Backers For Material Aid Gaining Support

Relief Would Be In Items, Not Dollars

Truman To Lay His Plan Before Solons Monday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (AP)—Bi-partisan support appeared to be forming among lawmakers today to fix in material terms of available bushels of wheat and other commodities—rather than in dollars—any emergency aid to Europe.

President Truman will lay his $597,000,000 program for stop-gap relief for France, Italy and Austria before the opening session of Congress Monday, along with suggested means of halting the rise in the cost of living at home.

He is to appear in person, at a joint session of the Senate and House, at 12:30 p. m. (CST) and his message will be broadcast to the nation. He spent a considerable part of today on writing it, the White House reported, and had no formal appointments.

Mr. Truman in his stopgap aid message also is expected to outline at least the broad aspects of a long-range European recovery program that Secretary of State Marshall has estimated will cost from $16,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 in the next four years.

Details on this are expected to be forthcoming in a separate message to be submitted later to the special session, although the Administration apparently has no hope of action on the long range program until next year.

Several lawmakers have gulped at the size of Marshall's figures and some from both parties said they think it may be much wiser for the United States to let Europe know in terms of specific commodities, such as wheat, coal, oil, fertilizer and machinery what it reasonably can expect to receive.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) told a reporter he hopes that Congress will be furnished with concrete figures on the available supply of such commodities before it makes any specific promises of aid.

"Telling them we are going to appropriate a certain number of dollars doesn't mean anything unless, for instance, the wheat is available," he declared. "We can't give them wheat that doesn't exist and we can't send so much abroad that we bring about wild inflation at home that will destroy our economy."

Reviewing The

Big Spring -Week-

Joe Pickle

If everything pans out, 1948 should be a banner construction year here. Added to the prospect of the Veterans Administration hospital is a major addition to the Southwestern Bell Telephone building here which will about double its size. These, plus some others, are calculated to produce still more buildings.

When Pat Duncan recently finished the electrician's school at San Diego, Calif., he took up a record which should be cause for pride not only for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Duncan, but the community and schools. His 98.14 rating was an all time high for the school. Pat was a vocational student in high school, being in the Tail class and working for E&T Electric.

Another major project taking shape in this area is a big pipeline. Crews have cleared right of way from the west county line to US 87 on the south and have launched tunneling operations under paved roads. Headquarters for the work are at two warehouses at the bombardier school area.

Luck continues to ride with us on traffic mishaps. At least half a dozen occurred in and near here during the past week, two of them during the spell of weather Thursday evening. Unless the law of averages will catch up with us on the fatality column one of these days.

Whether the state pharmacy board will conduct any of its examinations here remains to be seen.

Withdrawal Asked On Probe 'Charge'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (AP)—Howard Hughes demanded today that Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) withdraw what Hughes called an "implied challenge" that there was fraud and corruption in the millionnaire planemaker's wartime contracts.

Evidence still locked within the files of the Senate investigating committee, Hughes said, will prove he "was telling the truth" in denying he took part in anything crooked.

His outburst came as the committee ended its public hearings on the $40,000,000 Hughes contracts.

Ferguson, chairman of a war investigating subcommittee which has been looking into Hughes' contracts for photo planes for the Air Force and for a huge flying boat, quickly denied that he or other senators had reached any conclusions in the case.

The senator also promised Hughes that all evidence in the committee's files will get a public airing next week.

And, Ferguson promised a sequel to Hughes' hearings by saying the committee will go further into the financial situation and aircraft manufacturer connections of Bennett E. Meyers, retired war officer.

The final days of the Hughes hearings brought these developments:

1. Ira C. Eaker, retired deputy commander of the Air Forces, said that testimony by the balding, loud-speaking Meyers about buying aircraft company stock for Eaker during the war was "either untrue or misleading."

2. Neil McCarthy, attorney and Hughes company official during the war years, testified he is convinced Meyers tried to "shake down" Hughes for a loan while the general was handling plane contracts for the Air Forces.

Approximately 100 parents turned out Thursday evening to participate in a visitation program at the high school. Parents, apparently interested in meeting teachers and learning about educational methods, went through class schedules followed by their children. Teachers called upon them in recitation, and when they lagged behind in the halls, they were hustled off to the office for tardy slips. Around 150 took part in a social hour in the cafeteria afterwards.

Ginning Figures Show Slump Here

Cotton ginning figures slumped considerably during the past week, but the decrease might be considered moderate in view of weather conditions.

Gins in Big Spring handled 1,205 bales, a decrease of approximately 600 bales from figures of the previous week. However, the season's total for five gins moved up to 12,775, which boosted estimates for the entire county to around 26,500 bales.

Thursday night rains brought harvest work to a virtual halt temporarily, but the moisture apparently caused little damage to crops remaining in the fields. Many farmers had crews on the job again Saturday, and some of them reported that they still had considerable harvest work yet to be completed.

U. N. Assembly Votes Europe '48 Meeting

Decision Is Subject To Review Later

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—The United Nations assembly voted today to hold its 1948 meeting somewhere in Europe but the decision was subject to final review when next year's budget is considered.

The vote was 32 to 17 with Russia, the United States and France supporting the temporary move across the Atlantic. Britain spearheaded the opposition.

Today's ballot came on a joint Franco-Swedish resolution that the session be held at a city in Europe to be selected by a nine-nation committee and required only a simple majority for passage.

Geneva, Paris and Brussels have been mentioned as possibilities.

However, Britain made it clear that she would continue the fight against the move when the budget comes up for decision next week. Under U. N. rules, budgetary matters require a two-thirds vote for approval and the proposal would be defeated later unless it gained additional support. Under today's vote, the plan was just short of the necessary two-thirds.

Most of the debate centered around increased costs which U. N. officials estimated would be approximately $1,000,000 more. The figures were $961,679 for New York; $1,863,554 for Geneva, and $2,009,554 for any other city in Europe.

Other U. N. developments:

1. Meeting at Lake Success, the assembly's 57-nation political committee continued debate on India's "Jim Crowism" charges against South Africa. One proposal would have India, South Africa enter direct negotiations and if these failed to refer the issue to the international court of justice. India charged South Africa last year with discrimination against Indians but South Africa contended that the situation was an internal affair and the U. N. had no right to order negotiations.

2. The long-awaited partition plan for Palestine, complete with suggested methods of enforcement, was expected to be ready early next week. Also ready for consideration will be a counter proposal from the Arabs for creation of one independent Arab nation to replace the British mandate in the Holy Land.

TEXAS BIG GAME HUNTING OPENS TODAY WITH A MILLION BANGS

By The Associated Press

The Texas big game hunting season opens today (Sunday) with a million bangs as thousands of sportsmen seek their 1947 limit of deer, bear and wild turkey.

A statewide survey by the Associated Press indicated that a record-breaking number of hunters will turn out. Game is more plentiful than it has been for years. Some points, however, report a shortage of ammunition.

The weather man has co-operated with a forecast of clear, chilly weather. No rain is predicted.

Open season on deer, bear and wild turkey starts November 15 and closes December 31. West of the Pecos, the season opens November 19 and lasts through November 24.

The bag limit on deer and turkey is two each. West of the Pecos, the bag limit is one mule deer and one white tail.

Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the game commission, asked hunters to be careful and not set woods and brushlands on fire.

An estimated 30,000 deer and turkey hunters are expected to open the season in the 16 Hill Country counties, San Angelo reported.

Royal Wedding Will Revive Some Of Old-Time Pageantry, Splendor

LONDON, Nov. 15. (U.P.)—The wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten next Thursday will bring back to this bomb-scarred capital of an economically embattled empire something of the traditional state splendor which the war interrupted.

Nearly 30 members of foreign royalty—not all of them occupying thrones today—will attend the ceremony along with diplomats, cabinet ministers, prime ministers of British dominions and members of the nobility. The occasion recalls the last great royal show, the coronation of King George VI and his queen in May, 1937.

It will be the first marriage of an heirless to the British throne since Charlotte Augusta, daughter of George IV, and Leopold of Saxe-coburg were wed in 1816. Charlotte Augusta died before reaching the throne. Queen Victoria, Britain's last woman monarch, was already a queen at the time of her marriage.

Of the millions filling London on the wedding day only some 2,000—the invited guests—will attend the ceremony in Westminster Abbey.

Bidden to the wedding are King Haakon of Norway; King Frederick and Queen Ingrid of Denmark; Queen Frederika of Greece; King Mihai of Romania and his mother, Queen Helen, who arrived in Britain in the monarch's private plane today; former Queen Victoria Eugenie of Spain; former Queen Marie and former King Peter of Yugoslavia and his consort, Alexandra; Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf and Crown Princess Louise of Sweden; Princess Juliana and Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands; and Prince Charles, regent of Belgium.

TO HELP EUROPE

Generous Texans Bulge Aid Train

By The Associated Press

Warm-hearted Texans responded generously to pleas for food for hungry Europe and Monday or Tuesday the Southwest Friendship Train will leave Fort Worth bulging with dried and canned edibles.

Scores of towns contributed, and it has been predicted the total Texas donations might fill 20 freight cars. Railroads are moving them free of charge.

Included in the contributions are canned milk, rice, dried beans, wheat, citrus and pineapple juice, blackeyed peas and other easily-shipped non-perishable items.

The Southwest Friendship Train is scheduled to leave Fort Worth over the Santa Fe railway, and travel north through Oklahoma and Kansas, picking up donations from those areas.

It will proceed to Chicago, and then be moved by the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad to Washington.

A complete list of towns contributing has not been compiled, but includes Dallas, Lubbock, Big Spring, Columbus, Galveston, Carizo Springs, Amarillo, Lufkin, Longview, Port Arthur, Andrews, Crane, Taylor, Goose Creek, Midland, Childress, Brownfield, Brownwood, Victoria, Wichita Falls, Brownsville, Houston, Beaumont, San Antonio, Uvalde, Odessa, Denton, Corpus Christi, La Grange, Rosenberg, Fort Worth, Garrison, Liberty, Seguin, Georgetown, Los Fresnos, Conroe, Galena Park, Humble and Waco.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester contributed a case of blackeyed peas, which will be sent with state employees' donations.

At Houston, loading began Friday. Chairman Paul Burton listed among food gifts there 200 barrels of rice from "a Houston citizen," half a car of canned pineapple juice from Victoria, a solid car of dried beans from Liberty.

Rome Is Gripped In Sudden Strike

ROME, Nov. 15. (AP)—Riotous fighting swept the southern Italian city of Cerignola tonight, with at least five persons reported killed and many wounded, and a sudden transportation strike tied up Rome as the leftist assault on Premier Alcide De Gasperi's government leaped from city to city on a nation-wide scale.

Reinforcements of armored cars, police and troops were rushed to Cerignola, near Foggia, where demonstrators were said to have gained control of the main square.

The interior ministry said it had received word that the mob had attacked the police barracks there with machinegun-fire and hand grenades. The assistant police chief was gravely wounded and three carabinieri and a police agent were slightly wounded.

There are "numerous dead" in the city, the Rome newspaper Momentosera reported. It added that the roads into Cerignola were blocked and telegraph and telephone lines were cut. A general strike also gripped Cerignola, where many members of the U. S. 15th Air Force lived during the war.

Dispatches from the city said the milling demonstrators attacked the headquarters of De Gasperi's Christian Democratic (Catholic) party and wrecked the offices of the democracy of labor and of the university association. The disorders began last night.

Il Giornale D'Italia said there were five known dead in Cerignola, bringing to at least 10 the number of persons killed in Italian political disorders during the past week.

By nightfall the reinforced police were reported making some headway toward restoring order. Il Giornale D'Italia said that at noon the only vehicle allowed to circulate freely in the city was a truck flying a white flag which picked up "a harvest of dead and wounded." The newspaper said the entire region of Puglia, in which Cerignola is situated, was "in tumult."

The street car and bus workers union called the transportation strike to protest the arrest of a street car conductor during a leftist raid on an anti-communist meeting of Italian war veterans. The police identified the conductor as a communist.

Rome's chamber of labor met to discuss calling a general strike, but its decision was not known immediately. Meanwhile, the government was reported seeking to had off the threat by receiving leaders of the Italian general confederation of labor tonight at the Viminale, a government building. The confederation subsequently announced that the transportation strike would end at midnight.

Progress Made In Fund Drive

With one division of the three-pronged campaign already in action and two others due to swing into stride before the end of the week, the Howard County Community Fund campaign was progressing at the end of the week toward gathering of funds for a $38,000 budget.

The big gifts committee headed by Dr. R. B. G. Cowper and G. H. Hayward had received supplies and was putting workers in the field at the end of the week. Cards were being made ready to distribution to special gifts workers Monday, and by the latter part of the week the general campaign to carry the fund drive to other donors will be shaped up.

K. H. McGibbon and Lewis Price head the special gifts division while Joe Pickle is chairman of the general canvass.

Covered in the centralized campaign are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, YMCA and a five per cent plus item for financing permanent organization for the Community Fund. Charter has been issued for the organization, controlled and operated by the donors. It has an executive board, a budget committee and other units to pass upon requests and exercise general control. Also in the campaign is approximately five per cent for the maintenance of an AA home, but no part of this is for program.

Plan of the campaign is to raise roughly one-third of the total amount from each of the three divisions. General Chairman Ira L. Thurman expressed hope that workers would complete their work quickly and that residents would respond generously to the centralized appeal so that the drive could be out of the way before the end of November.

