Iasi Evacuated By Nazis, Says Enemy Version

New Threat Is Facing Nazis In Balkans

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 22—Iasi, fourth largest city of Romania, has been evacuated before a fresh Russian offensive in the south, the Germans announced late today.

Iasi (pop: 104,400) lies west on the Prut river and is a meeting point of railways linking eastern Romania and the Soviet-claimed province of Bucovina.

REDS CAPTURE IASI

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP) — Russian troops have captured Iasi, fourth largest city in Romania, Premier-Marshal Stalin announced tonight in an order of the day.

Lies Northeast Of Ploesti

It lies 165 miles northeast of the great Ploesti oil center and 120 miles north of Calati, strategic city on the lower Danube. A Russian plunge to Galati would make much of the Balkans untenable for German defense.

Moscow has reported no fresh offensive in northern Romania, which the Red army invaded during the winter campaign. Germany has been reporting the new offensive for several days.

A Berlin broadcast said the Russians had "succeeded in widening their breaches" at other undisclosed points in a dual offensive on both sides of Iasi and on the lower Dnestr river.

REDS STORM OVER RIVER IN NEW THREAT TO WARSAW

BY EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Aug. 22 — Russian troops stormed across the Bug river northeast of Warsaw today in a grave new flanking threat in the prolonged siege of the Polish capital and battered hastily mustered German reserves on the west bank of the river.

The forcing of the Bug, which flows into the Vistula 28 miles above Warsaw, posed a threat to cross the larger river. Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky's regrouped and reinforced group of armies pushed two Russian columns toward the confluence of the streams. He pushed ahead against furious German counterattacks

Solons To Be Informed On Security Talks

Tri-Power Talks Are Technical, Hull Explains

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP) — Secretary of State Hull assured members of Congress today they would be kept informed of the progress of peace talks at the tripower Dumbarton Ooaks conference.

The former senator and representative sent that word to his excolleagues to make certain, members said, that none of the Democratic or Republican leaders would feel slighted for not having been invited to the preliminary conversations.

Hull explained that the U. S.-British-Russian meeting is "technical" and that when matters of "policy" become involved he would continue his practice of advising the lawmakers.

May Eliminate Politics

Meanwhile, the impending conference between Hull and John Foster Dulles, foreign policy advisor to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, stimulate discussion on Capitol Hill on the possibility of eliminating post-war peace policy as a political issue.

Senator George (D-Ga), chairman of a special Senate post-war committee said he thought the meeting of the two, representing the administration and the Republican presidential candidate, will be "most helpful to the country. It should result, he said in "an agreement on the main program and the American position," although there might be some difference on details.

Diplomatic Problems Out

Current diplomatic problems have been ruled out of the security talks, it was understood today, and sessions are to be concentrated on blocking out the basic principles of peace organization.

The conference settled down to its first working session today, following yesterday morning's formal opening and an afternoon

Surplus Plan Is Muddled

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Twenty-two amendments to the surplus war property disposal bill confronted the House today as leaders again sought a vote on the measure by nightfall.

There seemed no limit to the abundance of ideas about the disposition of a hundred billion dollars worth of excess war equipment and the reason after a week's argument, boiled down to this:

One group wants the administrator to have unlimited power to get rid of what the armed forces don't need.

All Sides Sniping

Another group says one-man rule is all right, now that the "board" idea has been ruled out, but there should be tight restrictions on methods.

Mixed in between are those who want small business helped; those who want to specify that farm areas get a break; those who insist on priorities for this or that group deemed in the public interest.

The Senate expects to report late today a surplus property disposal bill sharply differing from the House version.

The subject of surplus property also occupied the House committee on postwar military policy today. Chairman Woodrum (D-Va) resumed hearings to find out from the Army first, the Navy next, what the armed forces feel they should retain and what is going to be junked, in the way of war materiel.

Senate Investigators To Question Nelson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Senate war investigating committee members went ahead today with plans to question WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson, despite President Roosevelt's statement that his "temporary mission" to China in no way alters WPB reconversion policies.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said he and other senators were disposed to accept the President's statement at its "face value," but "we want to find out how strong others at the WPB are for Mr. Nelson's plans for limited civilian production."

To that end, he said, the committee plans to question Charles E. Wilson, executive vice chairman of the WPB, who will be in charge during Nelson's absence.

The President's statement yesterday said that any impression Nelson's "temporary mission to China indicates a change in policy in the War Production board is entirely unfounded."

"Mr. Nelson's mission," the White House statement asserted, "is necessarily confidential. I regret that more about the work assigned to him can not be said at this time."

Toulon Is Encircled; Nazi Garrison Trapped

Yanks Drive Ahead To Cut Off Marseille; Street Fight Rages In Toulon Outskirts

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Aug. 22—French troops of the Seventh army have fully encircled Toulon by land, cutting the last escape route for German garrison forces still resisting inside the fixed fortifications of the big Mediterranean naval base, Allied headquarters announced today.

While an Allied naval armada offshore and land batteries on the north hurled shells against enemy strongpoints, the French infantrymen advanced through the outskirts of the southern France port in house to house fighting.

American troops meanwhile swept steadily westward well to the northwest of Toulon in a drive which, unless halted, soon will isolate Marseille, France's second city. French forces were within eight miles of Marseille on the east.

Yanks 60 Miles Inland

Still other American spearheads on the east reached points 60 miles inland, and headquarters announced that the Allied grip on southern France now had been expanded to more than 2,000 square miles—an area more than double that of the beachhead late last week.

A substantial extension of Allied territory was reported on the north with American troops capturing the towns of St. Julien and Barreme in the Basses Alps, 35 and 43 miles northwest of Cannes and more than 60 from Cannes.

Encirclement of Marseille appeared to be a matter of hours. From the last announced point of advance west of Aix-En-Provence the Americans needed to strike less than a dozen miles southwest to get astride the coastal roads west of the big port.

Heavies Attack Vienna Area

LONDON, Aug. 22 (U.P.)—A fleet of approximately 750 American heavy bombers based in Italy raided targets in the Vienna area and upper German Silesia today, and for the first time in two weeks the Allied raiders encountered strong resistance from enemy aircraft.

The specific targets of the heavies were the Odertal oil refinery, 80 miles southwest of Breslau; Lobau, seven miles southeast of Vienna where the underground oil storage tanks were bombed with dealyed action high explosives, and the oil refinery at Korneuburgin nine miles northwest of Vienna.

Numerous Combats Occur

Numerous aerial combats occurred over the target areas, but Rome dispatches said that the results had not been tabulated late today. The bombers also fought their way through intense flak to bomb by instruments enemy objectives protected by dense smoke screens.

The formations were escorted by Lightning and Mustang fighter planes, which shot down an unannounced number of the enemy interceptors.

The raid from Italy was carried out as channel weather, officially described as "frightful," virtually halted aerial operations from Britain and Normandy for the second

'New Vichy' Is Battle Ground

Laval's Regime In New Location

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP)—French Maquis and the Germans were reported by the Algiers radio today to be locked in "fierce fighting" inside the Maginot line city of Belfort, where Pierre Laval scurried from Vichy with unarrested ministers to establish a new seat of the Nazi-controlled French government.

Swiss reports said the Germans were moving 20,000 to 30,000 troops from interior France to Belfort to defend a gateway to the Rhineland and preserve a foothold on French soil for Laval.

Heavy fighting between patriots and occupants also was reported in Bellegarde in southern France, where both Germans and the Maquis were reinforced.

In Paris, fighting was reported by the Swiss radio to be "increasing hourly in violence" while American armor probed at the outskirts.

Allies Hold Half Of France

The French army of the interior said more than half of all France (212,000 square miles) was under control of the Allies or patriots.

From the Swiss border to the Spanish Pyrenees, the FFI were declared attacking isolated German garrisons. The Swiss radio said the Maquis had seized the American-threatened French Riviera city of Nice, fifth largest in France with 242,000 population.

A communique from Gen. Koenig asserted that all roads which might have been used by the Nazis as escape routes had been cut between France and Italy. The bulletin said Limoges (pop. 95,000) was encircled by patriots with road blocks established at all ex-

Asiatics Urged To Join War Against Allies

Heavy Defeats Spur Propaganda Effort By Japs

BY J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

Japan's foreign minister, falling back on a familiar Nazi propaganda strategem, has called on East Asia's subjugated peoples to support a Nipponese "war of life or death" against Allied forces pressing in from every direction.

With crushing defeats in the Marianas and New Guinea, plus hard blows from submarines and Superfortresses, to prompt him, Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu broadcast yesterday that "for East Asia this is a war of life or death which we are compelled to fight for our own existence and independence."

Copies Nazi Idea

Shigemitsu's appeal for help copied a Nazi idea by declaring "It is the aim of our enemies to hold Asia in permanent bondage and exploit it indefinitely."

The Japanese cabinet meanwhile met and earnestly discussed Sunday's two Superfortress raids on the Japanese homeland, Tokyo said.

Shigemitsu spoke against a background of new American air blows from the Kuriles north of Japan to Halmahera, 3,500 miles to the south. They were softening the way for new invasions.

Halmahera Blasted

Halmahera was hit with 110 tons of bombs Sunday. Boeroe, another island in the Molucca group standing guard over the southern Philippines, caught 95 tons Saturday and lost eight planes on the ground. Interception was absent. General MacArthur declared "the battle for air supremacy of the Moluccas is rapidly approaching a definite conclusion." Supremacy would ease invasion of the Philippines.

To the northeast, Yap island emerged as a new target for con-

Enemy Casualties Total 300,000 In West France

Third Army Heads For Coast, Closing Jaws Of Big Trap

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 22—U. S. columns struck powerfully down the Seine toward the channel coast today and three other Allied armies wheeled inland from the west in a gigantic new pincers to trap battered, disorganized Germans fleeing to the bridgeless river.

Supreme headquarters, disclosing the fresh cut-off operation declared 1,200 enemy tanks had been destroyed or damaged since D-day — armored strength equivalent to 6½ Nazi panzer divisions —and field estimates said more than 300,000 Germans had been put out of action in western France since June 6.

The Argentan-Falaise pocket is yielding at least 100,000 Germans captured, killed and wounded, according to best available information. The American Third army in 21 days of vast, speedy flanking operations accounted for more than 100,000 more. As many more were eliminated earlier in Normandy.

Closing Pincers On Nazis

The American Third army pounded northwestward along the looping Seine from its bridgehead at Mantes-Gassicourt 25 miles from Paris, bringing in the eastern arm of the pincers upon German Seventh army remnants stumbling back to the Seine and seeking to escape by ferries, small boats, and even swimming.

Canadian, British and American armies striking eastward in this enveloping push gained up to 10 miles.

Heavy fighting was reported in the Paris area. U. S. forces met heavy resistance at Etampes, 27 miles south of Paris.

(Berlin announced evacuation of both Etampe and Malesherbes, 36 miles below Paris, and 14 southwest of the American bridgehead across the Seine at Fontainbleau. The Germans said probing thrusts in the Orleans area southwest of Paries were checked.)

Orleans Under Shellfire

Orleans was under shellfire, and there was fighting at Rambouillet 22 miles southwest of Paris.

