Veterans Administrator Hines believes 2,550,000 veterans of the more than 3,000,000 holding the adjusted service certificates would avail themselves of the loans. Interest on the loans would be charged at 4½ per cent instead of six per cent as now. Veterans are now allowed up to 22½ per cent of value of bonus certificates. The average loan available to a veteran would be $500.

BOARD TO HOLD WHEAT

GRAIN UNIT TO HAVE LARGE CARRYOVER

CHAIRMAN LEGGE SAYS 200,000,000 BUSHELS HELD BY JULY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—Possibility that the grain stabilization corporation might hold as much as 200,000,000 bushels of wheat by July 1, was seen today by Chairman Legge of the farm board.

He said that should this possibility materialize the 200,000,000 bushels would comprise nearly all of the domestic carryover.

Cash Wheat Held

Holdings of cash wheat of the stabilization corporation, Legge estimated at approximately 100,000,000 bushels.

He gave no estimate of the holdings of the corporation represented in May futures.

Regarding March futures, however, he said the corporation would take delivery. Asked if the March futures totalled 10,000,000 bushels, he said he doubted they were half that much.

He expressed the belief that the calling of the March future contracts would not "disturb the market a particle."

POLICE HOLDING MAN ON EXTORTION CHARGES; KERRVILLE BANKER VICTIM OF THREATS; "FIRST PAYMENT" MADE

(By The Associated Press)

KERRVILLE, Feb. 19.—Police here expected today to file charges against a man held in jail, accused of obtaining $100 from L. A. Schreiner, Kerrville banker and wool buyer, as "first payment" on a demand for $3,000 made in two threat letters. Both missives were signed "labor."

The man was arrested in a hotel room here yesterday where he was trailed by detectives who saw him direct his 11-year-old son to pick up the envelope containing $100. Shcreiner, at the direction of detectives, had left the envelope at a spot designated by the threat letter, in an alley behind the Schreiner wool warehouse.

A first threat note received by the banker on Feb 10, demanded $3,000 and threatened him with injury if he did not comply. Schreiner went to San Antonio, solicited the aid of Police Commissioner William Wright, and "Rich" Tucker, San Antonio city detective, returned to Kerrville with him.

JOHN LUSK IS SHOT EARLY THURSDAY

SHOOTING IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN ACCIDENT; GUN IS FOUND

Victim of gun wounds suffered shortly after midnight this morning in a field two miles east of Lubbock, John Lusk, 24-year-old farmer, died a few minutes before one o'clock in the Lubbock sanitarium this afternoon. The shooting, according to Lusk, was an accident.

While the shooting was thought to have occurred about 12:15 a. m., Lusk was not discovered until almost three hours later and only after he had crawled a half mile to the farm home of Clifton Barrier, two miles east of this city.

Calls For Help

The wounded man's calls for help awoke Barrier while Lusk was still a short distance from the house. Barrier said that he dressed hurriedly and went into the yard, arriving at a time when Lusk fell onto his porch.

A call was quickly sent in to the city and a Rix-Sanders ambulance rushed the man to the Lubbock sanitarium where an operation was performed. A blood transfusion, in which more than a quart of blood was taken from a younger brother of Lusk also was found necessary.

He was suffering from three large wounds in the intestines and 56 smaller wounds.

When found, Lusk refused to explain how the shooting occurred but later told officers that he had heard someone prowling about the farm of Jerry Burns, where he was employed, and got up to investigate. He further said that he took the shotgun, a .410 guage and followed the prowler about three-quarter of a mile from the house. At this point he stated that he had to crawl through a fence and in doing so the shotgun was accidentally discharged, the full load

Nationwide Scramble To File Income Tax Returns Begins; May Show Drop

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The 1931 series of the American taxpayer's classic, the battle of income returns, is in full swing and will continue until St. Patrick's day.

The nationwide scramble to file returns on incomes received during 1930 will come to a close by governmental mandate at midnight, March 16. This is one day later than usual because March 15, the customary deadline date, falls on Sunday.

Income taxes paid during 1930 amounted to $2,332,968,393, about $170,000,000 less than the total payments in 1929. Depressed business in 1930 is expected to result in considerably diminished returns this year, offset to some extent by the higher tax rates.

Was Temporary Measure

The one per cent reduction in taxes on income of 1929 was a temporary measure only, the rates on 1930 incomes reverting to the level of those of 1928.

The reversion to the old rate, deemed necessary because of a treasury deficit, is the only change in income tax requirements. The normal tax rates on individual net income for 1930 are one and one-half per cent on the first $4,000 in excess of personal exemption and credits, three per cent on the next $4,000, and five per cent on the balance.

Surtax Unchanged

The rate of tax on the net income of a corporation is 12 per cent. The surtax rates on individual net income in excess of $10,000 remains unchanged.

Returns must be filed by single

"DUNKERS" AND "CRUMBLERS" KEEP ON FIGHTING; EMILY POST TALKS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 19—The battle of the "dunkers" and the "crumblers" over the most delectable method of introducing cornpone to potlikker had homesick southerners in a far counry watering at the mouth today.

While most of them separated into the two main camps, others transformed the controversy into a widespread engagement threatening the very foundations of the south.

Irvin S. Cobb, of Paducah, Ky., author of "Eating in Two or Three Languages," said:

Marathon Bridge Game Is Latest In Rages; Hubbies Are Going Foodless

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Gentlemen, pick a good restaurant for the marathon bridge game is here.

Four women started it at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and was still going on today.

Their husbands, arrived at their respective homes for dinner last night, found nothing but the breakfast dishes in the kitchen sinks.

Telephone calls brought the information there would be no more meals this week.

The marathon started at the home of Mrs. Ralph Ford and might have gone on there indefinitely if Ford hadn't imported their poker playing husbands and started a card game of his own. The women thereupon summoned automobiles and departed—still playing—for the home of Mrs. Charles Thiel, where they were still playing today.

By midnight one woman had a high score of 16,021, by reason of seven grand slams and other good playing.

"It suits me fine," said the delicatessen shop owner on a nearby corner.

CHILDREN AND THE MOVIES

PARENTS BURN up a lot of energy condemning movies in general, and a few in particular. In the meanwhile most of them let their children go without much restraint, and slip to the theater themselves about as often as they find it convenient to do so.

I have a notion that most parental heat about movies has been expended off the vital factor.

No doubt some pictures are entirely harmful for children, through unwholesome suggestions which lead to undesirable conduct. Nevertheless, this aspect of the movies has perhaps been exaggerated. Children, particularly adolescents, pretty generally take the attitude: "Well, that's just a movie stunt!" They come to expect certain performances which they consider as unreal, and accept them more or less as mere jokes. Even the bizarre and impossible so frequently presented are no doubt interpreted by them as mere movie tricks.

* * *

Suggestions of relaxing marital relationship clearly appear to be harmful when exposed forever to the adolescent. But the greatest harm is not to them, I do believe, but to the young and middle-aged married couples, an item which seems to have been wholly overlooked by critics. Wives and husbands who live pretty closely in accordance with convention and standard of marital fidelity get a lot of suggestions from the movies which had never occurred to them before.

For the young child under ten or twelve the movies may be over-exciting, contributing to disturbing dreams and general nervousness. The sleep he loses while attending, the habits of neglecting school work, and the habit of going, and seeking canned excitement, in addition to exposure to communicable diseases, are all indescribable. Wise parents set definite age limits for first attending movies in the public theaters. Most children go much too young and far too often.

