Two Dead, Two Hurt In Automobile Crash

One person was killed almost instantly, another died two hours later in a hospital, and two others were injured seriously, perhaps critically, in a head-on automobile collision Saturday morning on the Garden City highway, 16.7 miles southeast of Midland.

The dead: Marvin Robert Chancey, 26, of Houston, a Remington-Rand salesman.

His two-year-old daughter, Deann Eileen, who died in a Midland hospital two hours after the accident. Declared in critical conditions in a Midland hospital are: His wife, Mrs. Dolores Frances Chancey, 22, mother of the little girl.

James Frank Harris, 19, of 1509 East Highway 80, Midland, an oil field worker.

Placed Under Wheel State Highway Patrolman B. L. Warren, who investigated the accident, said the Chancey machine was knocked 30 steps off the highway from the point of impact and that the driver, Chancey, was pinned beneath the steering wheel.

Mrs. Chancey and the little girl were not thrown from the vehicle. The Chancey car was a 1951 convertible.

Harris was driving a 1949 coach. His car did not leave the highway. He was alone in the car.

Two Mills ambulances transported the injured to Midland. The crash occurred at 6:12 a.m.

The Chanceys were driving toward Midland and were enroute to Odessa to visit relatives.

The bodies of Chancey and his daughter are at the Newell W. Ellis Chapel here, pending arrival of relatives.

Mrs. Adkisson Dies At Home Of Daughter

Mrs. Susan Adkisson, 91, a resident of Midland three and one-half years, died Friday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Heptinstall, 1412 South Pratt Street.

She had been ill about a year. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in Dublin. Interment will be in that city. Harwell Funeral Home of Dublin is in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include: six daughters, Mrs. Heptinstall of Midland; Ellen Mitchell, Carter, Okla.; Sarah Bolden, California; Mae Findley, Brownwood; Louise Adkisson, Abilene; Bertha Hull, Big Spring; and two sons, John Adkisson of Glen Dale, Calif., and Bennie Adkisson of Brownwood.

Mrs. Adkisson was born March 13, 1860.

UN Tanks, Troops Continue Limited Objective Attacks

EIGHTH ARMY, KOREA —(P)— Allied tanks and troops, backed by artillery, assaulted peaks in Central and Eastern Korea Saturday, against bitterly resisting Reds.

The attackers swept up rain-drenched heights west of Chorwon in Central Korea and won them in a 15-hour battle, a field dispatch said.

The assault in the East, near "Heartbreak Ridge," met tougher going in the face of withering Communist artillery fire.

Bodies of 552 Reds were bunched around the top of one captured peak.

An Allied communique Sunday said "action flared along most of the Korean battlefield Saturday, with United Nations elements continuing their limited objective attacks."

Odessa Soldier Dies In Crash Near Brady

BRADY —(P)— Pvt. Jack Carr Chambers, 23, Odessa, died early Saturday as he was being taken from the wreckage of his car at a highway intersection.

His car and a truck driven by J. P. Albert of San Angelo, collided. Albert was uninjured.

Vessels Sentenced To Life In Slaying

HENRIETTA, TEXAS —(P)— Ed Vessels, 41-year-old carpenter, was sentenced to life imprisonment Saturday for the slaying of his divorced wife June 22.

Testimony showed Mrs. Jonnie Vessels was wounded fatally as she and her estranged husband struggled in the front yard of her home.

Draft Calls Pushed Up By Marines

WASHINGTON —(P)—

The Marines for the first time are seeking more draftees than the Army in the comparatively small December call of 16,900.

The Defense Department Saturday announced the Marines want 9,900 men from Selective Service in December, the Army 7,000.

It also announced the November call has been increased from 33,700 to 39,000 due to requests by the Marine Corps to boost its total for November from 4,700 to 10,000. It was the second month in a row the Marines had increased original requests.

Expansion Indicated These developments were taken by some as an indication the Marines have begun an expansion of major combat unit strength beyond the present two divisions. Such a plan is known to be under consideration.

Adm. William Fechteler, chief of naval operations, told a news conference earlier this month "We might plan to go to three divisions."

However, Marine headquarters Saturday said the increases are due to recent authorization by President Truman to permit the corps to go from 204,000 men to 236,000. Also, Marine enlistments admittedly have dropped.

The $5,900 draft total for November and December may dip into new classifications—childless married men, certain aliens and others formerly deferred.

Truman, on September 26, signed new draft regulations, making them eligible. Selective Service estimated it opened a pool of about 500,000 new draftees, of whom 700,000 might be called.

Through it all, however, the theme of the week, "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom," will be stressed.

The Reporter-Telegram story will be told in news, picture and advertisement form, the series of Newspaper Week features beginning in this issue.

Your Midland Reporter-Telegram of today is a far cry indeed from The Staked Plains, Midland's first newspaper, which started publication as a weekly in 1883. Today's newspaper also is vastly different from this city's first daily newspaper, The Daily Telegram, which was established in 1927.

The growth of The Reporter-Telegram, founded in 1929, has been constant through the years, but its greatest growth, development and progress has come within the last 10 years, as the newspaper has attempted to keep pace with the spectacular growth of the city.

Crewmen Escape As Superfort Crashes On Carswell Runway

FORT WORTH —(P)—A B-29 Superfortress under a runway, crashed and burned Saturday while attempting an emergency landing at Carswell Air Force Base.

All 5 members of the ferry crew aboard the four-engine bomber survived. The worst injury was a second-degree burn.

The bomber was being ferried from Pyle Air Force Base, in West Texas, to Marietta, Ga., where it was to be modified. The ship had been taken out of storage at Pyle. Members of the crew were from the Lockheed Aircraft Servicing at Warner-Robins, Ga.

Peron Uses Mailed Fist In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA —(P)— President Peron tightened his grip on the nation Saturday, six weeks in advance of the presidential election, as a result of the ill-starred military revolt announced by the government Friday.

The presidential press office disclosed without explanation the resignation of the 59-year-old Navy Captain Anibal O. Oliveri, the former undersecretary.

It was not known whether the minister quit under pressure or as a gesture of self-blame because some naval air officers were reported to have joined in the revolt.

A revolt which the newspaper El Laborista said resulted in only one killed and seven wounded.

Opponents Under Arrest The Socialist and Radical Parties, chief political opposition, reported several of their prominent members were under arrest.

That the government intended to take the strongest steps to avoid the escape of persons accused of the plot was evidenced by the placing of heavy guards around all embassy offices and residences to prevent rebellious officers from taking refuge under diplomatic immunity.

The plot, which Peron said aimed at the assassination of himself and his glamorous wife, Eva, seemed to have strengthened his hand for reelection November 11.

Opposition campaigning will be difficult or impossible.

Congress Friday night approved Peron's decree declaring a state of civil war, authorized him to make

Houston University Student Found Slain After Drinking Party

HOUSTON —(P)—A 24-year-old engineering student was found murdered Saturday after a drinking and poker party that moved from room to room in a University of Houston dormitory.

Leon Edith Gryder was found dead in his automobile, a few blocks from the university.

Dr. Harold Woods said Gryder died of a ruptured blood vessel in the brain. He said an autopsy showed both eyes of the student had been blackened by blows, there was an abrasion on the left side of his head and his jaw appeared to be fractured.

Justice of the Peace Tom Maes returned an inquest verdict of murder.

Gryder's body was found about 5:30 a.m. Gryder was lying on the floor on his side, his face close to the accelerator, his feet projected out the open door of the sedan.

There was no money in Gryder's wallet nor on his person, though students at the dormitory said he won at least $10 in the poker game.

The World War II veteran, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gryder of McLeod, Texas, was found dead about three hours after he left the party.

The last student to see him said he walked down a corridor toward his room about 2:45 a.m. with a whiskey tumbler in his hand.

Temperatures Soar All Across Texas

By The Associated Press Texas was warm Saturday. Temperatures over most of the state ranged in the 80's. Thermometers in the Big Bend country climbed into the 90's.

The hottest place was Presidio with 99 degrees. It was 94 at El Paso—a record high for this time of the year.

The lowest maximum was 80 at Tyler and Texarkana.

A few scattered showers were reported Saturday night along the western border of the state.

It will continue warm in Texas Sunday. A few thundershowers are forecast for West Texas and the Panhandle.

Parcel Post Rates Increase Monday

Midland's were reminded Saturday of an approximate 25 per cent increase in parcel post rates, effective Monday.

Postmaster N. G. Oates said oil companies and other firms which stamp their own packages especially should be mindful of the change. Rate cards may be studied at the Post Office.

Permits For Week Total Million Plus

A record-breaking $1,267,600 in building permits were issued here last week as builders staged a last-minute rush to beat the government's new building restrictions deadline.

The new restrictions on materials for homes and commercial buildings alike become effective Monday. Saturday alone, there were applications for permits to build almost 40 homes.

Last week's permits sent the year's total to $11,366,893, only $368,418 short of the total issued for 1950.

Last week's permits included those for 22 new homes, a $306,000 office building and other structures. The office building is being built by Gaylord and Bishop at the northeast corner of Illinois and North Big Spring Streets.

Other building permits for the week included: Edwin Brown, brick veneer residence in Bedford Addition, $25,000. Edwin Brown, brick veneer residence at 1401 Douglas Street, $25,000. Edwin Brown, brick veneer residence at 1403 Douglas Street, $20,000. Edwin Brown, brick veneer residence at 1405 Douglas Street, $20,000.

Mossadegh Will Fly To UN Session

TEHRAN, IRAN —(P)— Premier Mohammed Mossadegh decided Saturday to wage a personal fight before the Security Council against Britain's demand for UN intervention in the British-Iranian oil dispute.

The news that British Delegate Sir Gladwyn Jebb will ask the council Monday to overrule Mossadegh's order for ousting the last British technicians from the Abadan Refinery visibly surprised and worried advisers of the ailing old Nationalist leader.

The government announced Mossadegh's decision to fly to New York.

His regular delegate to the UN is Nasrollah Entezam, a suave professional diplomat who is president of the general assembly and Iranian ambassador to Washington.

Ouster Order Stands The British appeal, disclosed in London Saturday, is likely to postpone the final showdown on a road that started with nationalization of Iranian properties of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company six months ago.

Deputy Premier Hossein Fattemi told newsmen there will be no change in the order for the 300-odd Britons remaining at troop-guarded Abadan to clear out by Thursday, regardless of the hearing.

But Iran will be in a difficult position if she should flout a Security Council order. Iranians have not forgotten it was the Security Council, under American pressure, which forced Russia's postwar garrisons out of the northern Province of Azerbaijan in 1946.

Gryder's body was found about 5:30 a.m. Gryder was lying on the floor on his side, his face close to the accelerator, his feet projected out the open door of the sedan.

Red Radio Predicts New Allied Landings, Bombing Across Yalu

TOKYO —(P)—The Chinese Communist radio Saturday predicted Allied amphibious landings on both coasts of North Korea and blamed the Allies for "reckless" talks on a Korean armistice.

The broadcast was aired while Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, conferred with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway in Tokyo.

The Allies had no immediate comment on the Red assertions.

The broadcast ignored Ridgway's proposal that the truce talks be resumed immediately in a village in no-man's-land.

"In order to conquer the north of North Korea," the Chinese radio charged, "the Americans have decided to train five more divisions, drive the (North) Koreans and Chinese forces to the Yalu River and bomb Communist bases in Northeast China."

Two Guard Divisions The Yalu is the boundary between North Korea and Manchuria.

The broadcast alleged two National Guard divisions now training in Japan—the 40th of California and the 45th of Oklahoma—were being groomed for the landings. Commanders for the two divisions promised visited Korea "for a first-hand survey," the broadcast charged.

The Red radio indicated amphibious landings were expected at Wonsan, on the east coast, and in the Chinnampo area on the West coast. It said Allied units had been "intensifying their probing operations" in these areas "since the American wrecking of the Kaesong negotiations."

Bradley and State Department Adviser Charles Bohlen, an expert on Russia, were briefed by Ridgway Saturday in the first of a series of conferences on Korea.

There was speculation in Tokyo that Bohlen might remain in Japan after Bradley returns to the U. S. It was thought Bohlen might serve as an adviser to the United Nations Command delegation, should the truce talks be resumed.

Convicted Rapist Dies Before Firing Squad

POINT-OF-THE MOUNTAIN, UTAH —(P)—A Utah firing squad Friday executed a 24-year-old man who raped and killed a teen age girl who answered his call for a baby sitter.

The marksmen's rifles fired at 7:06 a.m. Ray Dempsey Gardner was declared dead two and one-half minutes later.

The Columbus, Ohio, man was condemned for the slaying, more than two years ago, of Joan Gretzinger, 17.

Wakefield's Letter Explains Draft Regarding Freshmen

The freshman college student gets a break this fall if he receives an order to report for induction from his draft board, according to an announcement received Wednesday by Midland Board 137 from Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director.

"If a man is in his first year of college and has never before been postponed or deferred to stay in school," General Wakefield said, "he automatically gets a deferment for a full academic year."

"Congress has given the first-year man a break," the state draft director continued. "He doesn't have to satisfy board members or meet any test or scholastic requirements. He only has to pursue a full-time course of instruction to the satisfaction of college authorities."

General Wakefield advised freshmen they "had better study hard this fall and next winter and spring," as they will likely have to satisfy minimum draft board standards for deferment in the second scholastic year.

"One of these standards is their first-year class standing," he pointed out. "So it would be a good idea for a freshman to start applying himself from the beginning."

To Get Same Chance
"Apparently, Congress decided that every young man who goes to school would get the same chance the first college year," he continued.

"After that he has to prove on the basis of his own merit that he is due further deferment to study."

Selective Service college test. Under the plan, the student must satisfy the first two requirements and one of the third or fourth. A local board can also consider other information about a student.

Boards may take under consideration any information outside the scholastic," General Wakefield said. "They are not bound to consider tests or class standings, but their decisions are subject to appeal by the student if he acts within 10 days."

The state draft director noted that Selective Service regulations are different in the case of graduates of secondary and professional schools of medicine and related fields. These are eligible for deferment if they currently meet requirements leading to graduation or degree.

General Wakefield emphasized that educational deferments, like other deferments, are not exemptions from military service. He said a deferred student has an obligation to serve later.

"Under new amendments to the law," he said, "men deferred to go to school for civilian jobs, as farmers, or because of dependents, will be obligated to serve until age 35."

The obligation stops at age 26 for all others.

International Ceiling Removed From Gold

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The International Monetary Fund has taken its $35-a-ounce ceiling off the price of fabricated gold—gold meant for art, industry and other such non-banking uses.

The fund's action Friday meant the 49 member nations—most of the free world, plus Czechoslovakia—now are free to put as much of their non-monetary gold on the market as they want, at whatever price it will bring.

'It's Movie Time In Texas' Observance Set In Midland

Joining with the more than 1,500 motion picture theaters in the state, Midland theaters this week begin the celebration of "It's Movie Time In Texas," a period in which the management will feature a series of special events as well as presenting the year's outstanding pictures.

The entire movie industry is behind "It's Movie Time In Texas." These activities precede a similar nation-wide movie drive embracing as many as 16,000 additional theaters which will not get under way until October.

To focus attention on the theaters for the next few weeks, Hollywood will send out stars on personal visits to various states. Nation-wide broadcasts featuring well known entertainers and special short subjects will point up the merits of the screen and the importance of the movie theater in community life.

The idea behind "It's Movie Time in Texas," which has been enthusiastically adopted by both New York and state executives expanded into coast-to-coast proportions, originated with a well known Bonham, Texas, theater man, Col. H. A. Cole, chairman of the board of the Allied Theater Owners of Texas, conceived the thought of a project to marshal all theater men, their employees and their families, into a movement to offer the public the finest of entertainment and to bring about a closer and friendlier relationship for the theater with the community at large.

Colonel Cole's plan promptly was endorsed by R. J. O'Donnell, leader of the vast Paramount-Interstate interests and a top official of the show business. These two Texans joined forces to hold meetings in New York and Hollywood, where they were supported by the financial and artistic executives. What originally was a Texas campaign exploded into national proportions. All of the big studios promptly revised their plans. The finest productions, many of them in color, were set for release during the celebration of "It's Movie Time in Texas."

Dean Martin Says He'll Prove He Doesn't Owe Lou Anything

Television screenings of "To Be Or Not To Be" have become "To Have Or Not To Be" for Jack Benny. His contract for the picture called for 10 per cent of all profits but he's seen none of the TV money. His lawyers are investigating and will go to court if necessary.

10-Day Stay Halts Edward's Execution

AUSTIN—(AP)—Albert Edwards, condemned to die in the electric chair early Saturday, has been granted 10 more days of life.

It was the second time the Houston taxi driver had been snatched from death by stays. Governor Shivers issued his decision a few hours before Edwards, 40, was to have died in the fatal shooting of Paul Walker of Houston.

Shivers' action resulted from a writ of habeas corpus issued in Groesbeck by Judge Fountain Kerby. Edwards was given the death sentence in the shooting in Houston on May 26, 1949. Walker and Edwards' wife, Betty Lou, were killed as they sat in Walker's car.

Infant Daughter Of Aubrey Applins Dies

STANTON—Donna Lou, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Applin of Pecos, died in a Stanton hospital Friday night. Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Assembly of God Church in Lamesa, with the Rev. W. N. Boseman officiating.

Interment will be in the Lamesa Cemetery.

The Arrington Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements here.

Survivors, in addition to the parents, are a brother, Jimmy Ray, and the grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Hammock of Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Applin of Lamesa.

About 50 hours of hand labor are now required to produce an acre of peanuts.

Boyle Turns Income Tax Record Over To Senate Probers

WASHINGTON—(P)—William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic national chairman, Saturday opened his entire 1949 and 1950 income tax returns to a Senate investigation.

His sudden move came as a special investigations subcommittee announced it will call Guy G. Gabrielson, Republican national chairman, Thursday as the opening witness in an inquiry into Gabrielson's activities.

In each case the committee is looking into the party chairman's contacts with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Both men have denied any improper conduct or influence on RFC loans. Boyle as a witness before the senators at public hearings earlier this week.

Gabrielson has been under fire from some members of his own party in the Senate, who demanded his resignation as GOP chairman because of his acknowledged interconnections with the RFC in connection with $18,500,000 of loans to Carthage Hydrocol, Inc., of Brownsville, Texas, of which he is president and general counsel.

Naval ROTC Tests Set December 8

NEW ORLEANS—(P)—Competitive examinations for entrance into the Naval Reserve Training Corps next fall will be held in 39 cities in Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico on December 8. Eighth Naval District Headquarters announced Saturday.

Successful candidates between the ages of 17 and 31 will be given a four-year college education with government assistance. Upon graduation they may be commissioned as officers of the Navy or Marine Corps.

ROTC students are deferred from Selective Service induction, but must agree to serve three years on active duty upon commissioning.

Eighth Naval District cities where aptitude examinations will be held include:

Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, Midland, San Angelo, San Antonio, Tyler, Waco and Wichita Falls.

Court Order Halts Rail Freight Rate Reduction On Feeds

AUSTIN—(P)—A court order has halted application of a freight rate reduction on livestock feed pending hearing of a plea of 33 railroads for an injunction.

The reduced rates authorized by the Railroad Commission Monday after stockmen said the drouth had ruined winter range feed prospects, would have gone into effect at midnight Sunday.

The railroads charged the commission failed to consider their argument that recent rains had ended the drouth. The commission also was declared arbitrary and unreasonable because it made the rate reductions apply only to railroads, even though trucks haul 50 per cent of the livestock feed in Texas.

The emergency rates—to apply from October 1 through March 31, 1962—would cut 50 per cent off the freight rates on all kinds of hays and 33 1/3 per cent off cotton seed cake and meal, cotton hulls, and peanut hulls.

District Judge Charles O. Betts Friday set a hearing on the order at 9 a.m. October 8.

Midland Firemen Douse Well Blaze

The Midland Fire Department Friday night extinguished a fire at an oil well in the Tex-Harvey field, 28 miles southeast of the city, in Glasscock County.

Two units from the Midland department were dispatched to the blaze, including a foam dispenser and high pressure truck.

Firemen said the fire was on the rig floor. It occurred when casing was being pulled and an electric light bulb was hit by pipe, igniting gas.

No one was injured. Extent of the damage to the well was not immediately determined.

Rescued Refugees Granted Stay In U. S.

WASHINGTON—(P)—Two refugees from communism, rescued at sea in their small boat and brought to the United States, will be allowed to stay.

President Truman Saturday signed a bill to allow Helmut Russon, 39, and Volker Harpe, 22, to live here permanently.

They are natives of Estonia.

The men arrived in New York July 9, 1949, after setting out from Spain in a little boat headed for Canada. In distress at sea, they were picked up by the steamship Britannic.

METHODISTS TO LAUNCH EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

My Client, Said The 'Lawyer,' Is Guilty

DALLAS—(P)—Arraigned before Federal Commissioner W. Madden Hill on a charge of stealing, forging and cashing a government check, Harold Oliver Kirk, 34, got a bit confused.

Before setting bond, Commissioner Hill asked Kirk: "Do you have a lawyer?"

Kirk, actually lacking counsel, smiled and pointed to Lee Williams.

Williams, a Secret Service agent, stood up.

"My client," he grinned, "is guilty."

Most Of Time

At the La Huerta farm, pheasant production occupies most of his time. The farm produces about 6,000 pheasants annually, chiefly ringnecks.

Keeping the pheasant population high enough to maintain a hunting season represents a difficult problem, Cox said, because hunters from all over the Southwest come to New Mexico to shoot the birds.

The farm also produces about 2,000 quail each year to restock "disaster areas" where the quail population has been reduced.

Since July, Cox and his three assistants have planted about 5,000 game birds throughout the state. Hauling about 400 birds on each trip, Cox figures that he has covered about 12,000 miles already this planting season.

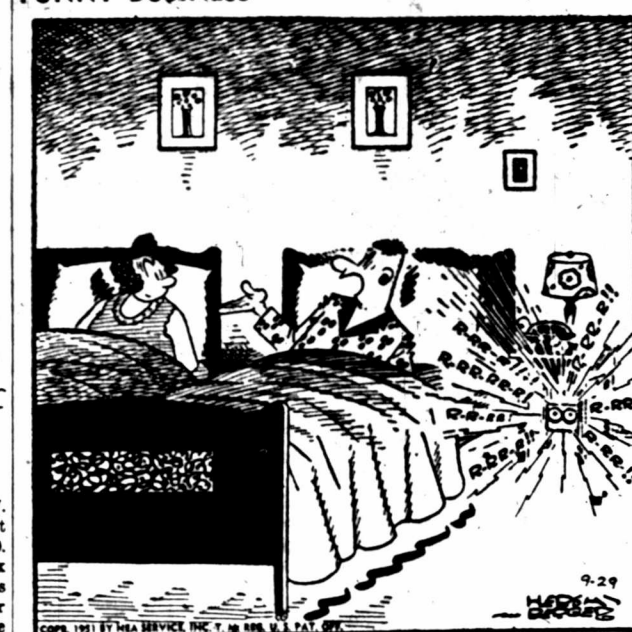

Birds are caught late in the afternoon of the day before they are to be planted. Then they are put on the truck and by traveling all night are at the distribution point by daybreak. In this way, Cox explained, the birds have a full day after being released to find a good roosting spot and feed.

Distribution of the birds is done on a schedule which Cox draws up in June on the basis of his anticipated production and the expected hunting pressure.

Permanent brood stock is maintained at the farm, and during the April to August hatching season about 1,200 to 2,000 eggs a week are set in the farms hatching machines.

Besides his regular game stock at the farm, Cox also has several personal projects. He had a pair of McQueen Houbars bustards, the only two in the United States, and is waiting to see if they are mates. They were brought here from Iran. Cox's success with birds is evident in the group of prairie chickens he has at the farm. The chickens almost are impossible to raise

FUNNY BUSINESS

"If I answer it's a wrong number, and if I don't it's probably for us!"

Head Of Game Farm Gets Bird Every Day—And He Loves It

CARLSBAD, N. M.—(P)—Jimmie Cox gets a bird every day—and he loves it.

Superintendent of the State of New Mexico's department of game farm at La Huerta, near Carlsbad, Cox has charge of the production of some 8,500 game birds a year.

As if that weren't enough to keep him busy, he's planning to leave soon for the Middle East, where he will spend six months with Dr. Gardner Bump of the United States fish and wildlife service in the study and collection of exotic game birds.

The expedition is interested chiefly in bringing back the chukar, a quail-like bird, sand grouse, black partridge, bustards, and some partridge. It also will try to snare several specimens of a rare black pheasant believed to inhabit the Caspian Sea region.

Cox hopes to bring back to New Mexico 500 chukars to aid his pet project at the game farm. He is working on a program of chukar planting and hopes to provide the state with enough of the birds so sportsmen can have a chukar season.

Is Coming Thing

The chukar is the coming thing in game birds, Cox is convinced. The bird is a true partridge and is about two and one-half times the size of a quail. Because it is a fast and elusive flier, it makes an excellent game bird.

Little chukar planting has been done so far in New Mexico because of a shortage of stock. Cox estimates it should take 10 years to establish the bird in numbers sufficient to provide a hunting season.

His interest in game birds began as a hobby. After spending his childhood in San Angelo, Texas, and spending some time at both Texas A&I and San Angelo Junior College, Cox went into the hotel business.

Helping the Texas game department trap quail near the Rio Grande during the early thirties, he became interested in raising the birds as a hobby.

In 1939 he came to Carlsbad to work on the game farm. Then he operated privately for J. Stokely Ligon, a naturalist.

His expedition with Dr. Bump will begin at Istanbul and move through Turkey, Trans-Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Saudi Arabia. These countries, Cox pointed out, have the same general climatic conditions as New Mexico.

Maryland City Pays Last Of Ransom To Confederate Troops

FREDERICK, MD.—(P)—Frederick Saturday made the last payment on the $200,000 ransom it had to turn over to Confederate soldiers 87 years ago to keep them from sacking the town.

Since the Civil War, the town-people have paid off the sum, bit by bit, waiting for the federal government to take over what they consider is its moral and legal obligation.

The interest on the original sum has amounted to an estimated $600,000. The exact sum cannot be determined because through the years the debt has been combined with several municipal bond issues. Saturday's final payoff was $20,000.

Three times Maryland congressmen have tried to get the federal government to repay the town for the ransom paid out to protect Union Army stores valued at more than the amount of the ransom. But each try proved to be a lost cause.

The ransom, amounting to almost one-tenth of the city's recorded monetary value, was paid to General Jubal Early.

The confederate officer threatened to raze the town unless the money was paid. The mayor and aldermen instructed the town's five banks to hand over the money from their vaults. Later, the banks were reimbursed and the debt taken over formally as a city obligation.

Lt. J. W. Akins Interment To Be Held In Abilene

ABILENE—The body of Lt. Joe W. Akins, former Midland football coach who was killed in action September 2, 1950, in Korea, is being brought to Abilene for interment.

Akins was graduated from Sweetwater High School and Abilene Christian College. He was an all-Texas conference end at ACC in 1942. He served with the Marines in the Pacific during World War II and re-entered ACC where he was captain of the 1946 and 1947 football teams.

He resigned his position as coach at Midland Junior High School to re-enter service in 1950 and was killed 10 days after reaching the Korean front.

Surviving are the widow, the former Miss Shirley Gardner of Abilene, now living in Houston; the father, Claude Akins of Sweetwater, and two sisters, Mrs. Perla Woodson and Miss Bobbie Jean Akins, both of Sweetwater.

Suez Shrine Temple Receives Charter In Colorful Rites

SAN ANGELO—Suez Temple received its permanent charter Friday night with colorful and impressive ceremonies at Municipal Auditorium.

The presentation was made by Past Imperial Potentate Galloway Calhoun of Tyler.

Included in the Temple's Divan, which was installed after the charter presentation, was J. M. McDonald of Midland, assistant rabbi.

A group attending from Midland included McDonald, Lester Short, Cecil Hodges, John Hughes and O. L. Johnson.

tacular growth of Midland and the Permian Basin Empire.

Comparative figures on the number of employees, the annual payroll, circulation, and the amount of newspaper and ink used by the newspaper tell a revealing story of the remarkable growth of your Reporter-Telegram in recent years.

