173 STUDENTS TO GRADUATE FROM LUBBOCK HIGH THIS YEAR

LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY OF CITY TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS NEXT WEEK AND BID FAREWELL TO HAPPY SCHOOL DAYS

Closing their preparatory schooling and preliminary life's training which has occupied most of their life since they crawled from the cradle, 173 students of the Lubbock school will bid their public school adieu next Wednesday as they step forth to receive their diplomas which will enable them to go further into the infinite source of knowledge. By far the largest group ever to complete the work of the city system, the class is a credit to any city many times larger than Lubbock.

Some Started Here
Under the able guidance of the faculty of the school from year to year, a large number of the graduates have completed their entire school work in the schools of Lubbock. Going back to the days of the old White Ward building which was moved from the northern part of town to the present site of the central Ward, we find that numbers of the present class used to toddle over the rocks of the grounds for their first paper search of knowledge.

ANNUAL PAID FOR WITH LITTLE HELP

Publications at the high school have received a wealth of support from the members of the graduating class and as the year's work is brought to a close we find their annual book, which reflects the activities and life of the school, completely paid for and ready for distribution without an iota of advertising from business firms. This is an accomplishment and one that is deserving of much praise.

BAND LOSES TEN BY GRADUATION

A baton swings in the air and forty instruments sound out an enthusiastic salute to the Lubbock High school's senior band, fiscal representative of the Chamber of Commerce, and pride of the city.

PIECE MUSICAL ORGANIZATION RECOGNIZED AS ONE OF WEST TEXAS BEST

Ten graduates will leave the band in year with the help of a thorough musical education laid after having entered in events which include concerts at Aggar, Loveland, and other points, officiating at parties and local programs, and participating in the Wichita Falls and contest. Last year at Amarillo they won second place in the state contest.

Those graduating from this group are Eugene Aggar, Alfred Adkinson, Harry Deane, Cecil Clinton Collins, Guy Collins, George Eaton, Monte Hall, Culver Hill, Homer Maxey and Earl H. Turner.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO START FRIDAY WITH EXHIBITS AT VARIOUS BUILDINGS

Closing exercises for the Lubbock public school system, centering around the graduation of 173 boys and girls of the senior class, will be started here next Friday when school exhibits showing work done in the several buildings and departments will be held at the various buildings, and next Sunday morning the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered to the senior class by Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church in the auditorium of the First Methodist church.

CLASS PRESIDENT IS VERY ACTIVE

Homer Hardberger Leads His Classmates Well in Varied Program of Activity

Although he entered the Lubbock schools at mid-term during his junior year, Homer Hardberger was prominent enough in school activities to be elected class president for this year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hardberger, 1921 13th street.

TWO SELECTED AS CLASS FAVORITES

LAWRENCE GREEN AND MAN- CIE HALL TIE IN CONTEST IN SENIOR CLASS

A constant friendship and teamwork in all class activities won for Lawrence Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Green, 2121-10th street, and Mancie Hall, son of Mrs. Christine Hall, 1614 Avenue K, the distinction of tie vote among the class members in a favorite contest and the year book has recorded each of them as the most popular boy.

SPONSORS LEAD IN MUCH ACTIVITY

MISS EULA HURST AND M. E. WITT LEAD CLASS ON MANY OCCASIONS

With the guiding hand of their sponsor, Miss Eula J. Hurst, head of the English department, and M. E. Witt, head of the science department, offering direction where it was needed, the energy and enthusiasm of the class of 1927, Lubbock high school seniors, has carried them through a group of class activities and student undertakings attempted by few groups.

An Ideal Achieved

Four years of your life have been consumed in preparing for Graduation Day. Four years of concentrated effort and study—four years in preparation to take your place in the social and industrial organizations of the community in which you reside. It is four years well spent if through reason of the training you have received, you apply yourself to the problems which will confront you in the same manner as you have solved the problems of the classroom. Lubbock is proud of you—and as a Lubbock institution we share in that pride.

A LUBBOCK INSTITUTION

Jarett's Fashion Shop, as a Lubbock institution is the product of consistent growth, built upon the ideal of service to the customers which enter its doors. It lays no claim to being either a cheap store or a high priced store, for it is an organization that recognizes the fact that its growth and future success comes from individuals in all walks of life of which Lubbock is compound—which makes an ideal community in which to live, for it offers greater opportunity for service. It is a store which at all times will feature style, quality and value.

EIGHT DILIGENT ATHLETES LOST TO LUBBOCK HI THROUGH GRADUATION LEAVING HOLES IN SEVERAL TEAMS

Eight of the mighty Westerners will be taken from the high school roster and their names will be recorded in the athletic annals of the Lubbock high school as competent, diligent and ardent athletes in their various fields of sports. These young and scintillating athletes will be useful to the schools, colleges, and universities that will be their desire to attend in the continuance for a higher and broader education as they are both diligent in their work in the classroom and on the athletic field. The following Westerners have reached the climax of studies in the high school and will finish with the commencement exercises next week: John Garland, Cyrus Leland, Maurice Powell, Orville Brothers, Huberne Freeland, Rupert Hays and Emory Ing.

Two Ex-Captains Included

Two former captains are included in the eight graduates. Orville Brothers, captain of the 1924 football club, and Rupert Hays, captain of the Westerner citizens of this season.

Orville Brothers, better known as "Buddy," scored two seasons with the Arizona machines of the local school and for three seasons a member of the Westerner basketball club. At Long Beach, Tex., "Buddy" always found competency in "Buddy" and in numerous games the lad was called back to kick. At center field in baseball the lad was a shining star in that he fielded and threw with only one arm. Brothers has chosen Texas university as his field for higher and better education and should the campus' most popular senior continue his stride in baseball he will no doubt be counted with Uncle Billy Dison's Texas Longhorn Southwestern Conference champions.

Hays Was Bulwark

Rupert Hays, captain of the 1927 basketball quintet, will be a big loss to next season's eager outfit as he was always the pillar of the Westerner five and had complete control and management of the crew as they worked on the floor. For three years Hays was a member of the Westerner basketball team, and for the three seasons was chosen as one of the all-around basketball players of the district. Hays is able to run a club with absolute coolness, dribbles above the average high school performer, and his sure shooter on the hoops. Rupert states that he will likely join the Malador forces of Texas Tech next fall and try his hand with the Higginbotham eager crew.

Leland Three-Letter Man

Cyrus Leland, a three letter man of the Westerners, is a member of the 1927 class and his work in football, basketball, and track, will be missed by the Westerner teams. Leland was one of the fastest half-backs in the Panhandle in 1926 and gained considerable yardage for the high school grid machine. In basketball Leland was used as a utility man filling both the center and guard positions. For two seasons Cyrus was a member of "Pinky" Lowrey's track team and during his time as a member of the Westerner track aggregation he took part in the Texas Interscholastic League meet at Austin two years, and in the Oklahoma university relays, at Norman, this season. Leland was a dash man and entered in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. He was a consistent 1:17 second man in the 100 and paced the 220 in 2:24 consistently.

Maurice Powell

Maurice Powell lettered this year in football as regular quarter-back.

EUGENE ADAIR IS GRADUATE AT 14 CARRIES STUDIES IN ADDITION TO OTHER ACTIVITIES AND PROMINENT BAND PART

A graduate at fourteen—this is the record of Eugene Adair, Lubbock high school youth, who stands as a marked example of the efficiency of modern educational methods in giving youth the maximum amount of advantages in securing an education.

Carried Six Credits

Taking an active role in student affairs and playing a part in the band, Adair has found time to carry six credits this year and has done so with such good results that his average for all his high school career stands at ninety and one-eighth in all studies. He has completed high school in three years time, this year taking biology, American history, plane geometry, higher arithmetic and two English courses.

The graduate age of the average student has been steadily reduced in the past few years, according to the records of R. W. Matthews, principal of the high school.

Figures On Graduation

Figures compiled by Mr. Matthews show that out of the one hundred and seventy some-odd students in school of the boys, one will graduate at the age of 14, one at the age of 15, six at the age of 16, twenty-two at the age of 17, twenty-two at the age of 18, four at the age of 19, six at the age of 20 and one at the age of 21.

Of the girls, one will graduate at 15, seventeen at the age of 16, forty-five at the age of 17, thirty-four at the age of 18, eight at the age of 19, two at the age of 20 and one in the classification of 21 or over.

