NEW PRESIDENT HAS GOOD WORD FOR CITY

Wade Promises Legislative Department To Work For Aid To Tech At Next Session.

Andy Bourland, of Vernon, newly elected director-president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is "getting a great kick out of his work in the organization."

He said so last night in a short talk at the informal dinner given at the Lubbock Hotel, in which U. S. Pawlett, traffic manager of the organization, explained the effect of the new tariffs in Lubbock and Lubbock's trade territory and the existing traffic conditions throughout this territory.

To prove that the dinner was a typical West Texas one, coals came off at the very start and the 30-odd guests sat around in their shirt sleeves and ate the chicken with their fingers.

"I'm just out on this trip to get acquainted," Mr. Bourland said, "and I want to know you better so you can know how we can help you."

He said that the assassin of General Obregon had been identified as Jose De Leon Tovar, an art student, age 23 years, a native of Lagos, in the state of Jalisco.

He is said to have lived at Guadalupe, but to have come to Mexico City six months ago, seeking work. Police said they found upon him a rosary and other religious emblems, and a picture of the Catholic priest, Miguel Augustin Prohara, who was executed in connection with the attempt to assassinate Obregon with bombs last November.

It was said unofficially that De Leon Tovar refused to admit accomplices and insisted throughout

Man Shot In Texas Bank Holdup Dies

Refused to Open Door For Bandits and Was Brutally Shot Down; Robbery Was A Failure.

WICHITA FALLS, July 18.—Charles McDaniel, who was shot in an attempted holdup of the First State Bank of Dunder today, died in a Wichita Falls hospital tonight.

He was brought here suffering from a gunshot wound in the abdomen sustained when he attempted to prevent a lone bandit from entering the bank.

McDaniel was in a store in the same building with the bank when the man entered, struck a gun into McDaniel's ribs and ordered him to open the bank door which was closed. When McDaniel refused, or was unable to comply with the robber's orders, the bandit shot him, jumped into an automobile and fled after one of the bank's automobiles which the robber commanded successfully was found on a street in the business section here officers laid a dragnet over the city and arrested 25 men fourteen of whom later were released. Officers expressed belief that the man who shot McDaniel was one of the eleven held tonight.

ATLANTA, July 18. (AP)—With smuggled pistols and a makeshift ladder, Roy Gardner, California, and Joe Gray, Toledo, Ohio, both serving fifty years for mail robbery, made a bold but unsuccessful dash for freedom from the federal penitentiary here late today.

A guard named Bunch was the only person hurt in the disturbance precipitated when he and a fellow guard, Parker, discovered Gardner and Gray lifting their ladder to the wall while enjoying an exercise period with six or eight other prisoners.

At Not Worried Make No Comment On Texas Move

ALBANY, N. Y., July 18. (AP)—Governor Smith is showing little concern over determination of some local democratic leaders, particularly in the south, to oppose his presidential candidacy. He feels that defections of this sort constitute a problem for the democratic national committee today that he would leave it to the committee to work out combative methods.

At his daily conference with newspapermen, the democratic presidential nominee was asked to comment on the situation in Texas where an anti-Smith movement has been organized, based, its leaders say, on the governor's prohibition stand.

"I don't know anything about it," Smith countered. "That's for the national committee to worry about."

With that he dismissed the subject.

Senator Love, Ired At Ruling Of Court, Says Edict Misstated Law

Charges Opinion from Appellate Bench Evincing Total Misunderstanding of Facts In Case and Declares Was Author of Law On Which Ruling Made

DALLAS, July 18. (AP)—Thomas B. Love, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, said today that the opinion of the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals handed down yesterday as reported in news dispatches, evinced a total misunderstanding of the facts in the case and an utter misstatement of the law.

The San Antonio court denied a writ of mandamus against the Comanche county Democratic Executive Committee which would have forced that committee to place Love's name on the primary ballot. The committee previously had voted to omit from the ballot the names of Love and Mrs. Edith E. Williams and Judge William E. Hawkins, candidates for Governor, because they would not vote for Governor Alfred E. Smith.

Wrote the Law

The former Senator said he knew all the facts at he wrote the law governing the case nearly 25 years ago.

BILOXI, Miss., July 18. (AP)—Federal grand jury investigating distribution of federal patronage in Mississippi by state republican leaders continued to receive evidence today but its activities apparently had settled down into the dull routine of court procedure.

Reports from Paris indicate that Pola Negri, film star, is to seek a divorce from her husband, Prince Mdivani, with whom she is shown above. Before Rudolph Valentino died, it was reported that Pola Negri and the movie star were wed. She has established residence at her Paris chateau, which was the scene of her brilliant marriage to Mdivani.

Dry Democrats Of Southern States Plan Smith Defeat

Keynote Speaker At Asheville Session Declares Opposition To Nominee No Cause To Question Party

TAMMANY HALL AGAIN BITTERLY ASSAILED

Women Take Big Part In Proceedings, At Which Many Of Nation's Dry Leaders Are Present.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 18.—Dry southern Democrats met here today to plan a campaign against Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee, and were told by Dr. Arthur J. Barton of Atlanta, Baptist leader, in a brief keynote address, that opposition to the New Yorker was no reason for questioning the democracy of a southern man or woman.

Dr. Barton was elected permanent chairman of the conference on motion of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Bishop, one of those who called the conference, was chosen secretary and after organization the conference went into executive session. There were about 200 men and women in attendance. An open meeting was called for tonight.

