Senate Race Is All Over But The Shouting

And While Friends of Each Candidate Are Shouting Now, No One Knows Who Will Be Crowing the Loudest After Saturday's Votes Are Counted; Culberson Favorite.

By H. N. F.

DALLAS, July 20.—There will be a senatorial showdown Saturday and the names of the runners-off should be known before the hour of midnight on the day of the primary balloting.

All the politicians are at sea and all the candidates are up in the air just where they have been since the beginning of the month. There have been straw ballots taken by the newspapers; there have been surveys made by the political managers; there have been state-wide referendums taken by those who know how to go about interviewing two or three oracles in all the counties of Texas where there is an electorate worth taking the count before the ballots are plumped into the boxes.

The writer places three men in the lead—Culberson, Thomas and Mayfield. He is of the opinion that two of the three will be the runners off. And even this is guess work. One of the higher ups in the official Belo family which publishes the Dallas and Galveston News, has made a private forecast. He places Culberson and Thomas in the run-off with Ferguson the third man.

There is a weekly paper here known as the Dallas Democrat. It is said to be the mouthpiece of National Committeeman Thomas B. Love. The publisher of the Democrat says he has received reports direct from 230 counties in Texas which show Senator Culberson well in the lead and the others in the following order: Mayfield, second; Thomas, third; Ousley, fourth; Ferguson, fifth; Henry, sixth. These reports, he says, indicate that Senator Culberson will lead in 74 counties, with Mr. Thomas second with 65; Mayfield, third with 53; Ferguson, fourth, with 20; Henry, fifth, with 15; Ousley, sixth with 12. This is his comment: "The indicated vote in the counties reported is slightly in excess of 800,000 divided as follows: Culberson 230,000; Mayfield 172,000; Thomas 163,000; Ousley 138,000; Ferguson 62,000; Henry 27,000."

Culberson Second Choice.

A portion of the ballot sent out was for expression of first, second and third choice. Many of the reports gave Senator Culberson second place, while a few ranked him as third and in one or two instances it was predicted that he would be last. "These latter, however, were in counties where the vote is negligible," remarked the publisher of the Democrat, in his discussion of the statewide poll he had taken.

A poll of the editors of the state has been completed by the Dallas Times Herald. They were not asked to give their personal preferences.

CHARLES R. MILLER IS DEAD. He wasn't a great captain of industry. He wasn't a Napoleon of finance. He wasn't a political boss. He wasn't a movie king, a sensational preacher, a self-elected self-advertised reformer, the founder of a new religion, the inventor of a new war bomb or a freak of any sort. He was for forty years editor of the New York Times, and recognized by thinkers and scholars as one of the ablest editorial writers of the country. Charles R. Miller was responsible for the editorial page of the New York Times. He did not make all the page but he passed on all the copy for the page. He had been an editor forty-three years and his entire newspaper career was with the Times except for three years spent on the staff of the Springfield Republican after his graduation from Dartmouth in 1872. In those days the Springfield Republican was the newspaper Bible of New England, the ablest edited of all New England newspapers, the most fearless, the most thoroughly independent and the most influential. Charles R. Miller had the correct training before he moved to New York and became the editor of the Times.

PRESIDENT HARDING HAS asked the governors of twenty-eight states to invite the miners to resume coal production. Now the aforesaid governors of twenty-eight states will comply with the request of the chief executive of the republic. Of course the governors of the twenty-eight coal states are asked to furnish protection and safeguards to men and employes, willing to resume work in the industry, notwithstanding the mine workers' strike. This is the pledge of the president to the governors: "The federal government pledges to you every assistance at its command." And the federal government has the standing army behind it. Who is going to dig the coal?

PRESIDENT OBREGON OF Mexico has decided upon using the mailed fist. He has ordered all the troops of the republic mobilized for a concerted drive to crush rebel bands. These rebel bands in Mexico are for the most part bandits and looters. They never work. They never earn their bread by the sweat of their face. They are pillagers always and they fatten upon the toilers of the republic or overlords holding rich concessions who have been ready at all times since the passing of Diaz to do business with these cut-throats and parasites of the Aztec republic. President Obregon, soldier and statesman, is a kind-hearted man. He does not believe in blood letting unless blood letting is absolutely necessary. Now he knows that the political bandits of Mexico who style themselves rebels and patriots must be put down or put away in order that greater stability may be given to his government. There are Mexican plotters against the Obregon government in the United States. They work hand in hand with Americans of wealth and prominence who should be engaged in a more respectable business. General Phil Sheridan once said, "The only good Indian is a dead Indian" and it goes without saying that the only good bandit in Mexico is a dead bandit. Obregon should strike them down and he should strike hard.

Randall of Randolph 47,336; A. H. Byrnm, of Bloomington 12,231; G. W. Sterling, Omaha, 9,052.

By Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., July 20.—Political observers watching progress of the vote in Tuesday's primary in the race for republican gubernatorial nomination between Adam McMullen of Beatrice and Charles H. Randall of Randolph tonight expressed their opinion there was no doubt it will take the official vote, with mail votes permitted under the absent voters law to decide the outcome, so narrow was the margin separating the contestants.

Many Mail Votes.

These political students estimated the mailed votes would total 1,000 which they thought sufficient to swing victory to one or the other, as with 1,857 of the states 1913 precincts reported totals stood:

McMullen 47,492 and Randall 47,374.

Charles Bryan of Lincoln, brother of W. J. Bryan, won the democratic gubernatorial nomination after a pretty race with Dan D. Butler of Omaha.

New Mexico Mines Supplying Coal

By Associated Press.

SANTA FE, N. M., July 20.—"All New Mexico coal mines are running with production sufficient for present needs," Governor Mecham wired President Harding today in response to the president's communication to governors on the strike situation. Held Ready

The troops are not to be sent directly to the mines, but are to be held at Cadiz and Lancaster for quick movement to points where they may be required, Governor Davis said. In directing the troop movement, the chief executive said urgent appeals had come to him from both the sheriff and prosecuting attorney at Harrison county, as they considered local means inadequate to insure order in that territory.

RUPTURE FEARED WITH MEXICANS

U. S. Wants Action On Recognition

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Administration officials were authoritatively represented today as desirous that the Mexican government take whatever steps it deems necessary to effect the expressed policies of President Obregon on questions impeding recognition of that government. It was declared emphatically that the situation was entirely clear as to the relations between the two countries and fully understood by Adolfo De La Huerta, Mexican minister of finance, as a result of his recent conversations with President Harding and Secretary Hughes.

It is understood to be recognized by the Washington government that continuance of the present situation might endanger the friendly relations between the two governments, particularly in view of the application of the Mexican agrarian policy to the land held by Americans under valid titles in Mexico.

The cardinal point upon which the Washington government has insisted at all times is the security of valid American titles in Mexico to property of whatever nature. It was again explained today that this was the chief aim of the treaty of amity and commerce suggested to President Obregon, but which he found himself unable to accept. If the security sought is accomplished by regulatory acts of the Mexican congress or decision of the Mexican supreme court interpreting article 27 of the Mexican constitution, however, the end of the United States would be as well satisfied, it was said.

COAL FAMINE FACES NATION NEXT WINTER

Plans Developed to Eke Out a Supply

A coal shortage next winter has been made certain, according to Attorney General Daugherty, because of the mine and rail strikes.

Federal government plans to secure distribution of the now dwindling supply of priority orders to supply essential railways and the northwest.

President Harding continues to receive replies from governors, practically all assuring him that they will protect mine operations in spite of the strike.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, reiterates the determination of the union leaders to carry on the strike until they have obtained successful negotiations for a satisfactory wage scale basis.

Troops were ordered out in several states, the Illinois operators also being promised protection in case they decided to try to reopen thir mines.

Attorney General Daugherty commented that strike disruptions and already made it certain that there would be a coal shortage next winter.

Replies of governors to President Harding's invitation that they guarantee protection to mine operation in spite of the strike, continued to come to the white house, practically all assuring the federal government support.

Rail Situation Found To Be Bad

By Associated Press.

DENISON, Texas, July 20.—Governer Pat M. Neff, following his arrival here late this afternoon, went into conference with Captain Tom Hickman of the Texas rangers, Sheriff Boyd Craig and Constable Ira Jesse, tonight when the strike situation here was laid before the governor. No disturbances, meanwhile, have occurred here all day.

Equipment is in bad condition and the tracks in this territory are lined with freight cars marked in bad order, railway officials declared today. The same conditions exists as to locomotives in the roundhouse, they said.

"Mail trains are being delayed in Dension on account of the railroad being forced to wait for engines," a statement was given out from the Missouri, Kansas and Texas office late today, stated.

Men Ready to Work

"These delays for locomotives are due to lack of men at the round house and shops. The lack of men to repair and furnish locomotives for mail trains and all other trains without delay is due to the fact that ample protection has not been provided."

A shipment of shot guns went out of Dension tonight for DeLeon, Tex., where disturbances were reported last night and at Wichita Falls along the Katy lines.

ROAD OWNERS MAKE OFFERS TO ARBITRATE

Intervention of U. S. Government Possible

Eastern railway executives went to Washington to confer with members of the senate interstate commerce committee.

With peace negotiations apparently halted, attention was directed to the efforts of individual roads to effect separate settlements.

Eastern executives meeting in New York issued a statement maintaining that the strike is aimed at the government and not at the railroads.

Strike ballots were ordered sent to clerks and freight handlers on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad.

Many trains were added to the list of those annulled by various roads because of the shopmen's strike and coal shortage.

Soldiers were ordered to Hoisington, Kansas, Rocky Mount, N. C., Aberdeen, North Dakota, and Concord, N. H., because of strike trouble.

CHICAGO, July 20.—With all peace negotiations in the country-wide strike of railway shopmen apparently at a standstill today, attention was directed tonight to the possibility of government intervention and the action of individual railroads in seeking separate settlements with their men.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad posted notices today that since the Chicago conciliation efforts had failed it was "now ready to confer with its men," in an effort to settle the differences and expressed confidence that an agreement could be reached. AG. COMMITTEE OPPOSES FORD

Shoals Offer Is Hotly Fought

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Rejection of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals and enactment of legislation for development of the war-built projects in Alabama by a government owned and government controlled corporation was recommended to the senate today by Chairman Norris of the senate agricultural committee.

The agricultural committee chairman's views were set forth in a luminous report, differing portions of which were supported by various members of the committee.

Gets Real Funny

The report criticised the Ford offer sharply, describing it as "the most wonderful real estate speculation since Adam and Eve lost title to the Garden of Eden," and inquiring "why a warranty deed to the capitol at Washington is not included in this great transfer of government property to this wonderful corporation."

And the Tar Boiled

The mercury stood at 110 in the shade.

A gang of street workers were engaged in putting tar on the street at Indiana and Tenth intersection. They had started the fire under the tar boiler some time before and were prearing the surface coating.

"How does the fire look," the foreman called to one of his helpers who walked toward the boiler.

"Looks like hell," came back the reply.

"That's good," yelled the foreman, "put in some tar."

White's Defiance of Kansas Court Will Get Him Pinched

By Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 20.—Governor Henry J. Allen tonight authorized the arrest of William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette, for alleged violations of the anti-picketing provision of the Kansas industrial court law, and issued a statement. The warrant will probably be issued tomorrow, it was believed.

Declaring in a signed statement "no distinction will be made as to individuals, no matter what their standings may be in the state or nation," and "certainly we cannot make any exceptions of Mr. White's cases," Governor Henry J. Allen tonight turned the prosecution of William Allen White, of the Emporia Gazette over to the attorney general of the state.

