Prisoners Gifts

By ROBERT T. KERR
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Texas billionaire left by chartered jet today on the second leg of a trip he hopes will end with the delivery of 180,000 pounds of Christmas presents to 1,400 Americans held by North Vietnam.

"Allowing private American citizens to bring Christmas directly to these men would be a major step toward improving relations between our people," H. Ross Perot said before the plane — with "Peace on Earth" painted on it — left Dallas Sunday.

Most of the cargo — bedding, clothes, canned food, medicine and personal packages from prisoners' families — was loaded aboard the Boeing 707 during a stop in Los Angeles before it took off for Honolulu.

A second plane, named "Goodwill Toward Men," waited in Dallas for word to proceed.

Perot told newsmen he planned to arrive in Bangkok Tuesday and take another plane to Hanoi to try to persuade officials to allow the cargo planes to enter.

"That will give us most of the 24th to unload and bring Christmas to those guys on Christmas Day," Perot said.

"Of course, we could have Christmas in January."

He said Hanoi had discouraged the trip in a cabled message, advising Perot to send packages through normal postal channels via Moscow.

Perot, 39, who owns a Dallas computer company, organized a group called United We Stand, which is sponsoring the flight. He said he received large donations to help him pay the cost, about $600,000.

With Perot were about 30 newsmen and project workers including Red Cross doctors and a male nurse.

Perot said that since he announced his plan a week ago he hasn't sought advice from U. S. officials. If he did, he said, "the odds that this trip could succeed would go to zero."

The idea for the flight came as "a by-product of meeting a 4-½-year-old boy who has never met his father," Perot said.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Dec. 22, the 356th day of 1969. There are nine days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1894, the French army captain, Alfred Dreyfus, was found guilty of treason in a court-martial which inflamed world opinion. Dreyfus was a victim of antisemitism in the French army.

On this date:

In the year 69, the Roman Emperor Vitellius was assassinated.

In 1696, the founder of the colony of Georgia, James Oglethorpe, was born in London.

In 1775, the Continental naval fleet — consisting of two frigats, two brigs and three schooners — was organized.

In 1941, Winston Churchill arrived in Washington to confer with President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In 1944, the Germans demanded the surrender of the American general, Anthony McAuliffe at Bastogne. He replied: "Nuts."

In 1945, Britain and the United States recognized the new Yugoslav republic.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower returned to Washington from an 11-nation world tour.

Five years ago— Three anti-Castro Cubans were arrested in the firing of a bazooka shell at United Nations headquarters in New York.

One year ago — Eighty-two crewmen of the USS Pueblo were released by North Korea.

AFTER SITE COMPROMISE

Arms Talks Set April 16

HELSINKI (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union agreed today to begin full-scale strategic arms limitation talks in Vienna April 16 and continue them in Helsinki later.

The United States had wanted Vienna as the site for the substantive negotiations, while the Soviet Union had been holding out for Helsinki. The compromise choice of both capitals ended a deadlock and enabled the two countries to move ahead with their efforts to stop the arms race in nuclear missiles.

A joint communique said, in part:

"An understanding was reached on the general range of questions which will be the subject of further U.S.-Soviet exchanges."

The communique was issued at a ceremonial closing of the preliminary phase of SALT by chief delegates Vladimir S. Semenov of the Soviet Union and Gerard C. Smith of the United States.

The talks here beginning Nov. 17, were held in secrecy. Their purpose was simply to prepare for the second and main phase of SALT, expected to last months, if not years.

Smith said at the final ceremony in Smolna Palace:

"We profoundly hope that in the course of the forthcoming negotiations the United States and the Soviet Union will be able to agree upon limitations on their respective strategic arsenals. Both of our countries, and the world at large, have much to gain from such an agreement."

Semenov expressed similar sentiments.

"We have been aware that curbing the strategic arms race would serve the vital interests of the Soviet and American peoples and all peoples of our planet. On this basis we shall strive at the subsequent negotiations towards a mutually acceptable agreement on the problem under discussion."

Astronauts Receive Holiday Welcome

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Apollo 12 astronauts blew into Fort Worth today for a gala, holiday welcome and headed a parade into a flurry of confetti and cheering Texans.

Thousands jammed the downtown area to pay tribute to hometowner Alan L. Bean and to Charles Conrad Jr., and Richard Gordon Jr.

Long before their arrival, flag-waving youngsters and others formed silently along the parade route, eager for a glimpse of the pilots of Intrepid and Yankee Clipper.

Alan Bean Day dawned clear but cold and many spectators were wrapped in blankets.

Security rivalled that of a presidential visit. Not since 1945 had Fort Worth held a ticker tape parade. That was for Gen. Jonathan Wainwright.

Bean was accompanied by his pretty, blonde wife, Sue, and the couple's two children, Clay, 14, and Amy, 6. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bean, stationed themselves at a hotel to view the parade.

Following the parade and lunch, the astronauts were to appear at an "Apollo 12 Youth Conference" in the Convention Center where they would show a film of their November voyage and answer questions from the audience.

Tickets were distributed free in Texas schools and colleges and a committee member forecast a capacity crowd of 14,000.

An evening reception and a public banquet would take the all-Navy crew through one of its busiest days since Bean and Conrad toured the dusty lunar surface a month ago.

Cato Hightower, director of public safety and the parade chairman, summoned off-duty police officers back on the job to beef up the security force.

He said security was "comparable to security provided for a presidential visit" but that the job was more difficult because the astronauts were "moving around more than a president would."

Airliner Hits School In Vietnam

NHA TRANG, Vietnam (AP) — A South Vietnamese airliner skidded off the end of the Nha Trang Air Base runway today, smashing into a schoolhouse and a cluster of slum homes.

Initial reports said 30 persons were killed. But the toll was expected to climb as rescue teams dug through the rubble of the homes and small school and the burned-out fuselage of the Air Vietnam DC6.

Police at the scene said of the 30 known dead, 21 had been on the ground and nine were aboard the aircraft. Twelve of the dead were believed to be schoolchildren.

A passenger list drawn up in Nha Trang indicated that there were no Americans aboard. The list showed two or three Indians, and all the rest were Vietnamese.

Twenty persons were injured, including two American soldiers who were in a Jeep that was hit by the plane as it slid across a road at the northwest end of the runway.

Two other soldiers in the Jeep escaped by leaping out. The vehicle was smashed over and turned into a charred wreck by the fire that followed.

The plane carried 63 passengers and a crew of seven, according to the steward. He said all of the crew members survived although the pilot was seriously injured, first by a mysterious explosion that occurred aboard the plane and possibly again in the crash.

He said the explosion apparently occurred in one of the left-side engines as the aircraft, bound from Saigon to Da Nang via Nha Trang, was flying near Cam Ranh Bay, about 28 miles south of Nha Trang.

Nixon Plans Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to address the nation Tuesday with a message outlining American space goals in the decade ahead.

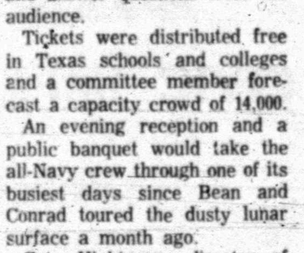

No time was set for the address.

The President has not indicated what the message may contain, although a special panel headed by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has recommended three alternatives including two that would put Americans on Mars in the 1980's.

JC Tax Pact Is Approved

County Commissioners this morning re-appointed Dr. R. B. Pierce county health officer, signed a contract with the Scurry County Junior College District for collection of taxes in 1970, and renewed insurance coverage of county buildings.

The insurance contract is with six local agencies and covers fire, hail and storm damage. Approval of the tax collection contract had been given the previous week, but formal signature of the contract was not made until this morning. Under the terms of the agreement, Don Adams, county tax assessor - collector, will be in charge of collections for the junior college district next year.

Israeli Cabinet Meeting Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli Cabinet met in special session today to discuss the U.S. peace proposal for Israel and Jordan and the strain it has put on Israel's relations with Washington.

The plan reportedly calls for Israeli withdrawal from most of the Jordan River's west bank territory captured in the 1967 war, and Israeli-Jordanian talks about the status of Jerusalem, which was unified as Israel's capital following the 1967 fighting.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, returning home from Washington and London for the Cabinet meeting, said he had "very strong and sharp" talks with State Department officials in Washington. Political informants said there also had been "tough talking" between Israeli Ambassador Yitzhak Rabin and the State Department after Rabin received the new U.S. proposal. Rabin returned with Eban.

The proposal was the sequel to another for Israel and Egypt which angered the Israelis when it was publicly announced two weeks ago.

The Israelis insist that they will not withdraw from the occupied territory without a peace treaty negotiated in face-to-face meeting with the Arabs. They are growing increasingly resentful at the U.S. prescriptions for peace, which they feel are continually chipping away at their position while the Soviet Union stands firmly behind the Arab refusal to negotiate with Israel.

On the frontier, Arab commando gunners in Jordan fired rockets into five Israeli settlements in the Beisan Valley, including the industrial town of Beit Shean. Sources in the area said the rockets caused no damage, but an Arab spokesman in Amman claimed they caused a heavy loss of life and property. Israeli artillerymen returned the fire.

