Spring Ailments.

There is an aching and tired feeling; the liver, bowels and kidneys become sluggish and inactive, the digestion impaired, with little or no appetite, no ambition for anything and a feeling that the whole body and mind needs toning up. The trouble is, that during winter, there has been an accumulation of waste matter in the system. Herbine will remove it, secure to the secretions an exit, and by its tonic effects, fully restore the wasted tissues and give strength in place of weakness. 50c at Overton Drug Co.

TALK ON LYNCHING

The Question Discussed in United States Senate.

GALLINGER AND TEXANS SPEAK

Washington, May 27.—Soon after the senate convened Monday Mr. Gallinger of New Hampshire offered a resolution providing that the judiciary committee of the senate should make an investigation into the subject of lynchings in the United States, with a view of ascertaining whether there is any remedy for them.

Mr. Gallinger said he introduced the resolution in full view of the fact that he might be charged with precipitating a sectional controversy, though nothing was further from his thoughts. He said lynchings were not confined to the south. Horrible cases had occurred in the north, and white men, as well as black, had been victims. Throughout the country intense interest was manifested in the subject. He thought it imperative that the judiciary committee should take some action upon the subject.

During the past ten years, said Mr. Gallinger, 2658 lynchings had occurred in the United States. Of these a great majority had occurred in the south. If the strong arm of the law could reach to prevent such occurrences, he deemed it desirable that it do so.

He had read the Associated Press account of the burning of a negro in Texas a few days ago. He said history did not furnish a more fiendish instance of mob wrath, and Fox's "Book of Martyrs" was tame in comparison. The whole wretched business, he said, was a disgrace to American manhood, and in the light of which the alleged atrocities in the Philippines paled into insignificance. The Spanish inquisition did not furnish a case exceeding that one in inhumanity. He apprehended that it would be said that the Federal government was powerless and that the states had exclusive jurisdiction. If so the American people desired to know it. Public sentiment should be aroused to prevent such inhuman atrocities.

Mr. Bailey of Texas said he had no idea of being drawn into any sectional controversy by the senator from New Hampshire, and he would be willing to have the people judge who perpetrated such outrages. He desired, however, to discuss the question whether the government had the right to go into the several states and take charge of the peace and good order. He asked, therefore, that the resolution go over.

Subsequently Mr. Culberson of Texas had read the story of the burning of a negro near Leavenworth, Kan., in January, 1901, saying he desired to show that these crimes occurred in other states than Texas. He hoped the New Hampshire senator when reciting atrocities would not confine himself to one state.

Mr. Hoar, chairman of the judiciary committee, said his committee had had the subject under consideration. The matter had been considered as a question of constitutional law and duty.

Invited to Germany.

Washington: It is stated on authority that Gens. Corbin, Young and Wood have been formally invited by Emperor William to attend, as his personal guests, the German military maneuvers next fall.

The first overtures in that direction were made by Gen. Von Plessens, at the instance of Prince Henry, during his recent American visit, but they have since been extended in regular from and will be accepted by the three generals.

Negro Nominated.

Little Rock: At a meeting of the Association of ex-Slaves here a resolution was adopted placing in nomination for governor Rev. R. D. Campbell, colored, president of the association. The resolution alleges that the Republican county convention, held here recently, attempted to disfranchise the negro by refusing to put a negro on the ticket. It is further stated that the ex-Slaves' Association has 12,668 members in Arkansas, who will vote for Campbell.

Muenster, Tex., went for prohibition by a vote of 190 to 14.

Will Found.

New York: A will, supposed to have been left by A. J. McIntosh, late president of the Chicopee National bank, which has been missing since the banker's death, has been found in a vest pocket at his apartments. The document was somewhat crumpled, but perfectly legible.

TWO KILLED.

Boiler Blows Up at Residence of John H. Kirby, Houston.

Houston: Monday morning a terrific explosion occurred that was felt all over town. It was the explosion of a boiler that was being used to sink the artesian well for John H. Kirby's proposed natatorium in course of erection upon the block upon which his handsome home is erected. The boiler and boring machinery were the property of Gus Werneck.

Harry Woodward, the engineer, and Charles Cogburn, a negro helper, were both instantly killed, their bodies being hurled in opposite directions over 100 feet from the scene. All the clothes were blown from the body of the negro, which was found in the yard near the iron fence on the other side of the block. The body of the engineer was found in W. H. Bailey's yard, across the street. It had been blown through the fence. Some of the clothes were found hanging on telegraph wires. Heavy pieces of the boiler were found four or five blocks away in the yards of persons whose places were not even in sight of the spot where the boiler exploded.

The rear end of Mr. Kirby's residence, near the corner, had been struck by a piece of flying metal and crushed in. The force of the shock seemed to have been away from Mr. Kirby's residence to the south and west, hurling pieces of the boiler in opposite directions.

The remnants of the boiler still show the effects of the terrible heat to which the iron had been subjected. It is the general supposition that the men in charge turned on the fire and went to sleep without taking the necessary precautions to control the blaze. A terrific head of steam was generated. Either the engineer awakened to discover the condition of affairs and at once turned cold water in the boiler, or in their slumbers the men were hurled to an awful death.

Harry Woodward, the engineer, came to Houston from New Orleans, where a mother and sister reside.

SIXTY PENSIONS.

The House of Representatives Passes that Many Monday.

Washington: The house on Monday devoted sometime to business connected with the District of Columbia. The death of the British ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, was referred to in the opening invocation of the chaplain, Rev. Dr. Couden, who asked divine consolation for the stricken family of the dead diplomatist, "who so long, so faithfully and efficiently served his country among us and won the esteem and respect of our people by his generous and courteous methods, socially and officially."

The conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill was agreed to. The conference on the urgent deficiency bill was also agreed to. After passing sixty private pension bills the house took up the District of Columbia business and at 4:45 p. m. adjourned.

Boers Surrender.

The London Daily Mail says that peace is quite certain, and that the delegates at Pretoria are only engaged in endeavoring to gild the pill for the Vereeningeng conference to swallow.

The Daily Mail says further: Lord Kitchener, though still full of energy, is much haged in appearance as a result of the campaign.

Adverse Action.

New York: The general assembly of the Presbyterian church acted adversely on an overture from the presbytery of Los Angeles requesting that ministers coming from the Southern Presbyterian church be honorably retired with the same privileges as if they had served always with the church under the general assembly. The matter came before the assembly in a report from the committee on ministerial relief, which recommended adverse action in the matter.

Slayer Captured.

Atlanta, Ga.: Millard Lee, who shot and killed Miss Lilia Suttles in a church at Ben Hill, Ga., was captured near Austell, Ga., and landed in the Atlanta jail. He said he killed Miss Suttles because his love was unrequited and he wished to end the suspense.

Seven Killed.

Union, S. C.: Seven people were killed and several injured by a cyclone which swept over this section Sunday afternoon. The property damage will aggregate $50,000, divided among stores and cotton mills. At Jonesville the storm was fearful.

Waco: Charles Parker, a colored man, died from a bullet wound received in an affray. Clem Cooper, another colored man, surrendered to Sheriff Baker.

PAUNCEFOTE DEAD

The Noted Diplomat Passes Away at Washington.

AMBASSADOR OF GREAT BRITAIN

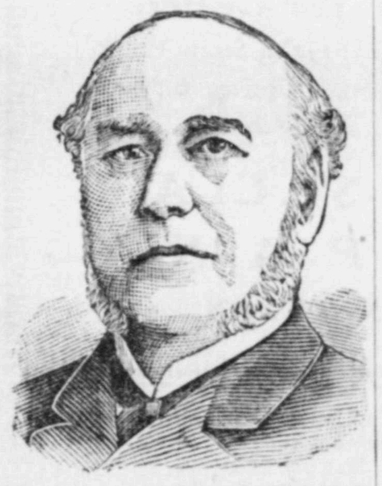

He Had Been Connected With a Number of Important International Matters, Including Clayton-Bulwer Treaty.

Washington, May 26.—Lord Pauncefote, British ambassador to the United States, died at the embassy Saturday morning at 5:30 o'clock.

As soon as it became generally known that Lord Pauncefote was dead flags were half-masted over the different embassies and legations.

Upon being notified of the death of Lord Pauncefote, Secretary Hay went to the white house and after a short conference with the president proceeded directly to the British embassy, where he made a formal call of condolence, as the personal representative of the president, preliminary to the call which the president himself was to make later in the day. Returning to the state department, Secretary Hay dispatched the following cablegram:

"Department of State, May, 24.—The Marquis of Lansdowne, London: Permit me to express my deep sympathy and sorrow at the death of Lord Pauncefote. His majesty's government has lost a most able and faithful servant and this country a valued friend. JOHN HAY."

The secretary had fully expressed his sentiment in the above telegram, and all that he cared to say in addition of the deceased peer was: "He was not only a man of very high personal merit, but he was a good friend of ours."

