Fourth Day Of Scourge Seen In Oklahoma

Dread 'Dust' Pneumonia Added To Possible Ruined Crops In Area; Schools Closed, Highway Traffic Halts

Moves Over Texas

Air Reported Clearing Last Night In Panhandle But Pall Of Finely-Grained Silt Still Over Area Early Today

(By The Associated Press)

GUYMON, Okla., Feb. 17.—"Black blizzards" turned day into night in parts of Oklahoma Kansas and Texas again today and the murky clouds brought the threat of dread "dust" pneumonia and ruined crops.

Oklahoma Panhandle farmers demanded government relief as the fierce dust storms the fourth in as many days virtually reached disaster proportions.

Schools Are Closed

Schools were closed as the dust's gloom enveloped Texas county in the Oklahoma Panhandle. Visibility was zero. Buses were stranded. Highway traffic was paralyzed. Street lights burned dimly throughout the day.

SHIP IS DELAYED

HOUSTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A dust storm at sea caused the U. S. S. Schenck to be late in Houston.

Captain George H. Bahm, commander of the destroyer, said today the vessel was delayed several hours when a heavy dust storm was encountered 70 miles off shore. The dust had blown to sea from the Texas Plains.

"It was very strange," the commander said, "the Gulf looked like the Sahara desert. When it was over, I debated whether the men should sweep away the heavy coating of yellow sand, which had accumulated, or should plant seeds and start a garden."

There was a shortage of dust masks. Guymon stores sold out their supply yesterday.

Southwestern Kansas residents donned the dust masks for the first time this season at Liberal.

The Ominous black clouds of blowing top-soil moved into Lamar, Colo., but the dust area of New Mexico reported clear skies.

Visibility At Some Places Dropped To Zero-Zero

(By The Associated Press)

A heavy yellow cloud of finely-grained silt moved across North Texas Wednesday night, dropping visibility at some places to zero-zero. The air was clearing in the Panhandle.

Amarillo reports said the cloud late in the afternoon extended west to Tucumcari, N. M., where visibility was four miles; east through Waynoka, Okla., and southeast to Childress and Wichita Falls. Airways radio reported visibility at both the latter places as zero-zero. In Texas the storm extended north through Dalhart.

Meteorologists at Amarillo said the dust was brought in from north of the Canadian river valley and was

Ten Fall 200 Feet To Death

Framework Rips Off Golden Gate Span, Dropping 13 Men

Workman Who Escaped Death In Plunge Tells Experience; Saw One Pal Go Down

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17—A huge mass of steel and timber broke loose and fell 200 feet from the Golden Gate bridge into the ocean today, carrying probably 10 men to death in the meshes of a costly safety net designed to protect their lives.

With a prolonged roar, tons of metal and wood being used as paving framework ripped away from the under-side of the bridge deck, carrying at least 13 men with it.

Safety Net Is Broken

The plummeting tangle of men and materials hit the safety net stretching for more than a mile along the under side of the deck, broke the life web and peeled it off so that it fell into the water like a monster strip of fabric in the unrolling process.

Nearby fishing boats and fast moving coast guardsmen sped to the scene and immediately recovered one body and two living men.

Nine other workers apparently tangled in the wreckage, were given up for dead.

A section of the mass broke loose and drifted toward the open sea with rescue boats in pursuit. The boats overtook it before it reached the heads of the Golden Gate and began searching it for bodies.

First Major Accident

The spectacular crash constituted the first major accident on the $35,000,000 bridge, which spans the Golden Gate from San Francisco to the scenic and agricultural north coast.

Heretofore only one life has been lost during the construction.

Bridge officials said the failure of a wheel on a trolley carrier system acted with a trigger-like effect to start the ripping away of the framework.

Men yelled and scrambled toward safety spots as the trolley system gave way, carrying the framework with it. Some of them jumped into the net. But the falling debris came after them, tore away a 2,100-foot section of the web and swung them diagonally downward 200 feet to the ocean surface.

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—He fell 200 feet into the Pacific and lived to tell about it.

That is the story of E. C. Lambert, who escaped death when hurtled into the sea today from his job on the Golden Gate bridge.

"I was working on the 10-ton scaffold with the other fellows when I felt it slipping," he said. "There was nothing to hang onto, so I jumped into the net.

"Going down I don't remember a thing except just before I hit the water with the net. Then I tried to jump. I think I succeeded because I wasn't fouled in the net, but I was hit on the head by a piece of timber.

"I went down below the surface. Then I reached for the timber and grabbed on. Right near me I saw a pair of feet sticking out of the water. I hauled the body up and it was my pal, 'Red.' (Fred Dummitzen).

"I could see the feet of several others sticking out of the water for a few seconds and then the tide carried them down and out.

"I looked around once at a piece of net. Tightly enclosed in the net was my other pal, Noel Flowers, fighting for his life. I yelled at him, asking if he could get himself out.

"He just looked at me, horrified, and then went down."

Press Immunity Bill Reconsidered

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—After voting an unfavorable report, the house judiciary committee reconsidered today and held for further study a bill to grant newspaper reporters immunity from questioning by grand juries on sources of confidential information.

The vote for the unfavorable report was 7 to 4. Rep. Albert G. Walker of Vernon later moved to reconsider so interested newspapermen might present their views in a hearing next Tuesday.

The bill was by Rep. Fred Felty of San Antonio. He said New Jersey, Maryland and Alabama had similar laws and his proposal was fashioned after the Alabama statute.

Such a law, he argued, not only would protect reporters but benefit the public by permitting disclosure of information on crime which police might not have.

Hat Check Girl's Balm Is Hiked To Half Million As Rubinoff Trial Is Opened

PEGGY GARCIA

Lengthy Attack Made On Her Character By The Defense

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—Peggy Garcia, soft-spoken hat check girl from Roanoke, Va., today hiked to a half million dollars the amount she wants David Rubinoff, the violinist, to pay her for alleged seduction and breach of promise.

As the trial opened in supreme court Miss Garcia's attorney, Bernard Sandler, announced the damages asked by the former friend of Rubinoff were up $400,000—above the $100,000 figure she set last week.

Attacks Her Character

Rubinoff's counsel, Abraham Halperin, did not oppose the increased demand, but he brought the plaintiff to the verge of tears with a lengthy attack on her character.

The trial originally was started last week, but was ended quickly when an improper reference was made before the jury about the state's ban against so-called "heart balm" suits.

Simple Small-Town Girl

Today the hat check girl's attorney pictured her as a simple small-town girl in the big city, swept off her feet by a meeting with the widely-known musician.

He quoted her as saying upon her introduction to Rubinoff in a Harlem night club, "If you're Dave Rubinoff, then I'm Cleopatra."

This meeting took place in March, 1933, when Miss Garcia was 19, Sandler said, the seduction occurred in June of the same year in a Philadelphia hotel after Rubinoff, according to Sandler, had promised to marry her.

The violinist's counsel, however, painted a far different picture in his opening for the defense.

He said Miss Garcia was employ-

Announcement of changes affecting Texas Liquor Board personnel in the Lubbock district including the transfer of N. B. Hillyard, deputy supervisor, to Austin, the appointment of Sam W. Fort, police identifications officer of Lubbock, to the department, and the naming of a new official to replace Hillyard, Wednesday night was made in Lubbock.

J. R. Ramsey, deputy supervisor of the Austin office of the board, said E. C. Pinson of Fort Worth would replace Hillyard. Pinson, in Lubbock Wednesday, said he would move his family here as soon as suitable residence quarters could be found. He has three children.

Praises Work Of Fort

Ramsey said the work of Hillyard eminently had been satisfactory and was to be appreciated. Concerning the naming of Fort, he said:

"The board is glad to announce his association with it. Fort's conduct of police duties has been outstanding, as revealed in our study of his qualifications. He has been asked to report Monday and will be stationed at Lubbock temporarily."

Surrealism Arrives In Hollywood In Form Of Strange Gift For Harpo Marx

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 17. Surrealism came to Hollywood today in the form of a strange present from Salvatore Dali, proponent of the strange art-form, to Harpo Marx, the voiceless movie comedian.

It was a harp strung with barbed wire.

Hanging from the top was a knife and fork, and attached to the fork was a bottle of iodine and a wad of absorbent cotton. This represents something in the subconscious mind of Marx, Dali, or someone else.

Since Harpo plays a harp, the giving of the instrument itself is not hard to understand. But Harpo used some of the barbed wire to scratch his head over the rest of it.

He is posing for the portrait, "Prince of Fantasy," which Dali is painting. He said he believed the artist gave him the gift in token of gratitude for allowing himself to be a subject.

"But that's only a guess," Harpo said, rolling his eyes, "nobody knows. Not even Dali."

Increase In Sulphur Levy Is Approved

House Revenue And Taxation Committee Passes Favorably On Measure Boosting Tax To $2 Per Ton

Escapes Amending

Amendment Increasing Tax To $2.50 Escapes On Tie Vote; Protests Are Entered Before Group By Companies

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—A bill increasing the $1.03 per ton tax on sulphur to $2 today barely escaped an additional boost to $2.50 before being favorably recommended by the house revenue and taxation committee.

The bill by Rep. Harry Graves of Georgetown was reported out, 11 to 6, after an amendment by Rep. A. G. Skaggs of Detroit, increasing the tax to $2.50 a ton, failed on a tie vote. The count was tied by the committee chairman, Rep. Alf Roark of Saratoga, who voted "no."

Weathers Amendment

The bill also weathered an amendment which would have eliminated the provision specifying $1 of the $2 be allowed to old age pensions.

L. Mims, representing the Freeport Sulphur company, told the committee the company paid 8-87-100 of its gross receipts in taxes and 50 per cent of the total in Brazoria county. He said the federal government recognized the hazards of the industry in a depletion allowance of 23 per cent in comparison with 5 per cent to coal companies and 15 per cent to metallic ore producers. He suggested that if the state collected 15 per cent of delinquent taxes it "could wipe out the general fund deficit."

Highest Taxed In State?

Harry Webb of the Texas Gulf Sulphur company asserted the industry was the highest-taxed in the state.

"We are now paying 7 per cent of value," he declared, "and 67 per cent of the total Wharton county taxes. Stockholders received only 5 per cent on their investment."

Webb said 18 other nations now produced sulphur, greatly reducing Texas' world market.

Kenneth McCalla, representing the Jefferson Lake Oil company, said his company had recently moved into Texas and invested $500,000 in Brazoria county.

"If you place a $2 tax on sulphur there will never be a boiler fired out there," he said. "This company has come in here and made an investment. In all fairness they should be allowed to produce and the production will pay a sizeable amount of revenue to the state."

Graves declared the companies were "making 100 per cent or more profit."

"They just told you," he cried, "it

Court Compromise Meets Opposition

New Yale Prexy

By a reported unanimous vote of the Yale Corporation, Dr. Charles Seymour, (above) history professor and provost of Yale University, was selected as successor to Dr. James Rowland Angell, who will retire as president at the end of the current school year.

Wheeler-Bone Idea Attracts Excited Discussions

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 — Two Democratic independents, critical to President Roosevelt's court reorganization proposal, submitted a compromise today only to see it encounter nearly the same excited opposition that greeted the White House plan itself.

Senators Wheeler of Montana and Bone of Washington jointly introduced a resolution embodying a constitutional amendment under which congress by a two-thirds vote could set aside a decision of the Supreme court.

Attracts Both Sides

However well intended, the proposal had the immediate effect of attracting the opposition of large groups on both sides of the greater controversy over Mr. Roosevelt's program for infusing "new blood" into the high tribunal by appointing six new justices.

Senators Burke (D-Neb), Van Nuys (D-Ind), King (D-Uth) and others who have assumed a prominent position among foes of the Roosevelt idea were quick to declare against Wheeler-Bone proposal.

Not Considered Substitute

From the camp supporting the president emerged statements that while the Wheeler-Bone amendment might have its merits, and might well supplement the White House program, it was not to be considered a substitute for it.

President Roosevelt himself was silent and at the Capitol others prominently identified with the opposition such as senators Glass (D-Va), Borah (R-Ida) and Clark (D-Mo) declined to comment.

The day also produced the following developments:

The American Federation of Labor endorsed the president's proposal through official action of its executive council. The endorsement followed similar action by John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and

Huge Defense Bill Is Asked For England

Neville Chamberlain Appeals To Commons Wednesday To Approve Briton Program As Bulwark For Peace

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 17—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, appealed to commons today to approve Great Britain's $7,500,000,000 defense program as a bulwark for the world's peace.

Chamberlain, opening a two-day parliamentary debate on the formidable five-year armaments program entailing unprecedented peacetime expenditures, was believed to be virtually assured of a favorable vote.

To Restrict Objections

Opposition spokesmen, authoritative sources predicted, would restrict their objections to mere formalities because of near unanimity on the necessity of rebuilding the empire's defenses quickly to avert potential menaces to European peace.

