Grain Sorghum Harvest Took Place of Wheat Here This Year, County Agent Report Shows

The annual report of county agent Hood Willis shows that while Ochiltree county is primarily a wheat producing county, in 1950, grain sorghums were the cash crop for this county. Favorable growing conditions made the grain sorghum harvest equal in cash income to an average wheat harvest, which added immensely in the 1950 wheat crop failure.

PIONEER VISITS CITY—Mrs. Harry Purcell, right, of Excelsior Springs, Mo., and former owner of the Perryton townsite, visited here Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Purcell were former owners of the Ochiltree Eagle-Investigator, early-day Ochiltree newspaper, and also published a paper at Hansford. They owned the land upon which Perryton was founded, and lived in the house now occupied by Mrs. J. M. Grigsby when it was an isolated farm house. Mrs. Purcell also visited in the home of Judge and Mrs. Charles C. Beck of Gruver, shown above.

Grain Sorghum Harvest Took Place of Wheat Here This Year, County Agent Report Shows

Farmers continue to be interested in bindweed eradication and control. Two-four-D applications are used extensively on large plots. Horace Glasgow has eradicated a three acre plot with 2-4-D and sorghum cropping. Glasgow sprayed 3 to 4 times a year for the first two years. The plants were sprayed when they emerged the third and fourth years and cane was drilled in 10-inch rows and the scattered plants hand sprayed that appeared in the cane.

Parking Meter Proves Popular

The ten cent parking meter which was installed on the city hall counter last week has proved quite popular. As of Tuesday afternoon, there had been 62 parking tickets paid off with a dime into the meter rather than $1 to the court. If a motorist reports at the city hall within one hour after receiving a parking ticket, he can pay ten cents and have the charges dismissed. The regular fine is $1 for a parking violation.

Bindweed

Due to green bugs, the wheat crop in Ochiltree county was almost a complete failure. Most farmers are of the opinion that the yield would have been average had it not been for the bugs. The Ochiltree County Wheat Improvement Assn. is doing much to encourage planting of premium milling varieties of wheat and also advertising Ochiltree county wheat to millers.

Only .21 Inch Of Moisture Since Oct. 1

It was officially winter in the nation on Dec. 22, but even the official weather bureau endorsement failed to bring about any trace of snow—or any other kind of moisture—for the Perryton area. It now appears that December could well pass by without one drop of wetness, and without some kind of moisture, wheat fields are doomed.

He is on temporary duty as senior aide to Maj. Gen. H. Miller Ainsworth, commanding general of the 36th National Guard division. A strong advocate of the National Guard program, Murphy points out that young men joining guard units have an opportunity to train with men from their own neighborhood while remaining at home. National guard training will enable a young man to advance more rapidly if he should enter the regular service later on, Murphy added.

'The Milkman' Delivers Hilarious Laugh Team

If you don't think the milkman leads an interesting life, go to see "The Milkman" which comes to the Ellis on Sun. Mon., Dec. 31-Jan. 1. The comedy puts Donald O'Connor and Jimmy Durante in the middle of the gayest, most nonsensical antics to hit the screen in many a moon.

O'Connor is great in the wacky role of a wealthy playboy who tries to escape the hangovers of the war by becoming a milkman. Durante, cast as his pal, plays the part of a 25-year veteran along the milk routes. Piper Laurie and Joyce Holden, cast as the comical's respective girl friends, race along with them through a succession of laugh provoking events which left opening day audiences holding their sides with joy.

Notable performances are also turned in by the supporting cast, including Jess Barker, characterizing a weak-livered milk company executive; Elizabeth Risdon, as his cantankerous aunt and principal stockholder in the dairy firm; and Henry O'Neill, as O'Connor's doting father.

to Tighten Belt in 1951

When grumbling about the past year, you'd take a deep breath—they'd be even higher in the year to come. You may not feel the rise in prices until mid-year. It's not until you need to put up your food budget. The note, even in the rationing, is that the pack of America's favorite canned fish, tuna, for 1951 is a record one. Maine sardines have also been running ahead of usual production. If you've been fretting about the price of canned salmon prepare to see it even less plentiful on tables—the pack is the lowest we've had since 1921.

Our poultry products have been reaching record proportions, and with meat continuing at high prices, chicken every Sunday will be in even greater demand. If your family likes turkey, better have those turkey dinners early in the year, when there's plenty of it around. Carry-over stocks of our favorite big bird are expected to be smaller than last year and birds hatched in 1951 won't move to market until late in the year.

The 1951 increase in price in dairy products is not expected to be as much as for some of the other foods that Americans like. The rise in price won't be felt as soon as that of other foods; that's because when Mr. and Mrs. America's income goes up, as it will in 1951, they're not likely to splurge on butter and milk and cream and cheese the way they are on steaks and roasts.

