NUMBER 26

Inflation is legalized stealing. That seems to be the general idea conveyed in a recent issue of the Wall Street Journal which says "in the last year alone, $26 billion was embezzled from life insurance pension and saving funds by depreciation of the dollar." The article further states that savers lost 20 times as much from depreciation in 1966 as the $1.3 billion lost in bank failures during the worst four years of the great depression.

The extent of the damage done by this thief is very apparent when one thinks of the dollar's declining purchasing value. It is estimated that a life insurance policy bought in the thirties has lost more than sixty per cent of its value. Some other forms of saving such as US bonds and savings accounts seemingly have been hurt less because gains from interest offset the losses from depreciation. Nevertheless the sad fact remains that principal plus the years of accumulated interest is worth little more now than the principal was originally.

The losses have hit nearly every family in the country. Almost everyone has insurance, bank account or some other sort of saving. This applies especially to old folks whose earning days are past and who have to depend on a fixed income from pension, social security or savings fund, but have no compensating inflated income from current earning. Young folks at least get more current income while their savings take a beating.

It's plain to see who are the victims of inflation's thievery, and it's equally easy to see who are the villains. Your government is the first and biggest offender. Every time it ups the national debt and issues billions of dollars more in paper money it decreases the value of all outstanding money.

Business and labor also participate in the act. Anyone whose price includes more than a fair profit on production, transportation or sale of an item is stealing from the consumer. A worker who demands an outrageous wage or doesn't give a fair day's work for fair pay is unfairly adding to the price of an item, and ultimately steals from the consumer.

Loafers on welfare likewise have an ill effect. When they consume without producing they add indirectly to the prices that other consumers have to pay.

We are told that government intends to retard the inflation rate, possibly even stop it, by tighter control on interest rates and credit and by continued high tax. All that is supposed to have the effect of protecting money value by taking some of the surplus out of circulation. This seems like treating the symptom instead of the cause of illness. It's a way to relieve the patient's pain without curing him.

Isn't it about time for a realistic approach to the problem? Common sense tells us that the principal causes are irresponsible spending by government and greed by lots of other people. The remedy is not in fiscal manipulations but rather in a revival of national conscience. The whole thing boils down to a simple statement from the decalogue. Thou shalt not steal.

Our predicament points up an age old fact. When we ignore the rules prescribed by God we make a mess. If we hope to get things back in order we ought to start by adopting the method He prescribed.

As the situation looks from here, we have the means to cope with inflation if we only have the will. Government can and should take the lead by trimming waste off the budget. This applies not only to the executive branch but to every legislator seeking pork barrel appropriations for his district. It includes removal of lots of phony welfare policies through which honest people have to support crooks and bums.

Government can likewise take a lead by appealing to the common sense and conscience of industry and labor. The mass media, with its tremendous influence in shaping national opinion, can take on the vital job of convincing the public that the really wise guys are the squares who believe in giving other people a square deal. Religious leaders can help by bearing down on basic principles of right

Red Cross Classes In Water Safety Will Start Monday

It's that time of the year again. Rising temperature brings increasing interest in lakes and swimming pools. It also brings on the annual Red Cross program of teaching swimming and life saving.

Mrs. Paul Yarbrough, water safety chairman of the Cooke County Red Cross chapter, announced this week that the water safety program will begin next week and extend through the next several weeks.

The first course is senior life saving Monday, May 26, through Friday, the 30th. Class time each day is 4 to 7 p.m. in the Leonard Park pool at Gainesville. All strong swimmers over the age of 16 are invited to enroll.

The course this year will include scuba diving safety with emphasis on proper and safe use of scuba equipment.

Next course, running from June 2 through 6, will be part 1, of the water safety instructors course. Applicants must be at least 18 years of age and must hold a current senior life saving certificate. This course is also a re-training course for currently qualified water safety instructors who wish to continue qualification after December 31, 1969. Certificates will expire that date unless renewed at the course.

Still another course is the second part of the water safety instructors course. It begins June 9 and ends June 13. All persons wishing to become instructors are required to take both sections of WSI.

