CHAIR CLAIMS BEN ALDRIDGE EARLY TODAY

ATTACKER OF GIRLS IS EXECUTED; GOES TO DEATH CALMLY
(By Associated Press)
HUNTSVILLE, Dec. 19.—Bennie Aldridge, convicted of criminal attack upon three Dallas girls last week, died in the electric chair of the state prison here today.

Aldridge was the second man to die for the crime in such a way. Lee Roy Merriman having been executed the day after Thanksgiving Day. The men were arrested several days after they had forced the girls at the point of guns from their male companions on a highway near Dallas.

Died Calmly
Aldridge went calmly to his death. As the little green door of the execution chamber clanked shut behind the 26-year-old man, he set his lips in a grim line and walked steadily to the chair.

He was about to seat himself when Captain Homer Knight tapped him on the shoulder and asked him if he had anything to say. Aldridge at first said he had nothing to say, but after Knight repeated his question a second time, the doomed man said:

"As for my crime, I have not tried to hide anything. I hope and wish that I will be the last one to go down in this chair. I feel that good Lord will comfort me. If there is any hereafter, I feel that I will be saved."

He then turned and seated himself in the chair, the straps were adjusted and the current turned on. After the necessary shocks he was pronounced dead by the prison physician.

An eleventh hour attempt to save Aldridge was made in the filing of a petition for a sanity hearing in Dallas. Governor Dan Moody and Judge Grover Adams of Dallas, however, refused to delay the execution in order that the petition might be acted upon.

SHIP SINKS; PASSENGERS, CREW SAVED

FORT VICTORIA IS HIT BY ALGONQUIN IN NEW YORK BAY

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Rescued when their ship was sunk at the fog-hidden entrance of New York Bay, 250 passengers of the Furness-Bermuda steamship Fort Victoria were safe ashore today. Including the crew, 413 persons were saved without loss of life or injury.

The Fort Victoria was rammed amidships by the Clyde liner Algonquin at 4 p. m., yesterday as the Bermuda-bound ship stopped off Ambrose Lighthouse to drop her pilot. The Algonquin was outward-bound for Miami and Galveston with 389 passengers.

Pick Up Lifeboats
The pilot boats Sandy Hook and New Yorker, first vessels to respond to the S O S signals of the two ships picked up the lifeboats of the Fort Victoria with her passengers and most of her crew of 165.

Captain A. R. Francis and 12 of his crew remained aboard the Fort Victoria until she sank at 7:30 p. m. They were rescued by one of the tugs trying to keep her afloat.

Of the passengers who lost all their baggage with the sinking of the ship 144 were landed at Stapleton, Staten Island, by the pilot boat Sandy Hook and transferred by ferry to Manhattan. Tugs landed the others at the North River pier of the Furness-Bermuda line. The steamship company obtained hotel accommodations for the passengers.

To Return To Pier
The Algonquin, with her bows stove in, but not dangerously damaged, anchored near the scene of the collision to wait for the fog to thin before returning to her pier today. Her passengers remained aboard.

Despite the thick fog which had hung over the harbor all week the Fort Victoria left her pier on schedule at 11 a. m. with her fog siren sounding, she crept down the bay at reduced speed, feeling her way.

Most of the passengers were below decks when the engines were stopped just outside the lower bay to permit the pilot to go over the side. This was 12 miles from Manhattan.

Tears Gaping Hole
Without warning the black bow of the Algonquin clove the fog and slashed through the plates of the Fort Victoria just forward of amidships, tearing a gaping hole in her port side.

The ship rapidly developed a list as water poured into her forward hold and flooded the fire and engine rooms, stopping the generators. An emergency dynamo was started to furnish power for the radio and a few lights.

Captain J. W. MacKenzie of the Algonquin, ascertaining that his ship was in no danger, stood by, joining his S O S calls to those of the Fort Victoria. The Algonquin, being a coastwise ship had no special pilot, as required for the Fort Victoria in the bay.

Passengers upon landing said there was no panic or confusion, although many were badly frightened when ordered to don life preservers and go to their boat stations. The Fort Victoria carried 12 boats, but one was stove in.