While the aim of the school is not to mill the students out in the most hurried manner, it does strive to furnish the student with every opportunity to advance himself and complete the maximum amount of work in a given time, and the graduation of young students is usually the result of a great deal of earnest effort, Mr. Matthews explained.

SCHOOL BOARD IS MEETING PROBLEMS FOUNDATION OF SYSTEM IS CREDITED TO M. M. DUPRE WHO DIED IN OFFICE

Thirteen years ago the board of trustees of the Lubbock Public Schools chose M. M. Dupre to superintend all grades of the school system, then housed in an eight room frame building and one brick school building, now known as the Central Ward school.

During the superintendency of Mr. Dupre, eight brick buildings were erected for housing Lubbock school children. To Mr. Dupre goes the honor of laying the foundation of the present efficient school system, and in honor of his long years of service the board of trustees named one of Lubbock's schools to evidence the esteem in which he was held by the personnel of the board.

Hutchinson Serves 13 Years

Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, serving 13 years as president of the board of trustees, has rendered the longest service of any member of the board. His profound knowledge of educational needs, his untiring service, his splendid co-operation and interest have linked his name synonymously with Lubbock schools.

W. B. Atkins, manager of the Higginbotham - Bartlett Lumber company, has given 10 years' service to the board. Mr. Atkins recalls the dismissed beginning of the public system. From the time the graduating class would never exceed 15 or 20 down to the present with a class of over 100. He relates the time when it became necessary for the board to have a private subscription campaign in order to raise funds sufficient to complete the school term. One year some members of the board donated desks and furniture equipment to certain rooms which were barren of supplies through lack of funds.

Wilson Lauds Patrons

"The citizens of Lubbock have always given creditable support to our needs," says R. C. Wilson, manager of the Western Windmill company, who has served eight years. "There have been campaigns

Powell, Cyrus Leland, Orville Brothers, and Homer Hardberger will all attend Texas university next fall under their present plans.

posed plan wrote, "It is graphically written and handles the situation in a way that is bound to attract the attention of patrons of the public schools, for whom it is meant, and also of the teachers throughout the systems who do not happen to be as keenly aware of the needs of the modern pedagogy."

Mrs. Florence High has been re-elected mayor of Coleman, Mich., where she has served in the capacity of chief executive for that city for four years.

A bag containing $5,000, dropped from a train by Mrs. A. H. Howells, was found near the track and returned to her at Vancouver, B. C.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

YOUR EDUCATION IS ONE ACCOMPLISHMENT YOU WILL NEVER REGRET

In a couple of weeks you will have finished four years of high school work. Surely it is an accomplishment and achievement that every one of you should be congratulated upon. And it is one thing (abstract as it is) that you always hold—and never regret. The number of times you get satisfaction from the four years' hard work you have made to gain this education are inestimable. Some day—way in the future—after you have reaped the benefits from your education you'll often recall the happy days you spent in obtaining it.

FACULTY FOR NEXT YEAR GIVEN OUT BY SUPT. DUNCAN; SPECIAL STUDY BY PRINCIPALS IS URGED

The faculty of the city school system of Lubbock, composed of 123 instructors and supervisors was announced Saturday from the office of M. H. Duncan, superintendent, and the announcement carried with it the statement that all positions are filled.

Enrollment during the past year reached 4,125, of which 128 are to finish the senior course, exercises for which are to be held next week-end and the following week. Enrollment next year is anticipated to be much more, and with sufficient buildings available for the first time in several years, plans are being made already for a heavier enrollment and a much broader course of study.

Problem-Project Method

The problem-project method of teaching is being given great emphasis, and special study of this method by principals and instructors during the summer months is being urged by Mr. Duncan. In a bulletin issued from his office to all principals, Mr. Duncan has this to say:

1. Please read carefully Cubberly's "The Principal and His School" and make notes of the suggestions he makes that you think would raise the efficiency of your school.
2. Make a special study of the problem-project method so as to be able to give some sane and helpful advice to your teachers and to aid them in applying this method in your school. The efficiency of a school seldom rises above the vision of the principal and his ability to aid his teachers.
3. Make a special study of the health problems of your school, especially the problem of prevention of contagious diseases, and endeavor to gain the knowledge that will aid you in preventing spread of such diseases. Our losses during the past school year in efficiency have been enormous, and one of the greatest savings we can make to the school is in the matter of health supervision. I have some material along this line that I shall be glad to turn over to you with a view to better equipping you for this work, and I shall be glad to render any other assistance I can to the same end.
4. Next year we want to do more than we have done heretofore in measuring the results of our work by the use of the standard educational tests, and to this end I should like for each one of you to make a special study during the summer of these tests and to be able to apply them in your school.

16 SENIORS MAKE AVERAGE OVER 90

MISS FAYE BUMPASS LEADS CLASS IN TWO YEAR HONOR ROLL RECORD

Sixteen members of the high school senior class have made an average grade of more than 90 for the past two years and have been placed on the roll of honor of the class.

The highest of these is Miss Faye Bumpass, the class valedictorian, whose grade average for this year has been 93.62 and the lowest is Eugene Adair, the youngest member of the class, whose general average this year has been 90.

Two other students, Miss Lois Love and Miss Elizabeth Crews, have made an average grade of more than 90 for this year and will be given honorable mention on the roll. Since this is the first year they have been in Lubbock high school, they could not compete for honors, according to the rulings of the institution.

The sixteen honor students, in the order of their ranking follow: Faye Bumpass, Warren James, Lela Barr, Zona Fields, Annie Snyder, Mamie Fields, Sallie Dean, Mancel Hath, Carl Turner, Ruth Ford, Loraine Bussey, Dorothy Rylander, Pauline Holland, Leliese Hays, Margaret Cooper and Eugene Adair.

Mrs. W. R. Lowery of New York swore in court that she could not remember the date of her wedding. French army engineers have a new invention which is said to explode mines by radio waves.

After viewing the rural western by the school, and the mannerisms of the students, Mr. Atkinson satisfaction over the and girls of tedious, respectful habits than of yesterday. In 1905 and 1910 school was better a total of ten teachers in the school are 125 teachers school children.

Student Attitude

In 1905 the attitude of pupils was to get the most amount of knowledge to be drilled into his attendance. Strategy and quarrels in the first men teachers could be necessary in them. Improvement today, in a general students as a time they gave an explanation of valedictorian. The focus by practically it is expected to be expected to be an honorary business world.

In the planning of that home to give you real comfort and satisfaction, the furnishings played an important part.

We take a personal interest in the homes we are called upon to furnish, which is the reason our store is as easy to visit as your home.

Rix's Now Serving the Second Generation

MANY of the graduates of 1927 come from homes where Rix furniture has played no small part in creating the proper environment. It is a great source of satisfaction to the members of this organization to know that today we are serving those who are just beginning a home of their own, whose parents have felt that Rix furniture offered greater value distinction and satisfaction, when they created the home in which their children were reared. It is ample proof that we have served well, and in extending to you our most sincere congratulations, it is with a sincere desire to be of service in any manner possible, for in a few short years, you too, will be creating a home, and taking the step that will mark your entry into a life still more useful to the community in which you reside.

Veteran Instructor Believes In Youth Days Change Brings Better Character

A champion of modern youth, by his startling frankness and his sophisticated, is G. N. Atkinson, Lubbock high school instructor, who has watched them come to go for over a decade and a half in the educational system of this city.

After viewing the transition from rural western type to the modern city school, and the alteration of the mannerisms and habits of students, Mr. Atkinson expresses satisfaction over the change. The boys and girls of today are more dignified, respectful, earnest and of better habits than were the students of yesterday, he believes.

In 1899 and 1910 when the first high school was begun here, there were a total of ten teachers, and pupils in the school system. Today there are 125 teachers and about 1000 school children.

Student Attitude Changed

In 1899 the attitude of the average pupils was to get by with the least amount of knowledge which opened to be drilled into him during his attendance. He was often straggling and quarrelsome, and the chert in the first high school were men teachers for the reason that the trustees deemed that it would be necessary in order to control them. Improvement was rapid, however.

Today, in a general subject given students as a thesis for a time they gave almost a complete explanation of why they wish to graduate. The four reasons advanced by practically all are: first, it is expected of them, the old expects them to be successful, and, it is an honor; third, it is necessary equipment to compete in the business world; fourth, it is necessary in order to attain a higher education.

