50,000 Homeless In Floods

FLOOD SWEEPS OVER LAND—Water from the Lewis river, tributary of the Columbia river, is shown above as it breaks through a levee near Woodland, Wash., and spreads out over rich farmland, inundating buildings as it goes. Thousands of acres of land and many homes as well as at least two cities have been wrecked by the swirling flood. Damage is in millions and loss of life may be heavy. See story in Column 8. ## Truman Gains Backing From Two States

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Truman picked up 74 more national convention votes for the Democratic presidential nomination today and stood to gain another eight.

The 74 were made up of 54 won without opposition in a California primary and 20 instructed for him in a Maryland party convention. This ran his total pledged and

ALABAMA THREATENS REVOLT

BIRMINGHAM, June 1. (AP)—Alabama Democrats voted to leave the party's national convention if a strong civil rights plank is included in the platform. They also defeated decisively the bid of Governor James E. (Kissing Jim) Folsom for a place in the 26-man delegation to the Philadelphia meeting. Folsom, who opposed the proposal to walk out of the convention over the civil rights issue, was running last in a field of seven for four places as delegate at large.

claimed strength to 589, or 29 short of the 618 required for the nomination. Some of his claimed votes are disputed.

The President's chances to net another eight delegates votes were dependent on the outcome of a South Dakota primary. The delegate slates were on the Democratic ticket there, one uncommitted, the other pro-Truman.

Alabama Opposes Truman

Alabama added another 11 convention votes to the anti-Truman column in a run-off primary, bringing its total pledged against the President and his civil rights program to 26. The first 15 were elected in a May 4 prmiary.

Delegate votes committed against the President's nomination now total 94, divided this way: Alabama, 26; Florida, 20; Georgia, 28, and South Carolina, 20. Some Alabama and Florida delegates are pledged to bolt the national convention if Mr. Truman is nominated or if a strong civil rights plank is adopted.

All told, Democratic delegates with 93 votes were named today. This leaves 214 yet to be named to complete the total convention vote of 1,234.

Warren Gains Support

California's 53 Republican delegates, pledged to Gov. Earl Warren, topped Republican selections today. Like Truman's, his slate had no opposition. Eleven more were elected in South Dakota's primary. They are uninstructed, but are ex-

Israel Gives Cease-Fire Order; Arab Move Awaited

Arabs, Jews Accept UN's Plea For Armistice In Holy Land

By LARRY HAUCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, June 1—The Jews and Arabs today announced acceptance of a United Nations plea for a four-week armistice in Palestine.

However, their replies to the UN left unanswered such questions as when the shooting would stop.

Israel's acceptance was handed to Secretary-General Trygve Lie approximately four hours ahead of the Security Council's 5 p. m. (CST) deadline for reply. The Jews followed this up by issuing ceasefire orders to their troops, effective at that hour (3 a. m., Wednesday, Israeli time), on condition the Arabs took the same step.

Hour Not Set

The seven-nation Arab league's decision to accept the UN plan was given to Lie two hours ahead of the deadline but it made no mention of a cease-fire hour. The council had asked the two parties to agree to the proposals by the appointed hour. The Arab reply left open the actual time of laying down arms.

Also unanswered were the diplomatic and political questions as to whether the acceptances were unconditional.

An Israeli spokesman insisted that his government's acceptance was unconditional.

Faris El Khoury of Syria, the leading Arab spokesman here, took over the presidency of the council today under a monthly rotation plan.

Hope Held For Solution

Charles Malik, delegate of Lebanon, read the initial Arab reply to reporters after handing it to Lie. He refused to answer questions as to whether it could be considered conditional but said the details would come along later. The Arab note said:

"The political committee of the Arab league which met in Amman (Trans-Jordan) accepted the Security Council's request for a cease-fire for the indicated period (four weeks). The political committee will communicate its detailed reply to the secretary-general and to the president of the Security Council.

"The acceptance by the Arab governments (Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Trans-Jordan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Yemen) of these proposals proves once more their genuine desire to see peace restored in the Holy Land and a just solution to the Palestine problem arrived at."

A British spokesman said his government has made new appeals to the Arabs over the week end to accept the council plan unconditionally.

The Jews accepted the peace plan a few hours after Israeli airmen bombed Amman, the Trans-Jordan capital, where Arab league leaders were debating the UN appeal for an end to hostilities.

The Jewish reply listed these assumptions:

1. That the ban on importing arms in the Middle East also should apply to the delivery of arms from stores owned and controlled by foreign powers in the territories involved. A spokesman said this referred to British stores that might be supplying the Arab field armies of Egypt, Iraq and Trans-Jordan under treaty obligations.

2. That the Arabs and Jews should maintain the positions held at the time of the council cease-fire (3 a. m., Israeli time, Wednesday, June 2).

3. That food supplies would be assured for Jerusalem and normal civilian entry and exit would be guaranteed. A Jewish spokesman said his government would regard any attempt to stop food supplies for Jerusalem as a violation of the cease-fire.

4. That any attempt to stop normal transport of goods assigned to Israel and other states concerned would be regarded as an act of armed force. This was understood as a reference to efforts of some Arab states to put into effect a sea blockade against the Jewish state.

5. That Israel's freedom to admit immigrants would not be impaired.

Under the UN plan, the sixth effort here to stop the war, an arms embargo would be instituted against the Jews and the seven warring Arab Nations.

The Security Council meets tomorrow (12:30 p. m. CST) to re-

Raging Water Pouring Into Lower Valley

By JAMES H. FERGUSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

PORTLAND, Ore., June 1.—The Columbia river flood crest slammed tonight into the heavily diked lower river valley where it was expected to breast an incoming tide from the Pacific after leaving thousands homeless, at least two towns demolished and millions of dollars in damage.

More dikes began crumbling before nightfall and Army engineers listed the entire lower valley as a critical area as the Pacific northwest reeled under blows of its greatest disaster.

Many Persons Still Missing

Red Cross officials announced late today that it has not accounted for about half of the 5,328 families whose homes were destroyed in the Memorial Day tragedy that smashed Vanport within minutes.

They explained there are thousands who have not registered and added that they are sheltering 55 children who are separated from their families.

How many perished in the Sunday afternoon flash flood is still a mystery.

Some 50,000 are homeless in four states and property damage has soared to multi-millions of dollars. The Army Corps of Engineers says it is "hopeless at this time" to attempt a probable loss to property estimate.

Wide Area Hit

The destruction stretches for 1,200 miles from the headwaters of the great river in the Canadian Rockies to the ocean. The river is due to remain above flood level for several weeks.

Officials believe the crest has moved downstream from the Portland-Vancouver, Wash., metropolitan area. The river rose to 29.9 feet in Portland at noon today and held for over four hours. Then at 5 p. m. (PST), the river stage dropped to 29.8 and an hour later was down to 29.7 feet.

Elmer Fisher, the Weather bureau river forecaster, said, however, that the river stage will remain at about 29.7 feet for the next two days and not be two feet under today's peak until Saturday.

Many Victims Still 'Missing'

VANPORT CITY, Ore., June 1. (INS)—The Red Cross still could not confirm tonight that any are missing in the Vanport, Ore., disaster now 48 hours old.

Meanwhile, the total loss of the war-built city on the Columbia was estimated at $21,000,000.

The Red Cross at Portland said only 2,500 Vanporters have actually registered while 8,000 flood victims—mostly from the shattered housing project are housed in Portland.

Red Cross Making Check

Vanport population was near 20,000 of whom possibly 10,000 were in their homes when the wall of water surprised the town on a sunny Memorial Day afternoon.

William Brown of the Red Cross said the generosity of Portland citizens is having a boomerang effect on checkups of the missing. Many victims taken into their homes haven't bothered to register at all.

Brown said, however, that registering is going on 24 hours a day in large volume at the Civic auditorium. Others are turning in their names at points as far as 50 miles away.

Brown said hundreds of telegrams received daily from all states in the union asking whereabouts of flood victims does not mean the person is dead.

He said the fact that only about half of the Vanport population is

28 Perish In Sea Disaster

(By The Associated Press)

NORFOLK, Va., June 1—The Navy announced tonight that 28 sailors and Marines were believed lost in the swamping of a launch in Hampton Roads.

Eighteen Navy personnel and 10 Marines, the Navy said, were unaccounted for. The men were attached to a 12-ship task force and were among an estimated 90 men swept into the choppy seas last night when their launch swamped while they were returning from liberty to the force flagship, the aircraft carrier Kearsarge.

First Report Revised

The death toll had been set originally at 21, including 11 navy men and 10 Marines. The number of men who perished in the tragedy was revised and announced several hours after the task force sailed for the Mediterranean. The ships departed at 3:30 p. m., (CST).

The 50-foot open launch was swamped only several hundred yards from the flattop which was anchored in Hampton Roads two miles off the Norfolk naval station.

The death toll was disclosed by the task force commander, Rear Admiral C. A. F. Sprague.

The disaster delayed sailing of the task force from 4 a. m. until 3:30 p. m. (CST). The force is going to the Mediterranean to relieve a similar squadron which has been on duty in that area since last winter.

Three Swim To Shore

Several other launches and picket boats sped to the scene of the accident, which was witnessed from the carrier, and rescued 65 men. Three other men swam the two miles of cold, rain and wind-swept waters to shore, making a total of 68 accounted for. No bod-

Holiday Death Toll Nearing 400 Mark

(By International News Service)

The death toll from Memorial day weekend accidents mounted tonight toward the 400 mark and the count still was not complete.

Authorities said the toll was one of the worst Memorial day fatality records in the nation's history.

A survey indicated at least 345 persons lost their lives with 216 of them dying in traffic accidents. Sixty-nine others drowned. Plane crashes and other air accidents claimed 32 lives, and 28 were snuffed out in fires, a train wreck and other mishaps.

California with 37 led the states in the number of dead. Of those, 31 died in traffic accidents.

Pennsylvania and Illinois had 33 each and New York reported 22. Ohio listed 17.

Identification Of Slain Man Found Near Gilmer Is Sought

GILMER, June 1 (AP)—A white man about 40, found slain near a highway south of here late last night remained unidentified today.

He was believed to be a Kilgore taxicab driver, Lee Clark, who has been missing since he picked up a passenger for Paris, Tex., at 9:40 last night.

The night dispatcher for the Kilgore cabs was due here today to view the body. The man had been shot in the right side and was badly beaten.

Sheriff Posey Seago of Upshur county went to Austin today with clothing, a gun and two bullets found in the man's body for analysis and possible identification.

Clark's cab was found abandoned in McAlester, Oklahoma, this morning.

Three Men Held In Area Theft Probe

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, June 1.—Three men are being held here tonight in connection with thefts of property valued at a minimum of $2,000, much of which has already been recovered by investigating officers. The thefts date back to a year ago, according to the sheriff's department.

Sheriff Ocie Murry and Deputy Bual Powell estimated the value of the stolen property brought here from a scattered area at $1,000. At least that much more property has been placed under guard at the farm owned by one of the accused men. It is located eight miles west of Wellman between Brownfield and Seagraves in Yoakum county.

The property includes housing construction fixtures, plumbing tools, a truck load of lumber, a roll of hog wire, and other material. That under guard includes doors, tools, cross ties and other items.

Arville Glenn, 36, has been charged here on two counts of theft over $50, according to County Attorney Virgil Crawford. Much of the property found on his farm has been identified by owners in Brownfield, Crawford said. Bond for Glenn had been set at $3,000.

Brothers Named

Two brothers, Ernest McDougal, 22, and Grady McDougal, 26, who live on a farm one-quarter mile from the Glenn place, have been charged with receiving and concealing stolen property, it was reported by Sheriff Ike Toler of Yoakum county. Bond has been set here at $1,500 for each of them, pending their removal to Yoakum county.

Some of the property had been burned by the time officers arrested the McDougal brothers today. Powell said they had dumped some material on a country road as well and that even a pig had been turned loose near Brownfield.

The brothers later took officials to the place where some materials had been 'scuttled.'

Glenn owned a late model International truck, officers said, and also a 1947 town-country Chrysler convertible.

He had been rooming with the McDougal brothers and their father. Meanwhile, he had built a store house and had a residence under construction at his farm, a short distance away. The three men do not have families, officers said.

Sheriff Ike Toler said that Glenn had moved to the farm, about a mile west of the Terry county line, a year ago from Seagraves.

Incomplete investigation tonight made it impossible to give accurate estimates on the value or quantity of the property involved. Some of it had been identified as stolen a week ago, in the case of lumber, and other items dated back several months, officers reported.

Checks Taken In Burglary Found

Approximately $4,563 in checks taken in the Sunday night burglary of Piggly-Wiggly store No. 15 on North College was found about 6 p. m. Tuesday on a vacant lot south of Rosenthal baseball field.

The checks, some of which were scattered around some mesquite trees, were found by two boys, playing in the vicinity, Joe Kennedy, of 2415 Third, and John Luck, of 2302 North Third, both about 13 years old. The bulk of the checks were contained in a small sugar sack. No other clues to the burglary were found in the area, according to Detective Captain Pat Davidson.

Cash Still Missing

Cash amounting to about $2,359.85 is still missing as a result of the break-in.

Officials of the store made an accounting of the checks shortly after the discovery. The total was found to be about $29 short. Patrolmen A. E. Sherrell and John Rucker returned to the scene across the street from the ball park and found another check for slightly more than $30.

The minor discrepancy in the total apparently was due to hurried checking of the missing checks.

Meanwhile, charges were expected to be filed against two negro men in connection with burglary Monday night of Bill Reed's grocery, at 2306 East Ave. B, and theft of ten bottles of bay rum.

City Patrolmen Pete Hubbard and L. W. Fristoe arrested four negroes early yesterday and found them in possession of four bottles of bay rum. Two of the suspects gave statements, one of them alleging the other broke a glass window of the store, and both reached in and took several bottles of the bay rum, it was announced.

Others arrested were charged with drunkenness, police said.

Police said they ran down a 47-year-old Elk City, Okla., man on a country road four miles off

Six Powers Reach Agreement On Western Germany's Future

By CHARLES A. SMITH
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 1—The six-power conference on western Germany's future ended today with a series of agreements on most of the political and economic problems involved.

Details of the agreements were reached by compromise and not made public, but it was learned that no agreement was reached on French demands for security and military guarantees from the United States.

Nor was any agreement reached on the amount of coal, iron and steel to be diverted from the Ruhr to German economic recovery. General agreement previously was reached on international control of the Ruhr.

Representatives of Britain, the United States, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg drafted a communique for release tomorrow. It will give only a general picture of the conference results.

The agreements and proposals made at the parley will be sent on to the six governments for final approval and a more specific

Rains Improve Crop Outlook

Farm prospects continued to improve in the South Plains as scattered showers fell in some parts of the area yesterday and a possibility of additional moisture was indicated again for today.

In some areas farmers seemed to hope for a dry period long enough to plant. Others reported that several working days anytime before June 15 would be time enough.

Lubbock Hit Again

Rain began falling in the Lubbock area about noon yesterday, and at 2:30 p. m. the measured amount was .20 at the Weather station.

Thundershowers were reported last night from Midland, Hobbs, N. M., and El Paso.

Although cloudy skies prevailed generally over the South Plains Tuesday, rainfall was scattered.

W. W. Warren, correspondent at Lamesa, reported that rain fell slowly but steadily there from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. yesterday, bringing an official .49 of an inch of moisture. Reports from the rural areas of Dawson county indicated that the rainfall was general, ranging from .25 of an inch in the Welch community to .50 of an inch in other parts of the county, he said.

Lois H. Vestal of the Hockley County Sun reported that an estimated inch of rain had fallen at Levelland, the rain continuing over most of Tuesday morning.

At Tahoka, rain fell from about 6 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, bringing about .30 of an inch of moisture, E. I. Hill, editor of the Lynn County News said last night. Skies were still cloudy, he indi-

LEWIS RENEWS COURT FIGHT

Committee Drops Plan To Seek Change In Labor Act

(By The Associated Press)

A congressional labor-management committee decided Tuesday against trying to change the Taft-Hartley law this year.

Meanwhile, John L. Lewis opened his fight to escape another possible court injunction, the latest efforts to settle the rail dispute failed, and railroad workers were reported working on plans to picket President Truman's speaking tour from coast to coast.

