Mexico Severs Diplomatic Relations With Russia

cooking school for this RD is now a thing of the past, strangely enough, I am still hungry. Of course, I do get enough to eat. That is, I eat enough, but I have been looking forward to all the tempting viands that were prepared during the school for several months past, and listen, I just about got a good smell.

I suppose it was largely my own fault. The first two days of this week I was at home, and by that time the food that was left over after each session of the cooking school was well cared for. I think Lyman cared for a considerable amount of it. What pleasant care it must nave been!

Now, normally, Lyman has a rather small appetite. Food has to be prepared so and so before he will condescend to eat it. In other words, he is meticulous and particular about the kind of food he allows to enter the alimentary canal, or whatever the name of the canal is, that leads from the mouth to the stomach.

But when cooking schools come along, he takes it for granted that the food is all right and is willing to sample anything. And such samples! I remember last year when Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, our cooking school conductor, had us help her eat a meal served in the basement of the court-house. You will remember our 1929 school was held there. Both Lyman and myself did justice to that meal and we both lived over it, but speaking of fullness on the part of anyone—well, we had plenty of it—fullness.

I started this week off wrong because I could not develop a good appetite. I tried smoking about twelve new kinds of cigars, but to no avail. I still was not hungry, and yet, I was anxious to have some of the famous dishes being prepared at the cooking school. I knew that if I could just have an opportunity of seeing and smelling these tempting morsels, I would develop an appetite that would do justice to any famous or non-famous recipe ever concocted by a graduate or an undergraduate or whatever it is they

Many had suffered from hunger and cold for more than a week. Three deaths were reported in the flooded district, one by drowning and two by freezing.

Gene Sarazen Is Winner of Tourney

AGUA CALIENTE, Lower California, Jan. 24. (UP)—Gene Sarazen, noted American golfer, won a ten thousand dollar victory yesterday in the first annual $25,000 Agua Caliente open tournament. It was the major event of America's golf season and the largest purse ever offered in tournament play.

Sarazen is a golfer who has matched his skill consistently with "big shots" in the sport, although his success has not been as spectacular as that of several other well known American golfers. He is a former professional open champion of the United States.

His game yesterday established a new course record here of 68, and his total score of 295 passed up Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., and Al Espinosa of Chicago, by two strokes.

This striking picture, first to be received here, shows the wreckage of the ill-fated T. A. T.-Maddux airliner "The Race Special," which crashed near San Clemente, Calif., killing 14 passengers and two pilots. Policemen and officers from the San Diego naval station are shown searching in the ruins for the charred bodies. The ship was returning to Los Angeles with a party of race track patrons from Agua, Caliente, Mex., just across the border.

SOLONS INSPECT PRISON FARMS OVER STATE

1,200 Members State Legislature Make Up Party

HOUSTON, Jan. 24 (UP)—Led by Governor Dan Moody, twelve hundred members of the Texas Legislature are inspecting prison farms in Fort Bend County today. The special train carrying the party arrived in Houston this morning and left immediately. The legislators will return here tonight, going to Huntsville for an inspection there. Sunday, the party will visit the Clements, Retrieve and Ramsey farms in Brazoria county, preparatory to action on the prison centralization plans.

Prison Board Along

The legislators are accompanied by members of the state prison board. The jaunt was suggested by Governor Moody in his message to the Legislature. He said he believed that if the legislators made a personal inspection of the conditions on the prison properties they could better tackle the job in mind—the task of reforming and re-organizing what he termed a "dilapidated, run-down and antiquated" system.

Mrs. B. Webster: "I have been to the cooking school every day and I liked it just fine. I liked Miss Chitwood very much. I think she was pleasant and has a fine personality along with her expert tutoring. I hope she comes back again next year."

