Christmas parade successful

By LUIS RIOS

The Spirit of Christmas came alive for hordes of children in Mitchell County Saturday afternoon.

The occasion was the annual Mitchell County Christmas parade. But making it special was Ole Santa himself as he made his first appearance in Colorado City this year.

It was also a special occasion for Brownie Troop 250 who claimed first place in the float contest.

The "Christmas Eve at the North Pole" float was decorated by over 2,000 tissue flowers. Riding on the float were Mrs. Clause portrayed by Gloria Erwin and all the elves, Tara Baker, Shawne Ortiz, Irma Guerrero, Michelle Blackstock, Christy Easley, Michelle Wilson, Nikki Jo Walla, Christie Hulme, Amie Jones, Cindy Newman and Leti Guerrero.

The leader of the Brownie Troop 250 is Sara Ortiz and the assistant leader is Petra Guerrero.

The costumes worn by the characters were made by the mothers and took over one month to make, said Mrs. Ortiz. The Brownie Troop won $100.

Placing second was Mary Lou Constabile, and third place honors went to the VFW Ladies' Auxiliary.

In the bikes category Lynn and Bubba Boyd placed first. Second place went to the Monroe children and third place was awarded to Laurie Conaway who represented the Westbrook Volunteer Fire Department.

Anyone who has not received their money may pick it up at the Chamber of Commerce office.

"The parade was very, very good this year," said parade chairman Trey Smith.

"Everybody worked real hard. We appreciated all the judges, they were all real good."

Serving on the parade committee were Tom and Elaine Kelly, Cara Delaney, Shirley Delaney, Doug Neff and Jana Britton.

"We appreciate all the county," Smith said. "I would like to apologize to anyone that was failed to be called. One of the Homecoming Queens and one Miss Mitchell County runner-up were left out. I am really sorry for it. It was a mistake on my part.

"I hope everybody understands that can happen in a parade like that."

Smith said he was also appreciative to all the people that came to the Chamber of Commerce to see Santa.

"Over all it was a fantastic parade," he said.

County receives federal grant money

Mitchell County will be one of 19 counties in West Central Texas that will receive federal grant money under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA). Approximately $720,504 has been allocated for the 19-county area.

"This job training project is an example of what state and local government, working in partnership with the private sector, can do to put Texans back to work, Governor Mark White said.

Under the new program, the government will pay one half of the participant's salary and the person he or she is employed by is responsible for the other one half, said program director Tom Smith.

The JTPA differs from the old CETA program which it replaced by emphasizing a mix of classroom and skills training for career type private sector jobs rather than public works jobs.

Smith, who also worked under the old CETA program, said the new program was actually started October 1, but would take several months to get implemented.

"We have an individual who goes out to the different counties," Smith said.

The JTPA is available at the Wallace Center on Tuesdays at 2 p.m. Anyone interested may also call the main office collect at (915) 672-8544 in Abilene, Smith said.

An individual must be economically disadvantaged. Up to ten percent of the participants in all programs in a service delivery area may be individuals who are not hours set

No fees will be charged at the Colorado City landfill after the observance of the city's Christmas holidays and extending through Wednesday, January 3, said city manager Rick Crowley.

Further for public convenience, the landfill will be open on Wednesday, (December 21) and the following Wednesday (December 28) to compensate for the larger amounts of garbage typically generated during the holiday.

The landfill will be closed December 26 and January 2, both days are Mondays.

'The Fourposter' set to open Thursday

The curtain will go up at the Colorado City Playhouse for the last time this year as the production "The Fourposter" hits the stage on opening night tonight.

The play is scheduled to run through December 10 and December 15 through the 17th.

The local production will feature stage veteran Carl Beery Moore and newcomer Sharon Nelms. Ms. Nelms will be making her debut in tonight's opening production.

Moore will be portraying Michael and Ms. Nelms will portray Agnes in the comedy which is set around the turn of the century. The play spans the first 35 years of the marriage of Michael and Agnes.

"The Fourposter" embraces the morals, characteristics, and whims of an era that had its share of divorce, marital spats and generation-gap problems... the exception being that it was hush-hush in the public and it fed into

Chamber sponsors lighting contest

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors decided to sponsor the city's annual Christmas Lighting Contest again this year, said Chamber manager Linda McCombs following Monday's meeting at the Chamber office.

The deadline to enter the contest is December 21, said Ms. McCombs. Anyone may enter their home of if they see a house they would like to enter they must submit the other person's name and address.

Three cash prizes will be given away in the contest. First place will receive $50, second place will receive $25 and third place will receive $15.

The Board of Directors also heard the financial report on the annual Railroad Arts and Crafts Roundup. The report was given by J. O. Dockrey and Louise Giannone.

Other items on the agenda included preliminary discussion for the Chamber of Commerce Banquet which will be sometime in February, McCombs said. The Chamber also made a donation to Mitchell County Crimestoppers for $250.

The Chamber also donated $557.75 to the Mitchell County Crimestoppers for $250.

Pickens

Elmer Franklin Pickens, 79, who was a longtime resident of Colorado City, died Tuesday at 12:20 a.m. at Root Memorial Hospital following an illness.

Funeral services were at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Glenn Ro-

TSTI basketball league teams still needed

Teams are still forming for TSTI's basketball leagues. Six teams are already full, but several more teams will be needed by the time play starts in January.

The Student Activities department at TSTI is enfeldt officiating. Burial was at the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Pickens was born February 4, 1904 in Milam Co., Texas. He was a Mitchell County resident since 1908.

Pickens, who was a saddle maker and worked with leather, married Eula Hoffman March 25, 1925 in Sweetwater.