Dr. Barton declared the prohibition laws have been enacted by the nomination of Governor Smith.

"I am a Democrat and therefore opposed to Al Smith," he said. "In that, I think I voice the ideas of an overwhelming number of Democrats of southern states."

Serious Moral Crisis

"This conference was called because of a serious moral crisis in the life of the Nation. After 100 years of effort we succeeded in accomplishing, the greatest single feat ever accomplished by free people. Now that would be jeopardized if the nominee of the Democratic party is elected. There also is a crisis in the life of our party."

The fact that I will not support Al Smith in no way constitutes Democracy. Our party has been delivered into the claws of the Tam-

Henhouse Buccaneering and Barnyard Piracy Believed Dealt Blow

Much of Allegedly Stolen Livestock and Poultry, Caught With Two Young Men, Is Identified By Those From Whom It Was Purloined

Mystery of the theft of poultry and livestock throughout the county by two young men who made "business" of helping themselves to the loot was virtually cleared up yesterday with the identification of most of the stolen livestock and poultry by several farmers in nearby rural communities.

The two young men are in the county jail pending further investigation of what is believed by officers to be a "ring" that has been operating in this county for some time. They were arrested early this week by Chief Deputy Vernie Ford, who led in the investigation of the thefts.

Confessions were made by the men to a number of thefts, officers said. A tax equipped with a trailer especially arranged for hauling poultry and livestock is being held by officers.

Five chicken cases, one turkey and one yearling were cleared up yesterday as several farmers identified the stock. One other hog and another yearling have not been identified.

Bonds Not Set

Bonds have not been set until the investigation is completed. Officers believe that large amount of poultry and livestock has been sold by the two young men.

Method used by the young men as told in their confession to officers, was to drive up to the farm-house and help themselves to everything in the way of poultry and livestock that was loose. They admitted being caught in the act at one place. They were released, however, by the farmer after he had delivered them a moral lecture, and they had promised to get the straight and narrow path to the returned to their poultry-loaded auto and went the straight and narrow road to the next farmhouse where they helped themselves to more poultry.

Workout Ordered By Brownlow After Hubbers Lose

Ruth's 37th Home Run In Ninth Inning Gives Yankees Victory Over Red Sox

Local Skipper Considerably Ired As Team Drops Fourth Straight Game To The Big Spring Team Yesterday

Sharp Lecture Is Forthcoming; Hubbers Had Game Iced Several Times, Only To Lose Lead.

Four straight losses have ired the silver-haired Hubber pilot and Bennie Brownlow's steaming lecture for the benefit of his recruits, after they had lost by a 10 to 7 count to the Big Spring aggregation yesterday. The morning's game was expected to show added punch in this afternoon's exhibition with Punk Thornton's Springers.

The Hubbers won and lost yesterday's game at least three times, putting over enough runs in the early stages to lead the bill. To wit: their allowance of clustered bingles off of Jack Wood's southpaw slants and ragged fielding of the homelings the Springers finally put over the win.

Bennie's lads started the racket in the second session scoring a pair of quinters as May walked, Kyle singled on a hit and run play that sent May to third and he continued to second as a play was made for May and Homer Burch's couple to left centerfield sent in the two counters.

In the third session the visitors scored four runs to take the lead of the game, accumulating four hits off of Wood, however, Spec Williams' single did not effect matters as he attempted to stretch it into a double and was caught at the key-stone bag; Storti threw wild for Ratliff at first to put the first Springer on base, Finken singled, Gressett's high fly ball scored Ratliff from third, Stein walked, and Thornton's single, followed by another base hit by Pratt, and Burch's failure to stop Scallings' throw from the outfield sent in a pair of counters.

The Big Spring lead lasted for only a short time, however, for the Hubbers scored as many runs in the same inning. Danny Lynch started with a single, Bean continued with another, and Storti kept the hitting going, to drive across Lynch and send Bean to third, as the entire visiting infield was napping Storti stole second base, and as May sent a grounder to Stein in the shortstop, which was not covered, both Bean and Storti scored, neither Stein nor Gressett attempted to cover up at second on Ratliff's throw for May and the Hubber infielder not only stole second but continued to third, from where he scored on Robinson's fly ball to left field.

The visitors were let down completely in their next hitting round, but the Hubbers forged further into the lead as Danny Lynch drew a base on balls and after stealing second base, scored on Lin Storti's double. Rampage in Seventh Neither the Hubbers nor the guests scored in the fifth and sixth innings but in the seventh, another hitting rampage was enjoyed by Thornton's recruits, which put over four runs. Stein and Thornton, singled in succession, Pratt led off to Robinson, and Chick Bond's single followed with Gressett's single and Stein scored. A hard break in the game was encountered by the Hubbers in the eighth as Robinson singled, and Burch walked, Brownlow sent Red Hill in to hit for Wood. Hill attempted to lay one down the third base line, but as fate would have it Hill had the play beat and every one advanced, but the agile rolled foul by six inches—on the next rap at the plate Hill drove a grounder through the box that was a double killing as Stein scooped the ball up as front of the keystone bag and doubled Red at first.

As the Hubbers failed in the final rounds to send across the needed tallies the visitors continued to pile up their lead, scoring two additional runs in the ninth after two were out. Willis Knight, after warming up during most of the game in the half pen, came in retired the first two men and became critically wild walking Gressett and Williamson and as Ratliff and Finken singled the two men aboard scored.

