Stormy Debate And Troubles Due For Plan

GOP Leaders Hope To Gain Passage By Coming Week

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 3 — A five-year peacetime draft to meet the manpower needs of both the regular armed services and the reserves was laid before the Senate today as "the premium on our peace insurance policy."

This description came from Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate armed services committee in a speech prepared for the opening of debate on the controversial measure.

Seek Early Passage

Gurney and other GOP leaders hope to win Senate passage of the draft revival bill by early next week—possibly through extra hour sessions. But there is stormy debate and possible trouble ahead.

Senator Russell (D-Ga)—with advance pledges of widespread southern support—has promised to fight for an amendment that would require the services to set up segregated white and negro units for all men who asked to serve only with those of their own race.

On top of this, Senator Langer (R-ND), an avowed foe of the draft, said he will offer seven amendments to cover President Truman's civil rights program.

House Group Meets

Across the capitol, the House rules committee scheduled another afternoon session in its long series of hearings to determine when a similar bill should be sent to the floor for House action.

Republican leaders of both chambers have listed the selective service bill as one of only three "must" measures to be cleared before the scheduled June 10 adjournment.

Neither the House nor Senate bill makes any provision for a universal military training program. President Truman asked for this along with a temporary draft revival in his St. Patrick's day speech to Congress spelling out a new American "stop-Russia" policy.

But despite the omission of a compulsory training plan for youths, Defense Secretary Forrestal wrote Gurney that the pending bill is an "excellent" one.

Men 19-25 To Register

The Senate measure would require all men 18 through 25 to register. Those in the 19-25 group would be liable for induction and two years service. Eighteen-year-

Man Is Sought For Stabbing

All Lubbock officers were on watch this afternoon for a Latin American accused informally of a stabbing early today at 1510 North Second.

Juliano Hernandez, 43, of that address, was admitted at 1:50 a. m. to West Texas hospital for treatment of stab wounds in the right chest.

Condition Not Serious

The victim's condition was not believed serious, the hospital reported.

Police reports did not indicate details of the affray, or indicate any motive.

Police said they had arrested a 19-year-old youth and would charge him with negligent collision, failure to leave information at the scene of an accident, and having no operator's license on his person, in connection with a traffic mishap.

Suffered Deep Cut

Patrolman Jerry Hoover's official report said Frank Everest Brians, 46, of 1628 Fifth, suffered a deep cut of the left knee cap and bruises of the left shin when his car was struck by another, which allegedly drove off without leaving information as to identity of the driver.

The arrest followed his information, Hoover said.

According to Brians, the victim had a flat tire and was attempting to change it, when another car, a pickup, backed across the street, struck his car, knocked it off a

President To Carry Battle To 18 States

Special Train To Leave Tonight On Western Jaunt

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 3—President Truman, in a mood to fight for a new term, called his own signals today as he made ready to take his case to the people in 18 states.

To the latest suggestion that he withdraw from the race, Mr. Truman replied with a sharp declaration he was "not brought up to run from a fight."

Chieftains On Sidelines

The President left Democratic party chieftains on the sidelines in ordering up his special train for a strenuous speaking tour which may hold the answer to his political future.

The White House labelled the cross-country swing "non-political" but disclosed plans for five major addresses and a score or more off-the-cuff rear platform talks expected to furnish ammunition for the 1948 campaign.

Mr. Truman sets out at 10:05 p. m. (EST) for a prepared address at 9 p. m. (EST) at Chicago tomorrow night after brief talks at Fort Wayne and Gary, Ind.

Starts Return June 14

The presidential special will turn eastward again from Los Angeles the night of June 14.

It was in a letter to a fellow Missourian that Mr. Truman provided the clue to his determination to battle party rebels, most of them southerners incensed over his civil rights program Americans for Democratic Action—the self - proclaimed liberal political organization—made public the exchange of correspondence between the President and Dr. H. H. Brummall, Salisbury, Mo., dentist.

The letters began with a suggestion from Brummall May 15 that Mr. Truman "sacrifice personal prestige and political power" for the good of the party.

Had Backed Stark

Brummall had supported former Gov. Lloyd Stark against Mr. Truman in the bitterly fought Missouri Democratic senatorial primary in 1940. He said he voted for Mr. Truman in the general election but had backed Stark in the primary because the governor was an opponent of the Pendergast political machine.

To this the President wrote back bitingly on May 24:

"A great many of you Democrats in 1940 ran off after a cer-

Two Texas Airlines Get Safety Awards

DALLAS, June 3 (U.P) — Two Texas-headquartered airlines — Braniff International and Pioneer —have been awarded the National Safety council's 1947 aviation safety award for completing 1947 operations without an accident to passenger or crew member.

For Braniff, it was the 15th time in 16 years the line has won the award. The line had flown 900,125,000 passenger miles by the end of 1947.

It was the third straight year for Pioneer, which has never had an accident since it launched operations Aug. 1, 1945.

Braniff now averages 17,000,000 passenger miles per month, Pioneer more than 2,000,000 miles per month.

Price Daniel To Run For Second Term

AUSTIN, June 3. (U.P) — Price Daniel today announced he will seek a second term as state attorney general.

So far, no one else has announced for the office. The final date for filing is June 7.

In a brief report to the people, Daniel said that his office has disposed of 1,238 law suits and 1,212 requests for legal opinions since January, 1947. However, he said that some of the most important cases involving the state are still pending He listed among these the Sweatt case, the tidelands action, and a large number of anti-trust suits and investigations.

Washington Political Writers Say It Will Be Truman Vs. Vandenberg In Battle Of Ballots

WASHINGTON, June 3. (U.P)—A majority of 50 Washington political writers polled by Newsweek believe it will be Truman vs. Vandenberg next November.

And all 50, the magazine reported today, believe the next President will be a Republican.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., ran well ahead of the field as "the most likely Republican presidential nominee."

The writers picked first, second, and third choices, and in computing the results Newsweek gave three points for first choice, two for second, and one for third.

Vandenberg got 119 points. Trailing him were Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, 89 points; Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., 39; Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., 19; Harold E. Stassen, 13, and Gov. Earl Warren of California, 13.

Mr. Truman got 147 points as the most likely Democratic nominee. Behind him were Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, 37 points; Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, 33, and Sen. Alben W. Barkley, R., Ky., 9.

As the most likely vice presidential nominees, the writers gave the most points to Stassen for the Republicans and to Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington for the Democrats.

The writers' principal reason for predicting a Republican victory, Newsweek said, were "general weariness with the 15-year Democratic regime; lack of confidence in Truman and his administration; disintegration of the Democratic party, and the emergence of (Henry A.) Wallace's third party."

HOT DEBATE DUE ON HOUSE FLOOR

Foreign Aid Fund Reduction Sought

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 3 — A 25 percent cut in funds for the Marshall plan and other foreign aid programs was urged today by the House appropriations committee.

The committee sent to the House floor for probably hot debate tomorrow a $6,043,710,228 global assistance measure.

This is a reduction of only $490,000,000, or 7.5 percent, in the amount Congress itself authorized and President Truman asked.

But the effect is a one-quarter slash for this reason: The authorization law provided that the money could be spent during 12 months. But the committee said the cash it is willing to put up must be stretched out over 15 months.

Slightly more than $5,000,000,000 of the total asked had been budgeted for use during the 12 months ending next April 3, or at the rate of $417,000,000 per month.

The committee trimmed that total to $4,663,000,000 for 15 months, a spending rate of $311,000,000 monthly.

Other Funds Cut

Other funds in the bill were cut $150,000,000 with the money to be spent during a 12-month period as originally planned.

In explaining the cuts and spreading out the spending period, the committee said the programs contemplated "will not permit the expenditure of more funds than has been privided . . . on an intelligent basis" before July 1, 1949.

Should an emergency arise before then, it added, Congress will be in session again next January to take action.

In summary, here's what the committee recommended to finance the economic recovery act passed by Congress two months ago:

How Lubbock Grows:

43 New Families Per Month Arrive

Lubbock is getting 1.4323308 new families each day. Mathematicians say that means about one and a half new families are moving to the city each day, or in more comprehensible terms to eliminate family arguments over the "half," about 43 new families each month.

At least that's what figures compiled by Mrs. Allie M. Dyer, Lubbock's city hostess, would seem to indicate. The figures, which include the period from Sept. 1, 1947, to May 23, 1948, would seem to indicate several other trends. (1) That Texans seem to like to stay in Texas, (2) That Texans seem to like to live in Lubbock, and (3) that most of our new out-of-state neighbors are from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Kansas.

Of the 381 new families here visited by Mrs. Dyer during the 266-day period, 284 came from Texas, 94 from other states and three from foreign countries. During the period, the city has gained residents from 21 states other than Texas.

The breakdown of "migrations" of new families to the Hub City is as follows:

Arkansas 12, California 4, Colorado 2, Florida 1, Kansas 9, Kentucky 2, Louisiana 7, Michigan 1, Mississippi 2, Missouri 1, Nebraska 2, New Jersey 3, New Mexico 16, North Dakota 1, Ohio 2, Oklahoma 17, Oregon 5, Texas 284, Utah 1, Virginia 4, Washington 2, Wyoming 1, Austria 1, Hawaii 1, Alaska 1. U.S. Doctor Is Kidnap Victim

BERLIN, June 3 (AP)—Dr. Harry L. Franklin, American military government official, was seized last night by the Russians in their sector of Berlin, United States authorities said it was a "plain case of kidnaping."

Franklin, deputy chief of the civil administration and political affairs branch of the American military government for Berlin, was arrested by a Soviet patrol as he left a photographer's shop in downtown Berlin at about 6 p. m.

RELEASED BY RUSSIANS

BERLIN, June 3 (AP) — The Russians today released Dr. Harry L. Franklin, American military government official whom they held for about sixteen hours.

Franklin asserted the Russians seized him "entirely without justification" while he was on a business errand in the center of town. He was kept overnight in one of the Russians local police headquarters and questioned by the Russians.

Still Being Held

He still is being held this morning, despite intervention by United States authorities with high Soviet officials. An American liaison officer negotiating for Franklin's release said the Russians had promised to free him during the day.

Franklin, a native of Lexington, Ky., last lived in the United States in Washington, D. C.

Louis Glaser, who is Franklin's immediate superior, declared:

"The Russians had absolutely no reason for arresting Dr. Franklin. He was not crossing a road block he was not taking photographs. He was merely within his rights going into their sector of town on a business errand."

Merchandise Burned In Austin Building

AUSTIN, June 3. (AP)—Fire and smoke caused an unestimated amount of damage to office equipment and stored merchandise of four business firms here last night.

Eight fire companies fought the blaze in the two-story building in Austin's down-town district.

Damage to the White Auto store warehouse, which occupied the second floor, was estimated at $10,000. No damage estimates were available from other occupants, the J. R. Reed Music company warehouse, the Austin Photo Supply company and the Austin Press.

Cause of the fire had not been determined early today.

Texarkana Woman Claims She Was Kidnaped And Assaulted

(By The Associated Press)

TEXARKANA, June 3—A 35-year-old Texarkana woman told Bowie county officers she was beaten and raped while held captive by three men Tuesday night and early yesterday.

The men, 18, 20, and 22 years old, surrendered to officers yesterday. Sheriff Bill Knight of Cass county, Tex., where two attacks on the woman allegedly occurred, told Bowie officers he would take the men to Linden today and file charges.

The woman was under care of a physician.

Bowie County Attorney Bun Hutchinson said the woman told officers she was in a cafe here with an escort Tuesday night; that the three men joined them, and the five set out by auto enroute to a night club just over the Louisiana line.

Near Atlanta, Tex., about 21 miles south of Texarkana, the three forced her escort out of the car, the woman said.

She said she was beaten, dragged out of the car and raped by two of the men; pushed back into the car and driven toward Jefferson and Marshall.

Grim Struggle Again To Face Weary States

Residents Of Area Near Exhaustion As Losses Mount

(By The Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3—The Columbia river system spawned a new flood in its head-waters today. Crest of the old one still threatens to punch out weakened dikes far downstream near the sea.

Warning of the new flood abuilding came with residents of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia near exhaustion from their two weeks battle against what is already the river's most disastrous rampage.

Brace For Onslaught

All along the 1,000-mile course of the great river from the Canadian Rockies to the Pacific, waterlogged cities and farm communities braced themselves for the new onslaught — if they weren't too busy fighting off flood waters already at hand.

The old crest was rolling down the last 40 miles of its course of death and destruction to the sea. This still was a critical area.

Regular Army troops, national guardsmen and civilian volunteers worked on soggy dikes only inches higher than the churning waters from Clatskanie on the Oregon shore to the stilt-supported fishing center of Astoria at river's mouth.

Danger Is Multiplied

Again this morning—as yesterday—the danger of break-through was multiplied by a high tide coming up the river.

It was touch and go. Workers strained to build up the earthworks protecting the fertile lowlands. Their fight was against property damage only. The people were evacuated days ago.

Upriver, too, the struggle against soft dikes went on around Portland even as the gears of rehabilitation finally meshed after the Memorial day disaster of Vanport.

Known Dead 23

Top Red Cross executives here said they believed "few, if any" of the war housing project's 18,700 residents were lost when a dike cracked and Columbia waters washed away the city that had been Oregon's second largest. Known dead so far, excluding Vanport, total 23.

Federal and state agencies have coordinated plans and their massive reconstructive weight has turned to the task of rehabilitation for some 59,000 persons and repairing damage running into untotaled millions — perhaps $100,000,000.

Snarled communications and disrupted transportation are slowly being restored. Refugees are being sheltered and fed. Contributions of clothing from the more

House Passes Big Navy Bill

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—A $3,686,733,250 Navy appropriation bill for the new fiscal year beginning July 1, was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

Passage was by voice vote.

The measure boosts to $10,196,672,250 the money voted by the House for defense in a 24-hour period. Yesterday it sent the Senate a $6,509,939,000 money bill for the Army and the Air Forces.

Congress previously had voted approximately $3,200,000,000 for aircraft procurement.

Budget Estimates Cut

Both the Army and Navy bills were passed in the form recommended by the appropriations committee, which had cut budget estimates for the armed services by approximately $890,000,000.

The Navy bill carries funds to start work on a 65,000-ton super aircraft carrier, to be the largest in the world, and to boost naval and Marine Corps uniformed personnel to 552,000. The Army plans to have a peak strength of 1,250,000 during the coming fiscal year.

Without Controversy

The Navy money bill passed without any controversy.

Rep. Thomas (D-Tex) urged its approval, saying Russia has built a fleet of 250 submarines. These include, he said, 50 of the advanced Schnorkel type developed by Germany during the war.

Schnorkel submarines are equipped with a special breathing device which permits them to stay submerged longer than ordinary undersea craft. Also, they are capable of greater underwater speeds.

United States May Insist That Guns In Holy Land Be Stilled By Sunday

(By The Associated Press)

Count Folke Bernadotte sought today an accord between Arabs and Jews on the exact hour of ending the fighting in Palestine, possibly by Sunday. He conferred in Egypt and arranged to fly to Amman, Tel Aviv and Beirut.

Both sides have agreed to a four-week armistice in the 20-day-old war. The chairman of the U. N. security council, Syrian Delegate Faris El Khouri, ruled the acceptances unconditional despite the five Jewish "assumptions" and the three Arab "explanations"—poles apart. The Swedish count was empowered as U. N. mediator to fix the moment for shooting to stop.

The Arabs said five days would be required because of poor communications to their five armies scattered through Palestine. The United States was reported ready to insist that the guns be stilled by Sunday.

While at least temporary peace has been agreed upon, the fighting went on in the Negeb desert and to the northeast and southeast of Tel Aviv.

Israel's foreign ministry made the costly mistake of unilaterally deciding the cease fire was effective at 6 p. m., EST, last Tuesday, the hour when Arab and Jewish answers has to be filed. Neither the U. N. nor the Arabs had ordered the cease fire.

The Jews said the lull caused them to lose momentum in attacks on Jenin and Tulkarm in the strategic Arabic triangle of north-central Palestine. It caused cancelation of another offensive against

Air Show To Climax Women's Cross-Country Speed Contest

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., June 3.—Women pilots converged on Miami today from all parts of the country for an air show and the climax of a 2,600-mile cross-country race.

First to land here in the California-to-Florida race was Jeanne D'Ambly of Palm Springs, Calif., who landed her Stinson at Amelia Earhart field after a two-day daylight trip. Miss D'Ambly arrived at 4:50 p. m. (EST) yesterday.

Five others competed in the race. Mrs. Frances Nolde of Reading, Pa., spent the night at Waco, Tex., and planned a stop at Pensacola, Fla., enroute here. She said she had to be back home in Reading Monday "to do washing for the youngsters."

Dorothy Krovoza of Stockton, Calif., forced down by engine trouble near El Paso, Tex., planned an early takeoff to finish the race. The twin sisters, Claire McMillen and Betty McMillen Loufex of South Pasadena, Calif., also were somewhere along the route.

Helen Grienke of Bloomington, Ill., and Darlene Thurmond of Van Nuys, Calif., were the others competing.

The race is on an elapsed time handicap and officials said the winner probably would not be determined until late in the week. They must fly only in daylight and chart their own courses.

THREE TERRY COUNTY MEN HELD

Sweeping Probe Of Area Thefts Opens

A sweeping investigation into felony thefts in Terry, Yoakum and Lubbock counties — which already have produced three arrests and filing of theft and burglary and other charges here and elsewhere — will be followed by questioning of suspects into recent burglaries and safe-crackings here, it was indicated this morning.

The men, it was said, will be asked about burglaries of Piggly Wiggly and Furr Food stores here and whether they know anything about similar burglaries in numerous other cities of the Southwest. Approximately $20,000 in money and checks were taken in three "big jobs" here.

All Are Charged

The men were arrested by Brownfield officers early this week in connection with thefts in Terry and Yoakum counties. All were charged here Wednesday night with felony theft, one of them with burglary.

Approximately $2,000 worth of stolen goods was found on the adjacent farms of the men eight miles west of Wellman near the Terry county line by Dep. Sheriff Bual Powell, of Brownfield. Most of that had been positively identified yesterday by owners from four South Plains counties, an investigating officer reported.

Orville Glenn, 36, Ernest McDougal, 22, and Grady McDougal, 26, were charged here with burglary of the property from L. E. Evans, 12 miles south of Lubbock on the Tahoka highway. Evans identified about $500 worth of materials stolen May 10 while his house was under construction.

Glenn also was charged with theft over $50 in connection with theft of 30 bundles of shingles taken from Alfred Turnbow, of Carlisle, on March 23.

The charges were filed in the justice court of C. E. Lynn by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin Monday night. The complaints were sworn to by Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton.

Two Killed In Borger Blast

BORGER, June 3. (AP)—Two Oklahoma men were killed today when a water tank exploded at the Phillips Petroleum company refinery two miles northeast of here.

The dead were Earl O. Linn, 19, Meeker, Okla., and Herbert Haun, 26, Oklahoma City. Tom Goodner, 18, Clarendon, Tex., was hospitalized with burns. Extent of his injuries was not known immediately.

Cause Is Unknown

Phillips officials said they were unable to say what caused the explosion. The three men were cleaning the tank, which had been used for storage of salt water, by sand-blasting.

