Father, Two Children Die In Road Crash

EL PASO (AP)—A California father and two of his children were killed and the mother, another child and a truck driver were gravely injured today in a headon collision.

The crash took place on Guadalupe Pass on the New Mexico line in one of the most isolated sections of the United States at 3:30 a.m. The crash was just across the line in Texas.

Those killed were Burl Murphy, 34, of San Lorenzo, Calif.; his daughter, Barbara, 3, and the Murphys' baby boy, about 1.

In critical conditions were Mrs. Murphy, her son, Danny, 10, and Wilbur Maskew, 35, of Artesia, N. M., driver of the Ferguson-Steere gasoline truck.

Ferguson-Steere has a case under advisement by the State Corporation Commission in New Mexico as to whether the firm's license should be revoked because of its safety record. Testimony at a recent New Mexico hearing showed Ferguson-Steere trucks had been involved in accidents which killed 14 and injured 43 between November 1953 and August 1955.

H. C. Danbo, assistant chief engineer of the El Paso Natural Gas Co., compressor station at Guadalupe, one of the first on the scene, said it appeared the truck's brakes had failed. The westbound truck skidded several hundred yards after hitting the Murphy car headon, then burned.

Maskew suffered burns, indicating he had attempted to ride the truck down the hill even though the brakes were out and was in the wrecked truck when it caught fire. Maskew was found wandering dazed on a ledge above the highway.

Wreckers lifted the Murphy car to allow removal of the bodies of Murphy and Barbara. The baby died en route to El Paso.

First word of the crash reached El Paso half an hour after the crash from the compressor station. Ambulances from El Paso and Carlsbad, N.M., 75 miles away, answered the call.

Workmen Begin Pumping Job On Flooded Tunnel

NEW YORK (AP)—Workmen today began a three-day job of pumping out the flooded Manhattan section of a new 100-million-dollar Lincoln tunnel.

A break yesterday caused water to cascade into the tube. Nobody was injured.

The Manhattan section was being bored west to join another section being driven east under the Hudson River from the New Jersey shore. They had not been linked.

With two pumps already in operation, the water depth was decreasing at a rate of 1½ inches an hour. More pumps are to be installed.

The pumping was expected to take three days, and the construction delay will be longer. Some engineers said shortly after the break the work would be set back two or three weeks.

The two older tubes of the Lincoln tunnel system were not affected by the break and traffic continued in them as usual.

The break occurred in a rock tunnel below 12th Avenue and 38th Street, just west of the New York Ventilation Building.

Three sandhogs went down 85 feet to try and stem the break. They found the safety door jammed and had to swim for it as the water kept rising.

About 1:30 p.m. yesterday a diver, Raymond J. Campbell, 48, went down to try to close the safety bulkhead. Unsuccessful on that try, he went down again several hours later and swung the big door shut.

Engineers estimated the break would mean a construction delay of two or three weeks.

Boys' 'Fun' Results In Murder Charge

LONGVIEW (AP)—Murder charges were filed today against two men in what Dist. Atty. Ralph Prince called "a case of two irresponsible boys who were attempting to have some fun by scaring Negroes."

Texas Ranger Bob Crowder accused Dean Ross, 22, and Joe Simpson, 21, of killing one Negro, wounding two others, and firing into a Negro school bus and Negro home Oct. 22.

The shootings occurred after 11 p.m. that night near the Hughes Cafe about 6½ miles southeast of Longview.

Crowder said Ross told him he and Simpson had been drinking beer after seeing a movie in Longview and "the thought occurred to us, 'Let's make a raid.'"

Crowder said the two men fired from their speeding car into the cafe, where Negroes were dancing, riddled an unoccupied Negro school bus, and then fired into the home of John Beckworth, a Negro and a brother of a school principal.

John Reese, 16, was killed. Wounded in the cafe and dance hall were Josie Nelson, 13, and her sister, Johnnie, 15.

Although the shootings occurred in Gregg County, Texas Rangers said they believed they were in part the result of a school dispute involving the small Negro community of Mayflower, just over the line in Rusk County.

What the dispute was about wasn't clear except that it involved location of a proposed new Negro school.

The murder charges capped a long investigation during which Crowder said he, other Texas Rangers and Gregg County Sheriff Noble Crawford questioned at least 300 people.

The Ranger captain said Ross told him in the presence of newsmen that he also was responsible for other Negro shootings in March, April and June last year. The school bus was fired at on April 3.

On the Oct. 22 night, said Crowder, 24 shots were fired into the cafe, the school bus and the Beckworth home.

Both Ross and Simpson live in Tatum. Ross was arrested yesterday at a Marshall plant where he worked. Simpson was arrested in Houston.

Rocket Engine For Satellite?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A rocket engine, fired for 40 seconds in a test at North American Aviation's nearby Santa Susana plant, produced a blast heard over a 50-mile area yesterday. A company spokesman said the firing was ordered in line with a secret program under way. No other details were given.

Florida Natural Gas Pipeline Dynamited

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—A natural gas pipeline supplying the Chemstrand Corp.'s big nylon plant was dynamited today. The plant was the scene of picket line disorders two weeks ago.

Cloudy Skies Bring Hope For Showers

By The Associated Press

Increasing cloudiness brought the promise of scattered thundershowers to Texas Thursday and Friday.

The Weather Bureau said skies were cloudy over most of the state and scattered showers could be expected during the day in the north. Skies are expected to start clearing Friday.

Laredo and College Station reported .01 of an inch of rain in 24 hours. Traces were recorded at Corpus Christi, Del Rio, San Antonio, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells and Cotulla.

Three weather stations reported freezes early Thursday. Dalhart had 29 and Amarillo and Lubbock 31. The high was 63 at Brownsville.

Abilene had 40, Austin 51, Corpus Christi 60, Dallas 42, Fort Worth 38, Houston 48, Laredo 55, Midland 39, San Antonio 51, Waco 42, Wichita Falls 37, Lufkin 39, Texarkana 41 and Big Spring 43.

Midland had a dawn fog.

Confucius Say He Who Walk Through Glass House Get Cut

MIDLAND (AP)—Midland's new public safety building, with windows so clear incoming lawyers and outgoing prisoners try to walk right through, is going to get some protection from the public.

Lawyer Leonard Howell suffered minor lacerations when he walked right through a window, taking the glass with him. A released prisoner ran into the glass and almost knocked himself out.

Now the city has ordered gleaming aluminum bars placed over windows of the building—which houses, among other facilities, the city jail.

Dr. Salk Cited For Polio Work

WASHINGTON (AP)— Dr. Jonas E. Salk today received a congressional gold medal for "his great achievement in the field of Medicine" in developing the polio vaccine which bears his name.

Friday Is Deadline In C Of C Balloting

The Chamber of Commerce office has received 310 ballots in the election of 15 new directors for the board. Deadline for mailing the ballots is midnight Friday.

The ballot lists 45 names, with 15 to be selected to serve on the Chamber board of directors for two years. There are 15 holdover directors on the board making 30 in all. These elected directors will elect 10 more men to serve on the board for one year terms.

BOXER BARELY WINS TROPHY

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — The house shook with laughter when Curtis Schoon, Sioux Falls featherweight, took off his robe for his Golden Gloves boxing match last night.

Schoon had forgotten to wear his boxing trunks. The match was held up while Schoon returned to the dressing room.

He lost the bout but won the sportsmanship trophy.

Senators Okay Additions To Farm Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Ellender (D-La) said today members of the Senate Agriculture Committee look with favor on two proposed additions to the administration's farm program.

One would authorize 250 to 500 million dollars for price support operations on pork, beef cattle and other perishable farm products now largely excluded.

The other would lock up a good part of the eight billion dollars worth of farm surpluses now in government hands as "a strategic reserve" to be used only in case of war or other emergency.

"We will continue our discussions today and tomorrow," Ellender said. "Then we will ask our staff and the Agriculture Department people to draft this into legal terms. We hope to do some actual voting Tuesday."

Nineteen Midwest Republican House members called on Secretary of Agriculture Benson yesterday to urge that he step up government buying to bolster pork and beef prices, and to take other steps at once. Benson made no firm commitment.

The secretary has a 440-million-dollar fund, earmarked from customs receipts, for special price supporting moves. Not more than one fourth of it, or 110 millions, can be used on any one commodity.

Ellender said that might not be enough for effective programs to lift hog and cattle prices. He proposed an added quarter or half billion dollars to help support prices of any commodity not eligible under regular federal programs.

Several senators and farm organizations had suggested that a major share of the government-held surpluses of commodities be placed in a special "strategic reserve."

Navy Plane Will Import Snowballs

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Navy plane will leave the frozen north country of St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 25 on an important mission of war: bringing snowballs. They will be used in a snowball fight staged by the New Orleans Recreation Department for kids who have never seen snow.

Ford Foundation Gets Large Check

DETROIT (AP)—A check for $642,600,000 was handed to the Ford Foundation today. It was the final act in the recent public sale of 10,200,000 shares of Ford Motor Co. stock.

Broad Attack Urged On Health Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to vote $126,525,000 for basic research to penetrate the "dark mystery" of cancer and to combat other leading killers.

The request was made in a five-point program in a special message calling for "a renewed and reinvigorated attack on our health problems."

Eisenhower told the lawmakers: "The nation in recent years has made notable advances in the unending struggle against disease and disability. Human suffering has been relieved, the span of man's years has been extended. But in the light of the human and economic toll still taken by disease in the light of the great opportunities open before us, the nation still has not summoned the resources it properly and usefully could summon to the cause of better health."

Eisenhower did not renew his request of last year for federal reinsurance of health insurance—a proposal which ran into opposition from the American Medical Assn. on grounds it might be an opening wedge to socialized medicine, and got nowhere in Congress.

Instead, Eisenhower said the administration is considering legislation to permit pooling of risks by private companies.

He said this might offer "broader benefits and expanded coverage on reasonable terms in fields of special needs."

"But," he added, "if practical and useful methods cannot be developed along these lines, then I will again urge the enactment of the proposal made last year."

Eisenhower called for action in five general areas, providing for:

1. A 28 per cent increase in federal funds for basic medical research to a total of $126,525,000.

2. A new program of grants—250 million dollars over the next five years—for construction of medical research and training facilities.

This money would go to state, local and private institutions with a provision that they must supply "at least equal amounts in matching funds."

3. Further steps to meet health personnel shortages. No specific amount was recommended here, but Eisenhower said the number of physicians being graduated from medical school is barely keeping pace with the increase in population, and that the number of dentists and nurses is diminishing relative to population.

4. Action to strengthen certain other basic health services throughout the nation.

His fifth point was that of meeting costs of medical care and embraced his plan possibly to submit later legislation for pooling of insurance risks.

Under this item, the President also recommended that Congress authorize a separate program through which the federal government would match funds expended by the states and localities for medical care for the indigent aged, the blind, the permanently and totally disabled, and dependent children.

In noting progress already made in the medical research field, Eisenhower singled out "the widespread use of the Salk poliomyelitis vaccine within the past year alone." He said it "has proved highly effective in reducing the threat of paralytic poliomyelitis to many of our children."

Eisenhower noted that a current program providing federal funds to assist the states in providing free Salk vaccine for many children and expectant mothers will expire Feb. 15. He recommended an extension to June 30, 1957, and appropriation of 30 million dollars to complete the program.

The stepped-up research program which he recommended would provide:

For cancer $32,437,000; heart disease $22,106,000; mental illness $21,749,000; arthritis and metabolic diseases, $13,345,000; neurology and blindness $12,196,000; infectious and parasitic diseases $9,799,000; dental disorders $2,971,000; and $11,922,000 for general research programs of the national institutes of health.

He made no reference in the message to his own heart attack last Sept. 24.

On the point of health personnel, Eisenhower renewed the call sounded in his health message last year, for enactment of legislation to provide for a five-year program of grants for training practical nurses, traineeships for graduate nurses, and authority to establish traineeships in other public health specialties.

As for strengthening basic health services he said the last comprehensive survey of illness in the United States was made 20 years ago, and that since then American medicine has experienced the most rapid and dramatic changes in its history. He recommended that Congress authorize the Public Health Service to conduct new surveys.

Extension for two more years of the federal-state program to aid in construction of hospitals and other medical care facilities was recommended. The budget calls for a 19-million-dollar increase in funds to accomplish that.

He renewed his call for authorization of a new program of mental health project grants aimed at improving the quality of care in mental institutions, as well as putting administration of such institutions on a higher level.

Eisenhower recommended strengthening of the Water Pollution Act expiring on June 30. He also appealed for a substantial increase in funds to broaden the research attack on air pollution, including smog, by nonfederal institutions as well as by the Public Health Service and other government agencies.

A "significant increase" in funds to provide for expansion of the agency's staff was recommended.

He noted that he has included funds in the budget to strengthen research in this field for dealing "with any civil defense emergency that may arise."

Live Television In Living Room

ST. LOUIS (AP)—When the engine of his Navy jet plane flamed out over suburban St. Ann yesterday, Maj. Roy H. McDonald picked the only "open patch" he could see and set her down.

In his path as he touched down was an approaching car, so he nosed the F9F up and passed right over it, he related later.

The plane then skidded several hundred feet in snow, wrecking three cars and a trailer, and came to rest with its nose rammed three feet into the living room of Frank Kibler Sr., who was watching television.

Kibler, 56, received a slight cut on the forehead. McDonald, 31, escaped injury. He is a Marine Reserve pilot who is a flight test engineer for the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. in St. Louis.

Pranksters Blamed In Cross Burning

DALLAS (AP) — Police in suburban Highland Park said they believed the cross that was burned last night in the front yard of the home with the controversial mock yacht was the work of teen-age pranksters.

The home in the fashionable neighborhood was put up for sale to Negroes by Dr. Cosette Newton after the Texas Supreme Court ruled the decaying yacht was an eyesore and fire hazard and should be torn down.

Prisoners Deliver '56 License Plates

Prisoners from the state penitentiary carried over 600 boxes of 1956 license plates into the county tax office Tuesday afternoon, as the office got its first glimpse of the county's new license tags.

The sale of the tags will begin next Wednesday, and with the present supply, the office can register 12,790 cars without having to call Austin for more.

The license plates are made and distributed by prisoners of the state penitentiary system. Howard County is the westernmost county in the Abilene district — and farthest from the Huntsville prison—which is the reason for the late reception of the tags.

The county usually receives its tag shipment around Jan. 15.

Howard County's letters for this year will be CK and CL, with the numbers ranging from CK 5825 to CK 9999 and from CL 10 to CL 8624.

License plates this year are larger than last year's, with the size of the 1956 plates being six by 12 inches. These plates are approximately three inches longer than last year. Some of the 1955 plates were the same size as the new ones, but they were circulated the latter part of the year.

These larger 1955 plates bore the letters RR.

In expanding the size, the state put the letters side by side instead of being stacked. The six-by-12 plates are in keeping with the program to standardize size of license plates in all 48 states. The standard-size system goes into effect this year.

Colors on the plates are reversed from 1955, with the black furnishing the background with yellow letters. Replacement tags — for those persons losing one or more of their plates — are orange with black letters.

The county received 12,790 auto tags and 2,000 truck plates. The truck numbers range from 1K-7575 to 1K9574. There were 950 farm truck licenses received, numbered 5H7600 through 5H8549.

The county's truck-tractor licenses total 255, farm truck-tractor owners will have to fight over 10 sets of tags, and there are 900 trailer plates. The county received 240 house trailer registrations, 235 for motorcycles, and 100 dealer tags.

Ten motorcycle dealer tags were received, and a like number of city bus tags. Two each tractor and factory delivery plates came in the shipment and also one motor bus license.

The county tax office will start issuing the tags next Wednesday (Feb. 1) and continue through March 31. Only car papers necessary to procure the tags are the car title and the previous license receipt.

Radar Man Fails To Rescue Pilot

PRESQUE ISLE, Maine (AP)—A young radar observer was injured in a vain attempt to rescue his pilot from a T33 jet trainer that crashed and burned yesterday.

The dead pilot was Lt. Billie Hunt, 29, of 1301 N. 15th St., Temple, Texas.

Lt. Harley Powell, 24, of Dundee, Miss., tried to rescue Hunt, who was pinned in the wreckage.

Abbott Convicted In Kidnap Death

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Burton W. Abbott today faced the prospect of death in San Quentin's gas chamber because of two strands of hair, 18 bits of fiber and less than a handful of clay.

Largely on microscope and test tube analysis, a jury yesterday convicted the 27-year-old father of kidnaping and beating to death 14-year-old Stephanie Bryan. The seven men and five women had spent 51 hours and 56 minutes in reaching their decision. They deliberated six days before taking the first ballot.

The jurors specified the death sentence for Abbott on both counts —by specific decree for the kidnaping, and by omitting any recommendation for mercy for the first-degree murder finding.

A juror said only five ballots were taken—all yesterday—and that two 11-1 ballots were the farthest they ever were apart.

Abbott's attorneys, Stanley Whitney and Harold B. Hove, who had argued that some unknown person framed Abbott, plan a motion for a new trial Feb. 3 when he goes before Judge Charles Wade Snook for sentencing.

Abbott, who went to the University of California after tuberculosis forced removal of half a lung and cut short his Army service, sat stunned and frozen-faced.

Veins stood out in his neck but his expression never changed as the clerk read:

"We find that the person subjected to such kidnaping suffered bodily harm and fix the punishment as death."

His gray-haired mother Elsie, burying her face in her hands, stumbled from the crowded courtroom wailing, "It's dreadful; he's innocent."

Abbott's red-haired wife Georgia, a beauty parlor operator, heard the condemnation of her husband, father of her 4-year-old son Chris, in grim-faced silence. Later at home she broke.

With tears streaming down her face she told a newsman:

"Of course, we are going to fight the verdict."

It was Georgia's July 15 discovery of Stephanie's red purse in the basement of the Abbott's Alameda home and her call to police that first pointed suspicion at Abbott.

Next day FBI agents dug up Stephanie's brassiere and books in the basement. Four days later, a rancher's dogs led to her crude grave.

Abbott denied that he was the killer.

The April 28 crime, which nobody witnessed, was called a sex crime by the prosecution—"one of the foulest and blackest in California history."

Dr. Paul Kirk, nationally known criminologist, testified a soil test showed that clay nine inches deep in the grave matched clay from Abbott's boots. He said two strands of hair found in Abbott's car matched Stephanie's head; that 18 fibers matched those of two sweaters, a petticoat and a skirt.

Taylor Assails 'Short War' Policy As 'Tragic Mistake'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said today that "I feel it would be a tragic mistake to assume dogmatically that we will only fight a short war, and deliberately limit our preparation in consonance with that hope."

The Army chief of staff, in an address prepared for the Overseas Press Club, made no direct reference to air war proponents who say that atomic-air power can mean a short, fierce war instead of prolonged, traditional ground fighting. But he did say:

"I am well aware of the school of thought which feels that the war will be over in a matter of a few days. Maybe it will.

"However, I recall that the hope of a blitzkrieg has known disappointment before in military history."

Taylor said that regardless of the duration of a war, "Army forces will be needed abroad throughout."

