

Escaping Gas Kills Two, Injures 15 At El Paso Rural School Aid Bill Passed By Senate Wednesday

Measure Allots $6,000,000 For Next Year Term

Favorable Action Follows Two Days Of Debate In Upper House; Substituted For Previous Bill

Reject Amendment

Vote Is 26 To One; House Measure Is Rejected By Senate Finance Committee In Earlier Session

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, June 19.—The Senate today finally passed by bills allotting $6,000,000 for rural school aid during 1930-31. The bill was approved 26-1 after two days of debate.

The House previously had acted favorably on the Snellgrove-Graves bill carrying $5,000,000 for the same purpose.

The Senate finance committee rejected the House measure and substituted the Senate bill.

Amendment Rejected

The Senate, in its consideration of the bill, also rejected an amendment by Moore Greenville which vested county superintendents with authority to make recommendations under oath in applying for aid.

Earlier in the discussion efforts to change the 75 cent minimum tax rate that districts must maintain to participate in the fund were disapproved, but Over, Athens, amended the bill so that on agreement of school trustees and the superintendent of public instruction the entire enrollment of schools unable to meet requirements of the act might be transferred to accredited schools in order to share in the fund.

The Senate measure provides for a seven month school term; and the House bill calls for six and one-half months.

Tenant Land Law Is Held Invalid

Principal Plank In Platform Of Former Governor James E. Ferguson Is Declared Void By Court

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, June 19.—The tenant's land law, enacted at the instance of former Gov. James E. Ferguson in 1915, after he had been elected to office with it as the principal plank in his platform, was declared unconstitutional and void by the Supreme court today.

It provided that a landlord should not charge rental to exceed one-third of the grain crop and one-fourth of the cotton crop, where the tenant furnished everything but the land, or more than one-half where the land owner furnished everything except the labor.

The provision was attached to the landlord's lien law, enacted in 1914, which provided that a landlord should have a preferential lien on

Approval of Dawes Speech Is Voiced

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The apparently international approval of sentiments expressed in London by Ambassador Dawes found additional reflection in official circles today, but the subsequent intimations from abroad that the next disarmament move was expected here lack responses of any sort.

So far as the immediate plans of the United States are concerned, the next development will be the deposit by one of the powers interested in the preparatory disarmament commission, of a formula based on the "yardstick" theory proposed at the last session by Ambassador Gibson. After several other nations have filed their formulae, the United States will deposit with the league preparatory commission the formula which is now being prepared by American naval experts.

Fried Chicken, Barbecue, Baseball, Dancing Feature 'Mancipation Day'

THE CRASH of timber against horsehide, a chorus of cheers from the lusty throats of dark-skinned females, interspersed with frequent jazz tunes from a piano, aroma from fried chicken and barbecue and the shouts of a cold drink vendor—all against a background of bright-colored dresses, shirts and ties—add to this an army of shuffling feet across a temporary dance floor and you will have a small picture of the emancipation day celebration held by the colored element in Lubbock yesterday.

Lubbock's negro populace was in its element from daylight Wednesday until long past midnight, celebrating in true "darker" fashion their freedom from the bonds of slavery. Gaily decorated automobiles, men and women from the "flats," dressed in their best, and a general absence of negro laborers in the downtown section, all told even the most casual observer that it was "Juneteenth."

Substituting for the Littlefield negro team which was to meet the Lubbock Blackcats in the holiday exhibition, the Lubbock Mexican nine came to the rescue and furnished competition for the hustling darlings. Aside from

Robison Hearing Holds Spotlight

Drought Conditions In West Texas, Clump In Cattle Market After War Related In Trial Wednesday

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, June 19.—Drought conditions in West Texas and depression of the cattle market shortly after the world war ended, all of which occurred just prior to the legislature's passage of the 1925 reapportionment act, were pictured today to the house of representatives sitting as a committee of the whole to pass on charges against J. T. Robison, state land commissioner.

Some of the witnesses had reappraised under the act and those who did expressed appreciation to Robison for the work he had done in revaluing their holdings and praised him as a public official.

The main accusation against Robison is that he accepted for his personal use pro rata rebates given land owners from the fund which they had raised for land reapportionment. The commissioner's contention is that the money in question did not belong to the state.

Ten persons went to the witness chair during the day, and it was indicated that the respondents soon would end his side of the case. The

Only Bare Quorums Stick For Final Day's Work

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 19.—Wrangling to the end, congress recessed tonight for a vacation preparatory to tackling again two months hence, the tariff revision measures.

Only bare quorums struck for the final day's work, which brought the passage of one administration bill and the postponement of another recommendation of President Hoover.

The resolution authorizing postponement of the maturity date of the $400,000,000 French war supplies debt from August 1 until May 1 in the event France ratifies meanwhile its war debt settlement with the United States was rushed through both houses.

But the proposal of Senator Jones, republican, Washington, to carry out President Hoover's appeal for appointment of a joint congressional committee to study transfer of the prohibition agencies from the treasury to the justice department was laid aside. It stirred up such a round of wet and dry talk that the senate still was arguing long after the house adjourned.