Britain's little man, the average citizen who pays the nation's taxes, will be hard hit in any event by the $7,500,000,000 armaments bill. Just how hard hit, however, he will not know until the revenue program in Chamberlain's budget is announced in April.

Each taxpayer, financial experts predicted, may have to pay as much as 20 cents additional for $5 of income during the next five years. Already about $1.35 in each $5.00 goes to the income tax collector.

United Church Front Sought

Campaign Against Communism And Fascism Is Urged Last Night In Message By Dr. E. Stanley Jones

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 17—A plea for a united Christian front against communism and fascism was heard tonight by Methodists gathered in their churches in 20,000 American communities.

The faithful—estimated to number approximately 3,000,000 by leaders of the denomination—attended dinners celebrating the successful launching of the million unit fellowship movement of the Methodist Episcopal church—an organization enrolling 1,000,000 members pledged to support the world-wide evangelistic drive of the church.

Churches Must Unite

The message of Dr. E. Stanley Jones, widely known missionary, was carried to the meetings by radio. He urged his auditors to place Christianity in control of social and economic life and to defeat fascistic and communistic bids for domination. He added:

"Our denominationalism simply cannot do the task. The next step within Christendom is for the churches to get together. I would suggest that we come together on the same basis as these United States have come together—unity

Marriage Of 14-Year-Old White Girl To Negro Is Investigated In Seattle

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, Feb. 17.—Police detained a 14-year-old white girl and a 38-year-old negro today while they investigated the reported marriage of the pair here Sunday. The girl's parents also were detained without charge.

The policewomen's report stated the girl, Delta Palmer, 14, asserted staunchly her love for the negro, John Lee Menefield, and that the couple was accompanied by Delta's parents, Charles F. Palmer, 39, and his wife, Anna, 50, when a marriage license was issued at Port Orchard, Wash., February 9.

The marriage license, held as evidence by police, was signed by "Rev. W. A. McCall, Seattle."

Policewomen said the girl observed her 14th birthday January 14 but that her age appeared as 18 on the marriage license application. She is a grammar school pupil. She was

Appropriation Bill Returned To Committee

Emergency Measure For State Schools, Departments And Institutions Said Double Of Any Previous Total

Salaries Raised

Acting Governor Woodul Signs Bill Increasing Salaries Of District Judges From $4,000 To $5,000 A Year

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—The legislature heard fresh warnings today that expenditures should be curbed.

In the house of representatives, a bill proposing emergency appropriation of $564,065 for state schools, departments and eleemosynary institutions was returned to committee, 79 to 58, after several members protested.

About To Double Expenditures

Asserting the appropriation was more than twice as large as any previous general emergency appropriation, Rep. Bowien Bond of Fairfield declared "we haven't raised a cent in taxes and yet are about to double expenditures."

"With the state having its largest deficit in history," Bond said, "this certainly is no time to embark on a spending orgy."

About the same time, the senate passed a bill previously approved by the house increasing salaries of district judges from $4,000 to $5,000 a year, and Acting Governor Walter F. Woodul signed it.

Passes Both Houses

Both houses passed the measure by majorities sufficient to put it into immediate effect. The additional annual salary bill will be approximately $128,000. The house vote was 116 to 11 and that in the senate 23 to 5.

Governor Allred, for whom Woodul was acting, will return to Texas tomorrow from Washington where he has been seeking federal funds for Texas cities. He had urged the legislature not to raise salaries until new taxes were levied.

Small Issues Warning

Speaking in the senate, Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo had warned previously that unless some one "sits on appropriation bills" the total would "stagger" the state.

The house appropriations committee planned to confer with Claude D. Teer, chairman of the board of control, to see whether any items in the emergency bill could be trimmed.

Driving Bill Passed

A bill by Rep. Robert H. Wood of Marshall making a jail sentence mandatory for drunken drivers and fixing a minimum penalty of five days imprisonment and $50 fine passed the house, 136 to 0.

Other house action included passage, 96 to 34, of a bill remitting Galveston county taxes for an-

Coal Industry Is Facing Labor Row

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP) — The soft coal industry replied "utterly impossible" today to John L. Lewis' demand for a 30-hour work week and a 15 per cent pay raise for his 400,000 bituminous coal miners.

After thus bluntly rejecting the United Mine Workers' proposals, the coal operators demanded that the present work week be increased from 35 to 40 hours and that hourly pay rates be cut 15 per cent.

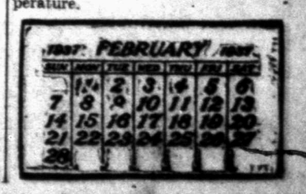

With this exchange, negotiations toward a new wage and hour agreement got under way. The present contract expires at midnight, March 31.

Both Lewis and Charles P. O'Neill, spokesman for the operators, expressed hope the new agreement could be reached without a strike, but Lewis warned the operators that the miners would not work April 1 without a contract.

THIS bit of logic from the Chinese was handed to us by Scott Ballard. It seems that when two old Chinese dames met in the street the following conversation took place:

"And your married daughter, what about her?" "Ah," was the reply, "if it were not for the help I get from that daughter we couldn't yet along at all."

AIR WHILE SLEEPING

ABOUT 20 years ago it was thought that fresh air was so important that people tried to sleep in a howling gale and a zero temperature. Mothers parked their children outdoors in blizzards. The babies took afternoon naps under conditions that should have caused arrest for insanity or cruelty. But the mothers thought they were doing the right thing.

Slowly we have come around to the point of view that sound sleep is induced by comfort and relaxation, not by wind or cold. On a cold day a room can be ventilated quickly by opening a window an inch or two. Why, then, is it necessary to throw wide open the windows of a bedroom?

The plain truth is that sleep is hindered and health endangered by wind and cold. The condition which common sense tells us is desirable for comfortable sleep is an even temperature. When the temperature varies violently, the sleeper finds himself in the middle of the night with too much or too little covering. He may waken two or three times and shift blankets, but if he is a hard sleeper he may slumber right through and wake up in the morning with a cold.

Farmers Sign For Soil Plan

County Committee To Finish Approval Work Today; 1,400 To 1,500 Farmers To Take Part In Program

Supervisors of performance of soil erosion work for 1936 have signed the applications for payment of between 1,450 and 1,500 farmers and the county committee today will complete the approval work, County Agent C. C. Jobson said yesterday.

Groups of districts were represented Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the county agent's office.

Papers Not Returned

Only about 50 applications do not have the signatures of both landlord and tenants, said Mr. Jobson. These have been forwarded to the landlord but have not been returned. In some instances the landlord lives at a distance and it will take time to have the papers returned.

Lubbock county farmers signed 1,968 work sheets but only about 1,500 of them were completed, the others not caring to go on with the program.

Mr. Jobson said he expected clerical work on the applications will be completed either the last of the week or the first of next. Papers will then be forwarded to College Station. No comment was made on the probable date of receipt of checks in payment for services performed.

John LeMond New Deputy Constable

An enforcement official associated with the South Plains' peace problems approximately 20 years ago Wednesday was appointed deputy constable of Precinct 1, Lubbock.

John LeMond replaced Ross Berry, who had been assistant to the late J. C. Roberts. His appointment was by Mrs. Winnie Coleman, whose bond of $1,000 was approved Wednesday morning by the commissioners court, which recognized her new status as constable, succeeding her father.

JOHN LEMOND

LeMond's association with law enforcement began before Lubbock county achieved to its present status—of being a separate political entity. Grouped with it for judicial purposes were Hockley and Cochran counties. LeMond acted as deputy sheriff in that dim heydey.

He was chief of police six years, going out in June, four years ago. He had been associated with the police department five years earlier than the date when his tenure as chief was begun.

Hastening Of Law Planned

Consideration Of Low Interest Loans For Purchase Of Land To Be Pushed After FDR's Report To Congress

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Democratic farm leaders in congress, expressing general approval of the president's long term recommendations to aid tenant farmers, agreed today to hasten consideration of low interest loans for the purchase of land.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) said the house agriculture committee would hear suggestions tomorrow from Secretary Wallace or another member of the president's tenancy commission and then would draft a measure.

Studying Proposal

The committee has been studying a proposal by Jones and Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) to set aside $500,000,000 for loans to tenants, sharecroppers and farm laborers desiring to buy farms.

This probably will be the basis of the final bill, the Texan said.

A senate sub-committee headed by Senator Pope (D-Ida) will begin hearings within ten days on the commission's seven-point program to help 2,865,000 tenants become independent.

These recommendations, submitted to congress yesterday by Mr. Roosevelt call for a confiscatory tax on quick profits from land speculation, a 40-year payment plan for tenants buying land with title withheld for 20 years, and retirement of between two and five million acres of poor crop land each year.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxines.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

U. S. Senator Gerald P. Nye says:

"I enjoy the comfort a light smoke gives my throat"

"I have smoked Luckies off and on ever since my first term in the Senate 11 years ago, and I have always enjoyed their taste and the feeling of comfort and safety a light smoke gives my throat. I have done a great deal of public speaking, on the floor of the Senate, over the radio and at conferences. Necessarily this results in a strain on the voice. So naturally, in smoking, I have to think of my throat—and I have found that a light smoke is suitable to my throat."

Gerald P. Nye

HON. GERALD P. NYE
U. S. SENATOR FROM NORTH DAKOTA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Nye's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

Dynamiting Of Glacier As Ineffective "As Attack Of Fireflies," Expert Says

(By The Associated Press)

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Feb. 17.—Dynamiting of Black Rapids glacier to prevent its advance on a roadhouse and the Richardson highway would be as ineffective "as an attack by fireflies," Otto William Geist, scientist recording the glacier's movements for the university of Alaska, said today.

"There are not enough bombs or dynamite in America to even make an impression on the main body of the glacier," Dr. Geist said.

Continues Slow Movement

The glacier continued its slow, steady movement down the Big Delta river valley, 125 miles south of here, threatening to dam the two-mile wide river, destroy a roadhouse a mile from it and gorge out the highway, interior Alaska's only highway outlet to the coast.

Scientists, however, said they believed the glacier would cease moving before it reached the roadhouse, owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Revell, who had their belongings packed ready to move on a moment's notice.

'Gly-Gas' Action Almost Miraculous'

Says Mr. Montgomery; Limbs And Ankles Badly Swollen With Rheumatism, Suffered Continual Aches and Pains; Gly-Cas Again Proves Unfailing

"It is easy to understand now why so many people are praising Gly-Cas so highly," said Mr. Scott Montgomery, 904 Willow St., Austin, Tex. "For years everything I ate caused me suffering afterwards. Gas would form in abundance and I would bloat until I could hardly get my breath. I was also badly constipated and my entire system became clogged with poisons. Rheumatism settled over my body and my kidneys became disordered. My legs and ankles were badly swollen and I was in constant pain and seemed to ache all over. I tried all kinds of medicines without relief and had about decided that I was doomed to finish life in this awful suffering when I was persuaded to give this new Gly-Cas a trial."

"The results Gly-Cas gave me were almost miraculous," he continued. "I have a good appetite, sleep good the entire night through without the least disturbance, enjoy the foods I wish without any ill effects afterwards and cannot say too much for this new medical discovery. Even those dreadful pains in my limbs have been relieved, can get around better than I did and do not hesitate to tell anyone of the action of this wonderful remedy, Gly-Cas."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Class Accepts Committee's Suggestion Of Clock As Gift To College By Seniors Of '37

The senior class at Texas Technological college has accepted the gift committee's suggestion of a clock as this year's senior gift to the college, said Wilmot Eaton.

The college board of directors, which will meet soon, must approve the plan before the clock can be placed on the campus. Including a cement base, the clock would be about 18 feet high. Dr. Bradford Knapp, college president, approved the plan.

The class Tuesday night elected George Tate, student from Lockney, as vice-president to succeed Talbot Ledbetter, who succeeded Mack Scoggin as president.

AID TO RELIEF OF PSORIASIS SYMPTOMS

The itching and irritation of psoriasis is readily relieved by Resinol Ointment, an old formula containing ingredients well known to physicians for their effectiveness.

To get best results, wash off the scales with a pure, mild soap. Resinol Soap is gently medicated and free from excess alkali. Use it with warm water, then rinse and pat dry.

Spread Resinol Ointment evenly over the surface, letting it remain for several hours during the day and overnight. Note how quickly its oily base enables the Resinol medication to soothe the angry skin.

Even when the rash begins to fade, do not stop using Resinol too soon. The eruptions of psoriasis have a tendency to recur. For this reason it is advisable to continue Resinol applications to soothe the irritation, as long as any trace of it remains.

Get Resinol Ointment and Soap at any drug store. Sample free. Write Resinol, Dept. 19, Balto., Md.