Rt. Hon. Lord Pauncefote of Preston, G. C. H., G. C. M. G., the first ambassador to the United States and the dean of the diplomatic corps in Washington, was born in Munich, Bavaria, seventy-four years ago and was the issue of one of the most ancient of British families whose history is found in the Doomsday. Educated as a lawyer his governmental service began in Hong Kong as attorney general in 1865, and after much valuable colonial experience he came to Washington in 1889, first as minister and after as first ambassador.

His service here has been one unbroken record of successful diplomacy. The Bering sea negotiations were among his earliest work of importance and it was his familiarity with that difficult subject that led to his selection by the foreign office for the post at Washington. The arbitration treaty negotiated with Secretary Olney was the forerunner of the great work accomplished at The Hague, and it may be said that it embodied some of the most important principles of the great general convention regulating arbitration afterward framed by The Hague conference. Then came a number of reciprocity treaties and arangements involving a vast amount of study and work, all of which were perfected as far as the executive branch of our government could cooperate with Lord Pauncefote.

Soon after Secretary Hay assumed office Lord Pauncefote began his task which he himself regarded as the greatest accomplishment of his busy life, namely, to forever set at rest the questions growing out of the old Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and entered with energy again upon negotiations, the result of which was the framing of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty recently ratified. For these valuable services the British government did Lord Pauncefote the honor to three times extend the term of his service at Washington, which would otherwise have ceased when he attained the age of 70 years.

More Deaths.

Goliad, Tex.: Mrs. John Gibson, who was injured by the tornado, died Sunday. Mary Harbison after lingering with most intense suffering, is dead. Mrs. William J. Hord, who never gained consciousness, died Saturday night. Charlie Lott, colored, is dead.

HERO HONORED.

Statue of Marshal Rochambeau Unveiled at Washington.

Washington: The president today joined with official representatives of the French republic in unveiling a statue of Marshal de Rochambeau, a compatriot of Washington and commander-in-chief of the French forces in America during the Revolutionary war. It was an event combining demonstrations of good will between French sailors from the battleship Gaulois mingling their cheers with American blue-jackets, French flags entwining their folds with the stars and stripes, and with oratory and music expressive of Franco-American friendship.

The ceremony of unveiling was for 11 o'clock, but long before that hour the streets were filled with marching men and great crowds gathered to witness the exercises and Mysterious Shooting.

Chicago: Daniel Hill, a real estate owner of Morris, a partner in the firm of the Gross-Phillips company on the Chicago board of trade, was shot and seriously wounded early Sunday as he was going to bed at his residence. Six shots were fired, three taking effect, one entering the left ear, one entering his right eye and the other shattering his right arm.

Considerable mystery surrounds the shooting.

HOSS AND SMITH.

The Two Divines Chosen Members of the College of Bishops.

Dallas: Thursday's proceedings of the Methodist general conference were of more than ordinary interest, not only to the delegates who compose the conference at large, but two bishops were added to the episcopacy, and other connectional officers were to be elected.

No nominations whatever were made Six tellers were appointed. The chairman of each conference collects the votes of the members of his delegation, which he turns over to the tellers then retire to compile the vote, and during their absence the conference transacts business.

On the first ballot Dr. E. E. Hoss received a majority and was declared elected. On fourth ballot Dr. A. Coke Smith was elected the other bishop. Dr. Collins Denny, chairman of the book committee, being the recipient of a flattering vote.

Three sessions were held Thursday, one beginning at 9, the second at 3:30 and the last at 8:30.

From now until the conference finally adjourns it is understood that two or more sessions will be held daily, as there is a vast amount of business on the calendar, and after Monday the delegate will have to pay their own expenses.

Several important committee reports were adopted, they being called from the calendar out of their regular order, as members are anxious to get away, now that the war claim has been settled and the bishops and most important connectional officers elected.

Dr. George B. Winton was elected editor of the Christian Advocate, the official organ of the church, as successor to Dr. E. E. Hoss.

At the night session Dr. J. J. Trigert was re-elected book editor of reviews, and Dr. James Atkins editor of Sunday school periodicals.

Crescent City Excursionists.

Austin: The excursion of New Orleans merchants, conducted under the auspices of the New Orleans Progressive union, arrived here Thursday morning from San Antonio, escorted by W. R. Smith, division passenger agent of the Houston and Texas Central. They were met at the depot by a committee of local citizens and driven in carriages to the capital. An informal reception was held in the governor's private reception room, at which cordial greetings were exchanged. Owing to sickness Gov. Sayers was unable to be present, and Judge N. A. Cravens, his private secretary, acted as his representative on the occasion and made a brief and happy address of welcome. Col. Hester of New Orleans responded.

A Surprise.

Springfield, Mo.: The Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly was truly treated to a parliamentary surprise when a motion prevailed—135 to 70—to table the whole home mission board matter, including the majority and minority reports and President Fullerton's substitute for both. The matter is thus left in the same status as previously. The leaders on both sides of the question are much displeased.

Report Adopted.

New York: The general assembly of the Presbyterial church adopted the report of the committee on revision except the brief supplementary statement, which has not been acted upon. There were only two votes against adoption. The report now goes to the presbyteries for approval.

Overtures Rejected.

Jackson, Miss.: In the Presbyterian assembly the overtures of the Norfolk presbytery asking the assembly to decline to recognize any official or ecclesiastical overseer of the Kentucky Theological seminary, were rejected. The overture of the Roanoke presbytery, asking the assembly to reconsider the action of the last assembly and withdraw its assent to the consolidation of the two seminaries in Kentucky, was rejected by the committee.

Frequent Conferences.

Washington, May 23.—Frequent conferences were held among Republican senators on Thursday with the object of finding common ground upon which an agreement on the Cuban reciprocity bill can be reached. The leaders in charge of the bill have planned the general outlines of a tentative measure, but before disclosing it are endeavoring to secure the adherence of a majority of Republicans to the proposition.

It may be stated upon authority that there is reason to hope for an early agreement by a Republican majority of the senate on a Cuban reciprocity bill. Such an agreement will mean that the bill thus decided on will pass. The opposition cannot be carried to the point of defeating a measure which is backed by the indorsement of a Republican majority. Until harmonious action among the Republicans seems assured the details of the proposed bill will be withheld.

ANOTHER HORROR

Many Miners Have Perished in a British Columbia Mine.

ONLY SIXTEEN OF ONE SHIFT

Were Able to Reach a Place of Safety in Time to Escape the Fate of Over One Hundred Others.

Victoria, B. C., May 24.—William Fernac, one of the original owners of the Crow's Nest mines, has received a telegram from Fernac, saying that an explosion had occurred in No. 2 and No. 3 slopes, resulting in the death of 125 men. The mines affected are situated on Coal creek, six miles from Fernac.

No. 2 tunnel is two miles long and No. 3 about the same length. From these two mines and No. 1 most of the coal of the district is taken. It is said by men who visited the mines that another explosion was expected.

Fernac is a town in the eastern part of the province of British Columbia, on the Crow's Nest Pass branch of the Canadian Pacific railroad. It lies in the center of a country rich in coal deposits. These are the coal fields that J. J. Hill was reported to have gained control of.

Fernac's only industry is mining and its population is about 5000. Most of the miners are foreign born.

GENEROUS OFFER.

Mrs. Huntington Will Create Fund for Cancer Treatment.

New York.: Mrs. Collis P. Huntington has offered to create a trust fund of $100,000, the interest of which may be used by the general memorial hospital for the treatment of cancer and kindred diseases, or pathological research. The fund is to be known as the Collis P. Huntington memorial fund. The hospital is to receive only the income. Officials of the hospital said that the money has not been definitely given as yet because conditions could not be complied with. The way for the fund to be set aside for the benefit of the hospital will be made smooth in a few days, however, and the institution will rejoice in its greater possibilities.

Have Adjourned.

Jackson, Miss.: The forty-second general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States adjourned Friday afternoon, the business of the session having been concluded with the appointment of delegates to the Liverpool council.

The publication committee reported an increase of 20 per cent in the sales of church literature during the year.

In answer to the overture from Sewanee presbytery, the committee reported recommending that the assembly disapprove of the use of Easter cards and like literature in Sunday-schools.

One of the most animated debates of the session was over the proposition to do away with the Latin thesis in the examination of young ministers. Judge Beckner of Kentucky lead the assault on Latin and it was finally defeated. Dr. Du Boise gave notice of an appeal on behalf of Pedee presbytery.

Made Public.

Washington: Senate committee on Philippines made public a petition presented by Miss Clemencie Lopez, a sister of Sixto Lopez, to the president for the release of three of her brothers in the province of Batangas, who have been taken into custody by Gen. Bell and sent to the island of Talim, where she says they are undergoing great hardships. The president's position in the matter is that there appears to have been no injustice.

Brought From San Francisco.

Muskogee, I. T., Earl Holt was brought to this place from San Francisco to answer a charge of killing A. Holland at Westville, I. T., two years ago. Holt and Holland fought over an election. He was arrested in San Francisco and brought to Muskogee for trial. He is a Cherokee.