White had carried placards in the Gazette windows supporting the railway shopmen's strike. He also carried a front page editorial in the Gazette Wednesday, daring Governor Allen to prosecute him for advocating the cause of the strike of railroad employes.

A representative of the attorney generals' office is to leave for Emporia tomorrow morning with the information for swearing out the warrants which will be served on White some time tomorrow.

The break between Governor Allen and White has attracted nation-wide interest. They have been cronies in business, politics and in their social relations for a long time.

They toured Europe together. They were together in France during the world war. Political alignments in Kansas have been kaleidoscopic in the last 15 years, but through it all "Henry and me" have been one and inseparable.

Don't Send Another Like That, Mr. Weather Man

Mercury hit 110 yesterday.

While Wichitans sweltered and wondered how hot it really was the little indicator of the circular thermometer at the Art Jewelry store slowly wound its way around the thermometer's circle.

Just about noon the red blotted the 100 mark. At 2 o'clock the 110 circle had a streak of red in it, the indicator then went straight down in this path for two hours, leaving the 110 circle at 4 o'clock and swerving inward, toward 107 degrees. It was still at this point at 7 o'clock last night but going slightly inward.

Such is the technical side of a hot day. What's the use to tell the human side of it. Buzz the fans and read the fur ads.

SENATE—

They were asked to forecast results in the home counties of the individuals. This poll placed Culberson and Mayfield in the lead with Thomas making a showing of great strength. Ferguson and Ousley were bunched together far behind the three leaders with Henry last.

Another poll of the state was made by the Dallas Dispatch, a very progressive journal with independent leanings. This poll placed Culberson and Thomas in the run-off, Ferguson is given third place, Mayfield fourth, Ousley fifth and Henry last.

These newspapers are opposed to the invisible empire, politically. The Times Herald has been silent as to the klan, but advises all democrats to vote to retain Culberson in his seat in the senate.

There are some few Thomas men here, who predict that the runners off will be Thomas and Mayfield.

In this event, Thomas will easily defeat Mayfield as the Culberson and Ousley and Ferguson men will go to Thomas. On the other hand, should Culberson and Mayfield be the runners off, one or two of the Thomas leaders are fearful that the followers of Thomas, Ousley and Ferguson will go to Mayfield. There is no way of finding out where they get that stuff. It is conceded the state over that the klan vote will go to Mayfield and Henry and the politicians of the other say they are going to do their best to land it for Mayfield.

There are klansmen who say that Henry's vote will be surprising and that he will cut into the klan vote heavily in many cities and towns particularly in the upper country. They concede him McLennan county and a big klan vote in the black land counties. Should Henry poll the vote his klansmen friends expect him to poll, then Mayfield may get third place on primary election day.

Culberson Camp Jubilant.

This is speculative to a high degree; it is political guesswork all along the line. The writer made the rounds of the headquarters of the different candidates. Those in charge at the Culberson camp were making merry. They said that Culberson would be in the runoff and that all their estimates placed Mayfield in the run-off with him. They regarded Mayfield as an easy mark in the August finals.

Mayfields' headquarters are in the same hotel. His brother, Morris Mayfield, of Kaufman county, declared that Earle B. had nosed out second place and this would be the line-up after the ballots were next counted Saturday night; Mayfield, Culberson, Thomas, Ferguson, Ousley and Henry. All the Mayfield managers agreed with the forecast of Brother Morris.

Cullen F. Thomas made his final appeal to the voters of his home city and county last night. Considering the oratorical nuisance who is imposing and his reception quite flattering, Oscar Touchstone, who is directing his campaign, has taken a "state vote" for his own edification and the edification of his candidate and friends. The result of this straw balloting pleased Touchstone mightily. It placed Thomas in the run-off and the letter writers from all parts of the state gave assurance that Thomas would be the victor in the August finals regardless of the candidate who will win second place in the primary balloting.

There is no lack of confidence at the Ousley headquarters over in Fort Worth. Those in charge say that they have the only statesman in the race and they are hopeful that the democrats of Texas are going to pick a statesman for senator.

Ferguson a Puzzle.

Ferguson continues to be the political puzzle of all concerned. He polled sixty-eight thousand votes in Texas two years ago when he made the race as the American party candidate for president. There are democratic politicians here and elsewhere who are fearful that Farmer Jim may poll twice that number of votes in the balloting for senator. Ferguson turned his guns on the klansmen and Mayfield in the city of Houston and what he said about Mayfield must have been unfit to print as the newspapers deleted it.

Thomas threw bombs at Mayfield at the Fair park last night. Charles E. Leddy, made an attack upon Mayfield which he said was taken from the official records at Austin. Henry continues to pot-shot both Mayfield and Thomas. It isn't a campaign of issues between these three or four. It is a campaign of personalities and rotten personalities at best. Klansmen who are favorable to Henry say that Henry Ervin Clark of Waco has resigned as general counsel for the Texas klan and has resigned as grand titan as a protest against the program of the four titans of the klan who have attempted to eliminate Henry in direct violation of a solemn covenant entered into by all the klansmen in April last. Of course Judge Clark has not resigned from the invisible empire but he has tossed his imperant and lucrative offices into the laps of the imperial wizards or higher-ups. Gone are the good old days. This is a horse race, there are three acknowledged favorites with a lot of people doing their best to make a fourth favorite of Farmer Jim. The campaign is over and only the count will tell the story.

Candidate for Judge Recovers

A. L. Brubaker of Iowa Park, candidate for county judge of Wichita county, who was suddenly taken sick two days ago, was reported late Thursday to be much improved in health and physicians said that he will survive the attack, which for many hours threatened his life.

Mr. Brubaker was conscious Thursday and took keen interest in the election, expressing hope that he can get out again before Saturday. Friends assured him that they are carrying on his campaign for him while he is sick.

Mr. Brubaker is well known in Wichita Falls and has scores of friends here.

'UNINVITED GUESTS' SEIZE 'CHOCK' BEER

They must have been having a "party."

At least, Sheriff Fred Smith and Deputy Sheriff C. B. McConnell believe there was some kind of a party in progress ujat before they arrived.

The raid was conducted on the Northwest oil field near Burkburnett Wednesday night, one person, whose name was withheld, being arrested in connection with the case.

JUDGE GIVES LECTURE TO YOUNG CAR THIEF

In passing sentence of two years in the state penitentiary on Vernon Voss Thursday in the 30th district court, Judge H. R. Wilson paused long enough to stress the points of the law on which Voss was convicted, and explained to the convicted man the purpose of such a law.

A lecture of rather a fatherly nature, contained in which there was much advice, was delivered to Voss by Judge Wilson.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

Red radicals and red-handed plunderers, in or out of Mexico, should be handled without gloves.

NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS ran true to western form. They held their primary election Tuesday, July 18. Congressman A. W. Jeffries backed by the so-called republican reactionaries made his race for the United States senate on the record of the Harding administration. R. B. Howell, progressive republican made his race on a radical platform which incorporated most of the demands of Brookhart of Iowa and Frazier of North Dakota. Howell won hands down. He defeated Jeffries supported by standpatters and reactionaries and who appealed for support on the record made by the republican administration. Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock was nominated by the democrats of Nebraska with an exceedingly heavy vote. Hitchcock made a clean get-away from a dry democrat who had the backing of the anti-saloon league of Nebraska. Daniel Butler is the democratic primary nominee for governor. He defeated Charles W. Bryan, the modest brother of the Prince of Peace evangelist and orator of the Platte known to fame and the democracy as William Jennings Bryan. And so it goes. In the states west of the Alleghaney mountains republican progressives are defeating republican reactionaries every time that a state primary takes place. Nebraska followed in the wake of Indiana, Iowa and North Dakota. Two years ago the "outs" drove the "ins" from power. Now there are more "outs" than "ins" and unless all the surface signs are misleading, the "ins," who are the Harding republicans may be ousted two years hence.

SISTER'S HUG CONDEMNED PET

Dick Sullivan, part St. Bernard and part mastiff, pet of Jacob Silverman and family, of Landsdale, Pa., was condemned to death because a peculiar law of the state of Pennsylvania denies an alien the right to possess a dog. Dick Sullivan's master has not been naturalized. Mrs. Harding read the pathetic plea Silverman and his daughters has made to save the life of their faithful pet and President Harding appealed to Governor Sproul in Dick's behalf. The governor of Pennsylvania wired to Magistrate Boorse at Lansdale and Dick is now waiting to lick the hands of the president, the governor and the magistrate.

Hapsburg Crown Stolen in Vienna

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The diamond studded crown of the Hapsburg, former rulers of Austria-Hungary has been stolen from the Spanish consulate in Vienna where it was placed for safe keeping after the revolution began, it became known today.

Count DeKorwin Sokolowski, Austrian aviator, who carried the diadem from a convent to the consulate during the first days of the revolution has been summoned to Paris. He sailed last Saturday on LaSavole to join in a hunt for the jewels in Vienna, Barcelona, Paris and possibly Moscow.

Baron Radowitz, a German nobleman who spent several days last May with the former German Kaiser in Doorn and is a close friend of Sokolowski, said today he could not discuss the situation because of his friendship for the Austrian but admitted the crown had been stolen.

GRAFONOLA AND TWO NEGROES IN ONE HAUL

Two negroes and a grafonola were taken into custody by Deputies Will Lay and Will Bryan Thursday afternoon when a third negro identified the instrument as one which she had owned several months ago, but which mysteriously disappeared.

OUSLEY TOLD HE WILL WIN RACE

Friends Sure He'll Be In Run-Off

With Clarence Ousley winding up his campaign in Fort Worth Thursday night where all local candidates joined in giving him a grand rally headed by two bands and in which thousands of citizens took part, the Wichita Falls Ousley club sent a telegram of congratulation and encouragement to Mr. Ousley. Judge C. L. Bass of this city, who has been working at the Ousley headquarters for several weeks and who went through school with Mr. Ousley has just returned from Fort Worth and expressed confidence that his candidate will be in the run-off. The telegram sent by the Ousley club here was signed by Judge J. T. Montgomery, J. A. Kemp, Edgar Scurry, Leslie Humphrey, S. A. L. Morgan and others. It follows:

"The citizenship of the imperial city of Fort Worth are doing themselves prouder than the proudest tonight in their vast outpouring to pledge to the world their unbounded faith in the high character and unsurpassed ability of their fellow citizen, the Honorable Clarence Ausley. Greetings of great cheer from nearly one-half of our citizens who will vote for Clarence Ousley for United States senator. If other parts of Texas will do but half of what this part will do for Clarence Ousley he will certainly win by votes of those thinking people who will cast all political husks to political swine. Let Fort Worth tell it to the world that Clarence Ousley's nomination means that in Texas men are free enough to worship God as they choose and brave enough to vote as they and others wish."

word that the governor would reply later. Governor Groesbeck of Michigan, outlined plans for opening mines there under state control, with federal sanction.

In connection with a message from Governor Morrison of North Carolina, questioning the president's policy in asking the mines opened, high administration officials pointed out that responsibility for coal production in that state was small.

PENNSYLVANIA MINES ALSO SET PROTECTION.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Development of plans for stretching out the nation's coal supply, now dwindling under continued impact of the mine and railroad strikes, was the immediate concern today of federal officials acting in the industrial situation. Secretary Hoover announced that within a day or two the interstate commerce commission and the commerce department would put into operation a scheme of diverting to essential transportation lines the coal coming from non-union mines and from mines that may be opened up in union territory, by use of priority orders governing transportation. The object will be mainttenance of the transportation machine.

days and a southern railway was said today to be pursuing a similar course.

