U. S. Warships Join British In Gun Salute

New Baby Distant Cousin Of Royalty Throughout Europe

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Joyous Britain roared a welcome today to the tiny Prince of Edinburgh, first born of beloved Princess Elizabeth. He probably will be England's next king.

The "bonny lad," as Buckingham palace attendants called him, weighed seven pounds, six ounces at birth Sunday at 9:14 p. m. (3:14 p. m. CST.) Elizabeth, heiress-presumptive to the throne, and her son, who became second in line, both were declared in satisfactory condition.

U. S. Ships Join Salute

The U. S. warships Columbus and Hamul joined British naval craft at Plymouth in firing a 41-gun salute to the royal child.

The royal horse artillery, King George's own troops, wheeled six guns into Hyde Park and fired tumultuous rounds in honor of the child and his mother.

Elsewhere trumpets and bands blared; bonfires flamed and fireworks snapped.

The baby was born six days before the first wedding anniversary of Elizabeth and Prince Philip. Crowds outside the palace screamed cheers to the nervous father last night.

The Union Jack whipped in the wind above Buckingham palace. Ships in London docks set their sirens screaming. Sailors got a double ration of rum.

Church Bells Peal

The 12 bells of magnificent old St. Paul's cathedral began pealing in mid-morning. Bells of Westminster Abbey and scores of lesser churches joined in.

The newest prince is a distant cousin to all the crowned rulers in continental Europe. He is a great - great - great - grandson of Queen Victoria through both Elizabeth and Philip.

Through his father, the baby can claim as an ancestor Astrid, the sister of Canute, the king of both Britain and Denmark. The infant would bring to the British throne for the first time since the death of King Harthacnut in 1042 a direct male descendant from the Danish race which is credited with a half share in the ancestry of the English.

Gun salutes and other noisy phases of the celebrations were passed up yesterday by old custom so as not to mar the dignity and calm of the Sabbath.

Papers Full of Event

London newspapers were full of the event, which crowded world worries from the minds of Britons. Strangely, however, the Communist Daily Worker gave the birth not a single line.

The Duke of Windsor, great uncle of the child, in Paris wished the baby "every possible happiness." The child doubtless will in time be named the Prince of

Tech Student's Mother Killed

BIG SPRING, Nov. 15. (Special)—A Forsan woman, mother of a student at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, was killed and five other persons injured in a head-on automobile collision in a dense fog eight miles north of Big Spring at 8:30 a. m. Sunday.

Dead was Mrs. Charles M. Adams, mother of Darrell V. Adams, junior student at Tech.

Injured are: Charles M. Adams, husband of Mrs. Adams; Ruby Conway, Rosemary Hendrix, John L. Perry and S. E. Coats, all of Lubbock. All are in the Big Spring hospital.

Adams suffered a broken collarbone, three broken ribs and cuts and bruises. Perry, driver of the Lubbock car which was traveling south, has a broken left arm and five fractures of the pelvis. Miss Conway has severe cuts and Coats cuts and bruises.

Miss Hendrix suffered possible head injuries but had regained consciousness today.

Pickup Turns Over

The two cars struck almost head-on in the heavy fog. A pickup truck, driven by Richard Whiteley of Brownfield, traveling behind the Lubbock car, overturned two or three times after swerving to avoid hitting the wrecked cars. Whitley was not injured.

Funeral services for Mrs. Adams, a long-time resident of Howard county, will be conducted at 3 p. m. Tuesday at the Big Spring Church of Christ.

In addition to her husband and the Tech student, Mrs. Adams is survived by another son, Capt. John C. Adams, instructor in

1948 Cotton Ginnings Less Than Last Year

Cotton ginnings in Lubbock county to Nov. 1 were nearly 20,000 bales less than to the same date last year, according to the report today of A. L. King, county statistician for the U. S. census bureau.

Ginnings this year were 65,321 as compared with 84,807 in 1947, a difference of 19,486 bales.

The consensus of ginners was that about half the crop still remained to be ginned, King said.

Dead Pilot Is Plane's Only Occupant

Dare-Devil Tactics And Riot Gun Stop Runaway Aircraft

(By The Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 15—National guardsmen, Air Force personnel and state police officers used a riot gun and dare-devil tactics to stop a runaway P-51 fighter plane yesterday that circled crazily on Stout field runway.

A dead pilot, victim of a ground crash between his plane and another Mustang, was the ship's only occupant. He was Capt. Phillip Bonner, 28-year old Indianapolis veteran of the second World War.

Capt. Bonner was the lead pilot as the two planes prepared for the takeoff on a routine training mission. He started down the runway but reduced his speed for an unknown reason. Lt. Thomas C. Costin, following at the normal interval, could not see ahead at ground level. His plane overran the first Mustang.

Capt. Bonner's plane, its power still on and its propeller roaring, began making tight circles on the runway.

National guardsmen and state police slowed the plane to some extent by clinging to the left wing, and Trooper Ray Thompson fired pistol bullets through the tires. The plane continued to move, and he stopped it by shooting off the tires with a riot gun. The bare rims mired down in the soft mud.

Staff Sgt. Steve Kropelnicki, 27, Lake Taxaway, N. C., then climbed up behind the engine, reached through the broken canopy and closed the throttle.

U. S. OFFICERS PONDER CHANGE

Red Desertions In Germany Slacken

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—U. S. Army sources said yesterday they were mystified by the fact that desertions of Russian soldiers coming over to the western zone of Germany had stopped suddenly.

There had been a steady stream of deserting Rusians until the end of October. British officials estimated there were about 12,000 desertions since 1945.

An Allied intelligence officer offered this possible reason for the abrupt termination:

"The Russians probably have moved in new troops. When they have been around for awhile, living in compounds, and are due to go back to Russia the desertions no doubt will start up again."

Pilots Rationed On Gas

Another officer said the Russians had clamped down tighter restrictions on their men. "At night, they practically lock 'em up," he said.

Since two Russian airmen flew out in a Soviet plane to desert in Vienna last month, pilots are now rationed on gasoline so they can't go far away, this Allied officer said. "And the NKVD (Soviet secret police) go up in another plane and follow certain planes," he added.

Allied and Soviet commands have an agreement to return each other's deserters. But when a Russian pictures himself as a refugee it presents a problem. If it is a bona fide case, it dictates the traditional American attitude of giving haven to anyone who is oppressed.

Privates Ignorant

Most of the Russians who desert provide little information to intelligence officers. The majority, ordinary privates, don't even know their regimental number. "For one to know his division is unheard of," an officer commented. "It isn't that they play cagey. They just don't know."

The highest rank picked up here in recent months was a major. The officers have a greater fund of knowledge, but have offered little of value to Allied intelligence.

Showers Brief In Regions Of State Sunday

Lubbock Short By Near Six Inches Amarillo On Top

(By The United Press)

A widespread drouth, in some sectors one of the worst in U. S. weather bureau records, maintained its grip on Texas today. Relief, if any, will be moderate.

The area hardest hit, according to section director E. A. Farrell at the U. S. weather bureau in Houston, ranges upstate from the Galveston-Houston area to Dallas, and then swings across the state to Wichita Falls and Abilene.

Houston Is Suffering

Houston presently is suffering from its third driest year on record, some 17.12 inches below normal rainfall in the period from January to October, Farrell said. The worst drouth remembered in Houston was in 1917, and the rainless days of 1901 also topped the current siege.

Galveston precipitation is 19.79 inches off for the year, and Port Arthur has had a deficit of 13.99 inches from the usual amount. Rainfall at Austin is off 11.21 inches.

At Abilene, there has been 9.37 inches less than usual, while Dallas, running some 7.17 inches short, reported its worst county-wide drouth in 18 years.

Other Major Deficits

Other major deficits, contributing to the dangerously dry conditions, were reported at Wichita Falls, -4.05; Lubbock, -6.; Big Spring, -2.39; El Paso, -3.31; Laredo, -5.23; Brownsville, -4.31; and San Antonio, -1.36.

A bright spot in the Panhandle was at Amarillo, Farrell reported, where moisture is 2.89 inches over the usual amount. In the southern sector of the state, from San Antonio south to Del Rio, concentrated ground moisture has alleviated much of the hazard.

Showers rumbled over the state yesterday, but the damp, clammy air failed to yield precipitation in sufficient quantities to be of much help toward slacking the thirst of the baked soil.

The showers generally netted a quarter of an inch or less. Farmers kept a weather eye peeled on the skies in hopes of seeing a general rain of three-inch proportions.

Observers agreed it would take

Threat To Nanking Increased By Reds

Mounting Breakup Of Nationalist Forces Reflected In Reports From Battle Area

(By The Associated Press)

NANKING, Nov. 15—Red threats to Nanking increased today as Communists surged southward from the Suchow area.

A mounting breakup of national forces along the outer approaches to the capital was reflected in reports from the war area.

Neutral reports said Suchow was isolated. Others had a mechanized force fighting its way to the relief of trapped government troops east of the city.

Communist forces reached Suhsien, 135 miles northwest of Nanking. One report said the town was captured by the Reds.

The railroad, connecting Pukow, across the Yangtse from Nanking, and Suchow, had been cut in several places. Government reinforcements moving up from Nanking were reported stranded in spots along the line. There were no reports from Suchow itself.

Charles Hayes of Salem, Mass., pilot of a plane that flew out 25 Catholic missionaries to Shanghai, said there were signs of heavy fighting near the Suchow airport, five miles east of the city.