The tank stands about 90 feet in the air. Linn was on a ladder just below it, Haun was on top and Goodner inside when the explosion occurred. The bodies of Linn and Haun were found lying on the ground. Goodner crawled out of the tank after other workers arrived at the site.

Blown Into Air

Linn and Haun evidently had been blown into the air by the blast.

The refinery formerly was called the "Old Alamo" refinery.

Witnesses said one of the men killed was blown high into the air. A worker who was about a mile down river said he heard the blast and went to investigate.

200,000 Displaced Persons To Be Admitted Under Bill Terms

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 3 — Congress has taken the first step toward letting some of Europe's displaced persons into this country.

This is the score:

1. There are about 1,300,000 displaced persons in Europe. Late last night the Senate voted to let 200,000 of them into this country over the next two years, at the rate of 100,000 a year.

2. This won't happen unless the House also approves. It is expected to do so shortly.

8 Million DP's

Even if both houses okay this, not just any displaced person will be allowed in here. There will be restrictions and requirements to meet. Before examining them, here's what went before:

With the end of the war the allied armies — American, British and French—became guardians of about 8,000,000 displaced persons in their zones of Germany, Austria and Italy.

In time most of those people—nearly 7,000,000 — were sent back to their homes or native lands. Only those went who wanted to go. None was forced.

That left about 1,300,000.

They were people who had no homes anywhere or who refused to return to their native lands because of changes there or because they were afraid.

Requirements Told

For example: Poles who fled their homeland when the Communists moved into power there; people who fled from Lithuania, Estonia and Lativia when Russia gobbled up those three Baltic states.

The House may change a bit the bill voted by the Senate. Maybe not. But, as the bill is now, here are some of the requirements and restrictions it places on the 200,000 displaced persons to be admitted here:

1. The 200,000 would be in addition to those coming here from the various European countries under the regular immigration quotas.

(Those quotas, which have been pretty much the same for years, allow only a certain number of immigrants to come here from any one European country in any one year).

2. To be one of the displaced people allowed to come here, a person must have been generally;

Someone brought into Germany as a forced laborer by the Nazis; someone who fled into the allied zones before the advancing Russian armies; someone, chiefly Jewish, who fled from Germany or Austria during the Nazis' time and now has returned but is not resettled.

Palestine Preferred

(The Senate judiciary committee, which studied the displaced persons problem, reports that 95 percent of the Jews in the American zone prefer going to Palestine, with the United States second choice).

3. A displaced person could not come here until there had been a thorough investigation of his character and history.

4. He'd have to qualify under the immigration laws. Which means he'd have to be able to read and write, be of good moral character, not diseased or insane, and so on.

5. He'd have to have some skill or trade needed in the area where he expected to settle down.

6. He'd have to have some assurance of a job or housing which would not displace some U. S. resident from a job ir house.

7. At least half of those admitted must be trained in farming.

8. Much preference — as much as 50 per cent — would be given to people from countries taken over by a foreign power.

Baltic States High

Russia has taken over the Baltic states — Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia — so people from there would get high preference.

9. If they could meet those eight conditions, these persons would get first chance to come here: orphans; refugees who fought against the Axis; all others.

This may look all tangled up to you — and you may wonder whether 200,000 persons could qualify at all. The untangling would have to be done by a three-man commission appointed by the President.

The commission would set up rules for admitting the refugees but carrying out the program would be left to the U. S. immigration service.

Taxicab Driver Is Sought In Kidnaping

YORK, Pa., June 3 (AP) — State police have sent out a broadcast for the arrest of a taxicab driver accused of abducting Mrs. Mary Kolinski, 17-year-old bride who was to have graduated from high school last night.

The police message stated that Arthur D. Deets, jr., of Kingston, Pa., has been charged with abducting Mrs. Kolinski, who disappeared from her home last Friday.

The charge was filed, state police said, by Thomas T. Kolinski, 25, a New Britain, Conn., salesman, who said he and the missing girl were married at Elkton, Md., April 15, planning to announce their marriage after her graduation.

Deets' wife told police that her husband left home last week, telling her he was going on a business trip. Mrs. Deets, police said, expressed the belief that her husband had become ill and was in a hospital somewhere.

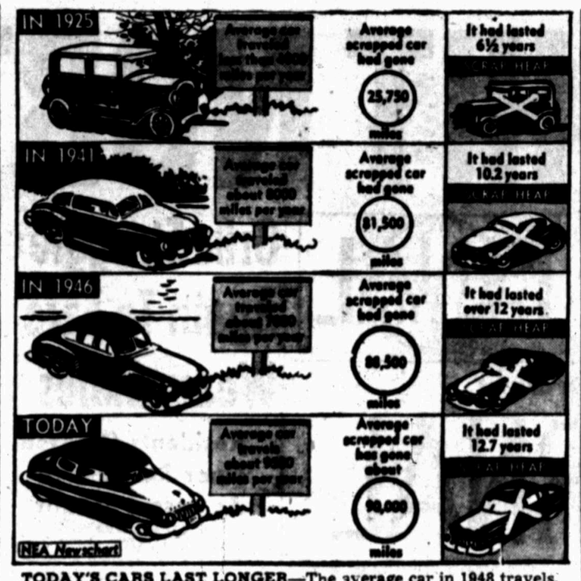

Fire Damages Unit Of Texas Refinery

WICHITA FALLS, June 3 (AP)—A fire at one unit of the polymerization plant of the Continental refinery plant here late yesterday afternoon caused damages estimated at $5,000 to $10,000.

Refinery Superintendent John A. Ramsey said the fire was caused by a ruptured tube in a reboiler.

Flames shot as high as 100 feet when the fire broke out.

The blaze was brought under control without the use of chemicals, plant officials said.

TODAY'S CARS LAST LONGER—The average car in 1948 travels, in one year, over twice as far as did the automobiles in 1925. And the average car scrapped this year will have lasted over twice as long as the car scrapped 23 years ago. The chart, based on figures from the Automobile Manufacturers' Association, shows how the usage and life of cars has increased over the years.

War Bride, Out Of Prison, Goes Home

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP) — An Irish war bride who served 15 months in a Nevada jail in the slaying of her husband was en route home today with her three-year-old son.

Mrs. Bridget Waters, 27, had been sentenced to a one-to-five year term for manslaughter. The Las Vegas jury which convicted her recommended deportation.

"I am happy I am going home," she said as she boarded the Marine Flasher yesterday.

She answered most questions with "no comment" but, referring to her small son, Frank, Jr., she added, "I think it's most unfair to drag the child through this mud."

DeMolay Conclave Is Conducted In Austin

AUSTIN, June 3 (U.P.)—Melvin Eckhoff of Austin took office today as state master councilor of the order of DeMolay as some 750 youthful members jammed the state capitol for their 18th annual conclave.

Other officers included Curley Lindsey, Orange, deputy master councilor; Harry Green, Houston, senior councilor; Charles Varnell, Houston, junior councilor; Buddy Scott, San Antonio, senior chaplain; Joe Shelton, Pasadena, sentinel; O. B. Tyler, Corpus Christi, senior deacon; Homer Duraham, Galveston, junior deacon, and Ralph Cox, Wichita Falls senior steward.

It is helpful to include quick mixes for cakes, cookies, biscuits and waffles on an emergency shelf. Packaged custard pudding and tapioca desserts are also useful. Canned soups are convenient to include not only to use "as is" but for cauces for a main course dish.

Finding Gold Cache Brings Him Trouble

ST. LOUIS, June 3 (INS)—A 19-year-old St. Louis youth found gold but asserted today that all it brought him was trouble.

The youth, Markin Barks, was looking around the interior of an empty, tumble-down house in St. Louis when he discovered $2,000 in gold coins behind a dresser.

Police entered the picture last night when they were asked to check on a report that Marvin was selling $10 bills for 50 cents.

They found he was carrying around the coins—$5, $10 and $20 gold pieces minted in the nineteenth century.

The youth, his brother, Earl, who had accepted one of the coins and a companion, Elwood Roberts, were taken into custody for investigation by the U. S. secret service.

Surplus Sale Set

A lot sale of several items will be conducted at Clovis Air Force base beginning Monday and ending Friday from 8 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. each day, Major William M. Thompson, salvage officer of the field, has announced.

Bids will be opened Monday, June 14, and successful bidders will be notified by the salvage officer.

A partial list of items for sale includes desks, folding chairs, chest of drawers, used tires, 55-gallon oil drums, used sheets and pillow cases, a used Chevrolet motor, thread cutting oil, coal stoves, flourescent lights, dishes, food trays and cement, Major Thompson said.

Two cups of hot chocolate combined with a cup of hot coffee and a few drops of vanilla makes a delectable drink. Serve thin sweet crackers with it.

Missing Boy Sends Record To Parents

CLEBURNE, June . (AP)—A missing Cleburne youth sent his parents a recording yesterday which said he had "run away from home."

Receipt by the parents of the recording ended a statewide search for Eugene Mayo, 15.

The recording to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mayo, was sent from Fresno, Calif. It said in part "I started to go to Austin but went to Los Angeles instead."

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

RETONGA TERMED "GRAND MEDICINE" BY MOTHER OF FIVE

MRS. ROBERTA HUGHES

"It's Easy To Understand Why So Many People Are Praising Re-Tonga," Says California Woman Who Once Suffered Severely From Gas On Stomach.

"I didn't know what to do or where to turn for relief until I discovered Retonga," says Mrs. Roberta Hughes, who resides with her husband at their home at 8932 San Juan Ave., South Gate, Cal. They formerly lived in Los Angeles for 24 years. Mrs. Hughes, mother of five children, is a member of Eastern Star and attends the Methodist church.

"In describing her experience, Mrs. Hughes gratefully states: "For years I suffered agonies from acid indigestion and all the miseries that go with it. It seemed as though I couldn't eat anything without paying a price in sour stomach and severe gas pains. I found it hard even to get a good night's sleep. My bowels were very irregular and I guess that's what caused me to suffer severe headaches. I felt so run-down and worn-out that I couldn't get through my housework. I didn't know what to do or where to turn for relief.

"Then a neighbor told me about Retonga. And, oh, what blessed relief it brought me! Today I eat heartily without any fear of unpleasant after effects. I sleep soundly, and my lost strength has returned to where I can do all my housework without tiring. My stubborn bowels have been relieved and the headaches don't bother me now. It's easy to understand now why so many people praise Retonga. It's truly a grand medicine."

The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. Accept no substitute—insist on the original. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Mark Halsey Drug Stores. Adv.

Continuous Search For Gold Is Made By Jewel Manufacturers

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — More gold diggers have struck it rich in Manhattan than all the mining prospectors in the fabulous west.

But there is also a quiet and unglamorous quest for gold that goes on here constantly—and nets above $500,000 a year.

These prosaic treasure seekers are the men who have the job of recovering the fragmentary particles of gold lost by 500 New York City firms in the manufacture of precious metal jewelry.

Found Everywhere

There is an old saying that gold is where you find it. This is particularly true of these indoor prospectors. They have found it in the air, in wash water, and by putting a vacuum cleaner to the hair of women jewelry workers.

These minute specks of gold also lodge in the clothing of workmen, in shoes, tools, work benches, chairs and floor cracks. It's worth the cost of the treasure hunt to regain them. They add up to big money.

"We recover about $50,000 annually in gold from such sources," said W. Waters Schwab, president of J. R. Wood & Sons, the nation's largest wedding ring manufacturing firm.

Methods Introduced

In its 94-year history this firm has introduced many methods of gold recovery now typical in the precious metal jewelery industry, which centers here.

The largest amount is probably recovered simply by burning floor sweepings and refining the bits of gold that have fallen from work benches.

Many firms now also supply aprons to their expert workmen and require them to be worn. The company launders the aprons itself. The water goes through settling tanks as does the water from special basins in which the workmen must also wash their hands each night before leaving the plant.

This prevents the waste of gold which accidentally stuck to the workmen's clothing and hands.

Jewelery manufacturers long suspected their workrooms had 14-karat air. Introduction of a special type filter to trap microscopic particles of gold floating in the air confirmed this to an amazing degree.

"In a single department where gold is worked as much as $10,000 can be salvaged in a single year," Schwab said.

For a time a number of plants recovered considerable gold dust—and perhaps dandruff, too — by vacuuming the hair of women employes. This practice is now obsolete.

"The ladies stood on their dignity and objected," Schwab laughed. "They insisted they wash their own hair or be taken to a first class beauty parlor—free."

So beauty and industry came to a compromise. The managements put away the vacuum cleaners—and the ladies agreed to work with their hair tightly bound in kerchiefs.

"Do we wash the kerchiefs?" said Schwab. "Indeed we do."

Bus-Truck Question Delaying Vacation

ELLENDALE, N. D., June 3 (U.P.) —A summer vacation for a family of 16 here is being delayed over the question, "Is it a bus or a truck?"

John Bell thought he had his family's transportation problem solved. He mounted a bus body on a truck chassis. Even at that, the 25-passenger bus was none too roomy for the 14 children and their parents.

Two applications have been made for a truck license. Both have been turned down. Bell admits it looks like a bus, but says it's still the family car.

However, a bus permit would cost $32 and the cost of the license would have to be figured over that. A North Dakota law says a bus must be licensed as such and not as a truck.

A rumor around Ellendale had it that the vehicle registration department at Bismarck denied Bell's application for another reason. The department was said to believe that he wanted to enter the commercial bus business.

His answer to that: "When we Bells go for a ride there wouldn't be any space left. I need a bus just to take the family for a joyride.

There are four sets of twins in the family. Married in 1924, the Bells have had 16 children, but one died shortly after birth and another was killed in a tractor accident four years ago.

U. S. Plane Sights Drifting Jap Boat

TOKYO, June 3 (AP) — A U. S. Army B-17 sighted the Japanese fishing boat Taiyo Maru, adrift a month with 19 men aboard — but the vessel was lost again in stormy weather before a U. S. rescue ship could reach it.

The Army reported today the 64-ton boat, adrift between Okinawa and Guam, was last seen Sunday. The B-17 dropped food and water. Hunt for the vessel continued.

LEND-LEASE AGAIN

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Leaving La Guardia field yesterday, Soviet Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin said he will confer with his government in Moscow on "lend lease questions." The talks, he said, will include "the matter of the return of the American ships" loaned to Russia during the war.

Outcome Of "Bombing Raid" On Michigan Air Base Is Awaited

DETROIT, June 3 (AP)—Young pilots who defended Selfridge field against the nation's mightiest peacetime horde of bombers were confident today they had saved their base from becoming a theoretical rubble.

But the Air Force waited for pictures to tell the story.

The mock bombing raid over the Michigan base came with scant warning. It was the biggest the Air Force has staged since V-J day.

Target for the 200 B-29 bombers and 150 escort planes was the strategic Selfridge air base, located about 30 miles from Detroit's industrial arsenal.

Mum On Results

The Air Force announced that bombers and the P-51 escort craft had assembled from all over the nation for the test. It remained mum, however, on the results.

Meanwhile, members of Selfridge 56th fighter group gave their own version of the assault and the defense they put up with their P-80 jet planes.

Their reports were enthusiastic.

"We gave them a real working over," one pilot reported after returning from the flight. "We intercepted the bombers very successfully and made a lot of passes at them.

Reports Varied

Lt. Col. David Schilling, group commander and a wartime fighter ace, termed the defense action "a successful mission."

Reports from other quarters, however, were varied. Some ground observers said the B-29's, carrying an estimated bomb load of 1,125 tons, could "have torn Detroit to bits."

The raiding force was assembled from units at Spokane, Tucson, Ariz.; Kearney, Nebr.; Roswell, N. M.; Ft. Worth, Texas; Rapid City, S. D.; Tampa, Fla.; Manchester, N. H.; and Salina, Kas.

The planes made a rendezvous at 12:45 a. m. (EST) at Kansas City, Kas., and headed for Selfridge field, 640 miles away.

At 1:21 p. m. (EST) the 50 P-80 jets took off from Selfridge to intercept the raiders. Pilots, though aware that "something was cooking," had not been on alert.

"Scramble" Reported

At about 2 p. m. (EST) the defenders contacted the bombers 15 miles west of Goshen, Ind. The two opposing forces were flying at 28,000 feet.

From there on in it was "a scramble" pilots reported. Attackers and defenders used guns with built-in cameras to shoot the foe photographically. Not until the air force studies the photographs and announces their results will the "losses" in bombers and fighters be known.

It was by far the biggest mass effort of the post-war Air Force. On May 16, 1947, a fleet of 101 B-29's "attacked" New York City in the largest force until the Selfridge mission.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Wife Who Wants To Pursue Talent For Acting Gets No Encouragement From Her Husband

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I can appreciate that the circumstances I am about to relate wouldn't affect an ordinary person, but I am sure you understand that there are those who are blessed with special gifts, and I am lucky enough to have a great gift for the stage, so please consider my story in a different light.

Everyone says I have exceptional talent, and I feel if one has talent it is important that it not be concealed. Talent should be developed; one should be developed; one should be true to one's self.

As to my background, I have done professional stage work since the age of six years. My parents are well-to-do and have always encouraged me. I am a college graduate and now I am married to a wonderful man and have a darling little son. But my one real ambition and desire in life is to continue also with my stage work.

HUSBAND HAS MADE MANY CONCESSIONS

MY Husband is an investment broker, a good provider exceptionall, intelligent and very easy to get along with. He agrees to my doing "little theater" work and will even stay home evenings to take care of our son. Also, he is very sympathetic to my need of extra rest due to the added strain, and even brings me breakfast in bed. But he doesn't want me to go on with my art really seriously.

He feels I ought to be satisfied with the little theater work, which I feel is only a stepping stone to greater things. I have had an offer which is just what I've been wanting. It would help my career a great deal. However, it would necessitate my being away from home several weeks at a time and my husband opposes this, I feel, unjustly. We have decided to by by your decision.

Please understand I am not just a stage-struck kid. Much as I love Greg and our son, this is really the most important thing in my life. Please answer soon.

E. D.

HAS NEITHER GENIUS NOR AUTHENTIC TALENT

DEAR E. D.: "Genius is skyborn and will arise," someone has truly said. Denied the idyllic grand avenue of expression, it will flower significantly in compensatory form in any circumstance, to dawn on those who have eyes to see and the esthetic sense to appreciate original creative artistry, even though it may pass unnoticed by the larger world.

Now, about you. The net impression conveyed by your story persuades me that you have neither genius nor even much authentic talent for the stage. Rather I think you are the inordinately narcissistic product of parents who, influenced by their residential proximity to Hollywood, drilled into you from an early age the unconscious Ego Ideal of becoming a "famous" actress.

The fact that you have done stage work since the age of six, i. e., for some 20 years past, under their well-to-do auspices, and are still an "unknown" in the novice class, with only a claque following of personal friends (which is the picture I get), suggests that you are, and always have been, on the wrong track in straining to be an actress.

HER FALSE STRIVING CLOAKS INFANTILISM

IN MY OPINION, one of the most illuminating phrases in your letter is the remark, "I feel if one has talent it is important that it not be concealed." I think the key word here is "concealed." I think your "real ambition and desire in life" is public attention and adulation;; and as for being "true to yourself." I think you mean letting nothing interfere with your consistent practice of self-worship.

Alas for the marriage, you have no real tenderness to give the wonderful husband, the darling child; and this explains your immediate urge to grab an offer that would take you away from home for weeks at a time. It is a typically infantile, neurotic attempt to put a fancy false face on serious failure in personal relationship.

