Tempers Flare During Debate By Senate On New Farm Plan

Cypriot Violence Reported

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British authorities pressed their clampdown on strife-torn Cyprus today as a general strike protesting the ouster of Archbishop Makarios went into its fourth day.

The British, striving to put a tight lid on the smoldering island, arrested a close friend of Makarios. Abbot Chryssostomos, head of the wealthy Kykkos Monastery, was whisked off to an unknown destination.

Makarios leader of the Cypriot movement for union with Greece, began his religious career at Kykkos. The monastery financed his education here and abroad.

Scattered violence sputtered again across the island. Gunmen wounded two policemen in Nicosia the island capital where a British police sergeant was killed 24 hours earlier. Two other policemen were shot at, but their assailant missed. He was nabbed.

The new violence came on the heels of Prime Minister Eden's pledge to restore order in Cyprus before making concessions to the islanders.

Eden was bolstered by a 317-252 vote of confidence in the House of Commons last night after making clear his government intended to keep control over the Mediterranean island colony which is Britain's last bastion in the Middle East.

British troops and police sealed off with barbed wire a block of downtown Nicosia where the police sergeant was killed yesterday. The British made a thorough search for "a secret hideout for arms and possible terrorists" in the region, where nine British servicemen have been killed by backers of the union-with-Greece movement since last August.

In Lanarca a 7-year-old Greek Cypriot who with other children was stoning military vehicles was shot and killed.

Pakhna village, which refused to pay a collective fine of $1,680 for attacking the local police station, was put under curfew until the fine was paid.

The general strike paralyzed the island's business. Only a few Turkish shops remained open. There appearel to be a further stiffening of the Greek-Cypriot determination to continue the walkout which has caused heavy losses for merchants, laborers and clerks.

FIRE WRECKS CATHEDRAL—KILLS PRIESTS—Debris litters the interior of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Trenton, N.J., after fire raged through the cathedral and adjoining rectory, killing several rectory housekeepers and possibly two priests.

Arms Control Plan Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today he holds a "reasonable hope" that Soviet Rusia ultimately will negotiate with this country on disarmament.

Wilson told a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee that there are "some realists" in the Kremlin who know, as the United States knows, that there can be no winner in an atomic or hydrogen war.

And he said he is sure there must be "some men of good will in Russia just like there are in this country."

But Wilson made it clear the United States does not propose to disarm until there is agreement on a plan for safe control. He said the aerial inspection and exchange of military blueprints proposed by President Eisenhower would be a "good start" and added:

"Any system would have to include ground inspection."

"Until science evolves a satisfactory method for the detection of hidden stockpiles, no disarmament program undertaken in the interim can provide a control system for nuclear weapons which would preclude risks to security interests of the United States," Wilson told a Senate subcommittee which is hunting for a disarmament formula.

The secretary was the first witness before the subcommittee headed by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn). With him ready to testify was Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Secretary of State Dulles and Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament, have previously testified to the subcommittee.

Wilson's prepared testimony made no mention of Eisenhower's latest disarmament suggestion made in a letter March 1 to Soviet Premier Bulganin. This suggestion is expected to lead to new U.S. proposals by Stassen at a United Nations disarmament meeting which opens in London Monday.

Eisenhower's idea is that, with effective control safeguards agreed upon beforehand, the United States and Russia could join in freezing atomic stockpiles. Eventually the hope is to devote all nuclear production and stores to peaceful purposes.

School Leader Facing Loss Of Benefits

ATLANTA (AP)—A Georgia educational leader under fire from the state's two principal school boards for charged prointegration views today faced possible loss of his $518.90 a month state pension and an honorary college title.

The Board of Regents, without commenting on its action, yesterday voted unanimously to take back the title it gave Dr. Guy H. Wells two years ago as president emeritus of Georgia State College for Women. Wells headed the Milledgeville school for 20 years

And the State Board of Education, commenting freely on Wells' alleged prointegration views, decided to ask the Teacher Retirement Board whether the veteran educator may be legally separated from his pension.

Wells currently is executive secretary of the Georgia Committee on Interracial Cooperation, an affiliate of the Southern Regional Council.

"I am sure the boards did what they felt to be right," said Gov. Marvin Griffin. "To be drawing a $518.90 a month pension, Dr. Wells has been acting a little ugly." Griffin asserted that Wells "does advocate integration."

In his "acting a little ugly" comment, the governor was referring to a report in the Augusta Courier, a political prosegregation weekly, that Wells ridiculed the governor and legislators in a speech at Paine College, a Negro school at Augusta.

DEATH IN CYPRUS—Suspects line a curb in heart of Nicosia, Cyprus, behind the covered body of a British police sergeant who was shot and killed by pro-Greek terrorists. A Cypriot policeman and a Greek bystander were wounded by the gunfire which rattled through a main street of the British island colony's capital as a general sfrike in protest against the exiling of Archbishop Makarios continued.

Dispute Arises On Parity Price

Washington (AP)—The administration lost a major farm bill battle by one vote today when the Senate approved, 45-44, use of a dual parity system in computing crop price supports.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders ordered another 12-hour Senate session today on the controversial farm bill with tempers of some lawmakers already above the boiling point.

Pending was one of the hottest controversies of the omnibus election year bill—a decision on the method of determining parity, which is the price level fixed by law as fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Crops are supported at a percentage of parity, so its level determines government price supports on wheat, corn and other major crops.

A new fomula for computing parity became effective this year. It raised the level for some crops and lowered it for others—among them corn and wheat.

But the Senate Agrieulture Committee wrote a "dual parity" provision into the bill. This would allow farmers to use either the old or the new parity system—whichever was higher—in determining the level of price supports.

It could mean more than 10 cents a bushel on the wheat crop of nearly a billion bushels and somewhat less per bushel on the corn crop that sometimes is above three billion bushels.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), chief spokesman for the administration's farm proposals, teamed up with Senators Anderson (D-NM), Holland (D-Fla) and Williams (R-Del) in an effort to beat this and retain only the new parity formula.

"I'm not optimistic," Aiken said in an interview. "I don't think the opposition is smart in trying to get a veto, but they think they are."

Aiken, during one of several torrid verbal exchanges yesterday, cautioned that the Senate was loading the farm measure with provisions that President Eisenhower would have to veto.

Sen. Young (R-ND), who has been bucking the administration's flexible price supports, said in a separate interview:

"The administration does not have the votes to knock out dual parity and is looking for a compromise."

He said this might be a proposal by Sen. Schoeppel R-Kan) which would provide a wheat support price this year of about $1.91 a bushel instead of the $1.81 already announced by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

"That would be attractive in an election year," Young commented.

Aiken and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) figured in one of the sharpest exchanges during the long debate yesterday.

It flared when Humphrey tried to write into the bill provisions of a separate measure already passed by the Senate, but deadlocked in a conference with the House.

Humphrey's proposal called for an extra 60 million dollars for the free milk program for schools and other agencies in the next 27 months, and an extra 12 millions in the same period for elimination of brucellosis, a livestock disease that causes undulant fever.

The Senate unanimously adopted the addition, but not before Aiken protested it as an effort to load the bill down with favorable provisions that would make a veto highly unpopular.

He contended it also would weaken the Senate stand in a Senate-House conference after both houses have passed the farm legislation.

"I've seen a great deal of low-grade politics since I've been a member of this body but I have never seen anything lower than this," the usually calm senator said with emotion.

Humphrey fired back that he resented these comments, and contended Aiken had violated Senate rules in attributing such motives to senators.

Aiken later eliminated part of his exchange with Humphrey from the permanent record.

Between gusts of angry debate, the Senate approved or rejected a variety of amendments but it still had a stack of 60 or more that could be offered.

Banquet Scheduled By Snyder Jaycees

Snyder's Outstanding Young Man of 1955 will be honored tomorrow night at the annual installation banquet of the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce.

That award will head the list of numerous annual awards, some of which are being instituted this year, according to Mel Z. Gilbert, newly-elected president of the organization. Gilbert and other new officers and directors of the Jaycees will be installed at the banquet by Clif Davis of Wichita Falls, a national director for the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce. Outgoing president is Steve Birdwell.

Principle speaker at the banquet will be James P. Hart, Austin attorney who was formerly chancellor of the University of Texas and formerly justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

The banquet will be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the high school cafeteria. Tickets are $1.50 at the Chamber of Commerce office or from a member of the Jaycees before the banquet, and they will be $2 at the door.

The Outstanding Young Man Award is given here annually. Chosen by a citizens committee, the person selected for the award is not over 35, not necessarily a Jaycee, has prominence equally in numerous fields of community service, such as civic, church, and professional work. He receives a framed certificate. Dr. Robert Hargrove, who received the award last year, will make the presentation. Others who have received the award are Clyde Godwin and Malven Stevenson.

A new annual award will be the Ernest Abernathy Memorial Award named after a member of the Jaycees here who is deceased. It will be commonly known as the "Mr. Jaycee" award and will go to a member of the Jaycees who is chosen by the organization's awards committee on the basis of outstanding service in Jaycee projects throughout the year. This will be a key man award.

Two other key man awards will be given to men who are chosen on outstanding Jaycee service either in a single project or in several. While "Mr. Jaycee" will receive a key and plaque, the other two will receive keys.

Another new annual award will be the "Boss of the Year" award to a business chosen for outstanding employer-employe relations in connection with Jaycees in the business.

There will be nine merit certificates given to Jaycees for outstanding club service.

Three special plaque awards are also planned, to be announced at the banquet.

Cancer Plan Working Well

NEW YORK (AP)—A Queens firm says a company cancer detection program started six years ago has cut its employe death rate from the disease as well as disclosing scores of precancerous conditions.

Dr. Benjamin N. Berg, medical director of the Ford Instrument Co of Long Island City, said yesterday the company's program is the first of its kind in the nation.

If used industrywide, Berg estimated, the program would discover some 300,000 persons a year suffering from cancer — giving many of them a chance to be cured by prompt treatment.

Berg said the death rate for cancer among Ford Instrument employes was 1.6 persons per thousand for those taking part in the detection program. The death rate for nonparticipating workers, he said, was 4.8 per thousand.

He said a total of 1,796 of Ford's 3,000 workers have undergone periodic checkups on company time and at company expense. The program is voluntary.

Seven actual cases of cancer were found, he said.

Postponement of Third Polio Shot Not Urged

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Health Department does not recommend postponing the third polio shot from children who already have had two inoculations.

"We cannot conscientiously recommend a postponement of the third," Dr. Henry Holle health commissioner, said yesterday.

The commissioner said the third shot "not only produces a substantial increase in the measureable level of protection, but it also increases the duration of immunity. The job is only have done with a primary series of two inoculations."

Respiratory Equipment Is Sent To Argentina

DOVER, Del. (AP)—A huge C124 Globemaster loaded with 28 iron lungs and other respiratory equipment left here today on a mercy flight to polio - stricken Buenos Aires.

With a crew of 11 men, the Military Air Transport plane will be able to make the trip to Argentina without stopping for crew rest periods. Aboard are two chief pilots, two copilots, and two navigators.

A spokesman at Dover Air Force Base said the equipment was being sent under auspices of the State Department and was provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Finances For New Polio Shots Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) —The House Appropriations Committee today recommended a new allotment of $27 800,000 to finance antipolio programs administered by the states.

It also approved, subject to House action next week, 185 million dollars for veterans' readjustment benefits, 25 millions for payments to school districts where population has been boosted by federal activities, and $9,900,000 for construction of schools in such districts.

These were among the major recommendations in an omnibus $795,743,823 supplemental appropriation bill to finance miscellaneous activities during the current fiscal year ending June 30.

The total was $40 195,100 less than President Eisenhower had requested. The biggest cut was $15,-351,500 lopped from the $129,041,500 requested for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The bill includes 26 million dollars for scientific work in connection with the International Geophysical Year. This program includes plans to send a man-made satellite around the world within the next two years.

The $34,900,000 recommended for payments to the school districts was the entire amount requested. So were the $27,800,000 for grants to states to pay for polio vaccinations and the 185 millions for veterans' training benefits.

A large chunk $266,711,471, of the bill's total was to meet federal pay raises voted last year by Congress but not financed in last year's appropriations bills.

Other allotments included 30 million dollars to pay operating subsidies to ship operators; 100 millions to reimburse states for the government's share of the cost of highway construction projects and 3 millions for forest highway work; 47 millions for grants to states for public assistance; $200,-000 for expenses of the special commission studying government security programs; $56,000 to start work on a war memorial on Corregidor Island; three millions for construction of the Jefferson National Memorial in St. Louis, and $300,000 for expenses of special House committees.