RED THREAT

French Head Calls Meet Of Leaders

PARIS, Nov. 15. (U.P.)—Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier today called a series of important meetings of political leaders for this weekend in an effort to strengthen his middle-of-the-road government as a "third force" to meet the rising threat of communist violence on the left and De Gaulle opposition on the right.

The call went out after the communists had presented a grave new threat to the government by ordering "action of the popular masses" against cabinet decrees raising gas, electricity and railroad rates, and had stirred riotous trouble in Marseille. Industrial sections in France's largest city were 80 per cent strike-bound.

The strike was extended today to Nice where dock workers walked out on instructions from Marseille union headquarters.

Highspot of the weekend conferences scheduled by Ramadier is to be a "political luncheon" tomorrow.

The premier's aides said the luncheon list would include: President Vincent Auriol, who is reported by some politicians to be determined not to allow Gen. Charles De Gaulle to have the premiership; Ramadier, Leon Blum and Party Secretary Guy Mollet, all socialists; Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, Parliamentary Leader Robert LeCourt, and Pierre-Henri Teitgen, minister of the armed forces, representing the Popular Republicans (MRP); Edouard Herriot, and Deputy Vincent Badie, representing the radical-socialists; and Marcel Rociore, minister of agriculture, and Deputy Rene Coty, representing the Independent Republicans.

All have been working together since the municipal elections of Oct. 28 to set up a strong "third force" to oppose the communist and De Gaulle giants on either side.

Young Demos Hit Taft-Hartley Law

CELVELAND, Nov. 15. (U.P.)—Immediate repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law was advocated today by young Democrats of the nation at the closing meeting of their annual convention.

A labor resolution favoring that stand was passed by a voice vote after Arthur Haffalin, Minneapolis delegate to the meeting of the young Democratic clubs of America, insisted on an amendment including the repeal provision.

Delegates, after a heated verbal battle, turned down another resolution which would have endorsed Federal legislation relating ownership of tidelands by the states.

The California delegation split on the proposal, which was strongly backed by Texas and several other states.

The convention elected Roy G. Baker, 33, a Sherman Tex., lawyer, to succeed Joe C. Carr, of Nashville, Tennessee secretary of state, as president of the YDCA.

ROBBERY INVESTIGATED

ROSEBUD, Nov. 15. (U.P.)—Federal, state and county officers continued an investigation tonight of the daring night robbery of safety deposit boxes in the First National Bank here early Friday.

seen, but the business meeting here last week afforded Shine Phillips, a member, an opportunity to show the modern facilities available at Howard County Junior College.

Time is short, so if you want to have a part in the Friendship Train donations, mail your check today to The Herald. It will be turned over to the Lions club and converted into commodities which can be shipped overseas. But this must be done at once in order to make connections.

City and school officials have entered discussions over the possibility of a land swap which would clear the way for Goliad street paving and a beginning on an urban park. Money is the key to the matter, and always will be. It's encouraging to see the possibility of a start, however.

Postmaster Nat Shick reports a better response from patrons along the mail extension routes in the city. If more and more erect boxes and call for the home service, it will be clinched. Already it is proving popular to those who are utilizing it.

Rain during the past week was sort of inconclusive. It sided small grain and cover crops momentarily and may sprout a few winter weeds. In neither case was it sufficient to guarantee long growth.

Although soil conservation week has past, this thought should be injected. The simplest and most economical approach to water reserves and flood control is through conservation measures to fields and pastures. Everybody gains at that point.

WEST TEXAS OIL

Shallow Pay Seen In Two Counties

By John B. Brewster

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 15.—Completion of a shallow discovery producer each in southeastern Reagan county and southeastern Crane county were in prospect at the week's close. Important completions included a quarter mile south extension to Ellenburger production in the Dollarhide multiple-pay field; most southwesterly in Andrews county, and the third well in the Midway Lane (Ellenburger) field in northeastern Crockett county.

Continental No. 1-B-8 University in Reagan county, C SE NW 8-49-U, swabbed 20 barrels of oil in 24 hours from the San Andres lime, bottomed at 2,465 feet, and continued testing. It is 1 1/2 miles west-southwest of the Barnhart (Ellenburger) field and six miles south-east of Big Lake.

Lion Oil Co. No. 1 G. H. Cowden, Southeastern Crane county wildcat C NW NW 14-X-CCSD&RG-NG, prepared to pump after swabbing oil naturally at the rate of 1 1/4 barrels hourly from the Grayburg through casing perforations at 2,735-75 feet. It failed in the Devonian in drilling to 8,575 feet and plugged back to 2,810. The well is three miles southwest of the nearest Grayburg production, in the McCamey field.

Gulf No. 1 E-A Connell in Crane county, C NW SW 26-B22-psl, flowed 178 barrels of oil in two hours and six minutes on a drill-stem test of the Silurian from 8,349-95, 8,395-8,425 feet, and drilled ahead.

Sinclair Prairie and Atlantic No. 3-66 University, west offset to the same companies' opener of the Midway Lane field in Crockett county, flowed 136.7 barrels of oil the last half of a six-hour gauge to rate 1,093.6 barrels daily for completion. The gauge was through a half inch tubing choke from open-hole pay at 7,605-7,623 feet, with 125 feet of pay cased off. The well is in the C SE NW 30-46-U, diagonal southwest offset to No. 2-66 University, the second well. Gulf started a 1,000-foot south-east offset to Byrd and Frost and Gulf No. 1 Mayberry-Tippett, discovery Wolfcamp produced in the panhandle of northwestern Crockett county, which was finished last week with a daily flowing potential of 1,391.04 barrels of oil from a 6,325-40 feet. The outcrop is No. 1 J. H. Tippett, 3,300 from the northeast.

666 feet from the northwest line of section 40-31-H&TC.

Prospective opener of southeastern Sutton county's second Strawn lime pool, Olson and Wahlenmaier No. 1 Arthur Stuart headed four to six barrels of fluid, mostly oil, when opened after standardizing. Loss of a swab in heavy mud delayed testing. Earlier, the wildcat swabbed 55.29 barrels of oil in 18 hours from open hole at 4,135-75 feet. It is in the C SW SE 68-7-TW&NG.

Slick-Urschel No. 1 Plymouth-D. L. Alford, Ellenburger gas and distillate strike in eastern Upton county in section 50-4-Y-F. B. Scott, failed in two attempts to drillstem test and drilled ahead below 11,820 feet.

Quarter mile south extension to Dollarhide Ellenburger production in Andrews county, Magnolia No. 5-DD-B E. P. Cowden and others was finished from 1,094-124 feet with a natural daily flowing potential of 1,320 barrels of oil. It is in the C NE NW 4-A55-psl.

Phillips Petroleum staked No. 1-T University, staked 9,500-foot wildcat in Andrews, C NE SW 36-13-U, 1 1/4 miles south and quarter mile west of Sinclair Prairie's opener of the Shafter Lake Devonian field. Frank Frankel and George Frankel of Houston spotted No. 1-C University C SW SW 25-13-U, half mile south and quarter mile west of the discovery, to explore 12,000 feet if the Devonian is dry.

Union of California will drill No. 1-A J. D. Biles C NW NW 9-A31-psl, one mile north of the Union (lower Permian) field in Andrews, to 7,500 feet to test the Union pay. If dry there, it may continue to around 8,500 to test the Devonian.

Ellenburger production in the TXL multiple-pay field in Ector county was extended a quarter mile north by Texas No. 3-F TXL, C SW NW 38-45-10-T&P, with a natural daily flowing potential of 733 barrels from 9,750-9,826 feet. Edw. C. Lawson staked No. 2-A W. T. Coble in Hockley county three-quarters of a mile southwest of his No. 1-A Coble, west extension to the Levelland field, 1,715 from the south, 440 feet from the west line of labor 35-06-Hockley CSL.

Honolulu was due to start today a slated 3,000-foot wildcat in Hockley county, No. 1 L. C. Hewitt, 510 feet out of the southwest corner of labor 25-714-State Capitol Lands, Abney Taylor subdivision, abstract 216.

Curbs, Gutters On Dallas Street Are Nearly Finished

Street department workers hope to complete installation of curbs and gutters on the last block of the Dallas street paving project early next week, city officials reported Saturday. All other curbing has been in place for several days, and forms have been set up for the last segment. Caliche base materials also have been moved to the site for all but the last block.

St. Mary's Auxiliary Plans Meeting Today

The Women's Auxiliary of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church will hold an all-day meeting today to work on the bazaar scheduled for Friday. The gathering will last from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. A covered dish luncheon will be served.

Stanton Books Regional Girls Cage Tourney

STANTON, Nov. 15.—With 14 teams already pledged to enter, a minimum of 16 teams appeared certain for the West Texas Girls Basketball tournament slated for here Dec. 4, 5 and 6. H. G. Hambrick, school superintendent and high school girls basketball coach said today.

Top ten teams from Texas schoolgirl ranks, including four contestants, in last year's state finals, have indicated they would participate. In addition, several other entries have prospects of teams able to mix it on even terms with those boasting strong records last season.

In addition to Stanton, a finalist in last year's tournament, Friona, Aledo, and Colorado City, which participated in the state eliminations, are lined up. Sundown, White Face, Union and Hermleigh, also down as contestants, are accounted to be plenty salty on the courts. Other probable entries are Meadow, Knott, Ackerly, Sterling City, Coahoma, and Rankin, some of whom may surprise.

Hambrick said that L. C. McKamie, Hillsboro, state director of girls basketball, hoped to be on hand for the tourney. To expedite the first round on Dec. 4, play will be held in the Courtney as well as the Stanton gym. Second round and semi-final games are slated for the afternoon and evening of Dec. 5, with the finals and consolation finals on Dec. 6.

In addition to awards for the champions and runners-up, there will be awards for consolation and runner-up consolation, said Hambrick. An all-tournament team will be selected and gold basketballs presented to those named.

Right Claimed To Segregated Schools

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. (AP)—The state's constitutional right to provide separate educational facilities for Negro and white students was claimed by the state today to be the sole question remaining in the suit of Herman Marion Sweatt, Houston Negro, seeking to compel by court action his admission to the University of Texas. Based on that contention, the attorney general filed the state's answer in the case this morning in the third court of civil appeals where oral arguments have been set for Jan. 14.

Other crops remained unchanged.

College Youth Are Equally Delinquent As Other Groups

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15 (AP)—College students indulge in the same juvenile delinquency offenses as boys and girls who do not have the opportunity for higher education, but only a few of them ever get into court, says Austin L. Porterfield of the department of sociology of Texas Christian University.

Writing in the Christian-Evangelist, a national weekly publication of the Disciples of Christ, he cites a study of 2,049 alleged delinquents in Fort Worth, and of 337 college students in three schools in northern Texas.

"It is a striking fact," says Porterfield, "that 100 per cent of the men and women in college reported doing at least one of the acts that had been serious enough to get less fortunate boys and girls into the courts, but instead of getting into court the former went to college."

The average college man reported doing in his pre-college days 17.5 per cent of the delinquent acts. Not one acknowledged less than three kinds of delinquent acts.

Specific juvenile offenses which got into the court records varied all the way from shooting spit-wads to murder.

Students, answering questionnaires anonymously, freely reported delinquencies of the same kind. "Moreover, the college students' delinquencies, though probably not as frequently indulged, were as serious as those of children brought into court."

These students in their pre-college days "disturbed church, turned in false fire alarms, tripped trolleys, threw rocks at cars, set off fireworks in public buildings, drove while intoxicated, stole automobiles, bicycles, money, shop-lifted, burglarized houses, forged checks, gambled, passed slugs and bad coins, had premarital sexual intimacies, attempted rape, and so on."

Thirty-nine per cent of the men and three per cent of the girls reported drunkenness before enrolling in college, Porterfield disclosed, and 43 per cent of the men indulged in drunkenness during their college days.

One in 10 reported shoplifting before college, and one in 20 after entering college.

Sixty per cent of the men reported premarital sexual intimacies, compared with nine per cent for women, the rate shown in studies by various other colleges and universities, Porterfield said.

Chiefly, the children who do get into court are there because somebody complained about them.

A great part of adults' conflicts with youth grows out of what Porterfield chooses to call the peevishness, impatience, irresponsibility, and in many cases criminalistic attitudes of complainants.

Parents do not bear the sole responsibility, however, Porterfield observes.

Of 1,400 juvenile court cases, 120 were the result of parents' complaints, 1,280 were by merchants, policemen, and schools, and were classed by Porterfield as petty, peevish and criminalistic.

Porterfield concludes that pre-college students do not suffer the penalties of these offenses because they have plenty of persons who "go to bat" for them, friends in the home, school, church and community.

U. S. Increases Its Military Aides In Greece

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—The United States is enlarging its advisory military mission in Greece at the request of the Greek government, the Army announced Friday.

The present advisory staff of 82 men and officers will be increased by about 90 officers and 80 enlisted men, a formal announcement by Secretary of the Army Royall disclosed.

The augmented mission, intended to help Greek forces assemble and use equipment being sent them under the "Truman Doctrine" plan for the Greek government's fight against guerrilla forces, will furnish advice to Greek Army components down to the level of divisions, Royall said.

Army officials told reporters that none of the American officers will serve in command capacities. Authorities here consider it essential that Greece bring the guerrilla fighting under control before it can undertake an effective recovery program.

