With Our Boys In The Service

EDITOR'S NOTE—This column will be devoted to news of the men and women in the service. If you have any news regarding them, we would appreciate getting it.

Donald and Kenneth Kaiser, sons of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Kaiser of the Clara community, were inducted into the United States Army on the same day, Tuesday, March 2, at a widely separated stations. Donald Kaiser, a member of the reserve corps at St. John's College, Winfield, Kansas, where he had been a student of the college for the past two years, reported to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Kenneth Kaiser of this city reported to the induction center at Camp Wolters, Texas.

Pvt. Duain Province of Camp Wolters, Texas, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Lottie Marshall. Pvt. Province has lived in Burk Burnett and vicinity all his life and was inducted in the service of the United States Army on December 22. This became his first visit home since his induction and received his pass on the merits of having passed a strict inspection. He was among five of the boys of his platoon to pass the inspection.

T-1st, Marvin B. D. Farar, having successfully completed his three months course at the Air Force Officer Candidate School at Miami Beach, Florida, has received his commission as 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Forces of the United States. He will be to direct vital and administrative and supply operations of the rapidly expanding Army Air Forces ground forces, relieving trained pilots for long flying duty.

Civilian Lieut. Farar lived at 314 W. First St., Burk Burnett, Texas. His wife, Mrs. Alice Farar, lives at 105 Montrose Blvd., San Antonio, Texas.

Edward Lawrence Bankhead of this city was accepted at the Naval Recruiting Office in Wichita Falls, last Friday and was sent to Dallas to be enlisted for the duration as an apprentice seaman.

Word from Mrs. Lee Bryant this week states that her husband, who is in the army, and she says the Burk guys to come to Fort Knox and grab a tank and get this war over.

J. M. Mathews received word this week that two of his nephews, sons of C. A. Logan of Georgetown, have received promotions. George Albert Logan was promoted from Captain to Major, and Robert Lee Logan was promoted from Second Lieutenant to a Captaincy. Both young men are graduates of the college.

Mrs. Gladys Netherlain writes that her brother J. L. (Junior) Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of this city is now stationed at Fort George Wright, Wash., and would like to receive letters from his former schoolmates and friends here. His address is 852 Service Co. Another brother, Cecil, is on the M. P. and is stationed at Fort Myer, Va., and across the Potomac River from Washington.

Pvt. Jack Hinnant writes his mother that he has landed safely in the Hawaiian Islands. He joined the army Nov. 5th, and arrived in the Islands Dec. 6th.

Samuel Cope of the U. S. Marine Corps, of New Orleans, La., is visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cope.

LIONS CLUB

James Caffee and Wayne Smith had the program and introduced Harvey Bentley who is in our community. He is with the Army Engineers in Panama Canal Zone. He had all about the climate and living conditions in Central America. He was asked to be sent to Africa on his next assignment.

Harold VanLoh Elected Secretary-Treasurer of Owens - Brumley B. A.

A CHALLENGE

Among the Red Cross War Fund subscriptions thus far received is one that bears a challenge to every citizen of our community.

One man, as a measure of his devotion and sacrifice toward his fellowman has given exactly ONE FULL DAY'S PAY to the Red Cross. Others have perhaps done as much or more but to those who haven't this is a distinct challenge.

Will you, in the pride of your country and our American way of life, make this same sacrifice? Will you give one full day's salary, or the equivalent thereof, to your Red Cross? Your money and help is sorely needed.

Auto License Sale Ahead of Last Year

With less than four weeks left for purchase of 1943 Texas automobile license tags without penalty, sale of the plates in Burk Burnett is ahead of last year at this time, according to Ray Hill, assistant tax collector for this precinct.

Midnight, April 1, is deadline for operation of motor vehicles without the new tabs, which must be attached to the 1942 license plates to validate the same for another year.

Hill warns soldiers and others operating motor vehicles with 1942 plates from other states that they must apply for a Texas certificate of title when buying the Texas tags and suggests that they do not wait until the last-minute rush to do so.

Wichita County citizens seeking to register their cars for the new year should bring along their certificates of title and the 1942 registration receipts. Residents from other states must bring the certificates of title issued in the state where the motor vehicle was registered last year.

Program Chairman Takes Over The Rotary Hour

Carl Morrison, Rotary program chairman, took over the entertainment at the Rotary Club Tuesday when the regular program failed to arrive, and did a good job of it.

"Gloomy Gus," taken by Burn Alexander, read a number of reasons why Rotary clubs and other civic and social clubs should disband, and the answers on why they should not disband were given by Carl. After this debate Carl conducted a quiz program along the lines of Noel Webster Says: Giving the definition of a word, and the members of the club was to tell him what the word was. Both parts of the program was very interesting.

President Davis announced that next week would be election of officers for the ensuing year and urged every member to be present.

Alvin Hill had as his guest Harold VanLoh, and the following Rotarians from Wichita Falls made up their attendance here, Bryan Lovelace, Chas. J. Tucker, Tom Boston and Edd Bebb.

At the annual meeting of the members of the Owens-Brumley Benefit Association held in February, Harold VanLoh was elected Secretary-Treasurer, succeeding the late J. H. Brumley, who had served in that capacity since its organization some eight years ago.

Mr. VanLoh is the son-in-law of the late J. H. Brumley, and has been closely associated with the company since its start, and is thoroughly familiar with every phase of the operation of the association. He is well qualified and trained for his new duties.

He has lived in Burk Burnett all his life. He was raised on his father's farm west of town, and has done his share of hard work, helping his father with the farm work before and after school. He graduated from high school in 1925, and went to work in the Farmers State Bank where his diligent attention to duty soon won him the respect of his employers and the patrons of the bank.

His promotions came rapidly and he served for two years as cashier and for four years as vice-president. When the First National Bank and Farmers State Bank were merged he was elected cashier of the First National Bank, which position he held at the time of his election as secretary-treasurer of the Owens-Brumley Association.

Mr. VanLoh is active in church work, is a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and is always willing to devote his time and money to any worthy cause for the betterment of Burk Burnett.

Baptist Revival To Start Sunday

REV. A. E. HARRISON

Burk Far Short Red Cross Goal

Approximately $600 of the $2900 goal set for Burk Burnett has been subscribed to the Red Cross War Fund Drive so far with only a portion of the return being in.

Inclement weather has proved a severe handicap the past week but it is hoped that the coming week will prove more favorable.

Any individual who has not been contacted for their subscription in this drive is urged to see either Roy Magers or Al Lohofener and leave their pledge.

The Red Cross headquarters which has not been opened on account of the weather, will be opened Saturday, and the public is invited to see the examples of Red Cross work displayed in the Smith Dry Goods store building windows.

Mike Begun 80 Years Young Last Sunday

Mike Begun passed a quite birthday last Sunday. He was in town and at home receiving congratulations and good wishes from his many friends on his 80th birthday.

Mike states that he is 80 years young and is wanting to get into some kind of defense work. His age keeps him out of the army but he feels there is something he can do to help whip the Nazis and Japs. He is very active for a man of his age and is enjoying splendid health.