If you want to save on the fats you use in cooking in 1951 your best buy will probably be lard.

Thrilling Western Relates Real Life Ranch Tragedies

Fighting the hoof-and-mouth disease is one of the most serious problems confronting ranchers in "The Trigger Trio" coming to the Pertex on Fri.-Sat., Dec. 29-30. The picture, starring Ray Corrigan, Max Terhune and Ralph Byrd, shows the tragedy that occurs when ranchers are required by the law to destroy their entire herds when one animal becomes infected with the dread disease.

Fortunes are wiped out; the losses from the disease are greater than losses sustained by outlaw bands of rustler. But the government is determined that the disease be checked before it makes further inroads into the immense cattle herds.

DeCarlo Film Loaded with Desert Spice

In the type of role that made her famous, Yvonne DeCarlo sings dances and emotes her way through the fast-action picture, "The Desert Hawk," a tale of the ancient East, which comes to the Ellis on Fri.-Sat., Dec. 29-30.

Richard Green is co-starred in the production.

The story has to do with an Arabian Robin Hood who, to protect the poor against the tax collectors of the wicked Prince Murad, leaves his blacksmith shop in Teheran to become "The Desert Hawk," scourge of his enemies. How he marries Princess Shaharazade by trickery to keep her from falling into the hands of Murad, saves her from the torture chambers and finally brings peace and justice to his country are all part of an exciting romance backgrounded by Near Eastern atmosphere in the gorgeous Technicolor which has now become a DeCarlo trademark.

Green Bug Problem

Reports of infestation of aphids in the wheat in this area, and in the entire winter wheat growing area creates a serious problem not only for farmers who depend upon wheat for their living, but also for the world, which depends on wheat for their bread.

How to combat the invasion of the green bug when the top soil is dry is of primary concern to agriculture on the Plains of Texas, and it is a problem which, if not solved, will do as much toward bringing about "hard times" as the drought of the 1930's did.

In fact, there is a parallel to conditions now compared with the dry years. Then, a combination of crop failures and a depression proved disastrous. A crop failure in a time of high prices is just as bad, although farmers have cash reserves to draw upon for a time and have cleared away much of their debts during the prosperous 1940's.

Whether it is Mother Nature or modern science that brings about a solution, a solution must be found. Two crop failures in a row make it tough on everybody in the wheat area, even if the rest of the nation is enjoying prosperity.

Charges Filed In Car Accident

Weldon D. Clark has been charged in county court with aggravated assault with a motor vehicle as a result of an accident which occurred in front of the Sanford Hospital on Dec. 19.

Involved in the collision were a 1949 Ford driven by Calvin Gillespie of Follett and Clark's 1949 Buick. Gillespie was parked in front of the hospital, with his wife and two children, when the Clark vehicle ran into the Ford from behind, according to deputy sheriff Clyde Tarbox.

One of the Gillespie children was thrown from the rear seat to the floor, receiving a cut lip, Tarbox said. The rear fender and one door of the Ford was damaged.

Clark left the scene of the accident and was found at home by Tarbox. The charges were filed in county court on Dec. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lyei spent Christmas with her parents in Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Burns left Tuesday evening for a few days' visit in Beaumont.

Mrs. Bertha McNally was in Oklahoma City over the Christmas holidays.

Congressmen Don't Know What's Next

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher comes to the defenses of Congress this week, in a manner of speaking.)

Dear editor:
I was out here yesterday contemplating the world situation, after a man has spent a lifetime contemplating his own hard luck it ain't no bother to contemplate the world situation and I can do it without losing a moment's sleep, there's probably some satisfaction in realizing the world generally has botched up its affairs about like I have my own personally, although so far I have managed to stay within my own boundaries, not counting what damage my cows has done in occasional wanderin' off, anybody who don't like it can build a better fence around his land, and while I was sittin' there on the south side of a tree enjoyin' the sun I pulled a newspaper out of my back pocket where I had put it when I found it about to fall out of my neighbor's mail box earlier in the day, didn't think he'd want his paper to fall out and blow away, and I read where a cattleman from Texas had been to Washington and had been talkin' with Congressmen and reported he'd run into "the strangest thing he'd ever encountered."
Accordin' to him, "instead of telling you what's going to happen, Congress asks you what's going to happen. I don't think the general run of Congressmen has the least idea now what's going to happen."
He seemed astonished, maybe even shocked, at this, but it don't affect me that way.
Why should a Congressman know what's gonna happen when nobody else in the world does?
The democratic thing about this present world situation is

Rank Runs Charm School

LONDON (AP)—British movie mogul J. Arthur Rank has opened a charm school to turn his cinema managers into perfect gentlemen. Starting from the bottom—in the boiler room—24 fledgling managers are learning the niceties of separating the customers from their shillings graciously in a suburban Rank movie house that has been turned into a combination school and dormitory.