For the rest, a wife and mother, whose family doesn't need financial help from her, is entitled to function as a professional careerist also, only if she has the abounding vitality—hallmark of creative elan—to do justice by all three jobs.

This I gather you haven't got, as witness the fact that a bit of: little theater" dabbling regularly knocks you out the morning after, which certainly puts you in the dilettante category. It suggests that what you really need is psychiatric help to bring you emotionally of age, hence able and willing to succeed, first of all, in the wife-mother role you've already wangled.

SAUSAGE FISHING FLOPS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., (U.P.)—A resourceful "fisherman" tried to beat the high price of meat but failed when his cane pole broke. The man tied a large hook to a 10-foot pole and tried to life some sausages from a grocery store rack during the night. A smashed window and the broken pole were the only clues.

World Problems To Be Faced By Bishops At London Convention

LONDON, June 3 (U.P.) — The largest gathering of bishops ever held in the British Isle will meet here in July to apply their "tremendous persuasive power" to such topical problems as "modern conceptions of the state."

More than 320 bishops from five continents will attend the Lambeth world conference of the Anglican Community including 73 bishops of the Episcopalian Church of the United States.

Russia Not Present

Russia will not be represented at the meeting, although it was invited by the Archbishop of Canterbury. The Orthodox patriarch, Alexey, pointed out that the Orthordox church conference in Moscow is scheduled for approximately the same time.

American troops in Japan are helping pay the expenses of a delegation of Japanese bishops invited to the conference.

There will be no Roman Catholic guests either, but an Anglican church spokesman said at a press conference that there had been a gradual improvement of relations between the Anglican and Roman Catholic churches since the last Lambeth conference in 1930. The improvement, he said, did not find its expression in official acts but in an increase of personal contacts, due particularly to the outstanding personalities of the late Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Temple, and the late Cardinal Hinsley.

Proceedings Private

The Lambeth conference, which according to the spokesman, has "no canonical but a tremendous persuasive power," will deal apart from purely theological subjects with such problems as "modern conceptions of the state" and "international order and human rights." The proceedings of the conference will be private and the text of an encyclical letter will be released upon its conclusion.

Those attending the Lambeth conference will include several African Negro bishops, the Cinghalese bishop of Ceylon, the Maori bishop from New Zealand, several Chinese and three Japanese bishops.

Many Scandinavians

A considerable number of European church leaders have agreed to come to London during the Lambeth conference as visitors and will participate only in the social events connected with it.

Scandinavia will be particularly strongly represented by the bishop of Copenhagen, Fuglsang-Damgard; the bishop of Strangnas, Dr. G. Aulen; the bishop of Ireland, Sigurgeir Sigurdson; the archbishop of Abo, Aleksi Lehtonen, and a representative of the church of Norway.

Charlotte Barrier Will Play In Public Recital

Miss Charlotte Barrier, daughter of Mrs. Eppie Barrier, 2108 Broadway, is to give a public piano recital at 8 o'clock Friday night in the chapel of First Methodist church.

Miss Barrier is spending the summer here. She will return to Montreal, Canada, in the fall where she is a student at McGill University Conservatory of Music.

34-Year-Old Blonde Offers Home Complete With Wife (Herself) To Affectionate Man

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., June 3. (U.P.)—Nellie Wolan, a 34-year-old blonde, made the outstanding proposal of the leap year today.

She offered a furnished six-room house, complete with wife (herself) to any eligible bachelor who meets her needs for "an affectionate husband."

Miss Wolan, who made the offer over a local radio station's swap-shop program, was quick to point out that it was not a lack of suitors that caused her to appeal publicly.

"I've got lots of boy friends," she explained. "But there's always a catch. Either they have lots of money and are dull, or have plenty of personality and no money. My man must be in between."

She said she already has turned down four marriage proposals this year.

The soft spoken Miss Wolan said that one of her most important requirements in a bridegroom was that he be affectionate.

"That's because I'm pretty affectionate myself," she murmured.

Pleasant Weather Due To Continue

(By The United Press)

Pleasant summer weather which has been reported at most points in Texas this week likely will continue today and tomorrow, the U. S. weather bureau said.

Although the highest temperature recorded yesterday was 102—at Presidio—most of the maximum readings were in the 80's. Amarillo's top was 76 degrees, the lowest of the afternoon.

Minimum readings overnight ranged from 52 degrees at Fredericksburg to 74 at Presidio.

Rainfall was extremely light, with only far West Texas points reporting traces of precipitation. High thundershowers left only a trace of rain in the El Paso area. The dry air caused rapid evaporation and little of the moisture reached the ground.

The forecast for Friday included predictions of scattered trundershowers in parts of both East Texas and West Texas, but little rainfall was expected, due to the continued dryness of the air.

Girl Tells Of Death Threat

MEXICO CITY, June 3 (U.P.)—A young American girl held by police for extradition to Washington, D. C., said today she had been threatened with death if she discloses Chinese government connections with the smuggling of arms and Chinese into the United States.

Deejean Jane Bacon, 24, of Texarkana, Ark., who said she was the estranged wife of Cornell Newton Shelton of Miami, Fla., former pilot for Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, was arrested for extradition at the request of the U. S. government.

Received Phone Threat

She said she decided to waive extradition and return to Washington voluntarily after receiving a telephone call from a Chinese who said she would be slain if she revealed certain secrets she claims to know.

Miss Bacon said the called offered to help her escape to China as an alternative to death.

She said her life was threatened "because of certain facts I know involving Chinese government activities regarding smuggling of contraband in and out of the United States."

Miss Bacon said she was froced to come to Mexico last October by persons who did not want her to testify about the smuggling in Washington.

Strengthening Of Western Zone Of Germany Seen In Agreement

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

It looks very much as though we finally may be about to witness the creation of a new provisional German state out of the three western zones occupied by America, Britain and France.

That's the way this column interprets the joint announcement by the United States and the leading countries of western Europe that they have reached a tentative agreement to provide for full German participation in the European Recovery program (the Marshall plan).

Formal Approval Needed

Besides America, the nations involved in this far-reaching agreement are Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. The latter five recently formed an alliance. It now remains for the various governments to give their formal approval, which the U. S. State department says it hopes will be done "at an early date."

If this provisional German state is established, it will represent one of the most important of the post-war developments. It will, of course, mean that there is no present possibility of creating a unified Germany by joining with the eastern Soviet zone of occupation.

Russian Zone Communized

As a matter of fact the Russian area has been thoroughly Communized, and the Muscovites have persistently refused to cooperate with the western zones. Apropos of this, the British military government in Germany yesterday issued a scorching report charging that thet Russian occupation zone is a police state where "Soviet ruthlessness" has eliminated virtually all political oppposition. The report declares the position of Germans opposing the Red policies has become so hopeless there is "apprehension that nothing short of force will improve conditions."

However, the western Democracies haven't abandoned hope of achieving a united Germany in due course, despite the fact that the Bolshevists show no signs of cooperation. Having tried everything they know to achieve unity, the Democracies now apparently propose the drastic step of setting up a new German state because it is essential to European recovery.

Germany Is Important

Pre-war Germany was a keystone of the European economic structure. The continent cannot recover unless she is put on her feet. So the objective of the agreement among the Democracies is to make Germany self-supporting and thus able to contribute to European recovery as a whole.

Naturally this program has been the subject of heated controversy. France and other western European nations, having twice felt the hobnailed heels of the German armies within a generation, have been fearful of giving the Reich fresh power. This fear has been blocking an accord among the Democracies.

France and her sister Democracies have been afraid that the United States might not protect or support them in event of trouble with a rehabilitated Germany—or with Russia. They have been urging—almost pleading—for a cut-and-dried American alliance which would guarantee military aid in case of aggression.

Some observers have felt that the western European countries were thinking too much in terms of American help and not enough of self-aid. The Marshall plan, while providing vast assistance from America, aims at the organization of a strong western European union, which militarily and economically will be able to restore the balance of power between Russia and western Europe.

America thus far has withheld military commitments to western Europe. However, France and the other European Democracies apparently have quieted their fears by analysis of Uncle Sam's activities. The costly Marshall plan speaks of determination; there are American troops in Germany, and obviously they would fight if attacked; and meantime the United States itself is rearming heavily.

Thus we finally get an accord which, if ratified by the governments, will reestablish western Germany and presumably create a provisional government.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

NEW CAMERA MEASURES YOU FOR SUITS—Just demonstrated in New York is a new photographic device which will measure a man for custom-tailored suits. Called "photometric," it was invented by Henry Booth, president of American Textile Limited, and developed by the Eastman Kodak Company. With tape measures tied on at key measurement points, above the customer stands on a platform in the center of a group of nine optical mirrors. The camera produces four different views of the customer on one negative, below. This gives a precisely-scaled model, and thus reportedly eliminates fittings.

Russians Complain Of Plane Incident

BERLIN, June 3 (AP) — The official Soviet news agency said today the Russians have complained to the Americans about another airplane incident over occupied Germany.

The report said Lt. Gen. M. I. Dratvin, deputy Soviet commander in Berlin, protested to Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, his American opposite number, about U. S. Air Force fighters flying a "protective escort" for a Russion transport flying from Berlin to Zurich, Switzerland, April 28.

Dratvin was quoted as saying that the American planes' action was a "violation of all laws" which "could have led to serious consequences."

"Only through the splendid discipline, experience and self-control of the Soviet fighter could misfortune be averted," the agency said Dratvin told Hays.

There was no immediate comment from U. S. occupation authorities.

Quiet River Of Living "Stars" Is Unusual New Zealand Sight

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
United Press Staff Writer

WAITOMO, New Zealand — Three persons thread their way carefully along a passageway far under the surface of the earth here in northern New Zealand. You are one of them.

The trio comes finally to the banks of an underground river, flowing silently through cavernous gloom. There is landing stage with a dim light cutting the blackness for a few feet, and revealing a boat alongside.

"Step, in please," the tall young guide whispers, "quietly."

You are in the boat. You push away into the darkness, and look back rather uncertainly at the dim light by the landing stage, now receding.

No Noise, Please

The guide stands erect and pulls the boat upstream by a rope fastened at intervals to the walls You can't see it, but you occasionally feel its wet strands against your face.

"Can't use the oars," the guide whispers. "No noise, please. Don't strike a light. No smoking."

The journey continues around a bend in the river, through an archway and into still another cavernous room. The only sound is the soft swish of the boat's bow parting the waters of the unseen river, and the occasional splash of waterdrops from somewhere above.

You want to ask about the earthquakes which frequently shake this part of the world, and about the active volcano of Ngauruhoe above you and a few miles to the southeast. Instead, you hang on to the side of the boat and strain your eyes for a sight of something—anything.

"Stars" Come Out

You are rewarded. As the boat moves ahead, a pale glow begins to manifest itself. The sides of the cavern become faintly visible and the black surface of the river begins to reflect sheen of light.

Then you are in the presence of a phenomenon almost past description. The cavern ceiling is alight with a soft green-white illumination as of a million stars. Some are dim, some bright as energetic little flashlights. Some turn off and on.

The twinkling effect is heightened by reflection by the progress of your boat. A million jewels are above and around you, the entire cavern alight with their scintillating luminescence.

This is the glow-worm grotto or Waitomo, and these are the glow-worms.

Hunt Their Prey

They are carnivorous and they are hunting their prey, the small flies that follow the course of the river in from its emergencie from the outdoors a long way off.

"I'll tell you a little about them now," the guide says, "although any sound will cause a large section of them to douse their lights.

"Each worm is about an inch and a half long and is encased in a plastic-like capsule half again as long. The worm and the capsule are both glass-like and you can see through each; when I hold a light close in a moment you will see through the body of the worm to its vital organs, and will see the light in its tail.

"We don't know what causes the light, except that it is not phosphorous. It seems to be definitely electric. The worm can turn his light on or off at will and can regulate the brilliance. The hungrier, he is, the brighter the light."

CONSISTORY IS CALLED

VATICAN CITY, June 3 (AP) — Pope Pius XII has called a secret consistory Monday, June 21, to name new bishops and archbishops, it was announced today. Vatican sources said it is unlikely the pontiff will fill any of the 10 vacancies in the college of cardinals at that time.

Democratic Congressman Thinks GOP Should Do Something About Promises Made In 1944

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 3—Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) said today Republican lawmakers ought to "do something" about promises made in their 1944 party platform.

The No. 2 Democrat in the House gave that reply to the suggestion of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) earlier this week that the Democrats "get specific" in their 1948 platform.

McCormack, chairman of the 1944 Democratic platform committee and now assistant minority leader, told newsmen:

May Be Meaningless

"No matter what platform the Republicans adopt in Philadelphia, it will be meaningless unless they take action on important bills before Congress adjourns."

Taft, chairman of the senate's GOP policy committee and a presidental aspirant had said:

"I want to put the Democrats in a position where they will have to get specific about where they stand on such issues as civil rights."

Republicans meet in Philadelphia June 21 to draft a new platform and nominate party candidates for President and Vice President. The Democrats meet in the same city July 12.

McCormack didn't have anything to say about civil rights. That was the biggest headache the Democrats had at their 144 convention, and the final wording represented a compromise. But on the subject of being "specific," he said:

"It is interesting to read of Senator Taft's maneuvering in politics. His latest is his effort, as he says, to have the Republican platform one that will not be general in order to have the Democratic platform specific.

"The Democratic platform is always frank and specific. For example in 1944 the Republican platform on Palestine called for 'a Jewish commonwealth' there. The Democratic platform called for 'a free and independent Jewish commonwealth in Palestine.'

"The Republican plan was vague. The Democratic plan is definite."

Amplifying his "do something" challenge, McCormack quoted twice from the 1944 Republican platform, as follows:

Social security — "Extension of state and local plans to provide decent low-cost housing properly financed by the Federal Housing administration, or otherwise, when such housing cannot be supplied or financed by private sources."

McCormack then said the Republican-controlled Congress apparently does not intend to enact bills to accomplish these and other pledges.

Some Democrats viewed Taft's civil rights jab as an effort to goad Democrats into another slambang family scrap like the one that occurred between southern and northern contingents in the 1944 convention. The Democrats finally compromised on a plank that said:

"We believe that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens and share the rights that are guaranteed by our constitution. Congress should exert its full constitutional powers to protect those rights."

The Republican 1944 platform, on the civil rights question, said:

"We pledge the establishment by federal legislation of a permanent fair employment practice commission.

"The payment of any poll tax should not be a condition to voting in federal elections and we favor immediate submission of a constitutional amendment for its abolition.

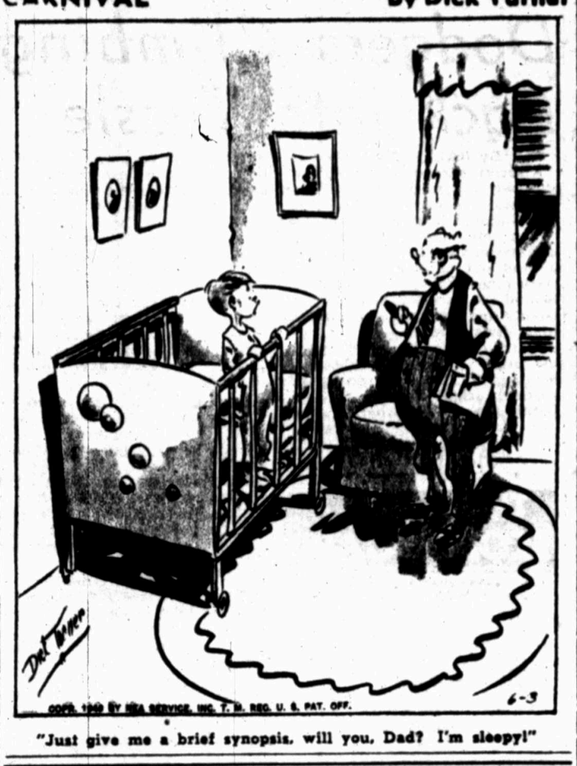

"We favor legislation against lynching and pledge our sincere efforts in behalf of its early enactment."

Since 1944 Democrats have controlled Congress two years. The Republicans have been in the saddle since January, 1947. Congress has not finally passed FEPC, anti-lynch or anti-poll tax legislation.

President Truman lost the support of many southern Democrats earlier this year when he proposed his own civil rights program to Congress.

But some Democrats are saying privately the family quarrel could be settled by re-adopting the 1944 race plank.

Beheading Of Young American Woman By Japanese Described By Former Soldier

Yokohama, June 3. (INS)—How a young American woman was beheaded by the Japanese during the war was described today by a former Ambonese soldier who testified before a U. S. military trial commission in Yokohama.

The ex-soldier, Yohan Tomascoa, who was a Japanese prisoner on a south sea island at the time of the incident, told the commission that the girl cried "Mother! Mother" as a Japanese officer's sword descended upon her neck.

He told the war crimes court:

"The blonde American woman, wearing a khaki uniform, was executed four or five days after fishermen brought her in a canoe to Kendari in the Celebes islands.

"The fishermen had discovered her drifting in a rubber boat."

U. S. Army investigators believed the girl was probably a flight nurse aboard an American plane that crashed into the Pacific in the Kendari area about that time.

Nine Japanese are being tried for the beheading of the young woman and nine other American prisoners of war in the Dutch Celebes island of Kendari.

Joel McCrea Gives His Reasons For Wanting To Make Westerns

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 3 — Joel McCrea, the California cowhand, is shaping his career as a specialist in movie westerns. And not only because he loves the smell of fresh air and sage brush.

The friendly actor is nursing a sore toe (his horse stepped on it) on the "South of St. Louis" set. In an expansive mood, he expounded his film theories:

"A solid plot is the essential ingredient of any good movie. It doesn't guarantee success, but without it even the finest treatment can't make a film good.

Firm Foundation

"That's why I've been doing westerns and will continue to do them. The essence of a western is plot. So I'm sure I've at least got a firm foundation for my films."

Joel cited another reason why he is hewing to horse operas: He has reached a point, he believes, where it is not profitable for producers to hire him for comedies or dramas, the success of which is not as certain and sure-fire as westerns. You must admit the guy is frank.

"Why should they hire me?" he asked. "For less money they can get stars like Greg Peck or Dana Andrews, who draw just as well at the box-office. My westerns make money, and I get the price I ask for—So I'm happy.

Native Californian

"I'd like to make a good comedy, but it's too costly to assemble the topflight production teams that made great films like 'More the Merrier' and 'Palm Beach Story.'"

Joel is that rarity among film stars (or anybody in Hollywood) —a native Californian. He recalls earning spending money during his Hollywood High school days by trapping in Laurel canyon, now a smart residential area.

"The hills were full of game, just a short hike from Hollywood boulevard," he said. "I'd skin the animals and send the pelts to Chicago."

Films To Be Shown At Session Tonight

The 707th Bomb squadron, local unit of the Air Force reserve, will hold its semi-monthly meeting at 7:30 p. m. today in building No. 63 at Lubbock Air Force base, Capt. Cecil E. Jennings, squadron operations officer, announced.

Feature of the meeting, Jennings said, will be the showing of two training films, names and other particulars about which he did not know last night.

Wives of squadron personnel will also hold a meeting at the same time tonight at the air base, he said, and the auxiliary will discuss future activities of the group and serve refreshments.

