Reds Gain 62 Miles; Enemy Front Falters

Soviet Columns Within 2 Miles Of Budapest

BY DANIEL DELUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Oct. 9—A powerful new Russian offensive, surging 62 miles through the wavering German Baltic front, appeared today to have virtually cut off at least 15 German divisions north of the port city of Memel, while Soviet columns invading Hungary from Romania were reported within 2 miles of Budapest.

The Baltic breakthrough on a 175-mile front west of Siauliai in Lithuania, a Soviet communique said, enveloped over 2,000 populated places in four days and carried to within 5 miles of Memel, presaging a quick capitulation of that port and a thrust southward on the German soil of East Prussia.

Nazi Armor Smashed

The Russians destroyed the backbone of a force of more than 800 German tanks and 200 self-propelled guns and captured large numbers of prisoners, with the German dead and wounded mounting to several thousands, Pravda reported.

It appeared that the Nazis—with this significant loss—may have considerable difficulty in holding a line along the Niemen river, which is the natural northern defense line of East Prussia and where a great major battle seems to be shaping up.

Meanwhile, Russian columns speeding into southern Hungary in two days reached the Tiza river, last big hurdle before imperilled Budapest, capturing 4,000 Nazi prisoners. In the central plains the Red army was still a few miles short of the river.

Belgrade Approaches Cleared

In Yugoslavia, combined Russian and Yugoslav partisan units cleared the southern approaches of Belgrade, less than 50 miles from the capital, which is already outflanked on its northern outskirts.

(The Paris radio said last night Belgrade was being evacuated by the Germans.)

Long stretches of the Belgrade-Athens railway through Serbia have been wrested from the enemy, further menacing the escape routes for German troops bottled up in the lower Balkans.

The new Baltic disaster for the Germans came as other Russian troops seized most of Saare island, Estonian teritory dominating the seaward escape from Riga, as the Red army drove closer to Riga itself.

SANITY HEARING SET

FORT WORTH, Oct. 9 (AP) — Miss Kathleen Latham, 24, will be brought here tomorrow from the Wichita Falls state hospital for a hearing to determine legal restoration of her sanity.

HOTTEST FIGHTER PILOT —Capt. Henry W. Brown (above) described by the Ninth Air force as the "hottest" fighter pilot in the European theater, was born and educated in Dallas. He is credited with 30 Nazi planes; 16 in the air and 14 on the ground. (AP Photo).

Probe Of Tire Quotas Asked

Texas Allotments Termed Excessive

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — An investigation of OPA's distribution of tire allotments in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas was demanded today by Rep. Brooks (D-La).

The Congressman made his demand in a letter to Chester Bowles, price administrator, in which he contended that Texas was receiving more than its share of tire allotments from the Dallas OPA regional office, and Louisiana and Arkansas, also in the region, were suffering.

"The Dallas and Fort Worth districts of Texas receive by distribution from the Dallas regional office a greater allotment of tires than does the entire state of Louisiana," Brooks wrote.

"The Dallas district alone receives in its allotment more tires than the entire state of Arkansas. There are five district offices in Texas and, of course, the entire allotment for the state is divided into five parts whereas the allotment for Louisiana is divided into only two parts. . . .

"Both the Dallas and Fort Worth districts are enjoying an excess in allotments of 100,000 passenger tires more than the people of North Louisiana" for the period Jan. 1, 1943, to July 1, 1944.

Brooks asked that an urgency quota of tires be allotted to farmers in North Louisiana "so that our farmers can get in their products to the market without delay and without deterioration and spoilage."

World Security Plan Unveiled

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — A detailed but incomplete plan for maintaining peace by force was presented to the world today by the United States, Britain, China and Russia, and President Roosevelt asserted the task of designing the future security of the world "has been well begun."

The organization of the world to preserve peace and security, Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement, represents "a major objective for which this war is being fought, and as such, it inspires the highest hopes of the millions of fathers and mothers whose sons and daughters are engaged in the terrible struggle and suffering of war."

The security organization calls for converting the war-born United Nations into a permanent peace organization backed by powerful armed forces, including special air detachments capable of lightning blows against any future aggressors.

Announcement of its tentative details came as United Nations diplomats foresaw the possibility of an early four-power meeting "at the highest level" to tighten war-end relations and to complete the security organization's blueprint.

As now drawn, it would consist of a general assembly of all "peace loving states," a Security Council of 11 nations which would have final authority on all uses of force; an Economic and Social Council to work out the world's economic ills, and an international court of justice.

The General Assembly, the Security Council, and the Economic and Social Council each would have a president but the greatest prestige obviously would attach to the presidency of the Security Council, whose members would include permanently the "big four" and, "in due course," France.

Armed Forces Available

Forces to back up the decisions of the council, when peaceful methods failed, would be made available "on its call" by member nations of the organization. The air force detachments, however, would be "held immediately available" for action.

It was said on high authority that the means by which the United States would furnish its share of forces remain to be decided, but the administrative branch is expected to press for a blanket authorization to obviate

Four Actions By Congress Envisaged In Outline Of World Organization

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Action by both the Senate alone and the entire Congress is envisaged in the tentative outline for a world security organization made public today.

At least two treaties would come before the Senate for ratification, while both houses would have to act on at least two pieces of legislation.

Treaty ratification would be required for:

1. The charter of the new organization.

2. A master agreement, or series of special agreements, guaranteeing armed forces and facilities of the member nations for use on the security council in maintaining peace and stamping out aggression.

The legislation would embrace:

1. A measure setting up the way in which American forces would be made available. It is understood the administration will press for creation of a special unit which could be sent into action without further specific congressional approval.

2. Appropriation measures for the international organization and the United States armed force.

Churchill, Eden In Moscow

MOSCOW, Oct. 9. (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Anthony Eden arrived in Moscow today for conferences with Marshal Joseph Stalin and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

HARRIMAN TO REPRESENT U. S. IN CONFERENCE

In London it was announced that W. Averell Harriman, U. S. ambassador, would represent the United States in the conference, which Deputy Prime Minister Clement Attlee described as a sequel the meeting at Quebec between President Roosevelt and Churchill.

Attlee added that the meeting had "the fullest approval of the U. S. government."

London dispatches said it was believed there that a wide-open Anglo-Soviet rift over Poland's future was a major motivating factor in the Churchill-Eden trip.

Speculate On Roosevelt

While there was speculation in London that President Roosevelt might later join the Churchill-Stalin conference, it was generally believed there, a dispatch said, that the full-dress meeting of the three United Nations leaders would be deferred until late November and December—partly

Willkie's Death Shocks Nation

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (U.P.)—The body of Wendell L. Willkie, the small-town Indiana boy who became a nationally-known corporation executive, a presidential candidate and, later, America's most influential private citizen, lay in state at the Fifth avenue Presbyterian church today.

Willkie's death of coronary thrombosis early yesterday came with a suddenness that stunned a nation which always had regarded the tousle-haired husky-voiced Hoosier as the epitome of health and vigor.

The reaction was spontaneous and swelled in volume all day yesterday and today as thousands of telegrams of sympathy poured in from friends, supporters, political opponents and admirers in all walks of life.

Heart Attacks Fatal

Only 52, the former Republican standard-bearer entered the Lenox Hill hospital for routine treatment of a stomach disorder Sept. 6, but had been seriously ill only since last Tuesday, when a streptococci throat infection and a lung congestion developed. His temperature soared to 104 degrees and then subsided, but his heart weakened under the strain. The last of three violent heart attacks was fatal at 1:20 a.m. CWT yesterday. Mrs. Willkie left her own sickbed and arrived at her husband's side five minutes before his death.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday but the time of Willkie's burial will be determined by the return of his only son, Lt. (jg) Philip Willkie, USNR, who

Yanks Cut Last Escape Highway From Old City

Seventh Army Moves Up Near Belfort; Third In Underground Tunnels Of Fort Driant; Canadians Trap 5,000 Nazis

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The U. S. First army clamped a death grip on Aachen today in a twin drive which left an escape corridor only a mile and a half wide northeast of that ancient coronation place of Teutonic kings.

Despite desperate German counterattacks, three of them up Crucifix hill overlooking the city from the northeast, Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' warriors cut the last major road out of Aachen, the Adolf Hitler highway running to Julich and Cologne, and severed most of the secondary roads.

Driving south from the Ubach breakthrough zone in the Siegfried line, Hodges' fighting Americans overran Bardenberg and reached the edge of Wurselen, through which runs the only secondary road remaining for an estimated Aachen garrison of 1,500 SS guards.

Cleanup Squads At Work

Already American cleanup squads were moving through the outskirts of the ancient crossroads city, cleaning out Germans who clung to their positions house by house in obedience to orders to stand and die.

On the southern fronts, the Seventh army had moved up to within eight miles of Belfort in the mountain gap fringing Switzerland and were shelling Belfort's outskirts. Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's shock troops of the Third army cut their way through 300 yards of underground tunnel in Fort Driant at Metz, burning down five steel bulkheads in the advance.

To the north of the 460-mile Allied front, the Canadian army shot an amphibious spearhead two miles across the fog-wreathed waters of a Schelde river inlet and landed at the rear of a die-hard garrison of 5,000 men holding a pocket south of the estuary.

Landing Successful

The landing, just east of the village of Hoofdplaat, 33 miles west of Antwerp, was described at supreme headquarters as in "some strength and was declared to have been carried out successfully.

It was hoped the operation would be of aid to Canadians holding a bridgehead across the Leopold canal, 10 to 15 miles to the southeast. This bridgehead had been subject to heavy pressure for three days since the waterway was crossed in the wake of a flamethrower attack. The bridgehead was further reduced today, however, and was described as split and driven back to the dikes of the canal itself.

The Germans here were fighting with their backs to the Schelde and the flooded Walcheren and

10,000 Planes Pound Nazis

'Earthquake' Bombs Smash Rhine Dam

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 9 — Close to 10,000 Allied planes hammered Germany and Holland over the weekend in the greatest 24-hour assault in the history of aerial warfare and only unfavorable weather across Holland and France kept the number from being much greater.

While the heavy bombers, which had their biggest day of the war Saturday, were grounded Sunday

GREAT ARMADA OUT TODAY

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP) — Another great armada of 2,000 American planes, resuming the battering of Germany after the hardest blows of the war over the weekend, soared deep into the Reich today and attacked military objectives in the Schweinfurt, Coblenz and Mainz areas.

American and British tactical fleets based on the continent flew more than 1,500 sorties in support of the ground armies.

Ninth Air force fighter-bombers, roaming the length of the western front, were credited with destroying 132 enemy guns opposing the American First and Third armies. Meanwhile, RAF fighter and medium bombers slashed at German troops, railways and barges in the Nijmegen and Tilburg areas of Holland.

Rail Units Knocked Out

The Ninth also knocked out 43 locomotives, 104 freight cars, cut railroad tracks in 29 places and destroyed three German planes parked on the ground.

While great damage was done to German oil plants, tank works, aircraft factories and railway centers, the most spectacular weekend raid was carried out by a force of 13 RAF Lancasters that smashed the Kembs dam across the lower Rhine with 12,000 pound

Fourteen Killed In Plane Crash

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Fourteen members of the crew of a four-engined bomber of the heaviest type were dead today after the huge craft crashed and burned on the edge of the storage tank farm of a Texas company refinery near here.

Scores of persons yesterday saw the spectacular crash of the craft, some pieces of which fell in streets and in yards almost three miles from the refinery.

Lt. W. E. Dowell, assistant operations oficer at Hensley field here, reported that all 14 of the crew perished.

The huge ship speeding earthward, clipped a power line, cut a corner off a warehouse and burst into billowing flame within 50 feet of two large gasoline and kerosene mixing tanks, witnesses said.

Was In Inverted Spin

Investigation of the crash was first assumed by Hensley field officials, but later was turned over to authorities at Love field here, and to oficials of Pratt Army Air field and that a board of inquiry from that field would investigate the crash.

The body of one of the men aboard was thrown clear, some members of the crew were confined in the burning plane and several bodies were found near the escape hatch.

