Farm Outlook Brightened By Sun, But Fields Remain Wet

Increasing Late Draft Sign-ups Said Alarming

The local draft board which has jurisdiction over Castro, Deaf Smith, Randall, and Farmer counties, has become alarmed over the increasing number of youths who register late for the draft.

Virgil E. Dodson, board chairman, said some young men were as late as 18 months in registering in the past.

Dodson said the board has adopted a policy of having late registrants explain in writing, or they may be asked to meet with the board to explain why they are late.

If their reasons do not satisfy the board, they are subject to earlier processing into military service, provided the board declares them delinquent in performing their duties under the law.

Every young man is required by the federal draft law to register on his 18th birthday or within five days after his birthday. Failure to do so makes him subject to $10,000 fine, five year's imprisonment, or both, if prosecuted and convicted.

Young men may register at the office of the board, Evans Building, in Hereford, or with any of the following registrars: Harry J. Charles, Charles Oil Company, Bovina; M. Ray Reynolds, 2508 6th Avenue, Canyon; or Mrs. Jennie G. Burch, Chamber of Commerce, Dimmitt.

Bidding Opened For Concession At Buffalo Lake

Bids for a new concession contract for Buffalo Lake near Umlinger are now being accepted by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

Future concession operation for the lake on the Tierra Blanca Creek will be under a 20-year exclusive contract. In addition to listed operational requirements, bidders for the concession are invited to submit individual operational proposals, according to the Bureau.

Persons interested in bidding for the contract may obtain invitations by contacting Robert L. Darnell, Box 228, Umlinger or by calling him at Gypsy 9-2601.

Sealed bids will be accepted by the Regional Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Albuquerque, N. M., until 2 p.m. mountain standard time, Jan. 4, 1962.

The concession contract in force for the past 10 years at the lake will soon expire. Fees will not be charged for fishing, boating, or skiing after Nov. 30.

Bidders are urged by the bureau to inspect the lake and the facilities in order to familiarize themselves with the type of operations to be conducted, government buildings and the lake area.

A HEREFORD MAN, Gus Pedde, was injured Friday afternoon when the pickup he was driving slammed into the back of a truck driven by a friend, Harvey Lindsey.

One Seriously Injured As Hereford Friends Collide

A strange coincidence Friday afternoon involved two Hereford friends in a collision. Gus Pedde, 48, "slow ed" his 1958 Chevrolet down to about four miles an hour, of which he then felt a jolt and heard a crash behind him.

Pedde, who was driving a pickup truck, had slammed into the back of a big truck. Both vehicles were traveling south.

Pedde is under treatment in Neblett Hospital in Canyon for multiple fractures of both legs, fracture of the left arm and numerous cuts and abrasions. His condition late Friday was described as serious.

Investigating Highway patrolmen said the truck had slowed to about six miles per hour. "I slowed down to see if my load would clear the underpass," Lindsey related.

"I'd give anything if that hadn't happened," he continued. "I've known that boy (Pedde) a long time."

Lindsey said he had no idea who was behind him until he walked back to the wreckage of the pickup. "It was a long time before I recognized him (Pedde)," he related.

"Gasoline was pouring out and I was afraid there would be a fire."

Gasoline soaked a wide area of the highway. There was no fire.

Officers believe Pedde saw the truck in front of him too late to slow down enough. Skid marks on the roadway indicate that he did try to stop.

The pickup struck the rear of the truck with such impact that both the pickup's fenders literally were welded to the rear of the truck.

When wreckers separated the two vehicles, the fenders pulled loose from the pickup and remained attached to the rear of the truck.

The truck was hauling a load of construction tool shacks. The truck belongs to a Hereford truck broker, Charlie Hill, according to Lindsey.

Investigating officer was Highway Patrolman Gilbert Ray of Canyon.

Around Town

That big grain sorghum producers meeting has been postponed because of a lack of a available meeting space, according to county president Tommy Carnahan. The meeting now has been rescheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center. It was originally to have been held Tuesday night.

Deadline for signing up for the 1962 wheat program is Friday, Dec. 1, at the ASCS office. Those who don't sign up will not be eligible for the price supports and payment on the ten per cent reduction already reflected in acreage allotments. Farmers may divert an additional 36 per cent of their allotment if they wish. If he then changes his mind, and harvest wheat from the voluntarily diverted land, he will be allowed to do so.

County Agent Lefty Thomas and the county's two state 4-H winners, Dick Plank and Caroline Brumley, will be shown on film from the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago at 7 a.m. Tuesday, Nov. 28, over KFDD-TV, channel 10, Amarillo.

Final count on the county United Fund drive is $24,868.84, which is $210.84 over the goal. Through oversight, the last United Fund story omitted the name of J. D. Kirkland as one of the division chairmen. J. D. was in charge of soliciting well drillers and pump dealers and did a good job.

After playing two tough games at home, Hereford basketballers will go to Plainview for another rugged contest Tuesday. The B team plays at 6 p.m. and the varsity at 8 p.m. Ability to perform in the tight spots has cost Hereford its chances in the first two games, but experience

Girl Gridders Will Try Once More Tuesday

For the third and possibly the final time, the annual girls' football classic has been rescheduled for Tuesday at 6 p.m. in Whiteface Stadium.

Due to snow, rain, fog, sleet, and a little bit of everything else, the game has been postponed twice because of the sloppy field.

Pitting the "Stanton Stompers" against the "Fancy Footers," the annual girls' grid classic promises some hilarious football frolics, the likes of which are few and far between.

Held each year in order to raise funds for the junior high athletic activities, the eighth grade girls tackle the ninth grade female gridsters.

Game time is 6 p.m. Tuesday, provided it doesn't sprinkle, because the girls don't want to get their pretty uniforms all dirty just to play football.

Felony Charges Filed Against Tulia Teenager

Felony charges of swindling with a worthless check were filed here Friday against a 17-year-old Tulia youth after he allegedly gave a hot check to a local automobile dealer for purchase of a car.

Response Slow, VFW Needs More Toys To Repair

Response to the annual toy collection launched by the Veterans of Foreign Wars has been slow up until now, according to Charlie Morris, chairman of the drive.

Each year the local VFW post collects used toys to be distributed to needy children. "These toys are given to children who would not be able to have a real Christmas otherwise," states Morris.

Last year, toys were given to about 500 youngsters, ranging from age one to 12. "We do not have that many toys as of yet this year. We are especially in the need of dolls that can be repaired, as well as any other toys," reports Wayne Lawrence.

Herd Falls To Palo Duro In An Overtime Thriller

Hereford is creeping up on the District 3-AAAA schools and will try for the third straight time Tuesday night. The Plainview Bulldogs will play host to the Whitefaces, the third time in as many outings that big schools have opened against the Herd.

Friday night, Hereford lost to the Palo Duro Dons 52-50 in a fast overtime contest. Last Tuesday they lost to Pampa, 57-57. But Friday's game was a thriller from the start. Again, Hereford jumped to a quick lead and held it until the final minutes, only to falter and drop behind.

The score was tied 46-46 at the end of regular play. But the Dons looped in four free throws and a field goal while Hereford was limited to a pair of field goals during the extra three minutes.

As the game started, the teams traded out baskets a couple of times and then Hereford

$1000 Bond Set As Charge Filed For Non-Support

A $1000 bond was set here Tuesday in County Court by presiding judge H. C. Williams as Valentien Torres, 26, Knox City, Tex., entered a plea of not guilty to a non-support charge.

Torres was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ed Robertson in Plainview on Nov. 16 and returned to Deaf Smith County.

DESPITE WET FIELDS, harvesting operations in several Deaf Smith County sorghum patches got underway Friday as dry, clear weather continued. A continuation of the dry weather is badly needed so farmers with cotton, milo and sugar beets still in the fields can get their crops in. Little damage is expected from the cold, damp weather which plagued the area last week.

Romance Comes Quickly In A 'South Pacific' Setting

Set on a tropical isle, the romantic Broadway musical "South Pacific" will be presented here Thursday, Friday, and Saturday by the Hereford High School mixed choir and music department.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium for the presentation which finds Navy men, Navy ladies, and Navy regulations entangled in a delightful clash in the midst of the Pacific ocean.

Adapted from James A. Michener's best-seller "Tales of the South Pacific" the stage show was written by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II.

Based on the all-time great subject of love and romance, the play is destined to bring both tears and laughter to on-lookers before the curtain closes on the tropical paradise.

Mickey Bonesio and Joyce West portray the lead roles of a rich Frenchman and a nurse who find romance must come quickly in the South Pacific.

Enrle Debeque, played by Mickey Bonesio, is quick to act when he spots nurse Nellie Forbush, portrayed by Joyce West.

Living on a Pacific island, with only the natives, the soldiers, and the birds to keep him company, the French plantation owner is delighted at the sight of the lovely nurse.

Debeque sets the theme for the play when he surmises, "Out here, one waits so long for what is good — and when at last it comes one cannot risk losing it, so he must think, and act, quickly."

