Flood Waters And Freak Winds Harass Southern States

Major Flood Is Threatening In Arkansas Area

More Than 3,000 Homeless In Lowlands; Low Temperatures Add To Suffering Of Victims

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 19.—Flood waters and freak winds continued to harass the central South today, leaving more than a score dead and thousands nomeless.

In Arkansas, a major flood threatened as rampaging rivers and their tributaries rose swiftly in the wake of torrential rains. Creeping backwater spread over miles of lowlands in a dozen widely scattered sections of the state.

Three Thousand Homeless

The Red Cross reported 3,000 refugees were cared for in temporary shelters along the Arkansas and White rivers.

RED RIVER CAUSES DAMAGE

CLARKSVILLE, Feb. 19. (AP)—Damages estimated in the thousands of dollars were caused today when the Red river inundated many acres of rich farming land in the northern part of Red River county.

The stream, already at a 31.5-foot stage, continued to rise late today at the rate of three inches an hour. Widespread damage was caused by the river in 1923 when it reached a similar stage.

Clearing skies brought hopes that crests in sight would not be raised, but fair weather also brought far below freezing temperatures, adding to the distress of the homeless.

In Alabama, a freak tornado struck briefly in two communities approximately 40 miles south of Montgomery. The four-year-old daughter of Lester Croken, tenant farmer, was crushed to death in the callapse of the chimney of their home near Petrey.

Dips Down Again

The wind then dipped down at Fuller's Cross Roads, three miles away, damaging several homes but none was injured.

In north Louisiana, the oil boom town of Rodessa buried the victims of Thursday night's tornado there, which left approximately a score dead and made 100 homeless.

Cold was general over much of the south and one of the heaviest snowstorms in several years swept into central Missouri.

The indicated crest of the big Arkansas river flood was revised slightly downward today by the the weather bureau with a stage of 30.5 expected at Little Rock on Monday compared with a previous

ICC Decision Is Awaited By FDR

(By The Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Feb. 19. — White House officials said today that if the Interstate Commerce commission hands down its decision in the 15 per cent rate increase case early next week, President Roosevelt's conference on ways to solve the railroads' financial problems would be held the latter part of the week.

The president has been giving a great deal of attention lately to the situation of the carriers, faced with falling revenues and in some cases heavy indebtedness, but has been awaiting the commerce commission's rate decision before setting a date for a conference with managements and labor and legislative experts on the subject.

Chairman Walter M. W. Splawn of the I. C. C. has issue instructions for the conference. Others to attend include Commissioner Joseph B. Eastman, Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation; Carl Gray of the Union Pacific; George Harrison of the Association of Railway Labor Executives, and Chairmen Burton K. Wheeler and Clarence Lea of the senate and house interstate commerce committees, respectively.

Hull Lashes Out At Trade Pact Foes

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 15. — Secretary of State Hull lashed out tonight at opponents of his trade agreements program.

The usually soft-mannered, quiet-spoken member of the Roosevelt cabinet was emphatic in saying:

"You and the rest of our people have been subjected to a veritable barrage of sinister propaganda designed, for narrow and selfish reasons, to wreck the most important policy which our country can pursue to promote its economic well-being and peace."

Have Over-Reached Themselves

Speaking before the National Farm institute, he charged that:

"In their unholy zeal the propagandists have over-reached themselves in the falsity of their assertions."

Thrusting at opponents who charged he was in effect "selling the country down the river," and bringing unemployment to labor and damage to industry and agriculture, the secretary of state said:

"To be violently attacked for steadfastly adhering to the one and only course of action which is certain to remove the most dangerous obstruction that can be thrown in the path of our export trade is an incredible bit of irony."

Warns Farmers

He warned farmers against attempts which he said were being made "to mislead them into helping predatory interests preserve their own privileged position under embargo tariffs—to the injury of the farmers themselves and of the nation as a whole."

Secretary Hull argued that his reciprocal agreements with other nations promote trade, trade promotes prosperity and prosperity promotes peace.

The secretary repeated recent statements of principle in foreign policy, saying:

Should Be Respected

"We should maintain adequate defense forces to the end that this nation will be respected throughout the world. At the same time we should stand unalterably for general limitation and reduction of armaments. There will not be military disarmament without economic appeasement."

Secretary Hull said that in the 16

Californian Must Fight Next Time

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 19. (AP)—Unless Frank Arriela refrains from beating his wife he'll have to step into the boxing ring and defend himself the best way he can.

Police Judge John L. Webster had so ruled today after the sole support of a family of four pleaded guilty to charges of battery. Judge Webster suspended a 60-day jail sentence with the comment:

"If you beat your wife again you will go into the ring with one or more professional pugilists, and defend yourself the best way you can. After that you will know what it is like to be hit in the mouth."

'Little Business' Dropped From Proposed Act

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Authors of the Borah-O'Mahoney federal licensing bill dropped proposed regulation of "small" business from their measure today.

Four vital changes, which Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said had been made in the measure since he and Senator Borah (R-Ida) conferred with President Roosevelt two weeks ago, included:

Left Up To Courts

1. Elimination of the provision which would have given the Federal Trade commission power to revoke federal licenses, which would be required of all corporations operating in interstate commerce. Under the revised bill, this power would be given only to the courts.

2. Exemption form terms of the measure of all corporations having gross assets of $100,000 or less.

3. Strengthening of the "anti-trust" features of the bill by inclusion of a prohibition agent issuance of licenses to "unlawful trusts or combinations."

Not To Exchange Unit

4. Elimination of provisions calling for addition to the trade commission of four members who would confer with business and recommend a "stabilization program" to congress. The commission now has three members.

The revised bill contains provisions of the original measure for the registration of larger corporations with the trade commission. The commission would be empowered to issue licenses without which no corporation could operate in interstate commerce, either directly or indirectly.

The commission could deny

Anti-War Pact Is Suggested

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Feb. 19.—A giant mass meeting today cheered a government "trial balloon" suggestion of an anti-war pact to link Japan and the United States.

Ten thousand Japanese shouted approval of a resolution by Takeo Miki, member of the Japanese parliament, calling for closer ties between the two nations to "contribute to the peace of the world and the welfare of mankind.

To Test Public Reaction

The assembly was called a "Japan-America friendship meeting." Similar meetings will be held at other large cities to test public reaction.

After listening to 17 speakers, a majority of them influential in Japanese politics, the meeting adopted a resolution saying:

"It is a source of profound satisfaction to the Japanese people that ever since the outbreak of the Chinese-Japanese incident the government and people of the United States, despite an anti-Japanese boycott engineered by communists, staunchly have maintained a calm and strictly impartial attitude.

"We hereby declare we will endeavor to deepen the understanding and advance cordial relations between Japan and America and thereby contribute to the peace of the world and the welfare of mankind."

Eden May Quit In 'Break' With Chamberlain

England Faces Crisis In 'Deal' With Italy; Support May Be Given Foreign Secretary

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 19. — Anthony Eden, standing almost single-handed in the British cabinet against a "deal" with Italy, was reported reliably tonight as ready to resign as foreign minister in a break with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

ANTHONY EDEN

Absence of Eden from the cabinet would strike a severe blow to the national government's support. "The white knight of Geneva," who refuses to be swerved from the League of Nations way, commands strong conservative backing that might split the country's dominant party.

One reliable source reported two conservative cabinet members, Minister of Agriculture William Morrison and Walter Elliott, secretary of state for Scotland, had stated flatly they supported Eden, leading to a belief they would resign if the foreign secretary quit.

Dwarfs Tremendous Issue

Eden's breach with the prime minister dwarfed even the tremendous issue that caused it—proposals for an agreement with Italy that might be construed as British submission to Fascist strength following so quickly after Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's deal with Austria.

The cabinet was held virtually on an emergency basis. It recessed the first full meeting on a Saturday since the abdication crisis with instructions to return for an even rarer Sunday council, immediately after Hitler's pronouncement in the reichstag.

Will Have Removed Deadlock

The chief element of uncertainty facing the cabinet—the effect of the Fuehrer's reichstag speech on snarled international relations—will have been removed then from what has been described as a deadlock between Eden's "league-tinged" and Chamberlain's "realistic" foreign policies.

Official circles declined comment on what happened at today's meeting which had been scheduled to

Two Found Dead Of Monoxide Poisoning

ELECTRA, Feb. 19. (AP)—Rudolph Wright, about 40, and Allen Wells, about 20, were found dead on an oil lease near Electra today, victims of carbon monoxide poisoning.

I. P. Gibson, justice of the peace at Electra, returned an inquest verdict of accidental death by monoxide poisoning.

Dr. C. W. Monroe said the men apparently died from the fumes of a water pump engine as they sought warmth from the bitter cold of last night.

Alvin Wells, twin brother of Allen, and A. J. Juergins, drilling company foreman, discovered the bodies crouched over the exhaust pipe of the engine in an open shed. The victims, members of a night pumping shift, had been dead about 12 hours.

Steps Taken Here Saturday To Correct Conditions Which Took Lives Of Three People

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Steps seeking to correct conditions of the kind held responsible for the deaths of a family of three in a gas filled room here Thursday were announced at city hall Saturday.

Developments which came as the aftermath to the tragedy in which Mr. and Mrs. James McMullan, a young couple, and their six-week's old son died included:

1. Filing of two complaints in corporation court charging William H. Reid, owner of the house, with violation of city gas and electrical ordinances. The house is in the 500-block on Fifteenth street.

Announce Vigorous Enforcement

2. Announcement by city officials that vigorous enforcement has been ordered of ordinances governing building, sanitation, plumbing, electrical and gas fixtures in places of residences.

3. The holding of the first conference of a group designated by the city commission to recommend a strict ordinance dealing with the steadily growing problem created by structures of the "trailer house" type.

Officials In Investigation

Participating in the various investigations and in the conference seeking to devise an ordinance were W. H. Rodgers, city manager; Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer; Marlin R. Smith, city engineer; Jim Reid, city building inspector; Ralph Portwood, city electrical inspector; and Harry B.Hamilton, city plumbing and gas inspector.

Complaints were filed, according to reports by the city inspectors, after their investigations had disclosed that the small house where the fam-

Scientists Taken From Ice Floe

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Feb. 19.—Two sturdy icebreaking vessels smashed through a field of pack ice 10 feet deep today and rescued four Russian scientists with their valuable records and equipment from a drifting ice floe camp off the eastern coast of Greenland.

The rescue, just two days short of nine months after the four men were established a dozen miles from the North Pole, ended a unique odyssey in which they voyaged over more than 1,000 miles of Arctic seas on a raft of ice.

Batter Through Ice

The icebreakers Taimyr and Murman battered their way through three miles of jammed ice and picked up Ivan Papanin, 45, chief of the camp, and his three colleagues—Eugene Federoff, 28, astronomer, Peter Shirshoff, 34, marine biologist, and Ernest Krenkel, 34, their radio operator.

The two vessels had reached striking distance only after days of maneuvering against shifting fields of ice and tricky Arctic currents.

Along with the men and equipment, the rescue party was bringing back meteorological and hydro-

RODESSA, La., Feb. 19.—Rescue crews abandoned the search for tornado victims tonight after a long day's futile plodding of muddy lowlands.

Weary National guardsmen, Boy Scouts and volunteers felt satisfied they had thoroughly combed the twister's path and any additions to the list of 20 known dead would come from hospitals quartering the nearly two score injured.

Centered In Bog-Like Wood

Today's search centered in a bog-like wood where once were squatters' flimsy shanties.

But the little remaining wreckage of "squatters row," as it is called, left no traces of human victims.

Meanwhile, enormous strides were made in rehabilitating the scores made homeless when the tornado cut a path of destruction through this oil boom town of 2,000 population.

Twists Out Seven Derricks

Thursday night it leveled a dozen oil supply shacks, twisted seven oil derricks from their foundations, jumped the railroad tracks and lost itself after wrecking the squatter colony.

The heaviest death toll came to the people living in top floors of the oil supply shacks and little houses nearby.

Workmen began their task of rebuilding in this hardest hit section. They had wooden frames set in place tonight on several of the concrete foundations which had been swept clean by the storm.

Historic Padre Island Ranch Purchased By Eastern Men

(By The Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRITI, Feb. 19.—Purchase of the historic Dunn ranch on Padre island, together with 90 acres at the south end of the island, was announced today by former Senator John A. Hastings and a group of Eastern associates who have formed a syndicate to develope the famous beach as a year around resort.

The ranch is 1v0 miles long and two to three miles wide. Terms call for payment of $550,000 for the land and certain mineral rights. The syndicate proposes immediate construction of causeways linking the mainland at Flour Bluff near Corpus Christi and at a lower valley point.

Gov. James V. Allred last year vetoed a bill calling for state purchase of the island, claiming the state may already own the land. Hastings said he expected question of state title to be disproved shortly. The attorney general's department is investigating the question.

Camera To 'Shoot' Licenses Of Speeding Cars Developed

(By The Associated Press)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 19. — A camera capable of photographing licenses of speeding automobiles at night was brought forward today by the Pennsylvania motor police as a new weapon in the state's war on highway accidents.

Commissioner Percy W. Foote said the cameras would be installed soon in many of the patrol's white "ghost cars" that took to the road some time ago to combat highway law violations.

Infra-red ray cameras are being developed for police use by Captain Flavel M. Williams, retired naval officer and fog camera expert, who was drafted by the Pennsylvania force to carry on his researches.

The photographic marvel, Foote said, is expected to pierce the brightest headlight rays and clock the speed of the car at the same time.

Foote said he planned to place the equipment in three or four cars operated by each of the 18

Elaborate Plans Made To Spread His Demands

Many Questions May Be Given Answers In Talk; Demand For Colonies May Be Repeated

By LOUIS J. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Feb. 19.—Germany tonight set a brilliant stage for Adolf Hitler's announcement to a tensely listening world of the next steps to bring all German-speaking peoples into the Nazi orbit.

The third reich made the most elaborate preparations of its history so all Germany and as much of the world as willing could listen tomorrow to Hitler's closely-guarded speech to the reichstag.

Will He Demand Fulfillment

Will he demand again fulfillment of "drang nach osten"—expansion to the east—which his book "Mein Kampf" forsees?

Will he emphasize anew Germany's demand for colonies or will he hint at economic penetration of the entire Danubian basin as the way out of Germany's problems of over-population and a dearth of raw materials?

Subject Of Speculation

The answer to these and other critical questions was the subject of endless speculation in the chancelleries of Europe.

Military circles looked to Hitler to declare the reich would take over the entire German armament industry, but no official confirmation was forthcoming. Thus even the famous Krupp works would pass from private hands to possession of the reich.

News Czechoslovakia besides Austria and Hungary officially will broadcast Hitler's speech seemed another step toward realization of Hitler's dream of "the union of all the German race."

Czechoslovakia Exposed

With the rich Saar basin again a part of the reich, with the ostensibly "free" city of Danzig taking orders from Berlin, and Austria all but a Nazi province, exposed little Czechoslovakia seemed the logical point for the next Nazi expansionist move to be proclaimed in der Fuehrer's speech.

From autonomy for the German minority it might be only a ques-

Chinese Destroy Their Bridges

Texas Livestock Show And Rodeo Season Opens; Eight Regional Shows Carded

Future Leaders Are To Compete

By L. C. SLOAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Thousands of youths groomed fine animals and the world's best cowboys trekked in for the opening this week of the Texas livestock show and rodeo season.

Supervised by county agents and vocational agriculture teachers, boys and girls have been feeding calves, lambs and pigs all winter and showing them at community exhibits where the best were selected for the big-money events at the larger regional expositions.

Held For Future Leaders

The regional shows are held primarily for the future leaders in Western Texas' greatest industry, although their elders also will enter animals for show and sale. The prize-winning animals are auctioned, usually for premium prices.

Leading shows include those at Fort Worth, Houston, San Angelo, El Paso, Abilene, San Antonio, Amarillo and Lubbock.

Civic organizations have arranged prize money and conducted goodwill trips to spread invitations throughout their trade areas.

Rich Purses Posted

Rich purses have been posted to lure the professional performers who follow a transcontinental rodeo trial that seasonally zizzags from California through Texas to New York.

These performers, joined by cowhands from local ranches, will contest at this hazardous game all summer in dusty arenas. The skillful and lucky will wind up the season at eastern shows with earnings of $2,500 to $10,000. Many, however, will not even make back their entrance fees, which are added to the prize money of each show.

Fancy riders, trick ropers and cowboy clowns with trained mules will add zest to the routine rodeo events of bronc riding, calf roping and steer bulldogging.

El Paso's Show Opens

El Paso's eighth annual southwestern livestock show opened yesterday morning and will run through Wednesday. There 4-H club boys and girls are competing for $1,300 in livestock prize money. The one exhibiting the grand champion calf will be awarded a free trip to the Fort Worth show with all expenses paid. Rodeo purses totaling $1,400 are offered.

San Antonio's third annual Southwest Texas boys' fat stock show, Feb. 24-26, has received several hundred entries from 75 counties. The show is staged exclusively for boys who may compete for as many as ten premiums. There will be no rodeo.

Houston Features Rodeo

Houston's fat stock show and livestock exposition, Feb. 26-March 6, features a rodeo and horse show which will cost $30,000 in prizes and salaries for some of the performers. A total of $8,600 in prizes will be offered in the livestock department.

Abilene will hold its first rodeo in connection with its West Texas boys' livestock show March 1-3. Livestock premiums total $1,000 while $3,000 in rodeo purses has been posted.

San Angelo's fat stock show and rodeo, March 4-8, will feature a registered Hereford auction as well as a rodeo. Seventy or eighty registered Herefords will be sold March 7 there. Rodeo prizes total $3,000 and livestock premiums $3,000.

Amarillo Cards Show

Amarillo's fat stock show, March 7-11, will draw 4-H boys' entries from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. No livestock premiums are offered, but the winning livestock will be auctioned. The Panhandle Hereford Breeders association convention will be held March 7-9, and the association will hold an auction March 10.

Fort Worth's 42nd southwestern exposition and fat stock show, March 11-20, is the largest in the southwest and will draw much livestock and most rodeo performers from the earlier regional shows. Livestock awards will approximate $25,000 there with $15,000 rodeo and $8,500 horse show prize money. More than 5,000 animals are entered annually at the show which attracts breeders from more than a dozen states. A daily revue and featured orchestra will be added attractions.