How absurd that school children should be allowed to frequent the moving picture theaters on evenings before school days. Parents who are concerned about the school success of their children are strict about these matters.

Parents find it easy to limit attendance by their children at the movies by naming definite nights and a definite number limit per month or school term.

Loans Explanation Is To Be Presented

Explanation of procedure in securing loans on adjusted compensation certificates will be made in full at the meeting of the Allen Brothers post, American Legion, to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Carl Van Hoorebecke, field representative of the American Red Cross and long time service officer at Joplin, Mo., will be the principal speaker at the gathering.

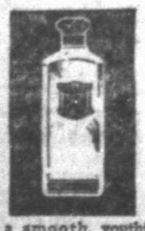

Every ex-service man of the immediate territory is invited to attend the session tonight, according to Glen Hess, commander of the post. Mr. Van Hoorebecke will explain the present status of the adjusted compensation certificate, making a 50 per cent loan value instead of 22 1-2 per cent.

Ex-service men will be called upon tonight to express their opinions of the bill now in the hands of the United States senate for passage regarding the veterans loans.

Owing to low copper prices and pre exhaustion, the once thriving mining camp of Latouche, Alaska, has been abandoned.

Good health engenders confidence

today business demands healthy men and women—and more than ever it is the survival of the fittest . . .

POOR health is a distinct drawback to progress in business or social life. Underweight, lack of appetite, sluggishness, a dull mentality, nervousness and even skin disorders—boils and pimples—show their mark on the body, face and mind when the red-cells are deficient in number. (See enlarged blood picture above.) Moreover a low red-blood-cell condition makes the system an easy prey to disease. When your red-blood-cells are only 80% you are NOT yourself—60% is dangerous.

The way to correct this condition is to take S.S.S.—the tonic that will help Nature build up and enrich your blood. PREVENTION OF FIRE PLANNED

PLANS FOR ALL-YEAR PROGRAM MADE IN CITY WEDNESDAY

With H. D. Woods as chairman, a meeting of the fire prevention committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday afternoon at the city hall at which time plans for an all year fire prevention program were considered.

When recommendations of the committee have been endorsed by the board of directors of the chamber, the program will be launched. During the intervening period, investigations will be underway in connection with fire prevention efforts.

Members of the committee are:

Chairman Woods, Wesley Read, Gregg James, John Crisler and W. E. Twitty, chief of the city fire department.

Applications Signed.

The committee Wednesday signed applications to enter the Inter-Chamber Fire Waste contest sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce. Ratings will be based upon the amount of improvement accomplished in fire prevention in a year.

Five major points of the program adopted by the committee to be presented to the chamber directorate are:

1. To make a study of the needs of the fire department to determine whether the personnel and apparatus are sufficient in quantity and quality to cope with fire conditions in the community.

Mr. Crisler and Fire Chief Twitty were appointed to conduct this investigation.

2. To study the water supply from a fire protection standpoint, such a survey to include a check of the distributing system, number and location of hydrants, size of mains, pressure and allied points.

3. To secure the standardization of hose couplings to meet the national standard so as to make possible the exchange of fire department service with adjoining cities if emergency arises.

4. To make a study of traffic conditions to insure the rapid response of apparatus to alarms in any section.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Reed were appointed to make this study.

5. To make an investigation of the fire protection afforded surrounding rural sections and to take steps to secure additional rural protection if necessary.

Other items will be added to the program later, the fire prevention committee reported.

Next meeting of the committee is scheduled for March 18 at chamber of commerce offices, where Wednesday's assembly was held.

Futile Gesture

Edgar Lee Masters, the poet, had a very good time digging up the bones in the cemetery at Spoon River and making the ghosts talk. When he wrote his anthology he rattle the bones of everybody from the village milliner to the neglected wives.

Now he has gone back to the cemetery again, but this time he is trying to tear down a monument . . . the memorial that lovers of democracy everywhere have dedicate to Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Masters would take it right out of the graveyard and not even leave a marker.

The author of the new Lincoln book describes Abraham Lincoln as a petty politician.

A petty politician could scarcely have led a nation through the harrowing days of 1861 to 1865 and bound up its bruises at the close. It isn't likely that he would have expressed a sound theory of government that became symbolic of democracy around the world.

The shrines which have been erected to the memory of the great president have roots too deep for the little tin spade with which Mr. Masters must do his digging. They won't be moved.

And after all, even though the author might have expressed a truth here and there, we wonder why he considered it his duty to remove carnations from the cemetery again. The world has all too few heroes. It needs someone who is upright and staunch and stalwart to revere. Influence is very strong. They who take away trust and faith from others perform a wrong.

But Abraham Lincoln has his place. The book won't injure him. It was merely an unnecessary gesture which belongs in the cemetery where Mr. Masters appears to like to linger.

Through With Life

Anthony Mangino, 63, of Guttenberg, N. J., is reversing the whole code of criminal conduct. Most men who are given a death sentence plead for life imprisonment. If they can live, they will accept the prison background, they say, and while they say it there is a note of hope in their voices. Some day they think there will be a pardon.

But Anthony Mangino is different. He has been given a 20-year prison term for the murder of his wife, Rose Marie, and he has been pleading with Judge Charles M. Egan to give him the death sentence instead.

Magino will be a very old man when his 20 years are over. The chances are that he will die sometime during the period. But even at that it is unusual for a man to ask for the privilege of sitting in an electric chair.

Maybe Magino's age will explain it. He is through with the useful period of living. He has reached that age where men look backward, dream dreams, and remember. And naturally Rose Marie, who was his wife, comes slipping back with his yesterdays. He has said that the shooting was an accident which occurred when the two were struggling for the possession of a revolver in their grocery store. His backward look isn't going to be a happy one. He hasn't any future for which to hope. His play didn't end with the encore. It isn't surprising that he wants to die.

The Road Hog

THE "road hog" has been a nuisance ever since automobiles became common. We never quite realized what a real menace he is, however, until we saw an analysis of traffic accidents recently issued by the Travelers Insurance Company.

Of more than 560,000 traffic accidents in 1930, the insurance officials found, 68 per cent were caused by drivers who were guilty of one of these three faults—refusing to give the right of way to the car that should have had it, exceeding the speed limit, or driving on the wrong side of the road.

THE PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a lot of people would have lived to a ripe old age if they hadn't had the right-of-way.

* * *

PERHAPS The Plainsman is just peevish. Maybe growing fat and baldheaded have weighted him down to a point where he's just looking for trouble. But whatever may be the reason, he's of the opinion that too many Lubbock motorists are paying too little attention to 'stop' and 'slow' signs at various residence intersections.

* * *

At least one driver in every three refuses to come to a stop at the rubber signs on Avenue Q at Main, Broadway, Thirteenth and Sixteenth streets.—and not more than one in three slows down any when crossing Sixteenth at Texas, and in passing the George M. Hunt school on Avenue M.

* * *

There may have been a dozen accidents caused by the same carelessness, but The Plainsman knows of at least one serious smash, a couple of months or more ago, when some youngsters ran a stop sign and crashed into a car with the right-of-way. Several people were hurt, one badly.

* * *

IT'S gotten to the point where it is impossible to educate careless drivers through any other method than slapping a heavy fine on them or giving them a couple of days in the hoose-gow. If the officers would 'get tough' a time or two, people would soon learn that even if they have no regard for their own hides, they must have some regard for the other fellow.