H. W. Overstreet, an old citizen of Paris, is dead.

Little Impression.

Laredo, Tex.: The recent copious rains which have fallen in portions of Zapata county have made little impression upon the barren soil that has been subjected to nearly three years' drouth. The reason assigned is that all seed and grass roots have been destroyed and the absence of the feathery tribe for two years has resulted in a failure of the annual deposit of seed which in olden times renewed vegetation.

THE TRAVELERS.

They Hold Their Ninth Annual Convention at Sherman.

Sherman: The ninth annual meeting of the grand council of Texas, United Commercial Travelers, began Friday.

W. L. Sanford of this city responded in behalf of the Sherman-Denicon councils, U. C. V., joint hosts.

J. B. Seeger of Dallas, past grand councellor, made a reply in behalf of the grand council.

The Woodmen band of Sherman rendered a serenade.

Little Miss Ida Lucille Loving, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Loving, recited "Billy's Pets" and in response to a perfect storm of applause sang sweetly a pretty ballad, at the conclusion of which she was literally carried from point to point on the stage.

Mrs. Gilbert of Waco, the poetess of the U. C. T. of Texas, read an original production.

At the conclusion of the reading W. L. Dyson of Dallas presented an elegant medal to Mrs. Gilbert, who responded.

G. M. Scarborough of Waco, the swan singer, rendered several extracts from his satirical lectures, "Jotts and Caresses," and also other selections of which, "When Teddy Went Color Blind," was roundly applauded.

Miss Ruby Blake sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Sleight and Mr. Ehricht.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. P. Malloy of Waco and the welcoming exercises were over.

At 2 p. m. the grand council went into business session at Haydon hall.

The interior of the grand council chamber was prettily arranged. The festooning required over four hundred yards of bunting, white, yellow and blue. There was also a plentitude of roses and palms.

The U. C. T. flower, the cape jasmine, was also in profuse evidence.

The session of the grand council lasted until shortly before 5 o'clock. The business, which was all transacted behind closed doors, it is stated in a general way, was confined principally to the appointment of committees and the receipt of reports from the standing committees. But little of the work is given to the public.

At 5 p. m. the parade of the Bagmen of Bagdad took place, the route being through the principal streets. It was viewed by an immense crowd of amused spectators. The paraphernalia and costuming were unique and in the grotesqueness of design was strictly up to now. At the conclusion of the parade the ladies' committee served ices at the parlors of the Commercial club.

Failed to Agree.

El Paso: The jury in the C. J. Wolfington murder trial failed to agree and was discharged. Wolfington is charged by indictment with shooting Orris Rosenfield, formerly of Austin, and well known in westren towns. While an officer at Colorado City, Colo., Wolfington claims that Rosenfield wrote threatening letters to him. Five years later they met in El Paso, fought with pistols and Rosenfield was killed.

Methodist conference elected Dr. Dubose senior book agent.

For a Rice Palace.

Houston: There was a meeting of the committee of fifteen to take up the work left open for them by the mass-meet previous to push along the movement to have a south Texas fair and rice palace here in the fall. They decided to make the collection $100,000 to carry it through. A committee of three, Messrs. McGregor, Mosehart and Cortes, was appointed to make preliminary plans and make a report.

Verdict for Doctor.

Austin: In the district court Friday evening judgment was rendered for defendant in the case of Ethel Clough against Dr. B. M. Worsham, superintendent of the state lunatic asylum for damages for injuries received through alleged negligence in permitting an inmate of the asylum to drive a team outside the grounds of the institution. Attorney General Bell was attorney for the defendant.

Headquarters Located.

Springfield, Mo.: Friday night the seventy-second general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church adjourned. The permanent committee on temperance was located at Marshall, Tex., with Rev. C. G. Russell as chairman.

DUBLIN, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1902

POLITICS IN OKLAHOMA.

The peoples' party state central committee of Oklahoma, in session at Guthrie last Tuesday, decided to put out a candidate for congress against Wm. Cross, the fusion democratic candidate. They declared that the populists would never vote for the democratic nominee because they were populists instead of democrats and consequently had no sympathy with the democratic party or with the republican party. They also decided to place in nomination county and legislative tickets in every district.

Relative to a platform for the state campaign the following was outlined as a basis:

"We demand the adoption of the initiative and referendum, for through this open door of majority rule we will secure the following and other progressive legislation:

1. Public ownership of all public utilities as the people shall from time to time elect.

2. The land, including all natural resources, the heritage of the people, will not be monopolized for speculative purposes. Alien ownership will be prohibited. All lands now held by the railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs or held by aliens will be reclaimed and held for actual settlers only.

3. Money will be based upon the entire wealth of the people of the nation and not redeemable in any specific commodity, but to be full legal tender for all debts, private and public, to be issued by the Government only and without the intervention of private individuals or corporations, sufficient in quantity to meet the requirements of commerce.

4. Just and natural taxation.

5. The election of the President, Vice-President and Federal Judges and Senators by the people.

6. The creation of a Cabinet office of the department of labor and equitable arbitration.

7. The establishment of postal savings banks.

8. The adoption of such constitutional amendments as may be necessary to make the above laws."

"W. J. Bryan announces that he will not be a candidate for president in 1904. This will ease the pain in the breasts of a good many "reorganizers" of the democratic party who have been dreadfully afraid that Mr. Bryan would imperil the country by being again nominated by the honest democracy. The news would rather follow the democratic banner to defeat in Bryan's hands than to follow such a a leader as Hill or Gorman to victory. A victory won with such leaders as either of the two latter politicians will not mean a victory for the hosts of democracy, but a victory for some special class who want to use the party to further their own ends. When organized wealth feels that it can no longer control the country through the republican party it turns to such leaders of democracy as it can use, through them to shape the platform and polity of the party, places a leader at its head who will do its bidding and proceeds to work for him. This was what the money power did when it elected Cleveland the second time. It looks now as if such a program was mapped out for 1904—Bonham News.

The Hamilton Rustler, a democratic organ, appears to take an encouraging view of the political outlook for the democracy. In a recent issue, speaking of harmony growing out of the agreement of Monopolist James Stephen Hogg and Monopolist George (Warwick) Clark, that there is nothing now upon which they should be divided, the Rustler says that now the democratic party should certainly be able to win in the next compaign. If Hogg and Clark really are such political barometers the Progress would like to excuse itself for mentioning politics long enough to ask the Rustler for a brief expression, of as to what has settled the difference between Hogg's ideas and Clark's ideas in a national sense.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: "Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between the whoops. Jessie Pinkey Hall, Springville, Ala. This remedy is for sale by Overton Drug Co.

Rollins Bingham of St. Louis, unindictment of large forgeries committed in St. Louis many years ago, was dismissed from further prosecution at that place last Tuesday. He had been a fugitive from justice since the deed was committed until last March when he wrote from Dallas, Texas, to the police of St. Louis confessing the crime and desiring to be taken to St. Louis to accept whatever penalty might be given him. Just previous to going to Dallas he had been a trusted and popular employee of the coal company at Thurber and only severed his connection with the company because of his ill health, which he now says had been brought about by the constant revolt of his conscience against the crime he had committed and by reason of which he had for years gone under an assumed name. He was a popular and well known young man at the time of his downfall in St. Louis and was of one of the oldest and best known families in that city.

At Cost.

For the next thirty days I will sell my whiskey stock that I have on hand at actual cost.

The reason for this is that I have moved a large stock from Stephenville to this place and the two stocks together is much larger than I can afford to handle, hence, as above, for the next thirty days I will sell any of my stock at cost in amounts from one quart to anything less than five gallons.—Zack Eakins, Dublin, Texas.

A young man who can deliberately walk into an ice cream parlor filled with a bevy of beautiful girls, each of whom is devouring a plate of the frozen, cooling fluid, and a gentle hint is handed him that he might buy the second round, count the noses and walk out, candidly confessing that forty cents is more earthly wealth than he can raise, has nerve. He should join the army as Uncle Sam needs all such soldiers in the Philippines.—Ex.

Some Exceptional Bargains.

Eight comparatively new stoves.
Several fire proof flues.
Lot of water sinks.
Lot of good windows.
Lot of good window frames.

Geo. R. O'Neal, a brother of Capt. Neal O'Neal of this city is reported fast improving from the injuries to his eyes received some thirteen months ago, while blasting for a well at his ranch in Stonewall county. At the time of the accident he was made totally blind by the blast and for a time it was expected he would die; since then however he has rapidly improved and has been able to go to Dallas to take treatment under a noted specialist who now has thim improved sufficiently to be able to distinguish his friends.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured and am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by Overton Drug Co.

Dublin Has

A population of 4000.

A fine system of waterworks and electric lights and an exceptional volunteer fire department.

A cotton oil mill, a cotton compress, a roller mill and two railways with reasonable prospects in time of having two more.

Many enterprising merchants and professional men and some not so enterprising.

An extremely low death rate due to high altitude and good drainage.

As fine a graded public school as may be found in Texas and a magnificent school building which cost $25,000.