Taylor said the Army also is abroad now "to deal with the small war, the limited aggression, and encourage friendly people who live close to the threat of Communist states, he said, adding:

"It is hard to overestimate the role which our troops play as they walk the streets of foreign cities close to the Iron and Bamboo curtains. The thin line of Army men abroad is a constant reminder to our friends that the Communist aggressor will quickly encounter an American soldier who symbolizes the might of the United States."

IRS Has Supply Of W-2 Forms

A new supply of W-2 income tax withholding forms has been received by the Internal Revenue Service office in the Petroleum Building, it was announced Thursday.

Employers who have not issued these statements of income and income taxes withheld from the pay of employees during 1955 must do so not later than Jan. 31, reminded Ben Hawkins, IRS agent.

No, Not Inflation, Just Polio Drive

MELBA, Idaho (AP)—Mrs. Gordon Vogelson sold and resold her cake 21 times for a total of $102.50. A 50-cent pair of tinsnips went for $20. So did a box of nuts and bolts.

That's what the accounts showed today as residents of Melba totaled the proceeds of their seventh annual polio auction for the March of Dimes.

The total came to about $5,500—better than $27 for the 203 persons in this tiny southwestern Idaho farm community.

Melba claims to have originated the polio auction—now common in towns throughout the nation—in 1949, when farmer Orrie Stokes decided to get rid of some second-hand farm machinery.

Merchants and housewives chipped in with contributions of their own that year, and a committee auctioned it all off for about $2,500.

Three years ago the auction raised $7,600 for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This gave Melba a per capita contribution of $37, and Melba claims it's a national record. The average in Idaho as a whole is 50 cents.

Some 1,500 from Melba and nearby towns milled through the village high school yesterday, offering fancy prices for livestock, quilts and blankets, car tires and homemade cookies.

A television set brought the highest amount of any single item: $758.25.

Paul Montgomery, a farmer, dressed a doll in 100 dollar bills and raffled it off for $300.

The man who won it, Bob Robinson, a service station owner, stripped the doll and gave the money to the auction committee.

"Mostly, they're bidding for fun," said Alfred Zeyer, the auction committee chairman. "They come here with so much money and they're going to spend it—whether they get what they want or not."

But there's a lot of shrewd organizational work behind the fun.

Zeyer explained virtually every family in town has a place on the auction committee.

They're put to work pursuading merchants in Melba and other towns to make contributions. Almost everyone in Melba is expected to auction something.

Tax Office Will Stay Open Late For Poll Taxes

With the total of poll tax registrations well below the expected number for a national election year, the tax office has announced it will be open Saturday afternoon and late Tuesday night to give Howard County citizens every chance to pay their tax.

Mrs. Viola Robinson, tax assessor-collector, said this morning that the office would stay open Saturday until 5 p.m. and Tuesday until midnight. Regularly the office is closed at noon on Saturdays and at 5 p.m. on week days.

Through today at noon, only 6,968 registration had been recorded from both poll tax receipts and exemptions. The exemptions totaled 1,251 and the paid receipts reach 5,717.

In 1952—the last presidental election year—on Jan. 26, a total of 7,647 citizens had registered to vote. That is 679 more than have signed this year.

Tuesday (Jan. 31) is the final day for paying the poll tax or applying for an exemption certificate.

Two Enter Pleas In Assault Case

Aggravated assault charges brought two men into County Court this morning, and the two entered opposite pleas.

Both were charged with assaulting Fred Cook Stone Wednesday. Pleading guilty to the charge was E. E. Simpson. Simpson said he hit Stone with a wine bottle.

The court fined him $24.

Also charged with assault on Stone was James Robinson. He pleaded not guilty and the court set his bond, pending jury hearings, at $500.

City officials had entered the complaint.

Boy On Probation For Meter Damage

Six months probation was the penalty given this morning to one 15-year-old Big Spring youth caught Wednesday night kicking parking meters.

The boy was brought before the Juvenile Court this morning and given the probated sentence. If at any time during the probationary period the lad is involved in any trouble the court can send him to the State Boys School at Gatesville.

City policemen picked the boy up Wednesday night in the vacinity of the State theatre while he was kicking the meters.

The city reported they have had numerous calls within the past months of people damaging the meters. Under the city statutes, damaging parking meters calls for a $25 fine plus the cost of repairing the meter.

Mrs. W. R. Settles Condition Improves

Condition of Mrs. W. R. Settles, hospitalized with an acute chest ailment, is considered better today.

Officials at Big Spring Hospital said this morning they were able to remove Mrs. Settles from the oxygen tent this morning, thanks to her stronger condition.

CADILLAC BADLY MAULED IN CRASH WITH TRUCK
Intersection wreck sent eight Sweetwater residents to hospital

Little Progress In MOD Drive

The March of Dimes campaign is falling behind. A report this morning showed $3,153.17 had been collected toward the goal of $12,000. However, some of the money that has been collected has not been brought in.

The T&P Ladies Council collected $157 Wednesday at a coffee. The ABC service club is planning a sidewalk solicitation Saturday. Appeals are also being broadcast nightly on television.

Mrs. George B. Bass is assisting in the solicitation at theatres. Boy Scout Troop Five solicited patrons of the Jet Drive-in Wednesday and Troop Six will be in the theatre tonight. Troop Two will be at the Terrace Saturday and Troop 136 will solicit the Terrace Sunday. Solicitation is also scheduled for the Ritz Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Garden City is also participating in the drive. Mrs. Lorin McDowell and Mrs. Dick Mitchell are handlin the campaign there.

4-H Club To Meet Tonight

Meeting tonight in the county court room will be the county-wide 4-H Club organization.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. under the direction of James Taylor, county agent.

Included on the program will be discussion of plans for coming livestock shows. The meeting is for both members and their parents.

4TH, BIRDWELL

Nine Injured In Car-Truck Crash

Eight Sweetwater people were hurt, seven of them seriously, when their car and a truck collided at Fourth and Birdwell Wednesday afternoon.

All were reported apparently improving at the Big Spring Hospital today, although at least three were still in a critical condition.

Most seriously injured were Wanda Cowan, 7, who suffered a skull fracture, concussion and partial paralysis; David Leon Smith, 13, chest injuries and fractures of his collar bone and ribs; and Mrs. Annie J. Blackner, who received severe lacerations on her head and arm. All three were in a state of shock.

Others hurt were Mrs. Veda Cowan, driver of the car, who suffered shock; Ross Clayton, 50, bruises and shock; Rita Cowan, 3, bruises, cuts and shock; Ronald Cowan, 5, fractured collar bone, bruises and shock; and Tommy Joe Smith, 10, bruises.

Henry Clay Payne, 208 Mesquite, Big Spring, possibly suffered back injuries but he was not hospitalized. He was driver of the truck.

Police Chief C. L. Rogers said the Cadillac driven by Mrs. Cowan was going south on Birdwell Lane and the truck was heading east on Fourth Street (U. S. 80) The vehicles collided in the intersection with the front of the truck crushing the right side of the automobile.

Most of the car's passengers were thrown out of the vehicle by the impact. Mrs. Blacknr was found under the front fender of the automobile, her legs resting on the side of the engine.

Ambulances from both River and Nalley-Pickle Funeral Homes carried the injured to the hospital. Sheriff's officers, Highway Patrol and city police participated in the investigation. Firemen stood by in event of fire in the gasoline transport.

Three Big Springers At Legion Meeting

Three Big Spring members of American Legion Post 355 attended a meeting in Plainview Wednesday night and heard J. Addington Wagoner, national commander, speak.

The three attending were Bill Kitts, Jack Pearson, and Lloyd Nichols. Approximately 225 Legionnaires from West Texas were in attendance at the meeting.

Wagner, from Battle Creek, Mich., is making his annual trip through the state and was also a speaker at the Austin convention held last week.

Baptists Plan Regional Meet

One hundred and 19 Baptist churches in West Texas will plan their cooperative work for 1956 on Feb. 7, at a regional meeting of District No. 8 pastors and laymen in the Second Baptist Church at Odessa.

The messengers will elect officers for the coming year, hear reports from various organizations, adopt a district budget, appoint committees and vote on resolutions.

Theme of the meeting will be "Christian Morality." Presiding will be the Rev. Cecil C. Rhodes, pastor of the West Side Baptist Church at Big Spring, and the Rev. J. B. Dolan, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church in Odessa.

Main speaker for the sessions, lasting from 9:30 a.m. through 9 p.m. Tuesday, will be Dr. L. L. Morriss, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Midland.

Various phases of the churches' work to be discussed include Sunday schools, training unions, childrens' homes, Christian education, evangelism, women's work and men's work.

Among the others who will speak, lead conferences or participate in some other phase of the meeting is Billy D. Rudd, director of music and education at the East Fourth Street Church in Big Spring.

Lamesan First President Of Peace Justices' Group

Justices of the peace from throughout West Texas, meeting here to form a state-wide association, today named James. R. Edwards of Lamesa as their first president.

Edwards said the regional meeting was called for the purpose of forming an association of peace justices. He said it is hoped the organization can be made statewide at a subsequent meeting.

Officers of the organization in addition to Edwards are Mrs. Bonita Potter of Amarillo, vice president; J. B. Holberg of San Angelo, secretary; and Leonard S. Teston of Sweetwater, treasurer.

Directors and other leaders were to be selected during the day. Also up for consideration was a proposal for calling a state convention in Big Spring sometime this year.

More than a score of peace justices were present for the initial session in the courtroom of Walter Grice, Big Spring. Grice and Justice A.M. Sullivan of Big Spring were hosts to the meeting.

Edwards said the group also will study means of making fines levied for traffic violations and other misdemeanor crimes more uniform throughout the state. Corporation (city) judges may be invited to join the association, he reported.

Officials were present this morning from Colorado City, Lamesa, San Angelo, Sterling City, Amarillo, Garden City, Plainview, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Haskell, and other points.

Greene, Rainwater At Industrial Meet

J. H. Greene, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and Champ Rainwater, a director, were in Abilene this morning attending the third annual West Texas Industrial Development Conference. Greene is to participate in a panel discussion on the problems of locally-developed industry.

The conference, sponsored by the Industrial Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will include four speakers, the panel, and two group discussions.

In the opening address, Fred H. Husbands, executive vice president and general manager of the WTCC, discussed "The General Outlook" for West Texas industrial development.

Dr. Lawrence J. Tidrick, chairman of the department of industrial economics of the Southwest Research Institute in San Antonio, was to follow with an address on "West Texas Resources and Opportunities."

"Subsidies, Boon or Boomerang?" will be the subject to be presented by Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

The story of the rapid increase in purchases by Sears, Roebuck and Company of consumer goods manufactured in the Southwest will then be told by Davis McMahon of Dallas, in charge of Sears' General Merchandise Office there.

The entire afternoon will be devoted to two group discussions which will be conducted simultaneously for cities of 25,000 and under population and for larger cities.

C. T. Griffin, Borden Rancher, Dies Of Attack

Carl Thomas Griffin, 55, well-known rancher in southeastern Borden County, died of heart attack here Wednesday afternoon while enroute to a hospital.

He was waiting at the Shroyer Motor Company while some work was being done on his car. When he became suddenly ill, attendants at once put him in a car and started to the hospital, but en route he slumped over and was pronounced dead on arrival. Justice of Peace Walter Grice said that death was due to heart attack.

Mr. Griffin was born March 14, 1900, in Indian Territory (Oklahoma and came to Borden County 24 years ago from Fort Worth. Prior to that the family had lived near Olney. He worked with his father, Thomas L. Griffin, in the operation of the ranch on which the Hobo oil pool, a south stepout to the Reinecke pool, was discovered few years ago.

Services will be held at the Nalley-Pickle Chapel at 4 p.m. Thursday with the Rev. William Boyd, rector of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church, officiating. Final rites will be said at the First Baptist Church in Olney at 3 p.m. Friday, and burial will be in the cemetery there under direction of the Lemn Funeral Home.

Mr. Griffin is survived by his wife, Mrs. Edwina Griffin, Big Spring; his father, T. L. Griffin, who himself is seriously ill, and his step-mother, Big Spring; a half sister, Mrs. A. C. Collins, Electra; a nephew, T. L. Griffin II, Ira.

Pallbearers will be Jim Hodnett, Roy Reeder, Terrell Shafer, Homer McKinley, Lloyd Branon, and Lloyd Hodnett.

YMCA To Extend Tributes To Good

The Big Spring Young Men's Christian Association and other friends pay their respects this evening to a man who has just retired from a lifetime of service to the youth movement.

He is Grover C. Good, former general secretary of the Big Spring YMCA. He will be specially honored at the annual banquet of the association at 7:30 o'clock at the Cosden Country Club.

One of those whom he helped "bring up" in the Y, Dr. Willis Tate, president of Southern Methodist University, will be the speaker of the evening. There also will be tributes from Dan Pitt, Plainview, area youth activities director; Herb Willborn, Amarillo, Southwest council leader and a vice president of the national YMCA Council; and Grady Spruce, Dallas, with whom Mr. Good was closely associated when Spruce was state boys work director. There also will be brief respects from representatives of youth groups which Mr. Good brought into such prominence here.

Mr. Good started out to be a school teacher, but he was inclined to youth work. He worked with Boy Scouts and when he found in YMCA a movement which offered strong religious emphasis, he accepted a surprise offer to enter the work professionally. He became state director for older boys work and also served many of the larger associations of the state. When he

GROVER GOOD

"retired" the first time from the Houston YMCA, he eventually was persuaded to come to Big Spring. For the past two or three years he had wanted to leave his post but would not until he felt a good successor had been named. When Bobo Hardy, in a measure another of Mr. Good's "boys," was selected, Mr. Good then made plans to leave Jan. 1, 1956. He has come back, however, for this special tribute to his fruitful career.

MAHON SAYS

Cotton Prop Plan Would Cost Area

A plan now being considered by the Senate Agriculture Committee and meeting opposition from Rep. George Mahon—would, if passed, cost cotton farmers of Howard County over half a million dollars next year.

Mahon recently testified before the committee that the plan to base cotton price supports on one-inch staple cotton would bring "widespread dissatisfaction and heavy losses to cotton farmers."

He sharply attacked two plans which have been incorporated in a suggested bill being considered by the committee.

One of the proposals would make one-inch staple cotton the basis for price supports, and the other would provide for 90 per cent of parity on one-inch staple cotton and a lower support on cotton of less than one-inch staple.

Regarding the proposal, if the support price in 1955 had been based on one-inch staple instead of ⅞ths as provided by the present law, it would have reduced the price of cotton by 2.85 cents per pound, by $14.25 per bale and would have meant a loss to Howared County farmers of $399,000 on the 28,000 bales produced here this past season, Mahon claims.

"The reduction of the price of cotton under the program in 1956 would be 3.46 cents per pound—that is if the support level is changed from ⅞-inch to one-inch," Mahon said. This would mean a loss of $684,400 this year if the same amount of cotton was produced here as in 1955.

Mahon declared that adoption of the two proposals would reduce the income of the cotton farmer far in excess of $200 million per year across the nation. The Senate committee will continue its study of the farm situation before presenting a bill to the full Seante for action.

Prison Term Is Probated

A two-year penitentiary sentence, to be probated, was assessed in 118th District Court this morning against Mrs. Ann Steck of Big Spring.

Mrs. Steck pleaded guilty to forgery charges.

District Attorney Guilford Jones recommended probation of the sentence after he took the stand to testify that Mrs. Steck has turned over to his office money sufficient "to cover all outstanding bogus and forged checks" that have been discovered.

Mrs. Steck was charged with forging a check for $18.99 and passing the instrument to the Newsom Food Center on Dec. 21, 1955. Name of Mrs. C. B. Smith was signed to the check, it was alleged.

Three other persons planned to enter guilty pleas to felony charges during the day.

Flynn Said Behind On Child Support

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The attorney for one of Errol Flynn's ex-wives says he will seek to have the screen star jailed if he "doesn't pay the $2,500 he owes."

Charged with being $3,500 behind in child support payments to his two daughters by Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes, the actor had been due to appear in Santa Monica Superior Court tomorrow.

Election Called

SWEETWATER (AP) — A $95,000 bond election to enlarge the Sweetwater hospital was called yesterday by the Nolan County Commissioners' court for Feb. 18.

DWI Is Alleged For Second Time

A man who pleaded guilty to drunken driving charges on Jan. 16 has been charged with DWI a second time on Jan. 24.

The felony complaint was filed in Justice Court against Weldon Stark. He was assessed a $50 fine and three-day jail term on the misdemeanor conviction.

Liquor Control Board Has Busy December

The Liquor Control Board here turned in another busy month in December. There were 28 cases filed and 20 convictions.

Only one case was dismissed. Fines for the month totaled $24,355. There were also seven noncriminal cases. The local office covers 30 counties in West Texas.

Odessan Nominated

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower nominated Charles Fair of Odessa, Tex., yesterday to replace Postmaster W. T. Henderson, retired.

Office Manager Testifies Funds Given To Shoemake

AUSTIN (AP)—An office manager of U.S. Trust and Guaranty told Senate probers today he followed A. B. Shoemake's orders in handing over to him large cash sums of company funds but that he did not know what Shoemake did with the money.

R. A. Green, former manager of the Austin branch, denied he had ever given any money to any state official or employe and knew nothing of U.S. Trust's legislative activities.

The senators resumed their session—hearing for the first time from employes of the defunct firm—as the Insurance Commission told of closing another insurance company nine days ago without notice to the press.

The latest casualty was the Texas Union County Mutual Insurance Co. of San Antonio.

Green, a tanned, greying man who said he and members of his family had invested personally in U.S. Trust interest bearing drafts, said he thought the company was solvent.

Under questioning by Chairman William Fly, Green identified photographed checks and drafts varying from $200 to $1,500, saying each time he wrote the checks to "cash" on orders of Shoemake, president of the defunct banking-insurance concern. Green said he had "no idea" what Shoemake did with the cash, and that he asked no questions.

"If he had said $500,000, I would have written it," Green testified, saying he never questioned Shoemake's orders.

"He was boss," Green added.

Asked what he did for a living now, Green replied that he has been idle since Dec. 15 "and the weather hasn't been good enough to go fishing."

Green said his job had been to handle production, such as sales of U.S. Trust drafts, and insurance.

Green said he put $2,400 of his own money into U.S. Trust, that his wife put in $470, his sister $4,000, his son $1,050 and his wife's father $3,500.

The U.S. Trust employe was questioned as the committee sought to find out who ultimately got the cash on numerous unexplained mystery drafts cashed here and charged without full explanation in the records to Shoemake.

Kefauver Lashes Dulles Statement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower tells Congress today what he thinks it should do to improve the nation's health.

There were advance indications his special message would play down his suggestion of previous years for federal reinsurance of private health insurance plans in favor of permitting private companies to share excess risks among themselves.

Such a pooling plan, which has been studied by Secretary of Welfare Folsom, might require an exemption from federal antitrust laws.

Eisenhower said in his economic message Tuesday that private companies should be encouraged to expand their activities both to include catastrophic illnesses and to cover persons not now reached by group plans.

"Permissive legislation for private pooling of risks or federal reinsurance my be needed for this purpose," he said.

The American Medical Assn. opposed the federal reinsurance plan which Eisenhower recommended both in 1954 and in 1955. It contended the plan might constitute an opening wedge to socialized medicine. It has supported voluntary health plans, and might be expected to support the pooling idea.

