Perryton Business Man Dies From Plane Crash Injuries

Duane Roberts, age 30, proprietor of the Duane Roberts Electric Co. of this city, died at 3:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon as a result of injuries received Sunday afternoon, when the monoplane owned by him and Howard Holt, side-slipped and crashed in a wheat field one-half mile north of the Municipal Airport in Amarillo. The plane fell from an altitude of 500 feet.

Mr. Roberts suffered fractures in both legs, a crushed foot, and several back injuries. He was taken at once to the Northwest Texas Hospital. His companion in the ship, John Waynard Mitchell, Borger electrician and a former employee of the Roberts shop here, is in St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo, with a broken back. His condition is not critical.

The plane struck the ground at an angle, crushing the wing and the undercarriage and then nosed over on its back. The ship was nearly demolished. The wings were sheared and broken, the motor twisted and driven back into the fuselage, crushing Roberts. The cabin and tail assembly were intact.

DISTRICT JUDGE'S DECISION DECLARES BEER REPEAL BALLOT WAS IMPROPERLY WORDED

County's Attorneys Appeal to Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals, Seventh Supreme Judicial District for Opinion

BEER SALE REMAINS LEGAL IN COUNTY

The local option election held in Ochiltree county on March 20, in which the legal sale of beer was repealed by a vote of 420 to 313, was declared irregular in a decision made Tuesday by Judge E. J. Pickens, Canadian, judge of the 84th judicial district. Evidence in the case was presented Saturday in a special term of the district court in this city, Judge Pickens recessing court until Tuesday to prepare his verdict.

Action for the revocation of the election was based upon the improper wording of the ballot for the repeal election. The suit was filed by J. H. Shearer as contestant against Oscar C. Flowers, contestee. The contestant was represented by Attorneys R. T. Correll and J. W. Payne. Mr. Flowers was assisted in the defense by Attorney H. L. Adkins, Amarillo.

As the beer question now stands in Ochiltree county, the sale is legal and will continue so until another election is held or the decision of Judge Pickens is reversed by a higher court. The attorneys for the county expect to appeal from Judge Pickens' decision to the Court of Civil Appeals of the 7th Supreme Judicial District, Amarillo. However, it is considered very likely that the verdict will be sustained but the attorneys for the county desire to obtain a ruling from the higher court on what constitutes a legal ballot covering a beer repeal election.

SPECIAL TYPEWRITER AIDS SIGHT

Over 400 Sight-Conservation Classes Use Machines With Large-Sized Type to Save Sight of 6,000 Handicapped Children

TWENTY-THREE years ago the first two sight-conservation classes in the United States made a modest beginning. One in Boston, the other in Cleveland. Today more than 500 such classes are sending out hundreds of graduates annually, who, without this aid, would be among the handicapped and dependent.

Three types of children are eligible for these classes: those with permanently low vision, those with progressive eye defects or diseases and those whose vision may deteriorate under normal school conditions. A system of education is employed which combines both visual and tactile methods. Thus, while a child does all visual work in special groups, his oral lessons are conducted with the rest of his class who have normal sight. In this way he does not run the risk of emotional upset by being made to feel himself handicapped.

In Detroit, Cincinnati and other cities the school system provides vocational guidance to help the student after graduation. This service cooperates with oculists, and a list of all occupations successfully carried on by former students with deficient eye-sight is kept for the benefit of new graduates.

Special Eye-Saving Equipment

One of the most important pieces of equipment in these classes is the typewriter with large-sized, or "bulletin" type. As soon as the child reaches the 3rd or 4th grade he is taught the touch system. Thereafter all of his themes and written work are done on the typewriter.

The use of these Remingtons has resulted in such rapid advancement of the pupils that many progressive schools have adopted the use of the typewriter for regular classroom work, beginning in the kindergarten.

Glare-proof mat surfaces on walls, floors and painted furniture; well-diffused illumination; light yellow chalk for blackboards; large-sized print; unglazed paper; specially motivated hand-work; adjustable seats and desk are all part of the plan to save weak eyes from further inroads of strain and disease.

Myopic Chinese

In San Francisco's Chinatown eleven little Chinese click away at their special typewriters under the guidance of an American teacher. One of their favorite activities is the building of an American home, consisting of living room, dining room and bedroom. The older boys make wooden furniture and the little ones mould clay dishes, all as occupational as their oriental fingers can contrive to make them.

In a New York City school, boys in a sight-saving class proudly display large books written especially by their teacher. In these books she has copied fascinating pages from works these youngsters might otherwise never see. They copy them on their typewriters, and a new world of adventure opens up before their limited vision.

According to Mrs. Winifred Hathaway, Associate Director of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, these classes with special typewriters and other facilities have saved thousands from industrial failure and social handicap. "They not only save many children from repeating grades—an asset not only to them but to the taxpayer—but they turn these youngsters from liabilities into assets to the state," she says.

Rites Held in Booker

Services for William Stollings Held Friday p. m. April 23rd Interment at Follett

The entire community was saddened Wednesday by the untimely death of one of its most promising young citizens, William Stollings, who had lived the entire seventeen years of his life at the farm home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stollings, fourteen miles northeast of Perryton.

Impressive funeral services were held Friday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, at the Methodist church in Booker, with Rev. Geo. W. Burgin, Garden City, Kansas, and Rev. Roy Patterson of Booker, in charge. The remains were then taken to the family burial plot in the Fairmont cemetery near Follett.