Prize Officers
The passengers praised the conduct of the officers and crew, saying they appeared to know just what to do and went about the task of abandoning ship calmly. The rule of women and children first was strictly observed in filling the boats.

After the passengers and crew were off, the Algonquin was lashed to one side of the Fort Victoria and four salvage tugs to the other in an effort to tow her to a drydock or into shallow water, but the stricken vessel continued to list to starboard and finally went down.

"Well, Mister Cow seems quite all right," said Santa. "Push him out of sight. He'll simply have to stand and wait till I hold up my sleigh. When some tot gets him Christmas morn, he'll be the happiest youngster born. I hate to part with him, but I must soon give him away."
"I'll stay upon his back and ride," wee Clowzy very loudly cried. "The rest of you can push me and we'll have a lot of fun. And so the Tines pushed real quick. The way the cow pulled on was slick. "Hurray!" exclaimed kind Coppy.

Paris Man Charged In Accident Death

PARIS, Dec. 19. (AP)—R. V. Perry of Paris today was bound over to the district court without bail at a preliminary hearing at Antiers, Oka, in connection with the death of George Christopher, also of Paris, near Antiers Sunday.

A negro, who was given a ride by the men, testified Perry was driving a motor truck that overturned on a sharp turn, resulting in Christopher's death.

Nearly 400 of England's 1928 brides were 70 years of age or over, it was learned today from a survey assured that they will soon be found.

So Santa sent them here and there and, my, you should have seen their tear. Brave Coppy drew an interesting job that he thought fine. Said Santa Claus, "If you don't mind, some wooden soldiers you can find. Please tell them all to dress up nice and form into a line."

"And then will come your turn for fun. Hand everyone of them a gun, and then they will be ready for their trip within my sleigh." Off Coppy ran. "You bet I will," he shouted. "This will be a thrill. And, as he handed out the guns, the soldiers yelled, "Hurray!" (The bunch laugh again at Clowzy in the next story.)

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: Because you receive so many letters from unhappy married people, I thought I would like to tell you of something that happened to my husband and I, but we are still happy, though it was a hard test for our love, especially a man's."

"I am 20 years old, have been married almost two years. At times I am very sad because one of my most cherished dreams has been destroyed. All my life I have dearly loved children."

"Nearly five months ago I gave birth to a baby boy who lived only a few minutes. I didn't even see him, although I try to picture in my mind how he must have looked. I nearly lost my life, and since then I have had two serious, but successful operations from the effects of child birth. Doctors advise me never to have any more children."

"My husband is a very patient man. Even though this was a terrible blow to him he never shows it. Many times I have been cross and irritable, but he remains the same loving, patient husband. He does everything under the sun to make me happy."

"Even though a childless life seems hard, an unhappy married life surely must be such worse."

"We wish to extend our sympathies to all those who are not happily married. HAPPY LOU."

I am sorry for your grief over the dear baby, Happy Lou, but so glad you were spared, and know that is the way your husband feels. Why not adopt a child when you feel stronger? Or, better, two, as one child should not be brought up alone unless it is necessary. There are so many dear little children in the world who have no parents, that it seems a shame you and your nice husband should not have the comfort of children, and some dear little one should not have the love and protection that you could give them.

Thank you very much for your sweet letter.

BILLY S.: I certainly do not think it was true love on the part of your boy friend, Billy. I see no connection at all between you breaking a date and his asking you to marry a thing. I am inclined to think you were lucky to find him out before you married him.

I don't believe in lying about dates or anything else. Billy, I see no connection at all between you breaking a date and his asking you to marry a thing. I am inclined to think you were lucky to find him out before you married him.

If he does not come back and apologize, I feel you should try to forget him, although I know that is a thing that is glibly said and hard to do.

READER: Don't try to "ramp" the boy away from his girl friend. If he wants to go with you, tell him to break with her first.

BLUE EYES: Now, my dear, how do you think I could get the boy friend back for you? If he cares he will come back, and how would you feel if I came to you, lugging him by the coat collar, when he didn't want to come? Don't pester him, either to come to see you, just be jolly and friendly when you see him and maybe he will want to come.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am an everyday reader of your column. I am 18 years of age and married. My husband is the same age."