Jennings announced that the squadron now has three planes, two AT-6 and one AT-11 types, permanently assigned to the field, and the planes are available five days a week for flight training.

Four regular Army men have now been assigned to the squadron as instructors and maintenance personnel, he stated.

The 707th Bomb squadron still needs approximately 75 enlisted reserve personnel and a few officer reservists to bring the squadron up to class A standing. Prospective reservists are invited to attend tonight's meeting, Jennings said.

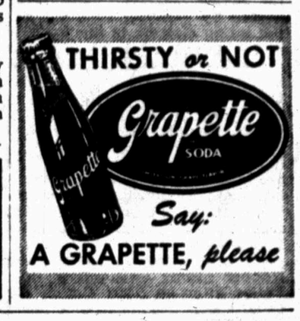

The term au gratin usually means to top a creamed dish with buttered bread crumbs mixed with grated cheese and then to brown in the oven.

Hubbers Drop Two To Dukes, Skid Back Into Third Place

The Lubbock Hubbers slipped out of second place as rapidly as they had climbed into it after dropping both ends of a doubleheader to the Albuquerque Dukes.

This action, accomplished while the Borger Gassers were being beaten by Abilene, 14-9, enabled the losing Gassers to move ahead of the Lubbock team. Amarillo showed continued improvement in beating the Lamesa Loboes 14-8 and the leading Pampa Oilers were held to an even split with Clovis, winning the first 12-7 and losing the second 11-7.

The Hubbers proved that they are magnificent and magnanimous last night, committing five errors in the first game and three in the second, all by the usually reliable Don Moore.

As if that wasn't enough, the Hubber hitting was quieter than Dallas after an SMU defeat, the usually strong slugging nine being held to three measly hits off Ray Machado in the first game and seven in the second by Virgil Butler.

Cotton Russell didn't hurl bad ball in the second game, but it wasn't good enough to salvage the first double defeat of the season on the road for the Hubbers. Clovis accomplished the trick here earlier, which leaves the Hubbers with a not too-impressive record against New Mexico teams this year.

Six Game Pampa Series

Tonight the Hubbers open what will be a six-game series with Pampa, playing the first three games there through Saturday and returning home Sunday to continue the series.

As the league now stands, Lubbock isn't even secure in third place, half a game behind Borger. Amarillo won its sixth straight and its third straight over Lamesa last night to move within two games of the Lubbock nine.

Strung out behind, in close order, come Albuquerque, Abilene, Lamesa and Clovis, all within striking distance. The race, instead of being more clearly defined, is getting tighter each day.

There's No Pop Off In Yank Star's Talk

Modest Vic Raschi Marvels At Way He Gets Batters Out

BY OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 3 — Rugged Vic Raschi, his New York Yankee flannels bulging with muscles, tucked a king-sized "chaw" in his cheek today and credited one of the best pitching records in baseball to "getting them out the best way I can."

There's no pop off in this silent strong man with the lantern jaw whose six victories against one defeat is the best hurling mark of the season, matched only by Joe Coleman of the Athletics. He's a conservative, well-educated man marveling at the present and looking to the future.

For to listen to the well-spoken athlete, you would wonder how he ever won.

"All I've got is a curve, a fast ball and a nickel screwball," he grinned. "I just try to get them out the best way I can."

Heart and solid application seem to be the answer. There's no indecision in this 29-year-old giant on the hill — or off.

Atop the pitching mound, Raschi works smoothly and swiftly and seems at his best when in trouble. When he sends that fast one whistling through, he kicks his right leg sideways on the follow through in what almost seems like a challenging strut.

Proof that, despite his modesty, there is plenty on the ball can be seen from the fact that Vic has won 15 games for the Yanks against only three defeats. He first came up from Binghampton at the end of the 1946 season and won a pair.

Message Through Sheriff

"I was already back at my home in Conesus, N. Y.," he recalls with a grin. "The sheriff drove up and I wondered what was the matter. He told me the Yankees were trying to locate me and wanted me to report for the end of the season."

Then, last season, Vic started out with the Yanks and was sent to Portland. But early in July the bomber pitching corps started to come apart at the seams and they picked up Bobo Newsom and put in a call to Portland.

"I had just won a night game, my eighth win against two defeats," Raschi recalled. "Manager Jim Turner told me to catch a plane for Chicago. I went 48 hours without sleep, hurried into the stadium in Chicago, and won the second game of a doubleheader."

Takes Seven In Row

Vic went on to take seven in a row, copping the Yankees' 19th straight to tie the American league record. It wound up in a series share for the young man from Massachusetts.

With it he went back to William and Mary for the winter semester, studying sociology and government. Vic had three years there before spending three years in service and has gone back each winter shooting for a degree. Because when he's through with baseball he'd like to be a recreation director.

Raschi started out as a catcher and is glad he made the switch to the mound.

Not Too Many Drives

"I'd rather take a chance on those line drives," he laughed.

There haven't been too many so far this season. Losing his first start he has come on to take six in a row, including two wins over the rampaging Athletics and a 1-0 shutout of Detroit yesterday in which he scored the lone run.

He was right tough out there on the mound, spinning a five hitter. As detroit Manager Steve O'Neill put it later:

"Raschi is a big man. When he starts pitching he looks twice as big."

Softball Play Is Set Tonight

The South Plains Softball League will get back into action tonight, weather permitting, at Jumbo Webster Field, with two games on the schedule.

In the opener, the Cloverlake Dairy nine will oppose the Bluebonnet-Sunbeam team that is leading the league, while the second game will feature the collision of the Thomas Jewelers and the Baldridge Bakery.

Another duel of pitchers is forecast in the opening game of the twin bill. Cecil Hale, who took two weeks to decide that he liked Texas better than California, has returned to hurl for the dairymen. He will hook up with Jackie Neel, ace of the Sunbeamer squad, in a battle for honors.

The last time these two teams met, Cloverlake lost a heart-breaking 1-0 game, but tonight may be different. Hale is a strong pitcher and he also is a good hitter. He may be the spark the milkmen need for a victory over the Sunbeamers.

Another duel looms in the closing game, when Loy Hubbard takes the mound for the bakers against G. W. Warden of the Jewelrymen. Both hurlers are close to the top in effectiveness, but Warden has had more success than Hubbard.

In fact, Warden has three victories over Baldridge against a single defeat. He is one of the best fielding pitchers in the state and a steady, dependable hurler. Hubbard also is outstanding, but has run into hard luck. A loss tonight will be his, and the Jeweler's, second straight.

The first game is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m.

Lawler To Play Pro Football With Bears

TEXARKANA, June 3 (AP) — Allen Lawler, University of Texas sprinter and football player, says he will play professional football with the Chicago Bears next fall.

Lawler, who graduates this summer, said the Bears told him they need a "fast man to catch passes."

His teammate of the last two years, ace passer Bobby Layne, has already signed with the Bears.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Baseball being what it is and the Hubbers being what they are, it's getting to the point where nothing surprises us any more. We would, of course, have sworn that the Hubbers would have a good road trip and come back firmly entrenched in second place and possibly in first. Now we are extremely doubtful if the Hubbers come back firmly entrenched in third place.

Not that we have given up on The Plainsman's group. We haven't done that at all. We merely sit here in wonderment that a team can so suddenly begin to drop and fade. There have been several similiar cases in the Major leagues this year and in years past; there will be more. And many of those teams that fade return to make life miserable for the scofers.

Take Amarillo, for instance. The Gold Sox were wallowing around in seventh place, occasionally going up, often slipping back down. Now they are in fourth place and breathing uncomfortably strong on the bronze necks of the Hubbers. They are riding a six-game winning streak and it has been good enough to vault them over the other second division clubs. They are, to put it mildly, in a threatening position and our Hubbers had best heed the warning being sounded.

Being human, and often sensitive to such things, the Hubbers probably read the papers and can see for themselves what Pampa, Borger, Amarillo and the others are doing. It won't take them long to notice that they are now in third place, half a game behind Borger, three games behind Pampa and only two games ahead of Amarillo. Nor will it take them long to realize that their six-game setto with the Oilers in Pampa may have much to do with whether they begin their next road trip in the first division or in the second.

We have called this a zany race before; we call it that again. When one team, by winning six straight games, can go all the way from seventh to fourth and be within striking distance of the top, it is the only way to describe it. When a top team can suddenly fall by losing four out of six twice, then it is zany. None of the teams in the league is hopelessly outdistanced and even Clovis, rolling around the cellar by itself, could become a sudden threat to the leaders.

We believe that the race this year is one of the best. A runaway, such as the New York Yankees staged in the American league last season, doesn't help baseball. Sure, good crowds come out when the top team is in town, but the others draw only a few fans and a lot of flies. So, when the race gets as tight as it is this season, fan interest is aroused. You may get disgusted with the team here, but you can't help being interested in its destinies. The late William Allen White of the Emporia (Kans) Gazette had a slogan for his paper that was clever advertising and might well be applicable to this year's WT-NM league. Hubbers. It was a simple "Cuss The Gazette, But Read It."

So the Hubbers are in third place today. So what? Two weeks from now they might be in first place, or they might be in sixth. The way the teams are battling each other, no team is going to run off with the bunting. In the meantime you are going to see interesting baseball, an interesting race in the struggle to come out ahead. Even in the two Major leagues, no team is going way out in front and the St. Louis Cards and Brooklyn Dodgers still might come in first. The same is true here. Any one of the first eight teams might still win the pennant. Don't sell the Hubbers short at this stage of the game.

Kilgore Takes Top In Lone Star Loop

(By The Associated Press)

Kilgore was on top of the Lone Star league standings today, a double victory over Longview last night giving the Drillers a full game lead over the displaced Texans.

Leroy Jones won his eighth game of the year in beating the Texans, 16-4, in the first game, then singled home what would have been the winning run in the nightcap. The Drillers added three more for just good measure.

Tyler stayed in third place, one game back of Iongview, despite a 4-3 loss to Lufkin. In other games, Gladewater blanked Henderson twice, 3-0, 5-0, and Bryan beat Marshall, 11-8.

Howard Wafer accounted for all of Tyler's runs with a three-run homer. Neal Conway's two-run single in the seventh brought the Foresters the victory to give George Shell a four-hit, 14-strike-out win.

Bryan rallied for three runs in the ninth inning to beat Marshall and six extra base hits gave Gladewater a double victory. Ray Reichelt held Henderson to one hit in the first game.

Baseball Final Slated Tonight

DALLAS, June 3 (U.P.) — The Adamson High Leopards of Dallas tonight go after their third successive prep diamond title when they tangle with the Beaumont Royal Purples in the finals of the state high school baseball tournament.

Adamson got into the finals for the sixth time by walloping the Hondo Owls, 12-0, on a no-hit pitching job, while Beaumont moved into the title round by downing the Longview Loboes, 9-3. The Adamson-Hondo game went only 4½ innings.

Play For Third Place

Hondo and Longview play for third place at 6:30 p. m. The Adamson-Beaumont clash will start at 9 p. m.

Ray Fitzpatrick and Billy Cowan teamed up in the no-hit game against the Owls, with Fitzpatrick pitching the first four innings and Cowan doing the last half-inning chore.

The Leopards collected six hits off J. E. Boon, who moved to first base in the third inning, and Paulie Mueller, who pitched the remaining inning before the 10-run rule stopped play.

Threatened Only Once

Only once did the Owls get into scoring position, and a Leopard double-play took care of that threat.

Beaumont built up an early 7-0 lead and then the game turned into a pitcher's duel between Beaumont's Willard Sterling and Longview's Algee Callahan, the third Lobo hurler. Sterling fanned 12 Lobo batsmen.

Hughson Tries For Comeback

(By The Associated Press)

Tex Hughson wo't fool with any $64 question tonight. He'll try and answer a $12,000 riddle.

The big ex-Boston Red Sox pitching ace will start his first game for the Austin Pioneers in Austin tonight against Paris. What happens will answer that high-priced riddle—the estimated salary Hughson is drawing from the Red Sox.

Farmed to Austin to try and work an ailing arm back into shape, the former University of Texas hurler steps to the hill at an important time for the Pioneers. They skidded to fourth place last night on a 18-4 licking at the hands of Waco.

Greenville Wins

Greenville won a 10-inning, 10-9, decision from Wichita Falls to step back into third place. Gainesville swept its series with Sherman-Denison on an 8-5 victory and Texarkana beat Paris, 9-7.

Hughson had an elbow operation last December. He pitched two innings of relief after the American league season started and he's pitched a couple of innings relief for the Pioneers since joining them 11 days ago.

Hughson hopefully predicted when he came to Austin his arm would be "right" after a few weeks.

Waco used seven home runs to wallop the Pioneers. It was the Pirates' 21st victory in their last 26 home games. Hal Haddican, Del Dunnack and Don Cena hit two homers each and John McKeown one in the Big State league game.

Pop Fly Lost Afield

Bob Cowsar's pop fly that fell between three Spudders brought Al Duarte home with the winning Greenville run. Cecil McClung got the gate for protesting an umpires' decision in the fifth.

Nine hits accounted for all of Gainesville's runs in the sixth inning.

Jim Basso's home run, triple and single paced Texarkana to the decision over Paris, the first in three games with the Rockets.

Legion Seniors To Work Out Tonight

Dodgers Climbing Back Into Tussle

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Slowly but surely the Brooklyn Dodgers are climbing back into the National league pennant race.

The defending champions, after a disastrous start that found them in and out of last place, are in sixth place today, only five games behind the pace-setting New York Giants and two games out of the first division.

Manager Leo Durocher's pitching staff, which took plenty of beatings in the early going, has suddenly righted itself with big Ralph Branca, Preacher Roe and Joe Hatten leading the way.

In the Dodgers' first 31 games the starting Brooklyn pitcher managed to finish only seven times. In the last seven starts Durocher's opening selection has gone the distance five times. During this streak the Dodgers have won five games, lost one and tied one. Hatten went the route for the second time this season last night, pitching the Brooks to a 5-3 victory over the fading Cardinals in a night game at St. Louis. It was the Dodgers' first victory in five meetings with the Cards, who now have lost six straight.

By losing, the Cards dropped a game and a half behind the Giants who trampled the Reds, 7-4, in a day game at Cincinnati.

Pirates Lose Ground

The third place Pittsburgh Pirates also lost ground, falling two games behind the Giants as they bowed, 5-1, to the Boston Braves in a night game at Pittsburgh. Johnny Sain held the Pirates to three safeties, one of which was Ralph Kiner's 12th home run of the year in the ninth inning.

In the American league the Cleveland Indians retained their slim first place margin over the Philadelphia Athletics. The Indians dropped a 2-1 five hit decision to Rae Scarborough and the Washington Senators, but remained seven percentage points ahead of the A's as the Athletics also lost, 7-3 to the Chicago White Sox.

Bob Lemon, who entered the night game unscored on in 25 straight innings, went the route for Cleveland. It was his third loss as against seven wins.

Chisox Beat Athletics

The last place White Sox raked Bill Dietrich and Nelson Potter for 11 hits in their after dark struggle in Philadelphia while Joe Haynes halted the A's on nine safeties in coasting to his fourth victory.

St. Louis' surprising Browns moved over the Detroit Tigers into fourth place as a result of their 3-1 night game triumph over the Red Sox in Boston.

Fred Sanson checked the Sox on seven blows while his mates collected nine off Lefty Mel Parnell.

The Tigers, who now trial the Browns by a game, lost a 1-0 decision to the Yankees in a day game at New York.

In the only other day game, the Chicago Cubs nosed out the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1 in 12 innings at Chicago.

Texas Pitchers Mauled Hard

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Write.

Pitchers and pinchhitters passed in parade in the Texas league last night.

Twenty-two hurlers trudged to the mound and only one found it comfortable to stay. At the same time, 12 pinchhitters plied their trade. For the most part, they weren't too successful.

Standings Unchanged

The standings remained unchanged for a change, with the most noteable happening San Antonio's ninth straight loss. Houston caused it, 9-4.

In other games, Dallas rebounded from a bad licking Tuesday night to trip Fort Worth, 6-3; Tulsa took a wild 14-10 decision from Oklahoma City and Beaumont edged Shreveport, 6-5.

Pete Mazar was the only pitcher to go the route, giving up 10 hits to San Antonio. His mates took advantage of Padre errors to keep him in the game. They scored six times in the second inning.

Tulsa took and 11-1 lead in the first three innings, then Oklahoma City broke loose. Grant Dunlap's homer with two on base helped the Indians make up some of the margin, but Tommy Warren played fireman and protected the Oilers' seventh victory in eight games.

Unearned Runs Win

Three unearned runs in the seventh inning was good enough for Beaumont. Two Shreveport errors produced the tallies.

Dallas pushed across four runs in the sixth inning, then added two in the seventh to beat Fort Worth. Three Cat pitchers couldn't halt the Rebels.

The same teams meet again tonight at the same sites.

Sanders Wins In Softball Encounter

The Sanders Motor company nine won a 4-1 victory over the Bennett Motors in an Industrial League softball game yesterday afternoon at West Wagner Park diamond.

Walter Bumpass limited the losers to four scattered hits, while the winners had eight in gaining their second victory. Catcher J. O. Pierce batted in three of the Sanders runs on two singles in three plate appearances.

Louis Weakens In Retirement Plans

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 3—Joe Louis is weakening in his determination to retire after the Joe Walcott fight June 23. If he wins and continues, his likely September foe is Gus Lesnevich, the durable light heavyweight king from Cliffside Park, N. J.

The champ isn't looking past Walcott who came so close to grabbing his heavyweight title last December. However, he is so anxious to dispel reports of his poor condition that he talks of the future.

Answer Is Evasive

Writers who watched him weigh in at 216 pounds, popped the retirement question. They asked if he really meant it.

The answer was evasive, not in the customary Louis fashion.

"I don't know yet whether I'm going to change my mind or not," he said.

That could mean a lot of things but it definitely was a change from his original "this is my last fight" statement. There are many who never took his retirement talk too seriously.

Louis hid away in Harlem for a few days after the December fight. He would see nobody. There were reports that he never would fight again but no confirmation.

Pair Call On Him

Sol Strauss, acting promoter of the Twentieth Century Sporting club and Harry Markson, the club's publicity man, went to Harlem to see the champ. They asked him about his future plans.

"After the next one," Joe said, "I'm retiring."

When Strauss persisted, Joe held firm.

"One more," he said, "that's all."

Then Markson spoke his oft-quoted piece.

"Well Joe," said Harry, "every prima donna, like Sarah Bernardt, is entitled to at least six retirements."

Louis laughed and gave him a knowing look.

Lesnevich In Training

Lesnevich is in light training for a July 26 bout at London with Freddie Mills. He is scheduled to leave on the Queen Mary, June 24, which, by a strange coincidence is the day after the Louis-Walcott go.

If Louis should dump Walcott and announce his retirement had been postponed, many think Gus and Manager Joe Vella might miss the boat to England.

Homer Norton Signs As Coach At Kirwin

GALVESTON, June 3 (AP) — Homer Norton, who guided Texas A. and M. to one national championship and who has coached college teams for 20 years, is going to be head man of Kirwin High school's football team next fall. Rumors say he'll get $3,600 for the chore.

Norton announced last night he had accepted the job. He plans to operate a beach hotel here, but said:

"Upon learning that Kirwin High school was without a coach and considering the fact that I would be residing in Galveston, I've altered my plans and I have agreed to coach the Kirwin team this year."

