Reds On Edge Of Key Base

Many Nazis Slain, Others Routed, 450 Towns Freed

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Tuesday, Feb. 29—The Red Army announced at midnight that its trip-hammer advance upon Pskov had reached to within six miles of that railway bastion of the Baltic region which the Nazis turned into a concentration camp for German soldiers who mutinied on the Leningrad front in January, and that three enemy divisions had been routed by a Russian column advancing on Novorzhev, 70 miles to the southeast.

The German troops in the line struggled at bloody cost to retain Pskov, on which much of their Baltic defense is predicated, but the Soviet communique broadcast from Moscow told of the slaughter of 700 Germans at one point, 500 at another, a battalion at still another and said everywhere the enemy was being forced to surrender, retreat or die. In vast numbers, the Germans were doing all three.

450 Towns Freed

The continuing Soviet offensive has gained up to 25 miles in a day's time, liberated 450 communities close around Pskov, and another 200 towns in the region near Novorzhev, the announcement said.

The closest announced approach to Pskov came with the capture of Toroshino, railway station six miles northeast of the city on the Luga line. Due east, on the Staraya Russa line, the Soviets were declared to have taken the station of Karamyshevo, 10 miles from Pskov.

In taking Karamyshevo and the nearby town of Slavkovichi the Russians forced the defended river Cherekha, the communique said. This stream meanders north and northwest into the Velikaya river five miles directly south of Pskov.

Important Rail Line

Advancing along the all-important railways, the Russians in passing took Molody on the northeastern line and Lunevo, Popseve and Veshki on the eastern line, it was announced.

South of Pskov, in the drive from the Novosokolniki area toward Novorzhev, the Russians announced three defeated enemy divisions were being pursued along the highway to Novorzhev.

In the German ranks, the Soviet communique declared, desertion and defeatism are becoming widespread and the prisons of Pskov are filled to overflowing with these men. In the last two weeks in January 1,200 from the Lennigrad front alone were sent to Pskov in irons, it said, and others who refused to fight at various times have been disarmed

BIG JAP BASE ON TRUK—This is Dublon Town, Truk Islands, Japan's naval base in the Carolines. The piers, boat basin, repair and supply facilities are shown in the picture made by Navy planes during the daring attack on February 16, when carrier-based planes battered the islands, and warships drew close enough to shell and sink one or more Jap ships as they sought to escape through one of the three main outlets from the reef-studded islands.

8,000 Japs Slain In Allied Burma Drive

Nips Paying High Price Everywhere And Give Ground

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

DESTRUCTION of a force of 8,000 Japanese in the first major Allied victory in Burma climaxes perhaps the costliest month of the war for Japan.

The price was paid not only in ships and planes, but in the flesh and blood of empire.

The Allies completed campaigns in February that cost the lives of around 35,000 Japanese and isolated 30,000 others on Pacific islands.

Staggering Losses

Other statistics from the Pacific and Asiatic theaters for the month, though still incomplete, are impressive—165 ships sunk, around 800 planes wiped out and close to 200 barges eliminated.

Nipponese plane losses would have been considerably higher if the aerial defense hadn't been withdrawn from Rabaul, crumbling fortress of New Britain.

For the seventh straight day unopposed Allied planes from the South Pacific poured explosives—164 tons—on Rabaul in a midday raid last Saturday, General Douglas MacArthur reported today. A munitions dump was blown up, raging fires set in warehouses and buildings, four jetties mashed and 14 barges destroyed.

25 Planes Hit On Ground

Twenty-five enemy planes were caught on the ground and hit at Wewak and Madang, major objectives on New Guinea of Southwest Pacific air forces.

In a two weeks battle in southwestern Burma, the British announced yesterday, the Japanese "gradually were driven back, hemmed in, split up, hunted and killed. Most, with their accustomed tenacity, fought to the death. Some battered and wounded escaped through the jungle to the south. A few surrendered."

Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten said the victory ended a drive by 8,000 enemy soldiers to cut off advanced British troops driving toward the port of Akyab, and to carry the flag of the Rising Sun into India. A spokesman listed known Japanese dead at 1,500 and wounded at 3,000.

Other Campaigns Costly

This was the smallest toll of any of the campaigns that ended with Allied victories this month. Fourteen thousand Japanese were killed on the Huon peninsula of New Guinea, 7,000 on nearby western New Britain, 8,100 on Kwajalein

Heavies Batter Invasion Coast

Four Teams Lash Area Unmolested

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 28 — Heavy bombers of the United States Eighth Air force spear-headed a series of daylight assaults on enemy installations in northern France today, raising to 18 their record total of operations during February—six more than in any other month.

Working as four separate teams two formations of Flying Fortresses and one each of Liberators and medium B-26 Marauders were virtually unmolested as they struck at different places along one of the worlds most bomb-battered strips—the coast of France.

RAF Mediums Join In

RAF medium bombers joined in the day's widespread blows against Nazi military objectives, which Prime Minister Churchill has said include long-range rocket-guns and radio-controlled planes.

Loss of six heavy bombers was the largest for operations against Pas De Calais since Jan 21, when a similar number failed to return.

The Marauder force, over 200-strong, struck the rocket-gun sector and a Nazi air base near Amiens, 40 miles inland. All the medium bombers returned, despite reports of some heavy flak.

With yet another day to go in February, the British-based American heavy bombers had topped all records for any month, even though this is usually considered one of the worst flying months of the year.

The previous record operational month was November, 1943, when heavy bombers from Britain flew against the continent 12 times.

In February, 1943, the Eighth Air force made five heavy bomber attacks on Europe, hit-

Gloomy Times . . .

Germans Are Going Home

IRUN, Spain, Feb. 28. (AP) — Three train loads of German soldiers, diplomats and officials crossed the Spanish frontier into German-occupied France near here today and a gloomier lot seldom has been seen in these parts.

Apparently the food and life in United States internment camps had agreed with them, while the prospect of returning to the fatherland had certain disadvantages. The party formed a contrast to the group of Americans who last week crossed the frontier into Spain, enroute to Lisbon for exchange. The Americans were thin, but they were enthusiastic, happy, talkative and cheerful.

Not so the Germans. In San Sebastian the local German Nazis came trooping down to the station platform and stood stony-faced giving the Hitler salute before the trainload of German wounded and diplomats.

The wounded stared back from the car windows, and said nothing. Neither did the members of the local delegations.

Removal Of WRA Director Asked

Dies Group Seeks Ouster Of Meyer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — The Dies committee today recommended the removal of Dillon S. Meyer, national director of the War Relocation authority, and Ray C. Best, Tule Lake camp director, "because of their evident inability to cope with the problem of disloyal Japanese."

The committee said its recommendation was based on a lengthy study of the riot which occurred at the Tule Lake camp in California in November.

Other recommendations made by the committee were:

That the Tule Lake center and the disloyal Japanese segregated there be placed under the jurisdiction and administrative control of the department of justice.

Report Of Attack

That a report be submitted to Congress listing the Japanese responsible for the attack on Dr. Reese M. Pedicord, director of the camp hospital, on Nov. 1, 1943, and the Japanese guilty of inciting the riot which occurred the same day, and also what disciplinary or legal action has been instituted against such persons.

That the duty of policing all Japanese relocation and segregation centers be carried out by Caucasians and in sufficient strength to guarantee protection to all persons residing in the centers.

Jurisdiction over the relocation authority was transferred to Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes by President Roosevelt on Feb. 16. Myer was retained as director.

Under Cabinet Officer

The transfer was ordered after some congressmen, critical of the authority's policies, had demanded that relocation centers be turned over to the War department. The White House, however, said the shift was designed to simplify administration and bring the WRA under the supervision of a cabinet officer.

Approximately 15,000 persons were at the Tule Lake center, designed as a camp for disloyal Japanese, at the time the riot broke out.

The internal security staff consisted of six unarmed Caucasian officers together with 101 Japanese evacuee wardens who were responsible only for order in the Japanese colony, the committee said.

British At Anzio Take Offensive

Two Strongpoints Taken From Nazis

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 28. — British troops, going over to the offensive on the Anzio beachhead, have stormed and captured two Nazi strongpoints southwest of the German-held village of Carroceto after two days of sharp fighting, the Allies announced today.

The scene of the British attack, which broke a week of comparative quiet on the beachhead front, is near the headwaters of the Moletta river, a little stream that originates about a mile and a half southwest of Carroceto and runs almost due west to empty into the sea 11 miles up the coast from Anzio.

German Version

(The German high command communique, giving its version of what apparently was the same engagement, said that about two battalions of Allied troops were wiped out after they had been encircled near Buon Riposo, a hamlet situated on the Moletta river approximately a mile and a half southwest of Carroceto. The German bulletin claimed 650 Allied prisoners in the fight.)

Artillery duelling rose to a new intensity on the beachhead, with both sides hurling thousands of shells. It was disclosed that the Nazis are using a new 17-centimeter (6.69 inch) railway gun on the Cassino front that outranges any Allied artillery pieces there. The Allies, however, were said to hold over-all artillery superiority.

Rome Airdromes Pounded

Dive-bombing attacks by A-36 Invaders on the Littorio and Guidonia airdromes near Rome featured yesterday's Allied air operations. One hangar was destroyed. Continued adverse weather limited the number of Allied sorties to about 400, while the Germans flew some 20 sorties over the beachhead. One Nazi fighter was shot down and two Allied planes were missing.

An American cruiser joined the big gun duel on the beachhead, swinging in close to shore and blasting away at enemy emplacements in the nearby hills. Two British destroyers shelled German batteries at Vela Luka, on the island of Korcula off the Yugoslav coast. RAF Spitfires and American Kittyhawks shot up railroad cars and damaged shipping at the Yugoslav harbor of Sibenik.

Finn Situation Stirs Bulgaria

More Men Called As Clashes Spread

By JUDSON O'QUINN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 28 — Under pressure of Soviet air might, Finland appeared moving tonight toward an armisitce with Russia, and this prospect that yet another ally would desert Hitler was reported to have caused disorders in satellite Bulgaria.

Bulgaria called more men to arms, the Cairo radio said, to stem spreading clashes between police and partisan bands who were excited by the prospect of Finnish-Russian reapprochment.

Nazis Claimed Ready

Germany, meantime took precautions to meet Finnish capitulation and a war correspondent of the German news agency, DNB, said in a Berlin broadcast after a visit to the Arctic coast that Nazi troops in Finland and Norway were ready to meet any emergency —even an Allied landing.

(The London radio, in a broadcast quoting Stockholm reports, said the Finnish diet would convene tomorrow and a "government statement about the Russian armistice is expected." The broadcast was recorded by CBS.

Report Of Activities

(A Moscow broadcast also recorded by CBS quoted a Helsinki dispatch relayed via Stockholm as saying that the Finnish government has drawn up a report of its activities over the past year, which "indicates that all government activities were subordinated to he ask arising from Finland and Germany's join struggle" against Russia.)

Among the many reports of the Finnish-Russian peace negotiations, still in the unofficial stage, was a Stockholm dispatch saying Juho Kosti Paasakivi, Finnish statesman who negotiated the 1940 peace with Russia, may return to Stockholm tomorrow or next day to continue negotiations.

The Stockholm newspaper Allehanda said this report was

Token Taking Is Slow Here

Few Lubbock housewives have been initiated into the use of red and blue ration tokens, a check of grocery stores late Monday afternoon revealed, indicating either Monday is a light day for purchasing rationed goods or else many purchasers are still using old stamps from Ration Book No. 4.

The tokens were issued to make life easier for grocers and simpler for housewives, as well as to save Uncle Sam the trouble of issuing another ration book, since the present set-up will make ration book No. 4 good for almost two years.

"We are hoping women will keep the exchange tokens in a coin purse, rather than turning them loose in their handbags and necessitating a search that holds up the line of those waiting to be checked," one young woman grocer remarked

Women are reminded the old-style stamps good through March 20 are:

Green (processed foods in book No. 4) stamps K, L and M.

Brown (meats, fats in book No. 3) stamps Y and Z.

Convoy Loss To U-Boats Small

Vast Quantities Sent To Russia

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (U.P) — Ninety-nine out of every 100 ships carrying American lend-lease supplies to Russia last year got through safely, a marked improvement over 1942 when only 88 out of 100 escaped the Nazi U-boats and bombers stalking the convoy routes to the Soviet Union.

Foreign Economic Administrator Leo T. Crowley, in the first lend-lease report giving any indication of the amount of United States aid actually delivered to Russia, said a total of 8,400,000 tons of supplies worth $4,243,804,000 had reached there since the beginning of the program in October, 1941.

The supplies include 7800 planes, 4700 tanks and tank destroyers, 170,000 trucks and 177,000 tons of explosives.

Big Increase In 1943

In 1943, shipments to the Red armies totalled 5,400,000 tons, almost double those of the previous year, he said. But equally important in 1943 was the fact that only one per cent of the ships carrying this cargo was sunk.

Meanwhile the department of agriculture disclosed that total 1943 lend-lease food exports amounted to 11,488,000 pounds, the bulk of it going to Russia and Great Britain.

These shipments include 79,850,000 pounds of butter and 1,944,979,137 pounds of meat. Food shipments last year were almost double that of 1942.

December deliveries—which totalled 900,000,000 pounds — were assigned as follows: Russia, 51 per cent, British Empire, 42 per cent, North Africa 5 per cent, and Greece, West Africa, and the Netherlands combined, 2 per cent.

Doctors Insist On Dads' Draft

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — A White House commission of military and civilian doctors asserted today that military physical standards must not be lowered, that to do so would cripple the march toward victory.

Winding up a study on the question whether Class 4-F contains men who actually could serve and thereby cut down the father draft, the commission came up with this dual conclusion:

1. The physical requirements cannot be reduced without impairing the efficiency of the services.

2. The manpower required for war "can not be obtained except by induction of men living with their families and recourse to all other available sources."

Dads Said Prime Source

But the doctors skimmed over lightly the "other available sources" and hit hard the idea that family men, sound in mind and body, are a prime source from which the Army and Navy must draw to get able-bodied "combat replacements" and to meet what President Roosevelt has called a grave manpower shortage.