Thus begins a romantic merry-go-round that ends in surprising situation amidst the South Pacific paradise.

Nurse Nellie finds that many other occupants of the small island have ideas of the same principle as she becomes the apple in many eyes of many soldiers.

However, the war must go on, and the romance must be set aside in favor of fighting at various intervals.

To complicate matters, sailors find that the natives are quite friendly and not so restless on the neighboring isle of Bali Ha'i. "Bali Ha'i is calling" goes the song, only one of the many hits in the musical.

Heading the lure of the tropical wonderland, many new romances enter the picture as sailors travel to Bali Ha'i.

Nurse Nellie protests with the light song entitled "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair," while Debeque and others sing out with "Some Enchanted Evening."

"Bloody Mary," and "There's Nothing Like a Dame" add to the moving musical, along with many other hits scored by Richard Rodgers.

Don Moore directs the choral arrangements and dramatization of "South Pacific." Dress rehearsals begin Monday in preparation for curtain time Thursday night, following almost six weeks of practice by the mixed choir.

"South Pacific" will feature a live orchestra directed by high school band director Ben Gollehon. High school band members, along with string players from the Amarillo symphony, will compose the orchestra.

Tickets will be on sale at the door for the three night performances, according to the director.

More bright sunshine and clear, dry weather are the ingredients needed in the Deaf Smith County area for the 1961 harvest operations to get underway again.

Rain, snow, sleet and fog had put a damper on operations the past two weeks here. When the storm hit, cotton farmers in the area were ready to begin stripping operations.

Deaf Smith County cotton is shaping up good, said a grain operator here Friday. A few more days like today are needed before stripping operations can begin.

Fields in the area are still too wet for strippers but are drying rapidly. Several farmers reportedly tried to get strippers in the fields last Friday and again on Saturday.

Grain operators estimate that still another day or two of good weather is needed before operations will get underway.

It is still too early to tell if the crop suffered a great deal of damage.

There may be some spotting, the grain operator said, but very little. "Ordinarily bad weather doesn't hurt the crop badly," stated another. "But, it is really too early to tell."

The crop is still forecast to be one of the best cotton crops the county has ever harvested.

Cutting is just beginning again on the remaining 25 to 35 percent of grain sorghum still standing in the county. Elevator operators are not anticipating a great amount of damage from the damp weather.

All agreed Friday that two to three more days of dry weather is needed before cutting will hit its peak. However, several combines were reported to be cutting Friday.

At Westway, where an estimated 40 per cent of the milo is still in the fields, very little damage to the crop was reported.

An elevator operator there estimated the loss to farmers at less than one-tenth of the remaining crop. A heavy snow fell in the area, but little ice was reported.

Cutting in that area is expected to begin Monday if the weather continues.

Santa Letters Start Arriving For Publication

With the last of the Thanksgiving turkey down to hash, it is again time to start thinking about letters to Santa Claus. And at least three Hereford children have gotten that Yuletide task out of the way early. The Brand already has gotten letters from Danny Charles, Lance, Lyndi Rojek and Jeanne Brady.

As is customary, the Brand will publish all letters received and then forward the requests to Santa Claus at the North Pole. Letters may be brought to the Brand office or mailed to Santa, care of Box 673, Hereford.

Alcohol Information Week Includes Panel

A panel discussion, open to the public, will be held here Tuesday on the topic "An Informational Approach to Alcoholism." The panel will be one of the highlights of Alcohol Information Week, sponsored here by the Hereford Council on Alcoholism.

Leading the panel will be Frank W. Smith of Denison. The panel will be held Tuesday, Nov. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center and will be open to the public.

As each person arrives he will be given a card and asked to write any question he would like to have answered by the panel. The questions will not be signed.

Appearing on the panel will be Dr. C. E. Hicks, medical; the Rev. Joel Treadwell, clergy; Charles Duval, education; Lions Club at noon Wednesday; AA club house on Thursday at 8 p.m.

Francis Hardwick, president of the Hereford Council on Alcoholism, will act as moderator.

"We would like to urge everyone to attend this panel discussion," Hardwick said. "Alcoholism is a disease, with certain symptoms and certain cures. Our objective is to inform everyone about alcoholism. . . . We are neither wet nor dry and act merely as an agency to provide information for those seeking it."

During his visit here, Smith also will make several other talks. He is to address a breakfast meeting of the Council on Alcoholism at 7 a.m. Wednesday in the Jim Hill Hotel; the Kiwanis Club at noon Thursday; and the open meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous at the Lions Club at noon Wednesday; Sheriff Lowell Sharp, law en-

"Our Medallion appliances do the chores while we're busy teaching!"
say Mr. & Mrs. E. R. Higgins of Lubbock Christian College

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Higgins are delighted with the convenience, efficiency and economy of their Bronze Medallion Home. Particularly, they like and use the automatic features of their electric appliances. It is not unusual for them to place the soiled dishes in the dishwasher, the washed clothes in the clothes dryer, and a complete meal—ready for cooking—in the electric range. A touch of the finger to button and timer... and they're on their way to their college duties. When they return at night, they come home to clean dishes, perfectly dried clothes and a hot meal ready to eat. As they say, "Reddy Kilowatt is our 'chief cook and bottle washer'—without him, we don't know what we'd do."

Mr. Higgins, Director of Admissions and Professor of Mathematics, and Mrs. Higgins, Dean of Women and Director of the College's testing program, both enjoy the comfort of their Bronze Medallion Home during after-hour relaxation periods. Herd Leads Pampa Three Periods, Then Falls 57-67

A tall center whose reach under the basket offset his lack of shooting accuracy made the difference Tuesday night as Hereford fell 57-67 to Pampa here.

It was the opening game for both teams and Hereford had its partisans standing up and shouting for much of the game as the Whitefaces showed surprising spirit and speed. The Whitefaces led the tall Harvesters until the last ten minutes, when fous chopped out the third of Hereford starters.

Hereford opened up with a running ball, stealing attack that had the Shockers shocked for the first half. Sophomore Jim Haney, starting his first high school ball game, dropped in 16 points during the first half to pace the Herd to leads in the first and second periods. But size took its toll in the third periods, only quarter in which Hereford was outpointed.

After spotting Pampa a field goal, Haney and Dennis Hodges, only returning starter, whipped in seven points then got help from Dwight McGee to run up a startling 17-7 lead that had the fans roaring approval. Pampa finally picked up a field goal and four charity tosses to make it closer at the end of the first period as Hereford led 19-14.

It was more of the same in the second period, as the Whitefaces snaked in and out of the Pampa offense, stealing balls and keeping the green-clad cagers off balance. It was still Haney, Hodges and McGee whipping in the points. Midway through the quarter, Hereford had a 29-18 lead.

But McGee fouled off with 3:15 left in the quarter and Hereford failed to take up all the slack. Mack Canaler and Virgil Strange added field goals in the final minute and Hereford led 35-27 at halftime. Then the roof fell in for Hereford, which was unable to find the basket on its shots from the

IN FIRST OUTING

Stanton Eighth Grade Trims Dimmitt 38-19 Here Monday

Stanton Junior High School's eighth grade Dogies won their first outing of the season as they played host to the Dimmitt eighth graders Monday.

Hereford racked up a 38-19 win over Dimmitt. Stanton's seventh and eighth grade teams will host Canyon here Thursday, beginning at 5 p. m. in the Stanton gymnasium. The Dogies had little trouble in taming the young Wildcats Monday. Stanton held the edge throughout the game, leading 19-12 at the half.

Dogies Steve Hodges and Jack Ferguson led the Hereford scoring efforts, with 14 and 11 points respectively. Other starters scoring for Hereford were Mike Moore, five; Roger Owens, six; and Gary Payne, two.

Hodges, Ferguson, and Moore combined efforts to place Stanton with a firm 9-3 lead during the first quarter. During the second period, Payne and Hodges bagged all of Stanton's scores to maintain a 19-12 lead at the half.

Third quarter action saw Mike Moore score twice, along with Hodges and Payne. During the fourth quarter Hodges and Payne tacked on eight more to win 38-19.

Line-up for Stanton was Steve Hodges, Jack Ferguson, Mike Moore, Robbie Lemons, Gary Gore, Wynn Buck, Jimmy Gutierrez, Sammy Curtis-field or hold the rebounds. For the Harvesters, Wayne Kreis and Keith Swanson took up the slack in the third period. Hereford was held to four free throws and two field goals, one each by Hodges and Canaler.

Hereford held on desperately until 3:20 was left in the quarter, when Swanson whipped in a field goal and put Pampa in front 44-43. Then the Shockers dropped in seven free throws, a field goal and two more free throws while holding Hereford scoreless. That put the Herd behind 43-55 at the start of the fourth period.

Big Randy Matson, 6-6 center, fouled out for Pampa with 5:40 left in the game, but the lead was too much. The Whitefaces got within nine points, then cooled off as Pampa picked up nine straight points before Hereford could hit again. Dennis Hodges and Jerry Curtisinger fouled out during the wild action while Swanson left for Pampa.

