Mann Ruling Delays Rescinding Of Unpopular Oil Proration Order

TWO PAMPA'S INJURED IN CAR COLLISION

All Members Must Return Official Says

Commissioners Likely To Come Home This Week

AUSTIN, Feb. 9 (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann held an opinion today that the Texas Railroad commission, all members of which are now in Washington, must return to Texas before it can rescind the state-wide oil proration order for February.

Mann held commission members could delegate authority to sign the order, a purely mechanical function, but the decision to alter state-wide allowances would have to be made at a meeting attended by a quorum within the territorial limits of the state.

His opinion meant that at least two commissioners must return to Texas if they are to effect a proposal to cancel February allowances and reinstate the January schedule which would increase daily flow by several thousand barrels.

Chairman Tom A. Smith and Member Ernest O. Thompson have announced they favored restoring last month's allowances, a result of numerous complaints against the current schedule.

The plan to restore January allowances was advanced after Thompson and Jerry Sadler, third member, had gone to the national capital. Smith was still in the state at that time but later joined his colleagues. Before his departure the chairman instructed the commission supervisor, John E. Taylor, to ask for the attorney general's opinion.

Presumably the commissioners will return to Texas late this week and Smith and Thompson will cancel current allowances and reinstate January's schedule. Sadler opposes the suggestion.

Mann answered five specific questions in his opinion as follows:

The commission itself, as such, must determine the question whether a proration order shall be rescinded.

The action must be taken at a meeting of the commission.

A quorum must be present. The power to change the proration cannot be delegated.

Two Indictments

Returned Thursday

After returning two indictments late Thursday afternoon the 31st district court grand jury adjourned yesterday, subject to call.

Jim Cole and Frank Hensley were jointly indicted on a charge of burglary in alleged connection with the forcible entrance of a house of Claude Davis on January 19 of this year, when $2 cases of liquor estimated worth $270 were taken. The men charged are being held in Gray county jail.

George Mahon was indicted on a charge of burglary in alleged connection with the forcible entrance of a house of C. J. Goldstein, Sheriff, on November 19, 1939. Mahon was arrested in Wichita Falls last December, and is being held in Wheeler county jail in alleged connection with thefts of mercury from pipelines over this section, according to officers.

12 Below In Texas 41 Years Ago Today

DALLAS, Feb. 9 (AP)—Joe Brown looked out his window today, saw snow falling, and shook his head ruefully as he hoped that history recorded Feb. 9, 1899, was not getting ready to repeat itself.

Brown recalled that 41 years ago today snow began falling much as it did today and that the temperature fell to 12 degrees below zero.

He recalled that the following Tuesday he went to Galveston to see the battleship "Texas" in port there, and found Galveston Bay frozen over solid.

Johnston said that at Alcatraz "I get the schools' failures."

Export Of Cotton May Be Prevented

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Federal farm officials expressed concern today that British action tightening the Germany blockade and imposing further restrictions on shipping might prevent the export of upwards of $50,000,000 worth of cotton already sold abroad.

American exporters have sold approximately 6,300,000 bales of cotton to foreign buyers so far this marketing season. However, only a little more than 4,000,000 bales have been shipped. The sales were made under a government export subsidy program requiring delivery before August.

Because of a shortage of ocean freight space and British blockade restrictions, some agriculture department officials predict that actual shipments abroad this season will be a million bales less than sales. The season ends July 31.

A capricious thrust of winter carried two inches of snow into hilly Central-West Texas around Kerrville today, presaging sub-freezing weather to the gulf coast by morning.

While most of Northwest Texas missed snowfalls temperatures were below freezing there. Aside from a few flakes at Dallas this morning, the snow seemed concentrated in the central area around Waco southward to Kerrville, Brady, Marble Falls and to within 15 miles of San Antonio.

Waco reported a heavy snow falling and temperatures down to 29 and dropping. More snow was forecast.

At Camp Bullis snow fell through the night, topped with a sleet storm at dawn. Nearby San Antonio was warm at 40 degrees. Rainfall totaled 12 inch.

Austin reported a trace of snow and 31 degrees. Llano reported heavy snow and Brownwood a light fall with a low of 22. Corsicana got rain and snow with a bit of sleet.

Lubbock reported 24 degrees and clear skies, Abilene 27 and strong northwest winds.

The shipper's forecast predicted temperatures between 12 and 20 for the territory 350 miles north from Dallas, and freezing temperatures and cloudiness south to about the middle and upper Texas coast.

Books Explaining Voting Barred From Mississippi Negroes

JACKSON, MISS., Feb. 9 (AP)—White and negro school children in Mississippi will have separate sets of civics textbooks if bills enacted by the state's lawmakers become law.

The senate passed yesterday, 37-9, a measure providing free textbooks in the first eight grades but adopted an amendment which its education committee said would eliminate from the civics texts for negroes instruction in such principles as voting.

The lawmaking body also voted to keep free textbooks for negroes in separate warehouses.

Dr. E. M. Gavin, senator from Stafford Springs, said "the prevalence of syphilis and tuberculosis among the negro population makes this amendment advisable and I am for it."

A member of the education committee told senators that this provision would endanger the bill's constitutionality.

The textbook measure now goes to a joint committee of both houses to iron out minor differences.

Officials said negro civics would deal mostly with history.

During discussion of the free textbook bill, senator H. L. Davis of Oxford said:

"Under the constitution the negro is a citizen, and of course we know and accept that. But he can never expect to be given the same educational and social privileges with the white man's child."

The best education we can give him is to use his hands, because that's how he must earn his living. It always has and it always will be."

Attempt To Kill Candidate Foiled

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9 (AP)—A bodyguard of 150 soldiers was assigned today to General Andres Almazan and his followers after an apparent attempt to assassinate the anti-government presidential candidate.

A band of about eight men, police said, surrounded the private home in which Almazan was a guest and fired several volleys of rifle and pistol shots into the house early yesterday morning at Zaacapu, Michoacan state.

The candidate escaped injury but his personal aide, Lieut. Elias So-moano, was killed as he stood outside the house answering the assailants' fire.

Two of Almazan's followers recently were killed and several hurt as they journeyed to a pro-Almazan rally at Pachuca.

Elliott Does Not Favor Third Term

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt doesn't believe his father should run for a third term.

In answer to a question regarding a third term for the President, young Roosevelt said yesterday: "I don't know whether he will run or not. But all the jobholders want him. Personally, I think he shouldn't."

After he had addressed an Illinois Lumber and Material Dealers' association meeting, Roosevelt answered several questions from the floor.

Finns Deny Capture Of 13 Line Forts

Enemy Repulsed Despite Attack, Defenders Claim

HELSINKI, Feb. 9 (AP)—Continuation of Russian assaults on the Mannerheim Line on the Karelian Isthmus despite heavy Red army losses was reported today by the Finnish high command.

In the Summa sector, where Russia claimed her forces had taken eight of 13 Mannerheim Line forts captured in the last few days, the Finns said the invaders yesterday were repulsed with "heavy losses."

