Ike Is Moving Ahead Of Adlai In Illinois Vote

Planting Is Delayed In Many Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The weather is giving the administration's proposed soil bank plan a break—assuming that it becomes law soon.

Cold wet weather in many sections has delayed spring planting. This means there still is time for many farmers to participate in a soil bank program if one is set up shortly.

Under the soil bank, payments totaling up to $1,200,000,000 would be offered farmers this year for taking upwards of 10 per cent of their land out of production so as to help dispose of accumulated surpluses.

Provision for this plan is carried in an omnibus farm bill approved by a conference committee and nearing a showdown in the House. The measure carries other provisions strongly opposed by the administration.

In a report on spring crop conditions, the Agriculture Department said late yesterday the 1956 season is late, especially in important northern spring wheat, corn and other livestock feed-grain areas. The department is particularly anxious to get a cutback in these crops this year.

Another factor which could help influence many farmers to take part in the soil bank is that cropland in some important Corn Belt sections is described as still "dangerously dry" for this season.

The report indicated little time is left to get Southern farmers to take part in a land retirement program.

In Texas, for instance, most land intended for spring crops has been prepared. Cotton planting has started in southern parts of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

The crop report forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 716 million bushels, about 11 million bushels more than last year.

FLOWERS IN THE SNOW—Six-year-old Marilyn Lucas clutches a bouquet of jonquils in her hand as she crouches beside a bed of blooming flowers partly covered by a surprising April snow in Kansas City, Mo. The last time Kansas City had a measurable snow in April was in 1951. The forecast called for six inches or more snow in some sections of northwest and north-central Missouri.

Bill Signed On Colorado River Project

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed a bill authorizing construction of a 760-million - dollar system of power dams and irrigation projects in the Upper Colorado River area.

The President put his signature to the measure in a tiny temporary office above the pro shop at the Augusta National Golf Club. He is here for a week of golf mixed with work.

In signing the bill into law Eisenhower achieved a goal he has been plugging for a long time.

The huge project includes provision for units in Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Wyoming and northern Arizona.

In a statement issued in connection with the signing, Secretary of the Interior McKay said "future generations will owe a debt of gratitude to the President and the Congress for their conservation foresight in enacting this legislation."

Congressional approval of the project came after years of controversy. Southern California interests opposed it on grounds the project would deprive their area of needed water. Conservation groups also fought the plan until the lawmakers eliminated provision for the Echo Park Dam in northwest Colorado which would have flooded part of the Dinosaur National Monument.

The principal structures to be built are Glen Canyon Dam, at an estimated cost of $421,270,000; Flaming Gorge Dam on the Green River in northern Arizona, to cost $82,942,000; and Navajo Dam on the San Juan River in northwest New Mexico, to cost $36,592,000.

Estes Falls Far Behind

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower moved out ahead of Adlai E. Stevenson today in returns from the Illinois presidential preference primary.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, making a write-in bid, was left far behind in what amounted to an election year popularity contest.

The President scored spectacular gains in reports from downstate precincts while Stevenson had a big margin in Cook County—Chicago—the stronghold of his Democratic party.

Eisenhower, who took almost 55 per cent of the Illinois vote in his duel with Stevenson in the 1952 presidential election, passed Stevenson in the count of ballots in midmorning.

Returns from 8,797 of the state's 9,511 precincts in Eisenhower's race against the nominal opposition of Sen. William F. Knowland and Lar Daly on the Republican side gave Eisenhower 679,891, Knowland 30,620 and Daly 8,783.

Reports from 3,826 of the 4,511 downstate precincts gave Eisenhower 423,880.

The Democratic vote in 8,470 of 9,511 precincts was: Stevenson 671,237; 7,757 of 9,511 precincts: Kefauver 26,306.

Eisenhower was expected to have virtually all the 50 GOP delegates chosen to go to the Republican nominating convention and delegates with 10 votes to be picked later in a state convention.

The Democrats also chose delegates with 50 convention votes. Twenty-three of the delegate candidates were for Stevenson and three had declared for Kefauver, with the others open-minded or uncommitted. The votes still were being counted in the Democratic delegate races. Delegates with 14 votes will be selected later at a state convention.

No delegates are bound by the preference outcome.

ADLAI CASTS BALLOT—Adlai Stevenson emerges from a voting booth in his polling precinct at Half Day, Ill., after marking his ballot in the Illinois presidental primary election.

Six Caskets Of Marines Under Guard

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—Six flag-draped caskets containing the bodies of Marine recruits who drowned on a forced march Sunday night were placed in the U.S. Naval Hospital at nearby Beaufort, S. C., today.

A guard of honor was posted over them as a Marine court of inquiry continued its investigation of the deaths.

Military services will be conducted at the post chapel of this Marine recruit depot tomorrow.

Last rites for Donald Francis O'Shea, 18, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a Roman Catholic, are scheduled for 9:30 a.m. The services for the others will begin one hour later. They are Thomas Curtis Hardeman, 20, Vidalia, Ga.; Charles Francis Reilly, 18, Clyde, N. Y.; Jerry Lamont Thomas, 17, Alexandria, Va.; Leroy Thompson, 18, Brooklyn; and Norman Alfred Wood, 17, Bay Shore, N. Y.

The court of inquiry, meeting in closed session, was ordered by Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine Corps commandant. It will recommend whether action should be brought against Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon of Worcester, Mass., the drill instructor who ordered the platoon of 78 to make the ill-fated march.

About 20 of the survivors were called to testify yesterday. There was no word as to whether all of the others would be heard, but the trial counsel said he had no instructions to call everyone in the platoon.

Train Hits Large Truck

FORT GREEN, Fla. (AP)—A Seaboard Air Line railroad passenger train smashed into a gasoline transport truck here today and three of the train's coaches burst into flames.

"There was a big explosion and the whole train, except for the engine, caught fire," said Mrs. Tom Cooper, a grocery clerk who witnessed the crash.

"Several people have been burned pretty badly and we don't know yet if they got all of them off the train."

The wreck reportedly occurred at Fort Green, a small isolated community about seven miles northwest of Wauchula on the Polk-Hardee county line.

Fort Green is about 25 miles southwest of Bartow.

Camp Springs Woman Killed

Mrs. W. H. Talley, 67, of Camp Springs, was killed in a two-car collision about 300 yards from her home on the Snyder-Hobbs farm-to-market road about 10 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Talley, a native of Granbury in Erath County Texas, was a resident of Scurry County for the past 55 years.

She was either a passenger or driver of a car in which her husband was also riding when the car was involved in a head-on collision with a car driven by James A. Doyle of Snyder.

The accident was investigated by Leonard White, sheriff's deputy, and Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman.

White said that the 1949 or 1950 model Dodge in which Mr. and Mrs. Talley were riding was knocked 101 feet by the impact of the two automobiles, and that Talley was thrown from the car.

"Mrs. Talley was apparently killed instantly although she was not pronounced dead until arrival at Cogdell Memorial Hospital," White said. A Bell ambulance brought Mr. and Mrs. Talley from the accident scene to the hospital.

Talley's condition apparently is not serious.

Doyle, also injured in the accident, was first brought to Battenfield - Jones Hospital - Clinic in a private car, and later transferred to Cogdell Hospital in a Bolger ambulance, but was not admitted as a patient at the latter hospital.

Mrs. Talley was a sister of W. C. Davidson, justice of peace here.

The investigating officers said that the Talleys were on the north side of the road with the car headed west, and it was not known whether their car was moving or stopped when the accident occurred.

The Doyle car was going east toward Hobbs. After the impact the Talley car was knocked 101 feet back east in the direction from which it came. Doyle's car traveled 19 feet in the same direction before stopping against a fence along the north roadside.

Mrs. Talley, the former Lillian Elizabeth Davidson, married her husband, William Henry Talley, in September of 1908 in the home of her parents in Clairemont.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, but are to be conducted by Bell Funeral Home of Snyder.

She was a member of the Camp Springs Methodist Church.

Survivors include three sisters: Mrs. J. L. Fields, Seminole; Mrs. J. E. Maule, Camp Springs; Mrs. B. O. Stavely, Haswell, Colo.; two brothers; W. C. Davidson, Snyder; and J. E. Davidson, Slaton; one son, W. F. Talley, Fort Worth; and one daughter, Mrs. Sim Grove Camp Springs.

Services Set For Ira Man

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the Ira Methodist Church for Verlin Gail Chaney of Ira. Chaney died Monday at 9:40 p.m. in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring. He was born Oct. 4, 1902 in Warren, Ind. and was 53 years, 6 months and 5 days old. The Rev. Frank B. Oglesby, pastor, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. C. J. Smith, pastor of the Knapp Baptist Church and the Rev. Jack Riley, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, Snyder.

Mr. Chaney was a member of the Methodist Church and was a World War II veteran. He was married to Miss Norene Georgia Cross on April 8, 1939 in Odessa.

Survivors are his wife, two sons, Edwin Gail and Carl Thomas Chaney both of Ira; five brothers G. F., Artesia, N.M., Raymond, Oceanside, Calif., Dan, Crane, Ralph, Monahans and Paul Chaney, Fort Worth.

Burial will be in the City Cemetery, Odessa, under the direction of Bell Funeral Home. Pallbearers will be L. A. Vaughn, Joe Smith, Jiggs Falls, Amil Kruse, W. R. Sterling, Jr. and B. F. McMillan.

Dag Confers With Nasser

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold talked with Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt for 75 minutes today in his first major move to restore peace between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

As the U. N. Secretary General began his talks with the Strong Man of the Arab nations, a Jerusalem dispatch reported an easing of tensions in the Palestine area.

The dispatch reported only two minor attacks last night by roving Arab suicide squads which had struck in a series of raids and sabotage missions on the three previous nights.

Hammarskjold talked with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi last night after his arrival in the Egyptian capital.

The U.N. Secretary General was accompanied by Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, Canadian Chief of the U.N truce commission. They plan to fly later this week or early next to Tel Aviv and the capitals of Jordan Syria, and Lebanon for more conferences.

Burns' plea last week for a cease-fire along the flaming Israeli borders had failed to halt the outbreaks.

Israel charged that Arab suicide squad trained in sabotage by Egyptian army officers, had struck deep within southern Israel for four straight nights.

The Israelis said the roving commandos, called Fedayeen, had killed 6 and wounded 24 Israelis. Israel's patrols pressing a mop-up of the roving bands reported they had killed 13 and captured 6 Fedayeen.

Auto Engine Fuel Need To Be Discussed

FORT WORTH (AP)—How soon will the change come in auto engines with resultant new fuel requirements?

That was one of the questions before more than 1,000 registrants at the annual convention of the Natural Gasoline Assn. of America, which opened today.

The answer may come Friday when an authority on the subject, J. G. Moxey Jr. of the Sun Oil Co. of Philadelphia, speaks on "Passenger Car Engines and Their Fuels, 1960-65."

Discussions centered around the possibility the new engines may be offered in cars earlier than expected. This could revolutionize the refining industry.