Local Store Employee Has Narrow Escape Last Wednesday

Miss Lura Black, an employee of the Rosenwasser store here, was overcome by gas while working in the store late Wednesday afternoon and is now convalescing at her home on North Twelfth Street. For several days prior to Wednesday, Miss Black had been complaining of her head hurting, and upon investigation, it was found that a leak existed in one of the store's gas stoves.

Hunters Are Back From Mexico Trip

Sheriff Sid Christian, Bud Godfrey, Fred Conley and Josh Lamb returned last night from a hunting trip to old Mexico. The party has been away from Memphis for the past eleven days, but they report no big game was bagged during their hunting adventure.

Asked For Passport

The hunters went from here to Brownsville, where they made their first application for passports. As they were unable to obtain them there, they went to Matamoras, and from there to Hidalgo, where they were finally issued passports to enter Mexico. Admittance into Mexico was gained at Reynosa.

Had To Store Guns

As the party carried guns with which to hunt deer, the customs officials would not permit them into Mexican territory until the weapons had been stored with government officials. They finally gained access to guns from a Mexican general stationed at Reynosa. They report having spent a pleasant time, despite their difficulties.

Lions Hear Talks On Heart Secrets And Club Service

A new angle on the innermost secrets of the heart was presented before the Lions Club yesterday by Dr. W. C. Dickey, president of the Hall County National Bank in his talk, "The Anatomy of the Heart."

Dr. Dickey's short and interesting discourse was crammed with pithy observations that smacked of the speaker's originality. The heart, he claimed, contains five animals: a donkey, a tiger, a pig, a horse and a nightingale. Describing the best known virtues of each of these animals, he applied their qualities to the anatomy of the heart.

The club was also favored with an address, "The Benefits Derived from Service Clubs, Collectively and Individually," by R. S. Greene. Mr. Greene maintained that the training for leadership a man receives through his membership in a service club is the greatest benefit to be derived therefrom. He cited instances of men who were virtually mortified when called upon to speak in public before they had joined a service club. The same men, he pointed out, soon become accustomed to public speaking, after their enlistment in luncheon clubs, and are thus on the road to leadership.

Thomas E. Lucy, impersonator who appeared at the High School Auditorium last night as a Sandstorm benefit, supplied the program's closing number.

Four Children Of Family Of Twelve Are Dead In Fire

OTWAY, Ohio, Jan. 24 (UP)—Four children were burned to death and two others were injured when fire swept the Lawrence Perry farm home today. Six members of the family escaped unhurt.

The two children who were severely injured jumped from a second floor window of the dwelling. An over heated stove is believed to have been the cause of the fire. The parents and twelve children were sleeping when the fire was discovered.

CAUSE ASCRIBED TO LEGATION ATTACKS

Soviet Legation In Mexico City Has Been Closed

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 24, (UP)—Mexico today severed all diplomatic relations with Russia, thereby closing the first Soviet Legation in the Western Hemisphere, which was maintained here. Ill feeling has apparently existed between the two countries for some time past, coming to a head recently in the Communist attacks upon Mexican Embassies in several of the world's capitols.

The reason ascribed for the severance of diplomatic relations is the recent attacks that the Communists have made on Mexican Embassies in Washington, Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro. With the closing of the Legation in Mexico City, Russia is without official representation on the North American continent.

Naval Conference Starts Discussion Of Major Problems

LONDON, Jan. 24 (UP).—Delegates to the naval conference plunged into a discussion of the major issues today, hoping they can make specific recommendations at the meeting scheduled for Monday. Numerous inter-delegation conferences were held.

The conference is proceeding with the utmost secrecy, the delegates agreeing that any premature proposals that might be published would have a tendency to upset the conference. The last vivid social function last night was a magnificent banquet, attended by all the delegates to the conference.

According to Mr. Grissom, the car was left parked in front of the store at about five-thirty yesterday afternoon, and the theft was not noticed until he went out to the car to get a pair of pliers at about nine o'clock last evening. Officers were notified immediately but no trace could be found today. The loss was covered by insurance.