Back in 1942, for instance, The Reporter-Telegram had some 10 employees. In 1945, the number had increased to 21, and today the newspaper has 66 full-time employees, not including eight area correspondents and 75 newspaperboys and carriers.

The 1951 payroll will exceed $275,000, but six years ago the figure totaled only $58,007. The 1942 figure was $25,367.

Circulation, too, has skyrocketed during the last decade and still is increasing daily. Today, for instance, more than 12,500 copies of The Reporter-Telegram will be distributed to readers in Midland and other Permian Basin Empire cities. The circulation figure back in 1942 was 4,047 and in 1945 it had increased to 5,329.

Newsprint, of course, is an essential item in publishing a newspaper, and as the newspaper grows, the more and more newspaper ink uses. The Reporter-Telegram this year will use approximately 1,084,788 pounds of newspaper, the cost of which will be in excess of $70,000. In 1945, this newspaper used 249,728 pounds of newspaper, which cost $11,781.14.

More Ink Used

Printers ink used in 1945 totaled 5,400 pounds, as compared to 16,200 pounds in 1951.

Back in 1942, The Reporter-Telegram spent only $4,500 for both newspaper and ink, and even that was an almost unbelievable increase over the newspaper and ink bills of 10 or 12 years before that.

Remarkable increases have been recorded in all departments, services and functions of The Reporter-Telegram—and the expansion continues unabated.

In 1940, The Reporter-Telegram moved into its new and completely modern newspaper plant, which, it was believed, would be adequate in size for at least 10 years. Yet, in less than four years time, The Reporter-Telegram has outgrown its present quarters.

Back in 1945, this newspaper averaged 10 pages a day. The average now is 21 pages.

The Reporter-Telegram today boasts a 24-page Sunday comic section, as compared with four pages in 1940.

Associated Press Service

A leased wire of The Associated Press, the world's greatest news agency, has served the newspaper since 1940, but today the wire is open almost twice as many hours and the increase in the amount of AP copy used daily has tripled and quadrupled. Other news services subscribed to by The Reporter-Telegram include the NEA Service, Inc., McNaught Syndicate, the Bell Syndicate, General News Features and others.

The Reporter-Telegram's oil department alone has five employees today, as compared with one in 1940. The Display and Classified Advertising Departments now have 13 employees, as compared with two, or possibly three, in 1940, and during the same period the News Department staff, not including the oil writers, has increased from three to 11 employees. The staffs of other departments have grown in like proportion.

As the physical aspects of The Reporter-Telegram have expanded, so have the newspaper's prestige and influence increased in the city and section it serves.

Midland and the Permian Basin Empire have grown and are growing. The Midland Reporter-Telegram has grown and is growing.

Paul Davis is Midland County campaign chairman.

Man Who Erected First Water Tank Back Here To Stay

The man who supervised the erection of Midland's first overhead water storage tank in September, 1910, is back in Midland for the first time in more than 40 years.

He is C. E. Woodham, who says he now is back to stay.

"Midland wasn't much to look at back in 1910," Woodham said, "but now it is a different story. I never saw anything like it."

He said he has heard many stories concerning Midland since he left here 41 years ago, but the growth of the city is even more remarkable than he had anticipated.

He plans to bring his wife here soon to make their home. They have been residing recently in Monroe, La.

Woodham was with the Chicago Bridge and Iron Works at the time he was assigned to the water tank job here. The tank he erected in downtown Midland was dismantled and moved to Andrews several years ago.

Woman's Body Found In Thicket At Snyder

SNYDER—(P)—Sheriff's deputies and Texas Rangers Saturday investigated the death of a 34-year-old woman whose body was found in a thicket 10 miles from here late Friday night.

The woman was Mrs. Willie Katherine Barnett of Snyder. Doctors estimated she had been dead since 6 p.m.

District Attorney Bob Davis ordered an autopsy.

J. L. Rogers, Texas Ranger, said the body apparently had been dragged 130 feet following a struggle.

Ralph Brooks Scores Three TD's In Tilt

By LARRY KING

Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

Midland High School's Bulldogs and the Crozier Tech Wolves of Dallas traded touchdowns, safeties and fumbles here Friday night, with Midland getting the better end of the deal and taking a 28 to 9 verdict before 8,000 fans in Memorial Stadium.

It was Midland's third straight win over a team from the "super-league"—AAAA classification—and the winless Wolves' third straight defeat.

Ragged play marred the first half, with Midland coming to life in the final minutes to go to the intermission with a 15-7 lead, and dominating play the last half.

Se completely did Midland's big line bottle the Crozier attack, the Wolves could muster but few first downs all night and finished with minus four yards rushing.

Stan Coker, 225-pound tackle, and Bill Leonard, 170-pounder who also talls at tackle, led the Purple and Gold line in its defensive play, with ample help from Guards Dalton Byerley and Pete English.

End Jimmy Lineberger set up the first score early in the initial quarter, intercepting a toss by the Tech tailback, E. L. Jones, on the visitors' 36-yard line. Ralph Brooks, who scored three touchdowns during the course of his night's work, dug for two yards, romped for 13 more and then Roy Kinney swept to the left for 13 steps and a first down on the Tech four-yard line. In one swipe, Brooks went over.

Larry Friday converted and Midland led, 7-0, at 3:14 of the first quarter.

Tech couldn't go, kicked and Midland's Dan Black fumbled with the Wolves recovering on the MHS 18-yard line. Coker and Lineberger teamed to stop the Wolves, but they struck swiftly after Friday punted nicely out to the Midland 45-yard line.

Rennie Williams, 145-pound back, took a handoff, burst up the middle and traversed the distance. Tom Rubie knotted the count at 7-7 with a place kick.

Back to punt from behind his own goal early in the second quarter, Tech Back Jones saw the pass from center sail out of the end zone for a safety, which put Midland in front, 9-7.

Move 63 Yards Just before halftime, Midland moved 63 yards to pay dirt on the nice running of Kinney and Brooks, plus a 23-yard pass gain from the rubber arm of Brooks to Lineberger. Brooks thundered over the goal line like an enraged bull, from seven yards out, and Midland had a 15-7 halftime lead in spite of several missed scoring chances.

Tackle Eugene Miller of Tech trapped Brooks behind his goal line on an attempted end sweep in the opening moments of the second half, to cut Midland's lead to 15-9.

But Brooks more than made up for it later in the quarter, sweeping his own right end, pulling away from several Dallas defenders and moving 65 yards to the invaders' four-yard line. In two smashes he scored and Friday's toe made it 22-9.

The Bulldogs plowed 84 yards to pay dirt in the final stanza, after Leonard had forced Tech to kick by smearing Jones for a 16-yard loss—the second time he had knocked him for the same amount of lost yardage. Bill Mims, sophomore end, also was a standout in the Midland defensive line.

Brooks passed 21 and 23 yards, one to Dick Spencer and the second to Lineberger, to spark the drive in spite of a 15-yard penalty for illegal use of the hands. Johnny Kennedy helped the drive with an 11-yard burst over tackle. Spencer finally driving over from the one.

Rose Rambles In the final moments, M. A. Rose scampered for gains of 13, seven and 18 yards as Midland reserves moved to the Dallas 28-yard line against the tiring Wolves.

Midland pounded out 16 first downs during the night, hitting effectively for yardage both on the ground and in the air, after overcoming an indifferent start.

The Bulldogs play unbeaten Brownwood here next Friday night in Memorial Stadium.

DENIS O'NEILL QUITTING

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, denied broadcast reports Saturday that Steve O'Neill had quit as manager.

Notre Dame Stuns Hoosiers, 48 To 6

SOUTH BEND (AP)—A brand new Notre Dame football juggernaut, powered by a four touchdown scoring sophomore fullback and unveiling a surprising "I" formation, smashed bewildered Indiana, 48-6, Saturday.

A crowd of 55,799 was electrified by a five-touchdown Irish second quarter in which Neil Worden, 187-pound fullback scored four times on bull-like rushes.

The game, for all intents and purposes, was over at halftime, when Notre Dame held a 42-0 lead after preceding its second period explosion with a first quarter touchdown.

The "green kids" over which Coach Frank Leahy had mourned so abjectly, were a band of furious "fighting Irish," reminiscent of Notre Dame's post-war powerhouse.

Notre Dame displayed the novel "I" formation—a lineup of all four backs perpendicular to the line—only three times. But the first time it resulted in a 60-yard pass from Quarterback Johnny Mazur to End Jim Mutscheller that set up a four-yard smash by veteran Back Billy Barrett for Notre Dame's first touchdown.

Indiana whipped the Irish last year, 20-7.

The second half was anti-climatic and a bit on the rough side with players from both teams poking at each other from time to time.

The oldest intercollegiate athletic rivalry in the United States is the Yale-Harvard crew race. It began 99 years ago.

BROOKS DRIVING—Ralph Brooks steps for eight yards to the Crozier Tech 10-yard line before he is brought down by a Dallas player. Bobby (Red) Cast is the Bulldog on the ground. Midland won the game Friday night, 28-9.

West Elementary Tips Terminal, 24-6

West Elementary, last year's flag football champions, moved into the tackle class this year and Saturday stuck to its winning ways with a 24 to 6 win over Terminal.

Couch Edwin Nixon's team did not have to punt during the game.

Applications For Cotton Bowl Ducats To Be Accepted

DALLAS (AP)—Applications for combination tickets to the 1962 Cotton Bowl game and the Southwest Conference pre-season basketball tournament will be received in the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association office, 145 National City Building, Monday through Thursday, October 1-4.

Three thousand tickets have been allocated for the combination sale. New Year's Day game tickets are in Cotton Bowl Sections 1 and 2. Basketball tickets are good for admission to the entire series of six doubleheaders to be played on each evening on December 26 and 27, and each afternoon and evening of December 28 and 29 in the Automobile-Aviation-Recreation Building at Fair Park.

Price of the combination ticket is $10.80, including tax. This is $4.80 for the football game and $6.00 for the basketball series. Applications should include 25 cents for handling. Checks with stamped, self-addressed return envelopes, should accompany all orders. No application will be accepted for more than four of the combination tickets and must be received in the Cotton Bowl association office between October 1 and 4, inclusive.

Carver Drops 24-18 Tilt To Lubbock

LUBBOCK—Midland's Carver High Hornets dropped their first game of the football season here Thursday night, losing to Lubbock, 24-18. Lubbock broke a tie with a minute to go.

Halfback Lloyd Bedford, Quarterback Tommy (Skeet) Phillips and End Arthur Lee Sam were Carver standouts.

Midland previously had defeated Odessa, 25-6, and Vernon, 34-6.

Van Brocklin Sets Record As Rams Whip Yanks, 54-14

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Football League was off to a flying start Saturday, with the Los Angeles Rams writing a brilliant new chapter in the record book.

Highlighted by the record-smashing performance of Quarterback Norman Van Brocklin, who broke the league mark for yards gained by passing when he sent the Rams traveling 554 yards via the air, Los Angeles walloped the New York Yanks, 54-14.

Brocklin threw 41 passes and completed 27.

Only golfer to break 70 in the 1964 Open at Merion was Tom Creavy. He shot a 66.

Duke Ekes Out On Pittsburgh, 19-14

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Duke ripped and tore through a tissue-thin Pittsburgh defense Saturday to eke out a 19-14 victory after trailing 14-13 at half-time.

An intercepted pass and a blocked kick paved the way for two Duke touchdowns and a powerful goal line thrust, accounted for the third and winning score. Duke's own weak defense allowed Pitt to threaten throughout the game.

Aggies Lick Raiders Win By 20 To 7

DALLAS —(P)— Texas A&M carved out a 20-7 victory over Texas Tech Saturday night but had to work every minute against one of the toughest Red Raider teams it ever faced.

Erratic at times but brilliant more often, the Aggies scored both on land and in the air. However, a combination of fumbling and a rough, tough Texas Tech team that never quit kept the A&M scoring down.

Once A&M got a touchdown but lost it with a fumble in the Tech end zone.

Huge Chunks Of Yardage

Bob Smith, the Aggies' heralded fullback, showed greatness in spurts but spent most of the game on the bench with assorted injuries. Little Glenn Lippman bore the brunt of the Aggie running game that ground out huge chunks of yardage when the Cadet backs could hold the ball long enough.

A much smaller crowd than expected—a bare 27,000—turned out to see the Aggies and Techans play their first game in Dallas. They had been meeting annually at San Antonio.

The Aggies rolled 6 yards for a touchdown the first time they had the ball and never were behind, although Tech tied the score late in the second quarter.

Even a holding penalty of 15 yards couldn't slow the Aggies down on that drive, climaxed when Dick Gardemal passed from the Tech six-yard line to Charley Hodge in the end zone. Darrow Hooper converted.

Red Raiders Score

Tech scored on a 44-yard surge set up by a brilliant punt return by Junior Arterburn to the Aggie 46. Jim Turner and Pete Rinaldi stroled through gaping holes in the left side of the Aggie line, and a 12-yard jaunt by Turner paid off with the score. Elmer Wilson fumbled the pass-back in the try for extra point and Vernon Whitaker, stubby Raider guard who was to kick, pulled the ball out of the air and ran around end for the conversion.

A&M smashed back 79 yards for an apparent touchdown the next time it got the ball, but as Augie Saxe went across from the Tech two he fumbled and Arterburn recovered for Tech. With just six seconds left in the half, Ray Graves slanted 63 yards for the second Aggie touchdown. He was back to pass, couldn't find a receiver and ran around right end. Hooper missed the point.

A&M got its final touchdown early in the third period on a 96-yard drive, helped along by a roughing penalty against Tech. Lippman gained 42 yards in the drive, which wound up with Gardemal sneaking through center from the two-yard line. Hooper converted.

Missouri Outscores Cowboys, 27 To 26

COLUMBIA, MO. —(P)— Missouri unleashed an 80-yard scoring drive in the closing minutes to nip Oklahoma A&M, 27 to 26, Saturday with Tackle Paul Fuchs' successful conversion giving the Tigers their narrow margin.

Twice Missouri came from behind to take the high-scoring affair and give it a victory after last week's 34-20 loss to Fordham.

With four minutes to play, Oklahoma A&M held a 26-20 lead and had the Tigers backed to their own 20. Missouri got the ball there after Skippy Warren's attempted field goal from the 17 was short.

Nine plays later Missouri had pushed over the necessary touchdown, the pay-off play a 10-yard pass on fourth down from Junior Wren to Harold Carter. If the pressure bothered him, Fuchs didn't show it as he booted the game-winning extra point.

LSU Upsets Tide In 13-7 Contest

MOBILE, ALA. —(P)— Alabama's vaunted offense fizzled Saturday and Louisiana State University Tigers rode to a 13-7 upset over the stunned Crimson Tide before a crowd of 32,000.

Kellner Hurls A's To Win Over Senators

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Philadelphia Athletics defeated Washington here Saturday night, 5-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Alex Kellner.

The score: R H E Philadelphia 202 100 000-5 13 2 Washington 000 001 000-1 5 1 Kellner and Astor; Start, Harris, Sims and Grasso.

New York's Giants Snatch Brief Lead In Pennant Chase

BOSTON —(P)— New York's amazing Giants took over undisputed possession of first place for a few hours Saturday in the sizzling National League pennant race and then settled for a deadlock as the Brooklyn Dodgers also came through with a victory in a night game.

The Giants blanked Boston's Braves, 3-0, at Braves

Field as Sad Sal Maglie spun a brilliant five-hitter for his twenty-third victory.

The victory, New York's sixth straight and its thirty-sixth in the last 43 games, climaxed an unrepresible surge that began August 12, when they trailed Brooklyn by 13 1/2 games. It marked the first time the Giants ever had first place all to themselves. But it lasted only until the Dodgers whipped the Phillies 5-0 under the lights at Philadelphia.

Each team closes out its regular season Sunday against the same opponents.

The Giants solved Southpaw Warren Spahn for only five hits in eight innings, but broke through for single tallies in the second and fifth innings to whip the crafty left-hander for the sixth time this year.

They added an insurance run against Reliever Vern Riffe in the ninth. It was Spahn's fourteenth defeat against 22 wins.

The score: R H E New York 010 010 001-3 7 0 Boston 000 000 000-0 5 1 Maglie and Westrum, Spahn, Bickford and Cooper.

The difference was Hair plus a recovered fumble and a 90-yard touchdown run on a pass interception by Jimmy Quarles.

Tigers Beat Owls

HOUSTON —(P)— Clemson had a hair's edge—Billy Hair—over surprising Rice Saturday night and used it for a 20-14 victory that stretched its unbeaten string to fifteen games.

The 21-year-old, 170 pound junior sparked Clemson to two touchdowns in the first period and another in the third, gaining 84 of the Tigers' 214 yards on the ground and passing for 137 of their 148 gained through the air.

Rice, studded with sophomores, used the heady play of a hard charging line and a brilliant passing combination of Leroy Fenstermaker to Bill Horton to buoy the hopes of the partisan 35,000 fans.

The difference was Hair plus a recovered fumble and a 90-yard touchdown run on a pass interception by Jimmy Quarles.

Middlecoff Clings To Lead In Open

ST. LOUIS —(P)— Defending Champion Cary Middlecoff hung onto a four-stroke lead through the third round in the $15,000 St. Louis Open Golf Tournament Saturday by posting a 69 for a 34-hole total of 199, 14 under par.

Jack Burke was second with a 68 for a total of 203.

The low 63 made the swing Saturday. They will complete the tournament Sunday with 18 holes.

Milk Bowl To Be Played In Marlin

MARLIN, TEXAS —(P)— The annual Milk Bowl, a contest between small fry, 100-pound-limit eleven, will be in Marlin this year. The Marlin Quarterback Club announced Saturday it would sponsor the event.

A three-man committee will name a Texas team to meet an out of state team.

Texans, Kentucky Tilt To Be Screened

Films of the Texas-Kentucky football game will be screened at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the conference room of the Magnolia Building, Longhorn Club Publicity Director Hulon Brown said Saturday.

All members of the Longhorn Club, ex-Texas students and their families are invited to attend. Texas won the game, 7 to 6.

Cardinals Nudge Chicago Cubs, 4-3

CHICAGO —(P)— Rookie Lefty Jackie Collum, with late inning assistance from Dick Bokelmann, gained his second major league pitching victory Saturday as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago Cubs, 4-3.

The score: R H E St. Louis 300 100 000-4 10 0 Chicago 000 000 210-3 9 2 Collum, Bokelmann and Sarni; Rush, Hatten, Leonard and Chitt.

Cincinnati Redlegs Dump Pittsburgh, 4-2

PITTSBURGH —(P)— The Cincinnati Reds hammered Murry Dickson for 11 hits as they defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2, Saturday night. Hank Edwards hit his third homer of the season in the fourth inning to help Ewell Blackwell to his sixteenth win against 15 defeats.

The score: R H E Cincinnati 010 120 000-4 11 2 Pittsburgh 000 002 000-2 7 0 Blackwell, F. Smith and Landrith; Dickson and McCullough.

The score: R H E Cincinnati 010 120 000-4 11 2 Pittsburgh 000 002 000-2 7 0 Blackwell, F. Smith and Landrith; Dickson and McCullough.

Big Lake Wins From Midland 'B'

BIG LAKE—The Reagan County High School Owls of Big Lake were too heavy and experienced for the Midland High School B team here Saturday night and romped off with a 28-7 football victory.

Wyoming Pressed By Denver, 20-14

LARAMIE, WYO. —(P)— Tailback Harry Geiden smashed over for a touchdown in the last 35 seconds to pull Wyoming's hard-pressed Cowboys to a 20-14 football victory Saturday over a Denver team that passed the Skyline Champions dizzy.

The Denver Pioneers completed 24 of 38 passes in the most glittering aerial display ever seen on Wyoming's home fields. Backs Jerry Collis and Sam Etcheverry did the pitching, and a host of Pioneers collaborated in the phenomenal receptions.

Illini Steamroll UCLA Bruins, 27-13

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. —(P)— Illinois unleashed a whirlwind attack featuring Johnny Karras, Bill Tate and Don Stevens Saturday that swept aside UCLA, 27 to 13.

The game was viewed by 53,256 fans—the largest crowd ever to see an Illini home football opehr. The running of this trio of backs combined with passing by sophomore Tom O'Connell and senior Don Engle kept the Illini ahead from the start and more than compensated for weakness in the defensive line.

Karras, the 170-pound halfback who is bidding for All-America honors, scored three times, twice on one-yard plunges and again on an 11-yard stamped. Stevens, the 170-pound twin terror at half, rocketed 58 yards for the other Illini touchdown in the longest and most sensational gain of the game.

Volunteers Stop Mississippi State

KNOXVILLE, TENN. —(P)— Tennessee stabbed quickly for two touchdowns in the first period and then coasted to an unimpressive 14 to 0 to win over Mississippi State Saturday in a Southeastern Conference football game.

After the two game-winning thrusts, the Volunteers' highly touted single wing offensive sputted and fizzled against the Maroons' stubborn defensive wall.

Georgia Downs Tarheels, 28-16

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. —(P)— The thread-needle passing of Quarterback Zeke Bratowski brought Georgia from behind in the final period Saturday to smack down North Carolina, 28-16.

A crowd of 40,000 saw the giant Georgians score three times in less than eight blazing minutes of the last period to turn the game into a rout.

CALIFORNIA RIPS QUAKERS, 35-0

PHILADELPHIA —(P)— California, rated as the mightiest of the Pacific Coast football powers, uncovered a one-two passing punch in Billy Mais and Big John Olszewski to hand Pennsylvania a 35 to 0 lacing Saturday.

AUBURN LICKS VANDY

AUBURN, ALA. —(P)— Auburn took full advantage of Vanderbilt fumbles and its own strength on the ground Saturday to win a surprising 24-14 victory in a Southeastern Conference football game before 17,000.

FUMBLES HURT PONIES—

Buckeyes Slip By SMU In 7-0 Battle

COLUMBUS, OHIO —(P)—Ohio State's Buckeyes, picked to finish third in the national collegiate football scramble, received the scare of their lives Saturday as they opened with a 7-0 victory over the Mustangs of Southern Methodist.

The talent-laden Ohioans struck for a touchdown in the second period on a 21-yard pass and then fought with their backs to the wall most of the remainder of the game as tall Fred Benner, who wrecked the Bucks a year ago, completed 21 of 29 passes for 211 yards but no score.

A crowd of 80,735, biggest opening day throng in Ohio history, witnessed the contest.

The Ohio scoring play was a sensational one. The Bucks picked up the ball on a pass interception on their own 32 1/2-yard line and aided by a roughness penalty, moved in six plays to the Mustang 21. All-American Vic Janowicz tossed an incomplete pass, but on the next play Quarterback Tony Curcio, operating from the T, sent his three other backs winging to the left while he cut far out to the right without protection and tossed an aerial into the end zone to Bob Joslin, a sophomore end. Janowicz added the extra point.

Southern Methodist could have duplicated its 32-27 victory of last year but for some butter-fingered ball handling. Four times the Mustangs surrendered the ball on fumbles and four passes were intercepted to halt other drives.

Disastrous Interceptions

Most disastrous of the interceptions came in the closing minutes. The Mustangs had stopped an Ohio surge on the one-foot line, allowing the Bucks only four yards in four downs, and Benner opened a pass attack from his own end zone in a valiant attempt to square the score.

Eight times the sensational hurler threw the ball, and eight times he completed the play. Aided by a roughness penalty and one for off-side, he moved the ball from his own one-foot line to Ohio's 17. With 28 seconds to play, he hit Henry Stollenwerk with a pass on the 13-yard line, but the Mustang receiver fumbled when tackled and Sherwin Gandee of Ohio recovered to halt the threat.

Another Mustang surge which started far back on the 17-yard line carried to Ohio's four in the third period, but Ohio took the ball on downs when a Benner to Fullback Bill Forester pass fell inches short of a first down. Later in the third period, Janowicz intercepted one of Benner's tosses in the Ohio end zone to erase another Southern Methodist scoring chance.

Bobby Jones, five-time winner of the US amateur crown, was recently elected captain of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrew's, Scotland.

Newcombe Hurls Bums To Victory

PHILADELPHIA —(P)—The thoroughly aroused Brooklyn Dodgers crushed the Phillies, 5-0 Saturday night behind big Don Newcombe's fiery fast ball pitching and climbed back into a tie with the New York Giants for the National League lead. Thus Brooklyn and New York go into the final day of the season each with 95 victories and 58 defeats.

Newcombe, achieving his twentieth pitching victory of the season, set the Phils down with seven hits. He received sensational fielding support from Jackie Robinson and Billy Cox as well as the solid backing of 10 hits by his teammates, including a two-run homer by Andy Pafko.

The Dodgers got off to an early lead and this time they held it, hammering Robin Roberts' hard and taking advantage of every Philly miscue.

There were plenty of these as the Phils made four errors and gave up three unearned runs.

The score:
Brooklyn 031 010 000—5 10 0
Philadelphia 000 000 000—0 7 4
Newcombe and Campanella; Roberts, Hansen and Seminick.

Navy, Yale Battle To 7-7 Deadlock

NEW HAVEN, CONN. —(P)—Favored Navy had to come from behind with a final period score to deadlock Yale, 7-7, Saturday.

Yale scored its touchdown in the first period on Jim Ryan's pass to Ed Woodsum, which covered 19 yards. Navy knotted the count in three seconds of the last quarter, Captain Frank Hauff bulging through the middle from the nine to climax a 70-yard attack.

Throughout the savagely-fought contest, witnessed by 55,000, the forward walls of both teams slugged it out.

The lads fought it out right down to the final wire and Navy tossed a final big score at Yale in the final three seconds when Ned Snyder's 35-yard field goal attempt barely fell short of the target.

Hogs' Late Rush Downs Arizona St.

FAYETTEVILLE, A. R. K.

—(P)—Heavily-favored Arkansas fumbled and stumbled for a half but came back mightily in the third quarter to batter Arizona State of Tempe, 30 to 13, before a scant 10,000 fans here Saturday.

The spirited Sun Devils from the Border Conference built up a 13-6 halftime lead and it remained for Lamar McHan, a big blonde sophomore triple-threat, to pull it out of the fire for the Razorbacks.

McHan, operating at both quarterback and fullback in Arkansas' split T attack, passed for two touchdowns and helped tremendously to set up all of the other Razorback scoring, including an 11-yard field goal by Pat Summerall. He also threw the key block on a touchdown play.

Arizona State covered four Razorback fumbles in the first half in first quarter.

They got one bobble on the Arkansas 10-yard line in the opening quarter and scored quickly on a pass from Harold Self to End Johnny Allen.

Tom Sanson kicked the point. McHan got the Razorbacks rolling early in the second period and herded them 63 yards on nine plays, passing four yards to Summerall for a touchdown.

George Thomason's place kick was wide to leave the visitors on the long end of a 7-6 score.

Arizona State moved 64 yards to increase its margin in the second quarter. Fullback Harley Cooper powered over from eight yards out.

Tosses To Journey
The first time the Razorbacks got the ball in the second half they went 67 yards to tie it up. Featuring the drive were Jack Troxell's 37-yard sprint and McHan's 13-yard toe to End Bill Journey for the touchdown. Thomason converted the deadlocking point.

A few minutes later Arkansas paraded to the A-state 11 but was stalled and Summerall toed the ball for three points.

Still in the third quarter, McHan moved to the fullback slot and sparked a 40-yard scoring drive capped by Jim Rinehart's sneak of less than a yard into the end zone.

Near the end, with Arizona State giving way to Arkansas' greater weight and depth, Rinehart bootlegged the ball two yards around end for a touchdown with McHan's blocking paving the way.

Ole Miss Tumbles Kentucky, 21-17

OXFORD, MISS. —(P)—The University of Mississippi smothered the great Babe Parilli and grabbed a pair of University of Kentucky fumbles to topple the 1951 Sugar Bowl Champions, 21-17, here Saturday.

The Mississippians bulldozed and passed their way to revenge for the 47-0 and 27-0 pastings the Kentuckians handed them in the last two seasons.

Kentucky, the Southeastern Conference defending champs, didn't quit until the last whistle.