"Now Virginia, I love him and he seems to care for other girls. He lies to me—and I catch him later, but he doesn't seem to care. I started to leave but he begged me to stay."

"I also have some pictures of other boys I've gone with before meeting him. Do you think it worth while to destroy them? JUST BERT."

If the pictures are making trouble in your home, I'd destroy every one. Bert, dear, you are both very young, and realizing your husband is nothing but a boy, it is largely up to you to make a success of your marriage. Girls of 18 are generally older than boys the same age. Make up your mind that you will not quarrel. This you will keep a happy home, that you will not let him see that you feel jealous when he "plays around" with other people, as long as he loves you. It probably does not mean a thing except that he is young and doesn't want to feel restrained to be "as wise as a serpent and as gentle as a dove," and may happiness attend you, my dear.

Wesley Group Has Gay Function Here

A wintry and snowball party was given in the church parlor of the First Methodist church Wednesday afternoon when members of the Wesley Sunday school class held their annual Christmas entertainment.

Hostesses were women whose last names begin with P. G. H. T. J. or K, since the class entertains alphabetically.

Mrs. H. W. Sims directed a program which was quite unique beginning with the arrival of Mrs. Santa Claus who apologized for the absence of her husband because of the busy season. She was introduced by Jack Frost, whose part was played by little Gene Kenneth Jackson. Following a reading by Mrs. Santa Claus, a huge snowball rolled into the room and out jumped a fairy, Mollie Davis. Miss Davis also gave reading.

The three visitors served snowballs which were popcorn balls rolled in white paper, and bags of candy to the 64 guests.

During the afternoon Mrs. H. L. Mungler sang a Christmas song.

Those present were Mesdames George Duval, George Foster, Fred Owens, D. H. Mansell, Lee Coleman, J. G. Biffle and W. A. Childers.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, January 5, in the home of Mrs. George Duval, 906 Avenue Q.

A bowl of poinsettias formed the centerpiece for the dining table where a turkey dinner was served. Red tapers were at the four corners, and the Yuletide theme was used in the place cards.

A number of informal games and puzzles were directed by Mrs. Ross Mae Burford after dinner and prizes were given. Later two gifts were distributed to each member from the tree. Radio music was a diversion throughout the evening.

Those attending the function were Mesdames Leo Buchanan, Beulah Galbraith, Lela Frazer, M. N. Hale, Lou Stubbs, O. E. Turner, Mabel Dunlap, Mollie D. Abernathy, Ethel Scoble and Ross Mae Burford. HILL MYSTERY

Testified for two hours, contending that on the night last March he was to have married Tilar he "got drunk" with the men on trial, fell from his mule and was slightly injured. He said because she wished to postpone the ceremony he left the community not to return until he heard of her story that he had been slain.

Had Not Divorced Wife

He said he had a wife from whom he had not obtained a divorce, but that they had been separated for several years. He gave his correct name as Marston Franklin Rogers, a son by a former marriage of Mrs. Lily Baker. Through a comparison of handwriting defense attorneys endeavored to show he had written a letter from this community last spring to a state hospital, from which he said he escaped in 1927.

The four men on trial were Herman Greenway, Hubert Hester, Joe White and Bill Younger.

Closing arguments of counsel centered about the identity of the man who said he was Franklin. Names of residents of the St. James community who had accepted him as the man supposedly slain and names of those who argued he was not Franklin were used frequently. The defense spoke of a "deep conspiracy" against the men on trial.

EXTENSIVE RAILROAD EXPANSION IN TEXAS PANHANDLE IS RECOMMENDED

traversed about 189 miles of new road.

Construction that would be denied was estimated to cost about $4,276,580.

Lines Controlled

The St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas is a subsidiary of the St. Louis-San Francisco. The Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf is controlled by the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific, after the Santa Fe controls the Clinton-Oklahoma-Western.

Under the application the Frisco and Rock Island intend to furnish a through and shorter route than is now available to those carriers from northern Texas and southwestern Oklahoma to Fort Worth and Dallas, and the examiner considered them as interdependent and presenting a single plan for serving the territory traversed.