The annual program of instruction for beginning and intermediate swimmers will follow the instructors course. In Gainesville the dates have been set at June 16 through 27. In Muenster the dates will be announced later.

Boys to Organize 1 o'clock Sunday For Little League

The organizational meeting of Little League ball players and the annual Jaycee fishing derby are both set for next Sunday — the baseball meeting beginning at 1 p.m. and the fishing contest at 2 p.m.

Those hours were definitely announced by Jaycee Prexy Johnny Pagel to eliminate the conflict when committees previously announced the events for the same time (and the Enterprise confused the issue further by giving two dates for the baseball meeting.)

So, for sure, boys who signed up for Little League are asked to be at the baseball park Sunday at 1 p.m. sharp. They'll be assigned to their teams, discover who are the managers, and receive instructions for pre-season practice time. The season opens on Monday, June 2.

Boys are reminded to be prompt for the meeting so that those entering the fishing derby will have time to get there for the beginning.

Arrival of Grass For Park Project Delayed by Rain

Delivery of the St. Augustine grass for the Jaycee park project seems to be fouled up by weather.

Sorry about that, says Johnny Pagel, Jaycee president. When he called Arlington last week Thursday inquiring about the shipment, he was told that a heavy rain put the producer out of the grass digging business temporarily. Nothing was said then about when the sod can be expected. Nothing has been heard since, but the word is expected soon. When it arrives, the original request for help will still apply. Pagel says Jaycees will welcome all the help they can get.

The grass was ordered by the city to establish St. Augustine in a three acre area cleared by the Jaycees last year. A water line to it was installed recently.

The sod shipment will consist of 518 square yards, which will be cut into pieces, four inches square, for an estimated total of almost 42,000 pieces.

Lewisville Hosts District I VFW Weekend Meeting

Muenster VFW Post and Auxiliary had ten members at the District I Convention in Lewisville during the weekend.

Those attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Herbie Herr, John H. Wimmer, Don Flusche, Henry Pels Jr. and Maurus Rohmer.

In addition to the Saturday night dance, Sunday breakfasts and noon banquet, and closed meetings with election of district officers the convention featured a reception and steak supper Saturday at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Lien for post commanders and quartermasters and all district officers. Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Herr were among guests.

Bill Cole, past department commander, was banquet speaker. And the Miss VFW District I contest was concluded with Lewisville again the winner with selection of Miss Linda Matichas. She received the crown from Miss Debbie Lovett of Lewisville last year's district and state winner. Carolyn Otinger of Roanoke and Janet Carr of McKinney were runners-up.

In his talk Mr. Cole said District I is bigger than ever with 4,320 members. All 17 posts in the district were represented at the meeting.

Next meeting will be in Greenville August 9 and 10.

District officers elected by the veterans are: Roy Hutchins of W. Tawakoni, commander; O. W. Hilliard of Lewisville, senior vice commander; Johnny Walker of Denton, junior vice commander; J. T. McDonnell of Denton, re-elected quartermaster; Gene Blalock of Denison, judge advocate; Dr. Joe Frank of McKinney, surgeon; Ray Love-day of Lewisville, chaplain; George Lassater, Denton, T. R. Tarter, Farmersville, and J. D. Edge, W. Tawakoni, trustees.

Baccalaureate Stresses Loyalty To God, Country

"Your Generation will go to the moon and will carry on the American tradition of marvelous discovery and achievement, and the greatest, most important, personal achievement will continue to be the discovery of God in the person of Jesus."

That was the principal message of the baccalaureate sermon delivered by The Reverend Aubrey Spires of Marysville Baptist Church to the Muenster High graduates in the MHS auditorium Sunday night. While encouraging students to keep pace with progress and to be a part of it, he added that their first concern should be faithful service to God.

Referring to the multiple problems of this time the speaker said that a tremendous challenge faces this generation. We have war along with economic and social troubles, but through it all we must stand by the conviction that America is worth fighting and working for.

Reverend John Brooks of Muenster Baptist Church gave the invocation and benediction. Also on the program were Miss Bettye Dodds in a vocal solo and Mr. and Mrs. James Shelton in a duet. Gareld Payne accompanied at the piano for both numbers and played for the processional and recessional.