* * *

The Plainsman doesn't know whether other motorists are similarly affected, but he has figured that the safest thing to do is let the other fellow have the right-of-way, even if there's a stop sign or a slow sign legally blocking the other fellow's rapid progress. Having the right-of-way doesn't help you any when you're stretched out on the operating table.

* * *

Under normal conditions, when traffic is clear, running a traffic block is such a little thing that some of our best citizens do it without thinking they're doing anything wrong. But it's the old percentage—that one time in a hundred—that makes it serious. That's the time when a driver runs a stop sign and knocks somebody else two notches this side of Kingdom Come.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says this may be an awful country but in Paris men are wearing earrings.

* * *

FORMER University of Texas students, football and baseball bugs, will be interested to learn that Oscar 'Big Os' Eckhardt, peer of punters in Southwest conference annals, is having a difference of opinion with the Detroit Tigers. Oscar, who led the swatsmiths of the Texas league from bell to bell last year, thereby setting an all-time record, reports that he and the Tiger management are at loggerheads over his 1931 contract. In a recent letter to The Plainsman, Os noted that his 'baseball days will be over if the Detroit club doesn't come through.'

* * *

Hitting of the type Eckhardt has always featured, was one of the main things the Detroit team didn't have last year and it looks like Messrs. Navin and Harris will come across before they let one of the greatest natural sluggers in the minors hang up his spiked shoes. Eckhardt's many friends here and over Texas will be watching with interest the outcome of his debate with the major league outfit.

* * *

If a girl doesn't rouge the chances are she believes discretion is the better part of pallor.

* * *

To the victors belong the spoils! Whatever may be said of Governor Sterling, it cannot be charged that he has forgotten to reward his 'shock troops' of the past summer's campaign. His latest cognizance of work well done was to appoint Paul Wakefield, one of his numerous campaign publicity men, a major on the staff of the adjutant-general.

* * *

INCIDENTALLY, Mr. Wakefield comes from Houston—which is one of the prime requisites for honor under the present administration. He formerly was assistant to the publisher of the Houston Chronicle, which publication, in a front page editorial, was the first to urge Sterling to enter the race for governor.

* * *

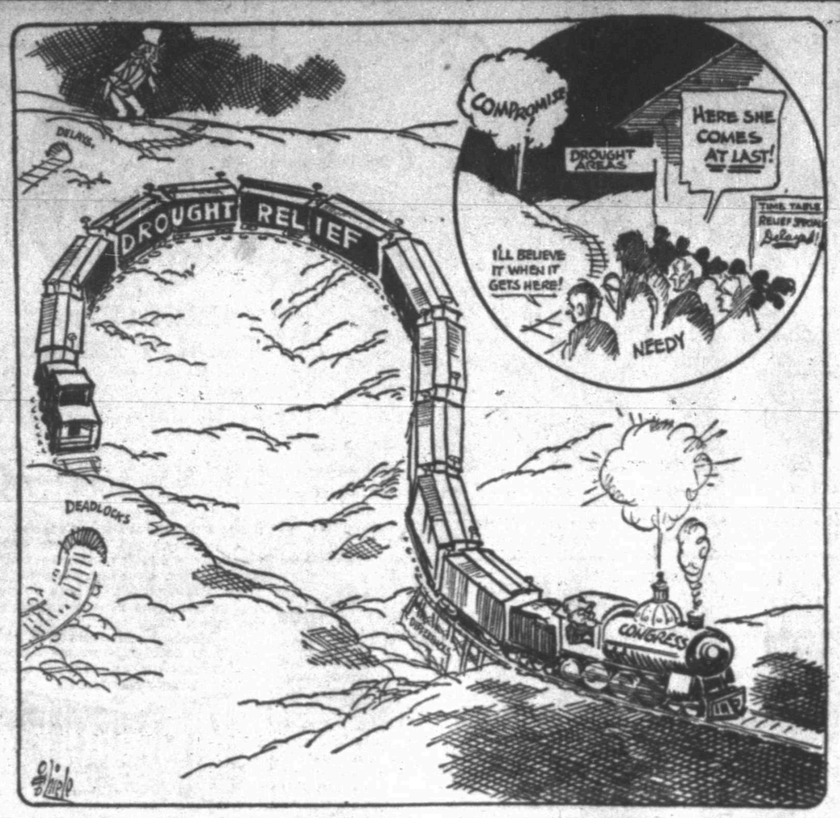

However, in all fairness to Governor Sterling and Major Wakefield, the selection is not one to apologize for. Polished, suave, cultured Mr. Wakefield will make a good front man for the administration whenever and wherever he is called upon to serve. With Amarillo's shrinking violet, Mayor Ernest Thompson—the latter a former combat colonel and World war figure—Major Wakefield will represent Texas at the burial ceremonies for America's Unknown Soldier.

* * *

"Just think, my dear", lamented the talkative wife to her husband, one half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives"!

"There, there, honey", he soothed. "It certainly isn't your fault."

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes"—Byron

Senator Morrow, Whose Election Aroused Interest In National Politics, Studies, Asks Questions, Listens

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. — Mr. Dwight Morrow of New Jersey, who aroused national if not international interest by his successful campaign for the Senate last fall, has since been most conspicuous for his silence.

He has yet to arise on the Senate floor and has yet to introduce a bill.

He has been studying plenty. He has been talking to a lot of people, first asking questions and then listening.

He has voted consistently with the administration on such controversial issues as relief and power regulation.

He has been active socially, in response to the shower of invitations which a man of his prestige was bound to receive upon entering public life in the capital. Incidentally, you can often judge the extent of a man's social activities here by whether he shows up in the morning unshaven. Most men hate to shave both in the morning and again before going out in the evening. Some senators do, but millionaires such as Morrow usually refuse to bother.

Sits In Rear Row

When Morrow came here they shoved him into the rear row on the Republican side of the Senate, as is customary with new senators. As ex-ambassador to Mexico it might have been thought that he would have been assigned to the Foreign Relations Committee, or as a former Morgan partner to the Banking and Currency Committee, or, again, as a delegate to the London naval conference, to Naval Affairs.

Morrow did get on Military Affairs, perhaps because Republican leaders had forgotten his able service as head of President Coolidge's aircraft board some years ago. His other committees are Education and Labor, Post-offices and Post Roads, Printing and Public Buildings and Grounds. Their work is relatively uninteresting, but one understands that Morrow hasn't missed a single session of any of the five committees.

Studies Extensively

Morrow's past successes in various fields have been partly attributed to his capacity for exhaustive study and full comprehension. In the last two or three months he has been delving into such works as Hinds' Precedents—which has about a dozen volumes, each six inches thick, Cushing's Manual and the Senate Manual. He has dug way back into the history of the Senate rules. He studies carefully every bill that comes up on the floor as well as those before his committees. He runs around asking questions to clear up obscure points. His policy has always been to make himself an expert on every problem he tackled. His reputation is that he never gets stumped on a question of fact.

Nearly everyone likes him. The best of the Progressives think he is one of the best of the conservatives. Morrow had many close personal contacts before he came here, dating back through the days when he was the close friend and adviser of President Coolidge. Bingham of Connecticut, with whom he served in the aircraft investigation, and Reed of Pennsylvania, with whom he went to London, are among his associates. He lives with Mrs. Morrow at the New Shoreham hotel.

