning by SPAAF headquarters.

Last official appearance as a SPAAF organization was made by the band Monday morning when it played for the graduation ceremony of the last class of glider pilots to finish at SPAAF. The band, composed of 24 men, is directed by W/O Harry Dunham.

Headquarters announced that the transfer of the band was in no way connected with impending changes at the field, nor was the conversion of the station hospital to a smaller unit connected with those changes.

In the case of the hospital, headquarters said, the conversion was similar to arrangements in other cases where two fields are located adjacently, purely in an effort to save manpower.

The band will play at SPAAF for any further functions that may be held, just as they have played for various occasions at LAAF, since the LAAF band left the field. One of the dance units of the band is expected to play for a President's birthday ball at SPAAF, to be given in connection with the March of Dimes at the end of the month.

Personnel included in the transfer of the band are W/O Harry Dunham, T/Sgt. Alfred R. Erben, S/Sgt. Felix S. Walker, Sgt. Harry K. Born, Sgt. Roger N. Eaton, Sgt. Bryce D. McFall, Sgt. Roy Noble, Sgt. Andrew W. Skender, Sgt. Lewis L. Stoelzing, Cpl. Eddie Donaldson, Cpl. Norman H. Heath, jr., Cpl. Archie F. Keys, Cpl. George Gruenthaler, Cpl. Philip Kligman, Cpl. Sherley Simon, Cpl. Charles P. Sylvester, Cpl. Edgar F. Witt, Pfc. Kenneth Birnbaum, Pfc. Basil N. Cua, Pfc. John W. Grabber, jr., Pfc. Robert A. Jackson, Pfc. Charles B. Thompson, Pfc. Fred H. Martini, Pfc. Thomas E. Gibbons, and Pfc. Alexander J. Karlo.

Catalog Outweighs Overseas Mail Limit

Servicemen in combat areas have made repeated requests for Texas Technological college catalogs to be mailed to them, but an inquiry made by W. P. Clement, college registrar, revealed that no free copies of the bulletin will be accepted for overseas mailing at second-class rates.

In refusing this request, the Postoffice department stated that individually addressed copies of a regular issue of the Tech bulletin containing catalog matter sent by publishers will be accepted for mailing to Army personnel at APO's outside the continental United States, if the sealed first-class package does not exceed eight ounces in weight and prepaid at the rate of three cents an ounce.

This condition makes it impossible to mail the 14 ounce catalog. Opportunities for Ex-Servicemen and Women," a phamplet which can be sent at first-class rates, is being substituted for the catalog, Clements said.

Gyptal, originally developed as an insulation material, has been adapted as a priming coat in automobile painting.

Poor Digestion? Headachy? Sour or Upset? Tired-Listless? YES NO

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 25¢. Adv.

. . . or allies enjoy a friendly pause

There's a friendly phrase that speaks the allied language. It's Have a Coke. Friendliness enters the picture when ice-cold Coca-Cola appears. Over frosty bottles of ice-cold Coke, minds meet and hearts are closer together. It's a happy custom that's spreading 'round the globe. Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become an everyday high-sign of friendliness among people of good will.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coke.

Combat Losses Total 686,380

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—U. S. combat losses thus far in this war have been more than 2½ times the total number of American casualties in the last war, a study of official statistics disclosed today.

All-service casualties in World war II, as officially announced here, have reached 686,380—including 604,351 for the Army and 82,029 for the Navy, Marine corps and Coast Guard—as compared with a grand total of 259,735 for World war I. The last war's total included 248,653 for the Army and 11,082 for the other services.

Monthly Casualties Higher

The totals cover about 36½ months of U. S. participation in this war and 19 months in the last. That this is the costlier conflict not alone because it is lasting longer is indicated by a comparison of monthly casualty rates.

In this war the rate figures out at 18,805 a month. In World war In it was 13,670.

Millions more men are fighting in this war than in the last one. Although the casualty totals are much higher, the ratio among Army troops overseas is the same—12 casualties out of every 100 men. Soldiers now overseas number about 5,000,000 as compared with 2,086,000 at the end of World war I.

The Army's World war II total includes 564,351 announced by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson last Thursday through Dec. 29—but not including losses in the Germans' Ardennes couteroffensive — plus 40,008 which Stimson announced Monday for the Arden Lubbock banks and First Federal Savings and Loan association will be closed all day Friday in observance of Robert E. Lee's birthday, officials have announced.

News Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Wagner of 2408 Fifteenth returned Tuesday from Elk City, Okla., where they visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Harris. Mr. Wagner, gunner's mate 1/c, USNR, recently returned from two years' service in the South Pacific theater. He reported back to San Francisco for reassignment and Mrs. Wagner remained here.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude S. Walker of 1607 Ave. Y, who have been Lubbock residents since 1937, expect to move to Fort Worth about Feb. 1. Walker recently sold his interest in Bray's tleaners. The Walkers moved to Lubbock from Oklahoma City.

A monthly meeting of Lubbock County School board will be at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in his office in the court house, Roy Boyd, county superintendent, said.

Four applications for as many new school buses for Lubbock county schools have been approved by the Office of Defense Transportation and permits for purchase of bus chasses received, Roy Boyd, Lubbock county school superintendent said. Two of the buses will replace two of the six in operation at Idalou, one each will go to New Deal and Frenship schools. The Cooper school has filed for a permit but the application has not been approved, Boyd said.

Mrs. Margie Dawley, seventh grade teacher at Cooper school, resigned Wednesday and is leaving immediately to be with her husband, who is returning from overseas. The vacancy had not been filled late Wednesday.

Two new members of the Idalou school facutly, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Adams of Stinnett, began their first classes at Idalou Wednesday. Adams is to teach mathematics and serve as girls' coach. The couple replaces Mrs. Bill Montgomery and Miss Evelyn London.

A negro, Quintus Simpson, paid a fine of $100 and costs Wednesday on a charge of liquor law violation, county court officials said. Simpson pleaded guility before County Judge Walter Davies. Simpson, it was alleged, was in possession of beer exceeding the legal limit.

Mrs. Ethel Poerman, field worker for the State Tuberculosis association, spent Tuesday and Wednesday here advising and consulting with directors of the Lubbock county association. She was honored at a luncheon at Hilton hotel, and business was discussed with the 12 directors present.

Within a few days the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association expects to meet its $7,500 Christmas seal goal. Since Tuesday of last week the campaign has come to within $200 of its quota, Curtis Curry, publicity director, said. Contributions have been coming through the mail or presented in person at the office, 1009 Texas.

S 2/c William Edward Austin returned Tuesday to Great Lakes Naval Training station after a week's visit in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Austin, 2203 Twenty-fifth. He will receive orders at Great Lakes to report to a quartermaster's school for which he has been selected.

Gill Writes Parents From Prisoners Camp

For the first time since he became a prisoner of the Japanese in the fall of Bataan, Pvt. Russell A. Gill has communicated with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Gill, 2425 Twenty-second, in his own handwriting. Gill was taken prisoner in April, 1942.

The letter, received yesterday from the Osaka Prisoner of War camp, was dated by their son on July 23, 1944. Mr. Gill reasons that it came via Russia on a ship which had carried relief supplies to a Soviet port for transfer to a Jap vessel.

The Gills have heard from their son only one other time, in form of a postcard which arrived here in December, 1943. The card bore only their son's signature and printed messages regarding his health, state of being, etc., were checked by pen. They have been permitted, too, to send Pvt. Gill only one package, Mr. Gill said, but Pvt. Gill mentioned receiving it in the letter arriving here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill are much heartened by receipt of the letter which describes their son as well and healthy. The handwriting is firm and clean-cut, indicating he is not in either a weakened or nervous condition.

Since approximately 50 young men whose homes are in Lubbock or nearby are in the hands of the Japs, Mr. Gill said the fact that his son wrote the letter should lend hope and solace to relatives and friends of other prisoners. He said friends of his family, living in Stamford, had received a similar letter several days ago from their son, also a Jap prisoner since Bataan.

