Trial of the Kellys is set for next Monday.

Kathryn Kelly, attractively dressed, smiled occasionally during the proceedings. Her husband, accused as one of the actual kidnapers of Urschel, appeared nervous.

Kelly was represented by James H. Mathers, attorney who defended Harvey Bailey in the kidnaping case, and Mrs. Kelly's attorney was John Roberts, who she contacted while she was still a fugitive to defend her mother, Mrs. R. G. Shannon.

He addressed manufacturers and advertisers throughout the country, noting the end of the "flat wallet era" and urging full cooperation in the "now is the time to buy" drive officially set to start Monday.

Johnson's move to increase credit velocity was intended chiefly to help industry meet NRA's higher payrolls, but it blended smoothly with President Roosevelt's determined efforts to expand credit and boost farm prices.

Erroneous Use Of Process Tax Cited

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—George N. Peek, farm administrator, said today the cotton processing tax of 4.2 cents a pound is being erroneously employed by retailers as an excuse for "large mark-ups in prices of retail cotton goods."

ALLEGED PLOT TO DISFIGURE ACTOR PROBED

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5— A reported plot to disfigure John Warburton, film actor, so that he could no longer appear in motion pictures, was to be considered by the Los Angeles grand jury today.

Witnesses subpoenaed included Alice White, featured film actress; Sidney Bartlett, her fiance; Dave Miller, former Chicago boxing referee; and Martin Block and Russell B. Brown, film extras held on robbery charges.

Detective Lieutenants S. S. Stone, Earl Kynette and W. M. Robinson said Block and Brown signed a statement asserting Bartlett told them he wished to have Warburton's face disfigured because the English actor had slapped Miss White and purportedly made uncomplimentary remarks about her.

"It's a lot of rot," said Bartlett.

"It's absurd and ridiculous," said Miss White.

The reputed confession said Block and Brown were responsible for the recent attack upon Warburton during which he was robbed of $25. It added the robbery was only incidental to the beating and asserted they were paid $50 for battering the actor. The pair said they understood part of the money came from Miss White, a former friend of Warburton.

"Every person in my profession is always open to humiliating and distressing charges," said Miss White, "but this is the most dastardly attack of the kind I have ever heard."

Bartlett said, "I am man enough to fight my own battles."

Detectives reported Warburton suspected some sinister motive behind the attack upon him and identified Brown and Block as his assailants.

Miller was named by the arrested men as having introduced Block and Bartlett.

Scout Nursery Is House Of 'Wailing'

The Girl Scout Little House at the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds might well have been designated the "wailing house" Wednesday when a record number of people attended the fair. For, in addition to the 76 babies who were registered in the nursery, 49 lost children were cared for by the Scouts.

All day long and far into the night Scouts, nurses and the adult director, Miss Alma Girand, cared for babies and children and many of them were not at all happy over their trip to the exposition.

Little boys over six years of age were taken to the Boy Scout headquarters when they became lost. Smaller children and girls up to 11 years of age were kept at the Girl Scout nursery, which is maintained as a service to mothers and babies who visit the fair.

Since there were so many children to be cared for, the Girl Scouts abandoned their plan to stay at the nursery in shifts and spent the day there.

This is the second year that the Scouts have had a free nursery.

HUGHES SEEKS RELIEF PLAN

PROGRAM TO RELIEVE LABOR TROUBLE IN VALLEY SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Maury Hughes, Texas state NRA chairman, after a conference with Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, said he was promised that a plan would be worked out to relieve labor difficulties in the Rio Grande valley arising out of the fact that the relief administration pays a minimum wage of 30 cents an hour, considerably more than paid under NRA authority for common labor in the work of rehibilitating the storm area.

As the situation stands, the Texan said rehabilitation wages "cannot compete" with a minimum set by Hopkins' administration and persons on relief rolls were refusing to work for less than 30 cents an hour. Hughes therefore asked Hopkins to strike from the rolls those who declined work when offered, even though at a lower rate than 30 cents.

Hughes said he told NRA officials that he was not yet able to say how long the present suspension of common labor provisions in the Rio Grande valley should be maintained. The suspension would be kept in force, he added, until the work of rehabilitation was completed.

Now! A Quicker Way to Ease Pain

Here is quicker relief from pain—the fastest safe relief, it is said, ever known. This is due to a scientific discovery by which BAYER Aspirin starts "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass here tells the story. A Bayer tablet starts to disintegrate or dissolve—go to work—almost instantly. This means quick relief from pain—fewer lost hours from headache, neuritis, rheumatism. And safe relief. For genuine Bayer Aspirin does not harm the heart.

When you buy, see that you get the genuine Bayer Aspirin. The best way is never to ask for aspirin by the name "aspirin" alone. But if you want Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always to say "BAYER Aspirin."

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

If every man, woman and child who have called the Texas Tech coaches' office this week go to Friday night's game, there's going to be a scramble for good seats. There is also going to be a big crowd. It has been published fifteen or three times already, but here it is again: Season tickets, or coupon books purchased before the SMU game or later, ARE GOOD for tomorrow night's performance, and single game admission tickets for the game cost ONE DOLLAR, tax included, and are on sale down town at the J. J. Sporting goods company. So please don't ring the telephone off the wall out at the athletic office. It was a pretty good telephone up to this week.

These season coupon books, about 300 of which have been sold and about 200 of which remain to be sold, are good for any home game in which a Tech football team engages. That includes about three freshman games in addition to half a dozen varsity contests.

A couple of days prior to Tech's battle with the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, Bill Parker, Associated Press scribe for Texas, cluttered up a piece of white paper with a long sketch dealing with the Matadors and their vigorous training habits and personal clubhouse routine. It told about the rough and tough practice schedule imposed on the Matadors and the very un-sissy training rules.

That story, following last Friday night's exhibition here, has prompted Victor Davis, Dallas News scribe, to jot down a couple of par-agiraffes which have been clipped and mailed by James F. Cunningham, who writes the accompanying note:

"Dear Sport Editor:

"A clipping from the Dallas News. This will be good reading for your big he-men, but we are quite sure that you will not find space in your good sport column to publish this. But in case you do, don't overlook the soap.

Yours very truly,
J. F. C."

The clipping in question, with the heading, "They Weren't So Tough," follows:

"The rather amusing yarns from Lubbock about how tough Pete Cawthon's big he-men at Texas Tech were as they got ready to run over Mr. Ray Morrison's Mustangs are even more funny to both the S. M. U. mentor and his players following their 14 to 0 decision over the Westerners. One advance story stated that Cawthon barred soap from the Matador dressing room as 'only softies used it to clean themselves.'