The senate meets again August 19, by which time it expects to have from its finance committee the house tariff bill. With its work cleaned up, the house membership scattered until September 23. Then it will return to await senate passage of the tariff measure and begin negotiations for adjustment of Raymond Duncan says that the only thing you can "hand" Venus is the fact that she had a good press agent. Another artist whispers that Venus must have weighed all of 165 pounds. Scandalous!

Which all reminds us that we do today have such a thing as an universal standard of beauty, though there was a day when one country's fair maid was sheer ugliness in another health.

The speeding up of things with radio and cable and movies and television makes the charming flapper of one realm decreed equally charming in another, and makes the Venus outlawed in France outlawed everywhere.

By the same token, Venus may again be found universally beautiful.

Transcontinental Air Line Planned

Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Mississippi Would Be Served By Proposed Route

JACKSON, Miss., June 19. (AP)—A transcontinental air and rail passenger service through Jackson from the west coast, through New Mexico, Texas and Louisiana to Jackson and on to Birmingham, Atlanta and New York is to be established in the near future to combat the transcontinental air and rail hookups already started through the northern states, it became known today. Texas Air Transport, a subsidiary of the Aviation Corporation of America, a $200,000,000 holding and operating company, yesterday announced plans for immediate service from Fort Worth to Jackson and Atlanta by way of Birmingham. At the same time, it announced the formation of American officials through the Southern Air Transport, another subsidiary, announced plans for New York to California air and mail route to include the air service through Jackson. This, it declared, would include the T. A. T. line through Jackson, and will assure a service from the east to west coast.

The new line from Fort Worth and Dallas to Atlanta through Jackson will start "in a few days," officials said, indicating that regular service will be started some time next week.

How to Achieve Beauty

I almost hesitate to write to you young girls about the care you should take from day to day of your health. Most of you feel that you are careful enough, or healthy enough, and that your daily habits are sensible and harmless. Things that I shall say to you may seem trivial and unimportant, even unnecessary, while you feel quite healthy and happy, as is the usual way with youth.

But as a beauty specialist I must remind you that your daily habits in the smallest things you do are affecting your health and so your beauty, not noticeably now, perhaps, but certainly for later on in life. Day by day, now, you are building your physical appearance, and it is up to you to make it an attractive one. It is quite as easy—once you have started, it's easier—to form the right habits and thus make your looks good. You'll be glad you began your health and beauty program early in life when eight or ten more years have passed and you can see with satisfaction that you have kept your youth and freshness while other women who have been less careful are losing theirs. I shall not preach any longer. I shall simply furnish you with some hints and rules that you will follow if you are wise and if you wish to be lovely as well as wise. The first is this: watch your weight. Try to keep it normal for between meals. So much for the eating and drinking do's and don't's. As to the rest of your health program, the most important item, next to these, is the matter of sleep and rest. Plan to get eight hours of sleep a night, or nine or ten if you are thin or lacking in energy. When you fall to get the required amount on one night, make it up on another. Get fifty-six hours of sleep in a week, at any rate, and remember that it's best to get it in regular nightly doses of eight hours each.

The man's body was found by his estranged wife who became alarmed at his queer actions at her cafe shortly before the attack on Miss Lyons and who went to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Patterson were shoppers from the Canyon community Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wallis and little daughter, Martha Lee, have returned from McKinney where they were called because of the illness of the former's father, J. E. Wallis.

Aged Man Charged In Townsite Fraud

Sale Of Lots In Hall County Basis Of Defraud Charges Against George Klein At Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 19. (AP)—A. J. Klein, 60, was arraigned today before George J. Eacock, United States commissioner, on a charge of using the mails to defraud in connection with sales of townsite lots in Hall county, Texas, in 1917. He was released on $5,000 bond.

Postoffice inspectors allege that Klein, promoting townsites of Tampo and Burlington, launched through the mails a sale of town lots in sub divisions to which he had no title, collecting as much as $5,000 an acre for some of the land.

Klein, inspectors said, served two years in the Leavenworth penitentiary for promoting a similar sale in 1910.

Mrs. E. Underwood of Dickens was a shopper in Lubbock Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sedgwick were business visitors in Lubbock Wednesday from the Union community.

Smith and Shouse Discuss Problems

NEW YORK, June 19. (AP)—Former governor Alfred E. Smith and J. P. Shouse, recently named as the democratic national committee, met today at the Hotel Vanderbilt to discuss party problems.

Neither Shouse nor the recent candidate for president would talk about their discussion, although some political observers speculated whether the former governor might be called upon, for the sake of party harmony, to make another public announcement that he would not run again for office.

"Ridiculous," said Shouse of reports that John J. Raskob would quit as national chairman.

Amendments would have made the minimum 25c, 50c and $1 but they were turned down in order.

Endurance Records Are To Be Sought

SAN ANTONIO, June 19. (AP)—Jack Beretta, Texas governor of the National Aeronautic association, announced today he had agreed to act as official observer for two aeronautical events in which records for endurance will be sought.

Kent of the Pan-American lines, will be chief pilot and co-pilot in an attempt to break the world's record airplane endurance flight recently made by Reg Robbins and Jim Kelly at Fort Worth. They will make the flight from Brownsville at an early date.

