Have New Dress Parade.

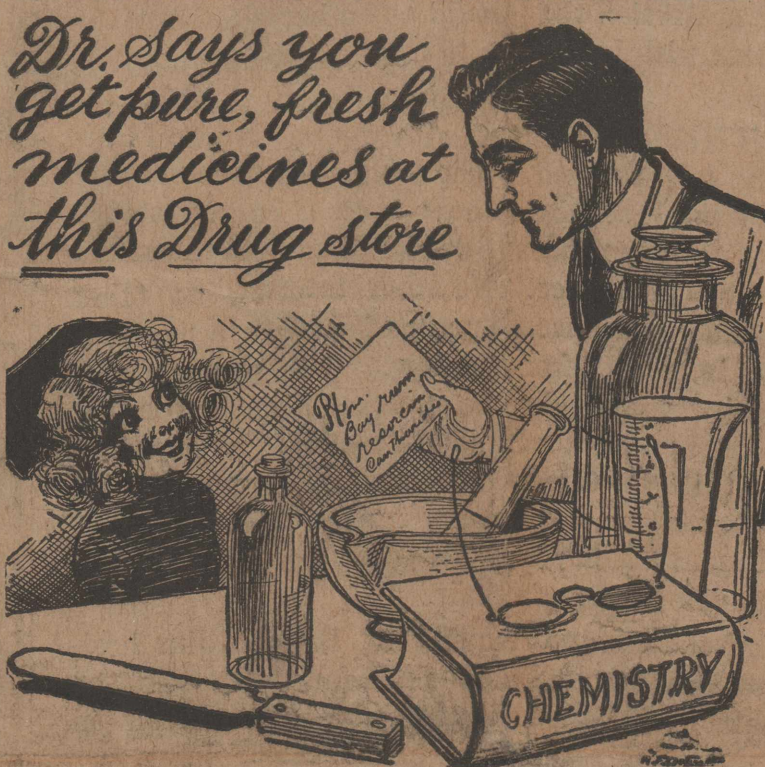

The W. O. W. and band have just received their new uniforms for dress parade and team work which will adorn the members of the team and the W. O. W. Band at the big picnic on the 10th, of July at which time the W. O. W. have charge of program and amusements for the morning entertainment.

Mrs. J. C. Dean is recuperating from a long siege of sickness and her sister, Mrs. T. J. Jones of Dodsonville, who was here to look after her while sick, has also taken quite sick at the Dean home.

Completion of the census enumeration for the Wellington Independent School District shows an enrollment of 511, which is an increase of 54 over the enrollment of 1913. E. M. Hix had charge of the scholastic census enrollment this year. This shows a substantial advancement in the growth of Wellington and in school matters. With our new school building and better facilities the prospects for the ensuing term of school are splendid indeed.

Bitten by Moccasin

Clarence Campbell, 13-year-old son of Prof. R. C. Campbell, was bitten on the thumb of his left hand Tuesday by a dry land moccasin while picking berries a mile or two from town. He went to the nearest house and submerged his thumb in coal oil and had a clay poultice bound about the wound. He ran to town for medical treatment. Besides a swollen hand and slight illness he suffered no serious effects from the bite.—Clarksville Times.

Services at Christian Church

Elder Elkins of Childress, Texas, is holding revival services at the Christian church in Wellington. Preaching at 8:30 each evening, and the meeting will continue over the greater part of next week. It is now thought that the services will close next Friday, June 26th.

The preacher is a very forcible speaker and is giving some especially strong sermons.

The song services are also extra good and are under the direction of C. C. Cleary, who came with Elder Elkins to look after this part of the devotional services. You miss a rare treat if you are not attending these services.

If you are going to paint use the best Hughes Crescent Cottage paints. Sold by C. D. Shamburger.

Geo. W. Ellis, who was operated upon at the sanitarium at Dallas, is reported as making but slow progress towards recovery, and his wife and children will join him and they will go to the San Antonio country and Mr. Ellis placed in a sanitarium there.

Tag Day For City Park.

The Ladies of the Literary and Civic Club are looking forward to the time when Wellington will have a nice city park, and in the meantime are exerting every effort to raise funds to provide for such. They are undertaking different manner of things that will bring in a little money and have now designated July 10th as "Tag Day"—the day of the picnic. Those who will be so gracious as to contribute a small amount (or a large sum) to this cause and wear a "Tag Day badge on this date will be deemed a public benefactor and receive the thanks and appreciation of the ladies in helping them in their work.