Strikes Cause Heavy Losses In Britain

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP)—Strikes in Britain during the first 11 months of 1944 cost the loss of more time and production than in any similar period in 12 years, according to the British Labor ministry.

Up to Nov. 30, a total of 3,648,000 man workng days were lost through strikes as compared with 1,810,000 for the entire previous year, a ministry analysis showed nes from Dec. 15 to Jan. 7. Stimson said 18,000 of the 40,000 were missing, but he did not break down the remaining 22,000 between killed and wounded.

Heavy as this war's American casualties have been, they still are far below British empire losses. Prime Minister Winston Churchill reported in Commons on Tuesday that empire combat casualties from September, 1939, to last Nov. 30 amounted to 1,043,554. Of this total, 635,107 were United Kingdom losses.

Sugar Content Down In Tech Beet Crop

Sugar content is down on this year's crop of sugar beets grown by the plant industry department at Texas Tech it was revealed in a report by the American Sugar Crystal company of Rocky Ford, Colo., Dr. A. W. Young, head of the department, said.

Due to a leaf spot damage, sugar content was only 14.18 per cent whereas the average content over a period of years has been approximately 16 per cent. Since 1938 this sugar beet experiment has been conducted on the Tech farm in cooperation with the American Sugar Crystal company.

Eight varieties of commercial sugar beets were grown.

Grandma Switches Millions of Mothers To Her Idea of Mutton Suet and Medication

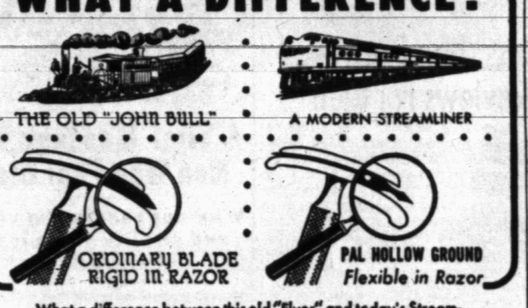

"Old Reliable" For Relieving Chest Colds' Muscle Tightness—Coughing, Neuralgic and Rheumatic Pain, Chapped Lips and Nostrils, Simple Bruises and Sprains and Many Other Home Uses.

Grandma was a great one for "rubbing" the miseries of chest colds and many other simple pains and aches of her family. The rub she used was medicated in her own way but she insisted that it contain mutton suet. She liked the way mutton suet disappeared as it helped carry medication to nerve ends in the skin to relieve pain.

Today science has modernized Grandma's old-time pain relief principle to bring you Penetro, the salve with a base that contains old fashioned mutton suet plus 5 active ingredients. Now mothers everywhere are praising this newer relief and thanking Grandma for her idea that is switching habits of long standing. During this season of colds, Penetro is so helpful in easing chest muscle tightness, soothing chest rawness, loosening phlegm and relieving coughs. Rubbed on chest, throat, back it melts instantly, quickly vanishes to act 3 ways—(1) To relieve pain at nerve ends in skin. (2) To ease chest muscle tightness by counter-irritation. (3) To soothe irritated breath passages through inhaled aromatic vapors.

Many households call Penetro a real friend in so many other ways, too—as it eases neuralgic and rheumatic pain, takes sting from chapped lips and nostrils, acts as soothing dressing for bruises, minor cuts. No wonder mothers today are praising Penetro and druggists everywhere are recommending it. So clean, so white, so easy-to-use and such a comfort-bringer for so many simple every day home needs. Do as millions are doing—today get your jar of economical Penetro. Adv.

TEEN-AGE GIRLS

WONDER why cosmetic manufactures have not done more about creating make-up aids for the teen-age girl. Perhaps something has been done that has not been brought to our attention. Little girls are going to gild the lily, no matter what their mothers say or do. When we were in school we knew girls who did not dare use rouge and lipstick until safely out of their mothers' sight and then they went to work with a gusto known only to savages. The result was somewhat startling.

We think a smart mother will see about cosmetics for her young fry daughter. By their own we mean soaps, creams and even make-up aids formulated for teen-age complexions. And here is where a manufacturer of cosmetics might take a hint. These preparations could be geared to the needs of over-active adolescent skins, doing corrective work if blackheads, pimples and acne are threats, while disguised as beautifiers.

No one who has not gone through the stage can understand the agony that can be caused by a blotched skin. To think that some one cared enough to create a preparation for her alone would do a lot toward buoying up the spirts of such a young person. Perhaps that will be one of the cosmetics needs to be met in the post-war world.

GET IN TRIM

BEFORE unveiling your midriff this spring—click fashion in everything from play duds to dance frocks—better haul out your exercise mat and start flexing muscles. A middle is no place for flabby flesh if it's going to be bared to the world.

Good exercise to take—good because it builds strong abdominal muscles and a fine front-line defense against bulges — is taken lying down flat on your back with arms at sides.

If you're all set, doll-waisted Lois Collier—"Jungle Queen" star—whose exercise it is, will call the turns. First, keep your torso stationary and shoulders down.

Next, say Lois, pull knees to chest, then straightening legs, swing to the left, circling from left to right three times before returning to position. Relax, and swing to the right in the same routine, never once giving in to the temptation to touch the floor with your feet.

Fifth Assembly For Hub-ettes Tonight

Tht fifth meeting of the Hubette assembly will be at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Lubbock hotel ballroom on personal improvement, under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Holden. The program will include a self-analysis test and skits on introductions.

Those who will be presented in the skits are Misses Johnnie Cooper, Thelma Boggess, Frances Clark, Sally Temple, Frances McArthur, Elorine Jones, Jane Hiatt, Billie Berry, Sue Tyson, Dorothy Skibinski, Billie Crausbay and Louise Schoonvelt.

Next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the ballroom a compulsory make-up meeting on rules and regulations will be held for Hub-ettes who did not attend the first compulsory meeting Dec. 14. If both of these meetings are missed, members not attending will be placed indefinitely on an inactive list.

Protests Made On Farmer Drafting

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Protests resounded in the House today over the drafting of farm workers, and there were echoes elsewhere.

Prompted by a remark yesterday by Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey that about half of all farm workers under 26 probably will be called by mid-year, three members took the House floor in rapid succession.

"What's become of the Tydings amendment (providing for deferment of farm help)?" demanded Rep. Hope (R-Kas). "It took all the available farm workers to produce last year's crop. We can't produce more food as WFA demands this year if these farmers are called in the draft."

"What's the point of sending 20,00 men to MacArthur if we can't produce the food to maintain them?" asked Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich).

Rep. Madden (D-Ind), declaring many local draft boards are not aware of the Tydings amendment, added: "Wherever there is discrimination against farmers it probably is due to the fact that local boards don't realize they have the final say in such matters."

UNCLE SAM TO HAND OUT 32,000,000 EXTRA RED POINTS

The greatest windfall of extra red points ever is going this month, and each month following, to American housewives throughout the country.

32 million extra red points, approximately, will be handed out by meat dealers to customers who turn in used fats in a great Victory drive for this essential of medicines, gunpowder, synthetic rubber, soaps, paints and a hundred other necessities on the battlefield and home front. For each pound of fats turned in, every housewife is entitled to 2 red points.

The need for used fats is still urgent. Women are urged to save every drop, every spoonful of grease possible and keep saving until final Victory over both Germany and Japan.

Rankin To Continue Dies Committee Fight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) said last night he would carry on the fight begun by former Rep. Martin Dies of Texas on un-American activities.

Accepting membership on the new House Committee on Un-American Activities, the Mississippian said in a radio address over Columbia Broadcasting system:

"Un-American elements who are poison in the blood stream of the nation will be constantly under the eyes of the committee."

Rankin said he would accept membership on the committee "to assist in steering (it) on a course that will reach all forms on un-American activities, whether they be in high or low places, and to preserve the valuable records of the Dies committee."

Rankin recently led the successful fight to make the Committee on Un-American Activities a permanent arm of Congress.