Hereford was playing with-

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS

It went on every day for six months, around the clock, never stopping. The men who took part in this fantastic operation were heroes of a new kind of war . . . the "cold war."

This was the famous "Air Lift" . . . the Allied answer to Russia's blockade of Berlin. The city was jointly occupied, but it lay in the Russian zone of Germany, and the Soviets had sealed off the city, stopping all rail and road traffic from the Western sectors.

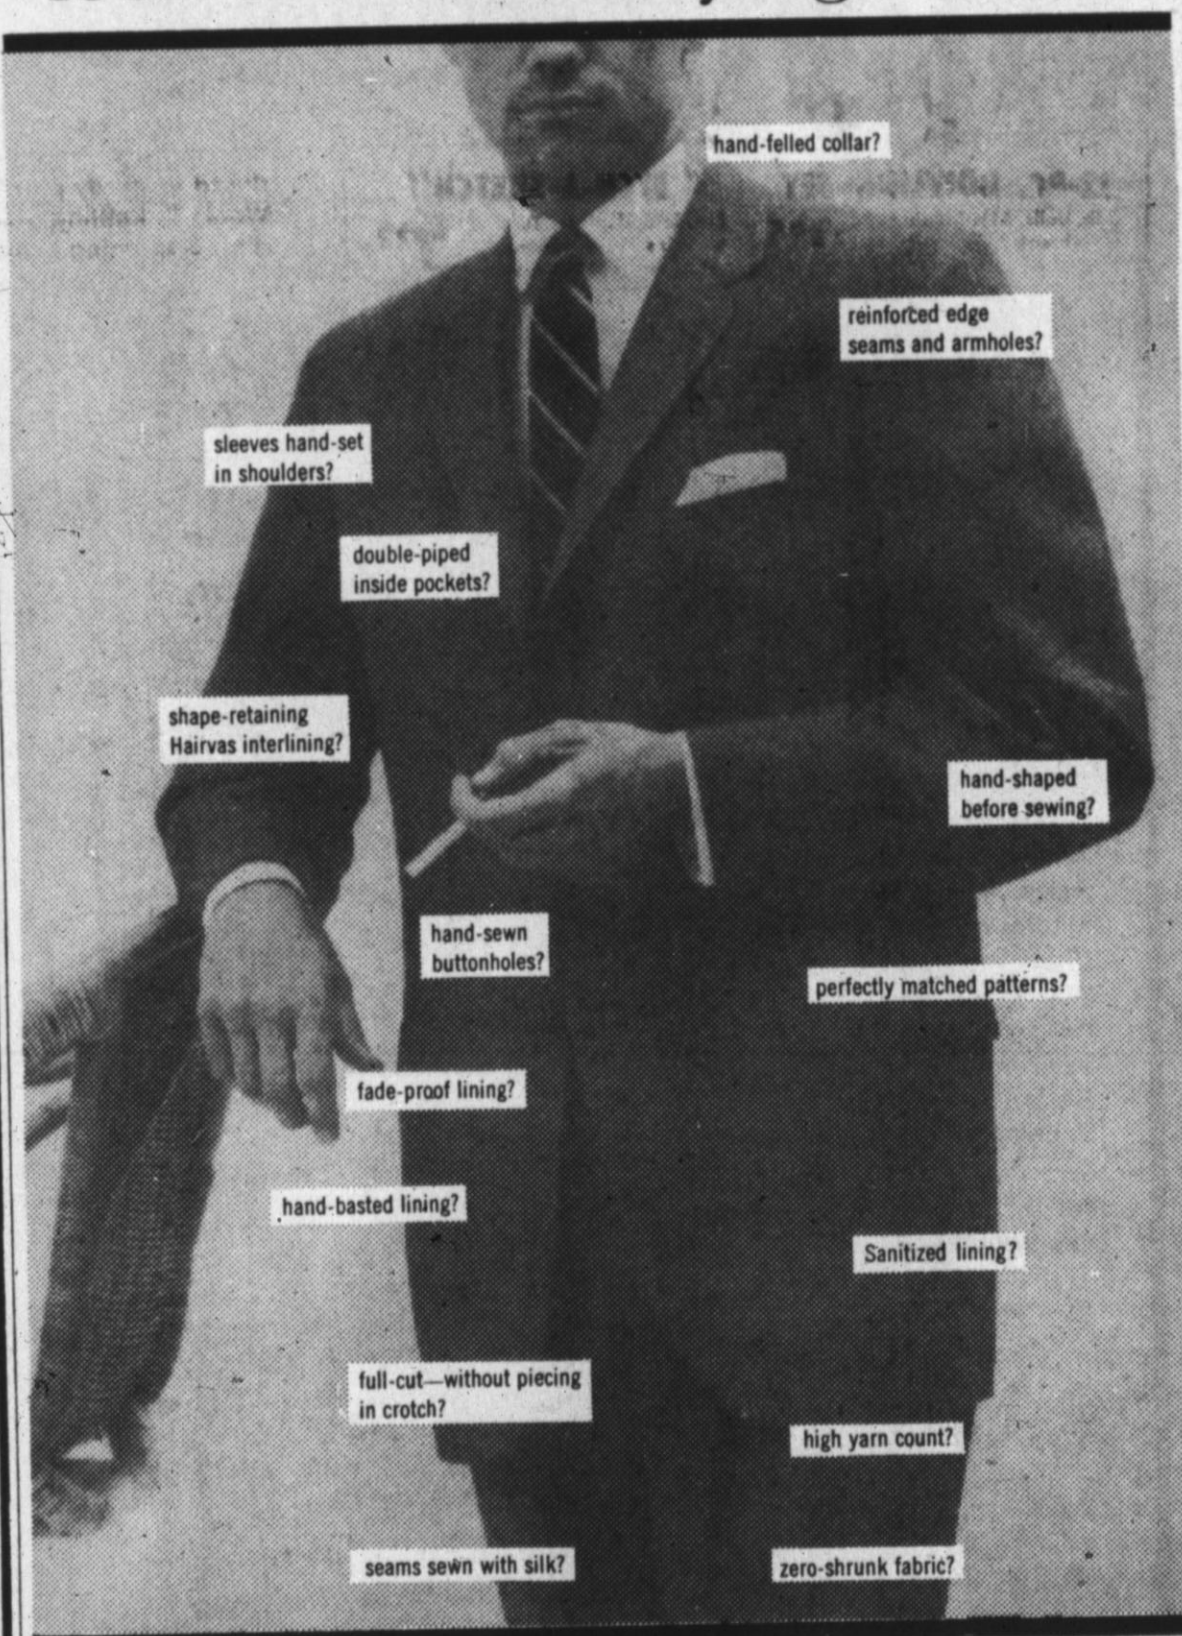

The Air Lift was a bold, dramatic answer. Every few minutes planes roared into the isolated city, bringing vitally needed food and supplies. Day after day the planes flew, an endless stream. Finally, one day in May, the Russians tacitly admitted defeat. The roads were opened to trucks bringing food. The trains began to move once more.

It was a bloodless victory in the new kind of war. Remember the year?

That year Americans at home were signing long waiting lists for new cars. Production hadn't caught up with demand . . . and a buyer took what he could get in model, color and accessories. He didn't worry about getting the best deal. He just wanted a car.

The year was 1949. Today it's a different story. You'll find exactly the model you want in our big stock of brand new 1962 Fords. You can pick your colors and accessories, and you can just about write your own ticket on a deal. Come in and see! You're the boss at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO. INC., W. Hwy. 60 at Miles. Phone EM4-2727.

What two things must you look for when buying a suit?

Though every single one of the above points is important, you can be sure of them all by satisfying yourself on two simple things.

First, the fabric. Do you like the look and feel of it? Good—your decision is half made.

Now, look for the label. If it's a 'BOTANY' 500, all the above questions, including fabric quality, are answered in the affirmative. You are buying the best suit for your money in America. And, we're proud to be the store that has it! (as well as the complete line of 'BOTANY' 500 Compatible topcoats, sport coats and slacks, at equally attractive prices.)

B&PW Club Hears Mrs. Brashear

The Hereford Business and Professional Womens Club met Monday evening at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 20, in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company. Miss Gladys Setliff was chairman of the program on international relations. She introduced Mrs. Anna Brashear, a German war bride, who is now an American citizen. Mrs. Brashear talked to the group about her life in Germany during the reign of Hitler; her schooling, the hardships endured because of her refusal to join the Nazi party, experiences of air raids and bombings, her escape from the city where she was living only three days before the Russians arrived to occupy that section. She stressed in a most sincere way her gratefulness for being an American; for having freedom of vote, freedom of speech and freedom of religion. She asked each one to thank God each day for the bountiful blessings of our land; and to stay awake, so horrors such as those of Hitler, would never prevail in this land.

Dawn Musettes Sponsors Thanksgiving Hymn Festival Sunday

The Dawn Musettes sponsored a Thanksgiving Hymn Festival Sunday afternoon, Nov. 19, at the Dawn Baptist Church.