In our mentioning last week of Frank Green and family over from Memphis, we inadvertently overlooked the further news that Mr. E. C. Haynes also moved over and with his family occupy the Louis Stall residence with Mr. Green and family. These gentlemen have their new picture show almost ready to open to the public.

Call of the People

IF EVER a candidate for governor was called by the people, Tom Ball is that candidate. Spontaneous and unsolicited, the voice of Texas rose in an almost unbroken chorus asking the Houston man to leave his personal interests and make the race for governor.

When it was known that Tom Ball would receive the endorsement of the Fort Worth mass-meeting with out opposition, the democrats of Texas poured into that city to hail him as their chosen chief. Like any other unopposed candidate in the history of the State the enthusiasm was unprecedented, and Tom Ball's integrity of character received a tribute the like of which history seldom records.

Frank Putnam, a "writer of fortune," has been brought to Texas to stir prejudice and hatred into action in behalf of the whiskey interests, and he now essays to create the belief that sinister interests have taken control of the Ball campaign.

This effort must fail. The people know Ball and demanded his leadership. That some men antagonistic to popular rule are supporting Ball is not a matter of interest, for they had no voice in selecting his leadership, and could have no more influence with him after election than could any other equal number of citizens with just cause to interest the governor of Texas.

It is a pity that a man with the brilliance of Putnam can be employed to use his powers in support of a man who places the saloons upon a sacred shrine from which he proposes to defend them with the sword of the executive office. No other interest, no other cause, has thus been surrounded with a powerful cloak of immunity from the law. The people's will in America, supposed to be supreme law, is to be set at naught by this man who has become the guardian of the whiskey interests, and says no law shall be passed to further effect them. And it is this man that Frank Putnam, with his gifted pen, proposes to place in the governor's chair.

Mountebank and demagogue, Banker Jim hesitates not to seduce with his slush fund any man he can make useful in setting the whiskey interests in an invulnerable place of power in Texas politics.

The notorious and graceless campaign of 1911, when hundreds of thousands of dollars of liquor money was used to debauch the electorate of Texas, was a Sunday school picnic compared to this daring challenge to keep the whiskey business sacred from any encroachments of the law for the next four years! —The Austin Tribune.

Discretion is the better part of virtue.

El Paso gets the next State Democratic Convention.

Anyway the fellow that is always on the fence can see what is going on.

The question with many of the boys now is "the cotton patch or the swimming hole?"

We are right now in the midst of the greatest wheat harvest ever in Collingsworth county.

Occasionally a girl knowingly marries the wrong man rather than run the risk of not getting married at all.

When the average man asks for justice, should it be given him, he would recognize that he had asked for too much.

We read an account where a girl broke her neck trying to keep from being kissed. Have not noticed any Wellington girls with broken necks?

A Gilmer young man died last week while reading a newspaper. What is put into some papers is enough to kill anybody, especially during a political campaign.—Foard County News.

Candidates could make friends with the farmers by going out and helping them in the field, spending a half day or so with the hoe, and the one doing the longest row would be the one to land the vote.

Many heat prostrations and resultant deaths last week in the northern states. The cool breezes blow and it is balmy and pleasant the whole summer long in the Panhandle. Never heard of such a thing as sunstroke here.

Here's one editor's suggestion as to the proper way for a girl to dance the tango—to "keep one arm around her self respect and the other around her modesty and be careful what she does with her feet."—Wills Point Chronicle.

It is quite probable that E. E. Diggs of Childress will receive the Republican nomination for governor of Texas at the Republican state convention to meet at Waco. The Progressives under the leadership of Cecil Lyons will meet at San Antonio.

Binders were running last Sunday in some of the fields adjacent to Wellington. Wheat and oats are ripe unto the harvest, and because of the likelihood of it falling down or that damaging rain should come it was thought wise to operate the binder on Sunday.

The noise the Ferguson supporters are making reminds us of the noise made by "Blacksmith Williams of Cumby" in his race against Campbell several years ago, when it was so freely predicted that Campbell would be defeated. But when the votes were all in it was shown the Blacksmith was not in the running a little bit.