Westinghouse Strike Costs Running High

PITTSBURGH (AP)—No matter how or when the prolonged Westinghouse strike finally is settled, it may be years before the average worker gets on his feet again financially.

Every day the strike rolls on now just means this "little guy" is squeezed that much harder. The best available estimate of total wages lost exceeds 100 million dollars.

On the other side of the picture, the company estimated early this month the strike had cost it about 250 million dollars worth of business. Net income dropped more than 30 million dollars in 1955 compared with the preceding year and much of the drop was attributed to the strike.

It's been nearly five months since strikers have had a paycheck; five months without a steady income. How have they managed?

"We're not living high. But we're getting along. Nobody's starving, nobody's out in the street, nobody's cold. You couldn't expect more."

That capsule comment came today from Samuel Wilkins, chief union shop steward at Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s East Pittsburgh plant, largest in the firm's far-flung system and one of 40 struck since last October.

"Anyone who has been cold or hungry or in need of medical care, we've taken care of them," said Wilkins, a fitter employed by Westinghouse for 22 years.

By "we" he meant the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and its biggest most powerful Westinghouse unit, Local 601. At the start of the strike Oct. 17, the local counted some 10,000 members. In all, the IUE called out 44,000 workers.

Wilkins said he knew of no case where a Local 601 member was evicted, lost his home or had his auto repossessed—if he applied to the union for aid.

Women Are Released From Jail On Bonds

Two women charged here with aiding and abetting in a jailbreak were released from the county jail on $1,000 bond each.

Sureties on the bonds were Milus Steen and Ira Summers of Lubbock.

The two are charged with aiding the escape last Aug. 30 of Richard Crawford and Billy Jack Bennett from the jail here. Crawford is now back in jail here, while Bennett is still at large.

Reasonable Request Is Made By Students

GOUVERNEUR, N. Y. (AP) — Buddy Graves and John Norton walked into Gouverneur Junior High School today and suggested they be separated from their classmates.

Last night, they explained, they stopped to remove a dead skunk from a trap.

But he wasn't.

Dulles Stops In Philippines

MANILA (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived here today for an overnight stop in the Philippines en route home from the SEATO conference in Karachi.

Dulles was to confer with President Ramon Magsaysay later today and to attend a state dinner tonight.

In a statement at the airport, the secretary paid tribute to Magsaysay for drafting the Pacific Charter adopted in Manila when the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization was formed in September 1954.

Dulles said the charter had "become a moving force toward further achievement for Asia of the independence of which the Philippine Republic is so ardent a champion."

The pact provided the right of self-determination for Asian peoples. It was also aimed at repelling any aggression against the soil of the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Pakistan and the Philippines.

Dulles, who will stop next at Formosa, came here from Saigon conferences with President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam.

Reliable sources said the secretary was convinced after his talk that there will be no renewal of war in Indochina even if elections to unite North and South Viet Nam are not held in July.

Middle East Plan Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has provided fresh evidence that his administration is taking a critical new look at the whole range of its Arab-Israeli policies.

He told a news conference yesterday that neither he nor Secretary of State Dulles had ever said "that we would not furnish arms to Israel." But he added that "we were hoping for a better solution."

His use of the past tense renewed speculation that eventually the administration may decide to let the Israelis buy at least part of the 63 million dollars worth of weapons which they are seeking. The Israelis submitted the request in November, saying they want to offset the purchase of Sovit bloc arms by Egypt.

It was learned that the request is under active study now after being on the shelf for months while Eisenhower and Dulles emphasized a policy of avoiding an arms race with the Soviets in the Middle East.

State Department officials said that until now there has been no actual change in American policy on the Middle East. It was learned last weekend, however, that the United States is restudying relations with Egypt in the light of Cairo's increasingly strong anti-Israeli moves.

The United States reportedly has not been averse to Egypt's Arab bloc leadership but has hoped it would stress the possibilities of peace rather than emphasizing Arab enmity toward Israel

Soviets Start British Tour

LONDON (AP) — Ex-Premier Georgi M. Malenkov arrived in the western world for the first time in his life today and, smiling broadly, said he had come seeking knowledge.

Heading a group of Soviet electrical experts for a three-week tour of Britain, Malenkov said after stepping from his plane at London airport:

"We've arrived to acquire knowledge—knowledge of the system of public power supply and of the operation of public power stations."

"Do you speak English?" he was asked by a reporter.

Now a deputy premier and minister of power stations, Malenkov looked at Soviet Ambassador Jakok Malik for an interpretation.

Malik repeated the question in Russian.

A smile broke across Malenkov's pudgy face.

"Unfortunately not," he replied.

Malik said "maybe when he leaves he will speak English."

Scotland Yard threw a cordon around the airfield to prevent any demonstrations by refugees from Communist satellite states.

Only a handful of newsmen were allowed to get close. Others watched the arrival from a roof of the airport building.

Malenkov, 56, was the first to leave the two Soviet planes that brought the delegation here after an overnight stop in East Berlin.

Lord Citrine, chairman of Britian's nationalized Central Electricity Board, and Fuel Minister Aubrey Jones led the welcoming party.

Malenkov's visit is a foretaste of next month's tour of Britian by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, who arrive April 18 as guests of Prime Minister Eden.

Ambassador Malk led a welcoming delegation of Russians. Five Russian Zis limousines, each flying a red flag on the front left fender, carried the group into London, 15 miles away. The Russian party, holding diplomatic status, was not required to pass through customs.

The three-week itinerary will give Malenkov a wider picture of British life than he would get from inside the power plants.

He will go to Windsor Castle and look over the royal apartments. He will spend Easter at Brighton, a south coast resort And with countless thousands of British race fans, he will watch the March 24 Grand National Steeplechase, the world's toughest horse race.

But to keep him safe from possible demonstrations the exact details of the tour are being kept secret. Scotland Yard has planned a protective net so tough that even the Communist Daily Worker protested today the tour looks like an "elaborate security exercise."

Hoover Says Lax Policy Costs Taxpayers 4 Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Hoover urged today the earmarking of 2,000 more top government policy jobs for political appointment, together with better "pay, security and prestige" for federal workers generally

He declared that inadequate budget and bookkeeping practices have cost Congress its "control of the national purse" and are now costing the taxpayers four billion dollars a year of needless spending.

Civil service reforms are equally urgent to prevent "government talent from being constantly grabbed by business," Hoover said in a speech prepared for a conference called by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce to rally support for adoption of the year-old recommendations of his commission on federal reorganization.

Hoover said the 25 per cent turnover of government personnel—representing the loss and replacement of 500,000 workers annually—"would bankrupt any private enterprise twice a year."

"Promotion and pay fail to produce or hold top executive talent," he said, "and there are not enough policy-making positions today subject to party choice to carry out the mandates of the electorate."

He added: "Do not get scared that we are proposing a spoils system. We wish merely to change less than onetenth of 1 per cent of the total number."

The President, Hoover said, should have perhaps 2,000 additional jobs subject to his appointment, and nonpolitical career workers "should not be required to make policy or to defend administration policy."

Urging adoption of the commission's pay and promotion reforms, Hoover said:

"If our top military officers had been chosen on the civil service basis of promotion, the deadwood at the top would have lost us two world wars.

"The present salaries and fringe benefits in our top civil service are below those in top military service. And worse still, they are far below those in private enterprise."

The 81 - year - old ex-President said he had canvassed private firms on the number of workers paid $15,000 a year or more This is the top civil service bracket. If government devoted the same proportion of its payroll cost to such salaries, he said, there would be 14,000 fedeal workers in the $15,-000-and-up brackets, instead of the present 1,364.

Hoover reiterated the commission's proposal for a nonpolitical "senior civil service" of well-paid career executives subject to transfer from agency to agency as needed. These would be paid $15,-000 at the start, rising to $22,000.

The conference was organized to help prod Congress and the administration into adopting recommendations of the Hoover Commission, sent to Congress last spring.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

New Pay Zone In Stonewall Field

A new pay, the Strawn lime, has been opened in the Ashmore field of East Stonewall County with dual completion of J. J. Lynn Estate No. 1-A Ella Pumphrey.

It pumped 181 barrels of 41.2-gravity oil per day from the Strawn through perforations at 5,194-5,204 feet, after 1,500 gallons of mud acid.

Earlier, it was completed in the conglomerate for 212 barrels of 41-gravity oil daily through a one-half inch choke and perforations at 6,010-6,024 feet after fracturing with 5,000 gallons.

Total depth is 6,103 feet.

Location is one and one-half miles north of Old Glory and 1,980 feet from north and west lines of the Ben McCulloch survey.

Callihan Interests (formerly LeFors Petroleum Co., et al) No. 1 Rex A. Smith, wildcat in Southeast Fisher County, is still pumping to test.

The project pumped 24 hours through perforations between 2,650 to 2,658 feet, makin 98 barrels of water and 22 barrels of oil.

Location is 330 feet from south west lines of lot 16, Berry & Coggins subdivision, Edward Miles survey No. 219 and six miles north of Trent.

Western Drilling Co. Inc., of Lubbock will drill a 6,000-foot rotary wildcat in Southeast Lubbock County.

No. 1 Annie Johnston is 1,280 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of section 8, block I and 12 miles southeast of Lubbock.

Operations will begin at once.

Blanco Oil Co., San Antonio, and others will dig No. 1 Middleton as a 9,000-foot wildcat seven miles northeast of Lamesa in Northeast Dawson County.

Drillsite is 1k980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines fo section 2, block 1, C. C. Slaughter survey.

Edwin L. Cox of Dallas has staked location for a three-quarters mile east outpost to the north extension area to the North Cowden pool of South Andrews County.

It is No. 1-A University Drillsite is 330 feet from north and east lines of southeast quarter of section 37, block 9, University survey and 12 miles southwest of Andrews.

Projected depth is 3,100 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Conveyer Belt Car System Is Proposed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A series of conveyor belts carrying six - passenger cars some 15 feet above street level is proposed as a solution to this city's downtown congestion. A moving belt would carry cars at 15 miles an hour between stations and would slow to 1½ miles an hour at each station, where passengers could alight on a sidewalk moving at the same speed. Cars would leave a station every three seconds, moving as many as 14,000 persons an hour, say proposer's of the idea.

Teachers To Attend Meet

All teachers in the Lincoln School here have registered for the West Texas District Teachers' Association's annual convention, which opens this evening in Lubbock, Daniel Johnson, principal, said today.

The district session for Negro teachers will continue through tomorrow.

Dr. Morris S. Wallace, head of the department of education at Texas Tech, will be the keynote speaker for the convention. Theme of the convention will be "Meeting Today's Problems in Public Education."

Curtis A. Thomas, principal of of Carver High School in Midland will speak on professional organizations, while Nat Williams, superintendent of the Lubbock Public Schools, will speak on the teacher retirement program.

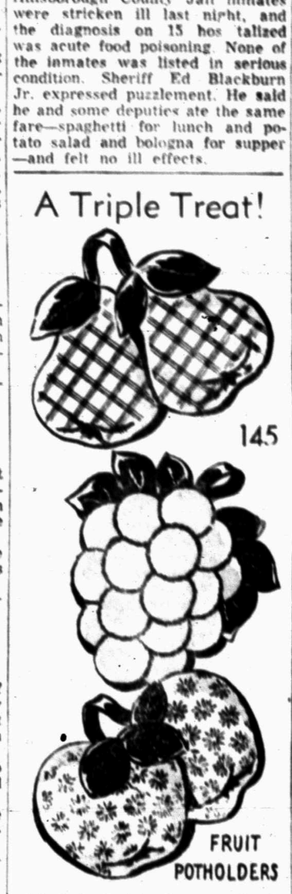

Group meetings will be held for high school principals, elementary principals, high school teachers, homemaking teachers, primary section, library section, intermediate section and music section. Consultants will be present from Texas Southern University and Prairie View A& MCollege.

The annual musical will be held Friday night in the Dunbar High School auditorium. "Miss West Texas" will be crowned during the intermission of the musical.

Poisoning In Jail

Kiwanis Club Has Talk By Church Pastor

The Church's relationship to public schools may be summed up generally in three words—democracy, discipline and devotion, the Rev. G. M. Cole, pastor of the First Baptist Church, told Kiwanis Club members at the luncheon meeting Wednesday in the Hilander.