Jewell Attitude Doubtful

B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts, in past statements, has maintained that any settlement must be on a national basis although he has encouraged his general chairman to confer with the carriers when the roads requested such conferences.

Eastern executives meeting in New York reiterated their contention that the strike is aimed at the government and not at the railroads. The executives indicated that every effort would be made to co-operate with the government.

No indications of new peace overtures from any source were to be seen here today. Rail executives, labor board members and union officials were silent, while the situation was allowed to follow its own course apparently. Clerks on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad went on strike and strike ballots were ordered sent to clerks and freight handlers on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad.

Many trains were added today to the list of those annulled by various roads because of the coal strike and shopmen's strike. Four local passenger trains operated by the Chicago and Northwestern in Iowa will be annulled tomorrow; the St. Louis and San Francisco road annulled two trains between Birmingham and Memphis; the Northwestern annulled two two trains between Mason City, Iowa, and Belleplain, Ohio. The Wabash announced it had taken off six trains in the Cincinnati division; and passenger traffic on the northern Pacific line entering Duluth has been cut 50 per cent, it was announced.

Neither city or county officials expressed any knowledge of having received communications from Henry Zweifel, United States District Attorney, as contained in a report from Fort Worth last night.

Both Mayor Frank Collier and Pelice Chief J. W. McCormick asserted that they had received newly appointed deputies, reported to have been sworn in at Fort Worth yesterday for duty in this city, while deputies in Sheriff Smith's office let it be known that he had not received a communication to that effect either.

County officials also replied in the negative when asked concerning the reported messages.

Auto Insurance Suit Begun Again

Suit for the value of an insurance policy was begun in the 78th district court before Judge Ed Napier Thursday when the case of T. C. Scruggs vs The Automobile Insurance company went to trial for the second time.

Scruggs is asking for the amount of his insurance, while the company objects to payment on the grounds that Scruggs' car was burned maliciously. Hunter Russell took the stand Thursday afternoon long enough to testify that he was paid $50 to destroy the machine by fire.

The case was tried once before, resulting in a hung jury.

Southern Oklahoma Wildcat Operators Now Playing Trends

Special to The Record News.

ARDMORE, July 20.—Playing of "trends" of producing areas, with reference to locating of wildcats in Carter and Love counties, is the latest wrinkle which has shown itself in development in this section of the state. Geology is being adhered to, as is also some "creekology," but direction from producing pools appears to be bearing the greatest importance.

Most important of the wells now drilling in line with the pools of Carter and adjacent counties are the Crosbie-Stahl-Lynch No. 1 Robertson, southwest of northeast quarter of 16-8s-2e, Love county, now drilling below 500 feet; Sturm-Gillam-Ellis No. 1 Pittman, southeast of northwest of southwest quarter of 20-6s-1e, six miles south of the Ameruda pool, drilling at1,750 feet; Onwego Oil company's No. 1 Zella Amerson, southwest corner of northwest quarter of 29-2s-w, drilling at 1,600 feet; and a location which is bearing great importance, designated as the Lester-Young-Phelan No. 1 Lester, northeast quarter of 23-3s-3w.

The Crosbie-Stahl, Lynch test is about one mile north of the famous Horseshoe Bend of the Red river and in an area which has been under close scrutiny by the leading geologists of Oklahoma for a number of years, including members of the geological forces of the larger companies. It is one of the few structures on which geological opinion agrees in practically every respect. The state survey devoted a great deal of time in going over it and expect to issue a report in the near future, according to information from Norman. The location lies either in or in close proximity to the trend of every pool in Carter county.

The Strum-Gillam-Ellis test is situated likewise in relation to the producing areas and is also commanding attention. Formation encountered thus far have been most encouraging. North of Mill, the Onwego Oil company's test is playing the same trend as that in which the Graham pool, Carter county's most promising field, is situated. This well passed through more than half a dozen oil and gas showings and looms as a most promising wildcat juding by indications thus far closely surrounded by Carter county's leading fields, including Hewit, Healdton, Fox, Graham and Oil City. No tests have been drilled in the vicinity which have gone down to a depth greater than 1,500 feet, and inasmuch as producing horizons in the surrounding fields are yielding from depeer levels, the Lester-Young-Phelan well will be of great interest.

Southern Operators To Reduce Drilling

By Associated Press.

ARDMORE, July 20.—Although the recent cuts in mid-continent crude were expected in local oil circles, the rapidity with which they have been announced came as a surprise and the situation here has assumed a more puzzling phase than for some time. Local independents intend to curtain drilling to as great a degree as possible and will maintain a conservative policy until market conditions show a decided improvement.

The Healdton operators have been hard hit with the cut which has lowered the Healdton crude from $1 to 75 cents. Healdton oil has been stored by the producers in that field for many months, and according to statements of many of them, they will continue to store it, even though an intensive campaign of tank building may be required.

No Market Breakers.

The fields of Carter county are not a factor in the pools which are threatening another cut due to big production, for they have held their yield steady for some time. The Graham pool is practically the only district in which output has gone up, but even there the yield of the entire area does not exceed 1,000 barrels as it is a comparatively new field. The Ameada pool is not an important factor in production at this time, for it is still in a more or less wildcat state, due to inability thus far to discover the trend of the structure. Production of the Amerada field is hanging around 1,000 barrels. The Hewitt, Fox and Healdton pools are holding steady.

OHIO OIL MAKES SECOND REDUCTION

By Associated Press.

FINDLAY, Ohio, July 20.—The Ohio Oil company here today announced a second reduction of 25 cents per barrel for seven grades of central west crude oils within a week. The new prices are: Lima, $1.98; Indiana, $1.78; Wooster, $2.10; Illinois, $1.77; Princeton, $1.77; Plymouth, $1.15; Waterloo, $1.25.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Gasoline stocks were drawn on in June for the second consecutive month, but other products held at refineries increased, says the weekly summary of the American Petroleum institute, covering returns from 60 per cent of the country's refinery capacity.

Gasoline storage decreased 025,051 barrels, while pipe line and tank farm gross domestic crude oil stocks increased, 6,011,000 barrels during the month.

Reports for the week ended July 15 showed estimated daily average gross crude oil production of 1,474,450 barrels, compared with 1,450,550 the previous week. California wells showed 370,000 barrels a day, an increase of 10,000 barrels.

Oklahoma-Kansas Gains

Oklahoma-Kansas increased 12,300 barrels daily to a total of 492,000; north Texas had a decrease of 1,200 barrels; central Texas an increase of 250; north Louisiana a decrease of 1,300 and Arkansas a decrease of 1,100 barrels.

In Oklahoma, production of the Osage nation was shown as 110,000 barrels against 108,250 barrels the previous week; Bristow 88,800 against 55,900; Lyons-Quinn pool 20,000 against 20,200 barrels.

Mexia Drops

The Mexia pool, central Texas, reported 64,500 barrels against 64,750; Haynesville, north Louisiana, 55,350 against 57,400; and Eldorado, Ark., 32,550 against 33,650 barrels. In the Gulf Coast field, west Columbia reports 27,400 barrels against 27,700, and Orange county 16,450 against 16,350.

General reduction in crude oil prices were reported including cuts of 25 cents each in mid-continent crude, reducing the price to $1.50 a barrel. Pennsylvania crude was marked down 25 cents to $3.25; Gulf Coast was unchanged at $1.25; and California crude was cut on an average of about 25 cents a barrel varying with the grade of the oil.

According to the institute's figures, imports of petroleum (crude and refined oils) at the principal United States ports for the week ended July 15 totalled 2,631,000 barrels, a daily average of 375,857 barrels, compared with 2,747,029 barrels, a daily average of 392,432 barrels, for the week ended July 8.

COTTON COUNTY LEASES ACTIVE

Wildcatting May Be Resumed

A revival in wildcatting in the southern part of Cotton county, Oklahoma, where in 1920 some very interesting and encouraging tests were drilled, is promised from leading activity that is reported at the present time. Wichitans at various times have been interested extensively in leases in Cotton county, and are still interested, according to the reports.

The old 2,500-foot test drilled by G. A Dunn and associates in 1920 on the W. F. Johnson farm, on Cache creek, about nine miles south of Temple, was a very interesting test at the time it was drilled, and the showings reported in the 1800-foot level have been a big factor in the plans for reviving wildcatting in this section.

W. C. Thomas of Wichita Falls, the acquisition of the old Dunn leases, and it is understood that F. H. Hunter and M. C. Groseclose of Waurika, Okla., have completed blocking up acreage around the old test and are planning to start new drilling operations within 60 days time.

The Amerada Petroleum company, one of the largest independent concerns, which operates extensively in Oklahoma, is reported to have also secured a large amount of acreage in this part of the county and it is believed that they will also start operations within a few months.

A number of Wichitans are reported to have retained their old leases, and also to have obtained new holdings within the past few months in the south part of Cotton county.

Prairie Reduces Pipe Line Rates

Special to the Record News.

NEW YORK, July 20. — Prairie Pipe Line company will make a voluntary reduction of 12½ per cent on all pipe line rates, effective July 20, according to announcement here Wednesday. This reduction is made, the company says, to conform to the cheaper rail rates.

Approximately 200,000 barrels of crude oil are moved daily through the company's lines. Under the new tariff, crude oil will be moved from Kansas and North Oklahoma points to Atlantic coast refineries for 76¾ cents a barrel, compared with 87½ cents at present. From south Oklahoma and north Texas points to the Atlantic coast the price is $1.09½ a barrel, as compared with $1.25, the present rate.

The Illinois Pipe Line company, operating in the eastern fields, is expected to reduce its rates in conformity with this reduction.

Knights of Columbus Oath

There has been recently published in newspapers in this section and there has been circulated in Wichita Falls what has purported to be the oath of the Fourth Degree of the Knights of Columbus.

This purported oath is both fraudulent and malicious and is being published and circulated with the purpose of misinforming and misleading the people and inflaming prejudices and passions.

The actual and true oath of the Fourth Degree of the Knights of Columbus, as certified to by the Supreme Secretary and introduced in the case of Minnesota vs. A. M. Morrison and Garfield E. Morrison, tried at Waterville, Minn., Wednesday, July 29, 1914, an action of criminal libel involving the bogus oath, and as printed in the Congressional Record as follows:

The True Knights of Columbus Oath

"I swear to support the Constitution of the United States.

"I pledge my selself, as a Catholic citizen and Knight of Columbus, to enlighten myself fully upon my duties as a citizen and to conscientiously perform such duties entirely in the interest of my country and regardless of all personal consequences. I pledge myself to do all in my power to preserve the integrity and purity of the ballot, and to promote reverence and respect for law and order. I promise to practice my religion openly and consistently but without ostentation, and to so conduct myself in public affairs, and in the exercise of public virtue as to reflect nothing but credit upon our Holy Church, to the end that she may flourish and our country prosper to the greater honor and glory of God.

(Supreme Council Seal)

"A true copy. (Signed) "WM. J. M'GINLEY,
Attest. "Supreme Secretary."