Previous messages this year have indicated that Eisenhower would suggest also federal insurance of private loans for improving health facilities, federal grants to help construction of private research laboratories, more money for Public Health Service research, and extension of the federal polio inoculation program.

Students Get Report Cards

Report cards went out Wednesday, and Roy Worley, High School principal, thought some parents would like to know it.

The overwhelming majority of pupils bring their report cards back promptly and properly acknowledged by parents, he said. There are some few, however, who forget to mention the fact that they received their reports for the first semester — and that they received a card for each subject.

He urged parents to inspect closely the semester grades as they sign the cards.

Tropical Fish To Be Given Patients

An aquarium of tropical fish will be presented to the patients of the Big Spring State Hospital here at 11 a.m. Friday.

Members of the Eagles auxiliary at Odessa have made the gift possible and will be on hand to make a formal presentation to Dr. Roy C. Sloan, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital.

Doctor Visits Engineer

Dr. Marcus Crahan, Los Angeles county jail physician, visits Frank B. Parrish, 61, engineer of the Santa Fe train which derailed in Los Angeles Sunday night with a loss of 29 lives. Parrish, who is still confined to the hospital, was found sane during a psychiatric examination by Dr. Crahan.

SETTLEMENT SEEN

Trust Busters Go After RCA Next

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pretrial settlements freeing patents of two corporate giants in electronics left pending today only one government antitrust case in the field.

This case, involving Radio Corp. of America, is currently on the trial calendar of the Federal District Court in New York City.

RCA attorneys were reported to have been in Washington recently for conferences at the Justice Department, and a trip to New York City late yesterday by Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes led to speculation that negotiations for a settlement of this litigation also might be in progress.

The second antitrust patent settlement in as many days was announced late yesterday by Atty. Gen. Brownell in the case of International Business Machines Corp. (IBM). The first, announced Tuesday, involved American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and its affiliate Western Electric Co.

The attorney general said a consent judgment, entered in the New York federal court, will require IBM to make all its present patents, and those obtained in the next five years, available to anyone wanting to use them for manufacturing in the United States.

Patents relating to tabulating cards and card-making machinery will be on a royalty-free basis. Those covering tabulating and electronic data processing machines—sometimes called "electronic brains"—must be supplied to all applicants, along with IBM know-how, at reasonable royalties.

In New York, Thomas J. Watson Jr., who heads IBM called some of the terms accepted by his company "severe." He said IBM's consent "is not an admission of any violation of the antitrust laws, which we continue emphatically to deny having violated."

In addition to the patent freeing, the IBM decree also requires that company to offer for sale its tabulating machines, now restricted to rental use, and to continue to service machines so sold.

The company agreed also to sell its unique high-speed card-making presses to competitors.

The original monopoly action against IBM, filed in 1952, asserted the company then had 90 per cent of the tabulating machine business in the United States.

Knowland Ready To Cast His Hat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland was reported ready today to risk his conditional bid for the Republican presidential nomination on his showing in five primaries.

They are the ones in Illinois, Alaska, Florida, Maryland and his home state of California.

Knowland, Senate GOP leader, has made it clear he will seek the nomination if Presidnt Eisenhower does not run.

He will visit New Hampshire this weekend, but apparently prefers to stay clear of that state's March 13 primary unless he finds a situation in which he feels he cannot tactfully disavow delegate candidates entered in his name.

The Knowland strategists are not overlooking state conventions, which will select delegates representing 758 of the 1,323 national nominating votes. But they apparently have concluded the senator's conditional candidacy will get nowhere unless he demonstrates strength in the primaries.

The strategists seemingly are content to have Knowland in Illinois, where he was entered without his consent but also without his objection. Eisenhower is entered under the same conditions.

Florida and Maryland apparently have been picked by Knowland's associates in an effort to spread the primary tests geographically and to space them out between the April 10 voting in Illinois and the June 5 primary in California.

Lamesa C-C Group At Industrial Meet

LAMESA — Industrial committee of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce left Wednesday afternoon to participate in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce third annual industrial conference at Abilene.

Heading the group was Leonard Scott, chairman. Others in the group were Howard Maddox, Hal Fees, C. W. Tarter and Chamber Manager Dewayne Davis.

Terrorists Appear Again In Tunisia

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Isolated rebel bands and grenade-hurling terrorists have begun to reappear in Tunisia after 18 months of faltering progress toward self-government.

Most of the outbreaks, which began two weeks ago, have been small. But they underline the political and economic difficulties of the French North African protectorate.

Nationalist violence all but ceased after Pierre Mendes-France, while France's Premier, made his dramatic flight here in July 1954 to offer Tunisians a large measure of autonomy.

Habib Bourguiba, popular leader of the nationalist Neo-Destour party, returned from exile to a tumultous welcome. Moderate Nationalist Tahar Ben Amar was named Premier, and the two men began negotiating with the French and working at home to improve Tunisia's lot.

Mendes-France's regime toppled before he was able to attain his goal. But his successor Edgar Faure carried through to parliamentary approval of a program of partial home rule last August.

The new setup gave Tunisians considerable control over their home affairs, but the French continue to direct defense and foreign relations.

Friction arose when Bourguiba's once-close friend in the Neo-Destour, Salah Ben Youssef, refused to go along with anything less than full independence. Ben Youssef began denouncing the agreements with France.

Bourguiba, who said only recently "embassies in Pakistan or Indonesia" would be only a facade for his poor country, voiced satisfaction with the agreements as a major step toward independence.

Thus far, Bourguiba and his moderates appear to be winning over the extremists. But in its year and a half of life, the new government has only begun to deal with the poverty and unemployment besetting too many of Tunisia's 3½ million people.

More Surgery Due Crippled Polio Victim

VENTURA, Calif (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Frankie Eugene Drury is looking forward to four more surgical operations which, doctors tell him, will convert him from a hobbler to a runner.

Four years ago polio left Frankie's back hunched and one leg longer than the other. He could stand erect only with help.

Last week Dr. Bryce B. Blue of Ventura and Dr. W. Sterling Clark of Ojai performed the first of five operations on Frankie in Ventura County General Hospital.

It consisted of planting pieces of bone from a Los Angeles bone bank in Frankie's spine vertebrae. The transplanted bone is expected to fuse with his back bones and partially correct the spinal curvature. A second similar operation is expected to complete the correction.

A third operation will arrest the growth of the unaffected leg to give the stunted leg time to catch up with it. Then will follow two more operations to correct his twisted feet.

Frankie, who lives alone with his mother, will have to spend most of the next year in the hospital. But he is happy about it.

"I just want to be like other boys," he said. "Maybe I'll even become a boxer, who knows!"

The Texas Employment Commission men don't use a crystal ball, but when it comes to guessing how much cotton will be raised the next year, their estimate is a lot closer than anyone else's.

Last January Leon Kinney and Bill Williams predicted Martin and Howard counties would produce 69,000 bales. The final production figures are not yet in, but Kinney says their prediction will be within 50 or 60 bales of the actual number ginned.

They are now working on the 1956 estimate, but don't have the figures totalled yet. This estimate is necessary in order to determine the number of Mexican Nationals needed for harvesting next fall.

Farmers west of Stanton are busy putting down a heavy application of water, hoping some of it will still be in the ground next spring. Owen Kelly said he was leaving his sprinklers on a 12-hour setting to wet the soil as deeply as possible.

"If we can have a good underground season when planting time comes," he said, "maybe we won't need to be in such a rush next summer."

The 1517C Acala cotton that made Martin County one of the biggest producers of long staple cotton on the Plains, may soon be as forgotton as gooseneck maize. Most irrigation farmers are already buying the new blight resistant seed of 1517BR.

The Basin Growers Association at Stanton has already contracted 175,000 pounds of the seed. The Tarzan Marketing Association has been selling the seed in that area. The price runs about $13.50 per hundred. Floyd Smith at Basin Growers said he believed there would be plenty of seed for everyone.

Earl Madding has made quite a record in his year and a half as a vocational agriculture teacher. His first job was at Courtney, but he lost it last spring when Courtney decided to transfer their high school pupils to Stanton. Madding moved on to the Flower Grove position, where he has been working since last fall.

Last Saturday at Stanton his boys made almost a complete sweep of honors with their lambs. They won the first four places in the lightweight division, and took down first, second, fourth and fifth with heavyweight lambs. In addition, Vernon Holcombe of Flower Grove won the showmanship award.

The club also won first place in senior chapter conducting at the district FFA contest, and came off with fourth place in the area contest.

They don't enter many shows but have won a big share of the prizes where they did compete. They had some prize winning capons, but sold them earlier in the year. At present they have 18 lambs and 15 pigs on feed. They plan to enter the Lamesa and Lubbock shows later in the winter.

President of the Flower Grove FFA Chapter is Jerry Caughman.

Farmers in this area will probably raise a fair-sized maize crop another year, says E. T. Tucker, local grain dealer.

Not many people made money with grain this last year, but Tucker says most of them made a little profit. That will beat leaving the land idle.

He says practically all the farm grain has been sold, except what farmers and ranchers are keeping for livestock.

Thre hasn't been a rush for conservation payments according to Gab Hammack, local manager of the ASC. A little deep plowing is in progress and a few farmers are building terraces, but that's about all.

* * *

H. E. Tubb, who farms the cropland on the Wilkerson Ranch, says they have a little deep moisture left but none on top. Tubb was in the path of good rains last summer and made better than an average crop. His 900 acres produced 450 bales of cotton.

The last few bales, however, hardly paid the expense of growing and harvesting. He got 15 cents a pound for the last 10 bales he sold.

There is more to winning championships with calves than the average person thinks. J. C. Sale of Courtney, whose son Bobby has been winning the big ones for years, says getting a good calf to feed is not enough. A lot depends on how the calf is fed and the treatment it gets.

Sale also thinks the right kind of a nurse cow is important. He doesn't like Holsteins because the calf will develop too much stomach. Also the feed ratio should be a flexible thing. One calf may do well on a 15 per cent bran ration while another would be scoured by it.

They keep three separate feeding pens at the ranch and vary the rations according to the condition of the calves. He weans the calf at about 600 to 700 pounds, as too much milk doesn't give it the right finish. Another thing he finds out is that too much corn in the ration will make the calf lumpy and not of smooth finish.

Sale says if a boy intends to feed out several calves he should not try to get them all looking just alike, but should have both lightweights and heavyweights. This is especially true if the animals are to be entered in the big shows.

Bobby has also done well with hogs, but Sale says they don't know too much about feeding out hogs yet. One thing he has noticed at the big shows, however, is that the long hogs always win.

"If you want to win at these shows," he said, "go out and buy the longest pigs you can find. The short ones hardly ever win any prizes."

Whiteley Due Extension Post

AUSTIN — Johnnie B. Whiteley, assistant principal of Big Spring High School, will become industrial preparatory training specialist for the University of Texas Division of Extension on Feb. 1.

He will succeed Leland B. Luchsinger, who resigned to become Kilgore College adult education director.

The University position includes state advisorship of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of Texas, which has undergone tremendous growth during Luchsinger's service. Membership has increased more than 100 per cent, from 1,182 members in 1950-51 to 2,461 in 1955-56. The number of active chapters has risen from 54 in 1950-51 to 98 in 1955-56.

Whiteley is a graduate of East Texas State Teachers College and has a Master of Education degree from Texas A&M College. He also has studied at Lamar State College of Technology and LeTourneau Technical Institute of Texas and was in the Amarillo schools before going to Big Spring three years ago as Diversified Occupations Coordinator.

Heavy Rains Lash Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heavy rain from a new Pacific storm lashed wide areas of waterlogged California today. But booming mountain streams appeared to be receding after threatening farm areas in the southern part of the vast central valley with new floods.

Water surged through 40 to 50 downtown blocks of Visalia when Mill Creek, a tributary of the Kaweah, broke out of a conduit.

A Bible Thought For Today

Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. (St. John 6:22)

Recognizing Imperishable Work

Annual banquet of the YMCA, being held here this evening appropriately honors Mr. Grover C. Good, who has retired as general secretary of the Y after a lifetime of service to this Christian cause. Mr. Good has lived a long life—full of purpose and fruitful accomplishment.

The emoluments of such a calling are least of all material. The treasures that Grover Good has laid up all these years are sparkle in the lives of the young people he touched. It must be said to his glory that where he came in intimate contact with young people, he usually influenced them for positive, forceful living.

All over the country many key figures in YMCA work are Grover Good's "boys," among them the man second in command of the national council's operations. The roll call of secretaries in the Southwest would have a definite Grover Good flavor. Of course, there are countless other private individuals who have achieved singular distinction in their fields in some measure because of the guidance of this man.

Although he was never aware of it or had no direct bearing upon it, there doubtless are many YMCA buildings in Texas because of the influence he had upon the lives of individuals who in turn worked and gave to make visions a reality. Thus, you cannot precisely say that his work here is done, simply because he has retired, for it has continued elsewhere in the lives of others. What a deep sense of satisfaction it must give a man. It is a satisfying experience to be able to express a community's appreciation while he can still hear it.

New Leverage On Ezra Benson

The great depression of the 1930s had its prelude, if not its inception in the farms of the Midwest. Depressed farm prices and heavy mortgage burdens produced unrest that went to the brink of revolt. Mortgage foreclosures reached an impasse when farmers resolutely faced down the courts and refused to get off the land.

It was reminiscent of those squally times when 25 Midwest House members prepared for presentation to Secretary Benson this week a demand for a moratorium on farm mortgage payments and a stepped-up livestock buying program.

Rev. Hoeven (R-Ia), head of the arrangements committee for the conference with the secretary, said it was set up to "call attention to some economic realities." Rep. Jensen (R-Ia) stated it in tougher terms. Said he: "If it isn't a revolt, I don't know what else you would call it."

Some rather ominous words came from Rep. Hope (R-Kan), longtime farm leader in Congress. "The discontent today hasn't gone as far as in the 1930s—there's been no judge-hanging or mortgage foreclosures — but it's going that way," said Hope, adding that farmers are "more stirred up than at any time since the 1930s."

The Republican group pointed out that Benson has at his disposal $100 million to step up his pork purchases — he has paid out $38 million of an $85 million fund in the current program — and a similar amount for beef purchases, both of which go into school lunches and to penal and other eligible agencies. That group urged that he go the limit with pork, and to a "reasonable" extent with beef.

If anybody can put the pressure on Benson, this is the group that can. From all reports Republican fortunes in the Midwest are at the lowest ebb in years.

U.S. Must Show Willingness To Fight

WASHINGTON — If, as now indicated, there's to be a political debate in the Senate on foreign policy and the "brink of war" doctrine, the Democrats might well reread a most interesting speech that Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for the presidency, made in Chicago on September 29, 1952. Here is what he said:

"We all know that when the Communists attacked across the thirty-eighth parallel that was the testing point for freedom throughout the world.

"The men in the Kremlin thought they would be unopposed, and, if they were, the whole question of the future could be settled in one blow. If they had been allowed to conquer free people in Korea, they could have picked away at the free world and engulfed millions, piece by piece, one by one.

"Sooner or later we would have had to fight and the later we made our stand the bigger and the harder the war would have been . . ."

Significantly, Mr. Stevenson concedes that the "men in the Kremlin thought they would be unopposed" if they attacked in Korea. But why did they think so? Why weren't they warned by the U. S. Department of State that, if they did attack, it would bring them to the "brink of war?"

The answer generally given is that Dean Atcheson, Secretary of State in the Truman administration, did the opposite. He revealed publicly in a speech on January 12, 1950, that Korea was not within "the defensive perimeter" of the United States which he defined as running from the Aleutian Islands to Japan to the Philippines. He excluded Korea when he said that if any attack occurred on any country outside the "defensive perimeter," the power of the United Nations would have to be invoked and he didn't think it had "proved a weak reed to lean upon by any people who are determined to protect their independence against outside aggression."

But Soviet Russia never though the U.N., or, specifically, the United States, would intervene and it so happened that only six months after that speech was delivered the Moscow government's delegation happened not to be present at the Security Council meeting in New York City to exercise a veto when the U. N., on the initiative of the United States, did order collective resistance to the aggression in Korea.

Hence the Soviet miscalculated twice—about America and the U. N. itself. Had the United States, however, enunciated a policy of deterrence such as Secretary of State Dulles has been espousing, namely to warn clearly in advance what will be done to repel aggression, it is conceivable that the Korean War might have been prevented altogether. The 140,000 American casualties might have been saved and also the millions of Korean, Red Chinese and European casualties, to say nothing of the ten billions or more spent by the people of the United States in the Korean War.

There is no misunderstanding of the Dulles policy by thoughtful observers in Europe. On January 17th last — in the midst of the furor over the "Life" article — the London "Daily Telegraph" was saying editorially about that article:

"No one can deny that in Korea and Indochina, the Communists were challenging Western interests and that over Formosa they were threatening to do so. If the deterrent policy is not a complete sham, it therefore stands to reason that the United States was, as Mr. Dulles affirmed, brought to the brink of war. In each case the possibility of the United States declaring war in China was a major factor affecting, if not determining, Chinese policy. To deny this or to attack Mr. Dulles for affirming it, is to weaken by implication the whole conception of the deterrent policy on which western security rests. . .

"But is it in substance so very different from the policy which Sir Winston Churchill was urging on the Chamberlain government in 1938 — except that Mr. Dulles has a real sabre to rattle whereas Chamberlain's scabbard was empty? . . .

"Since the Summit conference at Geneva, it has been fashionable to talk about war having been outlawed by common consent. This gives a profoundly misleading impression. What happened at Geneva was that both sides understood each other to have renounced ambitions which might lead to war. From renewed Russian toughness it is possible that Moscow is confusing these two impressions.

"No doubt China, whose conduct in recent months has been noticeably mild, needs little encouragement to follow suit. That is why the hysterical outburst against Mr. Dulles' reference to war is doubly dangerous. If it were to confirm Russia's happy confidence that Geneva had cleared away the great deterrent, or if it were to encourage China to start probing again, then our distaste for hearing Mr. Dulles mention the awful word now might make us face the reality of war later."

The "Daily Telegraph" points out further that "to allow these marginal complaints" about the "Life" article "to provoke us into denouncing the central burden of his (Dulles') argument — that peace has depended in the past, and still depends, on American willingness to flight —is to cut off England's nose to spite Mr. Dulles' face."

The idea may be paraphrased for American domestic politics this way: For Democrats to denounce the Dulles doctrine for captious reasons and to imply an unwillingness of the United States to fight when it becomes necessary, would be to cut off America's nose to spite a Republican secretary of state. It could push the United States over the brink into war.

Reading The President's Mind

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trying to read a president's mind — an old Washington pastime — has become a capital hobby in President Eisenhower's case, even when he's specific, as he was in saying he hasn't decided on running again.

It becomes more of a game, and with less purpose, when he's ambiguous, as he was yesterday on whether Chief Justice Earl Warren should run.

His statement will be interpreted as meaning (A) he closed the door on Warren as a presidential candidate, and (B) that he did no such thing.

Asked at his news conference if he thought it a bad thing for the chief justice to return to politics, he said the obvious: that in this kind of government there should be a separation of powers.

"We shouldn't get too great a confusion between politics and the Supreme Court," he said.