Speaker Says Government Not In Oil Business

HOUSTON, Nov. 15 (AP)—Oscar L. Chapman, under secretary of the interior, in addressing the Chicago convention of the American Petroleum Institute this week was concerned primarily with the subject of fine nation's fuel needs and demands for government controls but he included a remark that appears significant in the battle over the Federal government's status in the control of submerged tidelands.

Chapman said: "The government does not produce oil or make or distribute products, nor should it."

There was no mention of the tidelands question but it is interesting to note such a comment coming from a department of interior spokesman.

Chapman made his remark while predicting the oil industry will be unable to meet the nation's fuel needs this winter and that demands for government controls will return.

Chapman said, he is opposed to government controls "as a matter of policy and on the grounds of practicality."

Ample gas reserves are available in southwestern fields to supply foreseeable demands of the Trans-Continental Pipeline Co., Inc., and the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., representatives of the firm testified before a Federal Power Commission Examiner in Washington yesterday.

Trans-Continental, which is seeking authorization of a new line from south Texas to New York City, estimated total reserves in the Conoco-Driscoll field in Duval county to be 71,000,000,000 cubic feet and 1,500,000,000,000 cubic feet in the Gloria field in Wells and Brooks counties.

Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. representatives testified the firm has available in the Hugoton and Panhandle fields of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas an estimated 6,500,000,000,000 cubic feet. Panhandle Eastern proposes expansion of its Texas-Detroit system at a cost of $23,000,000.

Justin R. Wolf, attorney for Trans-Continental, said there are no pipelines into the south Texas fields and that the new firm has contracts for delivery of 50,000,000 cubic feet daily for 20 years from that area.

Oklahoma Has Rain In Wheat Sections

WOODWARD, Okla., Nov. 15 (AP)—Rains which measured up to two inches at Hollis in southwestern Oklahoma fell in the state's wheat grown areas Friday.

The parched Northwest—neglected while other sections of Oklahoma got recent showers—was not overlooked.

D. A. Savage, senior agronomist of the southern great plains field station of the United States department of agriculture at Woodward, said:

"It was a right good rain. We can now plant winter wheat. And the pasture situation has been helped."

FOUR-YEAR-OLD ROBS PIGGY BANK TO BUY TURKEY FOR PRINCESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—Four-year-old Julia Alloro marched into the offices of a food-shipping agency, rattled her piggy bank and said:

"I want to buy a turkey for Princess Elizabeth."

Julie explained that because of the food shortage in England she was afraid there wouldn't be "anything good to eat" at the forthcoming royal wedding reception. So she's slipped away from home and made the hour-long subway ride from Brooklyn to the Manhattan food firm.

A clerk took her to the president of the company. He called Julie's mother. When Mrs. Alloro arrived she opened the piggy bank, added $5 to the $4.20 her daughter had been saving for Christmas and advanced the money as part payment for a turkey to be airmailed to Princess Elizabeth.

Julie was happy. She made only one stipulation. "Please ask the princess to send me the wishbone after she gets done with the turkey," she told reporters.

Births Nearly Double Italy Deaths

ROME, (U)—Italy, whose excess population is already one of its biggest problems, still has nearly twice as many births as deaths. In the first six months of 1947, the Central Statistical Institute has reported, live births totaled 511,896 against 278,760 deaths. In the same period of 1946, the figures were 513,595 and 261,853. Marriages in the 1947 half-year numbered 204,857, compared with 178,528 in the 1946 period.

STALKED TIGERS, PANTHERS

War Gave B'Springer Chance To Hunt Big Game In India

A hobby of hunting, which was hastily directed toward the big game category due to surroundings during the war, provided Willard Neel of Big Spring with an impressive array of trophies, now on display at the Big Spring Hardware Co.

Neel, who stalked the big game as a means of breaking the monotony of long working hours with the Southern Air Depot in the interior of India, has since returned to Big Spring to take up the more or less tame duties of operating a transfer company. However, his exploits with a rifle on foreign soil are still fresh in memory.

Stationed at the Southern Air Depot factory in Mysore City, which is the capital of India's state of Mysore, Neel found himself working frequently for as long as three and four days at a time without leaving the factory. However, there were periods of leisure when Neel found opportunity to explore the surrounding countryside, and these jaunts turned into big game hunts.

Now he has skins of such beasts as the Bengal tiger, the panther, and milder mannered but no less desirable bison and black buck. The Bengal tiger skin on display was bagged near Tarikere. Its appearance, even after being stripped of activity by a rifle shot, stamps it as a ferocious customer.

The panthers are authentic specimens, and not to be confused with members of the feline family in other countries which sometimes bear the name. The true panther is clothed in skin similar to the leopard, but the dark spots on the fur have open rosettes and the panther's feet are equipped with claws identical with those of the common house cat.

Also on display is the head of a black buck, a small animal of the antelope family. The Indian bison head is similar to that of the American bison or buffalo. The variety of animals available for hunters in Mysore state is no greater than the variation of topography, Neel declares. It seems that a person can, in the course of a short journey, encounter dense tropical jungles, virtual deserts and rough, stony terrain not unlike some sections of the southwestern United States.

The animals create a problem for the natives, who cope with the situation in a manner similar to that adopted by their ancient ancestors—all domestic beasts are moved inside the owners' huts each night. When there are flocks of sheep too large for accommodation in the dwellings, they are penned and men stand guard throughout the night, with bright fires burning on each side of the pen. Even then, the wild beasts of prey sometimes take heavy toll.

Mysore City has one of the most modern electric power systems in the world. It was installed by American engineers, and records there, Neel says, indicate that the Maharaja's palace boasted electricity before Chicago obtained electric power. Although fixtures tractables to present to tax assessors, Joe Burrell, certified public accountant, spoke to members of the American Business club Friday, noon in explanation of the various taxes including income, estate and gift taxes.

In discussion of the estate tax, Burrell explained that it was of great importance to arrange for the payment of fees in lieu of death. Insurance, Burrell said, was one of the best bulwarks. An estate's value is reduced almost 48 percent above a $100,000 evaluation and some persons believe that a trust can get around payment of revenue. However, Burrell reminded ed, at the expiration of the term both estate and gift taxes may be assessed.

His talk was followed by an open forum discussion. R. E. McKinney was in charge of the program.

WELL - what do you know!

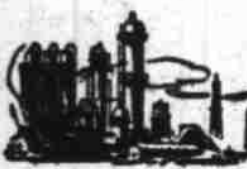

Science Aids the Search for Oil

In Texas. Using the most advanced methods of exploration, geologists and geophysicists carry on a continuous search for new oil reserves. The search takes geophysical crews into almost every part of the state and has prompted the exploration of off-shore tidelands, one of the most likely locations of undiscovered oil-bearing structures. Even after these advanced methods have revealed the location of a favorable spot in which oil might be found, the odds against the oil prospector are still about nine to one! Only a wildcat well can finally determine whether or not oil is present. Oil is becoming harder and harder to find and at constantly increasing depths; during 1946 more than 9% of all wells drilled were deeper than eight thousand feet. One-third of all wells drilled last year were dry holes.

There Are 105,000 Producing Oil Wells

in Texas. Every section of the state produces some oil, and altogether Texas produces 44% of the U. S. total. Texas wells, in proven, developed fields, produced 80% of the additional oil required by Allied forces in World War II. It would have been impossible to produce a fraction of the needed oil by drilling new wells in undeveloped fields. At present it is estimated that between 50,000 and 55,000 Texans are employed in the production of oil, an additional 25,000 in the drilling of wells.

Oil and Gas Conservation Is Practiced by oil companies in Texas to prevent waste of a vital natural resource, to produce oil more efficiently thereby keeping product prices as low as possible, and to accumulate the oil reserves needed for national security. Oil is withdrawn from wells at controlled rates to increase to the maximum the total amount that will be produced. A large part of the gas produced with oil is utilized for fuel and other purposes.

There are 36,500 Miles of Oil Pipelines in Texas. These enable Texas' inland producers to sell oil to refineries in practically any U. S. market. Some of this inland oil is transported to the great refining centers in the Middle West but most of it is piped to terminals on the Texas Coast where the largest refineries are located.

Nearly One-Third of the Total Income in Texas Was Derived Last Year from the Operations of the Petroleum Industry.

Five hundred and sixty-three million dollars went to 220,000 employees for wages and salaries, $240,000,000 to land owners as royalties and for leases, and $41,000,000 to the State for taxes. Other millions were paid to manufacturers and distributors for materials and supplies. Some of these oil dollars must have found their way into the bank account of nearly every Texan.

Texas Oil Refineries Have a Daily Capacity of 1,500,000 Barrels, more than that of any other state. The larger refineries are located on the Gulf Coast, from which they can ship by water to the densely populated markets of the eastern United States. Oil refineries account for 45% of the value of the state's industrial products. During the War, Texas refineries made not only gasoline and other products for automotive equipment, but also synthetic rubber, Toluene for TNT, and billions of gallons of 100-octane aviation gasoline. Research in refinery laboratories is continuous, resulting not only in product improvement, but also in the discovery of many new uses for petroleum by-products. Refinery scientists have contributed heavily to the expanding chemical industry in Texas.

Gasoline Quality Has Improved Continuously since 1920, and further improvement is certain. Refinery scientists, anticipating further improvement in automobile design, are working now on the fuel your car will require five years hence. This chart shows the rise in gasoline quality, measured by octane numbers, since 1920.

The Price of Gasoline Has Gone Down while quality was going up. Today you pay less for a better product, thanks to the progressive oil industry and to the keen competition between companies for your business. This chart shows how the price of gasoline has gone down since 1920. The tax is not included.

There are More Than 15,000 Retail Gasoline Outlets in Texas. The service rendered by these retailers probably exceeds that of any other merchant. The dealer in petroleum products cleans your windshield, checks your oil, furnishes you with free air and water, provides restrooms and free travel information. The large number of retail outlets, the unusual service they render, the high quality of petroleum products—all are evidence of the keen rivalry that exists among companies for your business.

Sheppard Wants World Jaycee Plan

ABERDEEN, S. D., Nov. 15. (AP)—John Ben Sheppard, national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of the United States, today recommended that the U. S. organization be dissolved and an effort be expended to form

VETERAN SECRETARY

Milling Accepts Local YMCA Post

Election and acceptance of Lee E. Milling, Houston, as executive secretary of the YMCA in Big Spring was announced Saturday by Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, president. Milling, who appeared here several weeks ago at the invitation of the board, and Mrs. Milling concluded arrangements Friday to move to Big Spring in late December. After securing a home in Washington place, they returned to Houston where he will conclude his tenure with the YMCA in that city. He will fill a vacancy which has existed since Sept. 1. In the interim period, Arah Phillips and Anna Smith have been directing the YMCA program and will continue in that capacity at least until mid-December. A veteran YMCA worker, Milling has been associated with the Houston Y for the past nine years, serving more recently at the Houston Heights branch Y where he achieved an outstanding record for development of program. The new secretary is a graduate of Maryville College at Maryville, Tenn. He is a member and elder in a Houston Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Milling have two children, a son, Ken, 12, and a daughter, Anne, 5. Dr. Cowper said that Milling would assume charge of the program here no later than Jan. 1.

OIL NEWS

Rigging Up Reported Underway On Seaboard's No. 1 Caldwell

Rigging up reportedly was underway at the end of the week on Seaboard Oil Co. (Brown & Karcher) No. 1 Caldwell, once abandoned test in the Vealmoor section of extreme north-central Howard county, which is to be carried to the Ellenburger. Seaboard has taken over the test, a wildcat in the medium horizons, and will carry it from 6,700 to 10,000 feet or the Ellenburger. In view of the showing of the Seaboard No. 6-A John Robinson in southeastern Dawson, considerable interest is attached to the exploration. Location is in section 32-32-3N, T&P.

Meanwhile, Seaboard perforated casing with 20 shots from 10,522-30 in its No. 6-A Robinson and squeezed with 53 sacks in an attempt to seal off water from up the hole before testing, possibly in the Mississippian. While it had shown, it was a failure in the Ellenburger. Location is in the C NW SW section 37-34-5N, T&P, southeastern Dawson.

In the south-central portion of the Howard-Glascock area, Ralph U. Fitting, Jr., No. 1 W. R. Settles, section 158-29, W&NW, plugged back from total depth at 1,437 to 1,434 feet with 115 feet of oil in the hole. It shot and was to test. Dr. W. H. Cooper No. 1 Scotty, section 86-29, W&NW, bottomed at 3,100 feet, plugged back to 2,900, shot with 790 quarts from 2,700-2,900 and was cleaning out. It is a southeast outcrop in the Chalk area. Cecil W. Guthrie No. 1-B W. R. Read drilled ahead with 900 feet of oil in the hole at 2,835 feet after logging first pay at 2,695. A 150-foot increase came at 2,720-30, another in the next five foot and column rose to 500 feet from 2,735-54. There were increases from 2,764-70 and 2,775-85. The East Howard test is in section 48-30-1N, T&P. Sergeant, Rutter and Wilbanks No. 3 Jones, section 13-30-1S, T&P, drilled ahead at 900 feet. Dr. W. H. Cooper No. 1 Jones, same section, set seven-inch string and cemented at 2,532 feet.