Fine Exhibition Of Hurling Gives Steers 5-0 Game

Pierce, Portisider, Makes Fine Mound Display; Only One Of Exporters Going To Second.

(By Associated Press.)
DALLAS, July 18.—Another fine exhibition of pitching and the daily two big innings on offense enabled the Steers to sweep the three-game series with Beaumont, Wednesday with a 5 to 0 shut-out. Pierce, southpaw, did the unusual for the Steers-side specie when he breezed through nine innings without losing a single batsman on wide pitches. He gave up only five hits, all singles. No two came in the same inning. No Exporter reached third base and only one saw second.

Pierce was the leading hitter of the day, connecting with three shingles in four trips.

ITS HARD TO ADMIT

It is extremely difficult for a man of strong convictions and earnest purposes to admit that he has been in error and that the views he previously has held were wrong. In all of us there is that element of human nature which causes us to cling tenaciously to our prejudices, and even when convinced of our error we refuse stubbornly to yield. This trait of character, prevalent to at least some extent in all of us, is otherwise known by the unattractive name of egotism. The Apostle Paul was no less human than is any one of us. He inherited the Jewish standpoint and was trained in Jewish traditions. He was a Pharisee of the Pharisees, more stubborn than most of his fellows in his prejudice against the Christians, and more zealous than any of them in the persecution of the disciples of Jesus Christ. It is not surprising, therefore, that a miracle was required to induce him to acknowledge Jesus and to turn from the ranks of those who persecuted the Christians to those of the Christians themselves. As he stood and watched the murder of Stephen, Paul undoubtedly became uneasy in his own mind, doubting the righteousness of his cause and realized that there was at least the possibility that these who called themselves Christians had indeed discovered the way of truth and life. But natural egotism, coupled with the carefully developed prejudices of the Pharisee, caused him even after this incident to continue his career of terrorizing the men and women who, like Stephen, claimed Jesus as their Lord and Master. But the miracle did occur, and Paul was converted. There is something of the miraculous in the conversion of every man and woman, although few have such an experience as that of Paul as he journeyed toward Damascus. Some Bible students and Bible critics undertake to discount Paul's own story of his conversion, arguing that he was speaking figuratively when he told of the blinding light that shown about him, of the voice that called to him from Heaven, and of the vision of the risen Lord that he saw. But we may well believe literally the story in all its details, for it evidently was a miraculous manifestation of the power and the glory of the Lord, and was interpreted as such by Paul himself. The miracle of every man's conversion is that God should extend His grace to any one of his erring children. Paul called himself the chief of sinners, and yet he was no greater sinner, perhaps, than most of those who have come penitently to the cross of Jesus Christ with a plea for mercy and forgiveness. God's love is so great that it can not be understood, and has miraculous power in the saving of every life that is yielded to it. It was so great that it conquered the natural instincts of a bigoted Pharisee, and changed Paul from a murderous terrorist to an humble minister, who went about doing good and preaching the doctrine of love instead of directing the torture and even the death of those whose views disagreed with his and whose actions were contrary to the traditions of his race.

There are those in America today, who are halting under the strain of egotism and false pride, to the extent that they will not cast aside a party name to vote for the best interests of the country. There is a great issue ahead of the people of the United States at this time. Never before in the history of the nation has there been staring the people of the nation in the face issues that are more important to consider, and laws that are as necessary to protect. There are those who seem to have sight of this important fact. The prohibition question should not be an issue. It is in the constitution, and should only be a matter of enforcement, and officers sworn to enforce the laws should do their best, regardless of what their personal convictions are, and notwithstanding they have been voting "er straight" all of their life, they do not have the strength of their convictions to put men in office who are willing to uphold the laws, in preference to those who openly proclaim from the housetops that they will do all they can to tear down the laws that the better morals of the country have demanded and that the people of the land have been able, after a half century to place in the constitution. Men, we are in need of men. Men of deep moral convictions, and high ideals.

REMEMBER

The voters of Texas should not overlook a very important matter, that the present interest in the presidential campaign might possibly cause them to. We refer to the election of local officers. It is very important that we begin at the very lowest office, and build up to the president. The local officers will have to do with the enforcement of the laws of the county in which we reside, and state officials will have the duty of looking after the state, and so on up the line. Too frequently do we permit ourselves to become wrought up over issues and candidates that have but remote relation to local conditions, leaving those of most vital concern to us to the mere chance of the ballot. It is not good business, it is not good citizenship, to vote for or against a candidate without a thorough knowledge of the qualifications he may or may not possess. But a little more than a week intervenes until the voters of this county will go to the polls and express their preferences for state, district, county and precinct officials. That will be ample time for the voters to post themselves with respect to the availability and capacity of those seeking public places to serve. And the prudent elector, he who has the best interest of his state and county at heart, will be controlled by considerations of the public good in making choice rather than the personality or pecuniary need of the candidate.

