Tempers 'Uncurbed' In Curb Discussion

At the City Council meeting Monday night there was a discussion about curbing during which sharp exchanges took place between aldermen and also between two business people and an alderman.

This discussion had to do with whether to put in curbing in front of the Western Auto and Camehl's Sewing

Shop to eliminate parking cars on the sidewalk. The Council previously had voted by split vote, to install curbing at these two locations but had delayed action because of objections.

Alderman N. F. Jackson and Mrs. J. W. "Tony" Harden previously had voted to put in the curbing. Aldermen Charley Garrett and Joe Zambrano had voted against it. Mayor Delmar R. Hiller broke the tie by voting in favor of the curbing.

At this week's meeting Glen Wagner, owner of Western Auto, and Anthony del Rocco of Anthony's Beauty Salon stated their objections to the curbing project. Wagner said a curb in front of Western Auto would cut down his parking space and hurt his business. Del Rocco said Western Auto customers would start parking in front of the McLeister Building where the beauty salon is located.

Alderman Jackson, favoring the curbing, and Wagner and del Rocco, opposing it, talked back and forth for several minutes with obvious disagreement (to put it mildly).

Meanwhile, Mrs. Henry Camehl of Camehl's Sewing Shop explained that she thought the solution for her parking space was not a curb in front but possibly poles extending from her shop toward the street to prevent cars from driving across her parking area.

After much discussion the aldermen and the mayor agreed to inspect the two locations before making a final decision.

Jackson said he would not be able to attend the June 10 Council meeting so he asked that a final decision on the curbing be postponed until the June 24 meeting. Garrett and Zambrano voted against the decision postponement, and Jackson and Mrs. Harden voted for it. Hiller broke the tie by voting for the postponement.

OLD FULTON SCHOOL BELL—The Fulton Lions Club restored the 65-year-old bell from the first Fulton school and presented it to Aransas County Independent School District and the present Fulton Elementary School.

FULTON LIONS PRESENT OLD BELL TO SCHOOL

The building now occupied by the Fulton Lions Club was the first school house in Fulton. For years the original bell, installed about 1903, remained atop the building.

Some time ago the club decided to remove the bell, restore it, place it on a stand and present it to Aransas County Independent School District and the present Fulton Elementary School.

The presentation took place a few days ago in the school. Matt Scott, president of the club, presented the bell to Supt. of Schools J. D. Gray, who in turn presented it to W. C. Underwood, principal of the school.

Scott, Gray and Underwood are members of the Fulton Lions Club. Other members at the presentation were Zeph Rouquette, who attended the first Fulton school, Tom McArdle, Clay Lamberton, Jake Pierce, Leroy Loflin, Buck Busch, Raymond Owens, and Walter Manus.

Little Leaguers Need Our Help

Did you know that our Little Leaguers are playing without adequate lighting? Did you know that their fence is about to fall apart? Did you know they need uniforms and equipment? Did you know that the concession stand roof has a hole in it?

Worst of all, did you know that our Pony Leaguers have to travel to Aransas Pass and Ingleside to play ball? Yes, there is no park in which these youngsters can play in Rockport.

These are some of the many problems that confronted the Baseball Association this year.

Sailboat furnished by Marineland will be awarded to some person holding a ticket purchased from a Jaycee member or wherever the boat is displayed. All funds raised will go to the Baseball Association to help the Little League and the Pony League.

City Council Passes Livestock Ordinance

The City Council on Monday night passed an ordinance making it unlawful to let horses or chickens run at large.

The ordinance states "it shall be unlawful for the owner, keeper or person in charge of any horse, mule, jack or jenny, cow, cattle, hog, sheep or goat or similar animal to permit same to run at large within the city limits."

It also explains that "any stable, shed, pen or other enclosure for such animals shall be distant at least 50 feet from every building or structure used for sleeping, dining or living, and shall be kept in such a manner as will be reasonably calculated not to become offensive to adjacent neighbors or the public."

Another part of the ordinance states "that it shall be unlawful for any person raising or keeping chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, guinea fowl, pigeons or other fowls, to permit same to run at large within the city limits."

The same regulation regarding "pen, coop or enclosure" that applies to animals also applies to fowl.

Rabbits, guinea pigs, according to the ordinance, will have to be kept in a "pen coop or enclosure at least 50 feet from every building or structure used for sleeping, dining or living."

This section does not apply to authorized veterinary hospitals, nor to the keeping of dogs as domestic pets only and not for breeding or for gain.

The ordinance also spells out details about impounding, notice and sale, reclaiming before sale and penalties. The new ordinance takes the place of an older, less effective ordinance.

