Jack Eubank May Regain Freedom

All that appears to stand between Jack Eubank and freedom today is a telegram expected from the warden of the New Mexico State Penitentiary.

That telegram, which could arrive sometime today, would inform Sheriff A. N. Standard that New Mexico's efforts to regain custody of Eubank are being dropped.

Such a telegram (or letter), in the opinion of legal authorities here, would be authority to the sheriff to open the cell door and let the fugitive lifer from Santa Fe go free.

DEVELOPMENT

Meantime, Eubank, who has been in the Howard County jail since March 4, has been told of the newest development. His attorney, Lanny Hamby, talked with Eubank shortly after Wayne Burns, district attorney, had heard by telephone that the extradition efforts of New Mexico will be discontinued.

Sheriff Standard said he will have to have proper written authority before he will release Eubank. Burns, in his phone conversation with the New Mexico attorney general's office, said that he told the New Mexicans to send him an official order to release the prisoner.

Burns said that the word of the decision made by New Mexico to drop its efforts to get its hands on Eubank, a fugitive lifer from the Santa Fe Penitentiary, came to him roundabout.

"A television station newsman in Midland called me Thursday morning," said Burns, "and asked if I had heard anything new on the Eubank case. I told him I had not. I suggested he call the attorney general's office in Santa Fe and gave him the phone number. Late Thursday afternoon, he called me and said that the Santa Fe officers had said they did not intend to press for custody of Eubank."

"I put in a call to the attorney general's office."

CONFIRMED

"He confirmed the statement and said that the decision to let the matter drop had been made by the New Mexico prison warden Harold Cox."

"What puzzled me," Burns added, "was that the attorney general's office said Cox had made the decision last Monday. The attorney general said they had just forgotten to notify Howard County authorities of the action."

Standard said that he would be in no hurry to release his prisoner.

"I want proper authority," said the sheriff. "After all, it is undisputed that Eubank is a convicted murderer and fugitive from justice. That the extradition efforts of New Mexico have bogged down may be true, but I have the responsibility of keeping the prisoner in custody until I get an official say-so to let him go."

SPECULATING

Meantime, attorneys were speculating on what might develop. Warden Cox in Santa Fe said today that New Mexico is despondent over the failure of their attempts to get Eubank back in their state. He did not know of any new plans cooking to renew the effort, apparently.

Meantime, it has been pointed out that Eubank, when he fled the New Mexico prison camp in 1957 and crossed the state line from New Mexico into Texas, made himself a violator of a federal law as well as being an escapee from prison.

Canadian In Big Dope Case Extradited

HOUSTON (AP)—Lucien Rivard, a Canadian under indictment at Laredo, Tex., for allegedly participating in a $56 million narcotics smuggling racket, was in the Harris County Jail today.

Harris County jail officials verified that Rivard was being held.

Asst. U. S. Atty. William B. Jackson, who has been handling the case for the government, was not immediately available to say whether a hearing would be held for Rivard later in the day.

FROM N.Y.

Federal authorities said Thursday night Rivard was to be flown to Houston from New York. However, they said heavy security measures prevented them from releasing any details of the flight.

Canadian officials announced late Thursday that Rivard, 50, a resort owner, was being extradited to the United States. They said he left Montreal aboard a Royal Canadian Mounted Police plane for an undisclosed point in this country.

BOND RAISED

Earlier in the day U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Connolly of Houston raised bond for Rivard from $150,000 to $500,000. The previous figure was set May 27, 1964.

Asst. U.S. Atty. William Jackson said "matters in Canada" prompted a request that bond be denied or fixed at the unusually high figure.

In Canada, opposition parties have accused the government of wanting Rivard out of the country because of official embarrassment over his case.

A Montreal lawyer representing the United States in the extradition proceeding, Pierre Lamontagne, asserted last year that he had been pressed by the government not to oppose bail for Rivard while the case was pending.

BRIBE TRY ALLEGED

Lamontagne said a former assistant to the immigration minister, Raymond Denis, offered him a $20,000 bribe in this connection. Denis was arrested last week.

Youth Electrocuted On Glasscock Farm

Walter Ray Morgan Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morgan Sr., 301 E. 19th, was electrocuted at 7:45 a.m. today when a section of irrigation pipe he was lifting came in contact with a high voltage line.

He was instantly killed. Justice of Peace Pete Underwood of Glasscock County ruled death due to accident.

The accident occurred on the Yater farm, one mile south and 1½ miles east of Lees Store in Glasscock County.

Deputy Sheriff Jake Martin of Glasscock County accompanied Underwood to the scene. Also on hand were Sam Roberts, Howard County deputy sheriff, and a crew from Texas Electric Service Co. who cut off the current to permit removal of the body. The pipe joint was still in contact with the power line after Morgan's death.

According to Deputy Martin, young Morgan and another youth, whose name was not learned, had been taken to the farm by W. A. Yater, their employer. He had left Morgan out at one field and driven on with the other worker.

When he returned to where he had left Morgan, he found the youth dead.

Big Spring Ambulance brought the body to Nalley-Pickles Funeral Home.

Services for young Morgan will be at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Baptist Temple Church. The Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Earl D. Sherman, College Hills Baptist Church in San Angelo. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

He was born May 3, 1949, in Brownwood, and was a junior in Big Spring High School. He was a member of the Baptist Temple Church and an active leader in youth activities.

Walter was active in the Big Spring FFA chapter and played baseball with the Red Sox in the Teenage League. His hobbies were sports, hunting and fishing.

His father is employed by Couden Oil and Chemical Co. Survivors in addition to the parents, are one sister, Linda Faye Morgan, two brothers, Daniel Lee Morgan and David Franklin Morgan, all of Big Spring; and his grandfather, W. M. Morgan, Carbon, Texas.

Assault-Case Football Star Ruled Innocent

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A jury found football star Jim Brown innocent today of assault and battery against an 18-year-old girl in a motel room here last month.

The seven women and five men deliberated an hour and 20 minutes before returning the acquittal verdict in Municipal Court where the Cleveland Browns fullback has been on trial since July 12. His accuser was Miss Brenda Ayres.

Mrs. Morgan Wins Honors, Big Crowd Attends Reunion

Mrs. J. M. Morgan, 1500 Scurry, was pronounced the oldest "old timer" at the Old Settlers Reunion in the City Park this morning. She is 93 years old and has lived in Big Spring since 1908. Her husband, a contractor, built Howard County's old courthouse. Mrs. Morgan was born in Missouri in 1872 and her father was a railroad man.

Mrs. Lady F. Ansel, of Savannah, Ga., was listed as the registrant coming the great distance to the reunion.

The 41st annual Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Reunion got off to a slow start this morning, but by 11:30 a.m. there was a steady stream of cars coming into the park. About 200 had registered at 10 a.m., below last year's count at the same hour.

Don Brooks, master of ceremonies, started the first part of the program by asking for special music from Texas Shorty, world's champion fiddler, and Sam's Band. Later he called on the Lewis (Paw and Maw) McKee family for special music. The 10 members of the family, all musicians, took over and played old-time music, including "Texas Plains," "Rabbit in the Cabbage Patch," "Lone Star Rag," "Take Your Hands Off My Heart," and other numbers.

Lewis McKee has lived in Howard County 60 years.

W. C. (Supe) Blankenship, who has been in Big Spring 37 years — 28 as superintendent of Big Spring schools — made the opening address. He told of attending the first of the reunions, after he came to Big Spring in 1928, when it was held in the east part of the city.

"It is good to meet like this and renew old acquaintances," he said, "and I recognize many for whom I have signed some of the more than 3,400 high school diplomas holding my signature as superintendent. Some of the happiest years of my life were spent while I was principal of an elementary school, because there has been no politics involved. As far as we know now, we will spend the rest of our time here."

Some of the old timers given special recognition this morning were Shine Philips, B. F.

Logan, the Robinson family, and others.

When asked how she had managed to live to be 93 years of age, Mrs. Morgan said: "Just by being a good old Irish woman." She was handed a special gift, donated by Adolph Swartz.

A memorial service, for old settlers gone on to "happier lands" was held at 11:40 a.m. with the Rev. Billy Rudd, East Fourth Street Baptist Church, leading.

Hundreds of chairs had been placed around tables for the regular barbecue lunch at noon today, and food was being placed on the serving line table at 11 a.m. Barbecue was placed over the hot coals early Thursday night; beans and corn-of-a-gun, had been cooking in huge pots for many hours, and all the accessories going with the barbecue had been hauled in, including big pots of coffee and iced tea.

Several families had gathered at the park early this morning, and had blankets, quilts, and chairs placed under the shade trees in the park where they "took it easy" until the program began.

All parking spaces within reasonable walking distance of the Old Settlers Pavilion were taken early. Some cars were bringing people to the park and then leaving, to return later.

An old fiddlers contest was scheduled for 2 p.m. this afternoon and several of the older men and women were seen carrying fiddle cases as they sought places under the pavilion. One of these was B. F. Logan.

Following the fiddling contest several door prizes will be given, and then those wanting to dance will have that pleasure, with music furnished by Texas Shorty and his group. A square dance team is expected to be present tonight for an exhibition during the regular dance begins at 8 o'clock.

The group will break up about 4 p.m., and those returning to the dance will go back to the pavilion.

Widow Jailed

Mrs. Candace Mossler, 46, was held in jail today after the widow of Houston millionaire Jacques Mossler was served with a warrant in Miami, Fla., charging her in the death of her husband over a year ago. Peace Justice Ruth Sutton denied her bond in Miami. A nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 23, of Houston, also has been indicted in the death. Florida prosecutors accused the young Houstonian of stabbing and beating his uncle to death for the love of Mossler's blonde wife. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Missing Coeds Remain Mystery; Clues Traced

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The disappearance of two attractive Dallas coeds, missing since Sunday, remained a mystery today as police sorted meager clues.

State and local officers checked each tip that might lead to Susan Riggsby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21.

Reports the two had been found in North or South Carolina are unfounded, Texas state police said today.

They were last seen here Sunday. A statewide search was launched Wednesday after a bundle of their clothing was found in a ditch near the north edge of Austin.

SORORITY SISTERS

Miss Riggsby was in Austin to enroll for summer classes at the University of Texas. Miss Stark accompanied her to Austin. They are Chi Omega sorority sisters.

Searchers concentrated on midtown Austin Thursday after a drug store operator said he was positive the two young women bought three sandwiches and three malts "to go" and two magazines at his place Wednesday.

Asked if the young women might be in seclusion, Police Lt. Joe Perry, head of the missing persons division, said, "from all we have now we still think they are missing and not hiding somewhere."

PARENTS AGREE

Parents of both coeds, in Austin to await word of their daughters, expressed the same view.

Foes Of New Government Demonstrate

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—More than 100,000 shouting demonstrators marched through the streets of Athens today in a mammoth funeral cortege for a left-wing youth killed in a political riot.

Heavily-armed riot police and troops kept watch over the vast crowd. They were under orders to crush the first sign of violence by followers of fallen premier George Papandreu.