Has Better Character

Mr. Atkinson believes that contrary to some accounts, the modern youth has a better character than the one of a generation ago, though he is more worldly wise, and vastly more frank about everyday affairs, and he tells the truth; that has always been a characteristic of Lubbock students, telling the truth, he stated.

That where the boy of twenty years ago strove to place the blame on others when caught up with over something, the modern youth frankly admits his part in any act, and stoically takes the consequences though they happen to be severe sometimes, it was pointed out.

Plans To Make Success

The modern youth plans to make a success of himself because it is expected of him; he is sophisticated at an early age but equally idealistic with the boy of yesterday; he is frank as to all his actions and bears a sense of individual responsibility for his own actions and acts according to his own code of ethics; he conscientiously prepares for citizenship but does so in an unobtrusive manner. He is usually a gentleman says Mr. Atkinson is summing up seventeen years of observation.

FAREWELL CHAPEL EXERCISES GIVEN

SENIOR CLASS GIVES ITS CLOSING PROGRAM FOR UNDERGRADUATES

Members of the high school graduating class gave their farewell chapel program Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This program was prepared under the direction of Miss Eula Hurst.

Mary Jo Robinson gave a clever talk on "Reflections of An Orphan" and Lois Love made an excellent talk on "A New Student in L. H. S." Miss Robinson had come to Lubbock from an unaffiliated school last fall and was therefore placed in a group that is known as the "orphan" class. Miss Love has spent only one year in Lubbock.

Pauline Hufschler gave a reading and the double male quartet, composed of Cyrus Land, Robert Kennedy, Watson Wilson, Audrey Brown, Mancel Hill, Hubert Freeland and Ray Johnson, sang a solo "Perfect Day" was sung by Frances Stahl, accompanied by Margaret Hubert, violinist, and Mary Ellen Quick, pianist. Miss Quick also accompanied the quartet, which is directed by George Eaton, M. H. Duncan, superintendent of the school, led the devotional.

A beautiful lake in the mountains of an island in Alaska has been named Lake Grace, in honor of Mrs. Coolidge. It was recently discovered by airplane map makers.

Edith Wynne Mathison has been awarded the gold medal for good diction on the stage, presented each year by the American Academy of Arts and Letters. In private life she is Mrs. Charles R. Kennedy.

Congratulations L. H. S. Graduates

May a deserved success be yours—our hats are off to you. We wish you a life well filled with the good things that come as a reward for a work well done. From the years you have spent in the classroom and the associations you have formed, you will bring a ripened knowledge to a world that is eager for new ideas. Though you must leave behind, many warm friends and enjoyable experiences, you will find youth's treasures will follow you in memory throughout your life—time, to enrich the experiences of after years with a wholesome friendly influence. Let 1927 mark your first achievement—but let it be but the start toward a far-off goal of success and usefulness.

The Value of Good Appearance

It means more than you think, and you graduates who are about to enter the business world should closely avoid giving any impression of carelessness through personal appearance.

To a stranger, someone with whom you are doing business for the first time, the impression he gains from his first glance will determine in no small measure the success you will have in selling your idea.

This does not necessarily mean that to be well-dressed is to be expensively dressed. The most expensive fabric woven, unless it was properly fitted, would look little better than a burlap sack.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes for men and young men give the maximum appearance for minimum initial outlay. They are made to fit and wear well because of the excellent workmanship that is a part of each suit bearing that label, together with the smartest of styles and newest of fabrics and colors.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes will increase 50% your ambition, your determination and will to get ahead, because you will have the satisfaction of knowing that your clothes are faultless.

CHANGES IN GRADUATION EXERCISES ARE PRINCIPALLY IN NUMBER AND NOT IN CEREMONY, MRS. DUPRE REMINISCES

Changes in school graduates come principally in the number in the class and in the dress of the graduates and not in the ceremonies of the occasion, Mrs. M. M. Dupre, who has been teaching here since 1915, believes. Mrs. Dupre has watched the Lubbock schools expand from a graduation class of five girls and two boys, 12 years ago to a class of 173 boys and girls this year. She came here in the fall of 1914 when her husband, the late M. M. Dupre, assumed the superintendency of the city schools, and has been teaching here since then. Before coming to Lubbock, Mrs. Dupre had taught school for many years and watched the successive graduations with interest.

Ceremonies Are Constant
The traditional ceremonies remain almost constant, Mrs. Dupre believes, although organization and people not directly connected with the schools seem more interested in graduation classes than previously. The social activities were formerly confined almost entirely to parties and other functions given by the class members for their given teas, banquets and extended various other courtesies by many of the clubs and associations of the city.

Young folk do not attach to high school graduation the importance they did in years past, she avers, and more of them consider that this is only a stepping stone to higher education rather than believing that they have reached the pinnacle of progress and are ready to enter business.

Girls Finished to Marry
Young women, especially, in previous years thought they were ready to finish when they completed their high school work. And, even when they did not cherish marital plans, seldom considered a college education unless they were preparing to teach school, in which event they attended a normal for a period sufficient to receive a teaching certificate.

With the entrance of women into the business world, a need for higher education was felt, and these graduates, with the young men in classes, planned to enter college.

The opportunities for education were not as many several years ago as they are today, Mrs. Dupre explains, and there were not so many colleges to attend.

But even now, high school graduation remains one of the dearest events in the life of a boy or girl and is an occasion which they anticipate with station for several years and remember with gratification for many more months, Mrs. Dupre believes.

Feel Their Importance
They feel their importance as much more upon this occasion than they do in after years when they have come to the close of their college careers," she smiled. It is only within the last few years that the graduation classes in Lubbock have become so large. As late as 1920, when the population had crawled up to an approximate figure of 10,000, the five-year previous, the graduation class numbered 18, with 13 girls and 5 boys in the class. The next year was the last in which the school had 12 grades, the high school then dropping to four years, and two classes were combined in the graduation group, bringing the number to more than 10.

Change in Dress Interesting
The metamorphosis in the dress of girl graduates is interesting to watch, Mrs. Dupre believes. Formerly ornate and almost the accepted material for the graduate, although during the war, there was a "gingham" class, the girls in the group agreeing to wear gingham dresses at the exercises. Dress lengths have risen from the ankles to their present status and the advent of bobbed hair with shorter dresses has given to graduates a more youthful appearance than they formerly had, she said.

Change in Program
As to the actual programs and ceremonies, there has been an expansion that eliminated the former practice of having each member of the class deliver an oration, sing, or take some other such individual and prominent part in affairs, but other than that, the programs remain much the same with class poems, class orators, class historians, a valedictory and salutatorian and others.

Change in Program
Valedictory and salutatory speeches have always sounded very much the same to Mrs. Dupre, their nature precluding outstanding differences. But always there comes to her the same thrill of pleasure in seeing students come to their graduation time and in hearing the programs, each one being to her individually, engaging because of the ever-different personalities of the graduates.

Change in Program
The growth of the Lubbock independent school district, both in material resources and scholastic enrollment, is phenomenal in many ways, especially as regards increased enrollment year to year, and this is reflected very concretely in the struggle that officials of the system have made in recent years to supply the demands for room and equipment.

Change in Program
Of a total of $200,000 that has been voted in bond issues by citizens and friends of the system since 1903, all except $41,000 has been required and voted since 1922. Until this time there was only one building in the system, the one now being used as Central Ward, located south of 15th Street, just east of Avenue Q. This building was erected in 1893, according to records of Business Manager and Tax Collector A. C. Jackson under a bond issue of $25,000, and was added to in 1911 by an expenditure of $10,000, also bonded in the form of bonds. In the past two or three years, following conversion of the building into a ward building, more additions have been added to the extent of approximately $10,000.

Change in Program
The system now operates in ten buildings, six of which are in the city limits, and four in wards to serve outlying districts. Those in the city include one Mexican and one negro school, both of which are now crowded to capacity, and the negro school, pushed for additional room, is now holding classes in a church building in that part of the city; Mrs. Coon will be added in the near future by the Board if possible, it was said.

Change in Program
Bonds in the sum of $40,000 were issued in 1917 for construction and equipment of the Geo. M. Hunt ward school in that part of the city just east of Avenue M, and in 1918, $5,000 more bonds were sold to finance construction of the southeast ward building, about three or four miles out of the city.