A Pittsburg hubby is congratulating himself that his wife no longer goes through his pockets in search of change. A small rubber snake placed in his trouser pocket did the work, and since he confided the secret to his friends it has been almost impossible to supply the demand for rubber snakes.—Vernon Optic-Herald.

You can not recall the hard things you say. You may be sorry you said them and ask forgiveness, but once said the scar is there. You can not undo the bad things you do. You may be forgiven, therefore, it behooves each of us to live that we will not wish to do and say things which we will later regret.

We saw a picture the other day of a London policeman arresting a Suffragette. The officer had the woman in a deadly embrace, and the woman was good looking too. It is no wonder that there are so many Suffragettes in London and that so many arrests are being made.—Foard County News.

When people talk about there being a better state than Texas, every potato slightly winks its eye, every cabbage shakes its head, every beet gets red in the face, every onion feels stronger, every oat field is shocked, rye strokes its beard, corn sticks up its ears and every foot of land kicks. The horses even denounce the statement with a neigh and printers grab their shooting sticks.—Exchange.

The Hereford Brand is turning out a job of 500,000, or one-half million, 12-page pamphlets. This is probably the largest single order ever placed with a job printing concern in the Panhandle. Some idea of the size of the job might be gained when it is figured that with a press running day and night at the rate of 2000 copies per hour it would require more than twenty days just to do the printing alone.

There are good men in Collingsworth county who are loyally supporting Ferguson for governor, and we do not like them the less for it. It is their privilege, and we are certainly tolerant enough to accord them the privilege we claim for ourself. However, as we view the matter the election of Ferguson would be of the same force and effect as electing Colquitt for a third term. He would not have a legislature in accord with him and his tenure in office would be another period of "do nothing."

We are of the opinion that the city could spend a little money in no better way right now than hire some man with a mower and have the weeds cut off the vacant lots and the streets and alleys about Wellington. The finance of the city are rather low now, as will be noticed by statement published in today's Leader, and very little money will be coming in until fall, so if the city can't undertake this work it would be well to take up a subscription to defray the expenses for it ought to be done.

The country press stands next to the heart throbs of the common people and ever found championing their cause, because the interest of the press and the people as a whole are inseparable. On moral issues the press is ever active and in sentiment with the best element of the people. Therefore, Jim Ferguson, standing for the saloons and their kindred interests, can not understand why the press of the country is for Ball for governor, and makes the charge that the press is "subsidized." This alone should cause every self-respecting editor in Texas to be for Ball.

Hon. Clarence Ousley made a speech before the State Bankers' Association a few days ago, says the Sherman Democrat, in which he said that the homestead law excludes Texas from enjoying the benefit of a bill now pending in congress which provides for a land banking system. For years commercial interests have been trying to get this law repealed. There is nothing on the statute books which prevents a man from buying a home, or land, on borrowed money, it merely keeps him from losing his home after it is paid for should he get in debt. There are some of the old land marks that the people do well to stick to, and the Texas homestead law is one of them.—The Press Journal.

Dr. Cranfill's assertion that the newspaper is the best advertising medium is merely a reiteration of what has been frequently said. But it carries special emphasis from the fact that it comes from one who has tested the worth of advertising. The potentiality of the newspaper grows daily. Other forms of advertising may bring results. As a matter of fact, they do. But the newspaper is the one dependable courier from business man to the public.—Evening Journal.

Friends of Candidate Ferguson say that Ball should not be elected governor because that up to the time he became a candidate, he was a corporation lawyer. No one denies the truth of that statement. It is a fact. But in what respect does that give Mr. Ferguson an advantage over Col. Ball? As the Times understands, Mr. Ferguson is also a corporation man, being a joint owner of a large corporation of which he is an officer and director, and so far as the Times is aware, he has not yet severed his connections with that corporation. However that is nothing to Mr. Ferguson's discredit. Corporation's, generally speaking, are owned and officered by the safest, brainiest and soundest men they can secure. The state of Texas is a bigger and more gigantic concern and more difficult to handle than all the corporations put together. She needs and must have a big brained man to govern her affairs. Then why all this fuss about electing as our governor a man who was the attorney for a corporation for a number of years, or one who even now is largely interested in a corporation? In our own humble opinion, there is absolutely nothing to such argument, unless it be that the Democrats of Texas are expected to select their governor from among a bunch of small potato men, usually classed as professional politicians of peanut statesmen. The Times is of the opinion that neither Colonel Tom Ball or Candidate Ferguson belongs to that class. There is this much on that score to say in favor of Col. Ball: He severed his connection with the corporation he was working for at the time he became a candidate for governor. Until Mr. Ferguson does likewise he should not criticize his opponent, and when he does, he is going over some tolerably thin ice.—Wichita Times.