CHANGE BLOTS OUT USE OF BLOTTERS

With the sweeping changes—on a national and global scales—taking place every day, changes in little things tend to escape our notice. Today one of these caught our attention. In our mail was a 9 by 4 inch blotter, its pink surface ready for the absorption of ink from fountain pens and bookkeeper's pens, now so little used.

Ten or 15 years ago we were deluged with blotters, each bearing the donor's advertising message. In the days of fountain pens, almost every business was forced to discard stacks of them.

All that, the ball point has changed. Some months ago, when we thought we needed some blotters in an attempt to revive use of our personal fountain pen, a staff member released to us a very private stock.

Today's blotter-gift, with its "fuzzy" pink surface, strikes us as something to preserve. Perhaps in a few years, a stack of such blotters will have become a collector's item, along with hatpins and bone-dish ashtrays.

Blotters will absorb our interest—if not our ink.—Decorah (Ia.) Public Opinion.

CASE AGAINST A CANAL

An anonymous quipster has made the best case yet against the new isthmus canal that is currently being mentioned. "Why, in heaven's name, should we talk about building a new canal when we haven't got enough gumption to hold on to the canal which we already own."

Already the Panamanians are counting the boodle they will collect from the new one, while managing the old one as a national enterprise.—Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader.

The clash between the freedom of the press and a defendant's right to a free trial is not a simple matter that can be dismissed in a few words.—Leominster (Mass.) Enterprise.

This and That

JOHN KINSEY

Mrs. Kinsey and I will become grandparents (for the first time) twice this year. In August our son and his wife who live in Chicago will become parents, and in December our daughter and son-in-law who live in San Antonio will become parents. Mrs. K and I can hardly wait to spoil the babies.

I think most people take good health for granted. I know that, even though my health is far from perfect, I seldom think how lucky I am to be in fairly good shape to enjoy life.

But a trip to a hospital to visit a sick friend certainly causes a person to give more thought to how fortunate he is to be healthy.

Also, such a visit not only is appreciated by the patient but it gives the visitor a good feeling to know that perhaps he has brought a little happiness to someone.

Congratulations to the Lamar Woman's Club, the Schoenstatt Sisters of Mary, the Rt. Rev. F. O. Beck, the Rev. Cecil H. Lang, Jr., and others who are attempting to organize an inter-denominational church in Lamar. The Schoenstatt Sisters have offered the use of their old chapel for the new church.

Also a salute to County Judge John D. Wendell for his crusade for funds to help repair the hurricane damaged Pony League ball park in Aransas Pass where a Rockport team plays.

Girl Scouts Hold Fly-Up Ceremony

Fly-Up ceremonies for the Girl Scouts were held at the Junior High Cafeteria May 20. The colors were presented by a color guard of seven Cadette Girl Scouts from Troop 361. The candlelighting ceremony was given by the Junior Troop 469.

Twenty-four Brownies were presented by the leader, Mrs. Rose Cooley. After they crossed the bridge they gave their Girl Scout promise to Junior leader, Mrs. Jewel Bright and were pinned with Girl Scout pins by Mrs. Mary Green. Each girl was received by a Junior Girl Scout.

Twelve Junior Girl Scouts crossed the bridge into Cadette Girl Scouts and were received by Mrs. Winnie Owendon, Cadette leader. They were then met by a Cadette Girl Scout.

Cynthia Gurley crossed the bridge from Cadette Scouts to Senior Girl Scouts and was capped by Mrs. Bright. This is the first time a Rockport scout has participated in this ceremony.

Helen Cooley, executive director of Paisano Council, and Jane Douglas, assistant director, attended the ceremony. The Cadettes served refreshments to about 200 scouts and their friends and families.

Over 130 girls in the Rockport-Fulton area are registered Girl Scouts. The registrations will be opened again in September for girls interested. Mrs. Charles Vermillion is the service area chairman for this year.

Rev. Gomez Moving To Victoria

Rev. and Mrs. Gregory Gomez and their three children, Gregory, Jr., Ruth, and Orpah, will move to Victoria May 31. He will become pastor of the First Mexican Baptist Church of Victoria. The Gomez family has been in Rockport for two years, during which time he pastored the Bethel Baptist Mission and she taught the First Grade at Rockport Elementary School.

"Rev. Gomez is one of the finest Spanish-speaking pastors I have ever known," declares Rev. Charles Fake, pastor of the First Baptist Church here. "His work has been outstanding, and growth of the mission has been evident in several ways during his tenure—the building has been enlarged, twenty-five new members have been added, and new strength and confidence within the membership can be felt," he further stated.