Potential of 192 barrels was reported on the Townsend & Ratliff No. 9 Strain, section 117-97, H&TC, southwestern Scurry county, and 224 barrels on the R. F. Townsend, trustee No. 2 Chapman, section 100-97, H&TC, Townsend & Ratliff No. 11 Strain, section 117-97, was below 350 feet. Townsend No. 4 Chapman, section 100-97, H&TC, at 450, and location made on Townsend No. 4 Moran, block 4, E. P. Smith survey of Kirkland & Fields subdivision.

A completion was noted in northwest Mitchell's Coleman ranch pool with Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 R. L. Solomon, 330 feet from the north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 71-97, H&TC, rating 105 barrels in 24 hours. Dr. W. H. Cooper No. 1 Lucy Mildred Coleman shot with 640 quarts from 2,575-2,825 and was cleaning out. Studebaker To Put Out New Model In '48

DETROIT, Nov. 15. (AP)—Studebaker this week became the fourth of the independent automobile producers to announce a 1948 model, following Packard, Hudson and Nash.

The South Bend, Ind., concern, which declares itself originator of the "new look" among postwar streamlined vehicles, is introducing a line of both open and closed body types, as contrasted with the single closed body types offered 18 months ago.

Studebaker also expects to make more convertibles, which were added to the company's output near the end of this year. Only a few hundred were produced.

The new models, the company said, will conform in general to the pattern of the first postwar models. The '48 land cruiser type will feature nylon upholstery which can be washed with soap and water.

In the model parade of the post-war era the independents continue in the vanguard, while the industry's "Big Three"—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—appear to be holding off except in the higher price brackets.

One reason for the apparent style tardiness among the Big Three's low-price lines may be that volume producers are still calling for—and getting—a greater output merely to hack away at the tremendous backlog of unfilled orders.

To them the idea of a radical changeover into production of a "completely new" postwar creation is incidental. The job now is to keep assembly lines rolling.

Lakeview Dwelling Destroyed By Fire

A dwelling in the Lakeview addition was destroyed by one of two fires recorded here Friday night, firemen reported.

The house, which was owned by Sonny Morris, is believed to have caught fire from a wood burning stove. Firemen answered the alarm at 11 p. m.

A short time earlier, equipment was carried to 1108 East Fourth street, where a short circuit in an electric service line caused smoke. No damage resulted, however.

Farmers' Co-Op Gin Fire Causes Loss Of Two Bales.

ACKERLY, Nov. 15.—Loss estimated at approximately two bales of loose cotton was recorded here Friday afternoon when a fire broke out in a building at the Farmers Co-op Gin.

Firemen from the Big Spring fire department came here to fight the blaze, which threatened further destruction, and they succeeded in extinguishing the flames shortly after their arrival.

In appreciation of firemen's services, the gin management contributed $100 to the Big Spring fire department's entertainment fund which Chief H. V. Crocker said would be used to help defray expenses for the annual Thanksgiving dinner for firemen and their families.

About 2.7 tons of oxygen are required for every ton of coal burned.

Center of all "Ayes"

You look over those long, clean lines, free and flowing as the wind—and you say "Aye!" to that. You slip behind the ready wheel, settle yourself in deep, soft cushions—and once more the "Ayes" have it. You finger the little buttons that run the door windows up or down, test out the control that at a touch positions the front seat for you—and those things win your nod.

Now put foot to treadle. There's the quick answer of eight big Fireball cylinders, tossing down a challenge to go adventuring. Look over the top. A pull on a knob will swing it back out of the way—yet you find it tight and snug against the nippiest of November winds. Make a little test run, picking out roads not noted for their smoothness. They're ironed level by four coil springs, cushioned by Safety-Ride rims that get 25-lb. softness from standard 30-lb.-pressure tires. You test the wheel, the brakes, the room, the road-hugging steadiness. They all win "Ayes" as America's most wanted automobile shows why it is just that. Centered here are all the good things you want in a car—including style that stands all alone for sheer beauty and as a forecast of coming things. So why hold back? Be as smart as those who've gone before you and get your order in, with or without a car to trade, soon as you can.

TEXAS POLL

Most Texans Want Inflation Controls

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. — The great majority of Texas men and women want Congress to do something to halt the rise of prices.

On the eve of a special congressional session, seven out of every ten say the government should take steps to control prices of food and clothing. Four out of ten would welcome return of OPA to enforce price ceilings on these commodities. Less than two out of every ten believe the government should let prices seek their own level.

After almost a year of rising costs, the Texas Poll finds in its latest statewide survey that public thinking has been swinging back toward approval of government price-fixing. Today the weight of public opinion is only slightly against return of OPA, while in December 1946, after abandonment of the war-born measure, an overwhelming majority of Texas adults voted against its return.

Women, who do most of the family shopping, tend to look with favor now on revival of OPA to control prices on food and clothing.

The tables below show the trend of public thinking:

Opinion Nov.	Men	Women	All
For OPA	38%	44%	41%
Against	56%	38%	46%
No Opinion	6%	18%	13%

Opinion Dec. 1946:

For OPA	Men	Women	All
24%	31%	27%
Against	73%	63%	68%
No Opinion	3%	6%	8%

To measure current opinion on price control, the Texas Poll asked a cross-section of adults: "Are you for or against bringing back the OPA to control prices of food, clothing and such things?" Those who didn't vote for OPA were then asked: "Do you believe the government should take any steps to control prices?"

Quick Action By Officer Probably Saves His Life

Quick action on the part of City Officer Curtis A. Crittendon near a north-side night spot Friday night probably saved his life.

Crittendon and a fellow officer went to the tavern upon being informed that a Latin-American was firing a gun wildly and making trouble.

The Latin-American, Jesus Hernandez, tried to point his gun in Crittendon's direction after the officer had ordered him to throw down the firearm. Crittendon grasped his arm and pushed the pistol skyward, then took Hernandez to jail.

Hernandez was transferred to the custody of the county Saturday morning and charged with assault to murder. Bond had been denied at noon Saturday.

Charged With Truck Theft

A Negro man who said he sought out the easiest way possible to get to San Angelo without paying fare, and that by crawling into an empty cotton-laden truck which had the keys left in it, was returned here and lodged in the county jail Saturday after he had been picked up in the Tom Green county capital.

He is Jesse Thomas of Lamesa, who has been charged with automobile theft.

Thomas, admittedly slightly woozy after having taken a few drinks in a north-side tavern, slid under the wheel of the truck parked at the Farmer's gin in order to get in out of the rain Thursday night. Once in the cab, he discovered the keys and was not long in making up his mind to drive away.

The vehicle, loaded with two bales of cotton, was spotted by a man south of town who was familiar with the vehicle. The party gave chase and alerted police at Sterling City, who in turn telephoned ahead to San Angelo, where the Negro was halted.

Pink Bollworm Incidence Soars Here Over Early Season Reports

Entomologists, worried earlier in the season by a marked increase in presence of pink bollworms in gin trash, concluded Saturday that their initial fears were mild and trifling things.

A spot check showed the rate of incidence had multiplied from 10 to 15 times since Oct. 5, according to reports from G. W. Chown, in charge of the area of five for the bureau of entomology, division of plant quarantine, department of agriculture.

At the outset of the ginning season, Chown had been concerned about the cotton pest in the number of the cotton pest recovered in sifting of gin trash.

For the first time, pink bollworms were found then at every gin tested. More alarming, the number per bushel of trash had jumped to one and a half per bushel, and as high as two in some runs.

But Saturday these figures paled beside new reports. At one local gin, four bushels of trash alone yielded 134 specimens. These came from samplings of trash from three bales produced southwest of Big Spring. Another run returned 78 wiggling pink bollworms in eight bushels of trash.

The figures were considered sobering by Chown, especially since only 83 specimens had been recovered from nine gins in Midland, Martin, Howard and Mitchell counties in an early season run. In contrast, two gins here yielded 212 pink bollworms in the second check.

Crews have moved on to Stanton and Midland to look into the situation in those areas, Chown reported.

Although the incidence of the bollworms had not reached the economically destructive stage here, the rate of gain was so pronounced that Chown urged utmost cooperation by farmers in combating spread of the potentially dangerous pest.

He asked that quarantine regulations be followed rigidly, and that under no circumstance should seed be taken from this area into others except in conformance to the code. A few bushels of infected seed shipped into Louisiana could

House Painting Is Prelude To Art

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (U.P.)—Albert Gold finds that house painting may not be art, but it does not stop him from turning out pictures.

Gold explained that when he came to America 25 years ago from Russia with his parents, he wanted to be an artist. In his innocence he thought it had something to do with art—it was painting, wasn't it?

But later, he financed much of his formal-art education by painting houses, gained several scholarships and continues to earn his living by painting—both of the house and picture variety.

cause an outbreak in an area where propagation of the worms might be more rapid, he pointed out.

The pink bollworm, considered by many to be most destructive of cotton pests, bores into the boll, cutting and stunting lint badly. It then goes into the seed to emerge later in the moth stage and lay more eggs.

This year there has been a substantial increase in areas subject to infestation. Thirty-five new counties have been added, including a tier north from here to Wichita Falls and even into Oklahoma, where pink bollworms have been reported for the first time.

NFLA Officials Attend Area Meet

Reports reflect a greater volume of loans closed in 1946 than in any year since 1935, according to Walter Robinson, and Ira J. Driver, secretary-treasurer of the Big Spring National Farm Loan association, who have returned from a district meeting in San Angelo.

Speakers included Sterling C. Evans, president; R. C. Pool, chief reviewing appraiser; Hal Weatherford, associations supervisor; Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City, director, all representing the Federal Land Bank of Houston. Twenty-six local associations were represented.

Officials believed that the 1946 record indicated a desire on the part of landowners to handle financing on a long-term basis and to the down currently low interest rates.

The land bank, said officials, has practically completed its program of decentralizing loans, started five years ago. As a result, most loans can be transacted with home associations. The land bank, owned by Texas farmers and ranchers, now has no government funds, and has a combined capital, surplus and reserve of more than $43 million in addition to $6 million in reserves and surplus of local associations, said Driver.

Gilmer Stars As Tide Wins Over Jackets

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 15. —Alabama bounced Georgia Tech from the list of nation's perfect-record teams today, 14-7, as Harry Gilmer turned in one of his brighter pitching performances.

A capacity crowd of 35,000 watching in awe as Gilmer, a frail-looking youngster, passed the feared Yellow Jackets dizzy in the first half, when he completed seven of eight tosses. He had five straight without a miss to carry the Tide 57 yards of a first-period, 69-yard scoring drive.

After scoring the first touchdown himself on a plunge, he threw two more passes to end Rebel Steiner in the second period, the final for six yards and a tally to climax a 22-yard scoring movement. He completed 11 of 13 passes for the day.

Georgia Tech, seeking its eighth straight victory, rallied in the second half with two freshmen backs, Bob McCoy and Red Patton, carrying the offensive brunt. After repulsing the Tide twice in the shadow of the goal, the Jackets drove 85 yards to a score with McCoy going over from three yards out.

Allen Bowen converted to keep alive Tech's chances for a tie. With 12 minutes remaining after their drive, the Jackets roared 88 yards to the Tide 35 in a final, desperate offensive, but lost the ball there on downs.

Raider-Waddy Game Winds Up Cage Clinic

Second annual Big Spring Basketball Coaching school, scheduled to be held here Dec. 1 and 2, will attract more than half a hundred high school mentors here from over a wide West Texas area.

The big event, as far as local cage followers are concerned, is the Dec. 2 collision between Texas Tech's Red Raiders and the Hard-Simmons university Cowboys. The show will be open to the public.

Admission fee is $1 a throw and all proceeds from the bout will be used to defray expenses of the two teams playing.

Instructors in the two-day clinic are Polk Robinson, who succeeded Bert Huffman as basketball coach at Tech, and HSU's Wesley Bradshaw.

The two mentors will bring their charges here for practical demonstrations in the cage sport.

The clinic will get underway at 9:30 a. m. Monday, Dec. 1, in the Settles hotel. Morning and afternoon sessions will be held and all enrollees will be guests at a barbecue given by Clarence Fox, sponsor of the school, in the Settles Monday night.

Admission to the course is free. Coaches planning to attend can make their hotel reservation through Fox, who can be found at the Settles hotel here.

Ponies Johnson, Doak Walker Star

DALLAS, Nov. 15. —Southern Methodist's Mustangs rolled on among the nation's undefeated, untied teams, just two games short of the Southwest conference championship, today, as the Methodists beat stubborn Arkansas 14-6 in a battle that gave a crowd of 23,000 many anxious moments.

It was not until 56 1-2 minutes of the contest were gone that SMU was safely past the rugged hurdle. Penalties hurt Arkansas badly and at the game's close hundreds of fans flooded the field and referee Jack Sisco floored one man who he said cursed him. Thirty minutes after the game's close the fans were still on the field, milling around and arguing.

It was Sisco who officiated the Texas-Oklahoma game here this year when there was a shower of pop bottles from Oklahoma fans in protest over his rulings. The game ended in a near-riot.

The passing of Gil Johnson and the running of Doak Walker pulled Southern Methodist to the double-digit Razorbacks today. The Methodists had to come from behind to get the victory.

Arkansas stunned home coming fans with a touchdown late in the first period. The score came after SMU had failed of a first down on a fourth-down fumble by Ed Green when he was back to punt.