Sweet solemn music was furnished by the Crocker quartet and a mixed quartet composed of Miss Ella Myer, Miss Faye Rose, Percy Gheen and Russell Cummings, all of Booker. Pall bearers and flower girls were close chums of William. They were Misses Ella Louise and Geddes Morris, Marie Julison, Ruth Huston, Joy Nowlin, Dora Mae Lee, Frances Sell and Helen Doerrle; Grover and Jack Crum, Alfred Lee, Athel Pearson, Virgil Devers, and John Chase Jr.

Obituary

William, third son of Walter and Rhoda Stollings, was born April 3, 1920, Perryton, and died April 21, 1937, at the Beaver hospital following an operation for appendicitis.

He was baptised into the Church of the Brethren at Dodge City, Kansas, when he was eleven years old and was a sincere Christian throughout his life. He had been a member of the Methodist Sunday School at Booker for some time.

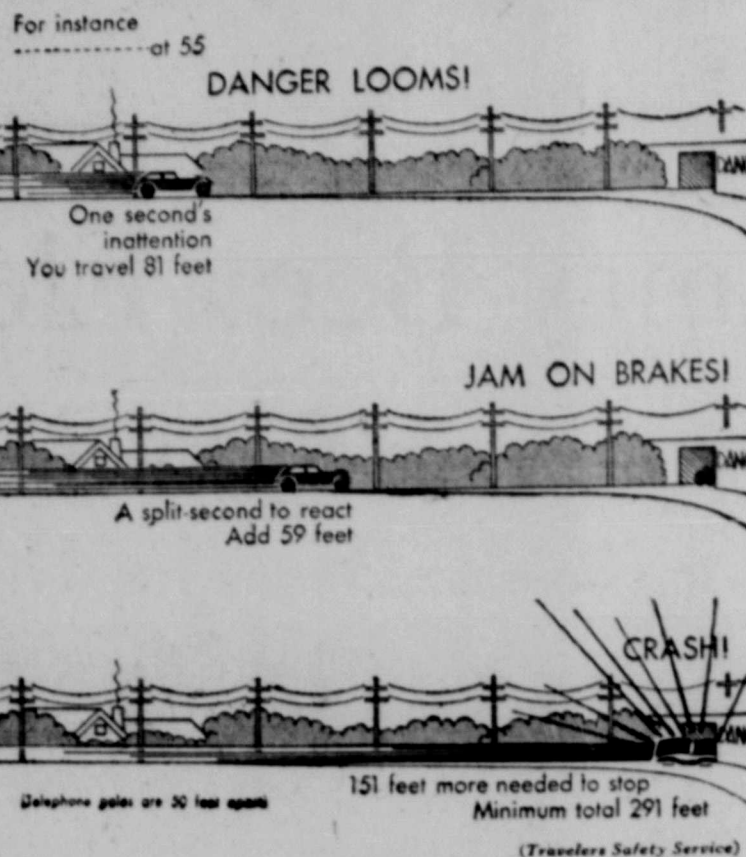

Up to the time of his illness three weeks ago, he was a junior in the Perryton High School and was eagerly looking forward to graduating next year. Bill will be missed at home, school and church but his friendly smile and ready wit will always be remembered. He was a splendid example of clean good-natured boyhood. What is our loss is Heaven's gain.

He leaves to mourn his passing his father, mother, three brothers, Frank, Roy and David, one sister, Nellie, Grandmother, Mrs. W. P. Stollings and a host of other relatives and friends.

"How mournful seems in broken dreams The memory of the day When icy death has sealed the

"YOU BET YOUR LIFE"

WHEN YOU DRIVE AT HIGH SPEEDS

Put this question to ten of your friends who drive:

"When you are going 40 miles an hour on a dry, level road, what is the shortest distance in which you can bring your car to a full stop?"

If they are average, seven will say they can stop in 40 feet or less; two will guess somewhere between 40 and 80 feet; and one will be so uncertain that he won't hazard a guess.

It is surprising to discover how little the average man knows about the first principle of good driving.

You can assure your friends that if they do stop their cars in less than 40 feet from a speed of 40 miles an hour, it will be because they have rammed into a brick wall or a telephone pole! Only an automobile with very good brakes can stop in less than 80 feet from this speed, and it is impossible for any car to stop in 50 feet on an ordinary road because it will skid farther than that with all four wheels locked.

The pictorial chart above shows the danger of driving at high speeds. At 55 miles per hour a car travels 81 feet in the single second during which the driver's eyes might leave the road to glance at a road sign or to look at an instrument on the dashboard. Once he sees a dangerous situation ahead, the car travels 59 feet during the time it takes him to get his foot on the accelerator to the brake. And then, even with good brakes, he cannot bring the vehicle to a stop in less than 151 feet.

Many drivers pride themselves on how fast they can make their cars go; it is much more important for them to know how fast they can stop.

RESETTLEMENT MAKING LOANS

RESETTLEMENT LOANS AVAILABLE TO ASSIST FARMERS WITH FINANCIAL AND FARM PROBLEMS

Mr. J. C. Bell, Resettlement Administration Assistant county supervisor for Lipscomb and Ochiltree counties, announced today that word had been received from the regional office in Amarillo, Texas, that more than a million dollars has just been made available for Resettlement loans to deserving farmers in Region Twelve. Many farmers, with the planting season approaching, are finding they need a little more money in order to plan the year's work, and the Resettlement Administration is anxious to help these farmers to rehabilitate themselves.