Lubbock's South Plains Junior Fat Stock show will be held April 4-6 with premiums for fifteen places for individuals and five places for groups of three. Exhibitors will be limited to 4-H or vocational agriculture pupils.

Plainview will hold its annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy show April 19-23, followed by the Plains Fat Stock show a week later.

Other rodeos will be held throughout Texas later in the season. These include those at Brady, Ozona, Pecos and the Midland cowboy contest, which will be Sept. 3, 4, and 5.

Pink L. Parrish, Former Mayor And State Senator, Announces Candidacy For Mayor

PINK L. PARRISH

Pink L. Parrish, former mayor and former state senator, formally announced his candidacy for mayor Saturday, subject to the election of April 5.

The announcement marked his emergency from a retirement of more than two years forced by an illness which necessitated amputation of his left leg below the knee. He is the first avowed candidate for any of the three city offices to be filled.

Resident Of Area 38 Years

Parrish, a native of Texas, has been a resident of the South Plains 38 years. He was a cowboy and school teacher in Crosby county until his election there as county judge, a position he held 12 years. He moved to Lubbock 14 years ago and two years later, in 1926, was elected mayor. Friends recalled Saturday that the removal or retirement of several department heads at the city hall was the immediate aftermath of his election, the changes having been made in keeping with his campaign pledges.

He served one term as mayor, retiring from the office in 1928 to make a successful race for state senator. After one term in that office, he was a candidate for congressman-at-large, but was defeated in the run-off.

Has Restored Health

Parrish has been ill most of the time since, although restored health has permitted his to engage in the real estate business the last few months.

The former senator is married, has five children and is a property owner. The family home is at 904 Avenue R.

His formal announcement said:

"I had the honor and pleasure of serving the people of Lubbock as mayor for one term in the past. On my record as your mayor I must stand, whether that record is good or bad. I now have the same ideas of running our government as I had then.

There Should Be No Graft

"Our city government should be managed so that there will be no graft, but an honest administration of the people's business. Let the people know what is being done in their government and we will have the confidence and cooperation of the people. If elected mayor, I shall give the best there is in me to make a real mayor, and shall solicit the counsel and advice of the individual citizen. I shall devote virtually my entire time to the job and shall be available personally to the people 24 hours of almost every day.

"I think our city should be managed with strict economy, but not false economy, keeping in mind we must lay a foundation for the building of a city. We must keep in mind, however, that our departments must function so that the people will have the service they need and to which they are entitled.

Favors Ample Police Protection

"I favor proper police protection for everyone, including the business men in the outskirts of the city. Our people are interested in low taxes and low utility rates. Nothing can be a greater bid for new business and additional citizens than low taxes and cheap water and lights. To these ends I shall strive.

"I shall favor the payment of a fair and living wage to people employed by the city. They are entitled to a wage with which they can feed and clothe their families, pay house rent, keep their children in school and, with economy, lay something aside for a rainy day. Without this wage, we cannot expect honest service.

"If elected, I will be mayor for all the people, not for any group or class. I shall be mayor for the widow in the humble one-room dwelling and the man in overalls as well as for the outstanding business and professional man.

"As your mayor, I can be approached at all times by our people and they will receive a cordial reception. In this way, troubles can be ironed out easily as they arise."

Drillers Preparing To Run Tubing On Well In Hockley

Sid Richardson's No. 1 E. S. Slaughter, 14 miles southwest of Levelland, Saturday afternoon cleaned out to bottom and was heading an estimated 10 to 15 barrels of oil every three hours. Drillers were preparing to run tubing.

The well is 440 feet out of the southwest corner of labor 59, league 39, Maverick county school land, 2 1-4 miles north of the Texas company's No. 1 Bob Slaughter, Hockley county discovery well.

Gulf No. 1 Gordon, a half mile southeast of Stanolind No. 1 Slaughter, wost southeasterly producer of the area, was drilling in lime at 4,625 feet and will run seven-inch casing between 4,750 and 4,800 feet.

Gulf's No. 2 Mallett, two miles southeast of the Texas company's No. 2 Slaughter, was drilling at 4,726 feet in lime.

In northeast Lynn county, the Baldridge No. 1 Alamo was drilling at 3,760 feet in anhydrite. First lime stringer was picked up at 3,690 feet.

Data Is Gathered On Rate Fight

Data to be presented in opposition to a railroad application to increase freight rates on grain was gathered Saturday by representatives of the chamber of commerce in co-operation with George M. Roach, president of Grain exchange, on a trip Saturday to Farwell and intermediate points.

Notice that hearing on the railroad application will be held before the interstate commerce commission and Texas railroad commission at Dallas Wednesday or Thursday was received at the chamber of commerce Saturday.

Effect of the increase, according to contention of those opposing it, would tend to put the South Plains region at a disadvantage of 3 1-2 to 5 cents per hundredweight of grain in comparison with other sections.

Information gathered Saturday, it was disclosed, relates to the increase in the volume of grain carried by trucks in recent years which will be offered in support of the contention that railroads will lose additional business if higher rates are granted. Thus, according to that theory, railroad revenues from grain shipments actually will be lower because of reduced volume.

Seventy-Eight Manufacturing Plants, 127 Wholesale Houses Counted In City

Survey Reveals Distribution

Reflecting the growing importance of Lubbock as a distributing center, a chamber of commerce survey completed Saturday disclosed 78 manufacturing plants and 127 wholesale houses are located here.

The number represents an increase of more than 15 per cent within a single year, officials added. While the survey was described as the first of thorough nature of its kind to be made, chamber workers learned that more than 30 of the businesses or branches were established here during the year.

Gathered For State Directory

Information was gathered for the double purpose of having it available at the chamber of commerce and the bureau of business research of the University of Texas by which it is to be compiled into a general Texas industrial directory for virtually worldwide circulation.

Other facts revealed, chamber officials said, are that the manufacturing and distributing establishments give steady employment to an aggregate of approximately 1,996 people with a weekly payroll totaling approximately $50,000. It discloses also that 46 different products are manufactured here and that distributing houses for 61 different products are manufactured here and that distributing houses for 61 different lines of merchandise are located in Lubbock.

Break-Down Of Distribution

Of the manufacturing plants, seven are shown to have national distribution, five statewide, 53 in the South Plains and New Mexico district, seven in the county and six in the city. Of the wholesales, seven distribute nationally, 11 over the state, 95 in the district, nine in the county and five in the city.

Some of the various products manufactured here were listed as being cotton gin equipment, sheet metal products, wind mills, cosmetics, feeds, trailer houses, dairy and poultry products, insecticides, cotton seed products, flavoring extracts, leather goods, cafe fixtures, billiard tables, monuments, optical supplies, dental products, mirrors, signs, tarpaulins, roasted coffee, auto tops, ice and ice cream.

Some of the general lines of merchandise for which distributing houses are located here are automotive equipment, electrical appliances, groceries, optical supplies, paper products, rubber goods, drugs, automobiles, nursery stock, farm machinery and equipment, petroleum products, lumber, feeds, produce, decorators supplies, baby chicks, steel supplies, office supplies, light and heavy hardware, fruits and vegetables, fish and sea foods, roofing materials, candies, school supplies, tobacco goods, condiments, carbide, ladies' ready to wear, plumbing materials, filling station equipment and paints.

There are no duplications, those in charge of the survey said, in the listings of the manufacturing and the jobbing establishments.

Bits Of Gossip On The Ether . .

RADIO SHOW TODAY

With the broadcast of "The Case of the Pink Parrot," or "Guess Who," Professor Twigleaf and company make their initial bow over KFYO this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, in a 30-minute radio show comparable to network standards. By far the most pretentious effort ever attempted on the local station, the new program will include almost the entire staff of KFYO, as well as several guest stars.

For the first time, too, visitors are invited to attend the broadcast, so far as space permits. According to present plans, in later "Professor Twigleaf" programs, studio visitors will be asked to take part in the show.

Members of the KFYO staff who will be heard are Norman Rogers, R. B. McAlister, Kathrine Malone, Bruce Collier, Wes Youngblood, Quanah Parker, and a mysterious "Professor Twigleaf."

Bernie Howell will furnish incidental music on the Hammond electric organ.

EARNS OWN PUBLICITY

Most artists like publicity, and Les Parker, whose Hollywood dance orchestra is heard each night at 6 o'clock over Station KFYO, is no exception. Les prefers to earn his own publicity, however, and not have it thrust upon him—as was the case recently when reporters learned of his budding romance with Louise Locher, beautiful sister of Jon Hall, who became famous overnight in Sam Goldwyn's "Hurricane." The romance is a going concern, says Les but he would just as soon pursue it privately and not in the headlines.

REAL THRILL PROMISED

KFYO prize-fight fans are in for a real thrill this afternoon at 5 o'clock when a blow-by-blow description of the James J. Corbett-Charley Mitchell fight for the world championship will be broadcast.

The Corbett-Mitchell fight, the first to be staged under the Marquis of Queensbury rules, was fought near Jacksonville, Florida, under the sponsorship of the Duval A. C. The two men battled for a purse of $20,000 with $5,000 side bets.

The KFYO broadcast, which will reconstruct all the thrilling sidelights of the contest, tells something of the history of these great fighters, and how the governor of Florida did everything but call out the national guard to stop the fight.

The famous battle was reconstructed from newspaper stories and eye-witness accounts, and transcribed for radio.

Chu Jai Boi Is Just A Friendly Little "Peke" But He Is Possibly One Of The Most Valuable Dogs In All Lubbock

By CLAUDE TUCKER

Chu Jai Boi, known to his friends as Danny, is a friendly 9-pound Pekingese.

Possibly he hasn't chased the most cats or whipped every dog that tried his alley, but the lion-like little animal with the big, inquisitive eyes and the wise face has the distinction of being possibly the most valuable dog in Lubbock.

No "Price On His Head"

There is no "price on his head," but an offer of $750 for his father was refused—and "Danny" is just a "chip off the old block," according to Mrs. Velma Martin of 1611 Avenue Q, his owner.

Chu Jai Boi at 2 is at the top of the dog social ladder; even though his forebears reputedly figured in a smuggling scheme that brought them into England from China. His father, to get down directly to the Lubbock dog, was imported from England. Chu Jai Boi can boast of royalty, since he can trace his lineage back to the royal courts of Peking.

Royal Dogs Of China

For ages, the Pekingese have been the royal dogs of China, the favorites of the imperial court. It probably is that association that gives Chu Jai Boi his courtly bearing and impressive appearance. He retains some of the characteristics of the Chinese: he advances slowly, he is philosophical, loyal and forgiving, and once he accepts a friend he is a friend for life.

He has not made his appearance in a show ring, but he has all the marks of a grand champion, authoritative dog fanciers have suggested.

Chu Jai Boi has a "lady friend" named Ho Toy, which means "lucky girl." She is better known as Poo Kee. Socially, Poo Kee is numbered among the "four hundred," since her parents were imported directly from China to the United States. She seven times has been selected champion of shows from Philadelphia to Denver, from where she was brought to Lubbock.

Famous For Speaking

Poo Kee's father is famous for his ability to "Speak" the word "mama". According to authorities, there is only one other dog in the United States another Pekingese, to which is attributed the ability to speak. He says "hello".

Danny and Poo Kee are rearing a family, two fluffy little pups about two months old. Already, they are beginning to take on characteristics of their royal parents.

British Guiana's trade for the first 11 months of 1937 was the greatest in nine years.

Area Is To Get Shelter Belts

Eight South Plains counties are to have demonstrations of shelter belt work, similar to that in five counties in the eastern part of the Panhandle, K. J. Edwards, district agent leader, announced yesterday.

Counties include: Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Terry and Lynn.

It is planned, Edwards said, to plant two miles of trees on from two to four farms in each county. Plantings will be ten rows, ten feet apart, with the center row Chinese elms and locust, mulberry and evergreens on either side.

State, Federal Units Aiding

W. E. Webb, Wichita Falls, state director of the shelter belt planning work, was here last week for a conference with Edwards. He said the state forest service and the federal service were cooperating.

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station, has cooperated with the group and has given valuable help to the shelterbelt work, Edwards said. He is working with the group in the coming program.

After the belt work has been tried out for two or three years, it may be expanded if results expected are attained, Edwards added.

In South Carolina the law does not allow divorce for any case.

Leaders In Congress Concentrate On Hastening Roosevelt's Program

Adjournment In May Hoped For

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Congressional leaders, determined to make this a short, productive session, concentrated today on hastening action on President Roosevelt's legislative program.

The leaders and most members were hopeful of adjournment early in May. Many of the law-makers were anxious to get back home and look after their election-year political interests.

One Major Bill Passed

The faster tempo of congress the last week heartened leaders. Action was completed on one major bill, the new Agricultural Adjustment measure, and several others moved substantially nearer enactment.

The Southern filibuster against the anti-lynching bill has held up senate progress. However, senate leaders said the measure would be laid aside Monday. The senate is to start work then on the house approved $250,000,000 deficiency relief appropriation, reported out yesterday by the appropriations committee.

Other Action May Follow

Action on other measures may follow with comparative rapidity.

In connection with the desire for early adjournment, members awaited with considerable interest Mr Roosevelt's projected message on revision of the anti-trust laws. There were reports in informed qaurters, however, that this might not ask actual revision at this session, but merely request a congressional study of desirable changes.

The house, passing an average of one appropriation bill for each of the seven weeks it has been in session, has approved total expenditures $28,056,891 under budget estimates.

Without Record Vote

The members yesterday approved without a record vote a $130,097,052 bill for 1939 expenses of the state, justice, labor and commerce department.

That brought to $3,816,410,353 the chamber's total allocations in five regular and two special appropriation bills. The budget bureau had recommended a total of $3,844,467,244.

Here are the approved appropriation bills, with amounts the budget approved:

District of Columbia, $45,079,122 and $47,344,702; independent offices $1,412,069,465 and $1,414,210,535; navy (regular), $549,227,842 and $564,406,461; treasury-postoffice, $1,401,847,863 and $1,408,468,336; first deficiency $28,089,009 and $28,127,559; relief, $250,000,000, as recommended; four-department, $130,097,052 and $131,909,651.

Fort Worth And Denver Railway Payroll Is Higher In 1937

CHILDRESS, Feb. 19 (Special)—Fort Worth and Denver payroll, both shop and road, for 1937 was $16,000 above that of 1936, said Ed Abington, agent, in announcing the amount paid was $636,350.

With increased payroll and employment of more men, the 1938 total is expected to approach the million dollar mark.

Shops are now working full time. The 217 in the motive power and repair division received $360,500. Enginemen received $67,000; office, $60,000 with other groups receiving smaller amounts.

There are 354 employes of the railroad here.

First Reservation Is Made For Market

First reservation for the clothing market sponsored by Western Wholesale Clothing Market association here March 31 through April 3 has been made by Ely and Walker, clothing concern of St. Louis, according to information given by officials Saturday.

The north ballroom at Lubbock hotel has been assigned to the concern. Five floors of the hotel have been reserved for the market as compared with four for the semi-annual event last spring.

Every indication is, officials of the association said, that the approaching market, like that in the fall, will find the available display space short of the demand. Concerns which exhibited in the fall will be given first opportunity to reserve the available space. Next will come those on a waiting list for which rooms could not be provided at the fall show. Then will come the other applicants. March 7 is the deadline for reservations, it was announced.

As evidence of the growing importance of the week, officials of the association pointed to the fact that five concerns which never before have shown and which have not been solicited already have requested reservations. Whether they can be cared for was explained as being problematical.

No reservations had been received Saturday for the dinner-dance which will be the major entertainment feature of the four-day market. Invitations have been sent to approximately 1,000 retail dealers in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Reservations will be required to attend the dance and tickets will be limited to three to each establishment. The distribution of the tickets, officials warned, will be strictly on the basis of "first come, first served."

Half-Dozen Permits Are Issued Saturday; Week's Total $45,121

A half-dozen building permits, largest of which was for $4,000, were issued Saturday by City Building Inspector Jim Reid, authorizing construction, repairs and erection of signs estimated to cost $6,600.

Saturday's permits sent the week's total to $45,121; the month's to $116,897.90; and the year's to $234,979.25, according to figures released after closing hours.

The permits were to: Clarks Drug store, owner, and West Texas Neon distributors, contractors, to erect a neon sign at 1702 Broadway; Piggly Wiggly, owner, and the sign company, contractor, to erect a metal sign at 2320 Nineteenth street, $225; Piggly Wiggly, owner, and the sign company, contractor, to erect a neon sign at 2422-A Broadway, $225; A. W. Jackson to build a masonry building at 1714 Broadway, $4,000; Coca Cola Bottling company, owner, and the sign company, contractor, to erect an all-metal neon sign at 1617 Texas avenue, $1,000; and Jarrett West Drug company, owner, and the sign company, contractor, to erect a neon sign at 1314 Broadway, $750.

He began working in the oil fields of his native state as a youth and later operated for himself in Ohio, Indiana, California, Colorado, Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

Problems Talked By Agents Here

County agents of the South Plains yesterday discussed farm food supply, gardens and how to sub-irrigate them and kindred matters, at a conference yesterday in the Lubbock hotel. It was an all-day affair at which three specialists from College Station offered suggestions and aids on how to improve present conditions.

K. J. Edwards, district agent leader, presided over the morning session. H. H. Williamson, state director, who had been in Lubbock Friday night for another meeting, remained over to bring greetings to the group. He spoke briefly on the service and on the work done in this area by the men and women in leading farm families into better living conditions. Williamson and J. B. Prewitt, district agent leader for area 6, left later for Midland and El Paso.

Rosborough Speaker

J. F. Rosborough, extension specialist in horticulture, discussed fruit trees and methods of caring for them. Miss Jennie Camp, specialist in food production, spoke to the general group on the necessity of a balanced ration. M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer, talked on the sub-irrigating of gardens of the area and what could be accomplished.

During the morning, while the men were at Texas Technological college, Miss Lida Cooper, district home demonstration agent leader, presided. Miss Camp went further into the women's program for the year.

Witness Demonstration

After lunch at the hotel, the visitors went to the G. H. Grissom farm, two miles west of the municipal airport, where a tile demonstration was held.