He is a small man with curly hair and nose-glasses and wears dark gray suits. In conversation he is alternately attentive and soft-spoken, considerate and more than courteous. More often than not there are persons waiting to see him in the reception room outside the Senate chamber—constituents, persons going to Mexico or just returned and other miscellaneous visitors. He sees them all.

Sometimes it has seemed as if Morrow were about to say something on the Senate floor, but it appears now as if he would refrain throughout the short session. He is still "new here," he has explained privately. One also hears that he was quite ill in Mexico and is still conserving his strength.

Frequent mention as a presidential possibility has also embarrassed him. He has announced his support of Hoover for 1932 and there has been less talk about Morrow with the growing belief that Hoover would be renominated. Morrow's most intimate thoughts on the subject of the presidency are best known to himself.

Lindy Shuns Capitol

His illustrious son-in-law, Colonel Charles Augustus Lindbergh, has visited the Morrows twice since they moved here, but has not come near the capitol.

A check of his votes in the Senate reveals that Morrow voted with administration forces against the proposal to authorize distribution of Farm Board wheat for relief of the destitute, against the Robinson amendment to give $25,000,000 to the Red Cross for "adequate human relief in the present national emergency," and against the resolution to recommit the nominations of the Federal Power Commissioners Smith, Garaud and Draper to the Interstate Commerce Committee. He voted to confirm Edgar Brossard to the Tariff Commission. He voted with the wets to refer the Howell District of Columbia prohibition "home raid" bill to the Judiciary Committee.

POINTS OUT SOME PILLS PROVE FATAL

Pills containing strychnine should not be in the medicine closet of a house where there are children.

AN ASTONISHING number of deaths in childhood are due to strychnine poisoning. And some of the commonest pills found in a family medicine chest are the cause. It has been estimated that about 240 children a year die in the United States from accidentally eating such pills.

Dr. Clendening

The pills in question are usually cathartic pills, and are among the kind most popular and frequently bought for domestic use. If anyone has a bottle of such pills around a house where there are children, throw it away immediately, because the danger is obviously far from fanciful.

Two kinds of pills, both of which have long been used and prescribed by doctors are the ones involved. One is called the A. S. & E., and one the A. B. S. & C. The initials A. S. B. stand for Aloes (or aloin), strychnine and belladonna, and the C for cascara. Theoretically the belladonna was put into the pills to relieve the griping caused by the aloin or cascara, and the strychnine was put in to increase the irritability of the motor nerves in the intestine on which the aloin is to act.

This theoretical reasoning, however, is entirely spoiled by putting them all together in the same pill. In action they do not help each other at all. Strychnine and belladonna are rapidly absorbed and rapid in action; their action, which is supposed to help the aloin, is ended in four hours. The aloin itself takes ten or twelve hours to be absorbed and begin to act. So that by the time the aloin is acting, the effect of the strychnine, which was supposed to augment it, has long since passed off.

The amount of strychnine in most such pills is one-hundred and twentieth of a grain. This is half the full dose, as recommended to adults. If, as occurred in one instance recently, a child swallows 15 such pills the amount of strychnine obtained is colossal.

One well known pill, or cascara compound pill, contains, as made by different manufacturers, one-sixtieth to one-one-hundred-and-twentieth of a grain of strychnine sulphate.

Children eat the pills to get the sugar coating. Even if the coating is not sugared the bright colored coating makes the child think that they are candy. One little boy aged four is reported to have eaten ninety of these compound cascara pills, containing one and one-half grains of strychnine. He died in convulsions.

There is no earthly reason why drug manufacturers should continue to put strychnine in cathartic pills. The pills, if made without either belladonna or strychnine, would be equally effective. A good way to stop the manufacture would be for customers to stop buying cathartic pills containing strychnine. There are plenty of other good cathartics—too many. The improved compound cathartics pill (improved by reducing the amount of calomel) is a good one for the domestic medicine chest if a stock of pills is demanded.

In Barbary With Gilbert Swan

SWAN

TENERIFE, Canary Islands, Feb 19—The shadow of approaching rebellion hangs over this rainbowed towns.

Just a few months ago there was rioting in the public square, for the hand of Spain has been slipping even as at home. And wherever you go, there are uniformed men. Several times in the course of an afternoon's stroll you'll encounter drilling troops.

And if you listen to the gossipmongers, you'll have to believe that rebels are well scattered over the countryside, just, waiting for the signal to strike. It would be just a bit too bad if this charming musical show set should be disfigured by shells.

• • •

But down at the Bar Internationale, you'll meet Domingo.

And Domingo will not care whether the sun sets or rises. For Domingo is a land-going beach comber. He grades on the Americanos who stop for a glass of Pilsner.

He slides along the side of you and begins to speak in the best of broken English.

"You are a visitor—no—"

"What, you once came from San Francisco?" So did he. His father was one of the town's Spanish population. Yes, he sailed out of that port. Yes, yes, he'll show you how to get od-fashioned free lunch. The bartender frowns, but what cares Domingo?

In a moment he has you in conversation. Naturally you're glad to hear someone who speaks your lingo. You buy him a drink. And that's just what he has been waiting for. You present him with a few pennies. And soon you have the very devil of a time getting rid of him. You give him an "adios" and the equivalent of 10 cents and go upon your way.

• • •

And now you motor over hill and highway to Puerta de la Cruze. The whole roadside runs out to greet the passing auto and ask its occupants for money. Donkeys and native wagons are shunted off the highway.

And if you're a Californian, dear old California hops out of every corner.

There are pepper trees and eucalyptus trees and brilliant red poinsettias. It is as though Los Angeles, Hollywood and way stops had suddenly been moved to the doorway of the Mediterranean.

Everywhere women pass carrying heavy burdens upon their heads and men ride serenely along behind them.

This is a man's world, and the several gents from the states take time out to remark about it. Why can't they get their wives trained that way?

• • •

Meanwhile the driver is busy informing you — or trying to at least—that these are the Guanche people; that they do not know how to read or write; that their origin is more than passingly obscure since no inscribed record has been left. A few miles onward and an archeologist informs you that they preserved their dead in Egyptian fashion, giving rise to the theory that Egypt was their origin. Meanwhile the races have mixed more than slightly.

• • •

Then comes a Maxfield Parrish-like village—and, finally, the sea.

Hot dog stands at Coney Island have nothing on the little cafe which fronts the beach at Puerta de la Cruze, but the crowds are gone and the breeze is chill. For, despite all illusions to the contrary this is merely semi-tropical and you can use an overcoat.

And this is the spot where we all could go beach comber on a moment's notice . . . that is if a bath went along with the rest. For the surf breaks high over the rocky shoreline and descends like a waterfall; the little houses rise sharply from a ravine and are tinted in the most delicate of hues.

The ocean wind grows chill . . . the chauffeur rushes you back . . . one hasty flagon of beer, and then off in the twilight, with a native helmsman singing.

Back aboard ship . . . and on to Africa

You have to step carefully, says the office sage, to make your footprints in the sands of time.

An economics division has been added to the Florida Agricultural extension service.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

All through the day the Tinies walked around the town and gaily talked to friendly natives they would meet. They sure were treated well. Some little lads were playing tag and Clowny said, "I wouldn't brag, but we are pretty good at this. In fact, I think we're swell."

And then he said, "Could we play, too? We'd have a heap of fun with you. To start the game I will be 'it.'" The native lads agreed. Said Scouty, "Count 100 fair and we will hide most everywhere. One hundred will be plenty. Maybe 50's all we need."

