

Rockets Meet Cyclone In Last Conference Game

Coach Al Duncan's blazing Skyrockets meet their final obstacle to the district crown on the Rocket field Friday, September 20.

Their opponents will be the Memphis Cyclone—a heavier team and a good passing team. The black and gold will be no push-over in the opinion of the Wellington coach. Memphis tied Lefors, beat McLean 7 to 0 and was defeated by Shamrock 6 to 0.

The Cyclone, which years ago trounced the Rockets without too much effort, has been itching for a victory over the Rockets for the last few years. Coach Duncan is convinced that they will play their best game of the season and has been drilling his men harder than he did before the Shamrock game.

A victory for Memphis Friday could be the means of the Cyclone winning the district crown or it could be the means of Shamrock winning. Memphis was awarded the Lefors game on penetrations as far as the conference standing is concerned. If Memphis should defeat Wellington and Shamrock should defeat McLean the championship would lie between three clubs. However, if Wellington wins Friday, there will be no debate. The Rockets will be the champions—undefeated in conference play.

That is the reason Coach Duncan is drilling his players as never before. He says that they are in as good shape as they have been in for any game of the season.

Coronation of the Football Queen will be a colorful feature between the halves of the game. The identity of the queen will not be revealed until the time of coronation, and the choice will be determined by the number of votes received by the four candidates, representing the four high school classes.

Junior High Names Host, Hostess In Friday Election

Bennie Lee Moore was elected host for Junior High School and Lennie Lou Coleman was chosen as hostess, in elections held by the students Friday morning, November 13.

At the same time, Johnny Cooper was chosen parliamentarian and Marion Long was elected reporter. "We think the students of Junior High are doing their duty this year, because they have brought in 34,017 pounds of scrap, and they have bought $69.38 worth of defense stamps and bonds," representatives of the class state.

She was 22 years of age. Funeral services were conducted from the First Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Hubert Thomson, pastor. Friends gathering to pay final tribute filled the church, and floral offerings covered the altar rail.

Pallbearers for the service were Marvin Somerville, Joe Terry, Paul Bell, Lee O'Neil, J. W. Holder and Bura Handley. Flower bearers were Dora Elizabeth McClaskey, Oneta Graham, Virginia Robey, Emily McBroome, Mrs. Neil Braboy, Eula Lucas, and Mrs. Joe Terry.

Mrs. Lindsey was born at Gainesville, in Cooke County, July 27, 1920, but she had lived in Wellington since she was five years of age.

She received her education in the Wellington schools and was graduated with the class of 1937.

She was married to John Lindsey on May 9, 1941, and went with him to New York to make her home. It was there that she became ill and returned to Wellington, believing that her health could be regained in this climate.

Mrs. Lindsey was employed in the county library, the county clerk's office and the Wellington State Bank.

She was a member of the Methodist Church and took an active part in its work. She served for some time as secretary of the Sunday School.

Lieut. Moore was pilot of a Flying Fortress.

Further details of the accident are not known here. More information is expected, however, in a letter which the Adjutant General's office has notified Mr. and Mrs. Moore is to follow.

Word of their son's death reached Mr. and Mrs. Moore Thursday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock.

The young pilot was a brother of Lieut. J. M. Moore, who was decorated for gallantry recently after action in New Guinea. He is now in Australia.

Lieut. Moore had been stationed in Hawaii for about three months. He was a native of Wellington, born here September 30, 1920. All of his secondary schooling was received here, and after he completed his work with the class of 1938, he attended John Tarleton College at Stephenville, graduating in 1940.

He was selected as an aviation cadet and entered service on Dec. 17, 1941. He was already a civilian pilot.

He was given his primary training at Chickasha, Oklahoma, his basic training at Randolph Field, San Antonio, and his advanced training at Kelly Field. He graduated and received his commission on August 5.

Lieut. Moore was one of the town's most respected young men. His unassuming but friendly nature and his happy disposition won for him the friendship of people in many walks of life.

During his high school days, he was regarded as a fine athlete, and for several years he was a member of the Skyrocket football team.

His enthusiasm for flying began long before he entered the Air Corps. He enrolled for civilian pilot training and was one of the first men from this county to take active steps in preparing for the branch of service he was to enter.

The opening date of Quail School has been set up from Nov. 23 to Nov. 30, Noah Cunningham, superintendent, announced Saturday.

"We are asking the parents to cooperate with us by sending their children back to school on the opening date if that is at all possible," Mr. Cunningham continued.

During the time that school has been dismissed, considerable repair work has been done on the buildings, including the repainting of all wooden buildings.