Jaycees' Annual Fishing Derby for Kids Sunday, 2 p.m.

Muenster's annual Jaycee fishing derby will be held Sunday afternoon 2 to 4 p.m. at the east side of the Weinzapfel lake just west of Muenster Hospital.

The revised starting time, originally 1:30 p.m. was definitely set this week by Dr. Larry Tisdale, chairman, to avoid conflict with a Little League organizational meeting. Co-chairman with Tisdale is Robert Fisher.

The contest will be held in two classes. The younger group includes children through 6 years of age, the older group includes those 7 through 13.

Two prizes are offered in each class, and the prizes are identical. Each will be a tackle box with fishing equipment inside.

In each class one prize goes for the largest fish and one for the most fish. In case of a tie in size of fish, the string with the more fish will be declared winner. In case of a tie in number of fish, the string with the biggest one will win.

Dr. Tisdale pointed out that each contestant has the responsibility of registering his catch. Jaycees conducting the contest will not seek out the contestants.

Worms will be furnished by the Jaycees.

Sign for Medicare Before Reaching 65

Every month many persons in the local area sign up late for their Medicare benefits, Gus Jones, social security district manager, said today.

Noting that May has been proclaimed Senior Citizen Month by the President, Jones urged county residents who are approaching age 65 to celebrate by finding out as much as they can about the Federal health plan for older Americans.

A person should sign up for medical insurance two or three months before he reaches 65, if he wishes coverage of doctor bills to begin the month he reaches 65, Jones said. If he waits until later, his medical insurance may not begin until one to three months after he signs up, and if he waits more than three months after he reaches 65, he will not have another chance to sign up for a long time — perhaps as much as a year.

For a person who is a social security beneficiary, the basic hospital insurance protection begins automatically with the month of the 65th birthday. One who is not receiving benefits should check with the social security office two or three months before his 65th birthday about his eligibility.

The Sherman social security office is located at 810 North Travis. The phone number is 893-4301. Jones said that the office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Monday through Friday.

A representative may be contacted in Gainesville each Tuesday and Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the Federal Building.

A new vehicle, the sand caster, has been developed to fight forest fires. It digs steel claws into the earth and hurls its load at the top of burning trees. The U.S. Forest Service and other forestry experts consider it to be one of their most valuable weapons in battling crown fires in which the blaze leaps from tree top to tree top.

CCJC Designated ACT Test Center

Cooke County Junior College has been designated as a test center for the American College Test on Saturday morning, July 19. Charles E. Smith, Test Center Supervisor said "High school students who want to take the test on July 19 must acquire a Test Registration Form and mail it, along with their $6.00 fee, by Monday, June 16."

The necessary registration form may be acquired from Mr. Smith at Cooke County Junior College or by writing to Dr. Vernon L. Odum at 1626 50th Street, Lubbock, Texas 79412.

Nearly one million students will write the ACT test centers around the world this year. 99 of the colleges and universities in Texas participate in the ACT program. Some colleges use the test results as admissions instruments; others use them primarily as counseling tools. The test battery consists of subtests in English usage, math usage, social science reading and natural science reading. A unique feature of the ACT assessment is the Student Profile Section by which students describe some of their non-academic potentials and other personal data for the use of college admissions officers and high school counselors.

Each student's assessment is sent to the three colleges of his choice. Currently over 1,500 American colleges utilize the data provided by the American College Testing Program.

Miss Linda Marie Koerner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Koerner of Pilot Point, and Sidney D. Newton of Fort Worth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Newton of Newark, Texas, were married Saturday at 5 p.m. in St. Thomas Church at Pilot Point. Father Emil Slovacek performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk organza and lace with Empire bodice and cathedral train. A silk flower and seed pearl headpiece held her veil and she carried a nosegay of daisies.

Bride's attendants were Miss Joanie Lubbers, maid of honor, and Misses Vicky Beaty, Nancy Pelzel and Cynthia Bindel bridesmaids.

They wore Empire dresses of lime green voile with yellow voile trim, had flowers in their hair and carried nosegays of spring blossoms.