Mike is a native of Russia and was formerly an officer in the Imperial Russian Army. He says that Germany cannot win this war for the Russians are plenty tough. Mike was born at Brest Litovsk, and attended military school at Muken, near his home town.

SCRAP COLLECTIONS TOP QUOTA

Scrap collections of iron and steel during the last six months of 1942 were 95.7 per cent of the national quota of 17,000,000 tons. Total visible stocks of iron and steel scrap were 7,760,000 net tons at the end of the year, substantially in excess of the 7,000,000 net tons of stocks which was the objective set last summer.

Services Will Be Conducted By Rev. Harrison; Singing Will Be Led By Joe Trussell of Brownwood, Texas

Sunday School, 9:45.
Preaching Services, 11:00.
Training Union, 7:00.
Preaching Services, 8:00.

The hour of the revival will arrive Sunday morning, March 14. Are you ready for a revival? Do you want a revival? Are you willing to do your part and pay the price for a revival?

We are to remember no revival ever came by accident. Somebody, somewhere paid the price. Maybe it was through long hours of agonizing prayers, or reconstruction, or reeducation, or maybe it was just obeying the orders of the Holy Spirit but whatever it was it was paid.

Now we can have a revival, or we can have a series of services. Which do you prefer? Which does the christian people need? When twenty-five hundred of 3500 people are in nobody's Sunday School and preaching services every Sunday, as they are in Burk Burnett, it looks as if we need an old time revival.

The same Christ that promised a revival and gave to the disciples a revival, on the Day of Pentecost, will give us a revival. The same Holy Spirit, that wrought conviction in the hearts of the three thousand on the day of the Pentecost can do the same again in this 20th Century.

We shall have the revival we want to pray for. Can the Lord, the Church, and all depend upon you?

May we give to all christians of our town a special welcome to worship with us during the revival Services twice daily—10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

We urge you to let the Lord use you for His benefit. Win somebody to Christ, the church, and a life of service—Thrice welcome to all our services.

Superintendent And Principals Are Re-Elected

The Burk Burnett Independent School District board members met last Thursday night and re-elected Ralph Davis, superintendent for a two-year term. D. F. Douglas was re-elected principal of the High School, and I. C. Evans was re-elected principal of the Grade School.

They also voted to give each teacher who has been with the school for the past full term and 8 per cent bonus.

They also ordered an election for three school trustees to take place April 3.

School Children Start Campaign to Buy Army Jeeps

Burk Burnett school children started this week a campaign to buy more bonds and stamps in the schools.

The campaign was inaugurated Wednesday of this week and will last through April 20, and any school in Texas which sells $900 in war stamps and bonds over the six-week period will be given a special certificate from the U. S. Treasury Department, showing they have purchased bonds in amount to buy an army jeep. The program is nation-wide and affects all Texas schools, Ralph Davis, superintendent of schools, said.

D. F. Douglas, principal of the High School, and I. C. Evans, principal of the grade school, states that the children of Burk Burnett would have no trouble in raising the money for bonds and stamps to purchase at least one jeep for the high school and grade school.

Since the first of the year high school students have purchased $1,754.35 worth of stamps and bonds, and the grade school has purchased $2,100.00 worth.

35 Mile Speed Limit Not Legal

Texas' 35-mile-an-hour speed limit restriction, put into effect by the Highway Commission to conserve rubber in keeping with the national plan, was held invalid last week by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann. Mann said the Commission had no authority to make such a regulation.

BURKBURNETT, MARCH 11, 1943

Post-War Security

It is very necessary that we plan now for stabilization after the war, that we assure the fighting men of today that their place in a post-war world will be one of security. They must be assured of employment, of self-support in the post-war era.

Let us take the story of Joe which incidentally is actually a true account of a man that tried to adjust himself after World War 1. Joe in 1917 left a flourishing and prosperous country to see actual duty in foreign service. In something like a year and a half, he came back with a grim picture of war stamped vividly upon his brain, to a nation still prospering upon the spoils of war. Joe bought a farm with the intention of establishing himself financially for he realized that he must soon adjust himself in gaining monetary stabilization. Joe's heart occasionally did queer things and his lungs, too, warned him that all was not well, so Joe dove into the business quickly freeing himself of debt and then—everyone knows what happened. Before Joe or anyone else could do anything about it, the bottom dropped from under everything. Those whose hearts and lungs still functioned properly and those whose brain did not have an indelible imprint of the battlefield were able to take it. Discouraged and rapidly failing, Joe couldn't quite face it. All the other Joes that took matters into their own hands they could not be held responsible for their acts but, those in whose hands had been placed the business of establishing national affairs have been deemed accountable for the fate of similar other Joes.

What national order are we to establish when we have won a victory? Another Joe will return and he must have a place to securely readjust himself. We must have employment and a stabilized pattern for those fighting men that are to return and it cannot be put off until peace terms have been signed. President Roosevelt has recognized the need for a post-war social security—have we so quickly forgotten the fate of Joe that we cannot see the immediate necessity of a national and world order of sound adjustment?

Those men are expecting a great deal upon their return—we cannot, must not fail them at the last.

Home Stocks and Rationed Food

With the coming point food rationing is also coming a certain amount of criticism directed toward the great quantities of farm canned food stuffs. Some have even been so critical as to resent the fact that farm homes share the same privileges in point rationing as those city homes that do not have access to garden products for canning. In other words, Mrs. Defense Worker who does not have the time to can even though she had the products, must abide by her point book while Mrs. Farmer abides by her well stocked cellar as well as her point ration book. The question arises—Is this fair? But apparently those questioning do not stop to think or even consider the necessity of food rationing.

In the first place, Mrs. Farmer, who has five hundred quarts of vegetables isn't likely to spend her points as well as her needed money for commercially canned beans and corn. Therefore, by having five hundred quarts of vegetables, Mrs. Farmer is contributing five hundred quarts of food to the armed services and to lend-lease simply because she will not take that equivalent from stocks of commercially canned food. Because Mrs. Defense Worker does not have five hundred quarts of vegetables and therefore is not contributing to lend-lease and therefore is not contributing to lend-lease and to the armed services, she must abide by a ration principle in order to share with the needs of the rest of the world. The more additional quarts of food that Mrs. Farmer cans just means that much more food saved and contributed to the war effort. Thus, we urge and then praise the nation's farm producers and preservers. Mrs. Defense Worker should remember that if Mrs. Farmer had not canned that five hundred quarts of food, she would have had less food for her own required points. She should very well thank her country cousin for her effort instead of critically wondering if she is being fairly treated. Criticism like everything else must be constructive and well directed—this form of criticism is distinctly not with order. More and more we need food. We must encourage every effort in that direction.