Norton coached at Texas A. and M. from 1934 through last season. Early this year the ex-students' association bought up his contract and Harry Stiteler, Norton's assistant, was named head coach.

Norton said after working with college teams since 1920, "I feel that it will be an experience to coach high school boys."

Kirwin is a Catholic school for boys with an enrollment of around 200.

DeForge Faces Bribery Count

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. June 3 (AP)—Bernard DeForge, former Carolina league player-manager with Reidsville, today faced bribery charges after his arrest late last night by local police.

Police Chief John Gold said the arrest followed an investigation into an alleged "fixed" game between Winston-Salem and Reidsville May 14.

DeForge came here voluntarily to appear before police investigating the bribery and gambling charges. He was released under $1,000 bond.

Miner league Commissioner George Trautman threw DeForge out of professional ball Tuesday. He said the player-manager had admitted receiving $300 for throwing a Carolina league game here.

Trautman put DeForge on the "permanently ineligible list" with Ed Weingarten, secretary-treasurer of the Florence, S. C., club of the Tri-State league, who was charged by DeForge with being in on the coup.

Police said they had no record of the W. C. McWaters identified before Trautman as the third member of the frameup.

Weingarten announced he would appeal Trautman's ruling to the executive board of the association. He denied all charges.

Police chief Gold said he had found evidence of a gambling syndicate trying to "throw" games in three North Carolina cities but would not identify the other two besides Winston-Salem.

Meanwhile, at Charlotte, N. C., Police Chief Frank Littlejohn said he found nothing against the Charlotte team in an investigation of a game between Charlotte and Weingarten's Florence club. He also cleared Florence.

At Roanoke, Va., Blue Ridge league directors revoked the franchise of Leakesville's team, owned by Weingarten, and said the league itself would operate the team.

Records of the game DeForge was charged with throwing showed that Winston-Salem was leading 2-0 after seven and a half innings. At that point, DeForge took pitcher Tal Abernathy out and went to the mound himself. He gave up four straight bases on balls and then a wild pitch. Winston-Salem scored three runs and the game ended 5-0.

North Carolina law provides one to five years imprisonment for anyone deliberately losing a baseball game, offering a bribe to players or officials, or accepting the bribe.

Big Spring Adds To Lead In Longhorn

(By The Associated Press)

Big Spring added to its Longhorn league lead last night by blanking lowly Sweetwater, 8-0, as second place Midland lost a 2-0 decision to Odessa.

In other games, third place Vernon was idle, as was cellar dwelling Del Rio, and Ballinger edged to within half game of the first division with a 10-2 victory over San Angelo.

The victory gave the Broncs a two game margin over the Indians.

Clements-Boynton Win Tag Match And Wentworth Beats Sandow Last Night

Jack Wentworth pinned Billy Sandow in two straight falls and the Ray "Big Train" Clements-Olan Boynton team took two out of three falls from the Eddie Gideon-Gil Knutson pair in the weekly wrestle session at Sied Allen's arena last night.

There was even more excitement last night than there was a week ago, with the grapplers giving one of their better performances. There was action in each bout and plenty of it from the time the preliminary began until the main feature ended.

Wentworth Wins

And two referees in the ring didn't make the show any less entertaining. They were kept busy by the four main go wrestlers, so busy that every one of the men in the ring was able to get away with some kind of lethal dynamite, even if it wasn't legal.

Wentworth showed that he is still one of the top performers in the business in his two fall bout with Sandow. He and the Ohio grappler went at it hot and heavy until Wentworth, after 18 minutes, was able to end it with a body lift back breaker.

The Canadian came back to take the final fall in 14 minutes with a self stranglehold, thus avoiding the two men going through a third tumble.

Gideon, Knutson Lose

But the main feature was the whole show last night and the four men revelled in it. Boynton and Clements cuffed Gideon and Knutson around for 24 minutes in the first fall and seemed well on their way to winning. Then Knutson, staggering from Big Train's punishment, suddenly grabbed Boynton and pinned him with an airplane spin and a body pin.

The second fall took less time, with Clements beating Gideon groggy and falling on him after 10 minutes. The hold he used, which merely ended the bout, was a surfboard.

As spectators predicted, the third fall ended quickly, with Gideon and Knutson again on the losing end. Boynton started the fall, but Clements took over in time to pin Knutson after four minutes of torture with a straight body pin.

Louise Suggs Leads In British Tourney

ST. ANNS'S-ON-THE-SEA, England, June 3 (AP)—Louis Suggs, 24-year-old queen of the U. S. links, finished the first half of the 36-hole final for the British women's golf title today with a 3-up edge on Jean Donald of Scotland.

The American girl, complaining bitterly about the weather, lost the first two holes and did not even count until the 10th hole.

Man Devises His Own Clipping Service

WICHITA, Kan., June 3 (U.P.)—Standing on a Wichita street corner, reading a newspaper, Joe W. MacConkey was interupted by a stranger. The man walked up and without a word tore part of a page from MacConkey's paper and started to walk away.

MacConkey shouted, "Hey, what is the big idea?"

The man turned, smiled and said: "My daughter . . . she's getting married, you know." Then he walked on off.

Legion Beats Morton Nine

The Morton American Legion team is back in their own home today, convinced that this year's Lubbock Legion nine is either one of the best to come out of the Hub City, or one of the luckiest, after the local nine won in the last half of the ninth inning, 10-9.

One of two attempted squeeze plays was successful, tying up the game, and a passed ball on the part of Morton's catcher allowed the winning run to score.

Morton had taken an early lead in the game with two runs in the top of the second inning, only to see Lubbock roar back with a sustained drive for three innings.

The Legionnaires opened their spurt with five runs in the fourth, two in the fifth and one in the sixth, the latter not matching Morton's four tallies in the opening half of the frame. Still, the rally was good for an 8-6 margin.

Then the visitors pushed over three runs in the seventh to go ahead, 9 to 8, while Lubbock was blanked in the seventh and eighth innings.

Bob Rooker and Jack Cook opened the last of the ninth by walking and when Jesse Fullerton singled, the bases were loaded. At this point Jackie Martin, the winning pitcher, laid down a squeeze bunt that brought Rooker in to tie the score and Martin beat the play at first.

Fullerton's Run Wins

Bob Brown followed with another attempt to squeeze, but Morton caught Cook at the plate to leave the bases loaded with one down. Ken Burke then uncorked a pitch that went through Cotman to allow Fullerton to score the winning run.

Players taking part in the game yesterday included Gene Brock, Dorrance Guy, Marlin Smith, Davis Hopper, Charles Galey, Jack Whitehead, Garnet Reeves, Joe Scales, M. D. Stevens, Norman Bantz, Tom Yelvington, Johnny Tatum, Jim Sexton, Neil Sikes, Dowell Hinson, Tom Brown, Hulin Fowler, Bobby Sexton, Jimmy Hamilton, Jim Richards, Freeman, Jones, Maynard, Hanners and Boswell.

The line score:

MORTON	020	004	300—	9	4	4
LUBBOCK	000	321	002—10	10	6

D. Burke, McDaniel, K. Burke (LP) and Cotman; Fowler, Hamilton, Stevens, Galey, Martin (WP) and Scales, Bantz, Yelvington, Cook.

Three Good Meals On 88 Cents A Day Possible, Expert Says

DAVIS, Cal. June 3 (U.P.) — A housewife with a calory-conscious eye and a firm grip on her pocketbook can produce three nutritious meals a day for 88 cents.

Miss Lura Morse, home ecenomics instructor of the University of California College of Agriculture, says it's so, despite soaring prices.

But, if the housewife thinks only of the pennies saved and ignores the nutritions lost, her 88 cents will provide a diet far short of a person's food needs, Miss Morse maintains.

The girls in her home economics class prepared two sets of meals, each costing 88 cents in all for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Eggs For Breakfast

They don't claim the following meals to be delicious, but they insist they're nutritious.

Breakfast would include a soft-boiled egg, two slices of wholewheat toast, butter and grapefruit juice..

One lettuce and cheese sandwich on wholewheat bread, pea soup, lettuce salad with mayonnaise, prune whip, and milk would be the enticement lunch.

Finally, the model meal for dinner would be fried liver, one baked potato, sliced raw carrots, cabbage salad and mayonnaise dressing, applesauce, and milk.

Not So Nourishing

Miss Morse lists the likes of potato salad, cupcakes, baked beans, avocado salad and apple pie as tasty—maybe—but low in food value.

She has helped prepare a chart —H. D. 460—"Checking Food Values in the Daily Diet." Thus, with one eye on the grocery store specials and the other on the chart, the housewife can plan her meals to get the most food value for her money, Miss Morse says.

The chart lists other delectables besides fried liver and prune whip, she adds hopefully.

Opening Safe Proves Lengthy Operation

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., June 3 (U.P.)—Safe experts have done a job burglars couldn't have recovered $5,000 cash and $4,300 in checks from a 1,393-pound safe stolen from the Montgomery Ward & Co., store here.

The burglars had knocked off its combination before removing the steel and concrete strong box to a more secluded spot, where it was found, battered and scarred but unopened.

The experts worked with acetylene torches for more than five hours before they cut through to the money.

TO WAIVE EXTRADITION

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 3. (AP) —Detective Chief C. O. Fink said yesterday a man identified as one of three who broke jail at Tyler, Tex., May 26 has agreed to waive extradition. Fink said the prisoner, captured in a laundry here Sunday night, is Wilbert J. Simmons, 21. A night watchman found Simmons in the laundry, and making him believe a black cigarette holder was a pistol, held him at bay until police arrived.

Overcast Skies May Hang Black Patch On World's Biggest Eye

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Writer

MT. PALOMAR, Cal., June 3—Overcast skies today threatened to hang a black patch over the official opening of the biggest eye in the world—the 200-inch telescope by which man hopes to probe billions and billions of miles into space.

Nevertheless, some of the greatest scientists in astronomy in this nation made the 130-mile trek from Los Angeles to the top of Mt. Palomar to dedicate and name this monster eye with a 200-inch pupil.

Set For 8 P. M.

The ceremony will begin at 8 p. m. (EDT) and by that time the skies may be clear for this first official eternal look into the universe.

Regardless of the weather tonight, the scientists know that there will be other nights—few as they may be—for perfect observations. It has been estimated that no more than 20 or 30 nights each year will be clear enough for practical observation.

The telescope, to be operated in a joint project by the Carnegie Institution of Washington and the California Institute of Technology, is of the reflecting type. It has only mirrors and no lenses. In reality, it is a huge camera with which astronomers will take pictures of stars and other bodies of the universe.

Look At Mirrors

Actually, a person cannot look through the telescope, although visual observations can be made by looking at images reflected in the mirror.

This is done, the scientists explained, by placing an eye piece, or microscope, at the focus at which the astronomer is observing. Late tonight, the visiting scientists will be permitted to gaze at a star field, and possibly some planets, such as Saturn or Venus.

The telescope, which weighs 1,000,000 pounds or 500 tons, has an optical range of about 1,000,000,000 light years. A light year is the distance that light travels at 186,000 miles a second for one year. In other words, some of the rays of light recorded on the mirror will have left their source many millions of years ago. In fact the star from which the light came, may have disappeared over a horizon in the universe before its light reach earth.

Flood Threats

fortunate are pouring in.

Greatest Suffering Over

The time of greatest suffering is over in the Portland area — the hardest hit. Over for the moment —until the new crest mounting upriver plunges down through the rock walls of the mid-Columbia gorge.

How bad could the new one be? Even veteran U. S. river forecaster Elmer Fisher wouldn't make a prediction.

But if the new crest rises as high as the one now running out to sea, this was his grim warning:

"Portland and Vancouver, look out!"

Portland and Vancouver—across the Columbia—are at the confluence of the great river and the Williamette, biggest stream arising in Oregon.

One thing was sure—the weather is against the flood-weary people.

Mid-summer temperatures to melt snowpacks in the upper reaches too fast. Thundershowers to dump new water into the watershed of eastern Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

Other Rivers Rising

Fisher said the Snake river, main Columbia tributary, was on the rise. So was the Yakima river in Washington. And overflow from Grand Coulee on the upper Columbia has increased the past four days.

Any new flood will add to the cost of reconstruction that already is in the planning stages for the four-state region.

Ruptured gas and telephone lines between Portland and Vancouver were being replaced. The Seattle, Portland and Spokane railroad started rebuilding washed-out tracks, hoping to restore Portland-Seattle traffic by Saturday. Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP) — Cotton futures turned easy today, following earlier steadiness. Scattered liquidation was stimulated by a Washington report that the House appropriations committee wants to cut funds for European aid by one fourth for the 15-month period ending June 30, 1949. It was feared that this might reduce the volume of foreign cotton buying.

Cotton futures dipped sharply into new low ground for the day towards the close on further nervous liquidation, influenced by the fear of a slash in foreign aid funds by Congress and threats of curtailments in textile industry unless buyers re-entered that market soon.

Futures closed $1.45 to $1.85 a bale lower than the previous close.

Strike Ban By Solons Asked

WASHINGTON, June 3 (U.P.)—A spokesman for the soft coal industry today urged Congress to prohibit nationwide strikes in vital industries.

The spokesman also asked that strikes to enforce adoption of union health and welfare funds be outlawed.

The request was made by L. Ebersole Gaines, president of the National Coal association which represents about 70 percent of the industry. He appeared before the joint Senate-House labor-management relations committee.

May Take Injunction

Meanwhile, other spokesmen for the soft coal operators predicted that contract talks with John L. Lewis will be resumed next week. They believed, however, it will take an injunction order from Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough to make Lewis bargain with the Southern Soft Coal Producers association.

Gaines said that the anti-trust laws should be revised to prevent strikes "which paralyze the public economy or otherwise impair the public health or safety of any substantial area."

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross' only comment was that Mr. Truman's letter, if it was sent, was a personal communication.

In a second letter, dated May 27, Brummall told the President he will vote for him if he is nominated at Philadelphia next month, but without much hope for party success.

Mr. Truman left national committee officials off the passenger list for his western trip to add emphasis to the official description of it as non-political.

However, the President held a long conference yesterday with Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, Democratic national chairman, and other party leaders from Capitol Hill.

Besides the Chicago talk tomorrow night, Mr. Truman will deliver prepared speeches at Omaha on Saturday, at Seattle June 10, Berkeley, Calif., June 12 and Los Angeles June 14.

Store At Pecos Is Bought By Dunlap's

Purchase of the Sisk Department store at Pecos as the 28th store in the Dunlap group was announced here today by Retha R. Martin, president of The Dunlap company, which maintains general headquarters here.

The store, formerly the Pecos Mercantile company, is one of the oldest department stores in the western part of the state. Established as the Pecos Mercantile company in 1900, the store in earlier days was one of the few of its kind between Fort Worth and El Paso, and served a large portion of that part of the state.

The purchase was effective Wednesday, when the new owners took possession. The consideration was approximately $150,000, Martin said.

The purchase brings to 28 the number of stores in the Dunlap group, located in four states—Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and California. Martin said there would no material shift in personnel to handle the new store.

Draft Bill

olds could volunteer for one year of training.

Other voluntary enlistments also would be continued but Gurney insisted these will not guarantee the 1,795,000 regulars and 1,520,000 reserves required during the year that begins July 1.

Gurney denied "any contention that war is in the offing, nor even that war is inevitable."

But he added:

"This nation is foolishly gambling with the future safety and well being of its people and of its way of living. We have no armed forces in being which are capable of protecting those things which we as a nation hold to be sacred, nor which are strong enough to uphold the dignity and the position of the United States on the distant ramparts which we must watch if we are to continue as a free nation."

Under terms of the Senate bill, Gurney said drafted men after completing two years of service would have to serve in the reserve for five years. They could avoid this by olunteering for an additional year in the regular services, or two years in the National Guard.

The 18 year olds who train for only one year would have to serve six years in the reserve or four years in the National Guard.

If the one-year trainee declined either such an assignment, he could be called to active duty for another 12 months with the regular services.

Veterans with more than 18 months service between Sept. 16, 1940—date of the World war II draft law—and enactment of the new bill would be deferred along with those with more than 90 days' service during the "shooting war." That is defined as between Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, and VJ-day, Aug. 14, 1945.

The bill includes authority for the government to seize plants and industries which fail to accept or fill government orders of the armed services.

Ex-Convict Held After Papers Valued At $621,600 Are Found

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 3. (U.P.)—Postal savings certificates, money orders and federal bonds with a potential value of $621,600 have been found buried in the back yard of a former convict at nearby Bethany, Okla., officials here said today.

Postal inspectors said the property was loot taken from the Prairie Grove, Ark., postoffice.

Man Is Arrested

Frank Chester Collins, 46, was arrested and charged with illegal possession of government property after the cache was found yesterday afternoon, authorities disclosed today. He has pleaded innocent but remains in jail under $5,000 bond.

Collins, a former inmate of penitentiaries in California, was implicated in the robbery after a brother, Rex Collins, was arrested at Dallas when he attempted to sell $425 in postage stamps. Inspectors said more loot still has not been located, but they declined to say what the total take had been in the recent postoffice burglary.

After digging several hours in Collin's yard, the inspectors found what they were seeking in a heavy cardboard box, secreted beneath plowed earth at the end of a driveway.

Entered Merchant Marine

The box contained pads of postal savings certificates in denominations of $1 to $500 and with a potential value of $60,000; blank money orders with a possible value of $100 each and a potential value of $527,600, and security bonds in denominations of $25 to $500 with a potential value of $35,000.

Franklin Collins entered the Merchant Marine after being paroled from the prison at Folsom, Calif., in 1944, postal officials said. He was honorably discharged at the close of the war. Before entering Folsom under a 10-year term he had served part of a six-year term at San Quentin starting in January, 1934.

Rex Collins, records showed, was released from San Quentin last December after serving portions of two sentences.

tinue investigation in Brownfield today. They said that there was a possibility that other property stolen in this area might be identified and recovered.

The accused men were expected to be brought here shortly from Brownfield and Plains for questioning.

The property taken from Evans included hardware for several doors, hardwood flooring and trimming, and house wiring.

Other property was identified yesterday by persons from the Tahoka area in Lynn county. They were accompanied by Sheriff Sam Floyd.

Deputy Sheriff Bual Powell reported last night that aproximately $2,000 worth of materials had been positively identified by the victims of various thefts dating back to a year ago. Some of them resided in Terry county and also Yoakum county.

According to Lubbock officers, Powell made the original discovery of stolen goods on the Glenn farm, which mushroomed into an undetermined number of investigations covering several South Plains counties. They said that he was scouting various areas for property reported stolen when he decided to investigate the site area of Glenn's new house.

Glenn's arrest followed shortly afterwards, which was on Monday. The McDougal brothers were arrested on Tuesday but not until some property had been destroyed and scattered, according to Powell.

The McDougal brothers who had been held at Brownfield under $1,500 bond were removed to Plains yesterday by Sheriff Ike Toler. Glenn remained at Brownfield under bond of $3,000, where he had been charged with theft over $50. The McDougal brothers had been charged at Plains with concealing stolen property, officers reported.

Powell said that Glenn had been living with the McDougal brothers and their father while Glenn's house was being built on his farm about 400 yards away.

A concrete foundation had been laid for a house estimated to cost $15,000 at a minimum. A store house had been erected in the past few months, officers said. Glenn also owned a 1947 Chrysler convertible and a late model International truck.