Meat Show's Plans Started

Lubbock's 7th Annual Quality Meat Show To Be Held On March 29, 30 And 31; Bradley Is Chairman

Dates for Lubbock's seventh annual quality meat show, as announced by the executive committee which met at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, have been set for March 29, 30 and 31.

Durwood Bradley was re-elected chairman and E. J. Parsons head of the finance committee. Parsons will appoint other members of his committee soon.

Other members of the meat show committee are Ray C. Mowery, C. C. Jabson, S. E. Cone, Richard Roberts, I. E. Barr, Parker Prouty, G. A. Simmons, Alex McDonald, Sam C. Arnett sr., Fred Snyder, Jot Smith, W. H. Stanton and R. C. Harvey.

Jobson General Superintendent

Jobson, Lubbock county agricultural agent, is general superintendent, and Homer Thompson, assistant county agent, is assistant superintendent.

Featuring events of the third day will be an auction sale. The committee is making arrangements to contact Col. Earl Gartin of Greensburg, Ind., who has been auctioneer in all previous shows. It is probable that he will serve again.

A rule was adopted by the committee to the effect that unfinished animals and those not placing become sifted and they will not pass through the sale ring. The show will not accept responsibility of the sale of these animals and owners may remove them from grounds immediately if they desire.

Eliminate One Division

The canned meats division has been eliminated and for it the committee voted to substitute a system of educational booths, each to convey "a definite idea," it was pointed out. The booths are to show: importance of good breeding, feeding, killing, cutting for canning and curing, sugar curing, smoking, storage and utilization.

General premiums will remain practically the same as in the past.

The first night of the show has been designated as "play night." There will be a campfire at the fair grounds, the scene of the show, and games, exhibits and other forms of entertainment for participants and officials of the affair.

A dance is planned for the second night.

General Rules Adopted

General rules and changes adopted by the committee in its meeting Wednesday were:

1. Exhibitors required to take proper care of stalls and be on hand with their exhibits to answer questions, help keep exhibits tidy, etc.
2. An affidavit from county agents and vocational teachers that boys enrolled under his supervision be used in lieu of boys' record books.
3. Any complaint from any individual must be in writing and signed and must be presented to superintendent of the department wherein the complaint is made.
4. Weight division of calves be at 850 instead of 900 pounds.
5. Groups of five calves fed by one boy be changed to group of three calves fed by one boy.

Entries will be accepted from the following counties: Parmer, Bailey, Cochran, Yoakum, Terry, Hockley, Lamb, Castro, Swisher, Hale, Lubbock, Lynn, Briscoe, Floyd, Crosby, Garza, Kent, Dickens, Motley, Cottle, King, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Mitchell, Scurry, Borden, Howard, Martin, Dawson, Midland, Ector, Winkler, Loving, Andrews, and Gaines of Texas; and Lea, Roosevelt and Curry of New Mexico.

Only Two Legal Blows Needed To Hammer Bung Back Tightly In The Beer Barrel In Kansas

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 17. (AP)—Only two legal blows were needed today to hammer the bung back tightly in the beer barrel in Kansas.

The state house has passed a bill to ban beer and all other beverages with any alcoholic content. It would become a law if approved by the senate and Gov. Walter A. Huxman, Democratic successor to Alf M. Landon.

Beer, mostly of the 3.2 variety, has flowed freely—without benefit to the state treasury—since 1933 in Kansas where Carrie Nation once swung her hatchet and threw rocks at a saloon painting of "Cleopatra At The Bath."

Relics Found In Camp Sites Of Indians Loaned To Museum

Approximately 200 relics found in Indian camp sites have been loaned to the museum at Texas Technological college by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Griffith.

Included are 22 arrow points, 15 scrapers which were used for scraping hides, 18 knives, 12 hammer stones, Indian war paint, decorative shells, arrows and gigs, spear heads, a Folsom point which dates back to the Pleistocene age, and other objects.

The relics were obtained from camp sites in this section, and from Tatum and Clovis, N. M., the Gulf coast, Oregon and Ohio.

Support Withheld On Court Reform

BOSTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A poll of newspapers which supported President Roosevelt for re-election, showing that more than two-thirds of those responding were withholding support of his plan to revise the Supreme court, was reported today by the Christian Science Monitor.

In a copyrighted article, the Monitor said that of 74 replies from such newspapers 29 reported outright opposition while 22 were critical. Against this total of 51, a total of 19 indicated support of the plan, while four were noncommittal.

The combined circulation of the replying newspapers, which supported the president for re-election but were critical of his Supreme court proposal, was reported by the Monitor as 13,191,693. The circulation of those in favor was placed at 3,136,189.

Boy Scout Den Chiefs Meet In First Of Series Of Meetings

Boy Scout den chiefs met at the Junior High school building Wednesday afternoon for the first of a series of a training course conducted by Earl M. McClure, South Plains council executive, and Dr. C. C. Schmidt, master of cub pack No. 1 of Lubbock.

Planning of den programs and den chief duties were discussed. There were twelve boys present.

Thursday the boys will study handicraft, soap carving, tin work, pipe cleaner handicraft, games and stunts. The classes are an hour and a half long.

No 'Regular' Eater
Nourishment Taken Through His Side

MARLBORO, N. Y., Feb. 17. (AP)—Little Robert Earl Linsig, two years old, is happy, sturdy and mischievous, yet he has never eaten a "regular" meal.

Born without an esophagus, he is fed through a tube.

Dr. J. J. Donovan, Newburgh, surgeon, and Dr. W. B. Harris, Marlboro, the family physician, performed an operation shortly after his birth, permitting him to take nourishment through an opening in the left side, leading to the stomach. Already his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Linsig, are making plans for the operation which they hope will permit him to eat normally before he arrives at school age.

Gen. Johnson Says He Prefers Sheppard Measure To Others

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA administrator and a World war general staff officer, said he preferred the Sheppard war profits bill to other proposals for war-time conscription.

Johnson, testifying before the senate military committee, said, however, there was "very great doubt" in his mind as to the wisdom of attempting such legislation in advance of war.

The bill, by Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex) of the military committee, would give the government power to conscript manpower and to control industry in time of war.

A Travis county jury found Hill guilty of murder without malice. He claimed self defense.

Federal Range Conservation Program To Apply To 154 Counties In Texas; Shelton Announces Wednesday

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 17.—Jack Shelton, Extension Service director, said today he had received word from C. A. Cobb, AAA southern regional director, that the federal range conservation program would apply to 154 counties.

"The line designating the range area of Texas," Shelton quoted Cobb's telegram as reading, "runs south along the eastern line of Montague, Wise, Parker, Hood, Somervell, Bosque, Coryell, Burnet, Blanco, Comal, Bexar, Atascosa, Live Oak, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Kenedy and Hidalgo counties.

All Counties West

"All these and all counties west of them are designated as being in the western range area of Texas where the range program will apply."

Shelton named, as follow, approved practices from which ranchmen may choose those needed on their ranges and earn payments limited strictly by the range building allowances established for their ranches:

Deferred grazing, fencing, contour listing, or furrowing, construction of terrace ridges, spreader terraces and dams, earthen tanks and reservoirs, establishment of fire guards, eradication of prairie dogs and kangaroo rats and rescuing land from prickly pear, mesquite, cedar and lechuguilla.

The church of Hagia Sophia, in Constantinople, and St. Mark's, in Venice, are judged the finest examples of Byzantine architecture.

Who'd Want To Shinny On His Own Side?

Another Oldster Is Launched On Path Of Easy Riches In Chelan's Townsend Pension Test; Theory Is Successful

(By The Associated Press)

CHELAN, Wash., Feb. 17.—Townsend pension testers, asserting their month-old experiments had secretly accumulated $400 from voluntary transactions taxes, have launched another oldster on the path of easy riches and claimed the theory had been proved successful.

Merchants who participated in the "velocity dollar" ventures professed surprise over the amount of gains claimed but conceded they had received "a lot of good advertising."

Not Being Tested

"The Townsend plan is not being tested—it has been proved to be good," said Isom Lamb, test backer and head of the pension organization in this county.

A month ago Lamb gave Curtis C. Fleming, 63, jobless orchard worker, $200 in currency to spend. A 12-day shopping spree brought Fleming and his wife, Elizabeth, luxuries they had not known for years—new clothes, a well-filled larder, recreation and publicity.

About Same Results

Two weeks ago Mrs. Retta Freeman, 67 received $200 in checks from Chelan's merchants and spent it with about the same results as Fleming obtained.

In each case the merchants contributed 2 per cent of the amount of the pensioners' purchases to a fund which was supposed to raise money for other pensions.

At the end of the Fleming test the tax fund ostensibly contained only $23 and the Freeman checks a little less than that.

However, Lamb in announcing a contribution to another tester, said the honor tax from the two initial experiments had increased to more than $400.

Lamb explained that he had withheld 90 per cent of the "honor tax" money to redeem the $200 in checks given to Mrs. Freeman and the script given Mrs. Anne Pilsen, 69, the new pensioner. He said this reserve exceeded $400.

General Walk-Out-Threatens Pennsylvania Hosiery Center

READING, Pa., Feb. 17. (AP)—Promise of a general walk-out affecting 12,000 workers and 20 mills hung over the Berks county hosiery center today unless a four and one half months old strike at the Berkshire Knitting Mills, Wyomissing, is settled before March 1.

Members of branch 10 of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers voted last night to call the county-wide sympathy strike.

Rioting and disorders accompanying the Berkshire strike resulted in the death of one man, critical wounding of another and injuries to many others, most of them pickets.

The Berkshire strike was called October 1 in protest of alleged violations of a voluntary NRA code.

Problem Of Undelivered Mail Is Solved; Mailman Burned It

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The problem of Sheepshead Bay's undelivered mail has been solved. Postal Inspector W. L. Swain declared today, with arrest of Mailman Henry M. Briggs.

Swain said Briggs had been throwing mail into incinerators rather than deliver it "because my feet hurt."

STOMACH SUFFERERS

If you are suffering from indigestion, atonic dyspepsia, sour stomach, gas pains, "raw stomach," inflammation of the intestines (enteritis), gastric acidity and sick headaches, due to excessive acidity, you can't afford to ignore these warning signs.

Doctor's Prescription

You should try at once the Doctor's Prescription, known as Gasa Tablets. If you allow these conditions to become worse, the acids may eat into the delicate mucous membrane of your stomach and intestine and possibly cause dangerous ulcers. Gasa Tablets are pleasant to take and they start to work in just a few minutes to give gentle, effective relief of pain and discomfort caused by excessive acidity. They soothe the raw, inflamed lining of the "acid stomach" and help convert starchy foods into dextrose, which is so essential to energy of the body, and preservation of health.

Your Money Back If You Are Not Satisfied

Because of their remarkable success in many cases of acidity, and digestive troubles resulting from acid conditions, Gasa Tablets are offered now to sufferers under a guarantee that the first bottle must produce results or money back. For only a few cents a day, you may now have the benefits of this Doctor's Prescription which has helped so many other sufferers to a greater joy of living. Ask your druggist today for Gasa Tablets. Take just one or two of those quick-acting, soothing, antacid tablets and see how they help your stomach to "tackle a hearty meal." At the John Halsey Drug Co. Adv.

Job Ahead In U. S. Is Cited

John C. Page, U. S. Reclamation Commissioner, Points To Water Conservation And Control As Huge Task

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 17.—John C. Page, United States commissioner of reclamation, said today that this country has a tremendous job before it in conservation and control of its waters.

"It has taken four major disasters in quick succession to bring us to the point where we are ready to consider the problem of conservation and control of water on a national scale," Page said in an address before the Associated General Contractors of America in convention here.

Have Brought Realization

"This is a young nation which is just beginning to mature. . . . The terrible drouths of 1934 and 1936 in the Great Plains area, and the floods of unprecedented destructiveness in the east in 1936 and in the Ohio valley this year have brought a realization that our carefree days are over.

"It was as though young America had been speeding down a broad highway finding on either side new frontiers, easily conquered and rich beyond expectation, for so long a time that the assumption grew that the road would never have an ending. Suddenly, however, in full view is the end of the road."

Report Points Way

Page pointed out that this caused the president recently to transmit to congress a significant report by the National Resources committee on public works planning. He said it pointed the way toward an orderly future program of public construction and also included the first comprehensive inventory of our national water problems and projects.

He said that because our water problems are so varied and wide flung, the tremendous volume of construction which will be necessary to overcome them almost staggers the imagination. Dams and protective works are needed, wells and pipelines are required, sewers and sewage treatment plants are necessary, locks and channel improvements must be constructed and reservoirs and canals must be built.

Aquarium Is Not Interested When Your Fish Passes

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Have you a little fish in your home?

Well, if he dies don't send him to the New York aquarium and ask for an autopsy report.