Senator Ball (R-Minn) head of the joint congressional committee, said members felt "it would be impossible to pass an amendment" this year.

Lewis Opposes Order

There still was a chance the committee would recommend a change in the Railway Labor act this year, but Ball said it was a very slim chance.

The committee took no direct action on bills involving "union shop" contracts, Ball said, because the members saw no hope of action by Congress at this session. However, the committee lawyer was instructed to explore the possibility of speeding up plant elections authorizing union shop contracts.

Lewis, chief of the United Mine workers union, asked the federal court to dismiss a government motion to force the union to bargain with the Southern Coal Operators association.

He maintained the association was "a paper organization and a holding company and a propaganda association" and claimed it was not legally a bargaining representative under the Taft-Hartley law. He added he was willing to meet with the actual producers of southern coal.

Deadline June 30

Talks aimed at reaching a soft coal contract after the present one expires June 30 broke down after Lewis declined to have anything to do with the association. The government sought a court injunction as a temporary measure—to compel Lewis to bargain until the NLRB has ruled on the association's charges of unfair

Woman Gets Dope On Weather Before Air Mailing Letter

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, June 1—"Yes, ma'am, weather conditions between here and the east are generally good," forecaster Paul F. Sutton assured a woman who telephoned for information.

Then he went on to explain cloud formations, icing conditions and wind directions.

"But do you think the planes will fly from Chicago to the east tonight?" she asked anxiously.

"Thank you. Then I think I'll send my letter air mail."

'Stand-By' Draft Voted Approval

WASHINGTON, June 1 (INS)—The House Armed Services committee approved today an amendment to its selective service bill which would put the draft on a "standby" basis to become effective upon proclamation by President Truman.

The amendment was voted unanimously in the belief that if the President is given the task of "pressing the button" that will call up men 19 through 25, the draft bill will be more acceptable to an election-minded Congress.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass), and Senate GOP policy chief Taft (R-Ohio), predicted that the draft bill will be passed before the June 19 adjournment date.

New Bill Okayed

They made the prediction following a joint meeting of the policy committees of the two houses.

Other defense developments:

1. A drive to compel President Truman to establish a 70-group Air Force of 24,000 planes and 502,000 men was launched by the House committee. It approved a new Air Force bill authorizing for the second time expenditures for the 70-group program.

The new bill was an answer to Mr. Truman's statement in signing the previous 70-group authorization, that he might not use all

State Aid Is Asked On County Road Work

State highway commission's assistance in improving the Buffalo Lake road from Lubbock to the lake has been requested by Sen. Sterling J. Parrish, the Associated Press reported from Austin Tuesday night.

Parrish told the commission the county would furnish the right of way, grade and a caliche top if the state would put on asphalt. The commission said it would study the request.

County Judge Walter Davies said the project was discussed at the May 24 session of Lubbock county commissioners court and a letter was authorized at that time outlining the county's part in the proposed project which would include the furnishing of right of way, grade and caliche top. Davies emphasized that the letter specified "pit run" caliche would be used as base.

The county judge said the proposed Buffalo Lakes route was not designated as a farm-to-market road because the county had pledged $30,000 toward completion of a paved Idalou-Slaton route which had been previously designated as a farm-to-market road. Davies estimated that the eight and a half mile Buffalo Lakes route would cost the county and state together in excess of $8,000 a mile as sections of the route would pass through extremely rough terrain.

Ben Mansker, of Slaton, commissioner of precinct 2 in which the proposed Buffalo Lakes project lies, said the project was due to be brought up again Friday at a meeting of commissioners court.

17 Narrowly Escape Death In Plane Crash

OMAK, Wash., June 1 (INS)—Seventeen men escaped death or serious injury tonight when their Washington national guard C-47 plane crahsed and burned near the Omak airport.

The guardsmen were being transferred from flood duty at Omak to a similar assignment at Spokane, Wash. One of the guardsmen was slightly injured in the crash.

One of the plane's two engines caught fire shortly after take-off. The pilot attempted to return to the Omak air strip, but was forced to pan-cake at low altitude two miles short of the field.

Names of the pilot, co-pilot and the guardsmen passengers were not immediately available. The plane was totally destroyed by fire.

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

PARIS, June 1.—French reports persisted tonight that U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith cut short his vacation to return to Moscow for more talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

Smith declined comment in Moscow, where he arrived last weekend. By telephone he told International News Service:

"There is nothing I can say presently. I had a good flight back after spending a day in Berlin and hope to leave Moscow again in July to resume my vacation in Bavaria."

The reports current in top French diplomatic circles said Smith returned to his post after getting special instructions from Washington that ended his fishing trip in France.

Before leaving Paris he told friends that "that business"—meaning his talks with Molotov that Russia interpreted and accepted as an American bid for settlement of East-West difficulties—was "not finished yet."

LEGISLATION TO END SOON

Taft And Clayton Clash Over Authority To Control Tariffs

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) tangled today with Will Clayton, the former undersecretary of state, over the reciprocal trade law.

Taft said Congress has a "constitutional duty" to spell out the standards for making tariffs.

Clayton said it is impossible to tell in advance whether any tariff change will cause damage to domestic commerce. For that reason, he argued, Congress shouldn't try to write such standards into the law.

Would Extend Law

Clayton appeared as a witness before the Senate Finance committee of which Taft is a member. The committee opened hearings this morning on a House-approved bill extending the reciprocal trade law one year, with an amendment which would give Congress a veto over tariff cuts which go deeper than recommended by the United States Tariff commission.

Clayton wants the present law extended three years without change. That is what President Truman has recommended, too. Secretary of State Marshall has said he would rather do without the reciprocal trade law than try to make it work as amended by the House.

The law actually will expire a week from next Saturday unless Congress acts.

It has been in force since 1934. Under it, the President, working through the State department, can negotiate tariff reductions with other countries on a tit-for-tat basis.

Clayton who now is a special adviser to Secretary Marshall, said that tariffs should not be fixed solely on the basis of protection to American industry.

Summer School Total Reaches 2,000 Mark

A Tuesday check showed enrollment in Lubbock's free summer school to stand at 2,000 students. Increased enrollment and a check of registration in special non-credit courses accounts for the rise from Monday's figure of 1,881 enrolled.

Six-year old students registered in the pre-school being held in all elementary schools of the city numbered 479 on the check at noon Monday. With 1,029 six-year old students enumerated in the census this spring, school authorities were anxious to get more children registered in the pre-school. The enrollment this summer is as high in proportion as it was last summer, but because of advantages for students the school administration is anxious to have as many pre-school children registered as possible. Attendance is not compulsory, and those students now attending daily vacation Bible school may register later.

Registration in regular credit work totaled 1,932 Monday. Registered in special courses were 207 students and adults, but approximately 141 of these students were probably taking credit work also. ## Candidate For Governor Offers 'Un-Texan' Definition Prize

WACO, June 1. (U.P.)—An award of $100 was offered today by Caso March, candidate for governor, to the ex-serviceman sending him the best definition of "un-Texan," a term once used by Gov. Beauford H. Jester in answering a demand for a state veterans' bonus.

March said entries would be limited to ex-servicemen and the heads of various veterans organizations would be asked to select the winner.

He said that neither box tops nor reasonable facsimiles were needed. However, he added that "a dollar bill—a buck to buck Jester—with each entry would be appreciated."

March, making his headquarters at Waco, will formally open his campaign there with a speech from the courthouse lawn on Friday.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloat, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

Registered Nurses May Obtain Information For Army Service

Lt. Bernice Ray from Fourth Army headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, who arrived in Lubbock Monday, will remain in the city through today in the interest of the nurse procurement program of the Army Nurses corps.

The procurement program is seeking to increase the number of nurses on inactive duty to 25,000 and the number on active duty to 4,000 in the nation.

She will confer with representatives of this year's nurses' graduating classes and other graduate nurses here. Anyone applying must be a graduate registered nurse, she said.

Nurses joining the organized reserve corps will remain on inactive status unless they apply for active duty, except in case of national emergency, she explained. Married nurses are eligible to apply but will not be eligible for active duty even on request except in national emergency.

Nurses eligible for active duty may apply for a commission in the Regular Army if they wish.

Lieutenant Ray said anyone wishing to talk to her may see her at Lubboek hotel.

Investigators Unable To Place Blame In 'Smear' Broadcasts

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1 — A double - barreled congressional probe failed to determine today who was responsible for broadcasting to South America that "New England was founded on hypocrisy and Texan on sin." and similar statements about the United States.

The author of the scripts, Venezuela-born Rene Borgia, testified in broken English that he wrote "beautiful" programs for the broadcasts, but that his superiors later changed them or insisted that he change them into "cheap comedy."

Script Sources Listed

Borgia named John Gunther's "Inside U.S.A." and the series of state guide books published by the WPA in the New Deal years as his sources of information.

Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen admitted that the State department was partly responsible for not maintaining proper supervision over the broadcasts. He blamed lack of funds and "divided authority."

Both witnesses testified before a joint committee representing two Senate groups which are investigating the "Voice of America" broadcasts. The groups are headed by Sens. Ferguson (R-Mich.), and Smith (R-N. J.)

Ferguson and Smith expressed surprise that Borgia should have been selected to write the "know North America" broadcasts. The witness said he had been in this country 22 years, but was on the payroll of the Venezuelan governmena as late as 1945.

Witness Blames Superiors

Borgia, testifying with eloquent gestures, at first blamed the broadcasts on a "Mr. Green," a "Mr. Nesbit" and a "Mr. Warren Baskinis," superiors in the National Broadcasting company.

The South American broadcasts were "farmed out" to NBC and not reviewed by the State department. Allen said this was done because the department wished to concentrate on programs beamed behind the iron curtain.

Later in the day, however, Borgia, in testifying before a House subcommittee, laid the blame on his immediate superior, whom he named as Alberto Gandero and described as "a man of no intelligence at all."

Allen Asks More Funds

He said the programs were designed to portray two South American travelers who expressed their prejudices and misunderstandings concerning the United States in order to allow a narrator to refute them.

The witness merely shrugged when asked whether he "agreed with Gunther that Texas was born in sin." Critics have charged that Utah, Nevada, Alabama and the New England states were also "slandered."

Allen, who has been given charge of the "Voice of America," admitted that the department should have maintained "a system of checks and controls" over the programs, but said the broadcasting companies disliked being under rigid government supervision.

He recommended that Congress pass legislation to give the State department more direct authority and more money for handling the programs.

Commission Again Attacks Alleged Waste In Flaring

AUSTIN, June 1 (AP)—The Railroad commission today cracked down again on alleged wasteful flaring of casinghead gas.

It ordered operators in the Flour Bluff field of Nueces county to appear June 15 to show cause why such flaring of natural gas produced along with oil should not cease.

The operators were also required to show cause why the gas is not being utilized, and why the field should not be shut down until it is utilized.

The commission's order said it had found natural gas in the field "is being flared in excessive quantities and unreasonable amounts" and that this practice is wasteful.

The commission also set for hearing July 22 the formal application for designation of the new Alba field in Wood county.

AMBASSADOR IS CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—The Senate tonight confirmed the nomination of Henry F. Grady of California to be United States ambassador to Greece. Grady is now ambassador to India and Nepal. The Senate also confirmed the nomination of Philip C. Jessup of New York to be deputy representative of this country in the United Nations Security Council.

TIN STAR STORY

Little Judge Proves He has Big Heart

CHICAGO, June 1 (INS)—George Donald Horn, age 40, is a little guy.

He got talking to a bartender about it a couple of weeks ago and the bartender gave him a big tin star that said "detective" on it. Little Mr. Horn strode into a Chicago subway station and flashed the badge and cried:

"Everybody out! This is an emergency!"

Everybody left. Except for a plainclothesman, George Schuler, who had a tin star of his own — a real one.

The story doesn't end there. The matter came up in court today, before Judge Charles S. Dougherty, and the judge heard the whole story . . . right down to that part about Mr. Horn's being a little guy, and having an inferiority complex about it all.

Then the judge said "all right," he said, "I fine you—one dollar; and," he added, "I suspend the fine."

You can't see it when he sits behind the bench in court, but . . . The judge is a little guy too.

Frost Quits As Acting Head Of Texas Forest Service

COLLEGE STATION, June 1 (AP) S. L. (Jack) Frost has resigned as acting director of the Texas Forest service effective June 30 to become executive director of the American Foresty association, President Gib Gilchrist of Texas A. & M. announced today.

Frost will make his new headquarters in Washington. He succeeds Ovid Butler, who retired March 31. At 39, Frost will become the youngest executive in the American Forestry association's 73-year history.

A native of Westhaven, Conn., Frost has been connected with the Texas Forest service for the past 13 years.

He helped organize the Southern States Forestry Educational Directors association, and was chairman of this group in 1946-47. He also helped organize the wartime Civil Air patrol in Texas.

Clark Defends Civil Rights

DALLAS, June 1 (AP)—The civil rights program of President Harry Truman is presented merely as an aid to the states in conducting their own affairs and as such is not an infringement on states rights, Atty. Gen. Tom Clark declared here today.

"Anyone who has read the 1944 platform of the Democratic party, under which the President's program is quided, would realize that the program is not an infringement on states rights," Clark said.

Clark declared that the President himself favors the administration of civil rights measures on a state basis.

The attorney general declared that Gov. Beauford Jester is on the right track in including abolition of the poll tax and an anti-lynching law in his 1948 campaign platform.

Democratic Party Boosted

The President will be renominated and will be elected in November, Clark declared. The attorney general said he would attend the July convention.

"The political situation for the Democratic party is better than many persons give it credit for being," Clark said. Truman has gained strength in the East and the Middle West, and will carry the election in November, he said.

Clark arrived in Dallas Monday night to speak at graduation exercises of the Hockaday preparatory school at 5 p. m. today. Mrs. Clark is a Hockaday graduate.

The Clarks will return to Washington Wednesday morning.

Market Expert Forecasts Meat Shortage For Year

CHICAGO, June 1. (INS)—A forecast of generally short meat supplies for the remainder of the year was made today by H. M. Conway, market analyst of the National Livestock Producers association.

The prolonged meat strike was blamed by Conway for "greatly" penalizing the entire livestock industry. He said:

"Smaller numbers of cattle in corn belt feedlots means substantial reductions in total beef supplies with sharper reductions in better grades. Heavy hogs were penalized during the strike and unfavorable feeding rations caused liquidation of breeding stock.

Bids Are Made On State School Lands

AUSTIN, June 1 (AP)—High bids on oil and gas leases of 110,439 acres of state school lands today totaled $1,977,179.90.

Included in today's lease sale were river bed tracts, upland acreage, and submerged tracts in bays and inlets in 62 counties The bonus proceeds and royalties go ino the public school fund.

The land board received a total of 557 bids and the total bonus offering was $3,339,416.14.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

THE weather prophets, who indicated that we were going to have to wait until October to see rain and that we likely would be in another dust bowl, certainly missed the boat.

This beautiful, soil-soaking moisture that has been falling for the last few days is proof enough that even old timers should be cautious before they say too much about the rain fall (or the lack of it) out here.

MEASUREMENTS ABROAD

IF the writer had studied physics or knew anything about the metric system of measures and weights, we could have answered the letter from the German woman that puzzled Mrs. R. E. Bulen.

Thanks to Theodor Alexander of the foreign language department at Tech college, we have the measurements translated into U. S. inches and pounds. The woman is five feet five inches tall; has a waist line of 28 inches and a bust between 34 and 36 inches.

Both Mr. Alexander and Mrs. James Samson think that the "brown stay lace" the woman requested for her children could mean either laces for shoes or for a corset garment worn by many European children and young people for warmth and support. The "elastic ribbon" likely means elastic such as we buy by the yard to go in undergarments or to make garters.

MISCELLANY

IF the little black-haired girl, who dropped the lavendar and cerise bow to an evening dress as she was hurrying to get in out of the rain Monday afternoon, will call by the home of Mrs. J. J. Clements, 1808 Sixteenth, she may get it back.

A neighbor, who saw the bow drop, telephoned Mrs. Clements to rush out and pick it up before the rain spoiled it. A search around the neighborhood has brought no clues as to who the owner might be.