From capitol hill today came this dissent to the doctors' report by Chairman May (D-Ky):

"All wrong. The Army should lower its physical requirements. It should reclassify those who already have been rejected and should quit rejecting men because of illiteracy. Men who are illiter-

LISBON, Feb. 28—The radio has made it impossible to conceal major war developments from the whole German people and we coming out of the Reich were surprised on reading British newspapers to learn how close to the accurate picture of the front we obtained from the Nazi press.

The Nazis cannot help letting some of the truth out because the population constantly is checking up on official claims by secretly listening to the BBC, and too much discrepancy between the accounts of both sides shakes their faith more than the bitter truth.

The result is that the people more or less know the facts — overlaid by all sorts of fantastic explanations.

They also know better than anybody the facts about air raids smashing at their cities. Even in the smaller places where there have been few or no raids, hotels

Levelland Host At CC Banquet

By WALTER SWITZER
Avalanche Staff Writer

LEVELLAND, Feb. 28 (Special) The days ahead represent a challenge to all of you in Levelland, and if you do not prepare now to reap the harvest, that harvest will be reaped in some other town, members of the Hockley county Board of Development were told by Rex Baxter, manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, at the annual membership banquet tonight in the basement of the First Methodist church here.

Speaking on the subject, "Building Hockley County," Baxter cited the growth of the county in the past 24 years. The county has increased its population in that period an average of 1,000 per year, growing from a few hundred in 1920 to 24,000 in 1944. He predicted the county would likely increase its population by another 24,000 or more in the next 24 years.

Much To Look Forward To

Hockley county, he said, had much to look forward to in the years to come, due to the agriculture and oil industry. The potential value of the oil industry alone in the county cannot be estimated, but it is believed the field will be even bigger than the East Texas field. He said that he believed the field "right in your own back yard" will probably be the biggest field of its kind in the United States.

More Yankee Power Arrives In England

LONDON, Feb. 28 (U.P)—One of the largest convoys of the war has brought additional thousands of American armored and mechanized forces, their equipment and planes to Britain without loss to swell the ranks of the invasion armies, it was revealed officially today.

Allied control of the norin Atlantic was underlined by the fact that the convoy escort did not find it necessary to drop a single depth charge during the 3,000-mile voyage.

The number of American troops brought here by a constant flow of convoys of various sizes during the past six months set an all-time record. British ports have been clogged with soldiers and ships.

Though the total naturally is a military secret, it can be said that the number of American troops, airmen and sailors in the British Isles now runs into the hundreds of thousands.

Stock On Farms Shows Increase

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—Despite varied range and climatic conditions in 1943, Texas livestock producers showed a greater number of hogs, horses, cows and chickens on farms and ranches than during the previous year, reported the U. S. department of agriculture today.

Decreased inventories, however, were noted for sheep, goats and mules.

Total farm value of cattle, hogs, sheep, goats, horses and mules on Jan. 1, 1944, was estimated at $566,973,000, a little below the 1943 figure, but sharply above the 10 years' average of $326,305,000.

Pasturage Proves Problem

Range feeds, pastures and other feed supplies proved adequate until the drouth and heat wave in July. Many sections did not get relief until September and rainfall then was not sufficient throughout the state to replenish stockwater. Wheat pasturage in the Panhandle did not develop because of lack of moisture at seeding time.

Texas production of principal feed grains (corn, oats, barley and grain sorghum) in 1943 totaled 185,354,000 bushels, about 20 per cent above 1942. Production of oilseed crops aggregated 1,462,000 tons ,a drop of 8 per cent under 1942. Combined hay and roughage in 1943 amounted to 5,855,000 tons, 19 per cent less than in 1942.

Curb Is Voted On President's Power

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—A bill to curb presidential powers by putting executive agencies out of business unless Congress specifically grants them funds was approved unanimously by a Senate Appropriations subcommittee today.

The measure would prevent the executive branch from transferring any federal funds to such agencies after they had been in existence one year or more. It would be effective July 1.

Senator Russell (D-Ga), sponsor of the legislation offered as an amendment to the pending $8,500,000,000 independent offices appropriation bill, said the President's fair employment practices committee is one agency that would be affected.

Uniform Prices On Feed Wheat Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — The War Food administration ordered into effect next Wednesday a plan for allocating feed wheat to insure uniform prices in any given county.

The Commodity Credit corporation will supply its regional offices feed wheat certificates for eligible purchasers and they may buy direct from the corporation or from approved warehousemen.

The feed wheat will be sold through grain distributors in carload lots at established prices without additional merchandising charges. The CCC will allow distributors stipulated merchandising fees which it will absorb.

To offset the expense of the fees, the price of feed wheat will be increased 1 cent a bushel on all sales after March 1.

The plan, in operation in some states in the East for several months, now is extended nationwide.

FDR Wants Vet Job Supervision

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — President Roosevelt today urged the enactment of legislation which would give returned war veterans exclusive opportunity to employment in such federal jobs as the President might designate.

At the same time, the President directed all department and agency heads and the civil service commission to give preference to employment of veterans from this time forward.

Letters On Policy

The White House made public letters outlining this employment policy which have been sent by the chief executive to President Harry B. Mitchell, president of the United States Civil Service commission; to the heads of executive departments and agencies of the government and to Chairman Ramspeck (D-Ga) of the House Civil Service committee.

In effect the policy outlined in the three letters would assure all returning service men of re-employment in the government if they had been previously employed there and of full opportunity for new government jobs if they desired them.

American War-Dead In Italy Buried On Blue-Tinged Hill

By GEORGE TUCKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Feb. 28.—Marzanello Nuovo is a typical little Italian town where American battle casualties on the Fifth Army front are buried.

It looks out across a valley that is painted with blue-tinged hills. The grave registration companies which follow all American armies in the field chose this site because it is high and clean and the sort of place where American families would want their sons to lie.

It is one of the loviest locations in this part of Italy. Not far away is the little town of Capua where Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet lived out their wasted lives. To the left and right as far as you can see are hills and valleys and winding trails.

I talked with 1st Lt. John Fitzstephens of Bartlesville, Okla., a geologist and now a platoon commander whose men risk their lives every day so that Americans who have died in battle can be identified and be given decent burials.

Fitzstephens explained how thorough is the identification process.

SUGGESTION

ARE you planning to get out last year's model and have it cleaned in order to join the Easter Parade? If so, you are being urged by the National Association of Dryers and Cleaners to have your drycleaning done as early as possible, instead of waiting until the last minute when cleaners will be terribly busy and may not be able to get work out on time.

The request is made more in the interest of the public than of the drycleaning industry.

RED CROSS WORK

MRS. MORLEY JENNINGS, chairman of the women's division of the Lubbock county Red Cross War fund drive, is pleased that all captains except one of all those who worked in the drive last year will help this year. That woman is ill.

However, captains who called Monday to obtain ten women each to help in door-to-door solicitations were amazed to be met with discourteous refusals. A few women were ungracious enough to hang up the receiver.

Of course these rude ones were in the minority but their attitudes amazed the captains and Mrs. Jennings.

"After all, we are not asking for anything for ourselves but for our men and women in service," Mrs. Jennings explained Monday afternoon. "If the women who refused had offered some sort of explanation and had even volunteered to do something else later on it would have been more easily understood."

Women are reminded a rally is to be held at the First Christian church Friday morning at 10 o'clock. This meeting will be in the nature of an inspirational and informational hour and everyone who is going to participate in the drive is being urged to be present.

WOMEN, WOMEN

ELIZABETH HAWES, who knows how to keep in the spotlight, even if she has given up designing until victory, started a furor when she said the other day that women generally look awful because the men are gone and they've no one to dress for.

Everyone from Dache to Kenny Baker flew to women's defense and saying "Pfui" to Miss Hawes who first came in national limelight a number of years ago with her book, "Fashion is Spinach."

Men should appreciate Miss Hawes' view on fashion because she believes that the choking collar and tight tie should give way to more of a middy effect and she sees absolutely no reason why men should continue to wear uncomfortable clothing year in and year out.

But back to Miss Hawes and her adverse criticism of women's wear: It's our opinion that some women (some, we said, not all) "let themselves go" around the house and when they work in the yard but when they go to the club or to church or out for a meal they look as attractive as they did in the days before they had those "my-man's-gone-to-war-blues."

In other words, they are still going for new hairdos, new lipsticks, new hats to ward off those spells of depression that stay-at-home weeks bring.

Families and friends are being pretty nice to these women whose husbands are away and sensibly enough the ones whose men of the moment have gone to war realize these friends deserve the time and energy necessary to keeping up an appearance to normal standards.

Or at least, that's the opinion of the Woman's Angle. What do you think?

The War Food Administration has raised 1944's milk production goal a million quarts over the 1943 total.

RUPTURE
SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVNAN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at Hilton Hotel, Lubbock, Wednesday, only, March 1, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Mr. Shevnan says: The Zootic Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly but increase the circulation, strengthens the weakened parts, thereby closing the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume no matter the size or location. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge.

Add. 6000 N. Aviesian Ave., Chicago. Large incisional Hernia or rupture following surgical operation especially solicited. —Adv.

Miss Doris Parish Weds D. D. Warren

Miss Doris Parish, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Parish of Fort Worth, and Darrell D. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al N. Warren of 2409 Fifth street, were married Friday night at 8 o'clock at Polytechnic Methodist church with Rev. W. W. Ward officiating. The couple stood before an altar decorated with palms, ferns and pink gladioli.

Miss Virginia Parish attended her sister as maid of honor and C. C. Caldwell of Fort Worth served as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother.

After a trip to Carlsbad, N. M., the couple is to be at home in Fort Worth.

Mr. Warren moved to Lubbock in Sept. 1941 and lived here until enlisting in the service in Jan. of 1942. He received a medical discharge from the Army Air corps last July shortly before time for his graduation.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren and their children, Sue and Max, were among the out-of-town guests at the wedding.

Mrs. O. R. Copeland Reports For Council

Slide home demonstration club met recently for a report of a council meeting given by Mrs. O. R. Copeland.

Mrs. Archie Price, Mrs. D. M. Price, Mrs. Wayne Vardeman and Mrs. Wayne Richardson were enrolled as new members. Mrs. W. M. Whatley was a visitor.

Mrs. C. L. Strickland and Mrs. Copeland gave parts on the program. Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent, lead a discussion on peace plans.

"Peace or war for the United States for the next hundred years may be determined by our country's reaction to our nation's policy makers with reference to foreign policy and peace plans," she said.

Others present were Mesdames Lewis Henderson, C. L. Rieger, Geo. Hindman, Russell Haynes, and R. V. Giddens.

Officers Elected At Youth Group Meeting

Week Of Prayer Programs To Be Continued Through Week At Church Society Meetings

At regular Monday afternoon meetings of women's church societies, Week of Prayer programs were given, officers were elected and book reviews were continued.

"Christianity, Our Citadel" (Roland Q. Leavell) was reviewed by Mrs. S. E. Gillespie as the first part of the Week of Prayer program being given at the College Avenue Baptist Women's Missionary society. A program will be given this week each day except Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the church. Wednesday night at 8 p. m. the society will give a pageant.

Present were Mesdames G. E. Kent, J. F. Riketts, Loyd Ricketts, G. O. Ross, J. C. Pharr, L. L. Burdine, Miss Bob Fry and Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Richardson.

Book Reviewed

Mrs. W. H. Trice also reviewed the book, "Christianity, Our Citadel" for the First Baptist W.M.S. to begin the Week of Prayer programs for organization. Mrs. M. L. Penn gave a devotional and Mrs. C. N. Hallmark sang.

After the program, those present went to the Activities center for a social hour. Mrs. Joe McIlhaney greeted guests at the door. An orchid and pink color scheme was carried out at the lace covered tea table with pink carnations and heather. Mesdames J. Holland Cox and Penn poured. Fourteen from the Sunbeam department of the church gave a program on "The Cries of the Children Over the World." Jo Ann McIlhaney and Louann Hardy played violins accompanied by Mrs. Tommy Dixon at the piano.

Mesdames Cox, Penn and S. A. Hamilton were on the social committee.

The Week of Prayer programs will be continued this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church chapel. Blanche Groves circle will give a program on "Where Cross the Crowded Ways." Wednesday night and Thursday afternoon other programs will be held.

In her review on chapters of the book, "We Who Are Americans," by Kenneth D. Miller, for St. John's Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service, Mrs. W. M. Craig told of different types of people who came to this country to make it what it is today. She emphasized the fact that Americans must remember that descendants of emigrants have contributed a great deal to the making of the United States. Mrs. C. E. Love opened the meeting with a devotional using a theme taken from First Corinthians: 13.

Twenty-five were present.

Program Given

Central Baptist W. M. S. had a union meeting at the church for an address on "General Missions" given by Mrs. J. A. Branaman. Others from Circle 1 on the mission program were Mesdames A. V. COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 28, (AP)—E. C. Martin, district agent for the San Antonio area, will become acting vice-director and state agent for the Texas A. and M. college extension service March 1, acting Director James D. Prewitt announced today.

Martin will have supervision of headquarters staff men, specialists and district agents.

Martin joined the extension service in 1928 in El Paso county as county agent. From 1933 to 1935 he was state boys club agent, and for two years was district agent for district 6 in Southwest Texas. He was transferred to district 10, comprising 24 counties surrounding San Antonio, in 1937.

Canteen Hostess Dies Trying To Save Dad

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 28. (AP)—A pretty Stage Door canteen hostess, 18-year-old Mary Flynn, died yesterday in an attempt to lead her father from their burning apartment after she had already guided her mother to safety.

The bodies of the girl and her father, John Flynn, 55, were found by firemen in the apartment after the blaze had wrecked a part of the four-story brick buildings.

The story of her daughter's heroism was told by Mrs. Catherine Flynn from a bed in city hospital, where she was in fair condition today with serious burns.

"She woke me up," Mrs. Flynn related. "Flames were everywhere. When we reached the hallway, I was blinded by smoke. Mary took me by the arm. I don't know how we got down the stairs to the street.

"'Wait here, I'll be right back,'" Mary told me. "'I'm going back for dad.'"

Mrs. Flynn had not been told last night that her daughter never returned.