County agents present included: Roy Hickman, jr., Cochran; Ralph Howe, Crosby; Grady J. Lane, Dickens; J. W. Potts, Garza; D. W. Sherrill, Hockley; Mack Woodrum, Kent; C. C. Jobson and H. E. Thompson, assistant, Lubbock; V. F. Jones, Lynn; R. N. McClain, Terry; Jason O. Gordon, Parmer and W. H. Horn, Yoakum. Demonstration agents were: Miss Geneva Masbon, Cochran; Miss Jean Day, Dickens; Miss Hazel Phipps, Hockley; Miss Ruth Grimes, Kent; Miss Clara Pratt and Miss Elizabeth Brooks, assistant, Lubbock; Miss Lilith Boyd, Lynn and Miss Ora Anderson, Yoakum.

Hagerman Funeral To Be Held Today

Funeral services for Merle Hagerman, 19, of 2315 Fifteenth street, who died Friday afternoon, will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at First Baptist church, with Rev. W. M. Ferguson, Slaton Baptist pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. C. E. Hereford of the Lubbock First church.

Hagerman was in serious condition when admitted to a sanitarium here about a week earlier. Death was attributed to meningitis which developed from a throat infection.

Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery, under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

The youth was a junior pre-law student at Texas Technological college. An annual formal dance of Wranglers social club, of which he was a member, was called off from Saturday night because of his death.

He was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hagerman. His father is an employe of Santa Fe railway at Slaton.

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 19 (Special)—Bond of $1,000 was set for Ruth Swindle, who waived preliminary hearing on a murder charge after the fatal stabbing of her husband Jack Swindle, in Littlefield recently. Both are negroes.

Relatives posted the necessary bond and the woman was released.

Salvation Army Plans Service

A farewell service for Capt. John G. Churchill, who will leave early this week for Harlingen after serving four years as corps commander of the Salvation Army here, will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Army hall at 1112 Seventeenth street. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, will address the group.

Lieut. Zada Koehler will be in charge of the program, which follows: Invocation, C. A. Sanford; scripture, Mrs. Churchill; remarks, Ilene Rawlins and Albert Compton, soldiers in the corps; introduction of advisory board members, George S. Berry, past president; remarks and introduction of Dr. Knapp, R. F. Bayless, present president of the board; address, Dr. Knapp; vibraharp selection, "Whispering Hope", Mrs. Jess McIlhaney; sermon, "Happiness", Capt. Churchill; benediction, Lieut. Bob Moore of Plainview.

When Capt. Churchill came here, the annual budget was between $4,000 and $5,000 and for each of the last two years has been $9,000 exclusive of property purchases. Three Lubbock persons have enlisted in Salvation Army work. At the time he came here, on Feb. 1, of 1934, the Army work was centered in two rooms of a rented building, and now is housed in a new $8,000 building with 10 rooms, in addition to the two rooms formerly used.

The average sales of 100 War Cries per month when he came here has doubled. In the fall of 1933, $1,400 was netted in the annual drive, and in the last year $2,800 was secured for maintenance in addition to $3,000 for the building.

The Lubbock corps has been instrumental in opening Salvation Army work in Littlefield and in reinstating corps at Big Spring and Plainview.

Nation's Farmers To Get $250,000,000 In Subsidy Payments In New Program

Preparations On For Referendum

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Compliance with the administration's new farm program, officials estimated today, would put about $250,000,000 subsidy payments into the pockets of the nation's cotton farmers.

If growers plant no more than the 26,300,000 acres Secretary Wallace has allotted to the crop and observe other conditions, they will be eligible to receive between $110,000,000 and $130,000,000 from the $500,000,000 authorized for the general farm program.

TEXAS ALLOTMENT 9,839,627

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 19. (AP) — Texas has a tentative allotment of 9,839,627 cotton acres under the 1938 farm act.

George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural conservation committee, said the state's allotment was slightly more than 40 per cent of the tentative national allotment.

The state allotment will be apportioned to counties principally on the basis of acreage planted to cotton the last five years, with credit given for acreage diverted from cotton under the previous farm programs.

To Receive $130,000,000 More

In addition, they would receive $130,000,000 in price-adjustment payments on cotton produced last year.

This subsidy fund, officials said, would be about twice that paid cotton growers in any previous year.

However, they said it was quite probable that the projected reduction in the size of the crop—to 11,230,000 bales compared with 18,747,000 last year—would mean a lessening in the total income. Cotton growers received about $925,000,000 in 1937.

Advocate Progressing Tax

Recognizing this possibility, officials continued to advocate congressional enactment of a processing tax to enlarge the subsidies.

They pointed out, however, that cotton growers should receive benefits difficult to estimate from the 8,000,000 acres of land that would be diverted from cotton under the program.

Share tenants, tenant-renters and sharecroppers as well as farm owners will be eligible to vote in the March 12 referendum on a proposal to establish marketing quotas on cotton and tobacco this year.

Detailed instructions on how to conduct the referendum were sent today to county committees.

Only farmers whose names are on a list of growers compiled by the county committee will be permitted to cast ballots. Polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. and the committees will tabulate the vote March 14.

Among the guests were Dr. U. S. Marshall, Tech physician; Dr. R. C. Goodwin of the chemical engineering department; Dean James Gordon; Dr. D. W. Douglas of the zoology department, and Dr. R. A. Studhalter of the science department.

Secretary Wallace Names Directors To Agency

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP) — Secretary Wallace appointed today three directors of the Federal Crop Insurance corporation, an agency authorized by the new farm act to insure wheat growers against losses from natural causes.

The director are: M. L. Wilson, undersecretary of agriculture; Jesse W. Tapp, assistant administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment department administration, and R. M. Evans, assistant to the secretary of agriculture.

The corporation will offer wheat growers policies that would insure them up to 75 per cent of their normal yields. Premiums will be paid in wheat and indemnities would likewise be paid in the grain.

Insurance will be offered growers on 1939 wheat.

Ralls To Stage Poultry Show

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

RALLS, Feb. 19.—Unprecedented patronage is expected from visitors and exhibitors alike when Ralls Chamber of Commerce espoused seventh annual poultry show is conducted next Friday and Saturday in Municipal auditorium.

From 6,000 to 7,000 persons are expected to visit exhibitions the two days, said L. A. Coward, secretary-manager of the chamber, and W. Murphy Byrd, vocational agriculture teacher who with Herbert Hannz, commercial hatcheryman, will assist Coward in management of the show.

Another Show In April

The chamber also conducts another annual exposition, a livestock show which this year will be sometime in April.

A distinctive folder setting out rules for entry, classes and variety of chickens and turkeys to be judged, classifications, and prize awards has been issued.

All birds must be in the auditorium by 11 o'clock the morning of Friday. An exhibitors' fee of 10 cents a bird will be charged. Out-of-county entries may be shown, but will not be eligible for prizes. If exhibitor has no competitor in the class of bird shown the prize will be altered 50 per cent.

Approximately $100 has been subscribed by 63 business men and establisments. Prizes will be awarded 19 varieties of chickens in nine breeds and in two breeds of turkeys, as well as in other classifications.

Some prizes will be part cash, some all cash, some in merchandise.

In addition, the program offers judging of Crosbyton district 1 of Future Farmers of America at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Teams from Crosbyton, Spur, Floydada, Ralls, Lorenzo, Patton Springs, and McAdoo arce expected to participate.

An out-of-county man to judge the show will be selected, said officials, who predicted no less than 200 birds would be in the area. At least 30 exhibitors are expected.

Bald Eagle Is Captured At Morton After Hour's Chase

MORTON, Feb. 19. (Special)—A bald eagle, with a 7 1-2 foot wing spread, was captured here recently by Mr. Dewbree, a farmer in the Neelyward community, after an hour's chase.

The farmer and some friends were chasing a coyote in a truck when the eagle was flushed as the coyote went through a fence. The men kept the bird flying for about an hour and got close enough to rope it.

Apparently the bird had gorged itself until it could not fly high. Gray eagles have been captured or killed here on numerous occasions, but this is the first time a bald eagle had been captured. It is thought it came here from over in New Mexico, where they are said to be frequently seen in the sand hills.

Four Persons Are Jailed Here On Theft Charges And Probe

Four persons were lodged in the county jail late Saturday on theft charges and for investigation of theft.

Cap. Moore, deputy sheriff, transferred a man charged as Grady Hollis, about 35, from Levelland to Lubbock. Two charges of theft of clothes in county court are pending against him. He was arrested by Levelland authorities after the complaining witness said he recognized his suit on the defendant, Moore said.

Grady Harrist, another deputy, and Moore arrested a young Mexican, about 20, near the Avenue H underpass about 8:30 o'clock Saturday night after he assertedly stole four bedspreads from a Lubbock store.

Two negro juveniles who had been arrested by city officials for shoplifting were transferred to the county jail and will be held pending disposal of the case.

Abernathy Vanquishes Ralls For District Championship

Antelopes Win Final Game Of Meet, 26-21

By REEVES HENLY

Coach Ralph Stevenson's Abernathy Antelopes, whose hardwood gracefulness doesn't belie their nom de guerre, displayed every ware in the basketball sample case Saturday night at Texas Tech gymnasium to defeat the Ralls Jackrabbits, 26 to 21, and capture their second district tournament in three years.

The Antelopes, who won the district gonfalon in 1936 and lost it in 1937 to Meadow in the second round of play, rocket into regional competition at Canyon this week-end by virtue of last night's victory.

District Team Chosen

As a reward for their efforts and accomplishments in the district Interscholastic league basketball tournament, the Abernathy team was presented eight miniature gold basketballs and Ralls received eight silver casabas. Abernathy will also be awarded a trophy which is annually given the district winning team.

Tournament officials also selected an all-district quintet whose members will receive additional miniature basketballs as recognition. The all-district team as announced consists of Fred Thompson of Abernathy, and Ray Tarver of Morton, forwards; Beans Reed of Ralls, center; Red Dendy of Ralls, and Osco Abney of Abernathy, guards.

Both Abernathy and Ralls entered the final tilt cautiously. Playing tight, defensive games, they parried and thrust with the dexterity of a fencer throughout the contest, never uncorking the helter-skelter offensive drives displayed in other tournament encounters. Only in the closing minutes of the game, when Ralls employed frequent long shots in a vain attempt at victory, did the play in any way approach wide-open proportions.

Ralls Starts Slowly

Ralls, starting extremely slowly, failed to tally in the initial stanza; however, they speeded up in the second to trail the Gazelles, 9 to 14, at half-time. In the third canto Coach Leon "Bud" Fisher's Jackrabbits tightened Abernathy's lead at 17-14, but the Hale county entry flashed to the finish and pulled ahead of the Rabbits for keeps.

Thompson and Reed, forward and center, respectively, for Abernathy and Ralls, failed to live up to advance billings regarding basket shooting. Each was considered the serious scoring threat of his team, but Saturday night they ranged the entire court and left netting honors up to squadmates. Both men tallied two field goals each, but Reed took the scoring lead for the final game by basketing four free tosses out of six tries. Thompson had two chances at basket from the foul line but failed to connect.

Tying Reed for high-point game honors was Robison, Antelope forward, with eight points.

Abernathy Advances Easily

Abernathy advanced to the final round Saturday morning in the semi-final play-off by roundly beating Southland, 40 to 19.

At no time did Southland, victors over Slaton in an over-time session Friday afternoon, seriously threaten Abernathy's right to enter the final rounds. So completely did the Antelope attack, led by Thompson, Abernathy forward, bewilder the Southland cagers that they were forced into a defensive game all the way. Shelton, star forward for the eliminated team, failed to tally a single field goal and bucketed only three of eight attempted free throws.

Backed up by a great defensive play on the part of his teammates, the diminutive Thompson paced the Antelopes to victory. Five times in the first half and four times in the second he dropped the roundball through the net for two points a throw. These 18 points placed him way out front for the game's high-point honors. His nearest rival was Abney, running guard of the same squad, who marked up eight tallies in the first half but failed to counter in the second.

Ralls Encounters Trouble

Ralls, meanwhile, found it tough sledding against the almost impregnable defense set up by Lamesa. Unable to pull from the bag the offense which defeated Pettit Friday night, the Jackrabbits downed Lamesa finally in a second over-time session with two winning free tosses. Final score was Ralls 31, Lamesa 29.

It was perhaps the most spectacular of all the elimination rounds. At half-time, the Bunnies led by a top-heavy 18 to 10 count, but in the third canto the yellow jersied Lamesa entries had narrowed the margin to 19-23. Almost with the sound of the fourth-period whistle, Coon, Lamesa center, dropped a long shot into the mesh for the tying two points that sent the setto into an extra session at 25-25.

Free Tosses Win Game

Breaking into their offensive at the first whistle of the three-minute extra period, Ralls basketed a brace of field goals in one-two order. Coon immediately hooped one for Lamesa, and Gill sent the game into another over-time period with a second field goal for the gold clads.

Both squads entered the "sudden death" period—in which the team scoring the first two points wins the marbles—with fighting intent. Spectators gasped as crip and long shots failed both quintets. A called foul on Lamesa gave Brown one shot at the ring and the Ralls forward tallied. A few seconds later another foul placed the ball in the hands of Dendy, Jackrabbit guard, who took the game-point and advanced his team to the finals after two and one-half minutes in the "sudden death" period.

Ritchie Brothers, John Buck Rest With Others Semi-Finalists In Golden Gloves Tourney; Finals Carded Monday Night

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

FORT WORTH, Feb. 19.—Three Avalanche-Journal District Golden Gloves champions are among 32 survivors of the 117 starters in the second annual Texas Golden Gloves tournament here after two nights of fighting.

The semi-finalists took time off to rest today and tomorrow for the semi-finals and finals Monday night. Twenty-four fights are scheduled for the final night at Will Rogers Memorial coliseum.

Big Babe Ritchie, Lubbock High school football captain and winner of the state Golden Gloves heavyweight title in 1937, has been established as favorite to repeat his triumph this year. Although he was none too impressive in his first fight Friday night, wagering here still is in his favor. John Bray, Fort Worth champion, Curry Cunningham, Tyler titlist and Truett Fulcher, Abilene entry, are remaining competitors for the heavyweight title.

Bob Ritchie Looks Good

Brother Bob Ritchie came through in fine fashion against one opponent Friday night and has a good chance to come through in the light heavyweight class. The older of the Lubbock brother act has shown well in this, his first major test, and is in good fettle for the Monday night bouts.

Third remaining Lubbock representative, John Buck, Texas Tech scrapper from Crosbyton who captured the state AAU title in 1937, is none the worse for two Friday night matches. Buck started slowly but came through with decisions over two fine fighters, J. C. Glass of Austin and Raymond Oest of Galveston. Vanquishing of the latter, who had been rated the pre-tournament middleweight favorite raised stock of the Crosbyton boy.

Two Points Have 4 Left

Pampa, Texas A. & M., and Fort Clark were only points of 16 sending teams here to be out of the running after first and second round matches. Four survivors were listed from each of Galveston and Fort Worth eliminations. Besides Lubbock, Abilene, Dallas, Austin and Wichita Falls each have three left in the running.

Amarillo, Houston, and Austin each has two representatives left, and Big Spring, Brownwood, and Fort Russell have one apiece.

Thursday and Friday eliminations left the following boys in each weight:

FLYWEIGHT

BANTAMWEIGHT

FEATHERWEIGHT

LIGHTWEIGHT

WELTERWEIGHT

Arthur Dorrell, Dallas; Dewey McMillin, Fort Russell; Rex Daniels, Amarillo; Elby Pettaway, Houston.

MIDDLEWEIGHT

Earl Brown, Amarillo; Carl Hilger, Dallas; Andy Eagleton, Fort Worth; John Buck, Lubbock.

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT

Bob Ritchie, Lubbock; Billy Colbert, Houston; Fuller Rogers, Fort Worth; Beaner Garland, Wichita Falls.

HEAVYWEIGHT

John Bray, Fort Worth; Babe Ritchie, Lubbock; Curry Cunningham, Tyler; Truett Fulcher, Abilene.

Thomas May Get Shot At Title

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—It appeared today that the tenth-round comeback of Harry Thomas in his fight last night with young Jimmy Adamick would propel the veteran fistic "trial horse" into a championship "tuneup" match with Joe Louis.

Negotiations to match Louis and Thomas in the Chicago stadium, April 1, were begun by Al Weill, matchmaker for the 20th Century Sporting club, after Adamick's board of strategy, headed by Jack Kearns, decided Jimmy needs more experience before being tossed into the same ring with the likes of the "Brown Bomber."

Thomas dropped the decision to Adamick, in the Garden ring, but had his opponent groggy and the crowd in an uproar by staging a belated finishing rally.

Last December Thomas got off the floor seven times before he was stopped in the eighth round by Max Schmeling. Thus a Louis-Thomas match would offer another yardstick for comparison of the prospective principals in this year's feature heavyweight title bout.

Frenship And Idalou Split In Junior Cage Tournament

WOLFFORTH, Feb. 19. (Special) Frenship boys took first place in the Lubbock county junior tournament here tonight defeating Idalou, while the local girls dropped a close one to give Idalou the girls title.

In a rough contest which saw the Idalou boys sink only one field goal, Frenship triumphed, 34 to 12. Wayne Bennett sank 10 points to lead scorers, with Chesley Housegood taking second place with 7 markers.

Idalou was victor, 24 to 20, in the girls game. Addie Joe Ferguson of Frenship took scoring honors with 12 points. Gregory of Idalou followed with 11.

Mechanical Batter To Test Merits Of Different Balls

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—The bureau of standards tested its federal fence buster today preliminary to determining next week the relative home-run qualities of American, National and International league baseballs.

At the request of Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, who wants to know how the different league balls compare, the government has built a big air gun that can knock more home runs in a day than Babe Ruth did in a lifetime.

Here's How It Works

Unlike the Babe's, however, the government's round-trippers will be inside the park. In fact, they won't get out of one of the little grey rooms at the bureau of standards.

Here's the way the scientists are going to hit 'em:

The air gun will be loaded with a one-pound wooden projectile. This represents the slugger's bat.