"I heard the pilot blasting his motors," said Lt. Thomas J. Flanders of the Texas Defense guard who was with a group of his men at a rifle range about a mile and a half from the refinery.

"The plane seemed about 3,000 feet up and was coming down in an inverted spin. I waited for the men to bail out, but none did. There was plenty of time. When

One-Day Campaign Set Here Tuesday For War Chest Fund

Thirty teams of solicitors will start out Tuesday morning in an effort to raise Lubbock county's War Chest fund in a concentrated one-day campaign. The over-all quota for the county is $50,505, which finances 22 war agencies in the United War Chest fund.

Last-minute instructions will be given three groups of the employes division in a meeting at the Hilton hotel at 8 o'clock tonight and workers will begin solicitations early Tuesday. Teams of the general sales division will meet at the Hilton at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and solicitors will go out from the meeting in a canvass of the town.

Day's Pay Asked

An average of a day's pay is being asked of individual donors in the campaign.

In the meeting of the employes groups tonight, of which A. H. Maas, is colonel, the retail captains are: E. T. Pope, I. A. Stephens, W. L. Hester, R. C. Weber, Earl Burnette, Steve Allgood, A. I. Glassman, C. H. Grollman and a captain from every store with ten or more employes. Captains in the public service group of employes are: Clark W. Abbott, Al Finnell, W. O. Daniels, and J. Holland Cox. Wholesale employes captains are: A. F. Phillips, R. C. Harvey and Vernice Ford.

Roy Riddel is colonel of the general sales division which meets at the Hilton Tuesday morning. Majors and their captains are as follows: Chas. H. Read, major; Hub Jones, Harry Delaney, J. E. Maisen, E. Powell McWhirter, Geo. Brewer, and A. S. Meinecke; Fred Childress, major; John Halsey, Clint Keith, Edgar Lewis, Jack Henry, Walter Davies and Bill Kizer; J. A. Vatican Rapped By Russian Magazine

MOSCOW, Oct. 9. (U.P.) — The Russian publication War and the Working Class charged today that the Vatican is actively supporting Fascism in Europe and that Pope Pius XII is seeking a compromise peace for a beaten Germany.

The magazine denounced the Vatican's neutrality in the world conflict as a "strange neutrality toward the murderer and his victims," and hinted strongly that the papal state's peace proposals were inspired by the fact that Germany obviously was beaten.

"The Vatican not once openly condemned Hitler, Goering, Himmler and other organizers of mass murder, looting and destruction of human culture, but is even appealing for mercy and forgiveness for the Hitlerians," it said.

Parolee Charged In Raping Of Girl, 7

HOUSTON, Oct. 9 (U.P.) — A parolee from the Texas prison system, 26-year-old Max Alfred Delling, was charged today with criminal assault on a 7-year-old girl.

Charges were filed against Delling after statements had been made by both the child and her mother. The child told her mother that Delling attacked her Saturday, but added it was not the first time. She said Delling promised her a sewing kit if she promised "not to tell."

Delling was paroled two months ago after serving less than seven months of a two-year sentence for forgery.

Germans Preparing To Evacuate Athens

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Oct. 8.—German forces were reported preparing to evacuate Athens today as British troops, racing virtually unopposed across the Peloponnesus, neared the southern entrance to the Isthmus of Corinth, gateway to northern Greece.

Dispatches from the front yesterday said British troops were approaching the outskirts of Corinth, at the base of the narrow isthmus after seizing the port of Navplion, and it appeared possible they may already have entered the city.

Would Seal Escape Route

Fall of Corinth would seal off the only overland escape route for any German troops remaining in the Peloponnesus and would place the Allies only 45 miles from Athens.

It was believed unlikely, however, the Germans had left many troops in southern Greece.

Reports that the Nazis had begun evacuating Athens came from British fighter plane pilots operating from Greek bases, who said they had observed a considerable concentration in the port, including a number of ferry type craft and several large ships.

Flee By "Land, Sea, Air"

British commanders asserted the Germans were fleeing Greece "by land, sea and air," apparently exerting all efforts to withdraw before the onrushing Russian forces, bulwarked by Bulgarian troops and Yugoslav guerillas, cut off their escape routes.

Allied planes continued to pound enemy airports around Athens and Salonika over the weekend, while British naval forces ranged along the Greek coast on the alert for any Nazis attempting to escape by sea.

Finns Capture Port And Pursue Germans

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 9 (U.P.)—A Helsinki communique announced today the capture of Kemi, last German-held port on the Gulf of Bothnia, by Finnish troops who were pursuing the Nazis northward along the Kemi river.

East of Tornio German resistance was broken and contact made with troops advancing from Kemi, the communique said. A German battalion encircled north of Tornio surrendered after a bitter fight.

Violent fighting was reported continuing in the Tornio sector opposite the Swedish town of Haparanda at the head of the Gulf of Bothnia.

Dewey Stresses International Affairs, Urges Aid To China

(By The Associated Press)

Calling for an "ever greater degree of aid to China," Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today projected his presidential campaign definitely into the arena of international affairs.

The New York governor, returning from West Virginia, where he spoke Saturday night, proclaimed tomorrow as "Free China day," after demanding more public information about Poland's postwar future.

Published reports that Dewey would like to retain Secretary of State Hull in at least an advisory capacity on international affairs if elected this November brought no confirmation from the Republican nominee or his campaign managers. They termed it "purely speculative."

Hits At Private Conferences

Dewey yesterday remarked:

"We would like to know more about the results of the private deliberations of those who now discuss Poland's future in security."

This was in a brief broadcast saluting Poland's hero of the American revolution, Gen. Casimir Pulaski, during a Polish-American parade on New York's Fifth avenue.

Dewey turned quickly from Nazi-battered Poland to Japanese-mauled China with this proclamation:

"It is our obligation to our Chinese ally, to the speediest possible defeat of Japan and to a strong and lasting peace after victory, to speed an ever greater degree of aid to China as soon as possible."

Yanks Lash Marcus In Day-Long Attack

BY LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

A strong U. S. battleforce stood off Japan's tiny Marcus island all day yesterday and with "deliberate and desructive gunfire" silenced "the greater part of the coast defense batteries."

Neither Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' surprise announcement early today nor a previous report by Tokyo made mention of planes attacking or defending the outpost island 1,135 miles southeast of Tokyo.

Shore defenses and installations bombardment, which Tokyo said included the 16-inch guns of U. S. battleships. The attack was carried out by units of Adm. William F. Halsey's Third fleet which has been pounding the Philippines and the Palau islands.

Thousand Plane Raid Reported

The German Transocean News agency said that over the weekend about 1,000 American planes raided Koror, administrative center of Japanese mandated islands situated in the heart of Palau.

In the conquest of nine southern Palau islands, Marines and soldiers have killed 12,233 Japanese and captured 225 since they first landed Sept. 15.

Admiral Nimitz announced last night that ground troops advancing behind Corsair planes dropping 1,000 pound bombs made small gains against the only remaining pocket of Japanese on Peleliu, largest of the conquered islands.

Bombers patroling sea lanes south of the Philippines sank or damaged 25 Japanese coastal vessels and small craft, hit seaplanes at Zamboanga, and lashed again at the vital Balikpapan oil center on Borneo.

Jap Claim Unconfirmed

Tokyo claimed a surprise Japanese air raid on the Superfortress base at Chengtu in northwest China destroyed 44 American planes, including 23 B-29s. Tokyo said the attack was made through adverse weather which curtailed U. S. air operations.

Chines troops prepared for a last ditch defense of the only remaining U. S. air center in south-

An estimated 100 surgeons and physicians from the 22 counties of the Panhandle district, Texas Medical association, may attend the first meeting of the society in two years, in Lubbock Tuesday and Wednesday, Dr. D. D. Cross, president, said Monday.

Preparations are being made for the arrival of some of the doctors tonight, Dr. Cross said.

Registration will begin at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning on the mezannine floor of Hilton hotel.

Papers will be read Tuesday, interrupted only by a luncheon and a round table discussion at 12:15 o'clock. Dr. Cross will make the president's address and reports will be heard from Dr. E. A. Rowley of Amarillo, councilor of the society, and Dr. George L. Powers of Amarillo, secretary.

Chas. A. Guy will be principal speaker at a 7:30 p. m. dinner Tuesday.

Primary training planes are powered by 220-hp motors.

Programs for another season will begin for a number of women's organizations this week and others are continuing courses of study already underway. Reviews and lectures on philosophy, the racial problem, public health and peace are among the scheduled events.

AAUW Creative Arts Group will have its first meeting of the year tonight at 7:30 o'clock in room 204, Tech Home Economics building. The members will decide what craft will be taken up this season, to be determined by interest.

Two speakers will be included on the program at the Athenaeum club Tuesday at 3 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Faye Westmoreland, 2307 Broadway. Mrs. D. M. Davis will speak on 'The Peace That Failed" and Mrs. D. A. Childers will have as her topic, "America's Second Chance."

A talk on public health in Lubbock county will be given by Mrs. W. H. Place and a discussion will follow when the Lone Star New Comers club members hold a monthly meeting and luncheon at the Hilton hotel at 1 p. m. Wednesday. An invitation to attend is extended to all newcomers in Lubbock. Luncheon reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Clark Riffe, 9154, or Mrs. Cecil Williamson, 9568.

Miss Jewell Cathey And George Draughon Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Ed D. Cathey of 1713 Ave. G, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Jewell Cathey, to George A. Draughon of Dallas. The marriage took place at 1 p.m. Oct. 4, in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Jeff D. Welch with Mr. Welch, pastor of Central Baptist church, officiating in a single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a one piece soldier blue alpaca dress with black accessories.

When the couple left for Dallas where the bridegroom is employed, the bride wore a traveling dress of tan corduroy.

Supt. Matthews Will Be Speaker For Bean PTA

Supt. R. W. Matthews will be speaker for George R. Bean Parent-Teacher association Wednesday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock at the school. He will talk on "The Obligation of Citizenship." Mrs. C. A. White, P-T council health and summer round-up chairman, will discuss "Health." Pupils in room 105 will present a program.

World Security Plan

the necessity of asking congressional authority each time forces were to be used.

In his statement Mr. Roosevelt said "aggressors like Hitler and the Japanese war-lords organize for years for the day when they can launch their evil strength against weaker nations devoted to their peaceful pursuits."

FDR Stresses Unity

"This time," he continued, "we have been determined first to defeat the enemy, assure that he shall never again be in position to plunge the world into war and then to so organize the peace-loving nations that they may, through unity of desire, unity of will, and unity of strength, be in position to assure that no other would-be aggressor ar conqueror shall even get started."

The security plan, which also provides detailed proposals for peaceful settlement of disputes, is tentative because it has not been formally accepted by any of the governments involved. Drawn up at the Dumbarton Oaks conferences which ended Saturday, it was issued in textual form here by Secretary of State Hull who described it as an "effort to make permanent a victory purchased at so heavy a cost in blood, in tragic suffering and in treasure."

Soberly Hull warned in an accompanying statement that the road to establishment of the proposed organization "will be long and difficult," adding that "much work remains to be done before a set of completed proposals can be laid down for a full-dress United Nations conference to bring the organization into being.

Undersecretary of State Stettinius, chairman of the Dumbarton Oaks sessions, said in his report to Hull that none of the gaps in the plan is "in any sense insuperable."

How To Vote Unsettled

The chief unsolved problem is how the council should vote on questions of aggression. Russia contended that the big powers should retain the right to veto any decisions involving charges against them. The United States and Britain argued against any such veto.

As a matter of high policy, the issue may have to go to a meeting of Premier Stalin, President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Such a meeting in the near future is regarded by competent authorities as a possibility even though Russia still is not at war with Japan. They say that in the interest of perfecting a world peace design Stalin may be willing for the first time to participate in talks with Chiang as well as with Roosevelt and Churchill.

Further Action Promised

The only thing officially announced on this point, however, is that the four governments "have agreed that after further study of these proposals they will as soon as possible take the necessary steps with a view to the preparation of complete proposals which could then serve as a basis for discussion at a full United Nations conference."

