SEVERE STORM LIKELY TO LASH WEALTHY SECTION

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 4 (AP)—Relief workers hastened today the evacuation of the Florida Keys, where approximately 400 were stranded and others were killed in the Labor day hurricane, as a freak storm moved menacingly toward the coast between Miami and Palm Beach.

William H. Green, in charge of relief operations on the Coral Islands, sent trucks to take off 300 men at Snake Creek. From lower Matecumbe, 65 other workers were making their way by boat to Snake Creek to board the waiting trucks. Refugees will be brought here.

Power failed in the Miami News building shortly before noon. A drenching rain was falling, whipped by gusty squalls and at Fort Lauderdale, 30 miles to the north, there were sustained gusts as high as 40 miles an hour.

Hurricane warnings were flying around the extreme southern tip of the peninsula from Palm Beach to Naples on the west coast. Naples is about 30 miles south of Fort Myers.

The barometer was falling and winds rising at Miami. The 11 a. m. hourly warning of the Jacksonville weather office said the hurricane was approaching the West Palm Beach-Miami area west southwest at the rate of about 10 miles an hour.

After passing near the Great Abaco island in the Bahamas, the storm suddenly changed its course about midnight and headed menacingly toward Florida. No loss of life was reported from the islands.

Newspaper offices at West Palm Beach were deluged with queries about the storm as residents awoke to find the warnings of a hurricane flying.

Lake Worth merchants and citizens awaited further advice before boarding up their stores and homes there.

Squally in the storm's path, lay West Palm Beach and Palm Beach, the latter the winter rendezvous of society and wealth.

Although it seemed they would get only the southern fringes of the storm, Miami, Miami Beach, Hollywood and Fort Lauderdale boarded windows, took precautions.

Miami's barometer at 8:45 a. m. EST, was 29.77, registered an hour earlier.

Winds of 21 miles an hour blew from the northwest.

The Peninsular and Occidental Steamship company reported its liner, Florida, scheduled to leave Havana at 7 p. m. yesterday for Miami had been held 24 hours.

Pan American Airways schedules, cancelled yesterday, were partially restored.

Eastern Air Lines schedules were still unaffected.

Schools in Palm Beach county were ordered dismissed at noon.

Oil Field Road Association to Meet in Cordell

A meeting of Oil Field Highway No. 41 association will be held in Cordell, Okla., November 21, it was announced today at Dalhart by Elmer Elliott, president of the body.

Cordell asked for the session several months ago. Decision to hold a special meeting followed a chamber of commerce luncheon in Oklahoma City recently at which residents of towns and cities along the route discussed means for hastening hard-surfacing of the road.

An important gap in Wheeler county will be closed under a WPA project which has been approved. The Pampa-Dumas stretch is being given earnest attention at this time.

Efforts to obtain the right-of-way through Carson county are under way.

Wholesale Meat Prices Tumbling

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (AP)—Wholesale meat prices are coming down, the Institute of American Meat Packers reported today.

The decline in fresh pork loins totalled 30 to 35 per cent in the last four weeks. Lamb was down 10 per cent, veal 7 per cent, and beef somewhat lower. William Whitfield Woods, institute president, said.

Woods attributed the falling prices "in part" to "the seasonal increase in marketings of livestock during October."

IPA Convention Meets in Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 4 (AP)—Determination to keep the American market for the American producer with limited exports, was the keynote of the Independent Petroleum Association of America at the outset of a two-day convention here today.

W. E. Disney of Tulsa, United States representative and co-author of the Thomas-Diary bill, emphasized this determination, along with other individuals and speakers.

A general feeling of optimism swept through the convention and it was the consensus of those present that, barring an unusual incident, better days are ahead for the oil industry. Oil men explained this feeling was based upon the belief that business as a whole is better.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Will Rogers Memorial commission launched a campaign today on the 56th anniversary of the late comedian's birth for subscriptions "to perpetuate his kindness to mankind."

"Not a shaft of cold marble for this warm friendly man," said Eddie Rickenbacker, director of the operations committee, "but living continuing memorials will be used for charitable, educational, and humanitarian purposes."

The memorial is to be raised in the national campaign by gifts "no matter how small."

In Oklahoma, Rogers' native state, Governor Marland proclaimed today as "Will Rogers Day," calling on the citizens "during the day to set aside to pause, while memory is fresh, and contemplate the life of this beloved brother of all mankind, that we may make this world a better place in which to live."

In the interest of the memorial to Rogers, who was killed in Alaska with Wiley Post when their plane crashed, Lieut. Commander Frank Hawks is making a 16,000-mile flight to every corner of the United States. The flight will end Nov. 26, the day before the campaign closes.

SAN JACINTO
FLAG BEARER
COMING HOME

Patriot Who Captured Santa Anna To Be Reinterred In Austin State Cemetery

AUSTIN, Nov. 4 (AP)—Remains of the man who carried the only Texas flag at the Battle of San Jacinto will be removed from Odd Fellows' rest at New Orleans and Nov. 5 reinterred in the state cemetery here.

"The color bearer, and later the principal actor in the capture of Santa Anna, was James Austin Sylvester, who arrived in Texas in January, 1836, with Captain Sidney Sherman's company of Kentucky riflemen. The nearest living relative is Mrs. Joseph A. Gannaway of Arkadelphia, Ark."

Cost of removing the body to Texas will be borne by a state appropriation. The campaign for reinterment of Texas heroes in the state cemetery was started several years ago by L. W. Kemp of Houston, now chairman of the historical advisory board for Texas Centennial celebrations.

Kemp said Sylvester carried in the Battle of San Jacinto the flag which women of Newport, Ky., had presented the Kentucky volunteers. It now hangs back of the speaker's rostrum in the house of representatives chamber.

Sylvester was credited with the capture of Santa Anna, Kemp said, reciting that:

"On the day following the battle, Sylvester, while searching for Mexicans who had escaped, spied one in the tall grass near the ruins of Vince's bridge."

"Calling to Joel W. Robinson and three others of his party who had become separated the five arrested the Mexican, none of them suspecting that they had captured the Mexican president and dictator."

Sylvester advanced in rank from second sergeant and color bearer to captain in the reserve army of Texas, January 10, 1836, but he fought in the Battle of San Jacinto in the lower rank.