He cited his own example: "The second I was nominated by the Republican party, I resigned from the Army; but the day I left Europe (May 1952) I retired from the Army, and went without pay until nominated."

But Eisenhower did not retire from the Army until he began actively to campaign for the Republican nomination. If Warren began actively to campaign, he'd have to resign from the court too. Public opinion would compel that.

What Eisenhower didn't say was whether he thought it all right for Warren, while still on the court, to let Warren-for-president clubs be formed, let his name be entered in presidential primaries, and not contradict statements by his friends that he'd accept the nomination if the party wanted him.

That's what Eisenhower did while still in the Army and before he returned to this country in mid-1952 to campaign.

So, taking Eisenhower's statement of yesterday at face value, it might seem he was simply saying that if the candidacy of Warren reached such a point that he'd have to make speeches, he should get off the court.

Warren himself has said he wants no part of the presidency. He was far more emphatic about it than either Eisenhower or Adlai E. Stevenson in the days when they are saying they had no presidential ambitions.

U.S. Businessman Notes Changes In Red Shanghai

EDITOR'S NOTE—This story comes from a British writer who has been in Communist China on a two-month tour. It was mailed to Hong Kong.

By LOIS MITCHISON

SHANGHAI (AP)—The only American businessman at liberty in Red China is Charles S. Miner, formerly of Washington, D.C.

"When I'll be able to leave China is not in my hands. I can't make any prognostications myself," he told me.

Miner has been in China seven years.

He applied for his exit visa in November 1950 and as far as he knows, the application is still pending.

His wife is Chinese, and she also has applied for an exit permit.

The Miners live in Shanghai's most elegant and expensive block of private apartments, Grosvenor House.

Miner is acting as agent for what remains of six companies in Shanghai. They are the Metropolitan Land Co., an insurance company, a bank, two automobile companies and a newspaper, the Shanghai Evening Post.

"I have been trying to wind up the businesses, exchanging our property against our liabilities and paying as little additional money as possible," he said. "The difference between the Chinese government's assssment of our liabilities and the amount I have offered is $94,000."

"Shanghai," Miner said, "used to be the 'Paris of the East' but now it's like a village where they take in the sidewalks at 9 p.m."

He compared the city of seven years ago with Shanghai today.

"The whole thing is totally different. There's no similarity at all. If you go out to eat in the restaurants they close early.

"All the clubs are closed down.

"I don't know of anything that hasn't changed. Take the Chinese blue cotton uniforms . . . Everybody seems to wear the same thing here.

"The beggars have all gone too, and the thieves and pickpockets; Shanghai used to be full of them, but no more.

Let's All Laugh, Now

NEW YORK (AP)—Joke-making has become a major American industry.

It naturally has to act like every other industry and issue an annual report.

The National Laugh Foundation, preparing to celebrate National Laugh Week April 2 has just put out its report on 1955.

Here are (chuckle, chuckle) the subjects it says the nation's gagsmiths made you chuckle most last year:

The $64,000 question, Davy Crockett, the Yellow Rose of Texas, Love is a Many Splendored Thing, do it yourself, the overseas trips of Secretary Dulles, the Princess Margaret romance, automation, satellites and Liberace.

The report cites as typical 1955 witticisms:

A Texan bought his wife a Cadillac for a present. She turned to him and said, "Dope, what question did you miss?"

John Foster Dulles was seen recently in Washington on one of his visits to the U.S.A.

Automation is great. They've invented a thing which cleans the dishes, washes the floor and makes the bed. I've got the same thing—only I call it a wife.

Rumor has it that Queen Mother Mary, Queen Elizabeth and the entire royal family were ready to give their okay to the marriage between Princess Margaret and Group Peter Townsend—but Danny Kaye turned thumbs down.

And then there's the kid who was hit by a flying saucer—he wouldn't drink his milk.

(Anybody laughing? Somehow, looking back, 1955 didn't seem quite that dreary, did it?)

'Egypt Fever' Grips Hungary

VIENNA (AP) — Communist-ruled Hungary is gripped by "Egypt fever," complains the Budapest press. It seems nearly everybody wants to go to Egypt, perhaps seeing therein a chance of escaping the homeland.

This fever started several weeks ago when the Hungarian government announced it had contracted to build several bridges across the Nile and was sending a mission of engineers and technicians to carry out the project in Egypt.

"This news spread like wildfire," reports the newspaper Dunantuli Naplo. "The 'Egyptian fever" spread like a disease which broke out with symptoms of hasty planning and whispering propaganda.

"People dashed to their lawyers demanding a divorce because they had heard only unmarried men were being accepted for the Egyptian mission.

"It is almost as difficult as treating an epidemic to handle this problem."

Around The Rim

New Attack On Alcoholism

Quietly and with some rather surprising preliminary results, a professor down at the University of Texas is launching a new attack on the problem of alcoholism.

He is Dr. Roger Williams, who next year will be president of the American Chemical Society. Dr. Williams calls himself a "chemical anthropologist."

That means he has taken up the study of man from the chemical standpoint, and one of his investigations is in the field of what makes an alcoholic. Why do some drinkers become alcoholics while others do not?

He's working on the theory that alcoholism is a matter of nutrition or, rather, malnutrition. And some of his early tests have shown that he may be on the right track.

In Austin recently, I heard Dr. Williams speak at a meeting of the Central Texas Chapter of the ASC. His talk was pretty technical, but I picked up enough to pass some of it along in the form of generalities.

Dr. Williams won't approve, however, because he says the problem he's attacking isn't one of generalities. We've been thinking too long of "man-in-the-abstract," he says, and should be working and thinking in terms of individual variabilities and needs.

That set the stage for his remarks on alcoholism. He thinks that lack of certain nutritional elements (I forgot what he calls them) in a part of the brain may cause alcoholism.

He started his tests on rats and soon found that he could make heavy drinkers of some of them simply by varying the nutritional value of the foods they were served. Alcohol was always available in their cages, and consumption in some instances varied with the rats' diets. Some rats that at first wouldn't touch the strong drink became heavy imbibers as various nutrients were cut out of their food. And they quit drinking when the appropriate elements were restored.

Dr. Williams currently is testing his theory on human alcoholics, and in several cases has secured favorable results by increasing certain nutritional values to their diet.

He doesn't claim to have discovered a "cure" for alcoholism, or even that all alcoholics can be helped by adjustments in nutrition. But he has enough evidence to warrant the investigation he is pursuing.

The chemist thinks people are as different chemically as they are in other ways, and is plugging for expanded research in the biochemistry field. Some day, he says, a person's knowledge of his Vitamin A requirement may be as vital to his well-being as his shoe size or his blood type.

If Dr. Williams is on the right track, his studies some day may provide the human race with the answers to a lot of its problems.

California Scene Of Hot Political Fight

SAN FRANCISCO — Averill Harriman has just been here. Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver are on their way. For Democrats as for Republicans, this phenomenal state, which is growing at a rate faster than any other part of the country, seems likely to determine the future of the Presidential race next fall.

Stevenson could do only moderately well in the Florida and Minnesota primaries and still survive as the front runner. But if he should come to the climax of the California primary in June and be nosed out he would be through.

The competition for Stevenson, who takes the issues seriously and prefers to talk about them seriously, will be tough. California with its folksy informality is ready-made for Estes and the coonskin manner with which he handshakes and baby-kisses tirelessly and with a seeming effortlessness.

There is no evidence that Harriman has made any headway here. For one thing he is not sufficiently known. The name does not carry. Governor of New York, yes, but Californians in their swelling pride are likely to ask, where is New York? Moreover, when Harriman's political strategist and promoter, Tammany boss Carmine DeSapio, came out here last year to initiate the Harriman-for-President boom he stepped into a political booby trap that blew up in his face. Most of the Democratic organization leaders chose that moment to come out for Stevenson.

The Democrats are, in any event, under a severe handicap here because Californians, who like their drama big and gaudy, have in the Republican party right in their own state what Hollywood would modestly call a supercolossal epic.

There is, first of all, Vice President Richard Nixon. He is a product typical of the new and rapid growth of the West Coast. His chief strength is in Southern California where shrewd political managers are holding the lines for Nixon, conditional on President Eisenhower's decision as to his own political future. While he has been careful not to intrude his ambitions in this difficult waiting interval, Nixon is today the most-probable candidate for the Republican nomination.

His most-formidable rival is Senator William Knowland of California, Minority Leader of the Senate. In a remarkably short time Knowland has made himself leader of the conservative wing of the party and heir to the mantle of the late Senator Robert A. Taft. He is serious, determined, full of convictions that he airs frankly no matter how often he may be told that these are unpopular convictions.

His admirers speak of him in the same terms they once spoke of Bob Taft. They talk about his integrity and his honesty, the bluntness with which he puts aside any compromise or political fancy talk.

The third element of the California triangle is Governor Goodwin J. Knight, who is out for a delegation pledged to him as "favorite son." Knight is the hearty, old-fashioned political type. He has many of the qualities of former Governor Earl Warren. But they tend to be in Knight somewhat caricatured. Modesty never prevents him taking the applause no matter for whom it may have been intended.

In recent months Knight muted his public criticism of Nixon. But what he says in private is as passionate as ever. His distrust of the Vice President is so deep, his dislike so personal that it is difficult to see how it can ever be brought to any semblance of harmony. The possibility of a Knowland-Knight combine to control the delegation is in the air.

Finally, when Republicans are haunted by the thought that Ike may decide he should not run, they turn for solace to the dream that Warren will resign as Chief Justice of the United States to be their candidate. They conveniently forget, of course, that the party twice rejected him.

From here on out it will be a good show, as Democrats campaign for their primary contest and as Republicans wage a silent and unseen but nevertheless bloody and ferocious war. And it will all come to a climax in San Francisco's Cow Palace in August, with the nation watching California's great drama.

Hollywood Review

Rudy Vallee's Wonder House

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You haven't seen anything until you've seen Rudy Vallee's house.

The place makes Liberace's house — pinao-shaped pool and all — look puny by comparison. Come along for a tour.

You climb up, up, up into the Hollywood Hills, get a little lost, then find Pyramid Place, on which Rudy lives. You pass through an auto gate—"caution—This gate closes 20 seconds after you enter"—and climb to the top of the peak, stoping your car on a turntable as per instructions on a sign.

The master of the house is there to greet you, picturesquely dressed in knee-length yellow sox, walking shorts, yellow sport shirt and checked coat. He is smoking a long cigar and instructs you to follow him for the "40-cent tour."

The house was built by Ann Harding and Harry Bannister in 1930, then passed into other hands before Vallee bought it. Rudy added many features himself, including the door chimes that play his theme song "My Time Is Your Time."

He displays the living part of the house, which is ornate in the southern California tradition of the '20s and '30s. At the head of the stairs is a hidden passageway so small that Jackie Gleason couldn't get through it. This leads to a sun deck, where a hidden bed slides out at the press of a button.

He takes you into the large bedroom with seven-foot-square bed. Then you go down a long hallway, past his spacious office and outdoors.

He leads you down a steep path, past a sign saying only thoughtless people discard cigarette butts "Find and use ash trays." At one level is a large barbecue and swimming pool.

On the next level is a tennis court, championship size. Rudy leads you to a door under the court. Inside, you find yourself in a long hallway, about the length of two Pullman cars. On the walls are photographs, clippings and posters covering Vallee's long career.

Off this hall you find a large movie theater, a big bar complete with pool table and slot machines and another long lounge decorated with Christmas cards from celebrities over the years. Finally, on the level under the tennis court, is a vast catacomb-like place with files containing all of his old music arrangements, radio scripts and transcriptions, plus a liquor closet big enough to stock any commercial bar.

Later he spins you around on the turntable and you head back down the hill to reality.

Change In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The building whic housed Eva Peron's social aid foundation is to be used for college classrooms.

Education Minister Arturo Dell'Ore Maini announced the former Eva Peron Foundation headquarters in downtown Buenos Aires will be turned over to the science and architecture schools of Argentina's university system. He said present facilities for those schools are crowded.

Eva Peron, wife of Dictator Juan Peron, created the foundation to help the needy. This in turn had political advantages for her and her husband. Forced contributions fed the foundation. Eva Peron died July, 1952. Juan Peron was overthrown last September. The revolutionary government has taken over the foundation.

Sitting On Top Of The World

All is going well for Nancy Gates, a Texas girl — her career as an actress is on the upswing and she's a happy wife and mother. All this and beauty, too. She tells Lydia Lane how she keeps her hair and complexion lovely.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Changing Age Calls For A Change In Skin Care

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — "I love to eat and I have a cook who makes divine bread and apple pie that simply melts in your mouth," Nancy Gates told me the other afternoon at Allied Artists'.

"When I'm not busy with a picture, I find myself indulging. But as soon as I start working I stay away from starches and try to eat more protein. It is the carbohydrates that get us into trouble," she added.

Nancy has very successfully combined her role of wife and mother with a career.

"I enjoy my home and I also enjoy my career," she said on the set of "World Without End."

I remarked to Nancy that it must take a lot of energy to keep up the fast pace of her busy life.

"If you have no enthusiasm for something in your life," she told me, "it can easily become an unpleasant chore. However, I think it is possible to overcome a lack of enthusiasm by changing your attitude. You should try to keep in mind the results you will achieve more than the work involved."

When I first met Nancy she had very dark hair and I complimented her on her attractive new appearance as a blonde.

"I was being cast as an Indian girl so often," Nancy explained, "that I protested by bleaching my hair. But I did this gradually so my husband would get accustomed to the new me by easy stages. Cameramen tell me my blonde hair makes a more flattering frame for my face and I like it because I find dark colors are more becoming to me now than before."

I noticed that Nancy's complexion was very lovely and I mentioned this to her. "After we pass twenty-five, I don't think we should take our youth for granted," she told me. "I feel the time has come for me to revise my habits in caring for my skin. When I was in my teens I had an oily skin which I managed to keep under control with an astringent. I would carry a bottle in my purse and use it several times during the day. However, now that I am a little older, I find that my skin is quite dry.

"If you start caring for your skin before it is actually necessary," Nancy added, "your skin will keep the youthful look much longer. I once worked with a character actress who had an especially nice complexion. She told me that each morning she would rinse her face with cold water, splashing it under her skin and on her cheeks until her skin tingled. She thought that was a big help in stimulating circulation."

"But don't you find this drying?" I inquired.

"Yes," Nancy said, "but I gently massage a few drops of oil mixed with moisture into my skin immediately afterwards and that helps a lot."

Roberts-Boles Vows Repeated In Lamesa

LAMESA —Nelva June Roberts became the bride of Wayne Boles Monday night at the Ashmore Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Roberts of Welch and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Boles of Rt. Four, Lamesa.

The Rev. Joe Thompson read the single ring service before an arch covered with huckleberry entwined with white majestic daisies and white stock, and flanked with candelabra holding white tapers. On each side were pedestal baskets of white stock and white daisies.

Mrs. Elzie Oswald accompanied Russell Collins who sang "Indian Love Call" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original model of white imported French lace over net and satin. The portrait neckline was outlined with scalloped lace. The fitted lace bodice had long sleeves ending in points over the hands and terminating with a point at the center front waistline.

The waltz length skirt of tulle was fully shirred and encircled by a wide band of lace at the lower hipline. There was a deep ruffle of tulle at the bottom of the skirt. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of tulle embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls.

She carried a cascade arrangement of a white orchid and white rosebuds atop a white Bible.

Janie Franklin was maid of honor, and Wanda Gay McDaniel was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of blue brocaded satin. They carried white satin fans with crescent bouquets of yellow marguerite daisies.

Best man was Guy Dunbar and Bobby Warren was groomsman. Ushers were Joe Kenneth Roberts and Joe Carl Boles. Candles were lighted by Donna Boles.

The bride is a 1951 graduate of Dawson High School, and has attended West Texas State College and Draughon's Business College. She is now employed by the Lamesa National Farm Loan Association. The bridegroom is a graduate of Union High School and is now engaged in farming in the Union Community.

If Recipe Is Failure, Blame It On Machine!

By DOROTHY ROE

How, I ask you, can a woman accept praise for her cooking if it's done by an International Business Machine?

This automatic thing has gone far enough, I have decided, after taking a shocked look at the latest "Kitchen of Tomorrow" proudly unveiled by General Motors during its recent Motorama at the Waldorf.

The refrigerator with revolving shelves is all right. The ever-normal laundry hamper that washes and dries clothes all by itself is fine. So is the glass-domed rotisserie oven. The disappearing storage shelves I can take or leave, with no strong feelings. The supersonic dishwasher I can covet.

But when IBM takes over the creative business of cooking, I draw the line. This is how the new monster works, as explained at the preview.

Near the mixing center of the kitchen is an IBM recipe file, with 1,000 scientifically notched recipe cards. You select a recipe and slide the card into the machine and presto! The recipe, plus a picture of the finished dish, is projected on a lighted screen. Then a series of pushbuttons marked "flour," "sugar," "baking powder," "salt" and so on start lighting up, as mentioned in the recipe.

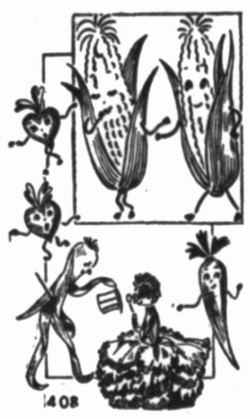

The emancipated cook then pushes the lighted buttons, and each dispenses exactly the amount of each ingredient called for in the recipe, dropping it neatly into a bowl ready for the electric mixer.

Now really! What would Grandmother say? Where is the fun and the spirit of adventure in cooking up an inspired dish, if it's all going to be done by robots?

Things have come to a pretty pass indeed when science takes over woman's greatest artistic outlet.

And you know who's to blame? We women. That's who.

We have all been so insatiable in our demands for more and yet more labor-saving devices, we have talked and dreamed so long of the age of push-button housekeeping, that we have just plain outsmarted ourselves.

St. Lawrence HD Has Talk On Space

A demonstration on better use of closet and drawer space was given by Mrs. Mildred Eiland when the St. Lawrence Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ervin Wooten.

Mrs. Eiland showed how you could paint cigar boxes and place them in drawers for gloves, handkerchiefs and scarfs. Smaller boxes could be used for bobby pins and smaller articles. She also exhibited metal partitions for dresser drawers.

The roll call was answered with "An Article I Would Recommend You to Read." A report was given on the profit the club made on the Christmas card sales. Devotion was by Mrs. Jo Holscher.

Refreshments were served to seven members. The next meeting will be Feb. 13 in the home of Mrs. Holscher.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Long have been visiting in Blackwell with his father, who is ill in a Bronte hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Stark have been called to Spur because of the illness of his mother.

Bobby Wise is a patient in Medical Arts Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Dub Day and Denny have moved from Big Spring to Forsan.

Sew, Chatter Club Honors Members

The Sew and Chatter Club, meeting in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Robinson Wednesday afternoon, honored the birthdays of Mrs. M. A. Cook and Mrs. Beulah James.

Sewing was the occupation of the afternoon. Birthday cake was served, and the honorees were presented with gifts. The next meeting will be Feb. 8, with the hostess to be announced later.

Community Missions Is Topic Of Program

The Horace Buddin Circle had a community mission program when they met Tuesday morning at the Baptist Tempie Church. They cleaned the church kitchen as a project.