Since June 6 the Allies have counted 700 destroyed enemy tanks behind their lines, and 500 damaged ones. Others remain to be tallied. As the new pincers began clamping shut, a British staff officer aserted "the back of the German army is broken."

Front dispatches declared the enemy was so disorganized he had been unable to make any coordi-

Patriots Shelling Germans In Paris

Nazi Evacuation Of City Likely

LONDON, Aug. 22 (U.P.)—French patriots with light artillery are shelling German positions in northeastern Paris, a French communique disclosed today amid reports that the Nazis were preparing to evacuate the capital.

Gen. Pierre Joseph Koenig announced that patriots inside Paris had been supplied with light artillery to besiege German strongpoints on the Place de la Republique and along the Boulevard Bonne Novelle.

Bulk Of Forces Gone

Authoritative French sources asserted that the bulk of the German garrison in Paris was believed to be evacuating the city, if it had not already done so, leaving only rear guards to defend the city against thousands of rebellious patriots.

Street fighting between the rear guards, students and other patriots was described as mounting daily in violence with the Germans turning machineguns on their tormentors. Skirmishing has spread to the Champs Elysees in the center of the city, French sources said.

With American spearheads already in the suburbs, the patriots defied a German warning that continued resistance would bring the destruction of the city.

The London Daily Mirror predicted that Paris would become the seat of De Gaulle's government within a few days of its liberation, even though the city might continue for some time to be in an Allied operational area, subject to the supervision of the military high command.

Tropical Squall Is Developing

(By The Associated Press)

A small gulf storm attended by squalls winds estimated at nearly 50 miles an hour, but bearing drouth-breaking rains, headed toward the lower Texas coast today where it was expected to strike near Brownsville during the afternoon.

State police in the Harlingen and seven other districts were alerted for possible storm duty as the latest weather bureau advisory plotted the storm's movement. Northeast storm warnings were up from Brownsville to Matagorda.

Strict Precautions Taken

Planes and men on Texas lower coastal air fields had been moved inland as a precaution. Property owners had boarded up. Disaster agencies were on the alert.

Rain struck Brownsville in gusts early today and slacked off toward mid-morning as the rich lower Rio Grande valley awaited the blow. Steady showers last night and today throughout the valley broke a summer drouth and offered the possibility of relief of a critical water shortage in the Rio Grande.

Rainfall Promised

Weather bureau observers said the disturbance should cause rains from the lower coast inland to the center of the state. There was rain today at Corpus Christi, Galveston, San Antonio, and Laredo, and a light precipitation at Houston.

Citrus growers in the valley said the moisture would help trees hold a bumper crop of new fruit if high winds developed. It also will delay destruction of cotton stalks in a pink bollworm cleanup drive now under way.

No Hurricane Force

The weather bureau at 9:30 a. m. (c. w. t.) located the storm about 50 miles southeast of Brownsville moving northwestward toward the

Theory That Rommel Dead Gaining Credence; Livarot Mayor Says Body Was Flown To Berlin

BY EDWARD W. BEATTIE
United Press War Writer

LIVAROT SUR VIE, Normandy, Aug. 21 (Delayed) — Field Marshal Erwin Rommel probably is dead — the vicitm of Allied air power which brought tragedy after tragedy to his life.

ROMMEL

He apparently fell far behind his own front. And, ironically, near the birthplace of an ancestor of his Allied adversary — Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery. The once vaunted "Desert Fox," probably died of a fractured skull about 3 a. m., July 18, in a hospital at Bernay, near the Seine.

There seems little doubt that he was the high German officer seriously injured when an Allied plane sent his car hurtling into a ditch a few miles from here on the afternoon of July 17th.

Strict Secrecy Maintained

Also, all the evidence indicates: That Rommel died without ever regaining consciousness.

That the Germans made great efforts to keep his death a secret, even to assuring a few in the know that the "marshal is all right."

That Rommel's body was flown secretly to Berlin for burial.

The best evidence is furnished by a vigorous, thick-haired, ruddy-cheeked man of about 50 to 55, with a full gray French beard and sparkling blue eyes. He is Marcel Lescene, the mayor of Livarot, who is also the local druggist and the man who first treated the marshal's injuries.

Mayor Reveals Story

In a little room off Livarot's cobbled main street, Lescene told me the story while the great machines of Allied blitzwar thundered past and the big guns rumbled in the hills beyond.

Two weeks before the accident, he said, Rommel had a warning of what was coming. That was when trucks behind his car were wrecked by a plane.

Rommel's car rushed up the main street from outside the city, Lescene explained, and he hid behind the church.

About 6 p. m. on July 17th, he said a car pulled up at the crossroads, in front of the war memorial, and a distraught tank officer jumped out, inquiring for the village doctor. Lescene gave him directions, but the officer seemed confused and the group dashd off to Vimouterie. Half an hour later, someone informed Lescene at a cafe that an officer and two other people were injured and were unable to find a doctor.

General Grievously Hurt

"I decided to go myself," Lescene said. "The officer lay on a stretcher in the vestibule at the hospital and sisters were washing his face. I noticed he was a general be-

Join Parade, Is Plea

Porter Garrett, chairman of the parade committee, is urging everyone who has a horse or horse-drawn vehicle to enter the parade. He may be reached at his place of business, 1011 Avenue J, or by phoning 2-2401.

Rodeo shows will be streamlined, according to word received by J. Ray Dickey, ABC president, and will provide entertainment for two and one-half hours. The rodeo seeks open competition, he said. Any cowboys not on the "black list" may participate in the competitive events.

Special Price For Military

Enlisted military and naval personnel will be granted special admission privileges — for half price, 60 cents, the same as charged for children. Adults will be admitted for $1.20 (all prices including tax).

Each rodeo performance will be under direction of Lynn Beutler. Following flag-raising ceremonies, show officials, visiting dignitaries and leading performers will be introduced over the loud speaker system.

Discord Running High In Democratic Party

(By The United Press)

From the Atlantic seaboard to the plains of Texas, discord was running high today among embittered factions of the Democratic party in the South, while in Georgia disgruntled members out to beat the Roosevelt ticket were threatened with being blacklisted if they go so far as joining forces with independent factions or with Republicans.

In South Carolina, a lame duck senator, E. D. "Cotton Ed" Smith, sharp tongued administration opponent who was defeated in a recent primary, issued a call to "real lovers of the old (Democratic) party" to rise against the Roosevelt forces and fight.

Smith, who went to Congress for eight terms on platforms of white supremacy and states' rights, indicated he might even consider running in the general election on the southern Democratic party's ticket — if that anti-New Deal faction puts the proposition up to him.

Meanwhile, a former Georgia governor, E. D. Rivers, who was swept into office on a New Deal tidal wave and out again by the opposite influence, charged that Eugene Talmadge, the chief executive who once unseated him, was being deliberately built up for a comeback through a coalition between rump Republicans and independent Democrats.

In Alabama, Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, (D., Tex.), launched the American Democratic party's campaign to "oust" the New Deal Monday, charging that labor racketeers and New Dealers had "bought out the party" amid broken promises of the administration.

Is Rommel Dead!

cause of the red tabs and broad red stripes on his breeches and high boots.

"An officer told me we would have to put him in another room and I had him carried to the dining room next door. Then I noticed he had a large open wound above the left eye and was bleeding from the ears. This convinced me he had a fractured skull. He was not wounded by bullets, but his face was completely swollen and disfigured.

"I started to bind the wounds and told the officer he must be taken at once to a hospital where there was a doctor. I took his pulse, which was weak and gave him two injections of etherated camphor. In doing so I removed his wrist watch.

"Our Marshal, Our Marshall"

"The commander of the local garrison then had the seat removed from his car and the wounded general placed in there. The soldiers all said it was Rommel 'our marshal, our marshal.'

"The village policeman then noticed two crossed marshal's batons on his epaulets and remembering photographs of Rommel, we both felt convinced it was he."

Lescene said he learned later that Rommel's car crashed after the driver's shoulder had been torn off in the Allied plane attack. The marshal either was injured in the crash or in an attempt to jump from the moving car.

Identified To Nurse

The next day, someone from Bernay told Lescene that the general who had been brought from Livarot "died during the night."

A village policeman, who had been listening to Lescene's story, broke in:

"A German officer, who later was treated at the hospital, told one of the sisters that Rommel died at 3 a. m. the next morning at Bernay and his body had been flown to Berlin."

Southern France

Seventh army declared:

"The enemy in our area is perplexed and stunned. Except for his coastal defense forces he is in full retreat."

After occupying the important communications center of Aix-En-Provence, 15 miles due north of Marseille, American doughboys still were charging on and by midday yesterday were two miles along the road to the west.

Steadily Setting Trap

This spearhead and the French thrust on Marseille from the east —a drive which already had passed through Aubagne—were steadily setting up a trap for the Germans remaining in that French city, second only to Paris in size.

Front dispatches said the Germans had set a forest fire east of Marseille in an effort to check the French.

North of Aix-En-Provence, which commands a trunk highway leading directly south into Marseille, a Seventh army column advancing westward along the south bank of the Durance river reached the vicinity of Le Puy yesterday morning and managed to retain some contact with an enemy force retreating toward the Rhone valley, 30 miles distant.

The rout of the scattered Nazi forces was so complete in southern France, however, that the Allied command called off the warplanes which had been bombing and strafing available enemy targets and sent them back to their former job of smashing enemy communications in northern Italy and the Balkans.

Sweeping across the Durance valley northeast of Aix-En-Provence, forward American forces reached Grambols and Monasque in their westward sweep. They also were reported to have enveloped the city of Valensole, 50 miles inland and approximately a third of the way to Lyon.

Four miles northeast of Toulon's outskirts the French captured the fortress of Coudon.

The size or equipment of the German force still fighting inside Toulon was not disclosed. It appeared likely the defenders would attempt another of the prolonged stands such as they have put in other French ports.

Reconnaissance units entered the town of Hyeres, 10 miles east of the port, but enemy guns continued to lay down a heavy shellfire in the path on the Allied advance. A brisk battle still was raging late yesterday in the vicinity of the Hotel De Golf near the town.

About 71 million people live in the French colonies throughout the world.

Bans Eased On Political News

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP) — President Roosevelt has signed the soldier vote law amendments relaxing restrictions on the dissimination of political news and opinion among members of the armed services.

Sponsors said the effect of the amendments would be to open the way for sale and distribution through Army post exchanges and Navy stores of any newspapers, magazines and books in general circulation among civilians—within the limits of available transportation.

In the case of radio broadcasts, the only limitation applied is that if political speeches are rebroadcast to troops over government-operated stations equal time shall be allowed to any political party having a presidential candidate in six or more states.

Motion pictures generally available to the public may be shown without restriction, but shall be selected in an "impartial and nonpartisan" manner.

Impartial Selection Provides

If transportation space problems require a selection of books and other publications, the new bill directs that the choices shall be made in "some impartial manner" prescribed by the Army and Navy, such as a preference poll among troops or recommendations of expert committees.