He left Texas in 1843 and obtained a position on the topographical force of the New Orleans Picayune and continued with the newspaper until his death, April 9, 1892. He was born at Baltimore in 1807, and never married.

Army Pushes Inquiry Into Bomber's Crash

Hailed as the fastest and one of the deadliest aerial war machines ever built, the giant four-motored Boeing bomber here lay a shattered ruin on Wright Field, Dayton, O., as an army board rushed inquiry into the crash that killed

Capt. Plover Hill, test pilot of Newburyport, Mass., and injured four others. The huge craft, being tested in competition with two other types for possible U. S. army air corps purchase, plunged 200 feet after its takeoff and burst into flames. Loss to the Boeing company is estimated at more than $100,000. The giant ship was designed to carry six tons of bombs 6000 miles without refueling, and its top speed was reckoned at 250 miles an hour.

Dracula to Pattern His Action After Lugosi

"See it and creep," the publicity agent for Dracula which Ben Gull's dramatic class will present at the city auditorium Thursday and Friday nights.

"An evening rich in horror is assured," he said, "and it should be seen by all who love their marrows jolted."

Bela Lugosi played the title role on the stage and screen, but Mr. Gull believes that if the sinister Mr. Lugosi could watch his current star of the famed vampire play, he would nod his head approvingly in the most blood-curdling manner. The identity of Dracula is being kept secret.

So that theater-goers will not get Dracula mixed up with other horror plays, herewith is a synopsis: Lucy Howard, daughter of the physician in charge of a sanatorium near London, is mysteriously anemic. Doctor Van Helsing, a specialist in obscure diseases, suspects a vampire which, according to legend, is an ugly soul that, grave-bound by day, roams the earth at night, and sustains its earthly life by sucking the blood of approachable victims. Instituting a search, Van Helsing uncovers Count Dracula as such a vampire.

The cast: Miss Wells, maid, Mary Adams; Jonathan Harker, Bill Parks; Dr. Seward, Howard Zimmerman; Dr. Van Helsing, John Martin; R. M. Renfield, Mickey Ledrick; Butterworth, Jim Arndt; Lucy Seward, Maxine Wheatley.

ON THE MARCH WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY IN ETHIOPIA, 8:30 a. m., Nov. 4.—An Italian army column poured through Haufen shortly after daybreak today and marched on toward Makale, 38 miles due south.

Italian patrols had entered Haufen yesterday, scouting the way in advance of the main body of infantry.

Their drive forward was met with no resistance by the Ethiopians.

The native Eritrean troops under Gen. Alessandro Pirziobich formed one column approaching Haufen from the right (west) while black-shirted fascist militia under Gen. Ruggiero Santini made up the column which came in the left (east).

With the capture and occupation of Haufen, the Italians had completed one-third of the 50 miles which lay between them and Makale when they started out Saturday.

The noon-day objective of General Santini's forces was the high land commanding Mainesti, 18 miles southeast of Haufen. Officers believed the objective would be taken on schedule.

Danakil For Italy
To the west were the columns proceeding from Aduwa and Aksum. To the east was a force of Danakil warriors, fighting under the Italian flag.

Most of the Danakils are under Ethiopian commanders on the eastern front about Mount Mussa Ali.

Ahead of the columns soared beaming planes on scouting flights. They bombarded small concentrations of Ethiopians gathering in the mountains behind Makale. There was no evidence of the vast force somewhere in the mountains of the north under the command of Ras Seyoum, Emperor Haile Selassie's generalissimo of the northern forces and governor of Tigre province.

The columns out of Aksum and Aduwa, however, were proceeding slowly, keeping a close watch for Seyoum's forces.

Purposely, the Italians were making slow progress. To the rear, engineers built roads, hastening to keep pace with the invaders. The commanders ordered a consolidation of position constantly. It is apparent the fascists expect to occupy and

ANGRY FEMALES TAKE OVER CITY HALL IN MEXICO

Men Hurriedly Leave As Mad Women Arrive

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4 (AP)—The women of the town of Atzacan in Vera Cruz held the municipal building today after elected officials fled before a massed feminine indignation march.

Stirred by reports of a prospective house to house search for religious images, the women hastily armed themselves with clubs and took over control of the government offices.

Troops summoned to oust the "petticoat government" threatened to open fire on the invaders, a caution which went unheeded. The soldiers withdrew to prevent bloodshed.

The state government, informed of the siege, sent Juan B. Gomez to investigate. He reported capturing the local Atzacan government had circulated reports of the impending search together with information that any person possessing an image would be arrested.

The march on the city hall followed officials left their desks as the women moved in and broadcast an alarm to the garrison.

The women also were reported to have complained against socialistic educational programs.

Atzacan, chief municipality of the Canton of Orizaba in Vera Cruz, has a population of approximately 3,000. The majority of the residents are pure blooded Indians.

Weather Spoils Claremore Event

CLAREMORE, Okla., Nov. 4 (AP)—Rain and a chill north wind spoiled Rogers county's hopes of being first to contribute to the Will Rogers memorial fund as a nation-wide drive to erect a memorial to the famed cowboy humorist was begun today.

Most of an elaborate day-long program which was to have been staged in Claremore Rogers' "home town," was cancelled because of the weather.

"It means we can't be first as we had planned," said Joe Martin, director of the program observing the day on which Rogers would have been 56 years old. "We'll have to wait now until Thanksgiving day, the last day to contribute, so that we can have as much money as possible."

Despite the weather a large number of persons had come to Claremore. Many of them were school children as every school in the county had been closed for the occasion.

MCLEAN YOUTH NEAR DEATH IN CITY HOSPITAL

ASSAILANT AT DANCE HALL SATURDAY IS NOT KNOWN

Officers of Gray and Wheeler counties and prosecuting attorneys yesterday and today sought the answer to the question, Who shot Glen Dorsey Saturday night?

Dorsey, young Gray county resident of near McLean, was fighting for his life in Worley hospital today, with little chance for recovery. His chest was pierced by a pistol bullet which penetrated both lungs, liver, and spleen. The wounded man was brought here in a Pampa mortuary ambulance.

Officers began an investigation which continued through most of Sunday. A dozen persons were questioned, but no eye-witnesses were found who saw the shot fired and no arrests had been made up to this morning.