Protest Is Considered

On the political front President Chiang Kai-Shek and top leaders met in Nanking to discuss a protest to the United Nations against alleged Russian aid to the Reds. Reliable sources said no decision was reached but indicated a pos-

Suspect Sought In Robbery Murders

COED MISSING—Lillian Debell, 17-year-old student at Colorado State college, Greeley, has been missing since Nov. 1, it was reported to police by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Debell of Arvada, Colo. The Debells reported their daughter missing after reading of the abduction and murder of a Colorado university coed, 18-year-old Theresa Foster.

(By The Associated Press)

BOCA RATON, Fla., Nov. 15.—A statewide dragnet was spread today for the slayer of nationally-known sculptor Leno Lazzari and his pretty wife, Louise.

Lazzari, about 48, and his wife, the former Louise Deles of Brooklyn, N. Y., 42, were shot to death in their modernistic studio-home early Sunday morning.

Police Chief W. H. Brown said robbery apparently was the motive. Mrs. Lazzari's purse was missing and Lazzari's pockets had been turned out and no money was found in them.

Friend Discovers Bodies

The bodies were discovered shortly after 1 p. m. (EST) yesterday by Mrs. Marjorie Castiglione, a friend who was to have been a dinner guest.

Brown termed it a "cold blooded double murder for money."

The killer—or killers—apparently waited for the Lazzari's to return from West Palm Beach late Saturday night where they had been visiting friends and shopping for groceries, Brown said.

After killing the sculptor and his wife, the killer apparently fled in the Lazzari's jeep.

The only clues authorities had were the missing jeep and a slug, believed to be from a .44 or .38 calibre weapon, found on the floor.

The bullets entered the stomach and emerged from the back of each victim.

Lazzari was widely known as one of the country's outstanding decorative sculptors. Many of his statues are on the Rollins college campus at Winter Park and the Florida State college at Tallahassee.

Born in Rome, Italy, Lazzari came to this country in 1927. His name for generations has been linked with the fine arts. Bramante Lazzari, an ancestor, did work for St. Peter's church in Rome in 1505.

Burglaries And Thefts Probed

Four burglaries—including one the state charges was made with intent to kill—and several thefts were under investigation of law enforcement agencies here this morning, as well as a variety of other cases that included liquor and drunk driving offenses, aggravated assault and parole violation.

Bond of $1,000 was set by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, for G. W. Heath, 26, of Ralls, who was charged with burglary by entering with intent to kill his wife Yvonne by shooting her.

Peace Bond Hearing Set

A peace bond hearing in connection with that case was slated by Robertson for 2 p. m. The woman made affidavit that Heath broke into her residence at 1117 Nineteenth at night and that he earlier had gone in there with a knife. When he allegedly burst in a door and pointed the pistol, she said, two other women who live there with her and her sister jumped out a window and ran for help.

Police said Sgt. L. D. Blakney, a police patrolman, grabbed Heath and that Bob Atchison, another patrolman, snatched up the pistol.

The woman said her husband

California Airport Has Exciting Time When Youths Get Sudden Desire To Visit Grandma

(By The United Press)

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 15. Things were back to normal at the Oakland municipal airport today, but around the hangars and in the control tower they still were talking about two teen-age boys and the hectic takeoff they made in a "borrowed" airplane.

In their takeoff the youths set the plane afire, used three different runways, forced an airliner to pull up, and scattered 30 navy fighter planes like a covey of quail.

Jimmy McCall, 15-year-old Alameda high school boy, and his pal, Elmer Varvil, 16, launched an exciting afternoon yesterday when they decided to visit grandma in a Culver Cadet, owned by R. G. Gillespie of Oakland. This without the knowledge of Gillespie.

The boys were at the airport when the urge came to visit grandma, a Mrs. McCay who lives 75 miles to the north in the little Stanislaus county town of Riverbank.

So they climbed in the Culver, regarded as a "hot-rod" by lightplane enthusiasts, and started an unauthorized takeoff. Midway down the gravel light-plane runway, the left wheel on the Culver froze tight and started to smoke.

The tiny monoplane slithered across onto the main runway, where a two engine Douglas DC-3 transport was landing. The airliner, carrying three passengers and a crew of two, made a quick pull-up and wandered about for 10 minutes until the excitement was over.

But the boys still were

Preparedness For American Cities Studied

System To Rescue Injured And Fight Fire, Panic Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Civil defense planners, advising that air raid shelters afford only partial protection from atomic attack say the best preparedness for American cities is to have ready a system to save the injured, put out fires and prevent panic.

What amounts to a primer for the public on what to do if hit by the weapons of modern war was issued over the weekend by the Office of Civil Defense Planning. It is a report by 43 experts to Secretary of Defense Forrestal.

Central Units Urged

The recommendations are based on the idea that civil defense is a function of localities and that the actual operation should be up to the states and cities, with a federal Office of Defense existing only for purposes of advice and coordination.

The report emphasizes that such existing agencies as police and fire departments provide an excellent starting point for civilian defense in time of attack. But because of the magnitude of attack that might be expected, the problem may be greater than any single police or fire department can handle.

Therefore the civil defense planners recommend the creation of volunteer mobile reserve battalions set up under state control and equipped in part by the federal government. They would be rushed from central locations to aid any city in their area in rescue, fire fighting or other post-attack disaster situations.

Could Expand Groups

The planning group pointed out that the aim should be to build the whole civil defense structure on volunteer groups which could be expanded swiftly if war came.

The estimate was that in wartime as many as 15,000,000 persons might be engaged in civil defense. But during normal times, the forces would be small—technicians to train volunteers, organizations to keep municipal and state defense units in existence and up to date on developments, teams of specialists skilled in dealing with radio-active dangers, poison gas attack or the menace of what the planners called only "other spe-

Victory Dinner Is Set Tonight

Democrats from 15 counties of 19th congressional district are to gather tonight at the Hilton hotel for a "Victory dinner," celebrating the party's upset victory in the national elections two weeks ago. Tickets have been sold to 250 and an additional 25 persons are expected to attend.

The dinner, for which those in attendance are to be charged $10 a plate, is scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock.

Mahon Will Speak

John C. Calhoun, chairman of the (state Democratic executive committee, of Corsicana, who had previously announced intentions to attend the affair, wired his regrets today.

Owen W. McWhorter, Lubbock attorney, is to be master of ceremonies.

Cong. Geo. H. Mahon, who soon will commence his eighth term in the house of representatives, is to be principal speaker.

The dinner is being sponsored by the Lubboek County Democratic Executive committee headed by L. C. Ellis, but proceeds of the dinner will go into the party's coffers on a district-wide basis.

Teen-Age Drinking Party Broken Up

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 15. (U.P.)—Mrs. Gertrude Minor told police today that she sponsored teen-age drinking parties "to keep the kids of the streets."

Four police squad cars raided Mrs. Minor's home last night and rounded up 24 youngsters in the midst of a rousing drinking party. About 15 other teenagers fled.

Mrs. Minor, arrested on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors, said it was the third or fourth time she staged such a party. She said she saw nothing wrong in it.

"I would rather have them in my home," she said, "than out on the street."

The raid was the latest development in the city's drive against teen-age drinking and sex parties. Those arrested included 12 boys and 12 girls between the ages of 15 and 17.

Official Hurt When Grown Tiger Escapes

STONEHAM, Mass., Nov. 15. (AP)—An official was bitten and clawed as more than 150 persons escaped uninjured when a full-grown male tiger broke loose from his cage yesterday at Middlesex Falls zoo.

While a crowd of nearly 2,000 persons looked on, police and zoo officials blocked all windows and attempted to force the tiger back into a cage by turning water hoses on it.

After four hours, however, police gave up their attempts and shot the animal dead.

High Court Upholds Pay Claim Decision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (AP)—The Supreme court in effect upheld today the action of Congress in knocking out claims by workers for some $6,000,000,000 in back "portal-to-portal" pay.

The high court refused in an order to review a lower court decision that the law Congress passed in 1947 retroactively cancelled overtime pay claims made by a group of Maryland workers.

The refusal means the lower court decision stands.

In another major action, the high court lifted a lower court order banning the Ford Motor company from owning an automobile financing company, or from persuading its dealers and the public to use any particular company.

Thousand Dollars Spent On Psychoanalysis Is Still Paying Dividends To Couple

DEAR MARY HAWORTH:

My husband and I read your column daily and appreciate it greatly. Time was when the deeper meanings of what you say wouldn't have got across to us, but psychoanalysis has greatly improved our understanding; consequently we see in your troubled correspondents many others who would be helped by it.

We spent a thousand dollars on analysis, then had to quit for economic reasons, but we wouldn't trade the benefits derived from those sessions for ten times the money spent. Although we weren't "cured" when we terminated the treatments, we were "over the hump" and felt much better in every way, and now, years later, we are still drawing dividends from the investment.

We are not without problems, of course, but now we are able to examine them objectively, in a healthy spirit of optimism, and choose courses of action not dictated by neurotic compulsions (we hope). Above all, we are happy together, and in that respect our experience of life is completely changed.

THEIR MARRIED LIFE WAS BEDLAM AT FIRST

DICK and I were married in the 1930s. He was then 32 and I was 28. We came from badly disrupted homes. In each case there had been financial insecurity, a hand-to-mouth existence and parental discord marked by periodic separations which finally ended in divorce.

Dick's father was very neurotic and his mother was psychotic. The same was true of my parents, too, except that my father was the more afflicted of the twain. In each case divorce left the mother emotionally starved, so that she fixed on the child as a source of love, a means of support and a person on whom to exercise her aggressive impulses.

From such backgrounds, after four years' courtship pockmarked by bickering and fighting, Dick and I somehow broke away from our respective mothers and got married, and of course all hell ensued. What with our mothers mixing in, never missing a chance to make things worse, we were just one big crazy family.

