Election Costs Man Day in Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—(P)—Governor Smith's defeat cost William A. Jackson a day in jail. Jackson agreed with Corporal Ted Herring of the police department, "If Al Smith isn't elected, I'll spend 24 hours in the darkest cell you've got."

Rancher's Dog Saves Master

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 15.—(P)—"Prince", a dog used by Henry Smith, rancher, 25 miles northeast of Cheyenne, on a coyote hunt early this week, brought a message to his master's ranch house yesterday apprising the family of the fact that Smith was lying, seriously injured, several miles away.

The dog remained with him throughout Tuesday night. Yesterday Smith, despairing of the possibility of reaching help, took his gold watch and scratched a message on the back of it, detailing his location. He tied the watch to the dog's collar and gave the command, "Home."

Half an hour later, Prince appeared at the back door of the ranch and the message was delivered. A rescue party found Smith within two hours.

New Hale Center Railroad Refused

Interstate Commerce Commission Denies Application Of Santa Fe For Extension To Farmerton

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The application of the Peeco and Northwestern Texas railway was denied an application for construction of 60 miles of line from Hale Center to Farmerton, the Interstate Commerce Commission was advised today by an examiner.

The proposed line would not serve the public convenience, the examiner declared, because it would parallel the new line of the Fort Worth and Denver South Plains Railway company at an average distance of 12 miles and would divert from the Peeco system a large part of the traffic that it otherwise might secure.

Approximately 100 Whirling Bits Are Sent Tearing Down In Maud and Mission Pools In Oklahoma In Mad Rush for "Black Gold"; 10,000 Make Camps

(By Associated Press)

SHAWNEE, Okla., Nov. 15.—Nearly a hundred whirling drills were tearing through the surface of the earth tonight in the Maud and Mission pools of the greater Seminole oil area in a race for "Black Gold" hidden in its vitals.

From a state of virtual inactivity to one bustling with life and industry, the fields were transformed by the termination of a drilling restriction agreed on by operators who cooperated in holding down production of the flush Seminole area. The fields have been held in check since their discovery because the flood of oil in other parts of the area was depressing the entire national industry.

The exact number of new wells spotted in simultaneously this morning had not been definitely determined late today, since no permits were required from the state corporation commission as they were during the shut-down period. It

Senator Borah Not Expected To Be Appointed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The nation now looks forward to the four years following March 4. For those four years, at least, Herbert Hoover, the engineer, the director of relief and the man who has promised to maintain prosperity for those who have it and to introduce it to those who have it not.

As every American analyzes for himself the results of the election, three important questions arise but they must remain in the realm of speculation until they are answered by developments which cannot now be foretold.

1. Will Herbert Hoover's administration represent merely four more years of republicanism or the Harding-Coolidge stamp or will it provide a new type of rule, a period of aggressive, intelligent conservatism?

2. What will be the effect on the "noble experiment" known as prohibition?

3. What will become of the democratic party and its Smith?

Some indication of the correct answer to the first question may be provided when Hoover picks his cabinet. At the moment, however, there is nothing to indicate that the Hoover cabinet will be composed of men of personal distinction in great excess of the present ministry. In view of the makeup of the Coolidge cabinet, an improvement in caliber is virtually certain.

State Post Open

Two men have been mentioned as possible successors to Secretary of State Kellogg — Senator Borah and Ambassador Dwight Morrow. Either would fill the office ably, but it is quite likely that some other man will fill this post.

Borah appreciates the prestige as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and it is not at all certain that he would accept the cabinet job, while he had the opportunity to represent the administration in the Senate. Morrow, on the other hand, is a close friend of Calvin Coolidge rather than a close friend of Hoover. It is so easy for Joyce Shepard, convicted under the name of Bill Smith for Owens' slaying, is under death sentence. He recently was granted a 90-day execution stay.

Vestris' Radioman Keeps Devotion To Code of The Sea; Dies At His Key

Detailed Story of Sinking of Ship Being Written On Official Government Record As Survivors Give Bits Of Interesting Stories About Great Disaster

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The detailed story of the sinking of the Vestris was being written on the official government records today as survivors of the rescue fleet came to port with living and dead.

Scattered families were reunited, and survivors were found by joyous relatives and friends. But in other quarters only sorrow prevailed as twenty-two bodies were laid out for identification or as officials shook their heads negatively in answer to anxious queries of those seeking some word of the unreported.

Death List Now 114
At the end of the day, all the rescue fleet had reached port or was near it, and the latest count of those who had survived and who were lost failed to improve the list of 114 dead. Thirteen bodies were brought to New York on the destroyer Shaw.

Through the day more details of the disaster that sent the liner to the bottom 250 miles off Hampton Roads Monday afternoon came from survivors.

One story, told by Dave Botten, a fireman on the Vestris, related how the "black gang" of the stoke hold stayed at their furnaces until water that first had started to pour through a half open port coal door virtually engulfed them and finally sent them clambering up a ladder to the listing deck of the ship.

Added to Other Stories
This account was added to stories of shifting cargo, weak bulkheads, inefficient launching of lifeboats and delay in calling for help. Combined, each feature went to make up the tragic tale of the short-lived voyage for 328 persons—128 of them passengers—who left New York Saturday for Barbados and South America.

The stories of two men never will be heard. Captain William Cary went down with his ship and never will answer the criticism against him and his crew for their work in meeting the disaster. Neither will Michael J. O'Loughlin, radio operator, ever tell how and why he stayed at his key until he was unable to save himself.

But his devotion to the radioman's code of the sea has been an outstanding tale of heroism in the entire account of the wreck and his name will be inscribed on the monuments in Battery Park erected to the memory of wireless men who have "kept the record unsullied."

DALLAS, Nov. 15. (AP)—Church activities of Baptist women and the care of Baptist children in Texas engaged attention of several hundred messengers and others attending the second day's session of the Texas Baptist Missionary association convention here today.

An echo of the defalcation of mission funds of the Southern Baptist association recently by the organization's treasurer at Atlanta, Ga., was heard in a resolution adopted that accounts of Texas Missions be audited and published.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
JERRY RAY thinks that love is a delusion and decides to marry for money. Her plans for a vacation at Atlantic City are spoiled by the loss of the money she had denied herself to save. Nothing remains but to go camping with her roommate MYRTLE on the north shore of Long Island.

Their camp is wrecked when an airplane owned by ALESTER CARSTAIRS crashes into it. The escapee is injured, but Jerry is picked up unconscious by DAN HARVEY, the pilot. Alester drives her to the doctor, who finds that her injury is not serious.

On the way back, Alester stops at an inn for dinner and seems amused when Jerry refuses a drink. He introduces her to LEONTINE LEBAUDY, who invites them to a big party. Alester shows Jerry a gay time during her two weeks' vacation and tells her that he loves her madly but does not ask her to marry him. Myrtle warns her against him, but a letter from her mother revealing poverty and illness decides her to continue her efforts to win Alester. But how will she be able to purchase a suitable frock for the party he has invited her to?

Unable to borrow enough from Myrtle to buy the new gown, Jerry gave way to the temptation to take a last tunic from the store where she worked for the evening—intending to slip it back in stock the next morning before it could be missed.