Completed in Short Time

The proposed construction by the Frisco would extend from the connection with its line at Vernon to connection with the Gulf, Texas, and Western at Seymour, distance 43 miles. It would cost approximately $1,709,744 and would be begun 60 days after the issuance of the permit.

New construction of the Rock Island would extend from Shamrock through Wellington to the connection with the St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas at a point approximately five miles north of Quanah and from Quanah to a connection with the proposed Vernon-Seymour line of the Frisco at Beaver Creek, 126 miles. It would cost about $4,217,834 and would be completed within eighteen months after the work started.

To Supply Oil Field

Construction by the Santa Fe from Heaton to a point east of LeFors, about nine miles, would cost approximately $375,000 and would be completed within 6 months. The road set forth that it was intended to furnish transportation facilities for plants producing casing-head gasoline and carbon black near its terminus and to serve an area of approximately 133 square miles in the central part of Gray county.

In recommending a denial of the application by the Fort Worth & Denver a subsidiary of the Burlington, Examiner Sullivan pointed out that this construction would extend from Childress, a point on the Fort Worth & Denver City, through Wellington to Shamrock and to Pampa, distance approximately 110 miles, and would cost about $4,276,580. The Burlington contends this construction would advance the development of the oil industry in that section and promote agricultural growth.

Examiner Sullivan held, however, that the Burlington's claim that the area to be traversed is naturally tributary to its system is refuted by a study of the map contained in the record. Three principal towns on the route, he said, Wellington, Shamrock and Pampa, are now served by Missouri Kansas Texas, The Rock Island and Santa Fe, respectively.

EDGE BECOMES AMBASSADOR

PARIS, Dec. 19.—Walter E. Edge, who succeeded the late Myron T. Herrick, at the American embassy in Paris, presented his credentials to President Doumergue in a simple but impressive ceremony today and became a full fledged ambassador.

Mr. Edge dispensed with the French cavalry escort usually provided for such occasions and went to the Elysee Palace in one of the president's limousines. President Doumergue greeted him with more than ordinary cordiality and replied to his remarks with real enthusiasm.

"Common struggles for glory in the past and the love of liberty and justice have united us forever," he said Mr. Edge after assuring him that the French people were animated by the same cordial sympathy toward America as the ambassador had expressed for France.

MULE SURVIVES

Mine Blast Fails To Claim Life Of Animal

McALESTER, Okla., Dec. 19 (AP)—Another survivor was added to the list of the rescued yesterday as squads labored removing bodies from the Old Town Coal company's mine, wrecked Tuesday by an explosion.

Scorning all rescue workers, this survivor, a gaunt black mule sauntered out of the shaft, solemnly surveyed crowds gathered around the mouth of the mine, and then sought shelter and a square meal in a nearby barn.

The survivor escaped somehow the deadly gases that floated through the entries and passageways. The mule existed at the foot of the shaft Wednesday afternoon and after standing around to watch rescue squads come and go, for an hour or more, trudged up the steep slope toward his old home in the barn and the welcome box of oats.

REBELLION IN CHINA BROKEN

PRESIDENT KAISHEK ANNOUNCES ARMY IN CONTROL

(By Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 19.—President Chiang Kai-Shek announced today that local forces had broken the back of the rebellion which had brought the nationalist government "to the brink of collapse."

The government forces, he asserted, had been victorious in the several areas in which the rebels took up arms.

The revolt, however, said Chiang was the most serious crisis which the government had experienced.

Communist, or red troops, however, continued to prepare in unoccupied areas which were looted. The government dispatched 1,000 soldiers from Wuhan to break up a formidable organization in Hupoh province. The communists were believed to have units throughout the Yangtze valley, and were expected to give the government serious trouble before dispersed.

OIL PERMITS BILL PASSED

APPROVAL IS GIVEN TO BILL INTRODUCED BY LATE SENATOR

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Approval was given by the senate today to a bill introduced by the late Senator Warren of Wyoming to extend existing oil and gas prospecting permits on public lands for years, and the measure now goes to the house.

Calling the bill up, Senator Kendrick, democrat, Wyoming, asked for its immediate adoption and no objection was interposed.