Pickens was featured in the November 21, 1982 issue of the Colorado City RECORD. In the article, Pickens recollected when he first began saddle making and working with leather.

Here is an excerpt where Pickens recollects his first job in a saddle and leather shop:

Pickens remembers the first shop he worked in: "This was back before 1920, he (the man who owned the shop) was in the building over there where the lodges meet. There was a saddle shop and a barber shop and back in the southwest corner of the building, there was a guy that stocked nothing but apples. He'd go up in the state of Colorado and up in there and haul them down here and he made a living selling apples."

"There was a mattress factory in the southwest part of the building. Bert Smith had a barber shop in the north so it was a busy place in there. There was 4 or 5 of us working in the shop."

Pickens is survived by his wife; four daughters, Payrene Zink of Midland, Myrtle Henderson of Loving, Pat Bas-set of El Paso and Jane Webb of Colorado City; one son, E. Gene Pickens of Santa Fe, NM.; two sisters Mrs. Annie Moore of Weatherford and Lucy Moore of Hewitt. Pickens is also survived by one brother Charles Pickens of Fort Worth, 12 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

His grandchildren served as pallbearers.

Wright

Mrs. William (Mary Nell) Wright, 53 died at her home in Dallas November 24.

She was an executive secretary in the oil industry of Midland, Texas for 27 years.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Monday, November 28 in the Restland Memorial Abby.

She is survived by her husband, William Wright; two daughters, Cynthia Ann and Berry Lynn Hawkins; one grandson, Jeremy Ray and one sister, Mrs. Charles Ross Smith of Colorado City.

economically disadvantaged is such individuals have encountered barriers to employment.

Such individuals may include those who have limited English language proficiency, displaced homemakers, school dropouts, teenage parents, handicapped, older workers, veterans, offenders, alcoholics or addicts.

"The catch is that the employer has to hire the participant after his eligibility runs out," Smith said. "It is unsubsidized employment."

Being a new program it will be difficult to implement it, Smith said. He added that with the success his office has had with group employment in Mitchell County in the past the new program should be effective also.

The biggest drawback of the new program is that the funding level is 50 percent of what it was last year (1982-1983) under the CETA program.

ASCS News

The sign-up period for the 1984 Wheat, Feed grain and cotton is January 16 through February 24, according to a release from the Agriculture, Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Other items included in the release are:

1). 1984 Cotton Program. You may voluntarily reduce your 1984 base by 25 percent and plant 75 percent. Bases will be mailed soon. If you timely sign up and comply, you will be eligible for possible deficiency payments plus loan. The target price for upland cotton is 81 cents per pound. The National loan rate is 55 cents per pound. The maximum deficiency payment would be 26 cents per pound.

2). Appeal Period. Acreage bases and similar farm yields may be appealed until 15 days after notice, or December 31, 1983.

3). "Harvest for PIK". If you harvest sufficient 1983 production and do not obtain your 40 percent loan, CCC will not furnish the rest of your 40 percent PIK Entitlement.

4). Economic Emergency Loans Available from FHA. Economic emergency loans will be available to farmers who are in financial difficulty beyond their control, have tried unsuccessfully to get a loan from other sources and who can repay the loan over a period of time. Funds from these EE loans may be used to finance 1984 crop production, to pay overdue farm and family operating debts or for other related uses. An economic emergency loan to any one borrower cannot exceed $400,000.

5). Disclosure of Foreign Investment in Agriculture Land. A copy of "Proposed Rule Making" is available in your ASCS office. You may make comments to the Secretary before December 12.

Summer internship applications available

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm announced that applications are now available for his fifth summer internship program, planned for the months of June and July, 1984, in his Washington office.

Each year the program involves two Omar Burleson Congressional Interns and two Lyndon Baines Johnson Congressional Interns, with each spending one month in Washington. This year, applications must be postmarked by midnight, February 6, 1984, and mailed to the Abilene office.

The interns selected will receive full Congressional experience in Stenholm's office, participating in the functioning of the office, attending committee meetings, observing debate and votes in the House Chamber, watching Supreme Court decisions being handed down, and taking advantage of the many other learning possibilities in Washington.

"We feel that we have an excellent program for the interns, and that we have had excellent interns for the program," Stenholm said. He added that with greater awareness of the program around the District, competition continues to grow more keen each year. "I would encourage anyone interested in an internship to request an application and return it as soon as possible," Stenholm concluded.

Selection for the internships is made by a

District-wide selection committee, chaired by former Congressman Burleson.

Both students and teachers are eligible for the internships. Applicants must be at least 18 years of age when in Washington, must teach or study in a college or high school in the 17th District of Texas, or have permanent residency in the 17th District while attending any college in the school year prior to the internship.

A stipend is provided for the month of work in Washington.

Formal applications and further details may be obtained from the Abilene District Office,

P.O. Box 1101, Abilene, Texas 79604 or by calling (915) 673-7221.

Varsity girls place 2nd in Hardin-Simmons tourney

By TONY FRANCO
Last Thursday through Saturday the Colorado City girls varsity basketball team did something that hadn't been accomplished in a long time.

The team reached the finals of a tournament, namely the 28th annual Hardin-Simmons University Invitational, and returned home with a second place trophy.

At Abilene, the Wolves defeated Merkel, Abilene Cooper junior varsity and 5A Abilene High before bowing out to 4A Sweetwater 55-45 in the championship.

Senior Laura Baum averaged 19.2 points per game through the four games the Wolves played and was named to the All-Tournament team.

In the championship game against the Mustangs, Baum scored 14 points, but a low team shooting percentage of 35 and a lack of rebounding cost the Wolves the title.