Gasoline rationing will go into effect Tuesday, December 1, E. N. Lewis, county rationing chairman, announced early this week.

Motor vehicle owners will register for gasoline ration books Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 19, 20, and 21, the county Ration Office reminded this week. All plans and regulations announced before the change of date in rationing will be carried out.

These owners should come to the office to apply for their supplemental rationing and provision will be made to issue them temporary ration books until their certificates

Rockets Win Evenly Matched Tilt With Irish To Take District Lead

The red-coated Rockets downed the Irish Green 12 to 6 last Friday in what may have been the decisive game for the district championship, but not before the fans had seen two fairly evenly matched and spirited teams put on one of the best exhibitions of offensive and defensive football seen on the Rocket field in recent years.

Shamrock scored first in the first quarter. After two attempted drives had been stopped, the Rockets started a drive down the field but lost the ball on a fumble on their own 45 yard line. There the Irish took over and Lister plowed the line for two first downs. On the Wellington 25, Pruitt heaved a pass to Lister which was wide of the mark but the umpire ruled the pass complete due to interference with the receiver. On the Rocket 5, Pruitt faking a try for field goal, flipped a pass to Lister for the first touchdown. The try for point after touchdown failed.

Wellington came back with a rush. Lister kicked to the Wellington 5 where Thompson took the ball and behind nice blocking brought the ball back to the Rocket 30 in one of the outstanding runs of the game. After running plays by Covey, Kendrick and Melton had advanced the ball to the 50 yard marker, Melton, heavily rushed, threw a pass to Brewer for a 20 yard gain putting the ball on the Irish 30 yard line. On a naked reverse and with the Rockets doing splendid blocking to get him by the line, Kendrick made a memorable broken field run to carry the ball 30 yards for the touchdown. Wellington's try for conversion failed leaving the score tied 6 to 6 as the half ended.

At the beginning of the second half the Irish started a determined drive with Lister, Pruitt and Nolan hitting the line on power plays, but they were stopped cold in mid-field when Williams and Sisk smashed Lister at the same time causing him to lose the ball which was recovered by Sachse. After advancing the ball 37 yards, making three first downs, Melton threw a pass intended for Scott that was intercepted by Clynnch.

After making one first down and failing a second, Lister punted out on the Wellington 19 yard line to climax his outstanding punting performance of the evening. Deep in their own territory the Rockets started an 81 yard march with wide end sweeps, sneak plays through the center and a nice assortment of laterals and reverses. The payoff came when Melton went from his own 1 yard line through a hole at right tackle to cross the goal line untouched. Again the try for conversion failed, making the score 12 to 6.

The game ended soon afterward. A threatening Shamrock drive was reversed when Kendrick of the Rockets intercepted a potential touchdown pass on the 45 yard line. The Rockets took over and were making a third drive goalward when the referee's whistle ended the game.

Wellington made 15 first downs to 6 for the Irish. The Rockets gained 274 yards rushing while Shamrock gained only 85. Wellington completed two passes for 30 yards while Shamrock completed two passes for 34 yards. Shamrock intercepted one Wellington pass and Wellington intercepted one Shamrock pass.

Cotton Crop Estimate Set At 13,329,000 Bales

The Department of Agriculture reported Monday that the indicated production of cotton this year is 12,329,000 running bales, based on Nov. 1 conditions. This is in comparison with 13,818,000 bales forecast a month ago.

The production for last year was 10,774,000, while the 10 year average is 13,109,000.

Of the decrease of 489,000 from a month ago, more than two thirds occurred in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, where a considerable portion of the crop remains to be ginned. Insect infestation, heavy rainfall delaying harvesting, and scarcity of labor resulting in loss were the reasons given for the drop.

The indicated acre yield and forecast of total production in running bales, by states, include:

Missouri, yield 552 pounds and production 458,000 bales; Arkansas, 356 and 1,535,000; Louisiana, 276 and 615,000; Oklahoma, 192 and 745,000; Texas, 190 and 3,223,000; New Mexico, 500 and 137,000; Arizona, 363 and 209,000; California, 621 and 468,000.

Because of its abundance of good flight conditions and its comparatively level terrain, Texas is a natural field for both civil and military air activity.

Sheet Metal Workers Take Spotlight In War Program

Sheet metal workers take another spotlight in the war program with the cry for more skilled men "To Keep Em Flying" at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Wages for this civilian employment with the Navy is $9.12 a day.

Recruiting began today throughout Texas and Louisiana to find men with the minimum qualifications of two years experience in sheet metal trades or the equivalent in training, or four years experience as body and fender man in an auto repair shop, Paul H. Figg, regional director, 10th U. S. Civil Service Region, announced.