The news of the illness of Mrs. Bradford will be received with much concern by her many friends in Memphis. She is one of the old-time residents of the city and has seen the town grow from a comparative village to its present large proportions. Sale Of Sargon Breaks Records

Famous Medicine Rapidly Becoming Household Word Throughout America—24 Carloads Sold in 25 Days in 27 States—Overwhelming Demand the One Great Outstanding Proof of Its Wonderful Merit.

Most Medicines are sold by the dozen or by the gross. A few are sold in larger quantities, but think of a medicine that sells in such enormous quantities that wholesale dealers are forced to buy it in solid carload lots to supply a demand that has been so phenomenal as to almost stagger the imagination.

That's just what has happened with Sargon, the celebrated new medicine that is now sweeping the country like a great tidal wave. Not only is the trade buying it in carload lots but they are buying carload after carload, each car containing over 20,000 bottles of Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills.

Twenty-four carloads in 25 days sold in only 27 states is the amazing record recently made by these wonderful medicines.

In the State of California where Sargon was introduced in April of last year, it has required 21 carloads to supply the ever increasing demand in this one state alone. Texas dealers required 9 carloads in only four months.

A single New York firm, with wholesale branches in leading cities, is selling at the rate of over a Million and a Quarter bottles a year.

"Phenomenal and bewildering" is the way one of the big drug jobbers of the country describes the marvelous demand for Sargon.

"It's the greatest seller within the memory of the oldest members of our organization," said another.

"We are selling more Sargon than any other ten medicines put together," said still another.

And so it is everywhere Sargon has been introduced. From Coast to Coast and from the Gulf to the Great Lakes, Sargon is known and honored.

Million upon millions have used it and have told other millions what it has done for them. When suffering men and women find a medicine that helps them, they naturally want to tell their friends about it and in this way Sargon is fast becoming a household word throughout America. Wichita Sign Man Gains 9 Pounds On First Bottle

MICHAEL BENSON SAYS HE HAD BEEN IN BAD HEALTH FOR YEARS IS IMPROVED BY ORGATONE

"I have gained 9 pounds in weight and now feel just fine," said Michael Benson, well known proprietor of the Benson Sign Company, Wichita Falls, Texas, and residing at 1804 Ninth St. Mr. Benson is one of the best known sign writers throughout this section of Texas.

"I can't praise Orgatone (Argotane) too much," continued Mr. Benson, "it has not only gotten me over my two years of suffering, but it has put me in good shape in every way, and I have never felt better in my life. Some of my friends say I am like a different person and I am grateful for Orgatone (Argotane) for I believe in giving any good thing its due.

"In medicine I took seemed to do any good, but after about [illegible]'s use of Orgatone (Argotane) the gas pains in my stomach disappeared and I commenced to pick up in health right off. Before taking Orgatone (Argotane) the simplest food would fill my stomach with gas and misery which would last for hours, the fastis, at times I did not feel fit to go to my work at all.

I think Orgatone (Argotane) is a great system builder and I certainly appreciate what it has done for me, and I will take great pleasure in telling anyone about it.

Genuine Orgatone (Argotane) may be bought in Memphis at the Tarver Drug Company.—Adv.

Sore Throat? Don't Gargle

THIS DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION GIVES QUICKER BETTER RELIEF

RELIEF that is REFRESHING

"We have used Thedford's Black-Draught for years in our family. I can highly recommend it for many ailments. We take it for colds and for constipation.

"I have four children, and I give it to them. When my little girl gets bilious, or complains of headache, I give her a treatment of Black-Draught, and she is all right in a day or two.

"Sometimes when I have indigestion from improper eating, I have headache. Then I take Black-Draught. I always feel fresh and have more energy after I have taken it."—Mrs. E. Reich, 2215 East First Street, Austin, Texas.

Mother's noiseless alarm gets Dad and John up earlier

"I get them up with one call now."

