Soldiers Use Tear Gas To Quell Riot In Kansas Prison

FORT LEAVENWORTH, KAS. —(AP)— The Army quelled a race riot in which one prisoner was killed and five guards and six prisoners injured Saturday, finally forcing capitulation of 514 white prisoners who had defied an ultimatum throughout the afternoon.

Earlier, 213 negro prisoners in another cell block surrendered after a night and morning of rioting and disorder that forced the Army to send to Kansas City for additional supplies of tear gas.

The rioting grew out of resentment of white prisoners at having to eat in the same mess hall with negroes and the smouldering discontent flared into disorder which broke into an open riot.

Hundreds of tear gas shells were lobbed into the cell blocks before the negro prisoners heeded an ultimatum by Col. Graeme Parks of Texas, barracks commandant, to surrender or be drenched in an intensified gas barrage.

The white prisoners, in another cell block, ignored the ultimatum for six hours, and the Army laid siege to their wing of the wheel-shaped building, cutting off water and withholding food until they capitulated.

Commerce In Italy Tied Up By Big Strike

ROME—(AP)—Italy's organized labor tied up a great part of the nation's commerce and industry Saturday in strikes called by the leftist General Confederation of Labor to show workers' anger over the May Day massacre of eight Sicilian farmers and workers.

The strikes lasted for periods ranging from a half hour in industrial Milan to almost an entire day elsewhere. But communications, public utilities and other vital services functioned without interruption, and restaurants and bars were permitted to keep open.

In Rome a mass demonstration at the historic Basilica of Maxentius was featured by repeated assertions of four speakers that there must be an end to 'spilling the workers' blood."

From the crowd of 10,000 to 15,000 gathered in the imposing centuries-old ruins came the chant, "Enough, enough," and cries of "This is the last time." Placards bore the words, "Death to the Sicilian barons."

A half-day strike of government employes and another mass meeting in Rome was called for Monday.

Mexico's President In Plea For International Harmony To Stop War

NEW YORK — (AP) — President Miguel Aleman of Mexico declared before an extraordinary session of the United Nations Assembly that "one of the sacred obligations of the United Nations is to check the steeds of war."

Aleman, who was given a tremendous ovation by the delegates of 55 nations, said that among the U.N.'s "undeferable duties is that of strengthening the foundation of a universal community in which the provocations to war—namely, insecurity, ignorance, poverty and hunger—may forever disappear."

Speaking in Spanish, the Mexican President said that international cooperation was the only way to prevent mankind from falling into another world conflict which would wipe out present civilization.

Russia And U. S. Sharply Divided On Jewish Stand

NEW YORK —(AP)— The United States and Russia split sharply late Saturday over Jewish representation in the United Nations Palestine debate and the issue was left undecided after a four-hour wrangle in the General Assembly.

Assembly President Oswaldo Aranha insisted on a night session to settle the question of how the Jews should be heard on the Holy Land issue, but Australian Delegate W. R. Hodgson led a small-nation revolt for adjournment until 9 a.m. (CST) Monday.

When the delegates finally quit, the situation was this:

The United States was pressing for approval of the assembly's Steering Committee report recommending that the 55-nation political committee decide on all requests for a hearing.

Russia backed a Polish resolution which would allow the official Jewish agency to be represented at plenary meetings of the special session. This resolution, already rejected by the Steering Committee, was revived by Poland.

Hoppe said his resignation as city manager at Sweetwater will become effective May 26, and he will assume his duties here the following day. He is interested in locating a house for himself and family.

He declined discussion concerning his plan of work here, saying he has not had sufficient time to study the situation. Hoppe will be Midland's first city manager. He said he is looking forward to living and working in Midland.

Congressman Charges Army Officers And Men Were In Communist Parade

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) declared Saturday night that a number of Army officers and men took part in a "treasonable demonstration" by marching in a Communist May Day parade in New York.

As chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, he caired upon Secretary of War Patterson for the court martial of regular Army officers and the ouster of reserve officers and men who paraded "under the banner of the Communist Party," and offered photographs to identify them.

Patterson replied that Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, commander of the First Army, is investigating and that his inquiry "so far reveals that none of those who participated in the parade in Army uniform are members of the Army or its civilian components at the present time."

(Army regulations permit veterans to wear their uniforms for 30 days after their discharge, and after that period for participating in "veteran-sponsored" demonstrations. Veterans who are members of the organized reserve are permitted to wear their uniforms for military engagements.)

The chairman said his agents reported "one platoon of approximately 80 officers of the various branches of our services which marched in this parade under the banner of the Communist Party of the United States." He said he is writing to the heads of the other services involved. The agents also reported, Thomas wrote, that some 1,500 men in the uniform of the enlisted soldier marched under the same banner.

Texas General Session Of Legislature Is Due To Fade Out By June 1

AUSTIN—(AP)—Look for the 50th general session of the Legislature to fold up and fade away some time around the first of June.

This prediction is based on three realistic considerations:

1. Many members are either in school, or have children in school and they will be reluctant to go home before the term is out;

2. While all the major appropriation bills have been acted on by one house or another, the major job of reconciling them and perhaps trimming them remains to be done in free conference committees;

3. The question of whether or not new taxes will be levied is still in a highly fluid condition.

Veteran House and Senate employes agree that while the first point has little to do with the business of lawmaking, it is an important practical factor. They say their past experience has demonstrated this.

There are still a few who think the session may wind up a week after May 13, the day that the $10 per diem drops to $5, and the end of the constitutionally suggested 120-day limit for a general session.

Various Bills Signed Into Law By Jester

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester Saturday signed bills and resolutions including the following:

Creating parks near Lake Texoma in Grayson County and near Fredericksburg in Gillespie County, to be called "Nimitz-Eisenhower Parks."

Authorizing the State Board of Control to secure Camp Swift Hospital for the state of Texas.

Authorizing the board of directors of Texas Technological College to lease not more than three acres of land at the college to the U. S. government for the purpose of erecting and maintaining an armory building or other buildings for military instruction.

Social Security Claims From Texas City Break All Records

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— James B. Marley, regional director of the Social Security Administration, announced here Saturday the Texas City explosion disaster caused the greatest impact ever made on the 10-year-old federal insurance program.

More than three-fourths of those who lost their lives in the port city tragedy last month were covered by the old age and survivors' insurance social security system. An estimated minimum of 575 are dead in the explosion and Marley expects hundreds of claims. The previous high in claims, an even 100, resulted from the fatal trapping of 111 men in a mine blast at Centralia, Ill., last March 27.

The first four social security checks, totaling $66.08, were delivered at Marlin Friday to Mrs. Doris B. Gilcrease and her three daughters. Mrs. Gilcrease's husband, Charles Gilcrease, was killed in the first blast when the SS Grandcamp blew up.

Following the explosion, staff members from Galveston, Houston and Dallas, rushed to Texas City to set up an emergency office. Mrs. Gilcrease was the first to file a claim. Social security officials estimate that the Gilcrease family potentially is eligible to benefits of more than $16,000.

Benefits on the account of a wage-earner may be paid monthly to a widow with dependent children in her care and to the children as long as they are under 18 years of age.

Telephone Strike Conciliators Set Answer Deadline

By The Associated Press

Settlement of the 27-day-old nationwide telephone strike on the basis of a $5.14 "package" weekly wage hike was sought Saturday night by federal conciliators, a person close to the Washington negotiations reported.

However, an American Telephone and Telegraph Company official, although not acknowledging a government proposal had been made, told a reporter "the company would be opposed" to any such proposition.

"We strongly believe that a settlement should be reached by free collective bargaining between the company and the union on the basis of all the facts," he said.

The conciliators were said to have asked for an answer to their proposal, reported given to union representatives and officials of AT&T's long lines division, by 1:30 p.m. (CST) Sunday.

Strict Secrecy Imposed

Although "strict secrecy" was imposed on all parties concerned, persons in close touch with the situation said the proposal called for:

1. A $4.50 average weekly wage increase, the exact sum to be worked out between the union and company for each city.

2. "Fringe" settlements, involving vacation, pension and other provisions included in an agreement initialed by company and union officials April 10, approximating another 64 cents a week.

If accepted, the government offer would affect only the 20,000 long distance workers directly, but this group is considered the key unit of the Bell System.

Earlier, the conciliators said they looked for "cheerful developments" although both sides remained far apart on the wage question.

Wholesale Head Calls For Price Reducing Steps

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A drive for lower prices by the head of the National Association of Wholesalers was announced at the White House Saturday night with President Truman's endorsement.

He declared that "it is gratifying to see this fine response to the plea for price reduction."

The drive, as outlined by Joseph Kolodny, president of the association, seeks to hold down prices at all levels.

Kolodny addressed fellow wholesalers through the association's publication, sending a copy to Truman. He asked them as "citizens and business men" to take three steps:

See what they can do, individually and collectively, to make sure that "we are not adding one cent more than can be justified under present conditions for distribution costs or profit."

Urge the firms from which they buy "to reexamine their cost and price schedules."

Call through their salesmen for retailers to do all they can toward "cutting their selling costs to the bone, establishing a more efficient operation, consolidating certain services, and being satisfied with a reasonable profit."

Austin Phone Workers Will Meet On Monday

AUSTIN —(AP)— A mass meeting of some 500 telephone employes has been called for Monday morning by Hamel Sanders, local strike director.

George Hatch, a member of the telephone workers' publicity committee, said the meeting would be held "regardless of whether we go back to work or not."

Hatch said he had no reason to believe that the strike would end by Monday, adding that the meeting was for the purpose of keeping members informed of latest developments.

Army Focuses Attention On Arctic Route

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States, its prime military attention focused on potential invasion routes over the polar cap, is planning a second winter of Arctic troop training and special Arctic-operating naval ships.

The Army said elements of an infantry division and troop carrier aircraft will engage in joint Arctic exercises in Alaska beginning next Nov. 1.

Gen. Jacob L. Devers, Army ground forces commander, said that last winter's maneuvers convinced him that new emphasis must be placed on the use of "air transportable" foot soldiers in those areas.

The Army's announcement follows a Navy request to Congress for a construction program to include both submarines and surface ships especially equipped for duty in ice-packed Arctic waters.

To start off that part of the program, the Navy proposes one submarine outfitted as an "Arctic picket boat" and a fast attack transport capable of ice-breaking navigation.

The Navy said the picket boat submarine could be used as "eyes and ears" to detect airplane movements and for other secret functions. This suggested the use of radar to extend the present comparatively limited scope of any land-based radar aircraft warning network that might be installed along the Alaskan-Canadian Arctic coast.

'State Of Union' Closes Three-Night Stand With Capacity Crowd Present

"State of the Union," the Midland Community Theater production, closed a successful three-night stand in the City-County Auditorium Saturday evening before a capacity crowd.

The 1946 Pulitzer prize-winning comedy written by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse was directed by Art Cole.

After the show comments included such remarks as "it's the best performance the Community Theater has presented," "it should be required that all students see 'State of the Union,'" and "that show is good enough to go on the road."

A serious reaction was noticeable, along with the laughs, in that it was brought to the attention of those present the importance of voting and taking a part in the government.

Second curtain calls went to the five leads, Norris Creath as James Conover, Stella Maye Lanham as Kay Thorndyke, Mrs. Boaz Hoskins as Mary Matthews, William Pomeroy, Jr. as Grant Matthews, and Bill Duncan as Spike MacManus.

Owners Urged To Vaccinate Dogs Against Rabies

Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the Midland - Ector - Howard County Health Unit, Saturday urged all dog owners to vaccinate their dogs and other pets against rabies, since an epidemic of the dreaded disease is reported in a neighboring city.

In a statement released by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, it was disclosed that in the mid-winter month of February last year the state laboratory examined 312 animal brains for the presence of rabies, over 37 per cent of which tested positive. In August, 1946, only 155 brains were examined, with 30 per cent testing positive.

Confine Suspects

"If all stray dogs were destroyed, and all pets vaccinated for rabies, it would assist materially in stamping out this disease," Dr. Sadler said.

He said dogs suspected of having rabies should not be killed immediately, but should be confined 10 days for observation to see if the disease develops. If a dog sickens and dies during the observation period, the head should be packed in ice and sent to the state health department for examination.

Dr. Sadler declared that after a dog is confined 10 days and then killed, there is still ample time for a victim of his bite to be treated for rabies prevention, but he cautioned that if the disease is found to be present in the dog, the victim should then begin treatment without further delay.

Molotov Meets His Match In Gen. Marshall

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

MCSCOW—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, the man with the scowl, lost during the Moscow conference his world-wide reputation for being the coldest blooded present-day diplomat.

The man who overtowered him in iciness was U. S. secretary of state George C. Marshall, whose self-discipline is so complete his impassive face often has no meaningful expression.

Marshall brought one new element to American diplomacy, which otherwise he developed along traditional lines. It was the quality of personal indifference to success for the sake of success, a sort of don't-give-a-damn attitude.

Marshall made clear to his advisers on his arrival here he was going to base his policies on the strength of American power and prestige, and while he hoped the other foreign ministers would go along, he would never entreat them to do so. Not since the United States established diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union in the early Roosevelt days had it presented such an armor-plated front toward the Kremlin.

Neither British foreign secretary Ernest Bevin nor French foreign minister Georges Bidault, whose policies were aligned with those of Marshall, were able to take such a cold blooded view because they are more sensitive to Communist left wing criticism back home. However, as the United States backed France on such things as the Saar and demands for coal, Bidault became increasingly independent of that criticism.

If you walked into the meeting room at Moscow during the session you would have seen little of these forces on the surface. Some veterans of these council of foreign ministers gatherings—which began in the fall of 1945 in London—said they had never known such dull discussions.

What you would have seen were Molotov, Bidault and Bevin sitting at the "four corners" of a round table, flanked by advisers and carrying on the world's business in English, French and Russian.

Marshall was so cautious in his handling of United States foreign policy at the conference he never liked to depart from conservative methods. Some of this was due to his lack of confidence in his knowledge of diplomacy, which he frankly admitted on occasion, and some to his desire to avoid any more Potsdam or Yaltas, sources of so much later disagreement.

Marshall promoted only one "secret" meeting of the big four, and he delayed until the last possible moment his private talk with Prime Minister Stalin. His final decision to go to the Kremlin apparently was influenced mostly by the opinion of his advisers that it would look bad if he delayed longer and that the Soviets might misinterpret his course as a discourtesy.

Added Profits From Range Conservation

Increased profits can be expected from conservation stocking of range land, Carl W. Covington, cooperator with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, said last week. Covington has reduced the stock on his two-section ranch to 24 animal units. He plans to reduce even more in the near future, giving the better pasture grasses a chance to increase.

With improvement in the range more forage can be produced and more soil and water conserved. Besides increased production, lighter stocking saves money in feed and labor cost.

Properly stocked ranges also suffer less from the drought and make a quicker recovery when rains come, while on overgrazed ranges grama grasses and buffalo grass which have been weakened by over use furnish little grazing and may even die during a drought.

Covington has reduced his stock rate as a part of his coordinated soil and water conservation plan in the Soil Conservation District program.

Deep Wildcats Planned In Mitchell, Sterling And Crockett Counties; Howard Gets 3,500-Foot Project

Locations were reported Saturday for wildcats in South Mitchell County, in North Sterling County, in West Crockett County, and in Northeast Howard County.

The first three are to be Ellenburger prospectors and the fourth is to explore the middle Permian lime.

Drilling is slated to start immediately at each of the explorations.

WILL TEST TO ELLENBURGER SOUTH OF COLORADO CITY

About 15 miles south of Colorado City, and approximately the same distance northwest of the recently discovered Jameson field in Northwest Coke County, Eastland Oil Company of Fort Worth is slated to start making hole shortly on a wildcat which is to go to 7,800 feet to test the Ellenburger—unless it gets commercial production in the crinoidal zone of the Pennsylvanian before reaching the Ellenburger.

Definite location had not been picked Saturday. However, it will be either on the Ina Wallis land, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 14, block 13, H&TC survey, or on the B. L. Wulfjen land, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block 13, H&TC survey.

Operator will determine the exact location of the drillsite early in the week, and likely will start making hole within 30 days.

The prospector is on a spread of more than 20,000 acres which has been worked by seismograph and other sub-surface survey operations.

The block was originally assembled by L. E. Edwards and J. C. Ratliff, Jr., of Midland. Those operators acquired leases on approximately 16,000 acres. Ratliff then disposed of his interest in the control of the spread to Edwards, but he retained an interest in some of the leases.

Edwards made a deal with W. C. Fritz of Midland, in which Fritz became associated with him in the block. They then turned 12,294 acres of the spread to three Corpus Christi operators—S. F. Hurlbut, G. R. Swantner and W. R. Reid. Edwards and Fritz retained checkerboarded leases scattered throughout the block totalling more than 3,500 acres.