The program began with a prelude of hymns by Mrs. Orval Galley. The invocation was given by the Rev. Charles Davenport. The call to worship, Psalm 24, was read by Beverly Lemons, followed by the Junior Hymn sung by the members of the Dawn Musettes.

A group of hymns of praise and thanksgiving were sung by the congregation. The hymns were "O Worship the King" by Hadyn, "Fairer Lord Jesus" by Willis and "Come All Ye Thankful People" by Elvey.

"I Believe" by John D. Rockefeller Jr. was read by Ann Gentry, followed by the anthem "Lift Up Your Heads, O Ye Gates," sung by the Dawn Musettes.

Patriotic hymns sung were "My Country 'Tis of Thee" by Carey and "Faith of Our Fathers" by Henny. Mrs. R. T. Stewart sang "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" by Liddle. A responsive reading of Thanksgiving scriptures was led by the Rev. Davenport.

The hymns "Battle Hymn of the Republic" by Steffe and "God Be With You" by Tomer concluded the program.

The congregational singing was directed by Mrs. R. T. Stewart, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Carl Wimberley.

Theft of Credit Card Draws Fine Plus Jail Term

Ronnie Frank Glascock, 21, Rt. 4, Hereford, received a fine and costs of $44.50 plus four days in jail for the misdemeanor theft of a credit card from a local service station.

The fine and sentence was handed down Friday in a trial in Justice of the Peace court, C. B. Miles presiding. Glascock is also to make restitution for the bill charged on the credit card.

Glascock reportedly took the card and used it in New Mexico. He was arrested here Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Ed Roberson.

Hereford Bees Are Downed By Powerful Harvesters

Hereford High School's B-team Whitefaces suffered a 52-61 defeat at the hands of the AAAA Pampa Harvesters here Tuesday night. The Bees were scheduled to take another AAAA team, the Palo Duro Dons here Friday.

The Bees travel to Plainview Tuesday for their first game away from home. All 12 members of the Whiteface team played on the freshman team last season, with the exception of juniors Austin Hodges, Johnny Willoughby, and David Dowell.

Sophomore Eugene Green led the Bees' scoring with 13 points during his first game. Junior guard Austin Hodges tossed five field goals and a free throw for the Whitefaces. Pampa's always-tough Harvesters took a 20-18 lead during the fast-moving first quarter. Don Ayers claimed 18 points for the visitors Tuesday to monopolize the Pampa scoring ranks. Limited to only 10 points during the second round, the Hereford Bees fell behind 28-39.

Coach Joe Brooks used all 12 of the B-teamers Tuesday night, exhibiting new material for the Herd.

The Whitefaces have one more AAAA tilt before their AA game with Tulla next Friday.

Racking up a 39-22 win over Dimmitt in their first game, the Stanton Junior High School seventh graders will host Canyon here Thursday at 5 p.m.

Stanton's Dogies maintained a strong lead throughout the game. Led by scoring efforts of Jimmie Allison, who canned 18 points for the Hereford team, Stanton built up a 20-11 advantage at the half.

Larry Noland poured in 10 points for the untied Dogies, while Mike Davis and Brad Johnson each added three markers. Phillip Cain sank a field goal in the fourth quarter, while Gene Duvall and Mike Watts tossed in field goals during the game.

Others on the Stanton line-up were Billy Frank, Donnie Cornelius, Larry Brown, David Evans, Felix Albiar, Dale Smith, Dennis Latham, and Eddie Collins.

Dogie Jimmie Allison claimed 10 points for the Dogies during the first quarter while Larry Noland added a field goal to place Stanton ahead 12-5.

Stanton retained the advantage the remainder of the game, as Dimmitt could not make up the deficit.

RAILROAD INSTRUMENT

CLEVELAND, Ohio — A device which resembles a miniature boat trailer, and uses piano strings, is being used by the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad to insure level tracks and smooth rides for passengers and freight. The device, called a "surfacter," registers low spots — variations as small as an eighth-inch, on an indicator. A ballast tamper then moves in to push ballast under and around ties and correct the situation.

Using the equipment, railroad maintenance engineers say, the crews can correct 50 to 80 low spots a day.

Posture Studied As Club Program Topic

The program on "Good Posture and Its Relation to Good Health" was presented to the members of the Progressive Home Demonstration Club on Nov. 21 in the home of Mrs. P. L. Carmichael with Mrs. Leon Coffin serving as hostess.

Mrs. Floyd McGee, program chairman, introduced Mrs. P. L. Carmichael, the first speaker. She said, "Carriage and stance are as important to characterization as make-up or costume and they are vital to every woman who wishes to create the illusion of beauty."

Mrs. Taft McGee gave the portion of the program called "Cut a Figure." She said, "To many of us, exercise is a bore or a chore. Every day there are bound to be six seconds to relax. Those seconds can make a tremendous difference." She urged everyone to pull in the stomach, pull up the chin, wriggle, yawn and stretch. These exercises can be done at any time.

Mrs. Lester English read a paper prepared by Mrs. Fred Aubrey on "They Won't Outgrow Poor Posture." She said, "Simple posture defects will respond rapidly to correction if the child will exercise regularly, stretching the tight muscles and strengthening the weak ones."

Announcements were made of the programs on "Cleaning and Care of Clothing," "Labels on Clothing" and "The Make-It-Yourself With Wool Contest," to be held at the Community Center on Nov. 28 at 7:30 p.m., sponsored by the County Clothing Committee.

The Christmas party is scheduled for Dec. 19 in the Community Room of the First National Bank at 6:30 p.m.

Members present were Mesdames Floyd McGee, C. V. Burges Jr., Taft McGee, E. C. Hammett, Lester English, P. L.

Grain Sorghum Producers Lead Way In Meeting National Farm Problem

Announcement of a forthcoming meeting of grain sorghum producers in Hereford brings to mind the success of a strong national organization, which had its birth in this community and, without doubt, is doing an excellent job for farmers all over the United States.

The grain sorghum association held initial meetings in the courthouse in Hereford, then spread to Amarillo and over the Panhandle. Now it includes members all over the nation. More important still is the fact that the association, now headed by a Deaf Smith County man, is performing a tremendous service.

By bringing in prospective customers from Europe, Japan and many other nations, the association has carried on an educational campaign which has helped tremendously to curb over-production of small feed grains, generally with a profit for the customers. These exports, in addition, bid to grow and expand as the years pass. Research for new uses does not seem to have achieved such favorable results, but it is still a major part of the association program and in the future might well develop tremendous new outlets.

Born from sheer necessity of survival, the grain sorghum association is a good example of American ingenuity. Those involved faced their problems squarely, then went to work to create new markets as a substitute for additional government subsidy which had already been refused. The problem is far from being completely eliminated but, without question, small feed grains are in much better condition than when the organization was established. Needless to say, these results have, at the same time, upheld a standard of living on the Plains and in many other portions of the nation.

It is also possible that the grain sorghum people may have set an example for other types of farmers and producers in the United States. These people, too, could easily find themselves in serious trouble in case the Department of Agriculture should bow to constant demands on the part of numerous factions to shave all crop subsidies to a minimum.

While the grain sorghum association proves the ability of the American farmer to meet and combat emergencies, it disproves at the same time the old wives' tale that farmers cannot organize and function for the benefit of all. Frankly, we doubt if any phase of organized labor functions more smoothly or beneficially than has the organization of the grain sorghum producers.

While the rest of the world is plagued with shortages and starvation, the American farmer faces the problem of over-production in a nation of over-weight people. The problems are different, but out of the crisis, it seems to us that the grain sorghum growers of Deaf Smith County pointed the way to conclusive proof that there always is an answer.

Once again, America has provided that answer in a truly democratic fashion.

Coops Sign New Power Contract

Many people in this area have carefully followed the proposal of 15 area electric cooperatives to construct a power plant, which would serve the generally termed "REA" users.

The major result we see from the wrangle centers around new power contracts, which are estimated to save the cooperatives a total of $210,000 during the next five years. We wonder if this might not have been the motivating force behind the argument all of the time.

Meanwhile, we note that the cooperatives plan to continue their survey concerning a central power plant — and we see nothing wrong with such a plan.

The Rural Electrification program was originated to bring electric service to areas which power companies found unprofitable. Since that time, some of the coops have no doubt sought to develop other areas and expand into new fields. Considering all factors, it seems to us that they might well remain within their original bounds, and continue to do an outstanding job in the field they were created.

On the other hand, if they can actually produce power for cheaper than it can be purchased, we see no reason why the user of rural electrification should be penalized. By the same token, we definitely do not mean that they should be subsidized to compete with private power companies which are entitled to make a reasonable profit.

Meanwhile, both sides appear to be happy with the present arrangement, which appears to be sensible and practical.

Communists In The Panhandle?

A Baptist minister, who beat it out of Cuba barely ahead of the gendarmes, told a group of newsmen the other day at Quanah that we may not be laying enough stress on our battle with communism, that is, not making the issue more clearly drawn.

