Ask Us

Q.-How much did it cost taxpayers for three commissioners to attend the Ann Richards biscuits and syrup function in Austin?

A.-Expenses were put on a credit card and have not yet reached the auditor's office. One commissioner said total expenses were likely less than $200, including three $38 rooms, gasoline and meals. Also on the same trip, two commissioners met with the state water commission and one commissioner joined the local economic development director and met with the state aviation department concerning use of airport property as industrial sites.

Voters to make history at polls

History will be made Saturday in Scurry County when citizens go to the polls to determine whether they want to legalize bingo and who they want as their representatives on school boards and the city council.

No matter what the outcome, there will be at least eight new people serving on various boards later this month. That's because there are at least that many seats in which no incumbent is campaigning for re-election.

But first, the bingo issue.

A local option to allow bingo in the city limits was defeated soundly in 1982. Saturday, however, pro-bingo advocates will try again, and with a larger population of voters eligible to participate. Unlike the issue 12 years ago, Saturday's bingo election is being held in Justice of the Peace Precinct 1, which encompasses almost all of Scurry County except for Hermleigh.

Voting in the bingo election will take place in the basement of the county clerk's office. As with all of Saturday's elections, polling booth hours are from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Hermleigh may be slighted in the bingo election, but residents there aren't short on school board candidates. Nor or they short on experience. Seven of the 10 candidates running have served on the board before.

On the ballot for three at-large full terms are Brian Blair, Jay Roemisch, Andres Rodriquez Jr., John Williamson, Rex Glass, Chip Roemisch Jr. and Jimmy Hudgins. Blair is moving from the district and is not campaigning. Hudgins is the only incumbent, although all of the candidates except Williamson have served on the board at one time or another.

Running for an unexpired term is another former HISD board member, Carole Haynes, and newcomers Jesse Rios and Larry F. Bridges.

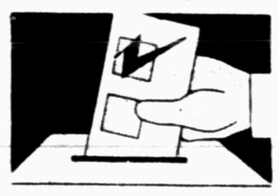

Ninty-four people cast early votes in the Hermleigh ISD board election and more are expected to line up to cast a ballot Saturday in the Hermleigh School cafeteria.

Attracting as much interest as that school board race is Place 2 on the Snyder ISD board of trustees, where write-in candidate Phil Ragland is

Snyder High School students began testing their skills against those of hundreds of other students today in UIL academic and one-act play competition on the University of Texas campus in Austin.

Amanda Carter was to get things going at 8 this morning in the preliminaries of prose interpretation at the Thompson Conference Center.

Carter is also a member of Snyder High School's "Pygmalion" cast which will compete in the UIL Class 4A State One-Act Play Contest at 6:45 p.m. in Bass Concert Hall.

Snyder's science team of Kurtis McCathern, Robert Clarady and Tom Kerr will enter written competition at 6 this evening at Painter Hall. The hands-on competition is set for 1 p.m. Saturday.

McCathern will also compete in ready writing at 8 a.m. Saturday at Welch Hall. Tiffany Jones will compete in spelling and vocabulary at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Welch Hall.

Snyder High's drama production is the fourth of eight plays to be presented this evening. Cast members of "Pygmalion" are Carter, Kevin Alejandro, Katie Thornton, Todd Goodlett, Lana Boren, Craig Row, Amy Patterson, Jennifer Hancock, Mark Bullard, Marc Sparlin, Valerie Sanchez, Robert Nitsch, Emily Zeck, Michael McQuerry and Cody Lewis.

Jason Cloe is an understudy. Crew members are Ryan Landes, Melanie Gibson and Benoit Gridelet. Alternates are Kim Burton, Jiletta Kubena, Selena Sutton and Jannica Northerns.

The Class 4A competition begins at 4 p.m. with Fort Worth Boswell performing "Thieves' Carnival." Following will be Friendswood with "State of Revolution," New Braunfels with "A Midsummer Night's Dream," Snyder's "Pygmalion," Gregory-Portland's "Do Black Patent Leather Shoes Really Reflect Up?," Paris North Lamar's "Our Country's Good," West Orange-Stark's "The Foreigner," and Dallas Wilson's "The Bewitched."

Escape attempt adds ten years to sentence

Three guilty pleas — including one for escape — were heard Thursday in 132nd District Court.

Angel Vera Alvarado, a 20-year-old Sweetwater man, pled guilty to a March 16 escape from the Scurry County Jail. Alvarado had climbed over a fence and was recaptured only minutes later.

District Judge Gene Dulaney ordered Alvarado to serve 10 years in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. The sentence will not begin until Alvarado completes a 12-year sentence for house burglary in Nolan County.

Amy Michelle Maldonado, 19, pled guilty to securing execution of a document by deception and was given a four-year probated sentence, fined $500 and ordered to make $2,889 in restitution to the Texas Department of Human Services.

Maldonado was charged with a March 5 offense of obtaining food stamps and failing to report earned income.

Also on Thursday, Jose Manuel Galvan, 34, of Roscoe pled guilty to a Jan. 25 offense of driving while intoxicated. Galvan was assessed a three-year probated sentence, fined $750 and ordered to enter treatment for substance abuse.

SHS art show set May 10-19

Snyder High School's annual art show is planned from May 10-19 in the school library.

Students of Ned Moore, Suzan Hughes and Ted Bigham will display works in several categories, including drawing, ceramics, and photography. The public is invited to view the display during regular school hours. Ty Brunson, assistant professor and art division chairperson, will be the judge.

The SDN Column — By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The grass is usually greener on the other side of the fence because your neighbor hired a lawn service."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

When House Speaker Pete Laney was in Snyder last month for the David Counts appreciation day luncheon, someone suggested that the legislature do something about a soaking rain.

Speaker Laney is a farmer in Hale County and understands the value of moisture in West Texas. Laney says it can be really dry around Hale Center.

"During the day of Noah's Ark, Hale Center only got a quarter of an inch."

It was Larry Crabtree in the Vernon Daily Record who told a rain story concerning a group of winter-weary Iowa farmers who visited in Wilbarger County.

The visitors were inspecting some farms they were thinking about buying. The real estate agent was at his wits end on the day of the planned land inspection. The heaviest snow of the year had blanketed the area.

Desperate, the real estate salesman called over a youngster and said, "Son, tell these men how many times you've seen snow down here."

The kid declared firmly, "This is the first time I've ever seen snow. But I've seen it rain twice."

Stephen Henry, in the Levelland News-Press, found the following gems while cleaning out a desk drawer:

--Some people are like wheel barrows, no good unless pushed.

--Some people are like trailers, they have to be pulled.

--Some people are like kites, if you don't keep a string on them they will fly away.

--Some people are like balloons, full of wind and ready to blow up.

--Some are like footballs, you can't tell which way they may bounce.

--And some folks are like a gold watch, open face, pure gold, quietly busy and full of good works.