The blueprint calls for this machinery:

1. A general international organization to be known as "The United Nations." Each of the agencies proposed would be part of this organization.

2. General Assembly. All members of the organization would belong to the Assembly, each having one vote. The Assembly would debate broad problems of peace and security, control of armaments, and the like. It could admit or expel members and make recommendations for action to the Security Council by two-thirds vote. It would meet at least once a year.

Five Permanent Members

3. Security Council. The United States, Britain, Russia and China "and, in due course, France," would compose permanently five of the 11 members. The assembly would elect the other six for two-year terms. By a system of voting still undecided the Council would have power to order the use of force, economic measures, political isolation or any other steps considered necessary to put down an aggressor state. First however, it would try peaceful means such as negotiation and arbitration. It could recommend to the Assembly the suspension or expulsion of any member nation found violating the principles of peace and security.

4. An international court of justice. Details of this still are to be worked out; it could be a continuation of the "permanent court of international justice" still in existence at The Hague, Holland.

5. Economic and social council. It would consist of 18 member nations, none permanent, holding three-year terms. Its purpose would be to promote international economic stability and humanitarian activities designed to remove the causes of war. Linked with it would be such already established organizations as the international labor office, founded by the old League of Nations.

Military Committee Proposed

In addition to these large units, the plan proposes creation of a "military staff committee" which in effect would be a high command for the organization. To be made up of the military leaders of the big powers, it could add temporarily the staff chiefs of other nations which were contributing forces for a specific operation.

One of the questions not decided at Dumbarton Oaks is how to dispose of the old League of Nations at Geneva. Another is the headquarters city of the proposed new organization. All the big countries, including the United States, and most of the small ones are expected to bid for it.

The plan drawn up at Dumbarton Oaks, which could serve as a charter for the organization by changing a few words, does not define either a "peace-loving state" nor what constitutes aggression.

Deals With Use Of Force

It deals in considerable detail, however, with means for providing and using force and other measures against an aggression once the security council determines that a threat to peace exists.

"The Security Council," it says, "should be empowered to determine what diplomatic, economic, or other measures not involving the use of armed force should be employed to give effect to its decisions, and to call upon members of the organization to apply such measures.

"Such measures may include complete or partial interruption of rail, sea, air, postal, telegraphic, radio and other means of communication and the severance of diplomatic and economic relations.

"Should the Security Council consider such measures to be inadequate, it should be empowered to take such action by air, naval or land forces as may be necessary to maintain or restore international peace and security.

Several Operations Provided

"Such action may include demonstrations, blockade and other operations by air, sea or land forces of members of the organization."

The plan then specifies that the member nations should reach special agreements among themselves about "the number and types of forces and the nature of the facilities and assistance" they will make available at the call of the council.

A separate paragraph covers the special air force which would be ready for any emergency, it says:

"In order to enaole urgent military measures to be taken by the organization there should be held immediately available by the members of the organization national air force contingents for combined international enforcement action. The strength and degree of readiness of these contingents and plans for their combined action should be determined by the security council with the assistance of the military staff committee within the limits laid down in the special agreement or agreements (guaranteeing to make forces available.)" ington talks on an international security organization.

Senator Wagner (D-NY) told a Pulaski day dinner that "the complete restoration and protection" of Poland "has always been the aim and intent of the administration of Franklin Roosevelt."

The death of Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential nominee, brought an outpouring of tributes from Republicans and Democrats alike, partisans finding a common ground in paying him honor.

But there was no let-up in the contest between them for the presidency this year. The Republicans arranged to re-broadcast Gov. Dewey's Charleston, W. Va., speech of last Saturday night today over the Blue network.

Charges, Countercharges Heard

In that speech Dewey described Mr. Roosevelt's statement that he does not welcome Communist support as a "soft disclaimer" and asked if it had not come "a trifle late."

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), chairman of the Senate Democratic campaign committee, followed Adolph Berle, assistant secretary of state, in complaining that Dewey had unfairly quoted Berle in that speech.

Dewey said Berle had written for the Temporary National Economic committee in 1939 that "over a period of years, the government will gradually come to own most of the productive plants in the United States." Berle said that this quotation was actually a prefatory statement of "the evil" which was sought to be cured. O'Mahoney suggested that Dewey "might at least have quoted" a finding of the TNEC that avowed "faith in free enterprise" and condemned regimentation.

4300 Acres Alfalfa And Winter Vegetable Land To Be Sold In Small Tracts

4300 acres gravity irrigated land located Southeast of Eagle Pass and two to eight miles Southeast of El Indio. Four-fifths of this land is very deep, rich alluvial soil in the Eagle Pass gravity irrigation district. Unlimited supply of water, an abundance of labor and located close to the Rio Grande river, but none of it overflows. Drainage is perfect. It is as good as the best alfalfa and winter vegetable land in the United States. Will also make from a bale to two bales of cotton per acre and feed crops in proportion. Part of it has paved highway frontage and most of it has all weather roads. It is in the Eagle Pass School District and the pupils are picked up by motor busses and taken to Eagle Pass. Now I have decided to sell this land in 40 acre tracts and up, on real good terms. Will put it into cultivation and under irrigation. There are 1150 acres in high state of cultivation and under irrigation and I will only charge for the good farming land. The broken, rough land will be given away to the party that buys out of the land that has some rough land on it or land that is not suitable for cultivation. The first class land in cultivation and under irrigation is where the soil is 15 to 25 feet deep and will be sold at $100.00 per acre. The land that is not all the very best will be sold from $75.00 to $90.00 per acre and it will all be put into cultivation and under irrigation at that price. On account of the high income tax, people cannot afford to buy over 200 acres, as the best farmers in this territory have been making on an average of $150.00 to $200.00 per acre net for the past several years, and that is why I have been unable to sell land in large tracts, as the government has been getting most of it from the big farmers. Now if you will stop to think, you will realize why you could make so much money on this land. Twelve months growing season; unlimited supply of water to irrigate, where it does not rain too much. Forty acres of this land will produce more net income, properly farmed, than any 100 acres dry farming land in Texas. Farming in this territory is absolutely safe. Alfalfa makes seven cuttings per year and at least ten tons per acre, and as there is such a little alfalfa land in the Winter Garden and all South Texas, alfalfa will always bring a good price. Great opportunity for real estate agents to help me sell this land, as it will sell to nearly every man that goes to look at it if he is able to buy and takes his wife with him. Gus-H. Krausse, of El Indio, will send you the information if you will write for it, and he will be glad to show you the land in person. He is my local representative. He also owns the Tourist Courts at El Indio which are first class, and if you wire ahead, he will reserve rooms for you. Now if you have as much as $3,000.00 to $4,000.00 cash and some machinery to farm with, there is no excuse for you to be broke any more, as 40 acres of this land will make you independent. First come first served. This land will sell like hotcakes.

Allied Progress Is Heartening

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

We can't complain about this being a blue Monday, what with the continued success of the American First army in the Aachen battle and the great Russian advance in Lithuania.

Taking it on the whole (and knocking wood discreetly, just in case) things look very good for the Allies. We really are getting ahead with the job.

The most important news from the western front is that fair fighting weather, upon which may depend whether the Allies are able to force Hitler's surrender this year, smiled on the invading forces for a change at the week-end. As a result British and Yankee warplanes swarmed over the Reich in one of the heaviest aerial assaults of the war. For the first time, too, we find the Germans labeling the Aachen show as a major assault.

Estimate Believed Correct

Indications are that this Nazi estimate is correct. If it is, it means that things are going well enough in the Aachen sector to warrant General Eisenhower in regarding it as offering chances for a clean break-through of the Siegfried and Rhenish defenses.

The ancient and famous city of Aachen is reported to be all but surrounded by First army forces, and it's unofficially said that fighting is raging through the streets. The closing of the gap on the eastern side of Aachen will put the Yanks astride the Nazi rail communication with the great Rhenish city of Cologne.

Germans Learning About War

The plight of the fine old town of Aachen, which came through the last war without even hearing a gun fired in anger, well illustrates the point that the Germans, who have waged war against many countries but never before in modern times have experienced it at home themeselves, certainly are learning what it means now. They're having a terrible lesson, due to Hitler's decision to sacrifice everything to save his own skin — a lesson which is bound to produce bitterness among them but which also is likely to create a healthy respect for peace.

Quite apart from the terrific aerial bombardment which the Reich is enduring the Nazi troops ruthlessly are destroying towns as they retreat — a scorched earth policy to deprive the invaders of defenses or resources. If the war continues in this fashion, Germany will be a land of devastation. Perhaps this will provide a salutary example for the world, at that.

Widespread Use Of Ersatz Food, Drug Items Disclosed

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—Americans have been getting a lot of ersatz food in this war, mostly illegal, including even an ersatz whiff—asafedita substituted for garlic.

The report was made to the American Public Health association today by W. R. M. Wharton, chief eastern district, U. S. Food and Drug administration, New York City, in a talk on war time food and drug adulteration.

He said that ground pecan shells, flavored with essential oils, became pure spices. Shelled pumpkin seeds were sold as almonds, and mixed with nuts were sold as salted nuts.

Carrots Used In Preserves

The report contained the following statements:

Grated carrots furnished a considerable percentage of the alleged fruit in fresh preserves.

Puffed wheat and soy beans were substituted for peanuts in peanut brittle. A cereal formed to the appearance of cocoanut shreds was used as topping for cocoanut bars.

Ground cocoa residue, largely cocoa shells, appeared in cakes and candy as a substitute for cocoa.

Mineral oil made its appearance in chocolate ice cream coatings, candy and popped corn. Wharton noted the antagonism of mineral oil to the body's absorption of vitamins A and D.

Olive Oil Adulterated

Alleged pure olive oil, imported from countries lacking tight adulteration controls, was largely adulterated with cottonseed and other less expensive edible oils.

Enough diethylene glycol to kill two million people a year was offered by a manufacturer as a substitute for glycerine in drugs, medicines, foods, cosmetics and lotions. The administration caught it before harm was done and the manufacturer paid a $3,000 fine.

Nearly one million cases of Spanish and Portuguese brandy, itself perfectly good, was detained due to defective bottles which spread glass slivers through the drinks.

Lead tubes, substituted for tin, caused a chemical change that rendered a birth control preparation worthless.

Inferior rubber stoppers caused chemical changes in medicines with serious damage to patients.

Some people who bought sulfathiazole tablets, as they supposed, were put to sleep for a week, because the stuff was really phenobarbital, an error blamed on wartime working conditions in the factory which produced the drugs.

Individual Basis Provided For Discharges When Reich Falls

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 — Who gets out of the Army when Germany quits? There's no simple answer. Discharges will be given soldiers on an individual basis and not by companies or regiments or units of any kind.

And each man released will have to meet certain standards. Those standards — which are really credit ratings — give him a priority for consideration when troops are being discharged. Here are the credits:

1. Service credit — based upon the total number of months of Army service since Sept. 16, 1940.

Overseas Service Is Factor

2. Overseas credit — based upon the number of months served overseas.

3. Parenthood credit — which gives credit for each dependent child under 18 years up to a limit of three children.

The Army says this credit system is the result of opinions expressed by the soldiers themselves because:

Thousands of them were interviewed here and abroad to learn how they thought discharges should be granted.

Point Values Not Announced

But the value of the point credits will not be announced until after the European war ends.

But even if a man had all four credits — and the highest possible number of points for each credit —it is no guarantee he would be discharged after the war with Germany.

The Army will first consider whether that individual soldier is still needed for the continuing war against Japan because of some special ability or for some other reason. If so, he would be kept in the Army.

Some To Stay In Europe

Here's what will happen after Germany goes down: Some troops will be kept in Europe as an occupation army; some — from Europe and the United States — will be sent to the Pacific for the war against Japan.

All of this will involve shifting troops and supplies, reorganization of some units, and a reduction in the total size of the Army. In that process some troops will be considered surplus on the basis of the credit system outlined above.

Those considered surplus will be sent to surplus pools in this country.

Much Shipping Needed

Two things should be remembered here:

1. A tremendous amount of shipping will be used in transporting troops from the European theater to the Pacific theater. So this will somewhat delay getting troops back from the war in Europe.