The crowd cried denunciations of the new Greek government, but under the threat of military intervention, the demonstration and burial took place without clashes.

SCORES FAINT

Police, who gave crowd estimates, reported scores of persons fainted in the heat. The scene was chaotic at the cemetery, where thousands jammed the grounds, trampling graves and knocking over tombstones.

The demonstrators cheered wildly as Papandreu entered the cathedral where the body of 25-year-old Sotirios Petroulias lay. Petroulias was asphyxiated Wednesday night during a battle between police and thousands of Papandreu supporters in which more than 150 persons were injured.

TROOP ALERT

The government of Premier George Athanasiadis Novas gave permission to hold the service at the cathedral. But the government placed armed forces in the Athens area on full alert against any violence.

After a 40-minute service at the cathedral, Papandreu left by a side street and the coffin was placed in a gilded hearse for the procession to the cemetery.

More than 50,000 chanting demonstrators followed the hearse through the sun-baked, crowd-lined streets.

WEEK OF TUMULT

The riot climaxed a week of demonstrations touched off July 15 when King Constantine fired Papandreu and made Athanasiadis Novas premier. The 25-year-old monarch broke with Papandreu over the 77-year-old leader's campaign to purge politically active officers from the armed forces, most of them conservatives or royalists.

Athanasiadis Novas, who is 72, charged Thursday night that Papandreu provoked the crisis to cover up involvement of his American-educated son, Andreas, with a left-wing military group known as Aspidia.

The premier charged that Papandreu was "aiming to obstruct the investigation of Aspidia which is now being carried out by justice authorities without outside influence."

Unconfirmed reports said four army officers are being held for questioning in connection with the investigation of Aspidia. The organization is said to be working inside the armed forces to make a neutral nation of Greece, now a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Big Reservoirs Come Under User-Fee Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas members of Congress are concerned as to which lakes in their state will be directly affected by the user-fee provision of the 1964 land and water conservation act.

(Final in Series)

The big reservoirs built in Texas by the army engineers come under the new law, and the Texans who enjoy fishing and boating on them may soon find they have to pay a fee to do so.

Rep. Jim Wright, D., Fort Worth, who actively opposed the fee portion of the act when the bill was passed, has asked the chief of the army engineers and the director of outdoor recreation, to tell him which lakes they propose to designate for collection of fees, how much, and how they propose to enforce regulations.

The law is being put into effect not only on the federally built reservoirs but also on national forests, national parks, and fish and wildlife refuges, as quickly as the mechanics of such a program can be formulated. A $7 annual fee will permit an individual to enter any of these federal areas as often as he wishes.

A one-day permit will be available for various individual recreational areas, many of them as low as 25 cents. Weekly permits also will be available.

"I feel that when such fees are collected for use of federal water areas we have a direct conflict with the historical policy of free use of these waters," said Wright.

"Even though the fee would be charged only to enter land recreation areas, anyone desiring to participate in water activities would be, in effect, paying for use of a federal water area if he had to pay to go through the land en route to the water."

Rep. Ray Roberts, D., of McKinney, whose district runs along the shores of Lake Texoma, also protested the user-fee provision of the law when it was enacted and still is much concerned as to how it will affect the average person.

"The latest word is that every federal reservoir in the Dallas division of the (army engineer) corps is being studied to determine just how each area may best enforce the act," he said.

He said the study involves the question as to how many collection points should be put up on a lake, as well as determination of the fee to be charged.

Entertaining Visitor Enjoyable To Family

Mrs. Mack Gaskins told the Big Spring Kiwanis Club that her family's decision to invite Fumiko Hasegawa, Japanese 4-H Club member, to spend three weeks in her home as a "member of the family" had been a most enjoyable and inspiring experience.

She was in attendance at the Thursday luncheon of the club. With her was Miss Hasegawa, who leaves today for Minnesota to live for three weeks with a farm family in that state. Also at the meeting was Kelly and Kayla Gaskins. All told of their experiences the past three weeks while the young Japanese visitor was in this country. Miss Hasegawa speaks English with some difficulty, but she spoke to the club of her home and of her family. She lives on a farm in Japan.

She was selected under an exchange program to come to the United States and spend six months visiting with American families.

Mrs. Catherine Crawford, county home demonstration agent, was program chairman for the day. She presented Mrs. Gaskins, the two younger Gaskins and the visitor from Japan. She also screened a number of colored slides which Miss Hasegawa had brought with her from Japan showing scenes in the vicinity of her home.

Mrs. Gaskins said that Van, her four-year-old son, was likely to miss Fumiko even more than the other members of the family. The youngster and the visitor from Japan have been inseparable the three weeks Miss Hasegawa has been in the Gaskins' home, Mrs. Gaskins said.

Lloyd Zack Gray was inducted as a new member of the club. He is the 13th Kiwanian to be inducted into the club since Jan. 1 and the club now has 57 active members.

Only 2 Bids For City Boiler

Only two contractors offered bids for the city hall's proposed new steam boiler and lines, according to Roy Anderson, assistant city manager.

A third company had previously estimated the cost, Anderson said, but did not submit a bid.

The two companies sending in bids under the 2 p.m. Thursday deadline were A. P. Kasch & Sons Contractors, Big Spring, with a bid of $11,990, and Hester's Sheet Metal, Big Spring, $12,616. The company that had previously estimated the cost, A-Briggs & Co., Fort Worth, quoted a price of $9,875. However, Anderson said, not only did they fail to submit a bid, but they described the equipment they would install in only general terms.

City Commissioners will consider the bids at the next regular meeting July 27.

The city decided to advertise for bids at a commissioner's meeting last month as part of a joint program with the office of Civil Defense. The city's part of establishing a command post in the basement of the city hall was to put in a new boiler and steam lines to the original fire station and the city auditorium. At the time, the architects estimate of the cost of the installation was about $10,000.

Editor Reported In Smuggle Case

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Mustafa Amin, an influential Cairo newspaper editor arrested in Egypt last weekend, is being held in connection with a large currency smuggling operation, the newspaper Al Moharrir reported today.

Al Moharrir attributed the report to "usually informed sources" but gave no further details.

Housing Bill Okay Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new departure in housing legislation — subsidies to help low-income families pay their rent — was assured today after Senate and House negotiators hammered out a $7.5 billion housing bill.

The conferees finished work Thursday on a draft reconciling House and Senate versions. The compromise is expected to win quick approval in the Senate and House next week.

The rent subsidy proposal, to cost $350 million, generated most of the argument about the bill, and this section did not come out of Congress exactly as President Johnson and his housing advisers proposed.

To be eligible for the rent subsidy, persons would have to meet the same income qualifications that apply to those admitted to public housing. These depend on family size and vary from place to place. They are determined by local housing officials.

The income limitation alters the effect of the subsidy program substantially from what the administration originally proposed. It projected the subsidies as a help for persons not so deprived financially as to qualify for public housing, but still unable to obtain in their communities adequate and sanitary housing for what they could afford.

The subsidies as provided in the bill would be the difference between a fair rent and 25 percent of family income. This is not quite as generous as the administration proposal to provide the amount above 20 percent of income.

The government would pay this part of the rent to nonprofit organizations building or buying housing units. None of the subsidies would go to the private landlords.

Sponsors said it may be two to three years before large volume construction of the housing units can be completed, but effects will be felt to some extent much sooner because the bill authorizes the purchase of existing housing units for the program.

The bill also carries authorization for a $47 million-a-year program to provide 240,000 additional low rent public housing units in a four-year period. Some of the units would be obtained by purchase or rental of existing buildings.

The bill also authorizes $2.9 billion more for urban renewal grants requested by the President to continue in the next four years the program of slum eradication and community development.

U. S. Steps Up Action In Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States stepped up its air strikes against suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam today and flew at least six bombing missions against North Viet Nam, a military spokesman announced.

U.S. 7th Fleet ships continued offshore bombardments of Communist installations. The Navy appeared to be playing an increasing role in the Vietnamese war.

YANKS KILLED

The spokesman said two Americans were killed today, one in a plane crash and one when he failed to answer a sentry's challenge. Another American died in a plane crash Thursday night.

The spokesman said a U.S. Air Force observation plane crashed 50 miles south of Da Nang while directing strikes in the area. The pilot and a Vietnamese observer were killed after their plane had dropped smoke on a target, pulled up and then stalled, according to observers.

MARINE VICTIM
A U.S. Marine in the Da Nang area, 380 miles north of Saigon, was killed before dawn when he failed to answer a sentry's challenge, the spokesman said. The Marine was investigating suspicious noises.

The pilot of an A1E Skyraider was killed Thursday night when his plane apparently was shot down while on a mission 260 miles northeast of Saigon in Binh Dinh Province.

U.S. Air Force and Vietnamese war planes flew 165 sorties against Viet Cong concentrations and other facilities believed used by the guerrillas, the spokesman said.

G. W. Neill Funeral Set

George W. Neill, 86, 1503 E. 3rd, died at a local rest home Thursday afternoon after an illness of 4½ years.

Born Sept. 12, 1878, in Rushville, Ind., he came to Big Spring in 1907. He married Ella C. Wheeler Aug. 10, 1910 in Big Spring. A retired conductor and switchman for Texas and Pacific Railway Co., he was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors and Brakemen.

Services will be Saturday at 3 p.m. in River-Welch Home chapel, Dr. R. Gage Lloyd officiating. Burial will be in City Cemetery.

Survivors include the widow; four sons, George W. Neill Jr., Austin, Raymond E. Neill, Ralph J. Neill, and Frank L. Neill, all of Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Ella B. Carroll, and Mrs. Lola Mae Knowles, both of Big Spring; a step-son, Stanley W. Wheeler, Stanton; 21 grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren; two brothers, Ellsworth Neill, Kaw City, Okla., and Charles E. Neill, Tulsa, Okla.; and a sister, Mrs. Lula Pope, Monroe, La.

Postal Worker Strike Widens

TORONTO (AP) — Mail piled up in post offices across Canada today as wildcat strikes by postal workers spread to at least 43 communities in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

The 1,200 members of the Toronto letter carriers' local joined in the walkout despite pleas for patients from the Postal Workers' Brotherhood. More walkouts were in prospect.

The postal workers are seeking increases of $660 a year. Last week the government ordered increases of $300 to $360 a year. The top salary for letter carriers after five years is $4,600 a year.

Man Proves He's Bilingual

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "Are you bilingual?" an interviewer asked routinely an applicant for one of the government's antipoverty jobs in the Spanish-speaking area of Arizona.

The applicant said he was — but looked befuddled when the next question came in Spanish.

"Yes, you sure you're bilingual?" he was asked again. "Absolutely," the man replied, and he rattled off long sentences in Hungarian.

Court Test On Ruling Against Order Vowed

AUSTIN (AP) — Lawyers for independent producer Russell Maguire of Dallas promise a state Supreme Court test of a ruling that the Texas Railroad Commission cannot force natural gas purchasers to extend gathering lines to all wells in a field.

Dist. Judge Herman Jones issued a temporary injunction blocking enforcement of the commission order Thursday.