Quite a number of state offices are contested this year, among them being that of governor. Texas has had its experiences in making unwise selections, an error that should not be repeated. Other places of responsibility in the state service are to be filled, on the outcome of which will depend a successful and economical administration of the people's government. A United States senator is to be chosen, a representative in Congress besides representatives in the Legislature. How imperative it is that we select only the best and most suitable men for these places is too obvious to require argument. All of us should do all we can to select the very best possible representatives in all legislative branches. We should approve the very best material now available for service in the county offices. We should pay special attention to the men aspiring to position on the county commissioners' court, for that is a far more important office than many have been in the habit of believing. In fact, any office that is worth maintaining is worth filling with the best talent. The worthy candidate will be glad to help the electorate by presenting his own claims and ignoring the possible demerits of an opponent. Appeals to ill-feeling and prejudice never have made for good government and never will. If the announced candidate feels that he is qualified to fill the office he seeks, he certainly should be willing to explain these qualifications to the voters. And only those who are qualified should be considered. Measured and selected by that standard the business of government will be operated and maintained on a successful basis. Otherwise it will be a failure and the voter will have none other but himself to blame.

NEW DEMOCRATIC LEADER

John J. Raskob, the new chairman of the democratic national executive committee, and will be active head of the campaign for the election of Gov. Alfred E. Smith. He succeeds Clem Shaver, who conducted the unsuccessful campaign of John W. Davis four years ago. Mr. Shaver, by the way, has been unable to "carry" his own household for the present democratic nominee, Mrs. Shaver having declared that she will vote the republican ticket rather than support a "dripping wet." Mr. Raskob, the new democratic chief, has not been widely known, but has attained a position of great prominence in eastern business and industrial circles. His selection as campaign leader for Governor Smith probably was inspired by a desire to offset the republican claim that business prosperity depends upon the election of Mr. Hoover. Raskob is as big a business man as there is in New York, generally accredited with being the financial genius back of General Motors, and is vice-president of the E. I. DuPont de Nemours company. He is a Catholic and an anti-prohibitionist. Curiously enough he is listed in "Who's Who" as a republican. He voted twice for Woodrow Wilson and then voted for Coolidge four years ago. He explains that he had never before been actively identified with either party. He is 49 years old, of Alsatian and Irish descent, and the father of 12 children.

There are those who differ with us in politics, religion and everything that we have anything to do with. We do not expect everyone to believe as we do about things, for we are confident that we cannot possibly be right everytime, and the things that we think should be done, would be unwise to do. We grant everyone this privilege and we have always been willing to print letters from the people on matters that they even differ with us about, and in that way we open up the thought of the people along important lines. We invite discussion of popular issues.

BIG OIL PLAY.

Lea county, New Mexico, will experience one of the fastest moving drilling campaigns within the next few months any area of the southwest has known in a number of years, according to oil men here who are closely following the developments in southeastern New Mexico.

Four separate and distinct oil pools have been discovered in the Lea county section, all of which have very indications of experiencing extensive drilling within the next few months, according to operators. These pools are the Maljamar, east of Artesia on the Marland-Eaves, in the extreme southeastern corner of Lea county; Texas-Robinson north of the Maljamar on top of the caprock or escarpment and the Midwest, southeast of Lovington and 50 miles north of the Texas-Marland pool.

Oil men here point out that either oil or gas in considerable quantities, has been discovered in every test drilled so far in Lea county. This, they say, is most unusual and the prediction is freely made here that Lea county, New Mexico, will eventually be the richest county in the state and one of the greatest oil producing areas in the entire southwest.—Seagraves Signal.

State Press of the Dallas News is a good clearing house of news and comment. Many an interesting item of statewide value is passed on in this way to a large audience. It is thru this channel that my attention was called to the index comment on the fact that the farmers of Texas are not buying farms. Some fifteen years ago it was a matter of considerable importance that tenant farmers tried to own farms. This was of sufficient volume to attract some attention. However, the outcome was discouraging. A large percentage of those making the venture lost their accumulations. These buyers made a small down payment but could not carry the mortgage load.

It is quite the thing today to comment on the extravagance of the farmer, especially the tenant and heavily mortgaged farmer; how he lives too much in the automobile and encumbers himself with installment buying, etc. It is presumed there are some who can be justly criticized for want of judgment but as a matter of fact the tenant farmer is not a good customer. He does not have the means with which to satisfy his real needs. This question cannot be lightly passed over. It is too serious for that. Our civilization itself may depend upon the solution of this farm owning question. It is a part and parcel of the home owning question in our cities and towns. It is part and parcel with the degradations of our city slums. We are producing an abundance of wealth so the question must not be one of production and this is a question of economic distribution and not that of commodity distribution. We must find how the wealth produced by the many is absorbed by a few.

The plain fact is that land in city and country is too high in price for producers to use profitably. Land rent "absorbs" too much of our produce and there will leave enough for wages. The mere fact that land rent takes more out of what we produce than all our taxes Federal, State, County and City, and this land rent is in addition to all taxes means that we must begin right here to look for the farm issue and not in installment buying phonographs, automobiles, radio sets, etc. When we have learned enough to encourage thru taxation improvements on land and the accumulation of personal property and at the same time discourage speculation in land there will be no more farm problem. We must encourage land users and discourage the land speculator.—Childress Index.

POLITICAL PROPHETS

Political prophets are prematurely engaged in arranging the details of various complications that have appeared in this year's presidential campaign. It is too early to appraise the situation with any degree of accuracy, in so far as the effect of dissatisfaction with certain planks of both major parties is concerned, but the effort is being made by courageous prognosticators. In almost every case it is evident that real and enterprise outweigh information and prophetic genius. A noteworthy exception is the considered and temperate assessment of various factors that are now apparent by David Lawrence. This experienced political writer takes the view that dissatisfaction in the Democratic and Republican camps is very apt to result in a balanced situation, the dissenters from one party virtually counting those who are dissatisfied with the other.