Wherever the bogus oath has been published, attention has been called to the fact that it has been published in the Congressional Record. How it came to be published therein is fully explained by Hon. William Kettner, a member of congress from California and a 33rd degree Mason, in a speech delivered in congress and published in the Congressional Record, and which includes the report of a committee of prominent Masons of California who examined all the work, ceremonies and pledges of the Knights of Columbus. This report is as follows:

Report of Committee of Masons

October 9, 1914

We hereby certify that by authority of the highest officer of the Knights of Columbus in the State of California, who acted under instructions from the supreme officer of the order in the United States, we were furnished a complete copy of all the work, ceremonies, and pledges used by the order, and that we carefully read, discussed and examined the same. We found that while the order is in a sense a secret association, it is not an oath-bound organization, and that its ceremonies are comprised in four degrees, which are intended to teach and inculcate principles that lie at the foundation of every great religion and every free state. Our examination of these ceremonials and obligations was made primarily for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not a certain alleged oath of the Knights of Columbus, which was printed and widely circulated, was in fact used by the order, and whether if it was not used, any oath, obligation or pledge was used which was or would be offensive to Protestants or Masons, or those who are engaged in circulating a document of peculiar viciousness and wickedness. We find that neither the alleged oath nor any oath or pledge bearing the remotest resemblance thereto in matter, manner, spirit or purpose is used or forms a part of the ceremonies of any degree of the Knights of Columbus. The alleged oath is scurrilous, wicked and libelous, and must be the invention of an impious and venomous mind. We find that the order of Knights of Columbus, as shown by its rituals, is dedicated to the Catholic religion, charity and patriotism. There is no propaganda proposed or taught against Protestants or Masons or persons not of Catholic faith. Indeed, Protestants and Masons are not referred to directly or indirectly in the ceremonials and pledges. The ceremonials of the order teaches a high and noble patriotism, instills a love of country, inculcates a reverence for law and order, urges the conscientious and unselfish performance of civic duty, and holds up the constitution of our country as the richest and most precious possession of a knight of the order. We can find nothing in the entire ceremonials of the order that to our minds could be objected to by any person.

MOTLEY HEWES FLINT,
Thirty-third Degree Past Grand Master of Masons of California.
DANA REID WELLER,
Thirty-second Degree Past Grand Master of Masons of California.
WM. RHODES HERVEY,
Thirty-third Degree Past Master and Master of Scottish Rite Lodge
SAMUEL E. BURKE,
Thirty-second Degree Past Master and Inspector of Masonic Dist.

There is little that can be added to this plain reproduction of the pledge itself and to the testimony of the eminent high Masons of high degree. It ought to be unnecessary to have to print this. It is done in the hope that any who may have been misled and misinformed will know the truth and that better understanding which will promote Christian brotherhood and genuine Americanism will prevail.

SHOWDOWN NEARING

OFFICIAL Washington says a showdown in the mine strike is at hand. Official Washington says a show down in the rail strike is at hand. Official Washington says that President Harding virtually has ordered that coal be produced.

Official Washington says that the government is determined to furnish military protection, to the workers. Official Washington intimates that the regular army of the United States may be used to break the backbone of the coal strike as well as the backbone of the rail strike. Official Washington says that it is useless for the mines to produce coal unless there are cars available for the transportation of the coal from the mine to the consumer.

Official Washington privately admits it is practically impossible for enough coal to be mined even under troop protection to keep the country from experiencing an acute shortage this winter. It is not necessary for official Washington to tell the coal consumers of the United States that the pickings of the coal barons will be rich the coming winter. There is to be a fuel famine and the Harding administration was elected with the understanding that it would not be a price-fixing administration or an administration that would permit officious governmental interference with business.

It is said that all but three of the big coal mining operators of the country subscribed to the republican campaign fund two years ago and all but three of the big operators voted the republican ticket in that year. There were many democrats among them but they bolted the reservation. It is also said that the subscriptions made to the republican campaign fund have not been paid and they are not to be paid until the showdown has taken place and business relations have been re-established between the mine owners and their employes. Hell popped at an Illinois mine less than a month ago. Herrin won a place on the red map of the world.

Hell popped in West Virginia this week. Cliftonville won its place on the red map. Hell will pop in many places and with red results if something isn't done by the government to end the rail and the mine labor wars and this, too, in the near future.

WILD MEN DO WILD THINGS

REV. WILLIAM M. CULP of Ohio discovered that the wife of his bosom and the mother of his children was not a true christian and for this he eloped with a 16-year-old girl and together they fled to Wisconsin. There they were found by the sleuths of the law and returned to the Ohio city, where the preacher was sent to jail and the girl was returned to her parents.

He did not say the woman tempted him. He did say that his wife was a heretic, that she did not have the fear of God in her heart, that she refused to walk with him in the narrow road and accept his interpretation of the gospel. For this, he punished himself by eloping with a "chicken." It must be the July heat.

All the country over wild men and women are doing wild things. A Texas woman rusticating in Los Angeles became convinced without evidence that another very pretty woman was in love with her husband. She became a mobocrat at once. Arming herself with a hammer, she lured the object of her sinister designs to a lonely spot and hammered her head off. Gone are the good old days. If a man is a trifler now, he must be artistic to get by.

HEROES NOT FORGOTTEN

THERE were only 25 persons present at the American Legion banquet in the Kemp hotel Tuesday night and of the total number several were guests and not members of the legion.

What has become of the heroes of yesterday? Have they so far forgotten how they fought and sacrificed and bled together for the great cause that they no longer take time to come together even once a year to elect their officers and keep up the record? Somebody sarcastically remarked that perhaps the boys who made the sacrifice think the public has forgotten them so they might as well forget themselves. That is not so.

The glorious deeds the boys wrought over there are perpetuated to history and the American public has not forgotten, even though at times the public's memory may appear to be slightly blurred.

Open Letters
By Father Wichita

TO ALL AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS.

DEAR FOLKS:

Won't you please buy some automobile horns and use them. There are lots of little children and old folks who like to walk across the streets sometimes. As it is an able-bodied young man or woman are taking their lives in their hands to cross the streets of Wichita Falls. Please give this some thought.

FATHER WICHITA.

* * * *

TO THE CITY FATHERS.

GENTLEMEN, HOWDY:

When you decided at the last council meeting to look into the matter of paving more streets, you took a big step for progress. Wichita Falls is a fast growing city and you can't get too many good streets.

FATHER WICHITA.

TO THE WOMEN OF WICHITA.

DEAR WOMEN FOLKS:

I hear you are planning to play an active part the Texas-Oklahoma fair, and that you are working on some very interesting exhibits. Good work! That's what is going to make a success of the fair. It's going to be representative of all the people, and when we have a fair of that sort, it will be the sort of fair that everybody wants to come to.

FATHER WICHITA.

TO LON BYERS.

DEAR BYERS:

County farm agent Guy R. Jones told a Record News reporter that you had raised the best field of wheat he had seen this year, averaging 14 bushels an acre in a 500-acre field. Every man has an opportunity to succeed, and whether he raises the best field of wheat, the finest herd of steers or the biggest bank in his locality, he is doing his bit toward making that locality a bigger, better place to live. That's what you are doing.

FATHER WICHITA.

TO THE KIWANIS CLUB.

DEAR KIWANIANS:

Congratulations! I see by The Record News that you are planning to put more "pep" in your meetings with a singing program. It's a good idea. Men like to sing, and they'll do big things with a smile and a song that would look impossible without them.

FATHER WICHITA.

TO MR. AND MRS. VOTER.

TO THE FAIR OFFICIALS.

GENTLEMEN:

I see where you've booked Wortham shows for the fair. I saw them at the Dallas State fair and at the Texas Cotton Palace. They're good and will add spirit and attractions for your midway. Midways draw crowds. Looks to me like you're going to have a real exposition here.

READ LESS; THINK MORE

JUDGES C. F. GREENWOOD of Dallas in his Tuesday night speech supporting Clarence Ousley for the United States senate said "nearly everybody reads but might few people study."

Judge Greenwood's statement is true. The public of today, taken as a whole is content to read without studying. That is one reason why the public state of mind is no better informed. That is one reason why the famous Barnum remark still holds true.

If people who read nothing more than the daily papers would just study those papers as they read, they would be much better off. When a person reads the account of a tragedy, say a murder; they should not think that the paper publishes that account simply to satisfy somebody's desire for excitement. The story is published and the cause of the tragedy, wherever possible, is given that the public may meditate upon the causes and see what brings about such tragedies. If every time you read a news story you would study it out from the standpoint of cause and effect, figure out just why the incident mentioned in the story happened and what its effect is going to be then you will find yourself a much better informed citizen and one who is more capable of performing the service of a citizen than if you had never taken time to have studied your newspaper at all.

When they are dressed, it is hard to tell an old hen from a chicken. (Poultry item, not a fashion note).

Still, a public official is in no danger if he will be careful to remain neutral in the war between thugs and society.

Ludendorff insists the Germans were not beaten in the field. There is official data, however, to prove that they were beaten in the wind-up.

Rippling Rhymes

THE SUFFERERS.

Jim Beeswax has a grievous corn upon his snow-white toe and all day long his beard is torn, he rends it in his woe. And when I pause beside his gate to pass the time o' day, he rails against the bitter fate that tortures him this way. He speaks not of the lovely morn, of flowers that scent the gale, but gives the facts about his corn, to every last detail. He does not note the landscape wide, the waving fields of grain, but tells of plasters he has tried, which failed to ease his pain. John Dorking is a cheerful gent who lives next door to me; his form by rheumatix is bent, till it's a sight to see. All kinds of plain and fancy aches along his limbs career, and when from pain-racked dreams he wakes, he smiles from ear to ear. He likes to talk of pleasant things, of birds and buds and bees, and if the fragrant vine that clings to yonder pepper trees. He speaks of moonlight on the lakes ,of streams by sunshine kissed, and when I ask about his aches he says they don't exist. I dodge Jim Beeswax when I can, sidestep him every day, to visit with this breezy man who laughs his ills away.

BENTLY ADVOCATES SCHOOL PROGRAM

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, July 20.—A ten-year program for the schools of Texas was advocated by Ed R. Bentley, candidate for state superintendent of public instructions, in his speech here Thursday night. He declared the present system of making appropriations for two- year periods which applies to practically the entire educational system of the state, hampers the normal growth of each one because it makes it impossible for the school boards to carry out constructive planning.

4—Say "All yours!"

The Mucker
By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

green splotch upon the gray. "That's where they'd be havin' their village. I ain't never been up here so I ain't familiar with the country. You see we don't run no cattle this side the river—the Pimans won't let us. They don't care to have no white men pokin' around in their country; but I'll bet a hat we find a camp there."

Onward they rode toward the little spot of green. Sometimes it was in sight and again as they approached higherground, or wound through gullies and ravines it was lost to their sight; but always they kept it as their goal. The trail they were upon led to it—of that there could be no longer the slightest doubt. And as they rode with their destination in view black, beady eyes looked down upon them from the very green oasis toward which they urged their ponies—tiring now from the climb.

A lithe, brown body lay stretched comfortably upon a bed of grasses at the edge of a little rise of ground beneath which the riders must pass before they came to the cluster of huts which squatted in a tidy natural park at the foot of the main peak. Far above the watcher a spring of clear, pure water bubbled out of the mountain-side, and running downward formed little pools among the rocks which held it. And with this water the Pimans irrigated their small fields before it sank from sight again into the earth just below their village. Beside the brown body lay a long rifle. The man's eyes watched, unblinking, the two specks far below him whom he knew and had known for an hour were gringos.

Another brown body wormed itself forward to his side and peered over the edge of the declivity down upon the white men. He spoke a few words in a whisper to him who whatched with the rifle, and then crawled back again and disappeared. And all the while, on ward and upward came Billy Byrne and Eddie Shorter, each knowing in his heart that if not already, then at any moment a watcher would discover them and a little later a bullet would fly that would find one of them, and they took the chance for the sake of the American girl who lay hidden somewhere in these hills, for in no other way could they locate her hiding place more quickly. Any one of the other eight Americans who rode in pairs into the hills at other points and his companion would have and was even cheerfully taking the same chances that Eddie and Billy took, only the latter were now assured that to one of them would fall the sacrifice, for as they had come closer Eddie had seen a thin wreath of smoke rising from among the trees of the oasis. Now, indeed, were they sure that they had chanced upon the trail of Piman village.