In the final Wildcat try, Parilli passed 77 yards in a series of plays that ended on the one-yard line. Mississippi's pass defense clicked as Pete Mangum hit Jim Proffitt so hard he dropped the ball.

"Century discovered Mississippi's improved pass defense early when they were forced to call on Harry Jones' toe for a field goal after five minutes of the first quarter.

Chicago Sox Blast Browns In 8-3 Tilt

ST. LOUIS —(P)—The Chicago White Sox, held to one hit for five innings, broke loose for three runs on five singles and a walk in the sixth, and handed the St. Louis Browns an 8 to 3 defeat Saturday.

Rookie Bob Turley was the victim of the Sox' attack.

The score:

Chicago 100 003 022—8 13 1
St. Louis 000 020 001—3 8 3
Kretlow and Sheely; Turley, McDonald, Markell and Batta.

HAWKEYES WIN, 16-0

IOWA CITY, IOWA —(P)—Iowa huffed and puffed to a 16-0 victory over Kansas State Saturday in the Hawkeyes' opening football game of the season. Iowa muffed eight scoring opportunities.

LUGGIN' LEATHER—Roy Kimsey, Midland back, heads for a hole but doesn't quite make it as a Crozier boy rides him down near the Tech goal. Other Bulldogs shown are Jim Lineberger (52), Robert Keisling (58) and Dalton Byerley (68). Midland won, 28 to 9.

Frogs Drub Nebraska In 28-7 Upset Tilt

LINCOLN, NEB. —(P)—Texas Christian, a fine team of opportunists, exploded a three-touchdown barrage at Nebraska in the second period Saturday to start the Texans on their way to a 28-7 football victory.

A crowd of 38,000 saw the Texas club score twice in the first four and one-half minutes of the second quarter to wipe out a 7-0 Nebraska lead, gained in the opening period.

The Nebraska score had come largely through a Texas Christian pass interference penalty in the end zone. But this break was erased on the second play of the second quarter to wipe out a 7-0 Nebraska lead, gained in the opening period.

The Nebraska score had come largely through a Texas Christian pass interference penalty in the end zone. But this break was erased on the second play of the second quarter. That was when Quarterback Johnny Bordogna fumbled the ball on the Nebraska eight, the ball rolling backward into the end zone, where End Wayne Martin of TCU fell on it for the tying touchdown.

Texas Christian came right back after a short Nebraska punt with a 48-yard march, ending when Bobby Floyd went over from the three-yard line.

Before the quarter ended, TCU scored for the third time after blocking a Tom Caridine punt on the Nebraska 29. On the very next play the TCU star, Malvin Fowler, passed to End Bob Blair for the score. Keith Flowers kicked all the extra points.

Fourth Touchdown
But the fourth Texas Christian touchdown, in the last period, was the one that really gave the crowd its biggest share of laughs and sobs. The events leading up to it started when Nebraska fumbled and TCU got the ball on the 28. TCU promptly fumbled it back to Nebraska on the 20, with Nebraska almost immediately fumbling it once more to TCU on the 28. This time TCU went the distance.

Nebraska played without All-America Bob Reynolds, who was sidelined with a shoulder injury. However, Nebraska showed nothing in the way of the kind of explosive offensive line that so constantly broke Reynolds into the open last year, and it is doubtful Reynolds could have staved off the licking.

Probably the state's top AAA game of the week will be played at Memorial Stadium Friday night when the unbeaten Brownwood Lions and the likewise undefeated Midland Bulldogs get together for a ball game.

"We meet our first real challenge in Brownwood," Coach Tugboat Jones said Saturday.

"The teams we've defeated haven't been bad—and they were in the AAAA classification.

"But Brownwood is loaded. If we can beat them, then we might do okay."

Jones said Crozier Tech made Midland "look ragged" with off-brand defenses Friday night and added: "Brownwood will beat us if we play like we did against Crozier."

Heading the Brownwood team is Leonard Fry, who whipped the Bulldogs, 21 to 13, last season.

The Lions have billed Coleman, 33-12; Lamesa, 40-13; and North Side (Fort Worth), 33-14.

"Brownwood broke our unbeaten streak last season," said Jones, "and now we have a chance to return the 'compliment'—or let them break ours again."

Saturday night, ACC and Texas Western meet in Memorial Stadium, in an Optimist-sponsored contest.

It oughta be interesting, even though both teams have lost this season. Tickets for the game are on sale at Tailorline.

Coach Charles Read, the Stanton mentor, expects to bring his entire squad of 40 boys to the game. The Buffs will sit in a special section during the collegiate clash.

"Odessa," informs our friend Joe Saliman, "has absolutely the greatest high school team I've ever seen. If they played Port Arthur again, they'd beat 'em five touchdowns."

"Port Arthur would beat Odessa 40 points, if they played again," Jimmy Edwards, ex-MHS and Austin College player, dropped around to say.

Wink Romps Over Pecos High, 27-19

By BOB ADAMS
Reporter-Telegram Staff

WINK—Turning on a crushing last-half offensive, the Wink Wildcats fought from behind a 13-7 halftime deficit Friday night to walloop the favored Pecos Eagles of District 8-AA, 27 to 19, before a capacity homecoming crowd in Wildcat Stadium.

It was the second straight win for 5-A Wink over an 8-AA power, as the Wildcats last week downed arch-rival Kermit, 20 to 7.

Scintillating touchdown runs and beautiful passing were featured in the contest by both squads.

It probably is small consolation to Pecos, but the Eagles played a superb game, even in defeat.

After a scoreless first quarter which saw a Wink drive stall on the Pecos six-yard line, the game broke wide open in the second when Pecos chalked up six points on an 82-yard touchdown dash by fullback Tommy Langham. Langham converted and the score stood, 7-0.

Villareal Scores
On the ensuing kick off, Wink Back Dan Villareal gathered in the ball on his own 18-yard line, cut sharply over to the right side-lines and hot-footed all the way for the TD. Rusty Wallace's attempted conversion failed and Pecos led, 7-6.

Five plays after the Wink kick off Pecos struck again when Gutierrez threw a beautiful pass to end L. Eisenwine who took it behind the Wink secondary and went all the way. Langham's kick failed and Pecos led, 13-7.

A desperation pass thrown by Wink's Kenneth Vinson, after he was trapped behind the line of scrimmage, was caught by W. C. Herricks on the Pecos 10-yard line to set up Wink's next score. Back Dale Dodd hit right guard for five yards, then hit the center for the TD. Rusty Wallace kicked the point to tie the game at 13-13.

Wink's Barne Richards intercepted a Gutierrez pass on his own 45-yard line and ran it back to the Pecos 12-yard line. Dodd pounded through center in two plays for the score and Wallace's kick was good. Score 20-13, Wink.

Villareal scored a little later for Wink when he scooted through left tackle and ran all the way for the touchdown. Wallace converted to put Wink ahead 27-13.

On the next play after the kick-off, Gutierrez passed again, this time to A. Turk, who took the ball and went all the way. Langham's attempted conversion was no good and that was the ball game, Wink 27, Pecos 19.

Bubba Church, right hander for the Philles, got his nickname through the inability of his baby sister to say "brother."

Longhorns Stomp Boilermakers, 14-0

LAFAYETTE, IND. —(P)— The Texas Longhorns ground out two first-half touchdowns on straight power plays for a 14-0 victory Saturday over a Purdue team that couldn't get Paul Williams and Jack Barton out of its way.

Williams, 205 pounds of spring-legged end, pounced on three Purdue fumbles. Center Barton was a stone post in the road of Purdue's second-half drive which piled up heavy yardage too far from the goal line.

Halfback Gib Dawson scored both Texas touchdowns and converted both extra points.

Three or four yards at a crack was the Texas pace in its first-half offensive and it was good enough. Without picking up an inch in the air, the Texans went 30 yards in eight plays for the first score.

Dawson curved five yards around his own right end for the touchdown.

Texas Line Impressive
Texas jabbed 31 yards in 10 plays for the second score. Dawson crossed the goal line untouched from the Purdue three.

The rest of the way, Texas spent most of the time on the defensive and looked more impressive in that phase of the game than it did on its scoring rushes.

Purdue wound up with 262 yards from scrimmage to Texas' 215, and 17 first downs to Texas' 10.

But Purdue couldn't dent the Texas line for important short gains. The crowd of 31,000 saw Dale Samuels of Purdue complete 12 passes for 114 yards. He hit his ends, particularly Bernard Flowers, with precision except when Texans got in the way. That was too often—four of his tosses were intercepted.

Texas tried only three passes, completed none and had one intercepted.

Alert Seminole Thumps Roby Lions

SEMINOLE—An alert Seminole team took advantage of Roby's mistakes here Friday night, gobbling up four fumbles at crucial moments and taking a 28 to 7 win. The Indians also intercepted three Roby passes.

Seminole moved 65 yards to pay dirt in the first quarter, with Jon Wilson putting the ball in scoring position with a 30-yard pass to Jackie Gothard, then tossing to Ivey for a touchdown from the 20-yard line. Brad Crawford converted the first of four extra points.

Roby fumbled the kickoff, Seminole took over at the 15 and in four plays, Paul Sublett cracked over. The Lions came back to score on a 50-yard pass play to cut the lead to 14-7 at halftime.

Another Roby fumble was recovered by the Indians on the Roby six-yard line in the third quarter. Jackie Sparts scoring from the three-yard line.

Guard Gene Graham blocked a Roby punt in the fourth quarter, scooped it up and ran 20 yards for the final Seminole marker.

Roby led in first downs, 11 to 10.

Odessa Wins Tilt 48-0, But Loses Speedy Childress

ODESSA—Odessa won a ball game but lost a star player here Friday night, as the Bronchos overpowered Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City, 48 to 0.

Joe Childress, one of the fastest schoolboys in the state, was hospitalized with three cracked vertebrae.

Halfback Jack Freeman and David Guber blasted the Capitol Hill line as Odessa scored in each quarter, piling up 20 points in the final stanza.

Jobe, Andrews fullback, opened scoring in the first quarter, and in the second quarter Huestis intercepted a Crane pass and ran 45 yards to pay dirt. Hamilton kicked both these extra points. In the third quarter Allen scored and in the last period Jobe again took the ball across.

Crane's score was made by Malcolm Garrett, who ran 65 yards after taking a pass. Garrett also kicked the point.

Each team attempted 11 passes, with Andrews clicking on five and Crane on three.

Bob Friend, pitcher on the Pittsburgh Pirates, attends Purdue University during the off months.

Villanova Pounds Army Cadets, 21-7

WEST POINT —(P)— Villanova, belted around regularly by Army football teams since 1908, took its revenge Saturday on the Cadets' shattered forces, grinding out a 21 to 7 victory as Ben Addiego, a fire-plug halfback from West Mont. N. J., went across for three touchdowns.

Playing their first game since the cribbing scandal of early August robbed them of all but two of last year's letter men, the Cadet youngsters acquitted themselves well and lived up to every West Point tradition for fighting, but they simply were no match for the big, rugged Wildcats team which outweighed them some 30 pounds to the man.

Taking the opening kickoff, the Wildcats drove 65 yards to score, with Bill Branneau whipping a 14 yard pass to Addiego for the count.

Again before the period ended the husky visitors pounded for 75 yards, with Addiego skirting end for the final seven to post a 14-0 lead.

Early in the third period the Branneau-Addiego aerial combination struck again, this time from 43 yards out.

Army finally scored after recovering one of eight Villanova fumbles near the end of the quarter. Fred Meyers, Enid, Okla., and Fred Ataya, Piquette, Miss., plugged from Villanova's 19 down to the seven, and John Wing, sophomore fullback from Dayton, Ky., dived over from the two.

Stokes Paces McCarney To 14-0 Verdict

MONAHANS — Ramblin' Billy Stokes led the McCarney Badgers past the light Monahans Lobos here Friday night, 14-0.

Stokes scored on runs of 61 and 15 yards, in the first and third quarters. Charles Dixon and Ray Garrison converted after the tallies.

McCarney threatened again in the fourth when the sterling Stokes intercepted a pass on his own 45-yard line and romped to the Lobo two. But Monahans held the Badgers to one yard in four smashes.

McCarney led in first downs, 11-2.

Chattanooga Beats ACC Wildcats, 33-7

CHATTANOOGA —(P)— Abilene Christian College collapsed before the smashing offensive of the University of Chattanooga Friday night as the Texans absorbed a 33-7 defeat in an inter-sectional game.

Chattanooga, which lost to ACC last year, was making its third straight win.

ACC scored with only 50 seconds to go. Tommy Hinson smashed seven yards and the touchdown.

FBI Men To Probe Cutting Of Wire

TEXARKANA —(P)— The Dallas FBI said Saturday the cutting of the station KTFP wire at the Texarkana press box Friday night had been referred to them for investigation.

Dave Segan, owner of the Texarkana station, said the line difficulty was discovered about 7 p.m. when engineers went to the filed to complete arrangements for broadcasting the Texarkana-Little Rock, Ark., football game.

Tests were made, and it was 8:30 when it was discovered the line had been cut. The station made repairs and started the football broadcast during the halftime activities. It had filled in from its regular station.

The station offered a $1,000 reward.

WHEN THE CHIPS ARE Down...

When you were in uniform, you heard a lot of chaps say, "After me—you come first." But somehow, when the chips were down, these Sad Sacks turned out to be pretty good Joes. You found out then it was more like "one for all and all for one."

Well, that's what's known as "comradeship"—the kind you find in the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

That "all for one" spirit is pretty important to you as a civilian too. In the V.F.W., it means friends—the kind who like to work together for the general good of all concerned and not just for their own selfish advantages.

Once you become an active member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, you will be the first to agree that—

C-W Dawson Tester Seen As Flowing Pennsylvania Oiler

Another flowing discovery from the Pennsylvania line is in prospect for Dawson County.

Greenbrier Oil Company of Fort Worth No. 1 M. C. Lindsey, Central-West Dawson County wildcat, 13 miles west of Lamesa, flowed oil at the estimated rate of 30 barrels per hour from the section at 10,934-972 feet in a lower Pennsylvania line thought by some geologists to possibly be the Strawn.

The flow came during a 31-minute drillstem test of the 10,934-972-foot interval. Gas surfaced in five minutes. Mud flowed out at the top in 12 minutes and the oil started flowing out in 13 minutes.

30 BOPM
The prospect was flowed for 18 minutes at the estimated rate of 30 barrels of oil per hour. There were no signs of water.

Operator was pulling the test tool at last report.
Size of choke, pressures and other details which may have been developed during the test had not been reported.

Likely the project will be cored deeper to determine the full thickness of the producing formation.

The first Pennsylvania line was entered in this wildcat at 10,330 feet. No shows of oil or gas were found in that formation until the hole reached 10,950 feet. Drilling was soft from that point to 10,972 feet and operator then ordered the drillstem test run.

This apparent new field opener is 662.5 feet from east and 663.3 feet from south lines of section 132, block M, ELARR survey.

It is one and one-half miles east of the east line of Gaines County and seven miles south and slightly west of El Tee Oil Company No. 1-96 Briley, recently completed flowing discovery from an upper section of the Pennsylvania line at 8,575-90 feet.

This discovery was completed for a 24-hour potential of 735 barrels of oil and no water flowing through a 50 64-inch tubing choke, after the pay had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The El Tee No. 1-96 Briley is 660 feet from north and 860 feet from east lines of section 96, block M, ELARR survey. Both it and the Greenbrier No. 1 Lindsey were started out to go to the Ellenburger—unless they developed commercial production at lesser depths.

Stanolind Schedules Deeper Depth For S-C Terry Wildcat

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company is to try for production in the Ellenburger in its No. 1 Anderson-Taylor, South-Central Terry County wildcat, six and one-half miles south of Brownfield.

It is expected that the prospector will have to dig to below 13,000 feet to find and explore that formation. Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 120, block T, D&W survey.

This prospector had reached 12,380 feet in the upper zone of the Devonian and it was preparing to drill ahead from that point.

Devonian Top
After topping the Devonian at 12,355 feet, with an elevation of 3,274 feet it drilled to 12,380 feet and ran a 90-minute drillstem test with the packer at 12,350 feet.

Recovery was 450 feet of drilling mud, 250 feet of sulphur water cut mud and 11,030 feet of sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

This project was originally started to test the lime reefs which is productive in the Brownfield, South-Canyon, the Wolfcamp and the Adair-Wolfcamp fields in Terry County.

That formation was entered at 10,018 feet. It did not have any shows for production. None of the upper beds logged any possibilities of making an oil well.

Oil Possibilities Are To Be Determined At Howard Wildcat Soon

Producing possibilities of an oil carrying zone in the Pennsylvania line in Deep Rock Oil Corporation No. 1 J. O. McCrary, North-Central Howard County wildcat should be determined early in the week.

This prospector is six miles north of Big Spring and 2,980 feet from east and 660 feet from north lines of section 1, block 33, T-1-N, T&P survey.

The best shows of oil and gas were found in this project in the interval at 9,038-84 feet. During a drillstem test of that section the project sprayed oil and gas with good pressure for more than two hours. No formation water was produced in that interval.

More Shows
Shows of possible production continued down to 9,089 feet. However the section at 9,068-89 feet made oil, gas and water on a drillstem test.

The venture drilled on down to 9,178 feet and cemented 7-inch casing at that point. The hole was then continued to 9,267 feet. The section of hole between the bottom of the pipe and the total depth did not log any appreciable shows of petroleum.

Operator has plugged back to the bottom of the casing and is now preparing to perforate opposite the zone which made the best shows of oil and gas. When that is done the project will be given an extended test and the operator will try to make an oil well.

NE Crockett Test Has More Flowing Pay In Ellenburger

Continental Oil Company No. 3-A J. M. Shannon estate, second project in the Ellenburger field of Northeast Crockett County to show for production, is preparing to take a drillstem test from 7,350 to 7,400 feet after logging more shows in the Ellenburger.

On a drillstem test from 7,300 to 7,350 feet the project flowed 56 barrels of 35.5-gravity pipeline oil in one and one-half hours.

Tool was open two hours and five minutes. Gas came to the surface in five minutes at the rate of 860,000 cubic feet per day.

Oil surfaced in 35 minutes. The shale out was one and one-tenth per cent basic sediment and drilling water. Open flowing pressure was 1,495 pounds and shut in bottomhole pressure was 3,080 pounds.

On a previous drillstem test, No. 3-A Shannon flowed 72 barrels of 39.4-gravity oil the first hour and 28 barrels of oil the last 30 minutes of a one hour and 41 minute test. The interval tested was from 7,249 to 7,300 feet.

Previous Test
A one hour and 55 minute drillstem test at 7,174-7,225 feet developed a flow of 60 barrels of oil the first hour and 45 barrels of oil the next 45 minutes.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 22, block UV, GC&SF survey. It is five-eighths of a mile northeast of the same operator's No. 1-A Shannon estate, the discovery.

Midland Tester Is Drilling Plug; Will Then Dig Deeper

The Blackwood & Nichols Company No. 1 Hofferkamp, wildcat in North-Central Midland County, is preparing to drill the plug on seven-inch casing which is set at 11,128 feet in the Pennsylvania.

Operator will then drill ahead below the pipe to see if any shows of possible production can be developed.

Drillite is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 19, block 38, T-1-S, T&P survey and two and one-half miles northeast of Midland. Up to now this project has not found any appreciable signs of commercial production.

Blackwood & Nichols Company No. 1 B. L. Moss, Central-North Midland County test, is drilling below 9,498 feet in lime and shale. Contract depth is 13,500 feet.

Northwest Of Midland
Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 19, block 38, T-1-S, T&P survey and two and one-half miles northeast of Midland.

Moore Exploration Company is making hole below 11,313 feet in shale, no sand and no lime at the No. 1 Dowlen-Hout, North-Central Midland County prospector. There are no shows of oil.

The wildcat is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 34, block 39, T-2-S, T&P survey. It is two and one-half miles southeast of the city of Midland.

Worth is progressing below 9,045 feet in lime and shale at the No. 1 O. H. McAllister, wildcat in North-east Midland County. It is still in the lower Permian.

The test is being drilled 660 feet from north and east lines of section 40, block 37, T-1-S, T&P survey and two miles southeast of Germania. Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 John Windham, project in Southwest Midland County, is deepening below 12,532 feet in lime and chert.

Operator found some signs of possible production in the top of the Pennsylvania.

No. 1 Windham is at the center of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 32, block 40, T-3-S, T&P survey. It is 17 miles southwest of Midland.

Deepening Is Slated For Albaugh Tester In SW Mitchell Area

Ray A. Albaugh of Midland has moved in rotary tools at his No. 1 Will T. Scott, et al. Southwest Mitchell County wildcat and will deepen it from its present bottom of 2,810 feet in upper Permian lime.

He plans to carry the prospector down to 8,750 feet or a test of the Ellenburger at a lesser depth.

The project was drilled to the current total depth of 2,810 feet, with cable tools, in order to allow testing the upper Permian beds.

Since no production has been found operator is now going to use the rotary to go on to the Ellenburger.

Location is 2,310 feet from east and 1,650 feet from south lines of section 11, block 17, SPRR survey. It is 13 miles south of Istan and 13 miles northeast of Forsan.

Central Martin Test Trying To Straighten Hole

The Texas Company No. 1 G. B. McClain, wildcat in Central Martin County, drilled to a total depth of 7,248 feet in lime and shale and had a crooked hole.

Operator has now plugged back to 7,083 feet and will try to drill ahead in a straighter hole.

This wildcat is due to dig to 12,300 feet for a test of the Ellenburger.

Location is 1,983 feet from south and 662 feet from west lines of section 38, block 36, T-2-N, T&P survey and one and one-quarter miles southeast of Lenorah.

No. 1 Dickinson Is Drilling
Sinclair Oil & Gas Company is drilling below 11,055 feet in shale and lime on its No. 1 E. B. Dickinson, South-Central Martin County wildcat.

No. 1 Dickinson is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 22, block 37, T-1-N, T&P survey and nine miles north of Stanton.

The project is scheduled to drill to 11,000 feet to test the Ellenburger. It was originally contracted to drill to 9,000 feet, but in drilling to that depth no shows of commercial production were encountered.

APOC Preparing To Complete Well In SW Terry Pool

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 Harmon Scales, one-location outside of production on the northeast side of the Wellman-Wolfcamp field of Southwest Terry County, is at total depth of 9,850 feet and is shut in to move off rig and take potential test and complete.

Lawton, Jameson To Speak Monday For IPAA Midland Meet

Allocation of steel to industry, the national tax picture, effect of Iranian oil situation on the domestic petroleum industry, the activities of the Independent Petroleum Producers Association of America, and depletion allowances will be among the topics which will be discussed by nationally known authorities at the regional meeting of the IPAA to be held in Midland Monday night.

Principal speakers will be R. G. Lawton, director of the production division of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, Minor Jameson of Washington, D.C., economist and assistant to the president of IPAA, and H. B. Fell, executive vice president of the IPAA.

Lawton, who will discuss the allotment of steel to industry especially as related to tubular goods, is an independent producer from Magnolia, Ark.

In his capacity with POD, he handles problems affecting the petroleum industry, and in general, assists in making possible the greatest amount of petroleum production with the use of minimum tonnage of steel.

Jameson, who as assistant to the president of the IPAA and as a petroleum economist, has been actively engaged in the work of various industry committees during the past year.

Some of the committees upon which he has served are the statistical advisory committee of the American Petroleum Institute, the economics advisory committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, the supply and demand committee of IPAA, and various industry groups dealing with government pe-roleum needs for both peace and possible future emergency.

Jameson's discussion will be concerned with the national tax picture, the effect of the Iranian oil disputes, the domestic petroleum industry and the depletion allowance.

He will be introduced at the regional meeting by J. Ed Warren, national president of the IPAA.

Fell's discussion will deal with the IPAA itself, and he will select various phases of the association's work for explanation and amplification. He also will discuss briefly depletion allowance.

Place of the meeting will be at the Midland Country Club and will be preceded by a get-acquainted period starting at 5:30 p.m. and a dinner. Because of limited facilities attendance will be restricted to members of IPAA only.

Kerr Will Speak At API Odessa Meeting

William L. Kerr, Midland attorney, is to speak at a meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute in the Ector County Auditorium in Odessa at 6:30 p.m. on October 9.

Barbecue and refreshments will be served.

Dean Chase, ticket sales chairman, states that tickets to the meeting are now available and can be obtained in Midland from John Ed Cooper, The Western Company; Pat Fletcher, The Atlantic Refining Company; Roy Minear, J. P. "Bum" Gibbins, Inc.; Ray Ousterhout, Dowell, Inc. and Chase, Phillips Petroleum Company.

Tickets will be available only through October 7 and will not be on sale at the meeting. Cost is $2.00 per person.

Yokum Discovery Gets SE Outpost

Saltwater Oil Company of Port Worth staked location for a southeast offset to the recent discovery of the Prentiss-Glorieta field of Northeast Yokum County.

It is No. 1 May and is located 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 25, block K, pal survey.

Projected depth is approximately 8,000 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin immediately.

The discovery of the Prentiss-Glorieta field is York & Harper, Inc., No. 1 Wright.

C-E Scurry Venture Plugged, Abandoned

American Republics Corporation No. 1 A. Simmons, et al. wildcat in Central-East Scurry County, has been plugged and abandoned at 2,775 feet in Ellenburger dolomite.

On its last test through perforations at 7,235-50 feet, it flowed 3.87 barrels of oil and 67.77 barrels of water in 24 hours.

Location is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 99, block 2, H&C survey and three miles west of Camp Springs and four miles west of the Fisher County line.

Blackrock Stakes Central Coke Test

J. Kenneth Blackrock spotted a 7,000-foot wildcat in Central Coke six miles west of Robert Lee.

No. 1 R. L. Page will be 660 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 11, John H. Childress survey.

Stanolind Runs Test In Coke Prospector

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 T. P. Carter, wildcat in Northeast Coke County, four miles southwest of Blackwell, took a one-hour drillstem test from 3,900 to 3,910 feet.

Recovery, after reversing out five barrels of mud-cut oil was 90 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud and 90 feet of free oil.

Drillsite is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 277, block 1-A H&C survey. Contract depth is 7,100 feet.

C-W Dawson Tester—

tion in the reef line at 9,500-9,520 feet, 9,540-9,750 feet and at 9,760-9,848 feet, the well kicked off after the swab had been pulled 10 times. It flowed to pits 20 minutes to clean and then flowed to tanks for one hour and 30 minutes through a three-quarter-inch choke. The first 30 minutes it made 64.8 barrels of oil and the second 30 minutes it made 37.8 barrels of oil.

Shut In To Complete

The third 30 minutes it made 43.2 barrels of petroleum. The well was then shut in to prepare for the potential test which will be taken in a few days.

Five and one-half-inch oil string is cemented at 9,848 feet.

The project topped the reef at 9,310 feet which is a datum of minus 6,023 feet. That makes it 802 feet above the water level in the field.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of northeast quarter of section 12, block C-38, pal survey. That makes it approximately 10 1/2 miles southwest of Brownfield.

NW Extender To Denton Area In Lea Is Assured

A one-mile northwest extension to Devonian production in the Denton multiphase area of Northeast Lea County has been assured at Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Fort.

On a 24-hour production test, the well flowed 223 barrels of 43.2-gravity oil and one per cent basic sediment and water through a one-half-inch choke, natural.

Flow was through perforations from 12,660 feet to 12,710 feet. Operator is now preparing to acidize the perforations and make further tests.

Location of this wildcat is 660 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 34-14-37e.

Devonian Flows Oil On DST In Lea Prospector

Skelly Oil Company and others No. 1-L Mexico-State, project in Southeast Lea County, flowed oil on a drillstem test in the Devonian from 7,618 to 7,732 feet.

Tool was open four and three-quarters hours and gas was at the surface in 19 minutes. Fluid came to the top in one hour and 31 minutes.

After testing to tanks for one and three-quarters hours, the well flowed 31.54 barrels of 40.4-gravity oil and one per cent drilling mud the first hour; 18.26 barrels of oil with six-tenths of one per cent mud the second hour and 19.92 barrels of oil with four-tenths of one per cent mud the third hour. Gas-oil ratio was 984-1.