Alester gave her orchids to wear, so that her appearance satisfied her but Leontine and her friends taunted her into drinking. Her dancing partner, urged by a jeering crowd, throws her in the pool to bring her to, Dan appears and drags her out after knocking her unconscious down. He wants to take her home but Alester calls him "imprudent" and takes her home himself. Jerry is in a panic when she realizes what has happened to the dress. She decides to confess to the manager. He is kind but says he must discharge her.

There was no denying it. Every time she saw him she thought she felt a little deeper in love with him... not enough yet to cause her to throw up all plans for the future she urgently desired but enough to rob that hoped for future of much of its glamor.

Was she, at last, on the brink of the chasm that had swallowed Doris and the rest of her friends? No, no, she must remember, not matter how much she might love Dan Harvey, that love did not last. What was that immortal wisecrack about the diamond bracelet? Well, that was true. It did last forever. But a kas...

Was she, at last, on the brink of the chasm that had swallowed Doris and the rest of her friends? No, no, she must remember, not matter how much she might love Dan Harvey, that love did not last. What was that immortal wisecrack about the diamond bracelet? Well, that was true. It did last forever. But a kas...

Clothes were an asset. She remembered the way prospective employers had appraised her cheap unattractive dresses when she had first made the rounds looking for a job in New York. She had aspired to something higher than the laces she wanted something in the dress department. But her appearance was against her, she realized later.

She managed to get into the laces however, because she proved to the personnel director at Fane's that she was familiar with them. Hadn't her mother washed and mended for many years the fine pieces belonging to Martinehead's limited aristocracy?

"Well, try and not look like you'd never be able to eat lollipops again," Myrtle advised her. "No one would give a job to a long mug like yours. And don't worry about the rest. I'll pay it this week."

"You're a brick, Myrtle," Jerry assured her. "I'll go out the first thing Monday morning to look for work. But what will I say was the reason I left Fane's?"

"You'd better tell all interested parties that you got the gate," Myrtle said seriously. "And refer them to Fane's for the reason. Mr. Barlow won't give you a black eye. It's in your favor that you laid your cards face up without being caught. But I'll bet that special dick gets a chance to park his 'dogs' on the carpet."

The last words came in a mumble. Myrtle was bent over, applying polish to her pumps. Jerry noticed a run in her stocking. She went over to the dresser and got out a pair from her drawer. They were the best she owned.

"Going to a dance with George, aren't you?" she asked. Myrtle wagged her head. "You'd better wear these stockings then," Jerry said and tossed the stolen hose to her. The latter squealed with delight.

"You ought to come with us," she said a few minutes later. "Honestly, George won't mind," she added pulling a wide hat down on the side of her forehead.

"Thank," Jerry returned. "I've got to press a dress and wash my hair."

Myrtle went without her. Sometimes she resented her roommate's aloofness with George and the boy friends she had begged him to introduce to Jerry. But she knew how Jerry felt tonight—that she hadn't the least desire to go out. And judging from the smatches of information she had been able to obtain from her, things hadn't gone so well between Jerry and Alester either.

Jerry grimaced. After she had lost her job trying to impress him, Dan was through with her, too, because she hadn't tried to play up to him. It looked as if she had been completely annihilated.

The telephone rang while she was pressing the dress she would wear the next morning. The door was partly open to provide air circulation. It was a warm night, she could hear the landlady take down the receiver and utter a curt "hello."

"Miss Ray," she could hear the landlady announce upstairs. Jerry replaced the iron on the gas plate and turned the flame low. Her first thought strangely was that Dan was calling. No she was sure he wouldn't... but it might be Alester.

She hurried down the stairs, her haste induced by nervousness rather than a desire to talk to Alester. She felt she was in no mood to be pleasant to him if he indicated a desire to prolong his ill humor of the night before.

"Hello," she said stiffly, and then barely suppressed an exclamation of pleasure when she recognized the voice at the other end.

It was Dan. "I'm just around the corner, in a cigar store," he told her. "My car is already parked in front of your place. I'd think I was the luckiest man in New York if I found you in it when I get back here."

"I'll be down in 10 minutes," she said breathlessly. She was true to her word, but in those 10 minutes she had found time to remind herself that Dan Harvey was a menace to her aspirations.

There was no denying it. Every time she saw him she thought she felt a little deeper in love with him... not enough yet to cause her to throw up all plans for the future she urgently desired but enough to rob that hoped for future of much of its glamor.

Was she, at last, on the brink of the chasm that had swallowed Doris and the rest of her friends? No, no, she must remember, not matter how much she might love Dan Harvey, that love did not last. What was that immortal wisecrack about the diamond bracelet? Well, that was true. It did last forever. But a kas...

Dan wanted to know why she had not waited for him in the garden. This was her opportunity, Jerry saw, to let him know that Alester came first in her thoughts. Yet surely Dan must suspect that Alester hadn't as yet asked her to marry him—he wouldn't be here if he hadn't guessed that such was the case... perhaps Alester had told him, Jerry reflected uncomfortably.

Dan might know more about Alester's intentions toward her than she knew. The thought robbed her of all power to speak of Alester's priority rights to her affections. "You were gone a long time," she said truthfully. "I was cold in my wet dress. Alester came along. He took me there so he thought he ought to bring me home," she added lamely.

"I couldn't find your wrap," Dan explained. "I hope you didn't get chilled driving home."

Jerry wondered why he bent such a queer look upon her. It never occurred to her that Dan was seeking information. He wanted to know how and when she returned home. Knowing Alester as he did he half suspected he would try to make a tour of the roadhouses if Jerry insisted upon leaving the Rolling Stone Inn. He thought she had insisted last night.

It had been a terrible shock to Dan to see Jerry there. Her presence revealed to him that Alester's interest in her was deeper than he had at first assumed it to be. His hope that Alester would forget her when she left Long Island was shattered then.

He, himself, had gone to Leontine's place because he knew Alester would be present and because he had promised Carstairs, senior, to keep an eye on his pleasure-loving son.

"Alester got my coat; it was upstairs in Leontine's room," Jerry answered his remark. "But I was a little cold coming home just the same."

The relief Dan felt upon hearing her words was not unminged with a new apprehension. "What was she doing in Leontine's room?" Leontine did not permit casual visitors up there.

"Good Lord," he thought. "This kid needs someone to look after her." "Jerry," he said suddenly. "I've got something to say to you. I wish I didn't have to say it like this, in a car, but it means just as much to me here as any place else. Jerry, I want you to marry me. I want you to... more than I ever thought it could be possible to want anything like that."

Jerry turned her head to look at him. They were driving on Broadway and his eyes were fixed on the traffic ahead of him. Jerry could hardly believe that he had just proposed marriage to her. One hand was on the steering wheel, the other on the gear lever.

Could this be the same man who had held her in his arms, last night and kissed her so fervidly—this man who did not even look at her when he asked her the most important question that can ever be put to a girl? Nothing but the tenderness of his voice was in keeping with the significance of that tender scene; it alone betrayed emotion.

"Oh, why did I come out with him?" Jerry asked herself. He had already told her he loved her. She might have known that he would want to widen the scope of those words. Dan was that kind of man. Why had she thought she could ignore what happened last night? Now she must put an end to their friendship. And that she was reluctant to do... she didn't want Dan Harvey to leave her, never to come back.

But if she said yes. How could she know... Doris said Harry had promised her a nice little home. Dan hadn't promised anything. And she felt she didn't love him so much she couldn't live without him. He ought to ask her if she... The lights ahead were turning red. The car came to a dead stop. She would have to say something now.