Mrs. Gomez has been characterized by school administration officials as one of the best first grade teachers the school system has had.

The Gomez family will be missed in Rockport, but members of this community wish them the very best in their new undertaking.

Givan to Get New Battery For Heart

Seventy-year-old Exa Givan, retired former janitor at First National Bank, will enter Spohn Hospital in Corpus Christi Tuesday, June 4 to have a new tiny battery implanted under his skin to keep his heart ticking.

The amazing little device now doing the job has been serving Givan since it was "installed" Aug. 2, 1965. By means of X-rays, doctors know that the time has arrived for a new battery.

Givan has felt fine since the first battery was implanted almost three years ago. At that time he underwent surgery at Spohn for a condition known as "heart block."

His doctor, a thoracic surgeon, explains that this means that the electrical impulse from the auricles (present in all normal hearts) does not pass down into the ventricle, resulting in the heart beating at a very slow rate—usually about 40 times per minute or sometimes even slower.

This condition usually follows on old heart attack. The slow rate makes the heart go into failure and sometimes the patient's heart actually stops periodically. This is called a Stokes-Adams seizure.

To correct this condition, Givan's surgeon used what is known as a pacemaker, a small transistorized unit which he put in place under the patient's skin. Wires leading from the unit were implanted on the left ventricle of the heart.

With the Pacemaker in place, giving an electrical impulse to the lower part of Givan's heart, his heart began beating at a rate between 60 and 70 per minute as compared to the former rate of about 40 per minute. The heart beats at whatever rate the transistorized unit is set.

Asked how long the Pacemaker will do its work, Givan's doctor said, "We do not know exactly how long these units will operate. Implantable Pacemakers have been in use only about seven years. The experience to date indicates that although the batteries theoretically could last five years, in some cases, it is advisable to change the unit prior to that time."

"At the time the batteries begin to deplete, the whole unit is changed. The whole unit is sealed in epoxy resins; therefore it is necessary to change the entire unit when it is time to replace the batteries.

"We can determine the condition of the batteries by X-rays. There are some X-ray changes that occur in the battery as it wears out. Theoretically, there is an increase in the rate of the unit when the batteries begin to become depleted."

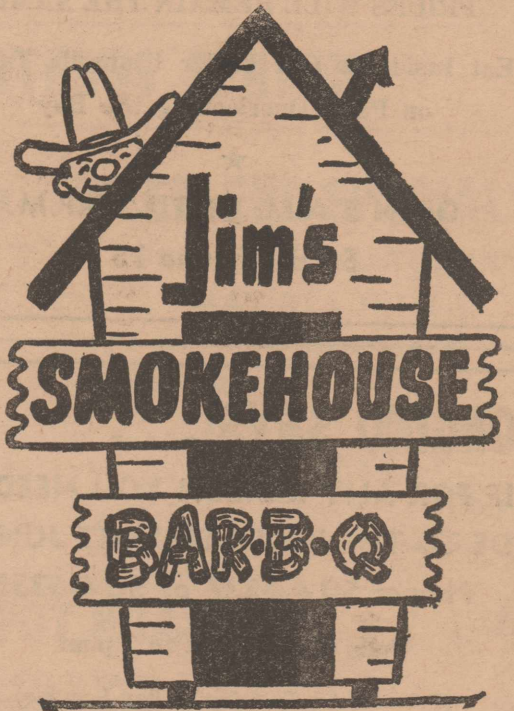

Givan says, "I don't know how long this thing works, and I don't care. All I know is I feel a whole lot better and I'm more than willing to get some new batteries put inside me.

"I can't go to no service station to get it done."

OUTDOORS
 IN TEXAS
 BY VERN SANFORD

You don't need a boat for salt water fishing. Your own two feet can carry you to some of the sportiest action you'll ever want to experience.

We recommend wade fishing in the shallow bays along the Texas coast. Once you get the hang of it, you'll be surprised at the number of big fish you can catch in water ranging from knee to waist deep.

Wade-fishing is best early in morning or at night. Do it on the high tides for this is when fish move up over the flats to feed along the shoreline.

In warm weather you can wade-fish in a swim suit and tennis shoes. The shoes are needed to prevent cutting your feet on shells. In cool weather chest-high waders are in order.

Wade-fishing is much like hunting. You move about slowly, constantly watching for signs of activity. As long as you move slowly and make no sudden noises, you can get within easy casting range of fish.

What are the signs to look for? First note the amount of baitfish in the water and how it is reacting. Schools of minnows that dart about and then suddenly explode in all directions are being chased by larger fish. Cast to these areas of commotion.