Dorsey was shot down, officers said, at a Wheeler dance hall on highway 66 near the Gray county line. He was just outside a doorway in a group of young men who were supposedly waiting to enter the building after having been ousted during a free-for-all fistful turmoil a few minutes before.

The bullet was believed to have been steel-jacketed, from an automatic pistol of .32 or .38 caliber. It went through the body and caused a large, deep, bloody wound. Physicians said the shock had been enough to cause death, but miraculously had not up to noon today.

Dorsey was quoted by officers as saying he did not know where the shot came from which wounded him. He was apparently sober, slipped and professed to know nothing which would point toward a solution of the shooting.

The investigating was continuing.

Merchants Will Consider Closing On November 11

One of the main items of business will concern closing hours on Armistice Day.

The meeting will be held in the police court room.

Banquet Tickets Placed on Sale

Tickets for the Pampa high school ex-students banquet and dance to be held on the night preceding the Thanksgiving day football game between the Amarillo Sandies and Pampa Harvesters, which will be homecoming game, are now ready.

The banquet will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the high school cafeteria and will be followed by the dance in the high school gymnasium.

The tickets, $1 each and good for both banquet and dance, may be purchased from Bud Doucette at Fatheree Corner Drug. Ex-students are urged to secure their tickets early to avoid a last-minute rush in preparations.

Men who attended Pampa high school may bring their wives even though they did not go to school here. Women may also bring their husbands, President Ray Wilson announced in urging early purchase of tickets.

Mrs. Ethel Olsen and Fred Clyma visited relatives at Dalhart over the week-end. They were accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Jeffrey.

What Is a Teaching Certificate?

Certification of individuals to teach has long been a haphazard procedure in this state. Some laws have apparently been pushed through to lower the standards and amount to a relief system. At other times the bars have been let down to allow non-teacher training institutions to issue certificates.

Once a certificate is issued, there is pressure to make it permanently good. Only the desire of school boards to raise standards by demanding better trained teachers has held the level of training as high as it now is. A certificate is not a contract, but a permit, and the State can raise its standards as it desires. In this regard, an article by Dr. S. B. McAlister, professor of Denton Teachers college, is illuminating:

"The State seeks to guard its children from the influence of poor teachers by requiring that all who teach in the public schools meet certain standards designed to separate those who are qualified to teach from those who are incapable of teaching. As evidence that an applicant to the teaching profession has been found qualified to teach, the State awards a certificate. Several types of certificates, depending upon the kind and amount of work done by the applicants, are granted by the State. A teacher's certificate usually represents a considerable outlay of both time and money. For this reason many teachers feel that their certificates represent a sort of property and, hence, cannot be taken away without some kind of compensation. Some feel that the State, upon granting a certificate, enters into a form of contract with the certificate recipient, and cannot take away or change the terms of the certificate without violating the terms of the contract.

"Article 2884 of the Revised Civil statutes of Texas reads in part as follows: 'Any certificate may be canceled for cause by the authority issuing it; and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall have power to cancel any certificate upon satisfactory evidence that the holder thereof is conducting his school in violation of the laws of the State or is a person unworthy to instruct the youth of this state; provided, if any teacher holding a certificate to teach in the public schools of the State, shall enter into a written contract with any board of trustees to teach in any public school of this State, and shall, after making such contract and without the consent of the trustees, abandon said contract, except for good cause, such abandonment shall be considered sufficient grounds for the cancellation of said teacher's certificate, and the same may be canceled upon the complaint of said trustees, or either of them. . . . The law then provides the method of procedure to be used in the cancellation of the certificate and states the appeal remedies which the teacher may use.

"It will be noted that the law quoted above states three grounds, the violation of which constitutes legal grounds for the cancellation of a teacher's certificate. Those grounds are: (1) Where a teacher conducts his school in violation of the state laws; (2) Where the teacher is a person unworthy to instruct the youth of the State; and (3) Where the teacher enters into a written contract to teach a school, and then breaks the contract without good cause.

"On a closer study of the law it will be seen that these three reasons constitute rather vague and indefinite grounds for the cancellation of a teacher's certificate. When is a teacher conducting his school in violation of the laws of the state? Few teachers, patrons, or trustees know enough about the laws of the state to understand when the school is being conducted in strict accordance with the law. Indeed, only a surprisingly small per cent of our teachers are acquainted with those laws which affect them most directly in their teaching—namely, the school laws. It is fortunate for the teachers that the State Superintendent has not canceled the certificates of all those teachers who have conducted their school in violation of the laws. When is a person unworthy to instruct the youth of the State? Reasonable minds would differ on the proper answers to this question. In the Hopkins county case of 'Marra vs. Matthews' the court held that a teacher who had participated in a fraudulent scheme of examinations upon which teachers' certificates were issued, should have his certificate canceled. The court held that a teacher should have more than mere 'educational qualifications,' such as are measured by examinations. The legislature intended to restrict the selection of teachers to those who had the moral as well as the educational qualifications required to impart wholesome instruction to the youth of the country. The word 'unworthy' might include those positive traits of character which, notwithstanding excellent educational attainments, unfit one to impart proper instruction to the young. Could one have excellent educational attainments, and yet be unfit to teach school?

"As the excessive competition for teaching positions becomes less, the number of teachers who will make themselves liable for the cancellation of certificates on the ground of breaking their contracts will increase. The reason most often given by the teacher for abandoning his contract is that he has found a better position. The law provides that he can abandon his contract only for good cause. Since the State Superintendent is the agent to cancel the certificate, he would use his discretion as to what constituted 'good cause'. Should he decide that breaking a contract in order to receive a higher salary at another school was not 'good cause' and the State Board of Education should concur in his opinion, it is likely that the courts would uphold his decision. In other words, under the law as it now exists, the trustees, State Superintendent, and State Board of Education are the key agents in determining whether a teacher is to lose his certificate because of his having 'jumped' his teaching contract.

"In regard to the cancellation of teachers' certificates, it is well to keep in mind the following words of a high Texas court: 'A certificate to teach in the public schools is merely a license granted by the State, and is revocable by the State at its pleasure.'

Milan Students Scream Before British Stores

MILAN, Italy, Nov. 4. (AP)—Anti-British feeling flamed anew here today as crowds of shouting students demonstrated before stores where British goods were on sale.

The show-window of one establishment was shattered when a youthful throng pressed against it. The demonstrations occurred in the center of Milan's fashionable shopping district.

