CONGRESSMAN MAHON REPORTS

Skip Row Policy May Be Delayed for Year

Congressman George Mahon is hopeful the proposed regulation eliminating skip row planting of cotton will not become effective for the 1960 crop.

That's his expression here after talking personally with H. Laurence Manwaring, deputy administrator in the Commodity Stabilization Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Manwaring is the individual probably most responsible for the proposal, according to Mahon.

The congressman, who has been busy listening to West Texas farmers' complaints against the anti-skip row plan and expressing those complaints to USDA officials from Texas to Washington, stated that Manwaring made no commitment about the status for the proposal in face of the protests.

"But I would think that chances are fairly good that this regulation to count skip row cotton as solid cotton will not become effective for the 1960 crop," Mahon said.

But in regard to the 1961 and later, the prospects are

"The Department of Agriculture appears determined to apply this regulation to the 1961 crop . . . in view of all the angles to it," the congressman stated.

Manwaring told Mahon this week that he (Manwaring) had conducted a meeting on the skip row regulation last spring in Phoenix, Ariz.

The deputy administrator told the congressman that conditions in Arizona and California had prompted the study of the new regulation. For in those areas where irrigation farmers had unlimited water, producers were using the skip row practice to tremendously increase the yield of cotton by making every planted row of cotton an "outside" row.

"He said this was the chief motivation for the proposed change," Mahon reported. "and apparently it was not aimed at the dry land farmer, but more or less at irrigation."

Mahon explained to Manwaring that irrigation cotton farmers in Texas do not resort to skip row planting because of limited water.

He also reported other factors in West Texas farming. "I explained that many cotton producers already had made contracts for next year," Mahon said, "and that with the regulation coming at this time would be taking unfair

BURGLARY CONVICTION

Smith's 71st Arrest Adds Up to 4 Years

His 71st arrest is the one Freddie Lee Smith will remember for a long time.

For it is the one that is placing him behind prison bars for the first time.

The 31-year-old Colorado City police character pleaded guilty Wednesday in 31st District Court here to burglary of J. P. Majors Jewelry.

Judge A. S. Mauzey immediately sentenced him to 2 years in the penitentiary for the offense and revoked a previous 2-year suspended sentence.

Stacked together, the way the judge ordered it, the new and the revoked total up to a 4-year sentence for the defendant.

It will be the first time in prison for Smith who has been arrested 71 times here for offenses ranging from drunkenness, theft, burglary, gambling, abusive language, assault, resisting arrest, fighting, disturbing the peace and traffic violations.

But only the last one really stuck since the theft indictment in 1958 had resulted in nothing more than the suspended term.

Smith broke a hole in the display window glass of the local jewelry after midnight last Oct. 9 and took a woman's wrist watch.

He gave the watch to another person as payment for $13 debts and for a little cash to buy a drink. Smith had first told police he had found the watch on the sidewalk in front of the store. But he changed his story before the judge Wednesday.

There was another plea of guilty Wednesday in 31st District Court before Judge Mauzey.

Louis Ferrell, local carpenter, admitted to forging and passing three checks here Nov. 15 and Nov. 16.

He received a 2-year prison term for the offenses.

Ferrell passed a $250 forged check at H. C. Pendergrass Service Station and checks of $3.70 and $4.50 at the Safe-way store.

JOE OLLIE RUSSELL KILLED

Accident Ruling in Sunday Train Death

Inquest verdict of death by accident was ruled Thursday by Justice of Peace T. E. Arnold in the train death of Joe Ollie Russell, 29.

Arnold's ruling came after an investigation by the justice of peace, District Attorney Eldon Mahon and officers.

Russell was killed shortly after 6 a. m. Sunday by a 105-car westbound Texas & Pacific freight train.

He was last seen by friends as he left a nearby residence, apparently on his way home.

The train crew told Arnold that Russell was lying down between the railroad track rails when their train approached.

They did not see the man until the train was only about 50 feet away, the justice of peace reported.

The train, traveling at a rate of 45 miles per hour, did not have time to stop to avoid the accident, the train crew informed Arnold.

Scene of the accident was about 60 yards west of the T&P crossing south of U. S. Highway 80 on Austin St.

Russell's body was found between the tracks near where the train struck him. However, parts of the body were found beside the track 75 yards westward.