Hurlbut and associates then added six sections, aggregating 3,840 acres on the southeast side of the original spread.

They have now made a trade with Eastland Oil Company, which is owned by George A. Donnelly of Fort Worth, covering the drilling of the wildcat. Eastland will have an interest in the well and in the drillsite, and possibly in other properties in the spread.

In block 27, TP survey—sections 94, 95, and 96.

In block 13, H&TC survey—sections 7, 8, west half section 9, sections 25, 15, 16, 17, 14, 18, 13, and the south half of section 10. Sections 3, 2, 11, 12, 27, 26, and 1. The south half of section 22, section 23, the southeast quarter of section 20.

In block 16, SP survey—sections 7, 6, 5 and 4.

The additional acreage taken since the original block was formed is in block 16, SP survey, and covers sections 1, 2 and 3, and sections 28, 29 and 33 in the J. P. Smith survey.

It is reported that Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., have acquired leases on considerable amounts of acreage on the south and east sides of the Hurlbut block.

Kerr-McGee recently encountered indications of shallow oil in a core hole that concern drilled on some of the acreage which is now included in the Hurlbut spread.

Informed sources reveal that several shallow tests will be drilled on the spread, in the near future, to check on the extent and quantity of the shallow producing zone.

PLYMOUTH TO START SOON ON NORTH STERLING BLOCK

The Plymouth Oil Company will start drilling soon on its No. 1 F. W. Williams, 12 miles north and slightly west of Sterling City in North Sterling County. The project is to drill to 9,000 feet, unless it gets oil, gas or water, in the Ellenburger at a shallower depth.

It will be 660 feet from north and east lines of southwest quarter of section 39, block 2, H&TC survey, and is on a spread of approximately 15,000 acres Plymouth holds in that region, which has been "shot."

Contract to drill the wildcat, with rotary, has been let to Guy Mabee Drilling Company of Midland.

NORMAN AND ROCHE TO DIG NORTHEAST OF COAHOMA

Norman and Roche of Lockhart, have filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for a permit to start drilling immediately to 3,500 feet, on their No. 1 Reed three miles northeast of Coahoma in Northeast Howard County.

It will be 330 feet from south and west lines of a 240-acre lease in section 19, block 30, TP survey, T-1-N. The hole will be drilled with rotary.

MOORE STAKES WILDCAT SOUTHEAST OF DISCOVERY

John I. Moore of Midland has filed notice of intention to start drilling, by May 20, on his No. 1-E A. C. Hoover, in West Crockett County, to 7,500 feet, or the Ellenburger, at a lesser depth.

The location is 1,983 feet from south and 669 feet from west lines of section 1, block GG, H&OB survey. That puts it two and one-half miles southeast of Cities Service Oil Company, The Plymouth Oil Company and Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-B Owens, discovery for flowing production from a lime above 5,802 feet, and is now making more hole below 6,927 feet in an unidentified dolomite.

SULPHUR WATER FOUND IN NORTHWEST MITCHELL

Cosden Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Chester L. Jones, wildcat in Northwest Mitchell County, 2,310 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of section 60, block 20, Lavaca Navigation survey, was bottomed at 5,925 feet in an unidentified lime, and was shut down for orders.

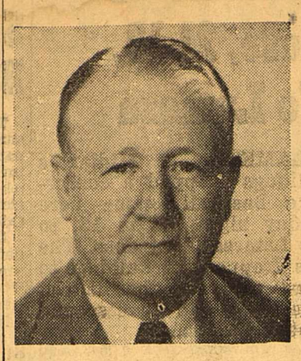

The hole had developed sulphur water at the total depth. Some consideration was being given, at the end of the week, to trying to work out a deal for the prospector to be carried on down to try to locate and test the Ellenburger. That formation should be found at around 8,500 feet, in the opinion of some geologists. Nothing definite on that program had been worked out at last report.

Amerada To Drill Ellenburger Test Near Monument; Stepouts On North Side Of Drinkard Area Show For Oil

HOBBS, N. M.—Staking of a location by Amerada Petroleum Corporation for a deep wildcat in the shallow Monument field of East Lea County, was the feature development in the oil activity of the Southeast New Mexico sector of the Permian Basin during the last week.

The prospector will be Amerada's No. 5 Phillips and is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 1-20s-36e. That puts it about three miles east of the town of Monument. Drilling is due to start in the near future. Derrick was being built at the end of the week.

Nearest Ellenburger production, to the new wildcat, is about 15 miles south and slightly east, in the Brunson field, adjacent to Eunice. The deep oil wells in that area are completed from slightly above 8,000 feet.

Operator has not officially reported the projected total depth to which No. 5 Phillips will be drilled. It likely will go to at least 10,000 feet, and possibly have to go below that level to find the Ellenburger formation.

Drinkard Stepouts Make Oil

Stepouts of one-quarter of a mile, both to the north, and to the east, of a recently completed one-mile north extension to the Drinkard-Yeso field, in East-Central Lea County, have shown that they will be completed as commercial oil wells from the Drinkard pay section.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-DA State, 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 16-21s-37e, and the north flanker to the extender, was bottomed at 6,686 feet in lime and was conditioning the hole.

A test on the zone at 6,500-6,636 feet, flowed 30.25 barrels of oil in four hours, natural.

The section at 6,601-36 feet flowed 21 barrels of oil in two and one-half hours, with gas-oil ratio o. 1,359-1.

The zone at 6,649-86 feet showed gas at surface in 30 minutes. Recovery was 300 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud.

Completion activity will be started at this new well in a few days.

Preparing To Complete

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 2-15 State, 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 16-21s-37e, flowed 311 barrels of 50-gravity oil in 11 hours from pay at 6,560-6,550 feet, through 350 perforations in the casing, after that interval had been treated with 500 gallons of acid.

The flow was through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 972-1. Total depth of the well is at 6,700 feet and 5 1/2-inch casing had been set at 6,699 feet, with 350 sacks of cement.

Operator was preparing to complete the new producer, at the end of the week. It is 1,320 feet due east of the same company's No. 1-15 State, which extended the Drinkard field one mile north a few weeks ago when it completed for an initial daily production of 432 barrels of oil, flowing, through a three-quarter inch choke, from pay at 6,560-6,630 feet, natural.

Intermediate String Set

Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Elliott-Federal, one mile west of the Mid-Continent No. 1-15 State, one mile north of closest oil well on the northwest side of the main Drinkard field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 20-21s-37e, drilled to 2,850 feet in anhydrite and had set intermediate string of 9 5/8-inch casing on bottom, with an unreported amount of cement.

At the end of the week operator was preparing to drill the plug and start ahead toward 6,700 feet to try to develop production in the lower Permian.

The Texas Company No. 1-AK State, wildcat about 13 miles northeast of Lovington in East Lea County, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 16-16s-38e, tested the zone at 5,640-80 feet, both before and after treating with acid.

It showed only slight signs of oil, along with a small amount of salt water.

The hole was plugged back to 5,635 feet, and casing which was set at 5,640 feet, had been perforated with 130 shots at 5,580-5,610 feet.

In last test reported on that formation, recovery averaged three barrels of salt water per hour, during a 24-hour swabbing test. No signs of oil were recovered.

Testing Another Zone

Those holes were squeezed off and the section at 5,460-5,525 feet has been perforated.

Operator did not report developing any signs of oil or gas from that interval, natural, and at the end of the week was preparing to treat it with acid.

J. W. Sorrells No. 1 Federal-Sorrells, Southwest Lea County wildcat, 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of section 27-22s-34e, has been plugged and

Jet Pilot Wins Derby In Photo Finish Thriller

CHURCHILL DOWNS—(AP)— The colt who is "living on borrowed time" — husky, jet-propelled Jet Pilot — won the Kentucky Derby Saturday just as his backers said he would, out in front and flying, and one of the greatest throngs in sports history saw him do it.

They said the "Cosmetics Kid," a sturdy chestnut front-runner from the Maine Chance Barn of Elizabeth Graham, would take to the off-footing of the Churchill Downs strip like he takes to his oats; that he'd come sizzling out of the gate and the rest of this field of 13 would never catch him. And that's exactly how it happened in this 73rd and biggest of all Derbies.

It Wasn't Easy

But it wasn't just as easy as that for this Kentucky-born speed artist, because coming at him at the finish were the "Gentleman from Virginia" stretch-sizzling Phalanx, and Faultless, the rangy hope of trainer Ben Jones. And when they laid their noses on the wire, it was so close that no one in the vast, roaring throng estimated by Col. Matt Winn, the 86-year-old mastermind of this most famous of American races, at between 115,000 and 120,000, could "split them apart" until the photo-finish picture had been developed.

Then, the picture told the story. The Pilot—and it's a name that fits like his racing plates because he steered all the rest of them home—had managed to last by a bare head for the glory and the necklace of roses and the pot of gold that this time amounted to $92,160, out of a gross of $120,210.

This Week With The Indians

Today: Sweetwater here.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday: At Odessa.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday: At Ballinger.

Sunday: Big Spring here.

Corpus Christi Is Track Champion

AUSTIN —(AP)— Corpus Christi's Buccaneers swept up the Texas Interscholastic League track and field championship here today, winning two first places and setting one state record—a blazing 3:24.6 in the mile relay—but the mightiest performance of all was by little Javier Montes of Bowie (El Paso), who ran the fastest mile in Texas schoolboy history, 4:25 flat.

Corpus Christi came to the relay needing to win it to take the meet.

Austin finished second in the meet with 36 points and Thomas Jefferson wound up third with 28. North Dallas, through the great individual efforts of Cleburne Price, who made 26½ points as high man of the meet the second season in a row, closed out fourth with 28.

DETROIT TIGERS DEFEAT A'S TO SWEEP SERIES

DETROIT—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers swept a two game series from Philadelphia Saturday, beating the Athletics 2-1 on the five hit pitching of Paul (Dizzy) Trout. The score:

Philadelphia	000 000 010	1 5 2
Detroit	000 100 01x	2 7 0

Savage, Christopher and Guerra, Rosar; Trout and Swift.

Roberson Edges Mackey, 9 To 8

Roberson Sinclair got a close call from Mackey Motors in a softball game Friday night at the Midland Softball Park, but the Sinclairs edged out a victory, 9 to 8.

It was an exhibition softball tilt.

Gordon Smacks Two As Tribe Beats Red Sox

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians came up with four home runs Saturday, two by Joe Gordon, to swamp the Boston Red Sox 9 to 3 and sweep the two-game series. The score:

Boston	100 000 101	3 7 1
Cleveland	401 400 00x	9 10 0

Hughson, Dorish, Widmar, Murphy and Wagner; Embree and Hegan.

Assault Opens Season With Impressive Win

NEW YORK —(AP)— Assault, the 1946 "Horse of the Year," opened his four-year-old campaign at Jamaica Saturday in the same impressive fashion that catapulted him to turf fame a year ago when he won the Kentucky Derby. Favored at 6 to 5, the King Ranch's Texas-bred triple crown champion came charging up from last place in a brilliant stretch drive under Jockey Warren Mehrtens to win the $40,000-added Grey Lag Handicap by a head over the Sunshine Stable's Lets Dance.

FLASH BURN WINS GITTINGS

PIMLICO, MD.—(AP)—Flash Burn, hard-running stablemate of Assault, drove home by a nose to take the $10,000-added Gittings Handicap at Pimlico track Saturday, leaving the favorite, Turbine, far in the rear.

Bulldogs Lose, 21-13, To Lamesa

LAMESA — Midland's Bulldogs dropped a conference baseball game here Friday night, 22 to 13, to the Lamesa Tornadoes. The loss dropped the Bulldogs to third place in the district title chase and gave second spot to Lamesa.

The Tornadoes took a 5-3 lead in the third inning, but Midland came back in the first of the fourth to tie it up. The Tornadoes garnered nine runs in the last of the fourth and from this the Purple never recovered.

In the eighth inning Midland did stage a comeback with David Hyatt hitting a home run with the bases loaded. Two other runs were tabbed in this frame. Hyatt's homer was well over the Lamesa Baseball Park's rightfield fence.

The game continued wild and Lamesa got eight runs in the last of the eighth.

Errors hurt Midland. Five errors in a bunch did most of the damage.

Hyatt Hurls All Game

Price and Sevier led the Purple scoring with Lee high scorer for Lamesa. Hyatt was the game's hit star for Midland with five safeties in five trips. Lee got seven for seven for Lamesa honors.

Hyatt and Phillips of the respective teams pitched all the game. Catchers were Deel and Bizzell.

Midland hits were tabbed by: Price 3, Leftwich 1, Buckingham 3, Deel 4, Edwards 2, Urice 1, Whitson 1, Treadway 1, Hyatt 5, Sevier 1.

Price and Deel hit doubles for Midland.

Honor Indians At Open House

Citizens got acquainted with the Midland Indians Saturday.

They dropped in to visit and meet the baseball players at an open-house held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel from 3 to 5 p. m.

The event was sponsored by the Wranglers Club of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Ball players introduced were: Henry Ramsdell, Weldon Stewart, Eddie Melillo, Henry Melillo, Arnold Davis, Claud Gray, Ed Keon, Horace Colyer, Dale (Lefty) Grove, Frank McAlexander, Bill Petree, Carrol Nipp, Ernie Nelson, Marty Tebrinke, and Manager Harold Webb.

Punch and cookies were served. There was no program. The event was informal.

Yes, baseball was "talked."

'Gymboree' Is Successful; To Be Annual Show

The Midland High School gymnasium was packed with parents and patrons Friday night for the first invitational "Gymboree," staged by physical education departments from high schools of Midland, Odessa, Big Spring and Kermit.

Mrs. Inez Cheatham's Midland girls started the show with a presentation of pioneer ring games. Twenty couples participated, with some girls dressed as men.

Midland performed a tap routine in costume by girls.

Do Hat Dance

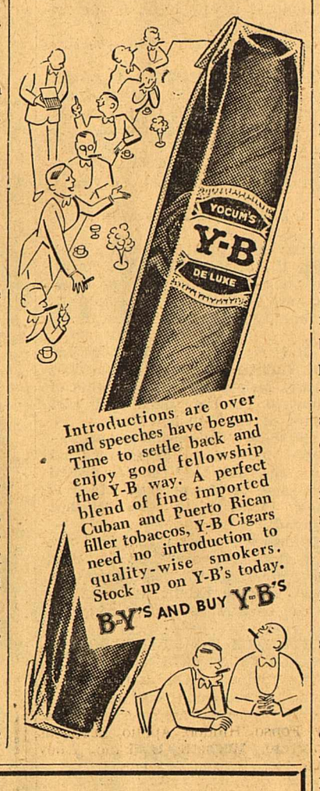

Mrs. Arah Phillips' Big Spring students presented a mixed group in "Put Your Little Foot." And another number by Big Spring was a Mexican hat dance. Dominga and Virginia Castillo, Mexican sisters, did the dance, in costume.

Mrs. Dorothy Embry's students from Odessa presented "Two Movements in Modern Dance," a very difficult number to perform.

Highlights of the night were tumbling acts. Midland girls performed. Dovie Wallace, as a bloomer girl, did a clown act.

Coach Earl Glassie's Midland boys closed the program with acrobatics.

The "Gymboree" will be made an annual affair.

Boy, oh boy, how these warm sunny days bring out the sporting instinct in men, women and children.

And from all indications we, locals, are headed for the biggest and best sports season in our history.

What! With beautiful new softball and baseball parks here in Midland, it looks like all the devotees of the bat and ball pastime, regardless whether they are soft or hard, amateur or professional, will get their money's worth by the time next football season rolls around.

On my visits to the round robin that is being played in the Midland Softball Association, I am sure that those who are softball fans will be able to see a very fast and balanced softball league this season and will be able to spend many interesting evenings in the cool south breeze.

Also from my observations of the Midland Indians in their first few games of the season, you baseball fans can be assured that the hustling and aggressive Harold Webb will give the City of Midland a representative in the newly formed professional Longhorn League, a team that will be up in the fight for the leadership before many days roll around. I hope that you fans will be patient with the Indians for Harold has plans to bring new players in as soon as the Oklahoma City team of the Texas League starts paring the rosters.

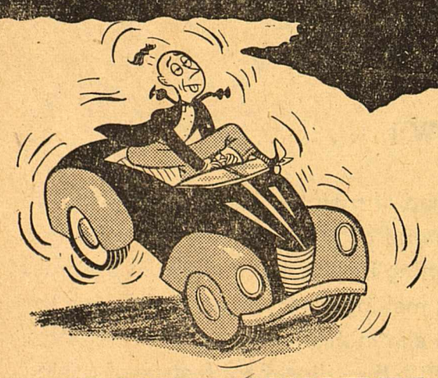

And basebal fans, take a gander over behind first base at our boys who are members of the Midland Knot-Hole Gang. These young Americans have not had the opportunity to see baseball played as it has been several years, in fact, more years than some of these boys have been around since we have had organized baseball in our city but these youngsters catch on pretty fast and it won't be long before you will hear plenty of noise and see quite a demonstration when one of the Indians hits one over the fence and the tying or winning run be made.