Rio Grande Valley Gas Co. brought the successful suit against the commission order.

DENIED MARKET

Dee Kelly, a Maguire lawyer, said Rio Grande's refusal to extend its pipeline denied his client a market for a well with $15 million worth of gas reserves.

The commission order forces natural gas purchasers to extend lines to all producers in a field, and specifically requires Rio Grande to link up with a well operated by Maguire in the West Port Isabel field.

Kelly said Maguire wants only the same line Rio Grande has in the field.

A "STRANGLEHOLD"

"Rio Grande has a stranglehold on the gas market in the field, and if Maguire cannot hook up with its transmission line, he will have to go 17 miles for a connection," Kelly said.

The Rio Grande pipeline would have to be extended 3,610 feet to bring out Maguire's gas.

A lawyer for the company, J. W. Stayton of Austin, said the court issues revolve around $14,000, the difference in the cost of constructing a pipeline to the company's measuring station on Texas 100 and the cost of connecting to Rio Grande's line already in the field.

"It cost him $100,000 to drill the well and it has $15 million in gas reserves, so I don't see why he's objecting to $14,000," said Stayton.

He said the commission order is too indefinite to follow, merely stating that there shall be no discrimination on taking gas in the field.

No Change Due FM 700 Signals

Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson said Friday morning that the city has no plans to change or improve the stop lights at the intersection of FM 700 and Goliad.

"We have had a number of complaints," he said, "but the lights were designed to be extremely visible." Evidently, he said, some persons do not look for the stop lights above the intersection, being used to lower, or side-of-the-street light fixtures.

Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said "We couldn't possibly lower the lights, or trucks would knock them off." He said he could not understand why there were complaints about the lights, as "you can see them for a mile."

Sister Dies

Clara Seest left for Hamilton, Tex. Thursday, where her sister, Miss Nell Seest, died, following a long illness. Funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at Hamilton.

Prison Term Is Probated

Mrs. J. J. Williams, under indictment for writing a felony worthless check, pleaded guilty Thursday afternoon in 118th District Court and was sentenced to serve three years in the state penitentiary. Judge Ralph Caton probated the sentence on good behavior.

Ernest Henry, who had pleaded guilty to a burglary indictment earlier and then claimed his 10 day interval before sentencing, was brought before the court for formal sentence. He was given three years in the state penitentiary.

Immediately after hearing the case, Judge Caton, District Attorney Wayne Burns and court reporter Jerry Spence went to Stanton where two guilty pleas were accepted by the court.

Sentenced in Martin County were Kenneth Fred Pfifer and Lyndol D. Mings, indicted for theft of a cattle trailer. They were each sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary.

Stanton Youth Dies In Crash In California

STANTON (SC) — Alton McCormick, about 20 died at noon Wednesday in Huron, Calif., immediately following an accident in which the fertilizer truck he was driving overturned.

McCormick, formerly a pressman with the Stanton Reporter, left Stanton about seven weeks ago for California, where he was employed by a fertilizer trucking firm.

Services are pending at Arrington-Gilbreath Funeral Home. His mother, Mrs. Pleas Carr, was in Phoenix, Ariz., at the time of the fatal accident. She was on her way to California to visit McCormick.

Survivors include the mother; the step-father, Pleas Carr; a sister, Peggy McCormick; a brother, Bobby McCormick; two half-brothers, Terry and Marcus Carr, all of Stanton; and a grandfather, Jim Buhch, of California.

'Astonished At Demands U.S. Made,' Says Nasser

CAIRO (AP) — Relations between the United Arab Republic and the United States appeared to be taking a turn for the worse today, the 13th anniversary of the revolution that brought Gamal Abdel Nasser to power.

President Nasser charged Washington with making "astonishing" demands on his government in return for U.S. aid.

ACCUSES ATTACHE
The government news agency accused Bruce Taylor Odell, 27, political attache of the U.S. Embassy in Cairo, of being an agent of the Central Intelligence Agency and said he got information harmful to Egypt's security from Cairo editor Mustafa Amin. Amin was arrested in Alexandria last weekend.

Speaking at a rally in downtown Cairo, Nasser said the United Arab Republic "faced many political and economic pressures from the United States. As the United States gave Egypt essential aid of wheat shipments, relations improved in 1959 and 1960, but as the wheat supplies increased, then began the pressure basically concerning Israel."

CLAIMS 'DEMANDS'

Late in 1963, he asserted the United States asked the U.A.R. not to produce nuclear weapons, to stop production of missiles, to freeze the size of the Egyptian army and to allow American officials to make inspections to assure the agreement was being carried out.

"I was astonished by these demands... why not simply announce our country was an American colony?" he told a cheering crowd.

Work In India Carried Her To Headhunter Camp

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—My host was a headhunter.

"Of course he gave up that sort of thing when he became a Christian, but he was still proud of the photograph showing him with the skulls of his victims, and in a neighboring village not long ago, they cut off 34 heads."

The speaker was a spectacled, white-haired Englishwoman named Lily Qui, the first missionary allowed to enter northeast India's Nagaland for 10 years.

She didn't go to the primitive Indian state to campaign against head hunting, but to teach the Nagas to read, write and start development programs to improve their villages.

"Nagaland has 17 languages, but almost none of the people can read or write any of them," Miss Qui recounts. "But in two weeks, 30 volunteers walked in from the hills for training, and then went back to the villages to teach literacy."

Miss Qui, who has been spreading education and the Gospel in India since 1938, is one of about 40 experts from 23 countries who have been meeting in Jerusalem on ways to fulfill one of the world's great hungers—the hunger to read and write.

Few of the experts at the Jerusalem meeting have mingled with headhunters or dodged elephants in jeeps the way Miss Qui has, but all of them have faced the same problem of

NO SUBSTITUTE TO READING THE SCRIPTURES FIRST-HAND

"All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works."—II Timothy 3:16-17.

The Sunday School lesson for July 25 takes up the theme, "Christians Grow Through Study." It features the texts from Acts 17:10-12 and II Timothy 3:16-17.

A glimpse of the activity of Paul and Silas in Berea shows the eagerness with which the Christians there received the word and how they examined the scriptures daily.

The story of the early Christians is the story of a handful of Christ's disciples who, believing in the crucified and risen Lord, went out into a pagan world and literally turned it upside down. In all study, it is a great experience for men to find that what they learn is supported by the Word of God.

A large part of our growth as Christians depends on how we maintain our faith; for if our faith is founded on the truth of the scriptures, it cannot change and must therefore be held as a treasure firmly grasped. At the same time our growth demands that we become well versed in the Bible, the only infallible rule of faith and practice. There is no substitute for the reading of the scriptures themselves.

Ministry Students Also Looking For Better Answer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The same challenges of old yardsticks that brought revolts to college campuses are going on among students for the ministry, says the Rev. Dr. Duke McCall, president of Southern Baptist Seminary.

Pilot Guides Lake Flock

DENISON (AP)—A 48-year-old former Air Force bomber pilot, the Rev. Thomas E. Arney of McKinney, has been named a full-time resort minister.

The Presbyterian preacher was named to that post by the Lake Texoma United Ministry, an organization backed by the Texas and Oklahoma Council of Churches.

"I feel this offers a tremendous challenge," said Rev. Arney. "It will call for sacrifice and rededication, but my family and I are not afraid of what might come. I am actually thrilled at the possible scope of the work."

Resort ministry is not new, but it has been summer work in national parks or areas. It is believed this is the first time that a full-time ministry has been created for a recreation area.

Arney will set up headquarters in Denison but said he doubts that his ministry will be waterborne this year. He plans to work from shore in his car.

"I would hope to involve every minister and Christian layman in the area in the work," he said. He added that offers to help have already been received.

Arney said the church is developing new methods and techniques.

"If we secure the high level of acceptance I hope for," he said, "we could ultimately bring in seminary students in the summer to a point that we could have services at every camp ground on Texoma."

He pointed to the many church camps that dot Texoma, but said he didn't feel that they would enter into the picture.

It hasn't shown in the same ways as on other campuses, says Dr. McCall, but seminary students "are no longer willing to swallow dogmatic statements. They no longer come in saying, 'I am a young theologian, teach me what Baptists think'."

The student questions any definite statement a professor makes, he said, because "he looks at the world and says the old answers have not solved all the problems and asks isn't there a better answer?"

Dr. McCall, president of the oldest and second largest of six Southern Baptist seminaries, said this has forced a revision in the way courses are taught.

Seminary students want to change the world and are impatient with present progress, he said in an interview.

"If I make some small contribution to move the world a little bit closer to the ideal of peace on earth, I will be satisfied," he said. "The student wants to see all armies disbanded in his lifetime. He wants to solve labor-management problems his first Sunday in the pulpit. He is frustrated by differences of vested interest."

Dr. McCall attributed a drop in enrollment at seminaries to the fact that "channels of change are cluttered." Many in the Peace Corps are seminary graduates, he said, and many more will be entering social work with the increase in federal welfare programs.

These may provide the best short term answers, Dr. McCall said, "but in the long term, the answers are religious answers because you change the basic attitudes of a community and this takes a long time, some miracle work and the grace of God."

Students no longer enter the ministry to escape worldly problems, he said. "The civil rights movement has taken care of this. They move to the eye of a hurricane that can tear a com-likely to get involved or can I be more effective as a politician or social worker?

"We thought the church provided the answer. The young theologian is not sure the institutional church is the answer. He is frustrated by the differences in the ideal church and the actual church, between what we preach and what we practice."

Puffy has a problem. She's much better at climbing trees than she is at getting down again. Usually someone has to get a ladder and bring poor Puffy back to earth.

People share Puffy's problem. Their fears are forever driving them to do what they can't undo. They run away from reality only to wish they hadn't. We have even coined the idiom "up a tree" to denote the dilemma of a situation from which we cannot free ourselves.

With people, it takes more than a ladder to solve the problem.

Through the centuries men have found Faith an answer to fear. Our churches cultivate courageous Christians. For with confidence in God comes confidence in ourselves.

The man who knows he's never alone doesn't run away.

Sen-Dodger Trade Pleased Everyone

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer

A good trade, says an old baseball axiom, is one that makes everyone happy. Therefore, the multiple player swap between the Los Angeles Dodgers and Washington Senators Dec. 4 was a good trade.

And the Senators are tickled pink. They got two good, solid starting pitchers, Phil Ortega and Pete Richert, along with the two other regulars, third baseman Ken McMullen and outfielder Frank Howard, and reserve Dick Nen.

He drove in three runs with a couple of singles and pitched a six-hitter — with one-out relief help — in leading the Senators to a 5-1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Thursday.

fifth victory in six starts, New York trimmed Chicago 3-1 and Kansas City blasted Baltimore 9-2 in the only other American League games played. Detroit and Cleveland were not scheduled.

Richert's two-run single in the second inning broke a 2-1 deficit and was all he needed for the victory, but he added another RBI on a bunt single in the sixth.