"We found out we can play ball, but they just had a tremendous team," commented coach George Martin on Sweetwater.

Martin described the play of his team as "great" throughout the tournament and said the girls got more confidence each time they played.

"The final game was our best game. We just didn't get many breaks," explained Martin.

Also scoring for the Wolves in the championship were Denise Jackson with 11 points, Lynn Scott and Sherry Fite with six, Julie Waid five, Sheri Morris two and Jody Mann one.

In Colorado City's first game against Merkel,

Baum exploded for 27 points, with 17 coming off free throws.

Lynn Scott scored 13 points while Jackson and Waid collected 10 and seven rebounds respectively for the Wolves' 53-52 victory.

That victory sent the Wolves into the next round against Cooper JV.

Against them, Baum hit 17 points, Jackson 16 and Scott 15 while Laura added 10 rebounds and eight assists to go with Lynn's eight rebounds and eight assists.

The semifinal game against class 5A Abilene High "was played as good as could have," according to Coach Martin. The final score of 38-31 indicates the Wolves won a hard patient victory.

Baum once again headed the scoring with 16 points. In the game,

Jackson had nine points and eight rebounds, Waid six points, Sherry Fite six points and six rebounds and Scott provided eight assists and seven steals.

On the tournament, Coach Martin commented that the team does have areas to work on, such as "layups, concentration and fundamentals," but added that "they handled themselves well and it was tremendous the way they pulled together."

Coach Martin, in closing, said that he was "very pleased" with the way the play of Fite, Morris, Traci Blackwell and Sonja Mercer came around during the tournament.

The team will be in tournament action again this weekend at Wylie's Catclaw Invitational tournament.

Wolfpack brings home trophy from Lake View

By TONY FRANCO
After defeating AAAA schools San Angelo Lake View and Brownfield, the Colorado City boys varsity lost to Brownwood, also a 4A school, by a score of 54-48 in the championship final of the Lake View Invitational basketball tournament held last Thursday through Saturday.

In addition to bringing home a very impressive second place trophy, on display at the high school, Colorado City placed Dennis Rivera and Don Randle on the All-Tournament team and also brought home the sportsmanship award, which was awarded to Jardy Powell.

In the championship game, the Wolves stuck with Brownwood throughout the game as D. Rivera, Jardy Powell and Doug Chitsey led a balanced scoring attack with 13, 12 and 11 points respectively.

Though the Wolves did have the three in double figures, coach Mike Hart pointed out that shooting, which was a plus in the previous two nights, "sure was needed Saturday."

Hart specified that "free throwing hurt in the championship," adding that "we had a couple of three points opportunities with six minutes to go."

Juniors Doug Chitsey and Don Randle turned in good defensive performances in the final but statistically the Wolves were short on rebounds as Hart explained "all the teams had size on us."

Also scoring for the Wolves against Brownwood were Armando Rivera with four points and Larry Hamilton, J. Powell, Perry Conner and Randle each with two points.

The Wolves' first victory in the tournament came at the expense of host Lake View, which Colorado City whipped 53-38.

In the game, D. Rivera, who also turned in a fine defensive effort, led Wolf scoring with 12 points.

Chitsey closely followed with 11 of his own in addition to collecting eight rebounds.

That victory sent the Wolves against Brownfield for the second round of play. Against Brownfield, Colorado City shot an impressive 52 percent from the floor and 75 percent from the free throw line en route to a 63-53 victory.

D. Rivera once again led scoring with 17 points, with nine being free throws. Right on his heels was Randle with 15 points, who also collected eight rebounds.

Twin brothers J. and Y. Powell provided the heart of Colorado City's defense against Brownfield, in addition to adding eight and seven points respectively.

Also scoring for the Wolves were A. Rivera with seven points and Hamilton with four.

Coach Hart commented that the tournament was "good competition and good for us." According to Hart, the teams participating in the tournament, which were all 4A, had the same amount of work-out.

Hart pinpointed the Wolves' success on conditioning, revealing that "we ran everybody down." The coach added that he received good performances by everybody.

The Wolves now hit the road for two weeks with the next home game scheduled for December 19 against Wall.

KIM WULFJEN puts up a jumper in last Monday's seventh grade victory over Stanton. Looking on are teammates J. Mitchell (22), Darla Gregory (13), Mary Reyes (20) and Sylvia Alvarez (21).

8th graders take Stanton for 2nd time

By TONY FRANCO
Last Monday the eighth grade boys beat Stanton for the second time this season, this time by a score of 29-20.

Though the offense never quite got it together as a team, individually Ito Davila poured in 17 points to lead the Wolves on offense. Ken Norman and Ismael Silva provided timely assists for Davila.

On defense, the Wolves hustled well to keep the Buffaloes from scoring and Norman provided steals to lead the way.

Also scoring for the Wolves were Silva and Cary Ritchey with four points and Guy Compton and Edwardo Melendez with two each.

The eighth grade girls lost to Stanton for the second time this year.

Though they lost, the girls gave the Buffaloes a tougher game this time around and only lost by the count of 24-18.

Scoring for Wolves were Jennifer Monroe with eight points, Christabel Molina four and Yolanda Salazar and Billie Muncrief with three each.

A very balanced scoring attack led the seventh grade boys to a 41-17 victory.

The Wolves played very good team ball from the start of the game.

While Beau Rees, Paul Ausbie and Dennis Smith were providing 16, nine and eight points respectively, Mark Russell and Georgie Lara were providing valuable assists in addition to scoring four points each themselves.

The Wolves first quarter lead was 18-4 and from there just cruised to the victory.

