Dog Lover Loyalty

A real dog lover would like to find the real owner of a border collie, apparently injured on the Lamesa highway about four months ago.

Mrs. Mamie Stotts of Big Spring has been driving back and forth to Knott to take care of a sick brother. She noticed the injured dog lying in a field about a quarter mile north of the Fairview store back in November.

She went to the store and got dogfood and a pan for water. She said at that time, the dog seemed weak and hurt. "But I couldn't get him to go with me," Mrs. Stotts stated.

She began to drive by daily and feed the dog that became stronger and stronger. "But he never has come up to me even though he wags his tail and races around when he sees my car turn up that road."

"The property owner stopped somebody from shooting the dog, because I had fed and cared for it all winter.

"A dog expert said that the collie is apparently waiting for his master to return because that is the last place he saw him. I wish the master would return. I never saw such loyalty."

But then others might say that the loyalty of the dog lover has surpassed even the loyalty of the dog. Anyone who has lost such a dog, call Mrs. Stotts at 7-2172 and she will take you to the collie.

Newsman Says He Was Joking

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — CBS newsman Walter Cronkite says he was joking Saturday when he replied to a newsman's query that someday he might interview President Nixon at "San Clemente or San Quentin."

Cronkite, who spoke at his alma mater, the University of Texas and received a School of Communication award from Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, was talking informally to newsmen afterwards when he made the remark.

He said there certainly were no political overtones meant by the remark.

BULLETIN

HILLSBROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Catherine Hearst, mother of kidnaped coed Patricia Hearst, said, Saturday night a San Francisco radio station received a taped communication believed to be from the abductors of her 20-year-old daughter.

The tape, about a half hour long, was extremely difficult to understand.

An unidentified woman spoke on the tape for about 15 minutes, and then a voice believed by listeners to be that of Miss Hearst talked for about 10 minutes.

Hunt Three Kidnapers, Four Teens In Custody

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — The FBI said Saturday it was searching for at least three more suspects in the kidnaping of 8-year-old John Calzadilla. Four young men already were being held in the case.

Arrested in the kidnaping were Norberto M. Fernandez, 17; his brother, Eligio, 19; Ricardo R. Tuero, 17, and Wilfredo Alvarez, 18, all of Union City. The FBI said they were charged with violating federal kidnaping statutes.

NATIVES OF CUBA

The report on additional suspects came from J. Wallace LaPrade, special agent in charge of the FBI in Newark.

LaPrade said the four arrested men and the boy's parents are natives of Cuba, but he discounted any political motives for the abduction.

"This appears to be a kidnaping for ransom," LaPrade said at a news conference Saturday. The $50,000 ransom paid by the boy's father has not been recovered.

Authorities said the Calzadilla boy was lured into a car as he walked home from school Wednesday by two men and a woman. They said the woman told him his grandmother was ill and she would take him to the hospital. The boy was released Friday.

RUNS TAVERN

LaPrade said the breakthrough in the investigation came when the suspects' hiding place was found after the boy's release.

Bruce Stadler a building superintendent in Union City, said Norberto Fernandez had rented a room from him two weeks ago.

Standler, who runs a tavern in the building, said he believes the boy was kept in the room. He said the FBI had found a sneaker print left by the youngster on the premises, and that he himself had seen a red-headed woman with whom Alvarez reportedly had been living and at least two older Spanish people visiting the building.

Standler said he had given the information to the FBI, which declined comment.

The Calzadilla boy, son of a tire executive from Dix Hills, N.Y., was kidnaped near his home on Wednesday and released unharmed on the New Jersey Turnpike in Secaucus early Friday morning, after the ransom had been left at a drop in nearby North Bergen.

The arrests came shortly after President Nixon asked for reinstatement of the death penalty in kidnaping cases where the victim is killed. After consulting with the President, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe urged Congress and state legislatures to reinstate the death penalty.

$300,000 BAIL

The Fernandez brothers pleaded innocent Saturday at their arraignment here before U.S. Magistrate Bruce F. Banta, who set bail at $300,000 for Eligio and $250,000 for Norberto. The pair was returned to the Bergen County Jail at the request of U.S. marshals, the county sheriff said.

Tuero and Alvarez pleaded innocent at their arraignment Saturday afternoon and were also taken to the Bergen County Jail. Bail for each was set at $250,000.

The Fernandez brothers were generally quiet during the arraignment in the private law office of Magistrate Banta. They were accompanied by their father, who spoke only Spanish.

UNEMPLOYED

Police said that at the time of the kidnap, Eligio Fernandez was free on $35,000 bail in the armed robbery last October of a liquor store in West New York.

Eligio works as a machine operator for the Maryland Dye Co., and Norberto is unemployed.

Police in Union City said all four of the suspects had been picked up in previous years on an assortment of juvenile offenses.

The Fernandez brothers live with their parents and a sister in a two-family house in the heart of a predominantly Cuban area of Union City.

Alvarez, who works as a mechanic for the Omar Trucking Co., lived with his mother and Tuero in an apartment not far from the Fernandez residence. His employer described him as a "quiet person" and said he always paid his rent and never got into trouble.

Three Former Presidential Confidants Plead Innocent

WASHINGTON (AP) — H.R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and John N. Mitchell, once President Nixon's chief aides and confidants, stood before a federal judge Saturday and pleaded innocent to charges they conspired to cover-up the Watergate affair.

They entered their innocent pleas in a closely guarded courtroom along with Charles W. Colson, Robert C. Mardian, Kenneth W. Parkinson and Gordon Strachan, all former White House or Nixon-re-election committee employes.

SIX FELONY COUNTS

Ehrlichman and Colson also pleaded innocent to charges leveled by another grand jury—that they violated the rights of a California psychiatrist by sending burglars into his office.

The proceeding before Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica lasted only six minutes.

"As I call your name please state to the court how you plead to the charges," said the clerk, James Capitanio, as the seven men and their lawyers stood before the bench.

Mitchell, charged with six felony counts in the indictment, was first in the unprecedented rollcall.

"Not guilty to all counts," said the former attorney general, here from New York where he is on trial with former Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans on allegations that he traded a favor for a campaign contribution.

'NOT GUILTY'

Then Haldeman. "Not guilty on all counts."

Then Ehrlichman. "Not guilty on all counts."

Then Colson, Mardian, Parkinson and Strachan. "Not guilty."

Even in their arraignment, the men were given VIP status. None had to fill out the customary probation forms or undergo fingerprinting —the usual procedure. None had to post bond to remain free.

Their trial is scheduled for Sept. 9, six months to the day. Sirica will preside.

If there was strain in the reunion of one-time associates—in the same courtroom where the Watergate burglars stood trial 14 months ago—it didn't show.

Mitchell shook hands with special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski, under whose leadership the charges were brought.

"John, How are you. Good to see you again," Jaworski said.

"Are you in good health?" Mitchell asked. "Fairly well," said the prosecutor and moved off.

As the others arrived, they shook hands all around and stood in clusters, talking. The seven men were represented by 10 lawyers at the proceeding.

Williams, right, leaves the federal court building in Atlanta with her sister, Catherine Bostic, after being released on bond in connection with the abduction of Atlanta Constitution Editor Reg Murphy. Fad For Dashing Nude Continues

By The Associated Press

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson laughed. Walter Cronkite blushed. And the streaker was dragged out the door.

It all happened Saturday at the LBJ Library Auditorium in Austin, Tex., as the fad for dashing about nude continued with no end in sight.

"It beats football rallies," said one young woman who shed her clothes as she strolled down a street near San Jose State College in California.

The incident at the library came as Cronkite—a CBS newsman and former student at the University of Texas—was accepting the School of Communication's DeWitt C. Reddick Award for outstanding achievement.

The nude man, wearing only tennis shoes, an orange baseball cap and a home-made cloth mask, entered through a side door, about 12 feet from the speaker's platform, but didn't get very far. Two security men pounced on him and dragged him away.

A witness said the widow of the late President laughed at the incident. Cronkite resumed his speech, chuckled, then commented:

"My composure was destroyed ... And me without a CBS camera."

Forced Landing At Webb Base

A Texas International plane flying in from Brownwood at 2:20 p.m. Friday developed hydraulic trouble and was forced to land at Webb Air Force Base rather than at the county airport, due to the longer runways.

Deputy Bill Whitten was on duty at the airport and reported that the airlines apparently planned to fly in either a crew or another plane from Midland to continue the flight.

A Texas International plane was seen leaving Webb Saturday morning. An attendant at the airport for Texas International refused to comment saying that all information must come from their public relations office in Houston, which was closed for the weekend. However, he admitted he was out at Webb Friday afternoon after the plane landed at that airport.

Two Webb airmen were in the local "cooler" cooling their heels (among other things) after being arrested for streaking around Denny's Parking lot in the early morning hours Saturday.

Charged with indecent exposure were Paul Arms and Byron Michel. Their bonds were set at $200. Somebody brought them shorts to wear in the jail.

Local officers maintained that "since it wasn't on the college campus but at a public restaurant, it ceased to be streaking and became indecent exposure."

Reviewing the . . .

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

Weather during the past week has been so balmy and generally great — why we even smelled moisture one morning — that you almost hold your breath waiting for it to change. Temperatures last Sunday hit a record of 90 for a March 3, and everywhere evidence of unseasonably warm weather popped out. Seldom have the redbud been more beautiful, and they are backed by apricot, plum and peach, along with jonquils and forsythia. No telling what would happen with a rain. But all things considered, we're still a month away from danger of a freeze.

In some quarters, Spring seems to have touched off a wave of "streaking," but here, it loosened a flood of candidates for the Big Spring school board. When the deadline fell Wednesday, there were 10 on the line for three places (and one candidate had withdrawn). If this isn't a record, it's close to it.

At this writing, the Howard College Hawks had one more hurdle in their quest for the regional basketball title and a short at the national tournament. But after their seeming collapse and then comeback in the stretch and overtime, you gotta believe in miracles. Down two points with 40 seconds to go, the Hawks deliberately fouled, then tied it up just before the buzzer when Clarendon

America's Pioneer Space Man Expected To Retire

HOUSTON (AP) — Rear Adm. Alan B. Shepard Jr., America's pioneer space man and a Navy officer for 30 years, is expected to retire in June, sources said Saturday.

A source at the Johnson Space Center here said Shepard, 50, is expected to step out when he completes his 30 years' service.

"I know nothing officially that he's to retire at that time, but it would not be surprising," said an official of the National Aeronautics and Space agency.

That source added, "There is every evidence that he is going to do that."

Shepard could not be reached for confirmation.

It was May 5, 1961, when Shepard made the first space flight for the struggoing man-in-orbit program. It was sub-orbital and lasted about 15 minutes.

Shortly after this Freedom 7 flight, Shepard was grounded because of an inner ear ailment that caused dizziness and nausea.

Surgery cured the problem and he was restored to flight status in May 1969.

He then was named commander of Apollo 14 and in 1971 became the fifth man to walk on the moon.

After the lunar landing, Shepard resumed duties as chief of the astronaut office and was promoted to rear admiral.

Shepard was born Nov. 15, 1923, in East Derry, N.H., and graduated from the Naval Academy in 1944. He was one of the seven original astronauts selected in April 1959.

Arrested In Kidnap Plot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A young woman and two jailed men were charged Saturday with poltting to kidnap a foreign consul general to bargain for the release of the two men, the FBI said.

One of the men is a convicted skyjacker, and the woman was identified by police as a former member of the Charles Manson family.

The FBI said agents arrested Maria Theresa Alonzo, 22, at her apartment. The two men, Garrett Brock Trapnell, 36, and Robert Bernard Hedberg Jr., 37, are prisoners in Los Angeles County jail, the FBI said. Trapnell is serving a life sentence for skyjacking, and Hedberg is being held on charges of unlawful flight and assaulting a policeman.

The three were accused of conspiring — while both men were in jail — to kidnap the consul general of one of the following countries: Estonia, Paraguay, Uruguay, Canada, France, Germany, Switzerland or Haiti.

The three are to be arraigned Monday.

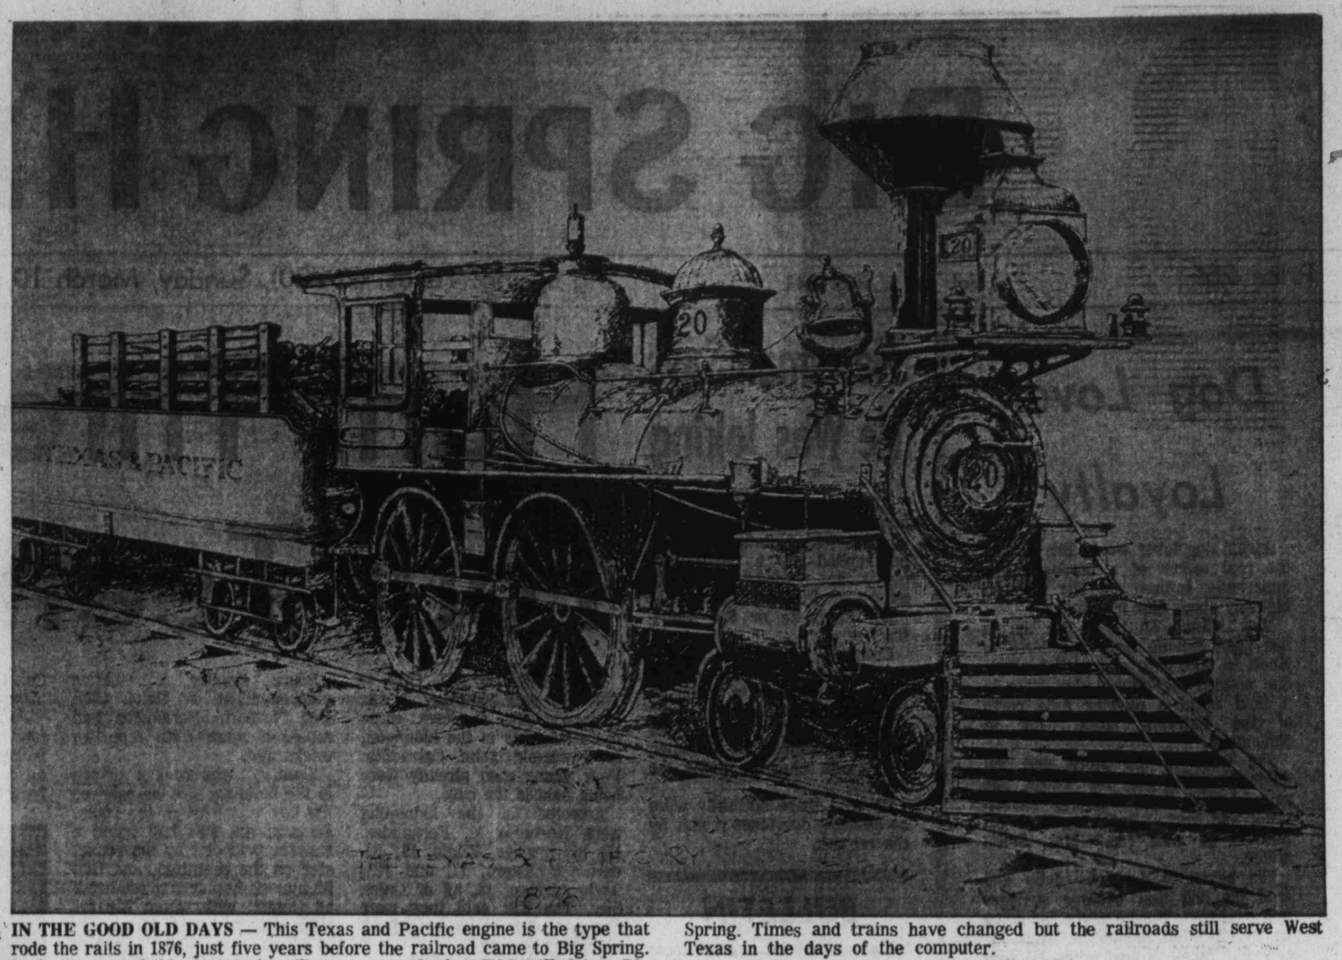

A Los Angeles County sheriff's spokesman said Miss Alonzo was once a member of the Charles Manson family and had picketed frequently in support of Manson during his murder trial. Manson and three female followers were convicted in 1971 in the murders of actress Sharon Tate and six other persons.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS — This Texas and Pacific engine is the type that rode the rails in 1876, just five years before the railroad came to Big Spring. In fact, some of this type train still were around when T&P rolled into Big Spring. Times and trains have changed but the railroads still serve West Texas in the days of the computer.

Romance, Importance Of Railroads To Area Noted In Dispatch Sheets

By MARJ CARPENTER

Soldiers still manned the fort at Fort Davis trying to clear the west of the renegades that were pestering the early ranchers and travelers.

Buffalo hunters could still be found along the Colorado River.

Cattle trails went across the west to the nearest railroad terminals, crossing the Pecos at Horsehead Crossing near Iraan and Pope's crossing near Orla.

Everybody needing water stopped at the Big Spring . . . first the Indians, then the soldiers, then the cattle drives, then the railroad and finally in 1831, T&P arrived here because of the Big Spring.

BRINGS GROWTH

The town immediately grew and the railroad workers were the proudest men of all as the iron horse made its way from Big Springs (as it was then called), to Monahans, Pecos and Toyah and joined the railroad into El Paso.

The railroads brought civilization to West Texas in a hurry. Pecos moved from their site next to the river into the railroad. Towns such as Odessa and Midland started along the railroad. Marienfield, who later changed their name to Stanton also welcomed the iron horse.

Texas and Pacific has been with Big Spring ever since and nowadays operates partially by computer. W. St. Louis, a big computer lists car distribution, handling and location of all the trains.

AT LEAST AUTOMATIC

In Big Spring 12 persons, who have been locally trained, type and cut computer cards and operate the system around the clock, according to A. W. Rees, district supreintendent.

A few things are still done by hand but almost everything is "at least automatic if not computerized."

Back in the early railroad days, all record keeping was done by hand just like the block signals were changed by hand.

W. E. Wozencraft, a recent railroad retiree and enthusiast,, one day years ago saw somebody about to burn some old dispatch sheets. He rescued a handful made up in 1891, a decade after the railroad arrived in Big Spring.

A list of names of the conductors, engineers, and brakemen include a multitude of Big Spring pioneer names such as Daniels, Connelly, Deats, Inkman, Buckels, McKeller, Rives, Graff, Faulkner, McLeod, Chambers, Everly, Mathis, Black, Aikens, Hays, Smith, Leisure, Paylor, Lindner, Hitzner, Bassett, Bennett, McKay, Blair and many more.

OLD STATIONS

Stations included between Baird and Big Spring(s) were the following: Clyde, Elmdale, Abilene, Tebo, Merkel, Trent, Eskota, Sweetwater, Vista, Loraine, Stock Yards, Colorado, Westbrook, Iatan, and Signal Mountain.

Nowadays, the list includes Sweetwater, Escota, Clint, Merkel, Zyler, Loraine, Rosco, Colorado City, Coahoma, Dome, Iatan, and Cosden Yard.

The stock yard stop is gone because the T&P no longer concentrates on cattle. In the old days, the railway had a regulation that all cattle had to be taken off the trains, exercised, watered and rested from the ride every 36 hours.

The old dispatch sheets had a special place for a stock report. One sheet lists 17 horses, 15 cows and a calf, and notes at what time they were fed and when they were let out. Another listed 17 head, including one bull. One list even includes a donkey.

MAY WEATHER

Nowadays, weather is computerized but the old weather reports were written by hand. Of the ten sheets saved from May, 1891, the weather reports include a low of 48 and high of 59. Remember, that was in May. It was apparently an unseasonably cool spring. Several days were listed as cool and pleasant and two mentioned rain.

On May 4, high water on the track at Loraine caused a delay. On May 8, heavy wind and dust outside Abilene caused another delay. That at least sounds familiar. Rain, and four days later, dust.

On May 7, the train had to stop and get a cow off the track at Signal Mountain. On May 9, some rings broke in the rear cylinder packing resulting in a delay at Merkel. On May 2, a train was delayed 80 minutes at Big Spring(s) waiting for an engine.

QUALITY PAPER

The dispatch sheets of 1891 are on thick paper that puts today's quality paper to shame. As is the case now, some of the handwriting was legible. Some was not.