"The jubilant Mustangs in a general conference Saturday morning petitioned Assistant Athletic Director Jimmie Stewart to ship the Matadors a case of fine soap with their compliments. The tag they requested attached to the cleansing material was witty and biting, but of somewhat libelous nature. Hence it won't be repeated here."

It may be too late to do anything about it now, but Coach Thad Murley of Spur wants a football game tomorrow afternoon. A game tentatively booked with the Lubbock High school Cowhands has been called off, and the Spur Bulldogs need a contest. If there are any Class B teams with an open date tomorrow, they might contact Coach Murley and make arrangements.

From Lovington, N. M., comes the following note with the request that it be printed herein:

"Lovington High school scored two touchdowns to defeat Carlsbad High, 12 to 0, on their own field Friday afternoon. With a 9 to 6 victory over Seagraves and a scoreless tie with Roswell High, Lovington will invade El Paso for a tilt with Bowie High next Saturday."

Kerley Again First To Pay His Taxes

J. W. Kerley of near Lubbock appeared at the office of Hurley Carpenter, tax collector Monday and again was the first person to pay taxes of the year.

"Mr. Kerley for several years has been the first man to pay taxes," Mr. Carpenter said. "He generally gets down here at the opening hour on the first day and pays his taxes."

First poll tax payment went to R. C. Richardson, also of Lubbock. Receipt No. 2 was made out to Mrs. Emma Richardson. Mr. Kerley it was explained, is exempt because he has passed the age limit.

Last year 3,716 poll tax receipts were issued. Mr. Carpenter said the record as far as he could determine was in 1931 when approximately 7,800 receipts were issued.

LARGE CROWDS SEE RACING CARD HERE

W. O. EUBANKS' JODIE ATKINS SETS PACE IN WEDNESDAY RACES

W. O. Eubanks' Jodie Atkins, an 8-year-old sorrel, ridden by Doss Fulcher, set the pace in yesterday's race program at the Panhandle-South Plains fair.

One of the largest crowds ever to see a sports event in Lubbock packed the grandstands and bleachers and lined both sides of the quarter-mile track to see yesterday's bill of five snappy shows. It was estimated that about 7,000 people saw the program.

Races are held each afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock and are free to fair visitors. The quarter-mile track, L-shaped, is fast and in good shape, and the horses are given every opportunity to show plenty of speed.

A Length Ahead

Eubanks' horse, which finished second in a free-for-all on Monday, came home half a length ahead of Driftwood, the favorite, in the fifth and feature race of the afternoon, a quarter-mile free-for-all for a $50 purse. The time was 23.6 seconds. Driftwood, which ran second in Tuesday's event, was neck and neck 50 yards from the finish, when Jodie Atkins' pilot pushed the 4-year-old sorrel aside and swept to a finish. Foreign Relation, a 4-year-old bay horse, owned and ridden by Doc Bloss, was third. Driftwood is owned and ridden by H. H. Robinson.

Clay Putnam rode his Shorty, a slight bay pony, to victory in the first race, a shetland pony affair carrying a $10 purse. Tarzan, a paint 3-year-old owned and ridden by George Smith, was second and Doyle McLeod's Patsy, a young paint, was third.

Here's A Race

Mighty Does, a brown 2-year-old horse owned by J. W. Ray of Cisco and ridden by B. Ray, shot around the track in a nift race for 2-year-olds to beat Miss Baker, a black mare owned by W. F. Hudman and ridden by Harry Lindsey. Dutch Vinta, a sorrel horse, owned and ridden by Doc Bloss, finished third. Mighty Does made it in 24.1 seconds.

In the "kids" pony race, Eddy Kelly piloted the Mullins and Peters 3-year-old black mare, Topsy, to victory over Kediver and Trixie, paints owned by G. T. Cartwright and ridden by Jack and Bud Cartwright. Both have been entered in previous races, Topsy having won the event Tuesday after running second to Smokie, J. W. Lester's dun 2-year-old, on Monday. Smokie was not entered yesterday. Topsy's time was 25.4 seconds.

C. B. Priddy's Niggar, a 10-year-old black horse, ridden by Earl Wilson, pounded to victory in the saddle horse free for all. Miss Cruder, a 3-year-old bay mare, owned by Bill Till and ridden by Doc Bloss, was second and Gray Sis, a 5-year-old gray mare owned and ridden by John Christian, was third. L. H. Redwine's Trixie and W. H. Richardson's Baby Doll also ran. Niggar's time was 25.1 seconds.

FOOTBALL FIREWORKS ARE EXPECTED IN THREE CLASHES

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—If football history should happen to repeat itself this Saturday, look for scoring fireworks at Athens, Ga., Fayetteville, Ark., and Portland, Ore.

At those three widely-spaced points, there will be a renewal of three of last season's wildest and wooliest touchdown parades so far as major schools are concerned.

At Athens it will be another meeting of Georgia's Bulldogs and the Green Wave of Tulane; Texas Christian and Arkansas will stage their Southwest conference clash at Fayetteville; at Portland, Oregon State of the Pacific coast conference will take on that sturdy non-conference foe, Gonzaga.

Of these, Georgia and Tulane put on the greatest show last year. Paced by the great back, Don Zimmerman, Tulane finally won a titanic struggle, 34-25. The Green Wave has no Zimmerman this year nor any substitute to replace him and the defeat by Texas A. and M. last week augurs not too well for Tulane's chances against Georgia.

Although Arkansas was a tail-ender in the Southwest conference in 1932, the Razorbacks did give Texas Christian, later crowned champion of the circuit, a great battle before surrendering, 34-12.

Gonzaga fought Oregon State to a 19-16 score and probably will cause trouble again although the Spokane outfit already has dropped decisions to Washington and Oregon, both by two-touchdown margins.

Golfers on the course at Jinja, near Lake Victoria, East Africa, are allowed to remove balls from hippopotamus tracks without penalty.

Senators Tackle Desperate Task

MORALE SHOWS SIGNS OF DECAYING WHEN BATS SILENCED

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Slightly shell-shocked, Joe Cronin and his Washington Senators today tackeled a problem that in its baseball way was as desperate as any the capitol legislators are accustomed to wrestle with.

Their big guns silenced, hitting power lost, strayed or stolen, pitchers battered and morale showing signs of decay, the American league champions took a deep breath of home air and set out to do something desperate about these amazing Giants in the third game of the world series.

First Loss Not Surprising

When Carl Hubbell, the master of the left handed screw ball, polished the Senators off in the opening of the annual conflict in the Polo grounds Tuesday, allowing but five hits in a 4 to 2 victory, neither the Senators nor anyone else who knew the Oklahoman's record of 10 shutouts in 24 league victories this year was genuinely surprised.