Flowing pressure ranged from 390 to 680 pounds and 30-minute shut-in pressure was 2,585 pounds.

To Drill Deeper

Operators are continuing to drill below 7,743 feet in the Devonian which was topped at 7,530 feet.

No. 1-L Mexico is a southeast offset to the same operators' recent Ellenburger discovery in Southeast Lea County. That operator was No. 1-J Mexico-State. It had some shows in the Devonian between 7,546 feet and 7,780 feet, but did not flow.

Other plays indicated in the discovery were the Queen sand, Clear Fork and Silurian.

Location of No. 1-L Mexico is 660 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 5-25-35e and one mile west of the Dollarhide multiphase field of Andrews County.

Glasscock Project Fishing For Junk Before Taking DST

Sohio Petroleum Company No. 1 Bryans, deep project in the Driverr-Spraberry area of Southwest Glasscock County, is at total depth of 8,535 feet in the Dean shale and is failing for junk in the hole left when operator tried to take an electric log.

It may be several days before the hole is cleaned out. When this is done, a drillstem test of some oil shows in the Dean sand is to be taken.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

No Production Is Developed From Shallow Section

The Texas Company No. 1 Alma Carta, wildcat in West-Central Tom Green County, is drilling below 441 feet in shale and lime after testing a slight show of oil in a shallow unidentified lime above 411 feet.

The testing developed one-half of a barrel of water and a show of oil each hour.

Location is 3,330 feet from the most northerly south line and 475 feet from east lines of a 147.55-acre lease in section 826, Wilhelm Lueders survey.

Drillsite is 12 miles southwest of San Angelo.

Cosden Petroleum Corporation No. 1 W. G. Williams and others, wildcat in Southwest Kent County, is at total depth of 7,909 feet and is preparing to take a drillstem test in the Ellenburger, topped at 7,890 feet on elevation of 2,355 feet.

The Ellenburger so far drilled has not shown for any production and neither have any other of the section which have been penetrated.

Drillsite is 467 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 60, block 5, H&C survey. It is three miles southwest of the town of Polar.

Geological formation tops recorded are as follows: top of the San Andres, 1,530 feet, top of the Glorietta, 2,460 feet, top of the Clear Fork, 2,710 feet, top of the Wichita-Albany, 3,510 feet, top of the Wolfcamp, 4,590 feet and the top of the Cisco, 5,300 feet.

McCullough Wildcat Is Making More Hole

Ray A. Johnson, Central-West McCullough County wildcat is now drilling ahead below 1,940 feet in lime and shale, using cable tools.

Operations at this project were delayed for several days recently on account of a fishing job. That is cleaned up and the prospector is to go ahead to its contract depth of 2,500 feet or the Ellenburger or production at a lesser depth—unless it encounters granite before it reaches any of those destinations.

Location is 330 feet from north and east lines of section 1251, Jacob Klock survey. It is five miles north and two miles east of Melvin.

New Well Fined In Dawson Field

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and others have completed their No. 6-D S. E. Lee as a new producer in the Spraberry-Deep field of Central-East Dawson County.

The well flowed 24 hours through a 22 1/4-inch choke to make an initial production of 282.15 barrels of 38.4-gravity oil. No water was present. Gas-oil ratio was 452-1.

Top of pay is 6,500 feet and total depth of 6,745 feet. The open hole section was shot with 545 shots of nitroglycerin.

Location is 1,752 feet from north and 1,584 feet from east lines of lease in section 47, block 34, T&P survey.

Martin Test To Hydrofrac, Test

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1-A Harry Lester, East-Central Martin County wildcat, is preparing to hydrofrac the section from 8,005 to 8,050 feet and test.

Recovery was 50 feet of sand and shale on a core in the lower Spraberry from 8,000 to 8,060 feet. The bottom eight feet of the recovery had good fractures and oil shows.

Location is 60 feet from north and west lines of section 29, block 36, T-3-N, T&P survey. That puts it 20 miles north of Stanton and one and one-half miles east of the Stanton-Lamesa Highway.

Martin Wildcat To Be Abandoned

Deep Rock Oil Corporation is preparing to plug and abandon its No. 1 Woodward, North-Central Martin County wildcat, at 9,287 feet in lower Permian lime and shale.

The dry hole is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 24, block 36, T-3-N, T&P survey and six miles northeast of Lenorah.

Continental To Drill Stonewall Explorer

Continental Oil Company will drill the No. 1 Heron G. Flowers in Stonewall County and between the Guest and Flowers pools.

Location is set 467 feet from north and east lines of section 89, block D, H&C survey. It is one and three-quarters miles northeast of the Guest pool and the same distance northwest of the Flowers area.

Contract depth is 7,100 feet to test the Ellenburger.

C-W Midland Pool Gets Two Sites

Magnolia Petroleum Company has staked two new locations in the Park-Pennsylvanian field of Central-West Midland County.

Both the new tests will be drilled to 10,600 feet with rotary tools, beginning immediately.

Magnolia No. 2-A Roy Parks is on the south side of the field and is located 660 feet from south and 664 feet from east lines of section 14, Charles F. O'Neal survey, A-816. That makes it 11 1/2 miles south of Midland.

On the north side of the Park-Pennsylvanian field, Magnolia spotted its No. 6 Roy Parks, 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 10, Matt Daugherty survey, A-885.

Press Tour Sponsored By Magnolia, Socony-Vacuum Should Benefit West Texas

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

The press tour conducted last week over Texas by Magnolia Petroleum Company and its parent concern, Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, gave a group of news writers for a number of metropolitan daily newspapers and business magazines a new insight into Texas and particularly into the West Texas area.

Magnolia and Socony-Vacuum rendered a distinct service to Midland and West Texas when they brought that group of outstanding writers to this region. They also did a "good turn" for the writers.

All the operations shown and all the information presented on the tour were enlightening, beneficial and interesting.

The visiting writers were from New York, Chicago, Detroit, Washington, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Dallas, Houston, Beaumont and Fort Worth.

Even the men from the Texas and Oklahoma cities who were on the tour had their eyes opened and all of them, along with the writers from the other cities were amazed at the activity in West Texas.

One of the features of the tour was flight in two DC-3 airplanes on Monday night over Midland, Upton, Reagan, Glasscock and Martin Counties.

The scenes which that flight developed were awe-inspiring. From the time the airplanes took off from Midland Airport until they returned 60 minutes later they never out of sight of large concentrations of producing oil wells, drilling rigs and oil field traffic on the highways and field roads.

One writer who made the trip remarked that it appeared that Midland extended down to the middle of Crockett County on the south, up into Dawson County on the north, east to the Colorado River and west into New Mexico.

He received that impression on account of the whole area included inside those lines having appeared to be brightly lighted—when viewed from the air.

The visitors, most of whom had never been in Midland, were greatly impressed with the metropolitan appearance and the cosmopolitan atmosphere of the city.

The producing and drilling activity in the Pegasus field and in the Spraberry Trend regions was very impressive to all of them.

Several of the visiting writers declared that they would rather spend the rest of the week in Midland, when they left the city Tuesday afternoon—than go to the other points on the tour.

Most of them will come back soon for longer stays.

All of the Magnolia and Socony-Vacuum officials who had responsibilities in connection with the tour and with the entertainment for the visitors did outstanding jobs.

R. T. German, H. A. (Bert) Hemphill, W. P. (Pat) Duncan, Malcolm Powell, all of Midland, and Frank Kelley, of Colorado City, Magnolia executives who headed the West Texas welcoming group, and all the members of each of their staffs did good jobs for their companies, themselves and for West Texas and Midland in the contacts they had with the visitors.

COBB COMES BACK AS A MIDLAND INDEPENDENT

Dalton Cobb has returned to Midland after being away from this city six years. He is to work as an independent operator and broker and has opened an office in the Allen Building.

Cobb resigned as assistant district landman at Abilene for The Texas Company to come back to Midland. He had been on that job three years.

He started work for Texaco in 1943 as a scout in that concern's district office in Midland. After two years on that assignment he was transferred to Pampa as a scout and landman.

He lived in Pampa about a year and was then moved to Amarillo on the same job. He stayed there until his transfer to Abilene in 1948.

Mrs. Cobb is the former Sammie Lee Gard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gard of Midland.

DeKalb, Los Nietos Schedule Devonian Wildcat In Chaves

HOBBS, N. M.—Six miles northwest of the Chisum-Siluro-Devonian field of Southeast-Central Chaves County, DeKalb Agricultural Association of Los Nietos Company No. 1-X J. P. White Company is to be drilled as an 8,500-foot wildcat.

Drillsite is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 28-10-29e. The 8,500-foot depth is calculated to take the exploration into the Devonian.

Sale Set For Oil, Gas Leases In NM

Guy Shepard, Commissioner of Public Lands for New Mexico, will hold the monthly sale of oil and gas leases in his office in the Capitol Building, Santa Fe, October 10, 1961.

Closed bids will be accepted on 7,037 acres in 28 tracts. The bids must be in the commissioner's office by 10 p.m. October 10.

Immediately following the sale of tracts by sealed bidding, 2,587 acres will be offered for sale by oral bidding.

RRC Names 10 New West Texas Fields

The Railroad Commission of Texas has assigned official names to ten more new oil fields in West Texas.

In Andrews County, the pool opened by Neville G. Penrose, Inc., was named Littleman-San Andres. In the same county, Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Cox opened the Cox-Wichita-Albany field.

In Borden County the new field opened by Superior Oil Company and Intex Oil Company was given the name of Fluvanna. Also in Borden County, Lario Oil & Gas Company opened the Hobo field with the completion of its No. 1 Griffin.

The pool opened by Standard of Texas No. 1-S-3 J. W. Brown in Scurry County was designated Brown-Cisco. Also in Scurry County, the Parks-Cisco pool has been changed to George Parks-Cisco.

In Martin County, the field opened by Tide Water Associated Oil Company was dubbed the Stanton field. The discovery well is the firm's No. 1 Dickenson.

Murry Petroleum Company No. 1 Davis was given discovery allowable and designated the opener of the Davis-Gardner field in Runnels County.

In Schleicher County, West No. 1 Christina Mittell was named the opener of the Neva West pool. York & Harper, Inc., No. 1 J. E. Wright is the opener of the Prentiss field in Yokum County.

FPC Stands Pat On Phillips Gas Decision

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Federal Power Commission is sticking to its decision that it lacks jurisdiction over the Phillips Petroleum Company.

The commission Friday said it has denied applications for a rehearing of its August 22 opinion that the Oklahoma company is out of its jurisdiction.

In Northeast Eddy County, three-quarters of one mile south of the Shugart-San Andres field, Keohane-Saunders and others are to drill their No. 3-B Hinkle-Federal as a 5,200-foot wildcat.

The Shugart field gets its production at average depth of 2,690 feet. No. 3-B Hinkle-Federal will be dug 660 feet from south and west lines of section 27-18-31a.

In Central-West Lea County, Hudson & Hudson No. 1 Amerada-State is to be a 4,200-foot wildcat. Drillsite has been set 660 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of section 24-21-33e. The contract depth is calculated for a test of the Seven Rivers.

In Northeast Quay County, Hamill No. 1 Pippins is to be drilled as a 5,000-foot rotary wildcat.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 35-12n-34e. In East-Central Eddy County, George D. Riggs No. 2 Welch has been completed as a one-quarter mile south extension to the same operator's No. 1 Welch, recently completed Yates discovery.

No. 2 Welch, 330 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 5-21s-27e, was finished on the pump for a 96 barrel daily potential, plus 20 per cent water. Gravity of the oil is 20.8 degrees. The Yates was topped at 305 feet and pay was topped at 520 feet. Elevation is 3,280 feet.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 2-BTB State is a new explorer in the Bagley-Highwater region of Northwest Lea County.

It will be drilled to a possible bottom of 11,000 feet for a test of the Devonian. Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 28-12s-33e.

Amerada No. 6-SB State has been completed as a Pennsylvanian producer in the Saunders field of Central-West Lea County.

It was finished for a 24-hour flowing potential of 328 barrels of 43-gravity oil through a one-half-inch tubing choke and from open hole at 9,010-9,035 feet. It was completed natural. Gas-oil ratio was 1,490-1. Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 3-15s-33e.

In Central-South Eddy County, C. A. Martin No. 1 Crawford was plugged and abandoned on total depth of 2,100 feet in the Delaware sand. Top was called at 1,980 feet, elevation 3,241 feet.

Location was 330 feet from north and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 24-24s-26e.

Washington Oil—Drive To Lower Duty On Crude Adopted As 'Basic Policy' Of United States

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A drive to lower the duty on crude oil and product imports to five cents a barrel as soon as possible, the lowest rate in modern petroleum history, has been adopted as a "basic policy" of the United States, it was learned late last week.

This is part of a global policy aimed to emphasize foreign oil to a greater extent. The earmarks of the shift are seen in a new study listing oil areas of the world in order of strategic importance to the United States, and a shift in steel supplies from the domestic to the foreign industry.

The visits of Secretary Chapman to Mexico and Venezuela, the Middle East recently, a prospective visit of the House Commerce Committee to Mexico soon, the forthcoming visits to Canada and Bolivia by high officials serve to emphasize the shift.

The top strategic policy now gives first priority to United States oil, according to the re-study, the findings of which never may be disclosed officially. After that come Canada, Venezuela, Indonesia, Persian Gulf and then all other areas in that order. The policy finding guides the issuance of priorities for obtaining steel and other materials in the United States. Mexico may move up the list under the spur of Congress and high administration officials.

Shift In Steel Supplies

The Indonesia crude output is only 150,000 barrels daily, but it is strategically located, and much of the crude may be used in ships bunkers with no processing.

The shift in steel supplies is not generally known, but occurred for the fourth quarter of this year. The Petroleum Administration for Defense had asked 180,000 tons of steel for foreign oil operations, but was cut to 130,000 tons by the Defense Production Administration. It then made the supreme sacrifice.

The PAD transferred 15,000 tons of steel which had been allocated to the domestic industry, chiefly of line pipe, to foreign operations. The steel is being used to help construction of three large pipe lines in the Middle East, and a fourth in Venezuela.

The lines include the Iraq Petroleum Company line which is to carry oil from Iraq to the Mediterranean Sea, which obtains 10,000 tons this quarter. The line is to be completed next year.

Another line is a base and lateral to connect new Middle East production with the Trans-Arabian pipe line, the world's largest, which is obtaining 20,000 tons of steel.

A third is the Gulf-Kuwait line, linking Burgan Field with the Persian Gulf, for which PAD allowed 5,000 tons of pipe.

Global Oil Emphasis

There are other details to back up the board knowledge that the shift in global oil emphasis is under way.

The PAD has an immediate target for stepping up refining capacity in this hemisphere, outside the United States, by 88,000 barrels daily. In the Eastern Hemisphere, the target is an expansion of 102,000 barrels daily.

The lower-the-oil-import duty drive gets under way October 2 in hearings before the Tariff Commission, where the United States-Venezuela re-negotiations start. The hearings are to bring a Tariff Commission recommendation on minimum duties about 60 days later, and

Buckles, Hostetler Form Engineering Firm In Monahans

George L. Buckles and John C. Hostetler, both of Monahans have formed the firm of Buckles and Hostetler, consulting engineers. Offices of the new unit in the petroleum industry will be located at Monahans.

Buckles has been superintendent of a water-flooding project of Forest Oil Corporation in the South Ward field of Ward County since 1948.

George L. Buckles

Hostetler has been division engineer in West Texas for Richardson & Bass six years.

In their new work Buckles and Hostetler will specialize in water flooding operations. That feature of the producing end of the petroleum industry is being given increased attention—particularly in the old depleted shallow fields of the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

ME&M Is New Oil Industry Service Unit In Midland

Midwestern Engineering and Machine, Inc., is a new oil industry service operation in Midland.

It will feature a general oil field machine shop. The office and shop are located three-tenths of a mile southeast of the Midland city limits on the Garden City highway.

T. A. (Tom) Ayers, T. E. D. (Ted) Hackney and Harry Bradley are the owners and operators of the concern.

Ayers is manager. Hackney is assistant manager and field engineer, and Bradley is fieldman.

Ayers has been shop foreman at the Reed Roller Bit Company plant at Odessa the past six years. He has had 25 years experience as a machinist.

Has Been With Gulf Hackney has been employed by Gulf Oil Corporation as a mechanical engineer for four years. The last three years of that service was at Crane. He is a graduate in mechanical engineering of Texas Technological College.

Bradley has lived in Odessa several years and was formerly in business in Florida.

The concern will specialize in drill collar and tool joint work, including stress relieving, knip plating, straightening and stubbing.

It will operate a general tool repair service and will do shop and field welding. The plant and its facilities will be available for service on a 24-hour basis.

Water Conservation Commission To Meet

HOUSTON—The Texas Water Conservation Association opens a two-day meeting here Monday.

Speakers will include Lachlan MacCleay, president of the Mississippi Valley Association, St. Louis; Fred Husbands, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and William E. Welch, secretary-manager of the National Reclamation Association, Washington.

Oil Industry, Nettle By Restrictions And Taxes, Taking Its Case To People

By LEO MARKS

TULSA, OKLA.—(AP)—The giant oil industry, nettled by restrictions and taxes, is taking its case to the people.

Leaders of the industry recognized a need for such liaison shortly after the past war. In 1947, the American Petroleum Institute set up a public relations committee whose first act was to poll the man on the street.

It learned, according to the committee, that Americans were generally misinformed about oil. Inclined toward false, not fact.

Oil Progress Week, scheduled this year October 14-20, is one of several manifestations of the resulting industry-wide cooperative effort to clear up this attitude.

Directing the continuing campaign is the Oil Industry Information Committee headed by 35 men from all branches of the business—production, refining, transportation, geophysics, research and marketing.

The nation is divided into 13 districts, each composed of several states. A working oil man serves as district chairman and appoints state chairmen.

Each of these in turn names regional and local chairmen who select their own aides.

The story of oil is carried to city, town and hamlet by a volunteer army of approximately 17,000 persons in the industry.

What is their story? As they tell it, simply this:

1. The industry is competitive; 2—it is progressive because of competition and operates in the public interest; and 3—prices are determined by the economic law of supply and demand.

The oil publicists seek to dispel what they label as common fancies that a few major companies hold the industry in their grip, that new developments are withheld from public knowledge, and that prices are dictated by whim or conspiracy.

In addition, the information program hopes to reaffirm the faith of Americans in private enterprise—that they are best served by competitive business.

The public is reminded: There are 40,000 competing oil companies in the United States employing two million people on 2,000 different jobs.

The industry spends $100,000,000 each year on research.

A typical oil well in 1950 took 76 men about 40 days to drill at a cost of $77,845 and to an average depth of 5,480 feet.

Last year, the United States drilled about 43,000 new wells and right now is drilling at the rate of one every 12 minutes.

Only one out of each nine wild-cat wells produced oil. The other eight were dry.

An oil refinery with a capacity of 150,000 barrels daily costs $75,000,000 and employs 1,850 men. It has 388 tanks and towers, 2,500,000 feet of pipe lines, 6,000,000 feet of tubes and 800 pumps. Some refineries are larger, others smaller.

This country uses 7,000,000 barrels of oil a day—two gallons daily per American—much of it dispensed from 200,000 service stations, 95 per cent of which are privately owned.

Covington is New Ring Geologist

Jerry Covington will be named chief geologist Monday for Gustave Ring, independent oil operator in Midland.

Covington has been employed by Humble Oil & Refining Company as a staff geologist for the last six years. During that time he operated in West Texas and New Mexico.

Covington is a native of San Angelo, where he attended San Angelo Junior College. He received a BS degree in geology from the University of Texas.

In the Ring organization, he will be in charge of all geological exploration.

Midland Concern Finishes Cochran, Tom Green Maps

The Midland Map Company has just completed new maps of Tom Green and Cochran Counties.

The Tom Green map is in one piece and includes the west panhandle section between Irion and Sterling Counties.

The new layouts include all completed wells, drilling projects, fee, mineral and lease owners. They also show expiration dates on all existing leases.

Maps are available in either cloth or paper.

Oil Well Drilling Keeps Up Fast Pace

AUSTIN—Oil well drilling boomed last week with 230 completions, but no gas wells were brought in, the Texas Railroad Commission reported.

Wells completed this year totaled 8,138 compared with 7,934 a year ago.

There were 127 dry holes. Wildcaters drilled 11 oil wells, no gasers, and 88 dry holes. Pluggings included 131 dry wells, four gasers and 53 oil wells.

The total average calendar day crude oil allowable Saturday was 3,126,910 barrels, up 8,994 from a week ago.

Geologists To See Oil Well Fire Film

A colored moving picture titled, "Danger Lurks Below" will be shown at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Midland Geological Society.

The session will be held in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, Allen Ehlers, president of the organization will preside.

The picture deals with oil well fires. It was made and is being shown by Humble Oil & Refining Company. It is said to be very spectacular.

The pictures shows different methods of combating oil well fires and gives special attention to the drilling of directional holes into oil well fires as a way to extinguish them.

H. L. (Leonard) Swords will be in charge of the program.

Texas, New Mexico Regulatory Bodies Set Joint Meeting

AUSTIN—Regulations to govern oil fields overlapping Texas and New Mexico will be sought at a joint hearing of the regulatory bodies of the two states.

The Texas Railroad Commission Friday announced the meeting with the New Mexico Conservation Commission for October 26 in Santa Fe.

The Texas commission also set a hearing October 11 to establish field rules and a most efficient rate of production for the Fuller field in Scurry County.

Franchot, Barbara Wed In Minnesota

CLOQUET, MINN.—Franchot Tone of the movies Friday night married Barbara Payton, the film starlet over whose affections he fought Tom Neal two weeks ago in Hollywood.

The film couple spoke their vows in a simple, white frame house, far removed from the klieg lights of Hollywood. The ceremony was performed in front of a rose-banked fireplace in the presence of only a few relatives and friends.

"I'm so happy I could cry," Miss Payton told her mother, Mrs. Lee Redfield, when she telephoned from Odessa, Texas, a few minutes before the rites were said.

"I never felt better in my life," said Tone, still bearing a bloodshot eye and swollen lips from the Neal affray.

Judge Ed J. Johnson, probate jurist for the 7,663 Cloquet residents, and a longtime friend of the Redfield family, read the service.

Virtue Company's Annual Picnic To Be Held Sunday

Employees of four West Texas and two New Mexico stores of the W. W. Virtue Company, and their families, will take over the Ector County Auditorium in Odessa Sunday afternoon, as the firm stages its annual birthday picnic. The social event will get underway at 1:15 p.m.

The Midland delegation to the picnic will be headed by George McCray, manager of the Midland store. He said more than 160 persons are expected to attend.

W. W. Virtue, founder and chairman of the board, and Roy C. Russell, president, are expected to attend.

Barbecued ham, beef, chicken and all the trimmings will be served, McCray said.

CARDS OF THANKS

TO our many friends and pastor, neighbors who have been so helpful and kind in the recent sickness and during bereavement of our wife, mother and sister, we wish to express our deep appreciation and thanks. For meaningful are loss or gain or grief past faith to bear it, without the loved ones and friends who baste in to share it. L. E. Morrow and children.

IN MEMORIAM

"In Memory Of" In memory of Mrs. L. E. Morrow who has been called from a transitory existence to a state of eternal duration, thereby weakening the chain between the loved ones and friends. We who are left to mourn her passing are comforted by the sweet assurance that her soul, freed from her earthly house, has ascended to that house not made with hands. Eternal in the heavens, and whereby faithfully performing the duties assigned to us here, we may confidently believe that we will again meet her and with her dwell in realms of bliss and life eternal. And we know her parting wish would be "May there be no mourning at the bar when I put out to Sea."

DOLLAR IN BANK OR REAL ESTATE OWNERSHIP

Both have their good points. The dollar is deflating downward, and real estate prices have advanced upward. And they seem to be getting further apart. It is your money to do with as you please. If you are real estate minded, how about this. Two new master duplexes, "side by side," with a total income of $460 per month. Where on earth will you find more revenue per dollar than this on a total amount of capital invested of $31,000?

NEW MEMBERS—Mrs. Joe Mims, secretary, takes applications for organists guild membership from two new members, Joanne Himmel, left, and Mrs. Albert Kelley, right. Miss Himmel is a recent graduate of North Texas State College where she studied organ. She now is a teacher in the Terminal School. Mrs. Kelley is substitute organist at the St. Ann's Catholic Church.

METHODIST ORGANIST—George L. DeHart, minister of music of the First Methodist Church, practices on the console of the Methodist organ. DeHart is dean of the newly organized Midland chapter of the American Guild of Organists. He is a graduate of Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N. J. The guild is open to all professional church organists and choir directors. It also is open to anyone interested in music who wishes to subscribe.

MUSIC FOR SUNDAY—Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and chaplain of the organists guild, confers with his minister of music, Mrs. Frank Miller. Dr. Lynn and Mrs. Miller are discussing the musical program for the Sunday church service. Mrs. Miller is registrar for the Midland Guild.

American Guild Of Organists

One of Midland's newest organizations is the Midland chapter of the American Guild of Organists. The organization is for professional church organists and choir directors.

Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, is the chaplain. Officers are George DeHart, dean; Mrs. Preston J. Lea, Jr., sub-dean; Mrs. Joe Mims, secretary; Mrs. Ben Dansby, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Miller, registrar, and Mrs. Robert E. Goff, librarian.

Other members of the organization are Mrs. Holt Jowell, Mrs. J. Q. Woodard, Mrs. Marian Ailes, Wallace Wimberly, Mrs. Neal Marks, Bob Baugh, Mrs. Wayne Moore and Mrs. Robert S. Dewey.

An executive meeting has been held and the first regular meeting is scheduled October 15. It will be a dinner, with the ministers of the various churches as special guests.

The Midland chapter is the sixteenth chapter organized in Texas. On April 13, 1896, the American Guild of Organists was founded in New York City by 145 forward-looking musicians throughout the United States who were inspired by the remarkable achievements of the Royal College of Organists in England.

The guild is chartered by New York University's Board of Regents.

The aims of the American Guild of Organists are to advance the cause of worthy church music; to elevate the status of church organists and increase their appreciation of the responsibilities, duties and opportunities as conductors of worship; to raise the standard of efficiency by examinations; to grant certificates as fellows, associates, or choir masters to members of the guild who pass such examinations; to provide members with opportunities to meet for the discussion of professional topics and to do other such things incidental to the purpose of the guild.

The guild also is open to anyone, other than organists or choir directors, who desires to subscribe to the organization. Subscribers may attend the meetings, recitals and social gatherings by paying annual dues.

The MATURE PARENT

Don't Lop Off Your Head To Fit The Wrong Bed

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Ethel J. got her divorce a year ago. It was a difficult experience for her. Because she's humiliated by her failure in one vital human relationship, she is very anxious to make a success of her motherhood.

So she studies the books. She learns that dolly and Betty need their parents' harmonious discipline teamwork. She reads that Bobby requires a father to help him develop strong masculine qualities. She discovers that Betty's femininity may suffer if her father isn't about to compliment her appearance in a new party dress.

Ethel J. has been fighting resentment at the husband who has ceased to love her. After she's read her books, she is three times as resentful at the father whose absence threatens the wholesome development of her children.

Now the people who wrote her books had no intention of increasing her anxiety and resentment. But unfortunately, that is exactly what has happened. So be there tomorrow! Early! The gift shopping season is almost here and Kruger's invites you to use the convenient lay-away plan for Christmas. Choose now and take months to pay for your items.

American parents are far too inclined to take mass production advice. They should realize that no account of individual realities is dangerous and authoritarian. Like the giant in the Greek myth, it lops off her heads and feet to make us fit a bed that isn't ours.

In this anxiety-hounded nation, we are not all happily married. We have the highest divorce rate in the world. These facts have some bearing on my disapproval of any book by anybody who is so concerned with protecting children from fear that he induces fear in parents.

Shock-Absorbing Principles
If we are happily married parents, we cannot help presenting a "united" discipline front to our children. Nobody has to tell us to work it out; we do it by instinct.