In the second half, Robert Moore stole the ball for Colorado City and even added four points while Rees and Ausbie continued to rebound for scores. Also Pat Ridge provided assists to help the Wolves cause.

Also scoring for the Wolves was Chris Perkins with two points.

The seventh girls whipped Stanton 30-18 as seven different Wolves got in the scoring.

Leading the Pack was Kim Wulfjen, who scored all 14 of her points in the second period. Sheila Monroe and Denise Lowrance scored four points with Oria Gonzales, Darla Gregory, Mary Reyes and Sylvia Alvarez each scoring two.

The win marked the Wolves second win over the Buffaloes.

Last Thursday through Saturday the Colorado City girls varsity basketball team did something that hadn't been accomplished in a long time.

The team reached the finals of a tournament, namely the 28th annual Hardin-Simmons University Invitational, and returned home with a second place trophy.

At Abilene, the Wolves defeated Merkel, Abilene Cooper junior varsity and 5A Abilene High before bowing out to 4A Sweetwater 55-45 in the championship.

Senior Laura Baum averaged 19.2 points per game through the four games the Wolves played and was named to the All-Tournament team.

In the championship game against the Mustangs, Baum scored 14 points, but a low team shooting percentage of 35 and a lack of rebounding cost the Wolves the title.

"We found out we can play ball, but they just had a tremendous team," commented coach George Martin on Sweetwater.

Martin described the play of his team as "great" throughout the tournament and said the girls got more confidence each time they played.

"The final game was our best game. We just didn't get many breaks," explained Martin.

Also scoring for the Wolves in the championship were Denise Jackson with 11 points, Lynn Scott and Sherry Fite with six, Julie Waid five, Sheri Morris two and Jody Mann one.

In Colorado City's first game against Merkel, Baum exploded for 27 points, with 17 coming off free throws.

Lynn Scott scored 13 points while Jackson and Waid collected 10 and seven rebounds respectively for the Wolves' 53-52 victory.

That victory sent the Wolves into the next round against Cooper JV.

Against them, Baum hit 17 points, Jackson 16 and Scott 15 while Laura added 10 rebounds and eight assists to go with Lynn's eight rebounds and eight assists.

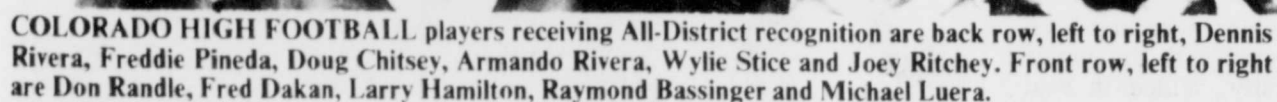

The semifinal game against class 5A Abilene High "was played as good as could have," according to Coach Martin. The final score of 38-31 indicates the Wolves won a hard patient victory.

Baum once again headed the scoring with 16 points. In the game, Jackson had nine points and eight rebounds, Waid six points, Sherry Fite six points and six rebounds and Scott provided eight assists and seven steals.

On the tournament, Coach Martin commented that the team does have areas to work on, such as "layups, concentration and fundamentals," but added that "they handled themselves well and it was tremendous the way they pulled together."

Coach Martin, in closing, said that he was "very pleased" with the way the play of Fite, Morris, Traci Blackwell and Sonja Mercer came around during the tournament.

The team will be in tournament action again this weekend at Wylie's Catclaw Invitational tournament.

BULLDOG JANIE BARRERA drives for two of her 10 points in last Friday's game against Roby.

Bulldog girls beat Lions, 47-39

By TONY FRANCO
Loraine's girls varsity, riding a 22 points production by Leslie Rose and great team play by Tencie DeLoera and Janie Barrera, improved its record to 2-0 with a 47-39 victory over the Roby Lions.

The first half proved to be the difference in the game last Friday as Loraine quickly jumped out to 16-8 and 35-17 first and second quarter leads.

In the first quarter, DeLoera was very busy stealing the ball and then passing to Rose under the basket for easy scores.

Rose tallied eight points in the period and then followed with eight more in the second quarter.

Janie Barrera scored four points in the first period and then added six points early in the second before the Lions' rough house tactics sent her out of the game with a head injury.

Loraine failed to score a single point in the third period but the rebounding of Rose, Julie Wells and Sheila Darnell kept Roby at bay as the three finished with 14, eight and seven rebounds respectively.

In the final period, the Bulldogs cut down the turnovers as Rose, DeLoera, Darnell and Wells all scored to provide the final margin.

Coach Jack Petty praised that Joann Barrera, Teresa Lopez, Martha Vallejo and A. D. Vasquez, who had been playing with the junior varsity, "filled in real well," in their varsity debut.

Also scoring for the Bulldogs were Janie Barrera 10 points, Darnell four, Wells, DeLoera and Joann Barrera with three points each and Mitzie Hallmark two.

In the junior varsity game, the Bulldogs lost a low scoring game 24-20.

For Loraine, Beverly Griffin scored eight points, Michelle Williams six, Dee Ann Pulcher four and Sherri Webb two.

AUNDRA ROSE puts up a shot for Loraine against the Roby Lions last Friday night. Looking on during the Bulldogs victory are brother Traci Rose (11) and Ruben Garcia (under goal).

Loraine Bulldogs take victory with close finish

By TONY FRANCO
With ten seconds left in the game and Loraine holding on to a slim 55-54 lead, freshman Traci Rose sank two clutch free throws to preserve a 57-56 victory over Roby for the Bulldogs varsity basketball team.