Rockets were also fired at Israel's potash works in Sodom, on the Dead Sea. The Arab Palestine Armed Struggle Command said the attack destroyed all the factory's housing units and some other installations, but Israel denied there was any damage.

In Rabat, Morocco, Arab leaders from 14 nations and the Palestine Liberation Organization entered the second day of their summit meeting. Three viewpoints emerged as the Arabs sought a new strategy against Israel. Some leaders favored continuation of efforts for a political settlement of the Middle East crisis; others called for a general war. But the greatest interest seemed to be in giving maximum support to Palestinian guerrillas and encouraging them to form a provisional government which might eventually negotiate with Israel.

Snow Piles Up In Northeast

Snow piled up in the Northeast today as a storm centered over southern Virginia threatened the entire Atlantic Seaboard.

Travelers warnings were posted for a 14-state area from North Carolina and Tennessee through New England.

Snow fell from the lower Great Lakes through the Central Appalachians and into New England. Heaviest amounts were reported in Vermont, Pennsylvania and New York where 4 to 6 inches accumulated.

U. S. Helicopter Downed Sunday

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. helicopter was shot down Sunday and U.S. paratroopers ambushed a North Vietnamese force in the third day of action in South Vietnam's northernmost province. Elsewhere, battlefield action was light as the Christmas cease-fires approached.

An American spokesman said enemy fire downed a UH1H Huey helicopter as it was landing 2½ miles from the demilitarized zone Sunday to unload a 101st Airborne Division reconnaissance team. Eight Americans were killed and two wounded. The two injured men were taken out safely.

U.S. Air Force B52s bombed infiltration routes leading from Laos through the jungled mountains and foothills as intelligence indicated growing infiltration of North Vietnamese troops and supplies into the northwestern part of the country.

The bombers attacked base camps, bunkers and gun positions less than two miles from the Laotian border and 11 miles southeast of Khe Sanh, the U.S. Command said.

A second U.S. helicopter was shot down on a reconnaissance mission along the Cambodian border 73 miles northwest of Saigon. Three crewmen were wounded. This brought to 6,230 the total number of U.S. helicopters and planes reported lost in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

More than 40 enemy troops were reported killed in other small actions across the country. Fifteen of them died under a U.S. artillery bombardment 67 miles north of Saigon at Quan Loi, the U.S. Command reported, and 12 were killed by militiamen in southernmost An Xuyen Province, the Saigon government said.

The U.S. Command said paratroopers of the 101st Airborne ambushed a North Vietnamese force about 40 miles to the southeast. Three of the enemy were killed and three captured, while one American was wounded in the action northwest of Hue, the U.S. Command reported.

It was the third time in 19 days the paratroopers had fought with North Vietnamese troops in the foothills leading from mountainous jungles along the border to South Vietnam's northern coast. Intelligence analysts said the North Vietnamese may have been heading for the coastal plain to get rice from guerrilla contacts.

President Nguyen Van Thieu visited the headquarters of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division 20 miles northwest of Saigon to wish the Americans a merry Christmas. He told them "many American troops will leave Vietnam next year according to our plan of replacement by Vietnamese troops." But he gave no figures beyond the 50,000 President Nixon has announced will be withdrawn by April 15.

In Saigon, legislative leaders protested police failure to interfere with progovernment demonstrators who smashed through the National Assembly building Saturday. The demonstrators protest was aimed at three deputies President Thieu has accused of being pro-Viet Cong. Fifteen miles northeast of Saigon, 5,000 demonstrators in Bien Hoa burned the three deputies in effigy Sunday and demanded government action against them.

PHOTO PUBLISHED OF GROUP IN VIETNAM — This photo, which is said to show heavily armed Viet Cong in My Lai area in South Vietnam, was published in Dec. 16 editions of the Columbus, Ga., Inquirer. The paper said it obtained the picture from an Army intelligence source at Fort Benning, Ga., which newspaper declined to identify. The source said the picture was taken from undeveloped film captured during a patrol near My Lai in early March 1968, about two weeks before the alleged massacre. (AP Wirephoto)

Hijack Foiled

ATHENS (AP) — A Trans World Airlines clerk opened a passenger's handbag in a routine check at the Athens airport Sunday and found a hand grenade inside.

"I couldn't believe it," said Fritos Svortopoulos, who was credited with foiling a plot by three Lebanese Arabs to hijack the plane during a flight to Rome.

The flight had originated in Tel Aviv and was destined for New York.

Police arrested Issam Doundi, 18; Sami Aboud, 20, and a woman, Amoul Khalil, 22. Each was carrying a pistol and one of their identical pieces of hand luggage contained explosives, police said.

Police said the three told them they planned to force the plane to Damascus and blow the nose up after landing.

After the arrests, police searched all the luggage and checked the 29 other passengers again. The Boeing 707 arrived at New York's Kennedy Airport three hours late.

Under a new system of air passenger control in Athens, a check of luggage is made at the airline terminal in downtown Athens and another at the airport.

IRS Checks Panthers

CHICAGO (AP) — Two Chicago newspapers say the Internal Revenue Service is looking into the finances of the Black Panther party.

The Chicago Tribune and the Chicago Sun-Times both reported in their Monday editions that a Washington source had told of a probe which began several months ago.

The Panthers were organized as a political group in 1966. Their main source of revenue is their newspaper, which sells for 25 cents and reportedly has a weekly circulation of close to 100,000.

At hearings last June in Washington, a former member of the party told the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee that Panther income ranged from $50,000 to $100,000 a month at the group's national headquarters in Berkeley, Calif.

The party also reportedly collects thousands of dollars in donations from other sources. The newspapers said the source indicated that the party headquarters had never filed an income tax return.

Couple Takes Vows While Parachuting

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — As the hot air balloon ascended, the bride, wearing a blue jump suit, shouted "I do." So did the bridegroom.

Then, from the ground 200 feet below, the Rev. Philip Gebhaber of St. John's Lutheran church pronounced—through a bullhorn—Dr. George Elmstrom, 44, and Lois Mercer, 37, man and wife.

Elmstrom met his bride while parachuting 18 months ago.

Some 200 guests chased the balloon to a landing spot in a nearby canyon, where the wedding Sunday was celebrated with traditional champagne.

Elmstrom is an optometrist. His bride is a hotel publicist.

23 Children Attend Parents Wedding

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Lee Amburgy, 70, and his former sister-in-law, Mrs. Floyd Amburgy, 71, were married over the weekend in the presence of their 23 children.

Lee Amburgy's wife died last year, leaving 12 children and 35 grandchildren. Mrs. Amburgy's husband died about the same time, leaving 11 children and 20 grandchildren.

The ceremony Saturday was performed by Mrs. Amburgy's son, the Rev. Kash Amburgy.

Tax Reform Bill Nears Final Test

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The most sweeping tax reform bill of modern times moved closer today to its final test in Congress with GOP leaders saying chances have improved for presidential approval.

The ultimate effect of the bill's provisions would cut income taxes of some Americans by $9.1 billion while raising them $6.6 billion for others by closing or narrowing loopholes.

A compromise version of differing bills passed by the House and Senate delays the cuts for a time in order to increase its appeal to President Nixon, who is concerned about its possible inflationary effects.

Nixon has said he would veto a bill increasing Social Security benefits by 15 per cent, as the compromise measure does, and upping the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $800, as the Senate's version did. The compromise bill, however, limits the exemption increase to $750 in steps over a three-year period.

Republican congressional leaders who met with Nixon Saturday seemed cautiously optimistic the compromise version would receive the President's approval.

Completion of action on the bill in both houses without a hitch is the key to congressional adjournment for a Christmas recess, which was delayed when the conference committee that worked out the compromise could not finish its work until late last week.

The massive tax reform-relief bill goes beyond the revisions made by Congress during the Kennedy administration early in the 1960s. The last such sweeping revision came more than a generation ago.

While the tax relief provisions will not become fully effective until 1973, the 15 per cent rise in Social Security benefits, plus a new $100 monthly minimum payment, is to take effect Jan. 1.

Nixon has asked Congress for a 10 per cent increase in Social Security benefits to take effect later in the year.

The compromise tax bill would reduce the oil and gas depletion allowance from 27½ per cent to 22 per cent and extend the income tax surcharge at a 5 per cent rate through June 30.

Congress earlier extended the surcharge, enacted at 10 per cent under the Johnson administration, through the end of this year.

3 Burglaries Are Cleared

The arrest of four juveniles Sunday night two miles northwest of Hermleigh has cleared three farm house burglaries. Arrest was made by Scurry County Sheriff Keith Collier and Texas Ranger Gene Graves.

The four suspects were turned over to Juvenile Authorities.

Sheriff Collier said the boys are suspected of taking Christmas packages from the Wayne Glass residence on the Clairemont Road, the Paul Moore residence and the Abel Gonzales residence Southeast of Snyder. The latter burglary occurred last night. The other two burglaries occurred Dec. 14.

Part of the items stolen have been recovered and authorities expected to recover the remainder.

Sheriff's Authorities also are investigating the theft of two shotguns and a bedsheet from the Arlie Taylor residence at Dunn last Thursday night.

Two Vehicles In Mishap Here

There were no injuries in a two-car mishap in the 3300 block of Avenue E at 9:38 a.m. Saturday.