Then there is the Midland Gun Club, where both trap and skeet shooting matches with other clubs in this vicinity are held from time to time. In fact, the locals are taking on the Lubbock shooters today and invite the public to come out this afternoon starting at 2:30.

The Midland Country Club is planning a woman's invitation golf tournament starting May 13th and the men's Midland Invitation beginning on June 29th. Both these tournaments will attract the better golfers of both sexes from all over the state and we expect to see many fine shots made before the last putt falls.

Also the Midland Tennis Club has been re-organized and is working towards securing many new members and any tennis player is invited to join. If you are interested, please contact Leo Brady of the Honolulu Oil Company or come out to the tennis courts two blocks south of the West Elementary School. (Incidentally, Carleton & Brumbelow have a new Serrano no-awl stringing machine and are prepared to give two day service on all re-stringing jobs in nylon and gut, tennis or badminton.) So, anyone interested in re-stringing can have this service done here and not be bothered about sending their racquets off to Fort Worth or Dallas. (Adv.)

Tribe Takes Sports; Play Sunday

Tribe Has Won Four Out Of Five In Home Stand

Harold Webb's hustling Midland Indians won their fourth game in the last five played, 9 to 7, here Saturday night over the Sweetwater Sports.

Midland and Sweetwater meet at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Indians' Park for the first home Sunday afternoon ball game.

The Indians had to scrap for it Saturday night but they managed it, thanks to the hitting of a boy called Arnold Davis, centerfielder, and some fine relief hurling by Claud Gray and Ernie Nelson.

Both teams scored three runs in the first. Midland three more in the third while Sweetwater was getting two. Midland one in the fifth and two in the sixth. Sweetwater got one in the eighth and one in the ninth.

Davis hit a triple and a home run for Midland. Ellington hit a homer for Sweetwater in the ninth. It was park home run.

Friday night the Indians won, 6 to 5, over Ballinger with the winning run scored in the last of the 10th inning.

Midland got off well with a good lead, then blew it, but finally eked out the victory. Midland got four runs in the second frame only to see Ballinger knot it 5-all in the eighth.

To win, Frank McAlexander, Tribe third-sacker, tripled with one out in the 10th. Carrol Nipp hit a grounder to the Ballinger shortstop and he fumbled. Then McAlexander came roaring home with the winning tally.

Harold Webb, catcher, and Henry Melillo, second base, batted in two runs each for Midland. And Stringfield batted in two for Ballinger. Bill Petree, first baseman, hit a double for Midland. McClain and Kolesar hit doubles for Ballinger. Claud Gray, tall right-hander, pitched the win for Midland. He struck out eight and had the stuff when it was needed.

Midland 'Stars Win At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Midland's All-Star softball team cleaned Lubbock's high-powered Blue Bonnet Laundry team, 7-4, in a fast game here Saturday night. The Lubbock club beat Midland in two games there last weekend.

Saturday night's game went nine innings by agreement.

Midland got 12 hits and one error, and Lubbock, four hits and three errors.

McKnight of Midland tripled in the second with two men on, and Pearce, pitcher, homered in the ninth with one on.

The two clubs will meet again at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Soft Spot Found In Landing In Forests

ANNAPOLIS, MD. —(AP)— Residents of nearby Raynor Heights watched a small airplane, its motor dead, seek a spot for a crash landing, then plummet into a woods.

A number of them hurried to the scene, expecting a sight of sudden death. Instead, they found both the pilot and a young girl passenger sitting calmly beside the plane, whose wings had been shorn off by the trees and which had landed upside down.

Hawaiians Look Around For Another 'Patrick'

HONOLULU —(AP)— Remembering their boast that Hawaii is a snakeless Paradise, territorial residents are embarrassed to discover that perhaps they unknowingly are playing host to a number of uninvited and unwanted reptiles.

The possibility that snakes may be introduced to Hawaii from South Pacific islands was termed a "serious menace" by one shipping official. He said he believed that any ship loading at an island where snakes are known to exist should be fumigated before being allowed to discharge cargo.

Several weeks ago a snake was reported to have escaped from a ship unloading in the Pearl Harbor area. More recently stevedores reported finding several snakes in the hold of a ship which was discharging military cargo picked up at Manus.

No trace has been found of the "one that got away." Undoubtedly it is wiggling all over Oahu looking for a kindred spirit, which islanders hope it never finds.

Four Midland Indians have been released. They are: Bob (Peppy) Brookshire, catcher; Horace Bryant, first baseman; Homer Irwin, infielder and pitcher, and Bob Westbrook, outfielder.

—SL—

Melvin Haney, good-sized and genial, is in the race for Number 1 Midland Fan. Melvin sees the Indians every night. He sits in the same spot and heartily enjoys the ball game. Just glancing around the other night we spotted these loyal fans: John Spurgers, Doc Pemberton, J. C. Smith, Chester Shepard, O. W. Stice, Jim Tuttle, Phil Phillips, Fred Hogan, Bob Scruggs, and many, many more.

—SL—

We have a letter from Eddie Hammond, manager of the Big Spring Flyers, semi-pro baseball team. He is interested in organizing a West Texas semi-pro league to be composed of Big Spring, Midland, San Angelo, Odessa, Sweetwater and Abilene. Hammond suggests the various parks of the various cities mentioned could be used when professional or softball teams are not playing. He reports good interest in a semi-pro team at Big Spring. If there be players in Midland interested in such an organization, they may contact SPORTS-LANE or Eddie Hammond, 1102 W. Sixth Street, Big Spring. A meeting is tentative toward such organization at Big Spring Sunday, May 11.

Pleased to report that Tex Carlton's Knot Hole Gang has grown to more than 200 membership. We like to see and hear these youngsters out at the ball games. And their send-off when the Indians take the diamond is good to "feel."

ROUNDIN' UP THE STRAYS. . . Just call it the "Lusty" Longhorn League for the runs, hits and errors have been many but play is proving good to see. . . Midland Indians made 45 runs in two games recently and lost one of the games. . . . How's that for "entertainment?" . . . When Henry Melillo hit two homers the other night it netted him 10 bucks from one good fan and some money from a hat that was passed. . . A fellow named "Stoney" gave the five-dollar home run bills. . . The best fielding play we have seen so far was Henry Melillo's stab of a hot liner in the eighth inning of the second Ballinger game. . . The fans loudly cheered his wonderful catch. . . The 15th Annual Texas Registered Skeet Championship will be held at the Dallas Gun Club, June 12-15. . . There will be $1,100 added moneys with valuable prizes plus. . . . All of Texas' former all-bore champs from 1929 to the present will be on hand. . . This drew a round of laughs at the game the other night: a fan blurted out to one of the umps: "You must be a coal-miner because you are always saying 'Strike'!" . . . Since his scrimmage with the manager of the Vernon nine, Harold Webb, hustling and whistling Midland Midland leader, is mighty popular with the fans. . . We could tell on Webb that a couple of nights before he got a $50 fine slapped on him at Sweetwater. . . We like Webb as do the fans, he sticks up for his boys and he hustles all the way. . . The Big Spring sportswriter already has warned his fans that "Webb is coming." . . . That "pretty girl" who takes your tickets at the baseball games is Mrs. Lefty Grove. . . . She is an ardent supporter of her pitching husband. . . Jim Carlson, Continental Air Lines station manager, is a baseball fan but he sure is strict in what he calls errors. . . He's thinking of introducing a new error to baseball scoring. . . . It goes on a batter who takes a cut at a bad ball. . . Congrats to Earl Glassie and Mrs. Inez Cheatham for the splendid "Gymboree" they directed and to their students who put it over. . . There are those here in Midland, who want to make the play day field event held recently by the elementary schools into "Little Olympics," such as San Angelo produces. . . Mrs. Pete Garrison, wife of the Dowell pitcher, is an ardent fan and she can tell you all about softball as it was played by some of the greatest of Texas teams. . . Because her husband pitched for some of the best. . . . Arnold Davis, centerfielder, is one of the best of Midland's Indians. . . Roy Scudday, Odessa sportswriter, signed 30 last week. . . . Roy is going into the "drive-in" business. . . We liked working with Roy and he always was cooperative. . . We wish him luck. . . Some have asked, so we say: Yes. what is District 3-AA in football is 10-AA in baseball. . Ever hear of so many relay teams getting disqualified. . . Baton passing has been the chief offense. . . This cropped in the state meet this weekend at Austin. . . At least two good relay quartets lost out that way. . . Many fans aren't aware of the fact that only infield groundhit balls are now sacrifices in baseball scoring. . . The old outfield, high-fly sacrifice is no more. . . FYI (for your information) Ed Keon, Midland catcher, will be out for a while with his busted finger. . . . It was split badly by a tip, but not broken. . . And that's 30 for strays.

Tipping Receives Boyle Treatment

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Alpheus Ronald Thistlethwaite, the seer of Washington Square North, was seen scurrying rapidly toward a Fifth Avenue bus. In one hand he carried a comfortably padded soapbox.

"Whither away, Alpheus?" called his friend Pythias Roundelay.

"To Union Square to rouse the masses!" cried Thistlethwaite.

"What is it this time?" sighed Roundelay, the laureate of Patchen Place, as he daintly placed upon a park bench the copy of Krafftebing he was translating into heroic couplets. "Is the park commissioner trying to erect another one of those devilish children's swings in Washington Square?"

"You are less than amusing," said Alpheus. "This is a matter that affects all America. It affects even you. Have you read of the Newburyport sales plan?"

"You mean the voluntary proposal to cut retail prices ten per cent?" replied Pythias languidly. "That hardly affects me—the prices are still ninety per cent too high for a genius without money."

"The Newburyport plan does not even touch the fringe of the problem I am attacking," said Thistlethwaite vehemently. "I propose to remove hands from the consumers pocket that have no business there at all."

"Such as?"

"Such as the people who get paid for doing nothing or who want extra pay for something they are already paid to do It is a fiendish custom imported from totalitarian states to weaken the character of our democratic workers.

"A doorkeeper you have no need of expects a quarter for opening a taxi door you should open for yourself in the name of exercise. The cab driver expects 35 cents above the legal fare merely for knowing the right street. The hatcheck girls regard you as a leper if you toss them less than two bits for the dangerous work of guarding your hat and coat.

"If 200,000 men check their hats in Manhattan in one evening, that is $50,000 thrown down the economic drain."

"I don't wear a hat," said Pythias, tenderly combing his locks with his last month's fingernails.

"But the evil has spread throughout our whole system!" declared Alpheus. "A hotel clerk expects you to slip him five dollars for putting you up in a $9 hotel room worth $3. My building superintendent used to be satisfied with a necktie on Christmas. Now he expects a suit—and for Easter I have to dig him up a topcoat that matches it or my garbage isn't removed.

"If you want to move to another apartment you have to shell out $200 to $500 on the side. You used to be able to buy a soft drink for five cents. Now it's 10 cents. If you don't leave a dime tip, the soda squirt glares as if you had just shot Lincoln."

"The things people will do for money?" sighed Pythias, looking hungarily at a fat pigeon waddling on the sidewalk. In his poetic eyes fat pigeons somehow always looked like hamburgers. "What led you to embark on this crusade, Alpheus? These things have been going on for sometime."

"Today the mailman climbed one flight of stairs to deliver me a special package," said Thistlethwaite warmly. "He stood around waiting—imagine that, a government employe!—until my wife gave him a 50c tip."

"What was in the package?"

"A free sample of a new toothpaste," said Alpheus bitterly, as he turned to leave. "That convinced me. America must awaken to its peril."

"How are you going to get on the bus with that soapbox, Alpheus?" asked Pythias. "It's against the rule to carry such large objects on public conveyances."

"I suppose I will have to slip the driver a quarter," said Thistlethwaite forlornly. "But, mind you, this is my last compromise."

abandoned on total depth of 4,202 feet in lime, with a hole full of sulphur water. It did not log any indications of oil or gas production.

Allan Hargrave No. 1 State, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 1-23s-34e, 15 miles north of Ochoa, in Southwest Lea, had penetrated below 3,995 feet in lime, and was making more hole, at last report.

Drilling Ahead In Chaves

Richfield Oil Corporation (Formerly Honolulu, et al) No. 1 Mullis unit, deep wildcat in South Chaves County, about 20 miles of Lake Arthur, and in southwest quarter of section 21-15s-29e, had penetrated past 10,329 feet, in an unidentified lime formation, and was continuing. It has not reported having encountered any oil or gas indications.

Richfield No. 1-3 White, East Chaves County prospector to 10,000 feet, in southwest quarter of section 6-12s-29e, and 24 miles east of Roswell, had reached 5,821 feet in lime. It was drilling ahead.

DeKalb Agricultural Association, Inc., No. 1 Cannon, six and one-half miles east and slightly north of Roswell, and 2,310 feet from south and 1,650 feet from west lines of section 27-10s-25e, was installing a pump to complete from pay at 740-948 feet in the San Andres-Permian lime.

That formation had been treated with 3,000 gallons of acid, and had tested for approximately 10 barrels of oil per day, swabbing. It is several miles south of the nearest production from a similar formation—that being in the Bitter Lake field.

Atha Exploration Company No. 1 Lightcap, wildcat in Northeast Chaves County, near Elkins, and 20 miles north and 13 miles east of Roswell, was bottomed at 2,047 feet in lime, at last report, with some of the tools in the hole, and was shutdown.

It had been reported that some slight shows of oil and gas had been drilled through in this project, but no information was available at the end of the week as to whether any effort would be made to try to develop production from those shows or not.

Reliable sources indicated that a geological examination of drilling samples from the zones in which the signs of oil and gas were reported, showed that those indications were extremely slight, and likely would not develop any sort of production, even if they were tested.

Mesa Retailers, Inc., No. 1 Blind Snake, North Eddy County wildcat seven miles northeast of Artesia, and 330 feet from north and 2,982 feet from west lines of section 2-15s-25e, was reported to be bottomed at 1,900 feet, in lime, and was preparing to run 8 5/8-inch casing to bottom, so it could be drilled deeper.

This wildcat logged some light signs of oil above current total depth, but apparently the decision to run pipe through that section indicates operator had decided the shows were not sufficient for any sort of production.

west lines of section 44, block 1-A, H&TC survey, and about three miles east of Robert Lee, had reached 4,530 feet in an unidentified lime and shale section and was continuing.

SUN IS TO COMPLETE THIRD PRODUCER IN JAMESON FIELD

Sun Oil Company No. 1 H. H. Jameson, one quarter of a mile west of the discovery for flowing production from the crinoidal section of the Pennsylvanian, in the Jameson field of Northwest Coke County, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 253, block 1-A, H&TC survey, was treated with 5,000 gallons of acid, in perforated sections between 6,200 feet and 6,458 feet, in the 5 1/2-inch casing.

After the acid load was lifted the well flowed to pits to clean, and then flowed 106 barrels of oil in ten hours, through a 7/64th-inch tubing choke, with gas-oil ratio of 1,201-1.

Operator was preparing to take a potential test and complete the well—the third producer in the field—early in the week.

Sun No. 2 Fred Jameson, on the southeast side of the area, and 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 3-15, block 1-A, H&TC survey, had reached 6,118 feet, in shale, and was drilling ahead.

Sun No. 2 Allen Jameson, 3,300 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 253, block 1-A, H&TC survey, and one half mile due north of the initial producer in the Northwest Coke County region, had reached 3,865 feet, and was drilling ahead in lime and shale.

NORTHEAST SCURRY PROJECT DRILLING AHEAD IN LIME

The Ohio Oil Company No. 1-C Neal, slated 7,500-foot wildcat, in Northeast Scurry County, in northeast corner of R. N. Miller survey 1, abstract 868, 11 miles northwest of Rotan (which is in Northwest Fisher County), had progressed below 6,400 feet, in lime, and was continuing to make hole.

MAGNOLIA MAY GO TO 6,000 FEET IN SOUTH MIDLAND

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Roy Glass, South Midland County prospector, about 25 miles south of Midland, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 30, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S, had penetrated past 4,885 feet, in lime, and was boring ahead.

Operator started this project under a permit to dig to 5,000 feet. A supplemental application has been filed with the Railroad Commission requesting a permit to continue to a possible depth of 6,000 feet.

EAST MIDLAND DEEP TEST CLEANING OUT CAVINGS

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Mabel Floyd, 15 miles southeast of Midland, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 16, block 37, TP survey, T-3-S, was cleaning out cavings in the hole above a cement plug which had been set 8,070-8,520 feet, over total depth reached of 11,301 feet in the Devonian.