CALOMEL IS A FORM OF DEADLY MERCURY

Instead of Such Dangerous Stuff, it is Recommended That You Take Dodson's Liver Tone for Constipation.

Dodson's Liver Tone was made to take the place of calomel.

Calomel is a form of mercury, a mineral and a poison. Dodson's Liver Tone is an all-vegetable liquid—never harmful.

What calomel does unpleasantly and often with danger for constipation and sluggish liver. Dodson's Liver Tone does for you safely and pleasantly, without pain and gripe. It does not interfere in any way with your regular business, habits or diet. You feel good after taking it.

The great success and wide sale of Dodson's Liver Tone are the result of what it does for people. Its merit is backed up by a guarantee of "satisfaction or your money back," as E. M. Williams Drug Co., the druggist will tell you.

Dodson's Liver Tone was intended from the start to take the place of calomel. The label on the bottle always has said so, beginning with the first bottle sold.

Dodson's Liver Tone "liven's the liver" overcomes constipation agreeably and makes you feel good, and if you are not satisfied completely with it E. M. Williams Drug Co. will hand back the purchase price (50c) to you with a smile.

When you go to buy a family remedy don't fail to judge between the plain, simple truth about Dodson's and the loud claims of its imitators. That the public does so accounts for the enormous increase in the sales of Dodson's Liver Tone month after month.

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Gardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Gardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Gardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill."

The Biggest Celebration Ever Held in Wellington is Scheduled for July 10th

Wellington, the liveliest position in the whole Panhandle country, extends a cordial invitation to all her friends, past, present, and prospective, to join her in one big gala day on July 10th. This celebration will be in the nature of a monster barbecue and basket picnic, with an interesting program for amusement. Those who are acquainted with the way Wellington does things will know from the beginning that this event will be worth going miles to enjoy.

To ensure the very best success for this occasion the County Democratic Executive Committee is standing sponsor for the success of the big picnic and the Woodmen of the World will have charge in rendering a part of the program and the W. O. W. say that if the Executive Committee falls down in any respect that they will intensify the interest in their program and make up for any shortcomings. The Democratic Executive Committee is represented in membership in every section of the county as is also the Woodmen of the World, therefore the responsibility is stretched out to cover all the people and if this does not insure the very best success what could?

The various committees are busy at work arranging the details of the day, and the finance committee is meeting with splendid success in raising the necessary funds. The W. O. W. Band has been employed to furnish the music.

There will be free barbecue and all are expected to bring baskets of fried chicken, pies, cakes, salads, etc. There will be tanks of ice water, confectionery and cold drink stands on the grounds.

The program committee have the promise of a splendid speaker to represent Tom Ball in his candidacy for the governorship. Hon. R. B. Humphrey, candidate for Congressman at Large, has promised to be here, also Hon. Mr. Baker, a candidate for State Treasurer, as well as a score of other candidates including a large number of the local candidates.

The morning program will be under the auspices of the W. O. W. and without one question will be something decidedly entertaining.

The program of entertainment will be full and attractive, let us assure you. There will be something doing all the time, and no end of fun. Excursion rates will be given on the railway for this grand occasion.

WELLINGTON, TEXAS

Senator Johnson It Seems Not Familiar with Constitution

One of the planks in the platform of R. H. Cooke of Wellington, candidate for state senator, is as follows: "Leaving the rate of the local school tax to the people of the district." This is a plank that all believers in good country schools can and will indorse.—Childress Index.

Now Bro. Haskett, did you ever think how little sense there is to the quotation you make for this platform. Whoever heard of a school district that had a tax that had not been voted by the people. Surely it was not in Texas. Yes indeed, the tax must be "left to the people" in any district in Texas. Do you think there is any sense in a candidate using as a plank in his platform a thing that has been in the constitution and laws for years, just because he did not know the difference.—Hall County Herald.