Involved were the 1968 Model Plymouth of David McKinnon Palmer, 313 Thirty-sixth Place, and the 1963 Model Oldsmobile of Etta Reed Wilson, 408 Thirty-third Street. Damage to the Oldsmobile was estimated at $350, and damage to the other car was placed at $250.

Revival To Begin On Christmas Eve

A revival will begin at the Jesus Name Pentecostal Church Wednesday, Dec. 24, and continue through Sunday, Dec. 28. The church is located at Avenue M and Thirty - fourth.

Services will begin each night at 7. Rev. James Blakes of Dallas will conduct the revival. Everyone is invited to attend.

Showers Forecast For Texas

By The Associated Press

Skies were mostly clear over Texas today, but clouds were expected to drift into the state tonight and deliver showers to many sections Tuesday.

Increasing cloudiness and rain was forecast for North Central and Northeast Texas, the Gulf Coast and inward to Southeast and South Central sections.

Partly cloudy skies were expected to prevail over western sections of the state, but no precipitation was indicated.

Virtually all of the state was forecast to have colder weather by Tuesday after a mild night tonight.

MRS. DANIEL RICHARD MARTIN JR.

Fort Worth Rites Unite Miss Sedin, D. Martin

The Ridgley Presbyterian Church of Fort Worth was the scene of the marriage of Jane Sedin and Daniel Richard Martin Jr. on December 20th at 11 a.m. Dr. Clifford Williams, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sedin of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Martin of 2215 Forty-first Street, Snyder.

The bride's parents gave her in marriage.

The bride received her B.S. in Nursing at TCU and the groom has a B.A. in Chemistry from Baylor.

Mrs. Peter Reichle of Chapel Hill, North Carolina was matron of honor and Mrs. Larry Koatz and Pam Kaatz of Fort Worth were bridesmaids.

Robert Patterson of Houston served as best man and Francis Catedral of Iloilo City, Philippines was groomsman.

WOMEN

Cut Down On Holiday Housework

A study by the Home Care Institute in Chicago has revealed that the average homemaker completes up to 360 different housekeeping chores within a week. With the advent of the holiday season, additional cleaning, baking, cooking and decorating chores are added to this immense total of weekly activities.

To tackle this increased work load and still have time to enjoy the holidays, today's homemaker needs to employ good organization and creative use of the modern appliances at her disposal.

Yet the Home Care Institute study conducted for Eureka Williams shows nearly half—45 percent—homemakers surveyed have no organized plans for the care of their homes. Based on its studies, the Home Care Institute offers these suggestions for an efficient approach to holiday housekeeping:

Organize, in much the same way as a successful business or volunteer project is organized, a daily or weekly home care schedule. Make certain the schedule will carry you through the entire holiday period.

It is easy to catch up with work when you have a master plan, so allow some flexibility in your schedule. If you decide on the spur of the moment to bake Christmas cookies or wash kitchen curtains . . . do it! You'll do a better job when you tackle a project at that moment when you really have the desire to complete it.

Select a closet or storage cabinet on your main floor and set up a central home cleaning center where you can store all cleaning appliances, soaps, detergents, polishes, rags and pails. If your home is multi-level, develop mini-centers on each floor that contain materials for the chores done in that area. Cleaning centers save steps and time.

Read the instruction booklets for all your appliances.

Appliances can take over a major portion of a homemaker's work load, but more than 50 percent of the women studied had no knowledge of what chores their appliances were designed to perform.

A case in point is the vacuum cleaner. This versatile appliance can perform 52 cleaning chores. Most women used it only for floor and carpet care.

The Home Care Institute suggests that women save time this holiday season by using the vacuum to do the following:

Before the Christmas tree comes into the house, give it a gentle going-over with the dusting brush attachment. This will prevent the trail of needles and dust that usually accompanies a live tree inside.

Add to the glow of an artificial tree by vacuuming it before you set it up.

As you unpack ornaments and tree lights, give them a gentle once-over with the dusting brush. Loose needles, artificial snow and tinsel that was packed away with them will disappear.

The fireplace is the traditional Christmas gathering spot for family and friends. Use the vacuum to prevent escaping soot from spoiling carpets and bare floors. (Don't throw away an old vacuum. It does a better, faster job in removing ashes than a broom and dust pan.)

FHA Club Has Christmas Party

The FHA Club of Snyder High School held their annual Christmas tea recently.

Soft Christmas music was played by Wayla Walton as the hostesses, Dale Vaughan, Theo Schulze, and Rita Riley served punch, cookies, fudge, nuts and mints. The table was complimented by a green table cloth with a center piece of red carnations. About 50 girls attended the tea with the Christmas spirit predominant as they sang Christmas carols.

The FHA girls brought food for the Goodfellow project.

SNYDER AMBULANCE SERVICE

Odis Glasscock

Date Nut Bread

1½ cups cut-up fresh dates
2 cups boiling water
½ pound (1 stick) butter
1-3rd cup firmly packed light-brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2 teaspoons baking soda
2 teaspoons vanilla
3 cups unsifted flour
1 cup raisins
1 cup chopped (medium-fine) walnuts

With clarified butter or solid white shortening, grease bottoms and sides of six 10½-ounce empty soup cans.

Into a medium mixing bowl turn the dates. Add boiling water; set aside.

In large bowl of electric mixer, cream butter, brown sugar and salt. Thoroughly beat in eggs one at a time.

Stir baking soda and vanilla into date-water mixture.

To creamed mixture add flour (in about four additions) alternately with date-water mixture, stirring after each addition just enough to moisten flour. Stir in raisins and walnuts.

Spoon batter into prepared cans, filling them two-thirds full.

Bake in a preheated 300-degree oven until a deep brown color—60 to 70 minutes.

Place cans on wire racks and let stand 10 minutes. Run a long thin sharp knife around inside and to bottom of cans and shake slightly; turn out on wire rack; cool completely.

Note: To cut the dates, use a kitchen scissors, blades floured if necessary—and snip each date into 8 strips.

CHRISTMAS PARTY — The ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McLaughlin was the scene of the McLaughlin's annual Christmas party Sunday evening. Rooms of the home were bedecked in holiday array and the dining room table held an abundance of festive foods. A large crowd of friends called between the hours of 5 and 8 p.m. Pictured above at the buffet table from left, Mr. M. L. Broman, Mr. Ed Bolger, Mrs. James Rosser, Dr. J. W. O'Banion and Mrs. Elizabeth Connell.

Police Chief Is Making News

By KATHLEEN McCULLOUGH
Associated Press Writer

GARLAND, Tex. (AP) — Bob Wade wanted to write police news but instead he's making it. And he's doing it on the right side of the law.

Wade—police chief in this Dallas suburb since 1967—remembers with a grin how far he has strayed from his original ambition to be a newspaper reporter, specializing in the police beat.

A native of Oklahoma, young Wade went with his journalistic aspirations to the Oklahoma City Police Department where he planned to spend a short time learning the nitty gritty of the business.

"After about six months I completely discounted being a police reporter and that law enforcement was a career which I wanted to pursue," Wade said.

He pursued it and apparently successfully. The city of Garland recorded a 6.1 per cent decrease in the over-all crime rate for 1968. Dallas, of which Garland is a suburb, recorded a 21.7 per cent increase for the same year.

This fact was so outstanding that it made national news.

To what does Wade attribute his success in reducing crime in Garland?

"To my shotgun patrols, to my dogs, to our training program," Wade said.

"We work our police department like a football team," Wade explained.

"The team works better with the support of the fans, without the fans you can't do much. We have a crime stop program that has been used over the nation where the public becomes involved and the public reports anything suspicious."

In addition, the Garland police officers gave a total of 228 speeches last year trying to "educate the people to what they've got," Wade said.

"We operate as a team. The linemen are the uniform people, the patrol division. The specialists are the backfield—they get most of the glory.

"We play by the rules and they (Criminals) don't. We're the thin blue lines between the fans and the criminal element. The administrative staff is the assistant coaches. I'm proud to coach this team," Wade said.

Working as an undercover officer in vice and narcotics is really my first love," the 40-year-old police chief said.

In line with this, he instituted an intelligence and vice control bureau consisting of five men and a woman, shortly after he was named acting chief of the Garland Police Department in 1966.

"A vice control bureau can make or break any chief of police," Wade said. While working for the Oklahoma City Police Department he was a "white rat" which is police jargon for undercover agent. He joined the Garland force in 1956.

One of Wade's latest innovations he calls "Operation Flasher." He has presented the idea to Texas and national police chief's associations.

"Operation Flasher" is an accident preventative maneuver to be used by persons driving on a freeway who see a potentially dangerous situation on the highway in front of them or across the median strip.

An accident, someone changing a flat tire, a stalled car, or anything that in the highway could be a potentially dangerous situation.

The person who sees something ahead in the road would switch on his flasher or blink his headlights for several blocks to warn oncoming motorists that danger lines ahead. This could prevent pileups on the highway, he said.

Writing is still in Wade's blood and he says he plans to spend his retirement recounting his police experiences on paper.

One of his eccentricities should bolster this project. He has kept a running diary of his daily routine since May 17, 1948, his first day of police work. He accounts for every minute of every day, recording each telephone call, visit to his office or appointment whether planned or coincidental.