Other items on the sheet included the names of the cars and the pullmans, the number of freight cars going in each direction and a time chart.

Times have changed. So have methods. People on the railroads have changed, although some families have made a heritage of continuing railroading down through the years.

One thing remains the same. The railrods are still important to Big Spring and more than one Big Spring resident secretly hopes for some kind of revival of their heyday.

Computerized or written out in longhand, the railroads and the movements of their trains has never completely lost its romance.

Many of us still count the freight cars when they pass or tell a small child to wave to the engineer. "He'll wave back," we state with assurance.

March 28 has been proclaimed as Sam Anderson Day. School officials have plained a big reception, but everyone is invited and Mayor Wade Choate has proclaimed it as Sam Anderson Day in Big Spring to honor the retiring school chief.

* * *

The Fine Arts department of Howard-College also has chosen this as the date for its "Spring Matinee' program featuring the Choraleers, also Mary Skalicky, and Harlen Thorton. Incidentally, March 28 brings on the Miss Diamondback contest which opens the annual Jaycee Rattlesnake Roundup. So March is going out in a flurry of activity.

Ben Faulkner, who will exhaust his Jaycee tenure when he turns 35 in June, has been given the organization's top honor, the JCI Senatorship award. Rick Clayton, national Jaycee president, made the presentation last week signifying more than 10 years of outstanding work in which Faulkner held about every local and district office, plus being a state vice president. He also brought in more than 100 young men into the Jaycee camp.

Big Spring bands set new records of achievement in the UIL contests a week ago at Odessa. The high schoolers came back with 82 medals and qualified 37 for solo and ensemble contests in June at University of Texas, Arlington. Runnels Junior High performers captured 23 places and Goliad 30.

The Veterans Administration has announced a new benefits officer to be located at the VA Hospital. He is Richard H. Staggers.

Postal rates went up two cents last week, and on a first-class letter, that's 25 per cent, and a pretty hefty raise. In token whereof, we promptly received some airmail columns six days late.

Howard College is knocking off for a week of Spring vacation this week, resuming classes March 18. Now if we could only sell our publisher on this idea!

The choral department of Big Spring High School came out fairly well on its ambitious musical presentation, "South Pacific," which averaged 850 per show. This wasn't as good as for "Oklahoma!" last year, but then the timing was somewhat better and enthusiasm was high for the choir's European trip.

Mayor Wade Choate, Chamber President Ralph McLaughlin and County Commissioner Jack Buchanan will represent local interests Monday when they confer with Frank Lorenzo, president of Texas International in Houston. They seek once more to plead with TIA to stay in Big Spring and for joint efforts of cooperation to boost traffic. Meanwhile, CAB, which denied TIA's request for temporary suspension, has set a prehearing date in Washington on permanent suspension.

Still On The Job

No medieval lord ever defended his castle as fervently as ranking members defend their committees in Congress. That means rough sledding ahead for a House select committee which proposes to reorganize the committee structure, paring down a number of standing committees and shifting about responsibilities.

But the committee's proposals make a lot of sense. And if Congress is to recapture its role in government, it would do well to look to its structural weaknesses, which the committee's report spotlights.

The bipartisan Committee on Committees, headed by Rep. Richard Bolling of Missouri, would more evenly distribute the workload of committees — and more logically arrange jurisdictions. For example, it would create a new Energy and Environment Committee, and charge it with such tasks as water quality, water power, flood control, solid waste, etc. These are now scattered among several different committees. It would split the Labor and Education Committee in two, and gather into its halves various labor and education-related matters now the province of other panels.

No committee structure would be untouched except Veterans' Affairs; some committees — such as Internal Security, Merchant Marine and Fisheries, and Post Office and Civil Service, would be abolished their business transferred elsewhee.

No doubt the Bolling committee report will receive a thorough going-over when it reaches the action stage. There likely will be ways to improve upon it. But the central idea—of restructuring the committees of Congress to deal more efficiently with the nation's business — is the important thing.

If individual congressmen can put aside personal considerations and personal power, and agree on a logical reordering of committees, then Congress will have gone a good way toward achieving the sort of rationality necessary for effectiveness and regained confidence.

Need To Restucture

The FBI, which has taken its share of criticism over Watergate and bad raps in other instances, showed its worth in the Reg Murphy kidnaping by trapping the abductors and recovering the ransom of $700,000. The case was closed within hours after the release of the Atlanta Constitution editor by the kidnapers.

Thus once again the FBI has proven its right to be ranked as one of the top law enforcement agencies in the world and a major deterrent to crime in the United States. The bureau's quick action in the Murphy case is just another in a long line of success stories dating back to its earliest days.

Some may ask: "But what about the Patricia Hearst kidnapping?" We don't know the answers to this. But we can assume that FBI silence, and seeming inactivity, is for good reason. Once her fate or safety is insured, we venture the FBI will move for quick wrapup.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

When Jesus said, "I am with you always,", didn't that imply constant help and protection? How then do you explain some terrible things that happen to Christians? My aged and godly grandmother was recently mugged — and right in her own apartment house.
L.W.

Wait a minute! Whan you start talking about implications of certain Scripture, you need other Bible statement for guidance, lest erroneous ideas creep in. Nowhere in the Old or New Testaments is there any promise of immunity from trouble or violence. In fact, many of God's choice servants have been abused in life beyond what normally a person might expect.

None of this lessens the truth about the presence and power of Christ. He promised to be with us, and He keeps that promise (Hebrews 13:5). I have discovered that usually God's purpose is to sustain us in the midst of difficulty rather than to avoid it entirely (Psalm 41:1).

How a Christian handles himself in the face of trial, temptation and even torture can be a powerful witness to a watching world. Sir Thomas More, for example, triumphantly summed up his whole career with his famous words on the scaffold, that he "died the king's good servant but God's first." Would anyone suggest God wasn't with him?

'DON'T GO OUT THERE ... HE'LL SLICK-TALK US OUT OF A MONTH'S SUPPLY.'

Job Losses May Be Steadying

NEW YORK (AP) — There was encouraging news about the nation's unemployment rate this past week, even though the figures may not be precise and may not establish any trend.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the unemployment rate in February held steady at 5.2 per cent calculating that 4.7 million Americans were without jobs.

It was the first change in the rise that began with the Arab oil embargo last November. Energy shortages linked directly or indirectly to the embargo have cost as many as 500,000 jobs since November, the bureau estimates.

FIGURES UNCERTAIN

The February figures obviously didn't prove a trend was starting and the bureau itself pointed out that the picture could be affected by a built-in margin of error in the calculation or the possibility that January's figure might have been over stated.

But Herbert Stein, chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisors, noted that the job losses since November haven't spread significantly into industries facing energy problems and that, he said, "is evidence of the underlying strength of the economy."

The bureau said that while manufacturing employment had been hit by energy-inducted layoffs, non farm payroll employment was up a net 175,000 last month.

Construction employment was up 101,000 and service industry jobs rose by 218,000.

CATTLEMEN HURTING

The sometimes hazy chain of economic cause and effect is being blamed by cattlemen for what they say are losses of more than $100 a head for animals they sell to meat packers.

The cattle feeders say they're being put out of business by high feed costs and fat profits for middlemen at a time when cattle prices are down.

One group of Iowa producers says they're working out a plan to demonstrate their problem by selling beef directly on New York City streets at 15 per cent less than supermarkets are charging.

"The implication that retailers are profiteering is a gross misstatement and one I deeply resent," said Clarence G. Adamy, president of the National Association of Food Chains. Adamy contended that retail profits are dangerously low and that decines in beef prices are temporary.

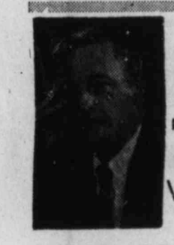

BLAMES MIDDLEMEN

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz had earlier said that middlemen hadn't passed along those recent declines, which saw prices per 100 pounds fall from $48 in late January to about $43 this past week.

The cattlemen say that last year 100 pounds of live steer was worth 28 bushels of corn at $1.55 a bushel. Now, they say, that same amount of steer won't pay for the 15 bushels needed to feed the animal.

The Week's Business

- President's advisor says no great change since November
- Figures not refined, but construction and service seem up
- Cattlemen say they lose money while middlemen get fat
- Despite lower prices for beef, prices at counter stay up
- Prices to producers off 10 pct., feed costs up 46 pct.

Solzhenitsy's Vision

William F. Buckley Jr.

The vision of Solzhenitsyn continues to unwind before a world stunned by its magnificence, and now an act of audacity unequalled in recorded history: a 15-thouand word letter to Soviet leaders asking them to abandon Marxist ideology, no less.

BUT THIS letter — written last September and transmitted then to these leaders and released only now for public scrutiny — was not merely a theatrical gesture. It is composed, for all that it is sublime in its impact, of Russian earth. It is the deed of an obsessed but wholesome patriot. It could not have been written except by a Russian who had expeienced Soviet history in every pore, an felt in his soul the great weight of Russian history. And there are in it of course invocations of human idealism. But, mostly, it is: cold turkey.

SOLZHENITSYM communicates how preoccupied Soviet leaders are with the possibility (probability) of war with China. Solzhenitsyn says it quite clearly, that Russia and China are on a non-nuclear collision course. The reason is primarily ideological. He does not see how such a war, lasting 19 years or more, could result in less than 60 million Russian casualties — double the casualties of the bloody Russian century, two world wars plus Stalin.

Ideological lifferences would trigger the war. "And what do you think will happen (then)? That, when war breaks out, both the belligerents will simply fly the purity of their ideology on their flags? And that 60 million of our fellow countrymen will allow themselves to be killed because the sacred truth is written on page 533 of Lenin and not on page 335 as our adversary claims? Surely only the very very first of them will die for that."

AFTER THAT, he says, Russians will fight for Russia, even as they did in the second world war, when Stalin prudently retired all talk of international socialism, until the people of Russia had rebuffed the invader, permitting Stalin to resume his internal holocaust. And when that happens the present leadership of Russia will be dispossessed anyway, and Russia will not only be through as the principal patron of worldwide class warfare, but will also be so weakened by the experience of the war that it will lose the ties to Western culture that animate it.

Solzhenitsyn goes on to spell out a great vision to Soviet leaders. He sees the world suffering from a great Western heresy, the idea of eternal growth. It has led in Russia to the ruination of the land, the sea, the air, the community, and the human being.

The great opportunity for Russia is to look — northeast. There is Siberia, peopled now by a scant 128,000. Siberia could receive the Russian hordes and there they might recapture something of the old life, made more enticing by the knowledge of what it is that they had fled from. There would be clean waters, and silent skies . . . and — above all — an absence of lies, "lies, lies, lies," more oppressive in modern Russia than any of the material privations that have resulted from ideological fanaticism.

THINK ABOUT it, Solzhenitsyn says, as though he were in the village marketplace, bargaining with a merchant for a table lamp. Think of it. You don't have to go right away to a parliamentary democracy Russia's experience with democracy has been for only eight monts in 1917, and they proved disastrous. It would be an authoritarian government, for a good while: and the present leaders could protect themselves in power. They would need only to: renounce Marxism. Permit peoiple to say what they want,to practice their religion, to read what they want. "Only allow us a free art and literature and you will see what a rich harvest it brings."

"WHAT HAVE you to fear? Is the idea really so terrible? Are you really so unsure of yourselves? You will still have a great and impregnable power a separate, strong and exclusive party, the army, the police force, industry, transport, communication, mineral wealth, a monopoly foreign trade, an artificial rate of exchange for the ruble — but let the people breathe, let them think and develop.

He Likely Can Be Helped

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A young man where I work suffers from chornic bronchitis, and everybody in the department suffers.

He is almost constantly coughing, clearing his throat, making sounds in preparation to spitting, blowing his nose. . .

When someone has an ordinary cold it is'nt annoying because it is known that the person will soon recover. But this young man's disease has not improvel after four or five months.

Perhaps I am being unsymphatetic, but I find this hacking and spittin mgore than I can bear. There should be something to relieve him — and us. How do you treat chronic bronchitis? — J.K.

You have my sympathy. Whether the young man deserves the same depends on whether he is doing anything to alleviate the situation, for his own sake as well as for his fellow workers.

Chronic bronchitis, of course, is inflammation of the bronchi, the tubes leading directly to the lungs. But what is doing the inflaming? It's like asking now to cure a sore finger without knowing what made the finger sore.

In a good many cases a combination of factors, rather than any single one, will be reponsible. There are, frankly, cases of chrinic bronchitis in which not a great deal can be done to hlep.

In others, much can. The young man most certainly should go to a physician and remain a patient long enough to give the doctor enough time to make a thorough evaluation of the probable causes. Just one or two visits, in my experience, won't be enough to do any good.

Irritant fumes or pollutants in the air can, quite obviously, be a factor in bronchitis, but since he has the trouble and none of the rest of you do, he'll have to look farther.

Does he smoke? Some 75 per cent of chronic bronchitis patients are heavy cigarette smokers. If he smokes, and hasn't bothered to stop, he needn't expect somebody else to cure his trouble for him.

Chronic bronchitis also is worse in damp, cool climates, but there is little, practically speaking, he can do about that.

If a secondary infection has developed, antibiotics can help temporarily, but finding the underlying cause remains.

Finnally, allergy is a very common cause of chronic bronchitis, so common that in my opinion every patient with such bronchitis should have a searching study to diagnose allergies.

In your young man's case, his antics strongly suggest allergy — his blowing and throat clearing. If he really wants to do something construtive, I would suggest that he see an allergist for tests to determine what things he is allergic to.

Here's a followup to a letter from Neal Barbee and Brent Zitterkepf, fifth graders at Coahoma Elementary School: It's a letter which appeared in College English in April, 1955. The author is William E. Stafford:

Dear Coach Musselman:

Remembering our discussions of your football men who are having troubles in English, I have decided to ask you, in turn, for help.

WE FEEL PAUL SPINDLES has a chance for a Rhoades Scholarship. Although he has the academic record for this award, the aspirant is required to have a good record in athletics.

Paul has trouble with athletics, but he tries hard. We propose you give him special consideration and put him in the backfield of the football team. Thus, we can show a better record to the scholarship committee.

We realize Paul will be a problem on the field, but as you have often said cooperation between our department and yours is desirable.

During intervals of study, we shall coach him as much as we can. His work in English Club and on the debate team will force him to miss many practices, but we intend to see that he carries an old football to bounce during intervals of his work.

We expect Paul to show good will in his work for you, and though he won't be able to begin practice until late in the season, he will finish this season with good attendance.

Cordially yours,
Joe Branch Hatcher

WASHINGTON — We have been reminded by everyone that all the people indicted in the Watergate affair must be presumed innocent until proved guilty, and we concur.

But there are crimes they have committed for which they must be presumed guilty until proven innocent.

Here is a short list:

PURCHASING Cheap Recording Equipment for the President —

This not only has caused Mr. Nixon embarrassment but could be responsible for his downfall. By trying to save a few bucks on tape machines, the former aides to the President must take the blame not only for tapes that do not exist but also for the erased ones that do.

SLOPPY FILING Methods — No Administration has had such messy files since Ulysses S. Grant. Every time the special prosecutor or the House Judiciary Committee lawyers ask for relevant paper, no one seems to know where it is. The President looked so neat and clean you just assumed his people would keep neat files.

BAD BOOKKEEPING — Before the Watergate scandal, everyone assumed that President Nixon was surrounded by bookkeepers. It now turns out that no one had any experience in finance, and large sums of money kept getting lost and being put in the wrong ledgers.

KEEPING SECRETS — This is one of the most serious charges. As far as we know everyone kept secrets from everybody else in the White Houe. No one knew what the other person was doing. President Nixon says he knew nothing at all. Thus made it impossible for the staff to stick to the same story.

BELIEVING THE FBI and the CIA — One of the many crimes ex-Administration officials are guilty of is believing that the FBI and CIA would follow orders of the White House without questioning them. This false faith in these two institutions might have been the beginning of their undoing. The tragedy of Watergate is that the FBI and CIA could not be counted on to cover up goofs.

BELIEF IN the Mandate — This is not a felony, but a misdemeanor. Everyone around the President believed the election results in 1972 would gurantee that no one would be interested in how he won his mandate. Had Nixon aides not been interested in winning a mandate, there might never have been a Watergate.

OVERACHIEVING at Fund Raising — The success of the Nixon fund-raising drive was one of the main reasons everything went wrong. Had the Committee for the Re-Election of the President been short of money, it never would have had the finances to get them in so much trouble.

Fullbright Needed

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Few states in the Union have the political clout of Arkansas. With a population under 2 million, three key committee chairmanships are held by men whose influence extends far beyond the borders not only of their state but of the nation.

REP. WILBUR MILLS, as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is one of the three or four most powerful men in Washington.

Ruling this committee with his unflagging determination and his considerable ability, itis hardly an exaggeration to say that he also rules the federal tax structure.

"Don't make a move without seeing Wilbur" is the cautionary word running through the Treasury, the banking community and the Congress.

THE SENIOR senator from Arkansas, John McClellan, is chairman of the appropriations committee which exercises authority over the entire federal government. His zeal as an investigator, his relentless digging into crime, corruption and waste has made him the scourge of the unrighteous. His service in the Senate began in 1942.

J. William Fulbright, the junior Senator, became chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee just 15 years ago. One of the sternest critics of the Vietnam war and its offshoots in Cambodia and Laos, and often at odds with the State Department over the politics of diplomatic appointments, he has achieved a good working relationship with Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

It is a case of two specialists, each with a broad grounding in the intricacies of foreign policy, yet each with his own contribution to make to the conduct of foreign affairs in a time of troubles.

THIS YEAR Sen. Fulbright is up for reelection to a sixth term. Back in Arkansas a challenger is testing the water to see how far the swing toward isolationism might carry him. Those striped-pants diplomatis are fine, but what have you done for Arkansas?

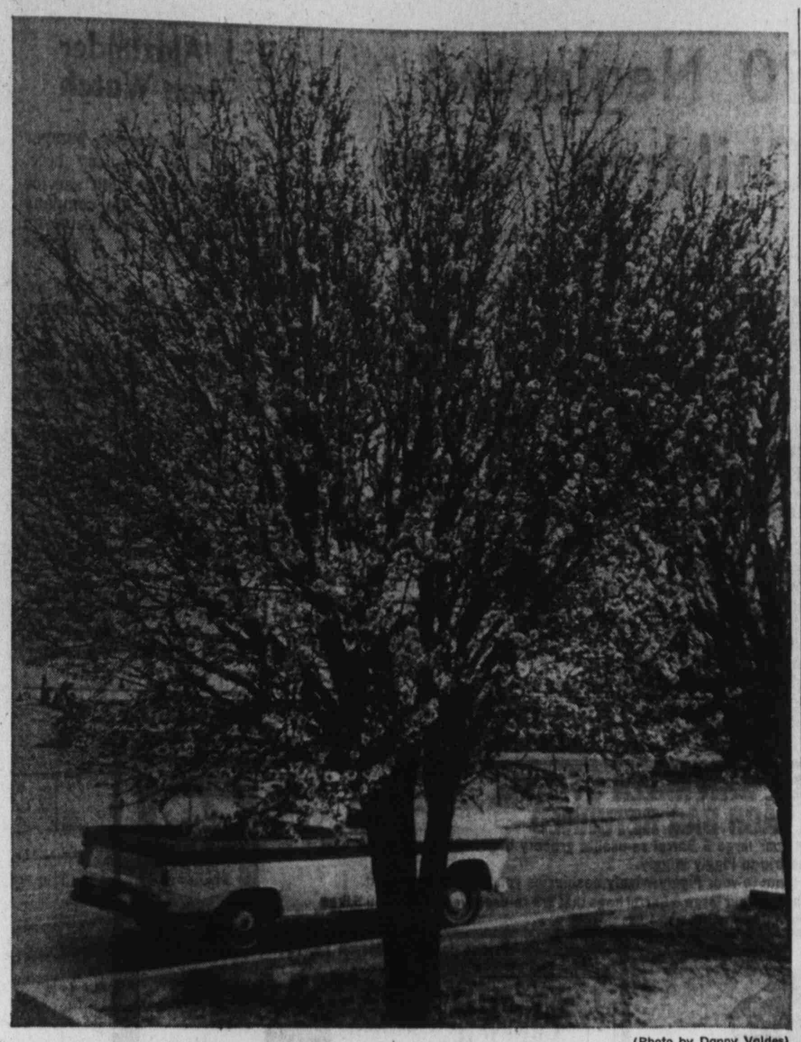

Potential challenger is Gov. Dale Bumpers. Arkansas is one of the states which has never moved out of the two-year cycle that keeps a governor running for reelection almost from the first day he takes office. And the salary of $10,000 a year is the lowest in the country.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Truly, I say to you, many prophets and righteous men longed to see what you see, and did not see it, and to hear what you hear, and did not hear it." (Matthews 13:17)

PRAYER: Come into my heart and soul, O God, and tune my heart to receive Thy grace. Through Jesus Christ, Thy Son. Amen.