2. Troops in the Pacific area will be sent back to be discharged. They will be rated also according to the credit system, once the German war is over, but with this understanding:

Pacific area troops will not be sent home, no matter what their discharge credit rating, until replacements have been sent in to take their places. So, their discharge may be delayed.

Troops In U. S. Included

And this should be remembered: Troops in this country, who have never served abroad at all, will figure in the discharge system.

For instance: Their length of service and the number of children dependent upon them may be a large factor in their discharge.

But from the various pools of surplus men these soldiers-about-to-be-discharged will be sent to what the Army calls "separation centers."

It is from these centers, always closest to their homes, that the men will be sent home.

Germans Know War Lost, Repatriate Says

HOUSTON, Oct. 9. (U.P.) — That they have lost the war is known by the peoples of Germany and they are tired of it all, Staff Sergeant Edward P. Troy, a Houston tail gunner returned on the Gripsholm to the United States after 14 months in a German prison, said today.

Sgt. Troy, who lost his left eye during a Schweinfurt raid, said of the German attitude toward the war:

"By their actions, just watching them, you could tell they knew they were losing the war."

The airman was one of five Houstonians repatriated on the exchange ship.

Of the treatment in German prisons, Sgt. Troy said "they were pretty good to us. My camp was a pretty lenient one." He spent most of his internment, after being shot down over Germany near the Belgian border, in a small hospital camp at Bad Soden, Sulmunster, outside Frankfurt.

Warning Issued On Rheumatic Fever

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (U.P.)—The state health department today asked for prompt reports on cases of rheumatic fever, an illness among children with an alarming fatality rate. Sixty cases were reported in the state.

Cause of the ailment is unknown, the department reported, but undernourishment, chronic fatigue and exposure to severe cold were named among pre-disposing factors.

Capt. Noel Thompson Awarded Air Medal

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Marine Captain Noel E. Thompson, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay E. Thompson, 2312 Sixteenth street, Lubbock, Tex., has been awarded the Air Medal for his meritorious achievement as a transport pilot during the invasion of New Georgia Island, Solomons group, in August, 1943.

Capt. Thompson, who now is flight officer for Headquarters Squadron, Marine Fleet Air West Coast, at North Island, was presented with the decoration at ceremonies held recently at North Island, near San Diego, Calif. Capt. Thompson and his wife now are making their home at Coronado, Calif.

THOMPSON

The Lubbock Marine aviator flew supplies to American ground forces faced with a shortage of ammunition while driving the Japanese from New Georgia Island. This task forced him to fly at high speeds and at perilously low altitudes.

It was while dropping ammunition in para-packs to an advanced Marine Raider unit on Munda that Capt. Thompson experienced his narrowest escape.

"We were flying just above the tree tops when a pack of mortar shells stuck in the door," the captain, said. "The pack broke open, throwing the shells back against the horizontal stabilizer. The plane nosed over, and it was several seconds before I got it under control."

As a pilot attached to South Pacific Combat Air Transport Command (SCAT), Captain Thompson flew vital war supplies to points in the Solomons as far north as Bougainville and evacuated wounded to rear base hospitals. He was based at New Caledonia.

He later served as aide to Major General Francis P. Mulcahy, then commanding general of Marine aircraft in the South Pacific.

A former resident of Amarillo, Tex., Captain Thompson was a basketball letterman at Amarillo High school. He was graduated in 1939 from Texas Tech and was a radio announcer for Station KFYO, Lubbock, before entering Marine aviation.

His brother, Clay, is a captain in the Army Air Forces, and is stationed at Amarillo Air Base.

Another brother, Aviation Cadet Aubrey Thompson, is stationed at Grider Field, Pine Bluff, Ark.

Horseplay Pays Off For Yanks; 3 Nazis Found In Haystack

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, Sept. 30 (Delayed) (AP)—After four days of steady marching the three unarmed medics were pretty tired. They were all privates, S. Nachille of Bridgeport, Conn., Orville Allen of Dodson, Texas, and Julian Brooks of Sherman, Texas. A stone barn filled with dry hay looked like an ideal place to grab a little shut-eye.

Once inside the shelter it occurred to the two Texans that there might be a few Germans around. Pvt. Nachile scoffed, grabbed a pitchfork and headed toward a haypile in the darkest corner.

"Okay, you Jerries," thundered the Connecticut Yank, ferociously brandishing the pitchfork. "Come on out. I'm sleeping here tonight."

When four fully-armed badly frightened Germans filed out and surrendered he almost fainted.

CAROL LEAVES MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 9 (AP) — Former King Carol of Romania and Madame Lupescu bade farewell to Mexico City today and embarked on a trip to Brazil that may eventually carry them back to Bucharest. Although Carol insisted he has "no plans beyond Brazil," friends felt certain he hopes ultimately to return to Romania.

President's Special Plane Is Described

PARIS, Oct. 9. (U.P.)—Outwardly, President Roosevelt's special Army transport plane looks like any other C-54 except that instead of being decorated with a Walt Disney cartoon it carries the seal of the United States on its side.

Lt. Col. Henry T. Myers, Tifton, Ga., pilot of the aircraft which brought Gen. George C. Marshall and other notables to Paris, expressed surprise today that the plane had been designated President Roosevelt's by Air Transport command public relations officers.

"It's an ATC plane," he said, "but the State department has been using it a lot."

The plane still is on the restricted list but some details can be disclosed.

The cabin is divided into two compartments with the forward compartment arranged like a small cocktail lounge with overstuffed seats and chairs and an oil painting on the forward bulkhead.

In the center a highly polished hardwood table is fastened to the floor. On the table is an inlaid design in lighter wood, evidently based on the great seal of the United States.

The rear compartment is much like a streamlined Pullman car with pairs of seats arranged so that passengers can face each other.

SKIN DOESN'T DRY OUT AS IT DID BEFORE
Here's a new kind of cream emulsion, especially made for dry skin. Wind, sun and everyday activity take natural oils out of skin—it becomes dry, leathery, lined, on face, and especially neck, hands, and elbows. A thin film of Chafix under your powder protects as no cold cream can because it forms an invisible shield that holds the natural oils. You can't see or feel this film, but you know it's there, because of the way its protective shield helps your skin retain its moist, supple smoothness. 35 & 60¢ for the big economy jar at . . .

ALL NATURE PREPARES FOR WINTER — HOW ABOUT YOU ?

Before the first skim ice appears on the northern ponds near which they nest, WILD GEESE, forewarned by nature of approaching winter, assemble in flocks for their annual migration south.

THE WILD GEESE ARE CALLING THE SIGNALS FOR COLD WEATHER CAR PROTECTION

It's easy for geese. They move with the weather. We can't. We and our cars must stick it out through the winter.

What about that "old faithful" you're driving today? This is its 4th War Winter. More than ever before it needs the attention of experienced service men.

Your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer knows your car best. He has the tools to test and adjust it. He has genuine factory-engineered and inspected parts. His trained mechanics can quickly diagnose minor troubles and correct them before major expense develops.

Beat the rush that always comes with very cold weather. Phone now for an appointment to talk things over with your dealer.

Important things to check this 4th War Winter

Your Engine needs tuning for cold weather driving, for easy starting, to avoid stalling, and to compensate for low octane wartime gas. It needs lighter oil, too.

Your Electrical System Battery should be tested and recharged if necessary for cold weather starting. Also clean and tighten cable connections.

Your Cooling System needs flushing. All hose connections should be checked to prevent leaks. Replace hose if necessary. Add anti-freeze.

Your Braking System Adjust brakes so they function equally—for safety, and to save on tire wear. Reline if necessary. Check stop light operation.

Cooper Wins 2-0 Mound Duel For Cards

New Strikeout Record Is Set

Galehouse Loses On Two Homers

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9 (AP) — Big Mort Cooper's 12-strikeout job Sunday was a little too much for Luke Sewell's Brownies and the American league entry went down 2-0 to drop behind, two games to three in the all-St. Louis World Series.

The largest crowd of the series, 36,568, thrilled to the tight hurling duel as Denny Galehouse turned in a six-hit, 10-strikeout chore for the Browns, but two of the bingles were home runs by Ray Sanders and Danny Litwhiler and that was enough to win for the Cardinals.

22 Strikeouts

The 22 strikeouts set a new record for a single world series game.

Not since Howard Ehmke emerged from the shadows of the Philadelphia Athletics' bullpen to strike out 13 Chicago Cubs and set a series mark 15 years ago has a pitcher been able to fan 12 men in one game in the annual classic. Never before have two pitchers like Cooper and Denny Galehouse whiffed a total of 22 victims in one series afternoon. The old mark of 21 was held jointly by the A's and Cubs of 1929 and the White Sox and Cubs of 1906.

If today's opponents are in a strikeout mood a new all-time record for total series play can be established. To date there have been 78 third-strike victims, a mark topped only by the Cards and A's in seven games in 1931 with 87 and the Yankee-Giant eight game set that produced 82 in 1921. The sixth-game mark of 75 definitely has been surpassed.

"Shame To Lose"

Cooper and Galehouse hooked up in one of those games that it's a shame anybody has to lose. Just as on opening day when the Browns beat Mort behind Galehouse, on two hits, the club with the fewest hits took the cake and did it on home runs.

Ray Sanders' clout atop the roof of the right field pavilion and Danny Litwhiler's long distance into the unscreened stands past the 400-foot marker provided the only scoring of an exciting game.

Big Mort's defeatist complex about the American league was just a rumor this time as the husky righthander from Atherton, Mo., fast balled the Browns back to the bench. The Sewell crew kept pecking away here and there, collecting seven hits but when the blue chips were down, Cooper had it. In the sixth he gave one of his best pitching exhibitions by throwing the ball past Al Zarilla and Mark Christman after the American leaguers had loaded the sacks with one out. They said his curve wasn't breaking and Southworth had Teddy Wilks in the bull pen but the fast ball Mort threw that inning never needed a curve fo rhelp.

Westerners Among Standout Teams

Waco's Stock Is Boomed After Defeat Of Touted Scotties

(By The Associated Press)

Waco's Tigers pushed forward to a spot in the top ranking of Texas schoolboy football teams today as the field headed into virtual all-out offensives along the conference front.

Victors over Highland Park's Scotties, the unbeaten, untied Tigers were given the nod as No. 1 in the lower bracket of the Texas Interscholastic league campaign although there were such teams in that division as Tyler, Lufkin and Brackenridge of San Antonio.

In the upper or northern bracket Highland Park still was considered a team to beat and San Angelo, defending state champion and pre-season favorite to repeat, was well back in eyery-one's good graces.

Eighteen Teams Stand Out

Eighteen teams stood out as the schedule went upward for conference warfare with 34 of the week's 52 games counting in the championship standings of 14 of the 16 districts.

These eighteen, only nine of which are undefeated and untied, were:

West Texas — Lubbock, Amarillo, Vernon, Wichita Falls, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Breckenridge, Midland, Odessa and Paschal (Fort Worth).

North Texas — Highland Park (Dallas) and Sunset (Dallas).

Central Texas—Waco.

East Texas—Tyler and Lufkin.

South Texas — Port Arthur, Brackenridge (San Antonio) and Austin.

Of these Lubbock, Sweetwater, Midland, Paschal, Sunset, Waco, Tyler, Brackenridge and Austin are unbeaten and untied. Other teams in the state with perfect records are: El Paso High, North Side (Fort Worth), Bryan, Goose Creek, South Park (Beaumont), Kerrville, Elinburg and Kingsville.

San Angelo climbed back into one of the state's top spots by beating Amarillo 13-7. Previously the Bobcats had lost to Lubbock, Amarillo's chief rival in district 1.

Lufkin, which dropped its opening game of the season to Tyler, swept back to prominence with a 20-6 decision over heralded Port Arthur.