That estimate of the situation will please the propaganda departments of neither of the great parties, both of which will seek to make capital of every evidence of dissatisfaction with the opposing party to read into it an advantage peculiarly the property of its organization.

To what extent these conflicting factors will enter into the determination of the final result is on the knees of the gods. Nothing in the way of an accurate estimate can be made at this time regarding the proportion of dissatisfied voters who will shift from one party to another. That there will be some such phenomenon there is no question but it is likely to be far less extensive than the forecast following the conventional mind indicate.

Public Opinion

MUCH ACCOMPLISHED BY MOODY ADMINISTRATION

Those seeking to encompass the defeat of Governor Moody for a second term have been unable to show a single good reason why the people of Texas should repudiate an honest and faithful public servant.

A close study and investigation of his administration, since assuming the duties of chief executive will fail to disclose a single act wherein he has proven unfaithful to the people of Texas.

He has surrounded himself with good men in all of his appointments under his charge, and no scandal attaches to any of the departments of state, and he has been instrumental in bringing about reforms that have largely benefited the people of Texas in schools, taxes, and other things.

Those opposing Governor Moody may differ with him on policies pursued but no man in all of the confines of Texas can question his honesty and sincerity in either private or public life.

In his second term, Governor Moody will serve the people with the same fidelity and honesty as in the past, with better results if possible from experience and study of the needs of the people of this great commonwealth.

The people of Texas will reward his faithful service by giving him an overwhelming majority in the primaries on the 28th day of July in an assured fact.

F. M. MAXWELL
Waco, Texas.

Editor of the Avalanche:

I understand that it is being reported that I am in public speeches advising voters to stay out of the primary. This is entirely erroneous. In the first place, I am not in politics and am making no political speeches.

In the second place, I expect myself to enter the primary, and hope that my friends will do the same. I am familiar with the primary law.

Today's Poems

A MATTER OF CHOICE

I have the right to play the fool
To laugh at lessons learned in school;
To mock at preaching and to spend
My substance to the very end.
When beggary food and drink I go,
To beg for food, men may refuse.
This is my right: to play the shirk
Scorning to put my hands to work;
To sneer at duty and to be
From life's commandment wholly free.
My life is mine to shape alone
And I've the right to be a drone.

But if I choose the fool to play
And fling my substance all away,
And if I choose to be a drone,
Having no purpose of my own,
When beggary food and drink I go,
I must not whine if men say "no."
If I the beggar choose to be,
The beggar's lot must do for me.
I have no right at all to scorn
And grumble that my clothes are worn.
And wait that men my pleas reject
For that that men beggars must expect.

SO THINK WE

We think the corporations have just about gotten everything, and it seems the latest acquisition is the democratic party, with a strong bid on the republican party.

We think that Joe Robinson of Arkansas, must feel terribly out of place sometimes, when he thinks of his associates or running mates.

We think while they are telling jokes on Scotland, it might be said that it costs money to pull wars, and Scotland does not have any.

We think there is only one Smith in the United States. You never hear anyone stop and ask someone what Smith they are talking about.

We think that ninety nine percent of the time saved at railroad crossings has been lost in the hospitals.

We think there is a wide difference of opinion regarding the use of a political machine. Some folks seem to think it is for candidates to stand on some seem to think that it is a something for them to run on, but apparently is merely something for the political candidates to forget.

We think some women go crazy over a new dress, but they do not remain that way very long at a time.

We think that some people realize more and more what fools they are from the way some of the investments turn out.

We think one reason for the high cost of living is the cost of high living. For instance it used to be that women raised all sorts of pretty flowers for decorating the home, but now daughter orders a half a dozen long stemmed roses at three dollars for six.

We think the fellow that has taken time to figure out that there are three million matches used per minute reveals something that is possibly not very important, but it really is striking.

We think that the Interscholastic League is doing a mighty fine thing for the students and everyone else when they require that extemporaneous speaking, those engaged in the contests shall use subjects pertaining to current events. Instead of some subject entirely foreign to everything and anybody.

We think that Superintendent Marrs in making the state for an appropriation of $12,000 yearly for vocational education, is doing a great thing for the young people of the state. This sum is equalled by the federal government, and it seems like a large sum of money. But this is one expenditure that all of the people can well endorse heartily. Vocational education in the public schools of Texas is not only adding wealth to the state, but it is starting many boys and girls well on the road to self supporting citizenship.

"For medicine, of course. Haven't you heard of sugar-cured hams?"

PRSSS COMMENT

SUCCESS

A railroad man died last week. Howard Elliott, who rose from chain-boy on a survey gang to president of three great rail systems. He was a success. And no one can say he gained that success other than through his own efforts. Perhaps he had good fortune; undoubtedly he had ability. But coupled with these he must have had the will to do his work just a little better than did his fellow employees.

There are plenty of people who do things ordinarily well—well enough to hold their jobs.

However, the one who does his work a little better than that is the one who succeeds. He succeeds first in doing what he sets out to do and finding a pride and satisfaction in doing it. If it were not for the pleasure he receives, he would not do it better than the other fellow.

Then, too, he succeeds because when someone is needed for a better job with more responsibility, he will naturally be chosen for the job. And it is no disparagement to a man that works for gain.