Frank Matheny of the Sid Richardson Gasoline Co. of Fort Worth spoke of possible changes in auto engine designs, particularly the Man Engine, which is a fuel injection motor patterned after diesel engine. It involves a new type of combustion chamber.

The motor could use any fuel from aviation gasoline to kerosene and crude, which would make octane numbers less important.

Every car manufacturer now has a new engine design on the drafting boards or one in the experimental stage.

The opinion among registrants was that within 10 to 15 years, the fuel required for car motors will be only a small part of that now consumed.

Big Spring Truck Owner Is Enjoined

DALLAS (AP) — A temporary order to enjoin T. A. Welch of Big Spring from operating a fleet of trucks in alleged violation of state laws was granted yesterday by Judge Dallas Blankenship. A hearing was set for Monday.

The suit was filed by Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and Dist. Atty. Henry Wade. It alleged that Welch on numerous occasions has operated trucks without obtaining a certificate of convenience and other papers.

Drive To Outlaw Poll Tax Started

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Southern-sponsored drive to outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections gets under way today before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

Sponsors of the proposed constitutional amendment include signers of the recent "manifesto" calling for Southern resistance, by all lawful means, against the U.S. Supreme Court decree outlawing segregation of Negro pupils in public schools.

Sen. Holland (D-Fla), a leader of the sponsors, called the constitutional procedure "the sure way and the only way" to wipe out the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in general and primary elections for president and vice president, U. S. senators and representatives.

The proposal would not eliminate the poll tax as a requirement for voting for local or state officials in states wishing to levy it.

Holland said only five states still collect a poll tax as a requirement for voting — Virginia, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and Arkansas.

To become effective, the amendment would have to pass by two-thirds majorities of those voting, and be ratified by three-fourths of the states.

"We'll find out who wants to get rid of the poll tax and who wants to retain it as a political football," Holland said. "I am confident the legislatures will quickly ratify such an amendment."

Grace Holds News Confab

ABOARD SS CONSTITUTION (AP)—The future Princess Grace de Monaco held probably her last news conference for a long time today. In high good humor she discussed everything from lucky roulette numbers to her poodle's birthday.

On the subject nearest her heart from her arrival in Monaco tomorrow through the wedding, however, Grace Kelly referred all questions to the Prince Rainer III.

The film star, only 20 hours away from a reunion with her fiance, was calm and poised. She smilingly conceded that she, other members of the wedding party and the press are anxious to leave the ship, but "Let's say for different reasons."

The last month of preparing for the wedding, she admitted, "has been a long one."

Asked her philosophy about gambling, she replied "Philosophically I have no objection to it. My only objection is how people go about it. You shouldn't gamble if you can't afford to lose."

Mild Spell Is Expected

By The Associated Press

Continued fair and mild weather was predicted for Texas Wednesday with increasing cloudiness and a possibility of widely scattered showers in the east and south Thursday.

Gusty winds and blowing dust were forecast in New Mexico and Colorado. Some dust might fly in the Panhandle Wednesday afternoon.

Except for a few high clouds, skies were clear over the state early Wednesday. No rain was reported. Temperatures ranged from 29 at Amarillo to 64 at Corpus Christi.

Wichita Falls and Junction had 31, Mineral Wells and Lubbock 35, Lufkin 36, Abilene and Dallas 38, Texarkana 42, Houston 44, and El Paso 51.

Cotulla with a 79 Tuesday was the warmest reporting point in the state. Sherman with 55 was the coolest.

The forecast calls for somewhat warmer weather and increasing cloudiness late Wednesday and Thursday.

Probe Of Uniform Buying Conducted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two scheduled witnesses failed today to show up to testify in a Senate investigation of alleged graft in buying of Army uniforms.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said "action will be taken"—presumably a threat of contempt citations—by the Senate Investigations subcommittee unless the missing witnesses, Jack Schwartz and Attilio Musto, have good excuses. Both are figures in the New York garment industry.

The subcommittee had planned to quiz them about $138,000 of bonds it contends were bought in their names by Joseph (Joey) Abrams, a New York garment maker. It says millions of dollars worth of bonds were bought by Abrams using phony names.

Schwartz was named by the subcommittee as proprietor of Mart Valet 35 Great Neck Road, Great Neck, N.Y., and Musto as the head of Attilio Fashions, Inc., 162 57th St., Brooklyn.

McClellan convened the subcommittee but then ordered a brief recess when it developed that neither Schwartz nor Musto was on hand. He said the hearings might be resumed at any time with other witnesses.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy told the subcommittee that Schwartz and Musto had responded to their subpoenas yesterday, but may have misunderstood orders postponing their testimony until this morning. He said the order was given to a Washington lawyer the staff mistakenly believed was acting as their counsel.

Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) asked whether action might be taken against the pair.

"Yes, sir," McClellan told him. "There will be some action taken." Then he added: "Of course, if they have some good excuse. . ."

Schwartz and Musto are both former business associates of Abrams.

The subcommittee identified the witnesses as Jack Schwartz, a one time business partner of Abrams in New York, and Atillio Musto, another former associate.

The subcommittee has placed in evidence records it says show Abrams bought $20,000 worth of bonds in the name of Schwartz and $118,000 in Musto's name.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said yesterday the subcommittee intends to show whether bonds were used as payoffs to Army Quartermaster Corps officials, or in some income tax evasion scheme.

Abrams could not be reached for comment.

Martin Sees Hard Farm Bill Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Martin (R-Mass) today conceded House Republicans "face an uphill flight" to save the Eisenhower administration's farm program.

Martin, GOP House leader, conferred with Republican strategists in an inconclusive last - minute huddle before the House squared off over a compromise farm bill pronounced unacceptable by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

"We're still fishing for a few votes," Martin said.

He told reporters GOP floor leaders would continue seeking ways of softening up controversial features of the farm bill right up to voting time later in the day.

The measure provides for a return to rigid, high - level farm price supports and contains other sections which would raise support levels on crops already in surplus. The administration opposes those features but has lost the backing of a number of Midwest Republicans.

Just before the House convened to take up the bill, Martin told reporters that GOP leaders were standing firm on their proposal to knock out the rigid 90 per cent of parity supports for basic crops and substitute flexible supports at 82½ to 90 per cent. Parity is a price said by law to be fair to farmers in terms of their costs.

Martin hinted that some concessions to dairy state members from the East and Midwest might be made before the vote to provide higher price supports for milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products.

Such a concession would be an inducement to bring into the administration ranks those members who feel the dairy provisions of the bill are inadequate.

Likelihood Of Calling Troops Hinges On Mid East Situation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials discounted today the likelihood of President Eisenhower's asking Congress for authority to use U.S. armed forces in the Middle East unless the Israeli-Arab conflict grows much more critical.

They said, however, that with border clashes and retaliatory attacks building up as they have been the situation could become extremely grave in a matter of hours.

American officials said the major administration effort now is to prevent that kind of crisis from developing by using every resource of diplomacy.

The purpose behind Eisenhower's statement on Monday warning against aggression by either side was described as being to back up the peace mission of United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

The possibility of a request by Eisenhower for congressional approval of the use of American forces in event of Middle East war was discussed yesterday when Secretary of State Dulles met with congressional leaders. Several congressmen said there was no request for action at this time.

When Red China was threatening an invasion of Formosa early last year, Eisenhower asked and obtained from Congress a blank check for the use of American forces if he thought such action necessary.

But officials made clear today in private conversation that the administration greatly hopes to avoid a request for similar standby powers covering the Middle East, and has no plan to act unless the danger grows considerably worse.

Their hope that it will not do so is based on an estimate here that neither Israel nor Egypt wants to become involved in a war now.

Tax Returns Increase

DALLAS (AP) —An increase of 100,000 income tax returns from the North Texas District was reported by the Internal Revenue Service yesterday.

Killed In Collision

GROVETON, Tex., (AP) — Buck Chessher of Carlisle was killed today in a collision of two pickup trucks. He was en route to work in a Lufkin foundry.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

New Producer In Andrews Flows

White Eagle Oil Co. No. 2 Argo has been completed as a flowing San Andres producer in the Argo (Clear Fork) field of Southwest Andrews County.

Operator reported a 24-hour flowing potential of 145 barrels of oil, plus four per cent water, through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations from 4,254 to 4,336 feet, after 20,000 gallons of fracture solution and 500 gallons of mud acid.

Gravity of the oil was 37 degrees, with no gas-oil ratio learned.

Operator will request discovery allowable and ask that the well be designated the opener of San Andres production in the Argo pool. Closest San Andres production is 1-⅛ miles west of the Martin field.

Present plans are to attempt dual completion from the Clear Fork.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 14, block 41, psl survey, 14 miles southwest of Andrews.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Co. has plugged and abandoned its No.1-F Oil Development Company, project in the Welman, Northwest (Devonian) field of Southwest Terry County.

It was bottomed at 12,840 feet in Devonian. Site was 1,200 feet from north and 330 feet for west lines of section 10, block DD, John H. Gibson survey.

Monsanto Chemical Co. Lion Oil Division, No. 1 Hill, wildcat four miles northwest of the Berta (Conglomerate) field of Stonewall County, has been plugged.

It was drilled to 6,164 feet, 660 feet from south and 467 feet from west lines of section 122, block F, H&TC survey.

General American Oil Co. of Texas will drill No. 8-D C.B. Long as a one and one-quarter mile west outpost to the Katz pool of Northeast Stonewall County.

Contract depth is 5,200 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Location is 4,200 feet from east line (river) and 330 feet from south line of J. G. Eustis survey, A-467.

General Crude Oil Co. and others No. 2 Bell Sumrall is a 5,249-foot failure seven miles west of Hamlin in Northeast Fisher County.

It was drilled 467 feet from north and southeast lines of section 90, block 1, H&TC survey.

WHERE MARINES DROWNED—Searchers in a helicopter and a boat search for a Marine missing after an unscheduled night march at Parris Island Marine Corps Depot, N. C. Bodies of five other Marines were recovered at this site after 75 men marched into the swampy marshland. This creek is normally dry at low tide. The drill sergeant who directed the men on the night march was held in detention pending the outcome of an investigation.

Heart, Lung Pump Saves Man's Life

HOUSTON (AP)—A new pump which takes the place of the heart and lungs and permits what a heart specialist terms "the ultimate achievement in heart surgery" has been credited with saving the life of a Houston man, 49.

The operation repaired a hole the size of a half dollar in the muscle that separates the right and left ventricles.

"This is the achievement we have been waiting for," said the specialist, who asked that his name be withheld. "It is now possible to repair the most serious damage there can be to the adult heart. Now it is possible to lay open the papillary muscles—the wires, so to speak—then control circulation, patch a blowout and then repair the muscles and reestablish circulation."

The patient, Bertram Sommerfield, a merchant, was reported in good condition yesterday, five days after the operation.

The rupture in Sommerfield's heart, which developed four days after he suffered a heart attack 11 weeks ago, was repaired by the surgeon who sutured a plastic sponge over the area.

Victims of such a rupture usually die within 12 to 24 hours since blood leaks through the hole from the left to the right ventricles instead of circulating through the body.