ONE of the outstanding features of the inter-denominational tea given by the First Methodist Wesleyan Service Guild Sunday afternoon was the background music and Mrs. Peggy Woods, secretary at the First Presbyterian church, gave an inspirational talk.

Pointing out that the church is changing its program to meet the needs of a changing world, Mrs. Woods said it has a need for women's contributions and enlarged women's opportunities as never before.

The music included violin numbers by Carol Jean Sandlin; piano numbers by Jane Austin, a piano duo, "Melody in F" (Rubinstein), Mrs. Mary Ware and Mrs. Lillian Butler, and solos, "Legacy" and "Roses," sung by Mrs. S. J. Nabers.

ITALIAN SOVEREIGNTY PROPOSED

U. S. Makes Fourth Effort For Soviet Agreement On Trieste

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1—The U. S. government sought again today to pin Russia down to a definite response to the U. S.-British-French proposal to return Trieste to Italian sovereignty.

A note delivered by the State department to the Soviet embassy in Washington was the fourth effort by the United States since March 20 to get the Soviet Union to express a specific view on the proposal.

The British and French governments addressed similar communications to Moscow, a State department spokesman said.

The U. S. government advised Moscow it was "convinced that the protection of the rights and interests of the people of the free territory requires the very early resolution of the problem.

Treaty Revision Rejected

"It is hoped that the Soviet government will communicate its views at an early date concerning the procedure to be followed for the joint consideration of the matter by the powers concerned."

The Moscow government made one reply April 13, rejecting the idea of revising the Italian peace treaty through correspondence or private conferences as "unacceptable to the Soviet government and violating the elementary principles of democracy."

Latest action of the State department on the Trieste problem was regarded as part of this government's current policy of getting the Soviet Union on record on all of the stalemated issues between East and West.

This policy is designed to ascertain the extent of Russia's good faith in declaring its general willingness to discuss and settle longstanding points of difference.

Governor Selection Stalemated

The three Western powers made their original proposal for returning Trieste to Italian sovereignty March 20. On April 9, the American government sent a second note suggesting that disposition o the issue was urgent. Then followed the only Soviet reply.

April 16 Secretary of State Marshall advised Moscow that should the Soviet government "find it possible to agree in principle" to the return of Trieste to Italy, this government would be glad to consider any suggestion of the Soviet government regarding procedure for drafting a necessary revision of the Italian peace treaty.

The council of foreign ministers first agreed to the terms of Italian peace, which later were ratified at Paris by 21 states.

A governor general was to have been appointed for the free territory of Trieste, with the United States, Great Britain and Yugoslavia maintaining occupation forces in the territory during the interim.

No agreement ever was reached on an acceptable governor general.

There have been numerous border incidents involving Yugoslav soldiers, police and the British-American occupation forces.

Importance Of Texas Forest Industry Is Cited By Official

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

Suggested coat of arms for the newspaper business: a typewriter on a fallen tree. Should the woodman spare that tree, you could throw away the typewriter.

Texas newspapers use 120,000 tons of newsprint a year, S. L. Frost, acting director of the Texas Forest service at A. & M. college, says. That represents two and one-half million trees, averaging about seven inches in diameter, timber harvested from 17,000 woodland acres.

Frost told a recent meeting of the North and East Texas Press association that 500,000 man-days of work and mills go into newsprint for the Lone Star state.

Appropriations Small

More than a billion feet of lumber are harvested annually from east Texas forests, Frost said, adding:

"That's enough to build 75,000 homes or several million railroad ties or almost 400,000 telephone poles.

"The great task in our East Texas timber area of growing trees for almost 1,000 wood-using industries is a responsibility of tremendous proportions. Our industries employ almost 50,000 workers, the second largest employer in the manufacturing industries in the state. Our railroads haul almost 100,000 carloads of food products out of the pineywoods each year The lives of many people in our East Texas communities, including merchants, bankers, doctors and other businesses are tied up in one way or another with the harvest of this great forest crop."

Frost said that in the last 10 years, our state appropriations for forestry have increased 115 per cent.

"This is compared to a 367 per cent increase in 12 Southern states. In 1937 Texas was leading the South in state appropriations Now we are next to the bottom.

Changes Suggested

"Each Texan's annual share of the state appropriations for forestry amounts to four and one-half cents. And each Texan's share of the value of the forest products harvested in the state amounts to about $20. That's pretty low cost investment on an insurance policy to help safeguard the whole wood economy of the state."

Frost believes the future of Texas' forest industry will include:

"1. Expanding wood uses with new additions to our $134 million wood-using industry in Texas, meaning more jobs, more products and more benefits for woodland owners and the state.

"2. The immediate strengthening of our whole state forestry program in a program calling for reduction of forest fire losses, better timber cutting, reforestation of idle lands, expansion of timber growing research and research to increase wood uses.

"3. A greatly accelerated return of private initiative in which industry, wood users, tree farmers and public services will get together to bring out millions of forest acres into greater production."

Jack Harden Fires Brilliant Golf Pacing National Open Shooters

Jimmy Goldman Of Lubbock Is Other Qualifier

Jack Harden of El Paso, a brilliant professional yesterday, and James E. Goldman of Lubbock, a steady amateur, dominated the qualifying round of the United States Golf Association's National Open tournament at the Lubbock Country club.

Harden, touring the course in a quiet green-checkered shirt and dark trousers, blazed a trail that no one came close to matching. He conquered both the course and a drizzling rain in the morning to card a dazzling 34-33 for three under par.

Shattered Par

Then he returned in the afternoon's murk to fire a par-shattering 32-34 for 66, six under the prescribed average. His afternoon round over the links gave him a 36-hole total of 133, nine under par and the best qualifying score of any competitor in the nation.

Meanwhile, Goldman was firing a steady par that brought him over the course in 142. He wasn't brilliant, but he didn't falter and, until Professional Lloyd Wadkins of Midland came in with the same tally, it looked as though Goldman were in.

Wadkin's performance earned him a tie, which had to be played off before the afternoon was over.

Goldman Putts Well

He and Goldman started out, both calm and reserved. They halved the par four first hole, did the same on the par four second and went into the par three, short third green even.

Here Goldman's strong putting, which kept him in the van all day, came to the fore. Both golfers landed on the green, but Goldman holed his first shot for a birdie to take the playoff, 1 up.

Following behind the two leaders were five men, who will be named alternates, although there is only a remote chance that they will be able to go to the National Open tourney.

Wadkins, of course, will be the Number one alternate, with Herb Schroeder, Lubbock Country club professional, next in line. Behind him comes C. W. "Shanty" Hogan of Lamesa, professional; Chick Trout, Sr., of Lubbock, amateur; and Warren Cantrell of Midland, professional.

Hogan, Trout Tie

Hogan and Trout ended the regular 36-hole match even with 153 and had to play six additional holes before Hogan won. Cantrell came in tied with Raymond Marshall, Lubbock amateur, and they had to playoff their tie for fifth alternate. Cantrell won, 1 up.

Goldman was in doubt whether he would be able to go to the National Open, which will be held at the Riviera Country club in Los Angeles, Calif., in June. An employee of the Braniff Airlines, Goldman feared that he would not be given permission for time off.

Fred Hogan of Midland, district executive chairman, gave Goldman one hour in which to determine whether it would be possible to make the trip. Before the hour was up, a delighted Goldman told Hogan he would be free to go, that his employer was pleased over his victory.

Goldman's proud wife also urged her husband to take advantage of the opportunity.

The complete standings follow:

Harden, 34-33-32-34—133; Goldman, 36-35-36-35—142; Wadkins, 36-38-34-34—142; Schroeder, 38-38-39-38—150; Hogan, 36-38-37-42—153; Trout, 37-40-37-39—153; Cantrell, 38-41-39-38—154; Marshall, 41-36-39-38—154; Roy B. Howard, Lubbock, 38-39-41-37—155; William P. Castelman, Los Angeles, 39-40-38-38—155; Jack W. Vaughn, Lamesa, 40-40-38-38—156; Woodrow T. Foster, Levelland, 38-42-40-37—157; H. T. Hornbuckle, Odessa, 40-39-41-37—157; J. K. Bradshaw, Lubbock, 39-41-38-39—157; James G. White, Midland, 38-40-41-39—158; T. T. Tipps, Lubbock, 38-38-41-43—158; Paul Jones, Meadowbrook club, 40-41-42-39—162; Fenner Tubbs, Lubbock, withdrew after shooting 84 on first 18 holes. William T. McEachern of Plainview and Vann M. Ligon of Midland failed to compete.

COACH INKS CONTRACT

LAWTON, Okla., June 1 (U.P.)—Jess Thompson, former head coach at Cameron Agricultural college and more lately of Centennary college, said today he has signed a contract as assistant coach at Mississippi Southern college at Hattiesburg, Miss.

WINNER AND CHAIRMAN—Jack Harden of El Paso, right, won the low medal score in the nation yesterday as amateur and professional golfers shot qualifying rounds for the USGA National Open tournament in California. The El Paso pro fired a nine under par 133 at the Lubbock Country club to gain one of the qualifying spots. The other went to Jimmy Goldman of Lubbock, an amateur. Harden is shown looking at his score card with Fred Hogan of Midland, district executive chairman for the USGA. (Staff Photo.)

Condit To Join Hubbers

Hubbers Purchase Texarkana Pitcher

The Lubbock Hubber baseball front office announced yesterday that they had purchased outright the contract of Douglas Allen Condit, righthanded pitcher, from the Texarkana Baseball club of the Big State league.

Condit, a veteran hurler, reported to the Hubber office yesterday and will join the team at Pampa on Thursday.

On Five-Day Look

The new hurler for the Hubber staff is here on a five-day look, allowing the Hubbers to maintain their present playing roster of 16 players during that time.

If Condit impresses and the Hubbers decide to keep him, one player will have to go. At the same time, if Condit remains, he will give the Hubbers the fifth veteran that they are allowed.

Larry Larsen, general manager, said yesterday that the purchase of Condit had been made on a conditional basis, but that the Lubbock club owned him outright.

Three Service Years

Condit is a 28-year-old native of Bakersfield, Calif., and has played baseball with Ogden, Utah, Montgomery, Ala., and Tyler, Tex. He spent three years in the Army Air Force during the war and was with Tyler last season.

The big righthander stands six feet six inches tall and weighs almost 200 pounds. Last year with Tyler he won 10 and lost 11, but impressed Texarkana officials. He ranked third on the Tyler staff.

He reported to Tyler again this spring and once more caught the eyes of Texarkana officials by holding them hitless for three innings in a practice game. He then went on to win his first three starts in the Lone Star loop.

Bought By Texarkana

Texarkana officials bought his contract and he reported to Texarkana, only to develop a sore arm. Club officials immediately began treatments that have been successful.

Condit assured Hubber officials that his arm felt fine and Bobby Goff of the Dallas Rebels, through whom the deal was negotiated, confirmed this. He is expected to bolster the Hubbers at their weakest point and, if he is as effective as advertised, might make the difference between first division and first place finishing.

Condit started baseball in Ogden and was with the baseball team there two years. He went to Montgomery, spending one season there before going into the army.

Upon his discharge, he spent the tail end of the season with Montgomery, then was sold to Tyler, where he has played for about a year and a half.

SKATER TURNS PRO

TORONTO, June 1 (AP)—Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa, world and Olympic figure skating champion, has turned professional, it was learned from an authoritative source today. Details of the contract were not immediately available.

Exchange Club Nine Downs JCs, 15 To 7

The Exchange club nine finally got the American Legion Junior league baseball season underway yesterday afternoon at the Lubbock Boys club, turning back the Jaycee team 15-7.

Although the field wasn't dry, the teams played with enthusiasm and the hitters were far ahead of the pitchers.

Charles Brewer topped the winning side with a perfect day at bat, three singles in three trips to the plate. But one of the biggest blows of the afternoon was delivered by Duane Rampy. He caught hold of a fast ball and drove it out of play, scoring another runner ahead of him. It was the only home run of the game.

Ira Owens led the Jaycees in defeat, getting three singles in his four platter appearances. He was pressed for honors by Thomas Cadenhead, who had a double and single in two trips for a clean slate.

Tonight at 3 in the Pee Wee league, the Dodgers will play the Yankees in a continuation of loop play.

At 5:30 p.m., the Methodist Men will meet the Optimists on the diamond near the Jones Stadium at Texas Tech.

Further efforts to organize the North loop last night failed and another meeting is set for 4:30 this afternoon at Jones Stadium. All boys interested in joining one of the four teams are asked to be present.

Eleven Players Win Letters At Lamesa

LAMESA, June 1 (Special)—Head Coach Bob Harrell has announced the award of letters to eleven members of the Golden Tornado baseball squad. The Tornadoes won 7 games and lost 5 in the district 3-AA race.

Lettermen are Jerry Phillips, Royce King and Bill Hart, pitchers; Johnyse Tankersley, first basemen; Roy Watson, second baseman; Arthur Bizzell, third baseman; Walter Massengale, catcher; Lewis Duncan, shortstop; and outfielders Gerald Berry, Warren Massengale and Frank Rose. Hart also saw action in the outfield.

John Pruitt and Bobby Springer received letter awards as club managers. Assistant mentor for the squad was O. W. Follis.

Five members of the regular line-up topped the coveted .300 mark in hitting for the season, Walter Massengale leading the way with .360 average.

Massengale also led the regulars in the defensive department with .929 field mark. The Tornadoes as a team batted .287 and fielder .869.

Gold Sox Lick Lamesa, 12-5, Behind Rookie

AMARILLO, June 1 (Special)—The Gold Sox won their fourth straight victory here tonight, defeating the Lamesa Loboes 12-5 for the second straight over them and handing a rookie hurler his first victory in organized ball.

Ivan Goldizen, recently assigned to Amarillo from Billings, Mont., pitched near-brilliant ball in turning back the heavy-hitting Loboes. Only a double by Tony Fiarito and a pinch homer by Chris Haskins were chalked up against him, as he hurled consistent ball.

Meanwhile, the Gold Sox were hammering away at the invaders and wrapped up the game early with an extra-base hit barrage. Included in the melee were home runs by Manager Buck Fausett, Don Elias and Bob Crues, while the entire team hit frequently.

World-Wide GI Fistic Tournament To Start

CHICAGO, June 1. (INS)—Preliminaries in the world-wide Army and Air Force boxing tournament, whose winners go to Boston for the Olympic trials June 28 and 29, will start at Chicago's Northwest Armory tomorrow night.

With 149 battlers entered, tournament eliminations will be restricted tomorrow night to the 84 boxers in the flyweight, featherweight, bantam and lightweight classes. The heavier contestants go at it Thursday night; Friday will see the quarter-finals in all weight classifications, and one week thereafter the scene shifts to Chicago Stadium for the semi-finals and finals.

The Army and Air Force punchers, representing virtually all of the services' far-flung commands, are in the main a veteran crew. All of them have had at least some ring experience, and many have won titles in important amateur tournaments.

BERTOLA BY KO

CHICAGO, June 2. (INS)—Italian Heavyweight Champion Enrico Bertola knocked out Iowan Orlan Ott in the first-round at Chicago tonight to score his third triumph since his arrival from Rome.

Athletics Lose League Lead To Cleveland

PHILADELPHIA, June 1. (AP)—Shortstop Eddie Joost committed his first error in 42 games and the Philadelphia Athletics fell from the American League lead as they bowed to the Boston Red Sox 8 to 1 today.

The Red Sox victory dropped the Athletics nine percentage points below the idle Cleveland Indians although they technically remained a half-game in front of the basis of games won and lost. The Indians with a 23-11 record have a .676 percentage while the Athletics have .667 on 26 victories and 13 defeats.

The Sox, chalking up their fourth victory in their last 16 games, jumped on Phil Marchildon for 12 hits in eight innings. Two of the blows were two-run homers by Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr.

Ellis Kinder, the only other Boston hurler outside of Joe Dobson to win for the Sox in the 16 games, had it easy after the third inning.

Dom DiMaggio and Bill Goodman beat out infield singles to start the frame and advanced on Ted Williams' out. Then Joost ended his American League record streak of 225 chances without a bobble by throwing Stan Spence's bouncer into the dirt at home plate. Both DiMaggio and Goodman scored.