District Attorney Mahon said that Russell, an employee of Continental Cotton Oil Mill, had gone to a residence in the area at 3:30 a. m.

Later he had left the residence and asked a neighbor to drive him home. But the friend was unable to start his car and Russell walked away toward the railroad tracks.

Funeral service for Russell were conducted at graveside Sunday with Rev. R. C. Tieuel officiating. Burial was in Mitchell County cemetery under direction of Kiker & Son Funeral home.

Russell had lived in Colorado City 20 years although born Oct. 23, 1930, in Clarksburg, W. Va.

Survivors are his father, William G. Russell of Colorado City; a daughter, Lillie Russell; 2 sons, Joe Jr. and William Wayne, of Big Spring; a brother, Nolan Russell of Colorado City; 2 half brothers, Eugene Edwards and Willie M. Smith of Lubbock; 2 sisters, Mrs. Queen Ester Geddings of Lubbock and Mrs. Clara Mae Fluellen of Houston.

Knife, DWI Cases In County Court

Charges were filed against 2 persons this week in County Court.

Fred Biggers was named defendant to charges of driving while intoxicated. His bond was set at $500 pending trial.

Biggers was arrested on the DWI charge after police investigated a report a person had driven away in his car after hitting a pickup Sunday evening in 1200 block of College.

Felix Molina, charged with aggravated assault, was fined $100 and costs after he pleaded guilty to the charge.

He admitted striking and cutting Joe Angel Valdez with a pocket knife Saturday. Complaint against Molina was filed by State Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberg.

City police rushed to the scene of a car-train wreck at 11:12 o'clock Monday night.

A 1951 Oldsmobile had been in collision with a freight train at the crossing on State Highway 208 at the east city limits.

However, Patrolmen Dave Shackelford and Truman Henderson found no passengers of the auto at the scene.

Investigation proved later that 2 men had walked to a cafe, phoned for a cab, then gone to an East Side residence.

B. O. Joyce, 81, Dies; Rites Friday

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Barry Otis Joyce, 81, who died Wednesday in the local hospital, following a brief illness.

Rev. Prentice Linam of San Angelo will conduct the services in Kiker and Son Funeral Chapel.

Joyce was born in Bell County March 13, 1878. He moved to Mitchell County in 1905. He and Gladys Linam were married at Spade March 14, 1912. The couple lived north of Loraine, where Joyce was engaged in farming.

Joyce was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

He is survived by his wife of Loraine; a son Barry O. Joyce Jr., of Lovington, N.M.; a daughter, Miss Hilma Joyce of El Paso and a sister, Mrs. Mary Halbert of Amarillo.

STUDENTS TO START HOLIDAYS FRIDAY

Colorado City public school students get the jump on other Mitchell County students for Christmas holidays.

A 2-week holiday period for Colorado Independent School District students—all of those attending Colorado City public schools—will begin after classes end Friday afternoon.

Local students will not return to classes until Monday, Jan. 4, according to Supt. Frank Wilson.

Loraine and Westbrook schools will dismiss for Christmas Wednesday, Dec. 23, after the conclusion of the day's regular class schedule.

Students at Loraine and Westbrook will end their holidays after New Year's the same date as Colorado City, Jan. 4.

Moisture Falls in Two Days

Mitchell County soaked up winter moisture Tuesday and Wednesday — as much as 2.5 inches in some areas.

The rain, slow enough to soak deep into soil, came almost perfectly on the farm and ranch calendar.

It boosted small grains, helped winter pastures, provided seasoning for crop land and didn't arrive until the '59 cotton harvest was just about complete.

Here in Colorado City the official rain gauge on Court-house lawn registered a total of 2.01 inches for the 2-day rain.

Measurement at the Court-house was .75 for Tuesday, .45 for Wednesday and .81 more for Wednesday night after 5 p. m.

But that wasn't the heaviest rainfall for the county. Reporting more were Loraine, Buford, Payne, Landers, Westbrook and Plainview communities.

At the least measurement reported for the county was a good 1.8 inches of moisture at Cuthbert.

Here are the reports received by the Record from Mitchell County areas:

Loraine — 2.5 inches, according to K. L. Taylor of Loraine First State Bank.