"We gotta keep our eyes peeled," said Eddie, as they wound into a ravine which from its location evidently led directly up to the village. "We ain't far from 'em now, an' if they get us they'll get us about here."

As though to punctuate his speech with the final period a rifle cracked above them. Eddie jumped spasmodically and clutched his breast.

"I'm hit," he said, quite unemotionally.

Billy Byrne's revolver had answered the shot from above them, the bullet striking where Billy had seen a puff of smoke following the rifle shot. Then Billy turned toward Eddie.

"Hit bad?" he asked.

"Yep, I guess so," said Eddie. "What'll we do? Hide up here, or ride back after the others?"

Another shot rang out above them, although Billy had been watching for a target at which to shoot again—a target which he had been positive he would get when the man rose to fire again. And Billy did see the fellow at last—a few paces from where he had first fired; but not until the other had dropped Eddie's horse beneath him. Byrne fired again, and this time he had the satisfaction of seeing a brown body rise, struggle a moment, and then roll over once upon the grass before it came to rest.

"I reckon we'll stay here," said Billy, looking ruefully at Eddie's horse.

The latter rose and as he did so he staggered and grew very white. Billy dismounting and ran forward, putting a strong arm about him. Another shot came above and Billy Byrne's pony grunted and collapsed.

"Hello"! exclaimed Byrne. "We gotta get out of this," and lifting his wounded comrade to his arms he ran for the shelter of the bluff from the summit of which the snipers had fired upon them. Close in, lugging the face o fthe perpendicular wall of tumbled rock and earth, they were out of range of the Indians; but Billy did not stop when he had reached temporary safety. Farther up toward the direction in which lay the village, and halfway up the side of the bluff Billy saw what he took to be excellent shelter. Here the face of the bluff was less steep and upon it lay a number of large bowlders, while others protruded from the ground about them.

Toward these Billy made his way. The wounded man across his shoulder was sufering indescribable agonies; but he bit his lip and stifled the cries that each step his comrade took seemed to wrench from him, lest he attract the enemy to their position.

Above them all was silence, yet Billy knew that alret, red foemen were creeping to the edge of the bluff in search of their prey. If he could reach the shelter of the bowlders before the Pimans discovered them!

The minutes that were consumed in covering the hundred yards seemed as many hours to Billy Byrne; but at last he dragged the fainting cowboy between two large bowlders close under the edge of the bluff and found himself in a little, natural fortress, well adapted to defense.

From above, they were protected from the fire of the Indians upon the bluff by the height of the bowlder at the foot of which they lay, while another just in front hid them from possible marksmen across the canyon.

Smaller rocks scattered about gave promise of shelter from flank fire, and as soon as he had deposited Eddie in the comparative safety of their retreat, Byrne commenced forming a low breastwork upon the side facing the village—the direction from which they might naturally expect attack. This done he turned his attention to the opening upon the opposite side and soon had a similar defense constructed there, then he turned his attention to Eddie; though keeping a watchful eye upon both approaches to their stronghold.

The Kansan lay upon his side, moaning. Blood stained his lips and nostrils, and when Billy Byrne opened his shirt and found a gaping wound in his right breast he knew how serious was his companion's injury. As he felt Billy working over him the boy opened his eyes.

"Do you think I'm done for?" he asked in a tortured whisper.

"Nothin' doin'," lied Billy cheerfully. "Just a scratch. You'll be all right in a day or two."

Eddie shook his head wearily. "I wish I could believe you," he said. "I ben figgerin' on goin' back to see maw. I ain't thought o' nothin' else since you told me 'bout how she missed me. I ken see her right now just like I was there. I'll bet she's scrubbin' the kitchen floor. Maw was always a'scrubbin something. Gee! but it's tough to cash in like this just when I was figgerin' on goin' home."

Billy couldn't think of anything to say. He turned to look and down the canyon in search of the enemy.

"Honie!" whispered Eddie. "Home!"

"Aw, shucks!" said Billy kindly. "You'll get home all right, kid. The boys must a-heard the shootin' an' they'll be along in no time now. Then we'll clean up this bunch o' coons an' have you back to El Orobo an' nursed into shape in no time."

Eddied tried to smile as he looked up into the others' face. He reached a hand out and laid it on Billy's arm.

"You're all right, old man," he whispered, "I know you're lyin' an' so do you; but it makes me feel better anyway to have you say them things."

Billy felt as one who has been caught stealing from a blind man. The only adequate reply of which he could think was, "Aw, shucks!"

"Say," said Eddie after a moment's silence, "if you get out o' here an' ever go back to the States promise me you'll look up maw and paw an' tell 'em I was comin' home—to stay. Tell 'em I died decent, too, will you—died like paw was always a-tellin' me my granddad died, fightin' Injuns 'round Fort Dodge somewheres."

"Sure," said Billy; "I'll tell 'em. Gee! Look who's comin' here," and as he spoke he flattened himself to the ground just as a bullet ... against the rock above his head and the report of a rifle sounded from the canyon. "That guy most got me. I'll have to be 'tendin' to business better'n this."

He drew himself slowly up upon his elbows, his carbine ready in his hand, and peered through a small aperture between two of the rocks which composed his breastwork. Then he stuck the muzzle of the weapon through, took aim and pulled the trigger.

"Didje get him?" asked Eddie.

"Yep," said Billy, and fired again. Got that one too. Say, they're tough-lookin' guys; but I guess they won't come so fast next time. Those two were right in the open, workin' up to us on their bellies. They must a-thought we was sleepin'."

For an hour Billy neither saw nor heard any sign of the enemy, though several times he raised his hat above the breastwork upon the muzzle of his carbine to draw their fire.

It was mid-afternoon when the sound of distant fire came faintly to the ears of the two men from somewhere far below them.

"The boys must be comin'," whispered Eddie Shorter hopefully.

For half an hour the firing continued and then silence again fell upon the mountains. Eddie began to wander mentally. He talked much of Kansas and his old home, and many times he begged for water.

"Buck up, kid," said Billy; "the boys'll be along in a minute now an' then we'll get you all the water you want."

But the boys did not come. Billy was standing up now, stretching his legs, and searching up and down the canyon for Indians. He was wondering if he could chance making a break for the valley where they stood some slight chance of meeting with their companions, and even as he considered the matter seriously there came a staccato report and Billy Byrne fell forward in a heap.

"God!" cried Eddie. "They got him now, they got him."

Byrne stirred and struggled to rise. "Likell they got me," he said, and staggered to his knees.

Over the breastwork he saw a half-dozen Indians running rapidly toward the shelter—he saw them in a haze of red that was caused not by anger. With an oath Billy Byrne leaped to his feet. From his knees up his whole body was exposed to the enemy; but Billy cared not. He was in a berserker rage. Whipping his carbine to his shoulder he let drive at the advancing Indians who were now beyond hope of cover. They must come on or be shot down where they were, so they came on, yelling like devils and stopping momentarily to fire upon the rash white man who stood so perfect a target before them.

Friends of little Miss Elizabeth Buster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Buster, assisted her in celebrating her fifth birthday at her home Wednesday afternoon when games furnished diversion. The table where refreshments were served the small folk, was beautifully decorated with pink and white roses and with streamers hanging from the chandeliers down to the snow white luncheon cloth. Pink baskets filled with shasta daisies were favors, and an attractive birthday cake lighted with five little candles furnished the center piece. Pink and white ice cream was served with the cake. TODAY'S POEM

THE TRUE VACATIONIST

Who loves to see eve's advent, never takes
Luxuries motor car as a guide
And forms one of that smoothly rolling tide
That oversweeps our land; but he forsakes
The polished roads and many peopled lakes
To find a grassy stretch, both green and wide,
Before a grove or by a gray brook's side,
Where for his pacing slow, a terrace makes.
Thence looks he all about with reverent eyes,
And watches what transpires in the bright West,
What glory in the zenith pales and dies,
The long fields, ruhtling, blend in darkened rest;
And from their deeps come forth a thousand sighs
That to his hearing only, seem addressed.

DUCK—? SHOWS UP IN HAWAII

(By International News Service)

HONOLULU, T. H., July 19.—A duck-billed platypus, the first of its kind to be landed alive on American soil, has recently been imported from Australia and may become a part of the zoological collection now maintained by the city of Honolulu.

The duck-billed platypus is in appearance of a cross between a duck and a beaver. It lays eggs, but suckles its young.

Previous attempts to establish the platypus north of the equator have failed, making the proposition a risky one, particularly as the price asked for the bird-animal is $5,000.

BLACK BEAR WHIPS COW IN BATTLE

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., July 19.—A black bear that weighed 350 pounds and a cow in a pasture on North Mountain battled half an hour in a terrific fight. The bear won. Then William Temple killed the bear. Temple, with a keen regard for the law, reported the fact he had killed the bear to the county game warden, because it was the closed season on bears. As there were "extenuating circumstances," the warden absolved Temple.

WAR ON WOOD WASTE

WASHINGTON, July 22.—A vigorous campaign to reduce wood waste in the United States has been launched by the Department of Agriculture.

"Only 30 per cent of the wood in a forest now gets into the form of seasoned, unplaned lumbers," the department said, in announcing it would wage war upon the tremendous waste of lumber. "Of this an additional 10 to 25 per cent is lost in the process of manufacture. In extreme cases as little as 3 per cent of the wood in the forest may reach the finished product."

FASHIONS

Practical Negligee of Crepe de Chine

Entirely of crepe de chine is the graceful aand distinctly practical negligee show in the sketch. It is a slip-over, aand the yoke and long wing sleeves are cut in one. The lower part of the negligee is attached to the yoke by a row of wide hemstitching or drawn work and it is laid in clusters of small flat pleats. Fine embroidery and drawn work embellish the yoke. This negligee was displayed in white and several pastel shades, but it would make a very nuactical Pullman robe if developed in a dark color. The slip-over type of negligee is ideal for this purpose, and the one illustrated is rather better than the average plain slip-over, the yoke with gathered on lower section giving it a pleasing fullness and width.

Pongee either in natural color or dyed, makes a very good looking and serviceable negligee and this material might be used for the one illustrated, a bit of embroidery in self or contrasting color constituting the trimming.

Lace plays a very important role in the development of the more elaborate boudoir garments. Sometimes a lace coat will top a plain slip or pajamas of silk, and again a straight, chemise like negligee may be made of panels of lace and panels of accordion pleated chiffon or other sheer silk.

Boudoir garments for warm weather wear are also made of dotted Swiss, bright-flowered organdy and other sheer cotton and linen materials. An attractive pajama garment recently seen featured blue linen for the pajama part with long smock of blue and white dotted Swiss.

Little Stories For Bedtime

JENNY WREN FINDS OUT WHO THE STRANGER IS.

When our little Jenny Wren announced that she was going to find out who the stranger in the Old Orchard was no one doubted for a minute that she would do it. Jenny is a great gossip and very fond of prying into the affairs of other people. And she isn't at all bashful about it. Now she wasted no time, but flew straight over the old apple tree in the far corner, which the stranger seemed to be busily inspecting.

"Good morning," said Jenny Wren in the pert way which is all her own. "You seem to be a stranger in the Old Orchard."

"More of a stranger now than I will be by and by. I've decided to stay," replied the new-comer rudely.

"Do you mean that you are going to make your home here," asked Jenny.