Left in the anti-propaganda section of the act is a ban against propaganda material paid for by government funds. It applies to any government-financed printed matter, film or radio presentation which 'when considered in its entirety, contains political propaganda obviously designed to affect the result" of the presidential or congressional elections.

Texas' Presidential Electors Urged To Support Sen. Byrd To Forestall Republican Win

(By The Associated Press)

Two Texans opposing re-election of President Roosevelt today urged the state's presidential electors to support Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia instead of the party nominee, while Texas' national Democratic committeeman, Myron G. Blalock of Marshall said he believed the state's Democrats would solve their elector dispute at Dallas' Sept. 12 convention.

During a broadcast last night T. G. Tilford, Nacogdoches, one of the state's 23 presidential electors, and former State Sen. R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth, both mentioned Byrd as suitable presidential timber for many Democrats. Tilford spoke from Houston, Stuart from Fort Worth.

"Fundamental Tenets" Invokede

Tilford said he believed the majority of Texas Democrats were for Byrd and that the Democratic electors of the nation, when they meet Dec. 18 to choose a president, would prefer to vote for Byrd than have the election go to the Republicans.

Tilford said he believed the majority of Texas Democrats were for Byrd and that the Democratic electors of the nation, when they meet Dec. 18 to choose a president, would prefer to vote for Byrd than have the election go to the Republicans.

"The instructions of the state convention which commissioned me were plain and clear," said Tilford. "I shall follow those instructions. . . . I was told not to vote for the nominee of the national Democratic convention if that convention seated any rump delegates from Texas. My instructions were equally as clear not to vote for any Republican. I was instructed to vote for Democrats who believe in the fundamental tenets of the Democratic party, This I shall do." He added Byrd was one such Democrat.

Fifteen Votes For Byrd?

Stuart, keynoter of the regular Democrats at the Tarrant county convention in July, confirmed that 15 of the Texas electors would vote for Byrd and added they would seek to induce electors in other states to support the Virginia senator.

"It means we are determined to keep America American, said Stuart. "I am proud that the Texas regular delegation at the Chicago convention did not join in the Roosevelt parade. That convention literally stole 24 Texas Democratic votes, and it did not grant even one request that came from Texas. The city bosses, the CIO, and negroes repudiated Democratic principles."

Blalock Cautions Wait

In an interview with the Dallas News Blalock said that because the elector issue was raised in naming delegates to the September convention, then that convention should have more authority to act on electors than had the May convention.

By statute, Blalock said, the May convention is set up to name delegates to the national convention.

By custom, he added, the convention has for years also named a slate of electors, passed resolutions praising the Democratic administration if one was in power, and condemning the Republican leadership.

Convention May Decide

Always, by custom, the electors were named to vote for the nominees of the Democratic party, he continued.

Custom was violated, he contended, because for the first time electors were given instructions not to vote for the party's national slate in event certain conditions were not met, and custom was violated in that the national administration was not commended.

Therefore, he believes the way is left open for the September convention also to step outside of custom and take up the matter of electors.

Mississippi Electors Claimed "In Line"

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 22 (AP)—Governor Bailey, who headed the Mississippi delegation to the Democratic national convention in Chicago, says he is "convinced Mississippi's nine presidential electors will vote the Democratic ticket in the electoral college."

Bailey expressed this view in a week-end statement to newsmen after he said h had conferred with the electors individually by telephone. He added:

"Mississippi now is free from sectionalism and ill-will."

A. B. Friend, head of the Mississippi for Democracy club, who had called a mass meeting of party members for Aug. 28 to name a new slate of electors pledged to the Roosevelt-Truman ticket, said the meeting has been cancelled in view of Bailey's statement.

Threats of a party revolt had been heard here since the national convention failed to, satisfy some southern demands on racial and states-rights issues. Eight of the state's electors had refused to pledge unqualified support of the party ticket. They were left unbound by the state conventon.

Dumping Feared If Cotton Withheld

ATLANTA, Aug. 22 (AP)—Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Tom Linder said today any effort to withhold the 1944 cotton crop from the market, as suggested by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), would result ultimately in the government dumping its own cotton on the market, and holding prices down.

Linder said the Bankhead proposal "sounds good on the face of it," but that actually only cotton growers able to reclaim their cotton under loan would benefit by it.

He said those who could not reclaim it would have for all practical purposes sold their cotton to the government.

The commissioner, using the figure of 22.41 as parity, said that under a government loan of 92½ per cent of parity the farmers would get 20.73 cents per pound for "the cream of the crop," which he described as strict middling 15/16ths of an inch staple cotton.

He said that for less than strict middling grade the farmer would receive from $5 to $35 less a bale and would be penalized for less than 15/16ths of an inch staple length.

Marshal Petain Said Arrested

GENEVA, Aug. 22 (AP) — Marshal Philippe Petain was reported today to have been arrested by the gestapo Sunday morning at the Parc hotel at Vichy.

Advices from Vichy said Petain was not given time to shave before being taken to a destination not yet known.

Taken into custody along with him, these reports said, were Bernard Menetrel, his private secretary, and several other members of his staff.

These were said to include a General Bridoux (possibly Lt. Gen. Eugene Bridoux, secretary of state for war) in the Laval government; an Admiral Blehaut, and a man named Rochat, identified as general secretary of the ministry of foreign affairs.

Writes Farewell Letter

(A broadcast by the Swiss radio heard in London said that before leaving Petain wrote a short letter of farewell to his friends. Copies were said to be in circulation in France).

Reports from the French underground said that the Maquis were attacking Vichy at about the time of the seizures, had actually taken parts of the provisional capital and were arresting collaborationists.

The swift reported action of the gestapo seemed an indication that the Germans placed no trust in the marshal.

Refused German Request

The most reliable sources said that Petain refused a German request to go with Pierre Laval, chief of government, to the new provisional capital at Belfort, and that the old marshal was summarily arested by force. Where he is was not known absolutely, although most guesses were that he is in Germany. Thus the old chief of state became officially what he has been in effect for a long time —a prisoner of the Nazis.

The Vichy regime is "finished," the Basel National Zeitung commented. The Swiss minister to Vichy is returning home and relations concerning France will henceforth be conducted through Berlin.

Industrial Accident Board's Work Rises

AUSTIN, Aug. 22 (U.P.) — The work of the Texas Industrial Accident board has been increased greatly during the past two years due to the increase in the number of persons engaged in war work in the state, State Auditor C. H. Cavness reported today, but it has resulted in a decrease in the number of claims cases actually heard by the board.

This decrease was attributed to an increase in the wages being paid while the maximum compensation claim remains at $20 a week.

In 1942's fiscal year, 3,271 compensation cases were carried to the board for formal hearing, and the year before then 4,727. The number declined to 2,998. For the nine months ended May 31 there were 2,273 hearings.

Total number of injuries reported for 1943 was 177,203.

The federal Social Security program will be 10 years old on Jan. 1, 1947.

Texas' Demo Issue Is Badly Snarled

HOUSTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Houston Post will say in an editorial today that "the course left for supporters of Roosevelt and Truman is to file a third-party list of electors to be voted on in November" if the September state convention fails to choose new pro-Roosevelt electors of re-instructs Texas' 23 electors to vote against President Roosevelt.

"As matters now stand," the Post states, "President Roosevelt cannot receive a majority of this state's electoral vote, no matter how the people mark their ballots. That should not be.

"This remarkable state of affairs puts the issue squarely up to the Democratic party at the state convention in September. Whether the state is pro-Roosevelt or anti-Roosevelt in November, the right of those who want to vote for Roosevelt and Truman should not be thwarted."

In the inland portion of this sector Italian troops captured Santa Maria Carpieneta, three miles west of Pergola.

Poles Drive Ahead

The Eighth army announced it had taken a total of 13,171 prisoners from May 11 to Aug. 1.

(The German communique said the Allies were mounting a new offensive in the Adriatic sector of Italy and had captured several heights. The Allies are near the eastern outposts of the Gothic line south of Rimini.)

Gutteridge's Annual Homer Aids Browns

Clout Wins For Leaders In 12th

(By The Associated Press)

Mr. Pepper Pot of the St. Louis Browns, alias Don Gutteridge, won't be in the front row when they count the most valuable player ballots in November but he was the No. 1 man on the ticket today in St. Louis.

The little second baseman from Pittsburg, Kas., waited until last night to get his annual home run and picked the right spot — in the 12th inning of a 3-3 ball game with Frank Mancuso on base. Gutteridge hit one homer last year and one the year before. Up to last night in Washington, he hadn't connected for all four this year.

When the ex-Cardinal gave the league-leaders a 5-3 victory over the Nats' Mickey Haefner, he gave them a shot in the arm that may shake them out of their troubles. Luke Sewell's men had dropped four in a row.

Boston Loses To Tribe

The 5-3 overtime win that Sig Jakucki earned over Washington boosted the Browns lead to 4½ games as Boston fell before Cleveland, 7-6, in 13 innings when another home run, hit by Mickey Rocco of the Tribe, gave Specs Klieman the relief nod over Mike Ryba.

Detroit, next port of call for St. Louis after they finish their Washington visit tonight, was dropped by New York, 5-1, as Walt Dubiel scattered eight hits effectively for his ninth win. Homers by Hershel Martin and Russ Derry helped send Rufe Gentry down to his 13th defeat.

A's Edge White Sox

Philadelphia took a 3-2 decision over Chicago in 10 innings with Don Black getting the verdict over Bill Dietrich on Frankie Hayes' bases-loaded single.

Pittsburgh's latest win streak mounted to five and 16 of their last 17 as they trimmed Brooklyn, 7-6 in 10 innings after finishing up a suspended game hanging over from July 9 with a 9-7 triumph.

Ernie Lombardi drove in all four giant runs with two homers and a single in New York's 4-3 margin over Chicago. Johnny Allen needed relief to grab his third win at Bill Fleming's expense.

The Boston at St. Louis night game was rained out and the Phils and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Trapshooting Group Plans Tournament

VANDALIA, Ohio, Aug. 22. (AP) —This little Ohio town of some 500 population—made famous as the permanent home of the Amateur Trapshooting association—was ready today for its annual big moment, the 45th renewal of the grand American trapshooting tournament, a three-day event.

The number of entrants won't be known until the firing gets under way but Ray Loring, ATA manager, predicted there would be as many as a year ago when 38 states and three Canadian provinces were represented.

The program tomorrow will be topped by the men's and women's amateur clay target champions and the champion of champions event. The latter shoot is that which matches all the various state champions.

Also on the opening day's program will be the husband and wife event, the father and son or daughter championship, the state team shoot, the veterans' competition (open to entrants 70 years of age or over), the junior clay target title and the sub-junior clay target championships.

The doubles and the grand American handicap preliminary will be shot off Thursday and the meet will come to a close Friday with the grand American handicap—that most unpredictable of sports events which never has been won twice by the same person.

Two LAAF Softball Tens In Semi-Finals

Lubbock Army Air field provided two teams for the semi-finals in the city softball tournament Monday afternoon as the LAAF All-Stars gained an easy win over the Scarbrough Grocers while the PT Department ten tamed the Junior Chamber of Commerce in quarter-final games. out the Jaycees, 11-1, at the Chapman field diamond. Dixon blanked the Jaycees after the first inning, struck out eight men, and aided his own cause with a home run in the third inning with two mates on base.