Judge explains sentencing in cult case

MATAMOROS, Mexico (AP) — The judge who sentenced five cultists for the ritualized killings of 13 people refuted criticisms that his penalties were excessive, saying the prison terms were imposed within the law.

"This was a very delicate and complicated case," said Judge Francisco Salvador Perez of the Fourth Federal Judicial District. "We are talking about 13 homicides and four indictments, multiplied by five."

The five, who were convicted for the April 1989 killings of University of Texas student Mark Kilroy and 12 Mexicans, can appeal Perez's ruling.

An attorney for Sara Maria Aldrete Villarreal, the reputed godmother of the cult, attacked her 62-year prison sentence as excessive.

Perez sentenced Elio Hernandez Rivera, Serafin Hernandez Garcia, Sergio Martinez Salinas and David Serna Solis to 67 years each.

Mexico has no death penalty. The maximum sentence for capital murder is 50 years.

Ms. Aldrete was convicted of multiple homicide, drug possession, gang association, impersonating federal officers and illegal burial.

"The only offense she was not charged with was for illegal possession of arms, which carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison," the judge was quoted as saying Thursday in The Brownsville Herald. "That is why she got 62 years while the others received 67 years."

The four men were sentenced for:

—Multiple homicides, 31 years.

—Illegal possession of weapons, 10 years.

—Illegal possession of drugs, 12 years.

—Gang association, five years.

—Possessing arms that are exclusively used by the Mexican Army, five years.

—Corpse desecration, two years.

—Impersonating federal officers, two years.

Mexico has no parole system as in U.S. states, but Mexican law permits accused felons to file one or two motions before an appeals court to reduce their sentences.

Perez said another man accused in the killings, Alvaro Dario de Leon Valdez, known as "El Duby," is in prison in Mexico City. He said De Leon's case is in the hands of a magistrate in Ciudad Victoria, the capital of Tamaulipas state.

Perez said Valdez asked to have his case transferred to another jurisdiction. He said it was up to the magistrate to reassign the case to him.

Kilroy, on spring break in March 1989, disappeared while bar hopping in Matamoros.

His body and 12 others were dug up a month later from a makeshift graveyard at Santa Elena ranch, 13 miles west of here.

Police said the cult sacrificed some of the victims because members believed the rituals would provide magical protection from the law and rival drug dealers.

Shoots two, kills self

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Corpus Christi police are trying to figure out why suspended officer George Cervantes opened fire at two people, then committed suicide.

Cervantes, 32, turned his gun on himself early Thursday after wounding Gerardo Morales and Guadalupe Torres, who was involved in an incident that got him suspended three weeks ago, officials said.

Ms. Torres, 21, and Gerardo Morales, 24, were in Memorial Medical Center, although no information about their conditions would be released Thursday night, nursing supervisor Essie Medina said. Garrett said their injuries were not life threatening.

Cervantes, who was married and the father of a 9-year-old daughter, was suspended without pay April 18 after an internal affairs investigation.

Garrett refused to discuss the investigation other than to say the incident that sparked it involved Ms. Torres.

The chief said he knew Cervantes and described him as popular among his peers.

"I knew him very well. He was a good officer," Garrett said. "He had problems that surfaced a couple of months ago and he was dealing with them."

Let's Look Ahead to Harmony, Says Member of the D.A.R.

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1994 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Can we please put the Marian Anderson-Daughters of the American Revolution episode in its final resting place?

Quite some time before Ms. Anderson passed on, a group of ladies from the White Alloe Chapter of the DAR in the little town of Parkville, Mo., were helping 79-year-old Lucille Douglass and her friends raise money to restore a one-room brick schoolhouse built in 1885 for black children.

The DAR ladies spent many hours at the local historical archives searching out information to get the little school listed on the National Historic Register. A publication in 1885 stated that students at the all-white Park College were making bricks for the school building.

The school grounds were cleared of brush by men who were Veterans of Foreign Wars. An Italian construction company owner, experienced in historic renovation, offered free labor to help with the restoration once the funds are raised. Union plumbers and plasterers also have volunteered their services.

Since Parkville is a suburb, we feel this project exemplifies the Kansas City motto of "Harmony in a World of Difference."

Please, Abby, no more brickbats for the DAR. Just give this tiny point of light a chance to flourish and burn brightly for others to see and emulate.

VIRGINIA L. RAU, REGENT,
WHITE ALLOE CHAPTER OF THE D.A.R., KANSAS CITY, MO.

DEAR VIRGINIA L. RAU: Consider it done.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I have been together for the better part of three years. We met and lived together in Las Vegas.

Our financial matters were always kept separate, on his insistence. We split all the bills 50-50. If I was a day late with my half, he'd throw a fit. However, I always paid my share, no matter what.

We recently moved to Oregon and are living with my parents. We pay no rent, but are expected to pay for our own long-distance calls and one-third of the water bill. It doesn't amount to very much, but I've paid it myself; my boyfriend hasn't kicked in with one dime. Meanwhile, he has run up more than half the telephone bill.

He gets angry when I remind him (nicely) that he has to come up with some money. What should I do?

OUT OF PATIENCE

DEAR OUT OF PATIENCE: You don't say whether you or your boyfriend are employed. From your description, he appears to be a slow-starter with minimal ambition. Perhaps you should be grateful that you are discovering the "real" man — warts and all. Tell him that the 50-50 split he insisted upon in Las Vegas still applies. And demand that he carry his share of the load, or you will be saddled with him and his bills forever.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent letter from Jackie Riley in regards to a 1948 hospital bill for the birth of a baby, you neglected to include wages earned during the time.

In 1948, my father's wages were $50 for a 60-hour week. I picked strawberries and was paid 2 cents a quart. My mother worked for J.C. Penney Co. at 65 cents an hour. A hospital bill of $64.25 was difficult for the average family — and had to be paid in installments. Very few people had health-care insurance.

So much for the "good old days"!

SHIRLEY DILLARD,
FELTON, DEL.

OPERATING IN A VACUUM?

Missing permit temporarily shuts down pub

HOUSTON (AP) — A $175 permit — or rather the lack of it — has caused the city's first brew-pub to temporarily shut down.

But beer drinkers don't let your suds fizzle. The Village Brewery is scheduled to reopen on Monday.

The brew-pub, which cost $1 million to start, opened April 28 to hundreds of parched patrons yearning to sample its homemade Armadillo Stout, Houston Wheat and Amber Owl beers.

So many people showed up that cars jammed the residential streets adjacent to the establishment, leading to complaints by City Councilwoman Martha Wong.

Ms. Wong reportedly called around to make sure the brew-pub had all its permits in order. And, indeed, it didn't.

The brew-pub lacked the assembly permit it needed from the Houston Fire Department. The permit covers fire safety issues, such as having enough extinguishers and clearly marked exits.