The bill had the endorsement of the interior department, and was unanimously approved by the lands committee. It would give Secretary Wilbur authority to extend all of the present permits where the permit holders can show legitimate and meritorious claims for extension.

Chairman Nye of the lands committee said off the floor that the measure had no effect on President Hoover's announced policy of declining to issue new permits for prospecting on the government lands.

"BREAKS" MAY DECIDE SCHOOL BOY FOOTBALL TITLE OF TEXAS

FIVE-CORNERED TIAA CAGE RACE FIGHT LOOMS

TWO ELEVENS BALANCED FOR TITLE GAME

PORT ARTHUR IS GIVEN TRADITIONAL WIN BY BRECK STRONG

The Breckenridge-Fort Arthur championship battle at Waco Saturday promises to draw the largest crowd in the history of the interscholastic league. With two evenly balanced football machines pitted in the struggle for the schoolboy title in Texas and the famous Cotton Palace gridiron as the setting, the stage is set for a colorful combat.

Waco is recognized as one of the best football cities in the state and its central location will allow fans to pour into the magnificent Cotton Palace from all sections of Texas. It appears certain that thousands of grid enthusiasts from other points will get their first opportunity to witness a football game on the grid in the state capital building. We've often wondered how the folks down in Central Texas would get their directions if it were not for the Amicable building.

These who are predicting a walk-away for the Buckaroos and Yellow Jackets are sure to be disappointed. We have been grossly misled. Tom Dennis' scrappy Yellow Jackets from the lowlands of the Gulf coast region are vastly improved over the club that lost to Abilene in the 1928 finale. The club shows unlimited power in crushing the highly-touted Brownville Eagles and later the Denton Broncos, but the most impressive point about Port Arthur's record this season has been its defensive powers.

Breckenridge undoubtedly has a more potent offense than the South Texas eleven, but the Jackets are certain to be in there battling to the last ditch against the fleet backs of Coach Shotwell. We seriously doubt that the Buckaroos can score two touchdowns on Port Arthur and unless they can, the Oil Belt team has no chance at the championship.

South Texas has never won a state championship and the Jackets are certain to give every ounce they have to turn this title over to Tom Dennis and Port Arthur.

The addition of Jake Hanna to the list of backs who will carry the ball for the Southwest all-star eleven in its battle with the Big Ten aggregation at Dallas on New Year's day will give Ray Morrison a stellar quartet of backs to send out against the mid-western team coached by Jimmy Phelan. Although he has played four years with a second rate school, Hanna is recognized as one of the greatest backs ever produced in the southwest. Put the Centenary flash in the same backfield with Howard Grubbs of T. C. U., Tommy Miller of Texas A. and M. and Dick Miller of Arkansas and you will have a dangerous combination. Morrison is likely to show the huskies from the Western Conference a few tricks when he gets this corps of ball voters in action. Any one of the leading teams in the Southwest Conference could present a stronger threat than this all-star club that is whipped together in a few days, but nevertheless, the charity affair will furnish an interesting comparison between the class of football played in the southeast and the middle west.

Jimmy Phelan is another product of Notre Dame that has made a name for himself in the coaching profession. After giving Purdue its first Big Ten championship, Phelan has now accepted the position of head mentor at the University of Washington. It has been suggested that newspapers will have to change their standing head, "Stage Fears Purdue," to "Washington Worries Warner." Already Pacific coast fans are predicting bright things for the Huskies under the guiding hand of Phelan.

While we're on the subject of Rooker's coaching school, we might give a short but snappy cheer for another able alumnus of the well-known Catholic institution—Chuck Collins, head coach at the University of North Carolina. The achievements of Collins will be a credit to the ranks with Slip Madigan of St. Mary's, Elmer Layden of Duquesne, Jimmy Phelan and even the great Rooker himself.

North Carolina won nine of its ten games and piled up a grand total of 246 points to beat the record of any Tar Heel gridiron crew in history. The club was knocked out of the Southern Conference title by a 19-12 defeat at the hands of Georgia. This happened a week after North Carolina had started the downfall of Georgia Tech's champions. Otherwise the 26-year-old Collins' crew beat all opposition by top-sided margins.