Brownsville also will be the starting point for a non-stop flight to be made to Winnipeg, Canada, within the next month. The pilot has not been announced, Beretta said, but the flight is sponsored by the Nicholas Beatty Aircraft company of Kansas.

F. H. Douthitt Of Chicago Seeks Information About Possible Milk Production In And Near City

F. H. Douthitt, president of the Douthitt Engineering company, of Chicago, was in Lubbock Tuesday afternoon. While here Mr. Douthitt conferred with members of the dairy committee of the chamber of commerce in regard to the possible milk production in and near this city, seeking information which later might lead to the establishment of a milk products plant in Lubbock.

There is not at this time a sufficient number of cows near Lubbock where production could be transferred into this channel, said Mr. Douthitt. "Thirty-five hundred producing cows within a 15 or 20 mile radius, coupled with good roads, are required to justify investment in a milk products plant. There are, of course, that many cows within such a radius of the city, but most of these cows are supplying milk through dairies and retail dealers to consumers."

Leaving this city late Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Douthitt went to Lubbock where production could be transferred into this channel, said Mr. Douthitt. "Thirty-five hundred producing cows within a 15 or 20 mile radius, coupled with good roads, are required to justify investment in a milk products plant. There are, of course, that many cows within such a radius of the city, but most of these cows are supplying milk through dairies and retail dealers to consumers."

They Still Shoot Bears And Panthers In Texas

By NEA Service.

FORT DAVIS, June 19.—The sovereign state of Texas, which has a huge population, a network of fine automobile roads, a lot of big cities and many other refinements of a complex industrial civilization is still a state where the term "wild life" means something besides a hectic evening in a night club.

In other words, Texas is a great state for the big game hunters—and in the person of Mac Sproul, veteran Fort Davis rancher, it has one of the most accomplished hunters in the country.

Since the beginning of the century Sproul has killed exactly 100 panthers, or mountain lions, in the mountains near Fort Davis. In addition, he has killed in the same territory 130 bears.

That record wasn't all rolled up in the early days of the century, either. Sproul only recently added the last trophies to his collection. And he says there is plenty of big game left for any sportsman who cares to come and try his luck and skill at the job.

Sproul killed his first bear with an old rattlesnake army revolver when he was just 13 years old. And his son, Bob, who is now 13, has also killed a bear—killed it over a year ago. In fact, sighting a big 30-30 rifle across a boulder as coolly as a veteran.

Mr. Sproul also is a hunter, and has a bear and a panther to her credit.

She shot the panther on a hillside too steep for her horse to ride down. So she hurried down the slope to keep the dogs from tearing the skin of the dead animal. She got there just as one of the dogs did, and just as she was rolling the dog off the three of them—dog, panther and hunter—began to roll down the hill.

Mac Sproul and his 100th panther that he killed the other day.

"We rolled and tumbled all the way to the bottom," she says. "The less, neglected and destitute children and became their friend and protector and to find homes for them in intelligent Christian families.

It is saving hundreds of children from hunger, cold and neglect, said Rev. Nicholas. "It takes them from surroundings of poverty, vice and crime, and places them where they have a chance to become honest, industrious and happy. It saves the state thousands of dollars by curtailing crime and creating good citizenship."

W. K. Dickinson, of this city, is a member of the advisory board.

dog was wild, the other dogs were chasing us, and the panther, being warm, as if it must be alive. It was on me half the time, and I did not know whether I was to be clawed and chewed or not. And then after we got down I had to fight off the rest of the pack, so as to protect the panther's skin, until Mac got there."

Incidentally, Mac doesn't kill bears and panthers for sport. It's a business matter. Mac is a rancher, and bears and panthers get their living by raiding the ranchers' livestock, and therefore a rancher must keep these predatory rovers in check.

Mac's most recent panther hunt, when he bagged his 100th panther, is a sample.

The panther had been killing Mac's goats for a month, and Mac set out to get it. One morning he found the carcass of a goat, slain by the panther the night before. So, knowing that a panther usually returns to a kill to make a second meal, Mac took his gun and his dogs and hid by the goat's body that night. Shortly after dark the panther appeared. The dogs gave chase and the panther fled to a tree half a mile away, where the dogs kept him until Mac could get there. The panther, as it happens, is a great coward, and will usually run from a dog and take to the nearest tree.

The rest was easy. Mac arrived, saw the panther crouched on a limb, leveled his rifle—and crack! It was all over, and he had added panther No. 101 to his list.

Lubbock Rotary Is 2nd In Attendance

Robert J. Murray, president of the Lubbock Rotary club, announced Wednesday that this club stands second in attendance statistics among all the clubs of its class in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland. This standing is for the month of April.

Lubbock's percentage was 90.71 and this was topped only by Tamqua, Penn., with a perfect attendance record for the month. For seven months during the last year the Lubbock club has been in the ten first clubs in the three countries. This record is surpassed by none in the group which is composed of clubs with memberships of between 50 and 100.

Two years ago this month the General Electric Refrigerator was publicly announced for the first time.

Fifteen years of research and development had produced a refrigerator with an hermetically sealed, dust-proof mechanism, mounted on top... a refrigerator with an improved type of cabinet, mounted on legs... one with an accessible temperature control... that established a new standard of quiet operation... that required no oiling... that dispensed with all troublesome machinery...

that lowered operating costs... that carried an unqualified two-year service guarantee.