"They didn't have their paperwork," said Houston Fire Marshal Ernest Brinkmann.

A fire inspector showed up at the Village Brewery the day after its opening, and the owners agreed to close the business down.

Several important changes could be in the offing for you in the year ahead. They might occur simultaneously and cause you some confusion, but this condition will be quickly abated. Positive results are indicated.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) There is no reason to feel guilty or inadequate today if you can't be as generous to everyone as you'd like to be. Give what you can, but limit it to the deserving. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Self-interests can be substantially advanced today, not by walking over others, but by walking with them. Give it a try and see for yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The only thing that could stop you today could be an absence of self-assurance. What you have to offer is as good as others, but you must believe this to be so.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Hopes and expectations can be fulfilled today, but not necessarily the way you presently anticipate. The adjustments required shouldn't be hard to make.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today you might get a second chance to try for something you've been wanting but unable to achieve. If you do, don't fool around, give it the maximum effort required.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your chart indicates the formation of a wonderful new alliance in this cycle. It could turn out to be one of the finest associations you've ever made.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Those get-rich-quick schemes you concoct today might be tantalizing, but will they really work? Everyone, including yourself, could be in for a pleasant surprise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's been said that if you're lucky where chance is concerned, you may not be lucky in love. You might be able to dispute these conclusions today by being fortunate in both.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) The quickest way to accomplish your assignments today is to keep your mind focused on what you're doing and forego taking shortcuts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) An important relationship can be invigorated today by being one who apologizes for a recent infraction, even if you weren't the person who was guilty of committing it.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Try to conduct any important business you must take care of today with a member of the opposite gender. He/she is likely to be more tolerant and helpful than someone of your own sex.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In order to impress members of the opposite gender today your comments and behavior might be a bit questionable. To make a good lasting impression, just be yourself.

Disease strikes Dallas-area ducks

FARMERS BRANCH (AP) — Several dozen ducks have been afflicted by a highly contagious water fowl disease in this Dallas suburb.

About 30 ducks have died from DVE, which killed more than 40,000 ducks in South Dakota in 1973, and another 50 were quarantined Thursday, officials said. The disease is not contagious to other animals or humans.

"It's a very difficult situation because we're fond of the ducks," said Tom McDougald, a Farmers Branch environment health officer. "We don't want to destroy them."

Miles Inc. to pay to settle lawsuit

DALLAS (AP) — A settlement has been reached in a lawsuit filed against a pharmaceutical company over the company's practice of paying pharmacies to persuade customers to switch to a drug they manufactured.

The lawsuit had been filed against Miles Inc. of West Haven, Conn., by Texas and 10 other states. The company agreed to a settlement prohibiting it from the practice, but did not have to admit to any wrongdoing.

Miles Inc. will pay $605,000 to settle the lawsuits. Texas will get $55,000.

Texas and the others — Arizona, Connecticut, Illinois, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina and Wisconsin — alleged Miles has engaged in deceptive trade practices and consumer fraud. Miles manufactures the drug Adalat CC, to treat high blood pressure.

Documents filed Thursday in state court indicate that Miles operated a program in 1993 in which it paid pharmacies $35 per consumer who switched to Adalat from another manufacturer's drug.

Court documents said that a mail solicitation from the company to pharmacies read, "This program is designed to reimburse pharmacists for the cognitive and counseling services provided to a patient presenting an initial prescription for Adalat CC."

Assistant Texas Attorney General Robert Reyna said that practice is prohibited by a state "illegal remuneration" law.

"The statute prohibits payment of any fee for the purpose pf soliciting business to anyone licensed by Texas as a health care provider," Reyna said.

The program also violated the state's Confidentiality Act, which prohibits sharing of confidential information with a third party.

Under the program, pharmacies were required to provide the company with Adalat consumers' names, addresses, prescription numbers and other personal information.

Attorneys general from the 10 states have sent a letter this week to David Kessler, the commissioner of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, asking the FDA to investigate the company's practices.

The FDA has both civil and criminal authority in such cases. Reyna said other pharmaceutical companies are currently under investigation in Texas for similar practices. He declined to name them.

The most events, the most points

By Phillip Alder

Who holds the most masterpoints in the world? Paul Soloway, who lives in a suburb of Seattle. He plays all over North America, winning so many events that he must have lost count. He has more than 39,000 masterpoints, some 4,000 ahead of his nearest rival, the late Barry Crane.

Soloway has won three world championships. He is an easygoing, likable fellow with a strong will to win that he keeps hidden behind a broad smile. He is an excellent technician with great table presence, as he showed on today's deal.

Soloway's two-spade response was encouraging, so North raised with four trumps.

West decided to try a risky lead: a low heart. East put in the 10 and Soloway won with the queen. At trick two, Soloway returned a heart and, after West played low smoothly, he called for the king. How did he guess that correctly?

Well, Soloway had played low promptly from the dummy at trick one. And East had inserted the 10 in tempo. Soloway felt sure that if East held the A-10 of hearts, he would have paused, wondering whether to win with the ace.

Still not out of the woods, Soloway cashed dummy's spade ace and led a low club. East won with the king and continued with two more rounds of the suit. Soloway ruffed, played a trump to dummy's king, ruffed dummy's last heart in hand and led a diamond to the 10, endplaying East.

True, West missed chances to defeat the contract at tricks one and two, but Soloway took advantage: an attribute of a winner.

Jury decides against anti-abortion groups

HOUSTON (AP) — Four anti-abortion defendants must pay damages to 10 women's clinics because their protests during the 1992 Republican National Convention were a conspiracy, a Harris County jury ruled.

Today the same jury considers how much, if any, punitive award should go to Planned Parenthood of Southeast Texas, which received $204,585 in actual damages. The group is asking for $1 million in punitive damages.

Thursday's 10-2 conspiracy verdict shocked anti-abortion activists, including Rescue America's Don Treshman of Houston, who said it was the first time such a verdict was backed with an actual damage award.

"This is the first time any of us were required to pay damages," said Treshman, who cast doubt on whether the verdict would stand during appeal.

The plaintiffs disagreed.

"We're very, very happy. We're very pleased for our community that this kind of conduct won't be tolerated," said Neal Manne, attorney for Planned Parenthood of Southeast Texas.

The jury of seven men and five women had been faced with a complicated 32-page charge with more than 500 questions. The dissenters were a man and a woman.

Planned Parenthood of Southeast Texas and nine other Houston abortion clinics filed the lawsuit against Operation Rescue, Rescue America, Dallas Rescue, The Lambs of Christ and several anti-abortion group leaders, claiming they conspired to interfere with the clinics' business.

The jury decided Dallas-based Operation Rescue-National, Houston-based Rescue America, Treshman and Keith Tucci, former head of Operation Rescue-America, should pay the $204,585 in damages to Planned Parenthood. Nine other defendants were excused from the damages.