The American public school system actually sprang from the churches, since clergymen not only filled the pulpits, but also taught children in academic fields during the early days, he said. The preachers, in turn, were among the first to visualize the public school system as it is known today. Subsequently, after the public schools were well established, there was a trend toward scientific emphasis in public education, and away from any reference to religion in the classrooms, Rev. Cole explained. That was the period when the Darwinian theory was thrust upon the field of education.

Now, Rev. Cole pointed out, there is a swing back in the other direction, with indication that a sort of "balance" will be attained.

Children should be taught the principles of democracy in the home, and teachers should be expected to teach it in the schools, Rev. Cole declared. There should be no compromise in the name of "academic freedom" to permit teachers who are opposed to the principles of America to take charge of classrooms, he asserted.

Parents should discipline their children in the home and they should support the teachers as they discipline the children in the classroom and on the campus, Rev. Cole said.

As for devotion, Rev. Cole said that "Christ Jesus is the answer to communism" and all others ills that confront the world today. Christians, as members of churches, should insist that the academic program of their schools do not conflict with the teachings of the Bible, he declared.

Rev. Cole was introduced by L. A. McClanahan, chairman of the Kiwanis committee on support of churches and their spiritual sins.

Plagued Day And Night with Bladder Discomfort?

Simple Irritations Quickly Soothed With Today's Help

Such a common thing as unwise eating or drinking may be a source of mild, but annoying bladder irritations—making you feel restless, tense, and uncomfortable. And if restless nights, with nagging backache, headache or muscular aches and pains due to over-exertion, strain or emotional upset, are adding to your misery—don't wait—try Doan's Pills.

Doan's Pills have three outstanding advantages—act in three ways for your speedy return to comfort. 1—They have an easing soothing effect on bladder irritations. 2—A fast pain-relieving action on nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 3—A wonderfully mild diuretic action thru the kidneys, tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. So, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Get Doan's Pills today.

Cap's Back In Fashion

NEW YORK (AP)—Hats off to the cap, men—it's back again.

And in high style too.

This ancient form of head covering, worn for centuries in one form or another, had all but followed the handmade nickel cigar into oblivion.

A nifty new type of cap, called the "Ivy League" because of its first popularity on Ivy League college campuses, turned tee trick.

This one is a nat, trim, jaunty little item which doesn't overhang in the back or drape over the sides. It has a single-piece top and short visor. It fits snugly over the top of the head.

Manufacturers are doing headstands of delight over its success.

"Business is going up terrifically," said a spokesman for one large concern today.

"It's one of the biggest changes in the hat business in years," said Bernard L. Salesky, president of the giant Hat Corp. of America.

"Our guess, based on present sales, is that it will be one of the most important developments in the men's apparel industry since President Eisenhower decided to wear a Homburg instead of a silk topper at his inauguration."

Services For Snyder Man's Father Slated

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Booneville, Ind., for H. E. Owens, 74, father of Ed H. Owens, owner of Owens Department Store here.

Mr. Owens was a retired merchant.

Survivors include the one son, two sisters who live in Booneville, and eight grandchildren.

Widow Of Eggleston Wounded In Stomach

FORT WORTH (AP)—Mrs. Walterene Eggleston, widow of the underworld character Tincy Eggleston, was in a critical condition today from a pistol wound in her stomach.

She told a Star-Telegram reporter she "did it" because "I'm tired." Officers found her alone in her home with the pistol at her side after detective Capt. O. R. Brown said she called him and told him to get people out of her house and to see that her daughter got "everything." Before he could reply, Brown said a shot echoed into the telephone.

The body of her husband was found in an abandoned well near here last September, a victim of an underworld slaying.

Eggleston was one of several indicted in the 1953 "kill-for-hire" slaying of oilman William Clark here.

'Save Girlstown' Drive Promoted In Levelland

LEVELLAND (AP) — State and South Plains junior chambers of commerce were urged yesterday by the Levelland Junior Chamber of Commerce to support a "Save Girlstown" campaign.

Charlie Bird, president of the Levelland group, said the idea is to keep Girlstown "as it is" and prevent it from being put under state control or closed.

He said the campaign was not necessarily an endorsement of the founder and director, Miss Amelia Anthony, but that the Jaycees did not want to see the ranch for neglected girls to be abolished as result of the current state investigation.

The state Welfare Department has conducted a hearing after saying it planned to revoke Girlstown's license.

CHARTER MEMBER HONORED—Mrs. W. J. Ely paid tribute to a charter member, Mrs. Joe Strayhorn, at a recent meeting of the Twentieth Century Club, one of Snyder's oldest study clubs. (Lee Watson photograph)

Charter Members Honored By Twentieth Century Club

At the last meeting of the Twentieth Century Club, Mrs. W. J. Ely paid the following tribute to one of the club's charter members:

In thinking of a personality to talk about today, several people came to my mind. A national personality? There are a number I should enjoy telling about. People outstanding in many walks of life, religious, social and political.

However, after much thought and a great deal of personal pleasure I should like to tell you a few things, you may not know, about an outstanding local person.

A lady! Low of stature but a tower of strength, laced with cheerfulness.

There has been no other person I have known who has been so unselfish, so thoughtful, so giving of herself, and yet has such buoyancy, and a zest for living that is truly an inspiration.

She was born in Milan County, Texas, while Grant was President and Texas was a forty-year-old State.

She grew up with her family, four sisters and five brothers.

The little country schools she attended is best remembered by the emphasis it placed on spelling bees. Her standing in spelling was very high.

While our lady was indeed quite young she married a young man who owned a sheep ranch that adjoined her father's place. You might think this young child bride was timid or passive or shrinking, but not so, she stood by her husband at all times. No task was too hard and no duty too mean.

She spent her honeymoon in a covered wagon journeying from East Texas to Snyder, to visit her father-in-law, an early day Judge of Scurry County.

You may have guessed by now that I am talking about Laura Cosby, daughter of the J. A. Cosbys who came to Texas from Alabama. The sheep rancher she married was Joe Strayhorn.

After their return to their sheep ranch near Hico, they made plans to drive their sheep to Oklahoma to ship them, by train, to markets in the North. Soon after their first child, John Robert, was born in 1893, they started on the drive in their house wagon. In this house on wheels they lived, cooked, ate and slept. Laura drove the wagon much of the way and neither Robert nor she was much the worse off from the trip. The sheep grazed the pastures on the way. When they reached the railorad station the sheep were sheared and the wool with the sheep were sold. This trip took six months over open country, but with much wild game.

After about a year in Hamilton County, the Strayhorns decided to move to Snyder. Joe came on to get things started and Laura stayed in Hamilton County to finish a few things already started. It was a happy Joe that met Laura on the train at Roscoe with John Robert and the new baby Roy. The ground was covered with snow and the sun was shining on the Strayhorns that winter day. Another snow storm came before the buggy reached Snyder, causing the snow to drift to the eaves of the houses. This snow stayed on the ground about a month.

They lived on their ranch north of town a number of years, then moved to their home in north snyder where they lived until moving ot the present home.

Another trip in this covered wagon was made to Oklahoma after the children were older. It was the custom to stop every few days to let the sheep graze for two or three days. The children played, as children will. This trip is best remembered because the children arose to play with the trace chains of the harness in the dry sand of the Pease river bed near Quannah. Some way the chains were buried and after three days search the chains were found.

Another eventful day on this trip was when John Robert cut Roy's thumb off. His mother placed it back and bound it up in mutton tallow and when they finally got the Doctor, he told them the mother had done as well as he could have and let it stay.

Many trips were made by Laura and Joe besides those by wagon. They traveled by buggy, by train, and by car. They made several trips to Tennessee by train.

When Grover Cleveland was President, he lowered tariff on wool, and sheep worth $7.50 went down to .50. The Strayhorns had 15,000 head at this time. It is rumored that Joe never forgot Grover.

In Snyder, Laura Strayhorn, the young bride, made three friends who helped her in many ways, Mrs. Lee Duckworth, Mrs. Gann, and Mrs. J. H. Nichols. They taught her to cook and keep house, she says.

There were eight children born to ths couple, John Robert, Roy, Marshall, the twins, Naoma and Leona, Cecil, Dorothy, and J. P. a wonderful family, where the father brought home guests nearly every noon meal, where the mother took the children fishing and one time the river separated the children from their mother.

This local personality has been active in the Methodist Church, in the Civic life of her community, and Lodge and Clubs. For about twenty years she was the fracious hostess to the Twentieth Century Club party for Grandmothers.

Laura and Joe celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in 1942.

Looking back over the notes that Mrs. Strayhorn's children so gladly gave me, I tried to pick out one special clue to this spirit I have tried to tell you about.

Was it the steel scared hand that drove the wagon on the sheep drive? Was it the determined member of the Methodist Missionary Society who wanted carpet for the Church aisles badly enough to pick cotton for it? Was it the gentle wife, Mother, and friend we all love?

I never could decide which characteristic seemed most important.

I am just glad I know her.

Study Club Has Program On Easter

Easter Faith was the subject of the program, given by Mrs. B. J. Bartels, at the meeting of the Twentieth Century Study Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Fred Beaty, west of city.

Mrs. I. W. Boren opened the meeting with an Easter prayer and Mrs. G. W. Hicks gave a talk on flowers and trees of the Bible. Mrs. Bartels then told the true meaning of Easter, which, according to her, brings out that Easter Faith is the faith in the living Christ and gives the cross its real meaning because without Easter the cross would have been a tragedy for our day, a long forgotten one. The Easter Faith is the assurance of the time for Christ and we who trust in Him shall live with him.

Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn and Mrs. H. J. Brice then gave a report on the Federation of Women's Club convention at Plainview which they attended recently.

Refreshments were then served to the 11 members.

Clean Bed For Kitty

A good bunk for your kitten may be made by lining a wooden box with heavy plastic that may be washed in a jiffy and give kitty a nice clean bed each time. If she doesn't like to sleep on plastic-some cats don't-put a washable pad on top of the plastic liner.

Cut large oranges in half and loosen with a small sharp knife the sections from the dividing membranes. Serve orange halves (with teaspoons for eating) for breakfast for a change.

Embellish those scrambled eggs you are planning to serve for lunch with cooked green asparagus (canned or frozen), anchovies, canned stewed tomatoes, creamed tuna or butterey-crisp croutons.

Way Of Leader Is Hard

The state of foreign affairs steadily becomes more complex and precarious.

Greece has made a strong appeal to the U.S. to intervene in the Cyprus affair. The Greek premier Constantine Karamanlis, speaking to a group of touring American publishers, put it squarely up to Uncle Sam.

Unless the U.S. intervenes, he said, the future of the free world would be a matter of "grave concern." He pointed out that Greece is under a Communist threat and in danger of being cut off from the West. "The West is handling the Cyprus issue as if it is buttering Russia's toast," he asserted.

In Moscow the radio promptly echoed this. It said the Cyprus dispute was "seriously weakening" NATO, and "recent events in Cyprus have intensified anti-American feelings in Greece."

That is a simple fact, of which Russia is no doubt proud.

The premier's remarks were later reinforced when the Greek foreign minister announced Greece was making "vigorous representations" to Washington. The State Department said it was "carefully studying all aspects" of the problem.

It's a bearcat, all right. Cyprus has more angles than you could shake a stick at, for if we go to bat for Greece we immediately turn against us one of our most dependable and powerful allies—Turkey. If we tell Britain to cease and desist, to get out of Cyprus, Britain will remind us that we advised them to get out of Suez to appease Egypt; they got out all right, and Egypt has been more rambunctious than ever.

Out of the frying pan into the fire. A concession here calls for another concession there; a friend in need taken care of here means a new enemy yonder. There is no end in sight. There is no balm in Gilead.

Verily, the way of the world leader is hard. And like the man on the bicycle, he has to keep pedaling to stay on. Do we tell the Greeks, "Go soak your head and cool off," or what? If we're wise we'll walk lightly and put it up to that handy catchall, the United Nations.

Some Clarification

Litigation over the desegregation issue is already occupying a good bit of the time of the U.S. Supreme and inferior courts, not to mention various state courts from inferior to supreme. Determination of the south to combat desegregation by "every legal means" could run into mountainous piles of litigation, for the subject has more angles than a porcupine has quills.

In a decision this week the net effect of which was to order the University of Florida to admit to its law school a Negro who has been trying to get in for seven years the Supreme Court gave a sort of review of its past actions.

It points out that years before it ordered desegregation of public schools in 1954 it had in three instances ordered admission to graduate school of Negroes "without discrimination as to color." (Two of those decisions affected the University of Oklahoma, the third the University of Texas.)