Speckled trout and redfish ranging up to 10 pounds frequently move into very shallow water to feed. This is particularly so when tides are high enough to flood the salt grass flats. Often you can see the back and tail fins of the fish break the surface on the water.

Fish in such shallow water must be approached with extreme care. Note the direction in which the fish are moving and get ahead of them.

When you cast to these fish, don't try to hit them on the nose. This is a great way to spook them in a hurry. Try to drop the bait five or six feet in front of the fish and do it with a little splash as possible.

Now we come to the bait part of wade-fishing. Live shrimp and live mullet. Live inches long are excellent. Use a small hook and weight so as not to hinder the bait in trying to swim about.

Artificial lures are good, too. Either silver or gold spoons are deadly. So is the Bingo plastic worm and the Pico Pet. Strict top water floating plugs aren't much except on a dark night when the water is glass slick.

Clothing plays a very important role in wade-fishing. Remember that in shallow water the fish are near the surface and reflections can spook fish. Avoid wearing anything white or bright.

When it is possible to fish with the sun in your face, do so. Sure it may be tough to see, but you won't have any shadows reaching out towards where you are dropping the bait or lure.

Water is much denser than air and sound carries five times as far in water as it does in air. Always keep this in mind and avoid noises.

If you're fishing with a partner and need to converse with him, it is far better to ease over near him rather than to shout across the water. That shout can only louse up your fishing, as well as his.

Along The Waterfront

Mr. and Mrs. Gene A. Long and Mike, visiting here from Shawnee, Okla., report that they recently caught 47 flounder, 15 trout and 12 redfish at the Fulton Basin T.

A party from Waco fished with Buck Armintrout May 25 and caught 104 specks. On May 26 Richard Cox of Corpus Christi caught 74 specks, and on May 27 David Costillo caught 101 specks and gafftop. Both Cox and Costillo wished with Armintrout.

Brownes Harbor/Marina, the new fishing and boating center on south beach, reported the fishing to be very good last weekend. Fishing from boats, piers and wading, the anglers brought in good catches of trout, rat reds, flounder, gafftop, drum and sheepshead.

R. E. Mabray and his son, Mike, boated 19 good sized gafftop off the north tip of Talley Island. Bob Emberly and his party from Houston brought in 42 trout and 12 reds, most of them hooked around the Turtle Bayou area.

Mrs. Emmet Clark of Tulsa proudly displayed a four pound flounder taken just off the beach.

In general, the best catches were recorded in the early morning hours, late afternoon and at night. Feeding conditions are good right now and the bay is fairly teeming with game fish of all varieties.

Fishing at Copano Causeway ran hot and cold last week. All good catches were made under the lights. Live shrimp and jigs were far the most effective bait.

Fishermen who learned the technique of a very slow retrieve produced good catches of trout. Some of these were J. J. Mott and son Tony of Point Comfort who landed about 50 specks.

The White brothers and Mr. Truelove caught 38 specks. Reginald Walker of San Antonio heaved 23 nice trout over the railing at No. 1 light. Other catches included 50 pounds of drum by Harry Jones and Robert Alexander. Several in the 5 to 6 pound class were caught by Mr. Cornelson of Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Fulton were in Houston this past weekend to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Butch Warden.

P. C. Sparks is now at home recuperating, following his stay in the VA hospital in Kerrville.

THANKS

for your support in the 1st Primary. Now there are just two candidates for the Commissioner of Precinct 1 and 1A.

My vote in the First Primary is a clear indication of what YOU the people want, A CHANGE. Yes, you have a choice—Elect a man to deal with the issues at hand, a young, vigorous man to give you action, get things done, one that is in sympathy with the aged—the needy—the less fortunate—one that is aware there are federal agencies that can be utilized to help the needy—the aged—the less fortunate.

Experience is wonderful. To be a good athlete or ball player, you need many years of experience, but—when you are only batting .200, you are replaced. Today when you have been on the job a number of years, you are retired.

I sincerely hope you will continue to support me in the June 1st election and I can only pledge to you that I will work with dedication to improve and correct the problems that confront us now—You also have my Pledge that I favor no person or persons, group or party.

Sincerely,

Ray Longino

TRAINEESHIP

Mrs. Margaret Ferguson, a first grade teacher in the Rockport Elementary School has been awarded a traineeship for a three-week summer seminar, July 29 to Aug. 16, on "Teaching Language to Disabled Pupils in Regular Classrooms."

The 1968 spring oyster harvest was climaxed with some 17,000 to 18,000 barrels harvested. The total April harvest remained practically unchanged from the 1967 level.

However, the Galveston Bay system produced over 14,000 barrels compared with 10,000 in April 1967.