UNDERLYING LOVE AVERTED DISASTER

IN THE midst of our manifold problems—a blend of hard times, dependent mothers and deep-rooted guilt feelings—we proceeded to make our marriage a battleground of all the neurotic compulsions that were our heritage. Only a deep underlying love for each other, dimly visible, saved Dick and me from committing mass murder.

One day in desperation I consulted an analyst, whom I had heard lecture two years earlier; and after the fashion of neurotics, I assumed that it was Dick, not I, who needed treatment. I made an appointment for Dick to see the specialist, saying that I would keep it myself if Dick didn't. The fortunate result was that both of us started analysis, on a schedule of three sessions a week.

Thus in a sense I feel we are pioneers along the road you are guiding others, the road that leads to mental health; and looking back I realize, with profound gratitude, that I wouldn't exchange my life today for any in the whole wide world. Dick and I shall continue to read and profit from your good sound advice, because every little bit added to our knowledge helps us to mature just that much more.

Signed: P. F.

ALTRUIST SPIRIT BESPEAKS HEALTH

DEAR P. F.: The hallmark, indeed the dynamic center, of mental health is positive active good will toward other folks, which is the spirit manifest in your letters, both in your endorsement of my efforts and in your desire to share the good fruits of your experience with other readers, who know not where to turn for relief from anxiety-afflictions. Housing Unit Rental Ceiling To Be Asked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (AP)—Among the tighter rent controls to be sought next year will be a return to ceilings for housing units in apartment hotels.

Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods, who reported this over the weekend, said about 1,000,000 such units would be involved. They were freed from control when the current extension bill went into effect last April 1.

"We get stories from all over the country that it's just a disgrace the way rental increases have been piled and pyramided with no relation to their increased costs," Woods told a reporter.

The present control law expires next March 31. Woods has said the administration will ask for a tightened up extension of at least another year.

Tea Is Honor For Visitors

Two former Lubbockites and their families were honored at a tea given Sunday afternoon by Mrs. L. R. Ragland and Mrs. Albert Blackwell at the home of the former hostess, 2912 Twenty-first. The honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Nate Smith of Los Angeles and Lt. (jg) and Mrs. J. L. Gammill and baby daughter, Kathy Lynn, of San Diego.

Mrs. Blackwell presided at the refreshment table which was decorated with an arrangement of bronze and yellow mums. These autumn colors were carried out in floral arrangements placed throughout the receiving rooms.

Approximately 60 relatives and friends of the honored guests called between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Smith, the former Julia Marie Blackwell, is a graduate of Lubbock High school. Lt. Gammill lived near Lubbock and attended Texas Tech college before entering the Naval Air Corps. He is now stationed at the Naval Air station, San Diego.

Championship Time In Schoolboy Race

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Word comes to us that Odessa sports fans are clamoring for a bowl game either in December or on New Year's Day. Moreover, their clamoring has passed the talk stage, we are told, with a group of businessmen guaranteeing to underwrite expenses in connection with the proposed game. And for the chief attraction, Odessa would like to secure Nevada, with that university's outstanding Stan Heath. Who the opponent would be is not known, but there are several outstanding teams to be considered.

If the fans want an even game, with the opponents about on an equal, there are such teams available as Oklahoma, Southern Methodist, Mississippi, Vanderbilt, Michigan, Minnesota, Illinois, North Carolina and others. Using Dr. Litkenhous for a guide and going by his numerical selections, any one of these teams stands not more than a point or two above or below Nevada. On the basis of these points, it would appear that any team chosen would tend to make Nevada a top opponent in a game that would be close to tops.

But, as in most bowl games, there's a rub. Such teams as Oklahoma, SMU, North Carolina, Vanderbilt, Michigan and the rest are being proposed for other bowl games and all the aforementioned bowls are established. Moreover, the majority of them conceivably are more lucrative than the new Odessa bowl group could make it. There's no question that the new stadium in Odessa is one of the best, if not the best, high school stadiums in the state. With its seating capacity larger than Jones Stadium at Texas Tech, it is ideal for a small bowl. Theoretically, it could seat, with end zone bleachers, about 22,000. Maybe even more than that could crowd in.

Any new bowl, in these days of over-emphasis bowls, is apt to be a risky proposition. We think that the public is being surfeited with holiday football games, that they are losing appeal. Not such bowls as the Cotton, Orange, Sugar and Dixie, but the smaller ones such as the Sun, Raisin, Salad, Oil, Fruit, Tutti-Frutti or what-have-you-bowls. What most of them amount to is another game on the schedule and, in most cases, no prestige if you win and loss of face in your area if you lose. We need go no farther than Tech's loss last year to Miami of Ohio. No one around here ever heard of them and they weren't held in any regard. The reverse was true.

We wish Odessa luck in its attempt to secure Nevada and an outstanding game. It would, if supported, be the basis for a top holiday bowl game in West Texas. Not that it ever would be able to equal the Cotton Bowl in prominence, simple because the upkeep on a stadium that size is prohibitive in the smaller city. And until the Odessa stadium was built larger, it would remain a small bowl game. But we do wish them luck and will be behind any effort they make 100 per cent. We think it would be good for West Texas and we don't think they'd have any trouble getting support for it.

The news in Sunday's paper that Lubbock has been "helped" out of the strong District 1-AA for District 3-AA will come as a shock to most persons. Although there had been talk that the alignment of the districts, after the City Conference was established last year, was unfair, since two teams drew byes in the first round of the state playoffs, few persons dreamed that they would break up District 1-AA. And as Lubbock officials said Saturday night, it wouldn't do us any good to complain, since the action will be final.

Loss of Amarillo on the Westerner schedule, as a conference opponent, will make some fans happy, due to the consistency of Golden Sandie victories. It also makes other fans unhappy, for there is always the dream that maybe this year we'll beat 'em. As it turns out, we trade Amarillo for Odessa and the Broncs would make an outstanding Thanksgiving Day attraction, not possibly the equal of Amarillo, but still one of the top grid games in the state. And the Sandies undoubtedly will be kept on the Westerner schedule. As a matter of fact, should the Westerners win District 3-AA, they might meet Amarillo some time in the playoffs.

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

It's championship time in the Texas schoolboy football campaign. The titles of at least three districts will be determined this week. All others must be decided by Nov. 27.

The stretch drive finds only three unbeaten, untied teams and four others that have escaped defeat but have been tied.

Henderson tumbled from the list of the undefeated and untied last week as Texarkana won 14-7 to virtually clinch the district 8 championship. Texarkana can win the crown with no more than a tie with downtrodden Kilgore Friday.

Alice Also Falls

Alice, which had not lost a game but had been tied, fell before Kingsville 27-21. This threw the district 14 race into a two-way tie between San Benito and McAllen and eliminated Alice unless McAllen and San Benito should deadlock in their big game Friday at McAllen. In that event, and in the event that Alice beat Edinburg Friday, the district race would end in a three-way tie between San Benito, McAllen and Alice.

Conroe and Palestine, deadlocked for the lead in district 10, play at Palestine Friday for the championship.

Baytown and Galveston get together at Galveston Friday with the district 12 crown in the balance.

The major upset of the past week was the 13-12 victory Childress registered over Wichita Falls. It plunged the district two race into a four-way tie for the lead among Childress, Quanah, Vernon and Wichita Falls. One of those teams will be eliminated Friday when Wichita Falls plays at Vernon.

In Upset Category

Defeat of Alice by Kingsville also went into the upset category.

The tangled situation in district 5 was cleared last week as three of the four teams tied for the lead met defeat.

Gainesville eliminated Paris, Bonham kicked Sherman out and Denison took first place by trimming Greenville 19-7.

Thirteen of the eighteen districts of the City conference and class AA now have undisputed leaders. They are:

City conference—1, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); 3, Lamar (Houston); 4, Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio). In district 2 Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) and Paschal (Fort Worth) are tied for the lead.

Class AA—1, Amarillo; 3, Odessa; 4, Austin (El Paso); , Denison; 6, Highland Park (Dallas); 7, Breckenridge; 8, Texarkana; 11, Port Arthur; 12, Baytown; 13, Austin. Waco and Temple are tied for the district 9 lead, Conroe and Palestine for district 10 and San Benito and McAllen for district 14.

Undefeated, untied teams left in the state are Port Arthur, Amarillo and Waco. Undefeated but tied are Baytown, Milby and Lamar of Houston and Arlington Heights.

Quarterback Club To Hear Pattison

The Quarterback club will hear Coach C. R. "Pat" Pattison of Lubbock High school tonight when club members meet at 8 in the east ballroom of the Hotel Lubbock, instead of the Hilton hotel.

Thomas B. Duggan, jr., club president, said that the change was made necessary by the main ballroom's being in use tonight by another charter.

In addition to Coach Pattison, Coach Dell Morgan of Texas Tech will discuss the approaching game Saturday between Tech and New Mexico. And Coach Damon Hill of Dunbar will review his season.

Pictures of the Tech-Texas Mines game, won by the Red Raiders 46-6, will conclude the meeting, while the winner of the prediction poll will be announced.

Miners Regain Second Place

While Texas Tech, the leader in the Border Conference, drew a weekend away from the gridiron, two other teams took advantage of the rapidly-ending program to improve their standings.

Texas Mines, soundly thrashed by the Red Raiders the week before, roared back with a 25-14 victory over Arizona's Wildcats to climb back into second place. And Hardin-Simmons, in fifth place, drubbed West Texas State Teachers College 28-6 Thursday afternoon to step up to a tie with Arizona State at Tempe for third.