This activity is in connection with getting the hole in shape so casing can be run back in from the top, to connect with pipe in the lower section of the hole, which had parted from the upper string.

Operator is attempting to get the pipe trouble remedied so more hole can be made.

Humble No. 1 L. B. Floyd, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 15, block 37, TP survey, T-3-S, and one half mile west of same company's No. 1 Mabel Floyd, was drilling past 3,345 feet in anhydrite. It is projected to 12,000 feet to test the pre-Permian horizons.

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

MOVIES CAN TEACH FASHION BASICS

By ALICIA HART

You can learn valuable lessons in dress from the screen, if you'll train your eyes to take in the fashion fundamentals.

Don't be taken in by trick drapery, extravagant yardage or superficial glitter. As RKO designer Edward Stevenson says: "Such features of screen clothes are often extreme for technical reasons."

Not extreme and therefore adaptable, he says, are the silhouettes, good necklines, balanced proportions in dress and interesting combinations of materials used for screen clothes.

You can also use Hollywood's methods of assembling costumes. So keeping a watchful eye on what kind of hat a star wears with a certain dress, the type of jewelry she uses and how much, and how she accessorizes her suits will yield profitable tips.

Objectives Of Home Demonstration Work Cover Many, Varied Subjects

A new list of home demonstration objectives has been put together by a national committee of state home demonstration leaders representing all sections of the country, working with members of the field coordination staff and Division Chief H. W. Hochbaum of the Federal office. These objectives cover many and varied subjects of demonstration work.

In line with the motto for National Home Demonstration Week, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World," the first objective has to do with family living. It is stated thus: "To assist families with problems of family relationships; the physical, mental, and emotional growth and well-being of children; the development and adjustments of youth; and, the role of the family in community life."

Two objectives deal specifically with health. They are:

"To improve the nutritional and health status of people through planned home food production, conservation, and use, based upon dietary needs."

"To promote good health practices in the family and community, to encourage people to study local needs for health facilities and to develop ways of obtaining them."

The need of health in relation to housing is described thus: "To assist families to improve the home and its furnishings so that these may contribute the maximum to the comfort, health, and satisfaction of family living."

The elimination of drudgery and backaches objective reads: "To improve living through better household facilities, rural electrification, labor-saving equipment, and methods of work that conserve the time and effort of family members."

The goal of all activities having to do with sewing is expressed in this objective: "To assist families—youth and adults—to be clothed appropriately and attractively at moderate cost."

Helping people to discover and develop their individual abilities and talents is twice mentioned in the list of objectives. These two are:

"To develop the creative ability of people through recreation, handicrafts, home grounds improvement, and other individual, family, and group activities that will add to the satisfaction of rural life in the home and community.

"To develop leadership abilities among adults and youth."

Civic Responsibility

Civic responsibility objectives read: "To help people to be aware of the part they can play in making their community a wholesome and attractive place in which to live, with adequate facilities for education, recreation, social and spiritual development, and to develop an understanding of and participation in local, state, national and international affairs."

Civic pride or advantages of rural life is stated as follows: "To cultivate an appreciation of opportunities and values in rural living."

"To develop among people an awareness of the needs of youth in a community, and to help them provide for these needs through 4-H Club work and other youth activities" is the objective of the group concerning young people.

The value of money is not overlooked in the list of objectives for the program aims "to assist families to be better-informed consumers," and "to manage wisely as well as to obtain an income adequate to support a satisfactory level of family living."

ENFORCED VACATION

Sir Isaac Newton conceived his idea of the laws of gravitation when only 24 years old. A terrible plague had broken out in England, schools and universities were closed, and Newton had much time to think during the enforced vacation.

IMPROVED WATCHES

Nicholas Facio introduced jeweled bearings for watches at the beginning of the 18th century. Diamonds and sapphires were the only stones that could be used.

Four Quit Committee Probing Mine Disaster

CENTRALIA, ILL. —(AP)— Four Democratic members have withdrawn from a special Illinois Legislative Committee conducting a hearing on the Centralia mine explosion which claimed 111 lives March 25, calling the group a "whitewash committee."

The six remaining members of the committee are Republicans.

The withdrawal came after Merritt J. Little, chairman, ruled out of order a request by one of the Democrats that Discoll Scanlan, state mine inspector, tell the committee what transpired at a meeting of mine inspectors called by Robert Medill, former state mine director, last January. Mr. Scanlan had said nothing but politics was discussed at the meeting.

FIXED BOUNDARIES

Eighty-eight star constellations are recognized today. About 50 of these were named in ancient times. By international agreement, the boundary lines of a constellation are parallel and perpendicular to the celestial equator.

Wyoming enacted the 60-day divorce law in 1935.

ICC Member Suggests Freight Car Movement Remain With A. A. R.

WASHINGTON — (AP)— An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner has recommended that regulation of inter-railroad use of freight cars be left in the hands of the Association of American Railroads.

The recommendation was made in connection with ICC's investigation of the acute freight car shortage. One point of inquiry was whether there is waste or inefficiency in use of cars.

In that connection, the question was whether the commission should substitute federal car service rules for those of the Railroad Association which has long been the authority to manage the movement of freight cars among its members.

The commissioner examiner, Claude A. Rice, reported that the witnesses heard "are preponderantly against" any substitution of ICC car service rules for those now in effect.

The full commission will hear argument on the question May 14 before entering a final decision.

Man Whom State Wronged, Pays His Debt To Mother Who Stayed By Him

CANON CITY, COLO.—(AP)—Loren Hamby was given $10,000 by the State for six years spent unjustly in the penitentiary, but he won't get a dime of it personally. He's turning it over to his mother, who considered no sacrifice too great to clear her son of a murder charge.

And for his mother, Mrs. Ruth Hamby, the money will be the means of settling debts incurred in the long fight.

George T. Carnes was killed at his Walsenburg, Colo., filling station June 22, 1937, and Mr. Hamby was charged with the slaying. Mr. Hamby claimed he was listening to a radiocast at the time.

The jury didn't believe him, and he started a life sentence at the penitentiary here Oct. 23, 1939.

His family began a fight to clear him. First a cotton plantation in Texas was sold. The family home here was mortgaged. The local Mormon church lent $1,300. Other debts were incurred.

Prof. Leonarde Keeler was brought from Chicago with his lie detector. He found Mr. Hamby was telling the truth. The chief prosecution witness repudiated his testimony.

John C. Vivian, then Governor, pardoned him, and when the State Legislature met this year it voted Mr. Hamby $10,000 as compensation.

"Clearing our name and freeing our son makes me thank God from the bottom of my heart," said his mother yesterday. "The cost was enormous, but the battle has been won.

"Loren gave me the money of his own free will. As soon as I get the debt paid, I will be at peace with the world."

Auto Driver Must Learn To Stabilize His Emotion

FORT WORTH—(AP)—An educational program to stabilize the emotions of automobile drivers was advocated here Thursday as a solution to traffic hazards by Dr. Robert L. Sutherland of Austin, director of the Hogg Foundation at the University of Texas.

Dr. Sutherland spoke before the opening session of the Texas Safety Conference at which nearly 1,000 delegates were in attendance. He told the delegates to the two-day conference that neither lists of safety rules nor the desire for self-preservation are sufficient to prevent accidents.

C Of C Distributes Gardening Booklets

Entitled "Gardening In Midland," a 30-page booklet, published by the Midland Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Midland Garden Club, now is being distributed by the Chamber in the interest of more pleasant gardening.

The introduction to the booklet states:

"This booklet was prepared with the hope that it may be helpful to residents of Midland who find pleasure, recreation and profit in flowers, fruits and vegetables.

Designed For Area

"This is the first printing of this material, designed especially for soil and climate conditions of our area. It is not a technical work—we hope you will find it a practical answer to some of your problems. We decided that it should present the information in straightforward and simple terms so that all gardners may benefit from it. To obtain the information we have collected the experiences and studied the results of Midlanders and their gardens."

The information is presented in four general divisions. Section one discusses the soil, diseases and pests. Section two is entitled "Lawns," and the third section, "Bulbs, Rhizomes and Corms." A discussion of fruit trees, shade trees, evergreens and flowering shrubs is included in section four.

County Agent V. G. Young assembled the information for section one; Niles B. Winter, section two; members of the Midland Garden Club, section three; and R. O. Walker, section four.

The booklets are available free of charge at the Chamber of Commerce office in Hotel Scharbauer.

There are 81,853 greenhouses in the United States, with 6,496 of them being in California.

April 1 Wheat Stocks Smallest Since 1937

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Agriculture Department reported that wheat stocks in this country on April 1 were the smallest for that date since 1937.

They totaled 309,644,000 bushels, or seven per cent less than the 332,135,000 bushels on hand a year ago.

The low level reflects record exports to shortage areas abroad.

April 1 stocks of corn and oats were on the other hand relatively large. But stocks of barley and rye were the smallest in the last five years for which the figures are available.

Current stocks of corn are 26 per cent larger than a year ago and larger than on any April 1 on record except 1943. Oats stocks are nine per cent less than a year ago, but larger than on any other April 1 on record.

SUCCESS for SALE
Lasting success must be built upon a firm foundation and many elements must go into that foundation. Among these elements are quality, service, honesty of purpose, good will and cooperation.
ANOTHER ELEMENT NEEDED IS HEALTH!
Without this one element nothing else matters very much. People in poor health often succeed, but there is little joy in success when there is not health. Any one who sacrifices his health in order to achieve material or professional success pays a price greater than the value of his success.

DR. C. L. BRADY
Palmer Graduate
Realizing the value of health, many people have learned the lesson of keeping well through the use of Chiropractic. Chiropractic keeps their spines and nervous systems in order and that means health!
This is well illustrated by the following case histories - - -
V.L. CASE NO. 11,813—Woman, age 46, had severe pain in neck and shoulders that extended down the back and around the course of the ribs. She was nervous, had headaches, and could not sleep. This condition had been going on so long that it had sapped her energy and she was tired all the time. When other methods failed, the woman tried Chiropractic and was soon feeling like new.
V.L. CASE NO. 11,125—Man, age 39, had dull headaches and dizzy spells. Elimination was poor, he had low back pains and little energy. In fact his health was so depleted that he had not been able to work for several months. When almost in despair of ever feeling better again he tried Chiropractic and in a few weeks was able to resume his regular work.

All stories submitted by students were approved this spring.

"The candidates have excellent staff and production records. Their work samples and recommendations show them to be deserving of high journalistic recognition for their talents and industry," stated the advisory board in a letter to the sponsor, Miss Helene Huff.

The students already have ordered and received their pins, and cards, which will be given to them at the initiation services.

Who's Who

Wilma Vaughan, one of our Who's Who this week, is district first place winner and fourth in regional in shorthand. She went to state this weekend.

She was born in Midland Aug. 28, 1930, and has lived here all of her life.

Wilma, black haired, brown eyed senior, is taking English, bookkeeping, biology, shorthand and PE.

Listening to the radio is her favorite pastime. Blue is her favorite color. When it comes to eating, chicken is tops. A tall, blond haired, blue eyed boy rates highest with her.

Wilma plans to attend North Texas State College in Denton. Her ambition is to be a musician.

Blond haired, blue eyed Lois Dee Eiland is first place district winner in extemporaneous speaking; third in regional.

She is a senior. She is taking shorthand, English, speech, chemistry and PE. Lois said she wouldn't commit herself by telling her favorite teacher since it is too near graduation.

Chocolate cake with chocolate filling is her choice "filler". Blue and yellow bring a gleam of delight to her eyes. She's always saying "holy cow" for no apparent reason.

Lois plans to attend Hardin-Simmons College in Abilene, to study the teaching profession.

Cast Is Named For Senior's Production

Charles Harrington, Evangeline Theis, Buddy Norton, and Jane Hardison have the leading roles in the Senior play, "Double Exposure," which is scheduled for production Friday night, May 9, at 8:15. The play is under the direction of Miss Verna Harris and Betty Hays, student director.

Others in the cast include: Bonnie Robertson as Genevieve Hobart, Evelyn Wemple as Marian Wylie, Alma Faye Cowden as Ginny Gates, Jean Tuma as Cris Crenshaw, La Moyne Tabor as Sarah Crenshaw, Joe Birdwell as Dr. Markham P. Carruthers, Bobby Drake as Mr. Hoisington, Dorothy Jean King as Norma Slater, Bobby Cole as Tate Smithers.

"Double Exposure" is a three-act comedy by Charles Quimby Burdette. The story centers around the troubles of Mark Carruthers (Charles Harrington) when he is left in charge of his uncle's psychiatric clinic. While Mark is in charge of the clinic, he meets one of his old school chums, Curt (Buddy Norton) who is the leader of a band of summer players.

Curt's theater is in debt, so he and his players pose as psychiatrist and clients. In short time, Mrs. Hoisington (Jane Hardison), a wealthy Boston patron, comes for treatment, supposing Mark to be the real Dr. Carruthers. From then on, well, you can imagine the excitement which takes place.

Seniors are in charge of selling tickets, priced at 50 cents for the evening performance.

Those working on sets include Gilbert Sevier, Dean Cox, and Jack Cox. Gordon Reigle, Rebecca Watford, Jeannine Traversie, Barbara Bradshaw, and Frances Gibbins are in charge of make-up.

Ushers are Lois Dee Eiland, Donna Mae Kelly, Margaret Dougherty, Billie Pigg, and Wolfe is in charge of the lights.

'I'm A Fool' Is Shown Before Large Audience

The one-act play, "I'm a Fool", under the direction of Miss Verna Harris, was presented in the Midland High School Auditorium Tuesday night. The cast left Thursday for Austin where they competed for high school state title. Over $128.35 was made on admission prices for the play. This was used to finance the expenses of those going to the state meet.

Bob Short has the leading roll in the play. The supporting cast includes Fred McMurray, Donald Droppleman, Jim FitzGerald, Sarah Lou Link, Evangeline Theis, Maurene Denton, and Mary Lee Cowden.

Preceding the stage production, the high school band played a few numbers which they played at the meet in Odessa this weekend.

H. N. Lawhon, band director, said he had members in the band that had been playing for only three months. All band members wore the new uniforms.

Concluding the program were several numbers sung by the A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Don Moore. The choir sang, "Rain and the River"; Fred Warring's arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers"; "My God and I", and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You".

SENIORS WILL BE HONORED WITH DANCE ON MAY 17

The Council will sponsor a program. Candy and cold drinks will be sold.

The dance will conclude a semester of regular Saturday night activities. The Council, however, has plans for a "Catoico Party" when the yearbooks arrive.

ATTENTION SENIORS

The caps and gowns will be in on May 14, Miss Evelyn Pyle, secretary, announced Wednesday.

The gowns will be royal blue with white collars.

The invitations have not arrived to date, but are expected to be in sometime in the middle of May, she added.

Thanks to several directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and to the Chamber of Commerce itself, a program for the bringing of better hogs into the county has been financed. The program calls for the purchase of five registered gilts and one registered boar to be placed with club boys in Midland County. These boys will care for the hogs and will give the top gilt out of their gilt's first litter to the Chamber of Commerce who in turn will give five more club boys a start in the hog business.

Moisture conditions in the Midland area are only fair at this time. The subsoil moisture is holding up pretty well, but the top moisture has just about gone due to excessive winds. Many farmers who had their land bedded will have to bed over and those that did not plant early are waiting for much needed rain. Range land in general is beginning to show the effect of a lack of moisture.

Most calves and lambs of this area have been contracted at good prices. Lambs have run from 14.50 to 17 cents while some high quality feeder calves in small lots have brought as much as 20 cents. Stocker ewes and cows continue to be scarce.

Eighty Girls Take Part In 'Gymboree' Program

In a preview of the Gymboree held Friday night, May 2, in the high school gymnasium, about 80 girls participated in the demonstration of ring games, tap routines, and tumbling acts. The girls are in Mrs. Inez Cheatham's physical education classes and this is the climax of 12 weeks' training.

In the ring games, Enid Wheeler and Jean MacMillian portrayed an old-fashioned couple turning modernistic. Dovie Wallace clowned the tumbling acts.

About 150 Midland students and around 50 out-of-town visitors participated in the Gymboree, whose purpose was to exhibit accomplishments of members of the physical education department. The visitors demonstrated Mexican folk games, trick roping, and tumbling.

A team made up of Charles Spivey, Bill Hamilton, Robert Hunter, and Roy Frazier defeated Dewie Kirby, Don Bizzell, Benny Stanley and John Livingston in an exhibit of rope climbing relay in 6.6 seconds. A like team including Dunny Goode, Bobby Drake, Wendall Jackson, and Burt Scrivner defeated Merritt, T. A. Devore, Blackman, and Jack Cox in 7.0 seconds. The boys climbed a 25-foot rope.