The proprietor of one store was compelled to drape the Italian tricolor over signs advertising British merchandise. The students began another demonstration before the establishment called "Styles for Women," which apparently was mistaken for a French shop. They finally departed when the manager shouted that his goods came from a Viennese house.

Shouts of derision thereupon were changed to acclaim. "Viva Vienna, our friend and enemy of sanctions," the demonstrators cried. Mounted soldiers kept a watchful eye on the crowd, but made no move to interfere when they found the demonstrators were not unduly violent.

ATHENS, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Greek people voted overwhelmingly for the recall of former King George to the throne. It was announced officially today, with nationwide results from yesterday's plebiscite giving 1,491,992 for the monarchy to 32,454 for maintenance of the republic.

The foreign minister communicated the results to the former monarch, now in London, and announced that a delegation was proceeding to London.

SCHEDULE THIS WEEK.

Borger at Pampa-X.

Lubbock at Amarillo-X.
X-Conference.

Although the next big game in District 1 this week will be the meeting of Amarillo and Lubbock at field Monday afternoon, November 11, at 2:30 o'clock, the Harveters of Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean will be put through a week of practice equal to any of the season as they prepare to tackle the Borger Bulldogs here at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Borger's Bulldogs rose to new football achievement in defeating the Plainview Bulldogs for their first win in Class A competition. The score was 13 to 7. The next week the Bulldogs were swamped, 70 to 0, by the Amarillo Indians. Last week the best Pampa could do was take a 19 to 6 game from Plainview.

Taking the scores, mixing them up, and studying the outcome, it would be revealed that the Amarillo Sandies are 10 touchdowns better than the Harveters and that the Pampa team is only one touchdown better than Borger.

Because they gave anything but a satisfactory offensive exhibition in Plainview Friday night, that phase of the game will receive major attention during this week's practices by the Harveters. Wednesday will be open house with a scrimmage set for 4 o'clock. Other practice sessions will be behind closed gates.

The team came through the Plainview battle without serious injury. There were the usual bruises and scratches.

Borger looked better than at any time this season in losing a 26 to 18 battle to the Quannah Indians in Quannah. The Bulldogs fought tenaciously to the last whistle and were pushing the Indians deep in their own territory at the close of the game. Borger has several promising stars and Coach Mouldin has done a wonderful job of whipping his small and inexperienced players into a good team.

The Borger squad was split this season when the new Whittenburg school opened. That school took half of the Bulldog team, including four regulars from last season who would have been eligible for competition this year.

While Amarillo had an off day, having canceled their game with the West Texas freshmen, the Lubbock reserves swamped Clovis, N. M., 30 to 0.

Plainview has an open date this week while the district teams will battle among themselves.

Darrell Lester Is 'Tough Guy'

WACO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Nomination for football's tough guy: Darrell Lester, Texas Christian's 1934 all-American center. He played 60 minutes of reckless, battering football in the Christian's 20-0 triumph over Baylor's Bears here Saturday—with three bruised ribs.

After the game he went to the hotel, changed clothes, ate supper and strode out the side door. Up to the corner traffic officer he walked. "Say mister, where's the bowling alley?" queried Lester. And away he went.

CORSICANA IS FOOTBALL FARM FOR SOUTHERN METHODISTS

CORSICANA, Nov. 4. (AP)—When Ray Morrison, new head coach of the Vanderbilt Commodores, invaded New York October 18 and told eastern sports writers that when he coached at Southern Methodist university he got most of his material from Coach Johnny Pierce at Corsicana high school, he made Pierce famous.

Since Morrison's statement, several stories have been published about Pierce and his ability to develop players who compete for Corsicans high in the Texas interscholastic league.

It could be said that Corsicana high school is a "football farm" for Southern Methodist since most of Pierce's graduates enter the Dallas school.

Pierce is modest concerning his record which reveals that he has coached some of the greatest football luminaries in Texas and elsewhere. Pierce coached teams in the 10-year period beginning December, 1925, and ending in December, 1934, won 91 games, lost 17 and tied 5, scoring 2,786 points to 710 for the opposition, an average of 24.74-113 points for Corsicana to an average of 6.32-113 points for the opposition per game.

During that time, Corsicana won one Texas interscholastic league title, advanced to the semi-finals in 1930 and 1931, lost in the bi-district in 1933 and lost in the quarter-finals in 1934.

Pierce was an All-Southwest center at Texas A. & M. college and played on the team that was undefeated from 1918 to 1920.

Robert Wilson, current leader of the Southwest conference, scoring race with 54 points, is Pierce's pride and joy. But many Pierce-products are now stars. Maco Stewart, co-captain of the current Southern Methodist team, was an all-state end for Corsicana. Billy Stamps, playing guard for Southern Methodist, was Corsicana's all-state guard in 1930 and 1931, and was all-Southwestern and all-American high school guard in the latter year.

While most of the Corsicana graduates go to Southern Methodist, Pierce has his youngsters stationed at other universities. One of the greatest athletes ever turned out by Pierce was Neal "Fug" Crowther, 150-pound halfback who is the spark-plug of this year's Centenary college team. J. W. Hornbeck, former all-Pacific Coast quarterback with Washington State university, now a professional star was a signal backer for Pierce in 1930.

In all the time Pierce has been coaching at Corsicana, no player has been found ineligible and the Texas interscholastic league rules are probably the most severe in the United States.

Going through the air with a wide assortment of passes tossed by Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian remained in the undefeated class and dropped Baylor out of the same ranking Saturday at Waco with a 28-0 victory.

Paced by Harry Shuford, Robert Wilson and J. R. Smith who scored touchdowns in the first, second and fourth periods, Southern Methodist eliminated the University of Texas from the conference championship race with a 20 to 0 decision Saturday at Dallas.

GUEST SPEAKERS AT CHURCHES INCLUDE BISHOP LUCEY

ONE MINISTER IS ABSENT AT REVIVAL CLOSE

FOUR CHURCHES HEAR VISITORS; VESPER STUDY ENDS

Church-goers here heard several guest speakers yesterday, the most prominent at Holy Souls Catholic church where the Rt. Rev. B. E. Lacey, bishop of the Amarillo diocese, conducted a special service dedicating a new church bell, then said a high mass and gave a sermon.