GIANTS, BROOKS TIE

BROOKLYN, June 1. (AP) — Whitey Lockman and Gil Hodges drove in four runs apiece today as the first place New York Giants and the seventh place Brooklyn Dodgers fought to a 4-4, eleven inning tie.

Lockman belted two homers, one with two on in the fifth inning and the other with the bases empty in the eighth. Hodges drove in Brooklyn's first run with a fly ball in the opening frame and then banged a three-run round-tripper in the fifth to counter Lockman's blow.

Rex Barney went the route for the Dodgers—his first complete game since 1946—and held the Giants to seven safeties.

Both teams threatened to break the deadlock in the eleventh.

Kielty Sparks British Tourney

Los Angeles Girl Gets 1-Up Win

ST. ANNE'S-ON-THE-SEA, England, June 1. (AP)—Dorothy Kielty, pin-up girl of U. S. golf, sank a 90-foot chip shot from the five-inch rough on the edge of a trap today and advanced to the quarter-finals of the British women's tournament.

The shot, best during the first three days of this meet, virtually assured the former ferry pilot of her 1 up triumph and put her in the round of eight alongside Louise Suggs and Dorothy Kirby, both of Atlanta.

Master Stroke Wins

Miss Kielty's master stroke came on the 17th hole of the 6,666-yard Royal Lytham and St. Anne's course and gave her a one-hole advantage over Mrs. Gabriel Style. They halved the final hole to give the Los Angeles girl a 1-up triumph.

The only American casualty of the day's fourth round was Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare of Philadelphia. The six-time U. S. champion lost to Mrs. Helen Holm of Scotland, 5 and 3, after ousting Mrs. Mary Richards of England, 2 up in the morning.

Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N. C., and Grace Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., drew two of Great Britain's best in the morning round and both were eliminated. Mrs. Page was stopped by Philomena Garvey, champion of Ireland, 2 and 1, and Miss Lenczyk was pushed aside by Jean Donald of Scotland, 1 up in 18 holes.

The defeat of Mrs. Vare eliminated the last American from the top bracket and precluded the possibility of an All-America final over 36 holes on Thursday. The title was taken to the U. S. last year for the first time by Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Denver.

In tomorrow morning's quarter final round Miss Kielty will play Mrs. Joan Gee of England. The 18-hole seminfinals will be played tomorrow afternoon.

Touring British Soccer Stars Continue To Beat Americans

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1. (INS)—Liverpool's Reds continued to march over United States soccer opposition tonight by defeating the St. Louis Major Professional League All Stars, 4 to 2, before 7,236 spectators.

The victory was the sixth straight for the English team on its 10-game tour of the United States and Canada. Liverpool took a 3-0 lead at the end of the 45 minute half on goals by Al Stubbins, Bill Liddell and Bob Priday.

Grudge Match Is Set For Recast

A re-match of the same exciting card that thrilled fans at Sled Allen's wrestling arena last week, when Olan Boynton and Ray "Big Train" Clements teamed to down Eddie Gideon and Gil Knutson, will be seen tonight.

In the preliminary match, Jack Wentworth of Canada will tangle with Billy Sandow of Ohio in a two out of three falls go that promises plenty of action.

No Love Lost

The main feature, of course, brings together four men without any great amount of love for each other. Last week's performance showed that it wasn't how they won, but to win, that interested them.

Boynton encouraged the match by issuing a challenge to Knutson, after the Amarilloan claimed he had been beaten by the referee, not by Gideon. The referee, of course, was Knutson. As a result, Clements agreed to team with Boynton and last week the Boynton-Clements team won two out of three falls.

Show For Spectators

The spectators were treated to some rough and ready wrestling with no holds barred and they can expect the same tonight. Clements is well-known for his tactics in the ring, while both Gideon and Knutson generally are more scientific. Boynton wins by the method he likes best that particular night.

Tickets will go on sale at 9 this morning at Wylie's Drug store and will remain on sale until 1 p. m. The first bout is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p. m.

Louis Found In Excellent Shape For Walcott Go

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 1 (INS)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis said today he "might" change his mind about not fighting after his June 23rd title bout with Jersey Joe Walcott.

Louis, who underwent a stringent physical examination by Dr. Vincent Nardiello, New York State athletic commission official physician, previously has insisted he will retire from boxing after the Walcott bout.

But today, when asked if he ever would fight again, Louis answered: "I don't know. If I lick Walcott I might change my mind."

In Excellent Condition

Dr. Nardiello said he found the champion "in excellent condition." The doctor added:

"Louis is better today than he was the day of the last Walcott fight. He is in much better condition than I have found him in a long time and I have been examining him since the first fight with Schmeling. I expected to see a fat man, but he certainly is in perfect condition."

The champion boxed six rounds today and after the workout tipped the scales at 216. That is very close to what he expects to weigh for the Walcott bout.

National Megs Meet To Open Thursday

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 1 (INS)—The vanguard of 50 state and sectional champions began arriving today for Thursday evening's start of the National Marbles tournament at the state fair grounds in Salt Lake City.

One of the special features of the tourney will be a square-off match between Utah's Gov. Herbert B. Maw and National V. F. W. commander Ray "Horsecollar" Brannaman of Denver.

American Golfer Sets New Mark In Panama Open Tournament

PANAMA CITY, Panama, June 1 (U.P.)—A new tournament record of 283 strokes was put into the books of the Panama Open today by Johnny MacMurray, former University of Mississippi golfer.

MacMurray, now a top-ranking amateur here, won the Open yesterday when he shot his final round in 72, clipping eight strokes off the old record for the four rounds of the Open.

FORT WORTH, June 1 (AP) — With the exception of Bob Hamilton, who didn't stick around to compete, all the nationally-known pros who made their bids for places in the U. S. Open at River Crest today, made the grade with ease.

Two North Carolina swingers, vast Clayton Heafner who just won the third Colonial National Invitation, and Stewart (Skip) Alexander, tied for the medal at 140, even par for the 36-hole route.

Men Collaborated In Fixing Tilts

COLUMBUS, O., June 1 (INS)—Bernard Deforge, player- manager at Reidsville, N. C., and Ed Weingarten, club official at Florence, S. C., were permanently barred from organized baseball today for alleged implication in the "fixing" of a game last month.

The ruling came from George M. Trautman, president of the National Association (minor leagues), after a hearing today. He said investigation showed "heavy gambling" on the Carolina league game between Reidsville and Winston Salem, N. C., at Winston Salem May 14.

Deforge Veteran Pitcher

Deforge, a pitching veteran of 10 years in the minor leagues, was charged with entering the contest in the eighth inning, with his team trailing 2 to 0, and permitting three unearned runs to score on four walks and a wild pitch.

Trautman stated that Deforge "confessed that he had in fact thrown' the game in question." Before the contest, the minor league czar added, "a known gambler had been seen talking with Deforge while he was warming up."

Trautman said a statement by Deforge cited Weingarten and one W. C. McWaters, the latter not officially connected with organized ball, as suggesting a "proposition of 'making a lot of money by betting on baseball games'."

Admits Receiving Money

The president of the minors then said Deforge also admitted receiving three $100 bills from McWaters after the May 14 game. It was further established, Trautman said, that although Weingarten denied Deforge's charges it was stated by other witnesses that he was "at the Belvedere hotel, Reidsville, on May 10 . . . and that he and McWaters were seen in conversation in the hotel lobby that day."

Reidsville is in the Carolina League, a class-C loop, and Florence is in the class B tri-state loop. Up to this year, Reidsville had been a member of the Tri-State league, but shifted over to the Carolina wheel this season with Florence taking its place.

McWaters, of course, was not subject to discipline by Trautman, but both DeForge and Weingarten have the right to appeal to the National Association executive committee within 30 days and may even carry the case to A. B. Chandler, high commissioner of baseball.

Ball Club Owner Is Fined $500

COLUMBUS, O., June 1. (INS)—Phil Lundeen, president of the Reidsville, N. C., Carolina League baseball club, was fined $500 today, but Minor League Czar George Trautman suspended collection of the money.

Lundeen was charged with failure to record in his files that two of the Reidsville team's stockholders also had financial interest in the Florence, S. C., team of the Tri-State League.

Penalty Is Suspended

Trautman suspended the penalty and testified the omission was unintentional.

The discrepancy came to light, Trautman said, during investigation of charges that the Reidsville player-manager and a Florence club official were implicated in the "fixing" of a game. The player-manager, Bernard Deforge, and the official, Ed Weingarten, were barred permanently from organized ball by Trautman today.

Redskins Trade Grid Stars For SMU Great

WASHINGTON, June 1. (U.P.)—The Washington Redskins of the National Football League today traded Quarterback Jim Youel and End Joe Duckworth to the Boston Yanks for Tom Dean, All-Southwest Conference tackle.

Youel, understudy to Sammy Baugh the past two seasons, became trading material after the Redskins signed Harry Gilmer, Alabama passing ace.

Youel formerly played with Iowa and the Great Lakes Naval Training center. Duckworth, former Colgate star, joined the Redskins last season. Dean played at Southern Methodist and Arkansas A. and M. before the Yanks drafted him.

Speedway Check Shows Shiftings Below Seventh

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1. (AP)—A recheck today of the electric timing tape for yesterday's 500-mile Memorial Day race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway shifted the final results below seventh place, but Mauri Rose of South Bend, Ind., remained the winner for his third time.

Johnny Mauro of Denver, Colo., was moved up from ninth to eighth place, changing places with Tommy Hinnershitz of Olney, Pa.

Get In The Money

Jimmy Jackson of Whitewater, Calif., first listed outside the money because he skidded off the track with 10 miles to go, was given tenth money. He was nearer the finish than some other cars that were still running when the race was declared ended.

Jackson's shift moved Charles Van Acker of South Bend from tenth to eleventh place.

The final check by Chester Ritcher, chief timer, also corrected some misinformation put out by the Speedway public address system. Duke Nalon of Los Angeles, driving the long Novi grooved piston special, never led after Rose passed him in the 143rd lap if the 200-lap race.

Only Four Cars Lead

The electric tape showed only four cars ever were in the lead and they held it in this order: Rex Mays, Glendale, Calif., laps 1 through 17; Ted Horn, Peterson, N. J., laps 18 through 72; Mays, laps 73 through 91; Nalon, laps 92 through 100; Rose, laps 101 through 123; Horn, laps 124 through 142, and Rose, lap 143 to the finish.

The official final standing.

No. 1, Rose; No. 2, Bill Holland, Reading, Pa.; No. 3, Nalon; No. 4, Horn; No. 5, Mack Hellings Burbank, Calif.; No. 6, Hal Cole, South Gate, calif.; No. 7, Lee Wallard, Schenectady, N. Y.; No. 8, Mauro; No. 9, Hinnershitz; No. 10, Jackson.

BEAZLEY DISABLED

BOSTON, June 1 (AP)—General manager John Quinn of the Boston Braves announced today that Johnny Beazley, who underwent an operation on his right shoulder yesterday in Nashville, Tenn., has been placed on the disabled list. This brings the Braves roster down to 24, one below the number allowed.

Sport Fans Spend Money Freely On Memorial Day

NEW YORK, June 1. (U.P.)—Maybe the graph-and-grimace economists in Washington won't back this up, but there was every indication today that the sports fans had more money to spend this Memorial Day than last.

A United Press survey shows an increase in the Major League baseball attendances of 54,580 paid admissions and a hike of $479,354 in race track wagering Monday over the same holiday a year ago.

In all, more than a million and a half Americans spent their holiday as spectators in some ball park, race track or similar arena.

Baseball Big Show

The Major League baseball games attracted 337,776 through the turnstiles — 192,300 in the American League and 145,476 in the National League. The American League jumped 54,828 over 1947 while the National League dropped 248 principally because only 17,400 found their way to Braves Field at Boston.

There were 10 tracks operating yesterday and they drew 347,337 only 17.071 less than 13 tracks drew Memorial Day last yea: But, despite the smaller attendance, the betting was up nearly a half million dollars as $16,061,924 poured through the mutuel windows.

Three tracks set new attendance records—63,499 at Belmont Park in New York, 71,789 at Hollywood Park in Inglewood, Cal., and 17,093 at Ak-Sar-Ben in Omaha, Neb.

A total of 195,563 saw auto races, including 150,000 at the famed Indianapolis Speedway.

Jockey Clovis Bureau's License Revoked By Illinois Board

CHICAGO, June 1 (INS)—The License of Jockey Clovis Bureau was revoked, and his petition for rehearing denied at today's regular bi-monthly meeting of the Illinois racing board.

In other actions, the commission denied reinstatement of former Jockeys Milton Terry and Fred Eppihimer after rehearings of their cases and tabled the cases of jockey agents Robert Vetter, Thomas Calumet, and Daniel Miller until the next meeting.

Flood Damage In Oregon Soaring

from Canada, northern Idaho and Montana, now will throw its full weight against dikes protecting rich dairy land in the 100 miles from Portland to the sea.

If they hold, the worst will be over tomorrow. For days to come, however, the river will be a threat. The Weather bureau estimated the Columbia would remain above flood stage for a month.

On this last stretch an estimated 15,000 fled to higher ground as the army ordered evacuation of districts behind weakened dikes.

One of them gave away tonight, a 12-foot breach flooding a small area near Westport, Ore. Army engineers said only a few farms were in the area, and all persons had been evacuated before the dike broke.

Many others previously moved to safety, warned by the Memorial Day Vanport disaster which left 18,700 homeless.

In the entire Columbia basin there were an estimated 50,000 homeless. At least 23 were dead, apart from Vanport where no bodies have yet been found in the murky, 15-foot depths covering the city.

Damage In Millions

Damge was estimated at a minimum of $40,000,000 already in the lower Columbia valley. Army engineers said they were unable to gauge upriver loss.

Earlier—before extensive damage in the lower area—they had estimated a minimum $30,000,000 loss in the Columbia basin.

So precarious was the condition of the dikes that engineers feared the wake of a ship might collapse them. The Army ordered all craft off the river from Portland to the ocean, 100 miles away.

President Truman ordered full federal aid for the stricken area.

The Red Cross directed relief work. Food and clothing poured in from volunteers. Thousands took refuge in churches and schools. Conferences were expected shortly between state and federal agencies on housing.

Upstream the river was dropping. The Weather bureau said a 6-to-9 inch fall could be expected at Vancouver and Portland sometime tomorrow.

The drop will be slow. Elmer Fisher, official river forecaster, said shattered Vanport might remain under water three weeks. The river is expected to stay above flood level more than a month.

For that period the search for bodies will be hampered. Another dike break last night added to the complications of the search. Bodies —if any—were scattered so widely it was feared they might never be recovered.

Still to feel the brunt of the water downstream are Woodland, Kalama, Kelso and Longview, Wash., and Rainier and Clatskanie, Ore. The water already was into Woodland, Kalama, South Kelso and Clatskanie. The towns were evacuated without loss of life. No damage was expected in the main part of Kelso or at Longview.

les had been recovered this afternoon. Newsmen who boarded the Kearsarge were told by her skipper, Captain C. S. Smiley, that "we are completely puzzled as to the cause of the swamping." Another launch made the run safely at the same time. The wind was 15 knots at the time but got up to 21 knots later.

None of the survivors was injured seriously, Smiley said. He added that most of them suffered from shock and exposure. Eighteen were still confined to the carrier's sick bay this afternoon.

Smiley said the swamped launch was seaworthy in every respect and was not overloaded. The launch has a rated capacity of 120 persons, including a five-man crew, he said.

Some of the Marines who drowned were members of the Second Marine division, who approximately 1,000 strong, boarded the Kearsarge here Saturday to relieve an equal number serving on ships in the Mediterranean. Others were of the Marine detachment assigned permanently to the carrier.

James T. Walton, 23, seaman first class, USN., of Springfield, Mo., was coxswain of the swamped launch. He told reporters the vessel's bow "went under the water suddenly due to the big swells." He said there were no officers in the launch. Many of the passengers remained in the launch, standing in water up to their waists. The launch did not sink.

communique probably will be issued after the respective governments have had time to go over the conferees' work.

(Radio Moscow charged that the British Labor government is trying to make the western union not only anti-Soviet but also anti-American.

(The broadcast, regarded in London as a propaganda attempt to split the two countries, asserted that the differences over Palestine "are only an expression of the deeper contradictions" between the two powers.)