"I said that I am going to stay. If I stay it is likely that I will make my home here, isn't it?" retorted the stranger. He spoke in a loud, unpleasant voice and it made Jenny feel very uncomfortable.

"Oh, of course. Why certainly. Of course," replied Jenny hurriedly. "You see your coming among us has been so sudden and unexpected that we—"

"You're the fussy little person who has that snug, little home over in the middle of the Orchard, aren't you?" interrupted the other. "I like the looks of that house first rate. If the doorway wasn't so small I think it would suit me fine."

Jenny Wren gasped. The idea that any one, let alone a perfect stranger, should talk as if he would take her house whether she was willing to give it up or not.

"You—you—" she began to sputter.

"Oh, don't bother," the stranger once more interrupted. "You needn't worry. The doorway is altogether too small and so I won't trouble you to move out.

"Besides, there are two or three other houses that will do quite as well. I haven't decided yet which one I will take. I want to look around a little more and then will make up my mind."

For a minute or two Jenny Wren was quite speechless. When at last she found her voice she said meekly, "I suppose you mean one of those empty houses. There are several good ones that Drummer the woodpecker has made and which no one is using now."

"Who said anything about empty houses?" demanded the stranger in his loud, unpleasant voice. "When I decide which one I want it won't make any difference to me whether or not it is empty. When I see a thing I want I take it. That is the only way to get on in this world."

It seemed to Jenny Wren that she couldn't believe her own ears. Never before had any one talked like that in the Old Orchard. She just didn't know what to say and when Jenny Wren doesn't know what to say she is very much upset indeed. At last she remembered what she had come for.

"My name is Jenny Wren," said she. "I suppose if you are going to live in the Old Orchard we ought to be acquainted. Do you mind telling me who you are and where you come from?"

"I don't know that it is any of your business, but I'm not ashamed of my name. It's Bully, that's what it is," retorted the stranger as rudely as before. "My name's Bully and I've come out from the city for a change of air. I belong to the Sparrow family and my ancestors (he meant his great-great-ever-so-great-grandparents) came over from a place called England. Now if you've found out all you want to know suppose you leave me alone. I'm busy."

It is simplicity in the extreme but very attractive for who desires to get away from the flapper styles.

Giants Lambast Perdue in Fifth and Grab Third Game

SPUDS TAKE EARLY LEAD BUT MITCHELL TIGHTENS UP WHEN MATES DRIVE FIVE RUNS ACROSS

Beck's 12th Homer Comes in Fourth; Dallas Runners Steal Five Bases in One Round; Five Hits Total Spudder Stick Work; Wheeler Effective After Perdue Goes Out.

DALLAS, July 20.—The Spudders started strong today and gave Perdue a lead of three runs in the first four innings, but he weakened in the fifth and a series of hits and stolen bases netted five markers for a 6-3 victory, the second win of the series for Dallas.

Beck hit his twelfth home run in the fourth inning with the bases empty. He was the only member of the visitor to solve Mitchell's delivery to any extent. Only five hits were chalked up by the Spudders and of these, Beck got two.

Mitchell showed excellent form throughout and was effective all the way. He fanned three hitters and allowed but one pass. Mainly through his work, the Spudders had but four runners left on base, while the Giants bit when needed and left but five runners stranded.

Adams was the fielding star of the day and accepted 11 chances without a bobble, including one double play. He repeatedly pulled down drives that appeared hits, or threw out runners after they looked sure to beat the throw.

The Giants ran wild on bases in the fifth, which coupled with timely hitting was responsible for their runs. In a single inning, Massey, Shields, Segrist, Galloway and Donohue stole second after driving out singles.

Segrist had a perfect day at the plate and drove out four singles in as many times at bat. His hitting was the feature of the day.

Only three hitters flew out to the Spudder outfield, each gardner getting one put-out, but Beck had plenty to do at first, and retired 13 runners at the first station aided by fast fielding by Adams and White.

Each team turned in a double play, Massey and Galloway turning the trick for Dallas while White and Adams to Beck spelled two deaths for Dallas.

The final game of the series will be played tomorrow. The Spudders then return home for the invasion of the Southern clubs which will be extended well into August for the north Texas clubs.

SHUT OUT KING AND HIS RIVALS

King Walter, above at left, and his nearest rivals: Babe Adams, upper center: George Tyler, right. Below: Jim Vaughn, center, and Grover Alexander.

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Walter Johnson, called turough by for years, wielded the most wicked whitewash brush in the big leagues today.

Not only that, but when King Walter does lay aside his glove he will have set a big league record for shutout victories in a single career that probably will remain unbeaten for many years.

When Johnson flung his third consecutive shutout victory recently, he rang up the ninety-seventh for his big league career. The only man in either circuit who now threatens this record is Grover Alexander. This veteran has but eighty. Should Johnson fail to hurl any more runless games it would be a hurculean task for Alexander to equal Johnson's record considering Alexander's age.

Babe Adams, brilliant star that he has been, had fortythree whitewashing feats to his credit when the current season began. Jim Vaughn and George Tyler, two other vets, are flirting with third honors, ranking close to the Pirate flinger.

The wonderful whitewashing record of Johnson can be better appreciated when it is pointed out that other hurling stars of today, including Stanley Coveleskie, Joe Bush, Bob Shawkey and Carl Mays, have hurled less than thirty runless games in their careers to date.

Johnson's recent brilliant work has also carried him to the heights of baseball to which but a few have ascended. He now boasts of a winning average of over .600 for his entire career. When he completed that little whitewash job the other day, he had won 327 games and lost but 217, a percentage of .601.

FAST PLAY IS FEATURE OF TOURNEY

Net Stars Showing Lots of Class

By "DON" WELDON

The second day of the Record News annual tennis tournament closed with all but one match played as scheduled. The first games in the doubles were played and showed some snappy matches, with the contestants putting up their best games.

In the singles Tatum forfeited to Haynes, Enlow and Gordon agreed to play their games Friday morning to enable Gordon to participate in the doubles.

With both teams putting up play that would do credit to professionals Myres and Formeigle defeated Hines and Haynes 8-6, 6-1. The play was not as one-sided as the games would indicate as the high school lads put up a game fight the whole time and were defeated only after the best match that has been seen in Wichita in many a day, had been staged. The breaks of the game seemed to go against the younger players, while the playing of their opponents was irresistable.

Enlow and Denny went out of the first round matches 6-2 and 6-3, when Bebb and Ellis took them in, at the refinery court. As has been the case in all the matches of the tourney thus far, the games were fought all the way, and superior playing alone decided the winners.

Sheldon and Ferguson defeated Gordon and Kirkpatrick 6-2, 7-5. The match was somewhat onesided in the first set, but in the second the losers tightened up and put up a good game. Sheldon and Kirkpatrick are more or less dark horses in tennis circles, neither having entered the tournaments before, and aroused great interest in their games. With such new entries and with Hines and Haynes upsetting the dope by dropping out so early, the outcome is at least very doubtful. No one will risk a guess at the winners with such surprises.

The play is drawing more interest every day and the contestants are zealously practicing to be ready for their matches. There is no outstanding figure in the play and all the

The finals in the doubles will be played at the courts on Thirteenth street Sunday afternoon at 4:30. Semi-finals will be played Friday or Saturday and all other games will be called off Sunday at this time to enable the players to witness the contests which will decide the winners of the loving cups. The singles will probably end Tuesday. Before this time the trophies will arrive and will be on display at Collier and Landon's store.

Play for the consolation prize will begin Saturday afternoon. This will be a tennis racquet donated by a local business house. The drawings for play for the consolation will be announced in Saturday's Record News.

Only games in the singles will be played today. The pairings, Hamilton and Tinker, Thirteenth street; Siberman and Kadane, Thirteenth street; Beck and Parks, park; Angle and Denn— park. All games will be played at 5:30.

SPUDDER BOSSES TRYING TO BRING TEAM UP TO WINNING FORM, BUT HURLERS BALK

Freeman Has Not Yet Jumped Organized Ball And May Come Through Yet; Holly Reported in Trade to Minneapolis; Flaherty Comes to Terms; Ramsey to Be Recalled.

By "SPIKE" COOPER

"What is the status of the Spudder hurling staff?"

This question or one similar in intent is propounded many times daily amongst the fans of Wichita Falls.

And the peculiar part of it is, no one seems to know. Even the moguls themselves are at loss to answer definitely.

Two weeks ago the announcement was made that Alex Freeman had been released to the Spudders by the Chicago Cubs as part payment for "Shorty" Adams. With the announcement made public July 7, fans and heads of the team began expecting Freeman within a couple of days thereafter. They waited and waited, then grew impatient.

Has Freeman Jumped

Tuesday, the Chicago Tribune carried a story to the effect that Alex Freeman had jumped organized baseball. True enough, Freeman had demanded a far larger salary than Class A clubs can pay, but with transportation offered for both the hurler and his wife, together with an attractive offer, President Harvey thought he would come through all right, but so far he has not arrived. A message received from President Veeck of the Cubs yesterday stated that rumors of Freeman's appearance in semi-pro games had not been substantiated, but a conference with the hurler in question revealed the fact that he had pitched one game for a bunch of high school boys. Veeck reasoned with Freeman and tried to show him the "error of his way," and he left the office in a questionable mood, but Mr. Veeck felt that the would likely come through and not shatter his prospective career forever. Messages to both Freeman and Veeck from R. C. Harvey stated yesterday that if the youngster would come ahead and show his stuff, no action for his breach of contract would be taken up with higher authorities. At a late hour last night no answer had been received. He may decide to come through yet.

Holly to Minneapolis

Press reports Thursday morning carried a story to the effect that Hollingsworth had been traded to Minneapolis for "Reb" Russell. Closely on the heels of that story came a message from Pittsburgh that Hollingsworth had flatly refused to report to the Wichita Falls team as per the agreement of President Dreyfuss.

Last week a rush call for Jake Miller was received here from the Pittsburgh club. At the same time it was emphatically stated that Holly would be sent here as part payment, with nothing said about waivers. He was to be sent, and with the same dispatch that Miller was sent from here. One day notice was all the Spudders had and they came through. After waiting for several days with no news of Holly, Harvey wired him and offered to make up any difference personally, that might exist, be it financial, physical, mental or moral, so to speak, so strong was the appeal. Yet he flatly refused to come and ignored the message wholly.

Miller's Case Question

When Dreyfuss wired Prexy Harvey of Holly's decision, there was nothing said about payment for Miller, nor was anything said about sending another hurler instead of the one promised. Immediately the wires carried a mandatory reply, demanding a hurler of equal ability or cash in proportion that some valuable member might be added immediately. No answer had been received late last night and whether or not the Pirates will forward some hurler is not known. President Harvey did not know what to expect but thought possibly Minneapolis might be going to furnish a hurler to the club but that is merely a surmise.

Flaherty Comes Through

A telephone conversation with Boss Salm Thursday afternoon brought the report that Pat Flaherty former Shreveport hurler who was obtained from Shreveport last week would report tonight in Dallas. He also indicated that "Jumbo" Ramsey would be recalled from Bonham. The Bonham team went "flooey" yesterday in Corsicana, and Ramsey could be called in on a few hours' notice. Many fans and also club owners feel that Jumbo can win, since his arm is in shape. He will strengthen the staff considerably.

Keene Suffers Injury

Keene is out for a few days waiting for a new nail on one of his toes. The accident which deprived him of the use of his foot happened on the opening day of the series in Dallas. In some manner Keene's foot became caught in a street car and the injury resulted.

Spudder scouts are out looking over a couple of youngsters in neighboring leagues and possibly additions will be made from there.