The Rev. W. A. Nicholson of Abilene preached at Central Baptist church yesterday morning and the Rev. O. H. Gilstrap last evening, in the absence of the Rev. John O. Scott, who closed the most successful revival in the history of LeFors Baptist church.

He reported 58 additions to membership of the church there, and a Sunday school attendance of 272 which broke all records. The LeFors congregation has purchased the old Presbyterian church, building there to secure larger quarters for regular services.

The Rev. Joseph Cohen of Charleston, S. C., noted speaker in the Southern Baptist church, spoke at First Baptist church last evening to an audience that filled the auditorium.

At First Methodist church, Supt. R. E. Fisher, who studied conditions in Russia on a tour this summer, joined the Rev. Gaston Foote, minister, in a Forum discussion of religion in that country.

First Presbyterian church closed a series of mission study vesper hours with the largest attendance of the six meetings. A chili supper and fellowship period followed the study. So popular are the vesper hour meetings that members decided to continue them with regular evening worship at 5 o'clock instead of the study.

Boys of Scout Troop Are Sponsoring The Pianist

Miss Esther Johnson expects to enjoy herself in Pampa when she gives a concert here Thursday evening, Nov. 14, more than at any other town in the Panhandle, and the reason is that children will be especially invited. Her concert will be sponsored by the Boy Scouts of Troop 80, who will direct a ticket-selling campaign and have charge of arrangements of the concert.

Miss Johnson has two great loves: her music and children. She is a great favorite among children. As an example of her popularity, last Saturday morning at Amarillo she conducted the story hour at the Potter County Public Library where more than 100 children heard her tell tales of old Serbia. Standing room was at a premium and more than 100 children were turned away for lack of accommodations.

Tonight Miss Johnson will give the first of a series of piano concerts over the Panhandle-Plains at Childress.

Miss Johnson believes that all children could understand beautiful music if given the opportunity. A special rate to all children studying piano in this section will be made, and Miss Johnson, who is acclaimed as the world's greatest living woman pianist, invited all to attend.

Miss Johnson returned this summer from Europe where she was feted by royalty and peasants alike as the greatest contemporary interpreter of Mozart. She has given command performances before half of the crowned heads of Europe.

NEW TRIUMPHS ARE TAILED BY ITALIAN MOBS

MUSSOLINI IS GIVEN A MAD OVATION IN ROME

BY CHARLES H. GUPPILL.
(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)
ROME, Nov. 4.—Premier Mussolini promised Italy another victory today as the kingdom celebrated the 17th anniversary of its triumphant armistice with Austria-Hungary.

While fascism's army carried its standards forward on both the northern and southern fronts in Ethiopia, Il Duce gave his pledge to thousands of his countrymen who jammed the Piazza Venezia before his office.

"This is a great day for the nation," Il Duce shouted. "Once again Italy will have as her prize victory."

The fascist throng surged through police lines in its enthusiasm. Cries of "Duce, Duce" rose from throats hoarse with continual cheering and shouting.

"The Italian army 17 years ago today won victory, not only for itself but for everybody," Mussolini told the crowd.

"Today the nation is engaged in another battle. But the Italian people are invincible, united and irrevocably determined. Once again Italy will have as her prize victory."

He appeared in the gray-green uniform of an honorary corporal of the militia, wearing around his neck the Annunziata collar which gives him the title of cousin to the king, in response to repeated cries from the crowd for "Duce, Duce, Duce."

He stood for long minutes with his arm upraised, before speaking his few words, lost in the tremendous noise of the cheers.

He withdrew after more minutes of shouting which continued in long, uninterrupted sound until he reappeared and stood in silence, his arm upraised in salute.

In the crowd appeared all branches of Italy's services, the spectacle spotted with the red shirts of Garibaldi.

Il Duce shared the spotlight with prelates of the church in an earlier mass commemorating the 17th anniversary of Italy's World War armistice.

Accustomed to the frantic "vivas" of the populace, the premier sat solemnly while other leaders of his regime while religious rites were celebrated in the Church of Santa Maria Della Vittoria.

Beside Il Duce sat the tall young Duke of Spoleto, prince of the House of Savoy, who represented his royal cousin, King Victor Emanuel.

Behind the duke was an ancient church which Michael Angelo designed, blending the medieval and modern.

FEMALE PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1 IS VICTIM OF RIDE

Body Is Found Crammed Between Seats Automobile

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 4.—Red-haired Vivian Chase, sharp-featured female public enemy No. 1, is dead—apparently a victim of a gunman for whom she carried bullets in her purse.

Police renewed their search for John Langan, fugitive bank robber, after the body of the attractive 34-year-old consort of gangsters was found crammed in a motor car near St. Luke's hospital in a fashionable country club plaza district as church chimed tolled the Sabbath.

Investigators pointed to this chain of circumstances:

The bullet which ripped through the woman's chest downward from the back of the neck was a .45 caliber—like 20 others in her handbag—the same as that which Langan fired into a Kansas deputy Sept. 12 in a gun fight in which Langan's wife was killed.

Three nights later, a gang led by a man tentatively identified by police as Langan, terrorized one Platte county farmer. A red-haired woman accompanied him and forced the farmer at machine gun point to obtain liquor for them.

Blacked out by the running of the "ride" car, a stolen sedan, led a woman passerby to discover the body, jammed between the seats. Beneath her lay a .38 caliber Spanish-type pistol, a $5 bill and a capacious handbag, in which she carried her weapon, 25 bullets for it wrapped in a blue and white handkerchief, and 20 .45 caliber bullets.

Physicians said she had been dead two hours.

Vivian Chase was a suspect in the kidnapping of August Luer, Alton, Ill., and the seventh "accounted for." Five men and a woman are serving prison sentences ranging from five years to life. Only one, Lloyd "Blackie" Doyle, remains at large.

Officers said she was an associate of Alvin Karpis, now at the top of the department of justice's list of men most wanted.

Italians Killed
30 Women and 15
Children in Raid

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Ethiopian government announced today 30 women, 15 children and 100 cows were killed during an attack by Italian airplanes Saturday on Gorrabel.

The casualties were said to have occurred while the cattle were being watered at a spring.

Gorrabel is the site of a military post and important springs, but as all men were at the front, the official communique said, bombs dropped by the attacking aerial squadron fell only on the women, children, and cows.

The air raid was described as the most serious yet suffered by the Ethiopians involving greater casualties than previous assaults on Adduwa, and other cities.