One of the issues ironed out by the conference was the problem of whether the German lander or states should appoint or elect representatives to a constituent assembly for western Germany. The French wanted the appointive method used.

It was agreed that the lander should be permitted to elect or appoint, at their discretion.

The British Press association said if the six governments approve the recommendations of the conferees, the German constituent assembly would meet by Sept. 1 to draft a constitution and form a west German government by the early part of 1949.

the funds it provided. Congress gave him $822,000,000 more than he wanted. Mr. Truman originally opposed air expansion to 70 groups.

War Plants Bill Passed

2. The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to authorize government retention of a three billion dollar pool of 254 essential and strategic war plants for the nation's defense.

Under the bill the plants, many with specialized machinery, usable only for war goods, would be transferred to the Federal Works agency. The Senate Armed Services committee was told that unless the legislation was enacted the plants would be scrapped and so "cannibalized" that their wartime usefulness would be lost.

3. The Senate Armed Services group approved a bill clearing the way for construction of a $124,000,000, 65,000-ton super aircraft carrier that would be the world's largest warship. The action was taken despite lack of approval of the carrier by the Air Force.

Civil Rights Fight Brews

4. Sen. Langer (R-N.D.), formally introduced seven civil rights amendments to the Senate draft bill. He said he supposed an effort will be made to table the anti-segregation amendment and block a prolonged fight which might threaten passage of the draft bill.

The amendment to the House draft bill provides that Mr. Truman shall not proclaim selective service necessary until 75 days after enactment of the bill.

The legislation delays induction until 90 days after enactment.

Congressional leaders doubt that action on the draft will be completed much before June 19, the date set for adjournment. Thus, if Mr. Truman proclaims the draft necessary at his earliest opportunity, it would be about Sept. 19 under the House bill before induction would start.

Chairman Andrews (R-N.Y.), of the House Armed Services committee, said he will offer the amendment on the floor "sometime between now and Christmas."

This was a blast at the delay the draft has encountered in the House Rules committee, which again today postponed a scheduled hearing.

Martin and House Majority Leader Halleck (R-Ind.), both gave their approval to the stand-by draft amendment.

The developments came as dispatches gave details of the fighting in the Palestine war during the day.

Jewish planes dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs on Amman. It was the first strike of Israel's air force at an Arab capital.

Amman officials said six Arab civilians were killed. The British army in Haifa said the Jewish planes also bombed an RAF airfield near Amman. The British announcement listed the casualties as 12 Arabs killed and 30 wounded.

Ground fighting in the Holy Land was particularly heavy on the front south of Tel Aviv. The Jews were reported to have been compelled to heed the Egyptian threat to their capital.

The Jews said their troops dashed at the 20-mile inland flank of the Egyptian column and took Beit Tima, three miles from the Egyptians' supply road and 18 miles below Yibna.

The group decided to present four plays during the next season, one each in October, December, February and April. The first, a comedy not yet selected, will be presented in October, Mrs. Musson said.

Patron memberships and season tickets will be released in the near future under the asupices of Mrs. C. C. Caldwell, chairman of the membership committee, it was announced.

Rodeo Boosters Get Good Receptions

A busload of American Business club members arrived back in Lubbock about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening after a successful booster trip advertising the ABC Boys' Club rodeo to be staged here June 9-12 at Texas Technological college's Jones stadium.

The group, traveling by chartered bus rigged with sound equipment, visited all the towns on the line to Clovis and Portales, N. M., with the return trip by way of Morton, Whiteface and Levelland.

Rev. C. Melvin Ratheal served as announcer for the group and broadcast news and particulars of the rodeo to citizens of each town through which the bus passed. Other members of the crew distributed hand bills advertising the rodeo, while Jimmy Poteet and Stanley Dunagan, members of Dunagan's School of music, entertained the crowds with music.

Rain, which the party encountered intermittently from Anton to Portales and on the return trip as far as Morton, failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the group. Good receptions were reported in all stops, particularly in Levelland, Morton and Clovis. In the latter place, the Lubbock party were given 15 minutes of radio time in which to advertise the rodeo.

Today's booster trip, under the leadership of Bruce Craig, will leave the Hilton hotel here at 7 o'clock this morning. They will travel to Hobbs, N. M., by way of Ropesville, Meadow, Brownfield, Seagraves, Seminole, Andrews, Odessa and Kermit.

The boosters are to have lunch at noon in Odessa with the ABC club of that city, and radio time has been arranged for the group there. The local rodeo boosters plan to be back in Lubbock about 9 o'clock tonight.

labor practice against Lewis. The NLRB case will be heard June 8

Railroad negotiators reported that the latest effort of John R. Steelman, presidential assistant, had failed to bring a settlement of their labor dispute.

The rail unions, representing firemen and enginemen, engineers and switchmen, called a strike over wages and working rules for May 11, but the government averted it by seizing the roads.

As the stalemate continued. A. J. Glover, head of the switchmen's union, told a reporter that a rank and file picketing movement against President Truman is developing. He said the rank and file members in various cities "are making their own plans, I understand, to pull out pickets." Pickets, under the plan, would be on hand at every stop to protest the government's action in the dispute.

The long lines department of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the CIO American Union of Telegraph Workers resumed wage talks Some 25,000 workers in 42 states are involved in threatened strike action, unless a settlement is reached.

One Red Cross worker said flatly tonight he does not believe there are "more than 50" bodies that will be found in Vanport by flood waters, beginning to recede in the next two days.

Other estimates ranged from a hundred to 3000.

Meanwhile silence hovered over the debris strewn lake that was once the second largest housing project in the nation.

Sheriffs deputies, halted from search of the shattered wreckage by the crested flood of 30.2 feet said many of the houses believed to contain dead have been swept over a wide area.

Worst School Shortage In All History Facing U. S. Children

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Millions of U. S. kids have eagerly started summer vacation.

School officials are dreading it. They know that next fall they will face the worst shortage of school buildings and facilities that America has ever experienced.

Not Long Enough

They know that this summer isn't going to be long enough for them to do much about the situation. It will just mean three hectic months of trying to line up more churches, private homes, public buildings and warehouses —anything which will substitute for a classroom. It will mean planning to put thousands of more schools on double shifts.

That's the outlook described by Ray L. Hamon, school building expert of the U. S. Office of Education.

Several factors have combined, during the last few years to create this bad situation. Normal school construction was stopped during the war. Shortages of materials and the high cost of construction during the war have kept the building of new schools and their repair to about half the normal level since the war. And even before the war, surveys revealed that in many sections of the country school facilities weren't adequate.

Numbers Increase

Added to that is the increasing number of children entering schools as a result of the war baby boom. Before and during the war the average number of children reaching school age each year was a little more than two million. Next fall it is estimated that very close to three million will show up at school after Labor Day ready to start their formal education.

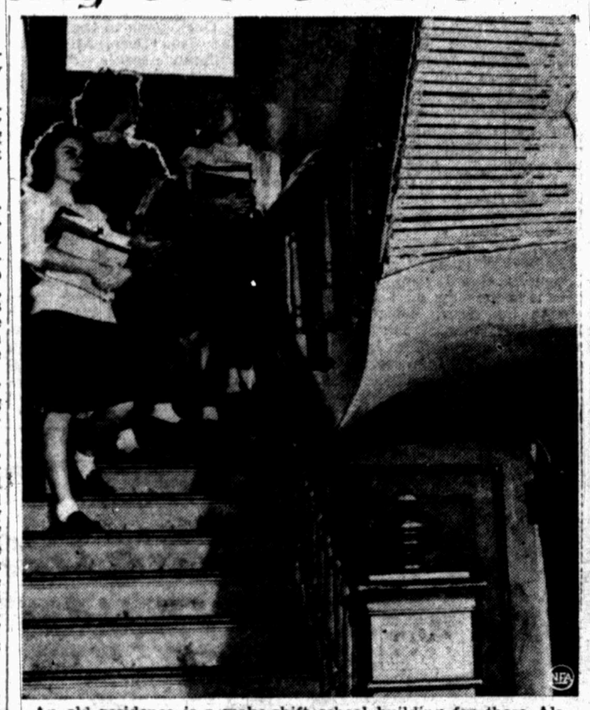

According to the latest study of the USOE, the nation needs about $6.6 billion worth of new schools and repairs on old schools. That does not include the need for colleges and universities.

Where the money will come from to pay for this giant building program is the big problem. Most local communities are straining their tax sources to pay for running expenses. There have been 18 states which have recently appropriated limited funds to pay for a fraction of the most essential construction and repair which was necessary. But most state legislatures have avoided facing the problem.

Bill Never Passed

Most experts believe the Federal government will have to foot the bill if the job is ever going to be done adequately. During the 79th Congress a bill to finance this was introduced but was never passed. During this Congress educators have concentrated all their time on the Federal aid to education bill which will help teachers' pay but won't provide for new construction. They felt that the teacher problem was the most important and they didn't want to ask an economy-minded Congress for both measures.

The greatest lack of school facilities exists in the south. This was true even before the war. But the communities which are most concerned with the problem are the ones which grew suddenly as a result of the war. Double shifts, classrooms in churches and other public buildings and general crowding have existed in these cities almost since the start of the war. And the few temporary schools which the government built are now falling apart.

An old residence is a make-shift school building for these Alabama children. Stairways are narrow and inadequate; crumbling plaster (upper right) is an ever-present danger.

States illegally in 1931 and of joining a subversive organization after his entry.

Aluminum now is being used in corrugated sheets for farm and industrial roofing and siding.

Dr. Lewis Injured In Fall At Church

Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of First Presbyterian church, suffered minor injuries shortly after 11 a. m. Tuesday in a fall from a second story fire escape at the church.

He had started to his home from the church and apparently caught the heel of his shoe in the grating of the escape, falling a distance of about 15 feet to the bottom, Mrs. Lewis said Tuesday evening. A blow on the head knocked him unconscious for five or ten minutes, but he regained consciousness and made his way to the house.

He was treated at West Texas hospital for strained ligaments in both hands, a broken blood vessel in the right hand, and cuts and bruises on other parts of the body, Mrs. Lewis reported. "He is pretty stiff and sore and can use only two fingers on his right hand," she added, "but the doctor said that he'll probably be stiffer and sorer in the muscles tomorrow."

Condition Of Lubbock Boy Hurt In Accident Remains Unchanged

No improvement was reported yesterday in the condition of Terry Young, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Young of 2820 Maple. He was seriously injured in an automobile accident near Petersburg Sunday.

Young was in a Plainview hospital, where an operation was performed Monday in an effort to relieve paralysis from his waist down as result of a fractured spinal column and partly severed spinal cord.

Friends here were advised that doctors had expressed fear the mishap victim may be permanently paralyzed.

Slight improvement was reported in the condition of Miss Sheilla Jondahl, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jondahl, 2511 Nineteenth, who was injured in the same accident and also is in a Plainview hospital. The two were the more seriously injured of the group of five in the car which went out of control in sand alongside the highway, crashing into a power line pole.

Woman Rescued From Ledge After Threatening Death Leap

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1 (AP) —Denied entry into the United States, a Chinese woman climbed out onto a building ledge 14 stories above the ground today threatening suicide, but was pulled to safety four hours later by a policeman.

Firemen had rigged a large rope net below 41-year-old Mrs Wong Loy and immigration officials had pleaded with her, through an interpreter, not to leap.

The Shanghai woman, clad in a tattered black native gown, had perched immobile on the Washington street side of the Appraiser's Building from 2 p. m. until 6 p. m., when a police officer worked his way out and pulled her to safety.

pected to vote for Harold E. Stassen on the first ballot for the presidential nomination.

The 64 Republican delegates chosen today brought the GOP total to 1,065, leaving only Indiana's 29, to be named in convention June 10-11, to round out the national convention roster.

In instructing its delegates for President Truman, Maryland Democrats also committed their 20 convention votes to Senator Tydings (D-MD) for the vice presidential nomination.

He is the third to get delegate support for second place on the ticket. Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) has pledges from Alaska, Montana, and Wyoming. William O. Douglas, associate justice of the U. S. Supreme court, received a nominal pledge from Oregon's 16 by topping the write-in vote in the May 21 primary there.

California and South Dakota also elected nominees for the U. S. House today. The latter state chose a Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate in a race between Rep. Karl E. Mundt, co-author of the Mundt-Nixon bill to curb Communism, and Otto B. Linstad, Pierre attorney and state legislator. John A. Engel, of Avon, had no opposition for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Meanwhile, the White House again said Mr Truman's trip to the west coast starting Thursday night "is not a political campaign trip."

cated, but "not very rainy looking."

A four-mile strip of country between Seminole and Andrews was reported to have received about an inch of rain yesterday, and Andrews received a similar amount of rainfall between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m.

J. M. Forbes, editor of the Muleshoe Journal, reported that light sprinkles were the extent of rainfall in Muleshoe since a shower about 1 a. m. Tuesday which brought .42 of an inch of moisture.

Floydada and Matador both reported that skies were clear last night and that no rain had fallen during the day. Abernathy, Plainview, Crosbyton, Morton, Slaton, Brownfield and Littlefield reported very little rain, varying from less than one-eighth of an inch to "mist" and showers which were "not measurable."

The forecast for today was for partly cloudy skies with little change in temperature. Yesterday the maximum temperature was 73 degrees.

New Talks Hinted

Molotov's interpretation of the talks last month and reassured France and others who fear Russia may lure the United States into two-way talks involving the world interests of other western powers.

Paris diplomatic circles believe that Russia formally indicated her desire to continue the Smith-Molotov talks following the Soviet "peace offensive" spurred on by an exchange between Premier Stalin and presidential aspirant Henry A. Wallace.

Marshall Plan Nations Increase Output Under Self-Help Program

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

As the western powers prepare to throw Germany's potential into the fight for European industrial recovery, Allied authorities have been heartened by the progress already made by the other countries.

American officials considered from the first that self-help was the key to the Marshall plan. Recent reports indicate that the Europeans are getting along on the road, despite serious currency difficulties and continued lag in some fields.

Steel Output Climbs

British production is still behind prewar levels in coal, textiles and buildings, but over all these is a 10 to 20 per cent increase above prewar. Steel, one of the industries not yet touched by the socialization program, passed the prewar level long ago, and during recent months has been running about 40 per cent more.

Also paced by steel, France's overall production is now above prewar by some 17 per cent.

Efforts to stabilize the franc appear to have met some success. At least there have been no recent cost-of-living increases. There have been estimates that this year's food crop will run nearly double that of last year.

Consumer Goods Supply Up

Improvement of the supply of consumer goods has tended to overcome the extreme imbalance between rural and city food supplies which existed when money was no good and farmers couldn't get anything for their produce.

The United Nations estimates that, excluding Germany and Russia, the industrial production of Europe's 14 major countries is now just about even with 1938.

Agricultural recovery has been less marked, and has raised the serious question of how long the United States will be able to meet the major portion of Europe's food deficit. It is too early for accurate estimates on this year. During the 1946-47 period Europe produced only 76 per cent of prewar from its fields.

This is expected to be upped considerably, but as long as the iron curtain interferes with trade between the eastern farmlands and the industrial countries, the western food problem is expected to be serious.

Consumption in Germany is particularly low. It is almost axiomatic that if her industry is to be revived rations will have to go up. Yet the western hemisphere is about the only area in the world with food for sale.

Thursday, June 3, with a mammoth horsemen's parade, perhaps the most colorful ever staged in West Texas. The 85-piece Midland High school band will lead the procession, and other bands from the West Texas area have been invited to participate.

Night performances of the big annual western event will be held June 3, 4, 5 and 6, with a matinee scheduled at 2 p. m., Sunday, June 6. The night shows will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Six Rugged Events

Six rugged cowboy events — oronc riding, bareback bronc riding, bull riding, steer wrestling, calf roping and wild cow milking - will be held at each performance, with the nation's best cowhands competing for purses and prizes of $7,500, including entrance fees.

The tough rodeo stock, the wildest ever seen in this section, will be furnished by Gene Autry and Everett Colborn of the World's Championship Rodeo corporation of Dublin, Texas.

The nation's foremost Cowgirl Sponsor contest will add color and glamor to the rodeo. More than 30 of the Southwest's best cowgirls will compete for prizes valued at more than $1,500.