While a number of attacks in the region of Punninjoki and Paunuri were "beaten off, the enemy losing about 700 men and 12 tanks."

Further east on the Isthmus, in the Taipale river sector, the army said a battle precipitated by a "powerful attack" by the Russians "still continues."

Northeast of Lake Ladoga—where the Russians said the other five of the 13 captured forts fell to their forces—the army announcement said "heavy fighting continued; the enemy has been repulsed at all points."

40 Tanks Captured

"All reports that the Mannerheim Line has been broken or that Mannerheim forts have been captured are untrue," a Finnish official declared.

The Russians lost on all fronts a total of 40 tanks, the communiqué said.

In Central Finland, just below the country's narrow waistline where the Red army failed early in the campaign to cut the nation in two, the Finns said "our forces have improved their positions."

In the air the Finnish air force yesterday "successfully bombed" Russian motor columns and troop concentrations.

Soviet Russian spies and fighters parachuting to earth behind the Mannerheim line harassed the Finns today as they combated Red army offensives on four fronts.

Chutes Worry Finns

The Russians, fighting in temperatures from 15 to 40 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, failed to make important advances and in some sectors suffered heavy losses, the Finns reported.

But the parachute campaign by Russians disguised as Finnish soldiers and farmers aroused the concern of Finnish military leaders.

Several patrols of these saboteurs dropped from planes were captured yesterday, the Finnish high command said, but added that others had caused considerable damage.

One Finnish informant said parachute patrols tapped communications and made an effort to break troop concentrations and attempted to foster discontent in Finnish ranks. He said these troops defended themselves with hand grenades and dynamite when attacked.

Socialist Education In Mexico Soars

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9 (AP)—The government announced today that, despite a public campaign by "interested persons" against the constitutional amendment establishing socialist education in Mexico, more pupils had enrolled in the nation's schools this semester than in any previous year.

The enrollment for the Federal district alone totaled more than 220,000 students, the government said. Statistics were not yet available for the entire republic.

British Shoot Down Bomber

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP)—British fighting planes intercepted and shot down one of several German warplanes which raided Britain's east coast today and bombed and machine-gunned vessels off shore, the British announced.

The air ministry said a German bomber crashed near north Berwick, on the south shore of the Firth of Forth near the mouth and only 20 miles east of the big Scottish city of Edinburgh, after being attacked by British fighting planes.

Another German plane was engaged over the northeast coast, and still others attacked ships, although no damage was reported.

Three British pursuit planes were unable to catch one raider which machine-gunned vessels along the coast, and later two German warplanes bombed a ship off the Scottish coast and were believed to have escaped.

Turks Dismiss 100 German Technicians

ISTANBUL, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Turkish government today dismissed 100 German technicians employed by the war and naval ministries and gave them 48 hours to leave Turkey.

It was announced that the step was taken under special decree powers voted to the government by the national assembly "for the protection of national defense."

The blanket discharge, coming one day after Turkish seizure of the German-owned Krupp shipyards here, applied to 20 marine specialists at the Turkish naval base of Geyikdoku on the sea of Marmara; 20 technicians at a munitions factory near Ankara, and 60 others active in Turkey's military preparations.

Officials said that hitherto no German could work in state-owned industries. This was believed to affect several hundred men in addition to those discharged today.

Reports that Germany's ambassador, Franz von Papen, had been directed to make a sharp protest against the shipyards confiscation were answered in government circles with the assertion that Turkey was within her legal rights.

Religious Freedom Basic, Scouts Told

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt declared last night that the Boy Scout movement was "truly American" embracing "all sects and creeds and above all class or sectional consciousness."

In a speech commemorating the 30th anniversary of the organization, of which he is honorary president, Mr. Roosevelt said that the scout movement "affirms the importance of religion in the life of the individual and the nation, and emphasizes the necessity of respect for the convictions of other people."

"Religious freedom is basic in Americanism," Mr. Roosevelt said. "It is a tradition upon which the country is founded. The generation trained in the principles of the scout oath and law cannot fail to be a generation trained in the responsibilities of good citizenship."

Show Must Go On

BOSTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—True to the tradition that "the show must go on," actors huddled in the wings and pleaded for quiet as firemen extinguished a small blaze in a janitor's closet backstage during last night's world premiere performance of Clifford Odets' new comedy, "Night Music."

Out front, the audience sat blissfully ignorant of the fire and went on with one of the most moving scenes of the play.

B. T. Kelly In Critical State Here

Skelly Accident May Prove To Be Fatal

One man was near death at noon today in the Worley hospital and another was undergoing an operation in the North Plains hospital, as the result of an automobile accident two miles east of Skellytown on Highway 152 at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Reported in a critical condition in Worley hospital here was B. T. Kelly, 27, of Pampa, oil field worker. Kelly suffered a fractured vertebrae of the neck, and lacerations of the scalp.

At the North Plains hospital in Borger early this afternoon it was reported that O. R. (Bill) Dalton suffered a broken back as a result of the accident and would have to remain in the hospital for at least three months, according to the physician.

Dalton's home is in Pampa. He is a World War veteran, married, and the father of two sons, one 17, the other 19. Kelly is married.

Riding in the Chevrolet sedan at the time of the accident were Kelly, who was driving, E. L. Herrod, driver, Ray Bowser, E. L. Herrod, and Dalton, all of Pampa. Forney was the employer of the men who were en route to the No. 3 Stars on a Lone Star Gas company lease near Stimmet.

The accident occurred when a 1936 Oldsmobile sedan, driven by Roy Hoffmeister of Texarkana, Texas, headed east, was in collision with a Chevrolet sedan, headed west.

Comes to Sheriff's Office

The driver of the Oldsmobile came into the sheriff's office this morning and asked to make a report on the accident to the Texas Highway patrolman, G. C. Reece, who with Deputy Sheriff Dan Cambern had gone to Borger to find out the condition of Dalton. Hoffmeister is to return and make a report later today, county officers said.

Who brought the injured to Pampa and Borger was not known at the sheriff's office early today. The fourth man riding in the Chevrolet presumably caught a ride to Borger to learn of Dalton's condition. Deputy Dan Cambern said. No ambulances were summoned from Pampa to the accident.

Hoffmeister, driver of the other machine, told county officers he had been driving through Colorado City, shortly after midnight, on his way to Illinois, if he was unsuccessful along the route in finding work.

As a result of the impact of the two automobiles Deputy Cambern said, Hoffmeister's car was off the road and up a high bank but did not turn over and came to a stop on a hill, while the Chevrolet turned over on its side.

Snowstorm Blamed For Texan's Death

FREDERICKSBURG, Feb. 9 (AP)—A driving snowstorm was blamed today for the death of Cecil McDaniels, 35, driver of a truck which crashed near here today and seriously injured two other men.

Deadly Magic

There is magic in phrases—and often it is dangerous magic. Caught by the rhythm of words, the ordinary citizen is likely to endorse a slogan without any adequate understanding of what it really means.

"Economic planning" is such a slogan. We have heard much of it in recent years. Men high in government have painted rosy pictures of what a properly "planned society" could do for the people. What they haven't pointed out is that real "economic planning" is possible only under an airtight dictatorship.