Arizona To Fifth

In non-conference games, the down-trodden New Mexico Aggies chalked up their first victory of the year, a 27-14 slapping of Kansas State Teachers College at Fort Hays. But New Mexico University was handed a 13-0 lacing by Drake, which brought them revenge for last year's 8-7 loss to the Lobos. Loyola of the West Coast handed Arizona State at Tempe a 26-15 defeat and no score was available on the Pepperdine-Arizona State at Flagstaff game.

During the reshuffling of the standings, Arizona dropped from second to fifth, Tempe remained in third, but went into a tie with Hardin-Simmons, which had been in first place. Flagstaff climbed ahead of WTSTC and New Mexico and the New Mexico Aggies remained in eighth and ninth.

Tech Host To Lobos

This week only two conference games will be unreeled, with Hardin-Simmons playing host to Tempe in a night game at Abilene and New Mexico's Lobos invading Lubbock for a day tilt with Texas Tech. Arizona will play Iowa State of the Big Seven.

WTSTC, Texas Mines and Flagstaff all will be idle.

Most of the interest in the Border loop race will be here, when Coach Berl Huffman brings his Lobos to town. Tech should be a strong favorite in this traditional game, but Huffman could come up with a surprise. The Lobos definitely will be up for the game and Coach Dell Morgan hasn't forgotten how the 26-0 halftime lead disintegrated last year at Albuquerque. The Raiders finally won the game 26-20, after staving off a desperate attack that took the Lobos to within three inches of a first down on the Raider 10-yard line.

Southwest Texas Cops Loop Title

(By The Associated Press)

For the first time since the Lone Star conference was organized in 1932 the championship has been decided two weeks before the season is over with neither North Texas nor East Texas any longer in the running.

Southwest Texas State copped the title by trouncing Sam Houston 14 to 0 at Huntsville Saturday while second place North Texas was losing in the mud to the University of Houston 8 to 6 at Houston. Meanwhile, Trinity and East Texas fought to a 7 to 7 tie at San Antonio.

McMurry Has Chance To Top Conference

(By The Associated Press)

McMurry can clinch the Texas conference title this week by beating Southwestern, but if the Indians lose the race won't be decided until Thanksgiving Day.

The Indians took over the lead in the dizzy chase for the crown last week, dumping Howard Payne from a first-place tie, 32-20.

Southwestern also skidded out a share of the lead when it lost to Hardin, 14-7.

Abilene Christian blasted Austin College, 45-6, to share second place with Hardin.

Final Play Thrills Mark College Tilts

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—College football teams squeezed through Saturday's proceedings with a minimum of upsets, but with enough fourth quarter thrills for a whole season.

The top two games of the day weren't settled until the final gun sounded. More than a half-dozen others were seriously in doubt up to the last play.

Stranger Than Fiction

Take a look at these stranger than fiction finals:

Army marched 73 yards to beat the clock by 30 seconds in whipping Pennsylvania, 26-20, after the lead had changed hands three times.

Notre Dame came from behind in the last nine minutes to edge Northwestern, 12-7.

Gil Johnson's desperation pass to Paul Page gave Southern Methodist a 14-12 verdict over Arkansas on the last play of the game.

With less than three minutes remaining Bob Dean scored for Cornell and then kicked the extra point that gave the Big Red a 27-26 margin over Dartmouth, which had led, 26-14, at the start of the fourth quarter.

In Shadow Of Goal

Princeton nipped Yale, 20-14, with two last period touchdowns and then had to halt the determined Elis within the shadow of the goalposts in the closing seconds.

Iowa refused to stay down against Minnesota. The Hawkeyes were never ahead, but they tied the Gophers three different times before Minnesota finally pulled it out in the last quarter, 28-21.

Joe McCary, playing despite injuries, traveled 45 yards in the last quarter for the only score as Virginia nosed out West Virginia, 7-0.

Boston college, by far the best in everything but points, had to come from behind in the closing minutes to gain a 14-14 tie with William and Mary.

And unbeaten Clemson, an underdog despite its untarnished record, moved past Wake Forest, 21-14, with a fourth period counter.

There were some lop-sided affairs, too.

Michigan Does It Again

Michigan scored and scored and scored against Indiana, finally winding up with a 54-0 verdict that probably will make it first by a wide margin in the Associated Press poll of leading teams.

Unbeaten California found Washington State a soft touch and breezed home in front, 44-14. Once-tied Penn State romped over Temple, 47-0. Georgia stayed on top in the Southeastern conference by rolling over Auburn, 42-14, and Oklahoma, Big Seven favorite, had it just as easy against Nebraska, winning, 41-14. North Carolina brushed aside Maryland, 49-20, in what was supposed to be a defensive battle.

The South provided a couple of surprises.

Alabama upset Georgia Tech, 14-12, virtually knocking the Engineers from bowl consideration. And Tennessee, which had dumped Tech from the unbeaten ranks only the Saturday before, wound up on the short end of a 16-13 score against Mississippi.

Kansas State came within six yards of winning its first conference game since 1944, but its hated rival, Kansas university, prevailed, 20-14.

Ohio State warned Michigan that it may furnish trouble this Saturday. The Buckeyes trounced Illinois, 34-7, with three touchdowns in the last quarter.

Tulane remained in the running for a possible Sugar bowl bid by defeating Baylor, 35-13.

Lou Groza, ace place-kicker for the Cleveland Browns of the All-American pro Conference, recently missed a record 56-yard field goal when the ball hit the crossbar and bounced back.

Browns Only Unbeaten Pros

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP) — The Cleveland Browns climbed atop the western division standings in the All-America conference Sunday by defeating San Francisco, 14-7. The verdict left the Browns the only unbeaten team in professional football.

While the AAC was settling temporarily its western division fight, three teams drew into a first place tie in the east. Baltimore rallied for 28 points in the final half to whip the Chicago Rockets, 38-24; New York Yankees defeated Brooklyn, 21-7, and a last minute touchdown gave Los Angeles a 27-20 edge over Buffalo.

Plenty of fireworks exploded in the National league although division leaders remained unchanged.

Eagles Are On Top

Philadelphia's smooth-working Eagles breezed past Boston, 45-0, their third decision by the same margin this season, and kept on top in the east. Chicago's Bears and Cardinals remained tied in their fight for western honors, but the Bears stayed in the van by the slender margin of an extra-point kick. The boot, by Allen Lawler, gave them a 7-6 edge over Green Bay.

The Cardinals brushed aside Pittsburgh, 24-7; Washington scored four last quarter touchdowns in downing Detroit, 46-21, and Los Angeles finally emerged on top in a wild scoring battle with the New York Giants, 52-37.

Baylor To Get Shot At SMU

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Baylor's Golden Bears get their whack at Southern Methodist university this week.

Arkansas missed throwing the front-running Mustangs by two seconds last week, leaving it up to Baylor to try and pitch the Southwest conference title chase into a three-way tie.

A 16-yard pass from Gilbert Johnson to Paul Page on the final play of the game kept Southern Methodist undefeated in conference action, 14-12.

Texas Retains Hopes

Texas retained its championship hopes by coming from behind to defeat Texas Christian, 14-7.

Baylor's chances against the Mustangs weren't improved by the 35-13 licking it suffered at the hands of Tulane.

Rice handed Texas A and M its ninth straight loss this year, 28-6.

Only Baylor and Texas Christian now stand in Southern Methodist's way of a repeat performance as Southwest conference champion and host team in the Cotton bowl New Year's day.

Should the Mustangs lose Saturday, they would be tied at the top with Texas and Baylor.

Big Interest in Dallas

Most of the interest this week will be centered on the big game at Dallas. But Rice and Texas Christian meet at Houston and Arkansas and Tulsa tangle at Little Rock. Texas and Texas A and M take the week off to prepare for their traditional Thanksgiving day tilt.

Doak Walker ended up with a minus ten yards rushing against Arkansas, but kicked the extra points that spelled the difference between victory and a tie.

The Mustang All-America's point total for the year now stands at 86. Pete Stout of Texas Christian, Leon Campbell of Arkansas and Bobby Lantrip of Rice are bunched behind him, each with 42 points.

Italy has sent 100 tons of rice to Yugoslavia for the children.

District 4-A Title Clash Set At Post

Post's Antelopes, winners of the south half of District 4-A, and the Littlefield Wildcats, who were named as the representatives of the north 4-A loop, will meet at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Post gridiron in their playoff clash for the district championship and the right to represent 4-A in bi-district competition.

Coaches and officials of the two schools met in Lubbock at Hilton hotel Sunday afternoon to determine the time and site of the game, and Post Mentor Bing Bingham correctly called the flip of the coin that settled the issue after nearly two hours of discussion.

Opposed Playing Here

The Post officials proposed early in the meeting, that the important tilt be played in Texas Tech's Jones stadium. But the Littlefield officials stated that "We would rather play in Post than Lubbock," and the question—under Interscholastic league rules—was determined by the flip of a coin. A member of the Littlefield delegation flipped the coin and Coach Bingham called, "Heads." Heads it was, and Post was announced as the site of the game.

Post officials said their reasons for wanting the game played in Jones stadium were based on the better facilities and greater seating capacity at the Tech field, and declared that Littlefield or Post could not seat all those who would want to attend the game.

Rather Take Chance

Littlefield's objections were that their fans would rather take a chance on having the game on their home field, even though they might lose the toss and have to go to Post. A member of the Littlefield delegation also said that he believed "our home town merchants deserve a chance at the crowd as a result of their support of the team and their aid in improving the Littlefield stadium."

Plans for the tussle were also completed by school officials, and admission prices were set. Student tickets will be sold for 50 cents, general admission ducats will cost one dollar and reserved seats will be priced at $1.50.