But when Hal Schumacher, the 22-year-old boy so fresh from the St. Lawrence university campus that the signature on his college degree is only four months old, handcuffed them for the second time yesterday, cut their allowance to one run on the same measly ration of five hits and then joined in a sixth inning burst that brought all the Giants runs in a 6 to 1 conquest, the situation became genuinely acute.

For one thing, never in the history of these post season engagements has a team ever been able to come from behind in a seven game series to win the world championship after losing the first two contests. It was done once when the series had a nine game limit, and called for five victories instead of four, the Giants beating the Yankees under those conditions in 1921.

Whitehill To Pitch

In this distressing emergency, half the series lost, Cronin called today upon Earl Whitehill, his best southpaw, for the first of three games in the Griffith stadium. His first southpaw choice, little Wally Stewart, lasted less than three innings in the opening game, but this was no time for quibbling about little things like that. "General" Alvin Crowder, the right hand wheelhorse of the Senators' staff whom most of the experts thought should have started the first game, took an even more ferocious beating yesterday.

In line with his policy of open air master-minding, Bill Terry named portly Fred Fitzsimmons, the knuckle ball veteran, as the Giants' pitcher. In fact Terry nominated him for this game, just as he chose Hubbell for the first and Schumacher for the second, soon after the National league flag was clinched. So far he's had absolutely no regrets.

Giants Confident

On special trains the Athletes, their followers, and the experts flowed into the capital last night to find cloudiness and a threat of rain hanging over a populace so disappointed that some of the Washington players may have wondered if they were going to be allowed to land. The American league champions rode home in bitter, discouraged silence. The Giants, transformed, like old Mike McTigue, into savage punchers at the end of the campaign, were a boisterous, confident lot, shouting that they'd end the series certainly in four straight games.

"Hey", said Blondy John Ryan, the shortstop, "they hit like we're supposed to, and we hit like everyone told us they did. Heh, heh! I'm for that."

Certainly the Senators, even the Yankees of the home run boom days, rarely turned in a rally more lengthy, impressive, and possessed of more finality, than did the Giants yesterday when they fell upon Crowder in the sixth.

Goslin Hits Homer

For five innings the 32-year-old "General," all season long a one man fire brigade answering Cronin's alarms, held the National league titleholders to two bare singles in a tense duel with Schumacher, ten years his junior. Old "Goose" Goslin had flared back to his sensational home run hitting of the 1924 and 1925 series with a belt into the upper right field stands in the third for the only score up to the sixth.

As wise baseball men worked it over later, a prolonged but fruitless struggle with Schumacher in the sixth, when he was in grave danger, might have had something to do with Crowder's downfall. It took fifteen minutes for Goslin to get his second hit, a single to center, for Heinie Manush to walk, both move up on a wild pitch, Cronin to foul out, Goslin to get run down between third and home on Fred Schulte's grounder, Joe Kuhel to walk and Ossie Bluege to strike out desparingly, ending it all with the bases full.

Crowder "Cooled Off"

Perhaps Crowder "cooled out" in that interval. Anyway, when he started the sixth his speed ball and fast curve no longer ducked across the plate so swiftly that the Giants as in the early innings, swung late, popped up, or grounded out. Whatever happened, the results filled 34,461 despairing hearts with new hope, then amazement, and finally with as wild excitement as ever flowed through the Polo grounds.

Young Joe Moore, Terry's right fielder, banged the first pitch into right, but he was forced at second on Hughie Critz attempted sacrifice. Terry doubled, Ott, home run hero of the first game, walked.

At that moment, with the stands in a frenzy, Terry chose to follow one of the most profitable hunches of his career. He sent Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, National league champion in 1932, up to hit for George Davis. O'Doul, a substitute since coming to the Giants in mid-season from Brooklyn, has been "Lucky" hitting in Schumacher's games. He seems to get runs for the youngster.

Hunch Works

He got him two right there, with a single that streaked past Crowder and into center field, after a foul tip that would have been his third strike if it had not bounced out of Luke Sewell's glove. After that even the Yankees could have done no better.

Travis Jackson hit, then Gus Mancuso, slowest of the Giants, transformed the excitement into hyteria with a perfect squeeze bunt that scoured O'Doul and brought him safe to first himself. Ryan fanned, but Schumacher singled, Moore hit for the second time, Critz singled, and the thing did not end until Terry grounded into a force play. In all the Giants made eight hits.

GIANTS ANSWER TO NATIONAL LEAGUE PRAYER

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. —(AP) —For years during the "big drouth" with the American league taking five out of six successive world series engagements, National league men have been looking for a "fighting team," a pennant winner that would go into the championship fray with plenty of confidence and the pitching antidote for rival slugging.

Pepper Martin and the Cardinals broke the spell in 1931 but last October it was another rout for the National league and the defeat of the older circuit in the all-star game at Chicago last July did not make it any easier for John Arnold Heydler and his associates. From a source whence they least expected the tide to be turned, New York's 1933 model of the Giants stood out today as the answer to long-suppressed hopes — a fighting team with unconquerable spirit and great pitching.

Need Two More Wins

Fortunes may switch with the change of battleground but all the Giants have to do is win two more games, out of a maximum of five left to be played. It would seem now that nothing short of a miracle can stop Bill Terry's club from completing the greatest upset of baseball dope since the Boston Braves dashed from last place to a clean sweep in the 1914 world series. Allowing the normal output of only one "miracle" to a single world series, the Giants have already achieved it.

The Giants came to the capital neither to see the sights nor debate the issue, but to make it four straight. At no time has the thought entered the heads of this amazing team that it would fail to win. They were sure they would capture the pennant, when the experts still were skeptical. They have now become convinced the Senators cannot stop them.

Banks On Pitching

"Pitching," repeats Bill Terry, "will predominate and the Giants have the pitching."

If the Giants make it three straight today, with Freddy Fitzsimmons opposing Earl Whitehill, they hope their ace southpaw Carl Hubbell will be rested and ready to try for a deciding victory tomorrow. They would like to give Carl a shutout triumph as a crowning touch and make amends for their sloppy fielding in the first game.

The most financially hard-pressed National league club owner would readily waive the profits accruing to baseball from prolonged world series play if assured that the Giants could make it four straight and avenge the humiliation heaped upon the elder circuit by the Yankees in recent years.

Senators In Slump

The Senators have been back on their heels for a number of reasons since the series started. Their own pitchers have fallen below expectations while the Giant hurlers, Hubbell and Schumacher, have lived up to the gaudiest of advance notices. The American leaguers' have failed to deliver anything like real hitting in the pinches, whereas the Giants have been tearing the cover off the ball with onslaughts that surprised even themselves.