ASK AID FOR FLIER
PANAMA, Nov. 15 (AP)—The government has granted a request that Captain Ira C. Eaker, a member of the 1926 goodwill flying squadron of the United States army, be given all the help that he needs when he flies here from Brownsville, Texas. Date of the flight has not been set.

Twenty-three factories in Germany are producing rubber tires.

Pick-up... and How!

Even on the frostiest mornings a motor fueled with Phillips '66' is full of pep—off ahead of the crowd.

Volatility—Controlled Volatility is the reason. Volatility refers to the ability of a gasoline to vaporize. Liquid gasoline must be vaporized before it can be burned in an engine. Hence volatility is one of the most important qualities of a motor fuel. In Phillips '66' the volatility is intentionally controlled (varied) to meet seasonal conditions and yet give uniform engine performance. In the winter the volatility is high for easy starting and quick warm up and acceleration, but without loss of power and mileage. Test it in your car. You will find Phillips '66' all we claim for it. And yet it sells at the regular price.

YOUR CHILDREN

"Mother, where's my string?"

"What string?"

"My piece of string. It was on my bureau."

"I don't know anything about your string, Billie."

"Well, I had it. It was in my pocket and I laid it on my bureau. Buddy Smith tied a new kind of knot in it his uncle showed him. He's a sailor. I'm trying to learn how it works."

"Get him to show you again today, Billie. I must have thrown it out this morning when I cleaned up."

"Oh gee, Mother, I wish you wouldn't throw things out. I wanted that string. Buddy's knot is to the other school. I can't see him now."

The next day Billie called over the banisters excitedly, "Mother, did you see my string?"

"Hull for goodness sake! What do you want a nail for? No, I didn't see it."

"Oh, gee, Mother, that was a good nail. A man gave it to me. They were tearing down an old house and I was standing there and he said, 'Here's a nail, kid. It's a hundred years old. It was made by hand.'"

"Oh well, Billie, it just looked like more rubbish to me. I guess I must have thrown it out with the rest of the stuff in your pockets when I mended your pants."

"Did you throw out my two stones, too? Gee, Mother, I've been prepping those to put in my collection."

"I suppose I must have. You can get some more. Really, you can't keep all that rubbish around. You'll have to learn to be a gentleman and not stuff all outdoors into your pockets."

A few minutes later Billie tore into the kitchen. "Where's my collection, Mother? I had it in my drawer."

"Your collection?"

"Yes, my stones. You know, that old cigar box. I had a lot of dandy things in it. I can't find it."

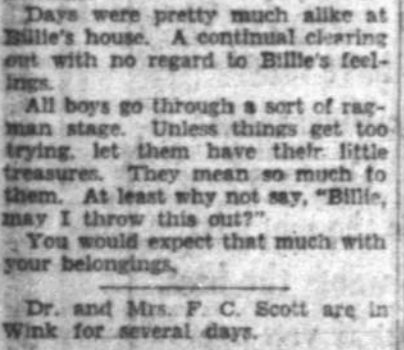

"Oh, that! Why, I threw it out. I guess when I was straightening your drawer. You mustn't keep old rubbish like that, Billie. Little gentlemen keep their bureau drawers in order."

Days were pretty much alike at Billie's house. A continual clearing out with no regard to Billie's feelings.

All boys go through a sort of ragsman stage. Unless things get too trying, let them have their little treasures. They mean so much to them. At least why not say, "Billie, may I throw this out?"

You would expect that much with your belongings.

Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Scott are in Wink for several days.

How to Achieve Beauty

STIMULATING A NEGLECTED SKIN

Unless my diagnosis is wrong, and I don't believe it is, your skin is relaxed, and as a natural consequence, has fallen into all kinds of lines and furrows. Now, when you use a descriptive term it means that the muscles and tissues underneath are being improperly nourished. In a word, your circulation is bad, and is steadily getting worse.

If you know anything at all about skin structure, you know that there are layers and layers of skin, and through them run the little ducts we call pores. When your skin gets lazy and refuses to function properly, the pores are quick to join and call a general strike. Instead of releasing the natural oils which nourish it, at the same time carry away dust and impurities, they become sluggish and eventually clogged. Everyone, I'm sure, knows what happens when the pores "lay down on their jobs." Blackheads and whiteheads come first, and usually are followed by under-skin blotches, irritation, pimples, and frequently acne.

It sounds as though a dreadful lot of things developed through under-stimulation, doesn't it? And it's quite right that it should sound so, for they do! To paraphrase the well-known statement, "Work is the saving grace of your skin!" The whole secret of living, lasting beauty lies in making the skin work!

Now, as to the ways and means of flagging a lazy skin to action. There are stimulants and stimulants. From those almost forgotten days, years and years ago, when I introduced stimulation to the beauty-interested world, thousands of theories and preparations have sprung up on the market. There are creams, and there are ointments. I, although constantly progressing, experimenting and achieving, still remain true to my first love—the liquid stimulant. After long usage on every possible type of skin, I have found that it never fails to invigorate, and is equally harmless and beneficial to the most delicate and fragile complexion of the more hardy and weather-beaten type.

Outside of chemical stimulation, we have other and, I believe, more commonly-known forms. One of them is cold water. Ice is another, and putting still another. Cold water is good. Ice applied directly to the skin, or even when guarded by the thickness of a towel, is, in my estimation, definitely and emphatically bad. Putting on the other hand, if properly done, and not too strenuous, is likely to prove excellent, particularly in breaking down heavy, fatty under-skin tissues.

Every skin needs a certain amount of stimulation. Personally, I advise stimulation treatment from 25 onward, and I venture to guess that if you, M. J. B., had kept up a persistent effort in making your skin active and responsive, you would not be regretting lines and wrinkles today!

So the first step in your treatment calls for the active stimulation of your skin. Begin by cleansing (and this is so important that I shall take up the matter of the correct cleansing of your skin in an entire article).

Then pat your face persistently and frequently, dash it with cold water; or with a pad of cotton just lightly moistened in a good liquid stimulant. Be careful not to go too close to the delicate eye-tissues. Watch the color spring up into your cheeks and the sallow, pasty look disappear! Why, you're looking younger already—and that's a fine beginning, isn't it?

Swanky Little Coat

Quite the most swanky bit of femininity in fashiondom today is the cute little "cocktail" jacket to be worn with the evening dress. It harmonizes with the elaborate frock and dresses up the plain one. It is a frivolous bit of finery, guaranteed to make the gay young thing gayer and the matron feel like a girl.

As pictured it adds to the shimmering decorative note which brightens up the simple white chiffon dress. This note is started in the embroidered baguette diamond grille. The jacket is elaborately jeweled.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Perry of Navasota, parents of Mrs. Jack M. Lewis, are visiting in the Rev. Lewis home, 1210 Avenue N., for several days.

Woman's
Day
Alice Sumner
By Summer

As we have said before, young John Coolidge probably thinks it's no soft snap, this being First Young Man of the land, what with all the to-do about his girl, his job, his automobile driving, and so on.

But what young John gets is a mere figment compared with what A First Girl of the Land would draw. Just ask Mrs. Nicholas Longworth about that. She could tell a tale or so, about the way her every move was watched and recorded. Still, Alice seemed to enjoy it, and even young John doesn't seem so terribly annoyed by it all, or he has enough of his charming mother's tact to cover his displeasure.

It's rather human to like much attention, whether one admits it or not.