A man who would take others to task for not being familiar with the Constitution and the laws of Texas should be quite sure that he himself knows what he is talking about. In the article above Senator Johnson shows a woeful want of knowledge in regard to the very thing that he would inform others about. The present Constitution and laws of Texas do not leave to the people of the district the matter of rate of the local school tax but stipulates that there shall not be levied a greater tax for both bond and maintenance purposes than 50c on the $100 valuation, which in a large number of instances is inadequate. Judge Cocke would let the Democratic principle apply and let the people of a district by a majority or two-thirds vote say whether they desire to pay for better school facilities. It is indeed a splendid feature of his platform and is certainly more democratic and meritorious than some of the proposed laws introduced in the Legislature by Mr. Johnson—for instance the one to make every Saturday afternoon a legal holiday.

Senator Johnson is evidently waking up to the fact that Judge Cocke is gaining ground all the time in his race for the Senate and last week made this fling in his paper—The Hall County Herald—no doubt, in an effort to estop the sentiment growing in his favor of the Collingsworth County man.

The writer has always contended that if the state of Texas was not able to expend more for salaries to those that represent the various districts in the Legislature it should then cut down the number one half and pay double the amount now allowed in order to induce men better fitted and qualified to aspire to these positions. The trouble has been that too many men of mediocre ability have been sent to Austin to make our laws, and when the voters have a chance of making a selection between two or more men for the position they should choose the one qualified to give the best service. We are of the opinion that Judge Cocke is a much abler man for Senator from the 29th district than the present incumbent, hence our advocacy of the election of the Collingsworth County man.

In this connection we will say that four years ago the writer was running a paper at Miami and at that time supported our newspaper friend, Senator Johnson, for the same reason that we are now supporting Judge Cocke, because we believed him the best qualified man in the race. There is no remuneration to speak of in the office and Senator Johnson has already all the honor to be had in the position. He has served four years, which constitutes the period of time covered by "two terms" of all county offices to which the principle of a second or endorsement term we think should more generally apply, hence as we see it, no claim can be made on this basis. As to Mr. Johnson's service in office no serious complaint can be made to what he did, the only objection could be that he didn't do much. The most meritorious bill introduced by him was the pool hall prohibition bill, but this idea was conceived in the minds of Collingsworth county citizens and fostered by people here and in Donley county up to the time of the meeting of the Legislature when Senator Johnson and Hon. R. L. Templeton as representative got together and agreed on one measure rather than have two measures covering the same subject introduced as bills.

Judge Cocke not being a newspaper man has not the access to the press that Mr. Johnson has without it costing him too much or more than the remuneration from the office would justify, and for this reason we feel like saying this much in behalf of one of our splendid citizens.

Intensifies Interest in the Wellington Oil Field-----Drillers Now Down 275 Feet

A Mr. Dickinson of Wichita Falls was in the city yesterday looking over the records at the Court House covering the leases on the property adjacent to the oil well being put down three miles northeast of Wellington by the Citizens Oil Development Co. He also visited the abstract office on business in connections with this matter. Many wondered what was the purpose of his visit here and all kinds of conjectures have been made, but very little information was given out by the gentleman.

In a talk with the writer Mr. Dickinson said he represented the Guffey Company, and that the company of course was always keeping a lookout for the possible development of new fields. He said that several years ago his company was making preparations to put down test wells in the neighborhood of Dozier in this county, as they regarded the surface indications were splendid, but their activities in other fields caused them to delay their work there. In speaking of the shallow findings that have been made in the drilling in the well here he said that it was good indications, and in every field yet discovered these shallow findings were to be found.

The well here is now down to a depth of 275 feet. They have passed through several findings of oil sand that seem to be saturated with a heavy grade oil and the water bears a heavy skum of dark oily substance that has the natural crude oil smell. The water rises within 25 feet of the top of the ground and interferes considerably in getting a good sample of the oil or oil sand.

The promoters and our citizens generally are highly elated over the prospects thus far.

The Baptist Ladies Aid society met Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

This was our mission day but the program committee failed to get out the program, so we just had a general good heart to heart talks, made by the ladies on mission, or anything they wanted to talk about. We had a good attendance, some members were present that had not been in a long time. We wish all of our members would come. Our meeting next Monday was our social day, but we decided to have a prayer meeting at the church instead of a social meeting. We hope that every body will put forth an effort to come to this prayer meeting. At the usual hour of our meeting at the church.