"The Gymboree will become an annual affair, if it is accepted with a relative amount of interest," Mrs. Cheatham said.

Elementary Field Day Goes Over In Big Way

"Clear the track," boomed a loud voice over the portable public address system at Lackey Field Monday afternoon when elementary schools held their field day. The stands were filled with hundreds of yelling spectators, urging on their favorite team.

Does this sound just like any other run of the mill track meet? You're wrong; it differed in two important respects. First, the spectators and contestants were of elementary school age; and second, the judges, timers and officials were all from the Midland High School track team.

At the official's stand on the field was Bob Cole, 440-yard dash man, directing operations with the public address system. "Miler" Harold Barber was tallying the results as they were brought in. Dewie Kirby, hurdler, acted as starter; and Gilbert Sevier, Bob Drake, Thomas Friday, and Dunny Goode acted as timers.

In one corner running off the broad jump were Larry Messersmith and Don Whigham, who went to state this year in the vault.

Other tracksters lending a hand here and there were Robert Sutton, Billy Wolfe, Billy Velvin and Bill Little.

Echoing Halls

Monday—We started the old grind again.

Tuesday—The high school band entertained with a program in assembly.

Wednesday—The seniors met to decide about the Senior Day activities and make plans for the senior trip.

Thursday—The girl's PE department gave an assembly featuring pioneer folk games and tumbling.

Friday—The band left for Odessa to participate in a district band contest. Interscholastic League winners left for Austin to witness the championship events.

STUDENTS APPLY FOR FORENSIC MEMBERSHIP

A group of students, active in literary events in Midland High School, have sent in their applications for life membership in the National Forensic League, Miss Josephine Weaver said Friday. This will be the first Forensic League charter applied for in Midland High School.

The only qualification for membership in this organization is that each qualifying student must have at least 20 points. These points are determined by the number of literary events in which the students participate. This group of students is composed of debaters, declamation speakers, and extemporaneous speakers.

The debaters qualifying are Buddy Norton, David Dickenson, Maurine Denton, Evelyn Wemple, Jeannine Stephens, and Jane Hardison.

Eligible declaimers are Jimmy McGraw, Mona McGraw, Donna Manning, and Peggy Lou Whitson. The only extemporaneous speaker is Bill Hamilton.

Crazy People

By JEANNINE STEPHENS

It is a disgrace how the average American citizen gets rooked on merchandise!

I would like to point out to you a few of the more obvious schemes to catch the public's eye—period. Here, also, are some suggestions which I hope will alleviate the situation somewhat!

Let's begin by taking a quick look at the standard 10-inch victrola record. The recording companies promise you a minimum of three minutes of music per record, but have you ever stopped to think that if someone filled up the holes in the records you would get not only three minutes but also an additional 30 seconds? Now, a loss of 30 seconds may not sound like much, but suppose some jerk decided to make the holes larger? Just to show you what a kind and generous person I am, I shall introduce a new product to the market in just a few days called Stephens' Record Middles.

Speaking of heartless things, what about macaroni? The poor housewife spends endless hours shopping for food. Imagine her dismay when she discovers that her macaroni is filled with space. After much experimentation, I have discovered an amazing solution to the housewife's problem. Ladies, next time you're out in your garden, clear off a plot of land about four feet square, and plant holes in it. Then the next time you cook macaroni, dash out to the garden, gather up a few holes, and presto your product is complete.

The same problem arises with doughnuts. In the future when you're frying doughnuts, use two skillets simultaneously. This method enables you to fry doughnuts and doughnut-centers at the same time.

If, by following these suggestions, you should encounter difficulty, contact me immediately. I will send to you my personal recipe for Stephens' Middles.

Girls' Choral Club In Region Eight Contest

The Midland High School Girls' Choral Club, under the direction of Dan Moore, left Friday to enter the Region Eight Contest in Odessa.

The girls, attired in black dresses with white squares, presented three numbers, accompanied by Lynna Dell Moore. The numbers were "Trees," arranged by Victor Harris; "Just a-Wearyin' For You," by Carrie Jacobs-Bond, and "Music When Soft Voices Die" by Percy Bysshe Shelley.

Soloists from Midland were Ruth Hall, who sang "The Holy City," by Stephen Adams, and Eddie Jo Brian, who sang "My Hero," from Chocolate Soldier, with music by Oscar Straus.

Lynna Dell Moore, piano soloist, played "Rondo Capriccioso" by Mendelssohn.

TUESDAY ASSEMBLY HEARS BULLDOG BAND CONCERT

The Midland High School Band, under the direction of H. N. Lawhon, presented 30 minutes of band music in assembly Tuesday.

The contest numbers, "Cosmopolite" and "The Prince and the Pauper", featured a cornet solo by John Torbett.

Other numbers included "Indian Boy", "Activity", and "Show Boy".

A novelty number, "Shortenin' Bread", featured Jerry Roberts, W. L. Thompson, John Torbett and Pat Flanigan.

It Takes Lots Of Hither And Yon Gadding To Get Dope In Washington

By SIGRID ARNE

WASHINGTON—If you know where to ask, in Washington you can find the answer to almost any question. But the "know-where" covers an awful lot of ground.

Take the simple question, "How much American money is being spent for and in other countries?" The question is an important one right now because of jumping prices here at home. The sums being spent for foreigners may be adding to the price spiral, and it may be that there is some point at which the loans and gifts should be snuffed off just to keep home prices on an even keel.

But no single government department has a complete answer to the question. It takes an afternoon of phoning to get an approximation, and then you emerge with a total that never quite tallies with other totals.

Many Items

You phone the Treasury and the Export-Import Bank on loans; UNRRA on relief to Allies and the Army on relief to the enemy nations where we have occupation forces; the War Assets Administration on surplus property we're transferring to other nations; the U. S. Maritime Commission on transfer of ships; the Treasury on Lend-Lease settlements and aid to the Philippines.

You carry in your own mind that Congress is talking about $400,000,000 for Greece and $350,000,000 for general foreign relief.

Then there is a long series of expenditures for the United Nations and its agencies. Even the State Department doesn't have them down in one column.

There is the cost of the United Nations, itself. But what is expected in any single year for the World Health Organization, the International Trade Organization, the International Refugee Organization, the International Children's Emergency Fund, the International Bank, the International Fund, the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Orgganization?

Not Definite Figure

At that point you have something vaguely between $16,000,000,000 and $19,000,000,000. But it's not a "hard and fast" figure, as "we statisticians" say.

Suppose you want to know what occupation is costing the country in Germany, Austria, Japan, Korea. There are two major subheads, the cost of keeping American troops there and the cost of handing out relief to the people. The Budget Bureau ought to know that. Somebody over there says he'll call you back, and after a few hours he does. He says it's $556,000,000 for the fiscal year 1947. Where did he get it? He phoned the War Department. He doesn't have it broken down for the four occupation areas, but he has the name of a man who could get that.

Suppose you want to know whether people's wages are keeping pace with the rising prices or the other way around.

Earnings Uncertain

The federal government never did get together on people's earnings. For city workers and manufacturing workers the Labor Department knows the answers. For farmers the Agriculture Department does. But Agriculture seldom has such recent figures as Labor.

Then to confuse things further the Department of Commerce is the recognized authority for the amount of the national income. But the Department of Agriculture gets another figure. It says the Commerce men don't charge off the rent of farmers' homes in farm income and oddments like that.

So you have to become a mite arbitrary about the answers. Nobody ever argues with you over the results, because nowhere is there an up-to-date over-all government answer.

Facsimile Foursome

'Kill Ump' Attitude Is Surging At New Highs

AP Newsfeatures

FORT WORTH—War's hangover is making it tough on officiating and the result is that getting competent basketball referees is going to be a problem, observes Herman Clark, athletic director of Fort Worth schools.

"I have been informed by most of the fellows who worked our basketball games last season," says Clark, "that they will not be available next year. I can't blame them."

The amazing thing is that the kill-the-umps attitude is becoming widespread among the younger students and parents.

"I believe it's the hangover from the war," Clark says. "It's winning hysteria. It's reached the point where we believe our side can do no wrong—and if it loses somebody else is to blame. I think we should conduct a campaign in the schools on good sportsmanship. I don't know what else."

During the war American soldiers were taught that they must forget all that fair-play business on which they were raised and concentrate on killing—on winning—any way possible, Clark says, adding:

"Maybe too many of the youngsters took the lesson to heart and brought it home with them."

Cooperation Of Workers, Management Needed

PORTLAND, MAINE—(AP)—Laurence F. Whittemore, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, said recently that American railroads needed early agreement of railroad management and labor and a new federal transportation act according to railroads' "equality of opportunity" with competitive carriers.

"It is going to be necessary sometime soon for railroad management and railroad labor to get together and do a little unselfish arranging for the benefit of the industry," Whittemore said in a speech prepared for the New England Shippers Advisory Board Maine and New Hampshire division.

Asserting he believed railroad workers and managers alike were interested in a fair day's pay for a fair day's work, Whittemore said that "on the other hand, the so-called 'featherbed' rules, in existence on many railroads, cannot last if the companies are to succeed in escaping public ownership."

Whittemore said the future of American free enterprise depended in important measure on the public's attitude toward railroads and how management went about seeking freedom of competition.

"It seems to me imperative that Congress should immediately begin once more the formulation of a thoroughgoing transportation act," Whittemore said. "Such an act . . . at least seek equality of opportunity among the various types of transportation."

"The public must be brought to realize," Whittemore said, "that every dollar of money which any transportation company . . . gets, comes from the public.

"If by reason of improper regulation or the lack of equal opportunity, or wasteful duplication, that total bill is higher than it ought to be, the public pays."

A new transportation act, Whittemore said, ought to recognize that the railroads "no longer have the same type of monopoly they originally had" and provide for a study to highway costs by a disinterested party to enable states to give railroads fair opportunity if they are not already getting it.

Whittemore said the railroads also had further economies to effect and improvements in service to bring about.

"I am not afraid of the future of the railroad industry," he said, "if such steps are taken. . ."

Umpire Red Jones Loses 29 Pounds In 25 Games

NEW YORK—(AP)—Nicholas (Red) Jones, popular 42-year-old American League umpire from Charlotte, N. C., is back at his best "umpiring weight" at 229 pounds.

Red says he lost 29 pounds while umpiring 35 exhibition games in Florida during the Spring training season.

Jones, who last July tossed 14 Chicago White Sox players from the bench in a game at Boston, has been umpiring in the junior circuit since 1944. He began his career in the South Atlantic League in 1936.

Pennsylvania Union Bars Communists

HARRISBURG, PA.—(AP)—The CIO-Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council voted overwhelmingly to bar Communists from holding office in its organization.

Approximately 800 delegates representing 600,000 Keystone State CIO members adopted a resolution at the closing session of the council's tenth annual convention barring all persons "who advocate and/or support totalitarian forms of government" from holding office in the council.

T. J. Fitzpatrick of Pittsburgh, president of District 6, United Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers, led the fight against passage of the resolution, charging it was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

City Governments Are Successful In Getting Homestead Exemption Killed In Texas House Committee

By DAVE CHEAVENS
(Associated Press Staff)

AUSTIN—(AP)—City governments, hard-pressed for revenues, breathed a deep sigh of relief recently when the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments killed a proposal extending homestead tax exemptions to local levies.

Proponents of the proposed constitutional amendment argued that the same things were said years ago when homesteads up to $3,000 in valuation were exempt from state taxes. They said the state government's financial set-up was only slightly affected when the voters adopted this amendment to the constitution in 1933.

Got to Have Money

The city officials retorted that they might make up some of the deficit by adding such service charges as garbage collection fees, but that the money to run municipal governments "must come from somewhere."

Proponents of the plan admitted that their amendment was dead for this session. They predicted it would be revived and ultimately the Legislature would come around to submitting it to a vote of the people.

By Reps William A. Miller and Searcy Bracewell of Houston, the proposed constitutional amendment would have exempted $3,000 of the assessed taxable value "of all residence homesteads . . . occupied by the owners or his or her dependents . . . from all county, city, school district, drainage district, water district or other local taxation districts."

FEDERAL CONTROL ISSUE RAISED AS SOLONS PONDER SCHOOL HELP

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Educators seem to agree, almost unanimously, that Federal aid is so badly needed by the nation's schools that we should risk any danger of federal control.

That position is taken by most experts who appear before Congressional committees that are considering the Taft, the Aiken and the Green-McGrath bills. The powerful National Education Association, with a membership of 775,000 teachers, agrees.

But there is much difference of opinion as to how much danger of Federal interference is inherent in each of the three bills.

As between the first two, which have most support, experts feel that the Taft bill offers least possibility of Federal control creeping in. It would force a greater state supervision over local school systems, and many local authorities fear that this is a first step in taking control away from home.

Southerners, in particular, are skeptical about the provision that local school administrators must establish certain accounting procedures and teaching standards, and would require Southern states to spend more for educating Negro children. They do not question that more should be spent that way, but they dislike having Washington stick a toe into even one door to the ticklish racial problem.

On the other hand, the National Education Association and others charge that the Aiken bill has a number of gimicks that would open the door to Federal intervention in state and local school matters. In particular they cite Section 105:

"No department, agency, officer, or employe of the United States shall exercise any direction, supervision, or control over the personnel, curriculum, or program of instruction of any school or school system to which funds have been allotted or paid under this act."

The association claims that this prohibition is meaningless unless is protects also "administration" against "direction, supervision or control," and says that "administration" was omitted deliberately.

The Aiken bill also permits the Federal government to audit local school accounts. Section 103 (6) requires that the state legislature must provide that the state's educational authority shall submit to the head of the U. S. Office of Education (in the Federal Security Agency) "such reports in such form and containing such information as he may reasonably require."

It is contended that this would give Washington a powerful left-handed weapon to enforce its ideas on the local schools.

But in spite of such worries on the part of the Association, many prominent educators would prefer the Aiken bill to Senator Taft's. It would provide much more money, they feel, and would be easier to administer.

Taft, who tried to protect local independence as much as possible in his bill, points out that any Federal aid measures does raise such questions.

"Our experience has shown that Federal aid to local activities, even though disowning an intention to regulate and control, may easily bring about such control," he says.

"If Federal aid depends upon the discretion of some Federal officer who has the power to withhold funds, human nature is such that he is apparently under a constant temptation to tell the recipients of the money how they must run their affairs."

They are comforted somewhat by experience in connection with previous Federal aid, which has been confined to colleges and to such specialties as vocational and agricultural training, and school lunch programs.

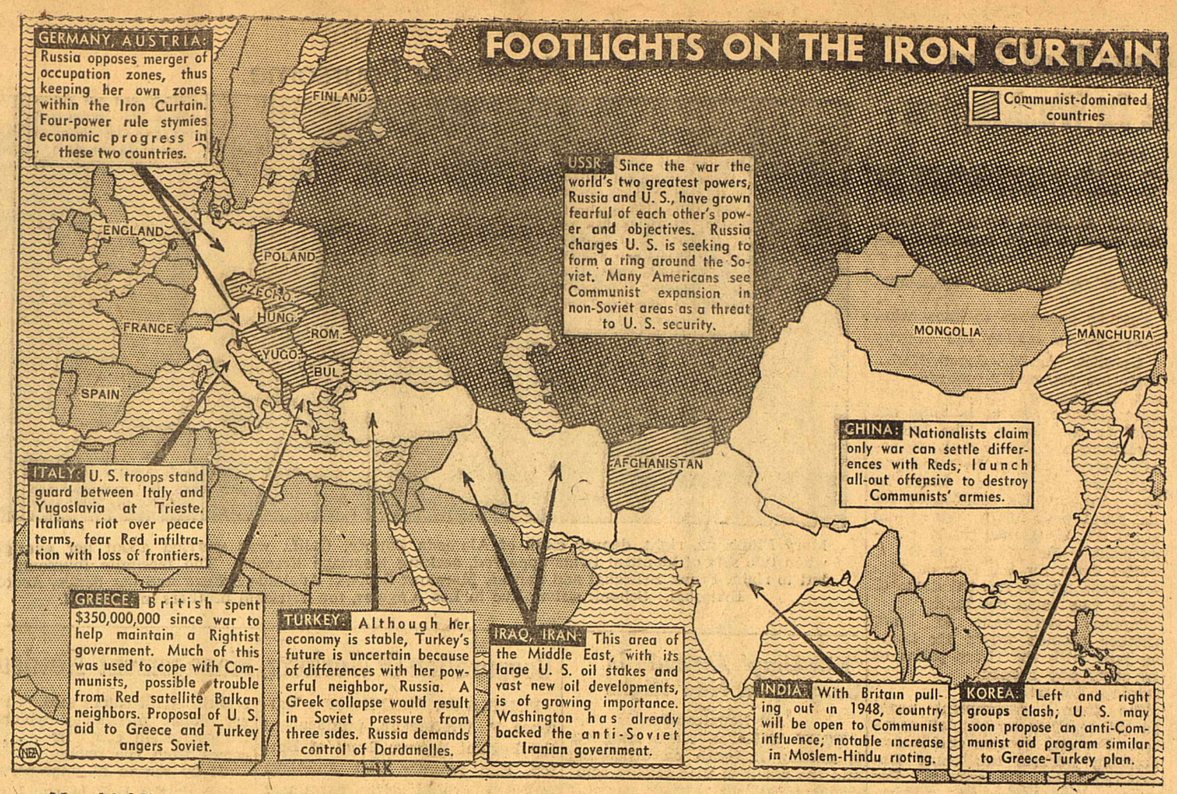

It was the shocking illiteracy uncovered by the World War I draft that first argued the need of Federal aid to states unable to provide decent education for their children.