At Mackenzie Park, the All-Stars roared to a 13-3 victory over the Grocermen as Hayes limited the "prune peddlers" to six hits and provided the spark of a nine run rally in the sixth inning when he homered with the bases loaded. Jonda also homered for the All-Stars with none on.

Rotary Nips Kiwanis To Tie For Lead

Walter Higginbotham pitched the Rotary club back into a tie for first place in the junior baseball American league race as he tamed the Kiwanis Cardinals, 8 to 6, at Tech field Monday afternoon.

The Cards, first half champions, used two pitchers in trying to stem the stampede of the winners with Travis and Tatum toeing the rubber, but the Rotary nine moved into the lead early in the ball game and retained the lead.

The first automobile to provide a circulating motor lubrication system was the Autocar model of 1904, which was made at Ardmore, Pa.

Shirley Fry Pressed To Beat Texas Girl

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22 (AP) — Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, favorite in the Girls' National Junior tennis championships, came from behind several times to defeat Mary Cunningham of El Paso, Tex., 8-6, 6-4, in the second round as play started on the Philadelphia Cricket club's grass courts Monday.

Miss Fry, seeded No. 1 and a semi-finalist last year, drew a bye in the first round of play for the title vacated by Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., through her graduation from junior ranks.

With the field narrowed down to 16 after today's 37 matches, other girls still in the running included Margaret Varner, El Paso, Tex.

Dean's Service Wins 5-1 Over Sears Nine

Bill Dean's Service retained a faint hope for a tie in the last half junior baseball race Monday afternoon by punching out a 5 to 1 victory over the Sears nine at Chapman field.

Although outhit, 7-5, the Deanmen bounded away to an early lead and were never threatened by the Sears club. Lumpkin and Vaughn divided the pitching duties for the winners while Cornell worked for the losers.

Joyce Bested By Armstrong

Injury Handicaps Former Champion

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22 (U.P.) —Perpetual Henry Armstrong, the former triple champion, evened his comeback series with Willie Joyce, the Gary, Ind., boxer, at two-all last night, clubbing his way with one good hand to a close ten round decision before a capacity house of 10,000 at Civic auditorium.

Armstrong's once - dangerous right, injured in a draw bout with Slugger White at Hollywood last month, was virtually useless after the third round, he admitted after taking Referee Frankie Brown's decision, 56½ points to 53½.

Joyce weighed in at 140, Armstrong at 139½. The crowd grossed an estimated $33,000, for the second best return in San Francisco boxing history, exceeded only by the $41,000 Armstrong-Fritzie Zivic match in 1942. The former champion took 35 per cent of the gate after deduction of taxes, while Joyce fought for 25 per cent.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 — Overseas sports roundup:

THE SANDSTORM LEAGUE

Here's how they play GI baseball in the Middle East, as related by Larry Leonard: "Our baseball team was engaging a quartermaster unit when all of a sudden the QM boys voiced protest against the umpiring. Finally they tossed out the umpire. They put in another umpire (tell Durocher to try it some time) and this new ump was one of our better players who had just come out of the hospital. Well, things worked beautifully until the 10th when with the score tied our team, realizing the hitting ability of the kid we had umpiring, tried to take him out as ump and use him as a pinch-hitter. The other team protested so strongly they finally walked off the field and the game has to be played over. Incidentally, this kid over whom the squabble arose is a promising prospect, Bob Knight of Fort Worth, Tex. He has a .565 batting average and is a good long ball hitter. The kid is young, has a good arm, an excellent eye for fielding and has played the sun field — in the desert."

SICLY

From "perpetual" Private Doc Goldstein: "A few days ago a local Army all-tar baseball team thumped some Navy all-stars. I sat alongside a high ranking Navy officer who commented on the Army shortstop thus: 'That shortstop has potentialities. In a few years he'll be ripe for the big leagues'." The guy was G. I. Billy Cox, property of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Mike Jacobs Signs Deal To Air Fight Show Each Friday

BY JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Professional boxing receives a lusty pat on the back from the new contract between Mike Jacobs and the Gillette Safety Razor company, which provides that Jacobs stage a fight show every Friday night for a whole year—to be broadcast nationally.

That's the tallest order—the stiffest promotional assignment in sports history. Its magnitude emphatically endorses leather-tossing as a year-round entertainment of national appeal.

The first of these 52 brawls will be staged at Madison Square Gardent, Sept. 8. Arrangements for the bout were being completed today at a stormy session of the New York Boxing commission, from which was expected to emerge a featherweight title tilt between Champion Willie Pep and Ex-Champion Chalky Wright.

Half Of Bouts In Garden

About half the bouts will be held at the Garden, and most of the rest at little St. Nicholas arena, which accomodates about 4,500 fans. A few may be staged in other cities, with Jacobs acting as co-promoter. However, all will be aired through the Mutual Broadcasting system, with an average hookup of more than 200 stations in the United States and 27 in Canada.

This fight-a-week project is not an experiment. It is the result of experiments and investigation conducted by some of the smartest men in advertising and merchandising during the past three years. Ed Wilhelm, radio executive of the Maxon Advertising agency which handles the Gillette account, explains:

"We have been broadcasting fights, generally from Madison Square Garden, since 1941. Before that, we were convinced of boxing's tremendous following throughout the United States and Canada. We had learned, for example, that no other commercial program can command such radio attention as an important heavyweight championship fight. The attention—the number of listeners-in—naturally diminishes far less important bouts.

Many Are Basic Fans

"However, during our three years of broadcasting we discovered something new—that there is a basic boxing audience. Thousands and thousands of dyed-in-the-wool fans tune in for any bout, regardless of who is fighting and where it is held if they can be sure of getting such a broadcast at a certain time every week. In the past we could give them fights only when dates were available at Madison Square Garden. This caused wholesale disappointment for those who tuned in what they thought were fight nights, and got some other program."

Now, the basic audience will get its fights every Friday nigth at the same time: 9 p. m., CWT.

This basic audience will be increased naturally by the regular weekly schedule, Wilhelm believes. Moreover, it will be swelled tremendously when the millions of men in service return home—men who have become boxing enthusiasts because of their own instructions in the manly art and because of their attendance at bouts in camp or aboard ship.

Meanwhile, it's up to Mike Jacobs and Matchmaker Nat Rogers to produce talent for 52 rapid fire boxing shows—at a time when good civilian boxers are almost as scarce as crocodile feathers.

Tex Hughson Hurls Win For Semi-Pros

KYLE, Texas, Aug. 22 (AP) — Cecil (Tex) Hughson, whose pitching string in the American league was halted at 18 victories by a call to the Navy, may be a 20-game winner this season after all.

Tex came home to his ranch here for a pre-induction visit until Aug. 28 when he's to report but over at Houston where there's a semi-pro baseball tournament going on, came an invitation from a team to pitch its opening game he accepted and shut out the opposition 10-0, giving up only three hits and striking out 11. Dixie Parsons, slugging catcher formerhree times.

Now Hughson says he may pitch another semi-pro game so he can make it 20 victories for the season.

A's Take Upper Hand Over White Sox

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22 (AP) —The Philadelphia Athletics took the season series edge over another American league club for the first time since 1941 last night when they defeated the Chicago White Sox for the 12th time this year.

The Sox were the victims in '41, too, when they lost 12 to the A's.

All-American Open Started

125 Take Part In Qualifying Rounds

CHICAGO, Aug. 22 (AP)—Approximately 125 shooters finished action yesterday in the amateur qualifying section of the Tam O'Shanter all-American open, $42,500 golfing extravaganza.

Forty-nine young ladies battled for 24 positions in their 72-hole division, also opening Thursday.

The big show's first day saw Ed Furgol, 24-year-old Birmingham, Mich., public links ace, posting a 67, five under par, to lead 250 amateurs ambitious to clinch positions among the 24 eligibles for the finals.

In second place after yesterday's dawn-to-dusk show were Ken Heilemann of St. Louis and Frank Kovack of Chicago who turned in 70's. A stroke behind were Wilford Wehrle of Racine, Wis., 46-year-old Tom Frainey of Chicago, and George Dawson, another Chicago veteran.

Dallas Club Ready To Resume Play

DALLAS, Aug. 22. (AP) — The Texas league may decide at its Sept. 16 meeting to resume operations next season and not just be a stock-taking session to set another parley later for final action.

Anyway, there's one club that's going to be ready to vote "aye" as soon as they call the roll.

"We are going to say 'let's go, " declared George Schepps, Dallas president. "We think it's time to resume operations and we want it done now so we can start building a club. You can't wait around and get good ball players."

Grid Training Gets Into Swing At SWC Schools; 125 Hopefuls Out At Texas U.

(By The Associated Press)

Football huskies in at least four Southwest conference training camps today rubbed their aching muscles and prepared to snap into the second day of fall practice.

Texas, Texas A. and M., Southern Methodist and Texas Christian all initiated the training grind yesterday, with 125 candidates, including seven lettermen, reporting to Coach D. X. Bible at Texas. Rice opens its practice session next Monday and Arkansas was due to have begun workouts yesterday.

Other possibilities were due to suit up for Bible, including Jack Halfpenny, Dallas high school back, and Ralph Edge, Dallas tackle. Bible will split the squad into A and B teams in a few days.

44 Out At TCU

At Fort Worth, Coach Dutch Meyer said his Texas Christian hopefuls — 44 reported yesterday —would hold inter-squad games each Saturday from now until the first game. Five lettermen are back.

One hundred boys reported to Coach Homer Norton at College Station as the Texas Aggies swung into the season. Norton plans a first team of 35 or 40 men with the rest on team two, but he promised the boys that all who tried would play in one or more games. Five lettermen reported.

At Dallas, six holdovers from 1943 were among the 50 candidates reporting to Southern Methodist mentor Jimmy Stewart. Five prospects for the team besides the holdovers have had college experience, three were junior colge products and at least nine others were high school players of all-district caliber.

Before the war England imported eels from France, northern Italy and North Africa.

KID VERA CRUZ WINS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22 — Kid Vera Cruz, 123, of Vera Cruz, Mexico, making his first ring appearance on the Pacific coast, won a 10 round decision last night over Pee Pee Lewis, 123½ Los Angeles at the Ocean Park arena. Lewis took an early margin, but the Mexican lad finished strong with the winning points.

THREE generations of the Greaves family are licking the war manpower shortage in the office of the Portales Daily News—and doing right well at it, too.

Veteran Publisher J. G. Greaves still puts in a full day's work running the place; his daughter, Mrs. M. M. Stinnett, is acting as editor in the absence of her brother G. K. Greaves, who is in uniform; and Mrs. Stinnett's 10-year old daughter, Jane Anne, is carrying the town's largest route—something over 100 papers daily—under the direction of her pop, who is the paper's star reporter and circulation manager.