Rains Improve Crop Prospects

Following the week-end rainfall of .85 inch, prospects were said to be good for all varieties of crops by Don L. Jones of the experiment station here. But, he added, this depends upon whether or not needed rain is received about planting time.

The station reported that the precipitation here at 8 o'clock Sunday morning was .46 inch, the rain beginning during the early hours of the morning. An additional .30 inch fell between that time and 6 p. m., with only .09 inch being recorded after that hour.

Snow In Panhandle

Santa Fe railroad officials reported that snow was falling Monday morning north of Amarillo in the vicinity of Dumas. The West Texas Gas Co., pipeline station reported snow fell north of Amarillo Sunday night, but melted as fast as it hit the ground.

General rains were reported by both the Santa Fe railroad and West Texas Gas Co. pipeline station throughout this territory.

The experiment station in Spur reported a total rainfall of 1.07 inches, running the February total to 1.78 inches, well above the 33-year average for that month of .80 inch. That station reported that a penetration test was recently made on the tight land in that vicinity and moisture was found at a dept of 18 inches.

Inch Rain At Littlefield

Littlefield reported approximately an inch of rainfall, a slow rain falling throughout the day Sunday. Side roads were said to be muddy there and cars were having difficulty in traversing them.

About one-half inch of rain was reported at Levelland. Light rain was reported at Brownfield, where .42 inch fell Sunday.

Report Says Formby Seeks Senate Post

It was announced by the United Press in an Austin dispatch listing candidates for state offices thus far that Marshall Formby, now overseas as a lieutenant of Army Engineers, will be a candidate for re-election to the State Senate from the 24-county 30th district which embraces Lubbock. However, no such information has been sent by Formby into Lubbock.

When he was in Lubbock on leave about three months ago, Formby told The Avalanche-Journal he would not be a candidate for re-election; that he did not think it fair to the district to be without representation at Austin. However, since that time friends of the former Dickens county judge and later Plainview editor have been putting out feelers endeavoring to plumb public sentiment regarding the district's continuing without representation. Whether this pulse-feeling has been done with or without Formby's knowledge is not known here.

The feeling here is that the Austin dispatch stating Formby would run again this year is based upon information given the United Press by Dickens county friends of the senator.

Almost 17,000 fewer persons were killed in traffic accidents in 1943 than in 1941.

By, Of And FOR The People

Letters To The Editor From Readers

SERGEANT WRITES

Editor, The Avalanche: I would like a few words to say concerning your recent editorial.

You hopped on the President for vetoing the Anti-subsidy bill. I am under the impression that the veto authority granted to the President by the Constitution, is for the purpose of vetoing bills he does not approved of and which, in his opinion, is considered detriment to the nation as a whole. The President asked that this bill be dropped because he sincerely believes that it is harmful to the nation, in which he is supported by a great many of the people, possibly a majority.

You stated that the veto power that the President has should be weakened. Why don't you suggest that we do away with the office of President all together, or have the Constitution amended so that the only thing he has to do is to sit up in Washington and let the farmers run the government for the benefit of the farmers, or the business people run the government for their benefit, or the unions run the government for the benefit of the workers?

You stated that the veto power of the President has been questioned several times. I am willing to bet that the questioning was done by selfish groups, block and individuals because they got some pet law of their vetoed.

You seem to be trying to leave the impression that the majority of the people was for this bill because it got the support of the farm and cattle—raising groups. These groups don't represent the majority of people. They don't represent the men in the armed services, the white collars workers, other workers, and above all they don't represent all of the farmers and cattle-raisers, even if the farm block is the strongest of the selfish blocks in Congress at the present time.

My own opinion of this bill is that it should be passed, but that prices of farm products and wages should be frozen as they now stand. If anything, some farm product should be moved back to a lower price. I admit that the fixed income group needs a raise in wages to meet the present cost of farm products and other essential cost of living, but the farmers and other workers are cleaning up in this war. If the cost of food goes up anymore, a family of four with an income of $3,000 a year will have to get in the bread line.

I am a firm believer in government by constitutional law, and even if necessary as in this war, by executive degree, rather than by voice of the mob.

I spent 20 years on the farm and can remember when there were more farmers going to sanitariums (nut-houses) than remaining on the farm, until President Roosevelt came along and save their necks.

Yours truly,
Army Sergeant.

THE SABBATH

Editor, The Avalanche: I enjoy reading your paper very much, but my favorite is "The One Minute Sermon." I never miss reading it. On February 16 it said, "Six days thou shalt labour, and do all thy work. But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God." Deut. 5, 13 and 14.

Although my faith is Baptist, I wonder why we don't do what God said. Sabboth, the seventh day of the week, the Christian Sunday, (Webster) but who changed it to Sunday and why?

Yours truly,
Mrs. W. R. Whitfield,
Lubbock, Texas.

HORROR PICTURES

Editor, The Avalanche: I have read that Hollywood intends to depict the atrocities of the Japanese toward our prisoners of war. Personally I think it terrible that they would and could do such a thing. If you agree I wish you would raise all the protest you can and see if they won't refrain from doing so. You have quite a lot of influence in this section and so many of the prisoners were from this section.

I can't see how it would do the least bit of good in this world to picture these horrors and oh! how it hurts the relatives and friends. I have a neighbor who lost a son this way and they just wish over and over the radio would just let up on these horrors.

They wouldn't see the picture for a million dollars.

Yours very sincerely,
Mrs. C. H. Bucks,
Abernathy.

E. N. Evans Funeral Plans Incomplete

Funeral services for E. N. Evans, 61, who died of heart attack at his residence, 1709 Avenue O, Sunday, are pending arrival of his son, Cpl. Weldon Evans, who is stationed in Camp Shelby, Miss., according to Rix Funeral home, where the body lies.

Mr. Evans had resided in Lubbock only a few months but had lived in this vicinity and at Tatum, N. M. for thirty years. Earlier he lived in Scurry county. For several years he was county commissioner at Tatum and was dealing in oil properties until his health failed.

He is survived by his wife, two brothers, two sisters, a son, Cpl. Weldon Evans of Camp Shelby, Miss.; two daughters, Mrs. Lorene Whitley of Cedar Hill, N. M. and Mrs. Odessa Whitley of Tatum; and six grandchildren.

French Partisans Maintain Civil War And Many Slain

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Taylor Henry, writer of the following dispatch, was chief of the Associated Press bureau in Vichy at the time of the German occupation. He formerly was of Fulestine, Tex., and is now in Portugal awaiting repatriation after more than a year in German internment camps at Lourdes, France, and Baden-Baden, Germany.)

By TAYLOR HENRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

LISBON, Feb. 27.—Virtual civil war in France between partisans of the United Nations and German supporters has resulted in the death of thousands of collaborationist Frenchmen and members of the German Army of occupation with only nominal casualties to the "Friends of America," as many of the partisans call themselves.

During the last six months, according to the best available figures, this French terror has spelled death to at least 1,500 French police and militia, and half as many civilian collaborationists, and to between 1,500 and 2,000 German troops.

Sabotage Is Heavy

Widespread as these figures indicate the terrorist activity to be, it is nothing as compared with sabotage, one of the French patriots' main contributions to the United Nations war effort.

The latest round-number figures on sabotage indicate that partisans have made 15,000 bomb attacks, 1,000 direct attacks against railroads carrying supplies and men for Germany, and some 750 attacks on city halls in various towns and villages to obtain food tickets and supplies to care for the growing terrorist organization.

Most of these have been individual attacks, and do not include the increasing warfare between organized terrorist troops and Joseph Darnard's French gestapo, which in the last few weeks has been making inroads against the terrorists with German help.

German SS Active

In view of the large numbers of German troops and sabotage, the German SS commanders in occupied territory have taken much of the initiative in attacking terrorist groups, and have been responsible for the execution of several hundred persons in the last few months, including women.

Mass executions of as many as 80 persons at a time have taken place, at such places as Paris, Orleans and Amiens. Some were executed after trial by German military courts, and others shot under order of local German SS commanders.

One of the sore spots for French patriots with whom I talked on my way through France was the fact that while the Germans were executing Frenchmen and women who were fighting their country's battles against the occupation troops, Marshal Henri Petain in an officital Vichy ceremony laid wreaths on the graves of German dead at the same time that he honored those French soldiers killed in the fighting around Vichy in the last days of the war.

Exert Much Influence

The extent of Free French influence in the Vichy regime can be estimated from the fact that letters bearing a stamp with the picture of Gen. Charles de Gaulle are postmarked and sent from the Vichy postoffice as a matter of ordinary routine.

One of the latest coins minted by the Vichy government carried on its face the initials "A.D.", sometimes used as symbol for "Avec deGaulle" or "For de Gaulle." The coins finally were withdrawn by the Vichy government.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow DeBusk of Idalou route 1, on birth of an eight-pound, two and a half ounce daughter at 1:34 o'clock Sunday afternoon in West Texas hospital. The father is a farmer.

Owens Squadron Sets Remarkable Record

Youngest squadron commander Major Marcus O. Owens, jr., 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Owens of 2708 Twenty-second street, is featured in a recent issue of the overseas service publication "Stars and Stripes." Extracts include:

OWENS

This amazing Troop Carrier squadron which Major Owens heads has been overseas for nine of its 14 months of existence, its 13 planes have flown a grand total of 10,000 hours for a distance of more than 1,500,000 air miles, without anything remotely resembling an incident. True, the "Buckeye Belle" has several patches over the bullet holes received in the Sicilian campaign, and "Four Treys" has a new left wheel. Otherwise, the 13 original planes are just as they were when they left home.

Major Owens has been called upon twice by Lt. Col. Willis W. Mitchell, group commander, to lead the entire Group on parachute missions in Sicily and in Italy. Four times he has led his squadron through heavy enemy gunfire on parachute missions and brought it home intact.

Day after day the squadron has flown supplies, equipment and personnel of innumberable other outfits to every corner of the Mediterranean theater, exemplifying the nickname of its C-47s of "truckhorses of the air" and the squadron's own nickname—"The Eager Beavers."

The report said as to illiterates that the Army had taken 75,000 since last June but "there are very few jobs in the Navy which can be filled by a complete illiterate."

Signing the report, which was compiled from testimony by Army, Navy, Selective Service and Veterans administration officials, were:

Surgeon General Ross T. McIntire of the Navy, Surgeon General Norman T. Kirk of the Army, Dr. Allan C. Woods, chief eye specialist of Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Dr. Frank H. Lahey, surgeon-in-chief of the Lahey clinic at Boston, and Dr. Edward A. Strecker, professor of psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania.

The dues paid into the Hockley County Board of Development, he pointed out in speaking of financing the organization, should be considered as an investment in the county and not as a donation. He said 75 cents per capita invested in the organization per year would keep it running in good shape.

Directors Introduced

Baxter was introduced by George Stallworth, president-elect of the board. Old directors of the board were introduced by Bob Hester, retiring president, and new directors were introduced by Stallworth.

Special music was rendered by Bill Finley, who gave numbers on the ocarina, bagpipe and violin. Rev. W. E. Peterson, pastor of the First Methodist church, gave the invocation.

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce had five representatives at the affair. They were James L. Quicksall, T. E. Buckner, J. Ray Dickey, M. R. Smith, jr., and M. D. Fanning.

J. H. Dutton Dies At His Home In Lorenzo

LORENZO, Feb. 28 (Special)—J. H. Dutton, 81, of Lorenzo, died Sunday morning at his residence here. He had been living in this vicinity about seven years, moving here from Knox City.

Survivors include his wife, four sons, John of Knox City, Alber of Sudan, Andrew of Abernathy, and Loy of Lubbock; three daughters, Mrs. Martha Ingraham of Alexandria, La.; Mrs. Arch Hindon and Mrs. Ollie Howard of Lorenzo; 13 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held in Lorenzo Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Claude Stoval of Sterling City officiating, assisted by Rev. McMasters, pastor of the Lorenzo Methodist church. Burial will be in Ralls cemetery with Marr Funeral home directing.

Soldier Confesses Theft Of Five Cars

Arrested Sunday by Dickens county Sheriff Fred Christopher after a 12-mile chase near Dickens, a soldier reportedly has admitted to local military authorities theft of five cars in Texas.

According to Lubbock police, Christopher was sitting in a Dickens residence Sunday when he looked out of a window and saw someone drive off in his brother-in-law's car. The sheriff leaped in his car and caught the soldier, who was AWOL from an eastern camp, after a hazardous chase through a mist and fog.

The soldier allegedly stole other cars at Sherman, Whitesboro, Saint Jo and Wichita Falls.

Bomber Forays

ting five targets. This month as many as six objectives have been bombed in a single day's operations.

Today's visit to the rocket-gun sector was the second for American heavy bombers since Feb. 15.

An overcast made it difficult for some groups to find their camouflaged marks quickly. Some groups made three to five runs over the targets before releasing bombs. Others brought their bombs back rather than make a doubtful attack and risk hitting French civilian establishments.

Anti-aircraft fire, usually severe, was heavy only in spots, and there was almost no fighter opposition.

Opposition Erratic

"Over the place where we went the flak was so heavy it looked as if the ground was afire," said Lt. Ernest Nance, Saginaw, Mich., a Fortress pilot.

Other fliers saw almost none, which they took as an indication that German ground defenses were becoming hard-pressed.

Liberators which went first over the target areas set fires which later crews saw still burning.

"The first squadron in our group dropped bombs that exploded right on the edge of the target," said Lt. Clifton Ackerman, Ft. Worth, Tex., a Fortress bombardier. "Black smoke spread all over the target and the rest of our bombs fell into the smoke."

Louisiana Factions Pit Strength Today

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 28. (AP) — With a strong display of unity in their own ranks, the combined followers of the late Huey P. Long and New Orleans "old regular" organization bid tomorrow in the Democratic run-off primary for a return to power in Louisiana.

Pitted against them is song writer—Band Leader Jimmy H. Davis of Shreveport. Davis led the field in the governor's race in the first primary last month.

Lewis L. Morgan, the "old regulars" gubernatorial candidate and challenger of Davis' linked himself with Earl K. Long, brother of "Kingfish Huey" and candidate for lieutenant governor.