Mrs. M. C. Griffin was appointed social chairman and Mrs. L. H. Sims was named head of the mission program.

Refreshments were served to five by Mrs. Robert Hill.

Not So Bad, Was It, Men?

With all the MOD coffees being given, the men of the town are sure to decide that it's not "sissy" to go to coffees. Especially did the men of the T&P Railway find this out at the coffee given Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Harry McDermott, by the women's groups of the railway organization.

Groups Have Coffees For March Of Dimes

Over 100 attended the March of Dimes coffee Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Harry McDermott when the women of the Texas and Pacific Railway organizations entertained.

Sponsoring the affair were the T&P Safety Council, the Trainmen Ladies, the Ladies Society of the BLF&E and the GIA of the BLE.

The receiving line was composed of Mrs. McDermott, Mrs. Arthur Pachall president of the Council; Mrs. Albert Smith, president of the Trainmen Ladies; Mrs. M. E. Anderson, president of the Ladies of the BLF&E, and Mrs. W. R. McGinnis, president of the GIA.

Mrs. Sam Barbee, Mrs. R. F. Fallon and Mrs. J. C. Cravens alternated at the register. Serving was done by Mrs. J. H. Webb, Mrs. A. J. Conrad, Mrs. J. A. Wright and Mrs. R. H. Blassingame.

Arrangements for the coffee were in charge of Mrs. C. L. Richardson and Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, with Mrs. D. D. Dyer as another member of the house party.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and decorated with an arrangement of red carnations. Red napkins were used to complete the theme. Silver appointments were used in serving.

Johnny Williams of Dallas, superintendent of safety, was a guest at the coffee.

The guest list included about 50 for the March of Dimes coffee given this morning at the home of Mrs. Neil Norred. The hostess organization for the affair was the Jaycee-ettes.

Mrs. Harry Weeg Jr. is president of the group. Assisting in the receiving were Mrs. Melvin Choate, Mrs. Commodore Ryan, Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, Mrs. H. P. Wooten and Mrs. Charles Girdner, while the other members of the house party alternated at the register and the refreshment table. This was laid with a green linen cloth, lace-trimmed, and featured the coin containers used for the March of Dimes collections. Copper appointments were used in serving.

Mrs. Kuykendall Initiated Into BPODoes This Week

Mrs. M. T. Kuykendall was initiated into the BPODoes Wednesday evening at a meeting in the Elks Lodge rooms. Mrs. C. R. Piper was voted into the organization as a new member.

Members voted to contribute $10 to the March of Dimes. Committee chairmen for the coming year were appointed.

Mrs. Commodore Ryan Jr. will serve as head of the ways and means committee; Mrs. Joe Bunch will arrange the entertainment for the group. The benevolence committee will be led by Mrs. Phillip Prager, and the courtesy committee chairman is Mrs. S. V. Jordan.

Mrs. Jo Clark will head the relief committee; the lapsation committee will be in charge of Mrs. Glen Gale, and Mrs. Hugh Nixon will be membership chairman.

Seventeen members were present for the meeting.

Forsan 4-H Groups Have Joint Session

FORSAN — County agent, J. P. Taylor, was the speaker for the 4-H groups when they met at the school Monday evening. Plans were discussed for members who are to attend stock shows.

Recreation was directed by Lorite Overton, and a sing-song was led by Mary Lou McElrath. Elizabeth Pace, county agent, demonstrated correct table settings for the girls' group; the boys took up the study of native grasses with Bill Sims as instructor.

The next meeting was announced for 7:30 p.m., Feb. 27, at the school. Refreshments were served to 25 members and 14 adult guests.

TOLD 2 MEN

Fairris Confessed Before Execution

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Hurbie Fairris Jr., 22, Dallas hoodlum executed last week for slaying an Oklahoma Cty detective, privately admitted to two persons shortly before he died that he killed the officer.

Fairris had maintained to the end, except for the private confessions, that he did not fire the shot which killed detective Bennie Cravatt in a robbery July 16, 1954.

Fairris confessed to Paul Smith, Fort Worth funeral home director and asked him to make the oral statement public after his death.

Less than an hour before he died in the electric chair, Fairris told Howard Cowan, editor of the McAlester News-Capital, he had made a statement to Smith.

Smith confirmed the conversation but declined to make it public, saying the family might object. He related Fairris' confession to the Rev. Harold Morgan, Oklahoma City clergyman who spent the final hour with the doomed man.

Smith said he did not believe the confession was true and that he had said so to Fairris.

The condemned man then summoned Smith, the Rev. Morgan and Father Don Kanaly, a Catholic priest, to his cell, a few feet from the chair.

"I want you to know that what I've told him," he said, nodding toward Smith, "is the truth."

Dan Vinson of Oklahoma City, who has done welfare and rehabilitation work at the prison, said Fairris admitted to him, a few hours before the execution, that he fired the fatal shot.

Fairris, Raymond Price and James Skinner were charged with murder in the case. Price and Skinner are serving life.

Ex-Con To Die For Rape-Slaying

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ex-convict Arthur Ross Brown will be executed in the Missouri gas chamber Feb. 24 for kidnaping Mrs. Wilma Allen.

By his own admission he robbed, raped and murdered the pretty, 34-year-old housewife last Aug. 4 as she pleaded tearfully to return to her wealthy husband and their two young sons.

U.S. Dist. Judge Charles E. Whitaker fixed the execution date yesterday after death was recommended by a jury. Brown had pleaded guilty to a federal kidnaping charge. A state charge of murder is pending neighboring Kansas, but it's a moot case now.

The jury took only 35 minutes to recommend the death penalty for what the defense conceded was a "completely illogical, unreasonable" crime. Foreman Roy C. Anthony said: "We agreed not to have any discussion until after the first ballot was taken. . . . There was only one ballot."

Brown, a 30-year-old blond with a criminal record dating back to 1942, escaped the original manhunt for Mrs. Allen's slayer. He was arrested in San Francisco in November after an abortive attempt here to kidnap his wife. Though arrested in connection with that attempt, he quickly blurted out a confession to the kidnap slaying of Mrs. Allen.

Brown's initial motive was robbery and his choice of Mrs. Allen as a victim was purely by chance, according to his statements read into the court record. He said he later decided to shoot her because he feared she would identify him. The robbery netted less than $50.

Mrs. Allen was the wife of a Kansas City automobile dealer. Brown forced his way into her car as she prepared to leave a South Side shopping center and made her drive to an isolated field in neighboring Johnson County, Kan., where he raped and shot her.

Truman Lauded Ike For First Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry S. Truman writes that he told Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1948 "I thought he was using good judgment" in deciding not to run for the presidency that year.

In the latest installment of his memoirs, published today in Life magazine, the former President says he asked Eisenhower point-blank about his plans, and:

"He told me that he had no intention of running for the office . . . I said that I did not think he could add anything to his splendid career and that the only thing he would accomplish by getting into politics would be to detract from his reputation."

Eisenhower, then Army chief of staff, had not at that time declared himself a Republican. Truman says some "professional liberals" among the Democrats were all for ditching Truman and running Eisenhower instead.

But the former President said he was determined to run himself to carry out "unfinished business" from his first administration.

As for Eisenhower, he quotes with approval this opinion which he attributes to House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex):

"No, won't do. Good man, but wrong business."

Truman also says in the new installment that probably the greatest "pressure and propaganda" to which he was subjected in the White House came from "a few of the extreme Zionist leaders" who made "political threats" against him in a campaign to win support for establishment of the new state of Israel.

"I know," Truman writes, "that most Americans of Jewish faith, while they hoped for the restoration of a Jewish homeland, are and always have been Americans first and foremost."

But some of the Zionist leaders, he says, needed "a peep at the golden rule."

Ultimately Truman granted swift diplomatic recognition to Israel.

Knowland Will Keep Open Mind On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today he will keep an "open mind" on specific long-range foreign aid projects President Eisenhower may propose but will fight any blanket commitment.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, thus left open the possibility of a compromise on the administration request for authority to make long-term commitments for development projects abroad.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said it is his understanding the administration may modify its request. But he said he didn't know what form this action will take.

George and Knowland have insisted that Congress must pass each year on over-all foreign aid policy as well as on the amount of money to be spent.

Eisenhower told a news conference yesterday there are certain projects in which "you have to give some pledge of going on to the end" if they are started. He said he is going to stick by his request for some long-range authority as long as there is a chance of its approval by Congress.

Knowland made it clear he is opposed to any new "Marshall Plan" commitment on ecomomic aid.

"With the budget just getting in balance we cannot get committed on a long-term economic aid program when we don't know what the demands will be on us," he said.

But he might be willing to make exceptions on specific projects, he said.

Pay Hikes Granted To Air Base Workers

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Pay raises were granted yesterday to nearly 15,000 civilian workers at three Air Force bases in Oklahoma.

The raises at Tinker, Vance and Ardmore, total more than 3 million dollars.

Poor Management In Veterans Land Program Is Charged

TYLER (AP)—Lack of good management and supervision in the veterans land loans have hurt Texas veterans as much as fraudulent block deals, state Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said last night.

"Not all the damage has been done by block, kickback and crooked deals," Rudder told the East Texas Bankers and Agricultural Conference.

"Many veterans have bought land at too high appraisals. When I took the appointment as commissioner, I found a serious lack of good management and supervision prevailed throughout the land office."

Nervous Gunman Slays Cop During Quiz On Narcotics

CHICAGO (AP)—While a jazz band blared loudly in a cocktail lounge last night, a nervous young gunman fired six shots at two narcotics detail detectives who were questioning him, killing one and wounding the other.

Scores of people in the lounge in a Northwest Side hotel apparently did not hear the shots. The youth fled unmolested.

He was one of several persons who had been questioned by the detectives, Lyons Kelleher, 53, and William A. Derrig, 38. They had gone to the lounge to make a routine check of reports that narcotics addicts frequented the place.

Kelleher, a veteran of 22 years on the force, was shot four times in the chest. He was dead on arrival at a nearby hospital. Derrig was shot in the right hand and left foot and was not in serious condition.

Derrig and witnesses said the gunman, a Negro, about 19, suddenly drew a gun as the detectives started talking to him. He fired twice at Derrig and then blasted four times at Kelleher, who had drawn his gun when the youth fired at his partner.

Rep. Poage Tells Woolmen Of Soil Bank Plan Problems

FORT WORTH (AP)—Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco spoke today to the final session of the National Wool Growers Assn. convention.

Poage, vice chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, talked of problems facing his committee in the "soil bank" program.

The convention heard discussions on prospects for wool and lamb markets during the coming year.

Panels containing producers, processors and government men participated.

G. N. Winder, president of the American Sheep Producers Council, told the convention what his council proposes to do with new price support funds.

He said funds set aside by producers under the new price support program would help finance promotion of wool and lambs.

Winder said an advertising and promotion campaign will reap great benefits.

He said this is the first time a segment of agriculture has been able to have a promotion program for its product.

Walter Pfluger of Eden and Fred Earwood of Sonora are the Texans on the council.

Miss Merry Jo Stewart of Ault, Colo., and Kay Rohrig of Mitchell, Neb., were named top winner in the "Make-It-Yourself With Wool" contest.

Each gets a two-weeks trip to New York, Paris and Rome.

Winners were announced at a fashion revue. Texas' "Miss Wool," Miss Jan Turbeville of Lockhart, was in the revue.

Powerful Labor Racketeer To Get Parole Next Month

DANNEMORA, N. Y. (AP) — Joseph S. Fay, a labor racketeer once so powerful that he ran his union from Sing Sing and received political bigwigs there, will be released from prison next month.

The State Parole Board granted him parole yesterday—on condition that "under no circumstances" was he to engage "in any type of union activity in any capacity whatsoever."

Fay, 64, was convicted in 1945 of extorting $368,000 from contractors building a New York City water-supply line upstate. He was vice president of the International Operating Engineers Union. Members of the union worked on the project.

He was sentenced to 7½ to 15 years. In 1948 he began serving his term in Sing Sing. In 1953 it came to light that Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, Republican majority leader of the State Senate and acting lieutenant governor at the time, had visited the racketeer in Sing Sing. It cost Wicks his leadership.

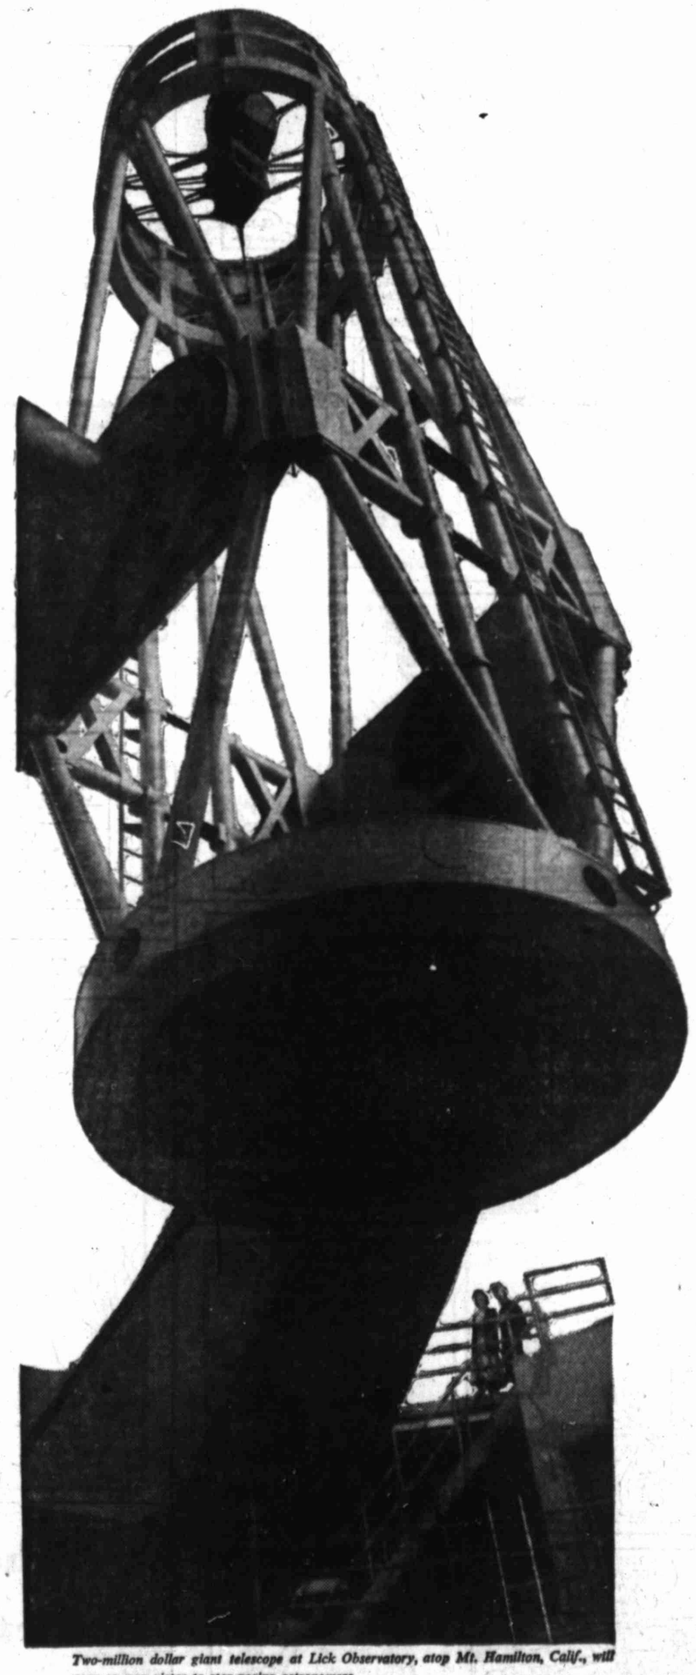

It also was revealed that Fay's visitors behind bars included William F. Bleakley of Yonkers, long the Republican leader in Westchester County and his party's candidate for governor in 1936, and George Meany, now president of the AFL-CIO.

Soon after Fay's list of visitors was made known, Dewey had him transferred from Sing Sing, 30 miles north of New York, to Clinton Prison here in this northern New York town.

It takes a GIANT to open up new worlds

New markets can be new worlds to advertisers. But advertisers need the powerful services of a giant to open up their new worlds. This giant is the newspaper—a giant who lives in every town.

When sales-wise advertisers set their sights on a market, they use the newspaper to pin-point that market for them much the same way a telescope pin-points stars in the heavens.

Over 55,000,000 newspapers are bought daily by people in all walks of life who yearn to know everything that goes on—around the world and particularly around the corner.

Newspaper advertising is a straight line to sales for retailers, wholesalers and distributors. It moves the merchandise they sell—fast.

In today's competitive market every selling job is a giant selling job. Use a giant to do that job. Use the newspaper.

All business is local . . .
and so are all newspapers

Two-million dollar giant telescope at Lick Observatory, atop Mt. Hamilton, Calif., will open up new vistas to star-gazing astronomers.

Terriers Seek Win No. 12

By The Associated Press

A game between the nation's 15th - ranked college basketball team and one which is not even among the first 20 normally would mean no more than just another entry in the record books.

But on the outcome of tonight's St. Francis of Brooklyn-Seton Hall tilt in South Orange, N. J. hinges:

1. St. Francis' unbeaten string which has reached 11 games.

2. An almost certain invite to the National Invitation Tournament.

The Terriers, the No. 15 team, never have won on Seton Hall's home court. This time, however, they have a team capable of doing it.

St. Francis Coach Danny Lynch understandably is high on his club.

DeMarco Choice

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco is favored to defeat Don Jordan of Los Angeles in a non-televised 10 rounder tonight.

Hawks And Odessa Square Off Tonight

Having gathered all the four-leaf clovers and horseshoes in sight the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks pull stakes for Odessa this evenin where at 8 p.m. they take on Larry McCulloch's OJC Wranglers.

Though HCJC rides at the top of the West Zone standings and Odessa has yet to win in zone competition, the tall and talented Wranglers are favored.

For one thing, they've always been tough for the Hawks to handle at home. For another, they have the finesse and the depth to give the Big Springers a bad time.

Still, HCJC is given a good chanc to win the game and a good part of the student body will be on hand to see the job done.

Odessa is due to be fighting mad after dropping an 81-69 verdict to Frank Phillips of Borger in Borger last weekend. The Wrnglers were doped to win that one but the plainsmen used 37 free throws to finish in front.

Jimmy Coulter leads the Odessa scoring chart with 281 points. Virgil Trower has 247 and James Dobbins 198.

Those three are due to start for the Wranglers, along with Carlton Fry and Milton Gillespie.

Ray Crooks is the leading HCJC point-getter with 302 points and a 16-point average.

He'll be in there tonight, along with Jimmy Robinson, Wiley Brown Ertis Davis and either Charles Clark or Al Kloven.

Thanks to a layoff of more than a week, the Hawks are in better shape than they've been since early t.. the season. However, they might have grown a bit rusty due to the idleness.

In their last start, the locals had to come from behind to defeat the ACC B team.

Clark sat out that game due to an ankle injury. He's due to be ready this evening.

There'll be a B team game this evening, starting at 6 p.m.

Two Coahoma Teams Triumph At Midway

MIDWAY, (SC) — Play was to he resumed at 1 p.m. here today in the Midway Elmentary Basketball Tournament, at which time girls' teams representing Gay Hill and Garden City tangle.