So Clowny started counting slow and he could hear the whole bunch go stearing o'er the pavement, till the whole air seemed to hum. He reached 100. Then he cried, "You've all had lots of time to hide, and now you'd best look out for me. Keep quiet. Here I come!"

He searched until he found one boy. "You're it!" he shouted, full of joy. And thus the game went gaily on till day slipped into night. One little native loudly cried, "We're mighty glad that game was tried. You Tinymites all play real fair and we think you're all right."

And then the Tinymites turned in At dawn they broke into a grin when Mister Travel Man said, "We are going to have some fun. Down at the docks the natives work at loading boats. They seldom shirk. Let's walk right down there right away and see how it is done."

A great big boat was shortly found and natives shuffled all around. A gangplank led up to the ship. 'Twas small and hard to scale. Soon Scouty said, "Well, bless my soul. The natives all are carrying coal. I'll bet, when they have filled the boat, right out to sea 'twill sail."

(The Tinymites watch a hat weaver in the next story.)

Prohibition agents who found liquor in fraternity houses at a midwest university recently concede that the students there knew how to cut other things besides classes.

A girl in Peru walked 25 miles to see the Prince of Wales. It isn't reported, however, whether or not he saw the girl home.

If baseball takes hold there, it will be easy to answer the popular query, "What do they do in Italy when it rains?" Give rain checks, of course.

Italy has adopted baseball as one of its national sports. It seems impossible that Mussolini will be able to vanquish ALL the games.

REDUCTION OF RATES SOUGHT

FORCEFUL MEANS TO BE USED IF NOTHING ELSE, DECIDED

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, Feb. 19—Representatives of more than 30 towns meeting here yesterday adopted recommendations that West Texas cities adopt forceful means in an attempt to obtain reduction in gas rates.

Resolutions urged that cities of the district endeavor to obtain competition in the sale and distribution of natural gas and that if this means was not practicable, that municipalities band together for construction of their own pipe lines and take steps toward municipal ownership of distribution systems.

A committee of three was named to compile and submit reports of the last five years of gas companies filed with cities and of company reports filed with the state railroad commission.

Another committee was appointed to draft plans for a permanent organization.

The body urged active support of the Petsch bill, pending before the legislature, calling for appointment of a fact-finding committee on utilities rates; and urged defeat of the Holbrook bill, providing for a state commission to fix utility rates, instead of municipal bodies. Recommendation also was given for support of the bill amending pipe line laws so gas pipe line companies cannot own producing properties. This measure is favored by the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas.

Million More Golf Duffers To Be Out

CHICAGO, Feb. 19 (AP)—The golfing army of the United States will be swelled by at least one million more duffers this year, Gordon Beckley, Chicago club manufacturer, estimated today.

"Miniature golf courses, which grew up like mushrooms last summer, are largely responsible for the large number of recruits," Beckley said, "although the sensational record established in 1930 by Bobby Jones has stirred the imagination of many."

He estimated that 6,000,000 already are playing golf in the United States.

Run-Down, Weak, Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just give Tanlac the chance to do for you what it has done for millions.

Mrs. Fred Westin, of 387 E. 57th St. North, Portland, Ore., says: "Tanlac cured my stomach trouble completely after three years suffering. It built me up to perfect health, with a gain of 27 lbs. That was two years ago, and I still enjoy the best of health."

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help.

LUBBOCK AND HALE TO HAVE TWO TEAMS IN CONTESTS

The annual District 2 basketball tournament for schools in eighteen South Plains counties will begin at the Texas Tech gymnasium tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock when coaches meet with Del Morgan, promoter and director of the tournament, in the Matador club room to arrange a schedule. The first game is due to start at 10 o'clock.

Twenty teams are expected to participate in the tournament. Each county in the district is expected to send its champion team and two counties, Lubbock and Hale, will be represented by two teams. Lubbock High school and Plainview High school will have an entry besides the usual county champion.

County tournaments over the South Plains district will end today with championship games in six counties.

As a result of games here last week, Slaton, Idalou and Monroe were tied for the Lubbock county championship. The teams will play today and tonight to decide the representative in the district meet.

JIMMY MANION SETS MEDAL SCORE; TWO FAVORITES OUT

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Feb. 18.—Sixteen men who emerged from two days of qualifying play as the pick of the field come to grips today in the beginning of match play for the championship in the 17th renewal of the Houston Country Club's annual golf tournament.

Jimmy Manion of St. Louis, former trans-Mississippi champion, was paired with Clyde Cunningham, a local player, to start things going. Manion was medalist with a score of 146 for the 36 qualifying holes—three strokes better than the 149 made by Gus Moreland, 19-year-old Dallas boy.

Carlton Slips

Moreland and Manion led their partner in yesterday's threesome, Ossie Carlton of Houston, a fast and hot pace, but the older man, who had slipped a trifle in his first round and had come in with an 80, did not falter and was only two above Manion's par 71 round.

With the exception of the failure of the veteran George Rotan of Houston and the spectacular Bud McKinney, Del Rio youth, to make the first division, there was no upset, favorites all coming through. It will be the first time in 17 years that the Rotan clubs have been stilled in the match play.

First Flighters

The first flighters and their qualifying scores:

Manion 146; Moreland 149; Reynolds Smith of Dallas 152; Howard Creel of Pueblo, Colo., 155; Cunningham 153; Allen Kyle of Houston 153; Johnny Goodman of Omaha 152; Gaston Peek of Galveston 154; Leonard Attwell of Houston 153; Glen Crisman of Orange 155; Carlton 153; John De Forest of Surrey, England, 152; Charles Dexter of Dallas 154; Preston Moore of Houston 153; W. C. Hunt of Houston 152.

After Manion and Cunningham the others follow in this order:

Creel-Hunt, De Forest-Attwell, Klye-Goodman, Carlton-Peek, Dexter - Moore, Moreland - Crisman, Smith-Dawson.

ROVING THE SPORTS WORLD

WITH COLLIER PARRIS
JOURNAL SPORTS EDITOR

Unique in its idea, successful in its purpose and most pleasing in its presentation is the recently inaugurated men's open house and fun night at Texas Tech. Tonight finds its promoters, the Tech athletic department, offering its second program. The first was held about the middle of January, and the largest crowd to pack the gymnasium so far this year was present.

* * *

Girl friends and better halves are not invited nor encouraged to be present. Not that anything obscene or atrocious will be perpetrated, but the presence of women would cramp the style and hamper the proceedings. We are requested to invite all the men of the college and of the city and to discourage any ambitions of the womenfolk. At the last session two or three women slipped in and were as conspicuous as the principles of the program.

* * *

Football letter sweaters for the 1930 season will be awarded varsity and freshmen tonight. Gordon will receive a pennant as a token of the intramural football supremacy of the school of Liberal Arts. There will be heavyweight boxing and wrestling, presentation of Ben Conday's "awkward squad." (how could it be anything else?) and a machine gun demonstration by the military corps. It will be worth your while to attend, men.

* * *

The purpose of these open house meetings for men, which are free from all admission charges, being financed by the Tech Chamber of Commerce, is to create and stimulate and cement the spirit of cooperation and support among the men of Tech, the men of Lubbock and between the two. The program is lively, moves swiftly, and brings a large group of men on common ground. It is a fine thing. The Tech athletic department, especially Pete Cawthon, is to be highly commended for the idea and practice.