Many War Contracts Said Terminated

HOUSTON, Feb. 28 (AP) — One hundred prime war contracts representing in dollar value about 20 per cent of the total let by the War department were terminated this month, Col. Merle H. Davis, chief of the St. Louis ordnance district, disclosed today.

About half of the 20 per cent figure was cancelled out by new contracts and by adjustments of old contracts, he told 250 Texas businessmen attending a war contract termination conference.

Nazi Psychology

and houses have been requisitioned to lodge bombed-out city refugees.

This brings us to the first question internees were asked when they arrived here—why are the Germans not yet ready to give up?

The fact is many Germans know in their minds that they are beaten, and an amazing number of them will even frankly admit it with a shrug of the shoulders, yet strangely enough few of them can really feel it in their hearts.

They are aware things are going wrong at the front and rear, but are incapable of actually facing and picturing the defeat of their vaunted "superior civilization" even after what happened in the last war, which they consider a freak.

and interned there.

Elsewhere the communique said the long Russian front was comparatively quiet.

City Ordered Held

(A British broadcast telling of the hard Russian push on Pskov said Adolf Hitler had ordered the city held "to the last man," denoting the importance the Germans attach to the city and its railroads.)

In their crafty drive through the snow and mud towards Pskov, the Russians apparently were shifting the main pressure first to one and then another of the three spearheads approaching the city from north, northeast and east. Sunday night's communique listed gains primarily in the north with some lesser ones in the northeast. Tonight's indicated greatest force in the northeastern and eastern prongs.

The Soviet advance apparently was proceeding without a serious hitch while the Germans fell back for an expected last-ditch stand at the city gates.

J. H. Whiteside Dies Here Monday Night

James H. Whiteside, 71, former operator of a nursery in Lubbock, died at 11:40 o'clock Monday night in St. Mary's hospital.

Mr. Whiteside had been in ill health for approximately two and a half years. He was admitted to the hospital last Wednesday, a few days after he suffered a severe heart attack.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Lt. (jg) Clarence Whiteside and Lt. James Henry Whiteside, jr., both of the Navy, Lt. (jg) Clarence Whiteside was on his way to Lubbock from his station at New York City at the time of his father's death. He is expected to arrive by plane in Amarillo at 4 o'clock this morning. The other son is on duty in the South Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiteside had recently moved to 1502 Avenue M from North College avenue where they had operated their nursery, which they sold in January. The nursery had been under the management of Mrs. Whiteside since her husband became ill.

Mr. Whiteside came to Lubbock in 1924. His first business venture on the South Plains was operation of a gin at Sudan.

Funeral services had not been announced last night. Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home is to direct burial.

atoll and 3,000 on Eniwetok atoll, both in the Marshalls. Seizure of the Green islands isolated an estimated 20,000 Japanese in the Solomons, and the Marshalls campaign cut off about 10,000 on Wotje, Maloelap, Mili and Jaluit atolls.

The figures do not include the Japanese lives lost on ships, barges, planes, and in smaller actions, such as those being fought on the three others fronts stretching 500 miles up western Burma.

Advance On Three Fronts

Allied forces advanced on all three Burmese fronts, including the important drive through the Hukwang valley in the far north where American-trained Chinese are advancing by a series of encircling movements. They are opening a land supply route to China.

Americans are re-training and equipping some 20 other strategically situated divisions in China. But J. Reilly O'Sullivan, Associated Press war correspondent with one of these Chinese expeditionary forces, pointed out a major offensive would have to await reestablishment of a supply route from India and seizure of a Chinese port by Allied Pacific forces.

The next step on the road to China may be invasion of the Philippines, following neutralization of the Japanese Central Pacific stronghold of Truk, suggested Rear Admiral John Downes, retired, USN.

"By the end of the year," said Rear Admiral Edward L. Cochrane, chief of the Navy bureau of ships, "the strength of our fighting fleets will be equal to that of all other nations combined."

Winds Cause Heavy Damage In Navarro

CORSICANA, Feb. 28. (AP) — High winds caused an estimated $15,000 damage at Emhouse, eight miles north of here, today when the farmer's cotton warehouse was wrecked, the seed house at the farmer's gin damaged and a plate glass window at the Wright Drug store broken.

Tupelo also reported several barns blown down and roofs damaged.

There were no injuries.

Other sections of the county had high winds and rain but no damage.

Labor Persists On BLS Report

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (U.P.)—Organized labor's assault on the Little Steel formula has chrystallized into parallel efforts to prove that labor has been denied its proportionate share of the national income and that wage rates have not kept pace with the cost of living.

Thus the CIO offered evidence today to show that labor income had lagged behind farm income and corporate profits since 1939, while both AFL and CIO leaders prepared for the next round in their fight to prove the inaccuracy of the government's cost of living index.

Analysis Of Trends

The CIO analysis of income trends was made in its monthly economic outlook, which said corporate profits after taxes had risen 100 per cent since 1939 and the net income of farm owners had risen 98 per cent while the number of income recipients in those two classes have remained stable. Wages and salaries in private, non-agricultural industries rose 108 per cent, the CIO said, but the average income per person jumped only 61 per cent because of a 29 per cent increase in the number employed.

The controversy over the cost of living index will resume when labor leaders complete their study of a bureau of labor statistics report which said labor was "absolutely wrong" in its conclusions that the index should have been at least 43.5 per cent rather than 23.4 since January, 1941.

The 150-page BLS report was made public Saturday night by the five-man committee appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate the BLS index. The report considered the union charges one by one and concluded that virtually all were without merit.

George Meany, AFL secretary-treasurer, and R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), labor members of the committee and authors of the report claiming that living costs had risen 43.5 per cent since 1941, accused the bureau of distorting their findings and "insulting" both housewives and labor. They promised an analysis soon to answer the BLS "confessions and laments."

Industry and public members planned their own analysis of both the labor and BLS reports. From the conclusions of the three groups the committee hopes to present a unanimous report to the President.

War-Dead In Italy

In cases where identification tags have been lost fingerprints are taken. When this is impossible, a chart of the casualty's teeth is made.

Second Lt. Arthur Bradley of New Bedford, Mass., who like Fitzstephens is a platoon commander, said, "we go through their clothes for anything that might help identify them but sometimes a man will have on a shirt with one name on it and be carrying a wallet or a letter with another name. That's why fingerprints and teeth charts are so important."

He said all letters and trinkets found in a man's pockets are carefully examined. If anything compromising is found, it is destroyed. The remainder is placed on a canvas bag and sent to the grave registration warehouse in Kansas City and any money on the man's person is converted into a check and also sent there. Later it is given to the next of kin.

We strolled out through the acres of white crosses which have been beautifully and symmetrically arranged. The aises between the graves are carpeted with gravel dust. The crosses are provided by an Italian civilian contractor in Naples; these are for Gentiles. Jewish graves are marked by Stars of David.

There are no coffins in war-torn Italy and the shipping situation prohibits their being sent from the United States. Casualties are placed in white GI mattress covers and draped with an American flag. Then they are given Christian or Jewish burial as the case may be. Jewish, Catholic, and Protestant chaplains are always available.

Sometimes German casualties are brought in and these are buried in a special plot for enemy dead. Their preparation for burial is not less thorough and, when identification is possible, the German authorities are notified through the International Red Cross.

Ralls Child Dies In Hospital Here

RALLS, Feb. 28 (Special) — Alice Faye Vaughan, 22-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smyer Vaughan, of this city, died at Lubbock General hospital Monday morning. Survivors include the parents, the maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Lowrie of Ralls; and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Vertie Vaughan of Ralls.

News Briefs

A revival meeting was opened Monday night at the Tabernacle Baptist church, Avenue N and Fifteenth street, with Rev. Art Wilson of Wichita, Kas., in the pulpit. Wilson, who is an ex-sports writer and now pastor of the largest Baptist church in Wichita, used as his subject, "The First Jewish Submarine Commander Who Guarantees Adolf's Defeat." Services will be conducted at the church at 10:30 o'clock each morning and 7:45 o'clock each evening until the close of the meeting on March 12, according to Rev. Ben D. Johnson, pastor.

Texas Tech students will elect editors and business managers of Toreador, college newspaper, and La Ventana, college annual, for the 1944-45 college year in an election to be held this morning from 8 to 12 o'clock, according to Maxine Craddock, student body president. Only girls are running for the positions.

It was learned here Monday that the wife of Sgt. James C. McMillan of Lindale who was reported killed in an airplane crash at Richland, Va., was the former Miss Naomi Sullivan, daughter of Mr. Edna Sullivan of Lubbock.

There are a couple of Lubbock county youths who probably will think twice before repeating their capers of a few nights ago, believes M. N. Davidson, police night desk sergeant. The youths appeared before him with three tickets each — alleging speeding, running a stop sign, and operating a car without a drivers license. Each paid fines totaling $11. The boys admitted racing their cars along a downtown street.

S/Sgt. Eugene Williamson, recently graduated from gunnery school at Las Vegas, Nev., is visiting his mother, Mrs. C. A. Speight of 820 Avenue M, for a few days before reporting for duty at his new station at Salt Lake City.

Police had announced no arrests Monday night in connection with the burglary of W. C. Boyd's service station at 2402 Broadway. Approximately $2.75 in money was taken from a cash drawer, an attempt made to take a typewriter and possibly tire and gasoline coupons were taken.

Lubbock chapter number 248 will confer the past and most excellent degree upon seven candidates at a meeting to-night at 7:30 in the lodge hall, according to Guy Casey, high priest.

Two West Texans listed in a War department announcement Monday as being held prisoners of war by Germany were: Tech Sgt. Howard B. May of El Paso, and 2nd Lt. Ted L. White of San Angelo.

The War department announced Monday that Technician fifth grade Mack M. Liston of Tahoka had been wounded in action.

The Navy department announced Monday that Pvt. Donald L. Stewart of Pampa, had been wounded in action and Sgt. Furber F. Salser of Lamesa killed.

SPAAF Gets Jump On Red Cross Campaign

Civilian and military personnel at South Plains Army Air Field begin saying "thanks" for a job well done to the American Red Cross today in getting the jump on the annual nationwide drive which stars Wednesday.

Red Cross officials at the field, pointing to last year's contributions of more than $5,000 by soldiers and civilian workers at the field, have hopes of reaching a goal of $6,000 during the current campaign. Several events have been planned to highlight the drive, the climax being an all post Red Cross carnival in the SPAAF post recreation hall the nights of Feb. 9-10 and 11.

Boxes will be set up at paylines at the field today and any soldiers who wish to do so may contribute to the Red Cross cause. However, no solicitations are made among the servicemen and all such contributions are voluntary, it was emphasized.

A drive has been planned among civilians at the field, it was announced, and it is hoped that civilian workers will join in the drive with 100 per cent participation. A committee has been appointed and already letters have been received by civilians, urging them to help make the campaign a success at the field.

Motorists Told To Sign Coupons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (U.P.)—Price Administrator Chester Bowles, stepping up the OPA's drive to wipe out gasoline black markets, today warned that motorists who fail to endorse each gasoline coupon by March 6 face possible loss of their rations.

On that date, he said, OPA investigators will begin a nation-wide check of gasoline ration books as part of the drive to track down organized burglars, counterfeiters and racketeers who siphon off supplies vitally needed for essential transportation. About 75,000,000 gallons went into the black market in January alone.

"Only Way"

Motorists with unendorsed coupons will be ordered to sign them and offer them to inspection of their local ration boards within 10 days. Those who fail to do so, Bowles said, "face revocation of rations."

He said it had been found that the requirements that every coupon must bear the license number of the owner's car was "the only surefire way to identify the people who are responsible for leaks in our rationing system."

Texas Livestock

did not entirely offset lower average values per head and the total value of $382,982,000 although a little under the previous year, was more than double the 10 year average.

Milk cows: A new high of 1,578,000 head reached on cows and heifers two years old and over kept for milk. Average farm value inventory down slightly from 1942 but more than double 10 years' average.

Hogs: The largest pig crop on record in 1943, 17 per cent larger than the 2,655,000 head on hand a year earlier.

Sheep: A decline of 5 per cent from the 1943 inventory of 10,829,000. Stock sheep numbers for January, 1944, were 10,223,000.

Goats, Horses And Mules

Goats: Estimated at 3,200,000 head, a decline of 4 per cent. An increased average value per head more than offset the decline in numbers, with the estimated value for January, 1944, at $13,920,000.

Horses and mules: Downward trend of horse numbers continuous since 1937, apparently checked in 1943 and the estimate of 588,000 head in January, 1944, shows a 1 per cent increase over the year before. Mules, on the other hand, continued their decline. The 400,000 this year is a 12 per cent drop from a year ago.

Poultry: New record high of 38,495,000 birds, 4 per cent above previous year. Total farm value of chickens this January estimated at $38,880,000, also record high. Turkeys showed an increase of 14 per cent over previous year, but approximately 100,000 head less than the 10-year average.

Questions And Answers On Rent Control . . .

Registration To Start About March 15 For Rent Control

The following set of questions and answers is the second in a series of four sets concerning rent control which becomes effective March 1. However, according to Earl W. Heath, district rent executive for the Lubbock OPA district, actual registration will not be started until about March 15. He advises landlords to watch the papers for further announcements of the actual registration date.

1. Q. I have three identical apartments. Two rent at $50, one at $35. Can I raise the rent on the third to equalize?

A. No, because these rents were not equal on the maximum rent date.

2. Q. My tenant says that my apartment is worth more than he is paying — can I collect more rent since it is all right with the tenant?

Would Be Violation

A. No. To accept more than the maximum rent, even though the tenant agreed to pay it, would be a violation of the regulation.

3. Q. May I raise my rent because the tenant is making higher wages?

A. No. This is not one of the grounds upon which an increase may be granted.

4. Q. What constitutes a major capital improvement?

A. A major capital improvement which substantially increases the rental value of the premises and for which improvement the landlord may petition for an increase in rent, will fall into one of the following:

(1) A structural addition. This is a clear addition to the premises such as the building of an additional room or the installation of plumbing, heating or electricity, where such equipment did not previously exist.

(2) A structural betterment, such as the modernization of an existing bathroom or kitchen or the replacing of a very old heating system with a more modern heating plant.