Misses Connie and Susan Newton, sisters of the bridegroom, were junior bridesmaids and Sharon Koerner, sister of the bride, was flower girl. Their dresses duplicated those of the other attendants and they carried baskets of flowers.

Glen Newton was his brother's best man, the bride's brothers Leroy and Donnie Koerner and a cousin Terry Bindel were groomsmen. Wayne Wimmer, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Hospital Auxiliary Elects Officers Sets Benefit Date

Members of Muenster Hospital Auxiliary have elected officers for a new year and have set dates for their annual big benefit event. This was the business at their May meeting.

Mrs. Jerry Walterscheid is the new president. Others serving with her will be Mrs. Ted Henschel, first vice president; Mrs. Walter Grewing, second vice president; Mrs. Billy Don Wolf, treasurer; Mrs. Roy Monday, secretary.

June 27 and 28 are the dates set for the organization's bake sale, rummage sale and barbecue lunches in the Myrick building. Proceeds will go toward the Auxiliary's current project, an X-Ray reading room at Muenster Hospital.

Mrs. Ervin Hamric, retiring president, conducted the meeting. She announced that the Auxiliary has provided another flower cart for the hospital and that five members were at the hospital within eight minutes after the disaster drill call was reported to her.

Twenty-two members were present and Mrs. Gerald Graham won the door prize.

Kralickes Honored At Housewarming

The new home of Dr. and Mrs. Martin Kralicke south of Muenster just outside the city on South Hy. 373 has been the scene of a housewarming attended by former neighbors and new neighbors last Wednesday night.

The group gave a joint gift to the Kralickes, lawn-patio furniture — a Mediterranean green wrought iron glass-top table and two chairs. The table held an arrangement of yellow pompon mums with names of guests attached to streamers.

The swimming pool was a conversation starter. Floating on the water were candle-lit water lilies, also a gift from those attending.

The group made a tour of the brick veneer split level home with five bedrooms, three baths, double carport, central heating and cooling.

Afterward they had refreshments at a buffet of finger-foods. Sharing hostess duties were Mmes. David Bright, Al Trubenbach, Rufus Henschel and Ed Schneider.

The Kralicke family has been in the new place about three weeks. Their former home is now the home of Dr. and Mrs. Alfredo Antonetti who moved there from the hospital living quarters.

Stockmen Alerted To Screwworms

An alert to the screwworm menace in Cooke County was sounded this week by County Agent Neil Tibbets along with his recommendation to cooperate in the statewide eradication program.

He calls attention to increased seriousness of the screwworm threat this year and urges livestock owners to use collection kits and vials provided for sending in worm samples. The package is available at the county agent's office.

No ranch in Texas is immune to the threat of screwworms this year, says Dolph Briscoe Jr., president of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation. He said that Texas reported 9,268 screwworm cases last year.

"Preventive action is needed — such as checking animals regularly for wounds, treating all wounds and spraying herds with a product recommended for that purpose on the label. It is much more economical to spray a herd than to battle screwworm cases — for it costs about $800 to produce enough sterile flies to treat a single case of worms," Briscoe added.

"We all need to be screw-worm vigilantes this year," he emphasized.

When cases of worms are found, a representative sample of all worms in a wound — or from six to ten larvae — should be collected and sent to the Mission Screwworm Laboratory for identification. Only positive screwworm cases can be treated with the sterile flies, Briscoe added. The area where the positive screwworms case has been identified will be "hot spotted".

down the sunflower path to prosperity

One of the many ways in which Texas Power & Light Company works to assist its farming customers is through research and development programs on new and improved crops. Last year, TP&L's Agricultural Development Division provided seeds for experimental plantings of sunflowers by farmers in 5 Blackland counties. The goal of this unusual-sounding program is the profit locked within the seeds ... profit from a rich oil (so much in demand it ranks third in importance among vegetable oils on the world market today), and from a nutritious meal used for feeding livestock. TP&L Agricultural Consultants and Specialists are working closely with the farmers who planted the experimental crops of sunflowers to explore fully this very promising source of new agricultural income for the area served by TP&L.