He published an article and several short stories about his police work in Oklahoma during his first year on the police force. There. At one time he discussed with his publisher a format for telling the policeman's tale. It went like this, Wade recalled:

"Officer Jones and Smith reported on duty as usual at 3:15 p.m. riding the evening shift, district six, downtown area. As they pulled out of the police bay, they received a call—919 South Fairfax, a disturbance."

Unfortunately, Wade said, he never pursued the idea. Six years later, a television series appeared with a similar approach. It was called "Dragnet."

Ira Soldier Gets Award

TAY NINH, Vietnam — Army Specialist Four David K. Sterling, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sterling Jr., Star Route, Ira, was awarded a Certificate of Achievement while serving with the 9th Artillery near Tay Ninh, Vietnam.

He earned the award for meritorious service as a fire direction center computer in Battery C, 7th Battalion of the 9th Artillery.

Spec. 4 Sterling entered the Army in April 1968, completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and was stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla., before arriving overseas in November of last year.

He received his B.B.A. degree in marketing from the University of Houston in January, 1968. The specialist is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity. His wife, Judy, lives at 1405 Pech Road, Houston.

Lady Justice Is Possible Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 10 lady members of the House say its high time a woman is named to the Supreme Court, and they think the first female justice could very well come from their own ranks.

"I think it would be great. There's no more reason not to nominate a woman than not to nominate a man," said Rep. Julia Butler Hansen, D-Was.

"It's not an outlandish idea. Women are the one minority group that it is still considered fashionable to discriminate against," said Rep. Margaret M. Heckler, R-Mass.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., agreed. "I hope the day is not far off when the American people will resent the discrimination against women as they rightfully resent the discrimination against other minorities. There is a Negro on the court but no woman," she said.

There is one vacancy on the nine-member court. At least three women are reported to be among the many persons being considered.

All congresswomen agreed with Rep. Catherine May, R-Wash., that a woman should be selected only if she was the best qualified person the President could find and not just because she was a woman. Mrs. May said President Nixon has said he hoped a woman could be selected sometime while he is in office.

"It would be good to have a woman's viewpoint on the bench and to give further recognition to the fact that we realize women have ability," said Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., the only Negro congresswoman.

"Many of us women are focusing on one woman whom we known well and think is extremely well qualified, Mrs. Martha Griffiths," said Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo. "She has judgment, knowledge, integrity and lots of good common sense as well as judicial background." Mrs. Griffiths is a Democratic congresswoman from Michigan.

The Women's Bar Association of the District of Columbia, the National Association of Women Lawyers, and the National Business and Professional Womens Club have all recommended Mrs. Griffiths to the President.

"I think it would be wonderful to have a woman on the court and its very nice of those groups to recommend me. But I don't think I have a chance," Mrs. Griffith said.

"Is that because you're a Democrat?" a reporter asked.

"I would think so," she replied. Others said she is also too liberal.

"She would be a great choice," said Mrs. Green of Mrs. Griffiths. "I'd be proud as a woman to have her on the Supreme Court bench," said Rep. Patsy Mink, D-Hawaii.

Another congresswoman, Rep. Charlotte Reid, R-Ill., was also recommended in a House speech by Rep. James Fulton, R-Pa.

"I'm extremely honored to be mentioned but I'm not a lawyer and I think legal and judicial background would be needed. I feel there's no reason why a woman couldn't be nominated," Mrs. Reid said.

"If the President can find a qualified woman for the court, I think it would be great. I'd be all for it," said Rep. Florence Dwyer, R-N.J.

New Oil Slick Hits California

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Globs of oil from a slick fed by undersea seepage washed onto about 10 miles of scenic coastline today.

First reports listed about a half-dozen sea birds killed and more than 200 others floundering, helplessly, their feathers matted with the tar-like goo.

Volunteers manned a bird-cleaning station reactivated for the first time since an underwater oil blowout last winter in the same Santa Barbara Channel area spread a slick over 800 miles of the Pacific.

Geologists say the new slick was touched off after pumps at offshore oil drilling platforms were shut down from Tuesday to Saturday while workmen repaired a broken pipeline. Pressure apparently built in the oil pools below the ocean floor, they said, causing oil to seep out of sea-bottom fissures considerably faster than the usual 250-gallon-a-day rate geologists estimate. Because of foggy weather there was no estimate of the size of the slick.

Union Oil Co. officials said Sunday that reactivation of their pumps Saturday apparently relieved the pressure and halted the heavy seepage.

Billie Sol May Be Paroled

SANDSTONE, Minn. (AP) — Billy Sol Estes, who built a financial empire in West Texas before being convicted of mail fraud and conspiracy in connection with the non-existent fertilizer tanks he sold, may be released from prison early.

He was interviewed last week by a U.S. Board of Parole member and the board's chairman, George J. Reed, said the member will file a summary for the full board to examine before January 17.

That is the earliest possible date Estes could be paroled, since he would have served one-third of the 15-year sentence he went to jail for in 1965.

The news of possible parole came in the same week that financial distribution of assets in Estes' bankruptcy proceedings were made in El Paso.

U. S. District Clerk's Office mailed out checks of $773,514 to the Internal Revenue Service and $723,514 to Commercial Solvents. Of the $1,799,659 available, attorneys in the case and court costs got the rest.

At one time Estes estimated he owed $38 million.

Career Corner

DESPITE the use of sophisticated office equipment, a recently completed study of the U. S. Department of Labor indicates that the demand for white collar girls will have more starch than ever.

IN 1960 there were 2,387,000 secretaries, steno's and typists — about 3½ per cent of the work force. By 1975, there will be 3,900,000 — about 4½ per cent of all jobholders. Fastest growth in these occupations will be in finance, insurance, real estate, education, health and government.

Kansas City Chiefs Sideline Jets 13-6

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Not even a half hour had elapsed after Kansas City's playoff victory ended the New York Jets' hopes of returning to the Super Bowl when the first bit of psychological warfare certain to surround the American Football League championship game began.

It began in the Chiefs' dressing room after their 13-6 triumph over the Jets Saturday when Coach Hank Stram was asked about the strategy he might employ against the Oakland Raiders in the AFL title game Jan. 4—still two weeks away.

The questioner asked pointedly if Stram might again disdain the pass as he did just a week earlier in a 10-6 loss to the Raiders, the Chiefs' fourth in five games over two seasons has had any psychological effect on his troops.

"What's happened in the past is history," Stram said sharply. "Pro football is a game of now."

Now is time for beginning preparations for the game against the Raiders, who qualified for the title game by defeating Houston 56-7 in the other half of the AFL playoffs, some 24 hours after the defending champion Jets were dethroned.

In that game, on a cold, raw day in windswept Shea Stadium, the Chiefs battered and bruised Jets quarterback Joe Namath, kept him from putting across a touchdown and left him feeling "like I was in a gang fight all by myself."

The gang he was fighting was the Chiefs, who made the two big plays that counted in the fourth quarter—diagnosing a Jets play to keep them from scoring a go-ahead touchdown and diagramming on the sidelines the play that led to the winning touchdown.

The diagnoser was Bobby Bell, the Chiefs all-league linebacker, who prevented a possible Jets touchdown. The Chiefs had a 6-3 edge at the time, with Jan Stenerud leading Jim Turner two field goals to one.

But an interference call on a Namath pass for George Sauer put the ball at the one yard line. Two plays gained just inches, so Namath called a play the Jets had worked on during the week—a fake handoff to Bill Mathis that was supposed to make Bell commit himself while Namath rolled right and hit Matt Snell with a flare pass.

"Bell was supposed to go for the fake to Mathis," Namath explained in the Jets dressing room. "But he didn't. He didn't go for the fake. He was out there with Snell, and he had no right being there."

Instead, Namath was chased out of bounds and Turner came on to kick a seven-yard field goal that tied it 6-6. And the way the teams were defending each other, it looked as if it might stay that way for awhile.

It did, but for just two plays. Then the diagrammer—Otis Taylor—made his presence felt. After the ensuing kickoff, Chiefs quarterback Len Dawson went into the huddle and called a pass play flanker Taylor had traced just minutes before in the dirt on the sidelines.

And so the questioner tried a different approach, asking if Stram might not open up with a more diversified attack.

"It's hard to tell," Stram said simply.

But it's really not. It's only that Stram is not about to divulge his plan. At the same time, he's not about to admit that the earlier loss to the Raiders has had any effect on his thinking.

Raiders Rip Oilers 56-7

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — All year long, the Oakland Raiders have been the kind of team that could capitalize on an opponent's mistakes.

Sunday, the Houston Oilers made a season's worth of mistakes in the first quarter and the Raiders were ready and waiting.

Oakland's 56-7 victory over Houston in an American Football League playoff game was the worst defeat the Oilers have suffered and the second time they have lost to the Raiders in post-season play by a wide margin.

Houston lost to Boston, 35-3 in 1963 — until now its widest margin of defeat — and lost the AFL title to the Raiders in 1967, 41-6.

The Raiders now move into the league title game against the Kansas City Chiefs here on Jan. 4 and to a man they say they are ready.

Quarterback Daryle Lamonica, the AFL's Most Valuable Player who threw six touchdown passes against the Oilers said, "We'll be up for Kansas City. I don't care who we meet in the Super Bowl as long as the Oakland Raiders are in it."