The rodeo world's best trick riders, trick ropers and clowns will perform. A colorful mounted quadrille will be seen at each of the five performances. Action from start to finish is promised by the sponsors.

Midland rodeo, one of the nation's biggest and best western shows, is sponsored and produced by West Texas for residents of the great Southwest. Everyone is invited and urged to attend.

Gen. Eisenhower Attends Columbia's Commencement

NEW YORK, June 1. (INS)—An estimated 15,000 persons saw Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower make a "dry run" today as president of Columbia university when the former chief of staff attended but did not take part in the school's 194th commencement.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) and former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes headed a group of notables who received honorary degrees as doctors of law.

Degrees were conferred on 7,995 graduates of the 16 schools and colleges of the university, where Eisenhower formally will take over as president next Monday.

"A citizenship conscious of its purpose," said Dr. Fackenthal, "is a barrier to dictatorship."

Colman Sought For Film Of Broadway Play; Good Cast Lined Up For Hargrove Movie

By DOROTHY MANNERS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, June 1.—It is nice to be here again while Louella Parsons is on what must be referred to as a "vacation." Embarked on a European tour that would kill anyone else, our girl, complete with entourage and Adrian wardrobes, will take it in stride.

In a last minute telephone call she gave with some news.

The script that Ronald Colman took to England with him is "The Play's the Thing," sent to him by Jesse Lasky and Walter McEwen. To bait the offer, they are trying to get Claudette Colbert as the co-star.

This is the current Broadway revival that brought Faye Emerson Roosevelt back to the footlights and to good notices, too. Ronnie caught the play twice before he and Benita and "Oscar" sailed for London.

Marion Hargrove, of "See Here Private Hargrove" fame, reports to Warners June 21 to adapt his new book, "Something's Got to Give." He should be happy, indeed, over what Warners plan to give in the matter of a cast. Ronald Reagan and Virginia Mayo and Jack Carson and his private life money, Pat Neal, are already lined up.

It is an amusing story about two suburban couples who get an idea for a "Mr. and Mrs." radio program. This should look particularly good on Jack Carson.

Cats In Danger

Those cats of James Mason's are going to need every one of their nine lives if they don't stay strictly in their own yard at the house Mason rented in Beverly Hills.

Glenn Ford, who lives next door, expects to be named defendant in a suit any day because his German police pooch, William II, simply loathes felines. So far, Glenn has been able to keep his dog tied up, but he knows if any of the Mason cats come within reach, one of the "little men" may get fouled up, but good.

Jerry Dale, just back from England, saw Freddie March in his "Christopher Columbus" costume and says March looks exactly like the pictures you remember of old Chris from your school books.

"It's amazaing," said Jerry, "that a man as slight as Freddie can hide his own identity so completely and make with such impressive bulges."

He adds that March is up to his teeth in research books on the habits and appearance of Columbus.

Incidentally, he has his health back—which is a good thing with such an exhausting characterization.

For the first time in little Peter Duchin's life, he will have a home with his father. Eddy Duchin recently bought a home in Manhasset as a present for his bride and he is bringing his 10-year-old orphaned son to live with them.

The little boy, whose mother died in childbirth, has always lived with the Averill Harrimans in Connecticut when he wasn't at boarding school.

Kay Francis Back

Peter is crazy about his new step-mother, Chiquita Wynn. Even during the summer months, when Duchin is on tour with his reorganized band, the youngster has been promised he can travel with them.

Hollywood in shorts:

Bette Davis and Robert Montgomery, who flared up a few rounds early in "June Bride," are no longer advising one another how to play scenes—so all's swell.

Kay Francis, recovered from her serious burns, has signed for summer stock in the Boston summer theater. This is her first stint since her accident.

Danny Kaye is flirting with a return engagement in London, where they're mad about the boy, when he finishes his Warner movie.

It is on again between Wanda Hendrix and Audie Murphy who gave cupid a knockout blow a few weeks ago. These are nice kids and it is a sweet romance.

Texas City Damage Suits Plan Outlined

HOUSTON, June 1. (AP)—Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly today outlined plans he hopes to carry out in handling the 251 damage suits against the federal government resulting from the Texas City disaster and totaling approximately $200,000,000.

Kennerly has asked all attorneys involved in the suits to meet in the federal courtroom at Galveston June 10.

The judge today said he will ask the attorneys to agree to:

1. Consolidation of all the suits against the government.

2. Determination of the government's liability in a separate trial from the question of the amounts of claims.

3. Formation of a committee to have active charge of all the cases.

"I would like to see the arguments for all the plaintiffs presented by perhaps not more than 12 or 13 lawyers," Kennerly explained.

"I hope to get matters so organized that we can at once go to work and take testimony," he added.

He said he does not expect to try the mass case until fall.

Ammunition From U. S. Seized With Plane Crew In Mexico

TAMPICO, Mex., June 1. (U.P.)—Federal authorities today seized 81 boxes of ammunition as crew members unloaded it from a private plane which was said to have arrived from the United States.

The Mexican pilot, Jose Del Rio, whose license and flight authorization had expired, and the crew members, Toedoro, Saldana Gonzalez and Eugenio Montoyo, were taken into custody.

The plane, with registration markings XV-FIZ, landed at Colonia Anhuac airfield near Tampico. Crew members told a military commander at the field they were going to load seafood, but when they began gingerly to remove boxes from the plane, the commander became suspicious and investigated.

He found 50 boxes of .32 calibre ammunition and 31 boxes of 30-30 cartridges. Crew members at first refused to make a statement but finally said the ammunition was purchased in the United States for sale in Mexico City.

Standard Oil Of New Jersey Reports Earnings At New High

FLEMINGTON, N. J., June 1 (AP)—Stockholders of Standard Oil Co. (NJ) heard an estimate today that the company's net earnings for the first six months of 1948 will be the highest for any such period in its history.

F. W. Abrams, chairman, placed the total at approximately $210,000,000, or a little over $7.50 a share. This would compare with $140,000,000 or $5.10 a share in the first half of 1947.

Uniform Traffic Controls Seen

Highway Commission Adopts Manual To Set Up Traffic Signals In State

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 1—Gradual standardization of traffic signals in all Texas cities was in prospect today.

The Highway commission adopted a manual setting up standards for local governments to follow in setting up traffic control devices. The idea is to do away with differences that confuse drivers.

The commission also appropriated $228,500 for manufacture and distribution of license plates for an estimated 2,600,000 vehicles in 1949. The 1949 tags will cost $6.36 a thousnd more than $38.26 per thousand it cost to make them for 1948.

The traffic signal manual was prepared by the Highway department's traffic engineering section, adapting to Texas conditions the standards approved by various nationwide agencies interested in traffic problems.

On State highways under the department's jurisdiction outside city limits traffic control signals have already been modified to conform to the statewide standard.

Within cities, however, traffic is subject to local ordinance and laws. City authorities may continue to enforce any traffic system now operating, but new devices subsequently installed must conform to the statewide standard.

Definite Rules Given

Color-blind motorists will get a break when the position as well as color of all stop-and-go signals become standard. The manual provides each signal face must have at least three lense: red at the top, yellow in the middle and green at the bottom. If additional lenses are used, they must be added below the green in a prescribed order.

"There will not be an overnight change in all cities and towns," State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer explained. "The new manual applies primarily to devices which shall be erected in the future and to present ones which will be replaced.

"The department is anxious to bring all local governments together on standards and traffic rules at the earliest possible date. The uniform traffic code of the 50th Legislature, which ordered this manual prepared, has provided a framework to ultimately achieve this end."

Heavy Building Program Looms

Lubbock building permits for June got off to a rousing start Tuesday, the first day of the month, compensating for the slight lag in new construction in the city during last month.

Applications were pending in the city building inspector's office for nearly $300,000 worth of construction, with close to $500,000 more definitely in sight for issuance this month.

Ahead Of 1947

Despite last month's slight lag, new construction totals this year still lead those for the corresponding period of 1947 by $340,905.

Permits for the first five months of this year have totaled $5,193,635, as compared with $4,852,730 last year. The total for last montn was $974,760, or $179,727 less than the $1,154,487 issued during May, 1947.

Applications for new permits pending included one of the C-V-H Corp. for the two-story office building at 1628 Nineteenth street to be occupied by the Stanolind oil refining and pipeline interests. The cost of the structure, as shown by the application, is $175,000.

Others Announced

Other applications included:

L. E. Davis, owner, and Carl Maxey, contractor, six-space concrete block retail store building at College avenue and Ruby street, $60,000, and J. R. Thomas, contractor, and College Avenue Baptist church, owner, frame and stucco addition to church building at 2422 Tenth street, $20,000.

Several residence permits also were pending for issuance within the next few days.

Among projects for which permits are virtually certain to be sought this month are an addition to Senior High school costing more than $300,000 and the high school physical education and gymnasium plant to be built at an approximate cost of $75,000 on Chapman field.

Permits issued last month included 80 for residences costing $436,031. Since the first of the year, 498 such permits have been issued, the cost t otaling $2,732,499.

Wayne Henly To Head Lions Club

Named president of the Lubbock Lions club at the annual election of officers Tuesday during the regular weekly luncheon was Wayne (Mickey) Henly, head of the advertising department of the Avalanche-Journal.

Henly is to succeed J. Wm. Davis, head of the government department at Texas Tech college, and is to take office at the first meeting in July.

Other Officers Named

Other officers named were Ruel Martin, first vice president; Dallas Whaley, second vice president; Vincel Larsen, third vice president; H. G. Denman, secretary-treasurer (re-elected); Dr. C. H. Schulkey, tail twister; Marion Key, Lion tamer. Two new directors named were Tom Ingram and B. C. McCasland.

It was announced that the club's family night, originally scheduled Tuesday night of last week, and re-scheduled due to bad weather for last night, had been postponed again, this time indefinitely. Date for the event is to be announced after the weather settles, but probably some time the latter part of this month, the announcement said.

Resignation of Mrs. Johnnie Mae Barron as office secretary because she is moving from the city was announced. Miss Edith Moore, her successor, who has already assumed her duties, was introduced.

Short Program Held

A short program featured Girl Scout activities. Mrs. Cecil Cagle was in charge of the program, and a girl representing each phase of Girl Scouting—from senior scout to Brownie—made short talks of appreciation for the club's part in building and equipping a camp at Buffalo lakes.

The camp, named Los Leonitas, is to be formally delivered to the scouts and dedicated to their use the afternoon of June 6. The dedication program starts at 4 p. m.

Club President J. Wm. Davis was in the chair, with invocation by Rev. R. A. Parlow.

Burglaries May Boost Insurance Here

Methods To Halt Crimes Studied

Local insurance men said Monday that Lubbock's crime wave is making it increasingly difficult to place robbery, burglary and theft insurance here, and sounded a warning that the price of such policies will boom if the crime wave is not checked.

At least a third of the applications for insurance of that kind are being refused, according to the head of one of the largest Lubbock insurance agencies.

Unless the wave is checked, he and other insurance men said, rates for that sort of protection almost certainly will be increased at a cost of "many thousands of dollars a year" to Lubbock policyholders.

Solution Is Sought

This information was supplied by insurance men while Mayor W. H. Rodgers, City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., and Police Chief Lewis Kittrell sought methods of dealing effectively with the recent outbreak which they, emphasized, is area-wide and nationwide. It is not confined to Lubbock alone, they declared.

Two suggestions emerged immediately from their discussions.

The first was that establishment of all kinds which handle substantial sums of cash make use of the night deposit facilities available in all local banks. Don't keep large sums on the premises overnight and especially over weekends, the officials urged.

Police Guard Available

The second was the reminder that a police guard is available, and has been available all along, for those having substantial sums to transport from their places of business to a bank or other place of security.

Police said that some of the heavy losers in recent burglaries have been offered this cost-free service, and have declined it.

While no definite plan of action was announced by the mayor, city manager and police chief to cope with the problem, the tentative possibilities were several.

Some of these would require approval by the city commission, which asked Mayor Rodgers and City Manager Smith at its meeting last week to make a personal investigation of the city's policing needs. The next regular meeting of the commission takes place June 10, but a special session can be called whenever deemed advisable.

One possibility mentioned was a strengthened plain clothes, or

Promotions, Faculty Changes Made At College

Tech Salary Hikes Announced

Salary increases, promotions and other faculty changes were announced Tuesday with the distribution of 1948-49 contracts to faculty members at Texas Technological college. The announcements, made by Pres. W. M. Whyburn, will become effective with the opening of the fall term.

Income increases are provided all members of the faculty either through raises in salary or 1948-49 cost-of-living increases with the exception of a few high salaried college positions, President Whyburn said. The increases and faculty changes were approved at the recent board of directors meeting held in Lubbock.

Promotions Announced

Promotions include Dr. W. I. Robinson and Dr. Waldo S. Glock, both in the geology department, from associate professors to full professors. J. C. Hardgrave was elevated to a full professorship in mechanical engineering.

Jesse Q. Sealey, assistant professor in biology, and Dr. George A. Whetstone, assistant professor in civil engineering, are to be associate professors.

Earl A. Camp, instructor in biology, Miss Ellen Wright, instructor in clothing and textiles, and Miss Mary Frances Hill, instructor in physical education for women, were designated assistant professors.

Changes Are Made

Changes in department chairmanships, President Whyburn said, include the appointment of Dr. R. G. Sidwell, new chairman of geology, succeeding Dr. Leroy T. Patton, and Dr. Emmett A Hazlewood, new chairman of mathmetics, succeeding Prof. J. N. Michie. Dr. Patton and Professor Michie will continue as full professors in their departments.

Dr. R. A. Studhalter, professor and head of biology department, also has requested relief from the responsibility of headship by September, but a successor has not yet been named, Dr. Whyburn said.

Chairmanship of the dairy manufactures department will be decided pending Prof. L. G. Harmon's plans for graduate study under an outstanding fellowship awarded him. Professor Harmon is acting chairman now.

Position Is Vacant

Resignation of Prof. T. C. Root to become assistant to the president of Southern Methodist university, announced from Dallas Monday afternoon, also leaves the headship of the department of accounting and finance vacant.

Dr. S. S. McKay has been granted a year's leave of absence to serve as visiting professor at the University of Texas.

Faculty members who have been granted leaves for research study toward doctorates are: N. C. Fine, associate professor of animal husbandry; Harmon professor of dairy manufactures; Byron J. # Harris Grand Jury Investigates Horse Meat Sales In Houston

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, June 1—The Harris county grand jury today began an investigation of "information" that horse meat is being sold here for public consumption, including use in the public schools.

Gus Dittmar, foreman, said "we shall make a thorough investigation."

About 25 witnesses, including two representatives of the State Health department, were present when the grand jury began a special session this morning.

Information Gathered Secretly

The Houston Chronicle today said the information turned over to the grand jury has been gathered secretly for several weeks by the office of District Attorney A. C Winborn.

"Most of the horse meat," the Chronicle said, "has been sold in public eating places, rather than over to the grand jury a written complaints are that the horse meat is being sold as beef and that much of the horse meat is not inspected."

The newspaper quoted "members of the meat industry" as saying Dallas is the only other city in Texas where a large traffic in horse meat is being conducted for human consumption.

City health officials in Dallas, however, said they have received no reports that the meat is being sold for that purpose there.

Horses Killed In Houston

The Chronicle said some of the horses have been slaughtered in Houston and others have been snipped from Corpus Christi.

Appearing at the grand jury session was Dr. J. F. Lakey, director of the Bureau of Foods and Drugs, and James B. Hunter, chemist, both of the State Health department, Austin.

"It was understood the health department officials had turned over o the grand jury a written report that a fourth of a pound of meat, picked up in the public schools, had been tested by Dr. Harold Wood of the State Health department and had been positively identified as horse meat," the Chronicle said.

The health department men declined comment.

Others among the witnesses called by the grand jury were H. L. Mills, business manager of the Houston Public schools; Miss Juanita York, lunchroom manager of the Dow school; Miss Louise Delery, director of lunchrooms for the public schools; G. W. Weikel, business representative of the Meat Cutters International union, local 408, and Irvin Horton, business representative of the Packing House Workers union, local 103.