Colorado City Man Fined In Court Here

A fine of $10 plus $23.50 in court costs, was assessed against Jerry Bates, 25, of Colorado City, in county court here yesterday on Bates plea of guiltly to a swindle-by-worthless-check charge.

Bates had been arrested eight miles south of Roscoe by highway patrolmen.

The charge resulted from a $6 check given to the Biddle Service Station.

Former Snyder Youth Dies In Hospital

Sammy Berry, 15, former resident of Snyder, died at 5 p.m. Tuesday in Pecos Memorial hospital, friends here learned this morning.

Sammy was stricken with cancer about two years ago, and a year and a half ago had his right arm amputated in an attempt to curb the disease. He had moved to Pecos about a year ago with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Berry. While living here Mr. Berry was manager for the Frank Montgomery Dirt Contractor on the Lamesa highway..

In addition to his parents, Sammy is survived by a brother, Gary.

The body was at Pecos Funeral Home, pending completion of funeral arrangements. Services are to be held Thursday afternoon in Pecos, but the hour had not been set this morning.

Wingtip Fuel Tanks Hit Ice Cream Plant

FORT WORTH (AP)—A wingtip fuel tank fell from a jet plane tody and crashed through the roof of Vandervoorts Inc., an ice cream plant on the south edge of the business area.

A second tank landed in Vandervoorts' parking lot half a block away.

No one was hurt. Damage was not determined at once.

The tanks apparently fell by accident from an F80 Shooting Star. Carter Field said the tanks fell from an Air National Guard plane from Hensley Field in Dallas.

From 60 to 70 employes were working in the building.

Negro Man Fined In Mortgage Case

Haywood Cameron, 37-year-old Negro, was fined $100 and assessed $23.50 in court costs in County Court yesterday in a plea of guilty to a charge of concealing mortgaged property.

Edgar Taylor, county judge, presided.

Cameron had been arrested in Dallas and brought here to face the charge.

Sheriff Homer Whisnand said that Cameron is wanted in Littlefield on a felony forgery charge.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Helms, 1203 Twenty-fourth Street, are the parents of a six pound, 11 ounce son, born at 3:26 p.m. Tuesday in the Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Waring Given On Inspection Stickers,

On the morning of April 16, the Texas Highway Patrol will begin enforcement on the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law, said Captain G. L. Morahan in issuing a last minute warning to Motorists.

All Motor Vehicles will be required to have the current Motor Vehicle Inspection sticker displayed. The penalty for failure to have them displayed is a fine from $1 to $200 plus court costs.

From the number of vehicles observed in recent days, apparently there are hundreds un-inspected at this late date, said Captain Morahan.

Homemaker Forum Gets Many Household Hints

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Whenever I get the blues, I can cheer myself up immediately by being thankful that I am not married to a man whose business is household efficiency.

Can you imagine how awful it would be, for instance, to have as a husband the publisher of a womens service magazine, who comes home every night with new suggesions for improving your own fumbling household routine? A man who spends his working day among time and motion experts and antiseptic test kitchens and experts in ever field of homemaking?

I should think it would give any wife a lifelong inferiority complex to be married to a man who knows more about housekeeping than she does. Such a man, for instance, as Howard S. Cohoon of Jackson, Miss., who is head of a company which makes numerous household products, and who has worked up a homemaker's forum inviting women all over the country to send in household hints.

Now don't get me wrong. Cohoon is a charming gentleman, with an attractive wife and a happy family consisting of son, daughter and two grandchildren.

I am told that Mrs. Cohoon shows no signs of the complexes which I am sure would harrass me if I were in her shoes. She ever encourages her husband to give prizes, such as trips to Florida, for the homemakers who send in the best hints. All I can say is she must be a paragon among women, and she must run the most efficient household in the world.

While chatting with homemaking expert Cohoon over lunch in New York the other day, I learned that he now has a roster of more than a half million women who have sent in their most prized household hints for his consideration.

"They come in at the rate of about 20,000 a month," said Cohoon. "We invite women to send in these hints over various radio and television programs, in newspapers and magazines and on the labels of the products.

"It's amazing how many bright ideas for short cuts and thirft arrive by every mail. And what surprises me is how many brand new ideas keep coming in. You'd think after a while they'd already have thought of everything. But there are fewer repetitions than you would think possible."

Cohoon and his cohorts will take 40 winning homemakers and their husbands for a week's free vacation in Ellinor Village, Fla., in June.

"My wife thinks it's only fair," says he, "that housewives be rewarded for their bright ideas, just as employes in other businesses get rewards for bright suggestions.

"When I first brought up this idea to Mrs. Cohoon, she was delighted. In fact, she produced a few household hints of her own that nobody else had thought of."

I guess, when you have to compete with a half million expert homemakers, you simply have to top them. And that, perhaps, is Mrs. Cohoon's secret.

Mrs. Eiland Honored With Chicken Dinner

A surprise fried chicken dinner was given yesterday honoring Mrs. Ethel Eiland on her 70th birthday in her home at 2806 Avenue U.

Fried chicken salads, ice cream and a birthday cake with seven candals, one for every 10 years, was served to about 15 guests who attended.

After the dinner a social was held.

Keep Flowers Fresh With Warm Water

To keep cut flowers fresh, put them into a container of almost hot water — about bath temperature. Let this cool naturally, and then arrange the flowers. Use a sharp knife to cut stem ends, and remove foliage that will be below the water line.

Keep flowers in a cold room or in the refrigerator at night. And please, please, please wash the flower containers well with hot soup or detergent suds to discourage the growth of bacteria — both before you first arrange them, and each time you change the water afterwards.

High School P-TA Names New Officers

New officers for the High School P-TA were elected at the meeting Monday afternoon. They are: president, Mrs. Searcy Orr; vice-president, Mrs. Truman Black; secretary, Mrs. Forrest Beavers; treasurer, Mrs. Sterling Williams.

Dr. DWane Collins, dressed in a Gaucho costume he brought from Brazil, spoke on our good neighbor policy with South America.

The outgoing president, Mrs. Bob Melton, appointed a committee including Mrs. Searcy Orr and Clois Henry to decide which senior high school student will be awarded the $200 scholarship.

In 1933, 350,000 U. S. farmers lost their farms through some form of distress transfer, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

LOST 34 POUNDS WITH BARCENTRATE

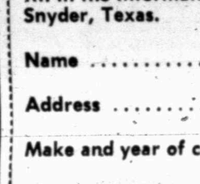

If you want to take off ugly fat, easily, quickly and without starvation diet, just get four ounces of liquid Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off unwanted fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Over six and a quarter million bottles sold in Texas in 13 years.

Mrs. C. C. DuBose, Route 2, Box 402, Lufkin, Texas, wrote us that she had lost 34 pounds, taking Barcentrate.

"State Farm has saved me money year after year"

Shepperd Steps Down

The decision of John Ben Shepperd not to seek re-election as attorney general at this time is probably a wise one, though many of his friends had urged him to do so. As we interpert it, the mood of the people is against the "ins" regardless of how innocent they might have been with regard to the many disclosures in land and insurance matters of the past two years.

John Ben Shepperd is young, and no doubt will be heard from again in Texas politics. In his announcement of non-candidacy this year, he asserts stoutly his determination to continue his interest in public affairs, and to "battle for constitutional government out of office as well as in it."

He has only one regret, Shepperd declares: "When my term is over, Texans will still be facing the gravest threat to their freedom since Santa Anna marched across the Rio Grande. The federal government is a hungry wolf that is never filled. It is tearing through our Constitution and devouring its creator."

Shepperd has been one of the most active attorneys general in recent Texas history. He declares his department has won over 90 per cent of the thousands of civil cases, large and small, handled by his office during his tenure.

He tied into the Duval County situation with the boldness of a lion and pursued it with courage and competence. Administration after state administration has ignored or tolerated it, but it took a John Ben Shepperd to meet it head-on and to pursue it with the utmost vigor.

Texans should be grateful to him for that. It called for a high degree of moral and political as well as actual physical courage to tie into that long-standing mare's nest and as it turned out Shepperd had what it took.

It was in the highest tradition of public service, and the people of Texas should keep it in mind in assessing the administration of John Ben Shepperd as attorney general of Texas.

The Prosperous Note

Natural gas producers of Texas whose competitive postion with other fuels was left in the federal deep-freeze by President Eisenhower's veto of the decontrol bill will be interestd to know, we imagine, that the revenues of the gas utility and pipeline industry reached a new peak of $5,310,000,000 in 1955. This was a gain of almost three-quarters of a billion dollars, or 15.1 percent, over the camparable period a year earlier.

The index price of natural gas common stock advanced "slowly but steadily" during March, and at the end of the month stood only 1.3 percent below the all-time high. The year to year increase was 4.0 percent. The current annual dividend rate per share represents a gain of 9.4 percent over last year, while the corresponding yield of 4.66 percent shows a 5.2 percent improvement over the same period a year ago. We quote these data straight from a press release by the American Gas Association.

The same resource reports that the gas transmission common stock acted in similar manner, but the gas distribution common stock segment followed an irregular pattern during the month. But there was nothing to worry about, really; compared with 1955, the transmission common stocks revealed an increase of 4.3 while distribution common stock recored a 3.4 percent year-to-year increase. The current dividend rates per share gained 13.9 and 8.6 percent respectively, while concurrent yields increased 9.4 and 5.1 percent respectively.

So it is evident that business it looking up for everybody—except the people who produce the gas from holes in the ground. There is no chance for them to show any rising profits as long as federal bureaucrats sit on the lid to make sure that the exceedingly low prices of natural gas from Texas fields—which supply more than half the nation's total—continue to prevail.

There is no uncertainty in the gas transmission and distribution business. The future looks bright with promise. The demand is big and the captive sources appear to be inexhaustible.

Ike's Civil Rights Proposal Appears To Be Headed For Defeat In Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Aanalyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It looks like a good, solid bet the Eisenhower administration's proposals for streugthening civil rights are headed nowhere. There's small chance Congress will approve any of them this year.

The only thing really new about them is that the administration finally got around to sending them to Congress where bills already are pending to carry out much of what Atty. Gen. Brownell proposed yesterday.

Those bills are hung up in the judiciary committees of both houses. Neither committee has yet approved them. So none is now ready for floor action in either chamber of Congress.

Perhaps the House, where debate is limited, will pass some civil rights legislation. There the outnumbered Southern Democrats can not block action with a filibuster. But in the Senate debate is unlimited. And there the Southern Democrats can, and almost certainly will, filibuster to death any civil rights bill brought up. There can be no new civil rights law unless both houses approve.

The last atempt to get the Senate to act on civil rights legislation was in 1949 when the Truman administration moved to carry out some of the civil rights promises it made in its victorious 1948 presidential campaign.

The Senate's Southern Democrats filibustered 18 days. The Truman administration then gave up. For the rest of its term, which ended in January 1953, it didn't push civil rights legislation again.

The Republicans, who controlled Congress from January 1953 to January 1955, didn't try either. Neither have the Democrats, who regained control of Congress last year, pushed for civil rights laws up to now.

Brownel lasked Congress:

1. To authorize President Eisenhower to create a six-man commission to be appointed by him—with Senate approval — to study the civil rights problem, investigate civil rights abuses, and make recommendations.

