Jinx Continues As Third Victim Loses Life In Construction Zone

Tragedy again struck in the construction area on Interstate 20 east of Westbrook in the early morning hours Thursday.

Dead is Dewey Haskell Burgin, 59, of Pasadena, Tx.

Burgin lost his life as he lay in the sleeping compartment of a 1979 Kenworth truck and tanker driven by his wife.

The truck apparently left the paved surface and drove onto the left shoulder, pulled back up onto the highway, crossed over again and dropped into the 20 inch deep, 12 foot wide construction cut in the roadbed on the right side.

The truck and trailer, filled with 40,000 gallons of cleaning solvent, was airborn for a moment, then laid over on its left side.

The momentum of the tanker overturning, turned the cab partially on its left side, shaking the sleeping man through the door and onto the roadbed.

The truck slid 111 feet before coming to rest with the man trapped midway beneath the tanker.

Highway Patrolmen Tracy Tipton and James Burson were contacted at 1:20 a.m.

Tipton stated he received three separate reports of the accident and all three were different.

He said one of the reports stated the driver was trapped in the cab so he contacted the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department to send the rescue truck and "Jaws of Life."

Tipton said traffic was backed up as far as he could see when he arrived on the scene.

About one mile from the actual wreck, he said a vehicle was struck in the median and he thought that might be the accident scene.

However, approaching the vehicle, he discovered it was apparently someone trying to

See ZONE Page 9

ONLY MINUTES AFTER the lifeless body of a man was pulled from beneath its twisted frame, this 18 wheeler seems to almost pathetically issue a silent plea for motorists to exercise caution as they pass through the deadly construction zone just past the 208 mile marker on I-20.

KVMC Radio Station Changes Ownership

Drew Ballard, owner of KVMC Radio Station, announced Friday the sale of the station to Jim Baum of Big Spring.

Baum has been associated with Radio Station KBYG in Big Spring for the past 15 years and in radio for 23 years, Ballard said.

Jim Baum

Baum will be recently remembered in this area as a candidate for Congress in the 17th District, in which race he finished third out of seven candidates.

Ballard said he was extremely pleased at having a person with Baum's professional background to continue the operation of the station.

Baum will be working on the staff of KVMC immediately, but the actual ownership control of the station will not occur until final FCC approval of the transaction.

This is expected to take place sometime early in 1981.

Ballard has owned and operated KVMC since 1969, at which time he purchased the property from Eldon Mahon.

Ballard has been associated with the station periodically since 1950.

He served in the military for a period of time and spent seven years as manager of Georgetown Radio Station during this period.

Ballard has recently acquired two other radio stations, one in Lampasas and one, in which he has partners, in Lubbock. He has also purchased a new fulltime

The child was crossing the street behind her uncle, when she ran in front of the woman's car.

There were several witnesses on the scene.

Graveside services were Friday at 2 p.m. in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home. Rev. David Hulsey, pastor of the

This will be the last in the series of columns I am writing on the proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution which will appear on the national election ballot Nov. 4.

These amendments in their entirety are posted on the bulletin board on the first floor of the county courthouse for your review.

Amendment five proposes the governor be empowered to exercise fiscal control over the expenditure of appropriated state funds. Any action of the governor would be subject to approval of a committee composed of the governor, lieutenant governor, speaker of the house and chairmen and vice-chairmen of the house appropriations committee and of the senate finance committee.

Under the constitution, the governor has various powers with respect to the budget.

He is required to account to the legislature for all public funds received and paid out by him. He estimates the amount of tax money required for the year.

All officers in the executive department are required to report semi-annually to the governor all funds received and disbursed by them. He may veto any or all items of appropriation. However, he cannot reduce an appropriation. He is, in fact, the chief budget officer of the state.