The Army and Production

Mesdames Chiang Kai-shek sharply declared that the "Chinese cannot fight with their bare hands," and she also stated that China had trained pilots and manpower but that she did not have planes and gasoline. Russia is asking for fighting equipment and food and England having placed her manpower in arms has declared her great need for food—can we maintain an eleven million man army and at the same time supply such demands for food and equipment? We might well question the fact that although we have a trained army in Africa, they are lacking in equipment—why build a larger army if the one we have is not sufficiently supplied? Apparently Congress is pondering this complex problem of building a larger fighting force and still maintaining an efficient home fighting front. The president has said that we must follow the example of Russia by drafting women and school children for factory and farm work but Russia is not supplying an army in Africa or on Gaudalcanal. We have to take into consideration the great quantities of food and equipment that are bound to come to rest upon the ocean bed. We must produce an excess in order to insure a certain amount successfully reaching its needed destination.

China does not ask for manpower or food—she asks for equipment. Africa needs food, so does Russia and England. We have a tremendous responsibility in meeting these obligations. Perhaps we can end this war decisively with eleven million men, but those men must have guns and food—eleven million men can mean nothing without food under their belts or without guns in their hands.

Burk Burnett History

As revealed by the files of The Star 10 and 20 years ago.

20 YEARS AGO—

Mrs. L. Welsh entertained a party of friends and neighbors Tuesday evening in special honor of her husband's birthday celebration. The pretty home on the St. Clair lease was fittingly arranged and the chief amusement of the occasion was games of bridge, in which Jingle Hayes won high score among the gentlemen, and Mrs. Bohner, among the ladies.

A fire which originated in a trash basket, was discovered in the large grocery store of the Davis Cash Store Tuesday night about 10 o'clock. It brought out the fire company, but was soon extinguished by individual parties, who broke in the front door, and cast the blazing receptacle into the street.

At a meeting of the City Council Thursday evening of last week it was voted to buy the sewer system from C. O. Walling and associates, provided the sewer company would extend the drain line through the 20 foot rise which separates it from the river, and further, that the city had bonds which could be used for this purpose or could issue warrants for the extension of the system to all parts of the city, the purchase price being $40,000.00.

A. R. Thomas, who has charge of the Rotary Knot-Hole Gang went to Wichita Falls yesterday and arranged for our boys to have the same privilege as the Knot-Hole gang of Wichita Falls, free of admission to all league games on all days with exception of Saturdays and Sunday.

10 YEARS AGO—

Local banks will open today for limited activities, according to bank officials. They will be prepared to cash a few government checks. They will cash payroll checks provided that the paying bank certifies that the company is in good standing and has necessary funds. No word has been received as to what percentage of withdrawals will be permitted to handle local checks.

City Commissioners of Burk Burnett formally accepted from J. G. Hardin a gift of a municipal light plant in a called meeting yesterday afternoon according to an announcement from Ross Reagan, city manager. This is the final step in legal proceedings on the part of the city to acquire a power plant, a project which had long been in the minds of local citizens.

A City-wide clean-up and paint-up campaign and a yard and garden contest will be stressed by the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce for this month, according to plans outlined Monday. Clean-up campaign will begin next Monday morning and continue for one month, with the city cooperating.

C. J. Duncan and H. Lee Clifton were re-elected principals of the high school and elementary school respectively at a meeting of the Board of Education Thursday night of last week. Mr. Duncan is completing his tenth year in the Burk Burnett schools, serving as principal of the high school for the last five years. Mr. Clifton has been in the local public schools system during the last eight years.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Just one more question before you go, Judge. What is this thing called propaganda you hear so much talk about these days?"

"I'll give you an example, Hank. Last night I was reading an interesting little book called 'Hitler is in Favor'. It told how Hitler would very much like to see Americans fighting among themselves over prohibition because that would create disunity, waste the time of Congress and legislatures in wet-dry arguments and cripple our war effort. It also mentioned a booklet written about Hitler's government telling how Hitler's gang wants to maintain contact with foreign temperance organizations and how it contributes annually to an international temperance union.

"You can bet Hitler isn't interested in easing prohibition advanced in our country for any reason except that he knows it's a good way to stir up trouble. That's what they mean by propaganda, Hank."

ABOUT

Scientists have determined that rubber latex as it drips from the tree is about 60 per cent water, 30 per cent chemically pure rubber, the balance resins, minerals, vitamins and sugars.
Clothing made water-proof by the use of rubber was being sold in England as early as 1791.
Heads of the five and ten cent variety have a stronger influence than ordinary currency in encouraging the Yumbo Indians of Ecuador's Oriente jungle to haul rubber out from the waters of the Amazon. Next to beads, pens and neckties put the "go" in the Yumbo.
The first rubber to be imported into the U. S. was in the form of water bottles. They came direct from the Amazon district.
A full grown Hevea rubber tree averages 30 to 60 feet in height and its average life is 40 years or more.

LESSON

Lesson for March 14

IN THE UPPER ROOM

LESSON TEXT—John 13:12-20; 14:1-6.
GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no one cometh unto the Father, but by me.—John 14:6.

Calvary and crucifixion were just ahead. Jesus gathered His disciples for a time of communion and instruction as they spent their last evening together. On the morrow would come betrayal, but now they and their Lord were together in the upper room.

But even here strife and dissension had apparently come in. There was probably some difference of opinion as to who should have the place of honor. To teach them the virtue of humility Jesus gave them an example, after which He continued with the precious counsel and prayer which are found in John 14 to 17.

Our lesson presents three things which our Lord gave to His disciples and to us (see John 17:20):

I. His Example—"Do as I Have Done" (13:12-20).

The act of Jesus in washing the disciples' feet placed Him, their Lord and Teacher, on the level of the most menial servant. It was an astonishing thing that He did, lowering Himself below their level to serve them.

His application of the object lesson was equally startling. "Ye call me Teacher and Lord, and ye say well," said He. Then as learners and servants He required of them the humility which would make them eager to do lowly service in His name.

II. His Assurance—"If I Go I Will Come Again" (14:1-3).

Following His resurrection Jesus was to go to the Father. He wanted them to be prepared for that time by making known to them the fact of His coming again. In that day His own shall be received unto Himself to abide with Him forever.

The second coming of Christ is not a strange doctrine held by little groups of people who are riding a theological hobby. It is one of the most blessed truths of Scripture. The hope of the Christian—yes, the only real hope of this disordered world—is the coming of Christ to reign. The New Testament is full of plain and helpful teaching on this subject.

While we await His coming, then, is there any encouragement for us as the burdens bear down and the way seems long? Yes, He says: "Let not your heart be troubled" (v. 1). There is little question that this passage has comforted more people than any other word in Scripture.

Countless bewildered and broken souls in all lands and times have found the steady assurance of the one who has the power to give them rest and comfort.

There is good foundation for their composure of heart in a troubled world. They believe in God, and in Christ, who is one with the Father. Here is real security—infinitely superior to aught the world can give.

Then at the end of the road are the eternal dwelling places. What they are like is sufficiently revealed in the fact that they are in the Father's house. How shall we reach them? That is our last point. We have

III. His Guidance—"I Am the Way" (vv. 4-6).

To Christ's declaration that they knew the way, Thomas responded with a request for a definite statement. He wanted to be sure, and Christ responded by reminding him that He, their Lord, is the "way, the truth, and the life." Surely there could be no more complete provision for the guidance of the heavenly pilgrim.