Midway through the third period the Bulldogs had built a 41-27 lead, but a spurt of defense and rebounding by the Lions brought them back into the game in the final minutes.

Loraine's early lead was a result of shooting performances put on by Bulldogs, James Griffin, T. Rose and Aundra Rose. The three finished with 20, 18 and 13 points respectively as they accounted for all but six of the Bulldogs points.

Ruben Garcia finished with four points and Tony Morris had two to round out the scoring.

The fast paced game saw the two teams trade buckets for most of the first half, as Loraine relied on steals by Garcia, A. Rose and T. Rose to provide scoring opportunities.

The first quarter ended 13-12 in Roby's favor, but in the second quarter Griffin burned the net for 10 points as the Bulldogs took a 33-25 halftime lead.

Steals led the way in the third quarter as Griffin added eight points in the period.

After seeing their lead chipped to 47-40 after three periods, the Bulldogs increased it to 55-43 early in the fourth.

From there, at about four minutes remaining on the clock, it was all Roby as they scored 11 unanswered points to pull within one at 55-54.

The Lions elected to foul the wrong Bulldog though, as Traci sank the last two free throws to send Roby home as time expired.

Coach Jack Petty said that "They played better than the score showed and really hustled," adding that "They played as well as they could considering the game," which was physical to say the least.

In the junior varsity game, the bulldogs led throughout the contest before falling 48-47 at the buzzer.

Loraine never trailed in the game and even held a 10 point lead after three quarters, but Roby outscored the Bulldogs 16-5 in the final period to post a remarkable comeback.

Scoring for Loraine were Landy Smith with 15 points, Duane Linam 10, Freddie Benitez eight, Tommy Munoz six, Lupe Rodriguez four and Ralph Rodriguez and Shane Valley two.

Mitchell Co. delegates attend convention

Six voting delegates representing Mitchell County Farm Bureau recently participated in the 50th annual Texas Farm Bureau convention held November 27-30 in Houston.

They were: Alton Raschke, president; Ronnie Feaster, vice president; David Stubblefield, secretary; board members, Tommy Morris, D. M. Smith and Travis Turner.

Policies directing the state's largest farm organization were adopted by more than 1,200 delegates from 216 organized county Farm Bureaus during this meeting. Recommendations on national policies were also approved. These policies will advance to the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting to be held January 8-12 in Orlando, Fla.

Speakers featured at the convention included Dr. Richard L. Leshner, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce; S. M. True, Jr. of Plainview, Texas Farm Bureau president; Warren Newberry of Waco, TFB executive director; George O. White of Harwood, TFB secretary-treasurer.

The business session covered the final two days of the meeting. The last order of business was the election of S. M. True, Jr. to another term as president.

County leaders also attended several special conferences during the convention. Conference topics included field crops, livestock, natural resources and education, taxes and transportation and farm labor. Commodity conferences included: beef and sheep and goats; cotton and peanuts; dairy and poultry; wheat and feed grains; rice and soybeans; citrus and pecans.

CowBelles selling books as fund-raising project

Jane Friesen, managing editor of Maverick Books, has announced that the Texas CowBelles will be selling John Erickson's books this Christmas as a fund raising project.

Erickson, whose books are articles have been widely read all over the West, met with the Texas CowBelles at the convention of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association in San Antonio, November 13 and 14.

He autographed his books in the CowBelles booth and addressed the group at a luncheon, November 14.

Erickson, who is known primarily as a humorist and the creator of Hank the Cowdog, Head of Ranch Security, struck a serious note in his address to the ladies.

"You are here at this convention because you realize that your way of life is in danger," he said. "I know your way of life. I've lived it and loved it. In my books, I try to capture the strength and integrity of ranch people.

"Humor is one of the strengths of our breed. If cattle people couldn't laugh about hard times, they couldn't survive."

Anna Lee Barton, a Lipscomb County ranch wife and a past president of the Texas CowBelles, pointed out that the organization will be selling five of Erickson's books.

The CowBelles will also be selling cassette tape versions of the Hank books, with the stories read by the author.

The CowBelles have been very active in recent years, promoting the nutritional value of beef and keeping watch on legislation affecting the cattle industry.

Jane Friesen, who manages Maverick Books in Perryton, Texas, said, "We are delighted to be working with the CowBelles on this project. We share their aims and values, and that makes us natural allies."

After meeting with the ladies in San Antonio, John Erickson said, "CowBelles are terrific. Their mothers and grandmothers fought Indians and disease and dust storms. Today, the problems are different, but the CowBelles are just as formidable."

"There's an old saying that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. That's as true today as it was a hundred years ago, but with the CowBelles you have to add that the hand that rocks the cradle can also hold a hay hook, stretch a barbed wire fence, or write a scorching letter to a United States senator."

Anyone wishing to buy Erickson's books for Christmas should contact a local Cowbelle or call Anna Lee Barton at 806-658-2297.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Why, with there being for the first time in Colorado City history 2 Homecoming Queens was only one notified for her presence in the Christmas parade?

A concerned citizen.

Senaida Pineda

Dear Editor:

On December 3rd the Christmas Parade was held downtown. It was colorfully decorated by nice floats and queens reigning from different categories within the county. There was just one thing missing; the second Homecoming Queen of Colorado High School was left out because she was conveniently not asked to ride in the parade. I just hope that whomever was in charge of the parades feels real good about it. If this letter sounds like I am upset, you bet I am; because it seems like there is some discrimination in this town. It seems to me if they do not want minority races running for anything in school, they should put a Bullentin at the beginning of the school year that students are not to pick or vote for minority races.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Blair accompanied by a granddaughter, Mrs. Kerry McMillian and son Kole of Colorado City, spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week in Big Lake visiting the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Williams. Also there for the visit was their other granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Lee and little son Michael from Corsicana.