"We must find these men immediately," Mr. Figg said, "Determine their eligibility by civil service standards and have them on the job in 10 days."

A written civil service examination will not be required. Applicants will be rated on the basis of experience or training.

Men with the prerequisite experience and not already engaged in war work of equal skill should file an application today with the local civil service secretary at any first or second class post office or with the regional director, Tenth Civil Service Region, Customhouse, New Orleans, La.

Texas is the leading mineral producing state in the United States, Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology, asserts. In value of production, its output in 1938 exceeded that of any state by 51 per cent.

...Today's sensible top speed of 35 for patriots is a cinch for your engine, compared to unlubricated cold starting—way down at 00 miles an hour!

People in dead earnest to battle wear from the very start, are having their engines OIL-PLATED. Without using up extra moments or money, they simply change to Conoco Nth motor oil—patented. And this oil's added modern synthetic—with apparent "magnetic attraction"—closely bonds lubricant to inner engine parts. That's called OIL-PLATING because it resembles any good protective plating in not all "going elsewhere" while the car stands cold.

OIL-PLATING doesn't all quickly go draining off down to the crankcase. Oil down there in the depths is still trying to "get a move on" as the engine starts, while OIL-PLATING is already faithfully fastened clear up to the topmost piston rings. Simply because OIL-PLATING doesn't all go away, it's there ahead of time, to get ahead of rampant wear in starting cold. It's there the rest of the time, too. And so the strong liquid-type film of Conoco Nth oil is sliding between OIL-PLATED surfaces. Navy Offers Officer Training To Eligible Men

DALLAS.—The Navy is offering Texans who already have graduated from colleges, or who are pursuing courses leading to a degree, their finest opportunity to become officers, Lieutenant H. P. McBride, in charge of the Dallas branch of the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, said today.

Thirty days of indoctrinal training are necessary after enlistment. Applicants then are appointed Reserve Midshipmen and sent to school for three months additional duty, leading to their commissioning as ensigns in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Two classifications are open, Lt. McBride pointed out. In class V-7 (S) requirements have been relaxed to some extent.

For general service under the V-7 program, applicants must meet physical requirements heretofore outlined, but a special service classification has been set up under which applicants may be a minimum of five feet, four inches, have 12-20 vision correctable to 20-20; have minimum weight of 124 pounds in proportion to height and with deficient color perception permissible.

Full time juniors and seniors in recognized schools whose curriculum is directed toward a degree in the following subjects may qualify: engineering, bachelor of science, arts, education, philosophy, business administration, commercial science, journalism or laws.

Undergraduates accepted must be unmarried. Men who have completed their scholastic training, however, and are married are eligible for appointment.

Applicants may apply immediately to their nearest Navy recruiting station or the Dallas Office of Naval Officer Procurement, 1530 Allen Building. If the applicants or guardians must be obtained in writing.

Book Week Is November 15-21

Book Week was first celebrated 24 years ago, it is recalled during Book Week this year, Nov. 15 to 21. A booklet issued by Book Week headquarters brings the following interesting story of how Book Week originated and grew:

"In 1919, Franklin Mathews, Chief Scout Librarian, made the American Booksellers' Association realize how few parents cared whether their children had books or had regard for their 'quality.' Most children were given a few books at Christmas by fond uncles and aunts, without any real knowledge of their tastes. Often there were no other books in the home except those which the boys and girls bought themselves out of their allowances or earnings.

"A national campaign developed to arouse public interest in more and better books for children. All over the country, librarians, teachers, bookmen, editors, and social workers saw, in this campaign a new opportunity to plead the cause of reading for children. Book Week provided the means by which these groups could work together in their common crusade and could present it effectively to the nation.

"It was not long before its effect was felt. Many parents found their children developing a desire for a home library; learning the pride of owning; the delight of sharing; the joy of entering new worlds along the magic pathway of books.

"Naturally Book Week focuses attention on children's books for just seven days, but the enthusiasms and energies aroused spread throughout the year.

"In 1942, while we adults fight to preserve the present, it is fitting that the slogan for Children's Book Week, should be 'Forward With Books,' for 'books are weapons' and young people must be provided with mental ammunition for the future."

This year Book Week is being endorsed, supported or shared in by twenty-seven national associations, such organizations as Association for Childhood Education, American Library Association, American Booksellers' Association, Boy Scouts of America, Boys' Clubs of America, Camp Fire Girls, Inc., Child Study Association of America, 4-H Clubs (U. S. Department of Agriculture), Council on Books in Wartime, General Federation of Women's Clubs, Girl Scouts, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Jewish Welfare Board, Knights of Pythias, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, National Council of Women of the U. S., National Education Association, National Recreation Association, Office of Civilian Defense, Office of War Information (Book Section), U. S. Dept. of Labor (Children's Bureau), U. S. Office of Education, Women of the Moose, Work Projects Administration (Library Service), Writers' War Board, Young Men's Christian Association, Young Women's Christian Association.