Seventeen-year-old Eleanor Smith of New York skinned in her plans under the Queensboro, Williamsburg, Manhattan and Brooklyn bridges the other day. One can imagine that she had to duck a little. Then, too, Miss Smith recently flew as high as she demonstrated with the bridges that she could fly low, establishing a world altitude record for women.

Just by way of saying that the world seems to offer a number of pleasant pastimes to our flappers besides the eternally cited ones of rouging, petting, auto riding, sock-rolling, smoking and dancing.

Mrs. Lottie M. Schoemmel who is 23 and the mother of Harold, 12, and Ruth, 9, wallowed around in a huge swimming tank for days in an effort to break the non-stop folat record. As a matter of fact, she did it.

You may have heard nothing or little about Mrs. Lottie's stunt. We are a bit eloped on stunts for stunts' sake. We stopped giving a hand long ago to flapper roasters and champion hard-boiled egg eaters.

After all, what does it profit that someone can stay up in the water as long as the creation of the earth itself.

Even a widowed emperor cannot remain too soon after the death of his first wife without a babble of gossip and criticism. So frank-ly admits "Empress" Hermina, second wife of the deposed kaiser in her intimate picture of life at Doorn called "An Empress in Exile." She tells of the "roar of anger" that rose from the royalists with their marriage and "the roar of amusement" from the rest of the world when the late kaiser, aged 63, "consoled himself" with the widow of 38.

Being an "empress" and princess does not seem to prevent a woman from being just shrewly woman enough to be sufficiently concerned with what the world says, at this point to combat it. She says: "The Empress Augusta herself when dying said to the mistress of the robes that the kaiser 'must not be alone.' Indeed, her words were, 'Will you, my dearest friend, see to it that he marries again soon after I close my eyes?' The kaiser she knew, needed someone to mother him. All men, after all, are children to their eyes. The strongest man, in certain moods, is only an overgrown boy. Emperors are no exception. Without bitterness she envisaged another woman at the side of her husband. Greater love hath no woman. Few daughters of Eve can rise to such heights of posthumous affection."

Fire Marshall Simpson Gives Warning To Home Owners Here On Regulations; Says Inspector Will Raise Insurance

Fire Marshal L. H. Simpson stated Thursday that when the state fire insurance commissioner reaches Lubbock for an inspection of the town, which may be at any day now, there will probably be a number of public buildings, stores, restaurants, or rooming houses where as many as five rooms are being rented, wherein the owners will discover their insurance rate suddenly raised, and perhaps a penalty assessed. Causes for the pronouncement of the city fire marshal are the many places where flexible hose connections on gas stoves have two cut-offs on them, one on the gas pipe and one on the stove. Steve Regulations Made "Only stoves that are necessarily portable, or which have to be moved from place to place, may be connected with flexible hose in public buildings," Mr. Simpson said, "and only one cut-off is permissible without an extra charge on the insurance." To owners of residences, Mr. Simpson said a word of precaution was timely on this subject. With two cut-offs on gas stoves, should a house catch fire and the flexible hose burn, or be kicked off from the gas pipe, while a gas fire is burning, the open gas jet would be a feeder for the flames. By cutting the handle off of the open cut-off on a stove, leaving the only cut-off on the gas pipe, owners who now have two cut-offs can be within the regulations and obtain the precaution.

Littlefield Area Has Good Harvest

(Special To The Avalanche) LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 15.—The harvesting of the grain crops in this immediate section of the South Plains country is progressing rapidly. In addition to the enormous amount being daily sold and delivered to the stock pens here, where an average of five thousand sheep are being fed every day, the grain companies on yesterday alone shipped out about forty seven carloads of grain. The grain is of exceptionally fine quality, having practically all matured before the frosts. There has also been shipped from this point of this season's cotton crop close to three thousand bales of cotton.

Farmers are moving in almost every day, and are improving the lands already purchased, and a general air of prosperity prevails over the whole country.

Assault Complaint On Negro Dropped

A complaint filed against a negro farmer, residing in the Caldwell community, in county court Thursday, for beating his wife with a piece of speedometer tubing from an automobile, when up for investigation before County Attorney L. A. Howard, developed that the charges were groundless. A white man, neighbor, filed the complaint. The negro's wife testified that she and her husband had had no sort of a disagreement, but had returned home late the night of Wednesday and perhaps had made more noise than usual. She showed no signs of having been beaten with my kind of an instrument, it was said.

Cowboys Enroute To Lubbock For Clash With Matador Eleven Saturday

Simmons Crew Is Cocky On Eve Of Battle With Tech

Victories Gained Over The Southwestern Pirates And Trinity Tigers Give Cowboys Confident Air

(Special To Avalanche) ABILENE, Nov. 15.—That hard November row of six games in 27 days for Frank Bridges' Simmons athletes begins to look like a path of roses. After they stomped their toes on Austin College, the Cowboys immediately arose, and at the month's halfway mark are traveling at top speed.

They will go to Lubbock Saturday for their fourth game of November, equipped with plenty of confidence gained by victories over Southwestern and Trinity Universities. Simmons' rivals in the Texas Conference.

Tech, the foe of the week, will also face a group practically devoid of physical ailments. George Golightly, regular center, witnessed the Trinity game Monday from the bench, although Pinto Allen and "Red" Bennett, substitutes, served commendably. Golightly is expected to start against the Matadors.

Both Simmons and Tech are seeking admission to the Southwest Conference, a point that will add color to the contest. While Simmons officials do not regard showings on the field as important, to their prospects of admission to the state's major athletic circuit, the fans do. That fact will probably draw many to follow the team to Lubbock, who otherwise would stay at home.

At this time, the Cowboys are traveling at a better clip than the Bullfighters. It has been three weeks since the Freeland team tasted victory. That was over McMurray College by a score of 3 to 0. Since then Tech has been beaten by T. C. U. 23 to 6, tied by Daniel Baker in a scoreless game, and humbled by the Abilene Christian College Wildcats on the Lubbock field, 7 to 0.

Over the same period we find Simmons trimming West Texas Tech 25 to 6, losing to Austin College 6 to 0, and then starting on the

To Dedicate New Snyder Stadium

Stamford-Snyder Football Game Will Be Occasion For Ceremony Friday, Nov. 23 At Snyder

(Special To The Avalanche)

SNYDER, Nov. 15.—Official dedication of Snyder high's new $100,000 athletic stadium has been announced for Friday, November 23, with the signing here today of a contract between Stamford high school and the Snyder Tigers.

Stamford stands in the same position in the eastern section of Class B, District 9. Snyder stands in the western section. Stamford being runner-up to the champions of that district, Anson, while Snyder is in like position to the Sweetwater Mustangs. Stamford was defeated Armistice Day, 3 to 0, by Anson, while the Tigers suffered defeat at Sweetwater, 21 to 12.

Parents' Guests. Fathers and mothers of the Tigers will occupy special sideling seats at the game and formal dedication ceremonies will precede the start of the football battle. Seating capacity of the new stands will accommodate 2,000 people. Every suggested athletic equipment for a field are being installed at the new stadium and it is said to rival some of the best small college gridirons in the state.

Snyder Tigers came out of the Armistice Day battle without a single reported injury and will be fully alive to defeat their eastern district rivals without hesitation. Following the Stamford game, the last game of the season will be played here, Thanksgiving Day between the Colorado-Wolves and the Tigers, which brings one of the hardest battles of the year. In 1927 these two teams fought for one hour to a tie game.