Buford — 2.15 inches, according to rain gauge at Bud Loving residence.

Seven Wells — 1.85 inches, according to Mrs. N.O. Brown.

Landers — 2.5 inches, reported at the Bruce Byrne ranch home.

Lowie community — 2 inches, according to report by Mrs. G. T. Gilbert.

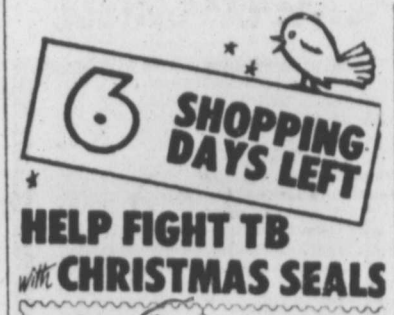

Dorn community — total of about 2 inches rainfall, according to Mrs. T. W. Daughtry.

Payne — total of 2.5 inches, reported by Mrs. J. D. Gibson.

Cuthbert — 1.8 inches, according to Alexander Grocery.

East side of Lake Colorado City — 2.1 inches, according

Church Plans Second White Yule Program

Second annual "white Christmas" program of Calvary Baptist Church will be Sunday from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m. at the church, E. 15th and East over.

The initial event last year made it possible for the church to purchase a city block of property and begin construction of its new complete educational building.

"It is hoped proceeds from this season's white Christmas program will enable the church to begin construction of its auditorium," said Rev. James W. Carraway, pastor.

A large tree, reaching from floor to ceiling, is decorated with improvised white carnations and simulated snow for the Sunday night program in the new educational building.

Members of the congregation and other friends of the church will contribute offerings in white envelopes which will be placed on the tree.

Included in the night's program will be a Christmas film, special music, caroling, a children's choir and refreshments.

Persons desiring to make gifts through the mail may do so, according to Carraway, the church will acknowledge the gifts by return mail.

The tree was decorated for the program by Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. Finis (Buck) May and Mrs. Gwen Carraway — all members of a committee named by the church.

BEATS WAXAHACHIE

Wallace Streaks To Tourney Title

Wallace Wildcats won a thriller from an AA power Turner of Waxahachie for championship of the Cleburne tourney Saturday night.

A crowd of approximately 350 sat spellbound in this tense game until the final buzzer sounded. The score was Wallace 66; Waxahachie 58.

The first five minutes were like a nightmare to Wallace fans. The Wallace coaches, scorekeeper, and fans shook their heads in amazement at Waxahachie led 12-4 in that hectic start.

It seemed as if the Wildcats would get their worst beating in many years as N. Reagor James Williams, and C. J. Jefferson made successful shots from all areas of the court. But the Wildcats (not seeming disturbed at this early stage) made a quick comeback and led at the first quarter by a 16-13 score.

The second quarter was a 'nip-and-tuck' affair and the Wildcats had only a 1-point lead at the half 30-29.

The beginning of the second half found David (Tee Lee) Miles jumping at center with Milton Prather. The ball went to Tony Jones and Wallace led 32-29.

It was the accurate shooting of Charles Lindsey that kept Wallace at least 3 points ahead. Clutch shooting by David Miles, Tony Jones, Clifton Lee, and Curtis Scott kept the Turner High team baffled. Charles Lindsey (who won all tourney honors) made 30 points.

The Wildcats beat Cleburne 55-29, and Midlothian 77-47 earlier during the day.

Other teams participating were Como of Fort Worth, Alvarado, and Grand Prairie.

Wallace received a trophy for 'best sportsmanship.'

The Wallace Wildcats, behind the shooting of Tony Jones and Charles Lindsey, Tuesday night added another win to their large number.

Tony Jones hit 23 points, and Charles Lindsey hit 19 points to pave the way for the Wildcats' 83-61 victory over Brady.

Although Wallace won the game, high scoring honors went to John Peterson of Brady. Peterson made 28 points.

Brady was never in the game as the Wildcats jumped to a quick 12-0 lead. Brady hit, however, score 18 points to 33 for the Wildcats in the first frame. The rebounds of David Miles and Tony Jones and the clutch shooting of Clifton Lee cannot be denied. Clifton Lee had 16 points and David Miles, 11. Four other Wallace players scored in the contest.