It cited these cases in overturning the Florida high court's ruling that graduate schools should have the same period of adjustment as was granted public schools. Not so, said the the highest court in the land; the case of graduate schools had already been settled when the public school order was promulgated, so the "make haste slowly" privilege granted public schools did not apply to them. Immediate compliance must be carried out.

A week earlier the high court held that the same desegregation order applied to public schools applied also to state supported colleges and universities.

Thus the Supreme Court has already put an immediate" tag on graduate schools (law, medicine, etc.) and in lumping state-supported colleges and universities with public schools presumably recognizes that these latter also have local problems to solve involving more time for adjustment. In doing so it implies that undergraduate colleges and universities do not necessarily have to admit, instanter, any and all colored students who apply for admission.

Penny For Your Thoughts

'Middle Ground' Is Difficult To Locate In The Controversy Over Desegregation

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

Life magazine publishes a letter addressed to the people of the northern states by William Faulkner, the eminent novelist. Mr. Faulkner is a native of Mississippi. He speaks as a Southerner who not only believes in "the simple incontrovertible immorality of discrimination by race" but also that this discrimination is an evil which will be cured eventually by the Southerners themselves. The point of this letter is to warn Northerners that discrimination will not be cured, will in fact become all the sharper, if legal coercion is used to enforce the Superme Court's decision.

Mr. Faulkner, as a Southerner who is opposed in principle both to segregation and to enforced integration, regards his position as being in the "middle." He sees himself as pressed from two sides between the Citizens Councils on the one hand, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on the other. He is between those who would uphold "white supremacy" by nullification of the Supreme Court's decision and those who would use the Federal power to abolish segregation. Where, he asks, will Southerners like himself go if Federal enforcement is attempted? They will go, so he says in effect, with the resistance of the Citizens Councils.

* * *

The burden of Mr. Faulkner's plea is that the Northerners should not now press for Federal enforcement. For this would make it impossible for Southerners like himself to work for the gradual acceptance of integration.

To this there is something which must be said for the Northerners who will understand and sympathize with Mr. Faulkner's argument. These Northerners include the President and Gov. Stevenson, and they are quite surely a majority today. But their position is threatened by the Southern extremists who not only proclaim the doctrine of nullification but, as in the Lucy case in Alabama, connive at mob violence.

For the moderate Northerners it is impossible to accept the gradualism that Mr. Faulkner advises if at the same time they have to acquiesce in what happened at Alabama University. To do so would be to surrender two elementary principles. One is, as Mr. Faulkner defines it, that discrimination by race is immoral. The other is that the laws of the Union ion. To acquiesce and not to probind all who live within the Untest would make the middle position unprincipled and in the end untenable.

* * *

The situation is one in which all the strong passions tend to run to the two irreconcilable extremes —towards the fierce defense in the deep South of the white way of life, towards a militant demand by the Negroes and their friends for the vindication of their indubitable human rights.

There is little reason to believe that the issue can not be deal with in the South as it was after the Civil War — by nullification with the assent of the North. There is a new dynamic factor in the situation today — the rise of the American Negro to a position of very considerable economic and political power.

We have seen the first beginings of what this may bring in the boycott in Montgomery. There the Negro population have practiced passive resistance — the classic tactic of weak and subject peoples. There is every reason to suppose that uncompromising and militant resistance by the Citizens Councils in the deep South will—if it closes the door to gradual reform—cause the Montgomery example to spread.

* * *

Yet we can have no great hope that mutual warnings like Mr. Faulkner's and mine, that these pious exhortations to reason and moderation, will in themselves be heeded. The basic weakness of the middle position is that it does not now, that it does not as yet, represent a practical and concrete program on which men of moderate temper have agreed to unite. Mr. Faulkner says "go slow now." But how slowly can we go without nullifying the Constitution? Northerners say, "Take your time but show good faith." But what would be enough compliance to prove good faith?

The Supreme Court has accepted the responsibility of judging these questions as they are presented to the Federal court. But what seems to be missing is a consensus of enlightened opinion as to what issues it is necesary and wise to present to the court and in what order. For the formation of such a consensus it may prove necessary to call upon the President for leadership.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The other night I tuned in the TV set and there was my old pal King Kong, he of the flaming eyes and monstrous apelike breed. It gave me quite a turn.

There was a somewhat younger Bruce Cabot running around in puttees, and my old flame, Fay Wray, whom Kong coveted. I stuck right with it to that climactic scene, you remeber, where Kong climbs the Empire State Building and those old World War I biplane Curtis Hawks come slanting with that ah-ah-ah-ack of machine guns.

It all took me back to 1933 before Hollywood ever had heard of television and "King Kong" stalked the neighborhood movie houses, fascinating or horrifying us adolescents according to our natures. Personally I caught it at a movie house known as the Royal on a dark and rainy Saturday night—ALONE.

Cursed by either cowardice or an overly active imagination, I made my way uneasily home through silent, rain-swept streets. The folks were out, I turned on a lot of lights and the radio and I was pretty brave for a while there until I heard the car in the driveway. Then I was ashamed of myself—and haven't mentioned it till now.

To be honest about it, I didn't just happen to tune the set to "King Kong." I heard people talking about it. The grassroots comment I heard on the reshowing of the old movie took two turns.

First, many oldsters were interested that youngsters who weren't alive to see Kong in his original movie tour are just as excited by him as the oldsters were when THEY were young. It was quite heart-warming to some to find that kids are still kids after all—despite the warped notions of some adults that they're an entirely different breed these days.

I also heard one or two adults express the view that "King King" just ain't fittin' fun for young 'uns.

At first I was inclined to agree with him. And then I remembered my own experience with Kong and thought what a sanctimonious attitude to strike in my old age. True, Kong had frightened me. But not enough to send me into a decline or ever put me in the hands of a psychiatrist.

In a way an old movie like "King Kong" probably does more good than harm. It gives us oldsters the pleasure of that old nostalgia. And it gives youngsters the pleasure of something brand new.

School Costs Grow

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Public schools in Montana have had to look for additional revenue this year to keep pace with enrollment increases. State financial aid was sufficient in the past two fiscal years. But this year all counties have been compelled to impose deficiency levies on local property. Montana's school enrollment jumped 5 per cent in the two-year period.

New Jersey Democrats Hope To Tie Ike To Some Activities That Are Under Fire

By JAMES DEVLIN

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) -- Democrats seeking to take New Jersey out of President Eisenhower's column say they hope to dispel a feeling he is "above politics" by linking him directly to administration activities that have aroused criticism.

Republican leaders predict Eisenhower will win by a larger margin than his 359,000-vote lead in 1952. They contend efforts to destroy his popularity will get nowhere.

That is the gist of opinion picked up on a reporter's political pulse-taking tour from Jersey City and Newark, through Trenton, to Camden.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner, the state's 47-year-old chief executive, puts the Democratic case this way:

"We have a job to acquint the public with the Eisenhower-Nixon record. Too often, the public have a way of disassociating what Eisenhower says and what his Cabinet or key people in the administration do."

On the other side, Republican State Chairman Samuel Bodine of Flemington says he has found the reaction of the average person to Eisenhower's second-term announcement is "excellent."

"They feel the country is safe in his hands," Bodine said. "They want him to continue on."

How about Eisenhower's health, since he suffered his heart attack?

"He made the decision to run," said Bodine. "He wouldn't have unless he felt up to it. We are willing to abide by that decision."

He said the Democrats would make much of the health question "but they won't fool too many people."

Bodine said he and the overwhelming majority of Eisenhower's supporters would back any vice presidential candidate the President favored. He said he has no objections to Vice President Nixon.

Raymond Bateman, executive director of the Republican State committee, said there has been a recent swing of public opinion in favor of Nixon.

A Democratic local office holder said his party's task is to dispel a popular feeling that Eisenhower is a "dispenser of peace and prosperity . . . above politics."

"How are you going to beat him?" he inquired, asking that he not be named.

But this man saw solace in 1948, when Harry Truman upset predictions by beating out highly favored Thomas E. Dewey.

The Democrats' realization that they have have an uphill fight to carry New Jersey, even though it has a Democratic governor, is given emphasis by Republican Bodine. He predicts Eisenhower will win by 400,000 votes.

But a sampling of public opinion shows there is strong Democratic sentiment too.

In Camden, workers of the New York Shipbuilding Corp. roundly booed Eisenhower when he visited there on a campaign tour in 1952.

Five or six workers, interviewed at the same intersection where the booing occurred, indicated they don't "like Ike" better now.

Robert Grimmie, a welder, of Berlin, N. J., while not attempting to speak for all the men in the yard, said many believe the Taft-Hartley law — though not changed—is being enforced more strictly under the Eisenhower administration.

He and others pointed to the lengthy Westinghouse strike. They contended mass picketing was banned but that the company was allowed to import busloads of strike-breaking workers.

Grimmie professed no great interest in what candidate the Democrats chose, whether Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York or Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

He said the main thing is to elect a man of Democratic philosophy, which he described as more favorable to the working man.

Meyner and most other Democratic leaders in New Jersey lean toward Stevenson. Kefauver has some followers. Harriman is reported to have some latent support, particularly in the Jersey City (Hudson County) area across the Hudson River from New York City.

William Egan, of Newark, peppery former Democratic chairman of Esex County, predicts that if it appears Harriman has any chance at all for the nomination he will be supported by 95 per cent of the state's convention delegation—"all except a few eggheads."

"Further," he said, "if a deadlock develops among Stevenson, Harriman and Kefauver, you can expect Truman to get the nomination. He will say he is more than 70 years old but that he will live longer than anybody. That's the way he goes about things."

The people you stop on the Street have a variety of views on the election.

A refrigerator salesman in Newark, all out for Eisenhower, said the country is "well off in his hands." He predicted Eisenhower would win by a larger margin than before.

But Ludwig Scapati, a mechanic, of Newark, said, "The Republican party is done. Ike promised too much. The Republicans are doing nothing to help the poor people."

Bulganin's Thirst Might Mean Peace By Paralysis

By INEZ ROBB

Ben Franklin, the most remarkable of Americans, wrote to his friend, Josiah Quincy, that "there never was a good war or a bad peace."

So in this spirit I am ready to hail a revival of the old Wilsonian concept of peace at any price, even gin. If Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin's devotion to Martini cocktails, to which the Russian chief says he was introduced by President Eisenhower during the Summit Converence in Geneva last Summer, continues, the weary world soon may be weaving a crown of juniper leaves for peace.

At a recent Moscow reception at the Danish Embassy, Mr. Bulganin toasted the President, world peace and international amity as he downed more than 24 Martinis and champagne cocktails, a lethal load comparable to 10 megatons or the large, economy-size hydrogen bomb.

During this awesome performance, Mr. Bulganin credited the President with opening "The Martini Road at Geneva." Eventually, the premier exited under his own power, a splendid testimony to the fact that the age of miracles is not past.

While good will flowed like gin at the Danish Embassy, the diplomatic corps caught a new, novel and powerful approach to world peace, via juniper juice. It glimpsed a day when man may be able to hold his peace if first he can hold his gin.

During the Danish reception, Mr. Bulganin generously referred to the Martini as an American cocktail. But if peace comes via this agency, the world will owe it to the Dutch, a little research shows. Gin is the invention of Holland. It underwent further refinements in England, once it leaped the channel.

As every survivor of the noble experiment knows, America's chief contribution to the distillation of gin was a desperate Prohibition variety known as "bathtub." If a batch failed to eat the enamel off the tub, it was a sure sign the brew would have a similiar respect for the teeth and, therefore, was potable.

Mid-20th century of the Martini who regard 10 parts of gin to one of vermouth as par (the Molotov cocktail was scarcely more destructive) will be amazed to learn that a century ago the prime recipe prescribed "one pony of gin and one wineglass of vermouth, shaken over two small lumps of ice."

These two small lumps of ice would have outraged the late, great friend of the Martini, Historian Bernard DeVoto, whose recipe for it began, "First, take 500 pounds of ice."

Of course, it is too early to predict the effect the new Bulganin policy of peaceful co-existence via the Martini will have on either international or national politics.

There are those on the domestic scene who believe it may cost Mr. Eisenhower the julep, rye-and-ginger ale and the corn licker vote. On the other hand, the Martini vote alone probably is enough to return him to office next November.

Internationally, the Bulganin tactics could well mean peace by paralysis.

Civil Rights Course Now Causing Misery For Demos

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic party has the miseries. Democrats, facing their convention next summer, don't know now whether it will blow the party to bits in a fight over civil rights and segregation.