The AFL contended that Federal aid could be kept clear of Federal control. For 30 years the labor organization has pressed its fight. It now has educators convinced enough so that they are willing to try the gamble. But they do so with misgivings.

How Much Federal Control?

Federal aid to schools is now confined to such specialties as school lunch programs, which provide the milk this child is drinking. Educators are torn between need for aid and fear of Federal control.

About Ducks And One Rabbit; You Do Not Have To Believe It

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Ike Kibbe of Brownsville swears this is true. In fact, we have it in writing, with his signature down at the bottom.

He and his brother were hunting ducks. Decoys were out and the hunters were all set for the kill. But the ducks were flying high, wide and handsome that day, he says, and they wouldn't decoy.

One bunch flew in rather low over their boat, so Kibbe shot at them. He winged one, which fell out of formation.

Then, says Kibbe—in writing—it happened.

"Two other ducks flew up, one on each side of the injured duck, and each took a wing. They carried him along with the others, and did not fall behind.

"We just stood there and watched them until they were out of sight."

If anybody sees Harvey, Rockport's beer-drinking Easter rabbit, tell him to come home. All is forgiven.

Jack Blackwell, Rockport photographer and former editor-mayor, bought Harvey as an Easter present for his son Glenn. Not long after that, he caught Harvey wrestling with a partly empty beer bottle. Just to see what the rabbit would do, Blackwell poured some beer into a platter for him to sniff.

Instead, Harvey took a sniffer. He liked the stuff. Just like in the story, it made Harvey, brave. He picked up a neighborhood dog as a playmate. He got by with it, because the dog was as young and inexperienced as Harvey.

It amused the neighbors, and they began to slip Harvey some beer now and then. He always drank appreciatively.

But one night Harvey didn't come home. Blackwell thinks maybe he picked the wrong dog somewhere.

Harvey has white fur, long ears, pink eyes and four legs. The legs may be wobbly. But if you see him tell him to come home. A friend said he had a bottle of beer on ice for him. You might mention that.

Henry VIII Mansion Is Open To Public's Gaze

LONDON—(AP)—Tourists and holidaymakers in Britain wander through one of the oldest mansions in the country — Knole — where Henry VIII once retired for weekends. The four-acre building of ochre stone, rambling round courts and quadrangles, topped by clusters of ornate Tudor chimneys, now belongs to the people of Britain through the National Trust.

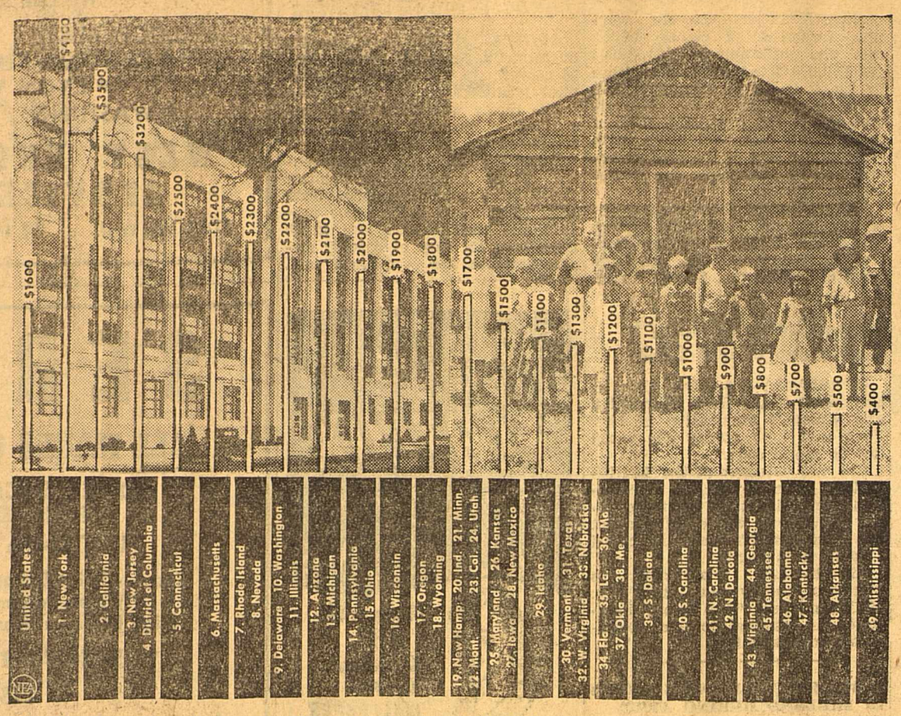

Little more than half an hour from London, it has 365 rooms and 52 staircases, a mile-long driveway and six centuries of history under its roof. Pictures and furnishings are so valuable that nightwatchmen have special permits to carry guns. In the King's Room there is a bed built for James I hung with cloth of gold.

BRAZIL'S CENSUS

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Brazil's present population is 46,200,000, according to statistics just released by the Bank of Brazil on the basis of a recent survey. The same figures say that the nation's density is only five persons to the square mile. (Parts of Europe have a density of several hundred to the square square mile.)

Rain, falling straight down, will not fill an exposed receptacle any more quickly than rain falling at an agle.

Should Uncle Sam Rescue America's Schools?

Graphic illustration of the wide differences in what individual states spend each year for the average classroom unit of 25 to 30 pupils is shown on the photo-chart above. The average for all states is $1600.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Should the Federal Treasury rescue American schools from a desperate situation?

Parents, educators and others are telling Congress that some states—and many communities—cannot pay for the kind of education that every Amercian child, as a future citizen, should be given.

Three bills to provide Federal aid have been introduced in the Senate. The Education committees of both houses are holding hearings. They are being told that, for the sake of the nation's future, we must abandon the old idea that states and local communities should finance education without Federal assistance.

Mississippi and California are being cited as examples of the worst and the best that is being done now.

Mississippi is spending only $400 a year on the average classroom of 25 to 30 pupils. The national average is $1600. Some New York communities spend as much as $4000.

Mississippi children go to school in churches, abandoned shacks, cotton houses temporarily not needed for storage. In most districts they study only the Three R's, and never hear of such subjects as physical education, hygiene, music, art, which have become standard in many school systems.

Yet even under such conditions, and at such low outlay per pupil, one Mississippi child out of every four does not get to school at all.

The average Mississippi teacher is paid $15.47 a week. The national average is $37.02 and New York pays an average of $59.96.

As a result, Congress is being told, many Mississippi rural and village schools are taught by teachers who never went beyond the freshmen year in high school. College trained men and women, seldom teach in the state.

Teacher turnover is very high. In Jackson, the state capital, replacements are having to be found three times as fast now as a few years ago. It is almost impossible to get young ones. Seventy-four of Jackson's 210 white teachers are over 70 and another 61 are over 60 years old. Only 35 are under 30 years.

In Mississippi, school keeps less than eight months a year, and the average pupil attends only three or four days a week.

California is at the other end of the scale. Its schools are described as being among the country's best. The minimum pay for teachers was raised recently to $2400 a year The average is between $3000 and $3500—contrasted with $850 in Mississippi. No California pupil, it is said, studies under a substandard teacher.

Yet California spends only 1.31 per cent of its total income on education. And Mississippi in 1944 spent 1.64 per cent of its income on schools, which is above the national average of 1.53 per cent.

California, with its high pay scale and widely-praised school system, still is short 5000 teachers. And while its buildings are mostly in good condition—modern, with gymnasia and laboratories, shops and auditoriums—they are over crowded, and there are not enough rural schools.

These facts are being cited to the Congressional committees as proof that the states no longer can carry the burden of financing grade school education.

California is a wealthy state. She has established a superior system by using only 1.31 cents out of every dollar of income. But Mississippi is a poor state, and even by spending an abnormally large proportion of income she cannot pay for even a passable school system.

It isn't, Congress is told, that Mississippi doesn't want good schools, or doesn't try. It is that her per capita income is the lowest in the country, and her people just do not have the money.

If rich California should spend $3,000,000 more to provide facilities for its children, what can Mississippi do without assistance? And what can other states, little less poor than Mississippi, do?

On the basis of such facts and such arguments as these, Congress is being asked to come to the rescue of the schools in the poorer states and help them to offer a reasonably sound education to all of the states' children.

One Of World's Great Wrongs Can Be Righted

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the world's most terrible wrongs will be righted in some small measure if the projected constitution for an independent India abolishes the doctrine of untouchability as has been voted by the constituent assembly.

The untouchables are the lowly folk who are outside the four classes of the Hindu caste system and have been condemned to live as outcasts. They are called untouchables because their very presence is supposed to defile their superiors, and their plight is little better than that of those other pariahs—the wild Indian dogs who by day skulk outside the villages and by night run howling through the alleys in search of food with which to fill their gaunt bellies. Indeed the dog is the more fortunate, for he escapes the mental suffering of these human outcasts.

There are some 60,000,000 Untouchables—about one fifth the entire Hindu population—whose only sin is that they were born outside the pale. God made them in the form of other men, but the caste system for hundreds of years has challenged the wisdom of the Almighty.

Not being restrained by this law of untouchability, your correspondent has risked his standing in society by visiting the settlements of outcasts attached to some of India's 700,000 villages. Yes, there are that many, unbelievable though it seems.

I found the untouchables a friendly, kindly folk who were filled with wonder at my descent to the depths.

The pumpkin blossom holds the place in legends of the southwestern Indian that the lotus holds in Oriental lore.

Last Year's Cotton Crop 2nd Smallest On Record Since 1896

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Final official reports showed this week that last year's cotton crop totaled 8,640,000 bales (of 500 pounds gross), the second smallest since 1896.

This figure, given by the Agriculture Department, is based on final ginnings as reported by the Census Bureau.

Production in 1945 was 5,015,000 bales and the 1935-44 average is 12,553,000 bales. The smallest crop since 1896 was 7,945,000 bales in 1921. The record is 19,946,000 bales in 1937.

The value of the 1946 crop of lint cotton, calculated at the season average price in cotton sold before April 1, was put at $1,403,711,000, the highest since 1925. This is $573,492,000 greater than the 10-year average despite the fact that last year's production was 3,913,000 bales below average.

Lint Price Up

The department estimated the price received for lint cotton from the 1946 crop sold before April 1 averaged 32.6 cents a pound, this being 10.1 cents above the average for the 1945 season and 19 cents above the 10-year average.

The production of cottonseed was estimated at 3,513,000 tons compared with 3,664,000 in 1945.

The value of the seed was placed at $252,632,000, compared with $187,155,000 for the 1945 crop. The department said that the average price received for cottonseed was $72 a ton.

Cotton in cultivation last July 1 totaled 18,190,000 acres, or 3.6 per cent more than on the corresponding date in 1945. Abandonment of acreage and cultivation on July 1 amounted to 3.2 per cent, leaving 17,615,000 acres harvested. With the exception of 1945, this is the smallest harvested acreage since 1884. It compares with 17,059,000 in 1945 and the 10-year average of 24,890,000 acres.

The department said bad weather and severe weevil damage caused heavy abandonment of acreage in Mississippi and Louisiana and above average abandonment in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Alabama.

The yield of lint cotton per harvested acre was reported at 235.3 pounds compared with 253.6 in 1945.

TYPED

Among the white people of the United States, there are 3,400,000 redheads, 7,000,000 blonds, 54,000,000 of medium dark coloring, and 44,000,000 brunets.

First Thousand Nights Are Hardest In Life Of Hotel Room Sleeper

By HAL BOYLE

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (AP) — Tonight—I figure—is the thousandth night I have slept in a hotel room.

It is a memorable occasion to me. But hotel owners of America have ignored its significance completely. No beaming management waits outside in the corridor to surprise me with a cheery basket of fresh plucked rosebuds or a gleaming cake with a thousand candles.

No. I am celebrating this historic milestone all alone. The maid even forgot to dust off the gideon Bible.

I am putting myself to sleep not by counting sheep—I detest mutton even with its clothes on—but by thinking back on all the hotel rooms I have known. The first thousand beds are the hardest, I hope.

I have slept in hotels in 51 countries and 17 American states. In about 27 cases a room was obtained merely by going up to the desk and registering. I forget just when this strategy last worked.

I feel now though that with the possible exception of the Martha Washington Hotel in Manhattan — which caters exclusively to the girdle trade — I could somehow get into any hotel in the world. And without paying a bribe or putting on a white beard and pretending to be former Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes.

Hotels are full of rooms. The desk clerks don't really want to keep you out. They just want to be sure you appreciate how lucky and grateful you are if you get to spend a night in their gentle custody.

The best run hotels are in Switzerland. But they give you an uneasy sense of feeling welcome. The worst hotels are in the Balkans whose beds hold more kinds of small game than the neighboring countryside. With a flashlight and flit gun you can spend a wonderful night hunting—and scratching.

In Chinese hotels the peddlers wake you up before dawn to try to sell you an ivory trinket, a pair of seedy silk pajamas or a jade-encrusted blackjack. In India you can have two servants—one to put on your right shoe, one the left. A third servant draws your tub. A fourth cleans it.

Chambermaids in all countries have one vice in common. No matter where you hide your slippers they always find them and pole them with a broomhandle as far under the bed as they will go. It is their way of getting even with the world.

Live Coyote Helps To Catch Red Wolf Killer

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—A renegade red wolf of Menard County, charged with killing sheep and goats valued at $10,000, finally put its foot into a trap set by government hunter Beechly late in March, the federal fish and wildlife service reported.

C. R. Landon, district agent, reported that the wolf which had been operating in the Menard County vicinity for four or five years had become wise to the coyote-getter or booby trap, and was finally caught through use of a live coyote decoy named Oscar.

Oscar was a pet coyote raised by government hunter O'Bannion, Landon related in his quarterly report. Oscar was staked out in a pasture where the wily renegade was known to run, and steel traps set around him.

The trick worked and the red wolf was caught.

'Donkey Of Capri' Has Journey Through Years

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Twelve years ago Composer Charles Miller, Philadelphia orchestra violinist, wrote a cello piece, "The Little Donkey of Capri," in musical tribute to the diminutive breed of donkeys on the island.

Miller gave it to a cellist who went off to fight in the Spanish Civil War and the piece was forgotten until the recent day Miller saw "The Little Donkey" listed among numbers to be played by Philadelphia orchestra cellist Paul Olefsky.

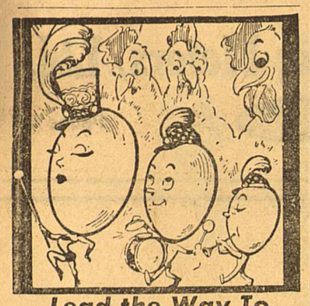

Miller found Olefsky backstage at the Academy of Music and demanded, "where did you get that piece?"

"It was among the effects of my father's best friend, Mark Bruno. . . . Are you related to the composer?" Olefsky asked.

"I am the composer, but I've never heard the number," Miller answered.

So, amid stacked chairs, rolled scenery and instrument trunks, Olefsky sat down and played the composition Miller had written but never heard.

West Texas Flying Service To Add New Instructors Course

The West Texas Flying Service, located at the Sky Haven Airport on East Highway 80, has received approval from the CAA and the Veterans' Administration to conduct an Instructors Flight Course at its school here.

The new course will enable pilots having private and commercial licenses to obtain ratings as instructors.

Construction of additional building space to handle the new course has been completed at the airport. The course requires 25 to 32 hours of flying plus ground school work. A. A. (Jack) Shelton, Dwight W. Fleming and Joe T. Henderson will be the instructors. Henderson is a pilot examiner.

Complete Instructions

Piper and Stinson airplanes will be used in the course of instruction.

The school, already equipped to give training for private and commercial licenses, now may give complete flying instructions.

Veterans may take their training at government expense, and non-veterans may take identical courses at a moderate fee, owners of the school said.

Henderson also announced delivery of the first Stinson Station Wagon plane in this area to Harris Eastham of Midland. This type ship now is being equipped with a 165-horsepower Franklin engine, and with a new baggage compartment in the fuselage. The plane has a load capacity of a pilot and 552-cargo pounds, or a pilot, one passenger, and 382 cargo pounds.