Coach Harris subbed freely in this game so as not to make it too much of a run-

FROM BUFORD CLUB

Favorite Recipes For the Holidays

Here are 2 tasty vegetable recipes that are favorites of Mrs. Welden Wiggins and Mrs. A. J. Hooks, members of the Buford Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Hooks tells us her favorite vegetable recipe. Press 2 cups cooked beans through a colander or mash with fork (left over beans may be used). Make a sauce by mixing 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 cup cream or milk.

Heat together until almost boiling — add 2 well beaten egg yolks, stir over fire 1 minute, add the beans, salt and pepper to taste. 1 teaspoon onion juice or small amount of minced onion may be added. Shape into patties roll into bread crumbs, dip into beaten egg, roll in crumbs again and fry in deep hot fat.

Mrs. Wiggins submits her favorite vegetable recipe. Twelve small whole carrots, cooked, 1 can (16 oz) asparagus spears heated, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 6 medium size potatoes, piced and cooked, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup grated cheese.

Place carrots, asparagus and potatoes on platter. Pour 2 tablespoons of the melted butter over carrots. Combine lemon juice, parsley and 2 tablespoons of the butter. Spoon over potatoes and keep hot. Stir flour and salt into remaining butter and gradually add milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sauce is thick and smooth and remove from heat. Stir in cheese and blend thoroughly and pour over asparagus and serve at once.

Animals

A displaced Russian, 66-year-old Konstantine Tscherepanow, liked animals. While walking his dog in a Chicago park, he tried to stop three 15-year-old boys from throwing rocks at ducks on a pond. They turned on Tscherepanow and beat him. The old man fell to the ground and died of a heart attack. Here, his daughter identifies his body while his dog keeps vigil.

WINTERS INVITATIONAL

Wolves Start Tourney
After Loss to Merkel

Colorado City High's snake bit basketball team climbed into the rbus Thursday and journeyed to Winters for opening game in that city's weekend basketball tournament.

Their opening contest was scheduled at 6:40 p. m. today against Wall, always a basketball power in West Texas.

Coach Caddo Matthews' Wolves are among eight teams in the invitational event.

Starting the tourney play at 4 p. m. were Iraan and Lakeview, a District 3-AAA member with C-City. Following on schedule were Stamford vs. Jim Ned at 5:20, the Wall-Colorado tilt at 6:40 and Winters vs. Bronte at 8 p. m.

If the Wolves win over Wall, then they will meet the winner of the Winters-Bronte game at 8 p. m. Friday. If they lose in the opener, then they will meet the loser of the Winters-Bronte encounter at 4 p. m. Friday.

Colorado City, busy most of this week, dropped a disappointing contest here Tuesday night to Merkel High, 50 to 53.

Trailing most of the game, Colorado City climbed even in the fourth quarter and then missed chances to score a victory in the final minutes.

In fact, with four minutes remaining in the game the county was 47-47. But Merkel spurred just enough for the 53-50 victory.

Missing of a couple of 2 field goal attempts and as many free tosses were costly to the Wolves.

C-City's Steve Smith led scorers for the night with 20 points—8 field goals and 4 free throws. Just a point behind was Merkel's James Bible, who had 7 field goals and 5 free tosses.

Bible's teammate, Phil Seymour hit for 15 points. But Colorado City didn't have anybody over the 10-point mark except Smith.

The contest was tight all the way with Merkel ahead 14-13 in first quarter, 26 to 30 in the second and 45 to 40 in the third.

Colorado City B team beat Merkel 31 to 27 in the curtain raiser with John Johnson, Larry Moser and John Moore leading the victors with 8 points each.

USDA 'Sneak' Isn't Democracy's Way

Inequities are numerous in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's proposed performance regulation which would eliminate skip row planting of cotton under the nation's acreage allotment program.

But the most frightening aspect of all is the manner in which the government agency attempted to place the restriction into operation.

Farmers can view the plan as nothing more than a sneak, a maneuver hidden from the general public's knowledge until time almost was too late to act.

Members of Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Committee, the volunteer local citizens who coordinate grass roots understanding with the USDA crop and conservation programs, received no official notice of the skip row ban proposal until after the plan had erupted into a regional cry of protest.