So far all the "breaks" and "hunches" have favored the Giants. Hubbell's feat of fanning the first three batsmen in the opening game was a severe jolt to the Nats' pride in their batting. Then came yesterday's sensational sixth inning and a six-run drive featuring the entry of Lefty O'Doul with a decisive hit, with the bases full, and the "squeeze play" engineered by Gus Mancuso. Both had a damaging psychological effect upon the morale of the Senators, at least for the time being, and both testified to Bill Terry's quick-wittedness.

Before the series began, Cronin remarked: "We respect O'Doul's hitting ability as much as that of any player on the Giants not excepting Mel Ott."

MATADORS AND REBELS PLAY ON FRIDAY

DIXIE TEAM EXPECTS TO UPSET DOPE AND WIN OVER TECH

Coach Nick Dobbs' Dixie university Rebels are due to arrive in Lubbock early tomorrow morning for their battle at the Tech field with Coach Pete Cawthon's Matadors Friday night.

Undaunted by the dope that makes the Matadors slight favorites or by the loss of their star halfback, Jodie Whire, the Rebels are marching on Lubbock for no other purpose than to boot the Matadors to another defeat.

If weight and hope count for anything, the Rebels, formerly the Jefferson university Rangers, might take the Tech gridders down a notch or two. Coach Nick Dobbs, former mentor at Highland Park High school in Dallas, has gathered a hefty set of experienced men around him this fall.

See A "Double-Header"

Reports from the Dixie football field have it that Coach Dobbs will start his "shock troops" against the Matadors. This means that a "double header," as it were, is scheduled, since it is Coach Cawthon's custom to send in his shockers for the first quarter, and sometimes for the first half.

There is the possibility that Cawthon might pull a surprise and send in his first stringers, which might prove somewhat embarrassing to the visitors. At any rate, Dobbs is running two complete teams against each other in heavy scrimmage this week. The same thing, only with about four complete teams, is going on out Matador way.

The Rebel team will average close to 185 pounds, according to available weights. On Dobbs' front line are Livingston, 200-pound left tackle from the University of Georgia; Sanders, a 195-pound center who used to play at De Paul university. Right tackle is Wheeler, a 205-pound gent from the University of Chicago.

Quarterback From Belleaire

In Minnehan, a 160-pound man from Belleaire, Dobbs has a quarterback that is said to be plenty good. F. B. Bird, a 195-pound fullback from the University of Georgia, is supposed to be a dangerous man. Cook, a 155-pound halfback, also comes from Georgia university.

TICKETS GO FAST

Down town season football tickets to Texas Tech's home games, on sale at the J. & J. Sporting goods company store until Friday at noon, will be good for Friday night's game here between Texas Tech and Dixie university, Tech officials have announced. Persons holding season tickets or coupon books will be admitted to the game and their regular reserve seat Friday. Persons holding coupon books but who have not selected a permanent seat are requested to call at the store and have tickets marked today.

All grandstand seats are reserved for Friday night, and reserved tickets are on sale at the sporting goods store until 3 o'clock Friday, after which they will go on sale at the gate at 6:30 o'clock. Season tickets or coupon books provide admittance to all of Tech's home games, as well as to all the freshmen games played here.

Cubs' President Taken By Death

WILLIAM VEECK DIES THIS MORNING AT A CHICAGO HOSPITAL

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)— William Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs, died at 7:45 a. m. (Central Standard time) today at St. Luke's hospital where he had been suffering from leucemia, an excess of white corpuscles in the blood.

The death of the veteran baseball official occurred shortly after his physician, Dr. Leo C. Clowes, said his condition had taken a definite turn for the worse.

Oxygen Administered

Veeck entered the hospital several days ago and his condition was considered critical from the start. Oxygen was administered yesterday when his difficulty in breathing caused his heart to be taxed and his temperature to rise.

During his illness Mrs. Veeck, William L. Veeck, jr., and Miss Margaret Veeck took turns watching at the bedside.

Sharp reportorial wit, backed by a keen sense of constructive criticism, lifted William Louis Veeck from the press box into the front office of the Chicago Cubs as president and one of the outstanding executives of the national pastime.

As a writer, he made the fans shake their heads and laugh at the mistakes of the club; as its leader, he made it one of the most popular teams and drawing cards in baseball.

Criticized Team

It was back in 1918, when the White Sox were the baseball idols of Chicago, and the Cubs were regarded as just another ball club despite a National league pennant during that war torn year, that "Bill" Veeck got his chance. A baseball writer under the name of "Bill Bailey" for the Chicago American he had written a series of articles, criticizing the team and making suggestions for its improvement.

The late William Wrigley, jr., who had just purchased a controlling interest in the team, read the articles and called Veeck into his office.

"If you think you can do any better, then why don't you try it?" he asked.

"All right, I will," shot back the baseball writer.

And he did. At owner Wrigley's request, he became vice president of the Cubs on December 8, 1918, second in command to Fred Mitchell, who was named president in addition to active managership on the playing field. On July 6, 1919, Mitchell surrendered the presidency to the enterprising baseball writer-executive and confined his attention to managing the team.

Tried New Ideas

Veeck's career as president of the club was featured by his willingness and eagerness to try new ideas. He convinced owner Wrigley of the value of advertising. He suggested ladies' day, which drew 20,000 women weekly to the northside park, and he suggested the purchase of several players despite price tags that made the Cub board of directors gasp. New ideas were with him to the end. Toward the close of the 1933 season, he came out with the proposal that the National and American league clubs play interleague series during their regular championship season.

It was Veeck, who brought Joe McCarthy to the Cubs as manager and who fought for his retention and against the elevation of Rogers Hornsby from player to manager. It was Veeck, who braved the criticism of fans and writers in dismissing Hornsby as manager in 1932, and who gave Charlie Grimm the job, a move that ultimately resulted in the capture of the second National league pennant within three years for the Cubs. It was Veeck, too, who convinced Wrigley that Rogers Hornsby was worth $250,000 in cash and players back in 1929. Under Veeck's leadership, the Cubs paid probably the highest salaries in organized baseball. Under him, the Cubs never had a real holdout.

WILLIAM VEECK

CUBS ONE DOWN IN CITY SERIES

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—Chicago's Cubs, favorites in the city series with the White Sox, hoped to redeem themselves with their backers today after taking a 3-2 beating in the opening encounter.

Lon Warneke probably will be on the mound for the Cubs. Manager Lew Fonseca has elected Ed Durham to do the Sox hurling.