A lot of people do, and C. W. Coates, the curator, wants it made plain the aquarium is definitely not interested in dead fish.

The youthful curator who guides the destinies of 10,000 live fish assembled from all parts of the world said he and his staff are confronted with socres of questions from amateur ichthyologists every day and the most common is:

"My fish died. Why?"

"They don't always send the body to prove it," Coates said, "but quite often they do. And by the time it reaches us it is uually in such a condition that we are totally unable to work up any enthusiasm about it.

"A great many people who write in asking why their fish died neglect to say what kind of a fish it was. We assume it was a goldfish and list the three chief causes of death: improper feeding, insufficient water, and sudden changes of water temperature."

TYPHOID SHOWS DECLINE

AUSTIN, Feb. 17. (AP)—Dr. George W. Cox state health officer, said today Texas deaths from typhoid fever showed a marked decline in 1936 for the first time in the past five years.

The orang-utan, one of the great apes, builds its nest high in the trees and frequently builds a new one each night.

FROM STOPPED-UP NOSTRILS

The mucous membranes in his nostrils are extremely delicate. He may suffer lasting injury if he keeps on sniffling or tries to blow out the accumulated mucus by brute force.

He will thank you later on if you teach him this much gentler and cleaner method to break up the mucus. Have him insert a little Mentholatum in his nostrils.

It is surprising how gently and quickly Mentholatum breaks up accumulated mucus. The stuffiness is soon relieved, the breathing becomes freer, and comfort is soon restored.

CORRECT WAY OF "BUMPING" A FRIEND'S CAR
TO START IT

YOUR car that is going to do the pushing should be in LOW gear.

The car ahead that you are going to push should be in HIGH gear, with the clutch pedal DOWN.

If possible, get in position where one side of the car behind is about in line with center of the car ahead. This helps if bumpers lock. Car with bumper on top should try to get over the edge of a curb or other high spot that lifts bumper and permits parting. Or the same thing can be accomplished if car with bumper on bottom is maneuvered to a low drain or other depression.

Tell your friend not to let his clutch pedal up until you actually have his car MOVING.

At best this is hard on your car, but it is a friendly act that you would not deny a fellow-motorist marooned by cold. He has troubles enough of his own, with a freshly-killed battery, flooded engine, and sheepish feeling—to say nothing of wasted gasoline.

If you push long enough his engine may finally start, just as it would have done in the very first place, on Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze—the same sort of Winter friend that you are.

Brown Bomber Takes Opponent Apart In Methodical Style; Referee Bates On Floor As Abbreviated Bout Ends

By WHITNEY MARTIN

MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, Kansas City, Feb. 17 (AP)—Although it ended with the flavor of a wrestling match, Joe Louis, Detroit's negro boxing man, was credited with a fourth round knockout tonight in his scheduled ten round duel with Natie Brown, Washington, D. C., heavyweight.

In the uproar with Referee Walter Bates, himself on the floor, it appeared to be a technical knockout but afterwards Bates said the count of ten had been completed by the official timekeeper while the befuddled Brown was on the floor from a crushing right.

To the roars of an estimated crowd of 14,000, noisy after three rather tame rounds, Louis methodically pummeled the Washington veteran with rights and lefts in the first 40 seconds of the fourth. Brown, his pale face a puffy cushion, dropped to a sitting position.

"Pul's Referee's Leg"

Seemingly a badly dazed man, Brown, who once before had gone ten full rounds with Louis, attempted to hoist himself to his feet by grasping Referee Bates' leg. Instead he pulled Bates down.

Brown finally hoisted himself to his feet, staggered about like a man hit quite abruptly with a mallet. Bates arose, rushed over to a neutral corner, where Louis had strolled with nonchalance of a stevedore returning for another bag of sugar after dumping one in a ship's hold, and held Louis' arm aloft.

The first two rounds were comparatively peaceful. Brown did what little leading was done. Louis, his face a mask of boredom, stalking his lighter foe.

Blows To Face Tell

Soon after the start of the third round the Detroit bomber began to connect with short choppy lefts and rights to the face which drove Brown to cover. As the round ended Brown was partially through the ropes, his left arm upraised in a pitiful effort at defense.

Louis went to work almost with the bell at the start of the fourth. No one punch teed up Brown for a knockout drive. Rather, it was a flurry of jolting rights and lefts to Brown's swollen features. Fifteen times the bomber landed without a return, and Brown collapsed more from the cumulative effects of the barrage rather than from any particular blow.

The victory again established Louis as the bomber of old, in a measure making up for his indifferent showing in his bout with the comparatively verdant Bob Pastor, whom Louis couldn't catch for 10 rounds, although he won the decision for trying.

The gross gate tonight was announced as $27,135. Louis received $8,826.84, as his end. Brown received $3,310, in addition to a fair shellacking. In their first meeting in 1935 Brown stayed 10 rounds with Louis, although badly beaten.

Broken Nose Is Just One Of Schoolboy Rowe's Worries; Fears Wife And Zeke Bonura

HOT SPRING, Ark., Feb. 17. (AP)—A broken nose received in an automobile crackup is only one of the worries of Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, Detroit Tiger pitcher.

The rangy Arkansan expressed confidence the injury "can't affect my pitching" but knitted his brow at the thought of what his wife would say about the mishap, and how he could strike out Zeke Bonura, Chicago White Sox first baseman.

Resting at a hotel here, he recalled that before leaving his El Dorado home his wife told him "to be sure and be careful about accidents."

Ralls Noses Out Lamesa For Title

TAHOKA, Feb. 17. (Special)—It took five seconds tonight to decide the basketball supremacy of district 5-B in favor of Ralls.

Lamesa and Ralls, winners of their halves of the district, had split the first two of a three-game playoff, necessitating a third game.

That game, played in the Tahoka gym tonight, was knotted intermittently. In the last few seconds there was a double foul, Riddle of Lamesa and Wright of Ralls faced the toe line for gratis shots. Wright scored, deadlocking the count at 26-all. A moment later, "Beans" Reed sank a free shot after being fouled by Easterwood, crack Lamesa guard, and the Ralls man's goal proved the winning margin. The ball was worked quickly to the Lamesa end of the court and was shot, but rolled around the hoop and out.

The game was one of the most thrilling every played here.

Giants Set Sail For Havana And Spring Training Grind

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17. (AP)—A million dollars worth of baseball players, under current ratings of baseball flesh, sailed today aboard the steamship Contessa for Havana where the New York Giants will hold spring training.

They were an impressive contingent of the Giants roster and all were agreed that the St. Louis Cardinals would be the team to beat for the National League pennant in 1937.

Babe Dahlgren Is 'Insurance' On Lou Gehrig

Yanks Determined To Put Club On Field, Lou Or No Lou; Purchase First Sacker From Red Sox To Be Sure

BY SCOTTY RESTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The New York Yankees purchased First Baseman Ellsworth (Babe) Dahlgren from the Boston Red Sox as protection against a prolonged holdout by Lou Gehrig.

This was the Yankees' first official indication that they will open the American League season without Gehrig rather than pay him the $50,000 he has demanded.

After Gehrig's refusal to accept the $31,000 contract offered him by the Yankees, owner Jacob Ruppert angirly announced: "We'll put a team on the club who can't be replaced." The purchase of Dahlgreh was generally accepted as evidence of Ruppert's determination to back up his words with action.

From Frisco To Sox

Dahlgren played with Syracuse in the International league last year. He batted .318 and fielded .990. He is 24 years old, 6 feet tall and weighs 190 pounds.

Except in size and defense ability, Dahlgren hardly compares with Gehrig. He came to the Boston Red Sox from the San Francisco Missions in 1934 and played regularly at first base the following year, hitting .263 in 149 games. His fielding was sensational but the Sox wanted more power. Consequently Dahlgren was shipped off when the Bostons acquired Jimmie Foxx from the Athletics. He was recalled for a trip south with the Red Sox this spring.

Gomez Still Out

The Yankee took one other step to clear up the holdout situation today when Col. Ruppert and Pitcher Lefty Gomez tried to agree on terms.

"I offered Gomez $12,500, and he asked for $18,000," Ruppert said. "I also told him $12,500 was my last offer. He was very nice about it, but he wants too much money."

There was still no indication today that Gehrig intends to discuss terms again with Ruppert. It is generally conceded the Yankees are willing to pay Gehrig $36,000. This represents a $5,000 increase.

DODGERS RELEASE WATKINS

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today announced the unconditional release of George Watkins, veteran outfielder. Watkins probably will give up baseball in favor of his sporting goods business at Houston, Tex.

CASE ACE WINS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17. (AP)—Case Ace galloped to an easy win in a final tune-up today for the $50,000 Santa Anita derby next week, sprinting the six furlongs in 1:11 3-5. Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' crack 3 year old finished 2 1-2 lengths ahead of L. W. Kidd's Sky Wind.

Watkins Takes Jerry—But Not In Two Rounds

Jerry Markus, the jabbering Jewish fighter, pulled a "Bob Pastor" last night, bicycling backward for the better part of half an hour and stayed with Kirby Watkins for three falls in the main wrestling event at the Auditorium.

An almost-capacity crowd came away satisfied with their box office investment but a bit downcast over the Sailor's inability to get the job done in shorter time.

Markus Fools 'Em

Jerry, for whom the funeral bells were all set to ring, fooled the customers and Watkins, too, by using his head and staying out of Watkins' reach. When they did come to clinches, Markus worried Tex more than somewhat by exploring the Watkins eyes with fingers and foreign substances. Everything from nails to screwdrivers seemed to be concealed in Jerry's trunks, and deftly he used them to advantage.

The Hebrew outsmarted Watkins something pitifully to win the second fall. Tex took the first in 17 minutes with his pet play—the headlock and corner rush. He had Jerry stretched out like a sidewalk with a couple of these. He used the same thing to win the third fall in 13 minutes, but there was an accident between these times.

After fast and furious exchanges of bites, chokes, fists and feet, Watkins got his head-in-the-corner hold again, and rushed Jerry once. He got the hold again and started across the ring. But Jerry stopped suddenly, slipped away, and sent Watkins shooting through the ropes and into the patrons. As he attempted to regain the ring, Jerry pushed aside Referee Isaac Clements and booted Watkins out again. Once he helped him back in, grabbed a Watkins arm, gave him the old "buster" over the shoulder, and Watkins yelled for help. He was played out, his back was hurt, and he was slowed up.

Haddock, Joe Draw

They almost pinned each other with legitimate wrestling holds in the third round, gave up wrestling and started fighting in earnest. But Markus surprised the folks by staying in the race, holding his own. He was not beaten nearly as badly as the cash customers hoped. At the finish, he was yelling and jabbering, protesting loudly and demonstrating furiously to one and all that his shoulders were NOT flat when the official counted him out.

Dale Haddock, the Detroit demon, started the back-pedalling movement when he wrestled Yaqui Joe in the semi-final. He was outside the ropes half the time, but it was a right snappy scrap. Haddock was possessed with deadly fear of the long, limber legs, and he ran all over the ring to elude Yaqui's flying drop kicks. It was fifteen minutes before he got the hold, and then Haddock rowed for the ropes.

Andy's Drop Kick Wins

They went to a draw, winding it up with a flurry of fists as Joe got serious about the slugging business. He was punishing Haddock smartly at the gong.

Andy Tremaine polished off Jittery Joe Bauer in 12 minutes of their scheduled 20-minute preliminary. Andy was slow to get started, but once he was peeved at Joe's repeated illegal attacks, he went to work with fists and drop kicks, planted one solidly to the Bauer button and covered him up for the fall.

Desperate Texas Tech Cagers Prepare For Friday And Saturday Series Here

Tempe Club Due Here Today; Loss Would Eliminate Tech

Their backs against the wall and with a single defeat spelling virtual elimination from the 1937 Border conference basketball race, the Texas Tech Raiders are nervously preparing for an important series beginning tomorrow night here with the Arizona State club of Tempe.

Coach Berl Huffman's team, faced with the job of playing four hard games in five nights, must take the Tempe Bulldogs Friday and Saturday night and then capture a series next Monday and Tuesday nights from the University of Arizona Wildcats in order to retain a mathematical chance at the title.

Aggies, Lobos Lead

Even then, it is not certain that Tech could win. University of New Mexico and New Mexico Aggies, leading the league now, must divide some of their remaining series before Tech has anything like a good chance to regain the title it lost to University of Arizona last year.

The Tempe Bulldogs, coached by Earl "Powerhouse" Pomeroy, are expected here today. They defeated Tech, 39 to 38, in Tempe last week, after losing the first game to the Red Raiders, 34-36.

Featuring the Tempe attack are Kenneth Heywood, 6 foot, 1 inch forward, and Worth Phelps, 6-3 center. In the games with Tech, Heywood scored 13 points each night, Phelps making 8 both nights. Harold Clemence, Melvin Owens, and Marvin Palmer, all of them over six feet, are probable starters with Clyde Phillips due to play some at guard.