Arguments "for" include: The amendment would establish a central direction or control; it would enable the governor to cut unnecessary spending and budget execution is an executive function and should be in the hands of the chief executive. The governor has a unique vantage point from which to study and improve cost effectiveness and without meaningful budget execution powers, the governor is deprived of one of the essential tools of leadership-control of state spending.

Arguments "against" include: Under our present system, spending has been kept under reasonable control and taxes have continued to be among the

Jury Issues Guilty Verdict Against Man In Cattle Theft

Willard Brock of Brownfield was found guilty of theft of 63 head of cattle, amounting to over $10,000, in District Judge Weldon Kirk's court Thursday.

A jury of seven women and five men returned the guilty verdict after deliberating for only two hours.

The charges stemmed from an incident in which Brock was alleged to have purchased 63 head of cattle from Colorado City Livestock Auction, owned by Bob McClure, with a hot check, then delivered them to another auction barn, where the owner detained the cattle for non-payment of a bad check from Brock.

Brock purchased the cattle from Colorado City Livestock Auction with a check for over $19,000.

In the closing arguments of the case, defense attorney Jim Pete Hall of Brownfield and District Attorney Rusty Carroll reviewed evidence given during the two day trial.

Carroll emphasized the fact that Brock had written several bad checks, knowing there was not sufficient funds in the bank to cover the outstanding checks.

Hale said his client had written the checks in good faith and the point was that his client had not intended to deprive anyone of their property.

Brock did not take the stand during the course of the trial but after the verdict of guilty was delivered, he and Mrs. Brock both testified during the punishment phase of the trial.

Mrs. Brock took the stand first. She told the court her husband was a good person, never before arrested and that he has back problems and is unable to do physical labor.

She testified that she helped him with the bookkeeping and explained what she called a "float" system for purchasing cattle.

She said her husband would go to an auction barn and purchase cattle, writing a check for payment. He would then take the cattle to another auction barn and sell them. He would purchase more cattle at that barn, writing a

A LARGE GROUP of people, pictured at right, were on hand Tuesday night at the City Council meeting in Colorado City to protest selection of a site south of West Highway 80 for a landfill site. The Council decided to have holes drilled to further check the soil and this was done Friday (pictured above). The city has until Nov. 15 to file an application with the state for a new landfill as the state has said the current site must be abandoned because the soil is not suitable. The land being considered for the site is owned by the Triple "M" Co., V.W. Matlock, Gary Matlock and Bobby Morris.

Taking Remorse Out Of Your Future

Glenn Roenfeldt
Pastor
First Baptist Church

A great many times I have heard people say, "I didn't know how much I loved her/him," or "I wish I had done more for him/her when I had the chance." Because I recognize that these statements come from broken or bruised relationships, I always hurt when they are made. But I believe there are ways to eliminate remorse from the future. Consider these:

1. First, we need to learn to do everything on purpose. We need to discipline our minds to control our emotions and actions. We often say things we do not mean. We act before we think and are often sorry about the results.

2. Second, we should make relationships the most important things in our lives. Everyone is important. Treating people with more love, respect and worth than "things" should be normal though it often is not. Taking time for a telephone call, a letter, a gift or a personal visit can show that relationships are really important to us. Give people priority in your life!

3. Learn to plan every relationship very carefully. Each person has a few basic, vital relationships in life. For example, I am a son, a husband, a father, a brother, a grandfather and a friend. I must look carefully at these relationships and plan to be my best in each one. It is unbelievable, but true, that we spend less time preparing for life's most important relationships than we do for the most elementary tasks in the business world! Plan and prepare to be the best wife, husband, brother, sister, mother, father or friend you can possibly be.

4. Make every experience with every relationship a sacred one. Life is so brief and no experience can be recalled. Make the most of every experience.

I believe these are some practical suggestions that will take remorse out of your future and will help you to obey the instruction of John when he wrote, "My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth." (I John 3:18).

"Frustration" Is Topic At Meeting

Mrs. Homer Mearse and Mrs. A.G. Furlow were co-hosts for the October meeting of the Ruth Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church in Loraine. The meeting was held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in the Mearse home.