Infact, the USDA had given notice to no cotton producers. And the only way producers had learned the USDA was considering the restriction was through "leaks" down from Washington offices.

The Federal Register of Dec. 3 did print a notation of the impending restriction. But that is a publication the general public never sees.

So the implication is plain that the USDA considered a change sure to be controversial then, instead of placing the question before those persons it would affect, sought to hide the business until it would be too late for protest.

Just how close the governmental agency came to accomplishing this foul can be emphasized by the fact that deadline for USDA consideration of any opinions in the matter is Friday, Dec. 18. And "leaks" to the public made it a public issue only a week ago.

To the dry land farmer the skip row plan is contrary to established soil building and water conservation practices, discriminatory against a separate segment of the agriculture industry, disastrous to those who already have arranged operational loans and land rentals for 1960 under previous acreage allotment policies, dictatorial in its aim to change individual farming operation without regard to local problems.

But foremost of all, this attempt to sneak over a policy in secrecy without advance notice or hearing from those it affects is a body blow that hits at the very foundation of our ideals of democracy. And it will be many seasons before the U. S. Department of Agriculture can recover respect lost in the eyes of Mitchell County farmers.

Don't Be One of the 111 at Christmas

One-hundred and eleven persons will die violently in Texas traffic accidents during the forthcoming Christmas-New Year holiday if predictions released today by the Texas Department of Public Safety hold true.

The ominous forecast came from Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Department of Public Safety, for a 12 day period extending from 12:01 a. m. Dec. 23, through 11:59 p. m., Jan. 3.

The 111 predicted motorcyclists are included in an estimate made by Department Statistician N. K. Woerner, which indicates that 200 persons will die in violence during the period. The breakdown is as follows: motorcyclists 111; homicides and suicides 47; accidental deaths non-traffic 42; grand total 200.

This Christmas-New Year's holiday is expected to be one of the most dangerous for drivers that we have experienced for some time. Not only is the holiday period longer in the number of days it covers, but this has been a prosperous year for drivers and more cars are on the road.

This year's accident rate is running considerably ahead of that of last year and we can naturally expect this trend to carry throughout the holidays. One other factor adds to our dim forecast. Both Christmas Day and New Year's day fall on Friday, making two extra long weekends within the holiday period.

The best we can say is that we hope the statisticians are wrong.

They will be wrong if we motorists will take common sense precautions in driving.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Sweat, Not Tears, Best for Progress

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek discusses a deep subject this week, but not too profoundly.

Dear editor:

One of the reporters following President Eisenhower on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek discusses a deep subject this week, but not too profoundly.

I'm convinced of that all right, but is the rest of the world?

For example, take my Johnson grass farm out here. Regardless of how you stretch the truth, you can't stretch it far enough to cover the fact this place is underdeveloped. Yet, I've been watching the rest of the world, from my nearby neighbors on out in all directions, and if any of them are being held back by me, I can't tell it.

I can't understand it, but some people have a tendency to ignore this basic law and forge on ahead, little aware that I can prove it to them in writing that they're being held back by me. Afghanistan, Mongolia, the African jungles, the frost-bitten North Pole, and several people whose names I won't call and you wouldn't publish if I did.

Understand, I don't blame them. I don't mind saying, if the rest of the world is looking back over its shoulder wondering when I'm going to catch up and free it to move forward, it can stop looking. I don't intend to budge.

If disaster is going to hit the world, as a lot of leaders are fearing, I can't see any difference in sitting still and waiting for it than in rushing forward and meeting it, except that the former is easier, less expensive, and you can do it sitting by a warm fire.

However, to tell you the truth, I don't really think disaster is going to hit, at least not in my lifetime. Man is pretty smart, all right. Lots of times his guided missiles shoot straight, but not having created himself, I doubt if he can eliminate himself altogether.

When that foreign leader claims that as long as one spot on earth is underdeveloped, the rest of the world is held back that much, I understand what he's getting at, but I doubt if Washington can afford it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

EXPERTS FORECAST

Pushbutton Farm Within 20 Years?

By CLINTON DAVIDSON
Special Correspondent

Not long ago some seventy farm editors from various parts of the country sat down together to make a forecast of what farming in the United States will be like in twenty years from now.