Reefs in the Coastal Bend produced over 3,000 barrels. However, the harvest was confined to Matagorda and Lavaca Bays as the San Antonio Bay reefs were destroyed by flood waters in 1967.

Blue crab landings amounted to 200,000 pounds in April. This was some 40,000 pounds

April Shrimp
Landings Higher
Than Year Ago

Landings of headless shrimp at Texas ports during April 1968 amounted to 1.7 million pounds, according to Orman H. Farley, supervisory fishery reporting specialist, Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Galveston.

This was 300,000 pounds above April landings in 1967 and brought the 1968 four-month landings to 6.8 million pounds or some 1.3 million pounds above corresponding 1967 landings.

The following data represents landings of headless shrimp for specified areas and periods:

Port Arthur-Sabine: 37,500 pounds, April 1968; 191,400 pounds, Jan.-April 1968; 173,800 pounds Jan.-April 1967.

Galveston-Seabrook: 83,400, April 1968; 356,500, Jan.-April 1968; 209,200, Jan.-April 1967.

Freeport: 135,400, April 1968; 674,600, Jan.-April 1968; 412,200, Jan.-April 1967.

Matagorda-Palacios: 26,800, April 1968; 97,600, Jan.-April 1968; 37,700, Jan.-April 1967.

Port Lavaca-Port O'Connor-Seadrift: 28,600, April 1968; 193,000, Jan.-April 1968; 157,500, Jan.-April 1967.

Aransas Pass-Rockport: 283,900, April 1968; 1,228,300, Jan.-April 1968; 1,137,400, Jan.-April 1967.

Brownsville-Port Isabel: 1,059,000, April 1968; 4,014,800, Jan.-April 1968; 3,166,800, Jan.-April 1968; 3,166,800, Jan.-April 1967.

Totals: 1,654,600, April 1968; 6,756,200, Jan.-April 1968; 5,294,600, Jan.-April 1967.

Trawl vessels made short, broken trips throughout April with effort concentrated in waters beyond 30 fathoms from east of Tampico, Mexico to south of Morgan City, La.

Catches of brown shrimp in this area averaged about 150 to 200 pounds per night.

Vessels working white shrimp found scattered populations from Port Isabel to Cameron, La. However, ecological conditions along the entire Western Gulf made white shrimp difficult to find.

Trawlers working waters off Campeche and Contoy caught up to 400 pounds per night with trip averages of about 300 pounds per night's effort.

This distant fishery, though still poor, showed some improvement over the three previous months.

The 1968 spring oyster harvest was climaxed with some 17,000 to 18,000 barrels harvested. The total April harvest remained practically unchanged from the 1967 level.

However, the Galveston Bay system produced over 14,000 barrels compared with 10,000 in April 1967.

Reefs in the Coastal Bend produced over 3,000 barrels. However, the harvest was confined to Matagorda and Lavaca Bays as the San Antonio Bay reefs were destroyed by flood waters in 1967.

Blue crab landings amounted to 200,000 pounds in April. This was some 40,000 pounds below landings in April 1967, but was indicative of an increase in available crab populations in bay systems.

Thirteen new trawlers made maiden trips in April. Most were of the 70-foot steel class and all had long-range capabilities. Two vessels were lost at sea and three were damaged by mishaps on fishing grounds.

In late April a heavy population of pink shrimp (hoppers) was evident in the Laguna Madre and nearby Coastal Bend bays.

The new blue crab fishery in the Laguna Madre got under way in Port Isabel. Recent floods in Kleberg, Willacy and Cameron counties have made the entire bay area from Corpus Christi to the International Border a fertile estuary.

A trawl vessel from Aransas Pass damaged both rigs on an unidentified hang in 11 fathoms off Port O'Connor in mid-April. The trawls contained one 6 to 8-foot section of a military aircraft along with smaller pieces when brought aboard the vessel. The hang is in the area where the military aircraft with eight men aboard was lost some three months ago.

Ann Street to improve drainage. Cost will be $631.60.

—Set June 24 for a public hearing on a request from Joe Earl Hunt to have a piece of property next to Mrs. Charlyne Hunt's home reclassified from residential to business.

—Took action of a letter from Southwestern Bell Telephone Company stating the company would remove its wires from Austin Street at a cost of about $5,300 to be paid by the city. Mayor Delmar R. Hiller said he would write to the company stating it had not co-operated in the business district improvement project and the city is not interested in paying to have the wires moved. Hiller also said he had received an inquiry asking when the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company contract with the city expires.

—Agreed to call for bids to paint ground storage tank and elevated water tank. The ground storage tank will be painted green underneath and on the legs, with the top of the dome to be painted white. The tank will be lettered "Rockport Pirates."