But if we are unapparently married, reading about the virtues of good discipline teamwork makes us feel like the angry, hungry person looking through a window at food he cannot buy. If we are separated or divorced, beset by the struggle to operate a single-parent home in turmoil and confusion, we are not reassured by emphasis on the important function of the husband who has left our home.

Divorce is a shocking experience. So are death, a child's open defiance, serious illness, the betrayal of a friend. These are the shocks that Hamlet says human flesh is heir to. What we need to help us withstand not one but all of them is a set of shock-absorbing life principles.

Let's tell Ethel J. the real truth. Let's tell her that her experience, met with honesty and courage and self-acceptance, can make her a richer giver to her children than she might otherwise have been.

The compassionate and realistic advice would be to urge Ethel J. to set about discovering her own unsuspected capacity for love, instead of pondering the psychological influence of fathers on their children's developments.

P-T-A Day At State Fair Designated As October 19

October 19 has been designated as State Parent-Teacher Association Day at the State Fair in Dallas. The P-T-A Congress was founded on that date in 1909 at the State Fair.

A booth will be set up in the Hall of State where the Dallas City and County P-T-A Councils will act as hosts. Mrs. T. W. Rutledge, president of the city council, Mrs. John Stafford, president of the county council, and Mrs. Leon Price, state chairman, are in charge of arrangements.

A broadcast is planned with Thomas D. Rishworth, director of radio house, University of Texas, and national chairman of radio and television, interviewing Mrs. H. G. Stinnett of Plainview, state president; Mrs. J. H. Moore of Deport and other P-T-A officials, as well as high school students.

To Emphasize Theme
Mrs. Rishworth will emphasize the administration theme: "Safeguarding Our Freedoms Through Responsible Citizenship."

Mrs. Stinnett urges all P-T-A members and other interested persons to call by the booth to register.

October has been designated as membership enrollment month for the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers by Gov. Allan Shivers. It has become a tradition for the governor to extend this courtesy to the parent-teacher associations.

In the 42 years of its existence, membership in the organization has increased to 370,151. Texas ranks fourth in the nation.

To Have State Convention
The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers will have its forty-third annual state convention in Dallas, November 14-16.

An innovation this year will be in joint headquarters in the Baker and Adolphus Hotels. General Services will be held in the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Stinnett, state president will preside. The theme that will be stressed throughout the convention will be the same as that at the State Fair meeting.

Highlights of the convention will be the election of officers and addresses by Dr. Ralph H. Ojemann, University of Iowa professor of child welfare; Dr. Willard E. Goslin and Dr. James Hymes of Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.; Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd; Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of Wayland College, Plainview, and Mrs. E. T. Pittard, religious leader of Anson.

The nominating committee has submitted the name of Mrs. Alexander McDonald, El Paso, for state vice president from Region 7, district 15 and 16.

Music Club Meets In Burnside Home

The Young Artist Music Club pupils of Mrs. G. W. Sevier met Thursday in the home of Larry Ann and Diane Burnside.

Announcements and plans for the year were discussed and officers elected.

Janice Hill was elected president; Barbara Tom, vice-president; Martha Mast, reporter, and Larry Ann Burnside, secretary. Lois Nell West was appointed program chairman for the next meeting.

Mary Jayne Miller will keep the scrap book for the year.

After several musical contests refreshments were served.

Kay Fowler and Marilyn Elder played piano solos.

A number of craters in the earth's surface have been proved to have been caused by falling meteors.

Vic Reinholz Joins Key, Wilson & Maxson

Vic Reinholz, chartered life underwriter, has joined Key, Wilson & Maxson, 112 West Wall Street, to establish a life insurance department in the agency.

He will continue to represent Bankers Life of Iowa but the facilities of several other prominent companies will be available through him.

With this added department, Key, Wilson & Maxson now offer complete counseling service in all phases of insurance. This service, as always, is available without obligation.

Sunday School Class Has Monthly Social

The Dorcas Sunday School Class of the Calvary Baptist Church held a social Friday in the home of Mrs. Neva Newman. Dorothy Vest was the co-hostess.

Present were Mrs. Lilly May Dawkins, Mrs. Prebbie Tucker, Mrs. Clara Whitesides, Mrs. Vina Robbins, Mrs. Leota Stewart, Mrs. Virginia McPeak, Mrs. Janet Smith, Mrs. Juanita Houston, Mrs. June Hines, Mrs. W. H. Lemley, Mrs. E. J. Snody and Mrs. A. L. Teaff.

To make sugar syrup for warm-weather drinks put a cup of sugar and a half cup of water in a saucepan and stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved; bring to boiling and boil for five minutes. Store the syrup in a covered jar in the refrigerator.

Mrs. Jerry Worsham

Mary Barbara Aiken Weds Jerry Worsham In Lubbock

St. John's Methodist Church in Lubbock was the scene of the recent marriage of Mary Barbara Aiken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Aiken of Lubbock and formerly of Midland, and Jerry Doyle Worsham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Worsham of Brownfield.

Rev. R. N. Huckabee performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar flanked with baskets of chrysanthemums and gladioli with a background of greenery. The bride's veil was held by white tapers and clusters of chrysanthemums.

Mrs. T. H. Brown sang "Because," "Always" and the "Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Imogene Webster at the organ.

Antique Bridal Satin

Aiken gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown was white antique bridal satin with a basque bodice trimmed with imported French chantilly lace forming scalloped flounces at the deep V-neck and over the sleeves. The bodice had long sleeves and was buttoned at the back with lace covered buttons. Her fingertip length veil of bridal illusion was caught in a halo hat of lace with a seed pearl trim.

She carried an orchid surrounded with feathered white chrysanthemums and showered with white satin love knots. A small amount of shadow lace illusion from the bride's mother's bouquet was used.

Mrs. Norman James was matron of honor. She wore a dress of orchid lace and net over a white taffeta skirt and lace gauntlets.

Bridesmaids were Rita McIlroy, Elaine Kallas and Mrs. Bill Marchbank, sister of the bridegroom. They wore dresses of orchid net and lace over orchid taffeta with matching gauntlets. Panayota Kallas was flower girl.

Brother Is Best Man

Jack Worsham of Brownfield served as best man. Ushers were Robert Knight, Robert Bowers, Bill Moorehead, Bob Thurston and Don Anderson, all of Brownfield. John Ridley March-bank of Brownfield was ring bearer.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Bridesmaids bouquets were arranged around a punch bowl. Tall white tapers in crystal antique holders were at both ends of the table.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride chose a cheery suit with gray accessories. The couple will live in Lubbock.

Mrs. Aiken will be a freshman at Texas Tech this fall. Worsham will continue his studies as a junior student.

Building Committee Schedules Meeting

Representatives of the Woman's Club Building Committee will meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Harry Rhodes, 500 North Pecora Street, according to an announcement by Mrs. C. S. Britt, committee chairman.

The meeting originally was scheduled for October 7. Representatives and the clubs they represent are Mrs. Britt, Midland Woman's Club, Inc.; Mrs. Wilson Bryant, Fine Arts Club; Mrs. C. H. Shepard, Modern Study Club; Mrs. W. E. Cox, Progressive Study Club; Mrs. James L. Daugherty, Twentieth Century Club.

Mrs. Nelson Puett, Yuca Garden Club; Mrs. Coe Mills, Pyraantha Garden Club; Mrs. John B. Mills, Texas Garden Club; Mrs. M. C. Ulmer, Midland Garden Club; Mrs. J. C. Atkinson, B&PW, and Mrs. Lloyd C. Mills, AAUW. A representative from the Woman's Wednesday Club is to be appointed later.

Vary scalloped tomatoes by sprinkling the top of the baking dish with grated cheese.

Miss Bostwick Weds LaVaughn Archer In Crane Ceremony

CRANE—The marriage of Patricia Bostwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bostwick of Crane, to LaVaughn Archer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Archer, was solemnized in the First Baptist church here recently.

The Rev. H. D. Christian performed the single-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with multi-colored gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a brown suit with matching accessories and a green hat. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Jo Ann Fisher was her only attendant. She wore a brown suit with a white carnation corsage. Billy Ray of Crane was the best man.

Jackie Lou Mackey and Mrs. Katherine Copeland sang "Tell Me Why," with Louise Tomlinson accompanying.

The reception was held in the church annex. The table was laid in white. Mrs. Marvin Lawson and Carolyn Bostwick, sister of the bride, presided at the serving table and registry.

After a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., and El Paso, the couple will be at home in Crane.

Mrs. Archer plans to continue her studies in Crane High School. Archer is associated in business with his father.

Out of city guests include Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lawson, Monahans, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bostwick and children, Larry, Billy and Gary of Brownwood.

Annual Coffee Honors Midland Service League Provisionals

Mrs. Harvey Herd was hostess Friday morning at the annual coffee honoring the 10 provisionals of the Midland Service League.

The provisionals, as new members are called during their first year in the club, are Elizabeth Ann Cowden, Mrs. Frank Cowden, Jr., Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Mrs. Edwin Magruder, Mrs. Bill Reeder, Mrs. Fred Gaarde, Mrs. Jack Matthews, Mrs. Ralph Lee, Mrs. Herschel Esell and Mrs. Emil Rasmussen.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. J. W. Starr, president; Mrs. Ed Pettit, chairman of the provisional course; the hostess, and the 10 provisionals. Mrs. Ben Black and Mrs. Tom Sealy presided over the silver service.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of giant yellow marigolds, canna leaves, sea oats and clusters of green grapes with coconuts in an antique silver and crystal centerpiece. Silver appointments were used and the room was lighted with yellow tapers.

The living room mantle held an arrangement of white gladioli, feverfew and chrysanthemums. Yellow tritons and red gerbera daisies in a Chinese copper bowl stood on a teakwood stand in the entrance hall.

A seasonal arrangement of begonia in a large painted bowl from India highlighted the den decorations. A garden basket filled with oak leaves, fall fruits and vegetables also was featured in the den.

Members of the social committee were Mrs. Charles Marsh, Mrs. J. N. Walston, Mrs. James Pierce and Mrs. Walter Duesee.

Rebekah Lodge Has Initiation

Mayor To Address Scout Association

Mayor Perry Pickett will speak to the Midland Girl Scout Association at 8 p.m. Monday on the place of the Girl Scouts in the youth program of the community.

The meeting will be held in the Girl Scout Little House. Pickett also will discuss Scouting activities to be emphasized nationally this year.

A movie on "Camping For Girl Scouts" will conclude the program. No business session is scheduled.

Presbyterians Go To Coahoma For District Conclave

Coahoma will be the site of the District Two Conference of the El Paso Presbytery when it meets Wednesday.

Registration will be held in the First Presbyterian Church at 9:30 a.m. The program will start at 10 a.m.

The First Presbyterian Church and St. Andrews Presbyterian Church will send delegates from Midland.

The theme of the conference will be "Faith and Works." Mrs. R. Matthew Lynn, who is synodical chairman of the Committee of Stewardship for Texas, will speak on "Stewardship."

Mrs. W. H. Gilmore, Presbyterial chairman of the committee on education, will speak on "Religious Education."

Mrs. Ralph Howe of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church will give a report of the year's work of the church. Mrs. C. H. Ervin will make the same report for the First Presbyterian Church.

There will be prayers for peace, spiritual growth and world missions. Mrs. J. E. Blischoff, president of the Women of the Church of the El Paso Presbytery, will be a special guest.

The little church where the meeting will be held has been a mission church for years. There have been only seven or eight persons to keep the church going. Until recently it was supported by the Mission Board.

Delegates will be present from Odessa, Crane, Coahoma, Big Spring, Colorado City and Midland.

Want a delicious salad hearty enough to serve as the main dish at lunch? Marinate cooked vegetables—carrots, peas, celery, snap beans—in a tangy French dressing; mix creamed cottage cheese with thinly sliced radishes, cucumber and a little onion juice; surround the cottage cheese mixture with the marinated cooked vegetables in lettuce cups.

Mrs. Cecil C. Matthews

Lilas Stewart And Cecil Matthews Wed

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, Lilas Stewart of Midland became the bride of Cecil C. Matthews, also of Midland. The wedding took place in the First Methodist Church in Albany, with Dr. Harold G. Cooke of Abilene officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. W. P. Newell of Albany. Matthews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Matthews, Sr.

The church was decorated with white tapers in branched candelabra with ferns and palms. Large baskets of white mums and gladioli formed the background. The chancel rail was decorated with ferns and white pom-pom mums.

Mrs. Frank Elliott, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Julian Latham who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Bride Wears White

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John M. Stewart, wore a wedding gown of white duchesse satin fashioned with a transparent yoke outlined with chantilly lace and motifs of seed pearls. The dress featured a fitted bodice, full skirt and long sleeves. The skirt terminated in a chapel length train.

Her tiered veil of imported illusion was attached to a satin calot covered with matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids.

Ruby Millard of Midland was the maid of honor and Mrs. R. S. Bynum, Jr., of Midland was the matron of honor. The attendants wore identical ballerina length gowns of mint green net over tulle. They wore stoles and nose veils and carried bouquets of yellow carnations.

John M. Matthews, Jr., of Tuleta, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and R. S. Bynum, Jr., of Midland was the groomsmen. Usheps were Walter Beal of Odessa and Paul Ravesies, Jr., of Midland.

The bride's mother wore an ecru lace and chiffon dress with brown accessories. Mrs. Matthews wore a brown silk dress with dark brown accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

After the wedding a reception was held at the Seven-Bar Ranch, home of the bride's mother.

The table was covered with a linen cutwork cloth centered with tapers and an arrangement of white mums and pom-poms.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Lee Conroe, Mrs. Paul Ravesies, Jr., and Mrs. R. L. Maddox, Jr., all of Midland.

For the wedding trip to Mexico City and Acapulco the bride chose a grey flannel suit with black velvet accessories and an orchid corsage.

After the wedding trip the couple will be at home in Midland where Matthews is an employee of the Seaboard Oil Company.

The bride is a graduate of McMurry College and taught music in the Sweetwater and Midland schools. Matthews is a graduate of Texas A&M.

Community Theater Players To Present 'The Heiress'

The Midland Community Theater, Inc., will present its thirty-sixth production, "The Heiress" this week. The play will open at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday in the City-County Auditorium. It will be held through Saturday.

"The Heiress" is based on a novel by Henry James. The play first was produced in 1945 but was unsuccessful and failed to reach Broadway. Ruth and Augustus Goetz rewrote the play and renamed it "The Heiress." It opened at the Baltimore Theater in New York City in 1947 and ran for 410 performances.

Following the Broadway run, a road company toured many of the larger cities in the United States. The London production was directed by John Gielgud and starred Ralph Richardson, who repeated his role of Dr. Sloper in the Paramount picture adaptation, co-starring Olivia de Havilland and Montgomery Clift.

The action of the play takes place in the home of Dr. Sloper in Washington Square in 1850.

Those in the cast are Sarah Ward Connolly as Maria; Charles Hughes, Dr. Austin Sloper; Elma Graves, Lavinia Penniman; Nancy Bucher, Catherine Sloper; Joan Thatcher, Elizabeth Townsend; W. W. Cumberland, Jr., Arthur Townsend; Nancy Neeley, Marian Almond; George W. Farrell, Morris Townsend; and Dorothy Perkins, Mrs. Montgomery.

The play is directed by Art Cole. W. W. Cumberland, Jr., is the stage manager.

McCamey News

McCAMEY—The Woman's Society of Christian Service conducted the first lesson of its study course, "Americans North and South," recently at a meeting under the direction of the group leader, Mrs. Roy Sprayberry. Mrs. Cahal Clinton gave the devotional. Fifteen members attended.

Over-Descriptive Street Title Changed

SINGAPORE—(P)—A thoroughfare called "Cut Your Stomach Open Street" now has a new name. That was the translation of the Chinese words jala! phuah pak tong. Residents sometime ago began to resent the gruesome name which originally was given because the street led to the site of an old cemetery for paupers and poor mortem cases.

So the Rural Board decreed the street now shall be called "Plantation Avenue."

State's Building Gets Shot In Arm

AUSTIN—(P)—Award of engineering contracts totaling $10,010,718 bolstered Texas construction work last week. Lettings on all types of building gave the industry a $20,575,132 shot in the arm, reported the Texas Contractor, building trade journal.

Non-residential contracts totaled $5,988,664, of which $4,087,056 went for schools; $1,526,118 for business buildings; $199,000 for churches and theaters; $80,490 for hospitals and hotels.

Residential work added $4,575,750. The bulk of this, $3,641,500, went for 302 houses averaging $12,000 each. There were 108 houses in the low-cost class totaling $667,450. Lettings on apartments accounted for $100,000, and duplexes $166,800.

Engineering contracts put $5,053,143 on highways and streets, $4,337,013 on bridges, and $20,582 on waterworks and sewers.

The year's accumulative total climbed to $825,669,878.

Ancient City About To Return To Wolves

ROME—(P)—The peaceful farmer folk are turning out these nights with their old muskets to keep this ancient city of Romulus and Remus from going back to the wolves.

Famine caused by the long Summer dry spell in the Apennines has driven whole packs of gaunt wolves down to prey on the sheep and cattle in the hills, within 15 miles of the capital.

In little communities around Rocca di Papa, Cervara, and even the Pope's Summer home at Castel Gandolfo, wolf packs have been killing up to a dozen sheep a night. Some farmers reported cows killed.

Midland Churches Make Plans For Religious Survey

Plans were completed at a meeting Wednesday for a religious survey to be made Sunday by 10 Midland churches.

Approximately 300 workers will meet at the First Methodist Church Sunday afternoon to receive final instructions. Each church will be assigned a zone.

Mrs. R. S. Watkins is the general chairman. Workers from the various churches include Frank P. Logston and

Doyle DeArmon, Church of the Nazarene; L. O. Justiss, Roy Tillman and Leon Arnett, Bellevue Baptist; A. M. Pullum, Asbury Methodist; C. E. Blount and Jack Clark, St. Andrews Presbyterian; B. B. Seawright, Don Peterson, Fred

MR. STANLEY TO SPEAK AT BIG LAKE CHURCH

Floyd Stanley, minister of the South Side Church of Christ, will be the speaker at revival services to begin Sunday in the Church of Christ in Big Lake. J. H. Redwine, assistant minister of the Midland church, will speak at the regular services during Mr. Stanley's absence.

Rhodes, Jimmy Gaines and George Brown, First Methodist; Duke Jimerson, Charles Mathews, Jack Nobles, Buddy Davis, James Adamson, Harlan Howell, Eddie F. Conner, Chris and Helen Heidelberg, George James Weathered and Bill McGrew, First Methodist.

Excess greasiness can spoil the taste of the best-flavored soup. To remedy this condition, try wrapping an ice cube in a piece of cheese cloth and brushing the cloth lightly over the top of the liquid. The chill from the ice will cause the fat to coagulate and to cling to the cloth for easy removal.

Jo Ann Johnson

Jo Ann Johnson, John Cooper Wed

Jo Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Johnson, became the bride of John Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cooper of Big Spring, Friday in the parsonage of the Grace Lutheran Church.

Officiating for the single-ring ceremony was the Rev. G. C. Becker, pastor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gray suit with blue accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Mrs. Vance L. Beene, matron of honor, wore a gray suit with black accessories and a white carnation corsage. Eugene Johnson, brother of the bride, was best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Johnson chose a rose dress with black accessories. Mrs. Cooper wore a rose suit with blue accessories.

A reception was held in the Johnson home. Patsy Blancett, Dorothy Johnson and Janitha Denman were the members of the house party.

Following a wedding trip to Fort Worth, the couple will be at home in Big Spring.

Mrs. Cooper attended Midland High School and Cooper attended Big Spring High School.

Out-of-city wedding guests were Kenneth Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper and Sump Grubbaugh, all of Big Spring.

Flight Departure Changes Given By Continental

Departure of certain Continental Air Lines flights from Midland will be adjusted to winter flying times effective Sunday, according to James C. Carlson, station manager of the airline here.

Departures at 10:13 a.m. and 6:52 p.m. provide service to Hobbs, Carlsbad, El Paso, Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver. A 4:49 p.m. departure serves only El Paso.

A 10 a.m. flight serves Wichita Falls, Lawton-Fort Sill, Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

Flights to San Antonio via San Angelo leave at 4:37 p.m. and 10:44 p.m.

Connections with Continental and other airlines at El Paso, Albuquerque and Denver provide service to all major cities of the world.

Parents Organization Has First Meeting

ANDREWS—The parents organization of the senior students of the Andrews High School held its first meeting recently at the high school.

Ray Porter was elected president and Virgil Brooks will serve as vice president. Other officers are Mrs. G. N. Brown, secretary, and Mrs. W. E. Burden, reporter.

The last Thursday of each month was chosen for the regular meetings. They will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the primary school cafeteria.

Before storing your winter wardrobe away for the summer months, make sure it's clean. The moth grub works most happily on soiled or stained clothing.

You can cut down on dish-towel laundering by using paper towels for messy tasks such as wiping off the stove or cleaning food spots on the kitchen floor. They're good, too, for washing windows—leave no lint.

To prolong the life of your bed-linen, you'll find it a good idea to protect them from excessive soil which will require hard scrubbing at laundry time. Change sheets and pillow cases frequently, to cleanse them of nightly accumulations of soil and body oils.

If this is to be a hand operation, divide the mop head into three sections. This will give you a better grip; will also prevent undue straining of outside strands. When this is finished, shake and stroke into smoothness with your fingers before hanging it out to dry.

Petticoats Parade For Fall Season

The petticoat has a place all its own for fall and winter. This place may be underneath or over, according to the whim of the wearer. Shown here are three petticoats designed to be worn either way.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The place for your petticoat from now on is underneath or over, depending on your mood. The new petticoats were designed to be worn either way. They can stiffen and bell a tweed suit skirt or a taffeta lacy dress, but they can also go over the sheath dress and thus turn it into a costume on its own.

The petticoat takes many forms. It may be crinoline, taffeta, faille, stiffened nylon net, brocade, or even luxurious gold metallic cloth. Both the flared, or bell, and the yoke styles count. It might even be reversible this season.

Color emphasis is on white or black but all shades of red are important. Stripes and checks are for the girl with a large petticoat wardrobe.

Whatever petticoat you pick, it's the underlying force for all of your swinging skirts for Fall and Winter. You'll wear it with tweed, with flannel, with poodle cloth. Often, you'll wear two or three foaming layers at one time, to make your waist look tiny.

Silk brocade, printed in gleaming red and green flowers, makes a petticoat definitely worth wearing outside. Stiffened at the hem and banded at the waist, it's also appropriate for late-day wear.

Or, there's elaborate gold metallic cloth, cut into a petticoat with great sweep and a tiny waist. Heavy and stiff of its own weight, it could make a bouffant dress billow and spin.

Black nylon net, in four layers with each layer corded in satin, could readily slip over a straight black sheath and be cinched by a patent belt. Once done, you'd have an after-five costume, easy as pie.

Children who have reached the stage in their development that they consider naps "babish" may sometimes be persuaded to submit gracefully to afternoon relaxation if the label is changed. Call it a rest period instead.

Second Annual Antique Show Features Rare Art Treasures

The second annual Antique Show opened Friday in Hotel Scharbauer. It will be open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday. Mrs. L. M. Teague is in charge.

The show features a display of antiques and art treasures from all over the world.

Among those exhibiting are Joy King and Hoovers Antiques of Midland; Aljeen Thomas and B. F. Cass of Dallas; Clreta Antiques and Teague's Antiques of Fort Worth; Noma Gill, Abilene; Schulze and Bell, Paul U. Kosarjean, Mrs. Forrest Bihu and Mrs. Guest Couch of San Antonio, and Marjorie McGrath and Diane Kulick of El Paso.

Diane Kulick of New York and El Paso, formerly an interior decorator in New York City, brought her antique collection to Midland because she was impressed by the modern architecture of Midland homes.

She is exhibiting an old French gold three-piece clock set with candlestick holders. The clock, featuring enamel numerals, was made in Paris in 1820. She also is exhibiting old English flatware.

Mrs. Forrest Bihu of San Antonio is exhibiting a rare and old collection of silver. Mrs. Guest Couch of San Antonio is exhibiting rare early American pieces.

French Serve vases are being displayed by Joy King of Midland. She also is exhibiting a pink and blue Dresden lamp with matching lamp shade.

Mrs. Teague of Fort Worth is showing an assorted collection of antiques.

Mrs. Kulick said, "I have seen antique shows in New York, much larger than this one, but this show surpasses them in quality and perfection."

Bob Hope Includes Midland On Tour

Bob Hope, the funny man of radio, screen and stage, will be in Midland October 21 with his entertainment troupe.

His appearance here will be sponsored by the Midland Shrine Club and will be staged that Sunday afternoon in Memorial Stadium. Sale of tickets, including reserve seats, will be announced later, according to Lester Short.

If your vacation is only going to be a few weeks you may not want to turn off your refrigerator. But if you're going away for more than three weeks be sure to turn off the refrigerator, remove all food, clean the inside thoroughly with a solution of baking soda and hot water, and leave the refrigerator door open.

Welch Indictment Dismissal Sought

PECOES—District Judge G. C. Olsen will consider a motion October 8 to set aside an indictment and dismiss prosecution in a murder case.

The indictment is against John E. Welch, charged in the slaying of Cpl. Dennis E. Miller of Fort Bliss last January. Welch was indicted September 7.

Judge Olsen, who now is holding court in Ward County, said he would not consider the defense appeal until he opens court here October 8.

Country Club Sets Annual Tournament

ANDREWS—The Women's Association of the Andrews Country Club will hold its annual club tournament October 5-26.

The tournament will include 18 hole matches. Qualifying scores must be in by October 5, on which date pairings will be drawn.

The group will stage a long driving contest and an approach and putting contest at 4 p.m. Friday.

All first-round matches will be in by October 12, second matches by October 19 and finals by October 26. Prizes will be awarded.

A flag tournament will be held October 21, Woman's Day. All members are invited to attend and bring a covered dish for the luncheon.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Senators help themselves to knives; Ike smear begins in Maine; Navy commander profits from "gift precedent."

WASHINGTON — While the Senate criticized RFO officials for accepting hams, two senators helped themselves to a handful of free switchblade knives the other day from the sample case of a manufacturer.

The manufacturer was Joseph Schrade, president of the Schrade-Walden Cutlery Corporation, who begged the senators not to outlaw his switchblade knife as a dangerous weapon.

"Have you got one with you?" asked Senator Olin Johnston, South Carolina Democrat.

"Yes, sir," replied Schrade, holding up a sample case full of knives.

"I hope that you have no objection to passing a few out in the Senate," blurted Senator Herman Welker, Idaho Republican, eyeing the knives covetously. "I need a good pocketknife."

"We came along with that in mind," agreed Schrade, anxious to please.

Welker grabbed a box of small switch-blade knives and promptly began dividing them up. Then the Idaho senator spied an expensive leather-handle knife, and reached for it.

"Be careful with that," cautioned Schrade as he gloomily watched Welker take it. "Be careful the way it opens. It comes out with a snap."

As Welker tested the blade approvingly, Schrade pleaded: "You don't know what a disappointment it is to me that after making a product for 50 years, I find out that they used it for crime."

"That's right," agreed the Idaho Senator, still fingering the knife enviously. Then he suggested brightly: "Why couldn't the staff protect this gentleman by using language outlawing a 'switch-blade' with a blade longer than three inches?"

Schrade agreed this would help. But as he shut his sample case, he politely took the expensive knife back from Welker—although leaving the two senators with a fistful of smaller knives.

"I am glad you came," smiled Welker. "But I wish you had brought some finer knives."

Smearing Ike
The first step in a smear campaign to keep General Eisenhower out of the White House is being circulated in Maine. It's an unfair attempt to link Eisenhower with the Communists.

The smear was printed by the so-called Partisan Republicans of California (whoever they are), and was mailed to all members of the Maine actually mailed the smear sheets is Brewster's chief political lieutenant.

One of the most sought-after jobs in the Pentagon is held by Navy Commander John P. Floyd, conference director for the secretary of Defense.

Floyd's job is to arrange the itinerary and invitation to the Defense Department's joint orientation conferences. To these conferences, held several times a year, are invited industry leaders, professors, key publishers and other VIPs to visit various military bases to study the defense program.