Complete Rehabilitation

(3) A complete rehabilitation. Taken all together, this is a general improvement and reconditioning such as would place the property in a higher rental range. This is general overhauling of the premises and not ordinary upkeep.

5. Q. Can the landlord obtain an increase in rent if the tenant uses more utilities such as gas and electricity than were used on the maximum rent date?

A. Usually in such cases where adjustments are granted it will be because an increase in the use of such services results from increased occupancy.

6. Q. I am now going to furnish my apartment which was not previously rented furnished. May I charge more rent?

May Set First Rent

A. Yes, you may set your own first rent and must within 30 days register the property at the area rent office. The rent director may reduce this rent if he finds it to be higher than the prevailing rent for similar apartments on the maximum rent date.

7. Q. If landlord is renting furnished rooms and later adds kitchen privileges, can he get an increase in rent for these additional privileges.

A. Yes, if the privileges given to the tenant amount to a substantial increase in services, the landlord may file a petition with the area rent office for a rent increase.

8. Q. If on the maximum rent date the occupant was a blood relation, can I increase the rent on a new tenant?

May Petition For Raise

A. In such a case if the rent was substantially lower than the rent charged for similar premises on the maximum rent date because of the blood relationship, you may petition the area rent office for a rent increase.

9. Q. On the maximum rent date my tenant had been with me for a long time on a month-to-month basis. I was satisfied with him and I had not raised the rent. Can I increase the rent on a new tenant?

A. No, this is not a ground for an increase under the rent regulation.

10. Q. For five years my landlord charged me $40 per month in winter and $35 in summer. The maximum rent date is in winter. He has refused to lower my rent during summer. Must the landlord reduce the rent in summer?

A. The tenant may file an application for a decrease in the rent during the summer months. Until an order of the rent director is issued reducing the rent, the rent is $40 per month.

U. S. Navy Planes Fly Rush Order To Italian Front

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — Navy air transport pilots who flew through North African weather so bad combat planes were grounded helped beat back the Germans in Italy with shells brought only 34 hours earlier from the United States.

The Navy, telling of the daring flight today, said the two planes carried the biggest load of shells ever transported by air.

It started when French warships, bombarding German lines in support of ground troops, began to run out of ammunition. No shells to fit their guns were available nearer than America.

Emergency radio calls to the French naval mission in Washington set the naval air transport division in motion.

Stockmen To Meet In Houston Today

HOUSTON, Feb. 28. (AP)—Stockmen from 16 states representing 3,000,000 of the nation's cattle population will attend the 68th annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association here tomorrow and Wednesday, Henry Bell, secretary-manager, said today.

Between 2,500 and 3,000 stockmen will hear discussions of protein feed shortages, government regulations and the problem of maintaining the nation's war-time meat supply, said Bell.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson will address the opening session tomorrow.

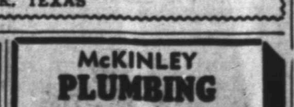

Other speakers will include United States Senator Ellison D. Smith (D-SC), Rep. Richard M. Kleberg (D-Texas), Jamie Brook of Brady, association director and past president of the Texas Hereford Breeders association, R. C. Pollock, general manager of the National Livestock and Meat board, and Joe G. Montague, the association's Washington representative.

The convention will name 60 new directors and officers.

POLES TO GET SHIP

BEAUMONT, Feb. 28. (AP)—The USS Wakefield will be commissioned tomorrow and transferred to the Polish government, which will change the vessel's name to Kielace, after a Polish city. To be present at the ceremony will be Remon Kutylowski of New York, Godynia-American shipping line president.

Basketball Records Might Topple At Tech Cage Show

The basketball season in Lubbock has seen some scoring feats that have bordered on the term of "dizzy" and some of the greatest individual shows of many years have been unreeled.

But the season's top cage show is scheduled to get underway at 7:15 o'clock tonight at the Texas Tech gym with a twin bill that may see even these top records of the season toppled before the final gun sounds to end the double bill that will feature the city's four top notch hardwood squads.

The opening battle on the night's menu will find the high scoring Tech Engineers tangling with the Lubbock Army Air Field's Fliers in a revival of a feud starting during the Lubbock basketball league campaign and produced a number of close contests.

Tech Plays SPAAF

The finale will bring Coach Polk Robison's hustling youngsters to grips with the city's hottest cage team, the South Plains Army Air Field's famed Winged Commandos. It will close the cage season for Coach Robison's kids.

It will not be the final game of the season for the Commandos, Capt. Nathan B. Eubank, athletic officer at SPAAF, has said.

The largest crowd of the season is expected to jam the Tech gym for the twin program tonight. The four teams involved in tonight's twin bill have played some jamup basketball this season, and most of the games among them have not been decide until the closing seconds of play. The highest individual and team scores of these teams have been made in games with each other over the past season. The excellent prospects of seeing even these records toppled has added spice to this show.

Each of the four teams boasts of at least two top scoring stars, and the battles tonight loom as a scoring duel between these men. Each of them have "dark horse" performers capable of stepping into the limelight, and carry on.

The opening game is expected to be a duel between Leon Reese and Bruce Prior, Lubbock Army Air Field's scoring aces, and Bailey and Booth of the Engineers. These four have ranked high in the upper scoring brackets of the season.

The nightcap offers another test for the collegian pair of Don Grove and Nolan Weeks, and the last chance for Coach Robison to realize that dream of seeing "both of them hot at the same time." They will be teamed against Leason "Pete" McCloud, SPAAF's All-American, and John Kline.

Two of the greatest night's McCloud has enjoyed this season has been at the expense of Texas Tech, a little more than a week ago he crammed in 35 points against the Collegians for his best night. The same night, the Commandos and Red Raiders roared through a first half that saw the staggering total of 75 points scored in the first half alone.

McCloud also scored 31 points in that famed 71-to-69 scoring spree between the two Army Airmen squads, a scoring record that stands for the season.

But whatever the scores, fans of the city are in for their biggest night of cage entertainment of the season.

LAAF Cage League Thrown Into A Tie

A major upset in the Lubbock Army Air Field Squadron League race threw the race into a tie last night as the Second Provisional Training Squadron five upset the unbeaten 498th Squadron, 39 to 32, in the second game on the card.

At the same time, the 84th Squadron moved into a tie for first place, each with five wins and one loss, by turning on the pressure in the last half to beat the Finance Department cagers, 63 to 46.

In the third game on the card, the Fourth Provisional Training Squadron fell before the 495th Squadron five, 42 to 21.

In the night's major upset, Lt. Sorrell set the pace for the 2nd PTS with 16 points while Norman Volz racked up 14 points for the losers for runnerup honors.

Bruce Prior set the real fireworks for the night as he poured 30 points through the meshes in leading the 84th Squadron back on the win trail in the opening game. Reese and Lightfoot shared the honors for the losers with 14 points each.

The score in this game was tied 25-25 at the halfway mark, but the 84th Squadron hit it's stride in the last half and pulled away for the victory.

Elrod paced the winners in the last game with 17 points while Martin topped the losers with eight points.

Red Sox Ace Joins Navy, Collins Told

BOSTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—General Manager Eddie Collins of the Boston Red Sox was informed by Cecil "Tex" Hughson, his ace pitcher, in a long-distance telephone call today that he had joined the Navy.

Hughson, sixth of the Red Sox regular hurlers to enter the service, was the American League's leading pitcher in 1942 when he won 22 and lost six games.

From his home in Kyle, Tex., Hughson told Collins he already had passed his pre-induction physical examination.

Draft Hitting Hard At Houston Coaches

HOUSTON, Feb. 28. (AP) — Hal Mickelson, who piloted Jeff Davis (Houston) High school to the District 13-AA championship last fall in his second year as head football coach, will enter military service next month.

Three other Houston head coaches face draft calls before the 1944 season opens. They are John Frankie of Milby, Roy Dealy of Sam Houston and Van Viebig of San Jacinto.

Lizards catch only moving prey.

Sam Byrd Wins Golf Tourney

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 28 (AP) — Slugging Sammy Byrd, former New York Yankee outfielder, won top honors today in the $5,000 all war bond open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 285, five less than his nearest competitor, Byron Nelson, Toledo, Ohio, pro, who scored 290 in the four days play.

Byrd, who expects to be in the Navy in three or four weeks, fired a one-over-par 73 for the last 18 holes over the windswept, tricky City Park No. 1 course. Nelson came in with a 70, two under par, but a poor 78 in the second round prevented him from overtaking Byrd who took the lead from Jug McSpaden in the third round yesterday.

McSpaden, who led the field during the first two rounds shot a 77 today, five over par and his worst round of the tournament to finish third, three strokes better than Private Chick Harbert, Lincoln, Neb., who had a 72-hole total of 294.

The victory was worth $1,000 in bonds to Byrd, while Nelson won $750, McSpaden $550; Harbert, $450. Fred Haas, jr., New Orleans amateur, finished fifth with a total score 297 and won $100 in bonds.

The war-bond jamboree started with a big auction for the pros late Tuesday night and brought $3,161,000 in bond purchases at the last counting today.

Two-Way Basketball Gets Western Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28. (AP) — The bewilderment was about evenly divided among players, coaches, officials and fans yesterday when the Pacific Coast got its first taste of "two-way basketball."

The University of San Francisco Army team won an easy victory over the Salinas Army Air base team, 73 to 35, but the crowd, shouting instructions to players from printed rules which were distributed before the game, said it was a lot of fun.

Jimmy Needles, coach of the USF team, drafted the rules. Each team used six men and the game was divided into four 10-minutes periods because of the fast pace.

Players were allowed to shoot for either basket, providing they crossed the center line during the play. Each team stationed a guard under each basket and only three men from each squad were allowed to play the center jump, which started the play after each score.

The play was virtually without pattern and Needles, who said he wants to schedule another game under the two-way rules, said that "it calls for quick reactions, great judgment and greater speed."

"I think the game has good possibilities," he said.

Almost everyone agreed except the officials, who were all but lost in the helter-skelter game.

Bud Palmer, ex-Princeton star, set a new individual scoring record for the Chapel Hill, N. C., Cloudbusters when he scored 32 points in 25 minutes against Davidson College. The previous high was made by Gus Broberg, former Dartmouth captain, against North Carolina State. . . .

Childress Bobcats Tackle Fast Austin Five Friday

The Austin Maroons, elected to the role of favorite and runnerup last season, will start the state schoolboy basketball race by meeting the Childress Bobcats, champions of District 2-AA and winner over the Lubbock Westerners in the bi-district playoff.

Austin started it's tournament campaign last season with a 35 to 24 win over the Amarillo Sandies, winners in the Northwest Texas playoffs, and drew it's first foe from the same "neighborhood" this year. They play at 8:30 o'clock Friday night. Austin was beaten in the finals last year by Jeff Davis of Houston.

The Bobcats, one of the hottest teams seen in the Northwest Texas area will carry a record of 21 wins and four defeats to Austin. Austin has been beaten but one time, this at the hands of Waco, another tournament darkhorse.

Opening the play in the Class AA division will be the battle Friday afternoon between the Sunset Bisons from Dallas and Midland, winner over Lamesa in the District 3-AA race, and bi-district winner over Ysleta of El Paso.

Other winners from the Northwest Texas area will be Stratford, high scoring winner in the Class B ranks, who defeated Ropesville in the finals at Canyon Saturday afternoon, playing Prairie Lea, a Central Texas power.

The Dimmitt cagers, winners in the regional meet in Plainview by nosing out Levelland by one point, will battle a foe from the other extreme of the state of Texas, and tackles Benavides from the Rio Grande Valley.

Lufkin battles Goose Creek in the feature game of the first round in the Texas schoolboy basketball tournament at Austin this weekend.

Goose Creek, which pushed forward as a top contender for the Class AA championship by eliminating heralded John Regean of Houston in the bi-district play-offs, previously had lost to Lufkin by a close score.

Another top game matches Highland Park (Dallas) with Waco. The latter is considered the tournament dark horse, holding a decision over Austin, one of the favorites.

Perrin and Leona open the tournament Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, with the first four games given over to Class B games.

Sidney Lanier (San Antonio), defending champion of Class A and the only 1943 titlist returning to the tournament, plays its first game Thursday afternoon, meeting El Campo.

Here is the tournament schedule:

Thursday — Class B: 9 a. m., Perrin vs Leona; 10:15 a. m. Blossom vs Ingleside; 11:30 a. m., Grandfalls vs Highland (Roscoe); 2 p. m., Stratford vs Prairie Lea; Class A: 3:15 p. m., Dimmitt vs Benavides; 4:30 p. m., Huntsville vs Nocona; 7:15 p. m., Mount Vernon vs Throckmorton; 8:30 p. m., El Campo vs Sidney Lanier (San Antonio).

Friday—Class B semi-finals 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., Class A semi-finals 11.30 a. m. to 3:15 p. m.; Class AA first round—3:15 p. m., Sunset (Dallas) vs Midland; 4:30 p. m., Highland Park (Dallas) vs Waco; 7:15 p. m., Lufkin vs Goose Creek; 8:30 p. m., Childress vs Austin.

Saturday—9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., semi-finals Class AA; 11:30 a. m., consolidation Conference B; 2 p. m., finals Class B; 3:15 p. m., finals Class A; 4:30 p. m., consolation Class A; 8 p. m., consolation Class AA; 9:15 p. m., finals Class AA.

Only eight of the twenty-four teams that participated in the 1943 tournament will be back. In Class AA they are Highland Park, Waco, Lufkin and Austin. In Class A they are Mount Vernon and Sidney Lanier. In Class B Leona and Ingleside are the returning schools.

Sidney Lanier will rate the favorite in Class A but there is no clear cut standout in Class B.

Cowboy Cagers Open City Series Today

Coaches Russell Wimberley and Curtis Barrett will turn loose their Cowboy cagers this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock in the first of the best two-out of three civil war battle between the two cage squads of the Lubbock Junior high school. The game will be played at the junior high school gym.

The two teams have been traveling at top speed all season, and the lone clash between them resulted in a 21-to-20 win for Coach Barrett's Black squad, and certainly didn't do much to stamp the title of favorite on anyone for the city playoff.