These were men who have watched the tremendous changes of the past twenty years and, because of their experience, they are among the best-qualified to project those and other changes an equal number of years into the future.

I am sure that each of them, however, would be the first to admit that had a similar meeting taken place in 1939 none of them could have made a very accurate forecast of what farming is like today. Nevertheless, their opinions about the future are interesting and logical.

There have been more changes in farming during the past twenty years than most of us would realize without stopping to think back. There are one-third fewer people living on farms, production per worker has more than doubled and mechanization has revolutionized farming.

Automation is the next great step in farming, the editors agreed. "Human muscles will be replaced by labor-saving, push-button farm

SPEAKER IS DOUBTFUL

Daniel, Carr Keep Sparring On Merits of Special Session

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

As the year draws to an end, it appears Texas' big political question of the moment will not be answered until next year.

That is the question of whether the Legislature will be called into special session to raise teacher salaries.

Gov. Price Daniel has said that if he does call a session, it will not be until after Feb. 1, filing deadline for the primaries. Next few weeks are to be spent in study and conferences with legislative leaders on possible methods of financing.

Governor Daniel said that in answer to his poll a majority of lawmakers (77 House members and 20 Senators) had written him they favored teacher raises. Many of these, however, attached "ifs" and "buts" that left considerably less than a majority in favor of plunging right into the task in a special session.

Fifty-four Representatives did not send answers to the governor, and it is generally assumed they do not favor a session.

Besides teacher pay, the governor said a special session would also be asked to raise money to pay for medical aid for people on the state welfare rolls.

He will not call a session, said the governor, unless he feels reasonably sure its tasks can be accomplished in the 30 days. But he isn't giving it up, he added, as long as it seems possible "with some hard work to get it over."

LITTLE TIME?—Among those with doubts about the probable success of a special session is House Speaker Waggoner Carr.

In his answer to the governor's poll, Carr said he felt education was too important a subject "to be legislated upon under the extreme pressures of a 30-day limitation."

Carr also called on the governor to spell out well in advance of any session the tax proposals he would submit so legislators would have time to talk them over with their constituents.

Governor Daniel shot back that he would submit, for one, the abandoned property bill which would allow the state to take over unclaimed funds held by banks, insurance companies and other firms. This bill was repeatedly voted down in the House earlier this year.

NO FOR BEACH?—Though his political future is not settled, Governor Daniel has definitely ruled out the possibility that he might become a state or federal judge.

There had been some speculation that Daniel, who already has held a raft of high offices, might succeed retiring Chief Justice of the Supreme Court John E. Hickman or the late Jimmy Allred as a federal district judge.

State Capital NEWS

Daniel said he had great respect for the judiciary, but whether as public official or private citizen, he wouldn't want to be side-lined from the fight for "progress, good government and fair taxation."

He would not say that he would not run for governor or lieutenant governor.

'BOTTLE CLUBS'—For years Texas law against selling liquor by the drink has been no hindrance to the thousands who belong to "bottle clubs."

Serving of mixed drinks to members and guests of private clubs was assumed to be the same as serving liquor in the home.

But the thing has gotten out of hand, says Liquor Control Board Chairman Coke Stevenson Jr. He said there are many clubs selling mixed drinks that are not private, non-profit clubs but are operated like business concerns to make money.

Stevenson and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson have announced a statewide drive to close up the illegal clubs. Proposed new laws also are being drafted to define clearly what sort of club is legal. Present law neither bans nor recognizes "bottle clubs."

Private bars got started in the swank country clubs, then sprang up over the state in business and professional clubs. Individuals then started their own social clubs. It is the latter—the public "clubs"—which are charged with violating the law.

ADOPTION CASE—State Supreme Court has made final its ruling in a case that some say may cause uncertainties in the legal procedure for adoption of babies of unwed mothers.

It upheld the decision of a lower court in returning to its natural mother a child she had previously agreed to have adopted.

State Department of Public Welfare had requested a re-hearing in the case. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, representing the department, said the ruling might result in more "black marketing" of babies.

RELIEF DROPS—As more people become eligible for social security, the number of Texans seeking state old age pension is decreasing.

State Department of Public Welfare reported the number of old age pensioners dropped by 1,426 in the past fiscal year. Number of Texans receiving aid through the Welfare Department was 224,113, only about two-thirds of the 368,418 getting social security checks.