Christ is "the way." If one takes the right road he will reach the right destination though he "cannot at first see it clearly. Perhaps this is the commonest mistake of the Christian. He frets too much about what lies ahead . . . and not enough about taking the right road" (Lesson Commentary).

He is "the truth." He is the final and complete revelation of God, and is therefore the One who will lead all those who walk the way by faith into the fullness of the truth. To know Christ is to know God.

He is "the life." He is life, and He alone can give eternal life to man. There is none other to whom man may turn for life, but in Christ it is found, and from Him it may be received by faith.

We have only touched the briefest beginning of what took place on that remarkable evening in the upper room. It was a time of richest spiritual significance, of dark betrayal, but also of closest communion. We continue next Sunday.

Things You Always Knew:

(But which I didn't know 'til now.)
That 30 to 50 gallons of gas are needed to warm up a bomber . . . People on the Island of Rhodes, in the Mediterranean, rarely have any kind of dental trouble . . . Scientists have discovered there is no such thing as silence. (The nearest thing to it is the hush that follows Ben Bernie's act.) . . . The tapir is the only animal that has not been changed by evolution . . . The way to get a divorce in Zochin, China, is merely to break a pair of chop-sticks in the presence of witnesses.

The sound made by twenty seven singers is only twice that of one singer . . . Joyce Kilmer received only $6 for his immortal poem, "Trees." (Poetry is the best poverty.) . . . Unrestrained giggling is illegal on the streets of Helena, Mont. (It's okay, however, to laugh up your sleeve.)

British railroads classify typewriters as musical instruments . . . Napoleon originated the system of numbering houses . . . A silent violin has been perfected. (How about a silent swing band?) . . . When milk turns sour, it still retains all of its nutritive value . . . Julius Caesar invented one-way streets . . . H. G. Wells gives all his guests keys to his wine cellar. (He figures a drunk is better than a bore.)

Washington jewelers are selling platinum containers (with a padlock) which hold two lumps of sugar for those dining out . . . The word jeep was born this way: When they first came out, the mechanical jitters bugs had the letters G. P. painted on them—meaning for General Purposes. (Oh, just take off my long pants and call me a Quiz Kid!)

Katherine Brush has this prescription for insomnia: Imagine your mind is a blackboard and your thoughts are writings in chalk, which you erase as fast as you think of them. (An easier method is to hear soap-operas.) . . . More accidents occur in autumn than in any other season . . . Prosperous princes in India show how rich they are by wearing two neckties. (That certainly is carrying the double-feature idea to a ridiculous extreme.)

Senators (but not Representatives) can get haircuts gratis at the Capitol. (It shows you what influence will do for a Senator.) . . . S. O. S. doesn't mean "Save Our Ships." It's merely a distress signal that is used because it's a simple combination of dots-and-dashes and can be sent over the air quickly by amateurs as well as experts.

Chow mein has vitamins in it. (We always knew there was something in it!) . . . Years ago all dance routines ended with a kiss . . . The Chinese are the best patrons of taxi-drivers and give the biggest tips . . . The only public kissing legal in Italy is at railroad stations. (If Donald Duce was the only one who was able to throw himself kisses in public from a balcony.)

Diet experts claim that careful eating, not exercise, is the best way to reduce . . . Gen. Billy Mitchell is also responsible for the paratroop idea . . . Paris thieves hold the record for oddities in larceny. They once stole a complete house, leaving only the foundation . . . One large American food concern employs eight cooks to originate and sample new recipes.

Soldiers have discovered that Worcestershire sauce makes the best ingredient for polishing brass buttons . . . When an aide brings MacArthur a huge pile of mail, he says: "Leave the ones that are going to help win the war and throw the others away" . . . The custom of kissing the bride after the marriage ceremony was born in the 6th Century. It was supposed to cure her of talking too much.

The Arabs' idea of a delicacy is boiled camel. (On toast?) . . . Scientific experiments have proved that women are cooler than men . . . The funniest divorce case on record concerns the hubby who Renovated his bride because she took his false teeth and held them for two dollars ransom.

Don't ask me why, but men with beards can't ride in Moscow's subway . . . Benito got the idea for the Fascist salute from an old Roman painting. But the dope didn't know that old Roman citizens greeted each other by shaking hands—and only slaves used the raised-arm salute.

It cost $3,000 to discover America. That's how much money Queen Isabella gave Columbus for the journey . . . Here's a twist: During the past five population census-takings, more men than women refused to report their ages.

If a bulldog's eyes are two different colors, it means he's deaf in one ear. (If you strike up a conversation with a bulldog with assorted orbs, remember to raise your voice.) . . . The Bronx was once suggested for the capital of the U. S.

Buck Private Felt That Promotion Was Due Him

Accompanied by a driver, an American major in a motor vehicle was stopped by the sentry on guard at a cross-roads.

"Who goes there?"
"One American major, a one-ton truck of fertilizer, and one buck private."

They were allowed to proceed, but at every cross-roads they went through the same formula.

After a time the driver asked if they were likely to be stopped again.

"I guess so," replied the major. "Well, major," said the private, "the next time we are stopped would you mind giving me priority over the fertilizer?"

Help your Grocer

Let's Get Behind Him and Make Rationing a Success—Start Now to use more of the plentiful NON-RATIONED FOODS

THE man who runs your grocery store has his headaches these days. For months, in the face of shortages and lack of experienced help, he's been trying to carry on . . . trying to give you the kind of service you've always expected of him.

Now he has a brand new problem—point rationing. He has to collect the stamps from you as well as the cash.

It's a burden for him—sure—and for you. But he knows and you know that it's got to be done. It's the only fair way of making sure that everybody gets a fair share. That's our way of doing things.

So it's his job—and your job—everybody's job—to make point rationing work . . . as smoothly, as efficiently as possible. Traffic jams in food stores aren't going to help anybody.

cooked soups, home-canned fruits and vegetables are not rationed and they deserve an important place in your wartime meals.

Because cereals are one of these abundant unrationed foods, we here at the Kellogg factory in Battle Creek have been doing everything we possibly can to meet the unprecedented demand for our products. We're sending millions upon millions of packages of crisp Kellogg Cereals to the boys in our armed forces. We're packing K-ration for troops in the front line of fighting. Even our machine shop is making gun parts! And we're short of help, too. There are 423 stars on the big service flag hanging in the lobby of the Kellogg building.

But in spite of these wartime difficulties, we've doubled our efforts to be sure that we can supply Kellogg Cereals to the millions of American families who are depending on cereals more than ever.

Always famous for marvelous flavor, every Kellogg Cereal is made of WHOLE GRAIN or is restored to WHOLE GRAIN NUTRITIVE VALUES through the addition of thiamin (vitamin B₁), niacin and iron. With milk alone, or with milk and fruit, a bowl of crisp, delicious Kellogg Cereal gives you vitamins, minerals, protein, food-energy in one dish!