Speaking at the 42nd commencement exercises of Lincoln Memorial University, H. W. Prentiss, Junior, had this to say: "Economic planners are the modern prototype of the medicine men of our barbaric ancestors. . . . Economic planners believe that somewhere there actually exist individuals who have the capacity to plan the economic affairs of the whole nation. As a matter of fact, there is not enough information and ability available today to correlate the activities of any single industry, let alone the infinitely complex interests of the entire country. . . . Furthermore, 'if government once starts planning the economic affairs of our basic industries, the process will inevitably have to be extended to every phase of our economic life. . . . There would be no stopping short of the bitter end. As Stalin said in 1934: 'Without getting rid of capitalism and abandoning the system of private ownership in the means of production, you cannot create planned economy.'"

"Planned economy" means state socialism. Once state socialism becomes a reality, what becomes of the other two legs of the tripod of freedom—representative democracy and religious liberty? The state could not tolerate the throwing of a monkey wrench into any of its well-laid plans. Consequently, government would simply have to control every opinion-forming agency: the radio, the press, the movies, the schools and churches. In Germany, Russia and Italy you can see that program at work today. . . .

A planned economy, in brief, demands the death of freedom—of all those liberties which we associate with the ideal of democracy. It demands totalitarianism, cold and ruthless. So next time you hear that magic phrase, go to the root of it—and see it for the enemy of freedom that it is.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Led by agriculture committee chairman Marvin Jones of Amarillo, Texas, House members bitterly fought reductions in farm appropriations made in the Agriculture Department supply bill reported to the House.

They unanimously declared elimination of the farm tenancy purchase program and attacked successfully the reductions made in the bill by the House appropriations committee.

Jones argued that the committee had reduced the total appropriation for the Agriculture Department 51 per cent from what it had received for the current fiscal year ended June 30. He criticized House procedure which called for general debate on the measure immediately after it had been reported by the appropriating committee and before members had a chance to read it carefully.

"I can not help believing that the men who did that did it without going deeply into this problem," he said. "I am willing for agriculture to take its share of any reasonable cut, but this is an overwhelming thing, all out of proportion to the other reductions."

Defending the farm tenancy purchase program—the committee had eliminated the $25,000,000 item for this—Jones said:

"The tenants have not only paid in advance, they have paid 150 per cent of the amount due, and that is taking into account the entire number that have been refinanced."

"I do not believe the development of 7,000 additional farm home owners in America is a thing that should be 'needed' at, as we sometimes express it in the language of the street. I am rather proud to have that many more home owners in beautiful, family-sized country homes than we had when the program started."

Jones said that he had pending before his own committee a measure providing for insured farm mortgages in a plan similar to that of the Federal Housing Administration.

Among items stricken from the bill was one for maintenance of dry land experimental stations, including one established twenty-five years ago at Big Spring. Once Big Spring was in the congressional district of Rep. Thompson of El Paso, but under a redistricting act it was placed in the district of Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City.

Both Thompson and Mahon declared the $7,000 annual cost of operating the station was negligible compared with the good it rendered farmers in that section of West Texas. Thompson said it was morally wrong to abandon a station which local interest had helped establish.

"We are not acting in good faith with the people out there when we close that station," he told the House. "To me that would be unfair and unjust."

Another West Texas, Rep. Charles South of Coleman, joined in the protest. He declared that research such as that carried on at Big Spring station was wise from a business standpoint, because of the dollars and cents additional income it netted in better crops.

Rep. Gossett of Wichita Falls described the economy wave against farm appropriations as a "cyclone" and "defeatism at its worst," then added:

"The $25,000,000 asked for the tenancy act is less than half the price of a modern battle ship. Instead of eliminating this sum, we should increase it to at least $100,000,000. Upon the stabilization of the average American farmer must, in the last analysis, rest the strength and security of this republic."

Young Lindsey Beckworth, East Texas representative, told his colleagues that acquiescence in the cut would be breaking faith with the American farmer. "The least this congress should consider doing is to

Sharing The Comforts Of Life ---

CAPITAL AND THE PROGRESS OF MANKIND

Because I have had so much to say about the importance of capital, some readers have gained the impression that I do not cherish and realize the fundamental principles of sympathy, charity and respect for the rights of others.

I certainly know that the individual performs a greater service to mankind who is able to make people understand that the Kingdom of Heaven is within and that the material prosperity is a result of the Kingdom of Heaven being within men; that there would be starvation, poverty and misery and a very small population if the Kingdom of Heaven were not to some degree within.

I believe that the Parable of the Talents of the Valley simply means that when mankind has respect for other people's equal rights to the pursuit of happiness then things will multiply a million fold; that man need not worry about material things, if the Kingdom of Heaven is within men and they do have respect for other people's equal rights.

But the population would be very small and the general welfare would be deplorable if it were not for the accumulation of tools and capital. On this subject, Bastiat, who believed that economics is harmonious if the natural laws of the Divine Architect were observed, had the following to say:

"It follows from what I have said that the progress of mankind coincides with the rapid creation of Capital; for to say that new capital is formed, is just to say, in other words, that obstacles, formerly onerously combated by labour, are now gratuitously combated by nature; and that, be it observed, not for the profit of the capitalist, but for the profit of the community."

"This being so, the paramount interest of all (in an economical point of view, and rightly understood) is to favour the rapid creation of capital. But capital, if I may say so, increases of its own accord under the triple influence of activity, frugality, and security. We can scarcely exercise any direct influence on the activity and frugality of our neighbors, except through the medium of public opinion, by an intelligent communication of our antipathies and our sympathies. But as regards security we can do much, for without security, capital, far from being formed and accumulated, conceals itself, takes flight, and perishes; and this shows us how suicidal that popular ardour is which displays itself in disturbing the public tranquility. Let the working classes be well assured that the mission of Capital from the beginning has been to set men free from the yoke of ignorance, of want, and of despotism; and that to frighten away capital is to rivet a triple chain on the energies of the human race."

"What would become of our present administration if the workers could help each other to understand the above which is attested by all history."

BEWILDERED
Because there are so many conflicting statements made as to the cause of unemployment, many people are confused as to whom to believe. Quite often people who have attained some reputation as being students of economics and even teach economics, differ fundamentally in their statements. This is confusing to people who do not have analytical minds. They do not know which of the two to believe and give credence to their statements. There is one way of checking up as to which of the two conflicting parties to believe.

There is general union in the cause of unemployment among people who believe in the equality of rights—equality of rights to try to do things. The confusion and the contradicting statements as to unemployment, comes from people who do not believe in equality of rights to try to do things constructively. These people who believe in equality of abilities, rather than equality of rights to try, will write books, magazine articles, and give lectures, but will not answer questions. They want to talk along certain lines, but steer clear of other lines. They can only build up their theories by weaving questions.

So the guide as to which party we shall believe in conflicting statements is to discard the man who wants to talk, who wants to write, but will not answer questions. There is a very definite reason why he will not answer questions. The reason is, he cannot. A man who understands the fundamental principles of equality of rights to try, can answer questions and invites them.