Green picked up the ball and tried to run but lacked a foot of the first down. The ball went to Arkansas on the SMU 37 and Clyde Scott and Leon Campbell alternated in driving to the touchdown.

Campbell made it from the 17 in a cutback over left guard. Duval Thornton missed the extra point. Southern Methodist went ahead 6-0 in the second period on an 81-yard drive sparked by the passing of Johnson, who completed nine out of fifteen today for 86 yards. A holding penalty hurt Arkansas when it gave SMU a first down after three tries had failed.

Dick McKissack and Walker rammed the line for timely gains and Johnson completed four straight passes as the Mustangs stormed to the Razorback six.

McKissack made four in two plunges. An off-side penalty put the ball on the six-inch line and McKissack rapped right tackle for the touchdown. Walker converted.

The second Southern Methodist touchdown came after Scott, Arkansas' great running back, fumbled on his 32-yard line. Walker hit the line twice for six but a penalty set the Mustangs back.

Then Walker started around right end, reversed his field and sped to the left to drive to the Arkansas 14. McKissack made two at the line. Walker passed to McKissack on the Arkansas two and rammed right tackle for the score.

Walker kicked the extra point—his sixteenth in eighteen tries this season.

LEES IN LONG DASH

Longhorns Turn Back Bulldogs

The Big Spring Steers' expedition to Denison and the hinterlands several weeks ago wasn't a total loss.

A handoff play they picked up in the SMU-Texas game the day following the Denison fiasco paid rich dividends as the Longhorns mopped up on the Midland Bulldogs, 20-0, before a sparse gathering here Friday night.

B. B. Lees put the resident eleven out in front on the opening kickoff when he accepted the pigskin from Paul Shaffer—the same kind of trickery that enabled the SMU team to gain the jump on Texas— and going SMU one better roared 90 yards for a TD.

The scrappy halfback, who knuckled down to play one of his better games, was momentarily trapped on the Midland 40-yard line by a Bulldog back closing in from the side but he shook loose and continued on to touchdown.

Barnes Milam's troops and the visiting spectators never quite got over that greeting. The Bulldogs fought back valiantly and more than held their own in scrimmage plays but they couldn't get out of their tracks when the blue chips were showing. As a matter of fact, the Steers gave them but one hurried chance and queered that with a fine goal line stand.

The Longhorns collected their second score shortly after the teams changed ends of the field. The Bulldogs had opened up a brief drive which carried to mid-field when Bill Little tried passing to a mate in the left flat. Gordon Madison smelted trouble almost before Little lighted the fuse, however, and raced over to claw down the aerial. Fifty yards he moved without a hand being laid on him and the Steers went out in front, 12-0.

Lees, who had missed the first try for point, made good on his second when his kick split the uprights and the advantage blew itself to 13-0.

That was all for the first half, although Midland kept trying to get back in the ball game on the power house tactics of Larry Messersmith who would rip large hunks of yardage with his off-tackle slants. At one stage, the guests moved down to the Steer 11-yard stripe only to lose the ball on downs.

In the third, the Longhorns fired the boilers again and moved aside the Midland forward wall to pick up their third touchdown. The Camrines had their fourth pass of the evening intercepted by Lees on Big Spring's 19, a development that apparently knocked the props under them.

They moved as far as the Big Spring 35 after taking the kickoff but failed to get a renewal at that point and the Bovines went to work. Disheating a remarkable overhead game, the Big Springers ate up the yardage all the way to the Midland 3-yard stripe from where Harold Berry slipped past the right side of the line and raced to the score. He outstepped Messersmith at the flag to wriggle across. Lees again booted the point and the Longhorns led, 20-0.

Big Spring had a couple of other chances after that but the Midland line apparently was determined that enough was enough.

The contest was marred in the waning moments from slugging on the part of both teams. Big Spring had two men dispatched to the penalty box for roughing the opposition, Midland one.

In all, the Bovines completed eight of 11 passes, one of them a remarkable catch by Eddie Houser on the Midland five-yard stripe in the fourth quarter. Houser went up for the pitch in the middle of two Midland defenders and somehow came down with the melon.

Ike Robb played one of his finest games at the guard slot for Big Spring. The Steer co-captain came up with two intercepted passes and was eternally hawking the Midland ball carrier. Houser was all over the field, too. The entire Big Spring line performed creditably.

EDDIE ANDERSON
... May Stay On

Iowa Football Coach Offers To Quit Post

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 15. —The resignation of Dr. Eddie Anderson, University of Iowa head football coach since 1939, was announced today but there was a question whether it would stick.

In a brief interview Anderson indicated he would remain at his post if the Athletic Board of Control would back him.

Although there was no immediate inkling that such backing would be forthcoming, several university athletic leaders—both on the board and off—declared that in the past Anderson had received "fullest cooperation and support."

In announcing the resignation, University President Virgil M. Hancher gave no reason for the coach's action, but Anderson said he wanted a showdown on "house talk" critical of his management of the Hawkeyes eleven this fall.

In a letter to Dr. Paul Bloomer, chairman of the Athletic board, Hancher said Anderson's resignation "comes without warning and was a great surprise to me."

The athletic board will hold a previously scheduled meeting Monday night at which Bloomer said the resignation would be considered. Anderson's contract extends through the 1950 season. He told Hancher he wanted to resign effective next July 1.

The coach, who came here from Holy Cross college and was hailed as "coach of the year" in his first season when the Hawks won six, lost one and tied one, was paid the third highest salary among state employees last year—$12,500.

The Hawks of this fall have made the poorest record of any of his Iowa teams, having entered today's game against Minnesota with a mark of two victories, five losses and a tie.

WORST DEFEAT

Aggies Flattened By Rice, 41-7

HOUSTON, Nov. 15. —Rice's late season Owls today possessed the power that was expected of them last September as they ran over the Texas Aggies, 41 to 7, to hand the Cadets their greatest defeat in the 32 years of rivalry between the two Southwest conference schools.

After moving quickly for two

11-yard first period touchdown drives, the Owls cashed in on two pass interceptions and a fumble for three more in the second and then wound things up with another in the final period when another Aggie aerial backfired.

With the stout Rice forward wall holding the Aggies to only 23 net yards at rushing, it was a bruising battle between the two lines. Referee A. B. Curtis marked off a total of 17 penalties that totaled 151 yards, most of them being for roughing.

While the Aggie backs were being stopped on the ground, the alert Rice defense played havoc with the passes as Stan Holmrig and Burl Baty, but, at the same time, the losses of Rice's Tobin Rote and Ike Eikenberg all but matched the pass gains made by the air minded Cadets.

It was a Rice fumble that set up the lone Aggie score, early in the third period, and the College Station crew launched only one long drive, one for 49 yards that was halted when the Owls took over on downs on their own 16.

Huey Keeney and Tobin Rote sparked the first two Owl marches Rote passing to Froggie Williams for 43 yards and the first score, and Kenney climaxing the second drive by going over center from the two for the marker.

Don Anderson, who often breaks into the starting Owl backfield, intercepted an Aggie pass and ran untouched 30 yards for the first second period touchdown, and Kenney set up another a few minutes later by falling on a fumble by the Aggies. Oscar Pollock on the A&M 45. Seconds later he skirled right end for 24 yards and his second touchdown of the game.

With TOMMY HART

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 15. (AP)—The Wolverines clinched the Big Nine title and a Rose Bowl trip today with a crushing 40-6 triumph over a stunned Wisconsin eleven in a sheet-swept battle at Camp Randall stadium today.

The Wolverines, who tossed all of their intricate attack against Wisconsin despite a soggy field and a miniature blizzard, scored two touchdowns against the outclassed Badgers in the opening period and then coasted to an easy victory.

The triumph almost assured Coach Fritz Crisler of his first perfect season in 10 Wolverine years with only down-trodden Ohio State remaining to face in the regular schedule.

Michigan's razzle-dazzle attack simply bowled over the surprising Badgers, who now are destined to finish a runner-up to Michigan in the conference race, even if they subdue Minnesota in their season finale next Saturday.

CLOSE CALL FOR IRISH

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 15. (AP)—The dogged, mud-splashed Northwestern Wildcats, humiliated by five defeats in seven earlier starts, almost made a myth of Notre Dame's football invincibility today, but the desperate fighting Irish shook off the surprise for a 26 to 13 victory, their seventh in a row.

Playing on a soggy field in a drizzle, the Wildcats marched 81 yards for one touchdown, turned a pass interception into another, and then sent a seilout throng of 48,000 to their feet in the last quarter when third-string Pevay Day flunged Frank Tripucka's aerial and pranced 18 yards for a third marker.

Sooners Topple Tigers From Top

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 15. (AP)—Brilliant spot punting by Darrel Royal and an enemy fumble set up the winning touchdown as Oklahoma toppled the Missouri Tigers off the top rung of the Big Six conference football standing today, 21 to 12.

Missouri, previously undefeated in three conference starts, carried a 12-0-7 lead going into the final quarter of its homecoming day attraction.

Royal, a 163-pound sophomore from Hollis, Okla., had kicked out on the Missouri one and two yard lines earlier in the game, but the Sooners had been stopped cold by a hard charging Missouri line.

Royal's third fine kick hopped out on the Missouri three-yard stripe.

Coahoma Bulldogs Lose To Forsan

FORSAN, Nov. 15.—An inspired band of Forsan Bulldogs put a surprise ending to the District Seven six-man football wars by defeating the Coahoma Bulldogs, 26-20, in a brilliant, cleanly-fought game played before an overflow crowd here Friday night.

The Bisons spotted the visitors one touchdown and trailed by a 13-7 score at half time but the complexion of the game changed with the second half kickoff when Junior Dolan received the boot and moved down to Coahoma's one-foot line.

Illinois Powers Over Ohio State

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15. (AP)—Illinois powered and finessed its way to a 28 to 7 victory over Ohio State's hapless Bucks today before 70,036 fans, wheeling to two startling-fast touchdowns in the final session to grab easily a verdict which had been doubtful through the first three quarters.

Going into the Big Nine struggle a 20-point favorite, the Illini were hard-pressed through the first three periods in which they built up a 14-7 edge, the third period being all in favor of the underdog Bucks.

The victors struck early, marching 32 yards in 16 plays the first time they got the ball; with Russ Steger, fullback, plunging over for the touchdown from the one-yard line. Perry Moss, star passer for the Illini, completed three of five tosses for 34 yards in the spurge.

line. From that point, Dan Fairchild crashed over.

The difference between the two clubs widened not long afterwards when Dolan scored on a long pass.

Coahoma closed the gap with a touchdown in the final three minutes of play but Forsan received the ensuing kickoff and froze the ball.

Clovie Phinney, who played a whale of a game for the losers, scored 12 points while Ed Dippson had a six-pointer and Bruce Landsey two points.

Eldon Prater and Wayne Huestis scored for Forsan along with Dolan and Fairchild. Fairchild accounted for the two extra points as well.

Floyd Pike, Kenneth Barnes and Dolan all performed superbly in Coach Frank Honeycutt's defensive scheme.

The Coahoma defeat automatically gave Sterling City the title and tied Forsan for second place along with the Bulldogs.

Starting lineups:
Coahoma—Dickson and Bates, ends; Horton, center; Phinney, Cathey and Lindsey, backs.
Forsan—Dolan and Pike, ends; Barnes, center; Prater, Huestis and Fairchild, backs.

Longhorn Loop Parley Today

Pat Stasey and Claude McAden leave this morning for Abilene where they will attend the second winter meeting of Longhorn baseball league directors, which gets underway at the Windsor hotel starting at 1:30 p. m.

Representatives from Vernon, Odessa, Midland, Sweetwater and Ballinger will meet along with the local delegates and Circuit President Howard Green to discuss entrance of two new teams, which would bring the membership to eight clubs.

San Angelo is assured of landing a franchise while Childress, Coleman, Plainview and Breckenridge have also entered into the picture.

The third meeting, at which time a league schedule will be adopted, will probably be held after the Minor League meeting at Miami later this month.

Buff Cage Team To Open Drills

FORSAN, Nov. 15.—Only one letterman, Ken Baker, will be back when the Forsan high school basketball Buffaloes begin practice for the 1947-48 season but Coach Frank Honeycutt may come up with a winning crew.

Dan Fairchild and Ken Barnes, both of whom are six feet, will be available for play and Lloyd Claxton, 6-foot-2 sophomore becomes eligible at midterms.

Honeycutt stated he would probably have a speedy first team.

Fox Wants A Try At Gus Lesnevich

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—Blackjack Billy Fox wants another shot at Light Heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich and Jake Lamotta says he's going to stick to the Middleweights from now on.

The fighters made their decisions simultaneously in Madison Square Garden Friday night shortly after Fox stopped the Bronx Bull in 2:26 of the fourth round of their slated ten.

It was the first time Lamotta ever failed to go the route.

Peppy Scores Again As Herd Rolls Through Christians

Takes Aerial From Guess

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns rolled over the Texas Christian Horned Frogs 20-0 here today, thereby hanging on to a chance for the Southwest Conference title.

It was TCU's second conference loss, and the Frogs are now out of a serious contending position for the crown.

Texas turned in a brilliant defensive game, allowing the Frogs to penetrate no deeper than the Texas 35-yard line.

The Longhorns scored their first touchdown on eight running plays after Center Dick Harris—who was supposed to be benched with a crippled knee—intercepted Lindy Berry's pass on the TCU 35 and returned to the 25.