Mrs. Clara Butler, president, presided over the meeting and led the opening prayer.

Mrs. Roy Baird read a chapter from Corrie Ten Boom's book, titled "Frustration" in giving the devotional.

Mrs. Homer Mearse read minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. Charlie Harris gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Vada Preston, group leader, gave her report.

The class voted to send cards to patients in the Loraine Leisure Lodge during the Thanksgiving season. A menu committee composed of Mmes. Ida Baird, Vada Preston and Pauline Smiley was appointed to plan the menu for the Thanksgiving luncheon to be held on the regular meeting day in November.

Mrs. Butler brought the recreation in the form of a quiz and the hostesses served refreshments to Mmes. Smiley, Baird, L.E. Crutcher, Preston, Lorene Mills, Butler, Hal Bennett, Harris, Harvey Leach, C.A. Land and one guest, Mrs. Ruth Blair.

Meeting closed with the group singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

lowest in the country. The veto power already gives the governor a lot of power; both the legislature and governor already have, and use, adequate means for checking spending. Every attempt of the governor to exercise fiscal control will be subject to approval of a committee that steered passage of the appropriations bills.

Amendment six proposes the governor who appoints an officer could authorize the removal of that person from office with approval of two-thirds of the senators present. It also authorizes the governor to call special sessions (not to last more than two days) of the senate to act on the proposed removal.

Currently, a public officer is either elected or appointed to a term and cannot be discharged by a superior during that term.

The removal of state officers requires impeachment proceedings. District judges may also be removed by the supreme court after a hearing.

The proposed amendment would provide an additional method of removal that eliminates the requirement that cause for the removal be specified and that a trial or other opportunity to answer charges be offered to the officer subject to removal.

Arguments "for" include: Current methods are time-consuming, expensive and difficult and the governor has little control over executive agencies.

Arguments "against" include: The amendment does little to give him control and he already can control the general direction of a stage agency by careful selection of appointees.

Amendment seven proposes any county with a population of 5,000 or less be allowed to build and maintain private roads and charge for the work.

Arguments "for" state: In remote counties, it is impossible or infeasible to hire a private contractor; small counties must maintain expensive road construction and maintenance equipment on a full-time basis. This system would help defray the cost of the equipment. The amendment is permissive, not mandatory.

Arguments "against" state: The provisions prohibiting the use of public funds for private purposes are protection against the squandering of public funds.

Counties engaging in the private construction business is an encroachment on private enterprise and the 5,000 population ceiling is rigid and artificial. It is inappropriate for a constitutional provision. Another amendment is required if more populous counties are to be included.

Amendment eighth would change the name of the courts of civil appeal by deleting the word "civil" and the name of associate justices by deleting the word "associate."

It would also change the qualifications of the justices of the supreme court by requiring them to retain a license to practice law in this state. It would clarify the authority of the governor to fill a vacancy in the office of the chief justice.

It would further delete the provisions that give the supreme court appellate jurisdiction of questions of law arising in the courts of civil appeals and substitute appellate jurisdiction in all cases except criminal law matters and as otherwise provided in the constitution.

It would clarify the appellate jurisdiction and writ power of the court of criminal appeals and provide that all cases in which the death penalty is assessed be appealed directly to the court of criminal appeals, with all other criminal cases to be appealed to the courts of appeals.

The proposed amendment would provide for supreme judicial districts in which there would be court appeals with appellate jurisdiction of all cases, civil and criminal, for which the district and county courts have original or appellate jurisdiction.

It would also include provisions relating to the justices of the present courts of civil appeals and to the supreme judicial districts.

It would delete provisions that require the appeal of certain civil or criminal cases.

It also proposes the repeal of archaic provisions in several of the amended sections of Article V.