The White Sox blasted Guy Bush for four hits and three runs in the second inning yesterday and it proved enough to give them the game. Manager Grimm's Cubs hit Sad Sam Jones for six hits, getting a run in the fourth and ninth innings. Bush and Nelson allowed nine hits.

There is no scientific difference between a pigeon and a dove; the latter term is used usually in reference to the smaller type of this group of birds.

LUBBOCK HIGH TEAM OFF TO SWEETWATER

WESTERNERS TO FACE MUSTANGS IN GAME FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Lubbock Westerners, 25 strong, and Coaches Weldon Chapman and Burl Huffman depart today for Sweetwater where tomorrow afternoon they meet the district champions of that section, the Sweetwater High school Mustangs.

Apparently fairly well satisfied with the offensive display of his squad against Ranger, and with last year's Sweetwater game in his mind, Coach Chapman has put heavy emphasis this week on a defense designed to stop the sweeping end runs and off-tackle drives of the Mustangs secondary that razzle-dazzled the Westerners last year, and, incidentally, the Abilene high team last Friday. According to scouting reports, the Sweetwater team used the "same old stuff" last week that carried them to a district title in '32.

Hard Work Yesterday

Another dummy scrimmage against Sweetwater plays, punt and kickoff practice, and intensive work on play assignments were included in yesterday's drill.

Coach Chapman announced the following men would make the trip to Sweetwater: Ends, Calhoun, Griggs, Whitehorn and Vermillion; tackles, Wimberly, Doherty, White and Speer; guards, Hodges, Phillips, Aycock, Eaton and Barnes; centers, Young and Jenkins; halves, Ryan, Haley, Granbury, and Bundy; quarter, Hale and Alderson; fulls, Newton, Meador and Simmons.

Vergil Griner, regular halfback, will not make the trip because of injuries received in the Big Spring game.

Coach Chapman, who was confined to his bed all day Tuesday, ambled about the practice field yesterday afternoon but took no active part in the proceedings. Coach Huffman directed the squad through the workout, with the head coach looking on and offering no suggestions. His condition, although much improved, would not allow physical or vocal activity.

GOODRICH LIFE-SAVER GOLDEN PLY SALES TRIPLE!

NATION SWAMPS DEALERS WITH DEMAND FOR NEW TIRE—3 TIMES SAFER FROM BLOW-OUTS

No Extra Cost for this amazing Goodrich invention

SOMETHING had to be done! Year after year, thousands and thousands of people were being killed or injured when blow-outs threw cars out of control. Every single day tragic accounts of blow-out accidents were appearing in the daily newspapers throughout the country.

"Give us a safer tire," car owners fairly pleaded. "We want blow-out protection," tire buyers insisted.

Goodrich engineers went to work. In secret. For 14 months. Then came the big news. News of the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. News of a 3-times-safer tire that would save thousands of lives—that would stand up under terrific speeds.

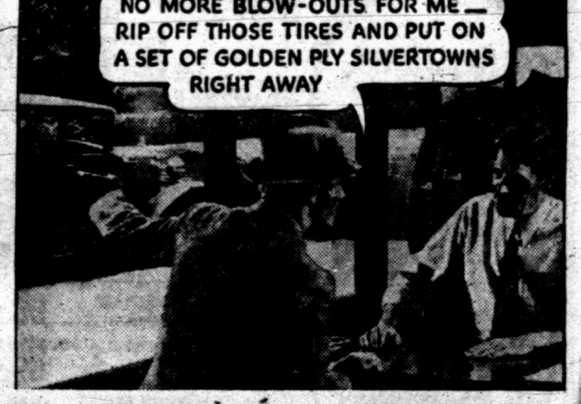

Hundreds of thousands of motorists have flocked to this new kind of tire. In the last 12 weeks the sale of Goodrich Silvertowns has tripled over the same weeks of 1932. The Goodrich factory is working night and day to keep up with the demand for this 3-times-safer tire.

When the speedometer reads 40, 50 and 60, mile after mile, the heat inside the tire becomes terrific—rubber and fabric begin to separate. A blister starts . . . And grows . . . Until BANG! A blow-out!

To protect you from blow-outs, every new Goodrich Safety Silvertown has the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This invention resists heat—rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus blisters don't form inside the tire. The cause of blow-outs is eliminated before they start.

Isn't it better to be safe than to be sorry? Put a set of Goodrich Safety Silvertowns on your car NOW. They cost not a penny more than standard tires.

This insignia indicates that the Goodrich Company complies fully with the President's blanket code.

TWO GAMES TO BE TONIGHT

MITCHELL'S CAFE AND HUIE-RIBBLE WIN FIRST TILTS

Another double bill is offered Lubbock indoor baseball fans tonight when the Avalanche-Journal team tangles with the Peoples Ice company club and Lydick Roofing company meets the Federal Employees at the Auditorium.

The first game of tonight's double header is scheduled at 7:30 o'clock. The second will follow at about 9:30 o'clock. A musical program, provided by Ned Bradley's orchestra, is booked for the interim between games.

Season Opened

Opening the indoor season last night, Huie-Ribble and Mitchell's Cafe teams defeated J. C. Penney and the J. & J. Sporting goods clubs respectively before a large opening night crowd. All games are played at the amusement hall on Texas Avenue, formerly known as the Uptown Dance palace, now the Auditorium, which now is under the management of Sled Allen, former baseball manager here.

The Huie-Ribble team, champions of the ten-club American softball league during the summer outdoor season, went wild in the fourth inning to bat around three times, score 16 runs in that frame and bury the J. C. Penney club, new to the softball ranks, 41 to 14.

Mitchel's Cafe drubbed the Sports, winners in the National softball league and champions of the Lubbock Softball association, 10 to 7 in a more conservative game.

Have Big Time

Playing with a larger ball than was used in the outdoor season, and on an indoor diamond with bases and base lines painted on the floor, the teams had a merry time of it last night. Dressed in official uniforms which added color to the games, the players hustled over the hardwood as if a world series championship depended upon the outcome.

The lineups last night:

First game:

Huie-Ribble—Wilson, 3b; Sollis, p; Dowell, 1b; Brooks, ss; Stewart, c; Tatum, lf; Pullem, cf; Martin, rf; Lawson, 2b.

Second game.

INTRODUCING THE TECH MATADORS

LARRY "LEFTY" SOLLIS — When this left-handed, body twisting slick-hipped halfback gets loose in anything like an open field, it's another case of too bad for Texas Tech's opponents. Although not the fastest man on the club, Sollis can move his 155 pounds around with amazing alacrity and puzzling twists. He's 22 years old, stands 5 feet 11 inches high and is playing his third and last year on the Tech varsity. A star at Sherman High school on the teams of 1928 and 1929, Sollis is considered one of the most valuable backfield men of the squad. He sees service in every game. His left-handed passing and kicking come in for a lot of attention.