It's a 24-week course. Besides learning how to stoke a boiler and keep a theater at a comfortable temperature, embryo managers will have a crack at:
Cleaning door handles and polishing windows; vacuuming the carpets; peddling ice cream speedily during intermissions so that it gets to the customer before it starts to melt; handling an usherette's torch so that it doesn't flash in the eyes of the patrons.

Formality in Television

BALTIMORE (AP)—One television program here is strictly formal—white ties and tails in front of the camera and behind it.
When WMAR, Sunpapers station, began televising its program, "Dinner at the Sheraton Belvedere," its cameraman looked strangely out of place in the ritzy surroundings. Service jackets and sport shirts didn't blend too well with the formality.

Tune by Phone

VIENNA (AP)—Your violin off key? Your oboe flat? If you were in Vienna, you could discard the old tuning fork and call the telephone company.
Since Vienna is the traditional capital of the music world, the state telephone system has arranged so you can dial A-69 and get by phone a standard A-pitch of 440 vibrations of a tuning fork per second.

Yule Season Not Merry for Booker Telephone Operator

by Jenna V. Ownbey

BOOKER (Special), Dec. 23. This Yuletide Season won't be such a merry one for one telephone operator in this town. In fact, a good many Christmases haven't been such good ones for Miss Bertha Stephenson.

She hasn't been blessed with health, prosperity nor was she born with a silver spoon in her mouth. The Gods haven't seen fit to favor extensively either, and this Christmas they really smacked her!

Bertha, a cripple who lost the use of her limbs when she suffered infantile paralysis as a child some 35 years ago, is able to get about in a wheel-chair. Her mother died when she was only 2 years of age, and her care fell to an older sister, Mertie, and older brothers. For years, Bertha made her home with first one brother's family and then another. Finally, both Mertie and Bertha became telephone operators, and while they were employed at Groom, Mertie was burned to death in a fire that destroyed all their belongings and the telephone office.

Again Bertha went back to the shelter of relatives' homes, always missing that companionship many able persons enjoy and that freedom and security brought by employment.

Always able to wait on herself, to help do housework, to cook and be enterprising, she was determined to become independent. After long searching she secured a place as a telephone operator at Booker, working under the agent there. Never complaining of the long, tire-some hours, she remained with her job, often never leaving the switch-board until late at night, and being on call for whatever came during all those long, dark hours.

When Booker was threatened with a tornado, she was the last person to be taken to a cellar for safety. She had remained at the switch-board, encouraging people, advising them of the danger.

When the rash of prairie fires swept across the Panhandle, it was she who handled many of the calls for help and advising of the areas endangered.

Her hours were strenuous, and she was unable to get away from the office at all unless someone took her to church or out for a meal. She did her own cooking, housekeeping and kept her own clothes.

A couple of weeks ago, she became ill, and only after reaching a complete collapse did she call Hubert Bishop and family in Amarillo. Mrs. Bishop is the former Waldeen Dodson.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gum and boys spent Christmas in Elmwood, Okla., with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ford.

Mrs. B. L. Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Doty left Wednesday for Wichita, Kansas, where they will visit the Omar Barnes family. They will also visit Douglas Barnes, who is still a patient in the polio ward at Wesley Hospital. They will go from there to Baxter Springs, Kans., where they will attend the Full Gospel convention.

Use I.P.A. Ointment for Impetigo, Pimples, Acne, Eczema, Ringworm. Stops itching at once. Acts like Magic—at your Drug Store. Guaranteed.

True, there are people whom she can make but as she expresses the right to make my of their own. I don't pose my life upon theirs upon myself.

"I want to make my chance" in the world. I am very happy one. She for a month at least can return to any work. Her finances are not rapidly. There is no moment place to go.

Somewhere, isn't there one who has just the one? Isn't there a Santa who can bring the gift? Here's your chance. For the present, her 1102 South Drake Street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lyei and baby and Mrs. Lyei visited during the Christmas days with her son, Grigsby and family at Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Matthews and daughters spent Christmas with Mrs. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Trew, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lyei and family at Okla.

Mrs. Pearl Wade, as, and Mr. and Mrs. son, Waco, Texas, during Christmas at Mrs. Wade's parents, Mrs. Levi Morgan, with Mrs. Marie Wade relatives and friends.

Rev. and Mrs. E. L. and family were guests and Mrs. Dan Kuhn family on Christmas.

Motorized Monkey and a Boat-Auto Crash Headline Freak Squeak Parade of 1950

By PAUL JONES
National Safety Council

So you think flying saucers are fantastic? Then just take a look at what the National Safety Council has dug up this year in its annual search for odd accidents!