Other championship round games today and tonight:

GIRLS — Grady vs Courtney, 3 p.m.; Gail vs Midway, 6 p.m.

BOYS — Gay Hill vs Garden City, 2 p.m.; Grady vs Courtney, 4 p.m.; Gail vs Midway 7 p.m.

The tournament continues through Saturday night. M. B. McFall is again tournament director.

In action Wednesday, Coahoma turned back Westbrook, 44-28; and Greenwood shaded Ira, 38-13, in the girls' bracket; while Coahoma thrashed Westbrook, 41-11; Center Point downed Colorado City, 35-13; and Ira ousted Greenwood, 35-14.

Two second round girls' games are also on tap this evening. Westbrook and Ira have at it in a consolation round contest at 8 p.m. while Coahoma and Greenwood clash in a championship round battle at 9 9 p.m.

In the Coahoma-Westbrook girls' engagement Wednesday, Joan Davis emerged as Coahoma's top scorer with 19 points, the same number tallied by Virginia Lura of Westbrook.

In the Greenwood-Ira girls' set-to, LaJean Berryhill led Greenwood with 13 points. Lena Fay Farmer had eight for the losers.

KTXC TO AIR ODESSA GAME

Radio station KTXC Big Spring will broadcast a play-by-play description of the Howard County Junior College-Odessa JC basketball game, direct from Odessa, at 8 o'clock this evening.

Vince Larsen will describe the action while Ken Welch will give the color.

Idled Cagers Are Jittery

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference basketball coaches, benched this week while players give their noggins a workout in final exams, have their fingers crossed about the layoff.

The two top teams, Arkansas and SMU, are among the first to resume play Saturday and their coaches are hoping the exams haven't left their stars with creaky joints, flabby muscles and myopic stares.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, with the best conference record of four victories and no defeats, play Mississippi at Memphis Saturday in a non-conference tilt.

SMU's Mustangs will be laying their 3-0 conference record on the line against TCU Saturday in Dallas.

TCU has been unimpressive. Their season mark of 3-13 is the poorest in the loop and their conference record is 1-3.

The Frogs have been dangerous foes and have made other teams hustle. Dick O'Neal, TCU center, is one of the best in the conference. Coaches know the Frogs are capable of upsetting favorites.

Baylor, Rice, Texas and Texas A&M remain idle this week.

Gay Hill, Coahoma Team Halve Pair

GAY HILL, (SC) — Gay Hill and Coahoma grade school basketball halved a twin bill here Tuesday night, the visiting boys winning a 37-14 decision after the Gay Hill girls had triumphed, 21-20, on Mary Jo Rawlings' field goal made in the final three seconds of play.

In the girls' contest, Rawlings and Gwen Proctor each scored nine points for Gay Hill. Half time score favored Gay Hill, 8-7.

Kennemer led the Coahoma boys with 12 points. Berry Streetman had six for Gay Hill. Coahoma led at half time, 16-9.

San Angelo Rams Lose, 85 To 81

SAN ANGELO, (SC) — Goodfellow Field of San Angelo nudged the San Angelo Rams, 85-81, in a basketball exhibition here Wednesday night.

Bob Carney, former Bradley University player, led Goodfellow with 32 points.

The Rams' won-lost record is now 9-7.

Campy Highest Paid Dodger In History

BROOKLYN (AP)—Roy Campanella, who two years ago feared his baseball career was over, now is the highest priced player in Brooklyn Dodger history.

The jovial catcher, whose comeback in 1955 perhaps was the biggest single factor in bringing Brooklyn its first world championship, signed a contract yesterday calling for an estimated $42,500. He got about $38,000 the last two years. No other Brook player ever has cracked the 40-grand mark.

In mid-season 1954, Campy was almost convinced that season would he his last. A broken bone in his left hand, suffered during spring practice, left him without control of two fingers. He finished the season with a pitiful .207 batting average, 19 home runs and 51 runs batted in.

Back in form last season, he batted .318, hit 32 home runs, drove in 107 runs and won the National League's Most Valuable award for the third time.

Campy, 34 and entering his ninth major league season, feels he he "can go on catching 100 or more games for six more years and I'm not kidding, either."

He's "completely satisfied" with his 1956 contract, but he didn't give Vice President E. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi much time to breathe easy. "Next year I hope to get more," said Roy, "because I expect to have an even better season."

With Campanlla in the fold, the Brooks now have most of their big names contracted. Among the missing, however, are Duke Snider and Carl Furillo.

The St. Louis Cardinals top all the other clubs, with only outfielder Russell Rac still unsigned on their 41-man winter roster. Reliefer Ellis Kinder and second-string catcher Dick Rand signed yesterday.

Yesterday, the Red Sox added rookies Joe Albanese and Roy Tinney, both pitchers, and Bob Jenkins, an outfielder, while giving Mike (Manager of the Year) Higgins a three-year contract calling for from $35,000 to $45,000 per.

The Chicago White Sox signed pitcher Bob Keegan and two farmhands, catcher Earl Battey and outfielder Ed White, to check off 29 players. Infielder Forrest (Spook) Jacobs agreed to terms with the Kansas City Athletics, while outfielder Wally Westlake and pitcher Lynn Lovenguth signed with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Tiny Olympic Entry Only 16

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy Italy (AP)—The smallest, youngest and pertest of American figure skaters, Carol Elizabeth Heiss, is ready and anxious to win the coveted Olympic crown if Tenley Albright falters—but most of all she wants an American girl to take the gold medal.

"No American ever has won the women's championship," she said today as the games officially opened. "I hope one of us wins. I don't know if I can but I hope I do. I'm praying every night before I go to bed."

Carol, who had her 16th birthday Jan. 20, stands a trim 5 feet 2 and weighs 103.

Up to now she has been runner-up to Miss Albright during her brief and sensational career. She was second last year in the U.S., North American and world championships. Tenley was first.

"Sure, I think Carol can win," said her French coach, Pierre Brunet, a former champion. "She actually does more complicated figures than Tenley. Of course, she is younger and not quite as strong physically. She may lack some of the older girl's grace. Carol will be a champion one of these days —maybe next week."

Maxwell Among Meet Favorites

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The tournament golfers of top caliber status resume operations today in the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational and the risky business of predicting a winner settled on two professionals.

In alphabetical order, for safety, they were Lloyd Mangrum and Mike Souchak.

To confuse the issue, the name of Tommy Bolt might be tossed in.

Cary Middlecoff, Julius Boros, Ed Furgol, Gene Littler—these are golfers of known ability.

Joining the tour is Shelley Mayef ,h hw oooage t donu goisw l field, who was good enough to beat much this same array, and Souchak in a 20-hole playoff, a year ago.

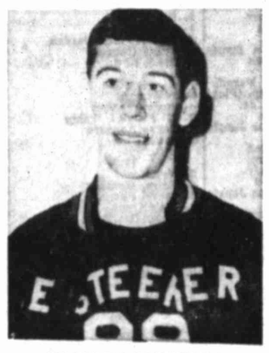

Doug Ford, Billy Maxwell, National Open champion Jack Fleck, Jack Burke, Bo Wininger—all are other contenders who cannot be ignored in a money tournament.

Elmer Ripley, who brought the Harlem Globetrotters here last year, has been named coach of the Israeli Olympic basketball team.

CHARLEY SAUNDERS

A four-way tie for first place in West Zone basketball standings is not impossible.

Right now, Borger, Odessa, Amarillo and HCJC are very much in the running for the title and each appears capable of more than holding its own on its own court.

* * *

Homer Tompkins, the former TCU athlete who resigned as head coach at Slaton High School recently, has become backfield coach in football and head basketball mentor in Cameron, which is near Waco. Head man down there is Leo Jackson.

* * *

Charles Gillespie, the Lubbock scribe, says the Odessa JC basketball ace, Virgil Trower, is headed for Texas Western College in El Paso.

* * *

Big Spring's Glenn Smith, now golf coach at Odessa Junior College, says he's coming up with his best team over there. The Wrangler linksters will tackle the most ambitious schedule in the school's history.

They are defending state champions, incidentally.

* * *

Big Spring's Billy Maxwell showed a return to form on the last day of the Caliente Golf Tournament at Tijuana, Mex., where he came from nowhere to win $493.33. A 68 on the final 18 holes moved him into a tie for ninth place.

Billy caught a cold in the wet weather of Bing Crosby's Torunament at Pebble Beach and was several days in getting over it.

* * *

Abe Saperstein, owner of the fabulous Harlem Globetrotters that will play here the night of Feb. 15, is also a baseball scout of note.

Several years ago, Abe recommended that the Cleveland Indians sign Minnie Minoso and Jose Santiago after looking them over in New Orleans.

Another young man he paid special attention to on the same scouting trip was Jim Newberry, who later was to hurl for Big Spring. Saperstein passed up Newberry because, he said, "Newberry fought himself."

* * *

Charley Saunders, who played Junior High School basketball here, is now a regular on the Stamford cage team.

Around 6-feet-5, young Saunders is the second leading scorer among the Bulldogs.

* * *

Camillo Pascual, one-time Big Spring hurler, will be working under an $8,500 contract for the Washington Senators next baseball season. He got a raise.

Pascual, no doubt, is in the $10,000-a-year bracket, since he is also one of the stars in the Cuban Winter League. (Vinager Bend Mizell recently beat him down there, 3-0).

Indications are now that the 14 regular events of a track met will be conducted at the ABClub Relays here March 30.

Such a program is planned because of the nearness of the district meets. (Generally, they are booked for the following weekend).

A two-mile relay will probably round out the local show.

Coach Carl Coleman is thinking strongly of staging a golf and tennis tournament here in conjunction with the ABC show.

His principal concern is seeing that there will be plenty of help on hand for staging such added attractions.

Tense Moments At Forsan

Knott had to go all out to retain its District 19-B leadership in boys' basketball Tuesday night, when it invaded Forsan, as the picture at the upper left shows. No. 11 is Pat Brunton of Forsan, going up for a field goal. No. 22 is Delano Shaw of Knott; No. 24, Donnie Roman, Knott. The Billies finally won the game, 51-48. In the lower picture, Lovella Fletcher of Forsan lines up for a free toss in the girls' game. Knott won that one, too, 52-49. (Pictures by Don Ferguson).

Snow-Starved Olympics Officially Underway

By TED SMITS

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy -8 The seventh Winter Olympics opened with dazzling pageantry as 1,100 athletes from 32 nations paraded in brilliantly colored attire in bright sunshine today.

The only flaw in the magnificent ceremonies in the packed stadium was the stumble of torch-bearer Guido Caroli of Italy.

Skating in with the torch to light the Olympic flame, he fell headlong in front of the presidential box when he tripped on microphone wires.

He held on to the torch, regained his feet, completed the circuit of the stands and ignited the bowl that will burn day and night until the games end Feb. 5. A huge roar came from the crowd when the flames flared.

The temperature was at the freezing point but there wasn't the faintest sign of a snow cloud — and snow is one thing these Olympics need most.

Russia, entered for the first time in the international winter competition, is expected to challenge Norway for the unofficial top honors.

The opening day competition was confined to two hockey games —Italy vs. Austria and Canada vs. Germany—as athletes and officials alike anxiously watched for snow tht could change the icy, rocky ski courses into perfect runs. Snow was hauled in from nearby mountains to the center of town to make the parade more realistic.

The jagged brown peaks of the Dolomite Mountains made a spectacular background for the marching athletes, led by the tiny Greek delegation, as is Olympic custom. The big Italian home team brought up the rear.

The big U.S. team wore the gaudiest uniforms of them all—bright red fur caps, sparkling white jackets and blue pants.

The Russians were attired in brown fur caps and powder blue coats.

KNOTT'S GRADE SCHOOL TOURNEY UNDER WAY

KNOTT, (SC) — Knott's bi-annual grade school basketball tournament for boys' and girls' team gets under way this evening and continues through Saturday night.

Eight teams are entered in each division. The tournament director is Rudy Moreau.

Admission prices have been set at 15 and 25 cents for all sessions other than the finals. The gate tariff will be hiked to 25 and 50 cents for those games.

Trophies will go to the champion runnersup, consolation winners and to the teams judged the best sports in each division. Recognition will also be given to members of all-tournament squads.

First round pairings, listed with starting times:

GIRLS

THURSDAY—Vealmoor vs Flower Grove, 6 p.m.; Knott vs Dawson, 8 p.m. FRIDAY—Stanton vs Elbow, 1 p.m.; Union vs Ackerly, 3 p.m.

BOYS

THURSDAY—Vealmoor vs Flower Grove, 7 p.m.; Knott vs Dawson, 9 p.m.

FRIDAY—Stanton vs Elbow, 2 p.m.; Union vs Ackerly, 4 p.m.

Consolation finals will be played at 6:00 and 7:00 p.m. Saturday. Championship contests start at 8:00 and 9:00 p.m.

Bulldogs Host BS Reserves

COAHOMA, (SC) — Coahoma's Bulldogs play host tonight to Big Spring's B and C basketball teams.

The Bulldog regulars meet the Big Spring Bees in the feature game. The 6:15 p.m. preliminary sends the Coahoma B team against the Big Spring C quintet.

The teams meet in return games in Big Spring Monday, Feb. 6.

Coahoma Softball Team In Parley

COAHOMA — The Coahoma women's softball team met recently in the home of Mrs. Curtis Neill and new officers for 1956 were elected.

Elevated to the office of president was Katie Creally. Irene Harding will serve as secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Linderman as captain and Betty Parrish as reporter.

Anyone interested in playing for the team can call Mrs. Dan Dodson.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served to ten members.

Greenberg, Cronin Added To Baseball Hall Of Fame

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Greenberg, who in 1938 came within three of breaking Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs, and Joe Cronin, the most expensive player in baseball, took their places alongside the game's immortals today in Baseball's Hall of Fame.

The two slugging right-handed hitters earned membership to the shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y., yesterday when they received more than the necessary 75 per cent of the vote of the 10-year members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. They became the 80th and 81st Hall of Famers.

Greenberg was named on 164 of the 193 ballots cast to 152 for Cronin. Only players active in the 1930-50 period were eligible and they could not have been active as a coach or manager within the last five years. The pair will be inducted formally at the Cooperstown Museum next July.

Greenberg, 45, who quit as a player in 1947, now is in his sixth year as general manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Cronin, 49, has been general manager of the Boston Red Sox since 1948, two years after he retired as a player. In 1934 he was sold by Washington to Boston for a record price of $250,000 and immediately was named manager of the Red Sox.

In all, 130 former players received mention, including several who were not eligible because their playing careers had ended before 1930.

Charlie (Red) Ruffing, an outstanding pitcher with the New York Yankee pennant winners in the '30s and '40s, was third with 97 votes. Other top vote-getters were Edd Roush, 91; Lefty Gomez, 89; Hack Wilson, 74; Tony Lazzeri, 64.

Greenberg, who broke in with the Detroit Tigers in 1930 and became the regular first baseman in 1933, clouted 331 major league home runs to rank ninth among the all-time home run hitters. In 1937, he drove in 183 runs, one behind the American League record set by Gehrig. The next year, he slammed 58 home runs to tie Jimmy Foxx's record for right-handed hitters.

In 1946, his last year with Detroit, he led the league in home runs for the fourth time. He was sold to Pittsburgh Jan. 18, 1947, and finished his playing career with the Pirates. He was released at his own request at the end of the '47 season to become part owner of the Indians. He has a lifetime batting mark of .313.

He was the regular Red Sox shortstop through 1945, winding up with a lifetime mark of .302. He is a member of the 2,000-hit club with 2,285 in 2,124 games over a 20-year span.

Segregationists Congregate

Health Programs Part Of 'Y' Work

Health and physical development programs are by no means the extent of a YMCA program, but they likely are the best known.

Friday evening, people in this area are being invited as a part of YMCA week to attend the open house starting at 7:30 p.m. in the YMCA and see for themselves some of the activities. There will be demonstrations by both the men's and women's volleyball teams, the weight lifters, and the girls' tumbling team.

Men meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 5 to 7 o'clock for volleyball on a fun basis, and the women meet on Thursday evenings from 8 to 10 o'clock. Occasionally the men book out-of-town contests.

Currently, the YMCA is sponsoring an industrial basketball league with eight teams in the loop playing six games per week.

Young members frequently go in for the weight-lifting class, working out on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Among other activities available to youth are the junior tumbling team, the tennis "ladder," baton twirling class for girls, and of course games like ping pong, etc.

During the summer the YMCA has a variety of other athletic affairs, including the swimming program which last summer attracted 578 youngsters. There also are archery, golf, tennis, volleyball, gym games, playground activities. The YMCA also is the supervisory agency for the Citywide Summer Recreational Program.

In the YMCA physical education program, emphasis is placed upon sportsmanship, teamwork, physical fitness and a sense of real recreation. It is a YMCA thesis that many democratic and Christian principles may be taught on the "playing field."

Livestock Prices Show Gains Here

Most lines of cattle were 50 cents to $1 higher at the Big Spring Livestock Auction Company's sale Wednesday. The run was estimated at 500 cattle and 50 hogs.

Fat bulls went for 15.00, butcher cows from 9.00 to 11.00, fat calves and yearlings from 14.00 to 17.50, stocker steer calves up to 18.00, heifer calves up to 16.00 and hogs up to 12.50.

All Student Pilots Find Housing Here

All married members of the class reporting to Webb AFB with the latest class of pilots have found adequate housing, Col. Charles M. Young, wing commander, has announced.

"This was made possible through the generosity and cooperation of the citizens of the Big Spring community," he wrote in a letter to Marvin M. Miller, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

"We at Webb wish to thank the Chamber of Commerce (which helped handle listings) and all those citizens who heped us in this housing crisis," he said.

Col. Young added that another class would report at Webb about Feb. 24. Indications are that about 50 officers in this class will be married and will require housing. There could be another housing crisis at that time "unless our citizens continue their efforts on behalf of these young American officers who are learning to fly at Webb," Col. Young reminded.

Originally most of the class members were cadets and hence required no family housing. But now all the class members are student officers and the majority of them are married.

Forsan Club Sets Program Tonight

FORSAN — Alfred Chapple, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Chapple of Sterling City, is to provide the program at the Forsan Service Club meeting tonight.

Young Chapple is to impersonate several actors and present other comedy. The program starts at 7 p.m.

Woman Authors ACC Pageant

ABILENE — A Lubbock housewife is the author of Abilene Christian College's Golden Anniversary pageant which will be presented Feb. 16-18 and 20-23.

Mrs. James Bearden of Lubbock, 1942 ACC graduate, wrote "A City Set on a Hill," the musical drama depicting the college's 50-year history. The pageant will highlight the current year-long observance of the school's 50th anniversary celebration.

Mrs. Bearden began working on the script for the ACC pageant in November, 1954, finishing up in the fall of 1955.

Churches Planning 'Public School Day'

Religious Emphasis Week in the Big Spring schools and YMCA Week throughout the city will be climaxed Sunday with services beamed at young people in most churches.

Representatives of the Big Spring Pastors Association Wednesday extended special invitations for all high school students to attend church Sunday.

Twelve ministers spoke briefly at a high school assembly, arranged by the student council. The preachers are to extend similar invitations to junior high students at another assembly Friday.