—Appointed Alderman Mrs. J. W. "Tony" Harden to represent the Council as an ex-officio member of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

—Discussed various safety measures for the Ski Basin and decided to make a study before adopting a set of regulations.

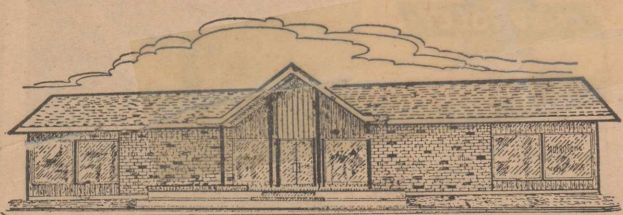

—Mayor Hiller announced that investigation of the possibility of contracting with the Sheriff's Department for policing the city has revealed that present laws would make this impossible. Only permissive legislation would make it possible, he said, and "there is not enough interest to pursue this course."

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q—My draft board wouldn't defer me in Class II-S because I had not made normal progress toward my baccalaureate degree, but it gave me a Class I-S(C) deferment. The board said this was good for a year. If I've made normal progress by then, can I get Class II-S again?

A—Yes, provided you request a II-S deferment, can provide the local board with evidence that you are then satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction, and you are still under the age of 24.

Q—Do I still have a right of appeal after I have had a personal appearance before my local board?

A—Yes. Each classification, or determination made by your local board not to reopen your classification following your personal appearance, must be followed by the same right of appeal as in the case of the original classification.

Q—What are the two types of conscientious objector classifications?

A—In Class I-A-O are placed those who have been found, by reason of religious training and belief, to be conscientiously opposed to combatant training service. TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

By Vern Sanford

Here are some items of interest to outdoorsmen:

Snakes Move Slowly
Snakes seem to move fast, but actually their maximum speed has been checked at about five miles per hour.

Pheasant Hunting in Texas
Someday, Texans may be hunting pheasants as they do in the middle west. This bird was transplanted from the Orient in 1881 and today it is one of the principal game birds of America.

Energetic Bats
Bats seem to have plenty of energy, because when they are at rest their temperature drops to body heat, instead of the temperature around them.

Age Old Baby
Ever wonder about a baby elephant? It isn't weaned until it is about five years old.

Dual-Purpose Ice
A good way to have plenty of ice water when traveling is to fill milk cartons with water, freeze them solid, then place them in the water in your ice box. They keep the water cold and when all the water is gone the melted ice in the cartons can be used as drinking water.

Purposeful Beaks
Most shore birds have long, slender beaks, so they can dig for their food. But the Shoveler-type ducks have flattened beaks so they can scoop up their food from the mud.

Guns Don't Cause Crimes
Great Britain has very strict gun laws, but its crime rate is increasing much faster than that in the United States.

Perfect Shotgun Scores
Think you are pretty good with a shotgun? Only seven perfect scores of 100 have been posted in the Grand American Handicap at Vandalia, Ohio, since trap was started 67 years ago.

Water Use Rising Fast
Water usage is increasing more than twice as fast as America's population. Consumption in 1900 was around 40 billion gallons daily. Now it's around 350 billion daily.

Avoid Jelly Fish
Be careful of jelly fish when you are on the coast. They propel their way through the water by alternately expanding and contracting their bodies. Their contact with the human body means a very painful and sometimes fatal experience.

U. S. hunters traveled nearly 10 billion auto-passenger miles in 1965. Half of that distance was just to hunt small game.

Fish Hear With Bladder
Do fish hear? Experts say they hear through their swim-bladder, a gas-filled organ that amplifies sound waves. In some fish it is in direct connection with the ear.

Grizzlies Once in Texas
Experts say there are only about 850 grizzly bears now in the United States. About one-fourth of them are in Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks. A hundred years ago grizzlies were found in the southwest, including Texas.

Old Fort Parker Site of Tragedy

Groesbeck—Old Fort Parker, six miles north of Groesbeck in Central Texas, has been raised again as a symbol of the courage of Texas frontiersmen, and a reminder of the tragedy which all hope would never happen—but did.

The restoration of the old fort was officially dedicated last week. The keynote address was given by Will Odom, Chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, who told some 125 persons in attendance that such pioneer spirit was what made Texas the State it is today.

Elder John Parker came to the present fort site in 1834 to start a new life in the wilderness. With him were 31 other men, women, and children, and together they built the stockade and cleared the land.

For about two years, they lived a relatively uneventful life, if the privations of frontier living can be called uneventful, and established their crops and a routine of living.