Arguments "for" state: It is unrealistic to expect only one criminal appellate court in a heavily populated state to administer criminal justice. The system of intermediate appellate courts for civil cases has been durable with little change, and from inception solved the supreme court's case load problem. In fact, most of the decisions of the courts of civil appeals are final.

The heavy work load of appeals in criminal cases that presently falls on the one statewide court of criminal appeals would be shared by the 14 regional courts of appeals.

Appellate courts with jurisdiction of both civil and criminal matters may attract and develop better justices that have benefitted from experience with a variety of legal problems.

Article V changes would avoid problems in the future by clarifying such questions as qualifications of a justice of the supreme court and a vacancy in the office of chief justice.

Arguments "against" state: A one-step appellate review for all criminal cases is the most efficient system to achieve criminal justice with the least delay and expense.

An additional court creates a double appeal with more cost and more delay. A judge cannot develop great expertise in every kind of law.

Amendment nine proposes spouses could agree in writing that income from one spouse's separate property will be the separate property of that spouse. This includes existing property and property acquired in the future.

Under current law, "community property" is all property acquired during a marriage, other than property specifically exempted by law.

Arguments "for" include: A system of marital property law should provide general rules for determining rights in property and then allow for persons to make alternative property arrangements when they preceive doing so to be in their best interest.

Benefits derived from property should be owned by the spouse who owns the property without which the benefits would not exist.

This would reduce the complexity of the process of converting community property to separate property and would eliminate the need for periodic agreements to continue a policy of ownership begun in a previous agreement.

Arguments "against" state: The community property system has served the citizens of Texas well since the time of the Spanish rule.

The degree of deviation from the community property system permitted by the amendment is so great that it could foster the creation of an entirely different system of marital property law.

Because it required few formalities as safeguards, the amendment would enable an unscroupulous spouse to extract valuable property rights from the other spouse; it would also encourage the making of irrevocable decisions about property rights based on speculation about future needs and the extent of future assets.

Are you dropping your hard-earned bucks all along the highway?

Let's face it. With the cost of gasoline out of sight and at times hard to find as well, it makes better cents, and dollars too, to shop locally.

Driving all over the countryside just to save a few cents just doesn't make sense.

The small amount of money you might save may be more than eaten up by the cost of gas. Shop locally, and save time, your energy, fuel and money.

Public Library Has Added New Books

Mrs. Geneva Jones said some of the Best Sellers books can be found at the Mitchell County Public Library. The fiction best sellers presently at the library are: "The Key to Rebecca" by Ken Follett; "The Fifth Horseman" by Larry Collins and Dominique Lapierre, "Rage of Angels" by Sidney Sheldon, "The Tenth Commandment" by Lawrence Sanders, "The Spike" by Arnaud de Borchgrave and Robert Moss, "Random Winds" by Belva Plain, "Sins of the Fathers" by Susan Howatch and "The Bourne Identity" by Robert Ludlum.

The non-fiction, true stories, at the library are: "Shelley: Also Know as Shirley" by Shelley Winters, 'The Third Wave" by Alvin Toffler, "Anatomy of an Illness" by Norman Cousins and "Little Gloria...Happy at Last" by Barbara Goldsmith.

She said if a patron wants to read a certain library book and the book is checked out at the time, then his or her name may be placed on a waiting list for that certain book. When the book is back in the library, we notify the person whose name has been placed on the waiting list.

Also, if the library does not own a certain book which a patron wants, we can make a call to the Abilene Public Library to place a request for the book which will then be loaned to our library. All that the patron does is pay for the postage one way and the book can be checked out from the library.

She stated for those of you who are still not familiar with our business hours, the library is closed on Sunday and Monday.

On Tuesday, the library opens at Noon and closes at 8 p.m.

On Wednesday Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the library is open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

For the convenience of patrons who want or need to return their books during the time that the library is closed, there is a book depository on the north side of the building where the books may be dropped in.