Resettlement loans are available Mr. Bell said to farmers whose farm units make it possible to create a sound farm plan, permitting the retirement of the loan and the rehabilitation of the farm family. Farmers in need of this financial aid, as well as the help and advice of the rural and home management supervisors, should visit the Resettlement Administration county office at once.

The Resettlement Administration this year is emphasizing livestock set-ups in its lending program. Mr. Bell said. Loans of this type have proven quite successful in the way of financial rehabilitation of distressed farmers. They also lend themselves toward rehabilitation of the land in the area, which has been subject to severe erosion due to the several years of drought.

Hundreds of farmers in the region have already received Resettlement crop loans this year. The program is weeks ahead of last year's lending program according to Resettlement officials in the regional office. Farmers in need of the type of assistance and technical supervision supplied by the Resettlement Administration are asked to visit their county office immediately and confer with the county supervisor concerning their financial and farm problems.

CHANGES TO OIL-PLATING

In spite of everything, it paid him to take ads seriously, you see, else he might never have tried Oil-Plating. First of all he was impressed by the explanation of Oil-Plating.

Simple enough, if you'll think what happens as Johnny's dirty little hands touch the wallpaper. Anything greasy or oily on his hands becomes quite a permanent part of the paper. You'll say permanent!

In much the same way—forgetting technicalities—Conoco Germ Processed oil forms a lasting attachment for every working part of your engine. A genuine, enduring Oil-Plating is brought about by the Germ Process—patented.

Thus the Germ Process not only multiplies the strength of the usual flowing type of oil-film, but creates Oil-Plating besides. And once Oil-Plating goes on, Conoco Germ Processed oil does not let it come off in minutes, hours, days... or miles.

Thus Oil-Plating kills the old fear of starting "dry." Likewise Oil-Plating refuses to let go in all the fury of 5,000 revolutions per minute. That's why your "good old car" or the latest model will stay more like new, with its engine Oil-Plated. And your whole Summer's driving will take less Conoco Germ Processed oil. BUSINESS IN UNITED STATES IMPROVING last 15 years. A good deal of friction has been generated in the course of the improvement, as proved by the strikes which have plagued business. Some argue that these ills have done some good because they have acted as a brake on excessive production. On the other hand, they have increased costs of doing business.

The agricultural situation is not as yet clearly defined but last year's short crops and present high prices seem to indicate an enormous acreage and a possible burdensome surplus.

Improvement in industrial areas and higher prices for farm products are clearly indicated in the April 1 Map.

With all factors moving upward, the Barometer rose considerably in March, reflecting the general recovery in business, higher wage scales and rising prices for raw and manufactured products.

Everything to Lose reports by statisticians of The Travelers Insurance Company shows that exceeding the speed limit is the chief cause of death. Driving on the wrong side of the road is the next most common error and driving off the roadway is a close third. Falling to grant the right of way and reckless driving follow in that order.

Other common mistakes include "cutting in," passing on curves and hills, failing to signal, and passing standing street cars.

While most college campuses are busiest during the regular school year, those of Texas' state teachers colleges see their greatest activity during the summer session. Due to the number of public school teachers returning for additional work, enrollment leaps from about 8,000 in the regular term to nearly 14,000 in summer.

MAN YAT FARNSWORTH PROGRAM ON FRIDAY

The Busy Bee 4-H Club gave a dance at the Farnsworth Gymnasium last Friday night in order to make money to send club members to College Station to Short Course at A and M College in July.

A large crowd attended and everyone enjoyed the evening. The evening was spent in dancing and playing party games. Many Perryton High School students were present.

The club made approximately twenty dollars, which will help the club fund immensely.

GIRLS' RESERVE CLUB

The girl Reserve Club met Thursday, at the regular club period. The program consisted of a very good talk by Clyde Jones. Clyde emphasized the need for a Y. M. C. A. recreation building here. He brought out many good points, and his talk was fully appreciated by every member. Every member of the Girl Reserve Club is very much in favor that our town have a Y. M. C. A. building, and the Club members are going to do their best to help organize one.

E. D. Kelley and assistants are also weighing and measuring each student.

Junior Member Dies

William Stollings of Junior Class Passes Away Last Wednesday; Funeral Friday

The Junior class is grieved to have lost one of its members, William Stollings. William made many friends and was loved by all who knew him.

He entered Perryton Schools in the term of '32 and '33 as a pupil of the sixth grade. Previous to his entering the Perryton School, he was a member of the Twichell Grade School. Mrs. I. R. Buchanan was his first school teacher. Mrs. R. J. Barlow was his teacher from the second grade to the sixth.

William was a good pupil, always being interested in his school work. His teachers could always depend on him to have his lessons prepared.

He died April 21, 1937, at the age of 17 years and 18 days. The Junior class extends their sympathy to the Stollings family in loss of a dear one.

Miss Allen, Miss Rabel Helen Austin, Rosemary Boston, and Harold Hudson ran off 3450 pages on the mimeograph last Saturday. This leaves only 1200 pages to be done. The pictures have not arrived yet, but they are on the way. The Annual will be ready for distribution in a week.

The committee for deciding upon the class gift have made their decision, which will be revealed later.

The annual class picnic will be discussed later in the week as to what time it is to be held, where it is to be held and what will be done on this picnic. The seniors "have it on" the rest of the high school in that they are allowed a vacation for the picnic, while the others have only a half day. They hope to have the picnic enough to town this year and spend the time on a picnic and spend the whole time going.