Emperor Haile Selassie was affected deeply upon being informed of the deaths of the women and children.

Government officials said they still lacked any first hand knowledge of a new Italian offensive on the northern front.

Chinese Begin to Gather in Silver

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Chinese government began to gather in hoarded silver today under the terms of a new financial decree nationalizing the white metal.

The order, announced yesterday by Finance Minister H. H. Kung, also provides for restriction of bank issues, stabilization of the Chinese dollar and legalization of legal tender to replace silver coin.

Officials said the move was pointed toward definite currency stabilization, a hope not borne out when the Chinese dollar opened at 29 1/2 cents against the United States dollar in early trading. The normal value of the Shanghai dollar is 30 cents.

Chinese citizens who refuse to give up their silver are liable to charge of treason. Foreign bankers were pondering the effect of the decree on their transactions.

The British embassy instructed its residents to observe the government's order. U. S. Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson said no orders have been issued for Americans.

DROWNED IN BUCKET
LONGVIEW, Nov. 4.—(AP)—William Wesley Smith, 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smith of Camp Switch, a community near Longview, drowned yesterday when he fell into a bucket of water.

The accident happened while he was playing in a back yard with other children. After funeral services at Camp Switch today, the body was sent to Duncan, Okla., for burial.

War Scene as Italians Prime Guns for 'Big Push'

This map, picturing latest progress of Italy's invasion of Ethiopia, gives you a comprehensive picture of the scene as Mussolini's Blackshirts and their black-skinned native allies were reported about to launch a big-scale offensive on four fronts. The dotted arrows indicate how the Italians hope to penetrate Ethiopia's machine-gun studded mountains from north and south and its burning Danakil desert and plateaus from the east. They are then to be in position to strike toward Addis Ababa, the capital, from Dessye, in the northeast, and Harar, in the east.

MORNING STAR — BY MARIAN SIMS —

Chapter 41 FOX HUNT

"Darn you!" shouted Judith, "If I ever break my neck it will be your fault!"

Emily watched them for a moment in astonishment, but Dan merely grinned. Finally, seeing that Aubrey was being badly worsted he caught Judith's mop of flying hair and pulled her to her feet.

"And you were the one," he reminded her sarcastically, "who was wide-cracking about my not having a good behavior."

Judith panted. "He knows how I hate for him to do me that way!"

"Well, lay off," Dan said severely, "or I won't take you to the movies."

She turned to him radiantly. "The movies!"

"Yes, there's a swell picture at the State and I thought I'd drive in to Montgomery to see it. But I'm hanged if I'll go with any wild women."

She embraced him ecstatically. "I see now why I put up with you. To no one in particular, he cried dramatically, "I wonder why it is that my soul still cries out for the white lights?"

They laughed and followed her into the hall, where she was already putting on her hat and running towards the door. Aubrey gazed resignedly after her.

"Is it any wonder I've lost all my hair?"

They drove the twenty miles to Montgomery in less than half an hour, arriving just as the last show started.

"I won't come to any but the last show with Jude," Dan explained as they entered, "because no matter what time you come she always wants to stay until they've closed the theatre."

"Well," she said plaintively, "I like to get my money's worth."

"You mean Dan's money's worth," Aubrey amended dryly.

The drive home was leisurely and silent. Judith slept as peacefully as a child, with her head in Aubrey's lap, and even Dan said very little. Emily realized that she too was sleepy, and wished she might follow Judith's example.

Dan Raynor's intentions might be strictly dishonorable, but like most men of his type he was a very comfortable person.

He evidently sensed her wish, because he suddenly put an arm around her and drew her head down to his shoulder.

"I'm not feeling very conversational," he said. "Go on to sleep so I won't have to talk to you."

She gave up the pretense of wakefulness and relaxed against him.

Judith paused at Emily's door to give advice.

"Better wear wool stockings under your boots, and a sweater or two under your coat. And if your breeches don't fit too close you could do with an extra pair of knickers."

Emily laughed. "I'll look like a teddy-bear."

"You should worry, with your figure. And when the cold gray dawn begins to seep into your bones you'll wish you were a teddy-bear." Her head disappeared.

The horses had been sent to Dan's cabin at Pine Level that morning, and they were to drive over in time for supper. Dan had gone on ahead with his cook and the Master of the House, as he gravely dubbed the hard-bitten individual who was to run the dogs.

Two weeks ago tonight, Emily thought as she dressed, she had come to Morton Hall. The two weeks had gone with incredible swiftness, and yet she had at the same time a feeling of having been here always, of having closed and Judith grinned. "He's probably have a severe stroke." She called across the room to Dan. "When do we eat?"

"Right now." He flung open a door into the other room of the cabin. "Women and children first, and keep your heads. There are no place cards, so you can sit wherever there's a vacant space."

The dining-room was furnished with a long, rough pine table and benches made of single wide pine boards. A kerosene lamp suspended by wires from the ceiling gave out black smoke, an acid odor, and a dim, disheartened light.

At each end of the table stood a negro, holding a great bowl of steaming Brunswick stew.

Having seen that his guests were seated, Dan crowded in beside Emily, thereby displacing the inoffensive gentlemen who had tried to kiss her.

"You'll starve to death unless I'm here to grab things as they go by," he explained. "At least that's my excuse."

She watched him pile up her plate from the steaming bowl. "Wait a minute! What do you think I am?"

He frowned paternally. "Eat every bit of it, or you don't get to go for hunting."

She laughed and ate a mouthful of the Brunswick stew. "It's perfectly heavenly! What on earth is it?"

"Birds," he said briefly. "And God knows what else. It's Ambrose's recipe, and just try to get him to tell you how he makes it. I'm scared to death he'll get killed before I've wheedled it out of him."

Conversation moved about the table as swiftly and erratically as a rubber ball. Warm and stimulated by the cocktail Emily ate the entire plate of stew, as well as three biscuits as large as saucers, and drank two cups of coffee. Dan snored down at her.

"Had enough?"

She groaned. "I'm all out of shape."

He patted her hand. "Take a nap after a while, and then you'll be ready to lick wildcat."

Former King of Greece Elated

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—George II of Greece, elated at the plebiscite which restored him as king, held an "informational court" at his London hotel today.

He declared, "I am delighted that my people want me to return to them."