The one point victory earlier in the season has only added to the feud between the two, and both sides of the argument have expressed a deep confidence they can "take" the other.

The second game will be played Thursday afternoon. In case the third game is needed it will be played Friday afternoon. An admission charge of a dime will be charged for all admission.

No Club In AA Meet Has Been Champion

AUSTIN, Feb. 28—Of the eight teams that will battle for the Class AA crown in the state schoolboy basketball tournament here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, not a one has carried off a state title before. The closest any have come to this was the Austin Maroons of 1928, who won the tournament, but were disqualified as champions.

The Austin team this year is a strong pre-tournament favorite, boasting of a great team that has been beaten but one time, this by Waco, another team in the tournament.

Early favorites pair Austin with Lufkin in the finals, Lufkin being the strong East Texas five that comes from the area of the state that has produced perhaps more state champions than any other.

The greatest team record for the state tournament has been amassed by the famed Athens Hornets, one-time National champions, and five times state champions of Texas. Athens was champions in 1927, 1929, 1931, 1933 and 1934.

This will be the third year for basketball to be conducted in three divisions. From 1921 until 1942 it was all in one class and the smaller schools won about as often as the cities.

Here are the champions for the 23 years the basketball race has been conducted by the Interscholastic league:

1921—El Paso High. 1922—Lindale disqualified; runnerup, El Paso High. 1923—Oak Cliff (Dallas). 1924 — Oak Cliff (Dallas) 1925—Beaumont. 1926—Brackenridge (San Antonio). 1927—Athens. 1928—Austin disqualified; runnerup, Temple. 1929—Athens. 1930—Denton. 1931 — Athens. 1932 — Temple. 1933—Athens. 1934—Athens. 1935—Denton. 1936 — Cushing. 1937—Carey. 1938—Woodrow Wilson (Dallas). 1939—Livingston. 1940—San Marcos. 1941—El Paso High. 1942—Class AA—Jeff Davis (Houston), Class A—Van, Class B—Slidell. 1943—Class AA—Jeff Davis (Houston), Class A—Sidney Lanier (San Antonio), Class B—Slidell.

Arkansas Cagers Invited To Meet

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 28 (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks, basketball co-champions of the Southwest Conference, have been invited to represent the Southwest at the regional tournament of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, Dr. Harrison Hale, chairman of the Arkansas faculty athletic committee, announced today.

The tourney will be staged at Kansas City, March 24-25. The National finals are scheduled for New York, March 28.

Dr. Hale said decision on the Razorbacks' acceptance had been postponed until mid week because of illness of a faculty committeeman.

Arkansas shared the Southwest Conference championship with the Rice Owls.

Big Sports Show Is Scheduled In Valley

PHARR, Tex., Feb. 28 (AP)— A spring sports show in which 1,300 students in the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo schools will participate will be staged March 31, Coach Bill McWilliams, high school athletic director, announced today.

The event will be designed, he said, to show parents how the physical fitness program at the school has operated this year and what it has done for the students.

Eight events will be included in the show for boys, seven for girls and one for both boys and girls. All grades from the first through the twelfth will have participants.

Miss Nancy Ward, physical education instructor for the girls, will assist McWilliams in staging the show.

Pete Cawthon May Be Auburn Coach

AUBURN, Ala., Feb. 28 (AP) — Dr. L. N. Duncan, president of Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn), said tonight no immediate decision would be made on the choice of a new head football coach at his institution.

"The decision won't come tonight and it won't come tomorrow," he declared, adding however that "We hope to be in a position to announce our selection at an early date."

Both Carl Voyles, coach at William and Mary, and Pete Cawthon, mentor of the Brooklyn Professionals and former coach at Texas Tech, Lubbock, have been mentioned prominently as candidates for the job.

Vince Castino Signs White Sox Contract

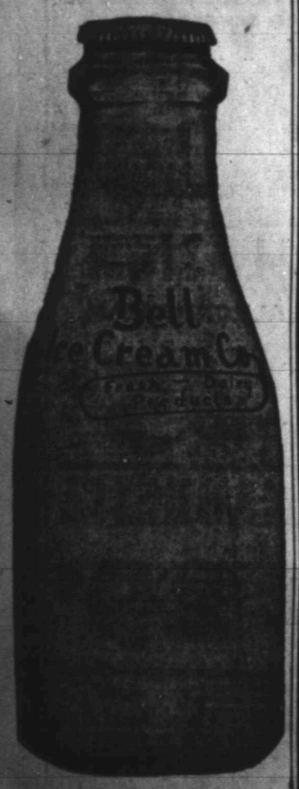

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (AP)—Vince Castino, a sensational .375 hitter with the White Sox farm club at Lubbock in 1942, said today he had signed his contract as a catcher for the Sox this season.

Castino, a 25-year-old Chicagoan with a 4-F draft status, was with the White Sox last year and made an impressive bid to beat out veterans Mike Tresh and Tom Turner for the first string catching job. His big chance came late in the season when he clouted a homer with the bases loaded against Boston.

A Mystery Of The Pacific

INTEREST has been revived of late in the possibility that the Japanese know more than ever has been disclosed about the disappearance of Amelia Earhart Putnam, American aviatrix, while attempting an equatorial flight around the world in July, 1937.

Even while the search for Mrs. Putnam was in progress, the Japs were under suspicion. However, the American State department did its best to "shush" anything of that kind. Official Washington was most solicitous then of the tender feelings of "our good friends, the Japanese."

But the rumors and suspicion would not "shush." They did remain dormant for a good many years. But there are people in responsible places who believe firmly that Mrs. Putnam was shot down by the Japs. Let's consider some of the circumstantial evidence in the case.

First, Mrs. Putnam was following a route which very likely might have carried her over some of the Japanese mandated islands. Japan had declared that territory closed to everyone—for reasons which became apparent at Pearl Harbor on Dec. , 1941. After 1935, even the natives were forbidden to leave the islands. The rest of the world was upon notice that anyone discovered in that vast expanse of sea—an area almost as large as the United States—could be expected to be shot without warning.

Shortly after Mrs. Putnam disappeared, there was a mysterious radio report, which never has been explained, that the aviatrix was a prisoner of the Japs. This report never was dignified by an official denial. On the contrary, Japan was "so, so sorry." The Japanese fleet even participated in the search for Mrs. Putnam. Was it coincidence that the Jap fleet chanced to be available for the hunt? Or, perchance, did Japan know in advance that there would be such a search? Was it coincidence that the Japs did the searching in the mandated areas which they were most anxious to guard against all prying eyes—particularly the eyes of Uncle Sam. Indeed ,a most persuasive circumstantial case exists against Japan.

But, to be just even to Japs, the record cannot ignore the last message direct from Mrs. Putnam on July 2 in which she reported she was over the Pacific, her "position doubtful," with no land in sight and with less than a half hour's supply of fuel.

Thus, Japan does not yet stand convicted of murdering the aviatrix. However, there is enough circumstantial evidence to demand an inquiry as soon as the more immediate tasks are finished.

A Worthwhile Suggestion

NO ONE could complain that justice was abused if the Nazis should be compelled, as suggested by President Roosevelt, to furnish labor and materials to restore some of the historic edifices they have destroyed. As a matter of fact, it would be justice if they were forced to rebuild everything rebuildable that they have left in ruins.

Furthermore, this course on the part of the Allies would be proof that they can learn from experience. In the other war, the jobs of reconstruction were left to the French and the Belgians. The German invaders went home.

While French, Belgians and in less degree, the English, were rebuilding, the Germans were re-converting their industry to peace-time economy. They were invading the markets of the world and were starting, even then, to create the reserves which represented the first specific preparations for renewal of their efforts to conquer the world. While the "victorious" Allies were binding up their wounds of the last war, the Germans were getting ready for the next one. They were allowed to use their labor for that purpose.

Surely they will be compelled to put their labor to better use after this struggle. The needs of those who have suffered because of Nazi wantonness should come first. The rebuilding that must be done in Germany is due no consideration until after the victims of Nazi aggressions have repaired their wounds as best they can.

This generation is extremely thoughtful of several generations to come. The love of money is the root of all evil, and it is spending their money so they won't have any to love.

"Civilization is under construction!" shouts an orator. Yes, and we're getting dinged tired of this rough detour we're bumping over.

The new anesthetic that knocks a person out for two weeks opens up new possibilities. With 26 shots of this stuff, a person could pass one of these hectic years off very well.

"A Harvard savant declares that man is reverting to the ape." The professor is probably sticking around the college to closely.

The One Minute Sermon

Believe It Or Not --- By Robert Ripley

Gideon Planish

By SINCLAIR LEWIS
Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.
Copyright, 1943, Sinclair Lewis—

XXXVI

Two days later, toward the close of his office day, Dr. Planish had a long-distance call from Kinnikinick:

"That you, Gideon? This is W. C. Pridmore. I've got some bad news. President Bull died suddenly this morning. . . . Yes, it was sort of terrible. It was the first meeting of the student assembly. I was there, and he started to address the students, and then suddenly he stopped and looked kind of shocked and he crumpled up on the floor and before I could reach him, I and Dr. Evarts, he had already passed away.

"I'm speaking from the bank. The trustees, there's a quorum of them here, and they all send you their regards, they think very highly of you, and we want to offer you the college presidency officially. How about it, son?"

Dr. Planish stammered, "I'll call you back tomorrow morning. Tenthirty, at the bank? Fine. Oh, give Mrs. Bull my extreme regrets. Call you tomorrow. Oh, give my love to Teckla."

Dr. and Mrs. Planish actually had no engagement that evening. No one had telephoned to them; no one to whom they tried to telephone was at home. Naturally, that was pretty distressing to Peony, and she whimpered, "This is the coldest, most indifferent town. Sometimes I almost think you were right last summer — that we might've been happier in Kinnickinick."

The Doctor was certain now that there would be a God-given moment, some time this evening, to tell her.

They dined with elegance in the Plaza Oak Room. Peony seemed to be in a tender mood, whether because of the chicken casseroel, or the fact that Caesar, the headwaiter, remembered their name, or just out of fondness for her loving man; and the Doctor took the chance. He addressed her as carefully as though she were an audience of willing philanthorbbers:

"Dear, listen to me now, and don't say anything till I've finished. I know what a wonderful, loyal heart you have. When I hear fellows like Homeward or Gantry kick about what grafters or conceited gabblers their wives are, I always think how very fortunate I've been. Hey—hey wait'li I finish! I know sometimes you get a little impatient with the slowness of life—all of us ambitious people do—but I know that in the long run, you're as faithful as Ruth—you'd follow your husband wherever he had to go, even amid the alien corn, hunh?"

Though affected unfavorably by the mention of corn or other crops indigenous to the Middlewest, Peony said Yes, she certainly was a Ruth.

"Then—listen now, and don't interrupt—poor old Austin Bull dropped dead this morning."

"Oh, I'm sorry!"

"Pridmore telephoned me—they want me to take the presidency right away. Remember that it would be a job for keeps, not dependent on Marduc, and with a pension. We could get away every summer, and come to New York or, after the war, go to Paris. Sweetheart, this is important, and it's immediate. Can't I count on you?"

"Oh, Gideon, I don't want to be unreasonable. I know. I suppose I would be sort of a queen in Kinnikinick. Do you solemnly promise we'll go to Paris if — My God, will you look who's here!"

By himself, lordly in a leather armchair at one of the small tables against the wall, was Thomas Blizzard, Senatorial Nominee Blizzard, who was supposed to be at home in Waskeegan.

Peony dashed to him—Dr. Planish rolled across the room more slowly.

Blizzard rumbled, "Just a little strategic surprise visit. Flew in here from home to address the big rally at the Imperial Temple tonight—fly back tomorrow. You two come and sit on the platform with me. Be some big guns from Washington there—the Chancellor General and the Secretary of Education and Arts. Doc, your reports have been fine, and you, young woman, I hear you're developing quite a knack of winning friends and influencing people. Maybe you'll be quite useful to the crass Blizzard machine, some day. You're going to bring your husband and sit up on the platform, like a crown princess, aren't you?"

"You bet your life I am—you bet we are!" said Peony.

Peony sat on the platform between her husband and the Chancellor General of the United States of America. To the husband she whispered, "Think, probly just this morning the Chancellor was at a cabinet meeting, talking to the President and getting the lowdown on Russia and the second front and the Solomon Islands and everything—just like in history! And me sitting here right next to him, with 10 trillion women looking up and envying me! And you expect me to go back and give teas for all the old maids on the college faculty!"

"Oh, I know," sighed Dr. Planish, and after a long time, "I know."

Afterward, when the audience trailed up on the stage to get the Chancellor's autograph, several of them asked Peony for hers, and one of them took her for the Chancellor's wife. She giggled about that, on the bus home, then she spoke with high seriousness:

"Honeybird, don't you worry if old Marduc lands in the alcoholic ward, and leaves you without a job. The way I'm beginning to stand with Winnie Homeward and Tom Blizzard, I can always support you, and you can stay home and have a nice, long, quiet rest."

The distant urgent whistle of a ferry, laden with freight cars from Winnemac and Iowa and the uplands of California, awoke him, and for an instant his square face moved with smiling as in half-dreams he was certain that some day he too would take a train, and in some still valley find honor and dignity.

But the whistle sounded again, so lost and lonely that Dr. Planish fell back into his habitual doubt of himself, and his face tightened with anxiety and compromise. He felt now, at 50, that though he might follow the path of notoriety for another quarter century, he would never recover from his mountain-sickness.

"Are you awake? Will you get me a glass of water?" said his faithful wife.

"Yes," said Dr. Planish.

"Do you know what? Some day we're going to have a penthouse on East End Avenue!"

"Yes?" said Dr. Planish.

Rites Read Monday For Mrs. Shugart

BROWNFIELD, Feb. 28. (Special)—Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at the First Baptist church for Mrs. Georgia H. Shugart, 74, a resident of Brownfield about 14 years, who died at her residence about 2 p. m. Sunday.

Rev. DeWitt Sego, pastor, assisted by Rev. A. A. Brian, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated. Mrs. Shugart is survived by her husband.

Interment was in Brownfield cemetery under direction of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home of Lubbock.