And while the Senators were basking in the rarified atmosphere of their relatively high position, the Twins again called on Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Tony Oliva for the heavy duty to complete a sweep against Boston.

Allison drove in five runs with his 13th and 14th homers, Oliva had three runs batted in with a single and double and Killebrew's 19th homer and a single accounted for two more.

Boston's Carl Yastrzemski had a double, triple and homer and raised his league-leading average to .345. Ken Harrelson and Bill Bryan each had a two-run homer among their three hits in Kansas City's rout of Baltimore. Fred Talbot limited the Orioles to six hits while his mates clubbed 15.

Home runs by Tommy Tresh and Bobby Richardson were enough support for the Yanks' Whitey Ford. The veteran lefty struck out 10 White Sox walked one and scattered seven hits in going the distance for his 11th victory.

Optimists Slam Tribe, 14-12

The Optimists scored three runs in the fifth and then held on to edge the Indians, 14-12, in a Hi-Junior Baseball League game here Wednesday night. Danny Johnson picked up the mound win while Ronnie Wrightsil accepted the loss.

The Optimists outthrew the Tribe, with Simon Terrazas, Johnson, and Cooper Proctor getting two blows each for the winners. Carmen Gonzalez had two safeties for the losers.

Local Teams Launch Play In Tournament

Play in the District 3 Little League tournament gets under way in the American League Park on the HCJC campus here at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Six teams, four of them representing Big Spring, are entered in the week-long meet. All leagues here are represented by all-star teams, as are two circuits in Andrews.

Midland was eligible to send its champions but play there never progresses beyond the City championships. The teams here will be playing for a spot in the Area tournament.

The first round game pits the Big Spring Nationals against the Andrews Americans. Winner of that imbroglio challenges the Big Spring Americans Thursday night in the other semi-final action.

Finalists come to grips at 7:30 p.m. Friday. All contests take place in the American park.

Director of the tournament is Troy Love, who has faithfully and diligently served the American League as its president the past two years.

Tournament administrator is S. A. Bradford. No overwhelming favorite exists in the tournament for the simple reason that there's no way to compare the teams.

These are all-star units, playing together for the first time. The National League here supplied the champion in the recent City tournament, at which time the Newsom Braves defeated the International League's Comets in the finals, 5-0, behind the superlative pitching of Dave Duncan.

Their first round opponent had not been determined at this writing but will probably be announced over the weekend, according to Dick Walker, State NBC commissioner.

Monday night's encounter will send the Big Spring Texans against the Andrews Nationals, who drew a first round bye.

The Big Spring Gage Oilers, who host the Abilene Sports in a return baseball game at Steer Park at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, have been informed they will play their opening game in the State NBC tournament in Lubbock at 7 o'clock Saturday, July 31.

Lions Defeat Giants, 8-5

In a game limited to five innings by agreement, the Lions knocked off the Giants, 8-5, in Sophomore Baseball league play here Thursday night.

The contest wound up the regular season for the circuit. The Lions made the most of five hits. Bill Davis notched the mound win.

Site Of Women's Softball Play

Several children take advantage of the new softball field provided by the City of Big Spring in the above picture. The park is located just off FM 700 and Eleventh Place at the eastern fringes of the city. Cosden's refinery provides a backdrop for the setting. Women's and girls' teams are making use of the facility this year.

Hank Aaron Leads Milwaukee Surge

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Hank Aaron ever decides to get in step with the rest of the world the Milwaukee Braves are in trouble.

Putting his wrong foot forward as usual and playing despite an upset stomach, Aaron hammered his fourth homer in as many games as the Braves stretched their winning streak to 10 by whipping the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2 Thursday night.

Aaron, who was forced out of the game in the seventh inning, has been Mr. Consistent for the Braves during their streak, hitting safely in nine out of the 10 games for a .412 batting average with the four homers and 11 runs batted in.

And the 31-year-old right-handed slugger, who went into the season with a .320 lifetime average, still hits all wrong.

POWER SECRET

Billy Herman, currently managing Boston but once a coach with the Braves, probably explained Aaron's manipulations at the plate best.

"He hits off his front foot and still gets so much power," Herman said. "That's against all rules of batting. But although he hits all wrong, he still manages to generate all that power, because even when he overstrides, his body and arms remain back."

Aaron actually provided the only run the Braves needed against the Dodgers, tagging a three-run homer in the first inning off Bob Miller after singles by Felipe Alou and Mack Jones. Kico Carty also hit a homer in the first as Tony Cloninger brought his record to 12-8 with Billy O'Dell's relief help.

The victory moved the Braves to within three games of the Dodgers while the second-place Cincinnati Reds closed to within 2½ of the top by disposing of Warren Spahn in the third inning en route to a 5-4 victory over San Francisco.

ED BAILEY SHINES

Elsewhere, Ed Bailey slammed two homers, including a grand slam, and two singles for eight runs batted in as the Chicago Cubs walloped Philadelphia 10-6, and 18-year-old Larry Dierker pitched Houston to a 3-2 victory over St. Louis with a five-hitter.

Spahn, 44-year-old left-hander, acquired from the New York Mets, made his first start for the Giants and was jumped on by Cincinnati for three runs, three hits and two walks in 2½ innings. One of the hits off Spahn, who was not involved in the final decision, was a homer by Pete Rose.

The Reds trailed 4-3 before Tony Perez pulled them into a tie with a homer in the eighth inning, then drove in the winning run in the ninth with a bases-loaded grounder.

Bailey led a 15-hit Cub attack that also included a homer by Ernie Banks. Johnny Callison hit two homers for the Phillies and Johnny Briggs one.

Dierker, bringing his record to 4-4, was tagged for a first inning triple by Dick Groat, then did not permit another hit until the seventh en route to his first complete game in the majors. Bob Aspromonte's two-run single in the sixth put the Astros ahead to stay 3-1.

Sophomores To Make Big Difference For Bovines

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas University's football fortunes will be determined by the talents of sophomores during the 1965 season.

A Texas University football brochure released Thursday expressed this opinion, noting that two-thirds of the team will be first-year players.

"I know that we have some good prospects in our young bunch," Coach Darrell Royal said in the brochure, "but it may take a while for them to catch on."

The team lost 19 players from the 1964 squad which had a 10-1 record, including an Orange Bowl victory over top-ranked Alabama. The 1965 squad, however, will include All-America linebacker Tommy Nobis, line men Pete Lammons, Frank Bedrick and Jack Howe, and backs Phil Harris, Marvin Kristynik

Player Takes Stroke Lead In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although the Professional Golfers Association considers the National Challenge Golf Match an exhibition, the three pros and three amateurs taking part in the 72-hole event have other feelings.

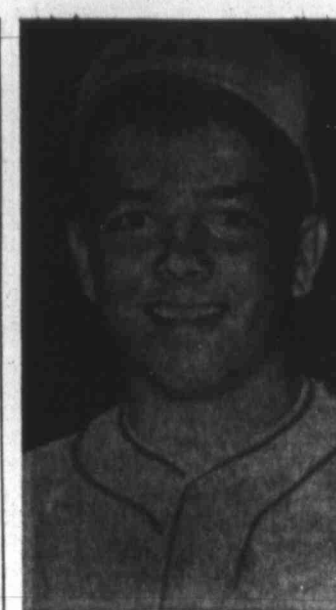

"Certainly I'm serious about it," U.S. Open champ Gary Player said after shooting a first round 69 Thursday and taking a one-stroke lead over amateur Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va. "Wouldn't you be serious for $20,000?" he asked.

The winner of the four-day match ending Sunday gets $20,000, second-place pro wins $17,000 and third-place pro receives $13,000.

Arnold Palmer shot a 71 over the 6,834-yard par 35-36-71 Lakewood Country Club course while Jack Nicklaus came in with a 72 to tie amateur Deane Beman. Del Morey of High Point, N.C., the third amateur bogeyed three of the first four holes and shot 74.

"I'm serious about it because I need the competition," Palmer said. "And none of us like to lose. We always try to beat each other no matter what we're playing in."

"Sure I want to win," Nicklaus echoed after a round in which he shot only one birdie and two bogeys.

Angels Place Two Boys On All-Star Contingent

Two members of the pennant-winning Angels were named to the Sophomore Baseball league's all-star team chosen recently by players active within the circuit.

The two are Gary Newsom, hard-hitting catcher, and outfielder Tom Wood.

Four other Angels were selected for the alternate unit. The contingents:

Goalby Is Out Front In Hartford Tourney

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Golf pro Bob Goalby hopes he has shaken the slump that reduced his earnings from $46,240 in 1962 to $11,173 last year.

The 34-year-old Goalby is highly rated among his play-for-pay colleagues, so it's been hard to figure out what, if anything, has been ailing him.

As of the moment, the 6-foot,

195-pound Goalby has collected $11,679 this year, and if he continues to play the way he did here Thursday, he could wind up with another $11,000 top prize in the $70,000 Insurance City Open.

"Wish I knew what I was doing different from the way I have been playing," said Goalby after shooting his sizzling seven-under-par 31-33-64 Thursday to pace the first round leaders of the ICO.

He holds a one-stroke margin over Dick Rhyán, 29, a comparatively new face on the tour. But there are five with 67s, 17 with 68s, and a flock of other serious challengers.

Gene Littler, winner of the Canadian Open last week and fourth in the PGA money-winning standings, is among a bunch of 70s, along with Billy Casper and Homero Blancas, an outstanding rookie.

Oldster Honored

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Fred White, a 102-year-old Lake Charles sports fan, will toss out the first ball Saturday night in Houston for the Cincinnati Reds-Astros game. He had expressed a desire to see the Astrodome when he celebrated his birthday May 18.

Two Oilers Are Due To Retire

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Houston Oilers veterans apparently will not play football this season.

Linebacker Larry Onesti and flanker Charley Hennigan did not show up Thursday night when 19 other members of the American Football League team underwent physical examinations.

Hennigan, who caught 101 passes last year, had asked the Oilers for a readjustment of his contract, which still has two years to run. The Oilers refused and put him on the retirement list.

Onesti had indicated he might not play any more because of injuries.

Bailey Goes On Rampage

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs were chanting today, "Ed Bailey how you made those runs come home."

Bailey, well-traveled 34-year-old catcher, slammed across eight runs — four on a grand slam homer — as the Cubs clubbed the Philadelphia Phils 10-6 Thursday.

It was the top RBI production of the major league season and matched Bailey's RBI total in 53 previous Cub games this year. Previous single game high for the big league year was six, shared by Milwaukee's Felipe Alou and Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell in the National League and Cleveland's Vic Davalillo in the American League.

The major league record for one game is 12 RBIs by Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals on Sept. 16, 1924. The American League record is 11 by Yankee Tony Lazzeri May 24, 1936.

"I'm a hard hitter, not a cagey hitter," said Bailey, who came to the Cubs this year after stints with Cincinnati Reds, San Francisco Giants and Milwaukee Braves.

"When they pitch to my power, I can really deliver."