Mustang Stars To Be Out Saturday

DALLAS, Nov. 15.—Driven at top speed in their last fall workout before Saturday's clash with Baylor University at Waco, the Southern Methodist University Mustangs were anything but cheered by the failure of two Pony stars to participate in practice today.

Redman Hume, whose foot was hurt in the game against the University of Texas, sat on a bench with Charlin Fincher, victim of a cold, and watched the other gridironers attempt to break up passes. The one department in which Coach Johnson will admit his charges are weak.

Strolling Down Sports Lane

With Allan Carney, Avalanche Sports Editor

On one team in the nation has attracted more widespread attention than has the Nebraska Cornhuskers. There is no question about the power of the now famous bone crushing crew of stalwarts from the cornfields of Nebraska. Already ceded the championship of the "Big Six" in the first year of the newly organized conference, the Cornhuskers are considered by critics the nation over as outstanding contenders for national honors.

The Huskers eleven is a relentless, crushing human force that flattens the opposition like a roller levels the pavement. Two of the most feared football machines in the country are facing Nebraska this week and next. Pittsburgh invades Lincoln Saturday and the following week (Nov. 24) the Huskers meet Army at West Point. A Pittsburgh victory over the Nebraska in Lincoln Saturday is unlikely, and it will not be as all surprising to hear of Cornhusker triumph over the Cadets.

In case Nebraska succeeds in pushing over these two powerful eastern elevens, critics will have to think hard and fast for reasons why the Big Six leaders should not be rated as national champions. Even without the services of the great Presnell, the Huskers have brought the Big Six into national prominence in the first year of the organization.

But Nebraska gridirers haven't needed their star of last season with its co-captain and fullback, Blue Howell, setting things afire with his brilliant performance. If the Huskers win over the two eastern teams on their schedules, Howell is virtually assured a berth as all-American fullback. His play against Army next week will be watched closely by the eastern critics who have already spotted him as an outstanding candidate. His performance in this game will have no little bearing on his chances for national recognition.

Incidentally Howell can boot the piskin from placement for points after touchdowns if anyone happens to inquire about his ability outside of a ball field. He has missed only one out of 24 this season.

Last week when the Cornhuskers added the Oklahoma Sooners to their list of victories, the brilliance of Howell was dimmed by the selfless performance of Shane, Nebraska halfback. Shane tore through the Sooner line and around the ends for gains that shifted the spotlight from the Howell for the first time this season.

The powerful Husker attack lifted the Missouri Tiger line for the first time in three years. Last year at the previous season, the Nebraska steam roller outplayed Gulin Henry's warriors from the standpoint of first downs, but the fighting Missouri eleven nosed out a scant victory. Henry sent in two crisp plays for two minutes of the game and allowed over a touchdown via the aerial route that tied the count in the final minutes of play. Another substitute was sent in to kick goal and the Tigers won 7 to 6.

It was different this year as the 1928 Cornhusker machine got the Tigers in Lincoln and administered a 24 to 0 defeat to the Henrymen.

An annual inter-sectional tilt between the Cornhuskers and the S. M. U. Mustangs would undoubtedly draw a record gate. The driving, running attack of the Nebraskaans pitted against the brilliant aerial game of the Methodist downs, furnish a spectacle on the gridiron such as has never been seen in this section of the country. Such a meeting has been hinted, but nothing definite has been arranged. A game in 1929 between the two teams is likely.

Nearly 600,000 in Germany are receiving unemployment relief. Furniture made of steam pipes has been exhibited in Paris.

Critics Attempt To Name Greatest In Maze Of Stars

All Agree On Red Cagle Of Eleven But Fail To Reach Agreement On Stars From Other Sections

BY ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The all-American epidemic is spreading rapidly again as football goes along toward the close of another campaign. Never before, it seems, has there been such widespread interest in this nebulous business among the experts. The consequence is that so far there is lack of agreement among the critics with one notable exception—the opinion on Christian Keener, (Red) Cagle.

Not a dissenting voice has been raised so far to the all-American rating of the Army's fleet ball carrier. But it's another affair when it comes to grouping a supporting cast around Cagle. You can suggest that Fred Howie of Minnesota, Ken Strong of New York University and Blue Howell of Nebraska fill out the backfield and find quite a range of support. Or you can select Howard Harpelle of Carnegie, Benjie Lem of California, and Myrtle McLain of Iowa to help the redheaded mythical balloting.

Without impairing the all-around threat in the least, others seem willing to select a third backfield group consisting of Cagle, Don Williams of Southern California, Warner Zell of Georgia Tech and Redman Hume of Southern Methodist. All of these stars have strong claims and strong support in the all-American scramble. The point is that it's difficult to find any real agreement of opinion in a sport that covers so wide a range of territory in so kaleidoscopic and brief a season. The experts who argue the case of one or two stars haven't seen the others. It's largely guesswork. There seems an abundance of good tackles this year. The Army has Sprague, formerly of Texas University, and Perry, two great veterans, but they were outplayed by Twomey and Miller of Notre Dame last Saturday. Cornell has two stars in Wakeman and Anderson. Others whose work has stood out include Brewster of West Virginia, Lussman of New York University, Brown of Texas, Mooney of Georgetown, Hibbs of California, and Raskowski of Ohio State.

RUMOR UNFOUNDED SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The San Francisco baseball club had received no word today on reports that "Red" Wingo, Detroit outfielder, is to be sent to the Coast league team as part payment for Roy Johnson, outfielder recently bought by Detroit.

'I've Had My Fun' Says De Palma, Ex-King of Speed

RALPH DE PALMA

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch To The Avalanche NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The smile is still there. That's what strikes one in meeting Ralph De Palma, the old daredevil of the gas tracks and the once great speed king of the roaring way. The smile's still there, though De Palma has little left of the fortune he won in track purses, though he no longer whips a striking steed through the carnival of speed which is the big 500-mile international race, and though the familiar shock of black hair is streaking through with gray at 45.

It's a great smile, that De Palma smiles. It was always there when death shot up from the tracks on a bad curve and a quick twist of his wrist hurled him safely by. It was there when he thundered under the checkered flag amid a crash of cheers and spilling exhausts. It's still there now that his great days are done and his racing is on the small tracks against youths to whom he once was a god.

The Brooklyn boy who became a bicycle racer way back, switched to the motorbikes and then to auto in 1907 hasn't had enough after 21 years on the speedways. De Palma promises that he will race as long as he is able to sit in a

Ruling May Keep Joel Hunt Out Of Junior Grid Loop

Former A. & M. Star, Now Coach At Marshall College Likely To Be Barred From Junior Group

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 15.—If the Texas Junior College conference upholds a ruling by Dean D. E. Hawk Jr., of Lon Morris college, Joel Hunt, former Texas A. and M. football star, and a quarterback on some all-American football elevens last year, may be barred permanently from coaching in the Texas Junior College conference.

Dean Hawk, president of the conference, in a statement, said that Burleson college had charged Marshall college, which Hunt coached, was using two players who attended nearby schools under assumed names. The youths were expelled from the schools and Marshall college was notified of the expulsion, Hawk said, but the youths continued to appear in the Marshall lineup.