One manufacturing suggestion by an employee of an Army ordnance facility brought about the saving, for each 1,000 armored vehicles, of 12,000 pounds of armor plate, 12,000 bolts and nuts, 1,500 machine hours and 7,500 man hours.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

WHEN Archie, of Duffy's Tavern, gave his definition of juvenile delinquency, there was much laughter among his audience.

It sounded funny, yes, but there was a lot of serious truth in what he said:

"Juvenile delinquency is a lot of children trying to act like their parents." That is what he said, and that is what juvenile delinquency amounts to in the majority of cases.

Juvenile delinquency is growing alarmingly. And whenever I read about specific instances, whenever I investigate any of the cases, it's always the same cause: parental neglect.

Children learn what they are taught.

Children imitate what they see, repeat what they hear.

To blame the child for its sins is just like trying to cure a cancer by pasting some adhesive tape over it.

I read recently of an almost unbelievable example of parental neglect.

The wife of a soldier went out to visit a neighbor. She left their children aged 4 months, 15 months, 2 years and 3 years home alone, and tied the oldest two to their beds, because "that was the the only way they'd stay in bed."

A fire broke out in the kitchen and all four children burned to death, unable to get out.

EVERY day we read of women abandoning their babies. Then when they get caught they whine and cry that they couldn't get along on their meager incomes.

And then, all of a sudden, they ask to be given another chance, "they'll try again."

Just today I read of a soldier's wife whose allowance is $80 a month and who left her baby at the police station.

But later she repented and wanted her baby back again—but didn't get it.

Would your mother have done that? Not in 1,000 years. Your mother and mine would have scrubbed floors and worked their fingers to the bone before they had abandoned you and me.

Sometimes, of course, there's real suffering and cause for pity.

But mostly today it's greed and the lust for pleasure that makes parents neglect their children. They want to have their cake and eat it—and that just isn't in the cards!

Juvenile delinquency, indeed.

It's adult delinquency. Let us lick that and we can quickly cure the other.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE increasingly extended character of the present stage of the war has forced the Army and Navy to revolutionize training systems in the United States and in the back areas of foreign countries in which our troops are stationed. There is hardly a sector where fighting methods are like the necessary tactics in another area near-by.

Few Americans had previously battled in jungle, desert, mountainous or island terrain. Marine contingents had acquired some knowledge in the Philippines, China and Middle America, but these were minor affrays. Moreover, most of the officers and men who participated in those engagements are dead or have retired from service. The only means of learning the essential local customs of combat was by experience in action, the hard way.

Our earliest expeditionary forces, including those which landed in North Africa and on the Solomons were, comparatively, amateurs. Like Braddock's regulars at Fort Duquesne, they employed the standard, old-fashioned system they had practiced on flat fields and gentle hills in the States, or at naval bases on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts This also held good for the Air Forces.

Now, however, trainees here and aboard are instructed by veterans who have met—and defeated—the Jap and the German from Kasserine Pass to Kwajalein. Smart tricks and dodges not mentioned in any West Point or Annapolis text books or lectures are taught by battle-scarred warriors.

The soldiers and sailors now going to war make up an entirely different kind of force from that which scrambled across the world less than a year ago.

Together with our industrial might, this factor explains why we took Eniwetok in six days as against the six months required to win Guadalcanal — and why we are slowly licking Hitler's elite on the Anzio beachhead. Uncle Sam has just begun to scrap!

MATE: The mystery surrounding Mr. Roosevelt's Vice Presidential choice has assumed the proportions of a dime novel plot. His silence vexes and embarrasses the stable of candidates as well as Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, but he refuses to break down and confide in his friends.

Henry A. Wallace now confers with FDR regularly, yet the shy Iowan does not dare pop the important question. He thinks that the head man wants to give him the gate, but he cannot prove it. Speaker Sam Rayburn has been favored by the President with several important speaking assignments, presumably as a tryout, but the Texan is in the dark about his status.

Other hopefuls, including Senate Leader Alben W. Barkley and Senator Scott W. Lucas of Illinois, cannot ascertain whether they have a chance for the second place nomination.

Most likely reason for Mr. Roosevelt's reticence is this: Were he to tap a man as his running mate, he would expose definitely his intention to run again. But the boys wish he would make up his mind—about himself and about them.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

THE signature of John M. Hancock on the famous reconversion plan prompts Wall Street wiseacres to remark cynically, "The Lehman Brothers have their finger in another government pie." (Mr. Baruch's assosicate is a partner.)

Ever since Herbert Lehman stepped into New York state affairs with Franklin Roosevelt, people have surmised that the financiers mix banking with politics. Rivals hint that the firm owns a passkey to the White House, especially now that the former governor holds the important post of Rehabilitation director.

But that is merely a legend. Herbert is the only Democrat in the group; all the other relatives—and Hancock too—are Republicans. The UNRRA administrator is an extrmemely wealthy man and take no active part in the operations of the family institution. The extent of his fortune is somewhere between 10 and 50 million dollars; it is doubtful whether he himself knows the exact sum.

He retired as an executive of the corporation when he became lieutenant governor of New York. He still has an office in the company's building but its personnel only handles his private charities, which date from his slum settlement house days. Herbert has not been inside Lehman Brothers' doors more than once or twice in a couple of years and then for quick, personal visits.

PRESSURE: Members of the concern have kept out of political matters. They used to be among the biggest bidders on Empire state municipal bonds but they withdrew from this field in 1928 and did not resume until the ex-governor left Albany. Their forbearance lost for them a lucrative syndicate income

Mention has been made of their pulling strings in Washington for certain airlines said to be under their control. As investment bankers they sell shares in various enterprises but they are not managers. As an example, they peddle the stocks of several New York dry goods combinations, each of which is a keen competitor of the others. The Lehman Brothers connection with aerial transport is similar.

Robert Lehman, the present senior partner, was one of the original amateur flyers associated with Whitney, Trippe and other commercial pioneers. He naturally gravitated toward passenger and freight aviation. His company is interested in a line—now the center of a Washington controversy regarding a Caribbean franchise—because his investigators found it to be financially sound.

But the house is also the banker for several other such systems. In one instance when it handled the investments of a steamship outfit, it sponsored a flying branch as a protection for future business. At first it couldn't get support from other banks, so it sank it own money in the venture.

Despite the rumors that Lehman Brothers are the power behind the White House throne, well-informed Wall Streeters do not accept the assumption. As they are the money godfathers of many organizations operating in like endeavors, it would be an unwise policy to exert pressure for one—even if they could—for such favoritism would be detrimental to their other clients. The brothers and nephews are too smart for that sort of thing.

BARUCH: The liaison between John Hancock and Washington predates his initial connection with the firm in the twenties. He was a commander in the U. S. Navy in the last war, assigned to the Supply corps. In that capacity he had many dealings with Bernard Baruch, at that time Woodrow Wilson's mobilizer of industrial resources.

Baruch remembered Hancock's efficiency in naval problems and observed his subsequent fiscal ability.

When President Roosevelt asked the elder statesman to map out a V-Day program, Baruch urged Mr. Hancock to obtain a leave of absence from Lehman Brothers and become his right-hand man in the Capital. The investment banker is not a Washington bureaucrat; he is directly affiliated with Baruch.

COLLECTIVISM: Wall Street bankers describe British postwar plans as being more radical than those yet broached here. Lord Woolton recently announced the financing by the Exchequer of large-scale home building projects. His unorthodox advisers suggest that to secure full employment it will be necessary that the ministry control raw materials and investments. Beveridge's scheme for national medical care is widely approved.

Sir William told an American friend that the English are not so afraid of the word "government" as are Americans. "I imagine your dislike of the term dates from George III and the Boston Tea Party," he chuckled.

The social worker frankly acknowledges that the United States bases its economy on free enterprise; Russia on collectivism; and Great Britain on a system somewhat nearer the half-way position.

Here And There In Texas

Bigwigs In Politics Honor Clark At Dinner In Austin

By ELTON L. MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

A FORMER Texas lawmaker was in the March of Death from Bataan.

He is James (Turkey) Spencer, who served in the Texas Legislature as representative from Henderson county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spencer, Athens. His father is a retired grocery merchant.

The Spencers have received several cards from James since the Philippines fell to the Japs. All, signed in James' own handwriting, said he was doing fine.

Texas Massacre Recalled

Americans, shocked by the stories of Japanese brutality, may find parallels from the days when their forefathers forged westward in the wilderness of Texas.

In those times, however, the atrocities were the work of uncivilized North American Indians.

Take the Killough massacre in Cherokee county for instance.

Isaac Killough and the families of his four sons pitched camp five miles west of present-day Mount Selman on Christmas Eve, 1837, but before harvest time the next year they moved into Nacogdoches because of threats made by Dog Shoot and a band of Cherokees. The Cherokees, however, became less violent and agreed that fall to allow the families to return to gather their crops.

TWO wagon loads of corn remained to be pulled on the afternoon of Oct. 5, 1938, when a party started across the creek to finish the chores and then return to safety in the Nacogdoches territory. But there was no peace for those Killoughs. They failed to get across the creek. The feared ambush began.

Nathaniel Killough, watering his horse at the creek, heard the sound of rifle shots. He and his wife and baby found shelter in the canefield until dark and finally reached Fort Lacy, two miles west of present Alto.

Mrs. Hattie Joplin Roach relates in her "A History of Cherokee County" that Narcissa Killough, another of the clan, was busy washing the dinner dishes when she heard Indian war whoops.

The next few days in the life of Narcissa Killough rank with some of the Philippine horror stories.

Woman Fools Indian

For one minute she was horrified when she heard the sounds of the battle across the creek. Then she snatched her baby, William, and don the path and through the woods she, closely pursued by Barakias Williams and Jane Killough (Mrs. Isaac Killough, jr.) The Red men were close behind. They killed Barakias, but the two women went on unmolested until they encountered Dog Shoot and two of his men.

The Indians ordered them to march two miles back to the house, but Narcissa refused.

"If I had a gun I'd shoot you," Dog Shoot said.

Go get it," Narcisis retorted.

WHEN the Indians hurried away—to get the gun—Narcissa and her brave little party, Jane Killough and little William, hid in the tall grass nearby. That night they began afoot their journey southward — heartsore after seeing smoke rising from their frontier home. Three days later they were hungry and tired so they risked daytime travel.

Early that morning an Indian with a rifle on his shoulder appeared ahead of them where the trail forked. He was unable to speak English, but he pointed to a dimmer path. He loaded his gun and they decided to follow his direction. The Indian led them to a friendly tribe. There they were given food and water.

Narcissa and Jane then were told that they would have met death had they gone a little farther down the main path for it led to an ambush.

Refreshed by food and a night's rest, they made their way by the next evening to Fort Lacy.

From the fort word of the massacre at Larissa spread over the state. Eighteen of the earlier settlers were missing—most of them killed and the others never heard of again.

General Thomas J. Rusk organized an army that went after the marauders and the incident shaped a new Indian policy for Texas. Efforts of President Sam Houston of the Republic of Texas to quiet the savage hearts of the Indians had failed.

Schmid "Kids" Lawyers

Smoot Schmid, Dallas county's towering sheriff, spoke his mind about lawyers—to their faces—at a dinner here honoring Tom Clark, former law partner of William McCraw and now in charge of the criminal division of the U. S. Attorney General's office:

"Stiff-collared gents who are afraid to say who they are for, when and where."

The legalists gave him a hand, and also the laugh he expected.

The men who operate the sensitive listening devices on our submarines are trained to distinguish between the sounds made by propellers and fish by the use of special recordings of "fish talk" made by the Navy. Piscatorial sounds ranging from grunts and purrs to those that sound like steamboat whistles have been recorded.

Industrial Manpower Sufficient – Green

DETROIT, Feb. 28. (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said in an interview here today that the period of manpower shortage in industry has been passed.

"Now we have moved to the point where we are cutting back, and where men are thrown out of work," he said. "There is some unemployment. Our big problem now is the proper utilization of manpower."

HOW MUCH MONEY are you making from your DAIRY BUSINESS?

Never before was it more important to put your dairy herd on the most efficient basis possible. Whether you are milking two cows or twenty, every extra pound of milk you can produce, every bag of feed you can save means extra cash in your pocket. Furthermore, efficient feeding means less work per pound of milk produced, and that's a welcome bonus these days.

TRY
STANTON'S 18% MILK PRODUCER

It's developed and mixed right here in Lubbock to meet local needs and local conditions. It's tailor-made for feeders who demand efficient production. In addition, Stanton's 18% Milk Producer contains ManAmar, a product of the sea, rich in the proteins, minerals and vitamins which the ocean contains in vast quantities. Come in today and get all the facts.

MANAMAR
ManAmar supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex." Made from ocean life, it supplies "sea power."

MANAMAR Calf Pellets
These pellets save up to 1500 lbs. of milk for each calf you raise. The pellets cost from $20 to $40 LESS than the milk would bring if sold. And you don't have the mess of mixing gruel.

BUYING NOTABLY SELECTIVE

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Buying remained notably selective in today's stock market and, while scattered rails, sugars and specialties gave a good account of themselves, many leaders were indifferent.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .1 of a point at 51.5, a peak for the year to date. Of 853 issues appearing, 356 were up and 497 down or unchanged. Transfers totalled 753,870 shares compared with 900,136 Friday.

American Distilling "stamped," with its life extended by the exchange, came out late in the proceeding and, "Ex-Everything" including diverse whisky price concessions to shareowners, was 14½ points under Saturday's final quotation. It rallied for a net loss of 10 points at 35.

In the "new high" division were Western Union "A" and "B," Atlantic Coast Line, Delaware and Hudson, American Airlines and Oppenheim Collins. Improvement was retained by Rustless Steel, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Eastman Kodak, Anaconda, Houston Oil, Standard Oil (NJ), and Owens-Illinois. Among sugar issues in front were South Porto Rico, Manati, Cuban-American and Francisco.

Forward curb leaders were Cuban Atlantic Sugar, United Light preferred, American Cyanamid "B" and Northern States Power "A."

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Cotton futures closed unchanged to 15 cents a bale lower today after narrow dealings.