A progressive intelligent and thrifty class of farmers and stockmen thickly settled within her trade area.

Raw and improved land of the finest and broadest acres in abundance hereabouts at from $5 to $30 an acre, price depending upon location and state of improvement.

These are a few of the good things Dublin has. There are some things we yet need, prominent among them a cotton mill. Such an institution would prove successful in Dublin.

Lost-Found.

Assault Near Stephenville.

Miss Janie Bird, daughter of J. L. Bird who resides four miles north of Stephenville, was assaulted by a burly negro last Friday morning while going to Stephenville in a buggy, and was painfully wounded by a pistol shot and badly frightened. She was just in the act of driving onto the bridge across the Bosque two miles from town when the negro, before unseen by her, suddenly ran between the wheels of her buggy in an apparent attempt to get into the vehicle. He had a pistol in one hand and this seemed to be accidentally discharged, the ball taking effect in the fleshy portion of one arm of the young lady, which she had thrown up to the side of the buggy. The report of the weapon frightened the horse and he ran, knocking the negro down between the wheels and carrying the young lady away from the miserable wretch.

Several negroes were arrested on suspicion, but the young lady has been unable to identify any of them as the one, though saying that she would recognize the negro if she saw him.

Excitement ran high for some time over the matter and if he had been caught the angry citizens would likely have made short work of him.

No Loss of Time.

I have sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for years and would rather be out of coffee and sugar than it. I sold five bottles of it yesterday to threshers that could go no farther, and they are at work again this morning —H. R. Phelps, Plymouth, Okla. As will be seen by the above the threshers were able to keep on with their work without losing a single day's time. You should keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. For sale by Overton Drug Co.

W. E. Bryan, a son of our dairyman, N. Bryan, returned Wednesday morning from Cincinnati, where he has been studying the art of portrait painting. He secured the first prize of $230 at Cincinnati and also the first prize at the San Antonio and Dallas fairs the past three years. He will spend the summer with his parents in Dublin and next year he expects to take a course in one of the best studio's in France.

R. L. Thornton yesterday received the sad news of the death of his aged mother at his old home in Alabama. A clipping from the Montgomery advertiser has the following to say of her death:

"Mrs. Martha Thornton, wife of A. J. Thornton, one of the most prominent planters of Montgomery county, died at the family residence near Pike Road Sunday morning. She was one of the oldest residents of the county. For over fifty years she and her husband had walked side by side and four years ago they celebrated their golden wedding. Their home which was one mile north of Pike Road was celebrated for its warm hospitality. In the neighborhood where she lived she was universally esteemed and beloved. Death came to her after many months of sufering. She raised a large family two daughters and four sons surviving her. Her sons are living in Texas."

An Unique Pardon.

Governor Davis of Arkansas, recently pardoned a negro, Andrew Thompson, on condition that Thompson go to Masssachusetts within the next thirty days and make that his home. Thompson was serving a three years sentence for assault with intent to kill. The governor made the following indorsement on the application for pardon:

"Having just returned from the north and having heard many expressions of sympathy by the citizens of Massachusetts for what they were pleased to call the poor oppressed negro of the south and desiring that they should have an opportunity to reform a certain portion of the negro population of our state.

"Therefore, I, Jefferson Davis, governor of the state of Arkansas, by virtue of the constitution and authority vested in me by the constitution and laws of Arkansas, do grant unto Andrew Thompson, a negro, full and free pardon, on condition that he become within the next thirty days a citizen of Massachusetts."

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

Scott's Emulsion

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.

The following young men have this week enlisted at Dublin with Sargeant Laughlin of Dallas for service in the regular army: Claude C. Pilgrim, Orna D. O. Page, Fred C. Holt, Randolph Smith of Dublin, Joseph E. Clark of Stephenville. We are indebted to Sargeant Laughlin for the information that these young men will probably leave here tomorrow morning for San Francisco, whither they will go via Ft. Worth and the Denver route. The regiments to which they will be joined are designated as coast artillery and for a while will be located at the Presidio of San Francisco, later they will probably see service in Alaska and the Hawaiian islands and possibly may be sent to the Philippines to relieve some of those who have served their time in that section of Uncle Sam's Dominions. Capt. Dapray of Dallas is expected here this evening to make final arrangements for the departure of the recruits and Sargeant Laughlin will remain until Monday, when he will visit Comanche.

Capt. Ernest C. Russell of the Ninth United States infantry, died of asiastic cholera at Manilla last Monday. He was a son of L. B. Russell of Comanche and obtained the endorsement from Congressman Lanham for appointment to the West Point Military academy at a competitive examination held in Dublin in 1892, at which a number of other young men of Dublin and surrounding towns were contestants. In 1896 he graduated from the academy and was appointed a second lieutenant in the regular army. When the Spanish-American war broke out he was promoted to a lieutenancy and served in the Cuban campaign, returning to the United States after the war and was stationed in Minnesota. Later his regiment was ordered to the Phillipines and there he was promoted to a captaincy for bravery and meritorious conduct. His remains will probably not be brought to the United States because of death occuring from a contagious disease.

The Dublin Ice factory is now getting down to business in a manner to do credit as an ice plant, to a much larger city than Dublin. Under the new management new condensers and new filters have been supplied and all the machinery overhauled until now the product of the plant is of a much finer quality than can usually be found. The new machinery added makes the water used in the ice as pure as the purest and entirely free from all sediment that is often found in ice. The factory has a capacity of ten tons per day and while the demand is not yet sufficient this season to require a steady and continuous run it is rapidly growing and besides furnishing the local trade, nearly every town in this section is buying ice from the Dublin factory. Under the new conditions Manager Perkins will doubtless make even a greater success of the factory than his predecessor Mr. Graves.

The injunction suit relative to the recent prohibition election in Erath county was argued before Special Judge Goodson of Comanche, at Stephenville last Monday and on Saturday he rendered a verdict dissolving the temporary injunction on the grounds of not having jurisdiction of the matter. The judge cited opinions and the law to show that the election was void because it was illegally called by the court and therefore he had no grounds upon which to perpetuate the injunction because their was no election ordered under the law We learn the antis will appeal from from this decision to the courts of last resort and if it is sustained will then bring up a bill in equity to prevent enforcement of the local option law in the county.

J. E. Clark, a young man who has been raised in Erath county, near Lingleville, but for some time has been employed at Stephenville, gave in his application to join the regular army to Sargeant Laughlin at Dublin this week and will leave tomorrow for San Francisco. His term service of is for three years and he expects to spend that time on the Pacific coast unless in the meantime something occurs to require his regiments removal to other points. During the time he promises to write an occasional letter to the Progress. The young man has many friends in this county whose good will shall attend him wherever his duty as a soldier for Uncle Sam may call.

A postal order has been issued making it a fine of two hundred dollars for any person by mistake receiving mail of any kind belonging to another and not returning it to the postoffice promptly. Very often it is the case that the postmaster makes an error and places mail in the wrong box and it is recognized that a certain amount of errors of this kind is unavoidable, hence the order to make it certain that all persons get the mail addressed to them.

School Notice.

All patrons of the Dublin Public schools are invited and requested to attend the Commencement Exercises at the auditorium of the school building tonight, May 30th, also all pupils of the school from and including the 6th grade up.

It was originally intended by the faculty to have several days of commencement exercises in order to have all represented, the various days to include the several grades, but the school board has deemed it necessary to close the school two weeks earlier than originally intended and hence no time has been allowed to arrange for several days exercises and only to prepare for brief exercises for the high school department.

The auditorium has been arranged to accomodate everyone possible and it is only with regret that the board and faculty see it possible, under the circumstances to include those stated above for this year.

M. C. WITCHER,
President of the School Board.
J. S. DALEY,
Sec'y of the School Board.
E. I. HALL,
Supt. of Schools.

Subscribers to the Progress should bear in mind that our rules require cash in advance for all papers sent out of Erath county and Dublin territory. We cannot afford, for various good reasons, to make any variation from this rule and hope that our subscribers outside of the territory mentioned, those who may move from the territory to any point outside of it and those inside the territory who are sending papers to friends outside of it, will bear this rule in mind and not ask us to break it. It is impossible to make variations from the rule and still maintain it.

Cures When Doctors Fail.

Mrs. Frank Chiasson, Patterson, La., writes June 8th, 1901: "I had malaria fever in very bad form, was under treatment by doctors, but as soon as I stopped taking their medicine the fever would return. I used a sample of Herbine, found it helped me. Then bought two bottles, which completely cured me. I feel grateful to you for furnishing such a splended medicine and can honestly recommend it to those suffering from malaria, as it will surely cure them." Herbine 50c a bottle at Overton Drug Co.

Parties who have friends in the old states or in other parts of Texas to whom they desire to send a few sample copies of the Progress, can be accomodated by sending us a list of the parties and their respective post-office addresses. We have quite a number of back copies ready wrapped and as long as they last we will send them without charge to any names furnished us. If you have some friends you wish to send some to make out the list of as many as you wish and mail it to us and we will gladly forward them direct to the parties at once.