Eddie and Nora Galvan returned home Monday after spending eleven days visiting and sightseeing in California.

They were accompanied by his mother, Mrs. S. H. Galvan, who remained for a longer visit.

They visited with a brother, James Galvan and family and two sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Salazar and Mr. and Mrs. Iberia, while in Englewood, Culver City and Los Angeles.

While at Jimmy's in Englewood, Erma says Tiger of Indio, Calif., a former Lorainian and school friend of Eddie's, came and spent Thanksgiving and the weekend with them. They had a great visit with Irma talking about school days and seeing sights in that area.

They did a lot of sightseeing in Hollywood, Port LaCall, Beverly Hills, BelAire and Disneyland. Little China Town in LA was amazing to them. The UCLA campus and complex was a highlight on their schedule. They toured Paramount and Fox Studios, saw scenes as they were making Dallas and also Fantasy Island.

The weather cooperated great. It was almost perfect, 65-70 degrees only rained one day. The brother, Jimmy arranged to take off his job and they got up early and stayed up late

North Loraine Homemakers discuss annual luncheon

The North Loraine Homemakers met at 2:30 p.m. November 30 in the home of Mrs. Raymond Wheeler. Mrs. Ruth Blair gave the opening prayer. The roll call was given "How I dress up foods to make them attractive."

Financial and council reports were given. During the business, the club voted to make a contribution to the West Texas Rehab Center, and to the new crime-stoppers program in Mitchell County.

Members brought the lap robes they had made for the Loraine Nursing Home. Some of the members brought other things they had made for Christmas gifts for the other members to see.

Plans for the annual Mitchell County TEHA luncheon were discussed. Mrs. Madge Sheppard, a delegate to TEHA state meeting in September gave a report pertaining to the workshop she attended. Health was her main topic, but she also highlighted the general session. The report was enlightening to all.

Members present were: Mmes. Ruth Blair, Ruth Holman, Augusta Matejowsky, Eva Wells, Rosie Hamrick, Leona Linam, Nina Meadows, Effie Wheeler and one guest, Mrs. Shepherd from Colorado City.

Bruce hosts meeting of Methodist Women

The Loraine Methodist Women met in the home of Mrs. Pearl Bruce at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, November 30 to complete their study of Luke. Pastor Rita Richards has conducted the entire study.

In the meeting, it was decided what caused disruption and sickness in the world. The source of wholeness must come through Jesus Christ in today's world, if there is to be wholeness. Often partial commitment results in sickness, mental, and spiritual trouble.

The question was asked "How do we become whole?" Some of the answers suggested were: becoming involved with life, with Christ at the center and never attempt a "do it yourself program" because it will fail. Many involvements may mean there is a cross to bear, and with God's grace it can be borne.

Our society is in need of healing, our economic system effect the poor unjustly, and only through healing can these problems be corrected and Christ is the answer.

Those attending the study were Mmes. Pearl Bruce, J. D. Norman, C. H. Martin, Percy Bond, W. A. Bennett, Bennett Blair, J. M. Templeton, G. L. Bryant, Elva Smith, Raymond Wheeler and the leader, Pastor Richards.

Friendship Class enjoys salad supper

Members of the Friendship class of First Baptist Church Loraine enjoyed a salad supper at their regular meeting Monday night in the church fellowship hall.

The table was decorated for Christmas. After the supper white elephant gifts were exchanged. Each signed cards to be sent to shut-ins.

A Christmas story taken from the Guidepost made up the program and was given by six members of the class, Shirley Clifton, Doris Mae Henderson, Sally Compton, Louise Taylor, Betty Hackfeld and Christene Britton. The story told about Mary and her thoughts and reactions and the wonders in her heart when she was told that she was to be the mother of Jesus, the Promised Saviour of the World. It was a joy to her and came to be a joy to the entire world.

During the fellowship hour, a Christmas game of scrambled words was played and a story containing the Books of the Bible was read.

Gifts were exchanged. Louise Taylor accompanied the group as they sang "Silent Night," to close the evening's program.

Others present were Elnora Mitchell, Willadean Forbus, Susie Morris and Marilyn Tartt.

What does a clean filter have to do with saving money?

There are lots of ways to save money. One is to check the filter in your heating and cooling unit once a month.

The filter is there to collect dust and lint. But when it's dirty, your unit has to work longer and harder to heat and cool your home. And that leads to higher electric bills.

If your filter is permanent, clean it; if it's disposable, replace it. A clean filter can help you save money all year long.

And those other ways to save? You'll find them in "The Unhandy Person's Guide" from Texas Electric. If you need one, call us — or ask for one on the comments portion of your bill.

Movie reinforces fears in most Americans

By RICHARD VIGUERIE

Ed Hume, the writer of "The Day After," was quoted in the New York Times as saying, "I would like to see people start to question the value of defending this country with a nuclear arsenal." If that was his goal when he wrote the movie he apparently failed.

According to most surveys, the program merely reinforced existing fears about the danger of nuclear war. There was even a slight increase in public confidence in President Reagan's peacemaking efforts. The only clear message from the people was that they want to avoid nuclear war at any price short of surrender to the Soviets. Exactly how to avoid war is an open question.

For example, reasonable men and women disagree over whether a nuclear freeze will reduce the chance of war. But almost everyone would agree that it is madness to provide our enemies with the computers and other sophisticated gear they need to destroy us.

American companies are selling to the Soviets the very equipment they need to blow Kansas City off the map, and the U.S. government is using taxpayers' money to promote trade with the Soviet Empire.