Change in Program
In May, 1922, bonds in the sum of $150,000 were voted for construction and equipment of the present high school building and for additional wards in the southwest, southwest and southeast.

Change in Program
In 1922, $20,000 in bonds was voted for construction and equipment of the K. Carter school in the north part of the city, just west of Avenue Q, and about the same time the Mexican school building was erected in the Mexican quarter of the city.

Change in Program
In 1924, $125,000 in bonds was voted to build and equip, in addition to the high school building, the building practically where it stands, and this is now being used as a junior high school building. The negro school building was erected about this time at a cost of approximately $2,500, but now additional room is needed.

Change in Program
In 1926 bonds in the amount of $170,000 voted for construction and equipment of the Dupre and Sanders ward buildings, the former in the southeast part of the city and the latter in the northwest. The Dupre building, a two-story structure thoroughly modern, cost approximately $85,000, and the Sanders building about $47,000.

Change in Program
Although an absolute check upon plans of graduates for next year could not be made this week, the majority of those expressed aims, expect to enter the Technological college. And most of the students anticipate entering some college.

Change in Program
Several of the students probably will enter school this summer. Bertie Albridge and Fannie Mae Turner expect to enter the Tech with the opening of the summer term and Salye Bean will enroll at McIntary college, Abilene, for the summer, continuing her college work in some institution this fall. One is to "Retire."

Change in Program
Of those who do not expect to enter college, Sio Williams plans to work this summer, to keep books in the fall and then enter some government work; Nellie McClellan will remain at home and Vain Harley expressed intentions of "retiring" from school.

Change in Program
According to present plans, Margaret Habel will attend Texas Woman's college, Fort Worth, next year; J. Christopher Jarrett will enter a school in Fort Worth; Anna Pearl Smith will enroll at State zinnus college, Montezuma, N. M.; Maurice Powell, Arlin Barnard and Hubert Coon will enter Texas university, at Austin; Frances Stah will enter Baylor university, Waco; Zona Field will attend business college; Ruby Jackson will enter Simmons university, Abilene; Lucile Jordan will enroll in the Coche school of expression, Dallas; Homer Hardberger will attend Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn.; and Myrtle Bender will take a business course or enter Tech or southwestern, the latter at Georgetown.

Change in Program

The school exhibits that will be held at the several school buildings over the city are designed to show to parents in a measure the progress made by pupils during the year, and every citizen interested in the school system is urged to attend at one or more of the buildings at some time during the day. The entire day next Friday will be occupied by the exhibit which, according to M. H. Duncanson, superintendent, promise to be much better than last year.

CLOSING EXERCISES
Tuesday evening, May 24 at 8:30 the class day exercises of the graduating class will be held, and a program arranged promises to differ from programs usual rendered on such occasion.

CLOSING EXERCISES
Wednesday evening, May 25, 8:30, the graduating exercises of the senior class will be held at the First Methodist church, with Dr. C. Granbery, of the Tech College delivering the address.

CLOSING EXERCISES
Thursday morning, May 2, at 8 o'clock, the graduating exercises of the grade schools will be held at the First Methodist church, and principal address will be made by Mrs. W. B. Price, president of Seventh district Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

CLOSING EXERCISES

GIRLS STAND OUT IN CLASS ACTIVITY

LOIS LOVE, MARGARET COOPER AND OTHERS HAVE HELD LEADING ROLES

Several girls in the senior class have been outstanding in school and class activities this year. Miss Lois Love, who was elected the most popular girl in a class vote and whose name will therefore appear among the class favorites in the year book, has been active in the Girl Reserve work as a member of the winning debating team with Miss Helen Jones, and has lettered in tennis. She received honorable mention in scholarship, being barred from honors as this was her first year here. Miss Love is also a violinist and has played upon many occasions.

Miss Margaret Cooper, another member of the class, is president of the Girl Reserves, participated in the senior play, ranked high enough in scholarship to be placed on the honor roll.

In addition to her class activities Miss Margaret Habel is one of the most popular violinists of the city and has participated in programs in towns near here as well as played upon numerous occasions here, both as a soloist and as an accompanist.

Haynie Plans Diversified Farming and Tax Program

(By Associated Press)
ABILENE, May 18.—Tax qualification and diversified farming will continue the major points in this year's program of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. R. W. Haynie, president of Abilene, newly-elected president of the organization, said today.

"President Arthur P. Duggan was in the midst of his tax qualification program when he was succeeded by me," Mr. Haynie said. "I will carry on the program along the lines he has been following, utilizing the immense amount of data he has compiled. Mr. Duggan is a member of Governor Moody's Tax survey commission and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and will withhold presentation of its own program pending the report from the state commission."

gressively forward, but in spite of all that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has done in this mat-

KIMES ESCAPES AFTER ROBBING PAIR OF BANKS

WATCHMAN OF BEGGS
IS SLAIN AND WOMAN IS SHOT

POSSE ORGANIZED

DARING BANDIT WAS LAST SEEN NEAR CUSHING

(By The Associated Press)
OKMULGEE, Okla., May 18.—
Matthew Kimes and his bandit gang who looted two Beggs banks, shot and killed Chief of Police W.
J. McAnnally, shot Mrs. Charles Campbell and escaped with $12,961 in cash and jewels, were still at large tonight and had apparently completely thrown completely off their trail the hundreds of officers, citizens pursuing them.

Sheriff John Russell was informed at 4 p. m. by long distance telephone that Sheriff J. B. Calder head of Payne county and some of his deputies had seen and attempted to follow seven of the Beggs bank robbers about 1:30 p. m.

The Payne county posse lost trace of the bandit car, six miles south of Cushing. The bandit car, traveling between 60 and 75 miles an hour, was headed north toward Cushing at that time, the Payne county sheriff informed Sheriff Russell.

Clock Saves Bank
BEGGS, Okla., May 18.—A difference of three minutes in the time shown on the two opposite faces of a jeweler's sidewalk clock is believed to have saved the American Bank from robbery here today at the same time the other two banks in town were entered and looted of about $18,000.

The two banks robbed are across the street from each other, while the American is around the corner nearly two blocks away. A sidewalk clock in front of a jewelry store on the corner is visible from all three banks.

Attack Each Place
Just before 10:45 a. m. three cars, bearing three men each, drove into Beggs and one of the machines in the front of the robbery.
It is believed that 10:45 was set as the zero hour for the robbery.

For the two banks were entered just as the jeweler's clock showed that time on the side facing those banks.
The other face showed it to be 10:42 and the bandits who were to have robbed the American bank stood around waiting. In less than two minutes the robbery was over.

FLOOD WARNING OUT

Inhabitants Are Notified To Flee
From Wall of Water Now Approaching

NEW ORLEANS, May 18. (AP)— Inhabitants of twenty seven towns in the path of the wall of water sweeping down the Atchafalaya basin tonight were being warned to flee their homes under insturctions issued early tonight by flood relief dictator John M. Parker.

Mr. Parker, basing his warning upon a bulletin of the New Orleans weather bureau, today charting the path of the flood through the section, had a corps of telephone operators speeding the message to the inhabitants urging them speed the evacuation if they would save their belongings.

There will be no forcible evacuation, but the message of the flood relief dictator strove to impress upon the inhabitants the seriousness of the flood danger and the imminence of the threat.

Dye From Shoes Poisons Former Student Of Tech

Clayton Harfoot, student from Murchison, Ill. in the Lubbock Sanitarium just because he has his shoes dyed.

A poison caused by the coloring matter in a dye placed upon his shoes Tuesday afternoon had gone through his entire body by seven o'clock that night and would probably have caused him serious injury had the shoes remained upon his feet, physicians at the sanitarium report. Friends noticed that Har-foot's lips began to turn blue soon after he had his shoes dyed in a local shoe parlor and within a short time his entire face was beginning to grow dark.

Intending to play baseball in one of the city league games during the afternoon, he removed the shoes shortly before six o'clock which probably saved him serious illness.

By seven he was worse and was carried to the sanitarium where physicians worked with him and soon had him in a better condition.

More than 100 cases of the "shoe dye poisoning" have been reported in the United States in the past few years, physicians at the sanitarium say. Only a few have been fatal, they say. This is the first case ever experienced in Lubbock. The poison penetrates the pores of the skin.