Estep Advances In Net Tourney

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Mike Estep of Dallas, Tex., advanced to the semi-finals of the St. Louis Invitational Junior Tennis Tournament Thursday by defeating No. 1 seeded Donald Lutz, Los Angeles, 6-1, 7-5 in the boys 16 division.

George Taylor of Houston, Tex., made it to the quarter-finals by winning one match, but was then tripped by Antonio Ortiz of San Turce, P.R., 6-3, 6-4. Taylor and Estep teamed to defeat Jim Hallinger and Dave Sutoris of Kansas City 6-2, 6-0 in the third round of the boys 16 doubles.

Whit Cline of Amarillo, Tex., and John Mertz of Corsicana, Tex., won their doubles match by default.

In the junior boys doubles, Mike Beene of Odessa, Tex., and Ronnie Kahn advanced to the third round with a 9-7, 6-4 win over Phillip Adams of New Orleans and Dan Bleckinger of Oshkosh, Wis.

THREE-CAR WRECK INJURES THREE
FM 700-Goliad is scene of collision Thursday

Several Injured In 3-Car Accident At Goliad, FM 700

A three-car smashup at FM 700 and Goliad sent three persons to Big Spring hospitals Thursday afternoon.

Injured in the accident were Genie Gillean, 1206 Lancaster; Eddie Mae Graham, 1300 W. 16th. The Gillean and Fletcher girls, both 15, were reported in good condition at Howard County Hospital Foundation Friday morning.

The Gillean girl suffered severe facial and head lacerations; the Fletcher girl had a dislocated shoulder. Miss Graham was taken to Cowper Clinic, where she was treated for leg lacerations and released Thursday afternoon.

The late model sedan driven by Cynthia McNeese, 3611 Conally, which was heading west on FM 700, had as passengers the two injured teenagers. A car driven east on FM 700 by Mrs. Zora Lee Ryder, 181-B S. Fairchild, was preparing to turn on Goliad from FM 700 when it was struck from the rear by the car driven by Miss Graham, according to Mrs. Ryder. The Graham car then careened into the McNeese sedan, completing the wreckage. The Ryder car was driven away and the other two cars were demolished.

McAlLEN, Tex. (AP)—Veteran crop duster pilot Tom Putnam 50, of McAllen died today of injuries suffered in a plane crash.

The crackup occurred Thursday about 3 miles south of Alamo.

Arrangements were made to fly him to Brooke Army Medical Center at San Antonio but engine trouble forced a military plane to turn back to the base there before it reached McAllen.

DEAR ABBY

Not The Solution

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns my son (I'll call him Joey), who is 18 and the eldest of six children. He was an honor student and won a partial scholarship. Last year he started going with a 17-year-old girl. He just informed us that he wants to marry her. It seems she is having trouble at home and our son wants her to live here with us, after they get married, while he goes away to college. We have five other children, Abby, and I don't know how we could manage it. It's not fair to my husband, either, as he already works very hard with long hours, trying to support the family he has. Can parents just refuse to help their son? He could never marry her without our help. We were hoping Joey would finish his education before thinking of marrying. What's the best way to handle this touchy problem?

JOEY'S MOTHER: You would be doing your son a great favor to refuse to help him marry this girl now. Marriage should not be used as an "escape" for a girl to get out of the house. I suspect she is too young for marriage and too old for adoption. Joey may be a bright student but he has much to learn about life. He's generous, but short-sighted. Guide him.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd say something about retirement for housewives. I never was crazy about housework, but I have done it for over 40 years. I've raised my children and learned to be a good cook and keep a neat house. I did all my own washing and housework because these things are expected of a woman. Now my husband is retired and he lays around the house all day, but I am busier than ever. He wants three big meals a day, a fresh shirt every morning and all the things he's been used to. I love my husband and want to do right by him. But, Abby, I am so tired. When I suggest that he help me with something in the house, he just laughs and says, "That's woman's work." When do women retire? WEARY

DEAR WEARY: Some women "retire" the day they get married. Others must wait until they are buried.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and have just completed my freshman year at a coed college. I want to tell all those girls who "wonder" if boys really like a "sweet, old-fashioned" girl what I learned from experience.

Don't be shocked if even the "best" boys try. After I painstakingly explained my views on the matter of morals, many more dates and fine friendships resulted. Some jokingly called me puritanical, prudish, and mid-Victorian, but I was elected to a position of high honor by the student body. There were times when I actually pitied the poor girls who had allowed boys to liberate, thinking it would increase their popularity.

(I have a brother, and boys talk.) The girls who were parked on dark roads at night were ignored by the same boys in broad daylight. Keep telling young girls that it pays to be good, Abby. I am—and I am... "NOT SORRY"

DEAR ABBY: I am almost 16 years old and I know what's considered good manners and what isn't. But what I want to know is why can't I just be myself at home?

When I eat I like to sit comfortably, and so I lean back in my chair. My mom says make a habit of your "company manners" and you'll never have to worry about "going" when you're out.

LEAN TO DEAR LEAN: You're not. We are all creatures of habit, and habits are learned at home. So

O. N. Laster Funeral Held

COLORADO CITY — Services for Oren Nathaniel Laster, 88, were held at the Dunn Baptist Church at 2 p.m. today. The Rev. Cone Merritt of Snyder officiated, assisted by the Rev. George Magnor of the Buford Baptist Church. Burial was in the Dunn Cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

Mr. Laster was born in Grant County, Ark., Jan. 22, 1877. He married Mary Alice Davidson who died in 1933. He was a member of the Dunn Baptist Church, and was a retired farmer who had lived in Mitchell County and Colorado City since 1924. He had been in ill health for a long time.

Survivors are three sons, O. N. Laster Jr., China Grove, C. E. Laster, Dunn, Ben Laster, Snyder, and seven grandchildren.

Bank Women Meeting Here

Bobbie Taylor, chairman of The Panhandle-West Texas Group of the National Association of Bank-Women, Inc., will preside at a two-day meeting here Saturday and Sunday in The Holiday Inn. Local arrangements for the meeting have been made under the direction of Mrs. Ivabelle Marr, assistant cashier, Security State Bank, and Betty Raines, assistant cashier, First National Bank.

William R. Sewell, vice president of the Midland National Bank, will be the featured speaker at a banquet Saturday evening. His topic will be "A Banker and His Civic Responsibility." Jewell Shelton, assistant vice president of the Fidelity National Bank & Trust Co., Oklahoma City, Okla., will be the speaker at the Sunday morning meeting.

The National Association of Bank-Women, Inc. is an organization for women holding executive and official positions in banks, savings banks and trust companies. There are more than 4,800 members located in 50 states and four foreign countries.

Witnesses Go To Meet

"Twenty-five delegates of the Big Spring congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are making plans to attend the district convention to be held in the Ector County Coliseum in Odessa July 29-Aug. 1," J. W. O'Shields, presiding minister of the Big Spring congregation said.

"These conventions are stepping stones in the training that is given to Jehovah's Witnesses to make them more effective in their ministry."

"Word of Truth" is the theme of the convention, the subject around which the program will be developed. Today there is a growing feeling of discredit toward the Bible even in lands that profess to be Christian. The convention will be of real benefit to persons who believe the Bible regardless of their religious association.

O'Shields said that it will present, in the various discourses, information that is irrefutable to show that the Bible stands vindicated as authentic.

O'Shields mentioned as a highlight of the program talks that will consider archaeological evidence to confirm the Bible's account of chronology as well as historical evidence that will coincide with prophecies of the Bible to show they have been fulfilled.

Coahoma Scout At Philmont

A Coahoma Boy Scout, Rob Shive, is taking part in the National Junior Leader Instructor Training Camp at Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, N. M. The ranch is located in the Sangre de Cristo Range of the Rockies. The program is designed to prepare patrol leaders to assist in training junior leaders.

Shive is a Star Scout in the Buffalo Trail Council. The 12-day camping session includes living in tents, camping by patrols and practicing the skills of scoutcraft. The training is at the Rayado Camp of the ranch. The early-day Santa Fe trail once brought settlers through the area where the 137,000-acre Scout ranch is now situated.

and James A. Blalack, in ceremonies this morning at the office here.

A. A. Wadle, IRS Officer, Marks 20 Years Service

A ceremony this morning at the Big Spring Internal Revenue Service office marked 20 years of service by A. A. Wadle, revenue officer for the Big Spring office.

Wadle received a Career Service

Award from the Southwest Region of the U.S. Treasury Department. He was also presented a 20-year pin.

Making the awards were Oscar Neal, chief of the collection division, Dallas, and James A.

Blalack, chief of delinquent accounts and returns branch, also of Dallas.

Wadle has been with the Big Spring office since March, 1961. Prior to coming to the office here, he was with the Austin district. His service with the IRS has been with the two districts. The Wadle family lives at 602 W. 17th and includes a daughter, Barbara, who is a sophomore at Abilene Christian College.

BUT HELP NEEDED

Center Closes Formal Drive

"It was the average person, who made an extra sacrifice, that put our campaign where it is," Bill Pollard, chairman of the equipment campaign for the Howard County Rehabilitation Center (Crippled Children), said Thursday.

At a special meeting of the campaign committee, the formal effort to raise funds to purchase equipment for the new $165,000 center, was closed.

"However," Pollard pointed out, "we still need help in getting the building properly equipped, and all contributions will be gratefully accepted."

The total received for this fund through Thursday was $10,328.12. Jim Thompson, center director, said. This includes $150 pledged on a television program, but which has not been paid. Some $20,000 is needed, center officials said, to fully equip the center.

Pollard pointed out that many women's clubs had indicated an interest in participating in the campaign, but the clubs would not be meeting again until the fall. His committee is hopeful additional assistance will be forthcoming when the groups resume sessions.

The Rev. V. Ward Jackson, president of the center's board, expressed appreciation to the campaign committee for its work during the summer months, and to the many residents who had a part in purchasing equipment.

"Our magnificent new facility would not be complete without this vital equipment," he pointed out, joining with Pollard in urging residents who still want to have a part in the effort to contact the center.

Formal opening of the new center will be announced later, Jackson said, probably in September.

Assisting Pollard in the campaign were Louis Carothers, Joe Pickle, James Cape, Col. M. E. Frantz, and Mrs. Rube McNew.

Rodeo Slated At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY—The Western Riding Club of Colorado City is sponsoring an approved AJRA rodeo July 29-31 at 8 p.m. each day at the club arena west of town.

Show producer is Red Whately, Crosbyton. The events will be bull riding, saddle bronc riding, ribbon roping, tie-down calf roping, barrel racing, flag racing, pole bending and steer riding.

Headquarters will be at the Baker Hotel. Entrants may contact Dolores Wood, secretary, or write Box 184, Colorado City.

Mrs. Watson Dies Thursday

COLORADO CITY—Mrs. Harold Watson, 49, died here at 9:45 p.m. Thursday at Root Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Born in Springtown, May 9, 1916, she married Harold Watson in Brownfield June 28, 1936. After her marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Watson lived in Colorado City until 1944, when they moved to Denver City, Tex., where they lived for 17 years. They then moved to Houston for two years, before returning to Colorado City.