Midland Looms As Threat

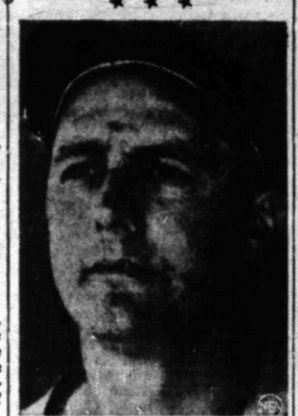

Midland came forward as a district threat by smashing an undefeated, untied Plainview eleven 32-6. Vernon, which had fallen before Amarillo, went to Breckenridge and beat the favored Buckaroos 26-12.

However, Waco's defeat of Highland Park was the week's feature. But at that, few were moved to mark Highland Park from the list of top contenders. Coach Harry Stiteler of Waco said he figured Highland Park would be a team for all to worry about in the state race. "The material is there," Stiteler opined.

Feature games this week will match Midland with Sweetwater and Brackenridge with Kerrville. They are the only tilts in which unbeaten, untied teams figure on each side.

MOTHER STEEPLEJACK

TIFFIN, (U.P.)—Tiffin's first steeplejack (or jill), Mrs. Glenn Little, has taken up tower painting to escape the drudgery of housework. The 23-year-old mother of three children assisted with the painting of the Monroe School tower here.

STAR MOUNDSMEN — Mort Cooper (top) struck out 12 Browns Sunday, best mark since Howard Emke's record of 13 in 1929, and Denny Galehouse (below) of the Browns was only slightly less effective, whiffing 10 Cards. The total set a new strikeout record for a single World Series game.

D. X. Bible Defends Randolph Field's Football Program

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—Coach D. X. Bible of the University of Texas said today the collection of football stars at Randolph field was serving "a worthy cause."

Without voicing his views on the controversial question among Texas coaches and sports writers on whether colleges should play such an aggregation, the man whose team Saturday took a 42-6 licking from the mighty Ramblers had this to say:

"As I understand it, this fine team was collected for a very definite purpose. Playing football alone would not justify it, but the team's share of receipts going to such a worthy cause would. I have been informed there are several such teams over the country. But this is nothing new. A year or so ago Wallace Wade and Bob Neyland did the same. Games were played over the nation and the money given to the war effort."

Bible said Randolph field received more than $20,000 for playing in the Cotton Bowl and this had gone to Air Corps relief.

A lively discussion has developed in the Texas press since Randolph field beat Rice 59-0. Andy Anderson, Houston sports writer, criticized matching professionals and all-Americans against 17 to 20-year-old boys. Weldon Hart, Austin writer, said "the Army Air forces would do well to come out with a clear, frank statement as to why such teams as Randolph field and Second AAF have been collected," evitable question, "why aren't those boys fighting if they're so adding this would answer the intough?"

Rice To Clash With Tulane

(By The Associated Press)

Southwest conference football teams pass up title warfare this week in favor of intersectional play with the Texas-Oklahoma game at Dallas as the feature.

Vying for No. 1 spot in interest will be the clash of the Rice Owls with Tulane at New Orleans while Texas A. and M. plays Louisiana State at Baton Rouge and Arkansas tackles the Norman, Okla., Naval Zoomers.

Meanwhile, Southern Methodist will be seeing for itself if what they say about Randolph Field is true when the Methodists meet the Ramblers, victorious over both Rice and Texas by overwhelming scores, at San Antonio.

Razorbacks, Frogs Tie

Conference teams divided honors in intersectional games last week. Favorites came through as expected and Arkansas and Texas Christian, opening the title race at Fort Worth, tied 6-to-6.

Rice upheld conference honors in intersectional play. Paced by George Walmsley and Bob Nemir the Owls staged a comeback after their Randolph field defeat and took Louisiana State at Houston 14-to-13.

Randolph field continued its march of massacre by taking the Texas Longhorns 42-to-6 at Austin.

At Dallas Southern Methodist had to go all-out to defeat a scrapping Southwestern university team. It was a free-for-all and the 16-to-15 score is a true picture of the tightness of play.

In the second intersectional game Texas A and M bowed to University of Oklahoma 21-to-14 at Oklahoma City.

Notre Dame, Tulsa Among Top Independents

Service Grid Teams Believed In For Their Greatest Season

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Baseball hasn't forsaken the limelight yet but already the football picture for this third war-time season has been clarified to the extent of determining the haves and havenots.

Although service teams have thrown some mighty blocks in the two grid campaigns since Pearl Harbor the coming season may be their best.

Already North Carolina Pre-Flight has polished off the U. S. Naval academy squad and Duke, each a leader in its district and the Middies a distinct candidate for national honors. Randolph field crushed Rice and Texas on successive Saturdays with a combined scoring total of 101 points to 6.

Three Strong Service Teams

In addition, there are the Iowa Seahawks, Great Lakes Bluejackets and the highly publicized Second Air force Superbombers are willing and more than able to defend themselves on the gridiron.

In strictly collegiate circles the same hierarchy apparently will prevail.

Notre Dame, last year's national champion, subdued Tulane Saturday, 26 to 0, for its second straight victory and this Saturday takes on Dartmouth, 20 to 6 victim of Pennsylvania, at Boston. Tulsa has streaked to two straight and stands beside the Irish as the potential best among the independents.

Purdue, Seahawks To Clash

Purdue, which disposed of Illinois by 35 to 19, Ohio State, 34 to 0 victor over Iowa; and Wisconsin, which downed Marquette, 21 to 2; loom strongest in the Big Ten. Purdue, co-champion with Michigan a year ago, is host to Iowa Pre-Flight on Saturday while the Badgers and Buckeyes collide at Madison.

Penn, who takes on William & Mary next; Army and Navy have their usual places atop the eastern heap. The Cadets used everyone on their roster while downing previously unbeaten Brown, 59 to 7, and Navy pushed aside Penn State, 55 to 14. This week Army engages Pitt and the Middies are hosts to Duke's twice-beaten but powerful eleven.

Tennessee, Tech Strong

Georgia Tech, winner over North Carolina, and Tennessee rule in the Southeast circuit while Duke and Wake Forest are tops in the Southern loop. Tennessee, back on the grid map after a brief wartime hibernation, already has defeated two conference foes and Saturday has Florida as its guest. Tech opposes Auburn, 7 to 0 victor of Fort Bennings 4th Infantry team Saturday.

Washington rolls along as the outstanding team of the Pacific Northwest but there is little to choose among Southern California, California and UCLA in the lower tier. The Trojans, early favorites, have been tied by the others, the Bears earning a 6 to 6 deadlock Saturday.

This weekend Southern Cal visits St. Mary's Pre-Flight, St. Mary's college tangles with UCLA and California opposes A. A. Stagg's College of the Pacific.

VERA CRUZ WINS

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 9 (AP) — Vera Cruz, the team that Rodgers Hornsby managed for a time early in the season, won the Mexican baseball league championship. The season ended yesterday.

The harmless flat-headed adder of the south tries to frighten assailants by puffing its neck out like a cobra.

For light-traffic neighborhood streets . . . a new, low-cost pavement SOIL-CEMENT
Lasting—easy to build—saves money
Revolutionary is the word for this new kind of low-cost, light-traffic street pavement. Here's how it is done—
The workers simply mix exact amounts of portland cement and water (determined in advance by laboratory tests) with the existing roadway soil; proportions are usually about 10% cement to 90% roadway soil. No other materials are used. Shaping and rolling complete the job.
Hundreds of Miles of Proof
There's no guesswork about Soil-Cement pavements. Hundreds of miles now in service through the country have proved the durability and economy of this new type of construction.
Soil-Cement is not intended for use on heavy duty roads or streets. For such pavements the superior load-carrying capacity of portland cement concrete is needed for utmost economy and long life. Soil-Cement does offer new economy for lightly-traveled neighborhood streets. Urge your officials to investigate Soil-Cement.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—
The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 500 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them.)

AIR CONDITIONING

Dear Plainsman: An authority on air conditioning states that "the function of an air conditioning plant is to provide and distribute air having satisfactory temperature, humidity, movement, and purity." "Winter treatment of air for comfort includes heating, humidification, the removal of dust and bacteria by either washers or filters, or both, and dilution with fresh, clean, outside air to reduce odors and to minimize the dangers from toxic gases. The distribution of the air must be uniform and with gentle motion in all parts of the occupied zone, so that a sensation of comfort is produced for the greatest number of individuals. Summer air conditioning for comfort differs from winter conditioning in that the air is cooled and dehumidified."

This is apart from air conditioning for industrial process work in which conditions produced are generally, but not necessarily, comfortable for the workers.

From the above, air conditioning does not consist of blowing a blast of cold air into a room where a large group is seated and where the temperature is already around the 60 degree mark. A short time ago a group of about 200 Lubbock [illegible] were subjected to such air conditioning. The guest speaker on the program called attention to the uncomfortable condition but nothing was done about it.

Nor does air conditioning consist of having large fans blowing a blast through a theatre or other building so that the occupants wish that they had on their overcoats and hats, although it is doubtful if their hats would stay on their heads if they put them on.

The so-called "hay burners" (improvised filters made of excelsior wetted with water) used by most of our stores during the summer time, get so filthy that the air in those places smells musty and the humidity is so high that little cooling effect is produced. They are certainly not sanitary, and cannot be said to supply air of purity. They should have the proper care to keep them sanitary.

Air conditioning can be made automatic if the proper equipment is installed, but where the thought is "how cheap" and not "how good?," this equipment is not installed. The lack of such automatic regulating equipment requires that at least periodic attention must be given to any air conditioning equipment and, too often, this is not done; at least not adequate attention.

To subject a crowd of people to conditions which are not conductive to good health is a crime. If an operator does not know how to operate a system, or if he is careless or neglectful of his job, he should not be allowed to operate such equipment, and management that permits such operation should be held accountable for such employees. Of course, the overworked excuse at present is "lack of manpower." If a system cannot be operated properly it should be shut down. People have lived before air conditioning became popular and will continue to get along, probably much better, without it than by its careless and improper usage.

The writer is very much in favor of air conditioning when properly installed and properly operated.

H. F. Godeke,
Lubbock.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.
Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.
No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

DR. William M. Whyburn, (he prefers not to use the middle name "Marvin," and is "Bill" to his friends) is a native Texan, but was exiled for a decade and a half in California before returning to this state as president of Texas Tech. While in the commonwealth made famous by the Townsend Plan, Hollywood and fisticuffs among the celebrated, the doctor was thrown into contact with many Japanese, who were students of the University of California at Los Angeles, where the new Tech president was professor of mathematics. Therefore, he has some definite ideas about what soon will be a pressing problem, i. e.: what to do with Japs still on these shores after the setting of the Rising Sun.

In the first place, let it be duly chronicled here that Doctor Whyburn has no confidence in the Japs.

Of the 100 or more Japs with whom he came into close contact in California, he says there was only one of whose fealty to the U. S. he was certain. Of the balance, he was most uncertain, ranging from suspicion to being certain that their sympathies lay with the land of their ancestors.

Because his personal experience has convinced him that Japs, as a group, cannot be trusted, he does not believe they should be permitted to resettle, after the war is won, in any areas of military or naval importance.

Doctor Whyburn thinks that since it is generally realized that the Nips should never have been given access to Los Angeles harbor, to the San Francisco waterfront—in fact, to any of a dozen West Coast points essential to U. S. defenses—in the past, to permit resumption of such access would be a mistake in the future.

His idea, it seems to us, makes sense.

THE Jap students who came under his individual observation, says the doctor, were not unusually smart, as a group. Instead, he recalls, their degree of native intelligence was lower than that of the average American student.

He found the Japs generally unimaginative; their minds to some degree sluggish, although he says they applied themselves more closely to their work than did the average of the American students.

Most of them were constant in their efforts and in their convictions, in the latter, figuratively speaking, willing to "butt their heads against a stone wall" rather than change their course.

All in all, Doctor Whyburn was unable to work up any enthusiasm for the Japs.

In his new environment, he's "glad to be shed of 'em," as we Texans would say.

It is well for a person to have an open mind, but it isn't advisable for him to keep it open so wide that every fool idea happening along can fall into it and take root.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says a number of our laws need more teeth—but so does the "watch dog" of the Treasury.