A scientist will pull a trigger. The projectile will strike a baseball. The baseball will fly toward a ballistic pendulum. It'll tell him how hard the ball hit the pendulum, or whether it was a home-run, a double or just a pop fly.

Dr. H. L. Dryden, chief of the mechanics and sound division, built the federal fence buster and will supervise the mechanical slugging.

He's geared the buster to propel a ball 200 feet a second, which he says is giving the ball an awful sock, but not a wallop that some hitters can't duplicate.

Bruins Triumph Over Arkansas Hogs, 54-47

WACO, Feb. 19. (AP)—Baylor's bewildering basketeers blasted the undefeated Southwest conference record of the University of Arkansas Razorbacks with a 54-47 victory tonight.

The somewhat surprising result left Baylor and Southern Methodist tied for second place in the torrid conference race only a few points behind Arkansas' veteran aggregation. The Bears could vault into the lead through another victory over the Porkers Monday night.

Hub Kirkpatrick, Baylor's slender center, easily shaded "Deadpan" Don Lockard in their individual scoring duel and shot ahead of the Arkansas forward in season points. Kirkpatrick's 19 tonight made his total in seven games 131 whereas Lockard has amassed only 129 in nine tilts.

Fouls Prove Costly

The fouling out of Ray Hamilton possibly was the difference between victory and defeat for the Porkers. The field goal registered by Kirkpatrick as the Arkansas center committed his last foul tied the score and the subsequent conversion of one of two free throws put the desperate Bruins into the lead.

The Bears held the upper hand through virtually all of the remaining fifteen minutes, once widening their margin to twelve points.

It was clearly an off night for Lockard, due in part to the tenacious guarding of Pete Creasey.

Grideers Star For Hogs

Hamilton, Jim Benton and Jack Robbins, all well known to football fans, were the shining lights for the invading Redshirts. Benton counted seven field goals and two free throws and Robbins came up from his guard position to register twelve points.

Conference standings at the end of the game showed Arkansas with eight victories and one defeat, and Baylor and Southern Methodist each with six triumphs and one loss. The Porkers and Bruins clash again here Monday night with the Methodists journeying to the Arkansas stronghold next week.

Horned Frogs Snap Losing Streak To Defeat Owls

FORT WORTH, Feb. 19. (AP)—The hard luck T. C. U. basketball team finally snapped its long losing streak here tonight. Led by Jack Reedy, a sophomore forward from Indiana, the Purple nosed out the Rice Owls 50-48 in a thriller.

It was the first victory for a Frog team in 21 conference games.

The Purple jumped into an early lead and was on top from six to 12 points all the way. With just 30 seconds to go the score was 50-43. In those few last moments Seale and Klindworth of Rice hit field goals and the latter made a free pitch to make it 50-48. But the few seconds remaining ran out before the Owls could get another shot.

Reedy accounted for 16 points while Woodrow Duckworth, another sophomore forward, hit 14. Slim Mabry, tall center, chipped in with 12. Seale and Steen led Rice with 11 each.

Texas Wins First Game In Month By Beating Aggies

AUSTIN, Feb. 19. (AP)—The Texas Longhorns broke their losing streak here tonight by turning back the Texas Aggies, 35-27 in a slow moving contest.

It was the Steers' first conference victory since they trimmed T. C. U. more than a month ago and the third for Jack Gray's team this season, leaving them with a chance to finish with a .500 average.

Willie Tate, although guarded closely by the Aggies' tall Louie Freiberger, took scoring honors of the game with 11 points. He was pressed closely by Jimmy Clark, Aggie forward, who scored 10.

Spears Is Outstanding

The outstanding player of the game was Oran Spears, sophomore guard, who played in 60 games of the John Tarleton college victory string. Beside holding Buddy Harris, the Aggies' leading scorer for the season, to two points, Spears directed the Texas offense and slipped in four beautiful field goals and a free toss for nine points.

The Aggies started out as if to make it quite a ball game, holding a 9-8 lead after 10 minutes of play. The lead had changed hands four times in the early stages. With six minutes of the first half remaining, Bobby Moers slipped in a field goal that gave the Steers a 10-9 lead, an advantage that they never relinquished.

Steele Retains Title With Technical Kayo Over Barth

CLEVELAND, Feb. 19. (AP)—Freddie Steele of Tacoma, Wash., retained his middleweight championship here tonight by stopping Carmen Barth after 2:19 of the seventh round of their scheduled 15-round bout. Barth's followers tossed in the towel after the Clevelander had been knocked down four times. James J. Braddock, who used to be a fighter himself, was the referee.

Steele weighed 159, Barth 159 1-4.

From the second through the fifth round they fought what used to be known as a ding-dong battle, with Barth, who was Olympic middleweight champion in 1932, showing a surprisingly effective left-handed attack.

Braddock Gets Warm

But Steele's incessant right and left pounding was too much for the Clevelander in the sixth and seventh.

Braddock, the former heavyweight champion, who essayed the third man's job without fee to help along the charity for which the bout was staged, worked up a sweat that was reminiscent of the days not so long ago when there was the matter of a 175-pound instead of a 160-pound title to think about.

Fifteen Entries Are In New Deal Tourney

Fifteen teams have filed entries for the New Deal independent basketball tournament to be played Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday night, Coach Hugh Snodgrass, director of the tourney, said Saturday night.

A complete schedule of games was not available then, and it is expected that three or four more teams will enter, Snodgrass said. Managers will be notified about the schedule after the draw Monday.

Prizes of $25, $15, and $10 are offered for first, second and third place winners.

Teams entered to Saturday night are: Idalou, Abernathy, Anton, New Lynn, Shallowater, New Deal, Meadow, Lamesa, Ralls, Wilson, Littlefield CCC, and Peel Packing company, Kerr Bros., Hub Clothiers, and Texas Tech fish, all of Lubbock.

TOURNAMENT DATES CHANGED

POST, Feb. 19. (Special)—Dates of the independent basketball tournament set for Feb. 25 and 26 have been changed to March 2 and 3 to avoid a conflict with another sponsored by New Deal High schools, Jess Cearley, Post High school coach and director of the event here, said today. Change was made to permit teams to enter both tournaments, Cearley said.

Kansan Nearly Sets Record

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—The great Glenn Cunningham narrowly missed his bid for a world indoor record tonight in winning the Baxter mile, feature race of the New York A. C. games at Madison Square garden. Cunningham was clocked in 4 minutes, 8.6 seconds, only two tenths of a second short of his own board track standard, as he whipped Gene Venzke by 15 yards.

The barrel-chested Kansan, wearing the colors of the New York Curb Exchange A. A., registered his eighth straight and most impressive victory of the indoor season before a crowd of 15,000 spectators.

Cunningham took over the pace-making after passing the half mile mark in 2:04.4. Thereafter it was mainly a chase between the world record-holder and the stop-watch. Venzke stuck to Glenn's heels until the last lap, then faded.

Archie San Romani, Kansas rival of Cunningham's and fellow member of the Curb Exchange A. A. ran a poor third.

As he reeled off the second fastest mile ever run indoors Cunningham was clocked by quarters in 60.8 seconds, 63.6, 63.2 and 61.

Cunningham's time set a new record for the Baxter mile, which he has captured four times in six years. Glenn set the previous mark of 4:09.8 in 1935.

Allan Tolmich, slender Wayne university hurdler, turned the tables on Georgia's redoubtable Forrest (Spec) Towns with a world record triumph in the finals of the 60-yard high hurdles.

After both had equalled the old indoor standard of 7.3 seconds in the semi-finals, Tolmich broke in front and led all the way as he hit the tape with a two-foot margin in 7.2 seconds. Towns set the previous indoor record in 1936.

Several other schools have been tendered invitations, but yet have not returned their entries. Trophies will go to the winner, the runner-up and the consolation victor. Gold basketballs will be given members of the all-tournament team.

Teams entered are among the strongest of the Panhandle. They are: Anton, Littlefield, Olton, Canyon, Ropesville, Lazbuddy, and Spring Lake.

Gus Dorais Says He Is Not Interested In Any New Job

DETROIT, Feb. 19. (AP)—Charles E. (Gus) Dorais, University of Detroit football coach with a reputation for making good teams from mediocre material, is not a 1938 candidate for any other job. He says so himself.

The former Notre Dame quarterback stated his position today after being informed he was on the list of possible successors to Fritz Crisler at Princeton university.

Harry Cooper Is Four Under Par For Open Lead

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 19. (AP)—Doughty Harry Cooper, golf's mechanical man, bored a four-under-par 68 through high winds to lead his field by three shots in the opening round of the $5,000 Crescent City open tournament today.

Soaked by heavy rain and lengthened by the biting wind, City park's par 37-35—72 stumped golf's best shooters, with the notable exception of Cooper and Horald (Jug) McSpaden, Winchester, Mass., who clipped one stroke from par for his second place 71.

Horton Smith, the gangling Oak Park, Ill., stylist, stroked an eagle three into the eighteenth cup to finish with a 73 and share third position with seven others.

Far back in the ruck after struggling rounds were such stars as Jim Demaret of Houston, recent winner of the San Francisco match play event, with 82; Craig Wood of Rumson, N. J., with 81; Lawson Little, 78; Byron Nelson, Reading, Pa., 79; Sammy Byrd, Philadelphia, 80, and Ben Hogan, 79.

Bunched at 73's were Pat Sawyer, Birmingham, Mich.; Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J.; Smith; Vince Eldred, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Denny Shute, National P.G.A. champion of Miami, Fla.; Henry Ransom, young Bryan, Texas, comer; Jack Grout, Hershey, Pa., and Dick Metz, Chicago.

One stroke behind at 74 Jimmy Hines, Garden City, N. Y., Bud Williamson, Fort Wayne, Ind., Frank Walsh, Miami, Fla., Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., leading money winner of the tour.

Slammin' Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., headed up the 75 list, which also included Ky Laffoon, Chicago; Ed Dudley, Augusta, Ga., Leonard Dodson, Springfield, Mo., Fred Haas, jr., the New Orleans Walker Cup star, Winnie Cole of Monroe, La., Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., Jimmie Thomson, Shawnee on the Delaware, and Willie Goggin, San Francisco.

One 18 hole round will be played tomorrow and the 36 hole finals with the low 60 players on Monday. Other scores included:

Reuben Allbaugh, Dallas, 42-40—82.

Levi Lynch, Dallas, 38-38—76.

Ben Hogan, Fort Worth, 40-39—79.

W. D. Stackhouse, San Antonio, 42-41—83

Ed Brook, Houston, 43-37—80.

Lewis Matthews, Orange, Texas, no card.

Lee Roy Garrett, Beaumont, no card.

Milton Demaret, Houston, 38-41—79.

Barney Clark, Beaumont, no card.

Bryan Winter, Dallas, 43-37—80.

Big Gate Looms For Louis-Mann Scrap Wednesday Night

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—A "gate" of more than $100,000 loomed tonight for Joe Louis' 15-round tussle with Nathan Mann in Madison Square garden Wednesday night—first indoor heavyweight championship bout in 18 years.

Mike Jacobs' associates in the Twentieth Century club declared that a brisk advance sale indicated a near sell-out by the time the fighters step into the ring. They expect 5,000 or more to come in from New Haven, Mann's home town, Hartford, Bridgeport and other Connecticut cities.

The betting odds ranged up to 5 to 1 with Louis in the favorite's role.

Start Tapering Off

Louis, preparing for his first title defense since he outpointed England's Tommy Farr last August, boxed six rounds at Pompton Lakes today and plans two more boxing sessions of similar length tomorrow and Monday. The Brown Bomber weighed 205 before today's workout and expects to scale 202 for the fight.

Mann boxed four rounds at Summit, N. J., and will taper off sharply after another four-round workout tomorrow. He plans nothing but light exercise on Monday and Tuesday. He scaled 193 pounds, two more than he expects to pack at weighing-in time.

WAR ADMIRAL WINS

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19. (AP)—War Admiral, unbeaten three-year old champion of 1937 from Samuel D. Riddle's stable, today won his four-year old debut at Hialeah Park, defeating five rivals in the seven furlongs of the Heather purse, Norman Church's Sir Oracle was second and Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Caballero 2nd, third.

GOES UNDER KNIFE

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., Feb. 19. (AP)—Burgess Whitehead, second baseman of the New York Giants' baseball club was operated on today for acute appendicitis. His condition was not immediately reported.

Charlie Grimm Likes Cubs' Chances, But Not Sirens

CHICAGO, Feb. 19. (AP) — All Charlie Grimm asks now is that the ambulance driver forget about Chicago's Cubs.

As soon as he learned that the club's contract complications had been straightened out by the signing of Shortstop Bill Jurges, the jovial manager almost — but not quite — gave away to pure optimism. With all hands signed and sound of wind and limb, he opined the Cubs' 1938 outlook was "great."

Recalls Injury List

He admitted, however, that he couldn't forget the staggering number of ambulance journeys his men took last season—trips which he believes kept the Cubs from setting up a big enough lead early in the campaign to withstand later misfortunes. Injuries deprived the Cubs of pictures Tex Carleton, Bill Lee, Curt Davis, and Larry French, catchers Gabby Hartnett and Ken O'Dea, first baseman Jim Collins and Jurges, for long periods.

Has Fingers Crossed

"I'm keeping my fingers crossed," he said, "but it doesn't seem reasonable that we'll have another string of injuries like last year's. Give the Cubs a good break in the early days of the race, and that's all I ask."

Grimm will lead the first squad away from Chicago Monday night, and has outlined four hours of work a day starting Thursday, the day of arrival at Santa Catalin island.

Six Workmen, On The Job Only A Week, Put Finishing Touches On All-Steel Residence

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19.—Six workmen, on the job only a week, put finishing touches today on an experimental all-steel, prefabricated house in suburban Clairton.

Starting from the ground up, they constructed the concrete block foundation in one day; the walls and rafters in another and had the dwelling under roof by the end of the third.

Windows and plumbing fixtures required two more days and today the workmen devoted to decorations.

The Blaw-Knox company designed and manufactured the house during seven months of experimentation. Engineers for the firm said present cost was about $4,000, but that costs probably would be reduced as production increased.

The dwelling has four rooms, a kitchen-dinette; two bedrooms and a living room. In addition, there is a bath and a utility room for the furnace and laundry.

Similar houses will be developed in a new community to be constructed near Clairton for workmen employed in Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation's giant new $60,000,000 Irvin works, now nearing completion.

EXPECT FIRE TRUCK

LAMESA, (Special)—A new city fire truck, recently ordered, is expected before the middle of March. The truck is being built by the American LaFrance Co., at Elmira, N. Y. It will be the second truck for the local unit. The old truck is to be sold as soon as the new one arrives.

Furniture For Fairview Church Manufactured In Panhandle

FLOYDADA, Feb. 19. (Special)—The pews, pulpit and service table at the Fairview Methodist church, recently installed as the gift of the late S. L. Rushing, well known farmer, are said to be the first high grade pews made in the Panhandle of Texas.

Mrs. Rushing gave the order, explaining her husband's last request was that the pews be made. Rushing, a pioneer, had donated the grounds for the church site and also had contributed much towards erection of the church.

City Planing mill of Amarillo made the furniture. Kiln dried oak and birch were used. Much of the carving on the service and the pews was done by hand.

Sampson, Venable Provide Action For Main Rassling Go

Dandy Dick Sampson of Denton again returns to the main event spot on the weekly wrestling card at the Auditorium Wednesday night, sharing the honor with Bulldog Bill Venable, late of Alabam'.

Sampson, who has fathered a new hold which is known hereabouts as the "Sampson Special" has gained quite a following with local mat fans since making his debut here several weeks ago. The ex-North Texas State Teachers college athlete and lately a professional gridder with a Boston, Mass., address, knows how to handle himself and is pretty wise in handling the other fellow.

The Southerner gets rather villainous at times, and in the mix-up this week, fans should get more than their money's worth in an evenly matched scrap.

Moran Meets Cummings

Sailor Moran and Bob Cummings take the ring for the 30-minute semi-final bout Wednesday night. Cummings is pretty wise to the tar's heart punch and should be able to steer clear of it for half an hour. However, that is something that has worried more than one rassler, because the ancient mariner has studied ways and means of putting it across under the most adverse of circumstances.

Otis Clingman has been shunted to the warm-up session this week for his match with Gorilla Pogi. The pair will go 20 minutes unless one or the other can shorten the fracas with a victory.

Beaumont Will Lead Texas Loop Teams Into Training

DALLAS, Feb. 19. (AP)—Beaumont will lead the eight Texas league baseball teams into spring training this year, ordering its battery men to report March 2 and the rest of the club March 7.

Five clubs, including its baby member, Shreveport, will train at home.

The day when every club prepared on the home lot ended when Tulsa and Oklahoma City entered the league. They prefer, because of more suitable weather conditions, to train in Texas.

Sooners Train In Texas

So once more the Oklahoma City club will train at Jacksonville and Tulsa at Seguin. The only other team to leave home is San Antonio. Weather does not enter into the Missions' calculations in going to Laredo, but the showmanship of bringing in a team to start the season with which the local fans are not already familiar.

Aside from Beaumont, the clubs are calling in pitchers and catchers for March 6-7 assembly and the rest of the players a week later. Presumably Shreveport will follow this arrangement. It is the only club whose plans have not been fully announced.

Student Nurse Would Like To See Tennis Tournament For Women Staged In Lubbock

Lubbock women tennis players, neglected all these years, have a champion of their cause as well as a champion of net wars in their midst.

Miss Denzel Davis, student nurse at West Texas hospital, has found competition scarce since coming here from her home in Clovis, N. M., where she was a top ranking player in city tournaments. She has a collection of five cups and two trophies to show for her prowess.

Miss Davis played in singles, doubles and mixed doubles for five or six years at Clovis. She captured the women's title of New Mexico and West Texas.

"I would like to see a tournament for women staged here along with the city tournament for men," Miss Davis said Saturday.

High School AAU Tourney Is Slated This Week At Munday

MUNDAY, Feb. 19. (Special)—The high school boys' division of the official Texas State A. A. U. basketball tournament will be held in this city, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 24, 25, 26.

This is the only tournament in this division scheduled by the A. A. U. this season and the winner of the meet will be the A. A. U. state champions of 1938.