A radical improvement has been made in the cabinet! It is now all-steel! It cannot warp. It is as strong as a safe.

You can purchase the new models shown at our display rooms on conveniently spaced payments.

SAVING A SINKING SHIP

DIRECTORS of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are meeting at Abilene today and the chief topic of business to be cared for is the selection of a new manager to succeed Homer D. Wade, resigned.

The task is a big one and upon the decision of the directors possibly rests the life or death of the largest regional Chamber of Commerce in the history of the world.

Frankly, The Morning Avalanche can see little reason for a continuation of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce upon its present basis. Revamp it, if you will, into a service organization and a great power for the continued growth and progress of West Texas will result. "Hip hip hooray" stuff, ponderous bombast, pompousness, much is said and nothing done are all right in their place but West Texas and West Texans have outgrown that kind of thing and are rightly demanding results.

The Morning Avalanche is not alone in its belief that in order to be worth its expense the West Texas Chamber of Commerce must serve the territory just as the local chambers of commerce must serve the communities. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce must be a service organization, not a mere talking shop. It must be a body of men and women who are all right in their place but West Texas and West Texans have outgrown that kind of thing and are rightly demanding results.

At this great field we call West Texas there is a need for a business-like, active Chamber of Commerce, one which accomplishes concrete, definite results, one which serves as it should serve, in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce but it is just joining the chorus reverberating throughout the section that the organization be revitalized and placed upon a working basis.

A man with vision, of varied abilities, of persistent effort, of ambition, a man who is a natural executive, a broad and efficient business man, one who is fighting for life, clinging to the edge of a precipice under which yawns oblivion. Such a man can be found and it is to be hoped that he is found at Abilene today.

FINANCING THE WORLD

One can not comprehend the extent of American interests in foreign fields without scanning the foreign bond market. American investments abroad have been increasing at a tremendous rate and recent developments promise even greater things in the future.

Possessing half the world's gold reserve, the United States is the logical place to which Europe would look for creditors. New York has taken the place of London as the world's banker. America's foreign investments exceed $10,000,000,000, half of which have been made in the last six years.

Not only to Europe but to South America, Asia, Africa and Australia are sending capital for the financing and expansion of industries and the stabilizing of trade. Politically this country is isolated. Financially the United States is foremost among internationalists.

Americans are showing increased confidence in foreign investments, a fact that is demonstrated by the huge loans granted in recent months to European municipalities and private industries as well as nations. To obtain these loans Europe had to prove to the satisfaction of the American bankers that her trade is on a sounder basis, that international upheavals are diminishing.

The United States is now embarked upon a new adventure—one which offers great opportunities and one which will further establish its supremacy among the nations of the world. Uncle Sam is rapidly becoming "uncle" to the world.

DRIFTING

The break in stock market, the further slump in wheat prices, the reporting of a tariff bill replete with objectionable features, the rejection of banking effort to remedy credit situation and the uncertain progress of pseudo-farm relief legislation were among the outside influences that affected business sentiment adversely and emphasized the spirit of caution that has recently sprung up.

Has the Napoleon of economic crises already met his Waterloo? Is it possible that the master of emergencies has been mastered by emergencies?

If the nation is enjoying a fair measure of prosperity it is in spite of, rather than because of the Hoover administration. The American people and American industry will work with anyone toward a higher level of prosperity but they refuse to be downed.

There is no tenable alibi the administration at Washington can advance. Congress is strongly republican. The tools and materials are all here to work with, but there is none to use them.

President Hoover and his first congress are making the worst of a golden opportunity. They have shown themselves incapable of handling a situation that would be putty in the hands of a real leader and a competent congress.

MUSCLE SHOALS

Government operation of Muscle Shoals is again recommended in the report of the senate committee on agriculture and forestry, recently presented to the senate by Senator Norris of Nebraska. Similar proposition was made in a measure passed during the last session of congress. But President Coolidge subjected it to a "pocket veto," the legality of which has been upheld by the United States supreme court.

Under the committee recommendations, an appropriation of $10,000,000 would be authorized for completion of the plants at Muscle Shoals, and operation would be for the experimental production of fixed nitrites and for the sale of surplus power.

As the report declares, the proposal now made represents "a fair and honorable compromise" which enjoys the approval of a large majority of those who have given years of study to the subject.

It might be observed, moreover, that the government operation feature is one which will appeal to the common sense of the American people. After having invested millions of dollars in development of Muscle Shoals, the United States would scarcely be able to permit private exploitation.

PLENTY OF CUTTHROAT COMPETITION FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT COMMISSION PREDICTED BY WASHINGTON WRITER

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 19. —President Hoover's "National Commission on Law Observation and Enforcement"—as it has christened itself—is due to have cutthroat competition to buck right from the jump.

Two rival bodies of investigators will soon be in the field. Mr. Hoover furnished the inspiration for them, too.

When Mr. Hoover outlined to the country, during the last presidential campaign, his plan for an impartial commission, to investigate the prohibition situation and decide what ought to be done about it, it was generally recognized as a brilliant concept.

However, it appears to have been a perishable idea, which cooled as a result of being kept too long.