Fire Tip

Never leave aerosol spray cans in the car where the sun can shine on them. They can build up high enough to blow up.

check for the purchase and take those animals to another auction barn and sell them. This process was repeated in five different towns at five different auction barns.

After several objections which were overruled or sustained by Judge Kirk, from both the prosecution and defense attorneys, the jury retired and returned with a decision to sentence Brock to two years penitentiary time, probated for five years. They determined Brock must make restitution to Colorado City Livestock Auction for the $19,500 and pay a probation fee monthly.

Judge Kirk heard more cases on Friday stemming from indictments handed down from the grand jury.

turn out of the traffic jam.

He and Burson continued to try to drive further down the highway but traffic was so dense, they were forced to drive down the median, weaving in and out of traffic.

When they arrived at the scene, the found the woman was not trapped in the wreckage, but the body of her husband was trapped midway under the tanker.

Mitchell County Ambulance was contacted and carried the woman to Root Memorial Hospital with what appeared to be only minor injuries.

Firemen immediately contacted authorities to determine if the tanker's contents were hazardous, even though the tank was not ruptured.

They were informed the liquid was non-flammable.

Highway Department personnel, Deputies Mike Stutts and David Ginkinger and city police assisted THP officers in untangling the jammed traffic.

"I've seen a lot of wrecks where traffic was backed up, but this was the worst mess I have ever seen," Trooper Tipton said.

Personnel worked for more than an hour trying to reroute traffic around the accident site.

Kiker - Seale Funeral Home was contacted and after Justice of the Peace Mary Lee Moore pronounced the man dead, the body was taken to the funeral home.

A crane supplied by "87" Wrecker Service of Big Spring was used to upright and remove the loaded tanker and truck.

Trooper Tipton reported Mrs. Shirley Burgin, 60, said she had obtained her license to drive a truck last May and was travelling with her husband as co-driver.

She reportedly said she had begun her turn at the wheel about 10:30 p.m. near Cisco on this trip which was carrying the pair from North Carolina to Vernon, Calif. The truck the couple were driving belonged to Younger Brothers of Houston.

Luis Balderas Martinez, P.O. Box 103, Westbrook, was convicted of driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense.

The original offense was alleged to have occurred in February 1978 and the last offense on May 18, 1980.

Martinez received a one year probated sentence.

Julian Lopez Reyes, 1345 Cypress, Colorado City, was convicted of DWI, subsequent offense. The original offense was alleged to have occurred in December 1975, with the subsequent offense occurring April 30, 1980.

Reyes was sentenced to a five year probated sentence plus court costs and probation fee.

Debi Scott, 943 Walnut, Colorado City, was convicted of aggravated perjury.

Charges stemmed from an incident in which she was testifying before the grand jury and allegedly purjered herself on March 14, 1980.

Ms. Scott received a three year probated sentence, plus a fine of $350, court costs and probation fee.

David and Kenneth R. Green, both of Colorado City, were convicted of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. Charges stemmed from an incident in which Fred Biggers was attacked on April 8, 1980.

Kenneth Green was given a two year sentence probated for two years and a fine of $200, plus court costs and probation fees.

David Green was given a five year sentence probated for five years and a $250 fine, plus court costs and probation fees.

John Wayne Lee was returned here for trial from Huntsville State Penitentiary, where he is currently serving sentences of four years and two years, for theft of property of more than $200 but less than $10,000.

He pled guilty and received a five year probated sentence to serve concurrently with current sentences. Upon parole, Lee is ordered to pay restitution of $379.68, plus court costs and probation fees.

Charges stemmed from an alleged incident in which Lee cashed a payroll check belonging to another person at the City National Bank.

Michael Allen of Dallas was convicted of possesion of more than four ounces of marijuana.

Charges stemmed from an incident which allegedly occurred March 16, 1980, when Allen and three other individuals were apprehended with a large quantity of marijuana enroute from El Paso to Dallas.