And remember this about cereals in your daily meals. They're quick and easy to prepare. No cooking, no pans or skillets to clean up. Even the dishes are easier to wash.

Cereals save time—work—fuel—other foods. Used in hamburger, meat-loaves, croquettes, etc., they help you stretch your meat . . . and they make milk go farther, too.

Think of cereals as one of your best, most nutritious, non-rationed foods and think of Kellogg Cereals as the finest you can buy.

FROM O.P.A. CONSUMER INSTRUCTION SHEET
"EAT MORE CEREALS—There is an abundance of cereals and, as you know, they are mighty economical. They are nourishing and delicious—what's more, cereals can be used to stretch your rations when mixed with vegetables and fruits."

Other ways to help your Grocer...

1. Shop early in the day.
2. Shop early in the week.
3. Shop only once or twice a week.
4. Prepare a shopping list.
5. Add up total "point" values before going to the store.

And you can help yourself as well as your grocer by using the plentiful, non-rationed foods as much as you can, instead of the scarce, rationed foods. Foods such as cereals, fresh fruits and vegetables, home-

Mrs. G. E. Melton had charge of the meeting and the opening song was "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me," after which Mrs. H. W. "Izing taught a bible study on Will A. Man Rob God."

Those present were Mesdames L. W. Prizing, G. E. Melton, J. L. Caffee, A. H. Bazell, W. W. Jagers, D. A. Westbrook, B. A. Browning, Boyd L. DeVore, B. M. Cropper, H. J. Selley, R. M. Gilchrist, S. S. Reger, M. C. Tucker, Hugh Veach, F. L. Picketon, C. Porcell Scott Morris.

Hardin Club Enjoys Meeting at Bunjes Home Wednesday

Mrs. Louise Mason presented an informative discussion on point rationing, what vegetables to plant, and clothing and shoe problems at a meeting Wednesday held at the home of Mrs. Fred Dunfee with Mrs. N. T. Crane as co-hostess.

The members met at 10 o'clock in the morning, each bringing a renovated garment and placed on display. The motto of the day session was "It's better to Wear Out than to Rust Out" and by the display it was proven that one can be smartly dressed with renovated clothing.

A penny luncheon was held at the noon hour and a report from the finance chairman later revealed $3 was netted from the luncheon.

In the afternoon business session Mrs. Edna Muller presided and standing committee made reports. A quilt is in the process of making among members of the club and its chairman reported that all blocks had been completed.

A "12" party was planned for March 16, to be held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Miller. Those enjoying the day were Mesdames Edna Muller, M. R. Howell, L. E. Anderson, J. H. Hollaway, J. C. Muller, F. W. Parley, W. A. Minick, E. T. Grozier, W. E. Koenig, Edna Michale, Nora Allen, S. E. Atkins, E. J. Shuter, C. E. Martin, Harold Crommett, George Counter, Bert Ledy, A. G. Farmers Urged to Take Crop Insurance

If a cotton crop is worth having then it's worth protecting against such unavoidable hazards as drought, boll weevil and other insects, frost, flood plant disease, storms hail and wind, according to L. A. Gilliland director of the AAA.

Gilliland urged farmers to sign applications before April 15, the deadline. AAA regulations for the insurance program require that the producer sign his insurance application before planting time or the closing date, which ever is earlier.

"Warehouses insure their stored cotton, consequently growers likewise should protect their cotton when protection is most needed, when it is growing in the field," Gilliland said. Insurance available now provides protection on the crop from the time seed is planted until the cotton is weighed at the gin. Last year 240 farmers of the county carried cotton insurance.

Birthday Cake For the WAAC'S

A birthday cake with the compliments of the recruiting staff and the opportunity of being sworn into the Women's Auxiliary Corps on their twenty-first birthday, will henceforth be the rewards of all 20-year-old girls who join the new WAAC Birthday Club. It was announced this week by Col. C. K. Rinehart, district Army Recruiting officer.

The idea for the club occurred to Col. Rinehart when records began to show that a large number of under-age girls were applying for the WAAC in which the present age brackets are 21 to 44.

"Their disappointment at not being admitted to the corps was so keen we felt impelled to do something about it," he explained. "For the time being, or at least until the age bracket is lowered, about all we can say to the girls in their teens is 'Grow old as fast as you can,' but the 20-year-olds may now join our Birthday Club and prepare themselves in the mean time for the big day when they come of age and can really be a WAAC."

Membership in the Birthday Club does not obligate a girl to join the corps upon reaching her majority, the Colonel emphasized. However, she may stand her physical and mental entrance examinations beforehand and thus be ready to take her oath of enlistment on the date of her birth.

First young woman of this area to join the club was Jane M. Carter of Dallas. Almost as proud as Jane were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Guy Carter, who came down to the Federal Building to see their daughter become a "skirted soldier" on her twenty-first birthday, March 11.

Girls interested in belonging to the WAAC Birthday Club may send their initial letters of application to Col. Rinehart, care of the WAAC Recruiting Office, 502 Federal Building, Wichita Falls, Texas.

For Rationed Food

Food rationing is a patriotic sacrifice.

Here is a way in which you can go along in step with the government's program and still keep up your family nutrition standards.

Suppose you are looking for a good, healthful, nutritious dessert of easily available ingredients. See the recipe for low-Indian Pudding.

And here's an important substitution tip: two cups of evaporated milk plus two cups of water may be substituted for the one quart of milk called for in the recipe. And if you do have the spices, make up your own, or do without—it's up to you either way.

much. We will try and work hard for Mrs. Speer and hope that she will like us too. We had better work hard for the report cards will be out in a few days. Mother and daddy will want to know what has happened. They might not ache very much if they know that we have been working. We are all trying to work right now where mother and daddy will be sure to see how hard we are laboring. Please old report cards hurry up and get out of our way. We are afraid of you.

We have been very busy working with tests this week. Several students missed their tests because of absence due to sickness and bad weather.

We have two new pupils this week. Leslie Londers comes from Devol, Oklahoma and Kenneth Culwell comes from Randlett. We are very glad to have these boys.

Adams H5-2.

The students have been very busy lately studying for their exams and later taking them. They are trying to improve their grades for the new semester.

On the bulletin board for this week is a chart showing all the civilian defense insignias. Betty Jean Mathews made the highest grade on the art exams and W. L. Gibson made the highest grade on the Penmanship exam.

Coates H6-1.

There are some thirty six pupils enrolled, two new ones joined the class last week. Patsy Wright from Bowie, Texas and Earl Leaders from Devol, Okla. We have cooperated with the "Victory Garden" movement. In are we made our "Victory Garden" poster to encourage the making of gardens this year. The following pupils have neither been tardy or absent the past six weeks: Tom McNeill, Micky Smeltzer, Ruel Spillers, Lillie

Belle Hrazdil, Shirley Tyler, Hazel Wallace and Anita Wolfe.
Vann H2-2.