Reward Offered In Lamesa Theft

LAMESA, June 1 (Special) — A reward of $500 for information leading to arrest and conviction of those who took $16,500 in currency and $8,900 in U. S. defense bonds the night of May 6 from the office of attorney Bob Huff of Lamesa has been authorized.

The announcement was made by Huff, former Dawson county attorney, this afternoon.

"In addition, I have told Sheriff A. M. Bennett that I will pay a substantial percentage of recovery of whatever funds might be returned to me," he said.

Sheriff Holds Money

The $500 has been turned over to the sheriff, Huff said.

The funds had been paid to him from the registry of courts and belonged, almost in entirety, to clients, Huff said.

He absorbed the entire loss, which was not insured, by paying the clients "out of my own pocket," he said.

The money was in a filing cabinet on the second floor of the Lamesa National Bank building. The door to the office was pried open, as evidenced by burst facing.

State, county and federal officers, the latter because of the government bonds, commenced an investigation immediately after the burglary was announced.

Flash Flood Cripples Work On Colorado Reclamation Project

LOVELAND, Colo., June 1 (INS) —Damage was estimated at more than $150,000 today from a flash flood which roared down from the mountains into the midst of the multi-million dollar Colorado-Big Thompson reclamation project near Loveland.

The huge project, one of the largest in the west, was seriously crippled by the disaster. Tunnels were filled with water and miniature lakes formed behind earth-fill dams, burying thousands of dollars worth of heavy construction machinery under muck and water.

The flood struck without warning, and officials said that only the fact that workers were away from the job because of the holiday prevented possible heavy loss of life.

Pioneer's Good Job

THE interests of Lubbock and this entire area demand all the support that reasonably can be given to officials of Pioneer Air Lines in their efforts to obtain approval of the Civil Aeronautics board of their application for a permanent operating permit. The lines now operate under a temporary certificate which has less than two years more to run.

The prospects are encouraging that the CAB will act favorably on the application. In view of Pioneer's achievements since service was inaugurated in late 1945, it is difficult to see how the application for a permanent certificate can be denied.

But opposition to the application is strongly probable, if not virtually certain. Others might like to reap the harvest which seems assured chiefly as result of Pioneer's efforts.

Unless the application is approved, Pioneer probably will have to go out of business when the present temporary permit expires. Communities now on Pioneer routes either would be deprived of that service, or would have to hope for the best from competing lines. That probably would be a good deal less than those communities now get from Pioneer.

No one can honestly deny Pioneer credit for having done a magnificent job. When granted a temporary permit about three years ago, it was regarded as something of an experiment. It was a test not only of the feasibility of the profitable operation of "feeder" or "community" airlines in this area, but in the entire nation. Pioneer's expansions from a 600-mile to a 2,200-mile system in less than three years, and the steady growth of its revenues, have gone far to demonstrate the need for its service and to prove that feeder lines can be made to render a highly useful, if not an indispensable, service.

Pioneer has asked the cooperation of the City commission, the Chamber of Commerce and similar agencies in Lubbock and other cities served by it in supporting the present application. That support has been pledged in Lubbock. The attitude undoubtedly will meet with the approval of the vast majority of people who, if familiar with the record, must recognize that Pioneer has earned everything it now asks.

Czechs Fight On

THE significance of last Sunday's election in Czechoslovakia is not to be found in the report that 89 per cent of the ballots cast bore rubber stamp endorsements of the Communist regime in power, which tolerated no opposition.

The really significant fact is that 11 per cent of the registration either remained away from the polls or turned in unmarked ballots as an evidence of their protest against the methods pursued. It speaks well for the courage of the people of any nation when one out of nine will risk imprisonment, or death, by deliberately inviting the displeasure of a regime which places no value on human liberty or life.

The election has demonstrated anew the existence in Czechoslovakia of a strong and courageous nucleus which clearly awaits only the opportunity to free itself from Red tyranny. It was an election which could not bring comfort either to Russia or to the Quislings through whom the Russians impose their wills upon the Czechs.

Not all automobiles had electric (self) starters. The owner of one of the starterless type ran into trouble. Parked in front of a Broadway store the owner helped his wife and small daughter into the machine then went to the front to crank the motor by hand. He did, not knowing the car was in gear. The car hopped the curb, nearly ran over its owner and crashed into plate glass windows in the store front with damages of $500 to $600. No one was injured.

(THE STORY: Patience Mond goes to London three times a week to attend dressmaking school. It is the only freedom allowed her by the two old-fashioned aunts who have brought her up and with whom she lives in the country. On the commuting train she meets Paul Taylor, who lives in a neighboring village and who finds himself attracted to the prim young girl. Paul takes Patience to the movies in nearby Stortford and later to a dance. Both occasions Patience keeps secret from her aunts, knowing they would disapprove. Meanwhile her head in the clouds. Paul has kissed her and told her he loves her).

VI

ANOTHER month went by. The winter was past and the first fresh green was showing in the hedgerows. "In the spring—" said Paul blithely. "Oh, Patience, Patience, if you knew how I feel about you!"

Patience knew. She felt the same way about him. Only she'd not told him so. She was far too shy to disclose her emotions.

They were meeting quite often. Always they traveled down from London together. And one evening last week he'd got out at her station. They'd passed through the barrier as two strangers, to meet again in a quiet country lane some little distance away. They'd lingered here for a brief while and then Patience had speeded home on her bicycle, praying that her aunts wouldn't notice she was later than usual in returning.

It was the next time she came back from her day at the academy that she walked into the sitting room and realized instantly that something had happened. Her aunts were obviously waiting for her. The expression on their faces turned her heart to water. They looked shocked and horrified and deeply hurt. Aunt Helen was the spokeswoman.

"I understand, Patience, that you have been meeting a young man these last few weeks about whom you have told your Aunt Alice and me nothing."

Patience felt hot color rush to her cheeks. Her knees shook.

"What have you got to say for yourself?" said her aunt severely.

Patience made a little helpless gesture.

"I—I don't know."

"You were seen two evenings ago in a lane—"

"It was all—well, what I mean to say is, Paul's terribly nice."

HER aunt's eyes were hard and angry. "I'm not interested in whether you consider him nice. You know, Patience, how very strongly your Aunt Alice and I feel about that sort of thing. That you should have formed a friendship with a young man—someone we don't even know—"

"I'd like you to know him, Aunt Helen. I'd like you both to know him. If you'd only allow me to bring him here so that you can meet him—"

"And where, pray, did you meet him?"

Patience swallowed hard.

"In the train."

Miss Helen gasped.

"You mean to stand there and tell me coolly you—you 'picked him up' is the phrase I believe used in these days—in the train!" Miss Helen was really shocked. "I forbid you ever to see or speak to this young man again," she concluded severely.

Patience looked at her aunt, her eyes full of pleading.

"Aunt Helen, please—"

"I want no argument, Patience. I insist on your giving me your word that in future you will have nothing more to do with him. And I know I can trust your word. Now—I want that promise from you and then the matter will be closed. It will not be mentioned again by any of us."

Just for a moment Patience saw red. Hot temper surged within her. Overwhelmed her. A host of bitter words rose to her lips. And then her resentment died away. She remembered how good both her aunts had been to her. How they'd stinted themselves in order to educate her; to feed and clothe her. How they were now going without things in order to pay her fees at the dressmaking academy.

"I'm waiting for your promise, Patience," said her Aunt Helen.

PATIENCE knew if she once gave it she'd have to keep it. Her aunt said she knew she could trust her word. Only—how was she going to face a world in which there was no Paul?

"Patience dear," interposed her Aunt Alice gently, "I think you should understand that it is for your own good your Aunt Helen is asking you to make this promise."

Patience swung around to her.

"But why? Aunt Alice, can't you see that it is asking too much of me? There's no harm in my seeing him. In our being friends. He—I—oh, Aunt Alice, I thought perhaps you might understand!"

Miss Alice felt her hands trembling in her lap. Heaven forgive her, she did understand. But it mustn't be. The child was too young. She needed protecting against herself. Later on it would be a different matter. When she was old enough to know her own mind . . . when some nice young man to whom she was properly introduced came along. . . .

"Well, Patience?" said Miss Helen.

Patience said miserably: "Very well, Aunt Helen, if you insist I give you my promise." And then she turned and stumbled blindly from the room.

She went out through the front door and across the neatly kept lawn, climbed a little stile, and set off across the meadows. It was growing chill and the light was failing. She shivered, drawing her coat more closely around her. And now tears were raining down her cheeks. They wouldn't stop. She just walked along crying bitterly, wondering how she'd face the future; wondering if it would always hurt so terribly; wondering if she'd been wrong not to stand up to her Aunt Helen.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IT'S about time.

A New York state legislator—and a woman at that—has introduced a bill to make it legal for men to patronize beauty parlors.

Thank you, Assemblywoman Genesta M. Strong, you have done a noble thing for us men.

As I have told you I have spent a number of days in bed and every time I look in the mirror I realize how necesary it is for men to be allowed to have beauty parlor treatments.

BRANDEIS

I am sure that most of you women who read this column are married and therefore know what horrible-looking specimens men are early in the morning, before they have shaved, combed their hair and performed their matutinal beautifications.

And a sick man who needs a haircut, a manicure and a shave, certainly is a sorry sight to behold.

Right at the moment I need a complete beauty treatment.

But here in Connecticut, as well as in New York state, men may not have the benefits of treatments in beauty parlors.

Perhaps you think that only sick men need beauty treatments.

Don't you believe it.

In Hollywood, for instance, where beauty counts for so much, there are all sorts of beauty parlors where men go to look like men.

Would you think it possible that a lot of fellows even have their eyebrows plucked?

I have that directly from a reliable hairdreser, the same one who used to give me treatments for my gradually but surely receding hairline.

And, cross my heart, this same hairdresser told me that oodles of men even have permanent waves!

SINCE we are on the subject of masculine vanity, I want to say a few words about all the fuss being made about nudist camps and nudist magazines.

According to some of our more prudish reformers these camps and those publications are highly detrimental to the morals of our country and just another source of juvenile and adult delinquency.

I would like to tell you about an experience I had a few years ago when I visited one of those nudist camps out west.

Look around you in the street or in the stores or anywhere you may go.

How many of the people you see—fully clothed and most of them clothed so as to show them to best advantage—are really attractive?

Just for the fun of it I made a check once right on Broadway in New York. I counted 100 women. Three were pretty, five were passable, eighteen were so-so and the rest ranged all the way from awful to horrible.

Not being a good judge of male pulchritude I would say that about two I saw were pretty good looking, the rest just blah.

But in that nudist camp I visited there were no garments to hide bow-legs and knock-knees and varicose veins and paunches and stoop shoulders and all the other defects that clothes and cosmetics hide fairly successfully.

It was awful! It was so awful that I never want to see another nudist camp, and I am sure that beauty parlors for males once legalized will make fortunes.

If you intend to open one near my home, I'll make a few apointments right now.

HST Plays Politics

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Truman's election eve efforts to round up the various voting groups he needs for a November victory will flop unless he shows greater force and aggressiveness in giving them more than paper promises, in the opinion of his political friends and enemies. He has become the despair of Democratic strategists at Washington and around the country.

His recognition of the new state of Israel, for instance, was a key move in the scheme to win the Jewish support in the great cities, and the first effect was electric. Prominent leaders and organizations expressed their gratitude in mail to the White House and Capitol Hill. For days the Congressional Record has been studded with resolutions of thanks.

TUCKER

But he has frozen their ardor by his dilly-dallying over the question of selling arms to Israel's hard-pressed armies as an offset to British support of the invading Arabs.

With his characteristic caution, he fears that he may make the United States a party to a Holy War which will endanger our prestige, create discord among anti-Communist powers in Western Europe and overextend our military commitments. He has also listened to Navy warnings that we should not endanger our petroleum pipelines to Saudi Arabia.

PARTISAN: Unless he was prepared to follow up his gambling on behalf of the beelaguered Jewish state, their spokesmen ask, why did he extend recognition in the first instance?

They now voice the suspicion that he has weakened because of British protests, vast American investments in Middle East oil and fear of antagonizing sections of the country which, as their communications reveal, do not want this country involved in another conflict over this issue.

Republican spokesmen, who hastened to endorse his Palestine program (that is, the latest one) lest he outrun them in the race for votes, now lambast him as weak, indecisive and politically minded. British statesmen and inspired newspaper articles openly declare that he extended recognition solely for partisan purposes.

STRATEGY: President Truman has shown such slight interest in pressing for enactment of his Civil Rights program that Republicans on Capitol Hill do not think it politically necessary to counteract his appeal to the colored race by passing anti-lynching, anti-poll tax, anti-discrimination measures at this session. Like him, they will duck the anti-segregation issue by passing the buck to the Supreme Court, which has already ruled on this question.

Mr. Truman dismayed his opposition when he first advanced an even broader system of benefits for racial and religious minorities than F.D.R. ever did. They figured that their calculated moves to win back these groups would go for nought. They planned to report all these measures to the floor through their control of committees, and place responsibility for their defeat on filibustering Southerners.

Now, it is doubtful if they will lift a finger. The Fair Employment Practices bill, which embodies perhaps the most important promises for the colored people, has been bottled up in the House Judiciary committee by the leadership. It would have been reported with strong favorable recommendations, if the G.O.P. were worried over the success of the presidential strategy.

POLITICS: On the social welfare front Mr. Truman has also shown himself to be an ineffectual champion, in the opinion of leaders in this field. He has presented their recommendations to Congress, but he has been content with the mere act of submission.

His recent special message on expansion of the Social Security system was a giveaway, according to them. His own friends think it was a mistake to demand immediate action on so complex a question at such a late hour in the session. With only a few legislative days left before expected adjournment on June 19, there is no chance for Congressional approval.

The Republicans have not made a better showing on this issue. It was not until Senator Clyde Reed of Kansas heard of the White House plan that he announced he would frame a program of his own. To social welfare experts and enthusiasts who understand the operations and cumbersomeness of Congressional machinery the only conclusion was that both the major parties were playing presidential election politics with this grave problem. And they don't like it.

DILEMMA: Mr. Truman's friends, however, liken his predicament to the dilemma in which F.D.R. found himself after the U.S. entered the war in 1941. The prospect of further reforms was blasted by the bombs which fell over Pearl Harbor.

The President's obsession with foreign affairs has left him little time or energy to struggle for domestic improvements. The terrific financial outlays for rearmament and the Marshall Plan compete with housing, education, health and old-age billions.

In view of the need for unity at Washington, he does not want to engage in battle with a Congress which has shown no great enthusiasm for reform of any kind. So much so that it will not even heed the demands of Senate Policy Leader Taft, whose floor fight for action on more funds for homes, schools and hospitals makes him seem like a rugged and roaring "liberal" by comparison with Franklin D. Roosevelt's successor.

CONSPIRACY: "It is being whispered throughout the country," writes J.C.H. of Eldorado, Kan., "that there is a conspiracy to discredit Dewey, Taft, Stassen etc. in order to ease Vandenberg into the nomination. You leg for Vandenberg, so it's natural to think you know about it.

"If so, what internationalist is financing it? Vandenberg may not be in on it, but those who want him as President want war with Russia and other countries to get world control."

Answer: In the first place, I do not "leg" for Senator Vandenberg or any other candidate. As proof, I have been accused at various times of favoring Governor Earl Warren of California, Senator Taft of Ohio and Speaker Martin of Massachusetts. I like them all, personally, and admire certain characteristics of each man. But it is not my assignment to write political 'sermons on the mount' or to advise the Republicans on their selection of a nominee.

Moreover, I do not think the 'internationalists' want war any more than any other group of Americans does. And why should the financiers want another war so as to gain 'world control,' knowing that after another conflict they would be only receivers in bankruptcy. Such suspicions and suggestions just don't make sense.

After looking over his bills, many a man wishes his credit wasn't so good.

GOP BLAMED FOR BLOCKING BILLS

Social Legislation Is Urged

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—A group of us saw here the other day the preview of a motion picture—"Report For Action"—which shows how to organize a local community to check juvenile delinquency. It is being contributed by the theatre owners of America to the National Conference on Prevention and Control of Juvenile Delinquency with which the theatre owners are cooperating.