A deficit of about $2,800 has been discovered in the settlement of Tax Collector N. N. Johnson with the county. It is not known in what manner it occurred but a finance committee appointed by the commissioners court has this week had charge of the books to check them up and find out where the trouble lies. The committee is composed of Tom Hall of Thurber, John S. Hyatt of Stephenville and H. E. Brown of Dublin.

When you wake up with a bad taste in your mouth you may know that you need a dose of Chamberlin's Stomach & Liver Tablets. They will cleanse your stomach, improve your appetite and make you feel like a new man. They are easy to take, being sugar coated, and pleasant in effect. For sale by Overton Drug Co.

The summer normal to be held in Stephenville will begin June 26th and continue for six weeks. The faculty as at present named is composed of J. B. Jones of Stephenville, conductor; assisted by Profs. Marr of Dublin, Sandefer of Stephenville and Potts and Andrews of Hood county.

Eugene O'Brien, who has for some time had charge of the pumping station of the Texas Central railroad at this place has accepted a position as manager of the Rio Grande yards at Stephenville at an advanced salary. He has moved to that place with his family.

You will never wish to take another dose of pills if you once try Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets. They are easier to take and more pleasant in effect. They cleanse the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels. For sale by Overton Drug Co.

Dr. Winfrey has this week received a communication from Mrs. Winfrey at Owego, N. Y advising him that her father is slightly improved, but is yet very dangerously ill and that she will probably remain there during the present summer.

Dr. Lewis' sale of fine stock will occur at Dublin on Thursday, June 5th, instead of the other date heretofore advertised by mistake. 1t.

Rev. T. B. Larimore of Florence, Alabama, closed an eight weeks meeting at the Christian church in Weatherford Monday night. He preached during the time two sermons each day of the week and three on Sunday during the meeting. Sixty-one baptisms and additions to the church resulted.

CATARRH

The treatment of Catarrh with antiseptic and astringent washes, lotions, salves, medicated tobacco and cigarettes or any external or local application, is just as senseless as would be kindling a fire on top of the pot to make it boil. True, these give temporary relief, but the cavities and passages of the head and the bronchial tubes soon fill up again with mucus.

Taking cold is the first step towards Catarrh, for it checks perspiration, and the poisonous acids and vapors which should pass off through the skin, are thrown back upon the mucous membrane or inner skin, producing inflammation and excessive flow of mucus, much of which is absorbed into the blood, and through the circulation reaches every part of the system, involving the Stomach, Kidneys and other parts of the body. When the disease assumes the dry form, the breath becomes exceedingly foul, blinding headaches are frequent, the eyes red, hearing affected and a constant ringing in the ears. No remedy that does not reach the polluted blood can cure Catarrh. S. S. S. expels from the circulation all offensive matter, and when rich, pure blood is again coursing through the body the mucous membranes become healthy and the skin active, all the disagreeable, painful symptoms disappear, and a permanent, thorough cure is effected. S. S. S. being a strictly vegetable blood purifier does not derange the Stomach and digestion, but the appetite and general health rapidly improve under its tonic effects. Another fine rain fell Tuesday night and Wednesday morning in and about Dublin. The crops were not particularly in need of it, though it will prove beneficial in providing a better season to draw upon.

The Carbon Herald of last week, in rebuttal of a short item in a recent issue of the Progress relative to the complaint of the Herald about lack of advertising patronage, recounts a surprisingly large list of the various enterprises in operation in that little city. From the advertising columns of the Herald one would judge that Carbon has nothing besides a good newspaper, one barber shop, one restaurant, one liverystable and two physicians.

The mayor and all members of the city council of Mineral Wells have been arrested for contempt of court is disobeying an injunction recently issued out of the district court forbidding them to grant further time on a contract for extension of the sewers of the city, which they have since done in violation of the injunction.

The scholastic census of Dublin for this year will show a population within the school age limit of about five hundred and twenty-five, which is some two hundred less that of last year. It is believed there is actually as many this year in the district as there was last, but that the change in the method and time of taking the census, required by the state superintendent, is responsible for the falling off. It will reduce the amount of state school money coming to the Dublin school by nearly one thousand dollars.

JUSTICE CALLED FOR

THAT ALONE CAN BRING PEACE TO THE PHILIPPINES.

Policy of the Government Calculated to Make Cruel and Vindictive Soldiers—Filipinos Have Not Been Dealt with Frankly.

Senator Teller is justified in repelling the accusation that those who condemn the cruelties which have been perpetrated in the Philippines traduce the American army. There is no denying certain most deplorable facts. They are admitted by the very men who are charged with responsibility for their occurrence.

As Senator Teller says, the recital of these facts involves censure of individuals in the army, but it does not involve censure of the army as a whole. Senator Lodge stated only the other day that more than 300 officers and men had been court-martialed for wrongs done the natives. Here was censure of individual soldiers by army courts, but it did not involve censure of the army as an organization.

Mr. Teller spoke the undeniable truth when he said: "The very policy of this government in dealing with these people is calculated to make a cruel and vindictive soldier."

It is not that the officers and men in the army are exceptionally inclined to be cruel and vindictive. They are very much like the rest of the American people in character and disposition. It is the system of arbitrary and irresponsible military government in the islands that has been productive of cruelty and vindictiveness.

The senator suggests the explanation when he says to the republicans: "You have got to face this proposition. Give these people a free government or declare that they shall never have one."

From the first there has been no frankness in dealing with the people of the Philippines. The republican leaders who have shaped the policy have carefully abstained from indicating a purpose to give them a free government such as other people under the American flag enjoy.

So far from indicating any such purpose, they have pursued a course calculated to make them believe they were never to have an American free government. Their policy has been such as to make enemies of the entire population, including those who were disposed to welcome us as friends.

There is too much reason to believe that in consequence of this policy the Americans in the islands with whom the natives have come much in contact have fallen into the habit of treating all of them with contempt or as enemies, with the exception of a few Macabebe heathen who are hereditary enemies of the Tagals, the civilized and Christianized people of the islands.

In this way enemies have been made of the people until, according to Gen. Chaffee, they are practically all hostile. The hostility thus engendered has been reciprocal and has seemed to our officers and men to justify extreme measures of cruelty and vindictiveness.

If we are ever to have genuine peace in the islands—anything more than sullen truce or submission under silent protest—this policy must give place to a frank declaration of purpose to give the people of the islands free American government at the earliest possible moment.

This declaration must be accompanied by such a course of conduct, both civil and military, as will satisfy the people that we mean what we say and that they will be as truly free and much better off in every way under the American flag than they could ever expect to be under any other.

This is the only path to peace with honor. It is the particular path which Elihu Root refuses to walk in.

Necessities in Table Companions.

"At a dinner at the Pacific Union club," so runs a dispatch from San Francisco, "more than $200,000,000 was represented." The question that now comes up is, What is the smallest amount of money that must be "represented"—to use the admirable San Francisco term—if a dinner is to be worth attending? For ourselves, we set our faces as flint against any suggestion of feeble compromise with "representatives" of education and breeding. Set the total at $100,000,000 for the present and punish the host who tolerates a smaller sum by compelling him to consort with intelligent people for the rest of his life.

The First Step in War on Trusts.

The one practicable and effective course to be pursued is to deprive the trusts of their tariff protection, to take away from them their railroad protection and then to devise some method of enforcing publicity and an accounting to the public authority. This prosecution of the meat trust is a mere flash in the pan and cannot possibly bring large results unless it is made applicable to the incorporated trusts. Remove the tariff on meat and cattle and clear the way for free importations from near-by countries. This is the first thing to be done.

Senators in a Tight Place.

The discrimination against American flour by several of the largest foreign customers of the United States is inspired by a spirit of retaliation. According to the Kansas millers it has greatly affected the milling interests of this country. The senators, as the treaty-making agents of the government, are requested to right the situation by reciprocal concessions. But the senators, at least those of the administration and majority party, are in an awkward position. They are exponents of protection in this country, and unless they are willing to concede that protection may be harmful to the country establishing such a tariff they cannot consistently ask a foreign power to modify its schedules.

Grosvenor's Silly Allegation.

Representative Grosvenor of Ohio does make some awful breaks. What was the use, for instance, of his telling a newspaper correspondent that the formation of Mr. Morgan's steamship combine made the passing of the shipping subsidy bill all the more necessary, because none of the vessels to be owned by the combine could receive a dollar of subsidy under the bill, the benefits of which would all go to vessels which would compete with the steamers in the new combination? The fact is that the result of the passage of the Frye bill would be to add exactly $1,712,661 to the revenues of the steamers belonging to the American Steamship company, which is the nucleus of the combine.

Symptoms of National Degeneracy.