The team heads have done everything possible to add a couple of hurlers to carry the team to the pennant. They have been crossed, duped and set back repeatedly, through no fault of their own. They've fought for what the fans demand, and repeatedly thought it obtained, but to no avail.

The season's not over yet, and there's still time to get over the hill. Somebody's liable to show at any time that will be the very personage wanted.

SWATTERS TO STAY TILL SEASON ENDS

By Associated Press.

ABILENE, July 20.—The Sweetwater team of the West Texas league will stay in until the season is played out, it was decided at a meeting yesterday, league president, Gordon W. Northern, announced here this morning. Sweetwater fans raised $420 cash to cover a salary deficit, and arrangements were made to finance the team the balance of the season.

Different Strokes for Different Plays Is Third Lesson for Novice

By DON WELDON.

There are so many different strokes used in tennis that it would be impossible to give each a complete description. However, the fundamental points will be discussed. In making the forehand stroke there are two styles of delivering the ball—off the ground as the ball drops, and at the top of the bound.

In making the first stroke the player should be three or four feet back of the place where the ball strikes, coming forward a step or two when about to strike the ball. Never come upon the ball with a rush but try to have the same action of arm and body as the ball is hit, bringing the racket with a rising motion and the arm well out from the side of the body.

Although more speed can be accomplished with the stroke at the top of the bound one is apt to be more erratic. Keep the arm out from the body at all times and strike the ball as it hesitates at the top of the bound. This stroke is especially valuable when your opponent is at the net.

The volley is one of the most important strokes in modern tennis, and a player to be successful must know how to volley well. There are two styles of volleying, the backhand and the forehand.

In striking the ball in the backhand volley the weight is thrown from the left foot to the right, with the body coming forward and the racket coming through with a gradual motion. The volley is easiest when played about shoulder high and this should be taken into consideration when trying to pass a volleyer.

The forehand volley is much the same as the backhand except that the weight is shifted from the right foot to the left. In making a volley knee high, the stroke will need to be twisted with a wrist motion to raise the ball over the net and bring it down inside the court.

In volleying a ball waist high a player should lean well forward with the weight of the body on the right foot and the head of the racket above the hand. A side step will put the ball in position for play at the side of the body.

Rule 4: The players shall be on opposite sides sides of the net; the player who first delivers the ball shall be called the server, and the other the receiver.

Case 2: A player returns the ball, and finding that he cannot stop himself before reaching the net, jumps over it. Is it a good return?

Decision: No. The player invading the opponent's court loses the stroke.

Case 3: A player hits the ball, returning it, and in doing so throws his racket into his opponent's court. Is the return good?

Decision: No. By throwing his racket across the net he invaded his opponent's court and lost the point.

Tennis Terms.

Base line: The back line at either end of the court.

Permanent fixtures: The umpire, linesmen and spectators, and their chairs and stands net, posts, back and side-stops, and any other objects on or around the court.

RANGER-SAN ANGELO GAME TO BE REPLAYED

Special to the Record News.

SAN ANGELO, July 20. — The game of baseball between the Ranger and San Angelo team played here July 8 when the locals got the big end of a 3 to 2 score and Ranger protested, must be played over. Such is the decision of President Northern of the West Texas league. The president held that Umpire Jones, then officiating, errored in calling a runner to second base out when the batter interfered when he should have called the batsman out. The game, therefore, should be stricken from the standings of the clubs, he declared. The play-off will be sometime in August.

Senator Defends Merchant Marine

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 20. — The administration merchant marine bill was declared by Senator Ransdell, democrat, Louisiana, speaking today in the senate to be the "most important measure of selfdefense ever presented to the American congress, while a vote against it, he said, "is a vote to aid Great Britain to injure the United States."

The Louisiana senator reviewed charges of British opposition to the bill and read voluminous statements from British newspapers and from heads of British commercial and shipping organizations attacking it as inimical to British interests. He declared the bellicose tone which he saw in some of them.

STOCKS FALL AFTER GAINING

Traders Are Showing More Caution

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The stock market was firm to strong during the first half of today's fairly active session but developed irregular tendencies later on renewed selling of prominent specialties, including the motors.

Traders for the long account showed greater caution as a result of the less favorable aspects of the coal and railroad strikes, although shares of those descriptions were well supported.

Offerings of automobile issues were attended by rumors dealing with the financial status of several of the prominent companies, but general conditions in the motor trade were declared favorable.

Steels Stimulated.

Washington advices intimating that the federal trade commission is likely to announce formal approval of the Republic-Midvale-Nnternational merger stimulated further buying of secondary steels and United States steel established a new quotation for the current movement.

Changing among equipments, coppers, textiles, rubbers and chemicals ranged from 1 to 2 points at best but these were much impaired or entirely cancelled in the liquidation of the final hour when Pierce Arrow preferred, and Studebaker, led the reaction.

Mexpet Gains.

From its extreme rise of 6 points to a level of 21 points above the recent low, Mexican petroleum fell back sharply, making a net gain of 1½ points. Republic iron was the only stock of its particular type to retain much of its advance in the reversal, rails also yielding.

Sales amounted to 725,000 shares.

EXPORT BUYING BOOSTS WHEAT

Europe Purchasers Very Active

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 20.—Big export buying together with diminished prospect of settling the railroad strike, gave a new skyward start to prices for wheat. The market closed firm, 1-2 to 1 1-4 cent net higher with September $1.12 to $1.12 1-8 and December $1.13 3-4 to 7-8. Corn finished at unchanged figures to quarter cent gain, oats at 1-4c off to a shade advance and provisions showing a rise of 2 1-2 to 17c.

Export buying of wheat was estimated as reaching fully two million bushels, although it was after midday before signs of any unusual purchasing for Europe developed. Earlier the bulls had their eyes chiefly on the strike situation as a move for higher prices. In this connection, significance was attached to messages from the southwest complaining of inability to get cars to move new wheat that had been sold by farmers.

Corn was again in good request for export, but less so than on yesterday, and some houses said country offerings to arrive were larger. Trade in oats lacked volume. Provisions were firm in line with hogs and as a result of improved export inquiry.

BUREAU SAVES FARMERS CASH

Interest Rates Are Lowered

Special to the Record News.

DALLAS, July 20.—Members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association have been saved nearly all the interest they formerly paid for the use of money borrowed on their cotton, through the careful financial operation of the association.

Figures just compiled by the accounting department show that the average charge per bale for interest, to the members who asked for an advance on his cotton and for whom the money was borrowed and paid over, was approximately fifty cents per bale for the year.

The other side is equally interesting. The member who did not ask for an advance, and for whom no money was borrowed, of course was not charged with interest, but was actually paid an average of $1.00 per bale interest.

When the association began business, it paid as high as 8 per cent interest for money to make advances. Later this rate was reduced to 7 per cent, then 6, and later, through financing, reduced to 5 per cent.

As cotton was sold, these loans were paid and interest stopped. Along in the season, the association had funds on hand, derived from the sale of cotton, all of which could not be distributed at the time because the classing was not completed and the pools not closed. These funds, together with reserves, were loaned to members, thus reducing the borrowing from banks.

NEW YORK BONDS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 20.—United States war loans again dominated the bond market today, new high records being established by liberty first 4 1-4s at $101.26; third 4 1-4s at $100.70 and fourth 4 1-4s at $101.24.

These gains were the more striking because of the irregularity and occasional heaviness manifested by several of the foreign issues. Mexican governments 5s fell 1½ points and Cuban republics 5s lost 1 point with narrow changes, mostly lower in the European division. The one noteworthy exception was city of Berne 8s which gained 1½ points.

West Texas Farm Exhibits Will Be Taken to 5 Fairs

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, July 20. — D. M. Whitaker, exhibit manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will shortly begin collecting agricultural exhibits for the Texas-Oklahoma fair at Wichita Falls, the West Texas fair at Abilene, the State fair at Dallas, the Cotton Palace at Waco and the South Texas fair at Houston. Likewise arrangements are being made for the carrying of a large comprehensive exhibit through the nort hand east visitnig the big state and interstate fairs, which, as a rule, are held earlier than the fairs in Dixie.

LACK OF RAIN DAMAGING CROPS

Special to the Record News.

STAMFORD, July 20.—The excessively warm weather of the last ten days has been damaging late feedstuffs in several parts of West Texas, according to reports sent the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Cotton, however, has not yet begun to need moisture, but another week of dry weather with hot winds will materially change the status of the crop over this territory. However, without further rain the crop will be much larger than it was last season, according to reports reaching here.

HOT WEATHER HELPS COTTON

Declines Followed by Advance

By Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, July 20. — Dry and hot weather in the western belt and heavy rains in the eastern belt, were the main supporting influences in the cotton market today and kept prices at small net gains during most of the session, following declines of 12 to 15 points under yesterday's close by the most active months on the opening call. These declines were only momentary and October quickly rose to 21.98 after trading down to 21.72. Highest prices came late in in the day when the list showed net gains of 18 to 21 points, October touching 22. The close was typical of a good part of the session, the list standing 3 points to 10 points up, compared with the final quotations of yesterday. October closed at 21.86.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 20.—Numerous crop and weather complaints from from practically all parts of the belt failed to have more than a moderate effect upon the cotton market today. The highest levels reached by active positions were about 18 to 22 points above the previous night, with October selling at 22.54 and December at 22.44, while the close was barely steady at a net advance of 2 to 22 points.

The opening was steady with prices 3 points lower to 1 point higher and trade rather small.

Throughout the day, room trades were against the market, acting on the theory that crop damage news was exaggerated. At one time they sold October down to 22.30, or 6 points under the previous night, from which it had a jump of 24 points in the afternoon. The check to rail strike negotiations and the absence of trade demand in any volume aided the bears to some extent, but their operations all day lacked aggressiveness and short sales were covered quickly on the appearance of any bull news. The weather appeared to be unfavorable all over the belt, as western sections had further heavy rains while the southwest was dry again. The prevailing opinion today was that the government bureau would show a crop condition of between 74 and 75. A figure under 73, they felt, would be bullish, in favor of the weevil possibilities. Exports today 6,794, making 5,070,123 so far this season. Port receipts 3,695. United States port stocks 546,535.

RURAL DELIVERY TO HELP MORE FARMERS

Special to The Record News.

SWEETWATER, July 20—By arrangements of the Star mail route from this city to Nolen, 40 additional families are to be provided with rural postal delivery if the plan of Postmaster Howard works out. At present the route taker makes delivery going down to Nolen and returns without making another delivery. By changing the route on his return the 40 families will be served. Congressman Thomas L. Blanton will aid in the matter, he told Postmaster Howard a few days ago.

Virtue is its own reward, while vice gets all the publicity.

Youngblood Will Go to Taft Ranch

Special to the Record News.

COLLEGE STATION, July 20.—Dr. B. Youngblood, director of the Texas agricultural experiment station A. & M. College, announced today his receipt and acceptance of the resignation of Mr. C. H. McDowell as superintendent of sub-station No. 6, Denton, Texas, who has accepted a position with the Taft ranch at Sinton, Texas, as superintendent of farms and seed breeding improvement work.

The new position, besides carrying a salary very greatly in excess of that available for the position Mr. McDowell has held with the Texas station, offers very wide latitude for scientific achievement. The Taft ranch management is known for its progressiveness and financial strength and its decision to embark in extensive seed breeding work under the direction of a capable scientist, augurs well for Texas agriculture.

CHARLES AUSTIN BATES SAID—

"Advertising Is Merely Asking for Trade"

A great many merchants cut down their advertising in the summer. Some even stop it altogether.