What makes Commander Floyd's job so attractive is the precedent established by some of the Defense Department's guests who are invited to the orientation conferences. Afterward he has received some handsome gifts.

For example, after last Spring's conference, the invited guests got together and gave Commander Floyd $205 worth of flat silver, especially designed to match Floyd's family pattern. Another $25 in cash was given to Mrs. Floyd to enable her to buy a few silver trinkets. The conferees also expressed their gratitude to Floyd's assistants, giving them special Parker pen desk sets.

Note—There are two more orientation conferences scheduled for this fall.

Morrow Funeral Services Held

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for Mrs. Erna E. Morrow, who died Wednesday in a Big Spring hospital.

The wife of L. E. Morrow, she had been a resident of Midland for three years. She was born in Hamilton, Texas.

Survivors include the husband, two sons, Bobby B. Braun and Roddy L. Braun; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Morrow; two step-sons, J. R. Morrow and James E. Morrow; two step-daughters, Mrs. Jane Ruth Brown and Mrs. Dolores Franklin; three brothers and the parents.

The rites were conducted in Grace Lutheran Church with the Rev. G. C. Becker, pastor, officiating. Interment was in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia have tidewater frontage but no seacoast.

Funeral Rites Held For Korea Veteran

SAN ANGELO—Funeral services were held here Saturday afternoon for Pfc. Floyd Wilson, who was killed in action in Korea March 15.

He was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Wilson of Midland and a brother of Mrs. Tommy McNeill of Pecos. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Wilson, live in San Angelo.

Other survivors include three brothers, Ray and Doyle of San Angelo; Delton of Hibel, N. M.; and a sister, Mrs. Adolph Ripple of San Angelo.

He joined the Marine Corps at the age of 19 and had served in Korea four months when killed. He was an expert marksman assigned to scouting duty.

CHARTER GRANTED ABSTRACT COMPANY

A charter has been granted by Secretary of State John Ben Shepherd to the Guaranty Title Company of Midland, a new abstract business. Incorporators are William T. Acklen, Fred H. Timberlake and Wanda Presnell.

The charter was issued for 50 years and capital stock was listed at $30,000.

When bathing your dog, it's a good idea to begin by gradually wetting his back and legs with warm water. Water of the wrong temperature—either too hot or too cold—splashed suddenly across his neck and head is likely to arouse his life-long hatred of the washbub.

If your candles aren't the drip-less kind, you can correct the dripping. Just chill them in the refrigerator for 24 hours before using them. They will burn evenly and won't drip.

have you seen the interior of midland's new, exclusive furniture and decorating shop featuring good contemporary design?

SCHOOL FOR MODERN HOMEMAKERS

We have something exciting for young modern-minded couples who are planning a Fall or Spring wedding. If you are interested in participating in a School for Modern Homemakers, we will conduct a series of five classes covering the most important steps in the selection of furniture, fabrics and interior accessories of good contemporary design for your home. We will give you ideas on how to coordinate colors and textures to insure good taste — how to select dinnerware, flatware and stemware — how to live and entertain in your home in the most practical and pleasant way — how to really enjoy your home by functional living — and many more ideas.

Weekly classes will be conducted on a night convenient to the majority and will begin in about two weeks. Registration will be limited. There is no obligation whatsoever. It will be fun for both fellows and girls and will be strictly informal. You may register any day between 9:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. (closed at 1:00 on Saturday).

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcostrane. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Mother Of AP Correspondent Dies

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(P)—Mrs. Eleanor Barnard, 66, mother of AP correspondent Bill Barnard, died Friday after a heart attack.

Mrs. Barnard had accompanied her husband, Dr. William C. Barnard, here for a convention from her Corpus Christi home. Survivors, besides Dr. Barnard, include sons Bill, now in Tokyo; Dr. James L. and Dr. Cornell C., both of Corpus Christi; a brother, Otto Erb, Redlands, Calif., and five grandchildren.

Mrs. Barnard was married in 1913 and moved to Corpus Christi where Dr. Barnard established practice.

When your old bridge table begins to buckle and sag, you can give it a new lease on life by cutting a new cover for it from a panel of plywood. After you've cut the wood to fit, sand down all rough edges, then nail it to the frame of the table. Two thin coats of fresh shellac will provide a smooth and easily-cleaned surface for future card games.

held at 10:30 a.m. in the Children's Room of the Midland County Library, in the library's Dunbar Branch and at Terminal.

The Boys' Choir of the First Methodist Church will practice at 1 p.m. in the children's building.

Former Newspaper Man Kills Himself

DALLAS—(P)—A former Dallas newspaper man killed himself Friday and left a note asking that the story of his death be given first to his old paper.

He was Everett K. Mead, 57, once executive news editor of the Dallas Times Herald and later a free-lance feature writer.

Mead, who had been left a small fortune by the Herald's late publication, E. J. Kiest, was found in his room around 2:30 p.m. at a hotel.

Sheriff Bill Decker, one of Mead's old friends, said the suicide note read:

"Don't worry—it's suicide. Notify the Times Herald first."

Decker said Mead only recently had learned he had cancer of the throat.

AGAN SHIVERS
Governor

Mr. Brad E. Smith, President
Texas Press Association
441 Driskill Hotel
Austin, Texas

Dear Mr. Smith:

With a full realization and appreciation that a free press is a bulwark of the American way of life, I consider it most appropriate that National Newspaper Week is to be observed October 15, inclusive. During the present unsettled world conditions it is especially fitting that this nation and the State of Texas pay tribute to an organization that must play a vital role in the days which lie ahead.

To chronicle the many contributions of the press to our democratic nation and to the development of a world civilization is impossible. From the smallest hamlet to the largest metropolitan center newspapers constantly have been, and will continue to be, in the foreground championing civic, governmental, educational, cultural and religious improvements. In the field of international events, the diligent efforts of a vigilant press have made the people of our nation the best informed in the world.

A free press means a free people. The history of the world has taught us that nations which censor and hamper a free press do not survive. I am convinced this will continue to be true in the future and that the iron curtain of communistic countries will represent but another chapter in the fate of tyrannical governments which saw fit to interfere with a basic freedom—a freedom of the press. Truly "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom."

To a free press of Texas, to the members of the Texas Press Association and to our great newspaper industry I offer my sincere congratulations. It is my earnest wish that National Newspaper Week be observed by all Texans with just tribute being paid to a worthy organization and industry.

Sincerely yours,

Allan Shivers

Louise Nelson, Cuthbert Carl Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony

McCAMEY — The marriage of Louise Nelson and Cuthbert Carl was solemnized recently in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. M. K. Brown of Taft, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Nelson of Taft. Carl is the son of Mrs. J. O.

Coast Guard Academy Taking Applications

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Young men interested in competing for entrance to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., were urged Saturday to write to the coast guard headquarters as soon as possible.

Rep. Ken Regan of Midland said no limit on the number of candidates from one area has been set but necessary papers must be completed by January 1.

"Young men who take the examinations must be between the ages of 17 and 22 and in excellent physical condition and must show proof of their moral character and standing in the community," the congressman said.

Minimum educational requirement is a high school diploma although high school seniors who will complete their courses at the end of the year are eligible for the examination.

Further information may be obtained from the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, 25, D. C.

Carl of McCamey. The Rev. T. N. Barton, pastor of the First Methodist Church, performed the double-ring ceremony before an improvised altar of white chrysanthemums and fern flanked by candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, M. K. Brown, wore a brown satin suit with matching accessories and a pink velvet hat trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

Mrs. R. N. Allert of Taft, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a suit of aqua corduroy. Her corsage was of carnations.

Paul Moore of McCamey was best man. A reception was held in the home after the ceremony. The table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with a double-ring wedding cake and topped with miniature wedding bells. It was surrounded by lilies of the valley and bridal wreath fern.

After a two-week wedding trip the couple will be at home in McCamey. Mrs. Carl is a graduate of Taft High School and the University of Texas. She received her master's degree from Northwestern University. She was a band instructor in the Rankin High School faculty for two years.

Carl is a graduate of McCamey High School and Sul Ross State Teachers College. He is owner and publisher of the news Publishing Company.

With The Services

It's Almost Time For Christmas Mail

It's time to start thinking about Christmas for those men overseas. Postmaster N. G. Oates reminded Midlanders last week the mailing period for Christmas packages to service men overseas is from October 15 to November 15.

• Packages mailed later than November 15, he said, will not have guaranteed delivery in time for Christmas.

Oates urged persons sending packages overseas to use strong packaging so they will not be damaged. Christmas cards sent overseas must carry three-cent stamps.

Pvt. Randall G. Garnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Garnett, 1108 West Dakota Street, recently was graduated from the Far East Command Chemical School at Camp Gifu in Japan.

Garnett was presented a certificate by Lt. Col. Isaac L. Thomson, assistant commandant of the school. He arrived in Japan last June. Camp Gifu is a part of the Southwestern Command which encompasses Southern Honshu Island and the islands of Shikoku and Kyushu.

Robert A. Green of 105 East Michigan Street, has been promoted to major in the United States Marine Corps Reserve.

Major Green is a member of the Volunteer Marine Corps Reserve, having seen service in World War II. Presently on inactive duty, he is with the Halliburton Company in civilian life.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Green of Houston, he attended Baylor University and is married to the former Emerald Theodore of Houston.

Final Rites Held For Jewell Brown

McCAMEY—Funeral services were held here Friday for Jewell Brown, 53, member of a pioneer ranching family, who died Wednesday after a lingering illness.

Born in Paint Rock, he has lived in Hilton, Nolan County, prior to residing on a ranch near Sheffield. He worked for the Big Lake Oil Company at Texon for about 18 years and since then had lived in McCamey.

Survivors include the mother, Mrs. W. T. Brown; three daughters, including Mrs. C. D. Heflin, Fort Stockton; a son, Sidney of the U. S. Navy; three brothers, Cecil of San Saba, Ollie, Iraan, and Kermit of McCamey, and two sisters, Mrs. Lynn Bedell, Garvin, and Mrs. Earl Vickers, McCamey.

Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. Ross Welch officiating. Interment was in Ozona Cemetery.

MRS. PUTNAM TO SPEAK

McCAMEY—Mrs. Frank Putnam will speak to the McCamey Garden Club at 4 p.m. on "Flower Arrangements." The meeting will be held in the Park Building.

Card Detective To Address K&F Club Members October 8

The Midland Knife and Fork Club will open its 1951-52 season October 8, when Michael MacDougall, one of the nation's foremost card detectives and platform entertainers, will address the club members and their guests.

The meeting is scheduled at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. President Carroll L. Thomas announced. MacDougall, who is known as a scourge to crooked gamblers the world over, will give demonstrations of the skills which have made him such a terror to the denizens of the world, as he narrates some of his many and varied experiences.

"Galloping Dominoes" His skill, however, does not rest with cards. He knows all about "galloping dominoes" and will discuss that game in his lecture.

K&F Club officials termed MacDougall's program as interesting and amusing entertainment of the highest order and beneficial, too.

A near-capacity attendance is expected at the first dinner-meeting of the fall season.

Fire Prevention Week Plans To Be Perfected Monday

Plans for the observance of Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13, will be mapped at a meeting of interested persons at 3 p.m. Monday at the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors announced Saturday.

Representatives of the Fire Department, Insurance Underwriters Association and the Chamber of Commerce are invited to attend the meeting.

Chamber of Commerce officials said a community-wide program of fire prevention is planned for the annual observance.

P-TA Discusses Youth Program

McCAMEY—The McCamey Parent-Teacher Association discussed the youth program at its first meeting of the year recently in the school cafeteria.

Approximately 110 persons attended the meeting. Plans were made for the Halloween carnival. Bill Kennedy, Charles Morris and Miss Style were appointed to be in charge of recreation and Mrs. C. C. Roberts to be in charge of the food committee.

It was announced McCamey would be host to the P-TA conference in March. The Bi-County P-TA will meet October 12 in Rankin. Mrs. Elmo McCook's room won the attendance prize for the grade school, while the eighth grade took the high school attendance prize.

Mrs. Joe Conger, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Driskill, led the group in singing. Mrs. Lawrence English, president, presided.

Moscow was built by Jurie, or George I. Duke of Kiev (1149 A. D.)

SIGNS PROCLAMATION—Gov. Allan Shivers is shown signing a proclamation designating October 7-13, as National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week. The week is observed throughout the nation in an effort to foster the employment of physically handicapped persons. Looking on while the governor affixes his signature are, left to right, J. J. Brown, director, Vocational Rehabilitation Division, Texas Education Agency; Harry Bengt Crozier, chairman, governor's state committee on NEPH and chairman and executive director of the Texas Employment Commission; and V. M. Burns, department adjutant, Department of Texas, Disabled American Veterans.

Beer Given Place Among Oldest Arts

NEW YORK—P—Brewing beer was big business in Mesopotamia 2,400 years ago and women were the master brewers.

This ancient beer was called Kas, and made just like modern beer, but with some varieties not now on the market. It was Friendlier Beer, and nothing much was lacking except the commercials.

All this is revealed in a clay tablet, with pictures, from ancient Mesopotamia, now in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It was translated by scholars of the Catholic University in Washington and the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago. The translation is published by the American Oriental Society with aid from the United States Brewers Foundation, Inc., New York.

The studies hint the origins of beer, far earlier. This guess is that beer originated from food preservation very long ago.

The preserved foods were barleys and grains, sprouted in water, and dried when the sprouts became sweet. That is the stage when sprouts fill with maltose sugar.

By 2,400 years ago beer was linked with religion. Beer-making was apparently the only profession protected by female divinity. It was under two goddesses, Nin, KA, SI, and Sirus. Just when women entered as master brewers is not told. But the ladies' high position was usurped by men about 2,100 years ago.

Malt was made from barley. Yeast apparently was used in fermentation as today. The scholars inferred that certain strains of yeast were cultivated for beer, even as today.

Just as now the by-product mash was known to be good food for animals and Babylonians fed it to cattle. The workers' pay appears on the old tablet. They received as part pay bread-shaped cakes called bappir or beer bread.

Like today's ads the ancient tablet emphasized taste, color and strength. There was whitish beer, dark beer, reddish beer, beer with a head and beer without a head. One beer not now sold appears to have been popular because of the number and variety of pictures on the clay tablet. This beer was drunk through long reeds or long metal tubes. The drinkers sat, in front of a large, shapely jar standing on the floor. Their beer rods were four or five feet long, curved to reach down into the jar for a sociable sip.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Prospects Aren't Bright For Showdown Skirmish On Tidelands This Year

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Prospects are slim that Congress will do anything definite this year about the controversial submerged offshore coastal lands.

The House has passed a bill giving the states clear title to them, but Senate opinion is so divided that the bill isn't likely to come up for a vote on the Senate floor this session.

Since any measure that might pass the Senate this year would in all probability be only for tentative control by either the federal government or the states, it would have to go back to the House for a compromise of differences. Only a state interim control measure would stand any chance of acceptance from a majority of House members—and such a bill undoubtedly would run into a presidential veto.

Chances Are Slim
The chances are the real showdown scrap will come early next year.

Such timing would have some political significance; it would give legislators on both sides of the issue something to speak about that would get into the newspapers and set well with their constituents.

While almost every state, as an official body, has endorsed the states' ownership position in the Tidelands fight, many lawmakers here think the man-on-the-street in their individual states would prefer federal control. Under that solution, inland states would enjoy revenues that would originate from along the shores of a few coastal states, primarily Texas, California and Louisiana.

UN-SUPPORTED
Most interesting feature of the Old State Capital, built in 1837, at Frankfort, Ky., is the circular marble stairway having no other support than the arch action of its steps.

Friday Ceremony To Open Elaborate North Course Of Midland Country Club

Destined to be one of the most beautiful golf courses in the world and already one of the largest and longest, the new North Course of the Midland Country Club will be formally opened Friday.

The 588-acre course is located north of the city along State Highway 345 to Lamesa.

Perfume Is Used To Catch Coyote

GALLATIN, MO.—(AP)—Cheap perfume caught a coyote for John Smith of Gallatin.

For weeks Smith had been trying to trap a crafty coyote. It eluded him every time. Finally he scented the site with ordinary perfume, the kind you buy in any dime store. And he caught Mr. Coyote.

Trapper L. J. McIntosh of the Missouri conservation commission said perfume isn't a recommended lure. But it will rouse the curiosity of an animal occasionally, just like any other unusual sound or smell.

Preparations are being made for an outstanding formal opening program with "name" golfers of the nation invited.

Some of the MCC golfers already have played the course and declare it excellent.

Greens and fairways of the scientifically-designed course are oasis green with a background of the rugged mesquite country in which it is located.

Architect for the course was Ralph Plummer. In addition to attractive fairways, tees and greens, the course grounds include a putting green, a practice area, a grass

A Free People

"Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom" is an apt theme for the 1951 observance of National Newspaper Week, which opens Monday and continues through the week.

The slogan, with its far-reaching implications, particularly is meaningful in this day and time when more than half the population of the world is under some form of censorship. That censorship has blacked-out the light of public information, placing citizens in darkness—or ignorance, if you please.

The theme of National Newspaper Week concerns the right or duty of a free press to pierce that darkness with the light of information, presuming at the same time to keep the light burning brightly regardless of the odds.

It has been said that free man has the right to know, and if there is a right to know, then there must be a right to tell.

Our founding fathers considered this right so important they wrote it into the No. 1 Amendment to our Constitution: "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging freedom of speech and freedom of the press."

Yes, the right to tell is more than a privilege, it is a duty. American newspapers generally recognize that duty, and that is why the vital truth of the message, "Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom," is the one thing National Newspaper Week has to sell.

In the words of Gen. George C. Marshall, "Americans should keep constantly in mind that no people have lost their liberties so long as their press remained free."

Kent Cooper, executive director of The Associated Press, discussing in a recent address the loss of a free press in Germany when the Nazis decided to regiment that nation, said, "The people of that country found the truth was not to be had. Without the truth they could not think straight. And when they could not think straight they faced their fate in darkness, freedom's light being gone."

Consider then, if you will, the darkness which engulfs the Iron Curtain countries today.

It is a challenge indeed to the free press to pierce that darkness.

Then consider the fact there are those in our own nation who would black out the light of public information in an effort to maintain a grip on the people. Yes, the light must continue to shine right in our own city, state and nation in order that our citizens may continue to be informed.

Bringing it to a local level, National Newspaper Week affords an excellent opportunity for the responsible citizen to reflect upon the tremendous role his hometown newspaper plays in his daily life.

It delivers a daily budget of news, both world and neighborhood, in text and picture form, unequalled anywhere in the world for variety of subject and completeness of coverage.

It reports city and county government happenings, school activities, court proceedings, election news and results, and Chamber of Commerce doings.

It reports births, marriages, deaths, along with permanent records of current events.

It is the housewife's shopping guide, is a job-finder for the unemployed, is a searcher for lost pets, and is an essential record for the man or woman shopper.

It reports sports activities, and publishes church and club notices, sermon topics, and civic club speeches.

It advises where to go for fun, lists places to go if one wants to dine out, and even reports recipes on how to bake cakes.

It entertains with comics, puzzles, humor columns and other features.

It does these and many more things, and yet, one has the privilege of reading or not reading, and at any particular time chosen by the reader.

And this preservable package may be had for a very few cents per copy.

Your hometown newspaper also provide innumerable services and information to enable its readers to widen their horizon and constantly improve their standards of living, while striving continually to maintain one of America's most-treasured heritages—the simple right to be informed, popularly known as "freedom of the press."

Summed up it all means, "A free press—a free people."

"Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom."

Who remembers the good old days when houses to let at high rents were houses to let alone?

When are prices going to show a little respect for the law of gravity? What goes up must come down.

It's human to make mistakes and a big mistake to be too human.

In Our Time?

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Defense Secretary Lovett warns of civil defense need; Hong Kong firms still smuggle war goods to Communists.

WASHINGTON — At a recent closed-door meeting of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee new Defense Secretary Robert Lovett did some plain talking about the danger of depending on mere military defenses if the United States ever is atom-bombed from the air.

Recalling his testimony a few days before at another secret Senate hearing, Lovett declared: "I testified that if we got a third of the invading planes we would be shooting par for the course. General Vandenberg (chief of the Air Force) thought if we got 25 per cent or thereabouts, it would be more than we had a right to expect."

Therefore, continued Lovett, a strong and continuing civil defense program is imperative. "Military forces," he added, "are not a substitute for civil defense."

Air Secretary Tom Finletter was even blunter, declaring: "Possible enemies of this country, according to our best information, now have a substantial number of atomic weapons and also have the planes to carry these weapons in an attack on this country."

The potential violence of such an attack will increase as time goes on. Whether or not such an attack will in fact be made can only be guessed at, but . . . we must assume that it may and must make our plans accordingly."

Finletter testified that radar, intercepter planes and anti-aircraft artillery are indispensable.

"They cannot, however, assure us that an atomic attack upon us will be turned back," Finletter urged. "A determined bomber assault will get most of its planes through, even against an alerted and efficient defense. An attack without warning would be even more successful."

Czech Freedom Train
Several of the passengers aboard the Czech freedom train which burst across the border into Germany tell a dramatic story of growing rebellion against Czech Communism.

One young law student who boarded the train because his failure to join the Communist Party caused his dismissal from school, told how he had seen the freedom-ship balloons falling around Prague last month.

"I actually saw many of the balloons and leaflets fall in the Prague area. The anti-Communists were very enthusiastic. We took it as a sign that the West had not forgotten us, and that this might be the forerunner of a long-term program to give us authentic information of what conditions actually are in the free countries. The Communists are greatly worried over the balloon maneuver, and anything that worries the Communists I consider constructive."

Trade With China
Despite the British ban against war trade with Communist China, this column has uncovered evidence that several Hong Kong firms still are smuggling war goods to the Communists. The shocking thing is that some of these firms are reported to have Chinese Nationalist and American connections.

Here are the firms that have been dealing secretly with the Communists and supplying war materials to be used against our boys in Korea: The Sino Overseas Trading Company has been dealing with Lung Tai Trading Company of Peiping and Tientsin, is known to have shipped strategic steel angles, hand saws and other steel goods to Communist China during March, April and July.

Yee Fun Hong, representing the Yu Fe Trading Company, smuggled 11 cases of ball bearings and steel balls last May to the Kinchen Bank Corporation inside Red China. The Shin Tung Development Corporation shipped thousands of bales of smoked rubber sheets to Tientsin and the New China Trading Company smuggled heavy shipments of steel to Sheng Hsi Poo and Company, which has offices throughout Red China.

All these Hong Kong corporations are reported to be linked with Chinese Nationalists, who are supposed to be fighting the Communists.

This column also has learned that Tai Shing Hong, also of Hong Kong, recently smuggled 250 drums to Tientsin, although it couldn't be learned what the drums contained. The Chi Ping Company shipped four cases of auto parts to Tientsin during April, and the Khoo Hin Trading Company smuggled large amounts of cut plate iron to Tientsin during the same month.

British authorities in Hong Kong should investigate these firms at once. The U. S. government also should find out how much American money is behind these firms dealing with the enemy.

Guy Gabrielson
Republicans remember that it was Congressman Wayne Hays of Ohio who first exposed GOP National Chairman Guy Gabrielson's part in the $18,000,000 RFC loan for Carthage-Hydrocol. And at a recent dinner party, William Mylander, publicity chief of the Republican National Committee, twitted him about it.

Jokingly he informed the congressman that the committee was closely watching everything Hays said about Gabrielson—had even taken a word-for-word transcript of his radio attack on the GOP chairman.

"If you ever step over the line, Mr. Gabrielson will sue you," Mylander warned.

"Sue me!" exploded Hays. "Please advise Mr. Gabrielson that I'd welcome a suit by him. It would insure my reelection. Also tell him that I'm no Joe McCarthy. I say what I think right out in public, and I am immune from libel suits. And if I ever say anything on the House floor about your boss, I'll repeat it outside, where I am not immune."

So They Say

A few blatant blockheads who either lack comprehension of the terrible danger we face or are willing to gamble with the security of the nation, for political advantage, have assumed the GOP's foreign policy.

—George Meany, sec.-treas., AFL

There is a spark within each man which is likely to respond to a fire alarm. For three hours, it is alleged, perfect generosity existed in San Francisco after the great earthquake.

—Monsi. Maurice S. Sheehy, of Catholic U. of America.

I refuse to believe that Nehru and his government are seriously attracted to communism. Rather, I look on their recent maneuvers as an example of India's somewhat amateurish attempts in the field of power politics.

—Sen. Styles Bridges (R., N. H.)

I've been astonished at the interest people have in the weather. Not just from the farmer, with his bread and butter interest, but interest from everywhere. It's one human-interest story that never runs dry.

—Clint Yoile, TV weatherman.

The advice I give to young people is to study the labor movement. Study it and then join in the great work it is doing.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Many of the best American and Canadian bridge players will enter the All American Tournament in St. Paul next month, but they'll have to work hard to get ahead of some of the local players. For example, here's the sort of defensive play that you can expect from the St. Paul experts.

Sev Widman, holding the West cards, opened the nine of clubs. His partner, Jim Dolan, won with the ace of clubs and promptly returned the ten of spades. With any other return South could ruff a couple of hearts in dummy and get rid of another heart on the ace of diamonds. The trump return was the first step in a very fine defense.

South couldn't afford to put up the ace of trumps because then he would surely lose two trump tricks, one heart, and one club. He therefore finessed the jack of trumps, losing to West's queen. Widman led back a trump since any other continuation would allow declarer to ruff one heart and discard another heart on the ace of diamonds.

South drew one more trump, cashed the king of clubs, and then laid down the ace of hearts. This play gave Widman something to think about.

It was clear that South had a six-card spade suit and only two clubs. The bidding indicated that his five remaining cards were all hearts. The defenders needed two heart tricks to defeat the contract.

Widman dropped the nine of hearts on South's ace. Declarer continued with the king of hearts, and Widman dropped the jack of hearts.

That was the end of poor South. Whenever he continued the hearts East was able to win two tricks with his queen and eight, setting the contract.

It's interesting to see what happens if West fails to unblock the hearts. When South leads a third heart, West must win the trick. (East dares not overtake with the queen of hearts, since that sets up South's ten.) West must then lead a diamond, which gives declarer a chance to finesse dummy's queen.

The finesse succeeds, and South gets rid of his remaining hearts on the queen and ace of diamonds.

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Diamond Pass ?
You South, hold: Spades K-J-9-4-2, Hearts K-J-9, Diamonds Q-2, Clubs A-J-10. What do you do?

A—Bid one spade. It is possible, perhaps even probable, that the hand will eventually be played in no-trump, but you should not keep silent about your five-card spade suit. It would not be a serious mistake to bid two no-trump instead of one spade, but it would be an inferior choice.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-9, Hearts K-J-9, Diamonds Q-2, Clubs A-J-10-3. What do you do?

NO SURVIVORS BY WILL HENRY

Copyright 1950 by Will Henry. Used by arrangement with the publisher, Random House, Inc.

THE STORY: Captured by Stoen after the German massacre, John Clayton, former Indiana senator, has been permitted to go to visit his wife and children. He is a woman who nursed him to health after his wounds in battle. Her rescuer, Clayton, known as Clayton Went, waiting Hawk, is a surprise for her in the Black Hills.

XII
WE had not far to go to where Hussein awaited us, small ears up in curiosity, wicked eyes glaring as he saw I came in company with another. All this time my mind raced with my pulse at a hammering gait, but with a million questions thronging my thoughts, I could not voice so much as a word of one of them.

We stood a moment thus, facing each other, her upturned child's face coming barely to my chest, my head bent forward and down so that her glorious hair lay just beneath my lips. A vagrant breeze lifted one of the soft curls.

Slou is a language of reality. The Indian mind and tongue do not concern themselves with refined emotion.

"I love you," I said hoarsely, in English. And seized her to smash my mouth against hers.

She staggered back from it as though from a blow in the face. Her slim hand held with its back to her bruised lips, nostrils wide, emerald eyes on fire. I was aware then that her features mirrored a look which superseded any possible anger, hurt, incredulity. It was a look of fear, the fear of the unknown.