Sen. Hatch Favors Council Of Allies

CLOVIS, N. M., Jan. 17. (AP)—Declaring "unilateral determination of urgent problems has caused uneasiness if not alarm in this country," Sen. Hatch (D-NM) voiced "strong approval" of a proposal by Sen. Connally (D-Tex) for establishment of a United Nation council.

"United action by the Allies on major problems will bring support here, even though the decisions may not be all we desire," Hatch predicted. "I surely hope our Allies will agree to this proposal.

"I am not agreed that foreign policy should not be discussed in the senate," Hatch added. "I think it is very necessary."

Stettinius Favors Ministers' Meetings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Secretary Stettinius said today he personally favored periodic meetings of Allied foreign minitsers to discuss current political problems.

His frank endorsement at a press conference of the proposal made by Foreign Minister Eden of Britain for tightening Anglo-American-Russian cooperation sternghened speculation here that the system actually would be adopted..

Senators Asked To Reinstate Rainey

AUSTIN, Jan. 17. (U.P.)—Texas Senators were petitioned today for the reinstatment of Dr. Homer P. Rainey as president of the University of Texas by the academic council of the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties.

Bearing 832 names of individuals and organizations, the petition also asked the Senators to "insure reorganization of the board of regents to more truly reflect democratic aspirations."

Signed by no-Texans, the petition said: "We sincerely believe that this situation has implications far beyond the borders of Texas. It affects the welfare of the state."

Among signers, many of them educators, were Marc Connelly, playwright and Miss Margaret Webster, noted Shakesperian director.

Action on Gov. Coke R. Stevenson's non-partisan appointees for regents of the university was delayed by the Senate committee on governor's nominations at the first meeting of the committee here yesterday afternoon. The way was cleared for studying regents by recommending senate confirmation of a list of more than 200 appointees named between sessions of the legislature.

Rockefeller Named Leading Young Man

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (AP)—The "nation's outstanding young man" of 1944, as adjudged by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, is Nelson A. Rockefeller, assistant secretary of state and son of John D. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's name headed the list of the "ten outstanding young men of 1944" announced last night by Mearns T. Gates, junior chamber president. Two of the group included Associated Press War Correspondents Harold V. Boyle and Daniel De Luce.

Secret Report Said Planned For Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Members of Congress are going to hear a secret war report at a meeting so hush-hush even its location is a secret.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky said General of the Army George C. Marshall and Admiral of the Fleet Ernest J. King will submit confidential reports on battlefront developments at the gathering Jan. 24.

Woman's 'Petticoats' Missing From Car

HOUSTON, Jan. 17 (U.P.)—Houston police had a petticoat puzzle on their hands last night. But the explanation was a lot simpler than they thought it would be.

"My petticoats have been stolen," cried a highly-agitated voice on the telephone.

"What?" gulped the police clerk.

"My petticoats have been stolen off the rear of my car," said the feminine voice, making matters even more perplexing.

It was only after several minutes that the clerk got what she meant.

The fender skirts on the woman's automobile had been stolen.

Laborites Support Greek ELAS Forces

LONDON, Jan. 17. (U.P.)—Laborites tried vainly in Commons today to force a pledge from Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden that British forces would not be used to destroy Leftist ELAS forces in Greece in support of the Plastiras government.

Eden sidestepped the question and asked the house to await Prime Minister Churchill's speech on the Greek situation tomorrow.

Emanuel Shinwell said that unless the government made clear that it would not support a purge of the ELAS, it would meet the "full hostility" of many members.

Eden said King George of Greece had given Archbishop Damaskinos a free hand as regent.

For Joyful Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

Real Relief. Big Saving. So Easy. No Cooking.

This splendid recipe is used by millions every year, because it makes such a dependable, effective medicine for coughs due to colds. It's so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any druggist get 2¼ ounces of Pinex, a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial membranes.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. It's no trouble at all. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of very effective and quick-acting cough medicine, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be amazed by the way it takes hold of coughs, giving you delightful relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

SPAAF Five Invades Pampa To Play Goober Keyes' Team

South Plains Army Air Field's Winged Commandos, with one of the highest scoring cage squads in the entire state ready to swing back into the win column, invade Pampa tonight to tangle with Pampa Army Air Field's hardwood team in what promises to be another thriller.

SPAAF had chalked up three lopsided decisions over Childress Army Air Field, Amarillo Army Air Field and Carlsbad Army Air Field last week before tangling with the tall Phillips 66 Oilers Monday night. The National AAU champion Phillips team caught the Commandos off form and plastered a decisive 88 to 57 setback on the SPAAF record. However, Coach Ray Cagni has had his cagers bearing down the past two days and tonight they are expected to be ready to take up where they left off in last week's high scoring sprees.

Tonight's game in Pampa will find an old rivalry being renewed between the north Texas city and Lubbock and also will find a former Lubbock High School coach, Lieut. J. G. Keyes who is now in charge of the Pampa team, out to hand the Commandos a setback. Pampa chalked up a close 33 to 32 overtime triumph Tuesday night over Lubbock Army Air Field on the Fliers' court. LAAF holds a 50 to 47 decision over the Commandos, an indication that tonight's fray also may be a close one.

The Commandos came out of the Phillips tussle with all hands in good shape and ready to meet some of the toughest opposition of the season.

A game with Abilene Army Air Field scheduled for Friday night at SPAAF has been cancelled by the Abilene team.

Spinach is probably of Persian origin, and was introduced into Europe about the 15th century.

Haegg US Bound, Dodds To Retire

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP) — Word was received from Stockholm today that Gunder Haegg, Swedish track star, had completed plan for his winter trip to the United States just a few hours after Gil Dodds, expected to be his major American rival, said he would be unable to compete during the coming season.

Charles Jannson, secretary of the Swedish amateur athletic group, told the Associated Press in Stockholm that all the plans had been completed for the journey of Haegg and hurdler Hakon Lidman to reach the U. S. Feb. 2.

Dodds, who lowered the indoor mile time to 4:06.4 at Chicago last spring, announced his retirement in a letter to Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, in which he said that he expected to leave Boston Sunday for Los Angeles to take up ministerial duties with a gospel group.

The native Nebraskan completes his study at the Gordon Theological school this week. He may compete in a two-mile race at the Boston Y Saturday.

With Dodds out of the indoor track picture this winter, much of Haegg's competition is expected to be furnished by Jim Rafferty of New York, who has done 4:11; and Rudy Simms, ineligible New York university athlete who is the national 1,500-meter king.

School studies are expected to keep Don Burnham, former Dartmouth ace now taking a medical course, and Michigan's Hume brothers out of the limelight. Bill Hulse, holder of the American outdoor mark at 4:06, is a Naval ensign.

Frogs Nose Out Mustangs, 52-46

FORT WORTH, Jan. 17. (AP) — Paced by Gene Schmidt and Leroy Pasco, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs staged a second half rally to defeat a favored Southern Methodist quintet here tonight, 52-46.

Schmidt poured 21 points through the mesh for high scoring honors.

TCU took an early lead but fell behind 11-6 midway of the second quarter. SMU held a 25 to 22 lead at the half but early in the second period the Frogs hung up an advantage that they never relinquished.

USO Baseball Group Returns From Tour

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP)—Leo Durocher and the other members of a Mediterranean USO-baseball troupe got so close to the front lines that once the Germans captured their movie projector and generator.

Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was a member of the group, led by Sports Writer Tom Meany of the newspaper PM, that traveled 20,000 miles in 42 days and returned home for its first report today.

Others in the group were outfielder Joe Medwick of the New York Giants and first baseman Nick Etten of the New York Yankees. Etten did not attend today's press conference, having left for his home in Chicago.

Meany said audiences ranged from 9,500 to 200 although one show drew an audience of "exactly zero because the mud was waist-deep and the boys just couldn't get through."