"I USED to have so much trouble getting those two up," Mrs. Burton told a neighbor. "Sometimes they wouldn't even hear the alarm clock. Other mornings they'd turn it off and go right back to sleep."

"Then you'd have to call them half a dozen times—like I do with Edward and his father," the neighbor put in, understandingly.

"Sometimes a dozen," Mrs. Burton added. "The breakfast would get cold and John would be late for school and his father for work. Oh, it was a fright.

"But those days are over. I get them up with one call now. Both of them love White Swan Coffee. I put two cups of coffee on a tray and set it on a table in their room. Then I wake them.

"You ought to see how the aroma of White Swan Coffee makes them come to life. Of course, I put it out of reach and they have to get up. You try that yourself—but be sure it's White Swan. It has an aroma and a flavor all its own."

* * * *

Fathers and sons who rise to the occasion of breakfasting with White Swan Coffee always find that the promise in White Swan aroma is richly fulfilled in the satisfying flavor of every cup.

Skillful roasting and blending—the result of more than a half century of experience—completely develops and nicely balances the flavors of selected native coffees in achieving the famous White Swan blend.

White Swan Coffee always comes to you with its flavor fresh. Fresh, not only from the sealed tin in which it is packed, but fresh from the roaster. Prompt distribution is effected through 22 Waples Platter Houses strategically located to serve the 10,000 White Swan dealers. Fleets of motor trucks operate over a network of routes, making regular deliveries from the nearby Waples Platter House to your grocer.

By going to the very source for its product, by controlling every step of its preparation and distribution, this sixty-year-old institution of the Southwest makes sure that no finer coffee can be brought into your home for the price you are asked to pay.

To guarantee this, the Waples Platter Company has become roaster and packer, as well as distributor of the inimitable White Swan Coffee . . . available at your grocer's in one and three pound cans.

are who spend their lives out of the kitchen telling other people how pleasant it is to stay in one.

Of course, you will realize that I am writing in a light vein in the preceding paragraph — largely from emptiness. But nevertheless, the last day of the cooking school dawned bright and clear and still I had received not even one small bite from the hands of the culinary artist. I mean, I had not received any food and I was beginning to worry. I thought possibly I was going to be neglected entirely in the eating line, and if there is anything near to my heart, it is my stomach, and I can't help being that way and feeling that way about it.

I remembered how on the two last days of the cooking school last year and the year before, the staff of The Democrat had been treated to a generous helping of ice cream and cake. Naturally I was expecting both yesterday afternoon.

In due time when the shades of night were beginning to fall fast and it was getting in the vicinity of 4 o'clock, Mrs. Couch brought me one delicious piece of cake from the cooking school. Think of it—one piece. She said, "Cut yourself a slice of cake." It was already cut, however, so I ate it. The other staff members consumed the remainder.

When I asked concerning the ice cream, Mrs. Couch informed me, "There ain't no such animal." She told me that those at the cooking school had consumed the large supply, and there I was with only a faint taste of cake left in my mouth and still longing for the good old cooking schools of other years when eats went along with the work.

If we ever bring another cooking school to Memphis, and I really think we are, I am going to warn the culinary expert in advance that she is not going to get her picture in all parts of the paper, if she will not promise in advance to furnish me with plenty to eat, and when I speak of eating I mean plenty. I may be omnivorous, carnivorous and vociferous but I am going to become boisterous if the food is not forthcoming next year. And that's some more of that!

CZECH ACTRESS OBJECTS TO NUDITY IN SCULPTURE

PRAGUE, Jan. 22. (UP)—Anna Sedlacek, the noted Czech actress, does not relish appearing partly uncovered in public, even in the form of a statue. The sculptor, Foit, holds a contrary opinion and because of this must answer a court suit that Miss Sedlacek has brought against him.