Harfoot was much better yesterday afternoon and had regained his color. He will be able to be up and about in a short time. He was a letterman on the Tech football team last fall.

OILMEN WIN HEARING

American Investors Favored By Decision of Mexican Court
In Land Controversy

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, May 18
(AP)—The supreme court has sustained the decision of the lower court lifting the embargo the government previously had obtained on oil produced by the Penn-Mex fuel oil company on lands in the Tax-pan district which are in "disputa-tion." Mexican claimants are contesting the Penn-Mex company's title to these.

Disputes over enforcement of the new petroleum law have developed between the department of commerce, which has charge of oil matters, and the district judge at Villa Guadalupe, state of Vera Cruz, who was granted amparo, or injunction, to various foreign oil companies against the provisions of the law.

The judge sent a message to President Calles that the department of commerce was disregarding his injunctions and continued to refuse drilling permits to the transcontinental company.

DAM GIVES WAY TO RELEASE A WALL OF WATER

WILSON RECEIVES FULL WARNING AND ALL
ESCAPE

KELLY WIPED OUT

REPORTS ON TRAGEDY
AS SECURED ARE MEAGER

(By The Associated Press)
WILSON, Wyo., May 18.—Eight lives were lost when a wall of water from what is known as the "slide" dam in the Gros Ventre river swept over the little town of Kelly, about 25 miles from here about noon today.

Hearing down its tortuous course the flood reached Wilson about 2 hours later, in the form of a wall of water twenty feet high that spread over the banks of the stream until the river, at this point, was one and a half miles wide. No lives were lost in Wilson for the telephone company, an independent line, had managed to issue a warning of the flood approaching Swan Valley, still further down stream.

Towns Under Water

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, May 18. (AP)— Two Wyoming towns are under water, one of them completely wiped out by the flood of water let loose at 11:40 o'clock this morning when the Gros Ventre slide dam gave way.

First direct reports from the affected areas came in late today from a Mr. Nundy, merchant of Wilson, Wyoming, 15 miles from the river from the dam, who said the water at that time was 4 feet deep in the lobby of the Wilson hotel. He also said houses were being washed away and inhabitants were washing in the high banks for safety.
Nothing is known of the fate of the 15 inhabitants of Kelly, but it is expressed that if they had no advance warning of the dam break, all must have perished.

ASSAULT IS TESTIFIED

Trial of "King Ben" Upon Charge of Criminal Attack Now Under Way

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., May 18. (AP)— Testimony regarding an alleged criminal attack by Benjamin Pur-nell, head of the House of David colony, was given by Mrs. Ruth Swanson, of South Orange, N. J., a former member of the cult, in the disolution proceedings against the colony in court here today.

In addition to testifying regarding the alleged assault, Mrs. Swanson said elaborate preparations were made by Purnell to guard against anticipated raids by state officials.

Mrs. Swanson, testified after examination of her husband, C. L.
Swanson, an electrician, who declared that prior to leaving the colony in the fall of 1924, with his wife he had begun the installation of colored lights in the House of Benjamin, intended to give warning in case of a raid.

Mrs. Swanson told of having heard Purnell order two of the alleged group marriages which the state claims were carried out by Purnell to conceal his alleged relations with girl members of the colony.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

The really chic and smart and abundant of the styles woman will now use two different perfumes for her hair—day and night. Sit to her right and your whiff "amour d'été" — sit on her left and you will inhale evening, perhaps, it's such a difference as this which makes us believe that perhaps those who say women of today are enough to do for us.

Husband Allmy
"Try and find a single man who would take allmy," says a westerner, "in discussing a bill about allmy for husbands pending in the Texas legislature. I really don't think that anyone who seriously tries will have much difficulty finding not only one single man but a score of 'em who would. Several hundred thousand men desert wives with little children in this country every year. Sometimes they not only desert wives and children, but desert children-to-be. Men who do this would certainly take allmy."

Vegetable Boutonnieres
Now that flowers on coats and dresses are nothing new—in fact, are several seasons old—fashion says that clusters of vegetables must take their place. What could be sweeter than button bunches of radishes, artistically-shaded turnips or perhaps a squash in miniature? And after the vegetables will probably come animals—cute little nose gays of wood mice and muskrats and "hens and what have you?" It is interesting to note the development of commercial buttonieres.

Park Bloomers
There seems to be a racket in a certain western college because several dozen bloomers were found checked in the dance check room. Now the dean of women had elected these co-eds must wear bloomers that cover that great open space existing between the top of the skirt and the bottom of the blouse. It is interesting to note the development of commercial buttonieres.

If Sports Dishevel, Have A Dressy Wig

A wavy, chestnut long-haired wig for evening wear, forms a soft snood at Gratitude Lawrence's nape.

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer
NEW YORK, May 19.—Wigs for the well-dressed woman is fashion's latest gesture.

Inaugurated by Paris, sponsored by Miss and screen stars for off-stage use, wigs apparently have come into vogue as the most up-to-date of summer accessories.

Of course they are not the fancies of colored silk wigs in gleaming pink, lavender, and greens of last season. Indeed not!

Not yet are they the colonial white wigs that return ever and anon as seasonal fads.

Wigs of 1927 are so natural-looking, they defy detection. And of course, they serve a purpose!

First, they look real because they are made with skill and care from the finest human hair. The trick of many of them is that they are actually made from the hair of the head of the woman who wears them.

Salvage
For it is quite a thing for a lady to dig up that "wad" of hair the barber cut off the first time she got a bob and have it transformed into a wig for summer use. Second, these little works of art really serve a purpose. In this out-door age, almost every woman of fashion indulges in some form of sports—tennis, golfing or swimming. And wind and water necessitate constant curling of the hair if military would be stylish.

Last season it was quite all right for the loose-cropped boyish bob to be straight and mannish-looking. This season, with the advent of the more effeminate bob, it is distinctly not the thing to have straight hair. Luncheons, teas or evening parties call for a feminine bob that goes well with the soft, supple lines of formal evening dress.

Here is where the wig functions. For with a becoming wig all curled and waiting on her dressing table, the athletic woman can indulge her athletic inclinations to the utmost, with never a worry about the havoc wind or water plays with her "permanent" waves.

So the little featherweight wig is said to give more freedom from grooming cares to the woman who loves out-door sports.

Personalities
A third advantage is said to accrue from the wig's advent. Women can change their personalities—have several in fact, from using Perfume is so much a part of your personality that you should use just the right one. In making your selection you compare one perfume with another. By comparison you easily decide.

This is true of coffee.

The marvelous flavor of Folger's Coffee is unmatched because each grain of coffee in Folger's is the highest grade, highest type and highest priced coffee that the world produces in its respective countries of growth.

However, we ask you to take nothing for granted. Simply compare Folger's Coffee with the brand you are now using by making the Folger Coffee Test. It is the logical, easy way to shop for coffee.

The Folger Coffee Test: Drink Folger's Coffee tomorrow morning; the next morning drink the coffee you have been using; the third morning drink Folger's again. You will definitely favor one brand or the other. The Best Coffee Wins. That's fair, isn't it?

The first thought in the morning

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" is now legend. But many a skeptic still would like to see for herself! Though for naturalness' sake most women who use wigs will probably keep to shades that blend with their coloring, it is possible to try out various other complexions.

But, granting that mildly sticks to her own shade of hair, there is still ample room for her to experiment in different effects with wigs. For there are swirling wigs, curled wigs, straight wigs with chic looped parts, wigs with Janice Meredith curls, wigs that illustrate every one of the new "sculptured" bobs and wigs that have bobs. And over and above all the bobbed wigs, are the very newest wigs—wigs of long hair that can transform the day-time athletic girl into the demure "clinging vine" for the dinner and dance.

And so the new accessories bring naturalness, freedom and a chance to change personality. It is no wonder they are having a vogue!

Of 1,512 young women students at the University of Kansas questioned regarding the careers to which they aspired, only 7 expressed a desire to be housewives.

JUDGE MULLICAN TO ADDRESS PRE-LAWS TONIGHT

In their final meeting of the year which will be marked by a spirited urge to continue their study through the summer months, Judge Clark M. Mulligan, of the 99th district court, will make the principal address to the Pre-Law club in their regular meeting place in the administration building tonight. Judge Mulligan has shown an interest in the work of the club since its organization and has always been active in sponsoring their activities. His address will be of much interest to the students. A cordial invitation has been extended to the general public.