Credits to communist countries from the Export-Import Bank alone amounted to more than a billion dollars during the last four years. From January 1981 through March 1983, the communists aid an average interest rate 7.1 points below the prime rate.

While agencies such as the Commodity Credit Corporation, the Overseas Private Investment Corporation, and the International Monetary Fund have provided assistance to the USSR and the governments it has imposed on other nations, the Soviet bloc's debt to U.S. banks has grown to more than $70 billion.

With their financial health assured, the Soviets have acquired the hardware they need to improve their nuclear capability.

The Bryant Chucking Grinder Company sold 164 of its unique precision grinding machines to the Soviets. The machines are used to grind the ball bearings that make it possible for Soviet ICBMs to hit our missiles in their silos.

From Control Data Corporation, the Soviets bought Cyber 73 computers that could perform at 80 times the speed of the fastest computer designed in the USSR. The Cyber 73s, developed with funds from the U.S. Defense Department, reportedly operate the system that would protect the USSR from retaliation for a nuclear strike.

IBM computers are believed to be a mainstay of the Warsaw Pact air defense system. The Western-built radar devices and computers in the Moscow airport's traffic-control system can accurately project the future flight paths of airplanes and missiles.

The Soviets have used our computer technology to develop laser weapons such as one used recently to blind a U.S. observation satellite. According to defense expert Miles Costick, a former top Soviet official testified that "without the use of American computers, precision instruments and digital tools in Soviet research and development laboratories," Soviet progress in the development of laser and nuclear weapons would have halted.

The United States continued to license sales of computer parts for the Zil truck factory long after intelligence reports indicated that the plant was turning out missile launchers.

To protect ourselves from the threat of nuclear war, we must stop furnishing the communists with high-tech equipment and with the loans and credits that prop up their economies. Properly explained, tight restrictions on trade with the Soviet bloc would be supported by the vast majority of the American people.

The sequence of events in "The Day After" was apparently intended to blame the United States for the final war. In that fiction, there is a grain of truth:

If, one bright morning, Kansas City vanishes in the burst of a Soviet missile, it may indeed be the fault of some Americans—the Big Business establishment that gave major assistance to our enemy. IBM, Control Data, Citicorp, the Chase Manhattan Bank, their allies in the Commerce Department, and others will bear responsibility for selling the Soviets the rope with which to hang us.

Student bazaar exhibits craft skills

The Colorado Middle School CVAE Homemaking students have been busy preparing for the Christmas season. Mostly eighth graders, the students are planning a Christmas bazaar to exhibit some of their newly learned skills.

Mrs. Patti Monroe, the homemaking teacher, says that the students have been working very hard trying to meet the deadline of the bazaar.

Items being made for the bazaar will make excellent Christmas gifts and include baby blankets, recipe boxes, aprons, book markers, hair barretts, Christmas tree ornaments and many many more. In preparing for the bazaar, the students are learning basic sewing skills, back and top stitching, cross stitching, assembly line work, use of domestic and commercial sewing machines and the responsibility of quality work.

The homemaking students are also having a gift wrapping center that is open to the public. Gifts can be brought to the homemaking department during school hours until December 16. The prices range from 50 cents for extra small packages to $2.50 for extra large packages. Samples will be in the homemaking department.

Mrs. Monroe and her students would like to invite everyone to their Christmas bazaar in the Homemaking Department.

ment, December 16 during school hours. They hope that you will be able to do some of that last minute shopping with them.

HOMEMAKING TEACHER Mrs. Patti Monroe gives Angie Selvera a tip on putting the finishing touches on her project.

ADAM MYERS, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Myers, ponders over his Christmas gift list while sitting in Santa's lap. Santa Claus made a quick stop at the annual Fireman's Banquet Monday night at the Civic Center.

News from

Root Valley Fair Lodge

By PAM JARNAGIN

Santa isn't the only delightful visitor that comes to Root Lodge each year. The Hospital Auxiliary (Pink Ladies) made their annual visit Monday, with a six foot Christmas tree and all the decorations. It stands in the corner of our dining room, blinking out Christmas cheer and good will.

Ann Gregory from the Day Care Center came to play Christmas songs for everyone. She has set the pace for our preparation of the holiday season.

Our Christmas party will be Friday, December 23. The time is 2:30 p.m., and the place is the dining room of Root Lodge.

Santa Claus will be here to pass out gifts to residents and families.

The week before Christmas there is a steady stream of candies, cookies, songs and visitors. It leaves no doubt,

"The Christmas spirit is alive and well in Root Lodge."

Our "Christmas babies" this December are Mrs. Annie Cox and Mrs. Grace Holder. We will have a birthday party for these grand ladies December 14, Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

In the words of Oliver Wendell Holmes, "To be seventy years young is sometimes far more cheerful and hopeful than to be forty years old."

Christmas program set by WTC Vocal Ensemble

The Western Texas College Vocal Ensemble will present its annual Christmas program at 6:30 p.m. Sunday (December 11; in the First United Methodist Church.

The program will include traditional carols and modern Christmas music.