IF MADE INTO BILLHEADS—AND EACH BILL FOR $1.50—WOULD EQUAL 4 TIMES THE AMOUNT OF PROPERTY DAMAGE IN THE WORLD WAR!

EVERYONE asks at least once in his life, "I wonder how much paper is used in this country"—either how much every year, every day, or perhaps since American business really found its stride during the last half of the last century.

Such a question has as much of an answer as the question of how much wood would be needed to build a house as big as the Empire State Building in New York and the Merchandise Mart in Chicago decided to merge, and stretch a cross-country row of desks with stenographers between their two buildings, these million girls could type for eight hours a day at their regular speed for more than three years before they used up all the paper.

If this twenty-five-year production were made up into business writing paper and envelopes and parcelled out to the people of the world, every living soul on earth could write and send twenty letters. In writing paper and envelopes, this twenty-five-year mass of Hammermill Bond equals more ordinary mail than would go, on the average, through the New York City post office in fifteen years.

Or look at it this way: If a wide-awake business executive, who dictated a letter on a separate sheet every five minutes for eight hours a day, tried to use up this amount of paper, he would still be dictating (probably with a sore throat) at the end of two and a half million years!

Alphtheria Dangerous
Should Protect Children from This Deadly Foe by Administering Toxoid
Austin, Texas—A health slogan applicable to May Day-Child Health Day, "Immunize Now—Keep Out Diphtheria," is designed intensify the campaign against the most deadly foe of children, diphtheria, according to Dr. W. Cox, State Health Officer.
Parents would have their family physician administer toxoid to their child as soon after it reaches the age of six months as possible, which suffering and many deaths could be prevented.
The administering of toxoid is a simple procedure and causes the child little or no discomfort. In approximately ninety per cent of children receiving toxoid, there is established a life long immunity to this disease.
BE SURE, four to six months after the final dose of toxoid, the child should be Schick tested so parents will know definitely whether their child is immune. The test consists of just a few drops of diphtheria toxin between the layers of their skin. If the child is immune, reaction will be noticed. If not, the child will appear redness at the site of the test that reaches its peak the third or fourth day.

Possible Savings Through Functional Consolidation of Counties

By H. C. BRADSHAW and L. P. GABBARD,
Division of Farm and Ranch Economics

In addition to the reduction in such costs as salaries and maintenance of buildings, there are various other arguments for the consolidation of counties. In the first place, the creation of a county which is larger in area, population, and assessed valuation, provides a unit which is more nearly capable of supporting all necessary and desirable services.

In fact, a consideration of the physical characteristics of a county will allow one to predict with considerable accuracy the financial support which a particular service will receive. This means that a county must meet certain minimum standards of population, and assessed valuation before particular services can be established and properly maintained. If a "weak" county does succeed in establishing one of these services, the lack of support stifles its development and sometimes causes it to be abandoned entirely.

This situation is best illustrated by experiences in establishing health and library services. Officials of the Texas State Department of Health believe that a county should have a population of 20,000 before it establishes a county health unit. Such a unit is composed of a full-time doctor, nurse, sanitarian, and necessary clerical help—and is capable of providing a complete public health program. Experience has demonstrated that a smaller staff cannot care for all the needs, but that such a staff should serve a population of at least 20,000, in order to be fully occupied. Even a county of 20,000 population is barely able to finance such a program under present conditions. Hence, from the financial standpoint, larger counties are very desirable. As the population increases, the staff can be increased sufficiently to meet the demands. In 1936, only 12 county health units were in operation. In Texas, these units served a total of 14 counties, since one unit was on a cooperative basis and served three counties. In 24 other counties, a county nurse was maintained. Hence, 38 counties were making some effort to provide public health services. This is far from an outstanding record.

Much the same situation is revealed in the case of county libraries. Officials of the State Library recommend that a county have an assessed valuation of $10,000,000 or more before it attempts to establish this service. It is also recommended that no library operate on less than 50 cents per capita, and that no budget be less than $5,000 in total. Consequently in order to raise the $5,000 budget it would be necessary for the minimum sized county to devote five cents of the general fund rate to library purposes. Considering the demands on county governments and the present tax limit laws, very few counties can devote this much to libraries. Hence, the possibilities of securing of adequate support is considerably greater as the valuation increases beyond the minimum figure of $10,000,000. Counties which meet these standards of assessed valuation will ordinarily have a population of 20,000 or more.

The same principles apply to the maintenance of such institutions as county farms and county jails. For example, it has been reliably estimated that a county farm cannot be economically operated for fewer than 40 persons. But many of the farms operated by Texas counties do not approach this standard. Of the 38 counties visited in 1935 only 11 were maintaining farms and less than half of these were keeping 40 persons. Likewise, four of the 38 county jails had an average daily prison population less than one. Ten other counties averaged less than five prisoners per day. The maintenance of a jail for such a small number of prisoners is an extremely heavy burden for the smaller counties.

The difficulty of securing a consolidation of counties has led to a type of cooperation which is called functional consolidation. Under this plan, two or more counties which maintain their separate identity, agree to pool their resources in order to support a particular service. The same result may also be secured by direct action of the state. For example, the state may group several counties for the performance of a particular service. In this case, a part of all the cost is prorated among the counties of the group.