The following boys and girls from H3-2 were neither absent nor tardy this past six weeks: Margie Ann Baumhardt, Jack Bernethy, Irvan DeVore, Maurine Jones, Jackie Potts and James Rederick.

L. Majors H3-2.

Pupils making the honor roll for this six weeks are as follows: Wylie Browning, Edwin Draper, Conan Hill, and Peggy Rinefeldt. Pupils that have neither been tardy or absent this six weeks are as follows: Cleo Askins, and Peggy Rinefeldt.

Jackson L4-1.

We have had a very busy week—this was the end of the six weeks, so we had several little test papers to do. Those making "S" on all their papers were: Mary Johnson, Janice Johnston, James Wilborn, Barbara Vaughn, Keith Hubbard, Marie O'Connor, Melvalene Hill, and Richard Ragsdale. We will be glad to get our cards next week.

All of us got new readers this week. We are really enjoying our reading now. We like to spell too, and we find that spelling isn't hard at all.

We have missed Benny McHugh this week, and hope he will soon be back in school.

W. Douglas H1-3.

Norman Dodson and Donald Wills bought $18.75 War Bonds last week. Several children are buying Stamps regularly.

We enjoyed reading orally from library books last Thursday and Friday. Group One was allowed to check out books to take home. Later interesting parts of these were read to the class. We shall begin a second grade reader, "Friends and Neighbors" this week.

In our spelling test of 25 words last week, there were 22 perfect papers in the class, and no one fell below "S". We would like to continue this record.

The following pupils had perfect attendance for this past six weeks: Jimmy McMurtry, Melvin Ramon, Kenneth Riley, M. H. Simmons, Robert Thornton, Robert Glenn, and Wanda Jean Gist. Lassetter L2-1.

Everyone was happy when new second grade readers were issued Friday. With great interest and enthusiasm, they surveyed the contents of the book. We shall read in them Monday. Six weeks tests were given this week. Most all pupils show all improvement over the last six weeks. Thursday, every member of the class was present.

We have completed the first six weeks of the second term, and most of the boys and girls in H1-1 made satisfactory grades in the test covering the work of this term.

Our attendance has been low the past week on account of the inclement weather. Among those that were absent a part or all of last week were the following: Maxine Champion, absent all week; Leo Buckhart, Carol Alice Parks, Leona McDonald, Carmelita Spray, Minyon Norton, Millie Faye West, and Eugene Mash.

The boys and girls are still buying Defense Stamps. Donald Wortham led the others in number bought. He bought ten ten cent Stamps. Others buying Stamps last week were Edith Spillers, Joy Preston, Rita Joy Hunt, Wanda O'Connor, and Walter Schroeder.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST Presents A Lesson On The Church Christ's Bride

Paul said, "Husbands, love your own wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave Himself up for it . . . This mystery is great; but I speak in regard of Christ and the church." Eph. 5:25, 32. Christ is the perfect husband, compared only to the husband who loves his wife as his own flesh. Then again, Paul speaking to the church at Corinth said, "For I am jealous over you with a godly jealousy: for I exposed you to ONE husband, that I might present you a pure virgin to Christ." 2 Cor. 11:2. From these passages we learn that Christ is like unto the true husband and the church the bride. Whose name should this bride wear?

Should she wear His name or some man's name? Religiously whose name are you wearing? Are you by any chance wearing Luther's, Calvin's, Campbell's, John the Baptist's, or some other man's name. Do you claim to be a Christian and wear some other man's name with Christ's? In connection with this let us make an illustration. Suppose that a young man should come to me and ask if I would be able to perform a wedding ceremony. Perhaps I would ask if he was intending to get married. He would reply that he had a friend that was intending to get married and that he was making preparation for the wedding. He is going to be the best man. After the ceremony has been said, whose name does the bride wear? The groom's or the best man? Some people in religion are proud to wear the best man's name. Notice, John the BAPTIST said, "Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but, that I am sent before Him. He that hath the bride (the church) is the bridegroom (Christ); but the friend (John the Baptist) of the bridegroom, that standeth and heareth Him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice . . . "Jno. 3:29. Yet there are people who are wearing the name of the best man, John the Baptist.

The bridegroom (Christ) has gone to prepare a home for the bride (the church). Jno. 14:1ff. When he comes back to receive His bride to take her back to that home and finds her wearing another man's name, do you think that He will be pleased with that? We are to wear His name. Act. 4:12, 11:26, 26:28, 1 Pet. 4:16.

"Let us rejoice and be exceedingly glad, and let us give the glory unto Him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and His wife hath made herself ready. And it was given unto her that she should array herself in fine linen, BRIGHT and PURE: for the fine linen is the RIGHTEOUS ACTS of the saints." Rev. 19:7,8. When He come to receive His bride, she will be PURE. Are you loyal and pure? You must be in order to be among that number that make up His church. Do you mar the beauty of the garment by running threads of unrighteous acts into it? We, who are His are seated before the loom with the shuttle in our hand running with lightning speed, weaving into that garment threads (ACTS). Are yours righteous? Do you help make up that " . . . glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing . . . ?"

The bride must keep herself PURE and wear His NAME to be loyal and true to Him who gave Himself up for the church. Friends this is something about which we should think seriously and prayerfully. How are you treating your Lord? Are you not ashamed to wear another's name? You should be. We plead with you to accept truth taught in the Bible.

Come and be with us in our services at the church of Christ. Austin Varner, Minister.

An Open Letter To Burkburnett Citizens

As an old resident of Burkburnett, I want to talk to a few of my old acquaintances and associates about the beer election on Saturday.

Burkburnett citizens worked shoulder to shoulder with the Wichita Falls citizens in bringing Sheppard Field to Wichita County. This wonderful military camp has helped both of us. And I know you want to do everything you can to help make the stay of these fine fellows as pleasant and agreeable as possible.

Sheppard Field officials did not ask Wichita County for Prohibition—neither did any of the Federal government. When we voted beer out of Wichita County, Sheppard Field became the largest seller of beer in County. The boys can drink in their own camp, and yet we say to them that they cannot have a glass of beer when they come to Wichita Falls.

Folks, this is just one of those situations where common sense should prevail. No matter how this election goes in Burkburnett, YOUR TOWN WILL STILL BE DRY. And I want to ask all those old friends and neighbors of mine to help Wichita Falls and Wichita County legalize the sale of Beer Saturday. Since it does not disturb your own community in the least I believe you can see eye to eye with us on this occasion.

In a way it is unfair that a Community not the least bit interested, or affected, should say how another nearby neighbor should run their affairs. This isn't the wishes of Burkburnett citizens—but happens to be the law. Wichita Falls went decidedly for beer the last election—the folks still want the opportunity to legally sell beer—and I appeal to you to vote to allow us to have this privilege.

Make your first thought Saturday that of giving the soldier boys the privilege of having a glass of beer when they come into Wichita Falls—VOTE FOR THE LEGAL SALE OF BEER.

Help us on this occasion—and and maybe some day we can reciprocate.