You may have suspected that some accidents are caused by monkey business. But it remained for Alice, a trained chimpanzee, to elench it. Riding her motor scooter before an enthusiastic crowd at the St. Louis zoo, Alice zipped off the stage in a showy exit, ran down Trainer William Rogers and banged him up, but good.

It is relatively seldom that boats and automobiles run into each other. But it happened at Maysville, Ind., when Emmett Holsapple's motor boat, with the throttle open as it neared shore, leaped out of the White River and crashed into a car parked 20 feet in on dry land.

If autos can be struck by boats on land, fish can be run over by autos while swimming. J. V. Short was driving along the flooded street in front of his home in Toledo, Ohio, when he struck and killed two fish that had migrated from a pond in his yard when high water caused it to overflow.

Hurt by Collar Button
State Budget Director John H. Bradford, of Richmond, Va., has pulled out of some mighty tight squeezes—but none as tight as the collar he tried to button one night in dolling himself up for an important party. Director Bradford fought so fiercely that he had to go to the hospital for emergency treatment of severe finger bruises inflicted by the collar button.

Gary Wilmer, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., hopes that he makes out better as a real angel than he did on his pilot run. Playing an angel in an amateur theatrical, Mr. Wilmer came down to earth with a bang when the cable supporting him above the stage snapped as he floated in mid-air.

And in Glendale, Calif., ex-City Manager Charles C. McCall has applied for state compensation with the claim that he swiveled so vigorously in his swivel chair that he hurt his back.

Find Seat of Trouble
Philip Burrows, age 2, who lives in Hollywood, Calif., where they do things more spectacularly, got his head stuck in, of all things, a toilet seat. Even the firemen, accustomed to this type of crisis, were impressed as they went to work with a saw to de-throne him.

Embarrassing describes the experience of Policeman Donald Otto of Detroit. As the young patrolman was strolling with his girl friend on his night off, his service pistol let go and shot off the seat of his pants.

The last thing in the world nine-year-old Theron Longley of Bow, N. H., expected as he wound up for a hot cadenza on his trumpet was that he would blow out four teeth. But that's what he did! Inhaling prodigiously for a final triumphant blast to a stirring march, Trumpeter Theron swallowed a denture he had been wearing since an automobile accident two years before.

What's In a Name?
In January the towboat Franklin D. Roosevelt rammed and damaged a pier on the railroad bridge over the Illinois River near Pekin, Ill. In September another towboat struck the same pier and finished the job of demolishing it. The name of the boat? The Harry S. Truman!

And in Yankton, S. D., Farm Reporter George B. German of radio station WNAX, enthusiastically supporting National Farm Safety Week, decided to make transcribed interviews on the danger of falls in the farmyard. Arriving at a farm in a driving rain, the safety crusader leaped from his car, slipped in the mud, fell and broke his ankle.

The Babylonians developed a system of banks as early as 2,000 B. C.

TENNESSEE BACKFIELD STAR—Tank Lauricella, (above) keyman of the Tennessee backfield, was personally recruited by Coach Boy Neyland, who went to New Orleans to see a college football game but stayed when he heard about a high school star who was to perform the next day. Lauricella looked great and Neyland went after him. Texas will have to deal with Hank in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1.—(P) Photo.

WHAT FUN!—Halfback Leroy Crawford shows his joy at carrying the pigskin 66 yards to a touchdown as the Blackshear Leopards of San Angelo, Tex., defeated the Douglas Panthers of Pittsburg 46-0 in a Negro Interscholastic League Class A quarterfinals football game, in a Negro Interscholastic League game. Making a futile effort to catch Crawford are Frank Wooten (52) and Odell Ladd (34) of the Panthers. (P) Photo small plots. Salt has been used extensively.

Windbreaks

Windbreaks and landscaping of farmsteads continues to be popular in Ochiltree county. Windbreakers are being added at the rate of 4 or 5 each year. The most popular plantings are two rows of red cedar and one row each of Chinese elm, Russian mulberry and thornless honey locust. Desert willow is often used.

Flowering shrub, bulbs, hedges and evergreens are popular in yard beautification and a wide variety of these plants are used each year.

Legumes

Legumes for soil building purposes were grown by about 20 farmers this year. Two of these fields were harvested for seed but due to too much wet weather it was difficult. However, there are approximately the same number with legumes seeded now, mostly Austrian Winter peas. There are a few small fields of hairy vetch and sweet clover.

Wheat sown on land following legumes this year was destroyed by green bugs as was the other wheat.

Poultry

With the exception of a few, most farmers raise only enough poultry for their own use. However, there are a few farmers, with a commercial flock, that are making a good living from the poultry operations and most farmers raise enough poultry to have some poultry products for sale.

Grain Sorghums

Leave out land that has been in wheat and above average rainfall during the summer contributed to the largest grain sorghum harvest in the history of the county.