Many Junior Chemists and Chemical Aids must be recruited for Federal service therefore, and college men and women, especially women, with appropriate chemistry training are urged to file their qualifications with the Commission.

Four years of college training with 80 semester hours in chemistry is required of applicants for the $2,000 Junior Chemist positions. Three years of college training with 24 semester hours of chemistry is required of applicants for the $1,800 Chemical Aid jobs. Applications will be accepted from senior and junior students who expect to complete the specified requirements within 4 months after filing.

There is no written test and no maximum age limit for any of these positions. Applications should be filed with the United States Civil Service Commission,

Miss Virginia King Weds Paul Wingart In Ceremony Nov. 9

Miss Virginia King, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. King of Marella, and Paul Wingart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wingart, also of Marella, were married Monday night, November 9, in the home of Rev. Vernon Jones of Salt Fork.

The ring ceremony was read in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth King and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gilbreth.

For her wedding the bride was dressed in light blue with black accessories.

Mrs. Wingart attended Quail High School and graduated in 1942. She was an outstanding player and leader of the basketball team.

The groom attended school at Marella and Quail. He is now engaged in farming in the Marella community. Both the bride and groom were reared in that community and have many friends there.

They plan to make their home at Marella.

Hospital Auxiliary Sponsor Health Work In Schools

A most successful meeting of St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary was held on Friday, November 13. Thirty-two members and guests enjoyed the interesting business meeting and social hour that followed. A Health Program was discussed and committees appointed. Movies, demonstrations and health charts are among the many features of this program.

Miss Childress, principal of East Ward School, told the members some of the health problems of that school. The Auxiliary voted to furnish paper towels and soap, for the remainder of the school year. A number of donations were generously made by the members such as a cot, mattress, pillows, sheets and blanket to insure comfort to any school child who became ill at school.

A beautifully appointed tea-table at which Mrs. Morris Wells presided and the favors of dainty Red Cross Nurses climaxed the social portion of the meeting.

Perhaps a brief resume of this past year will bring before the citizens of this county some of the many important things that have been featured by the Auxiliary during 1941 and 1942.

The Aluminum drive was sponsored and prizes offered to the Boy Scout with the largest collection to his name. A total of 500 pounds was collected. A Plasma Bank was established at the hospital in February and the Auxiliary generously donated a Frigidaire for the preservation of the Plasma. Once again as in the three past summers, diphtheria toxoid and typhoid vaccine were given to the indigent children, both white and colored, 250 in all.

During the Fall months, rummage sales were held, the money netted from this was added to the Auxiliary treasury and at Christmas time the colored children were again given their annual treat. A fifty-dollar War Bond was purchased. The Baby Club which is composed of members who are babies born at St. Joseph's and whose perpetual membership fee is used for the purchase of equipment for the nursery, have purchased two bassinets and an incubator, the latter having saved the lives of many of Collingsworth County future citizens.

The officers for 1941 were president, Mrs. Morris Wells; vice president, Mrs. Bryan Denley; treasurer and secretary, Mrs. J. W. Wells. Under their able leadership the above mentioned projects have been carried out. Much good has been accomplished and the one big aim of the Auxiliary is to help others and promote better health and better living for you and yours.

In July 1942, the new officers were elected: president, Mrs. E. W. Jones; vice president, Mrs. Kelly Pigg; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Wells. A very promising year is seen in the future by these efficient officers. Time and personal sacrifices have led to the many accomplishments of this outstanding organization and the Sisters at St. Joseph's Hospital extend hearty congratulations to the St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Peoples of Allison visited his mother, Mrs. J. W. Peoples, last week. Together, the elder Mrs. Peoples and her daughter-in-law visited Mrs. R. W. Ream in Hollis Sunday.

Cotton Vote December 12th

COLLEGE STATION.—Cotton farmers all over the South go to the polls Saturday, December 12, to vote on cotton marketing quotas.

Cotton marketing quotas have been in effect for the past five years, the growers voting each year to use quotas as a means of insuring each grower his fair share of the available market for cotton, George Slaughter, chairman, Texas AAA committee, pointed out in announcing the referendum date.

Last December 89.4 percent of the Texas growers voting favored quotas on the 1942 crop, while 93.9 percent of the growers voting over the nation favored quotas.