The Plainsman was in Portales the other day and, of course, made a bee-line for the Daily News office. One of the few publishers whose current staff is as large and almost as efficient as is the case in normal times, Mr. Greaves is quite philosophical. Maybe experience helps a little, and, if so, Mr. Greaves has plenty to help him over the wartime bumps. One of the oldest of the area's newspapermen and printers, he has been over the jumps in Eastern New Mexico and Northwest Texas ever since 1908.

He used to work for Pete Boesen, now an oppulent banker in Sudan, when Mr. Boesen was an Amarillo newspaper proprietor three decades ago. Mr. Greaves also helped publish the first edition of the Amarillo Daily News, which was started by a group of Amarillo prohibitionists, headed by the late J. E. Nunn, in an effort to throw John Barleycorn out of the Panhandle.

WE ran across an important story over in Portales, too. It probably won't be "hot news" until after the European theater closes with a United Nations victory, but it means something for the post-war future even this early in the game.

The New Mexico Highway commission has adopted, as one of its No. 1 projects, the paving of the road between Dora, N. M., and the Texas state line with which Lubbock already is linked by way of Levelland and Morton.

Through the efforts of New Mexico Highway Commissioner Floyd Kennedy, and Gov. Jack Dempsey, the project also has been approved by the federal Bureau of Public Roads and the War Production board. It is approximately 28 miles in length and construction will run in the neighborhood of $290,000.

Newcomers to Lubbock haven't heard anything about the need for such a paved link between Lubbock and Portales, because the war put the kibosh on early hopes for it. Oldtimers may have forgotten about it, for the same reason.

But the fact remains that closing the gap between the state boundary and Dora, by way of Causey and Lingo, will extend Lubbock's retail and wholesale zone and bind us closer to a very prosperous and friendly New Mexico territory.

It also wil enable Portales Valley people to come over here in all sorts of weather without going through Clovis, which route is approximately 12 miles longer than the one to be improved.

PEANUTS, sweet potatoes and beans form part of the foundation for the prosperity of the Portales section, but M. M. Stinnett told us that dairy and poultry products raised out that way now play an important role in the economic picture now-adays.

Portales Valley milk goes all the way to Amarillo, Santa Fe and El Paso and those markets are crying for more, Mr. Stinnett said.

There is a big, modern cannery over there that runs full swing in season and is going great guns now, Mr. Stinnett reported.

Right now, beans are being canned and the plant's capacity is 100,000 pounds every 24 hours.

Easter New Mexico Teachers college is located in Portales and drives on the campus recently have been paved.

Despite the war, a good enrollment is anticipated for the fall semester.

We pushed around considerably in Portales, talking to first one person and then another and the consensus is that New Mexico is "on the fence," politically speaking.

The agreement was general that the not-so-New Deal administration has lost a lot of support over there and that the state could go for Tom Dewey come November.

New Mexico lost an awful lot of its finest young men in the collapse of the Philippines and there is still much resentment over the government's failure to get help to Bataan and Corregidor. Then, too, there is dissatisfaction over bungling and fumbling on the domestic front, based largely upon regimentation's red tape and the administration's failure to keep striking unionists on war plant jobs while so many of New Mexico's sons slumber in far Pacific graves or languish in Jap prison camps.

WE HOOKED a ride with a travelingman who had business in Clovis and Portales and went over by way of the former city, back by way of Dora and Morton. Soaring south and west of Clovis we saw several giant four-motor bombers which must have been B-29's, which is logical, since the Clovis Army airfield—a very permanent affair—is equipped to handle not only everything the world now has in the way of big planes, but also everything expected in the post-war future.

One of the largest and finest fields of its kind in the world, the Clovis layout will be a coast-to-coast stopping-off place for all types of Army airships from now on out. Peace years will find only a small detachment of men located there, but the air traffic passing through is expected to be tremendous.

A couple of former Lubbockites are going like a house afire in Clovis. They are R. B. McAlister, formerly Judge Landis' No. 1 colleague at KFYO, who is now manager and part owner of Clovis' KICA; and Grady Maples, former KFYO announcer, who is now Mr. McAlister's chief supporter on KICA. Their Clovis radio station is one of the most successful of its size in the whole country.

Mr. Maples, who broke his leg in a baseball game here a couple of years ago and who has never fully recovered, is just back from a Rochester, Minn., hospital where he has received additional treatment. Although his leg still is in a cast—and will be for some weeks — he expects almost complete recovery.

Mr McAlister is up to his old Lubbock tricks, in that he is in the big middle of everything in Clovis. Before he lived in the New Mexico city long enough to change his shirt he was voted Clovis' most valuable young citizen.

Local radio listeners who did not know Mr. McAlister in person while he was at KFYO will remember him as a member of the team of "Mac and Wes," and "Snoop and Scoop," the other member being, of course, sparkling Wes Youngblood who is still at KFYO but who soon will leave to become a CBS network announcer from Los Angeles.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT
(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

SERVICE in hotels has been cut to a minimum by recent orders form the WMC.

Hereafter hotel guests—not on a daily basis—will get their bed linen changed no oftener than twice a week. No guest will be given more than one bath towel a day. Maid service for any one guest will be limited to once every 24 hours, and so on, through quite a list of labor-saving restrictions.

MILLETT

Now if some commission or agency would just crack down on the services members of a family are permitted to expect under their own roof — Mom might also come through the help shortage without any telling effects.

For instance, wouldn't she be saved a lot of work if members of her family were told they could have only so many clothes a week? And wouldn't it help Mom if each member over 12 years of age would be held responsible for sewing on his own buttons, carrying out his own dishes after a meal, making his own bed, etc.?

NO CUT FOR MOM

EVERYWHERE but at home, service is being cut to a minimum for the duration. But good old Mom is expected to give her family all the service they have become accustomed to through the years—even though she has had to take on the heavy cleaning, the family laundry, canning, gardening, and perhaps even pushing the lawn mower.

Since there doesn't seem to be any commission with the authority to tell families that service at home has got to be cut down, maybe we ought to create one.

And if we do, let's not have anyone on it but maidless housewives whose families average at least four members.

Star Beams

WE more or less old-timers might as well reconcile ourselves to finishing our span in this implausible world in the midst of overlapping emergencies.

Another pathetic sight is a 2x4 politician trying to thumb a ride on the gravy train.

THE PROBLEM OF SURPLUS FOODS

Indications are that the United States soon will be confronted, if it isn't already, with a serious surplus foods problem.

If these reports are true—and probably they are—no one has cause for surprise. The problem is one that many observers expected—even hoped for—not too long ago. They hoped, anxiously and fearfully, that this nation's problem would be one of too much food and not too little.

Everyone can remember when, during the dark days of 1942 and the brightening days of 1943, there were fears—well-grounded fears—that there would have to be a considerable tightening of belts in the United States before victory was won. Some observers—and they were not alarmists—feared that Americans would know hunger before the war was finished.

It is true, of course, that there have been times when all the foods of the kinds most desired have not been available. But there has never been a minute when there has not been an abundance of food—good, nourishing, appetizing and health-sustaining food. So far as food has been concerned, Americans have been the most fortunate people upon earth. And their production of foodstuffs for themselves and the less fortunate has been one of the most miraculous achievements of the war.

So, if a problem of surpluses is arising, Americans should rejoice that it is their good fortune that the problem should be of that kind. They should be happy and thankful that they must worry about what to do with so much. They should be grateful that their problem grows from abundance, rather than famine.

This spirit, naturally, will not solve the problem of surpluses—and it will have to be solved in some way. The solution is sure to be extremely difficult. Possibly it cannot be solved satisfactorily at all.

But no matter how difficult the solution may be, it will be infinitely easier than if the present problem was one of trying to find enough to eat of anything that might hold body and soul together.

Diplomatic "Fluff" Hinders Peace Parley

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. — The four-power conference at Dumbarton Oaks holds more promise for making this "the war to end wars" than any event since Versailles. But it starts with two strikes against it; will have very tough sledding.

Strike No. 1 is Dewey's blast against the conference.

Cordell Hull, it is true, has not sufficiently consulted smaller nations. But conscientiously, sincerely, though belatedly, he is trying to carve out an international machine to keep the peace after this war.

PEARSON

He began late, was pushed into it by men like Sumner Welles, Rep. Fulbright and the B2 H2 senators. Nevertheless, Mr. Hull is now in deadly earnest, should be given a chance to do his best without too much political boat-rocking.

Strike No. 2 is old-fashioned superficial diplomacy, which puts more emphasis on picayune formalities than on heading off the possibility that the youth of the world may go to war again.

Already the old-fashioned diplomats have begun jockeying. Russia had felt that a conference of this kind was so important, it should be handled by the top men of the world — Roosevelt, Churchill, Stalin. Secretary Hull however, wanted it to be a conference of foreign ministers, somewhat like that which he attended in Moscow last fall. In the end, since Stalin, Roosevelt, et al., are not doing the job, the Russians will be represented by a virtual diplomatic messenger, Soviet Ambassador Gromyko, already stationed in Washington.

CHINESE FOLLOW REDS

PRIOR to this, the Chinese were to be represented by one of their leading diplomats, Victor Hu, long-time Chinese delegate to the League of Nations. But when they heard the Russians would only be represented by Gromyko, the Chinese decided also to be represented by the ambassador in Washington. In other words, they didn't want to play the conference up one diplomatic notch higher than the Russians.

As a result of this jockeying, the State department feels that Secretary Hull, being a foreign minister, should not deal with lesser lights across the same table, that this should be done by Undersecretary of State Ed Stettinius. Hull, therefore, speaks at the opening and closing of the conference but will not be active in the day-to-day sessions, where the real peace plan will be born.

NOTE—On the desk which the Undersecretary of State uses at Dumbarton Oaks, home of Ambassador Robert Woods Bliss, young Stettinius found this card: "Trust in Allah but tie your camel. Mildred and Robert W. Bliss."

RUSSIAN PLAN

ACTUALLY, the Russians are reported to have prepared a broad plan for future peace machinery, not too far out of line with British-American ideas.

They are reported to believe: (1) that the four big powers must be responsible for keeping the peace (regardless of Governor Dewey); (2) that the Big Four should comprise a council similar to the League's council; (3) that the smaller nations should be members of an assembly holding meetings for consultation; (4) that the Big Four should maintain a punitive air force which could strike at any country which tried to upset the peace of the world.

Chief debate probably will hinge on an international police force. Roosevelt has come out against such a force. The Democratic platform at Chicago straddled the issue. Wendell Willkie is for such a force.

Instead of an international police force, Roosevelt proposes that the Big Four should keep their own individual armies and navies and use them to subdue an aggressor nation. Only trouble is that, when the French and some British proposed doing this against Germany when Hitler invaded the Rhineland in 1936, the British would not use their army to support the French. Shortly thereafter, Hitler overran Europe.

This all-important point probably will be merely explored at Dumbarton Oaks. Final decision will be passed on to Roosevelt, Churchill, Stalin, with the U. S. Senate and the November election wielding a potent power in the background.

FIORELLO AND ITALY

NEW YORK'S busy little mayor, Fiorello La Guardia, isn't saying anything about it, but he has turned down President Roosevelt's request that he fly to Rome, survey the Italian political situation for the U. S. government.