Atrophy of the moral sense of the people has been predicted as an inevitable effect of wars of conquest waged against races held to be inferior. Symptoms of that degeneracy are not wanting after only three years of criminal aggression for commercial profit and territorial aggrandizement. More amazing and lamentable is the letter of a minister in Philadelphia to Gen. Corbin suggesting excuses for Gen. Smith's order to kill all natives over 10 years old. The fact that children are useful to the insurgents, pleads this preacher of the gospel of Christ, "may put a different color upon the order of Gen. Smith" to slaughter them.

Private or Public Railway Trust.

That the consolidation of the American railways into great trusts, or "mergers," as they have been called, hastens the time when all the railways whose traffic is in any way related will be brought under a single management is beyond question. It also hastens the time when the railroads will be taken into the possession of the national government and operated as is any other sort of government business. The private railway trust may be considered as actually upon us, and its reign, which may or may not be brief, is sure to bring on government ownership. Between the evils of both it is not easy to make a choice.

Extermination the Next Step.

It must be evident by this time that "benevolent assimilation" is a failure. Soft words have been tried, threats have been tried and Weylerism has been tried. The administration has cried peace, peace, but there is no peace; there is a military occupation and a partial subjugation, a government by armed force on the one hand and on the other sullen submission and hatred, as of an oppressor. If the water cure and Weylerism are to be abandoned what is to be substituted therefor? If a half-savage and wholly hostile people is to be subjugated extermination may very likely be the only effectual means to that end.

Jail Service as a Cure.

If the fact of the existence of the beef trust and its extortions could be established on the criminal side of the court a sojourn of a few hot summer months inside a county jail would do more than all the injunctions in the world could do to put a stop to high prices now at the very point of extortion and oppression. There ought to be wisdom sufficient in congress and in state legislatures to frame bills that would do the work of destroying trusts and combines in restraint of trade or for the purpose of raising the prices of necessaries of life.

There Is Trouble Ahead.

In the skirmish between Uncle Sam and the beef trust the beef trust so far has the advantage, but it never yet was truthfully said of Uncle Sam in a vital case that he belonged to the tribe of quitters, and that is only another way of saying that there is trouble ahead for the beef trust. It takes something to rile the gentleman with the high white hat and the red, white and blue clothing, but when he is riled he's apt to make the splinters fly.

Cabal of Six Senators.

Aldrich, Allison, Spooner, Platt, McMillan and Lodge form the oligarchy which has been supreme in the United States senate for many days. A "Saplam," taken from the initial letters of the above-mentioned designing statesmen, would mean as much as a "Cabal," if people should happen to see the expediency for using such a word, in order to refer to a junto.

The Remedy That Will Avail.

Why waste time in investigations, when a simple and effective way to solve the problem can be reached without any investigation? Let congress put cattle, sheep, hogs and all kinds of meats upon the free list. That will effectually reduce the price of meats, whether there is a meat trust or not.

A Queer Sort of Benevolence.

If the marines be acquitted of "killing and burning" in Samar because they had orders, and the generals who gave the orders shall be acquitted on the plea of justification, it will bring the responsibility home. This is not the benevolent assimilation which we undertook in the face of the nations.

CONFERENCE OVER.

Some of the Work that was Done in Seventeen Days.

Dallas: Not since 1844, when the great Methodist church of America divided has there been a quadrennial conference fraught with more importance than the one just closed—the fourteenth quadrennial conference of the M. E. church. The church annals will contain much history that will be read with much interest by future generations of Methodists. When this great body of churchmen assembled in Dallas a few weeks ago a question was paramount which almost amounted to a schism.

In 1862 the Federal forces seized the Methodist publishing house at Nashville, Tenn. For a quarter of a century the church made efforts to secure a settlement of the claim. In 1898 the congress of the United States voted to allow the M. E. church, south, $288,000 in full settlement. The agents of the church allowed a fee of $100,800 to the attorney collecting the claim, and on this there occurred a division. Some of the members of the senate and congress declared that had they known such a sum was to be paid to an attorney they would not have voted for the bill. This caused a division, and when the committee on publishing interests reported it did so in two ways. A majority report condemned the action of the church's agents, but saw no reason why the money should be returned. The minority filed a report condemning the methods adopted in the collection of the claim and recommending its return to the government. A compromise measure was finally adopted in which the conference censured the agents of the church, but retains the money, and also declines to levy an assessment which would place the $100,800 paid the attorney to the credit of the endowment fund for the support of superannuated preachers.

A step of wide-reaching importance was the authorization of the order of deaconesses. A hard fight was made against the innovation, but it was finally decided to establish the order. The duties of the deaconesses are similar to those of the sisters of charity.

The church also went on record as not being in sympathy with organized labor. A memorial was presented asking the conference to appoint a commission to assist in the settlement of labor disputes. Dr. D. C. Kelley of Tennessee and S. B. Adams of Savannah, Ga., spoke strongly in favor of the adoption of the memorial, but went down in defeat after some caustic denunciation of organized labor by a number of delegates, both clerical and lay.

Salaries of both bishops and connectional officers were regulated, as is usual. Bishops now receive $3500 per annum, and on an average the other officers are paid $3000 a year.

Dr. E. E. Hoss and Dr. A. Coke Smith were created bishops and Bishops Fitzgerald, Hargrove and Granbery retired from active episcopal work.

Dr. J. D. Barbee, for sixteen years senior book agent, is retired in favor of J. R. Bigham, while D. M. Smith, junior agent, was re-elected.

Dates Changed.

Hillsboro, Tex.: At a meeting of the Hill county old settlers and old soldiers, the dates of their annual reunion was changed to July 16, 17 and 18. The Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy were invited to co-operate. The first day will be old settlers' day, the second old soldiers' day and last Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy day.

Reunion will be held three miles from town at their permanent reunion grounds, formerly known as Chapman's grove.

Sentenced to Hang.

LeGrange, Tex.: Sam Woodley, the negro who was convicted at the last fall term of the district court of assault upon a 12-year-old white girl living in Winchester, this county, was sentenced by Judge Moore to be hanged on June 11. The case has been affirmed by the higher courts.

After Cotton Choppers.

Waco.: Inducements offered by farmers to cotton choppers has caused an exodus of negroes from this city. It is estimated that 3000 men and women of that race left Waco for the cotton fields since the demand began about a week ago. The San Antonio and Aransas Pass and the Houston and Texas Central railroads are doing a large business carrying the choppers down the Brazos valley to the big plantations.

Will Try to Attend.

San Antonio: In answer to an invitation that had been extended President Roosevelt to attend the San Antonio fair in October, President Brown of the Fair association is in receipt of a letter from Secretary Cortelyou acknowledging the receipt of the invitation and stating that the president will most certainly visit San Antonio during the fair if he can so arrange matters as to make it convenient to do so.

During the recent storm at Blossom, Lamar county, the son of a Mr. Romans, residing five miles northeast of that place, was killed by a falling tree.

At the fourth commencement of the Washington (D. C.) College of Law Miss Bessie Agnes Dwyer of San Antonio received her diploma as bachelor of law.

The Federation of Ladies' Clubs of Sherman has requested the city attorney to prepare an ordinance making it a finable offense to expectorate on the sidewalks and crossings.

John J. Fairbanks of Denison has been appointed immigration agent for the Frisco railway in Texas, with headquarters at Denison. Mr. Fairbanks has had large experience in matters of this kind.

Mrs. Ada Wells Graham of Aubrey committed suicide by shooting herself with a pistol. Mrs. Graham at one time was an artist of much ability, but of late years her mind has been impaired.

Sarah Thomas, a negro woman, was arrested at Marshall charged with the burning of a cabin in the southwestern portion of that city belonging to Emily Tyler. In default of $300 bail she was committed to jail.

At Oak Cliff a horse got in front of an electric car and ran along a trestle for fully 100 feet. Falling into a hole between the ties, the car, which followed close behind, crushed the animal's body into a horrible mass.

Three negroes were arrested and jailed at Paris a few days ago. They are charged with being implicated in the murder of Malindy Alexander, whose body was found in Pine creek, bottom, eight miles from Paris. She was a negro woman.

In the Forty-fourth district court at Dallas Judge Morgan ruled that license for liquor dealers signed by chartered corporations, formed for the purpose of selling beer and like beverabe, are void, consequently not collectable in damage suits.

Mrs. I. Kopperal, one of the Galveston party injured in a tallyho accident at Redlands, Cal., on the 9th instant, died on the 19th. Amputation of one foot was necessary. Convulsions followed. The remains were shipped to Galveston for burial.

August Schneider, a resident of LaGrange, while in bathing during a visit to Galveston, was drowned. Schneider, who was 52 years of age, was an expert swimmer. He had eaten heartily previous to entering the water.

BECOME BOYS AGAIN

RICH AND PROSPEROUS MEN ENJOY CHILDHOOD DISHES.

Sight of Slab of Apple Pie Overcame Conscience—Ex-President Grant Asked for Dinner of Corn Beef and Cabbage.

He was particularly well-groomed and looked well fed as he strolled through the lobby of one of our most fashionable hotels, says the New York Press. "Talking about the connection of the organs of scent with memory," he said, "scientists to the contrary notwithstanding, I believe taste spurns memory quite as quickly as smell. Last night I took dinner with an old-time friend of mine—'supper' they called it—and his wife put some raised doughnuts on the table that, when I bit into one, put me right back in the old kitchen at home when I was a boy."