Slaughter indicated that because of wartime conditions, the number of ballot boxes for this year's referendum would be considerably larger than the number in previous years. This move is intended to make it possible for all growers to get to the polls despite the transportation problem and the rush of war-time food production.

Full information on the present cotton situation and the prospective demand for cotton next year will be provided farmers eligible to vote in the referendum, Slaughter said.

Sgt. Jack L. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wood, came home Friday, Nov. 14, to visit his folks for the following week. The 22-year-old army officer is currently engaged in drilling a bunch of raw recruits for the 7th Cavalry on location at Fort Bliss. "I'm liking it better all the time," said Jack concerning his horse-riding army career. He is a veteran of two year's military life and very healthy for the experience. He expects to be retained at his present job for the duration.

Tech. Sgt. Sam Lindsey spent the week end in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Lindsey. Sgt. Lindsey is stationed at Dalhart and was accompanied from Pampa by his aunt, Mrs. L. C. Vaughan, who is his mother's sister.

S. A. Combs, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Combs of Wellington, has just won the welterweight boxing championship of the U. S. Navy Station at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, according to word received here this week. In all, he fought fourteen bouts.

He is studying radio at the university, and has been maintaining a high average in classroom work during the time he has been stationed at Miami. About Dec. 15, S. A. will graduate as a Petty Officer, 3rd Class, Radioman.

He is a former employee of the Wellington Leader.

Pvt. Edward G. Claunch, who is detailed to the Corps Area Service Command on duty with the Military Police at Camp Gruber, Okla., arrived Tuesday, November 17, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Claunch. Since he enlisted four months ago, Claunch has been with his present job, which has afforded him several tough assignments. Such little details as breaking up personal combats among off-duty soldiers is an everyday routine. "I didn't like this business at first, but I'm getting to like it now. I suppose I'll be at this camp for the duration," he said.

Lt. James Young, who was born and reared in the Lutie community, was recently promoted from Second Lieutenant to First Lieutenant. He is stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Lt. Young is a graduate of Texas Tech and the Armour Institute of Technology. He and Mrs. Young, who make their home at Rolla, Mo., are the parents of a son, Wayne, born about a month ago. He is the brother of Jason Young, Mrs. Rufus Sweat and Mrs. Jack Lowry of Lutie.

With grins of real pleasure and slaps on his military-hardened shoulders, friends of Pvt. N. D. Boyd, colored, greeted him on the streets last week during his first return from duty. Pvt. Boyd, who has lived in Wellington 15 years, entered service with the army last July and is stationed at a camp near Fort Worth. "I sho like the Army," was his remark. From appearances, the army must be taking good care of Pvt. Boyd.

Olmán Sweat, who was reared in the Aberdeen community, is now in the Coast Guard, stationed at Baton Rouge, La. His duties include patrol work on the Mississippi. After leaving this county, he taught at Memphis and on the south plains.

The two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Rob Holland of Dodson are as far apart as they can be and still remain in the United States.

Lt. Truett Holland recently completed his work at a United States Army Air Corps Officers Training School at Miami Beach, Fla., and received his commission. He was then sent to McClellan Field, California, where he was stationed before he entered officer training.

Most famous member of his class at Miami Beach was Clark Gable. Dennis Holland, his younger brother, is in the Coast Guard, stationed on the Maine coast. With only a few other men, he is stationed at a light house. It's more like home than most men find in service, as they live with the light-house keeper and his wife. The latter provides them with home-cooked food.

Elwyn Brewster, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brewster, has been transferred from Camp Lee, Va., to Charleston, S. C. He's with the Quartermaster Corps of the Army. Pvt. Brewster entered service in August, and completed his basic training just before leaving Camp Lee. He wrote his parents

Hal B. Collier, who formerly worked in the mechanical department of the Wellington Leader, is now in the United States Navy, and is stationed at Treasure Island, near San Francisco. After working here for about a year, Collier went to Lamesa, where he worked on the editorial staff of the Reporter. He was regarded as a fine young newspaper man.

John R. Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hicks of Fresno, has returned to his home after having seen action as a Marine. He has been given a medical discharge due to an injury received in combat.

FORT SILL.—Private Billie Davis, 202 Bowie street, box 353, Wellington, Texas, has been promoted to the rank of Technician 5th Grade, equivalent to Corporal, in Battery "M", 18th Field Artillery, Fort Sill, Okla.

Corporal Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Davis, Wellington, Texas.

Fred Bourland, who is stationed with the U. S. Navy at San Diego, Calif., visited with his father, W. M. Bourland and his brother, Ralph Bourland, of Quail. He came to Texas to attend the funeral services of his brother, Lt. Lacy Bourland, who died recently of a heart attack.