"Woonicum," I murmured, employing the sole word in the Slou vocabulary which may be spoken in apology. Literally it means, "A mistake has been made."

"No!" She whispered, her voice thick with emotion. "The thing was not a mistake. But I know not what it was and I am afraid."

"It is a kiss," I said, slowly. "It is a sign among my people, sacred to lovers. Its meaning is that I

WASHINGTON COLUMN

U. S. Has Important Interest In Impending British Elections

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There is an important American angle to the British elections which Labor Party Prime Minister Clement Attlee has called October 25. Ordinarily, it's tough enough for American voters to keep their own politics and politicians straightened out, without both-ering over British domestic issues. But this is different.

Underlying all other reasons for calling British elections now are the United Kingdom's unfavorable trade balance, reduction of gold reserves and financial relations with the United States. Involved in the last item are questions of new American aid and payment of the first principal and interest, due December 31, on the $3,750,000,000 U. S. loan to Britain. First payment on a Canadian loan of $1,200,000,000 also comes due at this time.

It was noteworthy during last week's North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting in Ottawa and the International Bank and Monetary Fund meeting in Washington the week before that British representatives went out of their way to spread the word and paint the picture of Britain's financial plight.

This was not necessarily done in any crying tone. It was the usual calm, British portrayal of the facts of financial life.

Britain's exports are up, and prices are 14 per cent above last year. Britain has to pay 35 per cent more for her imports, however. Britain's economy is 24 per cent dependent on imports, as compared with only four per cent for the U. S. Because of these increases in prices paid, Britain's dollar surplus of last year is being converted into a dollar deficit this year.

Must Balance Spending
Britain is spending roughly $4,700,000,000 on defense this year and for the next two years. To meet the cost of this effort, it would be necessary for Britain to sell that much more exports.

Because of steel shortages, coal shortages, conversion of industry to arms production, it is impossible to increase exports by this amount.

The interesting thing about all this presentation of gloom was that no visiting Briton ever got around to saying what was going to be done about it. The ball was simply put out in mid-field, apparently in the hope that someone with a bright idea would pick it up and run.

What the British themselves propose to do about it apparently is to be left until after the elections. If the Conservatives win, it will be their ball to run with. If the Labor Party wins and improves its present slim majority in Parliament, that presumably will be the signal and the mandate. It then will have to pick up the ball and buck the line with further cutbacks on the British economy. Or something.

In talks between American and British officials, there were implications that the British might like additional U. S. aid. But they never silent about your five-card spade suit. It would not be a serious mistake to bid two no-trump instead of one spade, but it would be an inferior choice.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-9, Hearts K-J-9, Diamonds Q-2, Clubs A-J-10-3. What do you do?

Answer Monday

Three new types of wild game birds, including the seese, or sand partridge, the black partridge, and the houbars, or bustard, have arrived in the United States from Iraq and Turkey. They will be tested for possible use in restocking the southwest, from which native birds largely have vanished.

gan to lie any more quietly or breathe any less vigorously, I suggested a race to the foot of the mesa incline. This seemed to strike the proper note, for she was at once all smiles and later to find the pagan priestess and the delighted child never far separated in this strange girl.

At the moment my proposal was a lucky shot, serving to stave off a retreating impulse.

As we spoke, we stood about ten feet from Hussein, who all the time had been conducting himself peculiarly, poking his head out in our direction, sniffing our scent, flicking his ears to catalogue our voices. In general acting more like an inquisitive weanling than the yellow-toothed old killer he was.

"And what will the wager be?" Star laughed, excitedly. Then before I could answer, "I know. You shall bring me the heart of a great enemy of our people. And you shall lay it before my tipi, that I may know you are truly the warrior they say you are."

"The wager is fair," I laughed, in turn. "But what if you lose?" I had in mind, of course, a foot-race.

"I shall not lose!" she shouted, wheeling suddenly. "For even the Hawk is not so swift as the Horse!" With that she leaped for Hussein with the speed of a darting hare. I had no chance to stop her, only being able to cry out in terror, "No, Star! Keep away from him! He'll kill!"

As I watched the temerity to look back and fling me a whinnying horselaugh before settling into his stride and skimming off over the valley floor, sailing over frozen creek and bush alike, as smooth and easy as any bird, quite obviously as happy.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Chip On His Shoulder

Huffy Tuffy, the monkey boy, was very huffy and very tuffy. How wrong he was! And he was always wanting to fight. "I like to fight," said Huffy Tuffy, and he said it to Mugwump. "Mugwump," said he, "I want to fight with you."

Huffy Tuffy had never been to school, and so he didn't know how to talk. Oh, but he knew how to fight. "Mugwump," he said again, "I want to fight with you."

"Oh," said Mugwump, "Huffy Tuffy, you just have a chip on your shoulder."

"Huh?" asked Huffy.

And so Mugwump said again that Huffy had a chip on his shoulder, and that was the why of his wanting to fight.

But Huffy looked at his shoulders and said: "I don't see a chip on my shoulders, but I still want to fight with you."

Mugwump didn't answer at first. Instead he looked around on the ground there by the Elephant Path until he found a little chip of wood. He put it on Huffy's shoulder.

"There now," said Mugwump. "Now you have a chip on your shoulder, and that is the why of your wanting to fight."

Huffy looked at his shoulder. He saw the chip all right. Yes, and he knew that "chip on the shoulder" means to be cross and to want to fight. "Sure," said Huffy. "I have it."

a chip on my shoulder, and dat is why I want to fight with you, Mugwump."

Huffy raised up his hands to start to fight, but Mugwump raised a hand to stop him. "Stop!" said Mugwump.

"Huh?" said Huffy. "What's de matter, Mugwump? I have a chip on my shoulder all right, all right."

"Sure you do," said Mugwump, "but do you want the chip to fall off?"

"Dat I don't," said Huffy.

"Well then," said Mugwump, "We can't do any fighting, because if we did, the chip would fall off your shoulder."

"It sure is a problem," said Huffy, because to him a problem indeed is what it was. The chip on his shoulder was making him want to fight, but if he fought—ker-bam! the chip would fall off and he wouldn't want to fight any more.

"I sure have me problems," said Huffy.

"Poor boy," said Mugwump. Happy day!

THE BULLDOG

Written By The Journalism Class of Midland High School

Comments Wanted

The members of the Bulldog staff have often heard complaints from students about the school newspaper. These students say the news is uninteresting, the columns are dull, and the editorials are pointless. The staff of the Bulldog sometimes is inclined to agree with these students. Helpful criticism always is welcomed by the paper even if it is sometimes unfavorable. The Bulldog staff certainly makes no claims of perfection and is well aware of the fact that mistakes are often made.

However, if any student has something to say regarding the paper, he will now have an opportunity to make his views public. A mailbox has been placed in the office for anyone who wishes to express his ideas concerning either the Bulldog or other subjects pertaining to school activities and policies.

This, the staff hopes, will be an aid to our school and mean an improved newspaper for the student body.

Dean Of Students Mashburn Is Better Known As 'Coach'

Wandering around the halls of Midland High School, a student will catch an occasional glance of a rather small man with graying hair, a pair of twinkling blue eyes and a slow, friendly smile. He is known to all students as "Coach" Mashburn, but really is dean of students. Everyone who knows Jack Mashburn loves him and respects him and Midland High School is quite fortunate to have such an understanding personality for its dean.

For 10 of his 44 years, "Coach" has been a resident of Midland, and since then has served Midland High School at football coach, basketball coach, track coach, shop instructor and dean of students. He came to Midland from Colorado, his native state.

When asked his pet peeve, "Coach" suddenly took on a serious look and said, "Kids that lie to me." But the old twinkle came back to him when he was asked, "What, of course?" is rated first on the menu with him. As for colors, anything that is blue will catch his eye.

Next time that was the cry that went up from the Bulldog football squad, the purple, in Ysleta after took a 7-0 encounter with the Indians. It was the first time for the Midland team to win in Ysleta's home stadium and the Bulldogs did it up nice with a bruising ground and sparkling air attack led by Ralph Brooks and Company.

Having made it two out of two, the "Dogs" have been preparing themselves for Crozier Tech of Dallas. The team from "Big D" has lost both of their previous games to Milby of Houston and Tyler.

Bam! Bam! Swish! And there went the B Bulldogs against the Snyder B squad September 22, in Memorial Stadium. After having a rough time of it the first quarter, the "B-dogs," led by Rusty Rutledge, came roaring back to lead at half-time by a 14 to 6 score and finally won by a lop-sided tab of 46 to 6.

The C Bulldogs lost a tough one to Crockett of Odessa, 13 to 6, in the last minute of the game. The freshmen, after scoring first gradually let the game slip away from them, but made Odessa fight for every inch. The team was always game and looked good for the first game despite the loss and show promise of having a successful season.

Some of the boys who will go out for basketball later this year now are starting to get into shape in the physical education classes. They will work on their wind and general physical condition until the end of football season and the beginning of regular basketball season. Fernon "Red" Rutledge and Audrey Gill will guide the Bulldog cagers this year.

Jack Mashburn, dean of students at MHS, informs us plans are being made to work out a plan to organize a high school bowling league. This column will keep you posted on any new developments.

Mrs. Blair is teaching health to one-sixth of the girls' physical education classes this six-week period and Mrs. Wilson will teach another one-sixth the next six weeks. The same holds true with the boys' P.E. classes.

The P.E. department is investigating the possibilities of a school towel system—that is, having the towels laundered daily.

The girls P.E. classes have been doing routine calisthenics and having relay races the last week.

Nominations Made For Catoico Queen

Nominations for the 1951-1952 Catoico queen were made in an assembly September 26. Nominees are Barbara McMillen, Maxine Hill, Pat Boles, Nancy Cooper, Madelon Schabrum, Sadie Nugent, Barbara Ware, Marion Sevier, Chris Heidelberg, Grace Boles, Fay Henshaw, Priscilla Fields, Barbara Whitson, Emily Hamilton, Gail Dixon, Jackie Ewald, Tommie Underwood, Betty Pitzer, Fifi Pryor and Skippy Clemmens.

Included in the first part of the assembly program were two violin selections by Mrs. Glens Hake, accompanied by George DeHart; a reading by Nancy Cooper, and a piano solo by Tommy Miller.

Agriculture Class Goes On Picnic

The second year vocational agriculture class of Midland High School attended a picnic at Cole Park recently.

The 12 couples attending rode to the park on Bobby Howard's flat-top trailer.

They were served wieners, cookies, pop and other picnic "essentials."

MHS Music Department Sets Record

The Music Department of Midland High School has the largest enrollment in school history this year, with 150 music-minded students taking part in choral work.

Thirty-two boys and 30 girls, dressed in purple robes and gold sash stoles, will appear under the name of the Midland High School A Cappella Choir, directed by R. C. Michener.

They will take part in various assembly programs, but their first real activity will be the Christmas Pageant. Voices from the A Cappella will be used in the coronation, and later on an opera will be produced. They will enter the annual music contest in the Spring. Students chosen for the choir are as follows:

Basses: Tommy Miller, Gene Schaffer, Jerry Wallace, Jack Tabor, Stan Cook, Royce Measures, Robert Stubbeman, Robert Pine, Dwayne Chennet, Baritone: Bill Crenshaw, John Petty, Joan Crowley, Kenneth Hughes, Calvin Hancock, Don Leaton, Corky Moss, Freddie Bilbo, Gregory Lovelady, Benny Bedford, Vernon Carpenter, Harold Robbins.

A second choral club also under the direction of Mr. Michener, consists of about 50 students, 13 of whom are freshmen boys. The club also will take part in assemblies and make various appearances throughout the year, including the Spring music contest.

An addition to the music department this year will be a group of about 35 girls, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Brown, the former Dorothy Routh, who taught the Junior High School Choir last year. This choir's activities will be similar to the A Cappella and Glee Club.

Mr. Michener states he is pleased with the large enrollment in the music department, and the interest taken by the boys of MHS in more activities.

Play Rehearsals Are Progressing

"Quick! Somebody grab the dotted-swiss curtains and bring the chair for the script reader." People in the first act get ready.

The above quotation probably will sound very familiar to a certain group of juniors as Verna Harris begins to organize the daily rehearsal of the Junior play, "Ever Since Eve."

The play rehearsals are coming along unusually fast and by the night of the first production, October 22, a veteran cast of actors will emerge. It should prove to be full of entertainment for all as the curtain opens on its comedy filled acts.

A correction of last week's edition of the Bulldog: Lucy Belle Lee, the Southern female wolf of the play, is played by Barbara Wilson and not by Barbara Whitson as was stated.

Latin American YC Sets Exhibit

A citywide Hobby exhibit will be held at the Latin American Youth Center, 414 East Illinois Street, Sunday afternoon, November 11.

Participating youngsters will be divided into the following age groups: 9-12, 13-14, 15-16-17, and 18 and over. Prizes will be awarded to all first, second and third place winners while all first place winners will compete for the grand prize.

Any youngster in the city who is in one of these age brackets may enter a hobby exhibit. Entry blanks may be obtained at the Midland Studio and Camera Shop, 317 North Colorado Street, or at Ray's Hobby Shop, 506 West Ohio Street.

Sale Of Catoico Begins This Week

The sale of Catoico, the Midland High School annual, will begin on October 1 and last through November 2.

Each Catoico entitles the person to one vote for Catoico queen. Nominations for queen will be held this week.

Get your Catoico now!

High School Howdy Week Is Scheduled

Howdy everyone! The third annual Howdy Week will start at 1:30 p.m. Monday and end Friday. Howdy tags and autograph books will go on sale Monday in the home rooms. The tags will sell for 10 cents. The autograph books will be included with each purchase free of charge.

Band Puts On Peppy Performance

After a fanfare introduction, the 88 purple and gold clad members which make up the Midland High School Band stepped smartly across the football field at half-time.

At the north end of the field the members executed a countermarch and returned doing a left flank, a to-the-right and another left flank. Then they went into a divided-to-the-right followed by the telescope formation.

Halting in the middle of the field, the band then formed a bicycle and played "Daisy Bell" while the majorettes: Nancy Klingler, Agatha Tabor and Nancy Cooper twirled flags. But the bicycle had trouble in the form of a flat tire, which was promptly pumped up by the drum major, Alan Harris. Next the stadium lights went out, the band formed a steamboat with the help of the Half-Timers and played "Cruising Down the River." The steamboat was outlined by lights worn on the band hats and the Half-Timers carried lighted batons. During the number the band and Half-Timers majorettes twirled lighted batons.

The grid season truly was under-way!

The motto of Howdy Week is "The best way to gain a friend is to be a friend."

Howdy Week is sponsored annually by the Student Council of Midland High School. Monday has been selected as "Girls be Nice to Boys Day." Tuesday will be "Boys be Nice to Girls Day." Wednesday will be "Pupils be Nice to Teachers." Thursday will be "Teachers be Nice to Pupils Day." Friday has been designated as "General Howdy Day."

The sponsors hope in this way to encourage friendship and courtesy among the students. It is their hope that this attitude does not disappear after Howdy Week but continues to grow throughout the year.

There will be two autograph contests running throughout the week—one for girls and one for boys. The girls and boys collecting the most autographs from October 1 to October 5 will win a 1952 Catoico. The autograph books must be turned in to Dean Jack Mashburn's Office at 4 p.m. Friday. Those wishing to keep their Howdy books may regain them by contacting Mrs. Mary B. Philippus on Monday.

So, get set for the most successful Howdy Week in MHS. Buy your tags! Get those autographs! Win a Catoico! But most of all—make new friends!

Alan Harris Has Big Role In Success Of MHS Band

Have you noticed the boy in the tall white hat who leads the band in parades and during the half-time exercises at the football games? This hard working senior is Alan Harris.

The band is a very active and colorful organization, not only in Midland High School but also in many civic functions. Behind its appearances is the hard work of each member, the band director, Ralph Mills and the drum major.

Alan has been active in band work for eight years. He plays both the saxophone and clarinet. He has held several positions in the band organization.

With the enthusiasm and hard work shown by all band students, Alan feels this year's band should be better than ever. The band will enter the regional interscholastic band contest April 5. The divisions which will be entered are marching, sight reading and concert.

Alan was born in Abilene. His favorites in food and colors are fried chicken and purple and gold. His favorite class is band but also finds civics very interesting.

Public Schools To Broadcast Each Thursday

Midland's Public Schools go on the air October 4 in the first of a series of radio programs to be heard over KJBC at 1:45 p.m. each Thursday.

The opening program will feature the Midland High School Band. Each elementary school will be in charge of at least one program in addition to the various departments in the Senior and Junior High Schools.

According to R. C. Michener, music director, "The programs are planned to give the students experience in broadcasting and to acquaint the public with the school program."

Teachers will work with students in planning the programs, but students will be featured as announcers and masters of ceremony.

Last year the programs were held at 3:45, and the earlier hour this year is planned so the elementary schools can take full advantage of the programs.

The program schedule is as follows:

- October 4—High School Band.
- October 11—High School Speech Department.
- October 18—Crockett Elementary School.
- October 25—West Elementary School.
- November 1—High School A Cappella Choir.
- November 8—Junior High School Band.
- November 15—South Elementary School.
- November 21—High School Vocation Department.
- December 6—Terminal Elementary School.
- December 13—Sam Houston Elementary School.
- December 19—Christmas Program, High School Music and Speech Departments.
- January 3—Junior High School Speech Department.
- January 10—Carver School.
- January 17—Junior High School Music Department.
- January 24—High School Choir II.
- January 31—De Zavala Elementary School.
- February 7—Junior High School Music Department.
- February 14—High School Physical Education Department.

Faculty Is Presented Pennants

Upon arrival at the first meeting of the school season of the Midland High School Parent-Teacher Association, all members of the high school faculty were given personalized purple and gold pennants.

All members of the faculty were introduced by Don Mitchell, principal of the high school. The serving table was centered with a purple and gold football shaped flower arrangement. Refreshments of Cokes and cookies were served.

The Half-Timers helped to usher. This year's officers are: president, Mrs. H. L. Hensley; vice president, Mrs. George Oliver; second vice president, Mrs. Stanley Erskine; secretary, Mrs. Klingler; treasurer, Mrs. Sherwood O'Neal and carnival chairman, Mrs. F. D. Heffner.

This week the P-T-A plans a joint meeting with the Booster Club. An open house is planned later.

Plans now are well underway for the annual Halloween Carnival.

Happy Birthday!

October comes, bringing Halloween with its traditional ghosts, witches, jack-o'-lanterns, falling leaves and cool, brisk weather. October also brings the birthday of 99 students of Midland High School.

Those born before October are ruled by the Zodiac sign of Libra and are courteous, kind, affectionate and adaptable.

The sign of Scorpio rules those born after October 22, and those persons are inclined to be secretive, quick-witted and sometimes blunt, but make superior friends.

So, here's a very "Happy birthday!" to the following students:

- October 1—Larry Lindley, Jackie Matthews, J. P. Mooney, Sadie Nugent, Margie Hensley.
- October 2—Carl Baugh, Jerry Martin, Betty Sivalis, Irma Hunt, Bobby Brown.
- October 3—Mike Chase, Donny Kathleen Walker, Joan White.
- October 4—Gary Hall, Allen Parrott, Virginia Ann Shelton, Riley Hutcherson.
- October 5—Barbara Tom, Vearl Hudson, Janie Halbert, Sherry Page, Barbara Ware, Charles Worthen.
- October 6—Joan Fitzgerald Ann Fitzgerald, Norma Dobbs.
- October 7—Jonnie Fletcher.
- October 8—Charles Crites, Charlotte Frasier.
- October 10—Atrelle Pace, Jimmy Smith, Jerry Cappadonna, Wanda Lou Steele, Josephine Morgan, Benoit Stevens, Denise Merrell.
- October 11—Tommy Johnson, Joan Lipscomb, Burns Jo Simmons, Roxie Smith.
- October 13—Dennis Dilday.
- October 14—Mary Herndon, Martha Frick, Arla Fuller.
- October 15—Jack Jerome, De Lois Johnson, Newton Davis, Charlene Fussell.
- October 16—Joe Steun, Paty Willis, Jerry Hancock.
- October 17—Paula Jane King, Carole Ann Loop, Mabel Nix, Delbert O'Neil, Charley Patterson, Foy Glendening.
- October 18—Walter Murray Cates, Frankie Cole, Jim Hammett, Ray Young, Ray Feemster.
- October 19—Dot Hightower, Faye Henshaw, Mary Rath.
- October 20—Shirley Lee Beauchamp, Trenna Standley.
- October 21—Jerry Daniel, Melba Preston, Paxton Howard, Betty Denton.
- October 22—Raymond Leggett, Doris Nichols, Betty Ann Rust.
- October 23—Robert Lee Evans, Paul Patton, Glenn Pine, Bobby Pittman.
- October 25—Georgia Faye Stump, October 26—Margaret Brannan, Leora Crawford, Sue Talkington, Linda Ann Skelton.
- October 28—David Shoemaker, Roberta Stewart, Johnny Kennedy, Lanetta Early.
- October 29—Gene Schaffer, James Robert Watson, Carol Ann Wilkinson, Barndine Youcher, Betty Johnson, Paul Cole.
- October 30—Kathleen Knabe, Patricia Nance, Jean Corbell, Nancy Olepton.
- October 31—Jerry Parker, Paula Hancock.

Rambling Rows

By MARION SEVIER

By the time this edition of the Bulldog goes to press the newness of school will be worn off and every one will be hard at work, nevertheless, we want to extend a sincere—even if it is a belated—welcome to all freshmen and new students in Midland High School and hope you will have a happy and profitable year.

Besides welcoming new students, there is someone else who needs to be welcomed, the new additions to the Louis Bohn and the Helen Rucker family. They both are little boys.

Since last May a lot of our ex-students have taken their last, fatal step. Bud Johnson and Fran Claybrook, Bob Woods and Ann Stephens, Joan Klingler and Nancy Webb, and Dan Brannan and Wilma Like. We wish them the best of luck and happiness they can possibly have.

If you see boys and girls mimicking teapots and goldfish, fainting and getting shot, they haven't lost their minds they are just preparing for the annual dramatic assembly.

Take Vacations

Some of our students left the "good old U.S.A." on vacations this summer. Mary Jane Miller went to Nova Scotia, Emily Hamilton to Alaska, Pat Boles to C. N. A. Ann Ashby toured Europe, (by the way next time you see Ann get her to tell you some of her experiences) and Peggy Simmons and Mary Ann McRee went to Acapulco, Mexico.

Several unusual cars around Midland High School have been noticed. Mark McKinsey or Emily Student (I don't know which it really belongs to) is the owner of a bright, yellow hot rod. Larry Clark has an old jalopy, and Madelon and Jimmy Schabrum have a two seated, bright red English styled, M.G.

Frances Moreno has returned to school after an absence of a year because of a serious illness. She says that she is surely glad to be back, and speaking for everybody, we are surely glad to have her back.

Hold Jam Session

Allan Harris and Charles Worthen were overheard having a jam session in the band hall. Too much can't be said about the quality of the music, though.

Fall is here—Fall clothes are here at least. Most of the girls can be seen wearing wool, jersey or corduroy.

The candy machine really has gone over big. At noon and after school a big crowd can always be found in line. Surely do hope everybody will follow the few rules so we can keep it.

At the "request" of some seniors Ruth McIntire, Kay Colwick, Joan Lipscomb, Virginia Wilkinson, Neil Sutton, Sharon Harrell, Helen Zant, and Pat Curran appeared at the football field with rakes and hoes to clean up the stickers from the track where the cheerleaders are. This was done very willingly. Congratulations to them on their "good freshmen attitude" toward upper classmen.

Many bedraggled students were seen around MHS Monday after the big week-end in Juarez (I mean El Paso). Almost everyone who went down stayed at the same tourist court and it was no hours in the morning before everyone fell into slumber for two or three hours. It was a long, hard trip but I believe everyone had a good time.

Some of the persons I saw down there beside the football team, the cheerleaders, the coaches and their wives were: Diane Daugherty, Peggy Simmons, Madelon Schabrum, Mary Ann McRee, Pat Douglas, Mark McKinsey, Jim Ervin, Stanley Krist, John Zant, Gary Throckmorton, Dianne Anderson, Nancy Robert, Neil Curran, Ann Ashby, Tom McNulty, Dianne McDonald, Betty Bolton, Dorothy Black, Carolyn Parrish, Gail Black, Nancy Cooper, James Weathered, Wade Feemster, Leon Measures, Don Sutton, Jo Dean Lowning, Shirley Pulliam, Glenda McNeal, Grace Boles, Mary Jane Miller, Joe Brodigan, Robert Price, B. A. Baker, Wayne Cuthbert and Charles Hendricks.

I saw several of the "exes" at the Ysleta game. These students are attending Texas Western University in El Paso: Bobbie Collins, and Barbara Van Landingham who won $200 art scholarships, Jack Burris, Jerry Culp, W. H. Black, Dwayne Bush, Asa Bland and Bob Burks.

AUSSIE ARMY STRENGTH

CANBERRA—(AP)—The full-time strength of the Australian Army now is 20,600. The army minister said the full-time personnel total was made up of 17,612 service men on the Australian mainland and 3,011 in the BOOP in Japan, and the 3rd Battalion in Korea. The Korean force totals 1,145.

School Cafeterias Serve More Than 3,000 Persons Daily

How would you like to wash dishes for a family that uses 3,000 forks at a meal? Or would you rather try drying 3,000 plates at one time? Well, this is just one part of the work involved in serving lunch to Midland school children each day.

Last year 2,175 students were served lunch daily. But with new cafeteria at De Zavala and Sam Houston and an increased enrollment in the entire school system, more than 50 per cent more children are using the cafeteria than in 1950-1951. Seven new cooks have been added to the 28 employed last year.

Mrs. Edith Wilson, cafeteria supervisor, can make the housewife's weekly shopping tour seem small. In a typical day she buys 3,600 half-pints of milk, 1,000 pounds of potatoes, 721 pounds of chicken, 318 heads of lettuce, and five lugs of tomatoes. Add to this the supplies needed to bake 4,670 rolls for one day, and you have quite a grocery bill.

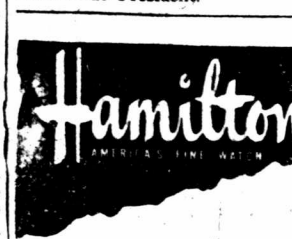

Any housewife who has ever tried to stretch a family meal to feed several unexpected guests can appreciate a major problem of cafeteria employees. Each morning they try to get a definite count. But when the count fluctuates from checking period to serving time, the cafeteria supervisor has to be able to anticipate the increase or decrease in order to keep costs in mind.

Band Position Tryouts Held

During the last two weeks the band members have been playing tryouts to rate their positions in the different instrumental sections of the band. The individual players are rated on their tone quality and ability to play six of the more common scales and scale exercises in the keys of C, F, B, E, A, and D. If a player wishes to advance further after the tryouts, he may challenge any other player in his section for a higher chair. He first must turn in a slip to the director, who notifies the other player, and the challenge is played a week later.

The band officers had their first meeting September 18. The chief duty of the officers is to help Director Ralph Mills with discipline problems in the band, although he says he has found very few. Other business included the decision that the captain and the lieutenants will receive bars to wear on their shoulders and the sergeants will receive stripes to wear on their sleeves. Also, anyone wishing to join the band may contact Mr. Mills, who says seventy-five new members are needed.

The Band Aides had their first meeting September 13, 1951 in the form of a get-acquainted gathering with Cokes and cookies for refreshments. Mr. Charles Neely is the Band Aide President.

quarry, a water system, club house area and picnic grounds.

Full Grass Program

There are nine miles of seven-inch pipe in the water system, which covers the entire area. The course has its own water tower. The fairways and greens were planted to ryegrass to hold the soil during the earlier part of this year. Bermuda will replace the temporary ryegrass and a complete turf program recommended by turf experts. Doctors Fred Grau and James R. Watson, who visited here in March of this year is being applied. Grau is with the greens section of the U.S.G.A. Watson is at A&M College and is president of the Texas Turf Association.