We had arrived at the point where preserving our nation from the communists may be even for a greater cause than just preserving the American way of life, as so many think. The fact is, he said, we may be at the point where the issue is saving the country for Christ.

His experience in Cuba—he was a native who did not want to leave—had taught him, he said, that no one knows who is a communist. There may be communist in this very room, he said. Which gave his listeners a creepy feeling. Are there actually any Communists in West Texas?

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

The short painful life of Robert Louis Stevenson is a testimony to the love of life. "For 14 years I have not had a day's real health," wrote the beloved author of Treasure Island, "I have written in bed . . . out of it, written in hemorrhages . . . torn by coughing . . . when my head swam for weakness." Yet, "Since I am sworn to live my life . . . I bear a banner in the strife."

He manifested his faith in prayer: "We thank Thee . . . for the hope with which we expect the morrow; for the health, the work, the food, and the bright skies . . . our friends in all parts of the earth . . . give us the strength to encounter that which is to come, that we be brave in peril . . . temperate in wrath . . . and down to the gates of death, loyal and loving one to another."

Pioneers Lived Under The Ground As We Might, Also

BY MRS. R. L. CRIWELL

Longfellow's "Dust thou art to dust thou returnest" could be paraphrased to, in the earth thou hast lived, and to live, thou must return to living in the earth.

This could be true, not only in the staked plains area but world-wide, since the Russian premier has chosen to test atomic and hydrogen bombs of such magnitude that he hopes to frighten the world into a mass of cringing humanity that will bow to his every wish.

Our own pioneers of the staked plains came here to make their homes and did not find either timber or too many rocks with which to build a home. Since transportation was a distinct problem they used what was at hand and dug into the earth for a shelter from the strong winds that blew across the prairie and protected them from the cold as well.

The dugout or half dugout did not require as much heat during the cold blizzards that swept across the plains but they were also much cooler in the heat of summer, and they were also a place of safety when the whirling tornadoes dipped from the sky to destroy everything in its path. The tornado we still have at times and the destruction of these vicious winds can be wide and terrible. Why not combine a shelter and the storm cellar in one?

The business of building underground is progressing with at least one comfortable home being built entirely below the surface in Plainview. It not only has four bedrooms, two baths and a living and dining area but water is furnished from an underground well that could not be easily contaminated. Just feature the luxury of an hour-long bath with plenty of water as the family waited for the two weeks to pass before venturing above ground to see what was left if one happened to not be near a direct hit. No type of shelter will be of any protection under a direct hit or within the fireball area as described with a hydrogen bomb.

Deaf Smith County has several shelters completed and others under construction. One of these, a 22-foot by 12-foot area has a double ceiling, the first of concrete and another, one foot lower, of acoustic block ceiling to cut down on noise. This also provides extra storage space for articles that won't fit into the storage closet across the end of the shelter. This storage is 27 inches by 12 feet and has a place for storing the two folding beds, giving that space for living when no one is sleeping.

The door to the shelter is in the garage and has a double turn to prevent radiation from entering the shelter. It is said that radiation goes only in a straight line. Neon lights are recessed to give more space.

A portable TV and transistor radio will be in the shelter with a battery for lights and possibly a small portable charger. The floor will be painted for shuffleboard. The owners say that a refuge from tornadoes is always needed so their fall-out shelter is a combination of play room, storm cellar and fall-out shelter and an extra bedroom when family gatherings require. Water is supplied by a 40-gallon tank that can be drawn from the storage tank or from an underground cistern.

Doesn't that all sound wonderful? Since the room is for play, it will not seem a prison to the children if it is necessary for them to enter for protection.

Government specifications say that there should be 10 feet by 12 feet per person and I am sure it would give claustrophobia victims less a feeling of being closed in. This makes the two described sound very luxurious after visiting one that was only 10 by 12.

At the first shelter visited, the owner grabbed the blower and gave it a spin and since the shelter was entirely empty it made a terrifying noise. After the shelter is furnished and the shelves filled with food cans, books and magazines I am sure the noise would be cushioned out to some extent, or it might need to be sealed with acoustic ceiling blocks.

This particular shelter had a built-in water tank below the surface and was connected to the incoming water supply in such a way that all the household water passed through the shelter supply keeping it fresh at all times. There was a cut-off to be turned when entering the shelter after an alert has been sounded.

It is easy to think of using canned heat for cooking and heating when cold but the subject of lights fascinates me for it would seem terrible to be in the inky blackness of a shelter for any length of time. The old fashioned small light plant could be an answer to that by putting the exhaust on the outside of the shelter.

CANYON NAMED SITE OF AQUATIC LAB

Texas Game and Fish Commission is opening an aquatic laboratory in Canyon to promote good-fishing conditions in 52 counties in the Panhandle and South Plains area. This information came early this week from Leo Lewis of San Angelo, regional fishery supervisor for the commission. Lewis said equipment is being housed temporarily in a maintenance building of the Texas Highway Department on the Hereford Highway.

TV CABLE REQUEST MADE

City Councilmen Tuesday night heard a request for a TV cable franchise here — the second such request in recent weeks. This one came from Steve Boruk, Olton theatre owner, at a regular meeting of the council. As they did after the first request several weeks ago, councilmen tabled Boruk's proposal until City Attorney Gene Owen has had a chance to investigate such matters. Boruk proposed to establish the cable, "including but not limited to pay television," and operate it through Mustang Theatre here.

SEWER ADDITIONS APPROVED

City Councilmen approved the extension of the sanitary sewer to the Colored section of Littlefield at their regular session Thursday night. Cost of the project was estimated at $6,000 and will pay for itself in about six years. The action came after more than a month's study on the proposal which will provide sewer facilities for homes and business in that part of town.

URGENT PLEA ISSUED

"We need help," these were the words of Bill Owen, president of the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce. For the last four or five years our Christmas decorations have been dwindling down, until now we are completely without any type of decorations. We have appointed numerous committees to work on the problem . . . Each of these committees have all had almost the same answer. To properly decorate the square in Wheeler, it would cost in the neighborhood of $3,000. The Chamber of Commerce naturally does not have this much nor does it have any hopes of raising this much. However, if the merchants, farmers, ranchers and citizens of this area would each donate just a little it might be possible to raise about $1,000, which if used in a conservative manner, would be enough to make Wheeler look as if it has come alive and is fresh with the Christmas spirit.

CHAMBER ADOPTS BIG WORK PROGRAM

Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce Monday night adopted what retiring president Robert Alford termed "the most ambitious program of work the Muleshoe Chamber has ever undertaken." Incoming and outgoing directors met to consider a number of proposals in joint session Monday night. The foremost measures passed pertained to agricultural industry, a new jail and a city park. The Chamber resolved to work toward securing an industry based on agriculture for Muleshoe in 1962, pledging to concentrate the full efforts of the Chamber toward reaching this goal. An accelerated program of industrial and commercial development is planned for Muleshoe during the coming year, along with an active program of assistance to existing and future industry with emphasis on zoning.

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm discusses education this week. At least that's what it sounds like he's doing.

Dear editor:

I never do object to a new idea. I don't do anything about one, haven't done anything especially about all the old ones, but I don't mind one being brought up.

Consequently, I was very interested in an economist's idea the other day that the government ought to pay college students to go to school. He said it would show a profit that the difference in what a college graduate earns over what a non-college man earns would amount to enough to pay the government back in increased income taxes, hence the program wouldn't cost anything. I guess it's like putting fertilizer on a crop; the cost of the fertilizer is more than made up in increased yields, if you don't mind me putting higher education and fertilizer in the same economic bracket, although understand I haven't checked with universities or the fertilizer people either about this.

I got to thinking about this idea, along with another idea I also read, namely that the old age pension level be lowered from 65 to 45.

Here's the way the two ideas would work: public schools and parents would take care of a person until he finished high school, then the government would pay him to go to college for four more years, with maybe a year or two of graduate work thrown in. Then with a year or two in the army or Peace Corps, this would get him up to the age of say 25. Then he'd be on his own till 45, and I don't think this is unreasonable. Under the free enterprise system a man ought to earn his living part of the way, just to prove the system is still sound.

Any man who isn't willing to work 20 years, provided of course he's on a five-day week, six-hour day, ain't worth his salt.

This system of paying kids to go to college would enable everybody to go and would increase the national income and raise the national education level, although of course it wouldn't improve the athletic system any, as I understand athletes are already being paid to go to college. I guess though we could raise their pay, just to keep the thing in balance.

Yours faithfully

J. A.

Art Show Features Wertenbergers

Sunday, Nov. 26, from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center, members of the Hereford Art Guild will be hosts for the arts and crafts show featuring the work of Lottie Wertenberger and one of her sons, Erin.

Mrs. O. Wertenberger teaches art and crafts in all three grades at Stanton Junior High School. She is a member of Classroom Teachers, Texas State Teachers, life member of the National Education Association, a member of Texas Art Teachers and Western Arts, a division of the National Art Educators. She is also a charter member of the national and International China Painting Teachers organization.