Their immediate problem is to keep the Democrats in Congress from exploding before the convention. The fuse has been lit by 101 Southern Democrats in Congress: 19 senators, 82 representatives.

They said—in an extraordinary "manifesto" declaring legal war on the Supreme Court's ruling against public school segregation —that: "We pledge ourselves to use all lawful means to bring about a reversal of this decision."

Some who signed did so reluctantly. Some may have signed strictly for political reasons at home. And not all Southern congressmen signed. But it can be taken for granted plenty who signed were not bluffing.

That the Southerners may back the manifesto with some effort in Congress to block the court's ruling hangs like a threat over the whole party, which needs solid ranks if it hopes to win this year. Already there is talk of a third party.

If the Southerners in Congress try to make good on their manifesto, they will be deliberately walking into a fight, perhaps a party - splitting fight, particularly from Northern and Western Democrats who call themselves liberals.

But if the congressional Democrats reach convention without a blowup, the party then runs into a problem which is daily becoming more acute as some Southern states struggle to preserve segregation.

This is it: Civil rights and segregation have become such issues that the party can hardly avoid taking a stand on them in its platform and in the open convention. But how can the convention please both sides: Southerners and the "liberal" wing?

The uncertainty created by the Southerners spreads in other directions too.

Adlai Stevenson, anxious for Southern support in seeking the presidential nomination, has been issue that he sometimes sounds so moderate on the segregation vague.

As a result of this manifesto he may, before convention time, be pushed or needled into much blunter statements that will lose him Southern or some Northern support. Perhaps he can avoid this fate. He's pretty good with language.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democrats' Senate leader, has been mentioned as a likely presidential candidate for a third party. He's a shrewd politician. If he has presidential ambitions, they probably do not lie with a third party. It couldn't win. It could only wreck the Democrats.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Dining Rooms In U. S. Are Becoming Outdated

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON - The name dining room no longer fits. This is especially true of farm homes across the country, according to the Department of Agriculture, which reports that a survey conducted by the Pennsylvania Experiment Station shows that only a few of the many families who had dining rooms ate there.

Instead, according to the report, dining rooms are being used for sewing and ironing, for play and for study by the children, or for family recreation. Most of the families (96 per cent) covered in the study of room use in farm houses in five communities had their meals in the kitchen.

In addition, it was revealed that far more time was spent by the family in the kitchen than in the dining, or even the living room. The dining room was rated as the room least used. Most families did much of their "living in the kitchen, the report says, using it for a place to rest, have their meals, to listen to the radio, watch TV, read and visit as well as to do such varied jobs as cooking, canning, grading eggs, churning butter, caning chairs and even making soap.

The study, the Department of Agriculture says, "indicates that before building, or making over a home today, farm families need to plan rooms according to today's use." This, it seems, might even hold true for homebuilders in urban areas.

Music for some of the gay doings given by the military here is frequently supplied by an Air Force quartet called "The Jumping Jacks." The story is that Col. George S. Howard, who is in charge of the music for the Air Force, heard the musicians back in California when they were mere civilians. He thought they were so good that he persuaded their parents to let them enlist in the Air Force.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

THE LION OF JUDAH HATE PREVAILED. By Christine Sandford. Macmillan.

This new biography of Emperor Haile Selessie of Ethiopia, really two books in one, it both authoritative and enlightening.

It is primarily the personal story of the courageous ruler of this vast African kingdom in the 25 years since he came to the throne, how he was driven into exile by the Italian armies in 1936 and how he reclaimed his native land in triumph in 1941.

It is secondarily a detailed documentation of political changes within this Ethiopian empire since the Biblican days when this desert and jungle kingdom was ruled by the Queen of Sheba. And this volume brings history up to date to include both the Italo-Ethiopian war and more recently, the active role played by an Ethiopian regiment with the United Nations forces in the Korean war.

Christine Sandford has written the book with the official assistance of the archives of the Ethiopian government. She has lived there for many years and founded the English school in Addis Ababa. Her husband, Brig. Gen. Sandford, first went to Ethiopia in 1913 as British consul and later became adviser to Emperor Selassie.

Most touching are the passages discribing his return from exile in England to regain his throne when the Italians were driven out by Allied forces during World War II.

Selassie is an extremely religious man and is head of the Coptic Christian Church in his country as well as being Head of State. He is also most concerned with advancing education among his people, having build several colleges from his own personal funds.

UPSIDE-DOWN HAM LOAF:

Butter
3 tablespoons light brown sugar
½ inch rings of unpeeled apple
1½ pounds of ends or trimmings of boiled ham
2 eggs
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 tablespoon of grated onion

Melt a little butter and 3 tablespoons light brown sugar in heavy iron skillet and completely cover bottom with half-inch rings of unpeeled apples. Cook until fruit is slighty browned. Grind ham and mix with eggs, bread crumbs, mustard, and onion. Spread this mixture evenly on top of fruit and pat down. Bake in moderate oven about 40 minutes .Pour surplus fat and turn loaf onto a heated platter .Garnish with parsley or watercress.

PEACH PRALINE PIE:

One 9-inch baked pie shell
4 cups sliced peaches (two 29-oz. cans)
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon almond extract

Topping:
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup coarsely broken walnuts
1 cup cron flakes

Drain the peaches thoroughly. Measure out 1¼ cups of peach syrup. Combine the syrup and cornstarch in a pan, and cook over low heat until clear and thickened, stirring constantly. Add peaches, rind, juice and extract. Cook slowly for 10 minutes stirring occasionally. Cool slightly ,pour into baked pie shell. Chill. Sprinke with praline topping. To make the topping, melt butter or margarine and brown sugar in saucepan. Bring to boil and cook about 1½ minutes. Remove from heat, add walnuts and corn flakes. Toss lightly with fork. Cool, and top peach pie with the topping.

Temptations Great For Young Rickie

TULSA, Okla (AP)—Life is full of temptations for 8-year-old Rickie Reynolds, whose allergies range from A to Z.

Like most youngsters, he has cravings for chocolates, fruits and pet animals but he can't have them. When he fudges and eats something he shouldn't he develops a headache, an itch, a wheeze, a cough or a runaway nose.

"Rickie is allergic to just about everything God put on this good earth," said his mother Mrs. Pierce James Reynolds.

He can't stand feathers or hair so his pets are a pair of goldfish.

A robust third-grader, Rickie has to weigh his playing against the consequences. When he runs and breathes faster he inhales dust and pollen which set off reactions. The lad is unable to swim in pools treated with chlorine.

Mrs. Reynolds said his allergies change from time to time and as a result he was given 87 test injections last year to discover whether he had developed any new ones.

His body apparently builds up immunity to certain drugs and often new medicines are substituted, she said.

Every day Rickie is dosed with pills, ointments and a vitamin capsule to counteract his multitude of allergies.

He washes with special soap which costs 40 cents a cake. He gets two inoculations every Saturday.

Fresh milk, pillows, starch in his trousers, one type of sulfa drug, flannel clothes and rugs are a few of the things taboo with Rickie.

Doctors have told the family Rickie's allergy encompasses 65 per cent of his blood cells.

Reform Bill On Elections Is Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP)—An elections reform bill now sponsored by 85 senators came under sharp attack from the United Automobile Workers today. The union called it inadequate and in some respects harmful.

"The bill gives the appearance of action towards clean elections without providing the necessary substance to implement that appearance," said an analysis of the bill prepared by the UAW's Washinton office.

The statement was given to members of the Senate Rules Committee, to which the measure has been referred.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas introduced the bill for himself and Republican Leader Knowland of California on Feb. 28.

One of the many objections raised by the UAW was its contention that under the bill "no political committee, other than a political party or branch, can operate at all without the written authorization of the candidate or candidates whom it seeks to support."

It said that under this provision "independent organizations such as labor political action groups, civic groups, (and) third parties might be prevented from carrying on their traditional political activities."

The UAW maintained the bill is so drafted that "an individual could spend a million dollars in support of a candidate without his authorization, whereas an independent political group could not even spend a hundred dollars without the candidate's written authorization."

The bill would increase the present law's campaign spending limits which apply to any one organization, but would fix an over-all limit on funds to be spent on behalf of any candidate. Johnson has said it is aimed, among other things, at requiring full reporting of campaign expenditures and contributions.

Police Cars To Come In Assorted Colors

DETROIT (AP)—Suburban Dearborn has ordered 23 new police cars—in assorted colors.

"Oh, they'll be beauties," said Mrs. Marguerite C. Johnson, public safety commissioner. "Pretty reds, pinks, blues, greens and other colors. Even the word police will be in complementary colors."

"Black is so drab," she said.

DEATH CHEATED—After having her blood completely changed twice within a few hours after her birth, Rebecca Joyce Mull, lets out a lusty yell as she poses with her mother, Mrs. C. L. Mull, of Midland. The blood change was made after doctors determined Mrs. Mull's blood was Rh Negative and the antibodies were building up in the baby's bloodstream. Two transfusions of O-Negative blood saved the infant's life.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

THE BIGGEST TASK FACING Canyon Reef Relay officials Saturday is running off the 440-yard dash.

As of yesterday, there were 64 boys entered in the quarter-mile race and there'll be several more added to this list before Saturday.

It looks like now that there'll be at least nine heats and maybe more in the preliminaries Saturday morning in the 440.

Only eight boys can qualify for the finals set Saturday afternoon so that means at least one heat winner won't qualify for the finals.

The quarter-milers will be racing against time in the preliminaries, the eight best times turned in to make up the finalist field.

It's possible but highly improbable, of course, for all eight boys in one heat to qualify for the finals.

Before all individaul event entries are in, there may be some other events as loaded as the 440-yard dash.

It's going to take a lot of help to run off the track meet here Saturday and the Qrarterback Club is asking all its members and others to lend a hand.

If you are free Saturday and would like to pitch in and help out at the track meet, be on hand for tonight's special QB meeting at the high school cafeteria at 7:30.

Assignments will be made tonight for the various duties in staging this show Saturday.

Canyon Reef Relays Growing Popular

There's a lot of work, to be sure, in staging a track and field meet, especially one as large as the Canyon Reef Relays, but the recognition the community gains through conducting a show such as this is priceless.

There'll be several thousand words written on the Canyon Reef Relays Saturday as at least 13 West Texas newspapers will be giving special coverage.

The better any show is the more widely known it becomes. Apparently the teams who have competed in the Canyon Reef Relays before were satisfied with the way things were run because most of 'em are coming back.

Several schools entered in the Canyon Reef Relays have been going to the Southwestern Recreational meet at Fort Worth each year.

This year, though, the Fort Worth meet is falling on the same weekend of the Canyon Reef and consequently several West Texas schools are passing up the big show at Fort Worth to come here.

Local Citizens Can Help Keep CR On High Plane

It's up to the citizens of Snyder to keep the Canyon Reef Relays on a high plane. Anything you can do to make our hundreds of visitors welcome this weekend will certainly help.

Some 500 athletes will compete here Saturday and a little applauding here and there as they perform will make them feel good and want to come back to Snyder in the future.

We hear by the "grapevine" that Jack Spikes will visit the Texas A&M campus this weekend.

The report we got was that an Aggie alumnus from Big Spring was going to fly the Tiger star and the Abilene Eagle "backfield" to College Station Saturday for a look-see at the Aggie campus.

The Ags would certainly be getting a prize package if this trip pays off.

North Texas coach Odus Mitchell was in the stands Saturday night for the Tiger - Exes game and he apparently liked the looks of some of the Tiger seniors.

Mitchell is reportedly seeking to lure tackle George Herring and guard Shorty Grimmett of last fall's 1-AAA champion Tigers to North Texas.

Lot of coaches are overlooking Grimmett because of his size but I believe they're making a mistake. These college scouts may be sorry one of these days for bypassing Shorty.

IN NCAA PLAY

Dons Face Toughie In UCLA Friday

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Western and Eastern quarter-finals are the next step in the long haul to find the 1956 basketball champion in the NCAA Tournament, which already has proved a booby trip for favorites and offers nothing but a dead end for at least three of the current top five major college winning streaks.

The best game of the tourney to date shapes up tomorrow night at Corvallis, Ore., when firing resumes after a two-day break with defending champion San Francisco meeting fired-up UCLA. It's an opening game for both in the title chase.

Something's gotta give in that one. San Francisco is nursing the best winning streak ever in major college play with 51 consecutive victories; UCLA has the No. 2 winning string at the moment with 17.