* * *

This department almost got its foot in it when we called attention last fall to the seeming lack of support on the part of the Tech student body for its athletic teams. Someone else must have also bitterly denounced the lack of cooperation, for during the remainder of the football season it would have been hard to find a student body so loud and lusty at pep meetings and games. As a result the Matadors played better football.

* * *

Interest has lagged again, has been lagging during the basketball season, but it has been interesting to note that on nights when students packed their section the Matador cagers played far better games and seemed to enter the spirit of the evening with their cheerers. When a team knows its own school and own town stands behind it and that its class mates are wanting a victory it naturally fights harder.

* * *

One of the greatest examples of student support and its effect on the team that we know of is found at College Station. There is no town there and student support is the only kind the Aggies may depend upon. It comes in great quantities and fine qualities. An enemy team facing 2,000 uniformed, hooting yelling, shouting, singing cadets is whipped to begin with unless it is an unusual team, while the Aggies are inspired to the higher things of life.

* * *

Leo Diegel, one of the leading professional golfers of the world, a man after Walter Hagen's scalp and laurels and who has already beaten the great Haig for national honors during the last year, has drawn a verbal picture of the perfect golfer and declared he would like to caddy for him. Bobby Jones would play the wood shots and Tommy Armour would handle the irons. Jones would step in with Calamity Jane and do the putting. The perfect golfer would have the temperament of Horton Smith and the generalship of Walter Hagen.

* * *

Diegel names Bobby as the greatest driver and the Haig next in line. "Very few outdrive Bobby," said Leo. Hagen outdistanced the men he has played with this winter, and Leo calls attention to that. In brassie play Jones names Bobby first, but says Harold Sampson, California pro who eliminated him in the P. G. A. championship, is next. Hagen named in a class by himself with the short irons, and Lubbock fans who saw The Haig in his exhibition here two weeks ago today agree with Diegel. His approach shots on the Country Club course were wonderful.

* * *

"In 72 holes of play Bobby Jones will out-putt any golfer in the world by six strokes," says Diegel. "Horton Smith runs him a close second." Asked which golfer was best in the wind, Diegel had various answers. "For iron shots to the green with a following win, I select Mac Smith. Tony Manero is my choice for irons into a left to right or slice wind, and Mehlhorn is the best in a right to left or hook wind. Leo was too modest to give himself a place in this picture, but he deserves a place somewhere among the greats.

WESTERNERS BEAT SANDIES AT TECH GYM LAST NIGHT

After spotting the Amarillo High school Sandies to a 5-1 lead in the first eight minutes of play, the Lubbock High Westerners took the aggresive and responded to the cheers of one of the largest crowds of local fans this season and won the game, 25 to 17, over their ancient rivals last night.

It was the kind of game that keeps basketball alive. Fast, furious and fighting fair, the teams battled on almost equal footing for the greater part of the contest. The score at the half was 12 to 9, favoring the Westerners, and after taking the lead just before the first half was over they refused to let it go.

Captain Jimmie Knight was again unable to sink the long shots for which he has become popular this season. He was in his worse form last Saturday night at Amarillo when the Sandies took a 31 to 20 victory, and for the entire first half last night failed to sink a shot. Jack Quinlan took Lubbock's scoring honors with 8 points.

Fennimore, a substitute forward for the Sandies, was the only effective scorer. He found the ring four times from scrimmage to tie Quinlan's total tally. "Buff" Bufkin played a fine defensive game for the visitors, as did Cazzell. Both are outstanding gridsters for Amarillo High, captains in 1930 and 1931 respectively.

Tuffy Griffiths To Meet Levinsky

TECH IS 'FUN' HOST TONIGHT

FULL RPOGRAM OF EVENTS ON TAP

MUCH ENTERTAINMENT ON SCHEDULE FOR LUBBOCK MEN

"Terrible" Tribble, 186-pound football center, and "Tuffy" Carr, 210-pound ace of the mat, clash tonight in a wrestling bout as one of the features of the second open house and fun night programs arranged by the Texas Tech athletic department at the Tech gymnasium. Two of the leading heavyweight maulers, Al Simmons and the great "Unknown", 197 and 205 pounds respectively, are carded in a 6-round ring tussle tonight.

Varsity and freshman football letter sweaters will be awarded the 1930 gridsters tonight, and Dean J. M. Gordon will receive a pennant as a token of the intramural football championship won by the School of Liberal Arts team.

Free Of Charge

The program is open, free of charge, to all men of the college and an especial invitation is issued to business men of Lubbock. At the first open house of its kind, held last month, the gymnasium harbored the largest crowd of the season. The program starts at 7:45 this evening.

As a climax to the program, six African heavyweights will be turned loose in a large ring in a battle royal.

The program in detail is as follows:

Texas Tech and Lubbock high school bands in ffair.

Awarding of Matador varsity football honor sweaters.

Awarding of Picador freshman football honor sweaters.

Presentation of a pennant to Dean J. M. Gordon by W. L. Stangel as a token of the intramural football supremacy of the School of Liberal Arts.

Heavyweight boxing, Al Simmons 197, vs. "The Unknown," 205.

Popular army sing-song, W. R. Wagborne in charge.

Heavyweight wrestling, "Terrible" Tribble, 168 vs. "Tuffy" Carr, 210.

Matador blackface minstrel.

Strong Man Frizzell.

Fancy rope jumping by the "Swede."

Battle royal, six African heavyweights.

Pirates Start Trek Toward California

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19 (AP)—The advance squad of the Pittsburgh Pirates left here today, bound for their spring training camp at Paso Robles, Calif.

The party was headed by Manager Jewel Ens and included Pitchers Swetonic, Spencer and James Dempsey, the latter a Pittsburgh semi-pro star; Catchers Hemsley, Phillips and Bird, and the club physician, newspaper men and others.

Pitcher Brame will be picked up when the squad reaches Chicago tonight.

Hornsby Sends Boys Through Camera Act

AVALON, Calif., Feb. 19 (AP)—Having taken care of much posing for photographers and talking for the talkies, Chicago Cub batterymen today settled down to prepare for the National league championship season.

Manager Rogers Hornsby said that conditioning would be from the ground up, that is, the athletes will get their legs in shape before doing anything else. Hornsby has listed three games for Catalina Island, two with the Los Angeles Pacific Coast league club, and one with a team of movie actors headed by Joe Brown.

KEEPING IT HOT

Stove League Gossip

OF MORE importance to the baseball fan than would be at first thought is the news that something may be done to bolster college baseball.

* * *

The college diamond sport has been in the doldrums for the last few years. Track, tennis, hockey and even spring football practice drawing the attention of the students when baseball might attract them.

* * *

A healthy state in college baseball is important to the professional leagues, and for reasons other than that of obtaining good material from among college graduates who have been thoroughly taught the game.

* * *

With college interest in baseball at its current low level it is easy for the student to forget about the game entirely during his school career. He may have entered school a rabid fan and come out, after a four-year siege of basketball, track and football spectacles totally disinterested in the game.

* * *

If the trend to under-estimate football spreads to a broad plane, college baseball is bound to enjoy an increase in interest. And an undergraduate proud of his college nine is a future fan for some league club.

* * *

Some of the game's greatest players sprang from the college diamond—Eddie Collins, Lou Gehrig, Frankie Frisch, George Sisler are a few. Baseball could use plenty more of their types.