Two of the Jones Boys

Then there are the Jones boys, Earl, a 6-foot, 3-inch center, and Hank, 6-foot forward, who are capable of doing a lot of goal shooting and defensive work.

Coach Huffman shifted his lineup during the eight-day trip on which the Raiders won three games, and has not announced his starting team for tomorrow night's game. The club is in good shape physically and should be at the top of its season during the next four games, which wind up the Raider schedule.

COOPER WINS TWO

Cooper Rural Hith school made a double killing Wednesday night, its senior girls and boys winning over New Deal Rural High school opposition at New Deal. The games were season finals.

The boys game was 22 to 19, the girls game 16 to 12.

Max Hilton of Cooper was high point man in the boys game, Naomi Johnson of Cooper in the girls.

Russell Denison and Mrs. W. H. McKelvy are boys and girls coaches, respectively.

Arizona Wildcats Head This Way For Games With Tech In Defense Of Title

(Special To The Avalanche)

TUCSON, Feb. 17.—The University of Arizona Wildcats, defending Border conference basketball champions, will make the last stand in defense of their title, won a year ago, on a road trip which opens with games in El Paso, Texas, this week-end against the Texas Miners.

Returned to full strength by the recovery from illness of Marion Coltrin, varsity floor guard and all-conference selection of the 1936 season, Fred Enke's Cat cagers will play a two-game series Monday and Tuesday in Lubbock with Texas Tech, and in Albuquerque, N. M., with New Mexico university.

Hope For Split Here

The Wildcats fully expect to earn two victories over the Miners, but hold hope only for split series with both the Tech Raiders and New Mexico Lobos. Arizona split a series here last week-end with the New Mexico Aggies, circuit leaders at present, who have been defeated once by the Raiders. The Cats were able to win one of a two-game series here two weeks ago with the Lobos when both teams were in poor shape. It is believed here that the opportunity to win all of the Tech and Lobo games is slender.

Only by defeating New Mexico university, now in second place in the title race standings, can the Arizona Wildcats expect to enter a position favorable to their hopes of retaining the loop crown. Should the New Mexico Aggies run rampant through their remaining foes, Tempe, New Mexico university, and Texas Mines, Arizona will have to be content in second or third place in the final rankings.

Di Grazia, Jackson Star

Lorry Di Grazia, small, and fleet forward of the Cat squad is leading his teammates in scoring with a total of 86 points to date for 10 games. All-conference selection and among the first 10 high scorers for the 1936 season, Di Grazia is in eighth place in the current standings. He precedes George Jackson, forward, who has been rated among the current 10 high, in tenth place. Jackson is second high scorer on the Arizona squad with 79 points.

The Arizona squad is probably in the finest shape it has been this season with the return of Coltrin. His play in the Aggy series appeared as unfaltering as before his illness, and although somewhat lighter, Coltrin apparently did not lose any of his strength and will be in top condition for the approaching road trip.

Jackson To Be Feared

During the past few weeks Jackson has developed into a faster floor man and a surer shot, and in addition has been used in the guard position. Normally he relieves Ralph Warford, Cat captain, at the left forward position.

Coach Enke's starting line-up on the trip probably will be in its old arrangement: Di Grazia and Warford forwards; John Barringer at center; and Coltrin and Walter Helm in the guard posts.

It is likely that the Arizona road squad will comprise 10 men.

Lubbock Boxer Loses Final Bout In Clovis Tournament

CLOVIS, N. M., Feb. 17. (AP)—Chick Moore, hard-hitting scrapper from Dalhart, Tex., knocked out Doc Denham of Tucumcari N. M., in the second round here tonight to win the class A light heavyweight championship in the New Mexico-Texas A. A. U. golden gloves boxing tournament.

Tommy Slack of Canyon, Tex., won the Class B title in the same division with a first round kayo over Hall Rowe Littlefield, Tex.

Bert Southern, Melrose, N. M., kayoed Bert Tankersley of Lubbock, in the second and took the Class A middleweight title while the Class B championship went to Bill Witcher of Melrose with a first round knockout over Archie Hogden, Portales, N. M.

Fred Apostoli Wins Decision Over Solly Krieger In Ten

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Fred Apostoli, sharpshooting San Francisco middleweight, punched out a decisive 10-round victory tonight over Solly Krieger, rugged Brooklyn scrapper, in the main event of the fight card at the Hippodrome before a crowd of 4,500 spectators.

Apostoli scaled 159 1-4, Krieger 160 1-4.

Mustangs Beat Baylor, Boost Hopes In Loop

Bears Go Down, 20-25, In Last Home Game; Norton, White Share Honors; Baylor Cubs Beat Colts, 28-17

(By The Associated Press)

WACO, Feb. 17.—The Southern Methodist Mustang basketeers proved their championship calibre before the largest crowd of the season tonight by defeating the Baylor Bears, 25 to 20, in the final appearance of the green and gold team on its home court.

Air-tight defensive play by the Ponies and accurate shooting from the foul line by J. D. Norton, sophomore ace, had most to do with the S. M. U. victory. Norton sank his first five chances to keep the Mustangs ahead early in the contest. They led by a margin of 14 to 12 at the end of the first half.

Norton gathered a brace of field goals and his five gratis heaves for a total of nine points to lead the S. M. U. outfit at scoring. Bill Blanton and Billy Dewell chipped in seven apiece. Blanton's brilliant floor play was a feature of the game.

Bear Ace Top Scorer

Wilson White of Baylor emerged high point man with four field goals and three free throws for a total of 11 counters. Ken Clark turned in another of his great games at guard for the Bears before going out on fouls in the second half.

The first half was a nip and tuck affair all the way but the Mustangs slowly drew away in the second half and had the contest iced long before it was over.

In a curtain-raiser, the Baylor Cubs trounced the S. M. U. colts by a 28 to 17 score. Creasey of the Cubs paced scorers with ten while Jones tallied eight for the colts.

Rice Beats Steers And Take 2nd Place

HOUSTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Maxie Campbell, gangling guard for Jimmy Kitt's Owls, sunk two field goals in rapid succession tonight to give the Owls a 40-35 victory over Texas university. The decision lifted the Owls into undisputed second place in the Southwest conference race and dropped the Longhorns from title consideration this season.

Jack Gray's quintet stepped out to an early lead, but a Rice rally just before half time reduced the Steer lead to a single point. Again the Longhorns moved to five point advantage in the second half, but that closing spurt in the last three minutes was too much for the visitors.

The game, packed with action, was well officiated by Jack Sisco and Ziggy Sears. The officials permitted the boys to do a bit of body contact and the crowd liked it.

Nurmi's Potpie And Szabo's Pork Dinner Turn Out Same

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—What a veal potpie was to Paavo Nurmi, a pork dinner was to Miklos Szabo, star Hungarian runner who made his American debut at Boston last Saturday.

Choc Sportsman, coach of the Texas Rideout twins, revealed the incident which paralleled the famous Nurmi mistake of a dozen years ago. Nurmi's veal potpie, consumed before an important 5,000-meter race here in 1925, caused him to collapse and suffer his only defeat of an American tour at the hands of Willie Ritola.

Saturday Szabo partook liberally of pork and gravy some three hours before starting the two-mile race at Boston. When Don Lash crossed the finish line in world record time, the Hungarian was nowhere to be seen. Sportsman and those who heard him agreed the dinner may explain his poor showing.

PATTY BERG WINS

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 17. (AP)—Patty Berg, freckled favorite from Minneapolis, eliminated Jean Bauer of Providence, from the annual women's golf tournament today six and four.

"The Gingham Girl" Is To Be Given Friday Night At 8 O'Clock At Senior High; Is Musical Comedy

Senior High school's graduating class is on its tip toe today getting last minute details arranged for the annual class play, "The Gingham Girl," to be presented tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Senior High school auditorium. Proceeds from the play will go toward financing the school yearbook, "The 1937 Westerner," since the Senior class assumes responsibility for the book's production each year.

As "The Gingham Girl" is a Broadway hit of several seasons ago. The 1937 class is undertaking something new in producing a musical comedy that is modern in its setting, costumes, dialogue and song hits. Miss Lula Mae Cravens is the dramatic director; Mrs. Waldo Trotter the musical director; Miss Beulah Dunn, director of the orchestra; and Mrs. Lellesse Kirby, director of the dances.

Ban For Year On Broadway

Originally "The Gingham Girl" was produced by Schwab and Kusel at the Earl Carrol Theater where it ran for one year. The story of the production includes the entanglements which ensue when a simple country girl, played by Lenora Shaffer, gets into big business in New York all because of a cookie recipe. The part of the country boy from Crossville Corners who goes to New York to make his fortune is played by Stanley Young.

Other characters include: Wilson Dickson, Othie Upton, J. W. Gamble, Mary Grace Ellison, Jack Delahunty, Betty Lee Lindsey, Fern Newton, Jeanne Roane, Henrietta Bowlin, Orville Stewart, Joe Horne, Claribel Lee, Mildred Mitchell, Lurline Tarlton, Mary Ruth Hufstedler, Helen Robinson, Lois Jane McDonald, Gwendolyn McKinnon, Catherine Dykes, Carolyn Seale, Gertrude Claiborne, Geraldine Philips, Dorothy Smith, Murray Venable, Rebecca Butler, Ramon Tapp, Phyllis Higley, Doris Sanders, Margaret Schroeder, Anna Mae Slack and Levelle Allen.

Throughout the production music will be furnished by the Senior High school orchestra.

James Heald is stage manager, assisted by Lonnie McCurry and Bob Ritchie. Mary Elsie Parrish is to be prompter, and Ida Rule Duff the make-up artist.

Scenery has been designed and settings arranged by Phyllis Higley and Tom Ramsey.

T. C. Root, Tech Professor, Is Speaker At Rotary's Luncheon

A humorous treatment of "present and future trends of business" based on a series of non-related charts and indices, was given the Rotary club yesterday noon at the Hotel Lubbock by Prof. T. C. Root, Texas Technological college. The "facts and figures," on the charts were supported by extensive notes sprinkled through with items that were designed to entertain tired business men.

Dr. T. H. McMichael, Monmouth, Ill., Rotarian and president emeritus of Monmouth college, a United Presbyterian school, spoke briefly on the aims and objectives of Rotary. A charter member of his club, he has attended a number of Rotary International conventions, both at home and abroad. Dr. MaMichael was the guest of Dr. Charles J. Wagner.

Don L. Jones, vice president, presided in the absence of President Kenneth Oberholtzer, W. C. Cole was program chairman for the day. Lonnie McClary, with three high school senior girls, gave a brief program to announce the annual senior play Friday night.

Prize Pooches Vie For Canine Kingship

Of course, a dog show wouldn't be complete without a Great Dane-Chihuahua picture, but little Don Juan Alfonso seems about to put a flea in the ear of Steinbacher's King regarding photographers.

That wrapped look on Cecilie of Ettie Haven reflects her owners' pride in the tiny Chihuahua's prize ring achievements as indicated by the ribbons that decorate her comfortable bed. But she's far from the whole Westminster Kennel Club show in New York.

The dog show must give Cliffside Goldenrod a big kick, for he submits happily to the ministrations of Catherine Captain in preparation for judging of the Pomeranian Class.

Lorenzo Planning Extended Program Of Soil Treatment

LORENZO, Feb. 17.—(Special.)—Evening schools established in theory the value of combatting wind and water erosion control in Crosby county—and commissioners of the county fell in line with an outgrowth of suggestions.

Saturday, a diesel catapillar tractor equipped with a 12-foot grader blade, will be unloaded here to mark beginning of an ambitious program of terracing and contouring.

Farmers To Pay Costs

It is estimated that a much greater acreage than the 10,700 already contracted will be pledged in the new program. Expenses of which will be paid for by farmers, on an hourly basis.

The county bought the new equipment on its credit, but farmers are expected to absorb the cost. The tractor will not be used for road maintenance.

To Arrange Schedule

Lorenzo farmers will meet at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning to determine where first work will be done and to assist in making a schedule of work.

Work will be conducted under direction of the county farm agent Ralph Howe of Crosbyton.

The program will be initiated Monday, and it conservatively was estimated costs an acre would not exceed 50 cents.

Alaskan Visitors Witness Weather Variety; Tropical On West Coast, Sandy Here

Randal Polk of Anchorage, Alaska, accompanied by his wife, who is making her first visit to the United States, arrived at Lubbock Wednesday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. T. Polk or route 1.

Ice and snow in Washington and Oregon, grapefruit and oranges growing in the semi-tropics of Califorina, the deserts of Arizona and New Mexico, and a suspended desert in the form of a dust storm in West Texas, encountered in traveling from Washington, prevented Mrs. Polk, Alaskan born and reared, from forming an all-inclusive opinion of the United States, she said.