EARLY TRY — Almond trees in the yard of Mrs. Billy Rudd at 1300 Birdwell Lane have bloomed early, perhaps too early. Freezes, more often than not, occur around Easter here and Easter this year doesn't arrive until April 14. The bloom of such trees doesn't last long but the blossoms are indications that the bleak countryside is about to come alive with a multitude of colors associated with warm weather.

'Streak Dance' In Nacogdoches

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) — Hundreds of students at Stephen F. Austin University, in the heart of East Texas' Bible belt, began a spring break Friday in their birthday suits, joining a crowd of about 2,000 in a "streak dance."

A bosomy brunette co-ed, 19, stood naked in the throng and declared, "It's exhilarating."

University President Ralph Steen said the affair had the reluctant approval of the school. "What else can you do? If we make one arrest, it could touch off a confrontation with police," he said. "I've told them when they return (from spring break) there will be no more streaking. If we can help it."

HANDS OFF

Campus police wandered amid the dancers and spectators merely to keep order.

City police took a hands-off attitude.

"They're really having a party out there. Our hands are tied. We can't go on campus unless they ask us," said police dispatcher Danny Shull."

The dance was originally promoted by the student government as a "street dance" to celebrate spring break.

Mike Finley, president of the SFA student body, said he saw only about 50 persons who had doffed their clothing. Other estimates ranged up to 150.

He said reports that 10 girls had danced nude over a makeshift bandstand were incorrect. Some persons said they saw some dancers, male and female, while others denied it. The area near the bandstand was described as very hectic, making direct observations difficult.

DANCING CLOSE

"I think it's great," commented a dormitory mother, a middle-aged matron who didn't want her name revealed. "I just hope there's no violence."

There were scattered reports of open sexual activity but for the most part, said specators, no serious displays occurred.

"There are few couples, nude, dancing close—That kind of thing. There's a lot of drinking, though," said one.

A liquor store three blocks from the campus was reported to have done a heavy business supplying the crowd beer and whisky.

"Yes, I know we have some unhappy parents over this, but what else can you do?" Steen asked. "The best thing to do is try to keep it under control. The kids aren't hurting anything. We haven't had the kinds of problems here that they've had on other campuses."

"It'll probably go all night," observed one reveler before the rain began. "Many people are waring masks, taking off their clothes, boozing it up."

"It's turned into a regular tourist attraction," said another.

Dispatcher Shull said city police did not patrol the campus area more than usual adding, "Of course, if they step off the campus we'll have to arrest them. But what they do out there is their own business."

Asked what her parents would think of her public nudity, a shapely co-ed said, "They're in Chicago. I'm in Nacogdoches."

Police said at a late hour they had made no arrests and had no reports of injuries or violence at the campus of some 11,000 students.

Streakers Just Yesterday's Panty Raiders?

HOUSTON (AP) — A University of Houston professor says today's streakers are just yesterday's panty raiders.

Dr. James McCrary, a psychologist who teaches a human sexuality course, said Thursday the streaking fad "is nothing but a return to the goldfish swallowing and telephone booth stuffing of years ago."

"It is simply a way that young people are rebelling that is not destructive," he said. "They have been doing this since the beginning of time.

"It's a whole lot healthier than the buring of book stores and other buildings of a few years ago."

McCary said streaking—running fast in the nude—could be considered "a red-blooded American boy and girl activity."

He said young people often try to show individualism as they cross over into adulthood by participating in a fad.

Visits with Texas Electric Area Development Office and Texas Industrial Commission have been confirmed.

Burleson Event Is Progressing

Plans for a big celebration April 20 honoring Congressman Omar Burleson at Anson are shaping well and a big turnout for the eventis indicated, according to B. J. Gist, chairman.

Gist met Thursday in Abilene with a large group backing the special occasion. He said work on the bronze of Rep. Burleson has been completed by Sculpturess Juan Dell of Lubbock.

Ticket sales for the barbecue and celebration on the courthouse square are progressing well, and a crowd of 1,000 to 5,000 is anticipated, he said.

Unveiling of the bronze will highlight the celebration, but there also will be a sampler of the Fort Griffin Fandangle from Albany. Many Farm Bureau chapters in the 17th Congressional District virtually underwrote cost of the bronze. Gist reported, although other friends have been invited to share in this and other expenses.

Activities will begin at 5 p.m.

WATERGATE STREAKING

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young man wearing a big Nixon mask made a streaking attempt Saturday outside the courthouse where seven former presidential and campaign aides pleaded innocent in the Watergate cover-up.

After the man dropped his pants, a policeman quickly wrapped a coat around him. The attempted streaker was bundled off in a police car.

A policeman said the charge would probably be indecent exposure. The young man was not immediately identified.

BIGGEST MYSTERY IN TOWN

Constitution Convention

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The biggest mystery in town remains whether the Texas Constitution Convention can complete its work in 90 days or must call a recess for political campaigns.

"I still have not given up on my 90-day schedule," Speaker Price Daniel Jr. said after the 181 legislator-delegates quit at noon Friday until 2 p.m. Monday.

RECESS RUMOR

"I met with a good number of the delegates, maybe one third of them, personally during the week and the sentiment is to keep working as hard as we can until we have to recess, if we do," Daniel said. "We'll go as far as we can for toward the 90-day schedule."

Other sources said convention employes had been told to be prepared for a 30-or 45-day recess beginning April 5.

"I sure didn't tell them that," Daniel said, "and I don't know anyone who did."

Daniel the convention president, told the delegates Friday to be ready to work five days next week, "even Saturday." Generally the convention has been meeting in general sessions only half days, except on Thursdays. Committee action took up much of their other time.

GOOD WEEK

"I'm highly pleased," said Daniel. "We had a real good week and working full days we should move right along and make more progress.

During the past week the convention finished off two and a half weeks of debate on the education article, completed work on the voter qualifications and elections article and began work on the executive branch article.

Daniel said if delegates finished work on the executive branch the coming week he hoped they could get to the highly controversial finance article about next Friday.

90-DAY PLAN

It was not until about a week ago that Daniel admitted he was considering a recess instead of his original 90-day plan.

"Now that we have been thinking about it a recess might even be helpful in one way, if we have to have one," he said. "We have been worrying about the time lag if we should finish up in May and then not get a vote until November. Voters might forget all the arguments and explanation the convention went through. Now, if we have a recess and come back after a 30-or 45-day recess, the new constitution woull be fresh in voters' minds for the November election."

Clerical Error Is Corrected

The Texas Democratic Party "due to a clerical error" sent out news releases which advised voters to register with their county clerk.

The county tax collector's office, not the county clerk's office, registers voters.

One local radio station was heard first to say register with your county clerk. About 30 minutes later, the registrar, according to the radio station, was the county tax collector's office.

Persons without permanent 1972 registration certificates from their county must register at least 30 days prior to an election in which they went to vote.

Persons moving from one voting precinct to another in the same county must notify the county tax collector's office five days prior to an election.

Democratic and Republican Primaries are slated May 4.

80 Neglected Children Cases

During the year ending in February, 1974, the county welfare association reports working with 80 neglected children cases.

Ruby Phillips is director and has a secretary, Kathryn Hise, shared with the juvenile probation office.

They divided the cases into these overlapping categories:

Foster care, 10 cases involving 41 children.

Orphanage placements, 6 cases, 23 children.

State school placements, 6 cases, 6 children.

Beating victims, 2 cases, 2 children.

Counseled only, 9 cases, 37 children.

Among other duties, the welfare association investigates families wanting to adopt, administers county aid and transportation to indigent patients going to out-of-town hospitals, administers the pauper burial payments and handles the milk and medicine funds.

Hates Big Cars?

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Vandals damaged only the large cars left overnight at a service station by motorists hoping for early morning gasoline, police said.

Of the 100 cars parked at the station Thursday night, the tires on 15 large-model cars were slashed, police said. Smaller cars in the lineup were untouched.

CLAIM FOUND MONITOR — Duke University investigators say they plan to bring up the pieces of the sunken Union ironclad warship Monitor, right, shown in this J. O. Davidson painting as it engaged the Confederate vessel Merrimac in a battle at Hampton Roads, Va., on March 9, 1862. The investigators claim they have located the ship on the floor of the Atlantic Ocean about 15 miles south of Cape Hatteras. The Monitor sank in a raging gale off Cape Hatteras Dec. 31, 1862.

Four In Contest For Three Posts

LENORAH — Four candidates have signed for three places to be filled in the April 6 balloting for trustee of the Grady Independent School District.

They are M.D. Mitchell, the only candidate to succeed himself to serve the one year remaining on the term of Bruce Key, who resigned when his wife became a teacher in the school. For the pair of three-year terms, Charles McKasle is a candidate for re-election, but Jimmy Sayer is not running again. Other candidates are Eddie Odom and Donna Sawyer.

Absentee balloting will be in the office of the Grady School principal 9:30 a.m. 4 p.m. from March 18 through April 2. The election is at the school from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. April 6 with E. E. Jackson the presiding judge and with Lucy Glaze and Cora Henson the clerks.

Plan To Bring Up Bits Of Monitor

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Duke University investigators say they plan to bring up pieces of the sunken Union ironclad warship Monitor.

They claim they have located the ship on the floor of the Atlantic Ocean about 15 miles south of Cape Hatteras.

The Monitor, considered the forerunner of modern battleships, sank in a raging gale off Cape Hatteras on Dec. 31, 1862 while under tow by the U.S.S. Rhode Island.

The ironclad, which had fought the Confederate ship Virginia—also known as the Merrimac—to a standstill nine months earlier at the Civil War Battle of Hampton Roads, was to be used to complete the federal blockade of the South.

Sixteen Union sailers were lost with the Monitor, a warship designed solely for operations in rivers and coastal waters.

The sunken ship has been the object of numerous searches.

James G. Newton, marine superintendent for the oceanographic program at the Duke Marine Laboratory at Beaufort, N.C., announced the discovery of the vessel on Thursday.

He said it was confirmed to be the Monitor after five months of analysis of underwater television pictures, photographs and historical records.

The next trip to the ship's location will be made this spring, supportel by a $20,000 grant from the National Geographic Society and the cooperation from the state, he said.

Chili Devotees Cite Tower, Pickle

Chili ambassadors arrived last week in Washington on the Delaware to honor several of their fellow Texas statesman.

Arriving from the state Chili headquarters of Texas, the four emissaries presented Sen. John J. Tower (R-Tex.) and Congressman J. J. (Jake) Pickle (D-Tex) with a resolution for their services "above and beyond the call of duty exposing fellow members of Congress to the gastronomic experience of Texas chili."

Along with the resolution, four delegates from San Marcos, home of the Sept. 19-22 Chilympiad, presented Rep. Pickle with a Doctorate in Chiliosphy. The honors after the congressmen's defense of their fellow statesmen when Sen. Barry Goldwater said "A Texan doesn't know Chili from leavings in a corral."

The Stirring Committee of the Fifth Annual Republic of Texas Chilypiad proclaimed Senator Tower as "Champion of the pot of hot."

Rep. Pickle, who was reared in Big Spring, learned the fundamentals of good chili nearly half a century ago at the chili parlor of Ledford (Shorty) Biard on lower Main Street in Big Spring.

Spring Planting Gains Momentum

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Spring planting gained momentum last week in South Texas and moved into the central area but many counties will need more moisture to get up the crops, said Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Blowing sand hampered field operations in some counties in the South Plains, Hutchison said, and farmers reported a general shortage of fertilizer in some areas.

Small grains in the eastern half of Texas are providing generally good grazing for livestock, but in western sections only the irrigated fields are making enough growth for grazing. Hutchison said livestock feeding was still active in most areas of the state.

Fruit trees are blooming over much of Texas, and home gardening is under way in all areas, he said.

Commercial vegetable production also is gaining momentum, Hutchison said. Some vegetable seeding started in the high Plains.

District agricultural agents gave the reports:

South Plains: Blowing sand and dry soil conditions have caused some delays in land preparation. Some fields of dryland wheat are being abandoned due to the dry conditions. Irrigated wheat is making some progress. Many farmers and ranchers are marketing cattle to reduce their herds.

Rolling Plains: Land preparation is active. Some small gains have improved from recent rains and a nitrogen topdressing is being applied. However, most fields need additional moisture. Stock water is getting short in a few counties.

Far West: The drought remains. Irrigated small grain crops are making excellent growth with wamer weather but those on dryland continue to deteriorate. Land preparation remains active. Calf and lamb crops look good.

West Central: Land preparation is active but moisture will be needed prior to planting. Most small grain fields have been lost to the dry weather.

Paperback Book Swap Is Nearing

It's a one-for-one proposition.

The Howard College at Big Spring Library is planning to start a paperback book swap. This will enable library patrons to exchange a paperback they have read for one they have not.

To get the book swap collection started, the library is asking anyone with paperbacks for which they have no more use, to donate them to the Library. If there are enough books by April 1, the book swap will open for business.

This activity is in conjunction with National Library Week, to be observed on the local college campus April 21.

Fruit trees are beginning to bloom. Angora goat shearing is active. Calf and lamb crops are good but predators continue to cause problems.

Central: Soil moisture is generally short. Interest in home gardening is high. Commercial tomato growers in Falls County are preparing to set out plants. Fruit trees are beginning to bloom Lambing and kidding are under way. Goat shearing has started.

Southwest: Sorghum planting has started. Ten to 12 per cent of the corn acreage has been planted. Moisture will be needed to get the crops up to good stands. Onions are making good growth. A record number of home gardens are being planted.

South: Cotton planting is about 20 per cent complete. Sorghum planting is past the 40 per cent mark in the Rio Grande Valley. About 25 per cent of the corn acreage has been planted in northern counties. Carrots are increasing in volume. Cabbage is in fair supply. Watermelon planting is about complete. Cucumber planting is starting.

Phone Hike Suspended

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — A spokesman for General Telephone Co. says that a rate increase to rural customers in 59 exchanges has been suspended pending a re-evaluation of the situation.

The company has announced the increases at varying periods since January.

Some of the customers complained about the amount of increase, which doubled their bills in some cases.

Several state representatives held a news conference in Austin Friday to protest the hike.

The re-evaluated billings will be higher than the pre-increase billings, Jean Ryon, company spokesman, said Friday but added she could not say by how much because of complicated rate schedules.

She said the new rates will be announced early next week. She said they will be retroactive to the billing dates of the original increases.

Meanwhile, a number of customers have been paying at the originally announced increase and adjustments will be made, said the spokesman.

She said that some customers still will be billed at the increased rates announced earlier becaue this change still is in the computer.

Opening lead: King of ◇ South made a valiant effort at his contract of four spades. Unfortunately, no points are awarded for effort, only for making the contract.

Once South rebid his spades, confirming a five-card suit, North displayed excellent judgment in raising his partner's suit rather than showing his second suit. South's decision to go on to four spades was based partly on a revaluation of his queen of hearts, an important card in view of North's bid, and partly because his diamond length suggested partner would be short in that suit.

The opening diamond lead was ruffed in dummy. Declarer crossed to his hand with the queen of hearts and ruffed a second diamond on the table. Since there was no quick entry back to his hand outside of trumps, declarer elected to cash the ace and king of trumps, leaving one of the defenders with the master trump. Now, declarer tried to run the heart suit to obtain diamond discards.

This plan would have succeeded had the defender with the last trump held at least three hearts. Declarer would have obtained two diamond discards by the time that defender ruffed, and South's only losers would have been two clubs and a trump. Unfortunately, West ruffed the third heart, cashed a high diamond and forced declarer to ruff a diamond. Locked in his own hand, declarer had to lose two clubs, for he was forced to lead away from his king.

Declarer lost control of the hand when he allowed mastery of the trump suit to pass to his opponents. Consider what would happen if, at trick two, declarer led a low trump from dummy and passed it.

West would win the trump ten, but would be powerless to defeat the contract. There would still be a trump in dummy to control the diamond suit. As soon as South gained the lead, he would draw trumps in two rounds and cash his five hearts. In all, declarer would score four trump tricks, a diamond ruff and five hearts.

Brush Control Fight Waged

LUBBOCK — The battle for control of brush and weeds overrunning Texas rangelands can have long-term effects on the consumer.

Carefully selected brush control practices adapted to meet the requirements of a specific range can yield multiple benefits. Brush control can increase the efficiency of water use, increase the yield of beneficial grasses and shrubs and the number of cattle which can be maintained on an acre of rangeland.

Research on a portion of rangeland totalling more than 18 million acres in a 117 county area in central and west Texas indicates that certain levels of brush control can dramatically increase beef production for the area.

The acreage studied is suitable only to chemical contol methods. If 50 per cent of the brush is killed, the area can produce enough additional beef each year for 1.7 million people. Control of 25 per cent of the brush will allow production of additional beef for 854-thousand people annually, according to Texas Tech researchers.

The project is one of 49 research efforts described in 'Noxious Brush and Weed Control Research Highlights — 1973," published in February by Texas Tech University in cooperation with the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Industrial Production Stays Steady In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas has experienced some unemployment because of fuel shortages, but the state's industrial production is showing "a bit more strength" than in the nation as a whole.

Those conclusions were reached by Robert Lockwood, research associate for the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas in a report issued Saturday.

JOBS LOST

Industrial production held steady in Texas in January, Lockwood said, while nationally there was a decline of almost 1 per cent. Compared with January 1973, Texas' industrial output gained 5 per cent while the national increase was 3 per cent, he reported.

January declines in employment included 2,800 jobs lost in aircraft and parts, 900 in manufacturing, 200 in dairy products, 900 in leather and leather products and 700 in federal employment.

Seasonally adjusted business activity advanced 3 per cent, Lockwood said, and was 6 per cent above January 1973.

PRICE INCREASE

"Particularly striking were the business activity gains in January 1974 in Corpus Christi (26 per cent), San Angelo (16 per cent), Abilene (15 per cent), Beaumont, Lubbock and Waco (14 per cent), Austin (11 per cent) and El Paso and Laredo (10 per cent), he said.

Lockwood said building investment, reflected by permits issued by cities, was "not promising in most of the standard metropolitan statistical areas" during the year that ended in January.

217 YEARS OF SERVICE

McCrarys Love Railroads

By MARJ CARPENTER

B. F. McCRARY

B. F. McCrary, 1302 E. 18th, retired last week from Texas and Pacific Railroad bringing the total of McCrary years of railroad servoice to 217 and there are still McCrarys working for the railroad.

B. F. retired here March 3. That night a big retirement dinner, with some 80 friends attending, was held at the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas.

He was born in Longview, Jan. 4, 1909, and graduated from high school there where he had been a Lobo football star. He went to work for T&P in Longview in 1936 and recalls that he made three of the Louisiana cane seasons when the railroad hauled all of the sugar cane to the mills.

ON EXTRA BOARD

Then he was placed on the extra board and worked for the Santa Fe in Los Angeles three months and in other areas. He was on the extra board in Big Spring in 1942, then in 1943 went to Baird as yardmaster. Like all of the T&P railroad men with many years behind them, he served a hitch in Toyah. He was also yardmaster there.

In 1945, he returned to Big Spring where he has been ever since. He was a switchman, then relief yardmaster and switch engine foreman.

BOOM YEARS

He recalls that the days of the oil boom and the years of World War II were big years for Texas and Pacific in this area.

McCrary recalled, the "Chubb Backouts" west of Big Spring when the sidings would be full of cars. That's when there were a couple dozen trains in both directions every day, McCrary reminised.