At first the men cultivated the land during the day and returned at night to the fort for protection, but gradually they abandoned these strict disciplines and safety precautions.

Some of the settlers even built cabins outside the walls in order to be conveniently close to the acres under cultivation.

As a result, they were unprepared for the surprise attack by a band of Indians on May 19, 1836.

On the morning before the massacre, the families arose as usual and went about their chores. Some of the men went to the fields, and others went hunting, taking all the guns from the fort.

At around 10 a.m. someone within the fort yelled "Indians" and the occupants of the fort looked out to see several hundred Indians only 300 yards from their gates which had been left open to allow the warm spring breezes to circulate within the walls.

It has been traditionally thought that these Indians were Comanche and Kiowas, but recent finds indicate that they might have been Caddo Indians.

Benjamin Parker, son of Elder John Parker, walked out of the fort to where the Indians waited and was informed that they desired some beef and directions to a water hole.

He returned to the fort and told the occupants of their request and then returned for a second parley with the Indians.

As he approached several of the braves surrounded him on horses and killed him with their lances.

The massacre had started. After Benjamin fell, the Indians rode into the fort, killing six other persons including Elder John Parker, and taking five captives, Cynthia Ann Parker, among them.

Also taken captive was Mrs. Rachael Plummer, who, when she was finally ransomed, wrote an account of her captivity by Comanches to whom she might have been traded.

Mrs. Plummer related how the captives were dragged mile after mile over the prairie and kicked and beaten. At nights, the Indians put the children near the women so the women could hear them cry but not comfort them.

She also tells how, shortly after her capture, she gave birth to a child only to have it torn from her arms and dashed to the ground because its crying annoyed the captors.

Cynthia Ann Parker, who was nine at the time of her capture, was adopted as a member of the tribe and soon lost her identity as the white enemy. At 15, she married the great Comanche war chief Pete Nocona and soon had two sons by him, Pecos and Quanah Parker.

Quanah was destined to become the greatest chief, both in war and peace, of the Comanche Nation.

After 24 years of roving with the Comanches, Cynthia Ann was captured by Capt. Sul Ross during a surprise raid on an Indian Hunting Camp.

She and her 18-month-old child, Prairie Flower, were taken to live with what family she had living in Texas.

Her identity was definitely established when she recognized her American name, though she knew no English and could remember nothing of her previous existence as a member of the Parker family. Cynthia was never happy back among the white men.

She mourned for her Indian husband and children and several times she attempted to escape.

She learned some English and became adept at spinning, weaving, and other domestic duties, but her 24 years with the Indians made it difficult for her to adapt fully to civilization.

In 1864, Prairie Flower died. Cynthia Ann, heartbroken by the loss of her child, died shortly thereafter.

PRESTON SMITH for GOVERNOR

JUNE 1

TO: The Citizens and Voters of Texas
FROM: Preston Smith, Candidate for Governor

The purpose of this message is to ask for your support and vote in the Second Democratic Primary Saturday, June 1.

As your Lieutenant Governor for the last six years, I believe I have qualified myself to seek the high office of Governor. You know I finished second among 10 candidates in the First Primary, about 29,000 votes behind the leader with 1,750,000 votes cast.

With your help we can win this run-off against an opponent who has no public record of any kind... one who is aligned with groups that want to reject the progressive, constructive programs built by John Connally and his predecessors and replace them with so-called "liberal" ideas of their own.

I want to continue and improve on the start we have made in education, pollution control, law enforcement, highways, water conservation, promotion of industry and tourism, and many other vital areas.

I am proud to have been a part of Texas government for 18 years. Opponents may harp about what is wrong in Texas; I happen to think there are a lot of things RIGHT in Texas. I am proud of my state and its people.

Things can be even better, and I want to work with you in that direction.

It's more or less in the political tradition to lambast your opponent and say a lot of ugly and cutting things about him. I don't want to engage in personalities; my opponent has no public record to criticize. Therefore I am running for Governor on my own merits.

It may be pretty ambitious for a farm-born, farm-raised Texas boy, who worked his way through Texas Tech and spent his adult years in business activities in Lubbock, to aspire to be Governor. You will be the judges as to whether my experience and proven qualifications entitle me to be elected. I will accept your judgment with real gratitude for your past support and friendship.

Please remember that if I am elected, my door will always be open to any Texan who has any problem whatever that the Governor can help with. I will always be interested in good government. I will always be interested in you.

Walk Extra Mile To Lose Weight

Want to lose ten pounds in the next year?

One way you can do it is to walk an extra mile every day.