Planned Parenthood was the only plaintiff seeking damages.

It was not immediately known how the payment damages would be divided among the defendants.

"We basically won our case," Planned Parenthood Deputy Executive Director Judy Reiner said. "I think it sends a very clear signal to the other side, that they had better think twice."

Treshman, however, termed the verdict "not a valid court order" and vowed Planned Parenthood would see "not a cent."

Deliberations began nearly three weeks ago but were suspended for a week because a juror's relative died.

The case stemmed from confrontational protests at Houston clinics during the 1992 Republican National Convention.

Clinics claimed the defendants conspired to hurt their business, while the protesters said they were exercising constitutionally guaranteed rights to free speech.

The clinics had filed the lawsuit as part of a long legal effort to win a permanent injunction against the protesters. With a ruling in the clinics' favor, state District Judge Eileen O'Neill can hold a hearing to decide if such an injunction will be issued.

That hearing is not expected for several weeks.

Abortion opponents argue that restrictions such as "buffer-zones" around clinics would violate their First Amendment rights.

A decision on the injunction by O'Neill isn't expected until after the U.S. Supreme Court rules in a similar case, sometime in late June.

In that case, a Florida judge issued an injunction barring Operation Rescue members and anti-abortion protesters from coming within 36 feet of a clinic, effectively keeping all protesters across the street from a clinic's property.

Plainview nudges Tigers, 4-3

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

PLAINVIEW — "Both teams made enough mistakes to lose the game and both teams made enough plays to win the game."

That was the observation of Snyder baseball coach Albert Lewis, who sat in the dugout with the Tigers for the last time on Thursday in a dramatic 4-3 loss to Plainview.

The loss kept the Tigers out of the playoffs and sets up Saturday's meeting between Plainview and Estacado for the District 2-4A second seed.

The game was tied 3-all in the bottom of the seventh when the Bulldogs' star of the game, Jeremiah Saiz, slapped a bases-loaded single, scoring Cleat Bell with the winning run.

Saiz had kept Snyder from going ahead in the top of the seventh when he fielded a one-hopper in left field and threw a perfect strike to catcher Jamie Fitzgerald to catch Snyder's Bryan Roberson at the plate for the third out of the inning.

"It was a great game," Lewis said. "It was great to be in a position to get into the playoffs with a win, but it hurts a lot to lose like that.

"We made a few mental mistakes that came back to haunt us and we looked at too many called strikes.

"But," the coach continued, "we had a great season. The kids showed a lot of progress. They worked really hard and improved in a lot of areas. They are a real unified group, and I think you can attribute that to the senior leadership on this team.

"I've had a long run here," Lewis said of his tenure at SHS, which began under former head coach Speedy Moffett in 1965. "It's been a good one. I've enjoyed a lot of success and made a lot of friends. I've also had a lot of rich, rewarding experiences."

Lewis, who leaves the Tigers with a 324-161 career record, chalked Thursday's loss up to the pressure of the situation.

"We have some talented kids, but they haven't been in a game this big before," Lewis said. "You just can't understand the pressure until you've been there. It makes you play different and it makes you coach different."

Snyder took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when leadoff hitter John Clinkinbeard scored after wallking and stealing second.

The Tigers fell behind 3-2, but pulled even in the sixth when starting pitcher Curt Rinehart led off with a double and scored when senior Bryan Lickey ripped a two-out single.

Brad Hart, also a senior, followed in the seventh with a single with two gone with runners on first and second, but Saiz's throw caught the lead runner, Roberson, at the plate.

Plainview's half of the last frame began with Bell's single an included a sacrifice bunt by Fitzgerald, a Ty Miller single, and an error to Chuck DeLeon that loaded the bases for Saiz.

Plainview's Jeff Bishop, who served s split shift in the game, was the winner.

He tossed the first 5 1/3 innings, then was relieved by Onofre Rodriguez. Bishop returned in the seventh and earned the victory, allowing a total of just five hits and four walks while fanning nine.

Six of Bishop's Ks came as SHS batters watched called third strikes.

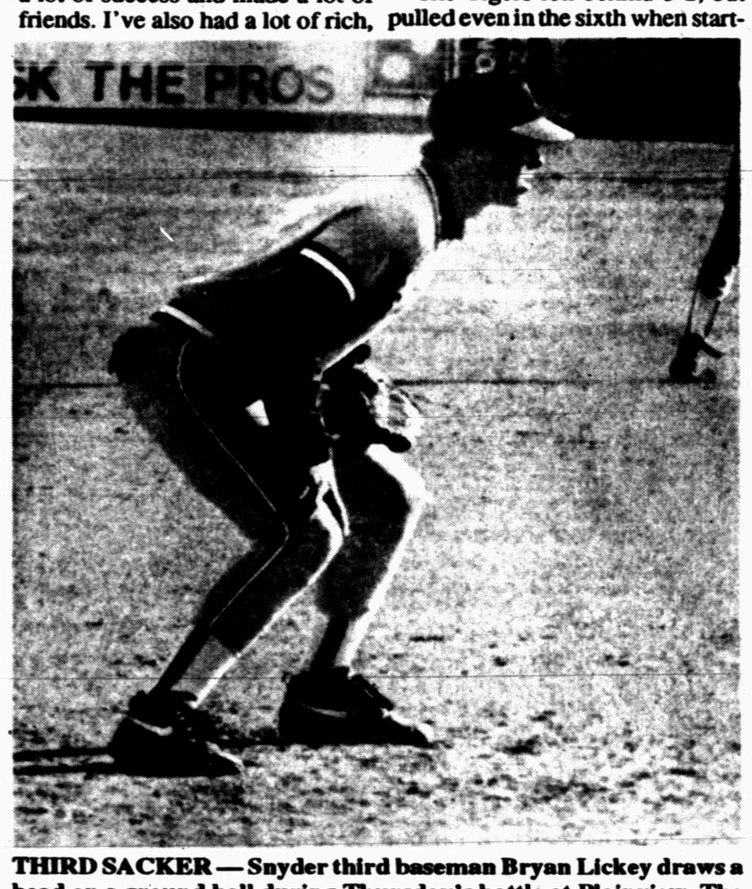

Snyder's Lee Idom was the loser. Idom came on in the fourth in relief of starter Curt Rinehart.

The loss ends Snyder's season at 15-12 overall and 6-4 against district teams.

Plainview enters its matchup against Estacado with a 16-12 mark on the year and a 7-3 loop slate.

The winner of the EHS-Plainview contest will take on District 1 champ Borger in the bi-district round of the playoffs.

District 2-4A champ Frenship will face District 1 runner-up Hereford to open postseason play.