Combine type milo Martin, Westland, Sooner Dwarf, 7078 Midland and combine kaffir and hegar were planted. There was an estimated 75,000 acres and over 3,000,000 bushels produced. Forage type sorghums, cane Atlas Sorgo, Ellis, hegar also yielded good.

Several farmers put these crops in trench and temporary upright silos. In most cases those farmers putting up ensilage have enough feed to last them two or three years.

4-H Club

Fifty-nine members in the Ochiltree County 4-H Club completed 75 projects for the year. Wheat, beef cattle and swine are the major enterprises. There are 23 wheat, 9 swine, 29 calf feeding, and 14 with breeding cattle demonstrations for the year.

Nineteen boys had wheat demonstrations, however, only six harvested wheat. All of these boys raised certified wheat and belong to the Ochiltree County Certified Wheat Growers Assn.

Warren McGarraugh, Lyndon Flowers, Dick Hall, Cecil Regier and Horace Hall, adult leader, attended the district 4-H encampment at Cimmaron, N. M. in August. Gale Hurter, Dick Hall and Cecil Regier attended the state leadership camp, as representative from district one, at Bastrop State Park in August.

Gardens

Gardens did well this year due to the large amount of rainfall. Insects were worse than usual, and in most cases a constant fight was necessary to control them. Varieties, inoculation, and pest control were the main problems in gardening.

Rodent Control

Eight hundred and fifty pounds of poison grain were used for rodent control during 1950. Oats poisoned with 1080 were used for prairie dog control.

Rats have caused considerable damage on some farms. Various baits using red squill and other poisons have been fairly successful.

can't explain to you how thankful I am that the good Lord has been with me and not only with me but with all the boys here with me.

"There's so many things that have happened that I'd like to tell you but as strange as it seems, I don't feel much like writing. I'm just so sick of our boys being beaten like this and there's nothing we can do about it. There's nothing left of the Marine Corps First Division but you just can't stand up against a million Chinese.

"I think I told you before that I was supposed to go to the forward C. P. but what the Chinese did was let so much get up there and then cut them off and ambushed anything that tried to get through. They ambushed a convoy going up just before the one I was supposed to go on. It was all demolished except for about 20 men. Ratliff, one of the boys from Amarillo that joined with me, was in that convoy and is reported missing or captured. I pray that he's still alive.

"Two days ago the band played a major role in this war and without those boys, a whole convoy would have been wiped out. All my buddies that were up at the forward C. P. were coming back and were ambushed. The chinks had them completely surrounded and the bandmen set up their machine guns and held them off all night. They saved every man that lived that night. These guys, dad, are guys just like me. They've never fought in their life and we're all just one big family and know everyone personally. That night, tho, those bandmen had more guts and were the best fighters of anything in the area.

"They had such terrific odds. Out of this band, there was one of our buddies killed and four wounded. That really hurts us because we were all so close. We used to be ashamed to let people know we were in the band but now when they ask, it's 'The Band'."

"Another convoy was ambushed tonight coming back and I'm so thankful that we're leaving here. And it was the hand of God that kept me here instead of going up north. But if I had, dad, I know that I would have had the courage to fight with those boys and would have been just as part of the honor and respect that is for the band now.

"We're leaving at last for a while and believe me, dad, I'm so glad to be able to tell you that."

Her studies in the United States showed how they put on fat and how the gonad volume in the males increased 130 times in preparation for migration. In Alaska she found how they arrived just as the last snows were melting. Then they had to hurry to raise a brood before the short summer was over.

The Rev. H. M. Secord, pastor, read the double ring service.

Federal Meat Standards Are Now Changed

COLLEGE STATION—Changes in the Federal grade standards for steer, heifer, and cow carcasses have been approved and became effective on December 29, says the Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The changes are in line with a USDA proposal made on May 12, 1950.

Under the new standards, the present Prime and Choice grades of beef will be combined under a single grade, to be known as Prime. The present Choice grade will be known as Good, and a new Good grade will consist of beef from the higher quality cattle now graded Commercial.

These changes are being made in an effort to make the grades more closely identify the different kinds of beef produced and preferred by the housewife, says Roy W. Snyder, meats specialist for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

Snyder points out that the higher quality young beef in the present Commercial grade is popular with many housewives. Its identification as a separate grade will be beneficial to both the producers and consumers. He says that less than one-half of one per cent of the total U. S. beef production qualifies for the present Prime grade, but with the combining of the present Prime and Choice grades, the new Prime grade will become an important factor in meat grading.

Snyder says that these changes in beef grade names should have no effect on price. Beef prices are determined by the demand of certain grades. Grades are a uniform guide for use in trading in meats.