The actress was present at an art exhibition at which a work by Foit for whom she sat as a model, was to be unveiled. As Miss Sedlacek appears to have understood it, the work was to have been a "head;" instead it turned out to be a "bust," and completely unclothed at that. She demanded its removal, but Foit refused. The court action resulted.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL SCHOOL

YESTERDAY, The Democrat closed its third annual cooking school. That the school was an unqualified success is attested to by the hundreds of women who attended the four sessions. The Democrat has been exceedingly fortunate in the type of women who have been secured to conduct the schools here, and Miss Christeen Chitwood was no exception to the general rule. She early demonstrated her prowess, not only as a person who understands the kitchen thoroughly, but a person who can pass this understanding along, so that others will be helped. The cooking school here was more than its name implies; it was a home building institute in the broadest and most conservate understanding of the term.

The Democrat has taken into consideration the fact that women in this city and the Memphis trade territory are good cooks. We have eaten meals in many local homes and we know this to be true. It was not designed to teach them how to cook, but to teach them how to cook more economically, more systematically, more pleasantly, and at the same time to make them enjoy their work all the more. There is no real necessity why women should feel that cooking in general and the preparation of meals in particular is drudgery on their part. And yet, we have reached the conclusion that this attitude is almost universal, at times. The need for a cooking school existed here, or most certainly, it would not have been brought to this city.

We are proud to be able to boast of the fact that the cooking school this year had the largest attendance of any one of the three years it has been sponsored here. This shows that interest in such an institution is not a passing one. When the announcement was first made that we were to have a school this year, some people were prone to find fault by saying that such a school was not needed as those of previous years had been sufficient. In the face of that kind of rebuff, our school has again proved its merits, and we confidently expect to bring it to the women of Memphis and trade territory again in 1931.

To know that the school has been a success is good news to those members of the staff who put in long hours of preparation for the school's coming and in giving to readers of this newspaper a daily during its progress. We have worked hard throughout this week in order to give the public an adequate daily paper, full of local, state and national happenings, continuing at the same time, most of the features which are included in the weekly edition. Speaking for the staff, we can say that we are more than repaid for every hour of overtime we have put in, because we realize the community has been bettered, and anything that leads to community betterment is worth all the sacrifice and effort it takes to bring such to fruition. It is a pleasure for "your home paper" to render this service, and any other in keeping with the spirit of the times that makes for a better Memphis and Hall County.

A COMMUNITY ASSET

IT is good to know that there is now a place in Memphis big enough to furnish the necessary accommodations for large gatherings of any nature, and more particularly, to take care of the needs of special organizations and groups of people who desire to congregate together for mutual profit. Such a place has been afforded local citizens through the completion of the Educational Building of the First Baptist church. We do not mean to infer that gatherings of any nature whatever will be permitted the use of this building, but we feel sure that the First Baptist church will be glad to cooperate in extending the use of the building for any legitimate purpose.

Two needs of the city have already been met by having such a building available in this city. Due to the large number of people who expressed a desire to attend, and who did attend, the annual banquet of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday evening, it would have been all but impossible to accommodate this large crowd comfortably elsewhere. When it was seen that some centrally located place was imperative in which to hold the banquet, officials of the First Baptist church were approached and they very kindly tendered the use of the basement of the new Educational Building for that purpose.

When we were looking around for a place to hold the cooking school, which was brought to a close yesterday, we decided that the logical place would be the Baptist Annex. The proper permission was obtained and the fact that an adequate place was secured added much to the success of the school.

The Baptists of Memphis have a right to feel a just pride in their new Educational Building. It will allow the church growth to be shaped in the proper channels of endeavor. It will provide a place for all the departments of the large Sunday School and in fact it will prove to be the center of church activities of the future. We are glad to say that the officials of this congregation have, at all times, shown a willingness to cooperate in every civic move and by having a suitable building where gatherings may be adequately accommodated, they are adding to the cultural and business life of the city as well as the spiritual. We are proud of what the Baptists are doing for Memphis in helping this city to progress and make rapid strides toward becoming the outstanding municipality in the Panhandle of Texas.