Mr. Watson is the administrator of the Root Valley Fair Lodge. Mrs. Watson was the executive housekeeper of both the Root hospital and lodge. She was a member of the 22nd and Austin Street Church of Christ.

Services will be in the 22nd and Austin Street Church of Christ Saturday at 1:30 p.m., the minister, Roy Holland, officiating, assisted by Carl Hecker, minister of the Church of Christ of Pasadena, Tex.

Burial will be in Cedar Hills Cemetery, Abilene, Saturday. Survivors include the husband; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam White, Brownfield; two daughters, Mrs. I. G. Stephens, Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Eli Casey, El Paso; a son, Sam Watson, Abilene; a sister, Mrs. Johnny Benson, Brownfield; and six grandchildren.

Sea Theme Dominates 'Hi, Bye'

"Hi and Bye the Sea" was the theme for the monthly coffee held Thursday morning from 10 to 11:30 a.m. in the Officer's Open Mess at Webb AFB. Hostesses were wives of members of Class 6-H.

Symbols of the sea were used in decorations throughout the entertaining area. The buffet table was draped with fishnet caught at the corners with miniature sea creatures. Behind the table was a backdrop painted with a sailboat scene in colors of red, white and blue, and refreshments were served in mock clam shells. The centerpiece was a large red lobster made of paper-mache. An ice-breaker game involved matching colors of name tags for conversation during the social hour.

Farewells were said to Mrs. J. H. Larson, Mrs. Frank D. Johnson, Mrs. Robert Leggart, Mrs. James R. Barnhart Jr., Mrs. Barry G. Flanary, Mrs. Tommy Stroud, Mrs. Charles Peterson, Mrs. Anthony H. Hodges, Mrs. William J. Lucas and Mrs. Thomas G. Moore.

Also, Mrs. Gilbert J. Achter, Mrs. Gary Pfeiffer, Mrs. Robert E. Dempsey, Mrs. James Wallace, Mrs. Jeffrey B. Gordon, Mrs. Ronald E. Dullen, Mrs. James F. Cox and Mrs. Allen J. Menard. Three women whose husbands have been assigned to Webb AFB are Mrs. Larry L. Ledbetter, Mrs. Roland Travis and Mrs. Richard L. Fiehsig.

Welcomes were extended to Mrs. Kenneth D. Caughron, Mrs. Albert E. Hester, Mrs. Fred Malatesta, Mrs. James Rouch and Mrs. D. W. Wingate. Mrs. Don Reaves will participate as an associate member of the club.

Attendance prizes were won by Mrs. James R. Barnhart Jr., Mrs. Paul L. Tiley, and Mrs. G. W. Green. Mrs. H. C. Hill was a guest.

Games Set For Charity

A unit charity game, to be played at 8 p.m. Aug. 6 at the Scarbrough Hotel in Midland, was announced by Capt. Ron Kibler, director, at the duplicate games held Thursday evening in the Officer's Open Mess at Webb AFB. Also, next Thursday evening a Master Point charity game will be played here at the base.

Six tables were in play Thursday. Winners were Mrs. Ward Hall and Mrs. Bera Reneau, first; Mrs. Ayra McGann and Mrs. B. B. Badger, second; Mrs. Myrtle Lee and Dr. Jim Roberts; and Mrs. C. A. Nelson and Mrs. A. D. Brazel, fourth. Players were reminded that they are invited to attend a party honoring Mrs. Holt Eastland which will be held after games Sunday at Cosden Country Club.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Use Pop-Up Toaster For Warming Buns

Dear Folks:

I have just learned a brand new use for my electric pop-up toaster:

I wanted hot dogs for lunch, but didn't want to light the oven just to warm the weiner buns.

So, I laid the partly-opened buns (two at a time) lengthwise over the slots on top of the toaster and turned it on.

DON'T dare try to push the rolls down into the toaster!

Heat from the toaster will go up into the bun and brown it nicely.

Be sure to turn the toaster on LOW or LIGHT when you use this method, so the weiner roll will not burn.

If turned on low, and the buns are not browned to your liking, just repeat the process.

Remember... once something is too brown, it is hard to remove the burn. And don't you just hate scraping toast? It never tastes the same... Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I made a slip cover for the back cushion of the front seat of our car, and stitched pockets on the rear of it, shoe bag fashion.

The pockets are ideal for maps, sweaters, etc., and are especially useful on long trips.

By making different size pockets, we find them handy for a greater variety of articles... Mrs. Mabel Fisher

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

You will probably think this is a "letter of laughter," because not only is the hint a little kooky, but because I am 12 years old.

My dad got a lot of after-shave lotion last Christmas. He didn't like the smell of some of it. Then my mother hit upon the idea of using it on our dog after bathing him.

It not only makes him more pleasant to live with (especially in hot weather) but keeps away the dog smell for a long length of time then anything we've found yet... except for mom's perfume!... Becky

Dear Heloise:

When I work in the garden, I'm forever putting down the garden tools and misplacing them.

I now tie the white rags on the smaller tools. When I lay them down and walk away, I can see them right away when I return... Ruby Mac

Dear Heloise:

I hate to iron! Who doesn't! My neighbor and I have hit upon an idea that makes ironing almost enjoyable.

Once a week we get together, alternating apartments each time. We iron together, drink our coffee and gab to our hearts' content.

Not only have we caught up on our latest news and recipes, but also we've gotten our ironing done. You can't imagine how fast it seems to go... S.P. & M.C.

Brownwoodites Visit Relatives

COAHOMA (SC) — Mrs. Arch Yell and her daughter, Esther Yell, and Mrs. M. T. Gault, Brownwood, have been visiting here with Mrs. Yell's sisters, Mrs. Grace Holden, Mrs. Ruth Shive and Mrs. Carter Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cunningham and daughter, Sand Springs, are on a trip to Anaheim, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Zilbert and children, Bonnie and Bruce, spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wilson, of the Midway Community.

Garden Club Has Picnic In Park

Jefferson Park was the scene of a picnic Tuesday evening for members of the After Five Garden Club and their families.

Mrs. John Garrison served as chairman for the event which was attended by approximately 25 persons. It was announced that work has been completed on the program and year book, and that the next meeting will be Aug. 17.

Griffins Visit Wicket Relatives

COAHOMA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Stan Griffin and children, Sherrie, Jesse and Rhonda, were in Wicket Saturday. The children remained for a week's stay with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffin.

OES Holds Initiation Ceremony

A candlelight ceremony marked the initiation of Mrs. Howard Drake into the Laura B. Hart Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star. Mrs. Richard E. Mitchell, worthy matron, presided at the Thursday evening meeting.

Attending the initiatory rites were 19 guests representing chapters in Odessa and Longview and members of the Big Spring Chapter No. 67.

The room decorations featured the colors of blue and white. The serving table was covered with a white linen cloth and highlighted by a central arrangement of seasonal flowers.

Depicting the theme for the year, "Sweet Peace, A Gift of God's Love," the emblem of a dove in the star was also displayed in the centerpiece.

Refreshments were served to 18 members and visitors by Mrs. J. P. Aslin, Miss Helen Ewing and Mrs. Audrey Thurman.

Party Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Terry Davidson, bride-elect of Gary Bradbury, was feted at a gift shower Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. T. H. McCann, 702 Highland.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Ernest Welch, Mrs. Harold Pearce, Mrs. Charles Sweeney and Mrs. Bob Dean.

Honored at the informal Coke party with Miss Davidson was her mother, Mrs. R. B. Davidson, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. R. B. Bradbury.

Refreshments were served from a polished table in the den where the centerpiece was pink roses in a pink hobnail container. During a social hour, guests made rice bags of white tulle and pink ribbon.

The hostesses presented the honoree with an electric can opener.

Coahomans Take Vacation Trips

COAHOMA (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Bob Little are on a two week vacation. They are visiting with his parents in Washington, Pa., and on the return trip they will stop in Louisiana to visit with her relatives.

Visiting here with the Virgil Youngs are their sons and families, the Larry Youngs, Houston, and the Bob Youngs, Monahan.

Mr. Aubrey Menser is a patient at the Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital. Also Mr. Charlie Ingle is a patient there.

Leitha Neil Roberts, Mrs. Irene McKinley and Mrs. Hannah Thompson were in Midland Monday to visit their brother, Pat Roberts.

Altrusans Set News Bulletin

The publication of a monthly news bulletin was announced during the Thursday meeting of the Altrusa Club.

The group met for a noon luncheon at Coker's Restaurant with Mrs. Kaye Thornton presiding in the absence of Mrs. M. F. Knowles, president, who is in Dallas attending the international convention. Other members at the convention are Mrs. Ruby Billings and Mrs. C. B. Rhoads.

During the program, Mrs. C. L. Plummer, chairman, presented a humorous skit entitled "The Printed Word of Altrusa." The skit stressed the goal and purposes of the club, its current projects, ways to obtain new members and the functions of the various committees.

Participating in the program were Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. E. B. Martin, Mrs. Morgan Martin and Mrs. Willard Hendricks. In outlining the club's committee objectives for the year, Mrs. Plummer set an "Open Doors to Service" theme. She said the programs will follow the trend suggested by the international magazine to achieve the goal.

Mrs. Inez Roden was a guest, and 22 members attended the meeting.

Scouts To View Sonora Caverns

COAHOMA (SC) — Mothers and daughters of Junior Troop Girl Scouts met Tuesday at the Presbyterian Church to plan a trip to Sonora Caverns.

mittee objectives for the year, Mrs. Plummer set an "Open Doors to Service" theme. She said the programs will follow the trend suggested by the international magazine to achieve the goal.

Mrs. Inez Roden was a guest, and 22 members attended the meeting.

A Devotional For The Day

He hath on his garment and on his thigh a name written, King of kings, and Lord of lords. (Revelation 19:16, RV)
PRAYER: O God, give us to know, in all the changes life may bring, that nothing can defeat Thy purposes for good. Help us to stand fast in our faith in Christ so that none can pluck us out of Thy hand. In His name we ask it. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

Battle Continues On Districting

Some day—perhaps soon—the U. S. Senate will begin debating a constitutional amendment which would give states the power to apportion one house of their legislatures on other factors than population only. The guiding shepherd of this legislation is Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a wise and patient man who will choose carefully the moment of opportunity.

During the study of the bill in committee, Dirksen has skillfully avoided crippling amendment proposals. He turned back, for instance, a cunning amendment which would have stayed any action on the plan until after a legislature had been constituted under the one-man, one-vote rule laid down by the Supreme Court of the United States. Essentially the Dirksen proposal would hold narrowly to the proposition of permitting state legislatures, after a favorable vote by the people of the state, to establish geographical or other guidelines for representation in one house—probably the state senate.

No one can be so confident as to proclaim either victory or defeat for this constitutional amendment. Those who feel victory in their bones point to Colorado, where voters approved a plan to use geographical and other factors in creating districts in one house of their legislatures. They were shocked, of course, when the Supreme Court overruled the Colorado plan of apportionment, based in part on the apparent presumption that the people should not be permitted to surrender, even by their votes, a fundamental constitutional right.