The Nation's Press

BEYOND THE HANDOUTS (Kansas City Star)

The limitation of government handouts as a panacea for the nation's ills is quite properly recognized by Mr. Roosevelt in his talk at the White House conference on children.

The country's children always are a cause for solicitude and they deserve the best we can give them—in health, in education, in opportunities for life advancement. But if they are to have the best then we need to get down to fundamentals as we move to provide it.

Certainly as Mr. Roosevelt readily agrees, "assistance of many kinds is necessary"; but there is the frank admission that "mere grants in aid constitute no permanent solution" while the White House guests are informed in an aside "that the federal treasury has some bottom to it."

This, we submit, is a new idea from such a notable source. Its validity need not be argued for a moment. But when it comes to suggested methods of accomplishing the President's purpose "to increase the average of incomes in the poorer communities and areas," how far away do we get from the principle of grants in aid? Not beyond easy speaking distance, we are afraid. For there is immediate talk of resettlement projects, the Grand Coulee dam and the like. These may not be listed perhaps as direct treasury handouts but when we are traveling in the same boat.

Once more and in any large or inclusive way, national well-being cannot be encompassed by government assistance. That reverses the whole principle of American progress. The greatest function of government is to protect the people in aid constitute no permanent solution" while the White House guests are informed in an aside "that the federal treasury has some bottom to it."

When this situation policy is ended and the energies and resources of a people are fully released we shall need to worry little about average incomes and well-being.

Secure the farmers of the so-called parity payments—actually the $25,000,000 provides only 15 per cent parity—by restoring the $25,000,000 to the bill, he said.

"The soil conservation work and the soil conservation payments should not be diminished one iota and any action short of this in my opinion is dereliction of duty. Let's not forget the forgotten man."

BATTLE ON CAPITOL HILL

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—"Abe Lincoln in Illinois." Screenplay by Robert E. Sherwood. Directed by John Cromwell. Principals: Raymond Massey, Gene Lockhart, Ruth Gordon, Mary Howard, Dorothy Tree, Harvey Stephens, Alan Baxter, Minor Watson, Howard de Silva, Aldrich Bowker, Maurice Murphy, Louis Jean Heydt, Clem Bevans.

This is a film with dignity worthy of its subject. It is an unconventional picture, told straightforwardly and without resort to emotional trickery (sometimes called hokum) for its effect. And it is singularly effective.

"Abe Lincoln in Illinois" covers a broader canvas than last year's "Young Mr. Lincoln," and the two films are in its way comparable. The new picture, taken from Sherwood's Pulitzer prize play delves deeply into the character and motives of the backwoods lawyer who became President. "Young Mr. Lincoln," in comparison, merely scratched the surface, dwelling as it did upon a single dramatic incident in the man's Illinois life.

"Abe Lincoln in Illinois" (its Raymond Massey again as in the three previous versions) opens with the gangling boy Lincoln taking a job pulling a large load of pigs down-river to New Orleans.

Visually, the opening is unfortunate, as photographically Massey is no juvenile and looks, in fact, older than the parental Lincolns. As the story proceeds, through Abe's meeting with Ann Rutledge (Howard de Silva), the Massey performance of the first shock of his appearance and then, of course, the boy grows older.

Massey's Lincoln is a man of dark moods, and gloomy; honest and virile; equipped with homely wit and backwoods shrewdness; he is still obsessed with a dread of others and a fear of the great destiny others see for him. For Ann Rutledge, he overcomes the fear. When he loses her, his frustration sends him back to his single thought—his desire to be let alone.

This fear of his destiny persists throughout the story. Engaged to Mary Todd (Gordon) in his first tender years, he waits until at least the third date. 6) Don't be possessive. 7) Don't show your jealousy. 8) The above advice is not of our own concocting, but was sent in by a young woman who, although unmarried, apparently knows her way around.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

A young lady with a glamorous voice called up yesterday afternoon and protested that the list of eligible bachelors published in the Pampa News yesterday left out the name of "Mr. Fullingim." At first we were thrilled to think that she had the writer in mind, but then she explained that she was referring to an Amarillo lawyer, named John Fullingim. Said she, "Why I always go to court on opening day here just to see him. He's a dream of a man (her exact words). He was a star athlete at Baylor and he's still got his superb physique." She said Old Tack recently named him one of the best-dressed men in Amarillo. "If you want to take lessons on how to treat a woman, so she'll be nuts about you you ought to meet up with John Fullingim," this girl said as she hung up. . . . Then another woman called up and wanted to know why J. C. Reeves' name wasn't in the list. J. C. is the best-dressed, good-looking barber in Mimmy Wei's shop. . . .

An older woman telephoned this morning and wanted to know why we didn't list the names of some older eligible bachelors, say around 50 and 60, and then she wanted to know why we didn't form a club for "lonely hearts" to get together, but we are sticking to the Leap Year lists and not branching out.

To all eligible bachelors in Pampa, including those mentioned yesterday in this column: Unless you don't mind being completely overlooked by the husband-hunting blondes, brunettes, red heads, bear these Leap Year rules in mind: 1) Use the old build-up for it is worth it. 2) And do listen when the girls talk shop. 3) Pause to look into furniture store windows. 4) Stop referring to your friends' children as "brats." 5) Don't be too dandy. Set the tender "good" nights until at least the third date. 6) Don't be possessive. 7) Don't show your jealousy. 8) The above advice is not of our own concocting, but was sent in by a young woman who, although unmarried, apparently knows her way around.

The Family Doctor

Dr. Morris Fishbein

Once rickets affected from 50 to 80 per cent of all children. In this disease, the long bones do not grow properly. The child becomes restless and irritable, his muscles are flabby. Along the sides of the chest where the bones of the ribs meet the cartilages, little knobs appear. As the child grows, he becomes knock-kneed or bow-legged and may even develop a twisted spine.

When man moved inside from the outdoors, when smoke began to fill the air, when tenements were established and when window glass was introduced and eliminated the ultraviolet rays inside homes; "nets" began to spread. There were neat areas in factory districts and in tenements where practically every child was afflicted by this disease.

Probably the most important of all of the discoveries in connection with rickets was the determination that the condition resulted from a failure to obtain the ultraviolet rays of the sun. One of the first steps in the attack on the disease was to attempt to use window glass which would permit ultraviolet rays to pass.

Another step was the development of special lamps which would yield large amounts of ultraviolet rays as a substitute for the sun's rays.

For many years physicians had used cod liver oil in children who were weak and rickets. When it was demonstrated that the action of ultraviolet rays upon the human body stimulated development, "whitening" of a substance called ergosterol, which gave rise to vitamin D, and that cod liver oil is the richest known substance in vitamin D content, the medical profession was provided with another miraculous method for specifically controlling a definite disease.

Today we know that it is far more important to prevent rickets than it is to attempt to cure the disease. In this prevention, vitamin D is now supplied in a wide variety of ways, including not only the use of definite amounts of cod liver oil for the mother before the birth of the child and for the infant's birth and during childhood. Concentrates of cod liver oil and a substance called viosterol also are used.