The grass program includes plans for Kentucky Blue Grass in cold seasons and Bermuda in hot seasons. The greens will have Bent Grass Bermuda on top and are based with rich soil and peat moss—a fine seed bed.

There is scientific drainage of the greens and the water and fertilization programs are rigidly followed.

The North Course has 48 holes and carries a par 72. Yardage distance around the course is 7,353 yards using the Red tee markers.

Jay Floyd and Fred Hogan of the MCC's greens committee have been active in seeing to it that the course is one of the best in the nation.

Anniversary Party Slated For Texas Frontier Post

PORT BELKNAP, TEXAS—(AP)—It's a pity the salty old general for which this important Texas frontier outpost was named can't come back for its 100th anniversary party November 3.

Or maybe it isn't. The shock would put him back in his grave. Not that General William Goldsmith Belknap wasn't as stout-hearted as they come. He was. It is just that he was so wrong about this country of fertile farms, peach-pear orchards, fields of wheat and alfalfa, oil derricks and prosperous communities.

The general himself wrote a piece on what the country might be like in a hundred years.

It is the most western point that a fort can be established where timber and other material necessary in the construction of barracks can be found; and west of which, on account of the scarcity of timber and water, it is not probable that white settlements will be made for a century to come, if ever.

Nonetheless, General Belknap gave his life to establishing this stone fortress on Red Fork of the Brazos River. It has been termed "probably the most important federal fort of its day."

One Of Chaim

Fort Belknap was one of a chain of outposts Texas in 1848 asked the United States to build from the Red River to the Rio Grande. It was a way station on the butterfly route from Missouri to California.

In May, 1851, Belknap and Captain Randolph B. Marcy, his guide, decided on the site. They left Captain Carter Littlepage Stevenson to dig a well and clear the site.

But Stevenson's 5th Infantry troops dug to 60 feet and found no water.

So General Belknap returned and picked another site two miles below the original point. On Nov. 3, 1851, General Persifer Frazer Smith, commander of the eighth military district, met General Belknap there and ordered the fort started.

Belknap Dies
General Belknap, ailing at the time, died before he reached Fort Washita in the Indian territory, 180 miles distant.

Gov. Allan Shivers will speak at the fort's 100th birthday party, which will be sponsored by the Fort Belknap society, headed by former state Sen. Ben O. Oneal of Wichita Falls, president.

Former Gov. James V. Allred, now a federal judge, will be on hand. He was governor when Fort Belknap's restoration began in 1936, as part of the Texas Centennial celebration. It is one of the most beautiful forts in the Southwest.

Fort Belknap at one time boasted some 300 officers and men, with a thriving town built around it. At outbreak of the Civil War, federal troops evacuated the fort. During the war it was occupied by some Confederate companies and Texas Rangers.

Federal troops were stationed again at Fort Belknap a short time in 1867, but the buildings had become so dilapidated that it was decided to abandon the post permanently.

The old fort remained in silence and desolation until 1936.

Average Cup Of Tea Seen As 'Felony'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—"If the great American tragedy today is the average cup of restaurant coffee, pray tell what is the average cup of restaurant tea?"

This query came from a lady fond of the brew that cheers but not inebriates—which, by the way, is tea.

And I feel I can give an authoritative answer. The average cup of restaurant tea isn't tea at all. It is a felony perforce, a high crime against two of the noblest beverages of history—honest water, honest tea.

It is a far worse thing to serve a bad cup of tea than it is a bad cup of coffee, because it wounds the recipient more grievously.

Coffee drinkers are hearty, durable, down-to-earth people able to stand the shocks and disappointments of life. But your true tea lover is a finer, more sensitive soul, easily depressed by harsh realities.

Important Factor
I don't say this altogether just because I am a tea lover myself, although naturally that's a factor.

The poets and writers of the past have "thanked" for tea. "Thank God for tea!" cried Sydney Smith. "What would the world do without tea?" I am glad I was not born before tea!

Emerson observed "there is a great deal of poetry and fine sentiment in a chest of tea."

Edmund Waller spoke of tea as "the muse's friend." And Thomas De Quincey wrote:

"Tea, though ridiculed by those who are naturally coarse in their nervous sensibilities... will always be the favorite beverage of the intellectual."

Editor's note: Is that the same guy who wrote "Confessions of an English Opium-Eater?"

(Boyle's note: Yes, he went on to opium from restaurant tea.)

Tea drinking is a highly esoteric art; it can become a cult. But it is basically as simple as putting tea leaves in boiling water. You can add a lot of refinement, but if you simply do that you'll get an acceptable drink.

The trouble with restaurant tea boils down to this: the average restaurant simply seems unable to boil water.

The waitress drops a checkered cloth sack containing five assorted tea leaves into a small piece of covered crockery supposedly containing boiling water. Anxiously you wait a moment, sorrowfully you pour, desperately you taste. It is as tepid as a Victorian love scene, as flavorless as melted snow. You couldn't even put peppermint in it and palm it off as a gargle.

I have seen grown-up tea drinkers put their faces down on their arms and cry when dished up this insult to their favorite beverage.

The reason American poetry has declined probably is the fact young poets no longer know where to get good tea.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Foy Proctor, prominent Midland cattleman who has extensive ranch holdings in this section of West Texas and in Arizona, has sold more than 2,200 head of cows within the last few weeks, he reported Friday. Fourteen hundred head of the cows were sold late last week.

Sale of the cows to various buyers comprise one of the largest cow deals reported in this section in recent years. Deliveries have been underway the last week or 10 days and will continue this week.

Of the 1,400 cows sold last week, 400 head went to Jess Harper of Kansas; 400 head to Broadie and Davis of Ashland, Kan.; and 600 head to A. E. Smith of Tribune, Kan.

Proctor previously had sold 200 cows to Young Sewell of Texline; 507 head to Bob Crowder of Phoenix, Ariz., and 180 head to various other buyers.

From Figure 6 Herd
The cows, the Midland rancher said, mostly are from his Figure 6 herd. All are good cattle and in good condition. None of his famed C-Ranch cows were included in the deals.

About 500 head of the animals were from Proctor's Bryant place, south of Midland, and the remainder from his Nail and NA ranches northeast of Midland.

Proctor said drought conditions partly were responsible for disposing of the cows, but that he had planned to sell them for sometime in order to make more room for his C-Ranch herd.

Leonard Proctor, one of the area's largest sheep ranchers, also has figured in some big sheep sales recently. Leonard is a brother of Foy Proctor.

Leonard, during recent weeks, has sold 4,500 head of older ewes to Johnny Martin of San Angelo, Roy Barton of Brady and to several other buyers. During August, he sold 2,000 head of younger ewes to Kansas buyers. The ewes have been delivered. They were from his extensive ranch holding southeast of Midland.

To Deliver Lambs
This week, Proctor will deliver about 4,000 lambs, which he previously had contracted to sell.

The sheepman says it is more than "dry" over his ranch country, and with cold weather coming on, the situation fast is becoming critical.

The Proctor brothers, incidentally, have established private offices, their first, in the First National Bank Building. The offices adjoin those of J. Homer Epley. Both Leonard and Foy Proctor are past presidents of Midland Fair, Inc., and Epley is a former secretary-treasurer.

The market at the Midland Livestock Auction Company sale Thursday was uneven and weaker in spots, especially on most classes of stocker cattle. Drought area cattle accounted for most of the run of 1,780 head. Ten carloads of mixed stockers went to an Arlington, Arizona, buyer.

Pat calves and yearlings brought $27 to $33, mediums $25 to $27, commons $17 to $25. Pat cows cleared at $23 to $25, mediums $21 to $23, canners and cutters $14 to $21, shelly kinds lower. Bulls brought $74 to $28.

Stocker steer calves sold for $33 to $40, heifer calves $31 to $38. Stocker steer yearlings went at $28 to $34, heifer yearlings $26.50 to $29, stocker cows $18.50 to $22.

Bush Elkin has planted 18 acres of permanent pasture on his place near Midland. He plans to use it next year in the production of beef cattle.

Elkin, by the way, is a former chemist at Los Alamos, N.M. He returned to the farm recently, and apparently is enjoying his first irrigation farming.

Permanent pastures are becoming more and more popular in the irrigated sections of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, according to Soil Conservation Service experts.

Tom Glenn of Tarzan has planted five acres to a permanent mixture of Harding grass, Smooth Bromegrass, Perennial Ryegrass, Kentucky Fescue and Orchard grass. These grasses will provide grazing from early Spring to late Fall.

Kelley Adds Alfalfa
Owen Kelley last week seeded eight acres of the same mixture, except that he added two pounds of alfalfa per acre.

LeRoy Mattingly, also of Tarzan, plans to plant some Sucomunga Bromegrass, which is expected to make a good winter cover crop for the irrigated sections of this area.

Slime O'Neil, Mattingly, Ocie Smith and O. C. Collins are making some trial plantings of Crimson Clover. This is a hard seeded variety which can be used for cool season grazing, cover crop and hay, the Soil Conservation Service boys said.

Well, this rain or rather lack of rain situation is something—something disastrous, that is.

DSQ again is down, but not out as a weather forecaster, rain-maker or what have you.

This column, you will recall, got out on another limb about two or three weeks ago by predicting general rains over West Texas by the first of October. Well, it will have to hurry or else DSQ again will have that limb sawed off in the wrong place.

But this column doesn't feel it is completely wrong in the forecast—just a bit premature. That moisture is bound to come yet. So for the moment, we still haven't given up hopes. We merely request a 15-day extension. Thanks.

A couple of Abilene men have sold their prize Quarter Horse stallion, Red Beaver, to Volney Hildreth of Abilene for $2,500. The sellers are Doc Boklin and Phil Ford who acquired the horse from the King Ranch several years ago.

Approximately equal yields of cotton were obtained under irrigation by planting two rows and skipping one and by planting each row, according to D. L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station.

Little difference in yields were observed between the two practices in tests conducted under irrigation at Lubbock during the three years 1948-50. Where each row was planted, an average of 382 pounds of lint per acre was obtained, while 370 pounds of lint was obtained from planting two rows and skipping one. During the two dry years of 1948 and 1950, the practice of allowing every third row to remain blank returned greater yields.

In tests conducted under dryland conditions during the four years 1929-32, the practice of planting each row gave an average of 23 per cent higher yields. These results were obtained where the "plant two-skip one" plots had two-thirds as many plants as where each row was planted. Jones points out that planting each row hastens maturity as compared to planting and skipping one.

The practice of allowing each third row to remain unplanted, on the average, retards maturity except where the number of plants are equal on an acre basis, reduces harvest time, presents a weed management problem in the blank row, and is not easily adapted to four-row equipment.

Livestock, like humans are suffering from the effects of the dry weather and intense heat that gripped most of the state during the summer. The effects may be both current and longtime, says U. D. Thomason, assistant extension animal husbandman of Texas A&M College, unless livestock producers supply their animals with supplemental feed.

It is Thomason's opinion that next year's crop of beef calves may be reduced in numbers as well as quality, for the mother cows are not getting enough feed to produce a high percentage of calves next year. He says cows not only are going hungry but that they are not getting the feeds they need to maintain their own bodies and deliver a calf next Spring. The payoff in the cattle business depends largely upon the calf crop and no crop just simply means no pay-off and less meat for the American table.

Premiums offered for the 1952 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show amount to $153,000, the largest in the history of the Fort Worth show, officials announce. This figure represents an increase of approximately $7,000 over the preceding year, which was the previous all-time high.

Livestock at the Fort Worth exposition (January 25 through February 3) will compete for $103,000, which includes approximately $15,000 for the horse show. The chief increases are:

Polled Herefords (breeding), raised to $5,000 from $2,000.

Dairy cattle, advanced to $5,637 from $3,958, due to the addition of Holsteins.

Junior dairy calves, hiked to $2,000 from $635.

Premiums for carload-and-pen bulls have been raised to $6,335, an increase of $335. Other premiums include: Herefords (breeding) $13,800; Shorthorns (breeding) $6,000; Aberdeen-Angus (breeding) $7,580; Brahmans (breeding) $2,000; open steer show $5,045; sheep and goats $4,245; swine $9,870; boys' steers $3,187; boys' lambs $1,128; boys' pigs $2,040; negro boys' pig show $645; poultry, turkeys and rabbits $2,000; livestock judging contests $1,500.

Dairy show awards are: Jerseys $2,279; Guernseys $1,679 and Holsteins $1,679.

The total of $153,000 in premiums includes the amount which contestants will receive in the world's greatest indoor rodeo, in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

Closing dates for entries are: Livestock, December 10; horses, January 4; poultry, turkeys and rabbits, January 12.

A dollar investment that tops them all

Every well managed investment portfolio includes a substantial proportion of debt securities—obligations to pay a definite number of dollars, with a definite amount of interest, by a definite date. Such securities form the cornerstone of a sound investment program, for like life insurance and savings accounts, their value in dollars stays fixed and certain.

United States Defense Bonds are the highest type of all debt securities, for behind them are the full faith and credit of the United States. Today they have an added attraction in that Series E Bonds need no longer be redeemed at their original ten year maturity, but may continue to bear interest at a fixed rate for an additional ten years.

United States Defense Bonds are more than a profitable dollar investment. They offer an important way to help your country at the same time you help yourself.

Proper Frame Of Mind Essential In House Remodeling

There is something the home-maker can do to weather an Autumn house-remodeling season, enthusiastically arranged by the man of the house (who isn't home all day to put up with it).

First of all, she should get in the proper frame of mind for the period when her home will be invaded by strange men in overalls, and try to look on the bright side. It may be difficult, but housewives who have been through it swear that thinking beyond the clutter to the years she will enjoy her modernized bathroom and kitchen, the new dining room, or the picture windows, will help a great deal to endure the pounding of hammers.

One rule to follow is to let the workmen have elbow room and no interference. While they are tearing down and building up, the home-maker can be in a cloistered corner of her own reading nook, making shopping lists of accessories, and drawing plans for furniture arrangements. Then, when the carpenters leave, the family can pitch into the final details.

Here are some other tricks to make life easier during remodeling: clear the room to be modernized of everything breakable and movable (with the possible exception of the grand piano); close off rooms not being remodeled, to protect them from dust seepage; tape paper across wash basins, sinks and lavatories while putty files to prevent drain-clogging; and organize the family into a reasonably philosophical group, prepared to live under temporarily upset conditions.

Ideas For Storage Cited By Experts

If there's a clutter, there'll be a sputter. With ample storage space, there will be neither. An orderly home is the one in which there is a place for everything, and everything is in place. Most important, of course, is having a place for things.

Here is a checklist of storage possibilities. See which fit into your home and needs, and then file your "order" with the handyman of your house. With ordinary materials and common carpentry tools, any of these projects can be built economically for lasting use.

1. An extra closet under the stairway.

2. A linen closet in a room corner.

3. A wardrobe in a bedroom or attic.

4. In the garage, a corner cabinet for garden tools.

Shed For Bicycles

5. A shed for bicycles. This could be a lean-to back of the garage.

6. For all those extra shoes which are worn only occasionally, a rack inside the closet wall or door.

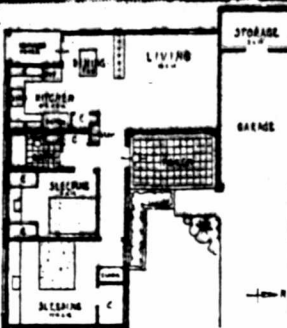

7. For canning supplies and seldom-used dishes, a wall cabinet high and out of the way.

Any of these may be constructed by simply framing the available space with lumber of the proper size and covering it with tough, splinterless panels of hardboards.

A storage battery, developed particularly for the telephone industry, has 50 per cent longer life than present batteries due to the use of calcium, instead of antimony, as a hardener in the battery lead.

LOW COST HOUSE—This compact, livable house, which can be built on a 50-foot lot, provides about 800 square feet of floor space and is designed for low initial cost and low maintenance. Brick veneer side walls and asphalt shingle roof are recommended. The floor plan of this two-bedroom house shows convenient arrangement, particularly of the kitchen, dining and living areas.

House Repairs Should Be Made During Fall Months

Winter may seem a long way off, but the days and weeks slip by so rapidly it really isn't a bit too soon to begin preparing your home for cold, stormy weather.

Inspection should be made even though the house seems to be in good condition, because there may be hidden structural defects which otherwise might not be discovered before an emergency arises. Any repairs to the exterior should be completed in mild temperatures. The job becomes more difficult and the results may be less satisfactory if delayed until the weather becomes cold and unpleasant.

Check the house from the roof to the heating plant in the basement. If the roof has given many years of service, this may be the time to recover it. There is danger, even though no leak has been detected, that old and weather-worn roofing material will give way under the battering of high winds and rain, sleet and snow.

Minimum Expense

Normally, a new roof isn't expensive. For example, asphalt shingles usually can be laid over the present roof, saving the expense and inconvenience of removing the old roofing material. Re-roofing can become costly, however, through continued neglect.

Water, seeping into the house, may damage paper and paint on interior walls and ceilings. There is danger also that continued soaking of the roof boards over a long period will cause rotting of the roof deck and framing. That is why the best time to replace an old roof is before the first leak occurs.

Be sure to clean leaves, twigs and other debris from roof gutters and downspouts.

Doors and window frames also should be inspected to make certain they are snug-fitting and weather-tight.

Farmers In Vernon Area Grow Record Castor Bean Crop

VERNON—(AP)—Here's bad news for little boys.

Farmers near thin Nough Texas cotton and wheat center are growing a bumper crop of castor-oil beans this year.

It's good news for farmers here and in neighboring Oklahoma counties. They expect to stuff more than $2,000,000 into their blue jeans this fall when they sell their castor beans.

The present incentive for castor bean production is military stockpiling. Castor oil is used in manufacturing a special grease for jet airplanes. Its lubricating properties are constant in burning heat or at high altitude, sub-zero temperatures. Castor oil has another military use in plastics made for lightweight electrical insulation.

This Texas area has about 15,000 acres in castor beans—almost one-third of the nation's total this year. Most of it is a contract crop for the Baker Castor Bean Corporation.

In addition, the firm has about 12,000 acres of castor beans under contract cultivation across the Red River near Altus, Okla.

The company also contracts castor beans in the Panhandle near Wellington and Hereford. There are plantings of an additional 11,500 acres of beans in 14 counties south of here in the Brownwood area.

About Two-Thirds
The combined Vernon-Brownwood-Altus regions will produce about two-thirds of the U. S. domestic castor bean crop this year.

One of the leading producers in the Vernon area is Ira Turner who farms near Chillicothe, south of here. He gave up cotton and wheat and planted castor beans on his 300 acres.

The bean plants resemble cotton and can be cared for with cotton equipment. But they are easier to grow.

After a few early cultivations, Turner lets his cows graze between the rows to keep down weeds and grass. His cattle are smart enough to ignore castor beans and plants.

The beans are toxic to animals. Castor beans form in clusters on branches called "spikes." Hand harvesting of the summer crop is underway. Only the top, mature beans are picked the first time over the field.

Sometime after frost, beans on the lower and middle spikes will be harvested by machine. The commodity credit corporation will rent tractor-powered strippers developed by the Oklahoma A&M college extension Service. Since the strippers clean the field, they cannot be used on the early crop at the top of the stalks.

A new cinnamon variety of castor bean is becoming a favorite with farmers. The dwarf plants harvest easier by machine than the taller Connor variety.

R. H. Nelson of Brownwood, director of the commodity credit corporation castor bean program in Texas, said the government is asking farmers to plant 200,000 acres of castor beans next year. It recommends about 150,000 acres for

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—How should interior woodwork be prepared for finishing with gloss enamel?

A—Apply two or more undercoats that dry without gloss. Flat wall paint can be used.

Q—Is veneer furniture a substitute of inferior quality?

A—No. On the contrary, the art of plywood and veneer fabrication has been practiced by master craftsmen down through the ages and, far from being a substitute, veneers offer decided advantages in making high quality furniture. By no other means would it be possible to use some of the rare and costly woods or to achieve the exquisite effects characteristic of face veneers. Because of the method of cutting veneers, sheet after sheet comes from the log virtually identical in grain and the figures can be matched to produce symmetrical designs in an almost unlimited variety of patterns. Hardwood veneer furniture is resistant to splitting and warping.

Q—What can be done to prevent dresser drawers from sticking?

A—Seal all surfaces with shellac or a sealer. This should be done during a dry period when the wood is shrunken. Then rub the bottom edges and running surfaces with paraffin.

dry-land areas common to north-west Texas.

Castor beans also thrive under irrigation. Some are being grown in Pecos and Reeves Counties in West Texas.

T. L. McBride, Wilbarger County production and marketing administrator here, estimated the average yield at 800 pounds to the acre. Some sub-irrigated sections may produce 1,400 pounds to the acre.

FITTING BRACES—At the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children, the fitting of braces and their manufacture, combined with an integrated program of physical medicine and rehabilitation, enable many youngsters to walk again after the crippling effects of polio. A fund-raising campaign now is under way to expand the treatment facilities at the Texas hospital. Paul Davis is chairman of the Mid-County campaign.

Jacome Coaching Latin American Football Teams

Eddie Jacome, Midland baseball pitcher who won 29 games during the last season, has joined the staff of the Latin American Youth Center and has a six-man football league. Jacome is a former Arizona all-state gridder.

Future activities which are being lined up at the Youth Center include plans for formation of a volleyball league for girls. All Latin American girls are invited to participate in this program.

An agency of the Community Chest, the Latin American YC is open from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Ray Protzman, director of the Center, said the building is now in the process of being redecorated, including the addition of a lounge.

Latin American youths who visit the YC may engage in leathercraft, beadcraft, metal tooling; may see a movie once a week; play ping pong and other table games, or enjoy square dancing when it is resumed.

A Junior board of directors, composed of four boys and four girls, will be named next week to assist in developing the program at the center.

Rankin News

RANKIN—W. S. Ellis of Los Angeles, Calif., was in Rankin last week attending to real estate interests here.

Johnnie Anderson of Houston and E. A. Limmer of Midland visited in the M. J. Edwards and Joe T. McCormick homes here recently. Both are Shell Oil Company employees and have visited here frequently.

Miss Anderson was transferred to the Houston office last Spring. Mrs. Dick Koerting has returned to her home in Kansas after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hill. Koerting also visited here recently in the Hill home.

The Rankin Rebekah Lodge will observe the anniversaries of Odd Fellow and Rebekah with an appropriate program at their regular meeting October 8. Mrs. Pauline Dietz, deputy, will conduct a school of instruction at the meeting.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rains, Upton County treasurer, has returned from Austin where she attended the County Treasurers Association of Texas third annual convention.

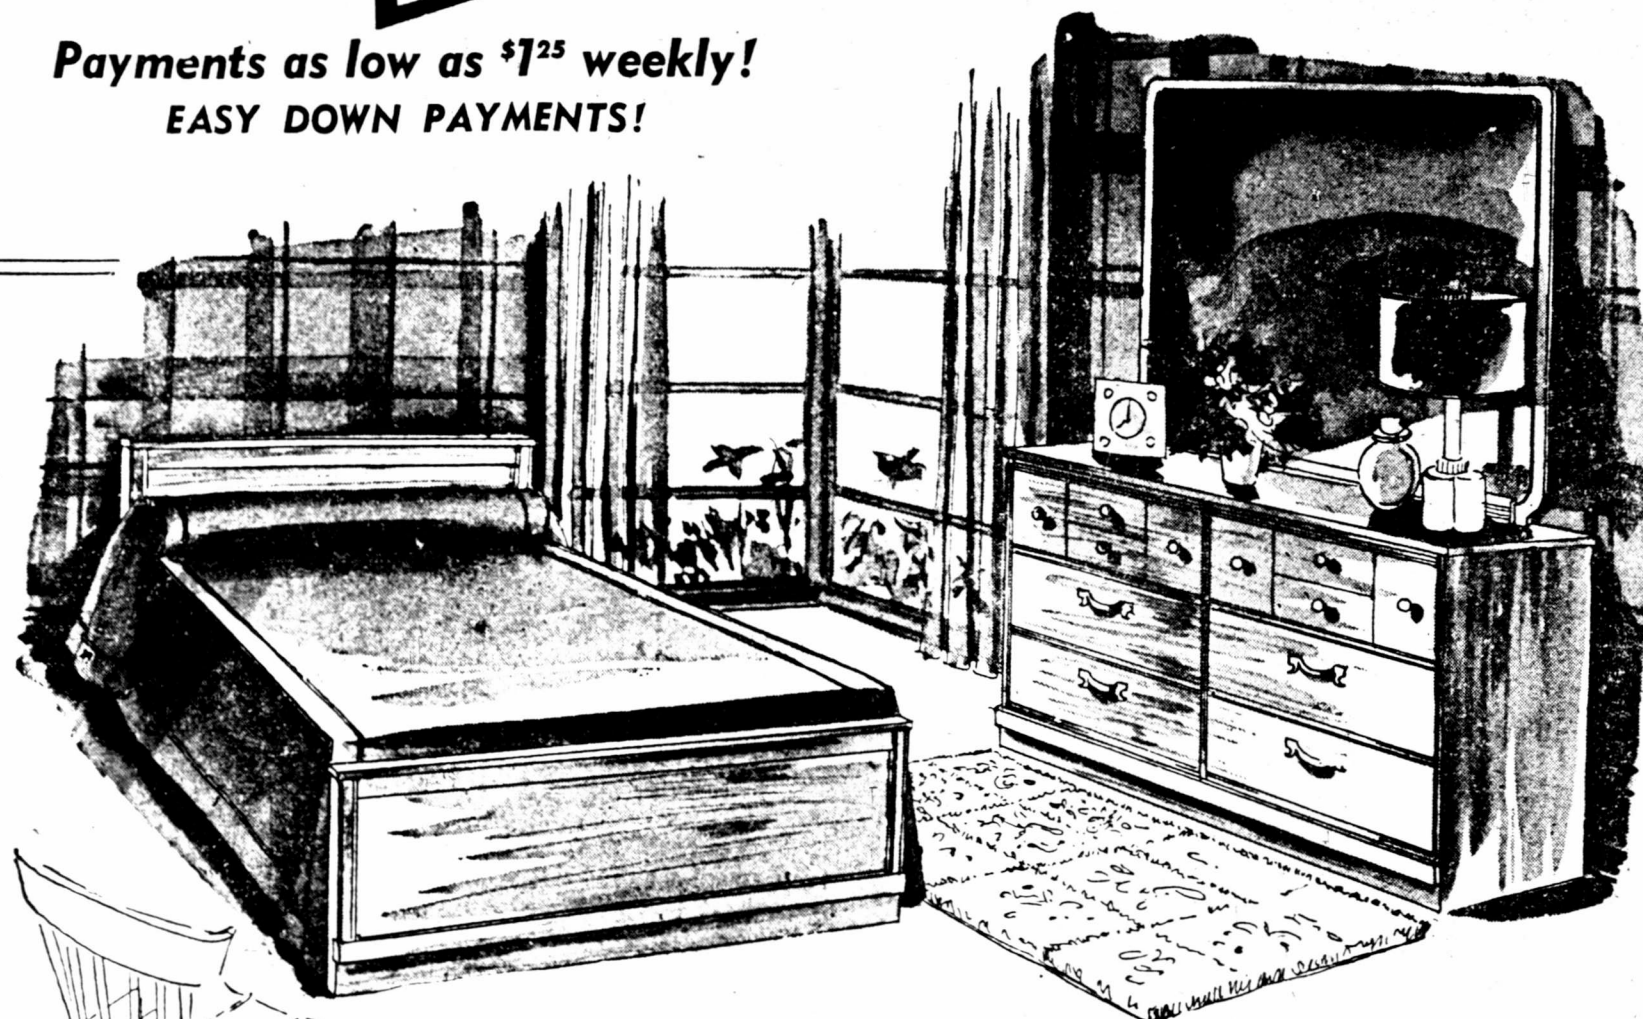

INDIAN BOOTLEGGERS

Among the first bootleggers were the Tuscarora Indians, of North Carolina, who carried forbidden rum to tribes of the interior, and sold it by the mouthful. The purchaser chose the tribesman with the biggest mouth as his scale, with the rum being spewed into a bowl brought along as a receptacle.