These announced changes will affect only Prime, Choice, Good, and Commercial carcass beef grades. The standards for Utility, Cutter, and Canner grades will remain unchanged. The Production and Marketing Administration is now taking steps to bring the grade standards for slaughter cattle in line with the revised grade for beef carcasses.

Most Texas Farms Have Electricity

COLLEGE STATION—Approximately 90 per cent of all the farms and ranches in Texas now have central station electric service. The bringing of electricity to rural homes has given the farmer and his family, says professor P. T. Montfort of the agricultural engineering department of Texas A. & M. College, a new tool which offers almost unlimited possibilities in revolutionizing farm living and farm operations.

Montfort says electricity is a versatile source of energy. From the same set of wires and by flipping a switch, the farmer may have light, heat or power. Electricity is easy to transport. It can be carried over-head, under ground or between the walls to any point where it is needed. It is safe when transported through a properly designed and constructed system of wiring and when the correct equipment is used. On the other hand, he points out that it can be the cause of fires and serious accidents when wiring systems are not properly installed and when the user becomes careless.

He says the most extensive use is now made of electricity on farms where most of the production and processing activity takes place in or near the farm buildings. Listed in this category are dairy, poultry, truck and livestock farms. Montfort estimates the 7,200 Texas dairy farmers in 1949 saved approximately $10,700,000 in labor costs alone and the electricity for doing this job cost them about $135,000. Dairy men have also found, he says, that a high rate of milk production can be maintained when the cows are kept comfortable and that electricity can help do the job.

Using inexpensive electric water heaters during the winter time for warming the cow's drinking water ventilating fans for cooling the milking barn in the summer time, and better insect control through the use of electric sprays are a few of the uses that can be made of electricity to help keep "Bossy" comfortable.

Montfort says some 250 profitable ways of using electricity on the farm have been proved by research but generally farmers are using only a limited number of them. He suggests that farmers take advantage of every opportunity that they may have for increasing their knowledge on using electricity on the farm and in the home. He says the housewife, like the farmer, is

Q. I received by monthly subsistence allowance for GI Bill training, but the amount seems much larger than I usually get. What should I do with the check?

A. Don't cash it. Return it to the VA regional office which has your records, so that officials there can review your case to determine just how much subsistence you are entitled to.

Q. I plan to get a GI business loan to buy a truck and go into the trucking business. Do the new down payment requirements of the Federal Reserve Board's Regulation W apply to the loan?

A. No. VA guaranteed business loans are exempt from the down payment regulations.

Q. I have just been discharged for a service-connected disability incurred in Korean fighting. Am I entitled to VA hospital care, even though I am not a World War II veteran?

A. Yes. You may receive medi-still doing many back-breaking jobs that could probably be done better and a lot cheaper with electricity and that the time saved could be spent doing some of the things they like to do when the home chores are done.

REFLECTED GLORY

The greatest single factor in the evolution of Modern decorating is the universal use of mirrors. They are no longer used merely as hall-way accentuations for quick, last-minute appearance surfs, or over-the-mantle musts depending on lavish frames for ornamental value. Today mirrors are used in large and small homes for structural and decorative effects which are unattainable with any other media.

Mirrors are great space multipliers and light distributors. Wisely placed they can double the apparent size of a small room by pushing back confining walls. Dark corners may be brightened by mirrors; drab rooms made sparkling and bright. A mirrored ceiling will add a daring, dramatic touch and at the same time double the height of a room.

Above: a mirror panel adds length, depth and height to narrow dining room. Soft peach tint reflects and brings up warm color of bleached mahogany credenza. Chairs upholstered in oyster-white barling contrast effectively with blue pebble-wave in rug. Nylon panels of color of the rug, give of sophisticated and close off unsightly view. Come in, let us show you more ideas for the distinctive use of mirrors in your home.

THE TEXAS POLL: Religion Named As Best Way To Bring A Lasting Peace

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Texas, Dec. 23—What is the most important thing that can be done to bring about lasting peace?

Reflecting on this question in an atmosphere charged with fear of another world war, representative men and women all over the state gave their opinions to The Texas Poll in a recent survey.

Religious suggestions topped the list of ideas.

"Get right with your Lord," advised an elderly waitress in Palestine. "That's what is wrong with this world—people have forgotten their Saviour." Her sentiments were echoed throughout the state by one of every persons questioned.

A year ago, in a similar survey, one of three pointed to prayer, trust in God, living according to the precepts of Christ as the real road to peace. In both surveys, the need for world-wide moral regeneration appeared uppermost in people's minds.

This is the way a Fort Worth housewife put it:

"The whole world must turn to God. We must deal with Russia as if they were children—reason with their people, show them our way of life."

The Communists may jeer at "the faith in religion, which they call 'the opiate of the masses,'" but they had better not misinterpret public opinion. For a lot of people are fed up with Russian tactics, and they are fighting mad.