Polk, now an employe of a clothing store in Anchorage, a town of about 3,000 inhabitants, is a former resident of Lubbock, having been graduated from high school here. Six years ago he moved to Alaska.

He was married four years ago, and this is his first visit to Lubbock since. This is his wife's first trip out of Alaska.

They traveled to Seattle, Wash., by boat and train, and completed their 5,000-mile trip by automobile.

They will visit friends and relatives of Polk three months before returning to their home.

Morgan To Resign Democratic Treasurership On March 15

"However," he said, "I will not be able to give my full time to the Institute until after my resignation as treasurer of the National committee becomes effective."

By March 15, Morgan said he expected the deficit of the Democratic National committee, currently at $430,000, would be paid off.

Dallas Officer Now "Nation's Biggest Cop," But Through No Fault Of His Own

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 17. — Sure enough Sergeant Patrick J. Kelly of the Summit N. J., police force has lost the title of "nation's biggest cop," but it's not the fault of the recrowned champion, B. B. "Tiny" Gardner, Dallas patrolman, because "Tiny" has been trying to reduce.

"I ride motorcycles for exercise," said "Tiny" as he heaved his 393 pounds on a scale for a "weighing in" this morning.

Sergeant Kelly went to a hospital Jan. 27 and was put on a diet. When he reported at headquarters last night he found he scaled only 388 pounds. Formerly he pushed the needle around 429.

"Tiny" used to ride in a patrol car, but he had so much trouble getting in and out he was assigned to the jail. Lately he has faced angry traffic violators whose automobiles have been brought to the police garage.

He took news of his laurels this morning matter-of-factly.

"You see," he said, "I held the title for five years. Then Kelly passed me. He'll probably pass me again when he gets back on his feed."

Collegiately clad in his fur coat, the skunk wandered into the boiler room of the school, near here, and surprised John Parker, a teacher, as he was eating lunch.

Parker vacated quickly.

"BLACK-DRAUGHT IS PURELY VEGETABLE" —What Does That Mean?

A great many things can cause constipation and there are many remedies to relieve it, but possibly none more popular than the "vegetable" laxatives.

Among these, Black-Draught is outstanding. In its manufacture, leaves of a certain plant are used, and the roots of certain others. These are dried so they will keep without preservatives . . . no other chemical change from the way they grew in "Mother Nature's medicine garden." By their being finely ground, the digestive system extracts the active medicine right where it is needed. Constipation is relieved.

Black-Draught is so economical that a 25-cent package averages upwards of 25 doses.—Adv.

A Wolf In Sheep's Clothes

COMING up for discussion and possible action by the Texas legislature within the next few days is ratification of the federal child labor law amendment. If and when Texas, New York and eight other states vote ratification, the child labor law, federally administered, will become the law of the land from one end to the other.

The child labor amendment is probably the most misleading piece of legislation to face this nation in two generations.

Because it sounds "perfectly wonderful" that the government plans to safeguard our children "from the mill, the sweat shop and the foundry," nice old ladies are ready to tear their hair for it and women's clubs, all but suffocated with the desire to do some "uplifting," wear out fountain pens signing petitions calling for ratification of the amendment.

As a matter of fact, the child labor amendment is a wolf in sheep's clothing.

What it would do is give the United United States government in Washington absolute domination over every boy and girl in the land up to the age of 18 years. According to the letter of the law, South Plains farm families could not, under the amendment, legally use their own children in the raising and gathering of their crops. According to the letter of the law, a Lubbock father wanting his 16-year old son to learn something of the ways of business, could not permit that boy to take a summer job as an office boy, as a filling station "grease monkey," as a newspaper carrier boy, or as a bicycle delivery boy. In other words, the government would make it illegal for a boy—or a girl—to begin early in life to learn the value of a dollar earned, or for a parent to early inculcate in the minds of his children some of the facts of a work-a-day world.

Do not be misled by the guff and the slush which hides the true situation as regards the child labor law.

Do not overlook that, spawned in Chicago's radical Hull House it has the undivided support of parlor pinks and communist organizations which foster any idea to regiment American youth.

The child labor amendment is an under-cover movement to take direction of American child life from the parents and turn it over to a governmental bureau—and that's all it is, despite its "window dressing."

And its ratification in Texas should be vigorously opposed.

ANOTHER BEAUTIFUL THEORY

A reader, in a letter to the Editor of The Morning Avalanche, remarked the other day that if the government spent more money on free adult schools and less on direct relief it would be doing a better job of rehabilitation and that the expenditures thus made would reap more and certain dividends.

One would think that a correct statement—a good idea, for on the surface, it sounds logical.

But what happens in practice?

Something entirely different.

C. A. Sumner and S. M. Wilson, who have charge of a free adult school held five nights per week in the Lubbock county courthouse, were in to see the Editor yesterday.

They asked for — and will receive — some news concerning their classes and their endeavors. They need public attention to the school, they said, because it is not being patronized as it should. Too many adults, indicated Mr. Wilson, who has taught school for a generation, will not take the opportunity of learning, even if it is offered to them. He believes, he says, some publicity in the papers might help.

There is the situation in a nutshell.

As "you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink," you can offer the average citizen numerous opportunities to improve his knowledge and, eventually, his economic station, but you can't make him think—at least, not without an argument.

Like many another fine idea the plan to improve the minds of those of us who have the time to spend upon mental improvement and who need direction to do it, isn't worth much in practice.

Human nature sets as hard as concrete.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in Heaven.

Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you. They have their reward. St. Matthew VI, 1-2.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Surrendering the throne of Northumbra for the love of ARDATH RICHMOND, Canadian-born actress, KING PAUL I becomes private citizen PAUL FERRONE, buys a charming villa on the Bay St. Francis and believes he is a free man at last.

But quickly he finds he is not free after all. For the eyes of the world continue to pry in on him; there is no stimulation in the vacuous COUNTESS DI MARCO, REGGIE VAN TWYNE and the gay resort crowd; life lacks a purpose.

So Paul takes the advice of his old tutor, DR. SONDERS, tours Europe. Next he considers buying a ranch in Canada. After that he buys a sailing ship. But restlessness ever hangs over him. Eventually Ardath begins to fear Paul is bored with her. One day Paul ridicules her social set.

As the weeks roll on, lazy, purposeless weeks, Paul and Ardath quarrel. Paul takes to the refuge of his boat more and more. Then one day he thinks he has the solution—they should have a child. Eagerly Paul tells Ardath. "Paul, are you insane?" she cries. "Why—it might kill me."

As he turns away, badly shaken, Paul feels for the first time that surrendering his throne was a terrible mistake.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IX

An expensive orchestra from Paris played the song hit of the year, "I'd Give Up My Throne for You." Japanese lanterns festooned the wide grounds of the Villa San Margarete. Now and then a sleek motor car would glide in through the outer gates to deposit some latecomers. And Paul and Ardath stood side by side on the terrace below the balcony, greeting their guests.

It seemed to Paul as if the entire population of the villas along the shore of Bay St. Francis must be there. All the friends and acquaintances of whom he had seen so much during the past year had passed down the receiving line; in addition there were people he had never seen before, friends of his friends and acquaintances of his acquaintances. Ardath and the Countess di Marco had made up the list of guests; it looked, he decided gloomily, as if they had simply taken the postman's summer directory and copied off the names verbatim.

The last guest had finally arrived and been greeted. Reggie Van Twyne detached himself from a group at the improvised bar and sauntered over to the host and hostess.

"What you need's a master of ceremonies," he said. "Want me to act for you? I'll get the party rollin'."

He turned away and mounted to the temporary platform where the orchestra was holding forth. He whispered to the director, and the drummer beat a long roll to command attention. The guests clustered about the dance floor that had been laid on the lawn and looked up, expectant.

"Friends, Romans and countrymen, including the Scandinavian," said Reggie, swaying a trifle. "We are here tonight to celebrate a 'spicious occasion. This is a great anniversary and we've got to treat it right.

"Exactly one year ago tonight our host"—he bowed and gestured freely toward Paul, who stood near the orchestra with Ardath's arm linked in his—"our host stepped down from his lofty pinnacle and became one of the boys. He threw away his stuffed shirt and put vine leaves in his hair. He quit being king of Northumbra in order to become what nature meant him to be—the prince of good fellows. Ladies, gentlemen and camp followers, I give you our host—his royal highness, Paul, king of the pleasure coast—an' our hostess, the lady his wife, her royal highness, Ardath, the queen of love an' beauty!"

He raised both arms and a shrill cheer, mingled with gay shouts of laughter, went up from the lawn. Reggie patted the orchestra leader on the back and climbed down.

"Did I give you a send-off?" he asked Paul and Ardath. "People, when I open a party it stays opened." He looked up at Paul solicitously. "My frien', what you need is a drink. Come with me an' get it."

Paul followed him to the bar and obediently took the glass which was promptly placed in his hand.

"Didn't know about the program we got fixed up, did you?" Reggie asked him. "The countess an' I did it. Ardath told us to go ahead. She gave us carte blanche. An' mister, when you see it . . ." He looked triumphantly at his host and jabbed him solemnly in the waistcoat with a forefinger. "Young girls have gone to jail an' strong men've left home for less than is going to be done here tonight."

This, Paul concluded two hours later, was no exaggeration. Performers from all the hot spots within a 100-mile radius seemed to have been pressed into service. There were blues singers, torch singers, and singers whose ditties might have brought blushes to the ears of cash customers at a stag smoker. There were fan dancers, muscle dancers, and just plain dancers whose talents, as far as Paul could see, consisted solely in an extraordinary willingness to perform without any clothes at all.

A young man at Paul's eblow looked appreciatively at the scene.

"So this is an orgy," he said slowly. "I've always wondered what they did at orgies. Now I know."

Paul turned away and walked outside the circle of light and sound to a secluded spot among the shrubbery that fringed the farther end of the villa. The monotonous jungle beat of the orchestra, the burbling wail of its saxaphones and its muted trumpets, the laughter and the bursts of applause and the shrill voices, came to him faintly here; he could look away from the lighted lawn, with its color and its movement, and see the dark bay under its canopy of stars.

As he looked, it seemed as if he looked across the shadowing of years, as well as across the water, and saw his own kingdom again, fair under the summer sky, with its bustling cities, its neat and smiling countryside, its great myriad of people weaving the unending pattern of their history.

And it seemed that he could see the long procession of his predecessors, the kings who had reigned before him, passing in ghostly review.

And all of them, it seemed, had this in common—that they served a greater thing than themselves, sometimes without knowing it, sometimes falteringly and uncertainly, but always instinctively and, in the end, faithfully. They had found their freedom in service, and they stood out now, not so much as individuals but as figures in an unbroken procession, as men who marched in time to the beat of some drum that could summon men to transcend themselves.

He rubbed his forehead wearily. He had broken that procession, he had stepped out of it—for love, for freedom, for the need to fulfill some obscure responsibility to his own soul. Now he could see that he had made an impossible bargain—that freedom was a queer, mocking thing which a man gained by turning away from it, that love could be insubstantial and shifting, with a light that failed and a glamour that deceived. And he was conscious of a tremendous homesickness for his own land and his own people; a great desire came to him to leave this silly, drunken revel, board his stout little sailboat, steer north around sullen Cape Roman, and set a course for his home land—returning like some mariner-king of old, from a tour of far countries and strange places, to the place that was his.

He took a step forward, impulsively, as if to turn desire into action. Then he paused; a man and a woman, dimly outlined against the lights on the lawn, had strolled near him. They did not see him. They sat down on a bench a dozen paces away—Ardath and Reggie Van Twyne.

Reggie, who had seemed quite intoxicated two hours ago, must have grown sober as the evening progressed. His voice, when he spoke, was clear, without the fuzziness that had marked his speech a little earlier.

"Ardath, kid," he was saying, "how long are you going to carry this on anyhow?"

Paul waited, tense, for her answer.

"I could pretend that I don't understand what you mean, Reggie, but I won't," she said. Her voice sounded flat and tired. "I won't even pretend that I'm shocked and insulted. But I can't give you an answer—not a real one. All I can say is, 'I don't know.'"

"Listen," said Reggie. In the dusk Paul could see him turn to face her, one arm lopped over the back of the seat so that his hand rested lightly and familiarly on her shoulder. "Listen, Ardath. You were cut out to be my sort of person, not his. You know that, don't you?"

There was a brief pause. Then Ardath said: "I suppose I do. Yes, I suppose I do. Reggie, that doesn't speak very well for me, does it?"

"I don't see why not," said Reggie hotly. "I know—I've been places and done things. I've had my name in the Sunday supplements as a playboy, and all that. But after all—what's he? Just a runaway. Just somebody that took a run-out powder when he found himself in a spot."

"That isn't fair, Reggie."