Total monthly welfare payments for the state were some $11,685,333, compared with $20,622,190 a month in social security.

CRIME RATE—Texas fast-growing cities seem to be surging ahead in crime faster than in almost any other area.

Houston had in the first nine months of the year 89 murders, same number as Los Angeles, four times as large a city.

Figures released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation showed these murder figures for Texas' ten top cities: Houston, 89; Dallas, 67; Fort Worth, 40; San Antonio, 37; El Paso, 15; Beaumont, 11; Lubbock, 10; Austin, 6; Corpus Christi, 5; Waco, 4.

SHORT SNORTS—Nineteen candidates will campaign through the holiday season in hopes of winning places in the Legislature Jan. 9. Four posts were vacated by resignations. Special elections usually attract many candidates, since the high man wins without a runoff. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has estimated the 1959 Texas cotton at 4,500,000 bales. This is lower than previous estimates, but better than the 4,308,000 bales earned in the state last year. Average yield per acre will be about 337 pounds.

Advertised Brands Backed by Public

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher

Public Opinion expert Dr. George Gallup has completed a survey which shows that well educated people regard advertising with more favor than persons with less education.

Dr. Gallup found that education, instead of increasing resistance, actually gives a person more appreciation for the services rendered by advertising.

Respect for advertising also increased with income and social progress of various groups. However, the survey showed that a large majority of people in all social and economic brackets feel that life would be more difficult if advertising suddenly vanished.

People told the Gallup surveyors that they like advertising because it provides information about the availability, quality, price and brand of products.

When given the choice between an advertised product and one that has not been advertised, 76 per cent of the public indicated preference for the advertised brand. In other words, advertising is a major factor in the establishment of confidence in a product or a company.

This recent study by the Gallup organization supports dozens of other surveys which show that the public regards advertising as an essential economic service.

Again, there is a strong implication that newspaper advertising is a necessary tool of survival for the retail merchant. For, only in the newspaper can the retailer provide complete information about price, quality and availability of products which the public expects from advertising.

BIBLE COMMENT

Peace Begins in Individual's Self

The sound of autos, buses and trucks blend into a din along the main street. The snow falls on the holiday shoppers rushing through the slush.

From the store fronts, recorded Christmas carols blend harshly with the busy sound of traffic.

The scene is anything but peace on earth, that great promise of the scripture to all men on this most joyous Christmas celebration.

It seems there is less and less time to consider that phrase: "peace on earth."

There is so much to do.

Yet, this is a holiday devoted to the Prince of Peace. In his name men have retreated into lives of religious contemplation.

Others have cheerfully met violent death. Still others have endured great personal tragedy, with His name on their lips—an assurance of peace in time of agony.

Even more than the absence of war and civil disorder, the peace of Christmas has come to mean a peace of the soul.

This single word, "peace," is more often being interpreted as international truce, and the uneasy stillness of former battle zones.

Yet the peace we should be seeking is a reflection of the peace that comes eventually to all men when they have crossed the borders into God's kingdom.

Peace within ourselves is not achieved by defeating another man. It comes when we subdue the personal enemies of greed, lust, slander and selfishness that can become so instinctive in our personalities.

Find this peace here, fight for it with ourselves with for it with ourselves with for it with ourselves with and international peace must follow as logically as summer follows winter.

This Christmas, take a moment to find peace.

LORAIN — Friendship Class of First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Roy Little, for their annual Christmas party Thursday evening, Dec. 10, at 7 o'clock with Mrs. Howard Tarrt as co-hostess.

Mrs. Gene Britton, class president, conducted the business session following prayer by Mrs. A. J. Barron and the class voted on a project for the coming year.

After the business session, there came a knock at the door and a person dressed as a Jew of Jesus, time entered. He introduced himself as an inn keeper and told the story of Mary and Joseph, when they had come to the inn and he had no room, but offered his stable.

The inspiring story was portrayed by Mrs. George Mahoney.

Following the program, gifts were exchanged from the tree and refreshments of open face sandwiches, olives, ice-box fruit cake and hot chocolate were served to Mmes. Joe Terry, Mack Farrington, Hubert Meadows, A. J. Barron, Joe Graham, Gloria Hamilton, Shep Compton, Lawrence Graham, Bobbie Graham, Gene Britton, Howard Tarrt, Mrs. Little and daughter, Carroll.