"Now there are two every other day east bound, one local every day west bound for six through trains." He recalls the days when T&P had a big icing deck here to ice down the fruit blocks from California.

Mac's father, R. C. McCrary, retired in 1937 as a conductor from Fort Worth to Texarkana on the Sunshine Special.

SPECIAL TRAINS

"That was back in the days of special trains for football games, world fairs and even Sunday picnics," Mac recalls. R. F. had 37 years service. K. C. McCrary has 20 years service as clerk and switchman in Dallas.

Another brother, R. J., worked 40 years out of Mineola and Gene McCrary worked 35 years out of Mineola.

Two nephews, Billy Bob McCrary and Don McCrary, still work for T&P. "We McCrarys loved the railroad," Mac added.

His wife worked here for years as a ticket agent and in the freight office. "I love the ticket office and it was a sad day when they shut down passenger service," she recalls. "I used to delight in helping people plan long trips or in helping Webb personnel plan trips back home."

Their children include Bernie Jr. of Arkansas, Robert, a lawyer in Austin; Warren, an engineer in a Dallas firm; Mrs. Carlyle Brown, who works at Malone-Hogan, and Mike McCrary, employed by Cosden. There are ten grandchildren.

"I plan to play a lot of golf and travel some now that I'm retired. I have enjoyed working for the railroad. It was like one big happy family. Railroad people are durn good people," Mac added.

"I hope some day, Amtrak puts passenger service through here again. And make it fun again to ride the trains," he added wistfully.

Will Discuss Coyote Capsule

GARDEN CITY — Farmers and ranchers in Glasscock County will have an opportunity to learn about an experimental coyote control program Monday at 4-6:00 p.m. at the Courthouse in Garden City, announced Oliver F. Werst, county extension agent.

The meeting will concern the safe use of the M-44 spring-loaded ejector which uses sodium cyanide capsules as a means of controlling predatory animals. The device has been approved by the Environmental Protection Agency for use in a 15-month experimental program in 44 counties in West, Central and South Texas.

Werst emphasized that only those farmers and ranchers who participate in the training meeting will be certified to purchase the M-44 and capsules to use in the pilot program.

WHEELER-DEALER ISN'T EVEN IN COURTROOM

Vesco Most Talked About At Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — He is the man most talked about at the criminal conspiracy trial of former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and one-time Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans. His name figures in almost every sentence of testimony. Yet he isn't even there and few in the courtroom have ever seen him.

He is financier Robert L. Vesco, a fugitive in Latin America and the Bahamas since his troubles with the Securities and Exchange Commission made him a pivotal figure in the case.

WORTH BILLIONS

A wheeler-dealer in the mod style, Vesco built a global financial empire worth billions before he reached the age of 35. It was structured around his flagship company, International Controls Corp. of Fairfield, N.J.

It was the 38-year-old Vesco's secret $200,000 contribution to President Nixon's re-election campaign in 1972 that involved him with Mitchell and Stans on charges of conspiracy and obstruction of justice. It was the largest cash contribution of the campaign.

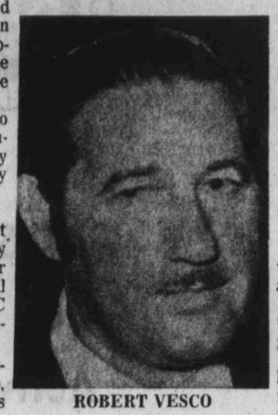

"Mr. Vesco is a man who likes to be identified as a generous giver," is the way key government witness Harry Sears once put it.

POLITICAL CLOUT

However, the government claims more than generosity was involved—that in return for Vesco's contribution Mitchell and Stans impeded an SEC fraud investigation of the financier's corporate activities.

"There was an agreement between Mitchell, Stans, Vesco, Harry Sears and certain others to sell political influence for $200,000 in cash," the government charged in its opening trial statement.

"It's cheaper than paying a lawyer," Vesco was quoted in trial testimony as saying when a business associate remarked about the size of the donation.

In the European circles in which he moved, Vesco had a reputation as the biggest spender of them all.

"He used to live it up like no one else I have ever met," one acquaintance claimed.

Sears said Vesco contributed $100,000 to Nixon's 1968 campaign and proposed to double that figure in 1972 "because he was a helluva lot richer in 1972 than in 1968."

SMALL CHANGE

Sears said Vesco once pressed a $10,000 check on him as a reward for a favor with the remark: "It may seem like a lot of money to you, but it's small change to me."

When business took Vesco to Europe, it was not uncommon for him to fly back weekends to watch his sons play Little League baseball. He spent more than $60,000 on his company's 707 jetliner, providing it with a sauna bath, a discotheque, a spacious kitchen and other airborne amenities.

Sears, former Republican majority leader of the New Jersey Senate, went to work for Vesco at the end of 1971 as a $60,000-a-year legal aide. He spent four days on the stand before the trial recessed for the weekend and is due back as a witness on Monday.

A grant of total immunity from prosecution induced Sears to testify against Stans and Mitchell, although he claimed Mitchell was still a friend. The immunity negated Sears indictment with the other three.

Vesco has been described as tall, dark-haired, a natty dresser. Before he fled the country, he lived with his wife and four children in a spacious ranch house overlooking a lake in Boonton, N.J., about 25 miles west of New York. Sears also is a resident of Boonton. When home, Vesco liked to indulge in his hobbies of bowling and golf.

DROP OUT

The son of a Detroit auto worker, Vesco was a high school dropout. At the age of 17, he married and went to work as a draftsman for a group of metal firms.

In 1964, he struck out for himself as sales representative for aluminum companies and within two years had formed International Controls Corp. (ICC). It was composed of two small firms. One made machine valves, the other instruments to measure extremely cold temperatures.

With that humble base, Vesco in five years built a company with $100 million in annual sales. Its products ranged from bomb casings to electric transmission towers. As ICC's chairman and chief stockholder, he once held 960,000 shares in the company. They then were worth about $51 each—or close to a total of $49 million.

BIG COUP

His big coup was obtaining control of Investers Overseas Ltd. (IOS), an ailing mutual fund empire founded by Bernie Cornfeld, who also enjoyed his day in the sun as a youthful wizard of finance. A $5 million loan in 1970 paved the way for Vesco's acquisition of IOS.

It was from overseas mutual funds controlled by IOS that Vesco eventually was accused in an SEC lawsuit of looting $224 million. He left the country after the suit was filed Nov. 27, 1972. He has successfully fought off extradition from Costa Rica and the Bahamas.

Vesco had friends in high places. President Figueres of Costa Rica was said by Sears to have intervened with President Nixon on behalf of Vesco in his legal battle with the SEC.

On the other hand, Swiss authorities were not above tossing Vesco in jail there, on complaint of an IOS stockholder. Sears testified it took a telephone call from Mitchell to the American Embassy in Bern to free Vesco on $125,000 bail. The financier later complained his jailing "had a devastating impact on his international relations."

Plains Cotton Group To Meet

An estimated 500 cotton producers and allied businessmen are expected in Lubbock on Tuesday to hear three speakers outline a new course toward bigger and better markets for High Plains cotton.

The occasion is the 17th annual meeting of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., beginning at 2:00 p.m. at Vann's Catering Service, 7 miles from Lubbock's Tahoka Traffic Circle on the Slaton Highway.

Speakers include Nick Hahn, sales and marketing director for Cotton Inc. of New York and Raleigh, N.C., James Parker, director of the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech University; and Paul Cook, president of Feather Fabrics, Inc. and the Textile Investment Group of Texas.

Grant To Help Local Police

The Texas Justice Council approved a $12,717 grant to Big Spring police.

The grant will be used to microfilm city police records in order to improve security of the records, facilitate filming and to assure retrieval.

The grants are provided for by the Federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Permian Basin Planning Council.

SUNDAY, MARCH 10, 1974

FASHION ESSENTIALS for spring are hats, like these two feather-trimmed tantalizers. In felt, they will stand up to rain and stains if sprayed with a fabric protector. During the past season, younger women discovered what their mothers already knew — that a good-looking hat provides a charming frame for a pretty face. Hats give a woman sophistication. And a man likes to be seen with a woman who's up on fashion.

Shed Pounds To Get In Shape For Spring

When was the last time you really did something nice for yourself? If you have to think back to remember, you we yourself a treat. A few sessions of out and out pampering should get rid of the winter dol-drums and give you a beautiful head start on spring.

If you're like most busy people you probably gave up baths in favor of quickie showers long ago. Here's one place where progress and relaxation simply don't go hand in hand. Start bathing again. Buy yourself some new perfume and bath accessories. You'll be amazed at how relaxing a fragrant bath can be. And with bath oil added there's no better way to soothe winter-dry skin.

If you've been wearing the same makeup for years, splurge a bit and buy some of the marvelous new cosmetics. You've probably noticed new lipstick and nail polish shades have gone from light to dark during the past couple of years. Put a little spring into your makeup by trying some of these shiny, rich colors.

And put a little spring into your hairdo, too. The by-words for this season are romantic, soft, curly. Get one of the lovely new cuts by a really good stylist and keep it looking great between visits yourself. It's easy to do with the help of so many wonderful hair-care products on the market.

If you've let a few extra pounds "creep up" on you, don't wait a minute to start losing them. Going on a diet may not seem like pampering for the moment but in the long run it really is. There's no better way to treat yourself well than by earning some admiring glances at the beach or pool. And with spring at hand, can summer be far behind?

Typecasting A Man With Spring Styles

Typecasting a man — with style! — is what spring fashions are all about. Now there's leeway for every personality type to express himself through his apparel. Whether he's continental-conservative or the classic rebel (or both!), there's a handsome range of ready-to-wear that will convey his chosen self-image at a glance.

One thing you'll note, whatever the look, it's best accomplished with fabrics of natural fiber and it's always carefully pulled together. Even those males who choose to go against the fashion establishment have learned to do so with taste.

For the man who chooses not to go the suit-and-tie route, there are a number of new coordinates that will result in a casual look that's good anywhere. A loose shirtjacket and matching pants of light, unlined wool tweed could be worn over a shirt floral-patterned in the same tweedy tones. For evening, a bushjacket and pants of black denim over a natural shantung shirt would be both casual and spectacular.

The man who likes to dress with European flair will find plenty of imports to challenge his imagination. Handknitted sweaters often come in sets with a coat-sweater plus sleeveless sweater vest. With this, a white shirt and solid tie add cosmopolitan dash. Two-tone oxfords in shades of brown and tan can be worn with grey checked trousers and grey plaid socks. Camel cashmere that reverses to plaid raises the sportcoat to new heights of luxury. For after-five, the traditional smoking jacket comes in new woven patterns of dark silk.

The arch-conservative in dress is not forgotten by menswear designers this spring. Here, too, the natural fibre is the thing — and assembling your own outfit is the fling. With a dark silk shirt printed in foulard pattern, try a white printed ascot. Don't top this with the usual dark blazer. Wear a natural cablestitch cardigan for day instead. Save the blazer for evening, and then wear one in black velvet for a change, with a silk shirt in brilliant Byzantine golds and browns, and a black bowtie. Trousers with a stitched front pleat and fuller legs combine comfort with a pleasing leanness of line.

Self-expression in clothes demands, of course, that a man be in shape to wear any style he chooses. As more and more all-American males discover the pleasures of feeling fit and looking good, they are paying more attention to exercise and nutrition. Skipping rope is in. Skipping breakfdast is out. Helps him feel as fit as he looks, whether he's the peacock or the peajacket type.

Girl Scout Week To Be Observed Here

Girl Scouts in the Big Spring area will be celebrating national Girl Scout Week with father-daughter banquets. All troops will be using the "International" theme that was displayed at their city-wide presentation, "GLOBE" two weeks ago. All of the service units will be having their own banquets as follows:

Service Unit 33, on the east side of town, will celebrate their day at the high school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m., Thursday. They plan to have a dinner of fried chicken and salads, provided by the girls, and each troop will present a song, skit or dance about international friendship and Girl Scouting. They will also do a flag ceremony, using flags of different countries which they made for the Globe and wearing Girl Guide uniforms. Guests will include the school principals and troop sonsors. Also attending will be Mrs. Lin Bell, field director.

Service Unit 34, on the west side of town, will also hold their ceremony Thursday. It will take place in Howard College cafeteria with a catered meal. Their flag ceremony will duplicate the ceremony of the GLOBE event. Each troop will present a troop program and act as hostesses for the evening. Fathers will present a surprise skit for the girls.

Service Unit 35, the north side of town, held their banquet last week at First Federal Community Room. They invited their parents to the event, as well as their brother Cub and Boy Scout troops. The honoree was the girl selling the most cookies for the troop this year.

Service Unit 36, located at Webb AFB, plans to hold its dinner Friday at Howard College with a catered dinner, with Mrs. Bell attending as an honored guest. Each troop will furnish entertainment of songs and skits to illustrate Girl Scouting. The flag ceremony will also consists of flags used at GLOBE.

Service Unit 37, Coahoma and Sand Springs, will meet at 7:30 p.m., Friday at Coahoma Elementary School, as the girls share their past year's Scouting experience with their fathers. Mrs. Bell, guest speaker, will discuss the Scouting program, its ideals and principles.

The history of the Girl Scout movement in the United States can be traced to one woman. Mrs. Juliette Gordon Low. In 1912, she became acquainted with the Girl Guide program started in England by Lord Baden Powell. She organized the first troop in her home town of Savannah, Ga., emphazing the ideal of world friendship.

Once a year, on her birthday, Juliette Low wrote a letter to all her Girl Scouts, encouraging them in their goals. To her, world friendship was a practical goal which would extend good citizenship and peaceful living to embrace the world.

When Mrs. Low died in 1926, the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund was set up as a tribute to her memory. Girls all over the world use this fund, traveling to other parts of the world to spread international peace and understanding.

Mrs. W. McNew Named Leader

Mrs. William McNew has been named to head the TOPS Club 21, assisted by Mrs. Grady McCrary, co-leader; Mrs. Bennie Bradley, secretary; Mrs. Louis Collins, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard Pferrer, weight recorder. The group met Tuesday at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

TO MARRY — Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Riherd, 1604 Kentucky Way, announce the engagement and future marriage of their daughter, Peggy Ann, to Richard Earl Williams, son of Dale Williams, Duncan, Okla., and the late Mrs. Virginia Williams. The rites will be held June 22 in First United Methodist Church. The couple will graduate in May from Southwestern State School of Pharmacy, Weatherford, Okla.

Bow Ties Bigger And Better

The bow tie, back for a return engagement, is certainly bigger and better than ever. The bows are more exaggerated than the styles worn in the Gatsby era, but they have the real haberdashery look of the '40s. Clip-ons and self-ties are wider and brighter, and are being featured in prints, paisleys, textured stripes and solids. Most buyers are convinced that they are not a fad. While bows usually make up 5 per cent of total tie stock, now they are getting a 20 per cent share. One accessory buyer commented that the resurgence of the "butterfly" was inevitable. "With sweaters featuring U-neck and V-neck styling, the bow tie just had to come back."

Mauve Softens

Mauve exemplifies the sophisticated, softened picture, following the trend to the classics set in fall."

Free, Easy Jumpers For Girls

Hurray for the free and easy look of jumpers for girls — simple to sew, simple to care for in cottons and blends, in lightweight knits. They will wear them over shirts, body shirts and knitted tops in Spring for a pulled-together look. Wear them alone for hot-weather dressing. Children's jumpers look newest in seer-sucker and other puckered fabrics, in woven or knitted fabrics, in woven or knitted denim, in awning stripes, flower and novelty prints and gingham checks.

Young fashion-leaders this spring will be seen in the easy little-nothing dress, copy-cat of mama's and sister's. Lithe little knits are "big" for all ages, including the small ones who don't like being gussied up.

Good Travel Tip

Shirts should be folded laundry style, with cardboard removed, and collars up. Stack them so that collars alternate.

SETS DATE — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Garcia, 410 NW 10th, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Lorina, to David C. Rivera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose G. Rivera, 906 S. Scurry. Vows will be exchanged June 1 at St. Thomas Catholic Church.

Start Now With Complexion Care

Start now to add complexion care to your "me" list. With a simple program, followed regularly, you'll soon notice an improvement in tone, texture of your complexion.

Fashions? Men Are Fickle As Females

When it comes to fashion, today's men are as fickle as women. Thriving on change, they seek fresh looks in shoes as well as clothing.

The past few seasons, men's heel heights seemed to parallel their new fashion awareness. A barometer of current trends indicates a more relaxed, refined approach to men's shoes — evidenced by lower heels and more classic styling

Espadrilles are enjoying a new popularity among men for leisure wear. Wrapped with sturdy, jute rope foxing (on the upper part of the shoe), 1974's fashion favorite had its beginning centuries ago in the Basque region of France.

This season's variations on a classic theme include tie and slipon espadrilles crafted in soft mesh and herringbone fabric uppers. There's an old saying — a great look never dies, it just gets better and better. Case in point — this year's handsome selection of espadrilles for men.

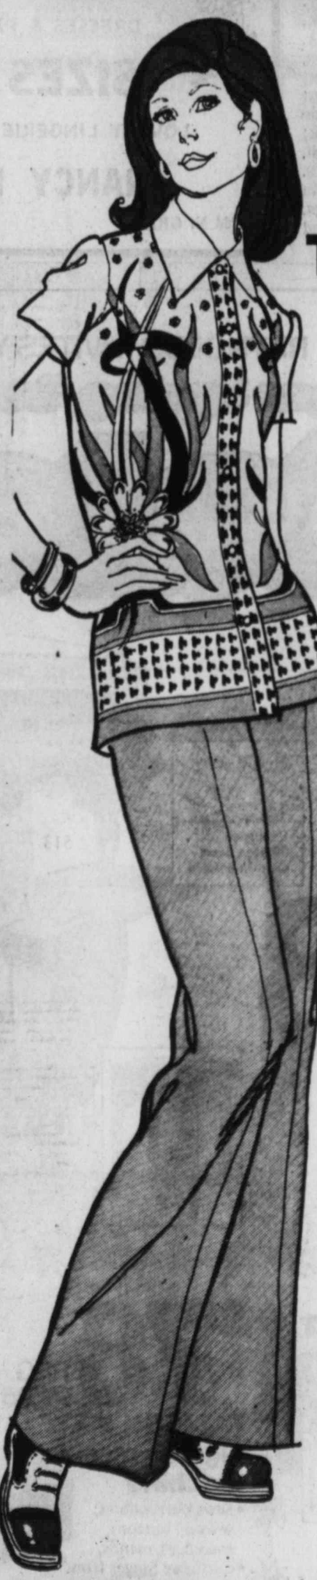

Men's Sweaters

Men's sleeveless sweaters will tie in handsomely with the continuing theme of the layered look.

Dresses Return In Romantic Air

Romance is one of the most influential trends of the Spring-Summer '74 season. The romantic look is more than a silhouette, a detail, or a fabric. It's a mood, a feeling, a new concept of dressing, a giant step away from strict classic lines towards softness and, inevitably, the dress.

The romantic mood is a conglomerate — pulling its influences from Victoriana, the Gibson Girl, the frontier, the peasant, a child's Christening dress. And although it is primarily a young look now, its influence will be felt among all age-groups.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Harris Jr., 1601 Owens, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Clarinda Sarah, to Richard T. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Wright Jr., 617 Ridgelea. The wedding will be performed June 8 in the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ with Ralph Beistle, minister of Coahoma Church of Christ, officiating.

The 'Wrap-Up'

Fashion is busy wrapping up the body for Spring '74 in blouses, jackets, skirts and dresses.

Recent Bride Feted At Shower Thursday

Mrs. Charlie Minchew, a recent bride, was honored with a gift shower Thursday in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. She was presented a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Hostesses were Mrs. Nelda Colclazer, Mrs. Winifred Greenlees, Mrs. Dottie Pietroski, Mrs. Donna Patton, Mrs. Betty Rains, Mrs. Clara Robinson, Mrs. Vada Minnick, Mrs. Virginia Hicks, Mrs. Arlenda Alexander, Mrs. Carrie Byrd, Mrs. Pallie Barnett and Mrs. Jo Meador.