On the other hand, though, the growing number of states which have reconstituted their legislatures voluntarily or under court order suggests strongly that the process has now become irreversible. Representatives and senators from urban areas which receive for the first time fair representation in their legislatures are most unlikely to abandon the gains they have made. They would fight vigorously to persuade voters to reject the Dirksen plan and then would fight just as vigorously to deny ratification.

There is one comforting thought: The maneuvering underway and the debate to follow may never be repeated. If the proposal is rejected either in Congress or by the states the issue will be buried decently.

The Goldberg Appointment

President Johnson demonstrated again that he can confuse the political prognosticators. Nobody had ventured the prediction that his choice for Ambassador to the United Nations would be Arthur Goldberg, an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Goldberg's acceptance of the new duty—leaving behind a lifetime place of honor—must be regarded as a real devotion to service of his country.

His appointment to the UN generally is being acclaimed as a wise choice. He is a man of national and international stature; and, in addition, he is possessed of a keen legal mind that will enable him to have perception of those puzzling questions that arise in differences between nations.

Mr. Goldberg further has a strong background in the area of mediation and negotiation, which should serve him—and the country—in good stead.

His appointment could result in an even more persuasive influence of the United States in the world council. It could mean, hopefully, that more can be accomplished for—as President Johnson put it—"a world where men may live in peace with the hope of justice under the rule of law."

Holmes Alexander Communists And Sentimentalists

WASHINGTON — It's very seldom that people stop what they're doing, even if it's only loafing, to go out and join a riot. It takes organization to cook up a rumble. Organization—and sometimes something else.

THERE WAS that famous Peter Arno cartoon in the New Yorker many years ago showing an over-dressed couple calling through the window to the Translux and "Let's go down to the Translux and see Roosevelt." There is photographic and other documented material showing nearly three dozen Communist-type fellow travelers at the disgraceful demonstrations last winter on the University of California campus. In contrast, I saw two potential riots, one in Brazzaville and one in Leopoldville, leap like flame and fizzle like a wet match because there was no leadership there.

JUST A FEW days ago in the Negro section of Brooklyn a white policeman shot and killed a Negro ex-convict who had attacked him with a knife. The trouble-mongers of CORE called for a "march" on police headquarters, but the leadership wasn't working. Only 150 persons turned out, while thousands of others lolled on the sidewalks or peered from their doorways and windows, disinclined to join the disorder.

Billy Graham

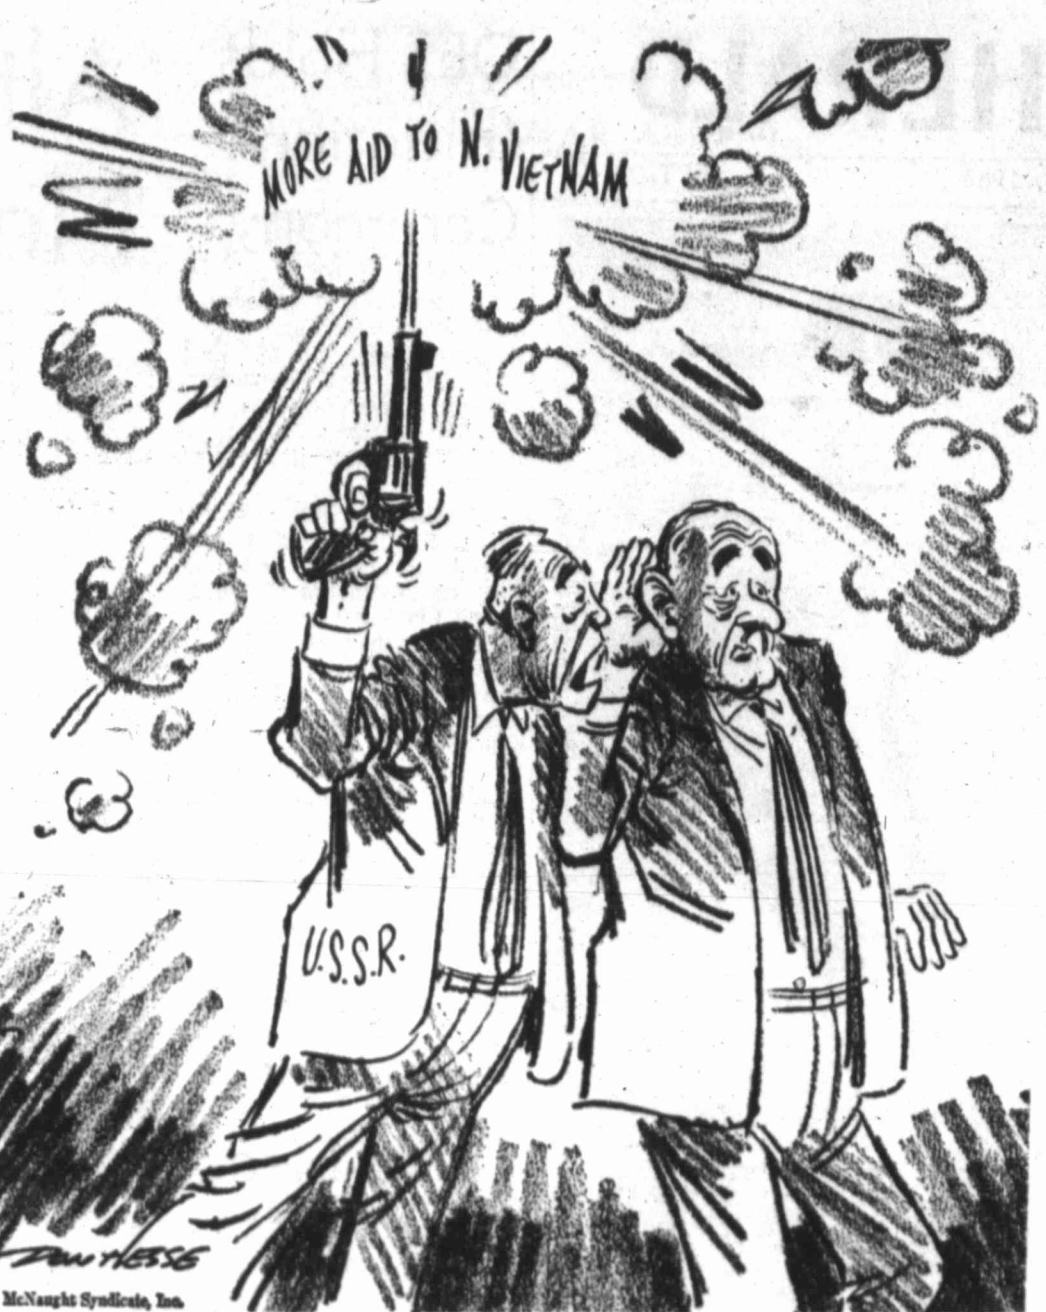

We always say, "Seeing is believing." We may "think" things exist which we cannot see, but we don't actually KNOW that they do. For this reason I can't see how anyone can really believe in God. Doesn't the Bible say that no one ever saw God? Then, how can we believe in Him? —C.N.

One of the most useful sources of energy we know today is electricity. If the power should be turned off, our lives would come almost to a standstill. There would be no lights, no television, no heat, no radio, no air-conditioning, and no refrigeration. Let me ask you a question. Have you ever seen electricity? You may have seen the lightning, but this is only an "effect" of electricity. You have never seen electricity, and no one else has. It is invisible. And yet could you deny its existence? You would be foolish to do so, for we see its effect everywhere we look.

True, no one has ever seen God. But, everywhere we look we see manifestations of Him. Wherever there is a doctor relieving human pain; wherever there is a missionary investing his life in helping the helpless; wherever there is a person living selflessly, love, unselfishness, kindness, understanding, and faithfulness to ideals—there is God. You can't see Him, but He's around.

'I SAID—ALL WE WANT IS PEACE AND QUIET'

James Marlow Demise Recalls Historic Anarchy Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although Communists despised him, Benjamin Gitlow was a nobody to most Americans when he died this week in New York at 74. Yet, he was anything but a nobody.

He was given an imperishable place in American history 40 years ago for a reason he couldn't have imagined at the time.

The Supreme Court's decision in his case in 1925 — he had been convicted of criminal anarchy — was one of the half-dozen or so most important opinions the court has ever given.

IRONICALLY, BECAUSE it did him no good, at the very moment of turning him down the court threw in a few paragraphs which opened the way for it later to protect individual liberties from intrusion by the states.

Gitlow started out as a Socialist, broke away, helped found the American Communist party and later was twice its vice presidential candidate.

For a decade he was one of its top leaders, made three trips to Moscow, was honored by the Kremlin, broke with Stalin in 1929 over Russian dictatorship, was thrown out of the party, and became a dedicated anti-Red.

Hal Boyle Korea, Viet Similar, Dissimilar

NEW YORK (AP) — The question most often asked someone back from Viet Nam is, "How does it compare with the campaign in Korea?"

There are some similarities, but also important differences. It is some of those differences that make our present problem more difficult.

The terrain of Viet Nam is not unlike that of Korea. Both have rice paddies, rugged mountains and a marked shortage of excellent roads.

THE CLIMATES of the two countries are, of course, quite dissimilar. Korea was a two-weather war — very hot in summer, very cold in winter. In Viet Nam the danger of frostbite isn't one of our major military menaces, or likely to become one.

The nature of our enemy in the two places is almost identical. Although the average Viet Cong soldier is slightly smaller than the North Korean, he is equally well-trained, resourceful in the use of weapons and landscape, and able to get a lot of mileage out of a ball of rice. He appears almost inhumanly different to his own physical comfort.

In soldierly qualities the Viet Cong cannot escape our grudging admiration.

To Your Good Health Coronary Pain Can Strike In Many Places

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I read an article stating that of 32 patients hospitalized for heart attacks, nearly half thought their chest pains were caused by indigestion.

How is the layman to know the difference between coronary attacks and indigestion? Should one contact his doctor for any and all belly disorders, which many of us experience from time to time? —A.V.H.

No, I don't think every pain of the innards warrants rushing to the doctor, but too many people fail to realize that a stomach-ache can be serious.

The study you cite is a convincing example, but there are others. Frequently routine electrocardiograms show a heart that has been damaged, yet the patient, surprised at the question, says no, he's never had any "heart trouble." Sometimes he can recall a particularly painful attack of "indigestion." Other times he can't. He just knows he'd had pains or cramps from time to time. Well, some of them were, indeed, heart attacks, although not severe enough to knock him off his feet.

The pain from a coronary can strike in the pit of the stomach, the lower breast bone area or other parts of the chest, or in the back. Since it can be anywhere in such a fairly large area, you ask how a layman can tell when it means a heart attack.

Well, let me ask the question a different way: Suppose the pain isn't a heart attack? Does that mean you should just be a stoic and ignore it? No.

Such pain can be from ulcer, gall bladder disease, hiatal hernia, constipation, gastritis, or just plain gluttonous eating. And I say that a wallowing good stomach-ache is reason enough to consult your doctor. Tests then can be made. Once reassured as to the cause of your distress, you certainly don't have to trot to the doctor for each ache.