La Guardia long has been extremely anxious to go to Italy. However, he flatly won't take the job unless he can return to Italy wearing a U. S. uniform. The Little Flower was a major in the last war, has been itching to get into uniform again, but Secretary of War Stimson turned him down, saying he was doing a better job for the City of New York.

Meanwhile, La Guardia has stopped broadcasting to Italy on Sunday nights. Little was heard about it on this side of the ocean, but observers returning from Italy report that La Guardia is the greatest single American hero of the Italian people, probably was the most widely listened - to speaker on the Allied radio in any enemy country during the war.

FDR'S "FLOP"

ONE thing on which both Republicans and Roosevelt friends agree, is that his Bremerton Navy Yard radio address fell flat, lacked the old FDR zingo. Inside fact is that the President prepared the speech cold, without any outside help. No "ghosts" were along.

It was reported that "Sammy-The-Rose" Roseman was along on the entire trip and helped draft the Bremerton talk. Real fact, however, is that Rosenman and Elmer Davis, OWI chief, left the President at Pearl Harbor. Davis flew on to Saipan and Guam, Rosenman back to the White House.

NOTE—One friend, listening to the President's broadcast, remarked: "It's so bad that 'Pa' Watson must have written it."

DOUGHBOY JEWELRY

SECRET weakness of the Army-Navy post exchanges has turned out to be jewelry. Perhaps because it glitters, perhaps because high-pressure salesmen have been too persuasive, the post exchanges are stocked up with costume jewelry until they groan.

One small North Carolina air base, Pope Field, with only 400 men, has a total of $16,000 in costume jewelry awaiting sale in its post exchange. At Fort Bragg, N. C., a larger camp, $91,000 in jewelry is awaiting lethargic buyers.

The situation is so bad that the Navy has issued a stop order for the whole Eastern area on any more post-exchange purchase of jewelry.

MARK Hellinger is incredible. . . Rich, luxury-loving, well in his 40's, waited on hand and foot, happily married to the glorified Gladys Glad, he left his mansion and his producer's berth at Warner's to fly to the stink-holes of the Pacific as a news correspondent . . . Emaciated, shaken by an almost nonstop flight from India (26 continuous hours in a crate where he could scarcely move an arm or leg), he landed back in New York . . . In a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria, with Gladys, safe in his beloved Manhattan, he couldn't eat, couldn't sleep . . . He was thinking of the GI's—fighting, sweating, dying — while he was here, where everything was so soft . . . Mark Hellinger, who got famous putting the surprise twists on the end of his sophisticated human interest stories . . . He ran into one yarn he can't snap off with a wisecrack —and he doesn't want to!

Huntz Hall, former Dead End Kid, is tough; but he'd better find out whether the pretty singer he's dating has an "all clear" from another he-man, Cmdr. Jack Dempsey. . . . . The Woolworth Donahues, separated for years now, still can't agree on the financial settlement . . . Frank Sinatra, whose earning power has become practically unlimited, will have to carry out an old contract with Paramount theatre at $4,000 a week, which he now considers chicken-feed. His usual terms these days are 50 per cent of the gross receipts in picture houses, which might run as high as ten times the aforesaid sum in theatres which go in for that sort of deal.

THE two swankiest Hollywood night spots, the Mocambo and Trocadero, may have to close because they were ruled out of bounds for uniformed personnel. Under California law that is grounds for revocation of a liquor license . . . Greta Garbo, rarely seen in public except when she goes to do her own marketing in Beverly Hills, is walking with a decided limp, the result of an internal condition, not an accident. . . . John Ringling North, with all his troubles, has found the time and mood to write a song—"I'm on a Green Branch Now." Ella Logan introduced it on the air and will sing it to the GI's abroad.

Virginia Bruce seems to prefer a Marine major . . . Anne Baxter seeing a Pasadena doctor (not professionally) about the state of her heart. . Ensign Bob Stack on leave, doesn't want to leave Bonita Granville . . . Not all the setos come off in Hollywood. There was a beaut between Jane Beebe and Ben Rochelle backstage at the Strand Theatre, after he had stepped on her $450 gown in the act, and ripped it right down the back. The only thing she didn't throw at him was the piano and she couldn't lift that . . . Jack Linder, who first saw dramatic possibilities in Mae West, has another exotic find. He lifted Rose La Rose out of a Los Angeles burlesque troupe and is starring her at a Hollywood theatre . . . Val Valentinoff is squiring Carmen Miranda, but he'd rather be with Kay Crespi of "Follow the Girls."

AVA Gardner, Mickey Rooney's used-to-be, who went out steady with Metro director Willis Goldbeck, seems to have switched to Alex D'Arcy, former husband of Arlene Whelan . . . While the onetime Mrs. Jackie Coogan, Flower Parry, is getting a fast and furious rush from Bill Caldwell, the actor . . . Joan Edward's press agent brigade sends out as many releases as the New Deal, but it IS true that Irving Klein, of Brooklyn, acts his age: He's has organized a "Moan and Groan for Joan" club.

A movie theatre chain is working on a million ramifications involved in its plan to rename 50 theatres in as many cities after the late Carole Lombard . . . Monte Proser is negotiating with Sidney Kingsley to write a film story around his Copacabana. . . . . The new Cafe Zanzibar show, starring Cab Calloway, is the costliest in Broadway history. This is the room which saw seven disastrous flops in succession before it skyrocketed to the top . . . Zachary Scott, new Warner star, got his start toward film fame the same way as did Errol Flynn. Both made their first appearance as corpses washed ashore — Scott in "Mask of Dimitrios," Flynn in "The Case of the Missing Bride" 10 years ago.

NEW YORK clucks love to be clipped. This is one burg where the slickers don't have to meet the trains . . . On Park Avenue a former band-leader has opened a private "bottle club." Members pay a substantial initiation fee and regular dues. They supply their own lockers with their own hooch. They come there after the 4 a. m. close, are served from their own bottles at a buck a drink, plus tips, of course . . . There's no music or other entertainment, no dancing . . . The joint is a clean-up . . . The psychological angle apparently is that New Yorkers can't have a good time at home; even their liquor doesn't taste right there.

More of the Same Thing—Only Different

American Infantrymen In France Learn War The Hard Way

Mild Indiana Soldier Turns Hedgerow Killer

BY ERNIE PYLE
Special Correspondent

ON THE WESTERN FRONT — (By Wireless) — The ways of an invasion turned out to be all very new to Pfc. Tommy Clayton, the 29th Division infantryman we were writing about yesterday.

It was new to thousands of others also, for they hadn't been trained in hedgerow fighting. So they had to learn it the way a dog learns to swim. They learned.

As we said yesterday, this Tommy Clayton, the mildest of men, has killed four of the enemy for sure, and probably dozens of unseen ones. He wears an expert rifleman's badge and soon will have the proud badge of combat infantryman, worn only by those who have been through the mill.

ERNIE PYLE

Three of his four victims he got in one long blast of his Browning automatic rifle. He was stationed in the bushes at a bend in a gravel road, covering a crossroads about 80 yards ahead of him.

Suddenly three German soldiers came out a side road and foolishly stopped to talk right in the middle of the crossroads. The rifle has 20 bullets in a clip. Clayton held her down for the whole clip. The three Germans went down, never to get up.

ONE A MONGOLIAN

His fourth one he thought was a Jap when he killed him. In the early days of the invasion lots of soldiers thought they were fighting Japs, scattered in with the German troops. They were actually Mongolian Russians, with strong Oriental features, who resembled Japs to the untraveled Americans.

On this fourth killing, Clayton was covering an infantry squad as it worked forward along a hedgerow. There were snipers in the trees in front. Clayton spotted one and sprayed the tree with his automatic rifle, and out tumbled this man he thought was a Jap.

TO show how little anyone who hasn't been through war can know about it — do you want to know how Clayton located his sniper?

Here's how—

When a bullet passes smack over your head it doesn't zing; it pops the same as a rifle when it goes off. That's because the bullet's rapid passage creates a vacuum behind it, and the air rushes back with such force to fill this vacuum that it collides with itself, and makes a resounding "pop."

Clayton didn't know what caused this, and I tried to explain.

"You know what a vacuum is," I said. "We learned that in high school."

And Tommy said, "Ernie, I never went past the third grade."

But Tommy is intelligent and his sensitivities are fine. You don't have to know the reasons in war, you only have to know what things indicate when they happen.

Well, Clayton had learned that the pop of a bullet over his head preceded the actual rifle report by a fraction of a second, because the sound of the rifle explosion had to travel some distance before hitting his ear. So the "pop" became his warning signal to listen for the crack of a sniper's rifle a moment later.

Through much practice he had learned to gauge the direction of the sound almost exactly. And so out of this animal-like system of hunting, he had the knowledge to shoot into the right tree — and out tumbled his "Jap" sniper.

"Re-kills" One German

Clayton's weirdest experience would be funny if it weren't so flooded with pathos. He was returning with a patrol one moonlit night when the enemy opened up on them. Tommy leaped right through a hedge and, spotting a foxhole, plunged into it.

To his amazement and fright, there was a German in the foxhole, sitting pretty, holding a machine pistol in his hands.

Clayton shot him three times in the chest before you could say scat.

The German hardly moved. And then Tommy realized the man had been killed earlier. He had been shooting a corpse!

ALL these experiences seem to have left no effect on this mild soldier from Indiana, unless to make him even quieter than before.

The worst experience of all is just the accumulated blur, and the hurting vagueness of too long in the lines, the everlasting alertness, the noise and fear, the cell by cell exhaustion, the thinning of the ranks around you as day follows nameless day. And the constant march into eternity of your own small quota of chances for survival.

Those are the things that hurt and destroy. And soldiers like Tommy Clayton go back to them, because they are good soldiers and they have a duty they cannot define.

GOP Urged To Aid Parleys

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie was said authoritatively here today to have urged John Foster Dulles, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's foreign affairs agent, to rally Republican support behind efforts to make the Washington postwar security conference a success.

Dulles, who exchanged views with Willkie in New York yesterday, has arranged to meet with Senators Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan and Warren R. Austin of Vermont in Washington tomorrow before he presents Dewey's beliefs to Secretary of State Hull later that afternoon.

Dewey Opposes Alliance

Dewey has made it plain that he opposes any permanent four-power alliance to dominate the world and wants small nations to have a voice in the international security organization for which representatives of the United States, Great Britain, Russia — and later China — may lay the ground work at the current Dumbarton Oaks conference.

Willkie, also an advocate of small nation representation, was reported to have urged on Dulles at their meeting that no move be made by the Republican presidential nominee or his friends that could be interpreted as interfering with the conference.

Understanding Not Reached

Willkie and Dulles were understood to have made no attempt at their meeting to reach a basic understanding on foreign policy and the 1940 presidential nominee was described as likely to continue to remain silent in the campaign for some time to come.

The two joined in issuing a statement after their conference which said only that they had reviewed various international problems bearing on a world peace organization in a talk "not animated by partisan consideration or having to do with any candidacy."

FLYING BLOOD OVERSEAS

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP) — To supplement blood plasma in treatment of American wounded in England and Normandy, the American Red Cross today started flying 1,000 pints of whole blood over-seas daily.