"Although the usual routine called for a showing of the 1944 World Series movie and a general sports quiz and question session," said Meany, "There was one GI group in Northern Italy that was cheated out of the picture! When we arrived for the show which was held in a pitch dark tent, we were told the film could not be shown because the Germans had captured the projector and generating equipment that afternoon."

CAGERS ARE BAREFOOTED

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 17. (AP) —Three members of St. Mary's High school basketball team of Bismarck are practicing in stocking feet—but not from choice! Their basketball shoes were stolen from their lockers this week.

Army Starts Tearing Down Rambler Eleven

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 17. (AP) — The mighty Randolph Field team that gave the Southwest its greatest football has been shattered with key members in other assignments — some of them across the seas—but the boys left plenty to be remembered by.

A check-up today revealed that the Ramblers, who swept through eleven games undefeated and untied and were ranked by many as the top team of the nation, played before 178,500 fans and contributed $60,000 to Army charities.

Among players who have already departed for overseas assignment are Guard Jack Freeman, Fullback Clint White and End Harold Newman. Tackle Walter Merrill is definitely out of 1945 plans. He underwent a major operation last week that closed his football career.

Coach Frank Fritico has a new primary duty assignment — one that won't blend well with coaching duties.

Others have passed on, or will soon, and it is doubtful if there's ever again the possibility of assembling at Randolph Field an aggregation equal to the 1944 outfit that rolled up 441 points to 19 and gained better than two miles rushing and passing.

The squad was organized with the idea of contributing to Army relief. All receipts went for that purpose. In the meantime, the Ramblers showed the greatest team ever to trod the gridiron in Texas.

BOWLERS' HOLIDAY

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (AP) — Two thousand bowlers, lured from 24 states and Canada by a total of $82,400 in cash prizes, will gather in Chicago next weekend to make this city the world's bowling capitol. For 16 days most of the nation's top keglers will batter the maples in one of bowling's richest get-togethers.

Hub Laundry Retains Bowling Loop Lead

Hub Laundry held it's own Wednesday night in the City-Commercial bowling race at the Plamor alleys, taking two out of three games over Armour's to remain two games out in front in the league standing.

Meads Bakery won three in a row over S. & Q. Clothiers for the only clean sweep of the night. The Optimist club five bumped DeKalb Oilers for two wins, and the Lions club took a pair from Coca-Cola in the other games.

Scoring honors for the night went to Leo Bell of the Lions club and J. K. Giles of Hub Laundry. Bell toppled 224 pins in one game for single honors, while Gile stied together three good games for a 613 pin series for the best three game total of the night.

Former LSU Gridder Missing In Action

HOUSTON, Jan. 17. (AP) — Lieut. (j.g.) Young Bussey, one time captain of the Louisiana State university football team, is missing in action, the Navy informed his mother, Mrs. Katie Lee Bussey, tonight.

After leaving L. S. U. he became a member of the Chicago Bears professional squad.

No other information was made available to his mother.

Mrs. Bussey said that her son had been on a destroyer in the Pacific and had participated in action at Guam for which his unit received a Presidential citation.

Kiwanis, Lions Bowl In Challenge Battle

Accepting a challenge issued by the Lions club bowling team, the Kiwanis club bowlers will meet the Lions keglers at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Lubbock Bowling club.

The Kiwanians' team will be made up of five picked men from the four teams of the Kiwanis league which bowls each Monday night at Lubbock Bowling club. The Lions club team bowls in the City Commercial league Wednesday nights at the Plamor lanes.

Here's Your Manpower!

U. S., States Employ 6,503,000

THE Bureau of the Census has announced that there were 6,503,000 civilian employes of government in the United States during 1944. Of this total, 3,168,000 were employed by state and local governmental units —spread out over more than 155,000 separate bodies—counties, towns, townships, cities, school and other special districts.

The federal government employed 3,335,000, or more than all the units of the 48 state governments combined. The Census bureau estimates the 1944 population at 138,100,874, which means that for every 20 persons—or every eight employed persons—in the United States, one was employed by government.

These figures are especially interesting at this time when official Washington professes to be upset over the manpower shortage on the home front and the President is calling for regimentation of all adults so they may be shifted and pushed from one job to another at the whim of the politicians—a system, incidentally, in vogue in Russia. The figures are interesting, too, in the light of congressional plans to cut taxes as soon as the European end of the war has been successfully concluded.

The idea of government's employing one worker in every eight in the nation fits nicely into the New Deal's political theory of "Tammany Hall on a Nation-wide Basis," and "you take care of us on election day and we'll take care of you on the other 364 days of the year."

But from the standpoint of the nation's war effort, and of economy in government, John tax payer's being such an over-all employed is not helpful—it is hurtful to the nation.

Japs Learn The Hard Way

TWO months ago, Jap Premier Koiso described the Philippine Islands as "a vital area which must be held secure." Later he declared the fighting in the Philippines would "decide the trend of the war." Then Masanori Ito, a Japanese military commentator, made the statement that "even though she should lose the Battle of the Philippines, Japan will not lay down her arms," and Saburo Kurusu said Sunday that "the loss of a few Philippine Islands would mean nothing in the over-all picture of the war."

Well, nobody expects Japan to lay down her arms if—not when—she loses the Philippines. The Japanese have to learn their lessons the hard way and the Allied board of strategy plans to hold class exactly along these lines. But the sequence of three statements above is interesting. It almost looks as if Japanese military experts are trying to discount defeat. Certainly it's a far cry from that arrogant business about dictating peace terms in the White House.

But no matter how many statements are made by Japanese military experts, or how much they may seek to discount the loss of this or that battle, the United States is committed to the policy of carrying the war to the Japanese homeland and enforcing Japan's complete surrender. There is no tendency to minimize the toughness of that job, but neither is there any doubt that that is the way the war will be won.

"Butter" Pays For "Guns"

STATISTICS show that when war is waged jewelry sales swing upward. The tax rate on jewelry was doubled early last year, but this had no effect on sales and tax collections increased substantially. In 1942, this tax yielded $42,000,000, in 1943, $88,000,000, and in 1944, $113,600,000.

Taxes on furs and cosmetics also show similar increases in revenue. It is estimated that luxury taxes on jewelry, furs, cosmetics, liquors, tobecco and admissions are now bringing in more than $4,000,000,000 a year.

According to a statement issued by the Tax Institute of New York, a research agency, the tax on alcoholic beverages is making the greatest contribution toward paying the money costs of the war. In 1941 it netted $820,000,000. By 1944 it had almost doubled, amounting to $1,618,000,000. Tobacco taxes jumped from $689,000,000 to $988,000,000.

Although it is widely claimed that no nation can have both "butter and guns," our country, now in its fourth year of a global war, seems thus far to have been able to have both. But since so many of us insist upon having luxuries, come what may, the fact that these luxuries contribute so heavily to the cost of waging war is the bright spot in the whole business.

Hitler has probably caused his ears to enlarge by straining them listening for the crack of Germany's doom.

"Poor Daddy!" Margaret sniffed when Jennifer had left them. "She wraps you round her little finger. It's nothing to you how late she stays out with that Tom Beckley!"

He startled her by a burst of laughter. "It all comes back to me. You are your own mother saying the same things she said when I used to bring you home late. She was always sitting up waiting for you. If she caught a glimpse of me she gave me hell. I remember one night — many nights—when you said to me, 'Beloved'—that's what you called me then—'Beloved,' you said, 'what are we going to do about Mother? She still wears a bustle on her brain and hobble skirts on her legs.' That's what you used to say."

What she said now was supposed to be very withering:

"What did you have to drink at the club? You must have stayed quite a while at the 19th hole."

He withered into his own room, feeling like a widower with a surly housekeeper replacing his lost wife. His eyes ran lonely along the bookshelves where a few old books had been left by a previous tenant. Walt picked up the first one his hand fell on; a little collection of miscellaneous poetry. Old flattened flowers fell out of it, or stuck to the pages they had stained with their lifeblood, mere blots now. He had to smile at a quatrian of Oliver Herford's:

"Gather rosebuds while ye may
For time brings naught but sorrow;
The pretty kittnes of today
Will be old cats tomorrow."