Among the guests were Mrs. Minchew's daughter, Mrs. Ricky Heckler, and her sister, Mrs. Elmer Long of Stanton.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers flanked by silver candelabra holding pink tapers.

Bulky Sweaters Liked By Men

Men's sweaters gain in fashion importantce as the layered look and sportswear gain momentum. Most interesting — the sweaters with U-necks, V-necks, turtlenecks (again!). A "sleeper" is the bulky knit which is expected to zoom in popularity.

Turn Him In

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if your husband came home with lipstick on his shirt, trousers, underwear and some on his neck, too? Also, Norbert has hairs on his coat, and they were a color like nobody in our family has. (Looks like a redhead.)

I questioned him, and he swore up and down he didn't know how any of this stuff got there.

Norbert works in an office with just one woman. I've never met her, but he says she's homely as a mud fence. I want to trust him, but with all this evidence, how can I?

UPSET IN PHILADELPHIA

DEAR UPSET: First I'd find out if this "mud fence" has red hair. If she has, I'd suspect that she was close enough to Norbert to transfer the above-mentioned evidence.(P.S. Any man who comes home in that shape can plead "insanity" and get away with it.)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am in prison serving a 10-year sentence for the death of my wife. I did a terrible thing which will follow me for the rest of my life.

I have two children, 6 and 4. I love them very much. In fact, that is what led to my killing my wife. I thought she was neglecting them, so I put a gun to her head — only meaning to scare her, but I killed her. God help me, Abby, I never meant to kill her.

My problem concerns my children. They are living in a foster home now, but before then, my wife's parents kept them, and naturally they told the kids what happened to their mother but I don't think the kids fully understood it.

The foster parents were advised by a priest to tell the children something about death, so they were told their mother got sick and the angels came and took her away. They seem to accept her death, but they have been asking to visit me. They know I am "locked up." If they come here what shall I tell them?

A NUMBER IN MARYLAND

DEAR NUMBER: Don't lie. Tell them you are being punished because while you meant only to "scare" their mother, you accidentally killed her. (It's true.) With proper counseling, your children will grow to understand your part in this tragedy, and hopefully, they will harbor no bitterness or hate in their hearts for you. God bless.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My problem is primarily one of vanity. For years I have been conscious of the fact that all the women in my family have faces that start to sag early. By the time they are 40, they look like bulldogs.

I am in my early 30s, and already I can see the same thing happening to me. Is there anything I can do about it?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: See a dermatologist for advice on how to slow up the aging process. And see a plastic surgeon later.

'Little Of Everything' Describes Neckwear

"A little bit of everything is the way manufacturers are describing neckwear fashion for spring '74. While all the favorites will still be around, solids, strips, prints, plaids and checks will be updated by using bright colors and new surface textures. Linens, jacquards, raised stitching and denims are being used to achieve the textured look. To contrast with plaid suitings, prints in neat paisleys, mosaics and art deco motifs are expected to attract a lot of attention. Stripes and checks are being shown with lots of white giving them a fresh new look. One tie maker commenting on trends for spring said: "No one look will predominate. There'll be lots of prints and all-over designs as well as linens, shantungs and rough weaves. It's all a part of the classic theme." Bow ties, which kept the industry out of the doldrums during recent months, are still expected to be strong.

Styles Changing For Teen Man

A teen man's fashion outlook for spring may look like a re-run of '73 — but it is not, really.

The outlook is definitely brighter and colorful. Sure to be tops on his fashion list this spring are sport coats. Sport coat textures — in raw silk anl linen variety, will get the major attention.

Look for fabric look-alikes, everything from wool to rayon, raw silk in colors spanning the rainbow, to add spark and dash to a young man's wardrobe.

Hopsacks are still "in" for spring.

Men's Shirts: Elegant, Sporty

Men's shirts will be dominated by two looks: the elegant and the sporty. In the former, there will be bright stripes and classic fabrics such as chambrays and oxfords.

Deadline for registering for the free mail-study series, "Your Clothing Dollar", has been extended due to numerous requests, according to Miss Sherry Mullin, county home demonstration agent.

"This home study course will include information to help you make your clothing dollar stretch farther and give you greater satisfaction in seeing yourself and your family dressed attractively", said Miss Mullin.

Persons wishing to become a more aware shopper, when it comes to knowing about clothing and fabrics and what to expect of them, may enroll in the course by calling the extension officer, 267-8469. The five-lesson series has been developed by Miss Mullin, and the lessons will include "The Fabrics You Wear", "Label Language," "Sizing Up", "The Real You" and "Dollar Stretchers."

Handbags Look Slim, Softer

How will the romantic mood be interpreted in handbags? Variably. Evening bags made of velvets, satins and beads will sport slim chains or remain handle-less and double as a clutch.

For day wear, the feminine feeling takes over with a continuation of the slim, soft shapes. Attaches, envelopes and the spectator look promise to be best sellers.

The junior market looks to recycled denim bags. Domestic vinyls and urethanes should remain important for spring.

Top Tallies In Duplicate Play

The Mitchell movement was used when the La Gallinas duplicate bridge group met Friday afternoon at Big Spring Country Club.

North-south winners were Mrs. Ollie Anderson and Mrs. Bill Edwards, first; Mrs. John Taylor and Mrs. George McAlister Jr., second; and Mrs. David Proffitt and Mrs. Rick Chambers, third. The east-west winners were Mrs. Paschal Odom and Mrs. Joe Horton, first; Mrs. D. O. Gray and Mrs. Harold Davis, second; and Mrs. Birt Allison and Mrs. Monroe Gafford, third.

The games will continue at 10 a.m., Friday at the club.

'Soft, Fluid, Floating' Describes The Look

Soft, fluid and floating . . . those are the words that best describe the Spring 1974 look of fashion. It shows up in fabrics, tailoring, and even the new curving hairstyles.

Emphasis returns to the feminine shape — waists and bosoms are back, hiplines rounded and wrapped. Stockings are sheer, and shoes have higher heels and a more open look with sling-backs and sandals for day and night. Colors are softer, too, with cream-to-beige shades in casual wear, and luscious peach, cream and pale jade for evening.

DISPLAYING part of the fashion merchandise now ready for spring shoppers at Montgomery Ward are Mrs. Katina Taylor, left, and Mrs. Eucalle Webb. Wards is offering a full line of the latest styles selected at leading markets in the country.

The non-suit will share top fashion rating with the more feminine hair styles. The non-suit shuns construction and almost doesn't look like a suit in supple knits, jerseys and soft synthetic. Gone are hard edges and severe tailoring. Often it's three pieces, with a clingy blouse or sweater top. Skirts are softly fuller or pleated. Jackets can be blouson, collarless cardigan, pullover wrapped or belted.

Hair also has a rounder, softer look, shining, moving freely, healthier-looking. Obviously, the new feminine charisma calls for simply superb hair — this year it's fashion's most important accessory. Everyone knows that it takes the cleanest of clean hair to fall flatteringly soft and loose. That means more frequent washings with a gentle shampoo which keeps hair clean and dandruff-free. Gone is last year's sleek, sculptured look. Now hair moves and swings softly. All lengths are right, but especially good is the versatile cut two inches below the earlobe.

Along with the non-suit, fashion for Spring 1974 will see the return of the feminine blouse, the ankle length swirl skirt, longer sweaters with shawl collars, floating scarves and bright tones of green, blue and red to contrast with the misty creams and pastels. Chiffon and shirring will add to the romantic mood. Spring 1974 will see femininity in ascendancy — maybe that's why the experts tell us that "touch dancing" is making a comeback.

Men's Belt Of Krinkle Patent

In keeping with the concept of the belt being a focal point of the wardrobe, one of the new fashion-styled men's belts is a handsome "krinkle" patent leather with complementing mesh inlay

Surplice Wrap Is Body-Shaping

Look for the surplice wrap that is body-shaping and versatile. It can be wildly provocative or demure enough for a child to wear. It can wrap to the front, to the back . . . It can wrap the body tightly or loosely.

Scents For Men On Increase

The variety of scents for men has grown in leaps and bounds, but we're still way behind the ancient Romans, who used different scents for every part of the body — mint for the arms, palm oil for the chest and ivy essence for the knees?

Why Pivot Point Hair Designing

BLOCK SETTING VS. PIVOT POINT

Ordinary Technique	Pivot Point Technique
1. Block setting is a non-thinking, non-professional way of hair designing.	1. Hair designing must be done in the beauty salon by a professional hair designer.
2. Block setting can be done by a layman. It keeps the patron out of the salon instead of increasing business, by a percentage of from 40-60% or more	2. The patron can comb and handle her hair style easier.
3. Designs look alike . . . firm, round, square, bubble.	3. Is based on the principle of art, and elements of design.
4. It is not logical to roll hair under, in straight shapes, over the entire head.	4. Hair style is predesigned, molded, and scaled prior to setting.
5. Straight shapes around the hair line create splits if curved design is needed.	5. Comb-outs of the hair styles are not forced.
6. The patron has a problem in combing the lost hair design.	6. Is proven, tested, and factual.
7. Block setting needs to be forced into the design by backcombing, clips, pins, and lacquer.	7. Has a combination of curvature and straight lines and is more youthful.
8. If curvature design is not planned, then the lines of the hair style must be forced in, and thus causes weakness in the hair style.	8. There is a big difference between Professional Hair Designing and "home" or "kitchen" hair styling.
	9. There is a big difference between a Licensed Hairdresser and a Licensed Pivot Point Hair Designer.

In addition to hair designing our students are taught – Precision Hair Cutting – Blow Combing – Blow Drying – Thermo Iron Curling and Men's Hair Shaping and Styling.

ENCORE! — The shirtdress for Spring '74 is softened to give a womanly look to the wearer — and make men look her way. Here, polka dots and stripes pair up for one of the liveliest ways of dressing. Softness is the secret, and the word is "fluid."

Chic Modern Girls Are Going For Hats

Younger women are learning some fashion savvy their mothers have known for years. There's nothing quite like a hat to give an outfit impact, attract admiring glances and just plain make you feel good!

Hats started moving back onto the fashion scene a couple of seasons ago. It was the trendy young gals at St. Tropez and other popular Riviera spots that rediscovered them. By last summer and fall, they were really making inroads in the American fashion picture. This spring they are an accepted accessory and the newest "must-haves" among the well-dressed.

Hats for spring come in a variety of shapes and sizes: head-hugging cloches, romantic, wide-brim "picture" hats, face-framing bonnets, late show, tailored, fedoras and "Gatsby" hats with pert rolled-back brims. Look for delicious tropical colors like shrimp, Carib blue, ripe melon, parrot green, tropical orange as oyster, sand and driftwood, the smart new neutrals.

The most important spring hats are made of felt. Because this good-looking fabric is so vulnerable to stains and spots, it's wise to protect new felt hats with fabric protector. A quick spraying makes hats as well as other wearing apparel stain resistant and practically immune to sudden showers.

Most of the new hats depend on strategically placed trimming to update them to an unmistakenly '74 look. Feathers and flowers are the most popular but keep your eye on veils. The little black hat with a sexy, mysterious veil is destined to make big fashion news this spring.

Western Look Has Wide Appeal

The western look, which is destined for gala evenings, is headed for daywear in Spring-Summer '74! Two breeds, the wild and the mild, will mix — such thoroughbred western hallmarks as pointed bodice yokes, snap closures, wide cuffs, skirt yokes, fringes, important contrasting piping, top-stitching and embroidery will show up on shirts, skirts, pants and dresses.

Be aware of the wide appeal of the Western Look — the wild and more authentic interpretations for junior and children; the more subdued variations for more mature women.

"Casual Slacks" Could Lure Men From Jeans

Casual slacks are back. Easy, comfortable and inviting enough to lure men from blue jeans, Modified baggy styling and fresh, natural fabrics epitomize the relaxed but elegant spirit that is influencing men's styles for spring.

Trouser styling is the result of two seasons of experimentation with the baggy. The emphasis now is on moderation. A slimmer silhouette has emerged and it could almost be classified as straight leg. The most popular version of the modified baggy begins with a tight-fitting seat falling straight to a 20-inch knee and then subtly flaring to a 22-inch bottom with a 2-2½ inch cuff.

Beltless looks such as the elasticized waist, the semishirred waist, extension waistbands with self-closures and the Continental back belt are a further expression of the new relaxed posture of pants.

These new styles, reminiscent of pool-side leisurewear that has usually been seen mainly around resort areas, adapt easily to the fabrics that are leading the way for spring.

Linen looks and other slub weaves with surface interest indicate a swing toward natural earthy fabrications. Plaids remain important but will share the limelight with stripes. Add to the new weaves a totally fresh pallette of spring pastels for a refreshing turn-about toward casual elegance.

Extreme Shoes To 'Tone Down'

Women's shoes will depend on sole interest and higher heels for fashion emphasis, according to stylist. Platforms are expected to continue important, worn with pants especially.

Heels up to 4 inches or higher will be seen in younger styles. However, there will be a tendency to "tone down" the bizarre or extreme. Platforms will be covered in leather.

SPANISH CLASS IS CHANGED

The free beginner Spanish course being held at Knott Community Center has been changed to Monday evening (for this week only) because the instructor, Charles Hensley of the U.S. Border Patrol, must be out of town Tuesday. The class will begin at 7:30 p.m., tomorrow night and will be back on the Tuesday schedule next week.

Encore For The Fifties: Influence Being Felt

Encore! The '50s: The influences of the '50s is felt everywhere, in New York and Paris. And, although it's a young look, its influence is already being felt in more conservative circles. Select your patterns with distinct fashion looks in mind — the sundress, pedal pushers, straight skirts, the circle skirt, strapless tops and dresses, and the prom dress . . .all with the important young look in view. Co-ordinate the patterns with '50s-inspired fabrics such as bizzare prints, slipcover florals, wallpaper prints, satins, metallic, crisp cottons, terry cloth, elasticized puckered fabrics, and organdies, tulle, and lace for prom dresses. Interesting, all by itself, that the prom again motivates fashion.

The Slip-Dress For Street Wear

At one time everyone wore a full slip. Then it was the half slip; the chemise slip; the short slip; the bra slip and so on. But, for Spring-Summer '74 the important slip is the one that's meant to be seen on the streets . . . the slip dress!

JACK WINTER does it again! His sportswear is fashion right, easy-to-care-for and packable — ready to go when you are.

We have a lovely selection in ice cream colors of coral and turquoise, plaids, solids or prints — mix and match as you like.

Diamonds Shine In Clusters

Jewerly designers are inspired by the versatility and brilliance of small diamonds (usually three to 15 points), and use them in intriguing ways, to heighten or underscore the design of a piece of jewelry.

One of the ways designers use small diamonds is in pave, or the massing of many small diamonds together to form an all-diamond surface. Another technique is to use a cluster of small diamonds, which gives the appearance of a larger single diamond, but at far less cost. Still other designs are executed mainly in gold, with small diamonds adding just the right amount of sparkle to lift the jewelry out of the "everyday" and into the very special.

Sister Eleanor To Address Club

Sister Eleanor will present a program on religious education and the national catechetical directory Tuesday evening for the Immaculate Heart of Mary Mothers' Club.

Parents, both mother and father, are asked to attend the program which will be held in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

The national catechetical director will contain directives and guidelines, officially issued by the Catholic bishops of the United States, for teaching religion in every phase of life to all Catholics in the nation.

Also on the agenda will be a discussion of the spring festival, March 16-17 and the club's participation in an upcoming flea market.

MRS. LARRY R. TRUMBULL

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Mary A. Fitzgibbons and Airman 1.C. Larry R. Trumbull exchanged wedding vows at 7:30 p.m., Saturday in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Albert Carlile, 1518 Kentucky Way.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Fitzgibbons, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Trumbull of El Paso.

The Rev. Eldon Cook of Berea Baptist Church performed the ceremory before an improvised altar accented with silver candelabra entwined with English ivy flanked by baskets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and carnations.

The bride, attired in a street-length dress of blue and white, carried a bouquet of assorted spring flowers tied with white streamers.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was Mrs. Albert Carlile, who wore a blue dress and carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

Jeff Mitchell served as best man.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Terri Trumbull of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgibbons, Kermit; and Mrs. Pat Smith of Kansas.

The bridegroom, who graduated from Abilene High School, is stationed with the Air Force at Webb Air Force Base. The bride graduated from Big Spring High School and is employed at Medical Arts Clinic and Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgibbons will reside at 1209 Scurry. They plan a delayed wedding trip.

She is director of the Planned Parenthood organization in Midland.

Glittering Chains, Small Bracelets

Jewelry will follow the feminine mood of Spring 1974, too. Slim shiny chains, delicate bracelets, less bulk and more glitter, and a return of the earring as an important accessory tell the story.

Accessories Get Priority

Fashion experts are calling Spring 1974 the "season of the accessory". Reason: this year all those little extras rate high — from floating scarves to a touch of flattering blusher.

Those fashion scarves in softest silks and chiffon often turn up in unexpected places — in the role of elegant belts, for example. Purses are important, too. You'll see fewer shoulder bags and more flat envelopes, pouchy zippered totes with handles, and lots of interest in the classic swagger bag with handles. A variety of leathers and colors will add interest.

Shoes will turn to the feminine mood, too. Platforms are out, except for those wonderfully comfortable walking shoes with crepe soles which go on and on. Otherwise, reflecting the trend to dresses, pretty pumps with higher heels are back, many in the new two-tone leathers. Shoes will have a barer look with lots of sandals for day and evening, and the sling-back will be seen everywhere. Another change in store this Spring — shoes worn with pants will have flatter heels and a more delicate air; gone are the "clunkies."

Hosiery will be sheer and nude-toned to blend with the prettier shoes. And at the top of the accessory story, hats are back to give special "looks" to ensembles, from "The Great Gatsby" vamp to all-American outdoor girl. In the evening, hats may be no more than a bit of veil.

Make-up will be the most important accessory of all this Spring — light and natural, but definitely there. The glowing, gleamy look complements perfectly Spring's young and feminine theme. If Nature shortchanged you on gleam, just do-it-youself! Before putting on lipsick, apply a thin film of patroleum jelly to lips. It gives an ultra-glossy look and also prevents unattractive dryness. Give gleam to your cheeks, too, by stroking a dab of petroleum jelly on each cheek before applying blusher. It highlights skin and protects it at the same time.

Don't forget eye-appeal this Spring. Petroleum jelly is a great eyelid gleamer and a gentle, effective eye makeup remover. For a new, meltingly feminine look use one of the new eye crayons in a pastel shade. Outline the eye and blur the crayon with your fingertip. This gives the eye a "floating" look.

Public May See SCUBA Club Film

"Carnival Under the Sea," a color film, will be shown, free to the public, at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday at the YMCA. The film will be held in conjunction with a meeting of Spring Divers, a SCUBA diving club headed by Bill Towery. With narration, the movie is a close-up of interesting coral and rare fish filmed at the Great Barrier Reef off the coast of New Caledonia.

Rook Club Date

The Rook Club will meet at 2:30 p.m., Friday at Coker's Restaurant with Mrs. J. S. Terry serving as hostess.

BETROTHED — Mr. and Mrs. John Wilcott, 600 Runnels, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patrica Ann Sherrill, to James W. Gregg Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Pennsylvania. The wedding date is June 8, dwith the rites performed at First Baptist Church by Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor.

Hyperions Advised On Gourmet Cooking

Mrs. Walter Wheat and Mrs. Don McDonald presented a program on gourmet cookery at a meeting of the 1955 Hyperion Club in the McDonald home, 510 Highland.

WILL WED — Mr. and Mrs. Earney Maker, Stanton, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Judy Beth, to Michael Gilbert Madison of Midland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Madison, Stanton, and Mrs. Nadine Lafesta, Galveston. The wedding will be April 9 at First Baptist Church, Stanton, with the Rev. Warren Hall as officiant.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Wheat, Mrs. John Ritenour and Mrs. H. C. Ernsting.

The speakers advised the women to use basic recipes but be adventursome in their cooking, trying new and interesting foods. Even with a simple dish, one can experiment and use "courage and imagination" in its preparation. Giving cooking tips, they said meat should not be salted prior to cooking, for this makes it tough.

"Don't heat lefovers", said Mrs. Wheat. "Create new things from them". In conjunction with the program, each member shared a cooking hint.

Gourmet desserts were served.