Rod Sherman, a special team man all season long who caught two touchdown passes filling in for the injured Warren Wells, said, "I think we'll be ready for the Chiefs. All we have to do is play our game through four quarters of football."

Linebacker Dan Conners was even more definite, saying, "We will be ready for Kansas City. I saw them play New York on television Saturday and I thought New York blew it."

The game was over almost before it began. In one four-minute and 22-second period in the first quarter the Raiders put 28 points on the scoreboard and they coasted in from there.

First Lamonica threw a touchdown pass to Fred Biletnikoff, who made two sensational scoring grabs. This one was good for 13 yards.

On the first play after the kickoff, George Atkinson intercepted a Pete Beathard pass and took it 57 yards to score.

On the first play after the next kickoff, Hoyle Granger fumbled, Carleton Oats recovered for Oakland and Lamonica threw a 24-yard scoring pass to Sherman on the first play.

On the next series, Beathard fumbled, Tom Keating recovered for the Raiders and, again on the first play, Lamonica threw a touchdown pass, 31 yards to Bilentnikoff.

The first quarter was still going on, but the game was over for all practical purposes. In the second quarter, Lamonica hit Charlie Smith with a 60-yard scoring pass. In the third period, he threw three yards to Billy Cannon.

In the final quarter, with George Blanda in at quarterback, Marv Hubbard closed out the scoring with a four-yard run.

Only an eight-yard scoring pass from Beathard to Alvin Reed, after the Raiders were ahead 49-0, saved the Oilers from a shutout.

Oakland Coach John Madden said he hopes to have Wells back for the title game. The fleet receiver who led the league with 14 touchdown receptions; injured his shoulder last week against Kansas City.

Also, Madden said he held out running back Pete Banaszak because of a groin pull. Oats and Ike Lassiter, both defensive tackles, left the game with minor injuries, but will be back for the Chiefs.

About Kansas City, Madden said, "We have played them three times this year, so we should know each other. We knew about the playoff system before the season started, so playing Kansas City isn't of any more concern than any other championship team."

Cornhuskers Shell Georgia

By GREG MacALEESE
Associated Press Sports Writer

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — William Sherman marched his team through Georgia more than 100 years ago and then said, "War is hell."

Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney watched his Cornhuskers march through Georgia 45-6 in the Sun Bowl Saturday, and remarked, "We jumped on them early."

Devaney's quote might not go down in history, but it did sum up the 1969 Sun Bowl game.

Nebraska jumped out to an 18-0 first quarter lead behind the record-breaking field goal kicking of Paul Rogers and then blew the game wide open with two touchdowns in the first five minutes of the second half.

Rogers, who was voted the game's most valuable player by sports writers kicked field goals of 50, 32, 42 and 37 yards to easily break the Sun Bowl record of two.

Completing the Cornhuskers' offensive blitz in the first quarter was a 10-yard touchdown run by halfback Jeff Kinney.

Meanwhile, Nebraska's defense completely dominated Georgia's attack. The Bulldogs were held to one first down while an alert Nebraska defense picked off two passes and recovered a Georgia fumble in the first quarter.

Georgia football coach Vince Dooley said he was amazed that any team could score 45 points against the Bulldog. It was the most points scored against a Georgia team since Dooley took over the head coaching reins in 1964.

Wichita County in north Texas reigns as king of Texas schoolboy today with two state championship titles resting in its confines.

Wichita Falls rallied for a 28-20 victory over San Antonio Lee to cap the Class AAAA championship and Iowa Park, only 13 miles from Wichita Falls, raked Klein 31-14 for the Class AA crown.

Brownwood stifled West Columbia 34-16 for the Class AAA championship and Mart blanked Sonora 28-0 for the Class A laurels.

Irish Are Big Men

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas is No. 1, but Notre Dame is bigger.

So big say Texas coaches, that the Fighting Irish are the largest team the Longhorns have faced since Darrell Royal became coach in 1957.

To get an idea of the size of Notre Dame, the Longhorns' foe in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1, Texas coaches matched the weights of the offensive team against Syracuse, ranked No. 1 when it whipped Texas 23-14 in the 1960 Cotton Bowl.

That Syracuse team, says defensive coach Mike Campbell, was the "finest, strongest football team I've seen since I've been in football. Why, we didn't have a man who could make their starting team."

But the Syracuse front line averaged only 216 pounds per man, compared to the average of 231 pounds for the Notre Dame front seven.

The Notre Dame offensive front includes split end Tom Gatewood, 203; tackles Jim Reilly, 247, and Tomy Iawson 241; guard Larry DiNardo, 230, and Gary Kos, 234; center Mike Oriard, 221; and Dewey Poskon tight end, 220.

In fact, Notre Dame's starting 11 on offense, matched against the Texas first team shows the Irish are bigger at nine positions. Only Longhorns right tackle Bob McKay, a 252 All-America, and halfback Ted Koy at 212, are bigger than their Irish counterparts.

All that poundage and the "Luck of the Irish" too. It almost seems too much.

Pokes Down Indians 20-10

By BENNY H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys had it in the clutch Sunday in a 20-10 victory over Washington and took a good head of steam into their National Football League American Conference showdown with Cleveland in the Cotton Bowl Dec. 28.

Cowboy coach Tom Landry said he was "well pleased with the overall play and performance. We had a very good rush."

Dallas dropped Sonny Jurgensen, the NFL's leading passer, five times and kept the 13-year veteran from throwing a touchdown pass—only the second time this season that has happened.

Rookie cornerback Otto Brown and safety Mel Renfro had excellent games. Renfro intercepted his 10th pass of the year—high in the NFL.

Landry wouldn't say whether he planned to start Brown against Cleveland next Sunday. "I'm not commenting on what we're going to do at cornerback," he said.

Dallas had allowed 22 touchdown passes until it put Brown at cornerback two weeks ago against Baltimore. Dallas beat the Colts 27-10.

The Cowboys were sluggish against Washington, dropping passes and fumbling the ball.

A fumble by offensive rookie of the year Calvin Hill was cashed in for a 19-yard touchdown run by Washington linebacker Chris Hanburger with nine minutes remaining and put the Redskins within reach, trailing 13-10.

But Hill escaped any would be goat's role by crashing across from six yards out some three minutes later to put the game away for the Cowboys, who finished the regular season 11-3-1.

Cleveland lost 27-14 to New York and Landry was asked if he thought that would hurt the Browns in the playoff.

"Their loss today didn't mean that terribly much," he said. "They always lose their last ball game of the year. They lost their last one last year and it didn't bother them too much."

Tigers Win Second Place At Ft. Stockton Tourney

FT. STOCKTON — Snyder's Tigers won second place in the Invitational Basketball Tournament here Saturday. After knocking off Monahans 77-66 in the first round Friday, the Bengals waxed a good Andrews team 67-57 in the semifinals Saturday morning, then fell 80-50 to host Ft. Stockton that night in the championship till.

The Tigers were a victim of better shooting and superior height in the finals clash. They fell behind 14-11 in the first period, but the hosts, led by Juan Garza, took a 41-24 advantage at halftime. Ft. Stockton outscored Snyder only two points, 15-13, in the third quarter, but Garza again led a scoring outburst in the fourth period as the hosts tucked away the decision with a 24-13 advantage in the last period.

Garza did most of his damage on the inside and he got 17 of his 25 point total — tops of the night — during the second and fourth period romps. Three other hosts were in twin figures—Fernando Espino with 15 points, Robert Slay with 12, and James Fallon with 12.

Only one Tiger hit in double figures in the title game. Bruce Almond collected 13 points. Wesley Bishop and Ronald Ward each netted nine while Danny Farmer and Lee McNair each posted six. Bid Cooper put in four, Jim Patrick 2, and Glenn Rambin 1 point.

The champions posted a 52 per cent shooting average from the field while Snyder was only 35 per cent overall. Ft. Stockton also had more free throws than the Bengals and they made the most of them.

The Tigers made only six turnovers, however, compared with eight for Ft. Stockton.

Coach Ned Underwood's crew may have been slightly exhausted going into the finals tilt. Andrews put up a good fight in the semifinals clash, and the issue was in doubt until the last half.

Andrews actually put in one more field goal than the Bengals, but the Tigers performed more smoothly overall, committing only eight turnovers, compared with 17 for the Mustangs.

Snyder also held an edge in rebounds with Ronald Ward and Danny Farmer leading in this department. Ronald claimed 10 and Danny nabbed eight.

Ronald and Bruce Almond sparked the attack in the semifinals clash with 18 points apiece, but Lee McNair was only two points off the torrid pace with 16 total. Wesley Bishop and Jim Patrick each put in six, and Danny Farmer netted three.

Rodney Lunceford and Mark Pearson led Andrews scorers with 19 and 13 points respectively.

The Bengals were behind 20-21 after one period, but went ahead 36-34 at halftime and outscored Andrews 14-9 and 17-14 in each of the last two frames respectively.

Ward netted 10 of his 18 points in the first period, and Almond got 10 of his 18 in the last half while McNair posted a steady 4-point average per quarter.

Ronald Ward and Bruce Almond were named to the All-tournament team.

Snyder will not play again until after the holidays.