All schools desiring to enter the tournament must register in the Southwest A. A. U. with Ralph Schulze, City Hall, Waco. Then the tournament entry must be made with Dr. J. Horace Bass, Munday, not later than February 22.

Munday will furnish rooms and beds for contestants and coaches, with ten players constituting a full team. Room assignments will be made as entrants are received.

Freddie Bartholomew Given Excuse From Paying Father

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19. (AP)—Freddie Bartholomew, child film star, will be excused from paying his father 20 per cent of his screen income this year.

Superior Judge Clement D. Nye so held yesterday after considering arguments of Freddie's counsel that he will be in debt at the end of 1938 if he makes the payment.

The boy's yearly contract calls for $100,000 a year salary.

Complaints Are Filed Saturday

lly died was served by gas and electrical extensions which had not been inspected and for which no permit was issued.

Enters Guilty Plea

Reid entered pleas of guilty before Acting City Recorder Walter Whorton and was fined $15. The complaints alleged unlawful installation of electric wiring and with installation of gas piping without first obtaining permits. Portwood and Hamilton swore to the charges which had been prepared by Whorton. The complaints named three trailer houses at the rear of lot 1418 on Avenue D.

The small house, Hamilton reported, was one of three on a back lot, front of which was occupied by a larger structure. A gas line extended from a meter in the alley to the house at the front. Hamilton said the line had been tapped by another pipe extending to connections in the smaller houses. Presumably it was gas flowing from open taps in the small room where Mr. and Mrs. McMullan and their baby slept which cased their death.

Other Extensions Found

Electrical Inspector Portwood reported that unauthorized electrical extensions from the large house to the smaller one also were found.

Another aftermath to the tragedy, city officials said, likely will be the recommendation that the new ordinance regulate the cubic foot content of sleeping rooms. That type of regulation has been adopted in many cities, officials said, most of them requiring that there be at least 600 cubic feet of space for each person sleeping in the room. Building Inspector Reid reported that the room where the family died contained fewer than 900 cubic feet.

That space is so small, Dr. Rollo said, that even without fire or gas, three persons probably would consume the oxygen within 12 hours and die of gas poisoning from their own exhalations of breath.

Condition Typical Of Scares

Officials agreed that the conditions are typical of many scares prevailing in Lubbock which were termed a menace to community health and a serious fire hazard. The difficulty of coping with the problem, they explained, grows out of the fact that frequently no building permit is asked for the structure and because of the absence of ordinances dealing with the situation.

It often occurs, they reported, that small shacks are built elsewhere and moved either upon vacant lots or upon the rear of property behind other structures. The only possible way of keeping check on that situation, inspectors said, would be to inspect dozens of miles of streets every day.

Situation Is Explained

Even then, officials said, the city would find itself in a legally difficult situation. It often occurs, they explained, that a trailer is "set down" on property with intent upon the part of the occupants to become as permanent residents of Lubbock as their circumstances will permit. They may actually remain from a few weeks to several months, the report continued. But when qestioned, inspectors related, the occupants invariably insist they are tourists, that they have done no building and therefore are not subject to the building code. The city was explained as being left in a position of doubt also as to whether it could require sewage and water connections as in the case of legitimate residences.

Officials agreed that in those and houses falling within the general category of "trailer type," sanitation connections are rare. Although many have toilet facilities of a government approved sanitation type, officials declared, often they are not used. Wet garbage and other waste usually is merely flung out the back door, to seep into the water stratas from which the city derives its domestic supply. While officials explained that the underground water will purify itself after a comparatively short distance of flow under conditions even of extra-ordinary nature, they agreed that steps should be taken to guard against conditions of such contamination that it will not be thus purified.

To Define Trailer Houses

Objects of the ordinance to be submitted to the commission were described as being to define exactly what the trailer type house is, what its minimum air cubic footage shall be, set a time when the transient in a trailer becomes a resident, revise existing ordinances so that occupants of such structures can be forced to observe the ordinary rules of sanitation and perhaps a system of zoning which would positively forbid their presence in desginated portions of the city.

Another provision for consideration, officials agreed, probably will be the provision of a space for designation as a "trailer town," which would be under rigorous and constant inspection by responsible authority. If that should be created, it was explained, it will be with the expectation that fees charged occupants of the grounds will pay inspection and maintenance expense.

The city manager said another meeting of the special committee probably will be called early this week in an effort to prepare recommendations for submission to the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon.

OILS, COPPERS LEAD CLIMB

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—Oils and coppers led a toddling climb in today's stock market and enabled the list to end the third consecutive week with a net advance.

While gains for the brief session ran to a point or so among favorites, a few specialties were up 2 to 3.

Transfers of 295,980 shares were the smallest volume for any day since Oct. 2, last. But even with the restricted turnover, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up ¼ of a point at 44.6. For the 6-day period the composite was ahead ⅛ of a point.

Bonds shuffled over an uneven range, but commodities improved after a poor start.

Among the day's best gainers were Standard Oil of N. J. at 51, Texas Corp. 42, Anaconda 33, Kennecott 39, Cerro de Pasco 40, Union Carbide 76⅞, Johns-Manville 77¾, Philip Morris 93¾, Chrysler 56, General Motors 35⅞, Westinghouse 96, Santa Fe 36¼, du Pont 118 and Seaboard Oil 23⅞.

Initial gains of 2 to 5 points on better cables than expected encountered some week-end liquidation and hedge selling from th intrior. As a rsult most of the early gain was erased.

In final trading, however, shorts covered and found contracts scarce. In addition there was renewed buying from foreign interests and some investments purchasing by operators who sold yesterday.

The close was at the top with March contracts at 9.10, May at 9.19, July at 9.26, Oct. at 9.35, Dec. at 9.37 and Jan at 9.38.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—Cotton today recovered its losses of Friday on trade and commission house buying May rallied from 9.00@9.10 and closed at the high with final prices 9 to 13 points net higher.

The market opened 3 to 5 points higher on foreign and trade buying. Moderately active outside demand was in evidence owing to the constructive implications of the administration's statement on prices. Prices were steady throughout the session and turned upward in the later trading as the buying broadened somewhat. Hedge selling was light and other offers were moderate in volume.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 9.12 cents a pound, average for the past thirty market days 8.70 cents a pound.

Crisis In England

take up the bargain with Rome, Germany's "mittel Europa" dreams and France's appeal for action to thwart them.

Cause No Surprise

Reliable observers, however, said it would cause no surprise if Eden had opposed an "any price" settlement with Italy alone against the cabinet's "old hands" — Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon, Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare, Lord Chancellor Viscount Hailsham and Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for coordination of defense.

Thus far, there was no evidence that the ministers had reached a decision either on France's appeal, on a settlement with Italy or had solved Britain's own crisis at one of the gravest moments in Europe's post-war history.

To Have Vital Bearing

Hitler's heralded speech tomorrow, it was believed, would have a vital bearing on this aspect of the crisis, possibly inducing the cabinet to submerge its differences for a solid front.

Despite strict secrecy on cabinet discussions, reports in diplomatic quarters said Eden firmly had backed the French view that the time was inopportune for any agreement too closely resembling capitulation to Il Duce.

He was said to feel that joint Anglo-French pressure was necessary to stave off Nazi-Fascist domination of central Europe. Support for this stand came from one of Britain's most influential labor leaders, Herbert Morrison, former cabinet minister and secretary of the London labor party.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 19. (AP)—Rising as much as 1½ cents from early lows, wheat prices closed at small net gains for the session today with the support of buying from commission ouses and export interests.

The recovery that wiped out early fraction in winter wheat territory got underway at the close of the first hour following dational losses based largely on heavy snows closure of a fairly good export wheat business overnight. Strength in securities also improved buying sentiment and a batch of orders arriving suddenly at the pit found sellers in the minority with the result that the rally was swift. New Crests Sweep Down Streams In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 19. (AP)—New crests swept down flooded river valleys in parts of eastern Oklahoma tonight to threaten additional suffering after a week of torrential rains, blizzards and ice storms that dispelled winter's drouth.

While streams receded in the hard-hit Muskogee-McAlester area, a new rise on the Red river was awaited apprehensively along the southastern Oklahoma border, already suffering from the overflows of swift mountain streams.

Clear skies and moderating temperatures in the northwest ended the worst blizzard in years.

National guardsmen from Muskogee and Tulsa sped the evacuation of flood victims at Keota, in eastern Oklahoma.

The Nazi principle that any people which does not feel at home in one state has the right to demand juncture with a more congenial state was openly proclaimed by Dr. Hans Keller, president of the academy for the reich of peoples, in a recent address.

Would Lead To Treaty

Successful invocation of the principle for Czechoslovakians probably would lead next to application to Germans in Poland as soon as the 10-year non-aggression treaty with Germany's eastern neighbor expires in 1944.

Success in drawing all these German-speaking peoples into the nazi orbit might satisfy German pride but not German stomachs.

Germany would still have to look for a natural source of raw materials and outlets for her surplus population. Colonies might be the answer Hitler will demand.

Thus the greatest interest is attached to what Hitler will say on the problem tomorrow.

O'Neal Declares Pact Real Test

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 19. (AP)—Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, asserted today the proposed reciprocal trade agreement with the United Kingdom offers a "real test of whether industry is going to take a purely selfish attitude."

"The proposed agreement," O'Neal said in an address prepared for the National Farm institute, "offers the largest opportunity ... presented to secure concessions for our agricultural exports in the largest potential market, in return for concessions to the United Kingdom on her industrial products."

Tariff Structure "Stacked"

There should be a fair relationship between the duties on agricultural products as compared with industrial products, the farm bureau president declared. The United States tariff structure, he contended, has been "stacked" against the American farmer for the last half century.

"I do not mean a ton of protection for industry to every ounce of protection that is given agriculture," he said. "One of the most important aspects of the reciprocal trade program is the hope it offers for breaking the stronghold of monopolies."

Lorenz And Dwyer Sentenced To Pen Terms Of 50 To 75 Years

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Feb. 19. (AP)—Henry Lorenz, 22, and Harry Dwyer, 27, were given prison terms of 50 to 75 years by District Judge Numa Prenger today on their pleas of guilty to second degree murder for the train robbery death of W. J. Smith, El Paso, Texas, switchman.

Both young men sat pale and shaken as the sentence was pronounced. Lorenz' father, Conrad Lorenz of Maywood, Ill., and his sister, Margaret, of Milwaukee blinked back tears from their eyes.

Smith was fatally wounded last Thanksgiving day in a melee aboard the Southern Pacific's Apache, crack passenger train which Lorenz and Dwyer had attempted to hold up in fantastic "Wild West" style.

Schwellenbach Suggests Debts Payment In Needed Commodities

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash.) suggested today that the countries which owe the United States war debts pay them in commodities this country lacks.

Making it plain that he opposed any scaling down of the debts, Schwellenbach said he thought some method might be worked out by which a debtor could ship in needed articles.

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) said, however, that he would oppose any debt settlement by "indirect methods."

Congressional discussion of the war debts was inspired by reports that Hungary had proposed a scaled down settlement. The little country's debt is only $2,000,000.

Recent scientific studies have demonstrated that adults up to 45 learn as rapidly as adolescent children and even more rapidly than younger children.

GEORGE WASHINGTON COULD TELL A LIE, AFTER ALL

By Henry W. Lawrence

Professor of History, Connecticut College

THERE were a good many things about George Washington to make his contemporaries like him, and to make us like him, too; but these are so largely overlooked or actually concealed in most of the history books, that many of us have about as much affection for him as we have for Niagara Falls.

Take for instance the pious legend that he could not tell a lie. That is a most unfortunate way of putting an important fact about the character of this great man. It would be more accurate, and also more complimentary, to say he hated a lie.

This avoids bringing upon him the suspicion of being mentally defective, through an inability to invent, at need, a plausible untruth. It also shows fairly his attitude toward habitual mendacity.

He hated a lie, yet occasionally found it possible to overcome this hatred; less often, perhaps, than is the case with most upright men, but often enough, nevertheless, to clear him of the charge of being slightly demented on the subject of exact veracity.

That he could and did, on rare occasions, make statements that were intentionally deceptive, may be readily illustrated from his own words.

For instance, at one place in his diary he describes a more or less white lie which he told in order to avoid some inconvenience and discomfort during his journey through the south in 1791. The roads he was traveling over were dusty, so he practiced a little deception to escape the dust:

Traveling through the south in 1791, Washington was greatly annoyed by the dust. To outwit a number of horsemen who wanted to attend his coach (and who would have raised much dust to bother him) he told them that he would leave at 8 o'clock—and then hurried up and got started at 5!

"HAVING suffered very much by the dust yesterday," says the diary (Volume IV, page 161), "and finding that parties of Horse and a number of other Gentlemen were intending to attend me part of the way today, I caused their enquiries respecting the time of my setting out, to be answered that I should endeavor to do it before eight o'clock, but I did it a little after five, by which means I avoided the inconveniences above mentioned."

Another instance of his mild unveracity appears in the same year, when he feared some of his slaves that had been taken with the family to Philadelphia might claim their freedom, under the Pennsylvania laws. He wrote his secretary to get them back into Virginia by hook or by crook, or, as he expressed it, "under pretext that may deceive both them and the public."

He was quoted as having said also that he once encountered mosquitoes so efficient that they "used to bite through the thickest boot." This statement so disturbed President Timothy Dwight, of Yale, that he said Washington's real statement must have been that the mosquitoes bit through his stockings above his boots. We are, of course, permitted to hope that President Dwight's explanation is correct.

The abundant evidence that Washington was honest, brave, patriotic, and a great many other splendid things, has commonly crowded his pleasant vices out of the picture. We assume, for instance, that he took his recreation sedately, and we yawn approvingly on reading such items as the following of his presidential residence in New York City:

"Exercised on horseback between 10 and 12 o'clock."

"Walked round the Battery."

"Exercised in the coach with Mrs. Washington and the two children, between breakfast and dinner; went the 14 miles round."

BUT he did several other things by way of recreation; things less sedate and more interesting; some of them astonishing, perhaps, to his worshipful admirers.

Fox hunting was, of course, a perfectly proper sport for a country gentleman, and it was Washington's favorite pastime while at home in Mount Vernon. Several hundred such hunts are mentioned in the diary, some of them lasting six or seven hours, with due credit given by name to each of his numerous pedigreed hounds. These dogs were his special pride and joy. Their matrimonial relations seem to have interested him a good deal more than did those of his slaves.

Examination of the diary kept by the father of his country reveals a very human person, and one who knew how to tell a fib, too, despite all that has been written to the contrary

The famous cherry tree incident, as depicted in an old-time sketch . . . an incident which gave Washington a reputation for unvarying veracity which he himself would never have claimed.

When away from Mount Vernon, he often found diversions that were, perhaps, less invigorating and respectable than fox hunting. He was fond of card playing, and, like most of the gentlemen of his time and place, he played for money, or, to speak more exactly, he played for amusement and found it more amusing to put up a little money on the game.

He was in no sense a plunger. His accounts show losses for an evening as high as $35, and winnings up to $60. In one of his account books he strikes a balance between what he had won and what he had lost during the preceding three years. He was about $30 in the hole.

A man so fond of good horses as he was could hardly fail to enjoy seeing them race. "Went up to Alexandria to the Purse Race," says the diary. The only surprising thing about this entry is its date: May 16, 1799. He was then 67 years old, and he died the following December.

Sometimes one of his horses was in the race. Sometimes he spent several days at the races, spicing his enjoyment by theater parties and dancing, and by placing a few bets. The following entries in the diary for 1773 will illustrate:

"September 26. I set off for Annapolis Races."

"27. Dined at the Governor's and went to the Play in the Evening."

"28. Again dined at the Governor's and went to the Play and Ball in the Evening."

"29. Dined at Mr. Sprig's and went to the Play in the Evening."

Among the expense items for this frolic, we find: "By Cards and Racing, three pounds, sixteen shillings."

Washington was a great card-player, but the stakes were never high. His accounts show losses for an evening up to $35, and winnings up to $60.

COCKFIGHTING was probably the lowest form of sport in which Washington indulged. The fact that the diary mentions this sport only once, and that once when he was only 20 years of age, permits us to hope that this brutal diversion was not a habit with him.

Nevertheless, the great man, well cognizant of all activities about him, had this to say about the questionable sport of cockfighting. The notation is dated January 26, 1752:

"A Great Main of cocks fought in Yorktown 'tween Gloucester and York for 5 pistoles each battle and 100 ye odd. I left it with Colo. Lewis before it was decided and had part of his chariot to his house."

One diversion which was undoubtedly a habit with him was dancing.

"Went with the family to a Ball in Alexandria," says the diary for February 12, 1798, its author being then 66 years young. Perhaps he did not take part in the dancing on this occasion, though he seems to have done so at a dance only two years before.

In the very last year of his life, in declining an invitation to a dance, he gave the sport his blessing by wishing "all those who have a relish for so agreeable and innocent an amusement all the pleasure the season will afford them." Mrs. Washington's two children took dancing lessons, and the diary shows that the dancing class of which they were members met sometimes at Mount Vernon.

The jolly dancing parties held by Washington and his officers during the Revolutionary War are too widely known to need describing here. As a sample of Washington's enthusiastic participation in these, the following item from General Greene will suffice:

"We had a little dance at my quarters a few evenings past," writes the general. "His Excellency" (Washington) "and Mrs. Greene danced upwards of three hours without once sitting down."

ANOTHER of the amiable weaknesses of General Washington was afternoon tea. For example, his diary during the great and portentous Constitutional Convention of 1787 in Philadelphia, almost suggests that this distinguished assembly was, after all, chiefly a background for tea parties. On a single page, the following items occur, and not much else:

"Sunday, 20th. Tea at Mr. Powell's."

"Monday, 21st. Tea at Mr. Bingham's in great splendor."

"Tuesday, 22d. Tea at Mr. Morris's."

"Wednesday, 23d. Tea at Mr. Chew's, in a very large circle of ladies."

Tea was regularly served at Washington's army headquarters during the Revolution, when this was at all feasible. In writing of his visit to Boston, he mentions the chats over the tea drinking, and how "social and gay" they were. Had someone suddenly whispered in his ear the words "Boston Tea Party," the chances are that he would have visualized fair dames and lively chatter, rather than patriotic stage-Indians heaving tea chests into Boston Harbor.