JSF Ranch House Observing First Anniversary Here

The JSF Ranch House, one of the Southwest's finest and most distinctive restaurants, this week is observing its first anniversary in Midland. The firm had its grand opening May 8, 1946.

The restaurant's owners, A. A. (Poosty) Jones, L. M. Freels, Eddie Simms and J. H. Wallace, said Saturday the firm's business the first year has been even better than anticipated. They expressed appreciation to friends and customers of Midland and the entire Permian Basin for their generous patronage.

The firm is located about a mile and a quarter from the downtown business district on West Highway 80. The building is the rambling style typical of West Texas ranch houses, although it is modernistically designed to provide convenience and ample space at the same time.

Attractively Decorated

Inside walls are knotty pine with a light finish. The building is divided into three sections—dining room, club room and kitchen. More than 200 persons may be seated and served at one time. Murals and scenes of ranch activities on the walls add to the Western effect.

The restaurant is known far and wide for its atmosphere, courteous attention and for its delicious and tempting foods. In addition to its Midland customers, the firm enjoys the patronage of citizens from over the vast Permian Basin area who return again and again to patronize the Midland establishment. The restaurant also has many customers and friends who travel up and down U. S. Highway 80, the owners said.

Many improvements have been made and much new equipment has been added during the last year.

The spacious Ranch House kitchen is said to be one of the most modern and best equipped in the Southwest.

The cooks who prepare the delicious foods are Frank Reynosa, H. R. (Curly) Solomon, Robert L. Wallace, Jack Parmley and George Torcea.

The owners said continued improvements are planned, and everything possible will be done to give even better service and to provide even better foods in the years ahead.

Hogg Group Official Criticizes World Code

CORSICANA—(AP)—Mrs. Alice Y. McConnell of the Hogg Foundation and Woman's Foundation of New York said here "today the world has no moral code."

She told delegates of the Twelfth District Parents-Teachers Association convention that the world today is "a world where children act like their parents and are called juvenile delinquents."

"Youth-adult relationship is something money can't buy," Mrs. McConnell said. "The family institution is essential to our democratic government."

The report was based on an inventory of hospital facilities just completed by the department.

Based on the latest federal census, Texas needs approximately 12,000 more general hospital beds, 3,600 tuberculosis beds, 16,000 nervous and mental beds, and 12,000 more beds for care of chronic disease patients, the department said.

Women Of U.S. Observe HD Week

Midland HD Members To Join Observance

Members of the home demonstration clubs of Midland County will join other clubs of the nation in observance of National Home Demonstration Week May 4-10. Special programs, teas and exhibits are among the events scheduled during the week. On display in Midland homes and in the assembly room of the Midland County Courthouse will be improvements and other concrete evidences of progress in the application of science to homemaking.

Midland women will be hostesses to the District Six Texas Home Demonstration Association Thursday. To the city on that day will come women from El Paso, Culberson, Loving, Andrews, Ector, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Brewster, Terrell, Crockett, Crane and Glasscock counties.

An exhibit of toys and educational books for juveniles will be set up in the assembly room of the courthouse by members of the County Demonstration Council.

For its observance of the week, the Busy Wives Club will bring books and magazines for the new negro library to the club meeting. The group also will make a quilt for Higgins, Texas.

The Valley View Club will clean up and paint the community center as a special project during the week. Members will do special cleaning around homes, and will plant flowers in the yards.

The Prairie Lee Home Demonstration club will redecorate the lunch room of the Prairie Lee School, and other Midland clubs will feature progress made in rural family and community living since the home demonstration program was initiated.

Inroads on household drudgery and improvements in community facilities resulting from the program will be displayed through special programs, teas, exhibits and tours during the week.

National Theme To Be Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World

Homes and communities throughout the forty-eight states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico will begin observance of the Second Annual National Home Demonstration Week Sunday. The theme for the 1947 week will be "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

Accent on TOMORROW is the viewpoint America's homemakers will urge the nation to share with them during this week. Emphasis will be on action today for tomorrow's world.

Progress Featured

During the week observance activities will feature progress made in rural family and community living since the home demonstration program was initiated more than 30 years ago. Some three and one-half million women will plan and direct the week's events. Active partners in the events will be extension workers of the 51 land-grant colleges and of the Department of Agriculture..

Home demonstration work is perhaps the world's most far-reaching voluntary on-the-job education program for women. The program is carried into rural homes and communities by approximately 3,000 home demonstration agents, joint employes of the state land-grant colleges and of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They are assisted by half a million rural women serving as unpaid, voluntary leaders.

Since its beginning around the turn of the century, the scope of home demonstration work has been expanded—at the request of rural women—to embrace every phase of rural family life. In today's home demonstration program, rural women continue to study ways and means of forwarding the family's health, comfort, and happiness.

Best Neighbors

Traditionally the best neighbors in the world, rural women during the past year indicated they now consider the whole world as their neighborhood. Texas' home demonstration and 4-H Clubs during 1946 shipped 32,000 articles of clothing, towels and sewing materials to be distributed to Philippine families through the Islands' rural improvement clubs

In the course of their participation in the joint demonstration program, the interests of rural women have advanced far beyond the four walls of their homes. From better homes to better communities has been a logical step.

Demonstration Agent

Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, home demonstration agent for Midland County, recently celebrated the beginning of her third year as the State Extension Service representative in the county. Mrs. Messick came to Midland on March 19, 1945.

Seven HD Agents Have Served In Midland During Nineteen Years Of Organization

During the 19 years that home demonstration work has been organized in Midland County, seven women have served as demonstration agents in helping women of the county improve homelife by new methods of cooking, canning and sewing, which are the goals of home demonstration work.

The county commissioners' court, presided over by County Judge J. E. Hill, hired Genevieve Derryberry as the county's first home demonstration agent. Miss Derryberry served until 1930. She started the HD Council Scholarship Fund to aid 4-H Club girls to continue their educations after graduation from high school. The fund first allowed each girl $30. Now it amounts to $135. Miss Derryberry also sponsored the first county fair. She was instrumental in organizing five clubs with memberships of 50 women each.

Without Agent

Midland County was without an agent from 1930 to 1932 when Myrtle Miller was employed on a part-time basis by five counties in this area. She stressed the field of dress making by using a pattern form, and instructed the women in the making of cheese from surplus milk. Miss Miller served until 1935.

Lura Hollingsworth became full-time county agent in 1935, serving until 1938. Two demonstration clubs, Pleasant Valley and Greasewood, were organized during this time. Miss Hollingsworth sponsored work and demonstrations in bedspread making, wool projects and methods of washing woolen clothes.

Betty Jo Weiger became demonstration agent in June, 1938, but moved to Monahans after her marriage to J. H. Stump in January, 1939. She was succeed by Alpha Lynn in 1939 who continued as demonstration agent until 1944. Miss Lynn worked with the women of the county on cotton mattress projects, cotton and feather comforters and home cheese making.

Present Agent

In May, 1944, Mrs. Dalton Hall was hired, and continued in this position until March, 1945. She created interest in making yeast bread and building recreational projects.

Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, present agent, began her duties in April of 1945. She has been instrumental in developing the county fair, creating the home demonstration council and pushing forward other work designed to bring more happiness to farm women.

Mrs. Mae Sammons Is Oldest Club Member

Mrs. Mae Sammons, a member of the Garden Addition Club which was organized in March, 1945, is the oldest home demonstration club woman in Midland County. She is 73 years old and is a regular attender of all meetings. Mrs. Sammons is chairman of the club's exhibit committee.

Mrs. Florence Baker Of Busy Wives Club Wins First In THDA Theme Writing Contest

Mrs. Florence Arnold Baker, a member of the Valley View Home Demonstration Club of Midland County, won first place in the county theme writing contest sponsored by the Texas Home Demonstration Association. The subject of Mrs. Baker's theme was "A Health Program Suitable For My County." Mrs. O. O. Reid of the Prairie Lee Club placed second with "Social Security For Farm Families."

The theme writing contest was open to all club members of Midland County. The THDA gave the counties a list of subjects on which the women could write. The winning theme will be entered in the district contest and the winner selected when the association has its meeting here Thursday.

Mrs. Baker's Theme:

"The health of the people of the lowest income is a great determining factor in the general health of the entire community. If the little Mexican girl who helps in the kitchen of rich Mrs Smith on Knob Hill has T. B., Mrs. Smith's family is exposed to the same germs, and they are certainly no respector of persons. My county needs to be aroused to the fact that there is a great health problem facing us in the housing, drainage and sewage disposal by the Mexicans, the colored people and much of the South Side. Unsanitary toilets such as are found there, and water that stands for days after a rain, are disease spreaders of the first class.

"My county is certainly in need of a larger hospital. A twenty bed hospital such as ours, does very little toward meeting the needs of our growing town of Midland, which is the county seat of Midland County, much less the surrounding territory which it should, and could, very easily serve. The entire Permian Basin looks to Midland for many things. Why not for a good hospital? This is the particular health problem that the Home Demonstration Council is attempting to help solve. The ladies of this council sponsored the first two meetings to which people interested in better hospitalization were invited. At the last meeting nine temporary directors for building and establishing a co-operative hospital were elected. These ladies further pledged themselves to help in every way possible to aid the directors.

"The health of my county, especially the low income group, will be greatly benefited by such a hospital. It will mean to the struggling farmer, who is trying to pay for his 160 acres, he need not lose that little farm in case he were unfortunate enough to have three or four major operations in his family in the course of a year or so. Ordinarily his doctor bills in such a case would exceed one thousand dollars, whereas, if he were a member of a co-operative hospital each operation would not exceed eighty dollars.

Lifetime Membership

"A lifetime membership fee for a family unit will be seventy-five dollars. This makes the head of the house a stockholder and entitles him to vote in election of directors and on hospital policies. Then the dues for the family group per year are paid according to number in the family. The dues are usually set at twenty-four dollars for a family of two; then four dollars more for each additional member. The membership fee is used for building and equipment, while the yearly dues pay the doctor who gets a stipulated salary by the month.

"The dues, when paid at the fixed time each year, mean to the struggling farmer that his doctor bill is paid for the next twelve months and that he will get a special rate on a hospital room. This will encourage him to take his family in for regular check-ups rather than wait until it is absolutely necessary to consult a doctor. If little Mary droops about and runs a

The Police Force And The Veto

After a year's discussion the UN Military Staff Committee has told the world this much, and only this, about the UN international police force: it will be used only in disputes involving small and medium powers. If disagreement among the great powers should reach the fighting stage it will be settled by the now customary method—devastating world war.

This is not comforting knowledge, and at first thought it might seem to forecast the decline of the United Nations. Yet the Military Staff Committee could scarcely have reached any other conclusion without abandoning realistic considerations. For the existence of the veto power rules out the hopeful conception of an aroused and united world quickly squelching a major aggressor.

The Military Staff Committee's decision stems from the same line of thought which justified inclusion of the veto in the UN Charter at San Francisco. It was argued then that if the five great powers could not agree on a critical decision there would be no hope of peace anyway, so the UN might as well make such decisions dependent on unanimous Big Five action.

The major powers' right of veto, however, is not limited to matters involving themselves. For that reason there is some question whether the international police force, when it is set up, could be ordered to take action even against the majority of disputes involving minor powers.

* * *

Suppose this force was in existence today and border fighting between Greece and her northern neighbors was increasing in extent and intensity. Suppose then the UN Security Council had considered the case, adjudged Greece's neighbors the aggressors, and taken all preliminary steps to end the fighting.

The council might, as a last resort, propose that the international police force be dispatched to disarm the aggressor and restore peace. Does anyone think that Russia would not use her veto to block that step?

* * *

Behind almost every dispute or threat of dispute among the nations today lies the question of whether democracy or communism might step in and emerge victorious.

Under those circumstances, an international police force might be of small practical significance.

It could be a significant factor under different conditions, of course. But those conditions would depend upon two possibilities which at present are discouragingly remote. One would be an acceptable and binding agreement between the U. S. and Russia on the geographical limits of the communistic Soviet empire. The other would be the Big Five's voluntary abandonment of the veto in the Security Council and acceptance of majority decisions.

Mild Ruthlessness

Here in America the proposal of national legislation to outlaw strikes imperiling public health and safety has been hailed in some quarters as the beginning of American fascism, a ruthless device of big business to destroy all labor unions, and a killing blow at the rights of man.

Over in England Alfred Edwards, a Labor member of Parliament, has called for legislation to abolish the strike weapon—not just strikes that threaten public health and safety, but all strikes. His reason is that a strike "penalizes every one of the workers more than the employer at whom it is aimed."

Edwards, let us repeat, is a member of England's ruling party, labor's own party, which is pledged to advance labor's cause.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Well, Here We Go On The First Leg

How Can You Make Tree Behave Like It Should?

HILO, HAWAII—(AP)—Old time Hawaiians say it is bad luck to cut down a coconut tree and A. J. Kimi had been warned against it. As head of the grounds committee at the American Legion clubhouse Kimi ordered six trees cut down, partly because the nuts were damaging the clubhouse roof, partly with a view to beautifying the grounds. Since then a honey bee venture, a trial at raising cantaloupes and a geese-farming business have back-fired for Kimi. Orchids, which became his pride and joy, were growing by the hundreds for Kimi—until last week. Vandals paid him a visit and what they didn't carry off they wrecked. All that was left was one basket of the flowers and one bunch wrapped as protection against the weather. "I wonder what's next?" asks Kimi, as he ponders the possibility there's going to be one kahuna (evil spirit) called down upon him for each of the six coconut trees he had cut down.

HOW WAS IT NAMED?

Some say that johnnycake, the hard-baked cornmeal food, originally was called journey cake, because it could be carried as sustenance on long trips, while others say the Shawnee Indians made such cakes of pounded corn, and that our johnnycake is only a corruption of Shawnee cake.

YOU spot it on the highway every time a Buick comes along:

Here you meet the future face-to-face.

Here you see the clean, rich, uncluttered design that marks the swing away from what was to what is going to be.

Here's the sweep and flow of fender line that's called for by a streamlined age — here's the solid, steady look that spells roadability — the broad beam that means room — the massive bonnet that tells of Fireball power aplenty.

Here's grace, here's ability, here's sturdy dependability — all wrapped up in one handsome package that's not merely up-to-the-times but ahead of it.

Here are the good looks that bespeak good works; you hardly have to be told of precisions carried to ten-thousandths of an inch, of materials searched out from the finest to be found.

Any wonder that such a creation is America's most wanted automobile? Any wonder people pass up cars that may be easier to get to wait for a car that's going to stay fresh and new and modern-looking?

The simple fact is that you're buying in the future when you buy any good car today.

Why not settle on the one that most obviously foretells what the future will be — that has the most in it of what is to come?

Buick dealers' showrooms are kept pretty bare of display models by the eagerness of Buick buyers to "take over" the first minute they can.

But you'll be greeted in every one of them with courtesy and sincere interest in getting your Buick at the first minute possible.

Drop in — talk it over — and insure yourself a happy future by placing your order now. We'll take it, with or without a car to trade.

Mrs. D. A. Ray Has Been HD Club Member 24 Years

Heading the list of pioneer Home Demonstration Club members of Midland is Mrs. D. A. Ray, 68, of the Valley View Community. Although she was one of the original organizers of the first club in Midland in 1928, she has been associated with club work since 1923.

Mrs. Ray became interested in demonstration club work in 1919 after reading articles on canning in the Farm and Ranch Magazine and hearing lectures on farm living. But it was not until 1923 that she joined a club in Nolan County.

Mrs. D. A. Ray

She was born Oct. 12, 1879, in Wood County near Hawkins, and lived in Comanche and Fisher counties before settling in Nolan county in 1911. The Ray family moved to Midland county in December, 1924.

"There was no club work in Midland county at that early date," said Mrs. Ray, "but we did have the makings of a club. Women would have a get together about twice each month, and at these meetings, which would last all day, we discussed better methods of canning and cooking. In 1927 interest in organizing a club was aroused by a canning demonstration held in the building near where the Midland Hardware & Furniture Company now is located.

The Valley View Home Demonstration Club was organized in 1928 with 15 members. Mrs. R. L. Porter was its first president. Mrs. Ray was president of the club in 1934.

"Club work is one of the grandest things ever started for farm women," said Mrs. Ray. "We benefit by it socially and physically. It has done a great job in teaching each farm family better living methods and in raising standards of living for those families.

Improved Farm Life

She said that visits with other clubs and conventions, "like the one to be held in Midland Friday," have given the women a chance to find out how the rest of the state lives, and have brought forth many new ideas for improving farm life.