DEAR ABBY: We have a 30-year-old son who has never been married. He is very good looking, has personality plus and everybody likes him. He's a hard worker and has always been wonderful to his father and me.

About two years ago he started to date this divorced woman who had two small children. Her husband left her, and we heard that he had good reason to.

Now our son is living openly with this woman as man and wife. He still comes home often and is good to us, but we are so ashamed of the way he is living. We have liked to cover up for him, but so many people know the truth. How can we face them! What can we say to our son? Please help me. I can't sleep nights.

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: There is nothing you can say to your son! Don't lie to cover up for him. If he's living "openly" with this woman, he doesn't care what people think or say. YOU are not responsible for the actions of a 30-year-old offspring. He's a big boy now. So, open your windows and close your mind, and get some sleep.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Since our honeymoon (four years ago) we have had a lousy marriage. Different backgrounds, different temperaments, money problems, booze, and sex problems. But because of two wonderful kiddies, my wife and I have remained in the same house. We have had some good times, and some bad times. But mostly bad.

We made — and broke two appointments with a marriage counselor. Embarrassment! However, we did keep the third one, which seemed to be the turning point in our lives.

Nothing has happened over night, but in the last few weeks, with the help of our counselor, my wife and I have established a new attitude toward each other. We aren't out of the woods yet, but we have certainly made a beginning. The new thoughtfulness and consideration we have begun to show each other has inspired affection and has brought a joy to both of us that is exciting.

Abby, so many people read you. Why don't you tell married couples who are unhappy with each other that they need to learn how to communicate their needs in an uninhibited manner, and an impartial and competent counselor may be able to help them?

MAKING PROGRESS IN L.A.

DEAR MAKING: Where have you been? I have recommended marriage counselors so often in this column that I have actually been accused of getting a rake-off!

DEAR ABBY: Please tell that lonely 65-year-old spinster who bought herself a big doll to talk to after her sister's death to:

1. Take a picnic lunch to a second-rate nursing home and share it with a little doll who can smile back.

2. Don't read the morning paper before you bathe, dress and have walked to the nearest hospital. Then go to the poorest ward and find someone whose eyes are bad, or maybe someone who is paralyzed or in a cast, and read the paper to HIM. And keep thinking every minute, "I can bathe myself, I can walk, and I can read!"

3. Go to the animal shelter and adopt some doomed little creature. Spend days and nights replacing its fears and neglect with love and care. The joy you will receive by its response will be well worth the trouble.

4. Study up on our feathered friends, then get a bird feeder. Most birds are hungry.

5. Take an outpatient for a day.

I think you get the message. The worst disease in the world is self-pity.

Marine Cpl. Keeps Vow

CONROE, Tex. (AP) — The men didn't cheer and the boys didn't shout, but nonetheless they turned out when Jimmie came marching home Saturday.

For Marine Cpl. Jimmie Edwards III of Conroe, marching home was a feat. The young Leatherneck lost both his legs from the knees down in Vietnam four months ago.

He vowed to come home walking.

"I told you I'd come home, I told you," said the former page in Congress when his plane landed at nearby Houston.

Edwards, 21, was met at the airport by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Edwards; and by his brother, his twin sisters and his grandfather, plus about 75 homefolk.

Wearing his dress uniform, he was first to leave the plane.

The family slowly left the terminal, with Edwards using only a wooden cane.

"I came close to losing my knees top," he said. "But the 'Donohue Special' came to my rescue."

Donohue is the Army surgeon whom Edwards credits with giving him the ability to be walking today.

The corporal was a junior law student at the University of Maryland when he dropped out and joined the Marines.

On August 19 an enemy shell hit a bunker killing all the men inside except Edwards and a comrade.

He had been in Vietnam only 19 days. But in that time he won the Bronze Star.

Due to be discharged in two months, Edwards is planning to re-enter university life and study law.

A future in politics maybe—"I hope to some day," he said.

Weekend Violence Claims 30

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shooting incidents equaled traffic accidents as weekend killers in Texas. Fourteen persons were shot to death and 14 died on highways, pushing the violent death count to 30.

A fatal stabbing and a residential fire accounted for other deaths.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday. The dead were:

Clois W. Lauderdale of Eldorado, Okla., died in a freak truck accident 25 miles northeast of Floydada Sunday. Investigating officers said Lauderdale attempted to leap from the cab of his trailer-truck when the brakes failed, but the trailer spun around and killed him. The truck and trailer then flipped end over end and landed upside down in a deep canyon.

A Saturday traffic accident near Waco took the life of Donnie Ray Day, 16, of Crawford. Four other persons were injured.

Vicky Larue Issacs, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Issacs of Childress, drowned Sunday afternoon at the home of her grandparents in Childress.

Private Sentenced

FORT HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Pvt. Richard Chase of Westmoreland, N. H. was sentenced to two years at hard labor Saturday during a court martial that resulted from Chase's refusal to play the part of a dissident during riot control training here.

His attorneys said the order to participate was not legal because it violated Chase's principles as a conscientious objector. The Army said Chase had never officially been classified as such.

The court martial board also reduced him to the lowest enlisted grade and gave him a dishonorable discharge.

Money Talks At An Auction

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK, (AP) — John Marion is a man who can cost you $1 million at the drop of a hat. Or the twist of an ear. Or the tug of a nose.

He is chief auctioneer at the Parke-Bernet Galleries on Madison Ave. and the man who sold the jewel to the jeweler which now bejewels Elizabeth Taylor.

In Marion's world—as anyone else's—money talks, but the customers don't. No jumps to his feet to shout a bid as an antique collector might at a farm auction. At Parke-Bernet the most valued trait is discretion.

Only occasionally is it possible to glimpse a dignified nod or a hand lifted to tap forward a gold pen.

Yet Marion, his voice amplified by microphones, spiels ahead in confident vocal stride, nonstop yet paced slow enough for every word to be distinctly audible, even when an observer can see no bids at all.

At an important Impressionists' sale in October, for Renoir's "Dede au Chapeau Fleuri," he is saying: "At 40,000. At 45,000 on the right side of the room now, at 45 thousand 500 dollars now on the right, 45,000 against you, sir. At 50,000 dollars. 50,000 dollars. Sold for 50,000."

A person can come to Marion ahead of time, tell him he's interested in bidding on lot No. 30 in the catalog and doesn't want anyone to realize that he's bidding. So the two of them work out a secret signal.

Marion says, "Of course you have to put them in a chair where you can see them. You make a little note to look for them, but it's not difficult to remember. On a pressure sale you have to concentrate a great deal anyway."

The auctioneer adds, "What might become the most famous bidding signal to date was Robert Kenmore's for Cartier for Miss Taylor's 69.42 carat diamond on Oct. 23. He was standing up against the wall at the extreme right of the salesroom and he crossed his arms. He said he'd be bidding until he put his arms down at his side.

"He never moved, just watched the bidding, and he looked calm to me.

"We had another man at that jewelry sale bidding for a private person and he had to be so secret that I never looked at him. We assigned one of our bid spotters to watch him only. He was interested in every big piece in the sale. Even now we're not permitted to say who he was, or he'd never come back. When you make it one man to watch one man, it becomes pretty easy to set up private signals."

Marion knows the regular bidders at Parke-Bernet, but he doesn't confine his scrutinizing to them. "At the Impressionists' sale there was a man who'd never bid at another sale and he bought $800,000 worth of paintings," he recalled.

Sellers bring things to auction, Marion says, instead of selling them some other way, because "they're giving themselves the best shot at getting top dollar. They're exposing their items to competition.

"If the owner of the big diamond—and I can't tell you who it was—had walked into Cartier's and said, 'How much would you give me for this?', I don't think Cartier would have said $1,050,000—but that's what they paid for it here.

"We had seven people who bid over half-a-million dollars for it."

Cartier subsequently sold the stone to the Richard Burtons.

It's possible that Marion didn't expect the diamond to sell for more than a million dollars, either—although he won't say what he expected—because he started the bidding at $200,000.

It isn't a hard and fast rule, he says, but he often starts the bidding at about one-third of what he expects the final bid to be.

Marion says, "I look at these auctions as a public marketplace or a stock exchange of art. A minor part of all the trading is done through auction, but I think trends are set."

On Oct. 15, 83 paintings were auctioned for $4,422,250, setting a world record for a single day sale of Impressionist and modern works. One of those set a world record for a Degas, selling for $550,000. Previous high for a Degas had been $410,000.

The Oct. 23 jewelry sale brought a world record, too—the $1,050,000 diamond, more than three times the record set when Elizabeth Taylor's agent bought the 33.1 carat Krupp Diamond at Parke-Bernet in May 1968.

But not everything is a booming success. Sometimes the buyers don't show up. Last November, Mario auctioned the Permacel Express, a three-car-train, for $75,000, and Parke-Bernet decided there was a big market in trains. Marion went to Denver to auction the 12-car, no-engine Denver Zephyr. No buyers. No sale. Marion says, "I'd love to forget about it."

Half of Parke-Bernet's turnover is in paintings, but there also are sales of antiquities and ethnographical art; books, manuscripts and autographs; prints; furniture, rugs and decorations; jewelry; coins and antique cars. Everything sold in the building is exhibited for three days to a week before, in the building's galleries.