Luther Burbank grew chestnut trees that produced nuts when they were only six months old and but a few inches high.

LEADERS DRIFT

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP) — Stock-market leaders continued to drift today without being subjected to any particular pressure and, while there were a few isolated strong spots present, declines of fractions to a point or more predominated.

Transfers for the full stretch ran to around 900,000 shares.

Briggs Mfg. moved counter to the trend, hitting a peak for 1944. In the rear ranks the greater part of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, Chrysler, Graham-Paige, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Texas Co., Certain-Teed, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, Westinghouse, American Can and Texas Co.

Curb laggards included Electric Bond & Share, Carrier Corp., Cities Service, Cuban Atlantic Sugar, Pantepec and Puget Sound Power. Sullivan Machinery sprinted for an advance of about 2 points. Interstate Power preferred also tilted forward.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 22 (AP) — Cotton futures declined here today under long liquidation, hedge selling, favorable war news and prospects of rain in the belt where it is most needed. The market closed steady 40 to 65 cents a bale lower.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP) — Cotton resisted 80 cents a bale in early trading today for favorable war news. The market recovered partially in later dealings on covering and new buying, influenced by news that Senator Bankhead had introduced legislation to increase the cotton loan rate from 52½ per cent to 85 per cent of parity. Buying was not aggressive, however, since it was indicated that the higher loan rate will not be pressed unless raw cotton prices failed to reach parity.

Futures closed 35 to 75 cents a bale lower.

ROME, Aug. 22 (AP) — Luigi Cardinal Maglione, papal secretary of state, died last night at the Prince of Piedmont hospital in Naples after an illness of several weeks.

Production Hike In Texas Said Unlikely

FORT WORTH, Aug. 22 (AP) — C. E. Belk, of Austin, state director of the War Manpower commission, held out no hope here today for a sufficient supply of labor in Texas in the near future to permit resumption or increase of civilian goods production.

Production cutbacks such as those now taking place at the North American Aviation plant at Grand Pririe, he said, are intended only to release labor needed for more urgent war production.

Belk and members of his staff, with some members of the regional WMC staff, were meeting here with the 12 area WMC directors in Texas to find means to tighten the labor clearance program so as to furnish the workers needed in war production plants of the country with the highest labor priorities.

Belk pointed out that there now is a nationwide demand for more than 200,000 workers in plants producing war materials which are in most urgent demand by the armed forces. He said Texas was able in July to step up its recruitment of labor for these plants to 5,000 men, as against 3,000 in June.

PATRIOTS SEIZING ONE CITY AFTER ANOTHER

IRUN, Spain, Aug. 22 (AP)—Border dispatches told of the collapse of German resistance in one city and town after another throughout central and southern France today as French forces of the interior pressed a campaign to rid their country of the invaders.

There still was no confirmation here, however, that the vital Nazi bastion of Toulouse, 60 miles north of the Spanish border, had fallen. Toulouse was reported to have a Nazi garrison of 3,000 troops, mostly fanatical SS (elite guard) forces.

French patriots were said to be firmly astride all railroads and highways over which Germans in the Bordeaux area must fight their way to get through to the Reich.

Vichy Regime Moving

(The Vichy government is transferring its seat to another city, the German-controlled Vichy radio said. The broadcast did not disclose the identity of the new site.

(Reports have been received from interior France that French patriots virtually have surrounded the puppet capital. There also have been reports that Pierre Laval and other Vichy officials have arrived at Belfort, about 25 miles from Basel, Switzerland, and an equal distance from Germany.)

Uniformed officers of the French army took possession of the international bridge at Hendaye yesterday evening in the name of the French Committee of National liberation, thus completing French occupation of the entire Pyrenees frontier.

Nazis Chased Northward

A group of 150 Frenchmen meanwhile was reported chasing a greatly superior force of Germans retreating northward toward Bordeaux today. The French were picking off stragglers and generally harassing the Germans' evacuation of southwestern France.

The vanguard of the German force already has reached Bordeaux, where the German commander hurriedly was forming an armored convoy in an effort to force a way through to Germany, it was said.

Meanwhile, three Allied cruisers continued their patrol of the French Bay of Biscay coast from the Spanish frontier to the front.

Thunderbolt Decoys Help Trap Japanese

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Many a Japanese gun crew, firing at what appeared to be a lonesome and lost Yankee fighter pilot, learned that they merely had fallen for a live bait trick and signalled for their own destruction.

The War department described the ruse today in a story of how Seventh Air force pilots solved one of the big problems of the Tinian island invasion operations—hidden machine guns and artillery.

The Thunderbolt pilots went out in teams of four, three flying at very high altitude while the fourth cruised low over areas believed to conceal gun positions. The pilots in the upper air kept a close watch on the decoy plane, and when the Japs began firing at him they came down fast and furiously with wing guns and bombs.

New Federal Sector May Become 'Oasis' In Dry Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 22 (AP) —John Barleycorn tapped timidly at the door of dry Oklahoma again today and got a disheartening frown.

A new federal area within the state had caught the fancy of "certain parties" as an ideal spot for an oasis.

Sam Lattimore, assistant attorney general and a leading prohibitionist, promptly shook his head. He offered the unofficial opinion that "these parties may be headed for trouble, or at least a sad disappointment."

The alarm was sounded by O. C. Barnes, county attorney of Marshall county, who wrote the attorney general that the certain parties had obtained their U. S. liquor stamps and planned to obtain building sites within the reservation.

The land edges the shores of the rapidly-filling reservoir above a new dam linking Oklahoma and Texas near Durant, Okla.

Oklahoma, legally bone-dry while raking in revenue from 3.2 beer, recently lost a court contest over liquor. It ended with the U. S. Supreme court holding that the state couldn't interfere with shipment of $10,000 worth to the officers club at Fort Sill in 1941. Oddly enough, legal technicalities prevented it ever getting there anyway.

Lattimore said the two situations were not parallel.

Siege Of Warsaw

from 50 recaptured villages in what appeared to be the most serious threat to Warsaw in nearly two weeks.

Nazis Send In Reinforcements

An Izvestia dispatch from "northwest of Praga," the industrial eastern suburb of the Polish capital, said the Germans had introduced a new tank division from Italy and several divisions from other sectors, including Germany itself.

Nazi counterattacks were reported strong supported by their air force, by large concentrations of artillery and by groups of 100 to 120 tanks which came in "wave after wave, ten or 12 times a day," Izvestia said.

Another and growing threat to Warsaw was in the Sandomierz region across the Vistula 100 to 110 miles southeast. The survival of only 1,550 prisoners, with the final killing of 12,000 in the Sandomierz trap where three divisions were encircled, was considered confirmation of the great shrinkage in Hitler's divisions.

Romanian Drive Reported

(The German communique said strong Russian tank and infantry forces were on the offensive in Romania, attacking southwest of Tiraspol and between the Prut and Sereth rivers.)

Red Star, in a dispatch datelined "at the German border" where the Russians last week reached the frontier river Szeszuppe, said:

"The enemy is dislodged from his last lines. We repulsed him beyond the river on the other side of the border. Scores of villages have been burned to ashes by the Germans and the liberation of hundreds of Soviet citizens who escaped their captors and hid in the forests has taken place. Now the population moves eastward."

There was no official announcement that the Red army actually had crossed the East Prussian frontier. (The Red Star dispatch, however, strongly suggested this.)

Stormoviks In Action

Excellent flying weather gave Stormovik planes and medium bombers an excellent chance to resume large scale operations against numerous German tanks and artillery massed in defense of Praga.

The Germans, however, have won back a land connection with two battered Baltic armies, isolated for three weeks in Estonia and Latvia, but front advices indicated the enemy may use the corridor for an escape attempt to East Prussia rather than reinforcement.

The enemy's Baltic breakthrough was announced in the Russian midnight communique. It said that under a hail of German tank and infantry attacks Gen. Ivan C. Bagramian's troops withdrew "to more favorable positions" after abandoning Tukums, where they plunged to the sea 33 miles west of Riga on Aug. 1.

There was no letup, however, in Red army pressure on the enemy's 20 or more imperilled north Baltic divisions, variously estimated at between 200,000 and 300,000.

Nazis Hurled Back To Seine

nated stand or launch strong counterthrusts.

Third Army Driving Ahead

The U. S. Third army was hitting westward and northward from the bridgehead at Mantes 25 miles northwest of Paris. Here it could strike also above the Seine into the rocket gun Pas De Calais coast.

The Canadian First army advanced four to 10 miles on a broad front between the sea and Argentan, Belgian units took Cabourg on the Dives estuary, 16 miles across water from Le Havre. Dutchmen fought in the outskirts of Houlgate. British troops, gaining 10 miles, seized Gace, 15 miles east of Argentan. The American First army also was pounding in toward the Seine.

Germans trapped in the new pocket were surrendering "by platoons," a Canadian officer declared.

34,000 Prisoners Taken

Thirty-thousand prisoners had been taken in the Falaise trap, with thousands more throwing up their hands. The dead were yet uncounted, pocketed Germans had been virtually wiped out.

Front dispatches said Field Marshal Von Kluge presumably had pulled out a large part of his forces, but they were by no means saved as yet.

Supreme headquarters gave no news of the bridgehead at Mantes-Gassicourt, or the one southeast of Paris near Fontainebleau, where U. S. forces were but 30 miles from the historic Marne.

Nazis Lose Planes, Tanks

The Germans lost 30 tanks and 16 planes trying to protect forces fleeing north of the Seine above Mantes, front reports said. The Americans strengthened their grip here, and patrolled southeastward toward Paris. Substantial gains were scored southwest of Paris.

Reports that French patriots were seizing city after city in central and southern France, including Lyon, gave a clear indication that the gestapo-dominated German high command was capable of offering organized resistance to the Allies only in northwestern France.

But this was precisely the Nazi defenses in that section of France which the U. S. Third army's Seine bridgeheads northwest and southeast of Paris were threatening, including the flying bomb coast in the Pas De Calais area.

Tighten Flank Position

In the area of Dreux, 45 miles southwest of the heart of Paris, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's troops also tightened their flank positions against the Germans shaving them back toward the sea and the Seine. The Germans had thrown up flank protection and were fighting vigorously along the Avre in that area.

A front dispatch said there are indications that the total enemy killed and captured may run much higher than recent estimates, although the number of Germans still in the bag is a matter of guesswork.

The British Second army and the American First army were busy wiping out the last Germans in the pocket and there was a prospect that another 24 hours may see the end of the pocket entirely.

Canadians Pressing Drive

The Canadian push on a front of about 50 miles from the sea toward Argentan where it meets Patton's forces virtually was squeezing out the British Second and American First army in present operations.

Some remnants of the German Seventh army were crossing the Seine—using in a few cases the very barges in which in their days of victory they hoped to invade England.

In the vicinity of Mantes and Gassicourt, the area of the American bridgehead 25 miles northwest of Paris, American forces clashed with enemy armor trying to protect German units which had made good their crossing and were fleeing north from the river. In these engagements the Americans knocked out 30 enemy tanks and shot down 16 planes, a field dispatch said.

centrated attack. Tokyo broadcast that about 20 Allied aircraft raided the island yesterday in a follow-up to a Sunday attack. Adm. Chester Nimitz additionally announced that Yap, once important as a cable and coaling center, was hit Saturday by Central Pacific bombers for the first time.