There is plenty of evidence to show that, in the midst of fair dames and lively chatter, he was neither near-sighted nor tongue-tied, but, on the contrary, almost always had a good time. He was a discriminating observer of feminine charms, and he comments upon these occasionally.

During his tour of New England in 1789, he mentions the beauty of the ladies in only three of the numerous places he visited, namely, Boston, Salem, and Portsmouth. Of those he met in Boston, he wrote: "Their appearance was elegant, and many of them very handsome."

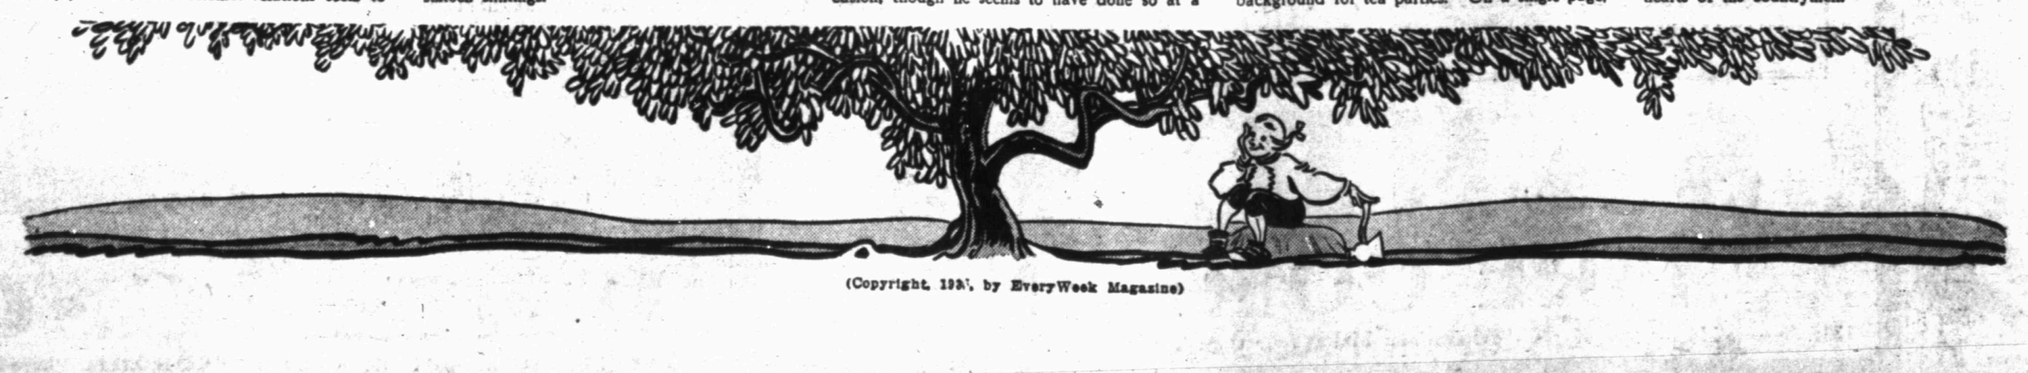

In Salem he speaks of them as "handsome and well dressed." At Portsmouth he finds them "well dressed and many of them very handsome, among whom, as was also the case at the Salem and Boston assemblies, were a greater proportion with much blacker hair than are usually seen in the Southern States."

About two years later he made a tour through his native Southland, and there found somewhat more to his taste the southern type of beauty. The "elegantly-dressed" belles of Charleston seem to have all but overwhelmed the keenly appreciative old hero.

The diary notes: "Was visited about 2 o'clock by a great number of the most respectable laidies of Charleston; the first honor of the kind I had ever experienced, and it was as flattering as it was singular."

The next night he was lionized at "a very elegant dancing Assembly," and the night following he was reduced to almost bewildered admiration by a gathering "at which," says the diary, "there were at least 400 ladies the number and appearance of which exceeded anything of the kind I had ever seen."

It was Oliver Wendell Holmes who said, "We must have a weak spot or two in a character before we can love it much." If this bit of worldly wisdom be adjudged to contain a modicum of truth, these foibles of Washington should more than ever make him "first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Outlook Is Dim For Good Fire Record, McAfee Points Out

Although Lubbock has retained its 20 per cent good fire record credit this year, the outlook isn't so bright for 1938, Guy L. McAfee, chairman of the fire prevention committee of the chamber of commerce, warned Saturday.

Fire loss this year, he pointed out, already has totaled $28,000 as compared with approximately $8,000 for the same period last year. Any considerable addition to the losses already sustained this year is likely to mean increased cost of fire insurance to property owners next year.

Factors Are Cited

Factors in determining fire insurance rates for a city, according to information given at the chamber of commerce, include the average of fire losses for the previous five years in comparison with insurance premiums paid. Thus the average loss used in determining the 1938 rate was that from the years 1933 to 1937 inclusive. To compute the average loss in fixing the 1938 rate, the explanation continued, the $60,000 loss in 1932 was dropped and the $115,000 loss in 1937 was added.

In fixing the 1939 rate, the 1933 loss of only $36,000 will be dropped and the 1938 loss will be added before determining the average. Members of the fire department regard it as being extremely unlikely that the loss through the remainder of this year will be held to $10,000.

Retention of the good fire record credit, chamber officials said, is important in dollars and cents to Lubbock property owners. The savings this year, it was disclosed, will total at least $9,000. Well informed sources estimated that approximately $36,000 in premiums will be paid this year. Without a good fire record credit, that cost would have been increased automatically to $45,000, they explained.

FDR May Visit In Texas Again

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 12. — Governor James V. Allred said today he had high hopes President Roosevelt would visit Texas next summer.

In Washington recently the governor invited the president again to come to Texas. Last summer he fished several days off the Texas Gulf coast and returned to the national capital overland.

"I have high hopes he will be down to see us again this year," the governor said. "It would be some time in the summer."

Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the president, will be in Wichita Falls March 7 to deliver a lecture and will be an honor guest in Amarillo March 9 for the annual mother-in-law day celebration.

Governor and Mrs. Allred also will attend the Amarillo event.

Auction Sale
TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

Due to bad weather this week, we could not supply the demand for cattle. Plenty of buyers from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, and we did not have cattle for them. If you have cattle for sale get them in for Tuesday's sale. We are sure that you will be pleased with the sale we can make for you.

The outlook for cattle looks better, with slight advance on all grades.

We have standing orders for stocker cattle, steers, heifer, and cows, and the demand for car load lots is great.

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

THE shortest perceptible unit of time is that between the traffic light's change and the honk from the driver behind you.

SPEAKING CORRECTLY

IN one of his daily cartoons, "Life's Darkest Moment." Webster shows the interior of a movie theater. We see the back of the head of a woman and facing us from the screen is a big fellow, with a thumb in his vest. The cutline reads, "The high school English teacher hears a former pupil, now a famous ball player, talk in a news reel."

The ball player says, "Whom is you guys talkin' to I says. I ain't gonna letcha get away with them lies. I ain't done nuthin' I says."

ONE of the tragedies of life is that so many young people can attend high school, receive passing grades and a diploma, and then murder the language for the rest of their lives. It's probably association. A former reporter told us that after two years in a police station his enunciation and grammar were so corrupted from daily converse with the cops, crooks and wise-guys who infest such places, that his mother was ashamed to be in the same room with him.

We assume that the schools also make an attempt to teach the rudiments of social etiquette. But unless the training is reinforced by example at home, the lessons do not seem to stick. For a dime, the city newspapers and the national magazines offer booklets on how to eat, dress and behave in all situations, but the net result is pathetic. In unaccustomed situations, the young men act like clouts and the girls are embarrassed.

It's too bad that they should have so little desire for improvement.

SCATTERINGS

THE anagram craze that flourished in the gay nineties is influencing 1938 parlor fun. Crossword Lexicon, a speedy combination of crossword puzzle technique and word building, is the latest card game craze. It's the first English card game to start an American furore since whist. . . . Nomination for a nice sounding name, Malcolm Stewart. . . . Hope the exhibition of oils painted by W. E. Rollins, Santa Fe artist, to be placed in the West Texas Museum soon, will include "Grief," his conception of an Indian brave sorrowing for his dead wife. . . . We have it on good authority that Mrs. Roosevelt doesn't autograph her books, so don't get your hopes too high. . . . Wonder when the Tech students are going to present that "The Night of January Twelfth" or is it the "fifteenth?". . . The Pythian Sisters are brave women to undertake the sponsorship of a baby show.

At the time of his death Monday, O. O. McIntyre had a column supply of approximately three weeks in the hands of his client newspapers. . . . Nancy Anderson, who will serve as honorary co-ed in the grade of major in the Tech R. O. T. C. unit during the next year, is an attractive girl with black curly hair, blue eyes and a fair skin. She has a "darling figure," according to her roommate. The Tech freshman, whose favorite sports are horseback riding and swimming, is "thrilled to death" over the honor that had come to her.

WONDER why musicians are jealous of each other's accomplishments? If you want to laugh to yourself note the expression on the faces of performers being obliged to listen to talent other than their own. . . . Mary White, Tech student majoring in journalism, is color blind and right now is having a terrible time in botany since little green objects look yellow. Blue, lavender and green give her fits but she knows red. . . . Dr. Burris Jenkins, pastor of the Kansas City Community church, addressing Boy Scouts there last week advised them "ask your dad questions when puzzled about your development, but he can't be a pal—he is too old. He will sacrifice more for you than anyone else will and should be a close friend; but as for father and son being buddies and pals, it can't be done."

A WISE STEP

School, churches, clubs, newspapers, the radio, civic organizations and all citizens are asked to cooperate in the observance.

Texans will work toward active campaigns against marihuana and toward more thorough instruction in schools concerning dangerous habit forming narcotic drugs.

Lubbock Garden Club Final Date For Beautification Contest Is March 15

FINAL date for entering the home beautification contest sponsored by the Lubbock Garden club is March 15. The contest, which has been divided into three classes and a Sanders division, is open to the public and will last until October 1. Fifteen and ten-dollar prizes will be given respectively for first and second places in each of the following three classes:

Homes built since August, 1937; owned homes, and rented homes. Prospective contestants are asked to enter their names in correct classifications with Mrs. J. E. Hartley, president, or Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw. The yards will be inspected in March, June and September on the following basis:

Landscape principles, 20 per cent; neatness and labor, 15 per cent; health and vigor, ten per cent; variety of plants, ten per cent; color combination, 15 per cent; permanency of planting, ten per cent; condition of lawn, ten per cent; condition of house, ten per cent, and condition of or lack of trees, ten per cent.

Prizes of $7.50, $.00 and $2.50 will be given respectively for first, second and third places in the Sanders division. Judging will be on the following percentages:

General attractiveness, 30; curb, 15; front yard, 20; back yard, 20, and alley, 15.

All yards entered will be inspected in March, June and September. It is not necessary for contestants to have begun any landscaping before entering their yards, Mrs. Hartley said, because judging will be on a basis of improvement after the first inspection in March.

Basis that will be considered in judging have been explained as follows by Mrs. Hartley:

"By landscape principles is meant the general effect of the yard and house seen from across the street or by the passerby. This would include a violation of the proper principles of good composition in which we would take into consideration whether the lawn was spotted with small plantings, whether the trees are too formal in arrangements, and whether the proper height material was used to advantage.

"Neatness and labor include the proper upkeep of the plants used, whether they are properly pruned

To Sponsor Review

Women of the Lubbock Country club association are selling tickets to a review of "The Citadel" (Cronin) to be given by Gladys de Silva Bates of San Angelo Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Hotel Lubbock ballroom. Mrs. T. B. Duggan, jr., is chairman of ticket sales.

A criticism of the review appearing in the San Angelo Standard said, in part, "So graphically did Mrs. Bates' dramatization and vocal inflections reveal each character that her listeners went away with vivid mental pictures of the conditions and lives Cronin treats in his novel, an attack on the British medical profession."

Mrs. Bates is winning a reputation in the southwest as an outstanding book reviewer.

Two Other Benefits

Two other benefits have been scheduled for Saturday afternoon. They are a contract and auction bridge party to be given by the Lubbock Woman's Forum from 2 until 6 o'clock at the Hilton hotel and an annual Juliette Low fund tea to be given by the Local Girl Scout council.

Place for the Juliette Low tea had not been selected yesterday. De-

Tickets To Ball Are Available

Tickets for the Lubbock Junior Welfare league's annual charity ball, to be held Tuesday night at the Auditorium, will be on sale Monday and Tuesday at Jarrett-West and Wylie Drug stores, Mrs. W. S. Thrash, ticket chairman, has announced.

Admission price is $2.00 for couple or stag and ticket may be bought from any league member. Mrs. Thrash is requesting that all members check money from the tickets they have sold to her by Tuesday noon.

Twenty-five tables for eight persons have been arranged to give a "cabaret" atmosphere to the dance. Only a few of the tables are now available for $4.00 each, the others having bee nsold, the committee announced. Reservations for the remaining tables should be made with Mrs. J. M. Pryor whose telephone number is 756-J.

Mrs. Kirk Dean, one of the committee members, has announced that women students of Texas Technological college will be given permission to attend the dance if they fill out a card in the office of the dean of women. Mrs. Mary W. Doak.

Fletcher Henderson's 11-piece orchestra, nationally known swing band, has been engaged to play for the dance. At present on a tour of the continent, the orchestra has been received by capacity crowd everywhere it has appeared. Recently in St. Paul, Minn., "the colored king of swing" played before 10,000 dancers at the annual "Cinderella Ball" sponsored by the St. Paul Association of Commerce.

Newspaper and magazine music critics have said the Henderson orchestra in "the one colored band that had the greatest influence on the development of modern swing music" and that "there is hardly a colored musician of note who did not at one time play with Henderson."

Arrangements for the dance are being made by Mrs. Sam West, general chairman; Mrs. W. H. Evans, publicity chairman; Mrs. Dean, decorations, and Mrs. Thrash.

Because of cold weather the past three days and general request from mothers, registration for a baby show to be conducted by the Pythian Sister Temple will be continued through Monday. Children under five years of age may be registered, without charge, at Hemphill-Wells store.

By noon Saturday, 95 children had been entered for the show which is to be conducted March 5 at Junior high school, the committee in charge announced. Winners of the March 5 show will participate in a pageant to be given March 14 at Senior high school.

All children entered will receive a free thorough health examination, the committee said.

Spring Accessories Include Spiders And Such Accents

BY ADELAIDE KERR
AP Fashion Editor

YOU may wear your heart on your sleeve, a spider in your lapel or your bag on your shoulder this spring.

It promises to be a season when accessories are of great importance and the new ones make some of the most intriguing costume accents we have had in years.

The jeweled accent idea—a single telling splash — seems to be bigger than ever. There is a new gold metal heart, pierced with a jeweled dart, that can be worn on the upper sleeve or clipped to a neckline. Clips of gold leaves, gold-tipped wood acorns or colored bead blossoms designed in the eighteenth century manner are also smart.

Lapel accents are bold and brilliant. Gold parrots with bright feather tails, jeweled spiders, animals and birds and such amusing tricks as an enameled hand holding a gem-studded rose appear among them.

Some of the smartest bags seen in years have come to town. A leading designer has concentrated on practicality as well as chic and the results are bags which are as commodious as they are smart.

One is a clever square bag, with outside as well as inside pockets, and a long handle which can be swung over the shoulder binocular-fashion. Another is a deep envelope, two feet long, lined with pockets for everything

Ishbel MacDonald Romance Reads Like Story-Book Tale

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 — The fragrance of English lavender and the rustic charm of old-world thatched roofs linger about the romance of Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the late Ramsey MacDonald, famous British prime minister, and a swain whose chief claim to fame is that he is one of the best darts players in the hamlet which he calls home.

The setting of this unusual story is, as should be, the ancient and picturesque Plow inn at Speen, a happy little village nestling among the hedges of the Buckinghamshire farming district some fifty miles northwest of London town.

A couple of years ago the energetic Ishbel became proprietess of this public-house ("pubs," they call 'em) which has dispensed hospitality since 1621. It was here that she and the local handyman, Norman Ridgley, met and fell in love.

The whole tale is such a delightful mixture that it surely must have popped from between the covers of a story-book. Still it is a sign of changing times that conservative England can nod and smile approval at a situation which would have made her frown a few brief years ago.

It is only since the World war that well bred people could engage in such plebian pursuits as running "pubs," or being handymen, or having love affairs with lowly folk. Those things just weren't done — not without blasting the reputation of the reckless party.

For Merry Bidders

Mesdames John Austin and J. C. Reynolds entertained the Merry Bidders club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. P. Garvin, 1711-A Fourteenth street.

Tallies and other appointments were in red, white and blue. Scorepads, featuring hand-painted cherries, were tied with ribbons in the patriotic colors. Included in the refreshments were red hatchet salad, "log" sandwiches and fondant candies molded to resemble cherries.

Mrs. F. O. Kelly was received as a member. Others attending were four guests, Mesdames J. B. Maxey, J. D. Peters, C. R. Hurmence and A. N. Gamble, and Mesdames I. E. Barr, E. C. Young, J. H. Moore, F. V. Brown, J. O. Jones, Tom Arnett, A. W. Evans, K. Carter, V. H. Moore, Maude Bradley, Minnie Fickas, J. B. McCauley, T. E. Crites and J. N. Nislar.

One hundred fifty guests attended a silver tea given by the Parents' Band club Friday night in the home economics department of Senior High school as a benefit to junior and senior high school musicians.

A red, white and blue motif featured appointments at the refreshment table. Senior High girls served.

Miss Beulah Dunn directed a school orchestra in several selections.

Mrs. William Dingus, 2502 Twenty-first street, invited a few friends in for tea Friday afternoon to meet Miss Madge Mulkey of Fort Worth. A patriotic motif was featured in appointments. Miss Ruth Callan, niece of the hostess, assisted in serving.

Miss Mulkey, a former resident in China, is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hargis, 1804 Avenue X. She visited them last year at Panama as she was en route to the United States. She has visited here before.

from lipstick to passport, which folds over twice and fits comfortably under the arm. A third is a pouch with a gate frame, which opens into a flat hexagon and does away with all that frantic fishing in the dark for change and keys.