A comparison of pre-Christmas opinion in 1949 and 1950, as shown by The Texas Poll's state-wide surveys on the same question, indicates these important trends:

1. The "whip Russia-now" sentiment is growing.
2. Re-armament is assuming greater importance.
3. There is an increase in public distrust of our national leaders.

In each survey, 1,000 men and women were asked: "In your opinion, what is the most important thing that can be done to bring about lasting peace?"

The answers:

	1949	Today
Prayer, Christian living	32%	24%
Support the UN. cooperation among nations	9	9
Keep well armed	4	9
Whip Russia now	2	8
Be firm with Russia. suppress communism	3	4
Mind our own business. stop meddling	5	5
Get better leaders	4	4
Educate people about democracy	2	2
Misc. ideas	11	7
No idea	34	28

100%, 100%
The get-tough-with-Russia attitude was expressed in various ways:

A Dallas truck driver, with mixed emotions, blurted: "Drop an atom bomb on Russia and make a Christian out of her."

An Electra oil worker declared: "Tell Russia to pull in her ears or we'll hit first with atomic bombs plus all we have."

A young Austin housewife demanded: "Kick Truman and Acheson out of the White House and drop a bomb on Moscow to let Stalin know we mean business."

A San Antonio yardman said: "Get into war at once with Russia and beat her so bad she will never be powerful again."

A North Texas farmer wanted no appeasement. "Let the U. S. quit trying to buy 'em off," he advised: "It's like givin' a guy your pocket knife to keep him from fighting."

Most of the criticism of our national leaders was directed at President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson.

"Get rid of Truman," demanded a truck operator in Pearland.

"Get a president that knows what he is doing," chimed in a school teacher in Winters. "It worries me to death because Truman is in there."

A farmer near Dallas summed up the growing distrust of our state department: "Get some people in our state department who know what it's about."

Many people, of course said they had no idea what was the most important thing to do. Some were downright hopeless, like the laundry worker in Dallas who said: "I don't think there's anything to be done that will bring peace—the whole world is going to hell."

Jim Lehman, a senior at the University of Texas, and Don Comer, with the Northrup Aircraft Corporation in Los Angeles, who are visiting in Booker over the holidays, were Perryton visitors Tuesday afternoon. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lehman, and Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Comer, all of Booker.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hawk and Doug were visiting Sunday with Mrs. Hawk's family in Shattuck, Okla.

Christian Science
 "Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, December 31.
 The Golden Text is: "When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come" (John 16:13).
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father" (John 14:12).

"There's no secret to LIVING A MORE SUCCESSFUL FULLER LIFE..."

ROGER W. STRAUS

Prominent business executive and Co-Chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

"Learning what makes daily living count for more has been the turning point in many careers."

And Mr. Straus continues: "One way to make living count for more calls for a periodic pause that lets you step away from immediate concerns and dwell for a time upon broader fundamentals—that gives you the opportunity to consider, in the company of others, the forces so much greater than man's and so infinitely superior to our own. "Deep down in every human heart there lies the urge to reach for higher, finer things—to understand the mysteries of our universe—to feel the nearness of an all-wise guiding power—and to gain strength by faith in that power.

"It is what you find in a house of worship"

"This isn't something you can gain from involved formulae of science or intricate rules of economics. It is not something that can be left to others to do for you. For it is an intimate desire of your own which finds its fulfillment in prayerful meditation and fellowship with your brothers seeking similar satisfaction. It is what you find in a house of worship.

"This is why, especially in these trying, restless days, the church and synagogue offer priceless recompense. So whatever your creed or belief, worship at the church of your choice this week."

Five Generations Represented Among Descendants of Pioneer

Descendants of Mrs. T. S. Pletcher, representing five generations were present for a photograph last week in the home of her daughter Mrs. Harve Pletcher, 1001 S. Colgate.

Included in the group were Mrs. Pletcher, her daughter, Mrs. Harve Holdeman, her granddaughter, Mrs. C. O. Peterson, a great granddaughter, Mrs. Gilbert Coward, and a three-week-old great-great granddaughter, Beverly Sue Coward.

An early day resident of Ochiltree county and Perryton, Mrs. Pletcher is still in vigorous health despite her 82 years. She names, anniversaries and events of the past without hesitation and with surprising accuracy. Mrs. Peterson pointed out that her memory still surpasses that of any of her children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Pletcher has seven living children, 36 grandchildren, 50 great grandchildren, three step-great grandchildren, and the new great-great granddaughter. Four of her children are deceased, and Mr. Pletcher, who is remembered by pioneers of the area for his enthusiastic church and Sunday School work, died in 1928.

Mrs. Pletcher was born near Wadsworth, Ohio where she spent the first three years of her life. The pioneer family moved frequently and Mrs. Pletcher lived seven years in Tennessee later moving to Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas.