On another page he read a more ancient stanga:

"I loved thee beautiful and kind
And plighted an eternal vow;
So altered are thy face and mind,
'Twere perjury to love thee now."

The icy epigram was like a slap in the face. It was his own story Yet it had happened a hundred years before to somebody else. Perhaps it had always been happening.

He had married one Margaret and he lived with another. His bride had gone away and he was keeping her successor as a kind of loveless mistress. Margaret herself was the perjurer; unfaithful to her earlier self; unfaithful to all her highest duties.

Without thinking of the same words, he was thinking what Len had expressed as "Breach of Promise." Margaret was not keeping one of the promises she had made.

The living fruit of that dead marriage broke in on his brooding now. Jennifer had changed to a simple dinner gown, a very simple gown, a tight sheath, hardly more than a calxy from which the flower of her body seemed about to leap. But Margaret cried after her in scorn:

"Look at her! She's indecent!"

Jennifer laughed back:

"What I'm built like is no Information Please. Everybody in town has seen me in a bathing suit. Why aren't you dressing for dinner yourself?"

Margaret was taken by surprise. "Me dress for dinner? With nobody here but your father?"

"Nobody but my father! Poor Dad!"

Unable to think up a quick retort, Margaret took refuge in her radio. Jennifer closed the door on the racket and appealed earnestly to Walt. She was all atremble as she broached the dreadful subject: "What are we going to do about Mother?"

"Do about Mother?"

"Daddy, I love you so my heart is breaking. I love Mamma, too, but—she's letting this home crack up and founder. Mother must have been wonderful once. I remember what she was when I was a little girl; how you two were so close. But it's been years since she has treated you like anything but a case of the hives.

"Is it something biological, Dad? So many married women—and men, too—act as if they had never loved each other. It makes me wonder if I'll go the same way and break my husband's heart. That's what makes me keep putting off marriage." She gave him a shy, deprecatory smile. "I've been asked. And now Tom Beckley is begging me to marry him so that we can spend his furlough together. Of course, I hardly know him. But who knows anybody? You and Mama must have felt the same way. I love her, but what if I should turn out to be like her as a wife?"

Hilyard felt cold. Hadn't he heard Margaret say those very same words about her own mother once? Yet there are certain things one must never admit. Jennifer ran on:

"She's so horribly insincere—except with you and me. When she meets outsiders she puts on airs and plays the snob till I want to scream at her. When she gets superior she's simply pitiful. You are always considerate, chivalrous, gallant; but Mama's as rude to you in public as she is in private. What can we do about her? —and for her?—and for you?"

He could think of no answer that would not be outrageously unjust either to the wife and mother whom he must always defend from attack, or to the daughter whom he must defend from life.

(To Be Continued)

Abilene Flier "Out Cold" After Rescue

EIGHTH U. S. AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Jan. 17. (U.P.)—First Lt. Huie Lamb, jr., of Abilene, Tex., had no pulse when they pulled him out of the icy North sea. Shock had just about killed him and he was "out cold," his rescuers said.

But the next day, Lamb, who hit the sea in his burning fighter plane and spent 15 minutes in the cold water getting his dinghy to work, was sitting up in bed, complaining because they kept him there when his only injury was a cut lip.

Law On Ticket "Black Market" Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP) — Attorney General Francis Biddle proposed to Congress Monday the enactment of legislation to wipe out so-called black markets in the sale of railroad tickets.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) said Biddle told a closed session of the Senate Judiciary committee he would send up a bill aimed at "black markets" generally.

This legislation, McCarran said, would make it a criminal offense to "split money" with purchasers of tickets or of any services or commodities at above ceiling prices.

TO PROSECUTE SUSPECTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Assistant Attorney General Tom C. Clark of Dallas is one of two attorneys designated by Attorney General Biddle to represent the Justice department in prosecution of two men, suspects as German agents, who landed on the Maine coast from a submarine Nov. 29.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

THE War Production board in Washington is testing a one-room paper house which may solve the home problems for very many people.

The building is made entirely of water-proof paper, except for 49 pounds of glue, some metal fasteners, plastic windows, and a little wood for the window-frames. The total cost of the materials is about $50, and to that will have to be added the manufacturing cost.

Two workmen set up the test house in 59 minutes. It can be dissembled in a half hour.

The house is 16 feet long, eight feet wide and eight feet high. The furnishings in the test house include rugs, cups and plates made of paper and the heat comes from a laundry-size coal stove.

Nothing is said in the report about a garden of paper flowers.

Sounds pretty awful, doesn't it?

And yet, it doesn't sound much more awful to me than some of these modernistic atrocities that you see pictured and described so much these days in most of the magazines.

Oh, I guess it is wonderful to have all those now-fangled gadgets and all those electrical devices and improvements which are going to make housekeeping so easy that a girl will be able to step right out of a burlesque dressing room into the role of a housewife.

But let me tell you my idea of HOME

To me HOME is a dream come true.

To me HOME is something for which you worked and saved, yes and slaved, for years, until finally the time comes when you and your wife go home-hunting.

"You'll probably look for years before you find it. You'll probably buy something much more expensive than you have a right to. You'll buy a bigger place than you have planned and place where there is much more work than you had intended to do.

But you'll love it, because it's yours. You'll love it because at last you have put down roots. You'll love it because now you own a piece of America, because now you have become an American.

Somehow I can't imagine our boys fighting for a bunch of rent-receipts or for a hotel room key.

Somehow I can't think of George Washington or Abraham Lincoln as tenants. Not that living in an apartment or a rented house or even a furnished room is a disgrace.

But I have yet to meet the first person who is really happy in temporary quarters. I have yet to meet the first tenant who isn't dreaming of his own home that he will have some day.

BUT I can't imagine myself living in a paper-house.

Give me something that is substantial—personally I like the old houses, that's why I bought that kind of a place.

In that home of ours people have lived and loved and died. In that home of ours we feel happy but humble.

We know that it has been there long before us and that it will still be here long after we are gone.

And that kind of a home seems to say to you:

"Live while you may. Here is an heritage. It was handed down to you clean. Keep it clean. Turn it over clean to those who come after you."

No our home, was not put up in 59 minutes. It has taken a hundred years to build and it isn't finished yet.

Because our home isn't just a house—but a dream come true.

"Dis-United Nations?"

"Influence Spheres" Split Allies

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

LEADERS of a secret psychological warfare group have returned to this country with sensational stories of anti-American diplomatic intrigues in the European theaters of war. After scoring great success in the North African, Sicilian and Italian sectors, they were virtually thrown out of other vital areas because of British, Russian and French opposition.

The mission was entirely military in character, and had no connection with the work of the Office of War Information. Their objective was to organize and instruct underground, sabotage and propaganda forces in enemy territory. Time and again carefully picked squads were dropped behind hostile trenches amidst friendly populations, where they held classes for the benefit of our guerrilla allies.

TUCKER

Their lives were in deadly peril every minute of the night and day. They wore regulation uniforms so that they could not be classed as spies, but Axis troops rarely abided by the international conventions which entitled them to the status of prisoners of war. Gen. Eisenhower has testified that their work proved highly effective in the invasion of Sicily and Italy.

These advance agents were in large measure responsible for the harassing operations which impeded the Germans before and after our landings on the Mediterranean island and in Mussolini's former homeland. Frequently they captured enemy communiques which cited them as a major threat to the Axis defenders.

They taught behind-the-lines fighters to operate in an organized rather than in a sporadic manner. They warned partisans not to waste their lives and power by minor or premature uprisings, but to postpone their attacks until our troops were ready to push forward. In the ensuing confusion it would be far easier to commit depredations than when there was no large-scale action along the front.

They gave lectures and presented motion pictures of the growing might of the Allied Army, Navy and Air Forces. They ran reels which carried stories of German atrocities and stiffened civilian resistance. They also provided arms and ammunition of large and small caliber.