In everyday life, when a thing is hard to do, it only calls forth greater effort. If the laborer can't move the stone, he gets a crowbar and a block of wood. He makes a lever—and the stone moves. If the crowbar isn't long enough he gets something longer. He doesn't give up, because the stone has got to be moved.

Same way in business. Trade is a stone. The funny thing is that the lighter it gets, the harder it is to move. It can be moved, though. You may have to have the lever lengthened. Certainly you ought not to shorten it. The best business lever is advertising—newspaper advertising is the longest lever and the quickest to move trade.

Dull times are the times to put forth the greatest effort and the most money. People don't usually ask for what they have already. Advertising is merely asking for trade. When the store is full every day, cut down your space. Don't expect that you will get a big trade in dull times, but keep count, and you will find that the advertising was profitable. Profitable right at the time, and enormously profitable after a while. The very fact that only a few merchants are wise enough to advertise in dull seasons makes it all the more profitable for those who do. You are there when others are not. It gives you greater prominence. It will make your advertising in busy times much more effective.

Common sense has a great deal to do with advertising. Think about it from a common-sense standpoint. It may take some "nerve" to pay out money for newspaper space when the business isn't making expenses, but it will pay.

More than half the business houses in the country would be ahead if they could shut up for three months in the summer. But they don't do it.

Why?

Simply because they can't afford to. People would forget them.

Same way in advertising.

Think about it.

STRIKE INTERFERES WITH MAIL SERVICE

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, July 20.—The strike has somewhat interfered with mail service in various parts of west Texas, according to information reaching the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The most serious interruption has been at interior points and on short lines of railway.

It costs a man a good deal to live up to his ideals. That's the reason many a man can't afford to get married.

Fifteen Minutes of Radio a Day

By EDWARD N. DAVIS

(Formerly Technical Electrical Expert for United States Government)

Lesson No. 25

The Condenser: The condenser in its simplest form consists of two conducting surfaces separated by an insulator, known as a dielectric. When connected to a source of electric potential, the condenser possesses the valuable property of storing up energy in the form of an electrostatic field. In the closed circuit of the radio transmitter, the condenser is alternately charged and discharged and the sudden release of energy across the spark gap during discharge sets up oscillations of high frequency. High voltage condensers differ essentially from low voltage condensers, in the rupture proof qualities of the dielectric when connected to a source of high potential.

Electrostatic Capacity: The phenomenon of electrastatic capacity is a very important property of radio circuits and is a measure of the ability of the circuit to store up or hold energy in electrostatic form. The united capacity is the farad, but this unit is so large that the Microfard has been adopted as the practical unit. The microfarad is one-millionth part of a farad. When condensers, each having an equal capacity, are connected in parallel, the total capacity is the sum of the individual capacities. When connected in series, however, the total capacity is equal to the capacity of one condenser divided by the number of condensers in series. This relation applies only when each condenser has an equal value of capacity.

The Spark Gap: The spark gap maintains the closed circuit of the radio transmitter in a state of rest during the charge of the condenser. On discharge of the condenser, the spark gap provides a path for the high frequency oscillations and when the energy of these oscillations has been transferred to the open or radiating circuit, the spark gap brings the closed circuit again to a state of rest. Types of spark gaps in general use are the Plain, Non-Synchronous, Synchronous, and quenched gaps. It is very essential for the spark gap to quench the oscillations of the closed circuit with sufficient rapadity to prevent reaction between this circuit and the open radiating circuit.

The Oscillation Transformer: The fundamental and important principle of the oscillation transformer is its ability, by means of magnetic induction, to transfer the energy of the oscillations in the closed circuit to the open circuit, where the energy is radiated in the form of electromagnetic waves. When the primary and secondary windings of the oscillation transformer are in close proximity, the coupling is said to be "tight." "Loose" coupling is obtained by a separation of the windings.

The Aerial Tuning Inductance: The aerial tunning inductance provides a means of increasing the length of the radiated electromagnetic wave above the natural wave length of the antenna system.

The Short Wave Condenser. The short wave condenser may be used to decrease the length of the radiated wave below the natural wave length of the antenna system. Transmission by amateurs on a wavelength not to exceed 200 motors, as specified by the United States government regulations, can usually be accomplished without the aid of an aerial tuning inductance.

The Aerial: The aerial or antenna serves the double purpose of radiating and receiving eluectromagnetic waves. Of the many types in more or less general use, the inverted "L" and "TT" types hold a prominent place. When used for both transmission and reception of electric waves, the aerial usually consists of two or more horizantal wires carefully insulated. For receiving purposes only, one wire may be used to advantage and the insulating qualities need not be as carefully maintained.

The Electric Wave: The electromagnetic wave travels with the velocity of light, 186,000 miles or 300,000,000 meters per second. The length of a single wave may be obtained by dividing the velocity per second (300,000,000 moters) by the frequency of the oscillations and inversely the frequency of the oscillations is determined by dividing the velocity by the length of a single wave. An electromagnetic wave generated by a spark discharge has a decresing amplitude. The rate of decrease in amplitude is limited by United States government regulations in order to prevent interference with other radio stations.

TOO MANY PATRONS AT FILLING STATION

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, July 20—A "filling station" which ran booze was discovered near here last night when officers became suspicious of the class of patronage which an isolated "garage" had been receiving during the past few weeks. Digging operations exposed a 40-gallon copper tank containing a quantity of corn whiskey and connected by a pipe with a small hand pump used to fill and empty the tank.

LEADS IN LOCAL NEWS

WICHITA FALLS RECORD NEWS

A COMPLETE NEWSPAPER

PASSENGER SERVICE HERE IS CURTAILED BY STRIKE

Six Trains Daily Are Taken Off; Freight Service Continues as Uusual.

Railroad activity in Wichita Falls has not only suffered from the walk-out of striking shopmen July 1, but local shops and roads are keenly feeling the effects of further depression at this time, although freight and passenger trains are still moving.

That was the information gleaned in a canvass of the local situation Thursday among railroad employes and officials.

From the striking employes, it was learned that they are standing fast to their cause and that none of the men who went out at 10 o'clock July 1 have returned to their employment.

Shops Still Manned

A survey of the situation here shows a number of men working in the shops. Ten in the employ of the Wichita Falls & Northwestern were said yesterday to be filling the places occupied by strikers formerly connected with the railroad, while other men working in the roundhouse and on maintenance of way were declared to be old employes who did not strike.

Officials of the Wichita Falls & Southern announced a 100 per cent service. Delivery of freight, it was asserted, has been unaffected by the strike, as none of their men are striking. They did not receive a wage reduction.

It was learned that the Katy is running two passenger trains a day out of this city, one north and one south. The Katy north, it was said, makes connections at Dennison with the Katy Limited, which goes into St. Louis.

Two passenger trains have been cut off of the Katy line into this city, while four passenger trains have been taken off of the Northwestern. However, freight trains, although not regular, and in a somewhat tangled condition as the result of the strike, are running every day. The local freight east was sent out Thursday on schedule, while a through freight was sent the day before to Woodward.

The three engines which do switching duty in the Burkburnett oil fields were sent out Thursday, as they have been every day during the past week, it was learned. In conjunction with these engines, the Northwestern carried four freights from 12:01 a. m. Wednesday to 11:59 p. m., transporting oil and other high class commodities just as if there wasn't a strike in existence.

Several Engines "Dead."

Approximately four engines in the local Katy roundhouse, it was learned yesterday, are "dead," while there are several other engines in the roundhouse which are not being used, but which could be placed on the roads at any time, it was said.

The strikebreakers being used in the Katy roundhouse here are sleeping and eating in the local yards and rarely ever leave the premises. They are watched constantly by about 30 guards, employed by the Katy and sent here by the government to protect railroad property.

All the passenger trains on the Fort Worth & Denver city railroad and the Wichita Valley lines are running as usual. None of them have ever been taken off and it was reported from headquarters of the company yesterday that although the road is feeling the effects of the strike, that so far there have been few changes in the regular routine.

150 Guards Here

Only a few strike breakers, it was learned, are at work in the Denver shops, where there are a large number of guardsmen on duty. It is reported, although unverified by official reports, that there are approximately 150 men on guard duty in Wichita Falls, "here to protect railroad and government property."

No delay in freight shipments on the Denver or the Valley lines has been encountered .It was reported from the superintendent's office. The Fort Worth & Denver and the Wichita Valley carried seven freights out of the city yesterday and have been "keeping up that gait for the past several weeks."

Railroad officials, as a result of the walkout, have been put to work in the local yards, coupling and uncoupling cars, re-icing and cleaning coaches and doing other work left undone by the railroad strikers. None of the officials interviewed yesterday intimated a belief that recent reported beatings which are said to have occurred in the vicinity of railroad property came as a result of attacks made by strikers.

Peace pickets each day, and often are found working at night. However, their purpose on duty is not to create trouble, it is learned, but to prevent, as far as possible, and that might arise.

Woman Vagrant Jumps Her Bond

Bond of a woman charged with vagrancy was forfeited by the corporate court Thursday and an order issued for the woman's arrest.

Charges of vagrancy brought against a man who appeared in court were passed for further investigation when Judge John Marrs heard a statement made by the defendant.

Promises you faithful service from a business man's viewpoint. Opposes any raise of state taxes on the farm, ranch, store or oil industry—the success and development of these things will bring prosperity to all the people of West Texas. SOUTH SIDE TO HAVE CHURCH

Baptists Planning to Build Mission

Progress is being made toward the erection of a south side Baptist mission, according to Rev. H. J. Ballew, county missionary, who is conducting a tent meeting at Holliday and Twenty-second streets. He has aroused a great deal of interest in the mission work.

Rev. Ballew said that there are from 30 to 50 Baptists in that immediate vicinity who have their letters with churches outside of Wichita Falls and he thinks that this number, with the additions to the church that a mission in that vicinity should bring, the project has every propect of success. Two lots already have been given on which to build the mission and plans have been drawn for a structure that would cost approximately $2,500.

The people in the vicinity are interested in the building and Rev. Ballew said he hopes to receive donations to help build the structure. Donations may be sent to Rev. H. J. Ballew, 1415 1-2 Taylor street or left with officials of the First Baptist church. Rev. Ballew said he hopes to be able to have work started on the mission shortly.

To the Voters of Wichita County

JIM AVIS

Do you believe Texas has spent enough money foolishly?

Do you believe our farmers should have more consideration in state legislative matters?

Do you believe Wichita county oil interests need a conservative business man to protect its welfare in the legislature?

Do you believe our farmer boys and girls ought to have more consideration in matters of education?

Do you believe in voting for sane-minded, conservative business men who are fully qualified to fulfill all the obligations of a responsible state office?

If you do, you will vote for J. D. (JIM) AVIS, a pioneer county resident, for State Legislature, Place No. 2, a man whose life and works are known to the citizens of this county, and whose history is an open book.

J. D. (JIM) AVIS.

To the Voters of Wichita County

Do you need some one to manage your business?

If you needed someone to take complete charge, would you hire a person who knows nothing about the undertaking or one who is qualified?

Do you want a public official who actually serves the people, or one who does nothing but draw a salary and hires another to do the work?

By electing Miss Elizabeth Hall as your next County Clerk, a sum of $2,400 per year will be saved the people of Wichita county, for her election means the abolition of the superfluous office of Chief Deputy, all duties which she will handle herself.

She is not backed by a political machine, but by a corps of people who have the interest of Wichita county at heart, and she stands before you on her merits, character and qualifications.

Wichita county needs a competent County Clerk and this is the opportunity.

Vote for Miss Elizabeth Hall, who has been Chief Deputy Clerk for four years.