Of the 38 counties visited, 11 were cooperating with 13 other counties in providing four distinct types of services. Six counties cooperated in feeding and guarding prisoners; two counties cooperated in maintaining a county auditor; 14 counties cooperated in providing agricultural agents; and two counties cooperated in maintaining hospital services. Judging by this group, approximately one-fourth to one-third of the counties in the state are functionally consolidated with another county in furnishing one or more services. In addition to the cooperation between counties, the study also revealed 76 cases of cooperation between the 38 counties and other governmental units within their boundaries. The counties assessed or collected taxes, or both, for six villages and 62 independent school districts. The eight other cases involved cooperation in maintaining nurses, hospitals, county farms, humane officers, and libraries.

One of the outstanding cases of cooperation through direct action of the state has occurred in Virginia, where 23 separate county farms have been replaced by four district farms. According to the State Commissioner of Public Welfare, this plan has reduced the per capita cost by 50 per cent, despite the fact that modern equipment, nursing and medical service, and standardized diet and care have been provided. This statement is based on five years experience under the plan. Virginia has also established 14 combined school divisions involving 29 counties as well as several district health units involving both counties and cities.

An Open Letter to A Boor on Wheels

SOME day, my ill-mannered friend, you are going to go too far. Some day, when you swerve around a street corner, you are going to clip the buttons off the wrong pedestrian's vest, and he is going to catch up with you, haul you off your comfy upholstery and deal you the smacking-down you deserve. You're a veritable titan of self-assurance, aren't you, when you're behind an eight-cylinder engine? But how do you look on your feet? Are you the same dashing, imposing, self-assertive personage for whom the rest of the world must make room? Would you dare shove another pedestrian aside; would you jostle a six-footer? You would not, for you're just a grubby little inferiority complex who's been sublimated by a shot of gasoline.

And what's the reason for this breakneck rush of yours, anyway? You're in an automobile. You'll arrive at your destination, 10, 15 or 20 times quicker than the pedestrian you're crowding back onto the curb. The best he can do is five or six miles an hour. You are going 25 or 30, perhaps 40 miles an hour. Is your business ten times more urgent than his? My, my, what an important fellow you are! What vast designs, what momentous projects must occupy your waking hours to justify such impatience.

The automobile, it seems, is the devil's gift to the Little Man. Put him in control of a motor car and he's cock o' the crosswalks. But if you suddenly yanked that ton or two of iron and steel out from under him, you'd find him just a measly nonentity with the mental setup of a grammar school bully.

CITY MANAGER GOVERNMENT IN WHEELING GIVES CITY SURPLUS

New York.—Celebrating the end of the first year of council-manager government in Wheeling, West Virginia, city officials announce that for the first time in thirteen years the city is "out of the red". According to a statement issued by the National Municipal League, more than $106,000 in unpaid bills inherited from the former administration were paid off and there is a cash balance of $79,222 with which to start the new year.

Collections from almost every source were higher than during the previous year. Since approximately a third of the city's income is derived from the water department, this was one of the first departments to be examined by city manager Harry J. Humphrey for possible economies. A better system of collection was installed and many who had been receiving free water at the city's expense were taken from the exempt list. The year's collections amounted to $61,000 more than the receipts of the year previous.

In the police department instructions were given to impose fines and penalties, regardless of political affiliation. Tickets were not torn up; fines were imposed and paid. An increase of almost 150 per cent was shown in the collection of fines and costs by the police department.

The city's license department, given a free hand in collections, also showed a large increase in revenue, particularly in business licenses, franchise taxes, plumbing licenses, and electrician's licenses.

The city came within $150 of reaching its budget of estimated revenues which totaled $903,000, one of the largest budgets in years. It stayed $73,700 under the amount estimated for expenditures in the budget. Purchasing city supplies on the basis of price and quality without consideration of political factors contributed to the reduction in expenditures.

Settlement of a case against the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia, a fight for lower gas rates, brought the city $117,300. Of this, $43,800 was used to pay bills left by the previous administration. The remainder of the old bills were paid from current revenues.

The fact that most municipalities in West Virginia continued to run behind during the year made Wheeling's balanced budget the more outstanding. Citizens attribute the record to their new form of government which fixes responsibility and provides greater administrative independence. Wheeling's council of nine members were elected by the system of proportional representation.

PRESIDENT REVISES ESTIMATES

Washington, D. C.—Disappointed over revenue receipts, President Roosevelt has sharply revised his estimates of last January. Revenue receipts for the fiscal year are estimated at $5,224,000,000 or $604,150,000 less than the total originally expected. The expenditures stand at $7,781,000,000 nearly $300,000,000 less than predicted. The anticipated deficit is placed at $2,557,000,000 which is $308,871,226 greater than the President's previous forecast. "I regard it as extremely important that we should achieve a balance for the fiscal year 1938" he told Congress, "and I appeal to you to join me in a determined effort to bring about that result."

EMPLOYERS SEEK INFORMATION

Washington, D. C.—Since the Supreme Court upheld the National Labor Relations Act, thousands of employers have sought clarification of its provisions. The following replies answer queries most frequently asked: Employers must accept a union as bargaining agent only if a majority of the workers vote for it; they need not reach an agreement, but must try to do so in good faith. Employers are not required to hire only union labor, and may discharge employees at will, except that no worker may be dismissed because he joins a union or is active in the organization of one. Workers cannot organize on the employer's time; they must use their own lunch hour or after the day's work. NLRA has no jurisdiction over picketing, which is a matter for State or local authorities.