ROSE BUSHES AND ROSE BUSHES

SINCE The Democrat announced several weeks ago that five rose bushes would be furnished at cost to every subscriber of this paper who would make known his or her wants, the office has received many requests for the flowers and they are still coming in. It is imperative that all orders for the flowers be in at the earliest possible moment in order that we may place our order with a large nursery in East Texas, which has contracted to furnish the roses.

Several people have seemed to misunderstand what we intended to say in our original story concerning the roses. We referred to them, probably inaccurately, as rose cuttings. What we should have said was that they are rose bushes—not large, it is true—but fully developed, healthy and two years old. The bushes are rooted and should bear flowers this spring. We will not take it upon ourselves to absolutely guarantee that they will produce flowers in the spring. All we can do is to take the nurseryman's word for it. He says they will, and we are willing to abide by his decision.

As should be well known by this time, The Democrat is not making one penny on the roses. They are being sold to our readers for exactly what the roses cost us delivered in Memphis. We are doing this primarily to encourage the raising of flowers in Memphis and surrounding territory. Nothing is so barren as a country without flowers. There is no good reason why the Panhandle of Texas should not blossom as the rose in more than one way. It is then with this in mind, that we made our offer.

When anything of this, or a similar nature, is announced by a newspaper, some people are always ready to say, "There must be a catch in it somewhere." We absolutely guarantee that such is not the case. If we had wanted to make money, we should certainly have resorted to other means and methods. We do want to see roses blooming in Memphis and elsewhere in the neighborhood of this city and we hit upon this plan of furnishing the rose bushes at absolute cost.

There is need for improvement everywhere about us and nothing we know anything about adds as much to the looks of a place as roses in full bloom. It makes a place seem more homelike; it shows that people live there who are capable of enjoying the beatuiful things of life; it shows that people care for something in this busy life other than the routine affairs of the day. Roses for the living are much to be preferred than roses for the dead. Those who anticipate placing orders should not delay longer, but should act immediately if they expect to receive roses in time for planting this season. We believe they will prove to be satisfactory in every respect and if they should not come up to expectations, all that a person is out is the small sum of one dollar and that does not appear to be sufficient to bankrupt anyone.

The Hall County Half Wit Says:

Farmer Jim Ferguson tossed off his bed during a nightmare and broke his collar bone. Even politicians are subject to attacks of guilty conscience occasionally.

After two fires in Government buildings in Washington within a week, President Hoover should find no trouble in warming up to his task.

Jots in Jest

A headline says "U. of Chicago Adds 428 Students for Quarter." Must have opened a department of Scottish education.

A Hollywood star, who recently had a nervous breakdown, is said to be recovered and has gone on a vaudeville tour playing the ukulele. Up to the same old tricks.

A judge says that driving with one hand often brings you to court. The rest of the time it brings you to the altar.

Detroit police recently stopped a play because it was silly. One of these days those fellows will be stopping an automobile because it goes.

Surely the scientist who says there are 21,000 causes of annoyance never has met her relatives.

SETTLED?

Folsom Prison, in California, has hanged the fifth of the convicts who led a general uprising there two years ago. Yet it is a mistake to assume, thereby, that it has necessarily settled with that revolt.

It has hanged the ringleaders, to be sure; but what gain is that if it has not found out what the conditions were that caused the riot, but if the circumstances that made them riot remain unchanged some other convicts will do the same thing someday.

We don't know, of course, what the Folsom authorities have done. It may be that they have set their house in order. But the case is typical, just the same. It illustrates how ready we are to assume that we have settled a troublesome problem by hanging a troublesome man.

A RISING TOLL

Automobile traffic accidents continue to go up. In 1929, 31,500 people were killed by traffic in the United States: an increase of something like 13 per cent over the year before.

The situation is growing worse at an appalling rate, and nothing of any consequence is being done about it.