* * *

A book publisher says that if it weren't for love, there wouldn't be much fiction.

Uh-huh. And vice versa.

FROM time-to-time in the past, Drew Pearson, the celebrated Washington columnist, has exposed various "small fry" politicians whom he has detected playing fast and loose with the people's money.

Bro. Pearson is death on "nepotism," a clever practice whereby office-holders get their wives, children, kinfolks — even brothers-in-law—onto the public payroll. And that's all right. The public, in general, and these men's constituents, in particular, should know if a representative or a senator is doubling up at the trough by the simple procedure of hiring someone in the family to work (actually, or theoretically) for him.

Since Mr. Pearson long has been interested in exposing such peccadilloes on the part of the near great, he should be interested in performing a broader public service by giving the public the truth about whether or not the Fourth Term boys are using the working hours of federal employes —paid for by public funds—in the current national campaign.

The charge has been made many times that tax funds are paying for regiments of Fourth Term workers and for our part, we wish Mr. Pearson would look into the matter and tell us, once and for all, if the charge is true, or false.

If it is true, the taxpayers have a right to know it. If it isn't true, then a lie aimed at the President will be nailed for exactly what it should be.

THE latest of such charges were aimed at Robert E. Sherwood, then director of the Overseas section of the Office of War Information, who was brought back to this country from a position of alleged importance in Europe to take a hand in the Fourth Term campaign.

The charges were quieted, if not entirely squelched, when Mr. Sherwood, a famous New York author and playwright, resigned his $10,000-per year post with the federal propaganda agency in order to ghost-write and "touch up" New Deal speeches, as he did four years ago during the Third Term drive.

Mr. Sherwood, of course, could afford to resign. No one with any knowledge of his earning ability could honestly claim that he went to work for OWI for the salary involved; or that a similar salary for turning literary phrases in the campaign would interest him in the least. Mr. Sherwood can make $10,000 a month in either New York, or Hollywood, and that quite accidentally. He's good. He had to be to get where he is.

But there are whole regiments of government-paid departmental press agents who cannot afford to quit their federal jobs to aid in publicizing the Fourth Term and this question has been raised concerning them:

Are they, or are they not, performing partisan service while they're supposed to be working for the people, as a whole?

That's a question which should be publicly answered, one way or another, because all government employes — including propagandists — are paid out of taxes which are dug up by Americans who do not favor a Fourth Term, as well as by Americans who do.

While we have our suspicions — being personally acquainted with numerous of the government's propagandists — we have no way of definitely knowing whether or not their talents are being used for political campaigning by the administration.

But since Mr. Pearson has made a reputation by running down such things, and reporting his findings in the papers, it occurs to us that here is a job that is "right down his alley."

If Mr. Pearson can find out — as he frequently has —that the cute little blonde (with the mole on her right cheek) who is working in Congressman Glutz's office is Mrs. Glutz's niece from Squeedunk, Ia., certainly he can find which, if any, of the army of government press agents are engaged in partisan practices while being paid out of the public till.

If the charges are true, the public should know about it, for such action would be at least morally dishonest, if not dishonest by statute.

On the other hand, if the charges are false, the public should know that, too. The administration, from the President on down, should not be victimized by lies and misrepresentation.

So to our Washington contributor, Mr. Pearson, we say:

"Go ahead, Drew. Do your stuff. A lot of folks scattered around and about the land will await results of your sleuthing with bated breath!"

MILLETT

MAYBE you get a chuckle out of reading that Jeff Davis, king of the hoboes, says his organization wants women to go back to their kitchens at the war's end.

But even though it is the last straw for men who have turned hobo because they can't stand the thought of being tied down to a home to tell women their place is in the kitchen — it isn't a lot more presumptive than for any man to decide where woman's place is.

Because the men who so loudly banish women to home life, unrelieved by the experience of outside jobs, have no more notion of what such a life is like than a hobo has.

The most the average man has ever hung around a house is for a two weeks' vacation—and he is usually restless and dissatisfied and secretly anxious to get back on the job after half of that time is up.

AN HONEST REASON

STILL he presumes to say a woman ought to stick around a house for a lifetime—and that if she doesn't the great problem of unemployment is her responsibility—likewise the great problem of juvenile delinquency and the by-no-means minor problem of divorce.

But there is one difference between Jeff Davis and his hoboes' reason for deciding women's place is in the kitchen and the average man's deciding so.

Jeff Davis' reason is honest and straightforward. He says we want women in the kitchens because, "We want more answers when we knock at back doors."

But the average man dresses up his "back to the home" for women sentiments with such pretty phrases as "woman's place is in the home."

The most successful physician mixes a lot of common sense with his drugs.

Today's Journal Editorial

THE CAMPAIGN'S WARP AND WOOF

Even in "normal" times, the more astute of professional politicians doubt if speaking campaigns by Presidential candidates change many votes during the 60 days uesually given over to pre-election oratory.

Under current conditions, with all but an iota of the public's attention riveted, from day-to-day, upon war news and broadcasts, the majority of "the boys in the back room" are of the opinion that campaign speeches are next to worthless as far as their effect upon plain John and Jane Smitth are concerned. They concede that platform bombast is helpful in spurring grassroots workers to greater activity which is highly important. But they feel the average voter is swayed but little by what the candidates say as they storm down the home stretch.

The lines of the Roosevelt-Dewey campaign are sharply drawn. They have been ever since it became certain, months ago, that opposing standard-bearers would be Franklin Roosevelt and Tom Dewey. The chief issue, despite efforts of botth camps to cloud it from time-to-time, has been and will remain right up to dusk on November 7, whether the nation wants a continuation of Roosevelt policies, or whether it has found them wanting and demands a change.

It is possible, of course, that a future pre-election speech of Challenger Dewey—should he be able to concoct a political bombshell of the first water—might bring about a big shift in the vote. For instance, should Mr. Dewey be able to prove administration bungling was responsible for the Pearl Harbor debacle, that would help his cause no end. But unless in New York governor can bring out and drive home something highly sensational in support of his cause, his speeches between now and election day are very unlikely to be conclusive, even should he win the election.

From the President's standpoint, his future speeches are not likely to do anything more than "hold the line." As the incumbent, he is not faced with the necessity of dislodging his opponent, but only with staying where he is. As is the case with any strong "in" candidate, his position as the "champ" is simpler to defend.

So don't expect the huff and puff of the campaign from now on to have definite bearing on the outcome of the voting.

The great majority of the John and Jane Smiths are just as ready to vote tomorrow as they will be on November 7—and most of them wish they could go ahead and get their voting over with!

Crystal Bird Flies From Mrs. R.'s Coop

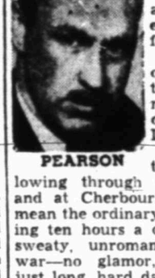

Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—South Dakota's Rep. Karl Mundt and South Carolina's James Richards, returned last week from a five-week stay in England and France, praising the "horizontal" organization of the American Army.

The supreme commander, General Eisenhower, they reported, is "Ike" to everyone, is available to hear the problems of his subordinates, is at all times considerate of his staff and the men under him.

Although every member of the Army has a feeling of personal participation and responsibility, the Congressmen say, there is no question about authority. Eisenhower runs the show, but he runs it in such a way that everyone likes him for it.

PEARSON

Characteristic of Eisenhower is the address he made at a recent dinner party in London.

"My hat is off to the boys following through on the beaches and at Cherbourg," he said. "I mean the ordinary GI who's working ten hours a day on the most sweaty, unromantic job in the war—no glamor, no adventure, just long, hard days of long, hard labor at soldier's pay." He referred to the service battalions which have refitted the harbors and piers along the Channel coast in order to facilitate shipment of supplies.

"Without those lads sweating it out over there, General Patton and the others who have been in the headlines could never have done the things they have done." General Eisenhower continued, "I don't mean to detract from the acclaim given the fighting men who've been running through the Nazis, but I am trying to figure out some way of recognition for these lads in the rear who keep the supplies moving. They'd love to be up in front facing the enemy, but their job is in the rear. What I'd like to get is some new kind of medal for these unsung heroes who are doing one of the toughest jobs in the war."

FOR MORGENTHAU

INSIDE fact regarding the cabinet rift over the soft peace for Germany is that Secretary Morgenthau really scored a victory. Actually Morgenthau never had prepared any plan for Germany until he saw the Handbook for Military Governors prepared in London by Army headquarters, with State department guidance.

This handbook was so weak-kneed that President Roosevelt blew up when he saw it—as described by this columnist in the first story telling of the cabinet disagreement. It was only after this incident that Morgenthau decided to write out a plan that would force the State department to wake up to the realities of the situation in Germany.

It was at this point that President Roosevelt demanded an immediate plan from the cabinet committee. However, the State and War departments failed to put one together, and it was the Treasury alone which presented him a detailed program — a program which Morgenthau purposely made ultra-tough in order to put himself in a good position for trading off points with Secretaries Stimson and Hull.

SUCCESS EVIDENT

THAT he succeded was evident Friday when the White House released its directions to Leo Crowley's Foreign Economic administration on the treatment of German economy after the war. Except for Morgenthau's own plan this was the first workable directive FEA has yet had.

It commits our government to a much stronger policy than the State department was willing to recommend.

Unfortunately Secretary Hull has been peeved ever since, because his hand was forced. Also he has been upset because State department reports from foreign capitals on publication of the Morgenthau proposals indicate that people are amazed that a plan for post-war international policy should come from the Treasury rather than from the White House or the State department.

This was interpreted to mean that President Roosevelt was easing Hull out of the picture, preparing either to drop him from the cabinet or to diminish State department power.

DECARTELIZED

AT Quebec President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill reached substantial agreement on how to deal with Germany, and their policy is very close to that of Stalin's. It involves full recognition of the great importance of German industry to European economy and provides for the encouragement of peacetime production in Germany. On the other hand, war production will be ruled out.

Although the British are less enthusiastic than Stalin and Roosevelt, it is pretty certain also that the top layer of German industrial ownership will be retired. The country will be "decartelized," with the powerful industrial combines which banded together to put Hitler into power smashed into small companies.

NOTE—Significant sidelight on the President's letter to FEA Administrator Crowley is the fact that it was first prepared within FEA and contained no references to working "with the guidance of the State department." Before going to the White House, however, the letter went through the State department, where these phrases were added.

ELEANOR'S PROTEGEE

FRIENDS of Mrs. Roosevelt who haven't been enthusiastic over her association with negro leaders are now saying, "I told you so."

They have always argued that negroes, despite all the advantages received under the Roosevelt administration, would turn against the President. Now they point to one of Mrs. Roosevelt's favorite negro aides who has just turned tail on FDR and is vigorously working for Dewey. She is Crystal Bird Fauset, one-time social worker who rose to high office with the "First Lady's" assistance during the past 12 years.

Under Mrs. Roosevelt's tutelage, Crystal Bird was made assistant state director of the Pennsylvania WPA in early New Deal days. Later the State democratic machine helped elect her as the first female negro member of the Pennsylvania legislature.

Around Pearl Harbor time, Crystal Bird moved to Washington, became assistant to the Director of the Office of Civilian Defense. The "First Lady" frequently invited her to Hyde Park, later arranged that she transfer to the payroll of the Democratic National committee at $4,600 a year, the same salary Crystal Bird was getting in government.

Despite all this, Crystal Bird has now flown the coop. She has gone to work for the GOP, is actively campaigning for the Dewey-Bricker ticket.

What burned Democratic headquarters most was the fact that they found out about Crystal Bird's resignation in the newspapers, learned also that she sat on the platform during Governor Dewey's Philadelphia speech, although she was still on the Democratic party payroll.

Mrs. Roosevelt, however, takes the view that the desertion of one sheep shouldn't condemn the whole flock.

Who Do You Think Will Get Stung?

Opposing Airmen Exchange "Surprise Tactics" Over Africa

Finer Points Of Aerial Combat Are Explained

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ernie Pyle is resting following his service with frontline troops in Europe and next plans to go to the fighting zones of the Pacific. While he is on leave The Journal will publish here some of Ernie's earlier articles, not previously printed in Lubbock, upon which first was built the mutual esteem between Pyle and "GI Joe.")