A man who loves his work can not help but be activated by a real interest in it. He must be if he is to do better than the other fellow.

This interest is usually developed by an employer who gives him a chance to become embittered and resentful because he is not getting a fair share of the profits.

But enlightened self-interest, has its personal side as well as its commercial side. The ideal which cannot be kept will not long keep its possessor. In the words of Irving T. Bush of the Bush Terminal: "An ideal which cannot pay its board and keep, usually ends in the poor farm. It is better for an ideal to end at the Ritz than at the county poor farm."

Interested participation and unselfish devotion on the part of those who work under directions are entitled to a generous return. They are the only certain means to success. Without them good fortune cannot be grasped when it appears and ability must necessarily waste itself unheeded.

The lives of the really successful men of all ages are records of devotion, application, and interest in their jobs. They appreciated what the "big boss" was trying to do and helped him to do it. This did not involve the altruistic subservency of their own personal interests, but a helpful part in carrying out the project of a leader and participation in its success.—San Angelo Standard.

YOUR HEALTH

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene and Health Magazine

Chiggers, chigo, or sand flies about this time of the year become a nuisance.

The chigger is like a common flea, except that its nose is longer. The female burrows into the skin to provide a resting place for herself during the time she lays her eggs.

Chiggers usually attack the toes and feet; sometimes the point of attack becomes secondarily infected with ulcers and the formation of infected matter.

Not all of the trouble from a chigger arises, however, from the burrowing into the skin. It is capable also of biting and depositing a small amount of poison which will cause a lot of discomfort and persistent itching.

The United States Department of Agriculture indicates that the presence of chiggers can be checked by clearing away underbrush, vines and weeds, by keeping grass cut close, by applying flowers of sulphur or sulphur powder over the area in which the chiggers breed.

Five or ten pounds of sulphur scattered over an ordinary city lot will take care of most of them.

Chiggers not only attack human beings, but also are troublesome on young chicks and turkeys. If the chicks have been heavily attacked, they may die from their trouble.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that the City officials have at last come to the point where they can pipe water to the Mexican section of the city. This is something that has been needed for some time, and we are glad to see it done.

It is reported that fifty carloads of people from Lubbock will visit the Hobbs oil field Friday, and mix with those people it is a good idea, and we are glad that Lubbock is taking this important part in the good-will spreads.

It is reported that the speed cop is going to "tighten up" on the trucks in Lubbock, and slow them down to a twenty-mile an hour speed. Others are running mighty fast, and there is great wonder that there are not more accidents.

It is reported that a lot of folks are all confused about the pledge on the Democratic ticket in the July primary in Texas. Chairman Wheelock says that this does not in the least interfere with voting in the general election, and all Democrats otherwise qualified are entitled to vote for all state, county and precinct officers, without in any way obligating them to the National vote.

It is reported that absentee voters will begin voting today. If you are going to be away from your county on the day of the primary, you may go to the county clerk's office and vote, and he will cast the ballot for you on the day of the primary election.

It is reported that the Rotary Club had more doctors present Wednesday than it has ever had at one healthy condition too. It was doctors, and the club is in a real way, and many of Lubbock physicians and other doctors were guests of members of the club.

It is reported that so interested were the Rotarians of Brownwood in the relief work for school students that the club at that place has borrowed money from one of the banks in order to help some of the students, who are worthy.

It is reported that there was only one building permit issued Wednesday. That seems rather slow for Lubbock, but it is just before a long list will be issued. There is no lull in the building program, just a slack moment.

Levine Plane Is Crashed As Owner Fails Of Landing

Flier Has Another Spectacular Landing To Add To His Long Record Of Freakish Flights.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Charles A. Levine's famous trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia was a wreck today, and its owner had another spectacular landing to add to his flying record.

Levine crashed at Curtiss Field, Long Island, last night in his fourth attempt to make a landing after a twenty minute flight. The landing gear, propeller, right wing and left wing tip were smashed, but neither Levine nor his passenger, Major A. L. Fleming, was injured.

The landing recalled a similar one Levine made in the same plane at Crofton, England, last fall when on his first solo flight he flew over the English channel from Le Bourget Field, near Paris. At that time after four attempts he succeeded in bringing the plane to a safe but somewhat bumpy landing.

Runs Into Difficulties.

Shortly after Levine had taken off last night he ran into difficulties when the right wing dipped sharply. He had just about straightened out the plane when the wing dipped again. He then headed back for the hangar but flew so low he missed other hangars by inches. He circled about for another attempt but overran the field. The third time he narrowly missed some telegraph wires.

On the fourth attempt he again misjudged his distance and fell short of his mark. The plane landed on the road, the right wing striking a low fence, turning the plane on its nose. Levine and Fleming crawled from beneath the wreckage unscathed.

The situation will undoubtedly result in the departure of Levine from the aviation world. Levine's flying record is one of the most remarkable in the history of aviation. He has made several long-distance flights, including a trans-Atlantic flight in 1926. His latest flight was a record-breaking 24-hour flight from New York to London.

The statement of the primary ballot at the voter is a support the honor. The candidate political parties already been invention method the electors will primary ticket.

It would, in a sad day for me who do not residential non-residential from if I wanted to a moral obligation. I can see to face squarely and conscientiously. It is my earnest and intelligent duty rest in the primary rightness of self-respect and the general election.