If some new disease appeared in the country and in a decade or two reached the point where it was killing 30,000 people a year, the whole country would be up in arms about it. The greatest scientists in the land would be studying it. State and national governments would be appropriating huge sums to fight it. But we take our automobile death list as a matter of course.

HAS YOUNG IDEAS

LONDON, Jan. 23. (UP)—Mrs. Bertha Griggs of Hendon celebrated her ninety-second birthday by having a permanent wave.

FRESH ATTACK IS MADE ON HIGHWAY COMMISSION

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (UP)—A fresh attack on the State Highway Department's erection of an office building at Tyler was launched in the House of Representatives today after a committee had reported it legal. A resolution was introduced expressing disapproval of any department erecting any substantial building without the sanction of the Legislature.

Action on the resolution was cut short on a point of order as the hour for resolutions had expired. Both branches of the Legislature adjourned until Monday, to permit members to start prison inspection trip tonight.

FILIPINOS AND WHITES BATTLE IN RACE RIOT

WATSONVILLE, Calif., Jan. 23 (UP)—An additional force of deputy sheriffs was rushed here today to guard against renewal of race riots between whites and Filipinos. Forty were severely beaten in a riot last night. A mob of 500 whites stormed the Filipino houses. A shot was fired into the crowd of whites.

The trouble arose when a dozen white girls were being entertained in a club frequented by Filipinos. Fifty islanders were guarded in the city hall to protect them from attack.

FOURTEEN MILLION BALES COTTON HAVE BEEN GINNED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—U. S. Government figures show that 14,187,779 bales of cotton of the 1929-30 crop have been ginned. The total is up to and including January 16.

EDUCATIONAL DIFFICULTIES

VIENNA, Jan. 23. (UP)—When requesting a betterment of school conditions in their city, a deputation from Krems, Austria, informed a Minister of Education through a special deputation that many school classes held in small rooms number 60 pupils, that some of the classes meet in abandoned stables, are so small and so widely scattered from each other that the children are compelled to risk pneumonia while running from one part of the city to another several times each day.

Style Decrees Colored Velveteen Jacket Or Coat For Spring Wear

BY HARRIET

Coating the spring wardrobe properly will include at least one jacket or coat made of velveteen.

This is wearable, has femininity about it, comes in lovely colors and is very chic right now.

The wide wale valveteen pique is exceptionally good for sportswear. A jacket made of it in orange, flamingo, billiard green or a nautical blue makes an exceptionally nice covering for simple sports frocks that one wears on the tennis courts.

There is great latitude in jacket modes this season. The bolero is receiving increased attention, but for the separate coat the hiplength jacket may be a trifle more satisfactory, especially if it is of a brighter or different material from the dress.

Cardigans are not quite so feminine as jackets that have soft collars, a cuff belt, pockets and perhaps a marked waistline. The old-fashioned nipped in at the waistline mode is very good, as a matter of fact. With flaring skirts this type of jacket is extremely modish.

For a smart little working costume for street, business or school, the plain velveteen skirt, tucked in blouse and wide wale velveteen coat makes a nice outfit. One such is developed in greens, with the plain velveteen skirt, a wrap-around, made of dark green, the tuck-in silk blouse with ruffled jabot of quite a lighter tone and the jacket of medium green. This jacket is just a little shorter than finger tip length, has double-breasted effect with green bone buttons, pockets and smart peaked lapels.

For dressier affairs, velveteen is used now, too. The long coats usually have semi-princess cut, with flare at the bottom and a rather individual type of collar and cuffs.

The best colors for these dressy separate coats are some of the new blues, the new dahlias or browns. These colors are dignified yet not at all somber. Black velveteen coats are not so rich looking as colored ones.

A green velveteen jacket (left) has a double-breasted effect and patched lapels. The blue velveteen coat at the right, for dressy wear, has 300 pieces in its intricate cut.