This commission's life would be two years. Brownell asked that it be given power to subpoena witnesses. This would mean it could go into the South or anywhere to investigate, hold hearings, and force witnesses to talk under pain of going to jail if they refused.

2. Give the Justice Department far wider scope and a bigger staff for handling civil rights problems and investigations. Brownell asked for a civil rights division in the department, which now has a civil rights section in the criminal division.

3. A new law to prevent threats or intimidations against an individual's voting rights.

4. A law to speed up the machinery by which the Justice Department can use the federal courts for acting in civil rights cases, including the right to bring civil suits against violators.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

A DIFFICULT YOUNG MAN. By Martin Boyd: Reynal.

Two countries and two boys are the setting and subject of this novel laid in the years before world War 1, and written too, with a kind of bland, pre-World War unsophistication.

The narrator, Guy, is brother to the difficult young man himself, Dominic. This boy, as we say in America, can't open his mouth without putting his foot in it; every time he tries to do right, it comes out wrong; and when he's good he's horrid.

At least, he seems horrid to all people with whom he comes in contact in England and Australia — parents, uncles and aunts, cousins, neighbors, and friends of all degrees. There is one exception, Helen, with whom he falls in love and who falls in love with him. But otherwise he is fated to be misunderstood, misinterpreted and condemned. He picks the wrong flowers for the right reason, beats a boy who deserves it but who shouldn't have been beaten, rides a horse to death for noble ends; and when it comes to girls, he's naturally in a phenomenal amount of trouble.

I enjoy some of the general setting, dated, to be sure, and out of a world now gone, but quaintly absorbing. I enjoy, too, Boyd's expert and sage handling of the little things, the casual accompaniment to his main story. But the main story is hard to take. Dominic is not ill starred, he is merely the victim of an author busily loading the dice against him. I can just hear Boyd egging on relatives and friends: go on, now, punish him! But without his stubborn interference, I imagine they wouldn't have found Dominic difficult at all.

National Art Gallery Observing Anniversary

BY JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — The National Gallery of Art which is observing its 15th anniversary boasts it has had more than 24 million visitors with additional thousands now trekking through to view the magnificent collection recently given it by the Samuel H. Kress Foundation.

Washingtonians and distinguished collectors and art patrons from many cities saw for the first time 113 paintings and pieces of sculpture, the works of masters of all the important European schools from the 13th to the 19th century. Ninety four of the collection are on loan but may be offered later as permanent gifts. Reubens, Bronzino, Titian, Botticelli, Leonardo da Vinci, Fragonard and El Greco are among the valuable works.

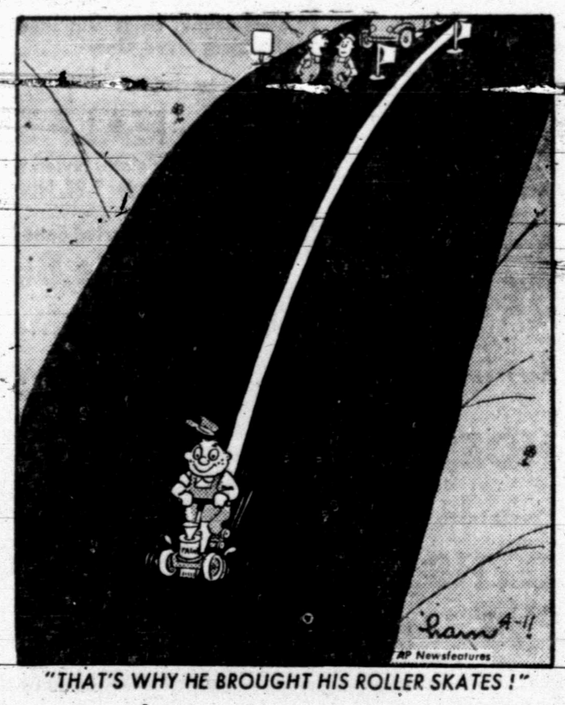

Rush H Kress, one of the two brothers whose gifts have enriched the gallery, was on hand for the gala full-dress opening of the exhibit. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dale, other benefactors, and Paul Mellon and Mrs. Ailsa Mellon Bruce, son and daughter of Andrew Mellon who founded the gallery.

The Pittsburgh financier who served as secretary of the treasury under three presidents did not live to see the gallery's completion. His son, Paul, at the dedication which was attended by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, expressed the hope that "It would become not a static but a living institution growing in usefulness and importance to artists, scholars and general public."

"THAT'S WHY HE BROUGHT HIS ROLLER SKATES!"

Iraq Is Destined For Role As Leader Of Arab World If Threats Are Removed

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Iraq is the bright spot in the Middle East. But against the background of Middle Eastern politics the outlook is becoming increasingly gloomy.

Left to herself and her forward looking, hopeful program for the future of her people, Iraq surely could become the leader of the Arab world. But there are tremendous obstacles — the threat of war, the threat of Soviet power to the north, the peripheral threat of Red subversion, the eternal feuds, intrigues and jealousies of the Arab world.

Saudi Arabian money pours into a campaign to subvert the regime of a man who has the look of a statesman in a part of the world sadly lacking in statesmen. The Saudi Arabian feud with the Hashemite family ruling Jordan and Iraq is deep and centuries old, the Saudi Arabians fear that Iraqi leadership will lead one day to a powerful union of Iraq, Jordan and Syria.

Egypt's revolutionary regime under its premier, Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, makes a strange alliance with the feudal Saudi Arabians in the hope of ruining the Baghdad Pact — to which Iraq adheres — or rendering it futile.

Iraq is governed by a statesman-like premier, Gen. Nuri said. His government seems worried. Boy King Faisal II's Hashemite cousin Hussein holds the shaky throne of Jordan, to the southwest. If a Saudi Arabian, Egyptian and Palestinian-Arab intrigue should overthrow young Faisal, Iraq would lose her steadying influence in Jordan and probably in Syria too and might be forced into a compromise with the Egyptian-Saudi-Syrian bloc which is hellbent for subverting the Baghdad Pact.

It seems likely Nuri would like nothing better than a reasonable settlement of the Israeli question to remove the imminent threat of war. Publicly he cannot say he will tolerate the continued existence of Israel.

Like the fellah in Egypt, the barefoot Iraqi peasant has been unchanged over the centuries. He lives in the same mud hut with his cow, chickens or goat. Like Egypt's fellah, the average Iraqi is ridden by a variety of diseases. Like his Egyptian cousin he knows little of international politics. But he hears Cairo radio in the coffee houses or friends' huts and hears about Israel and the wounds, real or imagined, of the Arab world.

Anyone interested in making trouble for the government can buy a riot easily. He can hire selected rioters for 30 cents each to key a riot and others will join for the fun of it. Riot leaders — a combination of hard core communists and other elements — direct riots as sheepdogs direct flocks.

There is danger — great danger —to the West. A charming man with a disarming manner is one of the most dangerous foes in the Middle East of Iraq and the west.

Tall, affable Khaled Bagdash, orator, writer and leader of disciplined Syrian and Lebanese communists attended Moscow's 20th party Congress in February. Long after the noisier and more prominent Red leaders left, Bagdash still was there. He had much to talk over with the bosses and it concerned Middle East oil.

Across the territory of Syria run pipelines which carry at least 30 per cent of the Middle East oil from Iraq and the Persian Gulf, pipelines of the Iraq Petroleum Co. and American Tapline. If the Communist party could make an alliance giving it a measure of control in Syria, it could deal both Iraq and the West a heavy blow.

Iraq's Interior Minister Said Qazaz says Iraq's Communist strength is dwindling and the hard core is down to a few hundred because Iraq's development program already is being felt in higher wages and full employment. He says the Iraq Communists get their instructions direct from Bagdash in Syria. Qazaz regards Bagdash as the Communist leader of the entire Middle East.

Nuri and those who admire him place much hope on the development program to build dams, irrigation projects, industries, schools, housing, hospitals and the lime. The first five-year portion of the program is complete and the government has earmarked more than a billion dollars for the next five years.

Under the 1950 Iraqi development law 70 per cent of oil royalties, now more than 250 milion dollars annually, goes to public works and 30 per cent to the government-operating budget. But even this program has dangers. The program may be going ahead too fast, bringing inflationary presures. Nuri is being advised by Westerners to complete the groundwork first. This includes first ending the threat of disastrous floods.

A Middle East war would be a serious blow to the hopes Nuri and Iraq have placed in this program.

Westerners say Nuri might be strengthened if the United States joined the Baghdad Pact. Outside the pact as an observer the United States has all the disadvantages and none of the advantages of a member. The pact now includes Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Britain.

Repercussions from the United States' joining the pact would be loud in Cairo. Nasser's anger seems to stem from the fact he regards 68-year-old Nuri and Iraq with a jealous eye as a potential leader of the whole Arab world with U.S. and British support.

But Nuri seems to have no such pretensions. Observers here think he is sincere in wanting an Arab states understanding. His great influence and great power apparently are being used toward laudable aims which—like aspects of Egypt's revolution—are an expression of rising Arab pride.

But Laudable aims are insufficient to insure this country's future. Unless the Israeli situation somehow is settled, Iraq is in as great danger as any other Middle Eastern country—and the West is in danger of losing its best friend in this part of the world where western policies have few friends.

There Is More To Be Seen In Bahamas Besides Nassau

By HAL BOYLE

ELEUTHES, Bahamas (AP) — Did you ever hear of the old Maine farmer who yearned all his life to see Boston?

Finally, one morning he decided he simply had to satisfy his curiosity, so he caught the early milk train to the city. That same evening he returned home on another train. Plumb tuckered out, he sat down to rest by the stove in the general store of the hamlet near which he lived.

"Well, Ezra," asked one of his neighbors, "Tell us—what was Boston like?"

"To tell you the truth I still don't know," replied the old farmer. "There was so much going on in the station there, I never did get out to see the city."

Tourists who come to the Bahamas and spend all their time in Nassau, the capital, remind me of that old farmer. Nassau is no more the Bahamas than New York, Miami or Los Angeles is America.

To get the full flavor of the Bahamas, you have to go out to "the out islands," some of the 3,000 islets and cays scattered over 70,000 square miles of turquoise seas. To them still clings the savor of the picturesque Bahamian past.

It isn't hard to do. You can sail to many in a few hours. You can reach others in a half hour from Nassau by air.

One of the most interesting is Eleuthera, a curving island 100 miles long and 1 to 10 miles in width, flung like a boomerang against the Atlantic waters.

It is "the bread basket of the Bahamas," and the site of an American missle base. It has a thriving dairy and growing cattle herds. At Rock Sound Arthur Vining Davis, the American aluminum titan, is building a multi-million-dollar resort center, complete with an 18-hole golf course designed by Robert Trent Jones, the Michalengelo of the fairways.

Wild coton from abandoned plaintations flower on roads leading to new luxurious villas rising along the pink-sanded seashore. One is owned by Rosita Forbes, the novelist.