From an assurance of a wet-and-dry inquiry with a lot of punch behind it, the project evolved itself into a not-very clearly-defined scheme for a two or three-year period of dull, uninteresting research work, by a lot of busy lawyers, into questions of court procedure and rules of evidence—with no more popular appeal than a discussion of the Einstein theory of relativity.

The thing having assumed this form in spite of him—it certainly was not what the president intended at the outset, for it was not what he proposed by a long shot—there was nothing for Mr. Hoover to do but to go ahead and appoint his board accordingly.

Even at that he was unable to get the personnel he wanted.

He tried and tried, and got refusal after refusal.

All but the soggiest kind of heavyweights fought shy of the honor—all the legal lights themselves with any sparkle or scintillation or sense of humor.

Does this explain why the "National Commission on Law Observation and Enforcement" adopted a policy of secrecy?—totally oblivious of the fact that publicity is the breath of life to the presidential purpose—and handicapped itself with a seven-jointed name at its initial start chamber session?

President Hoover gave his commission the once over at the welcoming luncheon he ate with its 10 eminent lawyers and one school marm, on their recent arrival in Washington—and what he thought he had to do was to straightway send a special message to congress, suggesting a couple of new committees to supplement the commission's activities.

Supplement? Did he mean that? Or did he mean to provide some pep—and publicity?

Anyway he asked congress for a joint committee of senators and representatives to help the "National Commission" to combine the efforts of the various government departments in the direction of prohibition enforcement.

On his own part, the president undertook to contribute an additional committee from the departments themselves, to lend a hand to the same end.

These are the two rivals that the National Commission will have to compete with for popular acclaim.

That the congressional joint committee, at least, will not hide its illumination under a bushel is a cinch. Congressional committees never do. They crave all the advertising they can get. It makes votes.

The less publicity-wise departmental committee's press agenting may not be so efficient; anyhow it will do its best.

It is assuredly was Mr. Hoover's notion to commit the task of prohibition reorganization—more especially than anything else—to the National Commission members.

If they had gone at it under a full head of steam, with every nerve wide open, he unquestionably would have found no fault if they had made a few reputations among themselves also. But no—they took themselves too seriously. They mentioned two or three years of testimony-taking and deliberation first.

Mr. Hoover desires some results by next year's congressional elections at the latest.

His two new committees will attend to that.

The National Commission really is a very able body. Doubtless it will emerge from its subcellar around 1933 or 1934 with an exceedingly fine report.

The public will wonder what it is all about.

In the meantime the "law observation and enforcement" criterion—for better or for worse—will long previously have been shot and stuffed.

Your Health

THE BATH TUB CAN BE A FIBELIOUS PLACE. IF YOU ARE CARELESS

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

When Charlotte Corday desecrated the existence of Marat while he was seated defenseless in the tub, one of the most interesting fatalities in the records of mortality was added to the list. Recently Dr. Guy Hinsdale has assembled from various sources records of similar accidents occurring in bathtubs and the list is a striking revelation of human carelessness.

Some years ago a woman in Chicago lost her two babies in the tub while she went to talk to a peddler at the door. When she returned she found both babies drowned.

Dr. Hinsdale calls attention to the following classification of accidents during bathing:

Falls on slippery places in the bathroom; falls on getting in or out of the tub.

Faintness or vertigo in getting in or out of the tub.

Epileptic convulsions occurring while in the bath.

Fainting attack from heart disease.

Brain hemorrhage or apoplexy.

Drowning in the tub.

Scalding in the tub.

Scalding in mistake for a cold shower.

Burns from steam in the Turkish bath.

Death from electric shock while in the bath through short circuit from heating lamps or vibrations.

Death from escaping gas from the bathroom heater.

Death from plunges in water that is too cold while one is overtaxed.

When baths are given for medical purposes the patient needs much more supervision than when baths are taken for ordinary cleansing.

A person with a weak heart is much more likely to have a fainting attack or heart failure.

The sudden application of heat or motion may raise the blood pressure in the aged with hardened weakened arteries and produce brain hemorrhage.

Most of the electrical vibrators, heating devices and similar electric accessories are not insulated in such a way as to protect them fully against contact with water which may conduct the full strength of the current into the body and thus produce death.

But They Didn't Get Away With It!

STEAMER CROSSES OCEAN

On June 20, 1819, the first steamship succeeded in crossing the Atlantic ocean.

This was the Savannah, of 380 tons, measuring 100 feet in length, originally built to ply between New York and Savannah as a sailing packet.

She was purchased by Savannah merchants and fitted with steam machinery, the paddle wheels being constructed to fold up and be laid upon the deck in stormy weather.

Under the command of Capt. Steven Rogers, this vessel sailed from Savannah May 29, 1819, but did not venture on the high seas until the 25th of the month.

She reached Liverpool, England, June 20 after a voyage of 26 days—during 19 of which she used her paddles. Off Cape Clear she was mistaken for a ship on fire and was pursued by the British cutter Kite.

The Savannah afterward visited St. Petersburg, Copenhagen, Stockholm and other foreign ports.

Captain Rogers, having failed to dispose of his vessel to the king of Sweden, started for home and reached Savannah No. 30, 1819. The engines and boilers were afterward removed and the ship was used as a sailing packet. She was finally wrecked off the south coast of Long Island.