POACHING: When our invading armies had conquered Siciily and progressed north of Rome in Italy, this special band packed its motion picture paraphernalia, phamphlets on underground tactics and weapons and moved into the Balkans. American headquarters considered the peninsula to be extremely fertile soil because of the mountainous terrain and the rugged independence of the native population.

But our men had hardly set up shop before they were politely invited by the Russians to move out. In blunt language Moscow's agents explained that they regarded the Balkans as their sphere of military influence and operation, and they wanted no reinforcements from outsiders. There was nothing for our men to do but skedaddle, especially as they received no support from the State department in Washington.

Next they transferred their equipment to Greece, most of which was then in the hands of the Germans. But they had no sooner arrived there than the British gave them the same sort of ultimatum that they had received earlier from the Russians. England looked on Hellas as her domain and wanted no poaching.

In short, long before the United States had even a vague hint of an apparent London-Moscow agreement for a division of territorial spoils in eastern Europe, this small advance party was aware of it. It has returned to Washington more disillusioned over the United Nations' war aims than the administration's most severe critics on Capitol Hill.

The American experts in guerrilla warfare were also to leave France, but for different reasons. The French have had five years in which to perfect this kind of fighting, and they needed no lessons. In fact, they were able to teach a few new tricks to our contingent.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

BEHIND the drastic fuel-saving orders issued suddenly by War Mobilizer Byrnes is a crisis that developed in a few days from snowbanks blocking deliveries from the mines.

As soon as these melt or can be shoveled away, conditions may improve. Leaders in the trade expect supplies to be tight. But neither a prolonged famine nor rationing is anticipated at present.

A survey made by the Bituminous Coal Institute in New York reveals the following as the basis for the federal decrees: The Middle West and central states have been in the grip of blizzards and cold waves. Chicago temperatures last week dropped to subzero with icy winds blowing in from the lake. Between upper New York and the Mississippi drifts ranged from three to 13 feet.

This completely paralyzed the movement of coal cars from the West Virginia and Kentucky pits. At one period only four through lines were in operation from Buffalo to points west. Yards everywhere were at a standstill. Conditions were worse on branch routes.

Mine operators couldn't get back cars previously dispatched to the area between Indiana and St. Louis. If on top of all these disasters a new storm buries the railroads or low temperatures impede switching activities, a No. 1 temporary emergency may hit the nation.

HARDSHIP: Until the break comes, household and commercial consumers must dig into a stock pile of 70 million tons of bituminous. Unless this reserve can be replenished swiftly, we may be down to a month's supply before the end of March—the real danger mark. The stepped-up war production program will gouge deeply into factory and dealer bins.

Commercial anthracite output has dipped. Heavy drains have been made recently on fuel oil tanks. At the moment sufficient soft coal is being shipped to the metallurigical industries—steel, coke and gas.

Last winter was an open one. Despite war demands, the nation squeezed through without undue hardship. But already 1944-45 has been cold and snowy. If it keeps up there may be real trouble.

LABOR: Solid Fuels Administrator Ickes declares that coal requirements are 620 million tons as against an estimated 580 million available, necessitating a minimum reduction in consumption of 25 million tons.

Experts maintain that "Honest Harold" likes to paint alarming pictures to scare people and that his former dire prophecies did not come true.

Before bad weather set in, the bituminous industry was confident that it could meet demands. In 1944 it chalked down new production records for the third successive year. Stock piles have increased every month since last April, regardless of a substantial loss in mine labor, by absenteeism and through worn-out equipment.

We would be worse off than we are now had not farsighted owners been prepared. In the past 20 years around 400 million dollars was spent on mechanization. Machines today cut 90 per cent of all soft coal; power drills punch 70 per cent of the holes for blasting; 45 per cent of our black diamonds are mechanically loaded. America can turn out a ton for half the cost of a ton produced in Wales.

Machinery has lifted production from an average of 3¾ to 5¼ tons per man daily. And most miners have patriotically "worked their heads off" to keep the home fires burning.

Here And There In Texas

Quirks Of The Legislature

By GORDON SHEARER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN.—Seventeen newspaper representatives attended Gov. Coke R. Stevenson's press conference recently, setting a new high for attendance.

Besides the usual group of press service men and correspondents of papers that keep a permanent staff in Austin, there were representatives from many papers who were in Austin for the opening of the state legislature.

The size of the group brought about the first "standing conference." It was such a time-saver that correspondents suggested that while the legislature is in session, such standing conferences be the rule.

Usually chairs are taken into the governor's private office for a sitting conference. This causes little confusion when there are a few, but try dragging 17 chairs in and out of doorway and you can tell about the loss of time and confusion.

There's another reason — on their feet the correspondents are not prone to drag out the conference.

In his long tenure of the office, the governor has never been one to suggest that a press conference is over. They break up, usually, like a friends meeting — just whenever one of the attendants suggests it's time to go.

Gilmer Gets Good Star

Like special days at county fairs, but of a serious nature, it was really 'Gilmer and Edwards County Day" at the opening of the 49th session of the Texas House of Representatives.

By unanimous vote, Rep. Claude Gilmer, formerly of Rocksprings and now of Kerrville, was elected speaker and listeners appeared impressed with the sincerity and calmness of the hill country lawyer.

Gilmer heard himself praised in glowing terms by four speakers and when it came his time to talk he jestingly said it appeared the some folks certinly were fooled.

But leaving levity, Gilmer told members he hoped he would continue to merit their confidence and trust, pledging his best efforts toward duties of the session.

GILMER and his wife are the same age. Both were born in 1901, he in Ewards county and she in Runnels. They were schoolmates and sweethearts.

For eight years Gilmer served as county judge of Edwards county and during his three races as a member of the legislature he has never had opposition.

The Gilmers have two children, Norma Jean, 20, and Carson, 17. Carson is as much a "real boy" — both in actions and appearance— as his sister is a young lady.

Incident Amuses Solons

Nothing so weighty as the opening of a legislative session can pass without some amusing incidents.

In the House, first off there was a roll call — two of them in fact — by legislative districts and then in alphabetical order of members' names.

When reading Clerk Frances Dalton pronounced the name L. L. Duckett, East Bernard, there was no response ,until a child broke the silence by crying "No." That attracted Duckett and he spoke for himself.

The public address system in the commodious House went on the blink while Secretary of State Sidney Latham was administering the oath of office to Gilmer.

Rep. M. B. Morgan, Denison, was to introduce Gilmer formally, but the public address system was still out. Suddenly, in the middle of a word the system began to work, nearly knocking out strained ears.

"This thing suddenly began to talk," observed Morgan. "I don't know if I've been talking to myself or not."

AS GILMER was speaking after the P. A. was all right, technicians in the booth above the speaker's rostrum began explaining to each other what had caused the system to go out.

Their voices became louder and louder as they did not realize people throughout the House could hear them.

Finally, Gilmer cocked his head upward and commented:

"I believe I have a little competition upstairs."

That ended the conversation of the technicians.

The Smiths Have It!

Smith is the most frequent name on the House roll call. There are six. Next in frequency is the name Moore and there are three. There are two each for Jones, Mangum, Bell, Pruett and Lock. But one Brown is in the House.

THE U. S. Supreme court decision that the Manford Labor Regulating act of Texas was unconstitutional in requiring paid labor organizers to register came pust after the Secretary of State's office had issued an order for 5,000 sets of blanks upon which to receive the annual financial statements required under the act.

Now the order may be held up to see what the Texas Third court of Civil Appeals does in regard to other sections of the act.

Assist. Atty. Gen. Fagan Dickson, who fought the case through to the U. S. Supreme court for the state, construed the decision as holding that labor organizers are free agents who cannot be subjected to state regulation because, he said, the registration requirement was as light as it could be made. No fee was charged and the Secretary of State was given no right to refuse registration.