Right Half Jim Canady carried five consecutive times, plunging over for the initial score from the 3-yard line when the game was five minutes, 45 seconds old.

Frank Guess missed his first conversion attempt.

Moving from their 40-yard line in the second quarter, the Longhorns traveled to the TCU 31-yard line as Left Half Billy Pyle picked up one first down on a 10-yard sprint and Bobby Layne another with an 11-yard aerial strike to substitute right end Peppy Blount.

Guess, in the surprise role of a passer, threw a pass on the run to Blount on the 6, and Blount went across untouched. Guess added the extra point to extend Texas' lead to 13-0.

Right End Dale Schwartzkopf charged through to block an attempted TCU punt, by Leon Joslin in the final period. He smacked the ball down on the Horned Frog 45-yard line and chased after it to take it on the bounce at the 35 and outrun Joslin for the final tally. Guess converted.

One other Texas scoring threat failed when the Longhorns prepared for a field goal try from the TCU 25 but were penalized for too much time out.

Ranchers Trim Muckers, 18-0

ABILENE, Nov. 15.—Hardin-Simmons Cowboys moved another notch toward the Border conference football crown here Saturday night by turning back the Texas College of Mines 18-0 before a homecoming crowd of 7,500.

Thirty railroad cars were needed to ship one of the great water-wheel generators for the Grand Coulee Dam.

Kneilson Tests Fenton, Szasz Tests Abbott At Grapple Barn Monday Nite

Rod Fenton, the big, bad man of the local wrestling order, picks on someone more his own heavy Monday night at the West Texas Auction barn when he comes face to face with Stocky Kneilson, a fence post. Some of those who have seen him work call him a little "Man Mountain" Dean. That might or might not be a compliment. At any rate, he fills the bill for that gentry who have been asking for new faces.

The 8:15 o'clock opener also finds a newcomer in action. That would be Al Szasz—pronounced just like it is spelled—who goes against Bill "Ace" Abbott.

Szasz has been a catch-as-catch-can gladiator for more years than he cares to remember but he's never worked at O'Dowdy's place before. Abbott, on the other hand, is as familiar as the family cat. He's appeared here so often he should be paying his poll tax in Big Spring.

Szasz, incidentally, calls St. Louis, Mo., home. He spends most of his time on the road, however.

Upwards of 200 Legionnaires from the 19th congressional district are expected here Nov. 22-23. Officials from the department of Texas are among those to be here and on the program, including George S. Berry, Lubbock, state commander and formerly head of the fourth division, and the Rev. Emphasis will be placed on veteran rehabilitation at the conclave, and Robert W. Sisson, Lubbock, head of region No. 65 for the Veterans Administration, will appear on the program. Among others to be here are Woodrow Epperson, first assistant service officer of the Texas Veterans Affairs commission, and W. H. McGregor, an assistant service officer.

Bruce Zorns, Brownfield, district commander, will preside. Both Legion and auxiliary sessions will be held at the Legion hut at the post area. Registration begins Saturday evening with a dance the only scheduled event the first day. Flower names are always written by botanists in Latin so that the references may be understood by colleagues in every part of the world.

WELFARE AGENCY WORK

Children Are Often 'Used' By Unscrupulous Racketeers

By Paul Bolton
Herald Austin Bureau
AUSTIN, Nov. 15—Why should it be necessary for the state and federal governments to set up a far-flung agency to look after children—doing such things as supervising and inspecting boarding houses which are privately operated?

This question was asked of Howard Lackey, director of the little-publicized but extremely active state division of child welfare. His reply went like this:

Because of the natural sympathy of all people for a child that needs help—call it the parental instinct—children often are "used" by the unscrupulous in soliciting funds. The normal person finds it difficult to believe that such a thing as "baby selling" could exist. Moreover, that which is everybody's business is nobody's business—the deserted, abandoned child in a community which is not equipped to take care of that child has little hope of growing to be a normal individual unless a trained social welfare worker takes over.

Until relatively recent years, the term "social welfare worker" was to members of the legislature what the proverbial red flag is to a bull. Even the 59th Legislature refused to make it possible to train workers in Texas by setting up at the University a school for such workers.

But the same legislature increased the state's contribution to child welfare work to $128,000—quite a contrast with the $11,000 with which the work started in 1931. Federal aid has increased from the original $69,000 allocated in 1936 to around $165,000 a year. And in those 16 counties where local-state-federal child welfare units have been set up, the local community substantially augments the state-federal appropriation. The division's activities, in such fields as inspecting children's homes extend to the entire state, but formal units exist only in 16 counties.

How many children are there in Texas who must look to the state for help—for what amounts to "parentage"?

The Division of Child Welfare does not administer so-called "assistance," nor does it maintain figures on work in counties other than those in which it operates units: Potter, El Paso, Nueces, Midland, Brown, Bowie, Nolan, Taylor, Victoria, Smith, McLennan, Grayson, Jefferson, Webb, Ector and Hidalgo. A unit is in process of formation for Galveston county, and inquiries have been received from Tom Green county.

In those counties, the units were trying to provide more normal lives for 3,312 children. They were divided like this: 450 Negroes; 713 Latin-Americans and 2,138 Anglo-Americans.

Why did these children need care? In 1,252 cases, their homes have been broken—by divorce, separation, and desertion. In 532 more cases, one or both of the parents were dead. An additional 341 were children of unmarried mothers. They ranged in age from babies—178 were less than a year old—up to 21. More than half of them are under ten years old.

Practically every community in Texas has some kind of setup for its dependent children, and Lackey says the division is not "drumming up business—it has plenty to do, and too few trained workers to do it. But as to procedure for a unit:

First, the inquiries must come from the county, from people who are interested in the work and from officials who are familiar with its cost. Then a showing of need must be made. Need is established through actual on-the-ground surveys in which every person in a community concerned with child work is interviewed—school people, scout workers, probation officers and so on. And finally the state and local unit agrees upon a division of the cost of maintaining the unit.

Raven Trap Saves Feed

A trap designed and constructed by Jim Henry, department florist, is proving successful in curtailing losses of feed to ravens at the Big Spring State Hospital farm. Guy Moore, farm supervisor, has reported.

The trap consists of framework six feet high, 20 feet long and 12 feet wide, covered with common chicken wire. A two-foot opening is left in the top, however, to permit entry of the ravens.

Either garbage or grain may be used for bait, and birds which enter through the opening are unable to gain their freedom— with their wings spread for flight.

The trap has been tested at various times during the past two weeks, and to date approximately 400 birds have been caught. As many as 100 ravens have become entangled in the enclosure in a single day.

Losses of hog feed at the State Hospital farm have decreased since the trap was constructed. Moore said.

Children's Book Week

Reading is an art, and there is no better place to train people in appreciation of arts than to start with children. Thus it is the Friends of the Howard County Free Library, an independent advisory group interested in development of the library and its services to the public, are sponsoring National Children's Book Week starting today and continuing through Saturday. Special activities have been planned for children and parents, all calculated to stimulate good reading habits among youngsters. Various clubs have volunteered to furnish hostesses at the library this week to assist children and their parents in an inspection of books. Mrs. Don Burk, Junior Woman's Forum, will be on duty Monday; Mrs. Robert Piner, Hyperion club, and Mrs. Charles Watson, 1905 Hyperion club, will serve Tuesday; Mrs. W. L. BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SOCIETY SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1947 EDITORIAL

STORY HOUR — One of the features sponsored by the Friends of the Library is a Story Hour for tiny tots. Mrs. Hubert C. Stipp, center, chairman for this activity, reads and explains a book, especially for younger children, to Jane Alice Harrington, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Harrington, and her playmate, Joe Gary Pickle, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pickle. The activity is designed not only to entertain children, but to guide their reading habits in sound channels.

NEW BOOKS — Janet Robb, left, and Mrs. Bennie H. Collins, right, librarian, look over one of 10 books for children given by the Book Stall to the library in connection with Children's Book Week. Miss Robb represents the donor. Efforts are being made to develop the section for juvenile reading into one of the strongest in the library, for by serving children it is hoped to develop a new and wider reading audience which will grow together with the young library.

Legion Auxiliary To Offer New Cook Books

Thursday evening the American Legion Auxiliary's cookbook containing hundreds of the choice recipes of women from over the entire of Howard County will officially go on sale here.

The "Lone Star Cookbook," which name is derived from the Auxiliary's monthly publication from Austin, is the result of many months of effort on the part of members coming in from the latter part of 1946 to the present time. Members conducted a personal canvass, either by car or telephone, to contact housewives in Big Spring and the rural settlements. Other contributors sent in their recipes to the Auxiliary. The idea for a cookbook was suggested during the organization of the World War II Auxiliary members late in 1946. The project was supported enthusiastically by merchants, who donated their advertising, and by advance indications by the public of a probable large volume of sales.

The book, containing about 150 pages, is bound in a washable blue plastic cover bearing the emblem of the American Legion Auxiliary. A special feature is a section containing those recipes "men love to cook."

Money coming in through sale of the cookbook will be used to buy furnishings and equipment for the Legion home. First steps have already been taken toward redecoration of the hut.

Later in the week, Auxiliary members will work at booths set up in the downtown section for purpose of promoting sales of the cookbook. The volume has been priced within the reach of everyone.

Guests attending were Mrs. Ward Hall, Mrs. Escol Compton, Mrs. K. R. Swain, Mrs. Roy Bruce, Mrs. Jake Morgan and Mrs. Roxie Dobbins.

Members present were Mrs. Bob McEwen, Mrs. Rob Adams, Mrs. Travis Carlton and Mrs. L. D. Chraney.

Billy Hughes Has Birthday Party

Billy Hughes was entertained Thursday on his third birthday anniversary with a party given by his mother, Mrs. Frank Hughes.

Party rooms were decorated with bouquets of fall garden flowers. Games were played and prizes awarded to Carol Ann Burke, Freddie Coleman, Frankie Mae Morgan and Jodel Hudgins.

Plate favors were miniature baskets filled with novelty candies and gum. White birthday cake iced in pink carried out the party colors. Guests were Frankie Mae Morgan, Carol Ann Burke, Freddie Coleman, Saunders Lane, Jodel Hudgins, Laddie and Jimmy Nelson, Sammy Jo and Ann Robertson, Shirley Russell, Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. Fred Coleman, Mrs. H. O. Hudgins, Mrs. Carter Nelson, Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. E. C. Russell.

ABSORBED IN STUDY — Books are so selected for children at the Howard County Free Library that even first graders find volumes which they can read easily and which are interesting to them. From left to right, those pictured are Susan Landers, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Landers; Mike Jarrett, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jarrett; Raymond Seale, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Seale; and Linda Woodall, 6, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Woodall. Children are encouraged to check out books as soon as they advance from the story age by learning the first steps of reading. Educators point out that this not only stimulates their love for books, but it strengthens immeasurably their ability in the fundamental process of reading.

The drive is in response to urgent appeals on the world food crisis recently made by Pope Pius XII, President Truman and various members of the State Department. More than 15,000 Catholic parishes throughout the United States are expected to participate. Last year a similar campaign sponsored by War Relief Services-NCWN netted more than 28,000,000 cans of food for the peoples of war-stricken areas.

When Herbert Hoover toured Europe as director of President Truman's Famine Emergency Committee, he found that continuous everyday hunger was imperiling the health and lives of 20,000,000 children from the English Channel to the Russian frontier.

"If Europe is to have a future, something must be done about these children," Hoover warned. "Unless they are better fed, many will die and others will grow up with stunted bodies and distorted minds."

The food collected in this campaign, Mr. Edward E. Swanstrom, Executive Director of War Relief Services-N. C. W. C. has announced "Will be distributed to the war-devastated countries without regard to race, creed or color, as a special Thanksgiving gift."

Anyone wishing to contribute food to the campaign program may leave their donations at the Catholic parish.

Visual Aids Stressed In Talks Made Before West Ward P-TA

"Schooling For The Years Ahead" was the topic discussed at the Thursday meeting of the West Ward Parent-Teacher association, with emphasis being put upon observance of National Education Week.

After the devotional conducted by the program chairman, Mrs. W. L. Vaughn, Mrs. H. H. Rutherford, school principal, discussed "The Need of Cooperation and Understanding Between Parents and Teachers."

Mrs. Zollie Mae Rawlins, council radio chairman, presented interesting highlights on radio and visual education, and the use of this procedure in homes and schools as an aid to over-all education. Mrs. Rutherford demonstrated this discussion by showing a film used in the first three grades. A projector and films have recently been received for use in the schools, and the P-TA unit has as its major project the supplying of additional films for all grades.

Mrs. Robert Hill presided for the business session, thanking parents for cooperation in the schools' visitation program. Reports were given by committee chairman, and the membership chairman, Mrs. Marshall Poth, announced that Mrs. E. B. Blackburn's room won the prize in a membership drive. There were 50 members present.

Visiting in the Willard Hendrick home are Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Jones and children, Ann and Frances Kay, of Canyon City, Colo. Mrs. Hendrick and Mrs. Jones are sisters. While in the state, Mr. and Mrs. Jones will also visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jones in Colorado City.

Around 100 persons attended a Parent-Teacher Association banquet at the new Ackery school lunch room Tuesday evening in observance of Armistice.

Food was donated by members and friends, and guests were seated at banquet tables decorated with a patriotic motif. Chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece and places were marked with miniature flags.