It is possible nowadays to secure milk which has been irradiated or to which extra amounts of vitamin D have been added so that the infant and the growing child in this way get regularly definite amounts of vitamin D, sufficient to prevent rickets.

All sorts of experiments have been attempted with vitamin D to control other diseases, but these experiments are not conclusive. Nevertheless, so vastly important for the future of mankind is the use of vitamin D in the prevention and treatment of rickets that it stands as one of the 10 Magic Bullets upon which modern medicine so greatly depends.

You and Your Nation's Affairs

THE NATIONAL INCOME MYTH

By GUS W. DYER

Professor of Economics and Sociology, Vanderbilt University

As the President faces the economic chaos resulting from New Deal floundering, it isn't strange that he should grab the straw of increased national income and capitalization.

Every year possible, the broadest view taken from the Jackson Day Observer that the New Deal administration had increased the national income from $40 billion in 1922 to $100 billion in 1932. The worst of the depression—$64 billion in 1932—was the world depression decade without "junking" the Constitution or picking the Supreme Court. The country recovered from the world depression of 1929 without any aid or dictation from the federal government, and without any unemployment or other problem, and was $23 billion richer after the depression than it was before. The national wealth increased from $94 billion in 1929 to $117 billion in 1932 without any increase in the national debt and without any TVA or WPA or CCC or breadline taxes.

The depression of 1929 which would have ended by 1932 without any New Deal help and without any increase in the national debt. There was a sale of $104 billion in national wealth in the world depression decade without "junking" the Constitution or picking the Supreme Court. The country recovered from the world depression of 1929 without any aid or dictation from the federal government, and without any unemployment or other problem, and was $23 billion richer after the depression than it was before. The national wealth increased from $94 billion in 1929 to $117 billion in 1932 without any increase in the national debt and without any TVA or WPA or CCC or breadline taxes.

We had depressions in this country in 1822, 1837, 1849, 1873, 1892, 1896, and 1903. They have come in about ten year periods. Some of these depressions were world wide in extent. In every case there was a sharp decline in values and income, and then there was a return not only to normal values and income, but in each case a higher level than before. The depression of 1929 was the worst of the depression—$64 billion in 1932—was the world depression decade without "junking" the Constitution or picking the Supreme Court. The country recovered from the world depression of 1929 without any aid or dictation from the federal government, and without any unemployment or other problem, and was $23 billion richer after the depression than it was before. The national wealth increased from $94 billion in 1929 to $117 billion in 1932 without any increase in the national debt and without any TVA or WPA or CCC or breadline taxes.

In comparing the national income in 1929 with the national income in 1932—the worst year of the depression—an adjustment must be made in the values of the dollars of the two periods. The $10 billion of recovery for 1932 was estimated on the basis of gold dollars each containing 100 cents. The $94 billion national income of 1929 was estimated on the basis of irredeemable paper dollars each having 100 cents in the dollar. With this adjustment, the national income in 1929 was $94 billion while the national income of 1932—the worst year of the depression—was $100 billion.

The increase in national wealth is a reliable measure of the increase of

FEBRUARY REMINDS ME—
In records since the first of time,
(It has just dawned on me)
Each more-enduring narrative
Links someone with a tree.

It seems that—faintly—I recall
A tree that nurtured me
That George chopped down a cherry one
Is surely not a mystery.

"Abe" Lincoln carved on any kind—
Just so it made a rail;
At least—that's how the story goes.
And it's a lasting tale.

So, if you want undying fame,
It really seems to me
The sure route is to get mixed up—
In some way—with a tree.

Home Dry-Cleaning Dangerous, Claims Fire Chief White

"You can't value your life very highly if you attempt cleaning in your home with any inflammable liquid," said Chief White when he viewed the fire headquarters yesterday.

To make clear the danger of this practice he told of an instance reported to the National Board of Fire Underwriters in New York:

"In a suburban town, a fireman went off duty and started home. As he passed a house, a muffled explosion and a burst of fire from the kitchen window brought him across the street on the run. The front door or one place flew open and a woman whose clothing was flaming, appeared on the threshold, attempting to beat out the fire. Without a second's delay the fireman pushed her back into the house and rolled her in a rug, extinguishing the flames, although his own hands were scorched in the rescue. He then put in a call for the fire department and for a doctor to attend the woman who was seriously burned."

"Excited neighbors had now appeared. Leaving the care of the injured woman to them, the fireman obtained a garden hose from an adjoining house so he could attack the fire, thus holding the flames in check until his buddies arrived with the fire apparatus. By this act he saved the house from total destruction."

"Of content with this, he later told the lesson of the fire to a group of people in front of the house. Evidently she was cleaning dresses in gasoline," he said, "when the explosion and fire started. I don't know how it may have been a pilot light on the gas range, or perhaps she rubbed the material too hard and developed sufficient static electricity to produce a tiny spark which is all that is required to ignite gasoline vapor."

"Any cleaning with gasoline inside the home," said Chief White, "is extremely hazardous because of the volatile nature of the fluid. Gasoline vapor mixes with the air and spreads rapidly. In the correct proportions, this mixture of air and vapor is a powerful explosive as demonstrated in the motor of your automobile."

'Love, All We Have,' Youths Tell FDR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Hundreds of young people, six or eight of them with White House invitations in their pockets, turned toward Washington today to attend the American Youth Congress and to serenade the President with—

"We're getting nothing else but love, Franklin."

"That's the thing that youth's got plenty of, Franklin."

The Congress expects 3,500, including sharecroppers from Oklahoma, college students from the coast, industrial workers from the middle west, and young communists from New York—in spite of protests against "Reds."

Their slogan is: Jobs, peace and civil liberties. And they have at least one song and a dozen stunts for each subject.

The songs will be played from sound wagons Saturday morning on the march up the avenue to the White House lawn, where President Roosevelt will speak.

Influenza Still Prevalent In City

Influenza is still prevalent in Pampa but physicians hope the peak has been reached. Both local hospitals are still nearly filled with patients, mostly suffering with influenza, pneumonia and severe colds. Now is the dangerous time for relapses and persons who have had colds or influenza are warned not to leave the house too soon or to do strenuous work.

Dr. Malcolm Brown, city health officer, urges continued care in treatment of colds and calling of the family physician at the first sign of fever or sore throat.

There are no contagious cases in the city at the present time, Dr. Brown said today.

U. S. Not Likely To Sell Finns Guns, Says FDR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that he doubted whether the United States would sell any guns directly to Finland, because that country was engaged in armed conflict.

He made the statement at a press meeting in discussing conferences he had held with state, war and navy officials on materials, possibly available as surpluses, for shipment to Norway, Sweden, or any other neutrals.

Asked whether Finland could obtain any military supplies in this country in view of the fact that she was engaged in an undeclared war with Russia, the chief executive expressed doubt that this would be done.

He emphasized that in discussing possible arms sales he was talking about countries at peace.