Federal Income Tax Should Be Stopped, Official Says

By ROGER D. GREENE

RICHMOND, Va., April 11 (AP) — "I don't believe in the government reaching down into your pocket and taking money by force, by police state methods, but that's what it is doing every day under our tax system.

"Federal income taxes should be abolished."

Coming from almost anyone else, the words might be just another cry in the wilderness as millions of Amerieans face the April 5 income tax deadline.

In this case, the speaker was the man who directed federal tax collections for the first three years of the Eisenhower administration.

T. Coleman Andrews, former U.S. commisioner of internal revenue, said he is convinced, on the basis of his experience in Washington, that the whole 43-year-old federal system of personal income taxes should be wiped off the books.

He has no illusions about a tax-free Utopie, nor has he any wistful ideas of going back to the days before World War I when it took only a few million dollars—not billions—to run the government. The country has grown too big, he said, and times have changed. But he declared:

"America today is in the death grip of taxation. Taxes are too high from top to bottom. Much too high."

How does Andrews square such strong feelings on the subject with the fact that he was U.S. tax commissioner?

"My job was to enforce the law, not change it," he said in an interview. "I've opposed high taxes for at least 20 years, but in Washington nobody asked my views on the subject. I did my job and kept my mouth shut."

Since his resignation last October, Andrews has embarked on a crusade against the income tax. In a Cleveland speech Feb. 18, he described it as "shameful" "discriminatory" and a serious threat to the middle-income group. He defined this group as the $8,000-to-$50,000-a-year bracket.

Riffling through a thick stack of correspondence, he said:

"I've been getting hundreds of letters from people all over the country since I spoke in Cleveland. Not one has opposed repeal. Nearly all agree that our present taxes destroy initiative—and of course are far too high.

"The system has reached a point where very few understand it and everyone is kept poor by it.

"When you talk to somebody who came up the hard way as I did—who went to school barefooted in the wintertime and never got a college education—you're talking to a man who doesn't believe in government handouts and believes every man should earn his own way.

"He also believes he shouldn't be robbed of his honest wages. And that's what he is being robbed of by today's taxes."

It's Total War

PORTALES, N. M. (AP) — After a gang fight, police picked up a fence post, a four-foot length of timber, a case knife, a section of lead pipe and two bottles. The three victims who required emergency treatment after the battle showed that teeth had also been used—at close range.

RADIO-TV REPORT

BY CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—In this waning television season a reviewer remembers some outstanding programming for the home screen—as well as many failures.

CBS-TV has brought us some excellent works via "Omnibus," "Ford Star Jubilee" and Ed Murrow's "See It Now" in addition to special events. ABC-TV has supplied "Disneyland" and some good special events.

While NBC-TV has had a share of failures, notably in some of its "spectaculars," a reviewer cannot help but be impressed by its programming philosophy. In actual attainment the month of January on NBC-TV was probably the highest level achieved by any network within a specific month. For example:

"Peter Pan," the best single program yet seen on television, was repeated to the delight of all. "Nightmare in Red," that excellent documentary film on the rise of communism in Russia, also was repeated to a large audience.

Moral: It's the best of ideas for a network to repeat its best programs occasionally.

In "Festival of Music" 13 noted musical artists offered some of the best of classical music. Mozart's "The Magic Flute" was presented by "NBC Opera Theatre" in a two and one-half hour production.

Moral: The idea that classical music has no place on television is a myth concocted — perhaps — by the radio industry.

'Conversations" was a weekly series dedicated to the idea that everyone has much to learn from men who have lived long and wisely. There were filmed interews with Dr. Paul J. Tillich, a noted Protestant theologian; Pablo Casals, the foremost cellist of our time; Marcel Duchamp, a French-born painter; Sean O'Casey, the Irish dramatist; and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Moral: It's good when television looks at life and culture beyond our borders.

"Wide Wide World" went visiting across America thrie times in January: on New Year's Day in a portrait of an American winter, and in a contrast of north and south on a winter Sunday afternoon.

Moral: The great diversity and vitality of American life cannot be examined too thoroughly by television.

There were numerous other examples of enlightened programming on NBC-TV during this month.

NBC-TV has not yet disclosed its programming plans for next season. Let's hope that the philosophy that brought us such programming in January and other months will continue to make itself felt.

DRINKS ON THE HOUSE

Bartenders Have A Contest

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Hic! You ever been to a bartenders' contest?

Well, this is a report on the regional finals of the national bartenders' ingenuity contest.

Let's get one thing straight. This was a most decorous contest. There was no unseemly comment, no threats or duress on the judges, some 60 in number. They simply sat and drank. Three hours later the room still was a picture of sobriety.

The program said this was a contest to stimulate the art of gracious living. Too often these days, it explained, a host simply opens a few cans for his guests. Even worse, he pulls the cork on a bottle of ready mixed cocktails.

In order to correct this horried trend, the program continued, Brown-Forman, a distilling company in Kentucky, spawned this national contest for professional bartenders.

As a self-appointed kibitzer, we wish to report the art of gracious living is definitely on the upgrade. Those drinks were something to look at! Forty-five recipes nad been screened from some 500 submitted.

The proud bartenders who concocted them sat with the spectators and had a few on the house for a change, while a battery of their brethren mixed the drinks.

After 15 drinkoff heats, the judges settled on this beautiful mixture, the product of the fertile brain of Al Hasenzahl of Kansas City:

1 ½ ounces of bourbon whisky.
1 ounce of black raspberry syrup.
2 ounces of ginger ale.
1 ounce of lemon juice.

The whisky, syrup and lemon juice are shaken with crushed ice and strained into a 12-iunce punch glalss over ice cubes. The ginger ale is added, and the whole business garnished with a fresh strawberry.

Hasenzahl also produced an entry in the short, stout category which took ninth place and gave him a prize take of $325 for the day. He gets a chance at the $1,000 prize in the national finals at New York's Ambassador Hotel May 14.

Joseph Grippe, St. Louis, was secind and Jules Friedson, St. Joseph, Mo., third. They also will go to New York.

Actor, Wife Happy With Divorce Action

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sweetness and light marked the divorce hearing of actor Tony di Milo and Joan di Milo, and although they are going their separate ways they say they're still the best of friends.

"We bring out the neurotic tendencies in each other," Mrs. di Milo told Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle. "I make Tony cranky when he wakes up in the morning."

"We do much better when we're apart," said the husband. "We have dates and I visit the baby. We really think a divorce will make things more harmonious both for us and the baby."

Di Milo said they'll continue to have dates after they're divorced.

Ocean Salt May Come Into Use

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

DALLAS (AP)—Someday you may sprinkle your food with ocean salt to give yourself some vital spices of life and health.

These "spices" would be traces of minerals like iron, calcium, fluoride and iodine to ward off anemia, rickets, tooth decay and goiter.

Ocean salt is rich in these and more than 30 other minerals, besides the sodium chloride of pure table salt.

These potentialities in sea salt were described today to the American Chemical Society in a report by Drs. Arnold E. Schaefer, Olaf Mickelsen, R. B. Ing, and the late H. R. Sandstead of the National Institute of Health and National Institute of Arthrities and Metabolic Diseases, U.S. Public Health Service, Bethesda, Md.

About 70 per cent of sea salt is sodium chloride or ordinary salt; the rest is traces of all the other minerals. Many people over the world eat only ocean salt.

Goiter, caused by lack of iodine, is virtually unknown among them. Rickets from lack of calcium is not common, even though many of these people don't get enough calcium in their foods.

Many also avoid anemia from lack of iron because of iron in sea salt, the scientists said.

People in some areas of India have far less tooth decay than children in Boston, yet their drinking water contains about the same amount of fluoride, credited with building teeth resistant to decay. The Indians may get their fluoride protection through sea salt, the report said.

The scientists cited a Rutgers University study which found that pigs receiving sea salt gained more weight and appeared superior to pigs eating regular sal.

A successful process of preparing sea salt as a white, free-flowing material containing all the sea minerals was reported by J. A. McMillan, Jr., Trace Elements Corp., Kingsville, Tex., and Vernice C. Cook, Dixie Chemical Company, Houston, Tex.

Insurance statistics show that deaths in home accidents are almost twice as frequent for men as for women although many men are at home less frequently than women.

Widow Gets Allen Estate

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedian Fred Allen left half his estimated one-million-dollar estate to his widow, as well as the income from the other half.

Allen, whose real name was John F. Sullivan, died of a heart attack March 17 at the age of 61. His will was filed for probate yesterday.

Allen also left his jewelry, manuscripts and theatrical possessions to his widow, known professionally on radio as Portland Hoffa.

Half of the estate was set up as a trust fund for three nieces. They will receive the principal after Mrs. Allen's death.

The nieces are Frances Hershkowitz, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hershkowitz of New York; Barbara Bond, 15, and Mary Bond, 13, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Guy Bond of St. Paul, Minn.

You Can Now Visit Hospital With TV

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Now it's possible to "visit" hospital patients with communicable diseases without making direct contact with the patients.

"Visit-vision"—a new electronic gadget which permits this—was displayed today at the annual convention of the Ohio Hospital Assn. It was first introduced at Morristown, N.J., earlier this month.

Here's how it works:

In the patient's room is a miniature television camera with a viewing screen and a special telephone. The hospital lobby would have the same equipment.

The visitor, from the lobby, dials the channel tuned to the patient's room. Visitor and patient then have a full view of each other and may carry on a telephone conversation without fear of germ transmittal.

Flood Is Set Off In Kentucky Jail

HARLAN, Ky (AP) — Harlan County jail may hold prisoners but it doesn't hold water.

Six prisoners flooded portions of the jail to protest their confinement to cells for attempting a break.

The water seeped through the second floor, down to the first floor lobby and into the office of the circuit court clerk.

The prisoners stopped the drains in their lavatories and turned on the water full force, after being denied freedom of the lockup area.

Destroyed By Fire

MARINE TELLS STORY—Richard Acker of Utica, N. Y., (hands clasped) is shown talking to a reporter (left) at Parris Island, S.C., telling the grim story of five buddies who drowned on a night march. As the story is being told, others who survived the march listen and look at empty bunks.

Johnson, Shivers Both Ready To Lead State's Delegation

AUSTIN, Tex., April 11 (AP)—Two of Texas' top political figures today dug in for a finish fight on which will leave the state's 56-member national Democratic convention delegation.

They were Gov. Allan Shivers and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, both experienced and aggressive battlers who up to now had avoided an open clash.

Both Shivers and Johnson accepted their backers' proposals that they stand as candidates for leadership of the delegation to be chosen at the May 22 state convention. Each said he wasn't seeking the job, but would take it if the majority so voted.

Johnson spoke in a statewide radio and television broadcast last night. A few hours earlier, Shivers made his position known in a written statement in Austin.

Shivers said that he would not accept the favorite son presidential nominee role. Johnson said he would accept the favorite son spot if the convention majority wanted it that way.

Neither the senior senator nor the governor mentioned the others name. They have insisted their differences over party policy are not personal. Johnson said he was not interested in entering a "popularity contest." Shivers — who is ending his third elective term as governor — said he has "no personal ambition." He is not seeking re-election.