"It is too. He couldn't stand the gaff as king, so he quit. Now he can't even stand the gaff here. He's a stick. He thinks he can have his fun without paying for it, and now that he's beginning to find out he can't, he can't take it. He mopes. He doesn't like this gang we travel with. He doesn't even like you, really."

She murmured some protest.

"He doesn't," Reggie insisted. "Of course, he's got a yen for you. That doesn't mean anything. You can have a yen for a person you don't even like."

Ardath remained silent.

"You and I, now," Reggie went on. "We're two of a kind. We may only

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT Roosevelt professes no amazement over the seemingly hostile reaction to his court reform program, but for once his attitude does not command conviction. He has switched his strategy in the middle of the game in recognition of the storm he has stirred.

His original scheme was to let the opposition talk itself hoarse, wear itself out, tip off its arguments. He ordered aides to withhold their fiery retorts. But the protests grew too mountainous. Now he transforms press and private conferences into "pep talks; he fortifies callers with arguments for the change. He invited three farm committees to the White House by special messenger to Henry Wallace's office, and they agreed to undertake a "grass roots" campaign. Now that General Motors is off his hands, John L. Lewis will be expected to show material gratitude for government aid in the strike. F. D. R. will pit these two influential groups against the lawyers, the legislators, the Liberty league survivors.

Mr. Roosevelt doesn't have to be told twice when his foot—or tongue—has slipped. He realizes that he was too ingenuous in taking a fling at age. In accord with his appeal to the populace, he is now stressing the need for a new court to achieve bread and butter reforms.

PRESSURE: The double-double cross was more responsible than Governor Frank Murphy for the unexpectedly prompt settlement of the Lewis-Sloan automobile strike. General Motors officials needed no artifical heat in their hotel rooms here when they got wind of two rivals' intentions.

Negotiations at Detroit were on the point of breaking up when Messrs Sloan and Knudsen learned that Walter Chrysler intended to raise his workmen's wages. They also heard that Henry Ford was perfecting plans for switching to a six-hour day and a wage scale of $7 per day—even more than John L. Lewis demands through the Connery 30-hour-a-week bill. It almost touches Roosevelt economists' ideal of $2,500 a year for the workingman. This competitive pressure was even more influential than the Roosevelt-Murphy mandate to the wrangling parties.

It's not denied in responsible quarters that F. D. R.'s proposed judicial revolution hastened a settlement. So did "Bob" LaFollette's investigation into General Motors' use of Pinkertons to "tail" union employes. But in the last analysis economic rather than political consideration terminated the strike—a lesson not lost on labor experts at Washington and elsewhere.

BRACED: The stoic behavior of the six septuagenarians on the Supreme court has won admiration even among White House legalities and judicial planners. The "six old men" have apparently gritted their teeth and resolved to show neither their age nor anger.

Never did the six—Messrs. Hughes, McReynolds, Van Devanter, Brandies, Butler and Sutherland—appear more alert or alive than since the President characterized them as fit for the fireplace and slippers. Ordinarily they recline in their easy chairs during lengthy and tedious arguments. But for five successive days after the presidential proclamation, and for almost four hours each day, they gave enthusiastic, untiring attention to dull, factual arguments in the Wagner Labor Relations act case. They sat up like soldiers.

Mr. Roosevelt has obviously put them on their mettle. He has also inflamed an almost youthful fire, leading some of their friends to suggest that they won't quit until the issue is settled one way or another. Not even the Sumners' bait—full pay on retirement—will induce them to lay away their robes in lavender and lace in the opinion of those who ought to know. Incidentally, the justices' wives' seem more resentful than the husbands.

PINKS: The private detective industry will probably suffer a severe slump from the LaFollette committee's expose for that historic agency—the Pinkertons. The morbid audiences which always crowd these hearings have been howling with laughter at comical revelations of the dicks' dumbness.

The committee's agents are young lawyers drawn from various government agencies some are fresh from campus hay. But they ran rings around veterans supposedly skilled in the mumbo-jumbo of gumshoes and false whiskers. The amateur Sherlocks invariably spotted Pinkerton informers and strong arm men in industrial plants; they uncovered secret hideouts, reports and telephone messages. They forced the Pinkertons to move their listening post four times within a few months in Detroit. "We thought it more healthy to keep on the jump," explained a "Pink" with a wry smile.

The committee chamber itself is a nest of espionage and counter-espionage. Scattered among the spectators sit LaFollette and Pinkerton agents, eyeing each other narrowly. Several times the private dicks wigwagging to subpoenaed witnesses has been detected, and the conspirators yanked to the stand to tell all. The Pinkertons are now so fidgety that they don't dare leave the room to wet their parched lips. Hollywood never staged a richer show than this comedy of the "Pinks" outpinked. It would play to S. R. O. houses on Broadway.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

AS predicted here soon after the General Motors strike began, the final settlement was a sweeping triumph for the corporation. John Lewis managed to salvage a few pinfeathers to save his face—but G. M. kept the chicken. It is true that the United Automobile Workers obtained recognition as a collective bargaining agency for its own members only, but it could have gotten that much of a concession at the outset without any strike at all.

The plain fact is that Lewis—pitchforked into a war for which he was not ready—was up against impossible odds from the beginning. All he could do—and did do—was maneuver to cover up the completeness of his defeat—to grab what little glory he could out of a bargain that was bound to be lopsided.

There will be a loud song-and-dance about a big walkout in steel—sponsored by the Committee for Industrial Organization within six weeks or two months. This will amount to little more than noise unless C. I. O. recruiting among steel workers takes a rapid jump between now and then. Shrewd labor observers doubt that it will in view of the General Motors outcome.

WEAKER: Three behind-the-scenes factors played a big part in convincing Lewis that he would be wise to make peace on the best terms he could get now rather than prolong the strike and risk a still worse beating later.

Most important, private sentiment in high government circles was definitely not with him, either as to sit-down tactics or as to the U. A. W. demand to represent all G. M. employes when the union was unwilling to submit to the test of a majority vote. Despite Secretary Perkins' incautious comment, most administration leaders are under stood to feel that a sit-down strike is not only illegal but a dangerous menace to fundamental property rights. They also felt that Lewis' claim to speak for a majority of General Motors workers was absurdly untenable.

Lewis of course knew of this backstage attitude and realized that the longer the strike lasted the more obvious it would become that he did not have government suppost. This in turn would have led to a progressive weakening of his bargaining position. So he figured he would have much more to lose than by keeping the strike going.

RISK: A second red light flashed in Lewis' path was the increasingly active and open hostility of the American Federation of Labor to the strike. Lewis professes to despise the old guard leaders of organized labor, but they are not by any means entirely impotent. Their shiping could have done the United Automobile Workers plenty of damage if the strike had continued.

Finally, General Motors was threatening to arrange a vote by all its employes to find out just how many of them did want the U. A. W. to represent them in collective bargaining. Such an election might have disclosed that the percentage of Lewis followers was so small as to be ridiculous. In any case, Lewis didn't care to take the risk of such a crushing blow to his prestige.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 28

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

His hands clutching the mad bull's horns, Tarzan threw all his power into a sudden twist. The bull toppled to the ground. No rodeo champion could have done a neater and quicker job of "bulldogging." Cheers, in Spanish and Indian dialect, rose from the crowd.

Tarzan held the best until its owner and his friends came to take it away. And now Padre Dormund, returning from the deceptive mission into which he had been tricked by Raglan's messenger, hurried toward the excitement in the plaza, where he met Major Martling.

They greeted each other cordially and Martling introduced the kindly priest to the others of his party. "And the document," the explorer asked eagerly, "it is safe?" "Quite safe," the padre smiled; "we'll go at once to my quarters and I'll deliver it into your hands."

But in the priest's home they found the wreckage left by Raglan—and the document was gone. "It happened within the hour," the padre exclaimed. "The thief is probably on his way to the Lost City." Tarzan observed calmly; "We must try to trail him—at once!"

Adult Classes Taught In City

More Than 200 Students Have Been Enrolled In Past Two Years In Work; Variety Of Subjects Offered

From typing to auto repairing and from cooking to piano range subjects taught in the government's emergency education program in Lubbock—and tuition is free.

More than 200 students have been enrolled in the past two years, and have graduated into jobs as stenographers, bookkeepers, and clerks, and a court reporter.

Recently the government needed 150 stenographers. The demand could not be met.

Classes From 6 To 9

Classes are held from 6 to 9 o'clock each night. Two groups meet in the courthouse. Instruction in commercial arithmetic, commercial English, commercial spelling and typewriting is directed by S. M. Wilson in 72nd district courtroom. In the office of Walter Davies, justice of peace, C. A. Sumner teaches shorthand, bookkeeping and accounting, commercial spelling, and typewriting. Average enrollment for the two classes is 65. New students are being added.

Other courses offered are woodworking, forestry, cooking, vocal music, piano, accordion, and stringed instruments.

Latest addition to the courses is auto repairing which is taught at 708 Thirteenth street by J. L. Ayers.

Kerr District Supervisor

E. E. Kerr of Lubbock is district supervisor of the education program.

Housewives, laborers, and clerks are included among those who attend classes. Most of them are preparing for better positions. Such students are given preference when the federal government needs employees.

The school was begun in 1934 under the Texas Relief commission. Later it was placed under the WPA setup and is sponsored by Lubbock county public schools. Work will continue until June 30, end of the fiscal year. After that it is hoped the school will be made permanent.

Adults may enroll in the school.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Although rails pushed ahead in the stock market today, other groups suffered mild sinking spells after rally firmness.

Other than the positive action of the carriers, brokers said, the market's prime characteristics was its indecision.

In early dealings motors and store issues were given a push forward. Before long steels and aircrafts jogged along. Around mid-day the carriers gathered momentum from buying said to have been prompted by a satisfactory freight carloadings outlook.

As the session drew to a close rails stood their ground, while the rest of the list sagged somewhat.

At the finish the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 73.1. Transactions increased to 2,578,690 shares from 2,218,610 Tuesday. In the background of trading, financial circles said, were the conflicting influences of favorable industrial news and fears the market might be deprived of support of foreign buying.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17. (AP)—Indecision marked dealings on the cotton market today and at the finish futures were just about where they ended the previous session.

A mild rally that carried some months up up 2 cents a bale, or better, failed to hold when a large spot house offered 2,000 bales late in the day. This cotton was reportedly hedged against purchases of loan cotton from the government's holdings.

Buying early was for price fixing purposes and mostly domestic in origin. Little participation in the market by continental or far eastern operators was noted.

The trade was still frankly up in the air about the Commodity Credit corporation's loan cotton.

On fact apparent was that at today's price of 12.74c, one point under the government's minimum asking price of 12.75c, no cotton had been taken unless the buyer had been willing to make up the extra point. Washington continued to deny that a revision in the current minimum asking price was imminent.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 12.78 cents a pound; average past thirty days, 13.00 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Cotton turned steadier on increased trade buying early today but irregularity developed later under foreign selling in new crop deliveries. May, which had rallied from 12.36c to 12.46c closed at 12.41c with final prices 3 points net higher to 5 lower.

The market opened unchanged to 2 points lower.

Fairly active demand by the co-operative interests in May, some outside buying and restricted selling accounted for rallies of 3 to 8 points later in the morning.

In the absence of a follow-up to the buying prices then turned reactionary. New crops closed at the lows for the day under foreign offerings believed to represent hedging.

Boxing Office Is Scene Of Battle

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Jimmy Johnston, Madison Square Garden's veteran matchmaker, and Mushky Jackson, who figured in the Jack Torrance-Earl Phillips fistic scandal in Baton Rouge, La., came to blows during an argument tonight in the lobby of the Hippodrome, prior to 20th Century club's weekly fight show.

Jackson, who admitted he "took a poke" at Johnston because of the latter's jibes, was fined $300 by the Louisiana boxing authorities for his alleged part in "fixing" matches for Torrance.

"I'm an American citizen and no guy can talk to me like that, added Mushky. "Besides, the New York commission exhilarated me at its meeting today."

The New York commission found no reason today to take action against Jackson, in connection with the Louisiana scandal.

"We have no complaint against Jackson," declared Brig.-General John J. Phelan, chairman of the commission.

Matty Bell Sends 45 S.M.U. Gridders Through Practice

DALLAS, Feb. 17. (AP) — Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist dusted off his gridiron machine today as 45 candidates reported for the opening spring drill.

Bell lost no time in getting down to heavy work. The players had been on the field less than an hour when he ordered:

"All right, let's do some blocking."

work here: "This department regrets the severing of relationship that would result from Fort's changing of departments, should he leave Lubbock. He has assisted us in every way we could have asked, and in a manner most helpful. We are glad of his promotion, however."

Fort said his appreciation of those who had assisted him in his capacity as police identifications expert, included business men, city and county commissioners, the sheriff's department, "and all others who made that work pleasant." The officer, recently given a salary increase by the city commission, expressed hope his successor would be given "the same cooperation."