Full of Prunes

Two of our distinguished members of the Legislature—Messrs H. B. Savage and A. M. Kennedy—have filed applications with State Chairman Collins, asking that their names be placed upon the primary election ballot as candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives. Probably this action is intended for a joke. But, if Messrs Savage and Kennedy are in earnest, it must be that they have eaten too freely of that dried fruit, which is popularly believed is freely served to statesmen in Austin boarding houses, yept prunes. The purpose of the primary election is to nominate candidates for elective offices, to be filled in the November election. The Speakership is not such an office. True, it is also provided that propositions may be placed upon the ballot. Messrs. Savage and Kennedy are pretty lively propositions, but not the sort contemplated by the election law. The executive committee probably will reject their applications. If, however, it shall decide to open the ballot to candidates for appointive positions, if it shall determine to rob the Legislature of any of its dear privileges, the Evening Journal will insist upon going all the way and will enter three or four of its own office boys for page-ship.—Dallas Evening Journal.

FABLES FOR THE FAIR

BY JOSEPHINE DODGE DASKAM

THE WOMAN WHO TALKED WELL

There was once a Woman who had Remarkable Conversational Powers. Her Friends admired her Very Much. Once they Planned a Dinner Party in her Honor. To this Party they Invited a Man who was what is known as The Life of the Occasion. He was One of Those People who Set the Table in a Roar. The Hostess had Planned for him to Take Out the Woman of the Conversational Powers. To her Surprise, he Refused, Politely but Forcibly, to do this.

"Why, I Thought you would Enjoy each other So Much!" said the Hostess. "She is such a Fascinating Talker—so Brilliant! You, of All People, would Appreciate Her."

"On the Contrary," said the Man who could Set the Table in a Roar. "Far From It. That Woman Irritates me Beyond Endurance. Every

ONE OF THOSE PEOPLE WHO SET THE TABLE IN A ROAR. Time I Open my Mouth, she knows What I am Going to Say beforehand, and More than That, she Talks All the Time herself. I am Sorry to Disoblige you, but you must Give me Somebody Else." "Here is a List of the Ladies," said the Hostess. "Take your Choice." "I will take This One," said he, "for she Stutters."

This teaches us that Birds of a Feather occasionally Prefer to Flock Apart.

Five Rules for Borrowing Money

Washington, D. C. June 8.—Five rules designed to convince farmers that there is no magic about credit are set down in Farmers' Bulletin 593 "How to Use Farm Credit," which the United States Department of Agriculture has just published. Unless the farmer who is thinking of borrowing money fully understands these rules and is willing to be guided by them, the Government's advice to him is:—DON'T. As it is, there are probably almost as many farmers in this country who are suffering from too much credit as from too little credit. Of these rules the three most important are:

1. Make sure that the purpose for which the borrowed money is to be used will produce a return greater than needed to pay the debt.
2. The length of time the debt is to run should have a close relation to the productive life of the improvement for which the money is borrowed.
3. Provision should be made in long time loans for the gradual reduction of the principal.

The first rule is of course the key to the wise use of credit. Between borrowing money to spend on one's self and borrow money to buy equipment of some sort with which to make more money that is all the difference between folly and fore-sight, extravagance and thrift. If the money is borrowed for a wise purpose it will produce enough to pay back principal and interest and leave a fair margin of profit for the borrower into the bargain. If it is borrowed for a foolish purpose it will produce nothing and consequently there will be nothing with which to repay the loan. From this point of view it matters comparatively little whether the interest be high or low. It is the repayment of the principal that is the chief difficulty.