Goal of the Public School Day effort is "to over-run our churches with young people Sunday," said Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church. "Most of the services will feature young persons and special youth messages are planned."

The young generation will have complete charge of the program at the First Presbyterian Church. In others, YMCA members will serve as ushers and provide special music.

Dr. O'Brien said that most churches also will have receptacles for March of Dimes contributions. Children will be encouraged to give to the fight against the child cripler, polio.

The YMCA is cooperating in the Public School Day church program as a feature of YMCA Week. The organization has furnished bulletin covers for next Sunday's church programs.

The ministers are offering three books as prizes in a poster contest in the schools, the posters to encourage church attendance Sunday.

Tom Henry Guin, student council president, presided at the high school assembly Wednesday when the pastors extended church invitations. Preachers participating were A. R. Posey, Temple Baptist Church; L. V. Reazin, Church of the Nazarene; W. D. Boyd, St. Mary's Episcopal; Clyde Nichols, First Christian; Lyle Price, Church of Christ at Fourteenth and Main; Hal Hooker, First Church of God; W. A. James, Airport Baptist; R. Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian; Jordan Grooms, First Methodist; Cecil Rhodes, West Side Baptist; H. W. Bartlett, College Chapel; and O'Brien. Price, Grooms and Lloyd spoke for other Churches of Christ, Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

U. S. Weather Changes Little

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather showed only minor changes today, with temperatures around seasonal levels in most areas and rain or snow in scattered sections.

Fog blanketed wide areas of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, the eastern Dakotas and western minnesota. Skies were generally cloudy in most other parts of the country.

Light snow fell in Minnesota, Wisconsin, in parts of New England, the Ohio Valley, the central Rockies and the Northern Plateau region.

Light to heavy rain pelted California coastal areas. Los Angeles was drenched with nearly 3 inches in 24 hours.

There was a little cooling in parts of the middle Mississippi Valley and the Ohio Valley.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Little Brothers

Dear Miss Brandow:

What can you do when your little brother pops into the living room and greets your date with: "Why don't you marry my sister?"

What can you say? Do you think the boy will ever come back? Don't I have a right to "get even" with my little brother?

Claudia

* * *

Just last week I interviewed a panel of boys who were asked their reactions to such surprising small fry questions. The unanimous answer was that most boys either have smaller brothers and sisters themselves or nieces, nephews, or cousins and understand the situation perfectly.

What's more, while they may be temporarily embarrassed and at a loss for words, they sympathize with you.

Your date will not be discouraged by your little brother's remark unless he is an only child and living a very isolated life.

You should explain to your little brother why such questions are awkward, but do not "get even" with him. He probably was not consciously doing wrong. Suggesting the boy marry you was probably his way of giving your date his stamp of approval.

* * *

Dear Miss Brandow:

Is it true that you have written a book of dating advice? Also, would it be possible for me to have a picture of you to put in the scrapbook I keep on your articles?

Marsha

* * *

The book, like the column, is called Date Data and covers everything from how to get a date to what to do with it. Your bookstore probably has it.

I am happy to send an autographed picture to you or any one else who wants one and cares to write me in care of The Herald.

Terrace Lines Are Run On Farm Land

Terrace lines have been run on the S. A. Hathcock farm north of Big Spring. This farm is operated by Dr. Lee O. Rogers of Big Spring. A waterway has been designed to carry outside water that is running across the farm and the waterway will be seeded to red top cane this spring and then to permanent grass next spring.

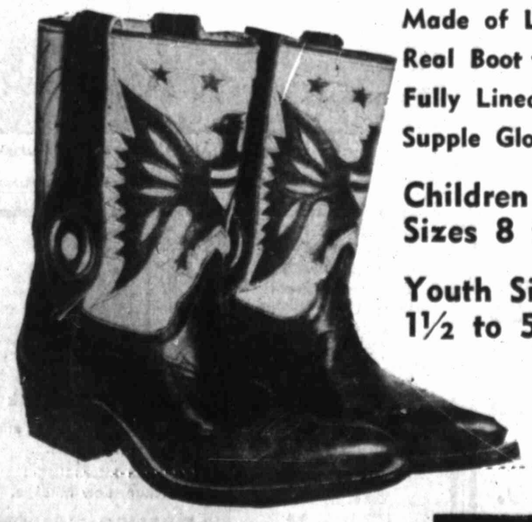

Terrace lines have been run for Bence Brown, south of Vincent. A diversion terrace was also designed and has been built.

Willis Winters, west of Vincent, has had terrace lines run on his farm. W. C. Fryar, who farms nor west of Fairview community, had terrace lines and a diversion terrace laid out on his farm. He plans to utilize some outside water with the diversion terrace. Terrace lines were also run for Binie White, who farms west of Vincent. A waterway has been designed for Johnnie Walker, who farms northeast of Big Spring.

These farmers are all cooperators with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District and were assisted by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service stationed at Big Spring.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Special Treatment For Some Incomes

By FRANK O'BRIEN
By The Associated Press

If you have income in any form except salary and wages (this includes bonuses, commissions and the like) you must report it in the special boxes, called schedules, on page 3 of Form 1040. On Page 4 there are two more boxes, where you can claim tax credits for two special kinds of income—dividends and retirement pay.

Some kinds of payments to you are not taxable income in the eyes of the tax law. Such receipts — gifts, for one example—can be set aside, free of tax (excluded) from the rest of your income. Exclusions, and the conditions under which you must make estimated tax payments, will be the subject of the next article.

Because the tax law gives a special break to taxpayers in retirement, and sets up special conditions for the self-employed and farmers, these types of income will be considered in separate articles. Here are the highlights of the tax law on other kinds of income, and on tax credits:

* * *

1. YOU ARE REQUIRED to report, in Schedule B, Page 3 of Form 1040, interest payments to you, as part of your taxable income, with certain exceptions. (Interest you pay is deductible from your income.) Interest earned from state and municipal bonds, and on any $5,000 of U. S. Treasury bonds issued before March 1, 1941 is tax exempt, and you need not include it in your return.

The gradual increase in the value of certain savings bonds (Series "A" through "F") is interest, but you do not have to report it until you cash in the bond, or the bond matures, whichever happens earliest. You clip coupons from other types of savings bonds, or the government mails periodic interest checks. This is interest which must be reported as income for the year in which it is received.

Other interest on securities, loans and savings accounts is taxable, and must be reported.

2. Business or professional — the law taxes the profits of a business or profession — not total receipts. Businessmen and earners from a profession report their profits on special Schedule C, obtainable at revenue offices, post offices, banks and the like, and transfer the results to Line 8, page 1, of Form 1949. Summary Schedule C has been eliminated from Form 1040. Remember that if you are in business, or a profession, and employ others, you may be required to withhold income tax from the wages you pay, and report the withholdings. Your estimated tax paying responsibilities will be discussed in a separate article.

3. Partnerships— partners in a business firm do not pay taxes in the name of the firm. They report their share of the partnership profits in their individual tax returns. In the new Form 1040, this must be reported in Schedule H, on page 3, where estates and trusts also report.

4. Sales and exchanges of property — you must report any profit from the sale on separate Schedule D, on which capital gains can be computed. You transfer the results to Schedule D summary in Form 1040.

There are special rules for the sale of homes. You must report any profit on sale of your residence (or other property not held for gain), but any loss is not deductible.

* * *

PROFIT on a home sale is the difference between what you paid for the home (plus your spending on it for permanent improvements) and your sale price. But if you use up your profit buying another home (within a year) or building a new home (occupied within 18 months of when you sold the old one) your profit is not taxable. The new home cost must at least equal the adjusted sale price of your old home if none of your profit is to be taxable. The adjusted sale price is the full sale price, minus commissions and the cost of redecorating performed within 90 days before the date of your sale contract.

5. Dividends — You are required to report your dividend income. But you get two breaks on dividend income. The first is that you may exclude—set aside tax free— up to $50 of dividend income from qualified corporations (described on page 6 of the instructions). If you are filing a joint return, husband and wife may each exclude up to $50 of such dividend income, if each had qualified dividends. You do this in Schedule A, at the top of Page 3 of Form 1040.

On your dividend income from qualified corporations that you do not exclude in Schedule A, you may be able to get a tax credit. You work this out in Schedule J, page 4. The tentative credit is 4 per cent of the dividend income from qualified corporations you did not exclude. Your actual credit is the smaller of the tentative dividend credit, your tax, or 4 per cent of your taxable income.

* * *

THERE ARE a number of other credits to be considered before you find your final tax liability. Your tax liability is your tax (Line 12, on page 1) minus your credits. The biggest, most common credit is for taxes you have already paid through witholding.

You may also have a retirment income credit coming to you. This will be discussed in a separate article.

You get credit also for any estimated tax payments you have made. All these credits are entered on lines 13 through 17, of page 1. You deduct them from your tax, and get your final tax liability. This shows you whether you owe the government more, or the government owes you a refund.

Oil Firms Deny Insolvency Claim

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—A suit filed by a Houston securities company against two oil firms brought denials yesterday from the principals involved.

The suit was filed by Continental Securities Co. against McBride Oil and Gas Co. and its subsidiary, the McBride Oklahoma Corp. It named Lynn McBride of Brownsville as president.

The suit charged that the companies are insolvent and asked that they be placed in receivership.

Reporters were told by Lynn McBride yesterday that all of the allegations in the suit were untrue. "Neither I nor the officers of my company could find any truth in any of the allegations," he said.

Eye Charts No Good For Driving Tests

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Just because you can read the bottom line (or can you?) of the eye chart doesn't necessarily mean your eyes are good enough for automobile driving. UCLA researchers reported yesterday that numerous tests have demonstrated that a person's visual effectiveness with a static target doesn't carry over to moving objects.

Alchemists Failed To Produce Gold

By RAMON COFFMAN

In a "History of Alchemy," we read that two successful changes of base metals into gold or silver were made "at the Holy See" by Arnold of Villanova about 650 years ago. Popes, as well as kings and nobles, took an interest in the idea. One pope, however, gave an alchemist an empty purse, saying: "If you know how to make gold, you will be able to fill this purse."

That alchemist had hoped for a present of money. Another pope, John XXII, joined with several kings in making edicts against dealers in the Black Art.

The alchemists, however, went on with their work for hundreds of years longer. A Scotsman named Alexander Sethon followed the Black Art during the time of Shakespeare. He declared that he had learned the secret of making gold from a Dutch sailor who had been saved from a wreck.

Visiting the mainland of Europe, Sethon displayed his skill before the ruler of Saxony, but was cast into prison. There he was tortured in an effort to discover his secret.

The story of Sethon goes on to say that he escaped from prison without telling the secret. Then he met a professor at Freiburg University, and showed what he could do. After lead and sulphur were melted in a crucible, a yellow powder was dropped into the molten material. The mixture was stirred with an iron rod. When it cooled ('tis said) the mixture was pure gold."

In his secret workshop, the alchemist tried to change base metals into gold.

The probable fact is that the powder gave a yellow color to the lead and made it look like gold. In much the same way it was possible to make copper coins look like silver by coating them with mercury.

One after another, the alchemists lived and died. Despite their claims, they failed to give the world any "secret" way which others could follow and produce gold or silver.

Petroleum Bill Labeled 'Unfair'

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—A proposed severance tax on oil and gas production in Kansas was termed "unfair and "inequitable yesterday by opponents of a measure before the Legislature.

Oil spokesmen said the proposal is unfair in view of existing taxes on oil and gas production.

They said independent operators who find 85½ per cent of the oil in Kansas would be adversely affected. They added that the ad valorem levy now made on oil and gas is equal to 4.98 per cent severance tax.

A spokesman for royalty owners said gas wells are taxed at the rate of 7.7 per cent of their actual income. This would be boosted to more than 10 per cent, he said, if a 2½ per cent severance tax is added.

Penny Machines On Their Way Out

BOSTON (AP)—Greater Boston subway and elevated train riders no longer will be able to buy a piece of gum, a handful of peanuts or weigh themselves for a penny.

A vending machine firm yesterday removed more than 500 penny vending machines and scales from the platforms of the Metropolitan Transit Authority system.

A spokesman for the firm said: "It is not economically sound to sell for a penny any more."

Lad Passes Up Candy For Polio

LOCKHART (AP)—A small boy in tattered clothes and worn shoes approached a candy counter this week, a nickel tightly clasped in his hand.

He looked from one candy jar to another. One jar was different. This was half-filled with small coins and bore the picture of a little boy on crutches.

"No sweets today, sir," the lad smiled as he dropped the coin in the March of Dimes bottle.

Suicide Ruled In Bridegroom Death

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Suicide had been ruled today in the death of Leroy Zepeda, 22, a bridegroom of five months, who shot himself Sunday night after a "friendly argument" with his wife.

Probers Claim Red Trade Bans Being Broken

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigating senators say they have received reports that controls over the export to Communist - dominated areas of "certain highly strategic items have been unduly relaxed," despite intelligence reports "strongly opposing" such action.

The Senate Investigation's subcommittee said in its annual report yesterday it may hold hearings on this matter later in the year.

The report covered a whole range of foreign and domestic situations studied by the subcommittee during 1955.

At one point, the document criticized "our allies, particularly the British" for "making major contributions to the Chinese war economy." This was in a section in which the subcommittee registered "deep distress" over what it said was mounting trade between U.S. allies and Red China.

The report recalled that in 1954 "extensive changes" were made in U. S. security export controls on the sale and delivery of strategic materials from the free nations to Soviet-controlled areas.

These changes in U. S. controls, the report recalled, were accompanied by a similar review of international East - West export curbs.

The senators complained that "this downgrading of strategic items has been . . . cloaked with secrecy, particularly as to . . . international controls."

Pneumonia Victim, 100, Still Lives

LOS ANGELES (AP)—He's 100 years old and Jonathan D. Voris, retired mining engineer, continues to confound medical men by his ability to survive pneumonia. Voris was discharged from Queen of Angels Hospital yesterday after winning his third bout with pneumonia in two years.

"I'm still pretty tough," said Voris as he took his grip and left for the home of Mrs. Blanche Rigney, his daughter. "Being around young people keeps me young."

U. S. Kindergartens Began 100 Years Ago

By F. H. BORDSEN

WATERTOWN, Wis. (AP) — One hundred years ago a pretty young immigrant mother sat with her 3-year-old daughter and four other small girls along the Rock River in this southeastern Wisconsin community and began the first kindergarten in America.

For Mrs. Carl Schurz, then about 23, it was a chance to practice theories of education she had learned back in Hamburg, Germany, from Freidrich Froebel, founder of the kindergarten movement.

Her husband, destined to carve a distinguished career as a soldier, journalist and political leader, already was busy in the affairs of the newly formed Republican party.

The little group conversed in German as the children learned colors through use of yarn balls, formed geometric figures with wooden blocks and sang "Mutter Lieder" (songs of mother).

Relatives and friends noted the group's frequent meetings and asked that their preschool children be allowed to join the sessions. Mrs. Schurz then opened a kindergarten in her home.

All through this centennial year various Wisconsin educational groups will pay tribute to the woman who brought to this country the idea that little children can learn through play.

Kindergartens — the German name for "children's garden"—are now accepted as a vital part of education.

Shortly after organizing her school Mrs. Schurz visited friends in Boston, where she met Miss Elizabeth Peabody, an educator is credited with popularizing the kindergarten.

In 1860 Miss Peabody founded the country's first English-speaking kindergarten.

The Schurz family left here in 1858 for Milwaukee. From then until her death in 1876 Mrs. Schurz followed her brilliant husband's many places of residence. Though in frail health, she carried the story of the kindergarten to teachers and mothers.

The seed planted by Mrs. Schurz took root fast. Soon private kindergartens were set up in New York, San Francisco, Chicago and Milwaukee and, by the 1880s, in most large cities.

The first kindergarten to be incorporated into a public school system was at St. Louis in 1873.

Prosecutor Drops Case in Arsenic Poisoning Of Coed

ROCKVILLE, Conn. (AP)—Joel E. Reed II, Tolland County prosecutor, has told the Superior Court he cannot prove that William R. Singer Jr., 26, of Yalesville, administered arsenic to a University of Connecticut coed.

On Reed's recommendation, Judge John H. King yesterday nolled the charge of assault with intent to commit murder on which Singer was arrested last November. A nolle —withdrawal of prosecution—means that the case remains on file and can be reopened.

Miss Elsie A. L. Treggor of West Hartford, the 24-year-old coed in the case, did not appear at the five-minute court hearing. She suffered no lasting ill effects from the arsenic which toxicological tests showed was in her system.

Singer, a student until he flunked out last June, and Miss Treggor dated occasionally.

Egypt, Israel Accept UN Plan

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel and Egypt have accepted a three-point U. N. peace plan for the disputed El Auja demilitarized zone.

The U. N. Palestine truce supervision organization announced the agreement after Secretary Dag Hammarskjold conferred here and in Cairo with leaders of both nations.

Hammarskjold had proposed the plan originally last Nov. 3, after Israeli and Egyptian forces clashed in the Negev Desert area along the Israeli-Egyptian border.

Under the plan (1) Egypt will let the truce group put demarcation lines wherever the U. N. men think necessary, (2) Egypt will withdraw any "minor encroachments" which might still remain in the zone, and (3) Israel will remove all her military forces, obstacles and mines from the zone.

Hammarskjold's proposals were worked out after talks with the Western Big Three and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, the chief truce supervisor.

Hammarskjold, who is making a world tour, told a news conference here yesterday he still believes a general Palestine settlement can be reached.

The El Auja zone is about 95 square miles and stretches for about 20 miles. Both sides have made strong territorial claims within the area.

Coast Guard Asks Trial Of Captain In Bay Disaster

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Justice Department has been asked by the Coast Guard to prosecute the captain of the pleasure schooner Levin J. Marvel, which broke up in Chesapeake Bay with a loss of 14 lives.

The slender, sandy-haired Meckling, a one-time Coast Guard enMeckling said last night he would have no comment on the Coast Guard investigation board's findings until he had examined them.

The slender, sandy-haired Meckling, a onetime Coast Guard enlisted man, was one of 13 survivors when the 64-year-old Marvel rolled over in the rough seas which preceded Hurricane Connie last Aug. 14. The vessel was pounded to pieces off North Beach, Md.

Adm. A. C. Richmond, Coast Guard commandant, yesterday made public the board's report. He said the inquiry turned up evidence of probable violation of maritime laws by Meckling.

He listed these as:

"Sending an unseaworthy vessel to sea, thereby endangering life.

"Neglect of duty in taking an unseaworthy vessel to sea in the face of known displayed storm warnings.

"Negligent and-or reckless operation of (the) vessel so as to endanger life, limb, or property.

"Destruction of life through negligence, inattention to duty, and misconduct."

Mush For Jailbirds

SPARKS, Nev. (AP)—Ham and egg breakfasts are out at the Sparks City Jail. City officials said that is more than they get at home. "We get mush at our house," observed Councilman A. H. Osborn as he voted to cut the jail menu. City Manager C. B. Kinnison added that he gets oatmeal at home.

Preparing For Guests

Mrs. Dewey McGee lights a candle to give atmosphere to the dinner she has prepared. Her menu includes Italian spaghetti, tossed salad and garlic bread.