Mrs. Wertenberger paints as a hobby and says, "I find painting relaxing after some tiring school days." Lottie gardens, too, possessing a green thumb. Her yard and flowers reflect her love of beauty and art.

Her home is a showplace of talent, but still retains the "homey" atmosphere of a happy, lived-in home. Many of Lottie's and Erin's paintings, china and ceramic works are displayed in the home. The living room is furnished with a large oval braided rug made by Lottie. A peek into Lottie's garage reveals a cache of driftwood and other items of beauty she has collected for the use of her students and friends.

Lottie is a good fisherman, accompanying her husband, "Wert", and the boys on fishing trips to the lake. She is a gracious hostess to friends who come calling, many of them from Ohio, former home of the Wertenbergers.

Erin will show ceramics done as class work, sculpture and a working as technical director for the speech department. He designs sets and costumes for the drama and opera productions featured at the college. He is active in the Buffalo Masquers Club and president of the Speech Club on the campus.

Erin will show ceramics done as class work, sculpture and a group of costume designs, pastels, tempera and inks, and oils in connection with the oils, china and quilts done by his mother.

The arts and crafts show today will feature more than 100 pieces. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend this showing at the Hereford Community Center.

Remember: 1:30 to 5:30 p.m.

THE TALENTS OF the Wertenbergers are glimpsed through the mirrors of photographs to present a token of the events in store for the general public at the arts and crafts show scheduled for the hours between 1:30 and 5:30 p.m. today, Nov. 26, at the Hereford Community Center. A view of several items of china painting done by Mrs. Wertenberger is shown in picture number one. In the second picture, Erin Wertenberger and his mother are discussing the many stitches taken in the construction of the quilt. Tippy seems to be wondering if he might be able to make use of it, too. Photograph number 3 shows oil paintings; a snow scene, and companion pictures in the modern theme. Erin is shown looking at several of his modern drawings and paintings in the fourth photo.

Rev. Thurston Attends 'Food For Peace' Meet
The Rev. H. L. Thurston of Hereford attended an 11-state meeting in Denver, Colo., last week as chairman of the agricultural committee of the Texas Christian Rural Overseas Program.

He was among those attending a one-day meeting, the first regional conference of the American Food For Peace National Council.

Principal speaker was George McGovern, special assistant to President Kennedy as director of Food For Peace.

McGovern outlined a plan which would give food to hungry persons in other countries in exchange for work, rather than just giving them food.

Of the program, McGovern said, "It helps the United States find constructive outlets for our surplus food production, it reduces our storage costs, it stimulates our shipping industry and our ports, it bolsters farm income, it develops future dollar markets overseas, it raises the purchasing power of other countries and it strengthens U. S. foreign policy objectives."

"On the other side, sharing our food abundance reduces human misery, sickness and premature death. It gives men the strength to work, students the energy to study, and brings nourishment and hope to millions. In supplementing the resources and the energy of food-deficient countries, the Food For Peace Program has become a powerful ingredient in economic and social development."

Delegates from Colorado, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Wyoming and California were present for the meeting.

Attending from Texas were the Rev. Ed Long, Austin; Elmer Torn, Tyler; Dr. John Williams, College Station; Frank J. Phillips, CARE, Dallas; John Ford, assistant to Governor Daniel, Austin; Bill Williams, staff of Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin; Frank Shaller, CROP board of directors for Texas, Austin; and Reverend Thurston.

Knight's Of Columbus Hold Memorial Rites
Services in memory of the deceased members of the Knights of Columbus Council 2778 of Hereford were held recently. Memorial Mass and Corporate Communion were at Saint Anthony's Church.

Dutch Lunch at the Knights of Columbus Hall followed. After the service, the regular meeting and memorial services were held.

Approximately 75 members attended the meeting in a display of Brotherhood.

obtained from many magazines or you can write to the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. and they will send a pamphlet called "The family fallout shelter with plans for shelters and lists articles and amounts for each person."

This bulletin shows different types of shelters, from underground, basement to above ground ones made of concrete blocks, double-walled for above ground shelters.

As you make a list from those especially prepared, keep in mind that one must be ready for emergencies and it might be a good idea to take along several packages of bottles of food supplement tablets and special medicine for the elderly folk and the children. There should be games and books for children as well as for adults. Make sure that you take along an abundance of patience, love and self control.

Can you imagine anything worse than a group of people snarling at each other in an enclosure like that? Take your Bible along with the patience and understanding. It could be a wonderful opportunity to teach a family or group that God's presence will help more than anything whether above or below the ground.

Just why are we digging in the earth for a place to live as the mole or earthworm? What is fallout? It is minute pieces of dust and debris that has been made radioactive by a nuclear explosion. The atom or hydrogen bomb when exploded radiates this dust and debris and carries it high into the air over the space of many miles and when it settles to earth it cannot be seen or felt but it can and does enter the body and begins its deadly work of making a person very ill.

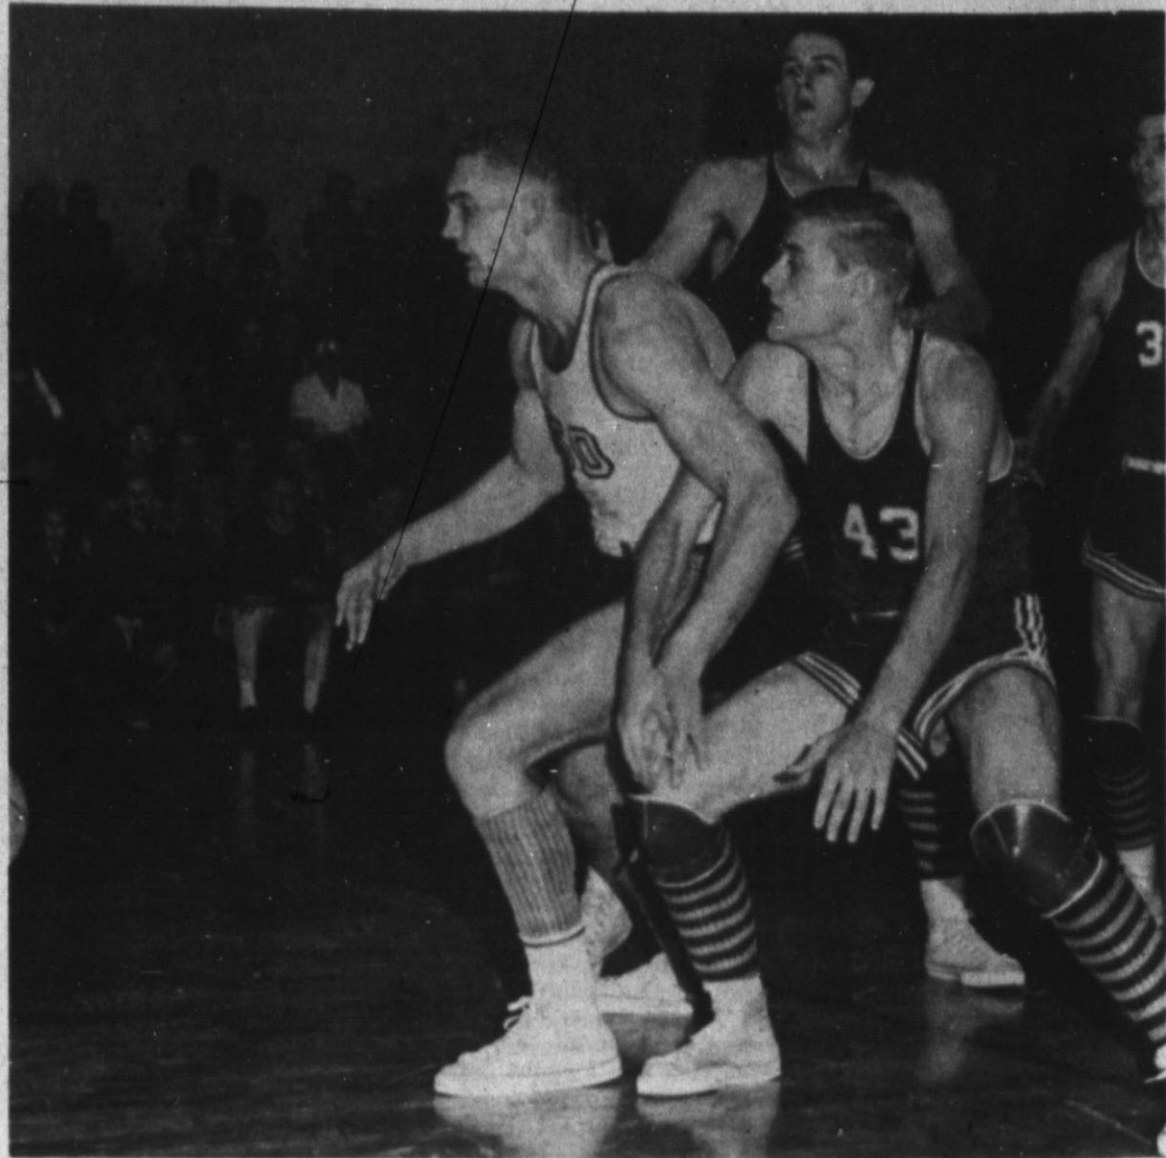

These radio-active particles can cause anemia, sterility, cancer of many types. They can also effect heredity causing malformed children and loss of hair or baldness.