CORPUS CHRISTI.—With elimination flight training at one of the many U. S. Naval Reserve Air Bases successfully behind them, 62 cadets from Texas have reported aboard the U. S. Naval Air Station here to begin a training course that will lead to the award of Navy wings.

Among these is Cadet Marion E. Winters of Wellington.

These men, joining cadets from 38 other states to form a new cadet class, have already demonstrated their ability to handle basic training aircraft. They will now learn the theories of aviation warfare, from radio code to cross-country trips by instrument, in the ground school phase of pilot instruction.

They will master the controls of tricky fighting planes, drop practice bombs from swift dive-bombers, follow chartered courses in long range observation scout planes, and patrol surrounding waters in massive Catalina flying boats.

After successfully completing the long course the cadets will be awarded their wings and commissions in the U. S. Naval or U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

INFORMATION

You: No? Well, I understand that the factories which used to make washing machines now have turned to war work—

Reddy: True!

You: ... and so what are we going to do when our present machine wears out?

Reddy: That's just the point! We're going to help keep 'em in good working condition—

You: But new parts are hard to get, too!

Reddy: Yes. That makes it doubly important that we take good care of the things we have.

You: But suppose my machine breaks down?

Reddy: Well, Lady, the point is, make repairs before it breaks down! Check up on your washing machine—and all other appliances—now before some essential part gives way. Call your electric fix-it man. Let him go over your appliances carefully. Then he should make repairs that will prevent breakdowns.

You: Thank you, Reddy. But suppose I can't find a repair man—many of them are in the Army, you know.

Reddy: In that case call the West Texas Utilities. Our service department has arranged to help out in emergencies!

Navy Recreation Directors Needed

DALLAS.—Men from 21 to 50, in good physical condition and with an athletic background, are eligible for commissioning in the United States Navy Reserve. They are wanted for duty at Navy Pre-Flight Schools to put future Naval pilots in top physical trim so that they can take care of themselves, not only at the controls of a bomber, but in actual hand-to-hand combat.

Lieutenant H. P. McBride, in charge of the Dallas branch of the Office of Naval Officer procurement, said prospective instructors should write his office for a questionnaire. This will be forwarded to proper channels for processing.

Under no circumstances should the candidate apply in person.

The granting of a commission itself and the rank given the successful applicant will depend entirely on educational and professional attainments, Lt. McBride said.

The requirements are:
Be disqualified for naval aviation flight training.

Have a college degree or possess the equivalent in practical experience in the field of physical education or its related activities.

Have a record of participation in athletic competition or possess special qualifications in athletic profession.

Show indication of progress in chosen field of athletics.

Present outstanding appearance and officer-like qualifications.

Be physically qualified in accordance with the minimum standards now set for special service officers.

Waivers, said Lieutenant McBride, will be asked where physical qualifications will not constitute a liability to the government or interfere with the performance of duty.

More than 450,000 passengers fly in and out of Texas airports annually.

Health News

by the Sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital

"We sometimes think," states the Staff at St. Joseph's, "that medical science would be greatly benefited by the services of a good press agent. We are making really astonishing progress along the line, yet the general public, we are sure, does not fully realize the extent of this advancement.

"Just for example, it is a fact, according to the last report of the American Committee on Maternal Welfare, that the maternal death rate has been cut from 67 per 10,000 live births in 1930, to 40 per 10,000 in 1939. This is a reduction of more than one-third in a little less than a decade, but the Committee is confident that it can be reduced to a half, or even less, through full use of modern medical, nursing and hospital facilities.

"The Committee pointed out in this report that in all of the major cities, where adequate obstetrical facilities are readily available, and proper pre-natal care can be given, the maternal death rates are well under the national average. San Francisco, to cite a specific instance, has a record of only 21 deaths per 10,000 live births, while Chicago and Philadelphia are tied with 23 per 10,000.

"It is especially significant that the death rate goes down as hospital efficiency goes up. In one modern Chicago maternity hospital, only 60 deaths occurred in 33,000 live births, or a rate of 18 per 10,000. This covers a period of ten years, with a steady reduction in the rate, reflecting improved obstetrical techniques and equipment.

"And while we do not wish to appear unduly boastful, we might say in passing that our record, here at the St. Joseph's Hospital compares most favorably with the nation's best. To 'bring them back alive' has always been our earnest endeavor."

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

Pvt. John M. Harris
Camp Crowder, Mo.
Nov. 1, 1942

Dear Deck:

I thought I would drop you a line after so long a time. I am doing very well. I have had a cold every since I have been here. The weather changes so much here. It is cold one minute and hot the next. I am doing very well in my school work. I am practicing on 7 words a minute now. I guess I will earn it, if it doesn't drive me nuts instead. We go to school seven hours a day and drill one hour.