She and Mr. Pletcher were married in 1885 in Marian county Kansas. They moved here from Webb City, Mo. Mrs. Pletcher recalls that the trip was made in two covered wagons and the journey required four weeks made in the dead of winter. They didn't suffer unduly from the cold, she recalls.

Her first impression of this country was not too favorable and she says at first she would have been glad to leave on a moments notice had it been possible.

Staying busy was her salvation against the loneliness of pioneer life on the plains. She worked every day except Sunday and then there was church and Sunday school and visits to prevent loneliness.

In comparing life today with that of forty years ago, Mrs. Pletcher said: "We've got things awfully handy now. It isn't necessary to replenish fuel in the stove or to pack water from the outside, but with our fine cars and good roads we still don't find the time to visit our neighbors as we did in the early days. I think people were probably more contented then, but none of us would want to go back to the past."

To remain young at age 82 Mrs. Pletcher recommends, "Get in harness and work hard every day for fifty years."

Myrtie Mae Conley Describes German Xmas In Holiday Greeting to Friends in Perryton

A vivid description of the part played by American service men and women in making Christmas a joyous occasion for orphans in Germany is contained in a holiday greeting to friends in Perryton from Myrtie Mae Conley, former Perryton resident and society editor of the Herald who is now stationed with the U. S. occupation troops at Wiesbaden, Germany.

Her letter follows:

Dear Public,

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year—I'm late, that I know, but the wish is just as sincere. I have been receiving so many greetings and each one reminded me that this is still to be done. It was impossible to write to each of you, even just a card, so, for weeks I've been planning to let the Herald be my means of teaching you this Christmas—better late than never.

The boxes of clothing which were sent for MY orphans by the Girl Scouts of troops II and III and by the Eastern Star were received in record time. It was really wonderful of you to do this and I want to assure you that all of it is certainly appreciated. I know ours are going to be the best dressed orphans in Wiesbaden this Christmas.

It is the custom at Christmas time for each of the military organizations to sponsor one of the many charity homes. The WAFs look after the St. Michaels Orphanage, which at present has 160 children. We see that each child receives a toy or personal gift and a sack of candy and an orange. Then with the rest of the money we buy various staple foods throughout the year, and a bit extra for the Christmas dinner, as well as stockings and materials for aprons and underwear.

In addition to donations, we had a special party to raise this money. We raffied two cameras, played bingo and various other "skin games" and did real well. No one is more generous or soft-hearted than a bunch of GIs, and I must admit some of our WAFs are pretty fast talkers as well as good workers. The Ildstein Home, sponsored by the Communications Squadron, my working organization, takes care of over 700 people of all ages. All of the men's clothing as well as many of the other articles from Perryton I used for them.

Our city is very beautiful with its Yule decorations. This is the first time street lights have been used here for Christmas decorations. The military provided the equipment and materials—iron poles are used with a green wooden fir silhouette, lighted with seven white bulbs (very small) at the top. The poles are set about fifteen feet apart on both sides of all the main streets. When you are a distance away it gives the effect of a continuous loop of lights.

The store windows are gaily decorated, too. Many of them use a story-book motif either as window or outside decorations. Of course, Hansel and Gretel are the favorites, and such luscious looking gingerbread houses you have never seen. The marzipans, one of the German's famous Christmas delicacies, is the main attraction in all the candy stores, bakeries and places where they serve coffee. It is used to make flowers, all kinds of animals, (the most common one being the pig) vegetables, fruits, Santa Claus, etc. It is very tasty too.

The weather recently has not been so pleasant for trips so it is fortunate that I did not have the opportunity or money to make one. (I assure you that it is not my intention to miss a change).

The five days I spent in Rome during the latter part of September were delightful but left a desire to see more. The trip also made me wish I were a better ancient history scholar. Of outstanding interest to all visitors in Rome is St. Peter's church. I believe it is considered the largest Christian church in the world and it dominates the world's tiniest state, The Vatican. You could spend weeks within the walls and still find things of interest as it covers six acres. Many works of Michelangelo and paintings of Raphael are here. Did you know that cats are considered holy in Rome? At the Colosseum, the forum and other historical ruins which we visited, the cats were very noticeable. They were not only numerous but seemed gentle and well cared for. Even though I'm not Catholic, it was quite a thrill to have an audience with the Pope.

My impressions of Paris were made more hurriedly since I was there from early one Saturday morning until Sunday evening. We certainly made good use of that time, however. Two other WAFs and I stayed with a young couple from Chicago who have been in Paris for the last year. He is an artist studying under the GI bill. With their knowledge of the city we were able to see a great deal more than if we had been "just tourists".

If this is to reach you in 1950, I must leave off this chatter and get it on its way. When once I get started writing, I can think of so many things I want to tell you.