BY ERNIE PYLE

A FORWARD AIRDROME IN French North Africa, February, 1943 — It is hard for a layman in North Africa. It is hard even for the pilots themselves to keep up, for there are changes in tactics from week to week.

We will have some new idea and surprise Germans with it. Then they'll come across with a surprise maneuver, and we will have to change everything to counteract it.

But basically, at the moment, you can say that everything depends on teamwork. The lone dashing hero in this war is certain to be a dead hero within a week. Sticking with the team and playing it all together is the only guarantee of safety for everybody.

ERNIE PYLE

Our fighters go in groups with the bombers, ranging the sky above them, flying back and forth, watching for anything that may appear. But if they see some Germans in the distance nobody goes after them. That would be playing into the Germans' hands. So they stick to their formation above the bombers, making an umbrella.

Two Choices For Enemy

The German has two choices —to dive down through them, or to wait until somebody is hit by flak and has to drop back. Then they are on him in a flash.

When that happens the fighters attack, but still in formation. Keeping that formation always and forever tight is what the flight leaders constantly drill into the boys' heads. It is a great temptation to dash out and take a shot at some fellow, but by now they've seen too many cases of the tragedy of such action.

The result is that this war doesn't have many individual air heroes. A team may be a composite hero, but not an individual.

One group leader told me: "If everything went according to schedule we'd never shoot down a German plane. We'd cover our bombers and keep ourselves covered and everybody would come home safe."

THE fighter pilots seem a little different from the bomber men. Usually they are younger. Many of them were still in school when they joined up. Ordinarily they might be inclined to be more harum-scarum, but their work is so deadly, and the sobering dark cloud of personal tragedy is over them so constantly, that it seems to have humbled them. In fact I think it makes them nicer people than if they were cocky.

They have to get up early. Often I've gone to the room of my special friends at 9:30 in the evening and found them all asleep They fly so frequently they can't do much drinking. One night recently when one of the most popular fighter pilots was killed right on the home field, in an accident, some of them assuaged their grief with gin.

"Somehow you feel it more when it happens right here than when a fellow just doesn't come back," they said.

When they first came over here, you'd frequently hear pilots say they didn't hate the Germans, but you don't hear that any more. They have lost too many friends, too many roommates.

They Like Strafing

Now it is killing that animates them.

The highest spirits I've seen in that room were displayed one evening after they came back from a strafing mission. That's what they like to do best, but they get little of it. It's a great holiday from escorting bombers, which they hate. Going out free-lancing to shoot up whatever they see, and going in enough force to be pretty sure they'll be superior to the enemy—that's Utopia.

That's what they had done that day. And they really had a field day. They ran onto a German truck convoy and blew it to pieces. They'd laugh and get excited as they told about it. The trucks were all full of men, and "they'd fly out like firecrackers." Motorcyclists would get hit and dive 40 feet before they stopped skidding.

TWO Messerschmitt 109s made the mistake of coming after our planes. They never had a chance. After firing a couple of wild bursts they went down smoking, and one of them seemed to blow up.

The boys were full of laughter when they told about it as they sat there on their cots in the dimly lighted room. I couldn't help having a funny feeling about them. They were all so young, so genuine, so enthusiastic. And they were so casual about everything — not casual in a hard, knowing way, but they talked about their flights and killing and being killed exactly as they would discuss girls or their school lessons.

Maybe they won't talk at all when they finally get home. If they don't it will be because they know this is a world apart and nobody else could ever understand.

Unit Citation Ribbon Given Lubbock Man

15TH AAF IN ITALY—S/Sgt. Odes Q. Jones, son of Mrs. Pearl S. Jones, of 1612 Ave. D, Lubbock, Texas, has been awarded a blue and gold Distinguished Unit Citation ribbon. He is a radio technician in the top scoring P-51 Mustang Fighter group of the Mediterranean theater, under the command of Lt. Colonel Yancey S. Tarrant, of Brownwood, Texas.

The Mustang group was cited for its outstanding performance of duty against the enemy on April 21, 1944. Despite having nearly reached the limit of their endurance after having flown over five hundred and eighty miles through almost insurmountable weather conditions, the P-51s fought off a total of sixty enemy fighters, in two groups of thirty each, which threatened the bomber formation. By destroying sixteen and probably destroying or damaging a number of others, the Mustangs enabled the seven groups of the 15th Air Force heavy bombers, which had not received the recall signal sent out because of the adverse weather conditions, to complete a highly successful mission against the important enemy installments and production centers in the Ploesti-Bucharest area of Romania.

NEGRO VOTERS ORGANIZE

HOUSTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Negro Republicans of Texas today had completed formation of a Dewey-Bricker state campaign organization with Dr. J. T. Walton of San Antonio as general chairman and established state campaign headquarters in Houston. H. D. Harvey of Austin is secretary.

MIDDLE AGED BUSINESS MAN OR SALESMAN TO JOIN 75 WHO EARNED $400 TO $2000 IN A MONTH NO "WAGE CEILING" Half million dollar company, established over two decades, has opening for man capable of interviewing public officials, heads of industries, army camps, schools, churches, large growers and farmers in this area. Also one or two men for other parts of this and adjoining states. Car not essential as many of our men travel by bus. We deliver your orders, collect for them and advance your earnings daily. Priorities in other lines greatly benefit us as no priorities in our line. Men who were "bankrupt" when they started with us now have homes and security. This was done both long before the war and during the war, and there are even bigger post-war possibilities. There are no "wage ceilings" in this line—earnings are not "frozen." Many of our men have had earnings from $400 to $2000 in month. These gross earnings are, of course, exceptional. "Statement of availability" needed from men now in essential industry. We are an essential industry ourselves. Rush name, age for particulars in order to get thoroughly prepared and have some experience and immediate profits in back of you by first of year as our big season starts soon after January 1st. FINE WISCONSIN HOLSTEIN CATTLE FOR SALE Within the last two years, we have brought in 135 head of producing young Holstein cows from Wisconsin.

This herd has been carefully culled down to 100 top-notch producers. They have been here long enough to be thoroughly acclimated, are Bangs vaccinated and are big healthy cows, 100% sound in every respect. We believe that they are the finest non-registered Holstein herd in Texas. Each cow is individually priced and you can purchase any number. We are streamlining our daily production operations and are giving up this leased place and will concentrate on the breeding of Guernseys and the production of Golden Guernsey milk on our own original Guernsey farm.

We invite your inspection at the dairy, located 5 miles north of Grapevine. Turn north at Oxford's filling station on northwest highway.

If you want high production and good foundation stock, you cannot afford to miss this opportunity.

Cotton Crop Set At 11,953,000 Bales

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The agriculture department today forecast this year's cotton crop at 11,953,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight, compared with a forecast of 11,483,000 bales a month ago, 11,427,000 bales produced last year, and an average production of 12,455,000 bales in the 10 years 1933-42.

The census bureau announced that 3,984,761 running bales, counting round as half bales and excluding linters, had been ginned from this year's crop to Oct. 1, compared with 5,749,745 bales a year ago, and 5,006,307 bales two years ago.

79 Per Cent Normal

The condition of the crop was reported by the agriculture department to be 79 per cent of a normal on Oct. 1, compared with 75 a month ago, 72 a year ago, and a 10-year Oct. 1 average of 68.

The indicated acre yield was forecast at 284.6 pounds, compared with a forecast of 273.4 pounds a month ago, 253.5 pounds last year, and a 10-year average of 226.9 pounds.

The Oct. 1 condition, indicated acre yield and indicated total production, in equivalent 500 pound bales, were reported as including: Oklahoma, condition 78 per cent of a normal, indicated acre yield 204 pounds, and indicated total production, 660,000 bales; Texas 71; 168 and 2,500,000; New Mexico 85; 493 and 112,000.

The Census bureau reported ginnings to Oct. 1, by states, with comparative figures for a year ago, as follows:

Arkansas 446,497 and 554,391; Louisiana 319,370 and 493,483; New Mexico 3,859 and 14,802; Oklahoma 98,034 and 97,339; Texas 720,784 and 1,471,058.

Moscow Conference

because of the presidential elections and partly to await further progress in the battle of Germany.

The fact that Churchill and Eden were accompanied by the chief of the Imperial general staff, made it evident that military as well as diplomatic questions will be raised, and the possibility that Britain will present a bid to Stalin to sign up in the war against Japan cannot be ruled out, London said.

Chief Of Staff In Party

The Moscow radio said Sir Alan Brooke, chief of Britain's general staff, and Lt. Gen. Sir Hastings Ismay, chief of staff to the British minister of defense, also were in Churchill's party.

In his speech to Commons 11 days ago Churchill indicated that he considered a new meeting of himself, Stalin, and President Roosevelt essential before peace plans are revealed.

Everything depends upon agreement of the three great powers, he said then, and "I do not think a satisfactory agreement will be reached until there has been a further meeting of the three heads of the governments, assisted as may be necessary by their foreign secretaries."

The prime minister added that he earnestly hoped "it may be possible to bring about such a meeting before the end of the year."

Stock Market

LEADERS GENERALLY SLIP

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP) — While assorted specialties continued to register new year's highs, stock market leaders generally slipped to lower levels today after four successive rising sessions.

Turnover of around 600,000 shares was one of the smallest for a full stretch in past months. The direction was hazy from the start and declines of fractions to a more than a point predominated near the close.

Touching peaks for 1944 — some failed to hold — were Worthington Pump, Bucyrus-Erie, Burlington Mills; Sears Roebuck, Johns-Manville, Kennecott and the preferreds of Public Service of N. J. Losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Pullman, Atlantic Coast line, Dupont, International Harvester, American Water Works, Hiram Walker, Park & Tilford, Anaconda, Montgomery Ward and Texas Pacific Land Trust.

Bonds were uneven.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP) — Cotton futures declined 65 cents a bale in early trading today on aggressive hedge selling and liquidation but recovered a good part of the losses on persistent mill buying in later dealings.

Prices were momentarily unsettled by the Dept. of Agriculture forecast placing the cotton crop as of October 1 at 11,953,000 bales or 446,000 bales larger than trade expectations but this was offset, however, by influence of the government cotton program designed to support prices at parity.

Futures closed 5 to 30 cents a bale lower.

Anglo-American Oil Criticism Continued

DALLAS, Oct. 9. (AP)—Additional industry opposition to the Anglo-American oil treaty may be announced this week following a meeting here tomorrow of the directors of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

An oil operators' committee named by Texas Railroad Commission Chairman Beauford Jester to handle this state's oil industry expressions against the proposal revealed that the IPAA directors would be asked to fight Senate ratification of the treaty.

A resolution adopted by Texas oilmen attending a statewide proration hearing at Austin Sept. 19 said the treaty was "imperiling our American constitutional democracy and seeking to amend our constitution by an insidious and indirect way."

Two industry organizations, the Interstate Oil Compact commission and the American Association of Oil Well Drilling Contractors, already have voiced objections to the treaty.

Yanks Closing In On Aachen

Zuid Beceland islands north of the river where 11,000 to 15,000 Germans were all but cut off by a 1,500-yard Canadian push north of Antwerp. This latter advance to Calmpthout just outside Korteven put the Canadians virtually astride the diked escape road out of the islands.

Hodges' doughboys, fighting six miles inside Germany north of Aachen, battered their way across the main Aachen-Gladbach road at two places.

Near Main Highway

First army units which advanced from southeast of Aachen were within a few hundred yards of crossing the main Aachen-Cologne highway and put under fire this last escape road in a narrow four-mile corridor.

East of the Moselle, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army men were making slow progress in burning and blasting their way through the steel doors and concrete bulkheads of the Germans' underground strongholds in Fort Driant, five miles southwest of Metz.

The Third army, which hopped off to a new attack on a 20-mile front yesterday and struck forward as far as seven miles between Metz and Nancy, had captured nine towns in its initial blow. Chenicourt, a mile north of Ajoncourt and 18 miles southeast of Metz, was added to eight other towns previously reported captured.