But Shivers took another shot at his old political foe, U.S. House Speaker Sam Rayburn, who originally suggested Johnson as delegation leader and favorite Son. Shivers and Rayburn have been fighting since Rayburn headed the Adlai Stevenson campaign in Texas in 1952 while Shivers bolted to support the GOP's Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"Ever since Sam Rayburn and the DAC (Democratic Advisory Council) tried to dictate from Washington both a favorite son and a chairman for the Texas delegation, I have maintained that this is a fight over issues, not personalities," Shivers said. The delegation leader, he added, should be on record on the issues he says are vital to Texas, including state's rights.

Much of Johnson's speech was a renewal of his plea for a unified Democratic party in Texas.

Johnson said he has made clear to Democratic leaders in other states that he is not gonig after their delegates.

It was also plain from his speech that Johnson would not let himself be used as a rallying point for Southern conservatives fighting the Supreme Court desegregation opinion.

Johnson's pattern for Democratic party action in Texas this year called for a delegation that would go to Chicago to seek the strongest possible presidential candidate, then come home to fight for his election.

This might have been a slanted dig at Shivers, who returned from the 1952 convention to fulfill a promise to have Stevenson's name printed on the ballot in the Democratic column. Then he led the state Democratic organization in repudiating the Democratic candidate.

That is the issue over which Rayburn has challenged Shivers' right to a seat in the Chicago convention this year.

Tax Check Received Without Any Address

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service has received $3,900 from Chicago, apparently mailed by a taxpayer with a troubled conscience.

The money, 30 bank notes of $100 each, was in a plain brown manila envelope, with no accompanying note. On the back of the envelope was a return address reading:

I. O. Thismuch
935 Clybourne Ave.
Chicago.

The revenue service said there was no such address in Chicago.

The money was sent to the Treasury's conscience fund.

Men Knock Down Nat 'King' Cole

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Nat (King) Cole, Negro singer and pianist, was attacked on stage last night by a group of white men at Birmingham's Municipal Auditorium.

An audience of nearly 4,000 gasped as the 37-year-old Cole was knocked to the floor.

Police, who had been alerted to watch for trouble, swarmed from the wings to grab three men on stage. Three others were taken into custody later.

Outside the auditorium officers found a car containing two .22 rifles, a blackjack and a pair of brass knucks. Detectives said the car was owned by some of the men who came from Anniston, Ala.

Charged with inciting a riot are Willie Richard Vinson, 23; E. L. Vinson, 25; and Kenneth Adams, 35, all of Anniston, Ala.; and Jesse W. Mabry, 43, Birmingham.

Held for further questioning were Orliss Clevenger, 18, and Mike Fox, 37, both of Anniston.

The attack came in the first of two concerts scheduled under Birmingham's rigid segregation laws. The first performance was for white patrons only. The second was given before a Negro audience.

The North Alabama White Citizens Council, one of several such groups, has been trying to stop the playing of "rock and roll" music in juke boxes. Asa Carter, executive secretary of the group, turned up at police headquarters wih several other men "to get the details" of last night's attack. Police refused to talk with him.

It has not been determined if any of those arrested have any connection with the council group.

The attack on Cole, a native of Montgomery, Ala., caught the singer by surprise.

"This thing happened so fast. The spot was in my eyes. I didn't see anything," he told newsmen later. "This fellow lunged up, below the stage, and hit the microphone and it hit me under the chin. I fell over the piano stool, on my back."

After the attack the audience kept calling for Cole to come back.

Cole returned. The ovation he got lasted nearly 10 minutes.

"The audience was wonderful," he said. "They were trying to tell me in their own way that they do not condone such actions."

In a wavering voice, he told the audience:

"I just came here to entertain you. That was what I thought you wanted. I was born in Alabama. Those folks hurt my back. I cannot continue, because I have to go to a doctor."

A physician examined him at the auditorium and said he was not hurt physically. Cole later gave a second performance for the Negro patrons.

Texas Crops Are Damaged

AUSTIN (AP)—Successive northers generating dust storms hampered Texas crops, already badly behind schedule, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said yesterday.

Wheat prospects dwindled.

Good rains fell in coastal and adjacent South Texas counties this week.

Cotton developed well in the irrigated Lower Valley but cotton planting in central blackland especially in south central counties moved slowly, awaiting rain.

Drought curtailed South Texas farming. Early corn and sorghums are being cultivated. Replanting is especially heavy.

Field work was active in most commercial vegetable areas.

Eastern and southeastern counties pastures were showing the effect of warmer weather and scattered showers, the department said.

Central, southern and western areas felt the full effect of drought. Feeding was in full swing. Stock water tanks were getting low, especially in South Central Texas.

Airplane Is Found But Pilot Is Lost

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—Found—single engine airplane sitting in the middle of a farm.

Lost—one pilot. An unidentified man says he found the pilot unconscious. When the pilot last was seen he was conscious and being taken to a hotel by a farmer.

A check of hotels failed to turn up the pilot.

Sheriff Russell Turpin says he wouldn't believe the story if he had not seen the plane late yesterday. Turpin said a paper in the plane listed the name of James A. Bell, 36, Stark, Fla.

Report On Damage

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—The Soil Conservation Service says a survey indicates 43,700 acres of crops were destroyed and 98,500 acres were damaged by March winds in Oklahoma. Beckham County, where 15,000 acres of crops were blown out, and Beaver County, where 48,000 acres were damaged, suffered the most.

Strong Wind Hits Coast Of Florida

By The Associated Press

Wind and rain storms struck southeastern states and rain and snow fell in far western areas but generally fair weather prevailed in most other parts of the country today.

Tornadic winds hit areas along the southeast coast of Florida yesterday. Twisters struck at West Hollywood and nearby Dania, north of Miami, injuring several persons. A tornado smashed windows in the big jai-alai fronton. It also struck a nearly empty drive-in theater in Dania.

Moderate to heavy rain drenched sections of Florida, Georgia and South Carolina with falls measuring from 1 to 2 inches. Miami reported nearly 3 inches of rain in 24 hours, with more than 2 inches in a 45 - minute period.

Light to moderate rains were reported in the middle Mississippi and parts of the Ohio Valley.

In the far West, light rain spread into the Pacific coastal states of Oregon and California, with snow reported at the higher elevations.

Winds of 40 to 50 m.p.h. whipped up dust in the southwest desert region.

Skies cleared over the upper Great Lakes region and temperatures dropped into the 20s. Readings were around seasonal levels elsewhere.

Early morning reports: Chicago 35 and clear; Los Angeles 55 and rain; Seattle 51 and cloudy; Minneapolis 42 and clear; St. Louis 43 and cloudy; Boston 37 and clear; Miami 70 and partly cloudy; Augusta, Ga., 50 and rain; Fort Worth 45 and clear; Green Bay, Wis., 28 and clear.

Toast Is Proposed For Coming Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A psychiatrist's wife says that when he left home he called in the neighbors, served them drinks and proposed a toast for the occasion.

Mrs. Dorothy K. Thompson was awarded a divorce from Dr. George N. Thompson, who agreed to give her property worth $130,000 and $1,200 a month for her support and their five children.

Mrs. Thompson testified that when her husband called in the neighbors to drink on "the forthcoming divorce" it was the first she knew of his plan to leave. She said he was a specialist in marital relations.

The psychiatrist, Mrs. Thompson testified, told her he didn't like married life and wanted to live a life of his own.

Dice Aren't Loaded, But Bottle Caps Are

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The dice weren't loaded but the fire was.

Three boys built a fire to keep warm while they were shooting dice for bottle caps.

They were badly peppered when metal from detonation caps exploded in the flames, spraying their bodies.

The boys were treated at a hospital where their condition was described as not serious.

Deputy Sheriff Now Believes In Santa

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Robert Tice received $5,412 yesterday to pay his hospital and medical bills.

"I've always believed in Santa Claus and now I know that he really does exist," said Tice who is still recovering from critical injuries received in an automobile wreck shortly before Christmas.

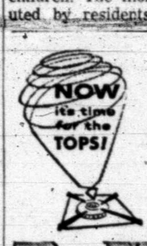

For many years Tice has played Santa for handicapped and shut-in children. The money was contributed by residents of the area.

Jewelry Robbery

PECOS (AP)—Earl Phillips, former convict from South Carolina, was arrested and charged yesterday with the robbery of $11,000 worth of jewelry from Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Katz. The Katzes, en route from New Jersey to California, had spent the night in a Pecos hotel. All of the jewelry expect a $1,000 ring was recovered.

Dr. Samuel Johnson's wife was 20 years older than he was.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THERE HAVE BEEN known occasions when a defeat did a team good. That is what we believe of yesterday's Tiger defeat at the hands of the Odessa Broncs.

Before we go any further, we want to point out that we didn't want to lose yesterday's game. Such wasn't the case. We like to win 'em all but we know this is impossible.

If we're going to have to lose now and then, it's certainly better to get 'em out of our system before district play starts. And had the Tigers extended their winning streak on into district play, the odds would have been against the Bengals running it on through conference action.

And the higher a winning streak becomes, the more pressure it puts on the players. We experienced this when we were at Pampa when the Harvesters built up a 72-game winning streak in basketball.

This streak was finally broken the week before the Tigers were to have opened conference play against the Lubbock Westerners, a tough outfit that year. The Westerners were pointing weeks ahead to break the Pampa streak.

Incentive To Win Dampened

But when the streak was broken the week before, the Westerner incentive to beat Pampa took a nosedive. The Harvesters won the district opener over Lubbock on the Westerner court and the Pampans went on to the district and bi-district championship.

The Harvesters that year didn't really "come to life" until their streak was broken because of the tremendous pressure of the victory string.

The Tiger streak wasn't near that high, of course, but when a winning streak in baseball hits the double figure mark then that's getting pretty high. The Tiger nine was bidding for No. 10 in its winning streak yesterday.

Had the Tigers won that one yesterday and the two games that remain on tap this week against Rotan and Big Spring, they would have carried a 12-game winning streak into district play that opens next Tuesday against Abilene.

This would have given the Eagles added incentive to win as any club enjoys breaking another club's winning streak. Then, as we said, the higher a streak gets the more the pressure mounts on the players.

Eagles Not 'Invincible' Afterall

One of the biggest upsets of the year occurred yesterday when Monterey defeated Abilelne, 7-5, at Lubbock.

It was the first loss of the season for the Eagle "first team." The Eagles had lost one game before but it came in a game where Coach Blacky Blalckburn used mostly sophomores.

Yesterday, however, the Eagle regulars, including the ace of the mound staff, Altus Scott, met defeat.

The only advantage of Abilene getting beat yesterday as far as the Tigers are concerned is that the Bengals now know that Abilene isn't invincible as reports out of Abilene had them to be.

But then on the other hand, it could work against the Tigers for the same reason as we pointed out above about winning streaks.

Odessa coach Julian Pressley was high in praise of the playing field where the Tigers play their home games—Pony League Park.

Pressley said before yesterday's game:

"We don't have a park in Odessa that would come close to matching this one. Even the pro park there isn't near as nice as this one."