Next in line in successes is Southern Methodist and Alabama, both with 16, and Ioa with 14. Alabama is the only sure bet to carry an unbeaten streak into next season—the Tide passed up the NCAA since its five starters are four-year men and ineligible.

All the other streaks will be on the line tomorrow night, however.

The Dons (25-0) and UCLA (21-5) open the Corvallis twin bill that sends Seattle (17-8) against Utah (22-5), the Skyline champ, in the nightcap. The other portion of the Western quarter-finals is set for Lawrence, Kan., with SMU (23-2), king of the Southwest, meeting Houston (17-5), the Missouri Valley winner; and Oklahoma City (19-6) playing Kansas State (16-7), the Big Seven champ.

In the Eastern quarter-finals, Iowa (17-5), the Big Ten champion, tackles Morehead (Ky.) State (18-9), and Kentucky (19-5), subbing for 'Bama as the Southeastern Conference entry, plays Wayne (18-1) in a double-header at Ioa City. At Philadelphia, it's Connecticut (17-9), the Yankee Conference winner, vs. Temple (22-3), the Middle Atlantic choice; and Dartmouth (17-00) the Ivy League champ, vs. Canisius (18-6).

Such first-round favorites as North Carolina State, Holy Cross, West Virginia, Manhattan and DePaul already have been brushed off, while SMU, Oklahoma City and Seattle had a tough time before shaking off underdogs.

Tomorrow night's winners will meet Saturday at the same sites, leaving two Western and two Eastern teams for the title semi-finals at Evanston, Ill., March 22. The East-West winners then play for the national championship March 23 at Evanston.

Ex-UT Diver Dies In Crash

DALLAS (AP)—David Greig (Skippy Browning Jr., one of the greatest divers in the history of sports, has been killed in a plane crash, the Navy announced yesterday.

Browning, 24, a lieutenant (j.g.), was killed Tuesday night when his Navy jet plane crashed near Rantoul, Kan., shortly after takeoff. He was based at Moffett Naval Air Station, near Mountain View, Calif., but had been operating from the auxiliary station at Fallon, Nev. He was on a cross-country navigational training flight from Olathe, Kan., to Denver, Colo.

Browning, who started diving when a tot at Corpus Christi, Tex., was the 3-meter Olympics diving champion in 1952, holder of four National Collegiate Athletic Assn. championships and numerous Amateur Athletic Union championships.

He was planning to prepare for the coming Olympics, his father said here last night. The parents live in Dallas. His wife lives in Mountain View.

Born in Boston, Mass., Skippy moved with his family to Corpus Christi when he was 3 years old. He won his first diving prizes by the time he was 10. As a high school student in Dallas he was three times state diving champion on the 1-meter springboard.

After a semester at Wayne University, Detroit, Mich., he transferred to the University of Texas where he was Southwest Conference diving champion on the 3 and 1-meter springboards for three years.

In 1952, he accomplished what no other diver has: He won the AAU, NCAA, and Olympic diving championships. In 1954, when he won his last AAU championship, Skippy was 65 points ahead of his nearest competitor.

Saxton Regains Welter Crown Amid Protests

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — (AP) Cruel-jabbing Johnny Saxton again held the world welterweight title today, but a hue and cry thundered for a rematch with dethroned and hopping mad Carmen Basilio. It may come in June.

Saxton won a unanimous 15-round decision over Basilio in a nationally televised scrap at the Chicago Stadium last night which left most of 11,373 paid patrons and a host of video fans hollering that Carmen was short-changed.

Basilio bleated that the title was "stole" from him.

The International Boxing Club said no rematch had been contracted, but admitted that one now was "definitely possible."

Seldom has a title match here stirred so much controversy, although there was no doubt in the minds of the three officials that the busy, ever-moving Saxton had won.

Basilio snarled that the deck is stacked against him in Chicago after three defeats in as many starts here.

The referee, Frank Gilmer, called it for Saxton 144-142, while Judge Ed Hintz voted for Johnny 145-138 and Judge James McManus, 147-140. The AP had Saxton ahead 145-142.

On the other hand, a ringside poll showed a 13-7 preference for Basilio among the experts covering the fight. Basilio's majority came entirely from Eastern writers, while Saxton's backing was all Mid-western.

Unquestionably, Basilio forced the pace, but the sledgehammer attack that won him the 148-pound crown from Tony DeMarco last June 10 and flattened DeMarco again in a Nov. 30 rematch was missing.

"They don't score double hooks here," growled Basilio.

On the other hand, Saxton was an effective, if retreating sharpshooter. Using a stiff left jab with authority all the way, he smashed a nick over Basilio's right eye and had the champ's nose bleeding in the fourth.

Amarillo Pulls Out Of Tourney

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Coach Bob Carter of Amarillo College said yesterday that the college had disqualified itself from playing in the National Junior College Basketball Tournament next Tuesday.

Amarillo won the privilege of representing Region 5 in the national tournament at Hutchinson, Kan., by defeating the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla., in the finals of the regional tournament here last week.

The school disqualified itself when it found out that its star player, Negro guard Charles Brown, was technically ineligible for the regional tournament because he failed to earn enough scholastic units at San Francisco City College before entering the service.

The Cameron Aggies will represent Region 5 in the national tournament.

Abilene Becomes 37th CR Entry

Abilene became the 37th school to enter the 4th annual Canyon Reef Relays slated Saturday at Tiger Stadium.

The Eagles, however, are only sending their "reserves" since the main portion of the squad will compete in the Southwestern Recreational meet at Fort Worth this weekend.

Abilene is entering 12 boys which boosts the total entries to 460. There are still eight schools who haven't submitted their entry list.

Another favorite loomed over the horizon this week for the Canyon Reef Relays title in the Pampa Harvesters.

The Harvesters last week placed second in the Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham with the Abilene Eagles placing first.

The Harvesters, coached by Dwaine Lyon, will be led by Ed Strickland who grabbed high point honors at Graham with 13¼ points.

Strickland won first place in the shot put and broad jump in the Possum Kingdom Relays. The Harvester ace tossed the shot 49 feet 8½ inches and leaped 21 feet six inches to capture the broad jump title.

Strickland's broad jump performance was a new Possum Kingdom record. His feat in the broad jump at Graham also is better than one foot over the Canyon Reef record of 20-5.

Midland, the defending champion, continues as the meet favorite but the Bulldogs may be pressed by the Harvesters for the 1956 crown. Midland finished fourth in the strong Border Olympics last week.

Pampa rolled up 21 points at Graham as compared at Abilene's 35. Big Spring, another Canyon Reef entry, finished third behind Pampa in the Possum Kingdom with 20.

Big Spring is featured by Bobby Fuller who won the mile run at Graham in 4:41.7.

Midwestern To NAIA Q-Finals

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Eight survivors from an original field of 32 headed into the quarter-finals of the National Intercollegiate (NAIA) Basketball Tournament today with Western Illinois leading the parade.

Western Illinois, No. 1, was among five seeded teams that survived yesterday's second round setting down Pacific Lutheran 72-67. Three seeded teams were eliminated.

Other results yesterday:

Midwestern (Wichita Falls, Tex.) 93, Geneva (Beaver Falls, Pa.) 75; Tennessee A&I 62, Eau Claire (Wis.) 61; Wheaton (Ill.) 74, Stephen F. Austin 66; McNeese (Lake Charles, La.) 87, Central (Ohio) State 74; Texas Southern 64, Rockhurst 61; Pittsburgh (Kan.) State 99, Georgia Teachers 72; Gustavus-Adolphus 69, San Diego (Calif.) State 60.

Competetion Keen For Cub Outfield

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

The competition for regular outfield jobs on the Chicago Cubs is tighter than a bank vault after closing time.

Manager Stan Hack said today, "once it gets straightened out this team might cause some trouble in the National League."

It'll take a lot of deciding because the Cubs, seeking to improve on their sixth-place finish of last season, have almost as many outfielders as some teams have pitchers.

They include Hank Sauer, Monte Irvin, Walt Moryn, Jim King, Solly Drake, Gale Wade and Bob Speake.

Then there's Eddie Miksis, tabbed for utility, and Ted Tappe, a .260 man in 23 games for the Cubs last season.

Some of the experts are giving the nod to Sauer, Drake and Moryn. But there's still lots of spring training to go before the regular campaign begins April 17.

Drake and Sauer got one hit apiece and Irvin and Moryn went hitless yesterday as the Cubs snapped the Giants' four game winning streak 5-2. Rookie third baseman Don Eaddy clubbed a two-run home run for Chicago, which got four-hit pitching from Sam Jones, Don Kaiser and Johnny Briggs.

The Cincinnati Redlegs handed the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers their fourth defeat in five starts 6-3. The Redlegs scored all their runs in the sixth inning.

The St. Louis Cards scored five times in the third to beat the Detroit Tigers 7-4.

The New York Yankees had good and bad news for their followers. The regulars bowed to the Boston Red Sox 2-0 while the "B" team nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates "A" squad 8-5.

The Red Sox got four-hit pitching from Bob Porterfield, Frank Baumann and Jerry Casale. Tommy Byrne was a wild man for the Yankees, walking four. He was charged with the loss.

In other games, Bobby Shantz sent Kansas City's stock up a bit by turning in a one-run job for three innings although the Athletics bowed to the Milwaukee Braves 5-2. Rookie catcher Earl Averill homered in the seventh inning to give the Cleveland Indians a 7-6 victory over the winless Baltimore Orioles. Washington scored nine runs in a third-inning rally sparked by Julio Becquer's bases-loaded triple to beat the Philadelphia Phillies 10-6.

QUARTERBACKS MEET TONIGHT

All members of the Snyder Quarterback Club who would like to help run off the Canyon Reef Relays Saturday are urged to attend a meeting tonight, at the high school cafeteria.

The meeting will start at 7:30.

Assignments will be made at the meeting for workers for various events and other details for Saturday's track and field meet.

J. B. Davidson, club president, will preside at tonight's meeting.

TO MIDLAND, 15-1

Tiger 9 Drops Season Opener

The Tiger baseballers, with only one day's workout behind them, dropped their season opener yesterday when they bowed to the Midland Bulldogs, 15-1, at Midland.

Midland who had played four games before yesterday's tilt with the Tigers, collected only nine hits off two Tigers pitchers with wildness of the Tiger-pitching duo running up the score.

Wayne Prince opened on the mound for the Tigers and gave up five hits and five bases on balls for 10 runs in four innings. Alan Snead finished up by allowing four hits, four walks and one hit batsman for five runs.

Jim Owens went the route for Midland and gave up only two hits. One of the Tiger bingles accounted for the lone marker by the Snyderites.

The Tiger tally came in the fourth inning when Ronnie Baker walked, stole second and came home on a single to left center by Neal Boyd.

Second baseman Joe Reaves was the only other Tiger to hit safely.

Despite their lack of trainning before the game, the Tigers committed only three errors afield.

The Tigers will go to Big Spring tomorrow for their second game of the season. Snead is due to draw the starting mound assignment for the Tigers against the Big Springers.

Wayland Queens In Another Easy Win

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Wayland College, riding a 73-game winning streak, runs into fourth-seeded Iowa Wesleyan in a semifinal game of the Women's National AAU Basketball championship today.

The Flying Queens of Wayland (Plainview, Tex.) continued their high scoring ways by running over Philander Smith College of Little Rock, Ark., 80-19 in yesterday's quarter-finals.

Wesleyan, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, defeated the Pine-Sol Queens of Jackson, Miss., 62-44; Nashville (Tenn.) Business College beat Kansas City Midland Jewelry 36-31; and Omaha Commercial Extension ousted Clarendon (Tex) Junior

Podres Ordered To Report Next Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—With the quickness of reflex action, World Series hero Johnny Podres has been ordered to report for military service next Monday in a selective service move within 24 hours of a blast at draft boards by Ted Williams.

The induction order was released yesterday, taking Podres, who southpawed the Brooklyn Dodgers to the world championship last fall, by surprise.

"I guess this is it," he said at the Brooks' Vero Beach, Fla., training camp. "I'll fly home (Witherbee, N.Y.) and spend a few days with my family before I go.

"I thought I had at least 30 days."

Podres originally had been ordered to report for induction today by his Ticonderoga, N.Y., draft board. But is was expected he would receive a month's grace when he obtained a transfer to a New York City board.

Ike Statement May Foreshadow Renomination For Dick Nixon

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's statement that "I would be happy to be on any ticket" with Vice President Nixon was interpreted by senators of both parties today as foreshadowing Nixon's renomination.