I was walking down the street with Boyd Derryberry today and heard someone holler at me. And you could have pushed me over with a feather when I saw who it was. It was none other than Jack Brisbin. I talked to him for a while. He sure is looking fine. He said his wife had been here three weeks and that she left for home today.

I got The Leader today, and do enjoy reading the news back home. There are three other boys here from Collingsworth County with me. Two of them are in the same school that I am in. I wrote to Cecil W. Cummings about two weeks ago and got a letter from him last week. I guess I had better close for it is getting almost time for chow.

I want to express my appreciation to you and Dr. Jones for making it possible for me to get the Wellington Leader. I thank you all.

As ever,

Johnny.

P. S.—I haven't got but three copies of The Leader since you started sending it to me. I got it the first week, third week and fifth week.

New Guinea, 10-14-42

Mr. Deskins Wells,
Wellington, Texas,
Dear Mr. Wells:

Just received your letter of Aug. 22. I am glad indeed that Dr. E. W. Jones is making it possible for me to receive the Leader.

It sure helps to read about the home folks.

We find life on this side of the world pretty rugged.

Thanks for everything.

Cpl. E. M. Davis.

November 4, 1942

Dear Deck:

Please change my address again. I realize that it is a job to be continuously changing my address, but I would still like to get the Leader, if possible. I have received only one paper since I had my address changed the last time, but that is not your fault I am sure.

I am now going to a school sponsored by the Douglas Aircraft Co. at Santa Monica, Calif., and am studying about the A-20 airplane. I really like the school and we are really treated swell here. Some of the boys say that they can hardly believe that they are still in the army. It is a lot different from Sheppard Field or any other camp.

A friend,

Eules L. Hively.

4170 Drexel Blvd.

Chicago, Illinois,

Nov. 13, 1942

Dear Deck:

After traveling around for the last three weeks, I have finally settled down—for a while at least.

I am going to school in Chicago. I am at the Army Code School, Illinois Institute of Technology. Here we learn the receiving and sending of the International and Morse codes. It is very interesting to study, I think. We also learn radio repair.

They traveled for what seemed like blocks, Right in between some great big rocks. "Hey, Duncy, faster, faster, lad," Cried Dotty, "or 'twill be too bad."

He coaxed his horse ahead so fast That he caught Scouty's steed at last. "Gee, this is thrilling," Goldy cried. "Brave Duncy sure knows how to ride."

The Totties shortly cried "Hur-ray." A bullfrog joined them in their play. Then Shrimpy shouted, "Let Buil jump. He'll show you that he is no chump."

Sgt. Leo Redding
88th Guard Sqdn.
San Bernardino, Calif.

Dear Deck and Readers of the Leader:

Well, here it is Armistice Day of World War I and I am trying to do my part in helping to win World War II, and wondering when the next Armistice Day will be.

I have been stationed here in San Bernardino just a little over seven months and have watched a bare sandy field grow into one of the world's largest Mobile Air Depots. We were stationed in public buildings in the city until about three weeks ago when we moved two miles out of the city to the most modern field in the world, and also the largest.

We still maintain our main office in town, as it is necessary to carry on operations where most of our work is located.

Some people think because we are not on the front lines in battle that we don't have an important job, but if the war ever comes to our shores, then we will have the most important job in the army and I believe we will be prepared to carry out our mission.

Well, I would like to see all the folks back home but I don't see much chance of getting back there till this is all over.

It still seems like summer time here during the day, though there has been quite a bit of snow up in the mountains and it is really cold at night. I can't even begin to describe the wonders of the San Bernardino Valley and the beautiful mountains which surround it.

Well, I am on duty and pretty busy, so will close for this time. Yours truly, Leo Redding.

There are more than 23,000 miles of designated and maintained highway in Texas, about three-fourths of which can be classed as all-weather roads.

Watch Health Hazards Of Child

AUSTIN.—In discussing seasonal health hazards for young children today, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, stated that babies and young children need as careful protection now against winter complaints as they do in hot summer weather against "summer complaint."

Influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, and asthma are included among those diseases which may be dangerous winter illnesses among young children since they affect the respiratory or breathing system. Such diseases as pneumonia may develop from a neglected cold, they may follow as an after-effect of measles or whooping cough, or they may occur suddenly and with very little warning. These diseases of the respiratory system are more prevalent in winter than in summer and are much more difficult to combat than digestive ailments such as summer complaint.