RECORD BOOKS BEING CALLED FOR

Registrar E. L. Doherty is mailing out requests to students this week asking for the return of the record books. They must be in the office before the beginning of the examinations so that the grades may be posted in them. A fee of 1.00 will be charged for all books which are not turned in before the close of the spring term.

FINAL SHOWDOWN TO BE MADE ON ANNUAL TODAY

Whether the second annual edition of the college yearbook will come off the press before the close of school will be decided today as various members of the student body lined together with the staff compare their efforts to raise the cash guarantee for the printing of the book. Sale of the remaining books will continue and also the tickets for the final Home-Going Ball. A committee composed of Bruce Reed, Rex Keys and C. W. Ratliff visited the various classes yesterday and made an urgent appeal for the guarantee of the book.

It is the consensus of opinion that the money will be raised as the sale of both annuals and tickets was unusually good yesterday morning. Something under 100 books are yet unsold. They must be sold before the guarantee can be posted.

SENIORS TO MAKE TRIP TO CARLSBAD CAVERN

Following the close of their examinations which will be Wednesday, May 25, the members of the senior class are to make a visit to the famed Carlsbad Cavern, officials of the class have announced. The trip will comprise two days and will be made in cars and in the school bus. The date of the trip has not been set but it is thought that it will be made Thursday and Friday of next week.

SENIORS EVEN SERIES WITH FACULTY

Playing the second game of the series the seniors evened the count with the faculty Tuesday afternoon by defeating them in a 5 inning contest, 4 to 2. Both teams showed better form than in the previous game and although viewed by a more interesting than the previous much spicier crowd, the game was not a student triumph. "Rookie" Reese, of the math department hurled for the faculty while "Buck" Weaver was the man on the mound for the senior rating students. It is likely that no other game will be played as the close of the term is so near at hand. The contest between the two factions is to be an annual affair.

PAGEANT PROMISES TO BE HIGHLIGHT OF COMMENCEMENT

With the various students arranging for their costumes which will depict the rise of education in Texas, the second annual pageant which will be staged under the auspices of the administration building Saturday night May 28 is to be the highlight of the first commencement program. Indications promise. Misses Ruth Pirie and Johnnie O'Hanlon are working daily on the program and meeting with the students who have the various parts. Costumes for the program are being made.

Workmen started yesterday on preparing the grounds. The knock down bleachers which have been used on the athletic field are being moved to the pageant site. More than 2500 seats will be available. Miss Ruth Slaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Slaton, will be crowned queen as the members of the first graduating class are presented.

Lockney Business Is Reported Good

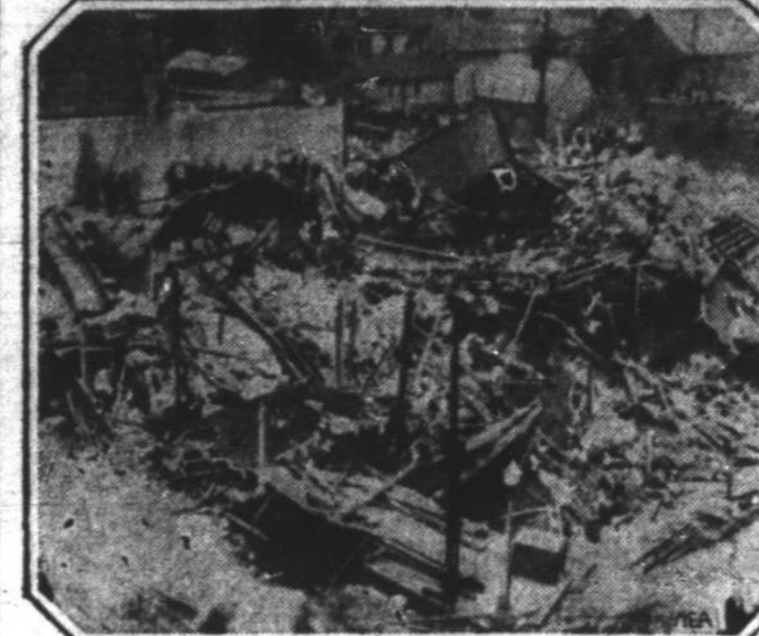

LOCKNEY, May 18 — Even though farming prospects are not so bright at this time on account of meager rain, business in the city of Lockney is good. Factors making this possible is the payroll from the railroad, now being built through, from the cotton oil mill that is now in a state of construction and from the proceeds the farmers are receiving from the sale of their poultry, cream and eggs. A number of farmers have had hogs for sale and some beef cattle, all these things taken into consideration have helped to make this average spring business according to local business men and bankers.

The real estate market at this particular time is inactive however there are some deals being reported. Building of residences and business buildings is on a stand still at this time.

According to reports from the citizenship should this country receive a good rain within the next few weeks, building of all kinds would become active on account of other industries that are now going on.

When fined $10 for being disorderly, Albert Jenkins of Chicago told the judge he only had that amount on which to get married the same day, so he was given a week in which to pay his fine.

And the Bargain Hunters Escaped!

NEGRO SAMARITANS

Deeds of heroism and self-sacrifice have been common during the terrible flood which has devastated a large area in the valleys of the Mississippi and its tributaries.

One outstanding example is that of Samuel White, a negro, of a New Orleans suburb, employed at the railroad stockyards.

He found straw to make beds for them in box cars, while his wife provided hot coffee and food for the storm-drenched unfortunates, providing them thus for three days, until relief appeared.

This incident once more illustrates that fact that a black skin may cover a noble heart.

ARE WE GETTING BETTER ON OUR TRAFFIC?

Is the world growing better or worse? Some will say yes, some will say no, and we leave that with you to ask another question, which is: Are we getting better on our traffic?

Traffic-accidents fatalities ran true to form last month, according to Department of Commerce records covering 78 large cities.

Motor-vehicle mishaps claimed 491 victims last month, as compared with 441 in March and 473 in April, 1926.

Such has been the experience ever since the Government began compiling the figures.

The year-by-year increase in casualties reasonably may be attributed to the larger volume of traffic.

This is a challenge to the authorities, the safety experts and the motoring public alike.

Eight cities (among the 78) are on the latest honor roll. They experienced no traffic fatalities during the month in question—but, eleven such fortunate communities were reported in April, 1926.

The same applies to this as does the number of murders and most every other crime.

Why? We hardly know. Yet, deep down we feel assured that we are getting up a new civilization; that our gaudy dreams will prove to contain a beautiful element of truth.

"No, he isn't afraid," snapped the barber, "but he doesn't want his hair cut. Says it's too feminine."

One morning Brown looked over his garden wall and said to his neighbor:

"Look here, what are you buying in that hole?"

"Oh," he said, "I'm just replanting some of my seeds, that's all."

"Seeds!" shouted Brown angrily. "It looks more like one of my hens."

Why are balloons like tramps? Because they have no visible means of support.

Julia Claussen, Metropolitan Opera Star, who protects her voice, writes:

When I decided to smoke cigarettes, I looked about to see which brand was in favor with most men. The answer was easy to find. I noticed that practically all the men at the opera were smoking Lucky Strikes. I learned from them that this cigarette, delightful in flavor, left their voices in splendid shape for their singing. So I tried Lucky Strikes and knew that the men were correct in their judgment. I am enthusiastic about their flavor and the fact that they do not affect my voice.

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Speaker, who now is playing with the Washington club, approached Mrs. James C. Dunn, owner of the Indians in Chicago last week with a proposition to purchase the team which he managed for several years.

Mrs. Dunn, months ago stigmatized her willingness to sell provided she receives $500,000, a price that she believes "right."

Miss Blanche Fenton of St. Louis lost $1,000 worth of jewelry which she was carrying in her stocking.

SENATE BEATS HOUSE

AUSTIN, May 18 (AP)—The senate took the measure of the house 12 to 7 at baseball today in a game which Governor Don Moody began umpiring and finally got into a participant on both sides.

With the state department closed for the occasion, several hundred spectators howled encouragement to the battling solons on Clark field. Proceeds of the game will go to tornado relief funds for Garland and Nevada, Texas.