The program opened with the group singing "The Star Spangled Banner" under the direction of Kenneth Baggett and Doyle Kelcy, pastor of the Church of Christ, gave the invocation. Mrs. Shelby Read welcomed guests, and Mrs. Kenneth Baggett introduced five students who sang "I Wonder," and "Why Did I Ever Leave Wyoming." Participating were Joyce Cook, Johnette Carr, Dovie Jo

DEAR BILLIE

DISTRACTED MALES LEARN HARD WAY POINTS ON SOCIETY WRITING

(A letter to Miss Billie Burrell, Herald society editor, who has been ill for the past week.)

Dear Billie:

We don't want you to get up before you are well, but we do hope your recovery is rapid. You would be a sight for sore eyes, a balm for jangled nerves, and probably a relief to the female population of this area.

Frankly, this thing has gotten serious. While Leatrice Ross and Rhoda Miller have stepped into the breach, the flood of society news has been such that it has splashed over on us men folk.

Even Publisher Whipkey was engulfed by it and in a distracted moment pecked out a lovely little party piece on pastel paper with the after-thought: "Love that robin in blue!" Wacil McNair has been clinging from the lights, scratching his sides while chattering strange things about "aqua blue," "hip-length," "hem-lines," and "daintily pouring tea."

Tommy Hart has been obliged to bow off the sports throne now and then to service a few items for the society page. It is only with the closest editing that we have been able to avoid wedding stories which read: "Joe Doaks and Susie (Hot-Shot) Schlitz swapped vows in a heated one-round encounter here last night before Rev. Smith, who called the plays."

Although I almost succeeded once in balancing a cup of tea on one boney knee, I confess that someone should have told me that a lace-laid cloth is all-important; that these P-TA meetings get complicated; that Mrs. Jones who attended a party is in reality Mrs. Samuel Jones, who is liked no end because the club reporter thought it improper to ask her husband's name. Adrian Vaughn takes notes uncertainly about centerpieces and profuse fall blossoms.

As we said in the beginning, we don't want to rush your recovery, but the welcome-mat is all brushed up especially for you. It's not that we mind venturing into the never-never land for mere men, but rather a question of how long the women can endure us.

Distractedly, Josephine Pickle on behalf of Wacillette McNair, Roberta Whipkey, Thomasina Hart and Adriana Vaughn.

Pictured above is Mrs. Eugene Long whose marriage August 3 in San Angelo is being announced. Mrs. Long is the former Pauline Stracner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Daniel of Big Spring, and Long is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Long of Knott. The bride is a graduate of Big Spring high school; Long, a graduate of Knott schools, is a veteran of three and one-half years with the Army. The couple will live in Knott.

Club Completes Achievement Tour With Survey Of Homes And Projects

Home Demonstration club women of Howard county Thursday completed a successful two-day achievement tour with inspections of homes and projects from Coahoma to Knott.

Highlighting the day was the dedication of the B. R. Thomason home in Coahoma. There were songs, readings, Scriptures, and appropriate ceremonies blessing the home, with a candlelight ritual climaxing the event. As candles were lighted, they were placed on the mantle, stones for which had been collected from various sections by Mr. and Mrs. Thomason.

Visitors inspected the new home, which contained three large bedrooms, kitchen, bath and connecting garage, and which included many fine appointments. Following the dedication, the group had luncheon at the Thomason home.

At the Ray Swann home the HD women inspected clothing projects, together with improvements such as electrical refrigerator, pump, and a new water well. Rooms had been added to the house, also.

The transformation wrought by remodeling at the home of Mrs. P. Woodson was inspected next. Here visitors saw how a two-room structure had been converted into a home-beautiful of a living room, dining room, kitchen, three bedrooms and a bathroom, all attractively decorated and furnished.

What a 12-year-old girl can do in bedroom beautification was shown graphically at the home of Rose Mary Rice. She made a mattress, added a spring and pillow protectors for her bed, made a rug from a sack and rug yarn, and upholstered a bench from an old chair, papered the room, added a shoe bag, bedspread, and other decorations. Her parents contributed furniture. Capital outlay for improvements was only $12.50.

Similarly, the group saw how Billy Jean Walker had constructed a vanity from orange crates, utilizing two pieces to make twin bed side tables. She also had a clothes closet with shelving for storage. Billy Jean, 13, is in her first year of high school.

At Knott, Mrs. A. H. Self told how she and Mr. Self had wired their home for electricity, and piped it for gas and water, added closets, papered the rooms. Mrs. Self also exhibited dresses she had made for her daughter.

The tour was culminated at the home of Mrs. A. C. Bass in Big Spring, where those in the group urged her to review her achievements in 10 years of club work and dating back to when she lived in Coahoma. Mrs. Bass served tea to the group.

Attending were Mrs. R. H. Unger, Mrs. C. A. Burke, Mrs. Emma Coker, Mrs. Bessie Matthews, Mrs. O. B. Gaskins, Mrs. Joe Myers of Knott; Mrs. W. F. Heckler, Lelia Birkhead, Ruth Martin

Berta Beckett Class Plans Holiday Party

Members of the Berta Beckett class of the First Baptist church completed plans Thursday evening for a Christmas party when they met in regular session at the church.

Mrs. P. D. O'Brien gave the opening prayer, and the devotional was led by Mrs. J. W. Wooten.

The dining table was spread in a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of roses and chrysanthemums.

Guests attending were Mrs. G. M. Long, Mrs. Theo Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. O'Brien and Gloria Freedman. Members present included Mrs. J. F. Sellers, Mrs. C. C. Coffee, Mrs. Jimmy Hancock, Mrs. L. M. Gary, Mrs. R. V. Hart and Mrs. E. B. Kinberlin.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what digestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach" and the "old blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloated and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on 888 Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, great firmness and strength should make you work better, sleep better, feel better, eat better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. 888 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Members of the house party, who alternated in the receiving line, serving, and showing gifts, were attired in pastel evening gowns. These included Mrs. Henry Minton, Mrs. Aaron Alexander, Billy Thomason, Margie Louder, Betty Blissard, Patricia Roquemore, Betty Bennett, Mrs. L. C. Gregg and Bell Jones, Mrs. Henry Minton, the bride's sister, presided at the register.

A bowl of red roses arranged by a crystal punch bowl on a reflector which was centered in an arrangement of ferns and orchid chrysanthemums graced the lace-covered table. Punch and cookies were served.

Betty Blissard gave a reading, "God's Divine Plan For Matrimony."

The bride wore an aqua suit graced by a corsage of sweetheart red roses. Her mother, Mrs. Forth Atchison, wore a teal blue dress, with a red rose corsage. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. B. T. Hill, wore black, and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Lou Ann Henson, wore a teal blue dress.

Out of town guests included the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Bill Bennett of Lubbock; and aunt, Mrs. Will McWhorter of Midland.

LOST 42 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcontrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcontrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here Is Proof

"When I started taking Barcontrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcontrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcontrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old. Before taking Barcontrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcontrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcontrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcontrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me." Mrs. Julia Whitehead, 569 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Drugists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcontrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Motion Pictures Part Of Thesis

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (Sp)—Motion pictures of building a log house will be part of a master's thesis in industrial arts by John J. Hanson, a graduate student at the George Peabody College here.

Hanson, the industrial arts instructor in the manual arts therapy department of the veterans hospital, also will include other pictures of notable log houses in the vicinity and a written history of log houses.

The building pictures are being made in conjunction with construction of a house that he and his wife intend to live in. It is being built of logs more than 100 years old from old houses which Hanson has bought.

Build It Yourself Says Cabinet Maker

CHICAGO, (Sp)—Albert Kochanski figures the pioneer plan for solving the housing problem still has two excellent points. It works, and it's cheap.

Kochanski, 23, a cabinet maker and an ex-serviceman, is building a 30 by 30 foot house near suburban Barrington. The lumber is second hand material, picked up in large part from the attics and basements of friends. He expects his outlay to total no more than $250.

It's Foolish To Run For Horse Car

ST. LOUIS, (Sp)—In the days of St. Louis' horse cars, races between would-be passengers and the streetcar steeds must have been everyday occurrences. Rule 29 in the old drivers' manual of the Lindell Railway Company was as follows:

"After passing Fifth street going east do not stop for passengers to get on; trot your horses east of Fourth street, if necessary, to prevent passengers from catching the car."

Tires For Greeks

ATHENS, (Sp)—To augment Greece's transportation system the American Mission for Aid to Greece will purchase 33,000 tires and 20,000 tubes valued at $1,450,000, for trucks and buses from the U. S., Great Britain, France, India, and South Africa.

Importation of an additional $100,000 worth of tires and tubes for passenger cars is expected soon.

This May Be Going A Bit Too Far

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

In a farm community near Wooster, Ohio, Andrew Yoder stood well with his fellow-Amishmen, an offshoot of the Mennonite sect, until Andrew bought an automobile to transport his sick daughter the 15 miles into Wooster for medical treatment.

That was contrary to good Amish doctrine, which forbids its members to own or operate such sinful new devices of the devil as automobiles, telephones, electrical gadgets and other modern conveniences. (Andrew seems to have switched over to a more liberal branch of the Amish faith before taking his fateful step.)

So church officials put the "mole" on Andrew Yoder. The mole is the equivalent, in Amish lingo, of the ostracism of the old Greeks and the boycott of more modern times. Amish people were forbidden to do business with Andrew, and proceeded to shun him in a business and social way.

Finally, after five years, Andrew Yoder took the matter to court. The cause was heard before a jury of three women and nine men at Wooster with voluminous testimony from both sides. Andrew sought $40,000 damages. The jury agreed quickly that Andrew should be indemnified but disagreed widely on the amount due him. Displaying unusual intelligence for a jury, they added all the separate amounts together and divided by twelve. It came out $5,000, so Andrew was awarded that sum against the four church officials cited as chiefly responsible for putting the "shun" on him.

The moral of this little tale seems to be that while a religious sect has the undoubted right to prescribe the form of worship and exact complete compliance from its members, it has no right to pursue a stray sheep to his hurt and detriment. The plaintiff no doubt felt the chill of ostracism quite as acutely as the economic strain of having to forego all commerce with his neighbors. The jury felt this was going too far, and so held; and just by way of emphasis, the court joined the churchmen, from issuing any new miles-against anybody, and ordered them to call off any miles they may now have in operation.

Who was it said, "Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you?"

How To Send Voluntary Aid

WASHINGTON, W.—Many people, on their own, are sending relief to people in other countries.

They're sending it in money, food and clothing to individuals and groups at a rate of more than $12,000,000 a month.

Maybe this will help if you want to send some but don't know how:

In some cases you, yourself, can send by parcel post. Otherwise, gifts may be sent through a foreign relief agency. There are more than 70 such agencies.

Suppose you want to send through an agency but don't know what agency, or how to get in touch with the one you have in mind. Then do this:

Write for information to the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid, Room 736, at 1776 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C.

This committee is a kind of over-all agency or clearing house for most information dealing with agencies sending foreign relief.

Just remember: those agencies—with one exception to be noted later—send relief, such as food and clothing, to groups and not to individuals.

Suppose you want to send clothes or food to some individual or group, whose name and address you know, in a foreign country.

You, yourself, can send the relief by parcel post up to a certain number of pounds. Parcel post can be sent to almost every country. Ask your local postoffice about that.

So far this example has dealt with food or clothes which you have bought or picked out to send.

But suppose you would like to pay for food or clothes to be sent to some individual or group abroad.

You can send $10 to C A R E—the full name is Co-operative for American Remittances to Europe, Inc.—at 50 Broad street, New York City.

C A R E has various kinds of packages of food and clothing already packed for sending abroad.

If you know the name of the individual or group to whom you want such a package sent, write to C A R E and enclose $10.

If you want to send two packages, send $20, and so on.

Through C A R E you can also send to a type of individual without knowing his name.

Suppose you want to help out in a more general way. Say you want to send help to the Italian people.

You can send food or clothing to the agency which is handling relief for Italy. Or you can send the agency the money to buy the food or clothing.

If you don't know how to get in touch with that agency, ask the advisory committee on voluntary foreign aid.

(Don't send the advisory committee on voluntary foreign aid any money. It only provides information.)

Suppose you wanted to send food or clothing to Catholic French orphans. Get in touch with the Catholic agency handling relief.

But you say: I want to send money to a friend or relative. You can send the money through a bank draft on your local bank. Ask your bank about it.

(There are two exceptions: you can't transfer cash to Germany; and money sent to Japan must be handled through the National City Bank of New York.)

All this information came from the advisory committee on voluntary foreign aid.

Scotty And The Cats

NEW YORK, W.—Men do strange things for love. For a while the hotel let him keep his three cats in his tiny room, but the manager some months ago told him this violated board of health rules.

Scotty took the cats to a pet shop which charges him $1.50 a day to board and keep them. He's currently $94 in hock to the pet shop, and he said he can't go up to see the cats unless he pays something on the bill.

Worried over their fate if anything befell him, Scotty evolved his great dream.

"If I can just find good homes for my cats until next spring so I won't have to keep paying the veterinarian I'll be all set," he said.

"Then when the weather warms up I can go across the country and perform with my cats. I'll have 15,000 postcards printed and sell them. That'll give me the rest of the money I need."

"I'll sail from San Francisco for Australia and leave one cat with my sister who lives at Coozee, near Sydney.