Mrs. Ray is the mother of four girls, Mrs. C. C. Barnes, Mrs. George Morton, Mrs. Myrtle Sanders and Mrs. Phelan Porter, and a son, Burnice Ray.

"I haven't been able to attend all the club meetings of the past few years," she said, "but I have been keeping up with the work."

She is looking forward to the time when, through demonstration clubs and other organizations, every farm home will be equipped with electricity, gas and telephone facilities, "which will take the drudgery out of farm life and lighten our work."

"A project on which the demonstration clubs of Midland County should work is the establishment of a community market, where all farm families could bring their products and sell direct to the public," she said.

Midland HD Council Shapes Club Policies

The Midland County Home Demonstration Council, which has as members two delegates and the president of each demonstration club of the county, might be called the "legislature" for demonstration club work. The council plans the work and policies, which may be accepted or rejected by the various clubs.

Each month the council will plan a project to be set up in the assembly room of the courthouse. During April the project was making clothes, bedding and table linens from feed bags. In May, a display of children's toys and books for juveniles will be set up.

Officers of the council are: Mrs. I. J. Howard, chairman; Mrs. Jim Baker, vice-chairman; Mrs. O. R. Phillips, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. B. L. Mason, reporter, and Mrs. H. O. Allen, Texas Home Demonstration Association representative.

Other members of the council are: Mrs. C. E. Robinson, Mrs. Robert Hord, Mrs. F. D. Reven, Mrs. Preston Vest, Mrs. C. C. Carpenter, Mrs. L. H. Manning, Mrs. L. G. Webb, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. J. C. Bradley, Mrs. Foy Leslie, Mrs. J. W. McKenzie, Mrs. M. G. McConal, Mrs. O. O. Reid, and Mrs. Johnie Morgan.

Attractive Booklet Tells Of HD Work During Year

An attractive booklet is made up at the beginning of each year by the Demonstration Council of Midland as an outline for the work to be done during the year by Midland County demonstration members.

The yearbook for 1947 was written by Mrs. Robert Hord, Mrs. H. O. Allen, Mrs. G. D. Reven and Christine Golladay. Included in the yearbook are the names of the county commissioners, legislative members from District 6, of which Midland is a part, officers of the Texas Home Demonstration association, extension staff of A&M College, home demonstration members and officers, club meeting dates, club committees, special events of the year and the program for each club meeting.

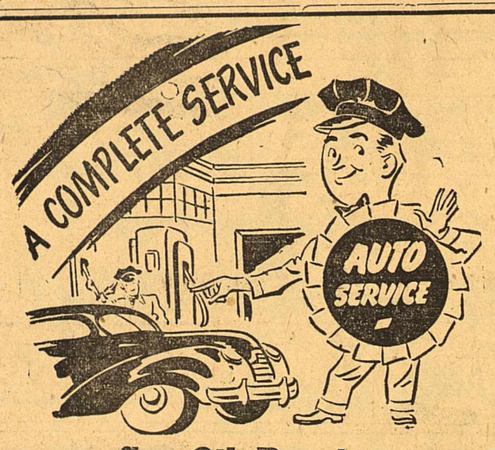

The cover of the yearbook was designed by Mrs. Hord of the Garden Addition HD Club. Each cover was hand painted.

MRS. BAGOT moved right in upon Sophie and Godfrey, forthright and gracious, a hand extended in greeting. "Madame van Eyck! This is delightful—"

"So charming of you to come," murmured Sophie.

"You invited the whole clan, Madame," said Mrs. Bagot, "so I have also brought my late husband's uncle, Mr. Adam Bagot. And this is my sister, Miss Codman, and of course you already know my son."

Vicky rushed breathlessly downstairs, coming into the drawing room in time to see Adam Bagot bend stiffly forward from the waist to kiss her grandmother's hand. The old gentleman looked frailer than ever beside Sophie's ebullient health.

Sophie placed her left hand, heavy with emeralds, over the hand of Adam Bagot which she had clasped in her right. Slowly and thoughtfully she said, "Adam Bagot—"

The white head came erect again. "Madame. It is a great honor and privilege."

Sophie relinquished the bony hand. "Miss Codman," she acknowledged, turning to the eager spinster who was taking in all the details of the room. "How do you do? Welcome. Mrs. Bagot, Miss Codman, this is Mr. Mansbridge, who is—er—who is visiting us for the summer."

Vicky spoke politely to Salty's family, suppressing a giggle as she shook hands with Miss Codman. Her hat, Vicky thought, looked as if she had got it out of a party cracker.

The guests disposed themselves around the room. Presently Sir Charles shepherded Basil and Marcel into the room and disappeared himself in the direction of the kitchen. It was turning chilly outside in preparation for the cold August night, and Marcel was wearing his shabby shawl. Vicky seized him by an arm, thrust her other hand into Basil's and led them to Mrs. Bagot before anyone else could speak.

* * *

"MRS. BAGOT, these are my uncles—my Uncle Marcel and my Uncle Basil."

"How do you do?" Mrs. Bagot said. She turned to Sophie. "You have quite a houseful, haven't you, Madame?"

"Sophie never played to less than a full house," said Basil.

Mrs. Bagot laughed politely. "Ah, your brother is very witty, Madame. No wonder he is proud of you, though. Of course, we are all proud of our distinguished neighbor."

"Let us all sit down," called Sophie. "Mrs. Bagot, will you be comfortable there?" She ensconced herself behind the tea table. "We shall have some tea presently."

Salty and Vicky sat together on a little settee at the back of the room. A few small conversations sprouted.

"Sit here, Mr. Mansbridge, do!" begged Mrs. Bagot, indicating a small gilt chair near her. "Many a time as a young girl I stood in line at the box office to sit at your feet."

Godfrey calculated her age at roughly 50, which was the age he had chosen always to think of himself. "I must have been just starting out then."

Sir Charles came in with the fragrant tea and the little hot cheese rolls, papery sandwiches, puff pastries and petit fours.

"How do you take your tea, Mrs. Bagot?" asked Sophie. "Lemon and one lump?"

"Perfect," agreed Mrs. Bagot.

"Miss Codman?"

"Just as it comes, thank you."

"Mr. Bagot?" asked Sophie. "How do you take your tea?"

"None for me, thank you."

"The rest of you I know. Charles, you forgot Godfrey's saccharin."

"Right there, Madame," said Sir Charles, "on the corner of the tray."

Marcel leaned back with a contemplative air. "Often I think how easy it would be, if one were a writer of detective fiction, to murder someone who takes saccharin. It would be simple surely to substitute a few tablets of cyanide of potassium, say—"

Godfrey glared at the little Frenchman. "I'll take my tea unsweetened today, Sophie, if you please."

* * *

"YOU know, I've been thinking," Miss Codman said raptly. "When I tell people I've actually had tea with Sophie van Eyck and Godfrey Mansbridge, I don't think I'll tell them the truth. I mean about your being related. You see, we always thought of you both as such a romantic team."

"But we are not related!" Godfrey exclaimed. "What ever gave you that idea? It has incestuous implications—"

"Mr. Mansbridge is visiting us, Miss Codman," Vicky put in hastily. "He's a very old friend of the family."

Basil dropped his teacup and broke the handle. In the confusion that followed he went over to Godfrey and gave him a long, meaningful glare. Godfrey closed his eyes indifferently, raised his brows and sipped. Sir Charles fetched a tea towel to wipe off the table and brought Basil another cup. Under cover of the general hubbub Salty leaned close to Vicky, whispering in her ear.

"We're going to have to be married right away, Vicky. After all, it's not as if we had all the time in the world. Mother's crazy about your grandmother and so that's all right. What about next Saturday? If I can get off? You can move nearer to the Yard, we'll find somewhere to live—"

Vicky could hardly believe what she heard. To have gone in the space of less than a day from a state of utter uncertainty about one's whole future life to a sudden state of being Salty's chattel, for him to own and dispose of, was upsetting, to say the least.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Several years ago S. Garton Churchill of Great Neck, L. I., published a book entitled "Contract Bidding Tactics at Match Point Play," one of the few books that bring out the difference between rubber and tournament bridge.

However, Churchill's kibitzers find that his bidding is not restricted by his book. They might find it difficult to account for some of his bids, but each is made with a definite purpose in mind.

In today's hand Churchill (North) found himself in a peculiar situation when his partner opened the bidding with one club. He either had to bid two clubs, which might indicate a weak hand, or one no trump, which would sign the hand off. Instead, he elected to make a constructive bid of one heart. Then when his partner bid a spade, Churchill's one no trump bid did not necessarily show weakness. In other words, rather than make an overbid of two no trump on the first round, or sign the hand off with two clubs, Churchill preferred a constructive bid with a short suit.

Churchill won the opening spade lead with the queen. He led a small club and went up with dummy's king, West playing the jack. Another club was led, West played the ten and Churchill the queen, killing the ten and ace at the same time.

East returned a heart, which dummy's ace won.

Now Churchill cashed the two good clubs and ran the three spades, leaving himself with the king of hearts and the king-ten-six of diamonds. East tried to save his queen of hearts, so he blanked down to the ace-jack of diamonds and the queen and six of hearts.

All Churchill had to do now was to lead a small diamond and the only trick that East could take was his ace of diamonds. Had he blanked down to the queen of hearts and the ace-jack-eight of diamonds, East would have made two diamond tricks.

In tournament bridge it is these extra tricks that mean so much.

Plenty Of Voters But No Ballots On Hand

LITTLE YORK, ILL. —(AP)—The election judges and clerks arrived at the village hall at 6 a. m. They opened the door, posted instruction sheets, sharpened their pencils. Then they made a disconcerting discovery. There weren't any ballots. Nobody had arranged to have any printed. So, after a telephone conference with the county clerk, a supply was run off quickly on a duplicating machine.

Light travels a million times faster than sound.

Gomez Strains Muscle Trying To Lift Cage

EDENTON, N. C. —(AP)— Lefty Gomez, manager of the Yankees' Binghamton, N. Y., farm team in the Eastern League, overestimated his strength when he strained himself lifting a batting cage during his team's Spring training here.

It was Lefty's first Spring camp as a manager and his first since 1944 when the Boston Braves gave him a trial at Wallingford, Conn. Gomez took over as Binghamton manager last July.

AP Scribe Scans Country Weeklies

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

For a breath of fresh air, city folks should turn to the lively little Texas weeklies. You'll find down-to-earth items in them that make you feel good inside. Things you won't find in the more businesslike dailies.

Take this from the newsy Big Bend Sentinel from Marfa:

"Seven airplanes in a row and not a horse in sight," was the comment of a Minnesota man visiting the J W. Rawls ranch when the Rawls were open house hosts. "I never thought I'd see such a thing."

The Wellington Leader says it is "Texas' Greatest Newspaper." It's big and bulky and good reading. One of its correspondents writes:

"The women in this community have about got all the sand cleaned out from the little sandstorm last week, getting ready for another one I guess. Lets hope the next one has a little moisture."

What is the State's smallest weekly? That's a tough one. In square inches, it might be The Forestburger, printed in Forestburg, Montague County. But The Forestburger is little in size only. It's 10 inches wide and 14 inches deep, but it's packed with news and advertising. Its columnist writes: "Roy Atterbury says that coons are so thick in his part of the country that possums had to put up stop lights to make it safe to go 'simmon hunting."

Brass Tacks' Sharp

Then there's The Concho Herald, printed at Paint Rock, the county seat. It's a little bigger, 11 by 16. And The Jack County Herald, from Bryson, 12 by 18, it says: "All roads lead to Rome . . . Or Jackboro." It carried a hard-hitting front page column called "Brass Tacks" and the editor pulls no punches. In the Feb. 7 issue, Brass Tacks was laying it on the county commissioners, saying the commissioners slipped Bryson a Mickey.

The Cumby County News, Hopkins County, is six columns wide—six columns packed with homey home-town news. Nothing about the United Nations, but: "It has been announced there will be preaching at Cross Roads Sunday."

The Florence Vidette, from Florence, Williamson County, is intriguing. Its makeup is simple and it has a column called "The Town Crier": "Last week I was successful, I believe, in getting apartments for two young gentlemen who are contemplating matrimony in Fort Worth. (They are not marrying each other—they will each take a wife.)"

The Happy Herald, from Happy, Swisher County, is a lively seven-column job whose "Circulation Covers Thoroughly 550 Square Miles In Swisher, Randall, Castro and Armstrong Counties."

We could go on and on — The Stanton Reporter, The Hockley County Herald, the Sudan News, Muleshoe Journal, Shamrock Texan, Wellington Leader, Miami Chief, Panhandle Herald—

Hurley Says Foreign Policy Inconsistent

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—If it was right for the United States to withdraw from China, it is wrong for it to make a loan to Greece, Maj. Gen Patrick J. Hurley, former secretary of war and ambassador to China, said here.

"The administration has stated it pulled out of China because it does not want to support one faction against another in a civil war. That is to say it declines to support the republic of China against the armed, belligerent Communist party.

"It since has announced we are appropriating 400 million dollars for Greece to support it against the armed belligerent Communist party. The administration cannot be right on both of these policies."

RESEARCHERS WILL STUDY TEXAS OYSTER MORTALITY

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — A staff of technicians is being assembled by the Texas A&M research foundation to investigate oyster mortality in Texas and Louisiana coastal water, Dr. A. A. Jakkula, executive director of the foundation has announced.

Dr. C. R. Elsey, a biologist of the British Columbia Packers, LDT., of Vancouver, has been engaged as a consulting expert for the investigation, sponsored by the Texas Company to determine whether there is any abnormal oyster mortality along the coast.

AUDITORIUM SITE IN CENTER OF STREET

SEASIDE, ORE. — (AP) — Councilmen are puzzled by the legal problem they will have if construction of an $80,000 public auditorium is approved in a special May 20 election.

City Attorney Thomas Chave, Jr., says an erroneous site description on the ballot puts the building in the center of Edgewood Street.

OFFICER! ARREST HIM!

BISMARCK, N. D.—(AP)— Having the radiator ornament on his car stolen annoyed a farm visitor to Bismarck. But what annoyed him more was where the theft took place—in front of the police station.

There is evidence that the Chinese used coal long before the Christian era.

Yale Will Return To It's Student Limit

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Once the G. I. education boom diminishes Yale university will return to its prewar enrollment limit of 5,000 students, its president, Dr. Charles Seymour, told the Yale Club of Southern California. The present enrollment is 8,700.

temperature that doesn't respond readily to home treatment, he will hustle her to the doctor, and the latter will have a better chance to cope with whatever it is in the first stage.

"He will feel that this hospital is part his, since he has a stock in it and his doctor bill paid for the year. This does wonders for his morale. One has only to ask a member of the South Plains Co-Operative at Amherst about their hospital to start them off with a song of praise with a great glow of pride in their achievement there. They truly feel, as their manager so aptly put it when we visited their plant, that they were comparable to the "embattled farmers" of Revolutionary War fame, "Who fired a shot heard 'round the world," since theirs was the first to be built in Texas. Theirs was patterned after the famous first one in the country, that was built in Elk City.

"This type of hospital is also an open staff hospital, open to all doctors who meet required medical standards, and, of course, to non-members also. The latter pay regular hospital rates and doctor fees in accordance to current charges. The member may call in any doctor he chooses, but if he is not employed by the hospital, he will have to pay whatever the doctor chooses to charge.

Doctors Attracted

"Really good doctors are attracted to this type of hospital because they can practice their profession for the love of it, free from any thought of the financial end of it. They will not feel that they have to cater to the rich Mrs. Smith and neglect the poor little Mexican girl, as is too often the case, where the doctor bill they expect to collect has first consideration. What's more, they will have the finest of equipment with which to work, much better than they could probably afford for themselves in private practice.

"Much is being said and written today about the merits and demerits of socialized medicine, even legislation pending. Whether we like it or not, it is sure to come if nothing is done by communities with poor health programs to do something constructive for themselves to improve their conditions. No truly independence loving American wants his government to do things for him that he can do for himself. The Home Demonstration ladies of Midland County pooled their orders and successfully supplied their needs during the war for fruits, vegetables and other commodities unavailable at the time in this country. In like manner, we believe that the entire county and surrounding vicinity, should be able to pool their money to buy a hospital that will do much toward meeting the needs of a suitable, over-all health program for the people of Midland County. The ideal hospital will have been attained when it has grown large enough to serve some thirty thousand people, at least, and well staffed with competent surgeons, specialists and dentists."

Philippines Reject Plan To Get UNRRA Medicines

MANILA—(AP)—The Philippines rejected a recent $200,000 UNRRA gift of medical supplies on the grounds that United States military bases recently given to the new republic contained a sufficient additional agricultural supplies.

A $200,000 shipment of UNRRA farm implements and machinery intended to increase Philippine food production is due to arrive here soon. The shipment will enable farmers in many parts of the islands to replace the work animals they lost during the war by using tractors.