BILL TILDEN WINS IN HIS PRO DEBUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP) — Big Bill Tilden, professional tennis player, apparently is just as much of an attraction to followers of the game as Tilden the amateur ever was. Big Bill, the 3-year-old veteran, was the main attraction which drew 14,000 fans, who paid $37,000, to Madison Square Garden last night. Tilden opened his professional tour by beating Karel Koseluh of Czechoslovakia.

The dispute will be continued in at least six more matches as the troupe organized by Jack Curley tours across the country.

TECH FURNISHES HOT FIGHT FOR BURTON'S CREW AT CANYON

(Special To The Journal)

CANYON, Feb. 19—Excelling the Buffalo-Phillips "66" game this winter for sheer fan enjoyment, the Texas Tech Matadors of Lubbock gave the Canyon cagers their toughest basketball game of the season here last night and were barely beaten by a score of 50 to 43. The two teams play again tonight.

The game was a thriller from start to finish, keeping the huge gallery in an uproar as first one side and then the other forged ahead until late in the game when the Buffs pulled away.

It was most entirely an offensive affair with the Matadors scoring from any and all angles, taking every possible shot no matter how far away from the Buff goal the shooter stood.

Giant Joe Fortenberry, Buff center, was high point man with 16 counters, while Comer, forward, was next with 13. Captain Clarence Hodges, sharp-shooting forward for Tech, led his club with 10.

THE RAT!

114 Golf Balls Found In Rathole In Golf Fairway

BELMONT, Calif., Feb. 19 (AP)—Golfers know how it is to smack a long drive and then be unable to find the ball. This had happened too frequently at the Hillcrest links near here.

The local mystery was solved yesterday. Ed Martin, a club member found 114 balls in a rat hole on the fairway.

Doctors Know Best How To Treat Colds

Medical writers agree that the important point in the treatment of a cold, or cough due to a cold, is to relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thereby preventing serious complications which may follow a neglected cold. To stop this congestion calomel was long accepted and standard remedy until Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablet was introduced.

Now that science has robbed calomel of its nausea and danger, making it pleasant to take and perfectly safe for general use, over forty million Calotabs are consumed in the U. S. yearly with only the most pleasant and satisfactory results. In millions of homes Calotabs have proven their superiority in the prompt relief of colds and coughs due to colds.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a glass of sweet milk or water. No salts necessary. No nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning the congestion has subsided, your cold or cough is relieved, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish,—no danger.

Get a family package of Calotabs, containing full directions, only thirty-five cents. Trial size, ten cents. At any drug store. (adv.)

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19 (AP) — Cotton had a steady opening in sympathy with improved Liverpool cables. First trades showed gains of four to five points. The market continued steady after the start on moderate trade buying, but as Liverpool was easier at the close of the market and buyers showed a disposition to liquidate, prices eased off gradually, losing four to five points from the top with May at 11.43 and October at 11.95, about even with yesterday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market was a shade easier with ring traders showing a disposition to sell.

The market was reactionary all morning with somewhat less active trading, owing to the week-end technical position and liquidation by recent buyers, prices steadily eased off until March dropped to 11.10, July to 11.62 and October to 11.90, or 10 to 12 points below the early highs. The selling was helped by the irregular and easier stock markets and by reports that the federal farm board was a free seller of March and July contracts.

At noon the market was quiet and at the lows.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Cotton opened steady unchanged to 7 points higher on overnight buying orders which again seemed to include a demand from foreign and domestic trade interests as well as covering and little commission house buying.

Offerings were freer, however, owing to somewhat disappointing Liverpool cables and there was more or less reactionary sentiment in evidence following recent advances. May contracts after selling up to 11.52 at the opening, reacted to 11.44 but orders were pretty evenly divided, apparently, and the market held fairly steady within a point or two either way of yesterday's closing quotations at the end of the first half hour.

The market worked off to 11.40 for May and 11.33 for October later in the morning for net declines of 3 to 5 points. There was further March liquidation which appeared to be combined with realizing in the later months and probably some selling for a reaction, but the offerings were taken readily enough to give the market a steady undertone. Prices at midday were within a point or two of the lowest, with trading which had been active earlier, becoming comparatively quiet.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady: March, 11.21; May, 11.47; July, 11.71; October, 12.00; December, 12.16; January, 12.24.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady: March 11.32; May, 11.50; July, 11.73; October, 11.99; December, 12.17; January, 12.24.

MISS BOWEN DIES

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 19. (AP)—Miss Elizabeth Weaver Bowen, 77, author of several novels and one of the first women to advocate higher education for her sex, is dead at her home here.

Bread subjected to ultra-violet rays while being prepared, is to be sold in London.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—The stock market displayed a persistent inclination to work higher in quiet trading today, although it was hampered by occasional selling.

The list opened higher, wavered toward the end of the first hour, under the influence of pressure against U. S. Steel and American Can, but soon turned upward again, and by midday early advances had been slightly extended.

Gains of a point or so were common among the coppers, food shares, miscellaneous industrials and utilities, but oils and rails mostly lagged. A few issues rose 2 to 3 points, including Byers, DuPont, Loews, Allied Chemical, Freeport, Texas, Brooklyn Manhattan, Case and Vanadium, while Worthington and Auburn were pused up 4 and 5.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 19 (AP)—Moist weather benefitting domestic winter crop regions eased grain prices down early today. Lower quotations on wheat at Liverpool acted as an additional bearish influence, together with forecasts of enlarged shipments from Argentina. Opening unchanged to 1-4 and 3-8 off, wheat afterwards sagged further. Corn started unchanged to 5-8 lower and subsequently held near to the initial limits.

Wheat closed firm, unchanged to 1 1-4 - 1 3-8c higher, corn 5-8 - 1 1-8c up, oats 1-4 - 3-4c advanced, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to 5 cents gain.

BUTLER PLANS TO RESIGN MARINE POST

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 19 (AP)—Major General Smedley Butler plans to retire from the marine corps next September to become a lecturer.

He announced his intention to forsake his military career for the hustings last night when he arrived here to deliver an address, explaining that he had signed a contract to deliver a series of lectures beginning next October.

He said the recent Mussolini incident which resulted in an apology to the Italian premier by the state department and a reprimand for Butler from the navy department, had nothing to do with his proposed retirement.

His retirement, he said, was contingent upon the consent of the president, adding that some Washington officials were aware of his plans and that he expected no opposition.

Douglas Fairbanks Creates Quite A Stir

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 19 (AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, motion picture actor, virtually paralyzed business along the waterfront Wednesday when he arrived aboard the liner Belgenland.

Almost all the workers left their jobs to get a glimpse of him.

A crowd estimated at 8,000 persons jammed the pier while another huge throng lined the streets outside.

Members of the crowd carried him to a waiting automobile, almost a quarter of a mile away, and put him on top of it rather than inside, so the waiting "fans" could better see him.

Fairbanks is en route to Siam, where he will hunt and photograph big game.

OFFICER HERE TO INSPECT

MILITARY DEPARTMENT AT COLLEGE TO BE INSPECTED TODAY

Col. W. A. Castle, United States army R. O. T. C. officer of the Eighth Corps area, of San Antonio, today will inspect the military unit of Texas Technological college.

The local college military unit is operating under the 55th division of the national defense act and Col. Castle will investigate the situation for the establishment of a local R. O. T. C. unit.

Col. Castle visited the campus last year and at that time made a favorable report on the unit to the war department.