French Slug Forward

To the south, vengeance-fired French troops of Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh army closed within a mile of the outskirts of Le Thillot, six miles from Bussang pass through the heart of the Vosges, and beat their way beyond Champagney, only eight miles from the town of Belfort.

Weather over the front was thickening again after a weekend clear spell permitted some of the mightiest air attacks in the history of warfare.

However close the First Army's deepening assault around Aachen came to the actual exploitation of a breakthrough, it was clear that German resistance had not yet cracked completely.

Encounter Heavy Fire

A supreme headquarters communique said "through the Aachen sector we are encountering considerable enemy artillery, small arms and machinegun fire."

The deepest penetration of German soil north of Aachen was at Oidtweiler within seven and a half miles of the Julich junction where the main highway from Aachen branches to Cologne and Dusseldorf.

At Oidtweiler and in gains of a mile southeast of Osben, three miles to the south, the Americans were across the concrete highway north from Aachen to Gladbach.

Cutting up to the northeast from south of Aachen the new wedge of the offensive touched off at dawn Sunday had driven three miles of more against surprised Germans.

The original Aachen breakthrough into the gun-bristling fir forest of Hurtgen southeast of Aachen flamed into action anew as the doughboys all but burst into the clear beyond the weeds, within six miles of Duren and two miles from the town of Hurtgen itself.

There was no news from a supporting drive through the Monschau frontier forest 13 miles farther south.

To Select Helpers

Each captain has a group of six lieutenants under him and lieutenants may select helpers in the drive.

James L. Quicksall is general chairman of the county's campaign.

The rural areas of the county will be canvassed by teams starting Tuesday morning also. Thirty-four rural leaders mapped the drive here Saturday afternoon under the leadership of H. B. Bryan, rural district chairman. Quotas were set and instructions issued and leaders hoped to have their work completed by nightfall Tuesday, if possible.

Explosion Before Plunge

Deputy Sheriff Pat Thornburg said he heard what sounded like a muffled explosion in the sky. He said the plane went into a spin and parts of it stripped off in the air.

"Immediately after the explosion, all four of the plane's engines stopped, and it began spiraling toward the earth in an eerie silence," said Thornburg.

R. V. Karlson, assistant superintendent of the refinery, said an estimate of damage to refinery property had not been completed.

Several Army and Navy fliers who saw the accident expressed the opinion that centrifugal force directed toward the top of the plane may have made it impossible for the crew to reach the escape hatch in time to jump.

Funeral Set Tuesday For Andrews Baby

Funeral services for Lillie Sue Andrews, 6-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Andrews, 1912 Ave. E, who died at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Lubbock General hospital, will be conducted at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Plains Funeral chapel. Rev. Hershel Henkle, pastor of the East Side Baptist church, will officiate.

Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

The child is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Brashear of Shreveport, La.; Mrs. Edith Tate and Wanda and Jo Ann Andrews of Lubbock; and five brothers, Elmer L. of El Reno, Okla.; and Guy, Martin, Troy and Everett of Lubbock.

FDR, Dewey Pay Tributes

President Roosevelt and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey both lamented his passing.

"The nation will long remember Wendell Willkie as a forthright American," said President Roosevelt, who was forced to win the highest popular vote in history to defeat the GOP nominee.

"Earnest, honest, whole-souled, he also had tremendous courage. This courage which was his dominating trait prompted him more than once to stand alone and to challenge the wisdom of counsels taken by powerful interests within his own party. In this hour of grave crisis the country loses a great citizen through his untimely passing."

"One Of Great Men"

Dewey, who lost the nomination to Willkie in 1940 but won it in 1944, said:

"Wendell Willkie was one of the great men of our time. His death will be mourned throughout the world. A forceful and courageous man, he made a notable contribution to the political and philosophical discussion of these critical years.

"His passing is a loss not only to the Republican party, but to all of us—Americans of both parties who shared his faith in representative government and his earnest hopes for world peace."

Tributes came also from Former President Herbert H. Hoover, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, GOP vice presidential Nominee Gov. John W. Bricker, James A. Farley, the Earl of Halifax, Ambassador John G. Winant, Sidney Hillman, Norman Thomas and many others.

Slight Advance Made In Italy

ROME, Oct. 9. (AP)—American troops have advanced nearly two miles more along the main road north to Bologna, bringing them within 10 miles of that major communications center of the Po valley, Allied headquarters announced today.

The newest advance was made in bad weather along highway 65, between the twin mountains of Castellazi and Barbarolo and against strongly reinforced enemy positions.

The Germans, meanwhile, continued to mass reinforcements in front of both Bologna and Imola and were reported bringing up heavy artillery for a further delaying action.

Gains Are Limited

In the Adriatic sector, Eight army troops advancing across the Fiumicino river, have cleaned up German resistance on Monte Gallo, the communique said.

On the right flank of the 12-mile front south of Bologna, British Fifth army troops for the third straight day battled Germans for possession of strategic Monte Cece, overlooking the Palazzuolo-Castel Bolognese road.

In the west coastal area negro troops of the American 92nd division crossed the Serra river and entered Seravezza, about 21 miles southeast of La Spezia.

Weather Discourages Airmen

Headquarters said Brazilian troops continued limited advances against snipers, machinegun and artillery fire in rough and difficult terrain to the east of the 92nd division sector.

Despite bad weather, a few Allied planes attacked barges and schooners at Sestri Levante on the Gulf of Genoa.

east China at Kweilin.

Despite the loss of six advanced bases in recent months, Gen. Joseph Stilwell reported the 14th Air force sank 163,000 tons of enemy shipping, killed 4,000 Japanese and destroyed 42 planes last month at a cost of three Yank aircraft.

He indicated the Ledo and Burma roads would soon be joined to supply China through the back door despite the enemy progress toward cutting China in two and blocking the coast to the U. S. fleet.

Chinese Claim Limited Gains

Chinese reported some successes against Nipponese invasion forces in the vicinity of Foochow on the central coast, which Tokyo reported had been captured.

Southeast Asia headquarters announced the Japanese had been driven from another village on the Arakan front of southwest Burma.

Advertisements in newspapers were not general in England until 1700.

Rainey, University Regent In Dispute

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP) — The administrative heads of the University of Texas and Regent D. F. Strickland of Mission were in sharp disagreement today over a statement of University Vice President J. Alton Burdine that he had been instructed to tell President Homer P. Rainey that Rainey was "making too many speeches, like those before religious groups."

Strickland said "there was no ultimatum and no conversation," adding there has "been no attempt to get Rainey."

Burdine issued a formal statement here, saying that Strickland telephoned him on October 1, prefacing "his discussion of a number of matters by informing me that he, Judge John H. Bickett and Mr. Scott Schreiner had conferred earlier that morning." Strickland told him in substance, Burdine said, "to tell the president that he was making too many speeches, like those before religious groups."

Rainey Charges "Sniping"

Rainey said here last night that "they are harrassing me in every way possible. I said a year ago that there was a campaign of petty sniping. I may issue a statement later in the week and tell the whole story."

At Dallas, Bickett, chairman of the board, said: "No such conversation occurred in my presence with reference to undertaking to limit speeches or public utterances by Dr. Rainey. So far as I know, no such conversation occurred."

The controversy arose after publication in the Sunday Austin American-Statesman of a story saying that an ultimatum had been sent to Dr. Rainey, "serving notice upon Rainey to quit making so many speeches." Dr. Rainey confirmed that he had been sent word "to confine my speeches to university business."

Orders Said Telephoned

The newspaper said Strickland telephoned the orders to Burdine, and that at the time, he was with Schreiner and Bickett. Burdine, in his statement yesterday, said he had not talked with any regent but Strickland.

Dr. Rainey, commenting on Strickland's denial, said: "That is an amazing statement. He delivered the message to Dr. Burdine who called me immediately. Mr. Strickland will not deal with me personally any more."

From his home in Mission, Strickland told the Fort Worth Star Telegram:

Would Be On Minutes

"If there were to be such an ultimatum, it would be on the minutes of the board. For the first time in 50 years, you can read the board minutes any day you wish.

"An intelligent man wouldn't deliver such an ultimatum, and it's ridiculous on the face of it that three members could have the authority to say such a thing."

The Star Telegram also quoted Bickett as saying that the board of regents has never made any attempt "and will not make any attempt to limit anyone's right to free speech. There is a rule of the board of 25 years standing which protects the academic freedom of members of the faculty."

Limiting Trips Contemplated

Burdine's statement added that Strickland had brought up the subject of Dr. Rainey's out of state trips, saying "that the president ought to stay in Austin more and attend to university matters!

Burdine said he was told that the limiting of such trips by "direct resolution of the board had been contemplated" and that he (Burdine) replied, "such action by the board would be considered as a personal insult to the president."

The vice president said he called Rainey "and informed him of this matter as I had been specifically requested to do."

Rainey and the board of regents have frequently clashed over university administration, and a year ago, the board removed from office Arthur Brandon, long-time friend and associate of Rainey who was director of public relations.

Last week, the board rejected Rainey's recommendation that the university medical school be removed from Galveston to Austin.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACTS OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, AND MARCH 3, 1933

Of The Lubbock Evening Journal, published daily, except Saturday at Lubbock, Texas, for October 1, 1944.

STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF LUBBOCK (ss)

Before me, a notary public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Jas. D. Shaw, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Business Manager of The Lubbock Evening Journal and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, the circulation, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business mangers are:

President and General Manager, Parker F. Prouty, Lubbock, Texas; Publisher, Charles A. Guy, Lubbock, Texas; Editor, Charles A. Guy, Lubbock, Texas; Managing Editor, C. W. Ratliff, Lubbock, Texas; Business Manager, James D. Shaw, Lubbock, Texas.

2. That the owner is Avalanche-Journal Publishing Company.

Parker F. Prouty and Chas. A. Guy of Lubbock, Texas, Dorrance Roderick of El Paso, Texas; Gene A. Howe and John L. McCarty of Amarillo, Texas.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are:

None.

4. That the two paragraphs next above giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the 12 months preceding the date shown above is 9,610

(SEAL) JAS. D. SHAW, Business Manager.

Civilians, Convicts Ride In Pen Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 9. (AP)—For the first time in the history of the Texas prison rodeo, civilians yesterday took part in two events during the first of four performances of the victory rodeo.

A capacity crowd saw Buster Bishop of Midland, life termer from Retrieve prison farm, duplicate his 1942 performance by winning first place in saddle bronc riding and third in bareback riding.

Leslie Sutton, serving 12 years from Refugio, placed second in bareback riding and in bull riding.

The civilians participating included Mano miles of Mexia, who won both the calf roping tie down and the calf roping breakaway.

Results included:

Saddle bronc riding — Buster Bishop, Midland, first; J. R. Castleberry, 100 years from Wichita Falls, third.

Bull riding — Orville Miller, five years from Brady, first.

Bareback bronc riding — Herman McConley, five years from Refugio, first.

Wild mare milking — Morris Coleman, 45 years from Comfort and Carl Heffner, 99 years from Longview, first place.

Wild mule race — Ollie York, life from Giddings, first.

Wild horse race—J. W. Mann, life from Lubbock, first; Arthur Fulton, five years from Austin, second; Ford Laxson, life from Ballinger, third.

Ferdinand von Zeppelin, German airship builder, fought in America's civil war on the side of the Union.

WHY QUINTUPLETS use this great rub for SORE THROAT COUGHS due to COLDS

Wonderful for Grown-Ups, Too!

Ever since they were tiny tots—whenever the Quintuplets catch cold—their chests, throats and backs are immediately rubbed with Musterole.

Musterole gives such blessed prompt relief because it's more than just an ordinary "salve." It's what so many Doctors and Nurses call a modern counter-irritant. It not only relieves coughs, sore throat, aching chest muscles due to colds, makes breathing easier—but it actually helps break up congestion in upper bronchial tract, nose and throat.

And Musterole is so much easier to apply than a mustard plaster. White, Stainless. Just rub it on! "No fuss. No muss with Musterole!"

IN 3 STRENGTHS: Children's Mild Musterole, Regular, and Extra Strong.