SAM "SAD SAM" JONES — On the Ballinger High school teams of 1928, 1929 and 1930 was a heavyset, line-busting fullback who not only grabbed all-district honors twice but who was an all-stater from Abilene High school in 1931. "Sad Sam" stood out as one of the brightest prospects on the Tech freshman team last fall, and this season finds him playing the right end position on the varsity team. He is 21 years old, weighs 183 pounds and stands six feet high. One of the best blockers on the team and a good pass-snatcher, Jones is due to see a lot of service on the squad this year and for the next two seasons.

PIGEONS RACE AIRPLANES

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Practically a "dead heat" resulted when groups of homing pigeons, released in Chicago and Dallas, raced modern airplanes to Kansas City. The birds, whose "cruising speed" was estimated at 65 miles per hour, were given a four-hour start on the planes with their 175 m. p. h rating.

U. S.-ALASKA ROAD STRETCHING 2,000 MILES URGED TO OPEN UP NEW SCENIC WONDERLAND; APPROVAL IS ASKED

If the United States government approves the project and funds are obtained, a 2,000 mile road eventually will link Alaska and United States. The highway has been recommended by a commission of Americans and Canadians, and funds for the Alaskan part of it are being sought from the public works administration. Map shows the route from Seattle to Fairbanks, and below is the scenic Fraser River Canyon road between Hope and Lytton, British Columbia, which would be incorporated.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Proponents of the Pacific-Yukon highway, the proposed 2,000 mile road linking Alaska and the United States, are pressing for governmental approval of the project that would make more accessible one of America's "last frontiers."

Anthony J. Dimond, delegate to congress from Alaska, has asked the public works administration for an allotment of $2,000,000 to finance the Alaskan section of the highway. Diamond also is seeking President Roosevelt's approval of the project, which has been recommended as feasible by the United States commissioners appointed to cooperate with Canadian representatives in studying the plan.

Open New Territory

Advocates of the highway say it would open to motorists a new scenic wonderland, to farm settlers rich acres in areas hitherto inaccessible and to miners an opportunity to develop one of the richest mineral storehouses on the North American continent.

The American members of the commission report that the advantages to be derived from a highway extending from Seattle to Fairbanks "are obviously more than commensurate with the cost."

They also say it would foster air commerce with Alaska by furnishing a guiding landmark and by providing service to aviators along the most practicable flying route to the interior of the territory and to Asia.

Thousands of motorists in quest of the new and picturesque in touring territory would travel the Alaskan road every year, it is believed.

Surveys place the highway to the east of the coast mountain range, where climatic conditions are such that snowfall is comparatively light, and if traffic justified the highway could be kept open the year round.

The estimated cost of constructing the Canadian section of the highway is $11,990,000, while that of the Alaska section is figured at only $1,970,000.

God Of Beer Saved From French Pond

CHALON-SUR- SAONE, France, (AP)—A fine Gallo-Roman monument to Sucellus, the god of beer, has been found in a pond at Saint-Jean-des-Vignes.

A hybrid deity, half Celtic, half Gaul, the duty of Sucellus was to watch the beverage from the grain to the barrel.

Horse Increases In Numbers In Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 5 (AP)—The advance of motor traffic in Sweden has by no means meant extinction of the horse. In fact, according to a report at the national meeting of the Swedish Association of Saddlers, Harness-makers, and Upholsterers, the horse is increasing in numbers.

In 1902 Sweden had 542,158 horses and 25 years later about 653,000, not including army horses and those in the city of Stockholm. The ancient trade of saddle and harness making has suffered considerably from the depression, but bright times are now discernable, it was pointed out at the meeting.

Live minnows can be kept by placing them in running water of the same temperature as that from which they were obtained and feeding them on bread crumbs and soft scraps.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

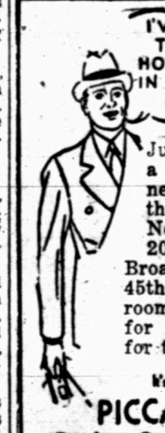

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. 25¢ at drug stores.

Refuse "something just as good" for it may gripe, loosen teeth or scald rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. © 1933, C.M.Co.

Nearer The Light

That there is in America a certain amount of disillusionment about the NRA program cannot be denied. The scheme hasn't brought the millenium overnight. It hasn't restored prosperity as fast as some of us dared to hope. It hasn't returned men to work at the rate we would like to see them returning.

Nevertheless, it is worth remembering that its accomplishments are very genuine and very much worth while. President Green of the A. F. of L. points out, for example, that there has been a 20 per cent reduction in unemployment since March. In August fully 815,000 wage earners returned to work; the indications are that the first part of September will show an even better percentage of improvement.

In other words, if we aren't out of the woods yet we are a whole lot nearer the edge than we were before. It's too bad that unemployment hasn't been reduced by more than one-fifth; on the other hand, it is exceedingly fine that even that much of a reduction has been made.

WHEN Congress gathers in its next session one of the most important problems confronting it will be to change—or not to change—our system of electing presidents and vice-presidents.

Certain powerful members of the house and senate are seeking to put presidential and vice-presidential elections upon a popular vote basis, rather than following the present system of electoral votes, based upon each state's representation in Congress.

To The Plainsman, as well as to many another citizen, the suggested change is not only fair and practicable, but would make for better political conditions the country over.

Most everyone will admit that the country was pretty well fed up on Republican rule in the last campaign and did not come anywhere near wishing a return to office of Messrs. Hoover and Curtis.

Yet had the GOP nominees received 2.2 percent, or 881,000 more votes in certain close states, they would have been returned to office last November in spite of the fact that the Roosevelt-Garner ticket would still have had a popular lead of five million votes!

That makes the present electoral college system look pretty punk to the American who still clings to the old idea that the majority should rule.

FOR many years—perhaps for generations as far as that goes—folks have been believing that "people who live in glass houses should not throw stones but should pull down the shades". Now, however, the old saw has been consigned to the ash heap through a new patent recently taken out in Washington.

The inventor has concocted a type of glass through which persons inside a house may see clearly—just as clearly, in fact, as we can see through window panes now in use.

But through a scientific method of deflecting light rays, those on the outside cannot see in, any more than they can look through a brick wall.

As a result, the new type of glass house promoted by various engineers during the past several years is expected to prove popular and scientists believe that glass construction will be nothing unusual before many years.

In addition to being cheaper than some other types of building, glass construction now offers plenty of natural light to those inside the house—as well as plenty of privacy from prying eyes.