During business conducted by Mrs. C. W. Mahoney, president, Mrs. W. A. Moore was named chairman of the nominating committee. It was announced that Mrs. Jim Bob Cade will become a member of the club. As a service to the community, the club will give $50 to the West Side Day Care Center.

The next meeting, April 2, will be at the home of Mrs. Jimmy Morehead, 704 Highland Drive, where a poolside style show will be presented by Hemphill-Wells.

Legion Post Party Will Fete Vets

Cathy Meeks was named alternate, and other representatives from Big Spring High School and Coahoma High School were Carol Hart, Pattie Meyers, Annie Barbie and Kathy Brown. All the girls will go to the Seguin meeting and be banquet guests of the auxiliary.

In other business, the auxiliary made plans to assist Legionaires with a birthday party for veterans at 6 p.m., March 16, at the Legion Hall. Invitations have been issued, and district officers are expected to attend. Also, there will be a pot luck supper for auxiliary members and their husbands at 7 p.m., March 28. A St. Patrick's Day theme will be used.

A donation of $50 was made to the Indigent Patients Fund at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The Color Forecast: Clean, Clear, Bright

The color fashion forecast looms clear and bright for spring '74.

Cream, probably the most important color on the horizon, balances a slate of mid-bright tones, such as blue, mango and jade green.

Color speicalists of the major fiber companies selected the colors they thought most significant for spring.

"Everybody's talking about cream" says one color coordinator. "It's a progression of the pales of '73 neutralized and acting as ground color. The brights are very clean, clear and light rather than heavy.

"They include yellow, pure delft blue, orange-red, lime, summer green, hot pink, orange and turquoise.

"The purple family is back in red-lilac version and the spectator darks have a clean, crisp look in neat patterns lightened with cream."

A fashion director of another fibers house says, "There's a resurgence of elegant, luxurious colors. The naturals — camel, beige and gray — will dominate and cream with a touch of yellow looks right. In the midium bright range, the new is cornflower blue, hot pink and ornage. The deeps complete the spring '74 color story for the spectator look."

According to another seer, mango will be a hot color.

"Where a woman used to change looks by style, she'll now do it by color. She may feel fragile and feminine and put on one of the bright pastels; she may feel adventuresome as if going on a jungle safari and put on one of the naturals; she may remember the carefree days of her childhood and put on one of the summer brights, or she may feel like a million dollar executive and decide on the city darks or spectator look. We think all these color feelings are valid and needed for spring-summer '74."

According to an influential fabrics and color coordinator, there are two important areas — bright and neutrals.

"The brights haven't been with us except as an accent, but they now become a new direction. They're pungent colors, with the greatest strength in cornflower blue. The neutrals are the other area because of the trend to linen and pongee looks. Chamois, beige, natural, brandy and cream are good follow-throughs to the classic feeling."

A fashion director says, "It's time for the new emphasis on skirts and dresses. The blues will be important because they're traditionally good dress colors. The neutrals are, of course, natural and marvelous alone or as a ground for prints combined with any of the strong colors."

"Colors are a bit softer," says another fashion advisor. "We haven't done the light pastels, but a range of tonalities that run from the tints to the darks. The neutrals like a pale pinky buff or corn silk look subtle."

Camp Director To Show Films Here March 18

Mrs. Jewel Jennett, camp director for the West Texas Girl Scout Council, will be in Big Spring March 18 to introduce the summer camp programs offered by the council.

All interested parents of Girl Scouts are invited to attend the presentation, which will be held that day at 7 p.m. at First United Methodist Church, Fourth and Scurry.

Also present at the meeting will be Mrs. Jill Goetz, Big Spring day camp director, who will explain some of the camp programs to be offered at the Silver Heels site.

Film slides of Camp Boothe Oaks, located near Sweetwater, will be shown, after which questions will be answered and camp folders distributed.

City, County Will Be Asked To Finance Seniors' Center

Miss Bessie Love was re-elected chairman of the Howard County Council on Aging Thursday. Serving with her will be John Clancy, vice chairman; J. B. Hollis, treasurer; and Mrs. Doug Williams, secretary. The meeting was held at the new Senior Citizens' Center, located at Howard College.

Miss Love said she has submitted to both the city and the county a budget proposal for the operation of the Senior Citizens' Center. It requests donation of a range, refrigerator and piano, plus $50 per month from the city and the same amount from the county. The building (formerly the Adult Education Building) is being rented from the college for $50 per month, with utilities and janitorial service provided. The additional funds being requested are needed for the purchase of supplies, program materials and possible part-time help.

The Senior Citizens' Center occupies a single-story brick building on Adams Drive, one block east of Birdwell Lane. It includes two large meeting rooms, kitchen area, restrooms and storage area.

"This building has been secured by the council for the benefit of all senior citizens in Howard County," Miss Love emphasized. The council is an advisory group which, according to its charter, is "organized exclusively for charitable and educational purposes directed toward the welfare of the aging." The center is open each Monday through Friday, 1-5 p.m., for people to visit or play table games. Senior citizens' organization are welcome to hold their meetings at the center.

Miss Sherry Mullin, home demonstration agent, announced that the Governor's Conference on Aging will be held in Austin, March 24-25. Last year's conference was attended by Miss Mullin, Miss Love and Miss Nancy Easley of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program. It is hoped that a large group of Howard County senior citizens will be able to make the trip this year. Those interested are asked to call Miss Mullin's office, 267-8469.

Events being planned for the Senior Citizen Center include 42 tournaments, painting, liquid embroidery, bingo, crafts, needlework and a blood pressure clinic, according to Mrs. Williams, acting program chairman. Program committee members include William Dawes, Mrs. Harlan Huibregtse, Mr. and Mrs. John Samuel, Virgil Clark, Miss Love, Clancy, and Miss Mullin. Anyone having suggestions for programs is encouraged to stop by the center in the afternoon.

Special activities coming up at the center include the monthly potluck luncheon March 20 and the formal grand opening April 5. On Wednesdays, beginning March 27, afternoon activities will be led by various senior citizen organizations, on a rotating basis.

The center's budget request has been placed on the city council agenda for March 26, 9 a.m. It may be considered by the county commission at about the same time. All senior citizens wanting to show support for a center are requested to attend these meetings.

Any organization desiring a speaker from the Howard County Council on Aging should contact Miss Mullin's office.

Card tables are needed by domino players at the center. Donated tables will be appreciated, according to Miss Love, as will donations of books of trading stamps to be used for tables.

Mrs. Jenkins Is UTU Hostess

Mrs. L. D. Jenkins was hostess and presided for Friday's business luncheon held by the Ladies Auxiliary to the United Transportation Union.

Mrs. Jenkins used a St. Patrick's Day theme in decorations and presented each mmber with a shamrock. The table was accented with a St. Patrick's Day printed cloth and napkins, and green candles were used.

The invocation was by G. C. Ragsdale, and the charter was undraped for Mrs. Edna Knowles.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., April 12.

ABWA Enrollment Events Start Today

"Hand of Friendship" enrollment events are being held this week by two local chapters of the American Business Women's Association.

The Cactus Chapter will hold a tea today from 2 to 4 p.m. in the First Federal Community Room, according to Mrs. Cecil McDonald, president. Mrs. Robert A. Sparks is tea chairman, and receiving guests with her will be Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Pat Watts, Mrs. Bob Clark and Mrs. T. A. Proctor.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Delois Thomas, Mrs. Vena Lawson, Mrs. Mildred Mitchell, Mrs. LaVerne Rogers, Mrs. Alice Johnson, Mrs. Max Pitts, Mrs. James Abbe and Mrs. Dimas Anguiano.

Past presidents will serve at the tea table which will carry out the "Grand March" theme with red, white and blue centerpiece of carnations flanked by candles. Silver and crystal appointments will be used.

The event is held semi-annually to introduce the ABWA to business women in this area. The ABWA, founded in 1949, now has over 74,000 members.

"The chief function of ABWA is to help women in business advance through education, increased competence and through upgrading of professional skills and business attitudes," said Mrs. McDonald. "Our chapter has awarded local scholarships to 61 persons."

A highlight of the program will be a style show presented by Mrs. Carl Eason of the Tom Boy Shop.

Designers Like Primitive Yellow

Designer houses like the look of mid-bright yellow.

"Yellow in the primitive range is a fresh new ground color. We've had a good reaction to all the vegetable colors, as well as the spectator darks in combination with bone. Pastels are going into a ground color story with brights on top. There's a bright green tinged with yellow that's right and topical, like the lime of 10 years ago. One surprise has been the lusty shades picked up by the women's wear market from men's wear."

The Spring City Chapter will hold its enrollment party Monday at 7 p.m. in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, announced Mrs. Jimmy Jennings, president.

The 25 members of the Spring City Chapter provided four scholarships the past year; two of the recipients being Miss Melba Dement and Miss Sandra Magers.

Chapter officers are Mrs. Jennings, president; Mrs. Kenneth Connor, vice president; Mrs. Wayne Wallace, recording secretary; Mrs. William Jackson, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Ruth Harper, treasurer. Mrs. Jennings was named Woman of the Year by the chapter.

Chairman for the party is Ms. Ollene McShan. A program entitled, "Tell It Like It Is", will be presented, and a barbecued venison dinner will be served.

Journalists Get Camera

Movie film and a movie camera have been given to journalists at Howard College at Big Spring to allow them to learn to shoot news stories for television.

Students in television production classes at the college are using a 16mm movie furnished by KMID-TV 2 in Midland.

"We are pleased to announce that through the kindness of Mr. Ray Herndon, station manager at Channel 2, our journalists may now get actual experience in filming and writing news stories for the television medium," says Dr. Thomas Salter, college president.

The students work directly with the KMID news team, shooting film and then engaging in critique sessions with Harry Neuhardt and Jim Ryerson. Neuhardt is the station's news director.

Kevin Calley and Daryl Richardson, Howard College freshmen who are presently taking part in the intern project, say that it is a rewarding experience to take film of a news event and then watch it on television that evening.

TROPHY WINNERS — Champion women rodeo riders from Howard College at Big Spring show the trophy they won at Sul Ross recently. Misses Carolyn Roane, Toni Pettigrew and Kay Proctor competed in San Angelo this weekend at the annual Stock Show and Rodeo.

Kay Proctor Does Well At Stockton

All that is pretty isn't necessarily tame.

This describes a Howard College at Big Spring cowgirl who took top honors in barrel racing at the recent first Sul Ross NIRA Rodeo held in the Pecos County Coliseum at Fort Stockton.

She was also a threat to win barrels at the 41st Annual San Angelo Stock Show Rodeo, which ends today in the San Angelo Coliseum.

Kay Proctor, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Proctor of Odessa and a member of the Howard College Rodeo Club, was also a member of her college team which captured the team title in the women's division of the Sul Ross Rodeo.

Miss Proctor is currently leading the Southwestern Region of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association and has a good opportunity to become the 1973-74 NIRA champion barrel racer.

"Her success has playel a big part in moving the HC girls rodeo team into a second place in the Region standings," declared Byron Hedges, instructor in the agriculture department at Howard College. He is advisor for the teams and sponsor of the rodeo club.

The Howard Colleige girls' rodeo team is comprised of Tona Pettigrew, Clovis NM, who holds second place in the S. W. Regional barrel racing competition; and Carolyn Roane, Big Spring, team member and talented performer.

Miss Proctor's success in winning barrel races is due to her ability not only to ride in competitive events, but also to train barrel racing horses, the H.C. instructor said. "While attending college, she also has worked with several horses which she plans to sell in the near future," he added.

In addition to attending the San Angelo Stock Show RCA-approved rodeo, she will also compete in the West Texas State University NIRA Rodeo at Amarillo next week and will be back in San Angelo in March to compete in the coming Angelo State University State NIRA Rodeo.

In 1969 Miss Proctor won the title of reserve world champion polebender in the American Junior Rodeo Association. The next year she was crowned AJRA World's Champion All-Around Cowgirl after having won the World Champion Barrel Race and reserve champion All-Around Cowgirl.

Her rodeoing career was temporarily interrupted when she broke her collar bone from a fall during a horse race, and due to the injury her rodeo activity was limited but she received the AJRA sportsmanship award for 1972. In 1973, she won the barrel race at the AJRA national finals, after setting the faster in the rodeo.

Miss Proctor's rodeo winning include the barrel race and all-around cowgirl awards of the 1973 Big Spring AJRA Rodeo; the barrel race in 1970 at the Stamford Cowboy Reunion; and placing in barrel racing competition in 1971-72 at the San Angelo RCA Rodeo and at the Odessa RCA Rodeo. She also has won two go-rounds at the Baton Rouge RCA Rodeo.

In 1973, her rodeo competition was limited because "most of her time was spent jocking race horses", since she currently holds jocky license at race tracks, including one at Juarez, Mexico.

Howard College girls won the team trophy as the Spring National Intercollegiate Rodeo circuit was resumed at Fort Stockton. Sul Ross University served as host for the event.

Miss Proctor, who is leading the Southwest region in barrel racing, picked up another first place, and Tona Pettigrew finished second to fasten her hold in that spot in the region. Carolyn Roane placed as the team won the girl's trophy and held on to third in regional standings.

Among the men performers, Raleight McCullough was the only one to place grabbing second place in bull riding, helping him retain his first-place rank in this event in the region. Next competition will be March 9 when Amarillo College is host, said Byron Hedges, coach.

Michael Ezzell Announces His Bid For Legislature

Michael H. Ezzell, 29, who previously had filed for a place on the ballot in the May 4 Democratic primary for representative from the 63rd Legislative District, made his formal announcement Saturday.

MICHAEL H. EZZELL

Within the next fortnight he plans to take a leave of absence from his present duties with the Snyder school system to campaign full-time.

Ezzell is a native of Wharton and was reared in Port Lavaca. He was married in Big Spring to Betty Sorrells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Sorrells, and they have two children, Michael, 3, and Marla, six months. He holds his bachelor of science and master of education degres from Abilene Christian College and has done post graduate work at Texas Tech. A resident of Snyder since 1967, he is an elementary school counselor.

He is active in many affairs, including serving as preacher for the Church of Christ at Fluvanna. He also is president elect of the Snyder Rotary Club, past president of the Scurry County Unit of Texas State Teachers Association, treasurer for the district TSTA, treasurer for the Scurry unit for retarded children, president of the Scurry County School Federal Credit unit. Ezzell also is life member of the TSTS and NEA, a member of Classroom Teachers Association, and of American Personnel and Guidance Association.

In his announcement, he had this to say:

"I feel there is a strong need for the people that are being represented to have confidence and trust in their elected officials. They need someone they feel who is an honest individual and one in whom they have faith.

"In a time in which budgets are becoming larger, I feel there is a need to look closely at the expenses and the requests that are being made. More than ever we are going to find people having to defend their requests and their needs.

"Your state representative has a responsibility to represent all the people of the district. He cannot be one who is tied to a special interest groups or to a particular concern. He is elected to serve all the people.

"If elected this is my promise to the people — that I will strive to be just that, a representative of all the people."

Seeks Damages In Spray Suit

J. P. Womack, who farms feed and vegetable crops in the Coahoma community, has filed suit in 118th District Court alleging damages due to defoliate sprayed by airplane.

His petition against Ray Quinn doing business as Valley Flying Service and Buster Broughton claims the incident happened in the fall of 1973.

Because of the spraying, Womack contends he was unable to fulfill his contract with the Coahoma school cafeteria for vegetables. And he claims he had to buy feed for his livestock.

Womack is suing for $2,000 in actual plus an unspecified amount in exemplary damages.

Aliens Killed In Collision

OCOTILLO, Calif. (AP) — A U.S. Immigration Service van carrying aliens for deportation to Mexico slammed into the rear of a parked truck Friday killing the van's driver and 12 aliens, the California Highway Patrol said.

Officials at El Centro Community Hospital said the other six persons in the van were in critical condition.

The van, driven by Albert Feld, an immigration service detention officer, was traveling about 50 miles an hour in high winds when it ran off Interstate 8 and struck the rear of a refrigerated truck parked at a rest stop on the shoulder, the patrol said.

The border patrol said the passengers, all men, had been arrested recently for being in the United States illegally. They were being transported from El Centro to Chula Vista, near San Diego, where they were to be deported.

Their identities were not immediately available.

The Face of The Times

Wendy is the outdoor type . . . doesn't mind the wind in her face . . . hair blowing in the breeze . . . loves to ski and go mountain climbing. She's the picture of slightly-disheveled beauty. But bring her indoors—the first thing Wendy reaches for is a comb.

Disorder cannot mar beauty when there is a natural or reasonable cause. But the disorder that comes from irresponsibility or violence casts its ugliness over everything it touches.

Doesn't this mean a growing appreciation of the Church's vital role in our society? The dishevelment we see on the face of the times didn't happen with a passing gust of wind. We need—our world needs—the religious foundation on which a stable society must stand.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MARCH 10, 1974 SEC. B

HC, Odessa, WTC Divvy Up Honors

Three rounds of competition were telescoped into two days of junior college golf play Friday and Saturday and as many winners emerged.

The competition started Friday at the Big Spring Country Club, at which time another round of Western Conference competition was completed and the first round of the Howard College-Western Texas College Intercollegiate Tournament took place.

Western Texas emerged at the winner in the conference match with an aggregate score of 273, beating out Odessa College by four strokes.

The action shifted to the Snyder Country Club Saturday and Tommy Rutledge's Howard College contingent emerged as a surprise winner in conference play with a total score of 285, two strokes better than Odessa College.

However, in the HC-TWC Intercollegiate itself, Odessa's two day score of 584 proved good enough. Howard was second with 586, followed by Western Texas, 590; NMJC, 601; South Plains, 609; Amarillo, 610; Frank Phillips, 683; and NMMI, 714.

In addition, Odessa won the low-ball score with a 125 while Western Texas, Howard and NMJC tied for second, each with a 127.

In medalist competition for the two days, Danny Watlers of Western Texas won with a 143 while Mike Podolak of Odessa; Ricky Cox of Howard and Bruce Abbott of Odessa tied for second, each at 144. In the sudden death playoff, Podolak prevailed by eliminating Abbott on the first hole and Cox on the second.

Howard College was only one over par Saturday in Snyder and Rutledge attributed it to the play of Cox, who had a 67 in the wind. Too, Glenn Smith recovered well after firing a double bogie on the first hole and settled for a respectable 72.

Conference play resumes in three weeks with the Great Plains Tournament at Borger.

Monterey Rips Herd In Two Games Here

Lubock Monterey toppled Big Spring in both ends of a doubleheader here Saturday, sending the Steers down to their seventh straight defeat. The locals have won only once. The Plainsmen copped the opener, 5-4, and the afterpiece, 10-2.

In the second contest, the visitors scored all their runs in the final three innings.

Brad Harrelson clubbed a home run in the opener for Monterey, the blow coming in the fifth with none on. Shortstop Sammy Rodriquez smashed a four-baser for Big Spring in the fourth with the sacks deserted.

Earl Reynolds and John Morelion each had two safeties for Big Spring in the opener.

The Plainsmen went ahead to stay in the sixth when, with one out, Westfall reached base on an error. After two men had been retired, Harrelson was hit by a pitched ball, Marlin Hamilton walked and Jimmy Shankle doubled to drive in two tallies.

Big Spring was ahead in the nightcap until Monterey exploded for five runs in the fifth. Harrelson went all the way on the mound for Monterey, scattering six hits and allowing no Steer to hit safely more than once.

Wilkes smashed a homer for Lubbock in the fifth with one on. He also had two doubles while Bob Evans and Harrleson each connected safely twice for the Plainsmen.

The Steers will try to break into the win column here Monday afternoon against Snyder.

Hawks Beaten By Hill In Regional Finals

By JACK COWAN

BROWNWOOD — The Hill Junior College Rebels knocked Howard College out of its season's long dream Saturday in Brownwood Coliseum with a 107-99 victory in the Region V finals.

Hill, using the red-hot shooting of Steve Jones and big Barry Davis, turned the game into a runaway in the final minutes as turnovers burned the Howard cagers.

Davis hit 33 points and Jones 37 as the Rebels advanced to the NJCAA National Tournament with a 26-10 mark.