EXPLOSION

In recreation periods in their rooms. Survivors of the disaster described the explosion as a "terrible crash" followed an instant later by the crashing of the walls and the falling of the ceilings many of the pupils were crushed at their desks as the tons of bricks and beams crashed down.

State police probing in the tangled wreckage of the school found that elaborate preparations had been made for wrecking the building. The basement was criss crossed with a net work of wires which were connected to more than 500 pounds of dynamite scattered in various places. Search of the ruins was interrupted for a time while unexploded dynamite was removed. State police said Kehoe apparently had carried the dynamite into the school building during the night and arranged his wiring.

Drive Up With Wires He was seen to drive up in his automobile in front of the building soon after classes convened. Considering his plans he is believed to have run a wire from his automobile in which other explosives were stored, to the charges in the basement.

Bank Robbery

Three minutes, the other robberies were completed and, when shots were heard, the three waiting bandits jumped in the car and escaped with the others.

Officials of both looted banks said the leader of the band undoubtedly was Kimes, who is the Wasp young desperado whose sensational exploits have been a modern parallel of the careers of Jesse James and Al Jennings.

Dashing into the little town this morning in three motor cars, the nine members of the gang divided into groups and drove up to the three banks. Two of the banks, The Farmers' National and The First National were invaded immediately.

Hands Up "Throw up your hands," came the command almost simultaneously in the two banks, and employees and others in both institutions complied. Both groups then began a systematic search for money.

Charles Campbell, a shopper, left her children in an automobile and ran into a pool hall crying an alarm. M. C. McAnnally, marshal, went immediately to the Farmers' National bank, arriving just as the robbers were emerging. Pulling his pistol, McAnnally opened fire on the fleeing figures and a hail of bullets answered him, one piercing his breast and killing him instantly. Mrs. Campbell was struck in the head by a bullet and was believed to have been mortally injured.

Posses Formed Attracted by the shots, townspeople poured into the streets. The men hastily gathered up all available firearms loaded into motor cars and took up pursuit. Within an hour one of the bandit cars had been found abandoned eight miles west of Beegs, near the ranch on which Kimes spent his boyhood.

His neighbors considered him a good farmer, for his lands were well kept and his buildings well furnished. He had no children.

Acted Pugnacious Recounting the man's characteristics tonight, neighbors recalled that he had appeared intelligent but with a tendency toward being pugnacious. DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS

THIS HAS HAPPENED

T. Q. CURTIS, millionaire, takes three girls from his department store and places them in his home as his wards for a year, because he believes they have further ambitions he wants to further.

BILLY WELLS, who wants to become a concert violinist, is the only one of the three that is sincere. NYDA LOMAX and WINNIE SHELTON are enjoying the old man's generosity under false pretenses.

Billy overhears their benefactor say he is going to adopt one of the girls as his daughter, when the year is up and in order not to take unfair advantage of the girls, she tells them what she has heard.

She is unwillingly drawn into a little which Nyda and Winnie, together with her infatuation for DAL ROMAINE, nephew of MRS. MEADOWS, the hostess, is causing her to lose interest in her violin.

In spite of this infatuation, she remembers tenderly CLAY CURTIS, son of her benefactor, who has disinherited himself and is boarding with Mrs. Wells in the poor part of the town, working in the Truman factory in the daytime and writing music at night.

Romaine accompanies Billy on a shopping trip. He directs her to Madame Dubois' where she spends more than she should. She is surprised to hear the salesgirl mention his previous trip to the shop with Winnie Shelton. As they drive into the country they see Nyda Lomax with EDIE and BANNING, her chauffeur-sweetheart.

At department store days, and this strengthens Billy's conviction that there is some intrigue between them. Dal takes Billy to a country place owned by a Hindu. They enter and are alone. As they place, Billy succumbs to Dal's hypnotic charms. He tells her strange things about his experiences in India, that he possesses strange powers. He kisses her and calls her his, but begs her to keep their love-making a secret.

She asks to go back to the factory, to her mother.

HOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIV

During the week that followed Dal Romaine did not give Billy much opportunity to further her acquaintance with him. He was busy with his job, and she was busy with her secret.

His favorite calling hour was between ten and eleven o'clock in the evening, when T. Q. Curtis was at the store. Nyda at the Cordelia went to school for kindergarten, and Winnie at the Knox preparatory school.

"I don't want to make things worse for you, darling, by antagonizing Mr. Curtis where you've succeeded I believe he's bringing me that—love you," his voice sounded to her as he spoke.

"Oh, my dear," she said, "I don't want to see you so often. I'm not going to be a frequent guest here as I have been. Aunt Lucia simply refuses to believe that Mr. Curtis isn't like me—and insists that I come to dinner two or three times a week. But I want to be very quiet, for your sake, not to give him cause for suspicion to divide my attention between you and Nyda and make that—you know, dear heart, don't you?"

She was so absorbed in her love for him and in her crying desire to see him, that she neglected her music. On Wednesday, when she had explained to Professor Merrill, haltingly, shamefacedly, it had been impossible for her to come for her violin lesson on Friday, the music master had only informed her that it did not matter, that she had been taking the lessons that were good for her.

"Then you think that twice a week—" she asked falteringly, "is going to be enough to see this means of escape from what threatened to be a serious financial situation."

"Once a week," Natrath had told her firmly, "I have more pupils than I can manage."

She despised herself for the soft rush of relief she felt as she contemplated how much the new schedule of lessons would save her.

Billy Wells—the girl who had spent on her knees for a chance to study violin under a real master.

But Dal Romaine filled her heart and mind too wholly to allow her such time for brooding over her senseless loss of interest in her violin. She did sometimes herself to practice religiously four hours a day, but Dal came every morning.

One day, however, she was so busy that she could not go to her lessons. She was so busy that she could not go to her lessons.

Therefore the local clerk's office required a translated copy of the will of Wong Lim On, a recently deceased employee of a local firm, was filed. The strange document, of incomprehensible Chinese characters, was presented to the clerk's office.

from lack of sleep to concentrate, but she caught phrases, tried to make them mean something.

"Here we are, Billy dear," Ralph said, as he swung his car along a curving driveway to park it before an imposing building of white marble, with magnificent Doric columns. "This is the main office building. We'll take just a peep in here, then we'll wander through the plant and let you see how automobiles are made."

The vastness of the offices bewildered her. It seemed to her that hundreds of stenographers and bookkeepers were working at their desks in a maze of corridors. Ralph Truman and the small boy, Billy, were that he was something with such evident pride.

"Hello, Billy Wells speaking!" Her voice was low and breathless. "Hello, there! This is Ralph."

"Oh!" Her voice betrayed her terrible disappointment. "Oh, hello Ralph! How are you?"

"Great! Listen, Billy, you've been promising to go through the factory with me, and if you're not doing anything else, you might as well come along with me today. What say? I'll call for you in half an hour. You can see 'em assemble in automobile, and if you like the job you can take it home with you under your arm. Will you come, Billy?"

Her first thought was that if she went to the Truman Automobile Factory, she would see Clay. Clay! She hardly remembered his existence this dreadful, restful, nerve-racking week, but now she knew she needed more than anything else for the sake of her sanity, a sight of his kind face, with its wistful, boyish blue eyes open, frank eyes that were never filled with anything more sinister than music-hogotten dreams.

"I'd love to, Ralph!" she cried, her voice breaking on a note of tearful gladness.

The Truman factory buildings sprawled over two acres of valuable ground on the north edge of Colfax. Factory laborers reached it by buses, operated without cost to employees by the Truman company. It had given her a queer shock of pride and grief and anger one day to see Clay Curtis, reared in luxury and natural heir to millions, hanging to a strap in one of those crowded coaches.

Ralph Truman flung out bits of amazing information on the magnitude of the industry. Billy scarcely listened; her nerves were too tense, her head too light and dizzy keep body and soul together, might prove to a sanguine, kind-hearted, but doubting old man that he, too, was a man. She wanted to cry out to him to come away with her, to shuck off those greasy-foul overalls, to go back to his rightful place in the world. But even as she started to cry out to him, in shocked pity and protest, something of which she had been dimly conscious ever since she had entered the factory rapped for recognition along every nerve of her musician's body.

(To be Continued) There is something within this great throbbing factory that is so mean much to Clay Curtis. And Billy Wells discovers it.