"WHEN LOVELY WOMAN STOOPS TO FOLLY"

(From The Vicar of Wakefield)

When lovely woman stoops to folly And finds too late that men betray—

What charm can soothe her melancholy? What art can wash her guilt away?

The only art her guilt to cover, To hide her shame from every eye,

To give repentance to her lover And wring his bosom, is—to die.

Quotations Of Real Merit

"I cannot see that, as a general rule, American universities or colleges leave the slightest cultural impress upon those who attend them. Once out in the world, the ideals and interests of most of the university men are identical with those of any go-getter."

—James Truslow Adams (Forum)

"Corporations lending money are violating their charter. Nearly every corporation violates provisions in its charter when it loans money on Wall street."—Senator Coughlin of Michigan.

"There is no more reason why the power trust should own newspapers than why men engaged in the manufacture of shoes or sewing machines should own newspapers in their business."—Senator Norris of Nebraska.

"Beyond a doubt the time is not far distant when every one may fly. We shall be able to buy a seat and fly anywhere. But I doubt that we shall ever see the airplane rival the automobile as a privately operated vehicle."—Jigor Sikorsky, airplane designer.

"The true patriot will understand the real meaning of a state. He will dwell with satisfaction upon the declaration of Aristotle that 'neither walls, theaters, porches, nor senseless equipment make states, but men who are able to rely upon themselves.'"—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University.

Wrecked Freighter Skipper Rescued

CAPE LOOKOUT, Ore., June 19. (AP)—Captain Louis Johnson, skipper of the wrecked freighter Laurel, was taken off the vessel by a coast guard power boat at 8:30 a. m. today.

Captain Johnson has been aboard the after portion of the ship since early Sunday, when it was driven ashore by relentless breakers and broken in two. One member of the crew lost his life and 30 others were taken off in groups, but Captain Johnson refused to leave.

The skipper stuck to his wreck even after agents of the States Line owners of the Laurel, had issued orders for him to abandon ship. Several efforts were made by coast guardmen and others along the shore to coax Johnson off but he remained, presumably to prevent anyone else laying claim to salvage.

Oil Companies Win $1,000,000 Suit

BROCKENRIDGE, June 19. (AP)—Two oil companies today were winners in a Young county oil suit for approximately $1,000,000, based on allegations that they had not developed satisfactorily, a 640-acre tract or wells that had been drilled.

H. M. Ford, South Bend, sued the Roxana Petroleum corporation, Atkinson and Sanderfer corporation, et al, on grounds that 19 wells drilled on his 640 acres never had been developed fully. The defendants claimed that most of the wells had not paid and that approximately $252,000 had been lost in drilling and operating wells.

In a previous trial a jury had failed to agree.

Whittles Speaks At Church Confab

San Angelo Minister Is Feature Talker Of Meet Of Protestant Episcopal Conference Last Night

The Rev. A. E. Whittle, of San Angelo, addressed the gathering of the North Texas conference of the Protestant Episcopal church last night taking as his subject "The Place of the Preacher in the Modern Church."

"Never before has so much criticism been held at the head of the average preacher as today," said Rev. Whittle. "Some of it is constructive but most of it is destructive. Therefore it is the duty of the minister to consider the harder way and try to improve his methods so that there will be no grounds for this criticism."

Rev. Whittle explained the correct way to go about doing this, stressing the importance of adequate preparation, the need of preparing the sermon beforehand, of writing it in full and then rewriting it to eliminate any flaws. The importance of training in elocution was also brought out, of proper gesture, of using the voice as a mouthpiece of the Almighty, he explained. "The average person of today does not read the Bible to a great extent therefore, the preacher is the only one to express His word and the minister must recognize himself as the modern prophet and recognition of the fact adds earnestness to his preaching."

This afternoon a picnic at the country club is scheduled for those in the school while tonight the Rev. Perry Jones of Stamford will speak. Two pageants will be given next week, one on Monday night and the other on Wednesday night while Thursday night has been set aside as stunt night.

McKenzie Trial Delay Is Likely

SAN ANTONIO, June 19. (AP)—A possible delay in the sanity hearing of John M. "Pete" McKenzie, under sentence of death for murder of San Street, chief of detectives here, was seen today. First assistant district attorney, Walter Tynan, declared he would insist on a thorough examination of McKenzie by three physicians before the hearing begins Monday.

Somewhere either had a burned dinner last night or went without. About 11:15 an alarm was sent in from about 3109 16th street and the fire department made a speedy run. When they arrived they did not find a blazing home, barn or such, but some good woman's dinner burning on top of the stove.

Successor To H. D. Wade to be Named At Abilene Today

Directors Of West Texas Chamber Of Commerce To Consider Candidates For Job; Four Dominant

FORT WORTH, June 19. (AP)—Directors of the West Texas chamber of commerce will choose a new manager to succeed Homer D. Wade, whose resignation becomes effective July 15 at a meeting in Abilene tomorrow.

General discussion over a portion of the region served by the West Texas chamber of commerce seems to point to the fact that one man, to be chosen as successor to Homer D. Wade, will be selected from among four who are prominently considered. He will be chosen today at Abilene.