Hold Orders Placed After Suspect Is Nabbed In Ohio

The law reached quite a distance Wednesday to grab an 84-year-old "business man" who allegedly uses so many names that an Amarillo newspaper referred to him as "Alias the Alias."

The man is wanted in Lubbock and Potter counties for investigation into forgeries, Sheriff Grady Harrist of Lubbock and Sheriff Bill Adams of Amarillo said. He is held in Ohio.

He, W. R. Hadley, alias Robert J. Miller, alias Ray Miller, alias Ray M. Monroe, alias C. E. Lee alias Henry Bob Allen, alias H. C. Medley, alias Russell J. Windel, has a criminal record dating back to 1889, Harrist had been informed.

Adams told Harrist in a telephone conversation that the man was captured by police at Jerome, O.

Hold orders immediately were placed by the two Texas sheriffs.

Adams said the man was convicted of forgery in 1941 in Amarillo and sent to Leavenworth, supposedly for 10 years. He is supposed to have served sentences at Joilet, Ill., and Nebraska, possibly in Colorado.

Amarillo investigators said they wanted to question him into a $495 forged check cashed there. It was on a Newark, N. J., firm.

A check for more than $300 earlier had been cashed here.

Adams and Harrist said the man wrote letters to national concerns, obtained letterheads by reply, along with useful signatures, then Printed his own checks.

District Attorney Lloyd King of Amarillo said the case there would be turned over to federal authorities for prosecution, if Potter county ever gains custody of the man.

Royal Furgeson, district court clerk here, was elected president of the Methodist Men's club at a meeting of the board of directors last night, it was announced today.

Other officers named were Warlick Carr, first vice president; Edwin H. Boedeker, second vice president; and E. E. Merriman, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the board of directors are: one year term, Clarence Whiteside, Furgeson, and Jack Earl Creel; two years, Boedeker, Wagner Carr, and Warlick Carr; three years, Merriman, John Hudspeth, and Ralph Brock.

The club voted recently to meet in breakfast session at 7:30 o'clock each Tuesday morning at the church, instead of a noon luncheon meeting.

Atom Workers Refuse Offer

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., June 3. (AP)—A new strike threat faced an atomic plant today in the wake of overwhelming rejection by its workers of a final contract offer.

The employes, members of the AFL atomic trades and labor council, turned down by a vote of 771 to 26 a 10-cents an hour average wage increase offered by Carbide and Carbon Chemicals corporation.

The union has called a mass meeting for Sunday to decide on its next move.

Result Not Binding

Result of the election is not binding on either party.

Carbide, in a statement issued by T. E. Lane, its industrial relations superintendent, termed the election outcome "unfortunate, but more or less expected." Lane said the company is hopeful negotiations with the union will be resumed.

The union seeks a 26-cents an hour increase above the current $1.38 average wage.

First Election

The election, held by the National Labor Relations board, was the first conducted under the Taft-Hartley law's national emergency provision.

The act was invoked by the government to obtain a court order last March 19 to prevent either a strike or lockout at the plant. The 80-day injunction expires June 7.

Corpus Christi Boy, Impaled By Tree Trunk, Makes Medical History By Living Over Ordeal

BY WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Five weeks ago, a Corpus Christi, Tex., youth slipped from a tree and tumbled into the pages of medical history.

Noel Leon Herro, a green-eyed, olive skinned boy of 11, survived an amazing ordeal. Look what happened:

A thin salt-cedar tree, straight and strong, was underneath the big tree from which Noel plunged.

Falls On Tree

He fell on the little tree. It drove into his abdomen and emerged at his shoulder. Impaled by the tree, he dangled in the air, screaming, his feet a dozen inches from the ground.

Across the street in her home, his mother, Mrs. George Herro, heard the agonized cries. She ran to the scene and then her screams for help blended with those of her son.

"People heard me for two blocks," she told us.

A man came with a hatchet but his blows against the truck of the tree were too much for the boy to stand. Someone fetched a hacksaw, sawed through the slender trunk and Noel was a lowered to the ground.

Rushed To Hospital

With the tree trunk extending from his body a foot or so in each direction, he was rushed to Corpus Christi's Memorial hospital where a number of physicians were holding a meeting.

Dr. Gordon Heaney, husky, amiable veteran of the second World war, was called from the meeting to the hospital's emergency room.

"I nearly dropped in my tracks when I saw that boy," Dr. Heaney said.

"We gave him plasma immediately and by the time he had had two bottles of that, blood was ready and transfusions were started. He got three pints before he left the operating table.

When the plasma was started, Dr. Heaney picked up an anaesthetic mask and said: "Want a few whiffs of this, fellow? It'll make you feel better."

Numerous Injuries

"I don't want that," said Noel, "just get this tree out of me."

The tree had entered the right upper quadrant of the abdomen, beneath the lower rib. It had torn through the diaphram and had pushed the lower lobe of the right lung upward. It had torn through the middle and upper lobe of the right lung and had emerged between the shoulder and the neck, just in back of the collar bone.

At the shoulder the tree was about an inch and one - half in diameter. At the opening of the abdomen, it measured two inches.

"It was a tight fit at both openings," Dr. Heaney said.

That was a life saver—blood filled the right pleural cavity, could not escape and the pressure built up inside the cavity halted further loss of blood.

Saws Tree Away

Herro was put to sleep. With the a hacksaw, Dr. Heaney sawed away the top part of the tree, flush with the boy's shoulder. Then the physician took out the patient's seventh rib, in order to have a clearer field for vision and action during the dangerous process of withdrawing the tree.

The room was filled with physicians who had been attending the meeting. One had a movie camera, filming every step of the procedure.

An assistant began withdrawing the tree, pulling it from the opening in the abdomen, inch by inch. As this was done, Dr. Heaney worked feverishly, putting clamps on the released blood vessels and then tying them off Clamp and tie, clamp and tie. Through a tube pushed down Noel's windpipe, air was forced into the injured lung, expanding it and making it easier for the physician to repair the damage.

In 10 minutes, the lung was patched and the tree was completely out.

"I've seen battle casualties in Africa, Italy, France and Germany with comparable injuries," Dr. Heaney said. "They didn't live."

Noel lived. A few days ago he went back to school. He feels fine. But he's steering clear of trees.

Columbia Professor Has Popular Course

NEW YORK, June 3. (U.P.) — A gaunt, soft-spoken socialogy professor has made good with Columbia University undergraduates.

Prof. William C. Casey runs a one-year course in fiscal problems and community service. A student poll showed overwhelming approval of the course.

Casey was pleasantly surprised by the results of the college yearbook poll.

"What's really wonderful is that so many students should appreciate the importance of the social sciences in the world today," he said. "We can't survive on technological advances alone; the social sciences must keep pace."

Prof. Casey's unique course, which attracts almost one-quarter of Columbia students, is punctuated with delightful and revealing anecdotes, some of which take several class hours in the telling.

He uses a novel system of blackboard symbols which none but his students can understand — and sometimes not even they.

One undergraduate, learning of the poll's conclusion, remarked, "For the first three months I didn't know what he was talking about. Looking back, though, I think I got more out of 'Caseyology' than any other course in college."

Mother's Frantic Search For 7-Year-Old Son In Swimming Pool Has Tragic Climax

ALTOONA, Pa., June 3. (AP) — Mrs. Louis Goodfellow, sr., wife of a phychology teacher at the Altoona undergraduate center, answered the phone last night.

It was a neighbor calling.

"My son says your little boy, Louis, is in a pool somewhere."

Frantically, Mrs. Goodfellow phoned police. She was told a boy had drowned in Ivyside swimming pool.

Hurrying there, she found a boy had drowned, but it was James Sisco, 15, rather than her own seven-year-old son, Louis. James had dived, struck something and failed to come up.

Mrs. Goodfellow returned home. Louis still had not returned. She hurried to the neighbor's home and talked to Louis' playmate.

He led her to the "pool" he meant—an 18-foot deep city reservoir. In its water police found her son, drowned three hours before.

Schaefer succeeds Anthony Borho who was named to a three vear term as trustee.

Others elected were Bill Sullivan, deputy grand knight; Harry Holcomb, chancellor (re-elected); Bob Quinlivan, warden; James Qualia, advocate; Joe Botik, recorder (re-elected); A. J. Shimek, treasurer; Joe McCaskill, outside guard; and Charles Dvoracek, inside guard.

District Deputy Joe Moore of Lubbock presided at the meeting.

Vast Horse Meat Racket Said Centered In Houston Section

HOUSTON, June 3. (U.P.) — A meat packer charged today that Houston residents have been hoaxed into consuming 200,000 pounds of horse meat each week in the belief that they were eating top grade beef.

J. M. Sullenger, president of the Select Meat company, told the Harris county grand jury that Houston has become the center of a vast "horse meat racket" extending throughout this section.

Many Were Diseased

"I'm talking about what I've seen with my own eyes," he said in testimony yesterday. "I've seen pens of horses waiting to be slaughtered. A big portion of those horses were diseased."

"Until recent months, most of the horse supply came from around Houston. The business has gotten so big now that the local supply is about exhausted and horses now are coming from Louisiana, San Antonio and Brenham, Texas."

The grand jury will meet again tomorrow to hear reports of state laboratory tests on samples of meat taken from stores in various sections of the city. The tests are to determine how much of the meat labeled as "beef" is actually disguised horse flesh.

The jury heard 24 witnesses yesterday.

Prices Forced Up

One of them was Felix Billingsley, a pet show owner who said his business was "almost ruined" because the horse meat racket forced the price of live horses up from $2.10 to $4 a hundredweight. Billingsley said he needs horse meat, at low prices, for feeding to animals.

"Recently, however, horse meat has been so scarce that sometimes I can't get it at all," he said.

City officials, meanwhile, denied that laxity on their part was responsible for letting the horse meat slip through as beef.

Mayor Oscar Holcombe said his office had heard rumors of the racket several months ago "but did not find anything out of the way when we checked up on it."

Maybe They're Smarter

"If the state laboratories find anything, I'm certainly glad of it," he said. "Maybe they're smarter than our men."

City health director, Fred Laurentz, said the "only way we can stop the sale of horse meat would be to keep a 24-hour check on package and wholesale houses."

"With only four inspectors that is impossible," he said. "What can we do if we got out and find horse meat which has been prepared legally for pets? We have no way of following through to see that this meat actually goes to the pets."

He predicted that the grand jury inquiry would stop the horse meat racket temporarily but that it "probably will start up again later."

Sullenger told the grand jury yesterday that 50,000 pounds of

Wife Joins Blind Husband In Learning Law At Night School

By EDWARD S. KITCH
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, June 3.— Mr. and Mrs. Allan Stouder are studying to become lawyers.

Both, 23, are leading their classes at the John Marshall Law school even though Allan is blind. He majored in chemistry at the University of Chicago, before he lost his sight, and met and married Marian. She is from Randolph, Vermont.

Attends Night School

Then Allan decided he'd like to study law. He got a daytime job in an industrial laboratory and attended law school at night.

In May, 1946, a batch of chemicals Allan was mixing exploded in his face. He was severely burned. Doctors said it is improbable Allan's sight can be restored.

Marian now acts as his eyes and reads all of his text material to him. She attends classes with him. They discuss legal cases together. They take examinations separately. A reader asks Allan questions. He writes the answers on a typewriter.

Both Learn Braille

Both are learning Braille. They play chess on a board which she has fixed with adhesive tape so he can tell the squares.

Receiving workman's compensation, Allan and Marian are assisted financially by their folks.

Highly Disputed Displaced Persons Bill Goes To House After Senate Endorsement

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP) — The highly disputed bill to let 200,000 homeless Europeans enter the United States during the next two years went to the House today with the Senate's 63 to 13 endorsement.

One Republican, Senator Hawkes (NJ), and 12 southern Democrats cast the opposition votes last night after an 11-hour continuous session.

Early House approval of a similar bill is indicated since Republican leaders have placed a "must" tag on displaced persons legislation for this session.

The Senate bill would permit 100,000 carefully selected Europeans to come here in each of the next two years, starting in July. They would be in addition to the regular immigration quotas.

The measure survived an attempt by Senator Kem (R-Mo) to junk it for his substitute bill which would have limited the total to 140,000, with half of these charged against regular immigration quotas.

The Kem substitute was beaten 50 to 27 after Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he "felt strongly" that 200,000 is the minimum number of displaced persons who should be permitted to enter this country.

Army In Far East Gives To Campaign

TOKYO, June 3 (AP)—The U. S. Army's Far East command stopped to count up today, and discovered its soldiers and civilian employes had contributed $266,028.07 to the March of Dimse.

The .07 is presumed part of the gift of someone who simply tossed in his loose change.

Plans To Ban Death Penalty Strike A Snag

LONDON, June 3 (AP)—A proposal to abolish the death penalty in England has hit a rock in the House of Lords, and legislative experts predicted today the measure will founder.

The Lords, by vote of 181 to 28, balked last night at the proposal—already approved by the House of Commons—which would eliminate the death penalty for a test period of five years for all crimes except high treason and piracy.

Reversal Is Expected

In legislative corridors today the opinion predominated that the House of Commons now will reverse itself and go along with the Lords. The lower house could enforce its will on the Lords, but it would take time and most observers doubt that it will do so.

The vote by the Lords placed Home Secretary Chuter Ede in an awkward spot. On the basis of the lower house action in April he suspended all hangings. He explained in the house that while he favored abolition of hangings as a matter of principle he did not regard this as the proper time for it.

Again In Jeopardy

Cabinet On Spot

The labor cabinet also is on a spot. It must decide whether to back the House of Commons, from which comes its support, or the House of Lords, whose power it is trying to curb.

The cabinet may have to patch up some sort of compromise. The Archbishop of Canterbury already has suggested one—to introduce a special bill classifying degrees of murder and stipulating those for which the courts may impose death.

The House of Lords also has rejected a Commons-approved proposal to abolish the whipping post.

East Broadway Hill Selected As Site For Soap Box Derby

Where's the Soap Box Derby going to be run?

That question has been asked repeatedly of Avalanche-Journal, Kuykendall Chevrolet company officials and members of the Lubbock Exchange club, co-sponsors of the first annual Avalanche-Journal-Chevrolet Soap Box Derby, July 5.

Well, the answer showed up Wednesday and here 'tis:

"East Broadway Hill."

Ideally situated and already equipped with a slope capable of carrying the derby racers down the 1,000-foot race straightofway at top speeds, the hill, located on Highway 82, was designated as the race course through courtesy of the State Highway commission.

Okay Is Given

Permission to use the hill for the Derby was received Wednesday in a telegram from Chairman Fred Wemple of the commission. District Engineer S. C. McCarty cooperated in seeking permission for use of the hill.

In securing the course, Derby officials had to assure highway officials that proper detour signs would be erected and patrols organized to guide motorists on two detours around the hill, one via Ave. A and the Lubbock Packing company plant across the canyon and another by the Purina Mills plant northeast of Lubbock. The hill will be blocked off from traffic most of the day, Monday, July 5.

With the announcement that the hill would be the race course, youngsters can now concentrate on building of their cars equipped with brakes sufficient to bring the cars to a halt upon completion of the race. Each car must be stopped by its brakes after finishing the race in order to qualify.

Derby Director Roy Finley announced several withdrawals from the race by youngsters due to various reasons and said entries would be accepted from ten more boys. Sponsors have already been signed up for the boys and the first ten boys to report at Derby headquarters in the showroom of the Kuykendall Chevrolet company, 1902 Texas avenue, will be allowed to enter the race.

Finley also announced that the Firestone and Goodrich stores had received their final shipments of wheel sets and there were enough wheels now for all boys to start building their cars.

Finley said he had also received a warning from Myron E. Scott, general manager of the All-Amer-

Chorus Of Official Denials Meet Report That Air Force Plane Bombed Submarine

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—A chorus of official denials today met a report that an Air Force plane had mistakenly bombed the U. S. submarine Carp off the California coast.

Rep. Hugh D. Scott, jr., (R-Pa) told the House yesterday he understood the incident occurred about two months ago and that 50 of the submarine's crew had been hospitalized as a result.

"This is absolutely not so," said Vice Admiral Arthur W. Radford, vice chief of naval operations.

Air Force officials joined in the denial. They said their planes do not even carry out anti-submarine patrols, because that task was assigned to the Navy after the armed forces unification.

Scott, told the Navy had denied the story, said "if it didn't happen I'll be delighted to know it."

The Pennsylvanian told the House yesterday he got the information from a newspaper editor who said he had received a signed statement from a sailor claiming to have been one of the 50 hospitalized crewmen.

Navy officials said they checked such an account some time ago and found it to be only a tall tale which a sailor aboard the Carp had written to his family.

Move Is Made To Cut Losses In Burglaries

Lubbock's largest grocery chains —the widespread Furr and Piggly-Wiggly organizations—announced Wednesday afternoon their intention of doing everything logical to prevent recurrence of recent heavy losses to burglars.

Whether that means acceptance of police escorts or of armored car services to place money in night depositories of banks, or by other measures not announced, they are ready to do all they can to discourage burglaries and safe-cracking, it was announced.

Deny Refusing Escorts

At the same time, spokesmen for both chains said a report that they had declined a police offer of escort of moneys to night desopitories was "erroneous."

"We were not aware that such services of the police were available," Roy Furr, president of the Furr Food stores, and Palmer T. Glazner, buyer for the Piggly-Wiggly chain, said.

They said no such offer had been made to those chains, so far as they knew.

"We have not declined such a service," they said.

Chief of Police Lewis Kittrell, who had told newsmen several days ago that his department stands ready to send an escort to assist business men in placing in night depositories large amounts of money receipts, said he had not communicated the offer to the Furr and Piggly-Wiggly chains. He had planned to do so, however, he said.

"We give such service regularly to some business establishments," he said. "Sometimes we send a patrol car, sometimes have a foot patrolman accompany the business man to the bank."

The police escort plan probably could not be used except in instances where there was an unusually large amount of receipts, inasmuch as there are so many business establishments in the city and so few police cars. Detaching police cars for escort purposes might lessen protection of the rest of the city, merchants themselves conceded.