Items to be sold come from estates, private collections, attics, institutions, foundations that somebody has given something valuable to, "people who just go around looking for things to sell at auction." Pope Paul VI gave the United Nations a papal cross and ring for the relief of starving children. Marion auctioned those for the United Nations in 1964 to a Chicago dealer for $64,000.

About half the total number of objects Parke-Bernet auctions sell for under $250. Some bidders are collectors who get a kick out of bidding for themselves; some are agents for collectors; some are dealers building up stock.

Stockyards Silenced By Dispute

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A strange silence pervaded the Kansas City stockyards today. There were no animals in the pens.

Monday normally is the busiest day of the week with at least 5,000 cattle, 5,000 hogs and 600 sheep in the yards.

A labor dispute between 135 livestock handlers and the Kansas City Stock Yards Co. caused the shutdown.

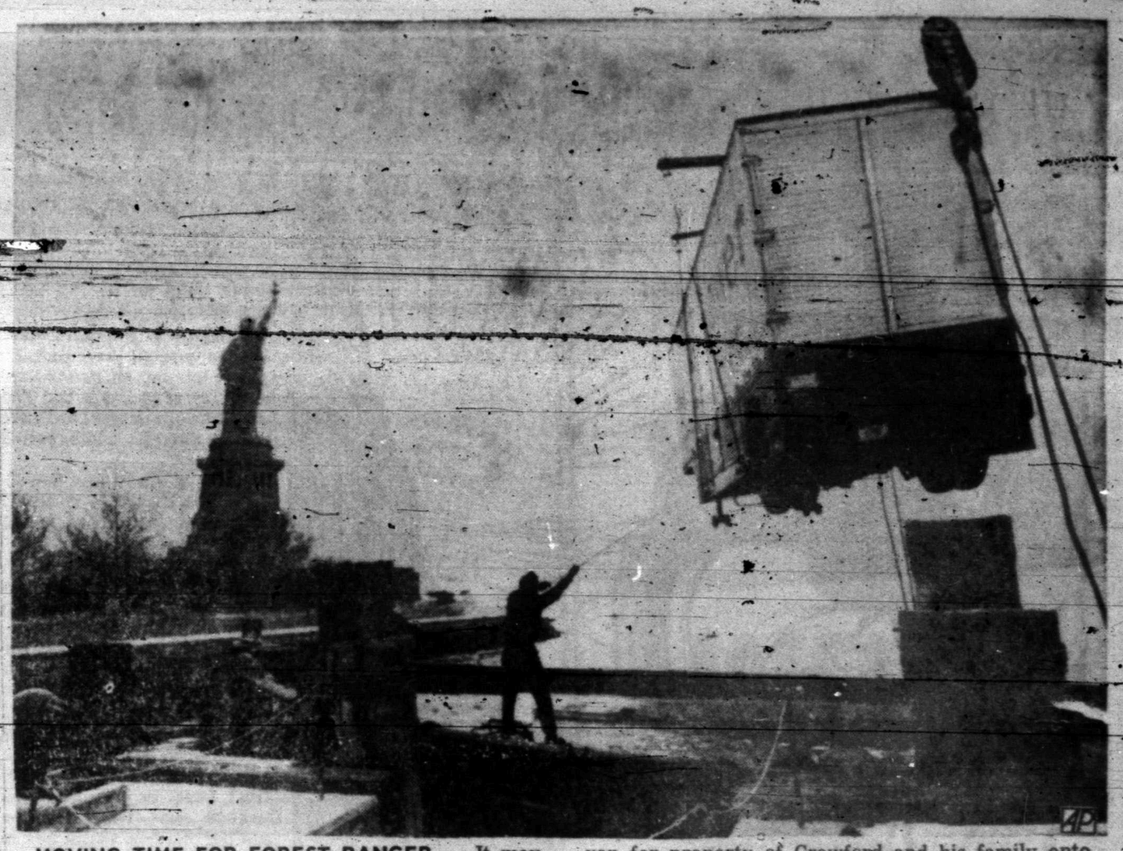

Faced with expiration of a contract last Saturday night, Jay B. Dillingham, company president, imposed an embargo on livestock receipts effective Friday. By Sunday the yards were empty.

Members of Local 576 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen voted 102-to-1 Saturday to reject a contract offer and to authorize a strike.

Carl Nothnagel, union secretary-treasurer, accused the company of a lockout because about 40 workers who went to the yards Saturday and Sunday were turned away.

"We haven't called a strike yet and don't plan to at this moment," Nothnagel said Sunday night. "We have instructed the men to continue reporting to their jobs, even though they are being sent home and told there is no work to do." He said they would wait for the company to do "something that will make the lockout illegal."

Nothnagel said the dispute is over money. He said Kansas City workers are getting 40 cents an hour less than livestock handlers at St. Joseph, and 50 cents less than those at St. Louis.

MOVING TIME FOR FOREST RANGER — It may seem hard to believe, but home for the past two years and more has been Liberty Island in New York harbor for Pingree Crawford, member of the National Park Service. Workers swing a moving van for property of Crawford and his family onto the island as they prepared to pack up and leave for the forest ranger's new assignment near Macon, Ga. Statue of Liberty is in background. (AP Wirephoto)

Charges Filed On Sundaco Heads

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The manager and assistant manager of Clark's Discount Center, which operates on Sunday under the name of Sundaco Inc., were arrested Sunday for alleged violations of the state Sunday closing law.

Charged were Jerry Don Brown, manager, and Marvin Lee Kinsey, assistant manager. Both men posted $600 bonds Sunday night and were released.

The charges were filed after members of the Abilene police department made purchases at the store on Saturday and Sunday.

Sundaco buys Clark's store each Saturday night and sells it back Sunday night. Earlier this Monday, a Waco jury ruled that this procedure still violated the Texas blue laws.

New York Has New Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 50,000 cars were abandoned in New York City during 1969 and the Citizens Budget Commission has called it a "new growth industry."

The commission said Sunday that more efficient methods of removing the eyesores were needed. The Sanitation Department said it had already towed or carried off 55,926 cars this year and was doing the best it could.

The department defines an abandoned car as one that has no license plates, has been stripped of parts and "has all the earmarks of not being owned."

Good Deed Pays Off

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The good deed of a woman at the Los Angeles International Airport is going to result in a $100 Christmas gift to the Central Institute for the Deaf in St. Louis.

Marine Lance Cpl. Patrick A. Fogerty, 19, of St. Louis, said was $12 short of airfare home from Camp Pendleton, Calif., last Thursday when a woman stepped forward and offered the money.

Fogerty asked the woman for her name and address so he could repay her but was given only the name of the institute.

He said he will send $100 from his savings account to the school.

Trading Of Stocks Halted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans to order a halt to trading in stocks of seven firms in a mounting Securities and Exchange Commission crackdown on a corporate version of the old shell game.

The SEC order was expected today along with requests for court injunctions against five companies and 13 individuals allegedly working as a group to sell stock in the seven corporations. The orders reportedly will be sought in California.

The shell game, as it is know in the securities trade, involves sale of inflated, if not worthless, stock in the refurbished shells of defunct corporations.

Operators of the game will pick up a corporate shell with no operations, no management, relatively few assets and no income. With the apparently unwitting help of over-the-counter brokers, they offer stock issues to the public at artificially high prices.

The SEC has more than doubled the number of orders against shell game operators this year, from 15 in 1968 to 35, and Commissioner Hugh Owens says organized crime may be involved in some operations.

"This is one of the products of an affluent society, which provides a fertile field for the schemer and the white-collar crook," Owens said.

Despite the SEC's drive against shell game operators, there is little policing of the market in which they apparently now flourish. The over-the-counter market lacks the stringent rules of an organized exchange. And, because the shares usually were registered and issued years ago, SEC registration and disclosures rules are bypassed.

Town Raising Money For Ticket

BAY, Ark. (AP) — Thanks to the Christmas spirit it looks as though Verlin Lamberson is going to make it to Japan.

Residents of this town of about 800 are raising money so Lamberson can visit his only son during the holidays at an Army hospital in Yokohama.

Lamberson learned about two weeks ago that his son, Army Pfc. Thomas M. Lamberson, 20, had been seriously wounded in Vietnam when he detonated a booby trap while leading his platoon on a reconnaissance mission.

Despite having been on strike for the past eight weeks as an employe of the General Electric plant at Jonesboro, Lamberson decided he should fly to Yokohama during the holidays.

Mayor Ben Swanner of Bay learned of Lamberson's hopes last week and organized a fund-raising drive.

Swanner said Sunday that more than $550 had been donated, mostly in contributions of 50 cents to $15.

Then Local 747 of the striking International Electrical Workers chipped in an additional $200, bringing the pot to $750.

Swanner said a round-trip ticket would cost $988 and that he hoped there would be enough money for Lamberson and his wife to make the trip.

"My wife and I feel it is great how the people have expressed their concern for Tommy," Lamberson said. "We will never be able to repay them. We are so very thankful. It was a big surprise to us."

Lamberson said he had talked with his son and that the youth's left foot was to be removed early this week.

Young Lamberson was drafted May 14.

"He didn't want to go," Lamberson said. "That makes it hurt even more, because he didn't want to go."