Sincerely Yours

SIGNED:

Rex Smith

Sewing Machine and Table Combination

NO SEWING machine should be idle today. No matter if yours is not the newest model, keep it in good repair and include it in your decorating scheme. This sketch shows how one was fitted into a living room to look very smart and to do extra duty as a table.

Plywood or composition board may be used for the removable top, (see sketch). The top cover is of blue felt with a scalloped band stitched around it. This is quick and easy to do as it is not necessary to finish raw edges of felt. The full skirt is made of the best part of old sheets dyed a soft ecru tone. This is sewn to the seam allowance of the felt and all is tacked to the back of the removable top so that it may be removed easily. A pair of kitchen stools are painted cream color and topped with blue felt for lamp stands. Scalloped felt also trims the lamp shades and the cover of an old side chair to match the table.

NOTE—Directions for making the pool lamp, illustrated together with 31 other conservation plans are in the new BOOK 9 which Mrs. Spears has just prepared for readers. Copies are available at 15 cents each. Send your request to:

ACE IN THE HOLE by JACKSON GREGORY

WNU RELEASE

THE STORY SO FAR: Arriving simultaneously at the King Cole Ranch, Ann Lee and Cole Cody discovered Old Early Bill Cole had made two identical wills, one leaving all his money and the King Cole Ranch to Ann; and the other giving the same money and property to Cole. However, before his death, caused by a gun-shot wound from an unknown assailant, Old Bill had sent them each a key, which, to their amazement, they now found fitted two different locks on an old, black iron box. Opening the box they found two envelopes, each containing a five-hundred-dollar bill and a letter directing payment of the money to Doc Joe and the Judge in settlement of a lost bet. Now continue with the story.

CHAPTER XI

Cal Roundtree told the story of Early Bill Cole very simply. Cole Cody asked, "When he came to making a will, then, he knew what he was doing? He wasn't delirious?" "Not Early Bill," vowed Cal Roundtree. "When he stood up, aiming to die on his feet the same way he had lived, his old head was as clear as a bell. You could see it in his eyes. He had a pair of eyes like an eagle's."

"Then how in blazes was it that at one and the same time he gave all he had to me—and gave the same everything to Ann Lee? I've seen both wills, man, and that's how they read!"

Cal shook his head. "He was having him fun, I reckon. Old Early Bill, come rain or shine, was always a great hand for having him his own fun in his own way." He thought a moment. "Say! It might be that this way he was making sure that you and Miss Ann would marry each other! Maybe that's the way he wanted it!"

"Then you're wrong about him not being crazy," snorted Cole Cody. "They sat silent a little while, soaking in the sunshine. Presently they fell to talking of this and that as men, strangers to each other and thrown together, will, and so it chanced that the attempted stage robbery of the day before was mentioned. And so Cal Roundtree learned that the attack had been made against Bucktooth Jenkins, and that Jenkins was now lying in bed at Bald Eagle, pretty well shot up."

"Did they get the money Bucktooth was carrying?" Cal Roundtree asked anxiously. "They didn't get anything, unless one of them got a bullet in him. I couldn't be sure, it was that dark. We all wondered what Bucktooth was carrying that they wanted."

"He was carrying ten thousand dollars in hard and folding money," said Cal. "It was money he had gone to collect for Early Bill, and he was bringing it home. I know because Early Bill showed me the letter Bucktooth had wrote him; the letter said he had collected all right but was staying over a couple of days to visit some relations of his at the old trading post down over by Tilton; said he'd be along on yesterday's stage, bringing the ten thousand bucks with him. But how the devil did anybody else find out about it? Bucktooth ain't a man to gab. Early Bill showed me the letter because when it came he was near blind with pain, and he just snapped at me like this, 'Oh, hell, it ain't anything if it's from that fool Bucktooth. Just about whether he did as I told him or fell down on it. Here, read it to me, Cal,' and he stuck on to that, same as usual. 'If you can read? So I read it, and left it lying on his table when he chased me out to bring him a drink.'"

"You left it on the table, huh? He probably left it on the table—What do you know about this Rance Waldron hombre anyhow?" "Nothing. Except I don't like the way he wears his face."

"He could have found the letter and acted on it." "About it being Waldron, I bet it was! He's been in and out of Bald Eagle a time or two, and from what I hear he ain't got a two-bit piece to his name. And I wouldn't put him above hog-stealing. But where he'd find a side-kick in a game like this, being a Johnny-come-lately hereabouts, I wouldn't know."

"Just who is Bucktooth Jenkins, anyhow? How come that Early Bill sent him on an errand such as that?" "Bucktooth has been old Bill's handy-man for years. He lived in that little shack over yonder." Cal pointed to one of the several small adobe half hidden by the low drooping branches of a live oak. "He's a good man and game, and always carried out orders the way he got 'em. Later I'll be riding into town to see how he's making out. If he gets well he ought to be back here, no matter who owns the place."

"I'd sort of like to look the ranch over, to see what it's like," said Cody wistfully. "But I suppose, shape I'm in, a horse would shake me plumb to pieces."

"I'll hitch up the buckboard, if you say the word, Cody. A buckboard can go most any place, you know." It was while they were giving the matter thought that a man came riding to them from the country road, ignoring the ranch house and striking straight for the two on the log. First Cole Cody recognized the palomino, then the rider, and waved. Here came little Porfirio Lopez whom he had left last night in town. Porfirio's white teeth gleamed in a wide grin as he pulled his horse up in front of them. "Light down, Porfirio," invited Cody, "and make yourself at home."

Porfirio swung down lightly, was introduced to Cal Roundtree who shook hands without getting up to do so, an unnecessary effort anyhow, seated himself beside his amigo Cole Cody, and the three chatted. Porfirio had come, it appeared, for more than one reason: He wanted to visit the grave of the poor old Senor Beel Cole; he meant to pick some wild flowers by the creek and place them there with his own two hands. Also, he had thought that he might find his amigo Cole Cody here. Third, his heavy black brows drawn down like the shadow of a thundercloud, he wanted to poke his nose into things here, to find out things for himself, to be like a hunting dog, maybe, to learn what cabrone it was who had shot Early Bill.

"I would kill him like that!" he exclaimed and crushed an acorn with the high heel of his boot. Cody explained to Cal Roundtree all about Porfirio.

"He sold his little ranch to come here. I'd like him to stay a while. If I take over, he's on my pay roll. Anyhow he might hole-up here a few days?" Cal shrugged. "Me, not owning the place, I can't hire a man," he said. "Likewise,

WNU RELEASE

The afternoon passed lingeringly. There was so much to think about, so little to do about any part of it. For the most part, Cole Cody lay in his room, fatigued and weakened by his jaunt in the buckboard; Rance Waldron kept to his rooms, seldom emerging and always, as Aunt Jennifer took pains to note, leaving a locked door behind him. Aunt Jennifer herself did a bit of snooping all over the place but mostly in the neighborhood of Waldron's quarters. As for Ann Lee, she sat in the patio dreaming dreams of the future, thinking of the immediate past, musing about her benefactor, Early Bill.