Tricks With Bags

Gleaming leathers such as calf-skin, alligator and pin seal make the smartest ones, which have come to town in such colors as warm chaudron (henna rust), hide-tan, cornflower blue and roseberry as well as the perennial black and navy blue. The trick this year is to choose a bag in one of the new colors, and repeat its hue in gloves or hat.

Colored gloves (more restrained than two years ago) are decidedly part of the spring picture. The favorites are colorful blues, chaudrons and natural chamoix.

from Lou to Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: By coincidence or, rather, by several of them, this might be called local benefit week. If the home town folk contribute as they should—and they really should because it has been a long time since they've been called upon to any great extent — they'll all be broke by Saturday night.

The largest event of the schedule is the Junior Welfare league's charity ball Tuesday night. I hope it goes over in a great big way because those girls have spent months and months trying to plan a really worthwhile party. I'll refer you to the Sunday paper for the other benefits. Just pick your day and you'll find something that'll take your money for a good cause.

Besides The Ball

Besides the charity ball, there are plenty of dances — non-benefit, of course — on the week's schedule. Women of the Assembly club are in for a grand surprise Thursday night. The program is being planned by the men. Saturday night the Lubbock Dancing clubbers will trip to Dick Dickerson's swinging.

The high school group threw a big party Thursday night in the name of the Sub-Deb presentation ball. I didn't go although, believe it or not, I was invited but I heard it was a beautiful affair.

The business and professional women staged an annual benefit dance Saturday night. I haven't heard how it went over but if successes of the past were in any way repeated I'm not worried.

MRS. ARNO DALBY and son, Giles, are in California for a few weeks' rest before sailing for Honolulu the last of this month. Both have been real sick since Christmas. Arno left Saturday to join them.

Keeping the big house open, in order and well-chaperoned for Shirley and Harold while their parents, the E. J. Parsons, are vacationing in the east are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ayers who did the same thing about this time last year.

I clipped an interesting item about the former Frances Burns from an Abilene gossip column and now I've lost it. The writer had described a party given in Lamesa by Frances' grandmother. Frances had worn her grandmother's dress.

My friend wrote that "a marriage is to come off in Amarillo on Easter Day between Lorraine Moore, ex-Tech-student, and someone whose name I don't recollect at the moment. Her parents are giving them a cute new home.

We Shall See

"Bill Yates and that well-dressed, suave-looking girl with whom he is seen so frequently really must be thataway about each other.

"A 'Judge' McAdoo of Los Angeles, Calif., is opening a suite of offices here and Mrs. Ernest Crites will be his secretary. The 'judge' is perfect in looks and he seems to be a gentleman of the old school."

Wonder if he is married.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob O'Hair visited here last week, leaving Friday for their home. Rob's mother, Mrs. Hattie O'Hair, arrived the last of the week to visit indefinitely in the home of her sister, Mrs. L. S. Mast.

VERY soon, Mrs. W. W. Campbell and one of her daughters are going to be hostesses. And at the party they will make an announcement concerning Mrs. Campbell's other daughter.

IT'S BEEN a long time since I passed out any bouquets, although I haven't withheld them intentionally. I was reminded of them when my friend asked if I didn't think Pauline Phillips was one of the most feminine girls in town and if I didn't think that quality was shown in her conversations, mannerisms and grooming and her pretty long hair. I certainly do.

By the way, I meant to include her in my predictions for 1938.

My friend also had compliments for pleasant, immaculate Bonnarea Stephens with which I readily agreed.

She's Picturesque

For a long time, ever since I met her more than a year ago, I've been thinking that Marie George, daughter of the Tech professor, is one of the most magazine coverish looking girls I've ever seen. She has the natural beauty, charm and intelligence of a story book heroine. Incidentally, she is a potential novelist.

Joyce Johnson, teacher at Junior high, is another for whom I've been saving a compliment. She is a quaint, pleasant sort of person with devilish twinkles in her little blue eyes. She has an effervescent good humor that I like.

Yours, Lou.

Missionary Picture Will Be Shown At Council Luncheon

A four-reel missionary picture will be shown at a monthly luncheon meeting of the First Christian Woman's council department of education at 1 p. m. Monday in the church annex. The picture, a fictionized study of the life of a missionary in a foreign field, will take the place of a regular book review. Its theme is on Moslem life, and it was selected to conform with a study which has been conducted recently in the council circles.

H. C. Pender Is To Address City Federation Friday

H. C. Pender, acting head of the Texas Technological college of government, will address the City Federation of Women's clubs at 3 p. m. Friday at Hotel Lubbock.

Martin Enters In State Race

R. H. Martin, baker of 2712 Avenue U, Saturday announced the platform on which he will make a race for representative of this district to Austin.

His statement follows:

Believes In Economy

Believing that there is no substitute for experience; believing in economy in the administration of governmental affairs and the curtailment of spending the tax payers money in every way that is consistent with the needs of our present day civilization; recognizing that the functions of government should reflect the wishes of a majority of the citizenship and last, but not least, the protection of the right of those who live in the hard places, the ones who are so often forgotten, those who we term the common people and yet the very ones that have made of America the most sublime nation that the mind of man has ever created is my pledge, if elected as your representative at Austin.

I am not a stranger to this territory, its vast growth during the past quarter century and I believe I know its needs.

On Jan. 3, 1910 I entered the baking business in the city of Lubbock and have continued the same business, through good years and hard years, up to the present time. The South Plains has been good to me and I am proud to feel that I have assisted to some extent in its growth and development.

Proud Of Plains

Looking back over a long line of yesterdays, I am sure that most of our citizenship is proud of the plains, its cities and farms and that most of it feels with me that this is really the garden spot of the nation.

We all realize that taxes must be paid, if we continue along development lines. And yet, most of us realize that there should be a limit to this essential burden. Greater care is necessary in spending the taxpayers' money and in order to reach that goal we should elect men to office who are carrying this burden; elect men who know the responsibility of correct legislation, men who realize their responsibilities. It is the one and only way through which relief may come.

TO HAVE ONE VARIETY

MULESHOE, Feb. 19, (Special)—Farmers of the Lariet community on the Bailey-Parmer county line northwest of here, will have a one-variety cotton, Paymaster, this year. Mr. Deaton, ginner, offered his facilities for storing and handling seed.

Joe W. Jennings, Plainview, former Bailey county resident, was the man who developed Paymaster, a Pepper cotton strain.

Garden Club Rules

and cultivated and anything that would come under the word neatness, such as lack of trash heaps, wood piles, garbage, etc., in yard and alley.

"The health and vigor mean considerable toward beautiful grounds. If the plants are covered with insects or badly diseased or are badly in need of some special treatment to make them grow better, this will be taken into consideration.

"Variety of plants does not mean that museums are to be made out of home gardens, but there should be a proper variety of plants to give a long blooming season or an extended period of beauty to the grounds.

"Color combinations constitute a point of minor importance to beginners in home beautification, but with work of this kind there should be a better understanding each year.

"Permanency of planting means the planting should not consist entirely of annuals which need to be replaced each year. There should be a proper balance between a shrub planting together with perennials and with annuals. Annuals should be used principally to fill in definite beds or blank spaces.

"Condition of the lawn is of quite a little importance. It should be in good condition which means uniformity, freedom from weeds and properly graded.

"The condition of the house should be good. That is, it should not be badly in need of paint or repairs.

"The condition or lack of trees should not work to disadvantage of those whose grounds are not large enough for this purpose, as this point should not be taken into consideration.

"Contestants should understand that in every case the size of the grounds and possibilities for improvement will be taken into consideration. So that if anyone has done his best on the material with which he has to work, he will have just as good a chance as those who have large grounds and opportunities for improving them."

Riding A Horse Least Thing To Worry About If You Are After A Job In Westerns

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19—A lean, brown young man, and rather handsome, too, showed up at Republic the other day and presented a letter which admitted him for an interview. He said he was a good cowhand, knew all the trick stuff, and wanted a job in westerns.

"Tenor or baritone?" asked a man in the casting office.

"I can't sing," said the applicant, "but I can ride anything on four laigs."

"Play a guitar, banjo?" pressed the studio executive.

"No, but I ain't stage-shy. I make most of the big rodeos, and I rode four times in Madison Square Gar—"

"Play the accordion, maybe?"

"Can't play anything. But mister, you gimme a rope an' I'll show—"

The casting representative waved him out impatiently. "And you call yourself a cowboy!" he scoffed.

Teaching Navy To Sail

DURING the filming of a recent picture in which the U. S. Navy co-operated (apparently "Navy Blue and Gold," from what my informant saw of it) a rather critical incident occurred. Present for the sequence were numerous actors, extras and a few real navy men, all in uniform. An assistant director went about among the players instructing them for the next scene. He paused before one middle-aged man and barked, "A hell of an officer you'd make! Get your shoulders back and yank down your coat and try to look like a big shot."

The man did as he was told and managed to appear sufficiently dignified. Later it turned out that he was no actor, but a lieutenant-commander in the navy. No protests or apologies were made. Both sides agreed to laugh it off.

The Best Place

A MIDDLE-AGED fan magazine scribbler was interviewing Eddie Davis, the scenarist. She asked whether he considered American actresses beautiful, what he thought of the future cinema, and other inanities. Even when he began answering in double-talk she painstakingly recorded his replies. The interview ended after she asked: "And where, Mr. Davis, would you like to be living now, of any place in the world?"

"In Carole Lombard's house," he said, leering wickedly.

Making Up The Knees

ROMANCE department: Rosalind Russell is another actress who's appraising eligible men and intends to marry in a year or two. There's more and more talk of a Ginger Rogers-Lew Ayres reconciliation. But Lupe Velez and Johnny Weissmuller really have quarrelled, this time. The Janet Gaynor-Tyrone Power friendship must be something more. Miss Dietrich and the Earl of Warwick: fair and warmer.

Nigel Bruce has to wear kilts in "Kidnaped," and daily undergoes the embarrassment of having his knees made up. They were too white for his weather-beaten character.

The farewell cocktail party for Gloria Swanson before she left, permanently, for the east, was attended by most of the movie executives who have refused to give her jobs in pictures.

While Melvyn Douglas made ardent love to Joan Blondell in "There's Always a Woman," a sideline spectator was Helen Gahagan—Mrs. Douglas. After the scene was finished she walked over and said, but said smilingly, "Sometimes I wish you worked in a bank."

Not one fatal road accident was reported in the square mile of the city of London in a recent period of 10 weeks.

SUNDAY AVALANCHE-JOURNAL

An independent Democratic newspaper supporting in its editorial columns the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those questions which it believes to be wrong regardless of party politics publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

A Test Is Awaited

THE Avalanche-Journal must plead guilty to scant knowledge of what the new farm bill is all about. In that fact, however, we feel in good company because most of the law-makers who enacted it into law are in the same boat. Those congressmen who did express themselves on the subject proclaimed, rather than merely admitting, that their comprehension was vague as to the workings of the act. None, so far as we have read, claimed a thorough understanding.

But, from the best information available, the measure leaves much to be desired—especially for West Texas. Even Rep. Marvin Jones of Amarillo, who advocated the act strenuously, says no more than "it is a step in the right direction."

Our own Congressman George Mahon, in whose judgment the editor places much confidence, seemingly is even more lukewarm in his statement that the measure does not insure the farmer an adequate price for even a portion of his crop and therefore it "cannot be wholly satisfactory."

For that and other reasons, we are inclined to withhold our cheers, at least until the farm bill has been tested in actual operation.

Good Chance For Publicity

ORDINARILY the people of a city or a state should go slow in contributing large sums for exhibits at so-called "World's fairs." Usually the return does not justify the expense.

But if there ever has been an exception to that rule, it doubtless is the forthcoming world's exposition in New York City. Texas would be showing the poorest of business judgment if it had not begun the preparations now in progress for adequate representation there.

Expectation is that a minimum of 50,000,000 people will visit that fair. Probabilities are, unless there should be world upheaval, attendance will exceed the minimum estimate. They will be gathered from remotest corners of the world. But most of the visitors, because they are nearest, will be from those areas of the north and east where people are amazingly ignorant of the reality of Texas.

The Avalanche-Journal would not recommend, of course, that we "go wild," so to speak, in an outlay for the New York fair. But it does commend the effort being made for the participation now planned.

The One-Minute Sermon

All things have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a just man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickedness.

Be not rightous over much; neither make thyself over wise: why shouldest thou destroy thyself?

Be not righteous over much; neither thou foolish: why shouldest thou die before thy time?

It is good that thou shouldest take hold of this; yea, also from this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.—Ecclesiastes 7, 15 through 18.

Pearl S. Buck Deserts China For U. S. In Her Tenth Book, "This Proud Heart," And Reveals She Hasn't Much Knowledge Of America Except As Literary 'Figure'; Wm. Faulkner Turns Out Another Good One

"THIS PROUD HEART," by Pearl S. Buck; (John Day-Reynal & Hitchcock, New York).

COUNTING her translation of the rather useless "All Men Are Brothers," a too revealing expression of the ancient cruel Chinese mind, Pearl S. Buck has done nine books, all about China and the Chinese scene. Her tenth book is a novel set in the United States, concerning people she has come to know and think about since her return from China.

Mrs. Pearl S. Buck

The novel is called "This Proud Heart," and it is a long discussion of the urge to create as it manifests itself in woman. Although Susan, Mrs. Buck's chief character, is a sculptor, nobody will be able to read the book without seeing in it a number of parallels with Mrs. Buck's own personal situation, and therefore most will see it as a kind of thinking out and attempted rationalization of something which may have sorely troubled its author in the past.

Mother Is Earthbound

Susan is the daughter of small town college folks. Her mother is earthbound; her father is a good though unrecognized poet. Susan is one of those distressing girls who combine real creative gift with furious energy and a practical sense which permits herself at times to sublimate her "urge" in the demands of ordinary life. She cooks better than any of the girls; she can when she wishes earn more than her bewildered young husband. When Susan has babies, they are no trouble at all, and when Susan yields to occasional impulses to help her less able friends, she often makes them furious.

This is the kernel of the situation. It is forced to a conclusion (after many pages and much cerebration on Mrs. Buck's part) through standard fictional means—love, creation, birth, contact with the world, death. Simply put, the conclusion is that Susan is and will remain a solitary being, feeding on herself.

Conclusion Implicit

The prose is a modification of Mrs. Buck's so-called "Biblical" style. By repetition she makes one understand Susan intellectually; it is more difficult to see Susan as a living being. Smaller characters are often sharper. The conclusion is implicit in the problem, and the steps leading to it are logical.

But Mrs. Buck has not really known America except as a literary "figure." This too shows in the novel.

Past Time Into Present

"THE UNVANQUISHED," by William Faulkner; (Random House, Phila.).

THOSE who prefer William Faulkner when he concentrates on hedgerow matings and births in a ditch may be a little disappointed in "The Unvanquished," which seems close to being the best book he has done so far. Man is a pretty contrary specimen; Faulkner (Erskine Caldwell too) has seemed a little childish to certain people when occupied with the sport of getting four-letter words past the censor.

Anyway, Faulkner's great gift is and always will be his ability to make past time into present time. "The Unvanquished" is a superb example of it, even if most of the book came out of the short stories Faulkner has written for a certain reasonably strait-laced magazine. These stories he has set in line, rewritten to some extent, and formed into a continuous narrative, which has a pleasant quality of carelessness, but no lack of force and point.

WILLIAM FAULKNER has used (for him) a minimum of short, ugly words in "The Unvanquished," but he has carpentered one of his best books out of a dozen or less short stories. Period, Civil War; place, Mississippi.

About War's Last Years

"The Unvanquished" is about the last years of the War Between the States, of the days when Mississippi was overrun with Yankees, when the slaves were in a ferment to "cross Jordan," and when finally the manor house of the Sartoris clan was burned and Granny, her grandson Bayard, and Ringo, his negro playmate, were left to do the best they could with nothing.

Included are a number of incidents familiar to magazine readers, notably that delightful one wherein the two boys fire on an approaching squad of Yankee raiders, kill a horse, hide beneath Granny's skirts—and make a friend of Colonel Dick of the Yankees. This, many will remember, led to Granny's recovering her silver (and a good deal more) when it was stolen, and indirectly caused her to set up in the business of stealing confiscated Confederate mules and reselling them to the raiders who had taken them in the first place.

There is an air of gentle incredibility over it all, a warm feeling that one is living through a turbulent period in good company, and a fine narrative art in the book. It slows up only when Faulkner's art creeps up on him, and he goes stream-of-consciousness for brief spells.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

OFFSET: "Sonny Jim" Roosevelt antagonized a bad man when he endorsed Senator Claude Pepper of Florida as against Representative James Mark Wilcox, who seeks the senatorial seat and scalp next fall.

Mr. Wilcox is only a youngster, politically, but he has impressed Congressional elders as one of the most brilliant up-and-comers on Capitol Hill. He is extremely likable, personally. His speeches show sound study and research and thought—rare qualities in young members. In a three-week campaign he defeated the glamorous Ruth Bryan Owen when he first ran for the House. The bosses on Capitol Hill have marked him for advancement.

He meets a worthy foeman in Senator Pepper, however. The latter far surpasses recent Floridians in the upper chamber. He and "Jimmie" party together several times a week at Washington, which probably explains the latter's speaking out of turn. But Papa Roosevelt recognizes a blunder when he sees it, and in public and private talks he has intimated that he will remain neutral in the Pepper-Wilcox contest. Indicative of the latter's political astuteness is his announcement that he will seek the approval of "Sistie and Buzzie" to offset Son James' ballyhoo of Mr. Pepper.

COMPETENT: Adolph Augustus Berle, jr., is the political child of fortune. Despite the dispute which his appointment as Assistant Secretary of State has provoked, the fairy godmother gave him all the gifts a man could ask or want.

The Junior emerged from Harvard as a child prodigy at the age of 18. He was immediately gobbled up by friends of Justice Brandeis, and advanced in the law. He served overseas as a lieutenant and was one of the Wilsonian family's key figures during the Peace Conference, though only 24 years old. He is an authority on corporate and railroad law, and has frequently been drafted by President Roosevelt to frame legislation and write speeches on those subjects. He has been called "conceited"—and he probably is—but it simply signifies the impatience a quick and brilliant mind feels for dullards.