CONFERENCE HELD ON NEW DISTRICT

Several Lubbock citizens went to Plainview Tuesday to discuss with residents of that city the proposition to include Hale county in the proposed 19th congressional district, as suggested in legislation now before the state legislature.

In the party were: J. B. Maxey, Neal H. Wright, W. O. Stevens and R. J. Murray. The group also attended the Plainview Rotary club meeting.

The Metcalfe bill, recently drafted and presented, places Hale, Bailey, Floyd and Lamb counties in the 19th district, along with Lubbock, Crosby, Hockley, Cochran, Lynn, Dawson, Dickens, Garza and other South Plains counties.

A proposition later was made to place Hale county in with the North Plains district, expected to retain its designation as the 18th district.

Counties on the South Plains would prefer to have Hale county in this congressional area, the Plainview citizens were told by local men. A more common interest with South Plains affairs is felt to be stronger in that county than with North Plains interests, according to Lubbock residents.

J. P. Lucey, chairman of the President Hoover's emergency committee for employment, the $80,000,000 will be given to the states and they will not be required to match it as has been the custom. The states will be allowed to use this extra money to match another $80,000,000 out of Federal funds, so that they can now get two dollars without putting up one.

The idea is to get the money to work immediately. The money must be spent by September 1. It has been shown that through this appropriation employment will be increased, prosperity will be brought back to the states and roads of permanent value will be constructed.

SUGGESTIONS ON FAT CALF, PIG AND CURED MEAT SHOW ARE GIVEN BY D. F. EATON; MANY REQUESTS ARE RECEIVED

With interest in the first annual Fat Calf, Pig and Cured Meat show to be held in Lubbock March 27 and 28, steadily mounting, D. F. Eaton, Lubbock county agent, today announced a number of suggestions to exhibitors who plan to take part in the affair.

A list of these suggestions are to be prepared by the local agent and sent to agents of surrounding counties that they might be placed in the hands of farmers throughout the South Plains territory.

"We are receiving numerous questions daily regarding the forthcoming show," Mr. Eaton said this morning, "and feel that farmers will be greatly interested in the following suggestions:

Need Not Be Wrapped

"Meat need not be wrapped when it is entered, we plan to wrap it after judging. Ham and bacon are judged in size, shape, plumpness trimming, smoothness, color, external and internal, firmness, texture percentage of lean and fat, odor and flavor. Every piece of meat in the show will not be cut. Only the tops or best pieces eligible for premiums will be cut.

"All canned meat will be exhibited in tin cans. No. 3 cans will be used for the roast. All other canned products will be exhibited in No. 2 cans. Plain tin cans are used for all meat products. Send only two cans of each entry. One will be opened and judged, the other placed on exhibit, therefore, only one will be returned.

"Each can should bear the 4-H label carrying the following information: name of product, net weight, name and address of packer. In order to give a working basis, the weights should not vary but a few ounces above or below the following: roast, No. 3 cans, two pounds and four ounces; No. 2 can one pound and four and one-half ounces; liver paste No. 2 can, one pound and five ounces; scrapple, No. 2 can, one pound and six ounces.

"Canned products are usually judged by the following points: packing—fullness, attractiveness, neatness; uniformity—size, shape, color—intensity, evenness; texture—overcooked or undercooked; flavor—characteristic of product; liquid—proportion to product; contains—standard, label."

Lubbock Invited To Seagraves Banquet

Lubbock's entire citizenship is invited to attend the annual banquet of the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce, to be held Saturday night, according to a letter received by the local chamber of commerce from officials of that city today.

Efforts are being made by local officials to make up from two to three carloads of local representatives for the gathering Saturday.

J. H. Hankins, chairman of the highway committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, will be one of the principal speakers on the program. A bond issue of $250,000 will be voted on by citizens of Gaines county February 28 and voters of that county hopes to promote a spirit of cooperation for the issue in the Saturday night meeting.

All persons interested in attending are urged to get in touch with Mr. Hankins or the chamber of commerce. The local party will leave at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Bingham stated the opposition of the president and read editorials from some democratic newspapers supporting that position.

COMMISSION IS QUIET ON ACT

WICKERSHAM DECLINES TO ANSWER QUESTIONS ON RESOLUTION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. — The law enforcement commission returned today to the almost complete silence that characterized the days preceding its prohibition report.

Chairman Wickersham declined to answer all questions as to when, how, or if the commission would comply with the senate resolution adopted Monday, requesting all the non-secret testimony and data upon which the new historic prohibition report was based.

The opinion was expressed at commission headquarters, however, that it would be difficult to submit the data until the commission had an opportunity to re-arrange it.

The commission does not meet again until March 4. Congress hopes to end its session on that date.

She Afraid? Aw, Rats!

One of the advantages about a college education is that it frees a girl of her fear of rats and mice—and if you don't believe it, look at this photo of Miss Edith Eddy, popular co-ed at the College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash. COP'S COMMAND IS "SEE A SHOW", DRIVER'S REWARD FOR DRIVING CAR JUST SO

PASADENA, Calif., Feb. 19 (AP)—Quite carefully he'd gone ahead, and stopped for every signal red. He'd stuck his strong arm out with zest, each time he steered to east or west. No rule was spurned, however slight, by Joseph Lugwig's car in flight. He'd even stalled the engine's jog in stopping for a limping dog.

But even so, the hated wheels of some cop's bike were on his heels, and now he heard the voice of dread: "Pull up against the curb!" it said. Poor Joseph turned a doleful look upon the big cop's ticket book—and then his gloom was changed to joy, and Joseph yelped: "By gum! oh, boy!"

For on his ticket he could see, "this tag's for driving carefully. Because your piloting is so, just take this tag and see a show." Then Joseph rubbed his startled eyes, and read in type of smaller size: "It's just a contest with a prize for thoughtful, careful driving guys."

CLARENCE SAUNDERS IS READY FOR ANOTHER FIGHT; CAN'T SELL STOCK

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19—Clarence Saunders, whose stores carry the notation "sole owner of my name," is in difficulty and says he is ready for another fight.

The state corporation commissioner, Raymond L. Haight, suspended the stock selling permits of Clarence Saunders Stores of Southern California, Ltd., and Clarence Saunders Stores of Northern California, Ltd., yesterday, asserting the permit terms had been "violated in several particulars."

The man who advanced from a store clerk to the millionaire head of the Piggly-Wiggly chain and then lost everything in Wall Street, only to start again with his new group of stores, said he had not yet been officially notified.

"My companies are in good condition," he insisted, "and I will fight any action against them."

Haight charged about $76,300 has been appropriated from the northern company to pay Saunders' personal expenses for promotion and organization. The company operates 45 stores and the southern organization 40.

MONTE CARLO BECOMING WORRIED AT INCREASING NUMBER OF SUICIDES

(By Associated Press)

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Feb. 19—The increasing number of foreigners committing suicide here is beginning to worry the casino directors probably for the first time, in the sixty-five years of the gambling palace's existence. In one week three men, an Austrian, an Italian and a German, committed suicide after losing heavily in the casino.

When a gambler takes his life within the casino grounds it is practically impossible to check up on the fact and in many cases even the resident consuls are not notified. Before the war the gardens in front of the casino were favorite suicide sites but now it seems that the despondent losers prefer the privacy of their hotel rooms with the result that the public knows what is going on.

Though the casino, several years ago, stopped the system started by Camille Blanc, the founder, whereby losers were given tickets to their homes, it is reported that the plan has been unofficially working for the past few weeks.