Here's the letter:

"We, the members of the Fire Department Sunday school class of the Field Street Baptist church wish to express our thanks through the columns of your paper to the Vo-de-o-do quartet of your city, composed of Misses Wilma and Cecil Huckel, Anna Clements and Karlene Watts, who entertained us recently with the best singing we ever heard.

"The City of Lubbock ought to be proud of being the home of such a wonderful group of singers."

J. SAM LEWIS, rotund rambler on the staff of The Avalanche-Journal, laid this note on the desk the other day.

It speaks for itself.

The old days are coming back.

Reports Sam'l:

"Prosperity of the old boosting type must be coming back. Evidently Herbert Hoover's corner—owned jointly by the ex-president and Doc Barr—has been turned, at least by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

"A. B. Davis, in getting out a prospectus on the probable income from cotton and from cotton crops, is taking in considerable territory. Instead of using merely the South Plains crop estimates, including cotton counties on top of the caprock, Abie has widened out.

"His territory extends north to the Oklahoma Panhandle, south to beyond the TeePee railroad, west to the Pecos Valley in New Mexico and east to the city limits of Wichita Falls and Ft. Worth, where the west is alleged to begin at.

"When a chamber of commerce secretary reverts to 'the good old daze' in boosting his town, daylight must not only be ahead, but the sun well up in the sky and the hot rays beaming down!"

BY WILLIS THORNTON
The Evening Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. —Your capital, suddenly thrust into the position of being for almost the first time the real capital of the United States, is a little groggy.

This correspondent, who knew the city on the Potomac in the gaudy days of Warren Gamaliel Harding, might be pardoned for being a little confused by a sudden return today. Washingtonians themselves are slightly foggy. So much so, in fact, that one of the local papers published a map the other day showing the location of various new government activities.

The paper just printed the map so that native Washingtonians wouldn't get lost, at least until they got inside the bureaus they were looking for.

Give These A Look

Try this on your mental piano. These initials stood out on the map. If you don't know what they stand for, you aren't keeping abreast of the new economic government that is rising atop the old political structure. Here they are. Go! CCC, PWA, RFC, FERA, NRA, HOLC, FCOT, FFCA, TVA, AAA.

Did you score 50 per cent? All right, go to the foot of the class!

The answers in order: Civilian Conservation Corps, Public Works Administration, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Federal Emergency Relief Administration, National Recovery Administration, Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Federal Coordinator of Transportation, Tennessee Valley Authority, and Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Pop Up Like Mushrooms

These new agencies are springing up like mushrooms. So fast, in fact, that when Major Robert M. Littlejohn was appointed to the job of spending more than $75,000,000 for food and clothing the job hadn't even been given a name.

Major Littlejohn, posing for the inevitable barrage of flashlight photos, sat just a trifle sheepishly at his desk, ready to begin work on a $75,000,000 job that nobody even had had time to name.

Borah Dodges Tumult

One of the missing standbys this summer is Senator Borah. For years he has stayed in the capital even when Congress wasn't in session holding general court for newspapermen every day.

But this summer he apparently realized that newspapermen were all so hot on the trail of the elusive NRA that he'd get little attention. So he's pulled up stakes for Idaho, and won't be back until late fall.

Borah hasn't been well, anyway, and feels he needs a rest.

Here's Chance For A Hat

The AAA concerned with surpluses in terms of millions, also is concerned with small surpluses. In the lobby of the new Agriculture building stands a large box marked "The Open Chest." Employes, passing by, are urged to deposit surplus clothing, which later is distributed to the needy of Washington. There were four or five hats in it when your correspondent peeked.

Roller Skates Return

Roller-Skating, always popular on the wide, smooth asphalt streets of Washington, is back . . . competing with the new bicycle craze . . . If there is anything harder to see than a colored man in a blue suit roller-skating on the black asphalt pavement, ask a capital motorist what it is. . . . Police at the new public buildings are run ragged by parkers . . . . "They all say they're on official business" wailed one. "Even the ones who are hunting for jobs." . . . But they have to be careful. It might be General Johnson. . . . Washington is taking its baseball pennant in its stride . . . Little excitement . . nothing like the "dancing in the street days" of 1924. Bigger things to get excited about now. (Copyright, 1933, NEA Service, Inc.)

Iowa Park Program To Cost $6,000,000

DES MOINES, Oct. 5 (AP)—Iowa plans to spend nearly $6,000,000 within the next 25 years in development of its state park system.

The program, recommended after a two-year survey costing $25,000, calls for eight new parks of from 800 to 2,000 acres each, additional game sanctuaries and preserves, and a system of artificial lakes in the southern part of the state.

Some of the present 36 state parks would be abandoned and the entire system rearranged, so each citizen would be an average of 35 miles from a park.

"Mr. Speaker," said Representative John Puryear of Wellington, "I wish you'd have some blue paint put on that light up there opposite my name. I am voting 'no' but it does not show blue."

"Blue Worn Off"

"That's all right, Mr. Puryear," replied Speaker Coke Stevenson, "you use that blue globe so much you've worn the blue off."

Speaker Stevenson usually has a humorous comment on more or less serious things that come before the house. It relieves the tension.

Representative Henry C. Kyle of San Marcos moved the previous question on the race horse betting bill and its amendments. It requires fifteen members to second the previous question and those who care to second it hold up their hands. The speaker counts them and if there are 15 he puts the motion to a vote of the whole house. Sometimes a member will put up both hands, so anxious is he to apply the previous which shuts off debate.

Duplicates Not Counted

"The previous question is ordered, not counting the duplicate hands," announced Speaker Stevenson after Kyle made his motion.

"Will all the Elks who are members of the house please register?" requested Speaker Stevenson. Seven or eight registered on the voting machine. Information apparently, was desired by some one who wanted to entertain the Elks.

"How about the Eagles?" asked a member.

"We'll let blue eagles register," replied the speaker.

Stevenson sarcastically commented, when some one proposed a committee meeting at night, and the suggestion was made there probably would not be a quorum, that "all we have to do is pull in some of these poker games and we'll get a quorum."

Later, when someone proposed a night meeting, Stevenson said it "would be too bad to break up this nightly forty-two game that I preside over."

The legislators play forty-two and dominoes at the long press tables in the well of the house when they do not have anything else to do at night.

Lady Benefited By Cardui

"I was weak, discouraged, wasn't able to do anything for about seven months," writes Mrs. Sallie Bryson, of Kennedale, Texas. "An old lady friend suggested I give Cardui a trial. After I had taken half a bottle of Cardui, I was better and stronger. By the time I had taken three bottles, I was up, able to do my work and have gained in weight. Sometimes in the spring, if I feel nervous or a little run-down, I take a couple of bottles of Cardui and get all right. I feel I owe my good health to the use of Cardui."