THIRD SACKER — Snyder third baseman Bryan Lickey draws a bead on a ground ball during Thursday's battle at Plainview. The Tigers fell to the Bulldogs, 4-3, in the season finale. Lickey and fellow seniors Brad Hart, Jimmy Henry and Craig Lang suited up for their final game for SHS Thursday. (SDN Staff Photo)

NBA playoff picture cloudy

by The Associated Press

The more the NBA playoffs clear up, the muddier they become.

This much is clear: Both of the No. 3 seeds swept, both of the No. 2 seeds are ahead 2-1 going into tonight's games, both of the No. 5 seeds are in the second round and both of the No. 1 seeds are tied 2-2 with the No. 8s.

This much is muddy: Although four teams have advanced to the second round, none of them know who their opponent will be.

The surprisingly close matchups between the No. 1s and No. 8s moved to fifth games after Thursday night. Atlanta, first in the Eastern Conference, defeated Miami 103-89, while Denver, eighth in the West, outlasted Seattle 94-85 in overtime.

Meanwhile, Utah joined Indiana in upsetting a fourth seed as the Jazz beat San Antonio 95-90 behind Karl Malone's 34 points.

Seattle, 0-4 at Denver this season and winners of 14 consecutive games at home, will play host to the Nuggets on Saturday, while Atlanta plays at home Sunday against the Heat.

No No. 8 seed has ever beaten a No. 1 seed in a playoff series.

Along with Utah and Indiana, Chicago and Phoenix also are assured of second-round berths.

Astros rally to down Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Houston Astros couldn't blame the "Wild Thing" for this one.

Mitch Williams, who has treated his new team to some late-inning anxiety this season, was warming up in the bullpen Thursday night when Cincinnati's Brian Dorsett hit a game-tying grand slam in the bottom of the ninth.

However, the Astros were able to rally for two runs in the 10th for a face-saving 8-6 victory.

Greg Swindell was pitching a six-hitter and holding a 6-2 lead with two outs in the ninth, but he then gave up singles to Roberto Kelly and Tony Fernandez.

Houston manager Terry Collins went to his bullpen, choosing Tom Edens, the Astros' most effective reliever recently, instead of Williams.

Bad move.

Edens walked Bret Boone and grooved a 2-0 fastball to Dorsett, who homered off the facing of the third deck in left.

"A ninth-inning, bases-loaded homer is a dream come true," Dorsett said. "It was a real thrill. It would be a lot sweeter if we'd won."

Collins justified his selection of Edens by saying: "Tom has pitched well. "He just fell behind and got a ball up in the strike zone. If Tom gets ahead, I think he can put him away with his breaking stuff."

Fortunately for Edens, the Astros were able to squeeze out a pair of runs with a modest but effective 10th-inning rally off Jeff Brantley (1-1).

"This was a test of our team," Jeff Bagwell said. "It would have been pretty devastating if we'd have lost that one."

Williams (1-2) did make an appearance in the ninth, getting the final out for the win.

Ira, Loraine square off in 4-A tilt

Ira and Loraine will wind up their District 4-A baseball schedule with a 1 p.m. meeting Saturday at LHS.

Ira carries an 8-4 overall record into the fray, including an 11-1 loss to Loraine on April 26.

The offensive leader for IHS is Cole Sterling, who has hit .700 in the Bulldogs' last five games, including a streak of four straight victories before losing to Loraine.

Loraine, 15-5, is the defending district champion.

Freshman Eddie Brasuel, who notched 34 Ks in the 'Dogs' win streak, is the expected starter for Ira.

Both teams have clinched Class A playoff slots, since Hermleigh and Westbrook, the loop's other two squads, canceled their seasons.

AWARDED DEGREES — Fifteen associate in arts degrees were awarded Thursday in graduation ceremonies conducted at the Price Daniel unit by Western Texas College. Dr. Franklin Pruitt, retired WTC professor, gave the commencement address. (SDN Staff Photo)

Graduation held at Price Daniel Unit

In 1990, Western Texas College held its first graduation ceremony at the Price Daniel Unit. The unit had been opened a year, and there were five candidates for graduation.

There was a like number in a musical group that performed for graduates and families attending the commencement ceremony. One young man in the musical ensemble was William Cyrus Scott.

A few days later, staffers at Western Texas College were at the unit to give academic counseling and to help with degree planning for eligible inmates.

Bettie McQueen, dean of instruction, was told by Scott, "I was in the singing group. I have my high school diploma and I'm determined to attend my own graduation."

Three years later, Scott's resolve was fullfilled. Just a few weeks ago, Scott and other candidates for graduation showed up to be fitted for the traditional cap and gown.

Scott asked the dean, "Do you remember me?" She not only remembered the student, but recalled his pledge to obtain a college degree.

Scott was one of 15 candidates earning an associate in arts degree in a ceremony Thursday afternoon in which retired WTC history professor, Dr. Franklin Pruitt, urged graduates to "continue to excel."

"Real motivation comes from within," Pruitt said. "You are never too old to set goals, to get started, to jump at opportunities. Don't let adversity keep you from achieving your goal."

Also graduating Thursday were Edward G. Cantu, Jerry Lee Carrasco, James Ray Clayton, Marvin L. Coleman, Kevin Scott Farmer, Samuel Garcia Jr., Cordelius Lamone Govan, S. Mark Mullenax, Michael Dale-Newton, Kenny A. Rogers, Rodger D. Williams, Gilberto Guerrero Ybanez and Dennis Ray Freeman.

Freeman was the first graduate from the French Robertson Unit in Abilene, a junior college program also conducted by WTC.

Senior Warden Bob White gave the response on behalf of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. The welcome was given by Windham Principal Bill Moss, and Dr. Pruitt was introduced by Bob Martin, assistant western regional administrator for Windham.

Mark Smith, unit chaplain, gave the invocation and benediction, and special music was presented by a Price Daniel ensemble, "The Six Keys."

McQueen presented candidates for graduation and Dr. Harry Krenek, WTC president, awarded diplomas.

Prior to the ceremony, the candidates collectively praised the college program and quality of instruction. Graduate Govan said, "Speaking for all the graduates, despite being incarcerated, we have turned a negative into a positive."

The majority of graduates had earned their degree in two years, and most plan to continue their education at a unit that offers a bachelor's degree program.

Inmates expressed concern about future financial assistance. A proposal in Congress would eliminate Pell Grants for inmates, and the graduates said the availablity of Pell Grants made earning a degree in two years possible. The state pays for one college course. More than one course per semester requires either private pay or assistance, just like any free-world student.

Aristide supporter must flee Haiti alive; U.S. oks asylum

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Maurice Damicy, one of thousands of Haitians in hiding from military-allied killers, beat incredible odds by persuading the United States to accept his application for political asylum.

Now he just has to get out of Haiti alive.

While American officials process visas for Damicy, his wife and five children, the family plays a cat-and-mouse game with Haitian soldiers and their armed civilian allies.