He said he was checking up yesterday with his munitions control advisers as to what properly could be considered surplus supplies.

For example, he recalled that in 1913 the navy still had some old ships retained from the Civil War period. A lot of people, he added, advised against selling these, contending they were not surplus. But they were sold.

The other day, the president continued, it was discovered that the army had 450,000 pairs of shoes it had bought during the World War. It was a question, he said, whether these shoes, though still new, could be sold. They were sold.

Poles Claim Two Americans Killed In Mass Executions

PARIS, Feb. 9 (AP)—Polish authorities in Paris in continuing charges of mass executions by Germans in Poland have asserted that two American citizens, a man named Siercygel and his 18-year-old son, were among the victims in a "massacre" at Wawer, near Warsaw. They alleged that one out of every ten inhabitants of Wawer were shot after two German soldiers were shot by two Poles.

The date was not given.

The Polish information service said it had no additional information on the Americans.

The Poles charged that 138 persons in all were killed.

Tums "Pot O' Gold" May Be A Lottery

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The federal communications commission said today it had given the justice department "facts" concerning the Tums "Pot O' Gold" broadcast over the NBC chain, and a bakery program recently broadcast by two Texas stations.

The commission has received complaints that these programs, which involve gifts of money by chance, violate section 316 of the communications act which prohibits the broadcast of any advertisement or information concerning any lottery, gift enterprise or similar schemes," the announcement said.

The FCC turned the cases over to the justice department "for such action as that department deems necessary and warranted."

11 Railroads Will Give Auto Service

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (AP)—Eleven western railroads soon will provide private automobile service for passengers who desire it at the end of their rail trips.

When a passenger buys his round-trip ticket he may also arrange to have an automobile waiting for him at his destination.

The basic rate for the cars will be eight cents a mile, subject to certain minimum charges.

Railroads participating in the service are the Burlington; Chicago and Eastern Illinois; Milwaukee; North Western; Omaha; Great Northern; Illinois Central; Northern Pacific; Rock Island; Santa Fe; and the Union Pacific.

Electric Refrigeration IS HIGH in VALUE AND LOW in COST

It's impossible to put a money value on the protection of a family's food supply, but we can show you in dollars and cents how very little it costs to keep food absolutely pure and fresh in an electric refrigerator. As health protection alone an electric refrigerator is worth its weight in gold. And when you consider convenience, ice cube supply and home made ice creams and frozen dainties, the operating cost is little compared to the service rendered.

GROVER SEITZ ROUNDING UP ABOUT 20 NEW ROOKIES Dozen Boxing Bouts On Card Here Tonight

Harvester Sluggers To Make Debut

Amateur boxing will become a part of the Pampa high school athletic program for the first time tonight when the Pampa Harvester and LeFors Pirate boxers battle in a dual meet in the high school gymnasium. Opening ring is set for 8 o'clock with admission 25 cents for students and 40 cents for adults.

Third man in the ring will be Floyd Murry of Stinnett, an experienced amateur referee.

At least 12 bouts will be presented on the card. Eleven of the bouts were scheduled this morning when Coaches Oscar Hinger of the Harvesters and Toby Waggoner of the Pirates "got together" on the telephone.

Two Pampa boys, Roy Ray and Johnny Campbell, will be absent because of illness. Other members of the local team, although lacking in experience, will be in the ring slugging it out with their more experienced foes.

Tonight will see the Harvesters in action for the first time while LeFors has won three out of four meets so far this season.

Although boxing is new in Pampa high school, several of the Harvesters received valuable training last year under Cliff Chambers.

Tentative lineup of bouts tonight, Pampa boys name first, follow:

- 75 pounds—Harold Mitchell vs. Osborne.
- 85 pounds—Murry McPherson vs. Shipman.
- Curly Gambern vs. McLaughlin.
- 95 pounds—Bill Gise vs. Jeter.
- 115 pounds—Richard Stephens vs. Ferguson.
- Wendell Stanley vs. Jones.
- Doug Loveless vs. Jackson.
- 125 pounds—L. V. McDonald vs. Hughes.
- 145 pounds—Lefty Pendleton vs. Twigg.
- Heavyweight—Junior Chesser vs. Jackson.

Seabiscuit Will Run Today-Maybe

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9. (AP)—Seabiscuit positively will run today—provided, of course, he doesn't. That may sound a trifle contradictory, but Mr. Seabiscuit is a contradictory sort of cuss, and the uproar he has been stirring up lately has been most confusing.

The turf gentry has been highly upset because Seabiscuit was named to run four times and withdrew each time, for reasons of mud and rain in three instances. Immense peevish developed.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Ninety per cent of the Louis-Cody betting is being done on rounds. Roy Cullenbine's second highest offer came from the Browns—15,000 smackers and a two-year contract.

Tommy Farr will fly over on the clipper when he crosses the Atlantic in April to mingle with Joe Louis or whomever Mike Jacobs throws at him.

When Leo Kelly, the old middleweight died in St. Louis recently, he left $1,000 to provide an appropriate burial for his old manager, Lew Goodman of New York, who still is active at 63.

Intercepted Letter

When Promoter Charley McDonald filled Coach Howard Jones' ticket order for the Garcia-Armstrong fight at Los Angeles, Feb. 22, he wrote: "Here they are, Howard, and you'll find them a lot closer to the ring than I was to the 50-yard line on New Year's Day."

Coach Dana K. Bible is toying with the idea of making a quarter-back out of Jack Crain next season. If Cody should spill enough dope to sink the Japanese fleet tonight it will be the first time since 1890—when Jeffries kayced Fitzsimmons at Coney Island—that the heavy title changed hands indoors.

Today's Guest Star

Marvin McCarthy, Chicago Times: "One of these days some young fellow with a punch probably will catch Louis coming out of his corner and administer the old 'has-been' tag, but not for awhile yet. . . . There is no reason to believe the upsetter will be a Caddy, Calento, Pastor, Savoldi or anybody like that."

Missouri Club To Play Here On April 11

The Pampa Oilers are going to be stronger this year than in 1939 when they took second place in the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league if Manager Grover Seitz is able to successfully complete plans now in the making.

While other managers have been telling about the great players they have lined up, Manager Seitz has been working quietly getting together a bunch of rookies and some new veterans who will report here for spring training on April 8. Pitching will be called two days earlier, according to present plans.

Manager Seitz isn't putting out names of any boys he expects to have on hand April 8. He did that last year and lost a couple. However,

Turn To Page 10 For Additional Sports

Seitz did say that he'll have at least 20 rookies on hand opening day unless something unforeseen happens.

Seitz is now in communication with a Pacific coast team with which he may reach an agreement to secure a few players on option. Name of the team was not released.

Exhibition Games Scheduled

Exhibition games are on the Oiler schedule. The first game will be played at Road Runner park here on the afternoon of April 11 with St. Joseph in the Western association providing the opposition. The same two teams will meet on April 12. On April 14 Berger will be here for a game. St. Joseph will return for another game on April 19. Either St. Joseph or Berger will provide the opposition on April 21, two days before the opening of the season.