Mrs. Dewey McGee Tells How To Prepare Italian Spaghetti Sauce

It you want a different and delicious meal to serve your family and guests, try Mrs. Dewey McGee's recipe for Italian Spaghetti.

Mrs. McGee, who lives in Apartment 8 in King Apartments, got the recipe from a man who lived downstairs. He recently moved to Dallas.

A native of Houston, Mrs. McGee lived there until she and her husband came to Big Spring this fall. Sgt. McGee is stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

Mrs. McGee lists cooking, collecting coins and little theatre activities as her hobbies. Cooking is a necessity. As for the coin collecting, at one time she had about $45 worth of old and foreign coins.

"We read a book on old coins and discovered that in order for an old coin to be valuable, it had to be uncirculated. We decided what we would have to do is to get a roll of dimes when they came out one year, put them away in the closet for about 60 years and then we would have some real collectors items," she explained.

But she quickly added that they soon gave the collection up.

The McGees are active members of the Big Spring Civic Theatre. Sgt. McGee, who is vice president of the organization, has acted in many little theatre productions.

Mrs. McGee said also that one of her hobbies was keeping up with her husband's hobbies, some of which are, acting, building model cars, photography and old cars.

As a complete meal, Mrs. McGee suggests Italian Spaghetti, tossed salad and garlic bread. Here's her recipe:

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI SAUCE

½ cup olive oil
¾ cup chopped onion
1 green pepper, minced
2 medium cloves garlic
1½ pounds ground beef
No. 3 can tomato sauce
1 cup water
Hot pepper to taste
1 teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon black pepper
2 teaspoons Worchestershire sauce
Chopped celery and parsley (optional)

Heat olive oil in heavy frying pan. Brown onion, pepper, garlic and meat. Transfer to heavy stew pan. Add other ingredients and bring to boil. Cover and simmer 4 to 6 hours. If desired canned mushrooms can be added along with celery and parsley. They should be browned along with other ingredients.

Serve over cooked spaghetti, not too soft. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese or grated cheese. Yields about three pints of sauce.

One Basic Recipe To Make Six Variations

Oatmeal cookies rate high priority on homemakers lists of cooky favorites. Old and young alike enjoy the crisp, crunchy texture and full-flavored taste of oatmeal cookies.

This basic Quick Mix Oatmeal Cooky recipe is inexpensive to make. Oatmeal cookies are so useful — ideal for lunch boxes, simple desserts, after school or bedtime snacks. There are few desserts which satisfy the desire for something sweet with taste appeal and at the same time add so many wholesome nutrients to the diet. Oatmeal cookies add protein, the B-complex vitamins, minerals and food energy. One 2½-inch cooky contains only 66 calories.

Mincemeat cookies offer an ideal way to use packaged mincemeat. Applesauce added to the basic oatmeal recipe gives a new flavor with a softer texture. Young children especially will be pleased with the varicolored gumdrop cooky. Chocolate and orange team together in the Orange Polka Dot variation. Orange and raisin make another good combination. Chocolate and nuts are always popular. Either quick or regular rolled oats can be used in these recipes.

QUICK MIX OATMEAL COOKIES

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup fat (at room temperature)
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup granulated sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons milk
1½ cups quick or regular rolled oats, uncooked

Sift together flour, soda and salt into bowl. Add fat, sugars, egg, vanilla, and milk. Beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Fold in rolled oats. Drop from a teaspoon onto greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 3½ dozen cookies.

VARIATIONS:

1. Orange Polka Dot Oatmeal Cookies.

Follow recipe for Quick Mix Oatmeal Cookies and increase vanilla to 1 teaspoon; substitute 1-3 cup orange juice for 2 tablespoons milk, and add 1 tablespoon grated orange rind and ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces. Bake n a moderate oven (375 F.) until done, 8 to 10 minutes.

2. Gumdrop Oatmeal Cookies.

Follow recipe for Quick Mix Oatmeal Cookies. Increase vanilla to 1 teaspoon and add ¾ cup finely cut mixed spiced gumdrops. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) until done, 12 to 15 minutes.

3. Mincemeat Oatmeal Cookies.

Follow recipe for Quick Mix Oatmeal Cookies. Omit granulated sugar, vanilla, and milk. Add 1 cup prepared mincemeat. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) until done, 8 to 10 minutes.

4. Applesauce Oatmeal Cookies.

Follow recipe for Quick Mix Oatmeal Cookies. Increase sifted all-purpose flour to 1½ cups. Add 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, and ½ teaspoon cloves to dry ingredients. Sift once. Omit milk and add 1 cup sweetened applesauce and 1 cup seedless raisins. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) until done, 12 to 15 minutes.

5. Choco-Nut Oatmeal Cookies.

Follow recipe for Quick Mix Oatmeal Cookies and add 2 squares melted chocolate to fat, sugar, and egg mixture. Beat well. Increase vanilla to 1 teaspoon and milk to 3 tablespoons, and add 1 cup coconut. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) until done, 8 to 10 minutes.

6. Orange Raisin Oatmeal Cookies.

Follow recipe for Quick Mix Oatmeal Cookies. Substitute 3 tablespoons orange juice for 2 tablespoons milk. Add 2 tablespoons grated orange rind and 1 cup seedless raisins. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) until done, 12 to 15 minutes.

Entire Family Will Enjoy These Cookies

Peanut butter is always good, and reaches a peak of goodness in these golden-brown Refrigerator Cookies where it is deliciously blended with bubbly oven-toasted rice cereal. This nutritious and not-too-sweet cookies make a nice "munchie" for the whole family, and is especially good to serve the youngsters when they come home from school.

PEANUT BUTTER REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup peanut butter
½ cup sugar
1½ cups sifted flour
1-3 cup milk
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups rice cereal

Blend butter, peanut butter and sugar. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Crush cereal into fine crumbs; combine with sifted dry ingredients. Add to first mixture alternately with milk; mix well after each addition. Shape dough into rolls about 1½ inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper and chill until firm. Cut in thin slices; place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in hot oven (425F.) about 10 minutes.

Yields approximately 3½ dozen cookies, 2 inches in diameter.

Add To Greens

So many good things to add to a salad of tossed greens to make it extra special! Here are some of them: chopped green onions; crumbled crisply cooked bacon; crumbled blue cheese; crisp croutons browned in garlic-flavored olive oil; finely cut anchovy fillets; sliced pimento-stuffed green olives.

Loaf Cake Takes On Plain Or Fancy Duty

Bake a loaf cake and use it several ways—plain and fancy. Slices of the cake will make the foundation for Individual Baked Alaskas when you are having company. The rest of the loaf cake will be welcome at family meals—with fruit or chocolate pudding, for instance. We like slices of the cake toasted, too, for afternoon tea.

One caution when you try this recipe for Individual Baked Alaskas. Use a really large cookie sheet so you'll have plenty of elbow room when you are covering cake and ice cream with meringue. This guidance comes from our own experience; pay attention to it.

And another piece of advice. Enlist the help of your sister, your cousin or your aunt when you are assembling the individual cake-and-ice cream concoctions. They take two people—both working fast.

GOLDEN LOAF CAKE

Ingredients:

Two and one-fourth cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 2-3 cup milk, 5 egg yolks (unbeaten).

Method:

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir butter just to soften with orange rind. Sift in dry ingredients. Add 1-3 cup of the milk and the egg yolks; mix until flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at low speed of electric mixer, or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Add remaining 1-3 cup milk and beat 1 minute longer in mixer, at low speed, or 150 strokes by hand. Turn batter into loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches) that has been lined on bottom with brown or waxed paper. (It is not necessary to grease bottom of pan or paper.) Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 to 55 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Allow cake to stand in pan on cooling rack about 10 minutes; turn out on rack; strip off paper.

INDIVIDUAL BAKED ALASKAS

Ingredients:

Three slices (½ inch thick) Golden Loaf Cake, 4 egg whites, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 pint very firm brick ice cream, 1 package quick-frozen raspberries.

Method:

Cut each of the three slices of cake in half. Place on large cookie sheet. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add the sugar, a tablespoon at a time; beat after each addition until sugar is blended. Beat in vanilla. Continue beating until meringue stands in stiff peaks. Cut very firm ice cream into 6 equal parts, each a little smaller than the half slices of cake. Place a slice of ice cream on each slice of cake. Spread meringue over cake and ice cream, covering completely. Place in very hot (450 degrees) oven for 4 or 5 minutes, until meringue peaks are lightly browned. Serve at once with thawed frozen raspberries as sauce. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE:

Make sure that ice cream is very firm; cut it with a knife dipped in hot water.

Stretch Chicken Pie With Fluffy Cheese Meringue Mix

Here's a clever and unusual way to stretch chicken or turkey so that two cups will serve six. The milk, eggs and cheese add extra body building protein! The cheese meringue is easy to make and is added just before time to eat. Just 12 minutes in the oven makes the meringue puffy and golden.

CHICKEN PIE WITH CHEESE MERINGUE

2 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup uncooked white rice
¼ teaspoon black pepper
2 whole canned pimientos, chopped
1 4 oz. can mushrooms (stems and pieces of whole mushrooms, sliced)
1½ to 2 cups cooked chicken or turkey, diced
3 eggs, separated (allow eggs to come to room temperature)
½ teaspoon steak sauce
½ cup very finely grated sharp cheese

Put the water, salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove saucepan from the heat but leave lid on 10 minutes.

After the rice cooks, add the pepper, pimientos and mushrooms. Pack into a well-greased 10-inch pie plate.

Arrange the chicken or turkey over the rice. Beat the egg yolks well. Beat the milk into the egg yolks. Pour this mixture over the chicken or turkey. Lightly cover with aluminum foil. Place in a preheated 350 F. oven for 30 minutes. Remove from the oven and turn oven to 400 F.

Beat the egg whites until stiff. Gently stir in the steak sauce and cheese. Immediately arrange the egg whites around the edges of the chicken or turkey mixture. Place in the 400 F. oven for 12 minutes or until the meringue is the desired degree of brownness.

Serve immediately from the dish in which the chicken bakes. This recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Cherry Dish Gives Lift To Menus

A delightful dessert to serve on these pre-spring days when every menu seems to need a lift, is this tempting Cherry Dowdy, topped with little drifts of whipped cream. Either frozen or canned cherries can be used for the "base" of the Dowdy, which is covered with a batter made newly delicious with the flavor of whole bran cereal. Bake in a moderate oven for about 25 minutes and serve while warm.

CHERRY DOWDY

½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¾ cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 egg
2 cups pitted sour red cherries, frozen or canned
¼ cup hot water
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla flavoring
½ cup whole bran cereal

Mix together sugar and cornstarch; combine with cherries. Bring to full rolling boil over high heat, stirring constantly. Set aside to cool.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg until thick and lemon colored; add hot water gradually, beating constantly. Continue beating while adding sugar. Fold in vanilla, cereal and sifted dry ingredients. Spoon cherry sauce into 1-cup custard cups; cover with batter. Bake n moderate oven (375 F.) about 25 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream.

Yields four servings.

Meat Loaf Made Deluxe With Veal

The rags to riches meat loaf can be a jellied concoction to delight the gourmet or bread crumb filled meat stretcher to please the budget juggler.

A candidate for an easy to serve pretty sliced loaf meat is Veal Loaf Deluxe.

VEAL LOAF DELUXE

½ cup grated American cheese
2 tablespoons grated onion
1-3 cup cream rice cereal
2 tablespoons milk
1 egg, beaten
½ teaspoon salt
8-ounce jar medium size stuffed olives
6-ounce can broiled mushroom crowns
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 teaspoon meat seasoning
2 tablespoons tomato catsup

Mix together the veal, cheese, onion, cereal, milk, egg and salt. Drain olives and mushrooms well. Pack 1-3 of the meat mixture in the bottom of a lightly oiled loaf pan, 8x4x3 inches. Arrange ½ of the olives and mushrooms in a pattern on the meat, placing the olives lengthwise the pan and the mushrooms upside down, pushing into the meat. Firmly pack another 1-3 of the meat over the olives and mushrooms. Add remaining olives and mushrooms in alternate pattern and, finally, the remaining meat in a layer. Press firmly. Turn loaf out on a greased shallow baking pan, brush surface with melted butter and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until done through, about 1 hour When done brush with mixture of meat sauce and catsup and return to oven for about 5 to 10 minutes. Serve hot or cold. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Make Old Fashioned Cole Slaw Dressing

OLD FASHIONED COLE SLAW DRESSING

2 eggs
½ cup water
½ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup honey
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons prepared mustard

Beat eggs slightly. Add remaining ingredients, blending well. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cool. Serve on shredded cabbage. Yields 2 cups.

Vary Apple Pie

That apple pie will taste better than ever if you add chopped nuts and raisins to the filling. Use a quarter cup of coarsely broken nutmeats, and the same measurement of raisins, for a nine-inch pie.

Garnishes Make Food Attractive

Garnishes add invitation to eating by making good food more attractive. Meats gain in beauty when they come to the table accompanied by fruits.

And the fruits themselves present a glaze of finery and superb flavor when molasses has been used for their garnish touch-up.

MOLASSES GLAZED FRUIT

4 medium apples or 4 green-tipped bananas
3 tablespoon unsulphured molasses
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Core apples and cut in approximately ½-inch slices, or peel bananas. Melt butter in skillet; stir in unsulphured molasses. Place apple slices or bananas in skillet; turn to cover with butter-molasses mixture. Cook until tender: about 10 minutes for apple slices, or 8 minutes for bananas, turning and basting occasionally. Sprinkle bananas with salt. Yield: 4 servings.

MOLASSES PICKLED PEACHES

1 can (1 pound 14 ounces) peach halves
¼ cup unsulphured molasses
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 3-inch piece stick cinnamon
Whole cloves

Drain peaches. Combine peach syrup, molasses, sugar, vinegar, cinnamon, and 2 teaspoons whole cloves; simmer 5 minutes. Stick each peach half with 5 or 6 cloves. Add to hot syrup and simmer 5 minutes longer. Serve hot or cold. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

MOLASSES BROILED FRUIT

4 canned pear halves or pineapple rings
¼ cup unsulphured molasses
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter

Place pears or pineapple in a greased baking dish. Mix unsulphured molasses and lemon juice; bring to boiling point and pour over fruit. Dot with butter. Place under broiler to brown, basting occasionally.

Pimiento Dressing Perks Up Salads

The same old salad you serve meal after meal can be perked up with this new dressing.

PIMIENTO MUSTARD DRESSING

3 tablespoons pimiento, minced
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
Two-thirds cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon cream
Dash of salt, paprika

Add pimiento and mustard to mayonnaise, thinning with vinegar and cream. Season with salt and paprika.

Luncheon Treat

Fill scooped-out tomatoes with corned beef hash, top with a little butter or margarine, and bake until tomatoes are soft and hash heated through. Use a moderate oven.

Veal Chop Sauce

Heat a can of condensed tomato soup with a cup of finely grated cheddar cheese over low heat. Serve over veal chops for something delicious and different.

GROUND BEEF CASSEROLE

1½ pounds ground beef • 1½ teaspoons salt • ¼ teaspoon pepper • 1 cup chopped onion • 1 tablespoon oil • 1 No. 2½ can of tomatoes • 1½ cups uncooked rice • 4 cups water • 1½ teaspoons salt • 3 green peppers, halved and cleaned • 3 large or 6 small onions, fresh cooked or canned, OR 1 package, or can, mixed vegetables, or whole kernel corn drained • ¼ pound sharp Cheddar cheese, grated.

Mix together beef, salt and pepper. Fry onions in oil until golden. Stir in beef, lightly brown. Add tomatoes. Set aside. Place rice, water and salt in casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 35 minutes. Set green peppers down in rice. Place onion or mixed vegetables inside green peppers with cheese. Pour meat mixture over all; cover and return to oven. Bake 20 to 30 minutes longer.

Escapes One Fire To Die In Another

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A week ago 70-year-old Steve Csonka escaped from a fire which leveled the small home where he lived alone. He moved to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Helen Rizor. Yesterday fire destroyed the Rizor residence. Csonka was trapped on the second floor and died in the flames. The Rizors escaped.

Bascom Giles Gets Place In License Plate Plant

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Bascom Giles, former state land commissioner serving six years for bribery, has been assigned as a clerk in the state prison's license plate plant.

Giles, who kept tab on Texas lands, now will keep up with production of some 40,000 license plates a day.

General Manager O. B. Ellis said Giles had made a very good adjustment since arriving at the prison two weeks ago but has had no visitors.

Ellis said Giles went through the regular routine for new prisoners and had neither asked nor received special favors.

State Lagging In Poll Taxes

By The Associated Press

Several major cities indicated Wednesday a flood of poll tax payments must be made in the next six days if the state is to equal its 1952 presidential year voting strength this year.

Poll taxes must be paid by Jan. 31.

Tax payments in the cities were far behind the final 1952 totals but payments are running slightly ahead of the same date in 1952.

Bexar County (San Antonio) was the only reporting county with poll tax payments already more than half of the 1952 figure, with 64,111 paid compared to 102,227 in 1952.

In contrast, Harris County (Houston) reported only about a fifth as many poll taxes paid as the final total in 1952 or 66,387 compared to 317,456.

Corpus Christi reported 18,043 poll taxes paid compared to 43,147 last year. Fort Worth had 41,422 compared to 101,906. Jefferson County, which includes Port Arthur and Beaumont, had 20,500 poll taxes paid compared to 65,357 in 1952.

Bids Opened For Work On Abilene Air Base

FORT WORTH (AP)—H. B. Zachry Co. of San Antonio is the apparent low bidder for a runway extension and an industrial waste disposal treatment plant at the Abilene Air Force Base. Zachry bid $1,467,655. The second low bidder was Gage Bros. of San Antonio with $1,542,307 followed by Texas Bitulithic Co. of Dallas with $1,632,322. Bids were opened by Army Engineers yesterday.

Judge Rejects State Plea To Oversee Bankrupt Action

DALLAS (AP) — Federal Judge Whitfield Davidson rejected yesterday a plea by the state to supervise the liquidation of two bankrupt firms of Joe A. Irwin.

The judge ordered the state receiver, E. M. De Guerin, to turn over any assets of the American Atlas Corp. and J. A. Irwin, Inc., which he may have.

Irwin, a real estate and insurance man, had filed voluntary petitions of bankruptcy for the two firms, which the state asked to be put into receivership.

Davidson said he could see "no reason for divided authority" and added that federal bankruptcy proceedings would not stop any criminal action the state might bring.

Asst. Atty. Gen. William King said the state would push its court action to have the Texas charters of both firms revoked and that he considered the Irwin case one of the most important in the state's cleanup of the insurance scandals.

Navy To Pay Up

DALLAS (AP)—The Navy has indicated it will pay Dallas and other tax agencies a sum in place of taxes on the Navy-owned Chance Vought and Temco Aircraft plants.

Detective Turns Burglar For Rescue

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Lt. Bert Hawkins, a detective in the burglary division, came to the rescue last night when a lock jammed in Louisville's new police headquarters.

A policeman and three switchboard operators were locked in the telephone room about 45 minutes. Nobody could get in or out.

But Hawkins, who knows the tricks of the trade he investigates, used a coat hanger and two screwdrivers to open the metal door.