Collins was a star end at Notre Dame in 1924 when the "Four Horsemen" dealt terror to the hearts of all opposing players.

Tulsa Professional Awarded $350 Prize
SAN GABRIEL, Cal., Dec. 19. (AP)—Clarence Clark, Tulsa, Okla., professional, officially was awarded the $300 first prize today as winner of the San Gabriel professional-amateur golf tournament.

Clark, with his amateur partner, Nick McInery of San Bernardino, Cal., toured the 18 holes yesterday in 63, one stroke better than seven teams who tied for second honors in the best ball event.

The seven teams who tied with 64 for second split the remainder of the $1,000 prize among the professionals, each professional receiving $224.

Two well-balanced football elevens who have never experienced the thrill of the state championship are pitted in the schoolboy classic of 1929 on the Cotton Palace gridiron at Waco Saturday afternoon.

For the Breckenridge Buckaroos it is the first adventure past the district race. Port Arthur has been in the finals, reaching that stage against Abilene in 1928.

Three Hot Trade Abilene, Waco and Oak Cliff of Dallas have hogged the titles in previous years but these have been pushed aside this year and either a Buckaroo or a Yellow Jacket will rule the toposm pinnacle of the interscholastic league.

Should Port Arthur follow in the steps of its predecessors in the finals, it is destined to grab off the state title and bring the first championship to south Texas. Down through the years the path to the schoolboy throne in Texas has followed an almost identical route. It has apparently been the custom to reach the finals and then on the following year ascend to the throne.

Breckenridge Strong
To duplicate history, the scrappy Jackets from the Gulf Coast region must defeat one of the most formidable high school teams in the history of the league organization—the Intercollegiate League, the title of the Buckaroos has established the Oil Belt team as slight favorites over the South Texas entry.

Since Cleburne and Houston Heights battled to a scoreless tie in 1920, the inaugural year of the Texas Intercollegiate League, the finals have seen a member of the Waco, Abilene and Oak Cliff dynasty. The Leopards from Dallas made their debut in 1921, dropping a 35 to 13 decision to the Bryan eleven.

Two Are Out
In the following year Waco and Abilene made bids into the royal court. The Tigers clawed to the Eagles to the tune of 13 to 10 at the old Panther Park in Ft. Worth. The succeeding year found Abilene riding the crest by defeating Waco 31 to 0 in Dallas.

Since the years 1922 and 1923 Waco and Abilene have won the distinction of having reached the finals and won more titles than any other high schools in the state. Waco has been in the finals six times and won four championships. Abilene has participated in the title combat four times and taken two first honors while Oak Cliff follows with one title in three attempts.

Scene Is Famous
The Cotton Palace gridiron at Waco, made famous by the glorious tradition of Tyson's Tigers will be the scene of Saturday's battle. There is no high school football field in the state that represents more color than Waco's battle ground. It will seem strange Saturday for the Waco lads to sit by and see two "foreign" teams dig their cleats in the turf they have defended so well in the last ten years.

Great interest is being shown in the schoolboy classic, and the crowd is expected to be almost as large as if Waco was represented on the field. Tiger fans are particularly interested in seeing the Buckaroos who put Waco out of the running last year.

Pick Breckenridge
The majority of experts have packed Breckenridge to take the Port Arthur into camp, but the same observers expect it to be a closely fought battle. The Oil Belt team will hold a slight weight advantage.

Following a stiff scrimmage Wednesday against Breckenridge plays, the Yellow Jackets of Tom Dennis will send his charges through a light workout this afternoon before leaving for Waco. A final session on the Cotton Palace field will close the training period for the South Texans. A special train will carry approximately 500 Port Arthur fans to Waco.

RUNAWAY PENNANT RACES HURTING INTEREST IN LEAGUES; SPLIT-SEASONS MAY RESULT IF ONE-SIDED PLAY CONTINUES

BY JAY VESSELLS
Sports Editor
(Associated Press Feature Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—Another year like 1929 in the majors and they will be talking about a split season.

That is how one-sided the "races" were.