Normal radiation gives us less than four percent in our daily existence from cosmic rays, rocks, the water we drink and even from bricks if one lives in a brick house. This radiation is measured in units and the normal is .5 to 1.5 per square yard, but the real danger level is in the thousands and the highest recorded in the U. S. was after testing and on outside areas it ran as high as 5,000. This of course must last over a period of days to be really harmful.

There is strontium-90, which has a life span of 40 years and it enters the bones causing different types of cancer. It contaminates milk and is of very great danger to children. Carbon-14 will last for 8,000 years and its damage could be projected on into the future for that length of time. It gets into the genes doing its dirty work of deforming off-spring. Cesium-137 also produces genetic defects.

Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize chemist, has estimated that 100,000 genetic deaths throughout the world in the next few generations will result from Carbon-14. This is from atomic tests made up to 1958.

The Iodine-131 goes directly to the thyroid gland when it enters the body and children's thyroids are particularly sensitive to radiation by iodine, causing cancer. This too will be in milk and alone would cause more of this type cancer in children, however it only has a life span of 12 days, disintegrating in that time. Using aged powdered milk would be one way of avoiding it.

Does this so frighten the American people that they are unwilling to go underground and come back to a world so devastated that it would take years to come part way back to our present day of culture? I would say not if they stop and think. Surely we would not be so cowardly. It has been said that no matter how many bombs were dropped there would be some survivors, and if there are shelters there would or could be as many as 85 or 90 per cent of the people to begin the business of living after the days of heavy fall out.

President Hoover has said that "This nation need not worry about defense as there are millions of young men living in the country to take up arms and defend our nation and to defeat our enemies." These men would have the best chance of survival if we had a surprise attack as they would be most certainly subject to fallout, but not from a direct hit from the bombs, and if they were in shelters could replace those already in service.

Parents owe their children this protection and should make plans to be sure they are protected, so why not combine an extra bedroom, playroom and shelter all in one? The cost would not be too much more than the same room built above ground. There should be public shelters for those that are unable to build one and for those people that rent their homes and do not care to build on the property of others.

Of course, it wouldn't be any fun to come out to the wrecks of our homes, but are we as a nation any better than others who have rebuilt cities and homes destroyed by war? Or those who have had their homes torn to pieces and scattered for miles by cyclonic winds? Oh yes, they have had help and we would have help too; the help of those who have passed this testing with us and have ANOTHER REVERE TEAPOT BOSTON (AP) — Nobody knows what happened to Paul Revere's teapot — the one he was holding when artist John Singleton Copley painted his portrait.

But the Boston Museum of Fine Arts now has acquired a teapot closely resembling it and made by the silversmith - patriot long ago. It was bequeathed to the museum by a Massachusetts woman whose family owned the teapot nearly two centuries.

Museum director Perry Rathbone said this teapot "is not the teapot in the portrait," because its cover ornamentation is slightly different, but "it is closer to it than has ever come to light to date." The museum possesses the largest existing collection of Revere silver.

Dr. Briscoe Tells Of Study Abroad

Dr. Jerry Briscoe Jr., an associate professor at Amarillo College, spoke to the Hereford Rotary Club here Monday on his experiences and observations while studying in England on a fellowship from the Rotary Foundation.

A program on the Foundation is held each year, but had to be postponed a week due to the meeting of the Sugar Beet Growers Association.

"We have many friends overseas," Dr. Briscoe told the group, "and those in the British Isles are among the best we have."

He cited several examples of the friendship of the people for Americans.

In introducing his topic, he stated that he had learned three lessons while studying in England. These lessons are that all people are different; the younger ones are more teachable and, on a personal basis, people are more hospitable.

He also told the group that America cannot afford to be blind to its position of world leadership.

The American people can be blinded to this responsibility, he continued, by inadequate newspaper coverage, taking short, pre-planned tours and by hate groups seeking to capitalize on foreign issues.

He concluded his talk by praising the work of the Rotary Clubs in sponsoring the student exchange program.

Ben Childers, Rotary Foundation chairman of the local club, introduced the speaker.

BACK TO THE CAVE, MEN

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Should a nuclear war come, east and middle Tennesseans may find themselves back in man's earliest home — the cave.

The state division of geology has released a study of the more than 700 limestone caves facing the area and Civil Defense experts have pointed out they make excellent fallout shelters.

The caves are good for this purpose because they meet two basic requirements — shelter and uncontaminated water — CD experts say.

How many of you have heard the wonderful music broadcast by the First Methodist Church each day at noon and again in the evening? We always hear it at the office and occasionally at home. We've found this is the way it affects us:

toll,
Soft notes ring with joy and goodwill
Our short supply of patience to from 30 feet out with five seconds left put Hereford ahead 34-31 going into the final period. Hereford moved out to a 37-23 lead, but the Dons ripped the nets for seven straight points to go in front 37-40 with 4:20 left in the game. Trailing 42-46, Jerry Curtisinger hit from underneath and Hodges grabbed a rebound and dumped it in for the tying points after Jim Douglas had missed a free throw that would have put it out of reach.

In the overtime, Jim Haney dumped in a field goal just before he fouled out. Toby Hall and Bruce Francis each dumped in a free throw before Hall hit on a lay-up. M. T. Knowles iced it down with 28 seconds left as it dropped in two free tosses. Curtisinger hit a final basket for Hereford but it was too late.

Senior Jerry Curtisinger played his best game of the year as he dumped in 9 of 20 field goal attempts and hit on all four free throw tries for 22 points. Sophomore Jim Haney got ten points for Hereford. Bruce Francis led the evenly-balanced Don scoring with 14 points, while Toby Hall had 13 and M. T. Knowles got 12.

Despite the loss, Hereford fans were pleased with the White-faces' showing against the Dons, who were state finalists last year and returned five lettermen. But Palo Duro obviously missed hot-shot Steve Carter, their scoring ace from last year.

Hereford's next opponent, Plainview, was scheduled to open last year against Seminole, but the game was cancelled when the Indians went into the bi-district football play-offs. The Bulldogs have three returning starters: Jack Swanner, 6-3 center; Don Ford, 5-10 forward; and Andy Taylor, 5-9 guard; with lettermen Ziggy Nicholson, 5-8 guard, and Jimmy Ferrell, 6-0 forward, expected to round out the starters.

Jerry Don Vickers, Bond was set Thursday in Justice of the Peace Court, C. B. Miles presiding, at $1000.

Vickers, allegedly using the name Jerry Shannon, reportedly gave a $300 check for the purchase of the automobile to the Highway Auto Sales, 136 Sampson.

He reportedly took the car out and threw two rods. Vickers is said to have told the firm that he was having trouble with the car and borrowed a pickup, according to the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office.

Vickers was arrested Thursday about 7:30 p.m. by Deputy Sheriff Ed Robertson on FM 10-58, about a mile west of Hereford.

Christmas is just around the corner. Already, I notice several people carrying out holiday packages, which is wonderful. I asked one lady how she managed to get started so early, and she said: "Well, I charge them — and you don't get the bill before the first — so I figured I had just as well do my shopping early." This, of course, is good sound logic. It is one of the best arguments I have yet heard for early shopping. It helps the merchant, it gives the customer a better selection. Everyone is happy — at least until Jan. 1.

The merchants are sponsoring this big Christmas bonus deal, which is announced in this issue, and they do have some of the nicest Yuletide merchandise yet. Take a look, and I believe you will agree. Besides, you might be lucky and win a lot of Christmas certificates. All you have to do is fill out a coupon and deposit it in one of the participating stores.

We went down to Wellington for Thanksgiving, but it was far from a general holiday in that country. You never saw so many people picking cotton. I mention this because it proves that other people are having trouble from the weather — and I am not exclusively to blame for the plight in this area.

Anyway, it looks as if folks will have to put up with my weather forecasts a little while longer. They like to complain, but do not seem eager to part with donations to send me around the world. I did have quite a few offers to send me "half way around" — but very few seemed to want to get all of the way. Hugh Clearman was one of the first to call and say put him down for a substantial sum, provided I would go only half way and stop. I haven't exactly figured out where this would be, but already I am sure that I would not like it. Jim Roberts, recently back from Las Vegas, says I had better miss that town all together, or I won't even get half way around.

Meanwhile, I have not yet heard one single word of criticism about the Thanksgiving weather. It came just right to make everyone happy, following a seige of snow, sleet, moisture and fog.