There are said to be more than 900 languages in use on the continent of Asia.

a fine silt that settled gradually. They predicted the weather would be clear there by morning.

Panhandle - Plains agronomists were not alarmed at crop prospects despite the recently - recurring storms. County Agent C. B. Martin of Hale county said: "With a good rain or snow in the next few days, the wheat crop expectations would be above normal." Plenty of subsoil moisture was reported. There was little movement of soil in the Panhandle area and the duster was not regarded by Weather Observer H. T. Collman at Amarillo as an "eroding" one.

Gulf Coast Clear

The Texas Gulf coast reported air virtually clear after a dust storm had penetrated that far south.

Visibility at Coleman in West Central Texas was reduced to a block when a severe dust storm struck there at 4 p. m. It was the second day of dust there.

At Abilene the visibility was a quarter of a mile and the wind was dying down after reaching 24 miles per hour at 4 p. m.

Crops In This Area Not To Be Affected By Duster

Dust freighted Wednesday by a 36-mile-an-hour north wind, that night was sifting over the South Plains. Wind velocity had dropped at midnight to 12 miles.

The temperature at 10:40 p. m. was 45 degrees. High for the day was 57 degrees at 4 p. m. Low, 34 degrees, was registered at 8 a. m.

This section, devoted to row crops, thus far has suffered no damage, said Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station. No crops are growing and virtually all farmers have their fields in excellent condition. In addition the section has good moisture from eight inches down, Jones explained.

The South Plains does most of its planting starting about May 15. Average rainfall between now and that time is sufficient to give excellent planting seasons for the top soil.

Rubinoff's Suit

ed as a taxi dancer in 1932 and, as such, she met a "certain man" and entered into intimate relations with him. She saw him four times a week, Halperin asserted, until he was arrested for burglary in May, 1933—a month before she alleges she capitulated to Rubinoff's advances.

Introduced As Father

Simultaneously, he added, she was carrying on an affair with a man who paid her hotel bills and whom she introduced as her father. Besides making excursions to other hotels, Halperin charged, she was friendly with some of the hotel employes.

Halperin denied Rubinoff ever promised to marry her and declared that her trip to Philadelphia was voluntary—"merely a part of a scheme on which to base this lawsuit."

On her way back to New York, he said, she saw a big diamond ring on a man on the train and boasted she would have it before the end of the trip.

She made good the boast he declared.

Wheeler-Bone Plan Opposed

Proposal Offered By Senators Meets As Much Opposition As President's Original Court Reform Plan

Labor's Non-Partisan league, William Green, A. F. of L. president, said the president's plan was better for the attainment of labor's desires for "social and economic advancement . . . than the slow, tedious process of a constitutional amendment."

The senate approved a resolution by McCarran (D-Nev) calling on the executive departments and agencies for information on injunctions granted since March 4, 1933, enjoining the operation of federal laws.

Byrnes Supports President

Senator Byrnes (D-SC) carried on the administration's nightly series of radio speeches supporting the president. He asserted the present battle was "merely a continuance of the fight in the recent campaign over the things the president pledged to the people."

The "great debate" began in the senate, even though the Roosevelt proposals were not officially before that branch of congress. Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) delivered a lengthy prepared address supporting the president and asserted "we are not going to be governed by decrees of the Supreme court."

D. A. R. Issues Appeal

The D. A. R.'s national defense committee called on members of the D. A. R. who disagree with the president's proposal to express their opinions to congressmen.

Senator Burke (D-Neb) introduced his previously announced constitutional amendment to permit the retirement of Supreme court judges at 70 years of age and require their retirement at 75.

Representative Celler (D-NY), ranking majority member of the house judiciary committee, an opponent of the Roosevelt program, suggested to the chief executive a compromise under which additional Supreme court judges would be limited to two, rather than the maximum of six proposed in the White House message to congress.

Farmers For Proposal

Secretary Wallace said he believed the farmers would back the president.

Wheeler and Bone were still hopeful tonight their amendment might provide a rallying point for the so-called liberal wing of the senate, which has been split in two by the Roosevelt program.

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb), who has favored the Roosevelt idea only "if nothing better could be obtained" thought their proposal "a good idea," while Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis), a staunch supporter of the Roosevelt idea, agreed, but thought the president's plan was necessary, too.

"That's good stuff," said Senator Nye (R-ND) who has not yet announced his decision on the president's proposal but has indicated opposition.

"I don't want to commit myself," said Senator George (D-Ga), "but I'd be sympathetic to the proposal and probably would favor submitting such an amendment to the people, because they have the final say." George is opposed to the president's program.

Body Of Man Missing Since Monday Is Found In Pasture

GEORGETOWN, Feb. 17. (AP)—A. E. Probst, missing since Monday, was found dead today in a pasture five miles west of Georgetown. Both wrists were slashed wih a pocket knife and Justice of the Peace Joe N. May decided, at a coroner's inquest, the 51-year old confectionary operator had committed suicide.

The finding of Probst's automobile abandoned west of Georgetown caused a party of business men and Boy Scouts to search for him. Justice May said Probst had been dead since sometime Monday afternoon.

Probst, who had been in ill health for some time, moved to Georgetown a month ago. He formerly lived at Thrall and Taylor.

Set For Special Order

The upper chamber voted, 24 to 5, to set for special order Friday a bill by Senator Ben O'Neal of Wichita Falls prohibiting importation on sale in Texas of goods made by child labor.

In an executive session, the senate confirmed appointments of Orville S. Carpenter as director of the Unemployment Compensation commission and Tom King of Dallas as state auditor and efficiency expert.

A bill which would extend oil and gas proration for two years, previously passed by the house, was set for senate consideration tomorrow, and one creating a teachers retirement system for March 5.

Woodruff Introduces Bill

Betting and bookmaking on dog races would be outlawed under a bill introduced today by Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur.

The proposal would provide a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $500 fine. It was referred to the criminal jurisprudence committee, the same group which has postponed until March 9 a hearing on a house bill to repeal the law permitting horse race betting.

Two bills to outlaw dog race betting have been offered in the house and set for hearing before the house criminal jurisprudence committee next Tuesday.

Happy Old Negro Is Caller At White House Wednesday; Says FDR 'My Kind Of White Folks'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—A happy old negro whose memory stretches back to his slave days sat in the White House study today and chatted with President Roosevelt for nearly an hour.

"Mr. Roosevelt," he said afterward, "is my kind of white folks."

The old man was William Andrew Johnson, who once was owned by President Andrew Jackson and later served as Jackson's personal servant.

He was brought to Washington from his home at Knoxville, Tenn., by secret service men. Months ago when Mr. Roosevelt visited the Tennessee city the former slave tried unsuccessfully to meet him. When the president heard about it he arranged today's meeting.

"They can't take my daughter from him now," the girl's mother said tonight in the jail. Mrs. Palmer buried her face in her arms and wept.

"They've lived together like a man and his wife should now," she said.

Nation's Oyster Industry Hit By Drouth, Authority Reports

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb. 17. (AP)—Drouth has hit the nation's $15,000,000 oyster industry.

Dr. Thurlow C. Nelson, one of America's foremost authorities on oysters, said today aquiculturists as well as agriculturists have been hurt by lack of rain in the last six years.

Floods or too much rain likewise can damage the oyster which cannot live in fresh water. Abnormal weather in the Chesapeake bay area is fatal, he said, and great floods in the Mississippi river may kill whole beds of oysters near the Gulf of Mexico. Apart from these two localities, however, the oyster is benefited by increased rain, he said.

Under normal conditions, he explained, fresh water from streams emptying into the Atlantic oceans, has diluted the salt water so the oyster could thrive undisturbed by marine foes which can exist only in saltier waters. When drouth came, he continued, the flow of rivers decreased and the salinity of offshore waters increased, inviting back eager hordes of deadly oyster enemies.

Plans To Drill Offset Tests To Wilbarger Well Are Made

VERNON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Plans to drill offset tests to the Phillips Ranch No. 51, which blew in in the Rock Crossing field, 12 miles southeast of here yesterday, were rushed ahead today as completion of storage facilities was awaited.

The well sent a six-inch stream of oil 15 feet above the derrick top yesterday as it tapped a rich new sand at 3,076 feet, leading operators to believe they had opened an entirely new producing horizon.

A test today showed a potential of 12,300 barrels. Some estimates went as high as 20,000 barrels.

Maintenance Of River Channel To Gulf Of Mexico Is Approved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—The house rivers and harbors committee has approved a recommendation of the army engineers that the government spend $18,000 annually for maintenance of a channel from the mouth of the Colorado river in Texas to the Gulf of Mexico.

Representative J. J. Mansfield of Columbus, Texan committee chairman, said dredging of the channel, about six miles long, probably would start soon. Formerly the river emptied into a bay near the tip of Matagordia peninsula.

His talks will be on the subject of the state unemployment insurance laws recently enacted.

All the high points of the measure will be discussed by the representative in talks tonight and Friday of this week and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Cotton Research Laboratory Will Be Devoted To Study Of Cotton's Uses

"The cotton research laboratory being planned by the Southwestern cotton research conference which met in Dallas this week will be entirely devoted to promoting the uses of cotton products, and its findings will be free to all manufacturers," said M. E. Heard, acting head of the textile department at Texas Technological college, who returned from the meeting Tuesday.

The meeting was one of a number to be held in the South and West for promoting research in the cotton industry, he said. There will be similar meetings in cities of Arkansas, Tennessee, Oklahoma, and other centers of cotton areas. Plans for the laboratory will be presented to the federal government by Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, who is chairman of the cotton research conference committee.

Greatest Cash Crop

Cotton is the principal crop on more than one-fourth of all American farms and it is grown on nearly one-third of all American farms, said the Cotton Research Foundation prospectus. The greatest cash crop in the country, it produces one-fourth the income of the American farmers. Therefore its decline in consumption, due to successful competition of rayon, artificial cotton, jute, linen, wool, paper, and other substitutes, should be stopped, it was said. The way to do this, said the prospectus, is by laboratory research such as is done in almost all other industries.

Funds for the Foundation will be obtained by an annual levy of five cents per bale of cotton, and five cents per ton of cotton seed, sold

Coast Artillery Commander Transferred To San Antonio

GALVESTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Col. Richard Donovan, commander of the 69th coast artillery, anti-aircraft, has received orders transfering him to the staff of the 8th corps area commander at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, effective on November 17. Col. Allen Kimberly, who has been on duty in the Philippines will succeed Col. Donovan, in command at Fort Crockett 1 April 20.

The nine-banded armadillo of the southwest bears its offspring in litters of four, those in each litter being always of the same sex.

Consumption Of Cotton Is Record

WASHINGTON Feb. 17. (AP)—The census bureau has reported domestic consumption of 678,064 bales of cotton in January set an all time record for the month. The previous high was 668,286 in January, 1929.

The new January peak was slightly smaller than the previous months.

December consumption of 692,922 bales set a new consumption mark for that month, the bureau said.

For the first six months of this season, ending January 31, domestic consumption of 3,848,195 bales was more than 800,000 ahead of the first half of last season's 3,014,381 bales.

Says Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced At Home

Prove It At Small Cost

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, as good advice for home treatment as any friend can give, is to get a prescription known as Moone's Emerald Oil.

Simply ask Mark Halsey Drug or your druggist for an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you should notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are no longer burdensome. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that it helps simple swellings due to strain to disappear. Adv.

Cotton is the principal crop on more than one-fourth of all American farms and it is grown on nearly one-third of all American farms, said the Cotton Research Foundation prospectus. The greatest cash crop in the country, it produces one-fourth the income of the American farmers. Therefore its decline in consumption, due to successful competition of rayon, artificial cotton, jute, linen, wool, paper, and other substitutes, should be stopped, it was said. The way to do this, said the prospectus, is by laboratory research such as is done in almost all other industries.

Funds for the Foundation will be obtained by an annual levy of five cents per bale of cotton, and five cents per ton of cotton seed, sold.

Consumption Of Cotton Is Record

WASHINGTON Feb. 17. (AP)—The census bureau has reported domestic consumption of 678,064 bales of cotton in January set an all time record for the month. The previous high was 668,286 in January, 1929.

The new January peak was slightly smaller than the previous months.

December consumption of 692,922 bales set a new consumption mark for that month, the bureau said.

For the first six months of this season ending January 31, domestic consumption of 3,848,195 bales was more than 800,000 ahead of the first half of last season's 3,014,381 bales.

Says Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced At Home

Prove It At Small Cost

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, as good advice for home treatment as any friend can give, is to get a prescription known as Moone's Emerald Oil.

Simply ask Mark Halsey Drug or your druggist for an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you should notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are no longer burdensome. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that it helps simple swellings due to strain to disappear. Adv.