Porter Whaley, manager of the San Antonio chamber of commerce, Ray Leeman, manager of the South Texas chamber of commerce, E. H. Whitehead, publicity director of the West Texas chamber of commerce, and Grady Shipp, secretary of the Vernon chamber of commerce, are those who are being pushed consistently by strong organizations.

Dark Horse Expected. It is understood that a "dark horse" may make his appearance through the fact that several of the directors have committed themselves as favoring some business man not now in the ranks of the candidates. It has been expressed as to whether Porter Whaley, who was formerly manager of the organization, would accept in the event of his appointment. As manager of the San Antonio chamber of commerce, Walter Tynan, declared he would insist on a thorough examination of McKenzie by three physicians before the hearing begins Monday.

Mr. Leeman is well known in West Texas, having been formerly manager of the Mineral Wells chamber of commerce. It is understood that several of his friends are pushing him. Mr. Shipp, connected with chamber work in Oklahoma, Paris and Vernon, also is well known over the western section, having made frequent trips through the territory with President A. M. Bourland. Mr. Whitehead possibly is better known than any of the other men with the exception of Whaley, because of his connection with the organization and its publicity work.

ABILENE, June 19. — Porter Whaley made the following statement over long distance telephone to the Abilene Reporter today: "If the executive board of the West Texas chamber of commerce offers me the appointment as manager succeeding my friend Homer D. Wade, the probabilities are that I will accept, although I am not in any way a candidate for the place. The great regional body of West Texas, to which I have so many happy and so it is the wonderful territory which it serves."

The executive board of the West Texas chamber will meet in Abilene Thursday on call of President A. M. Bourland, to elect Wade's successor.

Prices Come Down Sharply In Stock Mart Wednesday

Mart Shows Indications Of Becoming Top-Heavy; Attempts To Extend Recent Gains Successful

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, June 19. (AP)—The stock market showed increasing indications of becoming top-heavy today and prices came down sharply in late trading after several partially successful attempts to extend the recent gains. Meanwhile, wheat advanced about 2 1-2 cents a bushel and cotton prices floundered around without getting anywhere. Total stock sales crossed the 3,000,000 share mark, the excessive heat of the past few days driving several large operators to reach resorts. Call money held steady at 7 per cent all day.

Except for the publication of the weekly steel trade review, emphasizing the continued high rate of output and demand, an increase from $3 to $4 in the annual dividend on William Wrigley common and usual crop of merger and dividend rumors, the day's news provided few developments of market interest. Chief stress in commission house circles was laid on the easing of credit conditions and the influence of gold imports.

Public Utilities Strong. Public utilities, as a group, gave the best demonstration of strength, although a few of the recent favorites fell back on profit-taking. The Associated Press indices of 50 leading industrials and 20 leading rails declined about 2 points each. Brooklyn Union Gas was one of the spectacular features of today's trading, scoring 15 points to a new high record at 203 3-4 and retaining all but a few points of its gain. The rise was associated with reports of the issuance of valuable stock purchase "rights" or a merger with Consolidated Gas, the common stock of which also touched a new peak.

Robison Hearing

committee recessed until tomorrow to permit the house to set on legislation set for special order.

Dayton Moses, of Fort Worth, leading counsel for the commission, said Mr. Robison would take the stand in his own behalf, probably tomorrow.

El Pasoan Testifies. W. W. Taylor, of El Paso, owner of 400 sections of land in Brewster and Presidio counties, former president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association and a member of the legislature for a period of 10 years in the past, told the house that about 1917-18 cattle were in a deplorable condition for lack of grass and water and that later there was a collapse because of no market for the ranchman's products.

He said he had handled cattle for the Federal Reserve bank that it had been forced to take in for debts, in Texas, Arizona and New Mexico, and was given first-hand information for the debate. Often a cow and calf would not bring more than $17, he said.

Cattleman Facing Bankruptcy. "From January, 1921 to January, 1926 were not 20 per cent of the Texas cattlemen 'facing bankruptcy'?" Moses asked Mr. Turner. "It would be hard to figure the per cent, but I believe it was nearer a total of 100 per cent including my unfortunate self," he answered.

UP TO DEMOCRATS

White House Entertainment Of Negroes Scored

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 19. (AP)—M. D. Lightfoot, chairman of the National Anti-Smuth democratic organization, today said the action of Mrs. Hoover in inviting the wife of a negro member of congress to attend a tea at the White House will cause southern states to remain in the democratic ranks.

RAIN COOLS EAST

Relief From Fevered Heat Wave Is Furnished

NEW YORK, June 19. (AP)—Rain brought a cool interlude to fevered New York tonight after the mercury, reaching 82 degrees during the day, had established another record as the hottest June 19 since 1873.

Numerous deaths were reported throughout the east attributed to the heat.

Daily Markets

MID-WEST LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, June 19. (AP)—Cattle trade around the 11 market circuit was marked by a narrowing in the demand for most all killing classes, except a few strictly choice fed steers and yearlings. Good to near choice steers and yearlings at several markets were tendered a 2c decline.

Other killing classes carried a weak to lower tone with grass fat she stock 25c or more lower. Chicago had a top of $13.50 of choice heavy steers and the same price was obtained at St. Joseph for a load of outstanding yearlings.