Rules 2 and 3 deal with the most satisfactory ways of repayment. Underneath them both is the same principle: The loan money must be repaid with the money it earns itself. For example, if the money is used to buy a machine that will last ten years, the machine must earn enough in that time to pay for itself or it never will. The loan, thereof, should be entirely repaid before the ten years are up or the farmer will lose money on the transaction, paying out interest for no benefit in return. On the other hand, if too early a date is set for repayment, the machine will not have had sufficient opportunity to make the requisite money and the borrower may have difficulty in raising it elsewhere. Rule 3 provides for some form of amortization, the system by which the principal is repaid by installments so that the amount of the loan is continually diminishing and in consequence the interest changes also. Such a system is quite feasible when the loan is really productive, when it returns to the borrower a definite revenue each year. Tables showing the payment required to pay off principle and interest in varying periods of time are appended to the bulletin and are recommended to the serious consideration of everyone who contemplates borrowing money. The bulletin also advises the farmer to secure the lowest possible interest. At first sight this seems too obvious to be worth mentioning. Of course the interest should be as small as possible. Everybody knows that—except the lender. But if the other rules are observed, if the borrower manages his financial affairs soundly, he will be surprised to find how much easier it is to obtain favorable terms. The right kind of lender does not want to foreclose mortgages; he wants his money back with a fair profit, like any other merchant. For money that is borrowed wisely, for money that is sure to be repaid, he charges low interest.

This in fact is why the government has published these rules for borrowers. It is not so much a matter of driving a shrewd bargain as it is of observing a few fundamental principles which alone can make credit a blessing and not a curse.

Big Times at Clarendon

Let us remind you again that you do not wish to miss the big race meet in Clarendon on July 1, 2, 3, 4, and the big celebration on the fourth. Much printed matter, containing details of the event, is going out of The News office this week, and will be distributed over the Panhandle in the next few days. And The News wishes to vouch for the fact that everything will be strictly as advertised in this printed matter. The biggest dinner ever served in this part of the world will be served on July 4th. Arrangements are not going to be made—they have already been made. And all the amusements, comforts and conveniences have been provided just as stated in the circulars and other printed matter. As to the race meet, nothing has ever yet been seen in Northwest Texas that will approach the one to be held here the first four days of July. One hundred harness horses and fifty running horses will participate in these races—some of them among the best horses of the nation. Come and spend the four days with us. But, if it is absolutely impossible to be here all four days, don't fail to come the 4th. Plans have been made to care for you, and if you fail to come, we and you will just be "out" that much.—The Clarendon News.

Cattle Raisers Association

More than two hundred and fifty new members have joined the Texas Cattle Raisers Association since the Middle of March, according to President Jackson of that organization. Men who have been members in the past and who have allowed their memberships to expire have asked to be reinstated and from every section of the State new applications are being received.

This is an age of organization, and "no man liveth to himself alone." In every line of industry there is getting to be more and more a spirit of unity, and co-operation, not competition, is the keynote of the successful association today.

"By the Light of the Moon"

Oat in Young County the wheat crop is so large and farm hands so scarce that the farmers of that vicinity are harvesting their wheat by moonlight. The rains caused the wheat to mature at such a rapid rate that this course was adopted as the only means of saving the heavy wheat crop of that section.

The song of the reaper as it mingles with the carols of the night birds is an unusual sound, but it makes a noise like progress and speaks for the farmers of Young county a prosperous season and a rich and plentiful harvest.

What a Paper Does for a Town

The value of a live, energetic newspaper to any town or city is absolutely impossible to estimate, says the Winfield Free Press. There are so many ways that the good newspaper promotes the interests of the city and the individual citizens where it is published that it would be like trying to number the sands of the sea to enumerate them. It is the true friend of the city or town and every residence thereof and stands ready to fight the battles of individual citizens in a way that no other agency has either the nerve or courage to do. It stands as a great bulwark of defense for the city and for the people.

But this is only one feature. There's another that is seldom given much thought and that is that the newspaper of any town or city is a paying investment for such place as an industrial institution. People welcome with open arms and loud acclaim any factory costing a few thousand dollars and they think the town is wonderfully fortunate in securing a plant that will give employment to a number of people. Sometimes they even put up a bonus to secure such a plant. There are many newspapers which give employment to a number of people, and nothing is thought of it. The money that comes to the paper is spent in the town or city where it is published. None of it goes away except for ink and paper and some other small supplies that cannot be bought at home. The newspaper is essentially a home institution. It works day and night to build up its home town, state, and spends its money freely with home people. It is published on strict business principles these days, and that is the reason for the growth and prosperity that has come to many papers during the past few years. As a business enterprise a good newspaper is about the best industry than any town has, and its publisher asks nothing but a square deal.

Cotton yields the Texas farmers a million dollars per day.