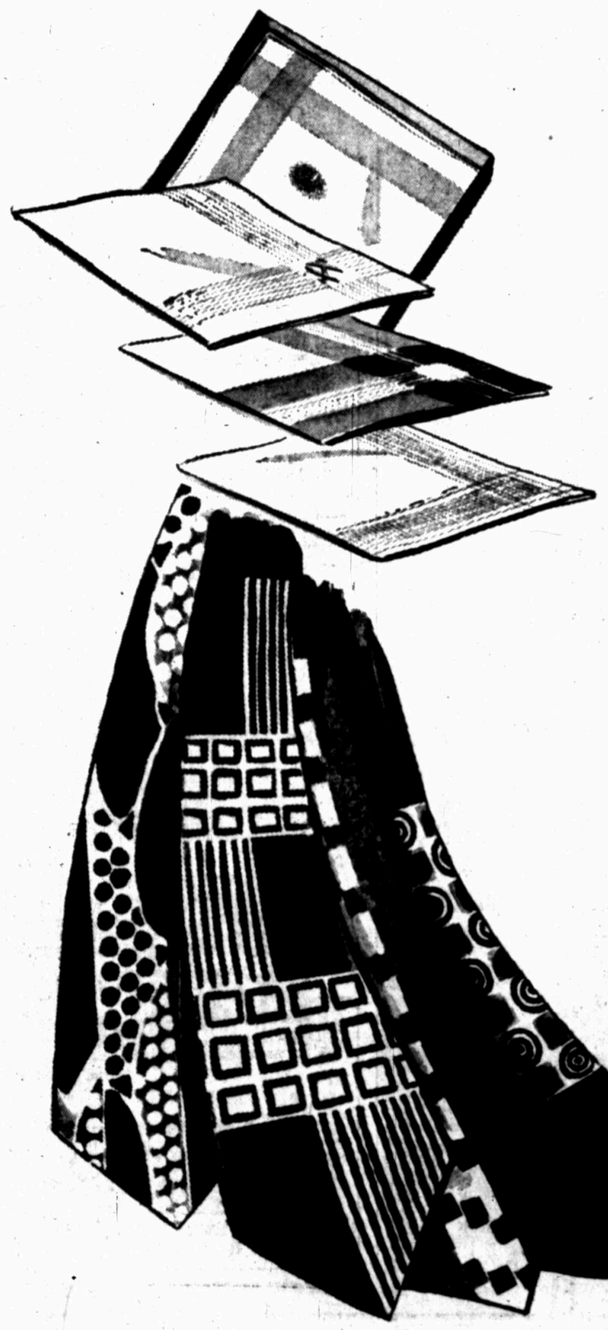

However, the police and merchants alike expressed themselves as willing to cooperate to the fullest, in whatever method is feasible, in efforts to lessen losses to business men and to discourage the wave of burglaries which, according to insurance agents, may make the costs of protective insurance prohibitive.

SIXTEEN ARRESTED

CAIRO, June 3 (AP)—The newspaper Al Misri said today in an Amman dispatch 16 persons have been arrested and accused of signaling with a Very pistol to a Jewish plane which bombed Trans-Jordan's capital Tuesday. The dispatch said all those arrested are Palestine Arabs except one —an Armenian.

Railroad Union Leaders Turn To Congress For Settlement

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 3—Railroad union leaders turned from the White House to Congress today in seeking a solution of their longstanding labor dispute.

With White House settlement attempts broken off, the three union chiefs decided to ask for a congressional investigation into the administration's handling of their wage and other demands.

The heads of the politically-potent unions are Alvanley Johnston of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, David Robertson of the Firemen and Enginemen, and Arthur J. Glover of the switchmen.

All three declined direct comment, but each plainly indicated irritation because the Army has refused to negotiate with them since President Truman's May 11 order seizing control of the nation's rail system.

That order, backed up by a court edict against striking, was obtained on White House orders to head off the nationwide rail walkout that had been set for May 12.

Johnston, Robertson and Glover went to Capitol hill late yesterday. But they failed to find the Senators they sought and so planned to resume their button-holing quest today.

This all developed after the three union chiefs stalked angrily from the White House yesterday, saying presidential assistant John R. Steelman had "failed completely" in his three-week effort to bring the unions and railroads together.

The unions want an improvement on the 1947 wage settlement agreed to by other rail unions. This was a 15½ cent hourly pay boost plus certain working rules changes that also meant more money. The three unions maintain they deserve more because of living cost rises since last year's settlement.

But the rail management has flatly refused to change the pattern fixed for the other unions.

There the situation stands. The Army is maintaining nominal control over the carriers on the President's instructions.

Nothing has been done on the request of 20 rail unions that the government take over complee financial control of the carriers and "take steps" toward nationalizing the system.

Steelman said there will be no attempt to call the parties back to the White House unless some basis of agreement seems evident beforehand.

lean Derby, regarding construction of the cars.

"Study the rule book carefully," Scott warned the boys. "Because several important rule changes will make the 1948 Derby racing cars different. We feel that the new rules will make the cars easier to design and build, and will open the race to a great many more boys than ever entered before.

"The simpler design of body, the accent on safety throughout and the rule that the steering wheel must be above the level of the driver's legs all will tend to make the 1948 racers look more like those of the original soap box variety of nine or ten years ago."

Scott compiled a list of do's and dont's which every youthful entrant in the Derby should consider before designing and building his car.

"Don't try to build the car in a few days. Take your time, study the rules and design a smart car which will be capable of beating the best competition.

"Build your car to fit your body and your weight. If you are in doubt about the weight of the car, weigh parts of it while it is under construction.

"Treat your wheel-and-axle set with care. Be sure your wheels are properly aligned before your test run.

"Don't paint the official wheels. You can and should paint the rest of the car, though, any color you wish.

"Have the car taken to the race course in a truck or on an automobile. Don't tow it behind an automobile."

Horse Meat

horse meat is ground up weekly and sold in sausages such a bologna and weiners.

"Some horse haunches become 'veal' cutlets and the remainder is sold as ground beef."

Bring High Prices

Ordinarily, horse meat labelled as such wholesales at about 8½ cents a pound, he said, while real ground beef brings from 44½ to 51 cents.

"Ground round steak out of horse meat has been selling up to 48 cents under the racket," he said, "and the horse meat 'veal cutlets' have been bringing up to 70 cents."

One witness told the jury yesterday that some first rate restaurants have been paying up to $1.20 a pound for filet mignon which actually was horse meat.

Meanwhile, L. C. Boeker, 39, owner of the B. and C. Meat company, denied a charge by the Houston Press that he had sold horse meat to the public schools for use in school cafeterias.

He blamed the charge on "politics."

"I buy my meat from the most reputable packers," he said. "If I'm getting horse meat, so is everybody else."

Toothless Should Visit Dentist Too

That's the belief of President James H. Maycock of the Massachusetts Dental Society.

"Because the mouth is the source of nourishment through which all food must pass before it is digested, we must be absolutely certain that this part of our anatomy is healthy," he said.

He said twice-a-year examinations would lead to early discovery of any infections or other forms of unhealthy mouth conditions.

Church Action Is Dismissed

Upon motion of plaintiffs, against whom costs were adjudged, the injunctive action of Bethel Temple and others against Rev. Daniel Moreno was dismissed Wednesday afternoon.

Order of dismissal was signed by Judge G. V. Pardue of the 99th district.

The motion, by the temple and Rev. Alejandro Lael of El Paso, described as a district superintendent of the Latin-American Council for Christian Churches, explained that the latest action grew out of a desire "not to do anything that might interfere with religious freedom of any individual or group of individuals."

Temporary Order Granted

Judge Pardue had granted a temporary restraining order upon the plaintiffs' petition last week that Mr. Moreno sought to prevent the plaintiffs from conducting worship in the church, at 223 North Ave. N.

In an answer filed two days later, together with a cross-action, the defendant set out that Mr. Lael had resigned as district superintendent and that the resignation had been accepted by the president of the denomination, in Brownsville. The president intervened and adopted the answer of the defendant Moreno.

In a Saturday show cause hearing citing attendance of the defendant, Judge Pardue declined to modify his order and told the two factions to attempt to adjust their differences. He ordered one faction to meet in the courthouse, the other in the temple until an understanding is reached.

The firm of Smith, Cunningham and Boling represented the temple and Mr. Lael. B. B. Chappell, who became ill at the Saturday hearing and was rushed to a hospital for treatment, was counsel for Mr. Moreno. Chappell's condition was responding to treatment Wednesday, it was learned.

Airline Safety Record Lauded

CHICAGO, June 3 (AP) — Two hundred and eighty thousand times around the globe without a fatal accident.

That, in effect, is the combined safety record compiled by 23 airlines through last year, figures released by the National Safety council showed today. The lines completed more than seven billion passenger miles without a single fatality to a passenger or crew member.

Pan American Honored

A 24th airline — Pan American Airways, Inc. — was honored for completing 1,443,699,000 passenger miles between Aug. 3, 1945 and June 19, 1947, without a fatality.

Fifteen of the 24 winners of the council's 1947 aviation safety awards not only went through 1947 without an accidental death, but completed fatality-free records ranging from two to 18 years.

Other billion mile class winners besides Pan American were American Airlines, Inc., and Northwest Airlines, Inc. American traveled one year and 1,502,499,000 passenger miles since its last fatal accident Dec. 28, 1946. Northwest traveled five years and 1,228,604,000 passenger miles since its last fatal accident May 12, 1942.

Almonds that have been blanched, cut in thin strips and then toasted are an excellent topping for any creamed dish.

Colorado Mountains Now Yielding Peat

DELTA, Colo., June 3. (U.P.)—A new industry is rising from the spongy high-altitude meadows in Colorado's mountains.

It is the harvesting and processing of peat moss, used to hold moisture for dry-land farming and landscape gardening.

From a 65-acre bog two miles above sea level on Grand Mesa in western Colorado the newly-formed American Peat Corp. is scraping the mulch.

Newfoundland Voting Today On Its Own Status In The Future

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., June 3 (AP)—Residents of this rocky island colony, Britain's oldest, vote today to decide Newfoundland's future.

After a hot political campaign which at times reached the intensity of a civil war of words, the voters are called upon to make a choice among three alternatives:

Choice Faced

1. Shall Newfoundland join Canada as that dominion's tenth province?

2. Shall it return to independent status, with responsible government, such as it had before 1934?

3. Shall it remain as is, with a commission form of government under a governor appointed by the British crown?

Still another proposal—economic union with the United States—was injected into the campaign, but it is not on the ballot.

Approximately 170,000 of Newfoundland's 320,000 inhabitants are expected to cast ballots. Joseph Smallwood, leader of the party urging union with Canada, predicted victory with 70 per cent of the total vote. Chesley Crosbie, a campaigner for independence, and Peter Cashin, spokesman for the "as is" group, claimed victory just as flatly.

Clear Majority Needed

To win, a proposal must receive at least 51 per cent of the total vote, a clear majority. In case none does, the top two will be voted on again, in a run off.

The question of economic union with the United States was tossed into the campaign by Crosbie's party. He charged this proposition was left off the ballot deliberately and contends it is Newfoundland's only hope of permanent prosperity. His supporters have been busy circulating pamphlets quoting United States Senators reputed ot favor the union idea.

Campaign Is Bitter

The campaign has been bitter, but there has been no violence. Communities and families have been split on the issues. Mass meetings have been held in every hamlet. The residents have been bombarded with literature, handbills, newspaper advertisements, radio broadcasts.

Newfoundland, which sits at the entrance to the St. Lawrence river, reverted to colonial status, from independence, in 1934 when it found itself unable to make ends meet financially. The crown-appointed governor and commission sat as a sort of bankruptcy administration. The island had a debt of nearly $100,000,000.

War, and the establishment of the big American bases at St. John's Argentia and Stephenville, helped restore prosperity. By prearrangement, Britain then agreed to the vote on the future.

JUST A FEW BEERS, JUDGE

GREEN LAKE, Wis. (AP)—Leo D. Pischke, Princeton, couldn't understand why he was fined $75 for drunken driving. He told Justice F. C. Kradwell he had drunk only 40 of the 48 bottles of beer he bought during the day.

Many Qualify For Sinner's Service

SHIRLEY, Mass., June 3. (U.P.)—The Rev. A. Ray Meserve has found a new way to insure a full attendance at Sunday services at the United Church.

He posted this notice:

"The service to be held in this church next Sunday will be for sinners only. Saints and righteous are requested to stay away."

Judge Likes Idea Of Indian Reservation

DETROIT, June 3. (U.P.) — The power of suggestion can be strong.

Recorder's Judge Paul Krause fined an Algonquin Indian for breaking and entering. He then put him on two years' probation and asked him if he thought he could stay out of trouble that long.

"Judge," the grateful Indian said, "I know I can, because I'm going back to the reservation near Ottawa, to hunt, fish and lie in the sun."

With a faraway look in his eye, his honor loosened his collar and arose.

"I am going off the reservation," he announced. "I am going up north to lie around and fish."

Unusual Height Has Good, Bad Points

LOS ANGELES, June 3 (INS)—Attorney Clifford M. Thompson, who speaks from an altitude of 8 feet, seven inches, lists his height vantage in this manner:

"I can be late to a parade and still see it.

"I so fascinated my prospects during five years as a salesman that I got 90 per cent of the orders I went after.

"It gave me a good living with a circus for 13 years.

Disadvantages:

"Trying to cram into a Pullman berth, although I have learned how to sleep z-shaped . . .

Thompson, a guest at a lawyers club luncheon, can pass a half-dollar through his ring. He tells persons he has met:

"It is very nice to be an man everybody looks up to."

A few anchovies cut into a tossed green salad give excellent flavor. Hard-cooked egg, cut in rings, is also a good addition.

"For a long time I have had occasional billious spells. My head would hurt and I would vomit my food. My last spell was very severe and I just thought I would die. My appetite was poor and I couldn't sleep at night. I was so troubled with my limbs stiffening just before I would have a spell of gas and bloat. I would be dizzy and I would have a severe headache. Man And Wife Suing Doctor As Sterilization Operation Fails

NEW YORK, June 3. (AP)—A man and wife are suing a doctor for $100,000, charging that a sterilization operation on the husband failed to work and that persons who knew it had been performed suspected the wife of adultery when a child was born.

The Ellenville, N. Y., couple, Jack Berman, 38, and his wife, Esther, contend in their state supreme court action that failure of the operation had caused them "humiliation, shame and disgrace."

On behalf of Mrs. Berman, the suit, filed yesterday, stated:

"Members of the family who were informed and believed that my husband had become sterile as a result of the operation, believed that my child was illegitimate and born out of wedlock, and that I had been guilty of adultery."

The Bermans charged that Dr. Emanuel Donheiser, Manhattan physician, was "careless and negligent" in performing the operation.

The action related that Berman went to Dr. Donheiser after the couple's family physician advised Mrs. Berman that it was of "the utmost importance to my well-being that I should not again become pregnant," because "my life and mental stability would be endangered."

Surgery Was Performed

Surgery was performed on Oct. 26, 1945, the suit set forth, adding that "afterwards we were advised that it was entirely safe for us to engage in intercourse, and that under no circumstances could I become pregnant."

On Oct. 9, 1946, a daughter, Iris, was born to Mrs. Berman and as a result she "sustained serious and permanent injuries, and suffered excruciating pain and agony," the suit held.

Dr. Donheiser filed a general denial except to say that "I did perform an operation on the duct of plaintiff, Jack Berman, in order to effect sterilization."

Widow Faces Murder Charge In Knifing

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 3. (AP)—The socially prominent widow of a wealthy paper company executive today faced a charge of murder in connection with his death.

Walter Blackford, 61, sales manager for the Strathmore Paper Co., was killed with a carving knife, police said, as he lay helpless in bed—the victim of paralysis caused by a shock a month ago.

Police Chief George A. Yardsley said the murder charge was filed against his 55-year-old widow after he and state police Lt. Richard Cotter questioned Mrs. Blackford for two hours last night.

Shortly after Blackford's body was found in the couple's Longmeadow home Tuesday, Mrs. Blackford was discovered lying beneath an automobile in the family garage. She was unconscious from carbon monoxide fumes.

Blackford, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., was formerly associated with the New York publishing firm of Doubleday-Doran. Mrs. Blackford is the former Mary Bowen of Atlanta, Ga.

Girl Tells Of Killing Lover

PITTSBURGH, June 3. (INS)—A carnival "electric girl" walked into a Pittsburgh police station today and tearfully told a story of having killed her childhood sweetheart because he forced her to aid him in a holdup.

Police quoted Ethel Wooding, 21, Winthrop, Mass., as saying she fatally shot Gilbert A. Taylor, 24, also of Winthrop, on May 25 on a lonely highway near Middlesboro, Ky.

(Middlesboro Police Chief Guy Harrell said a search of the area revealed no body. He added, however, that the area is "remote and tough" and "there are many places where a body could have been left and not found.")

Hold Up Store

Miss Wooding told police that after the pair held up a Winthrop department store they joined a carnival in which he worked as a roustabout and she in a sideshow "electric act" in which a performer shot 220 volts of electricity through her body.

The girl, attired in blue jeans, sweater, sandal shoes and green raincoat, said the fatal shooting stemmed from a final quarrel in which she tried to return home and Taylor opposed her.

Mrs. Ernest Wooding, mother of the girl, told authorities in Winthrop that her daughter was "kidnapped" from her home. She also expressed doubt that Taylor is dead. She added:

"I think Taylor terrorized her into telling this story because he knew the FBI wanted him for questioning about the kidnapping. But if he is dead, he deserved to die."

Airplane Designers Win Stalin Awards

MOSCOW, June 3 (AP)—Four of 10 Stalin prizes of 150,000 rubles (about $30,000) went today to designers of new types of military planes.

Another went to a designer of a new type of airplane wings. Sharing in the awards were the Soviet Union's big four of airplane creation—Lavochkin, Mikoyan, Tupolev and Yakovlev.

Big Policemen Are Demanded By Chief

DETROIT, June 3. (AP)—Police Chief Ralph B. Guy of suburban Dearborn has decreed that all future policemen must be at least six feet tall, with "commensurate weight" and have at least two years of college.

Guy, who stands five-feet-eight, said the Dearborn force has "too many undersized men, both mentally and physically."

Prio Is Named Cuba's Leader

HAVANA, Cuba, June 3 (AP)—Senator Carlos Prio Socarras, 44, government candidate and anti-Communist, is the officially declared president-elect of Cuba. He will take office Oct. 10.

Official declaration of his victory came last night from the superior electoral tribunal. Prio's election was conceded by his leading rival, Dr. Ricardo Nunez Portuondo.

The tribunal's tabulation of returns from 6,768 of 7,730 precints in Tuesday's election gave:

Returns Listed

Prio (Authentic - Republican alliance 815,184; Nunez (Liberal-Senator Eduardo Chibas (Peoples party) 293,152; Senator Juan Marinello (Communist) 129,671.

Reports from Pinar del Rio said Manuel Benitez Valdes of the liberal party was elected to the house of representatives, he now is living in exile in Miami, Fla.

Prio's stated program is based upon two main points:

(1) Going ahead with Cuba's big public works program, with the nation doing its own financing.

(2) Getting new industries under way through foreign investment, which to a large extent would be from the United States.

Returns Incomplete

"It is my purpose to continue our present very friendly relations with the United States, as well as all other nations of the continent, and improve them if possible," Prio told a recent news conference.

Official returns on other contests are not expected for several days. These contests were for vice president, six provincial governors, 54 senators and 70 representatives.

Gunman Takes Part Of Victim's Clothes

CHICAGO, June 3 (AP) — A chiseling gunman stripped a truck driver of part of his clothing yesterday after stealing $250 from the safe in his truck.

Arthur L. Fuller told police the robber who held him up as he was delivering parcels ordered him into the rear of the truck. He took a chisel and hammer from the toolbox, broke open the truck's safe and stole $250.

Then he forced Fuller to remove his pants and shorts. He took them, too.

Priest Is Skilled In Various Trades

RUTLAND, Ill., June 3 (AP)—Residents of this LeSalle county community call upon the Rev. Lyle F. Sheen for many things besides spiritual guidance.

Father Sheen, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic church, also is an expert on carpentry, cabinet work, electrical wiring, plumbing, and masonry.

He also plays a violin which he made himself, paints in oil and pursues a minor hobby, photography.

One of his greatest contributions is building of altars in his own church and in churches in several other cities.

Woodworking is his greatest hobby. He has constructed hundreds of lamps, crosses, candlesticks and wall shrines for churches, chapels and homes. He has a completely equipped shop in the basement of the rectory.