CRAZY, MIXED UP SEASON—Sam Houston's Jim Ray wasn't confused when he showed up for a baseball game with SMU. Second Baseman Ray wears a football helmet to guard a jaw broken in his first college game when he was struck by a pitched ball in a game against Texas A&M.

Venturi Says Statement Was Misunderstood

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ken Ventri, young San Francisco amateur who blew a four stroke lead to lose the Masters Golf Tournament, says he is sorry he said anything at all when he came home because his remarks "were certainly misunderstood."

Venturi denied he had criticized other players or officials of the tournament which ended Sunday at Augusta, Ga.

"Jackie Burke's victory was a great achievement," Venturi said in a statement to The Associated Press.

Burke shot a final 71 to total 289 while Venturi scored 80 for 290.

"I would like to deny the report that I said Mike Souchak, Burke's playing parnter, was helping him read the greens and to club him in the final round.

"What I did say was that Souchak's friendly, moral support undoubtedly helped Burke in the final round. That was perfectly natural."

He added:

"It was a great tournament; it was a pleasure to play in it, and I am happy that I played as well as I did."

Venturi said he still is puzzled by the switch just before the last round which paired him with Sam Snead instead of Byron Nelson, a long time friend and mentor.

"I was nervous anyway and all the help I could get, I could use," he said. "I don't mean clubbing help or anything like that, just someone friendly to talk to."

"But," he added, "I'd like to correct the statement attributed to me that I would have won had I played with Byron Nelson."

Another puzzle, Venturi said, is why his friend Harvie Ward, national amateur champion, was shooed away from the 17th green and not even allowed to speak to him on the final two holes of the last round.

Texas Extends Pro Club Before Losing

By The Associated Press

Two Southwest Conference teams — Rice and Texas — took drubbings Tuesday when they took on outside foes in what were to be warm-up game for critical loop tilts this weekend.

The Texas Longhorns tackled the Amarillo Gold Sox of the Class A Western League at Austin and were doing fine until the final inning when the pro team scored five runs to take a 12-10 victory. The Longhorns, with starting pitcher Wayne Graham on the mound, managed to build up leads of 5-0 and 8-3 but the Gold Sox nicked relief pitcher Harry Taylor for five runs in the ninth.

A six-run sixth inning spelled victory for the Sam Houston State Bearcats in taking a 12-9 win victory over Rice at Houston. Bob Casey's homer accounted for three of the runs in the explosive sixth frame. It was a free-hitting game with four pitchers giving up a total of 28 hits.

The Texas Aggies were slated to meet the Bryan All-Stars at Bryan Tuesday but the game was postponed because of cold weather until Wednesday night.

In other Wednesday tilts, the Southern Methodist Mustangs play the Dallas Eagles of the Texas League at Dallas while the Rice Owls journey to Seguin for a game with Texas Lutheran.

Conference games Friday and Saturday will match Baylor and Texas A&M at College Station, Texas Christian and Texas at Austin, and Southern Methodist and Rice at Houston.

Milers Quit Too Soon, Says Dodds

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—Gil Dodds, one of America's top milers a decade ago and now a successful track coach, sees no reason why Americans can't better the 4-minute mile.

"Our fellows who are good never have a chance to reach maturity," said the one-time world record holder.

"Glenn Cunningham ran some of his greatest races after he was 30," said Dodds, "but nowadays they quit too soon."

Dodds, better known as the "Flying Parson" when he was the toast of American milers, opens his 10th season as Wheaton's track coach Saturday on a new $15,000 cinder oval which he feels "is one of the top tracks I've seen."

Dodds ran as an amateur until 1943 when he was 29 and then continued to run in exhibitions thorugh 1953.

He set a world indoor record of 4:06.4 in 1944 and later ran a 4:06.1. Some of his feats included 23 straight mile victories and running 17 races under 4.10, a showing accomplished by no other miler at that time.

NT Records In Danger

DENTON, Tex. (AP)—Eight records, five of them due to be set by Abilene Christian College, are expected in the North Texas Relays scheduled here Saturday.

The Christians are favored to win the meet with comparative ease. Defending champion Oklahoma is not competing this year.

ACC will be aiming at records in the 440, 880, sprint medley and mile relays and sprinter Bobby Morrow also may wipe out the 100-yard dash record of 9.5 held by himself and two other runners.

Texas Christian's Bill Curtis may erase the 120-yard high hurdles record of 14.5, Ray Burrus of West Texas State is expected to better the discus record and Howard Payne to provide a new two-mile relay record.

North Side of Fort Worth defends its championship of the high school class and Jimmy Reeves of Weinert his record of 4:38.2 in the mile run.

Babe Fights Back In Cancer Battle

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Woman golf great Babe Zaharias felt much better today and said she was back in fighting form and ready to wage her biggest battle—against cancer.

An attack of pleurisy had responded to treatment and she said she didn't have as much pain as when she returned to the hospital two weeks ago.

At the same time that the pleurisy condition cropped up, doctors found the cancer had shown a "slight extension."

"This is a new kind of fight for me," the Babe said, "different from any other I've ever had in my life."

She called for public support of the American Cancer Society and other groups dedicated to the fight against the disease. She established the Babe Zaharias Cancer Fund to be used in assisting established tumor clinics at medical centers to become better equipped and better staffed. The fund has received many thousand of dollars.

Mrs. Zaharias' birthday comes up June 26 so the PGA will designate June as Babe Zaharias month and urge all golf clubs to stage some event with proceeds going to the Zaharias Cancer Fund.

"While people know about the disease they somehow assume the attitude that it is a threat to everyone but themselves," Mrs. Zaharias said. "We have to think of cancer as a very personal potential enemy because we don't know whom it will strike next."

The Babe is receiving no visitors at the John Sealy Hospital here. She also can't have telephone calls. But doctors emphasized that while her condition is serious it is not critical.

Green Bay Signs Two Halfbacks

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Head Coach Liz Blackbourn announced today the signing of two young halfbacks by the Green Bay Packers for the 1956 National Football League season.

They are Ed McClusky from the University of Arizona and Glenn Young of Purdue.

McClusky, 6-2, 200 pounds, was signed as a free agent. He was a member of the Navy All-Star team while at the San Diego Naval Training Station in 1953. McClusky, 25, averaged 41 yards in punting.

Tiger Streak Halted At 9 Straight

Brones Turn Opportunists In 8-6 Win

The Tigers' nine - game winning streak came to an abrupt halt yesterday when the opportunist Odessa Broncs fought an uphill battle to edge the Black and Golders, 8-6, at Pony League Park.

The Tigers made only two errors in the game but they cost the Bengals dearly as the Broncs used the twin miscues to chase across six unearned runs. All six Tiger runs were of the earned variety.

Coach Speedy Moffett's charges outhit the Broncs 11-8 and at one time in the game the Tigers appeared headed for an easy victory.

The Tigers led 5-1 through four innings of play but disaster struck in the top of the fifth when, with two away and no runs in, the Tigers came up with their first error of the game after-which the Broncs scored four runs to tie things up at 5-5 before the locals could get the side out in the "night marish" fifth.

The score remained at 5-5 until the 7th when the Broncs came up with three runs, two coming on the Tigers' second error of the game. The Bengals threatened seriously in bottom of the seventh to pull the game out but the Moffettmen could manage only one run in the final frame.

The Tigers continue their slate today in a non-district tilt against the Rotan Yellowhammers at Pony League Park, starting at 4 p.m. Alan Snead, senior right hander with a 3-1 record, will get the starting mound call for the Tigers today. Coach Moffett had previously announced freshman Tim Roberts would start today's game but switched his choice to give Snead, perhaps the ace of the Tiger staff, some needed work.

Odessa was forced to call upon three of its pitchers in yesterday's game to quell the Tiger bats but only Fred Parker, the third to take the hill, was successful. And even Parker had to call on Dame Fortune to get out of the seventh inning alive.

Parker entered the scene after Dean Ewert, the second Bronc hurler, had been pounded for a single by Don McNew and a double by Milton Ham to open up the Tiger 7th. Parker got Tommy Prichard on strikes but then walked Jerry Taylor. His fourth ball to Taylor was a wild pitch that allowed McNew to score.

Then freshman Neal Boyd grounded into a "questionable" double play to end the threat and the game. Boyd, fleet afoot, appeared to have beaten the relay to first on the twin killing with plenty to spare as even the Broncs seemed surprised when Boyd was called out.

The Tigers opened the scoring in the first inning when Gary Vice walked, went to second on Snead's sacrifice and scored on a single by McNew. McNew had a perfect day at the plate—four for four.

After the Broncs tied it up in the third, the Tigers regained the lead in the fourth with two runs, coming on a double by Taylor, and singles by Boyd, Ronnie Baker, Joe Reaves and McNew.

The Broncs tied it up in the third but the Bengals regained the lead in the lower half of the inning on a single by Snead, a triple by Joe Reaves and a single by McNew.

The Tigers then rocked along with a four-run lead until the bottom fell out in the fifth.

Spieser In Home Bout

DETROIT (AP) — Light-heavyweight Chuck Spieser returns to his home town tonight for the first time since hitting big time boxing's television trail.

But the local fans aren't battering down the box office and the one-time Michigan State collegian will be lucky to attract 2,000 cash customers to the vast Olympia Stadium for his 10 rounder against Joe Rowan of Phoenixville, Pa., (ABC TV-radio, 10 p.m., EST).

Spieser never has benefited from a Midwest buildup such as the one given Chuck Davey, another Michigan State boxer who turned pro. Davey became one of boxing's first television "darlings."

Spieser went into the Army and has had eight fights since being released a year ago. His last four have been national television dates, but none of them has been in the Michigan area.

Bunn Hearn is putting in his 27th and final season as baseball coach at North Carolina.

Red Sox Explode For 21-1 Victory

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

You've got to figure Pinky Higgins as the world's No. 1 pessimist if the skipper of the Boston Red Sox didn't eat his breakfast with a smile this morning.

Who's going to frown when his athletes pound major league pitching for 24 hits—five of them homers—and 21 runs, even in an exhibition game? How's any manager going to hold back a grin when the two big question marks on his pitching staff look just fine?

The Red Sox did all of that yesterday in a frollicking, three-touchdown romp over the Philadelphia Phillies. The final count was 21-1.

Saul Rogovin, and American League castoff, was the victim. He lasted just 2 1-3 innings, giving up 15 hits—including solo homers by Jim Piersall and Jackie Jensen and Ted Williams' three-run poke. The Red Sox scored seven in the second and eight in the third.

The best news for Higgins, however, was the continued "comeback" of Mel Parnell and Frank Baumann. They represent Boston's southpaw strength on the mound. Parnell, a sad case since 1954, walked four and gave three hits but wasn't in any danger for his five innings. His only lapse was a home run ball to Del Ennis.

A sound Parnell would be money in the bank for the Red Sox. Mel, who will be 34 in June, won 21 for Boston in 1953 and shut out the New York Yankees four times. But he suffered a broken wrist in April 1954, and hasn't been the same since.

Baumann, the bonus rookie who hurt his throwing arm in the service was still a bit wild—walking two and hitting a batter, but fanned two in his one-hit, four-inning chore.