A very cleverly cut coat in bright blue velveteen achieves a swirling effect of fine workmanship by using 300 pieces in its cut. The body of the garment is as if it were a flower, petal laid against petal. The lower edge has each one of its gores ending in a curved line, giving an unusual scallop to the lower edge.

The sleeves are the only part of the garment that are cut in one piece, too, giving the effect of a coat made of embroidered material for sleeves and cuffs. The collar has a pabot finish, this made of 18 narrow, curving strips of the velveteen also making the curved lower edge effect.

Another unusual coat for dressier occasions is a rich dahlia red, with its shoulder yoke and its knee flounce made of tiny diamond pieces of the material, like a patchwork quilt, and the rest made of plain cut, fitted slightly to the body.

From all indications there is to be tremendous variety and individuality in separate coats this spring. One could so easily make herself a very chic one, if she is handy with the needle. And these early months in the year invariably offer great bargains in remnants. If choosing one, remember the real vogue there is in velveteen. It can be very effective.

A NEW AGE OF LUBRICATION BEGINS WITH THIS NEW MOTOR OIL CHARACTERISTIC:

"Penetrative Lubricity"*

CONOCO Alone Has this New Characteristic

Since the discovery of the wheel, lubrication has been a necessity and a problem. The first rude barrows which pre-historic men built, needed lubrication, and one of the brighter tribesmen began rubbing the axles of his primitive cart with raw animal meat.

With Watt's invention of the steam engine in 1763, metal-on-metal friction resulted. Then it was that animal and vegetable oil lubricants became definitely unsatisfactory. Their tendency to leave corrosive deposits ruled them out.

Mineral Oils Are Discovered

After the drilling of the first oil well in 1859, mineral oils became commercially successful. Because petroleum was plentiful and was freer from gumming and corroding tendencies, it rapidly supplanted animal and vegetable oils.

But since 1901 there have been practically no changes of fundamental importance in refining motor oils.

Now since 1901, think of the changes that have been made in motors! Probably the make of car you drive today was not even manufactured in 1901. Certainly its needs for oils are far more exacting!

The Development of Germ Process

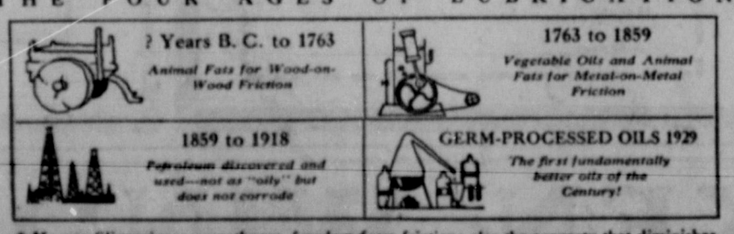

Foreseeing that ordinary mineral oils would eventually fail to meet the increasing strains put upon them, Wells and Southcombe, two British scientists began a study of the problem which occupied 15 years. The result of their efforts was the isolation of the Germ Essence — a property that provides increased "oiliness" when introduced into mineral oils. These processes were patented and Continental acquired them exclusively for North America. Thus Continental brings you the first and only fundamentally better oil of the century!

Germ Process and Penetrative Lubricity

The Germ Process adds one startling characteristic to Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oils. It enables them to penetrate metal surfaces! This means that an enduring oil film actually penetrates all working parts and clings under all conditions. In starting when 40% to 60% of motor wear occurs . . . . in speeding when any failure of the film is fatal to motor life, remember this — the permanence of this film precludes any possibility of metal abrasion. The germ-essence naturally adds greater "oiliness" and we call that lubricity. So we have Penetrative Lubricity as the outstanding characteristic of this new oil.

When will you begin using Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil?

THE FOUR AGES OF LUBRICATION

* Means—Slipperiness, smoothness, freedom from friction; also the property that diminishes friction, as the lubricity of oil, coupled with the unique ability to penetrate metal surfaces.