Not long after the lamps were lit all gathered around the dining table when Aunt Jennifer rang the hand bell for supper. Again the meal was excellent and attacked as at dinner; again conversation died aborning. In fact, had it not been for Aunt Jennifer's few cheery remarks, there would probably not have been so much as a "Please pass the potatoes," remark. At the end of this feast of silence and flow of distrust, Cole Cody again said some sort of polite thanks and went to his room. After Cody's departure, Rance Waldron sat a little while over his coffee, smoking a cigarette, and made some small endeavor to be agreeable. Aunt Jennifer did not like the man, and made him the curtest replies before she got up to clear the dishes away; Ann Lee seemed absent minded; she said, "What did you say?" twice to remarks of his; he was not long in saying his own good night and going to his room.

Ann Lee patted a yawn; they had been up early, it had been quite a day and she was sleepy already. "Go to bed, Kitten," said Aunt Jennifer. "I'll do the dishes and follow along in two shakes."

Ann carried her lamp through quiet empty rooms where shadows seemed to come out of corners and from under tables and chairs, and scurry away like frightened things. In her room it was very still, and the starshine came in through the iron grilles of her open windows. She drew the shades down, undressed and slipped into her nightgown and into her big bed almost with one gesture and passed gently from daydream to the land of night's dreams.

And Aunt Jennifer, as wide awake as any cat at any mouse hole, sat for a long while on the green bench, and her head was tipped at an angle that indicates the head's owner is listening intently for the slightest sound. Thus an hour passed; and the night was still. At even the slightest sound, she started; when she heard the faint creak of a board within the house, she clutched the edges of her bench with both hands, ready to spring up. But she knew the way of old houses; how in the night for no reason on earth that she knew, the ancient floorboards would creak like that; sometimes she had treated herself to the thrill of thinking, "There goes a ghost!" Now she just sat back and continued to wait.

Long ago little Ann Lee was fast asleep, or she would have been out here seeking her. Aunt Jennifer stole out of her secret place and crept like an agile small shadow out to one of the big live oaks not more than 50 yards from Rance Waldron's outer door. Under the thick branched tree, heavy with young foliage, it was black dark; here she established herself, seated on the ground, leaning back against the gnarled trunk.

At last even Aunt Jennifer began to yawn and her eyelids to grow so heavy that it required pounds of effort and the final exercise of her will power to get them lifted. But when at last she heard the sound she had waited for so long, her eyes flew wide open of their own accord and she was as wide awake as a child awoke on Christmas Eve.

The creaking this time was no ghostly creaking; it told of a door being slowly opened on rusty hinges. It was the door from one of Rance Waldron's rooms. And the steps she heard were no ghostly tread; two men, with the door softly closed and locked after them, were coming out, and one of the men walked scuffingly as though he dragged an injured leg after him.

She hid as best she could behind the dark old oak tree, peering out to see what she could see. The night was clear and there was light enough for her to be sure of two things: One of the men was a stranger to her, and he was hurt or sick. The other man was helping him along, and was Rance Waldron. She sniffed. "As though he could fool me, with someone hid in his foot of the house. Well, I know now it's a man and not some fool girl he's hiding out."

She strove with all her ears to hear what was said between them, but they spoke a few words only, those in lowered voices. She saw them move, one man lurching and the other supporting him, toward the group of ranch buildings at the foot of the slope, and furtively she followed them. She saw that Waldron had a couple of horses hid in a willow thicket just across the creek; she watched him help his companion up into the saddle; she saw them ride away, heading north, and hastening, then she turned and ran to the house.

ADD TO THIS

Decreased drunkenness among civilians and soldiers.

Steady decrease in venereal rate among civilians and soldiers.

Better control of prostitution and other evils.

Continuous business prosperity for everyone except liquor dealers

Do The Country and Small Town People Count?

The WETS say that "MAJORITY RULE IS DENIED" because a FEW congested wet precincts in Wichita Falls were not able to control the entire County in the last election and keep the County wet.

Bootlegging Will Not Stop If
Beer Comes Back

Government statistics reveal that during National Prohibition 2,500 Federal Agents were employed to suppress bootlegging. Today the Government employs 4,500 Agents for the same purpose. If Legal Control does control the Bootlegger, why does the Government employ nearly twice as many Agents to enforce "Regulation" as it did to enforce "Prohibition"?

Honky-Tonks Will Come Back With Beer

WICHITA FALLS CITY COUNCIL plans to keep honky-tonks out of the City Limits if this election goes WET. They have no jurisdiction outside of the city of Wichita Falls, and this means that

HONKY-TONK BEER JOINTS WILL SPRING UP ALL OVER THE COUNTY!

Don't Be Deceived. This Is An Entering Wedge!

IF BEER RETURNS - In less than 6 months we will be faced with another County Wide Election to bring back hard liquor. If this County goes Wet, those precincts in the County that were Dry before last summer will be faced with Precinct elections IMMEDIATELY. This is allowed in the Local Option Law.

DON'T Make This
Bust...AgainPROHIBITION'S
BOOTLEGGER

Official figures show WICHITA COUNTY tops the list of bootlegging in Texas—and this disastrous mistake must be corrected on Saturday, March 13th.

Christian men and women in Wichita County can vote for the LEGAL SALE of a drink of moderation—and put LEGAL CONTROL of beer in the hands of law-abiding citizens, and restore common sense enforcement in place of the loathsome "bootlegging regime forced on us by prohibition."

WHO

Called This Election?

More than 3,800 Wichita County citizens and voters signed petitions, circulated by 250 tax-paying business establishments, representing the very heart of the business and professional interests of the county. These same freedom loving, American citizens are the very ones who usually lead every worthwhile civic movement in the county.

The ADVISORY BOARD carries the names of only 100 outstanding business leaders. Not a single name of a beer dealer or distributor appears on the list.

These TRUTHFUL FACTS refute and prove leading the statement of the Prohibitionists outside interests called this election.

WHY

Was This Election Called?

DEBT TO SOLDIERS

Everyone worked hard to bring Sheppard Field to Wichita County. This military institution in turn brought PROSPERITY to us. We feel that we owe the splendid group of officers and privates at Sheppard Field our support to secure for them their PERSONAL LIBERTY when they visit our communities.

LEGAL CONTROL vs. BOOTLEG CONTROL

We want to place the sale of beer under the responsibility of our enforcement officers—supervising local, tax paying, law abiding citizens—instead of BOOTLEGGERS who pay no license or taxes—and have no respect for law and order.

ELIMINATION OF BUSINESS HANDICAPS

We want to rent these empty buildings—encourage the maximum of commercial activity—turn taxes into our county treasurer now going to others—and look ahead to the post-war period when we will need all these things even more than we do now.

Fair minded voters of Iowa Park and Burkburnett have no desire to tell their neighbors how to run their towns. Wichita and Wichita Falls voters ask those liberty loving folks Saturday to—