Dire predictions on his ability to cooperate confront Mr. Berle. But the prophets seem to forget that he got along with such contrasting personalities as Woodrow Wilson, Franklin Roosevelt, Louis Brandeis and Fiorello LaGuardia. Anybody who can satisfy that gang will be able to take care of himself at Washington.

SILENCER: Chief Justice Hughes recently attended a party where the guests were asked to describe incidents when they were at a "loss for a word." Nobody, of course, expected that the C. J. would plead guilty. But he fooled them.

"Years ago," he said, "after I had retired as Secretary of State, I stood on a New York street waiting for a trolley car. Despite my signaling, the cars went by without stopping; the motormen didn't seem to see me. Finally, I grabbed a car in full flight, swung aboard and landed on my face on the back platform. I was about to upbraid the conductor when he turned on me and said:

"'What's eatin' you? You got aboard, didn't you? So, shut your mouth.'

"The man's logic was perfect," commented Mr. Hughes, 'so I 'shut my mouth'. I couldn't think of a word to say in rebuttal."

USEFUL: President Roosevelt's favorite reporters—J. Russell Young of the Washington Star and Earl Godwin of the Washington Times—recently voiced a protest anent his discrimination against the press.

It seems that Mr. Roosevelt, who must sign all summons for people appearing in District of Columbia courts, had commanded Russell and Earl to show up as character witnesses for a lawyer whose ethics were under investigation. But at the very moment they quit their newspaper assignment at the White House, the President went for a secret ride through the nearby countryside. Being in court at his command, they could not "cover" him during his tour, and had any untoward event occurred, they would have been held responsible by the editorial bosses.

But when they presented a humorous protest to the President, he turned to Secretary Early and said: "Steve, get me a batch of those court subpoenas. I can use them at 4 o'clock every Tuesday and 8:30 every Friday." Those are the hours when the press meets the President. He has an axe out for the pressmen and would like to exile most of them permanently.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

SIDETRACK: The appointment of Adolph A. Berle, jr., to be Assistant Secretary of State is a perfect sample of kicking a man upstairs to keep him from becoming a nuisance.

Mr. Berle, an original Roosevelt braintruster, has been far closer to Mayor LaGuardia than he has to the President in recent years. Both he and the Mayor are enrolled as members of the American Labor Party. As we reported several weeks ago, LaGuardia was toying with the idea of having the Labor Party boost Berle as its candidate for governor of New York and then trying to force the state Democratic Party to nominate him also as the price of Labor Party support in the election this fall.

The scramble for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination was already wild and heated enough to threaten a serious split inside the party. The intrusion of Berle as outlined above would have multiplied confusion into a madhouse. That just couldn't be allowed to happen. So he has been sidetracked into this handsome federal post—and the Democratic powers-that-be can breathe a lot easier.

BERLE: Even some of Mr. Berle's friends and admirers are a bit uncertain as to his qualifications for a key position in the State Department. Comment is heard that the tricky and turbulent waters of international affairs are no place for amateur fishermen these days.

Mr. Berle is unquestionably a brilliant man who has done a number of first-rate jobs. He graduated from Harvard College at the age of 18 and earned both Master of Arts and Bachelor of Laws degrees by the time he was 21. He is associate professor of corporation law at Columbia and has been a big help to Mayor LaGuardia in streamlining New York City's government.

But his only practical experience in foreign affairs was as a very young expert attached to the American Commission to Negotiate Peace with Germany, and as a member of Pres. Roosevelt's party visiting Brazil and Argentina in 1936. His quick intelligence should be a valuable asset in his new post, but some insiders familiar with the intricacies of modern diplomacy would be happier if he were less of the wonderlad in so authoritative a place.

JONES: The latest dark horse candidate for the paid presidency of the Stock Exchange to attract attention in high New York quarters is Chairman Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. A number of influential people are convinced that he would be an ideal choice and are quietly trying to build up sentiment for him behind the scenes.

Conservative financiers were rather appalled when Mr. Jones was first named to head the R.F.C. They regarded him primarily as a promoter and a speculator and were inclined to be skeptical of his abilities as a banker. But they sing a different tune nowadays. The R.F.C. under his leadership has been one of the outstanding successes of the New Deal. His skill as an administrator is proven. More over, he has excellent political connections—an asset not to be ignored.

Insiders understand, however, that Mr. Jones has not foregone his political ambitions—and these may prove an obstacle. The Stock Exchange post will pay well, but it isn't likely to offer much of a build-up for political popularity.

Battle For Ocean Air Trade Is Started

Rivals Are Out To Break Monopoly Of Pan American

BY PAUL FRIGGENS
NEA Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, Feb. 19—An American big business battle for a share of the international flying traffic appears certain for 1938.

The battle is foreshadowed with announcement that at least two companies are ready to launch new trans-oceanic airlines, seeking to break the monopoly which Pan American now holds.

In Cleveland the newly-organized American Export Airlines, Inc., of New York, revealed plans to compete with Pan American for a stake in the prospective Atlantic air trade. The second new American company, as yet unheralded, is also definitely due to enter the picture.

Carry 200 Passengers

Plans envision fleets of supermodern, giant American flying boats, eventually big enough to accommodate 200 passengers each, overnight to Europe.

Pan American, already aerial pioneer of the seven seas and with 23 exploratory trans-Atlantic flights behind it, expects to launch regular service to Europe this summer. American Export, according to James M. Eaton, vice president, plans for first survey flights this summer and regular service a year hence.

Announcement by the third company has not been made, but Glenn L. Martin, pioneer airplane manufacturer and builder of the China Clipper, recently informed the Department of Commerce that he and unnamed associates were planning to enter the trans-Atlantic field with new, larger and faster long-range boats than ever built before.

Unquestionably the first Americans in the trans-Atlantic operation will be Pan American Airways. The vast company now operates 40,000 miles of airlines in and over 39 countries, was first to span the Pacific and, in co-operation with British Imperial Airways, made first trans-Atlantic exploratory flights last summer.

Intensive meteorological and flight studies have been in progress for the last year over both projected Atlantic routes of Pan American. These are the shorter northern route by way of Newfoundland to Ireland, and the long good weather route by way of Bermuda and the Azores to Europe. Pilots have been in constant training on Pan American's other routes running into South America and the Orient.

Builder of the China Clipper Glenn L. Martin, above, frankly doubts a limit to the size of tomorrow's trans-ocean airliners.

The final step is the ships themselves. Pan American, according J. Carrol Cone, Atlantic divis manager, expects delivery by spr of six 50-passenger Boeing fly boats, which are more than h again as large as the Martin c pers now in use on the Pacific.

Bids Are Called For

In December Pan American ca for bids on a minimum of three a maximum of 24 trans-ocea planes capable of carrying 100 p sengers and cargo on non-stop flig of 5000 miles.

Requested cruising speeds w 200 miles per hour at sea level a 300 miles for altitude flights. Th would bring London within 12 ho of New York.

Looking to future transportat needs, the Export Steamship co pany of New York, running regu mail, freight and passenger line the Mediterranean and the Bl Sea, first investigated trans-Atla flying more than two years ago, Eaton now reveals.

New Designs Sought

In April, 1937, American Exp Airlines, Inc., was chartered as wholly-owned subsidiary of the I port Steamship lines and under direction of the same officers, Th are W. H. Coverdale, president; Jo Slater, vice president and gene manager; John Gehan, vice pre dent and European director, a Eaton. Thomas Hitchcock is a rector of both companies. No st was offered.

Immediately the company's tec nical committee sought designs a flying boat also with a range 5000 miles. The Glenn L. Mar Company, Sikorsky, the Doug Consolidated, and Boeing compan were consulted. Is It True That Clothes Make The Man?

If So, Then Some Of Our Gents Over Nation Are Funny

BY GLADWIN A. HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. — Leopold Stokowski never wears a hat. Senator Copeland always wears a red carnation. Fred Astaire likes pork pie hats. . . .

This all started the other day when your correspondent inadvertently wore a red necktie to work.

In between feeble jests, the boss wheezed that maybe it would be fun to survey the sartorial peculiarities of some of our more prominent males.

The investigation revealed more quirks than you could shake a quirk at. Here they are, respectfully submitted by the man with the red necktie:

HOLLYWOOD — Adolphe Menjou has 24 overcoats and a reputed $50,000 wardrobe. . . . George Raft, a gangster menace in movies, has his name embroidered on his handkerchiefs. . . . A fur-collared "impresario" overcoat is the constant companion of Fernand Gravet, the French star. . . . Bing Crosby is movieville's leading cap-wearer.

WASHINGTON—Supreme Court Justice Black likes dark ties with big dots. . . . Senator "Jim Ham" Lewis of Illinois, the beau brummel of the capital, is a white-vest-and-spat man.

INTERNATIONAL — The Duke of Windsor's favorite garment is a sweater. . . . Koki Hirota, the Japanese foreign minister, sticks to high-button shoes. . . . Eamon De Valera, the Irish prime minister, always wears black. . . . British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain always wears gates-ajar stiff white collars.

RELAXERS—Movie Actor Errol Flynn likes to wander around hom in wooden shoes and a South Se sarong. . . . William Powell's id of recreational costume is a pair shorts. . . . Jascha Heifitz, the vi linist, can't wait to get home a hop into a Russian smock.

LITERATI — George Jean N than, the critic, demands righ hand breast pockets on all his coa He thinks it's silly that peop (left-handers excepted) are alwa having to reach across their che for their handkerchief. . . . Trench Silos Popular For Stock Feeding Now Over South Plains

Trench silos have become common on the South Plains as the two photos above reveal. The number increased from 703 in 1936 to 1,542 in 1937. Left photo shows a silo being dug by U. L. Willie on his place near Matador in Motley county. Right, these ten yearlings, owned by George Branham, jr., are part of the Hale county 4-H club boys' feeding project which involves 200 beef calves and 500 sheep, many of which are fed from trench silo ensilage.

Texas Game Department Has Declared War On Crows, Ravens; Plan Blasting

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 19.—The Texas game department today declared war on crows and ravens.

The state commission announced the wily, feathered scavengers are legally proper objects of any device of destruction from poison bait to tree bomb blasts but asserted the most effective method of wholesale slaughter was simple cage traps.

Will J. Tucker, game commission secretary, urged farmers and ranchers to prompt action while these species flocked together in large numbers, warning they would migrate northward in the spring.

Continue Crop Damage

"Quoth the raven 'nevermore,'" said Tucker, "and we hope that nevermore shall he and his elusive cousin, the crow, continue to damage crops, livestock and their own kin—the ducks and quail—as they have in times past."

The secretary admitted the species were helpful in eating insects, but declared they "do far more harm than good."

"They pull up sprouting young corn," he said, "devour young chickens and eggs, raid the nests of quail and other birds, make off with feed in livestock lots, greatly damage pecans and at every opportunity pick out the eyes of fallen sheep or lambs.

Destroy Duck Nests

"Further, crows destroy duck nests in the breeding grounds of northern United States and Canada. A biological survey study recently showed 31 per cent of a nest group had been destroyed by the ebony-hued culprits."

Protests of humanitarians, fearing extinction of the species, prompted Tucker to remark:

"Complete extermination is impossible. For centuries, North American farmers have combatted them with gun, trap, poison and destruction of nests and eggs and still the crows and ravens are with us.

Smartest Bird Of All

"The crow is perhaps the smartest bird in the feathered kingdom and his success in outwitting those who would banish him from the earth is amazing."

The game authority asserted not a single state in the Union protects crows in any manner and, on the other hand, bounties have been placed on their heads. He said King Henry VII of England probably originated the bounty practice.

Blasting rookeries with handmade bombs, a form of destruction introduced several years ago by Game Warden Austin O'Neil at Wellington, has proved effective but highly dangerous unless done by an experienced "powder monkey."

Dynamite, properly capped, is placed in a shell of stove pipe iron and covered with wire cuttings, iron filings and other pieces of metal. Wires are stretched to a firing battery at a safe distance.

Cage Trap Recommended

The department unqualifiedly recommends the cage trap, a description of which may be had for the asking, as the most efficient and economical control measure.

Made of ordinary chicken wire and a few pieces of one and two by fours, the trap is practically self-operating. The crows drop through a ladder-like opening to garbage bait but the rungs prevent them from flying out again.

Balanced Ration Feeding Cited

Largest farm stocks of grain in five years, reported on January 1st, by the department of agriculture, call attention to the opportunity for economical and efficient feeding of livestock. Grains, fed in balanced rations, usually return more than when sold on the cash market, especially when supplies are large.

Corn makes up the bulk of current farm stocks of grain, the Department reported. Stocks at the beginning of 1938 totaled 1,668 million bushels, compared with only 807 million a year ago and 1,384 million bushels, the 5-year average. This supply is chiefly on farms outside of the South, which does not produce enough cereal grains for its own requirements.

Requires Proper Balancing

Efficient use of corn and other farm grains for livestock requires proper balancing of the ration, feeding authorities point out. Most of the grains lack protein that is essential for best results in feeding all classes of animals.

"In addition to this lack of protein", Morrison says in "Feeds and Feeding", "the proteins furnished by all the cereal grains are unbalanced in composition. In other words, the proteins contain but small amounts of certain essential amino acids. Therefore the grains do not produce efficient results in stock feeding unless this lack is corrected by proteins from other sources."

By supplementing grains with protein-rich feeds, farmers increase the value of their home grain supplies and increase the efficiency of their livestock rations.

Cottonseed meal, or cake, is the most widely-available of the protein supplements. Its efficiency and economy recommend it for all classes of livestock. In addition, the use of cotton seed meal, or cake, and hulls helps increase the consumption of the farmers' own cottonseed and restores to the soil fertility removed by the cotton plant.

Rations containing cottonseed meal, or cake, are recommended by experiment stations, and used by thousands of successful feeders, for beef and dairy cattle, work stock, hogs, sheep and poultry. Use of these rations enables farmers to combine home-grown grains and roughages with cottonseed products, securing maximum results from all of their available feeds.

To give farmers in this territory the latest information on livestock feeding, the Lubbock cotton oil mill is distributing the "1938 Feeding Practices" bulletin, containing rations based upon Experiment Station recommendations and practical feeding experience.

Terracing And Contouring Of Land One Of Major Activities In Lubbock County

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Terracing of farms in Lubbock county during 1937 was one of the major practices of the extension service, resulting in an estimated net return to farm owners of $37,380, with $56,382 for contouring.

Some kind of farm engineering work was done during 1937 on 152 different farms in the county, C. C. Jobson, count agent, reports.

Terrace lines were run on 52 farms for 7,476 acres. Heavy road machinery, furnished by the county commissioner's court at cost, was used on most farms. Placing a $5 per acre valuation on the work and its increase to land owners, it represented $37,380. Contouring of 22,633 acres was done on 51 different farms. At $2.50 per acre valuation the work represents $56,380.

In addition, sites for 49 irrigation wells, to water 6,858 acres, were made by the agent and his assistant.

Thirty NYA boys under supervision of J. Walter Grist did much of the work. They were Texas Technological college students. He worked 64 days supervising the job.

Trench Silos Are Becoming Increasingly Popular Here

Trench silos are increasingly popular in Lubbock county. Thirty-five new ones were added in 1937, records of the county agent's office show.

Total of 11,550 tons of ensilage were conserved in new and old silos; 5,125 in the new ones and 6,425 in the old ones.

Total Of 200 Irrigation Wells Located In County

A total of approximately 200 irrigation wells are located in Lubbock county, according to County Agent C. C. Jobson's annual report.

Cotton and grain sorghums are the major crops produced under irrigation. More will be added this year.

More Than 600 Farmers To Receive AAA Payments

The 1937 agricultural conservation program for Lubbock county comprised one of the major sections of the extension service work, annual report of County Agent C. C. Jobson shows.

Of 1,400 work sheets signed, about 650 complied with the provisions. They will receive payments the same as in 1936.

A survey of 600 of the 650 work sheets completing the program showed 2,991 acres devoted to peas and used for green manure; 4,750 acres of sudan and sweet sorghums left standing as wind erosion preventatives; 4,767 acres of winter wheat used as winter cover crop and harvested in the spring.

Summer fallow was followed on 7,111 acres; 7,377 acres terraced. Planted on the contour were 47,562 acres.

Six Ranchers Complete Their Program In '37

Six out of nine ranchers who applied for the ranch program of the county, completed their work.

Four earthen tanks were completed, 160 acres of prairie dog towns eradicated and 15 acres cleared of mesquite.

lines plans non-stop flights direct from New York to France and Portugal, thence to Italy, Greece and Egypt.

Pursuing the same intensive preparations as Pan American, the American Export company is training its steamship crews for co-operation with flying ships, transmitting weather information, bearings, etc. The ships would stand by in all emergencies, Pilots, says Eaton, are available.

So the American Atlantic air trade seeks representation adequate to balance the combined operations of Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy. And American manufacturers are coming up with ever larger ships to blaze the trail.

Glenn Martin, for example, frankly doubts there will be a limit to the size of tomorrow's great flying boats. He started with the 52,000-pound China Clipper and he has just laid the fundamental design for a 250,000-pound, super-charged stratosphere ship to carry 200 passengers.

"Ships like that," admits the Pan American's Atlantic manager, "will make the new ships now under construction but not yet delivered, obsolete before they are put into operation."

Trans-oceanic plans are moving just that fast today.

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 31 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan was led finally to the stockade of a village. Lord halloed. The gates were opened by white Amazons, garbed and armed like Tarzan's captors. More women warriors lounged about the doors of stone huts. When they saw Tarzan, they evinced eager interest.

"Al, Kaji" they yelled; "you will soon be dead." "It is too bad he is a Kaji," one shouted; "he would make a fine husband." "Perhaps Woora will give him to you," bantered another, "when he gets through with him." "Huh. He'll be fit only for lion meat then."

"I hope Woora feeds him to the lions alive," a huge Zuli Amazon chuckled; "we've had no good sport since before the last rains." Tarzan moved undisturbed through this barrage of ominous comment. He was not afraid. On the contrary, he was enjoying his adventure.

Woora, he knew from Wood's story, was Mafka's brother, a counterpart of the mighty magician of the Kaji. He was anxious to see that mysterious personage—even though the price of satisfying his curiosity might be the risk of death at Woora's hands.