The muskrat brings the greatest financial return of any single furbearer in the United States, figuring total receipts.

ed up with strikes around Luzon, then back to Formosa, and all the way to the China coast. Tremendous damage was wreaked by the surprise air thrust at Indo-China, Admiral Schoeffle said, and in a single day there 130,000 tons of shipping were destroyed.

Across town, an Army Air force spokesman radiated confidence in the success of future air operations, especially when Luzon and the Manila harbor is secured.

He told reporters submarines and land-based bombers from Luzon then will just about cut off Japan from any of her territories to the south. Even now, the Nipponese can operate only one convoy route from the Dutch East Indies, Siam and Burma and that is under almost constant attack.

As a result, he said, shortages of essential materials are causing concern in Japan. The enemy, he added, apparently has no sizeable stockpiles which he can tap by rail or other inland communications.

NOTICE OF FORMATION OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP

We, CARL J. WESTLUND, GEORGE G. JOHNSON and FOREST R. LOWREY, have this day entered into a limited partnership in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 105 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925 as amended relating to limited partnerships and do hereby certify that the terms of our partnership are as follows:

1. The name of firm under which the partnership is to be conducted is Westlund and Johnson.
2. The general nature of the business to be transacted is that of drilling oil and gas wells, buying and selling oil, gas and mineral leases and interests, and producing, marketing and transporting oil, gas and other minerals.
3. The general partners are CARL J. WESTLUND and GEORGE G. JOHNSON, of Lubbock, Texas, and the special partner is FOREST R. LOWREY, 230 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.
4. Forest R. Lowrey, the special partner, has contributed cash to the common stock of the firm in the amount of $2,000.00.
5. The period at which the partnership is to commence in January 1, 1945, and the period at which it is to terminate is January 1, 1950.

Witness our hands this the 16th day of December, 1944.

CARL J. WESTLUND,
GEORGE G. JOHNSON,
General Partners.
FOREST R. LOWREY,
Special Partner.

I, county clerk of Lubbock county, Texas, hereby designate Lubbock Morning Avalanche as the newspaper in which publication of the above notice shall be made in accordance with the provisions of Article 6118, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925.

Witness my hand this the 17th day of January, 1945.

LOUIE F. MOORE,
County Clerk, Lubbock County, Texas,
By FLOE SWENSON, Deputy
(Seal)

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Zoning Commission has recommended to the City Commission that the Zoning Ordinance be amended so that all the property abutting on Avenue J from a point One Hundred Twenty Five (125) Feet South of 19th street to 26th street be taken out of the "C," "D" and "J" Districts and placed in the "K" District.

A public hearing to consider the recommendation of the Zoning Commission and to determine the advisability of amending the Zoning Ordinance to comply with the recommendations of the Zoning Commission will be held in the City Commission room on the second floor of the City Hall, at 7:30 p. m., January 25, 1945. At this hearing all interested persons will be given an opportunity to protest against said proposed amendment or make recommendations in favor of the same.

Consideration will also be given at this hearing to the widening of Avenue "J" from 19th street to 26th street.

After said hearing the City Commission will then determine whether or not it will amend the Zoning Ordinance in accordance with the recommendations of the Zoning Commission.

Attest: O. W. RIBBLE, Mayor
LAVENIA WILLIAMS,
City Secretary.

NOTICE FOR BIDS ON COUNTY DEPOSITORY

The Commissioners' Court of Lubbock county, Texas, will receive bids at the county courthouse on or before February 12th, A. D., 1945, at 9:00 a. m. o'clock for a county depository for county funds, school funds and for trust funds held by the county and district clerks. All bids will be opened at 9:00 a. m. o'clock on February 12th, 1945, and all proposals must be in the hands of the court by that hour. The undersigned will receive all bids for county depository for county and school funds and the county clerk will receive all bids for county depository for all trust funds. All proposals for county depository for county and school funds must be accompanied by a cashier's check for $5,000, payable to the undersigned, and all bids for county depository for county trust funds must be accompanied by a check for the sum of $500.00 payable to the county clerk; such checks are required to be given as guarantees of good faith of the bidders and further conditioned that the successful bidder will execute good and sufficient bonds to secure the funds entrusted to him for a term of two years, as required by law in Article 2547, Civil Statutes, and all amendments thereto and further conditioned that the checks of the successful bidder will be cashed by the Commissioners' Court of Lubbock county, Texas, as liquidated damages in case said bidder does not execute and file with this court such bonds as required by law hereinabove referred to, or deposit lawful securities with this court as required by law within the time limit therein specified by law, the bond or securities to be approved at the option of the Commissioners' Court.

The law authorizes any banking corporation, association or individual banker in Lubbock county to bid for such county depository, but the law requires that such depository shall handle the county funds, the county school funds and the county trust funds heretofore held by the county and district clerks. Separate bids may be made for these respective funds, but no bid will be considered unless the bidder submits bids for all three of said funds and encloses certified checks as stated above. The Commissioners' Court of Lubbock county, Texas, reserves the right to reject any and all bids. The approximate amount of county funds to be handled this year is $325,000.00; the probable amount of county school funds to be handled the ensuing year is $125,000.00; and the probable amount of trust funds to be handled by the county and district clerks the ensuing year is $10,000.00.

WALTER DAVIES,
County Judge, Lubbock County, Tex.

BULLISH TENDENCIES EVIDENT

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP)—Bullish tendencies cropped out in the stock market today and leading issues pushed ahead fractions to around a point.

Dealings aggregated 1,832,870 shares against 1,208,880 Tuesday. The Associated Press 60-stock average at 59.6 was up .3 of a point.

At new highs for the year or longer were Farnsworth Television, Emerson Electric, Walworth and Symington-Gould.

Wider swings included gains of 1½ by U. S. Rubber, 1¼ by Texas Co., 1¼ by Goodrich and 1½ by Allied Chemical.

Of 951 issues appearing on the tape, 644 were up, 132 down and 175 unchanged.

Electric Bond and Share improved in considerable volume. Turnover here at 610,195 shares compared with 338,635 Tuesday.

Higher prices also were the rule in the bond market, with rails favored. Commodity futures lost ground.

News Briefs

Liquor law violation charges were expected to be filed here this morning against a 64-year-old Lubbock man who was arrested Wednesday night, police said. Patrolmen Mark McCurry and Gilbert Newton were going north on the Plainview highway when they noticed a car at the side of the road with a flat tire. They turned around after passing the car and planned to offer assistance. Upon reaching the car the officers discovered the man trying to hide something in the trunk of the car and upon investigating they found 12 pints and nine quartes of whiskey. McCurry and Newton brought the man and a woman companion to the police station where he was jailed. The woman was released.

Gunner Is "Bumped"

priorities and traffic division of act, at request of military agencies.

The young gunner on a Navy tanker said he boarded the Army cargo plane at Newark, N. J., after learning of the death of his father, former police chief here.

LeRoy had an emergency leave and "A" priority. At Dayton, O., he related, a box containing "a huge shaggy dog" was put aboard. The crate was so big it occupied the space of three seats, he said, and shipping directions stated it had been dispatched by Col. Roosevelt to his wife.

At Memphis, on Jan. 11, high priority matter was put aboard, requiring that some weight be left behind. LeRoy declared an Army lieutenant told him, a sergeant and a Navy Seabee, they would have to leave the plane. "We protested," he said, 'and the lieutenant showed us the dog had an 'A' priority, while we only had a 'C' priority."

He said he hitchhiked from Memphis to Dallas, and eventually got a plane from there to the coast.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, in New York City, commented "I can't imagine any plane dispatcher who would be as stupid as that. No Army cargo plane would put a seaman off for that reason."

Miss Emerson, en route to Washington for the inauguration of her father-in-law as president, heard of the affair as her train stopped at Albuquerque.

"I assure you that my dog travels as freight and awaits his turn," she said. 'I certainly don't believe the dog had a priority."

The actress disclosed that Col. Roosevelt had sent two bull mastiffs—dogs weighing around 130 pounds — by air from England, and that one of them, "Blae," had been delivered to her home the other day by an Army major.

into the town of Herrlisheim after once giving up the same terrain in the swaying battle.