I notice in a Virginia paper that a "gentleman farmer" is one who doesn't live on the farm. It is a free country, and the old boy who operates the Virginia newspaper can think what he wants, but he still has a long way to go before he convinces me that every farmer who does not live on the farm is a gentleman — much less a farmer. There are a few, of course, like Ivan Block, J. C. McCracken, Junior Rose, and Jack Brown who would be questionable; on the other hand, Neil Cooper and Grady Rogers are farming away out in Nevada — and I am not about to classify them as gentlemen farmers. I could also name several others. A gentleman farmer, it seems to me, should wear striped trousers every afternoon, have at least two thoroughbred horses, a flower garden, several oil paintings and a half dozen of those giant size wolf hounds.

Roy Smith and Dub Reeves got all over me the other day about the pheasant deal. These two characters say even I should realize and appreciate the fact that the birds need to be thinned out. They cannot see how any one can get so far off the beam as Jay Boston and I. Nobody ever gave me so much static as they dished out in a brief 12 minutes.

Meanwhile Nolan Grady is developing the earmarks of a real postmaster. He is getting to the point that he drinks several cups of coffee a day. Nothing like his predecessor, Jim Lipscomb, but after all Rome wasn't built in a day — and it took Jim quite a few years to arrive at the point where he could drink 18 to 20 cups each morning. If you want to be a dyed-in-the-wool coffee drinker, the first thing to learn is omission of sugar and cream. It is also helpful to practice with boiling water each evening and each morning: this toughens up the inside of your mouth. Bill Patton is trying to do the same thing by smoking a pipe, but it won't work. I know, because I tried it. Besides, smoking is a bad habit.

Most everyone I see is quite happy that Dumas won their bi-district game. In the first place, it makes us look better — and football fans in this community have the utmost respect for the Demons and their gridiron ability.

We need just one more little touch before the Christmas season gets in full blast. I've been trying to get Hazel Stallings, the Meter Maid, to hand out pretty red and green tickets from now until Dec. 25 — but I don't seem to be getting to first base.

Bees At Plainview After Second Loss

Refusing to let go of a first quarter lead, the Palo Duro Dons handed the Hereford Whiteface Bees the short end of a 55-38 score here Friday night. After losing to both Palo Duro and Pampa, Hereford tangles with another AAAA threat at Plainview Tuesday night.

Palo Duro claimed a four-point lead during the first period and kept adding to the margin the remainder of the game. After trailing as much as 16 points in the third quarter, Hereford trimmed the Dons' edge to just six points before Palo Duro got out of hand near the end of the game.

Coach Joe Brooks put all 15 of the B-teamers to work during the game in an effort to halt Palo Duro's shifty offense. David Dowell and Eugene Green paced the Whiteface scoring with nine points each for Hereford. Speedy little Mike Ellis whipped in 19 points for the visitors.

Dowell's free throw early in the game and a lay-up by Eugene Green placed Hereford ahead 3-0 in the first quarter, its only lead in the game. The Dons came rushing back to pour in three fast ones from the court to gain a 6-3 advantage before Hereford could score again.

David Stevens, Austin Hodges, and Green scored two pointers, but Amarillo led 12-8 entering the second period. Ellis paced the Dons to a 31-21 lead at the half. Hereford scored only twice from the floor, while sinking nine at the free throw line during the second quarter.

Neal Lueb, Green, and Dowell were only able to make ten points as Palo Duro moved on to a 42-31 advantage before the final quarter. Green and Hodges whittled their advantage to 35-43 before Palo Duro broke loose in the middle of the final round to rack up a 50-35 strong-hold.

In a frantic effort to stop the Dons, Palo Duro was awarded five trips to the foul line for their final markers. Hereford plays at Plainview Tuesday and at Tulsa Friday.

New Group Here Will Work On Livestock Pest Control

The animal health situation in Deaf Smith County and Texas is getting major attention. The screw worm, a pest causing an estimated annual loss of $100 million, is the primary target of a state-wide pest control program, according to Lefty Thomas, county agent.

Recently in the county, a meeting of livestock producers and others concerned with the animal health problem was called by Jess Robinson, Hereford High School vocational agriculture teacher, and Thomas.

The group decided to organize a committee on the local level to work with the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation which was established by the Texas Animal Health Council.

Colby Conkright was elected chairman of the committee and Gerald McCaskill, secretary-treasurer. Other members of the county committee are Karroll Higgin and Paul Engler.

"Animal health," said Conkright, "is not only a concern of the producer, but the economic loss also affects business and consumers. We all have a lot at stake in this program."

Purposes of the animal health foundation are to sponsor research and educational programs on animal diseases, insects and parasites and eventual control.

First major project of the foundation is a program aimed at controlling the screw worm with the proposed program patterned after a successful drive in the Southeast and Florida.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, livestock producers and the state joined forces to combat the pest. Sterile male flies were released over the state which resulted in the production of infertile eggs and the almost complete elimination of the fly population.

Such a program in Texas will encounter problems not found in Florida since the state is bordered by great land areas where the flies spend the winter, said Conkright.

However, he continued, cooperative efforts with these areas could overcome some of the problems.

"Through county organizations such as ours, every livestock producer and other interested persons will have an opportunity to support the foundation and its programs," he stated.

"The committee is planning a county-wide meeting to present the background and purposes of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation," Conkright announced, "to live producers in the Deaf Smith County area early in December."

'Deaf' Smith Says

TO: The Spirit of General Sam Houston
FROM: The Spirit of Erastus "Deaf" Smith
SUBJECT: Scouting Report on My County's Chamber of Commerce

One hundred and seventy-six ballots have already been received in the Chamber of Commerce office in the election to name four new directors to the Board of Directors for three-year terms, Sam. This is an unusually high return for so early in the election. The ballots were just mailed Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. All in all there were nearly 600 ballots mailed so this represents nearly 30 percent of the total to be cast and this is as of Friday afternoon. If past history is any indication the members of the Chamber of Commerce will vote about 380 ballots or about 60 percent. Why not 100 percent?

In retrospect, Sam, the barbecue and congressional forum on the proposed changes in the sugar beet legislation was a considerable success. The general public that attended the meeting is certainly better informed on the political complications of this effort. They had an opportunity to hear from the Congressmen most closely involved their positions and their views of the prospects. Certainly the Congressmen present could not have left Hereford with any doubt as to the interest and determination of the people of the area in this matter.

Christmas season is upon us here in Hereford. This Sunday the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be busy putting up decorations. The business places have been busy the last few days getting their Christmas windows in, and Santa Claus has sent his notice that he will be in town on Saturday, Dec. 2, to see all the kiddies and he says he'll have a big bag of candy for each one after the parade.

The merchants, too, are expressing their appreciation to the trade territory with their big gift certificate drawing. If you have not read it yet, read the announcement in the special Christmas section on how you can win one of the over 200 $5 gift certificates that are to be given away.

The Aviation committee met last week with Mr. Rosser, chief of the flight service station of the Amarillo Air terminal. With him was Mr. Rolla Hill of the Federal Aviation Agency. Rolla will replace Mr. Rosser as acting chief in the near future when Mr. Rosser is transferred to McAllen. Mr. Hill discussed the operations of the Flight Service Station, the services it provides for private aviation, and described some of the actual problems that his office works with.

In the meeting of the Aviation committee a great deal of interest was shown in the possibility of establishing a unit of the Civil Air Patrol at the Hereford Municipal Airport. After some discussion Mr. Hill agreed to find all of the information he could for the group and to forward it to the Chamber office. Since then he has talked to Neil Cooper and Lloyd Sharp and has arranged a meeting for all interested persons for the night of Dec. 7. Time and place of the meeting will be announced at a later date.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a most important meeting at the Wooten Hotel in Abilene on Nov. 30. The meeting will discuss the many federal aid programs for local communities and some of the pitfalls of such programs. Community and local government leaders all should be interested in this subject. The meeting will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The Manager will be attending that meeting and a preliminary meeting of the Community Services Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Anyone needing further details on the meeting should contact the Chamber of Commerce office.

Sam, that's my scouting report on the activities of my

Honor Husbands At Dinner And Games

The La Madre Mia Study Club met Saturday evening, Nov. 18, in the Community Room of the First National Bank for a Thanksgiving supper for the members and their husbands as guests.

The party room was decorated with turkeys and miniature Pilgrim men and women. The table was centered with a horn of plenty filled with fruit and mums. A traditional Thanksgiving meal was served. Piped-in music was enjoyed during the meal. Games were played for the remainder of the evening.

Those present were Messers and Mesdames Lee Drake, Ben Gollehon, Charles Frye, Ted Hardwick, Joe Henry, Harold Morton, Bobby Owen, Richard Pickens, John Smith, Eugene Sparks, Harlon Voyles, Jack Campbell and Joe Hacker.

ATTEND GAME

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shook and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sefcik attended the Denver City - Dahlhart football game in Lubbock on Thursday. Following the game, the couples journeyed to Denver City for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ham, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sefcik, and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shook of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Powell of Roswell, N. M., brother of Mrs. Ray Sefcik, joined the group on Thursday.