The former king, who fled from Athens 12 years ago, received his English friends and Greek royalists, who showered him with congratulations. Messages poured into his hotel, making it necessary to enlist additional aides to handle them.

One of his assistants stated, however, "his majesty's plans are still unsettled."

There was no confirmation of a report he plans to return to Athens via Florence, Italy, where he would visit the grave of his father, King Constantine.

DEMOCRATS TO FACE TEST AT BALLOT BOXES

ELECTION IN KENTUCKY HAS SUPPORTERS OF FDR CONCERNED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—With national democratic leaders showing concern over the intra-party quarrelling that marks the Kentucky gubernatorial race, voters in six states will make their choices tomorrow in elections that will receive the closest scrutiny for possible 1936 indicators.

Two congressional contests in New York City also will be watched with interest, as will the intense scrap for the Philadelphia mayoralty and the struggle over the control of the assembly of President Roosevelt's home state of New York.

Heavy registrations for off-year balloting were recorded in New York and Pennsylvania, which next year may hold the key to the White House.

No matter who wins the governorship fight in Kentucky between Lieut. Gov. A. B. Chandler, democrat, and Judge King Swope, republican, democratic leaders fear party wounds will result that may prove difficult to heal by the time that border state casts its presidential vote next November.

Democratic Governor Ruby Laffoon is supporting Swope, contending Chandler "betrayed" the Laffoon administration. Laffoon, of Kentucky colonel fame, said he would vote for the rest of the democratic ticket—the state also will elect state officers and members of the legislature—but republicans hope to ride through the factional breach to victory.

Democrats expect to win the two contests to fill vacancies in the New York congressional delegation, but students of politics will watch to see how the tally of votes compared with previous democratic pluralities in the two districts.

In the second district, which covers a portion of Queens county, contestants will fight it out for the seat vacated by Representative William F. Brunner, democrat, who resigned to make the race for county sheriff.

The other New York City congressional contest is for the seat of the late Representative Anthony J. Griffin, democrat, who has been vacant since last January.

A total of 150 seats is at stake in the assembly balloting. The democrats now control the assembly by a margin of four votes.

The Philadelphia mayoralty Joust is between John B. Kelly, who is trying to be the city's first democratic mayor in over 40 years, and S. Davis Wilson, city controller, a republican.

New Jersey, Virginia and Mississippi will choose new legislatures and the latter also will select a governor and state officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey C. Green and son, Junior, visited relatives in Dahlhart during the week-end.

Hunters Bag Deer, Bear, Lion, Lynx, And Three Turkeys

Hunting in New Mexico is good, report D. E. McGahay and son, Fred, who have just returned from a trip near Beaver in the Black Hills. The hunters left here on Oct. 15.

To prove their statements, the local men returned with two deer, two bear, a lion, a lynx cat, and three turkeys. Marksmanship was about even, with each getting a deer and bear and dividing the "cats" and turkeys.

Several other local hunters have returned with reports of excellent hunting. Others are getting ready to make trips after wild game.

After a welcome speech by Dr. E. A. Head, pastor of the First Baptist church, the delegates to the Baptist missionary union, women's auxiliary to the convention, were ready to begin their business sessions. Speakers included the Rev. R. C. Campbell of Lubbock and Mrs. N. A. Copps of Seminary Hill, president of the B. M. U.

Methodists Lash 'Drain-Pipe' Press

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 4 (AP)—The West Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today approved unanimously a board of church education report attacking the "gutter press" and urging members to launch a literary league of decency.

The report declared the "gutter press" was "pouring a veritable flood of drain-pipe literature into communities."

The condemnation of questionable literature was one phase of the report which embodied recommendations to co-operate with all agencies seeking to promote peace, to protect the proposed organization of a R. O. T. C. unit at the University of Texas, to further the work of the inter-racial commission, and to launch a new offensive against the liquor traffic in the interest of securing permanent prohibition.

The report deplored a spirit of nationalism which appears to have overthrown the judgment of almost every nation. It declared the task of the church is to make nationalism Christian in spirit, to seek universal welfare in the brotherhood of man.

HANDICAP RACE
AMHERST, N. S. (AP)—An operation has disclosed that a race horse owned by Lester Bickerton ran regularly in the Maritime circuit for more than two years with the nickel handle of an automobile door in its leg.

The racer, Nellie Aubrey, collided with a car two years ago. The injury was severely gashed, but the injury healed.

The horse limped slightly but no notice was taken until a swelling developed recently.

Mrs. L. M. Kaps and daughter Myra Nell left Jampana-Jarratt hospital Saturday.

1-MINUTE SAFETY TALKS

By Don Herold

Tee hee! I ran past that red light, and the cop didn't see me!

FOOLISH NAUGHTY US!

We pay people to pass safety laws and we pay people to enforce these laws, and then we think it's cute to break them.

We think it's smart if we can "put something over." Or, once we have broken a safety law, we probably brag that we know a fellow who knows a fellow who can "fix it."

Shame on us!

And the funny part of it is, that most safety laws are fundamentally popular laws. They're OUR laws. They're about the only laws that ALL of us really like.

We want them for the protection of ourselves and of our children.

We want traffic officers and traffic lights and traffic regulations because life would be dangerous without them.

Yet, in spite of this, we are inclined to cheat when we can.

A safety regulation is something we should lean over backward to observe, honor, bound, even when nobody is looking. We ought to thank a policeman who gives us a ticket for a traffic violation. Sometimes we aren't entirely to blame, but we'll have to admit that the general idea of traffic regulations is great.

RED FLAG OF COMANCHES WAS SEEN IN RAID AT SHREVEPORT

AUSTIN, Nov. 4.—If "fan mail" is any indication of attention, many persons who are interested in the Indian lore of Texas were apparently much attracted by a statement made by Mrs. Mary Jordan Atkinson of Austin in an article which was based on research she has made in the University of Texas Library.

She reported that the Comanche Indians had their own flag, during the period that they ruled over a good part of what is now the domain of Texas, and that this being true, the present State and former province has been under seven flags instead of six.

Many letters have come to Mrs. Atkinson from persons in different parts of the country in regard to her statement as to the Comanche's flag. One of these is from Mrs. Marie Gardner, 610 Montana Street, El Paso. It reads in part:

"I am much interested and wish to confirm, or rather, to tell you about the red flag of the Comanches, as told me by my grandmother and mother when I was a small child. My grandmother, Mrs. Della Fletcher Roydon, and my mother, Mrs. M. A. Roydon Mousier, lived in Shreveport, Louisiana.