STOKES

You will see it soon at your theater. It is part of a campaign by the national conference to stimulate state and community conferences which was inaugurated in January by President Truman by proclamation. G. Howland Shaw, former assistant secretary of state, is chairman of the national conference and Attorney General Tom Clark is honorary chairman. The conference is supported by private contributions.

Slums Are Blamed

It is a fine movement that deserves the support of every community. The film is very helpful in showing how to organize a community. While watching it, the thought came that there should also be another movement — a national conference on adult delinquency.

In the picture you will see slums which nourish juvenile delinquency and crime. This is something that the national conference on adult delinquency might take up. For it is adults here in Congress, specifically in the House of Representatives, who are blocking the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill, passed by the Senate, that provides means of eradicating slums.

Those who are blocking it are very adult. There is Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin (Mass.), who is 63. There is Rep. Charles A. Halleck (Ind.) Republican floor leader, who is 48. They are the king-pins of the House Republican leadership which is holding up this bill. A nod from them would bring it to the House floor for a vote. Then there is Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (Mich.), 54, who is chairman of the Banking and Currency committee which has charge of the measure. The long-drawn out hearings on the bill are having the effect of a filibuster that prevents action by the committee which, it is now reported, would approve it by a 14 to 13 vote—if it could be brought to a vote.

Speaker Martin has ambitions to be your next President of the United States. He is what is called a "dark horse" candidate and chances for a compromise on one of a number of such "dark horses" has increased with the prospect of a deadlock at the Philadelphia convention this month. Rep. Halleck would like to be the vice presidential candidate of his party.

The film—"Report For Action"—also reveals the need of better educational facilities for our youngsters, not only for good basic education and training which contributes to good citizenship, but also to keep busy young minds occupied. It also shows the need of better playground and recreational facilities at schools for the same purpose. Some communities where income is low and tax yields are small can not provide these things.

Other Bills Blocked

A bill that would furnish federal assistance for education to such communities, also sponsored by Senator Taft (R., O.) and which also has passed the Senate, is being held up in the House. The Republican leadership could do something about that. It could do something also about another bill, likewise sponsored by Senator Taft which likewise has passed the Senate, which would provide greater health facilities. The need of those in the campaign against juvenile delinquency is also shown in the film.

In the film also you see many children at school, at play. Among such children are some who lost their fathers in the war, and some whose fathers are disabled. A national conference on adult delinquency could also turn in its mind to ways to stop wars. There is no record in history of a war started by children. Adults start them. Children grow up into young men to fight them.

Many adults are busy in various organizations trying to do something to stop wars. A national conference could co-ordinate these activities and promote discussion of this biggest of all problems, this major adult delinquency, right in the communities, along the plan of the juvenile delinquency program.

It would help, too, to have the children sit in these conferences as a constant reminder that it is they who have to fight them.

Burglary Wave Here

detective bureau, in the police department.

Another was the need for putting more "prowl cars" into service at night.

A third was the need for a drive aimed at individuals of uncertain occupation but obvious prosperity to ascertain their means of income.

Still another was an effort to bring law enforcement authorities of this entire area into closer cooperation in the effort to solve a problem which all seem to face.

All authorities share the opinion that the same gang, probably headed by the same "master mind," has committeed most of the larger burglary and knob knockings which have occurred in this area recently. These include the safe burglaries in Furr and Piggly-Wiggly grocery stores which, in Lubbock alone, have resulted in reported losses aggregating close to $20,000 since the first of the year.

Similarities Are Striking

But similar break-ins, according to police, have been reported in Amarillo, Plainview, Midland, Odessa and a number of other towns. The similarities are so striking, authorities say, as to make virtually certain that the same individual, or gang, has executed them all.

The break-ins, according to police, indicate experience, careful planning and a high degree of skill. Preparations have been thorough. Outposts apparently have been planted while burglaries have been in progress to give warning of anyone approaching the scene of action.

Police suggest that anyone hearing unusual noises at night in or on such establishments as grocery stores, drug stores and the like should call police without delay. This especially is true of neighborhood stores, which have suffered most during the recent outbreak.

Becoming Poor Risk

Meanwhile, local insurance men said that Lubbock is becoming an increasingly poor risk for robbery, burglary and theft protection. Some of the big insurance companies, according to some of the local agencies, don't want policies of that kind at all from Lubbock.

"Sometimes we can place such insurance, and sometimes we can't said the head of one agency. "Sometimes, when we do place them, it frequently is as a courtesy by the insurance company to our agency. They would prefer not to issue the policy."

Local dealers explained that they have nothing to do with fixing the rates charged for such protection. Rates are established by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

Insurance men here agreed that costs of protection almost certainly will be increased unless the present wave is checked. If there should be an increase, their expectation is that it will be by not less than 15 percent, and possibly a good deal more.

While they said that no guess is possible that pretended to be accurate as to the amount now being paid by Lubbock businesses for such protection, they agreed a 15 percent increase would add "many thousand dollars" to the total cost each year.

Local insurors added that, even with an increase, those able to get insurance would be fortunate. The greater hazard would be faced by the firms which cannot get such protection under any practical condition. The number of places unable to qualify for policies was declared to be increasing steadily.

Central Texas Methodists Vote To Join Planning Commission

The conference also called upon Bishop A. Frank Smith to name a full-time executive secretary to guide the pension program for retired ministers.

Hal H. Cherry, Fort Worth, was named conference lay leader.

OILS LEAD STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—Oil stocks went ahead in high gear in today's market while other issues didn't get very far one way or the other.

Many of the oils scored new highs for the year or longer with gains of fractions to around 2 points. Changes elsewhere were a close mixture of small gains and losses.

Aircraft, motor and railroad stocks leaned to the minus side. Steels did better than most others.

Turnover perked up a little from Friday's 1,340,000 shares but the total of 1,300,000 shares was well under several recent fast sessions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .1 of one point to 71. Of 1,032 issues traded, 397 advanced and 417 declined.

At or near new highs for the year were Standard Oil (NJ) at 83¼, Ohio Oil at 40½, Phillips Petroleum at 74⅞ and Sun Oil which opened late for a 2-point gain at 67. Plymouth oil moved against the trend in oils, losing 2¼ at 58½.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Atlantic Coast Line, and American Can also advanced.

Minus signs appeared in front of Chrysler, Studebaker, Packard, Douglas Aircraft, Curtiss-Wright, Great Northern preferred, and Western Union.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in quiet dealings today. Pessimistic sentiment over the export situation for the balance of the current season brought in liquidation in nearby deliveries, with losses extending to 70 cents a bale before the market recovered partially on mill and New Orleans buying. New crop deliveries received some support on buying against sales in nearby July.

Traders anticipated further buying of cotton by Japan later in the week. According to trade reports, purchases of 46,500 bales have already been confirmed by the Japanese board of trade.

Late afternoon prices were 45 cents a bale lower to 40 cents higher than the previous close. July 37.06, Oct. 33.61 and Dec. 33.00.

Futures closed 35 cents a bale lower to 90 cents higher than the previous close.

U. S. Crude Oil Production For Week Shows Slight Hike

TULSA, Okla., June 1 (AP) — Crude oil production in the United States averaged 5,440,225 barrels daily during the week ended May 29, an increase of 9,580 barrels over revised tabulations for the previous week, the Oil & Gas Journal rported today.

Illinois, up 3,200 barrels to 173,700 barrels; Michigan, up 1,600 to 46,200; Oklahoma, 6,450 to 423,050, and Mississippi, 3,200 to 122,015.

Indiana, Montana, Wyoming and California had gains of 800 barrels or less.

Major declines were in the eastern area, down 1,250 barrels to 67,200; Colorado, off 2,090 to 43,400, and Kansas, down 1,200 to 303,900.

Parliament Seat Is Accepted By Smuts

CAPETOWN, June 1 (INS) — Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts today accepted a seat in South Africa's parliament and agreed to lead his Unity party in an opposition fight against the anti-British Nationalist party now in power.

The 78-year-old defeated former prime minister thus cancelled his plans to retire from the political arena as a result of the recent Nationalist election victory which made Dr. Daniel F. Malan prime minister.

Malan had indicated he might attempt to pull South Africa out of the British empire, but the recent course of political events makes it unlikely that he will press for an immediate showdown.

Smuts, a Boer war hero who became the idol of a good part of South Africa's population, accepted the East-Pretoria seat offered by a United party colleague, C. W. Clark.

Although the Federation of Cinema and Theatre Editors of Cuba chose the French movie "La Batalla del Riel" the best picture exhibited in Havana in 1947, moviegoers passed it by and still attend United States films in capacity crowds

Public Okays Plan For Towns In U. S. To Adopt European Cities

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 1.—A new kind of "grass roots" internationalism is springing up in America as cities and towns "adopt" sister communities in Europe and try to help them recover from war damage.

While the movement has not had a great deal of national publicity, the majority of voters think the idea has merit.

GALLUP

Only one in three turn the scheme down for their communities.

Almost two hundred communities already have arranged for town-to-town affiliation, including Dunkirk, N. Y. to Dunkerque, France; Brooklyn-to-Breukelen, Netherland; Seattle, Washington to San Gimignano, Italy. A conference of representatives from these and other interested towns will be held in Dunkirk June 11 to organize the movement on a national basis.

The Institute tested national acceptance of the plan by asking thousands of representative men and women the following question:

"It has been suggested that towns and cities in the U. S. 'adopt'—that is, try to help—towns and cities of a similar size in friendly Western European nations. Do you think this is a good idea or a poor idea?"

The answers:

|---|---|
| Good idea | 42% |
| Fair idea | 16 |
| Poor idea | 36 |
| No opinion | 6 |

In order to measure the strength and support behind town adoption the same people were asked another question which put the proposal in terms of individual effort on their part.

"If such a plan were worked out, would you yourself, be willing to write letters and send food and clothing to a family in Europe from time to time?"

More people said they would cooperate than thought the idea itself was a good or fair scheme.

|---|---|
| Willing to take part | 63% |
| Not willing | 25 |
| No opinion | 12 |

Today's poll results are very similar to one reported last October on the public's reaction to the voluntary food conservation program in operation at that time. A majority of American adults believe a real need exists in Western European countries for food from this country. A third of the people, however, beleive that any sacrifice on our part was unjustified.

The desire of Europeans to take part in mutual expressions of good will is indicated by a French Gallup Poll reported last week. An overwhelming majority of French people surveyed approved the proposed "train of thanks" which French war veterans are organiznig to express appreciation for the American Friendship Train.

Operation Democracy, a nonprofit agency organized to help United States towns who want to adopt a town in Europe, is sponsoring the Dunkirk conference. Its files contain the names of many communities in France, Italy, Germany, Belgium and the Netherlands asking for affiliation.

Recreational Periods Began At High School Gymnasium

Over 100 boys and girls have been enjoying recreational periods in the Senior High school gymnasium this week as a part of the free summer session which began on Monday. Mrs John Wilson and Russell Wimberly are teachers on duty to direct sports on a regular schedule. Supervising the school tennis courts, located at the play field south of Dupre school, is Joe Bob Foster.

The schedule for sports in the gymnasium was announced Tuesday. Sports for girls are: Tuesday and Thursday, 8 to 9 a. m. and 10 until 11 a. m., archery; Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 9 to 10 a. m. tumbling and 10 until 11 a. m. badminton. Volleyball and table tennis are scheduled every day from 11 until 12 noon for both boys and girls. Schedule for boys is: Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 8 until 9 a. m., tumbling; 9 until 10 a. m., every day, softball on the field south of Dupre; 10 until 11, badminton.

Classes in folk dancing are to be offered each Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9 until 10 a. m. if there is sufficient demand, Mrs. Wilson said.

This recreational instruction and supervision is for all students of junior and senior high schools, whether they are enrolled in the regular free summer session or not. Students may go to the gymnasium and play the games scheduled at their own convenience.

Veterans Insurance Deadline August 1

Servicemen of World War II who have let their GI, or National Service Life, insurance lapse, have until Aug. 1 to reinstate it on the basis of a comparative health statement by the veteran, a local Veterans' Administration official announced Tuesday. He urged veterans who have allowed their policies to lapse to renew them before the Aug. 1 deadline.

To reinstate the insurance prior to Aug. 1, a World War II veteran generally needs only to certify that his health is as good as it was on the date the policy lapsed, and to pay two monthly premiums on term insurance. One is for the month of lapse, the other for the month of insurance.

Features incorporated in policies include unrestricted choice of one or more beneficiaries, lump settlement or choice of three monthly installment options, three endowment plans payable to the veteran at maturity, making six permanent plans in all, and total disability income benefits for an additional premium.

Veterans will have until Jan. 1, 1950, to reinstate their GI insurance on the basis of a complete physical examination, and veterans will not be denied reinstatement of insurance for service-incurred disabilities, the official emphasized. Disabling injuries not service-incurred, however, will prevent the reinstatement of the insurance, it was pointed out.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained from contact officers at the Veterans' Administration Regional office at 1600 Nineteenth. The office is open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday.

The cicada, with its 17-year life span, is the longest-lived insect.

Connally Holds Up Pecos Bill

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP)—A bill to rehabilitate the Fort Sumner irrigation project in New Mexico was shelved again by the Senate today after Senator Connally (D-Tex) had objected to it.

The bill was on the unanimous consent calendar and one objection was enough to prevent passage.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) said the bill is of "such importance" that he will move a third time this session to have it considered, or will try to attach it as a rider to some other legislation. Connally said he will oppose this.

The bill was passed unanimously by the Senate in January, but was called back for reconsideration on motion by Connally. It already has passed the House.

The Fort Sumner project is on the Pecos river, which flows through New Mexico and Texas. Texans have objected to further irrigation development of the river by New Mexico until the two states have signed a compact for division of the river's water.

"If New Mexico can appropriate water from the Pecos at will before it reaches Texas, then we will never get our fair share of the river," Connally asserted.

Hatch told the Senate that repair and improvement of the Fort Sumner project cannot in any way affect or injure property in Texas.

A major feature of the project would be a new dam across the Pecos. A Senate interior affairs committee reported that an emergency exists because of a break in the present dam.

"Either the farmers in the district must be given immediate assistance by outside rehabilitation of the dam, or the dam will be lost and the farms destroyed from lack of water," the committee said.

Hatch had expressed hope last week that an agreement could be reached with Texas interests which would permit passage of the bill today.

Night Shop Course Is Scheduled Here

A night course in shop work, to be opened on Thursday night, was announced today by Floyd Honey, principal of senior high, and L. M. Handley, shop instructor. The course is to be offered between 6 and 9 p. m. four nights per week, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and boys and men interested in the instruction may take the course to learn any special processes they wish. Available will be units in hand tools and bench work, foundry, blacksmithing, electric arc welding, pipework and plumbing, stationary engines, osy-acetylene cutting and welding, sheet metal, engine lathe work, drill press, milling machine, shaper and grinders, chassis and body work, electrical circuits, shop maintenance and power-plan engines.

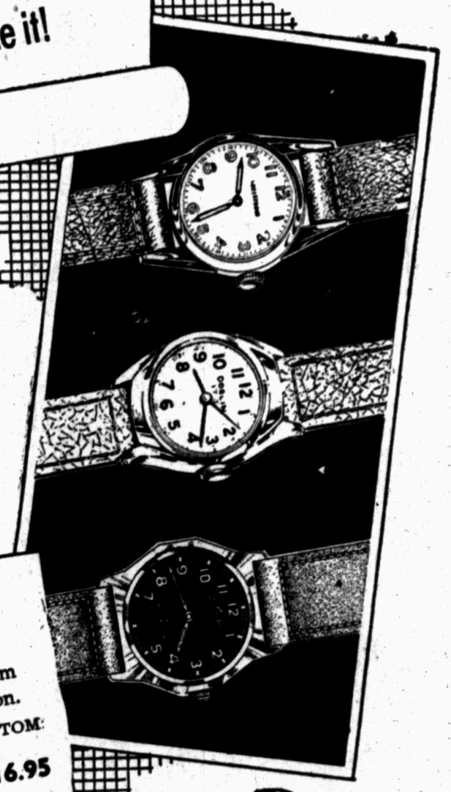

Handley said that employers who wished for their employees to have special training in any of this shop work were invited to contact him at the senior high shop, phone 8631, on Wednesday or Thursday mornings.

The course, like other summer classes, is free for both students and adults.