The gunmen have intensified their hunts in recent weeks for supporters of exiled President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

Hundreds have been killed since Aristide was ousted in a 1991 army coup; dozens were shot down in an army massacre in a pro-Aristide slum just last month.

At the United Nations, the Security Council was expected to tighten sanctions against Haiti's military rulers today to increase the pressure on them to step down.

The existing arms and fuel embargo would be expanded to include almost all trade with Haiti. The council also was likely to ban travel by about 600 Haitian coup supporters, recommend a freeze on assets of officers and ban all but commercial aviation.

In the meantime, many Haitians still try to get out.

Those seeking asylum in the United States must prove to U.S. immigration officials in Haiti they face persecution. About 30,000 have tried in the two years the policy has been in place, said Luis Moreno, the U.S. State Department refugee coordinator in Haiti.

Only 1,200 have succeeded.

But agents with the Immigration and Naturalization Service say the problem is the United States sets limits for how many asylum seekers it will accept — about 4,000 a year for all of the Caribbean and Latin America. Most of those slots previously have gone to Cubans.

"The U.S. officials (handling Haitian asylum cases) have a tough job. They have to decide who is the most likely to be killed," said Connie Walsh, a Creole-speaking American who works with the New York-based National Coalition for Haitian Refugees.

U.S. officials believed the asylum appeal of 30-year-old Damicy, a former coordinator of Aristide's political party in the central Artibonite Valley town of Verrettes. He said he was kidnapped March 27 and survived five days of beatings in a secret detention center..

"They said, 'You're the one we're looking for. We're going to kill you,'" Damicy said quietly in a safehouse in Port-au-Prince, the capital.

A bitter smile showed two front teeth were missing — he said they were knocked out in captivity.

Age restrictions stir controversy

NEW YORK (AP) — Tennis legends Billie Jean King and Martina Navratilova are reviving their rivalry, this time over whether youngsters should be allowed on the pro tour.

Navratilova favors banning players under age 16. Girls can currently turn pro a month before their 14th birthday; boys must be 14.

"If you start playing so young, you either get injured or burn out," Navratilova said Wednesday. "If you are that good at 14, you will be just as good at 16."

King opposes an outright ban on the phenoms.

"Who are we to say someone can't make money?" King said Thursday. "We're really not talking age, we're talking maturity."

King won a record 20 Wimbledon titles the last when she teamed with Navratilova to take the women's doubles in 1979.

VOTE YES FOR CHARITABLE BINGO

Supporters of Legalizing BINGO for CHARITABLE purposes urge you to vote YES for BINGO for the following reasons:

1. State approved gambling is in Scurry County today. State Lottery Commission reports reflect $4,028,166.50 has been spent in Scurry County on Texas Lottery tickets, Lotto and Pick 3 since November of 1992. At best, only 5¢ of every $1 spent on the lottery remains in Scurry County. This is of no benefit to our local charities.

2. TABC reports of CHARITABLE DISTRIBUTIONS made by conductors of BINGO FOR CHARITABLE PURPOSES for the 4TH QUARTER (3 MONTHS) of 1993 reflect the following totals:

GARZA COUNTY	$4,750.00
HOWARD COUNTY	$97,440.00
LUBBOCK COUNTY	$448,404.00
MITCHELL COUNTY	$986.00
NOLAN COUNTY	$2,650.00
TAYLOR COUNTY	$326,379.00
TOTAL	$880,609.00

Much of this money was from Scurry County and could have benefitted our LOCAL CHARITIES.

3. Scurry County United Way reached only 53% of goal during the 1993 drive. CHARITIES in Scurry County have suffered due to our depressed, oil-based economy and will continue to suffer without an additional means of support.

4. Local businesses will benefit from BINGO for CHARITABLE PURPOSES. Scurry County HAS grocery stores, hardware stores, auto mechanics and laundrymats as well as convenience stores, restaurants, and motels. Many will see an increase in business due to increased traffic from out of town CHARITABLE BINGO players and purchases from CHARITABLE BINGO conductors.

We believe every person in Scurry County will benefit from legalizing BINGO for CHARITABLE PURPOSES. We urge every citizen who agrees that Scurry County CHARITIES need our financial support to vote YES for BINGO for CHARITABLE PURPOSES.
Please exercise your hard-won right to vote and vote YES for BINGO for CHARITABLE PURPOSES Saturday, May 7th in the Courthouse basement.

Elections set Saturday challenging incumbent Geraldine Parker. Some 274 ballots were cast during the early voting period.

Meanwhile, Place 3 on the Snyder school board will see a new face, as incumbent Terry Martin elected not to seek another term. Challenging for the seat are Richard Chambers and Pam Zeck. They generated 133 ballots in the early voting period.

Saturday's voting will be conducted at City Hall. Voters must reside not only within the school district, but also within the single-member district, Place 2 or 3.

In the Ira ISD board election, Place 5 incumbent Sid Wall is being challenged by Dirk Dunn. Place 4 incumbent Bo Robinson is uncontested. Nineteen people voted in the early balloting period. Saturday's election will be held at Ira Community Center.

There are four Snyder City Council seats up for election, including two in which there are no incumbents running. A new face will emerge in District 2, where Jerry Webb and Robert Sanders are vying, and in District 3, pitting Kenneth Gibson II and Kenny R. Gambrell. Early vote totals were 89 in District 2 and 32 in District 3.

The District 1 race between incumbent Vernest Tippens and Lynn Gardenhire has generated only 14 votes. Forty-seven were cast in District 4, where one-time challenger Dr. Wylie "Buff" Hearn has dropped his campaign against incumbent I.E. Martin. Hearn, First Methodist Church pastor, has accepted a new church in Amarillo and will be moving from Snyder.

To vote in the city council election, citizens must live within the designated district. Saturday's election will be held at City Hall.

Also assured of having some new faces is the Western Texas College board of trustees. Place 6 trustee R.C. Patton is the only incumbent and none of the three seats up for election are contested. The others running are newcomers Lee Presswood for Place 5 and Eddie Peterson for Place 7.

Thirty-four votes were cast early in the WTC board election. Saturday's voting boxes will be at City Hall, Hermleigh School cafeteria and Ira Community Center. All eligible voters within the junior college district may cast a ballot.

Dr. Gott

By Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is it true that drinking diet drinks with NutraSweet or artificial sweeteners slows down your metabolism?

DEAR READER: Sugar-substitutes, such as NutraSweet, do not affect metabolism ... except that by taking the place of high-calorie sugar, they force the body to burn fat for energy.

Avoidance of sugar is the cornerstone to any diet program for weight reduction.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Weight Control Through Calorie Control." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm 27 and suffer from sciatica. I don't want to get addicted to painkillers. Is there any treatment or exercise I can apply to eliminate the pain once and for all, or are painkillers an appropriate remedy that won't cause harm to my health?