The three other persons previously appeared before the court and received sentences.

Allen was allegedly out on bond and failed to appear at the scheduled time.

Allen was given a 10 year sentence in the penitentiary and a $1,500 fine probated for seven years.

William V. Steele, originally from California, received a probation revocation for allegedly failing to report to the probation officer and pay $1,670 in resitution.

Steele was originally tried on burglary charges which stemmed from a theft at the field house in March 1979.

He was sentenced to three years in Huntsville Penitentiary.

The week's recognition is to draw attention to the economic, social and political impact of working women.

The local B&PW Club will be taking part in the event, announced Sue Womack, chairman of the National B&PW Week committee. Working with Mrs. Womack is Mildred Boyd, Ida Kirschbaum and Ethel Hardegree.

Tuesday, the local B&PW will meet with the Sweetwater B&PW Club at the Lamppost Restaurant for supper and they will leave from the City National Bank parking lot at 6:15 p.m.

She said there was no activity planned for Wednesday or Friday but Thursday, the club will have a covered dish luncheon at the C.C. Thompson Room from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. with invited guests attending.

Saturday and Sunday will conclude the week with the District Seven Conference of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., meeting in the Kiva Inn in Abilene.

Mrs. Womack said the local club will be taking part in the meeting by holding a workshop on programs.

Mayor Elmer Martin signed a proclamation declaring this as National Business and Professional Women's Club Week in Colorado City.

Club officers for the 1980-81 year are Juanita Schafer, president; Ann Gregory, first vice president; Faye Spivey, second vice president; Louise Johnston, recording secretary; Judy Winkle, corresponding secretary; Shirley Delaney, treasurer and Nelda Garrett, parliamentarian.

Unexpected Results Occur In District 7-AAA Football

Nothing went as expected in the first week of football action in District 7-AAA.

The Colorado City Wolves lost 7-6 to the Wylie Bulldogs and nobody thought that would happen.

To top that off, the No. 1 team in the state in AAA, the Breckenridge Buckaroos, lost to the Stamford Bulldogs 28-23 and that was another shocker.

What next?

Colorado City's Wolves went into the contest with Wylie with revenge on their minds for the 41-8 shellacking they took last year at the hands of the Bulldogs.

The game started out looking like Wylie didn't have a chance as the Wolves took the opening kick-off and marched down the field from their own 32 to score with Doug Johnson going the final three yards. This came with 6:25 left in the first quarter. However, the extra point was missed and that turned out to be the difference in the contest.

However, the way things looked at that time, it didn't seem like it would matter and that idea was reinforced only a few minutes later.

Wylie got the ball on the kick-off and a few plays later, the Wolves' Gary Rowe got a Bulldog fumble at the Wylie 41. The Wolves drove down to the Wylie four where they came up one-inch short on a fourth down try.

Then came the heartbreak as Wylie drove the ball 94 yards to score, the only long sustained drive achieved by any team this year against the Wolves defense.

Scoring for the Bulldogs was Quarterback Billy Joe Schulle on a one yard plunge with 3:35 left in the second quarter. Schulle was only recently converted from a running back to quarterback and was almost a one man team for the Bulldogs as he harrassed the Wolves' defense all night with his running and passing.

He also added the extra point after that touchdown, the point that turned out to be the difference in the contest.

On the Wolves first play after the ensuing kick-off, there was a fumble on the Wolves 29 and it looked like bad news for the Wolves. Things looked even worse when Schulle passed for an apparent 12-yard touchdown but the Bulldogs were called for pass interference and tried in vain a 40-yard field goal as time ran out in the first half.

The second half was a standoff with both teams throwing up a strong defensive effort. Wylie could only get as close as the Wolves 30 yardline before a fumble was recovered by the Wolves' Jerry Phariss. Once the Wolves edged just inside the Bulldog 20 but there were no other serious threats.