Winner of the Post-Littlefield setto will meet Lockney, the 3-A winner, in the bi-district bracket of the playoff to a state Class A championship.

That Girl on Broadway says it's best to take sympathy in very small doses.

About the only thing that hasn't been affected by inflation is advice.

It's still going for what it's worth—which usually is nothing!

EVEN if the U. S. should be successful in finding a way to get our story before the Russian people, there's no telling how the average Russkie would react to it.

As most people have been told by this time, the Russian mind is an Oriental, rather than an Occidental, mind.

This means that Russian reactions to any philosophy, to any thought, to any condition, may very likely be the exact opposite of our own.

Thus, even if it were possible to lay before each Russian the exact picture of American life and our feelings toward the rest of the world, Ivan McSlotchkivitch might take it in the exact opposite.

A case in point is the Russian reaction to the film, "Grapes of Wrath," which Stalin's lads captured from the Germans and showed, with high glee, in Russia.

"Grapes of Wrath," as most people remember, was a film which showed the very seamiest side of the depression and is not, in any way, a good advertisement for our capitalistic system.

But what impressed the Russian audiences the most was not the hard lot of the "Okies" in the film. They were stunned, and made quite envious, over the fact that those "American peasants" all had their own motor cars!

STALIN & CO. showed some American news reels in Russia, too. The idea was to show the people over there "how badly the workers are treated" under the American system.

In one shot in which rioting strikers were shown being opposed by police, a negro rioter was banged over the noggin and knocked bleeding to the ground.

Unimpressed by the slugging, the Russians "oh'd" and "ah'd" about the high quality of shoes worn by the negro.

The picture showed, plainly, that the shoes were much better than those worn even by the Communist upper crust in Russia!

So even if some future agreement is made between the U. S. and Russia permitting free exchange of information between the two countries, we still won't have clear sailing in any effort we may make to win the Russian people to the theory of capitalism.

They're liable to get everything backwards—which is causing Hollywood some concern following the recent agreement between the Kremlin and Eric Johnston which will permit some American films to be shown in Communist dominated lands overseas.

A guy named Dilman M. K. Smith, who runs an outfit that makes surveys, says a recent bit of national research done by his company shows that workers are not primarily interested in their paychecks. In fact, says he, the paycheck ranks seventh in the worker's interest.

Assuming that he polled workers by sexes, we suppose their interests rank, women, women, women, women, women, women and paychecks; men, men, men, men, men, men, and paychecks!

A CAR manufacturer claims that the motor of his latest model car runs so quietly that it cannot be heard above the ticking of the clock on the dashboard.

To those experienced with dashboard clocks, the most amazing part of the statement is that the clock runs!

CITY and school officials are getting their heads together in an effort to co-ordinate their recreational programs.

That is fine.

It is something that should have been done several years ago, since each agency is operating an ambitious recreational program of its own and the two frequently overlap and duplicate each other.

Complete co-ordination of the two programs would save money and, at the same time, could provide a better over-all public recreational unit.

Everyone will hope that the City commission and the school board can get together in this matter, especially since both seek to serve the same people.

Revived, too, is another plan which would be of great benefit to the public.

That is a possible swap of some sort whereby the schools can get the block-size park on Nineteenth street across from Senior High, and the City can secure a larger, better located piece of park property which can be used for something other than just to look at.

BY DREW PEARSON: CONGRESSMAN McDOWELL PULLED FAST ONE—WAS VOTED OUT

Democrats Decide That Taft-Hartley Act Must Go

WASHINGTON — Congressman J. "I-Refuse-to-Testify" Thomas isn't the only member of the House un-American activities committee who didn't practice in his own office what he preached from the committee rostrum.

PEARSON

Another who pulled a fast one behind the taxpayers' back while investigating un-Americanism in others, was Pennsylvania's outgoing Congressman John McDowell.

Though McDowell didn't take kickbacks, he drew $5,400 annually from the government to pay a secretary, but used it instead to subsidize a local politician. The salary meant for McDowell's secretary went to the Republican chairman in his home town, Albert E. Beech of Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Beech also serves in the Pennsylvania state legislature which pays him another $3,000 each session. By profession, he is a commercial photographer. About the only thing he doesn't do is secretarial work for McDowell.

NOTE — Though McDowell comes from a predominantly Republican district, the voters got wise to him and sent a Democrat to Congress in his place on Nov. 2. More than anyone else, the man who defeated McDowell was a Republican editor—Bert F. Kline, who campaigned against McDowell in the Homestead Messenger and Squirrel Hill News.

Taft-Hartley End

It won't be announced for some time, but here is a digest of backstage planning on the all-important question of banishing the Taft-Hartley act at the next Congress:

1—After much discussion, the President and his labor advisers have decided that the T-H act should be repealed en toto, rather than "amended down" into a form acceptable to organize labor.

2 — Present plans are to make T-H repeal first on the administration's list of "must" legislation for the new Congress. In any event, President Truman will request very early action.

3—Since repeal of the Taft-Hartley act not only will eliminate many of the restrictive curbs on labor, but also wipe out collective-bargaining privileges and other vital sections of the old Wagner labor act embodied in it, a complete new bill will have to be drafted for congressional action.

You can jot it down that this new legislation will, of course, guarantee the two main provisions of the Wagner "Magna Charta" act—labor's right to join unions of its own choosing and to bargain collectively with employers. It will also provide:

A.—The closed shop, banned under the Taft-Hartley act, will be restored.

B.—The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, now an independent agency, will be returned to the Labor department and given greater latitude in dealing with labor disputes.

C.—Presidential fact-finding boards, now limited to probing labor disputes, will be given the power to make recommendations for strike settlement.

THERE will be some restrictions on labor, yet to be worked out. The President is certain to ask for a ban on both jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. Also, a special section of the new law will deal with strikes that create national emergencies, such as John L. Lewis's tieups of the coal-mining industry.

An extended "cooling-off period,' probably as long as 90 days, during which it would be unlawful to strike, may be written into the law. Some of Truman's advisers, however, doubt that this will be enough to cope with Lewis and have been urging that the door be left open for recourse to the courts in national strike emergencies.

President Truman is opposed to the injunction procedure of stopping strikes. At the sime time he realizes that court action may be the only means of hobbling unscrupulous labor leaders who endanger the public welfare. This is the toughest section of the bill to be written and the inside betting is that the wastebaskets will overflow with discarded drafts before the White House comes up with the $64 answer.

Timid Judge

U. S. District Judge Walter C. Lindley of Danville, Ill., is one man who didn't bet on President Truman. And it may have cost him promotion to a coveted place on the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Shortly before elections, Attorney General Tom Clark telephoned Judge Lindley, offering him promotion to the Court of Appeals. Judge Lindley was appointed by President Harding, and is a Republican. He has had an excellent record, however, and was picked by the Truman administration for promotion.

But when the attorney general told him of the promotion, Judge Lindley hesitated.

"I couldn't take the oath of office now," he said. "You can send me the commission, but I won't say anything about it until after the elections."

Obviously, Judge Lindley figured Truman was going to lose, and he would not be confirmed by the Senate. Now that Truman has won, the Justice department is not inclined to promote a judge who would not take a chance on Truman.

* * *

THERE has been a lot of talk about who did and who didn't stand up to be counted for Truman before election. Ex-Governor Ellis Arnall of Georgia was in the pro-Truman category, predicted in the Atlantic Monthly in October that Truman would win . . . Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer also predicted Truman . . . The man who did most for Truman in downstate Illinois was veteran editor of the Illinois State Register, "Admiral" V. Y. Dallman . . . New York taxi driver Joe Mercurio bet his passengers a gallon of wine each Truman would win. He collected so much wine he could have remained drunk a year—but won't . . . Ed Lagron, Florida chairman of the Democratic veterans affairs committee, had a hard time raising money for Truman. He needed $1,500 for campaign expenses. So he borrowed $200 from friends, placed it at 7½ to 1 in New York, and thus the Republicans paid the $1,500 for the veteran's Democratic campaign in Florida . . . U. S. Assistant Attorney General Vincent Quinn resigned a good job in the Justice department to run for Congress in Queens borough, New York. He won. The victory is especially significant because Quinn is the man accused by the un-American activities committee of failing to prosecute various alleged Communists who worked in the government during the war. While Quinn won, two leading Republican members of the un-American committee who criticized him were defeated.

Show Stealing Is Branded As "Grandest Kind Of Larceny"

SHOW STEALING is the grandest kind of larceny. No punishment and no penalty, as a rule, and sometimes a great press, and a mark in histofy, is the gamble. Boston audiences witnessing the opening night of "Lady in the Dark" caught a scene - stealing play that nearly closed out Danny Kaye. A double play miraculously saved the day. Known only to the Borschtelligentsia, Kaye went on in his solo spot, in "Tchaikowsky," brought down the house in his feat of enunciating the names of 56 Russian composers in 40 seconds. . . Legend is that Ira Gershwin, show's lyricist, went out for a smoke and came back to find the patrons still howling. . . Meanwhile, in her dressing room, star Gertie Lawrence waited and burned. No matter what happened to Kaye after that night, Gertie's star 'n' garter had to be redeemed, and quick. She kept her ladylike demeanor up to the saga of "Jenny", and then pulled out all the stops. . . The ensuing bumps and grinds have kept many an old lecher's heart warm through these burlesque-less years.