"Then I'll go on to New Zealand and leave another cat with my sister who lives there. And then I'll sail for Scotland and leave the last cat with my brother who is a pawnbroker in Dumbarton, near where I was born."

"I figure the trip will be 19,000 miles. Who ever went that far before to give cats away?"

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Wall Street Tax Cut Finagles

ABOARD THE FRIENDSHIP TRAIN. — Just before I left Washington, Congressman Harold Knutson's special tax study committee made front-page headlines by recommending drastic tax reductions. But neither the headlines nor the newspaper stories revealed the manueverings which underlay this tax proposal.

Here is the inside story of what happened. Leading members of Knutson's self-appointed tax study committee are Roswell Magill, prominent Wall St. tax attorney; J. Cheever Cowdin, who lists more big corporate directorates after his name than most people in "Who's Who"; and John W. Hanes, who is pretty close to Cowdin as a baron of big business.

The committee report, written by Magill, was printed at the taxpayers' expense on the finest paper money can buy. Its release was also carefully engineered so it would get the headlines. Meanwhile, the papers barely mentioned the fact that Matthew Woll, American Federation of Labor official, had vigorously dissented.

Significantly, though Woll is a member of the same tax committee, his dissenting report was printed on ordinary paper and made to look as unimportant as possible. Furthermore, the two reports were not issued together.

This caused an inquiry from Congressman Alime J. Forand, Democrat, of Rhode Island.

"Why is it," he asked Magill, "that the majority and minority reports are not printed together, as is the usual custom?" Magill replied that he had not known until October 31 that a minority report was going to be filed. The Wall Street lawyer, however, was not telling exactly the truth. Actually, he knew this on October 21.

At the final meeting of the tax-study group October 21, Magill was informed by Arthur Elder, Woll's alternate on the committee, that Woll was unequivocally opposed to the Wall Street-slanted tax report and would file a minority report of his own.

Immediately, Congressman Knutson, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, tried to persuade Woll to change his mind. He asked him to talk to Magill. Finally, on October 29, still nearly a week before the tax report was released, AFL Leader Woll agreed to talk to Wall Street lawyer Magill.

The meeting got nowhere. Woll had already written his minority report and handed it to Magill to be printed. This caused Magill to hit the ceiling. He was so angry when he failed to persuade Woll to keep silent that he refused to print the AFL leader's minority report at all.

Furthermore, he then manuevered to discredit the Woll report.

MANEUVERING
Magill is a shrewd past master at the art of getting Wall Street's tax viewpoint before the public. So, after it was decided to give the tax reports to the press, Magill carefully inserted a new sentence into his own report. It was a sentence filled with sweet platitudes for low-income taxpayers, but it actually meant nothing. It was also calculated to get the headlines.

And when Magill called his press conference, he read the new sentence only this added sentence: "We recommend a reduction in individual income-tax rates for all, with due regard for the cost of living of those in the lower-income groups, and for the needs of the balance of economy."

Furthermore, Magill gave newsmen permission to release that sentence immediately. This was clever strategy, for Magill knew that the newsmen could not violate the release date on the dissenting tax report issued by AFL Leader Matt Woll.

Result: First newspaper dispatches blared forth the welcome news that Magill's committee favored substantial tax reduction for low-income groups. Not until long after Magill's carefully timed publicity had hit the front pages did anyone wake up to the fact the Magill and his Wall Street advisers had concocted tax recommendations riddled with loopholes all in favor of people making more than $5,000.

For instance, cleverly concealed in the recommendation to Congress is the fact that the kind of "reduction in individual income-tax rates for all" so cleverly concocted by Wall Street's able tax attorney Roswell Magill.

FIGHTING AMBASSADOR
There are all kinds of ambassadors in the Washington diplomatic corps, from career white-spatters to men who have been through hell-fire and brimstone, Italian Ambassador Alberto Tarchiani, a visitor on the Friendship Train, is one of the latter.

Even if you didn't know his background, a study of Tarchiani's face would make you realize that, somewhere in his past, this man had fought and suffered for principles in which he very much believed.

That battle began shortly after Mussolini came into power. Most Italians bowed to the black shirts. But Tarchiani fled even as early as 1925. He has been fighting back at fascism, either with his typewriter or otherwise, ever since.

Living in France, Tarchiani tried to keep the spirit of democracy alive in Italy, through articles smuggled across the border. Occasionally, he slipped out of exile, back to his own country, for harrowing experiences.

In 1929 it was Tarchiani who led the daring midnight rescue of three political prisoners from the Lipari islands. He crossed the Mediterranean in a motorboat, dodging Italian patrols all the way to Africa to stage this getaway. Later, it was Tarchiani who organized an airplane flight over Milan to scatter antifascist propaganda.

Crosby, Fitzgerald Teamed Again In 'Welcome Stranger'

The twosome that captured the public's fancy in the very successful "Going My Way" are booked for a repeat performance together in Paramount's "Welcome Stranger" starting today at the Ritz theatre.

Beautiful Joan Caulfield co-starring with Bing and Barry, lends romance to the light-hearted, tenderly human comedy, "Welcome Stranger." Elliott Nugent's direction has the film flowing from one enchanting sequence to the next. "Welcome Stranger" tells a story as earthy as the smell of new mown hay. It is a tale of a typically American town and typical Americans. Into this particular community, a young, carefree doctor, snappily dressed and with a ready TOGETHER AGAIN — Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald (above) are going your way in this scene from "Welcome Stranger" on the Ritz theatre screen today.

IN JOE HOWARD BIOGRAPHY — Mark Stevens and June Haver (above) are starred in the State theatre attraction beginning today, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," the life story of troubadour Joe Howard.

Film Biography Of Celebrated Songster Featured At State

Producer George Jessel was challenged recently when he made the statement: "Biographies should not be filmed until the subject has long since left life's scene, so that he or she can be lied about comfortably. The scenario writer must not be contemporary with the undertaker."

Jessel produced Twentieth Century-Fox's "The Dolly Sisters" when one of the famed pair still lived. His latest Technicolor production, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," which co-stars June Haver and Mark Stevens, and opens today at the State Theatre, revolves around the celebrated troubadour, Joseph E. Howard, who, at 80, is still very much in the entertainment limelight.

"The films," points out Jessel, "were based not only on the lives of the principals, but on the music and the time during which it was written and performed as well!" Jessel makes the point clear in the brief foreword he penned for "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," in which Mark Stevens plays "Joe Howard," and June Haver, Martha Stewart and Lenore Aubert are the girls in the composer's life:

"I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" is a story based on the glamorous life of that romantic

HIGHLIGHTS ON KBST

'Town Meeting' To Be Aired From German Occupation Zone

In the first verbal exchange between segments of the American and German public since before the war, the ABC-KBST broadcast of America's Town Meeting will feature a two-way broadcast between Berlin and New York Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. with a forum discussion of "What Future for Germany?"

Under the supervision in Berlin of the American Military Government, a screened German audience will attend the broadcast in the Onkel Toms Hütte Theater where two speakers, Maj. Gen. George F. Hays, deputy military governor of Germany in the U. S. zone, and a German civilian will broadcast from the platform. Dr. Gregor Zeimer, educational director of Town Hall, who flew to Germany this week, will preside over the broadcast from Berlin.

PAUL WHITEMAN
Phil Silvers and Nanette Fabray starring in the Broadway musical, "High Button Shoes," will visit the KBST broadcast of the Paul Whiteman Club Monday at 2:30 p. m., to chat with club prexy "Pops" Whiteman and introduce the new "High Button Shoes" record album on which he and Miss Fabray both are featured prominently.

Two Jack Smiths, one the "Whispering" Smith of the twenties, and the present day Jack Smith, will be heard on records. The first, or "hushed-voice" Smith, will be represented by a platter of 22 years ago, the other by a record made a few months ago.

"GREATEST STORY"
An absolute monarch who reigned almost 2,000 years ago and who was thought by his people to be a harsh and tyrannical ruler is taught by The Master to be a just and wise sovereign in "All Ye Are Brethren," the dramatization to be heard during the KBST broadcast of The Greatest Story Ever Told, this afternoon at 5:30 p. m.

Advised by his chief counsellor to sign an order for the execution of nearly 100 of his subjects who rebelled against a harsh decree, the king, recalling the words of The Master, not only sets his subjects free but repeals the decree.

Sunday's dramatization is based on the text from Matthew 23:8, 9, 10 and 11: "All ye are brethren. For one is your Father, which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters: for one is your master, even Christ. He that is greatest among you shall be your servant."

LOVESICK POSTMAN JAILED FOR TRYING TO WOO PEER'S DAUGHTER

LONDON, Nov. 15. (AP)—A lovesick postman has been ordered jailed for trying to court the unwilling daughter of a peer.

Short, bespectacled Richard Harrison, 34, who delivered mail to the home of Lord and Lady Norton of Fillongley, Warwickshire, fell in love with the Hon. Mary Norton, 25, and took to walking into his lordship's hall unannounced to ask her to go for walks.

A week ago Lord Norton obtained a court order banning him from the mansion for life. Accused of violating the order, Harrison was ordered committed today for contempt of court. When the court asked what excuse he had, he replied:

"I'm in love with his lordship's daughter — that's sufficient excuse."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Building Character

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for November 16 is II Peter; Jude; Luke 2:40-52, the Memory Verse being Luke 2:40, "And the Child grew, and waxed strong, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him.")

Peter, in his second epistle to his fellow Christians, reminds them that they have become "partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust."

"And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity."

"For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ."

These are the steps in building a Christian character. We have all the materials needed, but they must be assembled according to the laws that govern them so that they will stand the buffetings of life, just as a building made of wood, brick or stone must be erected according to the laws of physics so that, when built, it will not collapse when storms blow.

What does it mean to be "fruitful?" In a tree the leaves, bark, wood, branches and blossoms are all for the tree's welfare, but the fruit is the product of the tree's life and helps the health, enjoyment, strength and enrichment of mankind.

Virtue is for our own good, but if we follow the advice Peter gives in his letter, and "add to godliness brotherly kindness, and to brotherly kindness charity," we will be fruitful; we cannot help it. We will help others and convert them to our own faith by our lives.

Peter's Time Short

Peter writes thus because he knows his time on earth is short and he wants his friends to remember his words when he is gone.

The epistle of Jude (who is, he says, brother of James, and therefore a member of the family of Joseph and Mary of Nazareth, brother of Jesus), is occupied with the question of those who have fallen away from the faith, "ungodly men," and the fate that is in store for them. "Woe unto them!" he writes, "for they have gone in the way of Cain," etc.

Again we have the story of Jesus' boyhood, one of the very few related in the Bible: Every year at passover time Joseph and Mary left their home in Nazareth and joined a pilgrimage to Jerusalem. When Jesus was twelve years old they took Him with them.

When the passover was over, or, as Luke tells us, "when they had fulfilled the days," they started back home, but Jesus, unnoticed by them, stayed behind in Jerusalem. Joseph and Mary supposed Jesus was with other members of the company also returning to Nazareth or other places near by, so when He did not join them they began a search "among their kinsfolk and acquaintance."

Not finding Him, they turned their steps again to Jerusalem, looking for Him. For three days they searched for their son doubtless ill from worry. At last they found Him in the temple, "sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions."

Amazed at finding Him there and seeing how familiar He was with these learned men of the temple, His mother said to Jesus: "Son, why hast Thou thus dealt with us? behold, Thy father and I have sought Thee sorrowing."

Quite unconscious that He had caused His parents worry, Jesus answered simply: "How is it that ye sought Me? wist ye not that I must be about My Father's business?"

This is the first intimation that Jesus knew of His divine mission on earth, and that He expected that His earthly parents understood it too.

But they "understood not the saying which He spoke unto them." He went with them back to Nazareth and was a dutiful son thereafter. "But His mother kept all these sayings in her heart," and pondered them while the boy Jesus "increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."

WEEK'S BUSINESS

AAF Building Development Hikes Permits

Building permit demands were bolstered again last week by development of surplus buildings from the Army Airfield, although a number of the structures already have been moved. Permits this week include several for remodeling buildings that have been moved from the post to permanent sites in the city. Two new residential projects also were listed among the 20 permits which accounted for a total estimated cost of $21,250. The city's building total for the year is $976,950.

There were only five warranty deeds filed with the county clerk during the past week, a substantial decrease from the previous week's list. Total consideration involved in the transactions amounted to $2,610. The current warranty deed total for the year is $1,737,719.

An increase in new motor vehicle deliveries was indicated by registrations at the county tax assessor-collector's office. Licenses were issued during the week for 20 new passenger vehicles, five trucks and three motorcycles.

Country Club Calls For Bids On Remodeling

Approval of architects' plans and specifications for enlargement and remodeling of the Big Spring Country club building was voted by club directors Friday night, and the board is asking for contractors' bids.

Bids will be received until December 14, it was announced, when the directors are to meet to consider contract awards. Copies of plans and specifications may be obtained at the clubhouse or from Puckett & French, architects on the project.

Plans are to add a wing to each end of the present building, using the officers' mess building at the old AAF field which the club purchased. A general re-arrangement of the floor layout is contemplated, with extensive remodeling throughout. The work is to be financed by club member contributions.

When telegraph lines were built across the Great Plains of the United States in conjunction with the first transcontinental railroad, hostile Indians long took care not to disturb the wires, regarding them as the "talking medicine of the Great Spirit."