Tech Geology Students End Tour

4,270 Mile Tour Through Western States Concluded By Return This Week

Return to Lubbock this week ended a 4,270 mile field tour made by students of the Texas Tech department of geology, which carried them through many western states and into Alberta, province of Canada.

Six weeks were spent on the trip, which was made in a bus under supervision of Dr. Leroy T. Patton, head of the geology department.

They left after leaving Lubbock was at Mount Captain, extinct volcano lying northwest of Dalhart. Then they went to Raton, and on through the Rockies to the Black Hills, whence their journey carried them into Canada. Glacier National Park, Yellowstone Park and various other points of geological interest in Utah and Colorado were visited.

There were some back-lashes with notes on their observations and memories of pleasant times. Some of the trip were Ira Cline, Frank Wilson, L. B. Wierly, Carl Shultz, T. A. Harreave, Ned Cerny, Don Beene, Clay Perry, Duell Thompson, and Wayne Burkhardt.

BIG PRODUCER
Glascock County Well Estimated at 6000

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 18.—The Sun Oil company put a well with an estimated production of from four thousand to six thousand barrels daily on the Seaboard farm this evening. The producing horizon was topped at 296 feet and it extends the depth of pay in the Roberts pool a half mile west.

Con Caraway declares that a grievous error was made in the paper this week. It was in regard to the contest staged by Mr. Caraway and W. L. Bailey, in regard to which could stay and reach the longer. The paper reported Mr. Bailey as the winner when as a matter of fact Mr. Caraway kept underneath the water for 99 feet and 40 seconds as compared to Bailey's dive of 92 feet under water and 33 seconds. We stand corrected.

Delivery and telephone home trucks were given a fair warning by Police Chief John Leonard yesterday. The chief warned them to shut the door and said that they were turning entirely too fast within the city limits, thus creating a serious menace to other automobiles and pedestrians.

DAILY MARKET

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 18.—Unfavorable weather and crop news attracted more attention today, and the cotton market was steadier, although advances were not fully maintained. October contracts sold up to 21.65 or 41 points above yesterday's closing and 58 above the low level yesterday, but not considerable realising and reacted with the close at 21.44. The general market closed steady at net advances of 23 to 26 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 15 to 20 points in response to a relatively firm Liverpool cables and reports on rains and showers in eastern and central belt sections. The initial advance met realising and was found followed by moderate retractions, but the market quickly steadied and buying became more active after publication of the weekly weather report.

December sold up to 21.65 and March to 21.22, net advances of 42 to 45 points on the new crop of 1928, and demand slackened, but the recovery of more than half a cent from the low point of yesterday brought in realising and prices later reacted.

Trading was fairly active on the advance during the day, but the volume of business tapered off on the straits of some 15 to 20 points from the best.

Private reports complaining that rain was needed in West Texas have been reaching here for several days and continuance of the dry hot weather there, combined with the prospect for further showers in the eastern belt, were factors chiefly discussed.

Exports today 23,277, making 7,228,285 so far this season. Port receipts 2,246. U. S. port stocks 723,912.

CURR-MARKET

NEW YORK, July 18.—Prices moved irregularly higher in today's curb market, which was marked by a series of bullish demonstrations in pool specialties. Encouraged by the lowering of call money rates and publication of some excellent half-yearly reports, operators for the advance started making up favorites and driving in trapped shorts.

Industrials Rayon (new-stock), soaring 18 points to a new high record at 97, was outstanding. Bapitaly, whose recent collapse ended the spring "bull" market, was again bought in large volume, closing 2 points higher at 114 after having touched 117 3-8. Spanish and General, the most active feature, again moved into new high ground.

COTTONSEED OIL

held steady and closed unchanged at six points higher, the advance in cotton, hard and hogs checked selling pressure and contracts moved slightly higher on local receipts and local buying. Sales, 2,000 barrels. Prime Crude nominal; Prime Summer Yellow spot 10.25; July closed 10.25; Sept. 10.25; Oct. 10.54; Dec. 10.54; Jan. 10.56; Feb. 10.59.

Years of Service in MODEL T FORDS

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five more years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

The labor charge for tuning up the motor is only $1. This includes replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon runs from $3 to $4. Overhauling carburetor, $1.50. Installing new pistons or connecting rods, $6. Tightening main bearings, $6. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have the motor and transmission completely overhauled.

The labor charge for replacing rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion or drive gear is $5. All sockets and joints of front end can be tightened for $1.50.

The steering gear can be completely overhauled for a labor charge of $3.50. Muffler repaired for $1.

The labor charge for repainting the Coupe is $25. Sedan, $25. Touring Car, $20. Top, deck of Coupe or Sedan can be replaced for a labor charge of $4.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of reconditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

Laundry Machine Company Defendant In Suit

Asking damages of $12,530, a suit was filed in district court here yesterday by W. H. Beatty, of this city, naming the General Laundry Machinery Corporation and the Willey-Ellis company as defendants.

The case is based on a laundry machine alleged to have been sold to Mr. Beatty by the defendant's which, it is charged, "ceased to function after a short time."

The petition states that the machine "failed to do what it was supposed to do," causing the local laundry great loss. The machine is said to have cost $4,726. It is charged that the machine tore clothes to an extent that it was necessary to pay customers $350. The petition further alleges that the laundry lost a $6,000 contract because of the defective work of the machine, and that additional contracts from customers totaling $6,000 were lost. Repairing the machine at one time cost $130, the petition said. All of the damages set forth in the petition total $12,530.