"That's so——that's so!" declared a white-haired man who wore a stock—not because the hunting set have made them fashionable again, but because he had always worn one. "My daughter-in-law has good help and she's a fine cook herself; but the other day I was rummaging around in the basement of our warehouse and I came across the porter's dinner pail. I opened it to see what the boy's wife gave him for luncheon, and there was a big slab of apple pie right on top. It looked just like what my aunt used to make years ago. I couldn't resist the temptation, and I left half a dollar on deposit for the pie and eat up every last crumb of it. Why, I could remember getting licked for hooking a piece that tasted just like that out of the pantry—for my aunt was a strict disciplinarian.

"But then," added the old man reflectively, "that couldn't have been just like my aunt's pies, if it did taste so, for I couldn't sleep a wink that night for the trouble it gave me."

"Reminds me of what the steward of the Palmer House in Chicago told me once," said a third member of the group. "When Gen. Grant stopped there on his return from his tour of the world one noon the steward was all but stupefied at seeing the ex-President slide in at the kitchen door, as though escaping from some one.

"'I am sorry to trouble you,' he said, as though asking a great favor, 'but may I have a little corned beef and cabbage?'

"'Why, certainly,' the steward replied, 'but shan't I send it out to you in the dining room?'

"'No,' he answered, 'I'll eat it right here if you'll let me sit down.'

"So a place on the rough board table, where the cook had been fixing the meat, was cleared and Grant drew up a stool and set to. And the way he got away with that corned beef and cabbage was a caution. When he had finished he laid down his knife and fork with a funny sigh of satisfaction, put one hand on the steward's shoulder, and said:

"'Young man, I don't suppose you care for that at all, but if you had had to eat what I have for the past few months it would taste like a dinner for the gods. It tastes homey!'

"The ex-President had dined with everybody from the Queen down, but that cabbage and corned beef doubtless reminded him of the time when he was not so well known, but probably far happier—when people in St. Louis called him 'Captain' when they spoke to him and bought the wood he carted into town to sell."

Awoke Senator Scott.

Senator Morgan is 78 years old. Not long ago he stood on his feet for five hours and read 80,000 words of a Nicaragua canal speech, and was as fresh as a daisy when he had finished. Everybody left the chamber, but Senator Morgan ambled along contentedly and probably didn't know or care whether one senator or fifty listened to him. President Frye escaped early. He called Senator Scott to the chair. Senator Scott kept awake as long as he could and then took a nap. Senator Kittridge was present most of the time, because he is going to make a speech in reply to Morgan. Once he rose to make an inquiry. Senator Scott slept peacefully.

"Change cars!" said the reading clerk.

Senator Scott awoke with a start and answered the question, and Senator Morgan went on and on and on.

"Papa's Wife."

Justice Henry Bischoff of the supreme court was a widower for several years. Recently he announced his forthcoming marriage to Mrs. Collamore, an old friend of his family. His daughter, who is married, asked him how she should in future address her stepmother.

"Should I call her mamma," asked she, "or what?"

"I think," said the Justice, "you ought to call her Anna Held."

"Anna Held," repeated she, inquiringly, "why so?"

"Because she will be 'Papa's wife,'" remarked the Justice with a chuckle.

Immigrants in Canada.

Lord Strathcona, the high commissioner of Canada, announces that specially conducted parties (in charge of representatives of the Canadian government) will start from Liverpool and Glasgow during this month. Those who form these parties will receive personal attention from the government agents, whose duty it will be to see that the passengers are well looked after on the voyage, and, on their arrival in Canada, to assist in any way they properly can their satisfactory location on farms.

FARMERS RAISE FROGS

The Industry Neglected in the United States and Grows in Canada.

Frog farming as an industry is assuming large proportions in parts of Canada. Not only are shipments of frogs' legs made from this country to the United States, but there is a growing demand for them in many of the large cities of the Dominion, says the Montreal Sun.

One of the most successful frog farms is in Ontario. Last year it produced 5,000 pounds of frogs' legs, and 7,000 living frogs for scientific purposes and for stocking waters.

The deputy commissioner of fisheries for Ontario reports that in the past year a number of applications were made to the government for leases of lands suitable for frog industry. No licenses were, however, granted, as it was found that the territory concerned was already largely farmed by a number of people.

It is safe to assume that in the near future much land now idle will be stocked with frogs. All that is necessary for this purpose is a pond and a few paired breeders in the spring. Natural food is almost always present in sufficient amount for rapid growth.

The species considered best and most profitable, on account of its size, is the eastern bullfrog, Rana catesbiana, which reaches a length of more than eight inches. It begins to breed at the end of three years, is very productive and reaches a marketable size in four or five years.

Only the hind legs are marketed, and they average half a pound per pair in weight. They are worth 15 cents a pound, at times, to the breeder, and American dealers take as many as Canada can supply.

In his office down town the [illegible] man is looked upon as a pattern of probity and fine moral sense. He does not have to be all that to keep his place, for he is rich, and though he is the junior partner he supplies the main part of the capital and most of the commercial [illegible] ness, says the New York Post. A year or two he goes west to [illegible] some branded ponies for his string, selling off those which [illegible] be easily taught the game, or have "gone wrong" in wind [illegible] eyesight. "Bless, my soul!" exclaimed the man; "what are you doing?"

"Only selling a horse to my friend," the young man answered.

Hold Foreign Titles.

King Edward is the first [illegible] who has ever sat on the British [illegible] but he is not by any means the only Englishman whose title embraces territory outside the British Isles. The foreign titles of well-known Englishmen would make a long list. There are 100,000 scholars in Oklahoma. The public schools and colleges are endowed and state [illegible] wheat crop amounts annually to [illegible] 000,000 bushels and her corn crop to 60,000,000 bushels. Besides this she grows 150,000 bales of cotton a year. Her horses and cattle are of the best quality and her fruit is abundant. The people are progressive and prosperous. All this has been accomplished in thirteen years.

decks were covered two inches s matter," and the captain ex- a box of volcanic dust, which her smokestacks were gone. When the watchman dug into the lava he found here and there fragments of human remains. All that was left of the ship was her hull, and that, being iron, had escaped destruction.

"Hearing that Capt. Freeman was at the Hotel Felite, we called on him. I wanted to get from his own lips the story of his escape. I was unprepared for the terrible sight which greeted my eyes when I entered the room.

"Capt. Freeman's face was burned to the color of teak wood and large patches of skin and flesh were burned from his bones, here and there. Both his hands were swathed in bandages. His hair and mustache were gone, his eyes were tied open and he was in great pain. When I told him who I was he talked a great deal, to relieve himself, he said, of his suffering.

"He said the Roddam had been in St. Pierre only an hour when the eruption occurred. He was talking to an agent in a boat alongside when a big black squall approached the ship from the island. It was like a black wall, traveled fast and was accompanied by a tidal wave and a deafening roar. The sun disappeared immediately.

"Capt. Freeman said that he shouted to everybody to stand clear. An instant later the air was filled with flame and falling batches of fire. The ship was immediately ablaze from end to end, and the crew and laborers aboard began to rush about, frantic with pain. As nearly as he could remember there were forty-two persons aboard the ship, only six of whom survived. The ship keeled over when the tidal wave hit her, and nearly capsized. Then she righted and the falling shower of fire continued.