WINCHELL

Danny Kaye himself recently had a chance to learn what it feels like to have your thunder stolen, if only for a clappaudience or two. As Mr. Goldwyn's star moneymaker, Danny has been consistently partnered with frabjous Virginia Mayo. Ginny was a docile enough playmate while they romped through "Wonder Man," "Kid from Brooklyn," and "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty." But after a change of pace as the petulant floozie in "The Best Years of Our Lives," Virginia's been feeling her oats. In their last picture for Goldwyn, "A Song Is Born," she challenges Danny at his own game. Makes good, too. And how does Mr. K. like it?

EVEN the best of them are not above this tricky-business. . . W. C. Fields was highlighting his celebrated pool table act in an early Ziegfeld Follies. The bibulous Fields almost resolved to swear off the stuff when the act that had served him for 10 years started backfiring. The yaks came in the wrong places or not at all. In a cold fury, he looked under the pool table for the cause of it all. . . . Ed Wynn lay there, mugging like a Perfect Fool. For several weeks thereafter, Fields went on without Wynn. Next time Wynn crept into the act, Fields let him have it across the noggin with the billiard cue. The audience loved it, and Wynn was a two-time winner.

One of the funniest bits of business ever worked out was hit upon to counter another player's scene - stealing. Gravedigger No. 1 in a certain production of "Hamlet" used to divert the audience's attention from the sorehead-ed Dane by peeling off a coat with every speech of Hamlet's. He wore six coats. . . One night his customary business brought double laughs, a louder one following each chortle for doffing a coat. . . He wasn't having echo trouble. The second gravedigger was putting on the coats as fast as he took them off.

SCENE STEALING can be legitimate. Maude Adams was just a sweet leading lady to matinee idol John Drew (the distaff strain of the Barrymores) in "The Masked Ball." But when the sweet leading lady finished her big drunk scene, the audience stood up and cheered. . . Helen Hayes was a little-publicized child actress until she had William Gillette for a stage daddy in Barrie's "Dear Brutus." The whimsical, romantic part gave her the opportunity she needed to capture the public's heart. . . . Veterans Janet Beecher and Alan Pollock found themselves bypassed by critics for their prosaic romance in "Bill of Divorcement." And newcomer Katharine Cornell was touted to the skies for her playing of the brooding, hysterical Sydney.

Lawrence Tibbett had his day of glory, coming from a long succession of minor operatic roles to steal "Falstaff" right out from under the wig of the mighty Scotti, who had bucked the greatest singstealer of them all, Caruso. . . And who can forget the wonder and the excitement of starry-eyed Mary Martin, for the first time in her life on Broadway in "Leave It to Me," singing "My Heart Belongs to Daddy?"

SURE, scene stealing is a catty trick. It was a cat who sashayed out from the wings at the Met and twined herself around the tenor's leg. He was oozing the love duet from "Faust" . . . Another spectacle that should have attracted the kitties was the flight of pigeons at the Democratic Convention. The "doves of peace" were let fly at the President's appearance. The crazy birds stopped the show and made the Pres. look less like a prophet of peace than a magician.

But my favorite example of show stealing happened during King Edward VII's burial march. Not that anybody had it in his head to detract from the final respects paid to the good king. But the focus of the scene with its black-draped horses, dress-uniformed guards and high personages was the little smooth-haired terrier who walked behind his master's coffin.

So it goes. . . As long as there are dogs and babies and expansive egos. . . As long as there's that yawning black maw of the public out front, thesps will fight for the privilege of stuffing it with their own brand of ham.

And then there's the most exciting show stealing of them all—the way Harry Truman stole the show Election Night.

Senior High will have to have more room—or a second high school will have to be built. If the latter plan is followed, that will mean a division of athletic and other talent, as well as a heavier construction and operational expenditure.

If the Nineteenth street park can be made available to the schools, Senior High's shop, domestic science, gymnasium, swimming pool and other activities can be housed there, connected with the main building by passages under busy Nineteenth.

That's something which should be done for the good of the city as a whole.

SOME, if not all, of the members of the Park board are very reluctant to lose the Nineteenth street site and that is understandable.

It's their baby and they've nursed it along until it is an outstanding beauty spot on a street otherwise marred by a hodgepodge of construction. They love it partly because more than any other park in the city is has "sold" people on the desirability of a good park system.

But it isn't worth a hoot for anything except to look at—and certainly it isn't as valuable for looking purposes as it would be as the site of an expanded, improved and modernized high school.

By the time another full term opens at Senior High, the enrollment there will be near 1,600.

Thus the Nineteenth street park site, with an auxiliary Senior High building on it, would actually serve—in an essential rather than an aesthetic way — youngsters from every part of Lubbock. And it would continue to serve them for years and years in a way much more practical than any beauty spot (sans playground) or relaxing area possibly could do.

LUBBOCK should be practical about the matter of the Nineteenth street park and the Senior High school's needs for expansion. We cannot afford to be aesthetic—especially since there are plenty of other sites by which we can give way to our love of the aesthetic.

By and large, the people who own the schools also own the park and any time a trade can be made whereby the people profit, the trade ought to be made.

'I'm Boss Here! You'll Enter When I Say So!'

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

SHE is a young mother pretty much tied down by housework and children. She's intelligent, well-educated, but lonely for mental stimulation. She isn't the club - woman type, but she does miss the kind of companionship she had during her college and job - holding years. How to get it?

MILLETT

In one city a small group of young women who fit that description has solved the problem. And what they are doing young women in other towns and cities could do.

Twice a month they get together. There's no formality to their meeting; they don't elect officers, listen to dull reports, or go in for any fancy entertaining. They get together for lunch as a group of congenial businessmen might do.

ONE BIG RULE

THEY have only one rule—and that's what makes their companionship stimulating. They don't talk "woman talk." Houses, babies, clothes, gossip are out.

While they are together they talk about things outside their daily routine—politics, books, national and world affairs.

By making a little special effort these young yomen are helping themselves and each other to get the kind of stimulating companionship they felt that, as housewives, they miss.

They've got a fine idea—if they just don't spoil it by deciding to "organize." If they do that they'll be just another study club.

Today's Thought

And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God . . .—Job 19:26.

What is the grave? 'Tis a cool, shady harbor, where the Christian

Wayworn and weary with life's rugged road,

Forgetting all life's sorrows, joys and pains,

Lays his poor body down to rest—

Sleeps on — and wakes in heaven.—Beattie.

"Try And Stop Me"

AFTER William Lyon Phelps had completed a lecture before a group of society ladies in Southampton, one of them buttonholed him and said, "I hope you won't mind my telling you how thoroughly I enjoyed your speech."

"Madame," Professor Phelps beamed, "you misunderstand me. I perceive. I am a glutton for praise."

IN a publishing office recently, the sales manager, Miller, was ragging the advertising director, a Beau Brummelish individual named Sussman. Today's Journal Editorial

A REMINDER, ANYWAY

Rep. W. K. Macy, of New York, handed out the less-than-startling information the other day that some auto dealers are squeezing the last ounce of profit out of present shortages while others are trying to deal fairly. Everyone was aware of this condition without an investigation by a congressional committee headed by Mr. Macy.

Thus it is difficult to see any contribution the inquiry may have made toward improvement of conditions so obvious.

But the report might serve as a pertinent reminder that, if autos ever become plentiful again, the dealers who are trying to be fair now are the ones likely to continue in business. The chiselers are going to be on a great many blacklists.

Square dealing is pretty sure to pay the biggest, and by far the most satisfactory, dividends in the long run. The square dealer won't profit under present conditions as much as his less ethical competitors. But he is likely to be prospering when many of those rivals cannot succeed in any business because of the ill will they now are creating for themselves.

Members Of Mythical Dewey Cabinet Attend Top Meeting

WASHINGTON.—All during the week top industrialists together with a few educators, editors and labor leaders have been meeting at the Pentagon in a "joint orientation conference." They came at the invitation of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, who addressed the group just before he took off on his surprise mission to Europe.

CHILDS

Within its rather narrow limits, such a conference undoubtedly is useful. Men with heavy responsibility for the re-armament program and its effect on the economy are hearing at first hand and off the record the generals, the admirals and the government officials directly concerned with the program.

One aspect of the conference, however, has caused a certain sly amusement among some of the conferees. On the invitation list were several who were slated to be key figures if Gov. Dewey had won the election, among them Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase National bank, who was frequently mentioned as Secretary of the Treasury in that mythical Dewey cabinet.

Lewis Invited

The top ranking labor leader invited was John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers who denounced President Truman and gave Dewey at least a backhanded endorsement. The suspicion is that in planning the conference, Forrestal, who seems to have had no more confidence than the poll-takers or "experts" that Truman would be re-elected, intended it as a transition to the new Dewey regime.

As it turned out, the invited guests did not do all the listening at the closed sessions. One of the trade union executives attending was James B. Carey, secretary of the CIO. When a general displayed a large chart mapping off areas of responsibility, with a conspicuous patch labeled "security," Carey raised a problem that has many people worried.

He brought up the case of the two employees of a Westinghouse Electric Co. plant at Essington, Penn., who were taken off of government work because they were judged by the government to be "poor security risks." This dismissal last summer of Herbert Lewin and Francis Carner shut down the plant when several thousand employees walked out in protest.

LATER, the two men were put on non-government work and the plant resumed operation. Only this week, however, word was received confirming the security order against Lewin and Carner.

Carey pointed out that the two men were known to be ardently anti-Communist. As members of the left-wing workers party, they do hold unorthodox political views, as Carey made perfectly plain. But they have consistently fought the Communist faction dominating the United Electrical Workers at the national level and this was widely known to the men in the Essington plant.

From both security officials and Westinghouse Vice Chairman George H. Bucher, present at the conference, Carey wanted to know what was behind the security charge. He declared that known Communists were working at Essington today, apparently with the company's sanction. No satisfactory answer was forthcoming.