July total for building permits now stands at $194,000 for forty-two permits. Four hundred five permits have been issued this year.

Yesterday's permits were to W. S. Mead for the construction of a $2,000 house at 1615 Avenue Y; $7,500 to F. L. Jones for the construction of a residence at 2305 Broadway for T. M. Carter, and $3,000 to Frank Simmacker for the construction of a home for E. W. Moore at 2309 19th street.

EVANS' FATHER DIES

GIRARD APPOINTMENT

Is Filed As First Action Of New Court

Appointment of W. D. Girard as referee in bankruptcy for the federal court here was filed yesterday by Mrs. Olive Fluke, deputy clerk, as the first official action of the federal clerk's office in Lubbock.

The clerk's office was opened Monday of this week but the filing of the appointment yesterday is the only action taken. It is expected that several cases are to be filed in the federal court in the near future.

The appointment was signed by Judge James C. Wilson and E. R. Meek. It was made July 10 and the term will continue for two years. Mr. Girard made a bond of $5,000 upon his appointment.

SEVEN NEW CARS

Month's Total Boosted To New High Mark

Seven new cars were licensed yesterday to boost the month's total to the new high mark of 113 and the year's total to 908. The record registration during July is attributed to the new half year rates which went into effect at the first of the month. Registration of all cars here since the first of the month totals 7,849.

Licenses for new cars yesterday were issued to E. W. Maxwell, Roy M. Wood, J. L. Denning, John W. Moore, C. E. Nesbitt, E. B. Ribble, and Lydick Roofing company.

SEEK NEW FIRE RATE

Reinspection of Lubbock Property Being Made

Reinspection of Lubbock property for a new schedule of rates is being carried on here by five representatives from the state department of fire insurance at Austin.

The work which began early this week will probably continue for about three more weeks. Inspection of rates is under the direction of J. F. Teer. Others helping with the work are Robert Saxton, J. M. Jordan, J. E. Myers, and J. B. Steed.

Similar inspection has been carried on by these men in various parts over the state. Two of the groups will carry on the inspection in towns south of here upon the day by D. F. Eaton, Lubbock councilman, completion of the work in Lubbock.

TO COLLEGE STATION

About 10 additional boys other than the ones winning scholarships will be sent to the Farmers Summer Short Course held at Texas A. and M. college beginning July 30. It was announced yesterday.

E. L. Hooten, last year's teacher in the Adult school, made arrangements for the trip and will take the boys to College Station in a truck.

Lauds Lubbock Spirit

Mr. Bourland lauded the fact that Lubbock has the reputation of being "a town which has no factions," stated that this one virtue was doing more to push the city forward than any other. He also cited the "existence of a friendly feeling between Lubbock and the various neighboring towns."

Mr. Bourland was introduced by Spencer Wells, past president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and recently appointed chairman of the traffic committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce under Mr. Bourland.

Following Mr. Bourland's talk, Homer D. Wade, manager, was called upon for a speech. He paid tribute to the cooperative spirit shown by Lubbock in the organization's work and assured those present that the legislative department would do all in its power to see "that the Tech gets what she justly deserves during the next legislative session."

Join Motorcade, Urged

Mr. Wade extended an invitation to local citizens to join the West Texas Chamber of Commerce motorcade which starts next month. He also told of the proposed special train of West Texas dirt farmers which the organization is sponsoring for a trip into the trucking and poultry regions of

E. H. Whitehead, publicity manager, commented upon the city's cooperative spirit shown in the membership drives here, stating that the city always was in the lead over the territory in the percentage of responses.

Mr. Pawckett then took up his lecture in which he explained the new freight rates put into effect on July 14. He displayed maps showing the various groupings of territory and explaining the change in territory rate schedules.

Lubbock Fortunately Situated. "Lubbock is fortunately situated," Mr. Pawckett said, "in that more of the rates are lower here than before the recent adjustment. The in and out charges out of Lubbock are much cheaper than the in and out charges out of Fort Worth to this territory," he said in his explanation, thereby giving the city additional trade territory rate decreases.

The dinner came to a close at 9:30 and Mr. Pawckett boarded the 9:40 train for Washington where he is scheduled to appear in a hearing before the I. C. C.

Those present at the dinner included a representative group of the leading shippers of the city.

Body of Obregon Is Enroute to Sonora

MEXICO CITY, July 18 (AP).—The body of General Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, tonight was enroute to his home in Sonora. His death left the capital in mourning and denouncing the assassin who fired bullets from an automatic pistol while his victim was partaking of a luncheon given in celebration of his being chosen for the office of chief executive. Just before the train pulled out of the station here this afternoon thousands of followers of the Obregon policies raised their right hands and took a solemn oath to sustain his principles and to see that punishment is visited upon those responsible for his death. Women Take Hand. Addresses by dry leaders from throughout the South were heard at the mass meeting tonight with women having a considerable voice in the proceedings.

Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, of Maryland, President of the National Women's Democratic Law Enforcement League, told the conference that 75,000 women, members of her organization were "as one opposed to the Democratic nominee."

She denied that refusal to support Smith should bar anyone from the ranks of the Democratic party, adding: "We are awake—for the millions of American mothers who have children growing up and who do not want them ruined by the corrupt saloon which Smith is seeking support to bring back into our home life."