Opening trade on hogs ruled steady to 15c higher but packers failed to follow the pace set by shippers and the close was slow at steady to 10c lower prices.

Fat lambs were generally weak to 25c lower, with some markets off more on natives. Other killing classes were little changed.

Increasing fears of boll weevil spread off-set a generally favorable weekly weather summary and cotton prices advanced moderately today after an opening decline. October sold up from 18.49 to 19.61 and closed at 18.92, or 4 points net higher. The general market closed steady at net gains of 2 to 7 points.

Farmers Continue Prairie Dog Fight

Many Formulas are Used in Effort to Rid County of Harmful Rodents; War
Meets With Success

Reports from the county agricultural agent's office state that farmers of this section are getting underway in their war on rodents and that they are meeting with success on most every occasion. Several formulas are being used by farmers, some of them without effect. In order to get the best results from poisoning the following formulas for use have been set out: Formula for the use of Barium Carbonate in poisoning of rats: Best results are obtained from the use of hamburger meat or fish scraps. The first two nights prebait with meat straight and then change to the poison on the third night. 1 ounce of barium carbonate should be used to every 4 ounces of meat. Mix well and wrap teaspoon quantities in small squares of paper. Place the bait where rats will find it. Move old bait each morning and put out fresh supply in the afternoon.

Warning Given
Warning is given to keep the barium carbonate away from children, irresponsible persons or domestic animals.

Formula for poisoning of rabbits: 1 ounce of strychnine to 30 ounces of table salt. Mix dry. Use small blocks of wood about 8 inches long, bore hole in center about 1-2 inch deep and 1 inch in diameter. Place salt in dry and put block in infested area.

For the benefit of those who want cleanup methods on prairie dogs a dust has been received at the county agent's office. The dust, when placed in a hole, creates a gas and is just as effective as carbon.

Anti-Smiths Seek Republicans' Aid

ROANOKE, Va., 19. (AP)—With nominees in the field for governor and attorney general, and provisions made to cooperate with other states where similar groups might desire to make the 1928 break with the democratic party permanent, Virginia anti-Smith democrats today looked to the republican convention in Richmond, June 26, for support of their effort to wrest control of the state government from the democrats.

Dr. William Moseley Brown, Washington and Lee professor nominated for governor by the anti-Smith democrats in state convention here yesterday, is known to have the support of several of the most active leaders in the republican state organization. In a platform demanding the resignation of Chairman Raskob of the democratic national committee and repudiation of state leaders, the anti-Smith democrats outlined their views at length on state issues. There were indications of an effort to organize the anti-Smith movement as a party in the south.

Windmills are still being used as one of the principal sources of industrial power in the Barbados.

LOCAL REPAIRMAN TALKS ABOUT HIS RECENT TROUBLES

Brown Couldn't Sleep Or Eat To Do Any Good Before Taking Orgatone.
In Fine Shape Now

"W. P. Brown, 506 Avenue K, household repairman, is another well known Lubbock citizen who feels it nothing but right to tell others of the benefits he has derived from the use of Orgatone. In a recent interview with the Orgatone representative in Bowen's Drug Store, Mr. Brown said: "I had gotten to the point, before I began taking Orgatone, where I couldn't eat or sleep to do any good and you may know I was going down hill fast. I had been troubled with indigestion and rheumatism for over five years. I would belch up my food, sour, and undigested and couldn't retain and digest enough of what I ate to give me any strength. I had to cut everything with grease in it and be very careful about my diet. I would have severe aching pains from rheumatism which hurt me all the time. The gas on my stomach made my heart flutter and I was often very dizzy. I was in such a condition I would just roll and tumble at night and couldn't sleep and consequently I got no rest scarcely at all.

"I was influenced by local testimonials and the advice of a friend to try Orgatone and now I feel like a different man. I had the best treatment and took all kinds of medicines, but I was getting worse every day, but Orgatone just seemed to be exactly what I needed and has pulled me right out of my troubles. I eat just as well and everything I want now and digest it and sleep fine. I have no more gas on my stomach, no palpitation of the heart or rheumatic aches. I had very little faith in Orgatone, but when I did start I made up my mind to take a full course and give it a fair chance. Well, I have now taken two of my six bottles and I am ready to say I don't doubt anything others say it has done for them, for it certainly has done the work for me. It's a pleasure to endorse such a medicine and I gladly recommend it to anyone suffering as I did."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific bile preparation and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store, who are direct laboratory agents. Adv.

Charges Made In Baptist Confab

DENVER, June 19. (AP)—Charging that the present activity and development of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America was jeopardizing the fellowship of cooperative unity of the Northern Baptist convention constituency, Judge F. W. Freeman of Denver today exploded the fundamentalist bombshell which has hung over the convention since its start here.

Judge Freeman, a leader of local fundamentalists, asserted that "Baptists cannot be other than disturbed and irritated by the assumption that formal Christian Union is a consummation to be sought, and the corollary to this that protestantism would strengthen and enlarge its contribution to the kingdom in a formal union, more effectively than through denominational channels."

Coccons stored in Japan at one time recently were valued at $2,500,000.