The American Medical Association's home health book, "Today's Health Guide," reports that a walk of just an extra mile per day for 365 days is a "simple, pleasant device for shedding an extra pound of fat." In a year this would amount up to about ten pounds. The extra mile means just that—a mile of walking in addition to the customary walking you now do each day.

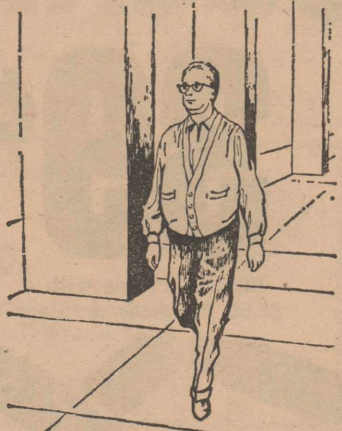

Once regarded as a major factor in losing weight, physical activity was later accorded less importance. It was realized that considerable effort was required to shed even one pound of extra tissue. Would-be reducers found comfort in some expert opinion that calories expended through exercise would be immediately replaced, due to an automatic increase in appetite.

Fortunately for fitness as well as for fatness, exercise has been restored to grace and enjoys respectability. Exercise helps expend calories; within the usual range of activity, it need not stimulate appetite excessively. The energy output required to offset a pound of fat is approximately 3,500 calories, but the weight need not be lost all at once.

Instead of the exhausting, often impossible, 36-mile hike within a span of hours, a walk of just one extra mile a day for 365 days will get rid of that extra pound. Weight gain usually is relatively slow, and the extra mile will—for most of us—help keep our weight down to a reasonable figure.

Exercise also furthers physical, mental, psychological, and social fitness. It provides an outlet for emotional tensions, promotes self-confidence, wholesome social activity, and good sportsmanship. It enhances the sense of general well-being that enables us to confront and master a reducing regimen.

To be effective for both weight reduction and for general physical conditioning, exercise must be a regular part of your way of life, and not something that is overdone spasmodically. So, if you want to lose ten pounds in the next year, just arrange to walk that extra mile today.

DECISION ON CLAIMS MAY BE RECONSIDERED

Every man is entitled to his day in court. This is a right that is guaranteed to every citizen of the United States. Decisions made by the Social Security Administration in regard to applications for benefits are not an exception, according to H. M. Cleveland, social security district manager in Corpus Christi.

"If a person feels that a decision made on his application for benefits is wrong, he is entitled to appeal that decision. Congress has wisely provided ways for the applicant to pursue his claim beyond the initial decision," Cleveland said. "In some cases the initial decision is reversed during the appeals procedure."

The first step a dissatisfied claimant must take is to request a reconsideration of his claim. He may submit new evidence, but often he just asks that the evidence already submitted be thoroughly reviewed. This review of the record is done by persons other than those who made the first decision. The result is a new and independent decision which may or may not agree with the initial decision.

The appeals process contains further procedures through which the applicant may request a hearing before a Hearing Examiner. This may be followed by a request for a review of that decision by the Appeals Council.

If the claimant is still not satisfied after these administrative appeals, he may then file suit in a United States District Court.

Additional information about the right to question the decision made on a claim for social security benefits may be obtained by writing to the Social Security Administration, 1802 South Staples St., Corpus Christi, Texas.

DON YARBOROUGH
GOVERNOR

Vote Saturday, June 1

Paid For By Yarborough for Governor Committee, Charles Grace Chairman

Precinct 1 Friends and Voters:

Again it is time to vote in Saturday's run-off election. I sincerely ask your continued confidence and support.

Some people think and believe a County Commissioner has the authority and power to fulfill all the demands he receives. This is not true.

Commissioners Court is governed by rules from the State Laws of the State of Texas, which are made by the State Legislature.

I have made no promises that I cannot fill, I have not asked for any donations, or received any loans in my campaign.

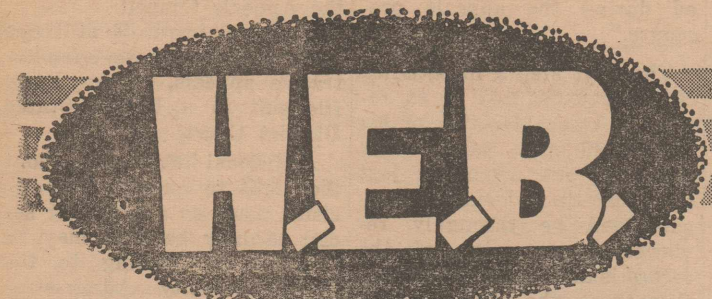

Therefore I am not obligated to any one, and I will continue to serve each and every one equally.

Signed,

W. B. ALLEN