The Athletics didn't give any of the other seven American League clubs a look in after June 1 when they had a five-game lead.

In the National, the Cubs established their monopoly one month later.

Philadelphia checked in 18 games ahead of the second place Yankees, and Chicago loafed across the finish line ten and one-half games in front of the Pirates, the runnersup.

Nothing but an old-fashioned seven-game world's series could have saved the season. This was not forthcoming and from the standpoint of competition, the championship engagement which the Mackmen won, four games to one, was just as devoid of thrills as the regular program.

Outcome Popular
The outcome was popular, however. Perhaps nothing could have brought greater satisfaction than to have Connie Mack, one of the game's greatest figures, mould another world championship team.

Philadelphia's successful drive was scarcely less noteworthy than the failure of the New York Yankees, the pre-season favorites.

Players Change
Some relief to the drab pennant chase was afforded by the individual play of several young and re-modelled players. Lefty O'Doul, a New York Giant castoff, showed great batting form throughout the season and was the only major leaguer to hit 400. This gave Lefty the National League batting title.

Sharing the National League spotlight with O'Doul was another Philadelphia swatter—Chuck Klein, a graduate of the Three-I League, celebrated his first full season in the majors by hitting 40 homers and setting a new National League record.

Fernes Back
Low Fonseca, came back from the minors to help put Cleveland back on the baseball map in a surprise showing that gave him the league batting championship and qualified the veteran for the most valuable player award as indicated in an unofficial consensus obtained by The Associated Press.

Like O'Doul, Fonseca had a rival for high honors right on his own club. Twenty-year-old Wesley Ferrell of the map. Pitching his first big league baseball, Ferrell won 21 ball games and established himself as about the best young pitching prospect in the majors.

Two other first year men ranked with the record breakers. Johnny Frederick, Brooklyn outfielder, set a new National League mark for two baggers with 52 for the year, and Earl Clark, Boston fly shagger, turned a new record by handling 13 chances in a single game. He had 12 put-outs and one assist.

The colorless contests for the flags were marked by an unusual number of managerial changes, two of which were made before the season ended. The Cardinals shifted from Billy Southworth to Bill McKechnie in mid-year and with two months to go Dome Bush stepped out at Pittsburgh in favor of Jewel

"DARK HORSE" MAY EMERGE IN SCRAMBLE

HOST OF TALENT TURNS OUT FOR TEAMS IN 11 SCHOOLS

(By Associated Press)
SAN MARCO, Dec. 19.—A tight five-cornered fight between North Texas Teachers, Southwest Texas Teachers, East Texas Teachers, Stephen F. Austin, and Abilene Christian college is being forecast in the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association basketball race.

There will be eleven quints in the scramble, and a "dark horse" might emerge from one of the six schools not listed in the top bracket. One coach has advised sports writers to "watch the advised sports." T. L. A. basketball is consistently strong, and no team has ever been able to spread-eagle the field.

Two Issue Warning
Two teams, the Southwest Texas Teachers and North Texas Teachers, already have issued fair warning by decisive victories over Southwest conference outfits in practice bouts. The Southwest Bobcats trounced the Texas Longhorns and the Eagles gave Southern Methodist a 26 to 14 beating. The North Texans have five lettermen and what is said to be the greatest team ever to represent the school.

Daniel Baker, champion last year, lost his two great stars, Miller and Chambers, and is not expected to be in the top tier this season. Conference teams heaved a sigh of relief when Miller, highpoint man of the association for four straight years, hung up his uniform.

A. C. C. Is Strong
Abilene Christian college with seven lettermen returning, promises to make a strong bid for the title and a warning has gone out to watch Stephen F. Austin, whom six veterans are available to Coach Bob Shelton. The East Texas Teachers are said to have a powerful lot of talent. Sam Houston will put seven lettermen on the floor, including the brilliant Doyle Coe.

Of the other four schools in the circuit, the West Texas Teachers are expected to be the most troublesome. They will have five veterans from last year's team. Little is known of the strength of Sul Ross, McMurry and the College of Arts and Industries newest member of the Conference. They can be counted upon to give their share of the opposition, however.