Hawk said he had ordered forfeited all of the Marshall college football games this year, and had suspended Hunt and Frank Creasy, another Marshall coach. Hawk's ruling can be appealed to the executive committee of the conference, which meets after Thanksgiving. If this committee upholds the ruling, the coaches will be barred forever from coaching in the conference.

Backfield Stars Missing At T. C. U.

FORT WORTH, Nov. 15.—Two first string backfield men will be out of the T. C. U. lineup that starts against Texas university here Saturday. A "Charlie horse" in one leg of Merlin Toler, backfield, who does the punting and safety work for the Frog, will force him to the sidelines. Morgan, half, whose specialty is interference punning, is ineligible.

Akers and Leland will divide Toler's work, in the backfield.

A straw vote among the heavyweights favors Young Stribling as the most promising. Let us be kind to the heavyweights, today, children, and merely say Young Stribling is the least unpromising.

The old names of the ring have not gone forever. We have a bout on the card for November 30 between a couple of young folks named McLarnin and Grogan.

A club in Buenos Aires advertises for boxers. On the list of desirable, sent to an American promoter, appears the name of Joe Gans. They'd like a peak at Jim Macle, too.

Louis Angel Firpo is starting his comeback effort. He only has to get rid of 80 pounds to reduce to size weight. Why doesn't he hire a butcher?

He takes off 10 pounds at a workout, then steps into the dining room and eats a couple of sheep, pigs or calves. By the time he's ready to fight he'll weigh a scant 500.

Dempsey will fight again for $500,000. He must need a new pair of shoes.

Game With Coyote Eleven Promises Stiff Opposition

Twenty High School Gridirers Leave This Morning For Scene Of Battle With McCallum Aggregation

Off on their last trip of the season, twenty members of the high school football eleven together with Coach Henry Frnka leave early this morning for Wichita Falls where Saturday they meet the Wichita Falls High school Coyotes in what promises to be one of the hardest fought conflicts the Westerners will engage in this year.

Winding up training Tuesday afternoon with a light session of football, the high school gridirers appeared in the pink of condition and with the exception of a few minor injuries, will be able to throw their full strength against the Coyotes tomorrow when they tangle up at Athletic Park at Spuderville.

The gridirers by leaving here at 8 o'clock this morning expect to arrive in Wichita this afternoon in time to take a short workout at Athletic Park before the sun sinks. Interest in the contest had risen to a high pitch today as news reached the Coyote stronghold that the 1928 Westerner machine have not yet given up hopes for district honors.

Although the coaches were uncertain yesterday who would start the melee tomorrow, the probable starting lineup follows: Ends: Castleberry and Rich; tackle, Frimel and Wright; guards, Wilson and Evis; center, Buckingham; quarter, Pierce; halves, Watkins and Teal; fullback, Lawson.

The following are making the trip: Robert Rich, H. A. Castleberry, Will Ed Watson, Raymond Barton, Oliver Frimel, Rex Wright, Cecil Griggs, Carl Alverson, Charley Wilson, Yancy Price, Horace Buckingham, George Pierce, Mody Smith, Earnest Dowell, W. D. Lawson, Minor Watkins, Ovie Teal, Edward Pangburn and Joe Bailey Fowler.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—The stock market followed an erratic course today, opening with considerable strength, wavering during the morning, then bounding forward in the afternoon.

Apprehension of an increase in Federal Reserve brokers loans of as much as $100,000,000 was a sobering influence during the morning, but it was forgotten during the afternoon.

The figures showed a sharp drop in loans by New York banks for their own account, which nearly offset increases in loans for the account of others and for out of town banks.

There was little in the days news to affect the market, save possibly a further hardening in steel prices.

Total sales were 4,740,700 shares, in contrast to 4,420,000 yesterday.

Nearly 30 issues again broke into new high ground, a number of new terms gains running from 4 to 10 points.

Foreign exchanges were steady, starting regarding yesterday's loss.

AMERICA'S PATRIOTISM

There seems one thing that the American people are not drilled in as much as they should be, and that is patriotism.

Patriotism, by and large, is a great institution. It was patriotism that 19 years ago called our soldiers across the water and ended in keeping many of them in Flanders fields.

LOOK AFTER THE CHILDREN

Dr. Henderson of the State university, lecturing before the convention of parents and teachers in session in Amarillo, told them something in unmistakable language the reason that so many of the boys and girls get into trouble about the adolescent period of their life.

DRINK AND DRIVING

The question of drinking drivers of automobiles will not down. Every day we have instances where the use of alcohol and the driving of automobiles are seen to be a most dangerous combination.

A Washington Bystander

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON ASHINGTON, Nov. 15. - This business of "anti-imperialistic demonstrations" in countries to the south is getting to be a great bore to American consuls whose official residences are more often than not the scene of such shows.

Demonstration - Dud. Such a case presented itself out of nothing in the consul in a Latin American country not long ago and his report is amusing. It would not be quite chummy to name the consul or the country where he serves, but he was so bored with the whole matter that when a squad of police rushed up to shelter him from alleged impending assault, he grinned and went out to play golf.

Why Politics Demstrate. The outline of "inspiring causes" given by the man on the ground, however, is the most illuminating bit of the report. He set them out in order as follows:

- (1) The desire of a few unimportant white-collar patriots to address the assembled multitude, a privilege much sought after in a country of irrepresible wordsmen.
(2) The opportunity for the laboring folk to congregate on a Sunday morning and enjoy the one popular outdoor sport of tweaking the eagle's beak.
(3) The desire of local journalists to obtain free news.
(4) The secret desire of the politicians to impress the uninformed American people with the ardent love of country of the entire people and their solidarity in resenting any objections to cancellation of concessions or repudiation of debts when such engagements have been entered into by their less scrupulous and patriotic predecessors without their participation.

Your Health

SOME DISEASES HAVE RACE ASSOCIATIONS

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and Hygeia, the Health Magazine

A few diseases are particularly associated with races or with special types of human beings. The Jewish people have preserved their racial type to a remarkable degree. There are now about three and a half million Jews in the United States, and their health conditions constitute an important problem.

One of the unusual conditions which occurs more frequently among Jews than gentiles is called thrombo-angiitis obliterans, a form of disease of the blood vessels with redness of the feet, severe pain occasionally, and sometimes such interference with the circulation that removal of the limbs may be necessary.

Laughs

While There's Life There's Money "Kahn was on his death-bed." "Are you there, my good Rebecca?" "Yes, my dear husband."

Why?

The teacher was explaining to the class that brides "always wore white because the wedding-day was the happiest of a woman's life."

The Strong Man Act

SO THINK WE

America has made another triumphant landing. She has been able to introduce the celebrated hot dog in South America, and with Hoover's alleged good will tour will no doubt be able to bring about a good trade relation with South American people.

The Way Of The World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

Anything this, or should be as serious and as solemn as a marriage vow, should never be tangled up in a national election bet, according to the way we see it.

A THOUGHT ON EDUCATION

Dr. Albert Edward Wigman, who thinks more than most of us, says intelligence is what enables a man to get along without education; and education is what enables him to get along without the use of his intelligence.

A WAY OUT

Psychologists sometimes prescribe the reading of detective stories as an escape from the realities of life. Instead of being made nervous the average normal person is soothed and rested by a mystery story.