"That ought to end any rumors the President might have another running mate," Sen. Mundt (R-SD) told an interviewer. He said the Republicans are now in a position to push ahead with their campaign "while the Democrats don't even know who their head man will be."

Eisenhower made the statement, and accompanied it with fresh praise for Nixon, in commenting at his news conference yesterday on the New Hampshire primary in which more than 22,000 Republican voters wrote in Nixon's name for GOP vice presidential candidate.

Eisenhower said the vote indicated "lots of people" in New Hampshire "agree with what I have told you about Dick Nixon."

Nixon didn't commit himself on running again, although friends said there is no doubt of his availability. He issued a statement saying:

"There could be no greater reward for a man in public life than to have the President speak so generously as he has of my work on several occasions during the past three years. All I can say is that I shall try to continue day by day to do the best job I can in behalf of the Eisenhower administration."

In another statement, Nixon said "no one could have been more surprised than I was" at the size of the write-in vote for him in New Hampshire.

Sen. Schoeppel of Kansas, new chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, said, "I am glad to see the President make that statement because many of us on Capitol Hill feel the same way about it. . . . The New Hampshire write-in demonstrates Nixon's popularity with the people."

Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California and Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said Eisenhower's statement appeared to be an endorsement of Nixon for renomination.

Labor Survey Is Conducted

LAMESA (AP)—Cotton farmers in 16 counties are being surveyed by the government to see if they owe more money to Mexican contract workers they used last fall.

Ed McDonald of the U.S. Department of Labor said the prevailing wage, set in surveys made last fall, was $1.75 per 100 pounds of cotton picked. The minimum for hiring a bracero under the U.S.-Mexico agreement was $1.55 per hundred.

He said farmers who paid the $1.55 minimum will be required to pay 20 cents more per 100 pounds of cotton picked by an alien worker. The money will be turned over to the Mexican Foreign Ministry.

Wright Boyd, president of the Dawson County Cotton Growers Assn., estimated the added 20 cents would cost Dawson County farmers alone about $75,000.

Counties being surveyed are Borden, Cochran, Dawson, Fisher, Gaines, Haskell, Howard, Jones, Knox, Midland, Nolan, Scurry and Tom Green.

Blaze Razes Big Building

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—A spectacular fire destroyed most of the 105-year-old administration building at the state mental hospital here early today, doing millions of dollars worth of damage.

Seven hundred and twenty patients were evacuated from patient wings, parts of which also went up in flames.

Miss Ronda Farris, a staff member who lived in the administration building, suffered a cut or burn on one foot, but there were no reports of other injuries.

At the height of the blaze it could be seen for 10 miles and the glow was visible in Jefferson City, state capital 25 miles to the south.

Clarence Burton, engineer and fire chief at the hospital, said he did not know how the blaze started. He added however, that the electrical wiring in the building was in "bad shape."

C. Rouss Gallop, state director of public health and welfare, and B. E. Ragland, Director of the Division of Mental Diseases, estimated it will take three million dollars to replace the damaged building.

Mother Kildeer Has Fouled Up Building

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An expectant mother kildeer, a species of the American plover, has fouled up construction in a 45-home tract.

For three weeks she has been guarding four eggs in the nest she fashioned of concrete scraps on the lot where one of the houses is supposed to go.

Lloyd Palmer, assistant superintendent, has bypassed this section of the tract, waiting for the bird to hatch her eggs, and has built all around it. Ma Kildeer shows no indication of leaving for some time.

"We've got to get going," Palmer said. "Maybe we can turn the nest over to poultry people for handling."

KEFAUVER IS THEIR MAN—Kefauver campaign workers cheer the announcement in Manchester, N.H., that the Tennesseean senator was headed toward a resounding victory over non-participating Adlai Stevenson in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation presidential primary. All 12 delegate candidates pledged to support Sen. Kefauver's second bid for the Democratic presidential nomination were leading supporters favorable to Stevenson, the Democrats' 1952 standard bearer.

Students Want Ship Named After Grants

GRANTS, N.M., (AP)—Fifth grade students here see no reason why the first atomic-powered cruiser shouldn't be named the USS Grants.

They built and sent to the Navy Dept. a model of a cruiser—along with 10 pages of reasons why it should be given the uranium town's name. The model was mounted on a chunk of uranium ore.

The youngsters were turned down on an earlier request that an atomic submarine be given the name. The Navy said submarines were named for deep sea fish.

"Grants supplied the uranium," said the kids. The town is on the edge of the uranium-loaded Colorado Plateau.

Crude Oil Demand Down For April

AUSTIN (AP)—Demand for Texas crude oil for April is down purchasers indicated in nominations to the Railroad Commission yesterday.

The nominations for next month total 2,955,612 barrels per day, off 27,471 from March.

The commission's statewide proration hearing will be held tomorrow.

The agency also will have its annual hearing on how chief executives of the industry feel about the stock situation and the outlook for this year.

The survey of top level views calls for reports on what the company heads consider adequate crude and product levels nationally, minimum days' supply, scheduled imports and the outlook on domestic demand for 1956.

The demand for winter heating oil now past its peak, a cutback in the allowable flow of Texas crude is expected for April. Permissive production now is at an all-time high with 17 days of flow allowed statewide and in the big East Texas Field during March.

Nominations for April oil are down in eight commission districts, up in four. Nominations by districts:

1. Southwest Texas: 59,769 barrels per day up 592 over March.
2. Southwest Texas: 152,293, down 1,470.
3. Gulf Coast: 441,400, up 1,[illegible].
4. Southwest Texas: 247,745, down 2,494.
5. East Central Texas: 45 587, down 1,237.
6. East Texas (outside): 121,434, down 3,093.
6. East Texas Field: 226,087, down 3,779.
7-B. West Central Texas: 174,029, down 12 255.
7-C. West Central Texas: 190,633, up 2,177.
8. West Texas: 984,179, down 12,244.
9. North Texas: 210,050, up 5,604.
10. Panhandle: 102 406, down 918.

Gulfstream Park used more than 3,000 gallons of paint in preparation for its March 3 opening.

Plains Get Light Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A light snow, mixed with a freezing drizzle, fell in the Panhandle early Thursday. The Weather Bureau said the sub-freezing temperatures would penetrate deeper into Texas.

The snow was expected to extend in the northwest part of North Central Texas. Occasional rain was predicted for the rest of the state Thursday. The Weather Bureau said the front was wearing out and that clearing skies would follow the snow.

Dalhart and Amarillo reported snow and freezing rain. Childress had freezing rain. Light drizzles were reported at Lufkin, Galveston, Houston, Corpus Christi, Alice, San Antonio, Austin and College Station.

Temperatures ranged from 25 at Dalhart to 59 at Brownsville. Amarillo had 28, Lubbock 34, Abilene 48, San Antonio and Waco 50, Wichita Falls 36, Lufkin 47 and Texarkana 42.

Large Capacity

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—A small man with a large capacity for liquor admitted in court that he drank 50 glasses of beer and a quart of whiskey in five hours prior to an auto accident. Allen S. Peckham, 43; pleaded guilty in District Court to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $125.

CAMEMBERT CHEESE CROQUETTES
. . . hors d' oeuvre, entree or dessert

Dowry Of Cheese Secures Gourmet-Peasant Wedding

The basic cheese eaten by everyone from the peasant to the gourmet, has garnished many a casserole and lent calories to many an economy meal. Our entry in the wedding of the pesasnt and the gourmet league with an economy referee is cheese stuffed cabbage.

CHEESE STUFFED CABBAGE

1 head cabbage (medium size)
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green peppers
1 cup bread cubes
Dash of black pepper
½ pound grated sharp cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce

Cover cabbage with large amount of boiling salted water; cook 30 minutes. Drain. When partially cooled remove center of cabbage, (to approximately 1 - inch deep and 4½-inches diamters); chop and reserve. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in skillet. Add onion green pepper, chopped cabbage, bread cubes, salt and pepper. Cook until slightly browned. Remove from heat. Stir in cheese. Stuff cabbage. Place in greased baking dish. Blend 2 tablespoons melted butter and tomato sauce; pour over cabbage. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until filling is browned.

CAMEMBERT CROQUETTES

6 (1 1-3 ounces) portions chilled Camembert cheese
1 egg, beaten
½ cup dry bread crumbs

Cut chilled Camembert wedges in half to make two wedges. Dip chilled wedges into beaten egg, coating completely. Dip into bread crumbs, cover thoroughly. Fry in deep fat (375 degrees F.) until golden brown, about ½ minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve immediately. Makes 1 dozen. These croquettes can be served as hors d'oeuvres or as an unusual dessert when served with grapes or other fruit. Large portions make Lenten entrees.

MACARONI AND CHEESE WITH OLIVES

2 cups uncooked macaroni
2 ½ quarts water
2 teaspoons salt
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
½ pound cheddar cheese, grated
1-3 cup sliced stuffed olives
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter, melted

Cook macaroni in boiling water, with two teaspoons salt added, for about 10 minutes, or until tender. Drain and rinse with hot water. Melt 4 tablespoons butter in top of double boiler, over boiling water. Add flour, salt and pepper; stir until blended. Add milk gradually and stir until sauce is thick and smooth. Add cheese, reserving ¼ cup for topping. Stir sauce until cheese is melted add olives.

Place macaroni in a 2½-quart casserole; pour sauce over it. Pour melted butter over bread crumbs and toss until all are coated. Sprinkle remaining ¼ cup grated cheese and the buttered crumbs on top of macaroni. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 20 minutes, or until topping is nicely browned.

CHEESE CORN RING

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
¾ cup milk
1 No. 303 can cream style corn
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 pimiento, chopped
½ pound grated cheese
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
Salt, pepper
4 eggs, beaten

Make a cream sauce with the butter or margarine, flour and milk. Add the corn, onion, pimiento, cheese, crumbs and seasonings to taste. Add the eggs and mix well. Thoroughly grease a quart ring mold. Pour in the corn mixture, and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 1 hour or until firm. Unmold and fill the center with cooked vegetables or cheese mushroom sauce.

CHEESE MUSHROOM SAUCE

1- 12 ounce jar cheese spread
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped pimiento
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom pieces and stems
6 hard-cooked eggs

Melt butter in skillet. Add green pepper, celery, and onion. Cook until tender. Add cheese spread, pimiento, drained mushrooms, and coarsely chopped eggs. Heat and stir until cheese melts. Pour into cheese corn ring or molded rice ring or over toast or waffles.

CHEESE SOUFFLE

4 tablespoons shortening
5 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
Dash of cayenne
1½ cups milk
1 cup grated yellow cheese or smoked cheese
6 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon colored
6 egg white, stiffly beaten

Melt shortening in saucepan, add flour, salt, paprika and cayenne and blend well. Add milk gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese and stir over low heat until cheese is melted. Remove from heat. Add beaten egg yolks, and blend thoroughly. Fold in beaten egg whites Pour into 1½-quart greased casserole and place casserole in pan of warm water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40-50 minutes. The souffle should have a golden brown crust on top. Serves 6.

CHEESE MOLD FOR FRUIT PLATE

1-3 cup instant cream
½ cup boiling water
1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
1 tablespoon cold water
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup sliced stuffed olives
1-3 cup chopped nuts

Dissolve instant cream in boiling water. Soften gelatin in cold water, add to instant cream and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add instant cream mixture gradually to cream cheese, mixing until blended. Stir in remaining ingredients. Turn into 3 cup ring mold. Chill several hours until firm. Unmold on bed of green and surround with fresh or canned fruits. Makes 8 servings.

KRAUT CHEESE ROLL

1 No. 2½ can sauerkraut, drained
2 cups grated American cheese
2 tablespoons chopped onion
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons milk

Combine kraut, American cheese, onion, green pepper, pimiento, egg, bread crumbs, mayonnaise, salt and sugar mix well. Shape into a roll about 14-15 inches long; wrap in waxed paper and chill overnight.

Combine cream cheese and milk; blend well. Spread on top and sides of kraut-cheese roll. Garnish as desired.

CHEESE WALDORF SALAD

1 6-ounce package chive cream cheese
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
3 cups diced fresh apple
½ cup broken walnut meats
½ cup diced celery

Let cream cheese soften at room temperature. Beat until creamy; add mayonnaise and lemon juice; blend well. Add diced apple, walnut meats and celery. Mix lightly until all ingredients are well blended and chill about 1 hour. Serve in lettuce cups. If desired, this salad can be served in a red apple shell.