"These winter diseases are particularly dangerous to babies and young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread through the secretions from the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints and the first line of defense," Dr. Cox cautioned, "is to strengthen the powers of resistance against disease; the second is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure they avoid contact with others who have coughs, colds, or fevers."

In spite of the great size of Texas, and the sparse population in large areas, which make highway improvement expensive, Texas has one of the outstanding highway systems of the country.

Meet 'em and Know 'em

The insignia of storekeeper and that of Chief Commissary Stewards, though very similar, are easily distinguishable. In the first place, they represent very different branches of the Navy.

The illustration picturing two keys, one across the other, shows the emblem displayed on the sleeve of a sailor who belongs to the Supply Department. There are four ratings for this group—3rd, 2nd and 1st Class Storekeepers and Chief Storekeeper, with salaries ranging from $78.00 to $138.00. They are charged with a ship's storeroom and attend to all the details of stock. They issue and account for clothing and other supplies. There is bookwork and manual labor in this job and an ordinary freight clerk, warehouseman or property accountant should know pretty well what the work is like.

On the other hand, there is only one Chief Commissary Steward on a ship. As the emblem would indicate, he carries the keys to a ship's galley, or kitchen. There is a quill pen in the de-sign to denote the wearer's bookkeeping duties. He is in charge of buying, storing and preparing food for hungry gobs. A ship's cooks and bakers are under his supervision. Salary, $138.00.

Save Leaves For Compost

Fallen leaves, dead grass and other vegetation about the place is Nature's plant food in the making. Don't burn it, says Rose Erisman, Home Demonstration Agent. Save all vegetation and make it into a compost. Composted vegetation improves the texture of the soil and prevents it from becoming hard and crusty. The more compost added to the soil the better. It is especially helpful in maintaining high quality in growing vegetables.

In making compost, prepare a simple frame enclosure, then put down a layer of lawn trimmings, weeds, or other vegetative matter and cover with a thin layer of dirt. Add water if the material is dry. Let the pile remain for about 10 days or two weeks then fork it so that the portion at the bottom will be on the top. After two or three spadings the heat will have disappeared and the material then is ready for use. The decaying process will destroy the fertility of weed seeds.

Compost has sufficient nitrogen, especially if a little barnyard manure is mixed with it. But it likely will be deficient in phosphorus and potash. In order to supply adequate plant food, Miss Erisman suggests mixing the phosphorus with the compost and plowing or spading it six or eight inches into the soil. Additional nitrogen and potash can be applied just prior to sowing the seed.

Issuing bonds locally for highway building in Texas was given its first impetus by an act of a special session of the Legislature permitting subdivision of counties for road improvement purposes.

Last Rites For Former County Citizen

By MRS. J. L. LIGHT
Album G. Rountree, long-time resident of Collingsworth County, died at his home in Marysville, Calif., Monday, October 26. He had made his home there the past six years.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Baptist Church in Marysville Friday, October 30, with Rev. J. S. Hasselblad, pastor of the Baptist Church of Yuba City, Calif., in charge. Pallbearers were his six surviving sons, including Reuben Rountree of Amarillo, Tracy Rountree and Ernest Rountree of Marysville, Calif., Jesse Rountree and Burgess Rountree of Littlefield and Joe Rountree of Lutie. Burial was made in the Marysville Cemetery.

Album G. Rountree was born in Collin County, Texas, April 5, 1865, and at the time of his death he was 77 years, 6 months and 25 days of age. He married Miss Maggie E. Brock on December 27, 1891 and moved to Collingsworth County in 1892, making the trip in a covered wagon. The couple settled near a place once called Arch Springs in what is now Roundup community. Texas Harbors No Surplus Of Farm Labor

AUSTIN.—Texas has no surplus farm labor and in fact has unfilled orders for 17,500 farm workers, Jim Bond, state director of the United States Employment Service asserts.

Bond spoke in refutation of a statement that Texas farmers wanted to retain laborers rather than release some to farmers in other states.

Bond asserted his service had made 500,000 placements on farms this year and the impression probably had been gained that Texas harbored a surplus of agriculture workers.

The opposite is true, he added, because available laborers, relatively large in number, is needed in the harvest of big crops. Approximately 200,000 migratory farm workers are listed in Texas and in addition many nonagricultural workers have gone into the fields this year to harvest crops.

"No one has told us that cotton picking in Mississippi is more important than cotton picking in Texas," Bond observed.

He emphasized that Texas has sent many skilled workers to other states, including Oregon, California and Utah and asserted that because the state had been reasonably successful in harvesting crops in the face of adverse conditions there was an impression Texas had a larger supply of agricultural workers than needed.

Texas' first state park was Mother Neff Park, 8 miles southwest of McGregor.