The Southwest Texas Bobcats here have possibly their greatest team in history. Coach Shands has built the works about Day Brandt, speedy center, and the team already is working as a unit. There are seven lettermen.

TEXAS CAGERS VISION FLAG

LONGHORN TEAM SHOW UP STRONG IN EARLY PRACTICE TILTS

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Dec. 19.—Despite the fact that all their early games are on strange courts the University of Texas cagers, who were runner-up last year, have visions of a Southwest Conference championship this season.

Early games have demonstrated that Coach Fred Walker's chief problem is to find a forward to replace Holly Brock, who led the conference in scoring last year. Wilson Elkins of San Antonio, who was busy with football until Thanksgiving, may be the man, or "Big U" Rose of Dallas, another gridster, may pair with "Sug" Camp of San Gabriel at the goal-shooting positions and let James Pomby of Austin do the tip-off work.

Less Two Guards
The Steers lost Jake Loney and Steve Wray from the guard posts, but the work of Earl Taylor of Austin has offset that loss considerably. Captain Nona Rees of San Antonio, rounding into shape after the football season, will be at one guard. Frank Chisham of San Antonio, letterman, and Red Vining of Pine Bluff, Ark., are other good guards.

Early games were scheduled away from Austin to give workmen time to complete the $500,000 gymnasium, seating 7500 persons. The first home game will be with Baylor, Jan. 25. Before that time the Longhorns must play Rice at Houston, Jan. 7; Baylor at Waco, Jan. 11, and two games with Arkansas at Fayetteville, Jan. 17-18. Threw Money Away She Says
 Breckenridge, Texas, Housewife Spent Hundreds Of Dollars Seeking Health; Orgatone Restores Her
 "My troubles have been completely over come since I began taking Orgatone and I'm enjoying the best health I have had in six years," said Mrs. M. L. McCormick, of 302 South First St., Breckenridge, Texas.
 "I spent several thousand dollars for medicines and treatments and underwent six different operations," she continued, "but it was just money thrown away for I never got any relief from my suffering until I commenced taking Orgatone. I was practically an invalid for six years and all my trouble was caused by the awful condition of my stomach. A great part of the time I was confined to my bed, simply too weak to be up. I could eat but very little and that disagreed with me so I suffered terribly from gas. To make matters worse, I was attacked by nervousness which caused me no end of suffering and misery. I never got a good night's sleep and would wake up in the morning feeling as tired and worn out as when I went to bed."
 "Well, I have just finished my fourth bottle of Orgatone and it is wonderful the way I have improved. I feel so well and strong. I do all my house work without the least trouble. My appetite is fine and nothing disagrees with me. I have already gained eight pounds in weight and I sleep restfully and get up feeling refreshed every morning. The constipation has entirely disappeared and Orgatone deserves every bit of the credit."
 Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store.

THERE WILL BE PLENTY OF YULETIDE CHEER, PROHIBITION CHIEF DORAN SAYS, BUT DOUBLE-CROSSING BOOTLEGGERS MAY PALM OFF A LOT OF TERRIBLE STUFF

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—There will be plenty of liquor available for the Christmas season, he says, but not quite as much as heretofore.

That is the Yuletide message of Dr. James M. Doran, U. S. prohibition commissioner. He plans no spectacular drive for the holiday season, he says. Nor does he suggest that the country has been dried up or even that liquor is very hard to get.

This isn't a weather map, but it forecasts a wet Christmas season for the United States, showing just where the holiday liquor is coming from.

Students of prohibition agree that there probably will be as much liquor unseized and available during the holiday season as federal prohibition agents seized last year. Some think a lot more. But assuming that it's about the same, that would make 73,000,000 glasses of spirits—whisky, gin, brandy and alcohol; 23,300,000 pints of beer and about 5,500,000 glasses of wine.

matic immunity from their government. The district attorney also declared he had no intention of resigning, which had been suggested in some quarters as one way to clarify the situation resulting from the closing of the consulate.

There is no town in the country where a man can't get a drink, Dr. Doran says there undoubtedly are some such places, but no one seems to know just where they are. "I can't say from personal experience," says Dr. Doran, "but I know that it's harder to get in some places than in others."