Who's Who in Timely Views

INCREASE OF DEMAND FOR CORN PREDICTED

By Dr. William M. Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture. (William M. Jardine was born in Oneida county, Idaho, Jan. 16, 1879. He was graduated from the Agricultural college of Utah and later studied in the graduate school of the University of Illinois. He is the holder of honorary degrees from several universities. Working on the ranches of Idaho as a youth, Jardine afterwards taught agriculture at Utah and later at Michigan Agricultural college. From 1918 to 1925 he was president of Kansas State Agricultural college and in the latter year was appointed secretary of agriculture. His home is in Washington, D. C.)

There was a very small carry-over of old corn in the United States this year and the new crop is estimated to be less than five per cent greater than last year's. Total supplies of corn available this year are estimated to be about 1,875,000,000 bushels as compared with 2,000,000,000 last year.

W. M. JARDINE

Although the domestic situation as regards the size of the corn crop, the stocks of old corn, and the corn belt cycle, is very much the same as in 1925, it should be borne in mind that we have a very different foreign situation and that cattle are now much higher than they were three years ago.

CRANE, THE FIRST SERMONER, DEAD

The dispatches yesterday recorded the death of Dr. Frank Crane, at Nice, France, where he had been resting for some time. The announcement is of deep interest to many Roswell people who knew Dr. Crane personally as well as to millions who have regularly read his newspaper sermons, which have been syndicated for many years.

Rheumatic Pains Yield To Capudine

Those who suffer from rheumatism will find that Capudine will greatly assist in the treatment by relieving the pain and reducing the fever and inflammation. Rheumatism is a serious disease and should have the attention of a good physician, but the patient should be made comfortable as suffering retards recovery. For this purpose nothing is safer or surer than Capudine. Being liquid, it acts almost instantly—much quicker than tablets and powders. Capudine does not upset the stomach and contains no habit-forming drugs, yet it is more effective in relieving pain and high nerve strain. At all drug stores. 30c and 60c sizes. (adv.)

Special Display of Buick Operation to Be Exhibited Here

Exhibiting the interrelated movements of the car's numerous parts by slow motion, a cut-away chassis and skeleton body of a regular 1928 Buick model Buick will be on display at the Slaughter Motor company showrooms, Saturday and Sunday, Joe Dick Slaughter, manager of the company, said yesterday. A special invitation is being extended to all citizens to see the display.

The exterior of such parts as the crank case, water jacket, cylinder head, transmission and differential housings, partially cut away to reveal the operating units within. Buick's famous counter-balanced crankshaft with torsion balances, the Buick differential and other mechanical units of the car are presented separately to facilitate an understanding of them. Pistons, crank shaft, cam shaft, valve assembly, oil, water and fuel pumps and even the generator perform their respective duties in plain view.

The display will be in charge of a Buick mechanical expert, who will explain in detail the various features in connection with the car's operation. Due to its educational value, all high school and college students are being invited to see the display.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritation, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

The extent of prohibition enforcement in the next four years will depend on Hoover's own decision. If Hoover seeks to enforce prohibition laws to the limit of his ability, those laws will certainly be more respected than they have been in recent years.

Howard Payne Wants $300,000. The boldest gesture of smaller Baptist institutions for success was made by President Edgar Goddard of Howard Payne college at Brownwood, whose report stated $300,000 was needed by the school and that "this convention must take some steps for relief."

Dr. Goddard said that Baptist convention control of Howard Payne "is not a matter of religious faith, but of a matter of administrative building for the boy's dormitory."

situations in Texas Baptist colleges that have hampered their expansion were described today in reports of the past year's activity by presidents of two denominational universities, two senior colleges and four junior institutions.

While asserting that their present goal was the successful conclusion of Baylor University's $1,000,000 endowment campaign beginning November 23, heads of the other colleges depicted a serious need of funds to meet their own indebtedness.

Couples Are Separated. Husbands were ordered out of boats which their wives were stationed and members of the crew allowed to take the vacant places they vacated.

Lifeboats Leaks. He got into a lifeboat, but it leaked so much that he jumped out and swam to another, which was rowed away from him. Then the boat he had been in sank.

The witness Walter Spitz, a business man of Berne, Switzerland, testified in German through an interpreter. It was he who told of seeing a great hole in one of the boats into which women and children were placed.

The hole was knocked in the boat, he said, while the crew was getting it loose preparatory to lowering it. But the women and children were put in anyway, and then left swinging in the davits, no one, he said, paying any attention to them, until the Vestris sank and carried them all down with it.

Spitz himself got into a boat crowded to the guards, and as it was being lowered it turned over and all were hurled into the water.

U. S. Attorney Subpoenaes Wireless Correspondence. NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—U. S. Attorney Tuttle, in charge of the Federal investigation into the sinking of the steamer Vestris, announced today that he had subpoenaed the wireless correspondence between the master of the ship and its owners.

Tuttle had been told charges were made that before the SOS was broadcast, Capt. William J. Carey, master of the Vestris, advised the New York office of the owners by radio of the dangerous list of the ship and had been ordered to proceed.

"I already have subpoenaed the wireless correspondence between Captain Carey and the Lamport and Holt line prior to the sinking," Tuttle said. He added, his office also had inquired into the matter of anti-rolling tanks which he said were believed to have been out of repair.

British Shipping Board Order Investigation

LONDON, Nov. 15. (AP)—The British Board of Trade today ordered an investigation into all phases of the sinking of the steamer Vestris off the Virginia capes Monday.

In the order for the investigation there was no indication of the form such an inquiry will take or where it will be held, and it was understood tonight these matters had not been settled.

The disaster, however, has aroused public opinion to such pitch, that there is sure to be insistence upon a searching inquiry, it is said.

Rich, red, blood builds and sustains. Your physician will tell you that the quality of life is the result of an abundant supply of red blood cells—those vital elements in the blood that nourish and sustain the body.

When you get your red blood cells back up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, rheumatism, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again, sleep soundly; solid flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong; and your nerves become steady.

Ranger Bulldogs Take Lead In Oil Belt With Surprising Strength

Team Nobody Thought Had a Chance Are Undefeated In Hot Chase For Honors; Bulldogs Tied With Abilene For District Leadership

RANGER, Nov. 15. (Special)—The team that nobody thought had a chance in leading the race for the Oil Belt district championship. The Ranger Bulldogs have not lost a game and have only one more conference game, which will be on Thanksgiving against the Breckridge Buckaroos, who have lost by heavy scores in their last two games. Abilene Eagles are the other undefeated team in the district. Two games—San Angelo and Cisco—confront them. A playoff between Ranger and Abilene seems likely when they met three weeks ago a 19-19 score was the result. Perhaps no team in the history of West Texas football has made so freaky a record as Ranger. The next week after Breckridge beat Eastland 26 to 25. As though this were not a shaky enough showing, the Bulldogs next met the Mineral Wells Mountaineers, a Class B school, and a 0-0 count was the outcome. Whereupon, at the "experts" eliminated Ranger from further consideration in the district race. Bulldogs Tie Eagles. Came the Abilene Eagles, flushed with an easy triumph over Eastland, and the battling Bulldogs outgained them by 30 yards and lost three chances with the game from the haughty Abilene machine. The score was 19-11. But the "experts" said Abilene had been caught over-confident. Next came the San Angelo Bobcats, fast and tricky, with a 13-13 tie to their credit against the ways-powerful Cisco Lobos. Angelo had outplayed the Lobos in that tie. But Ranger sent the Bobcats home smarting under a 7-0 loss though the sports writers said the better team had won. And then came the game with the Cisco Lobos, favorites to win the district crown following their crushing 35-0 triumph over the heavy-scoring Breckridge Buckaroos. The Ranger machine took the initiative and never let up until they had a 13 point lead and then played safe-and-anti football while Cisco brilliant attack wore itself out in getting down to the 25 yard line—and for the third time, Ranger had sprung an upset.