WELSH RABBIT

1 tablespoon butter
1 pound aged cheddar or sharp cheese, grated
½ cup ale or beer
1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
½ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
Salt to taste

In top of double boiler or in chafing dish over hot (not boiling) water, melt butter and cheese. As cheese begins to melt, gradually stir in ale or beer. Cook only until smooth and hot. Stir in seasonings and serve immediately on hot crisp toast in heated individual casseroles.

For a sharper rabbit, increase the Worcestershire sauce to as much as 1 tablespoon. If a thinner rabbit is preferred, stir in additional ale or beer. An equal amount of cream may be substituted for the ale or beer.

HOT FISH CHEESEBURGERS

1 pound fish fillets
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup catsup
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 tablespoon horse radish
Dash of pepper
½ teaspoon salt
8 hamburger rolls
16 thin slices American or sharp cheddar cheese

Place fish, water, and ½ teaspoon salt in saucepan. Cover, bring to a toil, and simmer 5 minutes. Drain. Flake fish. Combine mayonnaise, catsup, onion, horseradish, pepper and ½ teaspoon salt. Add fish and mix until well blended. Split rolls and toast lightly. Spread heaping tablespoons of fish mixture on each half. Top with slice of cheese. Place under broiler until cheese melts and is lightly browned. Serve at once. Makes 16 servings.

Painting Sets Off Disputes

CHICAGO (AP)—The prize-winning painting in the Art Institute's annual Chicago exhibition may or may not be hanging upside down. If it is topsy-turvy, institute officials say they won't be red-faced.

A couple of students examining Anna P. Baker's painting, "High Frequency Ping," noted that the artist's name was written upside down in the right-hand corner.

The painting is an intricate composition of countless triangular and diamond shapes, and the signature is in the same color as the dominant color of the painting.

Did art officials bungle and hang "Ping" pong-side up?

Or did the artist indulge in a bit of whimsy and sign her name in its least conspicuous spot?

Miss Baker, who lives in Cleveland but qualified for the contest as a recent graduate of the institute, wasn't immediately available for comment.

A spokesman for the institute was, however. And he said:

"1. As you know, artists frequently will turn their pictures—even portraits—upside down to get a better look at it. So that's not unusual.

"2. In this particular painting, Miss Baker told us she had worked on it for nearly a year. I think she might have been a little blind to it by so much work. It's detailed and intricate.

"3. This painting, because of its composition, can be hung in any way. There is no exact image, such as you would have in a portrait, which could normally guide an exhibitor. The effectiveness of the composition is not altered in this case.

"4. Finally, contestants were told to label their paintings in the upper left hand corner of the back of the painting. This then indicates which is the top, and guides us in hanging the picture properly. That is the way Miss Baker's painting is hung."

The judges gave the painting the show's top prize—the $1,500 Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan Award.

British Irked At U.S. Over Cyprus Issue

LONDON (AP) — Resentment against the United States — including charges of American meddling—boiled up among Britons today over the Cyprus issue. But the Foreign Office indicated a surge of tension between the two governments had eased.

The Foreign Office said it has "no criticism to make" of the U.S. State Department's stand on the dispute between Greece and Britain over the future of the British island colony.

The State Department denied last night the United States was taking sides and offered to help find a "fair and just solution."

This conciliatory declaration was issued in Washington after British anger was sparked by a statement of U.S. Ambassador Cavendish Cannon to Greece yesterday.

Cannon expressed to the Greeks, who want to annex the restive island "the sympathetic concern of the U.S. government over recent developments in Cyprus.' The statement was the target of furious attacks in almost all British newspapers. Most of them viewed the envoy's remarks as outright meddling.

Today a spokesman of the Foreign Office told a news conference, however, Britain considers the latest Washington pronouncement supersedes Cannon's statement.

"There will undoubtedly be further discussions with the United States on this subject,' he said.

There was an hour-long discussion today of the United States position on Cyprus by U.S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich and Minister of State Anthony Nutting. The Foreign Office summoned Aldrich for that talk. British officials said such a conference was normal procedure following the hurried British request to the State Department last night for an explanation of Cannon's statement.

The Cyprus issue was up for debate in the House of Commons today.

PARTING COMPANY—Comedian Sid Caesar and Nanette Fabray, the leading lady on his television program, shown together in a recent picture, are parting company. Their representatives issued a statement saying they "had not been able to arrange for the continuance of Miss Fabray's association with 'Caesar's Hour' beyond the present season ending in June." The actress was quoted as saying she had asked for a release from her contract.

THE PLACE IS WRECKED

Chimp Makes An Impression

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike the chimpanzee is brooding in captivity today, but he put on a 10-hour solo circus on the lower East Side yesterday and last night that will be long remembered.

Mike is 5 feet tall, 5 years old, and weighs 90 pounds. Night club entertainer Frank Quinn bought him for $500 from a Detroit zoo.

Mike arrived at Quinn's fourth-floor apartment Tuesday. Quinn gave him the run of the flat.

At noon yesterday, Mike went into action. Through an apartment window he went, showering glass and breaking his fall on the way down by grabbing onto a clothes line.

Then he scrambled up an air-shaft into the third-floor apartment of Ellis Leipson, a night worker who was asleep. Leipson wakened to the sound of furniture moving and ran out into the hall yelling: "He's in here!"

Mike, leaving the apartment a wreck, whipped past police and neighbors in the hallway and headed roofward.

A crowd had gathered below, and apparently Mike appreciates an audience. He chinned himself from ledges, made prodigious leaps from building to building in the area and spun around on TV aerials.

Back into another building he went, with his would-be captors in full cry. In a hallway he took a painful but minor bite out of the arm of agent George Zenkewish of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

He met his Waterloo on the seventh floor of a commercial building on East 7th Street. He dashed into an unoccupied ladies room and the door was slammed shut on him.

Police got a box, braced it with a heavy jack and then cut a hole in the washroom door. Ammonia, ether pads and a foming fire extinguisher were tossed into the room. The conglomertion finally drove Mike into the apparent safety of the box, and he was carted off in a patrol wagon to an ASPCA shelter. By then it was after 10 p.m.

Quinn was given a summons charging him with violation of the city's sanitation code.

New Stalin Stand Given

ROME (AP) — Italian Communist party chief Palmiro Togliatti, just back from Moscow, says Joseph Stalin did a lot of good for communism—but a lot of harm too.

Togliatti outlined the new stand on the late Soviet dictator in a report to the Italian Communist Party Central Committee on the Soviet Party Congress last month in Moscow.

"Stalin was and remains a great figure in all our movement for what he has given to the creation of the Bolshevik party . . . Stalin was a great marxist thinker," Togliatti said.

"But this is not to say that everything Stalin has done or said must be heard always as something true and definitive, as something right in all its aspects.

"A more attentive examination reveals positions which are innocent, inacceptable, incomplete."

Officer Held For Looting

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief John L. Russell said today a thief trapped one of the city's policemen.

The chief said Patrolman Robert L. McBane admitted looting stores for four years. And to add to the Police Department's embarrassment, he used a police cruiser on some of his activities, Russell said.

McBane's double life was discovered, the chief said, when another man, George Bontempt, admitted stealing property from a cabin owned by McBane.

A gun, two sets of dishes and an electric saw taken from the cabin had been stolen from various East Liverpool stores. Russell said McBane, 35, father of two children and a policeman for 10 years, admitted the thefts.

McBane was charged with breaking and entering and held on $1,500 bond.

Peiping Described As Beautiful City

Editor's Note—Lois Mitchison, British newspaper writer, took a two-month tour of Red China. This story, written for the Associated Press, was forwarded through Hong Kong.

By LOIS MITCHISON

PEIPING (AP)—Peiping is still one of the most beautiful cities in the world.

You come in by train under great gray walls into the station. You drive to your hotel past the Gate of Heavenly Peace... the red walls of the old imperial city ... the yellow-tiled roofs and marble bridges of the imperial palace... the Five Dragon Pavilion... the Buddhist pagoda ... the Altar of Earth and the Temple of Heaven ... the Mongol round city of the Pei Hai ... the temple of Confucius ... red-pillared pavilions ... crumbling courtyards ... ancient tombs of the Ming and Ching dynasties.

You still can see the old city as it was built, box within box. First the main city walls, split by enormous gate towers. Then the red imperial walls and finally the imperial palace, the inner city once forbidden to all except the old Chinese imperial court.

Now the ancient city displays the habiliments of the newest China, tailored by Communists.

New high buildings break the old Peiping skyline. Two stark concrete hotels sit in the center of the city. Many-storied office buildings crowned with green tile roofs loom over the twin lakes and their delicate bridge of white-carved marble.

Still shrouded in scaffolding, a tower rises in front of the Tien Mien, the Gate of Heavenly Peace which opens on the Forbidden City. It blocks the famous vista from the imperial throne through the palace and city gates of Peiping. Besides the tower a giant crane broods, symbol of Red China's industrial bent.

The tower is dedicated to the new state's "labor heroes."

The Gate of Heavenly Peace, facing on Peiping's biggest square displays two enormous banners—"Long Live the People's Republic of China!" and "Long Live the Union of World People!"

As you cross the stone causeway to the Temple of Heaven—most acred building of the old Chinese empire—you face a large map of Formosa and the slogan: "Taiwan (Formosa) is Chinese land. The Chinese people must liberate Taiwan."

Other slogans flank the temple entrance.

Everywhere are banners: "Produce hard!" "Develop labor emulation!"

Another symbol lies to the north side of the Temple of Heaven. It is the city execution ground.

Price Daniel Is Receiving Many Letters

DALLAS (AP)—Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex) was en route today to an honorary degree from Howard Payne College after reporting a "flood" of air mail letters asking him to run for governor.

The senator flew from Washington and is to receive the degree at Brownwood tomorrow.

He said in Washington last night that an estimated thousand air-mail letters had been received following his request that Texans let him know whether they want him to run for governor.

The request was made during recorded radio and TV talks Monday night. He said he wanted to hear from 25,000 Texans by March 26.

Daniel said he had received about a thousand telegrams bearing 1,579 signatures.

He said he expected letters sent by regular mail to start arriving tomorrow.

Meanwhile, Hugh Roy Cullen, multi-millionaire oilman who has supported many political candidates financially, appealed to Daniel to keep his Senate job.

Cullen yesterday released the text of a telegram he sent Daniel, saying in part "....We need you in Washington at this time far more than as governor of Texas. You may rest assured that the funds from the radical elements in New York, Detroit and other large cities of the north will not succeed in influencing the good citizens of Texas, for they want no part of Socialism."

Among the letters Daniel has received were several containing small contributions for campaign expenses.

Daniel's trip to Texas was delayed by the farm bill vote in Washington. He was forced to cancel an address before the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn. in Fort Worth yesterday and before the Weatherford, Tex., Chamber of Commerce last night.

Beef Buying Plan Sought By Cattlemen

FORT WORTH (AP)—Resolutions asking a beef purchase program and other government emergency programs to aid drought stricken ranchers were adopted at the closing session of the Texas and Southwest Livestock Raisers Association here yesterday.

All of the resolutions, which association officials said were recommended to prevent cattlemen in the region from being forced into bankruptcy, were passed without a dissenting voice.

The resolution asked:

That the government institute a program for the purchase of beef, with particular emphasis on beef furnished by cattle in the drought area.

That in the drought stricken areas the government soil conservation program be operated on a plan that would not require the soil owner to match the government's contribution because the landowners are financially unable.

That the emergency program with reference to livestock feed in the drought area be liberalized and expanded. The great need in that area being protein feeds.

That a liberal and practical program for long term financing of people engaged in agriculture in drought areas be developed by government agencies, liberalizing their administrative procedures and reducing interest rates.

The association also authorized appointment of committees to study the beef grading system and to work with the Texas Agricultural Water Committee. The group voted to urge penalties in event land was used improperly under the soil bank program and to keep the program for the eradication of brucellosis on a voluntary basis.

John Biggs of Vernon was elected president. He succeeds Roy Parks of Midland who has served two terms.

Edgar Hudgins of Munger was named first vice president and Norman Moser of DeKalb, second vice president. Charles Stewart was re-elected secretary and general manager.

Houston was selected for the 1957 convention.

The Hollywood Park racing meet at Inglewood, Calif., will run 55 days this year, from May 11 through July 25.

TINY MASCOT—"Pancho Lopez," 25-ounce toy fox terrier, seems right at home in his master's cowboy boot. The four-month-old pup, owned by Bill Pletcher, was recently elected mascot of the East Harlingen Kiwanis Club.