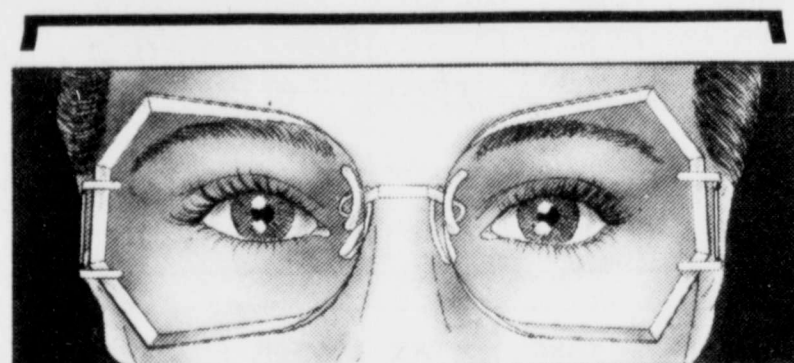

Members of the Ensemble who will be performing are Robert Allen of Roby; Donna Andrews of San Angelo; Todd Jeffrey of McCaulley; Duncan Joys of Lubbock; Veda Owens and Stephan Ortiz of Sweetwater; Robert Turnlee of Ozona; Mitch Leaming and Joe Martin of Nashville, Tenn.; Jack Rylant of Post; Joyce Cook, Denise Bode, Sammie Ellis, Connie Essery, Steve Fisher, Kristi Masters, Rosie Perales and Tommy Collum of Snyder, and Kevin Huddleston of Ira.

The group is under the direction of Jane Womack. Cheri Stewart will be pianist and Barbara Bigham will provide a special narration. There is no charge for admission to the program.

Santa is looking for kids' letters

Christmas is not too far away and kids are already planning on what to ask Santa to leave under the tree and as usual the RECORD is acting as a relay station between Colorado City and the North Pole.

So, parents be sure to send your kids' "Letters to Santa" to us at P.O. Box 92, Colorado City, TX 79512 and we will print them in our Christmas edition before forwarding them on to Santa. We would like for the kids to include their name and address when they sign the letter.

Farmers, ranchers tired of policies

By LLOYD BENTSEN

American farmers and ranchers are tired of paying the bills for our nation's foreign policy.

They wonder if this nation really stands behind them on agricultural trade issues when they are repeatedly subjected to embargoes, refusals to negotiate needed trade agreements, and failure to push for removal of unfair trade barriers for fear of offending foreign countries.

One case in point is our trade relationship with Japan, particularly our exports of beef to that nation.

Japan now sells $16 billion more of its goods each year to the U.S. than we sell to Japan.

Every month billions of dollars worth of Japanese televisions, automobiles, computers, and toys crowd into our ports and stores as fast as Japanese producers can pile them into ships. We could scarcely fill one small steamer with the U.S. beef that Japan allows through its trade barriers.

Japanese officials have repeatedly dragged their feet in responding to requests to lower or eliminate those trade walls, which have held U.S. beef exports to Japan at less than 10 ounces per Japanese per year. Because of these trade barriers, a pound of sirloin strip steak that sells for $4 on the West Coast of the U.S. and for $4.50 in Hong Kong, goes for $15 in Tokyo.

U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates show that if these trade barriers were removed, U.S. beef sales to Japan could triple, bringing $340 million more annual income to our ranchers.

Back in the 1970s, when we were working on a bilateral trade agreement with Japan, I kept urging U.S. negotiators to press the Japanese to accept more American beef. Finally, a great "breakthrough" was announced. The Japanese said they would accept another 10,000 metric tons.

That sounded pretty good to some people, but when I put a pencil to the figure, it came out to one Quarter Pounder a year for every Japanese. That was hardly a breakthrough. Last year, the Senate approved my resolution calling for U.S. negotiators to seek open access to Japanese markets for U.S. beef during trade consultations with Japan, and failing that, to evaluate appropriate remedies under U.S. law and our international trade agreements.

Our bilateral trade agreement with Japan will expire in March. In past and current negotiations for a new agreement, Japan has refused to offer more than an extension of the current quota system.

The Senate recently voted overwhelmingly, 92-6, to approve a new resolution, which I cosponsored. It calls for U.S. negotiators to take action under U.S. and international trade law should Japan refuse to dismantle its nontariff trade barriers against U.S. beef by the time our trade agreement expires.

The resolution, along with our President's visit to Japan, should send a clear signal to the Japanese that we want more reasonable negotiations. Japan must understand that maintaining its trade barriers will violate international trade agreements and will not be acceptable.

The U.S. Congress, and America's farmers and ranchers, want those barriers down.

21 local students included in recognition publication

A total of 21 students from this area have been included in the 17th annual edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1982-83.

Who's Who, published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Illinois, is the largest high school recognition publication in the country. Students are selected by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches or by the publishing company based upon students' performance in scholarship award contests or extracurricular activities.

Final selection is determined on the basis of criteria which include high achievement in academics and leadership in school activities, athletics or community service. Traditionally, 99 percent of Who's Who students have a grade point average of "B" or better and 97 percent are college bound.

The 17th edition of Who's Who, published in nine regional volumes, features 375,000 students, or five percent of the nation's 6,500,000 high school juniors and seniors. They represent 18,000 of the 22,000 public, private and parochial high schools in the country.

Who's Who students also compete for over $50,000 in scholarship awards and participate in the publication's annual opinion poll of teen attitudes. The book is distributed on a complimentary basis to over 15,000 high schools, colleges, universities, and public libraries throughout the country.

Local students selected for this year's volumes are from Colorado City: James Blackwell, Teresa Browne, Gayla Cook, Larry Hamilton, Amy Moore, Pam Wilson, Cheryl Bradbury, Wade Browne, Allyson Haggerton, Richard Ligon and Michelle Palmer.

Students from Lorraine include Helen Alvarez, Mitzi Hallmark, Shelly Martin, Sally Mosher, Kathy Wright, Melissa Clifton, Judy Madrid, Stephanie McAdams and Leslie Rose. Lynn Dawson, from Westbrook was also included.