Clubs Name Sites For Early Camps

Major Leagues Training On Pacific Coast Will Not Be Affected by Early Start On Coast

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Early opening of the Pacific Coast League probably will not interfere with the plans of three major league clubs to go west for training. The Pacific Coast League will open its 1929 season March 26, one week earlier than in 1928, and as a result a number of games scheduled with visiting major league outfits will have to be cancelled. The Chicago Cubs, however, will remain at Catalina Island and the Pittsburgh Pirates at Paso Robles. The Western movement for spring training has gained a recruit in the Detroit team, although the American Leaguers will not continue on to California, stopping at Phoenix, Arizona.

The Tigers under George Morarty used San Antonio as a camp and John J. McGraw, with his New York Giants, will pick up in Texas, where Detroit leaves off. William Wrigley Jr., owner of the Cubs, also owns the island where his club trains and he will not permit changes in the Pacific Coast schedule to cause him to move. The White Sox, the other Chicago entry, also moving its training camp west, but not far enough to be concerned over the Pacific Coast schedule. The Sox will train at Dallas, Texas, instead of Shreveport, La. The Pirates may not be able to get in their series with the Los Angeles club but will play San Francisco and then move on to Phoenix, Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio, and Memphis. It is understood that Detroit will play both the Cubs and Pirates as they move East and follow with games in Texas, and other states of the once "Solid South."

The Bulldogs are really a stronger team than they are given credit for being, the district is reluctantly conceding. Hammett, quarterback, is the greatest triple threat man in the Oil Belt and Himman, 195-pound tackle, is half a line all by himself. If Ranger and Abilene meet in a playoff to determine the district title, however, very few of the sports writers will concede the Bulldogs more than an outside chance—but hope seems to be the least of the Bulldogs' worries.

Poincare Regime Given Confidence

New Government Is Favored In Two Ballots by French Chamber of Deputies; Reads Principles

PARIS, Nov. 15.—(By Associated Press)—Two today the new Poincare government submitted itself to the acid test of a vote of confidence in the French Chamber of Deputies, and twice it emerged bolstered and unscathed, once by a vote of 325 to 147, and at the close of the debate by a vote of 339 to 129. The first vote came when the socialists challenged the Premier's right to alter the order of the day for the reading of his new declaration of principles, the socialists inferring that if it was put to a vote M. Poincare could not obtain priority. The premier insisted on the vote and made it a question of confidence. The Chamber supported him overwhelmingly. Later, when he had finished his declaration of principles, a direct confidence vote was taken, and the new government was favored by a vote of 325 to 128.

Meagher Revamps Saints' Lineup

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. (Special)—Armed by the ineffective work of several veterans in the game with Howard Payne last Saturday, Coach Meagher will send a somewhat revamped St. Edwards team against Trinity university in Temple Friday. When he returned Wednesday from Abilene, he showed several veterans to the third string and replaced them with youngsters.

Invade New Field Women Make Study Of Dentistry

HOUSTON, Nov. 15. (Special)—Women have invaded many fields which members of the opposite sex had been trained to believe were reserved for them but, male supremacy in the dental profession is not yet seriously endangered, if records at the Texas dental college here mean anything. Of 179 students at the institution only eight are women and several of them are not sure they like the business. Evidently the hand that rocks the cradle is now turning to the art of yanking out painful molars.

Family Trouble Causes Shooting

ROCHESTER, Nov. 15. (Special)—While an audience watched a play in a theatre here last night, Mrs. Ernest Stewart, 42, actress, shot and killed herself backstage. County Judge Jess Foster said in an inquest verdict today. It first had been thought that Mrs. Stewart, whose stage name was Gene Gladstone, had been shot accidentally when a "prop" pistol supposedly unloaded, was discharged. Judge Foster said, however, that evidence showed she had a disagreement with her husband, and told him: "You did not keep your promise to me but I am going to keep mine." Then the woman shot herself, Judge Foster said.

Steers Ready for Clash With Frogs

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. (Special)—The Texas University Longhorns wound up their football training activities today in lively scrimmage with the freshman before leaving Friday for Fort Worth to play T. C. U. Saturday. Although Dexter Shelley and Red Wray will accompany the team to Fort Worth, the possibility of their participation in the Frog contest seemed remote, as neither appears in the proper condition for a hard contest.

May Match Heeny With Frisco Pug

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15. (Special)—Negotiations for a heavyweight match between Tom Heeny, New Zealand, and Armand Emanuel, San Francisco fighter, here some time next month, have been put under way by Olympic Auditorium officials. The bout would be held in the indoor arena. Heeny is en route to New York returning from a honeymoon in New Zealand.

upgraded again by walloping the Southwestern Pirates 14 to 7, and snowing the Trinity Tigers under a score of 32 to 6.

Walker is Feared

As Abilene fans at the Tech-A. C. C. game saw H. Freeland has only one dangerous offensive threat, handsome Ransome Walker. He is of the triple toned variety, however, and given the least assistance might tear up the Simmons defense. His interference did not look so hot against the Christians, and what there was of it was ripped by two driving tackles. Walker is a good punter, but he has two rivals on the Simmons club who are likely to prove his equal or better in that department. They are Sanders and Sellers. The former averaged 53 yards from the line of scrimmage in kicking during the Trinity affair.

Walker is a fair passer, but should Simmons choose to take the air, the Matador ace would have to compete against Sanders, Hyde, Sellers and

Cowboys Leave This Morning for Lubbock

Coach Frank Bridges and his entire squad of Cowboys leave Abilene early this morning for Lubbock and will probably arrive here about noon. The special train bearing several hundred Simmons boosters and the Cowboy band will follow later. The Matadors go through their final workout this afternoon for the last home game of the season. Several members of the squad will be playing their last game on the Tech gridiron. Having dedicated the game to Coach Payne and in view of the fact that both Tech and Simmons are candidates for a berth in the Southwest Conference, the contest promises to be the most colorful of the year on the home arena.

I wish to announce that I have now returned to active practice in Lubbock.

Powerful Speculative Pools Throw List of New Gains In Wall Street; Rise Is Made In Call Money

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The "noover market," which has been roaring at a 5,000,000-share pace this week, lost some of its speed today, but continued on the route to higher ground. Powerfully speculative pools, apparently plentifully supplied with funds, had little difficulty in bringing forward new leaders whenever the old favorites showed signs of wavering. Final quotations showing a long list of gains ranging from $1 to $10 a share interspersed with a smaller number of declines of $1 to $5 a share.

Sales Total 4,749,790 Shares. Total sales were 4,749,790 shares as against 4,628,800 yesterday and 4,870,600 in Monday's record-breaking session. Beginning early next month, all sales volumes in individual transactions below 500 shares will be dropped, except at the opening. One of the chief stumbling blocks to "bull" traders today was the prediction that brokers' loans would show another huge increase some of the estimates running as high as $100,000,000. But Wall Street was surprised to learn after the close of the market that the week's gain was less than $2,000,000, although the total set another new high record. A rise in call money from 6 to 6 1/2 percent was regarded as incidental to heavy mid-month settlements.