"One day, as the reminiscence goes, the Comanches came into the Square and with them was Cynthia Ann Parker who had been stolen from her people some time before. My mother said: 'Everybody was much excited and looked upon the occasion as a gala but very apprehensive time for the townspeople.'

"I was not told about any insignia or decoration on the flag—only that it was red, and was carried by the front horseman, on a stick quite a little higher than his head, and that he waved it as he rode along. The Indians came in yelling and riding very fast. They camped in the square that night. I wish I were able to tell more."

OIL NEWS AND NOTES

Panhandle and Other Fields

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—September daily average crude oil runs to stills reaching a new, all-time peak were reported today by the bureau of mines.

The September daily figure was 2,778,000 barrels, 49,000 barrels above the previous month and 324,000 barrels above the average of a year ago. Daily average refinery receipts of domestic crude were 2,778,000 barrels but daily average receipts of foreign crude were lower. Stocks of crude held at refineries declined nearly 1,800,000 barrels last September.

Daily average receipts of domestic and foreign crude at refineries in September were 2,778,000 barrels. This was composed of 97,000 barrels (3.5 per cent) or imports, 1,555,000 barrels (55.8 per cent) from interstate sources and 1,085,000 barrels (38.6 per cent) from interstate sources.

The bureau said this breakdown indicated chiefly an increase in the ratio for interstate at the expense of the ratio for interstate. The most important change in relative importance of the various interstate movements in September was said to have been a further decline in the movement from Oklahoma.

Although refinery runs increased materially in September, most of the demand came from stocks and therefore daily average deliveries of domestic crude at refineries was only 5,000 barrels higher than in August. Based on origin, the daily deliveries for September were:

Texas 1,040,000 barrels (39.4 per cent); California 546,000 barrels (20.7 per cent); Oklahoma 495,000 barrels (18.7 per cent); all other states 568,000 barrels (21.2 per cent). The bureau said these figures indicated chiefly gains for California and Texas at the expense of Oklahoma.

WILDCAT LOOKS GOOD
STINNETT, Nov. 4.—A wildcat well at Stinnett is showing for possible good oil production after having encountered oil at 3,081 to 3,088 feet in dolomite. This well, just south and east of the county courthouse, is owned jointly by William Sturdivant, Jason Allison, Fred Devore and Leslie Whitaker, all of Amarillo. The exact location is 330 feet from the south line and 275 feet from the north line of the east half of the northwest quarter of section 22, block M-21, TCRS survey, on the Starnes land.

The well was started by the Stinnett Oil company last March and drilled to a depth of about 570 feet, where it was necessary to add the rig and start over because of an unusually thick body of quick-sand in the top of the hole. The original operators completed the new hole to a depth of approximately 1,200 feet and then it was taken over to complete by William Sturdivant, well known contractor of Amarillo.

The well is now drilling below 3,100 feet, with about 150 feet of oil in the hole. Prior to the encountering of oil at 3,081 feet, the well had a show of gas at 3,041 feet and a slight show of oil at 3,050 feet.

It is approximately a mile north-east of the wells southwest of Stinnett, owned by Jack Oates, more than two miles northwest of a small producer drilled last summer by J. C. Phillips et al on the Thompson land, and about three miles almost due north of the well recently completed in the south end of section 16 by the Powers Petroleum corporation. As this first oil has been encountered more than 100 feet above sea level, it appears that the well has a good chance to make a good producer.

Students Riot Against England

By The Associated Press.
Students of fascist Italy demonstrated anew against Great Britain today as Mussolini, defiant of the alliance of sanctions against him, pledged his nation victory in Ethiopia.

With the nation celebrating the anniversary of the victorious world war armistice with Austria-Hungary, bands of students paraded through the streets of Rome, shouting:

"Down with England."
They stripped English signs from buildings. Storekeepers hurriedly removed British signs and goods from display windows. At the Hotel Eden, they tore down the sign of the British-French automobile club.
(In last week's rioting, the students forced the hotel management to cover the sign, saying it painfully reminded Italy of the leadership of Anthony Eden, British minister for League of Nations affairs, in the campaign for sanctions at Geneva.)

ETHIOPIA

develop the territory seized in the advance.

Ras Haile Selassie Gueza, former son-in-law of Emperor Selassie, who deserted to the Italians with many followers, marched with the black-shirted fascists under General Ruggiero Santini. Ras Gueza said he wanted to be first to enter his old provincial capital of Makale. Despite the heavy numbers on the march in the north, there was no outward sign of alarm in Addis Ababa, almost 400 miles to the south.

Ethiopians Celebrate
The Ethiopians held their own celebration. It was the fifth anniversary of Haile Selassie's coronation.

Confident of keeping his empire independent of fascist Rome, the emperor said:
"Thus far the Italians have encountered only scattered detachments of our troops, who have shown traditional bravery."
"Although the Italians have been attacking a month, our army is still quite intact. Their deathless devotion shall triumph before the god of justice."

The emperor told the Associated Press correspondent he would, after peace is concluded, continue with his program for the development of his land.

This program, he said, will be aided by the concession for development of natural resources he recently gave to American standard oil interests.

In their operations on the northern front, the Italians are consolidating their position in the shape of a triangle, from the Aksum-Aduwa-Adigrat line on the north to a point at Makale. The Makale point is the spearhead in the drive southward on Harar.

New Sanction
If and when these two armies meet, Italy will have gained her main objective—a strip of Ethiopian territory from north to south along the eastern boundary. This strip would link Italy's two colonies, Eritrea on the north and Somaliland on the south.

In Geneva, officials of the League of Nations felt Italy would feel the throttling effects of the economic sanctions by the first of the year.

Spurred by the activity of Canada and other nations, the sub-committee of the league on sanctions approved a strengthening of the campaign. In principle, it added petroleum, coal, iron and steel to the list of key products, the exportation of which to Italy will be prohibited by league nations after November 18.

'AND TO ALL A GOOD NIGHT'

COURT RECORD

The compensation suit of Lee Hamor against the Texas Employers Insurance company continued in 31st district court today, with indications that it would not be completed tomorrow.