Back of all this is a complicated quarrel that cuts many ways. Carey, a former executive of the electrical workers before he became Phil Murray's chief lieutenant, has for years waged an unsuccessful battle against the Communists in the UEW. UEW, incidentally, was the only major union to support Henry Wallace.

Thinks Union Threatened

Carey now is convinced that under the guise of security, the very existence of the union is being threatened. Both Lewin and Carner were active in the UEW.

The real state is the position of UEW in plants operating under contract to the Atomic Energy commission. The commission has announced that because officials of the union refuse to take the non-Communist oath in the Taft-Hartley act, the union no longer will be recognized as the bargaining agent.

This, too, Carey and Murray regard as union-busting. They insist that known Communists—and security officials do know who they are—can be fired individually as agents of a foreign power which is a potential enemy. In this way, they argue, any threat to security can be eliminated.

As with so many other phases of the defense program, this is kept pretty

Republicans Call For Shakeup In Congressional Leadership

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The possibility that Senator Taft of Ohio may decide to give up his Senate GOP leadership post is being discussed in Republican congressional circles today.

Taft, away on a trip to Europe, may face a fight if he wants to remain as chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee.

Some colleagues who class themselves as GOP liberals already are calling for a shakeup in their party's high command.

Their contention is that the record of the GOP-controlled 80th Congress — which Taft helped write—contributed not only to the defeat of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the presidential nominee, but to the party's loss of both houses in the November 2 election.

Demos Carried State

There is little doubt that if these Republicans make an issue of this contention, Taft would fight to retain the leadership.

On the other hand, some of the Ohio senator's friends say that if Taft isn't challenged openly, he may wish to step out of his own accord.

They point out that Taft faces a re-election battle in Ohio in 1950. President Truman carried the state, which also elected a Democratic governor.

Taft may figure, his friends said, that any formal leadership duties would take so much time they would hamper his re-election campaign.

GOP Parley Slated

As the situation stands, Taft will go off the policy body automatically unless the Republican senators change the rules they adopted two years ago to rotate policy committee memberships. Those rules can be changed by a majority vote.

If there is to be a fight against Taft, the showdown will come when all of the Republican senators meet in conference to organize their forces for the new congress.

At this point, unofficial nose counts indicate the Republicans might split about evenly for and against continuing the Ohio senator in his position of power.

If Taft decides not to make a fight for the policy chairmanship, it is considered likely that some other office will be created to give him an official position.

Wherry's Scalp Sought

The same Republican insurgents who want to get rid of Taft also are gunning for Senator Wherry of Nebraska, who acted as party floor leader in the last few months of the present Congress.

Wherry has been one of the chief critics of President Truman's domestic and foreign proposals. He was one of the few who voted against the European recovery program yet won re-election.

There is less grumbling among the insurgents about Senator Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the Republican conference. He might even serve as a compromise choice, if a battle develops.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who steps downs as president pro tempore of the Senate when the Democrats take over control January 3, also has been suggested as a possible compromise.

There are some signs that Vandenburg thinks a change in leadership should be made. But there are no signs that he wants to increase with domestic tasks the burden he has been carrying in directing Republican activities in the field of foreign affairs.

STOCKS SHOW GAINS

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP) — The stock market closed higher today under the influence of favorable dividend and earnings reports.

Gains were from fractions to more than a point with some of the leaders pushing to around 2 points. The advance was general, although last minute profit taking cut the tops from the highest prices.

The volume of trading was about 1,600,000 shares.

Prices hesitated in the beginning, but within a short time the forward movement became general.

Rails, steels and metals were among the best groups. Motors and oils lagged behind for a part of the day.

Dupont was up more than 2 points at one time after a year-end dividend of $3.75. Baltimore & Ohio common was up nearly 1 point and preferred around 3 during the day after a dividend of $1 on a preferred, the first preferred payment declared since 1931.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in moderately active dealings today, confined mostly to the old crop deliveries. There was persistent trade buying in nearby December and March against export sales, along with mill demand against textile sales.

Washington trade reports said the ECA still expects to authorize credits for 1,500,000 bales of export cotton between now and end of the crop season to bring total ECA credit up to 2,500,000 bales for the fall season.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 (AP) — The grain market, shrugging off bearish news, pushed ahead for fair-sized gains today. Commission houses did much of the buying which sent wheat, corn and oats up a cent at times while soybeans jumped nearly 4 cents.

Along the east coast a longshoremen's strike continued, but it caused no selling pressure on grains. Prices dipped a bit at the start and then came bounding back. Within the first hour they had gone above the previous close and thereafter they never lost this gain.

Cash corn prices were slightly lower, but that had no influence on futures contracts. The local Commodity Credit corporation office said it was still interested in offers of grain for shipment to the East coast for export.

Wheat closed 1 to 3¾ higher, December $2.36¾, corn was 1 to 1¾ higher, December $1.41¾-1.42, oats were ¾-1¼ higher, December 82.

New Prince

Wales, a title last held by the duke before his brief reign as Edward VIII. President Truman sent congratulations. Prime Minister Attlee said "I am delighted." King Frederik of Denmark posted his note of congratulations with his own hand.

Peoples of scores of races joined in the world wide jubilation.

A noontime drizzle of rain scattered for a while the crowds waiting before Buckingham palace. By 1 p. m., the rain had stopped and the holiday spirit again prevailed.

The doctors who attended the birth at 9:14 (3:14 p. m. CST) last night visited the mother and baby early this morning while church bells pealed and joyous crowds clustered at the palace gates.

They issued this bulletin:

"Her royal highness the Princess Elizabeth has had some sleep during the night. Her condition and that of the infant prince is satisfactory."

Royal Weight Given

The baby weighed seven pounds, six ounces, at birth, an announcement said. Members of the court described him as "a lovely boy, a really splendid baby," and "a bonny lad."

Court circles said the wording of the doctors' bulletin, referring to "some" sleep, indicated the princess did not have an entirely restful night.

But the birth evidently was uncomplicated and the labor short. The baby arrived so quickly some officials called to the palace for the birth still were on the way when the prince was born.

Both doctors left the palace an hour after issuing their bulletin indicating all was well with mother and son.

The baby was born in a specially prepared room on the second floor of the palace.

Britain and the overseas dominions gave the infant who may one day rule the empire a royal welcome today.

Title Is Expected

Last night's momentous news of the birth came in a terse announcement from the doctors attending the princess. Joyous thousands, who had waited for hours in the mild November evening, heard of the safe delivery nearly an hour after the birth.

"Her royal highness and her son are both doing well," the first bulletin said.

That was the signal for thunderous cheers, wild hand-waving and an outburst of enthusiasm such as austere London has not known since Elizabeth and handsome Prince Philip were married last November.

The birth came six days before the first anniversary of that dramatic event in Westminster abbey.

In time, the child doubtless will be designated Prince of Wales. This is not an automatic title, but was created. Throughout history it has been exclusive to the sovereign's eldest son.

Ordinarily, Elizabeth's son might have to wait for the honor until his mother became queen, but it is felt in some circles that a special dispensation might enable him to assume it sooner.

The infant is second-in-line heir presumptive to the throne because there are several possibly — but unlikely — contingencies in the succession.

Boys have an edge on girls in the succession. It is a medical fact that Queen Elizabeth can have no more children. But as a historian learned in such matters put it:

"If our dear queen should die — which God forbid — and his majesty should marry again and have a son by his second wife . . ."

From the moment the birth was announced until well past midnight the crowds at the palace swelled, standing patiently, squatting on curbs, milling about or lambering over the huge Victoria monument in front of the palace.

Women Faint

The beginning was as simple as this. A blue liveried page strode swiftly from the palace to the big iron gates and murmured into the ear of a policeman.

The bobby boomed to the crowds:

"It's a boy."

A laborer took up the cry, shouting "it's a boy, a prince has been born."

Women — and men as well — wept and didn't mind showing it. Several women fainted.

As midnight passed and the excitement showed no signs of lessening, a police car broadcast over its loudspeaker, "ladies and gentlemen, it is requested from the palace that we have a little quietness if you please."

Queen Mary First Visitor

The cheering went on and cries rose from all sides for Philip, who had rushed to his wife as soon as the doctors told him he was the father of a boy.

Wearing flannel slacks, an open-necked shirt and a sweater, he opened a bottle of champagne and with 81-year-old Queen Mother Mary and members of the royal household, toasted his wife and son.

Queen Mary, now a great grandmother, was the first visitor to the palace after the announcement. She inspired a tremendous ovation as her car glided through Buckingham palace's gates.

Tears filled her eyes then, and again when, as she left, the crowds were even more enthusiastic. They swarmed over her car, yelled good wishes and were reluctant to let her go home.

Truman Plans Remain Secret

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 15 (AP)—Company comes and goes at the southern "White House" with no one outside any wiser about administration decisions or the makeup of the new cabinet.

There was no statement from President Truman on a suggestion by Trygvie Lie, United Nations secretary-general and Herbert Evatt president of the UN general assembly, that the four "big powers" resume negotiations looking to ending the Berlin stalemate.

Nor would the President comment on reports from Paris that Secretary of Defense Forrestal had left it to the chief executive when he should resign from the cabinet.

Wallgren May Get Post

Senator Alben W. Barkley, vice president-elect; Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman and Leslie L. Biffle, director of the Democratic national committee in the Senate, would say nothing as they moved out of Mr. Truman's retreat.

Matthew J. Connelly and Charles G. Ross, presidential secretaries, were moving in from Washington. Also coming down was Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington state, a presidential pal, who was defeated for re-election in November. It's reported he will be offered a top administration post.