A pain means something wrong, maybe serious or maybe trivial, and it doesn't seem sensible to me to ignore a hard stomach-ache unless you can be sure, at the beginning, that it's really a heart attack.

In fact, the similarity between some gall bladder attacks and some heart attacks is so great that dissertations have been written on how to distinguish between them.

Around The Rim No Longer An Eton Jacket?

A recent story from England quipped that "a jet age wind of change has ruffled the traditional tailcoats at one of England's oldest and most elegant boys schools."

The words were quoted from the Eton College Chronicle.

King Henry VI founded Eton College 525 years ago.

Leading figures of Britain have come from its halls for many years, to Parliament and the Prime Minister's seat, as well as to business and industry.

BUT IT SEEMS the college newsmen are dissatisfied with the traditional clothing of the institution, which consists of tailcoats, button-up vests, white collars and top hats.

The newspaper editorialized that, "what was with it yesterday, is the height of eccentricity today."

The added emphasis of distinctive clothing to class differences is not, in 1965, the most tactful of approaches.

"THERE IS the waistcoat... it is a thermostat in reverse, often stiffling hot at this time of the year, and yet none too warm in January."

J. A. Livingston How Not To Get Rich

This is a lesson in how not to get rich. It's about a well-intentioned registered representative (customer's man) and a customer who confesses: "I'm a victim of my own greed."

The self-styled victim is a retired naval aviator (lieutenant commander), married, with three children. Let's call him Herbert Makabuk. He was prospecting around to buy a small business of his own when he chanced into the branch office of a large Wall Street brokerage firm to listen to a series of night lectures on investing.

THE CUSTOMER's man who gave the lectures—we'll call him Richard Uptrend—was persuasive. The commander bought some stocks, made some money—about $400. It seemed easy.

By now he and Uptrend were calling one another by their first names. Real simpatico. And Dick had a new thought. Why not buy on margin? But not stocks—you can only borrow 30 per cent on them. A smart fellow gets around the Federal Reserve Board's regulations by investing in convertible bonds.

HERB TOOK Dick's word, bought ten Pan American Airways 4½s of 1964 at 122, convertible into stock at $29.25 a share. It didn't bother Herb that he paid $220 over the face value of the bonds for a call on 34 Pan Am shares.

Dick arranged a bank loan for about $10,000. Herb put up about $2,200 and he was in the bond business in Wall Street—not the small business he was looking for in New Jersey. And whoopee, Pan Am rose, the 4½s hit 133.

"I'd never seen a thousand dollar profit so fast," the lieutenant commander told me. "I called up Dick and said maybe I'd better sell." But Dick urged patience: "They've got further to go."

INSTEAD, the bonds dropped to 126. Herb insisted on selling. He netted about $250 after commissions and interest cost.

Marquis Childs Colombia's Fiscal Troubles

BOGOTA, Colombia — Uneasy lies the head, to paraphrase the cliché of responsibility for high office in our time of troubles. No better example could be found than President Guillermo Leon Valencia of Colombia.

HE FINDS HIMSELF caught between the political and economic turmoil of his own country and the demands of the banker-economists in Washington for stern fiscal reforms. As he knows only too well, the drastic remedies—devaluation of the peso is one—could tip the balance toward more inflation, greater chaos and popular revolt. The President recalls wryly that when he was persuaded to devalue two years ago the experts told him prices would rise only seven to nine per cent. They rose, in fact, 43 per cent.

"DEVALUATION," he says, "is in reality a technical financial exercise good or bad, depending on the circumstances in which it is to be applied. But there is a tremendous gap between the theoretical thesis as it is drafted in the economists' study and devaluation as it is felt in the market squares of underdeveloped countries. We will do everything we can to avoid devaluation."

Valencia stresses his loyalty to the United States. When President Charles de Gaulle of France was here, Valencia in his address at the official dinner, declared that, while cultural ties with Europe were close, the tie with America would always be pre-eminent. To this reporter he expressed gratitude for American help, training, helicopters and other equipment in suppressing guerrilla bands that have terrorized parts of the country.

Car Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—Cars are multiplying faster than households.

Five years ago, an official of Universal CIT Credit Corporation notes, there were 51,400,000 households in the United States and 45,850,000 cars. Now the figures are 56,400,000 and 55,100,000, largely reflecting an increase in two- and three-car families.

Some time this year the number of cars probably will actually exceed the number of households.

Troupe Set

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—A 45-man troupe from Ghana will bring Ghanaian folk music and the country's "talking drums" to the Soviet Union and other countries in East Europe.

The troupe, from Ghana University's School of Music and Drama, has left on a two-month cultural tour of the Soviet Union, Hungary, Romania, East Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Muffle Noise

ROME (AP)—Rome police handed out 542 fines in a single week in June against motorists who honked too much, owners of transistor radios, juke boxes or TV sets tuned on too loud, or exuberant celebrators who made too much racket. It was part of Rome's campaign to give tourists a quieter stay here.

Take it for a test drive.
See if you pass.

The real test in a Volkswagen is to see if you know what driving really is. (If you think you're driving in other cars, then what you do in a VW is something else.)

Most cars give you all the lively moving sensation of sitting on your living room couch. But the VW isn't sprung like other cars. Its 4-wheel torsion bar suspension (the kind they have in racers) gives you the feel of the road. You always know what's going on because you know what your car's going on.

And you know what's coming, because you'll see more road than you ever saw before. (Our sloping hood doesn't cut off your view.)

When you twist the steering wheel a little, you can feel the front wheels turn a little. So you know the car's doing just what you told it to. (Doesn't that sound satisfying?)

We can tell you that the VW parks shorter than other cars, and maneuvers more easily.

But we can't tell you how it feels to drive one. So take the test.

Maybe you can tell us.

Reapportionment Tiff May Extend Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield said, "I'm not as optimistic as I was" about the reapportionment bill. "This could throw a roadblock in the legislative reapportionment. The fight may be a lengthy one."

The Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote decision of last year would permit one house of state legislatures to be apportioned on the basis of geography and political subdivisions as well as population if the people approved in a referendum.

Dirksen got the issue before the Senate by calling up a resolution to designate Aug. 31-Sept. 6 as American Legion Baseball Week and then moving to substitute for it his proposed constitutional amendment.

FAVORS PROPOSAL
Mansfield later told newsmen he was "leaning very strongly in the direction" of supporting Dirksen's proposal to upset the Supreme Court ruling that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on the basis of population.

Although opposing sides were digging in for a determined battle, Mansfield said he did not expect the Senate to be paralyzed until the issue is resolved.

He said he understood Dirksen was agreeable to permit action on vital bills like the defense appropriations measure and various noncontroversial measures to be sandwiched into the debate on reapportionment.

PRIVILEGED STATUS
Also, Conference Committee agreements on bills previously passed by both the Senate and the House like the Social Security health care measure have a privileged status and can be called up at any time.

Dirksen carried the issue directly to the Senate after he found earlier in the week that its Judiciary Committee apparently was deadlocked 8-8 on his proposed amendment.

President Johnson never has taken a public stand on Dirksen's amendment, but Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been fighting it behind the scenes.

Post Office Notified Youth Jobs Not To Be Patronage

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Macy Jr., chairman of the Civil Service Commission, said Thursday the Post Office Department has been instructed that hiring under the youth opportunity program is not to be treated as political patronage.

Macy told a reporter he was surprised to learn from published reports Tuesday that the Post Office Department had informed members of both parties in Congress that they could suggest the names of youths for summer postal jobs.

Macy said Postmaster General John A. Gronouski "has gotten the word" concerning hiring under the program.

Almost simultaneously with Macy's comments, the Post Office Department acknowledged that it had asked members of Congress to help find deserving young people for the 7,500 jobs the department is giving out as part of the administration program.

"NOT PATRONAGE"
But "this was not a patronage program," a spokesman said.

Cities Fall Short On Air Patrons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Borger, Fort Worth and Paris, Tex., are among 66 cities listed by the Civil Aeronautics Board as having failed to generate enough local airline passengers to justify service during the year ending March 31.

CAB Chairman Charles Murphy, in a letter to the mayors of 555 cities receiving local service by airlines, warned that if a city doesn't generate at least five passengers a day, the service by local airlines may be discontinued.

Local airline service is provided the Texas cities by Central Airlines.

He said the summer program did not even materialize until late in the spring, and we had to explore every possible avenue to make sure that the jobs were filled. One of the problems we faced in this program was that the U.S. Employment Service was rather slow in submitting names to us, while the congressmen were extremely prompt."

Family To Try Wilderness Of British Columbia

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A 31-year-old machinist who left Elwood, Ind., because it's "just a little town with two much folks in it" hopes to set sail Friday for British Columbia to homestead in the wilderness.

With David Stafford are his wife, Jean, also 31, and their four children and two dogs. Stafford bought a steel-hulled lifeboat here, installed a 25-horsepower engine and built a superstructure of plywood and tarpaper.

It cost him $500. The rig still must be approved by the Coast Guard, but Stafford is confident.

He emphasized that both Democrats and Republicans in Congress were asked to provide names.

"Many of the names submitted by the employment service were found to be unqualified for the type of work involved," he said.

FOR DROPOUTS
Pointing out that the youth opportunity program is mostly aimed at school dropouts and other unskilled youths, he said postal work requires ability to sort mail, learn basic mail-handling processes and perform other specialized duties.

The spokesman figured about 5,000 of the jobs have been filled—more of them from congressmen's lists than from the employment service roster—but most of the remaining 2,500 can be filled from employment service sources.

Macy said neither he nor President Johnson had any indication until Tuesday that the Post Office Department had informed members of Congress they could make recommendations. He said the instructions had clearly stated that government agencies were to go to the employment service offices for names, and that interested youths were to apply to those offices.

East lacked the delicate touch in defending against South's four heart contract and, in his attempt to clarify the picture for his partner, he virtually handed the contract to the declarer.

West led the eight of spades and East played the ace. East realized that, even if he could cash two club tricks, there was little hope of defeating the contract unless West had a singleton spade and could ruff the return.

East led the king of clubs at trick two to make it abundantly clear to his partner where his side entry was. He switched back to a spade and South played low from his hand as West ruffed. West attempted to put East back in with a club; however, declarer trumped away the ace, drew the remaining hearts and routinely won the rest of the tricks.

East's club switch at trick two was a costly gesture for the defense. Had he given West an immediate ruff, he would have been in position to regain the lead with the king of clubs to administer the lethal thrust with a third round of spades.

Altho East could not diagnose that his partner held six clubs while declarer had only a singleton, there was another means available to show his reentry to West, namely the suit preference signal.

In giving partner a ruff, the return of an unnecessarily high card requests the return of the higher ranking of the two side suits. The return of the lowest card asks for the lower suit. In the present case, had East led back the deuce of spades at trick two, it would have indicated quite clearly that his reentry was in clubs for, if he wanted a diamond return, he would have played a high spade.