Other Islands Raided

Truk in the Carolines, Pagan and Alamagan in the Marianas, two atolls in the Marshalls, Paramushiro in the Kuriles, and lonely Nauru island near the Gilberts were other air targets.

Nimitz announced that 44,956 Japanese troops were killed in defending Guam, Saipan and Tinian in the Marianas. This was more than ten times the number of Americans slain, 4,470.

Japan poured more strength into its Hunan offensive against unflagging Chinese resistance. There was no indication Japan was much nearer its goal of seizing the 170-mile gap it needs for full control of the Hankow-Canton railroad.

straight day.

Mediterranean bombers, which have been carrying the aerial offensive against Germany and occupied countries almost alone this week, were reported at Rome to have destroyed a large number of German ME-410's and JU-88's on the ground during a raid on the Handu-Boszormeny air field, 120 miles northeast of Budapest yesterday.

American Liberators covered the center field with fragmentation bombs and Mustangs followed up with a strafing sweep which destroyed several craft missed by the bombers.

Another Liberator force hit the Nis airdrome in Yugoslavia, an important German fighter plane base, during the day, while British night bombers attacked oil installations at Gyor, Huggary.

Roger Odom Rites Set For Thursday

Funeral services for Roger C. Odom, 68, who died of a heart attack Monday afternoon at his home, 1905 Seventeenth street, will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. in First Methodist church with Dr. H. I. Robinson officiating. Rix Funeral home reported this afternoon.

Odom, who worked for the late C. C. Slaughter's ranch holdings in Dawson, Martin, Howard and Borden counties around the turn of the century, died soon after coming home from his work at the U. S. Employment service office, 1207 Thirteenth street, friends reported.

Odom had suffered from a heart ailment several years but had been in "fair" health. He had been a resident of Lubbock about 20 years, and had worked at the employment office approximately two years.

He is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Alberta West and Mrs. Nina Mae Scarbrough, Lubbock, Mrs. Gladys Angelo, El Paso; a son, W-O Bob Odom, who is stationed in Indiana; four brothers, Bob, Laredo, Tex., Earnest, Banquete, Tex., Tyson, San Antonio, Hollis, Corpus Christi; a sister, Mrs. Ollie Cardwell, Robstown, and eight grandchildren.

Odom worked for Slaughter from 1900 to 1903, according to Jot Smyth, 2219 Main street, who worked with Odom about that time. Smyth cautioned that those were the years as he remembered them. When Odom left the Slaughter ranch he married and settled on a section of land south of Lamesa, Smyth recalled. Odom had come to West Texas from the Austin area.

lower Texas coast at about 10 miles an hour.

Residents of the Texas gulf coast from Corpus Christi southward had prepared against the storm.

As the center moves inland squalls will extend as far north as Matagorda, the 9:30 advisory said. Northeast storm warnings were up from Brownsville to Matagorda.

A mid-morning report from Corpus Christi said a two-day rainfall of 2.40 inches had broken a drouth which began May 29, but there were no abnormal winds there.

Another Storm Reported

Meanwhile a tropical hurricane swept into Mexico's Yucatan peninsula and headed overland toward the cities of Merida and Progreso.

Weather bureau observers said the storm would lose force before reaching the cities late this afternoon, but later would pass into the Gulf of Mexico and regain full strength.

A 10 a. m. (cwt) advisory reported the center of the hurricane passed into Yucatan a short distance south of Cozumel island and was situated at the time about 20 miles southwest of the island.

Against the gulf storm for the Texas coast planes and men had been evacuated from coastal training fields inland to Waco and Victoria, and property owners in cities from Corpus Christi to Brownsville boarded up with lumber granted by the War Production board.

The advisory said winds on the lower Texas coast would continue increasing and would begin to increase during the morning on the middle Texas coast.

Precautions General

Northeast storm warnings were displayed from Brownsville to Matagorda, and the advisory said precautions should be continued against abnormally high tides on the lower and middle Texas coast, and small craft on the Texas and west Louisiana coast should remain in port.

At Brownsville, disaster agencies and civilian defense corpsmen stood by, and public buildings and hotels, considered storm proof, were readied to shelter citizens. The Herald reported some islanders on coastal points were evacuating. Brownsville was conserving its power and water, doubtful that its municipally-owned utilities could weather even a 50-mile an hour gale.

Rio Grande valley farmers feared the worst for their crops, now in the harvesting stage and worth millions, even if the wind failed to reach the 50-mile stage.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN ALERTED OVER STATE

AUSTIN, Aug. 22 (AP) —State police in the Harlingen and seven other districts were alerted today for possible storm duty on the lower gulf coast.

Highway patrolmen had been summoned to headquarters in most districts while others still on road duty were ready to head into the storm area if needed.

Officials at state headquarters here estimated 75 officers could be mobilized for storm duty. If required, patrolmen can be drawn from districts as far northwest as San Angelo, as far north as Fort Worth and Dallas and as far northeast as Tyler.

A radio communications truck stood by at state headquarters for a possible storm assignment. Many patrol cars are two-way radio equipped and would form an important communications link in the event telephone and telegraph systems are disrupted.

Montgomery Calls For 'Coup De Grace'

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

General Sir Bernard Montgomery's glowingly optimistic message to the Allied armies under his command in Northwest France, declaring their victory over the Nazis "has been definite, complete and decisive," is in effect a call for the coup de grace — the "kill."

"Much still remains to be done," he says, "but it will now be done the more easily. The end of the war is in sight. Let us finish off the business in record time."

Certainly the German hold on the vital English channel coast and the rest of northern France is in grave jeopardy. The fuehrer will have to retreat toward his own frontier — and a bloody business it will be, for the Allied air navies will have a field day.

Hitler Admits Defeat

Hitler has boldly admitted the magnitude of the German defeat. His own newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, says the Nazis are going to withdraw from a large section of France. The reason, states the paper, is to gain time pending a "revolution in German armament production."

The dictator's purpose in thus going on record is clear. It's another version of his frequently repeated promise that he will provide secret weapons which will win the war.

New Weapons Expected

That was a threat which many folk treated lightly until Hitler produced the terrible robot bomb. Now there are few who question that the Hitlerites will bring further new weapons into play. They've been threatening the use of huge rocket bombs, and these may be one of the things Hitler has in mind. However, many observers have been fearing something much more terrible.

That's the use of poison gas.

Hitler is the world's most dangerous man. He has descended to unspeakable frightfulness, even to the massacre of hundreds of thousands. Now he's desperate to the point of madness. He will try to save himself as best he can.

Hannegan Says Demos Have "Start" On GOP

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan expressed belief today that his party has "a two-month start" on the Republicans in what he called the all-important task of getting out the vote in the November election.

The Democrats will continue their organizational campaign, he told a press conference, by holding regional conferences for state chairmen soon after Labor day in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

"It was a fairly foregone conclusion eight weeks in advance of the national convention that Mr. Roosevelt would be a candidate," Hannegan said, "and in view of this I devoted those two months to traveling about the country for the purpose of meeting the various leaders and impressing upon the the urgency of having voters register."

Paul J. Jullien, Democratic candidate for governor of Maine, sat in today's conference and predicted that Maine would go Democratic in the September 11 election of state officers.

Infractions Of Rent Regulations Charged

Suits alleging violations of rent control regulations were filed in federal district court here Monday against G. M. Coker, Mrs. E. C. DeBusk and Mrs. G. C. Abbott by officials of OPA.

OPA recently made a survey of housing in Lubbock and as result suits have been filed to force landlords to comply with the regulation. Other suits will be filed soon, according to Frank H. Murray, district rent enforcement attorney.

Wallace Cites Inflation Threat

AUSTIN, Aug. 22 (U.P) — Vice President Henry A. Wallace said before he left Austin for Louisville, Ky., last night that inflation after this war can be sidestepped if business, labor and agriculture will work resolutely for full employment.

In a banquet address Wallace said that if wartime restrictions are lifted too quickly after the war's end, inflation could be caused by huge buying power in the United States.

Predicting the United States 10 years hence may be engaged in more importation than exportation, Wallace declared:

"If we don't trade with foreign nations, they may gang up on us."

Speaks At Texas U.

Earlier, the affable vice president said in a campus address to 3,500 cheering University of Texas students the United States must establish more friendly relations with nations to the south."

He said "Texas must lead the nation in acquiring not merely the speech and culture of Mexico, but also the Latin soul."

Wallace, who is making a tour of the South, came to Texas Sunday. He paid a short visit to Texas A. and M. college at College Station and then came to Austin, where his host was Mayor Tom Miller.

His tour had "no political significance whatever," he said.

Interpretation Of "G. I. Bill Of Rights" Is Difficult Task

BY MAX HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—It has been a long, hard summer for the government lawyers who were assigned to interpret the "G. I. bill of rights."

More than one harassed official can be heard mumbling "legislative monstrosity" with reference to this law. Nearly everyone approves of its benefits to veterans, but few can explain what it means.

Take, for example, chapter IV of the "G. I. bill," dealing with education of veterans. It is easier to understand than some other parts of the document but does create a major field of disagreement, that of paying tuition.

Language Is Vague

The law says the Administrator of Veterans affairs (Brig.-Gen. Frank T. Hines) shall pay to the institution the "customary" tuition and fees, up to $500 a school year. If the institution has no established tuition fee, or if the administrator finds that the established fee is "inadequate compensation to such institution for furnishing such education," he is authorized to pay "fair and reasonable compensation" up to $500.

What is "inadequate compensation"? And what is "fair and reasonable compensation"?

Rarely does the student's tuition pay the full cost of college instruction. In the case of tax-supported institutions, tuition is usually low, with the rest of the cost coming from public funds. At endowed institutions, the income from the endowment pays part of the bill.

May Pay More For Vets

Therefore some education authorities, specifically those who administer public institutions, have insisted that the federal government is obligated to pay, in the case of a veteran, more than the established tuition.

No general policy has been issued by the Veterans administration. This policy is in the making now.

But one of the highest officials of that agency, a man very close to the problem, expresses his personal view as follows:

"Frankly, I don't know why the states should not bear the same proportion of the cost of educating a veteran, as educating a non-veteran, if they are both citizens of the state."

He says, "we must follow the law, and we believe it means we should pay the published tuition if there is a published tuition, except in cases where the institutions can come to us and show where accepting veterans requires them to build new facilities, hire new professors, or bear some other extra cost.

Will Write Contract

"In those cases, we will write a contract with the institution to pay whatever additional amount would be fair and reasonable."

This official pointed out that the House version of the "G. I. bill" had ordered tuition paid on an actual-cost basis, and that the Senate-House conferees threw out that provision in favor of the Senate's "fair and reasonable" phrase.

He remarked that not all educators are demanding larger tuition for veterans. Some state education authorities, he said, have actually come up and said, "No, siree. We don't see any reason why you should pay more tuition for veterans than other citizens pay."