The three were flying here by plane with David K. Niles, administrative assistant in charge of problems of minorities.

Barkley, McGrath and Biffle drove to Miami and Palm Beach by automobile with William Boyle, Washington lawyer and a special assistant to McGrath on the national committee. All plan to be back in Washington about Wednesday.

Woman Killed

Texas A. and M. college, and other relatives in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams had started to Lubbock to visit Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Adams. The Lubbock couple left for Big Spring after being notified of the accident.

Patrolmen F. D. Williams and T. D. Whitehorne of the Big Spring Highway Patrol office investigated the accident.

The officers said in their report that Mr. and Mrs. Adams were traveling in one car, the Lubbock men and women in the other car involved in the collision. The Brownfield man in the pickup was traveling alone.

BOTH MEMBERS OF LOCAL POLICE FORCE

Perry and Coats are both members of the Lubbock police department and were said to have been en route to Fredericksburg on a deer hunt. The two women riding with them were not identified.

Perry, 24, resides at 2821 Francis; is married and has two boys, four and one year old. He has been on the force since May 25.

Coats, 25, lives at 1706 Ave. R; is married and has been a member of the police department since Nov. 12, 1947. Coats was reported returned to his home here today.

The car in which the four people were driving belonged to Perry, fellow officers here said.

Two Prisoners Use Mother's Funeral As Means To Escape

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Nov. 15. (AP)—Two life-term convicts used their mother's funeral yesterday as a ruse to escape.

George Sylvester Huston, 41, and his brother, Ernest Gordon Huston, 28, both serving sentences for murder, were permitted to leave the Missouri State penitentiary at Jefferson City in custody of two guards to attend the services here.

Convicts Join Relatives

Prior to going to the funeral home, the convicts were allowed to join about 20 relatives in the house where their mother had lived. The guards, James Farmer and Albert Phillips, remained outside and watched through a window.

The Hustons left the other relatives and fled through a rear door. Highway patrol, city and county officers were alerted but no trace of the men were found.

Express Bitterness

Other members of the family expressed bitterness over the brothers' action, police reported. The funeral of the mother, Mrs. Gertrude Huston, was held on schedule.

State Prison Warden Ben Stewart said the Hustons were sentenced to life for the slaying of Sheriff Roy Patterson and his son, Sam Patterson, in Lamar, Mo., in 1944.

Mahon, Cole Speak At Jaycee Meeting

Congressman George H. Mahon and Taylor Cole of Midland, former president of Jaycees International, were guest speakers at today's weekly luncheon of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Hilton hotel.

Speaking to some 55 members present, Congressman Mahon touched briefly on numerous aspects of the defense and foreign aid programs of the United States.

Concerning current difficulties with Russia, Congressman Mahon said, "It is important that we ride out the storm until the people in European countries flattened by war get back on their feet." The chief aim of our foreign aid program, he added, is not just to provide relief assistance to these countries, but to help them re-vitalize their own industries and sources of wealth.

Cole, currently a member of the national board of the Jaycees, passed on to club members observations gathered during a recent 200,000-mile tour of the world which carried him to 42 countries where the Junior Chamber of Commerce is active.

Guests at the luncheon were Arthur Bain, George Gibson and the two speakers.

A P-38 German pistol was taken from the residence of Ed Nabors of 509 Sixteenth, and other property.

A three-piece suit, an overcoat, a jacket and a woman's suit were taken from the residence of W. D. Verdeman of a mile north and one east of Slide.

Three Burkburnett men, two of them 24 and the other 31, were transferred here early Sunday from Wichita Falls and released to the Terry county sheriff's department that afternoon. They are charged in misdemeanor offenses, officers said.

State highway patrolmen arrested two men, 59 of Smyer and 36 of Lubbock for investigation into theft. The arrest was five and a half miles east of Lubbock on U. S. highway 61. Two rolls of heavy copper wire allegedly were found in possession of the men. The investigation continued.

Police arrested 12 men for drunkenness, one for disturbance, two for vagrancy, one for reckless driving, two for aggravated assault. The sheriff's department made even more Sunday and early Monday arrests.

Bruce Storey, 42, former Garza county deputy sheriff who waived extradition Oct. 22 and was brought here from his home in Hobbs, N. M., posted bond in connection with a charge of arson by explosive, growing out of the bombing several months ago of an office of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Motor Coaches, Inc. Another man is similarly charged. He is a former Hobbs policeman.

Texas Drouth

that much to revive wilted grasslands and fall grain crops. Also suffering from the prolonged drouth were water supplies in various Texas cities.

Dallas county passed its 124th day with only 1.88 inches of rainfall, while normal precipitation for the period is 11.06 inches—the most tenacious dry spell since the weather bureau was established here in 1913. Rainfall for the year was 8 inches below normal.

Many areas had recorded less than half the normal amount of rainfall during eight months of 1948. A prime example was Big Spring, with only 6.09 inches for the eight months, as compared with a norm of 12.32.

Waco was some 10 inches shy of its normal eight-months rainfall of approximately 25 inches. Brownwood was four inches short of the normal 16.40, and Abilene had only slightly more than half of the usual amount of about 18 inches.

Childress was six inches below the usual 18 inches, while Del Rio—although hit by severe spring floods—had measured only 9.64 of the usual 13.73 inches.

(These figures, however, were minus the rainfall for the month of July, which was missing from the weather bureau's records.)

The Amarillo area appeared to be the only locality in which a larger than usual amount of rainfall was recorded during the eight months. It had measured 18.10 inches, over the usual amount of 14.77.

This did not include 3.22 inches of rainfall during a 24 hour period on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, the heaviest rain in the state for several weeks.

Dairy farmers blamed the drouth for a drop in milk production, as well as recent hikes in milk prices. Expensive processed feeds were being used to supplant pastures which long ago had withered.

Houston reported only 22.79 inches of rain for the year, against a normal of 40.65 inches.

Fort Worth reported rainfall five inches below normal for the year and East Texas counties also complained of dry weather.

Wild Takeoff

headed for the wide blue, which at that moment looked mighty yonder. Pursued by the airport fire truck and trailing a cloud of smoke, they headed down the field and again the wheel locked.

This time the Cadet crossed into another runway, directly into the path of 30 navy fighter planes taking off on a training mission. The navy yielded the right-of-way.

In the air at last, and with the wheels half retracted, the boys headed for grandma's. Behind them a frantic control tower operator called Gillespie and alerted the police.

It was an hour later when the wayward plane came in for a perfect wheels-up landing in a weed patch across the river from grandma's. The damage was a broken propeller, a battered wing, a twisted undercarriage and minor bruises.

As the sheriff's deputies arrived at the scene, unlicensed Pilot McCall explained:

"After all, I've had about 20 hours instruction."

Grandma wasn't at home.

TAHOKA, Nov. 15 (Special)—Mrs. Edna Ethel Brewer, 49, of Lubbock route 6, died at 5 a. m. Sunday in Tahoka clinic of a heart attack.

Mrs. Brewer had lived in Lubbock county since 1936, when she moved there from Arkansas.

Civil Defense

cial weapons."

What this means — but what military security did not allow the civil defense planning office to say openly—is germ warfare.

From indirect references in the report, it is apparent that some recommendations for protecting the population against bacteriological warfare have been decided upon. But they can not be published for the advice either of the public or of civil defense workers. Instead, they had to be turned over to the research and development board of the national military establishment. A flat ban on any government reference to bacteriological warfare has been imposed by the military.

The germ warfare recommendations obviously deal not only with possible attack on humans but on the crops and livestock of the nation. Three experts, one in each field, who are members of the secret bacteriological warfare project were on the planning group.

Because they wanted the people and local governments to know what could happen if a World War III came, the planners presented a dark picture of possibilities. Attack, they said, might come by bomber squadrons equipped with atomic weapons, fire bombs, gas, or it might come by guided missiles from distant points or from submarines off American shores. Or it might come from saboteurs within the borders of the United States.

"However it came," the report said, "it could mean devastation and death at many points on such a scale that the task of rescue and restoration would be far beyond the present capabilities of the people and the communities attacked."

On the subject of shelters, the planning group commented that with the much greater destructive power of the atomic bomb "it now seems clearer than ever that only partial protection would be feasible." Costs in materials and manpower would make impracticable construction of shelters with any high degree of protection except in the special instances of civil defense control centers or similar facilities.

Man Pleads Innocent Of Burglary Charge

Jonnie J. Wood, 24, of Plainview, pleaded innocent this morning in 99th district court of burglary indictment and asked a separate hearing before Judge G. V. Pardue on the issue of "present" insanity.

The court continued the case to Friday, ordering that Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer, observe the man in the meantime.

Dr. Baugh, a state witness, testified he could say the defendant is sane or insane until after such observance.

The theft trial of A. J. Smelley will be called for trial Tuesday morning, court officials said.

Wood is under three burglary indictments in Lubbock county, two in Crosby county.

Assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars represented the state at the morning trial.

sible government statement later.

Talk of a "war cabinet" without Chiang died down.

In a desperate effort to save the Suchow situation, the government reportedly had thrown some of the weary troops evacuated from the Manchurian port of Hulatao into the battle. Also, three government divisions were landed at Lienyunkang, eastern terminus of the Lunghai railroad. They started a diversionary westward move.

Elsewhere there was news of two government setbacks in northwest operations and the arrival of American marines for guard duty in Tientsin.

A small detachment of leathernecks was flown from Tsingtao, U. S. Navy base, to protect the American consulate and help evacuate Americans from North China. Nationalist soldiers looted Tientsin food shops Thursday. The whole area faces Communist occupation if the Reds win out at Suchow.