SUBSIDIZING MOTHERHOOD

Albany, N. Y.—A bill introduced into the New York Legislature by Dr. Emerson D. Fite, who, when not legislating, teaches political science to the girls of Vassar College, would provide $75 for physician's service and hospitalization for every child born in the state. While the bill has passed the lower house, it is feared that the cost, estimated at from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000 a year, might kill the measure in an economy-minded Senate.

LIBERAL PREXY

Amherst, Mass.—"I happen to own a piece of real estate in Springfield which makes good bail." This is the reason given at an alumni dinner by Dr. Stanley King, president of Amherst College, for his cheerful willingness to become surety for any of his undergraduates who came afoul of the law as the result of Saturday night celebrations.

4 IN 1 CLUB

Mrs. Willis Hardy, Reporter

"In making tufted bed spreads, do not use a very long yarn," stated Mrs. B. L. Barnes, bedroom demonstrator, to the 4 in 1 club which met with Mrs. J. L. Flowers April 23, 1:30 p. m.
 "One of the reasons why you should use a reasonable short yarn is that it is easier to pull through the material and will not get tangled and twisted so easily," stated Mrs. Barnes.

NORTHWEST TEXAS FARMERS MAKE POULTRY PAY

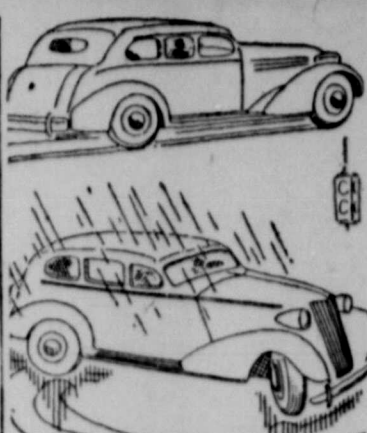

Proper care and feeding of poultry flocks is returning increased profits to northwest Texas farmers, according to reports of county agricultural agents.
 With his 175 white leghorn hens, Marvin Townley of Cottle county has produced an average of 75 per cent egg production by feeding a laying mash formula this winter recommended by the county agricultural agent. The cost of eggs was approximately eight and one-half cents per dozen and they have paid his family grocery bill and left a cash surplus.
 The flock was culled March 15 and 38 hens removed with no loss in total production of the flock. Townley says the birds culled were boarded and intends to prevent this another season by culling early.
 "I have received about five cents over market price for my eggs because they were properly handled, marketed when fresh, and were non-fertile," says F. F. Ferguson of Hutchinson county. Ferguson owns 45 Rhode Island Red hens and reports that they laid 54 dozen and seven eggs during February.
 G. L. Isaacs of Borden county has kept a record on both feed and production for his flock of 230 laying hens for the past 13 weeks. During the first week of feeding a balanced ration to the flock, the feed bill was $11.25 and only 132 eggs were produced. After the first week, the highest charge for feed for any one week was $5.65 and egg production went above 1,000 after the sixth

FUN with FACTS

THE FUN

Place a clean, dry saucer or platter upon a table. Take a pencil, eraser end down, and hold it against the platter at an angle of about 45 degrees. Push firmly in an endeavor to move the pencil across the platter. You will find that the platter moves and may even push the table-covering or table itself.

THE FACTS

On a clean, dry pavement, your tires exert a very strong push. It is this push which moves your car forward. When the pavement is wet, your tires have a tendency to repeat the eraser and wet platter performance. This may prove to be dangerous if you try to stop quickly or change your direction suddenly. Other conditions which tend to cause similar results are wet leaves, car tracks, oil, ice and snow. Under such circumstances, whenever you feel impatient, just remember the wet eraser.

Hohenwald, Tenn.
April 23, 1937
Dear Mr. Stewart:

Received the Ochiltree County Herald today. Was very glad to hear from Perryton and receive one of the best papers in Texas.

My sisters, Wilma, and Helen, my grandfather, Elder J. B. Hardy and myself are visiting here, having a very nice time. We are making our headquarters near Hohenwald, Tennessee.

This country consists of hills and valleys. The valleys which are abundantly watered by streams fed by large cold springs are used for agriculture. The farms are bare at present as this is the planting season. No winter crops are raised. The hills consist of pasture land and forests. The timber is nearly all in full foliage, which makes the landscape very beautiful. It reminds us of the Bible description of the land of Canaan.

The people in general are very kind and blessed with that old southern hospitality. They have nice homes and live at home. They have made us feel welcome in their homes.

We have visited the following places of historical note: The Meriwether Lewis National Park in Lewis County, Tennessee, which is very beautiful. In the midst of which stands the monument of Meriwether Lewis over his grave upon the spot where he was murdered on his return from the Lewis and Clark expedition to the northwest territory where they were sent by President Jefferson in 1803.

Also the Hermitage, the mansion home of President Jackson, which is situated in Davidson County, Tennessee, twelve miles east of Nashville. The furnishings, both in the mansion and on the grounds, remain in the same order as when used by President Jackson.

We spent several hours in the beautiful city of Nashville, which contains much of historical interest. Visited the capitol building which is situated on a prominence in the midst which overlooks the entire city.

But the most interesting of all to us are the wonders at Muscle Shoals, the gigantic Wilson Dam on the Tennessee River in northern Alabama, which is approximately one mile long and 140 feet high. We were shown through by a guide and saw something of the workings of the huge machinery in operation which is located about one hundred feet below the top of the dam and seventy-five feet below the water level. The power is produced by nine huge turbines which run the dynamos at terrific speed capable of producing sufficient electricity to electrify a large portion of the United States east of the Mississippi River, which to behold leaves one in astonishment and wonder. The water level is regulated by flood gates.