The American First Army's advance to within four miles of St. Vith was made by the 30th division to the northwest of this last German gate on the road back to the Siegfried line—a junction of seven highways and two railroads.

Advancing over bad terrain and through tough defenses, the 30th gained as much as two miles, reached the village of Reicht, and pushed on toward St. Vith.

Advancing along the 30th's left flank the First division pounded its way a mile south of Faymonville, reaching a point seven miles north of St. Vith.

Another Offensive Hinted

Ciechanow is but 25 miles below the East Prussian border, and Bokossovsky's drive posed an immediate outflanking threat to that invaded German province.

The Russians remained silent, however, concerning German reports of a vast offensive already in progress more than 13 miles inside East Prussia.

By official Soviet account, the Russians now have in action three big groups of armies, the First and Second White Russian and the First Ukraine, on an almost continuous front stretching 250 miles across Poland from north to south.

Rokossovsky's and Zhukov's men already were moving westward less than 250 miles from Berlin, and Marshal Ivan S. Konov's First Ukraine group was but 260 miles southwest of the German capital at Czestockowa.

The scope of the German retreat was so tremendous that all its salient points had not yet been brought to light.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

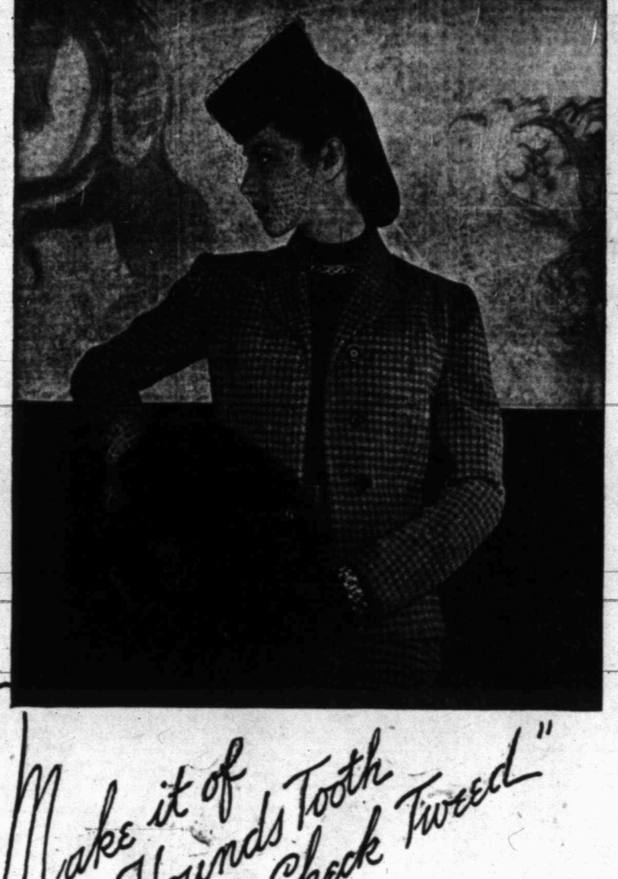

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Even Though Enemy May Lynch Our Fliers:

U. S. Majority Is Against Using Poison Gas On Japs

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 17. — If the Japanese carry out their threats to lynch American airmen forced down on combat missions, should be retaliate by using poison gas against the cities of Japan?

This proposal has, according to press reports, been made in certain quarters in Washington. One of the questions involved in the matter is what the reaction of American public opinion might be.

GALLUP

The evidence from a national survey by the Institute shows that the public would likely have mixed feelings in the event gas were used under the conditions described, with about as many favoring as opposing such action.

It is possible that some fresh episode or incident dramatically revealing Japanese brutality toward captured American fliers might so inflame American opinion as to change the present attitude materially. But at the present time the general feeling of the country is illustrated by the replies to the following question in the poll:

"The Japs say they will execute any American bomber pilots forced to land in Japan. If the Japs do this, should we use poison gas against Japanese cities?"

Yes	43%
No	47
No Opinion	10

If the percentages are calculated only on the basis of those expressing an opinion, the results would be 48 per cent in favor, 52 per cent opposed.

Differences By Education

THERE are rather sharp differences in attitude according to degree of educational training. People who have had college training, the survey found, are much more opposed to the use of gas than people who have had high school training only, or have only gone through grade school. The vote by degree of education follows:

	Yes	No	Undec.
College	34%	59%	6%
Completed high school	37	56	7
High school, incomplete	47	46	7
Grade school only	40	38	13

One other survey concerning the use of poison gas against Japan has been conducted by the Institute. Last November it was found that the majority of all persons interviewed disapproved of our starting gas warfare against civilians unless the enemy started it first. Today's survey makes it clear, however, that it is not a question of opposing the use of gas no matter what the circumstances, since a sizable number say they would favor its use if our combat fliers are lynched or murdered.

Among military experts there is some question as to whether gas is as effective or as terrifying as high explosive shells or other ammunition.

CORONERS VERDICT GIVEN

OGDEN, Utah, Jan. 17. (AP)—A coroner's jury has decided that James McDonald, 64-year-old engineer of the mail-express that rammed a passenger train Dec. 31, killing 50 and injuring four score, died of "sudden shock or heart failure just before the impact." The verdict was reached at conclusion of lengthy testimony by medical experts and railroad employes.

Two Church Editors Discuss Peace Plans

CLEVELAND, Jan. 17. (AP) — Editors of two Protestant church publications today asked the interdenominational peace conference to include in its world affairs platform support of an international free press and "a simple world organization based on continuing consultation."

Homer W. King of Fort Wayne, Ind., editor of The Protestant Voice, asserted:

"A bold affirmation that this conference favors guarantees of international freedom of the press and free interchanges of information along the lines advocated by Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, should be written into any statement from this group to the Protestant faiths of America."

Charles C. Morrison of Chicago, editor of the Christian Century magazine, said in an interview he favored "simplification of the constitution of a world organization, even to the point of eliminating many of the legal and binding features of the Dumbarton Oaks (world security conference) document."

Police Seek Plane After Spikes Fall

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 17. (U.P.) —Authorities sought idetnity of a plane today that virtually rained railroad spikes on a downtown street yesterday, breaking a plate glass window and damaging two automobiles, but missing pedestrians.

Police counted 21 of the heavy spikes that fell near a department store. L. A. Pipkman, an employe of a store near where the spikes fell, said he saw a small plane flying low, then heard the spikes strike the street and cars. The plane did not resemble military craft, he said.

Authorities didn't believe the spike shower was intentional, regardless of who was piloting the plane.

Famous 36th Gets Officers In Ranks

WITH THE AMERICAN SEVENTH ARMY, Jan. 17. (AP)—One of the most famous units of the U. S. armed forces is the 36th division.

And one reason for that fame is its drawing of officer strength from its own ranks through battlefield commissions.

The Texas division of the Seventh army, commanded by Maj. Gen. John E. Dahlquist, has commissioned since it landed in Southern France 65 men, bringing the total of such commissions to 156 in 16 months, or since the fighting at Salerno, Italy.

Among the war-tested officers are Zerk Robertson, Merkel, Tex.; Capt. Joseph Gill, Buchanan, Tex., and Lt. Cagriel Naverrett, El Paso, Tex.

Shells Short Due To Accidental Sabotage

FORT WORTH, Jan. 17. (U.P.)— Allied soldiers were an estimated 1,100 shells short today because some thoughtless person accidentally committed an act of sabotage here yesterday.

The American Manufacturing company's munitions plant was idle for an hour yesterday because of a shortage of electric power — caused when someone fired a .22 caliber bullet that severed a cable containing wires that carried 60,000 volts of electricity to the plant.

NAVY BUILDING BURNS

SAMPSON, N. Y., Jan. 17. (AP) —A naval board of investigation was established to investigate a $300,000 fire which virtually destroyed a service building at the U. S. Naval Training center here Monday. No one was injured.