Statistically, the game was about as even as the score with Wylie and the Wolves both having 12 first downs. The Bulldogs had a total of 271 yards on offense while the Wolves had 204. The Wolves had three penetrations while Wylie had only two.

Next week, the Wolves travel to Clyde for another district contest.

Loraine Takes Second Distict Win With 19-0 Route Friday

Loraine knocked Robert Lee out of district play Friday night as they defeated them 19-0.

Robert Lee lost to Roby last week 49-0; the game with Loraine put them out of range of the district title.

"We didn't have the execution we should have had for the first half, but the guys were high spirited about the game," said Loraine Coach Ted Wylie.

The first quarter left the scoreboard empty. Loraine had earlier had a touchdown called back for clipping. Jerry Darnell made the run for 28 yards.

Loraine scored their first touchdown with 36 seconds left in the second quarter. Jerry Darnell intercepted a pass and ran 60 yards for the touchdown.

Bobby Sanchez attempted the kick, but the kick was not good, leaving the halftime score 6-0, Loraine.

Rhonda Long was crowned Homecoming Queen during halftime ceremonies. Kirk Galvan was named King.

The second score of the game came in the third quarter as Loraine scored again. Wayne Rose made the touchdown on a 22 yard pass from Adam Merket.

The kick attempt by Bobby Sanchez was good, making the score 13-0.

Loraine's final touchdown came as Tony Williams ran in the last four yards.

Again the kick was missed, making the final score 19-0 in Loraine's favor.

Robert Lee had only four yards rushing in the first half, as compared to Loraine's 200 total yards for the game.

Individual rushing for Loraine was Tony Williams with 21 carries for 69 yards, Wayne Rose, 15 carries for 63 yards and Adam Merket with 12 carries for 39 yards.

Robert Lee did not have quite as much rushing. Joe Perciful had eight carries for 37 yards, Armando Sanchez had nine carries for 14 yards and Graves Parks had five carries for five yards.

"We had a few miscalculations, but all in all it was a good game," said Wylie. "The team played really tough defense. Rose had a real good running game and Clarence Darnell did an excellent job at his position," he said.

Team captains for Loraine football team were also elected during Homecoming Week. Team captains are Clarence Darnell, Wayne Rose and David McAdams.

Loraine will play their third district game against Roby next week in Roby. Loraine has only three more games scheduled.

Seventh And Eighth Grades Face Wylie

"It was a good game, we just had a lot of penalties," said Eighth Grade Football Coach Raymond Zamarippa, as the eighth grade football team lost 14-26 to Wylie.

Wolves first score came in the first quarter on a 25 yard pass from Doug Chitsey to Mike Davila.

The extra point conversion attempt was made good by Kevin Norman, for two points.

Wolves final score took place in the second quarter. Kevin Norman ran the ball in for 50 yards, making the score 14 for the Wolves.

The extra point conversion attempt was not successful.

Wolves eighth grade football team will play Clyde at 7 p.m. in Clyde next week.

Seventh grade football team ended their game with Wylie in a 14-14 tie.

Wylie Defeated 31-0 By Junior Varsity

Wolves junior varsity football team showed definite improvement, as compared to last week's loss of 30-8 to Stanton. Colorado City won their game against Wylie 31-6.

"Men on defense doing a fine job were Tim Beights, Eddie Franco and Willie Martinez," said Junior Varsity Coach Mike Hart. "Offensive standouts were Chris McKinney, Ron Potts, Lynn Williams, Tracy Tarter and Tim Beights."

Scoring for the Wolves were Richard Ligon, with 14 carries for 65 yards and one touchdown. Tom Rees had 15 carries for 73 yards and Bennie Arocha had 17 carries for 121 yards and two touchdowns.

Persons wishing to vote absentee because they will not be able to go to the polls Nov. 4 should contact Mrs. Beach at the courthouse for further information.

Girls participating in the football game were coached by football players. Other football players were cheerleaders for the game.