The Need

There are more than 5,000 children in Texas, each year, who are either born with some tragic deformity; or, who are crippled by disease or accident. Of this total number, more than 3,000 are from families not financially able to pay for corrective treatments at pay hospitals. Therefore each year, 3,000 new cases are created needing medical and surgical treatments such as are provided by the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. These services are made available to the needy Texas crippled children through gifts from generous Texans. These gifts come to the Hospital in the form of cash and as bequests made in Last Wills and Testaments (see list herewith.)

"The departed whom we now remember have entered into the peace of life eternal. They still live on earth in the acts of goodness they performed and in the hearts of those who cherish their memory. May the beauty of their life abide among us as a loving benediction."

SUPPOSE that this boy and girl were your children. Suppose that the boy had been incapacitated by a crippling disease; and that the girl had been born with club feet. SUPPOSE, too, that you were not able financially to pay the hospital, surgical and medical care necessary to rehabilitate your children. THEN, ALL OF A SUDDEN, the services that would be available to you through this Hospital would become as a wondrous miracle for you... and you would, most likely, become one of the first to say...

"GIVE Them Their DAILY BREAD..."

Obviously, Bread symbolizes all of the physical requirements for normal, healthy living. It encompasses, for example, everything that is provided at and through this Hospital for the day-to-day care of, and the rehabilitation of Crippled Children:

Food
Hospital Housing
Nursing
Medications
Surgical Operations
Braces and Fittings
Physical Therapy
Occupational Therapy

This is a big order. Everything from the food to the convalescent therapy is highly specialized. Yes, "Their Daily Bread" represents a gift of great price per child! And such a gift is made effective only through the combined giving of thousands upon thousands of Texans.

Here are Five Ways to Give

Living Trusts can be established to benefit the Hospital during your lifetime by naming the Hospital Board, or any other person you designate, as your Trustee over the property, money, securities or other assets you set aside for that purpose.

Bequests in your last will and testament will convey to the Hospital whatever gift you may desire to bequeath. (In connection with living trusts and bequests it is important to consult an attorney.)

Life Insurance can aid the Hospital through either a new policy, or by making the Hospital beneficiary on any existing policy.

Memorials in honor of loved ones through a gift to the Hospital result in both the names of the donor and that of the memorialized one being permanently recorded in the Hospital's memorial records.

Cash Today! Gifts of cash today provide the Hospital with the all-important current operating revenue that makes possible the day-to-day activities of the Hospital.

These Texans as Trustees and hospital officials have dedicated themselves to the service of the Crippled Children of Texas

'The Nun's Story' Starts Sunday

Showing at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday will be "The Nun's Story," starring Audrey Hepburn and Peter Finch.

Audrey Hepburn portrays the part of Sister Luke, the Belgian girl who became a nursing nun in the Congo, who on a fateful autumn day, under special and extraordinary circumstances, was forever released from her vows. She left the convent because in her own words, she was no longer a true nun. Her story swiftly became the most gripping and dramatic personal story of this decade.

"The Nun's Story," a year in filming, has already been widely acclaimed as a memorable experience behind convent doors. Appearing as the brilliant Congo surgeon is Peter Finch. Playing the part of Miss Hepburn's father is Dean Jagger.

Filmed in Belgium, Italy and Africa (and in the conscience of a young and beautiful girl) "The Nun's Story" has a cast that was assembled from virtually all over the world. Peter Finch hails from Australia and coming from the British Theatre are two distinguished members, Dame Edith Evans and Dame Peggy Ashcroft.

For the chapel sequences, focusing on the rituals and mysteries of the convent, the director (Fred Zinnemann) chose hundreds of women for the roles of nuns. Many of them high-born ladies of royalty, and at least 60 of them were members of Rome's Royal Opera Ballet, selected for their nun portrayals because of the eloquence and grace of their posture and movements.

Miss Hepburn spent almost a year in training for her role as Sister Luke, learning how to conduct herself as a nun and a nurse. She visited churches and convents, hospitals and operating rooms, and received technical tutoring from church officials and from surgery authorities.

Dr. Fortunati and Sister Luke