A league schedule meeting will be held in Lubbock February 18.

The Pampa plan of operation for this year calls for the signing of three rookie pitchers, a rookie outfielder, a rookie infielder and a rookie second-string catcher.

Pitching Staff Back

Ten of last year's team, besides Manager Seitz, will be subject to call. No contracts have been sent out as yet, however.

The entire pitching staff of Halliburton, Vannoy, Grabek, Dilbeck, Vargena and Fulton will be available. All come under the classification of two-year men.

Bob Bailey, first baseman, now joins Seitz and Summers, catcher, on the professional list of which only three can be carried on a team. Mallica, shortstop, and Jordan, third baseman, are the other two on call. Phillips, outfielder, has been given his release and Saparito, second baseman, has written for his release.

Every team in the league is expected to be stronger this season and all are pointing to knock Lubbock off the top of the loop ladder.

Pirates Swamp Mobeetie 40-26

Special To THE NEWS

LEFORS, Feb. 9.—Inspired passing and shooting resulted in a 40 to 26 victory for the LeFors Pirates over the Mobeetie Hornets at the LeFors high school gymnasium Wednesday night. The Pirates led throughout the game. The Hornets were unable to stop that flashy forward, Ralph Earhart, from scoring 19 of the 40 points, with Gutierrez following with 8 points.

Robison of Mobeetie was high point with 7 of the 26 points, with Johnson and Ferguson looping 5 points each.

The Pirates looked better and showed more passing ability than in previous games.

The Pirates will start their conference schedule against the strong McLean Tigers Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the LeFors gymnasium. On Tuesday night Alarreed will come to LeFors for the second conference game for the Pirates.

Pampa Independent Cagers Lose Close Game To Skellytown

Although they don't have any place in which to practice, Pampa has an independent basketball team. The team went to Skellytown Wednesday night and played great ball in losing 44 to 40 to the Skellytown Independents.

Elmer Irving, elongated forward, led the Pampa scoring parade with 18 points but it was one point short of high individual honors for the night which went to Ray Vinyard, Skellytown reserve forward.

The Pampans lined up with Dean and Irving, forwards, Strickland, center, Claude Hetsell and Mangel, guards.

Skellytown used Horner and Seitz, forwards, Coulson, center, Guyer and Beagle, guards.

The Skellytown quintet will play in Phillips Monday night and on Wednesday night will meet the Berger Independents in Skellytown, the game to be called at 7:30 o'clock.

Freshmen At Wisconsin Fail

MADISON, WIS., Feb. 9 (AP)—The university of Wisconsin reported today 14 members of the 1939 freshman football squad failed to get passing grades and would be ineligible for next year's varsity squad.

Three Basketball Games To Be Played At LeFors Tonight

Playing for the Pepper Hots will be Stroud (WTSC) and Rankin (WTSC), forwards; Champion (Trinity), center; Smith (McMurry) and Carruth (LeFors), guards.

'Bubber' Jonnard Named Amarillo Gold Sox Manager

"Bubber" Jonnard, the pitching half of the famous baseball twins of a few years ago, has been named manager of the Amarillo Gold Sox baseball team in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

The announcement was made yesterday afternoon by Owner Bob Seeds after Jonnard had wired his acceptance of terms. Jonnard will be playing manager, taking his regular turn on the mound. His brother, also known as "Bubber," was talent scout for the New York Giants last season but this year he will manage Milford in the East Shore league.

Amarillo's new manager was at the helm of the Joplin, Mo. club in the Western association last season. He is said to be exceptionally good at working with young players.

WELL, I KNOW ONE THING ... WE'RE NOT GOING TO ANY SOUTH SEAS

Mexican Music Has Roots In Cuban, African, And Aztec Origin

(By The Associated Press)

Mexican music, so familiar to the ears of Texans, like the customs, prejudices, superstitions and pleasures of the people of the Southern republic, varies with the section to which it is ascribed. This is the conclusion of Enrique Garcia, San Antonio orchestra leader and collector, after several years study of Mexican melodies.

Like the myriad human strains peopling the exotic land below the Rio Grande, so Mexico's music has been shown to exist in strata, affected by the temperament and the ambitions, or perhaps the languor and passions, of the particular region in which it is heard.

The larger number of typical Mexican musical compositions are known as musics rancheras, a development of the great coastal plains country in the region around Tampico. Ranchera music was more than two centuries in the making, and its field covers everything from ballads of inherent beauty and melody to sibilant chants of foreign influence. The unit of ranchera music is the guapango, or song, a term used to describe the airs that were sung by wandering troubadours to sleep-eyed sweethearts behind lattice-work balconies in the Tampico regions generations ago.

Even today the old guapangos find flavor in the villages and hamlets along the Gulf of Mexico, to say nothing of the plazas of Tampico itself.

Garcia found the counterpart of the American jitterbug in Mexican ranchera music. Likewise, he discovered spirituals and hillbilly tunes, many of them hardly known in Mexico City, but close to the hearts of the great native rural population. Even the jam session is represented—this with a musical chant played in the off beat bass—which hurls the musicians into frenzied action, with chords becoming louder and louder, players more and more excited, strains more and more extemporaneous until the jam session is in full swing.

Musica ranchera is another typical brand of Mexican music, enjoying great popularity among the residents of the mountains and ranching lands of the north. Most all of the music shows the effect of Spanish influence, but at the same time it is tempered with the weird inheritance of Mayan, Aztec and Toltec chant. From the Vera Cruz district springs the Afro-Cuban rhythms, numbers bearing a strong flavor of Africa, the West Indies, and regions reflecting the early slave trade. In the far southeast, the Central American influence has made itself felt in the states of Chiapas and Yucatan. An importation from the Argentine is the Mexican tango.

The Afro-Cuban rhythms are strange productions. Residents of the American plantations region would recognize the melancholy wall typical of the negro spiritual sung in the Spanish-Indian tongue. Along the Rio Grande, the popular type of music is gay and carefree, typical of which are such numbers as "Rancho Grande" and other sections designated "corridos." There is an abandon in the music that is markedly different from the heavy, serious tempo of the far south and the uplands.

Rhythms in Mexico are known as alavanzas and comprise the popular music of the people. Numerous songs have their origin in revolutionary exploits, such as "La Cucaracha," most of them coming from Sonora and Chihuahua in the north. Garcia found, too, that American music and American influence is having a great deal of effect on Mexican composers. It is the first punctuation in the centuries-long sequence of Mexican refrains from Indian to Spaniard to Mexican.

Don Corazones" he points out as an excellent example of this. Garcia, born in Mexico City, for several years traveled through Mexico and Latin America in search of new devices for making music. As a result he is accepted as an authority on musical instruments and features peculiar to Mexican music. The ranchera has developed strange string instruments used nowhere else in Mexico. In addition they employ the guitar, the clarinet and drum. One of their prized instruments is a device with three strings, having the characteristics of a banjo, guitar and mandolin.

In the Afro-Cuban element the popular weapon is the marimbo, a rhythmic instrument or music box that does not require tuning. Bass notes in all sections sometimes are produced by use of an earthen jug, and the old blowing process, he said.