JUDGE'S DECISION OF ILLEGALITY OF SUPPORT HEARING IN CRIMINAL CASES MAY CAUSE SWEEPING STUDY OF LAW

HOUSTON, Tex., May 17 (AP)—The decision of Judge Ray Scruggs in the case of the peace officer in a criminal case because there is a pecuniary interest in a conviction, has stirred legal circles in this city.

The ruling was based on a United States Supreme Court decision in an earlier case, with which the lawyers here are familiar. Attorneys here have divided as to its effects on the courts. Many held that it did not effect legal practice in the case of the peace officer because of the two stages. Others agree with Judge Scruggs that the Ohio case is in point and that the principle involved are identical.

In No Jurisdiction
Judge Scruggs decided that he had no jurisdiction to hear the case on appeal from the trial court and that the justice of the peace was without jurisdiction because their fees depended on conviction which in itself, he argued, was a pecuniary interest. The Ohio case pointed out that the fifth amendment of the constitution of the United States effect, it held that such a pecuniary interest was a "due process of law" which the amendment protected.

Scruggs' decision of a lower court does not fix a legal principle, but lawyers as well as judges agree, he passed upon it as the Texas criminal court and perhaps by the supreme court of the state.

Wide Consequences
Judge Scruggs' reasoning, in view of the wide probable effect, is regarded as interesting to thousands of lawyers in Texas.

A record shows that events leading up to the decision were that men were convicted in Justice Scruggs' court on charges of assault. They were fined $10, and which brought the total to $20 each. A fourth man was convicted in the same case of assault, and was fined a like amount and amounting in all to $25.45.

An appeal was taken to Judge Scruggs' court and motions to set aside the conviction were filed. The motions were granted on the grounds of lack of jurisdiction in line with Chief Justice Taft's decision in the Ohio case.

Authority Doubted
Scruggs said in his decision that if justice court had no jurisdiction that county court to which an appeal is not authorized proceeded with the trial, for if it were not properly in the jurisdiction there would be nothing to appeal.

It is contended by the defendant in the case, that in Texas the defendant has the right of taking a jury in the trial court, second if he is convicted he can appeal to the county court where the judge's fees are dependent upon conviction.

These things, it is said, distinguish the case from the Ohio case where a mayor fined a liquor violator, said mayor deriving fees of $12 only upon conviction.

Pay for Conviction
With reference to the effort proposed in the trial is presided over by the justice of the peace who has no remuneration unless the defendant is convicted. With reference to the second proposition, a defendant is entitled to a trial in the first instance before a judge is not remunerated for conducting him and should not be forced to appeal. But most strongly, it is said, that an appeal can not be taken without filing a bond and many persons are unable to give this security.

Thus it is that the extremely poor and friendless are denied that which the "doctor to do" can accomplish. One sitting in a judicial position should be unhampered with anything which would even tend to prevent his holding the balance even between both sides in the trial of a case and the law is inconsistent to provide that a defendant is presumed to be innocent until his guilt is established beyond a reasonable doubt and at the same time hold out a reward to the judge by saying "convict this man or you get no pay."

The few dollars fees involved in a similar case is only a small part of a system which involves hundreds of dollars yearly.

It does not consider the question any longer an open one. I think the question has been expressly decided by the Supreme Court of the United States, speaking through Chief Justice Taft, in the case referred to.

Highest Wind Is Had At Del Rio

HOUSTON, May 17—Del Rio heads the April record for wind velocity, L. H. Dalingfield, government meteorologist here, says in his monthly weather report and notes that it blew at the rate of 70 miles an hour there on the eleventh.

Likewise Eagle Pass and Fort McIntosh were the warmest spots in the state with a temperature of 78 degrees on the eighteenth and twenty-eighth respectively. Del Rio was the coldest point with a temperature of 24 degrees on the twenty-first. The Windfield region and Trinidad were wettest, the one with 11.25 inches of rainfall during the month and the other with 7.25 inches, or the thirteenth and fourteenth, which was the greatest amount of precipitation at any point in the state during 24 hours.

For the state as a whole, however, the monthly mean temperature was 69.4 degrees which was 2.4 degrees above normal. The monthly range was 32 degrees and the greatest daily range was 47 at Blanco on April 2.

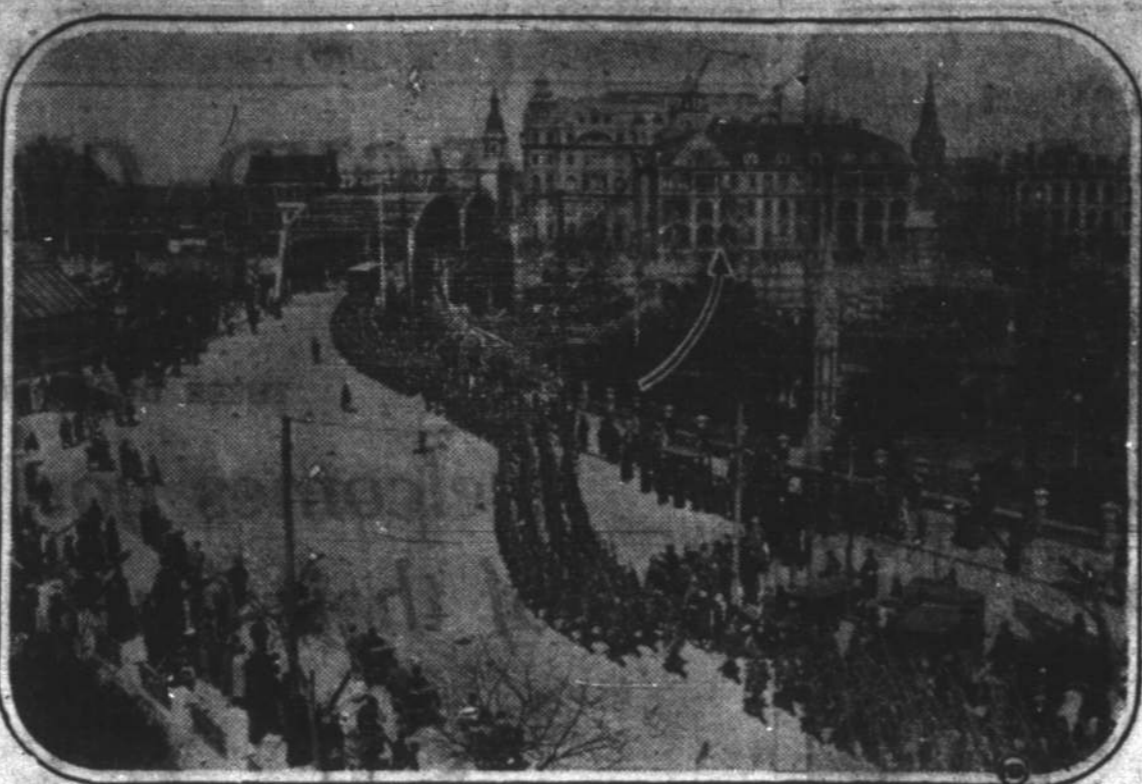

Average rainfall for the state was 3.14 inches or eleven-hundredths of an inch for the state normal. At China no rain fell in April which made it the most arid spot. As for snow fall one inch fell at Romero during the month which gave it the state record for April.

Fifteen April days were clear, 19 were cloudy and 5 partly cloudy. Prevailing direction of the wind, weather sharks may be interested in knowing, was from the south.

Dallas Naval Men To Go Upon Cruise

DALLAS, May 17 (AP)—The Dallas unit of the United States Naval Reserve will take their annual cruise to the West Indies July 1 to 17, an announcement says from Captain H. Bacon Thomas.

Accompanying them aboard the mine barge, the U. S. S. Moray, will be the Houston unit of the naval reserve.

A challenge was accepted by the Houston captain for a boat race to take place in the harbor of Havana, Cuba, July 8th. Another challenge was also accepted for a baseball game to take place some time during the cruise.

Last year the Dallas unit raced Birmingham, Ala., beating them by several lengths. A baseball game was played at the Marine barracks in Key West, Fla., against the United States Marine team stationed there and Dallas again took the lead by several scores.

Dallas reservists will leave July 1 for Houston where they will embark immediately for Galveston. They will spend two days ashore including the holiday of July 4th.

Going by the way of Key West, Fla., the reservists will arrive in Havana, Cuba, on the 9th of July for four days' liberty.