DEAR READER: Any medicine has side effects, some of which can be serious, such as the addiction that may result from narcotic analgesics. Therefore, I urge you to see an orthopedic surgeon who will diagnose the cause of your sciatica (a herniated disc or bone spur, for instance) and refer you to a physical therapist for rehabilitation.

Stretching and strengthening exercise, in conjunction with ultrasound therapy or acupuncture, often relieves the pain of sciatica. If this so-called "conservative management" is ineffective, you'll perhaps have to consider surgery to remove pressure on the sciatic nerve. As a general rule, it's better for you to avoid the chronic use of painkillers.

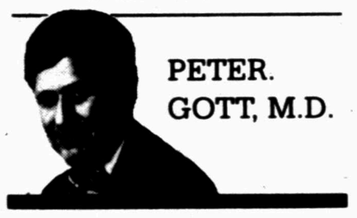

DEAR DR. GOTT: Are medicines obtained in Mexico as genuine as those prescribed by American doctors? The savings are tremendous. My personal physician feels they are unreliable and undependable.

DEAR READER: Your doctor is correct. Although many drugs sold in foreign countries are completely reliable, there is an inconsistency in the quality. Countries like Mexico just don't insist on the quality control that is expected of medications sold in the United States.

Although you could probably use the foreign brands with impunity, in my experience the domestic versions are superior. Follow your doctor's advice on this issue.

Bullock ponders cost of new bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock is raising questions about the possible long-range cost to Texas of federal anti-crime legislation.

"It appears that Texas stands to gain some enticing immediate federal help, but it also appears that the state and Texas cities would be picking up the tab when the federal funding is phased out," Bullock said Thursday.

Lottery lightning has struck fourth time in Fond Du Lac

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (AP) — So many lottery jackpots have been won on this city's "Miracle Mile" that a sign outside town reads "$150 million won (so far)."

Now it's time to change the sign: Another multimillion-dollar winner has been sold on South Main Street.

Factory worker John Staninecz Jr., who turned in a ticket Thursday worth $6.5 million, is the fourth person since 1990 to buy a big winner along Fond Du Lac's business district, which has five lottery machines.

"I bought one ticket, one single dollar," Staninecz said.

The Miracle Mile reputation attracts ticket buyers nationwide. Last July, people from all 50 states and Canada showed up to buy tickets for a $111 million drawing. The jackpot was won by Leslie Robins, a teacher who lived a short walk from the South Main Street supermarket where he bought his winner.

A $19.6 million ticket was sold April 28, 1990, at a grocery store across the street from that supermarket. And a ticket worth $21 million was sold Aug. 15, 1990, at a convenience store a few blocks away.

"It was our turn," said Phillip Moses, manager of Ma and Pa's Grocery and Deli, where Staninecz made his $1 investment Wednesday morning.

"We will be the next. I can guarantee it," said Tammy Reines, manager of the Kwik Trip convenience store, which has Miracle Mile's only lottery machine that hasn't sold a jackpot winner. "Patience. You just got to have patience."

Lottery officials don't suspect foul play, but they refuse to guess the odds of so many big winners being sold within less than a mile of each other.

"It's like any supernatural event or wonder of the world," said Karl Kurth, a state gaming official who services lottery machines in the city of 37,000. "It defies all the odds."

Staninecz, who has worked 29 years at a Mercury Marine Inc. outboard engine factory, won the jackpot in Wisconsin's Megabucks game.

He was drinking coffee with his wife and some friends at a truck stop when the six numbers in Wednesday's drawing were televised.

Grand jury does not indict sheriff

SHAMROCK (AP) — Wheeler County grand jurors declined Thursday to indict Sheriff Jim Adams on a charge stemming from his trick — a faked murder — on the police chief.

The grand jury considered indicting Adams on a charge of making a false report to a peace officer April 14. The Class B misdemeanor is punishable by up to 180 days in jail and a $1,500 fine.

Last month, Adams said he placed bones from a doctor's office skeleton in a remote area near Shamrock, about 90 miles east of Amarillo. He left a note at the police station directing Chief Bruce Burrell to the bones.

Burrell found them and called out the volunteer fire department to help with traffic control.

Adams said he put a stop to his practical joke at that point.

"It was meant as a joke and it wasn't meant to harm anyone," he said last month. "I've been chastised and I won't do it again."

$4 MILLION PARASITE!

In the May 3, 1994, issue of SDN in the "Ask Us" column the question was asked, "How much money has been spent in Scurry County on Lotto since it began?" The combined total spent in our county since November, 1992, in the three forms of state lottery was $4,028,166.50! John Fair, co-chairperson for the Veterans for Bingo committee, is quoted in the Thursday SDN, "Last year, United Way reached just 53 percent of its goal here." NO WONDER! With millions being spent here on gambling, there is less available for United Way, rent, utilities, and groceries! One of the definitions Webster gives for parasite is, "someone who associates with a person or organization for the purpose of living at the expense of that person or group, without contributing anything to their or its well-being."

Many were deceived into voting for legalizing a state lottery because they had heard "talk" that the funds would support our schools. It did not happen! Is it logical to create another gambling parasite to further drain our economy? Those who quote the thousands of dollars given to area charities where bingo gambling is legal, do not tell us the gross receipts taken from these communities. Be not deceived, the interests of gambling promoters is in the huge profits, not in the charities they are required by law to support with 35 percent of the "adjusted" gross receipts.

This was tried in Scurry County, then turned down by the voters by almost a 2 to 1 margin, 782 votes to 411 in 1982. Paul said, "Do not be deceived, God is not mocked; for whatever a man sows, this he will also reap" (Galatians 6:7). Jesus said, "So then, you will know them by their fruits" (Matthew 7:20).

IT'S A SNAP WINNERS — These Stanfield second graders were the top winners in the "It's A Snap" photo contest sponsored jointly by Kmart and Kodak. Ashley Stroud, far left, was the grand prize winner. She received a certificate and camera outfit. Students winning a single use camera were Dominique Braziel, first place; and Justin Boyd, second place. Stanfield second graders 'Snap' winners announced

Three Stanfield second graders have been named the top three winners in the It's A Snap photo contest, sponsored jointly by Kmart and Kodak.

Ashley Stroud, grand prize winner, received a camera outfit. First and second place winners, Dominique Braziel and Justin Boyd, respectively, each received a single use camera.

For It's A Snap, students were asked to photograph things that were both good and bad about the environment. The curriculum was developed by Kmart and Kodak.

The trio will have their photographs entered into a contest of more than 7,500 entries nationwide. One grand prize winner will receive a $5,000 Savings Bond. One first prize winner will receive $500 in Kodak camera equipment and supplies. The second prize winner nationally will receive $250 in Kodak cameras and supplies.

During the week of May 15, the local Kmart will exhibit the photos taken by the second graders at Stanfield in celebration of national photography month and Kids Week at Kmart.