Police Check Out Vehicle

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Police here Sunday seized a car and examined it for clues to see if it had been involved in the hit-and-run death two weeks ago of a highway patrolman.

But they released the car to its owner after discovering it was not the vehicle.

Killed was Doug Thompson, a patrolman at Mineral Wells. He was struck while standing on the side of a highway near Mineral Wells while his partner, Sgt. James Beggs, talked to a violater.

The Lubbock car was the same type and color as the car which hit Thompson and had a crumpled fender. But Beggs went to Lubbock and said the car was not the same one.

Later, police said the owner had explained the minor accident which caused the damage to the car.

New Guinea Hit By Flu Epidemic

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (AP) — The worst epidemic in Australian New Guinea's history is over, after the death of hundreds of village men, women and children.

The epidemic of Hong Kong virus A2 flu cut a swath through the central highlands, the home of nearly one million people.

Pneumonia developed in many cases.

Nobody will ever know the actual death toll. New Guinea is rugged and the village people are scattered.

The director of public health, Dr. Ray F.R. Scragg, says the known toll is "something more than 2,000."

The epidemic apparently began in September.

Have Americans Discarded The Old Ideas Of Thrift?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As the decade of the 1960s is left behind, a difference of opinion exists as to whether Americans also left behind some good old-fashioned ideas of thrift.

At its extreme the argument goes like this:

—The notion of individual thrift has been discarded. Consumers are in debt way over their heads and someday there'll be an accounting. The country can't continue to go on spending money it hasn't yet earned.

—Nonsense. Sure there has been a lot of borrowing during the 1960s. But people are earning bigger and bigger incomes. They can afford to borrow on their futures, because their futures are going to bring more money.

Those who hold the first position are inclined to have a low estimate of this generation's ability and intention to act responsibly. They call it the "Now" generation and claim it wants everything immediately, without pain, and without cash.

This, they say, is bad news for the country. They maintain it was the savings of individual Americans that built up the capital base that permitted economic expansion. Now, they say, we are eating into the capital.

There is no question whatever that consumer credit exploded all over the economic scene in the 1960s. Banks fought to lend money. By mailing unsolicited credit cards, they literally put hundreds of dollars into the hands of strangers.

Documenting the rise, about $120 billion in consumer credit was outstanding at the end of the year, more than double the total at the beginning of the decade.

For automobiles alone, Americans owed $36 billion in December, again more than double the figure of 10 years earlier. More than $29 billion was owed in personal loans, a jump of more than $16 billion since 1962.

Late in the 1960s, when the price of loans began rising sharply, many Americans discovered the policy loan. They borrowed on their life insurance policies to the tune of $12 billion, compared with only $5.27 billion in 1960.

Add on to these figures about $235 billion of consumer debt, a rise of about $160 billion during the decade.

No question about it, Americans went on a borrowing spree in the 1960s. It was a revolutionary attitude, for Americans had a long tradition of pay as you go. There was something honorable about paying your bills in cash, on time.

That same attitude, in the opinion of some economists, also tended to stifle enterprise. It represented a great deal of insecurity; people did not want to take chances.

Americans during the 1960s lost a lot of those old fears. They realized they were not as vulnerable to financial blows because they had Social Security and health insurance and better education and a firmer grip on their jobs.

And their government in effect told them that they need no longer fear a major depression because the economic cycle was being controlled. A recession perhaps, but nothing of any extended duration or great intensity.

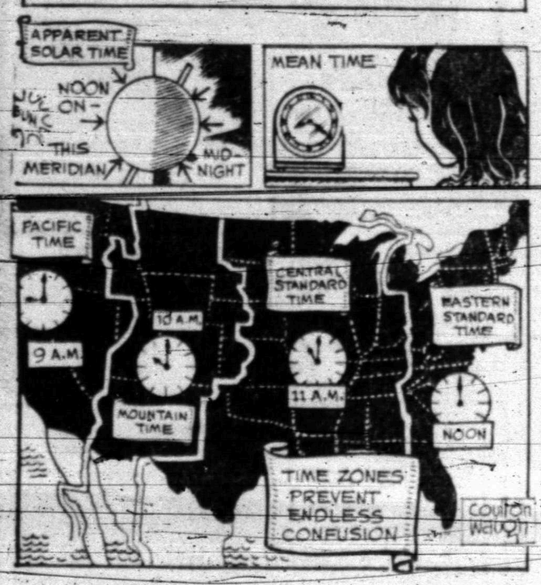

All this made Americans less fearful of extending themselves. But it still isn't entirely clear that the freer use of credit means that Americans have forsaken thrift.

Although installment payments alone—not including mortgages—were taking more than 15 per cent of disposable income as the year ended, those bills were being paid precisely on time.

During the 1960s Americans also built up great assets. While they were buying on credit they were saving also, and now have more than $480 billion of liquid assets, such as bank deposits, to match against those liabilities.

Personal bankruptcies had risen through much of the 1960s, but in the final year of the decade they dropped sharply. Mortgage foreclosures were at a rate of only three-tenths of one per cent and mortgage delinquencies were less than one per cent.

Junior Editors Quiz on TIME ZONES

QUESTION: Why does time differ in certain areas of the United States?

* * *

ANSWER: Although the earth is actually orbiting around the sun, the sun appears to be taking a path around the earth, rising in the East and sinking in the West. We use this apparent path of the sun to measure time. We call this "apparent" solar time because apparent in this sense means "visible"; we can actually see the sun moving across the sky each day. We count our days as ending when the sun seems to cross under the earth at midnight. This sounds simple. But the sun, while it keeps exact time from year to year, does not give us exact time day by day. The earth's orbit around the sun is not exactly circular, making small variations in the length of the days. To allow for this, astronomers have taken the average length of days over a year, and worked out average or "mean" time, which is what our clocks run on. Your particular time is related to the meridian, or North-South line, on which you stand. So four areas in the country are arranged as general time zones, as you see in the picture.

12-22

Getting Tree Home Is A Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Christmas in the country. Tramping through the fields to chop down a tree. Loading it in a horse-drawn sleigh for the ride home over snow-covered lanes.

Christmas in the city. Pounding the concrete pavements in search of an apartment-sized pine. Trying to find a taxi that will take passenger and tree home through slush-covered streets.

Buying a Christmas tree in the city is enough to shake the faith of even the most ardent believer in Santa Claus.

There's no lack of trees. Streetcorner stands spring up in almost every neighborhood in the weeks before Christmas.

The problem is getting the tree home. Unless you pick a three-feet-or-under size, coping with the springy branches and sharp needles on public transportation can be a nightmare.

Try taking a bus for example. Don't forget to have the exact fare—20 cents—ready to drop into the coin box. Clutch tree in one hand, money in other and try to scale the distance to that first high step. Give up. The bus driver probably won't let you on anyway.

Maybe you're brave enough to tackle the subway. Drop token in slot. Enter turnstile, pushing tree ahead. Go back to booth; you forget a token for the tree. Forget it.

Taxi drivers, capricious in the best of circumstances, will slow up long enough only to laugh. Even if you find a friendly soul, the tree probably won't fit.

Having a tree delivered is one solution, but most places won't deliver anything less than a 10-foot, $15 tree.

Unwilling either to pay the price of a tree in the city or give up the fun of a real tree, my husband and I decided to venture forth this year to the country. Not the country, actually. Just the suburbs.

We rented a car, fought our way through city traffic and arrived at the border, intent on finding the perfect tree. It had to be a Scotch pine, about 6 feet, perfectly shaped. And cheap. Not too much to ask.

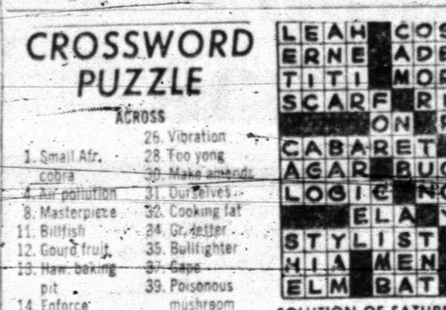

The first store had only balsam firs. The second featured 9-foot trees unadaptable to 8-foot ceilings. The third offered a scrawny selection of dry pines.

Hours later, muttering under our breaths about the benefits of an artificial tree, we hit paydirt. A perfect little tree, well shaped, still fresh, just 5½ feet. And only $5.

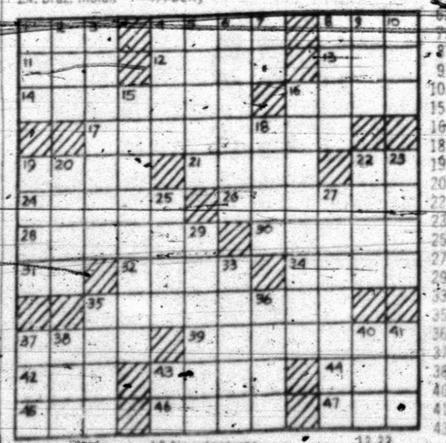

The tree, compressed with string to a manageable size, was loaded in the trunk of the car. We ventured back through city traffic and, with the aid of a friendly elevator operator, got the tree into the apartment.

Total expenditure? About eight hours time. Two sets of frayed nerves. And only $22 including the $17 for the car rental.