DISEASE SPREADS AMONG HORSES AND MULES; PRECAUTIONARY STEPS TAKEN

Between 30 and 50 horses have died in Lubbock county and some counties east of here have had heavier losses as a result of spread among horses and mules of an ailment believed to be equine encephalitis, O. G. Tumlinson, county agent, has reported.

The county agent urged community chairmen to form committees and press them to work on plans of prevention.

Mr. Tumlinson has sent a letter to the 20 community chairmen urging action. He also enclosed a copy of instructions from Dr. Lewis D. Crabb, state veterinarian, with suggestions on what to do when the disease appears.

Believing the disease, called "sleeping sickness," is spreading by flies or mosquitos, Dr. Crabb says these should be killed about the homes and barn lots. Oiling breeding places and a spraying of the barn lots, should be done. Sick animals should be isolated to prevent other animals coming in contact with either vectors or discharges.

Carcasses, regardless of cause of death, should be burned, Dr. Crabb says. Well animals should not be fed or watered where sick animals have been fed or watered; sick animals should not be drenched; animals should not be exposed.

A local druggist who keeps up with animal diseases, says there is no known serum for the disease. Some animals that have been given serum for hemorrhagic septicemia, he pointed out, have not become ill when exposed.

Belief is expressed that the disease is caused by a germ. Veterinarians and chemists are working on a possible preventative, but none has been discovered.

One druggist has sold over 200 doses of a serum that may be a preventative. He has ordered 600 doses more. Cases have been reported from Hale, Crosby and Hockley counties, as well as Lubbock.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5. (AP)—Cotton opened easier today in very moderate trading. Liverpool was somewhat lower than due and sterling declined. First trades here showed losses of 6 to 9 points. The March position gained two points right after the start but the general market soon turned easy again. December trading at 9.76 and March to 10.00, or 8 to 9 points below yesterday's close.

The market was somewhat influenced by disappointment that the president had not discussed finances in his address of last night.

Later in the first hour prices recovered one to two points from the lows but trading continued light.

The market was quiet all morning, traders being indisposed to operate pending some announcement from Washington on details of the proposed government advance of ten cents a pound on cotton. After rallying 3 to 5 points early in the second hour, with December at 9.79 and October at 10.05, the market turned easier again on hedge-selling and some selling in the ring in anticipation of a bearish bureau estimate on Monday. December dropped to 9.72 and March to 9.97, or 12 points under yesterday's close.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady, 3 to 9 lower under southern selling, lower foreign exchange and disappointing cables. Oct 9.02; Dec. 9.82; Jan 9.87; Mch 10.05; May 10.22; Jly 10.35.

There was scattering liquidation or reselling by some of yesterday's buyers, as well as hedging, but offerings were fairly well taken by trade buying or covering. The market held fairly steady at the end of the first half hour with December selling around 7.82 and May 10.23, or 4 to 5 points net lower. Liverpool cables reported the market there quiet and steady at the decline with light hedging absorbed by scattered continental buying.

One international cotton house estimates the current commercial crop of east India at 5,600,000 bales of 400 pounds compared with its final estimate of 5,100,000 bales last year.

Trading was quieter later in the morning and prices fluctuated narrowly. Some further southern selling was taken by trade buying. After selling off to 9.75 for December, or about 9 points net lower, the price stiffened up to 9.81. At midday the market was quiet at net declines of 5 to 6 points.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—Downturns in wheat and corn prices early today accompanied selling for eastern account. Absence of any definite new developments in regard to the administration's monetary policy had a bearish influence, and so too did reports of Washington plans for practically placing a sales tax on all foodstuffs.

Opening 1-8 to 3-4 lower, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started at 3-8 to 3-4 decline, and subsequently held near the initial limits.

STRIKE VIOLENCE

pickets formed a 15-mile line around the No. 43 mine of the Peabody coal company and shot at everyone going toward the mine.

Persons traveling the highways without knowledge of any trouble were shot at by pickets. There were some 1,500 pickets and they would not allow doctors or ambulances to enter the line where wounded miners lay for hours.

The first company of the 130th infantry, national guard, arrived at 10:30 a. m. (Central Standard time) and marched to the Peabody mine where 1,500 progressive pickets had besieged a score or more mine guards and United Mine Workers all night.

Three Tourists Hit

At least ten casualties were reported, five of them among the men imprisoned at the mine, three tourists and two United members who tried to go to work at the mine today.

Five more companies of guardsmen were en route.

The fighting was concentrated along state highway 13 from Harrisburg to Marion. The mine, which is half a mile outside Harrisburg, was being worked by United Mine Workers from Williamson county.

The trouble has been brewing for several weeks. It came to a head yesterday, when six bombs were exploded in Harrisburg. Two more tremendous blasts last night destroyed a big four railroad bridge, cutting off the only railroad communication with the mine, and the Grand hotel in Eldorado.

There's no reason why you shouldn't enjoy the smooth, smart performance of your Chevrolet right through the winter if you protect the cooling-system from freezing and rust.

It's easy to do, because the finest anti-freeze you can buy is also the most economical. A gallon of Eveready Prestone now costs only $2.95! And that's all it takes to protect any Chevrolet to zero. For other makes, see your dealer's chart.

Eveready Prestone won't boil away during warm spells and have to be replaced. It won't break down and cause rust, clogging and overheating, as many anti-freezes do after part of a season's driving. Eveready Prestone is good for 25,000 miles or more—a full winter's service. Approved by all car manufacturers. Guaranteed by National Carbon Co., Inc., New York, N. Y.

*Based on a 20-year average, freezing weather may be expected in Lubbock by October 29. Put in Eveready Prestone now—and be safe.

If you ever travel in the Orient you will feel the fascination of the bazaar—once. Afterward, when you return from a frenzy of haggling and sleight-of-hand, and spread your tawdry purchases on the hotel bed, you will feel differently. You will appreciate as never before the advantages of living in a country where goods are advertised in the daily press . . . where you can sit down with your newspaper and decide exactly what you will buy today, what price you will pay, and where you fill find the greatest values. Best of all, a country where buying an advertised article means getting your money's worth, without matching wits with unscrupulous traders.

Perhaps you'll never voyage East of Suez. But right now, right at home you can discover the convenience and sound economy of reading the advertisements before you shop. Here is a leading merchant who has combed the markets of the world for quality merchandise at a price his name guarantees to be fair. Here is a great manufacturer who has exhausted science to improve the worth of his product. Here is a little shopkeeper offering unusually attractive prices.