Musical vibrations sometimes are developed by strokes on a polished jaw bone of a donkey. Favorite drums include a conga, strapped over the shoulder, and smaller numbers which are tapped with the hands or fingers. Clavas, or sounding sticks, and maracas—gourds containing dried seeds—also are used.

Garcia has collected most of the unusual musical instruments in Mexico.

Thousands Attend Wheeler Farm Meet

Special To The NEWS
SHAMROCK, Feb. 9.—The Wheeler County Agricultural association held its monthly membership meeting in the district court room at Wheeler on Tuesday evening with an attendance of over 1,000 farmers and business men of the county.

Discussion of the meeting centered on proposed farm legislation and the present trend of Congress along that line. The meeting, the best attended one in several months, was interesting and instructive to both farmers and business men and was called the most successful meeting of the association since its organization by County Agent J. L. Tarter.

Lee Barry of Briscoe called the meeting to order and introduced Melvin Pillars of Twitty who gave a resume of laws passed by the national Congress in favor of farm improvement. He also stressed the present trend of legislation along farm lines. Bedford Harrison next gave a short talk on the Relation of Agriculture to Local Business. He was followed by Paul Macina of the Pagan community, who discussed farm planning. The meeting was closed by Chairman Barry who discussed trends of cooperative marketing.

The association will meet again on Tuesday, March 7, at which time Mr. C. H. Day of Plainview, prominent state leader of farm work, will be the principal speaker.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Feb. 9 (AP)—Once the greatest of the great Russian ballet dancers, Vaslav Nijinsky, who has been confined for 20 years in a Kreuzlingen, Switzerland, institution for the insane, is now "practically well," says his close friend, Sol Hurok, Russian-born ballet producer.

"We hope to bring Nijinsky to the United States," said Hurok, who is directing the Ballet Russe here. "The matter of finances can be taken care of, I am sure, and I will be glad to assist in providing for his transportation to the border necessary to get him into the United States."

Nijinsky is now 50 years old. His mind faltered him in 1919 at the height of a triumphal tour of America.

Astronomers To Take Motion Pictures Of Eclipse On April 7

AUSTIN, Feb. 9 (AP)—A third space-piercing project today was added to the University of Texas' efforts to probe secrets of the sun during an annual eclipse April 7—this one in the form of motion pictures to be taken from the school's campus.

University astronomers had announced observers at the McDonald observatory in the Davis mountains would use the second-largest telescope in the world and an expedition located in the Chisos mountains, the exact center of the eclipse path would swing infra-red photographic equipment into action.

While those projects make the most of the six minutes the moon will blot out—except for a narrow ring—the sun's disc, Dr. Paul Rudnick, university astronomer, will train a special motion camera on the phenomena.

The camera will record two pictures a second through special lenses and prisms and is expected to provide material which will aid in the analysis of composition and characteristics of the sun's gases.

Spirit Will Be Sermon Subject

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 11.

The Golden Text is: "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you" (Romans 8:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As mortals begin to understand Spirit, they give up the belief that there is any true existence apart from God" (page 283).

Dalharian Youngest District Attorney

DALHART, Feb. 9 (AP)—Milton Tatum, 27, of Dalhart, may be the youngest district attorney in Texas. Gov. O'Daniel appointed him prosecutor of the 68th judicial district, comprising seven northwest Panhandle counties, Jan. 18 to replace James W. Wilkerson of Harford, who had been named district judge to succeed the late Reese Tatum.

Although the names are spelled alike the late Judge Reese Tatum and Milton are not related. However, Milton's father, Frank M. Tatum, and Judge Tatum were partners in a law firm from 1908 to 1917 when Gov. James E. Ferguson appointed Reese Tatum to the district judgeship.

Born in Dalhart, Tatum is a graduate of Southern Methodist university school of law, and from May, 1937, until his appointment was associated with his father in the practice of law.

Taft Not To Enter Illinois Primary

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, announced today he would not enter the Illinois preference primary April 9.

Taft said in a statement that the election was merely advisory and not binding upon delegates to the 1940 convention. In addition, he declared, he could not "possibly be away from the Senate for the time necessary" in a state like Illinois, to make the kind of campaign I should wish to make.

Thomas E. Dewey, the New York prosecutor, has entered the primary race, and there have been indications he would be the only Republican to participate. President Roosevelt's name has been entered for the Illinois Democratic primary, and no other Democrats have filed.

Hound To Die For Killing A Deer

PRESCOTT, ARL. Feb. 9 (AP)—Sport, a lanky, black white spotted dog, condemned to death in court for killing a deer, was executed last night by a deputy game warden. Sport, who had helped his trapper-master, John Parker, hunt down coyotes, foxes and mountain lions, slept on the courtroom floor yesterday while justice of the peace Gordon Clark heard testimony which convicted him.

The death trial began after Parker

Dripping Springs Real Beauty Spot

SNYDER, Feb. 9 (AP)—Few beauty spots off the beaten path offers a greater attraction to the tourist or nature lover than Dripping Springs, located four and a half miles north of Camp Springs in the eastern part of Scurry county.

Tucked away in a tributary of a small creek on the Harrah ranch, the springs pour water the year around from a rocky ledge 75 feet wide. In winter the falling water leaves pillars of ice 40 to 50 feet high and as large as barrels. In summer the water falls amid garlanded ferns to grotesque lime formations below.

Since the springs face north, the chilly blasts of winter sweep up against the falling water, circling long garlands of dead ferns, to form icicles so intricately formed that residents term the springs a "fair-land of changes."

Dripping Springs was known to the Indians hundreds of years before the white men settled West Texas as the source of "heavenly medicine" that makum all sick braves well.

A deposit of pure alum located 50 yards northeast of the springs was cited by Otto Nicks, deputy game warden, for killing a deer out of season. Three youths reported they had seen Sport kill the deer. Testifying in defense of his dog, Parker told the court he didn't see "how it could have been possible, because Sport was with me all afternoon."

provided the tonic the Comanches and other tribes sought. It was here they brought their wounded warriors, the sick and lame to obtain relief from bodily pains, and the medicine they needed for the dressing of wounds.

South of the springs, fast filling holes on a tabletop of rock indicate it was the place where Indian squaws operated the grinding mill. Flint grounds in the neighborhood suggest it was the manufacturing center for implements of war.

Especially are the springs a picnic spot for Scurry, Fisher, Nolan and Kent county residents in summer, when water falling 50 feet through long, green ferns present a Niagara Falls in miniature unequalled for color contrast in this area.

Steps have been taken during the past few years by various groups to have Dripping Springs and Double Caves, three miles northeastward, included in a small state park. The springs, plus Double Caves—two winding underground caves of pure gyp rock—offer a treat to picnickers, discovered only in beauty spots away from the beaten path.

Lake Ladoga, mentioned in Russian-Finnish war dispatches, began to freeze as early as October. By January 1, even the deeper sections are frozen over. Temperature changes and winds often raise ice walls as high as 80 feet on Ladoga's shores.