Rain again cut the exhibition schedule — cancelling the Baltimore-Chicago Cubs, St. Louis-Chicago White Sox and Brooklyn-Milwaukee games.

Elston Howard homered and tripled as the New York Yankees swung for 15 hits and defeated Dallas of the Texas League 6-3. Whitey Ford went six innings for the Yanks and was tagged for seven hits and all the runs.

Mickey Mantle made his first starting appearance since re-injuring a ham-string muscle March 28 and got a single in three trips. Manager Casey Stengel says Mick will open the season in center field.

Caferino Garcia, former middleweight champion, drives a truck on a California movie location.

Feller Ready For 20th Year With Indians

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—What will the Cleveland Indians find for old Bob Feller to do this year, the 20th anniversary of his joining the Tribe?

"Bob has been a good pitcher this spring, and I want him on the ball club," said manager Al Lopez. "I think he will help us in certain spots."

Six weeks ago, before spring training started, Lopez had said of the 37-year-old once Rapid Robert:

"Well, Bob will have to make the team."

On a club heavy with pitching talent, this sounded like a stiff order for the fading fireballer, a notoriously slow starter.

But Feller was equal to the challenge. He has allowed five earned runs in 17 exhibition innings and stacks up second only to Herb Score in this respect.

"I was concerned about him, just as I would be concerned about anybody his age," Lopez said. "But he has worked hard and he has pitched good ball and I think he will do the job."

Lopez' talk of "certain spots" for Feller indicates he probably will use Bob as he has in the last two seasons. That means mostly day games, more appearances at home than away, and in double headers.

Feller pitched only 83 innings last season and 140 in 1954. In 1946 when he set the major league strikeout record of 348, he hurled 371 innings.

Last year Bob had a 4-4 record, against 13-3 the year before. Three of his victories were at home and two were against New York and Boston.

Feller has said that when he feels he isn't helping the ball club, he will end his playing days. Lopez sizes it up the same way:

"When Feller's time is up he will know it before anybody else, and he won't hang around. There'll never be a problem in getting rid of Feller. He will simply hang 'em up."

Six Texans Killed In Crash Of Plane On Extinct Volcano

JALAPA, Mexico (AP)—Six Texans were killed when their small aircraft crashed into the slopes of an extinct volcano about 25 miles northwest of here last night.

Lubbock, Tex., police identified five of them as: Ray Watson, Levelland sport store owner; Paul Lawrence, pharmacy owner from Big Spring; Morris Davis, co-owner of a Lubbock prescription lab; Charles C. Coffee, well to do Lubbock farmer, and Quinn Henry of Lubbock, a professional pilot.

The sixth man was not definitely identified, but Weldon George, part owner of an aircraft dealership at the Lubbock airport, said Arthur Chase of Lubbock told him he was to be the co-pilot on the plane with Henry.

The six men were part of a two plane fishing party of 11 men. All were described as middle-aged businessmen.

The second plane did not crash. Five men were known to be aboard it.

H. V. Tull, president of an Amarillo machinery company, was first believed on the plane that crashed when some of his papers were found at the crash scene, but he did not make the trip.

Carl Maxey of Lubbock, owner of the crashed plane, was also identified earlier as one of the victims when his papers were found, but he was found safe in Lubbock.

Tull reported that he had given Chase, a former employe, some of his credit cards to use on the trip.

Although cause of the crash was not determined, it was believed the route had been lost due to a heavy mist.

Papers found at the crash scene showed the six men had authorization for a five-day fishing trip, and a map was marked at the town of Ciudad del Carmen, indicating that was where the sportsmen were heading.

The five men on the second plane were identified as: Willard Turner of Lubbock, the piolt; L. T. Foster, a Lubbock contractor; Don Portwood of Lubbock; L. T. McKinley of Lubbock, and R. D. McDonald, cotton compress owner of the second plane.

Claude Hutchinson, owner of Hutchinson's Flying Service of Plainview said that the plane was at least 50 miles off course. He said the plane should have been over water, instead of mountains, at the time of the crash.

Hutchinson was to have made the trip with the others but business forced him to cancel at the lalt minute.

They had flown approximately 460 miles after leaving Brownsville, Tex., and still had about 360 miles to go to Carmen, if they flew over the bay. A coastal route would have been much farther.

The plane went down in the east-central part of the state of Veracruz.

Mexican officials brought the badly mangled bodies to Jalapa. They were later taken to Mexico City where they will be prepared for shipment to their home towns.

Woman Walks Right Through Plate Glass

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Deputies say Mrs. Cecelia Tomp walked into the new Firestone sheriff's station — right through a plate glass window.

She was treated at a hospital for a gashed right arm and forehead.

Officers said Mrs. Tomp, 42, of suburban Downey, had been called in to get her 14-year-old son, picked up for a minor infraction. Apparently, in her excitement, they said, she didn't realize she was walking into the large, closed window at the front of the lobby.

Dirty Faces Trip Up 3 Youthful Burglars

DENVER (AP)—Dirty hands and faces tripped up three youthful burglars yesterday.

They admitted entering a dressing room in a nearby building after suspicious police arrested them on a street corner.

The youths said they climbed to the roof and entered the building by sliding down a sooty air duct. They were held for juvenile authorities.

NEW BOBBY SOX IDOL—Elvis presley, 21-year-old ex-Memphis truck driver who plays a savage guitar and works himself into a frenzy with his blues songs, has signed a long term movie contract with Hal Wallis. Presley's recording of "Heartbreak Hotel" has soared near the million copy mark.

Although half the German libraries were destroyed in World War 11 there is more reference material in the country than ever before.

Queen Gets Long Wear

LONDON (AP) — You might clip this out and paste it on your wife's mirror, Queen Elizabeth II and Princess Margaret get a lot of mileage out of their cars.

Both were photographed at the wedding of a cousin.

Princess Margaret wore pillbox. It was readily recognizable as the one she had on six months ago at a reception for the President of Portugal.

The Queen's hat was a concoction of pink petals. She was wearing it last summer when she toured Nottingham.

To carry the austerity theme still farther, both were wearing the same old coats—Margaret a blue velvet and the Queen a blue satin.

Run Over By Taxi

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Concepcion Gonzales, 4, died last night after being run over by a taxi.

Michigan's population increased 600,000 between April 1, 1950 and July 1, 1954.

Frank Grimes Day Held At Abilene

ABILENE (AP) — Two bearded Abilene residents — Abilene Reporter-News Editor Frank Grimes and weatherman Clint Sitchler — glared at each other for the benefit of photographers and then shook hands yesterday.

The occasion was Frank Grimes Day as more than 300 newspapermen and civic leaders throughout West Texas paid tribute at a luncheon to the lanky editor and his 41 years of work.

The picture-taking was symbolic of the friendly feud they have been carrying on for years. Sitchler, local Weather Bureau forecaster, calls Grimes his "downtown assistant" because of the editorial comment often made on forecasts.

"Cant't anyone get Frank Grimes' mind off rain?" Stichler asked.

"In West Texas the professional weatherman forecasts fair weather and the amateurs predict rain," Grimes replied. "I might add that a certain weatherman's wife got caught on a Girl Scout camping trip the other day after he had predicted fair weather."

Both Grimes and Sitchler wore fierce looking goatees and beards as part of the pioneer celebration of Abilene's 75th birthday.

At yesterday's luncheon in honor of Grimes, the veteran editor was presented a plaque which read: "To our scholar and esteemed editor who has helped shape our community and endeared himself to many of us through the years."

"I have merely tried to do my job," Grimes said in reply. "At the same time, I have never felt that I was just holding down a job. I have always felt that I was playing some part in the growth of an institution, of a city and of this area."

"Frank Grimes is not only one of the greatest editorial writers in this state, but more important, is, in my mind, one of the profession's greatest men," said Houston Harte, San Angelo publisher, at the luncheon.

Harte also is a partner in the Harte-Hanks organization of 12 Texas newspapers.

"He has never written an editorial that ground a personal axe," said Howard McMahon, publisher of the Abilene Reporter-News where Grimes began work in 1914.

"It is my personal and professional honor to pay tribute to a master craftsman," said Frank H. King, Southwest general executive of The Associated Press. "Honest, able, dedicated and fearless—such a man is Frank Grimes."

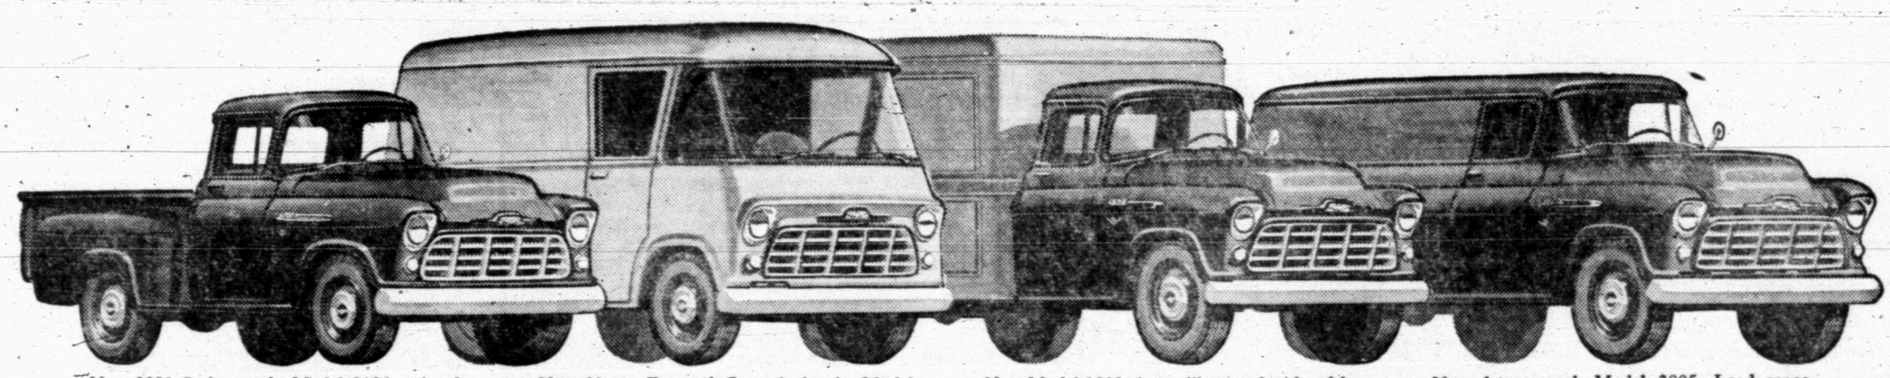

"Your role in West Texas is a many splendored thing," said Mrs. Leltie Faucett, former society editor on the Reporter-News and a long-time friend of Grimes.

"My dad is a long, lanky, straightforward and honest man in whose hands the pen is truly mightier than the sword," said Maj. Gen. Oscar Senter of Tinker Air Force Base, Okla., in a letter in which he said he was unable to attend the luncheon because of official duties.

Senter is a step-son who has known Grimes as a father since the age of 3.