"A man with patience and strong hands can learn a lot of things," Father Sheen comments.

Allis-Chalmers Vote Won By AFL Union

MILWAUKEE, June 3 (AP) — Bargaining rights for Allis-Chalmers production workers apparently were on their way back into the hands of the CIO United Auto Workers' turbulent local 248 today.

A count of 62 bargaining election ballots — challenged after the vote last July 17 — gave six of the disputed votes to local 248 yesterday. The six raised the local's total to 3,675 out of the 7,344 valid ballots cast at the election, two more than the majority required.

All that remains now is official certification by the NLRB in Washington.

A series of court actions had delayed the count of the challenged ballots. The way was cleared after the international UAW took over the administration of local 248 and suspended the local officers who led the violent 10-month Allis-Chalmers strike which ended last year without winning any concessions from the company.

The count of challenged ballots gave a total of 1,946 votes to the now-disbanded independent workers of Allis Chalmers, founded by workers who returned to their jobs during the strike and 1,638 to the AFL United Auto Workers. A total of 85 ballots were cast for no union.

Many Never Suspect Cause of Backaches

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"Beautiful Beautiful Beauford" Jester, the parade leader, has been turning so many convicts out of the pen by way of the pardon and parole route that they've resurrected an old story that used to be told during the days when "Ma" and "Jim" Ferguson left the prison gates open most of the time.

As the story goes, "Beautiful Beauford" was visiting the Huntsville penitentiary when a prisoner accidently bumped into him.

"Pardon me, governor," said the prisoner, politely.

"Beautiful Beauford" whipped out his note book and pencil.

"Why, certainly," he said. "What are you in for?"

HERE AND THERE: According to the Southwest edition of the Wall Street Journal, now published daily in Dallas, spot checks over the country show night club business off from 20 to 30 percent. Similar drops have been noted in other entertainment fields. But the reason is not that people are "broke." It's because they now can buy a lot of things like refrigerators, washing machines, electrical appliances, etc., that they couldn't get during the war years and the immediate post-war era . . . Close observers of the business scene are agreed that the current and threatened rash of strikes will not be generally sucessful and that workers will lose more than they'll gain . . . Look for more water to be squeezed out of real estate in the older, more settled cities and, to some extent, throughout the U. S. except in boom localities.

SOME of our mail, and some of our phone calls, too, over the past several days have expressed surprise, or interest, or both, over The Avalanche-Journal's espousal of Lyndon Johnson for the U. S. Senate.

The surprise has been occasioned, of course, over the fact that Lubbock newspapers were strong supporters of Coke Stevenson while he was governor and because of general knowledge hereabouts of our personal friendship with the former governor.

We thought we fully explained our support of Mr. Johnson's candidacy by giving numerous reasons why we consider him the best man available for the senatorial post this Summer.

We are for his election purely and simply because we think he is the best man, and for no other reason, although we have been personally friendly with Mr Johnson for years, as we have been personally friendly with Mr. Stevenson, too.

In addition to our firm belief that Mr. Johnson will make a better senator than Mr. Stevenson — and for a much longer period, because the difference in their ages — there are two other reasons for our belief that Mr. Stevenson has forfeited political support on the part of South Plainsmen.

In the first place, while as governor he gave much lip service to legislative redistricting, he never did anything about it — although he was in better position to do something than any governor since Pat Neff, who did do something about it.

And in the second place, Mr. Stevenson has publicly stated that he does not favor sharing the multi-million dollar proceeds of state-owned oil lands with any state schools other than the University of Texas and Texas A&M.

AS governor, Mr. Stevenson could have called a special session of the legislature to redistrict this state legislatively—as demanded by the law and the Constitution—and could have held the legislators on the job until they did so. Pat Neff did that more than two decades ago — the last time the state had any redistricting.

But Mr. Stevenson didn't do it. He talked for redictricting, but he didn't act for it. Hence West Texas — long illegally discriminated against legislatively by selfish interests — got no more actual consideration from Mr. Stevenson than from any other governor since Pat Neff.

Since this is the case, and also since Mr. Stevenson is on record in favor of continuation of the program under which millions of dollars worth of West Texas oil goes only to two of the state-owned colleges, we feel that no one in this section owes Mr. Stevenson any further political support.

Mr. Stevenson is a good man.

But as we see the over-all picture, for the U. S. Senate Mr. Johnson is a better man. Certainly his record for getting things done makes him much more desirable than Mr. Stevenson, whose chief claim to political glory is his well-earned reputation for "sitting tight", and "letting things work themselves out."

The type of service rendered by Mr. Stevenson as governor, while desirable at that time, is not the type of service Texas needs in the U. S. Senate.

In the Senate, we need an active, energetic "doer," which not even Mr. Johnson's enemies can deny that he has been during 11 years in Congress.

HENRY WALLACE has come up with a new technique in Presidential campaigning. It is the "off-the-record" speech, made only to those who pay $10 a head for the opportunity.

He used this technique in Hollywood the other night, giving rise to the question of what a Presidential candidate might have to say to as many as 450 people that should be withheld from the other 140,000,000 Americans Wallace seeks to represent in the White House. Since the press was barred, it also gives rise to the question of who the 450 people were, and what their political views might be.

Henry Wallace's Communist and extreme leftwing support, plus the fact that he spoke "off the record" in a city which harbors many Reds, may be the answer to why the technique was used.

Incidentally, we have a suggestion for a symbol for the Wallace party — something like the Democratic donkey and the Republican elephant.

Why not have a squirrel, looking at a cheap watch?

That symbol would bring out the "nuts" in the third party, and also stress the general opinion that it's as screwy as a $2 watch!

BY DREW PEARSON: SITUATION IN LOUISIANA REMINISCENT OF HUEY LONG'S DAYS

GOP Row Over Lewis Nearly Passed Education Bill

WASHINGTON — In the minds of most people, the thorny problem of John L. Lewis is far removed from the problem of American education. Yet, through no fault of his, Lewis got into the middle of the battle over federal aid to education. In fact, he nearly did the teachers a good turn.

PEARSON

Here is the inside story of what happened.

The chief, through secret, opponents of the federal aid - to - education bill are Speaker Joe Martin and G. O. P. Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana. They have decided that this $300,000,000 grant to the nation's schools is not going to pass this session, even though it has already passed the Senate and with the backing of such Republican leaders as Senator Taft.

However, since it isn't politically popular to oppose education, especially with the nation's schools in their present condition, Speaker Martin and Halleck have passed the buck to Congressman Fred Hartley of New Jersey, chairman of the education and labor committee.

Hartley isn't running for re-election, while Martin has presidential ambitions, and, secretly, so has Charles Halleck. Thus it has been more convenient to let Hartley take the rap for blocking education, and it was announced that he was holding up the Senate bill in his committee.

This worked well until John L. Lewis went on a coal-strike rampage recently, causing Hartley to introduce a bill pinning Lewis' ears back. Simultaneously Speaker Martin stepped in, pulled some fast footwork with Lewis, and helped to settle the strike.

This infuriated Hartley. There is no man in public life whom he admires less than John L. Lewis and, as a result of Speaker Martin's intervention, Hartley's anti-Lewis law became unnecessary.

So, out of spite, Hartley threatened to report the aid-to-education bill out of his education committee. This, he figured, was a good way of getting even with with Martin.

In the end, the Speaker persuaded Hartley he had been working too hard, got him to take a six-week vacation. He did.

Hartley has now come back, meekly willing to cooperate with Republican leaders in playing politics with the nation's schools. Unless the teachers find some real political dynamite, the education bill will not be passed at this session.

Note—Meanwhile literacy in the U. S. A. has sunk to the same point as in Russia. Proportionately, far more Japanese can read and write than can Americans.

Nebraska Democrats are hopping mad at President Truman for assigning his old pal, insurance executive Ed McKim, to handle the presidential visit in Nebraska next week. It's a repetition of what happened with Army-Navy contracts during the recent hostilities.

THE House ways and means committee really is ringing the cash register for upper-bracket taxpayers. Not content with reducing gift and inheritance taxes, the committee now is going to the rescue of corporations in a bill revising social security taxes.

Highlights of the bill, prepared by G. O. P. Representative Dan Reed of New York, is a definition of "employee" based on the 18th century British "master-servant" principle. Reed defines an employee as "on over whom an employer exercises such control as to make him an employee at common law."

Anyone outside this category cannot go on Social Security rolls. This automatically excludes salesmen and other semi-independent jobholders who work on commissions. More important, it relieves corporations employing them, such as insurance companies, of the burden of Social Security taxes.

To offset this big loophole, the Reed bill adds two minor employee groups to the rolls—members of charitable and other non-profit organizations and employees of state, local and county governments. However, such employees can be enrolled only on a voluntary basis.

Approximately 20,000,000 workers now are barred from Social Security benefits. An advisory council of experts headed by ex-Secretary of State Edward Stettinius recently recommended coverage for many of these ineligibles, including farm workers, domestic servants, the self-employed, the armed forces, civil servants railroad workers and others.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce also has gone on record for liberal revisions of the law and the Republican party itself pledged Social Security improvements in its 1944 platform. However, Congressman Reed and his G. O. P. colleagues apparently consider this pledge "campaign oratory."

He'd Admired Hitler

In the past, the ambassadorship to Egypt has not been considered a lush diplomatic plum. It's significant, therefore, that a strong pro-Arab friend of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, Stanton Griffis, is being switched from ambassador to Poland to ambassador to Egypt.

Before Pearl Harbor, Griffis made a remark at the New York home of Dr. Foster Kennedy to the effect that Hitler was one of the great men of the world. The remark created such a furor that Griffis was asked to leave the Kennedy home.

Later when Griffis was appointed ambassador to Poland, Dr. Kennedy came to Washington to testify against him before Sen. Arthur Vandenberg's foreign relations committee. Despite this, Vandenberg put through the confirmation, perhaps because Griffis had the vigorous support of a fellow investment banker, Secretary Forrestal.

Naturally, the Poles, whose territory Hitler first invaded, weren't pleased at having a Hitler-admirer as their ambassador. So Griffis, bored with Poland, first angled to become ambassador to England, now has settled for Egypt. Pro-Arab Secretary Forrestal wants a pro-Arab ambassador in the country now spearheading the drive against Palestine.

South Sees Truman's Program As Step Toward Police State

WASHINGTON—On every political front, in Congress and out, the issue finally gets down to how power is to be exercised under the American form of government. We are facing the fact that, with responsibility divided between the states and the federal government, there are gaping holes in which no authority can function.

CHILDS

The absence of any government — anarchy — may be in theory a highly desirable condition.

What is more, change will come in the yeasty time in which we are living. It will come through the processes of Democracy, or it will come in ways that can only be harmful and destructive to what we cherish most.

These thoughts are stirred by an editorial in the Mobile, Ala., Press. The editorial agrees that there is a threat to freedom in recent proposals to curb information and thought. True, says the editorial, this is the "shadow of the police state."

But it goes on to stay that President Truman's civil-rights program is likewise the shadow of a coercive state. The language used is strong:

"One particularly alarming measure endorsed by the President is the FEPC bill. That shadow of the police state grows even darker when one studies carefully this measure, which would create a dictatorial agency that could destroy the constitutional rights of citizens. This bureaucratic agency could tell an employer whom he could hire or not hire. It could dictate to unions as to membership, forcing them to admit persons they did not want.

Army Of Spies

"The FEPC measure would set up an army of spies traveling throughout the United States. Operatives of this Gestapo-like agency would have the power to act as complainant, prosecutor, judge and jury. The FEPC is a step toward the destruction of free enterprise."

Political demagogy and expediency to one side, here is the root of the southern revolt against the Truman proposals. It is in the profound fear of coercion—of having an alien way of life imposed by force which would shatter a pattern cherished with blood and tears.

This feeling is deep and real and it cannot be brushed aside as mere rhetoric. If any proof were needed, it is in the reaction of southern liberals such as Hodding Carter of Greenville, Miss., who have considered themselves New Dealers. They cannot accept the imposition of the civil-rights program by the federal government.

Visiting the South even briefly, you realize that southerners are acutely aware of what the rest of the country may be thinking. They want to believe that their way of life is good, is workable and is capable of change. What is more, they want the visitor to believe it. They tell him of changes—of how negro members of northern football teams came to the South and played with their teams against the all-white teams of the south.

To the northerner, who brings his own prejudices with him, these changes are likely to seem very small gains indeed. He may argue that, if progress in granting equal opportunity is to be so slow, then the rest of the country will begin to believe the President's program may be necessary.

HERE, in my opinion, is the weakness of the South's position. Granted that their problem is of a kind and a magnitude which the northerner cannot comprehend. Granted that their fear of coercion and the police state comes out of a belief in freedom and in the rights of the individual that is perhaps deeper than in any other part of the country.

Yet the fact remains that the South has not used the powers of the states to channel the process of change. Consider what might have been the reaction to the president's proposals. Instead of political conventions devoted to ways and means of resisting Mr. Truman personally, the South might have held a convention to study how opportunity might be equalized within the framework of states' rights and the pattern of southern conduct. Such a meeting would have made a deep impres-

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

WOMEN who marry acquire a masculine attitude, according to recent studies in masculinity and femininity.

And why wouldn't they? Before marriage a man thinks it is mighty cute for a girl to be femininely dependent on his superior intelligence, strength, and judgment.

MILLETT

After marriage she's on her own. And what she doesn't do for herself, very likely doesn't get done.

Before marriage a man will jump to wait on a girl, but after marriage his favorite phrase is probably, "Honey while you're up would you mind getting so-and-so for me."

CHANGES HIS TUNE

BEFORE marriage a man will wait patiently on a girl for an hour while she makes herself beautiful to please him. After marriage he wants her to be ready to go anywhere, any time. If she protests that she has to change her dress or fix her face he tells her she looks okay—and if she's going, to come along as is.

Sure, women get more masculine after marriage. Men pick them for their femininity and then groan every time they show a typically feminine reaction: "Well, if that isn't just like a woman!"

Today's Thought

All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous, and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.—Ecclesiastes 9:2.

DON'T WORRY, BOYS, DON'T WORRY!

The intelligence of the American housewife, who does about 99 per cent of the food shopping in this country, is insulted by those who imply she might be deceived into buying oleomargarine when she actually wanted butter if present federal taxes on oleo are repealed.

Those who advance the argument, in a despairing attempt to block the repeal, conveniently ignore that the law requires packages of all foods—including butter and oleo—to be clearly branded. The butter lobby implies the shopper would be too careless, or too stupid, to make sure of what she was buying before she bought. Actually, there is about as much chance of a typical housewife buying a package of oleo when she wants butter as there is of her picking up a can of peas when she really wants corn.

As any manufacturer, retailer, or other observer, can attest, the typical housewife really reads the brand names, and the price tags when she shops. That probably is what the butter lobby fears. They apparently don't like the thought of what may happen when thrifty Mrs. Shopper compares the price tags on butter with those on the also wholesome oleo. The indications are that butter, at present prices, simply won't be able to stand the competition.

"Try And Stop Me"

DURING the spring training period of the New York Giants, Manager Mel Ott wandered into a Phoenix juke-joint for a cold coke. A character at the bar ordered a beer, seized it from the bartender's hands, and downed it at a single gulp.

When he consumed three more with the same lightning-like rapidity, Ott asked him, "wouldn't it taste better if you lingered over it a bit longer?" "Probably," admitted the character, "but I guess I been drinking it this way ever since my accident." "What happened to you?" asked Ott. "It was gruesome," said the character. "I had a beer knocked over."

Two facts tend to becloud the passionate belief of the honest southerner in freedom and in the rights of the separate states and the individual man. One is that some southern interests seem determined to keep a lower wage differential based mainly on the negro for economic gain.

The other and more damaging fact is that so many southern representatives in Congress seem always ready to vote for the measures that repress and coerce those whom they do not like. You cannot claim rights and freedoms for yourself that you constantly seek to deny to others.

STRIKE IS ENDED

BERLIN, June 3 (AP)—Berlin's transport was back to normal today after a 24-hour protest strike on trolley, subway and bus lines. The Transport Workers' Union said it hoped for quick approval by the four-power Allied headquarters of demands for more pay and more food.

"Sheriff's Posse" Is Formed In City

A small group of enthusiastic horse lovers met last night in the county courthouse and organized the Lubbock County Sheriff's Posse, a "civic club on horseback" with the added duty of coming to the aid of the sheriff's department when called in any emergency.

Grady Harrist, as sheriff of Lubbock county, was named president of the organization, but the actual administrative activities of the Posse were placed in the hands of V. T. (Bud) Brady, T. B. Simmons, jr., and Bill Pendley, who were elected temporarily as first vice president, second vice president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

Dues Are Set

A $25 initiation fee and monthly dues of $5 were voted as monetary stipulations for membership in the organization, which is to have limited membership. Maximum membership, however, was not set at the meeting.

The Posse voted also that limitations on the type of horses preferred by members should not be a point in accepting or rejecting those desiring to join the organization. Men owning quarterhorses, gaited horses and polo ponies were present at last night's meeting and accepted as charter members.

The Posse agreed to hold the first regularly called meeting next Monday night at 8 o'clock in the courthouse, an effort being made to get the group sufficiently organized to take part in the ABC rodeo parade scheduled next Wednesday.

Safety Expert Talks Himself Into Ticket

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 4. (U.P.) —Fred Berghoff, chairman of the board of safety, had big business to talk over with Mayor Henry E. Branning.

Their traffic conference lasted long because they took so much time discussing the problem of overtime parking.

When Berghoff got back to his car he discovered that he had a ticket—for overtime parking.

Soviet-Controlled Newspaper Answers Six-Nation Decision

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, June 3.—The Neues Deutchland, official newspaper of the Communist controlled Socialist Unity party, said today the western powers' position in Berlin has become untenable because of decisions of the London six-nation conference.

The newspaper's comment came the day after Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet commander in Germany, said the conference's decisions for a western German state "contradict the interests of the peace-loving nations of Europe as well as the interests of the German people."

Support Unity

Sokolovsky also said Russia has no intention of separating her occupation zone from the rest of Germany or of joining the zone to the Soviet Union. He said she "supports all German efforts which have the reuniting of Germany as their aim."

Representatives of Britain, France, the United States, Belgium, Holland, the Netherlands and Luxembourg adjourned yesterday after reaching agreements on western Germany's future status. The decisions have yet to be approved by the governments concerned.

Neues Deutschland and other Communist newspapers have been campaigning for months to get British, French and American occupation forces out of Berlin. The paper said:

Give Up Position

"By the decisions of London, the erection of a western German state and establishment of currency reform for western Germany with the exculsion of Berlin, they have given up their positions in Berlin themselves. How long do they want to stay yet?"

The newspaper said the Americans in Berlin are sitting on a "very wobbly chair," having "sawed off one leg after another."

Sokolovsky's statements were distributed by the Soviet news agency Tass. He said reports of an "Anschluss" of eastern Germany with Russia are "senseless and slanderous."

False Pretense Claimed

"The enemies of Democracy, who feel their weakness, take refuge in lies, hypocricy and false pretense to cover the true character of their dividing policy.

"I will not be surprised if the dividers begin to prove that they have divided Germany in order to unite or that formation of an all-German Democratic government is unnecessary because a west German marionette government already exists."