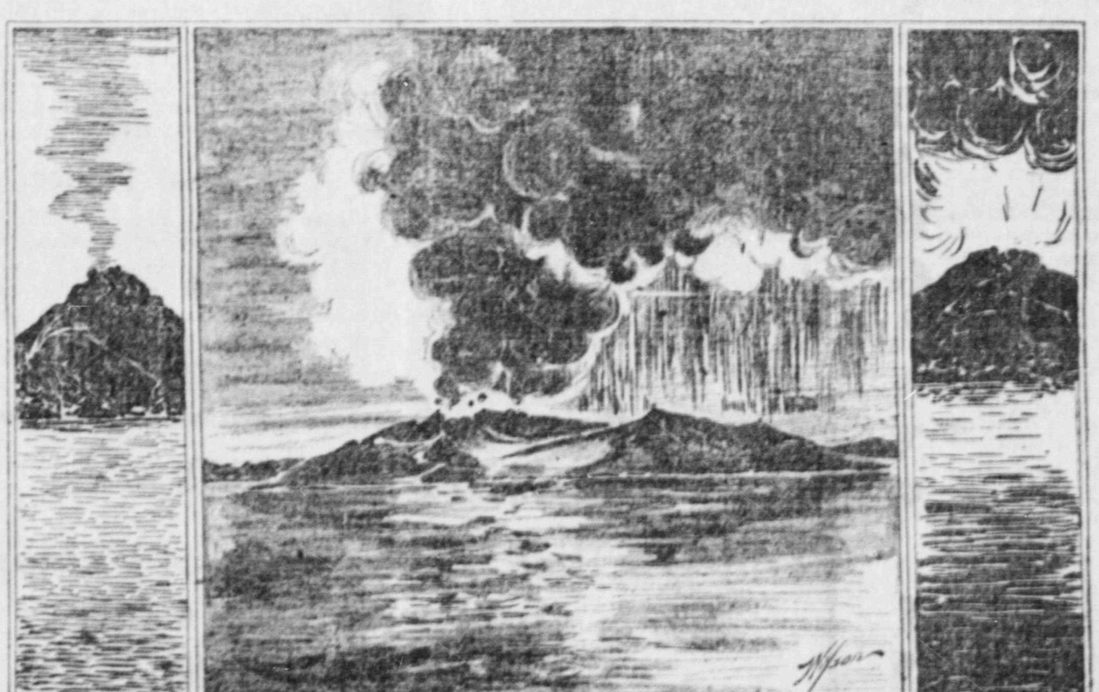

"Capt. Freeman ran into the chart-room, but was driven out again by flames that came in at the port hole. Then he rushed to the engine room telephone and signaled the engineer to put on full steam. Some one responded and the ship began to move, but the steering gear was jammed and would not work. He kept the engines going ahead and astern alternately, hoping to free the paddles, and in so doing nearly struck the Quebec Line steamer Roraima, from which clouds of steam and flame were rising.

"Men on the Roraima were wringing their hands and rushing about frantically. Some of them jumped into the sea, where they must have died instantly, Capt. Freeman said, for the water was boiling like a caldron. It was like a mass of boiling mud. Many of the Roddam's crew had disappeared, probably swept overboard, and the rest went one by one until only six were left. Every one of them must have died a terrible death.

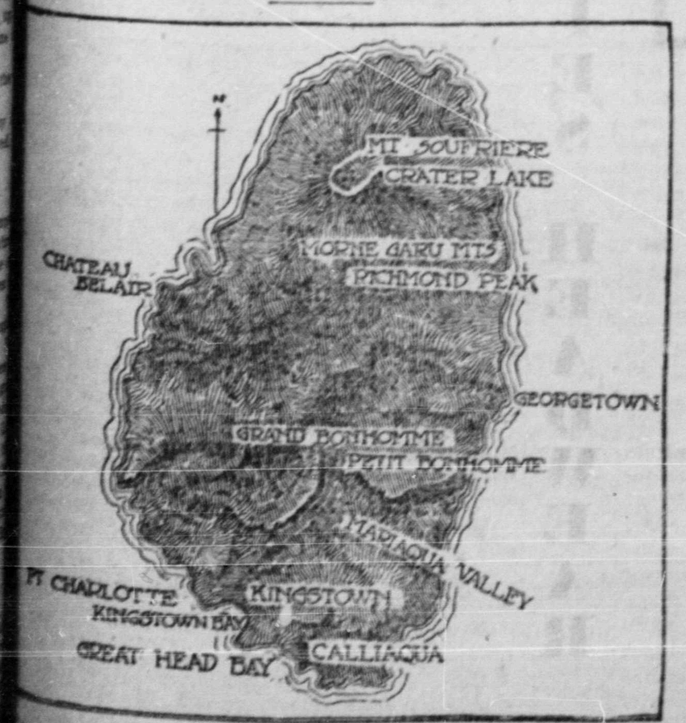

"After a time the captain got the steering gear working, the ship answered her helm and he headed her out to sea. Slowly the sky cleared, and it was possible for him to see about him. Men in the red hot lava lay dying all along his track. He himself, though he stayed at the wheel, was unable to lift his burned arms. Blood from his forehead kept running into his eyes, obscuring his vision. He likened his escape to the passage from hell into heaven. At last he reached the open sea, and with the help of two sailors, two engineers and the boatswain, succeeded in taking his boat to St. Lucia.

"During the run out of the harbor the chief engineer died a horrible death. He escaped the first shock, started the engines and, not finding his men below, went on deck to look for them. As he thrust his head out of the hatch a mass of lava fell upon him, burning one side of his face completely off.

"Capt. Freeman's performance perhaps never had a parallel in stories of the sea," continued Capt. Cantell. "When the Roddam arrived at St. Lucia, the brave man refused all medical treatment until the others were cared for. He will live, the doctors tell me."

ISLAND OF ST. VINCENT.

BEAUTIFUL ISLE OF ST. VINCENT

Was an Earthly Paradise Before the Recent Awful Disaster.

St. Vincent, which has suffered from the eruption of its own soufriere volcano, is one of the most beautiful and picturesque islands in the British West Indian group. It has an area of 131 square miles and has been described as one of the flashing jewels that lie like a necklace around the Caribbean sea. The last British census credited it with a population of 50,000, of whom a large majority are negroes engaged in the cultivation of sugar cane, which is the principal crop. Two hundred years ago it was the home of the Carib Indians, who were induced by the French to join in a revolution against England. They were crushed and thousands were transported. Hundreds, rather than submit, threw themselves into the sea. A few descendants of these original owners of the island still exist on lands granted to them by the British government.

St. Vincent, like all the islands in the group, is of volcanic origin and culminates in the vast crater of Morne y Garou, which in 1812 was the scene of a tremendous eruption. Billions of tons of rock and earth were hurled high into the air—part, as molten lava, flowed down into the sea; part, shivered into thin dust, was carried high up into the clouds. For three days the awful convulsions of nature continued. The dust from the crater so obscured the rays of the sun and brought on a darkness so terrifying that the few survivors believed that the world had come to an end. The impalpable dust was carried by the trade winds to the islands of Barbados and St. Lucia and turned day into night. The inhabitants became panic-stricken with fear and abandoned their ordinary vocations and devoted themselves to prayer and fasting.

This was the closing period of a series of volcanic eruptions which had lasted two years, and the direction of the seismic wave was not unlike that which devastated Martinique. The disturbance in 1812 seemed to pass under the bed of the ocean to Venezuela, Caracas, the capital of that country, was partly destroyed by an earthquake and 10,000 persons perished. With the exception of the great Lisbon earthquake, the eruption of the mighty mountain was the most frightful cataclysm known to the world up to that time. The whole configuration of the island was changed. The eastern end sank into the sea, and where it stood there is now a great depth of water. The volcanic forces remained quiescent until 1882, and then the warning rumble was heard again; but it was a false alarm, and the terrible scenes of the early part of the century were not repeated.

The island of St. Vincent lies 100 miles west of Barbados and between St. Lucia and the Grenadines. From north to south stretches a ridge of high, wooded hills, extending to the sea on either side. The Soufriere, which is now in eruption, is in the northwest. It towers 3,000 feet above the sea. Its crater is three miles in circumference and 500 feet deep. From the summit the view on all sides was superb. Eastward over the new crater—formed in 1812—the Atlantic was visible through the hill ranges; westward to the blue waters of the Caribbean, and on the margin of the bay the quaint and curious town of Chateau Belair. Travelers who have stood on the highest point describe the view of Morne Garou as a spectacle of awe-inspiring grandeur, with the vast forest clambering over lofty peak and deep-hewn glen right to the northern verge, where, twenty miles off, the island dips under the blue waves.

The climate of St. Vincent is unusually humid, the average rainfall being seven feet annually. But the mortality rate is low and the inhabitants enjoy excellent health. The soil in the valleys is a rich loam, well calculated for the growing of cotton and cocoa palms, as well as sugar cane. The average temperature is 85 degrees Fahrenheit in the high lands. In the low lands it hovers between 90 and 95. The island has been noted for the beauty of the plumage of its birds and for its rare specimens of insect life.

It is the home of the giant firefly, whose phosphorescent brilliancy is so great that one fly will shed sufficient light by which to read a book or newspaper. A dozen of these insects will light up a large room, and the Caribs, in the olden days, used them for purposes of illumination. Unlike the birds of the tropics farther south, the birds of the forests of St. Vincent are not only brilliantly feathered, but are possessed of melodious song. One is a sort of mountain oriole, which has a note of peculiar sweetness and wonderful penetration.

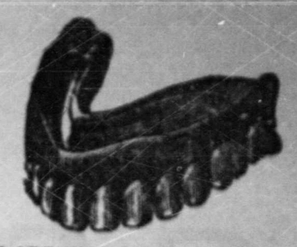

As in most countries where earthquakes are feared, the houses are, as a rule, one story in height. The more pretentious are two stories, and the public buildings are three, but the descendants of the Carib Indians regard these as dangerous and cannot be induced to enter them.

Secretary Shaw's Exercise.

Mounted on a "single-footer," Mr. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, goes for a ride nearly every afternoon. The animal's gait is so smooth that the rider gets as much exercise as though he was swinging in a hammock. But then the secretary on such trips looks more like a man doing his duty than out for a pleasure ride.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

The largest sum ever paid for a prescription changed hands in San Francisco, August 30th, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500.00 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable diseases.

They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 15th, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on it treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to Aug. 25, eighty-seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address John J.