The It's A Snap instructional manual encouraged students to look at the world around them and think about the impact they can have on it. Lessons like "Identifying My Beautiful World," "Reuse and Recycle" and "How Nature Recycles — Adopt a Tree," promoted creativity and taught children to be more aware of environmental issues like recycling.

Lawsuit seeks court monitor

AUSTIN (AP) — A dental industry group is asking the courts to look after the public health until state lawmakers convene in January to restore regulatory powers of the Texas Board of Dental Examiners.

The Dental Laboratory Association of Texas has filed a lawsuit claiming Texans' health will be jeopardized once the board goes out of existence Aug. 31.

The 20-employee agency regulates 9,000 dentists, 7,200 hygienists, 1,000 labs and about 18,000 dental assistants.

"The imminent abolishment of the Board of Dental Examiners ... has created disarray, worry, and confusion within the profession," says the suit.

The suit said the Legislature's failure in 1993 to renew the Board of Dental Examiners' authority puts the public health "in substantial peril," the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported Thursday.

Appellate court rescinds order

EL PASO (AP) — An appellate court has told a judge he can continue his special criminal investigation into state funding practices.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, without comment, on Thursday vacated a temporary order which had suspended state District Judge Edward Marquez's inquiry. It also denied a request by several Texas government agencies' to terminate the probe.

The lead counsel in the inquiry, County Attorney Jose Rodriguez, said court officials will now determine when the court can resume hearing testimony.

The court's decision "indicates that the judge has properly convened his court of inquiry ... and that we can continue the investigation as we were doing," said Rodriguez, who was appointed to represent the state in the probe.

William Kilgarlin, an attorney representing the four agencies, did not return a phone call Thursday from The Associated Press.

The court had halted the inquiry Tuesday upon the request of the state departments of Transportation, Human Services, Aging and Mental Health-Mental Retardation.

Marquez is reviewing the funding practices of all four in his inquiry, which focuses on allegations that state agencies have been underfunding social services and highway projects in El Paso County for years.

The judge has suggested discrimination and illegal conduct may be behind the alleged funding disparities. Marquez could file criminal complaints against individuals working for state agencies if his probe uncovers criminal wrongdoing.

But the agencies contend Marquez has no jurisdiction to conduct such an investigation, which has been likened to a one-man grand jury.

Marquez countered with a motion contending the agencies and their counsel had no legal standing to try and stop the probe, since state agencies cannot be defendants or witnesses in criminal proceedings or act against the state.

Good turnout expected for city election

THRALL (AP) — Despite a small ballot, City Clerk Barbara Kelm expects a respectable turnout in Saturday's election.

A city commissioner is running unopposed for re-election, and no one wants the city marshall job in this town of 550 people that is about 40 miles northeast of Austin.

"There's no cutthroat campaigning going on," Mrs. Kelm said Thursday.

Mayor James Dvorak said he thinks it's kind of a waste of time and money to have an election when no one is running for one job, and there's no doubt about the outcome of the other. There are no write-in candidates.

"I see no point in having an election," he said. "We have to have two ladies and the city clerk sit there (at the polling place) for 12 hours and there is no way the outcome could change," he said.

He said there hasn't been a contested city election for the past 10 years.

Mark Bell, a spokesman for the secretary of state's office, said, "The bottom line is that the state generally provides and requires municipal officers to be elected. There has to be an election, opposed or unopposed."

Alvin Brinkmeyer, 79, is the incumbent commissioner seeking another term.

Brinkmeyer said he does a lot of chores around town, including, up until this year, climbing the water tower to change burned out light bulbs.

The lack of opposition, he said, is a compliment.

"It kind of makes me feel like I'm doing a good job. I try to do a good job," he said.

Officials in Thrall don't think the vacant city marshall post will invite a crime wave in the Williamson County town.

It's a part-time job, and has been vacant for the past four months. The position must be filled by someone who is a certified peace officer, said Dvorak. He said no one in town is qualified.

Judge denies aquifer request

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A federal judge has denied a request by the Sierra Club to declare a water-quality emergency and take control of the Edwards aquifer.

U.S. District Judge Lucius D. Bunton on Thursday also imposed a gag order on federal defendants in the case over pumping regulations.

San Antonio Mayor Nelson Wolff praised Bunton's decision not to take over the aquifer, saying, "This is the first piece of good news we've had out of this lawsuit. He didn't cross the line."

The Sierra Club filed a motion April 15 asking the court to declare an emergency and order a court-appointed monitor to develop a regulatory plan for the aquifer.

The environmental group wanted the judge to order federal agencies, such as the Defense Department, to consult with the wildlife service about ways to reduce demands for aquifer water.

Sills honored after 20 years

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Diva Beverly Sills, the mother of two deaf children, was honored for more than 20 years of work with the March of Dimes.

Sills has helped raise millions of dollars for the March of Dimes Mothers' March on Birth Defects. She became involved with the organization in 1971.

"It was the only subject I could speak on with total authority," Sills said Thursday as she accepted the Bess Wallace Truman Award.

Opera singer Enrico Caruso died in Naples, Italy, in 1921.

Police arrest Aylor's friend

McALLEN (AP) — A man who fled the United States two years ago after being indicted on charges that included harboring accused murderer Joy Davis Aylor has been arrested after trying to re-enter the country.

U.S. Customs agents on Thursday arrested Jodie Timothy Packer as he attempted to enter the country through a McAllen checkpoint. Packer was allegedly using the false identity of William Clayton Dunn.

Packer, 47, formerly of Dallas, was indicted by a federal grand jury on May 16, 1991, on charges of conspiracy to commit passport fraud, use of a fraudulent social security number and mail fraud.

He also was charged with harboring an individual for whom authorities had an arrest warrant. That person was Mrs. Aylor, who faces a capital murder charge in Dallas County accusing her of hiring the killer of her husband's lover and a second gunman to kill her husband.

So. Africa's election said free and fair

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — South Africa's first multiracial election was declared free and fair today, but the African National Congress fell short of the two-thirds majority that would have let it dictate the new constitution.

With the racial oppression of apartheid officially concluded, ANC leader Nelson Mandela will now become South Africa's first black president and begin trying to repair the country's deep divisions and economic disparities.

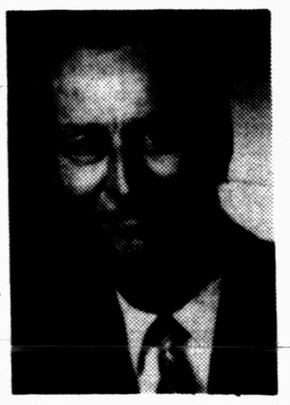

The Independent Electoral Commission said the ANC won the election with nearly 63 percent of the vote. The National Party of outgoing President F.W. de Klerk finished second with about 20 percent. Third went to the ANC's main black rival, the Inkatha Freedom Party, with about 11 percent.