Commission house liquidation followed reports of continued contractions in mill demand for spot cotton. Hedge-selling also was a factor in the decline.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 28 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was 5 cents a bale higher at 20.91 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 20.66; middling ⅞th-inch average 19.80.

Farm Committeemen Set County Meetings

Community AAA committeemen; according to Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock county ACA, will be at the following places Friday and Saturday, March 3 and 4, from 10 a. m., to 5 p. m., for the purpose of explaining the 1944 AAA program and to assist in preparation of 1944 plan sheets:

Hardy school, New Deal school (for farmers in Monroe section), Becton school, Shallowater club house, County AAA office in Lubbock (for those in the North and South Lubbock section, Idalou city hall, Hurlwood school, Roosevelt school, Wolfforth school, Cooper school (for those in Woodrow section), and Slaton city hall.

Those who find it impossible to attend these meetings are asked to come to the county office as soon as possible to get their 1944 plan sheets signed, Wells said.

High School Sets Concert Tonight

Lubbock High school orchestra and the Westerner Concert band under direction of Charles Eskridge, have completed plans to present one of the outstanding programs of the year when they appear in their first formal concert at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the High school auditorium.

The concert will be given as a boost to the bond drive now being conducted in the high school for the purpose of buying a North American Mustang P-51 plane. Citizens are urged to come and, if possible, buy either bonds or stamps.

Program Outlined

The first part of the program will include four numbers by the orchestra. They will be "Prayer," from "Haensel and Gretel" by Humperdinck; "In a Monastery Garden," Ketelbey; "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor," Bach; and a selection, "The New Moon," Romberg.

The string trio, composed of Roger Hall, violinist; George Zournas, cellist; and Rayburn Jones, piano, will present the second division of the program. Part three will include five numbers: "Sleepers Wake," Bach; "Long, Ago," and fantasia for clarinet by Ritter with Billy Slagle as soloist; selecting from "The Nutcracker Suite," Tschaikowsky; music in the modern idiom, "Blue Moon," arranged by Dave Bennett, "Hawaiian War Chant," Paul Yoder, and "Alice Blue Gown," Eric Leidzen; and "Semper Fidelis March," Sousa. The program will conclude with the Westerner call to Loyalty and the National anthem.

Orchestra Members

Orchestra members include, violinists: Roger Hall, Francis Dalmasso, Jo Rae Watson, Gloria Wovak, Arline Farmer, Jo Ann McIlhaney, Rose Mary Dawkins, Joe Dean Payne, Wanda Mueller, Sara Davis and Barbara Tatum; violaists: Elizabeth Craig, Ella Faye Groves and Betty Frances Rogers; celloists: George Zournas, Betty Mangum and Mary Francis Payne; bass players: Lelia Ray Allen, Gordon Stalcup, and Zola Mae Elliott; oboe player: James Allen; flutists: Mary Lou Stewart, and Ruth Cowart; clarinetists: Billy Slagle and Sidney Kligman; coronetists: O. T. Ryan, Mike Sellen, Jerry Thrush and Elmer Reed; horn players: Edwin Cozby, Jimmie Patterson, Nelson Morris and Giles Carter; saxophonists: J. Don Baldridge, Bobby Rogers and Buddy Arnett; bass and alto clarinetists: Lamar Jackson and Travis Elliott; trombonists: Bayless Martin and Clyde Edwards; tuba player Andy Murray; drummers: Dick Lindsey and Clyde Nevill; and tympanist: Segwoyah Perry.

New Cracks Begin To Show In Hitler's Inner Fortress

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Collapse of Finland and the opening of a dangerous northern breach in the walls of Hitler's shriveling fortress of Europe appear close at hand.

Whether Finland surrenders on Russian terms, or fights on hopelessly to extinction, the end must be the same. It is evidenced in the thunder of Russian heavy field gun shells cascading into the Pskov gateway between Estonia and Russia as well as in the roar of Russian bombs exploding on Helsinki.

SIMPSON

The fate of Estonia obviously is wrapped up in the battle of Pskov. Three powerful Russian armies are converging upon the critical rail and road hub.

Would Expose Junction

Its seemingly certain fall must expose Valk Junction, 80 miles to the west and mid-way on the Latvian-Estonian border, to a two-pronged Russian attack that cold unhinge the whole Nazi defense position in Estonia. The offensive could send the German Baltic flank reeling back to the shores of the Gulf of Riga for a northern anchorage, free the whole Gulf of Finland of the foe and leave Finland utterly isolated.

The Finns have been fully advised that their Nazi "friends" stand ready to desert them as they deserted Italian allies in Egypt and Africa. They received no German air help to turn back the significant Russian bomb lashing of Helsinki. There is strong evidence that Nazi defense of Pskov is primarily a rear-guard action covering a planned full retreat from not only northwestern Russia but from Estonia.

The German retreat from northwestern Russia has shortened the Nazi battle front almost one half. From Nevel down the Lovat river to Staraya Russa, then around Lake Ilmen to the Volkhov and north to the Leningrad siege ring that front was more than 300 miles long when the Russian northern winter offensive began.

Gloomy View Taken On Crop Movement

Richard E. Wood, district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation here, told members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in their weekly luncheon in the Hilton hotel Monday noon that his office is deeply concerned over the problem of moving farm products next fall.

Wood said the picture is very bleak at this time as no appreciable relief can be expected in the near future in regard to the tire situation. The parts situation is critical, he said.

He said there had been a decrease in this district, which comprises 35 counties, of more than 3,200 operating vehicles since Jan. 1, 1943. Some of these trucks have been moved to other districts, but most of them have gone completely out of service, he said.

He pointed out that the ODT realized in 1942 that the only possible solution to the problem of keeping old equipment in service was to reduce truck mileage. This has been done and mileage has been reduced in some cases more than 50 per cent.

Wood was introduced by Otho Collins, program chairman. Ray Blackwell, acting president, announced that two technicolor films will be shown at next week's luncheon, the titles of which are "Railroads at War" and "Tank Destroyers." He announced that members of the other civic clubs in the city would be invited to attend. He also announced the membership drive would begin with next Monday's luncheon.

Marine Downs Seven Japs In Four Weeks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29, (AP) — Marine Captain Archie G. Donahue, of Texas City, Tex., has been awarded the Distinguished Flying cross for shooting down seven Jap planes in three weeks of action over the Solomon islands in May and June of 1943.

He is the son of Mrs. Dorothy V. Donahue, of Texas City.

Captain Donahue, participating in numerous patrols, escort missions and strafing attacks shot down four of his total on one interception flight. He was a member of another raid which resulted in the sinking of three enemy vessels and the damaging of a fourth.

County To Aid With Service Officer Fund

Lubbock county commissioners court Monday approved donation of $100 monthly from the county's general fund to Allen Bros. post of the American Legion for employment of a service officer to assist men and women in the armed services, or those being mustered out of them.

Request for the donation, provided by law, was made by F. W. Groce, post commander, and a committee of the Legion.

The Legion will pay the remainder of the service officer's salary, and also will furnish him with quarters, utilities and office furnishings.

In taking its action, the commissioners court took cognizance of a "rising need in direction of assisting men and women in the armed services with their problems."

The court also appointed a jury of view, composed of Glen Blackman, Bert Davours, T. R. Kincaide, C. C. Vance and C. U. James, in response to a petition asking for the opening, construction and maintenance of a road from a mile east of Shallowater school house and south about a mile to intersect with a public road running eastward.

Courts Act On Several Cases

Glen Monk was adjudged guilty of forgery Monday afternoon, and a recomendation of two years in the penitentiary was made by a 72nd court jury.

On a plea of guilty before Judge Dan Blair, Dane Bennett was allowed suspension of a five-year sentence for murder while driving a motor vehicle when intoxicated.

The case of Hood Abercrombie and Odie Brown, jointly charged with embezzlement, was moved forward until Friday.

Two Are Sentenced

Eldon Newton and W. E. Owens had pleaded guilty before the court Monday morning, respectively of burglary and theft over $50. Newton was sentenced to serve five years, Owens two years in the penitentiary.

Judge Blair had under advisement his judgment in the case of Odie McAfee, 17, who had pleaded guilty of theft over $50. McAfee faces a similar charge in Hockley county, said Burton S. Burks, district attorney.

The Monk jury was composed of Orville Allison, J. M. McKelvey, E. L. Harvey, J. H. Cox, J. W. Richardson, J. R. McSpadden, Floyd Koen, E. G. Beedles, V. A. Struve, A. L. Curtis, J. M. Robertson and R. F. Foerster.

99th Court Session

In the 99th court of Judge J. E. Vickers, the case of Cameron Justice against Standard Oil Co. of Texas, and others, for damages, was begun Monday. The following jury was in the box: S. W. McGaw, S. C. Williams, John D. Webb, C. L. Hettler, Joe Grabber, Ezdell Mirrell, G. A. Barnett, Dewey Erwin, J. B. Meador, O. L. Taylor, C. L. Truly, H. R. Redwine.

There were three other jury actions set for trial this week in Judge Vickers' court, and three the week of March 20.

Burks said the cases of Noble Burns and Jimmie Bear, respectively charged with burglary and embezzlement, had been set for today, the murder charge against Robert Clayton for Wednesday, and the assault to rape action against L. C. Brooks and the robbery charges against Harvard M. Brown and Utah Maples for Friday.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Plans for a chicken barbecue dinner to be served Wednesday night, March 8, in Allen Bros. post home of the American Legion as a benefit for the building fund of Booker T. Washington negro post were announced Monday. Members of the negro post, which is sponsored by Allen Bros. post, will provide the dinner and the entertainment. Members of Allen Bros. post are conducting ticket sales. Reservations may be made with F. L. Rankin, adjutant of Allen Bros. post, in the school district business office, 1007 Texas avenue, telephone 9396.

An article in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal pertaining to workers in the surgical dressings room stated that only 12 women worked all day in the production center Friday. The statement should have said Friday afternoon instead. Friday morning, 35 women of the LAAF officers' wives group under direction of Mrs. Ralph E. Holmes, wife of the commanding officer, worked in the surgical dressings room.

The Navy department announced Monday the names of 144 additional casualties in the Navy, Marine corps and Coast Guard, including the following West Texans: Leon Edward Overby, electrician's mate 3-c, USNR, missing, parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Overby, Roscoe; Sgt. Furber F. Salser, USMC, wounded, mother, Mrs. Eva G. Salser, Lamesa; Pfc. Donald L. Stewart, USMCR, dead, mother, Mrs. Maggie Stewart, Pampa.

A 16-year-old Lubbock youth who admitted armed robbery of W. O. Worley, a candy salesman, Friday midnight at Worley's 2302 Tenth street residence Monday afternoon was paroled to his widowed mother. Judge G. V. Pardue sat as juvenile judge.

Sgt. Robert E. Jones of Bryan Army Air field returned to Bryan Saturday after spending a ten-day furlough with his sister, Miss Ruth Jones, 1510 Nineteenth street. PFC O. B. Jones, also a brother of Miss Jones, of Clovis, N. M., visited here briefly the past week.

Ration tokens will not be given as change for remaining red stamps in War Ration book 3 or green stamps in book 4, according to J. Doyle Settle, district ration executive for the Lubbock district of the OPA. These stamps will be used as at present until they expire after March 20, and will be accepted only at their denominational values of 8, 5, 2 or 1 point. Red and blue ration tokens will be used as change only for those stamps from Ration book 4 which became valid Feb. 27, he said.

A rent control program in the form of questions and answers is to be presented over radio station KFYO at 8:15 p. m. tonight with Earl W. Heath, district rent director, in charge.

Tydings Favors U. S. Control Of Islands

BALTIMORE, Feb. 28, (AP) — Senator Tydings (D-Md) believes the United States should accept the mandate of the Gilbert, Marshall and Marianas islands after the war.

Tydings, answering a question put to him at a church forum, commented that "someone has to own them," and said that the British now have thousands of islands. The Pacific islands, he continued, are of little value except as military or air bases.

"They're really swell folks"

...those other people on our party line"

"We used to think they were just plain inconsiderate. Forever talking when we wanted to use our party line.

"Then Mary said, 'Let's take inventory. Maybe we're just as bad.'

"Well, we had to admit that we, too, frequently monopolized that party line. Sometimes we didn't wait even a minute between calls.

"So we decided to put our own house in order. Now we limit conversations to five minutes. Give other folks time to finish their calls. Sometimes say, 'pardon us,' when we happen to break in on other people's calls.

Borden Already Over In Red Cross Drive

SNYDER, Feb. 28. (Special) — Borden county, with a population of 1,700, is the first county in this area to reach its quota in the Red Cross War Fund campaign, Fred Parker, county chairman, revealed.

Assessed a $900 quota, Borden county raised $1,038 in a program at Gail.

D. Howard, Borden county Fourth War Loan drive chairman, reports that county, most thinly populated in Texas, had doubled its $16,000 quota in that campaign.

VETERAN DIES

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 28. (AP) — Gordon R. McKissack, 46, for a number of years highway maintenance foreman for the state highway department in Grayson and Cooke counties but more recently employed by the Texas Power and Light company in Gainesville, died of a heart attack last night. He was a veteran of World war 1.

The new Chinese immigration quota is 105 persons a year.

Changes Announced In Artists Course

Bartlett and Robertson, famous duo-pianists, and Igor Gorin, baritone singer, will be the two artist course presentations of Texas Technological college for the spring season this year, according to R. A. Mills, head of the artist course committee at Texas Tech. They are replacing engagements of Mia Slavenska and ensemble, who were scheduled to appear last Wednesday evening and missed train connections in California, and Eleanor Steber, scheduled to appear in April, who has cancelled all engagements so that she can continue her performances with the Metropolitan Opera in New York City through April.

"These artists are extremely good," Mills stated, "and are the same high quality as those they are replacing."

Bartlett and Robertson, mixed piano duet, are to appear in Lubbock March 22. Nationally known they are one of the four most outstanding duo-pianists in the nation.

Igor Gorin, famed baritone, will appear here April 11. He has appeared on many radio programs including several appearances with the Kraft Music hall. Gorin was described by Mills as one of the most outstanding man singers the Tech artist course has ever presented.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