For the Hawks, the season ends at 35-6 despite the work of all-tournament selections Taylor Williams and Thomas Bledsoe, who hit 26 and 24 points, respectively. Leroy Lumzy also threw in 22 in the loss.

Williams and Bledsoe were joined on the all-tournament squad by Jones, while Davis was named Most Valuable Player.

Obide Morgan of Hill, Harold Rhodes of Amarillo, Curtis Thomas of Weatherford, Mark Lappa of McLennan, Joe Pride of Clarendon, Johnny Brooks of Odessa and Danny McDaniels of Western Texas rounded out the honor squad.

In a battle for third place Saturday night, Clarendon slugged Odessa, 86-63.

Howard College, which advanced to the finals with a pulsating 68-66 win over Clarendon Friday, played one of its best games for 36 minutes.

The Hawks led for the last time with 7:12 left in the game on a basket by David Tolliver, which made the score 83-82. But Hill ran off 11 straight points to take command and the Hawks could never get closer than eight points afterwards.

The game pitted the No. One seeded Howard cagers and the second seeded Hill, and they pretty much played that way until the final moments.

Each team hurt the other with its press, as the Hawks 21 turnovers and Hill gave up 16.

The Hawks made it to the finals by playing what had to be their most thrilling game of the year.

Mike Randle hit a layup with one second left in overtime to win it after Bledsoe had tied things up at 60-60 with 15 seconds remaining in regulation play.

Randle, playing the best basketball of his career in the tourney, also had two steals in the overtime, and both ended up in baskets by Williams.

The Hawks took a four-point lead at 66-62, but Herman Brown got two baskets in the final minute and a half, the last tying the score at 66-66 with 15 seconds left.

Williams brought the ball down court and was almost trapped, but he managed to get the ball off to Willie Young. The little guard then took it into the lane and spotted Randle on the move toward the basket from the right side, and hit him with the game-winning pass.

The Hawks led most of the game and stood on top, 30-20, at the half but tiny Evander Ford, the Bulldogs' 5-6 playmaker, sparked a comeback and Clarendon went on top, 37-34, on a three-point play by Ford with 14:13 left in the game.

Clarendon's 60-54 lead seemed insurmountable with 1:36 remaining but 6-10 Junior Seigler was called for goal tending on a shot by Young and Williams got a tip-in to cut the deficit to two points, with 41 seconds left.

An intentional foul was called on Bledsoe with 33 seconds left but Joe Pride missed both the shots to give the Hawks new life.

Hill advanced to the finals by defeating Odessa College, 92-82.

FOREST OF ARMS — Two spikers on the Big Spring B team leap high to block a shot during the Steerettes' game with El Paso Burgess, a first round feature of the Howard College Cap Rock Volleyball Tournament Friday. Sixteen teams entered the two-day event.

Whitworth Is Pace Setter At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Scrambling Kathy Whitworth who missed a chance to tie for the lead on the final hole Friday, birdie the final hole Saturday for a one stroke lead in the $100,000 Ladies Professional Golfers Association Tournament.

Miss Whitworth, who started the day one shot behind first day leader Clifford Ann Creed, shot a one under par 72 for a 145 total and took the lead over Sandra Post, who carded an even par 73 for a 146 total.

Four other players tied for third with 147s including Judy Rankin who won here two years ago, Shelley Hamlin, Bonnie Bryant and Margee Masters.

Miss Whitworth attributed her successful round on the 6,371 yard West Wood Country Club course to her scrambling ability on the first three holes where she saved par each time.

"I made some putts on those holes you wouldn't believe," she said. "Then it caught up with me on four."

Miss Whitworth chipped five feet past the hole on No. 1 and then saved a par. On No. 2 she blasted out of a trap and sank a 15-footer to save par and on No. 3 she also came out of a trap to save par.

Miss Whitworth ran in birdies on 13 and 18 to complete her sub par round.

Miss Post shot her second even par 73 that included three bogies and three birdies. Miss Post complained of slow play especially on the final hole where she said her threesome had to wait 20 minutes before teeing off.

"If I could have gone straight in and hit, I think I could have birdied the hole," Miss Post said.

Debbie Austin, who was even par on Friday, shot a 75 Saturday for a 148 total. One more stroke back at 149 were Sandra Palmer, Susie Berning, Jane Blalock and Gerda Boykin.

Twice A Winner

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas used the stout pitching of Jim Gideon and Richard Wortham Saturday to sweep a Southwest Conference baseball doubleheader from the Rice Owls, 3-2 and 4-1.

Heard Finds Trouble; Two Share Lead

MIAMI (AP) — Tom Weiskopf and Australian Bruce Devlin slipped into a tie for the lead after front-running Jerry Heard made a watery double-bogey five Saturday in the third round of the $150,000 DoralEastern Open Golf Tournament.

Weiskopf, winner of the British Open and six other titles last season, had the lead alone until he bogeyed the final hole for a three-under-par 69 and a 203 total, 13 under par on the 7,065-yard Blue Monster course at the Doral Country Club.

The skinny Devlin grabbed his share of the lead with a five-under-par 67.

Heard, a front-running winner in Orlando, Fla., last week and the leader all the way in this tourney, made double-bogey five after hitting into the water on the ninth hole and dropped two stokes behind with 72—205. It was the first time in eight rounds that the easy-going 26-year-old had failed to shoot in the 60s.

"Not too good today," said Heard with a shrug.

He was tied at 11 under par with Budly Allin, who shot a 68.

Bruce Crampton, who had a hole in one of the fourth hole, and big Bobby Nichols followed at 206, 10 under par and just three off the lead going into the last round of this chase for a $30,000 first prize.

Crampton, winner of four titles last season, had a 67 and Nichols shot 69.

Lee Trevino, the defending champion who is plagued with putting troubles, dropped back with a 72 in the mild, partly cloudy weather.

Steers Win Four Firsts In Meet

ANDREWS — Big Spring copped four first places and wound up third in the Mustang Relays here Saturday with a total of 80½ points.

Team winner was Odessa Permian, with 144 points, while Hereford also finished ahead of Big Spring with 87½. The Steers beat out fourth-place Snyder by 1½ points while Carlsbad, N.M., was fifth and Odessa sixth. Borger did not put in an appearance.

Glen Petty's Bold Gold claimed first places in the pole vault, Mile Run, 440-yard run and the mile relay. Running on the mile relay team for Big Spring were Donald Walters, Bobby Mayo, Don Beene and Doug Smith. They were clocked in 3:26.3. They took over near the end of the third leg and won over Permian by about 12 yards.

McCormick, unbeaten in the mile this spring, hurried to a 4:30.1 clocking and again beat the defending 5-AAAA champion in that event, David Dugan by two seconds.

Sam Dodson's winning leap in the pole vault was 13-0. He quit there because the other competition had dropped out.

Doug Smith copped the 440 in 50.8, his best time off the blocks this year. He beat Allen Neeley of Snyder, who had been dealing him misery, by a tenth of a second. Smith had the satisfaction of compiling 19 points, second best in that division of the meet.

Other points scored by the Steers:

Doug Smith, sixth in the long jump, with a leap of 19-7; Donald Walters, third in the 440, in 52.1; Don Beene, sixth in the 440, 53.8; David Wood, tied for fourth in the high jump, 5-8; team of Walters, Beene, Danny Ferrell and Smith third in the sprint relay, 44.5. Hereford won it, Snyder was second; and Bobby Mayo, third in 330-yard intermediate hurdles, 42.8.

First, second and third place trophies were awarded in each event.

The Steers go to the Bluebonnet Relays in Brownwood next Saturday.

Standings:
1. Odessa Permian, 144; 2. Hereford, 87½; 3. Big Spring, 80½; 4. Snyder, 79; 5. Carlsbad, 51; 6. Odessa, 49.

Irish Defeat Foe, 108-66

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame and Marquette scored easy knockouts in the first round of the NCAA playoffs Saturday and established themselves as heavyweight contenders for the national basketball title.

The Fighting Irish floored Ohio Valley Conference champion Austin Peay 108-66 and Marquette walloped Mid-American Conference king Ohio University 85-59, and rolled into the Mideast regional semifinals next week.

Notre Dame earned a berth against the champion of the Big Ten, which still was a question mark after Indianaa nd Michigan both won Saturday and finished in a regular-season tie for the title.

Indiana, which nipped Purdue 80-79, and Michigan, a 103-87 winner over Michigan State, will meet Monday at Illinois for an NCAA playoff berth.

UCLA, the defending national champion, met Souther California in a late Saturday night game on the West Coast to decide another NCAA berth—the Pacific-8 Conference representative. North Carolina State, the nation's No. 1 team, took on Maryland Saturday night for the Atlantic Coast Conference championship and another NCAA spot.

Gary Brokaw scored 25 points and John Shumate and Adrian Dantley each 22 in Notre Dame's surpisingly easy victory over Austin Peay, a team with high scoring potential.

The Irish connected on 25 of 40 field goals in the first half and took a commanding 53-34 lead at intermission. Brokaw was the big gun for Notre Dame in that hot first half, scoring 21 points.

Steerettes Claim Cap Rock Crown

Big Spring A defeated Pecos, 11-9, 9-15, 15-7 to win the championship in the annual Howard College Cap Rock Girls' Volleyball Tournament here Saturday night.

In the third place contest, Fort Worth Castleberry decisioned Big Spring B, 15-7, 15-4, while Colorado City captured consolation laurels with an 8-15, 15-4, 15-5 success at the expense of Snyder.

Big Spring moved into the finals with a 13-15, 15-9, 15-7 win over Sweetwater, a 15-3, 15-6 success over Wink and 15-10, 15-6 triumphed over Fort Worth Castleberry.

Pecos advanced with wins over Abilene Cooper, Midland High and Big Spring B, the latter by 15-3, 15-9.

Jackie Palmer, Colorado City, was named the tournament queen. Suzie Lynch, Big Spring, won a trophy as the outstanding coach.

Debbie Knox, Castleberry, was chosen as the Most Valuable Player. The outstanding spiker was adjudged to be Wanda Williams, Colorado City, while Helen Ray, Big Spring A, was chosen as the outstanding set.

Sets on the all-tournament teams included Sue Sullivan, Snyder; Shawn Burkholder, Pecos; Stephenia Green, Plains; Ruth Knight, Big Spring A; Terry Bolf, Wink; and Donna Hunt, Denver City.

All-tournament spikes included Cynthia Dennis, Big Spring A; Gloria Brooks, Pecos; Mona Hendrickson, Phillips; Annette Lopez, Castleberry; Lisa Pipes, Big Spring; and Linda Isbell, Crane.

Texas Ousted From Playoffs

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Creighton unreeled 15 points in a row in the second half behind the inspired play of center Doug Brookins Saturday night to lift the independent Bluejays to a 77-61 victory over Texas and a spot in the NCAA Midwest Regional basketball playoffs.

Creighton will meet Big Eight Conference champion Kansas in the Midwest Regional at Tulsa. Oral Roberts, which defeated Syracuse 86-82 in overtime in the first game of the doubleheader, will play Missouri Valley Conference champion Louisville in the other Midwest game Thursday night.

The Bluejays, who trailed Texas 57-51 with 9:27 left in the game, blitzed the Longhorns with a full-court press and Texas went 6:17 without a point after Brookins sank a layup to put Texas ahead 59-57.

Creighton, now 22-6 for the year, was paced in the scoring column by Gene Harmon, who connected on his first seven shots from the field and finished the night with 22 points.

But it was the 6-foot-8 Brookins who rallied the Bluejays after Coach Eddie Sutton called him to the sidelines for a brief conference after he threw the ball away.

Brookins made three baskets during the Bluejays string and finished the night with 16 points.

Larry Robinson, who fouled out with 2:20 left in the game, paced theSouthwest Conference champions with 20 points, followed by freshman Ed Johnson's 16 and Harry Larrabee's 15.

Texas, which lost 11 of its first 12 games this season, gave the Bluejays fits in the first half with a tight zone defense. The game was tied 35-35 at halftime. Texas finished the season with a 12-15 ledger.

Houston Kashmere Trips South Oak Cliff, 91-87

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Houston Kashmere took advantage of the pain and fouls that plagued Dallas South Oak Cliff Saturday for a 91-87 victory in the Class 4A state championship game Schoolboy basketball Tournament.

Kashmere used 13 players in wearing down SOC, which was hampered by an injury to Kenneth Williams and the loss of Larry Harris for most of the game because of fouls.

In the class B finals Huckabay of Stephenville beat La Poynor of Larue, 49-48 for the title in a game which saw defending champion La Poynor fail to score a single point on free throws.

Karl Godine, a 6-3 junior, scored 21 points for Kashmere, and he was supported by Craig Reggins with 17, Jarvis Williams with and Lanis Hayes with 12.

Charles McMillan, pouring in long jump shots and soaring to the rim of the basket to tap in field goals led all scorers with 32 points. Williams, a 6-6 senior, and Harris, a smooth playmaker and good shooter, were McMillan's main help during the season but of little use during the championship contest.

Williams, who had averaged 21 points a game, could hardly move because of a back injury. He managed to haul in 13 rebounds bot for the most part stood near the South Oak Cliff basket merely waving his arms to district the Kashmere marksmen.

In an almost incredible sequence, Harris picked up three personal fouls in the first 1:28 of the game and sat on the bench until the final quarter.

He played less than a full quarter but still scored 10 points.

It was Harris, however, who missed two free throws with 3:03 left that cost South Oak Cliff its final chance at victory.

The triumph was Kahmere's 32nd in a row, extending its season record to 39-2. South Oak Cliff finished at 35-5.

Huckabay outscored La Poynor 7-0 on free throws in the B title game, and another oddity was that all seven were in the first half by the same player, Rex Spain.

He scored 13 points and his brother Randy had 18 for Huckabay, a West Central Texas squad which compiled a 47-1 season record.

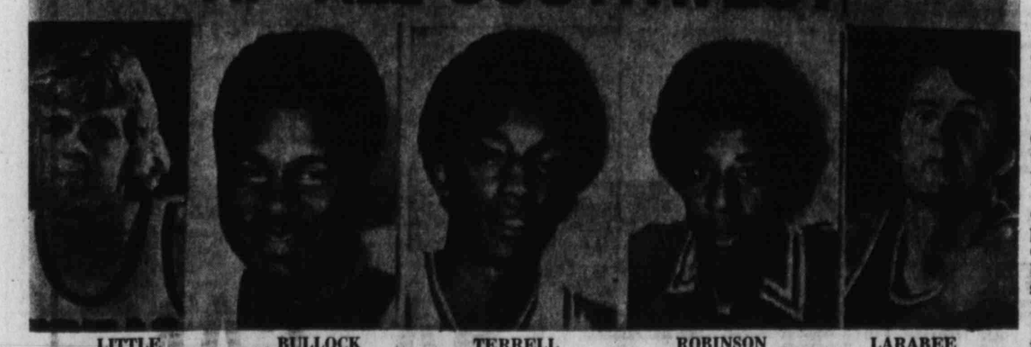

Larry Cumby, a virtual certain all-tournament choice for the second straight year scored 18 for La Poynor, southwest of Tyler. Cumby missed two free throws, however, with 1:06 left in the final quarter which may have lost the game for the defending champions.

La Poynor only shot three free throws during the game.

Foyt Has Speed But Can He Execute Game Plan?

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — A.J. Foyt, Johnny Rutherford and Bobby Unser, a trio of hard-nosed veterans, hold the front row spots for Sunday's $300,000 California 500-mile championship auto race.

Each has his own idea about how this first 1974 outing for Indianapolis-type racers will go. But the key word for all three is victory.

"Foyt has the speed," said Unser and Rutherford. "He came up with the fastest car, no doubt about that. But speed alone won't do the job. You gotta have a game plan."

The 200-lap marathon around the 2½-mile Ontario Motor Speedway will have a field of 33 cars, including all four previous California 500 winners, plus five former Indianapolis 500 champions.

In addition to the $300,000 purse, which allocates $40,000 plus accessory and contingency money to the winner, there is $50,000 in lap prize money — $250 to the leader of each lap.

All of the front row sitters admit that any "game plan" for the race revolves around new fuel regulations that go into effect at this race.

Each driver will be restricted to 280 gallons of fuel — down 60 gallons from last September, when the cars last raced at Ontario. Therefore, to go the distance, the turbocharged engines must produce at least 1.7 miles per gallon.

Few of them did that in practice, qualifying or the two 100-milers last Sunday that determined starting positions. Several drivers ran out of fuel during the 100-mile dashes, when the allocation was 57 gallons.

ON WAY TO SECOND — Big Spring's Sammy Rodriquez is shown going full throttle on his way to second base after connecting safely in the opening inning of Friday's baseball game with Lubbock Coronado. The visiting Mustangs toppled the Steers, 4-1, to extend the locals' losing streak.

Ponies Defeat Steers, 4-1

Lubbock Coronado concentrated its fire power in two innings to topple Big Spring, 4-1, in a baseball exhibition here Friday afternoon.

The Mustangs scored twice in the first when Joe Barnhart singled, Tommy Smith doubled and Weldon Whiteside singled after two batters had been retired.

Big Spring managed its lone run in the fifth after two men had been retired when Pat Carroll hit a one-baser, Reynolds singled and John Thomas Smith clubbed a ground rule double.

Bill Eady went all the way on the mound for Lubbock, rationing out seven hits to the Longhorns. Reynolds was the lone Steer to get as many as two hits.

Joe Barnhart, Tommy Smith and Weldon Whiteside each had two blows for the visitors. Eady fanned 13 and walked only one Coronado sealed the Steers' doom in the sixth with the help of two unearned runs. Jimmy Vaughn reached base on a bobble. Barnhard singled. Tommy Smith followed with a single and when the Steer left field let the ball get through him two runs swept home.

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Houston Baptist College took the Sam Houston Invitational Golf Tournament here Saturday in a sudden death playoff against Angelo State.

With both teams tied at 892 at the end of 54 holes, Roddy Millichamp birdied on the first hole to push Houston Baptist into the winning margin.

Sam Houston State's Greg Antune was medalist with a three-under-par 213.

With Houston Baptist and Angelo State finishing first and second, others were Stephen F. Austin University third, McNeese State fourth, and Tarleton State fifth.

Maurice Lucas Standout In Win For Marquette

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Maurice Lucas poured in 18 points and grabbed 11 rebounds to lead 11th-ranked Marquette past Ohio University 85-59 Saturday in the opening game of the NCAA Mideast Regional first round playoffs.

Marquette led 37-28 at the half as Ohio refused to wilt against constant pressure. But the Warriors outscored the Mid American Conference champion Bobcats 22-9 to take a 59-37 lead with 12:43 remaining in the game and were never pressed in winning their 23rd game against four losses.

The victory gave Marquette a berth in Thursday's Mideast Regional semifinals at Tuscaloosa, Ala., the fourth consecutive year the Warriors have advanced to that level.

Freshman Maurice "Bo" Ellis and Earl Tatum each added 16 points for Marquette, while Ohio's sophomore guard Walter Luckett scored 14 to lead the Bobcats, who closed out the season with a 16-11 record.

HOUSTON ASTRO BASEBALL PREVIEW

Menke Says Teammates Must Believe

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Infielder Denis Menke likely will do a lot of bench-warming for Houston this season but he could figure heavily in making the Astros National League champions if he gets his point across.

"I know what it's like to be on a winner," said Menke, who is returning to the Astros after a two-year visit with the Cincinnati Reds. "You've got to believe. That's what the Reds do and that's what this club has got to learn."

Now all Menke has to do is convince his teammates.

Menke shares a widely held theory that on paper the Astros are strong contenders in the NL Western Division. But that's the only championship Houston has won on paper.

The Astros have been picked to challenge for the title the past two years only to fold in the stretch. With new Manger Preston Gomez and hoped for improvement in the pitching department, Menke is gaging the Astros in contention.

Menke said part of the improvement will come from Gomez because the players respect him.

One of the most recognizable examples of this respect is pitcher Don Wilson, who was not unhappy to see either of Houston's last two managers leave.

Wilson reportedly was on the trading block after last season but he says Gomez wanted to keep him with the Astros.

After doing some voluntary extra running after practice early this week, Wilson said, "When I was doing that extra running today, I was thinking I have to get myself in top share so I don't disappoint Preston."