We expect to arrive home May 4. Until then farewell.
Yours truly,
Paul Hardy

STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT INSPECTOR POOL

J. C. Oliver of the State Health Department was in Perryton Saturday and inspected the local swimming pool. He was called in by city officials to give an estimate on what was needed to bring the pool up to the standard which is required by the state. Oliver stated that we have an excellent pool but must have some sort of a filtration plant. Arrangements have not been made for this, as yet, but will be soon. It will be about a month before the pool is to open.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson - Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, May 2.

The Golden Text is: "Evil pursueth sinners; but to the righteous good shall be repayed." (Proverbs 13:21).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, and said, 'Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven' (Matthew 18:23).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We acknowledge God's forgiveness of sin in the destruction of sin and the spiritual understanding that casts out evil as unreal. But the belief in sin is punished so long as the belief lasts" (page 497).

Attractive Spreads

Unbleached Domestic is Often Used in Making Attractive Bedspreads

Unbleached domestic is frequently used for making tufted bedspreads. The soft creamy color and the rich dull texture of unbleached muslin makes it very suitable for bedspreads. It can be purchased in various widths and in heavier and lighter grades. Colored sheeting may also be used. The size of the spread will depend upon the width and length of one's mattress. Usually a size to depend on is 72 inches by 116 inches.

Care must be exercised in selecting the color of thread and design to go with a particular bedroom. They both must harmonize with other furnishings and the color one which takes its proper place in the room and does not stand out conspicuously, calling undue attention to the bed. Simple, all-over geometric designs are the most charming designs that can be chosen. The spreads are easily laundered and should not be ironed. The more they are laundered the prettier they become.

Army Offers Choice

Recruits Are to Get Choice of Vacancies Which Are Now Available To Them

Vacancies now exist for Engineers, Port Logan, Colorado; Medical Department, Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver, Colorado; Infantry and Field artillery, Fort Warren, Wyoming. There are also a few Quartermaster vacancies at all of these posts. Applications accepted now will be given their choice of these assignments.

After passing the required examinations at Amarillo applicants are forwarded to Denver at once, all expenses paid by the government.

All interested are requested to call or write Sergeant R. A. Jackson, Army Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Amarillo, Texas.

Professional teacher-training in Texas began in 1879 when 113 students enrolled at Sam Houston Normal Institute, Huntsville. Today seven state teachers' colleges at Huntsville, Denton, San Marcos, Canyon, Commerce, Alpine and Nacogdoches, enroll more than 4,000 during the regular college year.

Highest college campus in Texas and one of the highest in the world is that of Sul Ross State Teachers College, Alpine, 4,550 feet above sea level. Canyon, home of West Texas State Teachers College, has an elevation of 3,551 feet.

SORGHUMS BLOWN LANDS

GRAIN SORGHUMS BLOWN LAND GIVES MOISTURE, ORGANIC MATTER FOR SOIL

On Texas April 27.—What prevent the blowing out of lands that have failed to a crop for the last year or one of the major problems facing the Soil Conservation Region Six with headquarters in Amarillo.

serious wind erosion started because of drought and other conditions, millions of once valuable lands in the state of Texas and Oklahoma, in Kansas, southeast Colorado and eastern New Mexico have been severely damaged and made unproductive. The residue of wheat in their eroded condition. The residue disappeared from the fields, and has been lost, and the matter of the rich top soil is blown away. In some fields have become hum-mediate problem in remedying this situation is to reestablish crop residue in the soil by a cover crop to retain the moisture and to prevent further most effective method of this problem, according to Ed. Associate Regional Agent of the Soil Conservation Service, is to plant the field solid with rows of grain sorghums, milo, kafir and hegari. This is recommended for May and on the contour whether the field is terraced.

Hide further recommends seeding of wheat on this land and be omitted next fall. Sorghums will provide residue that will serve the purposes of preventing or reducing wind erosion, retaining and restoring humus to the soil. If the soil is not overgrazed, it may be used to wheat within a year or conditions are favorable.

Through this method, the grower will be reclaiming and stabilizing his land, and has an opportunity to produce a crop of grain from the sorghum, the agronomist points out.

An example of what may be accomplished by the planting of wind eroding wheat land to grain sorghums is found on the farm of J. M. Peden, 17 miles northeast of Dalhart.

In 1933 this field was blown severely, the wheat being destroyed except in a few spots. The harvest was only 600 bushels from the 600 acres in cultivation. During the succeeding three years the wheat was blown out completely and the top soil was lost to plow depth.

Peden, a cooperator of the Soil Conservation Service, started using moisture conservation methods. In 1936, the field being terraced in April and contour listed in May. Before planting time, moisture from 5.24 inches of rain had been held evenly in the furrows and penetrated the soil below root depth. Milo was planted in May.

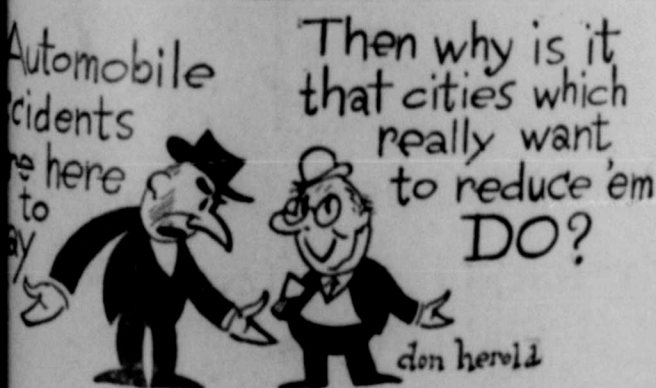

Although the total rainfall for the year was only 9.5 inches on Peden's field, he harvested 1,000 pounds of headed milo to the acre. The stalks were unmolested by grazing. Although there has been some slight soil movement during the blowing season this year, no serious loss has occurred.

Another example of reclaiming and stabilizing eroding wheat land by the planting of grain sorghums is found on the 320-acre field of Joe Evans, about 10 miles west of Hereford. Evans' wheat was blown out in 1935. He became a cooperator with the Soil Conservation Service program in 1936, and planted grain sorghum on the contour. He harvested one and a half tons of feed per acre, valued at $3.50 to $4 a ton, or a yield worth about $5 an acre. The field now has been blank listed in preparation for another sorghum crop this year. The field has suffered practically no soil loss during the blowing season.

Shortest official state highway in Texas is No. 223, less than two miles long. It leads from Alpine to Kokernot Lodge, the recreation center of Sul Ross State Teachers College.

spots, they can be equally decreased nationally. . . . eventually. If they can be decreased in spots, it proves they CAN BE decreased.

As soon as the public accepts the fact that automobile accidents are a disease that can be stamped out like smallpox and are not merely a calamity that has to be TAKEN, then the battle will be half won.

Get behind the safety movement in your town. Make—or keep—your town one of the spots. Ten deaths subtracted here and there will soon add up to several thousand on a national basis.

BEERY PICTURE IS COMING SOON

WALLACE BEERY TO APPEAR IN COMEDY MELODRAMA AT ELLIS THEATRE, SUNDAY AND MONDAY

On Sunday and Monday, May 2-3, Wallace Beery, Una Merkel, Ted Healy and other stars will appear in "The Good Old Soak", at the Ellis Theatre. This is a domestic comedy melodrama revolving around a simple old reprobate, who has an aversion to work, yet more virtues than vices.

The elements welded into the film are what almost everybody would like to see in all films, comedy, pathos, romance, adventure, a bit of skulduggery and excitement. There seems to be a distinct parallel between this and "Old Hutch."

Wallace Beery has the role of the labor dodging, nip-taking old soak, Janet Beecher is his wife, Una Merkel is the family slavey, and Ted Healy, the fellow who supplies Beery with products that are his pride and joy. Eric Linden is in the role of the high flying son. Betty Furness is the daughter whom everyone loves. Robert McWade is a skinflint banker, who'll swindle anyone, until he runs up against the old soak.

Film Treat Coming

Bing Crosby in "Pennies from Heaven" To Show at Ellis Theatre on May 6 and 7

There's happiness ahead at the Ellis Theatre, when Bing Crosby's latest picture, Columbia's "Pennies from Heaven," is due on Thursday and Friday, May 6 and 7. A cast that includes Madge Evans, Edith Fellows, Donald Meek and Louis Armstrong, famed king of swing, works along with Bing in the film.

The story concerns a vagabond troubadour who falls in with a little girl and her improvident grandfather and proceeds to take them under his somewhat patched-up wing. The child is about to be sent to an orphanage and the elderly man to an Old People's Home when the troubadour hits upon a plan to make enough money for all three of them to live on.

The county welfare worker who is responsible for the child, happens to be just the type of girl the troubadour can love, and he finds himself doing it thoroughly. However, they are on opposite sides of the fence, hence complications. Things manage to work out for the best along toward the end of the picture, after merriment, romance and music take turns with the entertainment.

Crosby is said to sing some of the best songs of his career in "Pennies from Heaven."

Ace Comedy at Ellis

"Nobody's Baby" to be Presented Here Tuesday and Wednesday Is Fun Film

Filled with catchy music, beautiful dancing, good actors and plenty of what it takes to leave audiences in happy spirits, "Nobody's Baby," the comedy feature, which shows at the Ellis Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, will undoubtedly go down in motion picture annals as the first feature of an ideal comedy team.

It is insane, ridiculous comedy of a decidedly desirable variety. Fun and foolishness is the keynote of every situation. The dialogue, characterization and action are in accord with the tempo of the picture.

"Nobody's Baby" deals with the lighter side of hospital life. Patsy and Lydia are student nurses who find themselves in many embarrassing situations when they give a helping hand to Don Alvarado's dancing partner-wife, Rosina Lawrence and her newly born babe. Friends of Patsy and Lydia, Lynne Overman and Robert Armstrong, detective lieutenant, and reporter respectively, complicate matters considerably. The efforts of Patsy and Lydia to straighten up the muddle lead to a riotous climax at the swank Club Tropicano. This set, incidentally, is one of the most beautiful ever brought to the screen.

The musical numbers are good, the singing and dancing excellent. Splendid work is done by the entire cast who seem to have entered into the spirit of the story and enjoyed their roles.

Price Cutting

The price cutter admits his own failure as a salesman.

He acknowledges that he can't come out and win in the open.

He allies himself with the bootlegger, the professional beggar and the gangster.

He reveals to everyone the fact that he cannot win by fighting fair, he brands himself a hatter below the belt.

He confesses that he has to have special rules made for his side.

And, like all those who fight under cover, he eventually perishes by his own hand.

Don't overlook the fact that if the business world were dominated by price-cutters, there would be no business at all.—Contributed.