Disappointing describes almost the entire Astros pitching staff last season.

A disabled Larry Dierker added to the pitching woes. This season pitching coach Roger Craig igures he'll solve that problem.

"I've got 23 pitchers here and they have better stuff than any staff with which I've been associated,'9 Craig said. "I've got a lot of pitchers with above average fastballs. If a man's got a good fastball and guts, I can teach him the rest."

Astro mainstays among the pitching staff includes Dave Roberts, Wilson, Dierker and ex-Dodger southpaw Claude Osteen along with other possible starters Ken Forsch, Tom Griffin and James Rodney Richard.

Houston's line-up is virtually set except for right field and to a lesser degree, catching.

Houston General Manager Spec Richardson acquired Osteen from Los Angeles for right fielder Jimmy Wynn, leaving at least five newcomers to fight for Wynn's vacated position. They include Bob Gallagher, Greg Gross, Jayson Moxey, Mike Easler and Cliff Johnson.

Richardson sent left-handed pitcher Jerry Reuss to Pittsburgh for catcher Mill May, who is the heir-apparent to the catching assignment although John Edwards and Skip Jutze are still in camp.

The impressive infield will include team captain Doug Rader at third, Roger Metzger at shortstop, Tommy Helms at second and Lee May at first. Bob Watson will return to left field and Cesar Cedeno will be in center field.

Life Preservers Must For Boats

A new U. S. Coast Guard regulation went into affect Octobaer 1, 1973, and some boaters are apparently not aware of this law.

All boats 16 feet or over in length are required to have one type 1, II, or III personal floatation device (PFD) on board for each person. In addition, there must also be a type IV PFD aboard immediately available for use.

A type IV device or PFD is intended to be grasped such as a ring life buoy or, buoyant cushion and is normally thrown to a person in the water.

Boats under sixteen foot. (Class A) are required to have one type I, II, or III PFD's for each person on board.

Another requirement sometimes forgotten is that every operator of a class A or class I while underway shall require every passenger 12 years of age or under to WEAR a life preserver of the sort prescribed such as type I,II or III.

"The most frequent water safety violation is the lack of personal flotation devices on board the boat," Bill Pratt, Texas Parks and Wildlife Warden said, "and citations are issued when we encounter this situation."

Records kept for 1973, show that 46 persons drowned while boating in Texas.

There are certain criteria that purchasers of Coast Guard Approved flotation devices should look into. All USCG approved PFD's have a number on the label attached to the device and the number starts with 160.002 for type I through 160.064 for special purpose FPD.

These PFD's have been tested under several conditions and have passed the USCG test.

Spence Gets Boat Ramp

Work has commenced on construction of a new boat ramp on the north side of Lake J. B. Thomas.

One on the south side is being extended.

R. A. Schooling, administrative assistant for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said that Grimmett Bros. of Snyder is constructing the new 15x400-ft. concrete launching ramp near the former Boyd Lodge site at the confluence of the lake and the Bull Creek diversion channel.

This will have a turn-around, plus paved parking area paved approach road.

The concrete launching ramp on the south side of the lake near the dam is being extended 65 feet toward the water line so that when Spring rains come to raise lake level, the ramp will extend well below the water.

GOLF MEET SET TODAY

A Louisiana Draw Tournament will kick off the Big Spring Golf Association's year today at 1 p.m. at Municipal Golf Course.

Entry fee for BSGA members is $3, and memberships into the association are also $3. Today's meet will be the first tourney prior to the grand tournament in the fall. Golfers must play in five of the smaller tournaments to be eligible for the grand tourney.

Sportsmen Invited To Board Hearing

The Texas Water Quality Board will conduct a hearing Thursday at the St. Angelus Room of the Central National Bank building in San Angelo on the discharge of sewage on and from boats on the inland fresh waters of Texas. The hearing is at 2 p.m. and sportsmen and recreatinal enthusiasts are invuted to attend. The preliminary regulations apply only to boats which have toilet facilities installed or which are 16 feet or over in length and have permanent sleeping arrangements.

Texas Tops Star Squad

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference champion Texas dominated the 1973-74 Associated Press all-star team with Longhorn forward Larry Robinson winning Player of the Year accolades and Leon Black as Coach of the Year.

It was a tremendous comeback for Texas, Robinson and Black.

The Longhorns started the year with a 1-11 non-conference record as Robinson, a senior from Hobbs, N.M., fought to overcome a leg injury which had hampered him his junior season.

Black—with his job rumored in jeopardy—kept the faith and guided the team to an undisputed championship with an 11-3 ledger.

"I kept trying to tell everyone we were a better team than our non-conference record showed," Black said. "We played a tough schedule and lost a lot of close games. It paid off when we got into the conference. The kids never gave up on themselves. I know I didn't."

Black narrowly edged Southern Methodist Coach Bob Prewitt for the honor as the Mustang mentor spurred his team to a furious comeback of their own—winning the last nine games and a spot in the first annual CCA Tournament in St. Louis.

Texas' first round NCAA foe was Creighton.

Other players on the first team included Texas sparkplug guard Harry Larrabee, Texas Tech guard Richard Little, and inside men Ira Terrell of Southern Methodist and Rick Bullock of Texas Tech.

Bob Thornton of Texas A&M and Ed Johnson of Texas shared the Newcomer of the Year award on the ballots by the SWC coaches. Oscar Roan, SMU's late-blooming rebound and defensive specialist, and Gary McGuire of Baylor also received votes.

SMU and Texas Tech tied for second place with 10-4 records. Tech was the defending champion.

Here is the 1974-74 All-Southwest Conference basketball team:

Finley Relents But All Jobs Are Taken

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Oakland A's owner Charles O. Finley is willing to let Dick Williams—the only manager he never fired—return to baseball with any team but the New York Yankees.

"I'm not a vindictive person," Finley said Friday night in a telephone call from his Chicago office to The Associated Press here. But, he added: "I wouldn't permit the Yankees to hire him for $10 million."

Finley said he would not ask compensation from any other club that employs Williams, who led Finley's A's to two straight World Series titles.

"His action didn't surprise me. But all the managers' jobs are taken," said Williams in Dallas where he attended a dinner for his new boss, John MacArthur, Florida insurance and real estate magnate.

NO THOUGHT

Williams, serving MacArthur in public relations, said: "I have no thoughts of being employed by anyone other than who I am employed by now."

New York Yankees president Gabe Paul sarcastically observed: "Finley's as big-hearted as ever!"

In Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Paul said: "A very magnanimous gesture—to give a man a release from his contract when all the managing jobs are taken for the season."

Williams quit as the A's manager when the 1973 World Series ended, although his contract had two years to run. He signed to manage the Yankees and explained he thought he had Finley's verbal permission.

But Finley held Williams to his contract. He demanded compensation in player talent to release Williams.

He didn't get any players but he did win a ruling by Joe Cronin, outgoing American League president, voiding the Yankees' hiring of Williams.

Finley also won a U.S. District Court decision here last month barring Williams from working for any baseball employer except the A's until his contract ends in 1975.

PERMISSION

Finley said he had permission from U.S. District Court Judge Lloyd H. Burke, who ruled in the case, to allow Williams to get back into baseball with any club but the Yankees. He said he talked with Burke last week.

"In my opinion they (the Yankees) tampered with his contract," Finley said.

Williams' salary with Finley was estimated variously at from $60,000 to $75,000. The Yankees raised the money in what Williams called "one hell of a contract."

After the Yankee contract was voided, New York hired Bill Virdon, former Pittsburgh Pirates pilot, as manager. Last month, Finley hired Alvin Dark to manage the A's.

After talking of suing Finley, Williams said he had made his bed and was willing to lie in it. He then took the public relations job with MacArthur. The pay with MacArthur was reported as being more than his baseball salary. Williams said he was prepared to stay out of baseball for two seasons.

Notes from Brownwood, where the midnight Cowboys hardly ever ride . . .

* * * * * *

It was a pretty good Region V tournament, but one where scouts and recruiters practically outnumbered the fans, particularly on Thursday. They sort of scattered Friday for Austin and the State Schoolboy Tournament.

But the recruiting types were very noticable. At almost any time, you could look up around the Brownwood Coliseum and a coach, often 5-10 or so, would be talking up to a player, often 6-7 or so. At least 85 or 90 per cent of the starters here will find senior college homes.

It is expected that the tournament will return to Brownwood next year and that's a shame. It's like Kissinger being elected mayor of a ghost town or the Beetles playing a concert in Westbrook. What if they had the basketball tournament and nobody came, you ask? I think it's happened . . .

* * * * * *

Friday's Hawk victory over Clarendon was the most exciting of the year, even better that the Howard College-Western Texas game, which was also decided in overtime fashion.

It was good to see Big Springer Mike Randle have such a good game — and a good tournament. Randle, unfortunately, was a semi-maligned player last year as a freshman and this season he's been in the shadows of Thomas Bledsoe and Taylor Williams.

But Thursday was Mike's night when he sparked thie Hawks past Weatherford, and Friday was an even better time. Randle actually saved the game with two crucial steals in overtime and his basket with one second left was a thing of beauty.

* * * * * *

One strange call almost killed the Hawks, though. With 33 seconds left and Clarendon ahead, 60-58, Bledsoe was called for an intentional foul while trying to grab the ball out of big Joe Pride's hands.

It was the first intentional foul I had seen called in years and though it's likely Bledsoe had "foul" on his mind, it was far from flagrant and the official was only guessing that it was intentional.

The call could have made the difference in the game, because with Pride shooting a two-shot foul it took away all the pressure of a 1-and-1. All he had to do was make one of the two shots, because it was't likely the Hawks could score twice in less than 30 seconds.

But Pride missed both shots, and Bledsoe got a tip-in with 15 seconds left to send the game into overtime. Probably I shouldn't have written this, because I'm still on probation as far as some officials are concerned, but what's life without a little danger?

* * * * * *

Ex-Howard College coach Buddy Travis still hasn't placed himself for next year, although he is sure he's leaving South Plains. When Travis does depart, he will relinquish his powerful Region V directorship to Dale Caton, New Mexico Junior College, currently the assisant director.

Lee Junior Varsity Wins Over Big Spring, 9-6

MIDLAND — Midland Lee toppled Big Spring in a junior varsity baseball game here Saturday, 9-6. Big Spring scored all of its runs in the opening inning with the help of three hits.

Seven freshmen were in the lineup for Big Spring. They included Bubba Stripling, who had two hits.

Junior Tracy Thompson and junior Mark Taylor had the other safeties for Big Spring.

Mark Callahan and James Zapp divided time on the mound for Big Spring. Zapp, who took over in the fourth, was charged with the loss.

Freshman Chris Burrow, junior Doug Robison, sophomore Kenneth McMurtrey and sophomore Mark Moore were others who performed well for the Steers.

Score by innings:

Big Spring	600	000	—	6	4	2
Midland Lee	103	23X	—	9	10	6

Nancy Gunter Is Nudged

DALLAS (AP) — Top-seeded Chris Evert and defending champion Virginia Wade advanced to the singles finals of the Maureen Connolly Brinker Ladies Tennis Championship with semi-final wins Saturday.

Miss Evert overcame a faltering service to defeat France's Francoise Durr 6-4, 6-3 in a battle of groundstrokes. The match saw 12 service breaks, including six in a row at one point.

The match was prolonged when a lineman yielded a decision on a ball that appeared out of Miss Evert's racket when she was serving in the final game and facing two break points.

The players played the point again and Miss Evert rallied to win the game.

Miss Wade recovered from a lethargic first set and a minor late night bedroom accident to beat Nancy Richey Gunter 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Miss Wade of Great Britain and the tournament's No. 3 seed, said she cut the little toe of her right foot and was having trouble moving on it early in the match.

"I did a Kerry Melville," she said of the Australian star who broke a toe in a similar accident and had to leave the tour.

Netolicky Breaks Wrist In Game

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana Pacers' backup center, Bob Netolicky, fractured his left wrist in a game against the Memphis Tams Friday night and will be out for the remainder of the American Basketball Association season, the Pacers announced Saturday.

The seven-year veteran fell to the floor while making a layup He played the remaining 11 minutes of the game.

A Pacers spokesman said the 6-foot-9 Netolicky will be unable to play for about eight weeks.

Bledsoe, Williams Are Named To All-Region

BROWNWOOD — Two Howard College Hawks were named to the All-Region V team and HC Coach Harold Wilder was selected as Coach of the Year by coaches and athletic directors from the organiation's 18 schools here Friday.

Thomas Bledsoe and Taylor Williams, a pair of 6-7 HC sophomores from the Mississippi Delta region, headed up the list of 12 players who represented nine Region schools.

Williams was the leading vote getter and Bledsoe also placed high. Temmate Leroy Lumzy was an honorable mention selection.

Eight Western Conference players made the star squad, including Harold Rhodes and Daryl Peterson of Amarillo College, Joe Pride of Clarendon, Ricky Gibson of New Mexico Junior College, Earnest Jenkins of Odessa and Danny McDaniel of Western Texas.

Don Gay of McLennan, Barry Davis of Hill and George Moses and Bill Brown, both of Schreiner, also male the team.

Wilder, in his fourth year as Hawk coach, led his team to the best finish in Howard College history. He was nominated twice before, but received the honor for the first time this year.

Under Wilder, the Hawks won the WC crown with a 13-3 record, first outright title at Howard College since 1969. The team ranked 14th in the final NJCAA standings.

Also at the meeting, Williams of HC and Rhodes of Amarillo were named the region's All-America nominees. The two will be presented and voted on during the National Tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas, later this month.

Yankee B Knicks Rangers, 10-9

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Rookie Ken Bennett drove in Jim Ray Hart with an eighth-inning single Saturday afternoon to give the New York Yankees' B team a 10-9 victory over the Texas Rangers.

With one out in the eighth, Hart drew a walk off losing pitcher Bib Gogolewski. One out later, Jerry Kenney's fourth hit, a single to left, moved Hart to second. Bennett then singled to right.

Ron Blomberg led the Yankees' 15-hit assault off five Texas pitchers with a three-for-five, five RBI performance that included a grand slam homer off veteran lefthander Jim Merritt in the fourth inning.

The Rangers trailed, 8-1, after Blomberg's slam but tied the game at 3-8 and 9-9 before falling.

Smith Named To Elite List

John Thomas Smith of 206 North Goliad Street has been named to the Prep All-American Football Program for 1973-74, as announced by the editors of Coach and Athlete Magazine.

Smith's selection to the prep honor roll makes him eligible for judging in the Prep All-America Football National Awards — Prep 100 Squad, Super Eleven Team and Cum Laude. In cooperation with the selection committee, the national finalists will be announced in the March issue of Coach & Athelete.

Nominations for the 1973-74 Prep Honor Roll were made last fall by high school coaches and athletic directors, college recruiters and sports writers across the country. They were asked to nominate candidates having the best record of local achievement on their teams or in their areas. Criteria by which these local football players were nominated include: outstanding athletic ability based on career records, sportsmanship, leadership and service to team and community.

Sponsored by Coach & Athelete Magazine, the Prep All-America Football Program is an annual honor roll of outstanding football players from high school teams throughout the country. The purpose of

MONDAY, MARCH 11, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have much determination to produce results, but can become discouraged or lethargic, so do not permit these tendencies to keep you from carrying through whatever you start.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Take care of financial and worldly affairs. Loved one is in a peculiar mood, so don't get into arguments that could prove tiresome.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Many things show you just what your position is with others, so make the most of this and organize your life better.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You get much done now, and please associates, also. Take treatments that increase vitality. Relax in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get rid of duties early and then enjoy favorite amusements, be with congenials. Get your mate to cooperate more with you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can increase income quickly. A clever businessman gives you fine ideas for advancement. Avoid the social tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are magnetic and determined and can get much done, but don't be too demanding with others, or you lose out.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan the future more intelligently. Get rid of that idea of lack, and concentrate on plenty. Help those not as fortunate as you are.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can gain favors from a fine, dear friend. Don't relax efforts in going after a goal that seems difficult to gain.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you want to make a good impression on a higher-up, be sure your facts and figures are correct. Make plans. Think.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) A letter you receive will bring a fine opportunity for you, though it may seem vague at the moment. Find new worthwhile activities.

Exxon Stocks Are Even Despite Fire

HOUSTON (AP) — Combined inventories of Exxon USA's crude oil, motor gasoline and distillate held about even during February but refinery runs decreased.

The company's report, released Friday, said crude oil inventories were at 21.9 million barrels for the week ending Feb. 28, up from 19.1 for the week ending Jan. 31. The increase was due largely to a temporarily reduction in crude runs resulting from a February fire at the Baytown, Tex., refinery, the report said.

Motor gasoline stocks Feb. 28 were at 18 million barrels, up from 17.2 million Jan. 31, the company said.

It said distillate stocks were 14.3 million barrels Feb. 28, compared to 17.7 Jan. 31. This reflects a normal seasonal drawdown, the company said.

The firm's refinery runs during February were 840,000 barrels per day, the report said, compared to 1,030,000 barrels per day for January. The fire, plus regular maintenance shutdowns were largely responsible.

Sees No Edge In Cuba's Return To Nations Of West

By OMAR BURLESON

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In a recent news conference in Mexico City Cuba's ambassador said that Castro was "ready to discuss" renewed relations with the United States if Washington is ready to end its nine-year embargo against Cuba. He is reported to have said that Castro is willing to 'permit" the U.S. to resume diplomatic relations, provided we show sufficient servility in the process. (This is real nice of the Russian - supported Castro government).

RUMBLINGS

There are rumblings, despite the administration's desclaimers, to indicate a softening of our government's attitude toward Cuba. This attitude is also reflected by some members of Congress, particularly in the U.S. Senate. It is disturbing that there should even be considerations for the reversal of our nine-year policy, and particularly at the time of negotiations to yield sovereignty over the Panama Canal to another regime hostile to the United States. These two governments could combine their efforts to damage the safety of this nation by controlling the canal or even its destruction.

Nine years ago the whole of North and South America were swarming with Castro sympathizers bent upon spreading revolution and celebrating the demise of the Monroe Doctrine. At that time they were excited with the real expectation that other countries of Central and South America would topple to the left and leave the United States and eventually Canada in an isolated position. Of course it did not happen and Cuba shortly became bankrupt and a puppet of the Soviet Union at a cost of a million dollars a day dole to the Russians. Che Guevara, spreading "the word,' was killed in Bolivia. The only Country to succumb to the Communists' side was Chile.

DISTURBED

The Organization of American States lead by the United States, disturbed by Castro attempts to foment revolution in Venezuela, the prime target in South America, put Cuba on its list of "no-go".

Since our policy is now one of "detente" with the Soviets and our renewed acquaintance with Communist China, some of our friends to the South see an inconsistency in the treatment of Cuba by continuing her isolation.

But until real change occurs it is difficult to see what possible advantage could accrue to the United States by recognizing Cuba as a member of the family of nations of the West. Not only has she not shown any abandonment of formenting revolution wherever there might be a chance but harbors Russian military forces which pose a threat to our security.

Let the Soviets pay a million a day to prop up Cuba's economy and, at the same time, let her be an example to her neighbors, who have the good fortune of not living under the Hemisphere's only Community government.

Easy To Lose Lbs. Fast With New Vitamin 'E' Diet

HOLLYWOOD (Special) — New scientific discoveries have produced a Vitamin E diet that quickly works wonders on overweight people, and reportedly is gaining great popularity across the country with growing reports of easy weight loss "while still eating almot as much as you want."

Those who follow the simple Vitamin E diet report an average loss of at least a pound a day and evenmore without exercise or starvation. Nutritionists' files are bulging with happy testimonials from formerly overweight people who are now trim and slim again. Best of all, you can still eat almost as much as you want of the "forbidden foods" like steak, chicken, fish, sauces, gravies, bacon & eggs and still lose weight.

Chewable (candy-like) vitamin E tablets, as used in the diet plan, contain a new scientific combination of ingredients that quickly curbs and controls the appetite, while also giving the wonderous benefits of Vitamin E which is so essential to good health.

The use of the new Vitamin E Diet tablets and foods prescribed in the plan will, through natural action, act to help your body use up excess fat. According to recent clinical test, a person who is deficient in Vitamin E or Protein "will double the speed of fat utilization" with the use of Vitamin E.
